County Drops Plan to Widen Passaic Ave.

An overflow audience jammed Council chambers last Wednesday night to await decision or debate on three controversial issues, namely, the widening of Passaic avenue, purchase of new municipal ambulance, and appointment of members to the city's new Housing Authority.

During the lengthy session, the first regular meeting of the fall, Council by-passed its anticipated appointments to the Housing Authority, withdrew from county plans to widen Passaic avenue to 42 feet, and voted to purchase a new city ambulance for $10,600.

Council's action elated Passaic avenue residents but irked a large number of the audience who were present to support the contention of the Summit First Aid Squad that municipal ambulance service is an unnecessary duplication.

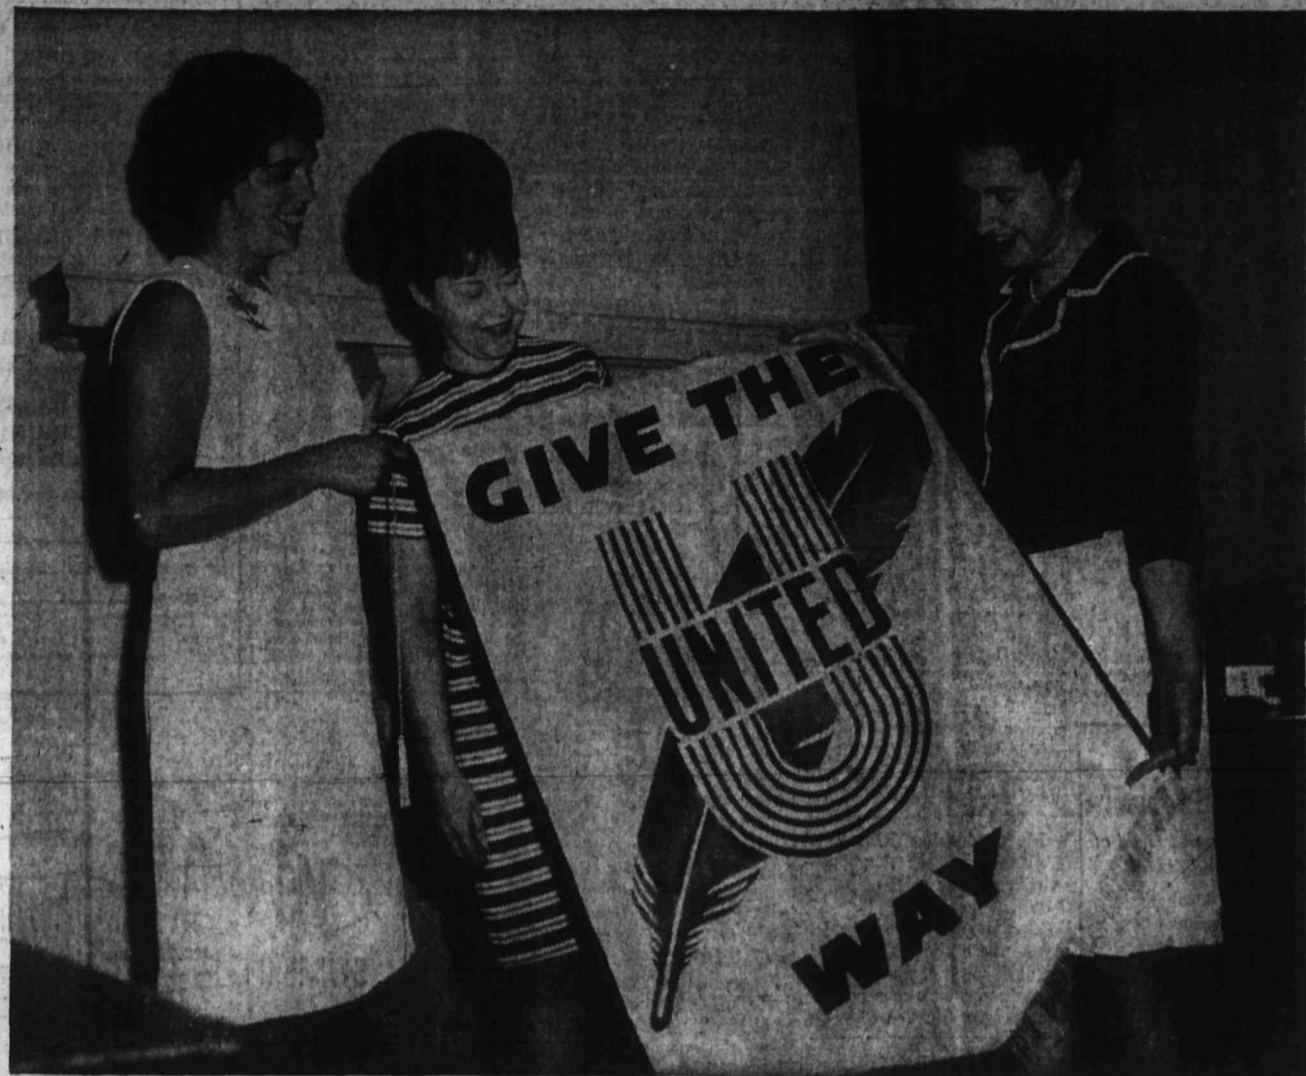

The Passaic avenue improvement program was passed by a split vote with Councilman Frank H. Lehr casting the negative vote.

Council's resolution limited its willingness to support a County Highway Department program to widen Passaic avenue from River road to Constantine place to a minimum of 42 feet so that the project could qualify for 90 per cent reimbursement from state highway funds.

The present road, admittedly in poor condition, is only 24 feet wide at some points but Council said it would support any county plan to improve the road to a maximum width of 36 feet.

Immediately following the adoption of the Passaic avenue resolution Council was jolted when Mrs. James E. Steorts of 133 Passaic avenue, a member of the neighborhood group that has waged a long battle against the county's widening plans, announced that the Freeholders had earlier "killed" the project by removing it from the current list of county highway improvements.

She said she had been given this information by Freeholder W. J. Ahern, Jr., and that Ahern had indicated that the county would be willing to put the street "in excellent condition" and "give" it to the city.

Book "Finds" Turning Up For Club Sale

Preparations for the annual College Club Book Sale have moved into high gear now that the Labor Day holiday is over. Thousands of volumes have already been prepared and placed on shelves while thousands more await the attention of workers who are always on the alert for books which may prove to be of especial value.

Some of these have been discovered already — a partial list follows. Bids are being taken for a few which will be sold at auction.

"Adventures in Light and Color" by Charles J. Connick, published by Random House, is described as the first regular edition and is autographed by the author with an inscription and the date 1937. Its many chapters discuss the art of

Post Office May Replace One Curb Box

Postmaster Robert M. Dunsmore reported this week that there is a "possibility" that the curbside drop box which recently has been removed from the Railroad avenue side of the Post Office may be replaced.

Dunsmore admitted that he has received several complaints from residents about the removal of the box and that its reinstallation is being "reconsidered."

Understanding is Key to Public Support of the United Campaign

Why the United Campaign? Who does it serve? Since many charge fees for their services, how do the individual member agencies justify their needs for additional funds?

Thomas Reamer, the United Campaign's professional director and coordinator of the fund drive, which starts October 7, answered such questions this week.

Support and enthusiasm for the drive naturally increase with better understanding, he feels. And when the final budget is presented, he thinks it is good for the public to know the amount of effort, planning, and screening that has gone into fixing a projected goal.

This year's goal is $224,750, topping last year's budget by $5,250.

It represents the "needs" and what the budget review committee anticipates the community would be willing to spend to assure the continued services of what are now fourteen agencies, lined up to take proportionate chunks of the total contributions.

"If people would only remember the original rationale for a united fund," he said. "It saves the strain of being solicited separately by each agency to the point that a family feels relentlessly besieged with requests for contributions. One pledge and fourteen agencies that serve the community are acknowledged. 'It saves the doorbell.'"

Library Lists New Hours for Winter Season

The Public Library will resume its regular winter hours starting Saturday, September 16. The library will now be open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The boys and girls department is open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The library is closed on all legal holidays.

Garden Club To Have Two Flower Sales

The first of a series of two Friday morning "Little Flower Markets" will be held by the Station Plaza on September 22 from 9:30 to 11 a.m.

A second market is scheduled for October 6.

Featured at each of these events will be fresh-picked home grown flowers and a limited assortment of garden perennials and house plants grown by members in their local gardens.

All will be inexpensively priced and there will be no arrangements or decorative plantings which might compete with local florists.

Mrs. Robert Volkening of Oak Ridge avenue and Mrs. Richard H. Marshall of Sweetbriar road are chairman and co-chairman respectively of the committee in charge of the two events.

In announcing this newest Garden Club venture, Mrs. Robert F. Downs of Prospect Hill avenue, president, emphasized that the club is offering cut flowers and selected plant material as a community service for interested residents with the proceeds, being used to support further community service through the Garden Club's civic and educational fund.

This fund has financed numerous Overlook Hospital landscaping projects, the Summit Area Development Committee program and also the Glenwood Place and Summit Station plantings.

Registrations are now being received at the Board of Recreation at Edison Recreation Center starting Monday, September 25. Classes will be limited to 15 persons and will be held every Monday for 10 weeks at 8 p.m. and 9 p.m.

The cost for the course will be $10. Joseph Rizzo will be the instructor.

Parade to Again Launch United Campaign Drive

No United Campaign could get off to a proper start without the annual campaign kickoff parade and 1967 is no exception.

The Junior Fortnightly Club, under the leadership of Mrs. John Lifland, will kickoff the campaign with a parade of at least 50 units scheduled for Saturday, October 7, at 10 a.m.

This year will mark the fourth anniversary of the annual event. At least three bands will march in honor of the United Fund.

The United Campaign of Summit and the New Providence United Fund will join forces for the joint kickoff. Nineteen member agencies from the two funds are expected to be represented.

Pfaltz Wins GOP Nod for Assembly Seat

Hugo M. Pfaltz, Jr., a former chairman of the Republican City Committee, received his party's nomination in Tuesday's Primary election for one of two Union County Assembly seats in District 9C, which includes Summit. The second nomination went to his running mate, former Assemblyman Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield.

Both fought off a strong attempt by Kenneth White of Westfield, an insurgent Republican, who came in third. Mrs. Irene T. Griffin of Plainfield, a former Assemblywoman, finished a poor fourth in the four-way race.

Pfaltz, with a vote of 4,668, bested White by 804 votes who garnered a total of 5,664. Of the nine communities in District 9C, Pfaltz carried five towns and lost four, winning Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Springfield and Mountainside, while losing Plainfield, Westfield, Scotch Plains and Fanwood.

McDonough led the race for the two seats with a total of 5,864.

Council OKs Fire House Expansion

Plans to expand the present Fire Headquarters received another boost last Wednesday night when Common Council announced that it had hired the local architectural firm of Kuhn and Drake to develop a design.

In 1961 Council authorized the hiring of an architect to draw plans for an expanded fire house which would cost in the neighborhood of $300,000.

At that time Matthews Simpson, a local architect, had been retained for the project. Under the resolution adopted last Wednesday, Mr. Simpson will act as design consultant.

Reasons given by Fire Chief, Charles Eakley for the need to expand headquarters, were "inadequate servicing area of fire equipment," inadequate bay areas for service equipment, and the lack of space for conducting in service training programs.

"Servicing equipment provides problems because there is no space to lay out hose, and maintain and restore equipment to proper places," Eakley said. One bay area presently holds the city ambulance, a piece of equipment and the chief's car. There is not room enough for the three vehicles to stand side by side for easy ingress and egress, he said. Consequently, the chief's car is parked in front of the truck.

The larger bay area which houses first line equipment also houses a 1927 truck. There is not sufficient floor space to allow firemen to assemble for such activities as the anticipated Red Cross course, to be given on advanced first aid procedures. Living quarters are cramped and staircase landings are used for storage spaces, Eakley said.

The schedule calls for plans to be ready by November and bids received by December.

Councilman's House is Target For Robberies

The Colt road home of Councilman and Mrs. Ernest M. May was broken into and robbed twice of an undetermined amount of cash, jewelry and appliances in less than two weeks, the Police Department reported on Monday.

Protests Fail To Halt Purchase Of Ambulance

Council OKs Fire House Expansion

Despite pressures to delay a decision, Common Council voted last week to purchase a municipal ambulance at a cost of $10,600.

No Contests Keep Primary Votes Scarce

With 20 per cent of the local electorate voting in Tuesday's Primary election, Summit will apparently return four incumbent Republican municipal office holders in November.

New Plan Delays Council Ruling On Apartments

Common Council again delayed decision last Wednesday night on whether to grant a zoning variance which would permit construction of a garden apartment on "old" Springfield avenue near Division avenue.

Councilman's House is Target For Robberies

The variance is being sought by Ralph Pocaro, a local attorney. Mr. Pocaro submitted an amendment to the application which had been recommended for approval by the Zoning Board.

The side lot width was altered from 50 feet to 40 feet, in order to "save three large trees, whose existence had not been apparent in the two dimensional renderings," Mr. Pocaro explained.

Council could not decide whether the revised plan could be considered substantially the same as the one approved by the Zoning Board or whether the Zoning Board should make a determination on the basis of the alteration in the scheme.

They reserved the right to make the decision pending the determination on what constituted proper procedure.

However, there were strong vocal elements from the First Aid Squad, members of the medical profession, and private citizens objecting to the proposed purchase.

Twelve letters were reported to have been opposed, with three approving. One letter from the Summit Community Council, requested that action be deferred and that a committee be appointed to include representatives of the city departments, Overlook Hospital, local clergy and medical professions, and the Volunteer First Aid Squad.

Edwin S. Votey, Councilman from Ward 1, read a prepared statement, justifying the decision on the basis that the presently used city ambulance is "obsolete", outmoded, and worn out, being a 1951 Pontiac for which replacement parts are unavailable.

Council had reached the decision after months of consideration in conjunction with the First Aid Squad of alternative plans to the present set up. Two proposals had been scuttled because the volunteer First Aid Squad "was not prepared to man the headquarters at all times".

Mr. Votey asserted that at "no time was there any discussion or understanding that the services rendered by the city ambulance would be discontinued." He referred to an April 8 meeting when both the City and the Squad agreed to a set of rules and regulations to govern the operation of the City and First Aid Squad ambulances.

John Cooper, president of the Summit First Aid Squad, claimed "that it was never made clear that the city had under consideration purchase of a new ambulance and that "none of us knew it until we read it in the Herald." He objected to continuation of the present three ambulances with the responsibility for ambulance service being divided between the city and the First Aid Squad as conducive to "confusion of roles," that it would prove a considerable expense to the taxpayers, and that it would lead to a "duplication of effort."

Dr. Robert Buchanan in a letter to Mr. Cooper, said the question was one of "speed versus service." He recommended deferring the decision until a proper medical survey could be made, with the men who are treating patients. The Community Council, he reminded, would be willing to conduct such a survey of professional opinion.

Patrolman John Walsh, president of the P.B.A., supported the city plan. "We cannot continue to give the citizens of Summit the best possible service, unless the city ambulance is available, he said. He pro rated the cost over the 16-year life of the present one and figured it cost $400 a year — "a small price to save a life." Charles Mander testified to his own satisfactory experience in which transport had been effected by the city on an emergency within 12 minutes.

Another local surgeon, Dr. Bruce Whitesell, stated his support of the use of the Volunteer First Aid Squad services as the exclusive means of dealing with emergencies.

Aside from the opinions of the members of the medical profession, Council had heard from private citizens who objected to what they termed "unnecessary duplication of effort and expense." F. E. Reed, one disgruntled private citizen had called for a halt to the "competition and rivalry which results in less than first class service to the town."

The city was reminded by Ralph Pocarò that the presently city-owned ambulance had been a gift of the Lion's Club. "I think we could probably get another ambulance 'or nothing if we asked."

J. Alan Drummond felt the nub of the question was not who should operate the ambulance, but rather a question of control and authority. He saw the First Aid Squad as filling in the gap. He objected to the abdication of authority by the city. "If it is a question of medical training, the firemen should be trained."

"The two agencies working together will provide the best service" he suggested. But John Bangs did not consider it an abdication of authority by the city, for the First Aid Squad to handle ambulance service. He pointed to the fact 300 communities rely on volunteer service and noted that in Millburn and Westfield there have been moves to turn over the entire service to the First Aid Squads.

He recommended that time be given to a balanced survey to include opinions from staff of the hospital and local doctors. City physician, Robert S. Milligan upheld continuation of present service. He said that the First Aid Squad provided a "wonderful service" and that he thought there was "no better service than what the police and fire departments give in real emergencies."

Mr. Votey sought in his review of the plans for a cen. dispatch and the discussions to establish joint understanding of rules and regulations to demonstrate that the city and volunteer agencies could work together to "offer the residents of Summit the finest ambulance service in this state."

President of the Common Council, Elmer J. Bennett, in announcing the Council's decision said, the appropriation had been determined because it seemed "a reasonable insurance premium." "The third ambulance might save a life." Feeling it "not prudent to put off the decision any longer," he went on to express awareness on the part of Council of "the very great contribution" the First Aid Squad makes.

Mr. Votey in his statement had given the First Aid Squad priority role in ambulance service when personnel was available. Assurance that personnel is available seemed to hinge on their actually being present at the Squad Headquarters. But that presence by the Squad was not customary nor anticipated. "No matter whether the Fire Department or the First Aid Squad handles the vehicles, the police department's role is clear. It determines whether an ambulance is needed. They are fully prepared to render first aid until the ambulance service arrives. It appears that with purchase of the replacement ambulance and the fact that firemen are on duty that firemen will bear the main responsibility for ambulance service in emergency situations. Later research on the background yielded three ambulances are used. However, 'his is apparently rare."

None of the letters against purchase of the city ambulance was read at the Council meeting. The one offering a compromise by Brockway McMillan, president of the Community Council, was summarized and one of the three letters in favor was read by Patrolman John Walsh, president of PBA, local 55, flanked by several uniformed men and the chief of police, John B. Sayre.

Later investigation of the letters — part of the public record — revealed specific objections by several individuals in a position to assess the situation of ambulance care in Summit.

Summit can be adequately covered by the present two ambulances," commented Dr. Robert Specht. He urged that police be properly in charge of the situation, with handling of crowds and investigation of causes. "The care of the injured is best left to those who continually train to do so — the corps of volunteers."

"The matter of speed is not important," the medical man emphasized. He observed that other towns are served by Rescue Squad ambulances with the police taking over the dispatch of the vehicles.

A doctor, H. A. Leonhard, a member of the emergency staff at Overlook Hospital, receiving patients in need of emergency care, recommended that the volunteer ambulance corps have the responsibility of patient care and transport and that the police be trained to give immediate, "competent" first aid to handle the situation until the trained volunteers arrive, releasing the police for other civic responsibility.

Dr. Henry Liss, another local surgeon "begged" Council to investigate the need for three ambulances before making a decision.

The meeting had sparked a considerable aura of suspense. Packed to overflowing before starting time, many people were looking for copies of the meeting's agenda — some hint of the resolution of some of the issues that had been left unresolved until the full Council could meet in the first regular meeting of the fall.

There were none of the usual copies of the agenda for the public to peruse. Curiosity mounted. Would the members of the Local Housing Authority be named as scheduled? Would the city approve purchase of an ambulance in the face of mounting opposition from outside the government realm? Passaic avenue residents were out en masse to learn whether Council continued to back their opposition to road widening.

Not even the press, privy to the agenda, knew the decision about Passaic avenue until right before the announcement when Harry C. Kates, city clerk, distributed copies of the resolution.

No word was ever mentioned about the Local Housing Authority nor official explanation rendered for the delay in announcing the membership during the entire meeting.

schematic drawings for the long sought apartment house variation on Springfield avenue, was not accepted, two more citizens rose and dumped another problem in the hands of Council — that properties on Middle avenue served as a culvert, causing flooding conditions. Spokesman, Henry Fischer, was assured that following the regular meeting, Council would adjourn to discuss the complaint. A final epilogue to the formal meeting just before 10:55 p.m. was a question from Miss Elizabeth Cox. "What is to be done about the crumbling retaining walls at the railroad station?" The question was duly noted, to be taken up for investigation at another time.

Class Starts
16th Season

English classes for non-English-speaking men and women will begin a 15-week series at the YWCA on Wednesday evening, September 20, from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Registration may be made now or on the opening night of classes.

The English class program was initiated in 1951 because of the need for the service in the area. For the last 15 years, some 150 men and women from countries around the globe have attended annually. Classes are kept small, to provide for maximum individual attention for each student. There are from seven to nine groups, graded from beginners through advanced. The entire teaching staff is a volunteer one, insuring a high degree of personal interest.

Two daytime intensive study classes, instructed by experienced teacher Mrs. G. E. Low are available for a limited number of students. Emphasis is in the intermediate class, which will meet on Thursday from 1:30 to 3 p.m., starting September 21, will be an understanding and speaking English, but the course will also include reading and writing. An advanced class, which will meet on Mondays from 1:30 to 3 p.m., beginning September 25, will be geared to those who want to speak fluently and who are seeking proficiency in reading and writing.

Further information about the English class program may be had by telephoning Mrs. John Stoneburner, young adult program director at the YWCA, 273-4262. Mrs. Stoneburner has also requested that persons in-such a decision from the Freeholders. Passaic avenue is classified as a county highway which means that its maintenance and improvement is under county jurisdiction. If the city should accept the street it will be responsible for all maintenance and plowing.

In earlier discussion of the street widening, Eugene E. Sullivan of 163 Passaic avenue pointed out that the county in the past had financed road improvements to lesser widths than it insisted for Passaic avenue.

Hugo M. Pfaltz, jr. reiterated his suggestion that a new north-south parkway be constructed on the Chatham side of the Passaic have the same problems as holders. Avenue as an alternate road to handle traffic from the John F. Kennedy Parkway at the Mall to points west.

Mr. Lehr explained his negative vote by saying that he felt that a 40-foot width for Passaic avenue would be advisable and for the improvement program that would be limited to that width. After two years of planning of Summit and Mrs. Rose Marie Hanlon of Berkeley Heights.

The lecture series will explain the differences between op and pop art, impressionism and expressionism, in a series of eight lectures covering the Renaissance to the contemporary scene. The lectures will be given at the Art Center starting October 2 by Michael Lenson, art editor of the Sunday Newark News, and Dr. Lee Hall, art professor at Drew University. (Wolin photo)

Post Office To Aid Those Lacking ZIP

Summit residents again will have an easy opportunity to put ZIP into their mail in late September, Postmaster Robert M. Dunsmore reported this week.

During the last half of September, the post office will deliver to every householder a kit of eight postal cards which can be mailed back to the post office with addresses needing ZIP codes. Each completed card will be sent to the post office which services the "Zip-less" address and the proper code will be added before the form is returned to the sender. No postage will be needed on these cards.

Each of the eight cards in the kit will contain a message encouraging the general use of ZIP code. There will be a ninth card of instructions. All will be folded together like a closed accordion. There will be perforations between each form. In addition, another separate card will be delivered along with the kit which is a reminder of the local ZIP code.

Last year approximately 13,000 addresses were ZIP coded by the Summit Post Office as part of a similar program using only one or two cards with spaces for as many as 13 addresses, Dunsmore said.

Local Man in New Post with American Metal

Albert E. Lee, jr., of 66 Portland road has been appointed technical advisor to the executive office of American Metal Climax, Inc. Since 1965, Mr. Lee has been president of its lead and zinc division.

In his new post, Mr. Lee will be responsible for investigation of new opportunities for the company in metallurgy and metallurgical processes.

A graduate of Lehigh University in chemical engineering, Mr. Lee has been active in the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers since 1949 and in 1966 served as president of AIME's Metallurgical Society. He is a director of the American Zinc Institute, Inc. and the International Lead-Zinc Research Organization, and a member of the Mining and Metallurgical Society of America and the Mining Club.

Mr. Lee joined the American Metal Company Ltd. (a predecessor company of AMAX) in 1946. He held a series of supervisory positions and was named president of the lead and zinc division when it was formed in November, 1965.

Speeding Nets Revocations For 2 Drivers

License suspensions totalling 90 days and fines amounting to $240 were handed to 13 drivers last week in Municipal Court after they were found guilty of various traffic offenses.

Nature Film Series Begin October 11

The Summit Nature Club will again bring five nationally known naturalists and conservationists to the community this fall to show full color Audubon wildlife films at Celanese Corporation auditorium.

The films deal with all aspects of nature, including wild animals in their natural environments, undersea life, plant life and magnificent scenery. The film-lectures are the finest natural history programs available and are scheduled each year by the National Audubon Society throughout the United States and Canada.

The program for this season follows: "The Spring of Life," Prentice Stout, October 11; "South on the Wind," Robert C. Hermes, November 6; "The Bahamas—Top to Bottom," Harry Pederson, January 23; "Ranch and Range," Albert J. Wall, February 28; "These Times Are Ours," Mary Jane Dockery, March 22.

Tickets for the entire series may be obtained from Mrs. John R. Whitlock, 14 Valley View Avenue, (277-2717). This is the 19th year that the Audubon wildlife films have been sponsored by the Nature Club. Proceeds from the series are used for local conservation work.

Unitarians to Hear Talk by National Aide

Rev. Joseph Nicholas Barth, D.D. newly appointed director of the department of the ministry in the Unitarian Universalist Association, will be guest speaker at the Unitarian Church on Sunday. His sermon topic will be "AH."

Before his appointment, Dr. Barth was for ten years minister at King's Chapel, Boston. Beginning as a Kansan, Dr. Barth traveled widely in his pursuit of a ministerial career, studying at several universities, with postgraduate work at the University of London and at Harvard University. He obtained his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago, and his B.D. at Meadville Theological Seminary, where he received also the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Since his ordination in 1935, and during his subsequent pastorates, Dr. Barth was frequently designated a key figure in many denominational and civic affairs, representing the liberal viewpoint and in that tradition. For over seven years he was chairman of the Interracial Committee of the Boston Council of Churches; chairman of the United Community Services Commission on Public Housing, serving also as a member of their Special Programs Dept., and chairman of the State Committee on Discrimination in Housing.

Dr. Barth has made several literary contributions to various journals, and is the author of "The Art of Staying Sane" and "Toward a Doctrine of a Liberal Church."

YMCA to Have Reception for Boys and Dads

The Summit Area YMCA will hold an open house and registration for its grade school boys' program on Saturday, September 23 and September 30. Rangers, Pathfinders, and Voyagers, fourth, fifth and sixth graders, will register at 10 a.m. on September 23 and Pioneers, third graders, will register on September 30 at 10 a.m. One parent, preferably the father, is asked to accompany each boy. While the programs are explained to parents, boys will have a gym and swim session, and are asked to bring sneakers, swim trunks, and towel.

All club groups are organized on the basis of 10 to 12 boys with two volunteer father leaders leading each group under the supervision of the YMCA professional staff. They meet Saturday mornings for two hour sessions of athletics, swimming instruction, club activities, crafts, and skills training. Special activities during the year are father-son banquets and trips, model car and scrapwood derbies, a circus, and YMCA world service projects to help others.

All grade school boys from Summit and neighboring towns are welcome to attend. Participants in the programs are required to become YMCA members. Further information may be had by calling Louis Choquette at 273-3330.

What Now for Passaic Avenue?

It would appear that all is well on Passaic avenue, now that expansion plans have been dropped. But that is hardly the case.

While residents can rest easier in the light of the recent decision to forego making the road a 46-foot speedway, no decisions have been made as to where do we go from here. Will it remain a county road? If not, will the city take it back? Who's responsible for maintenance?

Even before the great debate started about the future width of the street, the avenue was, and still is, in need of solid repair instead of the patchwork operations to which it has been subjected.

The crown on the road is exceedingly high for a city street, and in light of the state-mandated speeds, not particularly safe.

There is no curbing as would normally be expected along a busy street, and there's one treacherous curve that should have been the concern of the county and state before any widening was even considered.

These are some of the Passaic avenue problems. But to whom do residents turn? Who has the responsibility of righting these problems? Who will assume the responsibility?

Passaic avenue may not be any wider than necessary; but it is a street in limbo until some determination is made as to its future development for purposes of safety.

The League of Women Voters

In an area prolific with organizations for every conceivable purpose, the League of Women Voters stands out as a group with two worthwhile educational purposes.

As such, the League is invaluable to its members as an educative group, which supplies data regarding the workings of government.

At the same time, the League performs a public service by informing the general public regarding the issues at hand and generally supplying data which is completely non-partisan.

For instance, in connection with the primary election held Tuesday, the League supplied public information on the reapportionment plan, the purpose of a primary, voting requirements, and public offices up for election.

While the activities of the League seem more apparent during election times, when open meetings are sponsored and a general mailing is made to voice candidates' views, in actuality the League is at work all during the year, working to make sure citizens take advantage of their democratic rights and responsibilities in an educated fashion.

However, all these activities take money. On the one day in the year when a League member or male helper comes to call, remember the all-year work of the League and make a donation to continue this type of knowledgeable operation.

Advice for Consumers

We have been told of what seems to be a growing situation in Summit that we feel should be brought to the attention of the public. The situation is that of the out of town repairman who passes himself off as a local businessman by subscribing to a telephone answering service and then advertising his services, usually in the "yellow pages," with a Summit address and a Summit phone number.

In some instances these repairmen have their headquarters in distant communities and very often their bills include a stiff charge for travel to and from the Summit call. They also have been known to be most difficult to reach if the original repair job proves to be faulty.

A recent incident brought to our attention by a local housewife was for a washing machine repair job that was answered by a firm advertising a local address and telephone but operating from a town considerably distant from here. The bill for the repair was said to be staggering for the actual cost of the item to be replaced and to this bill was added travel expenses. Cash was demanded and apparently some rudeness developed until the bill was paid by cash, which was more than a housewife usually keeps in her cookie jar.

We would suggest that local residents make sure that any person offering services has a truly local establishment, one that is more tangible than that provided by an answering service. We also suggest that those who live in Summit make every attempt to confine their shopping activities to Summit where merchants who are members of the Chamber of Commerce (which also is an authorized branch of the Better Business Bureau) have a local reputation for honesty which they are unlikely to jeopardize by any "fast" deals.

And as a final court of last resort for any real or imagined unfair business practice there is always the Summit Area Chamber of Commerce.

Current Comments

Yes, There's a War On (Somerville Messenger-Gazette)

The average citizen today goes about his business as usual. He has a good supply of money. He spends it. In the stores he finds everything he wants, provided he has the credit cards, charge account and/or money to pay for it. He enjoys TV, a new automobile every year or so. He is the beneficiary of a wide assortment of clothes. The supermarkets are heavily stocked with all sorts of foods.

Downtown the people hustle with a bustle. The highway shopping centers are busy. There is no rationing. Sugar is plentiful. Auto tire manufacturers are begging people to buy whole sets of tires with no money down.

We are frankly having a ball. Little do most of the people today realize we are at war. We pause occasionally to read about it or listen to bulletins on the radio and we exclaim how awful it is.

Ask the average man on the street how many of your young men have been killed in Vietnam and he doesn't have any idea. Tell him more than 10,000 have died and he looks puzzled, shocked.

Perhaps never before in our history have we taken such a nonchalant viewpoint of a war. There are no parades, no shortages, no flags flying, no war bond campaigns.

And yet we are at war. It takes a visit to the airport of a large major city to fully realize that we are fighting a major war. Just stand at a loading area and one can see sailors, marines, soldiers and airmen waiting patiently to get on planes for a visit home, probably the last one before heading overseas. We give it little thought; we are perhaps too busy.

The airport lobbies are full of these servicemen, and frequently one sees one go by with a limp, or a crutch under his arm, maybe one less an arm or a leg, and then one begins to realize what had never been fully realized — unless there's a son over there.

To see these hordes of servicemen at airports is sufficient to jar one's insides a bit, and it takes a while to recover, as one leaves the airport and heads back to town where people are going about their everyday ways, seemingly unaware that thousands of miles away American boys are being shot at and killed.

DEATHS

Mrs. Warwick Wilder

Mrs. Alma Wilder, wife of Warwick Wilder of 127 Summit avenue, died last Thursday in West Essex General Hospital, Livingston. She was 75.

Born at St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Wilder lived in New York for several years before moving here in 1932.

She also leaves two sons, Donald of Ossining, N.Y., and Bruce of Tucson, Ariz.; two sisters, Mrs. Irene Ford of East Edgcomb, Me., and Mrs. Verna Leimkuhler of Webster Grove, Mo., and one grandchild.

Services were held Monday at the Paul Ippolito Summit Memorial, 7 Summit avenue.

Denis B. Maduro

Denis B. Maduro of New York City, husband of the former Alice Nicholson of Summit, died last Wednesday at his summer home in Harwichport, Mass. He was 65.

A pension attorney, specializing in profit-sharing plans, estate planning and executive compensation, Mr. Maduro was a native of Panama. He was a graduate of Cornell University and Harvard Law School.

Besides his wife, Mr. Maduro is survived by three sons, Timothy, Peter and Denis, jr. Mrs. W. Curtis Nicholson, resides at 145 Summit avenue.

Perry T. Brown

Perry T. Brown, a former Summit realtor, died last Wednesday at Overlook Hospital. He was 73. Mr. Brown resided at Gillette for the last ten years.

Mr. Brown was born at Passaic and was a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy in 1916 and held the rank of lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve. Until his retirement in 1960 he was associated with the Stromenger Real Estate Agency here.

Mr. Brown enlisted in the Navy in 1913 and served in World War I. Following the war he was appointed to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

In 1922, he left the Navy and for the next 20 years was the owner and operator of a service station in Summit. Upon the outbreak of World War 2 he rejoined the Navy and was offered his commission. He retired in 1960.

Mr. Brown was a member of the Sons of American Revolution, Passaic Valley chapter; the Summit Real Estate Board and the American Legion.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Edith Wagner Brown; a son Roger K. of Short Hills; his step-mother, Mrs. John Brown of Irvington; three brothers, Charles B. of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, Vincent of Boca Raton, Fla., and Royal G. of Tehachapi, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Elsie Stiles of Montclair and Mrs. Margaret Barnes of Towanda, Pa.

Burial was at Frederica, Del.

Wilbur Coeyman

Funeral services for Wilbur Coeyman of 9 Irving Place were held last Thursday at Trinity Cathedral in Newark. Mr. Coeyman, who was 72, died a week ago Saturday in Overlook Hospital.

He was born in Newark and lived in Summit the last four years. He was a driver for the Yellow Cab Corp. and 29th Century Cab Co., Newark, for 40 years.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Catherine Prairie Coeyman; a son, Wilbur Jr. of New Providence and two daughters, Miss Carole of New Providence and Miss Alison at home.

Arthur H. Adelman, a former Summit pharmacist, died on September 4 at Warren Hospital, Phillipsburg. He lived at Columbia (N.J.) since his retirement in 1950. He was 65.

Mr. Adelman owned and operated a pharmacy here at 9 Ashwood road and also at East Orange for more than twenty years prior to his retirement. He was born at Newark and was a member of the Delaware Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Adelman; a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Ring of New Providence; three sons, William of Columbia, Arthur R. of Ogden, Utah, and Ralph of Columbia, and a brother, Horace of Newark.

William A. Knoop

William A. Knoop of 27 Windsor road, died Monday at home following a long illness. A former member of the technical staff at Bell Laboratories for 45 years, Mr. Knoop had some fifty patents to his credit in many different fields, including television, telegraphic apparatus and vacuum tubes.

Mr. Knoop was born at New York City. After studying electrical engineering at Pratt Institute, he joined Western Electric Company's research department, which later became the Bell Telephone Laboratories. His earliest work was on the vacuum tubes in the first trans-Atlantic radio broadcast, which took place between Alexandria, Va., and Paris in 1915. He continued to specialize in vacuum tube research until 1928 when he turned to the development of submarine cable telegraph equipment.

From 1932 until 1941 he concentrated upon television research and the design and development of television equipment. From then until his retirement in 1967 he specialized in military electronics, including test equipment or the Nike missile system. Mr. and Mrs. Knoop lived in Summit since 1941. Mr. Knoop was 76. He is survived by his wife and four sons: B. William Knoop of Summit, Alan R. Knoop of Richmond, Va., Stuart L. Knoop of Washington, D.C., and David E. Knoop, now at the United States Military Academy, West Point, N.Y.

Funeral services were held yesterday at Burroughs and Kohr Funeral Home, 306 Springfield avenue. Burial was at Port Washington, Long Island.

Protest Mailbox Removal
Editor, Summit Herald:
The following letter has been sent to Postmaster Robert Dunsmore. Publication in the Summit Herald is requested.

Mrs. Austin P. Winters,
121 Ashland road.

Dear Mr. Dunsmore:
This morning, I dropped a penny in a parking meter for the sole purpose of going into the Post Office to protest the recent removal of a drop-in box. To be specific, I mean the one on Railroad avenue to which a driver could run up, open the window on his left, and drop in letters without having to get out of his car.

You were away at a Postmasters' convention, but I spoke to Mr. McGrath. He assured me that the box-removal decision was not yours but came from headquarters in Philadelphia. "What can we do about it?" was my question. He suggested that I write you. I'm sending a copy of this letter to the Summit Herald and urging interested readers to take pens in hand. Perhaps if enough irritated Summitites protest, Philadelphia may be persuaded to restore the box.

We might more readily accept the dictum of the City of Brotherly Love, if we could see some valid reason for the removal of that box. As it is, I for one am simply frustrated!

Up With People Singers Coming To Summit Area

Annual Watchung Horse Show Set For This Sunday

Straight from shows at Expo, Constitution Hall in Washington, Carnegie Hall, the internationally acclaimed Singers, Up With People, will appear in Millburn at the Millburn High School on September 19. The two-hour musical is produced by Moral Re-Armament. Featured is a cast of 200 university and high school students selected for their talent and leadership. These youth, representing 43 states and 34 countries around the world, work without salary. Many have emptied bank accounts, sold cars and sacrificed a year of college to put this show on the road, it is reported. The show is packed with 28 original songs filled with dynamic ideas. The title song, "Up With People", was acclaimed by Billboard magazine as one of the top 50 numbers in the country. Other hits are "What Color is God's Skin," "Freedom Isn't Free," and "In New York City."

The 28th Watchung Hunter Show will be held on Sunday, at the Watchung Stables, Glenside Avenue. Sponsored by the Watchung Riding and Driving Club, the show will offer classes for hunters, jumpers, ponies, pleasure horses and horsemanship for junior exhibitors. The Watchung Hunter Show is a local show member of the American Horse Shows Association, and will draw exhibitors from New York and Pennsylvania as well as all parts of New Jersey.

The 39 classes beginning at 9 a.m. and continuing throughout the day will be judged by Frank Flynn of Milton, Mass., James Rooney of Loudonville, New York and Thom Brede of Lebanon. Mrs. Robert R. Daly of Gladstone, will serve as American Horse Shows Association steward. One of the featured events of the day will be the Thomas N. Tully Perpetual Challenge Trophy donated in honor of Major Tully who was the stable and a charter member for many years manager of the Riding and Driving Club. This class is open to advanced members of the Watchung Troops and Junior Essex Troop "B", who will ride school horses over fences.

Frederick Fleming of Summit, president of the Watchung Riding and Driving Club is chairman of the event.

Temple Sinai To Dedicate Torah Tomorrow

A Torah, the five books of Moses in ancient scroll form, will be accepted and dedicated at Temple Sinai tomorrow evening. The Torah is the center of Jewish synagogal worship and the scriptural portion is read from the parchment scroll each Sabbath.

The Torah is the gift of members and friends of the congregation in memory of the late Norman Max, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Max of 58 Harvey drive.

The silver breastplate and crowns are the creation of the eminent silversmith, Zabari, of the Jewish Museum of New York. They are the gift of the Max family. The silver yad or pointer is the gift of Norman's brother and sister, Douglas and Wendy Max.

The Torah will be accepted in the congregation's name by Stuard Zeckendorf, president and will be dedicated by Rabbi Morrison David Bial. Rabbi Bial will preach on the meaning of the Torah to the modern world.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO THE
OPEN-HOUSE PREVIEW OF
BLOOMINGDALE'S NEW NEW JERSEY STORE
IN THE MALL AT SHORT HILLS
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14 FROM 7 TO 9:30 P.M.
NOTHING FOR SALE (UNTIL FRIDAY MORNING AT 9:30) BUT FOUR BIG
FLOORS OF BEAUTY TO BEHOLD!

WE HAVE A NEW B IN OUR BONNET... IN THE MALL AT SHORT HILLS, N. J.

On Friday, September 15th, at 9:30 A.M., we'll be on hand to welcome you and wait on you. And what a variety of temptations are in store for you! For this, our 5th Branch store, is by far the largest... 4 spacious floors (a city block long!) that provide a gracious, inviting setting for even more of the many things for which Bloomingdale's is so justifiably famous. One floor is devoted to furniture and decorative accessories including 11 Designer Rooms (and a competent staff of decorators to help you, without charge, make your selections). There are fashions and more fashions and all the shoes and bags and gloves and hats and jewelry (even precious!) to go with them, as well as all the proper lovelies to go under them. There's a Men's Store, so well-known for its fine clothing and furnishings, both imported and American-born; a Young World for tots to teens filled with school clothes and play clothes and party clothes and "granny" gift clothes. Speaking of gifts, there's Au Gourmet filled with the unusual for cooking and serving; a Delicacies Shop (including Bloomy's marvelous cheeses) and more, much more... such as plenty of parking space and a room with a view called The Colonnade, a charming restaurant ready to serve you by day and on Monday and Thursday nights when the store is open late. Do come see it all!

 Mrs. Alice Osborn Henry of 45 Woodland avenue, a resident of Summit for the last 69 years, died Tuesday at Overlook Hospital.
 Mrs. Henry was born in the Deserted Village in the Watchung Reservation when it was known as Fellsville and was a summer resort. Her parents resided at Newark, but spent their summers at Fellsville. Mrs. Henry was a graduate of Kent Place School and was a retired secretary-treasurer of the Alfred Ayers Lumber Co. of Newark, no longer in business. She was a member of Calvary Episcopal Church.

 She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles S. Williams of Alexandria, Va., and Mrs. Prescott H. Wellman, Jr., of Indian Harbor Beach, Fla.; a son, Charles S. Henry of Summit, and a sister, Miss Hilda Osborn of the home address.
 Funeral services will be conducted privately.

Family Service, which also has a fee schedule on an income capacity, needs funds to compensate for the cases on the low end of the scale.
 The Child Care Center, serving from 30 to 35 children, although helped by a large volunteer crew, has paid staff and a building to maintain and clerical work to be done.
 SAGE, a center for activities involving older people in the community also gets assistance in conducting its vast range of programs, some of which are self supporting and some of which are not.
 Cerebral Palsy and retardation strikes Summit children as well. Funds are dispersed to the maintenance of clinics.
 The Salvation Army, which receives local assistance in the federations of agencies actually serves residents of Summit directly. Last year they have underwritten a dental program for 31 children of 13 families in the city.
 USO with installations in Vietnam and in the United States gets a share of the contribution. There are 500 servicemen from Summit.
 YES, offering employment opportunities for youth and finding willing helpers for those in need of assistance, partakes in the budget plan. Again, although manned by volunteers, the agency has administrative expenses.
 Urban League, which has just joined the campaign, is working with youngsters in the realm of exploring job opportunities, trying to persuade youngsters to complete their education before entering the labor market. The program has called for a part-time professional social worker.

 "When residents make a package contribution to the 14 agencies of the United Campaign, they are supporting programs that lift up and improve the community, make it a more interesting and worthwhile place in which to live," Reamer said.
 The time draws near — on October 7 is the big kick off parade when general solicitation for contributions goes into full swing.

Dusk-to-Dawn Lighting
 by Jersey Central Power & Light / New Jersey Power & Light.

So what is Dusk-to-Dawn Lighting?
 It's the economical, practical outdoor area lighting that automatically turns on at dusk, off at dawn.

What are some typical installations where Dusk-to-Dawn Lighting can be installed?
 Restaurants, parking lots, driveways, service stations, farms, homes, motels, used car lots, shopping centers, loading zones, trailer parks, churches, truck terminals, swimming pools, tennis courts, and we're sure you can name a few of your own.

How much light can be distributed in an area?
 Our 3650 lumen mercury vapor unit will light up an area 60' in diameter; our 7000 lumen mercury vapor unit will light up an area 100' in diameter. The area and its use will tell us the size you need.

What about maintenance and service?
 That's our problem. We own and maintain fixtures and hardware, and replace burned out bulbs.

Does City Have Plethora Of Ambulance Services?

Although Summit now has service they provide still falls three agencies operating three short of standards set for ambulances to provide emergency first aid care and ambulance service to residents, the ambulance service.

The standards which were referred to by Dr. Warren B. Nestler of 36 Whittridge road, medical education director at Overlook Hospital, were established by the Committee on Trauma of the American College of Surgeons this last June as guidelines for communities in evolving first aid and emergency ambulance service.

Summit's three ambulances are operated by the Summit First Aid Squad, a volunteer citizen organization, and by the city's police and fire departments. The First Aid Squad has two vehicles and the city one. Last week Common Council voted $10,000 for the purchase of a new municipal ambulance to replace the present obsolete vehicle.

First of the standards is that the Health Department or other government agency in the community should properly vest itself with the authority to "regulate all public and private ambulance services," and that an ordinance be established to give the state, county or municipal agency the responsibility for determining the need for public and private ambulances, the licensing of each service; the enforcing of standards and establishing a liaison between the staff and ambulance service and the law enforcement authorities, the medical profession, the hospital administration, and the public.

No Local Ordinance

Presently, there is no ordinance dealing with this matter, although rules and regulations have been set for the joint operations of the city-owned ambulance, manned by members of the Fire Department and the two First Aid Squad ambulances, manned by volunteer members of the squad.

Police Department personnel hold cards certifying they have completed advanced first aid training given by the Red Cross. This training is received while they are attending the State Police Academy at Sea Girt, a compulsory school for all local policemen. However Fire Department members have not had any first aid training in the last two years, according to Chief Charles Eakley. But he said that courses for firemen are to be given within the next few months.

Squad Not Fully Trained

And not all members of the First Aid Squad have qualified for an advanced first aid course. However, John Cooper, president of the Squad, said that schedules are arranged so that at least two trained Squad members respond to all ambulance calls. The Squad ambulance is manned by at least three, and sometimes four members.

The ultimate goal is to have all personnel of all three agencies be proficient in (1) cardiac compression, (2) emergency childbirth, and (3) handling persons with acute mental conditions. Although these proficiencies are sought by the College of Surgeons' trauma committee, the local agencies have not yet met the goals.

Members of the Police and Fire Departments are scheduled to take a course in coronary care this fall from Dr. Nestler.

In the other two areas, emergency childbirth and mental patients, the police have received some training but not enough for certification.

Half Are Certified

The First Aid Squad has 32 of its 60 members certified for cardiac cases and the remainder are scheduled for training this fall. Annual lectures and films on emergency childbirth are given to Squad members by Overlook Hospital.

The Squad also has received lectures from psychiatrists on the approaches to be used on patients having an acute mental condition. In such cases the

Registry for Arts Course Opens Today

Registration has begun for the basic course in art appreciation co-sponsored by the Summit Art Center and the Junior League of Summit. The eight week lecture series starts on October 2 and is open to all Summit Area residents. The only charge is a $1 registration fee.

Michael Lenson, well known lecturer, painter and art editor of the Newark Sunday News, will give the first six lectures. He will trace the historic development of western art from the 13th Century to the present. As a painter Mr. Lenson won the $10,000 Chaloner award and his work hangs in a number of museums, galleries and private collections. As a muralist he has executed such major works as Newark City Hall and the New Jersey Pavillion at the 1939 World's Fair. He taught at Rutgers University for seven years and has been on the staff of the Sloan School and the Montclair Art Museum.

The last two lectures of the series, on 19th and 20th Century art, will be conducted by Dr. Lee Hall, associate professor of art at Drew University. Dr. Hall is a noted artist and teacher, and has done research at the University of London on a post-doctoral grant from the American Philosophical Society. She was associate professor of art at Winthrop College in South Carolina before joining the staff at Drew University. The art course starts on October 2 and will be held on eight consecutive Monday evenings at St. John's Lutheran Church. Those interested in attending the series may enroll at the Summit Art Center, 17 Cedar street, today through Friday, September 22, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Registration by mail will continue until September 25. Mrs. Paul Wickliffe, jr., 273-2417, is in charge of the program.

Fall Classes Ready to Open At Art Center

The Art Center will begin its 1967 fall classes on September 25. Registration will take place during the preceding week, September 18 to 22, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Center, 17 Cedar street.

Classes will be offered in oil and watercolor painting, life classes, portrait painting, wood engraving and print-making and in sculpting. Day and evening classes are scheduled for adults; afternoon and Saturday classes for children. The Art Center's program for 1967-68 also includes exhibitions in the Art Center and showing of members' work in public buildings. There will be classes for the beginner as well as the advanced artist, with individual instruction permitting each student to progress at his own rate.

For information and brochure, call the Art Center, 9 a.m. to 12 noon at 273-9121 or Mrs. William K. Page at 992-2735. Early registration is urged as classes are limited.

To acquaint those interested, there will be an exhibition of instructor's work from September 17 through October 8. The Center will be open from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. each Sunday, and Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 12 noon for the duration of the exhibit. There is no admission charge.

Public Paint-In Set by Art Center for Sunday

An artistic "Happening," or mass paint-in, has been arranged by the Summit Art Center for this Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. The Cedar street block from Morris avenue to Broad street will be closed to all traffic for the event.

The Art Center, which is located at 17 Cedar street, will provide all of the necessary paint, paper and canvas for participants. The Center also suggests that "Sunday worst" be the garb for the day.

The outdoor paint-in will provide an opportunity for those who have always wanted to paint to give it a try with no holds barred and expressionism running rampant. The affair is open to the public.

Mrs. David J. Mugford and Miss Anna-Lisa Irsadotter are co-chairmen of the affair.

Business Women to Hear Kemper Aide

The first dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club to be held at the Hotel Suburban on Monday will present George Cobb, personnel manager of Kemper Insurance Co.

In an address entitled "Is She Afraid to Come Back — The Need for Working Women in the Summit Area" Mr. Cobb will discuss the role of working women in the economy of Summit.

Mr. Cobb joined Kemper Insurance Co. as personnel manager in 1967. Previously he had been for seven years with City Service as manager of the inspection department, in Lake Charles, La., and assistant manager of export terminal, New Orleans, where industrial relations was his primary duty.

Mr. Cobb, a native of New Jersey, was born in Freehold and received his B.A. degree from Duke University. He resides in Lebanon.

The original painting of "The Spirit of '76" is in Abbot Hall, at Marblehead, Mass.

Antiques, Art Classes on YWCA Program

Antiques and art appreciation, a new class offering of the YWCA, will begin a 10-week comprehensive course on Monday, September 18, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. The series includes a survey of the historical background, romance and aesthetic appreciation of antiques. The characteristic work of master craftsmen will be discussed through the furniture styles of Queen Anne, Thomas Chippendale, George Hepplewhite, Thomas Sheraton, the Adam Brothers, Empire and Victorian periods. American and European glass, china and silver will be studied in detail.

A thorough and detailed study of woods and refinishing processes will be part of the class instruction. Special emphasis will be placed on the practical methods of detecting genuine articles from reproductions and fakes. In addition, class members will examine and discuss many beautiful examples of china, glass and silver from the instructors' collection. They may also bring their own examples for identification, discussion and appraisal. Instructor for the class will be Robert W. Slatoff, who has made a lifetime study of antiques. Mr. Slatoff is a museum consultant from Trenton, and an experienced instructor in adult schools as well as an authorized appraiser. Further information about the antique class may be had by telephoning Mrs. J. J. Hennessey, young adult program director at the YWCA, 273-4242.

Fortnightly Unit Lists Coming Events

The Fortnightly Club's literature department has announced its plans for the new club year. Department officers are Mrs. David J. Secunda, chairman; Mrs. Raymond H. Hartlaub, vice-chairman; Mrs. Ronald MacLean, chairman of drama; Mrs. Wilfred W. Krayer, publicity; and Mrs. Arthur G. Laird, volunteer liaison.

The program at the guest day and tea on November 6 will be "The Way It Is" by Miss Scotty MacKenzie who has been successful in a wide variety of fields from high fashion to industry and who has spoken before thousands of people including hundreds in the medical and academic communities. Miss MacKenzie, a native New Yorker, is a unique lecturer, author, public relations director, and advertising executive.

Husbands will be invited to the evening meeting sponsored by the music and literature departments in January when Jerome Hines, basso of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will discuss his own composition "I Am the Way," a drama with music and libretto. There will be a field trip to the Metropolitan Opera House at Lincoln Center to attend the evening performance of this drama on Sunday, April 7.

On Friday, April 26 members may attend the seventh district drama festival at Glen Ridge.

The final meeting of the year will be on Monday, April 29, when Dr. David Breese will present "Discover Your Destiny."

Dr. Breese is an internationally-known author, lecturer and world traveler, who has visited forty countries of the world in his ten overseas trips to every continent. He is widely regarded as an authority on the subject of Communism and covered for the American press at the eighth World Festival of the Baird School, Orange, and attended Skidmore College.

Mr. Fielding attended the University of Michigan and was graduated from Kansas State University this last June. He is a sales engineer with Caterpillar Tractor Company in Peoria, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Fielding will reside at Pekin, Ill.

part of the ballot, polled 41 votes.
Running uncontested for councilman-at-large, Elmer J. Bennett, current president of the Common Council, ran a close second to the Mayor with a total of 2,208 votes. Also running on the Republican ticket for a seat on Common Council in Ward 1, Robert S. Stafford, will apparently be returned to office with a primary vote of 1,004.

At the county level, the three Republicans seeking senatorial posts under the new districting plan, locally polled almost 200 per cent more votes than the three main Democrats seeking the same offices. The three Republicans were led by Francis X. McDermott, who polled 2,234 votes locally, while his running mates, Matthew J. Rinaldo and Nicholas S. LaCorte, tallied up 2,210 and 2,212 respectively.

Charles J. Irwin of Mountain-side running at large for the Assembly garnered 2,184 votes. Leading the three Republicans running for the Board of Freeholders was Charles S. Tracy, with 2,218 votes. Former mayor Arthur A. Manner of Berkeley Heights polled 2,209, while Jerome Epstein received 2,189 votes.

On the Democratic side, the three leading contenders for the bid for state senator were led by incumbent Mrs. Mildred Barry Hughes, who polled 145 votes locally. James J. Kinneally, sr. won 130 votes, and Lester Weiner polled 129 votes. Running apart from the regular ticket, but still on the Democratic line for assemblyman at large, Everett C. Lattimore polled 145 votes, while Joseph A. Gannon and George Perseley polled 138 and 140 votes, respectively, for Assembly 9C seats.

At the Freeholder level, John V. Donohue led the Democrats locally with 149 votes, followed by Joseph P. Kanie, 140, and Frank T. Cuchie, 138 votes. Democrats made no local

Charles C. Irwin, running unopposed for the GOP Assembly seat in Union County received 17,272 votes. For one of three seats on the three State Senate seats, three Republicans ran unopposed and included in the line of finish, Frank X. McDermott, Matthew Rinaldo and Nicholas LaCorie, who received 18,315, 18,947, and 18,022 votes respectively.

George Perselay of Summit, running unopposed for one of the two Assembly seats in District 9C, on the Democratic side, received 6,431 votes.

In a statement issued following his victory on Tuesday, Pfaltz said "The job now is to bring the entire Republican slate in Union County to victory

United Campaign Agencies: USO

Activities Now Extend to Vietnam

Twenty-six years ago last February, the six agencies that were all doing the same thing for the servicemen in uniform decided that they should join forces in order to do a much better job of remembering the fighting men.

And so, the first real ecumenical movement had its beginning — The YMCA, YWCA, National JWB, NCCS, Salvation Army and National Travelers Aid — the major faiths of the United States formed the United Service Organizations, Inc. — The USO, a member of the United Campaign.

USO served millions of men during World War 2 — in its clubs and lounges — railroad stations and USO Shows overseas. During the Korean conflict, USO again went to work overseas to remember the fighting men — thousands upon thousands of Korean military men and women were served by USO.

Then came Vietnam — more staff, more real estate, more money had to be found, and quickly, to keep pace with the continuous build-up of the Armed Forces in Vietnam, the consequent impact on the "back-up" areas of the Southeast Pacific, together with the growth in the size of the military establishment in training at home with the increase in the draft call.

Once again USO was required to train and employ more people, ask for more volunteers; lease, renovate and erect more buildings; send more shows overseas than in any previous post World War 2 period.

And once again the American people gave USO its support so that its world wide program could be sustained and carried forward in behalf of those called in defense of the nation.

Today there are 14 USO clubs and lounges in operation in Vietnam with six more to be opened by December 31. They are geographically scattered throughout the countryside, adjacent to as many branches of the Armed Forces as possible. Average attendances in these clubs is 2,000 per day per club or 28,000 young men a day.

To provide the military personnel with a "home away from home" — to bring them the familiar sound and sight they left behind — the USO operates clubs and lounges in 118 communities throughout the United States and 46 in 18 foreign nations where U.S. troops are stationed. It sends out the famous USO shows to entertain them in the most remote corners of the world where they are stationed.

USO is a voluntary expression of the continuing concern of the American people for those who have been called into the Armed Forces. It receives no government funds, and relies entirely on contributions through the United Campaign of Summit.

Summit High Kickers Strong Offensively

Summit — Bob Greenwald hopes the Hilltoppers can carry their top-notch form into the regular season.

Here is the Hilltopper's schedule:

September 16, Governor Livingston Regional (Berkeley Heights); 19, Verona; 21, at Cedar Grove; 26, Caldwell; 28, at Madison; October 3, at Chatham; 5, New Providence; 10, Millburn; 12, at Verona; 17, Cedar Grove; 19, at Caldwell; 24, Madison; 26, Chatham; 31, at New Providence, and November 2, at Millburn.

All games, except the opener with Governor Livingston Regional, will start at 3:30 p.m. Governor Livingston will be the only non-Suburban Conference foe.

The Hilltoppers will start their second season under Coach Greenwald at 2 p.m. Saturday when they take on Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights here and Coach Greenwald is sure his Hilltoppers are going to "be much stronger, especially offensively."

Inability to score contributed heavily to Summit's woes a year ago, but with six lettermen on hand, along with four other players who saw considerable action late last season, the Hilltoppers appear to be well fortified with experienced players.

Bayne Injured

Summit will have to get along without one letterman for awhile. Stuart Bayne suffered an injury in practice and probably will miss Saturday's opener.

Rich Regan and Kent Peterson lettered at forward last season, while center forward Gordon Hartley saw considerable action in the final third of the season.

The other lettermen are half-back Jim Stockbridge and full-backs Pat Everett and Louis Szabo. Other experienced defensive players include Bill Stockbridge and Doug Herr, half-backs, and James Van Natta, fullback.

In Top Form

Coach Greenwald has been impressed by his team's play in pre-season scrimmages and

Two Stumbling Blocks For Regional Eleven

Berkeley Heights — Westfield High and Cranford, which finished ahead of Governor Livingston Regional High's football team in its first season in the Watching Conference, again loom as the main stumbling blocks to the Highlanders' hopes for a conference title.

In a poll of conference coaches the consensus was that a September 30 meeting between Cranford and Westfield might well provide an early line on the eventual champion.

During the past six years Westfield has won the Watching Conference football title four times and was co-champion with Fanwood-Scotch Plains on another occasion. Cranford took the title in 1963.

Cat Threats

The conference coaches rate Clark Regional and Rahway as the chief threats to Westfield and Cranford, with Governor Livingston being accorded a spot atop the second division in the pre-season figuring. Fanwood, Scotch Plains, Hillside and Springfield Regional are figured as also-rans in pre-season calculating.

A fifth-place finish for the Highlanders of Coach Jack Bicknell would represent quite a come down for Governor Livingston which posted a 16-2 mark during the past two seasons.

The Highlanders have a young team and a record number of candidates getting ready for their September 23 opener with Fanwood-Scotch Plains. Coach Bicknell, who has developed the Highlanders into a powerhouse during his three seasons at the helm, figures he will have a "good team" by the third or fourth week of the season.

If Coach Bicknell's timetable stands up, the Highlanders figure on having a fair chance of at least matching their 1966 third-place finish behind Westfield and Cranford.

Favorable Schedule

The schedule works in favor of the Highlanders, who are expected to develop rapidly as the season progresses. They play their first two games on their home field against Fanwood-Scotch Plains and Hillside, both of which are figured for second-division finishes.

The Highlanders will visit Westfield in their third game of the season, but even here the schedule may be a helpful factor. Governor Livingston will be

Summit Titans to Play At Franklin Sunday

Summit — The Summit Titans will lift the lid on their 1967 North Jersey Football League season this Sunday afternoon when they travel to Franklin in Sussex County to engage the rugged "Miners".

The kickoff will be at 2 p.m. Last Sunday's scheduled game with the Dover Pioneers was postponed due to an overnight downpour and a steady rain on Sunday morning. Titan General Manager Frank Natale was reluctant to postpone the game, especially with the Titans' interest at a high pitch and all indications for a large crowd.

The Summit-Dover game will be played Sunday afternoon, November 19, at Tatlock Field. Seek Revenge

This Sunday afternoon Coach Mike Papio and the Titans are determined to wipe out one of the two setbacks suffered by the Summit eleven last fall. The big and rugged Miners scored a 19-14 victory a year ago. The Miners have a fine quarterback in Ron Oliver, with Ray Hernandez and Billy Bodnar the other standouts on offense. Their defensive platoon features big Johnny Doyle, Herb Savacool, and Al Kisch.

The Titans have been working this week on their ground attack in an effort to supplement their forward passing attack. Anson Perina Dick Moyer, Ed Purdy, Ken Kearny, Don Sheridan, and Eddie Rillo are scheduled to do most of the ball carrying.

The defensive forward wall features big George Hinds, Ray Ransome, Gerry James and Jim Monahan, with Joe Augustine, Don Jupa, Bob Korlesky, Jerry Thornton, Sal Manuri and Bobby Foranski as the defensive backs.

Summit fans who plan to make the 30-mile trek to Franklin on Sunday should use the John F. Kennedy Parkway to Route 10; take Route 287 to Route 46; proceed north to Route 15, and then Route 23 to Franklin, with the Miners game to be played on the Franklin High School athletic field.

Highlanders' Kickers Boost 10 Lettermen

Berkeley Heights — If experience counts for anything, John Kay's first season as coach of Governor Livingston Regional High School's soccer team could turn out to be highly successful.

Coach Kay, who took over the coaching reins vacated by Russ Huncher, inherited 10 lettermen from a team that won only two games a year ago. If the Highlanders benefited from mistakes caused by inexperience a year ago, Governor Livingston could bounce back into its former role as a soccer power.

Tough Foe

Coach Kay has had to whip his first team into game shape in quick order. The Highlanders open their season at 2 p.m. Saturday in Summit and the Hilltoppers, coach by Bob Greenwald of Berkeley Heights, always have been a tough foe for the Highlanders. Greenwald took over the Summit coaching job a year ago from another Berkeley Heights resident, Elmer Haldenwang.

Coach Kay, who also coaches the Highlanders' basketball team, is in the unique position of having two lettermen as goalies. The veterans are Ron Marks and Gary Friend.

The Highlanders also have four defensemen and four forwards who won letters a year ago, so the experience is well distributed. Glen Schoemer, center halfback, heads the defense and also has earned his coach's accolade as the top player on the squad. The veterans flanking Schoemer are Henry Frudenberger and Bill Pasienick.

Another letter winner, Paul Frenchman, will man one of the fullback positions.

4 Veteran Forwards

The offense will be headed by Rob Collins, center forward,

2 Score Sweeps Opening Night

Summit — Ciba Pharmaceutical and Fitterers scored sweeps over Soccodato Builders and Ciba Corp in opening-night matches in the Summit Recreation Bowling League.

Larry's won two games from Charlins, while West Penn Oil, the defending champion, won twice from Merchant & Sons, last season's runnerup.

For the second year the league is operating with a maximum team average of 895. This has made it necessary for West Penn Oil and Merchant & Sons to drop a man as they finished with team averages over 900. The balance of the league finished under 895.

Summit High Eleven Young, Boasts Depth

By Tom Kizka

Summit — With the playing of its first pre-season scrimmage against Union High last Saturday, a more definite picture can be made of the 1967 Summit High football team.

The Hilltoppers are a young team with only 16 of the 75 players on the squad being seniors. Although it has no one outstanding star, Summit's strength, says Coach Howard Anderson, is in its depth. There is strong competition for most positions, and the talented sophomores and juniors should steadily improve as the season grows older.

Specht Captain

The competition is quite apparent at the end position. Tom Specht, Hilltoppers' captain, and Norwood Hill, two of the team's fastest runners, are competing for the split end position.

An injury to tight end Bob Partenheimer will give Dave Heitkamp and Chuck Levanchy chances at that position during the early part of the season.

There will be more competition at the quarterback position. Two-year letterman John Spangler will have to work hard to keep outstanding sophomore prospect Steve Schroeder from taking his job.

Potent Offense

John Marcelliano at tailback,

Chatham Boro Booters Count on Newcomers

Chatham Boro — Chatham High School has been a power in statewide soccer circles for many seasons, but if Coach Otto Haas' squad is to live up to that reputation this season the Eskies are going to have to get some help from a good-sized number of newcomers.

The Eskies, who will make their season debut next Tuesday afternoon, September 19, in a home Suburban Conference game with Cedar Grove, have seven lettermen from last year, including four starters. The remaining starters will have to be culled from others among the 67 candidates who greeted Coach Haas when practice started a week ago.

The Eskies will play 14 Suburban Conference games and will have two contests with non-conference rivals — Chatham Township and Blair Academy. Coach Haas is not too sure what to expect this season, but feels he will need help in the backfield where the Eskies were hard-hit by graduation.

The other lettermen are Steve Barkliss and Jeff Frey, both forwards a year ago, and Bill Maier, a back.

Gladiators' Booters To Play 17 Contests

Chatham Township — In their first two seasons of soccer, the Gladiators of Chatham Township played only 20 games — 10 each year — and achieved only so-so success. They had an overall mark of 8-10-2.

But this year Coach Lawrence Christianson has lined up the most ambitious schedule in the school's history — 17 games — and he only hopes he has the boys to measure up to such a rugged slate.

Coach Christianson has something in his favor — a good sprinkling of lettermen from last year — and a factor that may result in the Gladiators getting off to a slow start — they played their first game last Tuesday afternoon against Kenilworth Regional after only four days of practice.

The Kenilworth contest was played at the Gladiators' field. Chatham Township will play its second game of the season's opening week tomorrow afternoon in neighboring New Providence. These two games should give Coach Christianson a pretty good line on his squad and then he'll have a week off to get his team set for the remaining 15 games.

Heading the Gladiators' holdovers is Swift Seamons, newly elected captain, who will play one of the fullback posts. Rich Williams also is back at fullback so the Gladiators should be strong in deep defensive spots. There also are two lettermen returning at halfback — Dick Filbey and Den Beers — so the Gladiators' defense should be solid.

Heading the offense are Cliff Eddy, inside left; Wayne Swanson, outside right, and Andy Norris, a native of England, inside right, all of whom lettered a year ago.

Pioneer Booters Face Year of Rebuilding

New Providence — With a 3-4-5 record last season, New Providence High School's soccer team enjoyed one of its more successful campaigns. With this rise in the school's soccer fortunes, interest has increased in the sport and more than 51 candidates turned out for Coach Bob Kahn's first practice session.

Despite the big turnout, and the possibility of another 10-15

Copper Springs Gives Awards

The annual Awards Day was held at Copper Springs Beach and Tennis Club, celebrating the club's sixth season.

A total of 774 swim badges, for advances in swimming ability, were earned over the summer as well as 41 junior life saving and 14 senior life saving awards.

The Miller's Club gave out key chains and charms to 13 new members who have completed an uninterrupted mile swim, crawl stroke. Ten former members also added additional miles to their records and three new three-mile swimmers were announced: Kathy Cahill, Judy Lehrer and Rick Pettler.

Earning the club's highest swimming award, the coveted Golden Dolphin, which represents having passed stiff swimming and club participation requirements were the following members: Jeff Blackwell, Mary Ellen Cahill, Cindy Dooan, Kathy Dunn, Katie Kiss, Craig Miller, Tim Newcomb, Paul Paytas, Dave Richards, Joe Ruane, John Ruane, Kathy Weeks and Mary Young.

A brief resume of the Copper Springs swim team season was given by coaches Jim Fix and Bill Freese. The 119 faithful members helped the team finish third in the newly formed Mountain Valley Swim League, with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses in the dual meets.

Diving coach, Steve Smith, reported a successful summer for the diving team which finished second in the Mountain Valley championship meet and won all of the season's three dual meets.

The tennis team had an equally active season as reported by coach Jeff La Cour, who presented awards to the following tournament winners and runners-up:

Girls' singles — Kris McKenna and Barbara Fraizer; boys' 12 and under singles — Kimm Fischer and Peter Teshima; 12 and under doubles — Kimm Fischer, Peter Teshima and Jim Bartz; Joe Paytas; boys' 14 and under singles — Paul Paytas and Jeff Blackwell boys' 14 and under doubles — Paul Paytas, and Jeff Blackwell and Jim Bartz; Mike Wilson; boys' 16 and under singles — Gen Peroni and Mike Blackwell, and as all other contests, will get under way at 3:45 p.m. The rest of the schedule is as follows:

September 21, at Madison; 26, at Verona; 28, Chatham Boro; October 3, Cedar Grove; 5, at Summit; 10, Caldwell; 12, at Millburn; 17, Madison; 19, Verona; 24, at Chatham Boro; 26, at Cedar Grove, and 31, Summit.

November 2, at Caldwell.

Eskies' Eleven Faces Rugged Early Going

Chatham Boro — Chatham High School's football team won't have to wait very long into the Suburban Conference season to find out whether or not it will be a title-contender this year.

Coach Herr Hering's Eskies, who posted a disappointing 2-5-1 record a year ago, will take on Caldwell, Madison and Millburn in their first three conference tests and all three figure to make a strong bid for the conference title this season.

Actually, the Eskies face a rugged slate in the early season, with four tough foes to be faced in the first five games. Chatham Boro takes on Glen Ridge High, winner of 40 of its past 41 games, in the season opener at Chatham. The Ridge-ers were the top-rated Group I school in New Jersey a year ago.

11 Starters Back

Glen Ridge lost its top two backs, but has eight of its defensive starters and three offensive stalwarts back in action and figures to be the class of the North Jersey Conference again this season.

Ridge High of Basking Ridge will host the Eskies on September 30 and right now the game

Nine-Game Schedule For Chatham Township

Chatham Township — The Gladiators of Chatham Township High School will undertake their most ambitious football schedule in the school's brief history this season and will play a Thanksgiving Day contest for the first time.

Coach Ernie Eveland's eleven is lined up for nine games, with three contests slated with new foes and the remaining six with Mountain Valley Conference rivals.

The first Thanksgiving Day game in Chatham Township High's history has been arranged with Midland Park High for November 23 and will be played in Midland Park.

Play New Providence

The Gladiators' other new opponents will be neighboring New Providence on Saturday, September 30, in Chatham Township's home opener, and with Morris Catholic High of Denville, New Providence High competes in the Suburban Conference and has hopes of being a title contender. Morris Catholic High has been one of the stronger Catholic high school eleven in recent years.

The remainder of Chatham Township's schedule will be filled with Mountain Valley Conference opponents, beginning on Saturday, September 23, in Middlesex. The opener could prove to be a tartar for the Gladiators, with the Blue Jays being touted as one of three pre-season favorites for the conference title.

Bernards won the Mountain Valley Conference crown a year ago, but the Mountaineers were hit hard by graduation losses, with almost all of last season's starters having moved on. Manville and Bound Brook are expected to battle it out with Middlesex for the conference title.

Manville matured late last season when it handed previously undefeated West Morris Regional its only loss of the season in its final game.

Some 35 candidates greeted Coach Eveland at the start of practice this month, the smallest squad in the school's history.

New Teachers (Continued)

Following is a list, continuing from last week, of new teachers who have joined the elementary schools this year.

at Duke University. Miss Barbara Eidechun and Herman Huff will teach sixth grade in Washington School. Miss Eidechun majored in elementary education in Duquesne University, from which she graduated. She completed her practice teaching in intermediate grades in the Pittsburgh public schools. Mr. Huff has a B.A. degree from Iona College, New Rochelle, New York, where he majored in English. He has taught grades six through nine in Vancouver, Canada, Schenectady, New York and St. Emerick School in New York City.

The older trainable class held at Washington School will have Mrs. Florence Smith, who graduated from Teacher's College, Columbia University with a major in special education. She has a master's degree from Newark State College and has completed additional training in special education at Columbia University and Ithaca College in New York. She taught in the social education field in public schools of Piscataway, River Edge, Westwood and River Vale. Last summer she participated in a special program sponsored by Ithaca College in which she studied and observed social education programs in several European countries. Mrs. Smith is trained to work with trainable and educable children of all ages.

Wilson School
Wilson School will have a new teacher in the fourth grade. She is Miss Nancy Schuler, holder of a B.S. degree in elementary education from Pennsylvania State University. She completed her practice teaching in Upper Southampton, Pa.

Special Assignments
There will be a new teacher for the elementary schools in art, music and physical education; a new part-time librarian and a new part-time school social worker. Teaching art will be Miss Judith Kenney with a B.S. in art education from Moore College of Art, Philadelphia. Miss Kenney had her practice teaching experience in Cooke Junior High School, Philadelphia. Mrs. Norma Federbush who will teach music has an A.B. from Elon College, N.C. and a master's degree in music education from Columbia Teachers College, New York. Mrs. Federbush has taught in North Carolina, Fair Village, Virginia and in Farmingdale, Long Island.

New physical education teacher will be Paul Hydro, graduate of West Chester State College, West Chester, Pa. He was an elementary physical education instructor for one year in a public school in Englewood. The new part-time elementary school librarian is Mrs. Irene K. Lohant, holder of a B.A. from Mount Holyoke College in Mass. and a master's degree from Rutgers University. She served as a substitute part-time librarian last year in the Newark public schools.

Mrs. Anita Koralek comes to the assignment of part-time school social worker in the office of special services with a B.S. in psychology and a master's degree in school social work from Columbia University. Mrs. Koralek has worked in this field for several years with the Union County Psychiatric Clinic.

Next week the Herald will provide background material on new teachers in the Junior and Senior High Schools.

Brayton Lists Date For Antiques Show

A large collection of salesmen's samples of period chests and trunks, in tiny replica of the original designs, will be among the items F. and M. Antiques of 789 Springfield avenue, will offer shoppers at the seventh Annual Summit Outdoor Antique Show at Brayton School on Saturday, September 23 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Rural flavor will fill the air as more than 25 dealers will assemble their station wagon displays at the school grounds. Along with the many New Jersey dealers, two from New York State will be represented. The Brayton PTA is sponsor of the event.

JCs Honor Local Mother of Two As Top Practical Nurse Graduate

Prize-winning mother-of-two, Mrs. Kathleen M. Harris of 16 Sheridan road, received the Summit Junior Chamber of Commerce award for "Best All Around Nurse" at graduation ceremonies for Overlook Hospital School of Practical Nursing, held last Friday night at Overlook's Medical Education Center.

The award, made for "excellence in both theory and practice, plus outstanding nursing personality" was presented by Ricard Bottell, President of the Jaycees.

With one son in Okinawa serving in the Air Force, and another a student at Georgia Tech, Mrs. Harris entered her nursing career "to be of service to others now that my family is scattered."

"I feel the need to reach out and do something constructive with my life," she commented, "and being a nurse gives so much personal satisfaction."

Mrs. Harris, who served as ways and means chairman for the Class of '67, has been an active participant in the social life of the school, as well as academically. Another prospect she is looking forward to is a trip around the world with her husband, John E. Harris, Jr., in combined celebration of her graduation and their 30th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Harris with 30 other members of the graduating class of 44 will stay on at Overlook as staff nurses.

Other award winners at the school's ninth graduation ceremonies included: Miss Dianne Dubnowski of Scotch Plains, who received the Medical Staff Award for "Best in Theory"; Miss Barbara Reilly of Morristown, who received the Medical Staff Award for "Best in Practice"; Miss Gail Reiff of Highland Park, who received the Advisory Committee Award for "Student who has Given Most Service to School." Miss Reiff is also class president.

The graduation address was given by Edward T. Kenyon of Summit. Overlook trustee and chairman of the nursing service committee.

Area Residents On Faculty of Adult School

Several area residents will be staff members of the Madison-Chatham Adult School when classes begin on September 27. Kathleen Win of Berkeley Heights, formerly of Summit, will conduct a lecture series devoted to the cultural heritage of China in which she will show how the traditional literature of China is interlocked with religion, philosophy, social order and the structure of its language. Mrs. Win taught a class on China at Summit High School last year.

Ann Dean of Summit will highlight art for the traveller with her illustrated talks on Tuesday mornings at St. Paul's parish house in Chatham. A practical course on gardening will be given by Joan Eastman-Bennett, local landscape designer and consultant.

Typing will be available again with Neil Koppenol in charge. This will be his 13th year with the adult school. Oliver Niemela of New Providence will be in charge of a physical fitness program for men.

To inaugurate the fall term, the adult school will present the Academy award-winning documentary on Robert Frost at the Chatham Borough High School on Wednesday evening, September 20. Dr. John W. Bicknell, professor of English at Drew University, will talk on the paradoxes of Frost and his poetry. The public is invited, and there is no admission fee.

Named by Methodists

Rev. Charles Davis, recently appointed to the music department at the Methodist Church, has been named a representative from this region to the National Fellowship of Methodist Musicians. Mr. Davis is an ordained minister, as required by the Methodist usage of the term "minister of music."

Wins Tennis Match

Thomas Glanis, son of Dr. and Mrs. John T. Glanis of 270 Ashland road, was winner of the boys' singles and a runner-up in the men's singles tennis tournament held recently at Clover Hill Swim Club at Millington. He is a junior at Pingry School.

The original painting of "The Spirit of '76" is in Abbot Hall, at Marblehead, Mass.
