

Park Commission Tells Council It Wants NIKE Area for County Use

Plans for acquisition of the soon-to-be-vacated NIKE site in the Watchung Reservation for use as park land by the city, a move recently recommended to Council by the Planning Board, may be altered by current plans of the Union County Park Commission to obtain the same land for itself.

In a letter released by Common Council Tuesday night, Rudolph Krestan, general superintendent and secretary of the commission, said he had been "directed" to express the commission's interest in acquiring the land for park purposes.

Omitted from the Union County Park request, according to Mr. Krestan, would be any land obtained from Union County Regional High School District Number One, which it is understood, will be returned to original ownership once the NIKE base is vacated. In addition, the request would also exclude any land the State Highway Department would require for proposed Interstate Highway 78.

Urged Acquisition
Last month the Planning Board urged Common Council to pursue acquisition of the control site off Glenside avenue for use as park land. Council had referred the matter to the Public Welfare Committee for further study.

The site in question is one of two tracts which make up the Army's 65-acre missile base, which consists of a control and launch site in the reservation off Summit lane in Mountain-side. The federal government owns the Summit site and leases the other from the Union County Park Commission. Both are operated by the New Jersey National Guard.

According to Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer, the city was advised the property would be sold by the General Services Administration, provided, no other federal agency claimed it for use.

Mrs. Dwyer had indicated she felt the city would be eligible for acquisition of the land for use as a playing field or other recreational activities, after the property was declared excess and after submission of a formal application indicating use.

The Planning Board had recommended that the land be used for a neighborhood playground and picnic site.

Although the land could conceivably be acquired at a reduced cost or no cost whatsoever, the city would have to provide an access road which would require purchase of a lot in the housing development off Rotary drive.

Presently the site includes barracks and is on top of the ridge which is an extension of Druid Hill. It overlooks the Watchung Reservation and also Long Hill in the other direction. The site covers a large area and could provide space for a playground, picnic site, and a wooded area with what is termed "especially beautiful views on two sides."

The Summit land was purchased by the government for the Nike base from the two developers, who were the owners, Wellmore Builders and William A. Kirk. There was no reverter clause and the land is owned outright by the United States.

In other matters Council received a check from the Summit Civic Foundation in the amount of $1,063 to repay the city one-fourteenth of the cost of street and sewer installation in Dennis place for a lot that was recently sold.

Guy Ruggiero was promoted to Fireman First Class at an annual wage of $6,225, and taxi drivers licenses were awarded to John J. Reilly, 140 Morris avenue; Leonard Sagendorf, 104 Park avenue; and Emil Bon-tempo, 15 Crescent drive, New Providence.

Annual Yule Fund Gifts Lag at $83

Donations to the annual Summit Christmas appeal for needy families lagged this week with contributions amounting to only $83, it was reported yesterday.

Under the name of the Summit Christmas Fund, co-sponsored by the Welfare Department and Family Service Association, contributions will be turned over to families and persons living on marginal incomes who are not able to provide the small luxuries that make Christmas a day apart.

As in past years, emphasis is being placed on early donations in order to facilitate planning for distribution before Christmas.

Persons who will benefit from donations include the Doe Family. Two years ago, following the birth of the youngest child, Mrs. Doe had to be hospitalized for mental care, which went on for many months. When she was discharged the prognosis was poor, but for several months after returning home, she seemed to have recovered entirely.

Illness Returning
Now, gradually, Mrs. Doe is showing signs of her illness returning and it will be a sad Christmas if it becomes necessary for this mother to be hospitalized again. In addition to the emotional problems gripping the family, there are also financial problems. Help this Christmas will be greatly appreciated.

Help would also be forthcoming for Mr. and Mrs. B., both elderly, and both recently hospitalized. The prognosis for them is also poor. In addition, to these worries, their limited income adds to the gravity of the situation. While help is badly needed, this couple is very proud and will not accept "charity." But a gift of money at Christmas would be acceptable and would enable them to purchase many needed supplies.

Mrs. P. is a widow with six children whose husband died after a lingering illness which sapped all their savings. The strain of watching her husband slowly die added to the financial strain and her attempt to keep a cheerful attitude for the sake of the children has taken its toll. The family physician asked that some of the children be placed in foster homes for a time so Mrs. P. could get some rest and become more relaxed. For two months, some of the

Local Man, 28, Dies in Crash On Turnpike

A 28-year-old Summit man was killed Monday when his car went out of control on the New Jersey Turnpike near Milltown. The dead man is David H. Campbell, of 129 Passaic avenue, a New York advertising executive.

According to police, the vehicle ran 400 feet across a turnpike garage lawn then splashed through Milltown Creek before coming to a stop.

Mr. Campbell was pronounced dead on arrival at about 2 p.m. at Middlesex General Hospital, New Brunswick.

Mr. Campbell also maintained a residence at Prussia, Pa. Born in Detroit, he lived in Wayne, Pa., before moving here in April. A graduate of Principia College in Illinois, he was an account executive for McManus, John & Adams Co.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Joann Campbell; a daughter, Amy Susan, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell, also at home, and a brother and a sister.

Symphony Lists Date of Annual Yule Concert

The annual Christmas concert of the Summit Symphony Orchestra will be presented on Wednesday, December 12, at 8:15 p.m. in the Junior High School auditorium.

Featured soloist for the concert will be Bryan Judas, a 14-year old student at the High School of Performing Arts, New York City. Judas, who has appeared in concerts in Town Hall, Gershwine Hall, and over radio station WNYC, will perform Beethoven's "First Piano Concerto." He will be accompanied by the orchestra under the direction of Harry S. Hannaford.

Judas has also been a member of William Kroll's chamber music class at Brooklyn College. Mr. Kroll invited him to appear in Gershwine Hall in a performance of Beethoven's "Violin and Piano Sonata No. 5." In May of this year, he played the Beethoven "First Piano Concerto" in the Junior Festivals of the National Federation of Music Clubs and received the highest, or "superior," rating. He has also played with the Hudson Symphony Orchestra of New Jersey, the Y.M.H.A. Symphony of Brooklyn, and has accompanied young violinists in the Brooklyn Academy of Music and at Town Hall. He has auditioned for Herman Neuman of radio station WNYC and has performed twice on "Young America Plays," in July and September of this year.

The Summit Symphony is sponsored by the Board of Recreation, and there is no admission charge for the concert. The complete program for the concert will be: "Rosamunde" Overture — Schubert; "Clair de lune" — Debussy; Piano Solo — "First Piano Concerto" — Beethoven; Bryan Judas, piano soloist; "Symphony in B Minor" (The Unfinished Symphony) — Schubert; "Toccata" — Frescobaldi, transcribed by Hans Kindler.

An out-of-control fire caused by burning leaves damaged the side of a house last Thursday at 19 Hillside avenue.

Courtesy Ticket System Puts Squeeze on Chamber

First reports on the new warning parking ticket program introduced for holiday shoppers jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and Common Council appear to indicate that shoppers are taking undue advantage of the system.

Col. Norman Barnett, membership secretary of the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce and the man who is handling details of the new parking plan, said the first four days of the new system showed that 426 warning tickets were issued to overtime parkers. The Chamber reimburses the city $5 for each courtesy ticket issued. Thus, the first four days of the program set the Chamber back $2,130.

The large number of tickets issued may be because of the novelty of the program, Barnett said. "At least, we hope so. At this rate it would be entirely too expensive for the local merchants to continue the expense of underwriting the cost of the extra time permitted at the meters."

"The whole idea of the system is to enable shoppers to patronize local stores without worrying about dashing out to move their cars. We want them to continue to shop here and we want to make it as convenient for them as possible, but we also would appreciate a little cooperation on the part of the shoppers. They should make every effort to return to their cars in the time they are permitted with the coin they put in the meter, be it 30 minutes, one or two hours. If they are not careful, they may kill the goose that laid the golden egg," he explained.

"The entire blame can not be placed upon shoppers," Barnett added. "It appears that many merchants and their employees are also taking advantage of the program. It must be remembered that the system is on trial and if it doesn't work out to the satisfaction of all concerned it will be dropped," Barnett said.

Suspect Pleads Innocent to Theft Charges

Joseph Burns of 11A Doremus street, arrested at gunpoint November 26, on charges of breaking and entering, pleaded not guilty before Magistrate Albert H. Bierman last week and was released in $5,000 bail to await a hearing later this month.

Burns, who was apprehended moments after he entered Douglas Motors on Broad street early on the morning of November 26, later admitted to police that he had broken into at least seven other places during the last few months, but that the entire take from the entries had netted him no more than about $100.

His arrest last week at gunpoint was made by Lt. Martin Keating and Patrolman Joseph N. Grobarz. Playing a hunch that the alleged robber would return to the scene of several similar thefts in the Industrial place area, which runs parallel to Broad street, Lt. Keating staked out the alley and waited. Shortly before 2 a.m., Burns was seen as he allegedly entered Douglas Motors. Both Lt. Keating and Patrolman Grobarz entered the establishment and flushed out Burns at gunpoint.

Burns, police said, admitted that he previously broke into the Beacon Hill Tavern on Beechwood road twice, Douglas Motors on a previous occasion, as well as the Summit House, the Junior High, Otto Schmidt, Thomason Brothers and the Tydol Service station.

A part-time waiter, police said Burns has no record of previous arrests.

Athenaeum to Offer Special Opera Program

The Metropolitan Opera Studio in a concert presentation in costume of Rossini's "The Barber of Seville" will be the second Athenaeum program of the season on December 13, at 8:15 p.m., in the auditorium of the new Senior High School. This will be the Athenaeum's first meeting at the new school.

The singers appearing in the production have been selected from Metropolitan Audition winners augmented by other American supporting singers, all trained for the presentation under supervision of the Metropolitan management.

The production in one of a series of performances of "The Barber of Seville" which the Student Program of Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts is taking for junior and senior high schools in cooperation with the Metropolitan Opera Studio. The Studio also continues to offer the concert version in costume of "Cosi Fan Tutti" which was heard by the Athenaeum two seasons ago.

Purpose of these Lincoln Center Student Programs initiated two years ago is to give school children in the metropolitan area an opportunity to become more familiar with the performing arts. Another phase of the same program is the series of Student Concerts presented by the New York Philharmonic at the end of its regular season, well as a number of open rehearsals to which students are invited. A third phase is a series of seven solo and grow recitals prepared for in-school presentation by students of the Juilliard School of Music. Dr. Mark Schubart executive director of the Lincoln Center Fund, directs the student program.

The cast of "The Barber of Seville" will be: Rosina-Nancy Williams; Count Almaviva-Nicholas di Virgilio; Dr. Bartolo-Gimi Beni; Figaro-Nola Van Way; Don Basilio - Eugene Green; and three roles will be played by Michael Bronson-waiter, soldier, and notary. The accompanist will be Edwin Stahl associate musical director of the Metropolitan Studio. Mr. Beni staged the production.

United Campaign Funds Reach $161,259 Mark

Contributions to this year's United Campaign climbed to the $161,259 mark as of Tuesday toward a goal of $190,100, a spokesman for the annual drive announced this week.

At this time last week, contributions stood at $158,683. It was also announced that out of a goal of $3,529, the doctors and dentists' division raised $3,970, to go nearly 30 per cent over their quota.

It is expected that a final report of the campaign will be made at the end of the month.

Shopper Poll Results Now Being Talled

A survey on Summit Area shopping habits and consumer preferences recently undertaken as a joint project of the Summit Area Development Committee and the Junior Fortnightly Club has been completed, Richard Wellbrock, chairman for the survey, reported at last week's meeting of the Development Committee.

Wellbrock said that results of the poll will be made public about January 1. A total of 450 Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights residents were queried and results of the poll are now being tabulated. The house-to-house phase of the survey was made by Junior Fortnightly members. Other shoppers were queried in parking lots, stores and on the street.

Junior Fortnightly representatives on the survey were Mrs. Kenneth Robson and Mrs. T. Watson Smith.

The Development Committee also announced the addition of two new members. Representing realtors will be Donald MacLeod of the Whitmore, Kelly & MacLeod agency. MacLeod, formerly with the Spencer M. Maben agency for 13 years, is treasurer of the Summit Board of Realtors, a member of Beacon Hill Club and Overlook Lodge, F.A.M.

Named a civic-professional representative is Dr. John Dunne of 261 Springfield avenue, a local dentist. He is a member of the Lions Club and Summit Area Chamber of Commerce.

3% Pay Boosts Scheduled for City Employees

New Building Up Despite November Dip
Although new building last month fell below the comparable period last year, construction within the city for the first 11 months of 1962 still remains nearly $500,000 above the 1961 level, the building inspector's monthly report revealed this week.

With new building in November totaling $87,900, year-to-date figures now stand at $1,642,709, an increase of $482,759 over the $1,159,950 reported during the same period last year.

November's figure represents an $87,050 decline from the November, 1961 total of $174,950, and a $69,900 drop from the $157,800 in new construction during October of this year.

Those receiving new building permits last month included Baltusrol Construction Co., 6 Lowell avenue; Sherman Park, Inc., 32 Little Wolf road; Kibar Construction Co., 41 Weaver street, $14,000; C. and C. Construction Co., 87 Baltusrol road, $18,000; McNally Ward, 42 Gloucester road, $27,000, and M. Leone, 28 Hentley road.

Alterations Stay Up
While new building remained above last year's totals despite a falling off last month, alteration-additions were undergoing the same trend.

With permits last month reaching $40,200, the 10-month totals now stand at $441,955, an increase of $121,207 over the $320,748 reported during the comparable period in 1961.

Last month's figure represents a drop of $8,910 from the $49,110 reported in November of last year, and a decline of $43,760 from the $92,870 during October of this year.

Last month's alteration-additions also included construction of a fallout shelter, the first such permit issued in nearly a year when the Berlin crisis began to mount.

Those issued alteration-addition permits last month included L. H. Nolte, 32 Union place, $800; Construction Service Co., 123 Whittridge road, $2,000; J. (Continued on Page 26)

An average wage increase of 3 per cent for most city employees is spelled out in the 1963 salary ordinance which Common Council unanimously introduced Tuesday night.

A public hearing on the measure is scheduled for Tuesday, December 18 at 8:30 p.m.

Last year pay hikes amounted to approximately 2 per cent, but according to Ward 1 Councilman Elmer J. Bennett, finance chairman, next year's wage boosts follow the policy announced last September by Council when it asked department heads to hold the line at 3 per cent increases. For department heads and other supervisory personnel, salaries have been adjusted above the 3 per cent ceiling in order to reflect increased responsibilities, improved performance and other factors.

The increases range from $25 for a part-time custodian at the Board of Health, to $1,200 to the chief of the Fire Department.

Under the proposed ordinance, some overall increases would also include car allowance adjustments. In the past, car expenses were paid on a flat fee basis. However, according to Mr. Bennett, the system was "not a realistic one," and beginning next year, those employees who are reimbursed for car use, will be paid at the rate of 10 cents per mile. In order to compensate for the reduction in car allowances, those entitled to reimbursement will be given a separate increase over their basic wage boost.

The new system would affect the city clerk, secretary to the board of assessors, city engineer, building inspector, public officer and the city forester.

Chief Up $750
Police Department employees would receive a scale of increases ranging from $200 for probationary officers to $750 for the chief. Probationary officers would receive $5,200 as a starting wage, while patrolmen fourth grade would start at $5,470, third grade at $5,730; second grade, at $5,990 and first grade, at $6,425, an increase of $200.

Both detective first grade and sergeants would be slated for raises of $250 to a salary of $7,400, while detective lieutenants would go up $500 to $9,500, and lieutenants would be raised $600 to $9,000.

Increases ranging from $165 to $1,200 were proposed for the Fire Department, with the largest increase in the department and the city going to the chief, making his salary $11,000, representing an increase of $1,200.

Fire lieutenants would be raised $600 to $9,000; first grade firemen, $200 to $6,425; second grade, $175 to $5,990; third grade, $170 to $5,730, and fourth grade, $165 to $5,470. Probationary firemen would be raised $200 to a minimum of $5,200.

The highest paid municipal employee would be the city engineer with a salary of $11,650, including an increase of $500 plus $100 for car and allowances adjustment. Other municipal employees receiving raises would be the executive secretary to the Common Council, $850, (Continued on Page 26)

Calvary Names New Assistant Minister

Rev. Russell Gale, formerly of All Saints Church, Regina, Saskatchewan, has been appointed assistant minister at Calvary Episcopal Church, it was announced this week.

He will succeed Rev. Robert K. Dixon, who will leave January 15 to join the Church of the Holy Trinity, N.Y.C.

Mr. Gale, a former Methodist layman, is a native of Peekskill, N. Y., and for some years was a resident of Bogota. A Navy veteran, he was formerly district freight agent of the Canadian Steamship Lines before entering the Episcopal ministry.

A graduate of Montreal Diocesan College, Mr. Gale has also served churches in Ontario. He will assume his duties here on January 2.

Deadline is Set for Church Music Page

The Summit Herald will continue its yearly custom of printing the complete Christmas music program and devotional services of the Summit Area churches. This annual feature will appear in the Thursday, December 20 issue.

Because of the mechanical difficulties involved in putting the page together, it is necessary that a deadline of Wednesday, December 12 be set for all copy for the Christmas music page. Material submitted after that date will have to be omitted.

It is therefore requested that all ministers and choir and music directors of the various Summit Area churches cooperate by submitting their programs typed and double-spaced no later than December 12.

Five Escape House Blaze In Heights

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kurtz of 52 Exeter drive, Berkeley Heights, and their three young children were forced to flee from their home at 3 a.m. Monday when fire, apparently caused by a defect in a living room fireplace, spread up the rafters to the roof.

No one was injured. Damage to the dwelling and contents was estimated by police at approximately $8,000. Firemen were at the scene for three hours.

The fire was detected at 2:30 a.m. by Mrs. Kurtz who was awakened by the smell of smoke in the two-story frame house. She woke her husband, and the children who fled the smoke-filled home.

Kurtz said that the family had a fire in the fireplace during Sunday afternoon, but that it was extinguished before the family went to bed. He said that apparently the fire had been smoldering for some time before erupting into flame.

The fire and resulting smoke seriously damaged the living room, recreation room, attic and other sections of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz and children were taken into the home of a neighbor.

SOME THOUGHTS FOR "The Office Party"

YOUR INFLUENCE CAN COUNT TO KEEP THE TRUE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

- Honestly now, does your office party fit your best image of Christmas fun? keeps pushing the liquor industry
- Do the drinkers run your office party? Isn't it time to take a stand for good fun without liquor?
- There are lots of folks like yourself who do not drink. Reinforce them by your own steady, good humored control. Real fellowship needs no artificial stimulant.
- Thoughtful leaders of Business and Industry are increasingly concerned over the irresponsible drinking at Christmas parties. Are you?
- A miserable hangover is a measure of immaturity. It labels and reveals personal values in a pathetic way.
- Tragic accidents often follow a drunken party. We have a responsibility to our friends to get them home happy — but sober.
- Folks who allow themselves to get "high" at the Christmas Party feel pretty low when they recall the meaning of Christmas.

It could be FUN to make this year's Company Party a Family Affair. Give gifts which can be shared with loved ones. More people are giving food instead of whiskey as a token of friendship.

YMCA to Hold Family-Style Supper Party

All family members of the YMCA and their friends are invited to attend the annual pot luck supper which will be held at the "Y" on Sunday, December 9, from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

There will be swimming from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., followed by supper served buffet style by the committee. Each family is asked to bring a casserole or a salad large enough to feed eight people. At the conclusion of the supper everyone will gather around the piano for an old-fashioned song fest, led by Frank D. Hyden with Mrs. Hyden at the piano. The evening will be brought to a close with the distribution of "a surprise" to all children.

The committee is planning an ice skating party for January 20, a fun day at the "Y" for February 10, a bowling party on March 10, a theater party at the Paper Mill Playhouse on April 20, a trip to West Point on May 20, and the annual family cruise and weekend at Camp Kananis on June 20.

These programs are being sponsored by the family committee which is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCarty. Other members of the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitely, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Anagnost, Mr. and Mrs. David Goffin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris, Mr. and Mrs. William Smythe, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Lavery, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lindsey, William Kueffer and Mr. Hyden.

Indictments Against Area Trio Dropped

Indictments charging a Summit man and two New Providence men, as well as three others, with the selling of counterfeit drugs in 1961 were dropped Monday at the request of Assistant Attorney General John J. Bergen. The charges against the men were dismissed after the state reported it had insufficient evidence to prosecute the case.

Named in the indictments when they were filed in April, 1961, were Louis Schick of 41 Edison drive and Leonard Sillicher of 31 Westmont Road, and Herbert P. Gellman of 26 Madison Avenue, both of New Providence. The other three men named were from Rahway, Irvington and West Orange.

The men pleaded innocent before Union County Court Judge Ervin S. Fulop on May 12, 1961, to charges that they sold tablets bearing unaffiliated trade marks of six national drug manufacturers.

State and local police arrested the men after a raid in June, 1961, on the General Pharmaceutical Co. of Rahway where large quantities of unaffiliated and counterfeit drugs were confiscated.

Bergen said that the state had no evidence that the defendants knew the drugs or medication involved were forged or counterfeit stamps or labels.

He said that under the law, the state must be able to show that the defendants knew the drug labels were forged before they sold them.

"The forgery was so exact," Bergen said, "that only an expert of the particular manufacturer could detect the difference from their own stamped impression."

He said that the state could only show that the men had possession of the forged or counterfeit drugs. "Possession alone," Bergen said, "will not supply an inference that the defendants knew the drugs or medications were forged or counterfeit labels."

State authorities at the time said the drugs purchased either directly or indirectly from the company were sold between January, 1962, and November, 1961, in New Providence, Union, Springfield, Linden, Elizabeth, Fairview and Hillside.

WORKING MEN—In order to make way for the new Route 24, houses in the Hillside Avenue area have been moved like so many blocks. Shown here is a house formerly located at 24 Hillside Avenue, now moved to 24 Hillside Avenue, New Providence. The house, purchased earlier this year by the state in order to clear the area for the new highway, are being built up. The one shown above was purchased by N. Frazee, who promptly hired contractors to move the house from Hillside Avenue to 24 Hillside Avenue. ## Red Cross to Aid Aliens

Send Greetings Home

In order to make available its facilities to foreign students and nationals of other lands employed by local industry, the Summit Area chapter, American Red Cross, has initiated an international relations committee. The committee is cooperating with the international fellowship of the Y.M.C.A. The new program will inaugurate a "Voice To Home" project whereby foreigners can record messages which will be tape recorded by the Red Cross and sent to families abroad.

The Y.M.C.A. is contacting its individuals and personnel directors as well as the foreign directors of the American Red Cross, who are interested in the project. Each individual is asked to write out his own message and to call either the Red Cross directly or the Y.M.C.A. to make an appointment for the recording. The Red Cross will mail the recording to the designated family at no expense to the sender.

tape recorder, in order to hear the "voice to home". For further information either the Red Cross, CR 3-2056 or the Y.M.C.A. CR 3-3230 can be contacted.

High School Debating Team in Second Win

The Summit High School debating club scored its second triumph of the season in an attempt when it defeated a team from Delbarton School here last Friday afternoon.

The Summit team, consisting of debating club president Dick Miller and vice-president Dave Jordan, won a 14 to 13 decision over their opponents while debating the affirmative side of the resolution, "Resolved, that the United States should institute a policy of reciprocal free trade with the non-Communist nations." This was the Club's first debate conducted in Oregon style, where the teams cross-examine each other.

Girl Scout Yule Wreaths to Aid Trip to Mexico

Christmas wreaths from Maine are being sold by Summit senior Girl Scouts for the third consecutive year.

The 26-inch wreaths which will be hand-decorated by members of Troop 56 will be available for delivery between December 12 and 18.

The Christmas wreath sale is the one money-raising project in the community in which the troop is engaging to finance an international friendship tour to the Girl Scout cabins at Mexico in the spring of 1964, according to Mrs. Martha Hubert, troop leader.

Those desiring to order wreaths may call Beryl Matthews, CR 3-3158, in Summit, and Judy Reisman, CR 7-6207, at New Providence.

Twelve members of Troop 56 are preparing to become program aides in a, course, under the direction of Mrs. Hubert and Mrs. Donald Smith. They will assist in the programs of Beginner and Intermediate troops in Summit and New Providence and will each give 30-hours of service to the younger scouts.

Coconuts Now
Pasteurized

A Rutgers University microbiologist who likes coconut cream pie has performed a valuable service for his fellow pie eaters and the American coconut industry.

Dr. Carl P. Schaffner of (Vanderveer Road) Somerville, associate professor of microbial chemistry at the State University's Institute of Microbiology, recently developed the first pasteurization process ever designed for coconuts. He thus resolved a crisis which had threatened to bar all coconut imports into the United States.

Such a ban would have seriously curtailed the nation's supply of fats, oils and other coconut products.

The problem arose when European health officials noted that coconuts imported from Ceylon had been invaded by salmonellae, pathogenic bacteria which cause typhoid fever, enterogastroenteritis and other diseases. American distributors, who receive most of their imports from the Philippine Islands, looked on anxiously until tests revealed that Philippine coconuts also were contaminated.

Although most companies insisted their coconuts could not have been affected, the Food and Drug Administration detained many shipments at the docks. With a coconut shortage looming, Red V, a large New York distributor, asked Dr. Schaffner to conduct tests at the Institute of Microbiology here.

"We had no trouble finding plenty of salmonellae," smiled Dr. Schaffner, a personable young scientist who readily admits he was upset by the prospect of contaminated coconut cream pie.

Dr. Schaffner, who had been planning a vacation lecture tour of the Far East, agreed to include the Philippines in his itinerary. He moved into large company plantations on the islands of Mindanao and Luzon and went to work.

Within three weeks, he had set up two modern laboratories, proved that salmonellae often invade coconuts and developed the pasteurization process to get rid of them.

"Coconuts had always been attacked by salmonellae," said Dr. Schaffner, "but no one ever dreamed this was true. The shells often crack in handling, enabling the bacteria to invade coconuts which are stored on the ground. And the coconut milk is an excellent medium for the growth of salmonellae."

Dr. Schaffner emphasized that the bacteria had never presented a serious danger because most of them were killed when the coconuts were dried or modified in other processes. But pasteurization insures the products will be free of salmonellae.

In Dr. Schaffner's process, the coconuts are immersed in hot water tanks after the husks are shed. Since wet heat is the most effective means of killing bacteria, this eliminates most of the salmonellae. Drying in hot ovens takes care of the remainder.

There was originally some difficulty in implementing the process on a large scale, but Dr. Schaffner trained the Filipinos in pasteurization techniques and modern bacteriological equipment has since been brought to the island.

The Food and Drug Administration, which has approved the process, reports that it has been accepted by many coconut distributors and contamination from salmonellae is no longer a threat. Which means that Dr. Schaffner and other pie lovers have nothing to worry about, except perhaps their weight.

Dowries Filled Early
Christmas Stockings

St. Nicholas, the early bishop who was the first Santa Claus, is also credited with originating the custom of hanging up Christmas stockings.

According to legend, he wished to provide dowries for the three daughters of a bankrupt merchant. Since he wanted the gifts to be anonymous, he tossed bags of gold down the merchant's chimney. Accidentally, the gold fell into stockings the girls had hung by the fireplace to dry.

Factual handicap is that, though St. Nicholas lived in the fourth century, stockings weren't made with feet until the 11th century—but the Christmas stocking story is still a happy legend.

It's Time to Think of Others

In this land of plenty and in a community so richly endowed in many ways, it is difficult many times to really comprehend that there are those living among us, whose income is so marginal that even Christmas is an economic burden the family is not in a position to assume.

Yet, such is the case. And it is the purpose of the Summit Christmas Fund to collect sufficient money to permit these marginal families to enjoy the spirit of Christmas.

For more than a decade the Christmas Fund has been providing a bit of cheer for each Summit family who ordinarily lives on the thin thread between total desperation and some semblance of life as the rest here know it.

Locally, and throughout the land, stores are crowded with happy shoppers, who know no matter what the effort, come Christmas morning, and all will be in readiness and plenty.

In some families no matter what the effort, there will be little cheer and little joy on Christmas morning, unless others make provision to supply the Christmas joy.

Significantly enough, in our community, the school children have often donated much of the funds collected, for probably children above all can picture what Christmas can be like, without the big money, the tree, presents and the joy of the family.

Let's take a cue from the children and give generously to support the Christmas Fund. Early donations are essential to make this annual project of the city's Welfare Department and the Family Service Association a success.

Send your check to the Summit Christmas Fund. Checks may be forwarded to the Welfare Department, 71 Summit Avenue, or to Family Service, 95 Summit Avenue.

That Doggie in the Window

While fond parents and grandparents may wishfully hope to find the right "doggie in the window" for junior at Christmas time, unfortunately nature does not provide female dogs, or cats, with litters for delivery on Christmas Eve.

Foresighted individuals, seeking a pet for a child, will literally have to start their Christmas shopping now, and perhaps the kennel will hold the pet until Christmas. But, locally there is no kennel available through the services of the Summit Animal Welfare League, who cautions that stray kittens and puppies are reported daily because of lack of foresight and care.

For the child and the animal, the League advises it best to buy the kitten or puppy now, tell the child it is a Christmas present and when Christmas comes, tie a big red bow on its collar, or otherwise dress the pet up for the occasion.

Remember, too, that since proper care of a pet is essential, children receiving them should be old enough to take proper care of the animal. It's always a good idea to provide a book on the care of pets to go along with the puppy or kitten.

Uncle Sam Feels the Pinch

Troubled by a chronic lack of cash? You are not alone for now we are told the United States Mint has its own problems about a shortage of money. However, the case is slightly different since the problem facing mint officials is a lack of nickels and pennies.

Most Federal Reserve banks have begun a rationing system to prevent the hoarding of coins by merchants in anticipation of the heavy demands during the Christmas shopping season. In Chicago one supermarket chain has asked its employees to surrender their piggy banks to produce more coins.

It is not so much that officials have been caught unaware of the growing demand for coins. It is simply that steps taken to meet the need have been inadequate. The growing use of vending machines, the increase in the number of coin collectors, new sales taxes and the increase in the number of supermarkets and shopping centers requiring large numbers of coins for making change have served to magnify the problem.

What has been done to combat the shortage? In the first place the mint has increased production. The output of 1,571,000,000 coins in fiscal 1959 was increased to 3,461,000,000 in fiscal 1962.

In Denver the mint's production facilities are being devoted completely to turning out nickels and pennies and the plant is operating 24 hours a day, five days a week. In Philadelphia the mint is producing pennies and half dollars working 16 hours a day, five days a week.

Mint officials asked Congress last session for a supplemental appropriation of $500,000 with which it was hoped to increase coin production to 3,800,000,000 pieces but the legislators went home without approving the funds. Another effort will be made in January to secure more funds for increased production but this will not have any effect on the Christmas season shortage.

Increased production is considered the only solution to the problem. The government currently receives about 20,000,000 worn coins a year and melts and restamps them. But this is only a fraction of the required total. Last year the mint says its coin inventory was swept bare at Christmas time. The same situation is likely to prevail this year.

to and exploit the simplest expressions of public taste . . .

How often have you seen roadside billboards carry the words "most outstanding," "foremost," "most historic," et cetera, as applied to everything from alligators to caves. Another word used frequently is "authentic," often in connection with an Indian village or a supposed replica of any number of primitive things.

Reptile gardens, snake farms, caves, horseless carriage museums — you've probably seen 'em all. And you've probably felt ashamed.

There is one answer to this problem: if everyone would be selective and refuse to patronize eyesores, they would go out of business.

guage problem, since "when a child is unable to communicate adequately, to express feelings and reactions, to be comfortable in his communication with his contemporaries, he begins to isolate himself from the group and, following on isolation, he builds insulation to ward off discomfort and embarrassment."

Children can be encouraged to read (something other than comic books) at home. Parents should realize the importance of the ability to read, to understand what is read, and to communicate ideas.

If it is necessary to limit television-watching time to accomplish these facilities—so be it.

Data Doesn't Tell All

Editor, Summit Herald:

In regard to the teacher salary article appearing November 22, it occurs to me that New Jersey Education Association data alone cannot adequately tell the Summit story.

The teachers of Summit fully recognize their salary position in the state; however, accompanying that recognition is a knowledge that Summit demands and has one of the finest school systems in the state.

To maintain the status as an outstanding school district, Summit teachers labor far harder and longer, have a firmer dedication to the youth of this community, and generally produce better prepared pupils than is the case in most other communities.

What must be done in order to assure the continuance of Summit's position? If the basis for our success is the superior, dedicated teacher, then to hold these people and to attract others, we must compete not with the average community, but with the best communities in this and other states in the Northeast.

Statistics can be misleading. Summit's one teacher who has attained a salary of $10,400 is but one of 44 superior teachers in New Jersey earning $10,000 or better. Each year this number increases as the better communities increase their educational effort.

It would follow, logically, that the salary pattern in Summit must meet this competitive challenge.

I am confident that the citizenry is cognizant of and lends support to this challenge.

John L. McDowell, president Summit Teachers' Association

Defends Single Tax Plan

In your November 22 article on the Free Acres tax dispute you say that Free Acres is assessed as "undeveloped property," and you refer to a "property assessment" of $17,500. The casual reader might infer that this figure represents the total property valuation on which Free Acres residents pay taxes. Later in the article, however, on page 4, you state that there is also an assessment of $134,375 on improvements, and an additional land assessment of $1,525. Thus it would seem that taxes are paid on a total assessment, including land and buildings, of $153,400 — a considerable difference.

One might also infer from your article that the "single tax" refers to billing the entire "colony" as a unit. Actually, under the "single tax" the only form of taxation would be the collection by the government of the entire annual site value of the land; no taxes would be levied on buildings, or on any other desirable activities, such as exchanging goods or earning a living. The Free Acres Association pays the taxes levied by Berkeley Heights, as well as its own community expenses, from the land rentals collected from its residents. Because of this partial approach to the principle, Free Acres is called a "single tax" colony, although its residents must, of course, pay sales taxes and income taxes.

The justification for the "single tax" proposal is that the value of any piece of land is produced by the presence and activities of the people in general (including the services rendered by their governments), and not by the individual who has been granted exclusive possession of that land. Thus, the rent of land is a just and natural source of revenue from which to provide government services. Conversely, the value of buildings and of goods and services (produced under conditions of equalized access to natural opportunities), is produced by the effort of individuals; no part of such values can justly be claimed by the community.

It has long been argued that taxes on land values alone would not suffice for all the needs of government. Today's "single taxer" holds that, even if this be true, it does not justify failure of the community to collect all of what rightfully belongs to it. It hardly seems appropriate to refer to the advocates of Henry George's proposals as a "cult." For one thing, the word "cult" suggests a certain amount of superstition; it was George's object to dispel the superstition that permeated the subject of economics in his day. (We might do well to pursue the same objective today.) A "cult" also connotes more or less blind adherence to a leader or idea; to this practice George was strongly opposed. He said: "I ask no one to accept my views. I ask him to think for himself."

It should be noted that Free Acres is not, as you stated, "the last single tax colony in the East." The three villages of Arden, Ardentown, and Ardencroft, just north of Wilmington, Delaware, covering a total of 330 acres, have operated on a similar basis since 1900, 1922, and 1950, respectively.

Taxes levied by New Castle County, on land and improvements, are paid by the trustees from land rentals alone. Nature is far more beautiful than the fanciest billboard, and a few caged and discouraged animals at a pop stand do not enhance the scenery or attract the discriminating tourist. Yet signs and clappertrap and shoddy souvenirs (probably made in Japan) are what the traveler sees all over America, even at places which are considered national shrines.

If your child has difficulty in reading, you and the schools themselves may be far more to blame than the teachers and the teaching methods.

The schools, according to Dr. Lester W. Nelson, New York educator, have contributed to existing conditions through "a scandalous lack of high-quality, appropriate reading materials."

Parents, he feels, are to blame in that children too often reflect a home environment that "stifles intellectual interest and strangles motivation."

Dr. Nelson believes that much of the drop-out problems in our schools is related directly to the reading and lan-

Thus it is designed to encourage those who believe in the principle of fair housing practices to indicate so publicly. It is our hope that through education and example we will succeed in having a majority of our citizens accept that principle and insist on its being practiced in the area, in keeping with the religious and political heritage of our country. ## Dr. F. C. Stifler, Bible Society Editor, Dies

Dr. Francis Carr Stifler of 46 Parkview terrace, who served the American Bible Society as secretary for public relations and as editor of the society's publication, "Bible Society Record," for 18 years prior to his retirement seven years ago, died of Overlook Hospital last Tuesday. He was 78.

Dr. Stifler, son of Dr. James Madison Stifler, theological professor at Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa., served churches in Michigan, Illinois and New Jersey as a Baptist minister for 22 years, before joining the society in 1936. His pastorates included Michigan Avenue Baptist Church, Saginaw, Mich., and First Baptist Church in Wilmette, Ill. For eight years prior to assuming office with the society, he was pastor of the First Baptist Church in East Orange.

Dr. Stifler was also a well-known radio pastor. His weekly programs—Radio Chapel, GEMS, Our Thoughts, Faith in Our Times, Democracy and the Bible—were featured for many years over NBC, CBS, and the American and Mutual networks. Dr. Stifler also wrote the radio scripts for the Worldwide Bible Reading program, an event sponsored by the society.

He was also the author of several books, which included "The Bible Speaks," "Every Man's Book," "Better Baptist Churches" and "How to Read the Bible." Many magazines published his human interest stories about the Bible. Under his editorial supervision the circulation of the Bible Society Record rose from 27,000 to over 400,000.

Dr. Stifler was also active in the International Baptist Young People's Union, Missionary Education Movement, American Baptists Foreign Societies, and served on various committees of the American Baptist Convention.

Dr. Stifler received a BA degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1906 and an MA degree from Yale University in 1911 and the degree of bachelor of divinity from Yale Divinity School in 1913. He was ordained as a Baptist minister in 1913. In 1934, he received the honorary degree of doctor of divinity from Hillsdale College in Michigan.

He served with the Home Guard, Wilmette, Ill., in 1917, and with the War Work Council of the YMCA in 1918-19. He was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Surviving are his widow, the former Jean Thomson Lucecock; a daughter, Carol Jean, and a sister, Mrs. W. S. Holland of Melrose, Mass.

Memorial services were held last Thursday at Christ Church. Interment was private.

Yule Observances Once Illegal in Early America

Celebration of Christmas—the most widely observed religious holiday of the modern world—was at one time illegal in early American history.

Colonial New England did not celebrate Christmas, because the stern Puritan colonists believed that such activities were wholly pagan and forbade them by law. Christmas came to the American colonies while it was the subject of strenuous controversy in England. English Puritans condemned it as "popish" and the secular celebration as a "wanton Bacchanalian feast."

Opposition of the English Puritans to festivals culminated in an act of Parliament in 1647, which abolished the observance of Christmas, Easter and Whitsuntide. This was echoed in the American colonies in 1659 when Puritans enacted a law in the general court of Massachusetts to punish those who "kept Christmas."

The law read "Whosoever shall be found observing any such day as Christmas or the like, either by forbearing of labor, feasting, or in any other way . . . shall be subject to a fine of five shillings."

The law was repealed in 1681 but many of the Puritans were not reconciled to this action. Secular reveling at Christmas had often interfered with religious devotions and offended the Puritans' moral sense. This intensified their sectarian hostility to the religious observance of Christmas—an attitude they maintained for the better part of two centuries in parts of New England.

The fun-loving Dutch colonists of New Amsterdam, however, celebrated Christmas as their chief holiday. They brought the old customs from their homeland, especially the Christmas stocking and observance of the feast day of St. Nicholas.

In the Southern colonies, the planters celebrated the yuletide with feasting, singing, and dancing. On many plantations slaves were given a holiday as long as the great yule-log burned.

The latter half of the 18th century saw a swing of attention to the realm of economics and politics and religious controversies became of less importance. The fact that English and Hessian troops celebrated Christmas during the Revolutionary War may have added a patriotic note to the denominational controversy.

Christmas Eve Battle
General Washington crossed the Delaware River on the night of December 25, 1776, to surprise and defeat the Hessian troops stationed at Trenton. In the opinion of one writer, Washington's bold venture succeeded because the Hessians were enjoying their customary Christmas revels and failed to maintain the usual watch and patrols.

However, denominational opposition to the ecclesiastic observance of Christmas continued into the second half of the nineteenth century. An account in the New York Daily Times for December 26, 1855 read: "The churches of the Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists were not open on Dec. 25 except where some Mission Schools had a celebration. They do not accept the day as a Holy One, but the Episcopalians, Catholic and German Churches were all open."

In the twentieth century, all denominations have embraced Christmas widely both as a religious and as a social celebration. Today, men, women and children in every Christian land crowd into churches to give their thanks.

Yule Cards Have Come A Long Way

Greeting cards for Christmas show, each season, an increase in the number of religious subjects—but this has not always been true. In fact, the earliest Christmas cards often had designs that seemed to have no connection with the holiday. Instead of Nativity scenes or symbols of holly and mistletoe

In this early stage pin-up dancing girls with garlands of flowers were not unusual. Kate Greenaway drawings were frequently used, some cards depicting single figures from her designs. About 1870, cards were frosted and fringed with heavy silk. Astronomy is one of the smallest of the science fields, according to the U. S. Labor Department's "Occupational Outlook Handbook." The total number of astronomers in the United States was estimated to be only about 500 in 1960.

Ancients Decorated To Great Return of Sun

Many believe that the Christmas tree custom may be traced to pagan celebrations of the winter solstice—the time when the sun ceases its seeming drift southward and begins moving back north.

The ancients knew great fear when the sun steadily moved away from them. They did not like the cold winds from the north, the shorter days, the distillation of life and the appearance of the fact that the sun ceases its seeming drift southward and begins moving back north.

Financial insecurity can lead to a barren and lonely existence for the older person. Those years after 60 can also bring the fear of out-living capital and the worry of managing the savings of a lifetime.

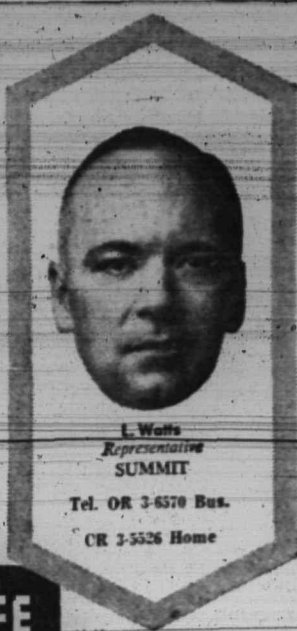

The result—often severe stresses that can be dangerous to both physical and mental health.

People who buy annuities buy freedom from worry and fear. Our annuitants find that a regular income guaranteed for life brings peace of mind, helps make those sunset years a rich and satisfying experience. And we know that many live to a ripe old age.

Candles Gleam, Bells Ring, St. Nick Arrives and It's Christmas Time Again

Christmas comes but once a year—and into that magic "once" are packed years and years of well-loved traditions.

Candles gleam brightly, bells ring merrily, glad cards fill the air.

Up goes the tree and on go the ornaments and lights, in many a home and in many other places, too, both in and out of doors.

Children eagerly await Santa Claus, his sleigh and his reindeer. Stockings are hung, and greetings and gifts, gaily wrapped, spread the spirit of Christmas.

How did it all begin? The manger scene, in churches and homes, testifies to the religious meaning and real beginning of Christmas.

To be glad and grateful, to give and to help others are expressions of that meaning.

The legends and customs of the holiday season, however, come from scores of sources, and many ancient festivals have contributed their part to Christmas as a time of merry-making.

First of all Christmas gifts were gold, frankincense and myrrh, the wise men's gifts to the infant Jesus. Gift giving at the season of the year now celebrated as Christmas can also be traced back to pre-Christian times.

The ancient Romans exchanged gifts during their Saturnalia, a festival honoring Saturn, the pagan god of agriculture. Hanging gifts on trees figured in Druid tree worship in early Britain.

Principles of Christianity are reflected in Christmas giving to the poor and unfortunate. An old legend says that on Christmas Eve the Christ Child roams the earth, dressed as a beggar, in search of food and shelter.

People believed that any kindness shown a beggar expressed a love for Jesus.

Source of Santa

Origin of Santa Claus as a gift giver is usually traced to a real St. Nicholas, bishop of Myra, in Asia Minor, in the fourth century A.D.

las was renowned for his generosity, and he still retains his role as a gift giver in many countries, arriving on January 6—traditionally the date of the visit of the wise men.

Yule Greens

Evergreens at Christmas are an emblem of life eternal. Ancient peoples believed that the greenness of evergreens in winter was a promise of the creator that spring would come again.

Decorating Trees

In ancient feasts of the winter equinox, trees were adorned with trinkets. Like many pagan customs, the evergreen tree became associated with Christian observances, and legends link it to the birth of Christ.

One story says that on Christmas Eve, all the trees of the forest bloomed and bore fruit.

Lighting Candles

Candles at Christmas symbolize the coming of Christ as the Light of the World. Since earliest times, man has used lights—torches, watchfires, beacons—on occasions of joyous celebration.

Custom of placing a candle in the window on Christmas Eve is usually attributed to the Irish. It was thought that Christ wandered the earth on that night, and a candle would show Him a home where He was welcome, or help to light Him on his way.

Trailside to Show Florida Sound Film

"Fabulous Florida," a color sound film will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday at 2 p.m.

The film depicts the growth of Florida in recent years and many of the historic and scenic areas of the state. The vacation resorts and recreational facilities offered will also be shown.

On Monday, December 10; Wednesday, December 12; and Thursday, December 13; at 4 p.m., Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trailside, will conduct one-half hour nature talks for children. The topic selected for the three days is "Tropical American Birds."

Dr. Moldenke's lectures will be illustrated with color slides. There is no admission charge.

The Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, from 1 to 5 p.m.

The public is invited to visit the Nature and Science Center, view the thousands of exhibits and participate in the scheduled programs.

Kisses Are Numbered By Mistletoe Berries

Mistletoe figures in many legends from pre-Christian times. Druid tree-worshippers believed it had magical powers of healing. Romans thought that enemies who met beneath the mistletoe must kiss and declare a day's truce.

Today, kissing beneath the mistletoe remains a happy holiday custom. Correct procedure is that a berry must be removed for every kiss taken, and when all the berries are gone, there are no more kisses available.

Science Still Seeks Source Of the Star

Since St. Matthew first described the star of Bethlehem, its mystery has fascinated mankind. Was it a miracle? Or was it a brighter-than-usual star or other celestial object?

Astronomers, while seeking to identify the star, emphasize that it may have been indeed a miracle that can't be explained in terms of natural phenomena.

However, research has provided material for conjecture that the star may have been a natural occurrence.

A Danish astronomer, Tycho Brahe, discovered a new and brilliant star in the constellation Cassiopeia in 1572, according to the Encyclopedia Americana.

Since that discovery, the Americana says, it has been suggested that this might be an especially brilliant star visible only at long intervals.

A reported appearance of a bright star in that part of the heavens about the middle of the 13th century, coupled with a vague account of a similar appearance a little more than 300 years earlier, led to the thought that these might possibly be former appearances of the star of 1572.

If, as this might indicate, the star appeared at intervals of 300 to 315 years, three intervals of 300-odd years from the time it was first reported would carry it back to about the time of the birth of Christ.

Another Theory

Johannes Kepler, a German astronomer, made discoveries that led to still another theory about the star of Bethlehem.

In 1594, he observed a configuration, or close grouping, of the planets Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

He determined that such a configuration occurred each 805 years, and calculations established that the same grouping might have appeared in 6 B.C.—which, some research indicates, may have been the correct year of Christ's birth.

Since legends identify the wise men as astrologers, this theory accounts for the fact that, as reported in the New Testament, only the wise men saw the star.

While the three planets grouped together would shed unusual brightness, the average observer might not notice them, while the wise men, as astrologers, would.

Christmas Feast Big Affair in Olden Days

Possibly one of the greatest Christmas feasts of all time was that sponsored by King Henry VIII in Westminster Hall in 1548. He had tents erected and artificial gardens plotted within the spacious hall of his palace.

Knights came out of the tents to joust in tournaments and fantastically dressed dancers covered from head to foot with gay ribbon streamers emerged from the gardens to entertain the guests.

Cost of the gold cloth used in the celebration amounted to 900 pounds alone.

Preparation for the feasting on such occasions can only be vaguely comprehended by considering that Richard II normally employed 2,000 cooks to prepare food for the 10,000 persons who shared his festive board.

Garden Apartments

One Experience..

Berkeley Heights — Approval of garden apartments for residential communities was voiced at the 47th annual state League of Municipalities in Atlantic City last week, according to Building Inspector and Planning Board member Salvatore Del Duca.

One town given as an example of successful garden apartment planning was Scotch Plains which has one garden apartment with 96 one bedroom units, pays almost $27,000 annually in taxes and has only one child resident.

This project was built on lands that would permit 44 homes and average one child of school age per home. This would provide 44 children, and the one family dwellings would provide only $18,000 in taxes. School costs alone on this property would be $22,000 or a net loss to the community of $4000, not including all other municipal costs.

Breakdown of the garden apartment population showed 25% were former Scotch Plains residents, 15% were young professionals, 20% engineers and

Christmas Cards Show Vast Change

Greeting cards for Christmas show, each season, an increase in the number of religious subjects—but this has not always been true. In fact, the earliest Christmas cards often had designs that seemed to have no connection with the holiday.

Instead of Nativity scenes or symbols of holly and mistletoe, early American Christmas cards of the 19th century were decorated with roses and portraits of young ladies, according to The Encyclopedia Americana. Often, plump robins were pictured sitting on tree branches dripping with icicles.

In this early stage pin-up girls were not unusual. Kate Greenaway drawings were frequently used, some cards depicting single figures from her drawings, others portraying dancing girls with garlands of flowers.

About 1870, cards were frosted and fringed with heavy silk.

Record 104 Show Work At Annual Art Exhibit

A record 104 paintings and sculptures have been entered in the Art Center's annual Members' Show at the Center galleries, 17 Cedar street.

The show was judged by Minna Citron of N.Y.C., artist and lecturer; Jean Gebb, director of Highgate Gallery, Orange; and Hugo Lutz of Livingston, painter and instructor at Upsala University.

Five prizes were awarded plus a special citation of "best in show" to Scotty Snyder's oil, "Red Form." The awards for non-figurative oil are the Bellini Prize to "Red Form" by Snyder; honorable mention to Gretchen Keown's "Venture in Space." First prize in figure, the Winsor and Newton Prize, went to Lillian Sperling's "Beggars"; honorable mention to "Meditation" by M. Sadkin. In still life, the Orpi Prize went to Helen Hocker's "On the Shelf"; honorable mention to Judith Feldman's "Old Score."

The Sculpture House prize went to Frances Tyson's honorable mention sculpture, "Awakening"; and the Rembrandt prize for paintings other than oil was awarded to Mary Piana's mono-print; honorable mention to "Variation on Square" by Judith Gennell.

Three of the members had one-man shows at the Art Center this year and were prize-winners: Judith Grennell, Scotty Snyder and Gretchen Keown.

The Christmas concert of Madrigal singing will be held Sunday afternoon. Members' families and friends are invited to this traditional event, which includes a light sandwich supper. Mrs. F. Shand-Goucher of Short Hills is leader of the Madrigal group. They have presented the program at the Art Center for about a dozen years. They also sing in various concerts throughout the area at Christmas.

Writing Carols
Men from many walks of life have contributed to the Christmas chorus of carols. Francis Scott Key was not only a lawyer and the author of the Star Spangled Banner; he also wrote carols. And the comedian Harpo Marx, authored a carol now sung in many churches, "Guardian Angels."

NEW JERSEY TERCENTENARY TALES

By John T. Cunningham

The kicking donkey and the ponderous elephant, so far separated at election time, really are brothers under the skin—more properly, under the ink—of the creator of both symbols, Thomas Nast, the Harper's Weekly artist who lived in Morristown during his most famous years.

Nast's memory lives on in Morristown. His mansion, privately owned, stands as a monument to the days when President Grant, Mark Twain and other leaders of the time visited. A town fire company owns some of Nast's sketches, contributed when Nast was an honorary fireman. Morristown Public Library often exhibits his original cartoons and drawings.

Yet Thomas Nast is honored most during each political campaign, when both parties proud sport his donkey or elephant symbols. Cartoonists also had adopted the two—even during Nast's time, and ever since the beasts have frolicked (or died) on editorial pages.

Neither of the now much-hated party symbols grew out of affection. Nast's first cartoon elephant displayed the Republican stumbling on the brink of disaster. His first donkey lambasted a political "jackass" that kicked everything, including the good in government.

Born in Germany in 1840, the son of a trombonist in a Bavarian military band, Nast came to America in 1846 and at the age of 15 was an artist with Frank Leslie's Illustrated Weekly. His first published drawing depicted holiday crowds aboard the Hoboken ferry; years later, Nast rode that same ferry as he commuted between Morristown and New York.

Nast won his first national fame for his Civil War drawings in Harper's Weekly, and by 1865 the bold signature of "Th: Nast" was nearly as well known in America as that of A. Lincoln.

The first Democratic donkey appeared in Harper's on January 15, 1870, when Nast sketched a donkey kicking a sad lion which bore the name of the late ex-Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton. However, fast drew the donkey to symbolize the "Copperhead Papers" or Democratic press rather than the party itself.

Nast lived in New York at the time of that first donkey, but in 1871 he moved to Morristown. Both the elephant and the donkey became widely used while "Th: Nast" lived in Morristown, and worked in his big second floor studio.

The donkey, trotted out only occasionally, but always as a democrat, became just another beast in Nast's stable after the Tweed's longings nearly all of "them damned pictures" of Nast's.

Nast always forgot politicians at Christmas time and drew instead a fat, jolly Santa Claus visiting happy homes. Often his Morristown surroundings and members of his family appeared in these cartoons. Many credit Nast with popularizing the familiar Santa Claus image, for most earlier artists had depicted Santa as long, lean and a bit on the dour side.

The Morristown cartoonist fell from public favor after the Blaine-Cleveland campaign of 1884. Nast backed Democrat Cleveland, and strained relations at Harper's prompted him to resign after the election. Styles in cartooning changed and editors bought fewer and fewer Nast cartoons. His fortune fell, and in July, 1902, Nast gladly accepted President Theodore Roosevelt's appointment as Consul General to Guayaquil, Ecuador. There he died of yellow fever in November.

By 1902 few remembered the days of Nast's supremacy, although at election time cartoonists always brought forth the donkey and the elephant. They still do, sometimes without knowing the debt they owe to "Th: Nast" of New Jersey.

Christmas Cards Provide Colorful Home Decoration

Christmas cards can be the key to a host of exciting decorating ideas in the home. A pair of scissors, some cellophane tape, a ball of colored yarn, the Christmas mail—plus a little ingenuity—is all that's needed to create a sparkling holiday atmosphere in the home. The Rust Craft greeting card company suggests these little "extras" to create a real holiday-at-home atmosphere in any home or apartment.

—place a brightly-hued card in the center of the holiday wreath on your door, preferably one with "Christmas Greetings" in large letters.

—many of this year's cards are cut-outs, come are actually shaped and colored like Christmas tree ornaments, and have tinsel cords for hanging.

—if you have a glass top coffee table, place an assortment under the glass. Try using a single theme — winter scenes, florals, Americana, religions.

—create a striking religious tableau on a small table or mantel by standing religious cards about the family Bible opened to St. Luke's narrative of the first Christmas.

—and don't forget the kitchen. This room is given less attention than any other when it comes to decorating at Christmas time.

Old Yule Customs Still Observed in Many Lands

Although universal in its spirit and purpose, Christmas is observed in many different ways throughout the world. Individual countries have acquired literally thousands of customs through the ages. Some have been discarded along the way, while others are still observed.

Mexicans Break "Pinata"
In Mexico, for example, breaking the "Pinata," an earthenware jug filled with fruits, nuts and candies is still an important Christmas custom.

Blindfolded children armed with sticks try to break it open. When they succeed, all join in the scramble for the "goodies" that pour out.

In the Northland of Canada, the Eskimos have a unique Christmas custom: Entire Eskimo communities set off to visit neighboring towns. The following year the visit is repaid and the visiting town becomes host.

In Finland, all members of Finnish families must take a steam bath before the festival.

for a prosperous year.

In India, one week before the holiday, all villages that observe Christmas, fast by not eating animal food. On the last day they eat no food at all until they take communion on Christmas Eve.

Greeting Cards Universal
Probably the most universal custom associated with Christmas is sending Christmas cards.

For a custom that is so well established all over the world, it is relatively new, however, just over a century old.

It was in 1843 that the first Christmas card was published in England by Sir Henry Cole, who commissioned an artist named John Horsley to design a Christmas "greeting" for different times in certain bad ones get empty potato sacks.

THE SUMMIT HERALD, Thursday, Dec. 6, 1962

Santa Comes Jan. 6
In Italy, Santa comes as an old woman on a broomstick. She is named La Befana, and leaves gifts in the children's shoes.

Some Send N.Y. Cards
Since then, the sending of Christmas cards has become almost universal, although in some countries greetings are sent for the New Year, instead of Christmas.

This year, more than three billion Christmas cards will be mailed in the United States, alone, says Rust Craft greeting card company. This is an average of approximately 15 cards per person.

Even Santa Claus takes on different forms and comes at

Santa's Elves
The little elves who help Santa in his workshop probably came from the Scandinavian countries. In Norway, Denmark and Sweden, children are told of the "Tomtar," little gray-bearded, elf-like men who hide presents for boys and girls on Christmas Eve.

Little But Legend Known About Visit of Wise Men

Many legends have developed around the visit of the three wise men to adore the infant Jesus. Even their number is legendary. St. Matthew, the only book in the New Testament that refers to the visit, reports that wise men came from the east without stating how many there were. It was not until later, in a legend which can be traced back to the second century, that they were called "kings," according to The Encyclopedia Americana.

and magic. This explains the use of the term "wise men" by St. Matthew, since they were astrologers.

Remembers Bethlehem

"O Little Town of Bethlehem," a U.S. carol, was written by Episcopal Bishop Phillips Brooks in 1868, while he was rector of Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia, Pa.

On a trip to the Holy Land some years before, he had seen the "little town of Bethlehem" on Christmas Eve, and the vivid memory of this scene later led to the writing of the carol.

Keep Children On the Go as Holiday Nears

Children get bored during the Christmas season. Sure, Christmas is a season of excitement for the young ones. The trouble is they get so excited waiting for Santa to come that they become impatient—and need something to occupy their time.

The wise mother will give them something to do. Children enjoy making things with their hands. They are anxious to help decorate the house and the tree.

Many parents brush them aside, saying, "You are too little"—and the children are left with their boredom.

Give the kids a chance to help. Put them to work with a cookie cutter. Draw simple designs on cardboard for them to cut out and color. Let them paint holiday messages on boiled eggs with water colors.

They will be happier and, once you get them started, you will find that you have more free time of your own.

Star Singing

As they go from house to house at Christmas, modern carol singers may be aided by the rays of an electric lanterning the Star of Bethlehem. Later or a flashlight. This reflects an old custom known as Star singing and torches.

ing.

Early carolers in Europe used to make their rounds carrying a large, lighted star, representing the Star of Bethlehem. Later, a flashlight was replaced by lanterns and torches.

Be Certain You Display A Safe Tree

What kind of a tree is best for you this Christmas? A SAFE tree, of course. Whatever variety of tree you choose this year, be sure that it is freshly-cut, with firmly attached needles. When you select the tree, strike the ground with the thick end. If a shower of needles fall, the tree has been cut too long and will not last for long.

Keep It Fresh

Do not buy your tree until you are ready to decorate it; if you do buy it early, keep it outside. It will stay fresher and will remain green longer after you have put it up. Keep it standing in water at all times.

Select the setting for your tree with safety in mind. Locate it in the coolest part of the room, well away from radiators, heaters, and the fireplace. This not only reduces the chances of fire, but as well assures longer life for the tree, as heat dries the tree quickly.

Use Tree Holder

A tree holder is a good investment if it has a bucket of water in which the trunk can rest. The ability of the tree to absorb water will surprise you, so be sure to check contents of the bucket often.

Do not use any kind of paper decorations on your tree. Use decorations made of glass, the tree lights on or off. If connection is located behind the tree, you may be able to reach it in an emergency.

Inspect the tree frequently. If needles near lights start to turn brown, change position of the lights. When needles begin to fall freely, it's time to discard the tree.

Historical Papers On Display at Local Bank

The Summit office of the National State Bank of Elizabeth has on display through December 11 papers of the bank's original stockholders and directors.

Among the directors are such names as Caleb Halsted Jr., Thaddeus Mills, Robert Halsted and Aaron Ogden. Among the papers of the original stockholders, are those of E. B. Dayton, the grandson of Jonathan Dayton, the gentleman for whom Springfield Regional High School is named.

Also to be seen are papers related to one of the earliest federal Supreme Court decisions and which involved Aaron Ogden, one of the bank's original directors, who later became governor of New Jersey. The case, Ogden vs. Gibbons, resulted in a decision which has proven to be the base for all subsequent American Supreme Court decisions concerning regulation of public transportation facilities. This series of papers includes opinions of this case of Chief Justice John Marshall, Daniel Webster and Aaron Burr.

An invitation to the field of honor, a duel, is a sidelight of the Ogden vs. Gibbons case.

These papers, too, are on display.

The display is a portion of a collection of Robert Wallace Carver, president of Fred S. Carver, Inc. of Chatham road.

Yule Carols Spring from Many Sources

From the first angelic chorus, "Glory to God in the Highest," the sound of voices raised in song and rejoicing for the birth of Christ swells across the ages. Today carols from many lands and many epochs fill the air at holiday time.

Sources of some carols are lost in the past, but many can be traced to interesting origins.

A broken organ inspired "Silent Night." So that the people of the parish might have a son at Christmas, Father Joseph Mohr, an Austrian priest, wrote the carol, and his organist composed the music. It was sung on Christmas Eve, 1818, to guitar accompaniment.

Expressing the merriment of Christmas, "Deck the Hall with Boughs of Holly" is an English carol set to an old Welsh air. It refers to such ancient traditions as the "blazing Yule" log.

First published in English, "The First Nowell" is believed to be primarily a French carol. The French word "Noel" comes from the Latin word meaning birth. "Nowell" is the anglicized version. Both mean Christmas or a "shout of joy" for the birth of Christ. Tune is a medieval shepherd song.

"Adeste Fideles" or "O Come, All Ye Faithful" or "Adeste Fideles" may have been written by the 13th century writer and teacher, Saint Bonaventure, but its exact origin is a mystery. There's no secret about its popularity today. It has been translated into 120 languages, and there are more than 40 English versions.

Most familiar of many Christmas carols originating in Germany, "O Tannenbaum," or "O Christmas Tree," celebrates the evergreen as an emblem of immortality. It has added familiarity in the U.S., since the tune is used for several college songs and for the state song, "Maryland, My Maryland."

An old English carol that sometimes suffers from a comma out of place is "God Rest You Merry, Gentlemen." The meaning is not "God rest you, merry gentlemen," but "God keep you merry, gentlemen."

"Herald Angels Sing" Charles Wesley, who during his lifetime (1707-1788) wrote hundreds of hymns, was inspired to write "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" as he walked to church on Christmas day and heard the London church bells chime.

Sea Inspires Lore Of Ships at Yule

Ships arrive on Christmas morning, carrying Jesus, Mary and Joseph, says the English carol, "I Saw Three Ships Come Sailing." This is one of many legends developed by seafaring peoples to connect Christmas and ships.

Stories of the first St. Nicholas were carried from Asia Minor to Northern Europe by sailors, and children in Holland long believed that St. Nicholas arrived by ship from Spain. In Greece, St. Basilio comes on January 1 to deliver gifts, and he too is transported by ship.

Representatives of 16 mothers at Brayton school requested the Board of Education to change the afternoon kindergarten to morning hours because it was called practically impossible to send the children from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and because it was bad for the health of the children.

Superintendent of Schools William H. Maxwell cautioned parents of the need for revival of the "good old doctrine" of "Honor thy father and mother." He added that parents were divided into three groups: helpful; indifferent and injurious. He also stressed the role of the home in character formation.

Slippers Walk Off With Top Yule Honors

Santa walks away with honors on Christmas morn, with a gift of elegant slippers — a sure hit with any man, woman or child on the shopping list. Choice this winter ranges from soft ankle-hugging leather boots that are suitable for both indoor and outdoor wear to slippers designed chiefly for the path between the refrigerator and the easy chair, according to Shoe Fashion Service of America. Gift footwear for people who prefer to view the wintry scene from behind a windowpane boasts high fashion and a high degree of comfort. For the girls there are leather slippers or mules in colorful, lavish fashions. Some are embellished in gold or silver. Others are embroidered in floral designs.

A harlequin slipper is made up of bright leathers in diamond shapes. Its corners turn back and are fastened down with tiny silver bells or gay gold pins. The court jester's slipper boot of soft leather reaches to the ankle, where it is gathered in with a band of jewels, fur or a leather thong.

New idea in women's slippers is a leather lining in an even brighter shade than the slipper itself, such as geranium lined with turquoise, yellow with emerald and scarlet with bright pink. Often the leather sole is pointed and turned up at the tip in an Oriental effect.

Men's easy slippers also come in a variety of styles. There are leather-lined, low-cut opera slippers in glossy smooth leather for wear with an elegant dressing gown. For the man who prefers casual dress at home, glove leather moccasin slippers are available in a variety of colors and styles.

One popular moccasin features a folded back, stitched down tongue.

Another happy Christmas thought is a pair of soft leather travel scuffs that tuck into each other. Wherever he wears them, they'll remind him of hearth and home.

And don't forget the children. Their slippers should be bright in color, high cut (to make it hard to pull them off) and with resilient leather soles and uppers to help support growing muscles. Brightly colored leathers and leather linings attract youngsters and make them want to wear their slippers — not trot around barefoot.

Candy Bar Stuffer
Candy bars, wrapped separately in gay Christmas paper, make wonderful stocking stuffers for children.

Dolls Now Have a Startling New Conversational Talent

The baby doll is the focus of excitement in toyland this Christmas.

The 1962 crop of precocious infant dolls lacks income tax exemptions, but evidences true-to-life imitation of real babies in almost every other respect. Toy Guidance Council reports. Most startling of the new talents that 1962 baby dolls have acquired is the new scope of their conversational abilities.

Remember when the doll who said "Mama" was a source of delight? Today's baby darlings may turn up under the Christmas tree with a broader range of vocabulary than their proud owners.

These new marvels in the realm of loquacity are achieved by varied applications of electronic and short wave techniques.

For example, the doll who converses by a direct plug-in with a record player now has a counterpart who appears to speak what her companion phonograph is playing, but without benefit of any visual attachment to the record player.

The almost human baby doll is featured this season in models closely resembling every age of infancy from new-born cherub to toddler.

Sure to amaze is the evolution of the baby cry from a mere squeak to a full scale wail. One of the talented new baby dolls ceases to wail as soon as a bottle is proffered and logically, when the contents of the bottle disappear, gurgles with content.

Just Pull a String
The doll that talks when a string is pulled, producing a variety of phrases, now appears in a baby doll version talking appropriate baby talk interspersed with coos and gurgles.

Muscular versatility of dolls, aided by the development of plastics, reaches new standards of prowess this Christmas.

Dolls not only walk gracefully, they also kneel and are able to assume almost any pose a proud doll mother may desire.

The role of the doll as an exponent of good grooming and high fashion continues to expand in toyland this year. The close relation of the doll world to real life situations is illustrated by a series of "career" dolls resembling private secretaries, nurses and airplane stewardesses.

The art of choosing the perfect accessories to enhance the fashion appeal of every costume is developed to counteract the new showings of clothes-conscious "older" dolls.

Unusual entry in the sophisticated doll category this year is a replica of Cleopatra who holds to legend by holding an asp.

Fantastic Stuffed Animals
As dolls grow more and more like people, toyland's stuffed animals grow less and less like real animals. A variety of fantastic cartoon style animals is ready for cuddling his Christmas.

And instead of having animal-like voice endowments, the new crop of stuffed animals rivals the new dolls in the scope of their conversation. There are talking teddy bears, dogs and even horses.

The most astonishing arrival in the stuffed animal kingdom is a fantastic version of a sea serpent, fantastically presented with green and white stripes and a voice which produces varied phrases when a string is tagged.

Alumnae Club to Sip Wine for Alma Mater

Area Manhattanville College alumnae will sip wine for their alma mater on December 15 at a party to be held at Stouffer's restaurant at 7 p.m. Those attending will sample wines from all over the world and also have a buffet dinner.

Michigan's Porcupine Mountains are one of the highest land masses between the Adirondacks and the Black Hills.

Lynn Schaefer, Formerly of Summit, Married

Miss Lynn Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Schaefer of Germantown, Pa., was married Saturday to Richard Fuller Leonard. He is the son of Mrs. Raymond Leonard of Levittown, and the late Mr. Leonard.

Rev. R. Dunham Taylor performed the candlelight ceremony in the Memorial Church of the Good Shepherd, Germantown. A reception followed at the Germantown Cricket Club. Mr. Schaefer gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white pean de sole fashioned with a full side draped skirt, and a fitted waist. Her long mantilla was bordered with alencon lace and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and sweetheart roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Marcia List. Mrs. Robert Stevens, sister of the groom, and Miss Edwina Gallagher were bridesmaids. The best man was Thomas Felix and the ushers were Robert Bockroch, Richard Dugger, Elmer Menges and Frank Schroeder.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. George H. Schaefer and the late Prof. Schaefer of Greenville, S.C., and of Mrs. Channing H. Dooley of Oakland Place, and the late Mr. Dooley.

The bride at one time made her home in Summit. Her mother, Dr. Phyllis Schaefer, for many years was associated with the Union County Psychiatric Clinic at Plainfield.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard will live at Chestnut Hill.

Sunshine Society Sets Lunch Date

The annual Christmas party and luncheon of the Sunshine Society will be held Wednesday, December 12, at Canoe Brook Country Club at 12:30 p.m.

The Society held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Horace Haring and heard a report on the new First Aid Squad given by Mrs. Stephen Barker, Mrs. John Bangs and Harry McDonald. The Society recently contributed an orthopedic stretcher to the Squad.

Major Appliances Hold Key To Choice of Yule Presents

What would a modern Christmas be without Dad or the family conspiring to up-date mother's home making facilities? Santa would say that a most wonderful opportunity to make her happy indeed, had been missed.

There's hardly a housewife in the world today who doesn't long for — or really desperately need — one or another of the newly efficient major home appliances. For one thing, they are more decorative than ever and practically all are designed with a built-in look which makes it easy to choose the right one for the existing kitchen or home laundry.

For another thing the capacity of the new major appliances to lift burdens from mother's shoulders and to help her effect economies in home management, and to make it possible for her to give more time to her family, is greater than ever.

Chances are that the selection of major appliances as a Christmas gift this year will involve replacing some existing appliance, except in the case of the bride. So first choice of the appliance to be considered for gifting will no doubt depend on what new one mother needs most this Christmas.

She May Drop Hints
On the other hand there still are too few mothers equipped with such drudgery eliminating appliances as dishwashers and gas operated incinerators or electric operated garbage disposal units.

Usually, Mom is well "up" on what's new in the major appliance field, and months before Christmas the family is aware if her refrigerator or range is outdated or inadequate. But, even if she isn't dropping hints, just compare her present units with the newest models on display in the stores. An outdated appliance will speak for itself!

Consider, as a start, the range. Three meals a day, seven days a week adds up to many hours of work over a hot stove. Times have changed since Mom cooked her first meal, and the newest range reflect these changes. Why not give a fully automatic range with built-in timing devices for almost fool-proof cookery?

The modern refrigerators and freezers, either separate appliances or combined, make defrosting drudgery a thing of the

YWCA to Have Yule Party This Sunday

"There's a Song in the Air" is to be the theme of the annual YWCA Christmas party to be held Sunday, December 9, at the YWCA at 6 p.m. YWCA members, friends, and their families are cordially invited to attend and enjoy caroling, fellowship, hanging of the greens and the traditional wassail bowl.

The stories of the Christmas carols and the customs associated with them will be narrated by Miss Dorothy Bunker and Miss Mordine Mallory of Summit. Mrs. F. W. Ambler, Miss Anna Lindstrom, Peg and Beth Kennedy, Cherie Bingham, Miss Geraldine Barr, Mrs. J. E. Boyce and daughters, Nancy Ellen and Sally, all of Summit will participate in the hanging of the greens and Christmas decorating.

Group singing of Christmas songs, led by Miss Margaret Thorpe, of Summit, and caroling by the high school Tri Ep club will complete the program. Following this, all will join around the wassail bowl for punch and cookies. A special treat is being planned for all the children present.

Members of the committee who have planned the party are Mrs. John McLean, Mrs. Joseph Poole, Miss Mordine Mallory, Miss Wilma Krayer, Miss Beryl Smith, Mrs. Clinton Leach, all of Summit; Mrs. H. S. Arnold, of New Providence; and Mrs. John Stoneburner of the YWCA staff.

Jewish Women To Work on Overseas Gifts

The National Council of Jewish Women, Greater Summit section, will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, December 11, at 12:30 p.m., at Temple Sinai. The meeting will be devoted to a Chanukah work shop for the "ship-a-box" project, part of the overseas program of Council.

During the afternoon, participants will cut, sew and pack toys for shipment abroad for the coming Chanukah holiday. Needles, thread, and toys will be provided by Council, and all members and friends are urged to attend for an afternoon of sociability and worthwhile service.

Refreshments in the form of traditional potato latkes will be served at 12:30 p.m.

Command Records, for example, suggests their Carousel album, with Alfred Drake and Roberta Peters singing the leading roles, for Broadway fans; Irving Berlin at age 60, for anyone who enjoys all-time musical favorites; and perfect for those who prefer classical music, Brahms' Symphony No. 2 with William Steinberg conducting the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra.

There is a wide variety of records for youngsters, with appropriate selections for each age group.

The sweetest sounds to a teenager's ear may be a stack of twist platters or the latest sides by a favorite popular artist on long-play as well as 45 r.p.m.

If there's a music man on your list, and he prefers jazz, treat him to a few albums of the newest by the smoothest.

For home entertaining, dance discs are right for young and old alike. Vary the rhythms when you're choosing.

Besides the sound of music, there are many "specials" available in the world of records. These range from speeches, history, poetry readings and plays to reproductions of familiar and not so well known sounds around us.

In this category, and a perennial gift for historians of any musical fans: Irving Berlin at age 60, for anyone who enjoys all-time musical favorites; and perfect for those who prefer classical music, Brahms' Symphony No. 2 with William Steinberg conducting the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra.

Pinpoint His Yule Gifts to Definite Need

"What in the world can you give a man for Christmas?" is the easiest question in the world to answer nowadays. That's because today's man lives in so many "worlds," each of which offers a wealth of ideas to appropriate gifts.

There's his business world that calls for a host of accessories, such as a pen-and-pencil set, attache case, pocket secretary, desk clock, matched desk set, even a portable typewriter, or tape recorder.

There's his world of travel on business or pleasure. This immediately calls to mind gifts of luggage, traveling kit, jewelry kit, packable slippers, shirts and neckties.

There's his world of sports. Including all the way from golf to skin-diving and from fishing to skiing. Each with its own special needs in the way of equipment and supplies... good gift giving ideas.

There's his world of hobbies. Practically every man has at least one hobby. Whether it's model building, or collecting, or fishing, or gardening, or anything else, you can be sure that he needs plenty of accessories or supplies for the pursuit of his most absorbing interest.

There's his "fireworld" (with or without fire), those blessed evening hours of complete relaxation in his favorite easy chair. Pipes (or cigars) to smoke, books to read, records to listen to, maybe even a new easy chair are among the gift suggestions that flag up in this sphere.

Of course, for all his "worlds," a man needs things to wear, which opens up another realm that is rich in gift inspiration. To help him "get down to business" in style, consider such basics as shirts and neckties, along with such accessories as socks, mufflers, belts, tie-ties and cufflinks.

The sports world has its own special requirements in the way of wearables: golf gloves, shoes and jackets; tennis shorts, shoes and sweaters; waders for the fisherman; shell vests for the hunter, etc.

Many hobbies (especially in the do-it-yourself and gardening fields) call for knock-out tips, such as dungeons, overalls and other garments in durable, washable denim.

For his "fireworld" gifts of loungewear are indicated: such as robes, shirt-jackets, slippers.

For a man's off-the-job hours, in general, there are many gifts of sportswear that will add pleasure to his leisure.

Choose sport shirts to harmonize with his sport jackets. The same goes for socks. Choose a solid color that "picks up" one of the colors in his patterned jacket. If he wears a blazer, give him patterned slacks to coordinate with its solid color.

For the outdoorsman there is a wide variety of cap coats, hooded toggle coats, zip jackets and sweaters, in all of which the "old look" is conspicuously present this year.

And, of course, to really do a man proud on Christmas morning, the whole family might "get together" on a new sport jacket or blazer.

The tall, slender fragrance, a common garden flower, is the primary source of the best, delectable.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nigro of 13 Sayre street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Flora, to Vincent Riello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Riello of Plainfield. Miss Nigro is employed by CIBA, while Mr. Riello is associated with a barbershop at Plainfield. (Chell Photo)

New Styles Enhance Appeal of Gift Watches for Christmas

In addition to its lasting sentiment, a new jeweled-lever watch is a Christmas gift that adds an exciting fashion note, sure to be appreciated. With such a wide assortment of dramatic styles and designs available, it is easy to pick out those that match the taste and express the personality of the special ones on your list.

A sleek, stylish new watch is more than an accurate timepiece these days. Thanks to modern design, it brings a thrilling touch to every wardrobe.

Today's fine watches are made to suit every need or activity—whether work or play, day or night. There are watches for busy career girls, watches with fashion accents for dress-up or evening wear, watches with interchangeable bands to match business ensembles, watches with rugged shock and water resistance, watches with specially designed readable faces in slim, elegant cases.

And, as the watch to top them all, there is the classic diamond watch. Its glitter may be daintily discreet with a pair of beautiful baguettes flanking a watch face or it may be dazzlingly ablaze with many precious stones.

For the girl engaged at Christmas time, a reciprocal gift of a fine watch to him is most fitting.

Like women's watches, men's watches come in a wide variety of imaginative new styles. A glance into the jewelry showcase will show how many up-to-date designs there are to choose from. In addition to their handsome masculine looks and streamlined modern appeal, the new men's models wind themselves, resist rust, dirt and water, and are shock-proof and anti-magnetic.

Some are even powered electrically or electronically and have no winding mechanism at all, a feature with great appeal to gadget-minded males.

Yule Serenade

Serenading their neighbors with carols is a community enterprise in St. Louis, Mo. More than 50,000 carolers participate, under the guidance of the St. Louis Christmas Carols association, established half a century ago. Voluntary contributions to the carolers are used to help handicapped and underprivileged children.

The A-H Club once had only three H's. In 1909 its three H's were head, heart, and hands. In 1911 a fourth leaf was added, for health.

The approaching holiday season will be featured at the YWCA's pre-Christmas dance on Saturday, December 8, from 9 p.m. until midnight. Music will be provided by the Woodmakers. Refreshments will be served.

The YWCA's Saturday dances provide an opportunity for single young adults of post-high school age to meet other single persons and make new friends. They may come alone or with a partner, and no previous reservation is required. The dances are held on the second and fourth Saturday evenings of the month, with the exception of December 23. The next dance will be held on January 12.

For further information phone Miss Mary Ida Gardner, young adult program director, at the YWCA, CR 3-4242.

New Models Make Gift Car Easy to Choose

Miss Nona Ringler, Formerly of Summit, to Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Ringler of Springfield, formerly of Summit, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Nona Blain Ringler, to Philip P. Tsohatzopoulos. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tsohatzopoulos of Athens, Greece. Miss Ringler graduated from Smith College, Northampton, Mass., in 1949 and is a junior copywriter with J. Walter Thompson Co., New York City. Mr. Tsohatzopoulos, who obtained his bachelor of engineering and master of science degree from Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, graduated from the Ecole Experimentale de l'Universite d'Athens in 1955. He is associated with Bechtel, Dickinson and Co., Rutherford. He also attended Summit High School under a foreign student program arranged by Hi-Y clubs and the YMCA.

Local Women Win Flower Awards

Mrs. Anthony Bennett of 31 Sheffield road, president of the Rolling Hills Garden Club, received the award of distinction for her entry in the recent flower show given by the club at Schultz & Behrle store. Her all-white arrangement was called Christmas magic.

Other local residents awarded ribbons included Mrs. Paul C. Pearson, Mrs. Lester Atwood and Mrs. Stan Granberry of Berkeley Heights.

An average maple tree yields 15 to 20 gallons of sap which boils down to a quart of maple syrup.

Choosing the right model—no matter the make—should take into consideration the way the car will be used, whether they are children in the family and how many. These things may well be factors in determining whether the gift is to be a station wagon, sports model, a two door or a four door sedan. Color and upholstery are a matter of such personal taste that the gift giver should try to extract as much information on the likes and dislikes of the receiver as possible, before the car is ordered. This is a matter of deft conversation, of course. Finally there is the problem of how to present the gift car. Dealers will conspire with you to do this most dramatically. They will arrange to have the gift car delivered—ready to drive, any time you wish Christmas morning.

A second method, if you want to play it safe as to color, is to boil down to a quart of maple syrup.

Mr. Wyman escorted the bride. Miss Margaret P. Wyman served her sister as honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Miss Jane M. Yarnall, of Long Island; Mrs. William Forsythe of Teaneck; and Miss Elsa Skoglund of Clark. Frederick R. Curt of Pennsylvania was best man. Ushers were Jan E. Morley, brother of the bridegroom, Fred Briemeister, Mack E. Morley, Jr., Ronald S. Gleason, and Robert Keller.

Party at Jewish Center

The Sisterhood of Jewish Community Center will hold a game night today at 8:30 p.m. at the Center. All types of games including bridge, scrabble and mah jong will be available. Refreshments will be served and a door prize awarded. In charge of the affair are Mrs. David Block and Mrs. Maurice Kalen, both of New Providence.

For the Traveler

Diaries chosen from among the many styles shown by stores, make perfect gifts for the vacationer who is going abroad.

Do the students in the family have comfortable chairs and desks, adequate lighting and other equipment for home study? Almost certainly a survey will reveal ideas for additions that can improve the study area—extra shelves, perhaps. Small things, such as a pencil holder and bookends, often make a big difference. Cabinets and shelves to house the record collection or any hobby supplies please the teenagers and the younger children, too.

For the really big young gift, perhaps this is the Christmas when the growing-up boy or girl in the family should be surprised with a newly-furnished living-bedroom.

Santa's Elves

The little elves who help Santa in his workshop probably came from the Scandinavian countries. In Norway, Denmark and Sweden, children are told of the "Tomtar," little gray-bearded, elf-like men who hide presents for boys and girls on Christmas Eve.

The old Caribbean buccaneers got their name from the way they used to smoke their meat—on wooden frames or grids called buccans. Buccan comes from the French word, boucaner, meaning to smoke meat on a buccan.

When Santa Claus Shops for Fur, Here are Tips for Him

"Wrap up a fur coat and send it to my wife for Christmas." This, say many fur salesmen, is often the way Santa shops for the gift that, of all the gifts from him to her, is still one of the first on the Christmas list. While furriers naturally are glad when Santa chooses fur, they sometimes wish he'd make his choice in a somewhat different way — and chances are Mrs. Santa agrees.
As a gift, fur is important, luxurious and lasting, and for all these reasons, the usual questions of size, style, color deserve special care. The kind of fur, too, cannot always be immediately determined by Santa. Mink still holds top popularity spot, but another fashionable fur such as leopard, beaver, sable, broadtail or seal might be her preference.
There are many ways Santa can be sure his generous gift of fur will be absolutely right. Simplest of all is to let Mrs. Santa in on the secret and let her select the fur and its design herself.
However, if he's yearning to surprise her, that, too, can be done. He can, for instance, make sure what fur and style she prefers by a few "casual" questions. (She may suspect, but she won't know!) If she has an extra cloth coat, perhaps he can spirit it out of the house and lend it to the furrier as a size guide.

Santa can also, with the furrier's cooperation, select the skins to be used in the coat and these can become a gift-wrapped bundle under the tree. Delighted Mrs. Santa can choose her own design later.
Another plan is a gift package that symbolizes the completed coat, with one fur skin and a sketch of a design, which Mrs. Santa can have changed if she wishes.
The fur department of her favorite store will often be able to secure from other departments needed information about size and style preferences.

Attending from the Junior Fortnightly Club will be Mrs. Ernest DeRosa, Mrs. Charles L'Hommiedieu, Mrs. Henry Stricker, Mrs. Malcolm West and Mrs. Helmut Wanner.
In celebration of Cinnerama's 10th anniversary, this will be the opening night premier performance of the new cinema attraction "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm". Other highlights will be a Bavarian band and the Arthur Murray Dancers performing to the tunes familiar to the native land of Bavaria where the movie was made.

How to Surprise Mom with Major Appliance Gifts

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house, not a creature was stirring except poor Dad trying to figure out a way to surprise Mom with her new range.
Wrapping, hiding and presenting a major appliance at Christmas does pose some difficulties, but the problem can be solved with a little forethought and a lot of imagination.
If Dad and the youngsters get together, perhaps with a neighbor, it shouldn't be too difficult to get Mom out of the house for a few hours while the new unit is being delivered and installed.
The easiest way to wrap a major appliance is not to wrap it! Instead, attach a huge red satin bow or a Christmas wreath to your present with Scotch tape. Then, blindfold Mom and lead her into the kitchen for a real surprise.
You might consider giving Mom a tiny doll's-house replica of a major appliance with a card saying hers is waiting at the store, or a gift certificate.

Sending Yule Cards? Etiquette is Important

One of the most enjoyable things about the Christmas season is contacting friends and relatives with Christmas cards. These tips on "etiquette" and Christmas card mailing will help make it easier on you, and even more of a pleasure for those on the receiving end of the line.
1. When your name is not imprinted or engraved, always sign your complete name. It is proper for husband-and-wife cards to be signed "Jane and John Doe," or "The John Does." It is also correct to add a "and family" to your signature.
2. When the whole family is listed on the card, father's name comes first, followed by mother's and then the children according to age.
3. Address a card to both husband and wife, even if you know only one of them. The exception to this rule is a semi-business card that may be sent to one or the other at his or her office.
4. Address envelopes by hand, never by typewriter, and always include a return address. In New York City alone every year six million Christmas cards pour into the Dead Letter Office at the main post office.
5. It's both proper and thoughtful to send Christmas cards to people in mourning. It is a matter of courtesy and good taste to use the form of name preferred by windows. The same is true of divorcees.
6. When sending cards to the clergy, always write "The Reverend Doe," instead of simply "Reverend Doe." However, the correct form for Protest-

Women's Church Yule Luncheon

B. Goudinier of Circle 7. The dramatic reading, "The Little Angel", will be given by Mrs. Louis A. Rice of Morris-town. A musical program of traditional carols, well-loved hymns and songs will be given by the Westfield Chansonnets, a 50-voice group from Westfield and vicinity. Director of the group is Mrs. C. W. Lutz of Roselle and the accompanist is Mrs. Paul Monte of Westfield. The Chansonnets are known through their entertaining of church and civic groups, units of the armed services and patients in veterans' hospitals.
Circle 2, of which Mrs. Joseph Brant is chairman, is in charge of the luncheon. Make reservations no later than Monday noon, December 10th, by calling the church at CR 7-1700.

Evergreens Still Rated As Top Tree

Nowadays, Christmas trees are made out of almost everything, from aluminum to plastic—but the world's favorite Christmas tree is still the evergreen. Many legends explain how the evergreen became associated with Christianity. From the center a young fir tree

Christmas. One is the story of St. Wilfred, according to The Book of Knowledge. Speaking to a group of converts, the saint sought to illustrate how they had broken away from the heathen worship of the Druids. He chopped down a giant tree—an oak, since this kind of all your houses are built of the tree—was one of the chief objects of Druid worship. As it fell with the Christ Child; gather about it, not in the wildwood, but in the center of your homes. "It is the wood of peace, for that the fir should from then on serve as their 'holy tree.' "It is the sign of an endless life," he said, "for all its leaves are evergreen, and it points toward heaven."

Manger Was Once Site of Pagan Rites

Gathered in the Church of the Nativity, thousands of Christians from around the world will worship in Bethlehem this Christmas. A highlight of their pilgrimage is, for most, a visit to the Grotto of the Nativity—traditionally, at least, the manger where Christ was born.

Opposition to Christianity in the first years of the new religion actually led to the preservation of the manger—an improvised stable in a cave hewn out of rock, near the center of this hill town of Bethlehem.

The Roman emperor Hadrian, who ruled from 117 to 138 A.D., sought to halt the fast spread of Christianity, and he had the cave converted to a grotto for the worship of the pagan god Apollo. The very fact that the cave was marked, though for pagan purposes, helped to preserve knowledge of the site of the Nativity.

Later a silver star was set in the stone floor of the cave, and since 1873 each regime to rule Bethlehem—now a part of Jordan—has posted night and day guard over the star.

Joy and Reverence Mark Coming Yuletide Season

Candlelight and music, pilgrims and prayers fill churches everywhere as Christians celebrate, at special services, the birth of Christ. The joy and wonder of Christmas, with its message of new life, hope and promise of "Peace on Earth, Good Will toward Men," finds expression many ways.

In choirs singing the praises of the Babe of Bethlehem, in scenes symbolizing the birth of a Child in a manger, in the gleam of candles reflecting the light of a Star, in the sound of voices raised in carols gathered from around the world and showing the true brotherhood of man, Christmas in all its beauty and glory goes on to hearts young and old.

"Christes Masse" To Western Christian believers, December 25 carries all the deep religious meaning appropriate to the anniversary of the birth of Christ. As the date for the celebration of "Christes Masse," the Mass of Christ, it was selected some centuries after the Nativity—selected from a number of possible dates, among them January 6, March 21, March 29, April 8, May 20, September 29 and November 17.

In some Western Orthodox churches, Holy Night comes on January 6, Christmas Day on January 7. The Armenian church celebrates Christmas on January 19.

Generally, researchers agreed that the correct date and year of Christ's birth are lost in the past, although some tentative conclusions can be drawn. Since it is the miracle of the day that counts, the date that has for centuries symbolized the coming of the Saviour will undoubtedly continue its holy significance to Christendom.

To those who like to ponder on the world as it was when the infant Jesus was born, the growth of Christianity some delving into the searches about Christmas can be a rewarding experience. Any tendency to take Christmas for granted disappears in the fascinating study of the early Christian church and its growth in the face of resistance.

A comparison of Biblical references with archaeological and historical researches discloses that Christ was probably born before 4 B.C.—in other words, the present year is not 1962 of the Christian era but at least 1966.

Evidence to support this dates to the reign and death of Herod. An eclipse of the moon in 4 B.C., which coincided with a Jewish religious festival has helped historians to fix the death of Herod at about this time—and when he died, according to the New Testament, the young Jesus, Joseph and Mary were living in Egypt.

Date for Taxes That the birth of Christ may have occurred as early as 4 B.C. is deduced from archaeological discoveries indicating that one of three major collections in the reign of Augustus Caesar may have taken place then.

Selection of December 25 as the birth date of Christ may have been an effort on the part of early Christian leaders to counteract the pagan appeal of the Roman Saturnalia festival held at the turning of the year.

Yuletide Spirit Stays Through Year

Nearly every community has its special way of observing Christmas—and in some towns and cities, the spirit of Christmas prevails, literally, the year around.

In Waterbury, Conn., an all-year reminder of the first Noel is the re-creation of the Town of Bethlehem on nearby Pine Hill.

This non-sectarian "Bethlehem" was constructed to scale after research and study of photos showing the Biblical country. The cave or manger where Christ was born, inns like the one where there was no room, and the Roman legion where the tax collection decreed by Augustus Caesar was to be paid are among the buildings represented.

"Poetic license," has been used to include some buildings which were not or may not have been, located in Bethlehem, such as "David's Home" and Herod's Grand Palace.

Crowned by a Cross, Pine Hill has proved an ideal location for the project, since its shape is similar to the limestone cliff where Bethlehem in Judea was built.

Well-known "Bethlehems" in the United States include Bethlehem, Pa., and Bethlehem, Ind. The Pennsylvania Bethlehem emphasizes the religious meaning of Christmas during its annual celebration. A star erected on a nearby mountain top is lighted throughout the holiday season.

Near Palmer Lake, Colo., an electrically lighted star on a mountain top is a Christmas-season beacon for motorists on highways many miles away.

Beautiful lighting displays for Christmas are famous in many U.S. cities.

In Altadena, a suburb of Pasadena, Calif., a mile-long avenue bordered by deodar cedars becomes "Christmas Tree Lane" at the holiday season. The deodars are illuminated by thousands of multi-colored bulbs for the annual spectacle.

Colored lights outline the buildings of the Country Club Plaza district in Kansas City, Mo., at Christmas time.

Denver, Colo., illuminates its Civic Center during the holidays with many thousands of lights.

Yuletide towns have a special interest in Christmas. Arizona, Florida and Kentucky actually have towns named "Christmas." Then there are Christmas Cove, Me.; Nazareth, Pa.; Bright Star, Holly Grove and Holy Springs, Ark.; as well as Noel, Mo.; Noel, Va.; Mistletoe, Ky.; Wiseman, Alaska; and Santa Claus, Ind.

Hearth money was a tax of two shillings imposed in Britain in 1662 on every hearth in all houses except cottages.

The following is a partial listing of suburban restaurants within easy driving distance from the Summit Area that are suggested for dining out. Generally, reservations are recommended.

Hotel Suburban (Summit): Excellent luncheons and dinners in either the grill or main dining room, ranging from a snack to a banquet. Special attention given to private parties. Wines, liquors, air-conditioned and plenty of parking.

Chester House, Chester: This restaurant, once a famed inn on the Morristown Easton stage coach run, features country-style dining in a rural atmosphere. Complete bar. Open from noon to 8:30 except Tuesdays.

New Hampshire House (Summit): Bountiful meals with the added home-style touches of hot corn fritters with syrup and piping hot individual loaves of freshly baked bread served compliments of the house. Rolls, cakes and pastries all baked on premises. A feature is the Wednesday buffet luncheon. Recommended by Duncan Hines.

The Acres: Lush surroundings make dining here a pleasure. Add to the ultra-modern decor a fine menu featuring American and German dishes and a daily chef's special and you're bound to have an enjoyable time. Open daily except Tuesday for luncheon or dinner.

Saw Mill Inn: With waiters and bartenders resplendent in their quaint Colonial garb, this popular dining spot maintains the very highest standards of old American tradition. Complete bar service. The William Pitt, Chatham: This charming and spacious Colonial restaurant is known far and wide for its generous American dishes. Complete bar service. Open daily except Monday for lunch and dinner.

The Old Mill Inn: A recent innovation which received an award from the American Hotel Association is the Wednesday featuring the authentic food and liquor of a different country each week. nesday evening continental Brummagem, a word meaning "showy or trashy," is a corruption of Birmingham, English city once famous for manufacturing gilt toys of rather poor quality.

Sandstone formations resembling castles, skyscrapers, pyramids, and grotesque animals have been carved by wind and rain in Brazil's Vila Velha National Park.

In the early days of New the proximity of good harbors. Jersey history, many towns The cities of Passaic, Paterson, were settled where natural re. Bridgeton, Millville, Lamber- sources were available. The ville and Boonton were settled growth of Camden and Jersey because of the availability of City was accelerated because of water power.

Cranberries Traditional At Christmas

Cranberries, so much a part of our holiday dining tradition, was i-bini, or "bitter berry" to the Indians, who pounded the fruit with meat into a paste called pemmican; used cranberry poultices on wounds and used the juice as a red dye.

The Pilgrims, noting the berries were a favorite food of cranes, called them craneberries, and this eventually changed to cranberries.

Cranberries were harvested from wild vines until 1816, when Henry Hall, a veteran of the Revolution, transplanted wild vines to a swampy site near Dennis, Mass. Hall had observed that the choicest wild berries were usually found in sandy areas, so he spread sand over his fields and produced an excellent crop.

Many other early plantings failed, in Massachusetts and New Jersey, before growers learned that the cranberry would thrive only under certain conditions. Cranberry fields today are located in bog areas with peat soil, the fields are well-drained and can be flooded to protect vines from cold and control insects; sand is plentiful, and necessary to slow evaporation, provide a good medium for root growth, and keep down weeds.

Birds Welcome
Birds are welcome visitors to cranberry bogs. Some bogs are lined with birdhouses—homes for swallows, which eat destructive insects.

And with the birds, are the bees, who also perform an important service. Cranberry pollen is too heavy to be carried by wind, so bees are necessary to pollinate the flowers.

For camping and hunting trips, put nonfat dry milk on your list, say home economists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service. It's easy to carry and easy to reconstitute. For 1 cup of milk, add 1/4 cup dry milk to 1 cup cold water—presto—a refreshing drink for thirsty campers!

First Yule Cards Were Made in Boston in 1875

American Christmas cards were launched on a commercial scale exactly 87 years ago by an eminent Boston lithographer named Louis Prang. A penniless immigrant when he landed in America in 1850, Prang made a big impact on America's celebration of Christmas, earning him the title of "Father" of the American Christmas card.

Started in 1874
Prang got started publishing greeting cards in a rather strange way. In 1874, one year before he marketed his first American Christmas cards, young art student by the name of Miss D. E. Whitney, who worked in his shop, presented him with a painting of a budding moss rose which she had done.

There was something about this simple moss rose that appealed to both his artistic sense and to his commercial instincts. Prang saw a golden chance to increase his business. He decided to print "Merry Christmas" on small floral decorated cards as the British had been doing since the early 1840's.

Art Competition Held
To insure that he would always have an ample supply of the finest designs for his cards, Prang conducted an annual competition with prizes totaling as much as $3,000. In the 1880's, people were paying up to $1 each for a deluxe Prang card. The only cards were usually stamped on the back with a notice that the design received one of Prang's prizes.

About Nazareth

Nazareth, the chosen city and one of Christendom's holiest places, was once so insignificant that the term "Nazarene," was applied to Jesus Christ in derision. When Jesus called his first disciples, Philip of Bethsaida was chosen and Philip happily informed Nathanael, "We have discovered the One about Whom our scriptures speak. He is Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph." And Nathanael replied, "Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" But when Nathanael came to Jesus, Jesus spoke to him and Nathanael exclaimed, "Thou art the Son of God; Thou art the King of Israel." Nathanael returned to Nazareth in the company of a few chosen disciples as Jesus was to begin His ministry in the land He loved so well.

This is the summer to tuck eggs into your menus, morning noon and night. They're plentiful and a bargain, so it's a good time to enjoy them. Egg prices this summer should be the lowest they've been in four years, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service.

Schaffernoth Top Twirler

Joe Schaffernoth of Berkeley Heights, a pitcher for the Jacksonville, Fla., club in the International League, achieved top honors in the league for this season. The former Regional High star didn't win a game last year, chalked up 18 wins this season to become the ace twirler in the loop. Schaffernoth, who is on the 1963 roster of the Cleveland Indians, also led in innings pitched with 219.

Named Vice President

H. Douglas McGeorge of 17 Valley View avenue has been made an assistant vice president of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in its mortgage department. McGeorge is a graduate of Amherst College and Fordham Law School and is a member of the New York State Bar.

Although the soil never thaws to depths of more than a few inches, poppies and many other flowers grow above the Arctic Circle. So do dandelions.

Christmas is Time for Many Ancient Customs

As the world grows smaller, Christmas observances in different countries grow more similar. Santa Claus in red suit and white beard drives his reindeer-drawn sleigh to North, Central and South America and to many other countries as well.

In fact, when the first explorer lands on Mars, he shouldn't be too surprised to discover that Santa, and even Rudolph, got there first.

Sharing of Christmas customs, however, only serves to point up the fact that this is a holiday for everyone, and a holiday which draws ideas from all lands and times, uniting them in both religious and secular observances of the season.

In Mexico

Celebrating the posada is a Mexican custom focused on the Nativity. "Posada" means "lodging" or "inn," and for the nine "posada" days from December 16 to 25, churches, hotels, social groups and families throughout Mexico act out the story of the Nativity.

At first the innkeepers refuse, then they admit the pilgrims to feast and rejoice. Figures representing Mary and Joseph are placed in a replica of the manger. On Christmas Eve, the figure representing Jesus is added.

In Holland

Gift-giving season in Holland traditionally begins on December 5 and is called "Strooiavond" or "strewing night." Children place their shoes by the fireplace, filled with carrots and hay for St. Nicholas' horse, — in the expectation that on the morrow the shoes will contain candy, fruits and toys.

In Scotland

Christmas feast favorites in Scotland include shortbread, a rich cake or cookie, and haggis, a kind of pudding. New Year's Eve, or Hogmanay, is the principal day for gifts and greetings, when children go singing from house to house, in hopes of a treat. New Year's visits are paid — and it's customary for the visitor to bring along a pocketful of coal.

In Portugal

Christmas is the occasion for a family celebration among the Portuguese. Families gather on Christmas Eve for dinner at the home of the oldest living relative. After the children have gone to bed, a crib decorated with lights and garlands is placed before the fireplace, and around it are grouped the children's shoes, which serve the same function as Christmas stockings.

In Brazil

Papa Noel makes the Christmas Eve rounds in Brazil, in a reindeer-drawn sleigh. He brings the trees with popcorn and bits of cotton — to make up for the snow that never falls. Since Christmas weather in Brazil is summery, picnics and boating excursions are part of the celebration.

Many modern Christmas customs come from Germany, including the lighted evergreen tree. Appropriately, gift-giving today starts after Christmas holidays are distributed on December 1.

Despite its economic and historic importance New York's Hudson River is relatively quiet. More than 60 other rivers in the United States are closed the 315-mile Hudson in length.

Readers Still Stay Loyal to Dicken's Best

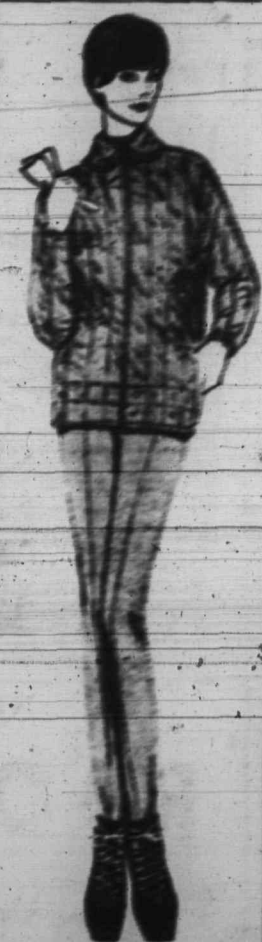

A Christmas Carol in Prose was first published at Christmas 1843, and since that time its popularity has never waned.

Generation after generation has laughed and cried over the story of the miserly Scrooge, who through the revivings of three spirits—Christmas Past, Present and Yet to Come—became a man who "knew how to keep Christmas well, if any man alive possessed the knowledge."

Charles Dickens, creator of the "Carol," loved it as well as, or perhaps even better than, its many readers did. He told of crying and laughing again and again as, captivated by his story, he wrote the 36,000-word book in six weeks.

When Dickens gave readings from his works in England and America, the story of Scrooge was always the prime favorite with his audiences.

Perhaps the best known part of the story is Christmas dinner at the Cratchits, where Scrooge and the Ghost of Christmas Present observed the family of his clerk, Bob Cratchit, making merry over a simple Christmas dinner, highlighted by a goose—"There never was such a goose"—and a pudding. "Oh, what a wonderful pudding!"

Four Veteran Starters Bolster Hopes of Summit High Cagers

By Jim Ellowitz

Summit — For several weeks, the Summit High School basketball team has been practicing. About 60 boys tried out for a spot on the team, but only about 25 will play varsity or junior varsity basketball this season.

The Hilltoppers have four starters returning from last year. The guards for this year's squad probably will be John Mathers and Rod Mitchell. Sid Rhines and Brent Cromwell (the only new starter) are slated to start at forward. Last year's co-captain, Bill Ritchie, will be at center.

Paul Prather, Bob Meinert and Jim Royer also will see action with the Maroon and White varsity. Promising sophomores include Mike Bloomstein, Jeff Haddock and Hugh Moore.

The Summit team will play 11 games away, while playing nine games in the new gym which is longer than the old gym in the junior high.

Coach Joseph Coleman considers the Hilltoppers to have a good chance of winning the Suburban Conference title with the strongest opposition coming from Millburn and Verona. Difficult games also are expected with New Providence (with whom Summit has always split the two games), Governor Livingston High of Berkeley Heights, Roselle Park and Springfield Regional.

The Hilltoppers have done very well in two scrimmages to date. They handily defeated Watchung Hills Regional and also outscored Westfield, a team that some experts pick to take the state title.

The team has looked very good in these two encounters, but these were only practice games. The true test will come in the

Summit 'Y' Boys Drill Hard for Swim Opener

By Dave Secunda

Summit — After ending last year in the league lead, the YMCA boys' swimming team enters a new series of indoor pool tests as the team to beat in the YMCA League.

Week after week, a group of high-spirited and hard-working young athletes are being put through well organized paces for the same wonderful, sporting reason, namely, to beat the other fellow or to beat a number in a book.

Lou Chouquette, the YMCA's cheerful Director of Physical Education, has proudly watched this year's team of hardened swimmers grow from a bunch of fledglings to a well-sharpened, solid second, racing group. The team has as its objective to be the best team in the state of New Jersey!

Under the coaching of Bill Keen, the bulk of last year's squad will have the support of an equally eager gang of newcomers in the task of fending off equally strong groups from Westfield, Plainfield, Jersey City, Orange and Montclair, which are also reaching for top honors.

The first of these squads scheduled to battle the Summit team is Jersey City on Dec. 8. All swimming enthusiasts are welcome to cheer the gang along when these challengers and their stop-watch bedecked followers meet at 2 p.m. at the Summit pool.

The statewide AAU races, as well as the YMCA league, will soon again feel the impact of "old-timers" Hank Detering, Jeff Pfister, Fred Hochman, Nate Lessin, Bob Stine, George Heath, Dean Edwards, Kevin Vandemark and others in the 15/17 year-old age group.

The very best Jersey has to offer will be hard put to beat the record holders in the 13/14 group composed of Brandt Switzer, Vic Pfeiffer, John Secunda, Bill Duncan, Pete Dayenport, Ed Reynolds, John Wise and John Renz.

The 11/12 year group, Ben Clark and John McCoubrey aim to repeat as leaders with the support of David Brack, Dyke Edwards and George Peters. The 10 and under group is where the greatest number of newcomers show up but here, too, there are fine holdovers like Jim Secunda, Nick Cantarella, Robert Reynolds and John Edack.

When the squad is reviewed and the record holders counted, Coach Kogan and Director Chouquette, as well as the Summit swim team's friends and followers, see a lot of promise in the state races and even beyond. The water talent now displaying laps in the Y pool displays all of the characteristics, if en-

Summit Swimmers Smash 4 Records, Win Virginia Meet

Summit — The Summit YMCA Girls' Swim Team opened its indoor season in spectacular fashion by winning the eighth annual Thanksgiving Open Age Group meet at the Northern Virginia Aquatic Club pool in Arlington, Va.

The Summit team, which finished fifth in the Women's National AAU championships in Chicago last summer, had won the Thanksgiving meet last year by eight points. This year, however, Summit outclassed all opposition.

The Summit girls scored 157 points in the two-day meet which attracted 800 competitors from 39 teams in 14 states and Puerto Rico. Northern Virginia was second with 141 points; with KCO of Baltimore third at 134 and Suburban of Philadelphia fourth with 118 points.

Thirty girls competed for Summit, with the local lassies breaking four National Age Group records. Ginny Duenkel, National Women's backstroke champion, established a new mark for 15-17 year-old girls in the 100-yard backstroke with a 1:03.9 clocking.

Ten-year-old Lynn Rohrey broke the 50-yard breaststroke record with an amazing 35-second time.

In the final period, the Eagles were forced to take up the ball on the 15-yard line. Ron Bartz ran for 30 yards, Ron Bartz made 15 on a deep reverse and Miller scampered around end from the 8 for a touchdown.

Chris Berg raced 35 yards in the closing minutes for the Eagles' only touchdown.

January First Has Long Been Special Day

is a time for looking ahead, for the first day of the New Year making plans, for hope and optimism. But it is also a time when most of us look back, with fond memories, to days of yesterday.

With each New Year, we are conscious that time does not wait and that each new day is soon a part of history.

Looking back through the pages of time, we find that many interesting events have taken place on January 1. It was for instance the birthday of Betsy Ross (1732), Paul Revere (1735), and Philip Freneau (1752).

The first practical fire engine was tested Jan. 1, 1852. President Abraham Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation on the first day of the year 1863. The famous Tournament of Roses began Jan. 1, 1890.

The USSR was formed Jan. 1, 1923; U.S. parcel post service was inaugurated Jan. 1, 1913. On the first day of the year 1934 the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation was inaugurated and the Bank Guaranty Act became effective.

The United Nations Charter was signed Jan. 1, 1942. The United States Air Force in Europe was formed Jan. 1, 1944 and Japanese Emperor Hirohito disavowed divinity Jan. 1, 1946.

Two Murray Hill Men in New Posts At Merck & Co.

James J. Latendresse of 24 Ford place, Murray Hill, has been appointed manager of organization and development of Merck & Co., Inc. It was announced this week by John J. Latendresse, director of personnel relations in his new post at Merck & Co., Inc. responsible for advancing organizational structure and developing executive manpower. The latter includes personnel recruitment, development and training.

Robert L. O'Connor, of 55 Chestnut Hill drive, Murray Hill, succeeds Mr. Latendresse as personnel director of the Merck Sharp & Dohme research laboratories, a division of Merck & Co., Inc.

Mr. Latendresse had been personnel director of the laboratories since joining the company in 1958. Prior to that he held similar posts at Haag Drug Company, Inc., and P. R. Mallory Co., Inc., both in Indianapolis.

A native of St. Paul, Minn., Mr. Latendresse was graduated with distinction from Indiana University in 1955, and received his master's degree in business administration from Rutgers University.

He served in the U.S. Navy in 1945-46, and was a personnel officer in the U.S. Air Force during the Korean War, attaining the rank of captain.

Mr. O'Connor has served in various personnel positions since joining the Merck Sharp & Dohme research laboratories in 1958. He previously was associate personnel director at Associated Universities, Inc., Upton, N. Y., and engineering assistant, Consolidated Edison Company.

A native of New York City, Mr. O'Connor graduated from St. John's University in 1942 with a B.S. in chemistry.

Times Change but Shepherds Still Watch Over Sheep at Night

Sheep and shepherding are closely linked with the Christmas story, and they also serve as a symbol of the kindness and loving care that was part of Christ's message to mankind.

When darkness falls on Christmas Eve, today's shepherd is watching his flock by night and, probably, looking at the stars in the heavens, just as the shepherds of old did.

There are some differences — for instance, the shepherd on the Western ranges of the U.S. has changed the shepherd's robes for levis, and the flock he watches are much larger, numbering sheep by the thousands. But the meaning of shepherd — "to herd, guard, lead," says a dictionary definition — hasn't changed.

Sheep still must be watched by night, because, for some reason known only to the sheep, night is the time they are most likely to decide to roam to faraway places. In sudden storms, the shepherd, his horse and dog must guide the flock to shelter.

The ailing sheep or the new born lamb are sure of the herder's gentle care, and when part of the flock has strayed, he searches with a diligence that recalls the parable of Jesus: "What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he finds it?" (Luke 15:4).

Package Sorting Led to Yule Seals

Inspiration for the first Christmas seals came to Einar Holboell, a Danish postal clerk, as he was sorting packages one Christmas season. He envisioned all the packages bearing a special stamp, with the proceeds spent to aid people who suffered from tuberculosis. The King and many of Denmark's leading citizens endorsed the idea, in 1904. Later, the plan spread to Norway and Sweden, and in 1907 was adopted in the U.S. More than 20 countries now use the seal.

Puritan Kids Not Without Christmas Toys

While it is quite true that Christmas was just another winter day in early New England, Puritan children were not without toys.

It is quite likely that children in Puritan families received toys as awards for being good. Since there were no stores in which to buy toys, the father had to rely on his own ingenuity and imagination.

In most instances, toys were miniatures of furniture or other items familiar about the home and were carefully whittled out of wood.

Some interesting toys from the New England of a century and a half ago many still be seen at Old Sturbridge Village, Mass., a recreation of a typical town in this period of American history.

Included in the collection are such items as a doll bed, wheelbarrow, a slant-topped desk, and a tiny team of oxen drawing a sled.

Decorative Wreath

A wire coat hanger, a few sprigs of evergreen and a few minutes of your time—that's all you need to fashion a decorative evergreen wreath.

Leaving the hook at the top, simply fashion the hanger into a round ring. Fasten the evergreens to the ring with heavy thread and a large needle.

Sprinkle the evergreens with aerosol snow before hanging the wreath.

Cleaning Firm Bares All for Customers

Columbia Cleaners has taken the mystery out of the dry cleaning process. It has, through recent modernization of its main plant on Chatham road, removed walls which have separated the customer from the inner workings of a dry cleaning plant.

If she so chooses, the customer is able to take advantage of new coin-operated professional dry cleaning units Columbia has recently installed in its main plant as part of its modernization program. This revolutionary process, designed especially for those who need dry cleaning done in a hurry, gives the customer adequate results in an hour's time, enabling her to meet last minute appointments or occasions with complete confidence in grooming.

"For years," says Salem Boorujy, president of Columbia Cleaners, "the operation of a dry cleaning plant has been a mystery. A customer would pass his clothing, draperies, slip covers, rugs, over the counter and then in a short time, they would be returned, cleaned and pressed."

need to whip up your best batch of holiday packages yet.

Important Rules
First, a few simple, yet important rules to help you turn out professional looking packages every time.

Be sure to cut your paper the right size, allowing enough to go around the box and overlap about two inches. It should extend beyond the end of the box no more than three-quarters of the depth.

Tape the lid to the box to prevent bulges, then lay the box upside down on the paper, being sure to center the pattern so that it shows to best advantage. Fold the paper around the box and seal. Miter the corners at the ends and seal.

Let Imagination Go
Once your gifts are neatly wrapped, you're ready to let your imagination roam to decorate them. Here are some suggestions from Rust Craft to help you get started:

— silhouettes can be used to give a hint of what's inside — a fish if the package contains something for the ardent fisherman; a barber pole if the content is after-shaving lotion; notes if a musical instrument or records.

— decorate the outside of a tissue-wrapped package with a ribbon-tree. With green ribbon, form a series of graduated loop bows to form the outline of a Christmas tree, then finish off with ornament tie-ons. Use red ribbon for the tree's base.

— use sparkling glitter to spell out a person's name when you have used a solid color foil wrapping. Write the name with an adhesive and then dust on the glitter.

Brighten Children's Gifts
— children's gifts are brightened with faces of clowns and Santas, or made to look like railroad cars. Make cars for the train by using flat packages of chewing gum covered with colored paper. Use single life-savers for wheels and a whole package wrapped in red and white striped gift wrapping for the engine.

— tall, slender gifts such as bottles of perfume, can be made to look like burning candles, or like child's party snappers, when the ends are fringed and tied.

In France
In southern France "santons" are better known than Santa. "Santons" are clay replicas of members of the Holy Family, manger animals and saints. Since the creche, rather than the evergreen tree, is the center of Christmas home decoration in France, the santons play an important part.

NEW JERSEY TRICENTENARY TALES
ONLY THE WORM NEED WORK
By John T. Cunningham
Madness lay on the land. Sober farmers throughout New Jersey tossed good judgment to the winds, a medical doctor in Burlington turned common thief and delusions of grandeur touched everyone from staid housewives to studious clergymen. Morus multicaulus fever had come.
The "fever" took its name from the Chinese mulberry tree.

That summer turned oppressively hot and dry. Multicaulus trees wilted in the fields, but silk companies or societies optimistically formed in Belvidere, Freehold, Burlington, Princeton, Newark, Woodbury, Allentown, Columbus, Trenton, Elizabeth and scattered spots in Morris and Bergen counties.

Success? A Princeton man sold $4,000 worth of trees in 1838, at 27 cents per tree. Rev. D. V. McLean of Freehold reported that he had fed 100,000 silk worms "with complete success." Ward Cheney & Brothers of Connecticut erected a silk cocoonery in Burlington, as a cafeteria for millions of hungry silkworms.

A visitor to Burlington in the summer of 1838 wrote that "you can scarcely go into a house but you find the inmates engaged in feeding worms."

Being "grave, sedate and industrious" was no inoculation against the fever. Burlington in 1838 had more than 300,000 (Continued on Page 36)
