A 'family' affair in Elizabeth

Allegations continue to circulate as officials remain silent

By Cheryl Hehl
Staff Writer

ELIZABETH — Despite more than two dozen police officers continuing to bring forth evidence that corruption runs deep within the leadership of the police department, there have been no responses so far from Mayor Chris Bollwage, Police Director James Cosgrove or Police Chief Patrick Shannon.

Last week police officers continued to provide additional incidents of corruption within the police department hierarchy, as well as those in their charge that are in "the family."

In fact, late last week information was uncovered about who exactly was involved in the altering of official police traffic fatality reports that paved the way for Shannon to pursue his master's degree online.

According to these police sources, Shannon needed proof that he had hands on experience in traffic division fatality investigations to continue with this degree, so he used traffic division accident reports actually completed by then Traffic Detective Richie Hernandez, who was asked to supply the reports.

The altering of these official investigative reports to include Shannon was overseen by Detective Dave DeRosa, a member of Shannon's "family," who is protected by the police chief from departmental retaliation, according to multiple sources.

The "family" is a clique within the Elizabeth Police Department that has opened doors for advancement to members, among other perks such as signing up for off-duty pay jobs, never showing up and still being paid close to $30 an hour.

This clique, according to more than two dozen police officers, has been going on for decades and while not as large or strong as it once was, remains a source of problems for police officers not involved.

Of concern is that members of "the family" receive promotions and advancements before members of the force not part

NY company expected to buy Runnells from Union County

By Cheryl Hehl
Staff Writer

If all goes as planned, by July Runnells Specialized Hospital will be in the hands of a private owner and as a result, five years down the road the county will have saved $58 million and generated an estimated $500,000 in new property taxes a year.

Last week the Union County Freeholder Board took a giant step towards the sale of the 102-year-old Berkeley Heights county-owned facility, voting 7 to 1 in favor of finalizing negotiations with Center Management, a private company from Flushing, New York, that specializes in privately-owned nursing facilities.

Freeholder Angel Estrada was the only declining vote following a comprehensive presentation about the sale and benefit to the county and taxpayers, however, his mother is a patient at Runnells and he has a vested interest in her care.

The consenting members of the freeholder board were adamant about the decision to move forward with the sale, with Freeholder Chris Hudak pointing out "this was not an easy decision to make, and one that has been two years in the making."

"Every angle was analyzed and every option put on the table," the board chairman said, mentioning that during this time the board held a number of intense discussions on the matter.

"After careful weighing of the facts, options and scenarios, we believe the resolution we voted on tonight is the best decision," Hudak said, explaining that with Runnells facing declining Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements, the county faces an uncertain financial future given the constant evolution of the healthcare industry.

"We believe this decision had to be made to ensure its viability," he added.

Hudak also pointed out the Union County Improvement Authority will be working toward an arrangement that will allow Runnells to remain a hospital and patients to continue to receive "the high level of care they are now receiving."

Employees, though, might have to fight for their jobs, according to what the board

Judge rules election of council presidents to stand

Since the city has elected a council president for 40 years without complaint, judge approves

By Cheryl Hehl
Staff Writer

LINDEN — Last week a Superior Court Judge ruled that voters should elect the council president seat, rejecting claims by council that it is their duty.

Judge Karen Cassidy made the decision from the bench on March 14 at a hearing after reviewing arguments from both sides of the complaint that was filed early last year.

Cassidy said that since the city has been electing the council president seat for the past 40 years without objection from citizens, the mayor, council members, attorney or any city officials, she was not going to change how things are done.

Last year council members filed a lawsuit, arguing that the 40-year practice of electing the council president at large was a direct violation of the city government charter.

According to information filed with the court in 2013, council members argued that until 1974 the council president was elected by council. Why it changed seems to be in question. However, in the early 1970s the city did change the municipal charter to extend the council president's term from two to four years.

In 1974 the council president's seat was on the ballot, but the current city council could not explain why that occurred or who initiated the change.

They did acknowledge they were unable to find "a scintilla of evidence" to support the council president running as a candidate, or that any legal action was taken by the governing body at that time to enact the change, according to court documents.

The entire issue surfaced when James Moore, elected in 2010 as council president, came under fire by council for his lack of skill in running public council meetings.

What followed was a "special meeting" called in late June 2011 by council members because they felt Moore, just six months in office, was not following city council protocol or leading with authority. Moore did have the choice of a more private venue, but decided he wanted this particular meeting held in public.

During this public meeting, which LocalSource attended, Moore battled his adversaries, and endured the barrage of criticism from fellow council members and heckling from the audience.

That night, Mayor Rich Gerbounka told council members they needed "to get a thicker skin."

In February 2012, 3rd Ward Councilman Peter Brown broached the issue of the council president position not legally being an elected seat, according to the city charter. This was followed by Linden City Attorney John Hudak explaining the entire matter had to be decided in court because the issue of the city's history was not clear.

Edward Kologi represented council members in the lawsuit that was filed, noting in his brief that he felt the city was in the wrong for not changing the law, which put them in violation.

In turn, James Forest, Moore's attorney, said the election of the council president for the last 40 years had persisted despite municipal and state reviews and a state law passed in 1987 to bring municipal governments up to date.

Tuesday Gerbounka said he was very happy about the decision but he was concerned about the amount of money the city had to pay to defend the entire issue.

"I think it was a total waste of $22,000, but the judge ruled in favor of voters and that is what is important," the mayor said, explaining taxpayers have to foot the attorney bills for both sides because the matter involved a city issue.

THERE'S A NEW CHIEF IN TOWN — Newly appointed Cranford Police Chief James Wozniak takes the oath of office administered by the Judge Mark J. Cassidy while his wife, Renee, holds the bible. Wozniak was selected to be the new chief following the former Chief Eric Mason stepping down to head up the John H. Stamler Police Academy of Union County.

Springfield set for downtown redevelopment

By Patrick Bober
Regional Editor

SPRINGFIELD — The Springfield Town Council has been working on a redevelopment project to help the downtown area for some time, and recently gave the taxpayers an opportunity to see what is in store.

At a recent township council meeting, Deputy Mayor Mark Barnett oversaw a presentation that showed the public what a redeveloped Morris Avenue corridor could look like. The redevelopment area in question includes a stretch of land that reaches multiple blocks in all directions from the section of Morris Avenue between the Interstate 78 overpass and Main Street.

But while the plan has been in the works in one form or another for multiple years, the legwork is finally paying off and the project is just beginning to take flight, thanks in part to a number of factors.

"The township has been interested in rehabbing the downtown area for some time," said Barnett. "The concept started about two or three years ago. It really got propelled last year when we won a grant"

According to officials, the township, with the county's help, was able to win a $90,000 grant that, according to Barnett, gave the town the ability to get all the right experts needed for the project to get off the ground.

"The one thing that the grant did was put together a team of people from local, county and state agencies," Barnett said. "All the agencies are needed to get the project moving along."

Barnett also said that with the help of all these agencies, all the necessary prep work has been moving quite smoothly.

"There was about a year long study that was done," he said. "It included everything from surveying traffic, how people use the center, talking to bus riders and more."

Following the survey, the committee was able to put together a comprehensive plan based on the needs found and what could be done with the challenges presented.

For instance, Barnett points out, most of the downtown area is a flood zone, as many victims of Tropical Storm Irene will attest when sections of the downtown area were beneath several feet of flood water. Barnett also mentioned that there are several bus zones and traffic issues.

"All of that was taken into consideration," he said.

Recommendations from the redevelopment committee included widening sidewalks, establishing new design standards for building facades, relocating bus stops

Seeing the big picture in Springfield

In Springfield, Deputy Mayor David Barnett is very excited about the town's chances of actual redevelopment in the downtown area. At a recent meeting at town hall, Barnett presented residents with this map and legend, among other illustrations and detailed the plan that are already in motion to revitalize downtown Springfield.

for better pedestrian flow, opening up more green space, upgrading traffic lights, improving signage and potentially increasing parking.

According to Barnett, many of the recommendations from the committee actually came from holding open houses and polling residents on various styles.

"Forty-six percent chose an older Victorian style," Barnett said concerning the construction of new homes and facades.

In fact, Barnett said some of the early elements of the work will soon be seen by residents.

"The other element, which residents will start to see really soon, is that we entered into two public-private cooperation agreements," Barnett said. "The first one is to develop a large piece of property on Morris Avenue, between Caldwell and Center streets. There is a plan already and now it will go to the planning board and the buildings will be torn down."

The new building, Barnett said, will feature retail on the ground floor and the upper floors will be apartments with ample parking behind the building.

The second agreement happened just two weeks ago.

"We entered into a second agreement to redevelop property along Church Mall off of Morris Avenue. There are some old houses there that will be replaced with more housing," he said.

According to Barnett, this new housing is expected to be a garden apartment style of housing, but that this effort is not as far along as the first agreement. Currently, the area in question contains old, rundown houses that the township hopes to replace with "residential units, but the plan is not finalized and the style is unknown," Barnett said.

"The two cooperation agreements married with the overall plan is really exciting," Barnett said. "This is probably the first time in the last several decades where we finally have a redevelopment plan in place that can finally happen, because the agencies that are necessary for the plan are actually a part of the plan. This is one of the best chances we have ever had to redevelop the downtown."

Barnett, who is really excited about the potential of the redevelopment, also said that the planning is not done, but well underway. On April 4, representatives from different agencies will be coming to Springfield and Barnett will be walking with them in the downtown and talking about the plan.

"This has been real exciting," Barnett said.

DANCIN' SHOES — The county's youngest residents were all smiles as they performed, marched, watched, cheered and laughed at all the revelry and festivities during the 18th annual Union County St. Patrick's Day Parade on Saturday, March 15.

County Rape Crisis Center is seeking volunteers for April 22 training session

The Union County Rape Crisis Center is seeking volunteers to serve as advocates for victims of sexual assault.

All new volunteers are trained and mentored by Rape Crisis Center staff and experienced volunteers. The next training session will start on April 22.

The Rape Crisis Center is part of the Union County Department of Human Services. Its volunteer advocates have served thousands of Union County residents with confidential and supportive guidance since 1984.

"If you are exploring ways to volunteer in Union County, I encourage you to contact the Rape Crisis Center and find out about our training program," said Freeholder Chairman Christopher Hudak. "We are very proud of the dignity and respect with which our volunteers approach this invaluable service to our community."

Rape Crisis Center volunteers respond by phone to requests for guidance by victims of sexual violence. If needed, they may also accompany victims to medical or legal procedures.

Hudak noted that many victims have no family member or friend available to help guide them through the medical and legal aftermath of sexual violence.

"Our volunteers provide a strong shoulder to lean on," said Hudak. "No one should have to be alone at this critical point in their lives."

Prospective volunteers start with an informal interview at the Rape Crisis Center, located at the Union County Colleen Fraser Building, 300 North Avenue East, in Westfield.

If the visit results in a commitment to serve, volunteers attend a series of twice-weekly training sessions at the Colleen Fraser Building. The next training series starts on April 22. Sessions are held on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 6:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. There are 18 sessions in all.

Volunteers must be Union County residents at least 18 years of age, hold a valid driver's license, and have their own vehicle.

To schedule an interview call the Union County Rape Crisis Center at 908-233-7273.

For more information about the Rape Crisis Center visit ucnj.org.

Testimonials by volunteers are also available at the Rape Crisis Center blog, unioncountyracecrisiscenter.blogspot.com.

Police working to combat tire thefts plaguing the city

Luxury tires stolen from driveways 11 times in 10 months

By Patrick Bober
Regional Editor

LINDEN — In the past 10 months, city officials report that there have been nearly a dozen thefts of tires and rims off of luxury vehicles, including four in 2014.

According to Police Chief Jim Schulhafer, there were 11 thefts of tires in the past year, including three incidents reported in January. The most recent theft occurred on March 10 on Robinwood Terrace.

"It's an issue we have been experiencing citywide," the chief said. "It started about 10 months ago. In the past 10 months, we have had 11 issues citywide; 11 occasions where we had tires and rims stolen off cars when they were in residents' driveways."

According to officials, all 11 of the incidents took place in the middle of the night, all began in the driveway of the owner, and none of them were caught in the act.

"They are restricting themselves to the driveways, which are out of view," said Schulhafer. "We never received a call from a victim or neighbor that they heard or saw anything. They are operating very quietly."

Most of the incidents, according to the chief, have taken place in the Sunnyside section of the city, but he did say that the incidents have occurred citywide. In addition, the police believe the crimes are being perpetrated by a local resident.

"We believe it's somebody local," said the police chief. "A number of surrounding towns have not had any of these thefts. There have been a few in Cranford, but they have all happened on the Linden border. Not necessarily Linden, but somebody from the area."

One of the issues with combating these thefts, said the chief, is that there have been no patterns to the thefts other than one common denominator: All of the cars were originally located in driveways.

In two cases, however, cars were actually stolen and moved from the driveways before the tires and rims were stolen.

"The problem that we are having is that there really is no pattern here," said the chief. "It's happening sporadically. It's really spread out. There is no one type of car they are going after, and no particular day of the week."

And even though these are only property crimes, the mayor and the police chief are very concerned about the image it gives the city, and the costs it is imposing on the property owners.

"It is only a property crime, but this is something we take very seriously," said the police chief. "These are expensive tires and wheels. A photo of a vehicle on cinder blocks is alarming to a lot of people. And we don't want it to represent Linden. We will do everything we can to catch the people responsible."

Police have recently come up with a strategy to combat the rash of luxury tire thefts, but they declined to share details of the plan.

"We put together what I think is a very good plan to combat it," said Schulhafer. "But I won't get into specifics."

The mayor assured LocalSource that the police were handling the situation.

"We are aware of the situation," said Linden Mayor Rich Gerbounka. "They are jacking up cars and taking expensive wheels. We are addressing the issue. People may not see more police, but the police are out there. I can assure you of that."

Anyone with information about the thefts can call the police department at 908-474-8500.

County sponsors electronic recycling event at County College campus

The County of Union will sponsor a recycling event for electronic equipment on Saturday, March 29, so Union County residents can get rid of unwanted computers, televisions and other electronic equipment in an environmentally proper manner.

The special E-cycling event will take place from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the campus of Union County College located at 1033 Springfield Ave. in Cranford.

All residents of Union County are eligible to participate at no cost. There is a limit of six electronic items per car.

"Computer monitors, old televisions and other electronic devices are the source of a considerable amount of dangerous material, including lead, mercury, cadmium and PCBs — and it is unlawful to dispose of them with the regular garbage," said Freeholder Chairman Christopher Hudak, liaison to the Union County Solid Waste Advisory Board. "Up to 95 percent of most electronic appliances can be recycled. This is a responsible way to keep hazardous heavy metals out of our environment."

Electronic equipment that will be accepted on March 29 includes computer monitors, hard drives, modems, keyboards, CPU's, mice, printers, scanners, speakers, televisions, tablets and e-readers, VCR's, fax machines, telephones, circuit boards, CD's, DVD's and video cassettes.

All that residents need to do is drive to the site with their unwanted electronic equipment. Workers at the site will unload the vehicles.

Pre-registration is not required for this special Saturday collection. Refrigerators, washers and dryers, microwaves, and air conditioners will not be accepted, but they are accepted at Union County's Scrap Metal Recycling Program.

A complete list of the materials that will be accepted on March 29 is available at the Union County Bureau of Recycling and Planning website: www.ucnj.org/recycle.

The electronics collection will be held rain or shine, for Union County residents only and not for businesses. Proof of Union County residency is required. In addition to the special March 29 recycling event sponsored by the County of Union, there are local businesses as well as 14 municipalities that provide E-cycling opportunities for residents. Visit the website www.ucnj.org/recycle for more info.

OPINION

Elizabeth mayor must act

EDITORIAL

Elizabeth Mayor Chris Bollwage is currently in his 21st year heading up New Jersey's fourth largest city. That time alone demonstrates a wealth of knowledge and experience, and yet we are still waiting for that experience to be exercised when it comes to the alleged rampant corruption at the police department.

The taxpaying residents of the city deserve a police force free from corruption and illegal activity, yet despite repeated allegations from dozen of police sources saying Police Director James Cosgrove, Police Chief Patrick Shannon and their "minions" are running wild with corruption, nothing has been done.

And just as we wondered in last week's editorial why acting Union County Prosecutor Grace Park has not continued to dig into the department, we are also wondering why Bollwage has remained silent.

It would stand to reason that a responsible mayor with 21 years of experience would want to give his citizens the best quality public safety and the most upright brigade of law enforcement officers. But despite the efforts of more than two dozen police officers attempting to correct clear wrongs in the department, the mayor has taken no public actions. Bollwage should not only be calling for a deeper and broader investigation from an outside authority, he should also be taking any and all possible steps to stop any corruption immediately.

But perhaps the mayor's 21 years of experience have had an altogether different influence on the man. Perhaps it's simply business as usual. After all, the same allegations of a "family" existing at the police department go back to the 1990s.

In 1994, about a dozen police officers staged a protest over the existence of "the family" and its influence within the department. In 1998, the New York Times wrote an article saying that in 1995 a cop sued the Elizabeth Police Department under a state whistle-blower statute, claiming the department had shut down a drug investigation to protect members of the force. A 1998 grand jury report concluded 170 members of the then 370 officers belonged to "the family" and noted the group's members received preferential treatment, but found no criminal conduct.

And then, in 2000, "the family" reared its head again, when Bollwage and Cosgrove acknowledged that a group of police officers known as "the family" did exist. And at the time, Cosgrove said there had been a lack of leadership in the department which led to some members reverting to informal leadership groups.

The taxpaying residents of the city deserve a police force free from corruption and illegal activity, and yet despite repeated allegations from dozens of police sources saying Police Director James Cosgrove, Police Chief Patrick Shannon and their 'minions' are running wild with corruption, nothing has been done.

And now, here we are, nearly 14 years later, and about 14 years since the police director took office, and nothing seems to have changed. Talk of "the family" continues to surface, allegations of deep-seeded corruption from the director on down continues to be made public, investigations continue to show little results, and small numbers of officers continue to take the blame to protect a hierarchy of corruption, according to many sources inside the department.

The prosecutor thus far has done nothing significant, but she is new to the game, having only been appointed acting prosecutor less than a year ago. Bollwage has stood by as the city's mayor for 21 years and through every last mention of "the family" has not been able to stem the systematic corruption which has continued to pour out of the Elizabeth Police Department.

But perhaps there is a good reason why. Here's our best guess.

In the past three and a half years, Bollwage has raised more than $132,000 from city employees, including police, fire and municipal employees. According to Election Law Enforcement Commission reports, many of the names mentioned in LocalSource articles have donated significant sums to Bollwage, the Elizabeth Democratic Committee and to multiple Elizabeth City Council members, in addition to state Democratic senatorial candidates. Some of them, it has been alleged, have even received promotions shortly thereafter.

The police director has donated $5,775 to Democrats in Elizabeth since 2009, including $3,100 to Bollwage. Another $2,525 in donations was made to Bollwage from the police chief. And the son of the police director gave Bollwage another $550. Even Officer Stephen Negre, who oversees the Internal Affairs Division in the police department, has recently given money to the Bollwage campaign.

Perhaps the mayor has decided to stay quiet because he sees this as a clear conflict of interest, or perhaps Bollwage is simply a member of "the family." After all, he has been in charge of the city since the beginning, and nothing seems to have changed. Police are currently alleging poor leadership, criminal acts, abuses of power and corruption. Sounds a lot like the 1990s, doesn't it?

On behalf of the public, the mayor needs to take swift action to see that these accusations are thoroughly investigated. Just as in the case of the Union County Prosecutor, inaction is not an option. Not taking care of what is so clearly a serious problem shows a clear act of apathy at best and criminal negligence at worst.

More and more police officers have already made it clear to LocalSource that business as usual in the Elizabeth Police Department is not an option. Why is the mayor not standing with them?

And once again we contend that if the local and county authorities will not step in and attempt to take control of the Elizabeth Police Department, the state needs to begin making serious inquiries. The residents of Elizabeth deserve the best force their tax dollars can buy, and currently, that is not the case.

OPINION

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

BY CHERYL HEHL

One of the hardest things a reporter will ever hear from anyone is "please help us."

It cuts to the core of who we are as journalists and human beings. Over the 25 years I have been a reporter it is rare that I have been as affected as I have been by the incidents of corruption in the Elizabeth Police Department.

For more than a month, close to three dozen police officers have placed their trust in me as a reporter to get their story out. They have put their careers and livelihood on the line by speaking out about this corruption in their department and I take that trust very seriously.

Hour after hour I have heard incident after incident of a police chief that long ago lost sight of the obligations he has as the leader of this police force of over 300. The charges against him are more than serious; they speak directly to corruption, arrogance and a belief that he is untouchable.

Is Police Chief Patrick Shannon a leader or an inspiration to his police force? Do the police deserve a strong leader who respects the oath of office and leads by example?

Surprisingly, despite a police chief who allegedly is involved in this corruption, there are honest, decent men on this force who care deeply about the oath they took to try and do something about it.

I tell you that they did so initially with much hesitation, but good men always try to do what is right and I am so very proud they are no different. For that I say bravo. It takes more than a badge and gun to make a cop. It takes integrity and these men have proven to me they have this and more.

I listened to their stories, initially with a great deal of caution because I did not know what their agenda was or mission. I do now. A reporter with experience learns who the good guys are and who has an agenda or something to hide. Day after day and night after night, as I heard what these police officers had to say, I knew they cared deeply about their police department.

More importantly, they care about the residents in Elizabeth. Sadly, they are well aware residents are not being protected as well as they should and that is gnawing away at them every day.

Over these last weeks I have tried to report what their concerns were without jeopardizing these police officers' jobs or the chance anyone could be identified. These police officers trusted me and I gave my word I would never reveal who they were and that has not and will not change. What cuts to the very core of who I am as a reporter is the complete lack of response from those who should care about this situation; especially Mayor Chris Bollwage.

So I am going to address the mayor directly.

Mayor, when I called you about the fact officers were making accusations of corruption in your police department last month, you told me you would not be a part of any article that has unnamed sources. I was disappointed in you that day because I believed you were a mayor who would respond when police officers are desperate enough to bare their souls to a reporter because they believe it is their last hope.

If the truth be known, you should have recognized that if your police officers had to go to a reporter for help, something is terribly wrong with the leadership in their department.

It is evident by the lack of response from you that either you believe there is no problem or you are ignoring it. Why? I do not know, but I will tell you the incidents of corruption I have heard about are real and the officers who have chosen to speak up want someone to step to the plate and do something about it. They are depending on you to do the right thing.

I think you know me well enough by now to know I would never come to you with questions about your police department unless I had valid complaints from good police officers; police officers who put their lives on the line to protect and serve your city. They care, mayor, very deeply. Enough to risk their police chief finding out that they have talked about the corruption they have witnessed week after week, month after month, year after year.

It is evident by the lack of response from you that either you believe there is no problem or you are ignoring it. Why? I do not know, but I will tell you the incidents of corruption I have heard about are real and the officers who have chosen to speak up want someone to step to the plate and do something about it. They are depending on you to do the right thing.

Anyone can run for mayor, but it takes a good man to look past politics, longtime friendships and alliances to do what is right. Over the years I have known many mayors. Many were strong men who often had to take a hard stand because it was what was best for their town or city. The problems in your police department are not new, and they have been allowed to go on year after year. What will it take for change to occur?

My gut feeling rarely has let me down and I don't believe it has this time. I would hope that as you read this you have a plan to change what has gone horribly wrong with the Elizabeth Police Department leadership. And that plan will curtail corruption in the long run, and is not some simple fix to stop the bleeding and bad press.

Over the last four years I have had to tackle many difficult issues. Many have tugged at my heart, but none more than these police officers who put their trust in me to help them. Think about that for a moment, mayor. How desperate were these police officers to go outside their department for help? I know about the code police officers have and what a difficult decision it was for them.

I can listen to these police officers and write articles about what is going on, but only you can do something about it. You have more good police officers than corrupt ones who only care about themselves and how much money they can make. Is that what you want for the city of Elizabeth: corrupt leadership?

I don't believe it is and I am willing to step to the plate to say so. The question is, are you willing to do the same? I am certain there are many Elizabeth police officers and citizens waiting to see what your next move will be.

Dr. Rubino's budget cure

BY FRANK CAPECE

Dr. Robert Rubino has been spending a good deal of effort on his part time job as Summit's Common Council President crunching budget numbers. It's an unglamorous effort of zero-based budgeting to adopt a municipal budget. The challenge is to fund services, adapt to rising mandated costs and still stay below the 2 percent state cap.

Even some county Democrats privately acknowledge that Rubino, a Republican, is measured and a gentleman. A recent meeting between local and county financial types with little fanfare was deemed to be productive.

The past two years, slim municipal budget increases of 0.4 percent and 0.2 percent are an impressive effort by the city's leaders. Lately, Rubino has been focusing his rhetorical salvos on county government spending. After wrestling with various criticisms, he settles on the county budget "consuming" the fiscal savings of his city's efforts.

"The Doctor" often relies on charts to construct his argument. He says the city's overall tax portion has dropped from 25 percent to 22 percent while the county share has risen from 25 to 28 percent.

Rubino's diagnosis isn't totally lacking in gamesmanship. He describes Summit's tight fiscal "ship" and "the challenge has been to provide essential programs and services without imposing added costs," he said. He also praises the local school board. Challenging the far away county government is the equivalent of political inoculation.

Rubino calls on the county to adopt "more fiscal practicality." His targets are predictable. They include the long discussed merger of county police and sheriff's operations and suspending the open space tax for some "temporary relief." The relatively small savings of these moves escape Rubino's proscription.

The recent plan of the county to move for the sale of Runnell's Specialized Hospital gets Rubino's support but questions why it took so long. Alfred Faella, the Union County Manager, pointed to an annual subsidy of $13.5 million at the close of 2013 and more than $23 million during the past two years to the facility.

In a March 14 summary the Board considered the other big ticket items such as $55 million for the county jail and last year's increase in pension costs of $500,000, specialized programs such as renovation to Union County College and turf fields in the eastern end of the county which have special constituencies.

Just as important for Rubino and the county is the lurking question of whether or not the legislature and governor will be able to agree on a plan to renew a cap on arbitration for salary increase awards, which are limited to 2 percent for public safety personnel. The sunset on the 2 percent cap comes due in April. Rubino expects the public to get their say on Summit's budget in April. The county will give the public their shot at an April 10 hearing.

Maybe the only item lost in the budget crunching is the philosophical debate as to what is the limit on services to be provided. Beyond the public safety and legally-mandated social services, it may be time to limit the temptation for the programs which permit photo opportunities but add costs.

With few exceptions, the number of people attending and speaking at public budget hearings is smaller than the Summit increase. Even the initial county budget will be pruned down before the final adoption. In the absence of the greater participation by the public any the cures desired will remain elusive.

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Union Township:

I wanted to share with my fellow citizens a dreadful incident that targeted me on Sunday, February 16th, 2014.

At somewhat after 10 am that day there was a knock on my front door. A Union Police Officer DEMANDED to know if the 1988 Honda Accord, with a Handicapped placard on the rearview mirror was mine. As an aside please know that Police Director Dan Zieser is on the local committee for Americans With Disabilities Act. I suspect he missed a few meetings.

When I told the officer it was indeed my car he gave me an ULTIMATUM: either begin shoveling the car right then and there or it would be towed out. Let it be known there were a good many other cars in the same straits as mine but he paid no attention to anything else, he was hell-bent on my Honda being towed. As my girlfriend, Bernadette M. Theime, witnessed this with horror I tried to explain to the officer that we were going to remove the snow a little later in the day. In a belligerent voice he told me it had to be moved RIGHT NOW or it would be towed.

Because of his nasty, aggressive demeanor I felt dizzy and nauseous and my girlfriend had to call EMS as a safety measure. This resulted in a DAY LONG STAY in Overlook, Summit ER!!

While I was being taken away in the ambulance, I noticed a neighbor set up a tri-pod and photograph me being loaded into the ambulance. What kind of human being relishes, laughs and photographs another persons' misery for their sadistic pleasure? I later learned that this neighbor has made my car a point of interest on his blog and fed this data to the local police department.

Between the towing fees, the repairs for the damage done to my car by the towing company, the release for the car and the ticket this episode cost me $1,000.00!!! Indeed, the local police and the local establishment find this all amusing. Because it is clear I am a target of the local bosses the ticket was transferred to the Hillside Municipal Court. Let the public know that I have an issue of ethics with all three Union Municipal Judges and this was reported to the Advisory Committee on Judicial Conduct.

Today, it was me. Tomorrow it could be you or your family or your friends. As citizens we are viewed as just fools by the powers that be.

I had no idea America would end like this... a dysfunctional police department and a civilian government with zero backbone.

So long America, hello New World Order.

Runnells sale being finalized by county

"As a final piece, we're working to achieve an agreement that would give employees, who are in good standing, the first right of refusal to any employment opportunities," said the board chairman.

"A decision of this magnitude is never an easy one," said Hudak. "But in the end, we believe we have made a decision that will establish a firm fiscal path for the continuity of service at Runnells Hospital."

A number of speakers also stepped to the podium, some to implore the county to reconsider the sale and others to applaud the freeholders for being fiscally responsible.

Berkeley Heights Mayor Joseph Bruno was very pleased about the sale of Runnells moving forward, pointing out his town had been extremely unhappy with the county budget and was seriously considering secession from the county. However, the sale of Runnells appeared to throw a wrench in that move.

"I applaud you for this move, because government shouldn't be in the medical practice business," he told the freeholder board, adding that the sale would go a long way towards restoring faith in the county's ability to manage their finances.

Other speakers, including Betsy Thorton, a nurse at Runnells, told freeholders her main concern was that private facilities can hide many flaws and shortcomings because they are only inspected five days out of the year. She said ownership by the county "ensures high quality of care."

Judy Harris, of Cranford, said she was "very confused and perplexed" about the sale, noting Runnells, from her perspective, is a good facility.

"I know that because my husband has been a patient at Runnells for the last five years," she said, adding that "we must keep Runnells as the facility it is. We can't sell it."

Runnells has been a financial thorn in the side of the county for years because of continued decline in medical reimbursements from the federal government.

Last year alone the county lost $13.5 million with the loss this year expected to be around the same number. Because of this continued loss in reimbursements, the county had to subsidize the facility, which has been a considerable drain on taxpayer dollars. Over the course of two years, the county has shelled out $23 million to keep it afloat.

According to Union County Human Services Director Frank Guzzo, in 2006 both state and federal government began to move funding from nursing homes to community-based agencies and home care options. One of the most significant impacts of this was the continued reduction in Medicare and Medicaid rates which have made it difficult for the county to pull the financial reins on operating costs.

File Photo

A Flushing, NY, company is slated to purchase Runnells, but there are still many details for the county to work out. The sale could save the county $55 million over five years.

The human services director explained at the March 13 freeholder meeting that county subsidies for Runnells have continued to increase because 75 percent of the residents are Medicaid eligible and also because the county must operate within the state-mandated cap laws.

The county estimated that revenue from healthcare reimbursement cannot support Runnells operations and the projection is that it will only get worse once managed care for Medicaid is implemented in mid-2014.

According to figures obtained from the county, currently the county only receives $222 per patient per day, but that number is expected to fall another 10 percent to $190. In order for Runnells to break even, the county would have to realize reimbursements of more than $300 a day for each patient using Medicaid and Medicare.

Nursing home trends and Runnells created a "perfect storm" for the county, Guzzo explained, specifically citing that nursing homes in general have been impacted by major changes.

Last year alone the county lost $13.5 million with the loss this year expected to be around the same number. Because of this continued loss in reimbursements, the county had to subsidize the facility, which has been a considerable drain on taxpayer dollars. Over the course of two years, the county has shelled out $23 million to keep it afloat.

Included among these changes were the increased cost of healthcare and pensions; decreasing Medicaid while Medicaid-eligible residents are increasing; the number of "bed days" decreasing, which has made it difficult for the county to reduce staff quickly as needed; and the focus shifting to community-based services as an alternative to nursing home care.

Guzzo pointed out that many other counties have responded to these changes within the medical industry by selling their nursing homes to private operators. Among the examples included Camden in 2013, with a 450-bed facility sold for $37.1 million; Burlington, which had a 200-bed facility that was sold for $15 million in 2012; and Cumberland County, which sold their 196-bed facility in 2012 for $14 million.

Guzzo said the Requests for Proposals, or RFP's, the county put out in December for potential Runnells buyers generated five responses but one was disqualified because there were inherent flaws in the application.

"In the end we believe we have made a decision that will establish a firm fiscal path for the continuity of service at Runnells Hospital," the statement said.

As a result of the Freeholder Board voting to finalize negotiations with Center Management, the board approved a measure granting the Union County Improvement Authority permission to complete the sale with Center Management Group.

However, there were a number of conditions attached, including that the sale not be less than $26 million, which is the appraised value; give current hospital patients the right to remain at the hospital; protection of employees in good standing by giving them the first right of refusal; a guarantee Center Management Group will have a five-year capital improvement plan; commit to sharing revenue with the county for any new healthcare facility involving long-term care patients; and that a certain number of beds at Runnells will remain available for Union County residents and indigent patients.

AFFORDABLE CARE — Union County Freeholder Chairman Christopher Hudak and Freeholders Vernell Wright and Sergio Granados met with Donna Lowe Alexander, Clifton Alexander and Ella S. Teal of the Urban League of Union County during an Affordable Care Act Information and Enrollment Assistance Fair at Kean University in Union.

Trailside Center looking for environmental 'heroes'

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the Trailside Museum Association are once again working together to recognize and honor some of the environmental heroes in our communities. Now is the time to nominate your favorite local environmentalist or group for the 2014 Environmental Hero Award.

"The Environmental Hero Award is an excellent opportunity for Union County residents to be commended and awarded for their efforts in protecting the environment," said Freeholder Chairman Christopher Hudak. "They deserve our support for their commitment to nature and helping to maintain healthy surroundings."

If you know an individual or group of individuals who have taken action for environmental change in their community, you may nominate them for the Environmental Hero Award. Each entry must include an essay describing why the nominee is qualified to receive the award, contact information for the nominee and contact information for the person submitting the nomination. Photographs may accompany the essay.

Nominations for the 2014 Environmental Hero Award can be e-mailed to tobnovorro@ucnj.org or sent to Trailside Nature & Science Center, 452 New Providence Road, Mountainside, NJ 07092.

All entries must be received or postmarked by Friday, April 11. Board members of the Trailside Museum Association will read and consider all nominations.

Winners will receive certificates of recognition for their work presented by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and prizes presented by the Trailside Museum Association. Award recipients will be acknowledged at Trailside's annual Wild Earth Fest event on Sunday, April 27. For additional information call Trailside at 908-789-3670 or visit online at www.ucnj.org/trailside.

of Shannon's clique.

Sources said the police chief allegedly wanted the traffic division fatality reports altered to include his name as assisting in the investigations even though he never participated in any way during these investigations. DeRosa, they said, then notarized the reports and submitted them to Thomas Edison College, which is where Shannon had pursued his online degree.

One source actually witnessed the altering of reports taking place and was threatened with a demotion if he ever spoke about it. According to at least 15 sources, it was widely known within the department that Shannon had these official police reports altered, but officers felt there was nothing they could do about it.

"I think that is common knowledge," said one police officer, who pointed out that even though this is official misconduct by those involved, including Shannon, this type of behavior is "business as usual within the Elizabeth Police Department."

"Why do you think we want someone to step in here and clean things up? Things like that should never go on but it does and more," a police officer source said.

Also brought out by multiple sources was that Lt. Daniel Saulnier, an official spokesperson for the Elizabeth Police Department, took Shannon's online tests for him as he pursued his Master's degree. This, too, said police sources, was common knowledge.

Sources also revealed that all of this information was submitted to the Union County Prosecutor's office, who in turn submitted it to the New Jersey Attorney General, who sent it back to the prosecutor's office.

Sources also alleged that nothing more came of this because Prosecutor's Office Chief of Detectives John McCabe is personal friends with Shannon.

Curious is that multiple sources told LocalSource that while the no-show job scandal was coming to a head, then Elizabeth Police Department Internal Affairs Supervisor Capt. Andrew King sent an internal private memo to Shannon requesting he immediately be removed from command over internal affairs because he could not trust internal affairs investigators Sgt. Steven Negrey and Lt. Daniel Geddes conducting investigations.

According to 10 sources, in addition to retired officers, this was based on the fact Negrey was suspended without pay for six months for filing false reports more than 20 times. Sources also said Negrey is making thousands of dollars in overtime running investigations which involve allegations of the same exact criminal conduct he admitted to engaging in himself.

Likewise, Lt. Daniel Geddes, of the internal affairs department, is investigating fellow officers for the no-show jobs violations but has repeatedly done the same thing he is accusing other officers of doing, according to multiple sources.

Despite this, Shannon has not removed either Negrey or Geddes from internal affairs because they are protected members of "the family." Cosgrove also has not taken action against these two members of the department even though he is aware of the situation, sources said.

In fact, police sources continue to maintain the entire no-show job mess coming to light is the result of officers observing Shannon and members of "the family" doing the same thing without repercussions.

"Shannon has accumulated thousands of hours for no show jobs over the years while he sat at his second vacation home on Long Beach Island," one source said, adding the police chief was paid for overtime jobs that occurred while he actually was assigned to patrol and officially "on duty." This was confirmed by multiple other police sources.

"He would have his friends open his office door and turn on the lights to appear he was at work," one police source said. He mentioned that just prior to Shannon becoming chief, while supervisor of the narcotics division, he was transferred from narcotics because of putting in excessive overtime.

Sources said a good example of how the police chief protects members of the family can be seen in how he protects of Capt.

Giacomo Sacca.

According to at least 12 sources, Shannon used his influence to get Sacca moved to Jersey Gardens Mall where he was put in charge of training mall security guards.

"Sacca is being paid over $100,000 for heading up the mall security division while getting paid for extra duty jobs while he is supposed to be working at the mall," said one source, which was confirmed by multiple other police sources.

In addition, according to one source, Sacca came in second on the test police officers must take to qualify for the promotion. Lt. Jamie Colon, according to the source, placed first on the exam.

Members of the police department brought the mall situation to Shannon's attention, sources said, but the police chief never did anything about it, sources reported.

"You have to realize something; Capt. Sacca was in charge of the Narcotic Unit when these pay job scams were going on. Narcotics ran rampant with pay jobs, with officers always working pay jobs and never showing up for regular work," the police source explained, adding that as much as 75 percent of the Narcotics Unit was either abusing their regular police duty assignment or off duty pay jobs by not showing up.

"Sacca was transferred to head up mall security when the heat got turned up on the pay job scam last fall," the source said, pointing out that for 20 years, mall training was headed up by one lieutenant. Now Sacca brought in a sergeant to help him, sources said.

"Now you have a lieutenant that was originally placed there, a sergeant and Sacca doing a job that only took one person to do for 20 years," the police officer source said, adding "and all three of them are members of the family."

The lieutenant and sergeant on the mall detail in addition to Sacca, LocalSource has learned, are Lt. Richard Shaughnessy and Sgt. Michael Maulshagen.

LocalSource also learned from an inside source at the Union County Prosecutor's Office that initially veteran Assistant Prosecutor Ann Rubin was supervising the investigation of the Elizabeth Police Department pay job scandal involving more than 20 police officers but was removed from the case by acting Prosecutor Grace Park.

Apparently Rubin wrote a ten-page internal memo to Park recommending none of the police officers involved in taking money for overtime pay jobs be prosecuted and the entire matter be sent back to the Elizabeth Police Department to be handled administratively, according to sources.

Prosecutor's Office sources said Park removed Rubin from the case and re-assigned the Elizabeth Police Department investigation to another assistant prosecutor, however, this was the first time a case was taken from an assistant prosecutor.

Sources within the Prosecutor's Office confirmed that Park, appointed by Gov. Chris Christie in June 2013, began to intensify the Elizabeth pay job scandal investigation after requests to meet with Bollwage to discuss the situation in the police department fell on deaf ears. Within days of the mayor canceling yet another meeting with Park, sources reported that the acting prosecutor sent target letters to police officers on the list.

Of particular interest, Prosecutor's Office sources said, was that these letters

Cinderella is whisked off in her stage coach during a regearal performance of 'Cinderella.' The New Jersey Ballet Company will be performing the classic tale on March 23 at Kean University in Union.

NJ Ballet to perform 'Cinderella' at Kean

Spend Sunday, March 23, afternoon with Cinderella, the beautiful young girl who loses a dancing slipper and wins a prince.

New Jersey Ballet presents this beloved classic with splendid dancing, colorful costumes, beautiful sets, wickedly funny stepsisters, a magical fairy godmother, a handsome prince and a pumpkin which turns into a coach before your very eyes. Viewers will be transported to a fairytale world where all is tuneful, graceful and ends happily ever after, according to a release from the New Jersey Ballet. "Cinderella" is accompanied by New Jersey Ballet's original "storyteller" narration so even the littlest theatergoers can keep up with the story.

One veteran dance writer recently noted, "Whenever children flock to see a ballet matinee, they are being exposed to a long-term cultural experience. And if they are accompanied by parents, grandparents or godparents," the shared family experience is even better.

The show is being performed by New Jersey Ballet at Kean University on Sunday, March 23, at 2 p.m. at Kean University in the Wilkins Theatre, located at 1000 Morris Ave. in Union. Tickets are $25, $20, and $15. Visit www.keanstage.com or call 908-737-7469 for advance tickets or for more information.

New Jersey Ballet is committed to making its performances fully accessible to everyone wishing to attend. The theatres where the company performs meet ADA barrier-free requirements, and most have assistive listening equipment. Upon request, program information and/or program notes are available on audio cassette up to two weeks prior to performances. Large print programs are available at all performances. New Jersey Ballet's extensive performance schedule is made possible in part by support from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a Partner Agency of the National Endowment for the Arts, The Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation, and by other generous corporate, foundation, and individual contributions. The company has been designated a Major Arts Institution by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts for "artistic excellence, substantial programming, and broad public service." New Jersey Ballet is a three-time winner of the title New Jersey's Favorite Dance Company in the annual JerseyArts.com online competition.

Being first with ground breaking technology is a hallmark of Trinitas Comprehensive Cancer Center, which was the first cancer center in New Jersey to provide patients with the Varian Trilogy radiation therapy system in 2005. Trilogy's ultra-precise robotics accurately tracks and adjusts for tumor movements at the moment of treatment, then targets cancer and neurological lesions with sub-millimeter accuracy. No other facility in New Jersey has more experience with Varian Trilogy than Trinitas.

Trinitas was also the first in New Jersey to offer women the new Accublast radiotherapy technology – a highly effective, non-invasive treatment for breast cancer that is more accurate than standard breast radiotherapy. In addition, Trinitas is a leader in radiosurgery – which uses precisely-focused beams of radiation to treat tumors anywhere in the body.

Ground breaking technology, and the expertise to use it - that's the Trinitas Comprehensive Cancer Center.

SPRINGFIELD NEWS

Exhibit at library marks 220th anniversary of Springfield as month-long celebration kicks off

The 220th anniversary of the Township of Springfield is April 14. On that date, the very first Township Committee meeting was held. Springfield had petitioned the State Legislature in 1793 to be recognized as independent of the Township of Elizabethtown. There will be a month long celebration of this anniversary, kicking off with a concert of colonial music by the musical duo, The Tuckers at 2 p.m. on Sunday, April 6. Their performance will feature such songs from the colonial hit parade as "Antediluvians Were All Very Sober," "Battle of Trenton," "Four Drunken Maidens" and "Soldier Will You Marry Me?" along with more familiar tunes such as "Yankee Doodle," "Greensleeves," and "Water is Wide."

April 6 will also mark the opening of an exhibit at the library's Donald B. Palmer Museum of various items from the history of Springfield, including news coverage of significant events that mark the evolution of the township. The doors to the museum will open at 1 p.m. The Historical Society and the library will also have available for sale that afternoon a number of books and items pertaining to Springfield's history, including Images of America: Springfield, Phoebe's Notebook, and maps and informational booklets pertaining to the Battle of Springfield.

The library owns the original minutes of every township committee meeting from the first one held on April 14, 1794 through 1909. These are bound in a single volume and have recently been digitized. A facsimile copy of the entire volume was produced and is available to the public for perusal at the library. Another facsimile copy has been made and will be presented to the Township Committee at their meeting to be held on April 8.

Funding for this program is being made possible in part by the NJ Council on the Arts, Department of State, a partner agency of the National Endowment for the Arts, through a grant administered by the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs.

The Springfield Free Public Library is located at 66 Mountain Ave. More information about the library can be found at www.springfieldpubliclibrary.com, by visiting the library's Facebook page or by calling 973 376-4930 during regular library hours.

Poison Prevention Week

March 16 - 22, 2014

CHILDREN ACT FAST - SO DO POISONS!

Below are some safety rules to follow to help avoid an accident with prescription or over-the-counter medications.

- Every 13 seconds a poison center receives a call about an unintentional poisoning.
- More than 90 percent of poisonings happen in the home.
- In children ages six and younger, the most common exposure is to medicines, plants, pesticides and cleaning products, followed by many more substances.
- Child-resistant packages are not childproof. Most two-year olds can open a child-resistant container in 4 to 5 minutes.
- Calling 1-800-222-1222 from anywhere in the United States will connect you to the local poison center — calling from New Jersey will get you the New Jersey Poison Center.
- Keep all poisons locked up and out of reach of children.
- Only keep poisons (chemicals, pills, etc.) in their original jar or bottle with a clear label.
- Never refer to medicine (prescription, vitamins or otherwise) as candy as children may mistake tiny pills for yummy candy.
- Get household furnaces checked yearly and make sure working carbon monoxide detectors are in the house and checked multiple times a year. This is especially important for the winter months when we close our doors and turn our heaters on.
- Never leave a car running in a closed space like a garage.

KNOW WHO TO CALL

Post near, or program every phone, in your home with the nationwide poison control center phone number, 1-800-222-1222.

You can reach a poison control center 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Call poison control if you think a child has been poisoned and if they are awake and alert. Call 911 if you have a poison emergency and your child has collapsed or is not breathing.

Union County celebrates St. Pat's Day

Happy St. Patrick's Day!

The annual Union County St. Patrick's Day parade marched through town on Saturday to the beat of many drums and the sound of many bagpipes. Groups of all ages and types marched through Union celebrating St. Patrick and his Irish heritage. Police officers, firemen, bagpipers, costumed characters, Boy Scouts, charitable organizations and more joined in the revelry as thousands of onlookers lined the streets. Right: The grand marshal of the parade, Robert E. Jeans Sr., of Kenilworth, delivered a brief speech and greeting to the jubilant crowd.

Pipes, drums and so much more!

The 18th annual Union County St. Patrick's Day Parade launched on Saturday, March 15, on Morris Avenue in Union to enormous fanfare. In its inaugural run in 1997, the parade drew about 10,000 spectators, according to the county. Last year, the parade reached an estimated size of 40,000 on-lookers, and just like year's past, there were festively-dressed attendees of all ages. The estimated count is not yet available for this year, but will likely rival parades of past. As in years past, the parade was preceded by a mass at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church in Elizabeth and a welcome reception in the church hall.

By land, and air and ... motorcycle!

Police from the local, county and state level were well represented during the annual Union County St. Patrick's Day Parade on Saturday, March 15. In addition to many officers marching or riding in the parade, a State Police helicopter circled overhead in an effort to provide security. The one-mile parade began at 1 p.m. on Commerce Street and Morris Avenue, proceeding east on Morris Avenue to Union Center and south onto Stuyvesant Avenue, ending at Roosevelt Avenue. Children, teens, family and friends lined the streets the entire way enjoying the marching bands, motorcycles, floats and more.

Wee Irish lads proudly march in St. Pat's Parade

Union County's youngest Irish residents were not just on the sidelines for the parade, they were featured marchers in many groups and organizations, including one young bagpiper. But the children's fun was not restricted to the parade alone. A Kids Zone was presented at the end of the parade featuring inflatable rides, walk-around entertainers and activities for the whole family.

Beware of Pulaski closure

With closure of the Pulaski Skyway coming up on April 12, a new bus service to help reduce traffic tie-ups is already rolling through four Union County municipalities.

The new service, bus No. 95, is one of several transit alternatives available to Union County residents that have been arranged by the New Jersey State Department of Transportation with NJ Transit.

The DOT Skyway project will close both of the northbound lanes for two years starting on April 12, in order to rehabilitate the 80-year-old structure.

"We know that the next two years will be challenging ones, and DOT has made a good start on providing the public with more mass transit options," said Freeholder Chairman Christopher Hudak. "We encourage the commuting public to take a look at DOT's options and test an alternate route before the April 12 closure date, to help your trip go as smoothly as possible."

The Pulaski Skyway is not located within Union County but the two-year closure is expected to impact regional arteries including Route 78, Route 22, and Routes 1 and 9. Local traffic may also be affected.

"The closure will directly impact both Union County residents and many other commuters who travel in and through our County, far beyond those who currently use the Skyway," said Freeholder Sergio Granados, who is liaison to the Union County Transportation Advisory Board. "Transit options like the new 95 bus can help, but there is also a need to plan for the possibility of commuters clogging local roads to avoid heavily traveled arteries including Route 22 and Routes 1 and 9."

Bus 95 began service on Monday, March 3. It operates between the new Park-and-Ride at the Sears parking lot on eastbound Route 22 at Terrill Road in Watchung, and Newark Penn Station. Parking at the new Park-and-Ride is free.

From Watchung, the new service travels along existing local bus stops on Route 22 through Scotch Plains and Mountainside. It continues local stops through Springfield and Union Center. After that it returns to Route 22, where it goes express to Newark.

Inbound service is available only during morning rush hours. Outbound service is available only during evening rush hours, for a total of 16 rides.

Additional trains and rail cars are also being added to NJ Transit trains that service Union County along the Raritan Valley and Morris & Essex lines.

Complete details on the Skyway project and all transit options, including help with vans and carpools, are available from DOT at pulaskiskyway.com.

Links to all regional transit are available on the Union County website at ConneXions.ucnj.org/connect. A direct link to the DOT Pulaski Skyway website is also located on the Union County home page, ucnj.org.

Corruption allegations continue

were sent within days of Bollwage publicly criticizing Republican Gov. Chris Christie prior to the November election.

When directly asked about many of these allegations made about Elizabeth and the Prosecutor's Office, Park had a brief and terse written statement.

"I will not respond to any questions based on matters of unsubstantiated speculation published without any named, legitimate sources," she said. "Regarding your questions about a variety of purported internal affairs matters, it is the policy of the Union County Prosecutor's Office to adhere to the NJ Office of the Attorney General guidelines that prohibit releasing any information — including the existence or nonexistence of an investigation — regarding all internal affairs matters."

However, sources within the Prosecutor's Office maintained that Bollwage's criticism of the governor, coupled with the fact the mayor refused to send police department personnel to the Union County Homicide Task Force, forced Park's hand.

It was at this point, Prosecutor's Office sources said, Park began to narrow the pay job investigation to two specific police officers, 24-year veteran officer Christopher Flatley and Michael Tropeano, a 15-year veteran officer. Shortly thereafter Bollwage backed down and made a deal with Park to let her office investigate all homicides in Elizabeth, which he had refused to do since last year.

Questions have also surfaced over Park refusing to turn over evidence known as "Brady material" to attorneys representing police officers involved in the pay job scandal, according to multiple sources.

However, when asked about the so-called "Brady material," the Park denied the allegations in her written statement.

"No, this is not true," she said. "It is categorically false."

Trinity Church to host awareness seminar for parents of teenagers

Trinity Episcopal Church in Cranford and Youth & Family Counseling Service in Westfield will present a free awareness seminar for the parents of teenagers on Thursday, March 20 at 7 p.m. in Witherington Hall at Trinity Episcopal Church, 119 Forest Ave. in Cranford.

The seminar, part of the "Do Anything: A Collaboration of Love" series to help educate and empower the parents of teens, is open to the public; it is intended to help parents

Guest speaker Kathy Crescenzi, a certified advance practice nurse in the field of mental health, who has taught undergraduate and graduate students at Rutgers UMDNJ and Fairleigh Dickinson University, will focus on teen mental health issues.

The Youth and Family Counseling Service provides traditional counseling to individuals, couples and families across all age groups: children, teenagers, young adults and senior citizens.

It offers low cost sessions or free support groups to assist with the community members in need, as well as programs in the community to assist parents, civic organizations and community leaders to address the need for early intervention in diagnosing and treating mental illness and substance abuse.

For more information about the Youth and Family Counseling Service, visit www.yfcsnj.org.

Trinity Episcopal Church offers Sunday services at 8 and 10 a.m., celebrated by the Reverend Gina Walsh-Minor. For more information, call 908-276-4047 or visit www.trinitycranford.org.

Ready for the big time

Students in Frank K. Hehnly School's new ensemble in Clark, the Hehnly Chamber Winds, practice new music they're working on for upcoming performances. The students in Meghan Bowers' instrumental were recently presented with a new opportunity to play their instruments in a more challenging environment. In January, students who wanted to play demanding band pieces auditioned for this newest group. The Hehnly Chamber Winds are looking for performance opportunities within the Clark community. Next month, the Chamber Winds will be making their first appearance at the Frank K. Hehnly Art Show on April 30. Following this performance, the ensemble will be performing at the Memorial Day Ceremony at Frank K. Hehnly Elementary School with the Select Choir.

Forcing an early display of spring colors

THE GARDENER'S APPRENTICE

BY ELISABETH GINSBURG

Last fall, while most gardeners were putting in tulip bulbs, the spring-flowering shrubs were quietly going about the annual business of producing the buds from which long-awaited flowers will begin sprouting about a month from now.

While we shivered through the winter, thinking that the snow-covered branches were asleep, they were, in fact, readying themselves for the spring show. Eight weeks or so of chilling time is a necessary tonic to spring flowering shrubs, as essential to the flowering process as sunlight and sufficient water. While we were complaining, the shrubs were preparing. It would be a stretch to say that they are smarter than we, but they certainly have better instincts.

Starting now, we can reap the benefit of that instinctive behavior by collecting flowering branches, carting them inside and forcing them into bloom. This practice, which has been going on for ages, has the benefit of bringing spring into the house at a time when it is much needed. It is also multi-tasking at its best, because intelligent branch cutting can also serve as a mini-pruning process, opening up congested areas of the shrubs.

The list of shrubs suitable for forcing is a long one: beauty bush, spirea, deutzia, clove currant, forsythia, lilac, pussy willow, spicebush, witch hazel and even wisteria, to name a few. I would recommend trying the procedure with any spring flowering shrub. You have nothing to lose. Some flowering trees also make good forcing subjects. These include buckeye, flowering dogwood, flowering cherry, magnolia and redbud. Fruit trees are another possibility, but remember that diminishing the number of flowers on the trees also diminishes fruit production later on.

The forcing process takes anywhere from two to five weeks, depending on the plant species. It begins with collecting budded branches. Pick a day when the weather has been above freezing for several days. Use sharp clippers and cut off branches that are about 18 inches long. Try to select branches that you might prune anyway because they cross other branches or give the shrub a lopsided appearance. Bring them into the house and recut the stems at an angle. Choose a tall vase, bucket or other container and fill with about 3 inches of warm water. Place the branches in the water and let them sit for 30 minutes. If you have some commercial flower food, add the powder or gel to the water in the container. If not, make your own flower food with two tablespoons each of sugar and white vinegar, combined with half a teaspoon of chlorine bleach in one quart of water. After the thirty minutes has elapsed, fill the rest of the container with either plain water, if you have already added commercial flower food, or the homemade flower food mixture. Place the container in a shaded, relatively cool location, where the temperature will not go above 65 degrees.

Check the branches every few days and top off the water level as needed. When the flowers on the branches begin to show color, arrange them in a decorative container and display them. They do best when they are not in direct sunlight. To keep the show going for as long as possible, move the branches to a cool location at night.

In my observation, every household has at least one denizen, such as my husband, who prefers to keep the temperature borderline-chilly at all times. If your household matches that description, there is no need to move the vase full of branches, as it is already cool enough. Instead you may want to move yourself to a warmer place from time to time.

This weekend, I intend to brave whatever elements are at work in the environment and collect a few branches from the flowering quince, clove currant and spirea in the front garden and the lilac in the upper back. I'll check the abelia for signs of budding as well. The greatest hazard will be the thorny quince branches, which I always forget about until I am impaled for the first time each spring.

The excellent people at Purdue University's Cooperative Extension Service have put out a nice two-page procedural on flowering branch forcing. It includes a handy chart listing shrub species, forcing times and details about the appearance of flowers and buds. It is available at www.hort.purdue.edu/ext/ho-23.pdf.

We gardeners are always trying to force things — from hyacinths to quince branches — as a way of getting early relief from the end-of-winter doldrums. This year we need it more than ever.

Are you overwhelmed when zucchini comes into your home because there is either too much of it and/or you are at a loss for what to do with it? Well, I hope this recipe will make a dent in your supply. Enjoy!

Zucchini Souffle

Ingredients

4 cups zucchini, grated
2 ½ cups stale bread cubes
8 eggs
2 cups whole or skim milk
½ tsp. garlic powder
½ tsp. kosher salt
½ tsp. ground pepper
3 ounces goat cheese, crumbled
1 tsp. grape seed oil or olive oil

Method

Take the grated zucchini and squeeze out as much water as possible with a paper towel.
Heat up a medium-size frying pan

CITY OF ELIZABETH, COUNTY OF UNION, NEW JERSEY

$11,000,000 GENERAL IMPROVEMENT BONDS, SERIES 2014
(Book-Entry-Only) (Callable)

The City of Elizabeth, a municipal corporation of the State of New Jersey located in the County of Union, New Jersey (the "City"), hereby invites sealed or electronic proposals for the purchase of the City's $11,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its General Improvement Bonds, Series 2014 (the "Bonds").

SEALED OR ELECTRONIC (VIA PARITY) PROPOSALS will be received by the Chief Financial Officer of the City at City Hall, 50 Winfield Scott Plaza, Elizabeth, New Jersey 07201, on March 27, 2014 (the "Bid Date") until 11:00 a.m., prevailing local time, at which time they will be publicly opened and announced. The Bonds will be dated their date of delivery and will mature, subject to prior redemption, on April 1, in the years and in the amounts set forth below:

GENERAL IMPROVEMENT BONDS, SERIES 2014

Year	Principal Amount	Year	Principal Amount
2015	$ 695,000	2022	$ 865,000
2016	705,000	2023	900,000
2017	725,000	2024	935,000
2018	745,000	2025	970,000
2019	770,000	2026	1,010,000
2020	800,000	2027	1,050,000
2021	830,000
		TOTAL	$11,000,000

All bidders for the Bonds must be participants of the Depository Trust Company, New York, New York ("DTC") or affiliated with its participants. The Bonds will be issued in the form of one certificate for each maturity of the Bonds, each in the aggregate principal amount of such maturity, and will be payable as to both principal and interest in lawful money of the United States of America. Each certificate will be registered in the name of Code & Co., as nominee of DTC, which will act as Securities Depository. The certificate will be deposited with DTC which will be responsible for maintaining a book-entry system for recording the interests of its participants and the transfers of the interests among its participants. The participants will be responsible for maintaining records regarding the beneficial ownership interests in the Bonds on behalf of the individual purchasers. Individual purchases may be made in the principal amount of $5,000 or any integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof through book entries made on the books and records of DTC and its participants.

The Bonds will be dated their date of delivery, and will bear interest at the rate or rates per annum specified by the successful bidder therefor in accordance herewith, payable semi-annually on April 1 and October 1 of each year, commencing October 1, 2014, until maturity, to DTC or its authorized nominee. The DTC will credit payments of principal of and interest on the Bonds to the participants of DTC as listed on the records of DTC.

In the event (a) DTC determines not to continue to act as Securities Depository for the Bonds or (b) the City determines that continuation of the book-entry system of evidence and transfer of ownership of the Bonds would adversely affect the interests of the beneficial owners of the Bonds, the City will discontinue the book-entry system with DTC. If the City fails to identify another qualified securities depository to replace DTC, the City will deliver replacement bonds in the form of fully registered certificates.

The Bonds are general obligations of the City and are secured by a pledge of the full faith and credit of the City for the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon. The Bonds are payable, if not paid from other sources, from ad valorem taxes to be levied upon all the real property taxable within the City without limitations as to rate or amount.

Each proposal must be unconditional and must specify the rate or rates of interest per annum which the Bonds are to bear in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, provided that: (a) all Bonds of the same maturity must bear a single and uniform rate of interest greater than zero percent (0%) and no split or supplemental interest rates will be considered; and (b) a rate of interest stated for Bonds of any one maturity may not be less than the rate of interest stated for Bonds of an earlier maturity. Each proposal submitted must be for all of the Bonds. The purchase price specified in the proposal for the Bonds must not be less than $11,000,000.

The Bonds maturing on or before April 1, 2024, are not subject to redemption prior to maturity. The Bonds maturing on or after April 1, 2025, are subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the City, as a whole on any date on or after April 1, 2024, or in part as selected by the City on any date on or after April 1, 2024, at the redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount to be redeemed, plus accrued interest thereon to the date fixed for redemption.

Except as provided herein under the caption "Procedures Regarding Electronic Bidding," each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked on the outside "Proposal for City G.O. Bonds" and, if mailed, addressed to or in care of the undersigned at 50 Winfield Scott Plaza, Elizabeth, New Jersey 07201. All bids which are submitted electronically via the PARITY Electronic Bid Submission System ("PARITY") of i-Deal LLC ("i-Deal") pursuant to the procedures described below shall be deemed to constitute a "Proposal for Bonds" and shall be deemed to incorporate by reference all of the terms and conditions of this Notice of Sale. The submission of a bid electronically via PARITY shall constitute and be deemed the bidder's signature on the Proposal for Bonds.

PROCEDURES REGARDING ELECTRONIC BIDDING. Bids may be submitted electronically via PARITY in accordance with this notice, until 11:00 a.m., New Jersey time, on the Bid Date, but no bid will be accepted after the time for receiving bids specified above. In addition, bidders must ensure that the good faith deposit or financial surety bond referred to herein is submitted on the Bid Date by 11:00 a.m. To the extent any instructions or directions set forth in PARITY conflict with this Notice of Sale, the terms of this Notice of Sale shall control. For further information about PARITY, potential bidders may contact PARITY at i-Deal at 1359 Broadway, 2nd Floor, New York, NY 10010, telephone (212) 849-5021. The City may, but is not obligated to, acknowledge its acceptance in writing of any bid submitted electronically via PARITY. In the event that a bid for the Bonds is submitted via PARITY, the bidder further agrees that:

1. The City may regard the electronic transmission of the bid through PARITY (including information about the principal amount of the Bonds, the price bid for the Bonds and any other information included in such transmission) as though the same information were submitted on the "Proposal for Bonds" provided by the City and executed by a duly authorized signatory of the bidder. If a bid submitted electronically by PARITY is accepted by the City, the terms of the "Proposal for Bonds" and this Notice of Sale and the information that is electronically transmitted through PARITY shall form a contract, and the Successful Bidder shall be bound by the terms of such contract.

2. PARITY is not an agent of the City, and the City shall have no liability whatsoever based on any bidder's use of PARITY, including but not limited to any failure by PARITY to correctly or timely transmit information provided by the City or information provided by the bidder.

3. The City may choose to discontinue use of electronic bidding via PARITY by issuing a notification to such effect via TM3 News Services, or by other available means, no later than 3:00 p.m., New Jersey time, on the last business day prior to the Bid Date.

4. Once the bids are communicated electronically via PARITY to the City as described above, each bid will constitute a Proposal for Bonds and shall be deemed to be an irrevocable offer to purchase the Bonds on the terms provided in this Notice of Sale. For purposes of submitting all Proposals for Bonds, whether by hand delivery, facsimile or electronically via PARITY, the time as maintained on PARITY shall constitute the official time.

5. Each Bidder shall be solely responsible to make necessary arrangements to access PARITY for purposes of submitting its bid in a timely manner and in compliance with the requirements of this Notice of Sale. Neither the City nor i-Deal shall have any duty or obligation to provide or assure access to any bidder, and neither the City nor i-Deal shall be responsible for the proper operation of, or have any liability for any delays or interruptions of, or any damages caused by PARITY. The City is using PARITY as a communication mechanism, and not as the City's agent, to conduct the electronic bidding for the Bonds. By using PARITY, each bidder agrees to hold the City harmless from any harm or damages caused to such bidder in connection with its use of PARITY for bidding on Bonds.

Unless all bids are rejected, the Bonds will be awarded and sold to the bidder whose legally acceptable proposal specifies the lowest net interest cost for the Bonds. It is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a computation of such net interest cost to the City under the terms of the proposal in accordance with the method of calculation described in this paragraph (computed to six decimal places) but such computation is not to be considered as part of the proposal for Bonds. Net interest cost for the Bonds will be computed by adding to the total principal amount of Bonds bid for, the total interest cost to maturity in accordance with such bid and by deducting therefrom the amount of premium if any, bid. In selecting the proposal to be accepted, the City will not consider proposals under which the total loan is made at an interest cost higher than the lowest net interest cost to the City in any legally acceptable proposal for the Bonds, and if two or more such bidders offer to pay the same lowest net interest cost, then the Bonds will be sold to one of such bidders selected by lot from among all such bidders. The purchaser must also pay an amount equal to the interest on the Bonds accrued to the date of payment of the purchase price.

The right is reserved to reject all bids and any bid not complying with the terms of this notice may be rejected.

Each bidder is required to make a good faith deposit ("Deposit") in the form of a cash wire, a certified, cashier's or treasurer's check or a financial surety bond ("Financial Surety Bond") in the amount of $220,000, payable to the City of Elizabeth. If a cash wire is used, the wire must be received by the City no later than 11:00 A.M. on March 27, 2014. If a cash wire is utilized, each bidder must notify the City of its intent to use such cash wire prior to 11:00 A.M. on March 27, 2014, and must provide proof of electronic transfer of such cash wire prior to 11:00 A.M. on March 27, 2014. Wiring instructions for the City can be obtained by contacting the City's chief financial officer. If a check is used, the check must be certified or cashier's or treasurer's check drawn upon a bank or trust company and must be delivered to the City by no later than 11:00 A.M. on March 27, 2014. Each bidder accepts responsibility for delivering such cash wire or check on time and the City is not responsible for any cash wire or check that is not received on time. If a Financial Surety Bond is used, the same must be from an insurance company licensed to issue such a bond in the State of New Jersey and approved by the Director of the Division of Local Government Services in the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs and proof of such bond must be submitted to the City no later than 11:00 A.M. on March 27, 2014, at the address referred to above or by email to the Chief Financial Officer. Use of any other Financial Surety Bond must be approved by the Director prior to the bid and will not be accepted by the City unless evidence of such approval is provided prior to the bid. The Financial Surety Bond must identify the bidder whose Deposit is guaranteed by such Financial Surety Bond. If the Bonds are awarded to a bidder utilizing a Financial Surety Bond, then that winning bidder shall be required to submit its Deposit to the City by wire transfer as instructed by the City no later than 3:30 P.M. on the next business day following the award. If such Deposit is not received by that time, the Financial Surety Bond may be drawn by the City to satisfy the Deposit requirement. When the successful bidder has been ascertained, all such Deposits shall be promptly returned to the persons making the same, except the cash wire, check or Financial Surety Bond of the successful bidder which shall be applied as partial payment for the Bonds or to secure the City from any loss resulting from the failure of the successful bidder to comply with the terms of its bid.

Award of the Bonds to the successful bidder or rejection of all bids is expected to be made promptly after opening of the bids. The successful bidder may withdraw its proposal after 5:30 P.M. on the day of such bid opening, but only if such award has not been made prior to the withdrawal.

The Bonds will be delivered through DTC on April 10, 2014, or such other date agreed to by the City and the successful bidder. PAYMENT FOR THE BONDS AT THE TIME OF THE CLOSING SHALL BE IN IMMEDIATELY AVAILABLE FEDERAL FUNDS.

The successful bidder may at its option refuse to accept the Bonds if prior to their delivery any income tax law of the United States of America shall provide that the interest thereon is includable in gross income for Federal income purposes, or shall be included at a future date for Federal income tax purposes, and in such case the deposit made by the bidder will be returned and the bidder will be relieved of the bidder's contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of the bidder's proposal.

If the Bonds qualify for issuance of any policy of municipal bond insurance, the purchaser of the Bonds may, at its sole option and expense, purchase such insurance. Any failure of the Bonds to be so insured shall not in any way relieve the purchaser of its contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of its proposal for the purchase of the Bonds.

It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on the Bonds, but neither the failure to print such number on any Bond nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds. The CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the purchaser.

The obligation hereunder to deliver and accept the Bonds shall be conditioned on the availability and the delivery at the time of delivery of the Bonds of: (a) the approving opinion of the law firm of DeCotillis, FitzPatrick & Cole, LLP, Teaneck, New Jersey, Bond Counsel, which will be furnished without cost to the successful bidder, substantially to the effect set forth in the Preliminary Official Statement referred to below; (b) certificates in form satisfactory to said law firm evidencing the proper execution and delivery of the Bonds and receipt of payment therefor, and compliance with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, necessary to preserve the tax exemption; (c) a certificate, in form and tenor satisfactory to said law firm and dated as of the date of such delivery, to the effect that there is no litigation pending or, to the knowledge of the signer or signers thereof, threatened affecting the validity of the Bonds; and (d) the City's Continuing Disclosure Certificate substantially in the form described in the Preliminary Official Statement.

A Preliminary Official Statement has been prepared and may be obtained via i-Deal at www.i-dealprospectus.com or from the undersigned at the address set forth below. The Preliminary Official Statement is deemed to be a "final official statement," as of its date, within the meaning of Rule 15c2-12 of the Securities and Exchange Commission, but is subject to (a) completion with certain pricing and other information to be made available by the successful bidder for the Bonds and (b) amendment. The Preliminary Official Statement as so revised will constitute the "final official statement." By the submission of a bid for the Bonds, the successful bidder contracts for the receipt of a reasonable number of copies of the final Official Statement within seven business days of the award of the Bonds. In order to complete the final Official Statement, the successful bidder must furnish on behalf of the underwriter(s) of the Bonds the following information to Bond Counsel and the City by email, facsimile transmission or overnight delivery received by Bond Counsel and the City within 24 hours after the award of the Bonds: (a) initial offering prices or yields (expressed as percentages), (b) selling compensation (aggregate total, anticipated compensation to the underwriter(s) expressed in dollars), (c) the identity of the underwriters if the successful bidder is part of a group or syndicate, and (d) any other material information necessary for the final Official Statement, but not known to the City (such as the bidder's purchase of insurance or other credit enhancement). It shall also be the obligation of the successful bidder to furnish to DTC an underwriter's questionnaire and the denominations of the Bonds not less than seventy-two (72) hours prior to the delivery of the Bonds.

In order to assist bidders in complying with SEC Rule 15c2-12(b)(5), the City will undertake, pursuant to a Continuing Disclosure Certificate, to provide certain annual information and notices of the occurrence of certain events. A description of this undertaking is set forth in the Preliminary Official Statement and will also be set forth in the final Official Statement.

The successful bidder will be required to certify the initial offering prices to the public (excluding bond houses and brokers) at which a substantial amount of Bonds of each maturity are sold.

The City reserves the right to postpone, from time to time, the date and time established for the receipt of bids. Any such postponement shall be published on TM3 News Service, or by other available means, not less than twenty-four (24) hours prior to the sale. If any date fixed for receipt of bids and the sale of the Bonds is postponed, an alternative sale date will be announced via TM3 News Service, or by other available means, at least forty-eight (48) hours prior to such alternative date.

A Preliminary Official Statement may be obtained via i-Deal at www.i-dealprospectus.com or from the City's Chief Financial Officer, 50 Winfield Scott Plaza, Elizabeth, New Jersey 07201, telephone 908/820-4097.

The information presented in columns 1 through 3 as well as the related descriptions of the per pupil cost calculations are contained in the Taxpayers Guide to Education Spending (formerly Comparative Spending Guide) and can be found on the Department of Education website: <http://www.state.nj.us/education/finance>, when available. This publication is available in the board office and public libraries. The same calculations were performed using the 2013-14 revised appropriations and the 2014-15 budgeted appropriations presented in this advertised budget. Total Budgetary Comparative Per Pupil Cost is defined as current expense exclusive of tuition expenditures, transportation, residential costs, and judgments against the school district. For all years it also includes the restricted entitlement aids. With the exception of Total Equipment Cost, each of the other per pupil cost calculations presented is a component of the total comparative per pupil cost, although all components are not shown.

Linden senior center Quadri Moore (No. 30) poured in a game-high 22 points in his team's 66-53 win over Trenton in Sunday's Group 4 state championship game at Rutgers. Moore also led all players with 21 rebounds and five blocks to lift the Tigers to their fourth state title and first since 2007.

PISCATAWAY — Linden couldn't make their outside shots — the Tigers missed 37 of their first 46 field goal attempts — continued to miss layup after layup and trailed almost the entire first half.

Yet Linden was behind underdog Trenton by just one point at intermission.

No big deal, right?

"They controlled the tempo in the first half, we were playing way too fast, so in the second half we backed up defensively to allow Quadri (Moore) to be back there to block them," Linden head coach Phil Colicchio said.

Not only did Moore block a game-high five shots and grab a game-high 21 rebounds, the Cincinnati-bound 6-8 senior center scored the first six points of the second half to give the Tigers the lead for good.

That was the push Linden needed.

Moore, mostly inside, poured in a game-high 22 points to lead North 2 champion Linden past Central Jersey champ Trenton 66-53 in Sunday's boys' basketball Group 4 state championship game at the Rutgers Athletic Center.

Moore, a four-year starter, got to experience a state championship for the first time as Linden captured its fourth, all under Colicchio's 17-season tenure.

Linden's other three state championships came in 2000 over Bridgewater-Raritan, 2006 over Atlantic City and 2007 over South Brunswick.

Colicchio has guided the Tigers to the Group 4 final five times in the past 15 seasons. That's once every five seasons, which is no easy task after having to navigate through an always-challenging N2, G4 section and then the North 2 champion vs. North 1 champ Group 4 semifinal.

Tigers capture the program's 4th state crown

"I have 17 kids in an inner city program and not one problem," Colicchio said. "Our kids are absolutely amazing. I wanted this one as badly as I wanted the first one in 2000."

Linden, now 26-4 and winners of six straight since losing the Union County Tournament championship game to the Patrick School of Elizabeth for the second straight season, did not look all that spectacular in the first half. Trenton, which last won a state championship in 1961 when it captured the Group 4 title that season, scored the game's first five points and on basket by Daniel Peyton took its biggest lead of six at 19-13 early in the second quarter.

Linden made only three of 21 field goal attempts in the first quarter, with Trenton leading 15-10 heading into the second quarter.

The Tornadoes were led offensively by Nazier McKoy, who poured in 12 points, and by Brandon George, who added 11. Naquan Ingram paced Trenton in rebounding with seven, while George and fellow senior Shaquan Worthy each grabbed six.

A three-point basket from the top of the key with two seconds left by Linden junior guard Otis Livingston, who produced a solid 20-point effort, pulled the Tigers to within 28-27 at the half.

"That shot got me going a bit," Livingston said.

"We came out in the first quarter and we were able to play our pace, our own style," Trenton head coach Greg Grant said. "I thought we completely outplayed them in the first half. We should have been up by more than five after the first quarter."

"I think we missed 11 layups in the first half," Colicchio said. "Give Trenton credit for what they did in the first half."

As far as halftime adjustments, Colicchio was not as concerned as he was in Linden's previous game against Paterson Eastside.

"Against Eastside we were up by four at the half and I was a little concerned," Colicchio said. "I wasn't today because we go nine deep and with our depth we wore Trenton down. There was nothing magical done at halftime."

Moore scored inside to give Linden its second lead and the advantage for good at 29-28, opening up the second half scoring. He then hit a jumper and followed that basket up with another field goal off an offensive rebound to begin separation.

Linden would score the first eight points of the third quarter and begin the second-half on a game-changing 21-1 run. Moore closed the surge with a conventional 3-point play.

"They imposed their will on us in the third quarter," Grant said.

"We knew Moore was going to be tough, he's a tough player," George said.

Moore has played on three sectional championship teams and two of those squads won Group 4 semifinal games. He was determined not to let this be his final high school game.

Winning a state championship and having the opportunity to play in a Tournament of Champions was much too important.

"We struggled a little bit in the first half, but coach kept on encouraging us," said Moore, who chose Cincinnati over Seton Hall.

Twelve months ago the Tigers lost in the Group 4 final to Atlantic City 60-54 in overtime, a game Moore had not forgotten going into Sunday's Group 4 title game.

"Last year was very heartbreaking," Moore said. "We worked extra hard in the summer and didn't cut any corners."

"Moore had 22 points and 21 rebounds and I don't know how many blocks and if that isn't enough I don't know what is," Colicchio said. "He's been so maligned throughout his career. He's a special player and today he did it inside."

Trenton also deserves credit for the way it came back from a game-high 19-point deficit of 48-29 after Moore produced another conventional 3-point play late in the third quarter. The Tornadoes, on two free throws by George for a 5-0 run, pulled to within nine at 56-47 with 2:57 remaining.

"We don't have any Division 1 players, but through hard work and discipline we never give up," Grant said. "Our goal from day one was to win a state championship."

Before Trenton could creep back into the contest any further, Linden went on a 6-0 run, including two big free throws by James Julius, another layup by Livingston and an inside basket by Joshua Carter.

Livingston did not score in the first quarter, but his third layup gave Linden its first lead of 24-22 midway through the second.

"We played against Livingston in the summer and knew he could handle pressure," Grant said.

"Livingston has been outstanding for us, but we don't have one primary ball-handler," Colicchio said. "All of our guys share the ball."

Taking over a game defensively, like Linden did this time in the third quarter, has been the program's trademark since Colicchio took over in 1997.

"It seems like they were stuck on 28 (points) for a long time," Colicchio said. "Offense is nice, but defense wins championships and today we dug in."

NOTES: This is Linden's fourth TOC appearance, with the Tigers 2-3 in their previous three.

The participated in the 2000, 2006 and 2007 Tournament of Champions events.

Linden was the top seed the last time it was in the TOC in 2007 and after a bye fell to Bloomfield Tech in the semifinals at Rutgers on a halfcourt, buzzer-beating, 3-pointer by junior R.J. Hall, with the Essex County Group 1 state champions winning by a score of 59-56.

Linden reached the TOC final for the only time in 2006, falling to St. Patrick 61-54 in a game played at Continental Airlines Arena in East Rutherford.

RC boys' hoops repeats as Non-Public, B champs

Lions now defending their 2013 TOC championship

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

Although Roselle Catholic came up short once more of capturing its first Union County Tournament championship, the Lions are more than happy to still be alive and playing basketball at this late date.

That means that Roselle Catholic repeated as Non-Public, B state champions and is now one win away from playing in a second straight Tournament of Champions championship game.

Roselle Catholic entered Tuesday's TOC quarterfinal vs. repeat Group 2 state champion Newark Tech with a 20-9 record and six-game winning streak since falling to the Patrick School of Elizabeth by the score of 73-51 on Feb. 26 in the UCT semifinals at Kean University.

If third-seeded Roselle Catholic, which was heavily favored, advanced to tonight's TOC semifinals at Monmouth University in West Long Branch, the Lions will be taking on second-seeded Newark East Side in the first game at 5:30 p.m.

Newark East Side, the Group 3 state champion, is 29-1 and has pretty much been the No. 1 ranked team in the state the entire season.

One of these years it will work out and Roselle Catholic will capture its first UCT title. It did for Plainfield two years ago when the Cardinals defeated Roselle Catholic in the final to win the tournament for the first time since 1979.

But for now, Roselle Catholic head coach Dave Boff is even more excited to have a chance to win a second consecutive TOC title following a second straight state championship.

"The UCT is something I would love to win, for the players and for the school," Boff said. "However, the county tournament is not the state tournament."

"The way I look at the UCT is that it's similar to college conference tournaments before playing in the NCAA's. It's the first championship you get a chance to win and it can be a springboard to success in the states."

Roselle Catholic used the same formula to win the Non-Public, B state championship once again. Last year the Lions were upset by Union in the UCT quarterfinals and then never lost again, ending the season on an eight-game winning streak and finishing 25-5.

Included were wins over the Patrick School in the Non-Public, South B final and over St. Anthony of Jersey City in the Non-Public, B title game.

This time Roselle Catholic lost in the UCT semifinals and has not lost since, including wins again vs. the Patrick School in the Non-Public, South B final and vs. St. Anthony in the Non-Public, B championship game.

After losing two out of three to the Patrick School, including its last two, Roselle Catholic downed the Celtics 64-58 in the March 11 Non-Public, South B title game at Jackson Liberty in Jackson.

Sophomore Matt Bullock paced Roselle Catholic with 15 points, while juniors Isaiah Briscoe and big-man Chris Silva added 13 and 12 each.

After losing to St. Anthony 80-57 at St. Peter's College back on Jan. 29, the Lions also avenged that defeat. This time Roselle Catholic came out on top 60-57 last Saturday in the Non-Public, B final at Toms River North High School's Pine Belt Arena in Toms River.

Roselle Catholic came back to win the all-important fourth quarter 19-13 after trailing by three heading into the final eight minutes.

Briscoe produced a game to remember, leading all scorers with 24 points, in addition to grabbing eight rebounds, dishing out five assists, coming up with two steals and blocking one shot.

The Lions were also led by 14 points from Bullock and 11 from sophomore Asante Gist.

With Linden winning Group 4 for the first time since 2007 and for the fourth time overall, this is only the sixth time that two Union County teams are among the six in a TOC event.

If Linden and Roselle Catholic won Tuesday night and if both win tonight, then they will meet in Monday's TOC final in Trenton.

The teams split Union County Conference-Watchung Division games.

Last year Roselle Catholic competed in its first Tournament of Champions and won it. The Lions are a win away tonight from getting back to the TOC final, which would be Monday night at Sun-National Bank Center in Trenton. At that gym last year, Roselle Catholic defeated St. Joseph's, Metuchen 65-49 in the final.

RC girls' standout Pozsonyi to star in North-South game

Tori Pozsonyi, who surpassed the 1,000-point milestone and helped propel Roselle Catholic to the Union County Tournament championship last month, was chosen to play in the annual New Jersey Scholastic Coaches Association - NJSCA - Senior North-South All-Star Game on Sunday at Rider University.

Pozsonyi, the Lions' leading scorer and second leading rebounder this winter - 15.6 ppg and 7.1 rpg - will suit up for the North at Rider's Alumni Gym in Lawrenceville.

Pozsonyi is the third female from Roselle Catholic to play in the game in the last five years, joining fellow 1,000-point club members Melissa Tobie in 2011 and Allison Skrec in 2010.

Tobie just completed her third year of competition at Montclair State and Skrec her fourth and final at Manhattan.

All three led Roselle Catholic teams to Union County Tournament championships.

Sunday's girls' game begins at 2:30 p.m., following the boys' game, which is a noon tipoff.

Tickets for the doubleheader are priced at $5.

A senior co-captain, along with senior Kate Tobie, Pozsonyi concluded her four-year varsity career with 1,097 points.

That is the third-highest total for a female basketball player in school history, trailing only Skrec and 1999 graduate Schrene Isidora.

The Colgate-bound Pozsonyi helped lead Roselle Catholic to a 25-2 campaign, which included the RC Holiday Tournament title, a sixth consecutive 20-win season and sixth straight division championship.

Pozsonyi was a freshman reserve in 2011, the last time the Lions won the UCT before this year.

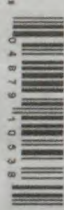

Roselle Catholic began the season 9-0 and after its only regular season loss - a 53-51 setback at New Providence on Jan. 14 - the Lions embarked on a 16-game winning streak that included them winning the UCT for the fifth time in program history.

Pozsonyi, a Roselle Park resident, improved steadily during her four years of varsity play and this year was one of the top players in the county.
