United Campaign Again Gets Pleas To Curtail Drives

A double request to curtail the rapidly growing number of fund appeals that annually drain local pocketbooks was revealed last week following the regular meeting of the Central Committee of the United Campaign.

Apparently exasperated by the expansion of community fund drives, one contributor to the recent United Campaign sent in his contribution with the plea that the United Campaign see that his donation of $1,000 be distributed in amounts requested by the donor organizations not now included in the Campaign.

The donor, according to John M. Leavens, chairman of the Central Committee, expressed concern over the increasing number of appeals made upon him and named the United Campaign his distributing agency in a one-man attempt to consolidate local fund drives.

Total Exceeds Last Year

A recent accounting of this year's United Campaign results shows that the drive has been the most successful in two years. To date, Campaign headquarters reports a total of more than $118,200 with the "mop-up phase" not yet started. The final figure on the 1956 drive conducted last year was $118,077.

Edward C. Holmes, campaign chairman, said "there is a good chance that we will reach the 1955 goal of $128,000 since many cards are still outstanding."

The goal for this year's appeal, which provides budgetary needs for eight local agencies to operate in 1957, was $145,000.

The United Campaign has never been asked to do this before but agreed to carry out the donor's wishes in this instance and sent letters to each of the agencies named by him, notifying the agency of the gift and the reason behind its method of payment.

Wants Drives Consolidated
The donor, Mr. Leavens explained, has a strong personal feeling that the United Campaign should embrace agencies present or not affiliated which conduct separate fund drives. The United Campaign, in its letter notifying these agencies of the donation, stated "we would welcome an opportunity to explore with you ways and means of including your organization in the United Campaign drive for 1958."

The second move to consolidate local charity drives came from Roger M. Spalding, chairman of the 1955 United Campaign drive and a member of the Central Committee.

In his annual report made last week, Mr. Spalding urged that the United Campaign assume leadership in trying to solve the growing community problem by public sponsoring a plan, or plans, reducing the number of annual appeals held here.

Again Makes Plea
At the last Central Committee meeting Mr. Spalding reiterated his plea and strongly pointed out that the United Campaign was originally organized in 1936 to consolidate the fund appeals of seven local agencies but now is periled by the growing number of other appeals, both local and out of town.

He submitted a resolution calling for the Central Committee to sponsor a meeting with the heads of local representatives of all agencies, including national ones such as Heart Association, Cancer, Polio, Muscular Dystrophy, to discuss ways and means of reducing the number of separate drives and to inform the public of progress being made along these lines.

Visiting Nurses Name Chairmen For Fund Appeal

Mrs. Ambrose J. Geary of 65 Essex road has accepted the general chairmanship of the annual drive for funds for the Visiting Nurse Association of Summit and Vicinity. This campaign, which is the only appeal of the year that is made to support the work of the Visiting Nurses, will be held January 11 to January 31.

In making this announcement, Alfred W. Alesbury, president of the Association, stated that Mrs. Geary has been active in many community projects. She has served as an officer and board member of the Junior Service League and was a former treasurer of its Consignment Shop. She is an active volunteer at Overlook Hospital, and has held leadership positions on many community drives.

Mrs. C. Douglas Hardy of 26 Lenox road, and Mrs. Samuel E. Jones of 14 Magnolia Drive, New Providence, both members of the board of trustees of the Visiting Nurse Association, will act as vice-chairmen of the 1957 fund drive.

Mrs. Hardy has served as an officer and board member of the Junior Service League, and is giving active volunteer service to the Consignment Shop, as well as to the League of Women Voters, and to Overlook Hospital. She is a former board member of the Family Service Association.

Mrs. Jones is vice-president of the Summit Council of Church Women, and a member of the Red Cross Community Gray Ladies. She is a past-president of the New Providence Library Board, and of the New Providence Parents and Teachers Association.

Chamber Re-elects Five Directors And Four New Ones
Five directors of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce were re-elected to additional terms and four new members were elected to the board in a membership-wide vote concluded yesterday.

Those re-elected are George M. Delaney, a representative of the industrial division and manager of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. office here, Frederick C. Kentz, Jr., local attorney who is the present chairman of the civic-professional division, and John McElgunn, Matthew Zeigler and Robert Dunsmore, all representatives of the merchants' division. Mr. Dunsmore is the present Chamber president and Mr. Zeigler is chairman of the merchants' division.

Kentz, McElgunn, Dunsmore and Zeigler were elected to three-year terms and Delaney to a two-year term.

New members who will join the board are Dr. L. I. Gilbertson of Air Reduction Labs, who this year has served as chairman of the industrial division; Daniel Reheis of Reheis Corp. in Berkeley Heights, a past industrial chairman; Frederick Abbott and George T. Spero, Abbott, who was a board member a few years ago, and Spero were elected to two-year terms, as was Dr. Gilbertson. Reheis was elected to a three-year term.

The election was conducted by mail ballot returnable yesterday to the Chamber office. The new members will attend their first meeting with the present board at the regular monthly meeting to be held Monday at the Hotel Suburban A; that time new officers will be elected for 1957.

Overlook Trustees Okay $3½ Million Expansion Program

F. Bruce Gerhard, president of the Overlook Hospital Association, today announced that Overlook trustees at a special meeting had approved a program to raise approximately $3,500,000 to increase the capacity of the hospital from 250 to 340 beds in the first phase of construction and a longer term plan to increase bed capacity to 405. The first phase plan adopted calls for the construction of a new building. The entire plan was presented to the trustees with the full approval of the executive committee of the board, the building committee, the medical staff, the finance committee and the director.

"The needs of the hospital are pressing," Mr. Gerhard said, "and it was unanimously agreed that we must begin at once to prepare for the larger responsibilities which Overlook will be required to carry by the new facilities to be provided."

Facilities Over Taxed
"It is generally accepted in hospital management that the maximum satisfactory occupancy is eighty per cent. Only then can you provide enough beds for emergency admissions and separation of patients by sex and medical necessity. Medical-surgical occupancy at Overlook for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1956 was 85.4 per cent and in one month it was actually 97.7 per cent."

"To carry the heavy patient load Overlook is being asked to bear we have had to use one solarium on each floor for patients. No solarium has bathroom facilities. And withdrawing these solarium limits the facilities for recuperating patients and for visitors."

"For more than a year Overlook has had to restrict many of its services to those in greatest need. We have had to cancel, delay and postpone admissions to (Continued on Page 23)

Traffic Laws to Be Tightened for Holiday Season

In a move to cut down automobile accidents during the holiday season ahead, Summit has again joined with State officials in a program to tighten all traffic regulations as well as urging motorists to observe carefully all traffic regulations. The observance, which got underway last Thursday will continue through January 2.

Again this year, there will be a crackdown on violators during the specified period. Additional cameras and electronic equipment will be used throughout the safety campaign.

Heading the special force will be Sergeant George Gerity, who will again be in charge of the safety campaign here. The patrols will be on a 24-hour tour of the city and there will be strict enforcement of all traffic regulations.

The campaign is in line with a recent proclamation by Governor Robert B. Meyner who reminded State safety authorities that last year 111 persons were killed and 5,152 were injured in 10,765 traffic accidents during December as the worst month of the year on New Jersey's roads.

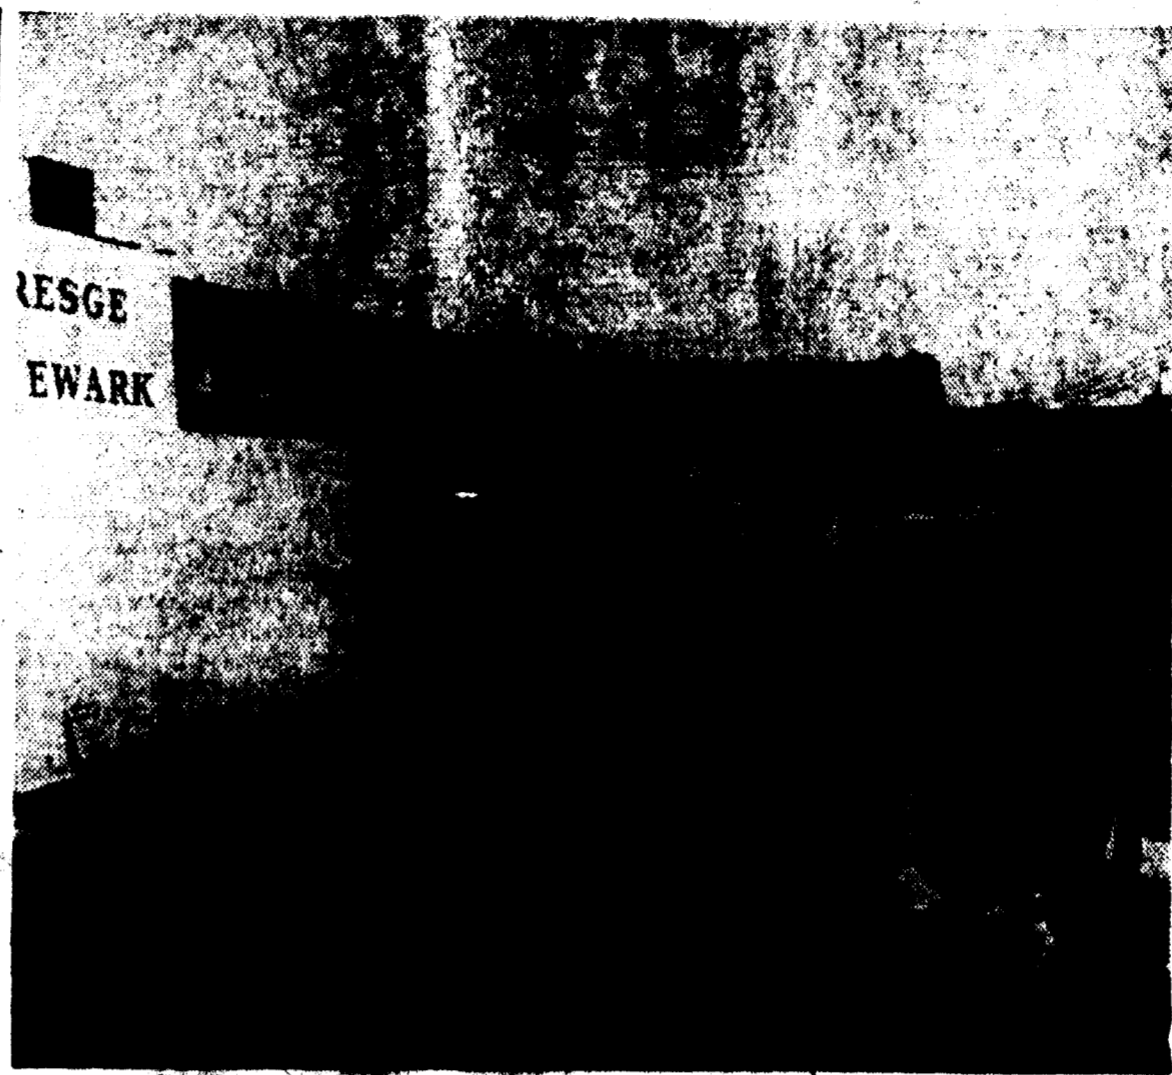

The Governor pointed out that the Christmas and New Year holidays traditionally bring the greatest dangers to both motorists and pedestrians.

633 Summonses Last Year
Last year 633 summonses were given to motorists by Summit police, as compared to 438 in 1954. Sgt. Gerity said that of the total, 554 were for speeding offenses while an additional 95 were handed out to motorists who failed to stop for traffic signals or at stop signs.

During the observance last year, there were 17 traffic accidents in the city with six injuries. However, the city had no fatalities.

Sgt. Gerity said that in the enforcement of the regulations, there will be three radio cars patrolling the roads along with speed timers which will be placed at various locations.

High School Annex Necessary for '59, Civic Group Told

Summit must have no high school facilities under construction in the very near future in order to relieve an overload on school services that are predicted to hit a peak in 1959, Ralph Sayre of 20 Lowell avenue, a member of the Board of Education, told members of the Canoe Brook Civic Association at a general meeting held last Thursday at City Hall.

The rate of home development in Summit has been such in recent years that a peak enrollment of 2,200 secondary students is expected, said Mr. Sayre. Present facilities are capable of handling no more than 1,500 pupils under normal conditions. This record enrollment will exclude any New Providence students, who will be enrolled in Summit after 1957. The new school construction will double as an extension to the present high school and will involve purchase of more property, he said.

Mr. Sayre also discussed the primary school situation in Summit. He advised the meeting of the Board of Education's progress in acquiring "Dalkeith," the R. C. Wilson estate on Springfield avenue for a new elementary school which is planned. A map of the proposed school districts and the architect's sketch of the new school building was shown to the audience.

The Canoe Brook Association is a civic group in North Summit embracing an area under development now which also contains many older houses. It is located in the Washington School district. Since the end of World War 2 this district has had an increase of about 170 per cent in both houses and pupils, Mr. Sayre said.

Robert Rader of 21 Wallace road, who presided at the meeting said the Association would attempt to schedule more speakers and topics of general interest at future meetings. All citizens of Summit are welcome at these meetings and more residents are urged to join the Association, Mr. Rader said.

Eleven Area Youths With Board 44 Draft Contingent

Eleven Summit Area young men were included in a group of 33 inducted into military service last week from Selective Service Board 44, Plainfield.

Summit residents are Orazio Fusco of 110 Broad street, John P. Johnson of 22 William street, David A. Kirkwood of 109 Mountain avenue, Arthur P. Hiltbrunner, Jr. of 295 Glenside avenue and Donald C. Caporaso of 28 Morris avenue.

From New Providence are Leroy R. Mayer of 30 Clinton avenue, Franklin A. Martone of 45 Potter street and James L. McMahon of 24 Dunlap street. Berkeley Heights residents are Kenneth Phillips, Jr. of Yale avenue, Peter H. Schaub of Greenbrook road and Donald L. Weber of 543 Plainfield avenue.

Army Unveils New Nike Site At Area Once Rich in Trees

In an 80-acre tract at Watchung Reservation, now completely devoid of trees and covered with anti-aircraft ditches, the Army last week unveiled its latest Nike site for the defense of the nation.

Local 1 in a once-wooded section, the new base, to be completed in February, occupies 40 acres, surrounded by another 40 acres of safety zone.

Council Denies Zoning Variance To Medical Group

By a majority opinion Common Council Tuesday night denied the Board of Adjustment's recommendation that a variance be granted to the Summit Medical Group to permit the use of property at 126 Summit avenue, recently acquired by the group for business and library purposes. Voting against the denial was Councilman John M. Mackie.

At the time the medical group had requested the variance on October 8, W.T. Johnston, administrator, had requested the use of the property to house the accounting and bookkeeping departments, to provide office space for the business manager and secretary, and to provide facilities for a medical library.

The zoning ordinance provides for use of property within that area for hotel and apartment purposes.

When the variance was requested, residents and property owners in the area went on record as favoring the acquisition of the site by the Medical Group since they felt that "both times when the Medical Group constructed buildings, the area has been improved."

The Medical Group had intended to use the additional space because the existing buildings, located at 124 and 129 Summit avenue, house 25 physicians and 75 other employees, including technicians, nurses and office personnel.

Cited Crowded Conditions
It was stated at the time that crowded conditions had forced physicians to share offices and to make use of the medical library as a patients' waiting room at times.

Other Council business included the introduction of an ordinance to provide $12,000 for the grading, paving and installation of utilities at Woodland avenue, from a point north of Beverley road to north of Karen Way.

An ordinance was also introduced authorizing the additional appropriation of funds in the amount of $11,500 to acquire the old Mason property, between the Lackawanna Railroad and Springfield avenue near Maple street.

Council also passed a motion to (Continued on page 29)

Merchants, Post Office Brace For Record Breaking Season

Summit stores will begin their Christmas season on night shopping hours this Monday, December 11, when retail concerns will stay open until 9 p.m. every week-day evening until Christmas Eve.

The annual Christmas decorations in the business section have been completed and the colored lights were turned on last week and will continue to give a festive air to the shopping center during the holiday season. The decorating of the business area is an annual project of the merchants' division of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce.

Also, on Monday, Santa Claus will take up permanent quarters on the village green, opposite the Lackawanna Station, and be there each weekday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. to personally take the gift requests of children.

Direct Mail to Santa
The Post Office has again arranged for special delivery of all letters to Santa and has erected a mail box near Santa's headquarters on the Village Green that is exclusively for letters to Santa. Each letter will receive an answer.

The Chamber of Commerce as well as individual merchant groups such as the 100 Lumber stores stress that this year the city offers ample off-street metered parking on the DeForest avenue lots as well as the new open Bank street and Birchwood road lot which accommodates 38 cars for two-hour periods. These lots are for the use of shoppers. Other lots, such as behind the Grand Union store and the Elm and Maple street lots, are for all-day parking for those cars having city permits.

It is pointed out that curbside parking in the business area is now more adequate but is limited on the main street to 30-minute intervals. Longer hours are provided for on various street streets.

Shopping Starts Early
Christmas shopping has apparently started earlier this year than in past years, according to an informal survey of some local stores. Many stores reported a noticeable increase in customer traffic immediately after the Thanksgiving week end as shoppers were being especially heavy on Thursdays and Fridays.

Street and sidewalk traffic appears to be heavier and in stores that greet customers with purchases earlier than in past years. It is anticipated that the peak will be reached by next weekend.

Yule Cheer for Needy Doubtful If Drive Fails

If Christmas is to mean anything to some several hundred aged, chronically ill and victims of broken homes this year, the Community Christmas Fund, sponsored by the Youth Guidance Council, will need all the help it can get from local residents now.

This urgent appeal was made last week by Mrs. Anne Brokaw of the Family Service Association who pointed out that "although unemployment in Summit is at an all time low, there are many families and individuals in the city who need help to make their Christmas a little brighter."

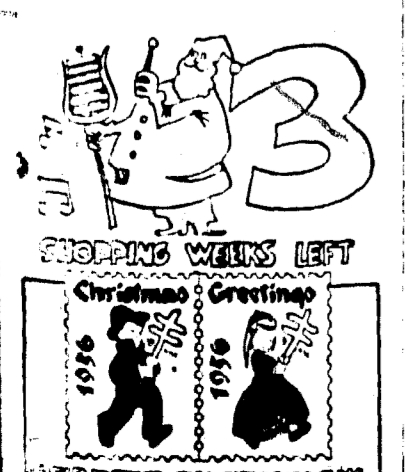

Plans for Summit's tenth annual Community Christmas Fund, already completed, will concentrate this year on those families and individuals who are handicapped through illness and the aged whose old age assistance income is insufficient to afford the small gifts to add to the holiday spirit. Small children from broken homes will also be aided.

According to Mrs. Brokaw, the fund will give $5 to individuals, $10 to a family of four, $15 to a family of from five to ten and $20 to families over ten.

This year, as in years past, the largest contributors to the fund will be the school children who bring in their dimes and quarters. "However," Mrs. Brokaw pointed out, "We need as much as we can possibly get from our senior residents if we are going to be successful this year."

Low Incomes
Mrs. Brokaw said that many of the city's older people are living on a low Social Security income. Some have pensions as well but they are so small as to mean nothing. "These people can only afford the barest essentials; Christmas giving is out of the question and that's where we want to help," she said.

"At present we have 18 local people in convalescent homes. Although old age assistance pays for convalescence, the patients have no other money. This year (Continued on Page 5)

Water Company Asks State for 25% Rate Boost

Commonwealth Water Co., which serves Summit and neighboring communities, yesterday filed a notice and statement with the Public Utilities Commission which provides for an increase in rates slightly in excess of 25 per cent for all classifications of service.

The company cited large capital expenditures for new facilities and improvements as being the reasons for the rate boost.

Anthony J. Greco, Commonwealth president said that new construction and additions to the company's facilities, including new sources of supply, filtration and purification equipment and building, pumping, transmission and distribution, were all necessary, not only to meet present day needs but also to provide for adequacy and assure dependability in meeting future requirements of community growth.

$6 Million Spent
The company spent more than $6,000,000 in new construction for the period from January 1, 1952 to September 30, 1956, and is currently expending several million dollars for major projects scheduled for completion next year.

The company listed, among its major projects scheduled for completion in 1957, the following:

Construction of additional filtration and purification facilities at its Canoe Brook Station, to cost approximately $1,100,000. They (Continued on Page 29)

Railroad Station Shaping Up as Youth Trouble Spot

A potential trouble spot in the heart of Summit's business section is reported to be developing at the Lackawanna Railroad station where eight teenage boys and two girls have been arrested within the last month for rowdiness, police revealed this week.

Within the last few weeks, a Summit woman was knocked down by a group of youths running through the station. Littering and drinking are on the increase in and about the station. The washrooms, especially the women's, are almost completely defaced although both were completely repaired less than six months ago.

Police said that the reason for the rise in rowdiness at the station by young teenage groups is that many local boys and girls as well as those from neighboring communities, use the site as a meeting place with friends.

According to Lieut. John Sayre of the Police Department, the rowdiness generally begins when acquaintances fail to arrive on time and the youths become restless. "They begin to shove each other around, make a lot of noise and succeed in annoying other people who are waiting for their train to arrive," he said.

Police added that they find no fault with legitimate walking by boys and girls. "At times," Lieut. Sayre pointed out, "many use the waiting room to study their schoolwork. As long as they behave, we don't mind."

The congregating of the youths generally begins shortly after school is out and continues during the early evening when other boys and girls from neighboring communities arrive.

Washroom's Mystery
"As far as the washrooms are concerned," Lieut. Sayre added, "we haven't the slightest idea how they got that way. The women's room is by far the worst."

As it is a public building, the station is patrolled by both Summit Police as well as the Lackawanna Railroad police. Complaints, when they are made, are always brought by the railroad.

Most of the complaints are against juveniles although some are made against drunkards. Occasionally a complaint is made against a drifter.

"In Chatham, they don't have this problem," Lieut. Sayre added. "The railroad station is not in the heart of town. In Summit, however, it's an ideal meeting place because of its central location."

Figures show that more complaints have been made during the last month at the railroad station than at any time this year.

"We figure that with the cold weather coming in, the kids like to gather in a place that's warm," Lieut. Sayre pointed out.

If the complaint is not too serious, Police generally accompany the youths home to their parents. Others, who are charged with attempted vandalism are generally brought before juvenile authorities for action.

On November 14, a fight broke out near the station at Elm street between two girls. However, investigation showed that neither of the girls was from Summit.

Local Man Made Head of Mobil Overseas Unit

Arthur V. Danner of 33 Plymouth road, has been appointed president and a director of Mobil Overseas Oil Company, Inc.

Mr. Danner joined the parent company, Socony Mobil Oil Company, Inc., in 1937 as a patent agent and patent attorney. From 1942 to June, 1944, he was on loan to the Office of Petroleum Coordinator and Petroleum Administration for War. Four months after returning to the company, he left to become executive vice president of the Houdry Process Corporation. In 1948, Mr. Danner again joined Socony Mobil as manager of the process promotion division. When Mobil Overseas was organized on Jan. 1, 1956, he was elected a vice president and director. On November 28, Mr. Danner was elected to his present position.

Born in Vevay, Ind., in 1911, Mr. Danner attended Indiana University. He received a B.S. degree in chemistry from George Washington University in 1936 and at L.L. B. from New York University in 1940.

Mr. Danner is married to the former Miss Frances Tillinghast and they have one son, Arthur J.

The first United States census was taken in 1790. It listed 3,929,214 inhabitants.

Central Church To Stage Ancient Swedish Yule Rite

A St. Lucia pageant of light and music will be presented at Central Presbyterian Church, Tuesday, December 11, at 2:15 p.m. following the Women's Association Christmas luncheon at 1 p.m.

The traditional observance of St. Lucia Day has been brought over to this country from Sweden where it is celebrated each year on December 13, as the beginning of the Christmas season. The date is also known as "Little Christmas."

Mildred Norseen of New York, lyric soprano and soloist of St. Thomas' Chapel, will impersonate Lucia, dressed in white with a crown of seven candles on her head. She will sing in Swedish and in translation Lucia ballads and sacred music. Mrs. Nellie Blasius will be the accompanist.

Nine members of the Westminster Choir will attend her as maidens and star "boys" in costume. The choir will present a prelude and other numbers.

Mrs. Charles E. De Long, with Mrs. Wesley W. Marple and Mrs. Eric Klar are in charge of production. Mrs. Edward S. Willis will be the narrator, and Mrs. Lester A. Crona, the "sleeper."

The story of Lucia, a 17-year-old Sicilian saint martyred for her faith in the early years of Christianity, appealed greatly to the Vikings as they heard it from missionaries over 1,000 years ago. In time it became identified with the inauguration of the Yule or Christmas season, which is also the turning point of the year. The very name Lucia means "light" and symbolized the unconquerable power of light both in nature and in the realm of faith.

Lucia Day observance began in Swedish homes centuries ago. Before dawn members of a household would awaken to singing by a young girl dressed in white robe, trimmed with a red sash, wearing a headdress of seven burning candles. She would present a tray with coffee and saffron buns and sing special songs for the occasion.

From this has evolved the St. Lucia Christmas festival, usually held for benefit purposes.

The maidens and star "boys" are Barbara Blank, Donna Evers, Cathie Hopkins, Donna Hunter, Peggy Holbrook, Karen Kiehl, Beth Laundry, Beth Overbeck, Bonnie Smith.

The Christmas elves or "jul tomtar" in costume are Robin and Chris Bernhard and Martha Mandeville. Tanya and Ingrid Klar will attend Lucia dressed in native Swedish costume.

The elves, supposedly, do all the work for the Swedish household in the dead of night, and get it done, too, before St. Lucia Day.

The public is cordially invited to attend the performance and the gallery will be open for those not attending the luncheon.

Luncheon reservations should be made by Monday noon, December 10, with Mrs. Ben D. Evans, CR. 3-5313.

Land of the Head Hunters to Be Depicted at Nature Club

Exploring the land of the head hunters will be described by F. Thomas Gilliard, distinguished ornithologist-explorer and associate curator of birds at the American Museum of Natural History when he addresses the Summit Nature Club on Thursday, December 13 at the Lincoln School auditorium, at 8:15 P. M. The public is invited to attend.

"Exploring New Guinea for Birds of Paradise" is the title of his lecture and will be illustrated with color-motion pictures which he and his wife took on the 1953-1954 expedition. Mr. Gilliard is a veteran leader of six expeditions to New Guinea sponsored by the National Geographic Society and the American Museum of Natural History. The Gilliards and members of his expedition flew half way around the world with a formidable assemblage of cameras, electronic gadgets and lights, special collector's gear, two tons of other equipment including complex camping needs for sea level to mountain tops, and food. They penetrated 5,000 feet into the Kubor Mountains to set up their first camp in the very heart of New Guinea where no white man had visited. His film portrays the life of a group of people who have only recently given up headhunting. He and his artist wife befriended the natives who then helped them locate the nesting and "display" trees of the birds of paradise and photographed and recorded them for the first time in history.

Disease Ridden Land
Birds of paradise are among the most publicized birds in the world, but due to the disease-ridden terrain in which they live, they have been among the least known birds. There are a number of sequences showing the finest photographs of birds of paradise in the wild. The finale is an ancient dance which is staged every five years in the Miramir Valley. Natives come out of remote niches in the mountains to feast, trade and dance. They adorn their heads with plumes of the most beautiful birds of paradise. Mr. Gilliard has written numerous scientific papers about his study and adventures in the National Geographic Magazine and the Natural History magazine.

Bill of Rights Still Vital Act, Women Voters Told

Before an overflow crowd approximating 200 people at the League of Women Voters open meeting on Monday night at the YWCA, Judge John O. Bigelow discussed the history of the Bill of Rights from the development of the idea of man's rights to its implementation in the Bill as we know it today. Judge Bigelow, newly appointed member of the board of governors of Rutgers University and one of New Jersey's most eminent jurists, opened the League's two-year study of the vital Federal Loyalty Security Program. He traced the development of the idea of the rights of man through history to the adoption of the first ten amendments of the U. S. Constitution.

"The Bill of Rights is as necessary for us today as it was when it was written," said Judge Bigelow, "and habeas corpus may well be called the keystone of freedom." He added, "All history has been a time of crisis."

As to the threat of communism in America today, Judge Bigelow quoted J. Edgar Hoover as saying that in our land there are about 2,500 Communists, that is, an average of one in 75,000 of the population. This, explained Judge Bigelow, could be one Communist in a section the size of all the towns from Millburn to Morristown.

League members and their husbands from Summit, New Providence, Cranford, Chatham, Westfield, Madison, Morristown and Millburn attended. Mrs. Jacob E. Trapp, president, presided and Mrs. Edward Schoffman, chairman of the study, introduced Judge Bigelow. During the coffee hour Mrs. Kenneth S. Baldwin and Mrs. W. Floyd Taylor poured.

The Citizen's Date Books for 1957, just off the press, and background literature relevant to the subject of the meeting, were sold.

Dance Chaperones Named

New Providence - The December teen-age square dance to be given by the New Providence Recreation Commission at Lincoln School gymnasium tomorrow from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m., will be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ostas, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKenna, all of the Fellowship Civic Association. The Civic Association will furnish refreshments, and Charles Zintel of Newark will call the squares.

Senior Girls Compete for Homemaking Scholarships

Senior girls at Summit High School and Oak Knoll of the Holy Child vied on Tuesday for a total of $106,000 in scholarships offered by General Mills in its third annual Betty Crocker search for the "American Homemaker of Tomorrow."

The competition included a 30-minute written examination which tested the girls' homemaking knowledge and attitude.

In charge of the test at Summit High School was Josephine F. Noyes, chairman of the home economics department, and Marie Veard, principal of the Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child.

Madam Novotna To Talk, Sing For Athenaeum

In an unusual "lecture", Jarmila Novotna of the Metropolitan Opera, will combine reminiscences of her musical and artistic experiences on two continents with singing for the second Athenaeum program of the season Tuesday evening, December 13th, at the High School Auditorium.

When at the age of seventeen, she made her debut at the National Opera in Prague, Czechoslovakia's first President, Thomas Masaryk, arranged for her to continue her studies and her singing in Italy. He wrote her long letters advising her what to read, what museums to visit, what people to see. Masaryk's son, Jan, was like a brother to her. It was at Jan's suggestion that she undertook the part of the distraught mother in the MGM movie, "The Search," because he felt it would be a contribution to world peace.

The late Max Rheinhardt did his best to have her abandon opera and concentrate on the legitimate stage - particularly on Shakespeare, because he was much impressed by her acting ability.

Arturo Toscanini persuaded Edward Johnson to engage Mme. Novotna for the Metropolitan Opera. It was under his direction that she made her New York debut in 1939, singing Beethoven's Ninth Symphony at Carnegie Hall.

Annual Appeal Opens for Berkshire Farm for Boys

The work of the Berkshire Farm for Boys is being carried on by a group of Summit parents and other friends of the farm. The farm is a summer camp for boys with problems which have involved them with the courts.

Serving on his committee are Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton C. Albaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. French, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Keller, Arthur H. Richardson, William C. Ridgway, Jr., Mrs. Albert L. Stiles and Mrs. Jane R. Strong.

For 70 years, the Farm, founded by a prominent New Jersey citizen, has been a refuge for delinquent boys, and thousands have through its service, found a new way of life - among them many New Jersey boys. The Farm is non-sectarian, interracial, receiving boys from twelve states.

Contributions may be sent to Mr. Twombly at 83 Minnisk Road, Short Hills.

Christmas Fund

 the Family Service Association plans to give each $5 for small incidentals. Gifts will also go to local residents now confined in mental hospitals. Toys will be given to many youngsters and various articles to the elderly handicapped.
 One of the more important functions of the Fund this year, as always, will be to provide Christmas dinners to all needy cases. "We try to make this as big a thing as we possibly can," Mrs. Brokaw said.

 Last year $2,155.47 was raised by the fund. The proceeds went to 132 needy families and 443 individuals of which 100 were aged and chronically ill.
 According to Mrs. Ruth Dudley, director of public welfare, the success of the drive is largely dependent on early gifts so that arrangements can be completed to aid needy cases before Christmas.
 Checks For Needs
 As in previous years, the lists of families referred to the committee are checked as to individual needs. The Welfare Department, under the direction of Mrs. Dudley, also serves as a clearing house for the referral of all lists in order to avoid duplication in distribution.

 The Christmas Fund this year will be aided by Mildred Matthews and Edna Falkenburg of the High School, Jessie Clark of the Junior High, Margaret Walsh of the Board of Health, Mildred Palmer of the Presbyterian Church, Constance Crawford of the Red Cross, Mrs. Jackson of the Fountain Baptist Church, Adele Lynch of the Visiting Nurses Association and Mrs. Hunt of the Methodist Church.
 Other individual organizations, church groups and clubs will also help in raising sufficient money to aid each needy case.
 Co-chairmen of the drive are Mrs. Dudley and Mrs. Anne Brokaw.
 Checks should be made payable to the Summit Christmas Fund and sent to Mrs. Dudley, in care of the Public Welfare Department, Board of Health Building, 71 Summit avenue.

"If Local Residents Could Only Know the Suffering..."

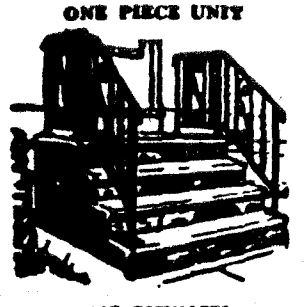

"If residents of Summit could only know the suffering and misery some of their neighbors are put to because they are old and without money or friends, or handicapped by physical disabilities or small children who don't have homes, our Christmas Fund drive would have no trouble in providing each and every one with a wonderful Christmas because each resident would reach deep down and give from the heart. Mrs. Anne Brokaw of the Family Service Association told the Herald last week.
 No Family, No Money
 Typical cases include an aging couple whose combined monthly income is $115. The husband, who is 79, is chronically ill. His wife, 68, also ill, finds it difficult to care for him. They have no family, no friends, no money. They live on the barest of essentials. At times, they cannot even afford that.
 "What kind of Christmas can these two expect if we cannot give them help?" Mrs. Brokaw asked.

 Polio Cripple
 Another case involves a family of eight with only one wageearner, the husband. One child is a hopelessly polio cripple. Another suffers from an acute case of pernicious anemia which requires frequent and costly blood transfusions.
 "How can this family celebrate Christmas with a tree or a few gifts, if they can barely afford to keep body and soul together for the necessities?" she asked.
 Both Parents Ill
 In another case, the husband is in a mental hospital and the wife is a hopeless cripple. "And there are three young children who won't know what Christmas is if we cannot do something," Mrs. Brokaw said.
 If your readers will only understand that these people are their neighbors, that they need help to make Christmas just a little brighter, we're sure that everyone in Summit will truly have a wonderful Christmas.

Do Your Yule Giving Early

Now that most thoughts are with Christmas gifts for the family and friends and plans for a gay holiday season, it is timely to ask that readers also give some consideration about the plight of their less fortunate fellow-residents—the few hundred ill, elderly and marginal-income persons who are dependent upon the community through the Christmas Dinner Fund for a merry Christmas.

Once again, the Department of Public Welfare and Family Service Association have joined hands in asking the town to provide funds for the seasonal joy of the few who otherwise would be slighted at Christmas. The sponsoring agencies know they can count upon the generosity of many church groups and other organizations for gifts of clothing, toys, simple luxuries and other small items — but they are not so confident that they can rely upon gifts of money so that dinners may be furnished to the less fortunate families and individuals of Summit.

Each year there are many individuals who always give a thought to the Christmas Dinner Fund and who religiously send in a contribution. There should, however, be many more who feel this way. And equally important, every one who plans a contribution should do so promptly and not make it a last-minute affair. Planning ahead but not knowing exactly how much money will be available, is the big headache of the sponsoring agencies of the Fund.

Now is the time to send in your check to The Christmas Dinner Fund, c/o Department of Public Welfare, 71 Summit Avenue (Board of Health building), so that the committee may make the Christmas season a bit merrier for those who live an otherwise dreary life.

Dogs and Cats

Census figures may be of interest to you or not, depending upon your mood and viewpoint and your attitude towards dry statistics. However that may be, everyone is certain to encounter Census Bureau reports frequently. The status of our population, it seems, is deemed important enough by the government to warrant regular bulletins which we receive almost weekly.

But we have not encountered in a long time a census report dealing with household pets. We have had facts and figures on migratory workers, housewives, farmers, city dwellers and even cattle—but no pets. Therefore it was with a great deal of interest that we recently read of a study of the two-legged, four-legged, fin and shell bearing pets now residing in these United States and the possessions.

Perhaps you, too, will be amazed to learn that there are 23 million dogs in this country, 27 million cats, 15 million parakeets and six million canaries. If we were on the $64,000 Question and quizzed about this we would have assuredly stated that dogs outnumbered cats. At least they have in every neighborhood in which we have lived.

If you also are surprised to discover that you labored under similar misapprehensions, then wait for the rest of this pet census. It's a shocker. For instance, there are 12 million goldfish living in glass houses—more than double the number of canaries in gilded cages. And who would ever think that there are three million turtles classified as pets?

If these statistics bring up the question of the dollar sign, you may be anxious to know that the pet industry is a $3½ billion business. That is, the gross each year hits this astounding total.

In this connection we are glad to have one of our notions confined by hard facts, the idea that dogs are heartier eaters than cats. Although outnumbered by felines, the canines consume each year two billion pounds of prepared and retail dog food that costs their owners $350,000,000. Perhaps cats cut down the food bills by foraging for mice and birds. At any rate, pussy only runs up an annual food bill of $27,000,000 for a mere 170 million pounds of prepared foods.

These facts should give a guide to those about to enter the pet field. A cat is cheaper, by far. And from our own personal experience, is easier on the nerves and the furniture.

And now that you have the cold facts on the pet situation, perhaps that sense of outrage experienced when the Jones' Great Dane gambols across your freshly-seeded lawn will give way to a more respectful attitude. Pity the Jones for the expense they suffer because of the Great Dane. The cost of repairing your lawn is a trifle compared to Ed Jones' daily horse meat bill.

Lush Times Are Here

There is no doubt that this is a season of luxury—and silliness. Never in the history of the trade have so many gadgets and extravaganzas been offered for sale.

But it is all right. People have a right occasionally to indulge in luxuries when they can afford it; and this is a period of unparalleled prosperity.

Why, then, while such conditions rule, should there be any objection to people reaching beyond the average holiday buying and indulging themselves? This they are doing, reports indicate. The Department of Commerce states that we have all the makings of a "buying spree" that will break records.

Well, what then will the people be buying? All sorts of things. Things which in other years people have sighed for but realized they could not afford. A mail order house offers Shetland ponies by mail at $300. There are silver sticks for dialing phone numbers, mink-covered can openers and clothespins (honestly) and sequined covered plastic bandages. There are gold toothpicks, very expensive sets of books and a silver punch bowl featured by one New York store for $1,152. Even the Herald recently carried an ad for women's shoes at $50 a pair and a local store is stocking a sweater for women at $85. And, of course, there is the traditional and much-sung mink, usually starting at $3,000.

The children are also swept up in this rush for the elaborate. In addition to toys that do practically everything electronically, the New York Stock Exchange is making a pitch for parents to stick some assorted gilt-edged securities in their children's stockings and the government suggests that there is no finer gift for junior than a bloc of bonds.

It is a season of luxury indeed. And we have a kindred feeling for those—being among them—who have longed for this or that article in past years and now feel it is fitting to go and buy it. True, it won't last forever but since it's here, then why not enjoy it.

Christmas buying will no doubt be unrestrained this year but there should be no complaints. People have a right to be happy and if the financial evolution of the country has put into their pockets the means of acquiring a kind of happiness they have never known before, shall we stand by and point a finger of scorn? Shall we insist that funds so plentiful now be stored away for the proverbial rainy day? Shall we caution that there is no practical use for mink-covered clothespins or bejeweled bandages? Perhaps we should but we will be pardoned, perhaps, if we are a bit indulgent.

The Bacon Strip

(Springfield, Mass., Union)

Since our boyhood days we have seen automobiles, radio, television, telephones, electricity, tractors, power machinery, new insecticides, fertilizers, good roads and modern schools come to rural America. We have also seen the advances made in plastics, new metals, antibiotics, aeronautics and atomic developments. It is an impressive list.

Certainly Americans are living better—or anyway faster—than ever before. And while we have no doubt some people would strike an item or so from the list as contributing little or nothing to their happiness, welfare, peace and quiet, others would doubtless like to add some other progressive developments to those mentioned. In fact, we have a candidate.

It must be uncounted centuries since people first began to cook bacon in frying pans and it has been no end of trouble because nobody did anything but grumble about the fit. Butchers kept on slicing bacon that wouldn't fit into the pans and panmakers kept right on making pans bacon wouldn't fit into. The result of all this was embittered husbands and distressed wives.

Indeed, there is no telling how many broken homes and heads Wilson and Company will prevent by its decision to offer for sale bacon sliced to fit the frying-pan.

The social and economic significance represented in a strip of bacon that will no longer reach across the frying-pan and into the fire, in a slice of bacon that can be cooked the same from one end to the other, may be boundless if happiness and contentment are still a measure of progress.

And since we think progress is measured in that fashion, we have no doubt that the happy idea will spread to all other slicers of bacon. We can think of only one thing that would make us happier. It would be nice if Wilson or somebody else could tell us how to bring home more of it.

Fair With Rain

(Springfield, Mass., Union)

From Vancouver comes the distressing news that the Haida Indians have decided to give up their ancient tradition of forecasting the weather by observations of the sun and the wind and the actions of weatherwise animals. In a statement on the subject that was laconic even for an Indian, the tribe's Chief Weah (Big Slave), said:

"Too much work."
 The Associated Press relays the information that the Indians "now depend on the white man's weather report by radio."

This predilection for the easy way, this willingness to depart from the old for the more convenient new, is disillusioning. It speaks a full piece on the redman's departure from the old norms of self-sufficiency in depending on the white man's radio forecasts. It also raises a question, in view of the white man's most obvious fallibility:

How can the Haidas tell what the weather is going to be?

LETTERS

Says Brook Is Hazard
 Editor, Summit Herald:

We residents of Middle Avenue are still greatly concerned about the so-called "Bryant Brook" which runs through our properties and in the back of our homes on Middle Avenue, between the Morris and Essex Turnpike, Broad Street, and to Springfield Avenue.

This issue was brought to the attention of the Summit Board of Health, on May 7, 1956. Dr. Robert Milligan, Health Physician, and Mr. McNamara, Health Inspector, answered by saying that they have been aware of the conditions of this brook for some time, and that they had written to Mr. Frank Murray, City Engineer, then, and that they would watch this brook closely as to being a health hazard which we feel it is. At times, there is an accumulation of debris such as tree limbs, leaves, logs, tin cans, pumpkins, crates, rotten tomatoes, and what have you, that wash down this brook, and in times of heavy rains, there being several restrictions along this brook which eliminates the water to flow freely, quite naturally it backs up and overflows onto our properties in the lower section and the debris remains to rot or clutter up or be cleaned by us. The odors and stagnant water puddles that stay with us has brought many sewer rats and water snakes, and we certainly feel justified in saying these in themselves are our concern and that of the Board of Health, as we all have many small children who are attracted to this brook.

Then in July we presented a petition to our City Common Council, with the signatures of 33 residents and property owners affected by this brook. We then were referred to the City Engineer again, and to the Public Works Committee.

In August, Mr. Robert Helm, Superintendent of the Union County Mosquito Commission, and Mr. Price of our city, along with its men came to try to clean this brook so as to carry the water freely down to Bryant Pond and try to eliminate its overflowing onto us, but the work was never completed, because they ran into some opposition with a property owner who makes his home in Madison, N. J. He wouldn't give the men permission to enter his property and clean this brook. His property is down at the end of this brook, and near the Culvert which leads into the Bryant Pond. His concrete wall is half down in the brook, plus trees have grown in the brook, and much debris clutters the free flow.

Then on August 27, 1956, we wrote a letter to the State Water Policy Commission, Trenton, N. J., through our City Council's repeated advice. Mr. George Shanklin, who is the Acting Director and Chief Engineer of the State of N. J., referred our letter to the State Board of Health, and to Mr. Wittwer, Supervising Engineer of the Waterways, in regard to the health problem, and to the flooding that takes place on our properties.

Mr. Wittwer, and Mr. Galley of Trenton, N. J., along with Mr. Neugs, City Engineer, made an inspection of this brook on October 10, 1956. The reply to this inspection came on October 13, revealing that the flooding near our homes in the lower part of this brook is apparently due to channel restrictions caused by a narrow winding channel some distance downstream to Springfield Avenue, which the city is aware of. Until such conditions are corrected we apparently will always get this flooding at times of heavy rains.

The Superintendent of the Union County Mosquito Commission also said the same thing about the brook having been altered and the curves and narrowness of this brook restrict the free flow of the water. The cluttered condition at the end of the brook is due to a broken and falling concrete wall, built way back years ago, and the growing trees and what have you, are

DEATHS

Mrs. Robert C. Hogan
 Mrs. Mildred Remsen Frantz

Hogan, widow of Robert Cecil Hogan, died last Tuesday at her residence, "Twin Gables," at 6 Essex Road after a short illness. Her husband was a former vice president of the Bankers Trust Co. of New York City.

A native of Wilmington, Del., Mrs. Hogan was a direct descendant of Sarah De Raelje, one of the colonial settlers of Manhattan. She lived in East Orange before moving to Summit in 1928. She was corresponding secretary of Overlook Hospital Auxiliary; a surety of the National Society. Daughters of the Barons of Runnymede; a member of the New Jersey chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Colonial Dames of America; the societies of the Descendants of the Order of the Garter and the Magna Carta Dames. She was also a member of the Order of the Three Crusades, the Colonial Daughters of the 17th Century, the Huguenot Society and the Fortnightly Club.

She leaves two brothers, Howard and Arthur Frantz of Wilmington, Del., and a sister, Mrs. J. Frederick Lohman Jr. of Brooklyn.

Services were conducted Sunday at 3 p.m. at her home by Rev. Leonard V. Buschman D.D., of Central Presbyterian Church. Burial was at Baltimore.

Joseph B. Bishop
 Word has been received of the death on Friday, November 23, at Pueblo, Col., of Joseph Baldwin Bishop, a former resident of Summit.

A Pueblo resident for the last ten years, Mr. Bishop died at the hospital there after a lingering illness. He was a graduate of Kan-

Summit State University and a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. Before moving to Pueblo he was associated with the New York City investment brokerage firms of White-Rose & Trusty and Toby & Kirk.
 He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Bishop and mother, Mrs. Martha J. Bishop, both of Pueblo. Episcopal services were held Monday, November 26.
 Sister Mary Agnes of Jesus died last Thursday at the Rosary Shrine, 643 Springfield Avenue after a long illness. She was 58 and a member of the Dominican Nuns of the Perpetual Rosary for 28 years.

Washington School To Show New Film Making Technique

A new film technique known as "iconographic" will be seen by lower grade students at Washington School on Monday, December 16 at 10 a.m., when "The Story About Ping," a child's book, will be shown on film.

On January 6 of this year, a premier showing of the first six of the new films was held at the Museum of Modern Art. For the producer, Morton Schindel of Connecticut, it was the first public recognition of a technique which took two years to develop.

The iconographic technique involves the use of the illustrator's own drawings, which are given the appearance of motion by special work with the movie cameras. Thus, with Ping, who is a duckling, he is seen to walk, to swim, to carry out the action indicated by the story, without the animated cartoon device of hundreds of drawings.

Spoken Text

Coordinated with the picture are spoken text, sound effects and musical scores which have been done by Arthur Kleiner, music director of the Museum of Modern Art. Since the books chosen for these presentations are tested and well known, the film technique not only preserves their flavor but heightens the dramatic effect.

Two of the films which have already been seen at Washington School assemblies this fall are "Millions of Cats" by Wanda Gag and "Andy and the Lions," by James Daugherty. Others will be scheduled in future months. It was on the basis of PTA interest that this film program was brought to the school; special arrangements with the producer made it possible. "The Picture Book Parade," which is expected shortly to include thirteen books.

Honor Roll at Pingry Lists 13 Local Boys

Honor grades were won by 13 Summit students at Pingry School. E. Laurence Springer, headmaster, announced this week. The grades were for the second school month.

Receiving high honors in the 12th grade were John Luther of 235 Oak Ridge avenue and Robert Rettig of Countryside. High honors in the 11th grade were won by Stephen Schwarz of 105 Whittridge road.

In the tenth grade, second honors were achieved by Arthur Ackerman of 237 Summit avenue and Roger Nye of 40 Colt road and ninth grade second honors were won by Paul Boyer of 4 Woodcroft road, Ross Miesem of 208 Summit avenue, Harvey Mole of 17 Essex road and James Petrie of 156 Beechwood road.

Lower school eighth grade first honors were won by Thomas Stowe of 66 High street and William Tilden of 1 Essex road; second honors in the seventh grade by Bruce Petrie of 156 Beechwood road and first honors in the sixth grade by Robert Fagen of 18 Linden place.

It's a Whiz at Everything a car should do

It turns out that the 1957 Buick is far more than just a brand-new automobile.

It turns out that this new '57 Buick is winning the raves with a new kind of going and a new kind of stopping—a new kind of handling and a new kind of road sureness—a new kind of safety and a new kind of comfort.

We'll be specific.

When you press the pedal of a new '57 Buick, the response is literally instant . . .

Because the high-torque power of a new 364-cubic-inch V8 engine is delivered in the split of a second through a new full-range Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that's immediate in its oil-smooth action.

When you brake to a stop, you find the car stay on a level plane . . .

Because an ingenious new ball-joint suspension in every '57 Buick virtually ends the down-in-front dip that cars have on sudden stops.

When you take a turn or swing into an "S" curve, you still hug the road like a streamliner on rails—

Because under you is a massive wide-frame new chassis that "nests" the whole car inches closer to the road with the lowest center of gravity in Buick history—yet with no change in road clearance.

And when you sit in the deep comfort of those soft wide seats, you can drive with the pleasant ease of a clear conscience, without watching the speedometer . . .

Because only in Buick today can you have an ingenious new Safety-Minder* that acts as a warning sentinel for the miles-per-hour you preset for yourself.

There are many other new things that make this gorgeous Buick a car of limitless wonders—from the bigger and more rakish windshield that makes seeing more relieving, to the extra roominess that's so surprising in this beauty with the sports-car lowness.

But there's nothing like a firsthand sampling to know how modern the newest thing on wheels really is. Come in today for your meeting with the newest Buick yet.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Minder standard on Roadmaster, optional other Series.

Local Man Gets $3,000 Offer for Shackamaxon

A $3,000 offer to buy the Shackamaxon Country Club at Scotch Plains and assumption of $1,200,000 in mortgage and tax liens upon the property was made last week before the bankruptcy referee. The proposal was made by the joint holders of four mortgages on the club property.

Shackamaxon in recent weeks has been the center of litigation brought by its creditors against H. Jardine Samurine of Springfield avenue, a local builder, who purchased the club in February at a bankruptcy sale.

At that time Samurine paid $30,250 for the property and assumed liabilities of $1,250,000 which he later was unable to meet.

Acceptance of the current offer would leave little for the club's creditors. Assets of $919,000 and liabilities of $1,335,000 were listed when Mr. Samurine filed a bankruptcy petition in October.

Creditors would be paid from the $3,000 plus $36,000 in profit accrued during operation of the club by state trustees from April to October. That sum, however, is subject to $15,000 tentatively earmarked for payment of trustees' fees.

GUEST SPEAKER—Dr. Herbert Stroup, dean of students at Brooklyn College, will speak on "Ferment in the Middle East" when he addresses an open meeting of the Men's Club of the Community Church on Tuesday, at 8:15 p.m. Dr. Stroup is also a professor of sociology and anthropology and is chairman of the personnel service at Brooklyn College. He is the author of several articles, reviews and books.

Golden Age Club Plans Christmas Party for Dec. 21

December activities at Edison Recreation Center for the Golden Age Club will be highlighted by a Christmas party for members to be held December 21. The party will feature a grab-bag and the singing of Christmas carols under the direction of Mrs. Robert Kent, soprano, and Mrs. H. A. Coughlin, pianist.

Other December events are movies on December 7 and a program on December 14 by Mrs. Joyce Hildebrand, monologist. There will be a meeting on December 28.

Last month the program included square dancing, bridge lessons given by Mrs. W. H. Schmidt, a talk by Lieut. John Sayre and a musical program by Mrs. M. Woodward Clark, soprano, and Mrs. H. A. Coughlin, pianist.

Volunteers for December include Mrs. Paul Barber, Mrs. Thomas W. Coleman, Mrs. Joseph Cross, Mrs. Joseph Hart, Mrs. Philip Harding and Mrs. H. W. Drenford. Mrs. George Garbacz is director.

Boro Okays Bid for Sign at Pineway Park Over Protest

New Providence — Despite protests by several members of the Borough Council, the Board of Adjustment approved an application by the developers of Pineway Park to erect a directional sign, pending approval of the Board of Adjustment.

Building Inspector Robert Webster and William Bachler, member of the Board of Adjustment, will determine what wording the sign will include. The proposed sign is to be erected on Springfield Avenue between Maple Street and Pineway.

Several council members objected to the name of Pineway Park because it is so close to Pineway Farms and the similarity will cause much confusion, they said. Borough Attorney Fred Lorenz said several residents in Pineway Farms area had already expressed their disapproval of the name.

Louis Brunell of Summit, sales representative and George Morone, attorney, from Westfield, speaking in behalf of the building, Levenstein and M. Pantieri of Hillside said it would be too expensive a project to change the name at this time because of the advertising, literature and brochures involved. The developers plan to build about 125 homes in the $25,000 range.

The resignation of B. M. Dutton of Pinewood Ave. as secretary to the Board of Assessors was accepted with reluctance. The Council authorized a letter expressing appreciation for his services be sent to him. Mr. Dutton, a former councilman, appointed to the Board of Assessors about eight years ago, will remain as a board member. Robert Badgley, another board member of Glenfield Rd. was appointed as secretary to succeed Mr. Dutton. The salary is about $250 annually with an additional appropriation for services as secretary.

A letter was received from Richard Marzak of Newark complaining that the windows in his greenhouse on South Street had been broken several times by vandals. Police Chief Carl Elms

Heights Gives Permits For 47 New Houses

Berkeley Heights — Building Inspector Salvatore Del Duca reported this week that 47 residential house permits had been issued during the month of November. The reason for the increase above the normal trend is caused by the new zoning ordinance, he said. The ordinance went into effect Tuesday, Dec. 4, requiring lots of 100 feet minimum width at the building line.

Mr. Del Duca also issued 16 certificates of occupancy.

Women's Club at Heights to See Crepe Paper Art

Berkeley Heights — A woman already famed locally for her clever ideas with crepe paper, will feature "Christmas Decorations at your Home" when she speaks before the evening membership department of the Women's Club of Berkeley Heights Monday at 8 p. m. in the Berkeley Heights Library.

She is Mrs. Stuart W. Dawson of Chatham who will be introduced by Mrs. Donald Tilden, co-chairman of the American home department, sponsor of the program.

Mrs. Dawson has done party planning for numerous caterers, taught adult education groups, given handicraft courses to Scout leaders and been associated with Denison of New York City. She received her training at the New York School of Display.

One of the highspots of her recent appearance before the Women's Club was her demonstration of the "twister," an inexpensive aid to wrapping packages with a truly professional decorator's look. The evening membership department is looking forward to acquiring this same know-how as Mrs. Dawson proves once more "it's easy when you know how."

Members will note that the regular meeting night has been advanced one week because of the approaching Christmas season. Hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Francis Buck.

In response the mayor praised the township committee and his associates. Without their generous support he could never have accomplished all the things he set out to do, he declared. Mayor Holley also paid tribute to his wife whose understanding and patience has enabled him to devote so much of his time to community service.

Building Inspector Salvatore Del Duca and Township Committee member Arthur A. Manner assisted Mr. Maslow on the arrangements committee.

Archer B. Laurence on behalf of members and officers of Countryside Civic Association said, "None of us, except members of the official family, has any real conception of the staggering amount of time given by the mayor for the benefit of all of us. He has carried the brunt of countless complaints and has been roundly criticized by those in disagreement. Contrarily, those in affirmation are rarely vocal."

Police Represented At Chamber Dinner

New Providence — Sergeant Richard Schmidt represented the local police department at the Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night at the Hotel Suburban. Essex County Sheriff Fred Muller spoke on "Narcotics."

Mrs. Gnaedinger will be assisted in leading the discussions by resource chairman, Mrs. Richard Davis and Mrs. John Soehngen. The meetings will begin at 8:15 p. m. each evening. Interested citizens are invited to attend.

Public Relations Through Police Subject of Talk

Berkeley Heights — Berkeley Heights Committeeman Luther M. Smythe discussed "Public Relations through the Police Department" at the meeting Monday night of the Reserve Police Training School at the local library. "Courtroom Testimony" was the subject of a talk by Judge Edmund Keily of the Plainfield Municipal Court and former first assistant to the prosecutor.

Councilman Smythe discussed the definition of public relations and its influence in a modern society. He briefly traced the origin of the public relations and said it received its first real start about the turn of the century. He offered constructive suggestions on the basic requirements for a public relations program. He concluded by stressing the significance of public relations in a community, especially as a vehicle for public service. He told of the influence of public relations in an official capacity or in the police department. Frequently expressions or attitudes are reflected as opinions and influence people, he said.

Mayor Holley Feted by 150 At Testimonial

Berkeley Heights — Mayor Ira F. Holley was feted by more than 150 persons at a testimonial dinner Saturday night in the Chi Am Chateau, Mountainside. Committeeman George T. Loman presented Mayor Holley with an automatic slide projector and a large suitcase from members of the Township Committee, community business men and friends. Mrs. Holley was presented a floral tribute.

The mayor was lauded by Harry Maslow, toastmaster, and other members of the township committee and board members for his noteworthy contributions for the betterment of Berkeley Heights during his six years on the Township Committee, two of which were as mayor. Mayor Holley will retire Dec. 31.

In response the mayor praised the township committee and his associates. Without their generous support he could never have accomplished all the things he set out to do, he declared. Mayor Holley also paid tribute to his wife whose understanding and patience has enabled him to devote so much of his time to community service.

Building Inspector Salvatore Del Duca and Township Committee member Arthur A. Manner assisted Mr. Maslow on the arrangements committee.

Archer B. Laurence on behalf of members and officers of Countryside Civic Association said, "None of us, except members of the official family, has any real conception of the staggering amount of time given by the mayor for the benefit of all of us. Women Voters in Boro to Discuss Water Shortages

New Providence — Local water shortages, especially at lawn sprinkling time first interested the New Providence League of Women Voters in the subject to be studied and discussed at unit meetings next week on Wednesday evening, December 12, at the home of Mrs. H. Finkel, 36 Harding Drive, Berkeley Heights, and on Thursday evening, December 13 at the home of Mrs. A. T. Madison, 1086 Springfield Avenue, New Providence.

Mrs. R. J. Gnaedinger, chairman of the water study committee, reports that New Jersey has an important water-shortage problem in spite of having greater annual rainfall and more natural water facilities than most other states.

Mrs. Gnaedinger further said that the state bill passed last year to purchase Round Valley was full of restrictions that may prevent the actual use of Round Valley to its full capacity for some years to come, and that Round Valley, used to capacity, would not be an adequate water source to supply the demand expected by 1970.

Methodist Women List Plans for Yule Meeting

New Providence — The annual Christmas meeting of the Woman's Society of the New Providence Methodist Church will be held Tuesday at 7 p. m. The meeting will begin with a covered-dish supper. The hostesses for the evening are Mrs. V. Cousins, Mrs. C. Meyers, Mrs. A. Manner, Mrs. H. Spicer, Mrs. J. Naeddele, Mrs. Hobart Tipton will offer the evening devotions.

Several of the children of the Sunday school under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Blumer will present a program entitled "For All Children." This will be a series of tableaux accompanied by appropriate carols depicting the Christmas customs of children in other lands.

The following children will participate in this program: Louise Reiber, Jean Blumer, Edward Beahm, Lynn Drosback, Sandra Stevens, Linda Darling, Bryan Fitzsimmons, Charles Vanderhoof, Norman Oppenheimer, Linda Rye, Karen Turley, Marilyn Ebel, Ken Swarthout, Wayne Jacobus, John Lorentz.

The members of the Woman's Society have been asked to bring gifts for the Goodwill Industries and the Methodist Hospital.

New Providence — A race between the stork and a pair of anxious parents nearly ended in a photo finish here recently. Thomas Musson, Borough clerk said it was the fastest stork race recorded in this borough during his ten years as registrar.

Dr. and Mrs. Donald E. Lohrmann of 36 Ethan Dr. were having breakfast shortly after 8 a. m. on Tuesday Nov. 27 when the stork dispatched a jet propelled messenger to announce he was on his way and would be arriving at the Lohrmann home in a very short time.

In a frantic hurry Dr. Lohrmann telephoned the local police department for an escort to Overlook Hospital, Summit and Dr. Forster Ruhl, M. D. of Summit Dr. Ruhl was to pinch hit for Mrs. Lohrmann's doctor, Dr. Gardner Bennett of Madison who was recuperating from an operation.

Officer Vincent Tragno arrived on the scene and for a while Mrs. Lohrmann said she "couldn't tell who looked more frightened, her husband or Officer Tragno.

It was one time when everyone was saved by the bell, the door bell, that is. Dr. Ruhl had been in the Murray Hill area and rush right over when he received the call. He arrived several minutes before the baby, said Mrs. Lohrmann. After the baby's arrival, the rescue squad transported mother and baby to Overlook Hospital. The baby girl, Mary Beth, weighed in at seven pounds and one ounce.

Dr. Lohrmann is a dentist in Chatham. The couple have another little daughter, 26 months old.

R. A. Lachenauer Resigns Borough Recreation Post

New Providence — A letter of resignation from Robert A. Lachenauer, Recreation Director was received this week by the Recreation Commission. Mr. Lachenauer cites additional duties with the Union Township school system where he is a member of the faculty as reasons for terminating his work with the local Recreation Commission. His resignation is effective Jan. 1.

Mr. Lachenauer a resident of 64 Dugwood Lane, was appointed Oct. 1956. He succeeded Walter McCarty who was appointed principal in one of the schools in the local school system.

Qualified persons interested in the Directorship appointment are requested to contact Mrs. Nelson Tully, CR 7-1292, a member of the Recreation Commission.

Among the duties of a Recreation Director are the supervision of the three summer playgrounds already established and a fourth one to be ready for the 1957 season. The present playgrounds are Lincoln School, Hillview School and Paea Club. After completion of the shelter at Oakwood Park, the fourth will be located between Commonwealth Avenue and Passaic River.

The director is to also supervise teenage dances, and special holiday parties at Easter, Halloween and Christmas.

Boro Among First to Top Community Campaign

New Providence — The Community Chest campaign here became the first of seven similar drives in Union County to reach 100 per cent of its goal. Kenneth Stowell, chairman, said the fund stands at $9,525 or $25 above the quota. Last year the campaign raised $7,828 toward the same goal figure, a showing of nearly 83 per cent. Stowell said he expects additional contributions to swell the fund to $9,600.

The oak, the tree of the god of thunder, was so respected years ago that a law in Saxony prohibited its injury.

Christmas Party Planned by Boro Presbyterians

New Providence — A Christmas party for all adults of the New Providence Presbyterian Church will take place at the parish house Saturday, at 7 p. m.

The party was planned by a joint committee of the Book Club, Women's Association, and Couples Club, consisting of Mrs. Halsey M. Douglas, Mrs. Charles E. Sullivan, and Mrs. William Archibald. The program will start with a covered-dish supper, and information on what dish should be brought may be obtained by calling Mrs. Douglas at CR 3-7447. Following the supper, carol singing at the tables will be led by Mr. and Mrs. John Barstow.

The program that follows will include a reading of the Scripture story of the Nativity by Mrs. Robert Pevoto, the singing of "O Holy Night" by Mrs. Helen Hays accompanied by Miss Mabel L. Howarth a reading of "Heaven Touches Earth" from a meditation by John Sutherland Bonnell, by Langdon K. Bentley, the singing of "O Little Town of Bethlehem" by Mrs. John Barstow, a reading of a selection, "For God So Loved the World" by Mr. John Panos, and an explanation of the symbols of Christmas by Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Denig.

Boro Health Board Moves Up Meeting

Berkeley Heights — The Board of Health will meet Dec. 19 in Columbia School at 8 p. m. instead of the regularly scheduled date, Dec. 26 at the Municipal Building.

A public hearing on the issue of fluoridation of drinking water will be held following the regular meeting. The Board of Health has recommended the Township Committee take action favoring the fluoridation of water. A public referendum on the question has been suggested by several Township Committeemen.

All 11 communities served by the Commonwealth Water Company must approve the move before any of the municipalities concerned can be served.

'Exceptional Child' Topic of Heights PTA Panel Meeting

Berkeley Heights — "The Exceptional Child," was discussed by Mrs. Clarisse Kant, educable class teacher and Ernest Brosang, trainable class teacher at the Berkeley Heights PTA meeting Monday night in Columbia School. Mrs. Bernice Gershon, school psychologist discussed the principles of both classes. Dr. Albert Goldberg, chairman of the PTA Exceptional Child Committee served as moderator.

Kenneth H. Bothwell, Superintendent of Schools, described essentially why the Board of Education hired the teachers for this type of work. He read from the Beadleson's Ace which enables local boards to conduct the classes for the exceptional children. The state reimburses to a certain extent the local board for the expense of such classes.

Mrs. Gershon outlined the historical development of the school psychologist which began about the turn of the century, she said. She discussed the aims of education from the psychologists viewpoint with emphasis on the optimum development of the whole child. She explained how the children are examined in education disabilities and how the psychologist endeavors to place them properly.

The exceptional child includes the gifted children who have a high I. Q. It is difficult to sometimes identify the gifted child, she said. It requires a great deal of time and study to evaluate them. They are usually offered an enriched program and extra work assignments, she declared.

Retarded children have a relatively low I. Q. on the intellectual scale, Mrs. Gershon said. They are usually identified by the parents, remedial reading teacher, teacher or nurse.

The educable class is limited by law to 15 pupils. These children do not seem to be seriously handicapped or retarded until they get into the second, third or fourth grade class, or when they read or do arithmetic problems, especially long division. These children, said Mrs. Gershon seldom go beyond the fourth grade level by the time they are 16 years old.

The trainable class comprises the very handicapped child who is easily recognized as early as six months after they are born. They are usually identified by the doctor or parents. They require supervision constantly although they are not labeled institutional cases, Mrs. Gershon said. If this were the case, they would not be introduced to a trainable class, she said.

Mrs. Kant told of the goals of the educable class and their place in society. They need individual instruction. If they are kept in a normal class they become frustrated because they can't keep up with the work and the strain is too great for them. They become tired and bored quickly. They require a great deal of repetition. She said, "We play some of the same tricks to keep their attention. These children grow up and get married and find a place in society by acquiring certain things they can do, she said.

Among the aims of the trainable class, Mr. Brosang said, is to acquire adequate habits of personal behavior. Certain children in this class may require six months to learn to button their coats. They must be taught to straighten and sit properly. They must be taught to follow directions. Usually these children require constant supervision throughout life. Their vocabulary amounts to about 25 words. Among them words like Go, stop, eat, drink and danger.

Lincoln School Gets Yule Theme By Art Students

New Providence — Art students at New Providence Junior High School, under the direction of Miss Nancy Hopper, art supervisor, have undertaken the project of decorating Lincoln School and the Junior High School for the Christmas holidays.

Lincoln School will glow with stained glass windows made by ninth grade students and directed by Judy Badgley, Allan Brewster and Larry Badgley. Two areas in front of Lincoln School are being constructed by Louis Fiedler and Arlene Rodgers.

Bulletin boards in the Junior High School are being prepared by the seventh grades. A centerpiece will dominate each board and be surrounded by holly, snowmen, trees, sleds, candles, and other winter scenes. The centerpiece scenes will include a manger, carolers, angels, boys, shoppers, a church, and a fireplace and stockings at Christmas trees.

The stage decorations for the cantata are being planned and executed by Gail Lombardi, Kate Van Lear, Tom Tully, Pat Stone, Carl Doughty, and Barry Elgart.

Year City's Government—Part 5

Several Boards Help City to Function

By Norman E. Rauscher

Although Summit does not compare in size to many other larger cities, it is nevertheless large enough to require the aid of several boards to successfully carry out the city's affairs.

An important function in any city is community planning. In Summit Planning Board consists of nine members, the Mayor, an official of the city appointed by the Mayor, a member of the Common Council and six residents who hold no other municipal office except that one may be a member of the Zoning Ordinance Board of Adjustment. Except for the Mayor and the representative from Common Council, the remainder are appointed for a term of six years. When vacancies occur through resignations, illness, death, etc., new appointments are made for the unexpired term. All members of the Board serve without compensation. The chairman of the Board is elected from the six appointed by the Mayor.

The planning Board serves the Common Council in an advisory referred to the Planning Board. With final approval by Council, matters pertaining to off-street parking for business, industrial, apartments and multi-family zones, also come under the jurisdiction of the Board.

Summit's Planning Board was created by ordinance on June 16, 1931.

Members of the Board include Mayor C. Philip Dean, Spencer M. Maben, chairman; Bernard J. Thole, Thomas L. Smith, Francis A. Keane, John M. Leavens, Philip N. Trowbridge, Councilman Hugo Riemer and City Engineer J. Henry Negus.

Working closely with the Planning Board is the Zoning Ordinance Board of Adjustment whose prime function is hearing and deciding upon appeals where it is alleged by the applicant that there is an error in any order, requirement, decision or refusal made by an administrative official or agent based on or made in the enforcement of the Zoning Ordinance.

The Board of Adjustment consists of five members who cannot hold any elective office or position under the municipality. Members are appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the Common Council and serve for a three year term without compensation.

The Board also appoints a secretary, who may be a member of the group, and may be compensated for services rendered as secretary. His compensation is determined by the Board with the consent and approval of the Common Council.

The meetings of the Board are always open to the public. The minutes of the members' voting, records of the Board's examination and other official actions are immediately filed in the office of the Board and then become public record.

The Board of Adjustment also hears requests for special exceptions or for interpretations of the zoning map or for decisions upon other special questions pertaining to existing ordinances.

Variance Requests

The Board also recommends in particular cases and for special reasons to the Common Council, the granting of a variance to allow a structure to be built in a district which restricts such buildings. If this occurs, the Common Council has the power to approve or disapprove such recommendations. If such a recommendation is approved, the Building Inspector issues a permit for such construction.

No variance is ever granted by the Board if in its opinion such relief to the applicant would be a detriment to the public and will substantially impair the purposes of the Zoning Ordinance.

The Board must render a decision within 60 days from the date of hearing. However, if a decision is not rendered within 90 days from the date of filing, it is generally deemed to be decided adversely to the applicant.

Meetings are held the second Monday of each month at City Hall.

The five-man Board today consists of James B. Burke, chairman; Thomas L. Smith, Vincent A. Burgher, Frank J. Kerrigan, Harold J. Moyer and Kingsley G. Thomson, secretary.

In any city which is at least the size and age of Summit, there is generally some housing that is substandard. Unfortunately, Summit is no exception. However, to rectify the situation, the City passed on March 21, 1950, an ordinance creating the Substandard Housing Board for the main purpose of arriving at a definition of substandard housing by determining minimum adequate standards of decent, sanitary and safe housing.

Seven Member Board

The Board consists of seven members appointed by the Mayor with the advice and consent of the Common Council for a term of three years. Members hold office until their successors have been appointed and may be re-appointed to succeed themselves. Members of the Board serve without pay. At any meeting, four members in attendance constitutes a quorum.

Another duty delegated to the group is to make surveys and studies of housing conditions as may be necessary to determine in detail the existence and extent of substandard housing. The Board also has the power to employ professional consultants or other assistants, if required, and authorized by Common Council, of the state and all ordinances and codes of the City relating to the subject of substandard housing is another duty of the Board.

Evaluates Housing

Other functions of the group are to enforce or cause to be enforced, any existing laws of the State or city ordinance or code relating to the correction or elimination of substandard housing conditions, and to submit from time to time to Common Council, reports of conditions found, steps taken to improve such conditions and recommend any necessary revisions of existing ordinances or codes for the purpose of more effectively dealing with the problem.

One other duty the Board is responsible for is to submit to Common Council such plans for the elimination of substandard housing conditions as may appear feasible of accomplishing, financially practicable and consistent with the best overall interests of the city.

The Substandard Housing Board, by direction of the Common Council, has general supervision and control of activities and functions of the city's public health officer which comes under the jurisdiction of the Board of Health.

Members of the Substandard Housing Board are Miss Francis Waterman, chairman; Miss Capitola Dickerson, George R. Decker, Robert S. Stafford, Ramon J. Cabrera, Joseph Ballentine, Dr. George Relyea, James Traynor, public officer and Mrs. Ruth Baulvelt, recording secretary.

The meeting is public.

The Mayflower, which brought the Pilgrims to this country in 1620, was dismantled in England in 1629.

Methodist Church to Offer "Messiah" in Original Form

BETTY CLARK

One of the great landmarks of musical literature is Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah". The performance to be given this Sunday at the Methodist Church at 4 P.M. will present the first part in its entirety, with Handel's original orchestral score as he composed it for the modest resources of a hospital benefit performance in Dublin in 1742.

Dr. Oncley, in addition to his musical activities as a conductor, singer and violinist, is also known as a research engineer, and was formerly with the Bell Telephone Laboratories as a member of the technical staff engaged in research on speech and musical acoustics. He later taught at Columbia University where he is still a special lecturer on the acoustics of speech, and at the Westminster Choir College. He is now head of the advanced development section of Gulton Industries, Metuchen, working in problems of ultra sonics, aircraft and missile test instrumentation and sub-miniaturization of electronic equipment.

Mrs. Oncley is on the faculty of Kent Place School and is organist of Congregation Brai Israel, Elizabeth as well as of the Summit Methodist Church.

The public is invited to attend. An offering will be taken, with the proceeds, above expenses, to be applied to the Methodist Church Organ Fund.

Boy Wounded by Rifle Mishap at Playmate's Home

A 14-year-old Junior High School student was accidentally shot in the back by a friend late Sunday afternoon following an experiment made to convert .22 caliber rifle bullets into blank cartridges.

The wounded boy is John Boynton, 14, of 137 Beechwood road, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Boynton. He was injured by his friend, Noel Anderson, also 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Anderson of 36 Larned road.

The accident occurred in the basement of the Anderson home where the boys had gone after spending the afternoon at a rifle range on Route 22. Despite a ruling by the Andersons that no bullets could be brought into the home, the boys apparently had a few and removed the lead heads to convert them into blanks by replacing the lead with paper wadding. From investigation it appears that one head was not completely removed and when accidentally fired, lodged a small piece of lead in the Boynton boy's intestine.

The youth was immediately taken to Overlook Hospital where an operation was performed. His condition was listed as "fair" by the hospital yesterday.

The gun was owned by Mr. Anderson who gave permission for its use by his son only at authorized rifle ranges. Mr. Anderson had left the home briefly to make a trip to his office when the accident occurred.

Member Orchestra

The orchestra is made up of seventeen members of the New Jersey Chamber orchestra, with Walter De Maio of Summit as concertmaster. Other local players include Mrs. Katherine Clark, Mrs. Stephen Fellows, Joseph Domaleski, R. E. Anderson and Mrs. Donald Young, along with other performers from the North Jersey area. Mrs. Oncley will be at the organ. Betty Clark, director of the junior choir, will be contralto soloist.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

On December 5, 1956, the Commonwealth Water Company filed a Notice and Statement with the State of New Jersey Board of Public Utility Commissioners which provides for an increase in water rates for all classifications of service furnished, to become effective January 15, 1957.

The revision in rates so proposed will reflect an increase slightly in excess of 25% in all existing rates and charges. This will enable the Company to earn the minimum return on its present net investment necessary to refinance on a reasonable basis the temporary debt incurred for that part of its construction program which has been completed, and to attract the additional temporary capital required to permit completion of its program.

During the period from January 1, 1952 to September 30, 1956, the Company has expended more than $6,000,000 for plant and system additions. Some of the major projects were:

The installation of 78.76 miles of mains and 306 fire hydrants; the construction of nine new wells, with pumps, motors and required housing therefore; the installation of 3 new high service pumps with a total daily capacity of 18,850,000 gallons; the construction of seven new booster pumping stations; three high service reservoirs with a combined capacity of 4,210,000 gallons; construction of an additional 2,000,000 gallon capacity ground water storage tank, and many other facilities.

All this new construction and these additions were necessary in order that we may keep pace with the increasing demands for water, and to be in position to meet the future requirements of our expanding Communities.

The Company is currently engaged in other important major projects, among which are:

- (1) The construction of an additional water diversion reservoir with a capacity of 1,650,000 gallons, to be known as Cedar Ridge Reservoir No. 3, located adjacent to the Passaic River in Livingston, New Jersey. This reservoir is to be completed in 1957, at an estimated total cost of $1,600,000.
- (2) The construction of additional water filtration and treatment facilities with rated capacity of 10,000,000 gallons per day at the Company's Canoe Brook Station. The cost of these new units is estimated at $1,100,000. They will be available for service in the summer of 1957.
- (3) The construction of two high service concrete storage reservoirs, each having a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons. These reservoirs are to be completed and in service by the summer of 1957, at an estimated cost of $600,000.

These and other plant and system additions scheduled for completion before December 31, 1957, make up a total of several million dollars for construction projects in connection with our current improvement program.

Copies of the revised Tariff sheets covering the proposed changes of the rates are on file at the Company's offices and may there be examined.

SPREADING SOME CHEER — Mrs. Stanley Lewis, of Short Hills, chairman of "Pinkie" project at Overlook Hospital, entices crying Kim Reeves, of Berkeley Heights, with a puppet, while Sam Hasney, of Summit, dubiously watches the proceedings and Andy Stoller, of Westfield, looks happily on. Pinkie puppets are being given to all pediatric patients at the hospital. Twig and other volunteer groups make the puppets to soothe young patients. (Wolin Photo)

Kids at Overlook Hospital Cheered By "Pinkie" Debut

"Pinkie," a hand puppet dressed in the official cherry color of hospital volunteers, will be given to any child patient admitted into the pediatric suite at Overlook Hospital. There are two types, a clown for boys and a doll for girls. Each puppet is packed in a box and accompanied with a note of introduction which states in part: "Just call me 'Pinkie,' your hospital pal."

"Pinkie" was originally invented at the Cottage Hospital in Santa Barbara, California. The idea caught on and is now being adopted in many hospitals throughout the country.

The puppet is given to the child after the mother has left the hospital room, in order to distract the child from the mother's disappearance and to cheer the child up.

Because she is dressed in the official hospital volunteer colors, Pinkie is not liable for sale, and she may accompany the child patient in any part of the hospital.

There is an indication, however, that future copies of the puppet, in different colors, may be sold.

Twigs and other groups make these puppets for the children at Overlook. Last year 1,200 children were admitted to the hospital, so each group has pledged at least 10 puppets a month, or 100 a year, to insure a continuing supply.

Mrs. Stanley Lewis, of Short Hills, chairman of "Pinkie," reports she will help any group wishing to make the puppets. Materials, which are supplied by the Women's Auxiliary, were purchased this year through the contribution of Short Hills Twig 29.

Other Twigs and groups participating in the making of the puppets are Summit Twig 7, Mr. George Relyea, chairman; Mrs. Ralph Wilk, chairman; the Junior Fortnightly Club; Mrs. W. Merrill Hunt; Mrs. Harrison Durand; Mrs. A. A. Clark, and Mrs. H. Eaton, chairman.

Mrs. Mervin Kelly, a member of Twig 18, has made more than 40 puppets. The Women's Guild of Christ Church is also assisting in the project.

Overlook Twigs in adjoining communities, also participating in the project are Chatham Twig 18 Mrs. J. A. Mangin, chairman; Westfield Twig 2, Mrs. Willard Sauererun, chairman, and Madison Twig 2, Mrs. Warren K. Van His, chairman.

DEATHS

Frederic W. Compton
Frederic W. Compton of 19 Honoyman Place, New Providence, died suddenly Monday at his home. He was 70.

Born in Pluckemin, Mr. Compton lived there until moving to New Providence eight years ago. He worked as a butcher. He was a member of Passaic Township Grange, 188, Central District Pomona Grange, 9, state and national Grange organizations, Union County Kennel Club and the Stewards Club of America.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Florence Trumbull Compton; two sons, Adrian of Denville and Florian of Chester; a daughter, Miss Christine H. Compton of Chatham; four sisters, Mrs. A. P. Holcombe and Mrs. Milton Van Ness, both of Somerville, Mrs. Herbert Lighthouse of Bernardsville and Mrs. Lester Tompkins of Collingswood, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Passaic Township Grange held a Grange burial service yesterday at 8:30 p.m. in the Galloway and Crane Funeral Home, Basking Ridge. Rev. William E. Harper, minister of the Meyersville Presbyterian Church, conducted services at the funeral home today at 2 p.m. Burial will be in Bedminster Reformed Church Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary A. Ramsey
Mrs. Mary A. Ramsey, of Seton Institute, Baltimore, Maryland, a former resident of Summit, died here last Wednesday.

Mrs. Ramsey was the wife of the late Clarence J. Ramsey. Surviving her are a step-daughter, Mrs. Paul E. Sigmund of Wycombe, Pa. and a grandson, William J. Flynn of Summit.

The funeral was from the Burroughs and Kohn Funeral Home.

30 Springfield Avenue on Saturday morning, followed by a Solemn High Mass at St. Teresa's church. Interment was at St. Teresa's Cemetery.

Mrs. Annie Koblmann
Mrs. Annie Koblmann, widow of Albert Koblmann, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Hasselbauer of 26 Locust Drive. Mrs. Koblmann, who was 91, broke her hip in a fall five weeks ago and had been hospitalized until recently.

Born in New York, she lived for thirty years in Orange before moving to her daughter's home two years ago.

She leaves two other daughters, Mrs. Mimi Ross of Pines Lakes and Mrs. Josephine Burghardt of Weehawken.

Rev. James W. Muir, assistant minister of the Central Presbyterian Church, will conduct services at the Weatherhead Funeral Home, Orange, today at 10 a.m. Cremation will be at Rosedale, West Orange.

YWCA Dance Saturday
Another of the regular Saturday evening social dances for young adults will be held on Saturday at the YWCA starting at 8:30 p.m. Music will be by the Moodmakers. Young people, singly or as dates, are invited to attend.

Here's Tips on How to Select Christmas Trees

A Christmas tree is the most beautiful tree a family can enjoy. Choose it with care. Make your selection early to get a fresh-cut tree, says Robert A. Bartlett of the Bartlett Tree Experts.

If a tree is fresh, needles don't shower down when the butt is bounced hard on the ground. Neatly rub a finger across the butt. If it's sticky, the tree is fresh.

Make sure the tree fits the ceiling and floor space and that it has good symmetry. The lower branches when spread out should measure half the height of the tree.

Choose a tree with a stump 5 to 7 inches long. When you bring it home, cut a diagonal slice an inch thick from the butt, then peel back the bark another inch. Place the tree in a bucket or tub of cold water and keep it in the garage, on the porch or other cool but protected spot until Christmas Eve. Add a cup of sugar to the water and keep the pail filled at all times. Occasionally sprinkle the branches with water.

Fir trees, balsam and Douglas retain their needles for as long as three weeks indoors. Spruces and hemlock soon shed their needles in a heated room. They can be easily identified.

Balsam needles are flat, dark green, in thick rows of two and soft at the tip. Twigs form a little cross at the end of each branch, and the branches are rigid. Douglas fir needles are soft too, but their branches are a little more limber.

Spruce needles are sharply pointed. Needles of Norway

A FITTING END TO A STORY of personal hardship is made by Mrs. B. S. Biggs of 215 Ashland road, a Summit Area Red Cross chapter volunteer, as she finds a pair of shoes that will replace the native boots of Hungarian refugee Joseph Takacs, a native of Solomvar, at the Army's refugee reception center at Fort Dix. Many local women are helping daily with the Summit chapter in providing the incoming refugees with clothing, food, cigarettes and toys, as they arrive in America by plane. The Red Cross also provides free phone and telegram service to relatives in the United States, as well as messages to relatives left behind.

spruce are tangled and dark green. White spruce needles are blue-green. Norway spruces make ideal outdoor trees. The giant Christmas tree in Rockefeller Center in New York is a 64-foot white spruce this year. The nation's Christmas tree in Washington is usually a spruce too.

Preference for Christmas trees varies in parts of the south, the long-needle pine is favored. In the east, balsam and Douglas fir as well as spruce are the favorite. Wherever it is, a tree is the heart of Christmas in the home.

City Adopts New Signals For Future Air Raid Tests

Effective December 11, the new signals for future air raid tests are being adopted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The signals are being adopted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The signals are being adopted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

In connection with adoption of the new Civil Defense and disaster warnings in New Jersey, sirens in Summit will be sounded at noon on December 11 and again at the same time on December 15 and every Saturday noon thereafter.

The new system calls for Public Action Signal, just two types of siren patterns will be used, Dignan said. The "Alert" signal, three minutes of steady siren blasts, will denote probable danger. Upon hearing this the public will be instructed to turn on their radios for full information on the nature of the warning. This signal will alert for air raids or natural disasters.

The other signal is the "Take Cover" signal, three minutes of intermittent siren blasts. Dignan said this will be introduced to the public by the sounding of "Take Cover" and there should be no delay in seeking shelter.

There is no set sequence for the sounding of these signals. Each may be sounded to the exclusion of the other.

When it is safe to leave shelter areas, the "Alert" signal will be repeated. Once again the instruction here is to turn on radios.

Women's Group at Calvary to Offer Christmas Music

"A Christmas Musicals" incorporating the presentation of songs, scripture, sermonettes and group carolling will take place at 10:00 a.m. Tuesday morning, at Calvary Episcopal Church Parish House.

Under the auspices of the St. Katherine's Chapter, Calvary Women's Auxiliary, the program will feature Reverend Hedley Jenkins, Philip J. Cartwright and Howard W. Vogel. Women of the parish are invited to attend with special notice to Calvary newcomers who will be guests at a "Christmas Coffee" following the musicale.

Mr. Cartwright of Millburn a bass baritone, widely known in church circles for his singing of sacred music, will open the program. On this occasion he will retell the story of Christmas in his own specially conceived format entitled "The Birthday of a King," included in this repertoire will be: "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," Harker; "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," MacGimsey; "Voices of the Sky," Matthews; "How Far Is It To Bethlehem," Rowley; "Birthday of a King," Neidinger;

and, Melotte's "The Lord's Prayer."

Reverend Jenkins will deliver an informal sermonette entitled, "A Christmas in Czechoslovakia" derived from his personal experience of Christmas in a 1944 prisoner-of-war camp during World War II.

Mr. Vogel, Calvary's organist and choir director, will both accompany Mr. Cartwright and lead the audience in carol singing following Mr. Jenkin's talk.

Among those aiding the planning and preparation of the Christmas program are St. Katherine's co-chairmen, Mrs. Floyd Becker of Summit and Mrs. Claude Wampler of Short Hills. Arrangements for the Calvary newcomers are headed by Mrs. E. E. Dreger and Mrs. Beverly L. Clarke, both of Summit. Senior Auxiliary advisors to St. Katherine's are Mrs. John M. Leavens, Summit and Mrs. Leopold E. Starr of Murray Hill. St. Katherine's decorations will be provided by a committee headed by Mrs. James Bancker, Jr. of Madison and Mrs. H. C. Rowe of Berkeley Heights. Special arrangements and invitations for St. Katherine's are being handled by Mrs. L. L. Prince of Summit and Mrs. W. P. Minshall of Berkeley Heights.

Gourmet's Yule Topic for Next Kaffeeklatsch

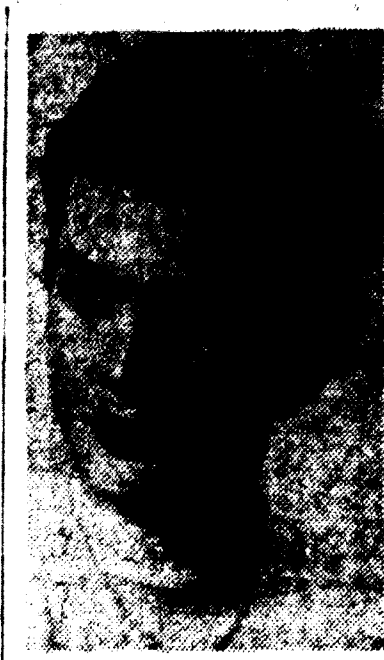

Mrs. Peggy Hammett, a long-standing friend of the YWCA, has been scheduled for the Kaffeeklatsch meeting on December 12 at 10:30 a.m. to present a program entitled, "A Gourmet's Approach to Christmas."

Mrs. Hammett has previously offered several fascinating talks to Kaffeeklatsch on the subject of gourmet cooking, each time bringing with her delectable food samples to emphasize the scope of the gourmet field in everyday meal preparation. For the fall season she instructed a class at the "Y" in gourmet foods, which met with great success.

An obvious authority on her topic, Mrs. Hammett is widening her subject matter to present ideas and thoughts to consider in the preparation of the coming holiday festivities. The ease with which she demonstrates the usability of new ideas in planning meals is thrilling to see and her enthusiasm in telling of the manner in which ordinary foods can be transformed into a gourmet's delight is infectious to her audience.

Kaffeeklatsch extends a most cordial welcome to all those in the community who are interested in a variety of programs and invigorating social contacts each Wednesday from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Baby sitting is available for toddlers and there is a rhythm and dance group for older pre-schoolers during the Kaffeeklatsch meetings. These services are available at a nominal fee.

Chairman of the day will be Mrs. Edward Brinkman. The following members will assist her in making decorations and boutonnières: Mrs. James May, Mrs. R. Boger, Mrs. Mary Semmes, and Mrs. R. Dollase. Reservations may be made with Mrs. J. Dilworth Beggs, CR. 7-0272.

Kent Place Glee Club to Sing at Lawrenceville

Kent Place School and Lawrenceville School Glee clubs will sing in a joint concert at Lawrenceville on Saturday evening, December 8. Miss Ellen Richter, supervisor of the Kent Place music department, will direct the Kent Place Glee Club, and Mrs. Ralph E. Plumley will provide the piano accompaniment. Theodore Keller of the Lawrenceville music department will direct the Lawrenceville Glee Club for this program of Christmas music.

Soloists for this Yuletide concert are Lynette Buchanan, Diane Hodges, Deborah McKown, Mary Moech, Barbara Reid, and Patti Ringler, all of Summit; Diana Hodges is vice president of the club.

Interspersed between the selections by the glee clubs, the Kent Place Trio and The Lawrencevians, an octet, will be featured. The Trio includes the following Glee Club members, Lynette Buchanan, Cynthia Hammett, Diane Hodges, Mary Moech, and Barbara Reid, all of Summit.

Other members of the Kent Place Glee Club who will participate in this joint recital are: Wendy Buchanan, Molly Hardie, Gisela Keuffel, Cynthia Knowles, Ann McKnight, Marjorie Mallard, Ann Marshall, Judith Miller, Margaret Plumley, Susan Pyle, Terry Smit, Heidi Sterns, Ann Thornton, and Helen Tyson, all of Summit.

Drama Guild Shows Both Postponed for One Week

The Calvary Church Drama Guild production of Thornton Wilder's, "The Happy Journey," and Christopher Fry's, "A Phoenix Too Frequent," have been postponed for one week because of illness of some cast members.

The productions will be presented December 11, 12, 13 and 15. There will be no production on Friday, December 14.

A change has been announced for the "Phoenix" cast. The part of Tegeus, a Roman guard, will be assumed by Peter Vosburg who has appeared in many amateur productions in New York City, Syracuse and Texas.

The Couples Club of the church under the chairmanship of Mrs. F. Franklin and Mrs. R. Agnew will usher at all performances.

The classic, which was adapted by Frank Daniels, is under the direction of Mrs. E. Lechluder. Mrs. L. Hopkins is the small property chairman, Mrs. H. Graham, large property chairman; Mrs. W. Brandt, costume chairman, Carl Huss, sets; and lighting, Richard Malack.

The choir will provide Christmas carols, while the orchestra will play special music. Free tickets may be obtained by contacting the school.

Jefferson PTA Completes Yule Program Plans

Plans for the Jefferson school Christmas program to be held on Thursday, December 13th at 8 p.m. were discussed at a recent meeting of PTA board members at the home of the group's president, B. McMillan.

Classrooms will be open for parents to observe the children's Christmas decorations and the program will be held at the first floor hall. The school choir, under the direction of Miss Margaret Thorpe, and the orchestra directed by Roy Fulmer, will present special Christmas music. The lower grades and kindergarten will offer entertainment with representatives from each class contributing to the program.

The membership drive is still in progress with 100 per cent participation the goal again this year. Mrs. Samuel Schrumpl, chairman, has been conducting a special house to house campaign.

Refreshments will be served with Mrs. Arthur Anderson, chairman, aided by the following classroom mothers: Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. George Chambers, Mrs. F. E. Conger, Mrs. Ray Danielson, Mrs. Louis DiGirolomi, Mrs. Edward Falaseo, Mrs. J. B. Formicella, Mrs. Clarence Moll, Mrs. B. McMillan, Mrs. James McNavy, Jr., Mrs. Robert O'Brien, Mrs. August Pirrone, Mrs. Gerald Schoen, and Mrs. William Vierling.

 ence Rogers. She had been cloistered since she joined the order and served as sub-prioress before she became ill.
 She is survived by three brothers, John Rogers of Brooklyn; George Rogers of Sussex; and Walter Rogers of Paterson and three sisters, Mrs. Fred Faha of Leonia, Miss Effie Rogers and Miss Clara Rogers, both of Jersey City.
 A Solemn High Requiem Mass

was offered last Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Rosary Shrine. Burial was at the monastery cemetery.

James J. Shanley

James J. Shanley of 20 Middle Avenue died Saturday at Overlook Hospital where he was taken following a heart attack at his home. He was 70.

A native of Ireland, Mr. Shanley came to this country sixty years ago and had been a local resident for the last 36 years. He was a maintenance man for a Newark firm and for many years had been a private chauffeur in Short Hills.

He is survived by a son, Joseph, of this city; a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Dean of 20 Middle Avenue and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 9 a. m. from the Paul Ippolito Summit Memorial, 7 Summit Avenue, and at 9:30 a. m. at St. Teresa's Church where a high requiem mass was celebrated. Burial was in Gate of Heaven Cemetery.

Mrs. Rosa Wiggins

Mrs. Rosa Wiggins of Vaux Hall for many years—a resident of Summit, died Sunday, November 24, at her residence. Mrs. Wiggins until she moved to Vaux Hall lived here for about twenty years.

She was the sister of Mrs. A. W. Pettiford and Mrs. Leon Cross, both of 15 William street. In addition to the above sisters she is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held last Thursday at Wallace Chapel conducted by Rev. J. E. Farrington. Burial was at Fairview Cemetery, Westfield.

 the County Mosquito Commission, and the men who worked with Mr. Price, of the City, we're sure they would clarify our statement because they saw these rats and snakes when they came to work in this brook, and they didn't like the idea of working with these conditions either.

The Union County Mosquito Commission is more than willing to come back again, and complete the job of cleaning this brook complete and right, but again they must have the city's full cooperation.

We all feel certain that our City of Summit, can and should help us taxpayers who get this excess storm water flooding onto our properties, and to eliminate the dumping and cluttering that takes place into this brook, if they really wanted to.

Sincerely yours,
 Mary A. Mandato.
 Signed for all the residents affected.

YM Seeks Hungarian Funds

Editor, Summit Herald:
 Members and Friends of the YMCA will be interested to learn that "Y" secretaries are already at work in Hungarian refugee camps and that the World's Alliance of YMCA's, through its refugee service committee, is appealing to various national YMCA movements for appropriate aid. Word has come also that our YMCA Refugee Services Committee in New York has sent $10,000 for immediate aid to Hungarians.

A letter received in my office this week from L. A. Moyle, secretary for refugee services, gives an up-to-date report of the work which is being planned through YM YWCA field services now operating in every province in Austria. The great need is for the establishment of barracks and staff service for the recreational and social centers when will be operated by YM YWCA units.

I have particular interest in Mr. Moyle's letter. He was a guest in our home for a two-week period several years ago when he first came from his native Australia to study at Springfield College. For a number of years he has been the experienced and competent Secretary for refugee services. He writes that Joseph Bednarek will be in direct charge of the Hungarian "Y" services. Bednarek is a Pole who was interned in the D.P. camps of World War 2. During his imprisonment he was the originator of YMCA friendship clubs among D.P.s. In 1950 I met Joe Bednarek in a "Y" conference group in Wisconsin. If ever there was a dedicated Christian worker, this man certainly is one.

Our YMCA friends can feel very proud of the role the Association is playing in this new area of tension.

"Y" members and friends can share in this also by their regular support of "Y" World Service or through special gifts channeled for "Hungarian Refugee Relief," through my office.

 Allan R. Devenney,
 General Secretary, YMCA.

Local Store Thanked

Editor, Summit Herald:
 We would appreciate the opportunity to express, through your columns, our thanks to the Root family for their kindness in lending us the show windows in their vacant store on Springfield Avenue, for the Naval Reserve display which was in the windows during the month of November.

The mission of the Naval Reserve is vitally important to the security of the nation, and I hope that when we request similar assistance from other business establishments we will receive the same enthusiastic cooperation which was given to us by Rootsummit.

Please accept our thanks for the help that you have given to us in the past; I am sure that we can count on your continued aid in the future.

R. R. Rhodes,
 LCDR, USNR-R,
 Commanding Officer.

How to Aid Refugees

Editor, Summit Herald:
 Since our country has decided to take in at least 21,000 Hungarian refugees, may I help explain to people interested in sponsoring them how it is done.

As their need seemed urgent, a friend and I went twice to Camp Kilmier this past week.

We saw quite a number of Hungarian patriots, some wounded, and all with an expression of purpose, calmness, seriousness, vitality and yet cheerfulness almost impossible to describe, and we felt deeply that any country would be proud to welcome such a race.

They were quiet and intelligent, with an expression of dedication which took them out of them selves, in their anxiety for those left behind in Russian hands, and in their willing sacrifice of their lives for a free Hungary and world. We were deeply impressed, and humble before their bravery.

The Hungarians and the Finns are first cousins and have been in Europe many centuries. They are not at all closely related to any other races there.

The procedure in sponsoring them is to call or write one of the three religious organizations handling this; Hias, the United Church Service, or Catholic Charities at Kilmier 5-7200. You will be sent a preliminary form stating whether you will sponsor a child, domestic servant or couple, trained worker etc. When this person is selected for you, you will fill in the final form and call for the refugee. If anything is truly unsatisfactory to you later, the church through which you applied will, on notice from you, find them another position and relieve you of the responsibility.

I feel that if done it would work happily both ways, because the Hungarians are very industrious and clean, and have a keen desire to repay with their services in appreciation of our desire to help a people who have renewed the world's faith in true heroism.

Lorraine H. Davis,
 Hillcrest Avenue.

Army Nike Base

 of the Berkeley Heights Planning Board. "We have been told that the men who will man the base are of the highest calibre." He added that at first the community residents resented the Army's invasion, fearing a depreciation of real estate valuations.

For a while, the Army contemplated taking over Crest drive, which is a main artery leading to the new Regional High School. Because of the intervention of Congressman Harrison A. Williams, the Army compromised and permitted free civilian use of the roadway.

The site is being occupied as a result of a lease signed between the Army and the Union County Park Commission, in October, 1955. Prior to the signing, the Army had threatened to exercise its right of "eminent domain" in order to secure the land.

Robert F. Rushin, also of Countryside, and a former president of the Countryside Association, said, "Now that the people know something more about the operation of the base, community resentment has subsided."

It was learned that many of the service organizations and the Red Cross in Summit have made plans to provide recreational and cultural facilities for the men and their families.

The Nike, considered the last weapon of defense in the event of attack, now has a projected distance of 25 miles. Army officials revealed, however, that this distance will be tripled within a short period of time.

It was pointed out that in the eventuality, which is unlikely, that the missile should not strike its target, it would disintegrate harmlessly in the air.

However, it was noted that the missiles will only be discharged in the event of actual attack.

OWNER REPORTS— "SAVED 50% OF OUR FUEL OIL"

WE CHANGED TO A WINKLER LP* LOW PRESSURE OIL BURNER

Owner writes: "In checking my oil supply, I find that the installation of a Winkler Low Pressure Oil Burner has cut my oil consumption exactly 50%. I might add that the high pressure burner I took out was a new burner, not an old one. Have needed no service so far and no nozzle cleaning either."
 R. E. Rockwell, Tacoma, Wash.

HERE ARE THE REASONS WHY—
 The Winkler LP* burns as little as 1 gallon per hour—can be accurately sized to the capacity of your heating plant. Hence, no heat is wasted up the chimney. Non-clogging nozzle permits burning all grades of domestic fuel oil—amazingly reduces service costs.

 the hospital—sometimes as many as eight in a day and on average two or three days a week.
 "The inadequacies of our maternity facilities are widely recognized. We need another delivery room. The nursery space is at least fifty-five per cent too small.
 "Actually our service facilities are under an even greater strain. The kitchen for example is at least 1/2 too small for our current needs and the high praise we have had for our food is an amazing achievement under all the circumstances.

 "The list of our needs is a very long one and we must act now to meet the challenge of the present and the years ahead of us.
MUST RAISE $2 1/2 MILLION
 Mr. Gerhard stated that the minimum program for expansion would require $2,500,000 of which the hospital now has available or in prospect approximately $1,000,000.
 "To adopt all the recommendations of the trustees—taking into account not only building but equipment for the entire plan will call for a 2nd phase of construction to begin when the 1st phase is finished. The second phase will cost an additional $2,000,000 based on present day prices.

 "Detailed drawings and complete information will be publicized as soon as drawings are available.
 Mr. Gerhard said it was pointed out very clearly by architects and members of the building committee, that it is quite impractical to do the first phase of construction partially. It must, for reasons of costs and functions of the hospital, be done at one time and completed in its entirety.
ANNUAL GIFTS VITAL
 "The annual giving campaigns of Overlook have made a tremendous difference to the hospital,"

Mr. Gerhard declared. "We now have a future development fund and reserves built up by a realistic depreciation policy which will provide approximately $500,000 by the time construction begins. And we believe we can count on another $500,000 from Foundations which have either promised us support or indicated a definite interest in our needs.
 We are also looking to Federal support under the Hill-Burton Act for $150,000 to finance facilities for chronically ill patients.
 "A committee to organize the fund raising will be named in the very near future," Mr. Gerhard announced.

Overlook trustees authorized the immediate retention of James H. Ritchie & Associates of Boston, architects and Tamblin & Brown, Inc., Empire State Building, New York City to direct the fund raising campaign.

Holiday Shopping

 special Parcel Post station has been leased in a building at the rear of Eastern Fuel Co. on Broad street and all packages will be received and dispatched from there rather than the post office building. Mailing of packages, however, will be as usual from the post office. The temporary quarters are only for the receiving, sorting and delivering of packages.
Mail Already Heavy
 The Post Master said that mail volume is up "considerably" at the present time because of the usual month-end magazine distribution plus gift catalogues sent out by large department stores.

To Curtail Drives

 this year for the first time the various health and welfare drives were brought under one control. This fall Millburn conducted only one appeal for its community welfare agencies and

He also said that the local post office has been receiving quite a few packages destined for overseas delivery to military personnel and others.
 Baskets for Christmas cards will be placed in the lobby of the Post Office, as in past years, as soon as the volume of mail warrants it. Residents already have received "local," "out-of-town," "out-of-state" and other labels to designate the destination of Christmas cards and are asked to classify cards accordingly and place them in a lobby basket designated.

County Mail Speeded

For the second year "Operation Santa Claus" will be continued. This is an arrangement first used last year whereby all mail for Union County post offices is sent directly to the designated post office rather than by train to the Hoboken terminal and then to the particular county post office. This arrangement speeds up county deliveries greatly and enables same-day delivery on mail from one county post office to another.
 The Postmaster also plans to have the lobby and service windows opened for extra hours, especially on Sundays for the convenience of patrons. The specific dates and hours will be announced later.

in the spring it will hold another community drive for the welfare health agencies that participate in the county drive.
 The consolidation move in Millburn was started last year as a result of a year after number meetings were held among the agencies involved. The unifying proposal was sparked by Millburn's Red Cross chairman and getting that agency to agree to join with other agencies of the county was one of the biggest obstacles it was reported.

Welcomed by Public

It was also reported that the plan received enthusiastic support from the community and that this year's drive for the welfare agencies went over the top for the first time in several years.

Millburn organized a new board of directors to handle both the fall and spring drives, pass on agency membership quotas to the agencies and take on the organization of workers for the drives.

Mr. Spalding stated that he thought a similar plan could be adopted by Summit and believed that it would be welcomed by the public because it would reduce the number of separate annual fund drives.

At present only eight local agencies are included in the fall United Campaign. These are Boy and Girl Scouts, YMCA and YWCA, Family Service Association, SAGE, Child Care Center, Mental Hygiene and for the last two years, USO.

In addition to the United Campaign appeal for funds to cover the needs of these agencies, Summit is annually asked for money for Visiting Nurse Association, Overlook Hospital and Red Cross, in separate drive.

At other times throughout the year there are organized drives conducted by many national organizations such as Cancer, Heart Association, Tuberculosis Society, Polio Foundation, Cerebral Palsy, Muscular Dystrophy, Crippled Children, etc.

New Millburn Tanks

Construction of two new high service concrete storage reservoirs at Millburn, each of 2,000,000 gallon capacity, costing an estimated $600,000.

In the period mentioned above the company has already completed projects which include the installation of 78.76 miles of mains and 306 hydrants; the installation of three new high-service pumping units with a total daily capacity of 18,850,000 gallons; construction of seven new booster pumping stations; three high-service reservoirs with combined capacity of 4,240,000 gallons; construction of an additional 2,000,000-gallon capacity ground water storage tank; nine new wells, with pumps, motors and required housing therefor; and many other plant and system facilities all important parts of its construction and improvement program.

Holiday Traffic

 Sgt. Gerity noted that jaywalking is a major factor in half of the pedestrian deaths and that stepping from behind parked cars and crossing against red lights rank next in pedestrian fatalities.

Last year's drive to bring home the importance of safe driving, Summit police distributed 18,000 pamphlets, 700 pledge cards, 200 drivers manuals and 100 posters. There were 1,223 man hours worked with 533 additional hours of overtime.

Urges Auto Care

In a message regarding proper automobile care, during the winter months, Police Chief Edward K. Egan urged particular attention to vision and traction. He appealed to motorists to be especially careful that windshield wipers are in perfect condition and that defrosters, lights and rear view mirrors are in working order.

He added that in icy weather cars lose traction dangerously and urged that motorists carry tire chains with them at all times.

Among the organizations here joining in the drive for safe driving is the Summit Exchange Club, which has taken particular interest in reducing accidents among school age children.

In his message urging greater traffic caution, Governor Mennen called upon all organizations including business and industry to participate in the drive through their members, employees and others.

Summit High Fetes 120 Who Turned Out for Fall Sports

Summit High School honored 120 of its students who had participated in the fall sports program in an annual award assembly last Friday. Recognition was given to members of the soccer, football, and girls' field hockey teams.

Jean Aheran presented the girls' teams with maroon and white hockey shields—the equivalent of a varsity letter in that sport. Over-all, four field hockey teams compiled a record of five wins, four losses, and three ties. The senior team finished with a 1-1 record, the juniors with an 0-2 record, the sophomores with a 2-1-3 record, and the juniors and seniors combined posted two wins against no defeats.

Members of the Group III State Soccer team were awarded letters and five-and-a-half inch soccer trophies for their efforts. These were the first trophies to be given at SHS since the football team tied for the Suburban Conference Championship with Caldwell two years ago.

After Coach Elmer Haldenwang had finished presenting awards to his boys' team Co-Captain Webb Van Winkle presented the soccer mentor with a state championship trophy and a gift of appreciation from the team. After assistant soccer coach Joseph Coleman had presented the junior varsity with their numerals, varsity Co-Captain Roger Pennington bestowed a tan, V-necked sweater on the first-year instructor as a token of the team's gratitude to him.

Head Coach Howard Anderson presented the football squad with their letters, delivering a speech praising the team and their supporters. Bill Butler then conveyed the team's feelings when he gave Coach Anderson a brown suede jacket, a remembrance of the 1956 gridirers.

Assistant Coach Bruce Bears, who handed out numerals to the junior varsity squad, was honored by the gift of a sport shirt. Al Langenus presented this as a spokesman for the team. Thus concluded the assembly in which credit was given where credit was due.

The following girls received hockey shields: Joan Bonardel, Sara Rafferty, Judy McCann, Sally Maclay, Mimi Murray, Liz Wooster, Aletta Kurley, Lyn Negus, Ellen McCue, Susan Neher, Marilyn Benner, Sandra Burns, Janet Luciano, Beverly Papp, Edna McKinley, Peggy Pickett, Jane Mitchell, Joan Stranad, Avery Hunt, Mary Ruemer, Sue Murray, Mary Jo Taylor, Cynthia Murlburt, Judy Murray, Nancy Walton, Debbie Neher, and Carol Smith.

The following boys were repeat letter winners in soccer: Manager B. Snyder, Gil Low, Herb Schmidt, Webb Van Winkle, Roger Pennington, Bob Evans, B. J. Clark, and Dick Golding.

Receiving the soccer letter award for the first time were: Arnold Ginochio, John Moore, Bob Kurley, Pete Eddy, Bruce Carrier, Art White, Ed Betts, Dred McFadden, Hans Levenbach, Larry Kamm, Tom Ludlow, Art Torrell, Dick Connell, John Johnston, Charley Mixon, Brant Savre, Pete Howley, Don Marcy, and Ted Judson.

Dave Barr, Bruce Craig, Larry May, Harvey Snyder, Davis Van Winkle, Pete Jaeger, Jeff Fleming, and assistant manager Larry Bontemp received numerals.

Chubb Girls Sweep Series With Balish

The league leading Chubb & Son girls swept their series with the Balish Beverages last Tuesday evening at the Echo Lanes to increase their league lead in the Summit Women's Recreation Bowling League to three full games.

Julia Pressler, Ida Schilling and Lois Kremer sparked the Chubb bowlers, with M. Giordano posting the top series for the Balish Beverages.

Ciba lost valuable ground by losing the odd game of their series with the Doyle Furniture Kay Harvey rolled a sparkling 481 series for the losing Ciba girls, with Alice and Betty Gaba posting 469 and 431 series for victorious Doyle Furniture. The remainder of the league rolled 2-1 victories, with Kemper tripping the Hilltopper No. 1 club, Perillo's Express over the Hilltopper No. 2 team, and the Charline Drugs prevailing over Zette's Esso Service.

D. Kuzman rolled a sparkling 469 series for Perillo's to spark her club to victory, with E. Sheldon and P. Petesica rolling 457 and 455 series in the Charline-Zette series.

The Summit Fimia-Warriors found playing away games extremely rough last week as they dropped decisions to Orange and Plainfield in the strong New Jersey State Basketball League. On Wednesday evening the Warriors played at the Orange High School gym, facing the Orange Triangles, and were beaten by a 73-53 score.

Saturday night the Fimia Warriors dropped a 66-52 decision to the Plainfield Caruso Big Five at the Plainfield High School. Jack Gilbert led the winners with seven points. Standouts for the locals were Groffsky and Pete Campisi, who scored thirteen and ten points respectively.

In both games the Warriors sorely missed the services of Dick Patterson, their top scorer who is out of the lineup with a badly sprained ankle. Patterson should be ready to play this Saturday night when the Fimia team will take on Belleville at the Summit High School gym. In addition the Warriors have added Jack Drury, former Seton Hall cager, in an effort to break their scoring slump.

Larry's, Roof's Bowlers Post Odd Game Wins

Larry's Sport Shop and the Roof's Men's Shop posted victories in the odd game of their series with the Charline Drugs and the Werner Motors last Wednesday night at the Echo Lanes, Mountaineer.

Al Gast posted the only 600 series for either club, rolling a fine 604 series which featured a 213 opening and closing game. Bill MacQuestion had a fine 597 series, rolling a 219 in the middle game and then closing with a 202 game. Sedgie Philippi rolled a fine 606 series for the Werner Motors, but received little help from his teammates as the Roof's Men's Shop bowled steadily to win the odd game of this series.

Geddes and Kawan had the top series for Roof's, and also provided the spark in the third game to win by a hundred pins.

The Twill Printers swept their series with Ciba, to climb within two games of the second place Werner Motors. Both clubs experienced an "off-night" in their scoring, with Twill and Sabra the only bowlers to better 200 for the printers. Peterson rolled a 524 series for Ciba, finishing with a fine 211 game.

The West Penn Oil blanked the hapless Ken Johnston's, with Clark's 221 and Rootstock's 224, the top games of this series.

Three Borough PAL Cage Teams Remain Unbeaten

The Lions, Hawks and the Thunderbolts remained unbeaten after two weeks of play in the New Providence P.A.L. Junior and Intermediate Basketball League. In the Junior Basketball League the Hawks romped over the undermanned Colts 33-5, with a player shortage hampering the losers.

Hawk Coach, Don Pearson and Colt Coach, Len England have the youngsters playing good basketball and the scores are not truly indicative of the calibre of play in the P.A.L. League.

In the nighttime Bob Sharkey's Lions defeated Tom O'Donnell's Eagles on a last quarter surge 35-18.

On Wednesday evening, the Rams lost to the high scoring Thunderbolts 42-24, with the Warriors defeating the Lancers 26-20. In the finale of the triple header the Aces came from behind in the final seconds to upset the Jasper's 23-20. Walt Bergmann, Bob Einstein, and Dave Breuer and Joe Yendrick were the officials.

DeLuxe Sweets, Frantzen Team Pace League

The DeLuxe Sweet Shoppe and the Chell Frantzen Photo continued their battle for top honors in the Summit City Recreation Bowling League, both clubs winning 3-0 over the Ken Johnston's Sport Shop and the New Providence American Legion Auxiliary.

Dot Hall, Camille Fricke and Marv Combs provided the spark for the DeLuxe club with 470-478 and 468 series respectively. Margene Fisher was the top bowler for the Ken Johnston's with a 389 series. Lee Bloss rolled a stellar 520 series to spark the Shell Frantzen to a triple victory over the Legion Auxiliary, with Irene Stefanek and Fran Luciano rolling 449 and 426 series for the victors.

Meta & Edward's Beauty Salon won three from the Colton Cleaners with M. Fallon and M. McMane providing the scoring punch. P. Hufnail and F. Galbavy rolled 475 and 444 series for the Colton Cleaners. James Gorman won three from the Peggy Abbott and the Summit Live Poultry won two from the Bond Furniture. A. Burke, E. Varner and E. Piccinto posted 400 series for James Gorman.

Central Church Buys Elm Street Residence

Trustees of Central Presbyterian Church last week approved the purchase of an adjacent 2 1/2-story house and lot located at 33 Elm street. The property was acquired from Laurence W. Morrison. The house is now occupied and is at the rear of the church property.

The trustees approved the purchase for the "best interests" of the church and to provide extra additional parking for an additional building for the future.

Other series were decided 2-1 with David's Electrical Shop winning over the Delia Builders, the Berkeley Pharmacy over the Dogwood Lane and the Crestview Agency over the Merle Normal's Cosmetics. Top series were rolled by L. Reiman (485), L. Klembar (439), S. Newton (424), E. Stenfor (426), M. Reiman (406), and M. DeSalvio's sparkling 591 series.

DeSalvio Rolls 591 Series in Heights League

A pair of sensational three-game series were rolled in the Berkeley Heights Township Bowling League last Tuesday evening, with M. DeSalvio rolling a stellar 591 series on games of 193-212-186, which was almost matched by a 5-star performer by Ford Dennis, rolling a 558 series for the Richland Company, which included a 212 in the final game. The Serritella News posted a three game sweep over the Berkeley Bakery to gain a two-way tie for the leadership, with Ida Philippi and Ida Serritella providing the scoring punch for the winners, with 498 and 463 series.

Follies Hung Out SRO Sign For First Time in History

For the first time in its eight-year history, the Overlook Follies was a complete sell-out, with requests for standing room, on Saturday night. Guests from as far away as Long Island and Westchester County helped to fill the High School auditorium with an enthusiastic and appreciative audience, delighted with the theatrical efforts of friends, relatives and neighbors.

The fast-moving show was introduced with a peppy overture by Johnny Almqvist and his orchestra, sung by Mary and John Rapicano. To put the audience in proper mood to enjoy one of the best shows in Follies history, eight statuesque showgirls one by one invited the crowd to "Relax!" spoken in a microphone in sultry tones. This group, who appeared elsewhere in the show were Audrey Mixer, Virginia McDonough, Anne Reinalda, Suzanne Jackson, Pat Cropsy, Maribel Craig, Hatcher Micone and Eleanor Burke.

Chorus Again Popular
Again one of the most popular numbers was the High School kick chorus, the "Dancing Dolls," Carolyn Elmer, Mimi Grieser, Margie Kune, Sue Winner, Patti Zusi, Carol Riemer, Mary Anne May, Helen Brenn, Jacie Aul, Joanne Strasad, Mike Hall, Callie Dean, Ginn Earl, Cathy Allen, Carolyn Luther and Phyl Guest. Their precision kicking was perfect, and as usual brought tremendous applause—and a lump in the throat.

To complete this first "production number," was a competent dancing ensemble which included Joyce Ehrigott, Natalie Howard, Barbara Heywood, Judith Cronin, Jean Hayes, Aida Mugford, Helen Craig, Mary Greenwald, Bill Cross, John Willis, Bud Heywood, Don Steinbrugge, George Gaw, William Rech, Robert Greenwald and Robert Steeber.

As a comic contrast to the glittering gold and yellow of the first number, was a line of tired chorus girls, Mary Nestler, Rita Newell, Marj Atkinson, Hope Robinson, Donna Duft, Kitty Bullock, Lovey Trucksess and Jane Newbury. Dressed in white pseudo-Grecian gowns with outrageous egret head-resses, they lamented that "Everything's Going to Be Much Worse Next Year," after they had gone through their last million-aire.

Skit Wins Applause
Home handymen in the audience applauded the skit, "Do It Yourself," acted by Anne Skidmore, Nancy Sorenson and Bob Massey. After his wife had displayed his homemade furniture which fell apart at a touch, Massey carried his home projects one further by operating on himself and finally closing the incision only to leave the instruction book inside.

Every Follies has a pantomime to records, and this year's number was hilariously "sung" by Jack Weeks and Bill Smith dressed in sailor suits with short pants and sailor hats with streamers. Their antics were supplemented by Len Zusi in a short fluffy pinafore, all in humorous combination with the high childish voices on the record.

One of the most spectacular staging effects opened the curtain on "A Man and a Dream," sung by John Neher to Jean MacDonal who was posed in a sea of drifting clouds of smoke. Their duet was one of the most professional musical numbers in the show.

"Strike up the Band" costumed lovely girls as Crusaders in shimmering silver mail and white doublets, and they gave an excellent demonstration of precision marching. The Show Girls provided a background in elegant medieval robes and headdresses. Members of the ensemble were Helen Craig, Ruth Poe, Marjorie Schultz, Patricia Oliver, Bette Rhodes, Marjorie Gregory, Elaine Proctor, Natalie Everett, Lucille Lanza, Donna Duft, Pauline Boryesne and Ann Preim.

Housewife Satirized
Satirizing the suburban housewife who becomes a different person in back of Follies footlights, Marilyn Clark in red satin, sang "It's Me" with the assistance of Ted German and Bob McCain.

High school students again did an effective scene in a singing and dancing production of "The Black Ferry." Comprising the group were Nancy Nordahl, Karolyn Kennedy, Holly McMahon, Jennifer Tatlock, Sue Robertson, Patti Wenzel, Sally Ann Matthews, Betty Farrell, Sue Weigang, Connie Ponzio, Toby Nicholson, Larry Kamm, Dick Olive, Doug Woodring, John E. Moore, Norman Lavery, Frank Russo, Lance Grey, William Rogers and John Soward.

One of the highlights of the evening was "It's Never Too Late," cleverly sung and acted by Peggy Anne Rhoades and Ed Winn. Dressed in a ridiculous evening gown of the twenties, Mrs. Rhoades danced the Charleston with comic grace, and her flat-voiced interpositions accented Mr. Winn's fervent hopes that "It's never too late to fall in love."

Edie Knows' Em Dead
The famous Edie of "Edie Was a Lady" was stinkily acted by Yvonne Willis in a red sequin gown. One by one she "knocked 'em dead," and even bowled over a whole row of men, toy soldier fashion. The men, joined by girls for a spectacular first act finish, were Bill Cross, Milton Rusnak, J. D. Marshall, George Lamm, Richard Parsons, Ellis Armstrong.

Edwin Gilland, Jr., Dr. Edward Micone, Russ Kerby and Bud Heywood. Their partners were Margot Hickey, Ginny Bloodsworth, Mary Rusnak, Virginia Harman, Lilyan Armstrong, Helen Craig, Diane Lowe, Barbara Erb, Marjorie Tisch and Suzanne Warnecke.

After intermission, lovely Aileen Hedin sang the popular, "I Could Have Danced All Night." Featured dancers were Jean Hayes and Ted Littell, and the ensemble included Nancy Harris, Elinor Meyer, Mary Wiedenmayer, Marjorie Graves, Madeleine Relyea, Jane Finley, Kit Kenyon and Sally Ann Marsh. Also Wilbur Nelson, Bob Brandt, George Delaney, Tom Darlington, Harry Lang, Edward T. Kenyon.

George Thompson and Louis Gorman. Interestingly, this melody was sung and danced both in waltz and rumba time.

Costumes by Thrift Shop
The tired showgirls came back dressed in atrocious get-ups from the Junior Seivig League's Thrift Shop couturier collection, gowns left over from the flapper era, feather boas, moth-eaten furbies, junk jewelry and unbelievable flower-laden clothes. They were there to proclaim that, even though they had come to this, "Everything's Going To Be Much Worse Next Year."

High on a pedestal as background were gold-sprayed motionless statuettes, Carolyn White and Bill Butler, to set the tone of an idyllic number, "Love," sung competently by Logan Spence and danced delightfully by ballerina Jan Smithers. The dancing ensemble included Sandie Newbury, Lynn Boyd, Louise Potter, Diane Lundry, Ann Howard, Carol Trevor, Jeanne Farrell and Lynn Miller.

Pert little Ina Kimmel, who was in the cast of "Pal Joey," was exceptionally good in her song and dance routine of "So Long Mary," with the help of Ladd McKee and Emil Bontempo in green and white blazers and coral boaters.

As a take-off on Ed Murrow, Jack Pyle did a "Face to Face" interview with farm couple, Marshall Rothen and Betty Mought who had seventeen children. Tom Skidmore and Gil Twombly added bit parts as a delivery man and the son.

Song Stops Show
Nancy Cunningham, dressed conservatively in navy with white collar, brought down the house as a stripper who sang her intellectual thoughts as she performed her professional routine. This number, with "So Long Mary" were show stoppers.

Calypso singing and dancing re-livened the big production number, "Minnie from Trinidad," the tale of Minnie who goes to Hollywood, becomes a star, but returns (Continued on Page 27)

Check Forger Held for Action by Grand Jury

On charges of forgery, breaking and entering, larceny and receiving stolen goods, Magistrate Albert H. Bierman last week held for grand jury action Hampton A. Lee, whose latest address was an East Orange rooming house. Lee pleaded guilty to forgery and innocent to the other charges. Arrested Oct. 21 when he attempted to cash an $86 check, police charged that Lee stole the check from the office of Dr. Arthur Willetts of 79 Union place. The other charges resulted from the contention that Lee stole items in the amount of $700 from the home of Arthur H. Padula, of 1 Robin Hood road. Designs of Mohammedan prayer rugs have patterns of geometrical design only, since the Korean forbids the reproduction of the image or likeness of any living thing.

SRO at Follies

nostalgically to her old haunts in Trinidad. Roberta Whinn danced "Minnie" with her Calypso Joe. and Mrs. Raymond E. Murray. Photography chairman was Mrs. Carl S. Hulett. In town advertising chairman Mrs. James A. Petrie and out-of-town advertising chairman Mrs. William M. Freeman headed large committee to solicit the ads which make most of the profit for the Follies. General chairmen Mrs. John H. Herrigel and Mrs. William S. Sterns, Jr. can well be proud of the huge staff of committees and talent which produced the Overlook Follies of 1956.

Area Red Cross Given $2,000 Refugee Aid Goal

The Summit Area has been asked to raise $2,000 and provide winter clothing within the next few months through the Summit Area chapter, American Red Cross, for Hungarian refugee relief. The community goal was received this week by Leo O'Grady, chapter chairman. The national and international Red Cross organization has been requested to take over the Hungarian refugee relief program both in this country and in Europe and extra funds are needed to provide medical supplies, food, blankets and other necessities to Hungary and the neighboring countries that are offering a haven to refugees. The Red Cross is the international agency that is moving supplies into the stricken area and supervising their distribution. Mr. O'Grady stressed that donations of money are wanted by the local chapter plus gifts of warm winter clothing. Contributions may be mailed or brought to Red Cross headquarters, 22 Elm street, Providence, Berkeley Heights and Passaic Township as well as Summit and help from those communities is also requested. American aid to Hungary was especially urged last week by President Eisenhower through voluntary agencies receiving individual contributions. Mr. Eisenhower called upon the American people to support the Red Cross appeal for a special fund of $3 million to carry out the relief program.

Local Man Named Lehigh Delegate To Student Parley

Robert D. Pierson, a senior at Lehigh University and son of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton W. Pierson of 87 Beekman road, has been selected to represent Lehigh at the eighth annual student conference on U.S. affairs being held from yesterday through Saturday at the U.S. Military Academy, at West Point. A total of 160 students from 65 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada have been chosen to participate. Selections are made on the basis of interest and capabilities in the field of international relations and related courses in the social sciences. The subject of this year's conference is "The National Security Policy of the United States," with emphasis on the vulnerabilities of the Free World and the policies required to meet them. Sub-topics to be discussed by the students are: The Atlantic Community, Middle East and Africa, South and Southeast Asia, East Asia, Latin America, and the U.S.S.R. and Satellites. Only 16 of the 2,000 inorganic minerals are classified as gems, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

CLASSIC AT STRAND—Count Leo Tolstoy's classic novel, "War and Peace" is now playing at the Strand theater through Tuesday of next week. Above, Audrey Hepburn comforts Mel Ferrer in a scene from the Technicolor Vista Vision film.
