Horace W. Moody Designs as President of Independent Club

Horace W. Moody, president of the Summit Independent Club, resigned from that office last Monday evening. No announcement was made pending preparation of a statement by Mr. Moody which would clearly indicate the reasons for his decision. Following is the statement furnished "The Summit Herald" by Mr. Moody.

"Following the Presidential campaign last November it became necessary to disassociate the Willie Club from the name of its leader at his own request, and thus reorganize the Summit Willie Club. Accordingly steps were taken along the broad lines suggested by the Independent Clubs of America following their organizational meeting early in December, and in January the first annual meeting of the Summit Independent Club was held.

"At that time a difference of opinion was evident as to the function of the Summit Club should exercise in local affairs. Before the election of officers the issue was early drawn, and I was elected president on a platform definitely opposing the entry of the organization into local political affairs. At that time it was my belief, and it still is, that the handling of strictly city political matters should rest in the hands of the local Republican and Democratic organizations. However, following my election the divergence on this question became more marked, and it has recently become evident that my stand did not represent either a majority opinion of the Executive Committee or the membership at large. I therefore felt, in all due fairness to the club for whom I was presumably the spokesman as its president, and in fairness to those who elected me, and to myself, being still strongly of my original opinion, that I should tender my resignation as president to the Executive Committee.

"I am happy to say that I look upon the Independent Club as the manifestation of a healthy rebirth of interest in political matters which I believe to be vital to the successful functioning of the American Republic. I further believe that this organization can successfully fulfill a real place in this community in many ways; and it is my most sincere wish that the Summit Independent Club will flourish and grow and receive the support of our fellow citizens in the many fields which lie open to it.

Police Laxity Dispute Continues as Judge Defends His Charge

Police Court Judge Robert J. Murphy charged the police with laxity when he returned to the bench a week ago and asked the press to take notice of his remarks. Mayor Guido Forster, when informed of his comments, disputed Judge Murphy's statistics. Following is a reply sent to The Summit Herald by Judge Murphy:

"Mayor Forster has recently seen fit to score my criticism of what I believe to be laxity on the part of the Summit Police Department, by stating that such is none of my business. I most vigorously disagree with this assertion, law enforcement is the business of the Police Court and of the residents of this community, and when law enforcement breaks down, the people should know the true state of affairs.

"According to the records of the Summit Police Department, only a single speeding summons has been issued in the past three months. The Mayor says that accidents have not increased. He should be better informed. Complete figures for the month of March, 1941, are not available, but for the three months immediately preceding March 1, 1941, there were thirty-five reportable accidents, each involving damage of twenty-five dollars or more, occurring within the City limits as against nine reportable accidents in the same period a year ago, or an increase of almost four hundred per cent! Does that explain why I spoke out? It is true that the total of a year ago was low; it was low because it was the culmination of a long period of diligent law enforcement, the benefits of which are readily apparent. I am obliged to suggest to the Mayor that he confine himself to the record.

"The Mayor further states, 'traffic statistics indicate that speeding is not a problem.' To what statistics he refers, I do not know, unless he believes that no summons having been issued, no speed violations occurred. My observation is to the contrary, as are the observations of those many citizens who have contacted me in recent weeks to complain of the making of speed runs of our thoroughfares."

Primaries and Poll Make Busy Day for High School Pupils

Using two voting machines lent by Union County and set up in the main corridor of the High School, 583 registered students of the school's government, the General Organization, carried out yesterday the school's primary election for the next school year's G. O. officers and balloted on a referendum carrying national and local school questions.

Nominees for Each Office

This year's G. O. Vice-President and next year's Football Captain-Elect Frank Sommo with a vote of 244 ran considerably ahead of the rest of the presidential candidates. His nearest rival, Miss Ruth Bleher, with 120 votes becomes the nominal nominee to oppose Sommo at next Wednesday's general election. The unsuccessful candidates and the votes they received, follow: Robert Forsberg, 108; James Kleizman, 85, and Patricia Scurry, 21.

Richard Stolz with 185 votes easily led the field of vice-presidential candidates. In a nip-and-tuck race for the second vice-presidential nominee, Francis De Rienzo posed out William Goldis by the count of 108 to 107. Alan Dampman with 92 ballots and Audrey Genualdi with 85 ballots were the other candidates for the vice-presidency.

In the race for the office of secretary for which only members of the secretarial class were eligible for consideration, Rose Mancuso was high with 190 votes trailed by Virginia Bender with 134 for the other nominee. Other candidates and their votes were Solange Johnson, 102; Martha Swenson, 92, and Loretta Walguarnay, 45.

John Payne with 147 votes and William Hostick with 167 were returned the treasury nominees. Candidates for treasurer who trailed and their votes were Elizabeth DeGullo, 83; Stanley Frankowski, 78, and Salvatore Aloco, 69.

Follow Regular Election Procedures

The election carried out under the supervision of the Student Council with James E. Downes, chairman of the school's social studies faculty, as adviser, exemplified all procedures employed in a regular State election. To establish his eligibility to vote each student had to establish that he was regularly registered by writing his signature for the student election board that it might be compared to his original registration. After completing this act, he was given "a slip" as in a regular election entitling him to use of the voting machine.

Students serving on the election board were Hocco Mancuso, Margaret McFale, Frank Phillippi, James Downes, Barbara Jackson, Selma Newman, Jean Brydon, Joe Costabile, and Janet Donio.

Results of Poll

In the opinion poll, the student voters first considered the question, "Should the United States Navy be used in convoying aid to Great Britain?" Results announced following the closing of the polls showed 153 had voted in the affirmative and 171 in the negative.

The vote on the second question which read: "Should there be any redistribution of pupils in order to alleviate the overcrowded conditions in the Central High School building?" was 132 in the affirmative and 129 in the negative.

Army Selects Summit as One of Four Air Warning Posts in Union County

The definite assignment of one of the four Army Air Warning Posts in Union County to Summit Post 138 American Legion, gives this organization its first real defense duty, according to Commander John E. Neville who attended a New Jersey Department American Legion Defense Committee meeting in Somerville last Saturday.

Preparatory to army air defense maneuvers similar to those held through the New England states and on Long Island during the past winter, the Army Signal Corps has located 210 Air Warning Posts in the State of New Jersey in such a manner as to give complete coverage for the total area. The American Legion will have full charge of the entire system.

Part of National Defense

The Aircraft Warning Service is a definite part of our National defense establishment and comprises a nationwide network of Air Warning Posts manned by trained observers who, in emergencies, will be on duty at all times, both night and day. Of necessity, the personnel of such an organization must be accustomed to military control, know how to take and interpret orders, and have a devotion to national defense. The Army has chosen the American Legion as the organization to man these posts.

Recent developments in the defense of England, and experiments conducted in this country indicate

Experiment in Public Opinion Polling with Voting Machines

EARLY VOTERS

Notify Police If Peddler Lacks Proper License

The Common Council requests all citizens to assist the Police Department in its endeavors to apprehend all persons peddling in Summit without the proper Veteran's permit issued by the County Clerk or that issued to others by the Summit City Clerk.

If anyone comes to your home offering to sell you any article, please ask to see his permit and if he is unable to produce one refuse to deal with him and notify the Police Department.

We so doing you will not only keep your home "clean" but will be of service to your neighbors and our local merchants.

MAXWELL, LESTER, JR., President, Common Council.

Cadet Richard P. Mellmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mellmann of 35 Whittier, a student at Pennsylvania Military College, will begin his spring furlough on April 2nd. ## OUR TOWN

TO THE FRIENDS WE HOPE TO HAVE

Nine thousand residents of the Summit, Short Hills, Chatham, Springfield and New Providence trading area will receive this copy of "The Summit Herald."

Many of you who receive it will not be subscribers or regular readers of the "Herald" and may not know what we are trying to do. We shall try to explain briefly.

We believe that this area deserves the finest local newspaper in New Jersey. (We have been bolder and said "the finest paper in the country.") We hope that we are on the way toward creating such a newspaper.

We believe that a fine, well edited, intelligent, widely-read newspaper—good enough so that people will pay money to get it—is essential to churches, social service organizations, merchants, local government, municipal officials, and every constructive force in a community because all must have an efficient medium for getting facts, ideas, causes, advertising and opinions before all of the people in the community.

The most effective and economical medium is a widely-read newspaper. It is a broad highway along which ideas, opinions, advertising and worthwhile news can travel.

Our job is to give you a newspaper you will look forward to—a newspaper in which you will find all the news of this community—a newspaper of record—a newspaper which will introduce many of you to people and places hereabouts you do not now know but will be glad to know.

We have a fine foundation on which to build. We have a 52-year-old newspaper which, under the active leadership of John W. Clift, now Editor Emeritus of "The Summit Herald," became and remained a force here and throughout the state for nearly 45 years.

This issue of the "Herald" is, naturally, a little "special." We are putting our best foot forward—naturally. But we think that we can safely promise that we have gone only a very little way along the road that we intend to travel and will go very much further. We hope to look back on this issue in the not far distant future and admit that it was good but agree that it was soon and regularly surpassed.

We think it is good that all of us—perhaps especially in a suburban commuting area—should get to know each other better by hearing more about each other. We are sure that there are things going on around us—in our schools, in government, in organizations, in clubs, among hobbyists—that it would be helpful and pleasant to know. In the past three weeks, since we assumed management responsibility for "The Summit Herald," we have begun to hear about interesting people—some of them known all over the world—who live near us and among us but who were unknown to the present editors of "The Summit Herald."

We will confess to you that we are very much dissatisfied with what we have been able to accomplish thus far. Our plans and intentions have run far ahead of us and we are not overtaking them nearly fast enough. There is so much that we want to do and intend to do.

What we can say to you is this, however:

"The Summit Herald" is a good paper and we are not ashamed of it. We do not hesitate to ask you to subscribe to it "as is." But before your first year's subscription runs out, it will be a very much better paper. You will not be making any mistake if you begin to support it now.

Our goal, in our own interests, and for the sake of this area is a paid circulation representing 90% of the homes in this group of communities. That is a high goal, but others in other communities have achieved it.

We think that when we have achieved that goal we will have built a newspaper which will be a very great asset to Summit, Short Hills, Chatham, New Providence and Springfield.

If you are not now a subscriber may we add: The rates are $3.50 a year, $2.00 for six months, or 32c per month paid weekly to our "Herald" carrier boys. It would make us very happy to receive your check.

Board of Recreation Sponsors Egg Hunt

The Easter Bunny will visit Summit in person next Thursday, April 10 at a city-wide Egg Hunt to be conducted by the Board of Recreation for kindergarten and grade school children at 2:30 p. m.

After looking over sites over the entire city, the committee selected the recently acquired area surrounding the Edison School as the most suitable spot for the hunt.

The Parent-Teacher organizations have donated the eggs boiled and dyed and there will be plenty for all. Each child will have an opportunity to hunt with children his own age as the hunt will be divided into three groups. The kindergarten group along with grades one and two, will have a separate party of their own in the grove to the left of the school building, while grades three and four, and grades five and six will hunt in the sloped area which will be roped off directly in front of the school.

The Summit Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and City Police will be present to keep the boys and girls in the areas allocated for each group.

A committee of twenty boys from the Edison Junior High School will hide the eggs. Prizes will be awarded to winners in each age grouping.

In case of rain the hunt will be held on Saturday morning, April 12th at 10:30 a. m.

This is the first egg hunt to be held in Summit and plans are rapidly being completed to make this Easter a memorable one for the kiddies in Summit.

Further details will be announced later.

Residents Vote No on U. S. Convoing and Pupil Redistribution

The results of the Summit poll of public opinion were recorded Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock after two days of voting, as Schuyler Bogart of the Union County Board of Elections unlocked the machine and read off the totals from the automatic tabulators in the presence of three members of the poll committee. The results as announced by Henry Schmidt, Jr., originator of the poll idea and chairman of the sponsoring committee, were as follows:

Of the total of 682 votes 322 voted "No" on the question: "Shall we convoy aid to Britain" while 316 voted in the affirmative. (Forty-four did not express an opinion on this question and merely voted on the local question.) On the question: "Shall we redistribute Summit school children?" 296 voted "No" while 341 voted "Yes." One hundred and forty-five skipped this question because they were unfamiliar with it and merely voted on the national question.

The committee is pleased with the number who voted since the poll was arranged on short notice and was used mainly by commuters and citizens walking through the station during the day. With further preparation for a future poll, the committee feels a considerably larger vote can be obtained. At that time the experience gained and the suggestions offered will be used to make the poll a more complete expression of opinion.

The Summit Independent Club, sponsoring the experiment, made the following statement:

"The Summit Independent Club wishes to express its thanks to the people of Summit for the interest shown in this experimental referendum. It was both surprising and gratifying that so many people took occasion on such short notice to express their opinions on a matter of national and a matter of local interest. The committee in charge of this undertaking feels that the provision of such means for the collective expression of individual opinions and the transmission of such expression to those who should be concerned by it is a vital contribution to the democratic process.

"The Club will undertake to transmit the results of this poll on the national question to Senators Barbour and Smathers and to Representative McLean in Washington. The results of the poll on the local question it will transmit to the City Council and the Board of Education.

"The results of this trial are indicative of a genuine interest and the Club wishes to obtain any suggestion which might increase the efficiency of, or interest in such polls which the citizens of Summit would like to have submitted in any further polls. These should be sent to Mrs. Edwin R. Thompson, secretary, 1 Euclid avenue, or to the local newspapers.

"It is only through an awakened interest in matters of public interest that the American way of life will be preserved."

(Signed) Committee on Information.

During the course of the two-day poll, there were many amusing incidents. Some local citizens kept coming back to check up on progress of the poll, one of whom was

Council Proposes New Regulations For Fire Department

At an adjourned session of Common Council held Monday night an ordinance was introduced prescribing regulations for the government and control of the city's paid Fire Department. The widest departure from previous practices indicated is the provision that all appointments henceforth made shall be on the basis of a competitive examination, said examination to be selected by the public safety committee and approved by the Council. Appointments, when and as if made, are to be made from those having grades in the highest third of all applicants taking the examination. Applicants to be a minimum of five feet seven inches in height to conform Civil Service requirements.

Activities of Firemen Limited

As further provided by the ordinance every member of the Fire Department is expressly prohibited from taking part in any business or occupation, other than his fire duties for financial gain. Members of the department are also positively prohibited from active participation in any political activity or political campaigns other than to exercise without interference the right of suffrage; and shall not hold office in any organization or club which takes any active part in politics.

Conduct and Deportment

The use of tobacco on the street or in any public places when in uniform is prohibited to the firemen. Also, no member of the department shall have in his possession at Fire Headquarters or on his person while on duty or in uniform any intoxicating liquor, nor shall any member of the department while on duty or in uniform drink any intoxicating liquor including whisky, beer, wine or other alcoholic beverage.

Good News for Dog Owners

President of the council, Maxwell Lester, Jr., announced at the Tuesday night session of the "City Father" that members of Council were in unanimous agreement with the Board of Health to the effect that the Police Department has successfully managed the handling of dogs in Summit and is therefore highly to be commended. Consequently, he said, no change is considered in the provisions of the dog ordinance.

Sidewalk Survey

A communication was read at Tuesday's session from the Town Improvement Association calling attention to the glass discs out of the sidewalk in front of a Maple street store, thus causing distress to ladies wearing high heeled shoes. Reference was also made in the letter to a previous note from the association about side walks and asking what had been done about the situations complained of. In answer thereof, Councilman-at-Large G. Harry Cullis, chairman of the street-committee, said a survey was now being made of the sidewalk situation on a city wide basis. During the winter, he said, it was impossible to make any improvement to sidewalks.

American Legion, Summit Post No. 138 was granted permission to conduct a carnival for a week in May at the grounds at the intersection of Morris avenue and Broad street.

Traffic Ordinance Amended

An amendment to the traffic ordinance was introduced which would prohibit parking on the north side of Hawthorne place between Woodland avenue and Beechwood road and on the north side of Franklin place all the way with one hour parking on the south side of this street.

A hearing and final passage were had on two ordinances, one pertaining to completing arrangements between Summit and New Providence Township providing for the connection of the sanitary sewer as an outlet for the Bell Laboratory now nearing completion in Murray Hill, and the other pertaining to police regulations, details of both which were reported in "The Summit Herald" of March 21.

Sale of the lot at the corner of Hughes place and Baltusrol road to Frank Parkin of Springfield which was consummated on March 18th, was rescinded because the Zoning Board of Adjustment would not approve Parkin's plans for a house on the said lot.

Resolutions were passed on motion of the finance committee to pay on account of the 1941 budget: $2,000 to the Public Library, $2,000 to the Board of Recreation and the Board of Education, $35,000.

Receipts for the Receiver of Taxes for March were reported in amount of $28,990.67 while receipts for the police court for the same period were only $42. Approval was given to the appointment of Miss Eleanor Carlson as clerk to the Board of Tax Assessors to take the place of Miss Florence Deuman resigned. Notice was read of the approval by the State Department of Local Government of the city's 1941 budget as submitted.

City Officials Pleased as Three Point Drop Is Indicated in Summit Tax Rate

Tentative tax rates certified by the Union County Board of Taxation on Tuesday placing the 1941 Summit rate at $4.15 per $100 as compared to $4.18 last year and $4.25 in 1939 fixes Summit among the seventeen Union County municipalities to show a decrease in this year's rate.

Council Head Pleased

On learning of the decrease in Summit's tax rate for this year, Chairman Maxwell Lester, Jr. of Common Council said, "I think the citizens should be gratified at a rate of $4.15. Although the reduction is small, the trend is in the right direction, marking one further step toward the goal of a rate of less than $4.00 set by Common Council. With many non-recurring items of debt eliminated by their inclusion in the present budget, the citizens can reasonably expect even a larger reduction next year. Provision is made in the 1941 budget for the current W. P. A. costs which will eliminate the necessity of either issuing notes or offsetting cost of W. P. A. from any surplus due to savings on expenditures or better tax collections than anticipated."

Elizabeth faces a twenty-one point increase while Plainfield, Linden and Scotch Plains are the other municipalities with increased rates. Plainfield jumps five points to $4.23, Linden three points to $3.33, and the Scotch Plains rate of $4.97 is one point higher.

Kenilworth's rate of $5.78 remains the highest in the county but is a far cry from that borough's $6.85 in '40. The $1.07 reduction is the largest decrease in the county.
All of the rates are calculated to produce sums slightly in excess of the budgetary amount to be raised by taxation.
The county board meets again Friday, when the rates probably will be certified as final. This year's county tax rate is 72158736. The State school rate is 289420746. No soldiers' bonus levy is being made this year.

New Providence Boro
Notes of Interest

Approve County Isolation
Hospital Idea

The New Providence Borough Board of Health at its meeting Tuesday night approved the idea of a County Isolation Hospital. It was pointed out that local cases requiring services of an isolation hospital were sent to the Elizabeth Isolation Hospital. Although co-operation here was all that could be asked, the hospital could reject our cases if space was needed for cases of their own city. The question was brought forward due to a questionnaire from the Summit Board of Health.

A communication was received from the Elizabeth Board of Health stating they would take cases of the Isolation Hospital upon certification of the Sanitary Inspector if the local Board passed a resolution authorizing same. The resolution was adopted. Heretofore some delay was experienced in sending cases to the hospital due to difficulty in getting Board members together so as to guarantee payment of service charges.

Edward Damm was appointed deputy plumbing inspector for the balance of the year. He held the position last year but reappointment was held up this year due to a disagreement in the Board over the position. Clerk was authorized to give a property owner in the Laurel Park section notice to connect his dwelling with the sanitary sewer. Attorney was authorized to take legal steps against owners of a dwelling and store in South street where unsanitary conditions exist and owners have refused to remedy the situation. A complaint regarding a water hole off Livingston avenue was referred to the County Mosquito Commission for possible drainage of the section. Application of Mrs. Joseph Engel for a children's boarding house at 8 Lavina court was granted. Only two boarders may be housed under the permit issued.

Miss Edna Bopp, school nurse, reported eight cases of measles, two of chicken pox and three of whooping cough during the past month. She reported making 78 home visits as follows: Ten to expectant mothers, 28 to babies under a year, 20 to pre-school children and 15 to school children. Two babies were born during the month. Miss Bopp's visiting list includes seven expectant mothers, 33 babies under a year and 173 pre-school children. Miss Bopp reported inspecting 277 children and treating 21. Fifteen children were treated in the dental clinic.

Sanitary Inspector C. B. Novins reported three cases of influenza and one case of dog bite during the month in addition to children's diseases reported by Miss Bopp. He further reported inspecting Lincoln School and finding all there in a clean and sanitary condition.

Recreation Committee
Plans Events

The Borough Recreation Committee is planning a series of events for both young and old of the Borough. Councilman William E. Webster is chairman of the committee, assisted by Councilmen G. Russell Vanderhoof and Howell C. Boice and a number of residents of the Borough.

First on the list of events is the presentation of a play tomorrow night (Friday) in the school auditorium by the New Providence Dramatic Club under the sponsorship of the Recreation Committee. The one-act play is entitled "Poor Chris." Players will be Christian Neff, Mrs. Alice Neff, Mrs. Marion Geisung and Miss Jessie Mullen. There will be no admission charge. The play will be followed by dancing.

The Committee is planning to conduct community baseball and softball leagues during the approaching season. Baseball will be played on the new diamond at Oakwood Park, while softball will be played on the Lincoln School field according to present plans. Local organizations are urged to enter teams in either league. A meeting to discuss plans will be held April 9th, at 8:30 p. m. at the Borough Hall. All interested are invited to attend.

The Committee's annual Easter Egg Hunt will be held Saturday morning, April 12th, at 10:30 a. m. in the fields at the corner of Elkwood avenue and Passaic street. The committee will be assisted by women of the community. Over a thousand Easter eggs will be hidden in the fields for the children to find with many specially marked eggs, the finder of which will receive prizes. Younger children will receive time handcaps and there will be a special area for tiny tots.

Plans are being made for a marble tournament which will probably be held on the school playground. Winners will be eligible for county, state and national tournaments. The Senior Scouts and Scout Leader William Spurgeon will assist in this affair, the date of which has not as yet been determined.

Later in the year the Committee will hold a Kiddies' outing at Lake Hopatcong, a kite flying contest, an airplane model and flying contest and a Jacks tournament.

Boy Scouts Plan Activities

The local Boy Scout Committee met Monday night at the home of Leroy Putnam in Springfield avenue and discussed activities of the local troop. Albert Grover of the school faculty is acting Scout Master as Christian Neff has been unable to attend meetings due to pressure of business, which involves national defense. It was reported that a survey of eligible boys for Scout work was being made. It was stated that 38% of eligible boys attending Lincoln School are members of the troop, a very high average. District Commander Lester Genung attended the meeting. Harry Schlichting was chairman of the meeting. Alfred Zangara, chairman of the advancement committee, reported that three boys had received merit badges at the last Board of Review and numerous others had passed tests toward next particular rank.

Carl Petersen, chairman of the camping committee, reported that many of the scouts had gone on a week-end camping trip to Camp Watchung, Glen Gardner last week-end. The next trip is planned to correspond with the Watchung Council Camporee, May 2nd and 4th, also at Camp Watchung. It is hoped the entire Boy Scout Troop and Troop Committee will attend this affair.

William Spurgeon, leader of the explorer patrol, was given permission to plan and organize a patrol trip on April 18, 19 and 20, to Stokes Forest. Plans were also discussed for sending the troop on a camping trip during latter part of August under Mr. Grover. In order to develop initiative of the scouts, it is planned to have them make their own tents during the next few months in preparation of the trip. They will also be asked to make other parts of their equipment.

Parent-Teacher Association Meets
The Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday night at Lincoln School auditorium for the annual "Father's Night" meeting. About 125 persons attended. A covered dish supper was served at 6:30 o'clock by women of the organization. The business meeting following was held under leadership of Lockwood Dorrance.

The Association is already making plans for its final meeting of the year to be held May 6th. This will be preceded by a luncheon bridge. The meal will be served by a caterer but girls from the local school will serve as waitresses. Final reports of the year will be received at this time.

The Association is planning to do additional welfare this year, particularly in cases of pupils needing glasses or tonsil operations. It is also planned to spend some money in providing instruments for the school band to be used by children unable to provide their own instruments. Miss Edna Bopp, school nurse, Supervising Principal Allen W. Robert and Band Leader Harold Warford have been asked to make a study of these matters and make recommendations.

To Hold Clean-Up Week

The New Providence Civic Group, with the co-operation of Borough officials, is planning to hold the annual Clean-Up Week from May 5th to 10th. Persons will be urged to clean up around their homes and place rubbish at the curbs, where it will be picked up and carted away. It is expected Mayor John W. Oakwood will issue a proclamation in connection with the drive. Later the members of the Boy Scout Troop will deliver circulars giving a schedule of the pick-ups. The committee in charge, comprising Police Chief Harry High, Fire Chief Robert Webster, Elmer G. Ayers and Leonard Mancuso, secretary of the Civic Group, met Monday evening and made final plans.

Schedule of pick-ups of rubbish in the various streets is as follows: Monday, May 5th, Laurel Park, Pittsford, Lavina Court, Division avenue; Tuesday, May 6th, Union avenue, Earl place, Pearl street, Kline Boulevard, Fairview avenue, Central avenue; Wednesday, May 7th, Passaic street, Elkwood avenue, Union street, West View avenue, Academy street, South street; Thursday, May 8th, Clinton avenue, Madison avenue, Pitney avenue, Pleasant View avenue, Maple street, Willow street; Friday, May 9th, Tall Oaks, Countryside, Mountain avenue and all points south of railroad not previously mentioned; Saturday, May 10th, Springfield avenue, Ridgeview, Livingston avenue, Marion avenue, First street, Second street, Third street, Fourth street, Eighth street, Bradford place, Dunlap street, Potter street, and Thomas street. Pick-ups will be made by trucks owned by Elmer G. Ayers, local garbage collection contractor, aided by Borough road trucks.

Florence Lewis Wins
Spelling Bee

Florence Lewis of the eighth grade of Lincoln School has been declared champion speller of the elementary school due to her winning a spelling bee Monday afternoon. Florence outlasted the runner-up, Eleanor Smith, also of the eighth grade, by spelling the words "terrible" and "stationery" after both girls had missed on the word "chocolate." Eleanor, after both had missed on "chocolate," also missed on "terrible," but Florence spelled this and "stationery" correctly to win. By winning Miss Lewis became eligible to enter a spelling bee to be held late this month in Plainfield, the winner of which will be eligible to enter the national spelling bee.

The final spelling bee had only two winners in the various classes as contestants. They were as follows: 8th grade, Florence Lewis, winner, and Eleanor Smith, 3rd. Plan For Annual School Field Day

Under the supervision of Allen W. Roberts, supervising principal, plans are being completed for the annual field day exercises of the school to be held May 28th on the school grounds. The affair this year will be an all-day event with athletic events in the morning, exhibition drills and dances in the afternoon followed by a baseball game between the school team and its arch-rival, Columbia School of Berkeley Heights. At noon-time a luncheon will be served by the members of the Parent-Teacher Association, who will also serve refreshments throughout the day.

Wins School Table Tennis

Dorothy Banks of the ninth grade of Lincoln Junior High School won the school championship Monday by defeating the runner-up, Elmer Stoney, also of the ninth grade, in a stirring 5 game match. The score was as follows: 21-17, 16-21, 13-21, 22-20 and 21-17. All pupils of the Junior High School were eligible for the competition.

Alma MacCauley won the championship in the girls' division easily by defeating Mildred Tedeo, runner-up. Both girls are members of the ninth grade.

These championships and all table tennis at the school was made possible by the donation of two table tennis tables by the Laurel Park Men's Club, who held an exhibition of table tennis at which some of the world's leading players competed, to raise funds for the tables.

This week one cabinet shows the culmination of a study on China by Mrs. Mabel Putnam's third grade class. The exhibit depicts rice fields, terraced gardens, dolls, in Chinese dress and Chinese buildings. The other cabinet houses two exhibits (Continued on Page Three)

Several trips for the various classes are being planned now that better weather has arrived. To date trips for Junior High School classes to the Planetarium and the New York Zoo and for the first grade to Schmalz Dairy near Striving have been definitely fixed.

Following a series of achievement and intelligence tests given throughout the school it has been reported that the school has shown marked improvement. In practically all subjects, the entire school is above the national norm, some classes as much as 18 months. A complete program of achievement and intelligence tests was inaugurated three years ago by Superintendent Principal Allen W. Robinson under the supervision of William Springer, Charles of all pupils, and the school are made and are available for reference so that the faculty has a clear picture of all phases of a pupil's advancement. Intelligence tests are given five times during the nine years and are in school while the achievement tests are given each semester so that the latter part of the term may be devoted to remedial work.

Subjects that are far beyond the national norm are reading, English, literature and general science. Only two subjects show need of improvement, arithmetic and spelling and in these two subjects a definite gain over the three-year period has been in evidence. The testing program, however, is only one of the many factors in use by the school for determining the educational advancement of the pupils. Metropolitan Achievement tests are in use in the grades from kindergarten to 12. A recent county survey showed that the majority of pupils in the county. In the ninth grade the Stanford Revised Test is used. More than ever before a complete record of all phases of a pupil's activities in school is being recognized as a necessity.

very much interested to learn from our poll attendant that the female vote was very much in the minority so far. He shrugged his shoulders, his doubt having become a conviction that the nation should never have given women the franchise. He further amplified his comments by asking us if we ever see the women reading newspapers on the trains. He was quite sure that their only concern with the newspapers was the shopping ads.

Another held forth at great length. "The poll meant nothing," since most people are "non-thinking people" whose opinions are based on no facts, and are not the result of any logical reasoning. We assured her that our job in starting the poll was merely to see what public opinion is as it now stands, to try to present the facts clearly on every question.

A local police officer skeptically remarked that "things like this won't have any effect. It's men like Hazue that really run the country." A suspicious passer-by offered the fear that the poll was "just another propaganda stunt to get us into war." Another comment was "It is a darn good thing to get all this expensive equipment into use instead of merely taking them out once a year for elections."

In the constructive side, one lady said how she considered the poll idea excellent, stating that "letters and telegrams sent to Washington are frequently sent by cranks, while the poll represents an authentic representation of opinion." Her companion added that "the idea should be spread all over the state or perhaps the nation to let the government really be guided by public opinion."

Other comments: "Won't do any good. We have nothing to say about it any way." "The school question is not for the public to decide. It should be left to the school board. If the Board is no good, kick 'em out." "The committee of attendants working under Mrs. Edwin Thompson were: Miss Betty Mattson."

Many more men than women voted. All foreigners presented identification cards. Colored people could not be persuaded to vote.

The results of the poll have convinced the Independent Club that there is widely accepted public interest in its endeavors to provide a medium for the registration of public opinion on important questions of the day. The Independent Club in keeping with its policy, is anxious to secure any suggestions which might increase the efficiency of or interest in such polls. It is anxious for suggestions for questions which the people of Summit would like to have submitted in any future poll.

Hilltoppers Expect Choo-Choo Title

Combination of Better Hitting, Pitching May Lead to Lackawanna League Pennant

By BRAYTON SMITH, Sports Editor

This probably sounds like a prevarication, but it's the truth, so help me: Resting gently in the cushioned chairs of Millburn's Board of Recreation headquarters, a group of sports writers, baseball managers and backers fell to talking and arguing, as is the case at every meeting of baseball leaders in every section of the country. Loud and angry grew the discussion, fists banged the table and some of the ordinarily complacent baseball men flared in disagreement. And do you know what caused the argument? Whether the Summit Hilltoppers would accept a trophy or individual players awards for winning the 1941 championship of the Lackawanna League. And this is only early April, mind you!

Granting so much for the influence of cigar smoke and so much for the presence of the league's colorful president, Matthew Campanella, the debate still was indicative of the frame of mind of Hilltopper followers this year. Of course, even the most rabid, even the most loyal, know that upsetting the league championship Nutley Americans, with the terrifying pitching of Tony Paul and Orest "Smokey" Intindola, is something that calls for more than boastful phrases, something that requires more than plans on paper. And the Hilltoppers think they have what it takes to upset the Nutley club. Or, at least, the writers and managers do.

Before jumping completely off the diving board and into the yet-icy April water, it will be well to remember that Nutley nosed the Hilltoppers out by a full six games last year. That's a lot of games to make up, even making allowances for certain improvements. To bridge the difference between third and first places, a combination of changes are considered necessary—an improvement in hitting and fielding by the majority of the members of the team, which manager John Yannunzio expects, and some retrogressive action on the part of the Nutley performers, which is considered highly probable.

New Players To Provide Added Punch For Team

Although pitching has always been a problem for local teams, the Hilltopper backers are firm in their opinion that some heavy slugging can make up for the deficiencies in the ranks of the twirling corps. New players may provide the added punch at the plate, but it is considered necessary for veteran performers to improve their averages from fifteen to twenty points. This is not impossible, considering the low batting marks of most of the Hilltoppers last season.

Pitching, too, will be improved if Yannunzio is any judge of the twirlers who are slated to take the mound this year. Instead of having one or two old-faithfuls, the Hilltoppers will boast a full-strength group of from four to five seasoned hurlers.

Fielding, final of the three important departments of the game, will have to be improved if the Hilltoppers are to climb, and this is also considered possible with a series of intensive pre-season fielding drills. As was pointed out by one Madison representative, it wouldn't be hard to eclipse the Summit's club ragged defensive record of last season.

Actual Starting Line-Up Problem For Yannunzio

As far as the selection of a starting line-up for opening day is concerned, Yannunzio is about as far away from a decision as Brooklyn is from Shanghai. At almost every position there will be two or more candidates, or at least there is every indication that such will be the case.

Starting in the outer garden, the Hilltoppers expect to have veteran Pete Kivlen, Bob Brydon and Art Vran in the regular spots. Kivlen led the Lackawanna League hitters last year and is expected to be a mainstay at bat and in the field again this season, although he is older than the average Choo-Choo loop ball player. Brydon, Seton Hall College star, played with various semi-pro outfits last year, but is expected to give part of his time to the local diamond this season. Vivian normally is used as a pitcher, but Yannunzio thinks that he will be more valuable in the outer regions, should the other twirlers hold up.

On the reserve outfield list will be Bob Moroney, Joe Della, Eddie Moroney and Charley Twill. All are players of many years' experience and may step into the starting cast at the outset of the season. Infield berths are more settled, although there is a possibility that some shifts may be made after the campaign opens. Tom Finerman will be at first base, "Slip" Brenn at second, Jim Ahern at short stop, and Tony Bruno at third. Howard Smith is the only performer on the inner garden reserve list at the moment.

Pitching will have a bevy of candidates. Vivian, of course, will be set take his turn on the slab, and Don Cain and "Que" Spencer, holdovers from last year, will also be on hand. Other candidates will not be known until practice sessions open sometime late this month.

Catching is the big question mark. It proved a problem for the local club last season and may prove equally embarrassing this year. Unless Yannunzio is able to find a first-string receiver, it is considered likely that the Hilltoppers will be considerably weakened.

Complications May Set In Before Season Is Opened. There is always the possibility, of course, that working schedules, selective service training and vacations may handicap the Hilltoppers. On the whole, however, managers and writers all around the circuit agree that the Hill City boys are going to be tough customers to deal with this year.

Many Summit followers are going to be disappointed if the Hilltoppers don't win the championship. Some of the other league clubs, Irvington, Millburn, Madison and Livingston, cannot be underestimated as pennant contenders, but all Summit fans can safely boast that at the outset it looks as if a pennant is going to fly over Soldiers Memorial Field next year.

By the way, they never did decide whether they wanted a trophy or individual awards. The question will probably be resumed when the loop's Board of Governors meets at Millburn tomorrow night.

Pease Leads S. H. S. Runners in Trials

Leroy Pease continued to pile up triumphs in Summit High track time trials on Tuesday afternoon, leading a field of nine runners who plan running the 440-yard event this year. Pease was clocked in 64.5 seconds on the indoor track at the Y. M. C. A., annual scene of spring trials.

Other times included the following: Frank Iannella, 68.6; Warren Handville, 69.4; Vincent Guzzardi, 70.5; Max Bluntschi, 70.8; Richard Kern, 72.3; Turidul Cartaino, 72.5; Edward Karzewski, 72.8; and Thomas Ryan, 74.8.

Coach N. Hamilton McGiffin will conduct time trials for the 880-yard run this afternoon and mile tomorrow. The team is preparing for the Penn Relay Carnival at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, to be held later this month.

End Finals in City Badminton Tourney

Champions were crowned in three divisions—women's doubles, men's doubles and mixed doubles—of the city badminton tourney at the Edison Junior High School gymnasium last evening.

Results follow: Men's doubles—semi-finals, Hussa and Crawford defeated Jory and Iyer, 15-0, 15-3; Graham and Klinek defeated Otto and O'Donnell, 15-4, 15-3; finals, Hussa and Crawford defeated Graham and Klinek, 6-15, 15-7, 18-13.

Brydon Performs With Seton Hall

One of Seton Hall College's veteran baseball performers going through paces on the South Orange field of the Pirates this week, is Robert "Bull" Brydon of Summit, who is a regular member of the starting outfield cast. While at Summit High School, Brydon played football, basketball and baseball, as well as participating in some track and field events. He has been a regular on Al. Manaux's starting Seton Hall nine for the past two seasons.

Included on the Seton Hall schedule this year are games with Fordham, Providence, C. C. N. Y., East Stroudsburg Teachers, Brooklyn College, Rutgers, I. U. Rider, Ithaca, Manhattan, Western Maryland, St. Peter's and the Jersey City Giants of the International League. The latter game is an exhibition affair.

Sent to Easton Nine

Charley Zioher, catcher for the Irvington Stanley's of the Lackawanna Baseball League last season, who was voted the most valuable player in the Greater Newark Conference when a student at Irvington High School, has been ordered to report to the Easton (Md.) club of the Eastern Shore League, a farm team of the New York Yankees. Gordon Schler, a hard-hitting rookie, will in all probability take over catching duties for the Stanley's.

Phillippi Exhibits "300" Bowling

One of Summit's leading bowlers and a constant devotee of the keeling sport is one "Sedgie" Phillippe, who numbers among his achievements a letter-perfect "300" game, two individual City Bowling League titles, and numerous prizes in matches held throughout the state.

His "300" performance, first in the long history of the Summit Y. M. C. A. alleys, was accomplished last year while rolling for Geddis Taxi Co. against Hose Company No. 2. "Sedgie," as he is addressed by his many followers, few knowing his real name, is a graduate of Summit High School. He tried his hand at all types of athletics while in school, playing a luminous role with the football team. These days, however, "Sedgie" has put away his old athletic togs and taken up bowling in a major way.

He rolls on the average of three times a week, although he readily admits that there have been times when he would bowl as many as six evenings in a week. In four short years he has climbed from an average 167 performer to one who now averages better than 190 in league competition.

Besides rolling in the City League, he does an expert job for the Ripa Club in the Orange Suburban League, one of the fastest organizations of its kind in the entire state. In addition he has captured numerous prizes in the annual New Jersey State meet at the Newark Recreation Alleys and in the various county meets conducted throughout this area.

His greatest thrill, so he says, was conceiving a "300" score. His version is that the first eleven hits were perfect, but that the pins rocked and reeled before dropping on the final roll. For his achievement, the American Bowling Congress awarded him a gold ring bearing an inscription that lists his name, accomplishment, where it was performed and the date of the feat. Although "Sedgie" did not at all favor a story being written about him, stating that it might "jinx" him in the final weeks of City League competition, he was firm in his opinion that Geddis Taxi would win the league title. He said he was more interested in seeing his team come through than winning any individual honors. Both "Sedgie" and his team are at the top of the league standings at the moment.

Summit High Baseball Team Aims High as Cornog Opens Practice Sessions—Lack Strength at Some Important Positions

WANT ANOTHER SUBURBAN CONFERENCE TITLE

At the outset of the 1940-41 school year, Summit High School's athletic teams were not even conceded an outside chance of winning any of the three major Suburban Conference championships—football, basketball and baseball. Millburn High was favored to repeat in all three sports. With the greater part of the school year now a past issue, however, Millburn has not captured a single title, and Summit, supposedly a weak sister, holds trophies for both football and basketball.

It is with this same situation of being only an outsider, a mere contender for the crown, that Summit High's baseball team will take the field this year. Millburn's hard-hitting brigade of diamond warriors, with fire-baller Warren De Palma on the mound, is again considered the team to beat for the championship. Yet, local followers, somehow, feel that anything that happens twice in one short year can certainly occur again.

Coach Elwood C. Cornog is not treating the possibility lightly in the pre-season practices he has scheduled for the Hill City nine. He readily admits that Summit's sluggers are not too bright, but he says that improvements at a few positions this season might skyrocket the locals to a third successive Conference title. Only in experimentation, constant watching of young players and changes in the general alignment of the club, does he expect to improve the 1941 aggregation.

Veteran Candidates At Every Position

Although Cornog can boast at least one veteran for every position, the record of last year's club would indicate that there was need for much improvement. Even with a man for every spot, it is necessary to make allowances for strong re-

Union County Hikers

A steep climb up Bear Mountain, with an elevation of 1,125 feet, is included in the itinerary of a 10-mile hike scheduled for members and guests of the Union County Hiking Club on Sunday, April 6, in the Midvale-Wanakee section of New Jersey.

Walter W. Baldwin, leader for the journey, states that the hikers may expect to get splendid views of Wanakee Reservoir and the southern Ramapo Hills during the trip. Those planning to accompany the group are asked to meet at the Administration Building, Warinac Park, Elizabeth, at 8:30 a. m., or at the Midvale-Wanakee station of the Erie Railroad at 10 a. m.

JOHN W. CLIFT'S FIRST SUMMIT HERALD

This is the first issue of "The Summit Herald" which John W. Clift edited when he came to Summit in 1896 from Morris. It was Volume VII Number 39. Note particularly the "Summit's New Buildings" which comments on the rapid growth of our village was making toward becoming one of the first of suburban towns in the State. Note also the data on taxes. Looking through files of "The Summit Herald" in search of this particular issue proved very distracting. It was hard to stop reading of another day. Looking at the early issues makes us feel both proud and modest.

SUMMIT REAL ESTATE NEWS AND BUILDING ACTIVITY

Sears, Roebuck and Co. Convinced of the Continued Prosperity of This Area; Expect To Open New Store Latter Part of April

Construction work in the new Sears, Roebuck and Co. retail store to be located in the new building at 335 Springfield avenue has been completed and workmen are now adding the finishing touches to the interior decorating. H. N. Osgood, manager of the company's local retail unit, announced today.

The newly erected one story brick building is owned by the Burlington Corporation which leased the store at 335 Springfield avenue to Sears. Five other business establishments will occupy the new structure. William E. Lehman, architect whose offices are in Newark, designed the building. Graetana Greco is the general contractor on the job.

Expected to open the latter part of this month, Sears new store will have a selling area of 5,850 square feet, almost twice the space of the present store at 354 Springfield avenue. The gross area of the new location will total 13,920 square feet compared to the 8,220 square feet of space in the present building.

The additional space in the new location will be used to expand the merchandise selections of the store's departments and several new departments will be added. These will be housewares, stoves, millwork, plumbing and heating.

A three car tire, battery and oil service station will be established by Sears at the rear of the store which will provide an automobile battery, oil and tire changing service to customers. Also at the rear will be a large parking lot for the convenience of the customers of Sears and other business firms in the building.

One of the features of Sears modern retail store will be the display fixtures—the latest type to be designed by the company's store planning and display department. Constructed of metal and painted to harmonize with the pastel colored walls and ceiling, the fixtures provide a maximum of display space with a minimum of floor space.

The open ends of the tables serve both as stock bins and as display sections. The tables are low so that customers may see the length of the entire store in order to locate other departments which are prominently designated by large signs.

A model bathroom will be set up to display Sears bathroom and bathroom fixtures in a natural setting. The walls of this bathroom will be tiled in Sears Duracolor and the floor will be covered with linoleum tile.

Knotty pine paneling on the walls in the sporting goods department lends a note of rustic simplicity to harmonize with the outdoor motif of many items of the department's merchandise.

Mr. Osgood said that a number of new employees will be added to the store's personnel. These people will be local residents in accordance with Sears policy of employing local people in its retail stores.

Expressing his satisfaction with the progress being made in the store's construction, Sears manager said: "I am delighted that we will be able to obtain this impressive new home. We are proud of our present quarters, but the new building will enable us to offer better service to our customers, particularly in regard to the parking facilities which we consider an essential part of our store operations."

"Sears would not have found it feasible to make such a substantial investment in Summit had the company not been convinced of the continued prosperity of our city and the surrounding area. Furthermore, the kindness and hospitality extended to us by the citizens of this city makes the expansion of our store inevitable," Mr. Osgood declared.

Real Estate Boards Against Bill 40

Claiming that it will necessitate increases in apartment maintenance personnel, the New Jersey Association of Real Estate Boards, of which the Summit Board of Realtors is a member, has taken a stand against Assembly Bill 40, the State wage and hour bill, and declared that it will raise the scale of rents for these dwellings in New Jersey "considerably."

The association, consisting of forty-one member boards of realtors, covering every county in the State, announced the decision of its executive committee to oppose the bill in a statement by C. Arnel Nutter, of Camden, president of the organization. He warned that "in addition to increasing rents, such a bill would undoubtedly tend to cut down the construction of multiple family dwellings due to the increase in the cost of operation."

He said that as a result of the influx of workers brought into the State by the flood of defense contracts and the high rate of industrial activity, "housing facilities in this State are already taxed to the limit."

Mr. Nutter charged that passage of Assembly Bill 40 would discourage new building, and added: "So long as personnel can be housed there is no reason to come to this State, but as soon as we reach the point where we are no longer able to house workers, then these contracts will go elsewhere."

Nutter's statement follows in part: "This is a bill that would have the most far-reaching effect, upon every citizen in New Jersey. At this time, when we are faced with a shortage of housing and consequent high rents, due to the war and defense work, a bill of this type would do incalculable harm."

"We have been striving to maintain an equitable level of rents in this State, so that we will not have rental control forced upon our owners, but if such a bill is passed, the additional personnel required in apartments will necessarily raise the rents considerably."

"Many of those coming into this State on defense projects realize that they are here only temporarily and do not want to purchase homes."

"New Jersey is the key industrial State of the Union and we have done everything possible to encourage industry and to place 100 per cent cooperation behind this defense program. Therefore, we are opposed to the Wage and Hour Bill, amended or unamended."

Cracks in Floors Filled With Wood

Cracks in thick-planked floors are best filled with hardwood strips cut to an exact fit. Match and parallel the plug drain markings with those in adjacent planks before securing in place with thin nails or glue.

In an alternate procedure, which eliminates tooling, the fissures are packed with sawdust—from the same or a like colored wood as the planking—worked with glue into a thick paste.

In either case, sandpaper repaired areas for a pleasing finish.

Realtors Optimistic About Activity for Rest of This Year

Thomas F. Munroe, Vice President of the Summit Real Estate Board reports the sales activity in Summit Real Estate for the first three months of 1941 is leading Summit Realtors to believe that there will be a housing shortage before fall.

Since the first of the year many residential properties have been sold and of great interest to Summit Realtors is the fact that many of these properties have been in the higher price brackets.

Practically every section of Summit has felt this activity and particularly Druid Hill where several dwellings have been purchased recently.

New owners have also bought properties in the Prospect Hill section, Glen-Oaks, Colonial gardens, West End Gardens, Woodland Park, Ivanhoe Park, while others have bought on Summit's North Side, and there has also been some activity in the eastern and northern sections of the City. It is the belief of many Realtors that Summit is attracting a good type of purchaser who is interested in living in a community where standards of development are high, and while the growth is steady, there is no boom or mushroom development.

Another advantage the buyer has in taking up residence in Summit is the low tax rate.

Comparing Summit's rate of $4.18 with rates for municipalities listed below it is not high by any means.

Belleville ..... 4.68
Chatham ..... 4.46
Hillside ..... 4.86
Kenilworth ..... 6.85
Morristown ..... 4.93
New Providence ..... 4.64
Plainfield ..... 4.21
Teaneck ..... 5.21

Summit Realtors are looking forward to busy times if the sales activity for the first three months of 1941 is any indication of what may happen throughout the year.

W. W. Drewry Breaks Ground at His River Bend Community for Model Village

A model village of popular-priced dwellings designed to enable families with modest incomes to live in a select community with the same privacy and restrictions demanded by owners of more pretentious homes, has been started by W. W. Drewry at nearby River Bend. For many years Mr. Drewry has been engaged in the development of fine home communities—including Countryside and Tall Oaks in the Murray Hill section and others equally well known in North Jersey—but with it always in mind to establish a large colony of smaller homes for a carefully selected group of purchasers desirous of providing for their families the comforts of modern home-construction in a fine community at a minimum cost.

So carefully has Mr. Drewry planned his newest project in the home-building field, that even the name—River Bend (inspired by one of the most picturesque bends in the Passaic river overlooking Morris county) is a distinctive one. To insure a neighborly and congenial spirit among the purchasers of the proposed homes, he has made his countryside field-office at 400 Mount Pleasant, Summit, the temporary headquarters at which those interested in the $5,000 to $7,000 homes in River Bend, (five miles away) must apply for detailed information.

Cape code design will be the dominant architectural feature of the new village. The houses will be of frame, stone and brick combination and will contain many innovations.

payment of approximately $40. A large number of inquiries about the new community have come in and seem to indicate that popular priced homes at River Bend will fill a real need."

At Mr. Drewry's office in Summit, architectural designs, floor plans and samples of the building material to be used are on display daily and Sunday. Facilities are provided for directing visitors to River Bend, where engineering work and excavation have begun. The new project is Mr. Drewry's entry to the lower cost home field—and with his other developments—enables him to broaden his price range from $6,000 to any amount the home-owner wishes to spend.

River Bend will have 300 homes, built on large plots. The street plan has been designed by John W. Oakwood, landscape engineer, to provide a winding-park-like effect, and to eliminate the hazard of rapid vehicular traffic for the benefit of children in the community. The homes are designed by D. Wentworth Wright, Maplewood architect.

Describing the project, Mr. Drewry said: "I have long thought it possible for the family in the lower income bracket to own a well-built home in a highly restricted community and to enjoy the benefits of neighborhood refinement at a cost well within its means. The problem was to find a site of sufficient size to permit the construction of such homes on a basis that would insure exclusiveness and yet permit of the economy by mass construction that could be passed on to the purchaser. River Bend serves the purpose ideally. It makes possible the creation of a self-contained community that offers every advantage of modern living at surprisingly low cost."

"Families able to spend $600 or $700 cash and who measure up to the personnel standard that has been fixed, will be able to own a home at River Bend at an actual expense of $29 to $30 a month, to which must be added an amortization installment, or a total monthly

THE STORY OF CALVARY-OLDEST CHURCH IN SUMMIT

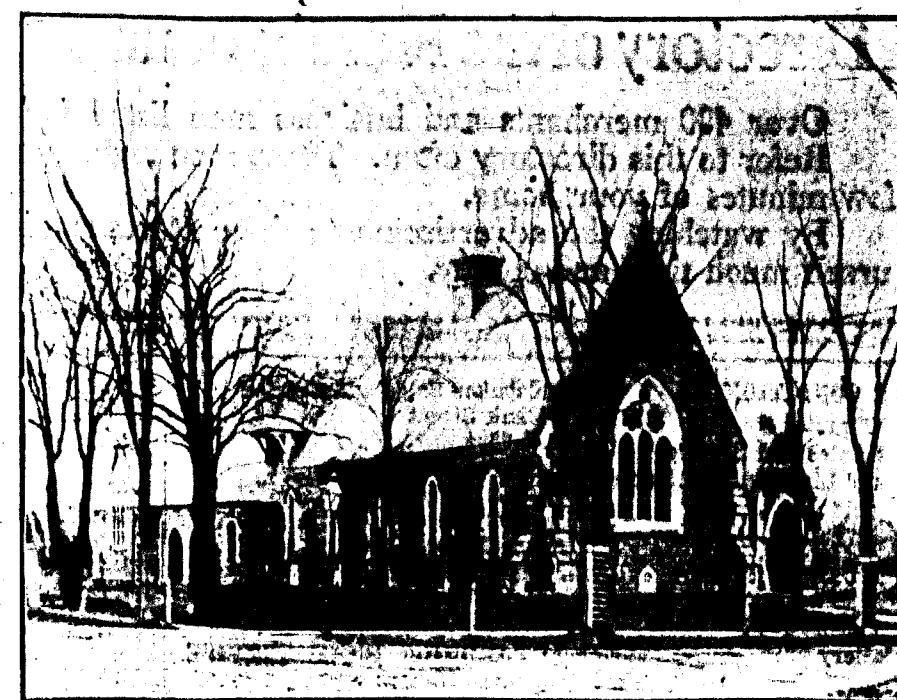

THE FIRST CALVARY CHURCH

The earliest Calvary Church in Summit was a wooden church built in 1854. It was capable of seating about 75. It was situated close to the railroad on the south side of Springfield Avenue a little to the west of what is now Woodland Avenue. It was formally opened on October 16th under the direction of Right Rev. George Washington Doane, the second Bishop of New Jersey.

THE PRESENT CALVARY EPISCOPAL CHURCH

THE SECOND CALVARY CHURCH

The second Calvary Church was destroyed by fire in 1893. It had a seating capacity of 300, inadequate for the church in the growing town. On the night of January 7th the Vestry and the Bishop met to consider plans for enlarging the building. The problem was difficult and nothing was decided. The next morning the question was solved. The church and connecting buildings burned to the ground.

Eighty-Seven Years Old, Calvary Church Started in a Small, Brown, Gothic Building And Grew Into One of Our Loveliest Churches

THREE BUILDINGS MARKED ITS GROWTH

Beginnings are always interesting. The mountain stream that broadens into a river, the hamlet that grows up into a city, both are interesting. But greater than any interest that attaches to things natural, or merely human, is that which belongs to the growth of things which minister to the spiritual and eternal. More real honor may well be the right of those who found a Church than of those who plan a city. This is the reason, if one were needed, why it is well while the facts are accessible, that the early history of Calvary Parish should be recorded.

The first Calvary Episcopal Church was built here in 1854 when Summit as a town or village had no existence. It was simply "The Summit" and was a part of the town of New Providence. Among those attracted here about 1852 was the Rev. Thomas Cook, a priest of the Diocese of New York. The first services by him here were probably held in his own house on Springfield Avenue, just west of Highland Avenue.

In 1851 Mr. Cook, with the help of residents and friends elsewhere, succeeded in erecting the first church building of any description in Summit, naming it Calvary Church. This was a little brown wooden building, Gothic in character, and capable of seating about seventy-five persons. It was situated close to the railroad on the south side of Springfield Avenue, a little to the west of what is now Woodland Avenue, and near the railroad crossing. Here, on Monday, the 16th of October, the formal opening of the Church took place under the direction of the Right Rev. George Washington Doane, the second Bishop of New Jersey, and father of the present Bishop of Albany. It is easy to picture the scene on that October day, fifty years ago. The only roads of any consequence then in Summit were what is now known as Springfield Avenue, leading to New Providence, a road to the Passaic River and Chatham, now known as Morris Avenue, and that leading to the Morris turnpike at Bishop Hobart's place, and now called Hobart Avenue. The clearing on "the mountain" were few, as the land generally was not well fitted for farming. Here and there were a few scattered houses, mostly occupied as summer homes, and every-where beyond were dense woods of oak and maple and chestnut in abundance. Here is the description which the great Bishop (for he was indeed that) gave of the event in his address to the Annual Convention of the Diocese at Burlington in the following May:

"On Monday, October 16, 1854, the Calvary Church, Summit, which is not yet finished, and so has not been consecrated. Morning Prayer was read by the Rev. Messrs. Williams, Stewart and Rose, and I preached and administered the Holy Communion, assisted by the Rev. Thomas Cook, of the Diocese of New York. There were also present the Rev. Dr. Berry and the Rev. Messrs. Stocking, J. D. L. Moore, Rowland, Geo. Adams and Jerome. The erection of this Church is a beautiful illustration of the scriptural rule, to look not every man on his own things, but also on the things of others."

This event was followed the following year by the consecration of the Church, of which the Bishop gave this account to the Diocesan Convention of 1856:

"On Thursday, 16 August (1855) I consecrated Calvary Church, Summit. The request to consecrate was read by the Rev. Thomas Cook, of the Diocese of New York; the founder of the Church; and the sentence of consecration by the Rev. John Henry Hobart of the Diocese of New York. Morning Prayer was read by the Rev. Messrs. Goodwin and Radder, the Rev. Messrs. Goodwin and Jerome reading the Lesson. I preached and administered the Holy Communion, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Berry and the Rev. Messrs. Williams, Stewart and Rose, and I preached and administered the Holy Communion, assisted by the Rev. Thomas Cook, of the Diocese of New York."

the Rev. Mr. Williams, the Rev. Mr. McKenzie of the Diocese of Toronto reading the Epistle. There were also present the Rev. Messrs. Stewart, Pierce, Coe, and Gries, the Rev. Dr. Blake of the Diocese of Massachusetts, and the Rev. Dr. Spencer of the Diocese of New York.

The first missionary appointed to the charge of Calvary Church (the work having been only started by Mr. Cook, its founder) was the Rev. George N. Sleight who, together with his brother-in-law, Wm. B. Stoughton, an earnest layman, carried on a boys' boarding school, first in the old house which stood at the northeast corner of Springfield and Edgar place, and later in the "Highland House," on what is now Highland Avenue.

The Rev. Reuben Riley was appointed to the charge of the Mission at Summit in July, 1859. About this time, also, the Rev. Thomas Cook built the "Mansion House," which formerly faced on Springfield Avenue at the northwest corner of its junction with Highland Avenue, but was moved about 1896 to the latter street.

The Rev. Reuben Riley was succeeded in 1860 by the Rev. Wm. Henry Rees, D. D., as Missionary, and Dr. Rees became the first Rector when the parish was duly incorporated the following year, in December, 1861.

At the close of 1862, Dr. Rees felt compelled to resign the rectorship on account of ill health, and for several months the Rev. Philomen E. Coe was the minister in charge. In the summer of 1863 the Rev. James DePul, classmate and intimate friend of Dr. Rees, was elected to the rectorship on a salary of $200 a year. This was increased to $250 the year following, but in April 1865, Mr. DePul was compelled to resign on account of ill health. On April 21st a special meeting of the Vestry was called, in the minutes of which occurs this brief but suggestive record:

"On motion it was voted that the ladies of the Parish be invited to drape the Church with suitable mourning, to express our sorrow for the death of the President of the United States, Abraham Lincoln."

At a meeting held May 24th of this same year the Rev. John W. Kramer, M. D., lately Chaplain in the army, but at this time only admitted to Deacon's orders in the Church, was elected Rector on a salary of $1,500. Dr. Kramer remained in charge until October, 1869, when he became Rector of St. John the Evangelist, New York City.

The Rev. Dr. Rose conducted the services until April, 1870, when the Rev. James Pennington, M. D., was called to the rectorship, remaining for one year.

Dr. Pennington was succeeded in April, 1871, by the Rev. Mortimer M. Benton. It was during Mr. Benton's rectorship that the stone church at the southeast corner of Kelthook (later Edgar and now Beechwood road) place and Springfield Avenue was built. The land and $2,000 were the gift of Mr. Jonathan Edgar. The corner-stone was laid on SS. Simon and Jude's Day, October 28th, 1871, and the building was first used in July, 1872. It is evident that at this time an earnest spirit was abroad in the Parish, and that the future growth of the town was being prepared for. The Rector could only report, in 1873, forty-nine families with seventy-two communicants, but he was able to tell that the new Church had been finished, and five handsome memorial windows presented, besides various other gifts and adornments, while "the great liberality" of Mr. Jonathan Edgar is especially mentioned.

Mr. Benton resigned in 1874 and was succeeded by the Rev. John F. Butterworth, then Rector of St. Mark's Church, Jersey City. During

Mr. Butterworth's time the Parish grew in strength and numbers, and debts aggregating nearly $19,000 on church and rectory were paid, largely through the instrumentality of Mr. William H. DeForest, Sr. On May 31, 1880, the Church was consecrated by the Right Rev. Thomas A. Starkey, Bishop of the Diocese, assisted by the Right Rev. John Scarborough, Bishop of New Jersey. In 1882, through the liberality of Mr. William H. DeForest, Sr., and Colonel Archer N. Martin, together with the general offerings of the congregation, the Church was enlarged, and a new chancel and Sunday school room erected. The chancel was consecrated in 1883 and a parish room, known as the Sunday school extension, was erected in 1891 at a cost of $2,600. In 1886 a fund was created for a chapel in East Summit, and the lot, one hundred feet square at the southwest corner of Bridge street (now Ashwood Avenue) and Morris Avenue, was purchased for that purpose.

It was on Sunday morning, January 8th, 1893, that an event occurred which had large consequences for the Parish. This second Church, seating about 300 persons, had for some time ceased to be adequate to the rapid growth of the town and Parish. On the night of January 7th the Vestry, together with the Bishop (who had come for his annual visitation) had held a meeting to consider plans which the architect had prepared for enlargement of the building. The problem was not an easy one and nothing was decided at the meeting, but the next morning the question was solved by full and fruitful rectorship of nearly nineteen years, resigned his charge. In December of the same year the total destruction of the Church and its connected buildings by fire. The Christmas greens were still in place, and when at the early celebration, the sexton obeyed the Rector's directions to light a star-shaped ornament of gas over the chancel arch, the dry decorations caught fire and the building was a complete ruin.

In the summer of this year the Vestry decided to purchase the property in "the Park," bounded by Woodland Avenue, DeForest Avenue, and a private roadway or lane, with a frontage of about 140 feet on Woodland Avenue. $35,237 was obtained from the insurance, but the greater part of this sum was spent in the purchase of this new site, and in the erection later of the Parish House. In August of this year the Rev. Mr. Butterworth, after a faithful and fruitful rectorship of nearly nineteen years, resigned his charge. In December of the same year the total destruction of the Church and its connected buildings by fire. The Christmas greens were still in place, and when at the early celebration, the sexton obeyed the Rector's directions to light a star-shaped ornament of gas over the chancel arch, the dry decorations caught fire and the building was a complete ruin.

time held in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, and it was not until the first Sunday after Easter, 1894, that the Parish House was ready for occupation and temporary use for Divine Service. On April 5th of the following year work began for the foundation of the new Church. Mr. Henry M. Congdon, of New York, the architect of the Parish House, was also the architect of the Church. V. J. Holden & Sons, of New York and Newark, were the contractors. L. C. Harrison & Co. built the organ. On Easter Day, April 5th, 1896, the first services were held in the completed building.

Here it may be well to give a brief account of the dimensions and construction of the Parish House and Church. The former was built from the stonework of the burnt Church and Sunday school rooms, and the memorial tablet commemorative of the children of Col. and Mrs. Martin, which formerly stood in the entrance of these rooms, was placed in the east porch of the new Parish House as a witness to the continuance of this Memorial. The corner-stone of the burnt Church was set in the north porch of the new.

The extreme length of the Church is 130 feet; breadth of nave and aisles, 65 feet; height of west gable, 65 feet. The building has a seating capacity of 750.

The materials employed in the construction are bluestone granite from the Rindio quarry at Dover, with Ohio sandstone trimmings. The granite is rock-faced and consists of square stones set in broken ashlar. The columns supporting the chancel story are of polished red granite from Red Creek, Conn., with Indiana limestone bases and capitals.

All the other inside stonework, including the tracery of the large rose window in the west gable, is of the same limestone. The passages in the aisles and nave are laid in red tile. The open roof timbers are in hard pine and the wainscoting and pews in oak. The choir, sanctuary, and baptistry floors are in mosaic.

Rev. Gwynne retired as rector in 1913 and was followed by Rev. Philip J. Steinmetz, D. D., who served about a year and a half as the seventh rector.

In February 1916, the present Rector, Rev. Walter O. Kinsolving came to Summit. During his pastorate of more than a quarter of a century Calvary Church has grown in its registry to more than 1,000 resident communicants and about 300 communicants from other churches living here. Dean of the Summit ministers, Rev. Kinsolving has taken an active and responsible interest in the life of this city.

Canoe Brook Offers All Family Members An Opportunity to Play Golf, Tennis, Dance, Swim, Dine or Just Loaf Around

A VARIETY OF MEMBERSHIPS ARE AVAILABLE

"Canoe Brook," they all say, "yes, it is for one year, and then Parker but where are the canoes and the brook?"

There really is a brook, and the name of it is, and has been as far back as anyone knows, Canoe Brook. Presumably, there must at some time in the dim past have been some canoes on it, but that too goes beyond the memory of man.

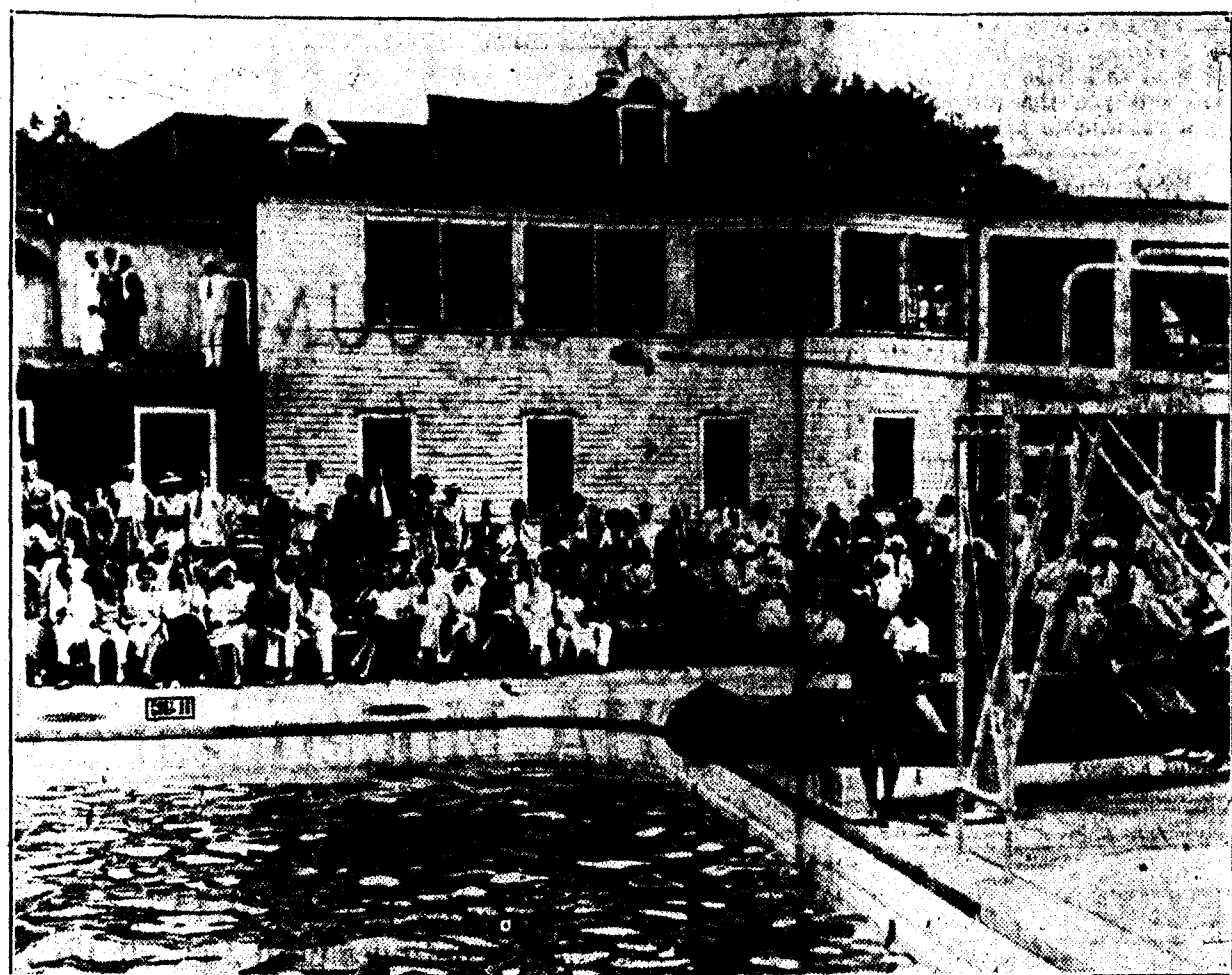

At any rate, it is quite a beautiful little brook making its peaceful way through the country a short distance west of the thirteenth fairway of the North Course. Strangely enough, very few members of Canoe Brook Country Club have ever seen the brook for which their club was named, but in spite of the fact that so far as the club is concerned, it has no canoes and no brook, it's still a nice name and we like it.

Golf has taken such a tremendous hold on the American people during the past 15 or 20 years, it is difficult to realize that the St. Andrew's Course at Hastings-on-Hudson, New York, the first golf course in the United States, is only a little over 50 years old.

Canoe Brook Country Club, which is celebrating its fourteenth birthday this year, is, in fact, one of the pioneer golf courses in the country. The club was organized in 1901 by a group of Summit men who purchased a part of the old Wallace farm and began the construction of a nine-hole course and the remodeling of the old farm house, both of which were formally opened in 1902 with flag-raising and many flowery speeches.

Charles W. Fitch became its first president. In 1904, Charles E. Finney guided the young club's destin-

Canoe Brook's Swimming Pool Is Very Popular

FAMILIES AND NON-GOLFERS ENJOY THIS

Canoe Brook is a golfers' club with 36 beautiful golf holes, but it has become a family club since its swimming pool made an appeal to wives and children.

doesn't appear to be difficult, but when you count up your score you wonder why you took so many strokes to get around.

The South Course is more hilly and somewhat shorter. Much of it was built through beautiful timber land, and the holes have individuality as well as scenic beauty.

The old Wallace homestead was remodeled into a clubhouse in 1901. How old it was at that time we do not know, but it is safe to assume that the front portion of the present house is from fifty to sixty years old.

From time to time, as conditions changed, the old place has been remodeled and additions have been tacked on here and there. There are about as many floor levels and styles of architecture as there are additions, but each new addition as it is made seems to gradually settle down into its place and the net result is an unpretentious but thoroughly comfortable home for Canoe Brookers.

Yes—There Really Is a Canoe Brook After Which the Club Was Named But There Aren't Any Canoes On It

THE STORY OF A 40-YEAR-OLD CLUB

Golf Courses

Canoe Brook offers two 18-hole championship courses. National, State and Metropolitan tournaments have been played there. The South Course is considered one of the most beautiful in the country. The North Course, nearest the club house, is the older and was designed originally by Walter Travis.

The Club House

The club house provides: A large dining hall where dances are held during both winter and summer; a screened, open-air summertime dining porch overlooking one of the golf courses; special rooms and lounges for card parties; a private grill room for golfers adjacent to the locker rooms; a men's cocktail bar; ample showers and lockers; a ladies' locker room; an open summer terrace from which golfing can be watched; private rooms where members or their guests may stay in residence when they wish.

Tennis

On the side of the club house opposite the golf course are six well-kept clay tennis courts where members, their families and guests may play.

Swimming Pool

Modern Pool, 82½ by 35 feet, with high and low diving boards, every modern device to insure crystal clear sterilized water, built in 1939. Underwater and outside lighting, with spectators area, fully and beautifully landscaped together with an attractive locker room with complete facilities where light refreshments are served.

Recreation Dances, Suppers

The prevailing summertime breezes blow across the valley toward the club house. Near the putting green and the 9th hole of the North Course is a giant oak in whose shade are chairs and benches. Breezes are nearly always blowing there. Summer and winter, on the average once a month, the club has dances. Summer Sunday evenings members and their families may enjoy a special buffet supper served by the chef. Winter Sunday evenings the buffet supper includes steak, chops and chicken broiled over charcoal. Frequently, summer and winter, members use the club for card parties, teas, receptions and special entertainments.

Families

Wives of members enjoy full privileges and as they grow older are permitted to obtain full privileges, if they wish, for a nominal charge. The club does not wish to be considered a man's club exclusively.

Greens Fees

Greens fees are $2.00 on week days. On Saturdays, Sundays and holidays greens fees are $3.00 regardless of the number of holes played.

Guests

Guests of members are welcome. No individual may be a golfing guest more than twice in any one calendar month, however. The club is glad to arrange to entertain groups of golfers on the recommendation of a member, providing they can be accommodated on a week day convenient to them and to the club.

Women

Wives of members enjoy the same privileges as their husbands except that they are requested not to use the golf course during certain periods on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Staff

The staff of the club has been selected with care so that members and their guests will be pleased by the service and attention they receive.

Follow-up Service

During a month the children, 10 to 12 at a time, consume about 18 dozen eggs, 350 bottles of milk, 30 pounds of butter and 92 pounds of meat. Spinach, that old muscle builder, goes at the rate of six pounds a meal.

After the girls gain weight and energy they are sent back to their homes. So as not to lose these gains, the association members, all volunteers, maintain a follow-up service and check up on the food habits and general health of the girls. Reunions are held at the home and one is being planned now for April 16.

As the needs of the community changed, so did the work of the society. For a time its members operated a summer home at the seashore for business girls. Noting the spread of tuberculosis and other diseases, the members decided that preventive work might help, especially among the poorer people of Newark. The present association, now 11 years old, is the result of that need.

The children are under the care of Miss Fannie Frankl, supervisor of the home; Miss Lydia Malpezzi, a teacher, who sees that the girls keep up with their school work, and Dr. Arthur Heyman of Newark, pediatrician.

Home Children Thrive in Summit

The Personal Service Association, of Newark, which maintains a home for undernourished Jewish girls in Summit, has seen charges gain as much as 40 pounds. The home at 417 Morris avenue keeps some of the girls for as long as a year, in an effort to build up the youngsters' health.

Managing the home, where girls come from the Newark school system, is a group of Jewish women from Newark and its suburbs. The home is an outgrowth of the flexible Hebrew Ladies' Sewing Society, organized about 75 years ago to aid immigrants in learning trades and becoming accustomed to a new land.

BACK FROM INSPECTION TRIP

Mrs. John Morrison Curtis of Franklin place returned Sunday from a four days' inspection visit to the six Hudson River branches of the Summit Refugee Relief Workrooms. These affiliated groups, whose work is of outstanding efficiency, send weekly quotas to the Summit headquarters, where they are packed for shipment.

As the National defense program

increases and more men are called for work in industrial plants; further gains in applications for birth certificates are looked for.

Birth Records Are in Demand

The National defense program, which is adding scores of workers monthly to industrial plants in this section of the country, also is increasing the duties of the Registrar of vital Statistics in the Board of Health offices in Old City Hall. Such certificates are requisite for employment in all factories engaged in defense projects.

Because nearly all plants today are requiring their employees and prospective employees to prove their citizenship as a safeguard against espionage, a number of persons a week call at the registrar's office seeking birth certificates.

A charge is made for a birth certificate, a fee which was set last fall when the National defense program began to pick up momentum with a resulting increase in employees in the various industrial plants in this area. If the applicant's birth is on record at the registrar's office, the certificate is issued forthwith. If there is no record here, the applicant is referred to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health. And if the latter bureau has no record of the applicant's birth, he is referred to either Judge Edward F. McGrath or Judge Walter F. Hettfield, III, before whom he must appear with his father, mother or other relative who has knowledge of the birth. The witnesses must fill out and swear to a long affidavit.

While there is considerable formality in obtaining a certificate of birth through a county judge, there is no charge for it.

Some of the applicants say that they never had a birth certificate. Others say that they had obtained them years ago, but had lost or

Beware Peddlers County Officials Say

"The conviction of a 'humus peddler' in the Westfield Police Court recently by the Union County Department of Weights and Measures should serve as a reminder to lawn and garden owners that it's better to buy your garden supplies from your local hardware or seed and grain dealer," said Fred D. Osman, County Agricultural Agent, at the Court House, today.

"Only for a tubful for this fine fertilizer that will make your grass grow where the grass grows before and a lot greener, too," is the persistent cry of these racketeers as they shove their feet in your door and insist that you need only a few tubs full to have a beautiful lawn next year. And while you hesitate, they hurry away to their nearby truck and with their helpers throw as many tubfuls as they can around your lawn; often enough to smother it in some places and not enough to cover the ground in other places. They not only add up quickly but multiply just as fast and the four or five tubfuls that you thought you might try out become twenty before you know it at 50c per tubful. Then if you object to their count, they become obnoxious and have been known to intimidate some housewives into paying the full amount to get rid of them.

"Many complaints have been received by my office," continued Osman. "Among them was one from a lady in Elizabeth who was asked $50.00 for material found to be worth $8.00 at the most, another party in Westfield who paid $200.00 for $20.00 worth of material, and still another party in Roselle who paid $9.00 for $1.00 worth of humus. Taken seriously, this so-called fertilizer can only be of value when incorporated with the soil and should be judged as so much good soil or well rotted manure. As practiced by these 'humus racketeers' throwing this humus on your lawn at 50c a tubful is about as valuable as throwing a gallon of paint against the side of your house and charging you $5.00 per gallon for the paint.

"While many complaints are received after the sale has been made, it remained for the alert Department of Weights and Measures to catch one of these several racketeers at the time of making the sale several months ago in Westfield and on this occasion the agent was able to charge the racketeer with short weight and selling from unsealed and uncertified packages and it was only after persistent effort that the court was able to bring the culprit from Jersey City to stand trial for these charges and after conviction to pay a fine of $50.00 on two counts. Several laws are being broken when these peddlers offer humus as fertilizer from a truck and include the Fertilizer Law, weight and measure, and quite often a local ordinance regarding peddling. Householders can best protect themselves against these racketeers by refusing to talk to them or if they become insistent by calling the police and when you want your lawn or garden improved by talking with your local hardware or seed and grain dealer, who will be glad to advise you intelligently and sell you the proper material at a reasonable price."

Photographers Wanted

Will any Summit high school boy who can take and develop good photographs quickly, and who might be interested in taking news photo assignments in Summit, call at "The Summit Herald"? Photos taken on assignment will be paid for. We want to know your name, address, telephone number, age and what hours you may be free for assignments. We want to know what equipment you have, and what experience. We would like to see samples of your work.

You must have the HERALD if you want the news of Summit. It will cost $3.50 per year for two issues a week.

Charm Club Members Have Gay Evening

A tired and happy group of Summit girls were in evidence on Tuesday night about 1 a. m. on the Lackawanna train. The reason? The end of a delightful trip to New York by members of the Charm Club which has been meeting in the Edison Adult Recreation Center during the winter months.

The group of girls, accompanied by Miss Gladys Elliott, the club advisor, had dinner in a swanky cafe, attended a musical comedy, and visited Rockefeller Center and St. Patrick's Cathedral.

The trip was the culmination of the season on charm which Miss Elliott has been giving each Tuesday evening at the Center and was enjoyed by all of the interested girls. The girls in the club have been having a very successful winter.

The members of the club who made the trip were the following: Misses Teresa Pecca, Catherine Iannella, Teresa Della Piazza, Marie Bace, Inez Chalone, Antoinette Proccacini, Louise Pecca, Ann Desimone, Elizabeth DeGaulo, Miss Swartz, and Miss Elliott, the advisor.

Election Officials and Teachers Receive Awards

In recognition of services rendered to the Nation and to the State on Registration Day for selective trainees October 16th, last, the President of the United States, in common with practice throughout the United States through Director Dykstra of Selective Service has awarded a certificate to all members of the teaching and administration staff of the Summit Schools and to members of the 15 Summit election boards. The certificate was awarded on information received from the County Clerk's office.

Building Operations Show Decided Drop In First Quarter

Total building operations in Summit for the first three months of this year amounting to $100,315 as measured in terms of permits issued through the office of Building Inspector Seaman L. Wright show a marked drop from the $317,710 total for the same period last year. The unfavorable comparative showing is due primarily to a permit of $180,000 issued to Ciba Co. and one for the Manley Court Apartments, both during January of last year.

Permits for Four Homes in March

Building permits issued in March totaling $37,705 feature construction of four homes, to wit: Colonial Park Home Sites Co., lots 8 and 14 in Colonial avenue, each for $5,500; N. A. Watson, 14 Westminster road, $10,000; and Joseph Swenson, 35 Hillcrest avenue, $9,000. Other permits for new building were issued as follows: J. B. Engle, Middle avenue, addition to Summit Cat & Dog Hospital, $3,500 and Crest Acre Corp., Summit avenue and Morris turnpike, $480.

Four Alteration Permits Issued

Four alteration permits were issued last month as follows: R. W. Stafford, 185 Ashland road, $125; A. Bontempo, 168 Broad street, $2,000 damage repair following last month's fire; Risk Estate, 37 Union place, $600 and W. L. Baker, Springfield avenue, $1,000, alterations to haberdashery store.

March building permits this year were slightly under the total of $44,950 for March last year.

Working Relationships With Parents Sought

In a recent questionnaire filled out by a Y. W. C. A. Club, one high school girl wrote "We want the kind of parents we can take our troubles to and be sure they understand." The Y. W. C. A. is an unusual organization in that its membership includes both adults and girls, which has been described as a "youth-adult partnership."

In the work with younger girls, the Summit Y. W. C. A. encourages good working relationships with parents and provides many opportunities for ironing out these difficulties which come up in "the best of families." In the Girl Reserve Clubs there are discussion groups designed to let the girls think out for themselves what their part is in establishing good family relations. Although the Summit Y. W. plays a real part in the personality, development of teen-age girls through educational, social and recreational activities, it recognizes happy family relationships as the strongest young people can have. For this reason their program includes an emphasis on family relationships. They want to help the girl to do her share toward this end.

This is also why the Y. W. C. A. club include a parent-daughter event in the program of the 60th anniversary.

Salvation Army's Work Told to Summit Kiwanis

Activities of the Salvation Army were described to the Summit Kiwanis Club Tuesday by Major Ralph Miller of Division Headquarters in Newark. He mentioned many cases where men and women had been reformed through its efforts and added it was carrying on in 67 countries. The army, he added, had justified its existence, and was considered one of the most important reform institutions in the world.

The occasion was Otto Schmidt day. President William Kay gave a brief biography of the guest of honor and said he was one of the active members of the club. Announcement was made Mayor Guido F. Forster would speak next Tuesday on local government. Next Wednesday members will attend the meeting of the Millburn Club when District Governor Thomas Huxseltown will speak.

Girl Scout Camping

At a recent meeting of the Girl Scout Council of Summit, Mrs. W. C. Bernhard, chairman of the Camp Committee led a discussion on better camping facilities for our Girl Scouts.

Camping is one of the important parts of the well rounded Girl Scout program. A good leader prepares her girls for this adventure by outdoor activities all during the year. There are three types of camping which the Girl Scout program offers: Troop Camps, Day Camps, and Established Camps.

Troop Camping is planned and carried out by the girls and leaders of a single troop. This is usually done some time in advance, planning the meals and activities to fit in with the length of time given. And the troop can carry on afterwards the things started in the camping period. In Summit the Girl Scouts use a cabin on Surprise Lake in Watchung Reservation. Already the troops are registering for the coming Spring week-ends, Troop 1, under the leadership of Miss Marjorie Sneyd and Mrs. E. R. Thomson will use the cabin this week-end. And Troop 11, Mrs. J. F. Jensch, Leader, has registered for a week-end in May.

Day Camps are places where the girls can go just for a day and participate in activities that give them training in out-door living. The Camp Committee has previously had a Day Camp on Saturdays during the Spring at Camp Eastwood on Ashland Road. The girls were offered facilities in hiking, out-door fire building and cooking, trailing, outdoor games, singing and camp craft. This last activity includes the sort of thing a girl should know to make camping comfortable and fun—such as planning her equipment for a week-end or overnight hike, menus involving the least cooking and yet providing wholesome meals, and dividing the work evenly. The Summit Council plans to run either a Spring or Summer Day Camp this year. This will be open to all registered Girl Scouts and Brownies.

Summit has no established Camp but Camp Mogica, situated on Lake Kanawake, Bear Mt., N. Y., is open to our girls. This is conducted by the Camp Committee of the Morris Area Girl Scout Council of Morristown. It is open from June 30 to August 25 and its activities include: Swimming, Badminton, Handcraft, Terrariums, Archery, Boating, Folk Dancing, Cooking, Singing, Hiking, Dramatics and Games. Twenty-one of our girls attended last year but we think many more should have the chance to go. It is hoped that the Community will support the effort the Council is making to give better opportunities to Summit girls to participate in these camping activities.

You must have the HERALD if you want the news of Summit. It will cost $3.50 per year for two issues a week

FREE PARKING PLACE

The City of Summit has allotted the ground between the Y. M. C. A. and the Public Library for the parking of vehicles—free of charge.

The area is fenced and has five driveways and will accommodate we surmise, 200 automobiles.

If the Business Men of Summit will kindly notify their employees to this effect, the parking situation will be helped a great deal.

Remember the place, Maple street, next to the Y. M. C. A. Parking free to all.

Playhouse Thriller Beautifully Staged, Skillfully Acted

The Playhouse Association is giving a psychological thriller called "Double Door."

The principal character is a domestic female, Victoria Van Bret, whose possessiveness drives her to insanity. Meanwhile, however, she very nearly drives her victim alive in a secret room.

The performance of Zuma Alexander as Victoria Van Bret struck the audience as flawless. It is difficult to imagine anyone doing it better.

The success of the play depends largely upon the skill with which the part of "Vicky" is played.

Zuma Alexander is not a new talent to the Playhouse stage. She played the part of Mrs. Pearce in "The Tragedy of Hamlet."

Her performance in "Double Door" is a very different part. It is a very different part.

Social Security Act Explained

(Third in a series of articles concerning different phases of the Social Security Act.)

ARTICLE NO. 3

Wages of each employee covered by old-age and survivors insurance are credited to his account every three months as employers' reports are received by the Social Security Board. In nearly all instances the employee's wages are reported under the name and social security account number as they are shown on his account number card, and they are added on his ledger sheet in a matter of seconds.

However, if some discrepancy turns up in the name or account number, the ledger sheet will not clear the machines used for posting wages. It is thrown to one side and thereafter a check must be made to clear up the error.

This necessitates asking the employer to check back on his records and frequently he must call on the employee, if still in his employ, to get the correct information. This annoyance and waste of time can be avoided if the employee and employer will take the simple precaution of seeing that the employee's correct name and social security number are reported. If the mistake cannot be corrected, it might mean that some of the employee's wages could not be credited to him. Since the amount of insurance benefits for the worker or his family will be based on his wages, it is important that the Social Security Board's record of his wages be accurate and complete.

Fortnightly Club Told of World's Economic Ills

Because it is no longer possible for the average man to make a living was given as one of the primary causes of the present world crisis by Henry C. Wolfe, author, commentator and one of the season's outstanding attractions at Townhall in speaking yesterday before the Fortnightly Club in the High School auditorium. No abiding peace will come anywhere in the world, he warned, until a satisfactory economic set-up is created making it possible for the average man to make a living.

The speaker, who is intimately acquainted with Europe and the Balkans in particular and who served on the Hoover Committee at the end of World War I to feed starving Europe, repeatedly emphasized the necessity of working toward the solution of the economic ills confronting mankind in general.

Interprets Phases of European Situation

Being a specialist on European affairs, the speaker who in last April's Harper's Magazine wrote "Keep Your Eye on Russia," devoted the major part of his address to the economic background of the European situation with emphasis on natural resources. He said that Germany's interest in Yugoslavia was based on her need for aluminum and copper ore, lumber, meat, wheat and dairy products available therein. Stressing the Yugoslavia had a negligible air force, Wolfe expressed it as his opinion that Germany could over-run her in a few weeks.

An Era of Slogans

Recognizing that this day is one of slogans, the speaker compared Italy to a grand opera lacking music, Germany to a Wagnerian tragedy without music and Russia just a plain melodrama.

Fearful of Future

Suggesting that the economic system of the totalitarian states was proving more workable than the one in this country, Wolfe expressed apprehension for the future of this country. As an example of his alarm he told how this nation had already spent for National defense four billion dollars in excess of the borrowing power of the 22 states west of the Mississippi. In part, he further said on this subject:

"No country collapses because of outside attack, it must be from the inside. There must be a middle class. Because of this class situation which amounts to class warfare, the defense program as affecting making necessary the recognition that it must be organized on a total basis. Therefore the citizenry must be prepared in morals and morale."

"The Nazis are watching our borrowing and consider us no longer able to solve our problems. Because of unfavorable comment caused by moving pictures sent to South America such as Tobacco Road, Grapes of Wrath and gangster films, that continent looks with disfavor upon us. Yet, South America must find places to sell products and it is good moral strategy for us to buy there."

The speaker substituted for Dr. Harry Gluckson, president of Brooklyn College, who is ill.

At the tea which followed in the Y. W. C. A., the hostess was Mrs. Robert H. Henderson. Receiving was Mrs. Russell T. Kerby.

At the tea table, which was effectively decorated with pink and white snapdragons, were Mrs. Perry R. MacNellie, a former president of the club; and Mrs. William B. Montgomery.

Letters

April 1st, 1941.
Editor The Summit Herald:

Dear Sir: Recently there has appeared considerable adverse comments relative to the laxity of the present police methods.

As a Summit merchant it is my desire to praise the efficiency and conduct of our Police Department. The personnel compares favorably with any of our adjacent towns and recent statistics indicate the Summit police are doing their duty. Summit should feel real proud of the 1940 record of no traffic deaths during the entire year.

However, in the past some of its officers have been issuing tickets for minor infractions that have appeared to have been very petty and annoying. Tactics of this sort have a tendency to drive shoppers to neighboring towns where five or ten minute overtime parking do not result in $1.00 fines.

It is my earnest conviction that the recent order of Mayor Foster discontinuing the issuance of parking tickets for overtime parking in our shopping district will do more to encourage and restore shopping than any measure lately enacted. If your valuable paper in future editions will give this good news the full publicity it deserves to the end that the public is made fully aware of the changed conditions in handling local parking, the merchants will once again visit our fair city to be welcomed and impressed.

meeting of the Old Guard Tuesday morning. Stressing its effect on modern times he told of its influence in art, music and literature. In public addresses President Lincoln referred constantly to its words. Among the finer musical compositions are the oratorios while the Negro drew his inspiration for the spirituals we all so love from the Book of Books.

The Dean did not confine himself to the Book we are so accustomed to read. He quoted copiously from the Apocrypha, passages which were unknown to most of the members and were constantly advertising for sale the lost books of the Bible but these are irrevocably lost.

Most Popular Book
No book has had the circulation that has the Bible. Since 1800 the various Bible Societies have distributed 75,000,000 Bibles, 85,000,000 New Testaments and 30,000,000 copies of the Gospels. In these books are gathered the legends and laws of the ancient Israelites. There was such a lapse of time between their utterance and the printing that inconsistencies have crept in.

yet the Bible still remains the inspired Word. To illustrate he cited the feeding of Elijah by the ravens. In the original language the only difference between the word ravens and the word Arabs was a fine dot. The commentator thus had his choice and the possibility remains that Elijah was actually fed by the Arabs.

Many Contributors

The ancient Hebrews venerated their leaders ascribing their laws to Moses, their poetry to David and their prophecies to Solomon whereas the probability is that in all three instances there were many contributors. It is also probable that the letters of the Apostle Paul were the frequent topics considered from one modern pulpit they were written to a definite church or people by St. Paul without any thought of their bearing on the problems which confront us.

To illustrate how history repeats itself he spoke of the Babylonian captivity once Jerusalem had been destroyed. The offers little from the program of Hitler in his dealing with the nations that have come under his domination and the probability remains that just as Jerusalem came into its own once more so will the nations that are feeling Hitler's yoke have their own renaissance.

Letter from Pilate
An interesting reading from the Apocrypha of the New Testament told of a letter by Pilate to Tiberius in which he said that his signing the decree for the death of Christ was very much against his will. In his letter to Herod he told of his meeting with Christ after his resurrection and of his justification because it enabled Our Saviour to experience His victory over death.

Voltaire and Thomas Paine both predicted the early repudiation of the Bible still its work goes on. Especially has the St. James version clarified the New Testament, differing slightly as it does from the interpretation of American collaborators who, after a short period were allowed to express their views in our country.

Next Tuesday Rev. Herbert P. Dahm of New Providence will speak on the "Cockpit of the American Revolution." As this refers to the battles fought at Morristown and other nearby places this talk should be both interesting and instructive.

Special Subscriptions

"The Summit Herald" will enter special subscriptions at $2.50 a year, instead of the regular price of $3.50, for trainees in military training camps or students in boarding schools and colleges but of town. Young people—or older people—away from home may find it pleasant to read about their home town and the people in it. While we can't say that getting "The Summit Herald" will be as pleasant as getting a letter from home, we think it may be very welcome to youngsters and oldsters who are temporarily far away.

"The Summit Herald" is also anxious to hear from students in boarding schools and colleges and from trainees. We want to know when they are coming home and when they get home. We want to know what they are doing in camp, college or school. We would be very much pleased to receive and publish letters from them.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Roth Bakers Here 20 Years

The City of Summit has long known Mr. and Mrs. Max Roth, whose bakery has for many years lightened the burdens of housewives. They have served the people of the town for the past twenty years.

As children, Mr. and Mrs. Roth lived in Witten, Hungary, as neighbors and playmates. At the age of seventeen, Mr. Roth came to this country, and learned the bakery business in Chicago, where he worked for two years. In 1910, he enlisted in the United States Army, in which he served in the Quartermaster Corps for over three years. He was sent to the Philippine Islands, where he was Assistant Chief Baker at Fort Wm. McKinley. When discharged, he had the rank of Corporal. Shortly afterwards, he became a citizen of the United States, which he describes as one of his greatest thrills, and married his childhood friend, who had come to New York at the age of fourteen.

Mr. and Mrs. Roth moved to Summit about 1920, when he was employed as head baker in the bakery owned by Mr. Kuipp, well known to older residents of Summit. About ten years ago, he bought his present establishment and since then has built up a business house respected in this community for the high quality of its products and its never-failing service.

Arthur Roth, their son, who has been associated with his father's business for the past two years, enlisted in the United States Army on Tuesday of this week, April 1st. A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania in Business Administration, young Roth decided not to wait for the draft in order to serve his country in its present emergency.

Mr. Roth has participated actively in various Summit organizations. He is a member of the Masonic Order, the B. P. O. E., the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club.

Woman's Alliance Hears Talk on Easter Myths

The Woman's Alliance of the Community Church held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, serving for Overlook Hospital occupied the morning, followed by luncheon served by Mrs. George Eastman and her committee. The business meeting was brief but interesting. Mrs. Dey reported an amazing amount of work finished by her group of ten for the Refugee Work Rooms, and suggested that other groups be formed within the Alliance for the same purpose. It was announced that the two parlors are to be thrown into one, making a greatly enlarged auditorium, although heavy curtains will restore it to its original condition as needed.

Talk on Easter Myth

The program for the afternoon was an informal talk by Mr. Davies on "Easter Myth and Legend." He explained that what we take for granted as the Christian festival of Easter takes its name from the Anglo-Saxon goddess said to have risen in glory from the sea in a great egg. She is the earth mother, a universal myth rejoining in the coming of Spring. Not until the seventh century did the church adopt and adapt this festival. Primitive man did not even remember former springs, and the renewal of earth was to him a triumph of magic, a cause for rejoicing as depletion gave way to promise of plenty. Mithraism struggled long with Christianity for supremacy. The converts took along ideas from their past. It took the church fathers a long time to clean up things, and concessions had to be made. Christ supplanted his pagan predecessors, but not without taking over a good deal of the pagan origins. The instinctive longing of man, and his efforts to face constructively the mystery of life and death, light and darkness, grew as his understanding grew, but the indestructible spirit of Jesus remained.

Why Educate?

To prepare for citizenship. Educators and laymen seem unanimous in that reply. What does preparation for citizenship involve? If all agree upon that, details of curriculum and teaching technique will remain but incidental problems for technicians to work out.

The oncoming citizen should be fitted happily and efficiently into the social scheme into which he emerges. That means that he must know how to do his part in the maintenance of the community at the maximum of his powers, in a democracy, that means further that he must himself have discovered what his powers are, and shall intelligently and of his own choice determine the line of activity which insures his maximum of service.

That is a large order, to be sure, but a democratic society can be content with nothing less; indeed, can survive only as that end is insured. Democratic education can neither arbitrarily regiment the individual in a rigid and inflexible industrial order, nor can it leave him bewildered and impotent before the responsibilities of citizenship.

Editor of "Top" Wins State Essay Contest On National Unity

THOMAS UNDERHILL

Thomas Underhill, editor of "The Top, 1941" the yearbook at Summit High School has been informed of his selection to receive the State award in the National Unity Essay Contest sponsored by a committee of the same name. As was announced last week, Underhill's essay, "Why National Unity Is Important to My Country" was also the winner in the city wide contest.

The committee proposes to bring Underhill to New York City for a stay of four days beginning April 11th and terminating April 14th. Hotel and other accommodations will be arranged for him and he will be entertained throughout his stay in the city.

In notifying Underhill of the latest honor accorded him by his essay, the committee said "America can be proud and truly hopeful when her youth show the clear headedness and high patriotism expressed in your essay."

The maximum of service which the citizen renders his community is normally through his education. That absorbs the largest single block of his time and effort. Into it he must pour the richest share of his devotion and enthusiasm. To be best done, work must be enjoyed; must seem to the worker something worth while; must win his devotion from having enlisted his free and intelligent choice.

This makes the educator's order larger and larger. He fails miserably if he equips the oncoming citizen for a society which does not exist, prepares him only to do work for which his society has no demand, leaves him bewildered and homeless before the creative responsibilities of citizenship. The oncoming citizen must be fitted for a job ready made, or he must be equipped with the resourcefulness to create his job. Thus, chronic unemployment is an inescapable indictment of the educator and the educational system.

West End Gardens Attracts Many

One of the attractive small house developments in Summit is West End Gardens situated on the hillside extending west from the intersection of Kent Place boulevard and Passaic avenue.

The tract consists of approximately fifty acres of restricted land having an extensive view of the hills to the west, and the Passaic River Valley.

Although operations were started little over a year ago, ten houses have been built and sold, and five more are now under construction. The houses are mostly colonial in design, and contain six rooms, tiled baths and kitchens, first floor lavatories, attached garages, air conditioned heat, and the latest in appointments. Prices range from $7,500 to $10,000.

West End Gardens has attracted people from many walks of life and from varied sections of the country. Included among the residents there are engineers employed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories, the Standard Oil Company, and the Atlas Cement Company; there is a writer, an artist, and a contractor, etc. One family came from Tuckahoe, New York, others from Pittsburgh, Pa., Cranford, N. J., Bayshore, L. I., and St. Paul, Minnesota, as well as from different sections of Summit.

West End Gardens is owned by Robert J. Murphy, a local realtor, who has been a life long resident of Summit, and in the Real Estate Business here for the past twenty-five years.

Employed Through Local U. C. C. Office

The New Jersey State Employment Service Division of the Unemployment Compensation Commission announced today that 214 persons were placed in private employment during the month of February through the Summit Office. Of those persons placed 51 were men and 163 were women. This announcement was made by Thomas H. Hogan in charge of the Summit Office at Springfield and Woodland avenues.

During the month of February there were 91 initial claims taken for unemployment insurance against the State of New Jersey and 1,305 personal calls were made to the office for the purpose of continuing claims for unemployment insurance and approximately 3,500 visits were made to the Summit Office by unemployed workers, claimants and employers desiring some service.

In order to discover work opportunities for persons unemployed in this area 82 telephone and 32 personal contacts were made with employers by representatives of the Summit Office.

Through the operation of the Clearance System four men were given employment in other areas of the State.

Mr. Hogan urges all persons who are unemployed and who reside in Mountainside, Springfield, Summit, N. W. Providence, Borough, Township, Spring, Gillette, Chatham, and Madison to register for employment in the Summit Office. There are numerous opportunities for employment. Saturday hours are: 8 a. m. to noon. There is no charge for any service to either employer or employee.

Collect Messages From Trainees

Church of Christ, Scientist

"Unreality" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday, April 6th, in all Christian Science Churches and Societies throughout the world.

The Golden Text is: "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy." (1 Timothy 6:17.)

Among the lesson-sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "The fear of the Lord tendeth to life; and he that hath it shall abide satisfied; he shall not be visited with evil." (Proverbs 19:23.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We cannot build safely on false foundations" (p. 201.)

A large group of members of Court Benedict No. 611 Catholic Daughters of America, and their friends received communion in St. Teresa's Church at the 8 o'clock mass on Sunday, March 30th and offered prayers for world peace. After mass seventy-five attended the Communion Breakfast at the Canfield. Miss Marguerita Maloney, Grand Regent, acted as toastmistress of this successful affair.

The guest speakers were Rev. John A. Kelly, curate of the parish; Sister Ann Joseph of the Blessed Trinity Convent, Stirling, and Miss Mary C. Kanane, state treasurer of the organization.

Mrs. Joseph Foley of Chatham rendered vocal selections accompanied at the piano by Miss Connie Boyd, also of Chatham, N. J.

REV. FREDERICK G. WILLEY

This may seem strange to some of our readers but in order to publish this 28 page newspaper it was necessary to print in sections. We regret that the section containing the story of our churches had to go to press before we could get a photo of Rev. Willey of the Oakes Memorial Church. However we did receive the engraving in time to publish it here. You will find the story on page 27. We regret this publishing oddity.

Holy Week Services At Rosary Shrine

Holy Week ceremonies will be carried out in their full liturgical significance at the Dominican Monastery in Summit, N. J. On Sunday, April 6, the triumphal entrance of the Saviour in Jerusalem will be recalled by the Nuns in a grand procession through their cloister. This will precede the Palm Sunday High Mass to be offered for the intentions of Rosary Shrine pilgrims.

At 3:30 p. m., the Holy Hour for World Peace will be conducted by the Rev. C. G. Moore, O. P., J. C. B.

After the Perpetual Rosary Novena hymn and prayers the "Canticle of the Passion" will be sung by the cloistered Sisters. The canticle, composed four hundred years ago by a Dominican Nun, Saint Catherine de Ricci, sets forth the chief circumstances of Christ's Passion in a most vivid way. Each act of the cruel drama seems to pass before one's inward sight, as one listens to the plaintive, loving cries of the Saviour.

The public is also invited to attend the Tenebrae services which will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:30. The Rev. C. G. Moore will preside.

The name "Tenebrae" has been given to this Office because it was formerly celebrated during the night. The Church now keeps it at an earlier hour in order that the faithful may be present at it. There is an impressive ceremony, peculiar to this Office, which tends to perpetuate its name. A large triangular candlestick, holding fifteen candles, is placed in the sanctuary. At the end of each psalm, one of these candles is extinguished. During the Benedictus canticle the last lighted candle is hidden behind the altar so that the already darkened chapel is in complete darkness. When the last prayer is finished, a noise is made, the candle is brought forth and thus shows by its light that the Office of Tenebrae is over. This custom symbolizes the darkness which covered the earth during Christ's agony.

A beautiful repository altar will be arranged for Holy Thursday Adoration. The chapel will remain open until 11 p. m. for the convenience of the faithful. High Mass daily at seven o'clock, with Adoration of the Cross on Good Friday, and blessing of holy water and of the paschal candle on Holy Saturday.

Rosary Shrine is located at the corner of Morris and Springfield Avenues, Summit, N. J., just off Route 24, a few blocks from the D. L. & W. Station. Bus 70 from the Newark Public Service Terminal stops at the doors.

Plan Evening Service At Calvary Church

Encouraged by the complete success of the first evening service for young people, which was held on March 16, a meeting was called at the Calvary Church parish house last Thursday night by Rev. Maxwell B. Courage to discuss plans for a second such service on April 27th.

A similar program of music, consisting of an instrumental soloist and the singing of hymns, accompanied by the choir under the direction of Mr. Helms, scripture reading by one of the young people and an informal talk by a popular and well known clergyman was adopted.

Selection of the speaker, the soloist and other details of the evening service have been put into the hands of the several committees and will be announced at a later date.

Designed as an informal service for the younger people in the church by the younger people in the church, it is hoped that it will again be as well received that the attendance on April 27 will reach even greater proportions than at the first service.

It was also understood at the meeting that Mr. Helms, organist and choirmaster, is planning a special feature which will keep as a surprise until later.

Those meeting with Mr. Courage to plan the program were the Misses Carolyn Barton, Marjorie Helms, Kay Hosmer, Dorothea Morse, Theodora Lawton, Carolyn Newham and Mr. Frank Newham.

Not Housewives

In England, those in charge of a home are not officially referred to as "housewives" but "home managers."

CANTATA AT CALVARY ON PALM SUNDAY NIGHT

Palm Sunday evening the choir of Calvary Episcopal Church will sing Maunder's beautiful Cantata, "Olivet to Calvary."

The soloists will be John Clark, Helen Herthel, sopranos; Harry E. Kilminster, tenor and Harold M. Fasting, baritone.

It has been the custom for several years for the choir of Calvary to sing this appropriate cantata for Palm Sunday. Olivet to Calvary depicts the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth. The rejoicing of the multitude with hosannas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the beautiful city, the scene in the Temple, and the lonely walk back over the mount at night are portrayed. Then comes the Last Supper at which Jesus washes His disciples' feet and gives His friends the New Commandment of Love for one another as the sign of His true discipleship. From this the scene passes to the infinite sadness of the Garden of Gethsemane, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd, Jesus forsaken by His disciples, His utter loneliness among ruthless enemies, the tumult before Pilate in the Judgment Hall, the passage of the cross, the tragedy and triumph of Calvary.

Mr. Fasting, the baritone, is the soloist of the Congregational Church in Jersey City. He was a former member of the choir of Calvary and will leave this month to enter the service of our country.

Summit's Schools Are Rated Very High In New Jersey—Do You Know Why?

Mr. Smith of Chicago was transferred to New York. This also meant a big change for Mrs. Smith and the four little Smiths, whose education was of paramount importance. Mr. Smith knew nothing about this part of the country so he wrote to Mr. Jones, his classmate in college, asking where he could find the best public schools within commuting distance of New York. Mr. Jones replied that the best schools in New Jersey were in Summit and one other community. After further investigation, the Smiths decided on Summit, saw a realtor, rented a house and enrolled the children in our schools. This happens over and over. Many families have chosen Summit for the same reason. Many teachers and administrators visit our schools each year because of what they hear about them.

Why do our schools have this reputation? They are often a subject for criticism. We, who are so close to them, know that there is much room for improvement. Nevertheless, we have only to look about at other communities in order to appreciate what we have.

Summit schools are progressive, but also conservative. They have tried to follow the middle of the road by making the school more vital and interesting without discarding the best of the older methods which have proved their value through the years. Thus, while the school provides a certain amount of routine to develop stability and form good learning habits, it also provides enough flexibility to allow for individual differences and to provide enriching opportunities.

This does not mean that the path of learning is made unduly easy. Both constant success and constant failure are bad for a child's development. The best preparation for life is a fair balance of success and failure. Modern educators believe that each child should be given tasks suited to his capacity, but difficult enough to challenge him so that he may grow steadily and happily at his own rate of speed. Teaching in such a classroom is far more difficult than under the old regime, where all the children sat stiffly in rows, reading from the same textbook, and passing, or failing, the same examination. The teacher today is an artist, shaping the character of the pupil through every classroom happening. Only teachers with great versatility, rich background, and high professional standards are equal to the task.

The curriculum of the Summit schools is enriched with art, music, manual training, dramatics and visits to museums, industries, and places of historic interest. These and similar activities draw out the abilities of the gifted children and enable all pupils, even the slowest to make some contributions. Thus children develop cooperation, perseverance, initiative, self-reliance, and many other qualities which are a preparation for life. These qualities are intangible. They cannot be measured, but they are, perhaps, the most valuable lessons taught by the schools.

Yet, however, enriched our curriculum, the fundamental subjects remain the same—reading, writing, spelling and arithmetic. We expect every child to attain at least a reasonable skill in each of them before he leaves school.

Standard tests are available by which these subjects can be measured. They have been tried out on thousands of children throughout the country. We know, for example, what is expected of average fifth grade children in the United States. By applying the same measure to our fifth grades we can tell whether they are as good or better than the rest of the country. Last September, soon after the opening of school, a battery of tests was given to the elementary grades.

To read this table look at the first figures. They mean that 50% of the children who had just entered the third grade (3.0) had a reading vocabulary equal to or above that child who had been in third grade for eight months (3.8). This shows that, even after a summer vacation, Summit children were well above the standing of the country in the fundamental skills. Here is an objective measurement entirely independent of personal opinion. It enables us to locate at once the weak spots, which need attention and to discover the child with serious difficulties, who needs remedial help. It gives the teacher a sound basis on which to plan her work for the year. Similar tests given in junior and senior high school in the spring show similar results. Of course, there are individual differences. We no longer expect all children to reach the same standard or to move at the same rate. The mentally slow and the physically handicapped are always with us. So also are children hindered by long absence, change of schools, or emotional disturbances. To these, we give remedial help and try to save them from a feeling of failure and discouragement. If there were no grade lines, the task would be much easier.

We have also a good proportion of superior children whose abilities should be developed. In the traditional school there was little we could do except to "skip" them to an older group where they were socially unadjusted. This practice is now happily discontinued. High schools and colleges are no longer willing to receive young and immature children. The progressive school offers them a challenge in their own age group.

Comparison of test results over a period of years show some interesting trends. Take primary reading for example. In 1934, the median at the end of the second grade was 2.8, just the average for the country. This means that half of our children were below this standard median. Last May, the Summit median was 3.7, nine months above the standard. This improvement has come about gradually due to a longer period of preparation and to more careful selection of children for first grade. It means that retardation has been greatly reduced. It means happy, successful children who should have

The Ideas Underlying Summit's Schools Explained By Acting Supt. Bartholomew

Summit is considered most fortunate in having a public school system worthy of its beautiful home life and is adequately expanding to meet the ever advancing standards for education. There are nine modern school buildings, up-to-date in their equipment, graded schools from primary to high school, with a most efficient corps of teachers, and every provision is made for the needs of a growing city. Teachers are carefully selected and the superior excellence of the Summit schools is commanding wide appreciation.

The question asked by Mr. Taxpayers' Citizen more often than any other about the public schools where about 2,800 students are enrolled, concerns itself with the aims and objectives thereof. In getting an answer to this question "The Summit Herald" went to Act. Superintendent of Schools A. J. Bartholomew. Very obliging, he released for publication a statement of philosophy for both the elementary and secondary schools recently formulated by committees of teachers from both school levels. This paper believes these statements of philosophy clearly state the purposes of the Summit schools and consequently are pleased to publish them. The statements follow:

Summit Elementary School Philosophy

The elementary school fosters the growth of the child in his early years, from the time he first leaves the home until the beginning of adolescence. These are believed to be the most formative years of his school life, during which patterns of personality and character are molded.

These are certain basic personality needs. Some of these are: a healthy body, which is the basis of a healthy mind; a sense of belonging; the feeling that one is a necessary part of a group; a feeling of security; and a feeling of success and achievement. Learning takes place more easily when these needs are met.

Recognizing the individual differences of each child the school needs to adapt its program so that it will furnish a fair balance of success and failure. Each child should be given tasks suited to his capacity but difficult enough to challenge him. There should be routine enough to develop stability and to form good learning habits with enough flexibility to provide opportunity for enrichment and to develop each child according to his ability.

It is essential to bring about in the child a growing responsibility for directing his own behavior, based upon a sense of fundamental issues and values which will give faith, hope, and stability in a time of upheaval and confusion.

By creating a receptive attitude in the child, he sees a need for acquiring the fundamental knowledge and skills. Each child should have an opportunity to think independently, make choices, develop initiative, live co-operatively with others in the school and community, accept responsibilities, and make contributions to the group. There should be a feeling of joy and achievement in a calm atmosphere of daily work uninterrupted by distractions.

Since every child is creative, the school should furnish opportunities which will open new worlds to him. The messages in great paintings, sculpture, music, dancing, literature, and nature are not fully appreciated until he has created something that is his own. The teacher should represent an available, receptive person with whom the child may share his interests. She functions as a discriminating guide to foster those interests, and to create new and broader the radio. Two types of experiences should be provided and directed: social and individual. One tends to make us alike, the other tends to make us different. The social demands common to all individuals may be achieved by a variety of experiences.

Social experiences should include practice in tolerance, citizenship, and democratic methods. Every one should have the opportunity to find his place in the group, to organize with others, and to submit to the judgement of his fellows.

Individual experiences should include practice in the fields of intellectual, emotional, physical, and moral growth.

Intellectual growth may be obtained by means of opportunities to seek the truth, to investigate, to analyze, to create, to evaluate, and to improve.

Emotional experience may be obtained and may be directed by contact with persons in daily life situations, and by participation in leisure time activities; in religious organizations, and in the realm of cultural appreciations.

Physical development may be obtained by means of competitive and recreational games, corrective activity, and the practice of health habits.

Moral growth may be achieved through opportunities to set up standards of character and conduct, and to measure individual progress with these standards. Moral growth also demands opportunity for the individual to serve others, to make decisions, and to accept responsibility.

A Philosophy of Education in Summit Secondary Schools

Outline

- The Goals set by this philosophy
- The Means necessary to achieve these goals, divided for convenience into:
  - Processes
  - Curriculum

I. Goals
Education in a democracy should aim to develop the individual to his greatest capacity and to foster social responsibility for, and interest in, the perpetuation of democratic society.

Such education should develop, in the individual, self-reliance, a jealousy for his personal liberty, pride and joy in good workmanship, habits of clear thinking, appreciation of beauty and a desire to create. At the same time, it should instill habits of sympathy, co-operation, and tolerance, of service and sacrifice for the common good.

It should provide for the preservation of inherited culture and ethical standards, for an awareness of the need of economic competence. It must arouse a willingness to acquire the information and ability necessary for carrying out his civic duties, so that he may make real choices based on knowledge and reason.

Our secondary education must set a high value upon the attainment of individual happiness in social life. It must allow well-disciplined individuals opportunity to practice democratic procedure. It must make democracy, as a way of living, enter into the thought and action pattern of each generation.

II. Means

A. Processes
The processes of education cannot be directed toward a fixed goal because democracy is not static. Our goals are continually changing. We cannot say that the end justifies any means; to the contrary, the means must always be in harmony with the end.

have in school are therefore part of the curriculum. Out-of-school experiences complemented or reinforced by the school may also be considered part of the curriculum. The kinds, variety, and organization of these should aim to achieve our goal, namely, the individual's maximum self-realization in a democratic society.

The activities and experiences that should constitute the curriculum are those that enable the student to:

Maintain physical and mental health.
Communicate effectively with others through reading and through written and oral expression.

Understand, appreciate, and intelligently use man's physical environment.
Understand and co-operate in man's social, economic and political relationships.

Master those skills that are the common need of all citizens and the skills and knowledge necessary for the next step in the individual's educational or vocational future after leaving the secondary school.

Develop worthy leisure time activities and interests.
Develop character and purposes consistent with a Christian and democratic way of life.

In its organization and administration, the curriculum should be adapted to differences in capacities, aptitudes, and interests, and should provide (1) a core of common experiences and (2) a gradually increasing number of elective experiences in the later years. Constant change in our social, economic, and physical environment makes necessary continuous curriculum modification. In this process, both teachers and pupils should participate.

Summit Is a City of Beautiful Churches; Here Is the Story of Each Told Briefly, Here Are the Pastors Who Lead Them

First Lutheran Church

The First Lutheran Church, 217 Morris avenue, was organized March 11, 1897, as the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Church of Summit, N. J. Its present incorporated name, the First Evangelical Lutheran Church of Summit, was officially adopted at the annual meeting of the congregation on January 25, 1935. Hence it properly relates the congregation to the history of the community of Summit and distinctly identified the church on Morris avenue as the First Lutheran Church. A gradual displacement of the Swedish language for the program of the church also proved to be an important factor in the adoption of its present name.

During the forty-four years of the church's history it has been served by four regular pastors. The Rev. J. G. Danielson served from shortly after the time of organization until July, 1899, when he moved to the Ebenezer Lutheran Church, Jersey City. In January, 1904, a pastorate was formed between the First Lutheran Church of East Orange and the Summit congregation. In May, 1904, the Rev. K. J. Erkander was called to the charge and entered upon his duties as pastor shortly thereafter. He continued as pastor until his death on November 13, 1909. September 1, 1910, marks the beginning of the Rev. J. C. Westlund's period of service in which he continued as pastor for more than twenty years until his death, July 26, 1931. The pastorate, consisting of East Orange and Summit, was dissolved in April, 1929, and from that date each congregation has continued independently. The next resident pastor who was called was the Rev. Norman A. André, who began his work September 1, 1933, and is the congregation's pastor at the present time. A number of student pastors and professors from Upsala College in East Orange served the congregation in Summit during interim periods between resident pastors.

The present church building, which the congregation owns, was erected in 1898, the year after organization. The cornerstone was laid on August 7 and the dedicatory exercises were held December 1 of that year. A fire which occurred on February 7, 1930, necessitated a thorough renovation, particularly in the interior of the church. A number of other significant improvements have been made from time to time. The congregation also owns a commodious and modern parsonage at 211 Morris avenue in which the pastor resides.

Among the auxiliary organizations of the church are two young people's societies, namely the Junior and Senior Luther Leagues.

There are two ladies' societies, the Dorcas Society and the Martha Group of Dorcas, the former relating its history even prior to the organization of the church. There is also a Woman's Missionary Society as well as a Junior Missionary Society, and a Swedish Society which functions at regular intervals. The men's organization is known as the Men's Club of the First Lutheran Church.

The pastor, Rev. Norman André, received his training at the University of Minnesota and Augsburg College, Minneapolis, Minnesota, and graduated from Upsala College in East Orange in 1930 with the A.B. degree. His theological studies were pursued at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia and Augustana Theological Seminary in Rock Island, Illinois. From the latter institution he received his B.D. degree in 1933. He has also pursued graduate studies in theology at the Union Theological Seminary in New York.

The First Lutheran Church is a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Augustana Synod of North America which comprises a total of 1,208 congregations with a baptized membership of 345,199 souls of the three million Lutherans in the United States.

First Baptist Church

On the first Sunday in October, 1875, a company of Baptists, numbering fourteen, held their first service in the building on Springfield avenue, West Summit, known as a Union Chapel. Rev. A. B. Woodworth preached the first sermon. Afterward they purchased the building and grounds for $1,000.00, and on March 17, 1876, the First Baptist Church of Summit was organized with fifteen members and a call was extended to Rev. A. B. Woodworth to become its first pastor, who entered upon his duties April 16, 1876. The church was reorganized May 11, 1876. The names of the fifteen constituent members are: J. M. Woodruff, Mrs. Mary C. Woodruff, N. C. Powelson, Mrs. C. B. Powelson, Rev. A. B. Woodworth, Ette Woodworth, Betsey Woodworth, Joseph Richards, Mrs. Joseph Richards, T. V. Carpenter, Mrs. M. E. Carpenter, Elizabeth N. Jones, Fannie N. Conklin, W. R. Cain.

The following served as pastors at West Summit: Rev. A. B. Woodworth, April 16, 1876 to December 1, 1878; Rev. W. Lawrence, February 23, 1879, to October 30, 1880; Rev. J. G. Noe, April 1881, to February 4, 1883; Rev. P. A. Kline, May 1, 1883, to February 21, 1886; Rev. H. G. Mason then became minister in charge and through his efforts the movement was started to vacate the church property and move nearer the center of the town.

For a time services were held in the hall of the Public School House; Rev. T. F. Griffiths, meanwhile succeeding as minister, remaining until July 10, 1887; the pulpit being thereafter supplied by Rev. William Leese Giles, from November 6, 1887, to July 1, 1888. In May, 1888, the church, under the leadership of Messrs. G. H. Williams, W. F. Bailey, J. M. Woodruff and others, in the face of many difficulties erected a new edifice at the corner of New England and Morris avenues. This church was dedicated May 29, 1888, since which time the following have served as pastors: Rev. George E. Horr, October 15, 1888, to March 27, 1892; Rev. N. B. Randall, November 1, 1892, to September 1, 1897; Rev. Daniel J. Ellison, D.D., served as pulpit supply from April, 1898 to October, 1898; Rev. W. Warren Giles, began his pastorate on October 13, 1898.

During a dinner given to the Deacons and Trustees by the pastor, the Rev. W. Warren Giles, at the parsonage May 3, 1901, the idea of the present stone edifice was first projected. A committee was then appointed to consider the matter, and in due time the lot on which the church stands was selected and purchased the following Building Committee was appointed July 28, 1901: George H. Williams, chairman; William F. Bailey, secretary; Francis L. White, treasurer; Edwin S. Votey; Charles N. Finch.

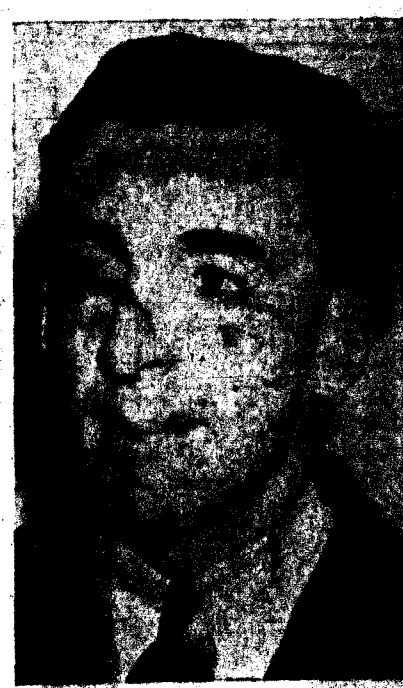

June 11, 1902, this committee was authorized to build. Ground was broken November 3, 1902. The cornerstone was laid Saturday afternoon, October 3, 1903. The church was dedicated Monday, May 30, 1904.

Rev. W. Warren Giles resigned in March 1907, the pulpit for the following year was supplied by Rev. Robert Bruce Hull and on March 1, 1908, the Rev. Robert Chipman Hull was appointed minister until January 1, 1915. Rev. Rolla E. Hunt, September 1, 1915 to December 31, 1916. Rev. S. Bayneham Hilley, June 1, 1917 to September 30, 1923. Rev. David K. Barnwell, the present pastor, began his pastorate on July 1, 1929.

First Church of Christ, Scientist

Interest in Christian Science in Summit dates back to 1903 when services were first held at the home of one of a small group of early students. On November 28, 1904 the first Christian Science Society in Summit was organized, its first meetings held in a room over the First National Bank. As the society grew it became necessary to secure larger quarters, and the services were transferred to more adequate space at 25 Beechwood Road.

On July 11, 1907 the society was incorporated as First Church of Christ, Scientist, Summit, having been accepted as a branch of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Massachusetts. Eleven years later the property at the corner of Springfield Avenue and Ruthven Place was acquired and the activities of the church were transferred to this location, the house on the premises being altered to meet the needs of a church home.

In June of 1933 the members voted to begin to build a church immediately, with the stipulation that no contracts were to be let until the required funds were in hand to pay for the work. Thus, at the time of completion, the church was free of debt and was dedicated on Sunday, December 18, 1938.

For the past thirty-four years the church has sponsored one or more public lectures on Christian Science each year—lectures given by members of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

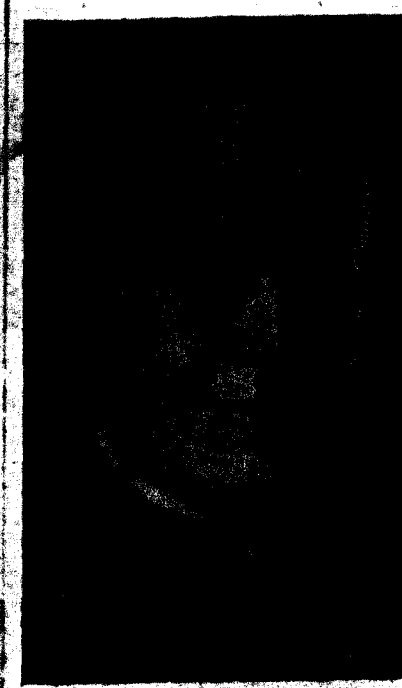

The church has always maintained a free public Reading Room where the Bible, the works of Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and all other authorized literature may be read, borrowed or purchased. Since 1928 this Reading Room has been located at 15 Maple Street.

From the beginning there has also been maintained a Sunday School for pupils up to the age of twenty years.

At the present time the Readers of the Church are Mr. Charles W. Nofsinger of 36 Bedford Road, Summit, and Mrs. Myra D. Moody of 4 Ward Place, Chatham.

Methodist Episcopal Church

The Methodist Episcopal Church of Summit was formed July 1, 1867, when a legal corporation was organized, a Board of Trustees elected and regular public worship commenced in a hired hall. Previous to that date the Methodists residing in Summit held their membership and attended services in Springfield or New Providence. Few as they were they were anxious to have a church in their own village. And so it came to pass that in 1867, Rev. James Ayres, Presiding Elder of the Newark District, authorized Rev. Gilbert H. Winans, pastor of the church in Springfield, to organize a church in Summit. Under his direction thirty-seven resident Methodists, having advertised their purpose according to the requirements of the law, met in the schoolhouse of Deantown (East Summit) on the above date and elected a Board of Trustees as follows: Benjamin S. Dean; Daniel W. Day; John Denman; William B. Coggeshall and James Pitts. These are the names of the original members of the new organization: Jonathan Badgley, John Denman, Mary C. Denman, Prudence Dean, Benjamin S. Dean, Phoebe Dean, Abbie K. Dean, Anna E. Dean, Mary F. Dean, Isaac Dean, Daniel W. Day, Caroline Day, William B. Coggeshall, Henrietta Coggeshall, William K. Gray, Francis A. Gray, Richardson Gray, Samuel Houston, S. Emma Houston, Aaron Doty, Sebel Doty, Esther Kemp, Sarah A. Foster, Mary C. Nashalt, Hannah Osborn, James C. Pitts, Jessie S. Pitts, John H. Parse, Mary Sayre, Benjamin Sturgis, Hetty Sturgis, John D. Spinning, R. J. Spinning, Margaret Spinning, Eliza J. Spinning, Mary Pitts and Kate Spinning.

The new organization decided to hold regular Sunday services, and for this purpose secured the hall over Little's store on the corner of Maple street and Union place. Meetings were held there until the first church building was erected. Rev. Henry Graham, a student in Drew Theological Seminary, was engaged as preacher, and served the church until the spring of 1868.

Mrs. Mary Sayre donated a lot on Morris and Summit avenues, having a frontage of three hundred feet on Morris avenue, on which the Trustees resolved to proceed at once to erect a church edifice. The corner stone was laid on September 11, 1867, by Presiding Elder Rev. James Ayres. An address was made by Dr. Robert L. Dashiell, and $2,000 was subscribed for the new building.

The first quarterly conference was held February 28, 1868, in the home of D. W. Day on Railroad avenue, and the following were appointed stewards: D. W. Day, William R. Gray, John Denman and Benjamin S. Dean.

The new church edifice, a frame building with a square tower in front, had a seating capacity of about one hundred and fifty. It was dedicated August 19, 1868, during the pastorate of Rev. P. D. Day, by Bishop E. L. James. Dr. R. L. Dashiell superintended the financial exercises and $2,500 was pledged.

Rev. R. B. Collins was appointed pastor in 1869. He inscribed in the "Historical Record": "The year has been one of pleasure and profit, but not marked with any unusual religious fervor."

During 1870-1871 Rev. W. S. Gallaway was the pastor. A bell costing $355 was placed in the tower. This old bell now continues its sacred summons to worship from the massive stone tower of the present church.

In 1872 Rev. W. W. Voorhees was the pastor. During the five years of this pastorate the growth of the church was slow, according to his report. However, at the end of his term the reported membership had increased from forty to sixty-eight with seventeen probationers.

During the pastorate of Rev. James Boyd Brady (1873-1874), there came a time of refreshing. It would appear to have been a real Methodist revival. Forty probationers were gathered in and the total membership raised to one hundred and seventeen.

In 1875 for the first time a married man was appointed pastor. This was Rev. C. C. Winans; and the church began to consider the need of erecting a parsonage. Mr. Addison Youngs cleared the way by generously paying the mortgage of $1,500 remaining on the church, and thus encouraged the society proceeded to erect the parsonage on the lot east of the church at a cost of $4,500.

In 1878-1879 Rev. M. E. Ellison served the church and was then made Presiding Elder.

In 1880-1881 Rev. Thomas H. Jacobus was the pastor. He was followed by Rev. Solomon Parsons who remained two years.

In 1884-1886 Rev. J. A. Owen served the church, and under his ministry the church was again favored with a season of revival in which forty-one probationers were added to the membership and thirty-seven members were received by certificate. The whole of the indebtedness upon the church property was now paid off. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was organized.

With this happy consummation ends the recorded history of the old frame church on Morris avenue. The town of Summit had begun to increase rapidly, and new families from the city and elsewhere flocked into the little church. A new church was talked of, and as always with our Summit Methodists, talk was close to doing.

In 1887-1888 Rev. Richard Johns was the pastor. His term was distinguished by the steady growth of the movement in favor of the building of a new church in a more desirable locality. A Christian Endeavor was organized, and the need of a suitable room for its work was keenly felt. The young people pledged $1,000 toward adding a room to the old church. They, however, loyally yielded to the wiser counsel of the Official Board, and gave themselves with enthusiasm to the project of a new structure. During the development of the enterprise, they contributed $5,200 toward its consummation.

A Ladies' Aid Society was formed at this time. This organization has continued to the present day and during the past year united with the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies to form the Women's Society of Christian Service.

The Trustees bestirred themselves in selecting a suitable lot for the new church. Mr. W. H. DeForest offered to convey the lot on the corner of Boulevard and Norwood avenues for $7,500, with a verbal understanding that a stone church should be built upon it. This offer was accepted, and the society thus gained a triangular plot of land first bounded feet to the side, one of the most commanding sites in a most desirable part of Summit.

In 1889 Rev. Elton M. Garton was appointed pastor, and he at once entered into the movement to build the new church, worthy of the organization. On October 23, 1889, the cornerstone of the new church was laid by Bishop C. D. Foss. And now after serving its sacred purpose for twenty-one years, the old frame church on Morris avenue was sold. The new church was erected at a cost of $44,000. The dedication on November 23, 1900, was a memorable occasion. Bishop R. S. Foster presided, assisted by Dr. James M. Buckley and Dr. Henry A. Butz. Thus was the new church started on its career with a glorious outburst of enthusiasm.

In May, 1892, a Junior Christian Endeavor was organized. In 1892 the erection of a parsonage was begun on DeForest avenue, east of the church, at a cost of $10,000.

In 1894 Rev. D. B. F. Randolph was pastor, and the parsonage was completed during the first year of his pastorate.

The Rev. C. S. Ryman became pastor in 1896 and served for five years. During this time the first East Summit Chapel was erected. In the last year of Dr. Ryman's pastorate, a debt of $10,000 was provided for and its payment was celebrated on November 23rd in the following year, 1901.

In April, 1901, Rev. A. H. Duttie, D.D., began his pastorate which lasted for thirteen years. It was during this period that the church made its most marked progress. It was not long before it became apparent that the comparatively new church would be inadequate to accommodate the increasing congregation.

The East Summit chapel was also growing very rapidly during Dr. Tuttle's pastorate and a number of ministers served in turn as assistants in charge of that work. Just previous to 1914 Rev. Jay Adams Oakes became the assistant and at the session of the Newark Annual Conference of 1914 he was received as a member of the conference and took with him the East Summit Chapel as an independent church. After his death in 1922 the name of that church was changed to the Oakes Memorial Methodist Church.

The present Gothic Church stands at the corner of the Boulevard and DeForest avenue as a magnificent memorial to the labors of Dr. Tuttle and the co-operation of the generous people of the congregation. Mullen, E. W. Molster, Daniel Burke and William I. Haven, D.D. other members of the Board of Trustees were William Hall, Jr., E. D. North, J. C. Smith, D. W. Day, George F. Perry and John F. Thompson.

The entrance doors of the church were inscribed on the outside: "Enter into his gates with thanksgiving and into his courts with praise," and on the inside: "In loving memory of Rebecca Toy Lore, 1819-1903, these doors are given by her children."

The dedication of the new Parish House took place on April 16, 1911, and the church December 31st, of the same year. The sermon on the latter occasion was delivered by Bishop William Fraser McDowell.

Following Dr. Tuttle's retirement in 1914, Dr. Wilbur V. Mallahan became the pastor. Although he was officially the pastor of the church until 1918, he spent some time in the latter two years in war work of the Y. M. C. A. During his absence Dr. Charles L. Goodell was the principal supply preacher.

The Rev. H. C. Lytle served as pastor from 1919 to 1923. He was followed by the Rev. Henry Lyle Lambdin who holds the record for the longest pastorate in this church. His ministry ended last April when he was appointed Superintendent of the Newark District in exchange with Dr. J. Edgar Washburn. Dr. Washburn was made manager of the Methodist Publishing House in New York September 1st, and on December 1st the Rev. D. C. Nelson, Th.D., became the pastor upon invitation of the church and by appointment of Bishop McConnell.

Oakes Memorial Church

The fabric, history, in the making, is so interwoven with tangles, snarls and weak threads here and there that the weaving of it is often tiring, and becomes a real task to those who weave it. But when the fabric is completed, when all loose ends and rough places of the warp and woof have been woven closely with smooth, strong threads, making a firm durable and beautiful fabric, then those of us who gaze upon it "Oh" and "Ah" and glow with pride over the finished product.

Oakes Memorial Church is still in the making. It is in its youth. Its fabric has only been nicely begun. The weaving process is going on and on. We worry and fume about the colors being drab and gray sometimes, but we know there are bright and gay ones too which in the end will stand out and make the fabric beautiful.

We are far enough removed from that beginning twenty-five years ago to glow with pride as we relate the achievement of those who began the church or, to return to our chosen metaphor, who began the weaving of this particular fabric.

The little Chapel has been used for sixteen years. The attendance at weekly services had been good. The time seemed at hand when it would be good to lean no longer upon the strength of the mother church, but to start out alone and become a church on its own.

Thus in February 1914, under the leadership of Rev. J. Adams Oakes the church organized itself and the weaving process began. Love, work and abundant faith were the threads for the warp and woof. Trustees were elected at once. A board of stewards was chosen the following month and a week of celebration was set aside called "Inauguration Week." The Ladies' organization, the Epworth League, the Sunday School, under its officers carried over from the Chapel and became the Church organizations.

A few of the original staff of officers are still working diligently at this process of weaving, but many of them have gone.

As we think of those who have finished their part, it is with profound gratitude and deep appreciation to them for having done their part so well, and it is also with a feeling of regret, that we let them go having expressed so little of our appreciation.

And to those who are still with us. Please accept our thankfulness for the strength and the beauty of the fabric you have helped to weave thus far.

Very soon after the church was organized the need of a larger plant was keenly felt. New families were moving into the neighborhood. Growing children, filled with light-heartedness, love and loyalty, crowded the Chapel at the Sunday School sessions and clamored at the heels of their minister, between Sundays, for something to do.

The only thing to do was to make plans at once to provide for a new building which would adequately meet these needs.

May it be told that, although the task loomed up ahead like a mountain, those who tackled the job remembered that Faith could remove mountains. So they prayed, as though it all depended upon money, and they worked as though it all depended upon work.

Quoting from the minutes of the Official Board, January 21, 1918: "No subsequent meetings held during 1918 for the reason that the majority of the members of the Board worked night on the excavation of the cellar of the new church, the carting of stones from Sayre's and Faltoute's woods, gravel and sand from Stephens Bros. pit and building the concrete foundation and later in carting stones from Morristown and bricks from Summit. R. H. Reeve, Sec'y."

Time after time the Official Board found itself with its bank account exhausted or overdrawn and before they left the meeting they gave money from their own pockets to meet the temporary need. My! Oh My! How those men gave!

What were the women doing all this time?

They were working too, cooking hot suppers for the men and doing everything to help along as all good women should.

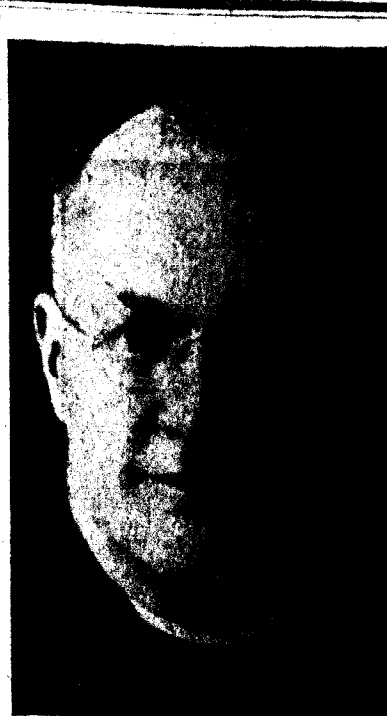

The building was dedicated in May, 1919.

The Epworth League and the Sunday School grew to need more concentrated direction, so in May, 1920 Miss Norine Gambee was secured as director of Young People's work.

Many of the active young workers in our Official Board and Woman's Council were organized at that time into a Club for Boys and the "A. T. Club for Girls."

Then when everything was going smoothly too smoothly, perhaps, the church received a terrible blow. Its magnetic, adored leader was taken by death.

The man who came to be our leader a few months later gathered up the threads, consoled and encouraged the bewildered weavers and directed the continuance of the fabric that had begun. Feeling that the greatest handicap to the effective service this church could render was its debt, he entreated the officers of the church to cancel that

The Community Church

The Community Church original known as All Souls' Church, was founded in September, 1906, by a group of Summit residents interested in establishing a liberal church. With the assistance of the American Unitarian Association, the present buildings, on Springfield and Waldron avenues, were constructed for in 1912, the architect being Jay Wheeler Dow. The formal dedication was on October 21st, 1913; the beauty and distinction of the colonial architectural treatment was much noticed at the time, in professional journals and magazines.

The church has had a history of steady growth, must accelerated in the last twelve years. The congregation at present is almost twice as large as five years ago. There is no creed or doctrinal requirement for membership; the bond of fellowship is a simple covenant, "In the love of truth and in the spirit of Jesus Christ, we unite for the worship of God and the service of man." The control of the affairs of the church is vested in its Board of Trustees, the polity being congregational and independent; the pulpit is free, no doctrinal or similar limitations being laid upon the minister. The society is affiliated with the American Unitarian Association, in support of the universal liberal religious house of the church.

The Community Church, is situated on Waldron avenue, immediately adjacent to the church itself; there is a parsonage, purchased in 1936, at 105 Larned road. The Church School and Junior Church, uncompromisingly modern both in material and method, accept only a limited registration, application for which must be made at the Church Office. At present, there are about 120 pupils and 15 teachers and officers.

Societies associated with the Church include the Woman's Alliance, active in community service, the Men's Club, the Community Young People, the Twentieth Century Club, and other usual church societies.

The hour of the Sunday service is 11 a. m. The Church School and Junior Church at 9.30 a. m. The president of the Board of Trustees is, at present, Robert W. King of Hemlock road, Short Hills. Rev. A. Powell Davies, the minister, came to Summit in 1933 and has now completed eight years of ministry in this parish.

Some of the officers and committee chairmen are as follows: Board of Trustees—Robt. W. King, president; Dr. Evelyn Holt, vice-president; Mrs. T. W. Hawes, Robt. H. Elmendorf, Oliver Thurmanman, Otto F. Taylor, J. K. Livingston, Hamilton W. Warren, Mrs. H. H. Dampman, secretary. Treasurer, William Scofield Day, 220 Hobart avenue, Summit. Wallace Chapel

By Rev. Florence Randolph, D.D. Living in the City of Summit, and being a great church worker, the late Adelaide Edney, widow of the late J. C. Edney, a Zion minister who had built more than one A. M. E. Zion Church in the State of North Carolina, longed for a church of her choice in the City of Summit.

In the summer of 1923 she succeeded in getting together thirty or more persons to organize a Methodist Church. The late presiding Elder, Rev. W. M. Langford, D. D., was notified and with the Rev. S. L. Corrothers and two other ministers organized on June 29, 1923, the Wallace Chapel A. M. E. Zion Church. The Rev. H. C. Vanpel was appointed pastor and served very acceptably for two years. During Rev. Vanpel's term of service a lot was purchased about one block from the present site on which they hoped to build. The debt.

The Ladies' Aid assumed the total indebtedness on the Parsonage and at a dinner in October, 1924, our leader, Rev. D. O. Cowles, so inspired us with the work we could do that we began all over again to give.

Our faithful friend, Wm. Hall, Jr., again gave us his substantial help, as did the Newark Church Society, so that on December 31, 1924, the last of the bills were paid and the mortgage burned.

Since that time the process of weaving lies clearly in the memory of all of us. The men who have been our leaders have directed us well. Since 1925 we have been blessed with the leadership of Rev. J. K. Easley, Dr. George Mooney, Rev. L. A. Benjamin and Rev. H. A. Sawyer and our present pastor, Rev. Frederick George Willey.

The fabric so far woven is unusual in its texture. Love, Patience, Diligence and Faith make up the motif to its pattern.

Center, and the present building on Kent Place Boulevard was purchased. It was renovated and remodeled to contain a synagogue, a Hebrew School classroom, a library, the children and a living quarters for a Rabbi. Since 1929 the following Rabbis have occupied the synagogue pulpit: A. Levy from Toronto, Canada; William Weiner from Pittsburgh; Meyer Eskowitz from Brooklyn, and S. Grinstein from Palestine. The present incumbent is Rabbi Eskowitz, who, after an absence of a year returned to the Summit pulpit.

Central Presbyterian Church

Seventy-five years ago there was no Presbyterian Church here in Summit. At that time there were very few houses and the name of the town was not Summit, but Turkey Hill. Can you imagine many trees with wild turkeys all around.

Well, in this little town of Turkey Hill were a few men and women, who, like the disciples of old, wanted to have other people love and serve the Lord Jesus Christ. Some of the people living in Turkey Hill went to church in Turkey, which is now New Providence and some went to Elizabeth Town. But both these places were far away and not many people could go. So a group of nineteen men and women had a meeting to talk over the possibilities of having a church where other men and their children could meet in a friendly way and worship God. You see they didn't know where to meet. At last, Mr. William Littell said, "I have a store and over the store is a hall. Couldn't we start our church there?" The other 18 people thought that was very kind of Mr. Littell and they accepted the invitation. Plans were made for the first service. Many people were asked to come. The Rev. W. L. Moore from the church in Turkey came to preach the sermon.

Origin of Name "Central"

Although services were held on Sunday afternoons in a Presbyterian Chapel erected in 1866, which exists to this day as the two-family house at 710 Springfield avenue, the West Presbyterian Church, into which these services were developed, only survived long enough as such to give the name "Central." It then became a Union Church, and later turned over to the First Baptist Church.

The nineteen Charter Members of the first church were:

William Littell and wife, Mehetabel, Littell, Jonathan Bonnel and wife Emily Bonnel, Dwight Cooley and wife Agnes Cooley, Edgar Wood and wife Jane Wood, David Bonnel, Miss Julia Littell, Mrs. Julia Smith, Miss Emmaline Bonnel, Miss Harriet Bonnel, Miss Charity Bonnel, Miss Sarah English, Alfred English, George English and Brooks Sayre.

It then became a Union Church, and later turned over to the First Baptist Church.

After its dedication, July 11, 1907, the old church was used as a Sunday School until the present Parish House was opened in 1923.

From 1917 until October of last year, the pastor was the Rev. Dr. Rockwell S. Brank who was assisted from 1931 until a little more than a year ago by Rev. Ralph B. Nesbitt. To date a successor has not been chosen to the pastorate.

The Neighborhood House

In 1901, when North Summit was an isolated country community of foreign born, built around a still mill, without sidewalks, sewers or trolley, its needs so impressed themselves upon a group in Central Presbyterian Church that a resident worker was engaged, and a Sunday School tent was set up. From this small beginning the Neighborhood House, with all its varied activities has developed, and continues to be one of the important enterprises of our church. The only original worker still active is Henry B. Twombly, outstanding citizen and leader in every enterprise for the benefit of the underprivileged of our city.

Pilgrim Baptist Church

This Church was organized October, 1929, under the leadership of its present minister, Rev. H. R. Cooper, who is recognized by both Colored and White Conventions of the State of New Jersey, and the National Baptist Convention of the U. S. A. and the Baptist Alliance of the World.

This church was created out of necessity. It has worked single-handed, purchasing a property here at 27 Glenwood Place, at war-time price of $12,900. With abiding faith in God, the church is carrying on, and with confidence and good-will of the business men of the city and of the public generally.

rest, as he had to be, in the Summit cemetery. His prodigious labors had provided funds for the last vest of debt contracted by the parish up to that time. Rev. Walter Purcell was the next pastor of St. Teresa's and his greatest work was the building of the school on Morris avenue at a cost of forty thousand dollars. He then transformed the old school building into a convent of more suitable dimensions. After a pastorate of seven years, Father Purcell was laid to rest in 1911. Rev. Conrad Schothofer, D. D., a man of rare power and energy, was his successor, and the church experienced a period of great progress. He was especially devoted to the children, and it is recalled as a fitting end, when heart disease cut him down, that his last act was ministering to a First Communion Class, feeding the children with the Bread of Life. His successor, the Rev. Francis McHugh, D. D., was for a long time a professor at Seton Hall College, South Orange and later rector of the Cathedral in Newark. Dr. McHugh brought the people together more closely than ever before in united efforts along spiritual and social service lines. Steadily he also reduced the debt on the new school and further advanced the parish's efforts to have a mission at New Providence. The priests of St. Teresa's church attended the mission also. Dr. McHugh kept in close touch with the many young men that came to the World War and has a list for the tablet recording their names. In 1919, Dr. McHugh received the larger part of parsonage from St. Patrick's Church by the order of the Bishop of Camden.

On February 12, 1919, Rev. Michael J. O'Connell became pastor of St. Teresa's and transferred from St. Vincent's, Morris Plains. Father O'Connell naturally advanced the interests of this congregation. He was a most present beautiful character and filled the debt on the parish's indebtedness. Our Lady Queen of Peace, New Providence, was dedicated to the church. A list of benefactors to the church is being compiled and will be forwarded to the church.

The Rev. John P. Latham is the present pastor of St. Teresa's Parish. A recent point of the growth of this church 2,000 people attend the St. Teresa's Mass celebrated in St. Teresa's Church every Sunday and four priests now minister to the spiritual needs of the faithful. Father Latham assisted in his parish by the Rev. William V. Holland and Rev. John T. McKenna and Rev. John A. Kelly.

St. John's Lutheran Church

St. John's Lutheran Church of Summit, is the distinction of being the last United Lutheran Church along the West of Newark along the Morrisstown highway until one reaches Philadelphia. It was organized first in 1906 and later suspended its activities until 1908 when just before Christmas it was reorganized and began continued service ever since. Today its membership comes from a wide area, including East Orange, Millburn, Short Hills, Union, Gladstone, Morristown, and Westfield.

The late Miss Henrietta E. Fackler was leader in the days of the church from its inception until removed from activities by ill health. Competent also among its early leaders was Mr. C. H. C. Jaegels, still one of its councilmen. The Totten family also has maintained a long record of service, particularly in connection with the choir.

In 1909 the present property was purchased on the corner of Beechwood road and DeForest avenue, and the next spring the building in which the services are now held was dedicated. Later a parsonage was built on the rear of the church lot that is now used as a Parish House.

The church has been served by seven pastors, of whom Dr. Julius W. Knapp served the longest up to the present pastorate. A majority of the pastors either had the degree of Doctor of Philosophy while serving here or have received it since then, but none of them has ever received the doctorate of divinity.

For several years the church has held a combined program of Bible School and church service. There is no separate division for the former but all children above the primary department unite with the congregation for the opening of worship and the hymn and the children's sermon. At the same time, small children are given a worship service of their own in the Parish House while their parents are in the congregation.

William F. Theesle superintended the Bible School. Other organizations include a Women's Society led by Mrs. H. F. Shorting an Auxiliary, a Young People's Society, and

St. Teresa's Church
The history of St. Teresa's Church is one which embodies the devotion of many people, under the leadership of some of the most gifted pastors the community has known. The cornerstone was laid in 1863, and this first little stone church of Gothic design gathered together the scattered families between Madison and Springfield. Until the year 1863, Summit was a mission of the Madison parish. The first pastor, Father Madden of Madison built the first church at a cost of $15,000, then a large sum of money for so small a congregation. He placed it high on the plot with space for a future larger building in seemingly relation to the surroundings. Father Madden came from Madison once a month to offer Mass for the people of Summit, which remained a mission until the year 1874 when Bishop Corrigan created Summit a separate parish. Dr. Winand Wiegler, later called to be third Bishop of Newark, was named first pastor. In the records of the church, the first baptism is entered as of December 1, 1874. Dr. Wiegler founded a parochial school and was greatly loved for his ceaseless devotion to the spiritual needs of the people. Rev. G. A. Vassallo followed, serving the church for nearly thirty years and becoming a patriarch among the people. He enlarged the school building, founded a little convent and in 1886 laid the cornerstone of a new church. This building still stands and the old stone sacristy, however, the original church, is preserved as a part of the new church, thus linking memories of the past with the progress of today. In 1881, Father Vassallo brought the Sisters of Charity from Madison to teach in the school. And this year, 1941, marks the sixtieth anniversary of the coming of the Sisters of Charity to Summit. During Father Vassallo's pastorate, a beautiful cemetery for the people of the parish was purchased. The original tract consisted of thirty acres. In 1906, death claimed this zealous pastor and he was laid to

LET'S GO TO THE MOVIES

'Come Live With Me' at the Community

With James Stewart and Hedy Lamarr sharing romantic honors in one of the most interesting films to be shown this year, "Come Live With Me" is now playing at the Community Theater in Morristown. Sedition has Hollywood produced a story so well fitted for its choice of stars. The plot deals with the plight of a beautiful Austrian refugee who marries a penniless young author in order to obtain a quota number and thus prevent deportation to her native Austria. The complications which develop from the marriage makes for extremely amusing entertainment.

As the young author who finally decides to "dream up" plots and write from actual experience, Stewart is superb. His scene in the office of publisher Ian Hunter is one of the high spots of his screen career. Miss Lamarr as the girl caught in the web of indecision plus romance reveals a new side to her glamorous personality. She is cast, funny and sympathetic and does a grand bit of work throughout the entire film.

In support of the stars is a noteworthy cast headed by Ian Hunter who turns in his best dependable characterization as the publisher who is certain he has an option on Miss Lamarr's heart until he receives the manuscript of a novel written by Stewart. Verree Teasdale, as Hunter's wife, gives an excellent interpretation to a small role.

Others in the cast include Donald Meek, as a park-bench bum, Ann Codee and King Baggot. An interesting detail in the film is that made by eighty-year-old Adeline de Walt Reynolds, who portrays her initial screen role as Stewart's grandmother and gets off on a blazing start to a most interesting Hollywood career.

The film was beautifully and sincerely directed by Clarence Brown.

Featured on the same program are, "Flag of Humanity," "Suea Pride of Fiji," and a color cartoon "Smiles Bells the Cat."

trustees were: Alfred Collins, president; William Depaur, treasurer; Albert Matthews, secretary; Joseph Sawyer, G. Norman, Bessie Coleman, and Mary Tull. The group was worshipping in the hall now known as the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. They had use of this hall Sundays and also Wednesday evenings. On other evenings it was rented for public purposes. Mrs. Rose Depaur was the first president of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society and served for several years.

In May of 1925, at the close of the Annual Conference, Bishop P. A. Wallace, D. D., appointed the present incumbent as a temporary supply until an appointment could be made. On Sunday, May 17th, 1925, the Rev. Florence Randolph met these people for the first time as pastor. She preached her first sermon at 8 p. m., selecting as her subject, Nehemiah 2:16, "For the people had a mind to work." This subject has proven true indeed.

The first drive for a church was launched in the fall of 1926 by an act of Divine Providence in 1928, Rev. Randolph and the new Trustees purchased on the corner of Broad and Orchard streets three lots, one hundred and twenty feet by one hundred and fifty feet, with a duplex house which had six rooms each and all modern improvements for the sum of $16,000. The initial payment was $3,000. $2,500 was raised by the people and $500 was given by the New Jersey Annual Conference.

On Sunday, April 1, 1928, Palm Sunday, the little congregation moved into this new House of Worship. It was a great Palm Sunday for the little Zionites. The people packed the building for three services.

In 1935, just coming out of a great depression, Sunday, September 29th, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon we broke ground for the new building. The sermon was given by the Presiding Elder, S. T. Hawkins, D. D., and a number of our white friends addressed the audience.

Sunday, June 7th, 1936, we entered the first unit of the new building for the first time. The pastor preached at the 5:45 a. m. service. The bell, donated by Mr. Robert Knowles, gave the call and the people filled the house amid tears and rejoicing.

Local Red Cross Wants Blood Bank Donors

The American Red Cross at the request of the British Red Cross, and in co-operation with the Blood Transfusion, Belterment Association developed a project to supply blood to Great Britain on a mass production basis. Over 13,000 donors contributed approximately 7,000 litres of blood between August 12, 1940, and January 17, 1941. This work was suspended in January upon word from Britain that they were equipped to supply their own requirements for the present.

The project proved so successful in all phases that we have now been requested to enlarge the scope of the project to include the requirements of our own Army and Navy in the National Defense Program, and to be prepared to comply with additional requests for emergencies at home or abroad.

The American Red Cross is now establishing a Blood Bank, from which to supply demands from these sources.

If you care to make a voluntary donation of your blood and are between the ages 21 to 60 and in good health, further information can be obtained by communicating with the Summit Chapter headquarters, American Red Cross, 7 Union Place, second floor, Summit 6-1114.
