

Twin Power Failures Hit Summit Area

The Summit Area was without electric power for a total of two hours and 42 minutes last Monday when a giant failure plunged New Jersey and three other states into a massive blackout. The first failure here occurred at 10:25 a.m. and lasted until 11:44 p.m. when power was restored. It failed again at 12:15 p.m., and came back on at 12:43 p.m.

Some sections of Union County were without power for nearly nine hours. The giant failure was the worst in the Summit Area since January, 1948 when an ice-storm tore down power lines and residents were without electricity for almost a week.

Throughout the double-pronged failure, the city, along with 13,000,000 other people in a 15,000 mile square area, was forced to exist without the benefit of electric power.

Although the failure occurred during daylight hours and air-conditioning use was at a minimum, a crisis began to build when it was realized that water reserves were running dangerously low because the electrically powered pumps had ground to a halt, and there was no way to pump water from the reservoirs into tanks. Commonwealth immediately notified Police Departments in areas that the company serves to warn residents to conserve water at all costs until the emergency passed.

Other than the possible loss of water supplies, it was business as usual in Summit during the blackout.

Many persons voiced irritation at the failure since it came almost precisely at the time the United Nations went into emergency session over the Middle East war and radios and television sets went dead. Car radios, however, still operated.

Many companies in the city, including the Summit Herald's production department, came to (Continued on Page 2)

Wallace Chapel Names Red Bank Cleric to Pulpit

Rev. Thomas H. Coursey has been named to the pulpit of Wallace Chapel A.M.E. Zion Church, succeeding Rev. John E. Spruill, who has been named pastor of Wallace Chapel Temple, Bayonne.

Rev. Coursey comes from Shrewsbury Avenue A. M. E. Zion Church, Red Bank, the Mother Church of the New Jersey Conference, where the New Jersey Conference was organized July 2, 1884, of which he has been pastor since 1963.

Born near Salisbury, Md., Rev. Coursey entered the ministry in 1937 and was ordained a deacon in the A.M.E. Zion Church.

In Red Bank, his accomplishments include liquidation of the mortgage, furnishing of the parsonage, acquisition of a new electronic organ and kitchen equipment, refurbishing of the church basement and erection of a new roof.

Additionally, Rev. Coursey served nearly two years as vice president of the Council of Churches and as president of the Ministerium of the Greater Red Bank Area.

Mrs. Coursey, a licensed practical nurse, has served as president of the United Church Women of the Greater Red Bank Area and as a member of the National Council of Negro Women. She is a native of Trenton, attended the University of Pennsylvania and was appointed to the executive board of Monmouth County Citizens' (Continued on Page 2)

Six Kent Place Teachers End School Careers

The careers of six Kent Place faculty members will come to a close this June. Two of the group have taught at Kent Place School for 41 years.

Miss Dorothy Sampson came to Kent Place in 1926 to teach American and ancient history and now heads the history department and serves as a junior class adviser. Although her future plans are uncertain, Miss Sampson hopes to continue to teach at Pingry during the summer and to travel in New England.

Miss Elizabeth Hummel has introduced the upper school to the wonders of the plant and animal worlds since 1926. Before coming to Kent Place, Miss Hummel worked in the Woods Hole Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass. Her future plans include travel.

Mrs. Samuel Bell, head of the primary school, is retiring after 21 years of teaching English in (Continued on Page 6)

Optimists Man Pumps For Charity

Summit Area residents with automobiles have an opportunity on Saturday to aid a worthwhile cause while at the same time have their cars serviced.

For the 15th annual year, the Optimist Club of Summit and New Providence will sponsor a day-long fund raising drive at Summit Atlantic Service Station, next to City Hall, on Saturday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Members of the club will personally man gas pumps, while one of the club's youth groups will wash cars. Money collected will be used to provide scholarship funds for youths who would not be eligible for help through any other channels because of a background of delinquency, which in the opinion of the Optimists, has been overcome.

Tickets, which can be redeemed for $1 in labor or merchandise, have been mailed to several hundred area residents and businesses.

The Optimist Club coordinates its activities through the Police Department, Family Service Association and the YMCA.

Public Meeting Called to Weigh Sex Education in City's Schools

"The Need for Sex Education in the Summit Public School System", will be the title of a public panel discussion to be held Wednesday, June 21, at 8 p.m., in the high school auditorium under sponsorship of the Lay Committee on Education.

During the last several weeks Lay Committee members have interviewed local school principals, schools in New Jersey and out of state, lawyers, judges, doctors, ministers and social service officials in regard to a proposed course in sex education here.

All those interviewed were asked whether or not there was a need for sex education in the public schools, where the subject should be taught, and at what age levels such education should begin, as well as other related questions.

At the meeting a report on the results of the study will be presented together with samples of educational films, filmstrips, slides and records.

Members of the consulting panel will include Dr. Robert Salisbury, superintendent of schools, Dr. William E. Gann, medical director of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic, and Marvin Levy, supervisor of health and safety education of the New Jersey Board of Education.

The study was undertaken as a result of the recent "Policy Statement on Sex Education," adopted by the State Board of Education on January 4.

In part, the statement says, "Sex education is a continuing process throughout life and therefore must be planned for during the entire school experience of the child. Schools are important agencies in the development of healthy habits of living and moral values. There-

Moving Permits For Year Now Five Below '66

Moving permits for the first five months of this year are now five below the number reported during the comparable period in 1966, the city tax department has informed the Union County Board of Elections at Elizabeth.

With 32 permits issued during May, the year's total now stands at 139, five under the 144 reported during the same time in 1966. Last month's totals also represented a dip of 22 from the 54 during May of last year, and three under the 35 in April of this year.

Those moving outside the area last month reached 10, five under the 15 in May, 1966, but one more than the nine reported last April.

Summit Area Forms Group To Aid Israel

Many of the leading members of the American-Jewish community of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, plus representatives of all the major Jewish organizations in the area, met last Sunday to form the Israel Emergency Fund Committee of the Greater Summit Area. The ad hoc committee, headed by Richard Jaffer and the Rabbi Morrison Bial and William Horn of Temple Sinai and the Jewish Community Center respectively.

The Israel Emergency Fund Committee has been formed to act as an "umbrella" agency to head up all fund-raising in this country in support of Israel during the present Middle Eastern war crisis. All money collected in the emergency drive will be sent directly to Israel. The Committee said "the aggressive action of the Arab nations which

City Vacation Play Program Opening Set

With school vacation three weeks away, the Board of Recreation announced this week that its eight-week summer playground program for boys and girls at five city playfields will begin on Monday, June 26 and continue through August 18. "Sunfunshine" has been chosen as the theme to guide the program of fun and competition set for this summer's playgrounds. Each week the children will have a new "Sunfunshine" week, with special events and activities to explore. The weekly theme on the "Sunfunshine" calendar are friendship, America, arts and crafts, nature, drama and storytelling, physical fitness, games, and family.

Recreation programs will be in operation Monday through Friday, under the supervision of trained leaders, at the city's six summer playgrounds which include Lincoln School, Mable, Edison, Tatlock, Memorial and Wilson Playgrounds.

In addition to special activities, carried on in conjunction with the summer and weekly themes are programs such as Play Day, Sports Day, Community Night, Playground Olympics, girls' and boys' softball leagues, summer boys' baseball leagues, cook-outs, watermelon parties and sprinkler parties.

Also included in this year's program will be the New Jersey State Playground Olympics to be held at Fairlawn, July 26. The swimming program, started two years ago in cooperation with the YMCA, will be continued this year.

Cyril Connelly, a teacher and department head in Summit's public school system, is returning for his seventh consecutive year as playground supervisor. Mrs. Helen Chesler of Millington, will again oversee the arts and crafts programs.

The Board of Recreation urges all elementary and junior high school age children to visit their nearest playground on opening day to register.

Zone Board OKs Garden Apartment

By a vote of 3-1 Monday night the Zoning Board of Adjustment approved an application which paved the way for construction of a garden apartment in West Summit near the New Providence line. Final approval is still subject to Common Council action.

The proposed 24-unit apartment would be constructed near Kings Supermarket at Springfield and Division avenues and would be developed by Ralph J. Pocaro, a local attorney. Voting in favor of the application were James B. Burke, chairman; Walter Waldau and Roger Ward. Casting the lone nay vote was John G. Faron.

The Zoning Board had approved a previous application but the recommendation was later turned down by Common Council which expressed the opinion that the plan was not in keeping with the area. Mr. Pocaro submitted a new application which included various changes in the plat plan. Under the new approved plan, one building will consist of 10 units and the other building, 14 units.

In its findings, the Zoning Board indicated that an apartment development in that area of the city would not necessarily have any adverse effects on realty values nor would the "intent" of the city's zoning code be harmed. The board also mentioned that there was an apparent need for additional one-bedroom apartments in the city.

At a public hearing on the matter last May 1, New Providence registered concern over the prospects of an apartment on its eastern border on grounds that possible flooding could be created because of a lack of run-off facilities. The water, New Providence said, would have to run across Division avenue into Salt Brook which is located in the Borough.

The Hotel Suburban, hoping to gain permission to construct a new parking lot, was told by the Zoning Board of Adjustment Monday night that it would have to come back again on June 20 to further present its case.

If testimony is not completed by roughly 11 p.m. that night, there is a possibility that hearings on the case will be postponed until September, with a final decision not forthcoming until probably October or November. Common Council would still have the final say if the application is approved with a decision from that body possibly delayed until December.

The hotel, which submitted the present application in April, is attempting to prove that its design for a new parking lot in the area roughly bounded by Locust drive and Tulip street, would not be detrimental to the surrounding area, but would enhance it.

Local residents, who have formed a committee known as Residential Property Defenders, to fight the parking lot have been represented by Hugo M. Pfaltz, Jr. who has based part of his case on the doctrine of "res judicata," which says that those matters which already have been decided may not be warmed over. A previous application which was turned down by both the Zoning Board of Adjustment and upheld by Common Council was the basis of a law suit brought by the Hotel Suburban which it subsequently lost.

At May's meeting, the doctrine was turned down by the Zoning Board on grounds that the Hotel might have something new to offer and that the Suburban should have its day in court to try to prove that it did.

In an effort to prove that it did have something new to offer, the hotel, which is being represented by Russell T. Kerby, said the proposed parking (Continued on Page 2)

Zoning Board Mulls School for Deaf Children

The Zoning Board of Adjustment postponed final action Monday night on an application which would permit use of an existing building on Overlook Hospital grounds for use as a school for pre-school deaf and hard-of-hearing children.

The property, located at 34 Upper Overlook road, is in a B-5 two-family residential district. A variance is required since the proposed school lies on a plot smaller than the minimum required by the city's zoning ordinance.

According to Edward Kenyon, a local attorney seeking the variance, the school would be initially underwritten by the Junior League by a bequest of $41,000 which would pay for teachers' salaries, costs of the program and for the first year, initial investment of equipment. Overlook Hospital would provide, rent free, use of the house which it owns to serve as the school's location. Mr. Kenyon said Bell Telephone Laboratories would donate certain equipment related to lip reading and teaching the hard-of-hearing how to speak.

The school, if approved, would be open daily from 9:30 a.m. (Continued on Page 6) a dead halt during the failure since all of its newspaper producing equipment is electrical-ly powered. The city's banks and savings associations were also hardpressed since all accounting equipment is powered by electricity. Computers went out, and bank tellers were forced to list deposits by hand. Service on the Erie-Lackawanna was also halted.

One man was caught between floors in the Bassett building at the time of the failure. He was extricated almost immediately when service employees pulled him to safety through the emergency door.

Local restaurants were also affected when malted milk mixers, grills and other pieces of equipment needed to satisfy customers requests went out.

The Police Department said it received no emergency calls and there were no reports of accidents. Police manned intersections where traffic signals failed. The Summit Civil Defense and Disaster Control Council was alerted to stand by by Maxwell Lester, jr., director. The Auxiliary Police and the Public Work Department were also put on alert in the event the failure lasted for any length of time and the state was put on an emergency basis. Power was supplied to the Police Department through its auxiliary generators.

area would be removed 3 in 4 feet to diminish nois. glaring lights and other "nuisance factors." An existing garage would be razed and there would be a scientifically designed "good neighbor" fence as well as a buffer of shrubbery. Locust drive would also be closed off to any ingress and egress.

On Monday, Mr. Pfaltz hammered further at what he termed the "possible traffic jam" which could ensue if all traffic in the parking lot had to enter or exit from Springfield avenue. He hinted that tiered-parking near the Springfield avenue entrance could be a possibility, thus eliminating the need to use the area bounded by Locust drive and Tulip street.

Further, Mr. Pfaltz said that the new parking setup violates aspects of the Master Plan in that the proposed facility would be located in an A-6 residential zone.

In reply, Edward C. Holmes, a local realtor, appearing on behalf of the Hotel Suburban, maintained that construction of the parking lot would "enhance" the area, declaring that a landscaped parking lot with shrubbery is better than the existing empty lot. He maintained that such a parking lot would not lower realty values, would take cars off Tulip street and put them in a parking lot "where they belong" and provide the Hotel with the added parking facilities "which it desperately needs."

Under the plan, the hotel is requesting 62 additional parking spaces.

Japan to Get City's First AFS Student
Barbara Partenheimer, 17, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Partenheimer of 1 Silver Lake Drive, will fly to Japan on Monday, for a twelve-week stay with a Japanese family under auspices of the American Field Service Americans Abroad Summer Program.

Barbara, a junior in Summit High School, will be the first Summit student accepted for the AFS summer program. In the last five years, six students from Summit High School have gone overseas - to New Zealand, Switzerland, South Africa, Norway and Thailand - all for the full school year. The Americans Abroad Program is one phase of the American Field Service involving the exchange of high school students between the U.S. and some 45 participating countries - the purpose being to create understanding among peoples.

Barbara will live with the Nishino family in Osaka. Her "sister", Sadae Nishino, is also 17 and there are two younger sisters and a grandmother besides Mr. and Mrs. Nishino in the family. In a letter received last week, Sadae wrote "my mother and I will make a yukato-kimono for Barbara as one of the gifts."

For Barbara, the trip is the end of a long wait. She was one of 26 applicants last September. After extensive interviews by local AFS members, she became one of seven semi-finalists. In November she was notified that she had been selected as a finalist and her name submitted to AFS-New York. Being chosen however was no guarantee, as AFS can only place 40 percent of all applicants.

Besides the usual excitement in preparing for her trip, Barbara is looking forward to returning next fall to share her experience with her fellow students at Summit High School. "I hope to be able to link two families as much as possible through a mutual understanding", she said, "and through this experience hope that our two countries, as well, can better understand one another."

Local Forum To Discuss Viet War

"Our Objectives in Southeast Asia" will be the topic of a community forum at a place to be announced Sunday, June 18 at 7:45 p.m. sponsored by the Summit Area Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam. The speakers will include Lewis R. Townsend of the Department of State and Charles Tait of the American Friends Service Committee.

Mr. Townsend who will present the government's objectives, returned this spring from Saigon. He served as deputy chief of the Joint Economic Section and also was second secretary of the United States Embassy at Saigon. He is a native of New York City and has been with the State Department 15 years.

Mr. Tait, who will discuss alternatives to the present government policy in Vietnam, is a lawyer who has traveled in Southeast Asia and participated in many programs on the subject.

dominion over the atom

Man will never really conquer the atom until he conquers his fear of the atom — his fear of annihilation. He needs a spiritual understanding of himself, of the universe, and of God. You are invited to hear a one-hour public lecture on this subject by Jules Cern of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. The title is "Christian Science: Dominion Over the Atom."

Young people need help in hitting the mark

Spiritual perception to see the real purpose of life and moral strength to reach it — this is the help they need. (One of the words for sin in the early Bible meant "to miss the mark.") Chatham Now Has Towel Of Its Own

A commemorative towel depicting the colonial history of Chatham has been designed by a Summit artist under the commission of two Summit residents who are Chatham businessmen.

The towel, which is hand-screened in three colors on homespun natural linen, was designed by Mrs. Clinton E. Leach of 45 Oakland place. She was commissioned by G. B. Colesworthy, Jr. of Garden road, who operates the William Pitt Gift Shop in Chatham, and E. Oliver Natunen of Portland road, who owns the William Pitt Restaurant.

The towels, which are suitable for everyday use or display, depict two of Chatham Colonial landmark buildings, the coat of arms of William Pitt, Earl of Chatham, and the date the village was settled.

The towels are available at both the William Pitt Restaurant and the William Pitt Gift Shop.

The name of the author of Acts appears in neither the title nor the book itself, but both external and internal evidence point to Luke, who is almost universally accepted as the writer.

Miss Setsuko Akashi

City Welcomes Petite Neighbor from Japan

A recent addition to the staff of Stahl-DelDuca's Florist on Springfield avenue is Miss Setsuko Akashi of Kobe, Japan, who will shortly begin classes in Ikebana or Japanese flower arranging.

Miss Akashi, who arrived in this country a little more than three weeks ago from Japan, is a graduate instructor in the Sogetsu School of Japanese Flower Designing, a specialized form of arranging flowers.

According to Angelo DelDuca, Miss Akashi has "this tremendous ability" to understand the "form, flow and motion" of arranging flowers to create interesting designs. He added that even though she was not "too acquainted" with how this part of the world prefers its flowers arranged, "she pitched in for Mother's Day and did a wonderful job."

On her way to Summit, she made stops at Honolulu and San Francisco, which did not impress her greatly. "The high buildings and rushing around reminded me of Japan", she said. When she arrived here, she was impressed by the calm surroundings and the "relaxed life" which Miss Akashi termed "so nice."

A Florist's Transworld Delivery (F.T.D.) tour last year was really the start of Miss Akashi's trip here. While serving as a guide, she not only impressed those whom she was guiding with her knowledge of flower arranging, but expressed a desire to come to the United States. Out of these conversations, came action, and now she is here on a permanent visa. Mr. DelDuca heard of Miss Akashi through F.T.D. and set the wheels in motion to bring her over.

Miss Akashi, whose mother and sister still live in Japan, speaks English fluently. Diminutive with expressive gestures, she is "thrilled" with her job and her stay in the United States. She hopes now that her classes in Ikebana will interest those about. With her ability and love of flowers, her charm and desire to learn, there is little doubt that her classes will be full.

Local Woman Heads County Child Shelter

Mrs. Emil R. Dube of 101 West End avenue, has been appointed director of the Union County Children's Shelter, Pine Cottage, on the grounds of John E. Rummells Hospital, Berkeley Heights.

Until February 2, the shelter was at the Janet Memorial Home, Elizabeth.

Mrs. Dube is a graduate of Newark City Hospital. She attended Teachers College of Columbia University and classes at the University of Pennsylvania and Jersey State College.

She was assistant director of the Visiting Nurses Association of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, and recently acted as director of the association which now is the Visiting Nurse Home Care Service of Overlook Hospital.

Since it was moved to Pine Cottage, the Children's Shelter has cared for more than 50 children in need of temporary care because of fires, parental inadequacy or lack of housing.

In addition to Mrs. Dube, the staff at the shelter includes full-time and part-time supervisors and several volunteers.

John Chapman, an American pioneer, was known as "Johnny Applesseed." He was given this name because he devoted his life to planting apple trees.

Sex Education in the Schools

After thousands of years of ostrich treatment, the question of sex education in the schools has finally come out in the open.

On June 21, under the aegis of the Lay Committee on Education, a public meeting will be held at the High School to determine whether or not sex education should be included in the curriculum of the public schools.

At the suggestion of Dr. Robert G. Salisbury, superintendent of schools, the Lay Committee has been studying the subject during the last few months by interviewing various segments of the community and by consulting with other school systems.

Under a recent State Department of Education ruling, it is now permissible to develop appropriate programs on sex education on the local level in order to promote more wholesome family and interpersonal relationships.

Ideally, sex should be taught in the home, perhaps with the guidance of the church. But, life is far from ideal and many parents are at a loss to handle the subject at home beyond the birds and bees stage.

But the need is present, like it or lump it. An informed citizenry, which includes the youth of the community, can never be worse than ignorant misunderstandings.

Whether or not sex education is the responsibility of the home or school seems a moot question. Probably it is the responsibility of both as well as the church. And, it can hardly hurt to have all facets of the community involved in this basic life process as long as the instruction is in the hands of competent and the resources of the community utilized.

Flags an Alternative?

Several persons have let us know they were disturbed over the lack of community Memorial Day services for the recent holiday. And as far as we can learn, this was the first time in Summit's history that there was not a ceremony honoring the fallen of our nation's war.

Public Memorial Day services in Summit for many years have been growing less and less important and for the last few years only a handful of the faithful, and most of them veterans, have turned out to pay any sort of homage to their comrades. There was a time and not too long ago when a ceremony became a small ritual held at St. Teresa's Cemetery. But this year there was nothing. Apathy took over.

However there was a bright spot of sorts that we noticed while driving about town. It seemed to us that more and more homes displayed the American flag during the holiday. To us it would seem that if a community Memorial Day service is to be discontinued then there should be greater emphasis on individual examples of respect for the war dead and the nation by hoisting Old Glory on all patriotic holidays.

Coming soon are two holidays when this should be done. The first is next Wednesday, June 14, which is Flag Day and the next is, of course, the Fourth of July or Independence Day.

Purchasing a Flag for these holidays, as well as others, is not a difficult matter. Through the cooperation of the Summit Lions Club a Flag and standard may be had by a phone call to Ernest P. Patten of 9 Passaic Avenue, who is chairman of the Lion's Flag program and will arrange for delivery. Another benefit of buying a Flag from the Lions is that the proceeds of all sales are used to support the club's Aid to the Blind and other welfare projects.

If Summit is to be a community without a Memorial Day service, then let it become a community that instead makes a mass display of the nation's emblem on such days.

The Good Guys or the Bad Guys?

The United Campaign, and particularly the budget review committee, has come under some crossfire recently, not all of which appears to be justified.

Among the accusations leveled at the committee has been the charge that members have a tendency to look at numerical figures and money instead of program and that such an attitude tends to diminish any new programs agencies wish to initiate.

It is undoubtedly true that the committee may have a tendency to look at money, income and outgo, but actually that is one of the purposes of the committee. How can anyone determine budgetary needs without looking at the ledger?

But, it would appear erroneous to assume that agencies are hampered seriously by the committee which watches figures. Certainly, every agency in town has expanded its programs, one way or another, in recent years, and certainly not all the old programs have been dropped. Probably some obsolete programs have been dropped, but indeed agencies must be wary to make sure programs don't outlive usefulness and are merely maintained because of tradition rather than need.

The budget review committee is not an end in itself. Each member takes on the role of the judge's advocate for the agency to which he is assigned, not his own. It is the responsibility of each member to learn about his assigned agency and to learn why the budget request is valid. And, then he tries to convince others on the committee of the need.

Current Comment

Electronic Ratfink (Montclair Times)
Most people have always known there was something about computers they didn't like. Now they can put their finger on it.

Through an infamous union of the credit card and the computer it will be possible for merchants to know almost instantly whether people who want to charge things have any credit.

What's worse, they can tell whether customers applying to cash checks have any balance in the account. No more of that writing a check on Saturday and depositing the money Monday morning.

This is going to make for a lot of dull—even possibly hungry—weekends.

Letters

Corrects Reporting 'Mistake'
Editor, Summit Herald:

We, the undersigned, would like to call your attention to a "mistake" in reporting the details under your article on the Passaic Avenue controversy in the June 1 issue.

Your article states that Hugh Caldwell reported that C. B. Elitch of 140 Passaic Avenue, representing area residents, informed him that city officials have indicated a desire to have the county turn back the street to the city.

This statement is a direct "misquote" of what actually happened, and both Mr. Caldwell and Mr. Bennett are well aware of this deviation.

At the Freeholders' meeting on May 11, Mr. Elitch represented a group of the Passaic Avenue residents and discussed the widening proposal. At this time, Freeholder Donahue inquired from the floor if the City of Summit would be interested in taking the street back. Mr. Elitch replied that he could not be so presumptuous as to speak for the Common Council of the City of Summit, but that we would discuss the possibility with our Councilmen.

We, the undersigned, were in attendance at this Freeholders' meeting and verify this statement. We believe you owe Mr. Elitch the courtesy of a correction on this matter.

Frank Marcotte, Eugene E. Stiles, Nancy H. Steorts, C. J. Mackenzie, Donald J. Raiger, Betty W. Stiles.

Editor's note: The story referred to was based on two telegrams, one from County Freeholder Hugh Caldwell to the Mayor and Common Council dated May 16, 1987, and the other, a reply to Mr. Caldwell from Council President Elmer J. Bennett. The telegram to the city from Mr. Caldwell read as follows: "C. B. Elitch of 140 Passaic Avenue representing residents of Passaic Avenue reports that the city officials have indicated a desire to have the county turn back this road to the city. Your confirmation or denial will be appreciated so that the Freeholders can be advised accordingly." The reply to Mr. Caldwell read "Elitch had no authority to state 'City officials have indictated a desire to have the County turn back this road to the city.' City of Summit does not desire to have County turn back Passaic Avenue to city." Both telegrams are on file at City Hall.)

Regrets Resignation

Editor, Summit Herald:
As a member of Calvary Church, I want to express my regret that the Rev. Elmer Francis has resigned as rector of Calvary Church.

He has served the church and parish loyally for over 22 years, and I as well as his many friends will miss his unfailing kindness and leadership.

Coin Roundup

By Maurice M. Gould

Most coin collectors know of the 1937 3-legged variety of buffalo nickel struck at the Denver Mint.

The popularity of this coin was such that it was listed in the Guide Book of United States Coins and then in all U.S. catalogs.

It catalogs from $33 in "good" condition to $225 in "uncirculated."

Since its spectacular rise in value, many counterfeits and alterations of this coin have appeared, and it is wise to have any such piece checked by an authoritative coin dealer or collector.

In 1965 a most unusual buffalo nickel was publicized, to everyone's amazement. It was a "2-legged" 1935 buffalo nickel which was found in circulation by a New Brunswick, (N.J.) policeman. As far as is known, this is a unique piece, and after receiving many checks it was declared authentic.

The coin was found while searching through a few hundred thousand five-cent pieces and shows the possibility of many unusual and rare items that may still be in circulation.

There is also a variety called the "2½-legged nickel," and the "3-legged" is also known on nickels of 1936.

The National Commemorative Society has released a beautiful Benjamin Franklin medal to its more than 5,000 members. This is the 27th commemorative issued by the society — one proof in sterling silver is struck for each member and three are struck in solid platinum. One of the platinum is presented to the Smithsonian Institution for the National Archives, one is retained for special exhibitions and the third will be given to an individual or institution associated with Franklin.

This group is unusual in that it does not offer its medals for public sale, and after the striking for its members the dies are destroyed.

The obverse of the commemorative features a portrait of Franklin with the date 1706-1790. The reverse portrays his famous lightning experiment, along with the words Patriot, Apostle of Liberty, Social Reformer, Diplomat, Statesman, Publisher, Scientist, Moralist, Wit.

While at the American Numismatic Association convention in Chicago I met Felix Schlag, an interesting personality well-known to coin collectors. He designed the Jefferson nickel in 1938 and won an award of $1,000 in competition with almost 400 artists for his design.

For some modest reason, Schlag did not place his initials on the model, so the coins were struck without them.

Now, 28 years later, his initials appear on the 1966 Jefferson five-cent piece; immediately below the truncation of Jefferson's shoulder the "F S" initials stand out prominently.

Schlag is the only designer of a current U.S. coin whose contribution was not recognized by the presence of his initials on the coin.

How Many Legs on Buffalo Nickel?

Short Skirts Make Knees Big Problem

With skirts as short as they are, many women have become conscious of their knees—perhaps for the first time, or at least more so. Bulgy knees are a worse problem than ever. If you have these awful bulges on the inner side of the knees, exercise them away to attractiveness this way.

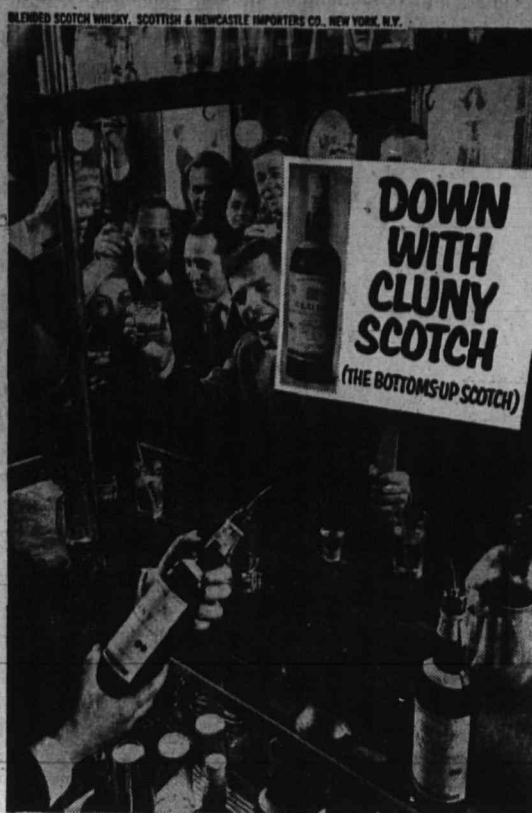

Lie flat on your back with your knees bent and your feet resting on the floor. Draw your heels back close to your hips. Now slap your knees together as though you were spanking the bulgy pads. Don't bruise your skin, but develop a steady rhythm with a bit of force — as much as you can stand without discomfort. The more you count the better — at least 100 times.

These exercises also are good for contouring the inner thigh-line. If you do them both, you will find it helps achieve ideal contours. The first exercise reduces the flesh. The second firms up the line. After a while, you'll be happy the hemlines are high.

Paper Dress Now Facing Competition

Those paper dresses created quite a fashion furore when they were first introduced. And they were played up as the last word in low-priced, easy-to-care-for clothes. But now it looks as though they're in for some pretty stiff competition from abroad.

The new pulp dresses that can be had for a few dollars, worn a few times and thrown away, appeal to lots of economy-minded girls and women who like to look smart and up-to-the-minute, fashionwise. And the paper dresses are smart. They're cut in high fashion styles like the a-line and they feature the same lovely, color combinations and floral, abstract and other currently popular designs.

But now along comes big competition in the form of a new European fabric called "flissu."

From this fabric, daytime dresses can be made for 50 cents, and a short evening gown can be brought for from three to five dollars. Moreover, it can be worn many, many times.

The material can be washed and ironed, sewn, glued or welded. It absorbs moisture and breathes. Yet it is no more flammable than cotton.

A Viennese chemical company invented the product. It was improved upon by a Holland firm and introduced to Dutch fashion buyers in Amsterdam.

Home Repair Problems

By Douglas Tuomey

Shrinkage Normal in Floors

(Q)—"Our house was custom-built about nine years ago. It is supposed to be quite sturdy, but we have noticed that there is a steady increase in a crack between the baseboards and the floors all over the house. This is not confined to the bathrooms where there is heavy weight on the floor. I presume that the baseboards will have to be removed and set down to meet the floors. That will mean wallpaper and paint will not meet the baseboards. Am I right? Mr. F. E.

(A) The defect you mention is caused by shrinkage of the floor joists or beams, the sub-floor and finished floor, and some in the baseboards. A crack of from 1/8 to 3/16 is not excessive in nine years. It is also a fact that nine or ten years ago there was quite a shortage of well-seasoned lumber. Do not disturb the baseboards. Instead, place a quarter-round molding at floor level to cover the crack. Shrinkage probably won't go much farther.

(Q)—"I decided to have my study paneled in walnut and brought in the best carpenter in our vicinity. I had thought that the job would be done with solid walnut boards, but this man says that I would get a more satisfactory result if he used walnut-finished panels which had a very good-looking high finish but were only about a quarter of an inch thick. This will cost quite a bit, so I would like your opinion about the panels versus the real boards." Mr. V. A.

(A) By all means take your carpenter's advice. Almost all paneled walls are now done in this manner. There is less chance of warping or bleaching of any panel. As a matter of fact, these panels are far better than the boards and produce a better-finished job.

(Q)—"This request for information is not about a house-repair problem, but frankly, to settle an argument that has developed into a bet. My friend and next-door neighbor, who is a pretty good man around the house, says that there are at least 20 different kinds of hammers. I dispute that. Would you be kind enough to settle this question? We agreed to take your opinion." — Mr. L. K.

(A) Oddly enough, this same has been asked several times. If I remember correctly, there are 52 different kinds of hammers. To begin with there are several different weights in ordinary claw hammers. A blacksmith uses four or five different types of hammer. Silvermiths and goldsmiths have special hammers. Shoe makers use special hammers. Different types are used by slaters, stone cutters, upholsterers, and carpet layers. Even dentists have a special one. Incidentally, there are leathers and rubber-headed hammers as well.

(Q)—"Will you please tell me if there is any remedy, other than constant use of electricity, for one room in our house which is just plain dark and gloomy? This is a guest room with only one window. We used a light-colored wallpaper and the ceiling is pure white, but still it is dark." Mrs. N.T.

(A) The only remedy I can suggest is the use of good-sized mirrors. One should go on the wall opposite the window, and another on which ever of the other walls looks darkest to you. The reflection of light from these should increase the light in the room about 30 or 40 per cent. (Copr. T-M, 1967 Gen. Fea. Corp.)

Your Garden This Week

Time to Catch Up by your

Rutgers Garden Reporter

You can say one nice thing about our backward spring. It was kind to some of us backward gardeners.

Those of us whose schedules tend to get out of joint don't seem to have lost much because we missed setting out our tomatoes, peppers, and eggplants two or three weeks ago, strictly according to the calendar.

There's still time, even though it's June, and it just could be that we delinquents will make out little worse than the prompt and efficient ones whose plants have had to endure the whole cold, wet, clammy, damp disgusting routine.

Leggy Plants Will Do

When you go shopping for plants, though, you may find that the plantsman has been unable to put on the brakes.

Here's another cheerful note from Dr. Pollack if you thought you were late in planting cucumbers, melons, squash and related crops.

At the Rutgers vegetable research farm these are never seeded until the soil is really warm, and that's rarely before the last week in May. So you're right on schedule if you plant these now.

How to Make Outdoor Furniture

You can make your own chairs, tables and couches if you have the ability to cut strips of light wood to certain dimensions and nail them together.

The couch or lounge is probably the easiest to make. Two pieces of 1 x 4 wood strip are cut to length of six feet and joined at the ends by two pieces 2 feet long, making a plain box 6 x 2 feet. Eight pieces are cut ten inches long and assembled in sets of two to furnish the legs. These are set inside the box at the corners and nailed solidly in place. Two 16-inch pieces are cut at an angle to furnish a headrest. The entire top of the couch is covered with strips leaving a one inch space between. The angle of the headrest is optional.

Armchairs are easily made also. The best procedure is to start with the two front legs, 20 inches high, and nail the brace across the front of them at the desired seat height. This is usually 18 inches. Next, the sloping pieces are fastened inside the legs running from the back of the brace to the ground level. A 32-inch length gives a nice slope to the chair, but you can arrange for more slope or a straighter back by lengthening or shortening this dimension. Strips are nailed across the sloping members to furnish the seat, which is 30 inches wide.

If you have trouble finding

As you go along with this job, you will see the strength of the pieces and note how the various members knit into a solid unit.

Tables are quite simple to construct. A square box is built, the four legs are set inside the corners and strips laid across the top with half-inch spacing. Tables vary in size. Just make sure that if the table is more than two feet high, braces are run between the legs. Low pieces are usually more comfortable and better looking.

Two-inch galvanized nails should be used. All sawed ends should be sanded off before painting. Square ends may be rounded off, and then you can use any type of finishing you desire. Good outside white paint will be found more satisfactory than enamel, and two coats is enough.

Square Footwear

Newest Fashion

The newest fashion angle for footwear is square, according to shoe designers who are squaring off toes, heels and often hsteps for spring and summer, '67. Ladies will amble through the season in low-slung sandals, pumps, sling-backs and ties. The new, wider toes are balanced by low and mid-heels. Most popular height appears to be from ¾ to one inch. Shoes will sport buckles, bows, straps or openings.

Daniel Burke Ends 68-Year Business Link

Wall Street attorney Daniel Burke of 66 Fernwood road, chairman of the board of the R. T. French Company, has announced his intention to relinquish that position this month. Mr. Burke, chairman since 1945, began his association with the firm in 1899 as legal counsel in New York City. He is 93.

Over a span of 68 years association with R.T. French, Mr. Burke has served the company as general counsel, a director, as president in 1944 and 1945, and as chairman.

A native of Oxford, N.Y., Mr. Burke was graduated from Hamilton College in 1893 where he earned a membership in Phi Beta Kappa. He was elected a trustee of Hamilton in 1913, serving as chairman for eight years, and is now a trustee emeritus. Mr. Burke was also for many years president of the American Bible Society. A son, James Burke, of 6 Llewellyn road, and a law partner in the firm of Burke and Burke will continue the family's long association with French's. Mr. Burke is general counsel and director.

The elder Mr. Burke's trademark for many years was his fondness for walking. Until he reached his 80's, he would walk from his downtown hotel in Rochester to board meetings at French's headquarters, about two miles from center city. He has never driven a car.

His 68-year association with French's is considered to be one of the longest relationships in the history of American business.

Library Gift Expands News Film Service

The Friends of the Public Library have presented the library with a file of the New York Times for 1960 on microfilm. The library now has The Times on microfilm from 1960 to the present. Back years of The Times provide a wealth of source material on the United States and world affairs. Gradually the library hopes to acquire a microfilm file of the newspaper from 1900.

The Library also has The Summit Herald on microfilm from 1892. There are a few missing issues in the early editions.

The Friends of the Library, an organization to foster interest in the library and to further its service to the community, presented the library last year with a film strip projector and film strips and recordings that are used for the pre-school story hours which the library holds each Thursday morning.

Retired Executive Begins Career No. 2

There really isn't too much difference between selling an industrial plant location and selling stock, says a Summit man who should know.

Lee L. Davis, of 41 Colt road who has just retired after a 26-year career in area development work with the American Electric Power System, has become associated with the New York brokerage firm of Riter and Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange.

Industrial development and the stock market have much in common, Davis declares. "Both are concerned with growth and industrial prosperity, and, in both, you've got to have something to sell — and you've got to know quite a bit about it."

In his work as vice president — area development, Davis helped persuade some of the principal names in American business to locate their industrial plants in the seven-state area served by the electric utility companies of the AEP System. In 1966 alone, more than 30,000 new jobs were created as a result of the location of new plants and the expansion of existing plants in

AEP's area. "But new plants are only part of a development program," he says. "Improving a community, making its people more receptive to industry, working for changes in zoning and town planning — these are tremendously important factors."

Davis, who holds a degree in finance from New York University, gained an extensive knowledge of available land and its industrial potential in his early work for AEP as an equipment valuation engineer, and again as a liaison man with the federal government during World War 2. After the war, with his knowledge of the area, he became manager of area development and, in 1957, was elected vice president and a director of the American Electric Power Service Corporation.

Davis feels that his area development work has given him "an invaluable insight into what makes business tick."

He's going in Career No. 2 for several reasons, of course, but the biggest one is challenge. By itself, that's enough.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. What percentage of its earnings should a corporation, as a general rule, spend on research and development of new products? Seems to me that knowing the percentage spent would help in picking a growth company.

A. There can be no hard-and-fast rule on this. Some industries depend more on research and development than others. I don't think, for instance, that you could justify W. T. Grant's spending the same percentage of its income on research as, say Dow Chemical or a drug firm.

You'll be closer to the mark if you compare research expenditures of companies within the same industry; but even this isn't foolproof. One firm might come up with a new product that increased sales 10 per cent after spending only $100,000 in research. Another might spend $1 million on a project that had to be abandoned as unprofitable — and which, of course, would add nothing to the firm's income.

Q. It seems to me that after paying a broker's fee, stocks do not pay more than 4 per cent or 5 per cent, except — as you stated in a recent column — for a few such as Monsanto Chemical Co., which pays 9 per cent.

A. I believe you must have misunderstood my comments on Monsanto. This stock has been GROWING at the rate of 9 per cent a year, but the dividend yield or per cent return on the current purchase price of the stock is just about 3 per cent. There are many good stocks available which give you a return of 4 per cent or 5 per cent and, of course, with such ownership you have the chance to share in future growth of the company if there is any.

Q. Is growth through acquisition real growth?

A. The best place to look for real growth in any corporation, and especially those which have bought another, is in earnings per share.

When one corporation acquires another, the usual procedure is for the purchaser to issue more of its stock to pay off owners of the company being bought. The new company almost automatically has larger sales and larger earnings, but since more shares of stock are outstanding the result is not necessarily larger earnings PER SHARE. If the company has a past record of acquisitions and in the process has increased earnings per share this would be a favorable record and indicate you have a "growth-minded" management.

Have you a question about investing? Mr. O'Hara, editor of the monthly magazine, "Better Investing", and one of the nation's recognized authorities, will answer as many as possible in his column or by personal mail, but must limit questions to those of more general interest. Correspondents will receive a free copy of "Better Investing". Write to T. E. O'Hara, National Association of Investment Clubs, Dept. S, Box 1056, Detroit, Mich. 48231.

There is no reason to require films, because they are distributed as a popular mass medium, to be simple. Sometimes that is nice, but because we derive pleasure from the easy to take package, say "Hello, Dolly!", does not mean that "Hamlet" must be rejected as complex and, because of the viewer's laziness, abstruse. Movies are directed to a large audience and I suppose "A Sound of Music" serves an entertainment purpose (although a more limited one than necessary), but there is no reason why the intelligent and knowledgeable film viewer should not be asked to approach a film with his background, feelings and brain, as well as his feet. Since he is the one who will gain, it ought to be a pleasure.

I started out to compare, so allow me to do that. Preminger's film (he is really a bad film maker in this one) is obvious and gross in content. "Hurry Sundown" could have been saved, at least partially, by some decent characterization, but we are not allowed even that little balm. Preminger is so afraid we won't get the point that he, in his heavy handedness, obliterates the film's meaning.

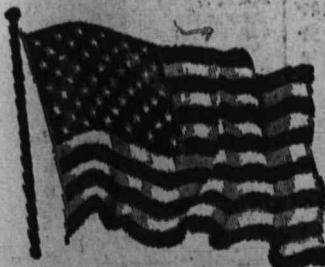

To say he has no concept of subtlety is to not say that the film does not even allow the viewer to think if he wants to. Each idea is banged in with a blunt sledge hammer. It is insulting to be considered such an idiot!

School Science Group Visits Sandy Hook

On May 23, 44 Summit Junior High School eighth graders traveled by bus to Sandy Hook, to pursue their study units on ecology and geology.

The students observed how the Sandy Hook shoreline was formed from erosion and deposition by longshore currents. They also observed the composition of the sand and how the Atlantic Highlands area has slowly eroded because of resistant rock cap.

Under the direction of Richard Cole, Sandy Hook Naturalist, many plant types found on the Hook were pointed out and the students learned the effect salt spray had upon the vegetation. The Prickly Pear Cactus was identified and the Holly Forest, where some of the trees are nearly 300 years old, was visited.

Besides walking along the sea wall for rock identification the students, upon their return, stopped on the ridge of Upper Highlands for the panoramic view of Sandy Hook.

The group was accompanied by their science teachers: Mrs. Jean Luce; John Dispolo; and Jack Koczan.

Beef Varies In Quality, So Be Choosy

By Anne L. Sheelen
County Home Economist

Now that beef is plentiful on the market, this meat will undoubtedly appear more frequently in your menu plans.

When it is your turn at the meat counter, be familiar with the guides that will help you to be a wise beef shopper.

Choose beef according to the Federal grade. Look for the purple, shield-shaped U.S. Department of Agriculture grade mark. This means that the meat has been examined and graded for quality by trained federal graders. It is a guide to the tenderness, juiciness, and flavor in the beef you buy.

The USDA grade most commonly found in retail markets is USDA Choice. USDA Prime, the highest quality beef, is available in some stores but the majority is sold to restaurants. USDA Good, a popular grade with thrifty shoppers, lacks some of the juiciness and flavor of the higher grades, but it is just as nutritious and may even be preferred by some.

Choose beef also by the cut. Cuts vary in tenderness. Some cuts, whether USDA Prime,

Charlotte Hays, Choir Director, Married to Ministerial Student

The bride wore an Empire gown of white pique trimmed with Irish lace and a mantilla of Alencon lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and ivy.

Miss Betty Hays, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Sheryl Wiley of Portland, Ore., was bridesmaid.

Charles Comisky was best man for his brother. The ushers were Paul Lindsey Hays, a brother of the bride, Myron Durham of Mount Holly, and Edward Shiley of Robbinsville.

The bride is a graduate of Summit High School and Westminster Choir College. She is assistant organist and choir director at the First Presbyterian Church in New Vernon and pianist at the Chalf School of Dance in Chatham. Mrs. Comisky is a granddaughter of Mrs. James B. Hays of Summit and the late Mr. Hays and the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Runge of Summit.

Her husband is a graduate of the Garden State Academy and attended Columbia Union College in Takoma Park, Md. He recently completed two years of service with a United States Army Medical Unit.

Following a trip to Cape Cod, the couple will live in Yardville for the summer before settling in Takoma Park where the bridegroom will resume his studies for the ministry.

Choice, or Good, are tender enough to be roasted, broiled or pan fried. Other cuts, regardless of grade, are less tender and must be cooked with moist heat, such as braising or pot roasting.

Steaks which are tender cuts include porterhouse, T-bone, club, sirloin, rib and top round. Tender roasts include rib roasts, sirloin, and eye of round. Less tender cuts include parts of the chuck, shoulder arm, bottom round, flank and brisket.

The appearance of meat is also a guide. Marbling, an intermingling of fat with lean, contribute to the tenderness and juiciness of beef. Firm outer fat that is not oily, red porous bones that are not brittle, and bright red in color, are all guides to quality. The muscle, which is the edible portion, should be full and fine textured with a large portion in comparison to bone.

In figuring the cost of any meat, base your decision on the cost per serving rather than the cost per pound. A cut which contains a high proportion of waste due to bone and fat and priced lower than one with more edible meat usually costs more when figured according to the price per serving.

The Septuagint is the oldest Greek translation of the Old Testament, believed to have been begun in the 200s B.C., in Alexandria, Egypt. The translation was completed before the Christian era.

Stokes State Forest Visited By 75 Junior High Students

Seventy-five students representing the seventh grade science classes from the Junior High School visited Stokes State Forest in Sussex County, Wednesday, May 24. The day was spent visiting three different areas; P.A.C.E., the Center of the School of Conservation; Sunrise Mountain and Tillman's Ravine.

At P.A.C.E. students saw colored slides based on ecology and observed animals and plants of that area as they walked through a swamp region. A study of geological origins of land and observations of glacial scratches were made on Sunrise Mountain, on the Kittatinny Ridge, which is the second highest point in New Jersey. The group also took a short walk along the Appalachian Trail, which extends from Mt. Katahdin, Maine to Mt. Ogelthorpe, Georgia.

A unique geological formation was observed at Tillman's Ravine. Here the students followed the stream through the ravine in which there is an elevation drop of about 200 feet. Stream developments were studied, sandstone rock formations were observed as well as the abundance of gigantic hemlock growth growing due to the cool, moist conditions within the ravine. The students were prepared for the trip by attending a meeting beforehand and upon their return they organized their information so that it can be shared with the rest of the students in their science classes. The group was accompanied by their science teacher, William Schwenck; Mrs. Janet Geckeler and Neal Roche.

Jaycees Bring "Hot" Names to Mod Concert

Three of the hottest big name sounds in the music of the young generation will perform in concert at Summit High School Auditorium tomorrow night under the auspices of the Summit Jaycees.

The Harpers Bizarre, The Mandala and The Left Banke will appear at two shows, at 7:15 and 9:45 p.m. at the high school. The concert will benefit the Summit Jaycees charity fund.

Headliners will be the Harpers Bizarre, a group of five young men from the west coast whose "50th Street Bridge Song" reached the Top Ten record popularity polls.

The Harpers Bizarre—their names comes from harper, meaning "a player of stringed instruments" and bizarre, meaning "weird"—have a new single release, "Come to the Sunshine," which promises to be high on the record charts.

The group once lost a contract with a major record company because the boys weren't dirty. Another company thought the Harpers Bizarre would be good as "American Hermit's Hermits." But nothing doing. "We are not going to be versions of anyone else," the boys assert, typifying their novel approach to the modern music scene. Now recording for Warner Brothers, the Harpers Bizarre is an independent group, rather thoughtful and more inner-directed than otherwise. Close friends among themselves, the boys have a complete devotion to what they're doing. All want to make a career of the music business, either as writers or producers. The only exception is Dick Young, who would like to be a singer.

Besides Young, the Harpers Bizarre includes Ed James, Dick "Scap" Scopettone, Ted Templeman and John Petersen. Also on the June 9 concert bill are The Mandala, a Canadian group which first scored a hit among California teenagers, then won the attention of rock and roll music appreciators across the country. The rhythm and blues quintet has performed at Go-Go clubs nationwide.

Summit Frosh Nine Finishes With 8-4 Mark

Summit — The Summit High freshman baseball team closed its season with a victory, defeating Cedar Grove High, 5-1. A triple and a home run were included in Summit's seven-hit attack.

Both of the big blows came in the first inning. Chris Hart walked on one out, and Bob Triolo slammed the ball down the right-field line past the right fielder for Summit's only home run of the season. Steve Schroeder then tripled to left, but was stranded on third.

Consecutive singles by Dick Peterson and Rich Graef put runners on first and third bases in the second inning. Peterson scored on a double steal. Tom Olcott's sacrifice fly in the next inning scored Schroeder from third. Summit's final run came in the fifth inning as Jim Fraser singled Hart home from second.

Steve Schroeder was in control, pitching the whole game. He struck out 10 and allowed only three hits. The victory brought Summit's season record to 8-4.

Leading batters were Schroeder (432), Fraser (.344), Bob Stiner (.324), Graef (.316), Hart (.314), and Triolo (.286). Stiner was the runner-batted-in leader with 10. Hart scored the most runs, 11.

Three Summit-Chatham Area scholastic athletes claimed New Jersey championships last Saturday in New Jersey State Intercollegiate Athletic Association meets conducted in Highland Park, New Brunswick and Asbury Park.

Summit High's Tom Cleary and New Providence High's Ed Cross turned in exceptional performances to score surprise victories.

Governor Livingston Regional High's Maren Seidler shattered the former record by almost 10 feet in winning the shot put in the Girls State Track and Field Meet.

Cleary uncorked a toss of 206 feet, one-half inch to win the Group 3 javelin throw championship.

Swift Mile
Cross, who has competed in the 880-yard run and two-mile run during most of the season, compromised on the mile run for the State Group 2 meet and romped home first in a sparkling time of 4:21.6 minutes.

New Providence made the strongest showing of the area teams, scoring 14 points. Don Brown finished third in the shot put and fourth in the discus throw, while Jim Wackwitz placed third in the pole vault.

Miller Third
Charley Miller of Chatham Boro placed third in the javelin throw in the Group 1 championships, with teammate Al Boehm finishing fifth. Boehm was the pre-meet favorite to win the event. Gary Simpson of Chatham Boro finished in a four-way tie for fourth place in the high jump.

Summit High Second In State Tennis Play

For the second straight year, Summit High's tennis team was one of the big surprises of the New Jersey State Intercollegiate Athletic Association's championships.

Coach Norman Larsen's netmen, seeded seventh in the Group 3 schools tourney, fought their way to the final round before bowing to top-seeded Millburn High, 3-0.

In gaining the final round of the 23-team tournament, Summit defeated West Essex Regional High, 3-0, in the second round and then stunned second-seeded River Dell Regional High of Oradell, 3-0, in the quarterfinals. The Hilltoppers had a first-round bye.

The Hilltoppers got by West Orange High, 2-1, in the semifinals, but couldn't overcome their season-long hex—Millburn High. The Millers defeated the Hilltoppers for the third time this season.

Eskies Blank Ridge; Regional, Gladiators Drop Two Contests

Chatham Boro High's baseball team was the only Summit-Chatham Area team to score a victory last week as the scholastic baseball season drew to a close.

The Eskies blanked Ridge High of Basking Ridge, 4-0, with Mike Miller hurling a seven-hitter and Marty Kelly driving in three of his team's four runs.

Chatham Township gave powerful Clifford Scott High of East Orange a stern battle, but fell to the Scotties, 5-4. Clifford Scott won the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2 championship this season, eliminating New Providence in the tournament semifinals. The Gladiators also bowed to Ridge High, 5-3.

Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights closed out a disappointing maiden season in the Watching Conference by losing its final two conference tests to Cranford, 6-2, and to Fanwood-Scotch Plains, 2-1. The Highlanders finished with a 3-11 mark in the conference and are 6-14-1 overall.

Eskies Outfit
Ridge (11-7) outlasted Chatham Boro (6-9) by 7-5, but Miller kept Ridge's blows well scattered. Kelly had two of the Eskies' safeties. Chatham Boro scored two runs in the third inning and added two more in the fifth to make it easy for Miller.

Cranford's Doug DiRini limited Governor Livingston to four hits as the Cougars won their 15th game in 21 decisions. DiRini also batted in three runs, enough to win his own game.

Governor Livingston took a 1-0 lead in the first inning, but Cranford scored twice in the second inning to go in front.

The Highlanders tied the score with a run in the fourth inning, but the Cougars got to John Adkins for two runs in the same inning to go in front for good. Cranford added two insurance runs in the sixth inning.

Harold Harmon pitched one of his best games of the season for Governor Livingston in limiting Fanwood-Scotch Plains to six hits and two runs. The Highlanders, however, managed only two hits off Carl Savko and Jim McDeede and were blanked until the final inning.

Fanwood-Scotch Plains scored single runs in the fourth and sixth innings to lead 2-0 in the seventh. Sayko walked three straight batters in the seventh inning and was relieved by McDeede. The Highlanders managed to score a run, but couldn't push home the tying marker.

Chris Lindenmayer singled home Schaefer and Bauer and when the ball got past the centerfielder, Yuzolin and Lindenmayer also scored.

Tully Cards 40, Regional Loses

Berkeley Heights—Greg Tully fired a four-over-par round of 40 for Governor Livingston Regional High's golf team, but it wasn't enough to prevent the Highlanders from dropping a 9 1/2-8 1/2 decision to South Plainfield High.

Tully, Glen Kakol and Craig Marks all won their individual matches. South Plainfield won the other three matches by 3-0 scores to eke out the victory.

Two to Share Teacher Group Grants of $600

The Summit Education Association's scholarship fund, established to encourage interest in the teaching profession was increased this year from $300 to $600, making it possible to choose two recipients instead of the usual one.

Chosen by the scholarship committee on the basis of scholarship, character, financial need, and acceptance in a college program leading to a career in teaching were Miss Susan M. Boggie and Miss Josephine Y. Lockett, members of the senior class at Summit High School.

Miss Boggie, who was awarded $400, plans to enter Muskingum College in the fall and become a teacher of English. She has been program chairman of the American Field Service Committee, historian of the Future Teachers Association, and a member of the marching band and chorus, French Club, and Creative Writing Club. Outside of school, she has participated in the youth group of her church and has taught Sunday School.

Miss Lockett, who was awarded $200, intends to prepare for a career in teaching the retired and will enter Newark

State College this summer. She is a member of the corridor committee, Student Council, and Senior Class Council, has been in the Leader's Corps and has been on the staff of the school newspaper and yearbook. Outside of school, she has been active in her church youth group and choir, was a volunteer in the Head Start program, and is an accomplished pianist who gives private lessons.

Flower Garden Is Rewarding Family Project

By Mabel G. Stolte

County Home Economist

Many families tend to hiber-nate in the winter, developing interests and activities of the indoor variety.

The first touch of warm weather beckons everyone outdoors.

This exit to the outside makes the learning of new experiences and lessons a part of every family member's life.

Whether it is just a flower box on a window ledge or a lawn or flower beds, this work can be a wonderful experience.

Each family member can gain pride in his home by participating in a beautifying job.

In addition to pride, he will have a sense of belonging. He will appreciate his home more for he has given of himself for the well-being of the whole family.

Everyone can contribute.
Even the young child can pick up twigs or bits of paper carelessly dropped around the grounds whether it is an apartment or private home grounds.

Small children are particularly interested in things that grow.
He might have a few seeds or flower bulbs to plant and care for. He will learn that growing things need care whether it is flowers in a pot or in a small garden. This is a lesson that he can apply to his own life.

Springtime is a time for work, true, but it is also a time for fun. At times, tasks may be turned into play. However, there should be time for just play.

A family can do both, accomplish work that needs to be done, and enjoy being together.

House Cleaning Project Brings Special Hazards

By Mabel G. Stolte

When we get busy cleaning and decorating our home and surroundings we are likely to face special hazards.

Avoid using carbon tetrachloride, gasoline, benzene, or kerosene for cleaning. When you use turpentine or naphtha, don't use it near an open flame. Make sure you dry clean clothes or household effects outside — not indoors.

Paint furnishings and walls of rooms only when it is well ventilated. Make sure you never use any combustible cleaning products either plain or mixed with water on clothes to be dried in an automatic dryer.

Keep foam rubber and articles containing it away from an automatic dryer. Heat will be retained for a long time and may even ignite this foam rubber. The National Fire Protection Association reports several fires which happened in dry cleaning plants were traced to foam rubber. Spontaneous combustion of foam rubber padding

ENDS BOOT CAMP—Glenn W.
Nelson, 18, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Nelson of

been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

was traced to the foam padding in clothes long after the clothing had been in the clothes dryer.

Some of the above safety tips seem so obvious to us. Yet, when we get busy and bustle about many of us break the rules because we have been lucky up to now.

Voters Are Hawkish and Sour on Great Society

Voters of various parties in the 12th Congressional District, which includes all of Union County and a portion of Essex County, are inclined to be "hawkish" in regards to the Viet Nam war and are fed up with the Great Society.

There are majority sentiments expressed by more than 3,500 voters who answered the annual Congressional Questionnaire of Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer. The 3,500 who answered the questionnaire represents 25 per cent of those who were mailed the poll, and also set an all-time record for responses to the poll during the 10 years it has been conducted by Congresswoman Dwyer. The replies came from Republicans, Democrats and Independents in 26 suburban communities of the 12th District.

In brief, the voters told Mrs. Dwyer that:

Military pressure against North Viet Nam should be increased.

The War on Poverty does not seem worth continuing, at least as it is presently being waged.

Crime should be attacked by reorganizing and coordinating federal, state and local law enforcement agencies, by controlling the sale and shipment of weapons and by providing better training for police and other law enforcement officers.

Social Security recipients should be allowed to earn more without having to sacrifice any of their benefits.

The U.S. should defend other Southeast Asia countries if they are threatened by Communist aggression.

There is no need for re-investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy.

HELP FOR ISRAEL IS NEEDED NOW . . .

- BACKED BY THE SOVIET UNION, a ring of war-hungry forces threatens to annihilate the free democratic State of Israel. Israel must be supported in its elementary right of self-defense and self-preservation.
- FOUR UNITED STATES PRESIDENTS have proclaimed our government's commitment to defend the sovereignty and independence of Israel. The U.S. is on record to insure unimpeded access to the Gulf of Aqaba through the Straits of Tiran.
- NASSER'S CALL FOR A "TOTAL WAR OF EXTERMINATION AGAINST ISRAEL" can affect us all. If his aggression goes unchallenged -- the West will lose its only anti-communist ally in the Middle East -- and bring us perilously close to a 3rd World War.

YES, THERE IS SOMETHING YOU CAN DO . . .

The economy of Israel is at a standstill while all of its able-bodied citizens are engaged in the defense of its security. The Country is in desperate need of money.

GIVE AS YOU'VE NEVER GIVEN BEFORE.
