

Saltonstall Lunch Here Next Thursday Climaxes GOP Drive

Summit County's Republican campaign committee moved this week to an intensive drive to produce a majority for every Republican candidate from Dwight D. Eisenhower, the "GOP" presidential candidate, down to the Republican candidate for township and borough committees.

The Republican campaign reached a peak in the county last night with the appearance of Governor Saltonstall at a brief rally at the Court House. Elizabeth which brought an estimated 7500 to the corners of Broadway and Broad street. Elizabeth, and an approximate 2000 more who joined the rally on his way through Elizabeth to a major speaking engagement at night in Newark.

In 1949 he made an extensive trip to Australia, New Zealand, Tahiti, Guadalcanal, Fiji, Samoa and intervening points to bring back a first-hand picture of postwar development.

Workers Report $77,744 or 53% of Goal in Campaign

With the United Campaign appeal scheduled to close this Sunday evening, donations and pledges as of yesterday amounted to only $77,744.29 or 53 per cent of the goal of $146,666. Hugo Reimer, chairman, announced following a report session held at the YWCA.

This evening at the YWCA the Northside general and Northside apartment teams are to submit more recent reports and tomorrow evening the Southside general and Southside apartment teams, as well as business and professional divisions, will make new reports. It is hoped that returns from these groups will considerably boost the total. A final report meeting for all divisions and groups will be held Sunday between 5 and 9 p.m. at the YWCA. The drive is to conclude on Sunday.

The advance gifts division has obtained 77 per cent of its quota, or $48,884.44. H. Stanley Krusen, vice chairman, stated that his workers have seen 297 of the 415 prospects and that one hundred donors increased subscriptions this year above last year's donations. These increases amount to $2,546.20. Mr. Krusen stressed that many more increases and gifts must be made by his division if it is to reach its quota of $72,000.

At Tuesday's report meeting, Harold Demarest, reporting for the business and professional division has raised $3,442.50 or 12 per cent of its quota of $28,000. J. Jerome Kaplan reported a total of $300 as the result of his solicitation among professional people.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Woodward McDowell, co-chairmen of the general division, expect higher totals as a result of reports to be submitted later this week. At Tuesday's meeting the general division reported $21,417.35 of its quota of $47,000. It was also reported that 33 per cent of the prospects for that division had been called upon.

23 Pay Fines of $329 for Various Traffic Offenses

Magistrate Albert H. Bierman Monday suspended the driver's license for 30 days of Stephen Martinkovic, 18, of Berkeley Heights who was found guilty of careless driving.

The charge was made against the youth by police after the car he was driving September 23 failed to make a curve and overturned near 767 Springfield avenue.

Meanwhile, in traffic court last Thursday 23 persons paid $329 for traffic violations exclusive of parking fines.

Among those fined was Henry H. Winsor of Nutley who paid $20 after he pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident.

The charge was made by Deborah S. Kent of Summit who told police Winsor's car hit her parked car on Union place on September 15 at around 6:25 p.m. The impact pushed the Kent car into another auto.

Charles Lods of Hanover was fined $25 for driving 65 miles an hour on Glenridge avenue October 1. The complaint was made by Patrolman Charles Carbone.

Charles T. Long of 45 Weaver street was fined $33 and his registration was revoked for driving without a license. He was fined an additional $15 for careless driving. Long was a third time offender on the charge of driving without a license.

Two Men Held For Grand Jury In Market Thefts

A state prison parolee, Louis Behl, 29, of East Orange, and Louis Goldberg, 34, of West Orange, were committed to the county jail to await grand jury action following arraignment Saturday before Magistrate Albert H. Bierman on charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

In late 1950 he again set out for the Far East, visiting Japan, Formosa, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Malaya, Indonesia, Thailand, Burma, India, and Pakistan. From this experience came his latest book, "Voice of Asia," in which he undertakes to clarify the personal needs and hopes of the Asiatic peoples.

Mr. Michener gathered the material for "Tales of the South

Although the reading public knows him as a best-selling author, Michener is known equally well in education circles as an authority on the function and teaching of the social sciences. Women Voters To Offer Special Election Services

In response to the overwhelming popularity and success of its primary election information booth, the Summit League of Women Voters will staff a voting information booth in front of the Summit Trust Co. on November 1, and between 9 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. to aid voters in the November election.

League members will answer questions and "where's" of voters, and supplement the information in the 6,000 non-partisan election sheets they will send all local voters by mail, listing presidential and vice-presidential candidates, biographies of candidates to the local senate and congressional candidates, and Union County candidates, and explaina-tion of the New Jersey State referendum which will be on the local ballot. Addressing parties are being held this week by the League to get these flyers in the mail in ample time to help Summit voters elect their candidates.

To Give Local Vote Tally
A special Election Day feature of the Springfield avenue at Birchwood road booth will be an hourly report of the percentage of the vote which has turned out in each of Summit's 15 election districts. This information will be displayed on a large map indicating the location of each local voting district.

On each of the three days mentioned, however, League members will be ready to answer an anticipated barrage of questions, such as: How do I select the electors for the Presidential candidate of my choice? Where is the polling place in my election district? How do I operate the levers in the voting booth? What if I change my mind before I leave the booth?

Transportation to Be Provided
Transportation to the polls will be provided by the League when necessary, and anyone wishing this service will please telephone Mrs. T. E. Lenigan, Summit 6-0029-J, and arrangements will be made.

The League especially urges that every prospective voter read carefully his non-partisan information sheet giving the biographies and opinions of the candidates, and that each voter study the sample ballot he will receive. A model voting machine will be on hand at the booth so that voters may see exactly how it is operated. "On the Record," a new National League publication, will be on sale at the booth. This pamphlet tells how Senators and Congressmen from every state voted on key issues, and provides an unusual opportunity to "check up" on actual voting records.

Mrs. William Woodward, chairman of the League voters' service, has announced that unfortunately no date could be found on which the congressional candidates could appear together under the sponsorship of the League to present their individual cases to the public, as has been the custom in recent years. However, the county candidates made their bids for the support of Summit voters last spring under the League's aegis, and it is pointed out that both Republican and Democrat parties have or will stage local rallies at which Summit voters may hear candidates of both parties air their views.

Congressional Votes Revealed
An additional service of the League booth will be a listing of the roll call votes of Sen. H. Alexander Smith and Congressman Clifford P. Case on selected recent bills.

Col. H. E. Bullis Addresses Mental Hygiene Group

Col. H. Edmund Bullis, an authoritative interpreter of mental hygiene to the lay public as well as to educators and professionals in the mental health field, spoke last week following a dinner sponsored by the Union County Association for Mental Health at the Suburban Hotel in Summit.

Mrs. Arthur F. Ackerman, president of the Association, welcomed the guests and introduced John Lopresti, Jr., principal of the Calvin Coolidge School in Hightstown. Mr. Lopresti has worked closely with Col. Bullis who has carried on pioneer work in the setting up of human relations classes in the schools of Delaware.

Mr. Lopresti, in turn, introduced Col. Bullis who spoke on the subject, "Meeting the Need for a Good Mental Health Program." Col. Bullis spoke of the continuing great interest in these programs by audiences of all types: laymen, educators and professionals. He said that while mental hygiene clinics are definitely needed, a program which can prevent emotional disturbances by teaching children to recognize their own emotional problems is also equally needed. The educators in the schools are the ones best suited many times to assist the children in attaining an "emotional maturity," an ability to get along with others.

Col. Bullis also stressed the laymen's invaluable assistance as volunteer workers in mental institutions. This contact benefits both the workers and the patients in many ways. He mentioned particularly the work that is being done along these lines in the Delaware and Maryland State Mental Hospitals.

In closing, he gave a brief resume of the underlying principles of his human relations program and stressed that a good mental health organization is primarily the responsibility of the lay volunteer citizen.

Edward Everett talked for 1 hour and 57 minutes before Lincoln made his brief and famous Gettysburg Address at the dedication of a Civil War cemetery.

is "Probation After Death." The Golden Text is from I Corinthians: "The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." (15:56, 57)

Among the selections from the King James version of the Bible to be read will be the following: "Thou hast delivered my soul from death; wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?" (Ps. 55:13)

Correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include this one: "When it is learned that disease cannot destroy life, and that mortals are not saved from sin or sickness by death, this understanding will quicken into newness of life. It will master either a desire to die or a dread of the grave, and thus destroy the great fear that besets mortal existence." (p. 428) to Danford Geer, 3rd, Albert Hamway and Nils Anderson.

The merchants' committee of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce was granted permission to have Santa Claus ride on a float from the railroad station to the side entrance of the Strand Theater on November 29 starting at 11:03 a.m.

Following adjournment, a group of Hobart avenue residents addressed Council concerning speeding on that street. The group's attendance at the meeting was a follow-up on a letter on the subject sent to Council by Thomas B. Bennett, Jr., of 69 Hobart avenue.

In the letter Mr. Bennett said there are 27 small children living on the street who are endangered by speeders. He called the section between Springfield avenue and Whittredge road a "regular race track."

The subject was referred to the police department.

The United Campaign Falters

The United Campaign has now entered its crucial period. The preliminaries are over. Pre-campaign solicitations are pretty near completed. The special gifts have been made. The public by now is well aware of the aims and purposes of the appeal. The story of the nine local agencies dependent upon the success of the drive has been told.

But reports this week show that less than half the goal of $146,666 has been raised. In time elapsed and energy expended the drive is past the half-way mark. Obviously a great deal more than ordinarily would be done in the final days of the campaign, if the goal is to be reached.

After last year's failure to reach the quota, Summit can not afford a prosaic attitude toward the need of private charity. With new and dramatic appeals being made, seemingly on a year-round basis, for contributions to this or that heart-rending cause, some people, possibly consider the United Campaign as "old hat."

It should never be forgotten by any resident of Summit that the United Campaign is strictly local. It is an annual community appeal to support entirely local and basic needs. It is not an appeal for China, or Poland, or any other sadly unfortunate but also importunate people. It is an appeal for Summit's residents. The Red Feather should come first in any plan of giving.

The real danger at this point rests not so much in what has happened before as in how the workers and the public regard the future. The poor showing to date can not be accepted. The total to date is bad and it is best to face the fact honestly. But it is by no means hopeless.

Upon the ability of the workers and Campaign officials as well as contributors to realize that the setback can be overcome hinges the outcome of the drive—and possibly the future of the United Campaign.

It is unthinkable that the agencies affiliated with the United Campaign should be left in the lurch. They are vital to our community. No one can sit back and let matters drift along to the conclusion the current total threatens.

The way matters stand the workers and division leaders are challenged to check back for omissions. By the same token the public is put on notice that contributors, too, will have to accept responsibility for the outcome. Larger gifts are mandatory this year. Business must accept and meet its quota. Industry must do likewise. Those who have not pledged must come forward without waiting for a special invitation. Some of those who have given will have to give again.

Whatever reproach is contained in the poor showing thus far in the Campaign is something to be shared and not shrugged off for the other fellow. The success or failure of the United Campaign is a matter which concerns everyone. A common determination on the part of all to meet the goal this year is needed to set present matters right.

Let's Solve Local Problems Locally

Since the lifting of federal rent controls in Summit and certain other nearby communities there has been a series of complaints from tenants made to public welfare officials, local government authorities, social agencies and others. The complaints all have the same basis, namely that rent increases have been unreasonable and that many tenants are being served with dispossession notices and given no time to find other quarters.

It is sad but true that in many cases the end of rent controls has served as a green light for some landlords who have long wanted to get rid of a tenant but heretofore have been unable to do so. Now that a property owner has a free hand and is without restrictions, there are some who are abruptly serving eviction notices without paying heed to the welfare and problems of the tenant in securing new quarters.

Housing is a commodity that requires considerable shopping. Each case is separate and many factors must be considered, such as amount of rent, size of apartment, location, etc. It is rare that a new home can be found overnight, even in days when rentals were plentiful. However, the Herald must agree with the Common Council in its premise that there is no shortage of housing units in Summit. Facts substantiate that. There are vacancies in present buildings. Only last week a 58-unit apartment was opened and construction has begun on another one of 39-units. These are in addition to existing rentals of homes and apartments. The classified columns of the Herald each week list several "for rent" ads.

But even so, a landlord should temper his actions and permit a reasonable amount of time to elapse before evicting a tenant. At the same time it must be recognized that there are also tenants who will do nothing about finding a new home until forced by a dispossession notice.

In the past when rent controls were effective, judges were provided with the power to decide whether or not an extension of time in a dispossession case should be granted. Now the judge has no choice but to issue a certificate for possession at the request of the landlord and eviction can follow five days later. The judge is powerless to prevent it.

Several organizations and agencies, including the New Jersey State Association of Real Estate Boards, have pleaded with landlords to be discreet in evicting tenants and raising rents. In most cases our landlords appear to have gone along with this request, for complaints here represent only a fraction of the number of citizens who rent homes. But it is a fact that a few property owners have acted selfishly and ruthlessly since the removal of controls.

Perhaps a solution could be found in the appointment by the Common Council of a local arbitration board which would hear evidence from both sides and make recommendations. Perhaps such a board already exists in the form of the City's Housing Board. It would seem that a competent group of citizens, acting without bias, should be able to iron out the cases where inequities exist.

It should be remembered that the present situation is only a temporary one. It is an effort to level off rents that have been too low because of federal controls and now some of these have been made too high because of the impatience of landlords to boost rents to "make up for lost time."

The Herald thinks the Council acted wisely in removing controls here. We are in no way a "critical area." What war work is done in this area is done outside of the borders of Summit. Census figures prove that Summit is a higher-income bracket town and does not have the problem of large cities where heavy industry, in most cases engaged in war work, makes it imperative to keep rent control.

Federal controls of any nature, to our way of thinking, are offensive and contrary to the free enterprise system. If there is a local problem that has arisen since the removal of controls—and apparently there is—then it could and should be solved locally in a friendly and neighborly manner.

Send Them Back to Washington

There are many citizens of this community who are blissfully interested in the election of a President this fall but are apparently blissfully unconscious of the fact that a United States Senator and a Congressman from Union County are also to be elected on November 4.

This is a time of crisis. Only by having in federal office the best minds in the country can we escape danger, possibly disaster. If we are to elect a Republican president we must assure him a Congress and Senate of Republican partners. If we fail to elect a Republican President, then we should have a Republican Congress and Senate to act as a checkmate for irresponsible Democratic whims.

When Archibald Alexander was nominated by his party to oppose Senator H. Alexander Smith the Democrats put their best foot forward. Mr. Alexander is a personable young man and has many outstanding qualifications. He has a definite appeal; make no mistake about that. But, he lacks the experience and the wisdom of Senator Smith who is a veteran Senator and is respected in Washington. Senator Smith has spoken out boldly on the issues of the day. He is a leader with a proved capacity. He has not changed with the years and wears the collar of no man. He will not be a "yes" man to any administration.

Most of the above also holds true for Congressman Clifford P. Case of Rahway who seeks re-election as Representative from the Sixth Congressional District, which is Union County. Mr. Case is another outstanding figure in Washington and is rapidly gaining stature on the national scene. He has never sold his soul; and when he thought his party was wrong he has not hesitated to vote independently. Incidentally, on such occasions he was usually right and his party was in error.

Now Mr. Case is up for re-election with Mr. Smith. Both have served satisfactorily and there can be no argument against them except along party lines.

Frank H. Pettit, the Democrat opposing Mr. Case, has brought nothing to the campaign but mud which he slings about with an abandon. He has offered no constructive program nor has he convinced many that he should be elected. His attacks on Mr. Case have been purely personal and have had little or no bearing upon the Republican candidate's record or qualifications in Washington.

Voters, the Herald believes, would do well to ignore the popularity of Mr. Alexander and the rantings of Mr. Pettit and instead return the Republican nominees, Senator H. Alexander Smith and Congressman Clifford P. Case, to office for another term.

Editor, Summit Herald:

On all sides today the extent and evils of corruption in government are being exposed to the public eye. Corruption in government stems from the headiness of power and benefits a few at the expense of many Americans across the country have been indignantly aroused over this state of affairs in our Federal Government and are demanding a house cleaning, but what is being done on a local scale? responsibility for the good of the majority.

Since my letter of September 20 to you criticizing the Council's basis for its decision in lifting rent controls many residents of this city have contacted me by phone and in person. These individuals, who have added much to my knowledge of conditions in

Winter Market to Feature Articles for Young and Old

The YWCA's annual winter market, November 13 and 14, is designed this year to attract not only the adult Christmas shopper but the small fry with small allowances.

The Y-Teens are providing items for a special booth, where all articles will be under a dollar.

Mrs. Fred Greenley, chairman of the affair said yesterday, "We will have all kinds of booths, also, an auction, luncheon plus an afternoon tea which is 'for free.' Mrs. Greenley is being assisted by Mrs. Fred Ruppert, co-chairman, and nearly 300 volunteers.

Declaring that the YW has "high hopes" for the success of the winter market, Mrs. Greenley said that since the United Campaigns cannot meet the requirements of the Y's 1953 budget, proceeds from the affair will be used to augment it.

A high point of the winter market will be the auction on the night of November 13. Otto Seng of the National and State Society of Auctioneers will offer for sale articles ranging from antique silverware to castoff roller skates.

Mrs. Greenley expressed the YWCA's gratitude to the many persons who give their services to the project without charge. Among them are Mr. Seng, Leo Johnson, who designed and made papermache snow globes for advertising purposes; Henry Glasser, Summit artist, under whose direction posters were made; the business men who permit announcements of the affair in their windows, and the newspapers carrying the stories of the project.

Winter market booths are headed by the following: Baked Goods, Mrs. Alex Rosol and Mrs. Fred Stone, Jr.; Baskets, Mrs. Norman Hill; Christmas Items, Mrs. Arthur Blanken, Mrs. George Chambers; Fabrics, Mrs. H. W. Harding; Fancy Work, Mrs. Samuel M. Eason and Mrs. Robert Volkening; Handkerchiefs, Mrs. A. D. Schwarz; Jewelry, Mrs. John Groff; New Toys, Mrs. C. N. Breisch; Old Toys, Mrs. Thomas Allison and Mrs. William Rae, Jr.; Paper Novels, Mrs. C. J. Ahlers; Plants, Mrs. Marshall Waterman and Mrs. Allen Mayhew; White Elephants, Mrs. R. C. Hopcraft and Mrs. G. R. Rowe; Under a Dollar, Mrs. N. E. Wheaton, Jr. and Mrs. J. A. North.

Mrs. Karl Keller and Mrs. Eric North are in charge of the auction. Pencil sketched portraits will be done during the two days by Mrs. E. K. Eberhart. Appointments can be made by calling Mrs. D. H. Krogg.

Mrs. Greenley announced that mothers can leave their children downstairs at the YW where there is varied entertainment for youngsters.

Another phase of winter market is a children's act, planned by Mrs. W. R. Lundry and Mrs. R. A. Kimes. Mrs. E. Chapin will be in charge of the grab bag and the baby sitting will be supervised by Miss Helen Burney.

There will be glass blowing by Mrs. Pauline Boreshyne in addition to games, slides and a snack bar.

Kent Place to Hold Party

A Halloween party for the students and faculty of the Kent Place upper and middle schools will be given under the auspices of the Junior class in the gymnasium tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Members of the four upper classes and the faculty will enter the skit competition. Middle school students will come in costume and be judged for prizes.

The general committee in charge of the affair consists of the junior class officers: Caroline Seeger, Gladstone, Ellen Smith of Summit, Alice Wilson of Summit, Judith Applegate of Green Village, and Susan Bohner of Summit.

Committee chairmen are: Ida Ruth Kaplan of Summit, refreshments; Martha Ackerman of Summit, entertainment; Gretel Lichtenstein of Green Village, decorations; Karen Miesem of Summit, publicity. Faculty advisors are Miss Josephine Emerson and Miss Dorothy Sampson.

Columbia U. Selects Local Clinic as Agency

The Mental Hygiene Clinic of Union County, a Red Feather Service operating in the Summit-New Providence area, has been selected as a training agency by Columbia University's New York School of Social Work for graduate social work students.

This announcement was made yesterday by Dr. Phyllis D.

Scheffer, who said, "The Clinic feels gratified that this recognition by the New York School has been extended."

High School PTA to Attend Classes Monday

Parents will attend "classes" on Monday, October 27, at the first meeting of the Summit High School Parent Teachers Association after a brief business meeting in the High School auditorium at 8 p.m.

There will be four ten-minute periods, so that parents will be able to follow the major portion of their children's schedules. At each "class," the teacher will discuss the plan of work for the coming year. The dismissal bell will be a signal for all to adjourn to the cafeteria where refreshments will be served.

Badgley Has Long Record of Civic Service

Borough—Continuing its series of releases presenting local candidates, the New Providence Republican Club this week introduces Councilman Robert Badgley, candidate for Mayor.

"Mr. Badgley was born in the Borough and has long been identified with its affairs. After attending Lincoln School and Summit High, he obtained his degree of Bachelor of Science in electrical engineering at Newark College of Engineering. During his entire professional career he has been connected with the Bell Telephone Laboratories with the exception of a period, during the war, when he was released to the U. S. Army Signal Corps for special services in England and Hawaii.

"As a home owner and father of four children, Mr. Badgley will bring to the office of mayor competence and experience. He is one of the few men in the Borough who understand the problems that confront today's citizens together with an understanding of local government acquired in the seven years he has served as a member of the Borough Council.

"Elected to that office three times, he has served as president of the Council for six years and has gained broad experience through his membership on committees in charge of sewers, roads and drainage, veteran's housing, recreation, and parking and on the committee for the establishment of postal delivery.

"Since becoming Police Commissioner, Mr. Badgley has worked out a plan giving the Borough maximum police coverage with the minimum number of officers, while at the same time reducing the work week of the men in uniform. He has played an important part in the negotiations leading to the construction of the Mountain Avenue Cut-off and in developing plans for the extension and improvement of the Borough's sewer system. Through these negotiations, he has become acquainted with many state and county officials as well as those of our neighboring communities and has established a reputation for the cooperation necessary to the success of such joint enterprises.

"As Mayor, Mr. Badgley will be able to call upon his wide knowledge of the various activities of local government, and his demonstrated ability to coordinate and direct those activities. Mr. Badgley, who has been away for a short time on a special mission for the U. S. Air Force, has returned to his home and will attend the forthcoming Republican rally."

Cirelli Expands Political Views in 'Open Letter'

Borough—In an open letter to voters, John A. Cirelli, Democratic candidate for Mayor of the Borough, outlined a ten-point platform mentioned earlier in his campaign.

Mr. Cirelli, in "elaborating" on how he would conduct office if elected Mayor, listed the following points:

1. To build better roads, curbing sewage, storm sewers with least amount of waste; see that roads are kept repaired, cut down on wasted labor and see that Borough equipment is used solely for municipal uses.
2. Eliminate inefficiency in local government and plan for the future growth of the community as a whole and not as business, industry, etc.; to see that all business brought before the Borough Council is promptly acted upon.
3. To encourage industry to locate in the Borough.
4. To re-assess all so-called farm land and reduce farm tax rate on lands not strictly used for farming.
5. To revise existing zoning laws in order to establish adequate shopping area so Borough will expand in business as well as homes.
6. Work in harmony with school board toward development of adequate long-range educational program and to give continued support to Board of Education.
7. To establish at least one supervised municipal playground.
8. Encourage and support local civic groups in the Borough.
9. Protection of children from hazards of unattended railroad crossings and un-posted play streets.
10. To strive for a balancing of the budget.

Mr. Cirelli will address voters at a Democratic rally to be held at Lincoln School auditorium tomorrow at 8 p.m. County and local candidates, including Archibald Alexander, will be present. All are welcome to attend.

Case, Pascoe To Address Boro GOP Rally

New Providence—Congressman Clifford P. Case and Union County Register Herbert Pascoe are slated to address the Republican rally held at Borough Hall tomorrow (Oct. 24) at 7:45 p.m. sharp.

Due to conflicting engagements of some of the speakers, the meeting will begin promptly at that time. The Republican Committee has announced.

Also expected to address the gathering are Ernest S. Hickok, Sherwood C. Valentine and Col. John H. M. Dudley, candidates for County Freeholders.

The Committee has announced that candidate for State Senator H. Alexander Smith may make an appearance at the meeting.

Local candidates who will be present include Robert A. Badgley, candidate for Mayor to succeed Ellsworth Hensell, who is not a candidate for re-election, Hugh Hamilton and Charles A. Johnson, seeking places on the Council. Mr. Johnson was appointed to the Council when former Councilman Frank A. Pizzi resigned to become police magistrate, and Mr. Hamilton is seeking the place that will be left vacant in January by the decision of Edward Kilpatrick not to seek re-election.

To Attend Grand Jurors Meeting

Borough—Mrs. Isabella Stigmann of New Providence, a member of the executive committee of the Grand Jurors Association, will attend an Association meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m., at the Carteret Hotel, Elizabeth.

The beginning of your all-electric future!

It was a feeble light that shown... but it was destined to change the shape of the world. It was the first electric bulb, invented by the genius of Thomas Alva Edison a short 73 years ago.

From this first practical adaptation of electricity have grown, through American enterprise, new uses and conveniences that have given the people of our nation the highest standard of living in the world.

All this in one lifetime—and it's only the beginning. Each year brings new electric marvels and with them new comfort and leisure. The record shows that the use of electricity in the home has doubled in the last ten years—while the cost has gone down steadily.

The shape of things to come is hard to forecast. But one thing is certain... your future is all-electric.

Township GOP Fund Appeal Going Well

Berkeley Heights—T. C. Plumb, finance chairman of the Republican Municipal Committee in the Township, has announced that the GOP finance drive is "meeting with success."
In a formal statement, he said:
"This is the first formal finance drive for the Republican party ever conducted in Berkeley Heights. While no goal has been set, a quota of $10,000 for Union County requires the co-operation of all Republicans in contributing their share."

Assisting Mr. Plumb are Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Eich, Reginald D. Vincent, Howard Cottingham, Stewart
Bookman, David Kregg, Halcy
Douglas, Mrs. R. W. Lytell, Bruce
Van Order and Dietrich Alsborg.
The finance committee is working closely with local County Committee members Charles Bassano and Warren Legge, and County Com-mitteewomen Mildred Venezia and Pauline DeMatteo.

In commenting on the Republican National Committee budget of $3,000,000, Mr. Plumb said: "At least $1,000,000 will be spent for television coverage and $200,000 for radio coverage. Four years ago, the National Committee spent $850,000 for radio time and only $10,000 for television time. Just as your household budget has suffered during these years, other campaign costs have reached new heights. Despite this, no opportunity is being overlooked to reach every voter and convince him of the need to support the GOP campaign."

Evening Hours Set for PTA Classroom Teas

New Providence—The annual class teas, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association as a means of becoming acquainted, are now under way at Lincoln School.
Mrs. H. C. McGuire, parent education program chairman, and Allen W. Roberts, principal of the school, emphasized the fact that these meetings are not for discussion of the work of individual children, but are designed to serve a social purpose permitting the teacher and parents to develop a basis for a spirit of cooperation between the parties concerned.

Because of the split sessions, and the large number of classes divided into two or more sections, the teas this year will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Parents will gather in the cafeteria for refreshments, and a half hour later, go to the classrooms of their children where the teacher will present an outline of the course of study for the coming year. Class mothers will assist as hostesses, both in the social period and during the classroom period.

The fourth, third and second grade teas were held recently. The remainder: October 20, all sections of first grade; October 27, sections A, B and C of the Kindergarten; October 28, all sections of fifth grade; October 30, garten; November 10, both sections of sixth grade.

Scout Heads Speak at Fund Drive Meeting

Berkeley Heights—The benefits to the girls and boy scouts in Berkeley Heights derived from the annual fund drive may be ten-fold, Russell Lauver, scout executive of the Watchung area, declared at a "kick-off" meeting of the fund drive held Sunday at Diamond Hill Community Church.

The drive opened Monday, and will continue through November 2. The goal is $2,000 and was called conservative by Gordon Faulkner, drive chairman. He pointed out that the scouts will not receive any funds from Summit United Campaign which is being conducted in Berkeley Heights.

Mr. Lauver explained that funds are used for operation of the respective Scout Councils and that the benefits derived from the programs are in direct proportion to the use made of them by the local scouts.

For example, he said, the Boy Scout District 5 fall camporee was being held last weekend at a scout camp near Bear Mountain, N. Y.
He added that 27 scouts from Berkeley Heights with six of their leaders and dads were attending in addition to New Providence and Summit scouts.

Mrs. Charlotte Church, chairman of the Girl Scouts in Berkeley Heights, spoke on the benefits the scouts get from the Plainfield Area Council to which they belong.
One of the important benefits, she said, is that each Girl Scout leader is given a training course to better equip her in carrying out the scouting program. In addition, the 10 local Girl Scout units are given assistance in program planning, camping and advancement.

1,119 Students Sets Record For Regional

Berkeley Heights—The last day of September saw Regional High School set an all-time record for student enrollment. The total number of students enrolled as of September 30 was 1,119. A breakdown of this total figure by classes shows 345 freshmen, 300 sophomores, 255 juniors and 209 seniors.

A breakdown of the total enrollment by sending communities shows Clark Township, 195; Garwood, 152; Kentworth, 235; Mountain, 132; Berkeley Heights, 100; Springfield, 327; Non-resident students, seven.

The overall percentage of increase from the high of 1,037 students enrolled as of September 30, 1951 is approximately 8 percent. This increase in enrollment, however, has not been uniform for the six communities sending students to Regional High School.
Township shows the greatest percentage of increase with 17 percent. Berkeley Heights, Kentworth are next with increases of 13 percent. Garwood shows the next highest increase with 4 per cent and Mountainside and Springfield each have increases of less than 1 per cent.

Lincoln School Fire Test Goes Off Smoothly

New Providence—Fire Prevention week was dramatized by the Fire Department and Rescue Squad for the students at Lincoln School recently, when a fireman broke an emergency alarm in the school, and a student posed as a smoke-overcome victim.

The school alarm was relayed by Police Chief Harry High, and within three minutes, both fire trucks and hoses were in position. The official time for clearing the school was 1 minute and 5 seconds, according to Allen W.
Roberts, principal. Members of the faculty and staff were not told in advance of the alarm.

A student, a supposed smoke victim, was carried out and "treated" by the Rescue Squad in the Borough ambulance.

Assistant Fire Chief Nevil Pil-ley was in charge of the drill, and was assisted by ex-Chief Elmer Ayers, who gave a brief address on fire prevention to the students assembled on the playground.
Police Officer James Venezia was in charge of police operations during the drill.

Cast Named For "Goodbye, My Fancy"

Berkeley Heights—Kathleen Weppeler will play the role of the forthright Congresswoman, acted on Broadway by Madeleine Carrol, when the Stony Hill Players present "Goodbye, My Fancy" at the Columbia School on November 14 and 15. This is the comedy hit by Kay Kanin which delighted New York audiences for over a year.
The setting of "Goodbye, My Fancy" is the Good Hope College for Women, whom which the play's heroine, Congresswoman Agathe Reed, has been expelled twenty years before.

Returning now to her alma mater to receive an honorary degree, she discovers that the man she has loved all these years—he was once her history professor and is now the college president—is lacking in the courage and integrity she expected to find in him.
She brought with her a documentary war picture to show to the students and it is the resistance to its realism on the part of the college's president and trustees that starts the story.
Everett Fay will play the vacillating president, and Tom Allen will play a Life photographer with whom the lady legislator has had a wartime romance.

Other in the Stony Hill Players' production of "Goodbye, My Fancy" will include Sue Wadaw, as the Congresswoman's wisecracking secretary, Madeleine Weaver, as the bustling dean, Hazel Fox, as the president's disillusioned daughter.

Gerda Blohm, Virginia Takacs, Dot Powers, Charlotte Church, Doris

Local Food Stores Will Post Ceiling Prices

Separate ceiling price posters will be issued each month starting during the month of October, for each grocery store in the eight northern counties in New Jersey where the dollars-and-cents community pricing program for market basket foods is put into effect. Andrew F. Zazzali, OPS District Director for northern New Jersey has announced.

For Group 1 and 2 stores—the smaller stores—community ceilings will be computed by applying the allowable retail markups—as provided by the OPS retail grocery regulation—to the current whole sale selling price. This is known as a "ceiling on selling" basis.

For Group 3 and 4 stores—the chains and supermarkets—community ceilings will be computed by the allowable retail markups to the retailers' current net costs.

Mr. Zazzali reminded the trade that community pricing does not do away with the existing wholesale and retail grocery regulations. They continue in effect. Community pricing does not raise or lower the general level of ceiling prices. For controlled items not community-priced, the grocer continues to compute his ceilings as in the past. For community-priced items, however, the ceiling price computations are made by the OPS office serving the area. This results in uniform ceiling prices for the market basket items over which OPS retains authority to control prices.

Will List 350 Items
Zazzali noted that the community pricing posters will carry the following notation: "Fruits and vegetables, fresh, canned, frozen, and dried are not on this poster, as they have been decontrolled by act of Congress."

The posters will list about 350 items and will be issued for each 30 day period. Supplementary cards will be issued weekly for any changes which may result in the weekly recalculation required by the grocery regulations.

To set the community ceiling and issue posters OPS has surveyed the relationship between ceilings and selling prices on about 600 items from which about 350 items have been selected for community pricing.

The information obtained by OPS from wholesale concerns relates to delivery and pricing zones for use in defining the community pricing areas which take into account normal distribution practices of the local food trade.

Jungle Stampedes Make Strand Film a Thriller

"Ivory Hunter," new Universal-International Technicolor release, was filmed on location near the base of Mount Kilimanjaro, highest mountain peak in Africa. Anthony Steel, Dinah Sheridan and Harold Warrender are starred in the J. Arthur Rank presentation now showing at the Strand Theater through Saturday, October 25.

Wild animal stampedes and tribal customs of the East African savanna brought the new film

In the expected absence of father and mother.

The sound effects are waiting on the sidewalk, and take the opportunity of rehearsing on the ride to the radio station. With cars jingling, we walk into the studio, whereupon the cast freezes and can't get out a feeble "yah-h-h." Tact and studio direction throw them, and they scream for a sustained two minutes into the microphone. The play-back sounds not quite four average boys, but must certainly be a recording of an angry crowd at a Dodgers game.

Slight delay at the studio, while I cue in a fill-in in the dialogue, read half-a-page for timing, and untangle the sound effects from the teletype. The sound effects are full of beans on the way home, the result of their unprecedented dramatic experience, which however, they assure me will not start them on the road to Hollywood. Sweetness and light prevail at home, though the turkey is still raw, and the stand-in hostess wishes I hadn't returned, so she could play her role to the utmost. The guests sit out on the lawn and admire the sunset. What a peaceful place, they murmur. So gazing in to sit and study the beauties of nature on a quiet Sunday.

I guess it is. I wouldn't know.

'Chocolate Soldier' Next At Paper Mill

The first of the popular operettas to be based on an established theatrical hit play, "The Chocolate Soldier," featuring the gay music of Oscar Straus, will pay its first visit in five seasons to the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn beginning Monday, Oct. 27 immediately after the current engagement of "Carousel" comes to a close.

Based on the great George Bernard Shaw's comedy success, "Arms and the Man," which was first seen in the early years of the century, "The Chocolate Soldier" has established a musical pattern which is almost universal today. Practically every outstanding musical show of recent seasons has been based on a hit play or a successful book.

In recognition of the fact that the plot of "The Chocolate Soldier" brings together a pair of lovers who are at odds through most of the production, Frank Carrington is bringing back the scrapping lovers of "Kiss Me, Kate," the season's outstanding hit for the starring roles. Ted Scott will essay the title role and the lady he pursues will be Virginia Oswald.

An added touch is being given the new production in that it will be presented with a full ballet for the first time. The entire dancing corps, imported from the St. Louis Municipal Opera in large part by Anthony Nello, choreographer, which is currently appearing in "Carousel," will be retained to give added tone to "The Chocolate Soldier." Nello is currently preparing a series of European peasant dances to enhance the operetta, as was done during its recent Broadway revival.

Until the 18th Century, sugar was either a luxury item or a medicine in Western Europe.

That's Quite a Tree You Have on Your Lawn, Sir

The tree by your door is having a wonderfully busy time right now. It's manufacturing a couple of million tiny corks. It's adding miles of minute channels to an amazing water collecting system. It's expanding its waistline with diamonds and artistic works of sculpture. And it's finishing the job of wrapping and sealing its future life in thousands upon thousands of the nearest little packages you can behold.

What does a tree want with so many corks? Simply, says Dr. H. H. Marshall, director of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories, to shut off the free flow of sap when the leaves drop in autumn. Otherwise the tree would dry out and die in winter.

At the base of the stem of each leaf, where the stem is attached to the twig, are special cells that loosen, dry out and turn corky every fall. This cork plugs the pipelines that bring sap into the leaf. It also prevents the dyes and pigments in the leaf from escaping, thus giving us Autumnal foliage. How many tiny corks your tree has depends upon the number of leaves—as many as 7,000,000 in a well grown elm. While this is going on and even after the leaves have fallen, the root system of the tree is making new growth, adding millions of gossamer-like hairs that reach out and unlock a film of water from a soil particle. Laid end to end, they would extend miles and miles. No one ever counted them, but a scientist once estimated a single plant of winter rye produced billions of root hairs that totaled 6,000 miles.

Just as silently the tree is adding to its girth growth, expanding and stretching its bark. Eucalyptus bark doesn't stretch, so it tears apart leaving characteristic patches of white inner bark. Ash forms criss-cross ridges that look like diamonds. Shagbark hickory takes on shingles. Always the sculpture is in a certain way—the elm with shallow ridges running up and down, the birches smooth, the white bark peeling and the gray bark shredding edgewise.

During the last three months the tree has been laying down next year's bark and flower buds, folding, bending and twisting miniature leaves and flowers that will make the tree a thing of beauty again. Now the tree is adding the final waxes and waterproofing materials and injecting the perfect balance of chemicals amount of air and water the buds need to keep alive during the winter.

That's quite a wonderful tree you have by your door. Do you appreciate it a little more now?

Can Build Cover For Laundry Trays

You can get rid of unsightly laundry trays in that basement where you want to create a recreation or rumble room—and still have them.

It's easy. Build a cover that can be slipped over them. Put the cover on roll-bearing-equipped casters, so it can be moved in and out easily.

The cover can take the form of a table or stand for flowers or for storage of items of many types. It can be made with a base to completely hide the front and two ends of the trays and be topped with shelves on which flowers or decorative pieces can be set when they are not used to hold starch, bleach, detergents, soap powders and like items, which can be kept out of sight when not needed on a shelf in the base of the cover.

Such covers can be made of light wood, 1 inch by 2 inch, dressed, should be strong enough, although corner pieces could be select fir or soft wood, 2 by 3 inch dressed pieces.

The cover proper can be built of plywood in varying thicknesses of insulating board, hard or pressed fiber board, or of factory-decorated panelboards, which comes in many attractive colors.

Such covers can be painted or papered, decorated with decals or striped with aluminum or stainless steel moldings.

Product Finishes

Forty per cent of the paint industry's sales are represented by "product finishes." These are the finishes that beautify, protect and increase the serviceability of new furniture of all kinds, of food and other containers, of automobiles, railroads and countless industrial products.

Flooring in Attic Should Be Sturdy To Add Rigidity

A floor installed in finishing an attic can either make, or almost break your house.

It can add rigidity to the framework of a house when it's properly laid. It can induce vibration enough to loosen and crack plaster—if it's poorly planned or improperly laid.

All attics aren't intended as living space. However, if ceiling joists are heavy enough and headroom is sufficient enough under the pitch of the roof to allow for room width, you may be able to go ahead with an improvement that will enlarge your house in both livability and value.

Plan Extensions
Most unused attics have no floors at all. A few boards usually form a catwalk left by the builders directly under the ridgepole. This gives you a good chance for an inspection. You can plan your wiring extensions and heating and plumbing lines needed before laying the floor.

In planning for rigidity, take a look at the joist span. If any of them reach more than 8 feet, it's a safe bet you need bridging. This arrangement of criss-crosses should be midway in the span.

In the case of an attic you'll find it simpler to install pieces of 1-by-3s between the joists as you see them in the cellar. With two nails at each end, these will distribute the weight on the floor by preventing joists from swaying under pressure.

The best floors comprise a sub-floor and a finish floor. This wasn't done generally before 1900, but it has been found that a subfloor reduces nail movement and hence reduces squeaking. The use of heavy plywoods has been changing this practice somewhat for attics, but rough subfloors still are usually used. The provide a working surface until the rooms are ready for the finishing touches.

Four Materials

Four general subflooring materials are plain boards surfaced four-sides (S4S), dressed and matched lumber (tongued and grooved), end-matched tongued and grooved, and the plywoods. Cheapest is S4S plain, random lengths, available in widths from 4 inches up. It's not a good idea to use boards more than 6 inches wide. Expansion and contraction increases too much in greater widths. This can cause squeaking and other troubles. In estimating the amount you need, measure the square feet and add 20 per cent for waste.

You can get the greatest stiffness by running the subflooring diagonally. But right angle laying is common and more economical.

Eightpenny finishing nails are driven diagonally to pull each board snugly against its neighbor. Two nails are used for each board at each joist. All board ends must be sawed to fall squarely on the center of a joist and these ends must be staggered so that no two joists will fall adjacent on the same joist.

Metal Lath and Plaster Give Fire Protection

Fire protection authorities have long recognized the fire-resistant qualities of metal lath and plaster construction in the protection of hotels and housing projects. However, the majority of the persons in the United States live in single unit homes. Metal lath and plaster fire protection can be used in these homes just as effectively as in the larger constructions, especially around stairways to sleeping quarters. This construction will act as a fire barrier to the spread of flames from one room to another.

FOR A DUSTLESS DRIVE

Dust can be kept down on dirt driveways by sprinkling them with calcium chloride and grass can be prevented from growing up between flagstones by pouring a strong solution of salt and water over it.

The world's loneliest radio station is said to be that on Willis Island, 400 miles east of Australia, where two operators keep and transmit weather records.

'OPEN AIR GARAGE' IS NEWEST TREND

Porch Doubles as Carport

Photos by Practical Builder

Two modern trends in home building, each combining economy and good design, are the open air garage and the open air carport. One is the inclusion under an extended roof line of a porch that is also a carport, an arrangement that eliminates the cost of a garage and adds spaciousness to the house. The other is the use of asbestos-cement siding shingles as the exterior sidewall finish. Increasingly popular for new home construction, asbestos siding is economical in cost, attractive in appearance and completely incombustible. It is rotproof and wearproof and will last the life of the house without requiring preservative aids. Asbestos siding now is made in many harmonious new colors. In the house in the lower picture colored siding is combined with white for added distinction. The houses, built to sell for around $11,000, are two of 850 in a new Denver, Colo., development.

Breaking-in Time For New Plumbing Creates Problems

The plumbing in a new home should give the owner little or no trouble during the "breaking-in" period. Homeowners can readily handle minor plumbing problems that crop up later on.

One such problem is the annoying dripping of faucets. To remedy this, simply remove the whole valve assembly of the faucet and examine it and the valve seat for minute chips from the cuttings of tubing or pipes.

The valve may not be closing properly because of the chips, which should of course be removed. These tiny cuttings get into the water lines of every new home, and are washed into the faucets by the flow of water, naturally.

Another likely cause of the dripping faucet is a worn washer. Washers are fastened at the end of the valve assembly by a small screw—are easily removed and replaced.

Care With Faucets

Care should be exercised in closing faucets, says the National Association of Home Builders. They should be closed just hard enough to shut off the flow of water. Apply too much pressure in closing a faucet and you weaken valve washers before their time.

From time to time you may find that the toilet tank flushing mechanism has gone awry. Remove the top of the tank to uncover this simple mechanism. A test or two will show you how it works.

The rubber-ball valve plunger—it moves vertically, opening an exit for the water—is subject to deterioration. New plungers can be had at hardware stores, the old one removed by unscrewing the screw holding it to the end of the vertical rod, and the new one inserted.

The larger ball float—made of plastic or metal—which maintains the water level in the tank, can also be easily replaced. The float should then be readjusted to the proper water level shown by markings at the end or rear of the tank.

Hot water heaters normally collect small quantities of scale and sludge. This brown-colored water can be drained off by opening a valve found at the bottom of all water heaters.

Hot water heaters, whether gas, electric or oil operated, have heat control mechanisms—they look something like thermostats—which should normally be set at about 125 degrees, but where automatic washing machines are used may be set for 145 degrees.

The lower setting is preferable in order to avoid possible scalding.

Survey Reveals What Is Sought By Home Buyers

A surprisingly strong nationwide tide in favor of year-round air-conditioning of homes—almost equally as strong in the North as in the South—is disclosed by a survey of the latest home trends just completed by the Coleman Co. of Wichita, Kan., home heating manufacturer. The poll of new-home buyers and prospective new-home buyers also disclosed a general picture of what Mr. and Mrs. America want today in the way of a new home.

Outstanding Trends
Besides the great interest in year-round air conditioning, outstanding trends shown by the survey include an almost landslide popularity for the ranch-type home over traditional Colonial and Cape Cod styles and heavy preferences for expandable houses, picture windows, open planning which combines the functions of two or more rooms in a single large area, warm air heating, three bedrooms and facilities for indoor living.

Year-round air conditioning, the latest feature in home comfort, was found to have achieved phenomenal acceptance in a comparatively short period. The study showed that 43.3 per cent of those in the market for a new home in all parts of the nation wanted summer cooling. Interest in summer cooling was almost as great in the Northern states—43.6 per cent—as in the South.

The vote was overwhelming—97 per cent—in favor of whole-house summer cooling operating through the central forced warm air distribution system, as against individual room window or cabinet units, if both methods cost the same.

To test the acceptance of summer cooling against such well-established features as basements and two-car garages, the researchers posed questions on what homebuyers would prefer if year-round air conditioning could be supplied for the same cost as either of the other features. A total of 43.7 per cent said they would rather have summer cooling than a basement; 38 per cent chose summer cooling over a two-car detached garage.

Radical Shift

In a radical shift in popular taste during the last 12 years, the person's questioned preferred ranch-type homes six to one over Cape Cod and Colonial styles combined. A total of 54.2 per cent said they wanted ranch-type architecture; only 6.8 per cent preferred Cape Cod and 42 per cent Colonial. In contrast, a 1941 poll showed that 43 per cent of the houses built in that year were of Cape Cod design and 26 per cent were Colonial.

Picture windows have jumped in popularity—84.2 per cent of the persons questioned wanting them as against 69 per cent of new-home owners in a 1949 survey—but the picture window is moving around from the street side of a house to an enclosed yard area for privacy.

Strong interest was shown in homes which could be expanded, 61.1 per cent of those polled saying they would like their new house planned so that an extra room could be added later at minimum cost.

The three-bedroom house has never been as popular as it is today, the researchers found, and the desire for spaciousness both indoors and outdoors brought heavy votes for open planning, in which a single large area combines the functions of several small room areas, and for large glass areas combined with fenced-off space for patio, play-yard or work-yard.

Should Plan Home as Permanent Investment

A home should be planned as a sound, permanent investment. Good planning pays dividends in comfortable, gracious living, and creates high resale value in case of future sale.

After a floor arrangement is selected that will provide the greatest comfort and convenience for the various members and interests of the family, careful planning should continue with the use of first-grade building materials and equipment. Many new materials have been developed and old standards vastly improved since the war. Only by use of the highest grade materials does a home builder get the fullest value from his dollar.

New ideas of architects and designers should be considered and used if they will add to the family's enjoyment of the home.

Parents' Problems

By DONALD M. MAYNARD

My little boys, aged four and eight, want to play with guns constantly. I have a natural feeling against this, but am not sure whether I am justified. For a while I was able to limit them to water guns and pop guns, but now the other boys in the neighborhood have two-gun holsters with bullets. I used to reason that they had no proper conception of what a gun is, but now my two insist that they want to play cops, robbers, and cowboys so they can "make people be dead." Where shall I draw the line?

Many of us are not as concerned as we once were about this matter. Playing with guns or their counterpart seems always to have been an activity of children. And certainly it is understandable. Children have excitement, adventure, and noise. A slight amount of fear, such as one gets when being chased, brings a feeling of exhilaration. When some of us were young, we enjoyed playing "Indians" and would seal our victims with much enthusiasm.

It was exciting to stalk our "enemy" through the woods, to make him bleed, to beat and prowl to scalp him. To be sure, we knew it was all play, and so far as I know none of us have scalped anyone since we became adults! So it is with cops and robbers and cowboys. The youngsters know it is all play. But it's fun to chase each other and to say, "Bang, bang, you're dead." For underprivileged children in situations where food is scarce and thievery is common, such games may precipitate antisocial behavior. For the average youngster, it simply supplies some of the adventure and excitement he craves.

It is unfortunate, however, when children "play with guns constantly," as you suggest your children are doing. Although there are certain dramatic possibilities in this type of play, children tend to be guided into more creative play. Your clue is not to play with guns, but to provide play equipment and to provide guidance, that will channel the children in more constructive activities.

How do you teach a child not to interrupt others who are speaking? This is part of the question of the importance of the individual in the family. How do you teach unselfishness, generosity, sharing, and kindness?

First of all, ask yourself the question: Am I in the habit of paying close attention to my child, is talking, or am I constantly interrupting him? If you are, interrupt your child's play. Example is a very important factor in teaching.

Another question is: Do we give our children a lot of family conversation?

If we fail to do so, if we do not when guests are present, may seem to them that the way they can get a hearing is to interrupt someone who is speaking. The major fault here, may lie in our thoughtless, less rather than in their destructiveness.

Let us remember, too, that frequently children interrupt and because of thoughtlessness. When an idea comes to them they want to express it right now. When they realize they have interrupted another, they quickly submit and await their turn in the conversation.

Sometimes, however, children not only get in the habit of interrupting others but do so deliberately, insisting on being heard right away, and in general are discourteous. If such behavior persists after parents have called their attention to it, it may be necessary to isolate the "interrupters" from the group and they are willing to co-operate with others by sharing and not dominating the conversation.

Twenty problems of parents are discussed in YOUR CHILD TODAY. It's free to readers of this paper. Mail a postcard to Donald M. Maynard, 810 Broadway, Nashville 2, Tennessee, for your copy.

House Can 'Sweat' Like A Cold Glass

The "sweating" that you notice on the outside of a glass of ice water on a hot day illustrates the phenomenon of condensation, which sometimes causes serious damage to buildings.

In the structure of a building, condensation can occur in cold weather when warm inside air, containing lots of water vapor, passes through the walls and hits the cold outer surfaces. Cooling of the air deposits water in the walls. Such condensation can harm the structure, cause paint failures and lessen the effectiveness of insulation.

All insulated houses should be protected against condensation. One recommended means is to provide a vapor barrier on the warm side of insulation to bar passage of water vapor through the walls. Ventilation on the cold side of insulation, especially in the attic, also is recommended for control of inside water vapor.

Reserve One Closet

When you're planning closets for a new home, be sure to reserve one for use as a cleaning center, where all your cleaning equipment—vacuum cleaner, mops, brushes, brooms and cleaning fluids—will be centrally located. It can be in the kitchen, in an entry, or even in a connecting garage.

Education Head Calls Taxpayers Report Confusing

Leonard E. Best of Summit, chairman of the Legislature-authorized State School Aid Commission, declared last week: "Recent statements by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association regarding class size and school costs are confusing."

The Commission recently released a report of a two-year study on New Jersey's educational needs.

"Taxpayers in this state have a great stake in education," continued Mr. Best who also is president of the Summit Education Board, "and the Taxpayers Association is doing itself and its members a disservice in clouding the immediate need for additional school aid with a mass of statistical detail."

"When the Taxpayers Association says that the School Aid Commission was in fact, estimating on the basis of 14 or 17.5 pupils per class, in arriving at the pupil-teacher requirement of 70 per high school teacher, the Taxpayers Association is completely confused. The School Aid Commission was aware of the fact that, with classes of high school students cutting across varying subject areas, depending on the child's program, it was not possible to drop a teacher for every decline of 25 or 50 pupils and still maintain the school program."

"Experience shows that the actual reduction in high school averaged about one teacher for an enrollment decline of 70 students. In estimating the needs to meet the projected high school expansion, it therefore seemed logical to anticipate the addition of one teacher for every 70 pupils, because, for a time at least, some expansion of high school enrollments could be met without a corresponding increase in teachers."

Replying to what the Taxpayers Association calls "diverse and inconclusive educational pronouncements" as to class size, in the Commission report, Mr. Best notes that data available to the Commission clearly indicated classes of 30 to 40 or more are common in New Jersey schools. The School Aid Commission, he pointed out, had stated in its report, "Unfortunately the quality of education in many districts undoubtedly suffered. The evidence lies in teacher shortage, high teacher turnover, difficulties in recruitment for teacher-education institutions, and overloading of classes which has characterized the past decade."

Mr. Best termed the Taxpayers Association's use of average teacher ratios as "meaningless" when such ratios include handicapped-child classes of 8 to 12 and vocal music classes of 80 to 85. He declared, "The size of the pupil-teacher ratio is determined by consideration of the various factors at the local level and in most cases reflects the best judgment of the local Board of Education and its professional staff as to the quality of education which people in the local district demand."

Summarizing, Mr. Best declared, "It is unfortunate that the Taxpayers Association finds it necessary to go back to 1933 to establish the ground work for its current discussion of educational policy. In that period an entirely different economic and educational situation prevailed."

Summit, included private homeowners as well as tenants in commercial apartment houses and in privately-owned apartments. Relative to the lifting of rent controls, I have learned at first hand that the Council was even more biased in arriving at its decision than no substantial shortage of housing exists in Summit than I had originally believed. And relative to Council action in general, I have heard the Council repeatedly criticized for its methods, closed-door methods which would be unacceptable in the operation of a going corporation.

What kind of men, then, are setting the pattern of Summit? The citizens of this city elected them, entrusted to them a responsibility for honest and prudent judgment in all matters of trust which appears to have been abused. Let them stand up and be counted, the president who apparently is too busy to listen to the citizens if I am to judge by his remark to me in a recent conversation that I was wasting his time, and the other six councilmen all of whom more often than not hand down decisions unanimously.

Running for Freeholder of Union County in the Elections next month:

From the right of each ward every citizen is demanded that these men represent the people and not bow to the dictates of any group. In matters of rent controls, we saw the Council yield to the interests of the Real Estate Board despite the preponderance of evidence indicating a housing shortage. Among other things, President Taylor himself told me the Council knew there were long lists of waiting applicants for apartments. Because the rent control issue affects such a large group of individuals, let us take a look at the results of the Council's irresponsible action in this matter. It is an action which because of the existing shortage of housing, has caught many tenants in a hopeless squeeze between paying exorbitantly higher rents — and financially unable to do so, or moving with no place to go. Taking their cue from our city fathers, some landlords have been less than scrupulous. Before the September 29 deadline, I was told, of excessive increases in rent in one case. The Herald of October 2 reported that Gross' office had been flooded with calls from "borderline" cases where rent increases created an economic crisis. The writer's own experience illustrates the depth to which our democratic way of life can fall when human rights and freedoms are denied. The following exchange of correspondence between our landlord, Private Realty Management Corporation, 125 Fifth avenue, New York 11, N. Y. and my mother speaks for itself. Behind the Iron Curtain tactics such as these stifling individual expression. We cherish freedom of speech as our rightful heritage in this country and can proudly note there are few, if any, who would deny it.

Dear Mrs. Blasing:
This is to serve you notice that we are terminating your tenancy with the 30th day of November of this year.

Due to our foregoing notice you will be required to vacate premises on or before November 30th and surrender to us your apartment B3 as well as your garage. We will feel at liberty to re-rent your apartment and garage as of December 1st, 1952.

Dear Mr. Fromm:

I should appreciate hearing from you at your earliest convenience.

Dear Mrs. Blasing:
Your letter of October 7th has been received.

We trust that our notice is self-explanatory and we feel that it is unnecessary to go into details.

Our notice stands as given and will neither be modified nor revoked.

Yours very truly,
BRUNO I. FROMM, President

It may be of interest to note that we have occupied our apartment for 11 years and, in common with other tenants, agreed to the 20 per cent voluntary increase in rent allowed by law in recent years.

I believe in the American way of life. To protect our rights and freedom we must have good government from the ground up. Our Common Council has been weighed and found wanting. It is up to each citizen in our city to see that existing conditions are corrected without further delay.

Power, politics at the local level lead to moral turpitude at the national level.

Editor, Summit Herald:

In a September issue of your paper a front-page article reported an independent movement among Republicans in Union County to support the Democratic candidate for the United States Senate. I urge this group to reconsider and support the whole Republican ticket—Eisenhower, Nixon and Senator Smith because:

1. In order to handle the many difficult legislative problems effectively which will arise through the Eisenhower administration needs the backing of a Republican Senate and House. The Democrats enjoyed a majority of four seats in the Senate, 82nd Congress, second session. Nineteen formerly Republican seats and eleven formerly Democratic seats are to be filled in the November election. If reelected, Senator Smith may tip the scales to a Republican majority in the 83rd Congress. Without a Republican majority, the Democrats would again hold the chairmanships of all the Senate Committees.

2. Senator Smith is a leader among the Republican Senators. He is thoroughly competent and conscientious. The Senator has had eight years of experience with National legislative procedures.

3. The Senator has long been in sharp disagreement with and critical of the Administration's Far Eastern Policy. Senator Smith was the Second Ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He will undoubtedly continue to serve on this committee if reelected and will play an important role in formulating foreign policy under Eisenhower's Administration.

4. Senator Smith is also likely to be reassigned to the Labor and Public Welfare Committee. As a member of this committee, the Senator would have an important committee responsibility concerning any new labor laws coming before the 83rd Congress. The Senator voted for the Taft-Hartley Act and for a bill containing 29 amendments to Taft-Hartley favored by labor leaders in 1949.

5. A junior Senator would not be given assignments to such important committees and would not, therefore, be in a position to assume a role of leadership for some time.

For these reasons all Republicans and independent-minded Democrats can ill afford not to support the Eisenhower-Nixon-Smith and local Republican ticket this November 4th.

State Rent Curbs Still Exist

Despite the lifting of rent lids in Summit, certain state provisions concerning rent increases still remain in effect, Harry Mopsick of Linden, chairman of the New Jersey Council for Rent Control Protection, said recently.

Mr. Mopsick instructed tenants that in cases where municipalities have not renewed controls, any rent increases should be refused unless the landlord has met state requirements.

Mr. Mopsick said:

"Mere lapse of rent controls does not automatically entitle a landlord to a rent increase. Under New Jersey law, he must first terminate the old contract of tenancy with the tenant by proper thirty-day notice, and then, at the expiration thereof, can collect an increased rent, provided he also served the tenant with an additional notice advising what the new rental will be.

"A tenant who refuses to pay a rent increase merely on the strength of the landlord's verbal notice cannot be dispossessed. All such a tenant has to do is offer his landlord the old rental until the landlord complies with the State law and the thirty-day period ends."

College Club Sponsors British Film

British Film

One of the world's most famous husband-and-wife acting teams—Lilli Palmer and Rex Harrison—will have the leads in the next Summit College Club foreign film, "Notorious Gentleman," to be shown at the Strand theater on Tuesday at 2:30, 7 and 9 p.m.

Sophisticated British drama, "Notorious Gentleman," is a J. Arthur Rank production. Describing it as excellent, Cue Magazine says of the film that it is "enlivened by bright-witty, first-rate comedy."

The story is that of "a magnificent heel," a wealthy ne'er-do-well and how he disturbs the lives of those around him. Two other talented and beautiful English actresses, Margaret Johnstone and Jean Kent, are also in the cast.

The depression of 1837 was believed by merchants of that time to have been unusually severe because of the lack of organized agencies to check on the credit status of business houses; the first credit rating agency was established soon after that time.

IKE'S LOOK-A-LIKE—Winners of the "Baby-most-resembling-Eisenhower" contest, conducted last week by the Summit Eisenhower for President Club were Nancy Ruth Boyd (right) 8 months old, who was awarded a silver plate for first prize, and Jennifer Hodges (left) four years old, who won a canvas shoe bag for second prize. Miss Hodges, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hodges of 24 Fernwood road, was judged from a baby photo taken four years ago. With the first prize winner is her mother, Mrs. R. C. Boyd of 180 Summit avenue. (Frantzen)

Continental Congress was in session at Princeton.

Meandering motorists might like to stop and view the ruins of the old Oxford Furnace, located at Oxford, in Warren County. This charcoal blast furnace supplied cannon balls to the American forces during early wars, and later turned out cut nails. It is the only one of Jersey's colonial charcoal furnaces still standing, and was the first in America to utilize the hot blast.

Among other places of interest to fall tourists in New Jersey are the birthplace of Grover Cleveland, 22nd President of the United States, at Caldwell, in Essex County; the Walt Whitman House at Camden; Boxwood Hall, home of Elias Boudinot, president of the Continental Congress at Elizabethtown, Union County; and both the old Dutch Parsonage and Wallace House at Somerville.

New Garden Apartments 100 Per Cent Rented

Announcement was made this week by Elmer G. Houston of S. E. & E. G. Houston, Summit realtors, that the recently opened Summit Village garden apartments at 390 Morris avenue are now 100 per cent rented. The development contains 38 four and five room apartment units.

The Houston agency handled the leasing of the property and secured the mortgage for the owner and builder, Morris Tresser of Maplewood.

Nature Club to See Canadian Films Tonight

Richard O. Nett of Madison will open the 1952-53 season for the Summit Nature Club this evening with an illustrated lecture on "Jasper National Park" and other Canadian pictures. The club will meet at the YMCA at 8:15 as usual, with James W. Hand, Jr., president in the chair.

Mr. Nett, who is the owner of the Plantin Press, New York City, has long indulged his hobby of photography and was the organizer and first president of the Madison Camera Club.

When the Canadian National Railway and U. S. Camera Magazine announced a camera trip through Canada in 1949, Mr. Nett was one of the thirty people chosen out of a field of 400 applicants from the whole country, to make the journey. The party, with two instructors, one a member of the staff of the New York Sun and the other from the Railway, traveled by private car and made frequent stops across Canada at photographic points. Mrs. Nett accompanied them. The following year Mr. and Mrs. Nett drove in their own car through Canada to complete the series needed for his contemplated lecture. The choice films of both trips will be shown tonight.

Frederick T. Naumann, program chairman, will introduce the speaker.

Membership in the Nature Club is open to the public and can be secured through the treasurer, Miss Jeannette Middlebrook, or the membership chairman, Mrs. J. R. Whitlock, at the door.

State Offers Sightseers Many Historical Spots

With fall traffic at less than half the summer peak, on New Jersey's main highways officials of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development say sightseeing will occupy many visiting motorists and school groups during October and November.

Traffic surveys made by members of the State Highway Department show that annual fall reductions of up to 50 per cent may be expected on highways 6, 25, 23 and 43. Similar reductions are reported on other roads.

One of the original 13 states, New Jersey has unique historical traditions of its own, and fall tours to old battlefields, historic houses, and scenic picnic areas have become an annual attraction for school groups.

More than 100 battles and skirmishes fought between patriot and British forces took place in New Jersey, earning her the nickname "Cockpit of the Revolution." Many of these sites are marked by State signs, and some, such as the Princeton Battlefield, Washington Crossing, and Washington Rock have been made into State Parks, complete with picnic and other facilities.

The Department of Conservation and Economic Development maintains some 17 historic sites, many of which are now museums or have museums located nearby. These museums are open to the public daily, except Monday, and may be visited Sunday afternoons and all holidays except Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day. A small admission is required at some of the historic sites.

Significant among a variety of old buildings maintained by the Department is the General von Steuben House, situated on New Bridge Road, near North Hackensack, Bergen County. Built in 1752, it was occupied at different times by both British and Colonial forces. It is presently the headquarters for the Bergen County Historical Society, and contains numerous relics and antiques.

School groups especially may be interested in the Berrien Mansion "Rockingham," used as Washington's headquarters at Rocky Hill. It was here that the General wrote and delivered his "Farewell Address to the Armies." He occupied this building in 1783 while the

Mrs. H. P. Schaub Gives Talk on Christmas Gifts

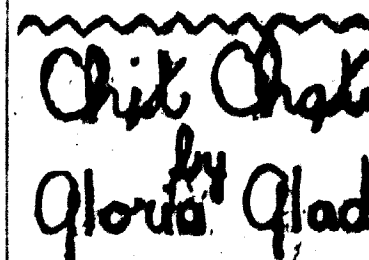

The opening meeting of the American home department of the Fortnightly Club was held on Friday at the club house at 9:30 a.m. Following a brief business meeting, Mrs. Loren E. Gay, chairman, introduced the speaker of the day, Mrs. Harry P. Schaub.

Mrs. Schaub, whose topic was "Artistic Suggestions for Christmas Gifts," started her program with a brief resume of how she had commenced making this type of gift. She then showed her audience samples of the different types of artistic work which she does, and offered patterns and helpful suggestions to those wishing to use some of the ideas.

Two unusual wooden cookie boards which Mrs. Schaub had found in a small shop in Holland, and which she believes date back to the 1700's, created much interest. She also showed samples of the products from the boards, and the manner in which she had trimmed them.

Table decorations, cunningly decorated oversized felt stockings ready for stuffing by Santa, Christmas tree ornaments, handkerchiefs, toys, door decorations, and gift wrappings made unique with her own stencil prints, were among the items on display. Mrs. Schaub made a special effort to present those things which the average person with little artistic ability could easily design and execute. She demonstrated that even a tin can could be made into a useful, beautiful gift for a remembrance.

Coffee was served prior to the meeting. Mrs. Lloyd L. Hughes was chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Sidney Skoug and Mrs. Frank D. Connell. Mrs. Carlton M. Lewis was in charge of the floral decorations on the service table.

Chick and Mr. Spicer, all of Summit, and William J. Dougherty of North Arlington ushered.

The bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and satin. The fitted lace bodice was made with a Peter Pan collar, and long sleeves and the full satin skirt terminated in a long train. A pearl-trimmed lace cap held her fingertip nylon illusion veil and she carried stephanotis, roses, chrysanthemums and flowers of love with an orchid center. The honor attendant was gown in emerald green velvet and taffeta; the velvet bodice having a modified keyhole neckline and cap sleeves. She wore a matching matching velvet hat and carried Tallman roses and gold chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids wore similar gowns in olive green velvet and taffeta with crescent bouquets of gold and bronze chrysanthemums. The mother of the bride was attired in mauve silk shantung with powder blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore blue lace and chiffon with white accents.

SPORT RAMBLINGS

ED HOFFERT, Sports Editor

This Saturday afternoon Summit High School will face Glen Ridge at Memorial Field in a Suburban Conference game with the Hill-toppers a slight favorite to annex victory number two at the expense of the Ridgers. We recommend this game.

Last Saturday afternoon Summit faced the "Scouties" of Clifford Scott High School, rated one of the hottest scoring combinations in the East Orange gridders. Second only to Montclair's powerhouse, generally conceded to be a shoe-in to capture the Group IV Football Championship and receive recognition as the best grid machine in all of New Jersey. The East Orange gridders were led by their veteran seat back Freddy Hill, who should receive all-State honors on his showing of last Saturday afternoon. If for no other reason.

Summit High started slowly and couldn't untrack themselves, with both the offense and defense bogged down through one third of the game, but from midway of the second period through half of the final period the Hill-toppers performed in admirable fashion, showing their many faithful followers the undeniable spirit and determination that was prevalent in the season's opener at Roselle Park when they waged an uphill battle, being thirteen points behind at the end of the third period, only to roar to a three touchdown finish to emerge the victors by a 19-13 score.

Last Saturday, Coach Pete Kandrat's club didn't quit under pressure although most schoolboy eleven would have wilted under a four touchdown barrage such as confronted our S. H. S. gridders. It was Willie Mallory, Dick Dennis, Vee Grishy, Ken Sampson and Bobby Lindberg who kept the team well and will again "put-out" this Saturday in the hope of annexing a victory. How about a roaring welcome to our S. H. S. gridders this Saturday when they trot out to warm up for their big game with the Ridgers.

Rent-a-Car Business Opened By Meyer-Werner

Another business innovation developed in Summit this week when Meyer-Werner Motor Co. Springfield avenue, leased on a month-to-month basis, its first "ready-to-drive" car.

This practice, carried on in nearby Pennsylvania sections, is the first in New Jersey, according to a statement made yesterday by Paul Werner, head of the company.

The leasing agreement calls for the lessee to provide each vehicle with license plates and state inspection stamp plus the replacement of a new vehicle every 12 months when the mileage reaches 25,000; or after a maximum of 18 months of operation regardless of mileage.

Meanwhile, the lessee must carry liability insurance of at least $25,000 property damage and $100,000-$300,000 liability for each accident.

Fire, theft and comprehensive insurance will be carried by the lessor.

Rate of cars, at the present, are: 4-door Plymouth sedan, $65 per month; 4-door Dodge sedan, $85; 4-door Chrysler Windsor 6, $97.50 per month.

Use of Chemicals Speeds Compost

Crop residues and weeds should not be burned at garden clean-up time, but placed on a compost pile to rot during the winter. The addition of chemicals may increase the bacterial action and decay of the vegetation will be considerably faster.

For each ton of dry material mix about 35 pounds of limestone, 40 pounds of superphosphate, and 30 pounds of ammonium sulphate. Apply this mixture to each layer as the compost pile is made.

If it is not possible to get the superphosphate or ammonium sulphate or limestone separately, then use 50 to 75 pounds or more of either 5-10-5 or 5-10-10 commercial fertilizer with every ton of dry material.

It is important to add enough water to wet the pile thoroughly. Moisture is needed for the chemicals to act on the material and for the bacteria to become active and help in its rapid decomposition.

If the compost pile has already been made without chemicals, they can be added at the first turning.

Rotarians Hear Story of Junior Achievement

"Junior achievement is your people a hand, the speaker said."

business" was a statement made of Rotarians at their noonday luncheon in the YMCA on Monday by J. Kenneth Roden, executive director, Junior Achievement Program of Union County.

There is nothing to be afraid of, just reach out and give the young people a hand, the speaker said.

he said. Union county has a fine organization, was another statement Mr. Roden made, but it is still in its infancy and has a long way to go. Young people are swamped with propaganda against free enterprise, he said. Summit High School, he remarked, has a good attendance at the achievement meetings and said that the future is in the hands of the young people and they will have plenty to do with the business of the future. Another statement the speaker made was that on the question as to whether the government should run businesses the vote of the young Achievers was 45 per cent on the negative side. The speaker said a truism when he remarked that the young people of the day would have plenty to do with the business of the future. Following this a sound film on Junior Achievement was shown—depicting its start by businessmen, its organization and its progress along with statements by Achievers of their experiences.

President Dean H. Travis paid a tribute to Andrew Alvarez, recently deceased member of the board of directors and a motion was passed that the secretary draft resolution of sympathy to be sent to his family.

Channing R. Dooley, of Training Within Industry, a Summit organization, is a member of the board of directors of the Union County branch.

Guests were introduced by Edward C. Holmes, member of the youth service committee: Nathan Goodman, Jersey City; Ray Whitehead, New York City; Horace E. Baker, Westfield; Oscar Krause, East Orange; Mr. Imami and Mr. Kosrooshahi of Iran, guests of Carroll M. Stanley; E. T. Kaiser, guest of Richard L. Corby, Jr.; Ezra Ellis, guest of Allan R. Devenney; four members of the newly chartered Exchange Club; James Hunt, president; Charles Thorne, vice-president; Philip Aszolina, secretary, and Alfred Critteli, member of the local board of control, guests of the Rotary Club. The latter four guests were welcomed by Dean H. Travis, Rotary president.

Plants of Bible On Display in Trailside Exhibit

Starting last Sunday, October 19, and extending through Monday, October 27, Trailside Museum in the Watchung Reservation will have a special exhibit of "Plants of the Bible." There will be 40 large-size paintings of plants mentioned in the Bible, each in its natural colors, and beneath each, one or two quotations from the Bible referring to this plant.

These paintings will be on loan from the library of the New York

Botanical Garden, Bronx Park, New York City, and have never been seen here before.

The director of the museum, Dr. H. N. Moldenke, will give an illustrated lecture on Bible plants, with fifty colored slides of authentic scriptural plants. Included in the showing will be the fig, sycamore, olive, lily, rose, date, coriander, cummin, camphire, rue, wormwood, mulberry, bean, maple, cedar, tares, cassia, cinnamon, aloes, myrrh, labdanum, saffron, and many others.

Dr. Moldenke and his wife have worked for 15 years on this subject and their book "Plants of the Bible" has just recently been published by Chronica Botanica Publishing Co., Waltham, Mass. In it they summarize all that is known on this subject and compare most of the important ancient, medieval, and modern Bible versions, both Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish. Over 600 publications on the subject from 1568 to 1951 are reviewed. Their researches have identified 242 different plants mentioned or referred to in the Holy Scriptures.

Drop in Price Of Beef Is Forecast

The days ahead hold better news for beef lovers. During 1952, more beef has been heading to market than in recent years. What's more, an abundance of beef means that the retail price is likely to fall. Prices are generally lower this year than last, according to Messrs. Armstrong Union County home agent, and are expected to drop even more in the late autumn and early winter months, so be on the lookout for "specials" on beef.

This week, the Metropolitan Extension Marketing Office suggests the present meat buys according to cost per serving.

Those available for 20 cents or less are: frankfurters, hot dogs, liver, plate & navel, smoked tongue, canned luncheon meat, bacon, smoked shoulder (calf's) breast of lamb and lamb shank.

For 20 to 25 cents per serving, either chopped beef or skirt steak may be purchased according to the source.

And for between 25 and 30 cents there is chuck steak.

Remember cost per serving is a far better way to determine value in meat than cost per pound.

It pays to know the grades of beef, too. All meat that passes from one state to another undergoes Federal inspection. A round purple stamp on meat guarantees that the meat is wholesome and comes from federally inspected animals. The quality of all meat is classified as follows: prime, choice, good, commercial, or utility.

Wonderful Way to Start the Day!

Well, there he goes, backing out into the challenge of an October morning—and there's no denying that he's off to a wonderful start.

You see, he's at the wheel of a Golden Anniversary Cadillac—and there's no greater lift to the spirits than the deep-throated whisper of a Cadillac engine.

It says inspiring things to the man at the wheel.

It tells him, first of all, that life must have gone rather nicely—to take him from where he was—to a place where he owns and enjoys a beautiful Cadillac. Pretty good precedent for a good day today!

It tells him, too—that wherever he drives in the day's activities—the Cadillac crest will pave the way for the respect of the people he encounters.

Yes—he feels pretty good as he turns into the highway, touches his toe to the sensitive throttle, and heads into the adventure of another day.

The miles go softly by... the occasional tick-tick of the electric clock reminds him that he's ahead of time for his first appointment... and he settles back—relaxed and at ease. Nice, nice going!

Many men have told us that the drive to work in a Cadillac is the finest part of the day. Their heads are clear and their minds at ease as they roll serenely along—a wonderful time to think and plan.

Of course, this is only an extra value that comes with a Cadillac: comes in addition to comfort and safety—and dependability and long life—and all the other wonderful things that make this magnificent car the Standard of the World.

Why not come in and see us—and arrange to enjoy them all yourself?

We'd be happy to see you—any time.

Summit High Group Meets Gov. Driscoll

Forty Summit high school students were unexpectedly addressed by Governor Alfred E. Driscoll when the students were dining at Washington's crossing last week while on a social studies field trip. The 153-mile bus trip, arranged by John Wilson, social studies instructor, covered many historical spots.

The meeting was arranged through the restaurant proprietor who informed the governor that the students were on an American History field trip.

Mr. Wilson, explaining to the governor that the students were going to hold a mock election at a later date asked if the governor had any suggestions to offer on how they should vote.

In the 20 minutes spent with the students, Governor Driscoll related many of Eisenhower's qualifications. He stressed that Eisenhower is not a type like General Grant, who was considered an unsuccessful president.

Eisenhower's political strategy in Europe proved this point, Gov. Driscoll declared.

He congratulated Mr. Wilson on arranging the trip—"through pioneer New Jersey."

Some of the places on the itinerary were: Washington Rock, Somerville, Flemington, Morris Canal, Doylestown and Mercer Museum, Bowman's Hill and Tower, Trenton and Princeton.

Independent Voters Form Group to Back Mrs. Fisher

Announcement was made this week of a new "independent" voters group. A Committee of Independent Voters for the Election of Elizabeth B. Fisher of Plainfield.

Mrs. Fisher, a Democrat, is the only woman running for the office of member of the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Mrs. Richard Geiger of Harvey, N.J., is chairman of the committee.

THEY NOW LIKE IKE—General Dwight D. Eisenhower fondly greets Frederick F. Griswold (left) of Summit, N.J., and Robert A. Taft. Since the nomination of Eisenhower, they have both urged county voters to give their qualified support to Eisenhower. In the background (right) is Freeholder Albert J. $1,000,000 Worth Of Area Dwellings Near Completion

Eleven homes, which are open daily for public inspection, are nearing completion in the new Country Club section of Short Hills bordering Summit, which is being promoted by the Prudential Insurance Company of America, owners of the land, and Frank H. Taylor & Son, Inc., realtors and mortgage bankers, who are their managing and sales agents.

Carved out of more than 150 acres, which were formerly a part of the estate of Stewart Hartsorn, founder of Short Hills, this development is planned so as to afford views of two lakes, the rolling green links of Canoe Brook Country Club, and wooded hills stretching towards Union County. Located off White Oak Ridge road, the land rises gradually from Canoe Brook road to its highest point on Addison drive.

Announcement has been made by Harry A. Taylor, president of the promoting firm of realtors and a former president of the Institute of Real Estate Management, that 94 plots have been added to this section, making a total of 190 improved sites thus far developed in the tract.

These new lots are made available after four months' work on roads and utility installations along six new streets. All improvements, including storm and sanitary sewers, roadways, curbing, etc., are included without additional assessment in the price tags of the home sites, which run upward from $45 a foot.

The tract contains ranch type, conventional two story, 1½ story, and split level homes. To date 27 homes have been sold; 14 of which have already been occupied; the balance being in various stages of construction.

More than $1,000,000 worth of dwellings are scheduled for completion in the tract this fall and early winter. Careful planning and attention to detail are apparent as soon as one enters these homes which range in price from $28,000 to $42,000. They feature large rooms, picture windows, fireplaces, ultra-modern kitchens which include dishwashers, exhaust fans, etc., patios with outdoor fireplaces, brick work flower boxes, and a number of other modern touches, such as Mercury switches, recessed lighting, and electric controls for garage doors. The Taylor organization is offering a "packaged" custom homeownership plan, under which the buyer is offered a wide choice of home sites, housing plans, contacts with architects and builders, and both construction and permanent financing.

Builders, well known in the area, who are cooperating in the tract are: Carl Kolodin, Inc., Jacquot & Smith, Petley Construction, Olsen & Stausand, Robert E. Mulcahy, Jr., Guarantee Construction, Inc., Landrud & Nilsen, Spingarn Brothers, Peter Koellges, David Stoloff, Inc., National Builders, Inc., Adrian Construction Co., Ltd., Hadlen Corporation, and Richard Blaine.
