The Rest Is Still Unwritten

Author - Lilian Umetiti

Hello Seniors! Welcome to your 2018 yearbook! Looking back, the words "Class of 2018" felt so far away, but by the time you read this, Senior Year will be coming to a close, and Graduation will be days away. The cohesion of our class paired with our stunning diversity has truly made us the best class of WOHS to date. With athletes, thespians, and everyone in between, it has been no challenge to make WOHS a home for us all. And while we will leave school with countless stories and memories, we have only just begun writing the story of our lives.

As the Yearbook Staff, our goal is to capture the memories that will matter to us most down the line. This book strives to showcase all of the fun we had participating in the activities that shaped our high school experience. The yearbook highlights clubs, sports, pep rallies, plays, and everything else that shows our day-to-day lives as high schoolers. Our hope is that you enjoy cherishing these memories as much as we enjoyed putting them together. While the yearbook is complete, our futures are still unwritten!

STUDENT LIFE

Work Hard, Play Hard

Author - Matigan Kohlman

Every freshman class dreams of the day they get to become seniors, and the class of 2018 was no different. By their senior year, it was clear that the class of 2018 was filled with talented individuals both inside and outside of the classroom. Although the majority of the students' time revolved around school (whether in class, prepping for and taking the SAT and ACT, or applying to countless colleges and scholarships), most of their memories were made outside of school. From attending football and basketball games, to senior fun day and lunches in the courtyard, the class of 2018 had a blast in their last year of high school. Once their college applications were in, the senior class finally had the time to kick back and spend their time how they wanted. Whether it was volunteering, attending pep rallies and homecoming, showing their pride during spirit week, or "promposing," the students were glad to have enough free time to enjoy their final year. When they look back on their time in high school, they may not remember every detail from every class, but they will never forget the good times they had with their friends and classmates during senior year.

Car Painting

The Ride Begins

Author - Kaycie Elifani

As the sun set on September 6th, the class of 2018 came together to kick off their long awaited journey as seniors. The car painting marked the beginning of the end. The eager seniors decorated their windows and windshields with #SEN18RS in various shades of blue and white to show off their school spirit. The excitement of the class only grew as the seniors posed in front of their newly decorated whips. The car painting not only unified the seniors before their last year of high school, but gave them a sense of freedom and independence as they cruised into the promising year ahead. This event served as a laid back kickoff before stress from college applications and AP classes set in, and we cruised into school for the next few days with cars that matched our excitement.

Author - Abbie Lepow-Macario

Senior fun day is the day that everyone has been looking forward to since freshman year. On a warm September afternoon, the seniors headed out to the baseball field for an afternoon of fun. To start off, the class created a huge "18" for the yearbook. There was an artist who painted West Orange themed designs on students' faces. Seniors dunked their favorite teachers at the dunk tank. Friends were able to pile into the photo booth to create their own photo film strip. The class participated in a massive three-legged race and crowned three winners. Then the class broke out into dance when the DJ played today's best hits. Friends had a great time spending the afternoon together and making special memories. The seniors were sad to see the day end but happy to begin the year on such a high note!

Ramiro Reynaga and Kevin Guaman Lema are full of smiles as they race down the field during the three legged race.

Pep Rallies

Get Hype

Author - Brandon Smith

The WOHS pep rallies elevated the school spirit for WOHS sports with hilarious and energetic performances. The fall pep rally included the cross country, volleyball, football, girls tennis, soccer, step, and drill teams and was kicked off by the WOHS girls soccer team's exciting dance. The WOHS boys soccer team had a goofy performance while reenacting "Push it to the Limit" from "Jump In".

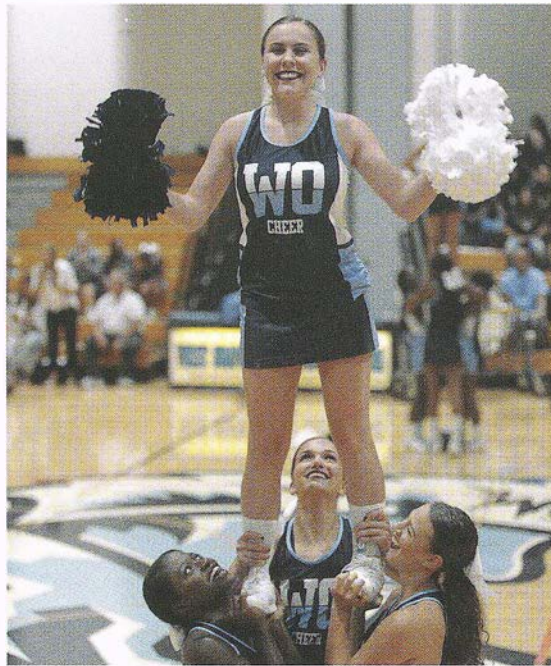

The winter pep rally included the basketball, swimming, ice hockey, winter track, step, and drill teams. The WOHS swim team started it up with an exciting and unexpected Jersey Club performance. This was then followed by the WOHS ice hockey team performing "Party in the USA" having everybody singing along. In the spring, the softball, baseball, and lacrosse teams united as one and did an outstanding performance together.

Homecoming

A Night to Remember

Author - Matigan Kohlman

This year's homecoming game fell on October 20, against one of West Orange's toughest competitors, Montclair. The Mountaineers fought hard but were ultimately defeated. The highlight of the night was the halftime festivities when the Homecoming King and Queen were crowned. The distinguished nominees for queen were Kaycie Elifani, Kefiloe MutumeSegwati, and Isabel Oden. Marc Younker, Dane Clarke II, and Thomas Hughes were the nominees for kings. When the results came in, Dane Clarke II and Isabel Oden were named Homecoming King and Queen! Ron Rivers and Karen Kong were named Honorary Homecoming King and Queen. Following the ceremony, the marching band and cheerleaders put on flawless performances and wowed the crowd as usual.

Spirit Week

Loud and Proud

Author - Abbie Lepow-Macario

Spirit week took place at the end of October and the students showed their school spirit loud and proud. Each day was dedicated to a specific theme. The week started off as the students rolled out of bed and came to school in their comfortable pajamas. Tuesday's mismatch day gave the students the chance to change up their style and show their crazy colors. Wednesday was Unity day and they showed their pride by wearing bright orange t-shirts created by the student council. Twin day was a major hit, as the students confused their teachers because they looked so similar! On Friday, the seniors proudly wore their '18 jerseys to show school spirit. They have participated in many spirit weeks throughout the year, so students had a blast celebrating this last one together as the class of 2018.

On April 11, the seniors excitedly gathered in the Tarnoff Cafeteria during lunch for College Day. Students wore the shirts of the colleges they will attend in the fall. Although some students had not officially committed yet, all were enthusiastic to see where friends would be for the next four years. School colors were seen everywhere as students were grouped by state or region for photos. The members of the class of 2018 are headed all over the country, from the West Coast to the southern border, and of course many will stay in Jersey. A select few will even be attending the most prestigious Ivy League schools, including Cornell, Princeton, UPenn, and Yale. Overall, the class of 2018 is sad to say goodbye to West Orange High School, but they look forward to college and starting a new chapter of their lives.

Senior Jobs

Hard Work Pays Off

Author - Bianca Guerriero

Hard work literally pays off! The class of 2018 was employed around the town and in neighboring communities throughout the year.

Some students could not wait to get out of school to get home, but others had the motivation to hold a part time job. They worked at many local spots like Mark and Julie's, Fortissimo, Dunkin Donuts, or Panera.

Some were employed over the summer at various camps or as lifeguards around town. Many students in our class worked for no pay at all, volunteering at Kessler and a wide variety of other charitable foundations. It was not easy to balance school work, clubs, sports, AND a part time job, but these industrious students always made it work. It might have taken a little more effort, but no one ever complains about some extra cash!

Black History Month Dinner

For the Culture

Author - Lilian Umetiti

West Orange High School is known for its outstanding diversity, so it is only fitting to have hosted a celebration in honor of Black History Month. The annual Black History Month Dinner took place on the night February 9th and drew a large crowd ranging from administrators to spectators from other towns alike. This celebration allowed for students to channel their passions and creativity to put together thoughtful and dynamic performances. In addition to guest speaker Kian Brown's motivational speech, various students recited spoken word poems, monologues, and songs. The Jubilee Choir charmed the guests with group numbers, and the boys' and girls' step teams gave stunning performances as well. All in all, the night served as a joyous reminder of the talent that lives within the student body as well as a celebration of culture and history.

Fall Play

Our Town

Author - Blair Allen

On the evenings of November 2, 3, and 4, all seats were filled when the Drama Department put on Our Town. The play is set in a fictitious small town in the early 1900s and focuses on the everyday lives of its citizens. In each act, the play examines a stage in the life cycle, including childhood, marriage, and death. The show was directed by Mrs. Mapes, assisted by senior Sophia Torres, and produced by Mrs.

Coen. Our Town starred seniors Katherine Meyerson and Vincent Means. Katherine has had a part in three other plays, but this is her first lead role! Our Town was Vincent's sixth production. Sophia has had multiple main roles in past shows, but directed this one and made sure everything ran smoothly. The seniors put all their heart and energy into a memorable last play and were generously applauded at the end of each performance.

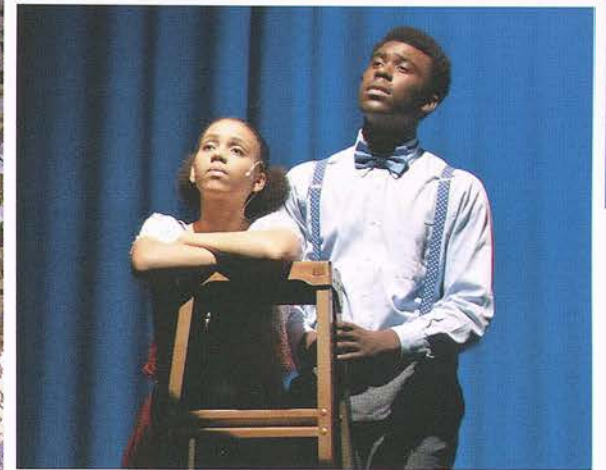

Vincent Means plays the part of Dr. Frank Gibbs well by embodying his character and showing convincing emotions.

Katherine Meyerson narrates the play as the stage manager.

Spring Musical

In The Heights

Author - Blair Allen

On the nights of April 19-22, the WOHS auditorium was sold out as excited students, faculty, and neighbors crowded the theater to see "In the Heights." The musical is based in the Hispanic-American neighborhood of Washington Heights in New York City. Seniors Madeline Machado and Sophia Torres played prime roles, and Neil Dieujuste, Juquin Goodbar, Nasir Hannah, Moesha Isidor, Jailyn McburrowsCalhoun, Vincent Means, and Justin Voltaire stood out within the ensemble as featured singers and dancers. Featuring many lively songs and dances, the members of the drama department truly outdid themselves with this amazing performance. The audience cheerfully applauded after every musical number and a standing ovation followed each show. The talented seniors gave it their all in their final musical and production for WOHS.

Promposals

Not Ridin' Solo

Author - Selene Headley

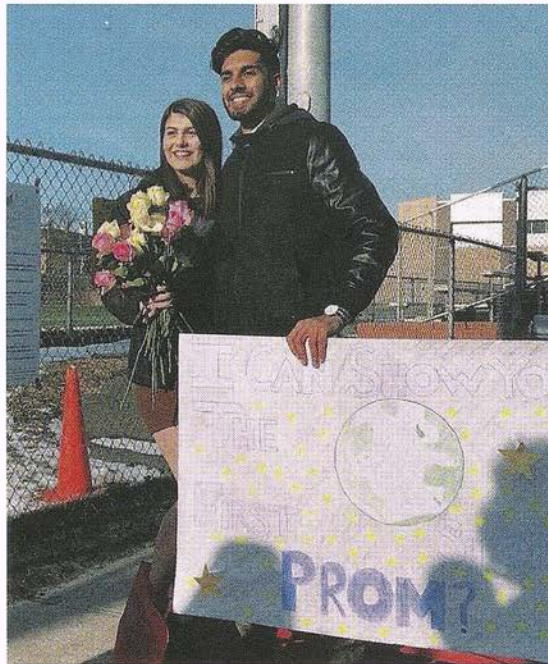

Promposing has been a tradition at West Orange High School for as long as the class of 2018 can remember. However, this year's seniors took promposals to a new level. From exciting Disney themes like magic carpets, to huge performances in the senior cafeteria, the seniors outdid themselves. Once the clock struck 2:15, the senior lot became a hub for promposals. Friends, classmates, and even students from other towns joined in the fun to make this prom season the best one yet.

Many students included candlelight or creative posters to pop the question. Some students took a more reserved route and had more intimate promposals at homes or restaurants. Whether the promposal was simple or extravagant, each was special in its own way. These promposals certainly set the tone for a fun filled time on prom night.

Author - Abbie LepowMacario

Many seniors have busy schedules with homework, clubs, sports and volunteering, but they still make time to do what they are passionate about. The class of 2018 has extremely diverse hobbies and passions. Some of their talents include makeup, dancing, singing, art, and fashion, as well as photography, film, martial arts, and acting. These talents allowed students to take a break from the daily stress of high school and strive toward what they love to do. Many of our classmates woke up early or stayed up late to squeeze in practice time between school, homework and other responsibilities. Watch out for these names in the future because you may see them again someday! "Talent is a universal gift, but it takes a lot of courage to use it. Don't be afraid to be the best." - Paulo Coelho.

SENIORS

Finally Our Time!

Author - Selene Headley

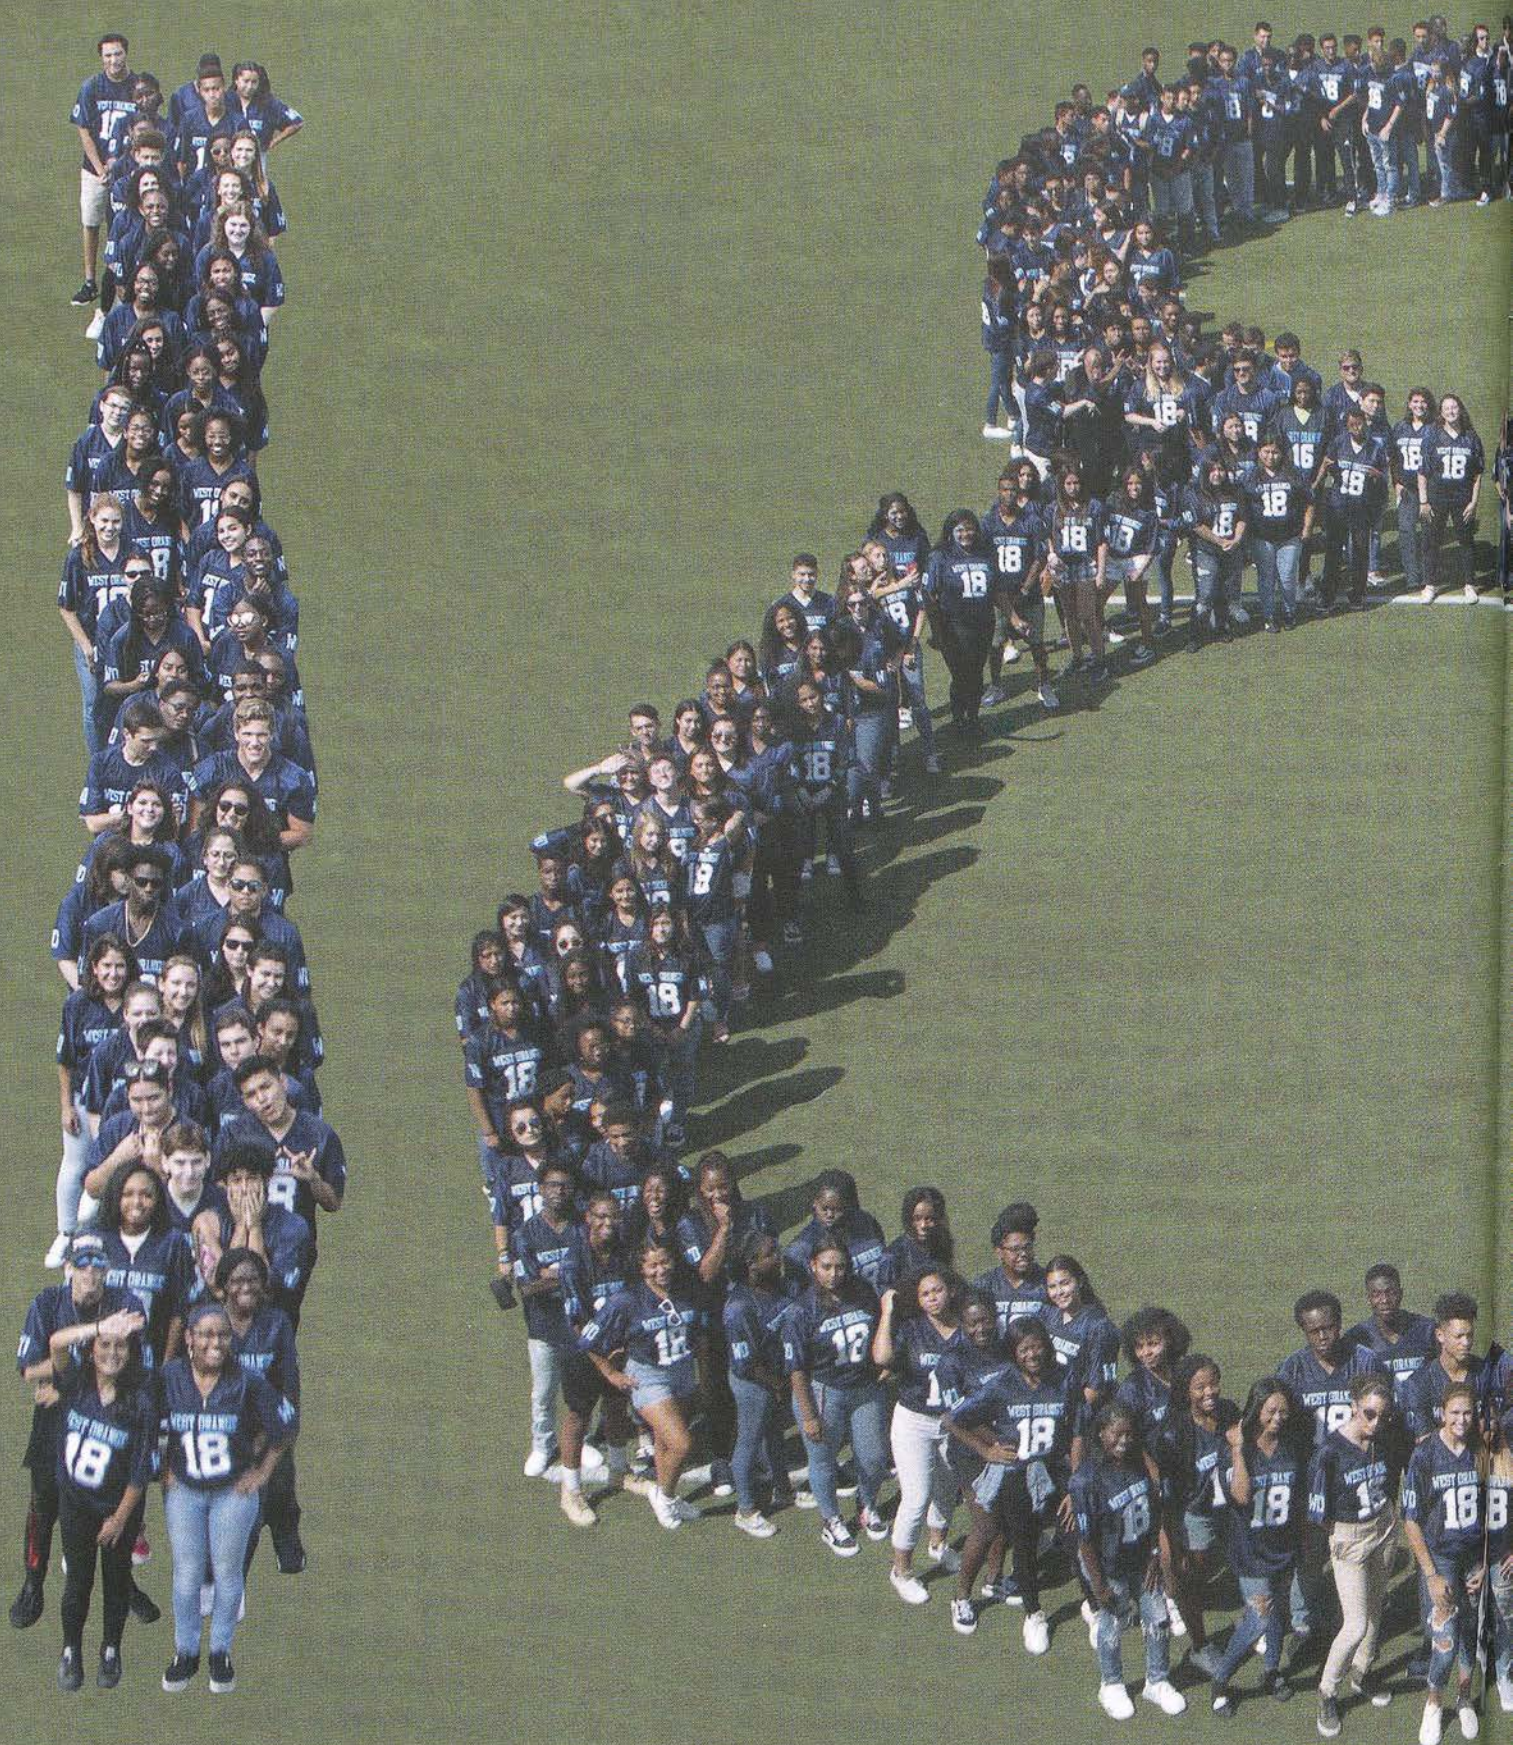

Congratulations to the class of 2018! We have finally made it! This is the time we have been waiting for- the time we can finally branch out and go after all of our hopes and dreams. After all of the standardized tests, late nights studying, and nerve wracking college decision making, we can finally say we have reached our endgame. After school runs to Fortissimo, shredding paper for football games and the nonstop dancing at prom are just a few of the memories we seniors will hold onto for the rest of our lives. It is time to go out and prove to the world what Mountaineers are capable of. Although this unforgettable chapter of our story has come to an end, the rest is still unwritten...

Ring Season

Author - Abbie Lepow-Macario

The athletes at West Orange High School worked tirelessly on a daily basis in order to be the best they can be. When the 2:15 bell rang, the students grabbed their equipment and headed to practice. These students worked hard in school, at practice, and at every game. With the beginning of each season, WOHS held a pep rally to build enthusiasm and support for the impressive teams. Many senior athletes became captains, demonstrating leadership and responsibility to their teammates. The seniors made time to hang out with their teams to create stronger bonds and make memories that the underclassmen would never forget. All athletes showed great sportsmanship and worked together to make this year the most successful they have ever had. Almost all of the sports were able to come out of their season with unforgettable records and awards for the 2017-18 school year. As Mountaineers, we strived to be the best that we could be, pushing past the hard times and coming out on top.

Friday Night Lights

Author - Krystal Jamison McGruder

While most of us were sleeping in throughout summer vacation, the football team was working hard to prepare for the upcoming season... preparing for success, of course! Their hard work was put on center stage when the boys took the field every Friday night under the stadium lights. The team's brightest moment was in a home game against Bloomfield. In their win, senior and varsity quarterback Vincent DeSantis had an amazing game, passing a total of 86 yards. Senior running back C.J. Wilson earned two touchdowns and 189 rushing yards. Senior L'Trell Bradley scored a thrilling touchdown in the fourth quarter. The boys built momentum following this win, fighting hard through each and every game. As the Mountaineers continue to build their program, there's a bright future ahead, and as senior captain Sebastian Rawls says, "It's ring season, baby."

The twelve seniors began their final year as cheerleaders long before the school year started. They attended cheer camp and learned new cheers, dances, and stunting techniques. Seven seniors made the All American Team, while four of them were offered jobs as UCA staff members. Their hard work paid off every week as the girls cheered on the football team under the bright Friday night lights. Win or lose, rain or shine, the girls always had sparkling smiles on their faces and spirit in their hearts. Their season did not end there. The girls defended their SEC and UCA Regional titles for the third year in a row. In between practicing for Nationals and cheering at basketball games, the team competed every weekend, perfecting their skills before taking on Nationals in early February. The cheerleaders continued to shine as they brought home fourth in the nation after performing two flawless routines.

"One Band, One Sound." The Marching Mountaineers and Color Guard had a very successful 2017-2018 season! From the exhausting practices in the heat of July to the freezing cold nights of November, both groups were very dedicated. These consistently successful Mountaineers went through the vigorous experience of band camp, countless practices and many competitions, all while keeping their academics in check. Both the Marching Mountaineers and Color Guard have won various important competitions including the North Jersey School Music Association competition and the Regional Championship at Rutgers. With all their hard work and dedication, the leaders of the 2018 class have left their mark on West Orange and should be an inspiration for the future generations of great performers to come.

The 2017-2018 West Orange Boys Basketball Team achieved another successful season full of brotherhood and hard fought wins. Starting off the season with dubs against University and Newark Tech High Schools, the team set the pace for the rest of the basketball season. During their second year in the Liberty Division, the seniors used their experience and exceptional work ethic to lead the team to numerous victories. The team did not have one star, but rather many players who all knew their roles to contribute to the team. Led by Coach Cowins, these young men were eager to compete and were rewarded with success with a run in the playoff portion of the season. The boys look forward to more success in the future and are excited for their continued growth. The 2018 West Orange High School Golf Team had a phenomenal season. Despite the small size of the team, they had huge heart and drive. During the earlier portion of their season, the West Orange Golf team fought through our wintry weather and blossomed into nine holes of a beautiful spring season. They may well remember this as the season that it snowed in April and continued to rain for days on end, but when the sun was finally shining, seniors Jocelyn Walden and Matthew Nembhard swung their way into victory. To perfect their swings and prepare them for their rigorous matches, the team practiced at the driving range in Roseland. With their sharpened skills, the team played at the nine-hole course at the Country Club. # FACULTY

A Chapter in Our Novel

Author - Kaycie Elifani

As the students look back on their favorite memories of high school, they can say their favorite teacher or faculty member was standing right beside them. The WOHS faculty are more than teachers who teach students the quadratic equations and how to write a body paragraph for an essay; they are the supporting guides to students in the school. Whether a teacher was willing to stay a little later to help understand a math topic or just lend an ear to listen to the anxieties of the senior class, the faculty was always there for the student body.

The staff encompasses more than just teachers, it includes administrators, supervisors and guidance counselors, who were all willing to guide the students through the highs and lows of high school. The WOHS staff's hard work created a strong foundation, shaping the future doctors, lawyers, artists, scientists, writers, leaders, and maybe even teachers of the world.

Board of Education

Dear Class of 2018,

As you reflect on your years of being a student, it is now time to realize that all your hard work, dedication and opportunities for learning will be tested in college and the workforce. As Superintendent of Schools, I want to take this opportunity to congratulate you and wish you every success. You have made us proud.

Life has many highs and lows. The key is to be honest and demonstrate impeccable integrity at all times. Do the right thing because it is the right thing to do. At the end of the day, your word is the most important thing in this world. Family comes first! During difficult times, they will support you. Surround yourself with friends who will challenge you to be better each day. When things do not go your way, the person in the mirror knows what happened. Do not lie to yourself. Hold yourself accountable to excellence in everything you do and never lower your standards for anyone or anything. Embrace failure and learn from your mistakes. Most times we learn a lot more from our failures than our successes. Do not take anyone for granted and always treat everyone with respect.

I was once told that the most important thing in this world is to learn every day. The beauty of learning is that no one can ever take it away. Learning is knowledge and knowledge is power. As you finish your career at West Orange High School and begin your new life, the Board of Education members and I wish you the best at everything you do. Follow your heart and never give up on your dreams. Good luck to you, our future leaders.

You will successfully pursue intellectual efforts and accomplish achievements in the areas of the sciences, business, politics and the arts. Your diverse environment has equipped you to work in a global market. You are ready not only to dream of endless possibilities, but to take full advantage of a wealth of incredible opportunities. As the soon to be alumni of West Orange High School, I urge you to scale the challenging mountains of your future with confidence, while remaining focused on achieving personal goals.

You will always be a Mountaineer and a proud member of our West Orange High School community where you developed and exhibited growth both academically and socially. My expectation is that you will utilize the tools you have gained, such as thinking critically and leading with integrity. You will continue to work collaboratively with peers, professors and other members of the community. You will grow and refine your skills so that they become a part of your academic acumen. My wish is that you become a lifelong learner and climb to the apex of your full potential.

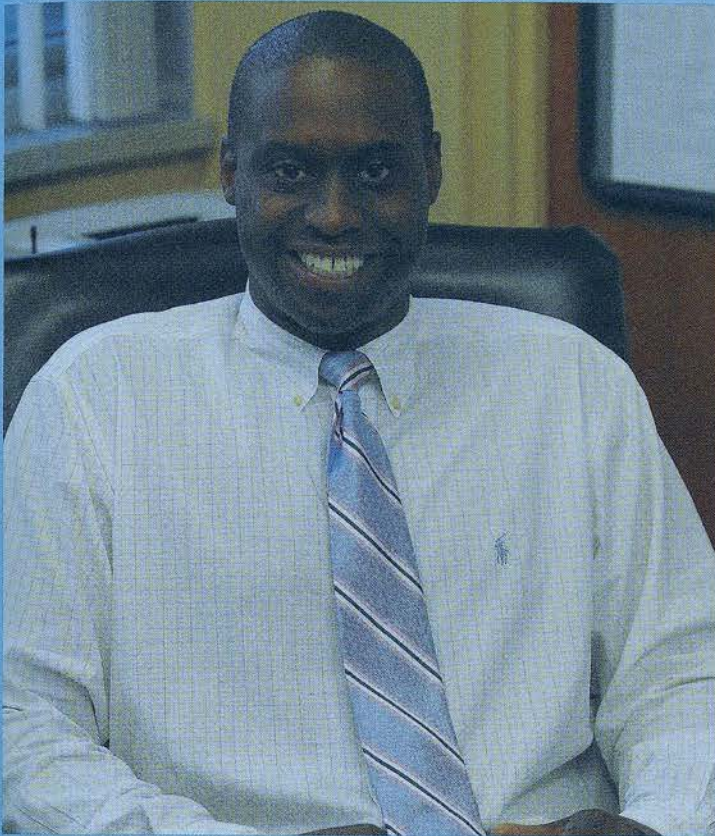

Mountaineers our paths in life can be thrilling, difficult, exhilarating and fraught with peril. In the end, although we may have the best guides in our families and teachers, remember that you are accountable for all the choices you make. I am certain of your readiness to assess all that lies before you while you make the necessary decisions to ensure that your time is filled with goals and accomplishments. You have been an integral part of the West Orange High School community and as you soar into the next chapters of your life, know that we are proud to have guided you along your way.

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." These are the words of Nelson Mandela, a man who employed his own education and moral base to truly make the world a better place.

Class of 2018, remember you are Mountaineers which means you climb every challenge and submit any problem. I am sure you will enhance the world, in large and small ways. As you move forward in your personal path, I am certain you will make us proud and just know I am proud to be a Mountaineer alongside you!

As You Write Your Story...

As we begin our journey, we will need some help along the way.
Here are some inspiring words from those who helped shape us.

Mr. Denburg:

*"Never do two things halfway.
Do one thing with everything."*

Ms. DelSpina:

"Believe in yourself and you will be unstoppable."

Mr. Mazurek:

"Being successful in life takes sacrifice. It's something you're willing to give up to become what you want to be. What are you willing to miss out on that you could enjoy at this very moment, to get something that's not even promised to you?"

Ms. Manning:

*"Listen with curiosity. Speak with honesty. Act with integrity. The greatest problem with communication is we don't listen to understand. We listen to reply. When we listen with curiosity, we don't listen with the intent to reply. We listen for what's behind the words." Roy T. Bennett,
The Light in the Heart*

Mr. Favetta:

"The heaviest penalty for declining to rule is to be ruled by someone inferior to yourself." - Plato

Ms. Podhurst:

"Great things are done by a series of small things brought together." - Vincent Van Gogh

Ms. Paradiso:

"Always be proud of your accomplishments, but never forget to be humble. Congratulations, Class of 2018 and good luck!"

Dr. Brandt:

"It is important to develop a "Double Vision" to be successful. Manage your near term priorities while never losing focus on your long term plans."

Mr. Figuerido:

*"Courage is grace under pressure."
- Ernest Hemingway*

Mrs. Brevard:

"Life is 10% what happens to me and 90% how I react to it." - Charles Swindall

Ms. Baker:

"You must enter a relationship with yourself before anyone else." - Rupri Kaur

Mr. Kelly:

"Suck it up cream puff!"

BUSINESS

Welcome to WO

Author - Marc Younker

A lot of our memories from our high school experience are spent off campus. We are grateful for all of our local businesses and community members who have provided many opportunities for the senior class. Throughout our four years in high school, we can recall all of our visits to satisfy our needs at each of West Orange's best businesses. Kessler hosts volunteer programs where many students are able to help out in the gift shop and deliver flowers. For years at the High School, many students would head over to Bagel Box for a quick breakfast before school or to Mark & Julie's for a snack after school. These local businesses instilled a sense of community within the senior class, and many continued to show their support by advertising in this book. Our friends and family have also contributed several pages while being a great source of support to our school. We are beyond grateful for their contributions and for purchasing ads within our yearbook. Congratulations to the class of 2018!
