YMCA Ecclesia To Hear Talk On Venezuela

Mrs. William A. Konrad of Springfield, will be guest speaker at the Ecclesia Meeting on February 13, at 8:15 p.m. at the YMCA.

Mrs. Konrad has chosen as her topic, "Venezuela as I Saw It." Mr. and Mrs. Konrad and their young son Scott lived in Venezuela from January, 1958 until July of the same year, during which time Mr. Konrad was working with the Department of Economics of the Creole Petroleum Corporation, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

The Konrads were in Venezuela at the time of the 1958 revolution which ousted the Jimenez regime, and they were also there during the Nixon visit. After Mrs. Konrad's talk, there will be a round-table discussion.

The Ecclesia Meetings are open free of charge to all Members of the YMCA, and to non-members for a nominal fee. The Ecclesia Meetings are held twice monthly as a part of the YMCA adult program in the area of public affairs education.

City's Two Oldest Law Firms to Merge

Frederick C. Kentz and his son, Frederick C. Kentz, Jr., of the firm of Kentz and Kentz, and William R. Gilson, of McKirgan and Gilson, announced this week the merger of their law firms effective March 1, and also the formation of a partnership under the name of Kentz, Kentz & Gilson for the general practice of law with offices at 9 Parmley Place.

These firms are two of the oldest in Summit. Mr. Kentz, Sr. opened his own office in 1913 and his son became associated with him in 1944. The firm of McKirgan and Gilson was established in 1922 by the late Elmer L. McKirgan who opened his Summit office in 1933 and Mr. Gilson's father, the late Herbert Clark Gilson, who practiced for many years in Jersey City before opening his office in Summit in 1918.

Mr. Kentz, Sr. is a lifelong resident of Summit. He attended local schools and studied law in the office of Elmer L. McKirgan, one of the founders of McKirgan and Gilson. He was admitted to the Bar of New Jersey in 1911. Mr. Kentz, Sr. has been active in civic affairs for many years. He served as City Clerk for over 34 years and as City Solicitor for more than 15 years until he resigned in 1947 to devote full time to his private practice. He is a charter member and past president of the Rotary Club and a former member of the Republican County and City Committee. Mr. Kentz, Sr. is a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Teresa's Church and the Elks Club. He is a past president and member of the Summit Bar Association and also a member of the Union County, New Jersey and American Bar Associations.

Mr. Kentz, Jr. was born in Summit and attended local public schools. He is a graduate of Pingry School, Georgetown University and received his law degree from Fordham Law School where he was a member of the Law Review. He was admitted to the bar in 1944 and at that time became associated with his father.

Mr. Kentz, Jr. is a member and past president of the Rotary Club, a member of the board of directors and past president of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce and a member and former secretary of the Municipal Youth Guidance Council. He is also a member of the Republican County and City Committee, Holy Name Society of St. Teresa's Church and is presently serving as president of the Fathers Club of Oak Knoll School.

He has been active in Red Cross and United Campaign fund raising drives. He holds a membership in the Summit, Union County, New Jersey and American Bar Associations and also Canoe Brook Country Club and Clearwater Swim Club. Mr. Kentz, Jr. is married to the former Rita P. O'Brien of Manchester, N.H. He and Mrs. Kentz reside at 239 Oak Ridge Avenue with their four children.

Mr. Gilson also was born in Summit and is a graduate of Summit High School. He graduated from Princeton University cum laude and from Yale Law School. During World War 2, he served in the Navy and was honorably discharged as a full lieutenant. He was admitted to the bar in 1947 and thereafter came associated with the firm of McKirgan and Gilson of which his mother, the late Eleanor R. Martin, was a member. He served as City Clerk for six years and in 1952 was elected to the Common Council as Councilman-at-Large and is now serving his fourth term. He is a member of the Rotary Club, formerly served on the board of directors of the YMCA and is a former deacon of Central Presbyterian Church. Mr. Gilson is a director of the Rahway Valley Railroad, a member of the schools committee of the Princeton Club of Northwestern New Jersey and a former member of the Municipal Youth Guidance Council. He served as secretary of the Planning Board for 5 1/2 years and taught jurisprudence and local government at Princeton University after the war. He is married to the former Charlotte A. Renard of Short Hills. They reside at 34 Drum Hill drive with their two children.

As part of the National Education Association project to determine local activity and to find how well national communications can be improved, last week, Mrs. Dorothy Brooksby visited Summit for two days, looking over the work of the Summit Teacher's Association.
After surveying the work of the local group and interviewing school personnel, Mrs. Brooksby commented, "It is a strong group with fine leadership working closely with the community on projects to give the children the quality education American children must have if we are to remain world leaders."
Mrs. Brooksby is on a year's leave of absence from Flagstaff, Arizona and working under the direction of Paul Kaus.

Special Program to Mark Local Brotherhood Week
Believing that churchmen of all faiths are "bound up with the welfare of their neighbors and have a responsibility toward the community in which they live," the Tri-Community Council of Churches, in celebration of Brotherhood Week, has invited all local clergymen to hear William F. Schell, Jr., associate director of the New Jersey region of the National Conference of Christians and Jews Wednesday, at 8:30 p.m., at the New Providence Presbyterian Parish House.
Mr. Schell's topic of discussion will be "Working Together in the Community-Protestant, Catholic and Jew."
In past years, the women of the member churches of the Council have joined with a Summit congregation to celebrate Brotherhood Week. This year the program has been expanded to include clergymen and men, in general. A spokesman for the organization has indicated that neighbors of various faiths are welcome at the meeting.
The spokesman continued, "The Council believes that this meeting across religious and ecclesiastical lines not only can contribute to understanding, but, also, demonstrate a common commitment to resist the forces of religious intolerance and bigotry that have marred other communities here and abroad."

Nature Club Schedules Talk And Field Trip

"In Peace and Harmony" is the subject of a talk by Floyd De Hart to be given by the Summit Nature Club at Lincoln School today at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. De Hart combines a lifelong interest in nature study with an interest in photography. The result is a photographic record of New Jersey wild life with an accent on native wild flowers and some of the more interesting insects associated with them.

A field trip to Jamaica Wild Life Refuge has been changed to a trip to Brigantine Wild Life Refuge. Meeting at Lincoln School at 8 a.m. on Saturday, February 20, the group will meet at the Brigantine parking lot at 10:30 a.m.

The Brigantine Refuge, north of Atlantic City, is a 13,000-acre tract of marshland and scrub growth. Huge dikes have been built to keep salt water out of much of the area, so the thousands of ducks, geese and shore birds afford visitors driving along the yokes a view of the salt water birds on one side and the more numerous fresh water birds on the other. Sandpipers, plovers, ruffs, herons, geese and ducks should make up the bulk of a large list of species expected. Charles Hiles will lead the group which is advised to dress warmly and bring a box lunch.

The Hectic Season

Pity the man last Thursday night if he were a loyal Republican, a member of the Jefferson School PTA, who was also interested in the school budget and a member of Athenaeum. He was in a quandary.

With a foresight fortunately attributed only to intelligent men, he could have caught the 5 p.m. sitting of the Jefferson School PTA annual spaghetti dinner, telling the boss he had an important personal matter to which he had to attend, all the while realizing that attendance would keep the kids happy. After gulping down his dinner, he could have rushed home, changed his clothes and dashed out of the house in time to make the Union County Republican Lincoln Day dinner at the Hotel Suburban by 7 p.m.

Of course, he probably would eat only a course or two, since he wasn't hungry, for by 8 p.m., he had to rush to City Hall to participate in the Board of School Estimate budget hearing, all the time hoping he could leave shortly for the High School in order to hear Emmet Hughes at Athenaeum.

Given, it is supposed, stout legs, a good stomach and a dependable automobile, it could all be done, but at what cost? Exhaustion.

Let us go one step further. Imagine the plight of the little woman involved. She met her husband at the spaghetti dinner with the kids and car. But in order to help her devoted spouse, she gave him the car to get home and change his clothes for the GOP dinner, permitting herself to walk home with the kids. Of course, she too, was expected at the Lincoln Day dinner, but just couldn't make that because she had to wait for the sitter, get the kids to bed and make herself presentable. By then, it was 7:30, just enough time to allow her to walk to City Hall for the budget hearing, where maybe she made contact with her husband, if he were able to get away from the dinner himself on time.

However, in all probability, she didn't quite meet him, so at 8:30 p.m. she promptly walked to the high school for Athenaeum, and for the sake of a happy ending, let it be assumed husband and wife finally met.

Let us be even more merciless. Just imagine how this hypothetical family felt by Saturday morning, especially if on the Wednesday night, father had gone to the Chamber of Commerce dinner, and on the Friday, both parents had attended the annual Lincoln School PTA dance at the request of friends in the Lincoln district?

All seem incredible? Not so in the light of concrete facts.

Sounds hectic and it is. But that seems to be life in Summit today, if one person wants to do right by his family, his friends, his intellect and his party.

Exoneration for Witches

We have always had a tremendous amount of admiration for the determination displayed every once in a while by an individual in pursuit of some personal goal. A recent example is the work of John Beresford, historian for Salem, Mass., who hopes to obtain official exoneration of the Salem residents put to death during that town's famed witchcraft hunt of 300 years ago. His zeal is refreshing and his task is difficult.

American history devotes pages to the Salem witch hunt of 1692 and 1693. Before the mass hysteria came to an end 19 persons were hanged and another 1,000 stood accused of sorcery.

It was not until the townspeople looked about and discovered that about half their number were charged with being earthly agents of Satan that sanity finally was restored.

In order to exonerate the victims, Mr. Beresford must pursue a roundabout course. He wants the Massachusetts Legislature to petition Congress to formally request that Britain's Queen Elizabeth sign a formal pardon for the accused and dead charged with witchcraft. Such vindication, Mr. Beresford believes, would be a cause of satisfaction for their descendants.

Neither Massachusetts nor Congress can exonerate because the witch hunt took place long before either body was established. Rebellion against the Crown was not dreamed of in those days. Hence the petition must go to the Queen.

While the matter makes interesting reading, we wonder just what will be accomplished. The pages of history will not be changed. They will still tell of the Salem witch hunt, an example of mass hysteria and mob violence which is almost unequalled in this country's history. A pardon by the Queen will not erase the fact that these people were innocent victims of a harsh time. It will not take away the fact that wild-running imaginations permitted children to accuse adults, friend to turn on friend and neighbor on neighbor. Personal grudges were accepted as evidence.

And as far as solace to descendants is concerned, that may be dismissed. After 300 years there is no stigma involved. Indeed, it is now a matter of pride.

But if the pardon is granted there will be satisfaction felt by Mr. Beresford, and justly so. There also probably will be an outbreak of other attempts to rewrite history and pardon or exonerate those connected with other incidents, such as Tories accused of spying for the British during the Revolution, those who plotted for empires in the west and those accused of treason in the Civil War.

Current Comment

PTA Blarney
(Passaic Herald-News)

The old complaint that New Jersey "ranks sixth in national income and 40th in aid to education" is still being used, a news report of a Rutherford PTA meeting discloses.

This is a glaring example of the manipulation of facts to create a desired impression. In this instance, the impression is that New Jersey is niggardly when it comes to spending for education.

The truth is exactly the opposite. Figures of the Tax Foundation provide the proof.

Figures for the school year ending in 1956, the most recent available, show that New Jersey ranked second in the amount spent per pupil for public elementary and secondary schools. The New Jersey per pupil expenditure was $382. The only state whose expenditure was higher was New York, with $426 per pupil. The next state below New Jersey was Oregon, with an expenditure of $357 per pupil.

The National Education Association, the mouthpiece of the educators of the nation, bears this out. In its report on estimated expenditures for 1958-59, it places New Jersey second in the amount spent per pupil. Furthermore, New Jersey has been in second place for many years.

In total amount of money spent for public elementary and secondary schools, New Jersey also ranks high. In the nation, it ranked eighth in 1956, according to the Tax Foundation. It was surpassed only by much larger states, California, Illinois, Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Texas.

The Tax Foundation figures on public school teachers' average salaries also show that New Jersey is not niggardly. In 1956, New Jersey ranked fifth in this category. Ahead of it were only California, New York, Illinois and the District of Columbia.

The statement by the PTA speakers that New Jersey is "40th in aid to education" is a half-truth. The rest of the story, which is essential to understanding, is that in New Jersey the bulk of money for public schools is raised by local taxation. In many other states, the state instead of the municipality collects the money from the people and gives part of it back to them for their schools.

School people like having the state and federal governments collect the money because they find the national and state legislators easier to get money from than local taxpayers.

It's time PTA speakers gave up dubious propaganda techniques.

LETTER S

A Middle View Point

Editor, Summit Herald:

To dispel the idea that the Councilmen are the only ones not passionately in favor of Plan 6B for the new high school, may I add my voice to the controversy — in the middle, supporting neither the Board nor the Council.

1. The Board of Education has been remiss in not having built the high school five years ago. It required no research to know, since 1942 when the present senior class was born, that this class would begin to overcrowd the secondary schools seriously six years ago. If their request for funds had been turned down, the Board, recognizing this was no short-range problem, should have provided some kind of temporary buildings on the "campus" five years ago. There are schools which have added such buildings, built and leased to the schools by outside contractors. Some colleges are still using Quonset huts from the war, but a good teacher in a Quonset can do a better job than a good teacher in our present high school (or a poor teacher in a luxurious new building).

As for financing, the school debt limit is an artificial figure. If Summit-assessed property at 40 percent of true value instead of 30 percent, the debt limit would be raised by one-third. (As far as I can determine by telephone, no direct effects on credit ratings have been suffered by most of the surrounding communities, almost all of whom have exceeded their debt limit in order to build schools.)

2. Saddened by the sight of "democracy in action", I must point out that not one person in a hundred of those signing petitions and letters to the Council urging Plan 6B and nothing else, knows in fact what Plan 6B is, nor do they know what program is to be housed in this plan. I deplore this kind of pressure from people who vote without knowing what they're voting for.

As a member of the following groups, I have seen this happen: PTA, Lay Committee, College Club Education Group, Fortnightly Club. Even the League of Women Voters did not really study the program or the plan to house it, but studied the Board's stated position vs the Council's stated position (quite a different matter).

Misleading and very unfair was the full-page Herald ad signed by PTA presidents "as individuals", but paid for by the Summit Teachers Association.

3. The Board and the school administration have forfeited my full confidence, after my three years of fairly steady attendance at Board meetings. I feel they are as rigid and unimaginative in their thinking as the Council is in theirs. The following pre-sputnik ideas were presented to the Board and the administration and summarily rejected without any consideration:

Lay theme readers for English classes to give the students more writing practice ("the teachers wouldn't like it" — but the teachers weren't asked) Labs open after school, evening and/or Saturdays for extra help or special research ("insurance regulations would not permit volunteer scientists to do the supervision" — but the school insurance broker says if the volunteers are not paid, there is no Board liability)

Volunteer sponsors, such as College Club or Old Guard, for extra-curricular activities to relieve the teachers for teaching ("the teachers like to sponsor the Chess Club, etc." — not all teachers like that extra burden and could use the time for professional improvement, if not for more help to students). Donations from area industry for scientific or other equipment ("we haven't considered it" — other schools have done it)

Temporary buildings on the campus ("no, we haven't considered it" — it's being done, and although it would spoil the landscaping, a study hall of 800 students supervised by 14 teachers, or a science teacher's acid-burned leg, are not "pretty" either)

4. Since it is always the public, specifically the students, who suffer in a controversy like this, I suggest a mayor-appointed committee of 4 or 5 intelligent, reasonable citizens to sit down with the Board and represent the public. They could study the proposed program and go over the plans in detail with the Board to see exactly what cuts could be made and still preserve the essential elements of the program. I'd like to do this personally, as I'm sure other citizens would, but obviously the Board cannot spend time with individuals, nor is this kind of procedure feasible with large groups. I would be willing to accept the recommendations of a small group of earnest citizens not committed to either side who would report on what would have to go in a cut to $2,665,000. And then see that the building proceeds without any more delay.

I'm not convinced we know whether Plan 6B is a good plan or not — maybe we need a bigger plan, or maybe we could build a lightly modified version without losing the essential elements. I know that at least one Board member could not answer a question as to the purpose of a 17' x 30' "balance room" in the chemistry section. Don't the Board members know what the plan is either?

5. With citizen interest at its peak, perhaps this is the time to re-examine our schools, to consider the advantages and disadvantages of an elected Board, to assess the purposes and aims of our school system. I refer you to the recent recommendation of the salary committee of the Glen Ridge (elected) Board: "ruthless elimination of all activities which do not materially contribute to the advancement of the students education", in order to increase teacher productivity and justify raising salaries to a top of $11,500. It is not fair to hire

"Labour to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire, — conscience." This rule — from the copy book of Washington when a schoolboy — was evidently well learned. Whether chopping down a cherry tree or George III's red-coats, the truth of the matter was very much a matter of Washington's conscience.

And the truth of the matter today is that for thousands of Americans it's very much a matter of conscience to save a part of every pay check, the better to provide the good things in life for themselves and their loved ones.

 teachers to work in a community in which they can not afford to live comfortably; neither is it fair to hire them to teach and to pay them for non-teaching jobs which others could do.

Did you know that Summit's philosophy of education not once mentions the words "teacher", "mind", "intellectual" or "discipline"? Do we want a school system where "band and orchestra are every bit as important as math and English" (Superintendent Reed)? Or based on a belief that "teen-agers don't want to be recognized for academic achievement" (Principal Grist)? Or do we want to recognize that the school's primary function is "training the mind", that no other social agency can do this job, and the school can't do everything and do it well and must set up a system of priority of first things first?

Summit. The schools don't belong to us, the citizens of Summit, or the Board of Education, or the Council — they belong to us. And as citizens, it's our duty to determine the direction which education takes in our community.

Mrs. William G. Duke Jr.

Applauds Editorial

Editor, Summit Herald:
 The editorial in the Herald of February 11, is one of the finest I have ever read in any paper. It is to be hoped that all readers of the Herald will give it thoughtful consideration.

This community has always had, and now has—an able Council. The same can be said for our Board of Education. Both selfishly give their time and efforts for the best interests of our citizens at a whole. Neither group should be unduly criticized for the positions they take. Both are working for the community's interests. This matter should be handled as your editorial so well suggests, namely, between the two official bodies, the Council and the Board of Education, and when settled the furor should die down and bitterness should be forgotten by every one.

A. J. Geary

Barnwell Letter Unfair
 Editor, Summit Herald:
 The letter of Rev. David K. Barnwell in the February 4 issue is unfair.

Mr. Barnwell is a leader in the community — a man with an excellent reputation. He can be in favor of the library and the larger school and against the City Hall columns. More power to him for expressing his opinion.

He should not sink to the argumentum ad hominem. We do not have an "ersatz" Council.

It is difficult enough to get sincere, public spirited men to serve, without pay, on the Council and various municipal boards. Their judgment may occasionally be questioned, but their motives should not be the subject of unfair and unsupported attacks.

Editorial Unfair to Teachers

Editor, Summit Herald:
 As a parent, taxpayer and teacher in Summit I have closely followed the articles, letters, and editorials about the "School Quarrel" that have been printed in the Summit Herald. I usually found some items with which I did not agree and accepted them with the understanding that each individual is entitled to his opinion.

However, in your editorial of February 11 you made a statement that as Teachers Association President I feel I must comment upon. Your statement, "the marshaling of PTA's, teachers and parents into one gigantic pressure group to be used by the Board of Education as a weapon to clout Council into submission" (Continued on Page 11)

Red Cross Works Day and Night to Aid Community

Crestview 3-2076 is a Summit phone number which always answers. It is the number of the Summit Area chapter, American Red Cross. Most of its calls are routine; other calls cloak an urgent and dramatic need.

And the volunteer services of the Red Cross are specifically designed to fill that need, a free gift of one man to another with no strings attached. The answer to that call takes precedence over every personal convenience or pleasure. It is high priority.

Ms. F. S. Schubert of the blood donor service in charge of the blood-donor office at headquarters has just such a call several weeks ago. A Summit woman, mother of two grade school boys was to undergo open heart surgery at Orange Memorial Hospital in the near future. Eighteen pints of fresh blood were needed—four and a half gallons!

Mrs. Schubert received the call at 11:30 a.m. and immediately started to phone individuals on the volunteer blood donor list who had B type R.H. positive factor blood, a blood type not uncommon but still not garden variety. She called housewives during the day and business men in the evening. Unless a prospective donor was ill or out of town there was 100 per cent acceptance of the responsibility to give blood to a Summit area neighbor—with a stranger.

Six days later 18 individuals had samples of blood taken for laboratory analysis as cross matching for open heart surgery is made most carefully. Mrs. Schubert herself became a volunteer baby sitter for one woman

Citizens Back Lombardi In Free Acres Sewer Plan

Berkeley Heights—Township Committee John A. Lombardi won Committee support for his proposal that off-street parking be required for doctor's offices and other professional uses in residential zones at Monday's meeting of the Township Committee.

Lombardi offered a resolution that the Planning Board draft an amendment to the zoning ordinance to provide for such regulations. The proposal was adopted by the Committee.

Lombardi cited the experience of Summit resulting from use of residential sites for professional purposes and stated that the same practice is allowed in Berkeley Heights. He asked that parking other than driveways be required for professional sites located in residential zones.

Lombardi received some citizen support at the meeting for his stand against use of Township funds on a "loan" basis to Free Acres for installation of lateral sewer lines. Last week at a conference between Free Acres Association and the Committee, Lombardi bolted the talks because of a tentative agreement reached whereby the Township would finance the project with Free Acres reimbursing over a 10-year period.

Lombardi threatened to sue the Committee if it went ahead with the plan. He claimed that it was "discriminatory" for other residents of the Township and gives Free Acres a tax advantage not enjoyed by others. If Free Acres is to be taxed as a corporation, he contends, the Township has no right to use its credit to finance sewers for that section.

Plumb Defends Plan

Township Assessor Theodore Plumb became involved in the dispute when he appeared at the meeting and a citizen asked him if he thought Free Acres residents were benefitting from a preferential property assessment because of their unusual situation.

Plumb said he thought his method of assessment equitable. He said the Free Acres property was assessed lower because circumstances made it worth less, roads were poorer inside the private area and because its residents were provided less services by the municipality than the rest of the township.

Because of the uniqueness of the Free Acres system, he explained, residents could not get bank financing for their homes, were ineligible for veterans' home exemptions and were unable to get true value for their homes because they could not be sold freely in the open market.

No Map Available

"I can't assess the properties there by individual lots, because we don't even have an official property map of the area showing lot boundary lines," he said.

The other committee members, including Mayor George Loman, Arthur Manner, Anthony Bogosian and Thomas Williams said they had given much thought to the perplexing complicated problem and had decided that Free Acres residents were not receiving tax preference. "We felt a moral obligation to provide them with sewers," Mayor Loman said, "because they are still residents of Berkeley Heights."

State Taxes Topic of Voters' League Parley

New Jersey taxes will be the subject of a unit meeting of the League of Women Voters of New Providence to be held today at the home of Mrs. R. J. Collier of 76 Whitman drive, New Providence.

According to a spokesman for the League, study of the tax situation has been going on for "several years" and a stand has been taken that "we need a broad base tax, preferably a personal income tax" to replace in part some of the present "inequitable taxes."

Jewish Center Members To Sip Spanish Sherry

A tasting of Spanish sherrys will be held at the Jewish Community Center, Kent Place Boulevard, at 9 p.m., February 27.

Attendance at Hobby Show Breaks Record

Scout Family 62's 14th annual Hobby Show eclipsed all records for attendance in the show's history. While there is no accurate count available of the number who attended the affair, there are several yardsticks for measuring the attendance. Food planned to last five hours was sold out after an hour and a quarter, the bake sale was sold out after two hours, prizes for children's games were gone after two hours, the kitchen made three shopping trips for more groceries before closing at 5 p.m., the children's cartoon movies, plus a film on SCUBA diving, drew a record attendance of 400.

The hobbies of members of Boy Scout Troop 62 and were judged by Arthur DeBrito, David McNeely, and James Wiebe, teachers at Summit High School. The blue ribbon in Troop 62 was won by Scout Robert Hammell for his working model of a Van De Graaff generator. This is a miniature copy of a machine used to generate artificial lightning and used as a source of high voltage in atomic research laboratories. Douglas Morgan won first prize in the Panther Patrol for his collection of posters and pamphlets on the fifty-year history of the Boy Scouts of America.

Christopher Rehm in the Hawk Patrol won first prize for a collection of scrapbooks and pamphlets. Michael Culbertson's large collection of United States coins won first prize for the Beaver Patrol. Leon Patrol's Gary Johnson received first prize for his diagrams and explanation of the workings of an airplane engine.

In Troop 162 the blue ribbon was awarded to Scout Robert Wellbrock for a large collection of model soldiers of the 19th century. John D'Audney received first prize in Panther Patrol for his interesting chart of mechanical sums. In the Eagle Patrol Richard Griggs received first prize for a natural history exhibit featuring fossils, shells, rocks, and fish. Tom Wertz of the Fox Patrol received first prize for a terrarium, a glass tank containing swampland plants and mosses all labeled with their botanical names.

is not only untrue but is also unfair.
I think that it is only natural for Summit's teachers to be interested and concerned about the welfare of the school system to which so many of them have dedicated their lives. Writing, speaking and working cooperatively for a project or idea in which they believe is a right guaranteed to all Americans by our Constitution. Therefore it is unfair that the active interest on the part of the teachers in our school problems be misconstrued as "a gigantic pressure group to be used by the Board of Education."

Whatever the editorial stand of the Summit Herald on this or any future subject I hope that you will consider that the teachers of the Summit Schools are a professional group of educated individuals who can be counted upon to think independently and who will work for any project that will benefit the community they serve.

Morton Ashman
President, Summit Teachers Association

Arbitration Needed
Editor, Summit Herald:
I was one of the few Summit residents in attendance at the Council meeting Tuesday, February 2, and I am writing this letter with the expectation that you will print it so that others may be aware of my impressions of the "high school" issue.
I felt that all concerned, the Council, the Board of Education, and the citizens, were all in basic agreement that the high standard of education in Summit must be maintained, but what is necessary at this time to fulfill this need—here lies the issue.

The Council's attitude was expressed basically by the following two points:
1. The Board of Education has extended its borrowing capacity beyond the 8 per cent limit and must therefore encroach on the financing ability of the city itself, therefore the Council feels they must look closer into this financial requirement than they normally would.
2. The Council also feels that the need can be fulfilled at some reduced amount based on the accomplishments of some surrounding communities and the Council is willing to assume some of the expense, properly, as future operating expense (such as landscaping), and these amounts need not be included in the present request for funds.

The Board of Education has studied the need by calling on the services of Columbia University to help determine the future needs of Summit's high school requirements and also by retaining an architect to present designs and determine the cost of high school to fulfill these needs. The results have been an issue since last June.

Both the Common Council and the Board of Education are to be severely criticized in their actions for allowing the school problem to extend itself to the present state of affairs for the following reasons:

1. Neither has adequately presented the facts to each other or the citizens of Summit.
2. The issue or issues, as they stand today should be reduced to facts that can be evaluated and, if necessary, compromised.
3. The Board of Education appears to have been inflexible in their presentation of Plan 6B and has not presented, or apparently even considered, any alternatives to satisfy the Council or citizens; nor has the Council offered any specific alternatives.

Some basic details still appear to remain unsettled—1,300 students or 1,650 students; $3,200,000 or $2,865,000; Plan 6B or some alternative. The $3,200,000 amount seems to have been established by multiplying the square feet of school area in the architect's design by $18.50 per square foot which seems a rather nebulous approach considering materials or method of construction have not been selected.
No one can deny the need, and action must be taken—intelligent action—now. One comment and one suggestion were made at the Council meeting. All concerned have become so embroiled that perhaps the emotions are replacing good judgement. The suggestion was perhaps arbitration of the differences might be useful. If there cannot be cooperation then arbitration could be an answer but certainly a poor substitute.

Has Site for Library
Editor, Summit Herald:
Summit definitely needs a new and larger library. Since its greatest use should be by the students of the Junior and Senior High School, the building should be as conveniently located for these students as possible.

Fortunately, there is ample room to erect such a building directly across from the present High School and to provide on the second floor a large reading room that would accommodate a hundred or more students, where they could obtain reference material and prepare written reports.

This building also could have on the ground floor, with a separate entrance on Morris avenue, rooms that could be used by the High School for teaching art and music. This would release the present art and music rooms in the High School for classroom use. The new rooms in the library could be used at night for small meetings, adult art classes and chamber music concerts.

All of this is possible by reducing the number of high school students through a consolidation of the 12 grades and kindergarten into a total of 12 years.
This is in line with the thinking of many leading educators, including Dr. Paul Woodring, consultant to the Fund for the Advancement of Education. The president of the Board of Education has stated that this might be possible sometime in the future.

If everyone cooperates, it is possible for Summit to have, within two years, not only an outstanding library that would be a tremendous asset in our educational system, but a high school with the most up-to-date teaching facilities and an outstanding faculty to whom we can afford to pay the increasing salaries they will need to meet the rising cost of living.

Lay Committee for 6B

Editor, Summit Herald:
The following letter to Council president Fletcher P. Thornton, Jr., is submitted for publication in The Herald. The letter was approved by 47 of the 53 members of the Lay Committee on Education in a mail ballot following an unsolicited decision by the Committee at its January meeting that such a letter be sent to Council.

David Ludlow, chairman
Lay Committee

"The Lay Committee on Education wishes to go on record in support of Plan 6B as proposed by the Board of Education, for the building of the new high school.

We are disturbed by the Council's proposed modifications of Plan 6B, and we wish to lay before you our opinions and some of the reasons for them, as follows.

1. Plan 6B contains 36 classrooms. To reduce costs, there has been discussion of a possible substitute plan with only about 26 classrooms, a cut of over 25 per cent. However, this cut would make impossible the education program of Summit

THE SUMMIT HERALD, Thursday, Feb. 18, 1960

High School, which now includes advanced courses, honors courses, and other features which the strongly favor. The findings of our subcommittee surveying colleges indicate that admissions officers, under pressure of the number of applicants, place great stress on the inclusion of honors courses in college preparation. We therefore urge that a cut to 26 classrooms be rejected.

2. Costs for Plan 6B have been stated to be about $2,400 per pupil, which is in the same range as plants recently built by neighboring communities like Caldwell, Chatham and Madison. We believe that Summit can afford educational standards equivalent to these neighboring cities.

3. We believe that an educational emergency exists. The findings of our current subcommittee survey of the citizens of Summit show that the crowded conditions in Summit High School are widely recognized as a peril to our educational standards. We believe that the prospect of double sessions in two or three years is disastrous, and that immediate action is necessary to avoid them.

Summit has long enjoyed the reputation of being in the forefront of education in New Jersey. If we wish to maintain this leadership, we must be willing to pay for it. We feel that Summit can afford above-average schools, and that its sons and daughters should expect and receive exceptional educational opportunities.

We urge that Plan 6B be accepted by Common Council.

Millburn defeated Summit High 57-37 at the Summit Gym last week to keep the winners in the running for the Suburban Conference title as they have lost only one game. Verona who leads the league has lost one game also but has won more games than Millburn.

Norman of Millburn hit on his first two jump shots to put Millburn ahead to stay. With Norman and Lotman each getting six points in the first period, Millburn moved out to an 18-10 lead at the first period mark. After Millburn had built up a 26-12 lead in the second period, Max Fry scored five points to pull Summit within eight points of Millburn.

However, this was the closest Summit could manage to set the rest of the game. Norman hit another jump shot right before halftime to give Millburn the lead at 28-18. Raab, who controlled both game, started to score in the third period as he and Norman each scored six points to break the game wide open. Millburn outscored Summit 18-5 in the third period to lead at the end of that quarter 46-23.

Summit managed to outscore Millburn in the last period 14-11 as the Millburn coach cleared the bench and used several players who played in the Junior Varsity game.

Norman's 14 points and Raab's 13 points led the Millburn attack for Summit. Max Fry led all scorers with 10 points.
