Forum brings candidates to the people

By MARY ELIZABETH DUFFY

SUMMIT — It was civilized. It was orderly. It was a Candidates' Forum, "Summit-style", at Calvery Episcopal Church on Tuesday night.

Sponsored by the League of Women Voters, the event allowed the three candidates "in the running" for the Nov. 4 Common Council election to publicly take on stand on current and future issues affecting the city.

Incumbent Councilwoman Marjorie R. Brown is running unopposed for her Ward II seat on council. Democratic candidate Phillip Schneider is challenging the incumbent Republican candidate, Councilwoman Judith L. McLendon, for her Ward I council seat.

The forum will be aired at 7:30 pm, Oct. 24, on cable TV-36.

Marjorie Brown

Although she is running unopposed for re-election, Councilwoman Brown asked voters to turn out at the polls to express continued confidence in her leadership in city government.

She promised, "I shall continue to be accessible to Summit citizens and provide them with responsible leadership."

A graduate of Miami University, she has been active in many organizations, including the Board of Health, the Zoning Board of Adjustment, the Planning Board and as liaison to the Historic Preservation Advisory Committee, during her 14 years as a resident of the city. As a council member, she chairs the Finance Committee.

Brown has been involved in the effort to establish a historic museum in the city by serving as a liaison to the Historic Preservation Advisory Committee. She called the possible destruction of the Carter House a "cultural and historic tragedy." Brown said that she was responsible for bringing the idea of historic preservation to the attention of the Common Council and the Planning Board.

Brown's first assignment as a "freshman councilwoman" was as chairman of the Railroad Station Committee. She worked with Councilwoman McLendon and Mayor Hartlaub to negotiate with NJ Transit to formulate a suitable rehabilitation design plan.

In facing the future, Brown said that her goal is "to keep Summit a highly desirable, family oriented, residential community."

She would like to maintain a "healthy balance" between both commercial and residential interests.

In reference to the current issue of rent increases in Summit, Brown foresees a "revolution" concerning who should determine increases. She explained that "changes caused by the new income tax legislation which no longer allows accelerated depreciation on rental units will put further pressures on apartment owners to convert their property to condominiums."

She explained that the shrinking stock of rental units due to condominium conversions will result in rental increases because of the supply and demand factor.

Calling rent control a "quick fix scheme", she believes that it will hasten the decision of landlords to convert to condominiums since "rent controlled property cannot be assessed for real estate tax purposes at fair market value." She added that lower taxes on commercial property would result in higher taxes for homeowners.

Brown favors strengthening the Rent Control Board and providing legal and social support to renters.

Phillip Schneider

Rent control is a major campaign concern for Democratic Candidate Phil Schneider since it is the issue which motivated him to become involved in politics and run for a council seat.

A tenant of 390 Morris Avenue, he became involved in the issue of rent increases when his landlord requested what Schneider considers an "unconscionable" rent increase at the expiration of his lease.

There has not been a Democrat on City Council since 1922.

Schneider said that he and his wife Robin chose Summit as the community in which to start a family because it possesses the resources of an "ideal community."

He said that his concern is for the people of Summit, 25 percent of which are tenants whom he calls the "middle income backbone of the city, many are senior who were past homeowners, as well as young couples just starting out."

He states that it is the city's seniors and youth who are affected by congestion and lack of housing. He is afraid that "their community existence is now threatened by a coming trend of indifferent external economic speculation and simple greed" which he claims will upset the progressive natural market balance which had previously occurred in the city. He points to the lack of rent stabilization as the root of this problem.

Concerned about what he sees as an emerging trend of outside speculators purchasing property from retiring landlords and subsequently raising rents excessively, often to finance the condominium conversion, before selling the units and leaving the city, Schneider believes that the landlord "obliterates" the tenant community which, at times, reaches back to the construction of the building.

Schneider asserts that it is "hypocritical to argue on behalf of the tenants that conversions are caused by rent stabilization." He points to rent stabilization as the protection against the "overnight rent increases financing such conversions."

In addition, he questions whether the city is secure enough in its Mt. Laurel obligations to eliminate many of the moderate income housing units which have been provided by such apartments.

Although he entered politics because of his concern for tenants, Schneider said that he seeks "to foster a mutually concerned community of homeowners and tenants against any economic onslaught." He claims that "fair" rent stabilization will not increase taxes for the homeowner.

Schneider promised to fight against the "ever escalating tax burden" which he claims is driving homeowners from the city.

He said that Summit, one of the 21 municipalities in Union County, now pays 10 percent of county revenues for 5 percent of county services, adding "it is time to pay for what we get."

Schneider's plan is to put pressure on the city's freeholders to lower this rate. He said that Summit's average income level has slipped from first to seventh place in the county and, therefore, the city must be eased of its tax burden by these other developing and established municipalities.

Schneider is also concerned about land-use planning in the city since he feels "historic and cultural preservation is in jeopardy." He believes that the Carter House should remain on its original building site, and not have a "factory in its place." He is concerned about "industrial development encroaching upon the Passaic River Green Strip."

Schneider called the closing of the Strand Theatre a "tremendous loss to the community and its heritage." If elected, he promised to personally attempt to persuade investment by another theatre group.

Judith McLendon
Schneider's opponent, Judith McLendon, was also motivated into politics by an issue facing the community which she felt was being ignored by the local government.

Three years ago, she became concerned over the proposed construction of the Collins plant next to the railroad station. She successfully organized a petition in protest before deciding that the ballot box was the only alternative to prevent its construction and maintain the suburban character of the city.

She successfully challenged the party line by defeating the incumbent candidate in her own party.

Since her election, she has attempted to open dialogue with the downtown area through the formation of the Downtown Advisory Committee.

McLendon counts among the accomplishments of her past term the rehabilitation of the railroad station and the "increasing cooperation between the city and its business retail district." She also feels that the parking situation in the downtown area has been ameliorated to a certain degree by raising the parking fees. It has helped to eliminate cars parked by railroad patrons from outside of the community. In addition, 92 more spaces have been added through the construction of a new parking lot behind the post office.

As a member of the Public Welfare Committee and Municipal Youth Guidance Committee, she has been involved in the establishment of a teenage night club, a Safe Rides program and Project graduation.

McLendon said that she is proud of her involvement in the Senior Citizens bus which services 120 seniors a week because it provides "not just transportation, but independence." She added that the Senior Citizen Housing Project at 12 Chestnut Ave. has also added to the independence of seniors in the community and she praises the people who made that project a reality.

One of McLendon's major concerns during the next term is the need for a new City Hall and, in particular, for a new police facility.

Citing current conditions in the Police Department of "a locker room that floods in heavy rains, a lunch room which doubles as the DWI test room and a totally unsecure front desk," McLendon said that the city's police officers must be given the space to operate efficiently.

She will also push for a new City Hall to "bring it up to a standard that we can be proud of."

McLendon promised tenants that if "rent increases result in a hardship for some, we as a community will be there to help. Summit has had a longstanding commitment to help those truly in need and we will continue to do so. We will not let you down."

Phillip Schneider

McLendon said that her goals of three years ago, to maintain the suburban character of the city and to strengthen the central retail business district, are still valid today.

She told voters, "I love the job. As your Councilwoman, I feel that I try to represent everyone of you and though I cannot solve every problem, please know that I am concerned and working for you to maintain all the qualities we care about in Summit. I need your continuing interest to help me to do the job that you elected me to do. Let's continue together."

Recycling to begin in spring

SUMMIT — The passage of a mandatory recycling ordinance on Oct. 7 by Common Council was the city's first step in a state-ordered program which will require all municipalities in Union County to have fully implemented mandatory recycling by the spring of 1987.

Councilwoman Anne Grimes, who is also a member of the Recycling Advisory Committee, stresses "The passage of this ordinance is not optional. It is mandatory."

The problem of solid waste disposal has become critical in New Jersey since many of the landfills are at full capacity. Recycling will reduce the amount of solid waste for disposal and therefore keep down the cost that trucking to out-of-state landfills would entail.

In 1981, the state set a goal to remove 25 percent of the material in the waste stream through recycling. In 1985, Union County incorporated that goal into its waste stream management plan.

Earlier this year, the Department of Environmental Protection, acting under the authority of the state's Solid Waste Management Act, ordered mandatory recycling in all of Union County's municipalities.

Summit has complied with the requirement to introduce a recycling ordinance by Sept. 14, and adopt it by Nov. 14. In fact, the city was ahead of schedule by adopting the ordinance on Oct. 7.

By Oct. 14, Union County must submit its county-wide plan to the state for approval.

Within two months of the passage of the 1987 municipal budgets, mandatory recycling will begin in Union County. Since Summit's budget is usually passed in mid-March, the target date for the new recycling program is mid-May.

According to Joan Buhrendorf, Union County recycling coordinator, recyclables will be collected from curbside twice a month. The collection will be conducted by clients of the Union County Occupational Center.

The county will take responsibility for trucking, warehousing and securing markets for the recyclable items. The fair share of costs for each participating municipality will be added to the real property tax and included as part of the 1987 budget.

Summit will continue its regular twice weekly garbage and trash pickup in the rear yard, with only the recyclables at curbside.

Robert F. Lee, who is acting as liaison between the Recycling Advisory Committee and the Public Works Department, said, "We know that storage might be a problem for some residents, especially apartment dwellers. For that reason, we will continue to make the recycling area below the transfer station (on New Providence Avenue) available to the public six days a week, as an option to leaving materials at curbside."

City Clerk David Hughes said, "After the final plans are made, we will have the widest possible dissemination of information to that residents will know exactly how to proceed with recycling."

"In the meantime, people should continue their voluntary recycling efforts."

The Common Council has received a number of letters from senior citizens and handicapped people indicating that the curbside pickup would be burdensome to them. Hughes said that the Recycling Advisory Committee and the Common Council will be considering this issue before the final procedures for the spring are drawn up.

Burkholder, Lapolla, and Franks to address taxpayers

SUMMIT — The Summit Taxpayers Association will present a three-level panel entitled "Tax Reform Begins at Home — City, County, State" on Wednesday evening at 8 pm, Oct. 29, at Calvery Episcopal Church, 31 Woodland Ave.

The three panelists: Reagen Burkholder, Michael J. LaPolla and Assemblyman Bob Franks, were chosen by the STA because of their high degree of competence in their professions.

Burkholder, the current director of administration for the city of Summit, previously served as manager for East Windsor and as administrator of Leonia. He holds a master's degree in public administration and has been on the faculty of Rutgers University for several years as an instructor in local government.

Union County Freeholder,

LaPolla, is a member of the Fiscal Affairs committee and previously served as its chairman. A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Rutgers, he earned his law degree at American University. He maintains his own law firm in Elizabeth, a city where both his father and grandfather were members of the Council.

The youngest member ever to serve on the Board of Freeholders, LaPolla is its liaison to Union County College and Union County Vocational School.

Assemblyman Franks, R-22 representing Berkeley Heights, New Providence, Summit and Millburn, is a three-term legislator and Majority Conference Leader. He is a member of the Joint Appropriations Committee and senior member of the Committee on State government. He is the vice chairman of the NJ Republican Platform Committee which develops party strategy and recommends issues; he is the only assemblyman to have been appointed to the committee.

After a brief presentation by each panel member, the discussion will open for questions from the audience. A short business meeting at 7:30pm will precede the program.

The STA urges all members to attend both the business meeting and the panel discussion.

Substitutes needed in Summit schools

SUMMIT — Summit Superintendent of Schools Dr. Richard L. Fiander announced this week that substitutes are urgently needed in all grade levels of the city's schools.

Compensation for substitutes begins at $40 a day, with increases up to $50 depending on the number of days worked in the school system. A minimum of 60 college credits is required for county certification. The necessary forms can be completed in the Board of Education's offices at 14 Beekman Terrace.

Interested candidates may call Board offices at 273-3023.

WOMEN'S HEALTH FORUM AT YWCA — Going over final plans are Barbara Greenbaum, Resource Center for Women, and Elaine Henry, Summit YWCA Women's program director, for "Women Networking for Better Health," a joint project of the YWCA and the Resource Center for Women. The health workshop, for all area women, is set for Saturday, Oct. 25, 8:30am - 12:30pm, at the Summit YWCA, 79 Maple St. Call 273-4242 for more information and to register.

Workshop to help by divorce families unraveled

SUMMIT — After the divorce, how do you handle the loneliness, play both mom and dad for the kids, keep them in line, pay all the bills, get your head — and your heart — straight?

These and a multitude of other problems that beset the unraveled family will be considered in the Divorce Workshop for Families sponsored by Family Service Association, 43 Franklin Place to help parents and their children ages 5-17. The one-and-a-half day session begins Oct. 24, from 1-5pm, and continues all-day on Oct. 25.

The healing process after a divorce usually takes two to five years. Emotional problems that are not resolved can continue much longer, plaguing new relationships.

During the Divorce Workshop for Families, lectures, discussion groups and films will deal with both the emotional issues and such practical concerns as visitation, custody, child support, child discipline and living arrangements.

Children will meet in joint sessions with their parents and also separately in peer groups. Peer groups help youngsters realize that they are not the only kids with such painful feelings, which gives them strength. Discussions with peers also aids children in understanding their parents' distress and the family situation.

The Workshop will be conducted by a team of six Family Service professionals with a variety of experience and qualifications. All are masters-level clinicians with training in family life education and all are accredited by their professional organizations.

Family Service Association of Summit is a non-profit, private counseling agency. It is a member of Family Service America and is the only counseling agency in Union County accredited by the Council on Accreditation of Services for Families and Children. As a member of United Way of Summit, Springfield and New Providence, fees for local residents are based on an ability-to-pay sliding scale.

For more information, or to register for an appointment to determine if the workshop will suit your needs, call Family Service at 273-1414.

Historical Society to offer a journey back in time

SUMMIT — "Life in an Eighteenth Century New Jersey Farmhouse" will be the subject of the opening program of the Summit Historical Society's 1986-87 program year.

Christine Brennan of Westfield, prominent in New Jersey historical circles for a number of years, will conduct the program. She is a past president of the Miller-Cory House Museum in Westfield, costume advisor on 18th century women's apparel, a civilian member of the Brigade of the American Revolution, an elected member of the Company of Military Historians, and Open Hearth Cooking Committee chairwoman for the Miller-Cory House Museum.

An acknowledged expert in her numerous fields, Brennan makes presentations on open hearth cookery, colonial table manners, 18th century wedding customs, as well as the various roles of women in the period of the American Revolution. She also has taken part in a NJ Historical Society symposium on "Peace Comes to New Jersey," presenting in the first person the changes wrought in home and community life after the American Revolution, as seen through the eyes of a Westfield farmer's wife.

The program, as is true with all Summit Historical Society programs, will be open to the public. It will take place on Tuesday, Oct. 21, at 7:45pm at St. John's Lutheran Church, 587 Springfield Ave.

Other programs to follow later in 1986 and in 1987 will include "Life in an 18th Century Town," "Furnishing an 18th Century House," "New Jersey's Early Role in Drafting the United States Constitution," and Sandy Brown in a special program "In Praise of Porches."

Yale lecturer to address forum at the Summit Art Center

SUMMIT — Frances Barth, artist and lecturer at Yale University, will address the Art Forum at the Summit Art Center on Sunday, Oct. 19 at 4pm.

Ms. Barth, whose work is included in collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Whitney Museum of American Art and the Museum of Modern Art, is one of eight artists currently showing in "Constructed in Jersey City" at the Art Center. She will speak to fellow artists and the general public in an informal gallery setting using slides of her own work and original works exhibited in the gallery.

The Art Forum is free and open to the public. The Art Center is located at 68 Elm Street in Summit. For more information, call 273-9121.

The Summit Art Center has enriched the area for over fifty years with innovative programs in the visual arts.

St. Teresa and St. John's promote 'ecumenical'

SUMMIT — St. Teresa's Roman Catholic Church, 306 Morris Ave. is sponsoring a Red Cross Blood drive on Nov. 1 at St. John's Lutheran Church, 587 Springfield Ave. and has scheduled one for next April.

Since these two occasions are several months apart, it will allow the civic-minded parishioners of one church to participate in the other church's blood drive as well; or make it possible for those of one congregation, who find it inconvenient to donate on one day, to take advantage of the other. This is what Pat Walters of St. Teresa's and Doris Boyd of St. John's hope will happen.

Both chairwomen are concerned about the constant need for blood and have arranged this joint promotion to increase the convenience for donors to participate. They are also urging anyone outside of their two congregations to take part in this joint effort.

If you are between the ages of 18 and 65, in good health, weigh over 110 pounds and have not donated within the past two months, you will be most welcome. The date for the St. John's blood drive in April will be announced.

Oratory Prep Parents' Guild to conduct musical fashion show & luncheon

SUMMIT — A musical fashion extravaganza and luncheon will be sponsored by the Oratory Prep Parents' Guild on Thursday, Oct. 23 at the Madison Hotel, Convent Station.

This unique show, produced by Moana Productions, Inc., of Philadelphia, will feature music by a three-piece band, a vocalist and dancers. During the cocktail hour guests may purchase tickets for the Chinese Auction and the off-premise raffle which offer very attractive prizes, topped by a raffle prize of a diamond pendant. Avon Products is donating a table favor for each guest.

Local residents Faith Menard and Tracey Davis, are the co-chairmen of this year's fashion show, and Betty Kenny of Chatham and Marianne Salkowski of Warren are conducting the Chinese Auction. Martha Fluhr of Westfield is chairman of the off-premise raffle.

For reservations call Mrs. Robert Pollock, 234-0984 or the school office, 273-1084.

YMCA plans Killington ski trip

SUMMIT — As the first chilly breezes herald the arrival of winter, many residents eagerly anticipate the beginning of the snow and ski season.

The YMCA is organizing a winter ski weekend to Killington, Vermont for the weekend of Feb. 6-8. The trip is open to couples, singles and families. Children under 18 years of age must be accompanied by a parent.

Robin Lawyer, YMCA physical director, says, "We are pleased we've been able to put together a great weekend so quickly. It should be a help in planning schedules."

The cost per skier of the weekend is $190, with four people to a room, $195 with three to a room, and $200 with two to a room — based on availability.

The fee includes all transportation on a chartered bus which will leave and return to the Summit Area YMCA, Friday and Saturday night lodging at the New Comfort Inn at Trolley Square, Saturday night dinner, continental breakfast on Saturday and Sunday, and a two-day lift ticket at Killington ski area for both Saturday and Sunday.

Reservations are open now, a deposit is required. For further information, call YMCA Physical Director Robin Lawyer at 273-3330.

Celebrate ethnic roots at YW's International Supper

SUMMIT — The YWCA is sponsoring its annual "International Dinner" on Friday, Oct. 24, from 6:15-8:15pm, at the YW, 79 Maple St.

The evening will consist of a pot-luck supper — bring your favorite "ethnic" dish to share — and a musical program, with entertainment provided by the talented Young Adult Choir of Fountain Baptist Church and the Gospel Chorus of Wallace Chapel.

Family participation is most welcome. For more information and to sign up, call the YWCA at 273-4242.

Learning is fun at YMCA's pre-school

SUMMIT — A new session of classes will begin the first Monday of November at the YMCA. The classes for young children include swimming, soccer, programs with parents (particularly fathers), gym skills and a class of learning, exploring and playing.

Thousands of people have learned to swim at the YMCA and this is often a child's first introduction to swimming, as well as the YMCA. This fall, "Sun-fish" lessons are offered Tuesdays and Thursday mornings from 10:30 to 11 and on Saturdays from 10 to 10:30. Sun-fish lessons are aimed at children 3-4 years old.

Tadpole swim lessons for ages 5-6 are offered Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 10 to 10:30 and Saturdays from 10:30 to 11.

In addition, YMCA Aquatics Director Cheryl Mitchell says the YMCA is offering private swim lessons for both children and adults. Call her at 273-3330 for more information.

Indoor soccer will be offered for ages 4-6 on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Bill Lovett, who has coached thousands of children in this sport is the instructor. The $44 fee for the seven week program includes a T-shirt.

The "Mommy & Me" program provides guided parent and child programs of development of the child's sensory, motor skills, as well as coordination, balance and body awareness. The class meets on Wednesdays from 10:15 to 11:15. "Kindergym" is another special program for children in which children learn basic physical skills including tumbling, gym equipment and games.

"Kinderaction," led by Edna Caporaso is a complete action program for boys and girls, ages 3-6. The program runs in continuous 8-week sessions. Parents may register their child for one, two or three days of this program per week. It's offered Monday, Wednesday and Fridays from 9 to 11:30am and Monday and Friday from 12:30 to 3pm.

For more information about preschool, or other programs included in the next cycle of classes at the YMCA, call 273-3330.

United Methodist Women to sponsor sale

SUMMIT — The annual rummage sale sponsored by the United Methodist Women will take place at the church, Kent Place Boulevard and DeForest Avenue. It will be co-chaired by Mrs. James Robertson and Mrs. T. K. Williams.

The sale includes wearing apparel, household items, toys, books, baked goods and a "boutique" table.

The sale dates are Thurs., Oct. 23 from 10am to 4pm and 7 to 9pm; Fri., Oct. 24 from 10am to 4pm; Sat., Oct. 25 there will be a "bag sale" from 10am to 1pm.

"Why do I want a health plan that limits my choice of doctors!?"

Because it gives you unlimited confidence in choosing your doctor. And that's important, because how satisfied you are with your personal physician plays a very big part in determining how happy you are with a health plan. And how healthy you'll stay with that plan.

The Rutgers Community Health Plan (RCHP) is a special kind of health plan: a group practice HMO. Our multi-specialty physician group gives you the security of knowing you and your family are receiving high quality care. Here's why.

At RCHP, our doctors examine your doctors, before they examine you. Our physicians examine hundreds of doctors, put them through a rigorous selection process, and carefully evaluate both their medical qualifications and their "bedside manner."

A handful of the most highly-qualified finalists are invited to join the Group. So you can choose your own personal physician with unlimited confidence.

The professional setting that attracts our doctors benefits you. RCHP offers you the exclusive advantages of our affiliated Central New Jersey Medical Group's high medical standards, ongoing peer review of doctors, ease of consultation and continuing medical education.

Our doctors admit RCHP members to some of the area's finest hospitals and many are on the teaching staff of the Robert Wood Johnson Medical School.

Gael S. Macleod to address Summit BPW's Oct meeting

SUMMIT — The BPW will meet Oct. 20 at the Summit Hotel for its Regular Monthly Meeting. The guest speaker, Gael Macleod, will lecture on "Mental Strategies for Wellness."

Macleod is co-author of the best-selling book, "M.I.N.D. Over Weight: How To Stay Slim The Rest of Your Life" and a corporate consultant and vice-president for M.I.N.D. Over Weight, Inc. whose wellness programs are successfully offered at multinational corporations which include Campbell's Soup Co., Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Ciba-Geigy, Warner-Lambert and Chubb Group of Insurance Companies, among others.

Macleod began this career after meeting her husband, William M. Macleod, who taught her how to use the mental strategies he pioneered to lose over 80 pounds in 1972, a loss which she has maintained ever since.

Upon the Prentice-Hall publication of the book, she toured the country with her husband, also her co-author, appearing on TV and radio to discuss this revolutionary technique.

Macleod assisted her husband in his work in the New Jersey prison system, adult school network and lecture tours. She now has a private practice in addition to her work as a corporate consultant, teaching the company's pulpit perspective

Be courteous

By THE REV.
WILLIAM H. STRAIN

We think of courtesy as something we learn in dancing class and not something expected from the pulpit. Yet, in one of the New Testament Epistles we find the plain and unexpected commandment: "Be courteous."

The early Christians saw no inconsistency in linking what we call good manners with the profundities of the Christian faith.

There is a faintly old-world flavor about the word "courtesy" that might account for its relegation to the "little league" of human virtues. The word derives from the manners of the court, and we picture elegant lords and ladies dancing in tapestried ballrooms.

Actually, courtesy goes back beyond Versailles or Windsor to the days of chivalry, the elaborate etiquette of the days of Chaucer's "very perfect, gentle knight." It is difficult to associate this pattern of behavior of a leisured class with the hailing of a cab on Ninth Avenue or people squeezing into a subway car on the IRT.

So courtesy has come to be seen as an admirable quality to be cultivated by those who have the room in their lives for such things. An adornment for those whose noses are not on the grindstone. Something to be prized by those who still set store by what we call gracious living.

It is seen as a veneer we strive to give to the young to make the little monsters acceptable in a civilized world. In our modern society, courtesy has lingered on in what we call "etiquette" — the little ethics by which we avoid friction and unpleasant scenes.

It is time we remembered, however, that the words "civility" and "politeness" derive from the Latin and Greek words for a citizen. The city is the symbol of communal life, and where human beings are thrown together, rules of behavior necessarily evolve. Without such rules, there is chaos. Civility and politeness are not mere ornaments but necessities of society. They are the laws by which we seek to live together.

The Ten Commandments have not only to do with the worship of God but with the civilities that make possible real human community — reverence for parents, rejection of violence, respect for another man's wife, property, and human rights. Civility and politeness are the basic laws that hold society together.

But the word "courtesy" implies much more than politeness. It is a quality that goes beyond the essentials for civilized society. It goes beyond the law. Courtesy means a selfless consideration for everyone we meet. It means a deep respect for the rights and needs of others; a reverence for all our companions on this planet. It comes close to what Dr. Schweitzer called "a reverence for life."

As I was thinking about courtesy this past week, a line from a poem by Tennyson came back to me: "Kind hearts are more than coronets and simple manners than Norman blood." I also remember what Prince Charles said once in an interview when he was asked, "What is the greatest thing you can give to your son?" He replied, "Good manners."

Good manners are a form of Christian love. They are a gift of the Spirit. To paraphrase Paul, we might say that "Courtesy is patient; it is kind and envies no one. Courtesy is never boastful, nor conceited, nor rude. It is not selfish and it is not quick to take offense."

This form of Christian love can be practiced with complete strangers in an office, in the stores, on the train, and in the streets. There are a thousand opportunities every day for a word, a look, a gesture which shows the other that we respect their humanity and have a reverence for their life.

There are two other areas for the practice of courtesy of which I must speak briefly. In John Baillie's "Diary of Private Prayer," there is one phrase that we all need to ponder. It goes: "Forbid that I should refuse to my own household the courtesy and politeness which I think proper to show to strangers." Do I need to say more?

The other area is the courtesy to be shown to the good earth that God has given us to care for. I remember once seeing a lovely patch of daffodils in a public park. It was good to see that courtesy had so far kept people from picking them. But right in the middle of the glowing flowers was a single beer can. A symbol of modern man's discourtesy to Mother Nature.

And may I remind you of the Good News of the infinite courtesy of God. Think of the courtesy with which Christ treated every human being that he met. Never was any man, woman or child a nuisance to be brushed aside or ignored.

Christ is still this courteous savior. He does not force his way where he is not wanted. With an infinite patience he waits for our response. "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock — if anyone hears my voice, and opens the door, I will come in, and sup with them and they with me." He does not assault us with his sovereign power but woos us with the mystery of his love.

Teenage quality of life in Summit looking up

To the editor:

The needs of our city's young people have long been a special concern for Judy McLendon, candidate for reelection on Nov. 4 to the Common Council. During her first term, much of her energy was devoted to making citizens, parents and educators aware of the fact that our youth were, in her opinion, being short-changed. "There is so much that can and must be done for them," she could often be heard remarking.

Needless to say, Judy's perseverance is now paying off. The recent hiring by the city of Steve Hadley as Youth Services Director, the broadening of the scope of the Municipal Youth Guidance Council, and the re-opening of our teen center all mark a dramatic change in our city's ability to recognize our young people's needs and to implement changes which bring results.

There is so much activity emanating from the Community Center on Chestnut Street that the casual observer cannot help but be struck by the ebullience of those involved. Steve Hadley's strong leadership qualities are felt at once, his exuberance, sensitivity and friendliness, combining to draw even the more reticent teens to the programs he has begun to implement.

The Center itself is equipped with a big-screen TV, a pool table, a ping-pong table, video games, a computer and board games. On Thursday nights from 7:30 to 9 a Youth Forum addresses a variety of current youth interests, problems and issues. The Youth Incentive Job Program, under Steve's direction, is a point system in which a young person, under contract, can work toward a goal of his or her choice, such as fishing equipment, a new bicycle, or a week at camp. One such service project, for example, is to help older citizens to comply with the mandatory recycling program, a task which may present a hardship for some elderly people.

There are abundant planned activities inviting participation by young people. On Saturday, Nov. 1, for example, a bus will take fans to see a New Jersey Devils hockey game. Four dollars buys the ticket; the bus is free. Grades 4 through 6 can enjoy a movie at the Center every Saturday at 2pm grades 7 through 12 every Friday at 8pm. The movies are free.

Bulletin boards in the junior high and high school post local job listings, service projects, recreation opportunities, sport news and youth trips. The Center's after-school and weekend hours are widely posted. Incidentally, teenagers themselves will be given the responsibility of opening and closing the Center.

Steve Hadley's enthusiasm is catching. If you should run into him during his busy daytime schedule of visiting local schools, negotiating with the city, or soliciting parent support, you will be encountering a young man whose smile exudes openness and warmth. Oh, and by the way, Judy McLendon is smiling too, and for good reason.

ThankstoBH League of Women Voters

To the editor:

We would like to call the attention of the community to the ongoing work of the Berkeley Heights League of Women Voters — a small but active non-partisan group committed to encouraging the informed participation of citizens in government at all levels.

The annual Candidates Night which provides an opportunity to meet and question the local candidates for Township Committee will be held next Wednesday evening, Oct. 22, at Columbia School.

The Candidate Sheets which provide information on, not only the local candidates, but county and state as well, have been prepared and printed; and thanks to the Senior Citizens who again helped with their addressing, they are now in the mail to all registered voters. This service has been financed by our League in the past, although rising costs necessitate our seeking financial help from others.

Registration of voters is another service provided by the League. We go to the High School each spring to register 18-year-olds (120 this year), and attend each Back-to-School Night to reach newcomers. This year we were pleased to expand this service to the Little Flower School, where 16 new residents registered, bringing the total to 75. Our members also go to Runnels Hospital each year to assist the patients there in completing their absentee ballots.

Voter Service is just one phase of League activities, but it requires tremendous personal effort and an investment of both time and money, and should not be taken for granted.

Plaudits for Judy McLendon

To the editor:

For the last three years, the Summit Downtown Beautification Committee has had as one of its priorities the enhancement of Summit's storefronts and cooperation among our committee members, merchants, city officials and the Chamber of Commerce has resulted in some very attractive renovations.

Our Committee efforts will continue and success to date is due in no small part to Ward I Councilwoman Judy McLendon's efforts and support.

As a member of the Summit Downtown Beautification Committee, I would like to see Judy McLendon's reelection to office so that we can continue to call on her valuable assistance in perpetuating the progress we have all made to date in providing Downtown Summit with an attractive atmosphere for visiting and shopping.

Council needs new blood

To the editor:

I would like to make two observations on our city government which I have been wanting to do for several years but hesitated to do so for fear of hurting feelings. I write from the perspective of a city official for some 30 years, beginning in 1947 when I was a young man fresh from the wars and a young lawyer returned to his home town, with a few years off between the end of my service on the Planning Board and my service on the Civil Rights Commission.

In those days there seemed to be an understanding that council persons would serve two, or at the most three, 3-year terms and then either retire or gracefully taper off as mayor and then retire. New blood was thus constantly being added, bringing new ideas and approaches and making certain there was no stultification, no atrophy. I was acutely aware of this, having seen what 25 years of the same mayor had done to Morristown and was doing to Union, no matter how well-intentioned they were. There was a certain hardening of the arteries which we avoided in Summit. At the moment, this tradition has been strayed from and I think it would be healthy to return to it and then stick to it. In my 14 years as city clerk and councilman-at-large, I saw many different councils, sometimes a different one within two years, sometimes longer, and that continued until recently. It worked well.

One other positive result was that in the transition from council to mayor, the mayor, having served for a number of years on the Council, was able to work well and smoothly with his former colleagues on the council. Following this tradition would, I am sure, have avoided the police raid on our school records which gave Summit such notoriety and embarrassment. It is a system which works well, given that we have a strong council-weak mayor system of government.

The other observation is more recent in that in the last contested Republican primary of a year and a half ago, one of the candidates had as her campaign manager a builder-developer. That I think was a grave mistake and a dangerous precedent.

Builders seem always to be trying to obtain more than our ordinances entitle them to as they attempt to exploit the city and what it has become over the years. Our minimums become their maximums and they then try to get below our minimum standards. For one to have been a successful campaign manager and then appear before the council or a city board asking for relief would give the appearance of a conflict of interest. That is not the Summit I know and am proud of, and never will be, I hope.

Examine deeds, not words

To the editor:

The recent litigation brought by the City of Rahway against Union County relating to the proposed resource recovery project has resulted in a stream of shameful personal attacks and smears against me and other Rahway officials by Union County Republicans.

Largely overlooked by the news media and others while this smokescreen of character assassination continues are the merits of the complaints Rahway has brought before a court of law. We will not try this case in the newspapers, but our success in court to date should at least serve as a tocsin that there is much more involved here than "politics" or "frivolous allegations." Courts do not grant injunctions based on "politics" or "frivolous allegations."

While the easy way out for interested observers is to simply label this dispute a political controversy, we in Rahway shall continue to assure everyone that it is not, knowing that we have the proof.

Those who are interested in this dispute should examine the deeds, not the words, of those involved. We in Rahway have achieved the great success we have with resource recovery with a seven year record of managing it in a professional, non-partisan way. The blame for politicization of resource recovery rests squarely on the shoulders of Freeholder Chairman O'Keefe and his party colleagues. They owe many explanations to the people of Union County, including why they made the Utilities Authority a strictly partisan board, instead of a professional one.

Whatever my personal political beliefs, I am first and foremost a professional manager. I invite anyone to compare my professional record of sixteen years with the failures of Mr. O'Keefe and his majority to properly manage County government, whether it be on resource recovery, the County jail, the County hospital, or anything else.

Calling me names may make good news copy, but it reflects more on the character of those doing it than it does on me. And no matter how much they try to smear us, we are going to continue to insist that resource recovery be managed professionally, not politically. We feel this is our duty to the people of Rahway and the people of Union County and, as long as that goal is met, we will sacrifice anything, including the chairmanship of the Utilities Authority. Our record speaks for itself.

Let's work together to find housing site

To the editor:

Location ... location ... location. Those were the words of our N.J. realtors as we searched for the ideal locale after a job transfer brought us here eight months ago. We found the perfect home on a beautiful - totally private - wooded lot in the charming borough of New Providence.

Over the course of eight months we have been dealt a few cards which we had not anticipated. Horrendous taxes, the possibility of no high school for our children in the years to come and now the lowest blow of all, the prospect of low-income housing on the lots which border our home.

Our quaint neighborhood will lose its natural tranquility so that the borough may meet its own obligations for low income housing. Our family and those who share this bit of nature in suburbia feel this is totally unfair. If you were to park your car on Madison or Pitney Avenues any day at any time and listen to the sounds that permeate the area you might garner a better understanding of this tranquility which we value so highly. Several varieties of small animals make their home here, not to mention all of the neighboring children who have spent countless hours exploring their natural surroundings. A much safer environment than playing in the street, which is far too busy already (before the proposed 100 or more units are built). The quantity of living things that will be displaced when those bulldozers roll in is overwhelming.

Why, when there are so many viable alternatives such as the property on Elkwood which is much closer to town or the alternatives that our neighboring Chatham Township or Watchung have opted for, are you looking at this property so intently?

I hope the planning board will find less humor in our despair than was displayed at Tuesday evening's meeting. Granted, we should have low income housing but let us find the appropriate place. Let us work together — surely with our collective brains we could implement any one of a half dozen alternatives with much greater support than this project has now.

FAITOUTE

"FREE SAFETY PUMPKINS"

The Faitoute Agency is concerned about the welfare of children as they "trick or treat" on Halloween.

To help parents protect their children when they are out trick-or-treating, the agency is offering free safety paper pumpkins with 14 Halloween safety tips printed on the back. The pumpkins are available at either of the agency's two offices at 3 Beechwood Rd., Summit or 44 South St., New Providence.

These pumpkins are specially treated with Day-Glow ink to reflect automobile headlights at night - so pin one on your children's costumes for their safety and use the 14 safety tips.

They are also available at The Independent Press, 80 South St., New Providence, and will be offered to local schools.

Any civic groups or organizations interested in obtaining these safety pumpkins, should contact either office of the Faitoute Agency.

Stony Hill Players present: 'Godspell' at Legion Hall

NEW PROVIDENCE — "Turn back, O man, forswear thy foolish ways." So the Stony Hill Players will sing as they present "Godspell" on opening night, Fri., Oct. 24, at Legion Hall on Elkwood Avenue. The curtain will go up at 8pm on this extraordinary gospel musical which will also be presented Oct. 25 and 31 and Nov. 1, 7 and 8.

A cast of nine — Jennifer Ross, Jennifer Wadsack, Ella Ackerman, Beckie Shephard, Kathleen McCann, Joel Miller, Mike Mundth, Sid Wallace and Bill Groh — will present a modern version of St. Matthew's gospel. The teachings and parables of the gospel are conveyed in song, dance, pantomime and wry humor. Although delightfully different in approach, the play remains true to the word and spirit of St. Matthew's message. From the singing of "Prepare ye the way of the Lord" to "O Bless the Lord, my soul" and to "O God, you're dead — Long live God," the players capture the joy and the sorrow of Christ's ministry and death for those who followed him.

"Godspell" is directed by Richard Van Schoik, with musical direction by Bill Houpt. The producer is Mary Ellen Calvert. They are preparing a most appealing, highly enthusiastic, happy, sometimes poignant and frequently pixyish romp through the gospel. It delights, yet instructs. It lifts the soul to sing: "Day by day, day by day. Oh dear Lord three things I pray. To see thee more clearly, love thee more dearly, follow thee more nearly, day by day."

To purchase tickets, call Joyce Allen at 464-7312 or MaryEllen Calvert at 464-7716. Tickets will also be available at the door.

FAMILY FUN NIGHT: Mark Stolzenberg, a clown and mime artist, guarantees to entertain the entire family in "Silent Comedy," the first of a series of four fun nights to be spread throughout the school year. Don't miss this one, in the Franklin School gym on Friday, Oct. 24 at 7:30pm. Admission is $1 per person, payable at the door. Everyone is welcome.

Enesco Quartet of Paris to open season for Chamber Music Guild

SUMMIT — The Enesco Quartet of Paris will introduce the 1986-87 music series sponsored by the Chamber Music Guild, Music-in-the-Round. The program of works by Beethoven, Haydn and Bartok will be held on Sunday, November 2, in Christ Church, 66 Highland Ave., Short Hills, at 4pm.

To encourage school-age musicians, the Chamber Music Guild invites children playing instruments of the string quartet to attend the free concert.

Refreshments will be served after the performance.

For ticket and series information, call Gerhild Keith, 522-1393.

The Enesco Quartet has won many awards for distinguished performance, in particular the coveted Grand Prix in the International Chamber Music Competition in 1981. During its first North American tour in 1984, the Quartet received wide critical acclaim in major cities including New York.

Nature club to present wildlife film series

SUMMIT — The Summit Nature Club will soon begin its 38th season of wildlife film presentations, narrated in person by eminent naturalists from across the country.

This series of five Outdoor Film Adventures will take audiences on a worldwide nature tour, starting with creatures of the Okefenokee Swamp in Georgia and Florida, and ending with birds of the Antarctic filmed by Roger Tory Peterson.

Programs will take place at the Chatham Middle School, Lum Avenue, at 8:15pm on the following dates: Wednesday, October 22, "Down Upon the Suwannee" by Richard Kern; Monday, December 1, "Amazonia" by Jerzy Grabowski; Tuesday, February 24, "Bermuda ... Gem of the Atlantic" by Tom Sterling; Wednesday, March 18, "Outdoor Yearbook" by Steve Maslowski; Wednesday, March 18, "Outdoor Yearbook" by Steve Maslowski; and Monday, April 27, "Birds of Seven Continents" filmed by Roger Tory Peterson and narrated by Herman Kitchen.

Season tickets for the five films can be purchased for $15 from Martin Page, 180 Commonwealth Avenue, New Providence, NJ 07974; phone 464-6297. Single admissions at the door will be $4.50 for adults and $1.00 for students. Proceeds are used to fund the club's conservation and educational projects, including afternoon showings of the same films to children at public elementary schools in this area. For more information, call Mr. Page or Frank Cresson, Summit, 277-1438.

'Ghostwalk' to highlight historic Speedwell's annual fall festival

MORRISTOWN — Historic Speedwell will conduct its annual Fall Festival on Saturday, Oct. 25, from noon to 5pm.

The festival events include a traditional crafts show and demonstration as well as the annual "Ghostwalk at Speedwell." Activities during the afternoon include a Halloween Costume Contest at 3pm and 19th century games contest with prizes for children.

The highlight of the day will be the traditional "Ghostwalk" to search for the infamous Antoine LeBlanc at Speedwell held at 2 and 4pm. A convicted murderer of three members of the Morristown Sayer Family, LeBlanc was the last man hung on the Morristown Green in 1833. Rumors have it, he still searches for his skin which was removed from his body after the hanging to pay for his trial and burial costs.

The museum buildings will be open for tours throughout the day. Cider and donuts will be available to the public at a nominal charge. A free shuttle service will be available from 12:30-4:30pm to the museum from the Vail School Parking Lot (located 1/4 mile north of the museum).

Admission to the Festival is adults - $3, seniors - $2, children - $1. Historic Speedwell is located one mile north of the Morristown Green on Route 202.

THE HERALD is happy to print social announcements, including births, engagements, weddings and anniversaries — at no charge!

Necomer debuts with Calvary Chorale

SUMMIT — Lauran Fulton Corson, Texan by birth, and Chathamite by marriage, will make her area concert debut with the Calvary Chorale and orchestra as soprano soloist in Mozart's brilliant "Mass in C Minor," Sun., Oct. 19 at 4pm, Calvary Church, 31 Woodland Ave.

Corson has sung major roles with many national opera companies, including Pittsburgh, Lake George and Long Beach Opera. She received her Masters in Music from the University of Michigan and attended the Juilliard School of Professional Opera Studies, and is presently teaching at the Performing Arts Center of Summit and the Hebrew Arts School, New York City.

This mass was written to fulfill a personal vow: that if Constance became his wife, Mozart would have a mass of his own composition performed in Salzburg, where the newly married couple would travel to present the bride to Mozart's father, Leopold. Mozart married Constance on August 4, 1782, and in August of 1873 this mass was presented at the Salzburg Peterkirche, with Constance singing one of the soprano parts. The "Credo" and "Agnus" were still incomplete, and these movements were taken from earlier church works.

Mozart never did finish either the "Credo" or "Agnus Dei" so this mass did not meet the requirements for liturgical performance, and consequently was not used. At the turn of the century, Alois Schmitt tried to add the missing parts. His efforts, though unsuccessful, did serve to bring this grand mass back into the repertoire. Today it is used as a concert piece, rather than a liturgical composition, and is performed in the original version without the missing movements.

The movements Mozart did complete "express an emotional scope and musical maturity that merit performance."

The concert is open to the public. Admission is free but an offering will be taken.

For more information, call 277-1814 or 635-5505.

Hilltoppers impress in defeating Scotch Plains

The first half of the soccer season has been frustrating to Coach Lou DiParisi and his Summit squad. The Hilltoppers have been right in the ballgame against some highly regarded opponents, but the kind of mistakes towards which inexperienced teams are prone have kept the locals from coming out on top.

DiParisi documents a skein of four straight defeats which illustrate that point. There was a 2-0 loss to Millburn followed by an overtime defeat at Pingry, a match which saw Summit surrender the winning goal in the second extra session. Next came a 3-2 loss to Ridge in which the Hilltoppers led their very high regarded foe 2-1 at the half. And the most recent setback was a 1-0 contest with Cranford where the match's lone goal occurred with 1:02 left to play.

Millburn, Pingry, and Ridge are three of the better teams in the state. And in terms of all-around performance, DiParisi cites the Cranford game as Summit's best effort of the season so far. Yet the Toppers came away from those four outings with four close defeats.

Overall the record is 5-5-1 with the wins all against squads (Rahway twice, Union Catholic, Irvington, Plainfield) Summit expected to beat. The Hilltoppers' best result might be considered the tie with a pretty good Elizabeth side.

"We just haven't been able to put together the consistent 80-minute performance it takes to defeat a quality opponent," acknowledges DiParisi. "And for that reason we're still moving things around trying to find the best combination on all parts of the field."

There has been one very stable position, however: Russ Fant has been providing a strong performance in goal just about every time out.

Mistakes costly to Summit booters

A one-touchdown loss to Linden was one thing. Beating Scotch Plains 33-10 was something else.

A week ago Coach Howie Anderson was mildly perturbed that some folks among the Summit faithful were gratified with the Hilltoppers' losing effort against a Linden club which — at that point in time — was ranked the number-one high school team in New Jersey via Bill Born's mathematical ratings formula. The veteran mentor clearly didn't regard his squad's 21-14 loss to the Tigers as any sort of a victory, moral or otherwise.

Obviously Anderson was considerably more pleased with the events which transpired at Tatlock Field this past Saturday. In improving its record to 2-1, Summit went out and thoroughly outplayed what is still a highly thought-of Scotch Plains team, the Raiders falling to 2-2 with the defeat.

"We performed well in just about every aspect of the game," summarized Anderson, "but I was particularly happy with our overall effort on defense. We were going against a ballclub with a lot of attacking weapons, and we shut them down exceptionally well."

The coach cited the entire defensive unit for a job well done, with end Rob Mitchell, linebacker Scott Sablack, and safety Tim Mackin coming in for special praise. Mitchell, who had a big fumble recovery at Linden, came up with two fumbles this past weekend and a solid all-around effort at DE. Sablack, whose shift from defensive tackle to linebacker this autumn was a major move in Summit's defensive scheme, has continued his outstanding play at LB. And Mackin had a big game at the deep defender spot highlighted by a pair of interceptions.

Offensively Mike Feoli, who was held to one yard for seven carries in the slippery going at Linden, bounced back with a big ballgame Saturday. The junior halfback ran for more than a 100 yards from scrimmage and added a 92-yard kickoff return for a touchdown to go along with it. Feoli registered three of the Hilltopper touchdowns, while senior fullback Rob Paessler notched the other two.

All in all, it was the sort of performance to get Summit fans excited about next Saturday's date at Union with a team which hasn't lost since 1983. Maybe the Hilltoppers have a legitimate shot at that Union winning streak which figures to be 26 after today.

But you won't get Coach

Summit Trust Spartans 2, Hazlet Tornados 6

The Spartans suffered their second defeat of the fall in an away game which brings their record to 3-2.

During the first quarter, the Spartans played even with the Tornados, scoring the first goal. Chris Runnells hit the goal with a cross from Jeff O'Connor and assisted by John Coleman. The Tornados evened it up, then quickly jumped in front 4-1 at halftime. The Spartans again struck first in the second half with a goal by Danny Robinson, assisted by Chris Runnells and Stuart Alford. Goalie Danny Keane had a busy day and made lots of good saves.

Coaches' Most Valuable Player awards went to Jamie Newhouse, Mike Remy, and Chris Runnells.

Last week, the Spartans were defeated by a very well disciplined North Hunterdon team 6-1. Most Valuable Player awards went to Jamie Newhouse, Kelly Zarinko, and Stuart Alford.

Woodbridge Warriors 6, Dangler's Funeral Home Summit Storm 1

A strong performance by Dangler Funeral Home's Summit Storm held the undefeated Woodbridge Warriors to a 2-1 halftime lead in Woodbridge, but Summit tired in the second half, and Woodbridge got the victory 6-1.

Devin Dangler got Summit's only goal in the second quarter on a feed from Corbin Tullo. The Storm got solid defensive efforts from Craig Culver, Octavio Tapia and Grant Bowman. Kevin Logue, playing left wing in the first half, and later center halfback, played his best game of the year for Summit.

DIV. 3 GIRLS
Summit "Lois Schnelder Realtor" Spirit - 2, Millburn Triumph - 2

The Spirit came from behind to tie the Millburn Triumph in an exciting game at Memorial Field. Wingers Rebecca Balchunas and Leigh Ann Gilroy scored for Summit on assists from Gail Rapuzzi.

Summit took a 1-0 lead in the first period as the determination of Midfielders Whitney Ostberg and Colleen Adams contributed to Rebecca's goal. The next two periods were played fairly even, but Millburn managed a pair of goals to take the lead 2-1.

However, in the fourth period, the Spirit battled back with their aggressive hustling style to even the score. Fullback Kathy O'Connell and Center Halfback Laura Madden combined to force the play into the goal area for Leigh Ann's tying score.

The Spirit defense was again anchored by Liz Cox, Margery Shanahan, and Carolee Keane, each contributing a strong individual effort while working together as a unit. Goalkeeper Missy Murray was sharp again stopping 18 triumph shots. A midfield, Diana Delaney, Courtney Gulden, Christine Williams, Christy Van Dusen, and Lexie Neonakis played well supporting the Summit defense and providing scoring opportunities for the forwards.

The tied game avenged a pre-season tournament 4-0 loss to Millburn, as the Spirit players demonstrated that their hard work during practice was paying off at games on Sunday.

Summit Rec footballers continue to roll

Next Sunday, Summit Youth Football travels to Chatham to take on a combined team from Chatham Boro and Chatham Township in three night contests. The sixth grade game begins at 4:45 followed by the 7th grade game at 6:15 and the 8th grade at 8:00pm. All the games are at Chatham Boro High School and admission is free.

The Summit "C" Team played a tough Berkeley Heights team to a 0-0 tie. What was anticipated to be a high scoring game, turned out to be a tough defensive battle.

Summit almost scored on the first play of the game when Brian Klein broke loose around the left end and had one defender to beat for a touch down but was caught from behind. Summit had another opportunity to score late in the 3rd quarter as they were moving the ball deep into Berkeley Heights territory but a fumble stopped the drive.

Excellent defensive play by Brian Klein, Doug DeMuth, Rich Golden, Jud Ahtens and Todd Caporaso helped the "C"'s to the victory.

Next Sunday Summit Youth Football travels to Chatham to take on a combined team from Chatham Boro and Chatham Township in three night contests. The sixth grade game begins at 4:45 followed by the 7th grade game at 6:15 and the 8th grade game at 8:00pm. All the games are at Chatham Boro High School and admission is free.

Summit's defensive team showed their dominance by holding the Chatham offense to only 25 yards. The defense also trapped the Chatham quarterback for a safety which elevated the score to 10-0. The offensive player for the game went to Chris Zotti for his spectacular catch in the end zone. The defensive player was awarded to Tyrone Hines, who was harassing the Chatham offense throughout the entire game. The most valuable player went to Garth Ballantyne who directed the offense to their score and also played a steady defensive game.

Summit Youth Football returns to Tatlock Field this Sunday, Oct. 19, with three contests with Westfield. The 6th grade game starts at noon, followed by the 8th grade game at 1:15 and the 7th grade game at 3pm. Admission is free.

Several plays later, Huneke hit split end Eric Owen on a 32 yard pass play to set up an 11 yard score by Chris Fleming. Summit's final tally came on a 6 yard score by Chris Fleming. Summit's final tally came on a 6 yard carry by fullback Bill Zotti. The extra point was good on a pass from Steve Cherry to Jason Venturi.

The Summit B Team defeated Chatham by the score of 10-0. The touchdown came when Garth Ballantyne threw the ball 23 yards to Chris Zotti. Zotti made a fantastic catch with the Chatham defender hanging on him. Bryce Hamilton added the extra point to make the score 8 to 0.

Rec football adds 3 wins

The Summit Recreation football teams added three wins as the A, B, and C teams added victories under the lights in Chatham.

Summit's 8th grade football team racked up its fourth victory of the season with a convincing 36-18 win over the combined team of Chatham Boro and Chatham Township at Chatham last Sunday night.

Quarterback Ben Huneke put on an impressive aerial show, hitting on 9 out of 10 passes for two touchdowns and two extra points. The touchdowns were caught by Chris Fleming and Jon Ponosuk with the extra point tosses to Brian Adams and Ponosuk. Jason Evers scored on the first play of the game on a 65 yard burst.

Mrs. Thomas Ferry.

Nancy Ann Crum weds Thomas Riker Ferry

Nancy Ann Crum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Colyer Crum of Weston, Mass., was married Saturday, Aug. 13 to Thomas Riker Ferry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Riker Ferry of Short Hills.

The ceremony took place at the Concord Academy Chapel, Concord, Mass. with the bride's uncle, Reverend Benjamin LeFevre officiating. The groom's cousin, Suzanne Gates, played the organ. A reception followed at the Weston Golf Club, Weston, Mass.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Wendy Crum, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included sister-in-law, Susan Wey Crum of Needham, Mass.; Jessica Drachman of Concord, the groom's sister; Jennifer Ferry of Short Hills; Eve Golden of San Jose, Calif.; Michele Jalbert of New Canaan, Conn.; Jessica Keneally-Gumma of Dallas; and Elizabeth Lunt of Weston.

Bartholomew Zanelli of Summit was best man. Serving as ushers were Daniel Adams of Media, Penn.; Philip Borkowski of Newtown Square, Penn.;

brothers of the bride Richard Crum and William Crum of Weston; Frederick Hnat of New Vernon; William McKeown of Short Hills; and Robert Wadsworth of Corvallis, Ore.

The bride is a graduate of Concord Academy and Cornell University, Ithaca. She is currently studying graphic design at Pratt Institute in New York City. Her father is James R. Williston, professor of Investment Banking at the Harvard Business School, Boston.

The bridegroom, a graduate of The Pingry School and Cornell University, is employed with Newcomb Securities, New York City. His father is with Cyprus Minerals, Inc.

Mrs. Andrew Martzloff.

Melissa Monger marries Andrew Stewart Martzloff

Melissa Monger, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Duane Monger of Willow Lane Farm, Lancaster, Ohio, was married on Aug. 31 to Andrew Stewart Martzloff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Martzloff of Summit.

The Rev. Thomas Tewell of Summit officiated at the ceremony performed on the front lawn of the Willow Lane Farm. Roy MacLaren, nephew of the bride, played the bagpipes. A dinner reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony.

The bride wore a dress that had been worn by three of her sisters. The gown was of candlelight peude soie and Chantilly lace, the lace bodice having a scalloped neckline. The modified sheath skirt was enhanced with an overlay of scalloped lace and was accented at the back with a detachable train. Her full length veil of Punta Margafita lace was worn Madonna style. The bride carried a bouquet of baby pink roses, orchids, stephanotis, and English ivy.

Mrs. Patricia Harwood served as her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. William Jesberg of Houston; Mrs. David Page of Darnestown, Md.; Mrs. Jack Stiers of Lancaster; and Toney Butler of San Francisco.

The bride's neice, Alison Harwood, was the flower girl. Her nephew, Jon Monger, was the ring bearer.

Thomas Martzloff was his son's best man. The ushers were John Powers of San Francisco; William Zech of Visalia, Calif.; Schuyler Tilney of Houston; William Ingram of La Jolla, Calif.; and Michael Lind of New York City.

Prior to the wedding the bride was honored with a shower in San Francisco, hosted by Toney Butler, and another one at the Lancaster Country Club, hosted by Mrs. George MacLaren and Mrs. Steve Harwood, sisters of the bride. A picnic lunch was given the day of the wedding at the home of Mrs. Ralph K. Rockwood, also hosted by Mrs.

John Mitchell. The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at The Georgian, Lancaster. Dr. and Mrs. Monger hosted a pig roast the night before the wedding at their farm for out-of-town guests.

The bride received her B.S.N. degree from Texas Christian University, where she was a member of Chi Omega sorority, and her master's degree from the University of California. She is employed as an administrative supervisor of the Emergency Department at Valley Memorial Hospital, San Francisco.

The bridegroom received his undergraduate degree from Stanford University, where he was a member of the Delta Chi fraternity, and his M.B.A. from Dartmouth College. He is employed as an investment banker in the mergers and acquisitions department at Alex, Brown and Sons, Inc., San Francisco.

Following a wedding trip to the Pacific Northwest, along the Oregon Coast, the couple resides in San Francisco.

Nadine Linda Lincovitch marries Johnathan David Buchalter

Nadine Linda Lincovitch and Jonathan David Buchalter, son of Gilbert Buchalter of Millburn and Saresa Gray of St. Maarten, were married Aug. 31 at The Short Hills, Short Hills. Rabbi Barry Hewitt Greene officiated at the ceremony.

Larise Zurawlew was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Donna Albino, Ann Marie Conlon and Laurie Ann Trojanowski, cousin of the bride.

Best man was Charles Buchalter, brother of the groom. Ushers were Jeffrey Buchalter and David Goldsmith, cousins of the groom and Kenneth Abels.

The bride is a graduate of Wolcott High School, Wolcott, Conn., and a 1983 graduate of Bentley College, Waltham, Mass. where she received a bachelor's degree in Business Communications. She is employed as a contract analyst with Aetna Life & Casualty.

Buchalter is a graduate of Frank J. Morrell High School, Irvington, and a 1984 graduate of Northeastern University, Boston, with a bachelor's degree in Accounting and Marketing. He is employed as an accountant with Noreika, Rosenfeld and Hupp.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnathan Buchalter.

Linda Karalis weds David Corradi

Linda Marie Karalis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor L. Karalis of Naugatuck, Conn., married David Allen Corradi of New Providence, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Corradi of Santa Barbara, Calif., formerly of Summit, on May 10 at St. Hedwig's Church in Naugatuck.

Celebrant of the nuptial Mass was the Reverend Albert Karalis, uncle of the bride, with Gregory Scime of Summit as organist, Bea Moeller as oboist and David Hampson as vocal soloist.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white chiffon gown with a high illusion neckline. The fitted bodice and bishop sleeves were accented with embroidered lace and seed pearls and had a full cathedral train. A wreath of matching embroidered lace and seed pearls held her cathedral length veil of illusion and she carried a cascading bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Louise Nadeau of Waterbury, Conn. was maid of honor in a lavender chiffon gown. The bridesmaids, identically clad in violet chiffon gowns, were Judith Karalis, sister of the bride; Mrs. Barbara Griswold of California, sister of the bridegroom and Mrs. Patricia Corradi also of California.

James Talbot of Glendale, Calif. served as best man. The groomsmen were Kenneth Karalis, brother of the bride; Jack Corradi of New York, brother of the bridegroom; and Stephen Corradi of California, also brother of the bridegroom. A reception followed the ceremony at the Castilian Room in Waterbury, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. David Corradi

Mrs. Corradi is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School in Waterbury and from the University of Connecticut School of Pharmacy. She is a registered pharmacist for Brooks Drug in Tenafly.

Mr. Corradi is a graduate of Summit High School and from Ithaca College, N.Y. He is assistant manager for Corsa Management in South Orange.

Following a honeymoon in the Hawaiian Islands, Mr. and Mrs. Corradi made their home in Clifton.

Rare books to be featured at Summit College Club book sale

NEW PROVIDENCE — The 51st Summit College Club sale of used books will open Sat., Oct. 25 at Hillview School, 340 Central Ave. with many collectors' items in its Rare Book Section.

According to Committee members Pat Breeding, Betty Malcolm, and Joan Williams of Summit and Pat Shand of Murray Hill, the club has received a fine collection of Americana.

The American History buff will enjoy the two volume 1915 first edition "The Founding of a Nation" by Frank M. Gregg, and "Historical Statements Concerning the Battle of Cowpens" prepared by the Historical Section of the Army War College. This 1928 volume is illustrated with maps printed by the U.S. Government Printing Office.

For the Western collector, there is a 1934 edition "Bronco Charlie, a Saga of the Saddle" by Gladys S. Erskine. This story of Pony Express riders is illustrated with photos and prints of the Old West. Also available is "The Oregon Trail and Some of Its Blazers" by Maude A. Rucker. Ms. Rucker lets the pioneers speak for themselves through documents, many written by her own ancestors.

Valuable reference books are on hand for the student of American Decorative Arts. Included in this category are "Handbook of American Silver and Pewter Marks" by C. Jordan Thorn; "Silver, Pewter, Sheffield Plate" by Fred W. Burgess; "Investing in Silver" published by Clarkson N. Potter, Inc.; and the invaluable reference work "The Collector's Manual" by N. Hudson Moore. Furniture is also represented in "Colonial Furniture in America," a 1901 edition by L. V. Lockwood. These books are profusely illustrated with engravings, drawings, and plates in full color.

Architectural historians will enjoy "Old New England Churches" by Dolores Bacon and "Colonial Architecture of Cape Cod, Nantucket, and Martha's Vineyard."

Not all volumes in the Rare Book Section deal with Americana. Also for sale is a handsome 1909 German edition of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" with tipped in colored plates by Arthur Rackham and black and white full page illustrations. This is a numbered copy of a limited edition with vellum boards and gilt. A twelve volume half leather set of Scott's Waverly novels, illustrated Sterling edition, is available.

Of particular interest to many is "One Thing Leads to Another" by Fred C. Kelly which is illustrated with photographs by the outstanding Margaret Bourke-White; and "The Color of Horses", a scientific identification by Dr. Ben K. Green, illustrated with 34 color plates by Darol Dickenson.

Rare children's books include "An American ABC" by Maud and Miska Petersham, 1941; and the 1949 Caldecott Medal winner, "Song of the Swallows" by Leo Politi.

The Summit College Club Book Sale will be held from Sat., Oct. 25, 9:30am to 5pm, Sun., Oct. 26, noon to 5pm; Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 27, 28 from 10am to 8pm; and Wed., Oct. 29 from 10am to 2pm.

Net proceeds are used for scholarships given to area women. Funds are also contributed to the American Association of University Women Fellowship Program. Chairmen of the sale are Alfreida Cooke, Mary Ellen Coviello, Louise Croix, Darleen Donat, and Kay Huus.

For more information, call 464-2178.

World War II spotters to be honored

AREA — World War II spotters on duty around the clock will be honored by a plaque to be unveiled Sun., Oct. 19 at 2pm at 30 Fairmount Ave., New Providence, site of the Civil Defense Aircraft Observation Station, under the code name, "Chestnut."

Civilian volunteers from New Providence, Summit and Berkeley Heights maintained a 24-hour surveillance from April 12, 1942 to June 14, 1945. In the pre-radar days of World War II, they were charged with spotting every plane overflight and noting the direction and number of aircraft.

Frank Orleans, New Providence Borough Historian, designed the plaque to be unveiled at the ceremony. He will tell the history of the Station.

The present owners of the site, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fulton, granted an easement for the marker, which was funded by the Union County Cultural and Heritage Programs Advisory Board and the Historical Societies of New Providence and Summit.

All spotters are urged to attend the dedication, which is open to the public.

Lamvermeyer and McGuinness receive honors from Stafford Hall School of Business

NEW PROVIDENCE — Stafford Hall School of Business in Summit held its fall graduation dinner at the Fairmount Country Club on Oct. 1. Mrs. Linda Miske, the school's director, presided at the ceremonies; Mr. Thomas Heaton, the president of Stafford Hall, was the principal speaker.

Among the honored graduates were two New Providence residents: Mary Ellen Lamvermeyer and Anne-Marie McGuinness. Lamvermeyer won an award for excellence in English. McGuinness received awards for excellence in English and in Accounting. She was also named one of the class's honor graduates for her overall achievement during the twelve-month program. Lamvermeyer has accepted a position with Deloitte, Haskins & Sells; and McGuinness is with Mennen Company.

Video cassettes available at NP Library

NEW PROVIDENCE — Video cassettes are the newest entertainment offerings available from the New Providence Memorial Library which has joined a group of 11 public libraries that are pioneers in lending cassettes.

The $500 seed money for this project was provided for the first year by the Friends of the Library group as an experiment. Each month there will be a new set of nine cassettes available, passed from library to library, and chosen by a committee of four librarians.

Borrowers of the video cassettes will be charged $1 per day, $2 for the first 48 hours, and $5 per day thereafter. The rental money will be kept in a separate fund to finance the project's cost next year.

Local library card holders, 18 or older, are invited to select cassettes from the list at the main desk. Betty C. Proctor, the Memorial Library, points out that the Friends of the Library group is giving the New Providence public an interesting opportunity and hopes that it will be enjoyed.

Volunteer Fair to be held at Runnells Hospital

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — Area residents are invited to a Volunteer Fair to be held at John E. Runnells Hospital, Plainfield Avenue, on Friday, Oct. 24, from 1-5pm.

Homemade baked goods, handmade gift items, white elephants and a special selection of jewelry from the hospital's gift shop will be on sale.

There will also be free refreshments, free balloons, raffles and musical entertainment. Information on volunteering will be available.

Berkeley Heights Rotary Club breakfast promises a 'stick to the ribs' meal

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — If you find yourself hankering for an old-time "stick to the ribs" autumn breakfast round up the family and come to the Rotary Club's Annual Blueberry Pancake Breakfast.

It will start at 8:30am and run until 12:30pm on Saturday, Oct. 25 at the Union Village United Church, Hillcrest Road and Mountain Avenue, Berkeley Heights.

Members of the Rotary Club are gathering up all the goodies for a taste-pleasing spread available for $3.50 per adult, or $2.50 for students and senior citizens. A special family rate of $11 is available for large families.

Tickets will be available at the door, or can be purchased in advance at the Berkeley Heights branches of The Summit Trust Company and United Counties Bank, as well as at Taylor Rental Center, Springfield Avenue, Berkeley Heights.

Proceeds will benefit the Rotary Club's Scholarship Fund for students of Governor Livingston High School and other community service projects.

Candidates Nite is tonight in BH

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The League of Women Voters invites all Township residents to attend its 25th annual Candidates' Night Wed., Oct. 22, at 7:45pm in the All-Purpose Room at Columbia School. This League-sponsored service offers the only public face-to-face debate between the candidates.

The League's sponsorship of this program is a non-partisan presentation of the Township's candidates for public office. This year's candidates, Leon Ciferri, Republican, and Dom Scarillo, Democrat, are running for the office of Committeeman on the Township Committee for a full three-year term. There will be formal statements by the candidates and a time period for questions from the audience.

The League urges residents to attend and to participate in this vital public forum. Kendy Rudy, of the League's Voters' Service advises, "All registered voters should be watching their mail for the League's annual Candidates Information Sheet that covers not only local candidates' statements, but it includes the county candidates for office as well."

Traffic to improve on Diamond Hill

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — Union County Freeholder William H. Eldridge today announced measures to improve the traffic on Diamond Hill Road near interstate Highway No. 78. Eldridge stated that, "Traffic flow at the intersection of Diamond Hill Road and McMane Avenue will be enhanced by a minor widening of Diamond Hill Road to create two southbound lanes on Diamond Hill Road."

The addition of the extra land will allow southbound traffic to move around vehicles turning east onto McMane Avenue, said Eldridge.

The County's Division of Engineering negotiated with Public Service to relocate the utility pole and provide the engineering layout. The County's Department of Public Works will perform the necessary construction work during the week of Oct. 13.

The County's Division of Engineering is also designing the improvement of Diamond Hill Road from Mountain Avenue to the County Line. The improvement will provide for curbs and new surface course. Construction is expected to start in 1987, concluded Freeholder Eldridge.

Faith Lutheran to conduct 'Touchdown'

NEW PROVIDENCE — Every fall, our pulses throb to the thought of football as excitement mounts, and it's no different at Faith Lutheran Church on South Street.

Each year Faith's members unite in a drive to solicit commitments of "time, talents and means" for the coming year. A football oriented theme called "Touchdown" has been chosen for this year's effort.

Heading up the Touchdown drive is "Commissioner" Bill Vreeland, Chuck Lewis will preside as League President and Offensive Coordinator. Lewis is backed up with four division coaching assistants; Florence Ondrejcek, Karin Miller, Mark Goetz, and Dave Koester, who are responsible for 24 pro-teams, each headed by a quarterback. Each household of members is designated as a running back, responsible to carry the game plan to the next member.

Stewardship team spirit is building as each member looks forward to Kick-Off on Sunday, Nov. 2.

Little Flower Church to conduct luncheon for senior citizens

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — On Wednesday, Oct. 22, Little Flower Church will host a Communion Luncheon for the Senior Citizens of Berkeley Heights. Father Frank D'Elia will celebrate Mass at 11:30 in the Church and lunch will follow immediately in the Church basement. You need not be a member of the Senior Citizen's Club to attend.

75 new voters are registered

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The League of Women Voters registered 75 new voters who reside in Union County during the recent back-to-school nights at Hughes, Woodruff, Mountain Park, Columbia schools, and Governor Livingston High School. The League expanded its voters registration service this year to include the Little Flower School.

Barbara Little, the local League's co-president, stated, "Our League is delighted to offer our voters' registration service to our local residents, and we wish to remind all residents of Berkeley Heights to attend our local Candidates' Night on Wednesday, October 22 at 8pm at Columbia School.

Mayor to conduct 'Talk With Ted' on Oct. 20

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — Mayor Ted Romankow will be holding another "Talk With Ted" night on Monday, Oct. 20, at 8pm in the Municipal Building. If residents have any questions or problems relating to the township, they may come and speak to Ted about it.

Check out displays at the BH Library

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The Free Public Library is featuring two displays during the month of October.

Gregory Goings, a New Brunswick based free lance graphic artist, has loaned many beautiful examples of his calligraphy for display.

In addition, a smaller display reminds residents that October is Fire Prevention Month. Free literature on the subject is available in the library.

Pioneers explode on offense

IT WAS AN INSTANT REPLAY for Brent Marchetta (8), the New Providence roverback who returned an interception for a touchdown against Ridge two weeks ago. Last weekend the talented junior performed the same feat against North Plainfield. (Photo by Tim Kelaher).

NORTH PLAINFIELD — This was the sort of ballgame New Providence football fans were waiting to see, as the Pioneers got their attack untracked last Friday night and roared past North Plainfield 34-0 at the losers' field. The victory lifted NP's season mark to 3-0, while the losing Canucks are 0-3 and haven't scored thus far in the 1986 season. New Providence, on the other hand, had tallied 30 points in its first two victories but hadn't displayed the kind of attack weaponry Coach Frank Bottone was convinced this Pioneer edition owns. NP had played its first two games in the rain, and the results were the sort of contests you see under inclement conditions. Now with a dry field in the offing, the New Providence contingent was anxious to see the Pioneers showcase some offense. And the local fans weren't disappointed. New Providence put together several sustained drives, and NP also popped a couple long plays to excite its rooters. Among them was a 58-yard touchdown run from scrimmage by Pete Merkel, a 72-yard touchdown return of an interception by Brent Marchetta, and a 60-yard return of a blocked punt (even though the play was flagged back) by Mike Liberato.

had outstanding games." Meanwhile the New Providence defense posted its second shutout of the autumn. The only touchdown the Pioneers have allowed was scored by Middlesex with 19 seconds left in a 23-7 ballgame. Against North Plainfield, tackles Barton and Chuck Peters, linebacker Dennis Lonergan, and safety Matt Benicenga all had particularly solid performances on the defensive side.

Defense keys NP soccer surge

Having allowed only seven goals in its last seven games, the New Providence soccer team has improved its record to 6-3-2 on the season and clinched a berth in the NJSIAA State Tournament. Coach Bob Kahn's squad has lost only once over that span, and, not surprisingly, that was a match in which the Pioneers surrendered four of those seven tallies.

"I'm pleased with the way our defense has been playing, and even at Chatham Boro (which was the 4-3 defeat) I'm not sure the final score is indicative of our performance," relates Kahn. "As usual, Chatham can kill you off dead-ball situations. They always seem to have a kid who can throw the ball into the goalmouth from anywhere their side of midfield, and they're equally deadly on corner kicks. As it turned out, two of their goals came on corners and the other two off long throw-ins."

Bottone sounded like a highly pleased football coach in a postgame discussion of the events. "We're starting to execute offensively the way we feel we're capable of," commented the veteran mentor afterwards. "I was particularly pleased with the way our line blocked plays to the right side where Mike (Liberato) got most of his yardage. I thought both the tackle (Gary Barton) and the guard (Drew Marchetta) on that side

The Pioneers get one more game to tune things up when Manville (1-2) visits Lieder Field today for a 2:00 p.m. kickoff. Starting next Saturday the schedule's degree of difficulty will rise considerably, as New Providence launches a three-game skein against a trio of opponents — Kenilworth, Roselle Park, Roselle — who all took 3-0 records into today's action.

Highlander netsters are improved

A year ago the Berkeley Heights girls' tennis team struggled to a 2-12 record with an entirely underclass lineup, and the year's experience has paid some dividends this autumn. Currently Coach Scott Shallcross' team sports a 5-6 record, and Shallcross thinks the girls have an excellent chance to crack the double-figure mark in wins before the season ends. "We lost to a few strong, non-league squads (Summit, Madison, Whippany Park) at the beginning of our schedule, but we've done fairly well against our Mountain-Valley Conference opponents," reports Shallcross. With the rest of the state being entirely within the MVC, the popular mentor foresees the possibility of winning as many as 11 matches. The Highlanders were due to return all seven starters from last year, but as things worked out three new girls have cracked the regular lineup. "That's one big difference between last season and this one," comments Shallcross. "We have some depth now and keener competition for the starting positions has made us a stronger team." Still 1985's three singles players have retained their berths as solo starters, albeit in a different order. Stacey Karp, who played in the second slot last term, has taken over the top position now. "Stacey has improved quite a bit," praises Shallcross of this junior. "She's worked hard at her game, and she's emerged as our best player." Last year's number-one singles, senior Libbie Rifkin, has in turn been contributing a solid effort in the second position. While junior Debbie Shapiro has the best mark of the trio handling the third singles spot. Regional's new first doubles combo consists of two girls who were at other high schools last year. Both Miki Nishimura and Birgit Reuter were Berkeley Heights residents then, but Nishimura attended Springfield to take a concentrated English Language course, while Reuter was a Parochial student at Union Catholic. Now these two juniors, who are close friends and have often played as a doubles partnership, form the Highlanders' first tandem. Senior Jackie Bothner paired with her twin sister in last year's second doubles lineup. Jackie's sister chose not to play this season, but junior Jennifer Lee has teamed with Bothner to produce an 8-4 record at second doubles so far. "We're pleased with the progress we've made since last season," summarizes Shallcross. "Ridge might be too strong for us, but we think we have a good shot at everyone else left on the schedule, so our goal is to finish 11-7."

The recent stretch has seen the Pioneers even up their Mountain-Valley Conference divisional race by defeating North Plainfield 2-0 this past week. That reversed a season-opening loss to the Canucks and left both sides unbeaten in the MVC. Kahn cites NP's strength in the middle of the field as the cornerstone of its recent play. Mark Davison at sweeper, Paul Mattheis at stopper, and Steve Leitz at center halfback have all been very solid performers. Leitz is even leading the team in scoring with 10 goals from his midfield position. The rangy junior has supported an attack which has likewise received fine forward play from Jim Gallo, Brian Ross, and Chris DiMaggio. Gallo, a first-time-out senior, has been a particularly pleasant surprise. Kahn mentions New Providence got into an unusual Union County Tournament circumstance due to a postal mistake. He sent out NP's UCT entry in plenty of time, but the envelope was re-routed and reached the tourney committee two days late. Thus the initial 11-team draw didn't include the Pioneers, the tourney folks assuming NP was one of a number of schools choosing not to enter. But since the postmark proved the mistake wasn't New Providence's fault, the UCT let NP in as a late addition but was forced to place them in the 12th seed. Meaning the Pioneers travel to fifth-seeded Cranford this Monday for their tournament opener. An upset there would match them against Union next weekend. "The selection people said we probably would have been seventh or eighth had the form arrived on time," explains Kahn. "Which would have meant an easier first-round match, but as far as winning two games are concerned, we're better off where we are." Exactly. In the seventh or eighth spot, NP would have faced either Scotch Plains or Westfield in the quarterfinals. As it is, the Pioneers' quarterfinal foe would be Union, a team the locals played to a 1-1 draw two weeks ago.

Tri-county girl's soccer knotches third in a row

NEW PROVIDENCE — Following victories the first two weeks of the season over Verona and Chatham Township, the girls confidently took the field against the invaders from West Caldwell. Early in the first quarter West Caldwell tested goalie Michele Campisano to no avail. Michele returned their shots with booming punts that started New Providence on the attack. Precise ball control passes down the wing marked the N.P. surge. Suddenly Meghan Cronin spotted Donna Leitz on a run, fed her a leading pass and Donna put New Providence in the lead. A short time later Nancy Johnson started the ball up right wing from her sweeper position. Two passes later Leitz was again poised for the kill. Her shot found its mark and N.P. had a 2-0 lead. The New Providence Defense continued to confuse and bottle up every effort to attack that West Caldwell attempted. The constant pressure and aggressiveness of N.P. took its toll. A long pass found Taylor Meritt cutting in from the wing and she left footed home tally number three. Just before the end of the period Kristin Oaks picked off an errant pass in Caldwell's area and banged home number four. Midway through the second period N.P. did it again when Kara Landsittel left footed a blistering shot from the wing following a long corner kick. The second half picked up when the first left off. The constant pressure of the New Providence crew on the ball along with the unselfish play of everyone left West Caldwell in a daze. Numerous shots kept their goalie on her toes. The fourth period saw more N.P. tallies as Debbie MacPherson hit from just inside the box. She was followed a short time later by Meghan Cronin who also tallied on a hard left footed shot to close out the scoring. The girls left the field with a well deserved 7-0 victory. The confidence gained by each player in these early season victories has the entire group looking forward to their next encounter.

Local students eligible to apply for the Governor's School

TRENTON — New Jersey's "best and brightest" high school juniors have an opportunity to participate in the Governor's School, a unique four week summer program which offers gifted and talented students a chance to pursue new fields of inquiry in a challenging environment with similarly motivated colleagues and teachers. The Governor's School, now entering its 5th year, operates on the campuses of three New Jersey colleges and universities. Monmouth College in West Long Branch will host the Governor's School on public issues and the future of New Jersey. The program will focus on public policy issues affecting the future of New Jersey and the world. The program dates are June 27 - July 25. Trenton State College, located in Ewing Township, will be the site of the Governor's School of the Arts. The program runs from July 12 - August 8 and is dedicated to the artistic enrichment of students gifted in the performing arts (music, dance and drama), in the graphic arts, and in creative writing. Drew University, located in Madison, will host the Governor's School in the Sciences from July 26 - August 22. Students will be exposed to advanced studies and laboratory work in biological and physical sciences and mathematics. The Governor's School, established by Governor Thomas H. Kean in 1982, reflects the Governor's commitment to excellence in education in New Jersey. The programs are funded largely by the State and with some additional grants from private foundations and are offered at no cost to the scholars. Interested high school juniors should contact their school principal or guidance counselor as soon as possible for more detailed information. The deadline for applying is January 9.

TOWNSHIP OF BERKELEY HEIGHTS NEW JERSEY TAX SALE LIST

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that I, Eris G. Naylor, Collector of Taxes of the Township of Berkeley Heights, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey, will on the 30th day of October 1986, at the Municipal Building, 29 Park Avenue, Berkeley Heights, New Jersey, at the hour of 10:00 AM sell the following described lands situated in the Township of Berkeley Heights:

BLOCK	LOT	NAME	AMOUNT
613	3	David P. & Amy Jo Cordillo	2,047.93
703	1	Five S. & L. Corp. c/o Sedler	1,802.97
801	43	Win Inc. A New Jersey Corp.	1,495.18

Said lands will be sold to make the amount chargeable against the same on the first day of July 1986, as computed in the foregoing list together with interest from the said first day of July to the date of the sale, and the costs of the sale, but is exclusive of the lien for the taxes for the year 1986.

The sale shall be made to such person or persons as will purchase said properties, subject to redemption at the lowest rate of interest, but in no case in excess of eighteen (18%) per cent per annum. Any bidder may, in lieu of offering a rate of interest less than one (1%) per cent, offer a premium over and above the amount of taxes, assessments and other charges, and the sale shall be made to the person or persons who offer to pay said amount, plus the highest premium. Payment for the sale shall be made before the conclusion of the sale or the property shall be resold.

Any parcel of real property for which there shall be no other purchaser will be struck off and sold to the Township of Berkeley Heights for redemption at eighteen (18%) per cent per annum and the municipality shall have the same remedies and rights as other purchasers, including the right to bar or foreclose the right of redemption.

This sale is made under and by virtue of the "Tax Sale Law" of the State of New Jersey and the supplements and amendments thereto. (N.J.S.R. 54:19 et seq.)

At any time before the sale the Collector of Taxes will receive payment of the amount due on any property, with interest and costs incurred up to the time of payment.

Given under my hand this 26th day of September 1986.

REALTOR SHOWCASE

Select RE/MAX one ...
The Real Estate Organization That Stands

We're different ... we're the best ... we're the professionals with experience in efficient real estate marketing.

WHAT IS RE/MAX?

... a contraction of the phrase REAL ESTATE MAXIMUM.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

... you get the very best.

HAVEN'T WE HEARD THAT BEFORE?

... not from RE/MAX!

WHAT DOES THAT MEAN TO ME?

... RE/MAX accepts only experienced Real Estate PROFESSIONALS. The standards are high ... we're experienced Million Dollar Club members.

IS RE/MAX SOMETHING NEW?

... only to New Jersey. It started nationally about 15 years ago and has swept the country. There are over 2,000 RE/MAX offices nationally and literally thousands of RE/MAX associates. These all form a dynamic referral network of real estate professionals which feed customers into an area and services our people when they go elsewhere.

IS THERE A BROKER IN CHARGE?

... Each office is owned and operated by a broker. In this area, it's JOHN BROCKELMAN, who is currently serving his second term as President of the Summit Board of Realtors.

IS THIS THE FIRST RE/MAX OFFICE IN NEW JERSEY?

... No ... there are 32 plus.

IS THERE A RE/MAX LOOK?

... the RE/MAX colors are red, white, and blue, colorfully displayed on a large hot air balloon. Perhaps you have already seen our signs. Watch for the red, white, and blue around the area.

Call any of our sales associates for information.
Come join us ABOVE THE CROWD.

Summit needs you!

SUMMIT — If you have expertise in a particular field, and the time and willingness to volunteer to help your city, Summit needs you.

Mayor Hartlaub is requesting that all residents interested in serving on an appointed board fill out an application form. "We are interested in updating our talent pool, so we would also like those who filled out an application before January 1986 to reapply," he said.

"Since 1983, when I was Mayor-elect, we have reviewed all applications submitted. Many of those who contacted us are presently serving on boards. However, interests and availability to serve on boards may have changed, and we want to be sure that our selections are based upon the latest information possible."

He concluded, "Citizen participation in local government is a strong tradition in Summit, and we are very proud of the dedication and commitment of our volunteers."

Appointments will be made to the following: Arboretum Commission; Board of Education; Board of Health; Cable Television Citizens Advisory Committee; Civil Rights Commission; Community Development Revenue Sharing Committee; Construction Code Board of Appeals; Consumer Affairs Local Assistance Officers; Downtown Advisory Committee; Downtown Beautification Committee; Emergency Management Council; Environmental Commission; Historic Preservation Advisory Committee; Housing Authority; Insurance Advisory Board; I-78

EXXON AWARDS GRANT TO OPERA AT FLORHAM — Robert Smith of Summit, and James Fujioka of New York present a grant from the Exxon Company to Lake Hopatcong resident Charles Del Rosso (right), general manager and artistic director of Opera at Florham. The grant will be used to purchase computer and printing equipment for the opera company which is in residence on Fairleigh Dickinson University's Florham-Madison campus. Smith and Fujioka, retired Exxon employees whose efforts made possible the grant, will also volunteer their time to design computer programs and train the office staff. Looking on is office assistant Mary Ann Earلمان, a resident of Cranford.

Faitoute Agency to offer free 'safety pumpkins'

The Faitoute Agency is concerned about the welfare of your children.

Help protect your youngsters when they are out trick-or-treating this Halloween by picking up a free safety paper pumpkin, with the 14 Halloween safety tips on the back, at either of the agency's two offices: 3 Beechwood Rd., Summit or 44 South St., New Providence.

These pumpkins are specially treated with Day-Glo ink to reflect automobile headlights at night — so pin one on your children's costumes for their safety and use the 14 safety tips.

Remember, these safety pumpkins are free, courtesy of The Faitoute Agency. They are also available at The Independent Press, 80 South St., New Providence and will be offered to local schools.

If any civic groups or organizations are interested in obtaining the safety pumpkins, please contact either office of The Faitoute Agency.

NCCS to celebrate Fall Festival in Millburn

MILLBURN — The National Christ Child Society of Summit will hold its Annual Fall Festival on Mon., Oct. 20, at the Chantier.

Fashions will be shown by Miss Nellie of Summit and Furs by Peter Duffy of New York City.

Christ Child Society of Summit is a philanthropic organization of women who are committed to alleviating the problems of children. Its principal work is the production, assembly and distribution of layettes to needy mothers.

The Summit branch sews layettes on Mondays at Oak Knoll School and distributes them to social organizations in hospitals of Union and Essex Counties. They also make financial contributions to other cultural charities in both counties.

Beginning at 10am, a boutique will offer hand made knits, baked goods and a gourmet table. Lunch will be served at noon.
