Annual Camp Fund Drive Tops Mark With New Donations at $110

in the amount of donor sending $10. Since its beginning in 1949, the Fund has provided over 2,300 local boys and girls from Summit with two-week vacations at nearby Scout and Y camps. Contributions from local residents during that time have reached nearly $33,000.

In 1960, the Fund hit a record high with $2,778, to beat the previous record set in 1959, which totaled $2,628.

The Fund operates on a non-profit basis and makes no solicitations nor conducts any mail appeal. There are no administrative expenses and all money received goes directly to paying camping expenses.

Donation Acknowledged

All contributions received are acknowledged weekly in the Herald, unless otherwise specified and immediately turned over to the Family Service Association. The association has sole use of the donations, makes the camp selections and operates the camp program.

Facilities used are generally Boy and Girl Scout and YMCA and YMCA camps located in the region. Other camps operated by charitable organizations are also used. Day camping is also included in the program.

Going rates for camping expenses this year are expected to be about $80 for two-week periods for boys; $50 for two-week periods for day camps for boys, and $50 to $55 for Girl Scout camps.

Early donations are important since summer camps require early registration. There is no "carry over" from the previous year and each season is ended with no balance on hand.

The aim of the Fund, however, is to obtain the bulk of the donations from Summit scriber donated $1 to the drive, Herald readers. If each subscriber would have resources amounting to approximately $6,000.

Those who receive two-week vacations are usually boys and girls who otherwise would remain in the city during the summer because of family financial difficulties. Others who are chosen come from broken or foster homes.

In recent years, the number of local boys and girls chosen for vacations has increased. Last year 113 youngsters were sent to camp, and according to Mrs. Ann Brokaw, executive secretary of Family Service Association, the increase is due to a population boost and the number of children coming from broken homes and from homes where it is financially impossible to send children to camp.

The Summit Herald and Family Service Association gratefully acknowledge the following contributions to the 1961 Summer Camp Fund. Donations may be mailed to the Summit Herald office, c/o Summit Herald, 22 Bank street.

Reuben Nixon Remark
Editor, Summit Herald:
I should like to take this opportunity to congratulate you on your stirring editorial in behalf of the Republican gubernatorial candidate, James P. Mitchell.

However, I must take strong exception to your remarks about former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. To my mind, and I am sure many others, Mr. Nixon is hardly a "tired, retired politician."

Snow Ordinance Needed
Editor, Summit Herald:
It is high time that the people of Summit started acting like adults!

How many will be willing to testify that when they do remove the snow it is only from the side door to the garage and thence the driveway, only because they must get the car out and they must go to work?

Let's face it, this ordinance is sorely needed. The Police Department can also testify to this as they left many warning notices this last winter which went completely unheeded.

My sympathy goes out to the aged and retired but this ordinance has become necessary by the overwhelming indifference of the majority and not the few conscientious people who took a little longer to remove the snow.

One Who Knows
"Interesting Point"
Editor, Summit Herald:
An interesting point arises from the article "Pizzi denies support role in local contest."

Members of the Republican Committee are closer to the voters than the members of Council and it is because of this fact that Council looks to the Committee for recommending the filling of a vacancy, and to the Committee for election or re-election.

What we do know is that the growth of these corporate scholarships is a heartening corollary of the growth of corporate social-mindedness.

MEDICAL NOTES

By Bryant L. Jones, M.D.

There is a new national pastime which is assuming the proportions of a fad similar to miniature golf and archery. It could be called getting into the bounce, for I am referring to trampoline tumbling.

Many advocates have claimed that trampolining is one of the better means of getting indolent Americans to exercise more, and indeed such may be the case, for it is fun and it is vigorous exercise.

Six serious or permanently maiming types of injuries have been common to those who bumped instead of bounced. Most serious have been those inflicted when the participant has landed on his head. Fatal skull fractures or broken necks which caused complete and permanent paralysis of both arms and legs (quadraplegia), have been reported from all parts of the country.

Dislocations of the shoulder and of the hip are frequent from improper landing on an outstretched arm or on a knee. Broken wrists and ankles leave a lasting reminder.

Most YMCA units offer courses in trampoline tumbling, supervised by instructors to train youngsters in proper techniques. It is a great sport, which can be enjoyed by young and old. But the unwary must beware, for training of the uninitiated amateur is imperative.

Too Many Watch and Wait

The annual spring cleanup gets underway Monday and this year, more than ever before, it should get the utmost cooperation from householder and merchant alike. This year the cleanup drive is being synchronized through the Summit Area communities with the idea in mind that now is the time to make the towns as attractive as possible.

Cleanup week is an annual affair and like most annual affairs, it has lost a lot of zing. There are many, to be sure, who always have the urge at this time of year to clean out the attic, the cellar and spruce up the grounds and they are the ones who use the extra services offered during cleanup week to good advantage.

It is hoped that the "ho-hummers" will be in a minority this year because the Summit Area Development Program is taking part in the project and is urging everyone to get into the act and really tackle the job of individual cleanup.

There is more to cleanup than tidying the attic or basement. There are vacant lots in all of our towns which are constant eyesores. They have, in many cases, become small, neighborhood dumps and go year after year with no attention. The owners have a direct responsibility to their community to see to it that such property is raised to the level of the other homes and stores in the immediate area.

Cleanup is another form of civic beautification and there is no reason why property owners can not do a bit more than accumulate trash for the pick-up trucks. All of our communities in the Summit Area need a touch of color, especially in the business sections for it is true that these sections are the drab ones.

Along with cleanup week we should have a spirit of do-it-yourself on the part of the merchants. There is no reason why some paint and small repairs can not be made to commercial buildings needing them. Window boxes of flowers, potted shrubs by a doorway, washed windows, all help in presenting a better look to the town.

Several thousands of dollars have been spent planting trees in the downtown section but it is not enough that we sit back and admire the trees. The time is now appropriate for a determination to make our town even more attractive. Several merchants have done this and their efforts are obvious. But several attractive stores by themselves do not make an attractive shopping area. There must be more effort along these lines if Summit is to achieve the goals of the beautification committee.

There are too many who watch and wait while others do the work.

Twenty Million Did Not Vote

An analysis of the voting record of American citizens in 1960 by the American Heritage Foundation constitutes an indictment of archaic election laws which exist in almost every state in the country.

Out of 104 million persons of voting age, nearly twenty million did not cast a ballot. There were some, such as the five million elderly and ill who could not make the trip to a polling place and for whom no excuse need be offered. There were others, such as in the south, who were denied the right to vote.

But there is a more important indictment to be leveled against horse and buggy election laws. More than eight million could not vote because they did not meet the residence requirements of the state to which they had moved. Another 2,600,000 did not vote because they were out of town on Election Day.

More than half of all who were disenfranchised fell afoul of some provision of the election law dealing with residency and this is a condition which should be eliminated as quickly as possible.

American living has undergone tremendous change in the last fifty years.

The people of this country constitute a shifting population due to the complexities of business and industrial demands, education problems and allied reasons. Because of outmoded laws, these people, changing their addresses, are denied their voting privileges, sometimes as long as two years.

The second sufferer is the voter who has met his residence requirements but due to business or other demands must be away from his home on Election Day.

The time has come to revise laws governing elections. While many states might regard such a move as an infringement upon state rights, experience makes it advisable to establish uniform election laws across the nation and so arrange statutes that only an absolute minimum stand to lose their vote because of conflict with residency laws.

American voting records are not impressive but the major fault lies in residency requirements. The process of government changes constantly to conform with the times. Election laws should be given the same consideration.

those areas where the people are permitted to vote upon them.

At present, where a school tax proposal is twice turned down by the voters, budgets are referred for final adjustment to the elected municipal governing bodies. The new legislation would add a further step. Where school boards disagree with the decision of the municipal governing body, the former would appeal to the State Commissioner of Education as final authority. At present the Commissioner enters the picture only if the municipal governing body fails to act.

The New Jersey Taxpayers Association points out that it would vitally affect the authority of locally-elected officials to control local spending. Already the state fixes minimum salaries of school teachers, controls tenure and pensions, regulates school building construction and mandates other areas of municipal and county costs which enter into local tax bills.

can be interpreted in two ways. If 80 per cent graduated with honors, that means that 20 per cent did not. And certainly young men and women so carefully culled and supposedly representing the highest fractional percentile of intelligence should all be capable of making honors. Would the percentage have been less if, instead of relying on tests, the candidates were selected as the top of their classes in reputable schools? One will never know.

What we do know is that the growth of these corporate scholarships is a heartening corollary of the growth of corporate social-mindedness. Some thousand or more winners for the current year have now been announced. Corporations donate their funds with no direct gain except the knowledge that what is good for the country is good for them. It is only one way in which American corporations are showing their good citizenship.

Ordinance Unreasonable
Editor, Summit Herald:

Enclosed herewith a copy of a letter which I have sent to the Common Council on the proposed snow removal ordinance. I should be pleased if you would print it in the Summit Herald.

Andrew L. Matte
36 Druid Hill road

May 1, 1961

This is about the proposed snow removal ordinance. I believe that this ordinance has been proposed without proper consideration of its consequences. There are many elderly people and people in poor health to whom snow removal presents a real problem, some of whom might be fatally affected by trying to comply with this ordinance. It has been difficult in the past to hire people to shovel walks when there is a big storm, and it has sometimes been several days before such help could be had at all. If this legislation is enforced, the great increase in demand will make such help almost impossible to obtain in time.

Another aspect which seems to have been lost sight of is that the ordinance will be a heaven-sent gift to gougers

Other possible uses are as shoulder patches for Boy and Girl Scout troops, door panel insignia for police and other municipal vehicles. It can be used in any size and it is hoped that it will become an integral part of all local industries and business firms.

"Our new symbol, modern in design and modern in concept, promises a bright new future for the Summit Area built on traditions of the past," Alfred Ely, Jr., chairman of the public relations coordinating committee of the Area Development Program, commented.

The burning torch of today, Ely added, also signifies an alerted neighborhood-aroused to the need for long-range planning to revitalize the entire area. The Area Development Committee is rapidly moving ahead on projects to accomplish this objective, he said.

The area beautification committee is nearing completion of its program of planting more than 100 maple tree trees in the downtown section of Summit plus plantings near the Summit railroad station. The cultural committee is staging a series of events, continuing into early June, to stimulate wider participation and interest in the area's cultural activities.

A program of clinics for salespeople will soon get under way which is designed to make shoppers feel more welcome, the Development Committee has arranged for all three communities to hold a coordinated "Clean-Up Week."

"We hope that the spirit of this symbol will provide an inspiration to everyone," Mr. Ely said. "For those who live and work in the Area, it should bring increased pride in their communities. For those further away, it should make them want to come to Summit to en-

LECTURER — Dr. Jeshaja Schnitzer, Rabbi of Temple Shomrei-Emunah, Montclair, will deliver the fifth lecture of this season's series on "Judaism: Philosophy and Practice" at the Jewish Community Center, on Monday, at 8:30 p.m. Dr. Schnitzer's topic will be: "Ideals of Jewish Marriage and Family Life." Dr. Schnitzer received his secular education at the University of Delaware and at Columbia University. He was ordained as rabbi by the Jewish Institute of Religion in 1944. Dr. Schnitzer, who was president of the Essex County Board of Rabbis until recently, has had an active career as army chaplain, rabbi, author and counselor in human relations, particularly in the field of marriage and family life. At Temple Shomrei-Emunah, of which he has been the spiritual leader since 1951, Dr. Schnitzer has established a human relations center and counseling program. The lecture, which is open to the public, will be followed by a question and answer period and by a social hour. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Albert D. Kans and Mrs. Sol Reichler.

Little Effect In Summit
Nor would Summit stand to change considerably because of its nearly complete development. Its southern tip, however, would fall into at least one noise zone.

One negative factor might be a decline in roughly 500 to 600 jobs in Summit since the jetport could foster a shift of the economic center of gravity to the west.

Much of the residential population would be displaced by an industrial complex around the jetport, the study predicted.

In another letter, Mayor Gensmer notified Council of the resignation of Patrolman Joseph Wall, effective Tuesday, and the appointment of Albert Loesley as probationary patrolman effective May 15, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation at an annual salary of $4,900.

A note from the Department of Institutions and Agencies informed Council of the city's eligibility to participate in the distribution of state aid for public assistance during 1961.

Permission was also granted the American Legion Auxiliary to sell poppies within the city on May 25, 26 and 27.

Council also passed a resolution opposing the postponement until 1963 of a Senate bill dealing with property tax assessments on grounds that the city has spent time, effort and money to calculate the taxable value of local property. The resolution urges Governor Meyner to veto the bill in an effort to determine the sentiments of all State municipalities and the public in the light of an absence of public hearings.

The Area Development Committee discarded dozens of ideas before arriving at the present symbol but the objective was always the same, to exemplify the traditional spirit of mobilization for the good of the Area.

Our number one salesman.

Even people who have never been near a VW can tell you how good the service is. It's more than just a reputation. It's become a legend. And once you've got a legend on your hands, you've got to live up to it. And we do. We land all our fellow VW dealers to see to it that you get the same front-door treatment whether you're buying a new car or having your old one greased. It's the kind of feeling you'd hope for if you drove up in a $5,000 car. Only you don't have to hope for it with a car that costs $1595.00* You get it. Of course, the VW itself helps explain why our service is so good. Sweeping changes are not made on the car every year; it isn't turned into a mechanic's nightmare. Result: our mechanics work on the same basic car year after year. So it's no wonder they know the car. Inside out. And it's no wonder people who own Volkswagens keep coming back. With friends. If that isn't a salesman, we don't know what is. Suggestion: if you haven't got a friend who owns a VW, you can still come in yourself. And take a new VW for a drive.

Controlling Leaf Spots Important to Tree Life

You don't have to see leaf spots in front of your eyes to do something about it—especially if you're the proud owner of choice hawthorns, horse chestnuts and elms.

These trees are susceptible to the fungus infection that mars their beauty and their health by spotting foliage and causing leaf fall. If trees were infected last year or the year before, be on the alert by bud-breaking time. Infection occurs as leaves open. You can't see this taking place since symptoms rarely are discernible in less than 4-6 weeks. So when buds break, break out the spray equipment. Ferbam fungicide is important for control. Coverage should be as complete as possible and repeated twice at ten day intervals. In a Spring marked by heavy rainfall, repeat the fungicide spraying a third time.

Infections of this kind over a period of years are considered serious. Defoliation weakens trees and makes them prime targets for other ills. Feeding with a good tree food high in nitrogen content helps restore growing vigor.

Moisture is necessary for germination of the microscopic fungus seeds wafted by winds on to the young, tender leaves. Sprays act as chemical barriers preventing germination of the spores. Fungus causing leaf-spot over-winter fallen leaves. Burning of fallen leaves from tainted trees in the autumn sometimes helps minimize the malady's spread.

Tender Care Necessary for Healthy Lawns

A lively lawn is a lawn that's full of vitality... lush and green throughout the growing season, respectable in appearance even in dormancy, when browning is most likely to occur.

A lively lawn, in short, has a good turf.

When we speak of a good turf, most of us, we're not thinking of golf links. All we're after is a presentable lawn one which looks just as good or a little better than the neighbors' and one which can take a little punishment from the kids and can survive a few barbecue parties.

The most vital ingredient in a good lawn—assuming you've purchased quality seed and sown it according to direction—is water. Water should be applied in the cool of the day, and infrequent, thorough soakings are much more effective than continuous shallow watering. You want the water-seeking roots of your lawn to grow down, where they'll be secure from heat and frost alike, firmly anchoring the grass plant, rather than up.

Grasses differ considerably in their water requirements. Warm-season grasses in a hot

Spray Time-Table Keyed to Spring

Springtime sprays to control pesky shade tree insects and leaf diseases are most effective when applied at the right time. The Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories suggests timing the major sprays to these events of spring.

Tent caterpillar	Apple blooms are at pink stage	Arsenate of lead or DDT on apple; DDT on cherry, peach and plum.
Holly and Boxwood leaf miner	Wygella is in full bloom	DDT or Sevin

General Feeders Riddle Leaves of Trees in May

The linden looper has taken its place up front in the May time tree pest parade in many localities.

It's a little chocolate brown caterpillar 1 1/2 inches long when fully grown, with 10 longitudinal wavy black lines dorsally that arches it back as it gaily loops from leaf to leaf, feeding on ash, maple, oak, hickory, sycamore, linden and other deciduous trees.

Linden loopers are general feeders that begin defoliating a wide variety of trees in May. These loopers appear to have increased in population in many areas. They are every bit as destructive as such co-general feeders as cankerworms, tent caterpillars, moths and elm span worms.

Frequently a dozen different kinds of these insects may feed on a single tree at the same time. Tree owners usually are unaware of the attacks until leaves become chewed and the caterpillars begin dropping.

A single spray in May can control all of them effectively. Use either DDT, lead arsenate, malathion or methoxychlor.

Backyard Can Be Key to Delicious Summer Meals

Canned vegetables in the cupboard are as good as money in the bank and mighty nice to have, too. So, why not plan to plant extra vegetable seeds in your garden this spring? When they reach their peak of ripeness, they can be canned for enjoyable eating during the winter months.

There are four popular methods of canning: cold pack, hot pack, pressure cooker and a boiling water bath. Use very tender young vegetables and wash them thoroughly.

Pack your jars firmly with the vegetables. Corn, lima beans and peas swell, so pack them only to one inch of the top of the jars. Other vegetables are packed to one-half inch to the

Important Pending New Jersey Legislation which affects Every Property Owner.

Here are the highlights of the Bill known as S-1 to amend the Law against Discrimination passed in 1945 and amended in 1954. At the present time, discrimination is prohibited by statute in housing financed by federally insured or guaranteed loans. Under the new Bill which was passed by the Assembly, the prohibition against discrimination because of race, creed, color, national origin, or ancestry extends to the sale or lease of all real estate. The exception is limited only to the rental of a portion of a two-family house, of which one is occupied by the owner, or the rental of a room or rooms in a two-family house in which the owner resides. There is also an additional exception applicable to a religious institution which may discriminate in the sale or rental of real property by giving preference to persons of the same religion.

Under this Bill owners, real estate brokers, landlords or managing agents are prohibited from refusing to sell, rent, lease, assign, or lease to any person because of race, creed, or color, or from discriminating against such persons in the terms, conditions and privileges of sale or in the furnishing of facilities or services.

It also prohibits any banking organization or mortgage company, insurance company or any other financial institution or lender from discriminating against an applicant for financial assistance for the purchase, construction, or repair of real estate because of race, creed, or color, nor can the conditions of the loan be changed because of race, creed, or color.

A public hearing for this bill is scheduled in Trenton for Friday, May 12, and is open to all interested persons.

Snow Law

(Continued from Page 1) have been made. The representatives of the group stated that some residents of those sections were willing to pay the cost of clearing up the sidewalks in an effort to avoid adherence to the measure.

Other opposition to the ordinance was based on such points as who would determine when the 24 hours is up, the advisability of using a plow machine during night hours and the formation following snow removal.

The ordinance was first introduced on April 4 following receipt by Council of numerous letters from 121 residents complaining that many walks in the city had not been cleared after heavy snowstorms.

In other matters Council approved an ordinance which delegates more authority to the Police Chief, and at the same time coordinates existing departmental rules and regulations. The measure also sets up an up-to-date system of operational procedure.

Council also approved another ordinance which extends the A-15 residential zone in the area bordering Kent Place boulevard near the site of the new Senior High School.

School Board

(Continued from Page 1) 297,414. Judge Heifield said the board would now have to re-advertise for bids on the parking lot.

The new building, scheduled to be opened by September, 1962, will contain 24 classrooms for 1,050 students, in addition to an auditorium, gymnasium, shops and administration offices. The structure will be located on a 20-acre site bounded by Morris avenue, Kent Place boulevard, Edgar street and Weaver street.

On March 7 Common Council approved a $2,077,000 bond issue for construction of the building. Prior to passage of the funds, Council had already approved $275,000 for acquisition of land, and $244,000 for equipment, pre-site development, architects fees, of which $90,000 was intended to match an anticipated federal grant for science equipment, making the total cost of the new school building $2,616,000.

The figure is below the estimated costs under the original C-B plan presented early in 1960. The plan was a source of heated debate for several weeks at that time.

Once the new structure is completed, the present high school, constructed in 1923, will be transformed into a junior high.

Building architect is Frederick Elsasner of Union, with Wood and Siebert of Greenwich, Conn., acting as consultants.

Heights Science Fair Winners Off To Kansas City

Two Berkeley Heights High School seniors will be sent to the twelfth national science fair—international at Kansas City, Mo., May 9-13. These students are the "grand winners" of the eighth annual Greater Newark Science Fair held under the sponsorship of the Newark College of Engineering.

Miss Barbara Jean Jones, a senior at Gov. Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights and classmate William Fitzpatrick will represent the Greater Newark Science Fair in an exhibition of more than 400 exhibits from most of the fifty states and several foreign countries.

The National Science Fair—International will be held in the municipal auditorium. Two hundred expert judges will evaluate the work of these young scientists. In addition to the regular judges there will be other special judges from the U.S. Air Force, U.S. Army, U.S. Navy, Associations, American Veterinary Medical Association, and American Medical and Dental American Pharmaceutical Association. Several other scientific societies and associations will also be represented in the judging.

While in Kansas City the students and their adult chaperones will be able to tour a number of the scientific and historical points of interest in the area. Among these will be the Truman Library, the Oil Creek Refinery of Standard Oil, the Trans World Airlines Aircraft Maintenance Center, American Telephone & Telegraph Com-distance calls to its prospects, informing them they'd won a new appliance, and all they'd have to do was come in and pick it up.

When the "lucky" person arrived (one "winner" estimated the excursion had cost him $25 in taxi, train and baby sitting expenditures) he found he hadn't really won anything after all, but had been chosen to participate in the company's "referral campaign."

There is nothing new in this plan. It has been used in sales promoting involving water softeners, garbage disposals, home siding contracts, and even vacuum cleaners and sewing machines.
The "referral scheme" preys on the gullibility of individuals and can be put over with enough conviction to disarm many otherwise prudent buyers. However, its earmarks, as outlined below by the National Better Business Bureau, are readily identifiable.

Chamber Warns of New Referral Selling Racket

"Like to own a shiny new car, Neighbor? Give me the names of six prospective buyers . . . for $100 a piece! Then come in and collect $50 for every name—one of them gives me. In no time you'll earn enough to pay for the car of your choice!"

Would you buy a car, vacuum cleaner, water softener, based on that pitch? According to W. Rae Crane, executive director of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce, hundreds of gullible people have. Result: remorseful customers, obliged to pay for things they didn't really want or need!

One of the "something-for-nothing" deals now current, this scheme is known as "Referral Selling." The prospect is told that he can get some article free, if he's willing to cooperate in a word-of-mouth advertising program. Sound harmless enough?

One gentleman thought it did. By the time he realized what had happened, and got around to reporting the operation to the National Better Business Bureau, he was legally bound to purchase a new car.
If all began when Mr. John Dough was approached by a promoter who immediately embarked on a long dissertation on the fantastic amount of money spent on advertising in the United States.

He then explained that a poll of automobile manufacturers revealed 45% of their sales were made on the strength of word-of-mouth recommendation. The manufacturers had decided it would be worth their while to pay a sum of money to an individual who would advertise a particular car.

The "salesman" went on to explain that his company would put Mr. Dough in a new car if he would, in turn, set up appointments for six of his friends who might be interested in buying.

For every friend Mr. Dough sent, he was told he would get $100 from the company's word-of-mouth advertising campaign. Moreover, an additional $50 was offered for everyone who signed up as a result of interviews set up by the original six friends.

Mr. Dough saw a rosy picture of sums of $100 and $50 pouring in. From this point on, he was sold! He picked out the car, signed a contract, and left a deposit.
Soon after, he found he wasn't getting enough "referral payments" to meet even a small portion of his obligation!

Racket Pyramids
Consider a chain which starts off with one person who gets six others to participate, and each of the six gets six more, and so on. Here is how the pyramid would progress:

1,296
7,776
46,656
279,936
1,679,616

This is the "endless chain" and it is endless. There aren't enough people around anywhere to sustain this method of selling!

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local Chamber is affiliated, this type of gimmick selling is operating all over the country. In some places, it has a new twist. One firm made long

1.) A friend or neighbor urges you to agree to an appointment to learn how you can get something for nothing.

2.) At the appointed interview, the salesman explains how you can participate in an "advertising" campaign.

3.) He points out that through his person-to-person advertising plan the car, water softener, or what have you, will be "free" to you.

4.) He tells you that it's easy to interest a few of your friends or neighbors in getting the same article—without having to pay for it.

5.) He implies that you will probably make money over and 7.) He asks you to sign all the usual sales agreements—just like any purchaser!

Wise consumers know these danger signals and realize that it pays to investigate—before you invest.

Fund Appeal Issued for Greer School

An appeal on behalf of children from broken homes, from Summit and surrounding areas, now attending Greer School at Hope Farm in Dutchess County is once again being sponsored by Mrs. Palmer J. Lathrop of 135 Ashland road.

In commencing the appeal Mrs. Lathrop reminds friends and neighbors that Greer School is contributing much to the well-being of this community. Providing home-like care, academic and vocational education for 200 boys and girls a year, Greer helps children at a crucial time in their lives.

When need is present Greer School acts to provide for the children and only then thinks about money for the support of these children. No child or surviving parent pays anywhere near Greer's cost. The vast majority pay less than one-third the cost.

Greer School, founded in 1906 by Bishop David Greer, is not wealthy. Almost two-thirds of its annual operating budget comes from gifts of interested friends and people in communities such as Union County.

New Glee Club Latest Newcomers' Endeavor

Newly-chosen head of the Newcomers glee club, organized by Mrs. Thomas O'Connor, former president, is Mrs. H. Edgar Bush of 95 Prospect Hill avenue, formerly of New York.

Currently a staff artist at the National Broadcasting Company, Mrs. Bush led the glee club at a graduate luncheon given at the Bow and Arrow, West Orange, at which the farewell song presented was composed by the new leader. Soloist for the event was Norma McCormick, currently of the Broadway stage and television.

Mrs. Bush, who attended Combs Conservatory of Music at Philadelphia, won a scholarship to Curtis Institute and the Milan Conservatory of Music in Italy. She was appointed organist at Convention Hall, Atlantic City, and then attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts at New York, from which she graduated as an honor student. Her career in the theater started when she replaced Helen Menken in "The Old Maid," followed by playing the lead role in the radio version of "Counterpoint" for five years.

Among those honored were three Summit students.
Tapped for membership were William L. Butler, a senior, and Thomas M. Mettee, a sophomore. The society tapped seven seniors, 11 juniors, and five sophomores for membership.

Late Rallies by Caldwell and Chatham Set Back Summit in Conference Tilts

Summit High's baseball team wound up on the losing end both times played against good fortune in times. The twin losses, 6-4 and 6-5, two games this last week, and 6-5 both in Suburban Confertoppers jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the third inning against Caldwell last Thursday. Mike Prior and Dan Connell hit back to back singles, and Bill Nicholson walked to load the bases. With two outs, Bill Robinson singled and Dave Gregory, pitcher, doubled. Four runs scooted across home plate for Summit, but it turned out that they weren't enough for a victory.

In the Caldwell fourth, an error for Nicholson and three walks led to an unearned run. Caldwell obtained three more runs in the fifth inning without getting a base hit. After walking two men, Gregory was relieved by Lee Smith. Another error by Nicholson and three walks by Smith resulted in three more unearned runs for Caldwell. Caldwell earned single runs in the sixth and seventh innings by putting together a total of five hits. Summit was defeated 6-4 on four unearned runs.

Fatal Chatham Homer
Monday the Hilltoppers traveled to neighboring Chatham where a 3-run homer by Bob Jones in the bottom of the seventh enabled Chatham to defeat Summit 6-5.

In Summit's half of the fourth, Gregory singled, Prior doubled, Dan Connell tripled, and Tom Zampano singled for three runs. Chatham had scored a run in the third as a result of two throwing errors, and got a second run on a walk, wild pitch, and single in the fourth inning.

In the fifth inning, Bill Robinson followed up Nicholson's walk with a triple, and then Robinson stole home for Summit's fifth run. A triple and a fly-ball brought in the third Chatham run in the sixth inning. Summit was leading 5-3 going into the bottom of the seventh. A walk and a single put two Chatham men on base with two outs. Bob Jones then hit a towering drive to left field, scoring his two teammates and himself. Chatham won 6-5.

Summit played New Providence yesterday, and is playing Madison today. Next week's schedule is: May 9—Millburn away; May 11—Verona home.

Piscataway Eases Past New Providence High, 6-5

On Friday afternoon the New Providence diamond squad absorbed its second defeat of the season at the hands of Piscataway High School at the latter's home field, by a score of 6-5.

The Pioneers opened the game with three quick runs as leadoff man, Art Paradise, was hit by a pitch and was quickly followed by John Erb, who walked. DiParisi grounded to short forcing Erb at second. Next batter, Carmen Piccolo, bled a double to right center scoring Paradise and sending DiParisi to third. Then after Reynolds had struck out Bailey stepped up and singled in DiParisi, and Piccolo.

That was all the scoring there was until the frustrating fifth as the Pioneers watched their lead go down the drain in a four-hit, six-run rally that gave the Pioneers a three run deficit to make up in the last two at bats. Big hits in the inning were struck by Vince Schoenfelder on a two-run single and Jim Kase with another two run blow.

In the sixth inning the Pioneers came back with two runs on a walk to Piccolo and a base hit by Bob Reynolds. Bailey followed them with a walk and then Martin stepped up and knocked in two more with a single over second.

The Boro boys got something going again in the last inning with a walk to DiParisi and a judgement error by the third baseman which put Piccolo on first and DiParisi on third. However, the New Providence team was unable to push anyone in as the next three batters went hitless ending the game.

The loss dropped New Providence to a 1-2 and 2 record and gave Piscataway their initial victory after three setbacks.

Paper Mill Now Available for Public Meetings

The Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn, anxious to play a part in the development of New Jersey, is offering the theatre facilities to business and industry for daytime use.

For the first time, the theatre has formed an industrial meetings department, under the direction of Charles Brotman, formerly in the industrial division of MCA. All of the facilities of the theatre will now be available for conventions, fashion shows, conferences, lectures, sales meetings and other business functions.

The theatre, though only 15 minutes from downtown Newark, is in a charming suburban setting, a river flows behind it, trees surround it, and a spacious lot for convenient parking.

The large stage is adaptable to any purpose. Even the most elaborate sales presentation can be made easily. The 1,000-seat auditorium is air conditioned and equipped with exceptionally comfortable seats, all an aid in making a meeting a success.

Because of the varied facilities of the theatre, a full day meeting can be planned. Coke and coffee breaks or catered meals can be served indoors or outdoors under the trees. To top off a busy day, executives can stay and attend the Paper Mill show of the evening.

Heating Plant Balky? Fuel Bills Excessive?
Let us give you all the facts about modernization.

The heating plant is the heart of your home. Right now is a good time to find out if it is being as good to you as it should be.

Does it keep you continuously warm... with temperature never fluctuating more than a healthy one degree?

Does it maintain uniform warmth throughout the house?

Does it operate dependably... never letting you down?

Is it the right size for your house?

Is it giving you the most for your fuel dollars?

These are some of the questions you should ask yourself. If any of the answers are not satisfactory, you should think about the possibility of modernization or replacement.

It is quite possible that new OIL HEATING equipment... conveniently financed over a period of years... will save you money, through more efficient fuel use, and through elimination of repair costs.

Let's get together for an expert diagnosis of the "heart of your home." No obligation, of course.

Call us today for an expert evaluation of your present heating plant.
