

Student Drivers Given Their Own Practice Street

Summit is going to get a brand new street. This street will differ from others in the respect that it will have only one entrance—through gates—and its use is restricted to high school students taking driver training courses.

The Board of Education came up with the idea when it became apparent that increased traffic on city streets presents hazards for student drivers. The driving course was inaugurated in the high school several years ago and since then between 100 and 125 students have been trained each year.

The roadway, under construction on a city-owned lot in Aubrey street, will be of similar width, 30 feet, to the typical city street and 13 feet long. A 130 foot branch from the main section of the street will provide facilities for practice runs. The main section and the branch will have turn-arounds at their terminations.

Common Council granted permission to use the land and the North Jersey Quarry Co. has donated stone stipplings for the foundation. The paving contract was awarded to J. Pastore & Son, Union low bidder.

The "driving range" will offer practice situations as recommended by the American Automobile Association. According to Stewart Lead, educational consultant for the New Jersey Automobile Club, Summit is the first city in the state to construct an area solely for this training.

Although at present, the street is restricted to school use, the Board of Education Board is considering opening the street under police supervision for public driver training on days when it is not in use by students.

Other action taken by the board at a recent meeting included the appointment of Mrs. Myrtle Stepp to replace Mrs. Lillian Fischer, resigned, as secretary in the guidance department and high school.

Mrs. Parsell was graduated from Union High School, Union, in 1928. From 1929 to 1937, she was school clerk and secretary in the elementary school of Union. For the next 11 years she was secretary to the principal of Union High School.

Mayor Bland Honored At Dinner Last Night

Mayor Percival M. Bland was guest of honor at a dinner given last night by the superior officers of the Summit Police Department at the Spring Lake Inn. The mayor, who is retiring at the end of this term, was presented with a gold watch engraved with his name and also the donors.

Among the guests were members of Common Council and C. Philip Dean, candidate for mayor and former councilman.

ON PEDDIE BOARD—Elected to the board of corporators of The Peddie School, Hightstown, last week was Alfred W. Alesbury of 105 New England avenue, president of The Summit Express Co. Mr. Alesbury's son, Dr. Robert J. Alesbury, graduated from Peddie. Mr. Alesbury is chairman of the board of the Summit Federal Savings & Loan Association, a director of the YMCA, a past chairman of Summit chapter, American Red Cross and a past president of the Rotary Club.

Chamber to Hold Annual Meeting Next Thursday

Nominations for new members of the board of directors of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce will be made public next Thursday, November 10, at the annual general meeting and buffet supper of the Chamber to be held at 6:30 p. m. at the YMCA.

In addition to the report of the nominating committee, members will be asked to vote upon two amendments to the constitution providing for an increase in the number of directors from 15 to 18 and the second providing for one general meeting yearly with additional meetings at the call of the directors. The present stipulation is that five general meetings be held annually.

Chairmen of the three Chamber divisions, merchant, industrial and civic-professional, will make reports and new members obtained through the recent membership drive will be introduced. The program will conclude with the showing of a film, "People, Products and Progress—1955" and a talk by a representative of the Port of New York Authority who will reveal the Authority's plans for maintaining and expanding the various Port facilities and their impact on the land, sea and air transportation of the Metropolitan area.

A buffet supper will be served without charge to all members attending.

Follies Talent To Be Selected Monday, Nov. 7

Do you sing like a bird, dance with wing-like feet, emote ala Judith Anderson or Maurice Evans? Does the odor of grease paint "send" you, are you dazzled by the glare of footlights, is there more "ham" than Hamlet in you?

Then run, don't walk, to contact a member of the talent committee for the 1955 Overlook Follies. They've scheduled their Talent Night Monday at 8:30 p. m. in the Hotel Suburban, where they expect to draw the cream of the crop talent-wise.

The Follies will hit the boards December 2 and 3, under the direction of Eric Schepard of Cargill Productions, with John Almqvist again the guiding musical genius. The Cargill firm has been responsible for all recent Follies shows.

The show will have a cast of more than 200 residents of the Overlook Hospital area, which covers Summit, Short Hills, Chatham, Madison, Millburn, Westfield, and other neighboring communities.

Because of space limitations at the hotel, and because of the cast size, admission to Talent Night will be by invitation only. All interested potential performers who have not received invitations are urged to contact a member of the talent committee.

Mrs. Donald W. Johnston and Mrs. Sumner B. Whitney are co-chairmen of the Summit committee. They will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Allison, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Brough, Mr. and Mrs. C. Duncan Brough, Mrs. C. W. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Milton F. Fleming, Mrs. John H. Heigel, Mrs. Edward H. Kaus, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Mercer, Mrs. Theodore Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Negus, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dale Patterson, Mrs. Gordon L. Proctor, Miss Marjorie Schultz, Mrs. Robert G. Urban, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Weeks, and Gerald Cummins.

Short Hills will be represented by Mrs. William Mullins, as co-chairman; Mrs. John Van Cleve, and Mrs. S. MacWhinney.

In Chatham, Mrs. Arthur Hens-

Witches, Goblins Leave City With Minimum Damage

More than 400 youngsters attended the four Board of Recreation sponsored parties on Halloween while the rest of the city remained relatively quiet. Witches, hobos, clowns and other fanciful characters attended the grammar school parties given at Edison Recreation Center, Washington and Bratton schools. The Junior High group elected to come uncostumed to its dance.

Police Chief Edward K. Egan reported that the week-end was quiet although he added 16 auxiliary police to the regulars on Saturday night, nine on Sunday and 26 on Halloween. On the latter night, the entire regular force of 42 also was on duty.

In the meantime, the winners of the Summit Optimist Club's Halloween window painting contest were announced. Judges were Mrs. Upton Thomas of 74 Passaic avenue, who gives private art instructions, and Mrs. Sonia Anderson of Elizabeth, a member of the Summit Public Library. Mrs. Anderson also has an art background.

Referring to the rash of vandalism that occurred in some nearby communities, Chief Egan stressed that it "was a good Halloween" despite the fact 12 juveniles were picked up for minor offenses on Monday night and ten on Sunday for disturbing the peace. The youngsters ranged in age from 12 to 17 and have never been in any serious trouble.

The offenses included the removal of house numbers, name plates, and the shooting off of fire crackers and gasoline bombs.

The Optimist Club which sponsored the window contest for the seventh consecutive year presented Walter C-F cartridge pens for the most artistic and most original pictures. Contestants were from the Summit High School, who worked individually, the Junior High School and the Senior High School art department. (Photo by Richard Kennedy.)

president Ogden D. Gensemer, Mayor Percival M. Bland, Mr. Gabrielson, former Councilman C. Philip Dean and Councilman John M. Mackie. Gensemer and Mackie are seeking re-election as Ward 2 and Ward 1 Councilmen, respectively, and Dean is seeking election as Mayor to succeed Mayor Bland who is retiring from public office. United Campaign Workers In Final Push to Hit Goal

Despite a second week-end of rainy weather, workers in the United Campaign rolled up an encouraging total in the third report session held at the YWCA last Sunday evening. With many of the prospect cards still not reported, the campaign scoreboard listed $84,332 or 68 per cent of the $123,700 goal. Outstanding cards include contributors from the business district and several individuals where increases are expected this year.

Chairman of the campaign, Roger M. Spalding, asked all captains to make a real effort during this week to secure final reports from their workers and return these to the United Campaign office, 332 Springfield avenue, on or before Saturday morning. Mr. Spalding said that while returns were held up somewhat this year because of the bad weather conditions, he was confident that final reports would send the drive over the top.

He pointed out that the special gifts division did not do advance solicitation this year and that its returns are necessarily delayed. He was particularly pleased, he said, to observe that many contributors had raised their giving standard in order to qualify for the Honor Roll recognition list which will be published following the campaign.

An innovation this year, the Honor Roll will include all donors who gave $18 or more or $2 per agency. Contributors were given the option of remaining anonymous if they desired.

Cited for special mention at Sunday's report session were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Hickok, chairmen of the northwest apartments division, who so far have turned in $1,109.50 with a quota of only $2,400.

In District 4, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Hallock of 9 Iris road, district leaders, were cited for reporting $2,610.50 of a quota of $2,750.

SCOREBOARD
	Quota To Date	%
General	$38,000	$44,167 70%
Special Gifts	44,500	30,785 70%

Railway Here Saturday

Summit High School gridders will make their last home appearance this Saturday at 2 p. m. at Memorial Field when they will meet the Rahway High School eleven.

The Maroon and White club, victors last week over Madison, will wind up the season on November 12 at Caldwell.

New Building Continues to Show Increase

New building permits issued during October continued the upward trend with the highest of $240,000 being granted to Ciba Pharmaceutical Products Inc. for a building on the company grounds on Morris avenue.

In September the total was $381,700 and in October, 1954, the figure was $249,500. However, a year ago October, the alteration figure was $209,813 as compared to last month's $16,650. The high alteration figure was due to a $200,000 addition to Central Presbyterian Church.

Among those who were granted permits last month were: Larry G. May, 80 West End avenue, $17,600; Tallaksen & Tallaksen, 20 Sweetbriar drive, $19,000; Wuthrich & Weigand Co., 19 Druid Hill road, $19,000; Howard N. Thiers, 2 Sunset drive, $19,000; Charles Grillo, 38 Twombly drive, $25,000.

Also, Barba Co., 19 and 11 Karen way, $16,000 and $15,000 respectively; E. Sauchelli, 141 Springfield avenue, $11,000; Harry Steinmar, 111 West End avenue, $15,500; A. E. J. Dunnder, 9 Cleveland road, $18,000; Howard Gensher, 104 Druid Hill road, $23,000 and Harold E. Harrison, 34 Sheffield road, $20,000.

Red Cross Spreads Out With Official Approval

A new charter changing the name of the local chapter from "The Summit Chapter" of the American National Red Cross to the "Summit Area Chapter" has been received from the national organization.

This change was made at the request of the board of directors of the local chapter, as it has felt that Summit Area would more closely define the jurisdiction of the chapter, which includes Berkeley Heights, New Providence, and Passaic Township, as well as the city of Summit.

The original charter was issued on August 30, 1917.

Toynbee Here Tomorrow

Athenaeum patrons are reminded again that the opening meeting for this season, which will present Dr. Arnold Toynbee, world-famed historian, will be tomorrow evening at Summit High School and not tonight.

Ordinarily Athenaeum meetings are held on a Thursday but in the case of Dr. Toynbee it was necessary to schedule the meeting for Friday, November 4.

Gabrielson Sees Tuesday Vote a '56 Omen for GOP

Tuesday's election will be "very much of a trial run" to determine the strength of the Republican party in the presidential election next year, Guy Gabrielson, former GOP national chairman, said Friday night.

Gabrielson, national committeeman from New Jersey, was the featured speaker at an area-wide Republican rally held at the Hotel Suburban. The affair was sponsored by the Summit central GOP committee.

Gabrielson told the audience of more than 400 that President Eisenhower probably will not be a candidate in 1956, a situation which makes the GOP convention in San Francisco a "wide open affair."

On his personal choice of a presidential nominee, Gabrielson said later that he will "stay in the middle of the road" until Eisenhower definitely announces his decision on a second term.

Mum About Case

Queried on his support of a "favorite son" candidate, and specifically Senator Clifford Case, Gabrielson had no comment beyond "you wouldn't want me to register my opinion now, would you?"

The national committeeman stressed the importance of precinct workers in the election, and urged ample recognition for members of the county committee. Young people, too, must be given an opportunity to take on added responsibilities, he said.

Gabrielson hit hard at personalty clashes in the political ranks, and declared that it is the "party responsibility" to support the entire ticket once it has been selected at the primary.

"Personal dislikes shouldn't enter the picture," Gabrielson stressed. "Just because you don't like the necktie a candidate wears, or, in the case of the ladies, her hair style, is no reason to fail to support them. Your duty is to vote for the entire Republican ticket, without finding fault with any particular candidate."

Peace and prosperity will highlight the national convention, Gabrielson believes. He added that the liberties and freedoms which Americans enjoy incur "great responsibilities" which can be sustained only through a representative form of government. "And the only way to maintain (Continued on page 2)

Five Got Jury Summons

Summoned for petit jury duty for the period ending November 12 were the following local residents:

Mrs. Margaret Field, 105 New England avenue; Mrs. Julia B. Hurst, 105 New England avenue; Mrs. Myrtle C. Bohren, 5 Midland terrace; Mrs. Zella T. Catano, 9 Midland terrace, and Mrs. Alice Bonner, 209 Morris avenue.

Local Candidates Defend and Attack Government in Summit

Does Summit have a "Model T" form of government? Is there an urgent need for opposing sides in City Council? Should the city be divided into four wards instead of the present two? These and other issues in the current election campaign were discussed last Friday night by candidates for city offices at a meeting of the Canoe Brook Association held at the YWCA.

"I don't see how anyone can contend that Summit has a 'Model T' form of government," said John M. Mackie, Republican candidate for Councilman from Ward 1. "Very recently Newark scrapped an obsolete commission form of government and adopted a system very similar to ours. I see no reason to reverse the process."

Takes Opposite View
At the same meeting, however, James L. Parris, Mackie's Democratic opponent, claimed this is not so. "In fact," Parris stated, "we can compare Summit's present set-up with the one Newark discarded. In Newark the city was run by commissioners, each of whom headed a department and

25 Candidates Accept Bid for Meeting Tonight
Twenty-five of the candidates, Republican and Democrat, seeking state, county and local offices on Election day have accepted the invitation of the League of Women Voters of Summit to appear tonight, at a candidates' meeting to be held by the League in the new Washington School auditorium on Morris avenue at 8 p. m. Office seekers for state senator, county freeholder, mayor, councilman-at-large and councilman in each ward will be presented to the voter.

Candidates will be asked to speak on what they think are the most immediate problems in their field of government. At the end of the time allotted for speeches there will be a question and answer period during which questions may be asked by the members of the audience. The League has prepared mimeographed biographical material on all the candidates which will be distributed to the audience.

Mrs. Rome Betts, voters service chairman, will be moderator for the meeting and ushers will be Mrs. H. B. Hass, Mrs. Donald Hudgin, Mrs. George Kadel, Mrs. Donald Hoestery, Mrs. William Hittinger, Mrs. Edward Goldstein and Mrs. Joseph Gordon.

The League cordially invites residents of Union County to attend the candidates' meeting and take advantage of the last local opportunity to see, hear and compare the candidates of both parties at the same time.

The League's non-partisan candidates' information sheet giving biographies of all the candidates for Union County and their answers to questions asked by the League is printed on page 2 of this issue. This year the League will distribute the flyers from a booth in front of the Summit Trust Co. on Springfield avenue on Saturday, November 5.

Canadian Dean Of Music to Be Presented Here

Boyd Neel and the Hart House Orchestra will be presented Saturday at 8:30 p. m. in the Summit High School auditorium under the auspices of the Summit Community Concerts Association.

Known to music lovers as "the Toscanini of the chamber orchestra" Mr. Neel was made dean of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto two years ago.

As founder and conductor of England's famous Boyd Neel Orchestra, he was well-known in the United States for his London recordings before touring with the orchestra in 1952.

This will be the first time that the association has presented an orchestral ensemble.

Shortly after moving to Toronto, Mr. Neel formed the Hart House Orchestra which is composed of a group of Canada's most outstanding instrumentalists.

The ensemble consists of fifteen strings; violins, violas, cellos and double bass. Mr. Neel describes it as "a group performing musical literature not commonly done or out of the scope of the large symphony orchestras."

Saturday's program will include: Eine Kleine Nachtmusik, K. 25 Mozart
Two Elegiac Melodies, Op. 34 Grieg

Prelude to the Deluge Saint-Saens
Waltz from Serenade in C. Op. 48 Tchaikovsky
Andante Cantabile from String Quartet, Op. 11 Tchaikovsky

In commenting on this second program of the season, Mrs. Malcolm Edgar, association president, said, "By bringing an orchestral ensemble such as this to Summit, the association feels that it is once again providing a remarkable opportunity for good listening to the many music lovers in Summit."

ran it his way. In Summit each councilman runs a department." He insisted that there is no comparison between Summit's "weak mayor-council government and Newark's strong mayor-council government."

In addition to Mackie and Parris, three other candidates for office spoke at the Friday meeting. They were C. Philip Dean, Republican candidate for Mayor; his opponent, Daniel J. Fitzpatrick, Democrat; and George H. Hufnail, Democratic candidate for Councilman-at-Large. The latter's Republican opponent, William R. Gilson, was unable to attend because of illness.

Admits Council Competent

Parris, the first speaker, stated that although the men currently in office have proven to be competent, a two-party system is needed in Summit if the city is to be assured of a healthy future. Also urgently needed, according to Parris, is a master plan for the city. Such a plan would have prevented, he said, the problem brought about by the erection of the Lumbermen's Casualty Insurance Building on DeForest avenue. This building, with its potential 1,400 employees, will complicate Summit's already impossible traffic situation, he claimed. Parris also contended that the new insurance building was the first step toward changing Summit from a small town in character to an urban community.

Answers Foe's Letters

Mackie, who followed his opponent, prefaced his remarks by saying he wished to reply to a number of statements that had been made by Parris in letters recently. (Continued on page 9)

Seers of Both Parties See Republican Victory

A GOP victory at the polls next Tuesday was predicted by political prophets of both the Democratic and Republican parties in New Jersey. A better than 20,000 GOP majority in Union County was predicted this week by the County Republican organization and Samuel W. Silverman, state chairman of New Jersey State Democrats, Inc., looked into his crystal ball and saw the county senatorial race going to the GOP candidate, Sen. Kenneth C. Hand, "by better than 8,000."

Silverman, however, looks farther afield than New Jersey and says that he feels the next President will be a Democrat but it will not be Stevenson. Silverman's predictions in the past have been quite accurate.

Drama Group to Give Play for Veterans

The Summit Little Theatre Guild has been invited to present their play "Belvedere" for the veterans in East Orange, Novem-

Topics Listed for Youth Guidance Panel Talk Tonight

A panel discussion by local experts on the handling of youth problems in this community will be presented by the Lincoln School PTA Monday evening at 8:15 p.m. in the school auditorium. William R. Gilson, the Common Council representative on the Municipal Youth Guidance Council, will introduce the program and act as chairman.

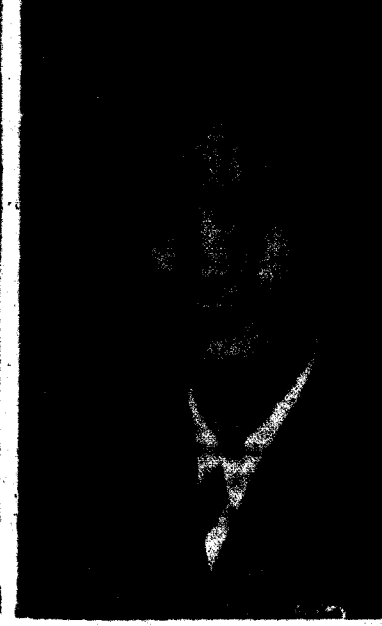

The other members of the panel will be Robert Woodward, principal of the Junior High School, who will discuss the work of the "Adjustment Committee"; Lt. John Sayre, of the Police Force, who will explain the "Juvenile Conference Committee"; and Dr. John B. Dougall, former superintendent of schools here, who will tell about the "Work of the Referee".

Emphasis will be on how and where bewildered parents can find help, and on the effort that is being made here to solve these youth guidance problems without resort to the courts, if possible, long before such resort would be necessary.

After the presentation of these various phases of the work, Mr. Gilson will serve as moderator and call for questions from the floor. A lively discussion should develop because youth guidance is an anxious and continuing problem which has become particularly acute in our times.

This program is in many ways a sequel to the interesting forum "As the Twig is Bent" presented last night by the Junior Fortnightly Club, which attempted to show the causes of juvenile delinquency. The forthcoming panel discussion will explain the local prescription for treatment and cure.

The Lincoln School PTA executive board has extended a special invitation to all the members of the Junior Fortnightly Club to attend this meeting. All interested members of the general public are urged to be present also.

AT WEST COAST CONVENTION—Attending the 33rd national convention of Girl Scouts being held at San Francisco through tomorrow are Mrs. Richard Devereux (left) of 244 Kent Place Boulevard and Mrs. Donald E. Macley of 44 Hawthorne place (center), both representing the Summit Area

Council as first vice-president and executive director, respectively; and Mrs. Malcolm S. Edgar (right) of 160 Bellevue avenue, national district representative and program chairman for the convention.

SCOPE Members List Events For November

Mrs. Edith R. Frankel, secretary-treasurer of the Summit Council on Public Affairs Education (SCOPE), has announced the public affairs education events being organized by its member agencies during November. In making the announcement, Mrs. Frankel qualified it by saying that other activities of member groups sponsored for their respective members were not listed.

November 1, 15, 29, Great Books, Public Library; November 4, regular meeting, Summit Athenaeum, High School auditorium; November 7, trip to United Nations building, New York City, international relations of the Fortnightly Club; November 8, meeting of agency representatives interested in freedom agenda study program, YMCA; November 8 and 22, American Heritage, Public Library.

The program of the Summit Old Guard for the month: November

1, "The Port District and the N. Y. Authority," William D. Guinness, Insurance Manager for Port of New York; November 8, "The History of the Circus," Gordon M. Carver, Prudential Life Insurance Co., Madison; November 15, "The Growing Importance of Air Transportation and Airports to Communities in New Jersey," New York Metropolitan Area, George P. Miletich, aviation promotion representative; November 22, "Old Roads in the Arab World," Rev. David K. Barnwell; November 29, "Guided Missiles—The Story of Nike," S. Davis Page, New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

November 13-19, Book Week, United Nations exhibits, Public Library; November 17, Girl Scouts study committee for large area councils, Westfield; November 17-18, world fellowship teas in conjunction with Winter Market, YWCA; November 28, Final study group of League of Women Voters, meeting at the YWCA. Exhibits marking the tenth anniversary of the United Nations were placed on display in Summit banks by the League of Women Voters and Hadassah.

The SCOPE official called on all organizations affiliated with the Council to list their meetings with her. Information relating to meetings scheduled in December should reach Mrs. Frankel at R. D. 1, Meyersville road, Chatham, not later than November 15. Her telephone number is Mercury 5-7508.

Gabrielson Sees

Hand Urges Sweep
State Senator Kenneth C. Hand, seeking reelection, urged a "clean sweep" for GOP candidates in the Legislature, pointing to their continued opposition to sales and income taxes. Hand said that only Republican opposition had prevented Governor Meyner from pushing through an 89-million-dollar budget increase, and singled out Americans for Democratic Action for special censure.

He said that "four or five" ADA members in the governor's cabinet had come out in support of a personal income tax, although Hand said that the Democratic platform is theoretically against such a move.

Summit candidates, introduced by Edgar T. Higgins, Ward II councilman, were C. Philip Dean, candidate for mayor; Ogden D. Gensemer, seeking reelection as Ward II councilman, and John M. Mackie, incumbent Ward I council candidate. William R. Gilson, incumbent-at-large candidate, was absent.

Mayor Charles Johnson of New Providence introduced Councilmen Edwin O. Morrison and Hugh Hamilton, who are running for reelection. Mayor Ira F. Holley of Berkeley Heights spoke for the two GOP Township Committee candidates, George Lohman and Luther Smythe, who could not attend.

William R. Vanderbilt, Summit Assemblyman, presented incumbent Assembly candidates Carlyle Crane, Mrs. Florence P. Dwyer, and G. Clifford Thomas.

Freeholder Ernest Hickok introduced other Freeholder candidates. They included F. Edward Biertumpfel, Richard P. Hatfield, John W. Zerega, and Frederick P. Anderson.

Edward A. Pizzi was toastmaster.

AN OPEN LETTER TO SUMMIT CITIZENS

Dear Fellow Citizens:

On the eve of the General Election in which there are important municipal offices at stake, I want to point out to the citizens of Summit at this time that Summit now enjoys, and has enjoyed for many years, the reputation of being one of the best-governed communities in the State. And it has been the succession of Republican Common Councils that has earned this reputation for our city.

During this political campaign there has been much said about the Common Council's so-called errors and mistakes of past years. Many of these "errors" occurred long ago but even at that time the decisions that are now being attacked were the results of the considered judgment of former Councils and arrived at only after thorough public discussion and deliberation.

Anyone can find flaws in any endeavor and running a city is no exception. These "errors," if they actually are errors, are few and primarily Summit through the years has been blessed with good Common Councils that have made our city a community known as one where residents get the most for their tax dollar.

Anyone can find fault and point out mistakes, but the main thing is that Republican administration in Summit, by and large, have done a marvelous job. You, as residents of Summit, know that to be an undeniable fact. It is evident all around you; in your schools, your parks, your tax rate, your police and fire protection, and in countless other ways.

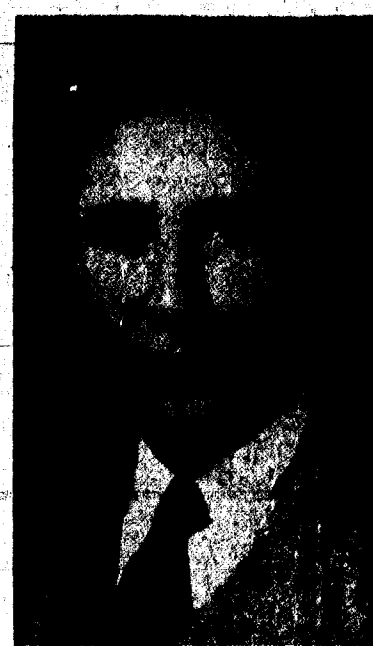

As the outgoing Mayor of your city who for 16 years has been identified with the city government, the last six as your Mayor and as a member of the Common Council for ten years before that, I urge all citizens of our community to vote for all the Republican candidates next Tuesday. They have done a fine job and they should be returned to office. Their election assures the type of government you want for Summit.

Nov. 3, 1955

Sincerely yours,
PERCIVAL M. BLAND, Mayor
City of Summit.

Why a GOP Victory Is Vital

There is a general note of apathy connected with the coming municipal elections that is somewhat disturbing. Granted, this is an "off year." There are no important state or federal contests involved. There is little about the state and county elections that stirs interest.

But there is one tremendously important factor that is being omitted by local voters who take a lethargic view of the November 8 election. And that is the following statement by President Eisenhower:

"The party structure is built on the LOCAL LEVEL."

It lies with the Republican voters of Summit to give continued support to the President's program by voting Republican on November 8 and making sure that the local Republican candidates are elected. This is the plain, unadulterated duty of every citizen who is pleased with the Eisenhower administration and wants it continued.

It will not continue if it is not kept in office in Summit and other small electorates throughout the nation. Because, it is only if local, county and state affairs are in the hands of Republican officials that we can assure President Eisenhower's program of prosperity and peace.

Thus, we strongly urge that voters of Summit cast their ballots on November 8 for C. Philip Dean for Mayor, William R. Gilson for Councilman-at-Large, John M. Mackie for Ward 1 Councilman and Ogden D. Gensemer for Ward 2 Councilman.

These men are all Republicans and are experienced in Summit governmental affairs. With the exception of Mr. Dean, who is a veteran Councilman returning to public service, all are present office holders seeking re-election. The Summit Herald can, without question, recommend the above named candidates as being worthy of support and continuing efficient and economical government in Summit. Their records speak for them.

By keeping Summit solidly in Republican ranks we can, in our small way, do our share in keeping the United States in its present good hands.

The County Election

The Summit Herald at election time usually analyzes the qualifications of candidates running for Union County offices, recommending to its readers the men who seem, in our opinion, the most likely to serve the public to the best advantage.

This campaign has been unusually slow and The Herald has been waiting until public interest was sufficiently awakened to make such an editorial discussion worth while. In the meantime it has commented upon the local picture where apparently a bit more interest has been created.

The fact that The Herald has not gone down the line of county offices, however, does not mean we have no preferences. We are frank to say that the difference in quality, in probable capacity to do the various jobs, is more marked this year than usual. The Republicans of Union County have named men of experience, of standing, of unquestioned capacity. The Democrats in most cases seem to have had difficulty in securing for their ticket the strongest men of their organization. Often it looks like men had been named to fill the space on the ballot rather than improve county public personnel.

The Herald therefore feels it should state that, in its opinion, the Republican nominee for every county office ought to be re-elected and this includes the State Senatorship and the four Assembly candidates. They all have held those offices for past years and are the incumbents. They deserve by virtue of their ability and experience to remain. The same is true of the incumbent Freeholders seeking re-election. They have served the county with a fidelity that has produced many benefits, including an enviable tax rate.

But looking down the list of the opposing candidates, The Herald can not see any who could promise better service than the Republican county candidates. This newspaper hopes, therefore, the Republicans will all be elected on November 8.

See the Candidates Tonight

The meeting being presented at 8 p.m. tonight at Washington School by the League of Women Voters should be well attended for it is the last opportunity given Summit to see and hear the candidates up for election next Tuesday, November 8.

They will appear briefly before voters to give their views on matters of local and state importance, and to tell their qualifications and their reasons for seeking office. They will become distinct personalities rather than a name on the voting machine.

For the first time in many years the Republican Party in Summit is challenged for every municipal office by a Democrat. The local election, therefore, takes on more significance than usual. Naturally the Democrats want representation in our local government but unlike the county, state and federal governments, partisan politics are not too closely practiced or too important in towns like Summit. Our residents are more interested in who will do the job best rather than his party affiliation.

We think this will be true again next Tuesday. Voters will not consider the party nomenclature as much as they will the man, his experience, his background, his past offices and record, and what he stands for and how his qualifications can be of value to Summit.

At tonight's meeting the voter will be able to see the local and county candidates in action, weigh their promises, gauge their sincerity and then sit back and better decide how he will cast his ballot on Tuesday. The League's sponsorship of such a meeting is a distinct public service, particularly for this election which is of local import. We urge all those who are still undecided how they will vote to attend.

How The Tooth Fairy Brought Bobo Home

(Cleveland Plain Dealer).

(An editorial for Little People).

Most boys and girls have heard of the Tooth Fairy, a fine, elfish fellow who wears a tiny green jerkin and carries a large purse filled with shiny dimes. Through some miraculous power he knows whenever there is a loose baby tooth in the jaw of every small boy and girl in the whole country.

Of course, you know the way it works. The youngster with the wobbly tooth screws up his courage and wiggles it with his tongue until it gets looser and looser. Finally, in a great burst of courage, he plucks it out. Then, after admiring the shiny, small object, he places it under his pillow. The next morning the tooth has disappeared, and a dime has taken its place.

The procedure is exactly the same for little girls who, we are forced to admit, are usually braver, possibly because, being women, they are more practical.

The Tooth Fairy is the little guy who does all this, but nobody sees him—and, in fact, nobody knows what he does with the baby teeth he collects. And yet, apparently he's capable of making exceptions; if there's something small boys and girls wish with all their hearts, they may get it in lieu of a shiny dime. Take Jeannie Marie Celidonio, 8, of Pasadena, Cal., for example.

Some days ago Jeannie's dog Bobo jumped out of the family car and disappeared in a downtown section. This made Jeannie so unhappy she became quite ill. The physician who was called said: "She's just heart-broken."

Her heart was broken, all right, but her head was still working. Jeannie had an idea. She'd put her problem squarely up to her old pal, the Tooth Fairy, who through a long series of gaps in both her upper and lower jaw never had let her down. She composed a note, as follows:

"Dear Tooth Fairy: I don't want any money, just send me back my Bobo."

Do you know what happened? Before Jeannie was awake a big jolly policeman named Sgt. Elmer Wallace was at the Celidonio home with Bobo safely in tow! The Associated Press explained that Bobo had followed the sergeant's daughter home from school, and that on checking with the Humane Society the officer discovered that the Celidonios had reported Bobo missing.

But we know the answer, don't we, kids? Faith, which can move mountains, also can bring home repentant little dogs!

Small But Bright
(Minneapolis Tribune)

Those stout-hearted Britons who feel most keenly the dwindling of empire now have cause for rejoicing. For the empire, sir, is growing again.

It was a proud moment when British sailors set foot on the new land and planted the Union Jack in the queen's name. Times like that make the blood run faster, all right.

Of course, the new acquisition is not large. In fact, it is an island called Rockall, a speck 83 feet wide 300 miles off the west coast of Scotland. The British seized it because it lies within a new rocket-testing range.

At any rate, it belongs to Her Majesty now. And if those rocket fellows will kindly not score any direct hits, it will remain as a small but nonetheless bright jewel in the royal crown.

LETTERS

Edison School No Issue

Editor, Summit Herald:

It is regrettable that such a "dead cat" as Edison School has to be dug up as campaign material in this year's municipal election by one of the Democratic aspirants for the Common Council. His comments and references about the sale of Edison School to Celanese Corp. of America contain some serious omission of fact and it is the purpose of this letter to call to the attention of the public some of these inaccuracies and mis-beliefs that have trickled down through the years about Edison School.

The Democratic critic ignores the fact that many people in Summit think the school should never have been built in that out-of-the-way part of the city. He ignores the fact that residents living in the northern and western parts of the city rebelled at sending their children the long distance from their homes to attend the school.

And what is more to the point, he ignores the fact that since Celanese has owned the school property it has paid a considerable portion of municipal expenses through local taxes which otherwise would have been levied upon homeowners. This year, for instance, the Celanese tax bill was more than $29,000.

Summit has been notable for its forward-looking city government. I can not help but believe that the Democratic candidate has done our community a dis-service by exhuming a subject which was happily resolved to the city's benefit ten years ago.

Upholds GOP Administration

Editor, Summit Herald:

The Democratic candidate for councilman from the first ward has been attacking the Republican administration of the city in a series of letters to your paper. Having been a member of that administration for 16 years as a member of the Common Council, president of Council for four years, and mayor of the city for two terms, I think I am in a position to set the record straight.

The sale of the Edison School is not an issue in this campaign. Nearly 20 years ago the citizens of Summit decided the Edison School should be built. They had the right to make that decision just as they had the right several years later to sell the school because the development of the city had not taken place along the lines anticipated. Because of changed conditions the School Board could not cope with the school housing problem and also maintain the Edison School at less than 50 per cent capacity.

The rezoning of the Beechwood property was approved because it was felt that the city in the long run would be better off having one occupant for that entire block than it would be if a series of stores were built along De Forest avenue. Since De Forest avenue had been zoned for business for many years this appeared to be the best manner of controlling its development.

The Common Council is in the process of developing a traffic and parking program which will produce a much more orderly traffic pattern in the center of the city than now prevails. I can think of no more suitable way to prepare for the opening of the Lumbermen's building after the first of the year. To say that this traffic study is a waste of money is evidence that the Democratic candidate from the first ward does not have the foresight and imagination necessary to qualify for a position in the city government.

The Democratic candidates claim we have an old-fashioned form of government. Since it has given us for many years, and continues to give us, efficient and progressive administration and services, together with one of the lowest tax rates in the state, I can see no reason for discontinuing it. The statement that our form of government is obsolete has been made by the Democrats but I have seen no argument to support the statement.

To say that a watchdog is needed on the Council is like saying a corporation should appoint a vice president to needle and harass the other vice presidents. Obviously that would not lead to a smooth and efficient operation.

The Democratic candidate, who has been most active, is opposing John M. Mackie, a citizen of proven ability and sincerity. I urge the voters of Summit to support Mr. Mackie and the other Republican candidates in order to continue the good government we currently enjoy.

Very truly yours,
Maxwell Lester, Jr.

Mrs. Halsey Hicks
Mrs. Frances Virginia (Alley) Hicks, 45, formerly of Summit, died last Wednesday at Brattleboro, Vt., where she made her home after a long illness. She was the wife of Halsey Hicks, consulting forester to the State of Vermont, whom she married in 1941 and who attended Summit Academy and graduated from Summit High School.

Mrs. Hicks was a leader in juvenile education in Brattleboro, conducting a nursery school and during World War 2 a school for children of mothers engaged in defense work. She was a former toy consultant for L. Bamberger Co. and also taught at Mount Kemble School, Brattleboro. In recognition of her contributions to education the Friends of Retarded Children of Brattleboro recently voted to name their new school in her honor.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, H. Munson Hicks, and a step-daughter, Linda Hicks; two sisters, Mrs. Audrey A. Gorton of Vernon, Vt., and Mrs. June Barrows Mussey of Dusseldorf, Germany; and a sister-in-law, Miss Helen C. Hicks of Millington.

planning study done for the City in 1944. But nothing has been done about it. And even though the City paid a considerable sum for the planning study, the Council did not hold public hearings and then adopt an official master plan. As of this date, there is still no official master plan for Summit.

The statutes of this state have provided for master plans for many years; but the City Council goes its merry way while the town develops in a hodge-podge fashion. James L. Farris.

For your information I find that

Volume IV, "The United Nations and World Citizenship," one of the UNESCO booklets has been withdrawn from sale because of so much objection to and widespread protest of its blatant propaganda for world government.

Of course I do not know whether this volume is included in the set given to the Summit Library. I do not know exactly when it was withdrawn from sale as my set includes the volume.

There is propaganda for world government in all the UNESCO booklets but this No. IV is a humdinger.

Takes Doctors to Task

Editor, Summit Herald:
Publication of the enclosed copy of a letter sent by me to the Union County Medical Society would be appreciated.

Mrs. Paul J. Bearer,
96 Canoe Brook Pkwy.

Chairman of the Board
Union County Medical Society
Elizabeth, New Jersey

Dear Sir:

Last spring together with many of our neighbors here in Summit we had signed two authorization forms for the Salk vaccine to be given our second grader. Our family doctor, a member of the Morris County Medical Society, whom we had consulted, recommended our action. A few days before the injections were to be given, however, we received from the school a third form to be signed which was accompanied by a copy of a telegram from the Union County Medical Society advising us against the injection. Believing your organization to be in possession of new facts about the vaccine we did not sign the form and, hence, let the opportunity for the inoculation of our daughter at that time go by default; we relied, however, upon your group to clarify the situation and to see that these children who were deprived of polio protection were so protected as soon as possible.

In spite of the fact that the State Board of Health stresses, "If children are to have maximum protection against paralytic polio before the advent of the 1956 polio season in New Jersey, it is imperative that parents seek this protection for their children now," there seems to have been no planning done to protect those children whose parents relied upon the recommendation of your association. The newspapers tell us that we are to see our family doctor to arrange for injections unless his bill will constitute a hardship to us financially. For most of us, of course, the five to eight dollar fee per injection will not mean a hardship in the sense of our doing without adequate food, shelter, or clothing; what it will mean in many cases, however, will be that junior won't get that bike he's been hoping for next Christmas or that mother will skip that yearly check-up she'd planned to have.

Human nature being as it is, the paying out of hard-earned money for an item which was to have been a gift is somehow more painful than that paid out for an item never otherwise available. There are very likely many parents who acted—or rather refused to act—because of your recommendation who will never get around to having their eight-year-olds inoculated at all, an omission which will be indirectly your responsibility.

In the groups of which I am a member the feeling is growing that unless these children are offered now the protection denied them by the fear resulting from your action last spring another good argument for socialized medicine has been born.

Your early clarification of the situation and plans for taking care of last year's second graders who missed their shots because of their parents' faith in you would be most welcome to many of us.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Paul J. Bearer,

Local Candidates

printed in the Summit Herald.
Regarding the Edison School incident, which was the subject of one of the letters, Mr. Mackie pointed out that it had taken place

twenty years ago. "At that time
I was not even a resident of Summit," he said, "and I do not see how that can be considered an issue in the current campaign." However, Mackie stated his opinion that the council at that time was not without justification in selling the building. The school had been built, he said, at a time when it was felt that Summit would grow in that direction.

When the city grew in other directions, there was a pressing need for schools in other areas.

The citizens wished to sell the Edison School. It was their right to make that decision then as it is their right to make similar decisions today, he stated.

Fought for School

In regard to schools, Mackie said he had been instrumental in getting the new Lincoln School for Summit. He had fought for the school for a number of years and had been one of a group responsible for constructing the building in its present form as a modern, functional school. "We have a school that is one of the gems in the State of New Jersey," he said.

Concerning the statement about the amount of money necessary to straighten Beechwood road, another subject of a letter, Mackie said that to do so would cut off about one-third of the property occupied by the insurance building. In addition, "We do not want speedways in Summit. This is a residential town. We put curves in roads purposely to slow down traffic."

Opposed Lumbermen

As for the insurance building itself, Mackie said he personally had fought it all the time it was before council. It was a matter of record that he had action delayed two weeks to prepare a case against it. Now that we have the building, however, he felt we should live with it graciously and cooperate as best we can.

Mr. Hufnail, who followed
Mackie, stated that in his opinion Summit needed a four ward system, with a single councilman representing each ward and three councilmen-at-large. In this way, there would be more adequate representation, he feels. Under the present arrangement, he contended, it is impossible for a councilman to keep in close touch with the needs and wishes of his

RETIREES—Maurice R. McKenney

of 24 Sunset drive retired as general patent attorney of American Telephone and Telegraph Company on Monday. Mr. McKenney has been in Bell System patent work since 1917—two years after his graduation from the University of Maine. He first worked for Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, and then moved to Bell Telephone Laboratories where he became general patent attorney in 1945. Three years ago he accepted his present post with AT&T. He is a member of the New York Patent Law Association, the American Bar Association and Canoe Brook Country Club.

Speaking from the opposite point of view, Dean felt that an increase in the number of wards would result in sectionalism. "I have always believed," he said,
"that as a councilman I represented the interests of Summit as a whole."

City Has Master Plan

Regarding the question raised about a master plan for the city, Dean stated that one is already in existence and has been since 1927. In referring to the Lumbermen's building, he pointed out that the area was zoned for business. The Council, he said, felt it was wiser to have the insurance building than to have "twenty little shops" in the same spot.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, following his Republican opponent for the mayoralty, presented the platform set forth by his party and pointed out why such a program was necessary. The platform included:
1. A master plan for the city which would include tighter zoning. 2. A drive for a new charter of city government to follow

recommendations after a study is made. 3. A bi-partisan citizen's advisory council to offer suggestions to be acted upon by Council and the department heads.
4. The establishment of a four-ward system.

continuation of the series on how Summit children are taught. A question and answer period will follow.

The program was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. B. McMillan. Classrooms will be opened at 7:45 p.m.

You ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT THE NEW Home-Building Exhibition

at U. S. BUILDING PRODUCTS CO., BERKELEY HEIGHTS, N. J.

PRESENTING THE LATEST IN HOME DESIGNS, MATERIALS AND EQUIPMENT

In co-operation with the leading manufacturers of home building materials and equipment, this exhibition is presented to demonstrate how BETTER HOMES are now being built at LOWER COST.

You will see the things that combine to make home life so much easier and more enjoyable in a new home;
also demonstrations of time saving and money saving conveniences, comforts and decorating ideas to help make your home more beautiful.

As you roam from one exhibit to another, you'll see full size kitchens, a lavatory, bathrooms including shower

stall built of glass brick. A complete home air conditioning system in operation, picture windows, awning type windows, shutters, tub enclosures, folding doors, sliding doors, corner cabinets, and the many other interesting things that go into the modern home. A separate room is devoted to exhibits of samples of materials and decorating ideas. Beautiful wall paneling, colorful tile, linoleum, formica, plastics of various kinds, mouldings of both wood and metal, paint color effects, interior and exterior decorating schemes. You can sit down here in comfort and choose what you like and you are always welcome.

IN ONE VISIT TO THIS EXHIBITION, YOU'LL FIND MORE SENSIBLE AND HELPFUL IDEAS THAN IN WEEKS OF SEARCHING ELSEWHERE — ALL AT NO COST TO YOU AND NO OBLIGATION.

A special feature of this exhibition for DO IT YOUR-SELF home builders is the Weyerhaeuser Modular Home which is so popular with young home builders who want to do all, or a large part of the construction themselves.

The Glen 40 Ranch Model, full size, is on exhibit here to enable you to examine all of the details of its construction. This model together with a split-level design are pictured below.

THE GLEN 40
THIS MODEL 3 1/2 ROOM HOME, 28' WIDE BY 40'
LONG IS ON EXHIBIT IN OUR YARD.

SPLIT LEVEL

THERE ARE A NUMBER OF OTHER DESIGNS TO SELECT FROM

The Weyerhaeuser Modular Home is a helpful NEW idea of construction that is enabling many young families to build a new home, who otherwise could not finance one. It's the way to a better home, at lower cost, in a shorter time; and it's easier to finance these homes.

Building a home of your own can be a delightful and exhilarating experience from its very conception as a dream or idea to the complete thrill of actual residence. There are five important steps, 1) plans, 2) location, 3) financing, 4) contracting, and 5) choosing the materials and equipment and the use of our services will make each step easier for you.

WE HOPE THAT YOU CAN COME IN SOON. YOU ARE ALWAYS WELCOME.

Annual Brayton Book Fair Set For Election Day

The Brayton School Book Fair will be held November 8 from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. Each year expertly chosen children's books are assembled for this Election Day event. The scope is extensive, ranging from the pre-school group to the teen age; from fiction, adventure, biography to hobbies, crafts and reference books. The various fields will be displayed in easy to find groups to help the children and parents to locate books on subjects in which they are interested.

Brayton parents and those interested in the best in new children's books are urged to avail themselves of this excellent opportunity to examine this discriminating collection. The books offered for sale will include the classics as well as the latest publications. Although adult books will not be incorporated in the exhibit, they may be ordered on the day of the sale.

Mrs. William W. Hibberd, chairman of the fair, has announced that all Brayton pupils will be permitted to look over the books prior to the sale on Friday, November 4 and Monday, November 7.

Mrs. Paul A. Barber is chairman with Mrs. Hibberd. Mrs. Terrence Burke is in charge of the financial end of this annual event. Mrs. Howard V. Guenther is handling the catalog file. Mrs. John Hammett is supervising the reference book and dictionary section.

The interest of students has been increased by a poster contest which has been in progress for the last week. Winners of the contest will be announced in the near future.

Committee members working on the Book Fair are Mrs. Donald Hudgin, Mrs. Bernard Lewis, Mrs. Lawrence Coveny, Mrs. Henry Pfaff, Jr., Mrs. M. E. Ziegenhagen, Mrs. Edwin Kaiser, Mrs. Paul Mc Iver, Mrs. H. C. Lundquist, Mrs. Albert Bloom, Mrs. H. A. Hasselbauer, Mrs. M. D. Fagan, Mrs. David Waller and Mrs. Walter Brandt.

Banks Cooperate To Spread Word Of Red Cross Work

Local banks are cooperating with the Summit Area chapter of the American Red Cross this week by enclosing a leaflet with their monthly statements, describing the many volunteer needs in the Red Cross. The leaflet is one from the national Red Cross, but is completely applicable to the Summit Area chapter, where all the national services and committees function as well as two which are local services, i.e., soundscaping and Braille. These two services are carried on in conjunction with the New Jersey Commission for the Blind. Readers are particularly needed for the soundscaping service.

Volunteers are needed for committees throughout the chapter to assist with the planning and functioning of the services.

Two of the greatest needs are for motor service drivers and for members of the canteen service. Since the chapter has become a member of the East Orange Veterans Administration Hospital council, the demands on these two services have greatly increased. Both men and women, day or evening, are needed.

Motor service spends one day a week at Lyons Veterans Hospital and also transports volunteers from other services several times a week to that hospital. In addition, they regularly transport patients to civilian hospital clinics, Kessler Institute, Westfield Children's Home and other treatment centers. Emergency blood calls are referred to them by Overlook Hospital. If additional drivers are recruited, it is planned to give "on service" duty at the East Orange Veterans Hospital one day a week and also transport patients from there to ball games, dinners, etc.

Canteen also functions regularly at the two veterans hospitals, holding teas for the patients and their families and parties in the wards.

Women who enjoy sewing or knitting, are needed for the production department where articles of all types are made for Army and veteran hospitals and charitable organizations.

A new class for nurses' aides will soon be started. This is an eighty hour course composed of forty hours of classroom instruction given by Mrs. Ruth Wahl, R.N., a certified Red Cross instructor, and 40 hours of supervised training on the floor. This course is given in conjunction with Overlook Hospital, where the trained Red Cross volunteer nurses' aides are urgently needed. These aides are also needed at the East Orange Veterans Hospital and in time of disaster.

Gray Ladies are trained and function at the two veterans hospitals as well as in the community. Typists are needed at the chapter house and at the two veterans hospitals.

Free courses in first aid, water safety, mother and baby care and home care of the sick are offered to the community by the Red Cross. More volunteers willing to be trained to act as instructors in these classes, particularly first aid and water safety, are needed.

The local Red Cross works closely with the Civil Defense authorities and is responsible for recruiting and training personnel for both natural and manmade disasters. There are many openings on the various disaster committees.

Boro To Seek Approval For High School Construction

New Providence—A major step toward solution of the Boro high school problem was taken Friday, when the Board of Education announced that it will seek state permission to build a $1,500,000 high school here.

The announcement said Boro debt limit will be asked for construction of a junior-senior school, to be ready for students in September, 1958, on a site west of South street between Springfield and Central avenues.

Solution For '57
The Board said it is "confident" that with the cooperation of the Department of Education a solution for housing the 1957 10th grade class will be found, although nothing will be definite until after January 1. Summit High School, which has accepted Boro students for nearly 50 years, notified local officials in 1951 that it could not accept New Providence students after 1956.

A formal hearing on extension of municipal credit will be sought in January. David Ludlow, Summit architect who designed Hillview School, is drawing plans for presentation at that hearing.

Present plans call for a 21-classroom school, with double gymnasium, cafeteria, special rooms and laboratories, which would release the existing junior high school facilities for use as elementary classrooms.

Council Encouraging
The Board said that it was "much encouraged" by its meeting with Mayor Charles Johnson and members of the Council on October 19. The financial picture, it added, was "most encouraging," and "every means of cooperative effort was given to the Board by both the Mayor and the Council."

The announcement said that the Board will keep residents informed as plans progress and can be made public. The proposal will be presented in a local referendum in the late winter or early spring.

Previous efforts by the Board to find housing for Boro students in other districts have been unsuccessful. Last month the Regional High School board rejected a proposal by the Boro that it be accepted as a member of that district. That rejection topped two earlier Regional rejections. Other turn-downs came from Millburn, Fairwood-Scotch Plains, and the newly-created Warren-Watchung-Passaic Township Regional.

Several years ago, the Boro proposed to form a regional district with Chatham and Passaic Townships, but that plan fell through when Chatham withdrew. In January of this year, the Board placed on referendum a proposal to establish a fund for construction of a high school, but that was voted down when the Council announced that it would have surplus municipal funds which could be made available for school use at the end of the year.

Dr. Huntington at Heights PTA

Berkeley Heights.—"Upper Graders Face Two Ways" will be the subject of a talk and discussion by Dr. Betty Huntington at the regular PTA meeting Monday at 8:15 p. m. in the Columbia School auditorium.

Dr. Huntington is presently a sixth grade teacher at the Connecticut Farms School in Union, and has had wide experience in teaching, from the first grade to college. Most of her teaching, which covers a 30-year period, has been done in the sixth to eighth grade range. She recently received her doctorate in social studies from Columbia University.

Dr. Huntington will lead a discussion on the problems facing children in the upper grades, and refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. M. V. Sanson.

PTA Planning Fund Raising Fashion Show

Berkeley Heights—A fund-raising fashion show and dessert-party will be sponsored by the Berkeley Heights PTA November 21 at 8:00 p. m. in Columbia School.

Tickets will be sold by all class mothers and students, with a party planned for the class tallying the most sales.

Fashions will be supplied by Arthur Morton of Plainfield, with millinery by Beverly of Plainfield. There will be donations by local stores, and homemade refresh-

Five on Jury Duty

Berkeley Heights—Five Township residents have been summoned for petit jury duty for the term ending November 12. The names were drawn last week.

Township jurors include Paul F. Bonnot, 247 Park avenue; Mrs. Elizabeth M. Carroll, 732 Mountain avenue; Mrs. Ethel G. Sheldon, 59 Sycamore avenue; Justis H. Bower, 17 Sycamore avenue, and Mrs. Barbara M. Loman, 47 Sycamore avenue.

ments will be on sale during the evening.

Co-chairmen of the committee are Mrs. Ralph Leonard and Mrs. Gerard Williams. Committee members include Mrs. F. J. Stevens, Mrs. Charles Fuchter, Mrs. Peter Moran, Mrs. Douglas Haberstroh, Mrs. H. E. Rothwell, Mrs. J. M. Ferrazza, Mrs. Lee Sudrabn, Mrs. E. H. Kinelski, and Mrs. Roy Westerberg.

Township Moves On Measure For Central Sewers

Berkeley Heights—The Township Committee was slated to introduce a bonding ordinance last night which will set in motion the machinery for construction of a $675,000 central sewer system here.

More than 300 residents turned out for a public hearing on the sewer plan last Wednesday night and registered general approval for the project. The meeting, held in Columbia School, was sponsored by the Citizens Advisory Committee on Sanitary Facilities. Mayor Ira F. Holley explained that a maximum of $200,000 will be needed in the bond issue. He said that the Township now has $150,000 in its capital improvement fund earmarked for a central sewer system, and that there is an additional $166,200 which represents contributions by three subdivision developers.

Anticipated assessments from homeowners who utilize the system will add approximately $139,000 to the available funds, leaving the $200,000 balance to be financed.

To Serve 2900 Homes

Holley said that the initial plant will serve a maximum of 2900 homes, or approximately 50 percent of the ultimate total in the Township. He explained that if $50,000 is added annually to the capital improvement fund, about one additional mile of sewers could be added each year. If the entire bond issue is floated, he explained, the tax rise will be 12 points. He added that the committee would hold back on floating the bonds as long as possible.

Committee member David C. Dally, who heads the sanitation committee, outlined recent developments in the Township sewage disposal problem. He told the audience that state health officials had cited the Township for health hazards existing from overflowing septic tanks, and had warned that definite action must be taken before October 28, or legal action would be instituted.

Contributions Forfeited

Dally also pointed out that under agreements negotiated with the developers, failure by the Township to proceed with action on a central system before December 21 would result in forfeiture of the $166,200 builder contribution.

It was explained that no referendum will be held on the question because of the time element, and because the state, in issuing a certificate of necessity to implement extension of the legal debt limit, had specified that the Township "shall and must" correct unsanitary sewage conditions.

If a referendum were conducted, and voters rejected the plan, Township officials would be faced with legal action by the state for failure to follow its directive.

Average Cost

Holley said that the cost of lateral connections has not been determined, but will be between $4.50 and $9.00 a front foot, the basis on which the assessments will be levied. A three-man board of improvement assessors will be appointed to determine the degree of benefit each user derives from the system. He stressed the fact that only those who use the sewers will pay for them. An annual service charge of $20 a home is anticipated. In answer to a question, he said that residents will be required to tie into the sewer system if the lines pass their homes.

The meeting was opened by Lee Sudrabn, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee. Other speakers included Douglas Ward, president of the Board of Health.

Korean Lecturer at Boro Church Tuesday

New Providence—Mrs. Induk Pakh of Korea will speak at the Methodist Church Tuesday at 8 p. m., under the auspices of the WSCS.

Mrs. Pakh, representing the Korean Cultural Foundation, has travelled and lectured extensively in America and Europe. She is a graduate of Ewha College in Seoul and Wesleyan College in Atlanta, Georgia, receiving her master's degree from Columbia University.

The author of several Korean language books, her autobiography, "September Monkey," has been published by Harpers.

During the Korean War, Mrs. Pakh was a radio lecturer for the military government in the department of public information, broadcasting to her countrymen for 18 months.

Mrs. Pakh will present factual material about her country, and will explain many of Korea's problems and facts about its people. Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Dispute Delays Council Action On Stop Street

New Providence—Introduction of a revised traffic control ordinance was postponed by the Boro Council Tuesday night after Councilman Edwin O. Morrison reported that residents of The Fellaway were opposed to designation of Livingston avenue as a stop street at Central avenue.

The Fellaway group suggested a reversal of the streets, with Central avenue becoming the stop street.

Councilman Hugh Hamilton said that independent traffic experts who had studied the area felt that Livingston avenue should be made a stop street. Council President Samuel Jones, presiding in the absence of Mayor Charles Johnson, suggested that interested residents meet with the Council next week to explore the problem.

On motion of Hamilton, Louis Cucco was made a permanent patrolman. Cucco, who completed a six-week basic training course in police work October 21, has been serving as a probationary member of the force. His permanent appointment became effective Tuesday.

Peter Homack, representing Elson T. Killam, the sanitary engineer; Committeemen Arthur A. Manner and George Lohman; Committeeman Victor Dunkel was absent, but the mayor reported that Dunkel had said that he would not oppose the plan.

Harry Maslow, chairman of the Planning Board, served as moderator.

H. M. Douglas Named Head of "Y" Youth Work

Halsey M. Douglas

Berkeley Heights—Halsey M. Douglas of 62 Delmore avenue has been named chairman of the executive committee on work with boys and youth for the Central Atlantic Area YMCA. Douglas was appointed to the post by J. Carey Taylor of Baltimore, area council president, after serving five years on the advisory committee. He assumed the chairmanship at a meeting of the group in Princeton last Saturday.

Long active in youth work, Douglas served 10 years on the Boys' Work Committee at the Montclair Y, including three years as chairman. More recently he served on the Youth Work Committee at the Summit Y and was first chairman of the newly formed Membership Council there. He joined the Newark Y as a boy and presently is a member of its public relations committee.

Douglas also served as public relations director for the New Jersey Youth and Government Committee of the Central Atlantic Area Council which annually sponsors a model legislature in Trenton. He has been active in scouting and is secretary of the Board of Trustees at the New Providence Presbyterian Church.

Douglas is married and the father of three children. His wife, Joy H. Douglas, is secretary to Kenneth H. Bothwell, superintendent of schools here. A son, George, is a senior at Lafayette College. His daughter, Janet, is a student at Montclair State Teachers' College and another daughter, Deborah, is a pupil at Berkeley School.

Two Lose Licenses For Drunk Driving

New Providence—Alfred Johnson, 32, of 148 Pine Grove avenue, Summit, pleaded guilty to drunken driving in Municipal Court last Wednesday night. Magistrate Frank Pizzi fined him $200 and suspended his driver's license for two years.

Johnson was arrested at 1:30 a. m. on September 3 by Patrolmen Louis Lombardi and Rocco Mezzacca. He was pronounced unfit to drive by Dr. Richard Wagner.

James D. Monk, 26, of 13 Edgar street, also Summit, had his license revoked for two years and paid a $200 fine for drunken driving after pleading guilty to the charge.

Dr. Shacklock World Community Day Speaker

Dr. Floyd Shacklock, executive secretary of the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Education, will be the featured speaker at the Tri-Community Council of Churches observance of World Community Day tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the Stirling Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Shacklock, author of "This Revolutionary Faith," is a former professor of missions and comparative religions at Drew University, and has spent more than two decades in missionary work in Japan, China, and Korea.

The program, under the direction of the Council's Women's Department, will include a litany and luncheon. The litany service, which begins at 11 o'clock, will have leaders from each of the participating churches. A selection will be offered by the mixed choir, and Mrs. Theresa Maslow of Free Acres will be the featured soloist.

A covered dish luncheon will follow the service. Nursery facilities will be provided to permit mothers of pre-school children to attend. Coincident with the luncheon, a collection of clothing for needy Korean children will be made. Those who cannot attend the program are asked to forward clothing to the Council through their local representatives.

Leaders for the service include Mrs. James Boyd of the Stirling Presbyterian; Mrs. Leslie Stahl, Meyersville Presbyterian; Mrs. Edward Sheldon, New Providence Methodist; Mrs. David Kuehn, Unionville Methodist, and Mrs. Fred Senkowsky, Diamond Hill Community.

Reservations for the luncheon should be made through local church representatives or through the chairman, Mrs. Gladys Compton.

Local Campaigns Lacking In Activity As Election Nears

Little, if any, interest has been generated in the current political campaign in Berkeley Heights and New Providence, where two members of each local governing body will be elected Tuesday.

In Berkeley Heights the two Republican Township Committee candidates, George T. Lohman and Luther M. Smythe, are unopposed for election. In New Providence, incumbent Republican Councilmen Hugh L. Hamilton and Edwin O. Morrison have as their Democratic rivals Frank P. Culina and Louis Farrell.

Boro GOP Candidates

Hamilton, a member of the Boro Council for three years, is engaged in contract administration for the Western Electric Company. He received his B.A. degree from Amherst College and attended the University of Greenvale. He served for nine years as chairman of the Planning Board, and was a member of the Board of Adjustment for nine years. He is married and lives at 1025 Springfield avenue.

Morrison, who is completing the expired Council term of Mayor Charles Johnson, is a past president of the Board of Health. A product engineer with the Worthington Corporation, he holds a B.S. in chemical engineering from Duke University, and did graduate work at Newark College of Engineering and Ohio State. He was a civil engineering instructor at Rutgers University for four years. Morrison is an organizer and past president of the Fellowship Association, a member of the P.A.L. Board of trustees, and was for two years a member of the Planning Board. Married, he lives at 93 The Fellowship.

Democrats in Boro

Culina, a write-in primary candidate, is a real estate broker and general service manager. He attended the Pittsburgh Institute of Aeronautics and the Vale School of Business. A real estate broker and appraiser for four years, he was a foreman in the manufacture of aircraft prior to his military service. He received training from the War Production Board and the Manpower Commission in all phases of furnishing and training skilled workers in the manufacture of military aircraft. He is married and lives at 15 Union avenue.

Louis Farrell, also a primary write-in candidate, is a salesman. He studied mechanical engineering for three years at U.S.A.I.F. and in his present capacity is engaged in reducing industrial operational costs. He is married and lives at 1076 Springfield avenue.

Township Candidates

Lohman, who is serving an interim term on the Township Committee, is a member of the Bell Laboratories technical staff. He is a graduate of New York University, and is a member of Eta Kappa Nu, honorary electrical engineering fraternity. He is a Township representative on the Union County Citizens Water Committee, and is a former member and director of the Berkeley Heights Civic Association. He is married and lives at 47 Sycamore avenue.

Smythe is a sales representative for the Fruehauf Trailer Company, and was formerly associated with R. H. Donnelley and Sons of Chicago. He served on the personnel and labor relations staff of Government Services Inc., in Washington, and was personnel director of the Nachman Corporation. He attended the Universities of Minnesota and Pennsylvania, Pratt Institute, and American University, and is a member of the Lions Club of Spotswood, the Maritan Traffic Club, and Zeta Psi fraternity of North America. Married, his home is at 24 Orion road.

Boro and Township voters will also elect a member of the state Senate, four members of the Assembly, and five Freeholders. A water bond referendum, which will create a state water supply area at Chimney Rock in Somerset County, will also be on the ballot for voter action.

At the county level, Republican incumbent Senator Kenneth C. Hand is pitted against Democrat Robert L. Sheldon, mayor of Roselle Park, and independent Harry Mopsick. Hand, a resident of Westfield, has been a member of the state Senate for eight years, and was an Assemblyman for five. Sheldon is in his second term as the mayor of his town. A Senator's term runs for four years, and after January 1 of next year will pay a salary of $5,000.

GOP Incumbents

On the Republican Assembly ticket are Carlyle W. Crane of Plainfield, William R. Vanderbilt of Summit, Mrs. Florence P. Dwyer of Elizabeth, and G. Clifford Thomas, also of Elizabeth. All are incumbents. Crane and Vanderbilt have been in the Assembly since 1954. Mrs. Dwyer since 1949, and Thomas, who has been an Assemblyman for 11 years, was the majority leader from 1950 to 1953, Speaker in 1950, 1953, and 1954, and acting Governor in 1954.

Democratic Assembly candidates include Allen S. Kaufman of Elizabeth, Mrs. Mildred Barry Hughes of Union, William A. Young of Plainfield, and Frank J. Slugaski of Elizabeth.

Assembly representatives are elected for two-year terms at an annual salary of $5,000.

Republican Freeholders asking to be returned for three-year terms are Ernest S. Hickok of Summit, F. Edward Bierbaum of Union, and Richard P. Hatfield of Fanwood. Bierbaum is the mayor of Union, Hatfield of Fanwood. Hickok was a member of the Common Council for nine years, and president for three.

They are opposed by Francis J. Burns of Linden, George B. Doty, Jr., of Rahway, and Robert C. Kirkpatrick, former mayor of Hillside, now a member of the Township Committee.

GOP candidate for the two-year Freeholder term is John W. Zerega, former mayor of Cranford. His Democratic opponent is Richard A. Pettit of Westfield.

Frederick C. Anderson, three-time mayor of Cranford, is seeking reelection as the GOP Freeholder for a one-year term. He is opposed by Democrat William F. Crowley of Elizabeth.

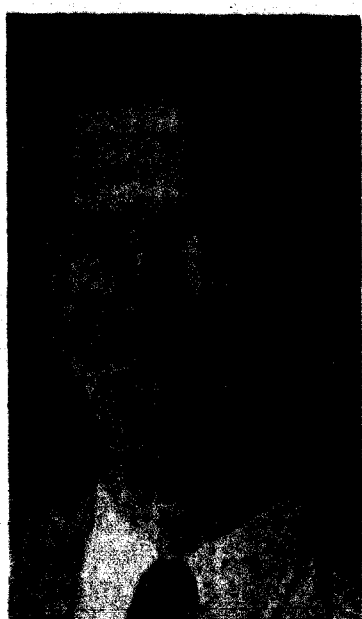

Hurt In Cycle Crash

New Providence—A motorcycle crash sent Thomas Fusco, 24, of 29 Marion avenue to Overlook Hospital Saturday afternoon. Fusco was detained with a fractured arm, leg, and possible internal injuries. According to police, the motorcycle Fusco was riding collided with a tree in South street. He was taken to the hospital by the Rescue Squad.

Candidates Reply To League

New Providence—The League of Women Voters in the Boro has posed two questions to each of the Councilmanic candidates in an effort to clarify pertinent local issues.

The questions, and the answers by the four candidates, follow.

Question 1: What part do you think the Boro Council should play in helping to solve our school problem, and what specific steps should the Council take to this end?

Question 2: Aside from the school situation, what do you consider to be the most important problem or problems facing the Boro today?

Here are the answers:

HUGH L. HAMILTON: (R)
1. The Borough Council should co-operate actively with the Board of Education in solving not only the present problems facing that Board, but future problems as they arise. Since Councilmen must be responsive to the entire electorate for a wide variety of public services, and be ever mindful of the total amount of taxes to be collected from property owners, it naturally follows that their advice and experience should be available to those charged with administering the largest single municipal expense account.

2. The Borough is generally recognized as a Boom Town, indicating that the matter of orderly growth and improvement in property values is of paramount importance. This means adherence to our foresighted Zoning Ordinance and Master Plan; the exercise of extreme care in approving sub-divisions involving homes, industries, or laboratories; and the solution to such problems as the expansion of the sewer and road systems, the supervision of construction, and provision for adequate police and fire protection.

EDWIN O. MORRISON: (R)
1. It is the duty of the Council to advise the Board of Education of available and future revenues, to lend personal assistance where possible, and to provide an efficient operating local government capable of supporting any decision or plan the Board of Education and the citizenry may undertake relative to our educational system. The Council should make every effort to improve the financial condition of the Boro through a plan of equalized and fair taxation and by influencing new ratables into town.

2. More ratables must be brought into town to defray the necessary costs of a fast growing community. The Boro sewer system must be expanded to take in those locations presently using septic tank disposal systems to eliminate a possible health menace in the future. Our business areas must be helped to expand and prosper through cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce in order to attract more local and outside trade. Adequate recreation facilities for our children are sorely needed and must be provided if we are to continue keeping juvenile delinquency in line. Many Boro roads are in need of paving or repair.

FRANK P. CULINA: (D)
LOUIS FARRELL: (D)
1. The Boro Council should have more foresight on future needs and co-operate with the Board of Education to see that our children have the finest school system possible; also to see that they have proper recreation facilities. The Council should lay plans on ways and means to attract desirable business and industry in the Boro. This in turn will bring more ratables which will bring more income to the Boro.

2. The other most important problem facing us today is taxes. Steps should be taken that they are not raised, because high taxes discourage business, industry, and home ownership, in our Boro. The Boro of New Providence should take steps in formulating plans on encouraging desirable business and industry to locate here. If my plan is followed the Boro of New Providence will have an excellent school system, lower taxes, and become a prosperous community.

The 24-year-old soldier attended The Citadel College and was employed at the National Newark & Essex Banking Company in Newark in civilian life.

Funeral Services For F. P. Bernhard Held Yesterday

Funeral services were held yesterday for Frederick P. Bernhard, retired controller of the International Nickel Co. of Canada, Ltd., who died Sunday morning at his home 105 New England avenue. He was 77. Mr. Bernhard was the father of Mrs. Henry G. Coit of this city.

Rev. Elmer F. Francis, rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, conducted the services at 3 p. m. at the Burroughs & Kohr Funeral Home, 307 Springfield avenue.

A former East Orange resident, Mr. Bernhard moved to Summit two years ago. He took up residence in East Orange in 1922 when International Nickel transferred him from Toronto to the New York office. He was with the company 50 years and when he retired August 1, 1949, he had the longest record of service of any of the firm's active employees.

Born in Stratford, Ont., Mr. Bernhard remained a Canadian citizen although he took an active interest in United States political affairs. He was an ardent baseball fan.

Mr. Bernhard spent vacations in St. Petersburg, Fla. for many years and, after retiring became a winter resident there.

He was a charter member of the East Orange Golf Association and a member of the Canadian Society of New York.

He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Georgie Thompson of Sudburg, Ont. The couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary November 28, 1950.

Other survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Henry G. Coit of 15 Elm place, Mrs. William Parkinson of East Orange; two sons, Frederick T. of Chatham, and Kenneth T. of Toronto; a sister, Miss Emma Bernhard of Toronto, and five grandchildren.

Best Guess Wins Local Man Trip to Bermuda

A free trip to Bermuda was won last week by David J. Mugford of 390 Morris avenue for guessing the nearest correct number of coins in a jar at the Eastern Union County Industrial Exposition held at the Elizabeth Armory.

Mugford, an employee of General Aniline & Film Corp of Linden, an exhibitor at the event, was one of 40,000 entering guessers. The jar contained 4,784 pennies and 484 dimes.

Thrift Shop Till Rifled

A theft of $60.99 was reported to police Monday morning by the Thrift Shop of the Junior Service League on DeForest avenue. According to police the money was taken from a cash box sometime between the shop's closing on Friday and its opening on Monday. There were no visible signs of a forced entry, police added.

Gets Army Promotion

Peter Cooper Loux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Loux of 25 Baltusrol place, has been promoted to specialist third class in the U. S. Army. He is stationed in Sendai, Japan, and is expected to return home in June.

In 1457 the Parliament of King James II outlawed "golfe" because men were playing golf and neglecting their archery practice for national defense. Later in the century gunpowder came into use in Scotland and retired the bow and arrow and restored golf.

Madison Grower Patents New Specie of Pink Rose

A new rose "Little Princess" of the Floribunda or Sweetheart type has been originated in Madison, known throughout the United States as "The Rose City". The rose, a lasting shade of pink, is owned and patented by Jimmy Sodano, well-known rose grower, of Madison. Word has just come from Washington, D. C. of approval of the patent.

Roses are patented just as any invention and the owner collects royalty. This beautiful little rose promises to become one of the most popular of the small rose family and is ideal for hospital gifts and corsages because of its exceptionally long-lasting quality.

In an article printed in last week's issue about the Summit High School yearbook, "The Top," winning an award, it was implied that all photos in the book were taken by the Chell Frantzen Studios. School authorities inform the Herald that many of the photos were the work of student photographers as well as Mr. Frantzen.

Summit Welcomes A NEW BUICK DEALER

Steidle Buick Co.
68 - 72 Franklin Place
Summit, N. J.
CRestview 3-0512

Next time you're in the neighborhood, take a few minutes to visit this new Buick Dealer for a friendly "hello" and a handshake.

You'll find him happy to greet you—and eager to show you his complete and efficient setup for Buick sales and service.

He's especially proud of his fine Service Department. Not only is it fully stocked with genuine Buick parts—but also staffed by experienced Buick-trained mechanics who use the very latest tools and techniques.

So whether you drive a Buick or some other make of car, you can count on getting the expert service that keeps your car in its best-performing, best-looking condition—and also saves you time and money.

And while you're there—treat yourself to a good look at the great new 1956 Buick. You won't have to look long or hard to see why it's the Best Buick Yet.

Never before has any Buick boasted such fresh, bold styling—from V-front grille to canted rear profile. Never have there been such smooth-riding Buicks—with the deep-oil cushioning of direct-action shock absorbers now added to Buick's famed all-coil springing.

Never before have Buicks been so easy to handle—or powered by such mighty V8 engines. And that holds true for every Buick in the 1956 line—from the rock-bottom-priced 220-hp SPECIAL to the custom-built 255-hp ROADMASTER.

But the top thrill of all will come when you put a 1956 Buick to the road and experience the smooth, swift magic of its new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* For, a great new advance in this most modern of all automobile transmissions now gives you instant, double-action take-off and acceleration right in the gas-saving driving range—plus an extra abundance of safe-passing power in the performance range.

Drop in real soon, and get acquainted with the Best Buick Yet.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

When Better Automobiles Are Built Buick Will Build Them

This kid isn't crazy—he has just been reading about New Jersey railroad taxes and figures that throwing away the candy and eating the wrapper is a pretty good way to show what New Jersey is trying to do to its railroads.

For, frankly, the taxes paid by the railroads serving New Jersey are a positive threat to railroad solvency, and to the economic strength of the state. Excessive tax burdens weaken the ability of railroads to provide dependable, all-weather, high speed transportation when:

- ... It's a fact that for every $1.00 it earns in New Jersey, the railroad industry pays $1.64 in New Jersey taxes.
- ... It's a fact that for every improvement your railroads make, the taxes go up, up, up... $10.00 more a day for each large diesel engine used to replace steam engines, for example.
- ... It's a fact that if other states adopted New Jersey's rate of taxation—there'd be no railroad tax problems—all railroads would go bankrupt and pay no taxes at all.

Your railroads want to pay their fair share of New Jersey taxes—they want to maintain accommodations—give the best possible transportation where the public will support it.

A fair solution to this unfair taxation is important not just to the railroads but to the welfare and future progress of every New Jersey community. The better railroad service of the future—upon which such progress depends—can come only if railroads are allowed the modest earnings needed for improvements. Now, all they make in New Jersey and more goes for taxes.

You can help—by being a well-informed citizen and speaking your mind on what needs to be done to get tax fair play in New Jersey. You'll find the facts in "Facts on Tracks." Just write: Railroad Information Bureau, 11 Commerce Street, Newark 2, New Jersey.

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

IT COMES upon the heels of the most successful Buick in history—and beats it on every score.

In shimmering steel and solid snew, it's Buick for 1956—and there's never been anything like it for pure automobile.

You get a good hint of what we mean when you take in its sweep-ahead styling—from the air-splitting prow of its V-front grille to the robust rake of its canted rear profile.

You get an even better hint when you open the doors and see the dazzle there.

But it's when you put this beauty to the city streets and the open highways that you learn the best of it.

For here is performance without parallel. A new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflo* goes airplanes one better—steps up your getaway in normal driving without switching the pitch. But when you do need that extra surge, it's there instantly—and in extra abundance.

The might of big 322-cubic-inch V8 engines in every Series brings new record high power to all Buicks — ROADMASTER, SUPER, CENTURY, and the bedrock-priced SPECIAL. And to handle such dynamic driving power, the whole rear end has been endowed with extra brawn and heft and solidity.

We could spread before you an acre of blueprints on the engineering gems that spark the spectacular performance and ride and handling and roadability of these great Buicks for 1956.

But you can get the full and magnificent story right now, at our showroom, in a face-to-face meeting with the best Buick yet—now on display, and setting a dazzling new pattern for 1956.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Overlook Auxiliary Slates Annual Rally for Monday

Mrs. Olive E. Andrews, director of women's activities of the United Hospital Fund of New York, will be guest speaker at the annual fall rally of the Women's Auxiliary of Overlook Hospital. The rally will be held Monday starting with coffee at 9:30 a. m. at the Methodist Church parish house, DeForest avenue.

Mrs. Lester A. Crone, auxiliary president, announced yesterday that in addition to the 1,500 auxiliary members, any resident interested in the work of the hospital volunteers, is invited.

Mrs. Thomas W. Johnston, first vice president, will preside. Mrs. William H. Conkling, Jr., program co-chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Andrews, who has been with the fund for 20 years, will speak on "Volunteering — That Amazing Avocation."

A resident of Mount Vernon, N. Y., Mrs. Andrews is nationally known for her leadership as head of the service program of the fund with which 81 hospitals are affiliated.

Her department recruits, trains, and assigns volunteers to voluntary and municipal hospitals throughout the city. She was instrumental in establishing the first course at Columbia University in the administration of hospital volunteers and is setting up institutes for volunteer directors. She is a member of the Westchester County Council of Social Agencies.

Mrs. Crone pointed out that Overlook, one of the smallest hospitals in the state, has the largest number of volunteers, 740 at present.

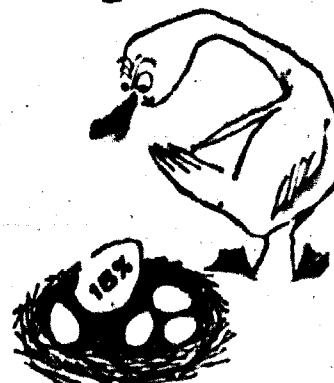

Overlook, like other hospitals, she said, has come to recognize the importance of adding a director of volunteers to its professional staff.

Carolyn Clarkson Is Bride of C. G. Markham

Miss Carolyn Jones Clarkson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Clarkson of Short Hills, on Saturday became the bride of Charles George Markham, son of Mrs. N. V. Green of 886 Mountain avenue, Berkeley Heights, and George L. Markham of Verona. The ceremony was performed at Wilson Memorial Union Church, Watchung, by Rev. Jesse Lyons of Summit.

The bride's cousin, Mrs. Robert Vanderminde, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Marie and Nancy Clarkson, sisters of the bride. Edmond Weston was best man and serving as usher was William H. Hills, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and Bernard Kuehn.

Mrs. Markham attended Maryland College for Women and was graduated from R.C.A. Institute, New York. She is with Bell Telephone Laboratories in Murray Hill.

Mr. Markham, an Air Force veteran of World War 2, is with Gardner Motors, Bernardsville.

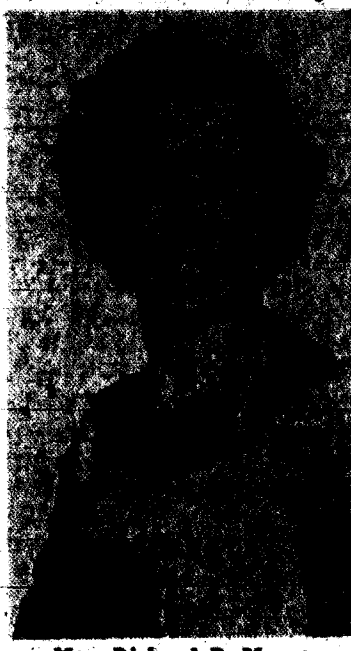

Barbara Jean Henderson Is Married Saturday to Robert Preston Massey

At Central Presbyterian Church on Saturday, Miss Barbara Jean Henderson was married to Richard V. Massey, D.D., performed the ceremony and a reception followed at the parish house.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Henderson of Blackburn place and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dall Preston Massey of Fort Worth, Texas.

Miss Lois Walker of Ann Arbor, Mich., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Bennett of Hobart avenue, Miss Peggy Hazard of Chatham and Miss Joan Willits of Maplewood.

Robert F. Henderson, a brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Daniel Bishop of Dayton, Ohio; Patrick Clarke of Jackson Heights, L. I.; Raymond Lunney of East Orange and Irving McNair, Jr. of New Providence. A gown of dupioni silk, fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined in alencon lace with long pointed sleeves and full length skirt, was chosen by the bride. A tulle veil caught with orange blossoms was suspended from a lace cap and she carried a bouquet of thaleanopsis orchids and stephanotis. Her attendants were gowned alike in waltz-length dresses of peacock blue dupioni silk and their bouquets were chrysanthemums in fall shades.

Mrs. Richard P. Massey

Mrs. Massey is a graduate of Summit High School and Mount Holyoke College. Mr. Massey was graduated from Rice Institute, Texas. After a wedding trip they will live in Cranford.

Janet Gebhauer To be Bride of Neil Bantley

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gebhauer of Winchip road, Berkeley Heights, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Janet Helene Gebhauer, to Neil E. Bantley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bantley of Glastonbury, Conn.

The bride-elect was graduated from Vail-Deane School, Elizabeth, and Simmons College, Boston. She is employed as a dietetic intern by Aetna Life Insurance Co., Hartford.

Her fiancé attended Hillyer College in Hartford and is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan College in Delaware, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. A Korean war veteran, he is employed in the purchasing department of Stanley Works in New Britain.

An early July wedding is planned.

Joan Willits of Maplewood; Miss Peggy Hazard of Chatham and Miss Bee Christopher of Fanwood; Miss Meg Gates of Tulip street and the Misses Joan and Nancy Bennett of Hobart avenue.

With Miss Tilla Thomas, head of the modern language department of Summit High School, a group of 13 students attended the Saturday matinee of "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme", a New York production of the Comedie Francaise. The 275-year-old company is currently appearing for the first time in the United States.

Fred Mayer, a Summit student at Pingry was among seven members of the school's French Club attending the Friday performance.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry S. Carlson and family, of 211 Morris avenue, will leave Saturday for Brockton, Mass., to attend the 60th anniversary celebration of Gethsemane Lutheran Church. Mr. Carlson was pastor of the church prior to his service in the Army during World War 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Rimback, Jr. of Hobart avenue will be hosts at a wedding rehearsal dinner for the wedding party at the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Janice Evelyn Rimback, and Walter Vreeland of Millburn. Miss Rimback, who is head nurse on the surgical floor at Overlook Hospital, was feted at a shower given by her fellow nurses

To Recount Garden State Lore for Club Members

An illustrated lecture, "Jersey: Do You Know Your State?" will be presented to members of the literature department of the Fortnightly Club at its opening meeting next Thursday at the clubhouse.

Lore of the Garden State, including its history, geology, industry, flora and fauna, will be revealed by S. Davis Page of the N. J. Bell Telephone Co. in his talk, accompanied by kofachrome slides.

This program is presented in place of one originally scheduled. Tea will be served following the lecture, at which hostesses will be Miss Katherine Bennett and her committee. New department members will be welcomed.

at the home of Mrs. Ralph Gentile of Springfield avenue. The bride to be was also honored at parties given by her bridal attendants, Mrs. William Rimback of North Plainfield, Misses Eva Sewell of North Plainfield, and Doris Cooke of North Plainfield, and by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Barnard of Millburn.

INFORMATION ON $100,000,000 WATER BOND REFERENDUM

STATEMENT ON THE BALLOT WILL READ:

Shall the act entitled "An act to authorize the creation of a State debt by the issuance of bonds of the State of New Jersey in the aggregate principal amount of $100,000,000.00 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and developing dependable public water supplies for domestic and industrial uses and facilities appurtenant thereto, in any part of this State as need appears, and providing the ways and means to pay the interest of such debt and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof," be approved?

EXPLANATION:

$100,000,000 will be used to construct a reservoir at Chimney Rock (Somerset County), a causeway over the reservoir, connecting roads, compensating reservoirs, dams, works and facilities on the Raritan River and its tributaries to provide a 70 million gallons per day public water supply for the northeastern metropolitan region. $40,000,000 will be used to study water resources and develop other new water supply systems including, but not limited to, the Wharton Tract located in part of Burlington, Atlantic and Camden Counties. The bonds will bear a maximum interest rate of 4% per annum; they will mature within 10 years and be retired within 35 years. The bond issue will be paid off from any net revenues the State receives from the operation of the new water supply system and from the State Corporate Franchise Tax receipts (in fact, from the General State Fund) when necessary.

HERE and THERE in REAL ESTATE

By EDWARD C. HOLMES

Past President N. J. Assn. of Real Estate Boards

THE TIGHTENING of the Mortgage Market is beginning to take its toll in the Summit Area as well as throughout the country. Since discussing this subject in this column on September 15, several people have asked what caused the tightening, what the "secondary market" is, and other questions on the subject, so here is a brief explanation that I hope will enlighten those interested:

In the last year or so there has been a tremendous increase in borrowing by individuals throughout the entire country. Being aware of the inflationary trends of such borrowing, the government has taken steps to slow it down. In the home mortgage field several restrictions were issued through various channels to accomplish this end:

First came the restrictions on VA loans, where the term was reduced from 30 to 25 years and the down payment requirements increased by 2 per cent. At the same time FHA issued practically the same order. Finally, and by far more serious for the building and housing industry, came the orders through the Federal Home Loan Bank to curtail borrowing by Savings and Loan Associations (who make most of the mortgage loans on homes).

The VA and FHA orders are self-explanatory and their effect obvious. To explain the effect of the Federal Home Loan Bank order it is necessary to first understand the function of the bank. The Federal Home Loan Bank is what is called in mortgage fields a "secondary source" of financing.

In other words, this is a source where lending institutions may borrow against mortgages already on their books. Primarily this bank was established by the government to enable Savings and Loan Associations to get their hands on ready cash in the event of an unexpected heavy withdrawal by depositors.

In practice, however, most Associations were using the Home Loan Bank to borrow money to lend during a peak lending period (usually the good building months of spring and summer), and repaying this money to the bank out of normal income from interest and amortization on existing loans during the lean lending period of the winter months. In effect, this meant that an Association could lend more money than it actually had. This is obviously inflationary to an extent, the same as borrowing money against stock to buy more stock, but this is short term financing and allowed an institution to keep practically all the money it had (except their required 6 per cent reserve) constantly working for them, thus more loans available for more homes, thus more carpenters and mechanics employed, etc.

To stop this borrowing, on September 12 the Federal Home Loan Bank issued an order informing its borrowing Associations that no more money would be available for the purpose of purchasing mortgages; directing them to clean up as soon as possible their outstanding loans for this purpose; and increasing the interest rate on money borrowed from the bank from 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 per cent.

As a result of these orders, most Savings and Loan Associations now find they must curtail the number of loans they are making until their reserves are built up, which will not begin to build up until present loans are paid off.

Thus they are becoming more and more choosy about their loans and are taking only the "cream loans" at the present time. Interest rates are inching upward (one N. Y. Association is now charging 5 1/2 per cent) and the G.I. is finding it more and more difficult to locate an institution that will take his 4 1/2 per cent loan.

From all of this it is obvious that the Government holds in its hands the power to control the prosperity of the building industry, which is now the largest industry in the country.

To help you understand the issues and the candidates in the General Election, this information is presented by the League of Women Voters, a non-partisan organization devoted to good government. The League asked the candidates questions within the scope of the office they seek and herewith reports these questions and the individual answers as given by the candidates. The answers do not necessarily reflect the views of the League of Women Voters.

The League of Women Voters does not endorse or oppose candidates.
(CANDIDATES ARE LISTED IN THE ORDER IN WHICH THEY WILL APPEAR ON THE BALLOT)

CANDIDATES FOR NEW JERSEY SENATE AND GENERAL ASSEMBLY WERE ASKED TO ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:

1. How do you think the New Jersey water problem should best be solved?
2. Should the state help local communities which are unable to finance needed additional school buildings? If so, how?
3. In what problems of New Jersey government are you especially interested?

CANDIDATES FOR THE NEW JERSEY STATE SENATE FROM UNION COUNTY

Robert L. Sheldon, Democratic

Roselle Park

Kenneth C. Hand, Republican

Westfield

Harry Mopsick, Independent

Linden

Age 32. Roselle Park school, A.B. Duke Univ., L.L.B. Rutgers Law. Lawyer. Mayor of Roselle Park 2 terms; actively participates in all phases local government; member Inter-Municipal Water Committee, Mayors Airport Committee, etc.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOVE:

1. "By undertaking the immediate purchase of available sites for adequate water storage, taking into consideration present, as well as future needs. Although I believe the Round Valley proposal to be superior to the Chimney Rock plan, I am of the opinion that we must take immediate action in connection with one or the other. If the Chimney Rock plan is the only one which can succeed in the Legislature, I would support it."
2. "Yes. By providing funds. Under the present tax schedule the burden for this public construction falls almost entirely upon the small real estate owner. It would be totally unfair to increase this burden. The State should issue bonds to provide for this kind of investment. It is evident that a thorough overhauling of the State tax structure is necessary; that the tax burden be equalized and be put on a more solid 'ability to pay' basis."
3. "All problems of State government—especially those which affect the residents of Union County. Mandatory voting machines in every county of the State. Solution of the water problem. Acquisition of the fifth assembly seat for Union County. Abolition of the vicious caucus system. State aid to school construction; air pollution; flood control; mental health; realistic labor legislation."

CANDIDATES FOR THE NEW JERSEY GENERAL ASSEMBLY FROM UNION COUNTY

Term of Office—2 years. Salary—$5,000 per year (after January 1, 1956). Functions—Legislators of State government. All revenue measures originate in the Assembly, the lower house of the New Jersey Legislature.

DEMOCRATIC

ALLEN KAUFMAN, Democratic

Elizabeth

Age 29. A.B. Cornell, L.L.B. Yale. Lawyer and law professor. Government major Cornell, specialized research in state government problems. Yale; Attorney-advocate in all phases local government; member Inter-Municipal Water Committee, Mayors Airport Committee, etc.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOVE:

1. "I think the water problem should be solved through the establishment of a tri-state commission to develop the Delaware River basin."
2. "Yes. The State should establish the necessary legal machinery to allocate funds to communities which are unable to maintain minimum standards for school facilities."
3. "Legislation to combat juvenile delinquency. Modernization of N. J.'s tax structure. Greater economy in government administration. State aid to education. Improvement of our highways. Obtaining the 5th Assembly seat to which Union County is entitled. Legislation to prevent corruption in government. Establishment of commuter rates on the Turnpike and Parkway. Investigation of the Port of New York Authority. Legislation to increase payments to workers under present labor statutes."

MILDRED BARRY HUGHES, Democratic

Union

B. A. Georgian Court College, post-graduate courses in education, N. Y. Univ., miscellaneous courses. Elizabeth Adult School of Education. Housewife and mother, former high school teacher. Former officer and member League of Women Voters of Elizabeth (resigned); active in various civic, social service, church and cultural organizations.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOVE:

1. "By a long range plan for purchase of reservoir sites, laying of interconnecting distributing systems and expansion of present water supply facilities. Money for such development should come from a bond issue repaid by municipalities or water companies purchasing water. The separate systems should work together, not be superseded by a monopolistic Authority or Commission. Strategically placed pumping stations along connecting pipe lines could bring surplus water to low pressure areas."
2. "Yes. By setting up a fund from which municipalities may borrow; such loans to be amortized over an extended period of time, the period being determined by the ability of the municipality to repay."
3. "Mental health, education, tax structure, child labor."

I am also a member of the Union County Board of Health, and the Union County Board of Education.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOVE:

1. "By a long range plan for purchase of reservoir sites, laying of interconnecting distributing systems and expansion of present water supply facilities. Money for such development should come from a bond issue repaid by municipalities or water companies purchasing water. The separate systems should work together, not be superseded by a monopolistic Authority or Commission. Strategically placed pumping stations along connecting pipe lines could bring surplus water to low pressure areas."
2. "Yes. By setting up a fund from which municipalities may borrow; such loans to be amortized over an extended period of time, the period being determined by the ability of the municipality to repay."
3. "Mental health, education, tax structure, child labor."

Supervisor, Hoboken-Copco Co., before practicing dentistry. Chairman, Economics Committee, Union County and N. J. Dental Society. Vice-Chairman American Cancer Society; supervisor Dental Clinic Elizabeth Board of Health. Member many fraternal, civic and political organizations.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOVE:

1. "The State of N. J. should purchase Round Valley first. Then issue $100,000,000 in bonds. Then purchase Chimney Rock. Develop Round Valley in such a way as to be able to connect both water sheds if and when it is needed. By doing it in that manner the State would have sufficient water to last us more than 50 years. Round Valley cheaper in the end. Distribution, storage, better pressure to get it to municipalities."
2. "Yes. The problem at the outset belongs to all the municipalities. They should first exhaust whatever means they have in raising funds for their educational program. Then if they are in a deficit, they should apply to the legislature for legislative action for raising these funds through means that are legally available or earmarked for education. Proposed: Legislation to increase city debt limits when necessary."
3. "Public health, welfare and institutions. Education, highways, transportation, labor and industrial relations. Public safety and veterans' affairs."

Plainfield

Age 41. Plainfield High School, A.B. Dartmouth, L.L.B. Yale Law, F.B.I. Academy, active in all phases local government; member Inter-Municipal Water Committee, Mayors Airport Committee, etc.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOVE:

1. "The water problem is one of engineering and economics and not of politics. We are on the right track in hiring an outstanding firm of engineers to make a survey and recommendations. Once we are satisfied that the recommendations are sound we should proceed without delay to carry out the long range plans to insure an adequate supply for the ever increasing homes and industries of our State."
2. "Yes, by either a general program of additional state aid to all school districts or by a program of state loans on favorable terms to districts needing such assistance, supplemented by outright grants in certain emergency cases where the community would be unable to handle an adequate program on a loan basis. It might be that all 3 types of assistance will prove necessary."
3. "Water supply, commuter transportation, air pollution, tax equalization, law enforcement and juvenile narcotic problems."

WILLIAM R. VANDERBILT, Republican

Summit

Age 35. Millburn and Platte schools, A.B. Western Univ., L.L.B. N. Y. Univ. Attorney and Counselor-at-law; member Bar Association; past chairman Summit Republicans; trustee Kent Place School; infantry officer W.W. II, awarded Bronze Star and Combat Infantryman's Badge; recalled to active duty during Korean War and assigned to Judge Advocate General's Corps. Assemblyman 1954-55, served on Labor and Industrial Relations, Revision and Amendment of Laws committees.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOVE:

1. "The passage of the referendum in the November General Election authorizing a $100,000,000 bond issue for acquiring, constructing and developing a reservoir located at Chimney Rock in Somerset County and for the further study, survey and development of additional sources of water, especially in South Jersey, as may be authorized by Acts of Legislature, is the best program for solving the water needs of the State. The Chimney Rock project will alleviate the critical water situation now confronting the northeastern section of the State."
2. "Yes. I believe that the program recommended by the Eighth Report of the Commission on State Tax Policy should be adopted. These recommendations are embodied in Assembly Bill 572 which provides for an annual capital foundation building program for each school district with state-local sharing of the costs according to the taxable resources of the local school districts on the same basis as the existing program of state aid to school districts for current operating costs."
3. "The establishment of a research and training center in the field of mental health at Bordentown to promote research and development in the care, treatment, training and prevention of mental disabilities and to train persons qualified to teach mentally retarded children. I also favor increasing our state facilities for the housing of mentally retarded children. Also reappointment of the seats in the General Assembly."

FLORENCE P. DWYER, Republican

Elizabeth

Age 40+. Public schools Penna. and Ohio, special courses Rutgers Law, Legislator, Legislative secretary 3 years to Governor of New Jersey. Former St. Legislation Ch. N. J. Federation Business & Professional Women Assemblywoman since 1948. Chairman Education Comm., member Public Health Comm., member Interstate Commission of Council of State Govts. and Child Study Commission.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOVE:

1. "When I realized the Round Valley project was unacceptable to majority of legislators, I voted for bills authorizing a referendum on General Election ballot requesting voters to approve or reject the acquisition of Chimney Rock area as a reservoir site plus future development of other sites. I am not a water expert and therefore accepted (after attending Public Hearings) the recommendation of Engineering firm engaged by bi-partisan Legislative Committee to solve New Jersey's long range water needs."
2. "Sixty thousand N. J. school children will be given second-rate education this school year because of crowding into sub-standard classrooms or will be forced into part-time schedules. The State should help school districts unable to finance needed additional school buildings. Recommend Dwyer Bill A572 or Senate 360 and Senate 361 for Tax Commission. Also recommend Dwyer Bill A544 for Tax Commission to revise antiquated tax system in order to finance equitably this program."
3. "An especially interested in Tax Convention called for the purpose of studying our tax structure with a thorough review of our taxing methods. An equitable taxing system is the crux of the kind of services State Government can render for its citizens, such as schools, mental and health services, improvement in our highway system and sound financing of adequate water supply. Also reappointment of assembly seats. Deeply interested in steadily increasing problem of our aged."

Art Association Lists Building Fund Benefit

A demonstration in portrait painting will be given by Katherine Sailer, president of the Summit Art Association, on Wednesday, November 16, at 8:15 p.m. at the Association rooms at 497 Springfield avenue. Mrs. Sailer studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, the Corcoran Art School and abroad. The public is invited to attend and a small donation will be requested for the benefit of the Association's building fund. For several years the Association membership has been planning on a permanent headquarters of its own and at a recent meeting of the board of directors a few thousand dollars of funds were specifically designated for this purpose. Events, such as the painting demonstration and others, are planned for the future to augment the building fund. New Post with DuPont The promotion of Alfred Siegel of 317 Summit avenue to assistant director of the color research laboratory at the Newark plant of E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. Inc., was announced this week.

Mr. Siegel had been a section manager at the laboratory. Dandelion flowers produce a wine that has some resemblance to champagne.
