Red Cross War Fund Reaches $27,000 Total In Summit

With the receipt to date of $27,000 the Red Cross War Fund campaign here is officially closed, and Summit has over-subscribed its quota of $25,000. There is still need for additional funds, however, because the local chapter retains fifteen per cent of receipts and the amount of work which the Red Cross here is able to do for local men in service depends on the amount of money donated. Therefore persons who haven't yet made their contributions and wish to do so are requested to send checks or money orders to Mrs. George Slate, campaign headquarters at 87 Union place are now closed.

Letter to Public
With the close of the drive, Mrs. H. N. Card, chapter chairman, expresses the appreciation of both local and national Red Cross organizations in the following letter to the public:

"Dear Editor:
"May I use the channel of your columns to extend the grateful appreciation of the leadership of the Summit Chapter of the American Red Cross for the loyal and spirited response with which the community has followed the generalship of Mr. Graham Brewer in our drive for our local quota of $25,000. We have gone over the top.

"This is no small matter. Yet from out of the myriad of responsibilities which the people of Summit, New Providence, and Passaic Township have gladly assumed in these times, they have come forth (Continued on Page Two)

Do You Have Oil Tank That Is Not In Use?

Summit Defense Council would like to know if there are any fuel oil tanks in Summit that are not in use that might be used to store a general reserve. If one can be accumulated, if anyone has such an unused tank, the Defense Council would appreciate it if he would inform the office of the Council, 85 Summit Avenue.

Normally, the tanks of users of fuel oil are probably somewhat more than half full on the average throughout the city and in case of an emergency there is therefore a considerable reserve. With the recent restrictions in the delivery of oil, however, the amount in users' tanks has been substantially reduced, a committee of the Defense Council who have been studying measures that might be taken to make better provision for emergencies, reports. The committee further comments that if the supply in the city should be interfered with due to a war emergency, many users might be in serious difficulty.

Jack Wade Leads "Who's Tops In Babyland" Contest This Week

Another count has been made in the popular "Who's Tops In Babyland" contest and tabulation will be found in this issue. Something of a sensation was caused by Jack Wade taking the lead this week, he was fifth in the last count.

The DeSantis Twins also came in for a share of the glory; they came up to third place from seventh last week. Two weeks ago they were number twenty-eight. James McFertian slid back one point, Peter Grimes lost two points, Ellen Berk lost two, and Judith Murray lost three. Carol Ann Jacobus made a leap from sixteen to eight, Sandra Lee Fiske from thirteen to ten, Ginger Rogers from nineteen to eleven, and Isabel Keppel from seventeen to fourteen. There are some new names on the Honor Roll this week: Kildredge Coddington, Margaret Corcoran, Rose Yan-nuzzio, Carol Ann Banks, Irene Gluski, Edwin Hackney Jr., and (Continued on Page Three)

Local Milk Dealers Plan To Conserve With Delivery Cut

Milk dealers serving the Summit area announced this week that a plan is being put into effect to make all deliveries on an every-other-day basis. The local dealers plan to conserve rubber, trucks and automobile parts, all essential to the war effort, without eliminating distribution of a food vital to the health of the community. J. Leon Doremus is president of the local dealers' association.

"Modern, scientific milk-marketing methods, both on the farm and in the dealers' plants, has made it possible to keep milk in perfect condition for as long as a week with proper refrigeration. The curtailed deliveries will not injure the quality of the milk and will make it possible for all patrons to receive a normal supply of the product on a set schedule.

Routemen will acquaint the consumer with the new delivery schedule. All of the patrons are being asked to co-operate with the dealers until the emergency passes.

Milk companies cooperating with the conservation plan include the following: Baldwin's Mt. Pleasant Farm, H. Becker & Son, Bendora Dairy, T. P. Brennan, Buddhurst, Canoe Brook Farms, Diamond Spring Farm, Florham Park Dairy, Wm. McCue Dairy, Noe Farms, Inc., and Schmalz Dairy Farm.

OLD GUARD SPEAKER

Dr. Frederick H. Law, noted metropolitan educator, will address members of the Old Guard in the "Y" auditorium at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Air Raid Safety Measures Taken In City Schools

Careful Study, Inspection Made of Plants—Changes Recommended For Care of Enrollees; Teachers in All Schools Now Taking Red Cross First Aid Courses

Summit's public schools are as safe as intelligent planning and protective equipment can make them in the event of an air raid. At a meeting of the Board of Education, Tuesday night, Superintendent William A. Kincaid, presented a resume of the precautions that have been taken to insure the students' safety.

"At the outbreak of the war," Superintendent Kincaid said, "temporary arrangements were made for the housing of children in the most adequate places available in the building. Since that time, a careful study and inspection has been made of each building and some changes in the original plans have been recommended."

Personnel of the committee includes—Civilian Defense Director Maxwell Lester, Jr., Edward Trayford of the Police Department, Oliver B. Merrill and Seaman L. Wright, building inspector, from the Council; Thomas J. Evans, Mrs. Reed W. Hyde, Walter Eddy and Superintendent Kincaid, from the Board.

At the most recent meeting of this unit, approval was given to certain measures to protect the schools from incendiary bombs. Stirrup pumps, and demolition pumps have been purchased to augment the present fire fighting (Continued on Page Three)

WEST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, 1870, located at 708-710 Springfield Avenue.

Presbyterian Church To Mark 75th Anniversary

Beginning Sunday, Central Presbyterian Church will celebrate its 75th anniversary by a special Sunday morning service at 11 o'clock, followed on Tuesday by a pageant at 8 p. m., and on Wednesday evening by another special service.

"Presbyterians" had their beginning as a church organization in Summit at the close of the Civil War and erected a Presbyterian Chapel in 1866 at what is now 708-710 Springfield Avenue. On June 6, 1870, this was organized as the West Presbyterian Church.

In the meantime services were being held in the building which was then the Post Office and Little's store, and still stands at Union place and Maple street. A Sunday School was started here on March 24, 1867. Summit, which became a township in 1869, at that time boasted of a population numbering 1,000.

Robert J. Murphy, Sr., Republican of Summit, was elected secretary of the Union County Board of Elections at its organization meeting last Thursday in the Court House. He succeeds William T. Seeland, of Elizabeth, who was replaced on the board by Edward A. Roessel of Elizabeth.

Mr. Murphy, now dean of the Board, in years, was agreed upon readily to be the secretary. The meeting was held earlier than expected since Mr. Murphy left Saturday for the Southwest on an extended vacation. Arrangements to carry on the details of his office in this absence were made at the meeting.

Arthur T. Lee, of Hillside, succeeded himself as chairman.

Nineteen charter members from the New Providence Church were included in this first church organization as follows: Mr. and Mrs. William Little, Mr. and Mrs. Johnathan Bonnel, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight H. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wood, David W. Bonnel, Miss Julia L. Little, Mrs. Julia Smith, Miss Emaline Bonnel, Miss Harriet Bonnel, Miss Charity Bonnel, Miss Sarah F. English, Alfred A. English, George I. English and Brooks Sayre.

The first pastor was the Rev. James DeHart Bruen, who had pioneered as a missionary at Takai, Korea. He served from May 11, 1871 until 1879. During this period the membership increased to 152 and the enrollment in the Sunday School had grown to 135, requiring a more commodious meeting place. So the little old Chapel was abandoned.

1,184 Licenses For Motor Vehicles Sold

Reporting the sale to date of 1,184 passenger motor vehicle licenses for 1942, the Douglas A. Wahl Motor Vehicle License Bureau, 355 Springfield Avenue, reports that sales are continuing strong. In addition, Mr. Wahl reports the sale of 1,606 drivers' licenses for the current year as well as 44 commercial license plates.

Mr. Wahl reminds purchasers of new license plates that State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur Magee requests the surrender of all 1941 plates when cars are next taken to inspection stations for their regular scrutiny.

Trial Is City-Wide But Not For Public; No Siren Will Sound

Summit's defense system will receive its biggest test next Sunday, March 15, when all wardens and police reservists will be called out. Approximately 860 residents are involved.

The call will not be by siren so that the general public is not involved in any way. There are some surprises in store for the wardens but the principal objective of the test is to discover how quickly the city-wide communication system can do its job.

At 2 p. m. Sunday, Director of Police Reserves Alex Twombly and Chief Air Warden Stuart Reed will receive a telephone warning. They will immediately put the machinery of defense into operation.

The normal procedure is for the Chief Air Warden to notify the Deputy Air Warden, Donald Holmes. They then communicate with the 15 Zone Wardens who communicate with the 200 Block Wardens, who communicate with the 400 Wardens.

The Chief Warden and Deputy are asked to report the time it takes them to reach the 15 Zone Wardens. The Zone Wardens, when they have completed their calls are to go to their assigned Police Area Headquarters and report the time it takes them to complete their calls, remaining there on duty until the end of the test.

Block Wardens are to go on post the moment they hear from their Zone Wardens and at 2:30 p. m. they are to check the number of Wardens on duty—reporting to Zone Wardens by 10 p. m. the number present, the number absent and any comments.

The surprises are for the Wardens. At least one in each of the 15 zones will be handed a problem in writing. The Warden is to communicate this disaster to the proper police officer, Regular or Reserve, in the proper manner. He must report to the proper authorities his zone number, block letter, name, type of disaster, number of casualties and help needed.

It is expected that the tests will be completed by 3 p. m.

No siren or whistle will blow for this test which is intended merely to establish the speed and effectiveness of an elaborate communication system. If the air raid alarm should sound it will be an actual warning.

OUR TOWN

PERSONAL MENTION

The Summit Herald issue of March 8, 1941—a bit over a year ago—announced the purchase of John W. Clift's controlling interest by the present publishers. In other words we have passed our first year.

WOOLEN SCRAPS

If you have any old woollen scraps—old coats, trousers, vests or anything woollen that is too worn to wear—the New Providence Red Cross wants such materials to make quilts for shelters.

GAS MASKS

The first paragraph in a story in Sunday's Herald-Tribune reads as follows: "New Jersey, considered one of the states along the Atlantic seaboard most likely to be attacked, because of its high industrial status, is expected to be allotted an adequate share of the $100,000,000 in gas masks, fire apparatus and other civilian defense equipment to be distributed by the Federal Government, Leonard Dreyfuss, chairman of the State Defense Council, said today."

BICYCLES

We went into Wahl's to look at bicycles on Saturday and found only two or three left. We hear a lot of talk these days about bicycle trips this summer.

FUN AT HOME

Monday's Times opened a news report with this: "Restrictions on tires are likely to cause an upswing in the volume of sales by local grocers because of the resulting curtailment of 'out-of-the-neighborhood' shopping. Paul S. Willis, president of the Associated Grocery Manufacturers of America asserted here (San Francisco) today. Speaking here at the United Grocers' annual convention, Mr. Willis warned, however, that such increased business must bring a realization of the individual grocer's duty in maintaining morale on the home front."

Everybody seems to agree that there will be a lot more fun at home than there used to be when you could jump into your car and go to somebody else's home town.

GOLF CLUBS

We thought at first the war would ruin golf clubs but now it begins to look like the opposite might be true. People are going to stay home and get their recreation here. Clubs are realizing that they can become real community centers if they'll reduce their charges and do more for more people.

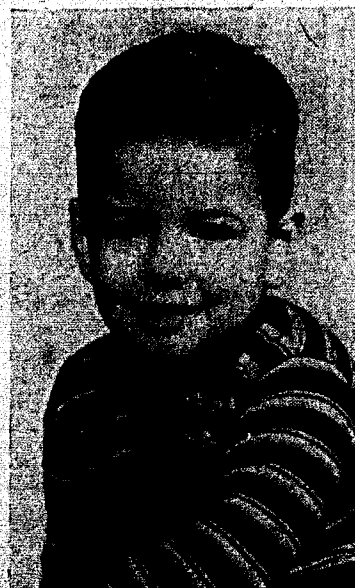

A TIME OF GREAT CHANGE

Probably we are living through a period of great and far-reaching change. That's upsetting—but on the other hand a period of change is a period of opportunity. There is at least a fair chance that this is a period of release when the energies of our country and our people will pour into the building of a new world—when we will look up from our preoccupation with a variety of material things and observe the great wide world for the first time.

Meanwhile, here in Summit we may be gradually approaching a time when our town will be more of an isolated self-contained, small city than it has been for many years.

to justify our confidence in the salutary position which the Red Cross occupies. This has not been charity. Rather has it been the glad acceptance of the duty which the American people behind the lines recognize toward the boys at the front. It is a united and eloquent assertion that we will have liberty and freedom, whatever the cost. It is a most vocal demand that another Pearl Harbor must not be.

"Everyone has given willingly and liberally of energy and funds. Especially do we wish to thank the Summit press."

Simultaneous Drive

Of interest to all Red Cross members and to communities is the announcement made this week by national chairman, Norman H. Davis, that the regular 1942 fall membership Roll Call will be postponed and will be held simultaneously with the next War Fund Campaign early in 1943. This decision was made in the effort to relieve in some measure the increasing ing burden on men and women in all communities who are engaged in money raising efforts during war time.

Motor Corps Luncheon

The March luncheon of the Motor Corps of the Summit Chapter will be of general interest next Tuesday, March 17, at 12:30 o'clock at The Canfield, and will feature a talk by Corporal Brooks of the State Police from Trenton. The Motor Corps has opened this meeting not only to its own members but to any interested persons. Corporal Brooks will speak on First Aid squads, traffic regulations during disaster, and First Aid equipment and he will answer questions relative to this subject. Members of First Aid Squads are particularly urged to attend. Corporal Brooks is head of all First Aid Squads in New Jersey. The Summit Motor Corps has formed six squads of First Aiders, with two drivers in each squad.

Response to Call

Responding to the call for coats made recently, several were received by the chapter. Two new coats were sent to headquarters this week from a New York store, but no identification accompanied the gift and the Red Cross is anxious to express appreciation to the anonymous donor.

Mrs. Lathrop Honored

Mrs. Palmer J. Lathrop, vice-chairman of the Summit Chapter, was honored at a luncheon last Friday at The Canfield by members of the Red Cross Board. Mrs. Lathrop, who has been one of the most active workers of the chapter, is leaving Summit, to accompany her husband to Washington, where he expects to be stationed for the present, as a member of the Air Corps. Mrs. Lathrop's departure is regretted by all her friends and fellow workers and the chapter feels a great loss. She entered into every phase of the work with enthusiasm and not only gave tirelessly of her time and energies, but encouraged other workers. She hopes to enter Red Cross activities in Washington.

Besides Mrs. Lathrop, those present at the luncheon were: Mrs. H. N. Card, Mrs. Charles D. Crane, Mrs. George Slate, Mrs. Edmund G. vonDuhn, Mrs. Charles P. Clark, Mrs. Samuel E. Jones, Miss Mary Davis, Mrs. E. F. Tomiska, Mrs. A. C. Bernard, Miss Edna Chamberlain, Mrs. John C. Leathem, Mrs. Richard G. Moser, Mrs. Graham Brewer, Mrs. Walter W. Schorman and Mrs. Gilbert Cant.

As president of the Twentieth Century Club of Boston, Professor Mather organized the Boston Center for Adult Education, a unique development which is attracting considerable attention.

Purses Snatched, Recovered

Millburn police Thursday reported to Summit police they had picked up two purses stolen from Summit residents the night before. The victims were Mrs. Rose Mulford, 74 Beechwood road, and Mrs. Ralph Mead, a maid in the employ of J. H. Walters, 87 Whittridge rd. Mrs. Mulford's loss was about $3. Mrs. Mead lost $15. In each case the thief jumped from a parked automobile.

Air Raid Safety Measures Taken In City Schools

equipment. Indian tanks, which are portable and may be strapped to the back, with a six-gallon capacity, are also in the newly-purchased equipment.

Fire-Fighting Films

Principals and janitors in all the schools have been shown the film on fighting incendiary bombs and sand palls have been placed at advantageous points in the buildings.

First-aid equipment has been placed in each school, and practically the entire Summit public school faculty is now taking the regulation Red Cross first aid course.

Periodic air raid drills are held, in which the children are removed to comparative points of safety in the corridors. In such a drill, held in Braxton School this week, the classrooms were emptied and the students removed to pre-arranged places in thirty seconds. There are 275 students enrolled in Braxton.

Plywood has been placed over all windows in the corridors and doors leading from the classrooms. Mosaic or other transparent materials have been taped over the glass panes. Wall radiators and lockers have been securely fastened to the walls to avoid injuries from their falling on someone. All glass globes have been removed in the corridors; glass panes in the corridors, other than wire glass, have been covered.

Food Supplies

Plans are now in the process of formation to store food supplies in each building; cooking facilities are already available.

An effort is also being made to have blankets, as a part of the evacuation program, placed in the rooms. Roof-potters, to maintain posts atop the buildings in case of a raid, are also included in the plans. These would be under the jurisdiction of the Defense Council.

Extra telephone facilities have been installed—so that in case of an alarm there would be no danger of being unable to relay messages to the school over the telephone.

The principals have been requested to plan for the redistribution of pupils in the light of the protection which has been afforded. Members of the Education Committee plan to witness an air raid drill in each building, within the next few days, to check on the new arrangements.

Editor, The Summit Herald.

Dear Sir—The editorial and news columns of The Summit Herald are presenting Summit affairs in an interesting manner and it is pleasant to feel that the news is covered in one publication. I have had one disappointment, though. Since I had not been able to attend the Federal Union Meeting, February 27, I looked for the story in The Herald. I was sorry to find no report of what the speakers had to say. I have since heard that Mr. Welch brought up the possibility of a union of democracies within the framework of a revised League of Nations. It would be enlightening to hear more on this point.

Jack Wade Leads Babyland Contest

Richard Bond Reed.

Only eleven more days remain of the high count and it would be well for all to do whatever shopping possible during these next eleven days while the votes do count most.

Subscription votes also are worth more now than they will be later on. It is urged by Frederick Acker, manager of the contest, that people interested in any of the contestants double their efforts this week so that their favorite may gain its rightful place on the Honor Roll.

Popularity of the campaign has advanced at such a pace that it now requires a minimum of 100,000 votes for the name of a contestant to appear in The Summit Herald. This announcement was made yesterday by Mr. Acker, who's Tops in Babyland Campaign manager, from his office at 346 Springfield avenue. It will become effective Monday, March 16th.

"Space limitations and requirements are the reason for this qualification. But if your little favorite has less than 100,000 votes, don't think that means he or she is out of the race—not at all," Mr. Acker states.

Also, the pictures of those babies who have less than 100,000 votes, and who are considered inactive candidates, will be taken off display in the window at Babyland Headquarters.

Faithful Count

"The votes for each and every one should be placed in the ballot box as heretofore and the count will be kept with absolute faithfulness and care by the campaign manager at Babyland Headquarters. Then, when you have deposited up to the minimum required for publication, the name of our little candidate for Baby King or Baby Queen will appear again. Make every effort possible to have a total of 100,000 votes to your baby's credit by Saturday night.

"Try to keep your baby's name on the printed list and your baby's picture in the window at Babyland Headquarters in order to merit and obtain public support. Just a little extra work will do the trick.

"Of course, like all other elections that amount to anything, the baby election is a competitive proposition and in order to win or stay among the leaders, one must get votes. It is the sincere desire of Mr. Acker that every baby in the campaign will stay on the active list, and that every picture will remain on display at Babyland Headquarters, for that makes a better election and a finer contest all around.

ANTOINETTE TODESKI, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Todeski, of Summit. She is ten months old, has brown eyes and blonde hair. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Todeski, of Summit and Mr. W. Milchenski, of Allentown.

Babies Can't Work

"But, of course, babies themselves cannot go out and get the votes that will bring them honor, prominence and reward. That must be done for them by their parents, relatives and friends.

"There has been great progress made during the past week by many of the candidates and this has fired the energy of other campaign managers so that they also have started working with increased zeal. The parents of baby after baby have announced that their entry is in the contest for good and that nothing can make them withdraw.

"All over this trading area, the enthusiasm and cheerfulness generated by the Who's Tops in Babyland campaign is being felt. It is as if the babies had imparted to their elders some of the joy and happiness that belong to well-cared-for babyhood.

"Remember the part The Summit Herald is playing in the campaign. Remember the votes you get upon subscriptions to this paper. Get on the telephone, call your friends, make personal calls, write to them and give your baby the big boost that subscriptions to this paper obtain.

"Ask your merchant for Baby Votes!"

William S. Gaylord

"The Old Guard records with sorrow the death of its recently acquired member, William S. Gaylord. We had welcomed him with particular pleasure and looked forward to the enjoyment of his genial companionship at our meetings. His standing as an honored citizen and the prominent position he had won in his chosen field of labor added distinction to our roll, while his high qualities of heart and mind, his keen sense of humor and his instinctive championship of all that made for the betterment of the community and the nation, promised much for the enrichment and pleasure of our meetings.

"We extend our deep sympathy to his family."

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Field of Colony Court and their daughter, Peggy Jayne, returned Saturday from a three weeks' trip to Florida where they stayed at Miami Beach.

Canoe Brook C. C. Slashes Membership Rates On April 1

In line with the trend throughout the country during the present war emergency, George H. Chace, president of Canoe Brook Country Club, announced this week that dues and other charges at the club would be lowered on April 1.

Four classes of membership have been established with a basic rate as low as $50 for annual dues. Members in classes A and B are entitled to unrestricted privileges without payment of greens fees, with rates ranging from $55 to $160, depending on age and type of membership.

Class C, open to males and females 21 years of age or over, grants unrestricted golf privileges on payment of greens fees. The basic fee in this class is $50.

Class D is open to unmarried sons and unmarried daughters of Class A and B members with certain provisions and restrictions.

An annual base charge to all members for the use of the swimming pool, with an additional charge of $5 for each member of the immediate family who may wish to make use of the pool's facilities, will be $15. Tennis fees for either members or guests will be twenty-five cents on week-days and fifty cents on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Members owning membership certificates are proprietary members of the club regardless of the class of membership in which they pay dues. They alone will have voting privileges.

Bartholomew Is Speaker At Forum

The problem of caring for students during air raids was cited by A. J. Bartholomew, principal of Summit High School, Friday night at the fifth annual pre-college conference at Pingry School in Ellizabeth. He said this was one of the main issues being faced by the high school in coastal areas, expressing opposition to the idea of accelerating the high school program. It is the school's duty, he added, to promote civilian morale through interpretation of the war to students and through fostering democratic ideals and duties of citizenship.

Principal Bartholomew spoke at a dinner in which the effect of the war on the programs of colleges and high and preparatory schools was discussed. Fifty-six college representatives and forty principals and headmasters of preparatory and high schools and Pingry faculty members attended the dinner.

Five Injured In Crash of Three Autos On Sunday

A three-car crash on Morris turnpike, near Summit avenue, caused injury to five persons, one possibly seriously, on Sunday.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Annie Eichholz, who lives on the Vanderpool estate, Millburn, driver of one of the machines. She received severe skull injuries, lacerations and abrasions, causing her removal to Overlook Hospital, where physicians found it necessary to give her several blood transfusions.

Miss Betty Byrne, 306 Short Hills avenue, Springfield, who was a passenger in Mrs. Eichholz's car, sustained lacerations and abrasions and was also removed to Overlook. Bert J. Hillary, 431 Washington street, Boonton, driver of the second machine, was uninjured. His three passengers, however, suffered multiple injuries and were treated at Overlook. They were Mrs. Belden Thawley, 1120 Anna street, Elizabeth; Inez Thawley, same address, and Miss Carol Brinker, 555 St. Marks avenue, Westfield.

Edward Corn Jr., operator of the third car, who lives at 139 Florence avenue, Irvington, was unhurt.

THEN USE IT TO CARRY PACKAGES HOME!

AND HELP UNCLE SAM SAVE RUBBER, GAS AND PAPER

Normally, our big fleets of trucks deliver anything from a package of pins to a perambulator, anywhere from Dover to Passaic. But now Uncle Sam needs rubber and paper, and we're going to save it for him.

One way to do this is to cut down on the delivery of small packages which are so easy to carry. With the shortage of tires we may be forced a year from now to do away with deliveries entirely if we continue to use our delivery trucks at the present rate.

We need your understanding, sympathy, and above all your cooperation to solve this problem. You can give us a helping hand by carrying your own small packages home whenever possible. Every time you do, you'll be making an important contribution to our national drive to save tires, rubber and paper for defense.

This is a time when we all have to pitch in and bear our share. You say you'd give your right arm for victory? Then use it to carry packages home!

WHAT'S HAPPENING HERE?

Probably there never was a time when local newspapers like The Summit Herald could do more than they can now for their towns. Oddly enough, as world news grows in importance local news becomes of greater significance. Local defense, local activities, local shortages, local rules for emergencies—all these things become matters of great importance. We hope they don't become matters of life and death, but now certainly is no time to get out of touch with local news.

BOOKS

Clear your book shelves! Give books to the men in service. We've talked about this, the library has talked about it, the book stores have talked about it, Ciba Pharmaceutical Products ran a half-page advertisement in last week's paper about it.

If you like, bring your books to The Summit Herald. We'll put them in the window until we get a big enough load.

MARKET

Speaking of grocers, local newspapers, and advertising, we call your attention to the advertisement for Central Market in this issue. It announces the start of a steady schedule of advertising in The Summit Herald.

This announcement has more than a casual significance for you, we think. It means more than 4,500 paid subscribers will have the Central Market offerings laid before them each Thursday—but it also means that another astute local merchant has satisfied himself that The Summit Herald has built a communications highway to all the people of Summit. In a time of danger, when such a highway may be of very great value, we think this confirmation is reassuring. Central Market is owned by Ralph DeLucia and Lou Morino.

TIN

Are you saving tin cans? Are you washing them, cutting out both ends and then stepping on them? Are you putting them in a separate box or carton or paper bag or something so city collectors can pick them up? The nation needs tin. Save it. Salvage it. Be sure to do this.

ANY CAUSES TODAY?

Two or three weeks ago we invited our readers to suggest what causes we should fight for. We said we intended to fight for 100 per cent.—or at least 98 per cent.—tax collections. We will say now that we intend also to fight the battle of salvage in this country—which means salvaging tin and paper and scrap iron at the moment. We will fight the battle of defense bonds and stamps.

But we again invite you to suggest causes.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

You knew that the Presbyterian Church was 75 years old didn't you? See Page One and the church page in this issue for the story.

BED WANTED

Red Cross headquarters needs, very badly, a hospital bed. This is to be used in training for members of the Nursing Committee (not to be confused with Nurses' Aides). They would like to point out that this would be considered just a loan and not a gift and that eventually the bed would be returned to the donor.

Paintings On Silk Feature Of Art Association Exhibit

MADAME CHEVALRIE

A dual exhibition opens Sunday at the Summit Art Association's gallery, 497 Springfield avenue, and continues two days a week through March 29. One feature of the exhibition is a collection of paintings on silk after the Chinese manner by Madame Yette de la Chevalrie of Edgewood road, Summit, while the other attraction is a number of individual artistic arrangements of objects upon tables.

Madame de la Chevalrie studied art at the Royal Academy of Brussels, Belgium, her native country, and later, with her husband, who was a member of the Belgian Consular Service, spent a number of years in the Orient. The paintings to be displayed, which are to include still life, landscape and possibly a few portraits, are the fruit of four years study under Chinese and Japanese masters.

In the group of individual artistic arrangements, ingenuity and taste are expected to illustrate satisfying effects that can be achieved in the grouping of simple objects. The articles, which, presumably will be akin to "still life," will be assembled by members of the Art Association gifted in artistic interior arrangement.

Sundays and Thursdays from 3 to 5 o'clock have been set aside for the exhibition.

South America Topic For Y. W. C. A. Anniversary

An understanding of the economic problems of South America by people of the United States based upon cooperation will be a vital factor leading toward Hemisphere solidarity, was the plea made Tuesday night to the Business and Professional Girls' Club of the Summit Y. W. C. A. at a dinner meeting held at the Sanfield.

The speaker was Miss Mary Cannon formerly secretary of the local Y. W. C. A. who is now associated with the Woman's Bureau of the Department of Labor in Washington D. C. Miss Cannon used as the subject of her address, "South American Women in Business and the Professions."

Recently returned from a trip to South America where she spent four months in the Argentine and one month each in Chile and Uruguay, Miss Cannon said the latter country was the most friendly in that continent to the United States.

Miss Cannon went into considerable detail about the part business and professional women are playing "in keeping the wheels going" in the Southern Continent. At the same time she pointed out that women have been greatly emancipated from the old conservative restriction placed upon them so many years.

One hundred three women attended the dinner including guests from the Orange, Westfield, Plainfield and New Brunswick Business and Professional Girls' Clubs.

The meeting, held in commemoration of the 15th annual national observance of the Business and Professional Department of the Y. W. C. A., received word of greeting from Mrs. Eric North, Miss Capitola Dickerson, chairman of the Y's Industrial Department, was in charge of music assisted by Miss Louise Dahlgren. Greetings were received from a number of kindred clubs, one of which was from the Y. W. C. A. of Mexico and another from Buenos Aires.

Besides the above named women, others at the speaker's table included Mrs. A. Nicollan, Miss Peggy Garis, Miss Muriel Carter, president, presiding; Miss Betty Hyde, Mrs. N. Hill and Miss Thelma Franklin, all of whom are associated with the club.

Also among those attending were Miss Cecelia Jeffrey general secretary of the local Y. W. C. A. and Miss Grace Carr, a former general secretary of the local Y. W. C. A. who is now serving in Plainfield in a like capacity.

Summit Girl Scouts Join The Nation In Marking Their 30th Birthday

665,000 Girls, Adults Renew Their Pledge

"Now that the United States is at war, the more than 665,000 girls and adults in Girl Scouting pledge themselves to redouble the efforts they are already making in national defense and in service to community and country..." thus read a telegram addressed to President Roosevelt, The White House, Washington, D. C., on Monday, December 8, 1941, following an unforgettable Sunday the day before—one that will always be remembered by Americans as "Pearl Harbor."

"These are the things which we place at the country's service," the telegram continued.

"More than 135,000 trained volunteer and professional group leaders, among them many who are prepared to train others for leadership."

"Thirty years of experience in training girls for citizenship, and service in training volunteers, and in analyzing community needs. This experience includes work in two wars—the First World War and the present one in which we have the benefit of the experience of British and Continental Girl Guides."

"A national office, thirteen branch offices, and hundreds of local offices, staffed and equipped to serve in the training of children and leaders."

"More than half a million girl members who can serve both in the protection and morale fields of civilian defense. They are now serving and more are preparing themselves to serve in the fields of food and nutrition child care, transportation and communication, clothing, shelter and recreation."

"We offer this service to you and through you to the Nation with the hope that every community which has a Girl Scout group will make full use of the Girl Scout organization in the great work which lies before all of us."

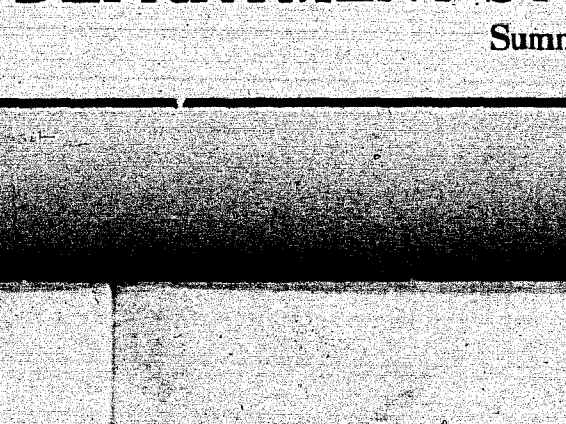

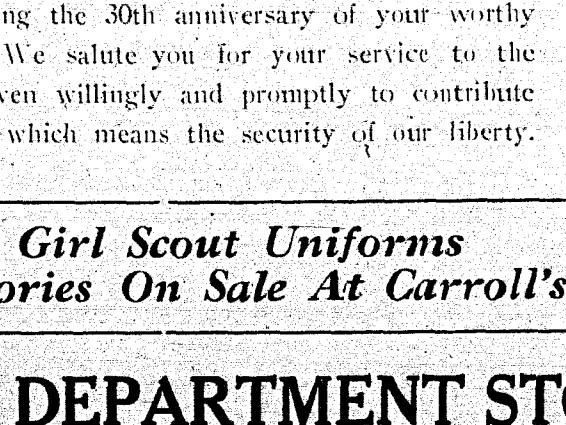

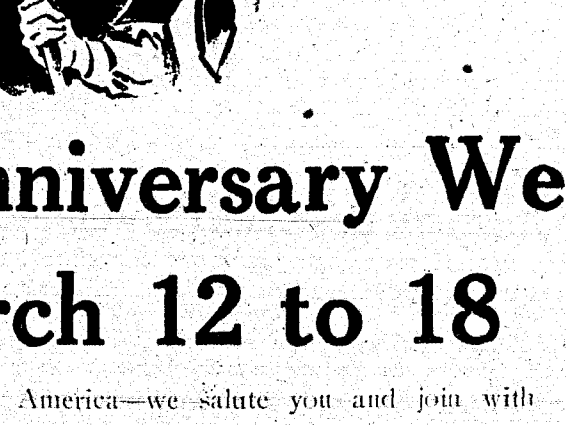

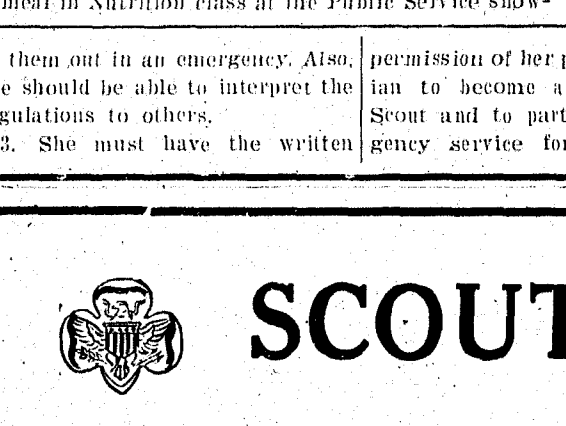

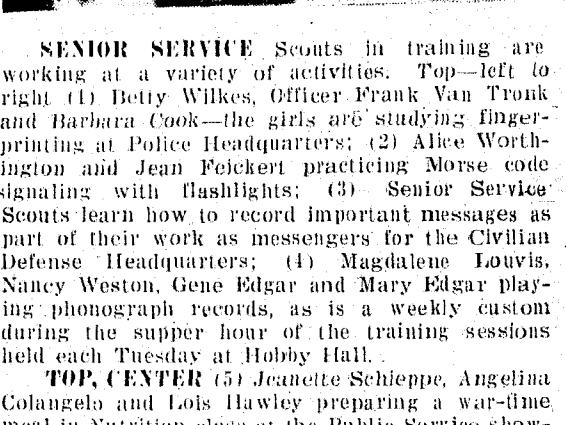

National Birthday

Today, March 12th, the thirtieth birthday anniversary of Girl Scouting, The Summit Herald, is presenting a survey of the program the three hundred and seventy scouts in our community are co-operating with.

The Senior Service Scout Plan is the answer to the present emergency a concrete plan by which the members are trained to be of service in civilian defense.

Qualifications
A Senior Girl Scout may become a Service Scout provided she has fulfilled the following requirements:

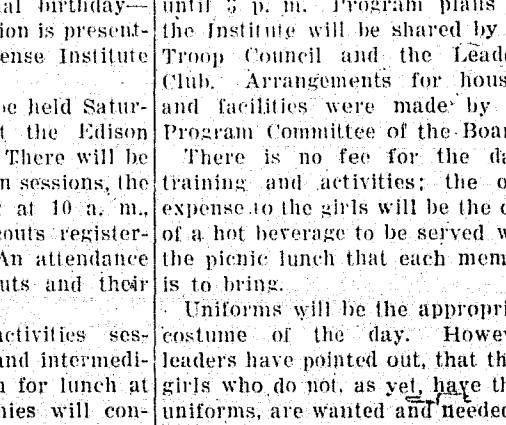

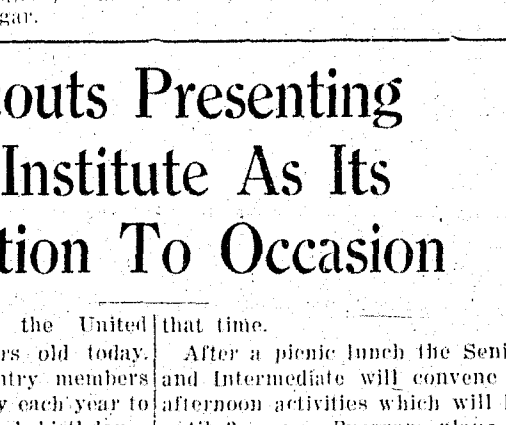

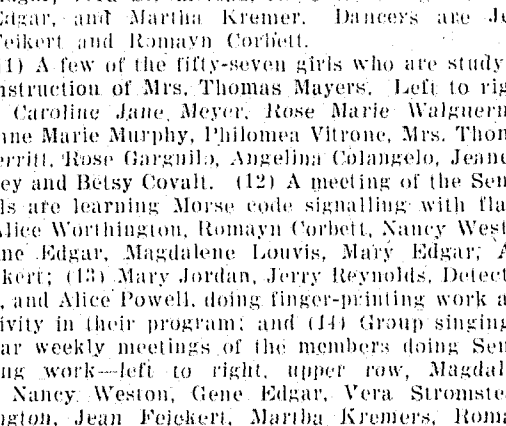

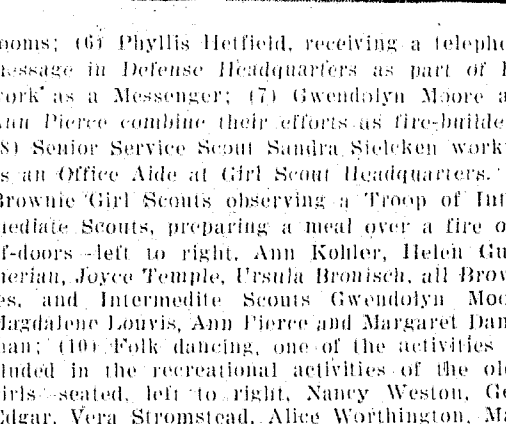

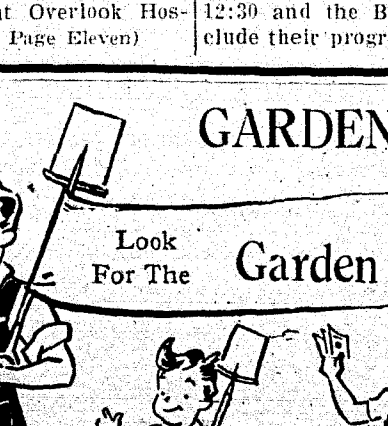

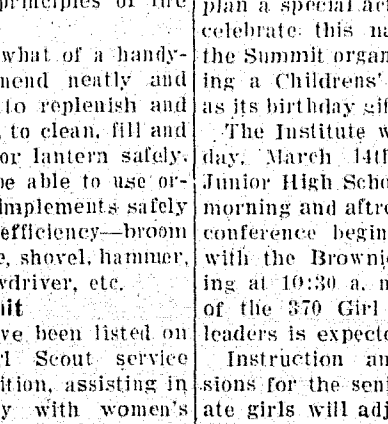

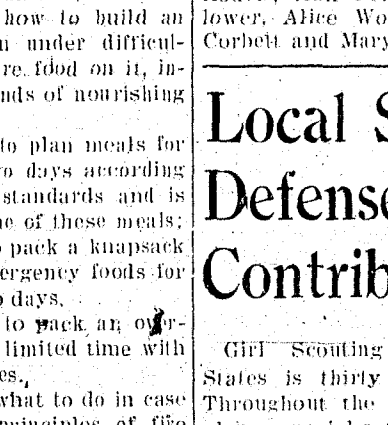

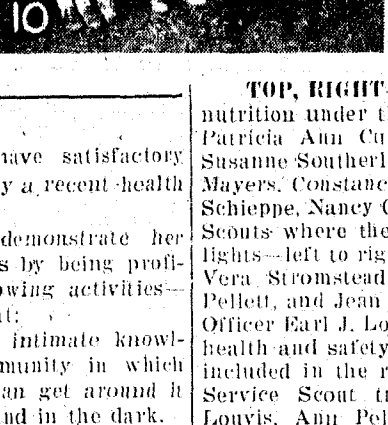

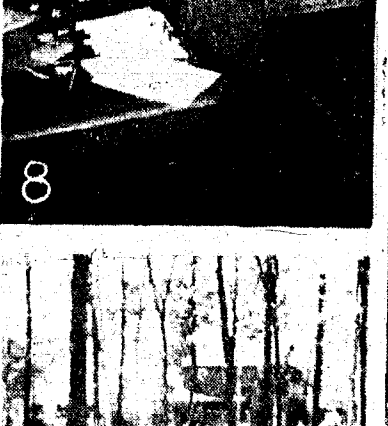

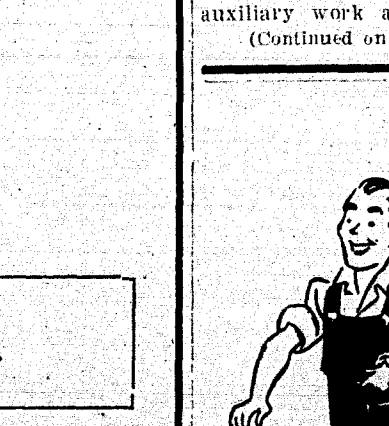

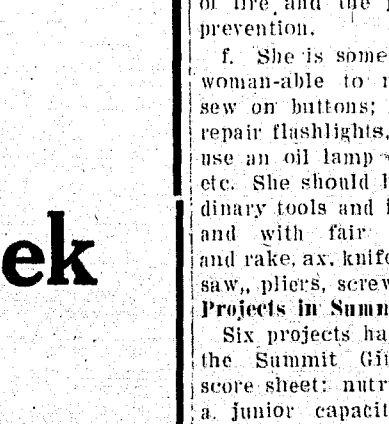

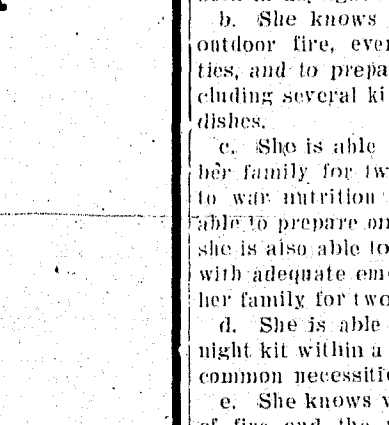

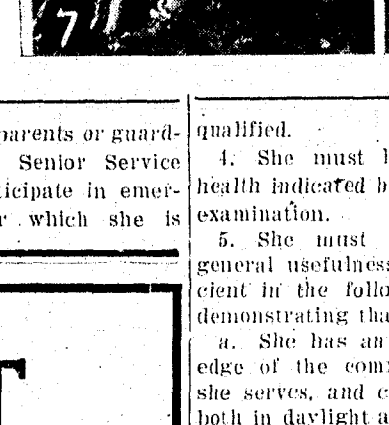

1. She should be a national registered Girl Scout and so enrolled to serve her community.
2. She should know thoroughly her local regulations for civilian protection and be prepared to carry them out in an emergency. Also, she should be able to interpret the regulations to others.
3. She must have the written permission of her parents or guardian to become a Senior Service Scout and to participate in emergency service for which she is qualified.

Recompense

(To JULIETTE LOW—by Birdsell Otis Edey)

Hers was a golden vision for looking down the years
She understood the questioning and needs that would arise
In the lives of little girls, and big girls, growing to womanhood,
And clothed her understanding in adventurous disguise.
Taking as her recompense the laughter in their eyes.

Local Scouts Presenting Defense Institute As Its Contribution To Occasion

Girl Scouting in the United States is thirty years old today. Throughout the country members plan a special activity each year to celebrate this national birthday—the Summit organization is presenting a Children's Defense Institute as its birthday gift.

The Institute will be held Saturday, March 14th, at the Edison Junior High School. There will be morning and afternoon sessions, the conference beginning at 10 a. m. with the Brownie Scouts registering at 10:30 a. m. An attendance of the 370 Girl Scouts and their leaders is expected.

Instruction and activities sessions for the senior and intermediate girls will adjourn for lunch at 12:30 and the Brownies will conclude their program for the day at that time.

After a picnic lunch the Seniors and Intermediate will convene for afternoon activities which will last until 5 p. m. Program plans for the Institute will be shared by the Troop Council and the Leaders' Club. Arrangements for housing and facilities were made by the Program Committee of the Board.

There is no fee for the day's training and activities; the only expense to the girls will be the cost of a hot beverage to be served with the picnic lunch that each member is to bring.

Uniforms will be the appropriate costume of the day. However, leaders have pointed out, that those girls who do not, as yet, have their uniforms, are wanted and needed at that time.

DOYLE'S Real Mahogany & Walnut

Cost More Than Imitations

And no amount of advertising will make the imitation into the real.

The rich beauty of the real woods never fade, even in museum pieces hundreds of years old.

And the cost for this extra satisfaction and pride of ownership is so small as to be hardly worth considering.

The Doyle store has lovely occasional tables, bedroom suites and dining room suites in the genuine mahogany and walnut.

Priced so moderately that one can hardly believe the little difference in cost between the real and make believe.

Dig Deeper, Is Advice Given Summit Youth

"You must look deeper into the same old problems in order to bring about a better world," was the advice given the 500 young people who attended the second of a series of five Summit United Youth meetings held Sunday night in Central Presbyterian Church.

The speaker was Professor James T. Clelland of Amherst College who used as his theme, "Youth and the Same Old Problems."

Mr. Clelland based his address on the story of Jesus aiding the fisherman in their old problems. Using this story as an allegory, he pointed out to his listeners that their aim in life was to solve the problems that their forefathers have failed to solve. The greatest problems arise, he said, not from weaknesses, but from strength.

Student leaders for the meeting was Miss Virginia Bailey. The Kent Place School choir led the musical part of the program.

In the forum conducted after the lecture, Mr. Clelland said Summit youth could help solve the world problem by first solving the local controversies—clearing up the race equality and housing situation. This, he said, would do more to bring about the right peace than to worry about how our diplomats will draw up a treaty.

The Institute Program The program for the day is based on Civilian Defense activities. Signaling, bed-volling, fire building, nutrition, knot-tying, flashlight repairs and games are some of the subjects that are to be considered.

A representative from the Summit Defense Council will be the principal speaker of the day; reviewing precautions to be taken in case of an air raid, what to do when the air raid signal sounds, etc.

One phase of training in the Senior Service Scout program involves reading to the very young, telling "one-minute stories," or acting as leaders in games that might divert their attention during an emergency of any kind. During the Institute period the girls will review appropriate games and stories that they have been studying in reference to this phase of Scouting.

When the local air raid siren sounds at the noon hour, as is the Saturday custom under ruling of the State Defense Council, the girls will go through a routine evacuation drill, removing the smaller children to points of safety in the building, telling their one-minute stories, etc.

pital; working for the Red Cross; assisting at Girl Scout headquarters; acting as day messengers for the Summit Defense Council; and assisting with the Nursery School.

Training for meeting the requirements of the first project—Nutrition, was begun about five weeks ago with weekly classes each Tuesday afternoon from 3:15 p. m. to 5:15 p. m. in the Public Service Showrooms. Sixty-seven Scouts are taking the course.

The class is taught by Mrs. Thomas Mayer, of Upper Overlook road, a graduate home economist and qualified nutritionist. In addition to the straight, nutrition course, Mrs. Mayer plans to conduct three or four laboratory periods during which the girls will have actual cooking instruction. There will also be tours through bakeries, meat refrigerator rooms, dairies, etc., for the enrollees in the class.

When the girls have completed this course they will be presented with the Girl Scout Nutrition Badge. During their class periods they are planning twenty-five tested "wartime" menus which will be used as a basis for study and demonstration by the next American Red Cross Canteen Corps course being sponsored by the local Red Cross Chapter under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. F. Tomiska.

Leadership Course A training class, taught by Mrs. Malcom Edgar and Miss Mildred K. Downs, that started January 20th, is held every Tuesday evening from 6 to 8 p. m. at Hobby Hall. This course is in preparation for two different subjects on the S. S. S. score sheet—assisting in junior capacity with woman's auxiliary work at Overlook Hospital; and acting as Day Messengers for the Summit Defense Council.

On Completion of Course When the Scouts have completed the course they will serve in the hours after school and before dinner, as well as on Saturdays, at Defense headquarters. Their orders will be issued directly by the Defense Council.

Hospital aides will work on a shift of two for two hours, five days a week. They will relieve the adult volunteer workers in performing such duties as sorting linen, collecting and sorting magazines in the reading room; reading to the young; the very old and operative patients; and attending to minor needs of the patients.

Under the S. S. S. projects other Girl Scout Troops will do such work as assisting at the Nursery School, at Girl Scout headquarters, and working for the Red Cross.

The Washington Nursery School, conducted by the W.P.A. at Washington School in Summit, has been the recipient of some splendid Scout work. One of the troops sends three girls each noon to assist with bathing the children, tidying up their beds, etc., before luncheon time. The Girl Scouts then help tie on bibs, serve food and act as hostesses at the tables while the nursery tots lunch. Before returning to their afternoon classes the girls assist with clearing the tables and taking the children back to the nap room.

Another troop is collecting small plates, pint pitchers and juice-glasses to equip the nursery school with the necessary dishes it lacks to properly set the tables for the children.

Still another troop is purchasing twenty-four portion plates for the nursery, so that all the children enrolled might have the same service and have their food attractively served.

Scrapbooks for the children was still another project arranged by the Scouts for the school. Still another Troop Committee made sheets for the small beds on which the children nap each day.

Each girl who agrees to assist at the school, as a part of her Scout work, contributes one noon hour each week (the school serves lunch to these Scouts). Each girl also agrees to give up one afternoon a month to help in sewing, mending, doing recreational leadership, working in the library at the school, etc.

Knitting and sewing are the chief services done through the Red Cross chapter. Girls electing to do this type of work are expected to complete a required number of pieces within a month.

The Singer Sewing Machine Company has offered to give a course to girls who want to learn to make real garments for service agencies.

Assisting at Headquarters Girls who desire to do a service as assistants at Scout Headquarters will be trained as office aides in answering the telephone, recording messages, methods of simple filing and clerical work. Typists will be recruited from the members who have studied typing.

Each girl choosing this service will be expected to contribute at least two hours time each week after school or on Saturday morning.

Another Class Planned Miss Helen W. Kimball of the Neighborhood House, told The Herald this week that the Junior Girls' Club at Neighborhood House, planned to start training within the near future as Service Scouts. Miss Kimball and Mrs. John Sayre will act as advisors for this project.

Triple-S Emblem, Uniform On making the pledge of service a girl officially becomes a Senior Service Scout and may wear the Triple-S emblem, a circle of blue embroidered in red, white and yellow. This is to be worn on the pocket of the senior Dress or Mariner Uniform, just below the regular insignia. She may also wear the special service hat of dark-green gabardine, which has the emblem on the left side, front.

Scouting in Defense In times of emergency and great crisis the consistent, practical program of Scouting unflinchingly receives its highest reward—the expressed confidence of the public at large: "We can depend upon the Scouts."

Even a brief survey of Scouting in Summit emphasizes the fact that with the troop programs that are already under way, its plans as related to community needs and possible emergencies, and its long-range view of future problems, not many weeks hence will find more than four hundred Girl Scouts and their leaders in Summit better trained than ever to answer the call to Civilian Defense—a working unit of girls and adults, accustomed to delegating and accepting authority, sharing work, with each doing the part for which she is best fitted and trained.

Summit Man Given State Prison Term

James Palmer, 26 years old, of 21 Aubrey street, sentenced to Woodbridge Reformatory a month ago, reappeared before Judge Edward A. McGrath last Thursday and was banished to State Prison for one or two years.

Assistant Prosecutor Louis P. Longobardi explained that Mr. Palmer accused of lewdness, had previously been at the reformatory and, reaching there a second time, was rejected. Regulations there provide that a reformatory graduate, in trouble a second time, has to go to State Prison rather than return to the more lenient confinement.

To Conserve National Resources Needed for Victory

we shall

DELIVER MILK

Every Other Day

We ask the cooperation of our patrons in Summit in helping us save rubber, trucks and automotive parts for victory use. By delivering two days' supply at a time, we can free half the amount of these necessities for Uncle Sam's battle. Less oil and gasoline used means fewer tanker deliveries to this section, too. And it is desirable that we reduce these tanker trips. Curtailed deliveries will not only save materials, but may save a ship with many lives.

Because of modern, scientific milk-marketing methods, both on the farms and in the dealers' plants, it is possible to keep milk in perfect condition for as long as a week with proper refrigeration.

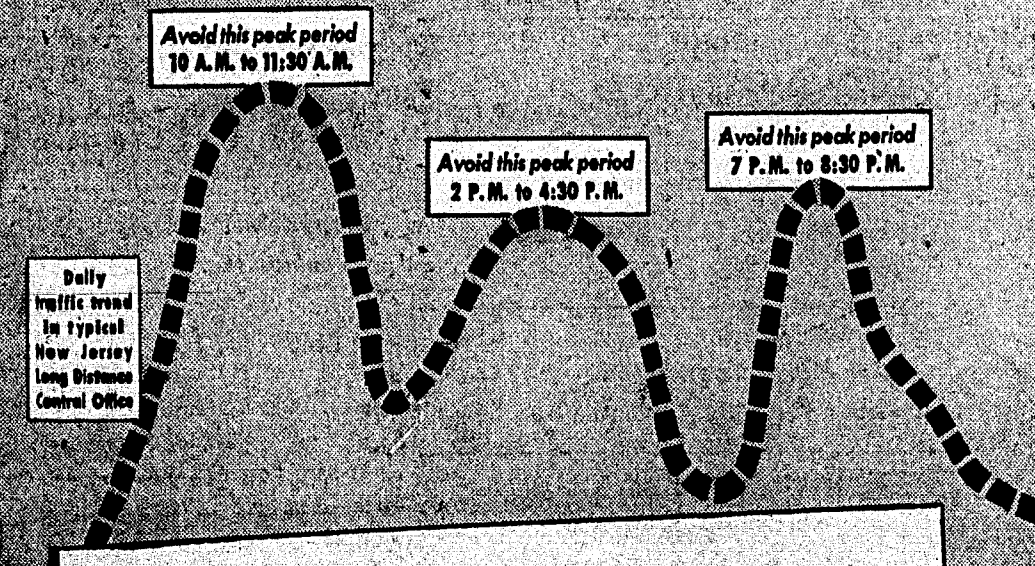

As distributors of a food which is vital to the health of the nation, we feel that we have very definite obligations to fill in seeing that milk continues to be made available to everyone.

Please help us to help America by cooperating in this conservation program. Your routeman will acquaint you with the days deliveries will be made to your house.

CHECK YOUR "LONG DISTANCE" CALLING WITH THIS CURVE

UNDER PRESSURE of war action, New Jersey's use of long distance telephone service has become the greatest ever known. The calling reaches three high peaks each day with deep valleys in between them. In the peak periods all lines are heavily laden, and the traffic is naturally heaviest on the circuits to military and war production centers.

For best service under these conditions and to make the most effective all-round use of the wire network, we suggest that you make only your "must" calls in the peak periods and your other calls in the valley periods when more lines are available.

Call, when you can, before 10 a. m.; between 11:30 and 2 at mid-day; 4:30 and 7 p. m.; and after 8:30 at night.

Comets, Hilltoppers Triumph In City Basketball Loop

Both the Comets and Hilltoppers, current pace-setters in the Community Basketball League, emerged victorious in games played last Wednesday night at the Summit High gymnasium. The Comets triumphed over the Shamrocks, 38 to 20, while the Hilltoppers were forced to stage a last period rally to nip the Vikings, 22 to 20.

Tom Finneran tallied eleven points in leading the Comets to a triumph over the Shamrocks. Bill Geddis contributed ten markers to the losing club's total.

Only a ten-point rally saved the Hilltoppers from defeat. The Vikings were ahead at the close of the third period, 18 to 12, but were outscored 10-2 in the final quarter. Meter Moroney's eight tallies paced the Hilltoppers.

Close to 350 persons packed the Beechwood for the Overlook dinner last year. Only 300 tickets will be sold for this year's dinner; however, eliminating the crowded conditions which existed last year. Tickets can be purchased from Fred Mori, G. Harry Cullis, Walter Crann and Richard Corby.

Class "B" Softball League Finds Eight Teams Still Active

Managers of Class "B" Softball League teams met at the Field House on Monday night to plan for the coming season. All eight of the clubs entered last year announced that they would continue to play this season.

Officers elected at the meeting included Thomas Crowe, president; Andrew Cattano, vice-president; Max Shapiro, treasurer; and Harlan Kennedy, secretary.

As a result of the war and defense efforts it was decided to drop the age limit from thirty years to twenty-eight and also to permit each club to use two players in the 25-28 year age range.

League managers voted unanimously to request Alfred V. Schick to be the umpire again this season. Entered in the league are the following teams: Calvary's Drug Store (formerly Cardinals); Stephens-Miller Co., Water Co. Knights of Columbus, Bell Laboratory, Flynn's Roof's Men's Shop, and American Legion.

Bowling Season Nears End in Local Leagues; Chamber of Commerce Maintains Big Lead in City League; Women's Loops in Stretch Too

MORE PARTICIPANTS LISTED THIS YEAR

Summit's bowling population geared itself this week for the final month of competition in most of the leagues conducted in this vicinity. While many of the titles are practically clinched in the various leagues, eliminating the possibility of down-to-the-wire finishes, battles still loom for some of the individual honors, scoring prizes and other awards.

Followers of the City Bowling League, which is considered the leading loop in Summit, seem to be convinced that only a minor miracle will dislodge the Chamber of Commerce from first place. With competition lasting only until April 7, which amounts to five bowling nights, the Chamber have amassed a nine-game advantage over the second place team.

Other City League teams are stretched out at intervals in the standings. Closest race is a neck and neck fight for second spot between Fred's Men's Shop and the Mamas. Martens Confectionery also has a chance to creep into the runner-up position.

At least five performers are battling for individual honors in the City loop. Frank Allen is the current leader with a 196.16 mark for 66 games. Close on his heels are Pete Kivlen (190.20), Solgie Philippi (188.37), John Young (186.22) and Tom Conway (184.9). Bernie Gargiulo has the high game for the year with 266.

Other League Leaders

In the city's two other leagues for male bowlers—Industrial and Y. M. C. A.—the leading teams hold impressive advantages. The New Providence Men's Club has a six-game lead in the Industrial circuit, with competition continuing to April 21, while Kivlen's club holds a five-game margin in the Y. M. C. A. League. Final matches in the "Y" loop are scheduled for April 15.

Joe Davis maintains the individual lead in the Y. M. C. A. League with a 192.1 average. Davis has rolled only three games; however, placing Alfred Swick (186.1 for 12 games) and Pete Kivlen (184.15 for 60 games) in the nominal leading positions. Fred Kitchell paces the Industrial League with a 178.1 mark.

Boasting an eleven-game advantage at the moment, a wide lead with play ending this month, the Aces hold sway in the City Girls' Bowling League. The Five Bees pace the Women's Bowling League, although the margin is only two games better than the second place Champions. The Women's League closes shop on April 2.

It is estimated that close to 250 took part in bowling matches in Summit this year. The final weeks of the campaign will, in many instances, determine handicaps for next season. Even the cellar-dwellers will be fighting to boost averages in the final weeks of competition.

BEARS PLAY PRINCETON

Added to the schedule of exhibition games to be played by the Newark Bears is a contest with Princeton University's baseball team on April 13.

Your Car In War Time

For "All-Out" Car Efficiency Check This List:

In these times your car is no longer a personal possession.

It is, in a very real sense, an implement of national defense.

As such, it is your job and ours to preserve it and to get from it the maximum efficiency.

The immediate problem of the car owner is to keep his car in the peak of running condition. New parts are no longer so easily available as they have been in the past—consequently, it is wise to make minor repairs before they become major ones.

You'll be serving your country by keeping your car at its best so it won't waste the gas so vitally needed by army, navy, fliers and marines.

You'll be serving your country by making your car last longer so there'll be more metals for our tanks, guns, bombs and planes.

Keep your car physically fit—and know you're doing your bit.

Presbyterian Church Marks Seventy-Fifth Anniversary Here

done for a church building, the cornerstone of which was laid November 30, 1871, near the present site. Rev. James Hall McIlvaine, the second minister, was installed October 16, 1879. The membership grew during this ministry to 174. On October 2, 1883, the Rev. Theodore F. White, D.D., was installed. He served for twenty years, during which time the membership doubled and the annual income increased considerably.

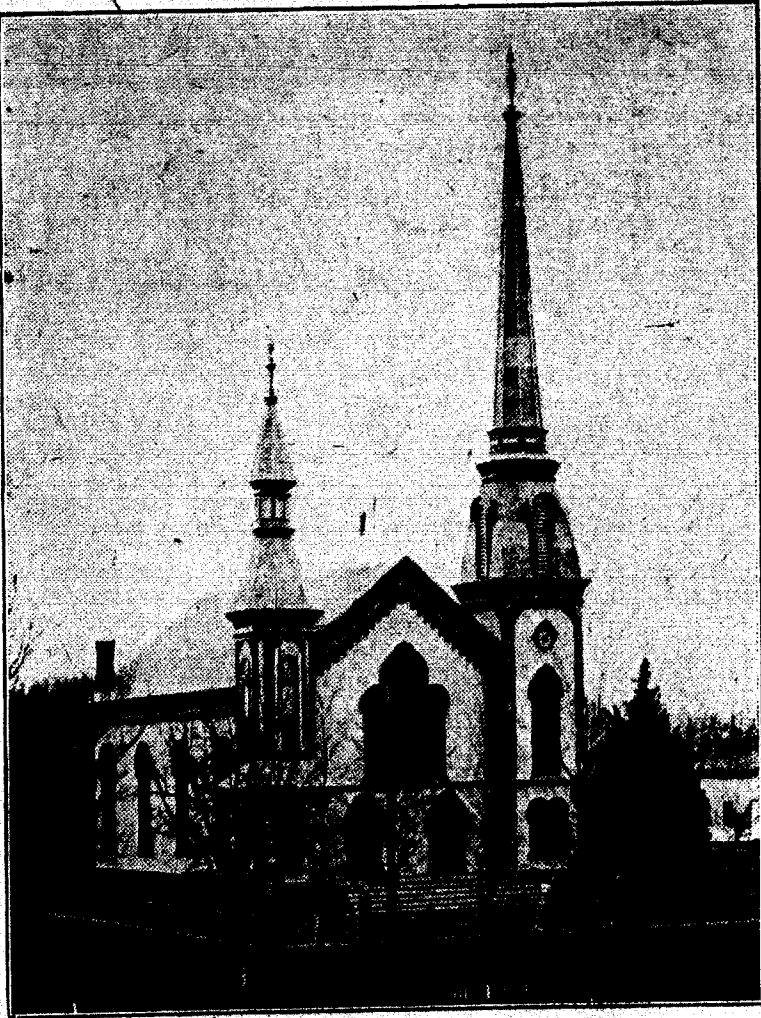

Neighborhood House

Another achievement of these years was the beginning of the Neighborhood House in 1900 as a department of the work of the church. The Rev. Minot C. Morgan assumed the leadership of the church November 4, 1903, serving for thirteen years. Meanwhile, the membership greatly increased, the Sunday School also grew in proportion — and the Neighborhood House became a growing factor in the life of the people of the church and the community to which it ministered. During this period the Church raised large amounts for benevolent purposes, giving more for the spreading of the Gospel than it expended for local needs. The expansion of the work brought about the erection of the present edifice for which the cornerstone was laid, May 29, 1907. The old building was remodeled for the use of the Sunday School.

50th Anniversary Marked

On October 24, 1917, the Rev. Dr. Rockwell S. Brank was installed as pastor and served until October 15, 1940. During his ministry the 50th anniversary of the church was celebrated. At that time the membership was 780 and the gifts of the church to benevolences had mounted to over $25,000 a year. With the expansion of the work during this ministry, the present Parish House was dedicated in 1924. The membership was practically doubled and funds raised for contributions to the Boards of the Church, placed the church in the front ranks for "giving" in the denomination.

The Rev. Leonard V. Buschman, the present pastor, was unanimously called from Central Presbyterian Church, Buffalo, N. Y., beginning his ministry September 1, 1941. There have been fifty new accessions to the church since his arrival, the local membership that of about 1,200 has been divided into thirty-three districts, each district officered by either an Elder, Deacon or Trustee. These have just completed the second visitation campaign of the entire membership, the previous one having occurred the first of October. The results have been highly gratifying. The young people's groups are thriving with an added organization, that of The Young Married People's Club. This seems to meet a real need, particularly from the standpoint of the "home problems" confronting them, and which are helpfully discussed at their monthly

Harvey Mole Talks To Old Guard On 'Mexico and Yucatan'

"Mexico and Yucatan" were graphically shown to their comrades of the Old Guard Tuesday morning by School Commissioner Harvey Mole and by Frank Waterman, who operated the stereoptical machine. Mr. Mole said the oldest inscription he found in Yucatan was dated B.C. 36, though there is a pyramid in Mexico, set in a lava bed, dating back to 6000 B. C.

At the Old Guard's opening meeting, an appreciation of one of its newest members, the late William S. Gaylord, was read by Frank Waterman. It appears elsewhere in The Summit Herald. At the next meeting on Tuesday, March 17, at 10:30 a. m. in the "Y" Auditorium, Dr. Frederick H. Law, noted metropolitan educator, will give an illustrated talk on "A Trip from the Cape to Cairo."

The registration blanks for college entrance examinations were completed on Thursday, March 5. This has been done earlier than usual because of the accelerated courses at many of the colleges. This year most colleges are requiring the Scholastic Aptitude Test, the Scholastic Achievement Tests, or both in place of the Standard College Board Examinations.

Wheaton College has written Albert J. Bartholomew that Adele Distelhurst, class of 1941, has now the high distinction of being one of a group of twelve freshmen who are members of the Wheaton College Honor Roll. The annual Junior Prom, sponsored by the Junior Class, is to be given on Friday, March 13. Allan Dampman, president of the Junior Class, is the general chairman of the prom. The chairmen of the different committees are as follows: Program, Bill Leace; publicity, Jack Taylor; refreshments, Florence Harbosh; floor show, Jim Baker; financial, Carlo Cartano; music, Douglas Smith; and decorations, Mary Ann Camilli. The music will be provided by Budd Laird and his orchestra. An entertaining floor show is planned for the intermission. The theme of the prom this year is Shangri-La.

Summit High entertainment reached its high point on Friday, March 6. Professional dancers, Sybil Shearer, assisted by Allison Choate, demonstrated the steps in modern dancing. Miss Shearer has had important roles with Humphrey-Weidman, Agnes De Mille, and the Theatre Dance Group. She has a staff position with New York's Academy of Allied Arts.

Events of Interest In New Providence Borough And Township

$10,000 Investment In Defense Bonds Made By N. P. Township Committee

NEW PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP—The township today owns $10,000 worth of defense bonds and a suggestion in Mayor Anton C. Swenson's annual message has materialized into fact. Each year for the next ten, $250 in interest will be received since the securities are of Series G, rather than the more common "B" type on which interest accrues until maturity.

Ending 1941 with a surplus well in excess of that amount, Swenson on January 1st urged purchase of defense bonds which would bear better interest than if the money were deposited and which also could be redeemed if emergent use for the money appeared. It was more than two months later before the bonds were delivered.

Treasurer Fred Riceman formally turned them over to Clerk William C. Russo last week, together with a letter listing their numbers and denominations. A similar letter by Russo together with a copy of the Township Committee minutes of the proceedings must now go to the State Commission of Local Government to complete the complicated procedure.

Pine Tree Inn License Suspended

NEW PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP—Charged with the sale of alcoholic beverages and permitting the licensed premises to be open during prohibited hours, Joseph Kleinberg and Meyer Kleinberg, trading as the Pine Tree Inn, Springfield and Snyder avenues, confessed their guilt last week in disciplinary proceedings conducted by the Township Committee. The license was suspended for ten days.

In a letter to Judge John L. Hughes, Township attorney, about the proceedings, Commissioner Alfred D. Driscoll, of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, expressing his appreciation to the members of the Township Committee for their action, wrote in part as follows:

"I understand that although curfew in New Providence is 3 a. m., our investigators were served drinks as late as 3:10 a. m. on one occasion and 3:40 a. m. on another, and that on the first occasion, the premises were kept open until 3:35 a. m. and on the second until 3:40 a. m., when the were closed only because the investigators identified themselves. I further understand that although the licenses admitted that the premises were kept open after hours on the first occasion and that after hours' sales were made on the second occasion, they denied that any sales were made on the first occasion."

Township Committee Seeks Adjustment On Road Repairs

NEW PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP—At a special meeting of the Township Committee, held Tuesday evening, members passed a resolution expressing "entire dissatisfaction" with the County Road Department repair work for 1941.

In the resolution, the Committee seeks an adjustment on the $2,500 paid into the Road Repair fund, from the Board of Freeholders, action on this to take place before Tuesday, March 17. If adjustment, the Committee declares, is not made by that date, they will request Governor Edison to investigate the Road Department.

Committee member Carl Radzio criticized what he termed "the small Board of Freeholders," stating that the Township had had no help since the Small Board was organized. Prior to ten years ago the Board of Freeholders was comprised of about twenty members, representing the various sections of the county.

The second resolution passed by the body was to urge "continued exemption of municipal bonds from taxation."

Out to save at least a million and a half motor miles this year...

"WITHOUT IMPAIRING EFFICIENCY OR SERVICE TO CUSTOMERS"

THIS IS THE GOAL of the men who handle the 1,200 trucks and cars in New Jersey's telephone motor fleet, which last year covered 10,000,000 miles in the work of maintenance, repairs and installation.

Conserving materials and equipment today is a major task for industry and individuals. Making what we have last longer and serve better is part of the job of winning the war. The drive to save at least 1,500,000 miles of wear on telephone trucks, cars and tires, without impairing efficiency or service to customers, is part of the conservation effort being made throughout the statewide telephone system. It is being done by better maintenance, more careful routing of each day's run, doubling up of loads, using more strategic garage locations, traveling by train and bus whenever possible on the job.

Telephone service is of vital aid to our war effort and every part of the system must be made to serve to the limit in the emergency.

Boro Defense Council Medical Corps Completes Organization

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—Dr. Clifton Strauss, co-chairman of the Medical Corps, Borough Defense Council, reported that organization of that unit of the Defense Council had been completed, at a meeting held last Wednesday evening in the Borough Hall.

Thomas Masson, chairman, presided over the session which had a one hundred per cent attendance of the Council.

Dr. Strauss told the gathering that his Corps had materials sufficient to take care of forty to fifty people in the casualty station.

The Borough, his report continued, has been divided into thirteen units with a first aid station in each one.

The leader at each station is a person who has completed the Red Cross first aid course. Each leader has five helpers, each one having completed or is studying Red Cross first aid.

Dr. Strauss has selected four delivery trucks in the Borough to serve as ambulances. When the emergency siren is sounded these trucks report immediately to Lincoln School—there each truck is manned with a physician, a nurse and an orderly.

Fifteen registered nurses in the Borough met Tuesday at Lincoln School to form the nucleus for an organization of that profession in the community.

Township Threatens To Give County Road Back

NEW PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP—County Road Supervisor Rolf C. Collins has written the Township Committee, threatening to have Diamond Hill road turned back to the Township.

Controversy over the street develops from desire of the local authorities to have the county widen the thoroughfare. Because the job would cost $38,000, the county wanted the township to take it back, then apply for State aid. This was termed a subterfuge which the Committee would not countenance.

Re-Organization Of System Discussed

NEW PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP—The township, like many communities, larger, smaller and the same size, has a one-man police department. This fact prompted the Defense Council last week to confer with the Township Committee regarding advisability of adding two more policemen and a radio car, lest invading planes reach the township before an air raid alarm could be sounded.

Attack might come while Police Chief Dominic V. Russo was patrolling or otherwise engaged away from headquarters, they theorized.

Reminded that two more policemen and a radio car would add fifteen points to the township's tax rate, Mayor Anton C. Swenson revealed that arrangements were under way for sounding air raid alarms via a pneumatic whistle to be installed atop Bell Laboratories. This would serve both Township and adjoining borough and would be hooked up with the interceptor command so that alarm could be immediate. All agreed this obviated the need for more cops.

Bus Line Operator to Make Survey of Passenger Needs

NEW PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP—Michael DeCorso, operator of the Township's only bus line linking this community with Summit, has been directed to survey potential passenger needs and to file a definite operating schedule.

The schedule was demanded by the Township Committee last week when DeCorso sought permission to renew his franchise.

Tire shortage and the need for rationing operation of private cars to conserve rubber will increase the need for buses on a more regular schedule, Mayor Anton C. Swenson pointed out. Commuters going to the Summit or Murray Hill stations and workers coming here to the Bell Laboratories, also soon will tax the present bus service, DeCorso was told.

Residents of the several realty developments in the Township were asked to forward to either DeCorso or Township officials the times they would like to have the bus operate. For instance, Swenson said, there now is no afternoon bus which would permit housewives shopping time in the Hill City.

From this survey, a schedule will be adopted for greatest benefit of the greatest number and buses will be required to adhere strictly. The line operates in a loop formed by Springfield, Plainfield and Mountain avenues in the township, Union and Springfield avenues in the borough.

How Ordinances Originate In Summit

—BY THE COMMON COUNCIL

The automobile created a need for regulation—state laws and local ordinances—and for local enforcement. The job of enforcement fell on the shoulders of local police departments. It was added to their normal police duties.

How local ordinances originate and what responsibilities the police have should be understood by the people of every town.

Parking and traffic ordinances in Summit are based upon studies made by local governmental officers. Effective this year a Parking and Traffic Committee has been given the function of handling all problems of parking and traffic regulation.

Parking and traffic ordinances must be approved by the Motor Vehicle Department of the State to avoid any possibility of conflict with state laws and to insure reasonable ordinances.

Parking and traffic ordinances are designed for public safety and public convenience. Where they represent an inconvenience to anyone, there is always a good reason and they should be taken with good grace. Placing and maintaining traffic light systems and instruction signs (like Stop street signs) is a considerable local expense which is an added reason for obeying the signals and instructions.

Once an ordinance is passed police have no alternative except to enforce them and to summons violators into Court. No one should resent enforcement. Policemen are merely doing the job they are paid to do.

Before any ordinance goes into effect it is published in your local newspaper—and the date and hour of a hearing at which you can protest if you want to is always given. Meanwhile here are some rules to remember:

Don't EVER: fail to stop at a red light, flashing or fixed—fail to stop at stop streets—drive over 20 miles an hour in congested areas—drive over 10 miles an hour in a school zone—park in a prohibited area—fail to observe parking restrictions. ALWAYS: be courteous and careful—give pedestrians the right of way—consider the rights of others—obey traffic officer's signals or orders—give proper signals when turning, etc.—keep you car in good safe driving condition—be alert, thus avoiding accidents.

The Common Council and especially the Public Safety and Parking Committee of the Council are always receptive to any recommendations or suggestions.

No Inductions For Registrants in March Says Service Board

Selective Service Board No. 1, serving Summit and the Borough and Township of New Providence, were notified last week by State headquarters that there will be no inductions this month for registrants who have passed the Army doctors' pre-induction examinations in Newark.

There was no explanation accompanying the notice, but it was assumed that the decision to postpone the inductions until April is tied up with the pending changes in the induction procedure. The new arrangement provides that men will be inducted immediately upon their acceptance by the Army doctors and that furloughs will be granted those requiring time to wind up civilian affairs.

The notice to the local board affects scores of registrants who passed the physical tests two weeks ago. A-1 registrants have been watching the mails ever since for induction notices.

State Institutions Speaker's Theme

"Present Conditions in State Institutions," was the subject discussed by Samuel S. Perister, former Republican Assemblyman from Essex County, at the Summit League of Women Voters' meeting held Monday afternoon at the Canfield, Department of Institutions Agencies movies were shown.

Mr. Perister who has personally investigated the plants in New Jersey housing the mentally incapacitated stated, "Our state institutions are well run but very much understaffed and overcrowded, resulting in the fact that there are almost 1,400 children in the state committed to institutions by the courts but refused admission."

Downes Helps Plan Teachers' Meeting

James E. Downes, chairman of the social science department at Summit High School, is a member of the committee on arrangements that has planned for a meeting Saturday at Montclair State Teachers College of the Northern District of the N. J. Association of Teachers of Social Studies.

It is expected that all the teachers of the Social Science Department of the Summit secondary schools will attend the meeting which has as its theme, "The Countries of Latin-America and Our Relations to Them."

KNOW YOUR TOWN

The following is the continuation of a study of Summit government prepared by the League of Women Voters. This is the first installment about the Summit Board of Recreation.

The Summit Board of Recreation, comprised of five members, is appointed by the Mayor for five-year interlocking terms, and serves without compensation. An annual report of its programs and activities is presented and printed in leaflet form for the benefit of and distribution to the public.

Members, February, 1942 Term expires
Mr. Ernest P. Fatten, President July 1, 1946
Mr. W. Richmond Tracy, Vice-Pres. July 1, 1943
Mrs. Leroy T. Pease, Treasurer July 1, 1944
Mrs. William F. Doyle July 1, 1945
Mr. Ora P. Oakes July 1, 1942

The Board functions under the authority of "An Act concerning playgrounds and recreation places in this State, and providing for the establishment, equipment, maintenance, control, and use and regulation thereof" (Revision of 1911, as enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey). Its set-up is considered by authorities to be the best type of municipal agency furnishing recreational services. The advantages are apparent in that its authority is clearly set forth by law and it is responsible for its action and results.

EMPLOYEES

All appointments necessary to the execution of the program of maintenance of properties under its jurisdiction are made by the Board upon a basis of merit and value to the service.

Director—(Summit is one of 370 cities in the United States boasting a full time, year round, professionally trained director)

Director of Women's and Girls' Activities
Secretary
4 Maintenance Workmen
11 Playground Directors (summer only)
5 Playground Directors (spring and fall, part-time)
9 Teachers to supervise Edison Recreation Center Program

On the playgrounds operated by the Board during the past summer there were among the directors four college graduates and teachers and three college students. Their selection is made in so far as possible with a view to their return during succeeding summers.

PLAYGROUNDS

All property maintained and operated by the Board of Recreation is municipally owned. Theoretical planning shows one acre of ground devoted to park, recreation or school use for every 100 inhabitants. Summit's ratio is one acre for every 350 of its citizens. However Summit compares favorably to other communities of its type. If, at some future date, desirable properties for this purpose are acquired, their purchase will be considered in a program of long term planning. It is a farsighted community which sets aside suitable acreage for its playgrounds before it becomes a congested area, or the price of realty soars. A case in point is that section immediately surrounding Lincoln School. No provision has ever been made for a playground in this vicinity.

There are approximately 3,000 children in Summit. Of this number there was an average daily attendance of over 1,200 at the summer playgrounds. Total registration for the summer was 1,215.

Authority over each playground is vested in a man and a woman supervisor during the summer months.

PLAYGROUNDS DIRECTLY UNDER JURISDICTION OF BOARD

Mable Playground on Summit Avenue near Broad Street, about one third of a city block in area, is the oldest of the city playgrounds. Facilities: sand boxes, swings, slides, see-saws and a wading pool for summer use.

Edison Park Recreation Area is located at Edison School near Morris Avenue in East Summit. Facilities: baseball field and tennis courts (4 hard surface courts).

Memorial Field located on Ashland Road in South Summit, was presented to Summit as a World War Memorial. Facilities: two fields for baseball, football, soccer, track, etc.; 6 clay tennis courts and 2 hard surface courts; sand boxes, swings, slides, see-saws.

The Memorial Field House is also located at this field. It contains besides the executive offices of the Board, locker and shower rooms, kitchen and a large recreation room with a ping pong table.

PLAYGROUNDS SUPERVISED BY THE BOARD

During the summer months the Board of Recreation controls and staffs playgrounds at three schools: Roosevelt and Jefferson in East Summit and Washington in North Summit. Board of Recreation in-structors also supervise a spring schedule of two days a week at each of these playgrounds as well as at school playgrounds adjacent to Lincoln and Brantley Schools and at Mable Playground. A similar fall schedule is maintained at Washington and Jefferson. This schedule might be prolonged if the playground surfacing were improved.

When Recreation as a civic program first took its place in the community its scope was largely limited to the physical activities of the playground. Now, however, the public has become educated to the benefits to be accrued in civic health and happiness from a well rounded program of diversified interests. Each year this list of sponsored activities and events becomes longer and more varied. Limited space allows mention of only a few.

USE OF FACILITIES

A policy of reciprocal use of facilities under their jurisdiction is maintained in Summit by the Boards of Recreation and Education. School activities are carried on on such properties controlled by the Board of Recreation as Memorial Field. The recreation department likewise has access to the facilities controlled by the Board of Education. Many of the recreation activities as outlined above in their program are carried on in Edison School. The Board of Recreation maintains a varied program at Edison Recreation Center Tuesday and Thursday evenings from late October until mid-April. Qualified teachers supervise the educational program.

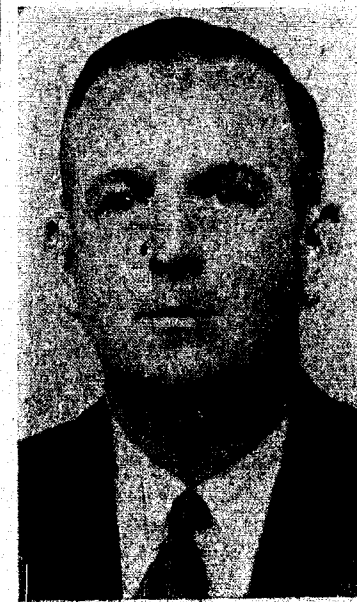

A similar policy of reciprocity in the use facilities is followed by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

The Board of Recreation also offers free use of the Field House to organizations or private individuals in Summit who wish to hold meetings or social events for which no admission is paid. There is a charge of one dollar if the kitchen is used.

RECREATION DEPARTMENT BUDGET

A proposed budget is submitted annually to the Common Council.

Assistant Manager Takes Over at Sears March 12th to 21st

VINCENT MOUNT

The annual March value demonstration at Sears-Roebuck, located at the corner of Springfield and Summit avenues, will be presented to the public in the form of an "Assistant Manager's Sale," according to Harry Osgood, manager of the local firm.

"King for Nine Days" will be Vincent Mount, who as assistant manager will be in charge of the store from today, March 12th through March 21st.

Salesmen in the store have been organized into two competing teams—the Army and the Navy.

Frank Ralph, hardware department head, is captain of the Army and Guy Pizzi, auto accessories department head, is captain of the latter team.

The Consumer Interests Committee of the Defense Council has been successful in obtaining a colored sound film called "The Modest Miracle." It reveals the work of Dr. R. R. Williams of the Bell Telephone Laboratories who lives in Summit. The committee has been given the privilege of a number of showings.

It will appear first at the Neighborhood House in North Summit before the American Women's Club and their guests at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening, March 19. It will be shown again on Friday at 11:15 a. m. at the high school for the benefit of the students and the teachers of both the high school and the central junior high. The third showing will be the same day in the auditorium of the Edison Junior High School at 2 p. m. for the students, teachers and members of the parent teacher associations of Edison, Jefferson and Roosevelt schools.

The film will be given last of the Lincoln School at 3:15 p. m. for all the members of parent teacher associations and all teachers who have been unable to see it at the other performances and for the public at large.

and the expenditure of the sum allocated is entirely at the discretion of the Board of Recreation. Its books are audited once a year by the City Auditor.

The Recreation Budget for 1941 amounted to $24,000, making the per capita ratio based on the 1940 census figure of 16,165, $1.48. The National Recreation Association advocates a per capita ratio of $2.00. However, statements by other trained observers indicate that an amount of $1.00 or over per capita is accepted as satisfactory.

The 1941 budget and the proposed 1942 budget are as follows:

	1941	1942
Personal Service	$16,480	$14,941
Other than Personal Service
Administration Expenses	1,834	1,772
Supplies for Playgrounds	925	825
Programs and Special Events
Maintenance Field House and Grounds at Memorial Field	2,305	2,124
Maintenance at Edison Field	400
Repairs	292	292
Equipment	1,764	550
Total Other than Personal Service	7,520	5,559
Total Budget	24,000	20,500

During the year 1941, the amount of $299.85 was collected in fees by the Recreation Department and turned over to the city treasurer. (To be continued)

Men In Service

MARIO J. FORMICHELLA, a private attached to Post Headquarters, Fort Benning, Georgia, has been promoted to the grade of technician fifth grade. Technician Formicella, who was inducted into the Army on April 4, 1941, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Formicella, 89 Park Avenue.

SAMUEL LA MAGNA, who was with the Army in Manila when the Japs attacked on December 7, was not listed among the casualties released by the War Department. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony La Magna, 8 William street, have heard nothing direct from their son.

CORPORAL JOSEPH P. LYDON, Company C, 88th Air-Borne Battalion, Fort Benning, Ga., writes The Summit Herald's training camps editor as follows:

Company C,
88th Air-Borne Batt.,
Fort Benning, Ga.
February 28, 1942.

Dear Sir:—It is delightful to follow through your columns the whole-hearted support given the Defense Program in Summit. Everywhere throughout the United States people are acclimating themselves to war conditions. But still a large percentage of the public refuse to face facts. The workers in defense factories are receiving at least 25% more in salaries than in peace-times yet they go on strike for higher wages. I realize that the cost of living has gone up accordingly, but that's no excuse.

Why not disband the CIO, and AFL for the duration of the war? Slackers like John L. Lewis should be made to work or fight and if essential, conscript labor and capital. Then there is the little matter of Defense Bonds. Perhaps the public should donate the money to the war effort, instead of worrying about the profits a few years hence. I am certain that most people will frown at my suggestions, but sacrifices must be made, if we are to hold our place as a major nation.

Last January, a few weeks after Pearl Harbor, we had over forty strikes in war production plants, consequently tying up over 15,000 workers. Perhaps that fifteen hundred men or 662,000 work hours wouldn't make any difference in our tanks, planes, or ships, but the idea is, if we lose, there will not be strikes or even workers. It's time for the American people to cast off that fake cloak of security and face facts.

Sincerely yours,
CPL. JOSEPH P. LYDON.

PRIVATE ALBERT MOLINARI, Aircraft Warning Regiment, Box 3590, Honolulu, Hawaii, writes that he has "seen and done most everything a fellow can do in the Army of Uncle Sam." Al has been stationed in Hawaii for almost a full year. "It's not so warm down here as one would think," Al states, "and we have been having rain every day for the past two weeks."

ORGANIZATION MEETING

Miss Catherine E. Spooner, of the Summit Trust Company, Chairman of the Women's Committee, New Jersey State Safe Deposit Association, called a luncheon meeting of the organization at Kresge's in Newark on Saturday.

letter was the following poem:

Ha, They Say I'm Crazy.
Because I choose, the part of a fool.
Because I never abide by a rule.
Because I'm noisy, some call it rude,
Ha, they say I'm crazy.

Because I care, to let thoughts go numb,
Because my mind, adheres to be dumb,
Because I would rather be a crumb,
Ha, they say I'm crazy.

And when I shout and run about,
And do the things I do,
They look at me with open mouth,
"A specimen from the Zoo."

Because I feel my heart is aglow
The way I look, what can't be so,
For being content in the way I know,
Ha, they say I'm crazy—

To help extend the life of cars, he said his company, the Leonette Motors, has increased its service facilities, and added a new "longevity service" as part of a nation-wide conservation program by Nash Motors.

The Right Cooking Methods Save GAS

There's an art to cooking vegetables. They can be delicious prepared in the right way—tasteless and lacking in nourishment, if the wrong cooking method is used. Today the emphasis is on almost waterless cooking, then the valuable vitamins and food minerals are retained instead of being boiled away or poured down the sink. . . . It's easy to cook vegetables properly on a gas range, because the burners will hold a low simmering heat. This saves gas which in turn saves oil—a vital necessity to the prosecution of the war.

PUBLIC SERVICE

Bicycle "Parking Lot" Service Opened For Convenience of Commuters

Complete Maintenance Service Offered—
Forty-five Seconds From Bike to Train

B. C. GOODWIN, JR.

Concern over tires and gasoline has already brought out a corporal's guard of commuters who skin up to the 8:10 on shiny new bicycles. As the weather improves, it is expected that they will be joined by a considerable number of others who have re-discovered their bicycle legs. And this return to the favorite vehicle of the gay nineties will bring with it a 1942 parking problem which will find Summit's first bicycle parking lot fully prepared to care for almost any number of bikes at the corner of Franklin place and Summit avenue.

In a series of careful tests, commuters of a variety of builds have been clocked from there in the station platform in an average of 45 seconds, including a stop for a newspaper (Summit Herald, 5c on Thursdays) enroute.

Back to the Gay Nineties
In keeping with the gay nineties atmosphere appropriate for the bicycle, an authentic replica of the old meeting-house carriage shed has been constructed by B. C. Goodwin, Jr., owner and operator of the Summit Shell Service Company. The first unit will house more than a dozen bikes, and additions will be made to take care of the growing demand. Nor does this project end with merely providing a weather-tight, safe place for bikes while their owners are at their desks. A complete maintenance service will be provided at modest monthly rates. This will include oiling, cleaning, checking tire pressure,

Superintendent of Schools To Speak at Conference

Summit's Superintendent of Schools, William A. Kincaid, will speak Saturday morning on a panel of the program of the 8th annual junior high school conference by New York University School of Education. The panel to which Superintendent Kincaid is assigned, will discuss the question "How Can Inter-school Education in Boy-Girl Relationship contribute to Civilian Morale?" Mr. Kincaid will speak on two aspects on this subject: "What Type of School Will Develop Better Boy-Girl Relationships?" and "How Can Such Experiences Be Introduced Into the School Curriculum?"

To assure the best word in spelling recent convenience, the filling station staff has been practicing re-arranging bikes on the wing. This feature will appeal to the "fast minute" school of commuters who count their time in seconds from breakfast coffee to their favorite away bike will be snared by a seat on the train. These well-trained groom and tethered safely souls will doubtless develop skill in their return.

Residents Asked To Help With Work Of Children's Society

The Children's Service Committee of the Family and Children's Society of Union County, through the committee's chairman, Mrs. William I. McMane of Summit, has mailed a letter to 1,200 residents of Summit, among others in the county, asking for financial support of its program. Enclosed with the request for a $1.00 contribution or more from each, is an envelope for mailing the response.

The letter reads in part as follows: "For nearly fifty years the Family and Children's Society has steadily shielded the rights of children in Union County, answering every town and village which calls upon it in behalf of a child unprotected through illness, desertion or cruelty of his parents. The number of calls is steadily increasing as the pressure of our time makes itself felt."

Accompanying this letter is a story of "Harriet," a typical case, that shows how the work of the committee is done.

Bicycle Days Are Now In Vogue

"Bike or hike" seems to be the slogan recently adopted by two of the male members of the Summit Teachers' Association and a number of the bill collectors working from the Summit office of the Jersey Central Power and Light Company.

Of the schoolmen, it is rumored that one, a badminton enthusiast, wishes to keep in shape for the city championships, while the other expects to detour to his home soon by way of Memorial Field, where the High School "cinder burners" will be holding daily practice sessions after school.

Manager Oakley M. La Vance, of the Jersey Central Company, says two of his collectors have lost weight enough to allow them to again use a couple of suits discarded two years ago because of excess avoirdupois.

Red Cross Shipment Of Sweaters Acknowledged

Mrs. Harold S. Lott, of 5 Robin Hood road, production chairman of Summit Chapter of the American Red Cross, has received acknowledgment, both from the office of the Field Director of the Red Cross in New York City at Madison Barracks and from the U. S. Naval Air Station at Floyd Bennett Field, for the shipment from the local chapter of 60 olive drab sweaters.

The welfare officer at the air station wrote to Mrs. Lott, in part: "Not only do they serve a practicable purpose—we're up against some mighty frosty nights here, and the boys who work outdoors are especially appreciative of any added amount of clothing that can be supplied; but, too, it is most reassuring to them to know that the people back home are thinking of them. This does much to bolster their morale; and, once again, on behalf of the men at the Station, I extend our sincere gratitude."

The who, what, why, and where of the price finding committee.

WHO—They are literally your own friends, the women in your church, in your club, in your Parent-Teacher Association, in your dancing class, in your bridge group, in your Red Cross activities, or at your neighborhood tea party, who are willing, in these critical days, when every homemaker should be testing every expenditure, to give their time and thought to obtain accurate and first-hand prices from the stores and markets where they trade for your information.

WHAT they do. They have a list of staples, essential in the home and important to watch, furnished by the State Consumers' Interests Committee on which they record prices: Sugar, canned tomato, fruit juices, lamb and so on and on.

WHY are they doing it? They do it that you may shop more intelligently and economically; to shake you out of that habit of buying carelessly; to make you ask yourself, "Am I paying from eight to fourteen more cents a pound for meat at this market from force of habit, or laziness or copying my neighbor and, at the same time, am I failing to give my family more nutritive meals than from food bought elsewhere?" To make you ask yourself again, "Am I buying the cheapest of everything, everywhere and robbing the family of needed nutritive value to give us willy luxuries, extra movies, unneeded candy, visits to the beauty shop."

The price finding committee gives its services, not to direct you toward any particular store, but to make you think through and determine what is best for your family, its needs and your pocketbook. They feel that now in wartime that your wasted penny is their wasted penny because in our struggle to remain a free people, we must conserve all our resources.

WHEN — They gather these prices late Monday or early Tuesday to appear in this paper, not to give you week-end specials but to give you information as to how prices vary over the city, and what is a fair price for necessities. Keep these price lists to become a careful buyer and wise planner.

What do you know, Mrs. Consumer about the New Jersey System of Controlling the Price of Milk?

This is what you should know. In 1933 the first New Jersey Milk Control Board was established by the State Legislature to control the price of milk sold in New Jersey. Control was adopted as an emergency measure because of chaotic marketing conditions which made it a serious question as to whether the public would continue to receive a proper amount of this very necessary food. The 1933 law had a provision stating that the price control was to terminate in two years, and, in spite of that, this same law was renewed four times.

In 1941, however, the Legislature discarded the temporary provisions which had lasted so long and set up a slightly different form of control. We now have a Milk Director empowered to set both the wholesale and retail price of milk, and an Appeal Board of three members.

According to the order of the Milk Director, the price of standard milk at the present time is 12 1/2 cents a quart delivered, 18c at stores. Milk cannot be sold for less than this price but a number of premium milks are offered at higher prices. The price of skimmed milk is not controlled.

It is possible that other types of price control may affect milk in the near future. The United States Department of Agriculture is empowered to fix the wholesale price of milk coming from various states into one big market such as New York City. This type of wholesale price fixing is in effect in New York City now, but free enterprise enters into distribution since the retail price is not fixed. Recent hearings on this federal milk marketing plan for New York City point to possible enlargement of the area
