SUMMIT CONTRIBUTES MORE SCRAP METAL, RAGS, PAPER AND RUBBER TO THE NATION'S WARTIME SALVAGE PROGRAM

An unestimated number of tons of scrap metal, an estimated 40 pounds of rags and rubber were collected in the Sunday salvage collection, according to Chairman R. C. Hazen, of the Defense Council's salvage committee. Most of the work in Sunday's collection was done by Boy Scouts from Troops 60, 64, 65, 66, 161, and 162, together with members of right shows the scrap metal and rubber after it was collected and stored in a city lot in Broad street. Seventeen trucks contributed by the city and Summit business houses were used for the collection. Chairman Hazen said they were short ten trucks on the number that were promised. He is convinced that the average citizen does not realize the seriousness of the paper shortage. The salvage committee plans another collection in about two months, and one every two months thereafter. According to Mr. Hazen, the following contributed the services of their trucks: City of Summit, 4; Stephens-Miller Co., Wesley Oaks, Grillo Bros., Ciba Pharmaceutical Co., Ackerman's Express, C. Gargallo, F. Osmulski, Bedrosian, Summit Hardware, J. Williams, and J. Pastore.

Chance and Downes To Argue Revision Of Constitution

Shall New Jersey vote affirmatively at the November 2 general election on the revision of the State Constitution? That will be the question argued Monday night beginning at 8:30 at a public meeting to be held in the auditorium of the American Legion home, Broad and Elm street, it was announced yesterday by Commander Alfred C. Felder, of the Legion, Summit Post No. 138. State Librarian James E. Downes, of Murray Hill, will argue for the affirmative and R. Robinson Chance, of 46 Edgewood road, Jersey City lawyer, will argue for the negative.

WAC To Form Jersey Company By Pearl Harbor Day

An All-State Recruiting Campaign of the Women's Army Corps, has been started at the request of the War Department. Each state has been asked to replace their war casualties with members for the WAC. To date the United States has suffered 70,000 casualties. The drive will continue through December 7. Summit girls who join the Corps will make up part of a New Jersey WAC Company and wear the State insignia. They will receive their basic training together as the New Jersey Company.

Kiwanis Club Plans Benefit Dinner-Party For Underprivileged

The annual dinner and stag party of Summit Kiwanis Club, "When good fellows get together," will be held Wednesday, November 10, beginning at 6:30 p. m. in the Elks Club Room, Maple street, it was announced Tuesday at the Kiwanis luncheon by William H. Kay, Jr., general chairman for the affair. The proceeds from the project are for the club's underprivileged child fund. Mr. Kay assured the Kiwanians that the occasion, which included entertainment and planned activities, would give the friends of the club and the public in general, an opportunity to help "on this worthy cause." Door prizes will be given.

Edge Will Spend Half-Day in County, Here Tonight

Walter E. Edge, Republican nominee for Governor, visiting Union County today for 12 hours of constant campaigning, will speak tonight at 9:45 in the Beechwood Hotel, at a rally sponsored by the Summit Republican Committee. The public is invited, including voters from New Providence Township and Borough. Mayor F. Edward Bliertumpfel, Union, is chairman of the tour and Edge's retinue for the day will include his personal campaign aides: George D. Rankin, Cranford, Union County chairman; Alex C. Campbell, Scotch Plains, campaign chairman; Senator Herbert J. Pascoe; officers of the county committee, and candidates on the county ticket.

Athenaeum Begins Thirty-Sixth Season; Program Announced

Announcement of the thirty-sixth season of the Athenaeum is made this week. The first speaker on Thursday, November 11, will be Leon Henderson, former Administrator of the O.P.A., whose subject will be, "A World of Change." It was a disappointment to the Program Committee when Mr. Henderson had to cancel his engagement to speak for the Athenaeum last year, so it is with pleasure that they announce his coming this year. Louis J. Alber, lecturer, will speak on "The Irresistible Winston Churchill" at the second meeting on Thursday, December 9. Countess Alexandra Tolstol has chosen for her subject on January 13, "Why Does the Russian Soldier Fight?"

In accordance with their policy adopted during World War I, the names of the other speakers will be announced later. The committee is in correspondence with other top-flight speakers; but they plan to leave at least one date open, in case some international celebrity should visit this country and become available for a lecture. Applications for new memberships should be made in writing and mailed to the treasurer, Mrs. Reed W. Hyde, 84 Mountain avenue, together with the annual dues of $5 for two season tickets, not later than November 2.

Register This Week For Ration Book 4, Have No. 3 With You

Because Ration Book 4 will be needed November 1 for purchases of sugar and processed foods, Superintendent of Schools William A. Kincaid, who is in charge of distribution of the new books here in association with all members of the schools' faculty, urged yesterday that every Summit family take advantage of this week, starting yesterday and ending tomorrow. Persons who have no Ration Book 3, either through loss or because they were out of the United States during the summer, must obtain a copy of Book 3 before registering for Book 4. Application may be made to the local war price and ration board. O.P.A. urged that it be done immediately as it will take several days to process Book 3. Roosevelt, Lincoln and Brayton Schools are being used as distribution centers. The hours are from 2 to 8 p. m. One person may obtain the books for an entire family, but he must present as many copies of Book 3 as he expects to get of Book 4.

No figures were available on the number of registrations here yesterday for Book 4 as the records were being closed as The Herald went to press.

H. S. Students Help With Apple Harvest At Coddington Farm

For the past two weeks a special bus has been standing at the High School entrance each morning at 8:30. Boarding this bus have been ten to fifteen High School boys dressed ready to work physically. These boys compose a group who have offered to give up some school time to aid in the harvesting of the apple crop on the Coddington Shady side farm in Millington. Each boy has offered as much time as he thought he could afford to miss from school without lowering his class marks. The classwork missed by each boy has to be made up at a later date. Some boys have worked for a day, others for a full week. Approximately 38 boys have contributed to this project to date and by the end of the four week period 70 boys will have contributed to the cause.

In order to work each boy must obtain an agricultural permit from the State Department. An award is to be offered each boy for services rendered to this cause.

Summit Dealer Buys Hartshorn Estate In Springfield

In a cash transaction completed yesterday, Elmer N. Rinhart, real estate operator, whose offices are located at 10 Bank street, bought fifty acres of Springfield land from the Hartshorn Estate. This deal includes the last piece of property owned by the estate in the Township of Springfield. The Hartshorn family have been

OUR TOWN

LET'S BEGIN WITH OURSELVES
There are quite a few matters we would like to discuss with you briefly this week. We begin, begging your pardon, with ourselves.

The Summit Herald is getting ready to move into new quarters on Bank Street. The quarters, if you have been around there to look, are not finished and may not look to you as if they ever would be finished, but it won't be long before we are in there. Meanwhile please excuse the very substantial confusion at our Springfield Avenue office. We want one of these days to tell you about this move and what it means to Summit but this doesn't happen to be the moment for that. There are too many other matters. We'll say in passing simply this—by taking over a plant in New London, Connecticut, and most of its equipment we are freeing a dozen or fifteen men for war work in that area. But more about that some other time.

A BOLD AND COURAGEOUS STEP

We call your attention to the special Central Market advertisement on page 3, headed "The Black Market in Fruits and Vegetables." Central Market is doing a bold and courageous (and, we think, a patriotic) thing by coming out openly to resist a black market situation. Black markets operate in a variety of ways. A retailer, for example, may be charged the regular price for a crate of something or other but then gets a bill (which he must pay, if he wants to play ball) for a crate of something else which is never delivered. Thus ceiling prices are evaded by the black market operators. There are, many tricks to the trade.

Here's a retailer who sort of puts it up to all of us. We judge there isn't much doubt what sort of a reception Central Market will get as a result of so honest a move.

THE COOP

For some time we have been trying to get around to saying a few words—kind words—about the Coop over on Beechwood Road. We went in one Saturday morning and looked around. There's a lot more room than there was when the Coop was above the Lyric (or there seems to be). In addition to the large main floor space, there's a big basement for games, dancing and such.

The Coop, in case you don't know, is for Junior and Senior High School boys and girls and is pretty much run by the boys and the girls. They have supervision but the planning and the carrying out is done by the undergraduates.

To support the Coop a full undergraduate membership is wanted so if you don't belong and are eligible drop by and look the place over and sign up. Parents are invited to take a look too.

NEARLY THREE THOUSAND

The United and War Fund is leaning very heavily this year on a group of people who last year and in years before either couldn't afford to give much or couldn't afford to give anything. To meet the $117,418 quota set for Summit it will be necessary to get the help of everybody—including the 1,800 who last year gave less than $5 and the 1,000 who couldn't afford to give anything last year. Fortunately the war has helped many such givers. Families which at one time had only a single breadwinner now frequently have several, and the individual incomes are often higher than they were a year or two ago. Actually some people who benefitted from earlier United Campaigns are now in a position to give.

It's going to take determination on the part of all of us to make the quota but there's no special reason why we can't hit the top and go over.

taxpayers in Springfield for the past sixty years. Their tract was first opened up five years ago when Benfield-Kemp, a Millburn firm, bought property which they developed as Spring Brook Park and Colfax Manor, residential sections. Fourteen acres of the property bought by Rinhart are located next to Spring Brook Park and will be used for a garden apartment similar to Manley Court in Summit after the war. The other 36 acres run from the Springfield business center in a northwesterly direction, overlapping the Millburn line and from Colfax Manor to Main street. Mr. Rinhart built Manley Court and Kent Court in Summit.

Mrs. Charles Bard Gives Station Wagon To Local Motor Corps

Mrs. Charles Bard has presented a new station wagon to the Red Cross Motor Corps in memory of her daughter, Mrs. Ruford Franklin. The presentation was made to Mrs. Harry Card, chairman of the Chapter at a tea on Friday afternoon, October 8, at the home of Mrs. C. A. Krieger, captain of the Motor Corps. Present at the tea were members of the Corps and the Executive Board of the Chapter. "This second station wagon has become a real necessity," says Mrs. Krieger, "because of the great increase in civilian work now carried on by the Red Cross. This includes transporting patients to Bonnie Barr for the Union County Tuberculosis Association, and patients who are not ambulance cases to Overlook Hospital. These responsibilities are gladly assumed by the Chapter, but were difficult to schedule with one station wagon."

Trips are also taken to Dover, Red Bank, Camp Kilmer and to outlying branches of the Chapter. The purchase of this new station wagon was made possible through the cooperation of the local Ration Board, though it was not in their province to give final authorization. The car was used for the first time at the Blood Bank in Summit last week.

Hallowe'en Hop For Young People At Masonic Hall

The Hallowe'en Hop, a party for everyone of high school age, will be held at the Masonic Hall at 8:30 p. m., on October 30. It will follow the dinner sponsored by the United Youth Council at 6 p. m., at the Methodist Parish House, when Chaplain S. J. Longway, U.S.N.R. of Boston, and Rabbi Robert Hazeltin, U. S. of Fort Monmouth, will give brief talks.

The hop will feature dancing to records by Harry James, Benny Goodman, Cab Calloway, and Bing Crosby, games and a floor show. Harlan Kennedy of the Board of Recreation and Miss Dorothy Phillips of the COOP will direct the evening's activities. James Schaefer will act as master of ceremonies for the Floor Committee which includes Ann Pellet, chairman; Ann Wilkes, Peggy Brown, Lydia Sims, George Kent, Haven North, and Raymond Smith. Tickets for the dinner and the Hop will be on sale at the local churches and schools, Monday, October 25, through Friday, October 29.

Musical Program At St. John's Church

Organ music at 10:30 a. m. worship service at St. John's Lutheran Church will include "Berceuse," Gullmunt; "Voluntary in F," Merkel; and "Chorus Magnus" by Wely. The choir will sing "Lead Me Lord" by Wesley. The Rev. W. S. Hinman, pastor, will preach a sermon entitled "Dragging."

SERVICEMEN'S ADDRESSES

To have your serviceman receive the Herald you must give his address at the Herald office and you must also keep the office informed of any change in his address. The Army does not do this.

Murphy To Speak At Democratic Rally In Lincoln School

Vincent J. Murphy, Democratic candidate for Governor at the November 2 General Election will be the main speaker at the Democratic rally to be held next Wednesday, October 27 at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium of Lincoln School. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Summit Democratic Committee, of which John E. Neville is chairman. An invitation to attend the meeting is extended voters of Summit and the Borough and Township of New Providence and any others who wish to attend. Among the other speakers, besides nominees for county office and the Assembly, will be W. A. J. Reeve, the party's nominee for Common Council from the First Ward in this city and Clarence Long, the nominee for council from the Second Ward.

Did You Lose Pair Of Pigs? If So, Call Police

Did you lose a pair of pigs? If you did, call the Police Department, Summit 6-0052. Late Tuesday afternoon, a Ruthven place resident called police to say she had a couple of pigs for visitors. Sergeant Joseph Handville and Patrolman William Dunne responded in a patrol car. They found a pair of black young porkers about three months old. One of the pigs was captured without much effort. The second succeeded in eluding the police.

Bringing the captured porker to police headquarters, Lt. Frank Martin ordered it placed in a cell. There it stayed until Chief of Police Edward K. Egan went home for dinner. Having a fenced-in yard at home, the chief is allowing the special guest of the city to roam until its owner has had a reasonable time to claim the pig. Acting Captain John Gannon says he will sell it and turn the proceeds over to the welfare fund of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

Summit Again Meets Red Cross Need Of Blood Donors

Residents of Summit and vicinity last week contributed to the Red Cross Blood Donor Unit, one again more than filling their quota. There were 187 donors Tuesday and 185 Wednesday. There has been confusion in the minds of many as to why the Blood Donor Committee has to ask from 500 to 550 people to register as blood donors when only 272 are urged. The Committee wishes to clear up this misunderstanding. "When we ask for that number of registrants," said a committee member, "we are allowing for the 30 per cent shrinkage based on the experience of the national Blood Donor Service. Of those who register, many must cancel their appointments because of such unforeseen events as illness, business trips, etc. At the final hooking, the day before the unit arrives, there will be from 210 to 220 registered for each day the unit will be in town.

"This is still in excess of the number needed, for the mobile unit has refrigeration facilities for 180 to 185 pints of blood only and the blood must be refrigerated until it is processed. There are always, however, about 10 or 15 prospective donors rejected because of fresh colds, anemia, or their having had malaria during the past 15 years. These rejections, together with the normal number of last minute cancellations usually makes the number needed and the number available come out about even.

"The people of Summit, fortunately, are far above the average in good health and instead of 10 or 15 rejections, only one person was rejected Tuesday and five Wednesday. Therefore a number who had signed up for appointments had to be turned away. "We regret this sincerely, and hope that these people will be able to contribute when the unit comes to some nearby town or when the unit again comes to Summit. It will be in Morristown November 5 and will return here February 1 and 2.

"We wish to thank the people of Summit for their splendid co-operation in making the unit's visit so successful, not only now but every time it has been here." Members of the Summit Blood Donor Committee include W. Gilbert Baker, chairman; Mrs. Donald Bourne, Mrs. Samuel Smith, and A. T. Dalley, vice-chairman; Maxwell Lester, Jr., Raymond Murray and Stephen Ransome.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

I, G. Harry Cullis, Acting Mayor of the City of Summit, hereby urge the women of our community, who are qualified and able to join the Women's Army Corps to enlist now and thus release the men so vitally needed on the battlefronts of the world. I ask every agency and organization, particularly those whose membership is made up of women, to lend their every effort to fill New Jersey's quota in the recruiting campaign now beginning and continuing until Pearl Harbor Day, December 7, 1943. "Look your best, be Fernwood Hairdresser." Appointment by phone Summit 6-6399. adv.

OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM

Annual school budgets are prepared and approved by the Board of Education prior to February 8 of each year for the school year beginning July 1 next succeeding. After the Board has certified its budget to the Board of School Estimate, it then remains for this body to determine the final amounts to be raised by taxes for school purposes. Certification to the Common Council by the Board of School Estimate requires a mandatory action by the Common Council to raise these funds for use by the Board of Education.

Prior to the approval of any school budget by the Board, considerable preliminary detail must be completed. The Board must first settle on the broad policies relating to the quality of education to be offered for the succeeding year as it might be compared with the current program. This fundamentally involves the decision of whether established services are to be maintained, curtailed, or expanded and an estimation of cost under either program.

Once the over-all policy has been agreed upon, it then remains for the Board to estimate the probable cost of education under this program. This responsibility is divided between the Department of Education and the Department of Business Management. The Department of Education estimates the cost of such items as salaries of principals, teachers, and clerks, medical services, library, textbooks, supplies, and educational equipment, are prepared by the Superintendent and reviewed by the Education Committee. Cost estimates on janitors' salaries, fuel, utility services, maintenance of school buildings, insurance, cafeteria, and other kindred expense items are projected by the Business Manager and reviewed by the Business Committee. After respective committee approvals of the individual items presented, a tentative gross operating budget is then drawn up for review by the entire Board. After detailed review and approval by all Board members of the budgetary requirements in the operating budget, there remains to be determined the net amount necessary to be raised by taxes. This figure is obtained by determining the estimated refund from the State School Tax, the miscellaneous receipts, such as tuition and rentals, and the cash balance, if any, that might be available at the end of the current year and applicable to the following year's expenditures. After these figures are assembled and the proposed budget prepared, the Board has followed the practice of inviting representatives of local civic organizations to discuss various phases of the budget proposal and to explain the Board's thinking on the problem from a financial viewpoint. This is usually followed by a public hearing at which the proposed budget is presented to the general public. If these meetings bring forth no serious objection to the proposed budget, the Board meets and adopts the budget as presented. This is followed by the meeting of the Board of School Estimate at which time the final amounts to be raised by tax for school purposes are certified to the Common Council.

Pupil Plays Teacher At Assembly Program In Washington School

Victoria Formichella, Washington School student, was a teacher Friday for a short time. The special occasion was the Friday school assembly when a group of students gave a skit to demonstrate to the audience what is required of a school to achieve the "E" award. The teacher, Miss Formichella, listed the standards necessary to win the award and as each was mentioned, one of her students on the classroom stage gave a brief resume of what Washington School had done to fulfill these requirements.

Donald Daly gave a report on stamp sales; Margaret Nunn on tardy marks; Anna Ponzio and Rosemary Church on Junior Red Cross activities. Michael Wiatrowski reported on the Schools at War Program and showed the audience the certificate sent to Washington School last year from Washington, D. C. Frank Strouss gave a report on the standards of sportmanship; the third grade participated by giving definite goals of education; the second grade demonstrated conduct in the lunch room as it should be, and the first grade gave illustrations of good health rules. The program concluded with W. A. Kingaid presenting the "E" pennant to the school, which was accepted by Miss Formichella. The whole school then joined in singing the "Washington Victory Song" an original song written by the fourth and sixth grades.

COMPLETES COURSE AT RUTGERS

Miss Elizabeth Woodward, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Robert Woodward of 47 Norwood avenue and Helen Pryor, South Orange, have just completed a three months' course at Rutgers University under the sponsorship of the Eastern Aircraft Division of General Motors Corporation, Linden, New Jersey.

Miss Woodward was one of a group of twenty-five girls selected for this course by the Personnel Department of Eastern Aircraft, in which Mrs. Theodore W. Hayes, also of Summit, is engaged. Elizabeth has now entered the Engineering Department of the Linden Plant as a junior draftsman in the (Experimental) Section.

A similar opportunity is now available for young women of this community who have mechanical aptitude and sufficient educational background. A new course at Rutgers University will begin on October 25th, for which selections are now being made. Among the applicants are Miss Betty Moore of Primrose Place and Miss Ruth Smith of 9 Shady Side Avenue.

Lest We Forget

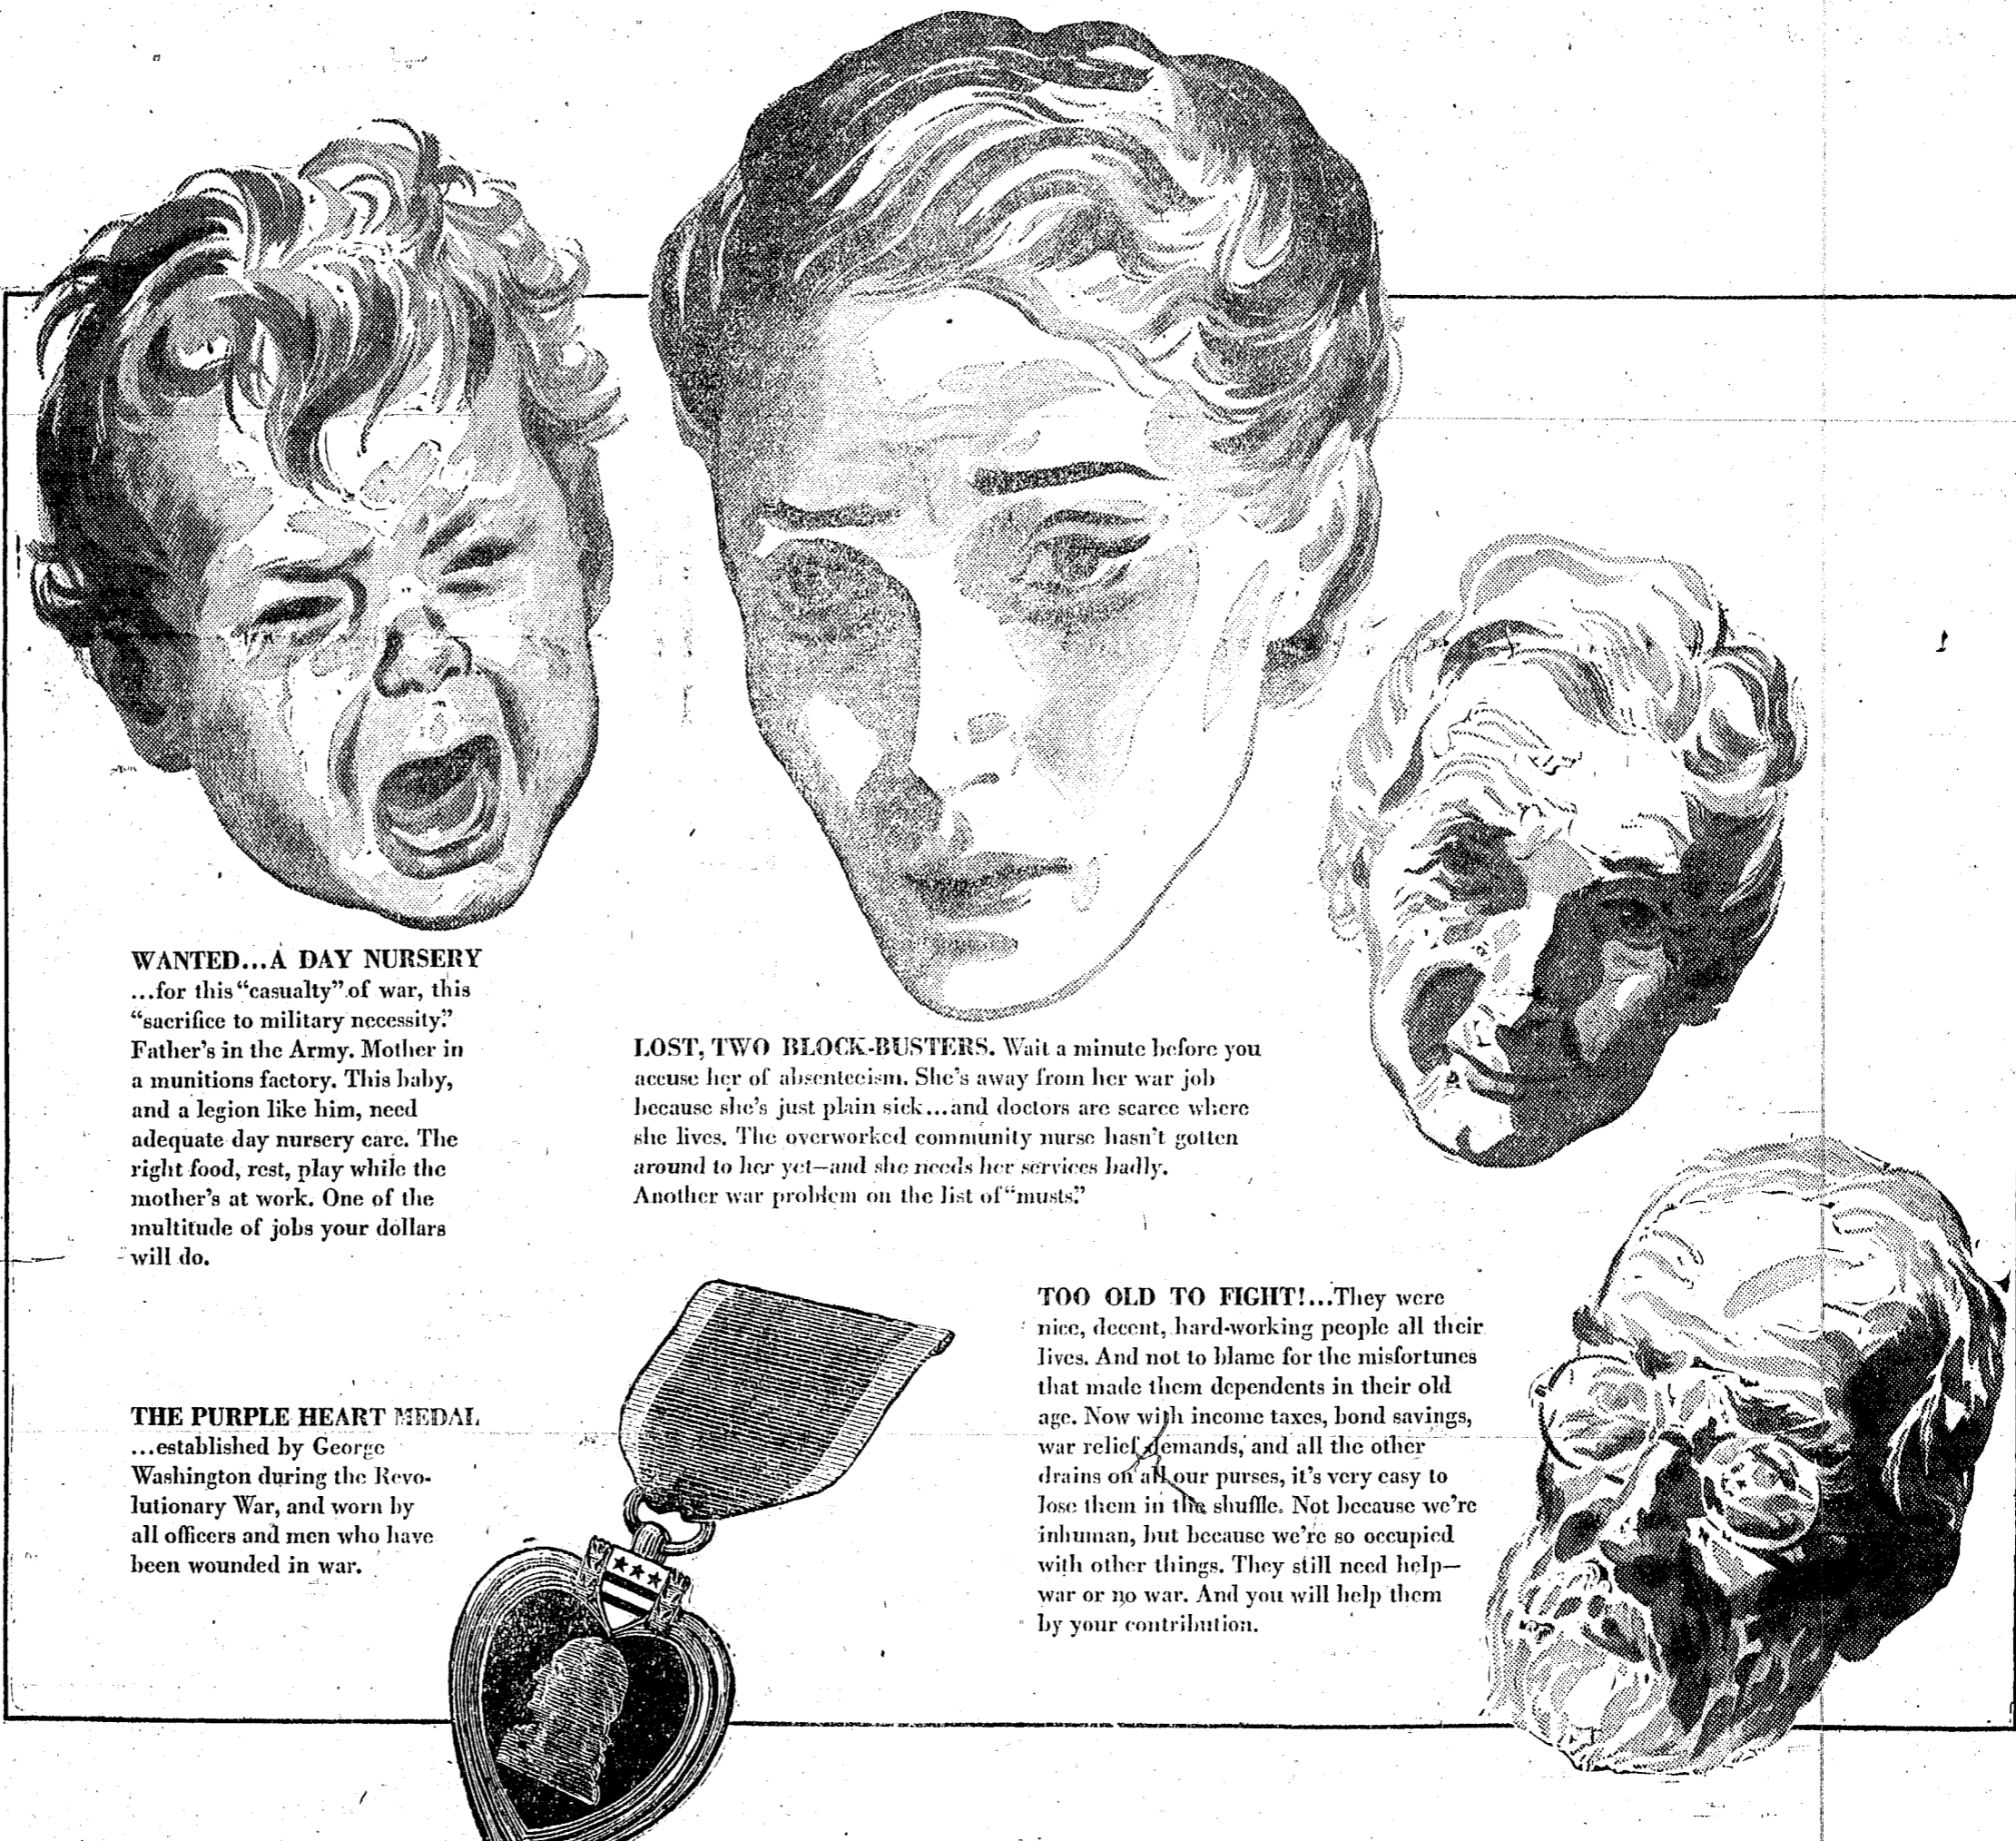

... SONS, DADS, HUSBANDS, yes, MOTHERS, WIVES and DAUGHTERS, too, are giving their "all" today to preserve for us a Democracy wherein we personally choose our public officials. Surely we will not fail to exercise the right of franchise—the privilege to vote—they are fighting so desperately to retain! The extent of our interest in Democracy is demonstrated in no better way than by our active participation. We owe it to these gallant heroes and heroines of today, to vote.

U. S. Army Gives Health Commissioner Rank of Lieutenant

John A. Pedicini, D.D.S., of 1 Summit avenue, a member of the Summit Board of Health, on Saturday submitted his resignation, effective at once, to Acting Mayor G. Harry Cullis. The health commissioner's resignation was prompted by his being commissioned a first lieutenant by the U. S. Army. Dr. Pedicini will leave here Monday to report to headquarters of the Fourth Service Corps at Atlanta, Ga., for active duty.

A graduate of St. Peter's Preparatory School and of Georgetown University, Dr. Pedicini has been practicing dentistry in Summit for nearly a decade. He has been a member of the Board of Health for the past two years, having been appointed to succeed Herman F. Beck, who did not consider a possible reappointment.

The retiring health commissioner is a member of Summit Lions Club. Dr. Pedicini has two brothers in the armed services: Private First Class Francis L. Pedicini with the Army infantry amphibious forces and Fireman First Class Anthony J. Pedicini with the Navy.

Acting Mayor Cullis told The Herald he would not appoint a successor to Dr. Pedicini at this time, that he wanted opportunity to consider the names of persons qualified for the post. The acting mayor will also have to act on two other posts on the Board of Health by the end of the year, the five year terms of President J. Winter Davis and of Dr. Walter A. Reiter expiring at that time.

Reformed Gang And Made 'Em Stars

The Y secretary summed up the problem simply: "The boys are causing trouble because they are full of energy and they have to let it out. They think it's smart to break windows. They think it is brave and courageous. But what choice have they? They want things to do. They want admiration. And they'll go after it and get it if they have to break things to do it."

Marines Again Conquer Obstacles

Patsy Riola, formerly of 12 Russell place, and now of the U. S. Marine Corps, appeared at the Blood Bank last Tuesday with a friend who had registered as a donor. He asked to be allowed to give his blood, too, but was refused because the time was completely booked up.

VENISON DINNER

The Police Reserve Venison Dinner will be held at the Elks Club, October 26 and not October 19, as was stated in last week's Herald. The dinner is sponsored by Area 1 of the Reserves.

BACKYARD CANTEN

(The following is the first in a short series of articles about birds in Summit. It was written by Mrs. Clayton T. Griswold, of 16 Oak Ridge avenue, for the Summit Nature Club.)

From my vantage point at the kitchen window I looked out upon a veritable harvest feast spread by Nature for the birds. With an eye for beauty and a flair for publicity she displayed her offerings . . . cascading down the elm a green curtain of wild grape vines laden with dark blue fruit, a nearby Chinese tree of heaven bore aloft great clusters of red and yellow seeds, and at its feet, covering the bank that sloped down to the street below, the common pokeberry extended long spikes of shining purple berries of blood-red branches.

Already at the feast were a pair of cedar waxwings, several families of robins and their cousin, the woodthrush, rose-breasted grosbeaks, four flickers, the downy and hairy woodpeckers and the chickadees. Within the space of half an hour slate-gray catbirds, flashing bluejays, stubby starlings and sleek bronzed grackles, the subdued green mate of the scarlet tanager and the busy little nuthatch arrived on the wing to join the others.

For six weeks the feast has been spread but in another week, with grapes fewer and pokeberries gone we shall delight in seeing the birds at even closer range as they return to our more modest but welcome winter bird canteen at the dining room window.

THE BLACK MARKET IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

The reason that you, the consumer, have been paying exorbitant prices for fruits and vegetables is due to the existence of a black market in the sale of produce as well as other foods. The roots of this black market go deeper than the retailer or his supplier. This black market is so highly organized that it is almost impossible for the retailer, and hence the consumer, not to be victimized by it.

This black market can be stamped out only by you, the consumer, refusing to buy the scarce produce on which the black market thrives.

In the past, the Central Market's policy has been to sell within or under the price ceilings established by the government. In order to continue that policy, we shall refuse to purchase from our supplier for retail sale such fruit and produce items that we would be forced to sell above ceiling prices to make a reasonable profit.

We have taken this stand in the belief other communities will follow our lead in a concerted effort to stamp out this black market. Therefore, we are asking you to co-operate by not purchasing such fruit and produce items which do not appear for sale in our advertisements or on our counters each week.

You may safely assume that when we do not offer for sale any regularly-stocked item in the future, that produce is probably a black market item of that week. It is also reasonable to assume, that we have refused to purchase it for resale to you at a price exceeding the OPA ceiling.

And so we ask you, Mr. and Mrs. Consumer, to refrain from purchasing any such fruit or produce items not offered for sale by us in the belief that together we can defeat this unpatriotic, un-American practice which, if allowed to continue, will wreck the economic home front. Let Summit lead the way!

Presbyterian Church Increases Goal For War Services

Last year, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. raised $1,100,000. This money was used for the spiritual ministry of the church to men in service, and to those in new industrial areas around our war plants, and to repatriate missionaries who are prisoners of war.

Young People's League Begins New Series

The Young People's League of the Central Presbyterian Church will meet Sunday at 7 p. m. to begin a new series of discussions. The subjects discussed will be: "What Is There in Religion?", "Is the Bible True?", "Was Jesus Divine?", "Does Prayer Do Any Good?", "Is There a Hereafter?" and "Which Is the Right Church," ending with a question box discussion. Dr. Leonard V. Buschman will be the speaker.

Saint Jude Novena At Rosary Shrine

The Sunday Holy Hour on October 24 at Rosary Shrine, Summit, N. J., will be dedicated to the Apostle Saint Jude. Devotions will begin at 3:40 p. m., and will be conducted by the Rev. C. G. Moore, O. P., J. C. B. Special prayers for the protection and spiritual welfare of all men and women in military service will be said during this Holy Hour.

Woman's Auxiliary Fall Meeting

The fall meeting of the Morris-town District of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church will be held on Tuesday, October 26, at Calvary Church. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 11 o'clock, following which the women will adjourn to the Parish House to hear two speakers, who will report on the General Convention of the Church held recently in Cleveland.

Following this there will be a box luncheon, after which there will be a business meeting at which Mrs. Charles P. Clark of Summit, district president, will preside. Mrs. W. C. I. Stiles is president of the local group which will act as host. Over 100 women delegates are expected from nearby parishes.

A RELIGIOUS EDITORIAL

THE TIME IS NOW

In the earlier days of the war, when we were dangerously close to disaster, we said, "If ever we can have the opportunity again, nothing shall prevent us from making an end of war." Well, the time has come. The brief, decisive period towards which we have looked with such desperate hope is now upon us. It is the period during which the future of mankind, perhaps for many generations, will be determined.

At this particular moment, there is no more against us than in favor of us. We can, if we will, make a warless world. Or we can slide back into nationalism and all that leads to World War III. At present, leaders and legislatures are ready to be influenced. When the military events, now ahead, have come to pass, the scales will have tipped, one way or the other. When leaders, State Departments, and legislatures have taken up their stand or stiffened their disagreements, the die will be cast. But if the people speak now they will be heard—before the leaders become entangled in the network of their own decisions—and have to go on as they have begun.

This is the time to begin to organize the world for peace. And for what we do or fail to do, we must answer to the future and to God. Let us therefore seize the opportunity while it lasts.

A. POWELL DAVIES,
Minister, Community Church.

United In Thanksgiving

Editor, The Summit Herald: Dear Sir—For many years a distinctive feature of Summit has been the combined Thanksgiving Day Service formerly held at the Summit High School. At this service the clergy of all faiths and denominations were invited to take part. There were no distinctions made as to race, color or creed. Thus it was emphasized that this is a day of national thanksgiving and that the principles of religious freedom and equal opportunity for all which form the foundation of our American way of life and for which we are today fighting are, in Summit, no mere theory but a practical working force.

This year, I am told, it is planned to hold this service in one of our churches instead of at the High School. This decision seems to me to be an unfortunate one, particularly so at the present time. It would give to this service the aspect of a purely sectarian celebration. On the other hand, to hold this service in a public building would seem to emphasize its true character as a national service of thanksgiving to God, whom all of us, in our various ways, endeavor to serve.

In past years the principal obstacle to the complete success of this combined service has been the absence of our Catholic neighbors. Let us not be drawn into any criticism of this attitude but simply recognize the fact that the religious feeling of this group has, in the past, prevented them from joining with the rest of us in this observance.

Today, it is believed, this feeling no longer exists. There has come about a realization of the fact that all of us, irrespective of our differences as to doctrine, are essentially one group and that together we represent a philosophy of life which is engaged in a life-or-death struggle with a diametrically opposed philosophy. This fact has recently been evidenced in the world at large by a common announcement of leaders of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths of common principles. Here in Summit it was evidenced last Summer when clergy representing these three groups joined together in the presentation of a tryplich and other articles to the U. S. S. New Jersey.

Let us take advantage of this growing spirit to bring together in Summit for all time these three groups. I feel sure that, if our neighbors of the Catholic faith and, in particular, their clergy, would express a desire, or even a willingness, to join with us in this national observance, they would be most heartily welcomed. I am convinced that the details of the service and the place in which it is to be held would gladly be arranged so as to do no violence to their feelings as to religious proprieties. We will achieve, here in Summit, a unanimity of fellowship in our strivings for a better way of life—a spirit which is today a crying necessity in the nation and among nations. Very truly yours,

W. C. I. STILES,
Captain, U. S. Navy.

Sermon Topic At Presbyterian Church
"The Third Commandment" will be the sermon topic at the morning service at 11 o'clock at the Central Presbyterian Church by the minister, Dr. Leonard V. Buschman. This will be the third in the series on "The Ten Commandments." Each topic will be treated as a unit.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

THE BATTLE OF THE TARS LEARN HOW TO FIGHT THEM

There is a great war going on throughout the world between the forces of construction against the forces of destruction, between the armies of knowledge against the armies of ignorance. This is not the spectacular warfare on land, sea and in the air that we hear so much about but rather a quiet, unheralded encounter that is unconsciously being waged in the lives of a large majority of the people of all races and of all nations.

You are familiar with the jet black tar obtained in the distillation of coal and the similar black asphalt remaining after boiling off the volatile constituents of mineral oil. You have probably smelled their pungent irritating odor when applied hot in roofing and road building.

Whenever an organic compound is highly heated or roasted there usually results a decomposition of the molecules with the formation of highly complex black tar.

For example, in the preparation of coffee for the market, the green coffee beans are roasted at a high temperature in a rotating cylinder over a hot fire that drives out moisture and volatile compounds leaving a porous kernel from which when ground is extracted the powerful drug caffeine, the high boiling oils and the bitter black tar by percolating with boiling water. The degree and kind of tar formed depends on the skill of the roaster (a highly specialized art) as well as the kind and age of the coffee bean. If you happen to have acquired the habit of drinking coffee, you will be interested to see and smell the black tarry residue left when a cup of your standard beverage is allowed to evaporate to dryness on the radiator.

Most coffee drinkers do not like the astringent, bitter taste of black coffee and try to modify it by adding sugar, cream and milk.

The modern caffeine substitutes for coffee are similarly made by roasting various cereals, the water extraction of which likewise carry the black, bitter, tarry, oxygen consuming substance.

If potatoes, beans, peas, etc., go dry in cooking and become scorched, most people will very rightly refuse to eat them. Here again the scorching formed tars that will make a black solution similar to coffee when the pot is washed. Nature gives us a warning signal in the nauseating smell and taste against eating such a product. In making toast it is advisable to avoid scorching or burning the bread as here again tars are easily formed.

In frying potatoes, eggs, meats, etc., care is likewise needed to avoid formation of tars.

In roasting meats, it often happens that the cook unaccustomed to the oven and the size of the roast, will cook the meat at too high a temperature or too long so that the outside fat becomes over done with the formation of a black tarry mass. Some people have a perverse taste for over done meat just as some like the bitter taste of coffee.

In smoking cigarettes, cigars or pipe tobacco, the roasting heat of the burning tobacco produces a dry distillation driving the moisture volatile matter including the tars formed by the heat of the burning tobacco, into the mouth, throat, larynx and nasal passages and through the moist delicate membranes of which it is transferred to the blood stream.

The effect of taking into the body day after day and year after year any of the various kinds of tars mentioned above is similar to feeding low octane gas containing minute quantities of tars into a gasoline engine. It soon carbonizes in the cylinders and spark plugs, reducing the power and efficiency on the hills.

The increasing prevalence of cancer and heart disease are no doubt due in large part to the rapidly growing consumption of tars.

Tars being complex, heterogeneous substances quickly upset the oxygen balance when they enter the blood stream and since they cannot be readily oxidized and assimilated like standard food products, they present to the nerve cells the real problem of life.

Considering the great amount of research in biochemistry very little is known about the daily ingestion of tars more than your own common sense will tell you.

Building Operations Continue At Low Ebb, Inspector Reports

Building operations in Summit totalled only $2,850 for September, measured in terms of permits issued through the office of Building Inspector Seaman L. Wright, as reported Tuesday night to Common Council.

month, both for new construction, one to Ciba Pharmaceutical Co. Inc., Morris avenue, for $2,600 and the other to John Zotti of 98 Park avenue, for $250. Total permits for August of this year $1,400 and for September, 1942, $11,050.

No permits for the construction of new homes have been issued in Summit for the first nine months of this year, according to Mr. Wright.

Building permits for the first nine months of this year totalled $31,335 compared to $231,338 for the first nine months of last year.

Many Men Surprised When They Learn What "Y" Does

The first man look surprised. "Why should I join the Y. M. C. A. ? What can the "Y" do for me?" he asked.

"Who said anything about the "Y" doing something for you?" the other inquired. "I'm not asking you to join to get something. It's just that we have a big job and we need help and I thought you might be interested in giving a hand."

"What do you mean 'a big job'?" "Do you know what the "Y" does?" "No, not exactly."

"The Y. M. C. A. is a bunch of men — from college age up and down—who say to themselves: 'There's good and bad in every boy, rich or poor. There are qualities of leadership in boys which this country and this world needs. There's tolerance and intolerance, cruelty and consideration for others, honesty and dishonesty. We'd like to work with boys, doing the things they like to do, helping them to do what they want to do, encouraging the good qualities when we can, and discouraging the bad. We figure that's a good way to make this a better world and a better country and a finer Democracy.'"

To Address D.A.R. On "Famous Women In N. J. History"

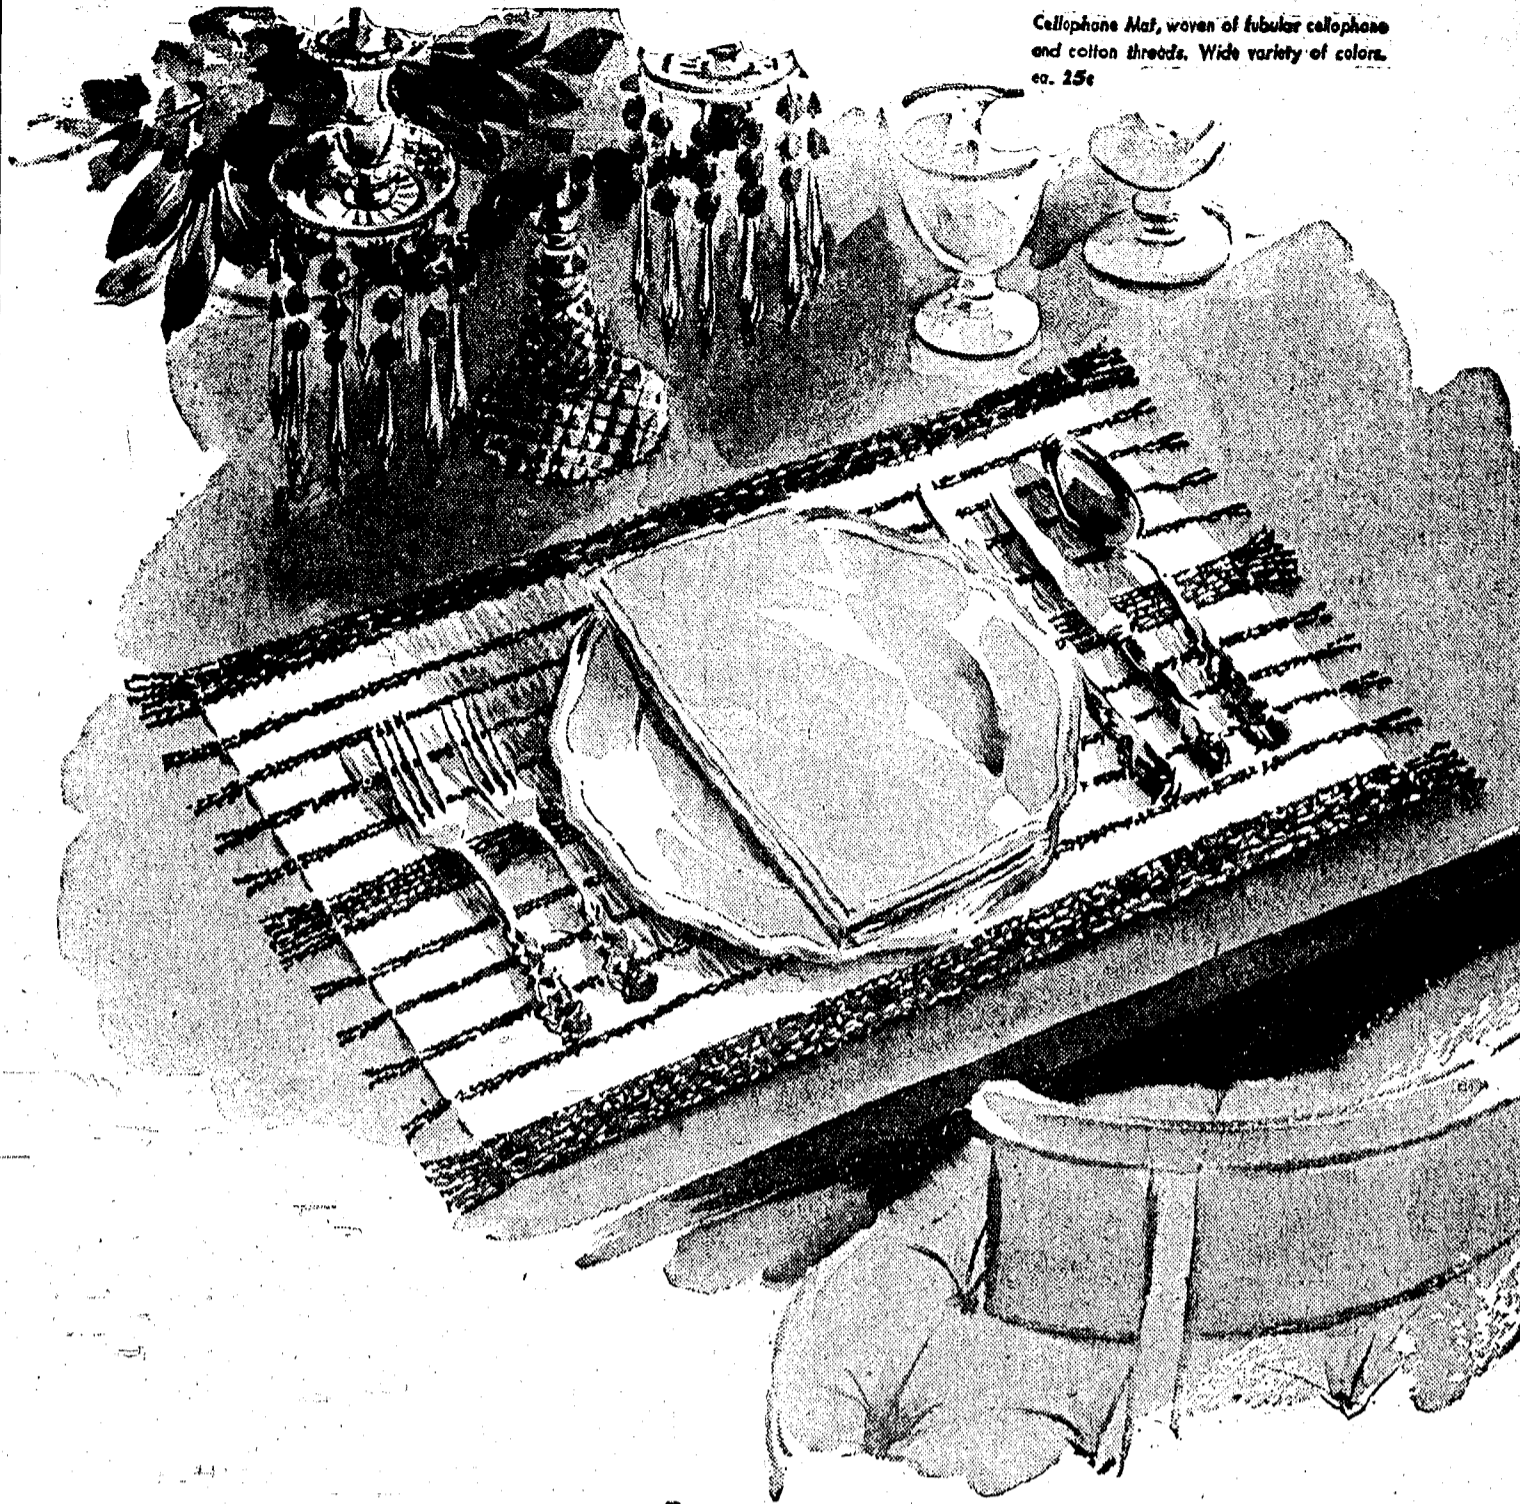

"Famous Women in New Jersey History" will be the subject of an address this afternoon at the first meeting of the 1943-44 season of Beacon Fire Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, which will be held beginning at 2.15 at the home of Mrs. Charles P. Clark, 128 Beechwood road. The speaker will be Miss Annetta Cornell, lecturer from the speakers' bureau of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. Mrs. Frank D. Milne will be the hostess.

Miss Cornell's address will include women born beyond the boundaries of the State who have made a contribution to the social and intellectual progress of New Jersey throughout its history. She will note three periods: the Colonial, the Revolutionary and the Nineteenth Century. Her talk will close with a reference to women of a more recent time, the "clubwoman" and the "business woman."

Mrs. George W. Waterhouse, regent of the chapter, will preside.

Summit Girls Visit Army Camps To Entertain Soldiers

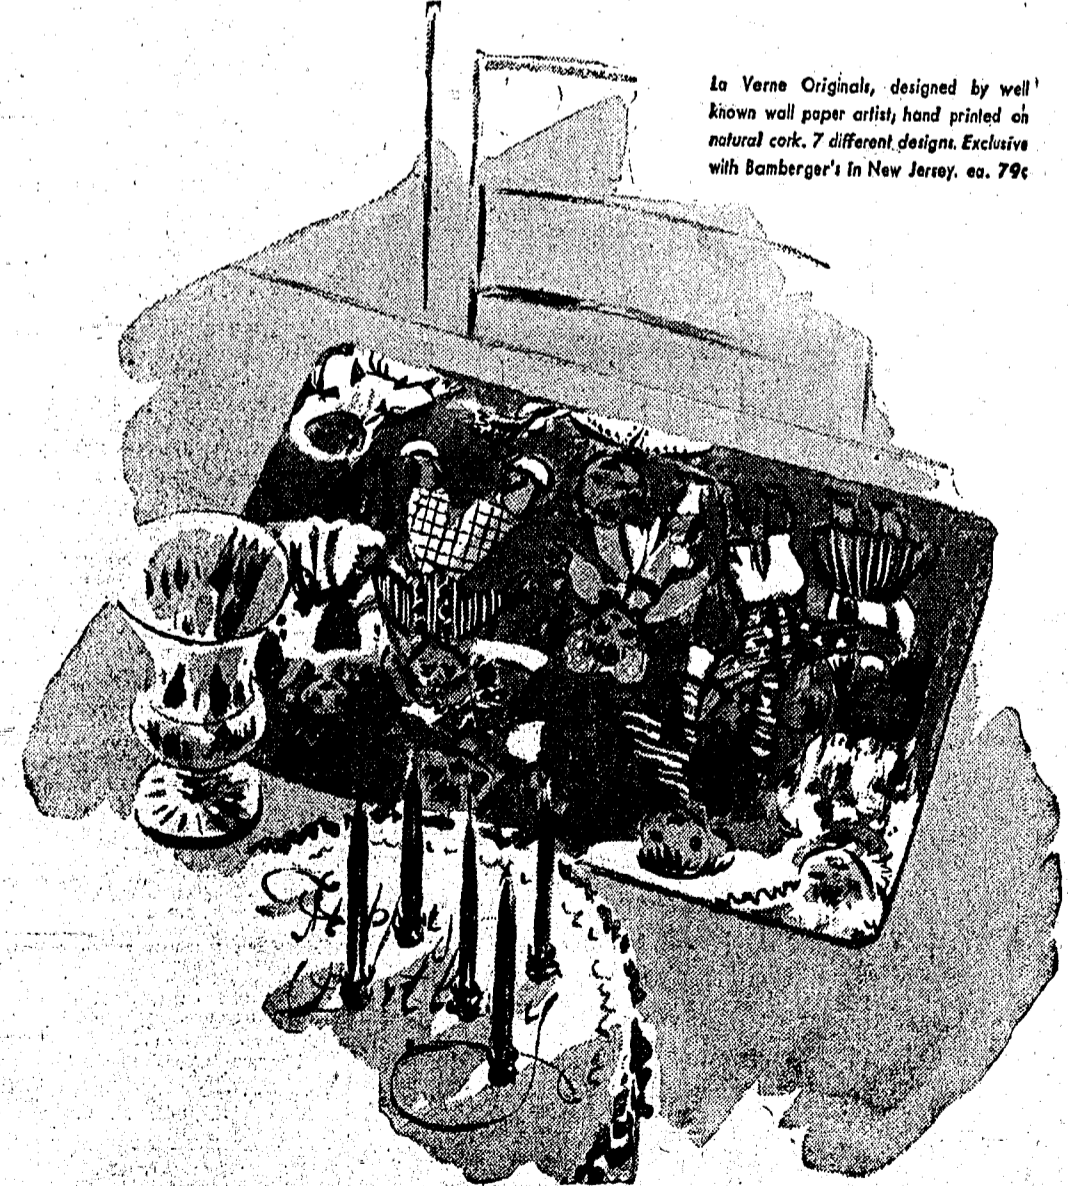

As an outgrowth of the entertaining of baseball teams in Summit this summer, a group of Summit girls sponsored by the Board of Recreation, have been visiting Army camps to entertain soldiers. Mrs. O. H. Danielson, Mrs. Robert Morse, Mrs. H. E. Mendenhall and Mrs. Charles Brown have been representing the Senior Fortnightly which has been cooperating with the group in furnishing chaperons and helping the girls bring food. Two trips have already been made, one to the Naval Ammunition Depot in Dover and another to a U. S. O. Club at Camp Kilmer. Plans are being made to attend the U. S. O. Club one Thursday a month besides special dates. The groups are also planning to entertain soldiers here in Summit at "The Coop."

Dinner for eight

One of the casualties of the war is our old friend the tablecloth. It's pretty much out for the duration. People have found that it's just as correct, just as much fun, far more economical to use the humble place mat. And, incidentally, it isn't so humble. We looked at our collection of mats and made two startling discoveries. We discovered that we have far and away the largest assortment in New Jersey. We also discovered that many of them, like the La Verne originals, are lovely works of art. Only a few are shown here, but at our Mat Market on the second floor you'll see the works.

Variety of Talents Drawn to Y. M. C. A. To Work With Boys

"Look," the man said, "I think the 'Y' program is swell, but I just don't happen to like games and I wouldn't be any good playing around with boys or young men. It isn't my dish, that's all."

"All right," the Active Member said. "Keep your hair on. Let me tell you something. First, you think the 'Y' program is a good thing, right?"

"Sure, I said that."

"You realize of course that the 'Y' program in a big community takes all kinds of committee work —house committee, membership committee, finance committee, etc. "Yes, sure, I suppose so. But why bring that up?"

"You're an accountant, aren't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, has it ever occurred to you that the finance committee could use you? Has it ever occurred to you that there are lots of Active Members who don't work directly with boys but who nevertheless work actively to support the 'Y' movement? Has it ever occurred to you that there are plenty of boys' groups under somebody else's wing who could use the help of an Active Member who could turn up only occasionally but who knows something, or can talk about something, or can help with something—from football tactics, to bowling, to welding, to job finding, to model airplane building, or what have you?"

"Sorry, I never thought of that. Let's begin at the beginning again. What's the proposition?"

Supervised Program Of Play For Summer Is Thought of P.-T.A.

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH —At a democratic discussion of the season's first meeting of the P.-T.A. held Tuesday afternoon at Lincoln School, it was concluded that New Providence could best help its youth by undertaking a program of supervised play activities for the months of July, August and the early part of September. The conclusion followed a panel discussion by representatives of the school, parents, and youth, details of the program of which was reported in last week's Herald.

At 1 p. m. a luncheon reception was given new members of the P.-T.A., served by the canteen workers of the Red Cross.

Armed Services Take Second Fire Chief in Year

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH —The borough has lost its second fire chief within a year to the armed services of the country. The first was Henry Petroski, who is with the Army in Florida. Yesterday, Acting Chief William Sawyer, formerly first assistant, left for induction in the Navy. He has been attached to the Seabees. Mr. Sawyer was employed by the Lackawanna Railroad in Hoboken. Second Assistant Chief Elmer Ayres has assumed the duties of chief.

Receives Training In Basic Engineering

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH —Pvt. Joseph Wissell of New Providence, is now stationed at the University of Georgia in Athens, where he is receiving training in basic engineering under the Army Specialized Training Program.

This Army specialized program includes 36 weeks of course study and physical training, and when successfully completed, Pvt. Wissell will be sent to an advanced school in army engineering.

Starts Third Phase Of Pilot Training

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH —Anthony R. Zangora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Zangora, Livingston avenue, has reported to the Army Air Forces Pre-Flight School for Pilots at Maxwell Field, Ala., to begin the third phase of his training as a pilot in the U. S. Army Air Forces' expanding program. Aviation Cadet Zangora is a graduate of Summit High School and attended Seton Hall College.

Serves As Petit Juror

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH —Mrs. Alice Lee, of Central avenue, is serving as a petit juror in the October term of the Union County courts for the ten-day period ending Saturday.

Christian Endeavor

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH —O. J. Rundes of Princeton Theological Seminary, will be the leader at the Christian Endeavor meeting to be held at the Presbyterian Church at 6:45 Sunday evening.

Scrap Drive Nets 6 Loads Of Metal In Sunday Drive

NEW PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP —Six truck loads of metal, a load of tin, along with a few hundred pounds of rubber was collected Sunday under the auspices of the Rescue Squad. It was announced Monday by George Bischoff, chairman of the salvage drive in the township. Pick up trucks were donated by A. W. Kuntz and were manned by Boy Scouts of Troop 68.

This was the first drive for this type of salvage in many months. The salvage depot is located on the property adjoining Mr. Kuntz's residence in Springfield avenue.

Completion of the paper drive, which opened October 2 and continued one week, netted an extra ton of paper, Mr. Kuntz said. This makes a total of nine tons collected. Boy Scouts aided in this collection.

Death Car Driver Is Second Fatality

NEW PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP —A second life was claimed Friday by the tide which ended at 2 a. m. October 11 on a crash on the grounds of Bonnie Burn Sanatorium, New Providence Township.

Roy Oberle, 25, of Phillipsburg, driver of the death car, succumbed to his injuries at 7 a. m. Friday (Oct. 15, 1943) in Muhlenberg Hospital. He died without regaining consciousness.

Harry E. Taylor, 17, of Phillipsburg, a passenger in the Oberle car, died October 15 in the hospital. Oberle's body has been removed to the Higgins Home for Funerals. He had sustained a fractured skull in the accident which occurred as he and three companions were returning home from New York.

William Stires, 17, another passenger in the Oberle car, is reported in "good" condition in Muhlenberg Hospital where he is receiving treatment for a fractured left leg. A fourth passenger in the death car, Robert Mann, 16, sustained lip lacerations but was not hospitalized.

Senator Pascoe Deals With Labor & Hague At City Hall Meeting

Charging that the Democrats are no friends of labor, "as evidenced by a Democratic House smothering a bill designed to help labor in 1937," State Senator Herbert Pascoe predicted that labor would take full advantage of their rights of franchise at the November election. This statement was made at a meeting Friday night of county GOP leaders and county committees from Summit and New Providence Borough in Summit City Hall. New Providence Township leaders, invited to attend, were not present.

The bill referred to by the senator was the anti-injunction bill which was introduced to the Legislature at the time Mayor Hague, in Jersey City, was refusing organized labor the right to address gatherings in the Democratic stronghold.

"Hague is no friend of labor," the senator declared. The Democratic campaign claims that they will adjust income taxes to aid the commuters paying New York State income tax is an impossibility under the present New Jersey Constitution, because "to make an equitable adjustment it would be necessary to levy an income tax on intra-state workers," he said.

No Democratic senator voted for the Constitution revision referendum on the November ballot, Pascoe said, claiming that the referendum is on the ballot primarily because of the efforts of Walter E. Edge, Republican candidate for governor.

Chairman John Ramella of the Summit Republican committee presided. Mrs. Katherine Card, Mr. Ramella's predecessor, was named to distribute campaign literature.

Mayor John Oakwood and Borough Council President H. C. Bolco headed the delegation from New Providence Borough. Senator Pascoe was introduced by County Republican Chairman George Rankin.

New Books Portray Economic Aspect Of Modern Times

The economic aspect of present conditions is reviewed in a group of new books added to the Public Library's non-fiction shelves. These books are: Good Inheritance, the Basic Teachings of the Great Economists, J. W. McConnell; Out of Debt, Out of Danger, H. J. Voorhis; Post-War Worlds, P. E. Corbett; Is China a Democracy?, Creighton Lacy; Insignia of the Services, P. Brown; Navy Reader, W. H. Fetridge; Plickin' Comes

Make Extended Visit

Lt. (j.g.) and Mrs. Paul Murphy have been making their home for the past month with Lt. Murphy's mother, Mrs. Robert J. Murphy of DeForest avenue. They came here from Norfolk, Va., and will visit in Summit while Lt. Murphy is on temporary duty in New York City.

LOST IN LAND OF FICTION

The young man above was pictured while lost in the land of fiction at the College Club Book Sale. The books not sold at the sale have been distributed to Overlook Hospital, Summit Home for Children, Bonnie Brae, the Nursery School, Pat Kelly's Christmas, the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. and designated for service men.

Soldier Detained Because of Crowds On Florida Trains

"Stay off the trains! Give your place to a soldier." This plea to the public, seen on every hand these days, was vividly emphasized at the Home Service Office this week when a distressed soldier asked for assistance in securing an extension of his furlough because he could get no accommodations which would get him back to his distant post and the prospect of "standing up to Florida" seemed formidable.

In Summit to see a Navy brother who was home on leave from an active area, he had a brief visit with him and then prepared to leave. "No room" was the reply when he asked for a ticket. This story ended happily because an extension of furlough was granted by the Commanding Officer who appreciated the good effect on the morale of a soldier treated so considerately. Home Service has known of cases however, where the furlough extensions were denied, so locally it adds its request, "Don't travel unnecessarily."

Freeholders Issue Joint Statement On Board's Policy

Financial problems incurred by war conditions have added to the responsibilities of the Board of Chosen Freeholders, the three Republican nominees, William I. McMane, Clifford B. Gehring, and John H. M. Dudley, said today in a joint statement on the board's policy. Reduction in the bonded debt and economical administration will continue to be their beacons.

Although demands for construction and for services that would add to the county's costs are becoming more frequent, the candidates are mindful of the plight of a large portion of the population similarly confronted with new needs and higher costs in their own lives. The property owner, in the opinion of Messrs. McMane, Gehring and Dudley, must be spared from heavier county taxation.

"We are proud of our performance in diminishing the county debt," said the candidates for freeholder, "and we know that the voters are grateful for the gradual decline in the county tax bill. We are holding to this course, however, only in the face of severe handicaps.

"In addition to the necessity of granting bonuses to county employees and the increased costs of supplies for institutions, both far in advance of the amounts anticipated, new expenditures have been forced upon us in many of our services. This situation constantly causes deep concern to those of us in charge of the conduct of our county's business.

"The board, too, has made earnest efforts to conserve funds intended for specific projects necessarily deferred because of the lack of materials. These, however, must be prepared for as post war operations. Above all we must keep in mind the dire probability of a decrease in state aid funds, shrunken by the diminished use of the automobile.

"We believe that at the close of the current year we shall be able to show that our efforts toward economy have been fruitful and we shall go into 1944 prepared for a program of construction and operation that will meet all the county's needs without a burdensome levy on the taxpayers."

Linens For Overlook Will Be Supplied By Benefit Bridge

The Benefit Bridge of the Women's Auxiliary of Overlook Hospital to replenish the supply of hospital linen will be held in the Beechwood Hotel on Friday, October 29, at 2:30 p. m.

"Linen in a hospital gets hard wear," said a member of the auxiliary, "for it is used constantly and laundered constantly. Last year $4,800 was spent for the replenishment of linen. About $2,500 of this was obtained from the 1942 benefit bridge. The rest came from auxiliary membership dues and donations from the Overlook Tea Room." The money raised at the bridge will go to the Housekeeping Department of Overlook for such items as 20 dozen spreads, 125 dozen sheets, 60 dozen pillow cases, 25 dozen blankets, towels, napkins, bureau covers, linens for the nursery, material for the surgical tending, diaper cloth, nursery sheets and quilted padding, and many other similar articles.

Mrs. Paul Gadebusch, general chairman of the bridge, wishes to emphasize the fact that, although there will be enough prizes for each table to have one, they are all donated and so the cost does not come from ticket receipts. The only expenses of the bridge are printing of tickets and slips, stamped envelopes and tipping at the Hotel.

SCOUTS

Troop 69

Following opening exercises at their Monday evening meeting the troop members played a new game which their scribe says "we will play again sometime when all injuries are healed."

Pvt. Daniel Krieder, formerly an active member of the troop and recently Scoutmaster of Troop 2, State College, Pa., visited the meeting.

Tuesday afternoon members of the troop delivered United Campaign and War Fund circulars to the business establishments in Summit and eight members attended the Campaign Dinner and helped distribute instructions.

Full Family Night will be celebrated next Monday, October 25. All Scout families and friends are invited to attend. Admission fee will be toys for the Scouts to repay for Christmas gifts.

Troop 162

Advancement was the main feature of last Monday's meeting which began at 7:30 p. m. and was adjourned at 9 p. m. Ronald Jones and Bill Close were officially accepted as members of the troop. David Stahl, second class, was transferred from another troop.

At Sunday's Scrap Drive, Troop 162 was represented by 15 out of its 16 members.

Junior Red Cross Tops Christmas Quota For Armed Forces

The Junior Red Cross has exceeded its large quota of Christmas production for the armed forces abroad. The children have done this under the supervision of the teachers in the Summit schools and schools of the outlying towns included in the Summit Red Cross Chapter.

They were asked to finish five Christmas mitts and have done six-making a total of 3,000 Christmas cards, 3,000 ice cream decorations, 3,000 Christmas tree decorations, 6 centerpieces, 300 pieces of Bulletin Board material, and 1,500 three-dimensional cut-outs. In addition they are working on menu covers for the Navy and Marines and gift boxes to be sent to England and Russia.

"The children," says Mrs. James L. Himm, "are proud of their job and proud of a chance to help our fighting men. Both teachers and pupils deserve a great deal of credit for a splendid job well done."

Goes To Pacific Coast

Private First Class Donald Fuchs, son of City Treasurer Herbert G. Fuchs and Mrs. Fuchs, spent the week-end at home away from his duties at Camp Crowder. On leaving Summit, Pfc. Fuchs was shipped to the Pacific Coast.

...A Telephone Operator

Every plane—every gun—every ship our men use 'somewhere out there' in battle action—is the product of organized effort here at home—the work of many skilled, determined hands.

Winning this war is a team job far surpassing anything known before. The telephone service depended upon so greatly to speed war production and keep home front action going smoothly is typical of this team effort in which every worker in every job has a part. Of the 15,000 men and women doing the telephone job in New Jersey, 55% are in action at the switchboards—the others are linemen, installers, engineers, test and maintenance men, workers at desks and business machines, and those who keep working quarters ready for each day's task.

Working together and with the cooperation of telephone users, they are making existing telephone facilities meet the emergency with a high degree of effectiveness, doing a team job of the kind that is traditional with Americans.

NEW JERSEY BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

HOME SERVICE CORPS

(Third of a series of articles prepared by the Home Service Office of the Red Cross to better inform Summit citizens of the local services available to members of the armed forces and their families.)

The telephones at the Home Service Office are rung many times each day by Summit residents seeking information regarding problems of men and women in the armed forces. Because it has been appointed to furnish a "Communication and Information Service" members of the Home Service Corps keep themselves posted regarding the rapidly changing regulations which changing military strategies and changing military policies dictate. Bulletins from Washington arrive weekly to be referred to and digested. They deal with every conceivable subject from "material health care" to "communications with prisoners of war." Often a matter can be settled by a letter to the right bureau, the filling out of a proper form, or a suggestion of when, where and how to turn. As an example take the case of an "inductee." From the moment he is accepted for service he may call his Home Service Chapter for assistance. Army candidates who plan to apply for a government allowance for dependents find there the proper forms for execution, and Home Service experience proves that in most cases where the soldier has prepared his application and secured his affidavits before leaving home, his family has received the allowance within thirty days. This is a contrast to the belated returns dependants often get when their soldier, in his first months of shifting about, falls to get his records in order.

Again take the queries regarding "Prisoners of War," both American and enemy, which during the last few months have multiplied. "Can we send packages, how do we address letters, can we cable?" Home Service has been able to supply the answers. (A later article in this space will supply details.) Equalling the telephone requests for information regarding procedure, are the more personal pleas for help in communication. A mother, for example, has not heard from her son for an extended period of time. She is worried and requests Home Service to investigate. By communication with the Red Cross Field Director at the last known address, news is secured. The boy may have been "shipped out" of his last base unable to notify his family; perhaps he has been ill; perhaps he just didn't write. At any rate, whatever the facts may be, they are reassuring because they are definite. A family in this area can testify to the comfort of this type of service. Home Service relayed every week for ten weeks full details regarding a critically sick soldier in California.

Fortnightly Club Garden Department Forecast For Year

The Garden Department of Fortnightly Club offers an interesting and varied program for the season 1943-44. At the opening meeting on November 12 at the Field House, Miss Iva Warner of Malvern, Pa., will speak on "Herbs of Grandmother's Garden." Miss Warner will discuss the culinary, as well as the aesthetic, aspect of herbs and a simple luncheon demonstrating their usage will be served.

At the Christmas meeting on December 17 at the Field House, Mrs. John Morrison Curtis will again give the members her advice and criticism on wreath-making. She will also speak on "Christmas With Our Allies." Lunch will be served. On February 11, the place to be announced, Miss Dorothy Jenkins will speak on "Go Berrying in Your Own Back Yard." Miss Jenkins will be remembered by Garden Department members for her articles on Summit gardens in The House Beautiful magazine and for her talk on the culture of house plants at a meeting two years ago. The Spring meeting on April 28 will be at the home of Mrs. Lester

Crone, 46 Colt road. Charles H. Mueller of the Oranges, a specialist on bulbs, will speak on "Woodland Gardening." Members will have the opportunity of seeing Mr. Mueller's work in Mrs. Crone's garden. Those attending are invited to bring a box lunch. The last meeting for the season on May 1, place to be announced, is to be in the nature of a May breakfast and will be a joint meeting with the American Home Department. Mrs. Nelson Grove and Miss Marlon Banks will speak on "Flower Arrangements With Antiques."

A merchant seaman has been dragged back to life from an ocean of flaming oil. He has lost all of the little possessions that sailed with him. He is given warmth and comforts and strength to fulfil his desire to "ship" again by your dollars. Would you rather have bought a new radio?

Let your heart decide

Remember this soldier? You saw him on the USO posters last year. His smile comes straight from a USO clubhouse. One of the finest things civilians have done in this war is in building and supporting the USO. Boys come into the army from farms and cities—a little lonely—a little homesick. The USO provides friendship, entertainment and hominess. Some of your dollars are spent through the USO. Would you rather have bought yourself a few theatre tickets?

Summit's Program For Servicemen Called Worthwhile

According to the Recreation Committee of the Community War Service Division, Summit-Defense Council, one of the most worthwhile and appreciated programs this summer was the entertainment of servicemen in connection with the baseball games played at Memorial Field, Sunday afternoons during June, July and August.

"From the actions and comments of the servicemen," said W. Richmond Tracy, committee chairman, "it was obvious that they thoroughly enjoyed their visits to Summit and appeared anxious to be invited back again. With so many local boys away in service, these programs provided the opportunity for the older girls to meet and dance with lads of their own age."

There were 13 games played, 10 baseball and 3 softball. 251 servicemen came to Summit and the following twelve organizations co-operated in furnishing the dinners, suppers and entertainments: Board of Recreation; Fortnightly Club, which include the Garden, Music, Welfare Service, American Home Departments and the Executive Board; Junior Fortnightly Club and Friends; Red Cross Canteen Service; Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs; Y.W.C.A.; Committee of Local Baseball Club; American Women's Voluntary Services; Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion; Summit Committee for the British War Relief Society.

A similar program of basketball games is planned for the coming winter.

Flyers Decorated For Action, Speak To Plane Spotters

"The length of the war will be in proportion to the effort you here in the States are willing to make in relation to the effort put forth by our people in the armed services," declared Lieutenant Converse Murdock of Summit, Army Air Corps navigator-bombardier, as he spoke Thursday night to the plane spotters of the tri-community observation post located in New Providence, meeting in Lincoln School.

Another Summit flyer, Lieutenant Joseph Hensler, gave a word picture of some of his experiences fighting the Japs in the Southwest Pacific area. Among other instances, he told of being over Rabaul in a Flying Fortress separated from the rest of its force. He said the Fortress succeeded in hitting a 15,000-ton enemy transport at that time.

Both flyers are recipients of the Distinguished Flying Cross and lesser decorations for their achievements. Lt. Murdock's action was in the Middle East and Italy.

Chief Observer Otis Williams, who presided, gave recognition to Chairman Edward B. Twombly of the Summit Defense Council.

Other details of the meeting were reported in advance in last week's Herald.

GIRL SCOUTS COMMUNE WITH NATURE

Included in Girl Scouting, which provides a progressive program for all girls from 7 to 18, are many out-door excursions ending in camp fire picnics. Girl Scouts work together on such planned activities during the year as: Homemaking, International Friendship, Community Service, Literature, Dramatics, and Music and Dancing.

Summit Boy Scouts To Receive Awards At Court Of Honor

All Boy Scouts of the Summit District who have earned Merit badges and advanced in rank during the past year will receive their certificate of award at the Court of Honor ceremony to be held at the High School auditorium Friday evening, October 29, at 8 o'clock. Program plans have been completed by Gustav S. Fischer, district chairman and Harry A. Sutton, chairman of the advancement committee. Leo Montamat, president of Watchung Area Council of the Boy Scouts will make the presentation of the Eagle awards.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Gunnar Berg, dean of the Scout executive Training School at Schiff Reservation who will talk on the value of advancement.

Motion pictures will be shown and music will be furnished by the High School orchestra under the direction of Franklin Grapel.

Parents and friends of the Scouts are invited to attend. There will be no admission fee.

Sons of Poland Benefit U.S.O.

The Association of the Sons of Poland, Branch 100, gave a card party Sunday, September 26, at the home of Mrs. Virginia Grobarz, 28 Lafayette avenue. The proceeds of $25 were given to the United and War Fund Campaign for the benefit of the U. S. O.

Why We Should Vote 'Yes' On Referendum In Coming Election

(Third of four articles on the Constitution, written by the N. J. League of Women Voters who have studied and advocated revision for many years.)

A worn-out constitution is as expensive and inefficient as a worn-out car. In New Jersey our antiquated government costs us more per person than that of almost every other state whereas a good new constitution, it is estimated, would save us over five million dollars a year.

Nowhere in our government is cost and inefficiency more apparent than in the executive branch. We are fond of talking about Washington bureaucracy—until we learn the extent of our own. In 1844 no broad, streamlined administration was needed, so none was provided. The infinitely complex needs that have since arisen have been met by adding boards, bureaus and commissions to a grand total of 102, with 26 advisory commissions! They duplicate and overlap each other; they don't even operate on a uniform fiscal year.

It would be difficult to find out what they are doing, much less how well they are doing it, but who tries? They are not accountable to any one person, not even the governor, and no one has authority to investigate them thoroughly.

The department heads are supposed to be the Governor's assistants but it doesn't work out that way. Their terms are often more than twice as long as his (and he can't succeed himself). They may owe their appointments to the legislature, to some other agency, or to a previous governor of the opposite party, and hence not care to add to the lustre of this governor's term. They just "sit him out."

We should resent the helplessness of all New Jersey governors, which is due to the constitution. After all, he is the only state-wide officer we ourselves elect and when we choose him we intend him to be our chief executive. Actually he is the weakest of all governors, restricted to only three consecutive years. Those department heads whom he does not "inherit" he can appoint only with the "advice and consent" of the Senate, which is seldom given without a complicated patronage deal for the benefit of county and party machines. As a typical instance, this summer the Senate refused to act on over thirty such appointments, leaving important state positions vacant, in a war year too!

Our governor has one of the weakest vetoes in the nation for after he vetoes a bill the legislature can repass it the next day without a single additional vote. We wouldn't invest in a corporation where the president's decisions had no authority, where he inherited some of his assistants from a competitor and was unable to get others appointed. Yet for almost a century we have risked a big stake in a government operating in just this inefficient way.

The Referendum will not change the representation of the counties in the legislature each county will still have one senator and the same number of assemblymen under a new constitution. But there are other changes badly needed. We are the only state to bear the expense of an annual election for assemblymen; in other states they have at least two-year terms. Here they have no sooner been elected than they must begin to campaign for re-election. It's costly for them too, and they can't pay for it out of their salaries.

For both Assemblymen and Senators are still getting the sum the constitution gave them in 1844—$500 a year. The men who are making our laws are paid the wages of an inexperienced maid (in the days when you could get a maid)! There are no extra sums for legal or secretarial assistance or postage for their growing fan mail. Naturally they must spend most of their time earning a living outside the legislature.

Unless, of course, they land a big state job. The Senate, with its great power over appointments, can easily give a needy member a job or create a new one for him and this is frequently done. In case of a county job, the senator from that county has the chance to choose the candidate, and recently one senator refused to confirm anyone but himself, since— he said— he had run for the senate to get the job in question.

If, by a new constitution, the legislature were given proper investigatory powers to look into elections and administrative efficiency, as well as to make laws they could do the job for which legislatures were created. The executive power which they now hold belongs to the governor whom we choose and who should have a right to choose his own assistants.

Our present constitution professes to separate the Executive, Judicial and Legislative branches so that no one holding power in one branch shall be a member of another yet it has created a legislature which controls the judiciary the governor and the administration, without any responsibility for what they do.

Jefferson School Installs Officers At Friday Assembly

Jefferson School students assembled Friday morning to welcome their newly-elected Council officers including Janice Sigler, president; Anthony Yannotta, vice-president; Shirley Hagen, secretary; and Gail Oakes, scribe. Detective Nicholas Grasso, guest of the assembly, spoke of the fine school spirit evidenced last year by the effectiveness of the Junior Patrols. He administered the oath to a new group of Junior Patrols: Valerie Mellillo, captain of patrol; Andrew Socodato, Alfonso Fegio, Muriel DeBow, Lawrence Mayer, Joan Mellillo, Marilyn Walters and Donald Davis.

Applause greeted Uncle Tony's (Anthony Yannotta) announcement that the goal had been reached and Jefferson School could wave the "E" banner for one month. He led the children in singing "We Did It Before and We Can Do It Again."

TRUSTEES of TOMORROW

The 300 Girl Scouts of Summit join with half a million girls in the United States in pledging themselves to do their duty to God and their Country, to help other people at all times, and to live up to the ideals of Girl Scouting. Now, of all times, we cannot afford to neglect proper guidance of these girls who are tomorrow's citizens.

The Girl Scout Council of Summit is only one of the 24 agencies your dollars benefit when you contribute to THE UNITED AND WAR FUND. The Summit United Campaign and seventeen national war relief agencies have been combined into one campaign. When you give to this unified Fund you have given to twenty-four agencies. You give once, for all these!

This UNITED AND WAR FUND CAMPAIGN is an improvement over the old confusing way of raising money. It permits you to budget your wartime giving more easily. It saves man power. It makes sense, yet it does not intrude upon the autonomy of these agencies.

Membership Meeting Held at Y. W. C. A. Opens Fall Season

The members of the Y. W. C. A. met at the Association building on Friday evening, October 8, in their first fall membership meeting, at which Mrs. Eric M. North, president of the Association, presided.

Mrs. Allison H. Hearn, acting chairman of Public Affairs, reported the three meetings of "United Organizations Forum Public Affairs." She reported that the Committee on Emigration of the United States House of Representatives, had acted favorably to repeal our Chinese Exclusion Law.

This Bill would permit Chinese people to become citizens of the United States and put them on a quota basis as the European countries are. After some discussion the members voted to endorse the Bill to repeal the Chinese Exclusion Law. Telegrams from the Association and individual members were sent to Hon. Donald H. McLean, the representative from this district, urging him to support the Bill.

Mrs. Dorothy Joylens, member of the Junior Women's Club, read the names of those from the Summit Y. W. C. A. who have entered some branch of the Armed Forces. These include: Mrs. Lillian Jones, WAC; Mrs. Harriet Lott, WAC; Helen Zurcher, WAC; Miss Marie Maluso, Army Nurse; Miss Anita Paterson, WAVC; Miss Arlene Anderson, SPAR; Miss Lillian Wolfe, WAVC; Miss Alice Spain, WAVC; Miss Fred Dickerson, WAC.

Lieutenant Virginia Rice, from the WAC (Recruiting Office in Elizabeth, was introduced by Mrs. Donald E. Coburn. Lt. Rice showed the picture, "We're in the Army Now," a film recently released by the War Department and showing the training of the Woman's Army Corps. At the conclusion, she answered questions and said that these women and girls who have entered the services were most encouraged to know that those who are remaining on the Home Front were studying and acting on such questions of national and international significance as the Y. W.

C. A. members had considered in their meeting.

Miss Margaret L. Garis, chairman of the Membership Committee, spoke on the meaning of membership in the Y. W. C. A. She pointed out that one of the responsibilities of members of the Association is to make as generous a contribution as possible to the United and War Fund Campaign, which is being conducted later this month. Miss Garis gave any who desired an opportunity to join the Y. W. C. A. by signing the statement of membership or to renew their membership in the Association. The evening was concluded with a social hour.

Plastic Contact Lens Are Made By Firm Of Former Summitite

A firm that has made over 7,000 pairs of all plastic contact lenses in the past two years alone was organized and is owned by a former Summitite, Theodore E. Obrig, eldest son of J. A. Theo. Obrig of 73 Oak Ridge avenue, Summit.

Theodore E. Obrig is the originator of the All Plastic Contact Lenses and is an authority on contact lenses. His recent book "Contact Lenses" is used as a text book in many colleges.

About six years ago Mr. Obrig came to the conclusion that a better contact lens than the glass lenses made by Carl Zeiss of Jena, Germany could be perfected. Accordingly he set to work and after considerable research and experimenting finally produced his all plastic lens which is non-breakable on the eye and 60% lighter than the old glass lens. It is absolutely invisible on the eye and cannot be noticed. The eyes of the wearer appear perfectly natural. The lenses are made from an impression of the patient's eyeball, made under the supervision of an eye physician, which only takes about 20 minutes to do. The process is said to be painless and safe. Mr. Obrig's brother, Elwood M. Obrig of Summit, who is a contact lens technician, does the actual making of the mold and casting of patients' eyes and the fitting of the lenses, working under the direction of an eye physician of the patient's choosing.

About 70 per cent of all the lenses made by Mr. Obrig's firm has been for the armed forces.

The lenses can be worn with complete comfort for from 6 to 8 hours at a time and some have worn them as long as 336 hours before removing them. The length of time the lenses can be worn is a personal and individual problem.

Contact lenses have been in use since 1827, when they were invented by English astronomer named Herschel. They were then made of blown glass similar to a glass eye. Later they were made of ground glass and now in molded non-breakable plastic ground to your prescription.

When interviewed, Elwood M. Obrig, contact lens technician, told of a defense worker in Pennsylvania who had a three-inch steel bolt fly out of a rotary machine she was working with which hit her in the eye. She was wearing plastic contacts and the lens bounced the bolt out of her eye saving her sight. The lens was ruined but her eye was saved. They are also used by defense workers to save their eyes from dangerous fumes, filings, etc. Many Navy men working in the engine room wear contacts as do ski troops, paratroops and infantrymen. They are worn also by professional football players, college players, basketball players, tennis stars, stunt men plunging from great heights into shallow tanks of water, prize fighters and long haul truck drivers, to say nothing of their use for medical purposes in arresting certain eye diseases, hiding badly scarred eyes, for use with microscopes and a thousand and one other essential uses.

Displays of and information about these all plastic contact lenses are available at many of Summit's optical establishments.

Mailing Regulations For Xmas Packages Must Be Observed

Post Office regulations for mailing packages and correspondence to service men both here and overseas are evidently still not clear to many local residents. Published below is a letter of inquiry received by the Summit Post Office along with the answers to the questions asked as given by the Post Office: Question—How often can packages be sent from the same address to a man in the Navy? In the Army?

Answer—One parcel by or on behalf of the same person each week, 36 inches length and girth combined.

Question—Under what conditions can you send a package which weighs heavier than five pounds.

Answer—Not over five pounds except to military organizations such as army canteens, etc.

Question—Can magazine subscriptions be sent?

Answer—Only by publisher. Question—What is the advantage, if any, in putting an air mail stamp on a V-mail letter.

Answer—No advantage to New York, N. Y. Does save time to West Coast.

Question—Can phonograph records be sent?

Answer—Yes. Question—Must packages be wrapped for mailing overseas, or can a box with a place for name and address printed on the box itself be used without wrapping paper?

Answer—Should be wrapped in heavy paper.

Are you as smart as you could be?

What makes you stand out from the crowd these days is not your hair-do—even though that's right up-to-the-minute.

It isn't just the shade of your lipstick and matching fingernails. Nor is it just the cut of your clothes.

What makes you smart these days is what you do. And the smartest women everywhere—leaders of fashion and society in every city—are going to work!

For it's no longer enough, they realize, just to save tin cans and fats for munitions, to save time for servicemen, money for War Bonds. These are the days when a patriotic girl goes out and helps produce the things that War Bonds buy—the weapons and materials our fighting men need.

One vital need on all fighting fronts is radio equipment—the kind that's made right here at the RCA plant in Harrison. But we need you to help produce it.

You'll enjoy working here. The work is interesting. Working conditions are pleasant. There are music, good food, dances, recreation—even a swimming pool! Medical attention, sick benefits, group life insurance. Pay? Good! And—more important—you'll be doing something you can really be proud of—making radio equipment our fighting men must have to win.

Why don't you get in the swim—at RCA?

Part-time work is available on the following schedule:

The Lincoln Y. M. C. A. offers Summit's Negro youths and adults a well planned and diversified program of activity. The Lincoln "Y" is the only place with equipment and space facilities for participation in character building activities. These serve not only the members and their guests, but also Boy Scout Troop 65, The Mothers' Club, and Women's Auxiliary of the "Y", and many other affiliated groups.

The Lincoln Y. M. C. A. of Summit is only one of the 24 agencies your dollars benefit when you contribute to the UNITED AND WAR FUND. The Summit United Campaign and seventeen national war relief agencies have combined into one campaign. When you give to this unified Fund you have given to twenty-four agencies. You give once, for all these!

This UNITED AND WAR FUND CAMPAIGN is an improvement over the old confusing way of raising money. It permits you to budget your wartime giving more easily. It saves man power. It makes sense, yet it does not intrude upon the autonomy of any of these agencies.

Residents of Summit Give Their Blood to Save the Life of a Serviceman

(Center) Mrs. Donald Bourne, vice-chairman of the Blood Donor Committee, presents a pin to Alfred Brydon as he registers as Summit's 1,600th donor. Mr. Brydon's family have contributed approximately three gallons to the Blood Bank. The Brydon family have three sons in the country's service.

Prospective donors are examined carefully by an attending physician before their contributions. In the picture above Dr. Harold W. Christensen tests a donor's blood pressure as Mrs. Baker watches.

Mrs. A. Hairigh, supervising nurse associated with the Mobile Unit, performs the actual blood-letting.

After the operation donors are given coffee or tea and sandwiches prepared and served by members of the Red Cross Canteen Service. Three of the donors are served by Mrs. F. C. Groutoff and Mrs. H. B. Seaman of the Canteen.

Xmas Gift Table Has Been Installed At Refugee Rooms

The annual Christmas gift table has been installed at the Refugee Relief Workrooms, and all kinds of attractive articles suitable for holiday presents are on display. The announcement was made by the committee on Monday.

Among the items, according to the committee, are quilts and throws made of soft pastel shades or the more practical woody browns. There is also a large collection of bags and aprons made of charming chintzes. These are only a fraction of the articles offered for sale, however. There is costume jewelry, babies' sweaters, compact, picture frames, odd pieces of china, pottery, and glass. Other items will be added from week to week. The Refugee Workrooms hopes to have even a larger sale than it did last year.

The committee wishes it emphasized that the relief organization is not intending to give a benefit or issue an appeal for funds this year. It will, as it has during recent months, depend upon its Christmas sale and individual donations from friends as the chief source for the funds to defray its expenses during 1943. The committee is proud of its record in this respect, and is happy not to have to ask for financial help. It is not participating in the present community war fund drive, and the Refugee Trustee's organization included should not be confused with the local Workrooms.

All gifts displayed are made either in the Workrooms or by the volunteer workers at home. Some are donated. The committee invites suitable donations for the sale, and also asks local residents to visit headquarters at 70 Maple street and look over the Christmas gifts.

Old Guard Members Hear F. N. Waterman On Mountain Trips

The regular weekly meeting of the Summit Chapter of the Old Guard was held in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday morning with the Rev. Charles W. Thorp presiding.

During the business session the secretary was requested to send a letter of appreciation to the officers of the Central Presbyterian Church for the use of the Parish House on October 12, and an invitation was received from the Fortnightly Club to attend their meetings during the fall and winter season.

Dr. George P. Eastman read an original poem entitled "Open the Burma Road," after which Frank N. Waterman of the local chapter addressed members on his mountain climbing experiences. Mr. Waterman's talk covered many episodes connected with mountain climbing which he illustrated with slides.

Next week Richard Lum of Chatham will be the guest speaker. He will talk on "A Hunting Trip in the Woods" with illustrations. The thirteenth anniversary event will take place early in December.

W. Gilbert Baker, chairman of the Blood Donor Committee, presents a donor pin to Mrs. James Barke. Watching are Mrs. Donald Bourne and Capt. Catherine Krieger of the Motor Corps. The Red Cross Mobile Unit was in Summit last week and will return in February. 372 pins were donated here.

Gremlin Chasers Build and Fly Gliders Under 'Y' Guidance

The Gremlin Chasers, one of the many Y. M. C. A. activities for boys, was organized under Y. M. C. A. Junior Leader Bill Judge, who now serves as the group's secretary-treasurer and a Y. M. C. A. program secretary. The club's six members build and fly gliders and motor propelled model air craft. They held two outdoor meets last June with clubs in other nearby communities and keep constant contact with these other clubs through the mail and newspaper publicity.

The group meets Saturday evenings in the Y. M. C. A. building with advisory leadership. Although of recent origin it is a constantly growing club and now is considering four prospective members. John Stiles serves as president.

The Junior Leader who co-operated in organizing the club has been a member of the Y. M. C. A. Leader Corps for the past three years, having served as a leader of younger boys' gym and swim groups and a counsellor in our Home Vacation Camp. He has also passed the Junior Red Cross Life Saving Course at the "Y."

It is such activities and such boys who benefit from your contribution to the United and War Fund Campaign.

50,000th Docket Listed In Office Of Surrogate

During the ten years of his administration of the surrogate's office, 80 per cent more matters were handled than in the entire first four decades of the history of the County. Surrogate Charles A. Otto, Jr., Elizabeth, revealed today. And in those ten years more matters were docketed in the surrogate's office than in the first 53 years of the county.

These figures were discovered recently when employees noted that the 50,000th docket had been filed. That led Surrogate Otto to check over the history of his office.

Each case that requires official action, probate of a will, administration of an intestacy, guardianship, or declaration of death, is given on a docket number and all documents pertaining to it are collected in a sturdy file container.

Docket No. 1, the record shows, was filed April 22, 1857, when the surrogate began functioning after the partitioning of Union County from Essex County a short time prior.

The first documents were written in long-hand—now a holographic will always wins newspaper attention—but because of the inevitable deterioration through three-quarters of a century a few have been transferred in typewriting, although the browned originals remain in the docket. In the work of the office, Surrogate Otto found, with a few minutes' research, pen and ink were replaced by the typewriter, June 16, 1899.

Borough's Finances Making Progress, Council Learns

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—Since Edward Miller has been on the job as tax collector, the tax liens in the borough have been reduced 50 per cent, Council President H. C. Boice, chairman of the finance committee, reported at Monday night's council meeting. He added: "Regards the budget, the accounts are in pretty good shape. Expenditures are down to rock bottom. Each department has contributed its share. We can now predict a small surplus for this year's budget."

While not giving any figures, Councilman Boice said 66 per cent of the 1943 taxes had been collected, which is in line with last year's payments. He asserted: "A trifle more delinquent taxes had been collected than was estimated."

Council approved a recommendation of Councilman Boice that "an insurance firm" to whom he had been talking, be allowed to come in and analyze the insurance practices of the borough.

Whether or not Our Lady of the Peace Church should be charged 1943 fourth quarter taxes on the Croyder property in Springfield avenue, which it recently purchased for a rectory, was referred to Judge John L. Hughes, borough attorney, for study and an opinion. The taxes on the first three-quarters of this year have been paid.

Hallow'een Party, Community Affair, At Lincoln School

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—The borough's annual Hallow'een party will be held Saturday evening, October 30 beginning at 7 in the four corners, at which place those in costume will form in line and march to Lincoln School auditorium, it was announced Monday night at Borough Council meeting by Councilman William Webster, chairman of the Board of Recreation under whose auspices the affair is being conducted. Later in the evening, judges will announce prize winners, for hte best costumes.

At the school, an hour's program is planned which includes the showing of moving pictures, comedy and sports. Community singing will also be featured.

Registers Objection Against Playground In Tall Oaks

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—In a letter to Borough Council on Monday night, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Bubenbender of the Tall Oaks section in Murray Hill, registered objection to the possibility of a playground being installed in that area. The Bubenbenders declared "A playground would be detrimental to the neighborhood... it would lower the value of all property in Tall Oaks... Mr. Bubenbender is a government employee doing war work 10 hours a day, plus four hours daily spent in traveling to and from work... he works at times at night and his sleep would be disturbed by the noise of the playground."

Mayor John W. Oakwood said the Bubenbender letter was premature, because a number of people in Tall Oaks wanted to lease a couple of buildings for the children to play in. He added that the proposition hadn't even come to the Planning Board, let alone the Council. On motion of Council President H. C. Boice, Borough Clerk Thomas Mison was instructed to acknowledge the letter without comment.

Rationing Schedule Works Smoothly

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—Registration for issuance of Ration Book 4 started off smoothly yesterday according to Supervising Principal of Schools Allen W. Roberts. Registration is also being conducted today and tomorrow at Lincoln School between 2 and 8 p. m.

All persons to whom Ration Book 3 has been issued are eligible for the new issue. Mr. Roberts explains, and a member of the family may apply for the whole family, while individual consumers may apply in person, or through an agent or representative. All applications must be accompanied by Ration Book 3.

Expects Council "To Pull Rabbit Out Of Hat"

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—Vice Chairman John Steele of the Taxpayers' Association, told Borough Council, Monday that "While members of the Association are not familiar with the making of a budget, we are expecting you to pull a rabbit out of the hat and lower the taxes."

THREE BROTHERS SERVE UNCLE SAM

Operation Costs Of Sewer Poises Problem For Council

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—Are the operational costs of the sewerage system in the borough to be borne by all the taxpayers or only by the approximately 400 users? That was the question heatedly debated Monday night by Borough Council for two hours. After defeating by a vote of 4-2 a motion by Councilman Richard Badgley that sewer service charges be made only against property being benefited by unimproved property not being assessed, Council agreed to hold a special meeting at an early date to hear a report of its sewer committee, headed by Councilman Lyman Coddington, Jr., on how operational charges may best be levied.

The discussion on method of levying operational costs came after the reading of a letter from the Office of Local Government in Trenton, wherein it was stated Council had authority to make such levies.

Several years past, an ordinance was in effect allowing the collection of service charges against users. As was brought out in Monday night's discussion of the problem, a previous council, on the impression it couldn't make such service charge collections without meeting what it believed to be "insurmountable difficulties," rescinded the ordinance.

Before Council holds its special meeting on the sewer problem, the sewer committee will have a survey made of the situation by John J. Kentz, the borough engineer.

The practice of the board of assessors in levying against property for sewer service charges also came up for airing. Councilman Badgley argued that Council had been lax in setting up a definite policy for meeting the service charges and that "the whole matter had been placed in the lap of the assessors."

Mayor John W. Oakwood said he thought the assessors would listen to council's point of view, when it is once established.

Before the operational charges could be placed only against the users, council under an ordinance, a discussion on this method of approach in the meeting the problem revealed that each user would have to be assessed approximately $30 annually, taking into account the usual number delinquent in paying taxes. The alternative to the ordinance was to include budget operational costs in the annual budget as has been the practice in recent years.

ARMY FREIGHT CARS

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—Two Army freight cars are now at the Murray Hill station of the Lackawanna Railroad, and are being inspected by the Bell Laboratories. What the Army will do with them is a military secret.

"Home Town News" In First Appearance Of School Year

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—"The Home Town News," a two-page mimeographed newspaper published by a staff of students from Lincoln School and sent to all men and women from the borough in the nation's armed forces, made its first appearance last week under the leadership of Theresa Cirelli, editor-in-chief.

Other members of the staff include: Dolores Beatrice, assistant editor; Betty Mazucco and Marion Kern, rewrite editors; Patricia Adams and Shirley Leht, assistant rewrite editors; John Cirelli, chief reporter; chief reporter's staff: Frank Mandato, Conietta Mandato, Wilma Genung, Anna Genetti, Mary Lou Long, and Jack Ormond; Thomas Cunningham, art editor; typist, Mrs. Daniel Knox, and adviser, Mrs. D. Burns Oxner.

One half of the paper is devoted to news of men in service and the other half to spot news around the borough.

Among the news carried about men in service is the following: "Corporal T. Lambert Davids, who is stationed at the Newark Armory, is a commuting soldier. He is able to come home nights and week-ends.

"Dominick Rosato, who has been in the Army since February 14, 1942, has received a medical discharge because of a bad knee.

"Corporal Rocco Romano is still stationed at Fort DuPont, Del.

"Louis Baldwin, Jr., who was recently signed up with the Seabees as a petty officer 2/c, will be inducted at the end of October.

"Lt. Thomas Delmarco is now checking supplies at Camp Fisher.

"Pfc. Reggie Pigna, who has been in the Army for one year, is now serving in the Medical corps somewhere in the Pacific.

With the October issue of the paper that went overseas, also went a four-page mimeographed Christmas greeting from members of the staff. It is artistically done in green and red on a grey background featuring Santa Claus on the front.

Picked For Jury Duty

NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH—Edward S. Potter, of South street, was picked Monday to serve on the second petit jury of the October term of the county courts that end November 6. He will start duty Monday.

This is the Honor Roll which will be erected on Maple Street, opposite the Post Office.

We want a complete list of all Summit's men and women in the Armed Services to place on this Honor Roll.

Everyone is asked to check this list of names for the following:

1. Have any names of your family or friends been omitted?
2. Are names spelled correctly?
3. Have any died while in service?

Kindly notify the Summit Herald AT ONCE of any omission, correction or deaths.

SUMMIT'S HONOR ROLL

The cost of this Honor Roll is being defrayed by public subscriptions. Have you contributed? Make checks payable to Summit Honor Roll Fund, Ernest P. Patten, Treasurer, Summit, New Jersey.

Roosevelt School Has First Meeting Of Parent-Teachers

The first full meeting of the Roosevelt School Parent-Teacher Association was held on Thursday evening, October 14. Mrs. Frank DeMuccio, president, presided. The meeting was a "get-together" meeting to give the parents and teachers an opportunity to become better acquainted with each other. J. Binkley Hoff, the new principal of Roosevelt School, was introduced to the audience and gave a brief talk. Mr. Hoff presented W. A. Kincaid, superintendent of Summit schools, who expressed his pleasure at being present at the meeting. An invitation was read by the secretary, Mrs. N. S. Hill, inviting the association to make Navy bags for the sailors at the battleship "New Jersey," for Christmas gifts. Plans have been made to hold the annual Spaghetti Supper this year. Following the short business meeting, cider and doughnuts were served. The Executive Board for 1943-44 is as follows: officers, president, Mrs. F. DeMuccio; 1st vice-president, (to be elected); 2nd vice-president, J. B. Hill; recording secretary, Mrs. N. S. Hill; treasurer, Mrs. H. Wheeler; Committee Chairman: program, Mrs. G. Stafford; hospitality, Mrs. J. Guisti; membership, Mrs. R. Hardy; publicity, Mrs. J. Mitchell; budget, Dr. N. Hill.

HOUSEWIVES are making things hum on the National Union APRON SHIFT!

"What in the world is an APRON SHIFT?" you ask. Just this—a working period from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. for the convenience of housewives who are pitching in to help us make radio tubes. The work these fine patriotic women are doing will help shorten the war. The tubes they're making are being rushed to battle fronts all over the world. We need more women. We need them NOW. We need YOU. You MUST believe us when we tell you this work is crying for YOUR HANDS. Perhaps you'd rather work in the evening? We have a shift from 6 P. M. to 10 P. M. if that would suit you better. The important thing is that you get into the Battle of Production at National Union quickly! You don't need experience. The work is naturally woman's work—light, clean, easy. We'll pay you well while we teach you. DO THIS Take off your apron. Come to work from 10 in the morning until 2 P. M., or, if you prefer, join us in the evening from 6 P. M. to 10 P. M. Don't be bashful about coming in to discuss the work with one of our friendly young lady interviewers. LET YOUR HEART DECIDE

The National War Fund Drive, from October 4 to November 29, asks $125,000,000 of patriotic Americans to carry on the human side of the war effort. Sixteen agencies—all dedicated to war service—have joined in this big appeal for help: U.S.O., United Seaman's Service, Inc., War Prisoners' Aid, Russian Relief, United China Relief, and others. The National War Fund will also cooperate with local organizations such as the Community Chest.

Every dollar you give will be used to entertain U. S. service men, help war prisoners, relieve victims of Axis occupation, assist our fighting Allies, and aid home war activities and local hospitals. It's your chance to cover all the humanitarian activities of war in one contribution. It's your way of telling him, "Don't worry, Soldier, we'll carry on while you're away!"

Home laundering causes the greatest war worker absenteeism! Morey La Rue surely helps this condition with its modern laundry facilities. Housewives are urged to assist in the national emergency by doing small articles themselves.

It doesn't take the public long to discover where it can get the new cold wave permanent! As I told you before, the Jeanne Beauty Shoppe on Maple street is now equipped to give you this beautiful, soft, modern perm.

Isn't it surprising how fast the War Bonds keep rolling in? If you would have the money for buying things after the war and when they mature, keep them safe. The best place is the Safety Deposit box in the Summit Trust Company.

Many folks are doing their Christmas shopping early. At Fireside Corner Gifts, I hear that such gifts as perfume and powder jar sets for the dressing table, are very much in demand. Fireside has some darling ones to match any color scheme.

Lady, you'd just love the hooked rugs at Bedrosian's. Especially if you delight in the finer type of rugs for your home. They come in gorgeous Chinese or American work, in pastel colors. (For longer wear of all rugs, reverse every six months. Have them professionally cleaned once a year.)

The evening class at the Summit Secretarial School, is really making history. If enthusiasm or study means anything, this class should find successful careers. Give a thought to your next position. Enroll at Summit Secretarial.

Trost Bake Shop is preparing for Hallowe'en. They will have plenty of doughnuts and crullers to make a perfect blending with sweet cider. If you want doughnuts, crullers or other special Trost's cakes, give your order early.

Don't take chances with your child's feet. Be sure you start him off on the royal road to foot health. You can do this by buying Protective shoes at the Hall Shoe Store. They are fashioned for the growing child.

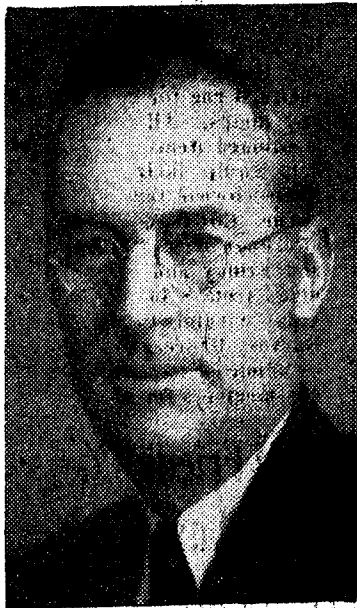

The Doyle Furniture Store isn't trying to frighten you about more scarcities in fine furniture. But they tell you they have a reasonable stock and a wide selection of furniture now. Buy what you need while Doyle has it.

Thanksgiving seems a long way off? Not so far as you think! Even with a rationed menu, you want your table to look festive. Visit the Wiss Gift Shop, Newark, for a handsome line of china and exquisite crystal. It helps make any meal a party.

Do you like to get the most for your money? It's strange though, how many folks pay more than necessary for fire and comprehensive insurance. Check your insurance premiums with those you can get from Edward A. Butler, Insurance. Tickets at Lyric Theater for Mrs. Clark Legg.

The Amy McDowell Shop has the best array of head scarfs I've seen. They answer the teen-age hat problem and come in soft flattering fishnet, plain colors with fringe and the popular paisley.

Tea For Workers At Army Air Base Given Last Sunday

American Women's Voluntary Service members who have staffed the Guide-Service at the Newark Army Air Base during the past year were guests of Mrs. George C. Dreher at her home on Hohart Gap road in Short Hills last Sunday. Mrs. Dreher, state chairman of A. W. V. S. Guide Service, organized the work at Newark last November and has continued in charge of this project, first of its kind in New Jersey. The 55 women who were present on Sunday were those who have worked all during the year or for long periods. There are a number of others who have assisted with the job.

After an outdoor picnic and roast the guides gathered around the fireplace of the Dreher recreation room and reviewed their activities. More assignments were turned over to the group as the army realized what was being accomplished. Army men have been released for other tasks.

Mrs. Dreher announced that after December 1 she will no longer head the Newark Guide Service. Her state A. W. V. S. work will be continued. At government request she has recently started a guide service at a naval base near Atlantic City and will probably organize others.

Mrs. C. A. Ambrose of East Orange as chairman and Mrs. Edward H. Jones of Summit as co-chairman will succeed Mrs. Dreher in directing the A. W. V. S. Guide Service at Newark. A number of women from Summit and nearby towns help with this work. The local group's regular day is Wednesday. Any one who would like some information about the job may call Mrs. Jones at Summit 6-1830.

Senior Group Dance To Be Held Saturday

The Early Friday Evening Group of Hobby Hall will meet this Friday evening at its second dance of the season. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. J. Summersby Jr., Mrs. A. L. Samuel, Mrs. Kenneth A. Baldwin and Mrs. John H. Wisner.

The Senior Group will meet Saturday, October 23 for its first dance of the year. Hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. Harry T. Hamilton, Mrs. John R. Whitlock, Mrs. Gardner Eastman and Mrs. Frederick B. Hollister.

Tenth Anniversary To Be Celebrated

The Proto Club of the Y. W. C. A. will celebrate its tenth anniversary this afternoon, October 21, at 3:00. Mrs. D. E. Coburn will present the ten past presidents and plans to read the club's original constitution.

An invitation to attend is extended to former members and friends of the organization.

MOTHERS NEED HELP

It has been brought to the attention of the Child Care Committee of the Community War Services Division of the Summit Defense Council that there are women in Summit in need of gainful employment whose children are of pre-nursery school age and therefore not eligible to attend the Nursery School at Roosevelt School. The Child Care Committee is in search of homes where mothers of small children would be willing to care for an additional youngster for a weekly fee, thus providing a means to ease a difficult situation for young mothers whose husbands are in service. Those willing and able to help in this way are requested to register at Defense Headquarters or to call Summit 6-1253.

Public Fruit Exchange Celebrates Anniversary

This week marks the first anniversary of Jack and Ted's Public Fruit Exchange. They feel that it would be inadvisable to run a large advertisement with the customary special for such an occasion. So, in this week's Herald the space they would normally use to exploit their own business is donated to the promotion of the United and War Fund drive just starting in Summit. They feel that the support of this worthy cause far outweighs at the moment any-

Cpl. Frankosky writes his former coach, in part, as follows: "We were sent to Mt. Rainier National Park to climb the glaciers on Mt. Ranier. The work was as hard as any work can be. We didn't feel too badly about it because every day was packed with a lot of new thrills and experiences. We worked on the ice for two weeks and there's no question about it's being dangerous. From the time we got on the ice until the time we came off, we were continually cautioned and kept alert by our instructors. There were only a few minor accidents, because the men were all physically fit and stuck to every training rule they knew. We all found that it paid. If we had not done so, there would have been a greater number of accidents and they wouldn't have been just minor ones.

"Sure, I can do a WOMAN'S work!"

WOMEN OF NORTH JERSEY!

- YOU—who may not need to work . . .
- YOU—who could never deny a soldier the weapon that could save his life . . .
- YOU—who can keep vital invasion weapons moving from this North New Jersey area—one of the three most important war production areas in the entire country . . .
- YOU—who have it in your own hands to end the local war-job crisis . . .
- YOU . . . the woman who should be working now because local manpower is lacking!

CAN YOU DO A MAN'S WORK?
LISTEN! Housewives. Grandmothers. Debutantes. College women!
LISTEN! Even you who never drove a nail in your life before!
Actually, on some jobs, government tests prove your type of woman TWICE AS GOOD AS MEN.

Out of 1900 jobs women can do 1850. Millions of women just like you are now producing whole shiploads of war-goods—faster—more accurately than men!
And the need for you here is desperate! So desperate that our local counties may not meet their war production quotas.
So take a war-job! Full-time. Or part-time. Take one of thousands of unfilled war-jobs! All kinds of jobs. Waiting for Victory . . . and you!
The record shows you can do it!
No experience needed. Just willingness. Good pay while you learn.

WAR MANPOWER COMMISSION AN OFFICIAL PROGRAM OF THE

YOUR GOVERNMENT URGES YOU TO CONSERVE ELECTRICITY

The careful use of electricity helps conserve materials, fuel, transportation and manpower, all vitally needed in the successful prosecution of the war.

Because of this your Government has launched a Nation wide program to enlist the voluntary cooperation of everyone in the conservation of electricity and other utility services.

J. A. Krug, Director of the Office of War Utilities, of the War Production Board, states:

"In the electric utility industry, the installed generating capacity, together with capacity now under construction, is ample to meet all foreseeable electric needs. But, it is essential to save the use of electricity wherever possible so as to reduce directly or indirectly the demands for materials, fuel, transportation and manpower."

The Jersey Central Power and Light Co. is glad to cooperate in this program by urging its customers to make the most efficient use of lights, appliances and other equipment. Remember that it takes fuel, manhours and materials to bring the convenience of electric service to your home. Use what you actually need, but don't waste it!

MEN IN SERVICE

Completing a five months' course in aircraft maintenance and repair, Private First Class David S. Korkuc was graduated this week as an aircraft mechanic from the technical school of the Army Air Forces Eastern Technical Training Command at Seymour Johnson Field, N. C. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Korkuc, 557 Morris avenue, Summit, he was sworn into the Army on March 3, 1943. Pfc. Korkuc is a graduate of Summit High School.

Dexter Lenci, Summit student enrolled in the Navy pre-medical unit of the University of Rochester, is the drummer in the twelve man dance band which has been organized to play for college dances.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Lenci of 244 Oak Ridge avenue, young Lenci prepared at Pingry School, Elizabeth, where he was president of the student body, the student council and his senior class, a member of the orchestra and Glee, Dramatic, and Navigation Clubs, and was active on the school paper.

Successfully completing his final land phase of navy training Blue-jacket Donald C. McGraw, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McGraw, 96 Hillcrest avenue, Summit, was graduated yesterday from the Service School for Gunner's Mates at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill. Maintenance of a good scholastic record won for him recognition as a "qualified striker" of advanced rating in his specialty.

Selected for this specialized training on the basis of recruit training aptitude test scores, the newly graduated man has undergone several weeks of intensive study preparing for his new trade in the Navy.

The Blue-jacket is now awaiting active duty orders to sea or to some naval shore station where further experience will make him eligible for still higher petty officer ratings.

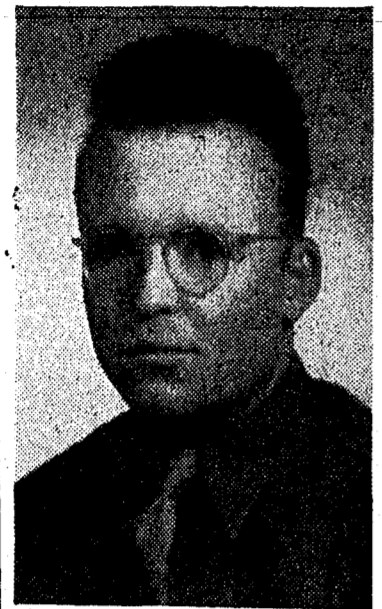

Frank Gentile, seaman first class of the U. S. Coast Guard, is stationed at Curtis Bay, Maryland, where he is attending school to become a machinist's mate. He has been in service since January 4th of this year. He received his boat training at Manhattan Beach and later was stationed at Charleston, S. C. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patsy Gentile of Springfield avenue.

Ben W. Hackbarth, S 2/c, of Summit, now attending aviation radio school at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Jacksonville, Fla., writes, in part, as follows: "Sure is good down here in the South, but I'd still rather be in Summit."

Second Lieutenant Ernest A. Knoblauch, of Summit, is a patient at England General Hospital at Atlantic City, which is part of the Army Medical Department's large rehabilitation center for sick and wounded soldiers. The center is housed in a group of this resort's biggest and most modern beach-front hotels and its program is designed to restore stricken fighting men to physical and mental health before returning them to active duty or to civilian life.

ner, is a T5 grade based at Camp Maxey, Texas, in the 611th Ord. Amm. Co. He has been in the service one year and recently received his good conduct medal. He is the holder of rifle and carbine medals for marksmanship. I formerly worked at the Westinghouse Elec. and Mfg. Co. in Newark, as a welder making Naval Units for the government. Trusting that things in Summit are in keeping with the war effort, I remain, Yours for Victory."

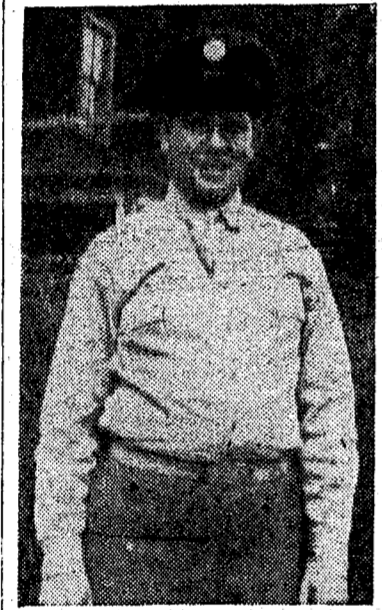

Pfc. Kowalski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kowalski of Holland avenue, was inducted August 7, 1942 and was stationed at Fort Dix until March of this year when he moved to the Brooklyn Army Base, Brooklyn. He was sent to Greenville Station, N. J. on special duty in the Internal Security Office for a time recently. He is now on a fifteen-day furlough until the 20th of this month.

Private Julius Jaskiewicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jaskiewicz, of 53 Morris avenue, is an armed guard in the Army Air Corps at

Pvt. JULIUS JASKIEWICZ

Boca Raton Field, Fla. Another brother, Stanley Jaskiewicz, formerly employed at Canoe Brook Country Club, is stationed overseas.

Milton Foley Fleming of Tulip street, son of Ernest L. Fleming has entered the U. S. Naval Reserve Midshipman's School located on the campus of the University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Ind.

After a month of indoctrination he will be appointed a midshipman and upon successful completion of his approximately three month course he will be commissioned an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Returns To Texas
NEW PROVIDENCE BOROUGH
—Pfc. William H. Schiederma has been home on leave for a few days after serving nine months of duty in the Service Command Unit, Medical Platoon, Camp Bowie, Texas. He returned to camp, October 13. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Schiederma of Union avenue, New Providence.

Lt. Joseph F. Lord Tells of Experiences In the South Pacific

Lt. Joseph F. Lord, U. S. N. R., writes from the Southwest Pacific, where he has been since April in the Fighter Direction Branch of Naval Aviation, to his brother-in-law, A. J. Geary of Essex road. Lt. Lord is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howell G. Lord of Summit avenue. His letter reads in part: "About the twelfth of August, I got instructions to get a unit together to come up here—four officers and six men—we got our equipment together and left in 36 hours. Up here is another tropical island set like a piece of ham between two pieces of bread. Unfortunately the bread belongs to the Nips and is buttered very thin on one of the pieces. We arrived late one day and spent a very unpleasant night near the beach. After tea raids we stopped counting. We slept in fox holes, there were three in mine and we had about an inch of mud for a mattress. We had to stay on our sides as the hole was narrow. To turn over one of us would have to sit up—the other two turn over and then the third one slide back. "Our job was supposed to be fighter direction but what it amounted to and still is an air raid warning and the direction of the AA and automatic weapons. It was and is a full time job, at first 10 to 18 hours a day but now down to about twelve hours. Our food for the first week was K-rations cold. We were lucky to get hot coffee once in a while. We slept in fox holes with poncho and palm leaves as our roofs. "At night we worked from the truck until the Eff's got close—then we took our phones down under the truck into six inches of mud and tried to stay on the air. We were several thousand yards from the front lines and after dark could not show a light or move around. It was nerve wracking. After about a week we got a four by six hole dug and ran our lines into that. At night after dark we would grope for the one of our five phones that was ringing. We got ten volunteers to set up a listening watch on a high hill and those kids gave us enough warning from hearing the planes so we could direct the AA. We called alerts with our fingers crossed. For the first two weeks we had over a hundred reds and over seventy attacks. We got little air support for two weeks but when we finally got it things improved. "My worst experience to date was the day I was bathing myself and as I was covered with soap, the Zeros came over the ridge strafing down it. I ran and buried myself in a truck rut in a foot of mud. By the time they made the second run I was in a fox hole with the nicest red ants. Needless to say, I did not bathe for several days. "We are called the nerve center of the island, to be more accurate we might be called the nervous wrecks. Our joys are few and simple. The daily news broadcast and music, the liquor we got right before we left the Canal with tastes good each night after a day of bombings it tastes good to the Colonels, too; the feeling that we are doing a job that has to be done and not doing a bad job of it. Mail, mail, mail, you could not guess the meaning of that. It does seem a crime to us that beer, coke and candy is scarce here and even in the Canal. It is abundant in New Caledonia. To you all, read what I have written and then figure it is about twice as bad as I say. It is not fun."

Two Summit Men Begin Third Phase Of Pilot Training

Two youths from Summit have reported to the Army Air Forces Pre-Flight School for Pilots at Maxwell Field, Alabama, to begin the third phase of their training as pilots in the U. S. Army Air Forces' expanding program. These aviation cadets are receiving nine weeks of intensive physical, military and academic instruction at Maxwell Field, preparatory to beginning their actual flight training at one of the many primary flying schools located in the Army Air Forces Eastern Flying Training Command.

These men are Aviation Cadets Frederick T. Libertino, son of Frederick J. Libertino, 392 Springfield avenue. He attended Summit High School in 1938-1941, also Brown University, Providence, R. I. in 1941-1942 and is a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

Robert MacDonald, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacDonald, 189 Oakridge avenue, a graduate of Summit High School. He played football and hockey.
