Summit Trust Votes 1 for 9 Stock Dividend
 Stockholders of the Summit Trust Co. have been notified that directors of the bank have declared a dividend of one new share of capital stock for each nine shares held. Harold T. Graves, Jr., president of the bank, said that the stock dividend would be payable November 16 to holders of record November 4. The dividend will raise the total capital stock from 45,000 shares at par $20 to 50,000 shares at par $20. Current quotations on stock is $64 per share. Mr. Graves also explained that the directors approved the increase of the surplus account from $1,230,000 to $1,500,000 by the transfer of $270,000 from undivided profits. He pointed out that this raises the capital and surplus account of the bank to $2,500,000 and thereby increases maximum lending limits. Stockholders as of the record date will receive stock certificates to cover the whole shares of capital stock to which they are entitled. In cases where stock dividend involves a fraction of one share of capital stock, the company will issue an order form showing the fractional share interest to which the stockholder is entitled. This form will provide appropriate instructions from the stockholder to the Summit Trust Company as his agent: either (1) to sell his fractional share interest for his account

Overlook Does Duty to Get Out the Vote
 Overlook Hospital has been a minor branch of political headquarters—strictly non-partisan—these last weeks with last minute filing of absentee ballot applications by October 31 and making the rounds of 78 patients whose ballots had to be notarized and mailed. First step in hospital voting procedure was to provide patients who expected to be confined on Election Day, with a folder prepared by the New Jersey Hospital Association entitled "Your Vote Does Count." A flyer was then sent to every patient in the hospital, informing them of the rules of absentee voting. Lists of eligible voters were compiled by head nurses on the various floors and certificates collected from the patients' doctors stating their illness. A list from a member of the public relations departments with a notary public from the hospital's staff followed, to be sure instructions were correctly understood. Hospital authorities reported patients most appreciative of the service. Georgia chartered the nation's first university in 1765. The University of Georgia opened for classes on 1801.

Pizzi Cited By GOP for Lodge Visit
Edward A. Pizzi, chairman of the Republican City Committee, was given a standing vote of thanks last week by the 36-member group for his part in heading the committee which welcomed Henry Cabot Lodge here on October 31 during a whistle-stop tour through north New Jersey.

A spokesman for the city committee said the reception went off "without a hitch." With only a few days notice Mr. Pizzi made arrangements for making a key to the city, a speakers' platform at the station, the high school band and cheer-leading squad, a public address system and the numerous signs and banners which dotted the reception area when Mr. Lodge arrived.

Approximately 3,500 area residents were on hand to greet Mr. Lodge as he stepped off his campaign train at the DL&W station. The reception included presentation of a key to the city by Mayor Ogden D. Gensler, introduction of Sen. Clifford P. Case and Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer and a 12-minute talk by Mr. Lodge.

Some secrets its owner can't keep!

We wouldn't go so far as to say that your life is an open book when you're seen in the company of a new Cadillac car.

But we will admit that at least a few of the pages have been turned.

For a Cadillac indicates—with unmistakable clarity and eloquence—the personal virtues that lead a man to the "car of cars".

Beautiful, distinctive and substantial—it reflects his eminence in his field of endeavor... and testifies to what he has made of his years.

Gracious, spacious and luxurious—it denotes his desire for comfort... and his concern for the well-being of his family and passengers.

Practical, sound, and desired—it evidences his awareness of the true aspects of value and quality.

And if a Cadillac has historically cast such credit on its owner—how much more grandly it will do so in 1961!

For the car now offers more of everything to inspire the respect of those who behold it.

Its styling is graceful as never before. Its interiors are remarkably generous in every dimension. And its performance and ride make every journey a miracle of motion.

You ought to inspect and drive this 1961 Cadillac. Your dealer will be delighted to accommodate you. And we wager you'll quickly see the wisdom of letting the "car of cars" reveal a few discreet secrets about you.

Nothing... and everything

It will demand your free time—often when you want that free time for other things. It will demand sincere enthusiasm and concentration. It will demand money, perhaps... certainly hard work and the sacrifice of some personal pleasures and whims.

In return you'll have nothing you can hold in your hand... or put in the bank... or stick up over the mantelpiece. Nothing but priceless faith. Hardly a specific. But faith is not a specific thing. It comes when you need it most... and where.

That's part of its strength—a strength that's as strong as you want to make it.

Overlook Flags Provide Theme For Fund Drive

The flags at Overlook Hospital were installed in a dramatic new setting this week. On a 35-foot aluminum flagpole, spotlighted at night, with red warning signals for aircraft, the hospital's flags fly from the highest point in Union County—the rooftop of Overlook's new nine-story wing.

The installation was made possible by a gift in memory of Margaret Z. Nuckols, late wife of Walter S. Nuckols of 18 Windsor road. Overlook's flags proclaim a unique message. Spelled out by the nautical signal code flags A over I, is the promise, "We Stand By To Assist." This pledge flies from the hospital's flagpole night and day. It has flown there for five years.

This year the flag are providing the theme for the hospital's annual giving campaign, which begins next week. Friends of Overlook will receive a color brochure by mail, gift of a former trustee, telling the story of the flags and showing an aerial view of the hospital. The idea for the flags can be credited to Overlook's chief engineer, John Carrothers, who spent many years at sea before coming to "port" at Overlook. The theme came from an oil painting depicting the stormy marine rescue of the Antioch by the S. S. President Roosevelt, with the rescue ship flying the colors for "We Stand By To Assist." What better motto, Carrothers felt, to symbolize a hospital's promise of help to those ashore. Every day at precisely 7:59 a. m., a gong clangs and the American flag, plus Overlook's own colors, are raised to join the signal code flags at exactly 8 a. m. On Sundays the church flag takes precedence over all as services are held in Overlook's interfaith chapel. Sturgis S. Wilson, president of the Overlook Hospital Association, has issued an invitation to drive by and see the distinguishing local landmark provided by the new flag installation. The original, smaller flagpole duplicates the message off the '53 wing. No motif has been more popular on the United States coins than the eagle, a favorite Roman religious symbol in pagan days. The eagle was associated with Jupiter. Roman legions' standards were topped with an eagle.

"WE STAND BY TO ASSIST" proclaim the signal flags at Overlook, now flying with the Overlook colors and the American flag from the highest point in Union County—the rooftop of Overlook's new nine-story wing. Walter S. Nuckols, left, dedicated the installation of the hospital's new flagpole, with its pledge of help to all in distress, to the memory of his late wife, Margaret Z. Nuckols of Windsor road. Sturgis S. Wilson, president of the Overlook Association, lends a hand in displaying the colors.

Old Guard Told About Battle Of Springfield

Old Guard members refought the Battle of Springfield at their weekly meeting Tuesday when Judge Henry C. McMullen of Springfield, area historian and an authority on the Springfield battle, described in detail that conflict, which he

Parker King Tribute

Editor, Summit Herald:
The excitement of a presidential campaign prevented proper notice of the death of one who occupied a unique place in Summit society.

Parker D. King was a type of individual that is seldom encountered in any society, wherever located. He was a rare example of selfless devotion to what he thought was right. Whether it was popular or unpopular made little difference to him; indeed, throughout his long life he was more often on the side of the least popular of causes.

I well remember seeing him standing, a lone figure of opposition, at a mass meeting in the Lyric Theatre, in 1914, a meeting called to express our horror of the action of the Germans in invading Belgium. General Leonard Wood had come to Summit to address the meeting and the theater was crowded. A resolution was offered pledging "our lives, our wealth and our sacred honor" to expel the Germans. This meant war. Whatever may have been the private feelings of many who did not favor so extreme a resolution, only Parker King had the courage to stand up against its adoption. Parker was sometimes not averse to profanity, but he was a sincere and practicing follower of Jesus Christ and therefore a pacifist.

Parker was at all times a determined enemy of any kind of skulduggery, social, political or economic. Those who were then living will remember the packing house scandals, the "embalmed beef" on which our Spanish War soldiers were fed and the novels of Upton Sinclair dealing with these matters. Though never overburdened with wealth, Parker bought a number of these books and distributed them among acquaintances who, he thought, needed to know how our country was run.

Parker never sought honor or personal prestige; for him these seemed to have no value. Modest, kindly, forbearing, he cherished no personal animosities. I doubt if anyone in Summit had more friends. Political or other disagreement never affected his liking for people. His favorite quotation was from Voltaire: "I do not believe in what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."
Rich or poor, black or white, Christian or Jew, Republican, Democrat, Socialist or Prohibitionist, Parker was a friend to all, a true friend who was (Continued on Page 7)

tion picture actor William Holden. "At the time it happened, all I knew was in a cablegram. It read, 'Don't worry. Part of house burned.'"
William Holden goes on to say there was a happy ending to the story. When he returned to the United States several weeks later he found that the insurance claim had already been paid, and his home was already completely repaired. In fact, he had to ask, "Where was the fire?" because the repair job was so perfect. William Holden has nothing but praise for his independent insurance agent. "In the first place he makes sure you're insured only with companies that pay claims promptly and fairly. Then, if you have a loss, he helps you collect. You get first-class service—and protection—all along the line."

Why Don't We Join the Snow Plan?

More and more local and county governments are thinking kindly of a proposal made a few weeks ago by Newark to eliminate snowstorm traffic jams by barring from main arteries any cars without chains or snow tires.

Newark proposes that it classify fifty streets in that city as "snow routes" and during storms will ban parking as well as any vehicle not having proper winter driving equipment from those streets.

Apparently Essex County thinks well of the Newark plan for it recently has agreed to cooperate and extend the snow route rules to main county highways leading into Newark and impose the same restrictions.

And last week three communities in our own county, Union, Hillside and Elizabeth, let it be known that they also are willing to get together with Newark and Essex County and enter into a joint plan to invoke similar special snow restrictions on their main inter-city roads. The three municipalities in Union County are working on a proposal designed to keep a north-south route open through Newark, Hillside and Elizabeth and an east-west route open through Elizabeth and Union.

This sounds pretty good to those who use their cars for commuting. Drivers who last March were kept from reaching home until late at night remember vividly the clogged streets, the traffic snarls, the abandoned cars which prevented completion of the trip. If all of these plans for emergency storm measures are adopted by the various municipalities and counties it looks like a motorist stands a reasonable chance of driving without great difficulty from Newark to Union during heavy snowstorms—provided his car is properly equipped with winter driving gear.

But after reaching Union, then what? Will he face hundreds of bogged down cars halting all traffic toward Summit?

The success of a winter traffic program lies in its adoption by all communities, not just a few. It will do no good for a Summit-bound driver to get as far as Union and then his trip is terminated by clogged highways.

Perhaps our Common Council should take a look at what is going on in these other towns on this snowstorm travel plan and signify a willingness to implement the plans now under way.

Moonlighting

New York City's Police Commissioner Kennedy is very much in the news these days in his one-man war against the practice of "moonlighting" by members of his department. Moonlighting—the holding of a second job—is more prevalent than is generally realized and we wonder if Commissioner Kennedy doesn't have hold of a hot potato.

A recent government survey discloses that five out of every 100 employed Americans have a second, or even a third job. The survey shows that about 3 million Americans hold more than one job and about 100,000 have three or more jobs. The study states positively that the multiple job holding doesn't contribute significantly toward national unemployment, which is something to quash the arguments of those who make a practice of complaining when they hear of a person holding a second job.

A few months ago a spokesman for Summit professional painters and decorators came to the Herald asking for an editorial attack against teachers who had been hired to paint the schools during the summer months and against policemen and firemen bidding for house painting jobs. We rejected the suggestion primarily because we hold an old-fashioned liking for free enterprise but also because we are in sympathy with those who have the enterprise to supplement their income when it becomes necessary. We did offer the professional painters the opportunity to express their grievance through the "letters to the editor" column but this was declined because of our insistence that any letter must be signed by the writer.

Unfortunately, however, the federal report on moonlighting does not provide the information of why second jobs are a necessity. Is it because there is a desperate need for money or is it because there is a desire to build up a bank account?

What portion of the total is made up of women who would rather dust the keys of a typewriter than remain home and dust the furniture?

It does not take a financial clairvoyant to provide at least one of the answers that the government refuses to provide. We'll hazard a guess that people go to work because they need more ready cash to run their households. Otherwise why would a woman bother to get up in the morning and face the 7 o'clock rush to get to work. Or why wouldn't a man go home and enjoy his family rather than hurry off to that second job as a check-out man in a supermarket or punch in with the night shift at some factory. According to the government survey, one in every five teachers below college level have other jobs than teaching.

Another report from Washington released at the same time gives another answer for the necessity of moonlighting. The Labor Department states that in September living costs rose to a record high. So the school teacher, the white collar worker, the policeman and the fireman, say, "here we go again, hope I can pick up an extra job or get in some overtime."

Another factor is the sharply and rapidly rising costs of college tuitions. This often means that mother, who never held an outside job, must take an outside job in addition to running the home. She wants her children to have an education and often her extra income is the key.

If inflation strikes us harder, if college costs continue to rise and if the cost of living keeps spiraling, then the second job holders will increase. Unless some genius develops a way to control the shrinking dollar, the moonlighters will find newcomers to their ranks—regardless of how Police Commissioner Kennedy feels about it.

It's Time to Take Off the Gloves

In a town such as Summit where youth is given every consideration for material, moral and social gain, it seems inconceivable that on certain nights of the year (on for the matter, any night) young ones must prove their individuality by going on a destructive rampage.

We refer to the recent two-day Halloween observance when several misguided, foolish teenagers exceeded the boundaries of decency by wreaking havoc in many sections of the city on grounds that it was "fun." Such hooliganism should not be dealt with lightly or with a mere scolding, but with an all-out, get-tough attitude by the police and courts to bring these troublemakers into line.

Halloween has always been, and should continue to be, for the little ones who go out in costume trick or treating on the appointed night. But in recent years Halloween has taken on a different and sinister meaning when irresponsible teenagers make the night an excuse to run rampant through the city by splashing paint on houses and cars, breaking windows and street lights, ripping up shrubbery and otherwise making a menace of themselves. No person in his right mind and no teenager committing such acts of vandalism can seriously consider such activities as fun or mischief.

In the case of the three teenagers arrested for throwing paint on a house on Springfield Avenue, the police acted quickly and admirably and the trio has been turned over to juvenile court for further action. Local authorities acted properly in this case and the punishment now rests with the court. We fervently hope the punishment, and not a mere scolding, fits the crime so that at least three teenagers obviously bankrupt of common sense will think twice before indulging in similar "pranks."

We also think stiffer local measures should be brought to bear. Parents of such thoughtless teenagers should be brought promptly into the case and made to pay for their offspring's idea of fun. If this can not be accomplished, then the offender should be made to work on weekends, after school or whenever possible to earn enough money to pay for damages. Suspension from school, loss of driver's license, curfews, heavy fines, should be considered by local courts and school authorities to curb further teenage vandalism.

It is time to realize that when one gets into junior high or senior high he should have by that time outgrown mischief night, trick or treating or any other Halloween activities relegated to the smaller children and not use the night as a cover up for vandalism.

We urge the police department, the courts, the schools, the PTAs and above all, parents, to seriously ponder this disgraceful exhibition and formulate some strong program to combat and rid our town of such dangerous and contemptuous influences.

As a first step, we urge stiffer, harsher and more severe penalties to the guilty regardless of who they are. If such penalties are not forthcoming, then a highly organized, vigilante-type preventive campaign is the alternative so that this shameful exhibition cannot be repeated again. It's time to take off the gloves.

Stress on Second
tations are also the ones offering foreign languages early.
Two of the schools begin French in the seventh grade, five in the eighth and 17 in the ninth. One private school waits until eleventh grade to offer French.
Of the total, 19 schools offer four, years of the language, while five offer five years and one public high school offers six. Summit, which this year is offering "Introductory French" in eighth grade, "is in tune" with the trend, according to the report.
German and Spanish are offered by the same number of schools in the survey group, 24 out of 29, with the number "almost equally divided" as to beginning ninth or tenth grade and usually offering either three or four years of study. Summit was one of four schools only offering two years of German. The survey also reported that in six public schools Spanish is offered early in the grades.
Trend Toward Russian
The committee also reported what was termed a "surprisingly strong trend" toward teaching Russian, with no less than 12 of the 29 schools now teaching the language or planning to start it next year. Current plans concentrate on a two-year offering, with only one public school offering three years. In addition, one of the survey schools has an after-school club and plans to teach a formal course in Russian later.

Locally, the plans for teaching Russian according to the committee, "have reached the discussion stage," but action will probably have to wait until space becomes available in the new high school building.
Use of tape recorders and records, as mechanical aids in the teaching of languages, are repeatedly mentioned and highly recorded by the schools, according to the report, with such equipment widely utilized by many of the "better schools."
Another change noted by the report is the use of language laboratories, which are "evidently coming in." Several answering schools have three to six experimental booth laboratories, while a few have two or three room fully equipped.
Cites Equipment
Summit, with a small language laboratory of five positions, is better than average in equipment. But, the report further indicates that because of space limitations it can only be used by third year French and Spanish students, once a week. It is expected that in the new high school building, there will be a laboratory with 23 to 30 positions.
The report indicates that "over and over" it is stressed that teachers speak the language in class, while some schools stress that the work done is entirely in the language being studied. Of the answering schools, one uses only "native" language teachers, but the report points out this is unusual with Summit, with one native of nine language teachers, is "much more typical."

The median size of the answering schools was 920 students, compared to 880 at Summit, with a population ranging from a minimum of 600 to a maximum of 3,700. Private schools answering ranged from 205 to 876, with a median of 440.
Of the answering schools, 75 per cent of the students took college preparatory courses, with a range of 45 per cent to 100 per cent. Here, 74 per cent of Summit students take a college preparatory course.
While the report concedes that per pupil cost each year is an indication of how important a community feels education is to the city or town. However, the report notes that while Summit's 1958-59 figure of $581, against a median of $650, may appear low, "it is very likely a reflection of well-amortized facilities," as against towns "which have recently had substantial expenditures for plant and equipment." The report further states that it is expected that with the amortizing of the new high school, Summit's position will change substantially.
New Jersey schools replying to the survey, in addition to Summit High School, included Millburn, Maplewood, Montclair, Ridgewood, West Orange, Mountain Lakes, Bound Brook, New Brunswick, Springfield, and Weequahic (Newark).

Among the private schools replying were Pingry, Kent Place, Lawrenceville, Seton Hall, Mercersburg and Loomis.
Out-of-state public schools included Bronxville, Scarsdale, Garden City, Philadelphia (Central), New Trier, West Hartford, San Francisco, (George Washington), Grosse Pointe, Upper Darby, Lower Merion, Palo Alto and Case Technical at Detroit.

Campaign and office expenses $2,500; O. R. Bendwig, 8 Garden road, $1,000, and John Ziller, 131 Passaic avenue, $1,900.
This year's United Campaign goal of $179,500 is the largest in history and reflects both the growth of the community and the increased services offered by each of the nine agencies.
Of the $179,500 goal, the largest slice is all-cited to the YMCA, $49,300, while the YWCA quota is $44,400. Amounts for the other participating agencies include $8,600, Boy Scouts; $24,400, Family Service Association; $7,300, Girl Scouts; $11,700 SAGE; $10,700, Child Care Center; $85,000, Union County Psychiatric Clinic; and $1,600, USO.

Local Man Buys Kelly Summer Home at Shore

The Ocean City summer home of the late John B. Kelly, father of Princess Grace of Monaco, was purchased Tuesday by a Summit resident, R. Robinson Chance.

Chance until a few weeks ago lived at 31 Windsor road and was associated with the local law firm of Hughes, Hartlaub and Thorn. He has left Summit to become a trust officer of the Boardwalk National Bank.

Negotiations are underway by Christ Church to purchase the Chance house at Windsor road for a parsonage.

It was at the Kelly summer home that Prince Ranier courted the former Grace Kelly.

A CASE IN POINT WHAT HAPPENED TO MRS. MCGILLICUDDY?

Edna McGillicuddy is a close friend, and except for a period of several weeks a month ago, we've always spent our free time together. That was the time Edna decided to shop for bargains in food. Well, I figured there's only one way to prove the point I was about to argue, let her find out herself.

Two weeks later I met Edna for coffee, she looked tired. In fact it looked like someone had sprayed rubber cement over her eyes a poor attempt at holding up the blue bags that hung underneath them. "What happened?" I said. "Oh, M. dred," she wailed. "I just don't seem to be able to get anything extra done these days, and I'm just fagged out when dinner time comes." Bargain shopping is more than I bargained for. "Look Edna, I said. "Tonight, sit down and make out your shopping list when you're through, call Sam at CR 7-4500, The Summit Food Market, have him do your shopping and deliver the order."

Edna did and she was much more free time now. MORAL: Time is money! Let the Summit Food Market save it for you.

Local Churches Form New Unit At Overlook

Bruce Gerhard of 248 Oak Ridge avenue, Calvary Episcopal; Mrs. B. Herbert Carlson of 19 Ridgedale avenue, Oakes Memorial; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bitzer of 43 Sunset drive, St. John's Lutheran; Mr. and Mrs. Emerson W. Glancy of 15 Lorraine place, Methodist; Frederick S. Benson and William D. Newton, Central Presbyterian; H. B. Ritchie, 10 Beekman road, and Mrs. Edward F. Babbott of 157 Oak Ridge avenue, Christ Church; Mrs. Annette McGill of 31 Morris avenue and Robert Lockett, of 69 Park avenue, Fountain Baptist.

Each of the 30 member churches of the chaplaincy association has appointed two lay members. The purpose of the lay group is to establish a line of communication between the chaplaincy and the individual churches, according to hospital director Robert E. Heinlein. The group works with the clergy to acquaint various associations within congregations of horizons in the field.

The greatest threat to survival of the rhinoceros in Africa is posed not by the influx of big-game hunters but by superstition. According to folklore, the rhino's horn, which is actually tightly packed hair, is the most powerful of aphrodisiacs.

County Hikers Plan Pine Barrens Trip

On Sunday, (November 13) members of the Union County Hiking Club will participate on a 8 to 10-mile hike through the Pine Barrens of South Jersey, from Bamber Lake region to the Garden State Parkway. The hike, for the most part, will be along an old abandoned railroad bed, viewing the cedar swamps and sphagnum bogs. The group will meet at the administration building of the Union County Park Commission, Acme and Canton streets, Elizabeth, at 8 a.m. Scientific study shows that birds have a reptilian ancestry, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Fred L. Palmer of Woodcroft road, on Sunday will give a talk on the "Pleasure of Paintings" and tell how to start an art collection. The lecture will be at 3 p.m. at the Summit Art Center, 407 Springfield Avenue and is open to the public. Mr. Palmer's personal collection includes works by Winslow Homer, Bernard Buffet, Edward Hopper, Picasso, Matisse, Ben Shahn, Yasuo Kuniyoshi and many others. He will use some of the paintings and drawings as examples to explain what he finds in a picture, why he wants to buy it, and how it fits into the philosophy of his collection. Mr. Palmer was formerly in the publishing business and is now with a public relations firm. He began to collect art about a dozen years ago, and has built his collection to more than fifty examples of paintings, drawings and prints. Mr. Palmer says, "I have bought for pleasure, not for investment." Mr. Palmer has written a booklet giving his "One Man's Opinion" on the meaning of Art. Evergreen trees are not necessarily all green. There are evergreens with silver, white, blue, gray, yellow and plum.

Teachers End Brayton School Session

A four-day session of practice teaching at Brayton School ended for members of the Summit High Future Teachers Club.

Alternating in morning and afternoon classes, the students were given released time from their high school classes for two hours to participate in the project to mark American Education Week.

Under the direction of Wilbur Nelson, principal of Brayton School, the students met with faculty members and worked with small groups of children under their direction and at various grade levels. The project is part of the exploratory program for the Future Teachers Club and marks the third year that it has been carried out at Brayton School. The students who took part were Pat Kaiser, Gem Martin, Barbara Hopkins, Lynn Hasselbauer, Marilyn Behm and Julianne Zuck.

Sublime Star — Where Did It Come From?
Gottlieb Daimler once said, referring to a star on his house, "A star shall arise from here, and I hope that it will bring blessings to us and to our children." A few years later his first gasoline-powered vehicle became an actuality. In 1901 it was named the Mercedes. And in 1909, the star was adopted as its insignia in tribute to the founder of the firm. Now, in 1960, over a half a century later, the three-pointed star of Mercedes-Benz is the hallmark of excellence on the roads of the world. But the blessings of which Gottlieb Daimler spoke got not "to our children" but to every owner of a Mercedes-Benz. These people are the beneficiaries of over 70 years' work to build the perfect automobile, the car of connoisseurs.

Q • When is one low-price car worth more than other low-price cars?

A • When it's a MERCURY METEOR

1961 MERCURY METEOR 800

Priced to compete with the low-price field!

1961 Mercury Price Comparison Chart
 Prices start hundreds below last year

1. MERCURY METEOR 600	Priced right in the heart of the low-price field.
2. MERCURY METEOR 800	Priced to compete with the top series in the low-price field.
3. MERCURY MONTEREY	Finest, most luxurious of all 1961 Mercurys.

But look how much more you get with Mercury Meteor!

Here's the big point to remember. Up until now Mercury has only had a few models in the low-price field. It has been traditionally a medium-price car. For 1961, both Mercury Meteor series...two full lines of cars...compete with the low-price field.

But the resemblance between the Mercury Meteor and other low-price cars ends with the price. Just look at these extra values.

FIRST LOW-PRICE CAR WITH FINE-CAR RIDE. You get ride advances found in no other car at any price. For example, all Meteor 800's, Montereys and Mercury station wagons have a new system of rubber cushioning called Cushion-Link suspension. It does far more than the job normally done by shock absorbers and springs alone. It erases those small road-surface bumps, such as tar strips and patches, you still feel in other cars.

SUPER-ECONOMY "6" AND V-8 ENGINES. You can choose super economy, super power, or any combination in between. Engines include Mercury's first 6 cylinder plus new V-8's that use regular gas.

7 SELF-SERVICING FEATURES...more than offered by any other low-price car...cut your costs still further...up to $157 the first year! Everything from a chassis that is pre-lubricated for the first 30,000 miles to self-cleaning spark plugs.

No wonder your Mercury dealer has been able to extend his warranty to 1 year of 12,000 miles (whichever comes first). Ask him to show you a copy.

Public Schools Expand Audio-Visual Aid Role

Based on the premise that a picture is worth a 1,000 words, for the fourth year the city's schools have had use of an expanded audio-visual aids program, which is coordinated by Miss Jeannette Middlebrook.

The audio-visual aids department is made up of all films, film strips, necessary equipment and projectors, as well as record players and screens. In addition, considerable use is made of pre-recorded tapes, which are of particular value at the high school level in science, English, foreign languages and business dictation.

While the schools have an extensive supply of their own films and film strips, use is also made of rental films which are commercially prepared films which deal with current developments in various subject areas. For instance, particularly in science, business practices and foreign language, rental films are used both as an extension of the schools' films and of the text-books in use. Various sources are used to obtain films, including Bell Telephone, Department of Interior, manufacturing and industrial companies, the armed forces, universities and business education houses.

Teachers Learn, Too

In addition to renting necessary films and buying basic films and filmstrips, the audio-visual aids department has afforded each teacher the opportunity to learn the various machines necessary for the instructional program. Teachers also participate in requesting and previewing all films before purchase is made to make sure all materials are closely correlated with the courses of study as well as enrichment activities for gifted children. In this way, films, and other audio-visual materials, are an integral part of the teaching program as well as a supplemental device.

Among the necessary pieces of equipment for the program are motion picture projectors, filmstrip projectors, tape recorders, screens, record players and opaque projectors. At least one of each type is found in each building.

Miss Middlebrook, as coordinator of the audio-visual aids program, has built up a film library in the basement of Roosevelt school. A former teacher at Lincoln School, Miss Middlebrook has a B.S. degree from Newark State College and an M.A. degree from New York University. She is a lecturer on nature in the area and is field trip chairman of the Chatham Nature Club and bird chairman of the Summit Nature Club.

In the audio-visual aids field, last summer she participated in a six-weeks' course in mass communications in American life and is treasurer of the New Jersey Audio-Visual Leadership Council. In addition, she is corresponding secretary of Delta Kappa Gamma, Alpha chapter, international society of women educators.

National Health Agency Appoints Resident Member

The appointment of John T. Connor, of 49 Prospect Hill avenue, president of Merck and Company, and Dr. Raymond J. Nagle, dean of the New York University College of Dentistry, to the National Health Council's commission on health careers was announced by Dr. James E. Perkins, National Health Council president and managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association.

"Mr. Connor and Dr. Nagle are distinguished additions to the Commission which is comprised of top representation from business, labor, education, health and civic affairs," said Dr. Perkins. "Their job is to guide the activities of the health careers program which for the last five years has been making nationwide attack on the health manpower shortage. The primary purpose of the health careers program is to help the high school student make a wise career choice."

A graduate of Syracuse University and Harvard Law School, Mr. Connor was associated for several years with the New York City law firm of Cravath, de Gersdorff, Swaine and Wood. In 1942, Mr. Connor was appointed general counsel of the Office of Scientific Research and Development. He went on active duty with the U. S. Marine Corps in 1942, serving in the Pacific as an air combat intelligence officer. Returning from Japan in 1945, he became counsel to the Office of Naval Research, and later, special assistant to Navy Secretary James Forrestal. Joining Werck and Company, Inc., in 1947 as general attorney, Mr. Connor held several other executive positions before being elected president in 1955. Mr. Connor is active in many organizations in the fields of health and welfare as well as industry. He is a member of the N. J. committee for Improving High School Science and Mathematics in the Secondary Schools.

Among the necessary pieces of equipment for the program are motion picture projectors, filmstrip projectors, tape recorders, screens, record players and opaque projectors. At least one of each type is found in each building.

Boro Boosters Compile 4-4-3 Season Record

New Providence High School's soccer team now has a season record of 4 wins, 4 losses and 3 tie games. The Pioneer's wins were against Clark Regional (2-0), Gov. Livingston (4-0), Morris Hills and Clark Regional (4-1 each).

Included in the lost column was a spectacular contest with Summit lost by 1-0. Madison also was dropped by 1-0. The Pioneers bounced back with a 3-1 tie against Scotch Plains. Last Saturday a 0-0 game was played against Hanover Park.

Brashness to Shyness Is Gamut Of Roles by High School Actress

Local audiences will again have the opportunity to see the young Miss Marty McMame in another starring role when Summit High School presents Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" on Friday night, November 18 in the auditorium. Miss McMame was previously seen as the lead in the last year's G. O. production of "Annie Get Your Gun," and as the slave girl in the 1959 G. O. play, "The King and I."

Her current role is of the shy Laura who lives in a world of illusion.

Among some of the backstage crewmen working on the play is Art Campbell who is responsible for some of the complex lighting and staging problems. Canada is the second largest country in the world; it reaches one-fourth of the way around the world, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Peterson, chairman, announces that on Monday, November 14, at 2 p.m., Gordon E. Barrett will speak on "The Problems of Arthritis." Mr. Barrett is the executive director of the New Jersey chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

Mr. Barrett feels that it would be of great help if the Foundation could establish arthritis clinics at Overlook and Elizabeth General Hospitals, as well as a Union County home-care program. The number of cases from this county is becoming too many for existing facilities. Union County has no Foundation chapter at the present time.

The welfare department of the club assists persons in the area through a variety of programs. A sewing group headed by Mrs. Charles Neff meets every Monday to make hospital gowns for Overlook, clothing for the Child Care Center and afghans for nursing homes and the Visiting Nurse Association. A cancer dressing group headed by Mrs. Henry Varay also meets Monday to make dressings for the Cancer Society. New departmental meetings arranged by Mrs. Allison Hearn will explore additional projects. Tea will be served following the program by a committee headed by Mrs. J. Henry Negus. All club members are invited to attend the meeting.

College Club Begins Building Drive With Sale of Tickets for "Teahouse"

Mrs. Gay has announced that the annual book sale, which provides scholarships for local girls, is the most important community service of the College Club. However, finding a place each year to store and sell books has become increasingly difficult, she said.

Mrs. Donald E. Harris, chairman of the project, has announced that tickets are now available to the public, and special student tickets in the balcony at half price will be obtainable.

Tickets may be obtained at the Summit Trust Company on November 10 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. with Mrs. Eugene M. Harding in charge. On November 14, at the same hours, Mrs. Frank Reed and Mrs. John Hensell will be in attendance, and on November 15 Mrs. Frank Simcik and Mrs. Paul Kretzler. Tickets may also be purchased at Pierson's, Inc.

Chamber Music Concert to Be Given Sunday

Summit audiences will hear the first of the new-season's three Chamber Music Guild concerts this Sunday, November 13. Two identical performances will be given at 4 p.m. and at 8 p.m. in the concert room of the YWCA.

The ensemble, whose members are from the ranks of chamber music groups such as the Juilliard String Quartet, Beaux Arts Quartet, the New York Wind Quintet and the New Art Wind Quintet, have toured and recorded extensively both here and abroad. They have won recognition for the quality of their performance and for their unusual programming of works which are beyond the reach of the standard chamber music combinations.

Julius Levine, double bass with the group, will appear here for the first time. He has played with the Budapest String Quartet in New York and Washington concerts as well as recording sessions.

His principal work to be presented here will be Schubert's Trout quintet. Also on the program will be the Divertimento for violin, cello and double bass by Haydn and the Phantasy Quartet for oboe and strings by Britten.

Summit Gridders Rout Hillside 33-0 for Fourth Win of Season

After splitting two decisions on the road, Summit High School's Hilltoppers return to their home grounds for their final two games of the season against Caldwell and Hanover Park.

Caldwell promises to be a tough opponent this Saturday for Coach Howard Anderson's gridmen. Not only are the Chiefs a Suburban Conference rival, but they have lost to Summit seven straight years, and will be out for revenge in the battle on Tatlock field.

After dropping a heart-breaking 13-12 decision to Madison two weeks ago, the Hilltoppers bounced back Saturday to overwhelm Hillside High, 33-0, in their highest scoring effort of the season. Summit's record now is 4 wins and 3 losses.

Because all of the defeats have been in the Suburban Conference, the Maroon and White cannot retain the Conference title it won the last two seasons. But victories over Caldwell and Hanover Park would stamp the 1960 campaign a success and keep Summit in the ranks of the top group-3 teams of North Jersey.

Summit quarterback Mike Pappo completed 3 out of 6 passes for 50 yards and a touchdown. However, it was on the ground that Summit stung its opponents, attaining 443 yards on running plays.

Five Hilltoppers shared in the scoring as the offensive and defensive units played excellent ball. Summit scored once in the first, second, and fourth periods, and twice in the third. Every player on the squad saw action.

In the first period the Hilltoppers drove 75 yards in five plays with Dave Gregory going over on a three-yard plunge. Midway through the second quarter Summit began a 56-yard drive. Seven plays later Mike Pappo threw a 10-yard pass to Jim Elliot for the second Summit touchdown.

The third period saw the Hilltoppers break the game wide open. Following the kickoff, Pappo led Summit 57 yards. He scored the touchdown himself on a 48-yard sprint. Minutes later Sol Steplight took a Hillside kick and galloped 84 yards to make the score 27-0.

In the waning minutes of the game, Doug Adams scored on a 3 yard slant off his left tackle. Steplight booted 3 extra points in 5 attempts.

Summit quarterback Mike Pappo completed 3 out of 6 passes for 50 yards and a touchdown. However, it was on the ground that Summit stung its opponents, attaining 443 yards on running plays.

Middlebury Grid Coach Lauds Butler

"It was a surprising and unexpected result," was Coach Duke Nelson's comment on his Middlebury College football season of 5-1-1. It equaled last year's record and gave the Panthers their sixth winning season in the past seven years.

The Panther coach had valumes of praise for the Middlebury captain and center, Bill Butler of 200 Oak Ridge ave.

A senior, Butler has been a forward wall mainstay for three years playing almost 60 minutes in every game. In addition to his offensive role, Butler was the defensive quarterback and middle linebacker. A number of opponent coaches have tagged him as a top defensive player.

"Butler was our only real outstanding football player this season. In addition to his playing ability, he has been a fine leader through word and deed and has been principally responsible for the desire, spirit and condition of our squad. I certainly feel that he is one of the real outstanding players in New England small college football," Nelson said in praise of the Middlebury captain.

Linden Booters Find Highlander Squad Tough Foe

Berkeley Heights-The hustling Highlanders of Governor Livingston Regional High School threw a real scare into Linden High's championship-conscious soccer team last Friday at Linden.

Although outplaying the highly regarded Little Tigers most of the way, the Highlanders dropped a tough 2-1 decision.

Linden, with nine wins and two ties in 12 games, is a leading contender for the state championship playoffs.

Tom Kertesz, the Highlanders' top scorer, booted home his fifth goal to give Governor Livingston a 1-1 tie in the first period. The deadlock lasted until midway in the third period when Vince Irraggio kicked his second goal of the game for Linden. Irraggio is the county's top scorer with 15 goals.

On Nov. 1 another powerhouse, Chatham High, proved too strong for the Highlanders. The Huskies won 6-2 at Chatham. In repeating an earlier victory over Governor Livingston, Chatham posted its 15th triumph against one loss--to the Navy Plebes.

Chatham rolled up a 6-0 edge in the third period before Charles "Chat" Kelly scored for the Highlanders. Governor Livingston continued to carry the fight to Chatham in the final period with John Wadas kicking home the Highlanders' second goal.

Russ Hunchak's booters, with a 2-5-4 record, wind up their season this week against two more of the state's better teams. The Highlanders played undefeated Jefferson of Elizabethtown, defending New Jersey champions, on Tuesday at Elizabethtown. The season finale will be tomorrow against Scotch Plains at the Raiders' field.

Last Quarter Rally Gives Heights 7-6 Grid Victory

Berkeley Heights - The forward pass, which carried Notre Dame to the heights of football glory 47 years before Gov. Livingston Regional High fielded a football team, last Saturday helped the Highlanders achieve a measure of gridiron glory.

Trailing a favored Piscataway High 6-0 midway through the final period at Piscataway, the Highlanders took to the air to set up the winning touchdown in a thrill-packed 7-6 victory. It was Livingston's greatest victory in its brief football history.

With Livingston on its own 40-yard line and slightly more than five minutes to play, Frank Fish fired a pass to left end Tom Foster on the Piscataway 30. Foster raced all the way to the Piscataway 3-yard line.

From there Jim Fish took charge. The Highlander fullback slanted off tackle for three yards and his ninth touchdown of the season. Ken Hamilton, Jr. calmly booted the extra point to give Livingston a 7-6 lead.

The game was far from over, however. The aroused Piscataway eleven stormed back and moved to the Highlanders' 15-yard line before Livingston's defensive unit, headed by John Del Duca, Pete Suchena and Jim Fish turned back the threat.

The key plays came after Piscataway reached the Highlander 15 with a third down and 1 1/2 yards to go for a first down situation. Two consecutive running plays were stopped cold by the Governor Livingston line.

Piscataway had grabbed the lead early in the first period when Paul Johnson ran 60 yards to climax a 72-yard scoring drive. A run for the extra point failed.

The thrilling victory gave Coach Al Brown's gridde a 4-2 record and two straight triumphs for the second time this year. Piscataway had a two-game winning streak snapped and now is 3-4 for the season.

The Highlanders will meet their first Union County rival of the season on Saturday when they play host to the Comets of Hillside High at 2 p. m. Governor Livingston will find itself in the rather unique role of favorite as the Comets have won only one game and tied another in seven contests.

Hillside has dropped its last two games to Scotch Plains and Summit by 30-0 scores. The Comets' defense has been rather porous, allowing an average of 20 points per game but the Comets can be tough. They whipped Clark Regional 48-6 and battled Roselle Park to a scoreless tie.

If the game is close, Hamilton's talented toe could prove decisive. Hillside has failed to make an extra point all season, while young Ken has booted five successful placements in his last six tries.

Score by quarters:
Governor Livingston 0 0 0 7
Piscataway 6 0 0 0
Highlander Highlights - All-back Jim Fish has tied Herb Etzold of Springfield Regional for third place in the Union County individual scoring race with 34 points. Each has two games to play. The Highlander star lost ground to the two leaders over the weekend. Bill Jaworovich scored four touchdowns for Raway to take the lead with 73 points. Pingry's Pete Hiltgendorff scored twice to boost his total to 66 points. Dave Reitz of Westfield is fifth with 52 points.

Governor Livingston has been classified as a Group 2 school (based on number of male students) by the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association. With Clark Regional dropping from Group 3 to Group 2, it looks like a natural future rivalry for Thanksgiving Day games. Neighboring Watchung Hills Regional, another natural rival, also has been classified as a Group 2 school.

Second-Place Tie Develops in Girls Loop

Chell Frantzen and Ken Johnston remained deadlocked for second place in the Summit girls' bowling league after last week's matches as Frantzen took two from DeLuxe Sweet Shop and Johnston swept Miss Nellie.

Summit Trust Co. took two from Alan & Dan and Strand Market took two from Lillian O'Grady.

In the Frantzen-DeLuxe clash, Lee Bloss sparked the Frantzen win with a 450 series on games of 163, 153, 132 while Pat Mata with a 444 series was tops for DeLuxe. Nancy Nigro rolled a 421 series for Ken Johnston. Elise Yannacone's 393 sparked the losing Miss Nellie club.

Eileen Boyd with a 478 triple on 124, 176, 178 and Honey Sampson with a 470 series on 132, 183, 155 spearheaded Bond's defeat of Meta & Edward. Pat LaRocca's 430 was best for Meta & Edward. The unsealed rate is 3 cents. The postmaster pointed out, however, that this rate lacks advantages which first class mail offers, and he recommended use of the 4-cent rate.

Mr. Dunsmore commented that if his advice is followed, the public will avoid waiting in stamp lines and the post office employees will be started on the road to a merry Christmas.

He said greeting cards for Canada and Mexico require surface postage of 4 cents, whether sealed or not.

Alsberg Named To Vacancy on Heights Board

A former Berkeley Heights Board of Education member, Dietrich A. Alsberg, 43, of 60 Princeton avenue, was appointed Monday to fill the unexpired term created by the resignation of Dr. Fred C. Finsterbach. The terms runs until February.

Alsberg served eight months of an unexpired term on the board in 1955-56 and did not run in the school board election at the end of that term. He also has served on the mayor's public safety committee and as president of the West End Civic Association.

Alsberg is a member of the technical staff of the Bell Telephone Laboratories and is in charge of a group responsible for research and development of ballistic missiles and space vehicle guidance.

Born in Germany, he was graduated from the Stuttgart Institute of Technology in Germany and came to this country in 1939, where he continued his post-graduate education at the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, Ohio. He served in the U. S. Army Ordnance Corps in Europe in World War 2.

Dr. Finsterbach, who served on the board for almost five years, left to become a professor of education at the University of

The State of New York. Although he will remain a resident of Berkeley Heights, he said his new post will require considerable travel and prevent him from attending board meetings regularly.

It preserves all the features that mean Thunderbird: the classic Thunderbird size and distinctive styling, the four-passenger luxury, the famous console, the sports car handling and performance.

At the same time, the unmistakable newness you find in the Swing-Away Wheel is reflected throughout this uniquely new luxury car. As standard equipment, you have the exhilarating, new high-performance Thunderbird 390 Special V-8. Tailored precisely to the Thunderbird's weight and size, this brilliant, new engine brings you Thunderbird spirit at its liveliest. A trio of power assists—also standard equipment—functions as a precision team for a new high in automatic driving. New Cruise

 Tuesday when Democrats captured three districts in Ward 2. In District 5 which includes the Middle avenue area, and District 7, centered on Ashwood avenue, local Democrats took the lead in the Presidential, Congressional and Freeholder races. District 8 in the same Ward also voted for Kennedy.

In District 5, Kennedy won 418 to 348, while in District 7 he captured 185 votes as against 106 and in District 8, he won by eight votes, 217 to 208. GOP losses on the Congressional level, were 389 for Dunn, as compared to 363 for Mrs. Dwyer in District 5, and 174 to 125 in District 7.

The only Republican to escape Democratic inroads was Sen. Case, who captured both districts by narrow margins. In the Fifth, he won 399 to 322, while in the Seventh, he won by two votes, 184 to 182.

Republican majorities were heaviest in Ward 1, District 5, and in Ward 2, District 1, where GOP pluralities ran as high as eight to one. Close GOP victories came in Ward 1, District 6, and in Ward 2, Districts 4 and 8, where the winning margins ran from nine to 40 votes.

In the Ward 2 Council race, Councilman O'Connell lost districts 6 and 7, but overwhelmed his opponent in the second district by 643 votes and in district 9 by 485 votes.

In Ward 1, Mr. Webster's strongest showing was in District 5, where he captured 637 to 313.

John H. Wisner, Jr. of 23 Crescent avenue, Conservative party candidate for Congress, garnered 95 votes. His heaviest showing was in Ward 1, District 7, and Ward 2, District 3, where he garnered 12 votes each.

Pub'c Question Wins
 Local voters also endorsed the public question regarding property tax exemption for elderly persons, 4,830 to 2,308.

Voting in all districts started off relatively heavily, but tapered off during mid-morning only to again pick up speed in the later hours. First to report returns was District 8 in Ward 1, while the last was District 10 in Ward 2.

The scene at City Hall during returns was noticeably calm in contrast with 1956 when election night excitement ran high.

In some areas of the city where voters waited in line for comparatively long periods of time, there were indications that new districts would be created.

Police Department spokesmen said there were no unusual disturbances during the day and that voting was orderly in all districts.

Weekend Hassle
 Both parties over last weekend, however, yelled "foul" at imagined or real attempts to woo votes. A protest was made to the county prosecutor's office by New Providence Republicans who claimed Democrats were circulating literature without the proper identification.

Ciba Man Made President of Package Group

Lawrence H. Zahn, of 21 Rotary drive, director of purchasing and package development at CIBA Pharmaceutical Products, Inc., has been elected president of the Packaging Institute, it was announced at the 22nd annual National Packaging Forum in New York City.

The Packaging Institute is a national technical organization which represents the 17-billion-dollar packaging industry. Incorporated in 1938, the Institute's present membership includes 600 professional packaging executives from over 400 corporations who are both users and manufacturers of packaging materials.

Mr. Zahn has been active in many industry and government projects since joining CIBA in 1944. Called to Washington in 1957, he served for six months as deputy director, containers and packaging division of the Business Defense Services Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce.

In addition to his duties at CIBA, Mr. Zahn is public relations chairman of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, North Jersey chapter; past chairman of the production and engineering section, Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association; member of the Committee for Economic Development (CED), Industry Finance Committee; and a member of the curriculum advisory committee, School of Packaging, Michigan State University.

Born in Hasbrouck Heights, Mr. Zahn was educated at Stevens Institute of Technology.

State Veto for Youth Car Purchases Asked

A Summit "mother of eight children and a Linden father have both urged State Sen. Robert C. Crane to introduce legislation which would require the signature of a parent or guardian in order for a person under 21 to have a motor vehicle registered in his or her name.

Senator Crane said he has made a study of the present laws, and as a result has asked for a conference with Atty. Gen. David D. Furman and Ned A. Parsekian, acting director of the State Motor Vehicle Division, to determine what, if any, corrective measures can be taken.

Senator Crane said apprehension shown by Luther Carson of Linden is shared by others in Union County and he feels something should be done to alleviate this fear.

The Linden parent said he is anxious that something be done to have an effective law passed so that his signature, indicating approval, would be required for his son to register a car by the time he reaches 17 in August, 1961.

Under the present state laws, Mr. Carson points out in his letter, it is possible, and frequently happens, that a 17 to 20-year-old youth purchases a cheap car with his own money. He is allowed by the motor vehicle agency to register and drive it in his own name.

"Since ownership and registration by this group is not prevented by law, the parent has a real battle to control that car, and is forced into passive approval," said the Linden father.

He continued, "We have, by law, made great strides in making liability insurance practically a necessity. We need now to close another loophole by establishing adult responsibility of the right to have a motor vehicle on our public streets."

Mr. Carson also points out that to a certain degree parents are held responsible for their children's acts. However, he adds, the parent should be assisted by the law in cases where the government issues any type of a license.

"The marriage license is a perfect example where written approval of the parent is required for certain age groups," Mr. Carson noted.

The senator said he has been aware for some time of an inconsistency in the law regarding registration of a vehicle by a youth 17 to 20 years of age.

He added that his research of the present legislation indicates that there can be no relief for worried parents unless some changes are made.

Worried Mother
 A Summit mother of eight children also has appealed to Senator Crane, the lawmaker said, because her oldest child is at an age at which he can obtain a car.

She said she is worried because of the responsibility she might have to assume in case there is an accident and a subsequent suit resulting in a judgment greater than her insurance coverage. She said the family resources easily could be wiped out.

Senator Crane said a youth under 21 could pay an extra $15, if he does not have any insurance, to cover him under the state's uninsured claim act. However, parents feel that this does not relieve them of the worry that they might be held responsible for future claims.

Fears Complications
 The senator said he also is aware that there may be complications if careful thought is not given to proposed changes, because unrelenting parents might be in a position of depriving a son or daughter from ownership of a car and prevent him, therefore, from earning a livelihood because of the lack of necessary transportation.

He said he hopes to solve these and other problems concerning new legislation by conferences with state officials, parents, experts in such matters and other interested individuals and groups.

as to its source, as required by law. The Democrats hastily apologized and said it was all a mistake and that the circulation had been halted until the sponsor's name was printed.

Summit Republicans protested a partial circulation of Democratic campaign material inserted in the pages of Sunday editions of the New York City newspapers but apparently the work was of a few zealous Kennedy supporters and not a citywide effort.

Motorists in parking lots on Saturday were somewhat miffed to find Democratic leaflets placed under the windshield wipers of their cars. At first glance they appeared to be parking tickets and the immediate distress upon spotting the white leaflets in many instances turned into anger at Democrats.

Political gadgets, banners, badges, bumper stickers and jewelry were sold out by both headquarters before Tuesday. Democrats cut prices on their wares over the week-end to clean out stocks and Republicans reported they had only leaflets left as of Tuesday. None of the merchandise for sale at either party headquarters was returnable. The Republicans said that the few articles they had left could be used later, "maybe next year," since they bore no Nixon-Lodge label but were the GOP elephant symbol in various forms.

 Datzel, 110,312. It was the defeated Democratic trio that broke 24 years of Republican rule when they were first elected to the board in 1957. Three more Democrats joined them in 1958 to give the party short-lived control that was ended Tuesday night.

Although marked for defeat by the teamsters union and strongly opposed by the AFL and CIO, Mrs. Dwyer's easy victory over Mr. Dunn was surprising. The official tally gave her 136,380 to 98,298 for Dunn. Dunn conceded to Mrs. Dwyer early Tuesday night.

In 1956 Mrs. Dwyer ran well behind President Eisenhower to defeat U.S. Sen. Harrison A. Williams by 4,339 votes. Two years ago she beat Dunn by 7,300. In this campaign her margin of victory was estimated at 15,000.

In spite of the GOP victory on the county level, eight of Union's 21 towns stayed in the Democratic column. The heaviest Democratic vote again came from Elizabeth where Kennedy was given 31,435 as compared to Nixon's 16,886. However, Thorn Lord barely came out the victor there since he managed to obtain only 23,794 as against Case's 21,347. Other county towns voting Democratic included Clark, Hillside, Kenilworth, Linden, Rahway, Roselle and Winfield.

Besides Elizabeth, Sen. Case also lost Linden and Winfield.

The Borough also endorsed the Nixon ticket, 3,265 to 1,867, and gave wide victory margins to both Senator Case and Congresswoman Dwyer. The final vote showed Sen. Case, 3,753 and Thorn Lord 1,170, while Mrs. Dwyer received 3,545 votes to Jack B. Dunn's 1,377.

A total of 5,024 voters went to the polls out of a registered 5,493, or 91.4 per cent.
