'POOH' ENJOYED — Brian O'Mahoney of the Penny Lane Players poses with three children from the Fort Greene section of Brooklyn where the children's theater troupes travelled last week to present a musical version of "Winnie-the-Pooh." The Players, sponsored by the Playhouse Association and the YMCA, also gave the show for 70 youngsters bussed in from Newark's Central Ward through the generosity of Summit-area churches. Under the leadership of director Nick Wyman and producer Chase Newhart, the Players gave 11 performances, all free, of "Winnie-the-Pooh." (Newhart photo)

Playground Program Ends But Memories Of Summer Activities Will Linger On

It's all over but the memories!

The Board of Recreation's summer playground program ended Friday, but the hundreds of youngsters who participated in the fun and games have happy memories and stories to take back to school with them.

LINCOLN

The last week of playground activities proved to be Lincoln's most enthusiastic week. This was "Banana Split Week." With the major point system over, the last week runs a minor point system awarding a banana split to its winners. Competition was high and point totals were very close. "Big Splitters" were Bob Haley and Jane Kasper, seniors; and Danny Lyont and Janet Haley, Juniors. These children will certainly enjoy their award.

A special citizenship award was given this year to the boy and girl who exhibited their capabilities in such areas as enthusiasm, participation and cooperation. The two playgrounders from Lincoln were Janet Haley and Dick Close.

The major activity of this week was a mass clean-up, armed with mops, sponges, brooms and cleaners. Elbow greasers of the week were Janet and Bob Haley, Fran Fitzgerald, David Armstrong and Remi Libhaber.

A special farewell marshmallow roast became an unexpected taffy pull! Mike Haley took over with a total of 15 marshmallows stuck all over his hands. Jeff Rutzler lasted the longest, pulling his marshmallow taffy for one and a half hours before yielding. It turned out to be quite a sticky affair.

MABIE

Sadness and regret that the summer has come to an end filled the hearts of many children at Mabie playground this week. The week's activities began with an intramural basketball game. Phil Hill, Ron Wilkerson, Tony Stepney, Ray Robinson and Willie Wilson were a starting five who took on all comers. A Monkey cross followed this game. Darryl Moore, Elliott Stepney, and Charlene Moore were first, second, and third place winners respectively.

In the afternoon Wilson journeyed to Mabie to play a hard game, but lost to Mabie's starting five of Anthony Zockery, Ken Shamblee, Willie Wilson, Mike Horn and Tony Everett.

On Tuesday morning the

Four Named Chairmen In Fund Drive

With the naming of four key leaders, the United Campaign this week began a final count-down toward launching its first effort as the only combined fund-raising drive in the city.

Campaign chairman Watson B. Smith Jr. announced the appointments of division chairmen, each responsible for a segment of the drive. Stuart G. McCornack will head the residential division; Chandler Coddington, professional; H. James Griffith, business, and Mrs. Hughes Ryder, retail.

As chairman of the residential sector, Mr. McCornack will be heading up a complex and wide-ranging organization. He is responsible for filling almost 800 volunteer jobs, each involved in raising a "Fair-Share" contribution from some 4,000 Summit families.

Chandler Coddington, a vice-president of Spencer M.

Campaign S.O.S. - Help Needed!

The United Campaign today issued an "S.O.S." for volunteers to assist with office work in preparation for its forthcoming fall appeal.

Any resident willing to contribute just a few spare hours a week to help with compiling solicitor kits, typing and other routine clerical jobs is asked to contact Campaign Headquarters, 9 Parmley place, or call the United Help Line, 277-1433.

While the Campaign has expanded considerably to become the only combined drive in this area, the number of volunteers assisting at headquarters has dwindled to "just a few steadfast workers."

According to Executive Director Ron Erdos, growth over the past year has resulted in a "mountain of preparatory work which must be waded through" if the drive for $280,070 in support of 18 community services is to be successful.

Mr. Schaedel To Be Guest Conductor

Joseph Schaedel, a former director of instrumental music in the summit schools, will be the guest conductor at the band concert to be presented tonight (Thursday, August 21) on the Village Green starting at 8:15.

Mr. Schaedel, a graduate of New York University School of Music, came to the local schools in 1931, leaving in 1934 for further musical study in Europe. Since his return to the United States, he has been an instrumental music instructor in the schools of North Plainfield, where he resides. He is no stranger to the Summit Concert Band as he conducted the band for the entire 1961 summer season and was guest conductor for a concert last year.

Tonight's program of music is as follows:

"Lights Out" — March — McKay
"Pique Dame" — Overture — von Suppe
"Dance for Three" from "William Tell" — Rossini
"Fiorello!" — Selections — Jerry Bock
"La Golondrina" — Mexican Waltz — Serradell

Three Youngsters Hurt In Mishaps With Autos

Three youngsters, two of them pedestrians and one a bicyclist, were injured last week in separate accidents involving cars.

Last Monday, August 11, Sharon Jones, 3, of 13 Butler parkway, suffered a laceration over her left eye when she apparently ran into Maple street from between two parked cars and into a moving auto.

John J. McGowan, 46, of 468 Morris avenue, who was driving a car owned by the Board of Education, told police he heard a thud and then a child scream.

Sharon was taken to the Medical group by her mother.

In a similar mishap last Wednesday, Robert Huttenback, 5, of 16 Woodfern road, ran from the sidewalk on Summit avenue and into a moving vehicle. Police identified the driver as Mary J. Strong of 15 Oak Knoll road, who said she did

TRUCK UPSET—This tractor-trailer ended up on its side in front of CIBA last Wednesday when its driver failed to negotiate a curve from River road onto Morris avenue. Robert Desmelyk, 28, of Berkeley Heights told police he felt the load shift and the trailer strike the curb. The rig, owned by Garguilo Excavating, Inc., of Summit, overturned on the sidewalk and CIBA's lawn, knocking down 30 feet of fence. Desmelyk was treated for mild shock at Overlook Hospital and released. (Olpp photo)

Summit Income Tops In County, Third in N.J., 23rd in U.S.A.

Latest figures indicate that Summit again ranks as the wealthiest community in Union County, the third wealthiest in the state and 23rd in the nation, based on statistics from Sales Management derived from spendable income after taxes.

The national position represents a drop from 1967 placement of 19th in the country.

Summit, with a 1968 average of $19,273 after-tax income per household, retained its third position in the state, the same as last year, but the average income increased, $1,015 over the 1967 figure of $18,258.

As in years past, Millburn topped the state with $24,856, followed by South Orange with $21,371. Both these communities showed increases of approximately $1,000 over the 1967 figures.

Westfield retained its fourth position in the county with an average of $18,351, followed by Springfield, with an average after taxes of $15,562.

State Average $9,240

Other high economic level communities in the state, which had an average of $9,240, representing a decrease of $1,084 from 1967, were Ridgewood, $18,255; Princeton, $17,128; Montclair, $16,560; Maplewood, $16,400, and Teaneck, $16,025.

The overall average for Union County was $12,980, which was more than $3,000 higher than the state average, and which represents an increase of $692 over the 1967 figures.

On the national scale, covering some 100,000 communities, in which New Providence and Berkeley Heights are not listed, Millburn places seventh, as compared to the 1967 placement of sixth, and South Orange is 14th, as compared to the previous placement of 12th.

day's activities began with an around the world basketball contest. Willie Wilson took on all comers and conquered Anthony Zackery, Michael Horn, Darryl Moore, Helen Ann Taylor, Charlene Moore, Sheila Miles and Wendy Zackery. A "favorite," the playground basketball competition, was held immediately following.

Charles Ebron captured a team of Ron Wilkerson, John Montgomery, Willie Wilson and John Fouchée.

An all-playground obstacle course was held. Darryl Moore and Sandy Taylor were winners in the boys' and girls' events. Both put up an excellent battle against the elements and playground equipment obstacles. Darryl completed the course in 32 seconds, and Sandy in 44 seconds. An olympic walk was held with Elaine Taylor proving she had the quickest feet on the playground. She also won a Run Around the Block competition.

A frisbee throw for distance proved to be "not tough enough" because Willie Wilson and Betty Ann Hill took on all comers and defeated girl and boy competitors with ease.

Wednesday afternoon was dimaxed with a basketball game between Tatlock and Mabie. A strong Mabie team consisting of Mike Horn, Damon Gilyard, Tony Everett, Mark Adams, Ken Horn, Ken Shamblee, Sheldon Green, Peter Everett and Anthony Zackery with a total of 43 points defeated Tatlock with no problem. Anthony Zackery proved to be Mabie's secret weapon on the team. He scored 37 point against Wilson in an earlier game.

On Thursday a noc-hockey tournament was held. Sonja Gilyard, Darryl Moore, Sheila Miles, Betty Ann Hill, Damon Gilyard, Peter Everett, Tony Everett, Toni Gilyard and Yvonne Gilyard were participants in the hard fought battle. Wendy Zackery won the event.

An intramural softball was held with the girls playing against the boys. A team captained by Darryl Moore and consisting of Willie Wilson, Barry Edwards, Anthony Zackery, Tony Everett, Damon Gilyard and Peter Everett defeated a team of Dione Bey, Betty Ann Hill, Garnet Green, Wendy Zackery, Sheldon Green and Philip Miles who put up a hard fight.

MEMORIAL

The final week of the playground was an exciting one as all members competed for the prize of a free banana split. Joe Fusco took the lead in points by winning the nok-hockey tournament. Bob Kocis earned points by defeating all opponents in checkers. In an exciting four square game Hank McCaddin proved to be the leading server earning five points. The boys competed in a frisbee throw and Joe Fusco was champion.

In the ping pong ball throw Bob Owens threw the farthest, Joe Fusco came in second. The junior boys had a separate frisbee throw. Mike Jusco took first place. Bob Kocis took first in the Junior ping pong ball throw. The two Fusco brothers won top honors in the wiffle ball throw. At the week's end Joe Fusco and Mike Fusco had earned the most points and received the banana split awards.

The girls competed in many activities during the week. Joyce Hulm and Jane Pinzino were victorious in four square. Ann Paashaus won the bean and straw contest. In Memorial's own version of spin the bottle. Theresa Fusco and Jeff Smith won the most points.

In scoopball partners Jane Pinzino and Ann Paashaus and Susan Geradi and Aline Storey were best. Ann Paashaus and Joyce Hulm both received five points for excellent playing in tetherball. Susan Elman won the checker tournament. By the end of the week Ann Paashaus and Mary Maulbeck had received the most points and received banana splits.

At the end of this week's competition point winners received banana splits. In the senior division the winners were Gail Smith and Jimmy Caporaso. In the junior division, Kelley Jones and Joe Caporaso were given the prizes.

The final week of the playground season drew to a close on Friday after a successful week of fun and merriment. The week's events included arts and crafts, a balloon blowing contest, rock painting, an obstacle course, four square, football, basketball, a cookout and an all playground party.

The arts and crafts winners were Nanette Gordner for her maraca, also Linda Kaiser and Carolyn Heint. David Kaiser and Gail Hills also were winners with their construction of hand puppets. Immediately following the arts and crafts, a balloon blowing contest was held. Flavia Mauro won first place for blowing up the largest balloon and popping it. Belinda Mauro, Todd Raffensperger, Terry Mahoney, Bobby Cottrell and Tim Mahoney all followed. Also, Brian Mahoney, Greg Raffensperger, Charles Herse, YOUNG LOVELIES - Eileen Black of 47 Huntley road and Nadine Snyder of Rahway, both 16, have been selected as semi-finalists in the 10th annual Miss American Teenager Contest at Palisade Amusement Park. The semi-finals will be held next Thursday, the state finals on August 29 and the national grand finals September 4.

Jerry Shaw, Alicia Arellano, Alan Kaiser and David Kaiser saw the keen competition in the water balloon toss. A rock painting contest was held on Tuesday. Bob Ochs, Bill Ochs, Belinda Mauro and Judy Gore received first placings. Carolyn Heint produced the most colorful rock while Scott Hamilton produced the most psychedelic rock. Todd Raffensperger, Nanette Gorner, Terry Mahoney, Alex Dunn, Regina Gore, Craig Mardaney and Susan Heint received honorable mention for their work.

While the younger children participated in rock painting the older boys and girls partook in an obstacle course. Tim Mahoney took first place with ease. He had a blinding speed of 8.40 seconds. Joe Pier came in second place with Drew Lutton and Charles Herse following. For the girls, Martha Stillwell came in first with a time of 8.90 seconds. She was followed by Lynn Nakamura, Alicia Arellano and Kathy Kingsly. Perhaps the most popular event of the week was the bicycle obstacle course. John Diehl tied with Tim Mahoney for first place with a speed of 52 seconds. Mike Arellano, Bill Gore and Roddy Mauro followed in hot pursuit.

Following the bike event, the junior boys traveled to Mabie playground to play basketball. The Wilson five overwhelmed the small but exuberant Mabie players in scoring and rebounding. Tim Mahoney and Pat Riley had 16 points apiece. Bob Ochs followed with 12 points, Bill Ochs had nine and Terry Mahoney had two points. The final score was 57 to 25. The next day the boys traveled to Tatlock and found much the same success. The score was 48 to 21.

As the week drew to a close, the "banana split" winners were announced. Tim Mahoney won for the senior boys while Flavia Mauro won for the senior girls. Brian Mahoney totaled the most points for the junior boys and likewise did Belinda Mauro for the junior girls. The final event for the summer took place on Friday. A shaving cream contest was held. David Helck, John Welsh and Tom Gordner won for the boys. Alicia Arellano, Laura Taylor and Lisa Bonyng were the girls champions. Worth mention was Jeff Howe's shaving the inside of John Rice's mouth.

EDISON

The final week at Edison playground was charged with the spirit of competition and teamwork. The first event held was a doubles horseshoe tournament. The partners had to be mixed teams of boys and girls. The fine ability of Sandy Files and Erich Anguioni gave them first place. Placing second in a close game were Donna Carbone and Bob Rondeau. Tying for third place honors were teams of Janice Karpenski and Mike DeSimone and Linda Coiro and Rick Carbone.

Because of its popularity and excitement, another obstacle course was held. Best times were given in all divisions. After two runoffs, Bob Rondeau emerged in first place with the best score for senior boys. His time was 1:24. Coming in a very close second was Rick Bace with a time of 1:25. Third place was awarded to Jackie Walsh with a time of 1:28.

In the senior girls division, Sandy Files was first with a winning time of 1:35. Placing second was Kathy Connelly and third, Mary Ann Connelly. The junior boys put up a real fight for places. Placing first was Mike DeSimone with a winning time of 1:38. Placing second and third were Keith Lawson and Charles Finch. Junior girls Patty DeGroot took first place in her division with a time of 1:57. Placing second and third were Sharon Russell and Patty Byrne.

Paper flower art and hemp lanyards and bracelets were the arts and crafts activities for the week. Paper flowers were constructed out of tissue paper and shaped into beautiful multi-colored roses by many of the playground "gardeners". Mrs. Chesler provided extra time and help for this as well as in making lanyards and bracelets as an extra activity. Edison was grateful for this because of several rainouts during the summer.

Excitement ran high as Edison held its first annual mixed softball game. All were encouraged to play and all were welcomed. Teams were chosen and the game began. Cheering on the teams and giving "experienced" advice such as "bunt the ball" were heard throughout the game. The final score was 10-9 in one extra inning. The players on the winning team were Jackie Walsh, Janice Karpenski, Rob Smith, Rick Bace, Mike DeSimone, Mark

Mallon, Kevin Connelly, Lucy Anguione and Billy Lynch.

The girls softball team traveled to Wilson to play its final game of the season. The girls played well after a first inning of several errors. The final score was Wilson 3, Edison 1. The only run for Edison was a home run scored by the center fielder, Sandy Files. Afterward, many of Edison's group shared a performance of "Winnie the Pooh" given by the Penny Lane Players at the Little Playhouse.

Four square was an activity enjoyed by all. Players who succeeded in getting into the server's box were awarded with the appropriate number of points. Placing with the most serves and first place was Erich Anguioni. In second place was Gerri Luppino with Mike DeSimone in third. Fourth place was awarded to Loretta Pignatello.

For the final day of prize events, many turned out to try their hand at a final fling. The first event was a shaving contest. The boys had their chance to give the girls their own medicine. The first shaving contest at Edison was one in which the girls did the shaving and the boys were shaved. This time the situation was reversed. The best shave was given to Erich Anguioni who shaved Sandy Files. Placing second for best shave was Mike Borman and Kathy Connelly. Other good shaves or good tries were done by teams of Bill Russell and Sharon Russell, Mike Rivero and Mary Ann Connelly, Mark Mallon and Janice Karpenski, and Kevin Connelly and Patty DeGroot.

Hot Potato was the cry and a large circle of players began tossing around a "hot" softball. Winners were chosen because of their ability to receive and get rid of the "potato" without being caught by the blown whistle. The best potato thrower was Frank Innacola. Placing second in the contest was Mark Mallon, third was Mike Borman. Others who did well were Donna Carbone, Patty Karpenski, Rick Carbone, Mike Rivero and Bob Files.

Hill rolling was a surprise event. Players were judged in their ability to cross a finish line while rolling down a long hill. After several heats, several bouts with dizziness and one spell of nausea, these winners emerged. In first place was Frank Innacola and placing second and third respectively, Mark Mallon and Bob Rondeau. Others placing were Mike Borman, Sandy Files and Keith Lawson.

At the end of the day, points were totaled for a final score and special prizes were awarded. Banana splits were awarded by the Dairy Queen to all point leaders for the final week. In the senior boys division, the winner was Erich Anguioni. The senior girls winner was Sandy Files. Junior boys division winner was Mike DeSimone. Winning for junior girls was Sharon Russell.

There were other special awards. Two special certificates went to Bill Russell and Patty Karpenski for outstanding citizenship shown throughout the entire playground season. Kathy Connelly was given the first annual Schwenck ping-pong award for being the only person at the playground whom Mr. Schwenck could not beat. Finally Edison's second annual Sweetheart Award was given to Mike DeSimone for being the most lovable member of Edison's playground family this year.

During the last two weeks all available time has been taken by Union County residents, boys and girls between nine and 18 years of age, it was announced today by Robert J. Luhn, director of the Watchung Troop at the Watchung Stable.

Luhn stated that because of the complete enrollment by Union County residents, the registration for boys and girls living out of Union County that was scheduled for Saturday, August 23, has been cancelled. He indicated that over 650 places have been filled. The youngsters will start their riding season on Tuesday, September 2.

The Watchung Troop, organized in March, 1934, by the Union County park commission, is said to be the largest children's riding program in the United States. The troop is formed into squads for sub-novice, novice, advanced, and experienced riders. Every member gains riding experience by a progressive series of classes and drills that include every phase of horsemanship.

Resident Ends Long Career With Firm

Howard M. Spooner, 10 Nassau drive, who was an engineer, underground design and operation, general office of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, retired on pension recently after more than 43 years of service.

Mr. Spooner attended Rutgers University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, graduating from the latter in 1922. His career with Public Service began in July of the same year when he joined Public Service Production Company, and he continued after 1929 with United Engineers and Constructors, Inc. in the street department, which was responsible for all outside plant conduit and cable installations.

In 1936, he was transferred to the underground and transmission construction department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company and, in 1939, was assigned to the electric distribution department. In recent years, he has been working in the office of the distribution plant engineer — underground.

During his career with Public Service, Mr. Spooner was significantly involved in the construction of the first 138,000-volt underground cable on the Public Service system in 1936 and 1937, and in its operation thereafter. Since that time, he has actively participated in many aspects of the design of underground systems, including the establishment of design and operating standards for low voltage network systems.

Mr. and Mrs. Spooner have two children and five grandchildren. He is a member and Past Master of Maple Lodge No. 196, F. & A. M., Maplewood.

Go Ahead, Dick

Even if it takes 12 years, it will be worth it to have the nation's transit system improved. If President Nixon can give us better service for $10 billion, we say go ahead. Look what we are spending for other things. The proposed billions for a trip to Mars could be spent much better in improving trips to the cities on trains that are not in time, busses that are late and subways that are crowded. The cost we pay for getting there from here is dreadful. So, Dick, you have our OK for the $10 billion.

Until the nation makes public transportation an attractive alternative to the private automobile, Mr. Nixon says, we will never be able to build highways fast enough to avoid congestion.

Everything about train service could stand improvement. But at this point, in fairness let it be said that our Erie-Lackawanna shines like a star among its Metropolitan Area competitors. Still, the Erie-Lackawanna with the others needs improvements. Look at the passenger cars, look at the stations. Look at long distance rail travel. Where are the porters, the dining car service, the air-conditioning, the spotless maintenance, the schedules.

But airports also are in a bind. There are often hours of waiting either for planes to get off the ground or to get on the ground. Hours waiting for luggage and hours spent in travel from the home to the airport.

Train, bus and plane officials should be forced to look at the thousands of tired, angry customers who spend so much of their time just waiting. Officials also should be forced to sample the meager foods that are available of long-run trains, in depots or bus terminals and also airport snack bars. They should be made to see the toilet facilities offered to the traveling public in bus and train stations. They should be made to lug pounds of heavy luggage through miles of ramps and walks at almost any airport. They also should be made to find out where porters hide during arrivals and departures of any form of transportation.

If President Nixon has a workable plan to make the service what it used to be, we will be eternally grateful. So, go ahead, Dick, and give it a try.

Conflict of Interest

Ecology is the biology dealing with the mutual relations between organisms and their environment. With sadness we learn that the ecosystem of Everglades National Park in Florida is in danger. The cause is man's indifference to and conflicting desires for his environment.

The Everglades are an oblong basin of 4,000 square miles of flat land and shallow waters. This is the largest sawgrass marsh in the world and it has fascinated many. Orchids hang from the trees which at nightfall resemble snow-covered trees as the egrets come home to roost in the branches. There also are more crocodiles in the Everglades than any other place on earth.

In 1934 Congress set aside more than a million acres of land and water as an Everglades National Park. Then in 1948 the Army Corps of Engineers became involved in a land reclamation project in the area. Now a flood canal network diverts 1.6 billion of gallons per day from the Everglades to the Atlantic creating drought conditions which have disrupted the balance of nature.

When the flood control system was completed vast areas of sawgrass and cypress swamps became untenable for the wildlife and it now faces extinction. The alligators not only lose out when the balance of nature is disturbed, they also are being made more accessible to armies of poachers. There were about a million alligators in the Everglades, now there are about 20,000.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington is sponsoring a bill to require all agencies of the federal government "to adjust their planning and their activities toward a balanced environment."

The Everglades represents an example of what happens when planning is not adjusted to environment. It also represents an example of mankind's conflicting desires and destruction of his own environment. We want to preserve the wildlife of the nation but not when it conflicts with our other plans.

Current Comment

Thanks a Million! - Caldwell Progress

We have come to the conclusion that the mothers of America (at least in our generation) put entirely too much emphasis on the automation of "pleases" and "thank yous" and "excuse mes."

The suspicion that our mouthing of these platitudes was getting all out of hand was prompted by a recent telephone encounter. At the end of a particularly unpleasant phone call in which the caller accused us of fabricating facts out of whole cloth, we dutifully said, "Thank you very much for calling."

Now, we thoroughly believe in manners when such are in order but we obviously were not at all "thankful" for the aforementioned phone call. As a matter of fact, it ruined our whole afternoon.

The thing is that these responses, have become automatic, whether warranted or not.

And sometimes, so interchangeable are the words of the language of politeness, we find ourselves mixing them up.

For instance, just last week, we apologetically murmured "excuse me" to a man who trod heavily on our toes in a crowded movie theater. Maybe, we were trying to put words in his mouth. The point is the whole process is so automatic that we find ourselves saying both the "pleases" and the "thank yous."

There is no doubt that a meaningful "thanks" in the proper context or a heartfelt "excuse me" in a like situation is certainly well meant and well received.

But, the other day when we expressed our heartfelt gratitude to a telephone company recording we felt things had gone entirely too far.

We herewith resolve to carefully examine our polite responses and use them only when deserved.

Thank you very much for reading this and please excuse us for interrupting your train of thought.

SAME HOUSE, NEW SITE — Residents may recognize the above pictured house as now standing on the southwest corner of DeForest and Woodland avenues, the location of Lillian O'Grady's Bridal Shop. However, when the photo was taken in the early 1920s, the house was owned by Henry Berste and stood on land where the Strand Theater is now located. When the Strand bought the property, the house was moved around the corner. The houses on the right are along Woodland avenue, while the building in the left background is on DeForest avenue. Praises Appointment
Editor, Summit Herald:

I would like to commend Mayor Truckess on his appointment of Mr. William Caming to the Board of Education. I do not at all agree with the two objections which have been raised concerning his appointment.

First, the fact that Mr. Caming does not have any children attending the Summit public schools is to his advantage. In this way he can be more impersonal and objective in dealing with matters which come before the Board.

Second, the fact that Mr. Caming comes from the Franklin School district seems irrelevant. Mr. Caming is eminently qualified for the position; he is deeply interested in education whether public or private; and he is willing to give of his time. The location of his house seems to me of very small importance.

Yours truly,

Report to the People

By Rep. Florence P. Dwyer
Congresswoman
12th District

The Heavens Open

What a week it was!

By almost any standard, it will more than match any other during my years in Congress — for excitement, tension, and historic significance.

Within a period of just five days (August 4-8) these things happened:

* The Vice President cast the deciding vote in a 50-50 Senate deadlock to defeat an amendment which would have prevented deployment of the President's SAFEGUARD anti-ballistic missile system, thereby climaxing a debate of rare length, depth, urgency and public participation.

* The House approved by the one-sided vote of 394-30 a tax reform-relief bill unparalleled for its comprehensiveness in the history of the income tax in America.

* Congress passed and the President signed a temporary extension of the 10% surtax, and as a part of a package compromise involving action on tax reform, despite past protestations that it wouldn't work or couldn't be done.

* The President submitted to Congress a proposed urban mass transportation program of a scope and size undreamt of by his friends and foes alike — a program which could set off the long hoped-for resurgence of public transportation in the country's cities and suburbs.

* Almost obscured by its ABM decision, the Senate also gave notice to the Pentagon that henceforth its military spending will be subjected to more intensive scrutiny than ever before.

* Finally (but final only in the chronological sense), the President offered to Congress a plan so potentially far-reaching that it could drastically re-shape the Federal Government's approach to domestic problems, especially in the field of welfare, manpower and Federal-State-local relations, with consequences that will occupy the minds and thoughts and hopes of Congress and the people for a long time to come.

More to Come

On top of all of this, Congress also put in a week of more conventional activity which, by ordinary standards, would qualify as a good week's work. It included: House passage of a $1.55 billion military construction bill, which took a hefty 18% cut below the Administration's request; House approval of legislation increasing veterans' educational benefits; several Presidential messages including his important occupational health and safety proposals; and numerous committee activities including progress on my "More for Your Money" program and action to assure an adequate supply of private loan funds for

Board of Adjustment

Although the Planning Board draws up the zones and plans for new developments and building, any exceptions or variances to established standards are considered by the Zoning Board of Adjustment. The Board of Adjustment consists of five members and two alternates appointed by the Council for three-year terms.

This board has the power to hear and decide appeals; authorize a variance where there is undue hardship; and to recommend to the Council, in particular cases, the granting of a variance to allow a structure in a district restricted against it.

The board may prescribe any additional conditions it deems appropriate to protect the intent and integrity of the zoning ordinance and the master plan.

Board of Appeals

The Building Code Board of Appeals, created in 1958, has five members appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the Council for five-year terms. The board hears and judges appeals from decisions of the building inspector concerning conformity of a construction to the building code. A new building code was adopted by the Council in 1968; conforming to the 1967 National Building Code.

Master Plan

The Master Plan was adopted by the Planning Board in 1963. The Board was assisted in its preparation by a planning consultant. The master plan is not a rigid, detailed document with the effect of law. It is, rather, a guide and goes into effect only when the Council implements any part of it. Actions necessitating the expenditure of public funds are referred to the Planning Board for review and recommendation prior to proceeding. In this way, through the years, the city may proceed with major projects on a predetermined course and in an economical manner.

Planning by Citizens

The Summit Area Development Committee was organized in 1960 by a group of local businessmen and community leaders. The committee works in consultation with city officials and has a broad plan for improvement of Summit business areas. It has worked on traffic and parking problems, business modernization, planting of trees and cleaning of lots in various sections of the city.

Substandard Housing Board

The Substandard Housing Board was established by the Council in 1950. There are seven members appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the Council for three-year terms. The board has wide powers of supervision and enforcement of ordinances relating to slum conditions and their elimination. Enforcement of the housing ordinances is carried out by a Public Officer, a paid employee, who is appointed by the Council to serve at its pleasure.

Under a recently amended substandard housing measure, the Public Officer has the authority to provide for the compulsory repair, closing, demolition or abandonment of any dwelling found to be unsafe, a nuisance or dangerous, to the health of residents.

The board may set and enforce minimum standards of housing which are consistent with those promulgated by the State Housing Code, make surveys, submit periodic reports on substandard housing and make recommendations for changes. Under amendments to the Housing Ordinance, adopted by the Council in 1967, Council is authorized to impose rent controls, until improvements are made, if a building owner fails to complete necessary repairs or alterations within 60 days after the Public Officer files a complaint.

Housing Authority

Acting under a state statute, the Council in 1967 created a Summit Housing Authority, composed of six members who serve without pay.

Five of the members are appointed by Council for five-year terms and one is appointed for an indefinite term by the director of the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs.

In August, 1968, a part-time executive director was employed by the Authority to handle administrative details. In accordance with federal guidelines, the Mayor has appointed a Citizens' Advisory Committee to the Housing Authority, as well as a sub-committee on minority group housing. The advisory committee consists of representatives from local civic, religious and governmental groups.

Summit To Get $8,000 In Aid For Road Work

Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights are among 11 Union County municipalities which have been allocated $100,000 in state road building aid by the Department of Transportation.

A total of $8,000 for Oak Ridge avenue has been approved for Summit.

New Providence will receive $10,000 for Section 3 of Maple street and $10,000 is designated for construction of Section 3 of Hamilton avenue in Berkeley Heights.

Annually the Department of Transportation receives applications from municipalities interested in constructing or reconstructing portions of their road and street systems. The requests are then reviewed with an eye to their relative need. Some $100,000 is available yearly to communities in every county.

The amount going to each municipality represents the state's share in the total cost of an approved project, with that share possibly going up to 90 percent. Construction plans are reviewed by the Transportation Department, which also checks materials and construction work.

members, he immediately goes to their side to pray with them.

Of his 45 years of instructing, 26 years were volunteer service in YMs, YWs,

Jewish Community Centers, Scouts, Red Cross, etc. while Bennett earned his livelihood with the post office in Newark. He joined the Summit YM's paid staff in 1955 after five volunteer years when he suddenly needed extra income in order to assume responsibility for a large hospital bill. He became aquatic director in 1957.

Mr. Bennett "raises" his own assistants. As many as 60 or 70 adults and teenagers from his leader-examiner and lifesaving classes return to work with him in either volunteer or paid capacity each year. And, each year the "John P. Bennett Youth Leadership" trophy is awarded to a teenager who has given outstanding volunteer service to the Y. The trophy is donated by the grateful father of one of John's pupils.

In 1963 Bennett himself was awarded a special plaque - worded "Master Teacher-Children's Friend" - honoring the man who lives his religion. A partial quote from Timothy 4:12, the philosophy of his late son, may best sum up John Bennett's personal life: "—but be thou an example of the believers in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity!"

Art Center Has 4 New Teachers

A fresh approach to art will be featured in classes of four new teachers on the roster of the Art Center this fall.

Elfi Schuselka Stern will explore collage and construction as well as conventional media. Mrs. Schuselka will seek to interest students in three-dimensional work and new developments in the art world. She has taught and studied in Germany and Italy in print-making and pottery, as well as painting, sculpture and constructions.

Etchings in lucite and sculpture in terracotta and wax are two of the processes to be demonstrated in classes of Charles F. Simonds, California-trained artist. Mr. Simonds received his masters degree at Rutgers and is presently teaching at Newark State.

printmaking for beginner and advanced artist will be taught by David Finkbeiner, another California artist. A faculty member at Pratt Institute, Mr. Finkbeiner also concentrated on etchings and collographs.

Robert Wilson will teach a "combine-art-class," with painting, sculpture, building, movement and sound, emphasis being on theater. Children as well as adults enjoy his total involvement classes. His experience includes forming a children's theater, lecturing at Harvard and earning an art degree at Pratt Institute.

Representational and academic teachers offer both day and evening classes, and afternoon and Saturday for children. Classes for beginners and advanced students encourage each student to progress at his own rate. Registration at Art Center will be held September 15 through 19, with autumn classes running from September 20 to January 30.

Comment on Film

by Jon Plaut

I have seen three films which deal primarily with auto racing. Each was over-rated.

First was "A Man and A Woman," the french film about the attraction of a young widow with children to a sensitive race car driver. It was not a bad film, with some beautiful cinematography, but it was a little too sweet for me — and certainly very much over-praised. The nicest things about it were its muted pastel colors and the easy, true relationship of the children to the adults.

The second was Frankenheimer's "Grand Prix." The film was a bore — a big, fat, noisy bore.

The third is the just released Paul Newman — Joanne Woodward film "Winning." It is a slick, well-made (technically), competently acted Hollywood special, with something for everyone. The story is ridiculous, and the movie sinks with it, as the characterizations just won't hold up. Joanne Woodward never looked lovelier, however.

Frank Perry's "Last Summer" is a neat study of cruelty and the dominance of one person over others. It is not a truly good film, because the moods last too long and the screenplay is much too repetitive. But the film does give one the tempo, jargon and thought of at least a section of the young, and for that it is invaluable (much the way "The Strawberry Statement" explains something about the Columbia difficulties).

Frank Perry, years ago, gave us "David and Lisa." He is not the best or most consistent film maker — but he aims high and achieves at least some of what he tries to do. In "Last Summer" we have the story of two male teenagers and their girlfriend, one summer on Fire Island. Their adventures start routinely, but the girl (Barbara Hershey) slowly dominates the boys (Bruce Davidson and Richard Thomas), and the cruelty in their games increases. They torture a homely girl (Cathy Burns) with offers of friendship. They embarrass and endanger an adult Puerto Rican with their ambivalence. Finally, the boys deeply harm (rape) the homely girl, under the influence of the mood and heat engendered by their girlfriend.

The film bears resemblance to "Lord of the Flies" and "Knife in the Water." It is interested in the basic cruelty of seemingly "nice, affluent kids" (and all of us) and the manner in which they dominate each other.

"Last Summer" falls short of what it might have been,

CURTAIN TIME — Jackie Gershon of New Providence as Fanny Brice tells the world not to "rain on her parade" as she boards the train for New York after leaving the Ziegfeld Follies in a scene from Metropolitan Theatre's production of "Funny Girl." The Farrell-Newhart production will be staged tomorrow and Saturday at New Providence High School at 8:30 p.m. Tickets for the presentation are available by calling 273-9191 or at the door.

however, because the growth and partial acceptance of responsibility in one of the boys is never motivated or explained. This, for example, the moral built into the camera positioning at the end, seems gratuitous.

All the actors are fine, especially Miss Hershey who is quite superb in hiding under the hip surface charm a venom that only slowly becomes apparent.

Good color cinematography is becoming common, but in "Last Summer," it is still a little special, because the color and atmospheric quality create the mood of sultriness (and by interpretation, violence).

At the end of this review about two films, one routinely Hollywood and bad (Winning) and the other better than routinely good ("Last Summer") allow me to mention again that "Romeo & Juliet" is a masterwork on all counts and not to be missed.

Local Girl Ends Special Course Given by Celanese

Miss Eileen F. Sergeant, 21 William street, was one of four New Jersey girls who were graduated this week from Operation STEP, an eight-week secretarial training program sponsored by Celanese Corporation at Virginia's Hampton Institute. Miss Sergeant was among 16 young women participating in this summer's third annual Operation STEP (Secretarial Training for Excellent Performance). The program emphasizes production typing, shorthand, office machines operation and communications skills for young women with strong office-career interests and potential.

Twelve of the 16, including Miss Sergeant, were sponsored by various Celanese operating divisions and subsidiaries, which paid all expenses for the eight weeks. All have been offered full-time Celanese employment near their homes.

For the first time since 1967, Operation STEP was not all Celanese this summer. Four STEP students from the Louisville, Ky., area were sponsored by three other corporations. Celanese-sponsored participants were from Louisville, Newark, Summit and Orange; York, S.C., and Charlotte and Shelby, N.C.

STEP participants are selected each year from among Negro high school graduates on the basis of interest and potential. In addition to classroom and laboratory work, they are exposed while at Hampton to social and cultural activities designed to promote poise and self-confidence.

YM Opens Registry For Swim Classes

The YMCA is taking registrations now for all fall swim classes and Junior and Senior Lifesaving classes.

Regular swim instruction will begin the week of September 15 and lifesaving classes on September 22 and 23.

The YMCA building will be closed for all programs, for clean-up and repairs, from August 25 through September 7, but there will be desk service for fall registrations. Fall program brochures are available at the desk, also. For information, call 273-3330.

Bank Now Offering New 'In' Checkbooks

The Union County Trust Company announces a new style of checkbook for those who think young. Called "in" checks, they are printed in gay pastel colors with a choice of six different symbols, with plastic checkbook covers to match.

One design named "Peace" comes in yellow and bears a peace symbol imprinted on the face. Others are "Orbit" with a psychedelic red and white pinwheel; "Doves" depicting three white doves against a chartreuse background; "Luv" with white hearts on pink; "Flower Power," showing a flower against lavender and "Fling," which, some people say, looks like the eye of a hurricane, is printed white on blue.

The initial order of 200 checks is being offered at no charge to existing and new checking account customers of the bank at each of its 12 locations.

Seventy-five New Jersey high school graduates were enrolled in a College Readiness Program last summer at Union College, Cranford.

I recognize that I have described some of these events in rather extravagant terms. And in view of the fact, especially, that none of them represented final decisions, my description may appear exaggerated. But I think not — for reasons such as the following:

the ABM, the hair-thin margin represented a turning point in Congressional consideration of military matters with implications touching future major defense issues like MIRV, chemical-biological warfare, and defense spending generally.

Similarly, even though the Senate may (as some predict) have a field day amending the tax reform bill, it will still have to go to a House-Senate conference, where Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills traditionally gets his way most of the time. So the bill is not likely to be too different when it goes to the President.

reform, revenue sharing and manpower training plans must be considered to be good candidates for ultimate enactment into law — in one form or another, and next year, perhaps, if not this — since all are designed to meet constructively needs which have long been so apparent and which become costlier to solve as time passes.

Though it is too early to comment at length on these proposals, especially since several have not yet arrived here in legislative form, it is certain there won't be much more criticism this year about the President's alleged "failure" to keep Congress busy.

But the matters of greatest moment in the Congress right now are still tax reform and the "fall-out" from the ABM, and despite drastic space limitations a few observations on each seem called for.

No 368-page tax bill containing sweeping revisions in 27 major tax areas could hope to attract complete agreement. And this one hasn't and won't. In the House, which traditionally considers tax bills under a "closed" rule, no amendments were possible. It was strictly a question of yes or no on the overall merits which, in my judgment, were strongly affirmative.

This bill is nothing less than a political masterpiece. It has something for almost everyone except those among the very rich who have taken undue advantage of tax loopholes. It is skillfully balanced between reforms which will produce more revenues and relief which will reduce most tax burdens. It comes closer to tax equity and justice than we've ever been before. For all its complexity, it will simplify and streamline tax-paying for most of our citizens. And for all its change, it is essentially a moderate bill: applying those changes gradually, providing transitional assistance, and offering attractive alternatives.

What it means
In terms of its long-range significance, two things strike me most forcefully about this tax reform bill. First, it seems to mark the end of a trend toward greater use of the tax system for subsidizing social and economic objectives. It suggests that Congress had better deal directly with issues of public assistance or subsidy, through authorization and appropriations processes by which we can measure need and control costs and evaluate results.

And, second, the bill should — assuming it is enacted more or less as the House passed it — do much to restore confidence and repair doubts about the capacity of our political system to deal honestly with its people.

The ABM decision in the Senate can hardly be construed, realistically, as a victory or defeat for either side. It was, more properly, a draw — with opponents resisting responsibly the opportunity to filibuster it to death in the hope that the President will avoid actual deployment of the system until arms limitation talks with the Soviet Union have been tried.

Beyond this point, however, the close vote says, in effect, that Congress will no longer easily acquiesce to any and all requests in the name of defense, that it will exercise informed judgment about what and how much is really needed, that it considers blind reliance on our technological superiority to be no certain and exclusive assurance of security or peace.

As Dr. Herbert York, President Eisenhower's defense research chief, recently pointed out, the fact that our national security has declined over the past 20 years even while our military power has steadily increased may force us to recognize that security is at least as dependent on political wisdom as on technical achievement — the kind of political wisdom, I suggest, which motivated President Nixon in his mission through the Pacific to Vietnam and into Eastern Europe, a mission which saw him move steadily toward ceasefire and disengagement in Vietnam and a more flexible policy toward the rest of the world.

Clover Hill Divers Score Two Victories

The Clover Hill Swim Club's Diving Team boosted its record to 4-0 by defeating Copper Springs and Nomahegan Swim Club in dual meets.

In the meet with Copper Springs, Susan Laib and Paul Perley won the competition for youngsters 10 years old and under, while Lori Dahl and David Laib won the events for 11-12 year olds. In the 13-17 years division, Kathy Keyes and Glenn Bromley scored victories to give Clover Hill a sweep of all first places.

Susan Laib and Paul Perley also finished first in their events against Nomahegan. Lori Dahl also won again, but Scott Williams' second place was the best Clover Hill could do in the 11-12 years boys competition. Clover Hill and Nomahegan each won three events, but Clover Hill's overall strength paid off. Jimmy Dahl and Amy Mohrman finished second in their events to give Clover Hill five second places, while Sally Fryberger, Diane Clard and Glen Bromley all came up with third-place finishes.

Live below your means.

If you'd like to get around the high cost of living, we have a suggestion:

Cut down on the high cost of getting around.

And buy a Volkswagen. It's only $1799.*

That's around $1200 less than the average amount paid for a new car today. (Leave it in the bank. More's coming.)

A VW saves you hundreds of dollars on upkeep over the years.

It takes pints, not quarts, of oil.

Not one iota of antifreeze.

And it gets about 27 miles to the gallon. The average car thirstily devils that it is only gets 14.

So the more you drive, the more you save.

And chances are, you'll drive it for years and years. (Since we never change the style, a VW never goes out of style.)

Of course, a VW's not much to look at. So a lot of people buy a big flashy car just to save face.

Try putting that in the bank.
