

Hidden Valley: Nightmare For Two Families

By Gerry Stables
Parklands proposed for the 30-acre Corradi tract which lies one-half in Summit and one-half in Springfield in place of Townhouses which Aurnhammer Associates would like to build on the site have now mushroomed into a 92 acre "Hidden Valley Park" stretching from Briant Park to Watchung Park and incorporating eight parcels of land including two homes presently occupied.
Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Kandiner and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Heath who both live on Old Coach Road, which is within the boundaries of the park plan, vigorously oppose being uprooted from their homes and are bewildered by the actions of the Park Commission in sending them notices that their homes "are in the taking" and listing the appraiser's names.

Dates to 1729
By entering a dirt road off Ashland avenue and to the west of Jefferson School; winding down a tree covered, narrow lane; and passing a burned out shell you approach the Kandiner's blue and white frame home nestled among apple trees and overlooking a lake, which is actually a part of the Heath's seven acres just beyond. The Heath's two story rambling stone and frame home, known as the Sayre Homestead and dating from 1729, also backs upon the lake.

Both of the homes have undergone considerable renovation: Having lived in their home since 1964, the Kandiners have added air conditioning, a central vacuum system, and completely redone the kitchen to include a four foot chopping block, ceramic tile features and an island stove. The Heath's home had actually been condemned when it was purchased by them 16 years ago. A car-

Council Tables Anti-Loitering Bill Pending Court's Decision

Common Council Tuesday night postponed action on its proposed controversial anti-loitering ordinance until the New Jersey Supreme Court decides the constitutionality of the Orange law after which Summit's is patterned. The decision was announced by Council President Frank H. Lehr at Tuesday's Common Council meeting at Jefferson

School just prior to the opening of the second public hearing on the anti-loitering law. Mr. Lehr said that while the Appellate Court upheld the city of Orange's law in October 1971, the Supreme Court heard arguments on the matter Monday and Summit would await its decision before voting on the local ordinance. The public hearing, much shorter and less heated than last month's, heard former Councilman Dr. Ernest May discuss the civil liberties aspect of the ordinance noting, "We have to consider the civil liberties of the people to pass freely," and of storekeepers to have their premises free from obstruction. "Any law is a compromise," he stated. The police, Dr. May said, "are conscious of the civil liberties of all the people." He said that it has been their procedure to try to change a situation rather than charge people with a crime and that this attitude could be expected to continue under the new law.

Common Council Seeks to Add Two More Stops in City for Area's New Bus Route

Common Council gave temporary 90-day approval to the Watchung Mountain Transit Inc., to add two bus stops to its expanded route, one in the central business district and one near Overlook Hospital.

The line, which will connect Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, goes into operation with expanded bus service next Monday.

The two added bus routes on the line it takes over from the De Corso Bus Company are on Springfield avenue, east of Beechwood road, and on Beauvoir avenue, south of Sylvan road.

The 90-day temporary approval allows the route to begin operation while the city can review its operation. A hearing on an ordinance to make the stops permanent will be held at the next Council meeting October 3 in the Court Room at City Hall. Councilman Murray Ross voted against the introduction of the ordinance because of traffic considerations.

Council also gave approval to the final plans for Spring Hill Estates, a major subdivision of homes to be built at 619 Springfield avenue. Council decided following a second hearing that the plans meet all requirements of the city. (Continued on Page 13)

New Bus Service Between Here And Scotch Plains Begins Soon

New bus service scheduled to begin September 18 will extend existing routes to serve a larger area from Summit to Scotch Plains, and connect with buses to Newark, New York and Somerville.

The new service will extend both ends of an existing route between Summit and Murray Hill. One end will go several blocks farther to accommodate the business district and Overlook Hospital in Summit. The midsection of the route will be altered to carry travelers in Central avenue, New Providence, and Snyder avenue, Berkeley Heights.

The other end of the route will go to Scotch Plains where it will meet an hourly New York bus and a half-hourly bus between Newark and Somerville that serves Union, Springfield, Dunellen, Green Brook and other areas.

The Scotch Plains end of the-run will be within a few blocks of Plainfield public transportation. The New Jersey Department of Transportation is studying a direct connection with would fine persons charged with loitering up to $200 or sentence them to 30 days in jail. Loitering is defined as spending time idling, loafing or walking about aimlessly or "hanging around." Council President Lehr pointed out that it does not prohibit hanging around per se but only if this is done in conjunction with an offensive or disturbing act.

Supporting Council's proposed ordinance was Frank Boye, 140 Beekman road, who felt "it should have been done 40 years ago," and Sam Sebring, 97

Glenwood Project Nears Completion

The Housing Authority announced this week that the second stage of the Glenwood Place Project is essentially completed, and the apartments will be ready for occupancy during the week of September 18.

In making the announcement, Edward S. Olcott, chairman of the Authority, stated that the completion of the Glenwood Place Project coincides almost to the day with the fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Housing Authority by Common Council in September, 1967, and some 3 1/2 years after the start of the private fund raising program in the Spring of 1969.

It was pointed out in the Authority's release that private funds, contributed by the Summit community, presently amount to $645,000, some 96% of the money pledged for the program in 1969.

The funds, which have been used to supplement Federal funds, have made it possible for the Housing Authority to construct a low income housing project, which has been recognized by Federal, State and other officials as an important example of how a suburban community can undertake a public housing project.

The private contributions have also made it possible for the Authority to purchase three houses for the relocation of former Glenwood place residents, not eligible for the new project as a result of their income levels. Two of the three houses will probably be sold by the Authority to two of those families. Mr. Olcott (Continued on Page 2)

Tennis Club and Neighbors Strive to Patch Differences

While it appears that a majority of the persons involved in the continuing case of the Summit Tennis Club and its neighbors on Sunset drive appear to be coming close to an agreement which would permit them all to live harmoniously together, the Zoning Board of Adjustment, currently hearing a request for a variance to continue operations, has decided to hear more testimony on the matter on Monday, September 18 at City Hall at 8 p.m.

The Club is seeking permission to construct off-street parking of not less than 21 cars to alleviate parking on Sunset drive. In addition, other improvements such as mushroom lighting, and a landscaped buffer zone are also sought by the Club.

In exchange, the Club is asking residents of Sunset drive, who have filed suit against the Club in the Superior Court, to drop their lawsuit if they are parties to the agreement.

The club, founded in 1908, is located in an R-15 residential zone under current ordinance. Disagreements have been triggered by the construction of two paddle tennis courts in 1969. Currently, in addition to the two paddle tennis (Continued on Page 13)

Runnells Hospital, Berkeley Heights last Sunday. Looking on are Dr. Douglas M. Costabile of Berkeley Heights, president of the hospital's board of managers, and Freeholder Walter E. Ulrich, chairman, department of public affairs and general welfare for the Board of Freeholders. Mr. Hickok, a former president of the Summit Common Council and Freeholder, also served as president of the hospital's board of managers. More than 300 persons were on hand for the building's dedication which also included a tour of the facility. (Szemes photo).

Nightmare

(Continued from Page 1) penter spent six days a week for two years adding electricity, a heating system, closets, garage, and laundry facilities. It was in such bad condition (the hearth in the dining room had fallen to the cellar) that "it had to be completely rebuilt inside and out," said Mr. Heath who is retired from his job with a trust company on Wall Street.

Mr. Kandiner, a chemical engineer with Allied Chemical in Morristown has spent 20 to 30 hours a week gathering data to present before the Union County Planning Board and to the Union County Environmental Health Advisory Committee. He seeks first to be excluded from the proposed "Hidden Valley Park" if it is approved and at the same time to prove through his thorough analysis that the park itself is "poorly conceived, poorly designed, and poorly located," and as he continues, "It does not address itself to the real problem and I would question the validity of it whether I lived within it or not."

Objections

Both the Kandiner and Heath homes lie in a pocket of land with the Corradi tract on one side and the right of way for Route 78 on the other. The area is zoned for single family residences on half acre lots and the homes were purchased with the anticipation of the area being developed with neighboring homes.

Although Mr. Kandiner would prefer this type development of the area to a public park he would not have objected if there had not been a county park proposed and the purchase of it through sought after Green Acres and HUD funds. He feels that these funds could better serve a more congested urban core area in the County with less park space per number of people.

Areas Included

Other lands in the "taking" are the Houdaille Quarry, 43.5 acres; Grassman, 1.2 acres; Miele, 2.6 acres; Columbian Club, 1.8 acres; Celanese, 6 acres, and Corradi, 30.1 acres.

In mapping the park it can be noted that the new Knights of Columbus meeting hall was cut out of the park even though some of the acreage was taken. In the same way these two homes could be omitted from the outer boundary of the park plans. The owners do not wish to have "life tenancy" in place of owning their home and being able to control their property themselves.

While Mr. Kandiner, who has expended his efforts to have his and Mr. Heath's homes excluded from any park plans would not oppose a city park funded with city funds, he vociferously opposes the larger park incorporating many more acres and in his view denying money which should go to more needy areas in the county: "If the city thinks it is going to get the money free from Green Acres I strongly object to it. I think this would be an unseemly grab. Why should Summit feel it should receive these funds when there is a crying need in other parts of the county?"

Glenwood

praised the Summit community for "this magnificent expression of support and commitment to the Authority's program."

With the completion of the Glenwood Place Project, the Housing Authority stressed that it has been able to eliminate seriously substandard housing on the old Glenwood place itself through the demolition of the unsafe and dilapidated structures, and, at the same time, in cooperation with the Substandard Housing Board, has been able to close down other seriously substandard dwellings in the community. The new project thus represents a significant replacement of old dilapidated buildings which not only had a blighting effect in the community but were also seriously deficient buildings for the people who resided in them.

The Housing Authority pointed out that it is now moving into full scale operations of the new project. One of the problems now facing the Authority in this regard is that the Federal Government is withholding operating subsidy funds to which Housing Authorities throughout the United States are entitled, since, by law, rentals can be no more than 25% of tenants' income. For example, two tenants in identical apartments with annual incomes of $2,000 and $6,000 pay rents respectively of less than $500 and $1,500 annually. A rent of less than $500 annually, and there are several in this category, falls far short of carrying full operating costs on that apartment. The Authority is seeking alternate ways at this time of making up these operating deficits.

She attended the College of Saint Francis, where she studied journalism. A vice president of the National Guest Relations Association, Mrs. Hogan is also an associate member of the Public Relations Society of America. She is secretary of the Summit Area Development Corporation and publicity chairman for the Summit Soroptomist Club. Mrs. Hogan serves on the advisory board of the Summit Area Volunteer Service and is past publicity chairman for a Summit Area Red Cross and past membership chairman for the Soroptomist Club.

on various social problems with which they are confronted. In addition, the new project includes play areas, a community room for tenants to use for a wide range of programs and activities, and a laundry room.

As a final step, the mobile homes used for temporary relocation purposes will be removed and additional public and tenant parking spaces provided.

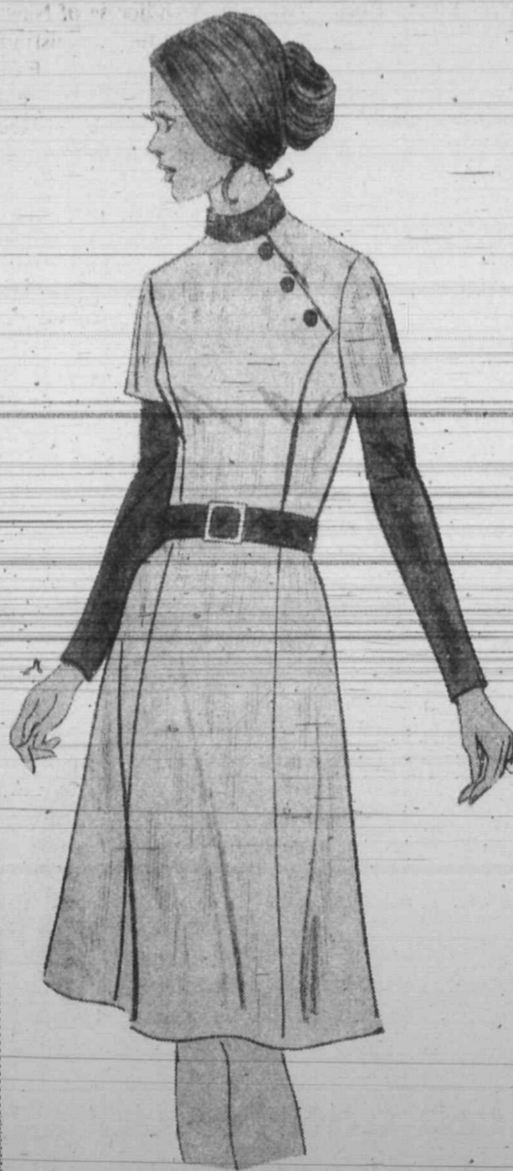

The Housing Authority has been considering several important new programs including additional low income family projects, the possibilities of the construction of elderly housing and an urban renewal program for which the Council granted the Authority powers and responsibilities several months ago. The Housing Authority states that it has been running into considerable difficulties in its discussions with the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development on the current lack of funds and programs available to implement its additional activities. The Authority has been in close contact with state officials and is encouraged about the prospects for state financing assistance in moving forward with some of these other programs which will be of importance to the city.

Vietnam Girl Arrives In Summit Under AFS

Miss Van Luc, of Gia Binh, Vietnam, arrived in Summit on September 5, under the auspices of the Summit Chapter of AFS International Scholarships. She is living with the R. C. Specht family of 120 Hobart avenue, and will attend Summit High School with Miss Lisa Specht.

Miss Luc has three brothers and three sisters in Vietnam. Her father is an Air Force Finance Officer. Van speaks English, Vietnamese and French. She likes biology, English and history, and swims, plays table tennis and badminton. She also likes to read, enjoys music and painting, and plans to be a physician.

On September 18 at 8 p.m. at the Summit High School Library, Miss Luc and Miss Caroline Hume of Sussex, England, who is living with the Woodruff English family, will be introduced to members and friends of AFS. Kristen Hanson, who participated in the AFS Americans Abroad program in Turkey this summer, will be the featured speaker. This will AFS students from abroad attend secondary schools in the United States, and are required to return home after one year. Recently, Jens Boe, from Denmark, who was an AFS student at Summit High School in 1964-65, returned with his wife, Ingelis, to visit his host family, Mr. and Mrs. John Stockbridge, at 16 Manor Hill Road. According to Mrs. Stockbridge, the family relationship they enjoyed while Jens lived with them has grown even closer through the years. Jens is now a student at the University of Aarhus, Denmark.

During September and October, the local AFS committee will be interviewing Summit High School students for the 1973 Americans Abroad program. Two students will be nominated to go to one of 59 participating countries, either for the summer or the school year. Interested students or parents may obtain information from Mr. Arthur Torrell, AFS advisor, at Summit High School.

AFS has no political or religious affiliations. Its purpose is to increase understanding among the peoples of the world. The AFS experience affords an opportunity for students to meet and learn to know people from different countries and cultures, and in turn to impart to others knowledge and understanding of their own countries.

Overlook Plans New Volunteer Corps "For Community Health"

A new volunteer opportunity is opening at Overlook Hospital, to be called "Volunteers for Community Health." A corps of men and women with special skills will work in Overlook's Ambulatory Services Division, with a wide choice of assignment possibilities based on individual interest and experience.

Wanted are people with backgrounds in dietetics, teaching, nursing, health education, social work, home economics, public relations, statistics, rehabilitation (physical, occupational and speech therapy), languages, typing, receptionist or interpersonal skills. Later, the program will be spread to other specialized services of the hospital.

Chairman of the new volunteer corps will be Mrs. Walter F. Groner, immediate past president of Overlook Women's Auxiliary, working with Miss Emily Joest, Overlook's Director of Volunteers.

Volunteers for Community Health will work in many areas, both inside and outside the hospital. In hospital clinics they will assist in mass screenings, acting as hostesses, registrars, or appointment clerks. As health educators they will counsel on such problems as Sickle Cell traits or family planning, or they might also work in various areas in the emergency room. Social work experience would lend itself to counseling on problems of drugs or alcoholism, perhaps acting as patient advocate, or language interpreter, or serving as case aide. Statisticians can help with records and audits. The options are many and diverse.

Outside the hospital, Volunteers for Community Health might choose to work at Overlook's Vauxhall Family Health Center for low-income families, providing transportation, speaking to groups as part of a community relations program, perhaps acting in six hours a week is ever enrolled at Newark Academy of Livingston. VCH corps volunteers will also have an extensive orientation course of ten days duration, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, to be scheduled in October. Interested applicants may call the Overlook Volunteer Office - 273-8100, ext. 235.

Working with the Visiting Nurse-Home Care Service of Overlook Hospital, their work could include friendly and encouraging home visits to shut-ins, or help with transportation to the hospital for out-patient treatment, or using their allied health skills and interpersonal abilities.

Applicants for Volunteers for Community Health will be carefully screened and a time requirement of a minimum

"Fanny" Auditions Sunday

Persons interested in trying out for the production of "Fanny", sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of Overlook Hospital, may audition for the last time next Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Suburban Hotel.

Mrs. Edward Brinkman, auditions chairman, says that many parts are still available for the show, including both lead and small roles requiring singing or dancing. Children and young adults are also needed for many of the smaller roles as well. The professional staff for the production of "Fanny", as named by general chairman Mrs. Stephen C. Whitman, include Bob Sickinger as director, D. David McKeever as musical director, and Jim Stewart as production designer. Any questions concerning the auditions may be referred to Mrs. Brinkman, 273-4147.

Lectures Planned By YWCA

"Learning More About the Summit Area" will be the theme of a lecture series beginning this week at the YWCA. The Junior League of Summit, in cooperation with the YWCA, is presenting to the public a series of free lectures, especially designed to give useful community information to newcomers. Older residents are equally welcome and the Junior League's own new, provisional members will be in attendance.

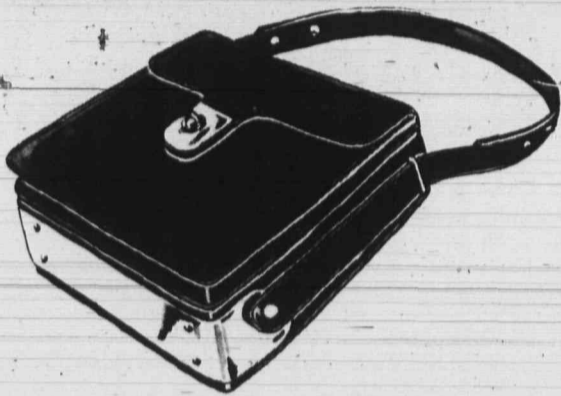

All lectures will begin at 8 p.m. at the YWCA, 70 Maple street.

The series began last Tuesday with "Government", the subject for the evening. Willis M. Pott presented a brief history of Summit and Mayor Elmer J. Bennett spoke about town government. Freeholder Edward H. Tiller discussed county government while Congressional Candidate and Former State Senator Jerry F. English concluded with a talk on state government.

The lectures continue tonight and will be about "Public Services". Mrs. John B. Cave, Robert Bourne, Dr. Arthur S. McLellan and Dr. Murray Ross will describe the many aids available to the community from the Youth Employment Service, Family Service Association, the Drug Treatment and Drug Rehabilitation Program, and the Municipal Youth Guidance Council.

Subjects coming up in following weeks will be "Education and Community Participation" on Tuesday, September 19, and speakers will be Dr. Donald R. Geddis, E.H. Kaus, Mrs. Robert C. Winters, and Mrs. David Watts, and "Public Health" on Thursday, September 21 with Speakers John B. Cave, John W. Cooper, and Mrs. Eleanor Claus. "Urban Aid" is the subject for Tuesday, September 26 with speakers: Andrew R. Skinnell, Mrs. Dirk Barrett, Miss Petrona McNair, and Mrs. Robert Kretsinger, and "New Providence - Berkeley Heights" will conclude the program on Thursday, September 28 with John D. Clark, Richard E. Rohrback, Robert Lachenauer, and John R. Walker.

"Indian" Chasing

by David F. Moore
 A century ago the slogan, "Manifest Destiny," proclaimed everything that was good, brave and noble about our growing country. Manifest destiny meant spreading from the mountains, across the prairies and to the Pacific, steamrolling anybody who happened to get in the way. Like Indians.

Today the word is "progress," but it's descended from the "manifest destiny" spawned by a gas-lit Madison Avenue. Only now the Indians have been dealt with, so we can substitute other groups for the Indians. Like farmers or suburbanites, or anybody else who happens to get in the way of progress.

In light of recent court decisions in Madison Township at Mount Laurel, zoning court decisions in Pennsylvania, and the attitude and philosophy of the Suburban Action Institute and other groups, I sense a parallel with the manifest destiny of a hundred years ago.

In Madison Township the court ruled that large lot zoning can't stand up against social demands without good documentation of valid needs for such restrictions. Mount Laurel was told to rezone with building codes and other restrictions leaving room for poor people. There are certainly valid needs, but what's left of open space in the state we're in is being endangered by such a legal and philosophical stampede.

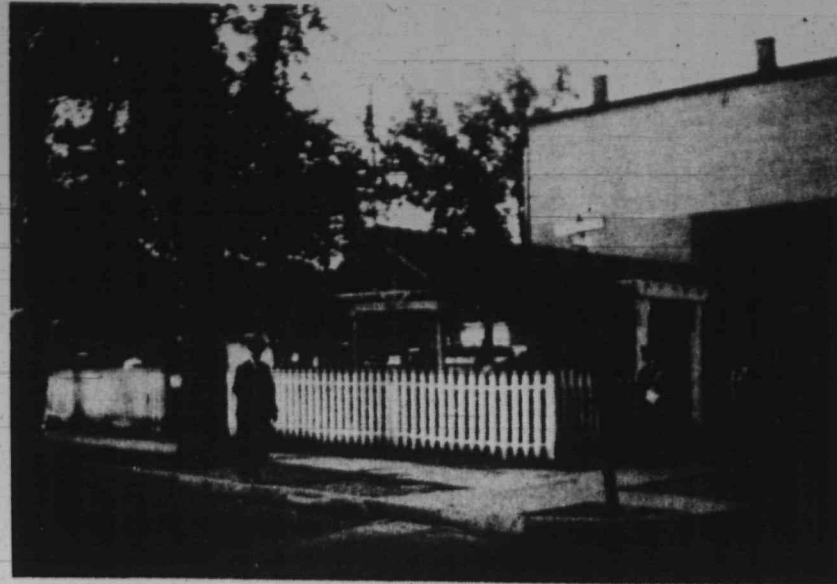

In other words, the farmers and other owners of open space in rural and suburban New Jersey have replaced the Indians as subjects, or should I say victims, of manifest destiny. They must give way to the onslaught of urbanization.

It would seem that progress means the constant acceleration of growth of the urban or suburban environment, regardless of the effect on the people displaced or the capability of the land and its resources to sustain that growth. The battle to maintain a semblance of open space is a retrograde movement of fantastic magnitude.

I'm not downgrading the need for more housing, especially for low and middle-income families so they can be near their work, and in an environment that does not beget more social problems. What shakes me is the attitude toward open space; the bland assumption that any open space, be it agricultural or just woodlands, is "unused land."

That's a fantastic assumption. Just because man hasn't paved it, a lot of people think such land is of no use, or no value. But look at the functions of such land. Everything we human animals need to survive, like air, water and social amenities, are tied in with open space. It's a buffer between human groups and occupations. It's

WAR'S DARK DAYS - In an effort to help the World War I war effort, Summit residents set up a community market in 1917 on the southwest corner of Beechwood road and Springfield avenue, now the site of Liss' Drug Store. Funds collected from the market went for the purchase of books, candy, tobacco, etc. for Summit servicemen.

Neighbor Helping Neighbor

The First Aid Squad in Summit has served its neighbors well for ten years.

During this period of time, it has travelled many thousands of miles, both within and without the city, bringing much needed services where before they had been non-existent or minimal.

However, the Squad exists only because of the financial generosity of individuals and the service of many.

Currently, the Squad is launching its 1972 Fund Drive to continue its necessary work. At the same time, additional volunteers can be used to continue the fine tradition of service.

The Summit squad is unique in this state. It is one of the few which will travel beyond the 50-mile limit set by most first aid groups.

Donating service and funds to such a group continues the tradition of neighbor helping neighbor helping neighbor.

Liberty's Safeguard

The Constitution of the United States, which along with the Declaration of Independence, forms the foundation of our country, unique in this world, is celebrated officially next week.

During Constitution Week, celebrated from September 17-23, undoubtedly many fine speeches will be made and editorials will be written in laudatory fashion.

And this praise is well-deserved and should cause each American to give pause in his day, to recall that this open-ended document, so well-engineered by our forefathers, is an elastic document designed to meet the needs of a changing society and world.

But central to the Constitution is the ever-present theme of liberty, freedom, responsibilities.

Isn't it strange that all too often this incredible document should be used by some groups and individuals to erode the liberties which are guaranteed. Let's stop using the Constitution as a rationalization to destroy what it inherently must protect.

Warnings Needed

Driving along city streets takes concentration in the highest sense of the word. Avoiding bike riders, keeping to the speed limit, watching for hitchhikers, and being wary of darting children all need a driver's undivided attention.

In his pursuit the driver needs every aid available in the way of correct signs to follow and plenty of warning when there are any changes necessary.

Recently there were two accidents in the same area of construction in Summit. One accident resulted in injuries for four residents while the other produced extensive damages to the car but, luckily, no injuries. Construction signs were posted; but, were they ample and did they give the driver time enough to slow down?

Another accident on a steep hill in a nearby community injured the driver. In this case there were no warning signs that workmen were ahead. Only when the driver reached the top of the hill did he learn that he had to slow down or come to a complete stop.

Coming down Mountain avenue last week, suddenly red and yellow cones loomed ahead in a V, blocking completely the right side of the street; still, no warning that you must slow down ahead.

Who's to blame for accidents in these cases? There definitely should be warnings given the driver, in plenty of time stating that there are "Workmen Ahead" so that he can alter his speed and come to a complete stop if necessary.

(200th Birthday Celebration - Westfield Leader)

Four years hence, the United States will observe the Bicentennial of the American Revolution - and the founding of the country. Largely unheralded, planning has been underway since 1966 to prepare an appropriate response on our nation's 200th birthday. The Reader's Digest tells of these preparations in an inspired feature entitled "Ring Out, Liberty Bell!" by Mr. Robert O'Brien.

The theme of the observance for not only a Bicentennial Day but a Bicentennial Year and Era as well is "A Past to Remember - a Future to Mold." Noting the approaching event, President Nixon has remarked, "We must put our minds to it, we must put our hearts to it. America is 50 states. America is big cities, small cities and small towns. It is all the homes and all the hopes of 208 million people..." Mr. O'Brien describes the master plan for the Bicentennial observance. It consists of three interrelated programs in which all states and communities are called upon to participate. He reports, "The first - Heritage '76 - is an on-going commemoration of great moments and lasting legacies from the nation's past. A second program - Festival USA - encourages us to travel, to discover America for ourselves, and to open our hearts and homes to people of other lands. The third, and most important - Horizons '76 - challenges us, in the President's words, "to dedicated effort for the fulfillment of national goals yet to be attained." This is a call for action to improve the quality of American life..."

The Bicentennial Era provides an unparalleled opportunity to affirm our faith in the United States. And, as The Digest observes, to move "... toward the mountaintop of a more perfect union."

Letters to the Editor

Concerned Over Crime

Editor, Summit Herald:
 Were we horrified by the 17 violent deaths in Munich last week? Of course we were; really jolted.

But were we shocked likewise that in USA 1971 there were 17,630 (homicidal only) deaths including 126 police officers murdered and that along with 5,995,200 serious crimes reported there were 492,000 'narcotic law' arrests and several million in the robbery, burglary, auto theft and property invasion areas? Were we?

Were we even concerned that in New Jersey 1971 there were 422 homicidal deaths including three police officers killed and 2,250 criminally assaulted; that there were 25,926 'narcotic drug law' arrests and 12,698 arrests for 'driving under influence' of alcohol-drugs with all their inherent lethal possibilities; and that there were 224,709 Crime Index (serious) offenses reported for a 28% increase over 1970 versus a 7% increase in all reported USA crimes? Were we?

And were we even aware, let alone seriously thinking about, of the huge, strongly increasing movement of serious crime into our suburban areas where the already high rates are still moving upward? Were we?

Thank you for providing via your August 31 issue an article on the July report of the Summit Police Dept. which gave us at least an inkling of a few of the problems our fine police force must cope with every day. We are thankful they are there to protect us insofar as they can. Could we somehow help them more than we do?

Could I strongly suggest that when the next Police report comes in hand for the eight months January to August period you give us the more informative analysis provided by the longer period versus a single month?

We strongly endorse the FBI national slogan - "Crime is a social problem and of concern to the entire community." Not until the greater community becomes intimately concerned can we hope for any important eventual reduction in crime and all its attendant sorrows - national and international.

Cites "Real Choice"

Editor, Summit Herald:
 This letter is directed to those concerned about the war in Vietnam, and to those planning to vote in November.

If you are wondering why 20,000 American boys have died in Vietnam since Mr. Nixon was elected, you will be interested to learn what happened at the Republican Convention Platform Committee meeting, but not reported by the news media to the American people.

Following is from the testimony of Anthony C. Sutton, Research Fellow with the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace, before the Platform Committee in Miami on Aug. 16, 1972:

"After ten years of research, working exclusively on the relationship between western technology and Soviet economic development, I conclude there is no such thing as Soviet technology. Almost all perhaps 90 to 95 percent - came directly or indirectly from the United States and its allies. In effect, the U.S. and the NATO countries have built the Soviet Union - its industrial and military capabilities. The massive construction job has taken 50 years... and carried out through trade and the

Migrant Worker Plight

by State Sen.

Matthew J. Rinaldo

Only in recent years have public officials paid much attention to the plight of migrant farm workers. As a result of the spotlight of publicity shone on the conditions of the migrant workers, the New Jersey legislature has begun to work for decent living and working conditions for the people who harvest our crops. Although we have taken the important first step of acknowledging the existence of a problem, we obviously have not gone far enough. For instance, a quartet of migrant farm workers were getting a strawberry patch ready for planting this year. While they worked, an airplane flew over and sprayed them with parathion, a dangerous insecticide. Charges were filed by an inspector from the Bureau of Farm Labor who happened to be there.

When charges were heard in Hammonton Municipal Court, the judge recommended dismissal because New Jersey regulations prohibit spraying only when the workers are actually harvesting crops. I am drafting legislation to toughen the existing regulations to forbid such reckless endangerment to health and human life. I intend to ask my colleagues, particularly those from the northern part of this state to join me in pushing for adoption of this proposed legislation.

I think it is not so much insensitivity on the part of legislators as it is a lack of awareness of the dimensions of the problem that has placed migrant workers

This year we are again given two false alternatives. Either you vote for Mr. Nixon (he favors even more foreign aid to the Soviets), or you can vote for Mr. McGovern (he favors more foreign aid to the Soviets). Both candidates are pro-Soviet as judged by their actions, and these are the candidates promoted by the popular news media.

If you want to stop all U.S. foreign aid to the Soviets you can vote for American Party presidential candidate John G. Schmitz. Take your pick. This year you have a real choice.

Cites Hearing Problem

Editor, Summit Herald:
 Shortly after I moved to Summit I attended a Common Council meeting. Due to a hearing problem, it was difficult for me to get at the tail end of the line of progress. Several years before I was elected to the State Senate in 1967, I happened to be on a business trip to Cumberland County one late August evening. My car was parked by the side of the road at dusk, when I saw an army of men, women and children walking down the road singing in Spanish. The migrant workers made an indelible impression on me.

In fact, it was probably the memory of those hundreds of migrant workers that prompted me in 1968 to refuse to supply a favorable vote in behalf of a bill that would have permitted farmers to pay migrant workers on a piece-work basis, rather than by the hour. Because I held a critical vote, I was subjected to a great deal of pressure by farming interests. But I remembered the faces of those women and children. I knew it would be wrong to reduce them to working like machines simply to earn a small income. Despite my no vote, the bill eked through the Senate. Fortunately, Governor Hughes vetoed it. It was a small thing, but it is one vote that I shall not forget.

I want to see the migrant workers protected against arbitrary spraying insecticide baths. This is why I will push hard for the adoption of stronger legislation to protect them from man-made pollution from the air.

Political campaigns have a tendency to bring out the best and the worst in the candidates. And sometimes the issues raised seem to be just plain silly.

Albeit, it may be difficult to find enough issues to talk about for months and give the voting public the idea that the candidate is all-knowing, wise, practical and has the answer to all problems. But sometimes, the so-called issues are just straws in the wind, used as devices to keep the candidate's name in the public eye.

So, while these attention-getting devices are used, the candidate comes out in favor of motherhood, fatherhood, the young, the elderly, the good life and anything else that no one is really going to find distasteful.

At the same time, opposition is voiced to drug addiction, increasing crime rate, poverty, and child abuse. So, it's all part of the game of campaigning. But, isn't it a bit much to try to convince the voting public that the name of an airport is a vital issue in a Congressional campaign?

 everything that was said. After it was over I asked the president of the Council whether it would be possible to install a public address system. He said that the next year's budget would very probably contain such an item.
 I have been to Planning Board, Sub-Standard Housing Board and other Council meetings, and although I have one, a hearing aid really doesn't work too well with that size room. Now, the Council Chamber is being renovated, but I understand that, due to the overall higher cost of the job, there won't be enough money in the budget to pay for this item ($4,450); that the preliminary work is being done so that, if it is decided to install it next year, it can be done then.

 I wondered whether some civic-minded citizen would be willing to do the job at cost — that is, someone who is competent to do it. At any rate, it's an idea, and I thought I'd hear what others have to say.

Crusade For Souls
 Editor, Summit Herald:
 The time has come and now is when men and women of Summit should stand together for the cause of Christ. To that end Fountain Baptist Church at 21 Chestnut Avenue will hold their annual soul stirring revival, beginning on Monday September 18th and ending Friday, September 22.
 Evangelist Harry L. Batts of the Messiah Baptist Church of East Orange will conduct the services. Fountain choir will supply the music Monday night, Wallace Chapel's choir will sing Tuesday night. Evangelist Batts will bring his gospel choirs Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

 Devotional services will begin promptly at 7:30 preaching at 8 p.m. The people of Summit need this spiritual uplift. Can the Lord Depend On You?

League Opens Drive
 The League of Women Voters fund raising drive will be launched this Saturday. Through these funds raised under the direction of finance chairman, Ann Levine, the League will mail the Candidates Sheets, publish "Voting In New Jersey", and maintain an election Hotline for non partisan voting information.
 Mrs. Levine, who is state chairman of Legislative Procedures and Reform has been assisted by Joan Thoth of Bridgewater, a member of the State Finance Committee.
 Activities of the League are paid for by the dues and contributions of members and other citizens. Mrs. Levine points out that of special concern this year is an increase of voter services. This is due to the changes in voting age and residency requirements in this presidential year.

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME! — This is probably the thought that was on the minds of over 100 local youth who were treated to a day at Yankee Stadium by the Summit Police Athletic League on August 31. Complimentary tickets for the event were provided by Ivan Russell and Dave Palma (Third from left and second from right, respectively) of Fletcher Lincoln-Mercury of Summit. Bus transportation was provided by the P.A.L. and the chaperones consisted of local Summit Police Officers, their wives and sons. Patrolmen Gerald Holmes and Richard Asarnow, long active in PAL activities are shown on the left as the group prepared to depart for the stadium. According to Mario Lombardi, president of PBA, Local #55, the event was a huge success and he "was particularly impressed by the good behavior of the youth, both at the stadium and while in transit." Rinaldo Urges Better Consumer Protection

State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo today called for federal regulations requiring manufacturers' warranties to aid the consumer, rather than protect the manufacturer.
 Rinaldo, the Republican candidate for Congress in the 12th district, said the Administration proposals for full disclosure of warranty terms do not go far enough.
 "The Administration-backed bill is intended to obtain a guarantee in simple terms that customers can understand," Senator Rinaldo said. "But this is not enough. The warranties should be worded to spell out the protection to which the buyer is entitled. As they are written now, they are oriented toward building a wall around the manufacturer."
 "We must tear down the wall of protection for manufacturers and give the consumer ready access to redress when he has purchased a defective or unsafe product," Senator Rinaldo went on.
 He said the Nixon administration was on the right track in attempting to require more understandable wording on warranties. However, Rinaldo added, "Being on the right track isn't good enough if they don't reach the proper destination, which should be giving the consumer the right to a square deal in any transaction he enters in good faith."
 Senator Rinaldo said it was "no longer enough to be guided by the dictum of 'let the buyer beware.' The complexity of the marketplace today can be bewildering to a consumer today. The burden of fulfillment in a warranty should be on the manufacturer, not the buyer. This is why I believe the warranties should be changed to let the consumer know exactly where he stands. The seller has let the buyer beware for long enough. Things are changing. The consumer deserves a few breaks for a change, and I want to help see to it that he gets them."
 Rinaldo said he would back any responsible congressional legislation aimed at clarifying the rights of the buyer in warranties. "This is one area in which the burden should be shifted from the consumer to the manufacturer," he concluded. "And I intend to do some of the pushing to shift that burden to where it properly belongs."

Mrs. English Seeks Better Health Care

"Americans now spend more of their gross national product on health care than any other people on earth, yet we're faced with one of the most inadequate delivery systems in the world," says Congressional candidate Mrs. Jerry F. English of Drum Hill road.

In a major policy statement, the Union County Democrat today announced her support of a comprehensive National Health Care Service to guarantee delivery of adequate medical care for all Americans because the medical profession has been unable to serve as a 'watchdog' on soaring costs and deteriorating health care delivery.

"Somewhere in the American dream is the promise of good health care as a part of our everyday life," she said. "We must make access to appropriate health care the right of all citizens and not just the privilege of a select few."

Of the two proposals now before Congress, Mrs. English lauded the Kennedy-Griffiths bill as an excellent approach to the medical crisis.

"This bill would be bankrolled by minimal payroll taxes and general revenues and would guarantee all Americans, regardless of age or income, comprehensive health care by 1973," the Summit attorney said. "There would be no cut-off points, no co-insurance, no deductibles, no minimums and no waiting periods."

Just as important, the plan would emphasize preventive and out-of-hospital care to prevent illness before it disables the working man both physically and financially, and it would offer incentives for doctors to practice in poverty areas because they would be assured of payment.

"Everywhere I go in Union County, everyone I talk with — senior citizen, parent, professional, blue-collar worker, student — fears the similar peril of potential bankruptcy," Mrs. English continued. "And, in some areas of the country, it's very difficult to find a doctor even if you have the money."

Mrs. English also blasted President Nixon's approach to the crisis as "obstructive rather than constructive." Even though the President spoke of an immediate need to improve the health care system in 1969, he has since vetoed the only two major bills devised by Congress to improve medical services.

"Meanwhile the cost of health care continues to climb 2½ times faster than the general cost of living while more than 30 million Americans currently have no health insurance protection," Mrs. English noted. "And, most of those who have insurance coverage must still pay about 60 per cent of the costs out of their own pockets."

Seminars On Bible Planned

A weekly seminar, "The Bible for Beginners," will be offered at Calvary Episcopal Church beginning on Wednesday, September 20 at 10:15 a.m. The seminar will be led by Rev. Robert V. Morris, minister of education of Calvary Church. There will also be guest lectures by various ministers and rabbis from the Summit area.

The course is designed for lay persons of all denominations, or none. While the most recent scholarly opinions will be dealt with, the aim of the course is to help lay people use the Bible in a personally rewarding way. The Hebrew Scriptures, The Apocrypha, and the Christian Scriptures will be covered. The course is described as "non-fundamentalist and non-denominational." There will be a registration fee of $5 which will cover books and other materials used during the course.

Kelly graduated from the University of Notre Dame and also the Notre Dame Law School. They are both practicing attorneys.

Volunteers Take On Professional Quality; May Get Tax Break Soon

Volunteerism is being up-dated on every level today. From the city, to county, to state, to the Federal program volunteers are being sought for an ever-expanding program with a more "professional" quality.

The Summit Area Volunteer Service center which operates from the tower of Central Presbyterian Church has been trying new procedures for helping service agencies to upgrade their volunteer services.

Mrs. Henry Liss, president of the Service explained that letters were sent to the many service agencies in Summit asking them to improve their volunteer services so that they would be more attractive to young people. As a result, the center placed 120 students this summer in Runnells Hospital, Head Start, the Neighborhood Council, etc.

They seek an office which is more accessible and which would be seen more readily by the public. A volunteer is available from 9:30 to 11:30 five mornings a week to aid anyone in finding their place in a volunteer capacity.

Two programs will be initiated this fall to aid agencies in securing volunteers. Mrs. Harriet Naylor, Director, Educational Development For The National Center For Voluntary Action spoke this week at a workshop for service agencies which will be followed by a Community Sign-Up Day on the 28th of September.

In their quest of placing students, women, and men in the right positions, Mrs. Liss says "there are very realistic obstacles. Some training is definitely needed."

The local group places those who are not affiliated with other service groups (there are approximately 2300 Twigs with Overlook Hospital at the present time).

County Workshops The Union County Voluntary Action Center will initiate workshops limited to 20 participants to "find and identify their skills, define their personality traits and express their goals and values". Operating on a grant from the National Center for Voluntary Action, this organization is trying a new training program.

It is hoped that this program can reach those who previously felt they had no capabilities or those who would seek training through volunteer work which would aid them in being placed in future business positions.

State Program Governor William T. Cahill plans to create a Voluntary Services Office this month to place volunteers in understaffed prisons, hospitals, training schools, child care, and others.

Through this state program there is a good opportunity to reach small communities to tap an untapped well of talent to aid our floundering institutions and at the same time to benefit the volunteer with rewarding hours.

Tax Benefit Several bills are before the House Ways and Means Committee which would aid the volunteer in that it would possibly give a tax on Social Security. This would be especially helpful to those who are past the age of obtaining a paid position but who need a little extra monetary help in their senior years. It truly would add a new complexion to "Volunteerism" one that should attract thousands more in the needed service agencies.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN - Mrs. G. A. Blood, a co-chairman of the Children's portion of Summit College Club's annual book sale, is shown organizing the shelves for the 37th annual sale to be held Oct. 13. Books to be donated may be brought to sale headquarters, 10A Aubrey street, off Morris avenue, near CIBA Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday mornings, or dropped in a box outside the quarters at anytime of the day. ## Foundation Aids Growth Of Kids

The Foundation's purpose is to bring to the attention of the American public the fact that some children have serious growth disturbances and by doing so to aid in early discovery of the growth deviations.

The Foundation solicits the donation of human pituitary glands which provide the only available source of human growth hormone which is used to treat certain types of dwarfism.

Bus Route

Plainfield buses. Robert Kent, president of Watchuff Mountain Transit, Inc. of Warren, said five 45-passenger buses will be used to launch operations. Fares will be: one zone, 25c; two zones, 35c; three zones, 50c. Zone boundaries are the boundaries of Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights and Scotch Plains.

The new service is the result of action by the Jersey Department of Transportation in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights.

In addition to special commuter buses there will be the hourly service between Summit and Scotch Plains from about 8:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. weekdays and from about 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturdays. Initially there will be no service on Sundays.

The detailed schedule announced by the Chamber of Commerce can be found elsewhere in this week's New Summit Herald.

Second Time Around - NO TAKERS -

JOBS GO BEGGING AT BROWN'S HARDWARE & SUPPLY CO., Inc.

Brown's Hardware & Supply has a different problem than most employers. He needs workers, and despite high levels of unemployment, he hasn't been able to get them.

Two Job Openings:

- 1 Hardware Clerk
- 1 Delivery

CAN'T GET HELP:

We don't know what it is, but we can't get the help we need. The Employment Service and Help-Wanted Ads have been unable to help us.

COMPETING WITH WELFARE & UNEMPLOYMENT

I guess people (who are out of work) would rather receive welfare or unemployment than take a job. They probably figure, "Why work for $100 a week when they can get $72 for sitting home."

Business has picked up, and we cannot service our customers as we would like to. Also, we are restricted on deliveries because of no help.

ON CAMPAIGN TRAIL — Virginia Dearborn, Democratic candidate for Ward 2, Common Council, discusses some of the local issues which confront the voter in the November election. They were attending a Labor Day party given in her honor by Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Plaut to toast the opening of Mrs. Dearborn's fall campaign.

Mrs. Dearborn Raps Council On Anti-Loitering Ordinance

"The answer to the youth problem for most of our Councilmen seems to be increased police control even when the Police Department has not requested it," declared Virginia Dearborn, Ward 2 Democratic candidate for Common Council, this week.

"The Councilmen with teenage children, Dr. Crockett and Mr. Votey, however, voted against the introduction of this anti-loitering ordinance," she continued, "perhaps because they recognized that there must be some alternative place for youth to gather besides the station and city streets."

In a meeting with reporters including young people, Mrs. Dearborn discussed the local issues confronting the voter this November. She pointed out that jobs for teenagers were in short supply, that volunteer jobs were limited and that more young people would be in the community with not enough to do than in previous summers. "Neighboring towns use existing facilities such as school buildings for their youth centers, such as Millburn," Mrs. Dearborn continued. "The New Providence Recreation Department scheduled Friday night dances in a school building and these dances not only paid expenses but cleared a profit. Summit could use its recreation department facilities such as Memorial Field House, or Edison Recreation building for some evening activities.

"We do not want our young people hanging around the station or city streets. There are many fine resources in the community such as the YMCA, the YWCA, the churches, but there has been no leadership by the city to provide off-street recreation for summer evenings until a permanent youth center is set up," she said.

"We have in Summit around 1,200 teenagers, many of whom do not need planned activities but other young people do need some place to go where they can meet their friends with some adult supervision.

"It makes one stop and think about the priorities and judgment of some of our Councilmen. Early in the year Council voted $10,000 for the youth center project for 1972. In June 1972 they voted $65,000 for air conditioning of the Council chambers. I can understand how uncomfortable our Councilmen feel deliberating in the heat at their two summer meetings. But Edison Recreation building is shut down all summer long because of its heat concentration, so

Former Mayor Lester to Head Roehm, Ross Election Drive

Councilman Luther S. named Maxwell Lester Jr., citizens of Summit" and Roehm and Murray M. former Mayor of Summit, noted that the "experience Ross, candidates for as chairman of the committee on Council would enable them to contribute even more in the years ahead." "We have deep confidence in the future of the Summit," the councilmen said, "and we believe we can best continue to serve our city as active members of its government."

Dr. Roehm, a senior vice president of Merck and Company Inc., and a member of the Common Council for the last three years, serves as chairman of the finance committee.

Dr. Ross practices Optometry in Summit and has been a member of Common Council since March, 1971 serving as chairman of the park and shade trees department and buildings and grounds department and a member of the public works committee.

Mr. Lester announced that the following Summit residents will serve as members of the Summit Campaign Committee to Re-elect Roehm and Ross: John H.C. Anderson, Wallace W. Barnes, Summit Republican City Committee Chairman, Richard Bottelli, Thomas W. Button, Jerry R. Dempsey, Franklin Miller, Mrs. Hugo M. Pfaltz Jr., Alfred E. Schretter, Brayton L. Smith, Donald J. Storch and Mrs. Robert K. Talley.

New Instructors In YW Adult Program

Places are still available in the YWCA Adult Classes opening this week, with eight new instructors joining the teaching staff. New to the art department will be Jan Marriott of Chatham who will teach decorative art on Mondays at 12:30 and Mrs. Robert Hanson of Watchung who will teach lampshade making on Thursday evenings.

Beginners and experienced students may enroll in the evening art class on Mondays with John Dahl of Hillside. Mr. Dahl has studied with William Aylward on Long Island at the Art Students League in New York and at Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts.

Marie Welsh, local artist and sculptor will teach an introductory course in sculpture exploring various media including stone, clay, plaster, and wire on Mondays at 1 p.m. Gilda Biro of Maplewood, familiar to Summit as the director of "The Catonsville 9", will teach creative dramatics on Tuesday evenings. This class, open to men, women and high school students will "challenge self expression, build confidence and sharpen person to person communication."

Among other class offerings are creative crewel with Martha Givv, needlepoint with Emma Horne; mixed media with Ingrid Hofer, oil painting with Si Allyn Schaeffer or stained glass with Bonnie Bahr. Those who lean toward cooking may join Jean Yueh at Chinese cooking, YWCA swim league and in Helen Koch's French cooking or Kenneth Lacin bread making or cooking with Natural foods. Guita-rists may study with Gladys Reimers; French students with Christiane Forbringer; bridge players with Gloria Anderson and sewers with Phyllis Zlatin, all returning for another year as instructors on the YWCA staff.

YOU WILL STOP SMOKING ON OCTOBER 17th Without Climbing the Wall ... Without Scare Tactics

... if you join the SMOKENDER Seminars starting in your area... and BRING YOUR CIGARETTES! Remember, this is the method that requires you to SMOKE AS MANY AS YOU LIKE while you learn to break the habit. It is done in small, manageable segments on a step-by-step basis. The trick is: HOW YOU FEEL AFTER YOU STOP. If you want to stop WITH A SMILE and with a feeling of REWARD — then come to a FREE Explanatory Meeting in your area, FREE because we know YOU CAN'T PUSH A SMOKER into quitting. We don't push. You see, we were all once smokers ourselves who did it with SMOKENDERS — we know how you feel! SO COME, and bring your friends. Remember — you learned to start smoking — this is an intelligent approach to learn how to stop smoking.

Meet Tillie Hubiak, Dollar Stretcher:

She processes premium payments quickly and makes certain that the right accounts are credited.

Tillie is Chief Clerk in the Cashier Section of our Accounts Processing Department. She has been with us for 33 years. It's her job to make sure the premium payments we receive are processed quickly and accurately. Quickly in order to make the money available for the $515 million worth of eligible claims we pay every year. Accurately so that the right accounts are credited, nobody's coverage is discontinued through error and costly, time-consuming membership adjustments are avoided.

Tillie is one of our ablest, most experienced dollar stretchers. Thanks to people like her and our other dollar stretchers, the operating expenses for New Jersey Blue Cross and Blue Shield are only a few pennies of each membership dollar. About one-third the operating expenses of commercial health insurers.

Cadillac presents the class of '73

Clearly, these are the most magnificent Cadillacs ever built. Not only for what you can see—the bold new exteriors and the plush new interiors—but as much for what you can't see.

You see here the new Sedan deVille, Eldorado Coupe and Eldorado Convertible. You don't see the six other new Cadillacs (more models than all other U.S. luxury cars have combined).

You see here the striking new styling outside—even more elegant for '73. You don't see the hundreds of innovations and refinements inside. To add new comfort and convenience.

And you don't see the many new niceties you may add. Like a lighted vanity mirror. A theft-deterrent system and steel-belted radial tires.

Clearly, you never had so many good reasons to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer. Cadillac Motor Car Division. The leadership shows.

Comment on Film

by Jon Plaut

John Huston's "Fat City" is a film to see, even though it does suffer some from mistrust of audience perception.

Huston has made films for over three decades. His work includes a few masterworks ("Treasure of Sierra Madre," "African Queen"), a number of extremely interesting, but not completely successful films ("The Golden Eye," "Moby Dick") and many pot-boilers. Through it all he has maintained an interest in melodrama in movies that can be readily understood.

Unfortunately, Huston has a tendency to pander to his audience. He distrusts their judgement and is often unskillful. This manifests itself in "Fat City" in speechy dialogue in which the characters speak out the morals of the film, so, presumably, the viewer will be sure to catch on.

After a number of unproductive years, Huston has returned to the limelight with "Fat City." A film about an intelligent, but down and out boxer (Stacey Keach) who briefly attempts a comeback in his profession and his life. "Fat City" is understanding and touching in its treatment of that principal character. Its insights concerning life for him and others on the outside of the middle class ideal in Stockton, California (especially the migratory workers in that food growing area) are well stated and moving.

Huston has rarely been cinematographically better than in "Fat City." His camera searches out truth about those who live the down and out life; about the sloppiness of the boxer's brief affair with his alcoholic mistress (Susan Tyrell); about the hopelessness of, yet common humanity engendered by the farm workers' plight; about the cruelty and false hopes of the fight "game," about the moments of mutual understanding between people; and about those glimpses of knowledge which are available to each of us.

There also is a completely unnecessary sub-plot, which clutters up an otherwise poetic film, between the young boxer friend and his girl; that sub-plot goes nowhere, (certainly not to the establishment of the middle class ideal, as probably intended). It merely provides the kind of expected small town morality that will allow some in the audience to recognize stereo types and breathe easier.

And yet, "Fat City" is, on balance, quite worthwhile.

The acting is generally first rate (although the thought bright) and the movie moves forward quite interestingly. Moreover, it holds the mirror of art to life and gives us fresh insight and realization of our soft and vulnerable underbelly.

leading to the gutter at the film's conclusion are an example.

Huston shows us Keach and a young boxer friend (Jeff Bridges), who had been trying to dodge Keach in view of his disreputable demeanor, in a coffee shop with nothing left to say to each other as they contemplate the worn out old counter man arthritically serving them. So much of what the film is about is in those images.

The philosophic statement spoken by Keach about life and the gutter merely repeats and oversimplifies what we see. Apparently, Huston is afraid we will not understand, so he unsubtly underlines his image and makes it uncomfortably preachy. (Comparison may be made to the comeback bout earlier, where Huston clearly relies on image - no dialogue is possible during the fight - to convince Keach and us of his impossible role in life).

College Club Booksale Looks Back on 37 Years of History

History was in the making on a chilly day in November, 1935, when the first Summit College Club Book Sale was held at 1 Woodland avenue. Among the 8,000 books offered for sale were an old Dutch Bible, printed in 1565. From the beginning, scholarship has been one of the major interests of the College Club. At the first meeting of the charter members it was agreed that one of the purposes of the club should be "to help individual students."

By 1937 "nearly every family in the residential area of Summit" donated books to the sale. A sales force was trained from the membership in 1938, and by 1939, members combed Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and New York for book donations while on summer vacation. One member even mailed back 44 choice volumes from Phoenix, Arizona. All proceeds were donated to scholarships locally.

Fared Bonfires
Some of the literature offered for sale in 1941 included "incomparable editions published in pre-Hitler Germany that may never again be available if, as it is feared, the plates are destroyed in the Nazi bonfires."

During the war years, leftover books were donated to Camp Dix and Camp Kilmer. Many people who purchased books passed them on to servicemen. The shortage of rubber and gasoline made collections difficult, but the community pitched in to help with two collection days.

By the late Forties, the Summit College Club was aware the sale had become a community event. Chief among the tales are those of the man who saved a day of vacation just to attend "The Sale" and of the man who each year buys a carton of 50 books for his winter's reading and then donates them back the following year.

Continuing through the 1950's, the increased success of each year's Book Sale and the ensuing scholarships to local girls, brought national focus to the Summit College Club, when the American Association of University Women asked the club to share organizational procedures with branches all over the United States, this being one of the oldest and largest book sales in the country. An article in the Summit Herald in 1956 remarked that probably more books have been circulated around Summit in the last 20 years than in any other city of comparable size, because the Summit College Club hit upon a successful scholarship, fund-raising venture from which everyone benefits.

Gift of 1,000 Post Cards
In the early 1960's, heirs of Oliver Wendell Holmes, who were once residents of Summit, donated a magnificent collection of 1,000 post cards. Among them were pre-1900 government post cards of Washington and of American cities, and exhibition cards from Jamestown and the Chicago World's Fair. This opened a new category for the book sale, which continues as a special feature table today.

The year 1968 saw the leasing of the now permanent Book Sale Headquarters at 10-A Aubrey street, through the Pedicini family. This enabled the amount of book donations to be increased and last year saw the process and sale of over 100,000 volumes.

Thirty-seven years of experience still allows for some amusing misplacement of books. "Down the Alimentary Canal" was found on the travel shelf; "Power Plants" in gardening, and "Our Mysterious Life Glands" in mysteries.

Since World War 2, leftover books have been donated all over the world. An estimated 4,000 volumes were given by the club to Morningside Community Center for its "Books to Africa" Project, specially selected volumes went to National University in Mexico, International Christian University in Japan; to Seymour, Connecticut, who lost its library in a drastic flood; to all children's hospitals in Union and Essex Counties; to Liberia, through the Missions of Africa; to the then new Marlboro College in Vermont to start its library, essential for qualification as an accredited college, to the American Merchant Marine Library, which maintains libraries for

Village Exchange Gives Local Groups $1,200

Libraries Helped
Donations of books also formed the nucleus of the Governor Livingston High School Library in Berkeley Heights, the new library in Roseland, a new library for prisoners at the Union County jail in Elizabeth. Leftover books also went to the Chaplain of American Seaman's Friends Society, supplying 10 different ships... and texts were shipped to Korea through Rutgers University, and to southern states.

Mrs. William Breeding and Mrs. Robert Prim, coordinators of the 1972 Summit College Club Book Sale, have had a large team cataloging during the summer. Over one mile of shelving includes books on art, drama, poetry, literature, foreign language, philosophy and religion, music, homemaking, nature, travel and reference sets. Special departments on the second floor of Book Sale Headquarters include children's books and the Americana and rare books section.

Books, prints, postals and rare magazines are still being sought for this year's sale, which opens next month. Bring donations to College Club Book Sale Headquarters at 10-A Aubrey street, (off Morris Ave., near CIBA). Donors wishing help with large cartons are invited to call the

In addition to the above, the Village Exchange returned this year more than $10,000 to local consignors who make the articles sold in the shop. The Village Exchange provide a sales outlet for the works of many local craftsmen.

The officers of the Village Exchange are: Mrs. Robert S. MacArthur, president; Mrs. Howard Edwards, vice president; Mrs. W. L. Moran, secretary; Mrs. Charles Smylie, treasurer; Mrs. Bertram Miller, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Daniel Sylvester, schedule coordinator; Mrs. John Gray and Mrs. John Farrington, jr., Workshop Chairmen; Mrs. Jack G. Ferrara, Mrs. John Hammett and Mrs. S. W. Strong, Food Chairmen; Mrs. John K. Mell, Publicity Chairman; and Mrs. Ernest Biglow, Mabel Frykman and Gertrude Smith, directors.

The officers and board will remain the same for 1973 with the exception of Mrs. Bertram Miller, who will assume the responsibilities of treasurer and Mrs. Charles Smylie, who will become a director.

Speed, Experienced Personnel Make Summit High Eleven Strong

A year ago Summit High's football team started its season with only four holdovers — two on offense and two on defense — and won the Suburban Conference championship and came within one game of a perfect season.

As Coach Howie Anderson puts his current squad through its drills for the season opener on Saturday, September 23, at Piscataway, the outlook is far different from a year ago.

Summit will line up for its opener with experienced players at virtually every position.

In such a situation, Summit will be squarely on the spot, but with the excess of talent on hand the Hilltoppers will be heavily favored to win the Suburban Conference title again and would seem to have a fine shot at the only thing that eluded them a year ago — an undefeated season!

Coach Anderson is the first to admit that he has a strong team. "We have a strong team overall, with a veteran available at virtually every position. We have great speed and a fine offensive team."

Minor Problems If Coach Anderson has any problems, they might be at quarterback and on defense. But these problems loom as minor at best.

Directing the Summit offense, which figures to put plenty of points on the scoreboard, will be Brad Paxon at quarterback. Paxon played behind Mike Reid a year ago, but missed considerable action because of injuries. That is one of Coach Anderson's few concerns. Paxon didn't get as much game experience last season as he would have liked, but the veteran Summit coach is confident Paxon will do an adequate job.

"Paxon is a real take-charge guy," Coach Anderson offensive backfield." Summit is blessed with an abundance of speed and talent in its three halfbacks. An anchoring line will be the other co-captain, Bill George, 6-2, 180, who is a fine receiver sophomore when he was and a great blocker, and the second leading scorer Dave Mahon, 5-10, 160, on the team. Wilson can do another good receiver. Mahon is not exceptionally fast, but he has good moves.

Manning the tackles will be Bob Ginsburg, 6-1, 215, the biggest player on the squad, and John Reynolds, 6-1, 175. Ginsburg was a starter last season, and Hplman, a two-year letter-man, are both sprinters on the track team. Holman is the conference 220 champion. All three have speed to burn and will represent a touchdown threat anytime they carry the ball.

Rounding out the backfield will be Mike Jimson, 6-1, 190, at full-back. Mike, a co-captain of the team, is a great blocker and will be called on in short-yardage situations. Jimson's chances to carry the ball will be limited by the presence of three great halfbacks in the same backfield.

Summit's backfield is big, strong and fast and its speed may be the most important factor. Summit's offensive line is experienced and quick, but not exceptionally big. Coach Anderson figures his offensive line will have to use finesse rather than muscle to spring its talented backs loose for big gains. ## Junior Baseball Sets Tryouts for '73 Season

The Summit, N.J. Junior Baseball League, Inc. has completed its first year of operation, having provided a program of baseball for 165 Summit youths. The season was a successful one due to the enthusiastic reception by the players and the generous support of parents and other interested citizens of Summit.

It is contemplated that the 1973 season will see an expanded program, which will again feature a Major League composed of teams with players of ages 10, 11, and 12, as well as a newly formed Senior League with players of ages 13, 14, and 15, and, depending on registrations, a new Minor League with players of ages 10, 11, and 12.

Teams will once again play two games per week. Larry O'Mahoney, 5-10, 170, an all-conference selection a year ago, and John Hyde, 5-10, 170, a letterman a year ago. O'Mahoney is injured at present, but should be back in action for the season opener in Piscataway.

Ginsburg also will play defensive tackle and will be joined by Dave Collins, 5-11, 180, a starter last season, or Kevin Steinhauer, 6-1, 195. Collins is more experienced, but is injured at present and getting a real battle from Steinhauer.

Joining Jimson and Gwathney as linebackers will be John Loggins, 5-9, 160, a good tough defender; Rich Portine, 5-9, 155, who didn't start last season but earned a letter, and Mike Hayes, 5-9, 160, a brother of Larry Hayes, who also lettered last season, but didn't start. Loggins, Portine and Hayes are lighter than Jimson and Gwathney, but will play as outside linebackers in Summit's 4-4 defense.

Play West Orange Summit will play two non-conference games on the road — Piscataway, Sept. 23 and Passaic, Sept. 30) before making its home debut on October 7 against Springfield Regional in its Suburban Conference opener. The only change in Summit's schedule will have West Orange, a conference newcomer, replacing Cedar Grove, which has dropped out of the conference to join the newly formed Colonial Hills Conference.

Summit's defense will be the safetyman, with Holman one of the cornerbacks. Gwathney and Jimson will be linebackers on defense. Joining Holman as a deep defensive back will be John Elliott, 6-2, 170, or Chip Twombly, 5-10, 160, both experienced players. The defensive ends will commencing in late April and continuing until the first week in July, followed by playoff and all-star games. There will be two coaches per team and two umpires per game. All interested adults are urged to register at the tryouts, or by contacting the league secretary, Paul Vance, at 277-4576.

As in its initial season, the league will furnish all necessary equipment (except gloves and shoes which the player must provide), as well as providing insurance coverage and a medical examination. The cost of league-furnished items will be partially defrayed by a nominal registration fee for all participants.

Tryout dates have been scheduled for Jefferson School field on Ashwood Rd. Prospects should appear in accordance with the following schedule:

Sat., Sept. 16, 12:30 PM — 2:00 PM 8/1/57-7/31/58 Senior — 15.
Sat., Sept. 16 — 2:00 PM 3:30 PM 8/1/58-7/31/59 Senior — 14.
Sat., Sept. 16 — 3:30 PM — 5:00 PM — 8/1/59 — 7/31/60 Senior — 13.
Sat., Sept. 23 — 12:30 PM — 2:00 PM 8/1/60 — 7/31/61 Major — 12.
Sat., Sept. 23 — 2:00 PM — 3:30 PM — 8/1/61 — 7/31/62 Major & Minor — 11.
Sat., Sept. 23 — 3:30 PM — 5:00 PM — 8/1/62 — 7/31/63 — Major & Minor — 10.

Each prospective player must bring his baseball glove, sneakers, birth certificate and the signed parental authorization card to the tryouts.

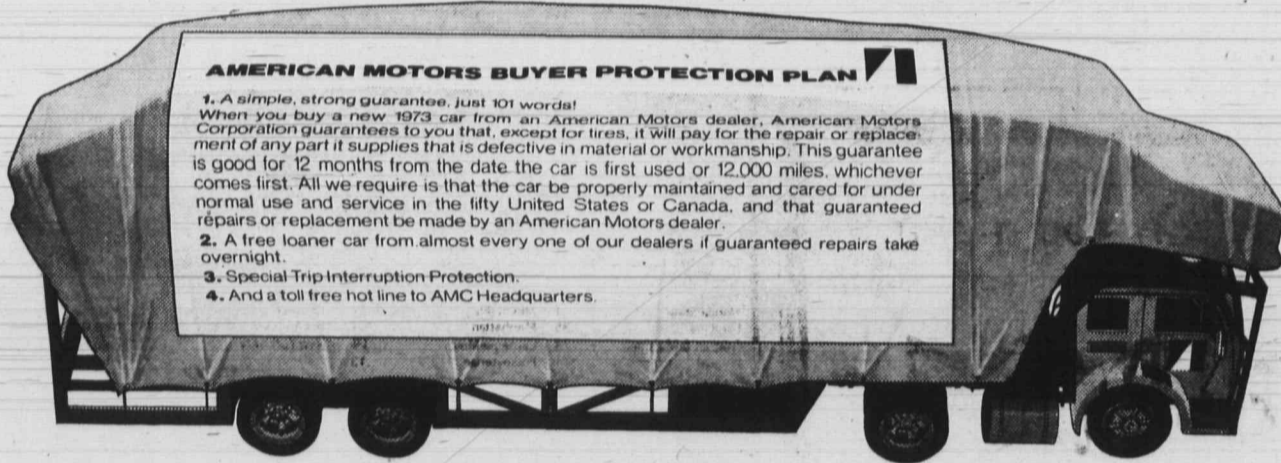

Players who were registered in the league during this past season will not be required to try out but must register for the coming season by turning in a signed parental authorization card no later than September 23.

In case of rain, the tryouts will be conducted at Edison Recreation Center.

Summit Touch '71' Defeated

The Summit Touch Football Club opened defense of its Suburban Touch Football title on a disappointing note Sunday with a 25-16 loss to Chatham Township. Chatham Township was as impressive as the Hilltoppers were flat. Chatham's quarterback Dan Erck set up four long touchdown passes with a short, precise passing game. Summit's offense was kept off balance by Chatham's aggressive defense. Summit's two touchdowns were made by Tony Cox. The conversions were successful. Summit's defense trapped Erck in the end zone for a safety for Summit's final two points. Next Sunday Summit travels to Morris Township, attempting to regain its winning form.

The 1973 American Motors cars are covered by something no other cars have.

1. A simple, strong guarantee, just 101 words!
When you buy a new 1973 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada, and that guaranteed repairs or replacement be made by an American Motors dealer.

2. A free loaner car from almost every one of our dealers if guaranteed repairs take overnight.

3. Special Trip Interruption Protection.

4. And a toll free hot line to AMC Headquarters.

The American Motors Buyer Protection Plan. Only American Motors makes this promise: The Buyer Protection Plan backs every '73 car we build and we'll see that our dealers back that promise.

The Hornet Sportabout.
The four-door, six cylinder Sportwagon that's easy to handle, easy on gas, easy on your pocketbook and very easy to fall in love with.

The Gremlin.
See our unique little fun car, Gremlin. The only little economy car with a standard six cylinder engine.

It reaches turnpike speed easily. It weighs more, and has a wider track than its competition.

The Hornet Hatchback.
The brand new sports car with room to travel in.

Just fold down the back seats and there's 23 cubic feet of cargo space.

The Hornet Sedan.
The good looking, easy handling, roomy compact. We built economy into the way the Hornet runs, not the way it looks.

The new energy absorbing bumper system on Gremlin, Hornet, Matador and Ambassador telescopes the front bumper as much as 3 inches and returns to normal after repeated 5-mile per hour barrier impacts. It's one of the most advanced systems in the industry.

The Matador.
The intermediate car with more head room, hip room, rear seat leg room and even a bigger trunk than any car in its class.

The Javelin.
The sleek, high performance road version of the specially modified car that has blasted all its rivals off the track by winning the Trans Am championship going away, two years in a row.

The Luxury Ambassador.
The only full-size car that comes standard with air conditioning, automatic transmission, a radio, power steering, front power disc brakes, tinted glass all around, white walls and 26 other necessities of life.

See your AMC Dealer today and get a car that's been checked so many times in so many ways, it's as close to trouble free as we can make it.

Summit High Booters Await Season Opener

Summit High's soccer team will open its season tomorrow afternoon in Berkeley Heights taking on its traditional opening-day rival - Governor Livingston Regional High.

Summit has dominated the series through the years, but the Highlanders of a Governor Livingston won in overtime last season and went on to post the best record in the school's soccer history. The Highlanders won the Union County Conference title and were undefeated until they were beaten in the final round of the State Group 4 Tournament.

Coach Bob Greenwald, who lives in Berkeley Heights, is not too sure just what to expect in tomorrow's contest - from his own team or from Governor Livingston.

Coach Greenwald has been working with a large squad - 27 players - but he has only four starters back from last season. The other seven starters tomorrow will be drawn from last year's reserves and from the junior varsity squad of a year ago.

Four Holdovers
Summit's four holdovers are spread through four different positions. Mark Baker is back at goalie, with Steve Berson at fullback, Tom Boak at halfback and Tom Brady at one of the wings.

The other fullback figures to be George Twill, Scott Thompson or Ken Peterson. Also battling for a fullback berth are Jimmy Lloyd, Dan Saylor, Billy Hoffman, Russ Heimstaedt and Robert Boyd.

Top candidates to join Boak at halfback positions are Quin La Reau, Steve Colson, Nick Ceto and Frank Balenziano. Also vying for a halfback post is Bruce Thomas.

Battling for the four open forward posts are John Atwood, Bruce Thompson, Tad Minkler, Eric Anagnoni, Tim Ilsley, Matt Bowyer and Rip Constant.

Backing up Baker in goal will be Winthrop Spence, Peter Brinkman and John Rice.

Following tomorrow's opener against Governor Livingston, Summit will launch its Suburban Conference schedule next week. The Hilltoppers will play host to Caldwell on Tuesday afternoon and will play at Madison next Thursday afternoon.

TENNIS AWARDS - Pete Desmond, left, and Laurie Weeks, who displayed outstanding improvement in competitive tennis this past season at the Copper Springs Beach and Tennis Club have been presented with Tennis Achievement Awards by Dave Steele, club manager. # Watchung Hunter Show Expanded to Two Days

In response to the ever-growing interest in horses, the 33rd Watchung Hunter Show is expanding its fall show to allow additional exhibitors the opportunity to compete.

On Sunday, September 17, classes will be held on the show grounds at Watchung Stables, Glenside avenue, for hunters, ponies, and equitation riders. In addition, three jumping classes are scheduled for $2,500 prize money.

The best jumpers in the east will compete in the Watchung Hunter Show received permission from the American Horse Shows Association to conduct competitive classes on Saturday, September 16, principally for Morgan and Saddle Seat horses and riders.

The very popular Morgans, a breed originally developed in New England, are extremely versatile animals, equally at home with riders astride or pulling wheeled vehicles. Both specialties will be on exhibition.

The flashy and talented three-gaited saddle seat horses and riders also will be shown on Saturday to round out a two-day show with something for all exhibitors and spectators.

The Watchung Hunter Show is run in co-operation with the Union County Park Commission. Proceeds from the show are used to enlarge the riding program and facilities of the Union County Park Commission in the Watchung Reservation.

Soccer Clinic For Boys

The Summit Board of Recreation will conduct a soccer clinic for boys in grades 5-8 beginning Saturday, September 23. All boys wanting to participate are asked to be at the lower section of Memorial Field at 9:30 a.m. sharp. The program will last for two hours and continue for eight weeks.

Registration forms are available at the Memorial Field Office and at the Edison Recreation Center. A doctor's health certificate will be necessary to participate in the program.

Each boy will be responsible for his own shirt, shorts and sneakers.

For further information, please call 277-4119.

The Item of Millburn and Shorff Hills

The much-heralded return of the classics is no flashback to dull, uninspiring fashions. It is rather the look of well-bred, pretty and becoming styles, up-dated to the 70's. For the first time in a long while there is a definite demarcation point between fashions for women and those for young girls. Both categories are fashionable, attractive: there should be no need for mother to dress like daughter, or vice-versa.

Coats make the most news for fall. They are roomy and big, a departure from the strict little princess coats of former seasons. In many shapes and lengths, they are natural partners for layered dressing. Some are narrow at the shoulders; flaring at the hem. Others have the new dolman or kimono sleeve effect and either wrap and tie or float free.

When it comes to length, the coats range from the little battle jacket, to the fingertip topper, the smock, the tent and the ankle length glamour coat bordered with fur. Most are equally at home over dresses or pants.

Whatever shape or length, coats are apt to be of a light but thick wool, often double-faced and unlined. Colors may be bright or pale, vivid plaids or the newest "no-colors."

No one should have trouble finding becoming dresses this fall. There are more varied styles than in many a season. Slim, form-fitting new dresses are the chemise, the sweater tube and the bare and bias femme fatale style. The loose dress is equally important and the chemise belongs here, too, in fuller shape. The smock dress, the tent and the evening caftan all belong in this category. Sleeves are the focal point in many new fall fashions. The dolman, modified to conform to the body and not to bunch under the arms, is seen throughout the collections. Other sleeve interest focuses on the kimono, raglan, layered and cap versions.

Layered dressing continues in popularity. Many dresses have jackets; even more have sweaters. Occasionally the sweater look is achieved in a one-piece dress, a knitted sweater top and flared and flippy skirt. Doubling the appeal of the sweater, are the twin sweater sets.

On into evening, the sweater, now in rich cashmere or glittery, sequined yarns, accompanies glamorous gowns. Evening fashions are long or short, bare or covered, but always in luxurious fabrics. When not teamed with a sweater, they are apt to have a fur trimmed jacket to match, a velvet chubby or a flowing cape.

ON THE COVER

feeling about plaids, with a long multi-colored satin plaid evening dress with chiffon sleeves and scarf. At Felice, 266 East Broad Street, Westfield.
 Right, Big news for fall is the big coat. Geoffrey Beene defines it in the melton coat superbly tailored with dropped shoulders and full back. At Lord & Taylor, Millburn.

Riding with the houndstooth; riding jacket and pants of double knit wool - add a skirt of pleats all around. Imported from Europe. All by Bleyle. Jacket 78.00. Pants, 36.00. Skirt, 38.00

PLAID PERFECTION — Kimberly's bold, indigo combo makes a terrific three-piece costume. Perfectly fitting pants are topped with a self-belted overblouse with rib knit sleeves and turtle-neck insert. Over it all a double-breasted pea jacket with patch pockets and welt seaming. At Tepper's, the Short Hills Mall and Plainfield.

Hats are destined to poll a healthy majority this fall. Kookiness having gone the way of all way-out fashions, has been replaced by the classic, well-mannered look. Hats become a component part of that picture.

Little-Hat—Big Fashion
 In anything from leather to knits, furs to felts to velvets, the small hat makes the big news. It accompanies pants for daytime, goes on through the hours and shows up as the final note for a glamorous evening costume.

Haberdashing
 The pork pie, the sailor, the snapbrim, fedora or Stetson, done in soft colors and fabrics, balance the man-tailored, classic looks that are season favorites.

Color, Color, Color
 Primary colors make a strong statement on the hat scene. Flaming reds, Kelly greens, citrus oranges and yellows abound. Gay plaids adorn millinery as trims, facings, or whole hats, often with matching scarves and bags.

Sweater Tops
 Natural companions for the season of sweaters, are the new crocheted and knitted hats. Sometimes combined with leather, fur or felt, the hats are easy to wear, perfect with knits.

SOPHISTICATED SUEDE — The Vera Maxwell original teams an "Ultra" suede shaped skirt with a cotton velveteen print bodice for a classically simple dress. Available at Jane Smith, Westfield.

SILVERMAN
 Only a bad collection by Shannon Rodgers could make news. He can be depended upon to create fashions that are individual, timely and most of all, wearable. This season is no exception. For the "year of the dress," he fashions a beige double knit with deep dolman sleeves, a drawstring waist and wrapped slim skirt. Another, of oatmeal bird's eye tweed, has an attached white turtle neck and its own separate beige long sweater jacket. An unusual fabric for a dinner dress is white chenille woven with a purple design circling the long full skirt and a close fitting u-necked bodice edged in purple.

DE LA RENTA
 This collection is described by its designer as having quality and subtlety — but no gimmicks.
 Pants are cut straight and cuffed. Most skirts are straight also, though when full, are done in such soft fabrics that they look slim. Coat lengths vary from the top of the thigh to the knee. They are principally full, counterpointing the narrow pants or skirt.
 The chemise dress, for both day and evening, is light and loose and where the dolman sleeve is used, it is cut without bulk.
 Three basic colors dominate the collection: dark green, navy and all shades of red. Several textures in one color appear often, although there are bright plaids for daytime and flowered satin in chiffons for evening.
 The signature of the collection, the butterfly, is used dramatically, multicolored and embroidered on a long black silk rayon gown.

ORIGINALA
 The new silhouette for Originala coats is away from the body and soft, a design perfect for topping today's layered fashions. Either dolman or raglan sleeves are used with the varied coat styles, with wraps, or shirts, or tents.
 Toppers, ranging from fingertip to 7/8 in length, are often in brilliant colors. There are pants with raised waistlines, trouser pleating and legs slightly widened and cuffed. The real suit reappears, notably in the three part unlined suit that combines jacket and vest with a slender skirt.
 Luxury is the word for evening. One floor-length wool coat in mulberry color is collared and cuffed in sable.

Fashion Recycles the Classics

Matte jersey is a favorite fabric for fall, followed by anything that is soft and touchable: knits, in cashmere and angora; brushed wools, grey flannels, camel hair and shetlands. For evenings, see-through fabrics, such as tulle, lace and net, have their place alongside the opulent embroidered satins, velvets and lames.

When it comes to pattern, plaids predominate the scene, in traditional clan plaids, in big bold blocks of color or in the palest of pastels. Checks carry out the classic look, in big lumberjack checks, Prince of Wales checks and district checks. Knit patterns achieve texture and dimension in florals, geometrics and figuratives.

Pale shades predominate among fall colors, with neutral grey and camel used to achieve a soft, feminine look. Pastel pink and blue are popular, too, and in the bright, primary colors, red is the hands-down winner. Often it is combined with emerald green. The dark horses are burgundy, forest green, bark brown and bittersweet orange.

Hats come back to complement the classic. There are big, floppy brims and small, floppy brims; tight, close clothes and knit caps. Many of them are in bright colors, plaids and prints.

Shoes fashions stand tall, with the return of high heels and platforms. Neat T-strap pumps, close-fitting oxfords, high heel moccasins and slingbacks are up dated to '72.

Sweater Dressing

Sweaters are a signature of the fall season, in every version from the little shrink to the twin sweater sets. They are found in almost every collection.

Malcolm Starr has a red lacy knit dress with a make-believe shirt tucked in the sweater line and a matching knit cardigan.

In the Pat Sandler collection daytime chemises and shirt-waists, pants, skirts and shirts, have their own sweater components. Evening versions of the sweaters accompany the metallic knits, or matte jersey glamor gowns.

For Rona, Mario Forte designs an elegantly casual costume of lurex knit, composed of the cardigan, the pullover and the long slender skirt.

"The Little Sweater that Grew" is the story at Maisonette. Jay Kobrin's sweaters, long, short and in-between are used for fashions for every hour of the day or night.

Anne Klein tops a sea-foam bias flared skirt with a matching cable cardigan sweater set and a beige sea-foam moire roll-back cuffed blouse, to make a smashing sports costume.

Glamour gown from Something! by Oscar de la Renta is the long evening sweater dress in grey angora wool with a signature butterfly buckle and silver lurex ribbed cardigan

Silver or black pailletted sweater sets are teamed with black crepe full-legged pants or floor-length skirts in Originala's fall offerings.

A "Bloody Mary" sweater set and plaid pants in wool are standouts in the Kimberly collection.

Davidow has an amethyst cuffed neckline sweater teamed with a classic costume in a shade of amethyst with blue.

An angora-mixed sweater in pale pewter grey is used by Francesca for Damon over a tailored knit shirt and cuffed, straight pants.

Bill Blass performs the neat trick of tucking a sportive navy cashmere sweater into a gathered, yellow, silk satin shirt.

The short-sleeved sweater-topper is seen over a long-sleeved dress in several fashions by Carlye.

Sweaters and sweater effects are numerous in the Jeremy collection. A pair of beige jersey pants with double-buttoned front closing has a short body sweater and elongated cardigan in wide bands of orange, wine and beige and an orange streak down the side of the pants.

DAMON
The layered look in knits gets new dimensions in Francesca's collection for Damon. The daytime dress is done in one, two and three parts, with plaids a favorite choice for the free-moving skirts, topped with tailored shorts and sweaters.

Jacquards as well as plaids highlight the one-piece group of dresses and there is a black turtleneck with confetti dotted bodice that has a chevron striped skirt.

The little black dress for fall and winter has removable white collar and turned-back cuffs. Without them it could be a perfect foil for all kinds of jewelry.

THE SOFT TOUGH — Teamed here with the tailored way in a knockout outfit. Imported from Italy, the fluffy angora striped sweater pops over man tailored pants, with wide waistband, belt-looped. From "Cuddle Up, Baby," the new corner shop at Bloomingdale's, The Mall, Short Hills.

Handbag Highlights For the Fall Season

Fall handbags follow the classic feeling in soft, pretty styles. Shoulder bags, in both casual and dress models may be pouches, saddlebags or deep envelopes. Suede is a favorite leather, followed by the smooth, brushed, antique or patent leathers.

FOR SWEATER DRESSING — Jaclyn's suede swinger in dark brown rust or black, is banded and strapped in glossy vinyl.

A CLASSIC PARTNER — Soft and easy handbag by Empress is in Lancina, a vinyl with a real-leather look. Slung from a long narrow shoulder strap, it has an outer pocket and several inner compartments.

CONVERTIBLE — Evening bag of suede is a slim, framed pouch with a chain handle that converts from shoulder, to top handle, to clutch. By Tammybrook.

ELEGANCE — Hilde Walborg designs a paisley

BILL BLASS

Designed for easy wearability and a throw-away look of elegance, the collection by Bill Blass is simple and classic.

Double-faced, feather-weight coats in tweeds and plaids, pair with skirts, blouses and dresses. One oatmeal tweed suit with a belted jacket over a brown and grey geometric print blouse, has a handsome, timeless quality.

The well-tailored pants suit has a washable suede short jacket or is topped with a navy cashmere coat. Dresses may follow the chemise or sweater lines or may be designed with dolman sleeves.

For evening there are short dresses in bright wools or subtle silks. Halter tops or shoe string straps are used on long gowns with their own coats, fly-away jackets or cardigans.

Colors in the collection are principally monotonous of greige or beige with flashes of brilliant red.

THE DOLMAN, roomy but cut with non-bulky lines, is seen on coats, dresses, sweaters for night and day.

Fur-Real Or Fur Fun

True

Fall furs take on the subdued look in pale and neutral tones. Golden sable, mink dyed camel color, white fox, add to the well-bred feeling of the classics.

Toppers and full length coats are full, flaring out or belted. Jackets range from battle jackets to blousons to small, snug fitting styles. Coat lengths run from below the knee for daytime to floor length for evening.

Fur collars and cuffs and borders are seen on many of the new coats and the fur-lined coat may be in the most casual or the most dressy of styles.

Or False

Fake furs seem to have earned a permanent place on the fashion scene. They show up in every kind of jacket, topper or coat, and are sometimes hard to distinguish from the real thing.

When not pretending to be something else, the fakes are frankly fun. Imaginary animals such as Stan Herman's "just plain critter" coat are lively additions to the scene.

ANGORA has come to light again. This time it may be blended with wool, rabbit hair, mohair or acrylics.

TRIGERE

Probably one of the most individualistic of designers, Pauline Trigere offers another collection that is uniquely hers.

New "Palatine" collared coats, in luxurious wools are standouts. The collars are wide enough to extend over the shoulders; the coats are often reversible from plaids to solids.

In dresses for all hours of the day or night, there is a new shaping for sleeves. They extend out, cupping the shoulder and emphasizing the slimmness of the waist.

Strapless ball gowns are in the majority, in brocades, satins, chiffons and laces. One accompanying evening cape is of blue, double face wool tied at the neckline.

JOHN ANTHONY

Coty Award winner, John Anthony offers a collection for fall that combines elegance with simplicity.

The silhouette is tidy and slim; torsos molded, sleeves narrow from widened shoulders; belts narrow and simple. Very well-bred and wearable dresses often have pleats that give movement without fullness. The chemise is a favorite of the designer.

For evening there are dramatic gowns in brown or black cigaline or evening pants suits like that of burgundy matte jersey with a green chiffon bow-tie blouse. Fur-trimmed coats include the luxurious white velour wrap coat, collared and cuffed and bordered with white fox.

A GOWN FOR ALL SEASONS — Cardinal's bias gown and jacket of fine French wool crepe, bordered with exquisite ruching. At Sara Lewis, 53 Main Street, Millburn.

GEOFFREY BEENE
 The topper and the jumper are Geoffrey Beene's themes for this season, providing the taking-off point for a witty and bright collection.
 The short coat is free and swinging, with drop-shoulder seaming. Some wrap and tie at the waistline; others meet at the center; still others clutch closely. The longer coats are mainly extensions of the toppers.

 Jumpers go from day into evening. Companions for daytime are wool turtle neck sweaters; for evening, silk shirts. Individual touches in the jumpers are the harness bodices, snugly fitted or the cobbler aprons curving below the waistline over full, bouncy skirts.

Pants in the collection are elongated, fitted above the normal waistline and widened and deeply cuffed. Jumpsuits are designed for both daytime and evening hours.
 The chemise is a favorite dress, in tweeds and jerseys for daytime; in velvets, lames and sequin embroideries for evening. A group of afternoon dresses features circular swinging skirts, and feminine ruffles are used to outline silhouettes.

Strong colors are a mark of the collection, bright greens and pinks as well as pastel tones. With the layered fashions, there is always a contrast of color between the components.
 Beene's collection always closes with a whimsical, put-on — this season, embroidered chemises in sequins, designed in traffic signals of stop, go and yield.

 CAPELETS can be found on coats, and in lesser numbers, on dresses.

SWIRL
Swirl in Fall 1972 offers fashions from its six divisions, all priced lower than you would expect.

Concept '70's has loungewear—robes, palazzo pajamas and long, casual shirtdresses. The fabrics, all washable, come in a wide variety of patterns and fabrics.

The sportdress and pantsuit are the province of the Spectator collection. Grey Orlon flannel is the basis for a tailored pants suit with shirt jacket. A black sweater-top dress has a bias plaid skirt and there are jumpers, shirtdresses and chemises in miniature flower prints and also in solid versions.

The Models Coat collection revolves around the simple, no-belt shape, offering dressmaker touches on the washable fabrics.

Long dresses and wide palazzo pajamas are in the province of Park East. One of the former is a rainbow striped dress with solid bodice.

Passport, the newest Swirl division, featured the long sweater top dress, the bare-back halter dress with a brief bolero, and the jumper with its own bow-tied blouse. Also included are a wrap skirt with a ribbed turtleneck and the pantsuits.

Swirl, the original division of the company, continues its collection of wrap and tie fashions for the hours spent on daily household rounds.

 A traveler's dream group in the David Crystal collection for fall is called "Put Together."
 It combines wool, hounds-tooth check, velvet and doubleknit. In red, black and white, the long and short skirt, pants, blazer and two blouses can be mix-matched at least 18 ways.

THE ULTIMATE IN LUXURY — Norwegian blue fox coat and matching hat are available at Golden Venet Furs, 217 Millburn Avenue, Millburn.

Height of Fashion

Fall footwear fashion rises to new heights—literally. Thicker soles, taller and broader heels show up in everything from city sandals to country walking boots.
 Pumps are important: as a spectator with layered platform and newly shaped heel, sporty and casual for wear with pants; in black satin with the new higher heel, for evening.
 The ghillie and the oxford, favorites of last season, are still very much alive. The 5-eyelet tie, for instance, is a natural complement to sweater dressing.
 The comfort of summer sandals doesn't have to be relinquished for fall. They are here, in suedes with bared toes and interesting soles. For evening, there is the closed-toe satin sandal that strips the vamp and ties high on the instep.
 Criss-cross and T-straps show up with all the new shapes, in a cut-down shell, or in an open-toe pump, up-dated from the '40's. Highest of the high are the bare, strapped shoes, on 2-inch platforms that push the heels up to four inches.
BELTS
 Leather belts are changing their image, scaling down in width and softening up on detail. Leather covered buckles create a dressier, more classic look.

SHIP 'n SHORE
 A mix and match marketplace could describe the Ship 'n Shore fall collection. Shirts in plaids and checks and solids, in tailored

a Fresh Look for your Home
 We Guarantee in writing that which others "shrink" away from. Any drapery that we process will not shrink! Don't you think it's worth investigating? Our plant processing results in revitalized, bright draperies, beautifully decorator folded - and they "drape" better than when they were new!
WILL MY DRAPERIES SHRINK?
 NO! Our professional cleaning process and our specialized DRAPER FORM finishing equipment permits us to guarantee "NO SHRINKAGE" in writing.
WILL THE COLORS CHANGE?
 NO! We test dye fastness and select the proper handling for your particular drapery fabric. We guarantee no loss of color as a result of our process.
CAN DRAPERIES THAT WERE SHRUNK IN PREVIOUS CLEANING, BE RESTORED TO PROPER LENGTH?
 YES! We can block your draperies to their original length, except where your draperies had thermal or chemical damage.
WILL THE PLEATS AND DRAPERIES LOOK LIMP AND SOFT?
 NO! Sizing and our technical knowledge guarantees that buckram and fabric have just the right amount of body and crispness.
WHAT IS A GENUINE DECORATOR FOLD?
 Perfectly parallel, vertical rolls from pleat to hem, shaped by heat and set by compressed air, while under gentle tension. Our exclusive and patented DRAPER FORM process gives you genuine decorator folds.
WILL MY DRAPERIES LOOK LIKE NEW AGAIN?
 Yes! Our specialized techniques, personnel and knowledge assure proper processing and restoration of sizing and finish. "Use" and "Abuse" factors, like excessive soil, sun and wear may limit results.
DO WRINKLES HANG OUT AFTER CLEANING?
 Eventually! This holds true for most fabrics. A feature of our take down and rehang service is removal of any packaging wrinkles right after they have been rehung. As a result you have wrinkle-free draperies from the moment they are back in place.
HOW LONG WILL I BE WITHOUT MY DRAPERIES?
 Our normal service takes about one week. However, special arrangements can be made to suit your specific needs.
WILL YOU TAKE DOWN AND REHANG MY DRAPERIES?
 Certainly! Our highly skilled installation service insures complete satisfaction.
WILL FREQUENT CLEANING HARM MY DRAPERIES?
 No! Cleaning removes imbedded soil which is an abrasive cutting at the fibers. Solvents and sizings used in our cleaning process, coat the fibers with a protective film, thus strengthening and extending the life of your draperies.

MALCOLM STARR
The always-festive fashions designed for Malcolm Starr by Elinor Simmons and Youssef Rizkallah retain a graceful ease. They are of velvet, chiffon, sequins and slipper satin, but still manage to seem casual in their elegance.

Two especially pretty beaded cardigan costumes are shown, one with a gunmetal satin dress, the other with a white satin crepe halter back dress. A long black velvet coat with glittering buttons teams with a Madam X princess dress, also in velvet.

For the super glamorous occasion there is a topaz matte jersey gown with plunging neckline, dolman sleeves and an ostrich-edged poncho.

MOLLIE PARNIS
Without denying the importance of pants to every woman's wardrobe, Mollie Parnis takes special delight in dresses this season. Of varying shapes and styles, they have in common, flattery and femininity.

Item:
A long white matte jersey evening dress with dolman sleeves, deep rhinestones on cuffs and rhinestone trim at the waistline.

Item:
The beige silk shirt dress with long sleeves, pleats down the front of the dress, pleated jewel neck with attached bow and a shaped self belt with gold rings.

Item:
The trompe l'oeil jumper, a grey tweed angora with white angora long sleeves and inset at the neck.

All are from the Mollie Parnis Boutique Fall '72 collection.

MOHAIR AND CASHMERE
are evident here, there and everywhere for an even softer separates story—in day and evening wear.

Pants-Persist
In a "Year of the Dress," pants continue to keep their place on the most-wanted list. For style, comfort and ease, pants are indispensable in a busy woman's wardrobe.

In every fabric from corduroy, to classic grey flannel to velvet and sheer fabrics, pants either have matching tops or combine with a variety of switchables.

Styles this season tend to be wider, are most usually cuffed. Waistlines may be lowered or raised high and belted.

Pants go everywhere. Depending on the fabric, they are equally at home on the snowy slopes or the Big Society Ball.

DAVIDOW
Davidow's impeccable tailoring is a fashion fact and the collection for Fall '72 demonstrates it anew. Detailing accents are part of the skill and they appear in a variety of belts, in deep flap pockets or a single breast pocket, in ring collars and slot seaming.

The coat and dress combinations include a full-skirted, blue tweed, belted coat over a navy dress. Another, of dusty rose and aqua British mohair is a princess coat over a matching wool dress.

Grey flannel is a recurring favorite, notable in suits with pewter buttons, the jackets lined in paisley to match the accompanying shirts.

SEASONABLE CHIC — The gold wool coachman jacket is worn over black double knit pants with a gold crepe blouse and black taffeta scarf. By Jim Baldwin for the Young Elegant Fall 1972 collection, it is available at Brooks of Summit, 410 Springfield Avenue.

Jewelry Has Many Facets

The fashion world forsakes the gimmicky in jewelry for fall.

PEARLS. Back again to perform their part in the world of the classics, pearls are of every length, with few or many strands. From the most elaborate strings for

DONALD BROOKS Donald Brooks defines his collection for Fall as "breezy, flip, dramatic." The clothes are casual, though not sporty, and there is emphasis on fine detail.

Fingertip-length coats (one of red and chartreuse plaid over grey jersey trousers, striped sweater and white jersey shirt, is a winner); dolman sleeved coats and tent coats, are all features of the collection.

Dresses, many of them handknits, may be chemises, dolmans or smocks and are done in bright, pretty colors. An unusually good looking dolman, designed for the tall and slender woman, is of white jersey with stitched darts at the shoulder and hip yoke.

Glamour prevails in the after dark fashions: in a tweed velvet coat with sable collar and cuff over a print crepe de chine dress or a black velvet and pink satin Infanta gown.

ALLEY CAT Betsey Johnson knows what goes with the young activist in her designs for Alley Cat.

For the cyclist her sportive knicker outfit in corduroy includes a short, many-buttoned jacket topping a flowered shirt.

Wool tweed roll-ups (to just above the knee), combine with a bow-tied shirt and a handsome long-sleeved, v-neck sweater. Great for biking or old-fashioned walking.

evening to the short pendants to go with shirts, they are seen everywhere.

PEARLS. Reflecting the culture enchantment with plaids, Diana Love designs a Scotch plaid collar for Trifari. Oval plaid stones are joined by a double elliptical motif. The theme is carried out in a matching flexible bracelet.

NATURALS. The beautifully polished wooden beads, edged with gilt or silvery metal rings, offered by Cadoro, are worn in three or five strands. Matching bracelets are meant to be worn always in pairs.

GLAMOUR. Kenneth Jay Lane fashions a spectacular oblong faceted crystal stone drop suspended from a polished silver necking and accompanies it with matching drop earrings.

CLASSIC. A gold pendant in Greek key design by Monet is meant to go it alone or in combination with other chains. Button earrings carry out the design in miniature. Each piece is available in gold, silver or the new pewter finish.

AND FOR FUN. Willie Woo with his dominoes and dice, his red helicopter pin with a big yellow door and two twirling rhinestone propellers or his panda pendant in shiny black and white, defines the lighthearted mood.

COSTUME DRAMA — Abe Schrader's pure wool double knit dress comes with matching beige jacket. Available at The Stones, 44 Elm Street, Westfield.

Little Girls Love Their Separates

Clothes for little girls follow the basic trends of fall fashion in general, but stop mercifully short of just copying grown up styles.

Separates are a natural way of dressing for the younger set. Nothing could be more practical than to start out with a body suit, the comfortable way to keep the sweater or shirt in place.

On top of the basic body suit, goes a flip young skirt, A-line or pleated, a little shrink sweater, a smock or blazer. Or substitute slacks or jeans for the skirt, and create another way of dressing with a one-piece dress, a jumper or a cardigan sweater set.

Part of the time, the layered look is only simulated: there are jumpers and blouses in one, skirts with shirts or sweaters that are really one-piece outfits.

When it's party time, little girls forget about being none of the gang. Short, full skirts, puff sleeved, smocks with lacy trims or big bows, reveal their wearers as beguilingly feminine.

DESIGN FOR DINNER — Shannon Rodgers uses white chenille woven with a purple design in the dinner dress with a figure revealing skirt and close fitting bodice edged in the contrasting chenille. From the Jerry Silverman Fall '72 collection at Bonwit Teller, The Mall, Short Hills.

SUITABLE FOR THE SEASON — Of birdseye tweed, the costume by George Halley for Claudia, is composed of a hip length jacket, box pleated skirt on a camisole, and silver belted cashmere sweater. At the Suburban Dress Shop, 319 Millburn Avenue, Millburn.

ADELE SIMPSON Adele Simpson's belief that the fall fashion message is "Everything Beautiful," is demonstrated throughout her collection. Her world travels are reflected in touches of beauty in Indian peasant embroidery, in jeweled collars inspired by the Tutankamen treasures at the British Museum, or lapis enameled buckles, with the royal ibis, bird of the Pharaohs.

Costumes are emphasized. Dresses and coats, or jackets and dresses, are shown for day and evening. One for daytime, has a brown, black and white tweed wool double-breasted coat over a matching dress. A navy velvet wrap coat tops a navy metallic multi-print dress. And for beautiful evenings there is beige gold lame brocade dress and jacket with rhinestone buttons.

KIMBERLY One of the stars in the Kimberly fall collection is the "go-with-all" coat, a wrap coat in camel wool knit that looks like cashmere. Its shawl collar, large flap pockets and belt have welt stitching.

Other new Kimberly toppers are a pea jacket, a little tent coat and a thigh-length warm-up coat with industrial zippers. Pants, never sold as separates, are in solid colors and also in menswear plaids, checks, and herringbones.

Dresses are deceptively "simple." There are sweater dresses, dresses with dolman sleeves, others with the new double sleeve (short over long) and chemises with knitted-in tucks.

For evening there are gowns and pants suits fashioned of wool polyester and fur blend, of Trevira or of metallic and polyester blends.

HALSTON Halston's interest in the return to the suit this season, results in a group which has pants, skirt and jacket as components. They are sold as a three-part costume.

A handsome new fabric, non-leather Ultrasuede, appears in the collection. Completely synthetic, dry-cleanable and washable, it is used strikingly as a wrap coat in grey, over a bone-colored cashmere sweater and cashmere blend pants. In chamois tone, the material fashions a smart shirt dress.

For evening, the Coty-award winning designer does drop-dead dresses. Newest is the white matte jersey, with long bias skirt, its halter neckline opened to its self bias-sashed waistline.

PAPILLON Soft lines, full skirts and lifted waistlines make the Papillon collection trim and tidy. The season signature is the "shrug," with an edging of hand crochet, done in wool knit for day and cravat silk for evening.

Watch For: Burlington's nostalgic pantyhose—opaque stockings with seams in shock color contrast.

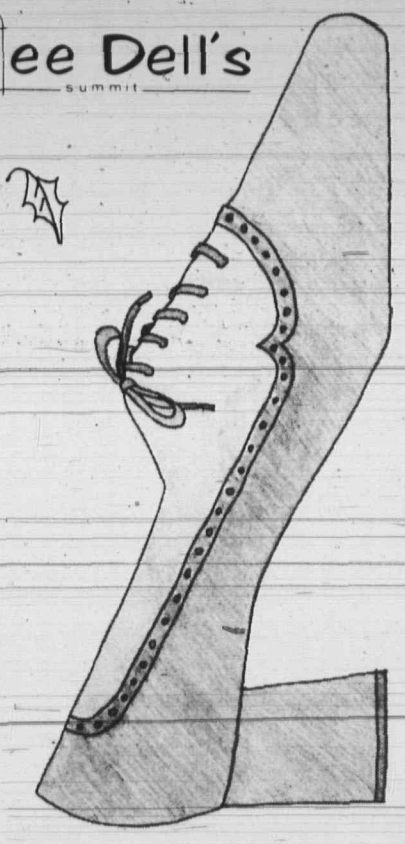

Pucci's new print for Formfit Rogers in a short nightie, a border print with the blue palette of Persian tiles.

The "Bareling-Bodysuit," by Vassarette, with the lowest possible back and plunging neckline, the 2-way Lycra tricot stretch, to go under the season's bare costumes.

Mathematics Fun With Fashions

The mathematics of separates is the favorite subject for the back-to-school and college crowd. Having gotten straight A's in it for the last several years, they are ready to go on to advanced classes.

THE PANTS

Jeans are perennial favorites, this season sporting rolled-up cuffs with print linings. Grey flannel trousers are a good basis for colorful tops. Of whatever material, pants are apt to be wider, often have cuffs. They may be slung low, or be high-waisted, with a narrow belt.

THE SKIRTS

Skirts are shorter and fuller. For the most part they are pleated or gored, although there is a new trend toward the straight and narrow.

THE SWEATERS

Turtleneck and crew necks are newest with the season's favorite dolman sleeves. The twin sweater sets, an old favorite, seem new to the teenage set. Sweaters are as important over dresses this fall as they are over pants or skirts.

THE BLOUSES

Classic blouses include the merino shirt, newest this season with white collar and cuffs. Another favorite is the bodysuit blouse, sporting a colorful dickey. Soft ladylike blouses in crepe or knits share the limelight with the cowboy shirt and the smock.

THE TOPS

Jacket shapes include the standout shirt jacket, often in lumberjack checks, and the baseball jacket, ribbed at the waist and cuffs. The wrap coat, with tie belt, the cardigan and the smock top are all natural components for the layer look.

THE COLORS

Plaids are popular to the nth degree, whether in vivid colors or the muted, soft shades. Bright reds and the yellows, hunter greens and soft, neutral tones are all a part of the fashion equation.

THE DRESSES

Dresses almost become a part of the separates theme with the addition of sweaters or jackets, a sure way to complete the look.

VIVA VELVET! Hapel designs an elegant collection of sport jackets in plush velvet. Classic tailoring and jewel tones distinguish the collection of coats for day or evening. At Wyatt Brothers, 138 Central Avenue, Westfield.

EAST VS WEST: Fashion tug-of-war in men's robes is between kimono and the traditional wrap bath robe. Today's new wrap robes have wider lapels, just like suits, and plaid is a favorite pattern.

PICK-A-COLLAR: There has been a lot of talk about the return of the button-down collar shirt, but the fact is men will have a wide choice of collar styles to choose from this season. In addition to a long-point button-down, he can experiment with the look of a rounded collar, the famous English spread collar or a pin collar. They will all be made to accommodate today's wider neckwear.

THE WESTERN INFLUENCE — Two-toned boots by Jarman are styled with high heel and side zipper. In leather, at John Franks, 207 East Broad Street, Westfield.

Easy Does It In Men's Wear

The confident, easy mood of the classics which has taken over the women's world of fashion, is equally evident in men's wear.

According to the Men's Fashion Association, this fall will find a touch of nostalgia in grey flannel suits and pleated pants, probably knit, neater patterns and softer fabrics, a lack of gimmickry, more dressed-up leisure clothes, but more casual business clothes.

The layered look of feminine fashions carries over. For men it involves a sweater or a vest under a sportcoat or suit jacket. It means piling color on color or pattern on pattern, or interspersing them with a solid for a toned-down effect.

THE SUI
The mainstream model for fall is, the two-button, with wide lapels, center vent and varying degrees of shape. Fabrics are softer and many flannels in both solids and prints are in the spotlight. There are updated versions of the "man in the grey flannel suit." Plaids, from quiet to bold, are seen in a variety of sizes and colors.

THE SPORT COAT
Sport coats are the backbone of a man's weekend wardrobe. Bold patterns are new in glen plaids, tartans and argyles. Color contrast stitching and leather trim at the shoulders, elbows and in leather buttons, is a rugged addition.

Stretch fabrics, knits and new stretch wovens are dominant in sport coats and there are corduroys for casual and velvets for dress-up occasions. In the versatile blazer, flannel is the fabric and navy blue the most popular color.

THE SHIRT
Dress shirts take to bolder patterns in herringbones, dots, stripes, mini-checks and twills. Many are knits, light and white grounds are seen often and solids are predominantly pastels. There's more collar variety, with button-downs, rounded, pin and spread collars added to the long points.

TIES
THE tie for fall is the solid color knit with a square end, fitting in with country suits and the more casual city look. Neckwear is still wide and runs the gamut in pattern and color.

SHOES
High heels for men have proved more than a passing fad. Colored suede, and leather, two-tones, crinkle patents, calfskins and types of soft, crushable leathers are popular. The soft loafer embellished with harness bits and chukka boots continue to be favored.

YOUNG POINT-OF-VIEW — Donmoor stays fit in dashing cable corduroy pants of Kodol cotton with a knitted turtle neck shirt. Donmoor fashions are available at Young Innocents, 44 Main Street, Millburn.

CHINO: THE DRESS-UP WORKSHIRT — Hathaway uses a soft, lightweight chino with the feel of fine cotton, to fashion a shirt with Mayfair Pin collar and barrel cuffs. At Mr. E., 335 Millburn Avenue, Millburn.

Funky Fashion Is Out

Tops and bottoms have replaced beads and fringes, and the layered look is taking the place of tie dyes.

Usually the bottoms are jeans and the tops are knit but for fall '72 the bottoms are moving into dressier fabrics such as velvets, corduroys, cotton velour and brushed cotton. Plaids, herringbones and neat patterns will replace some of the faded-blue denim. For that occasional date, pants may be a knit or the new pleated and deeply cuffed "baggies," possibly in flannel.

When it wasn't a work shirt, the young man's favorite top has been the skinny rib or turtleneck. This fall it could be flannel in cotton or wool, in plaids, argyles or tartans.

The layered look is a way to dress up and still be casual. For young men it is primarily a knit fashion, with many wearing a knit over a knit or knit over a woven. The outer layer is either a sweater, tank top or pullover. Look for plenty of scoop necks of varying dimension mixed in with the V necks.
