VOL. V., NO. 7 OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER BELLEVILLE, N. J., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1929 TOWN OF BELLEVILLE PRICE TWO CENTS

SEEN ON THE FIELD

At the game, Saturday, at Roselle Park, in which Belleville defeated Roselle Park H. S., 19-7, there were many rooters for the Belleville team as for the Parkers. We collected 20 names and that wasn't half of those from Belleville. We are not sure as we begin this column how many names we will use but we will try not to disappoint many.

We liked the sign erected in the Roselle Park field giving the games played by the high school and the dates.

We also liked the idea of having pennant with the high school name in it flung to the breeze.

William Short, father of the famous Paul, had a very husky voice to his explosions in the Bloomfield game. Bob Anderson was glad didn't have to patrol the field during the game. Jimmy Anderson, so a cop, was there too.

John Baney was the "heap big medicine man" of the game, for Belleville.

Tony Pascal, assistant coach, even carried his sweater to cover a red Belleville warrior.

Charles Knowles, John Marwedé and Stephen Dingle were together in the stands as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schwieker and their son, Paul, do some good work.

Ruth Heller acted as scribe for many of these names.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert K. McBride and Mr. Kittle sat in the stands. Mr. McBride is physical training instructor at the high school and Mr. Kittle is an instructor.

Jim Reilly and Fritz Baureis came with a couple of girls from Orange.

The inseparable trio, Bob Mutch, Betty Kintzing and Hart Campbell, tied themselves hoarse.

Markland O'Connell rode to the game in Bill Smith's car, with Eddie Mutch and Elmer Burden. Elmer Mutch went in Ray Mertz's car. Bob Anderson and Coach Erickson went in Phil Taylor's car. Walter Bartholomew, Robert Deussler, and Harvey Umbach went in Harry Brumby's car.

Charles L. Steel Jr., high school principal, came late.

Robert Cocks and George Anderson rode in the bus with the players.

Peddy Sheppard the diminutive boy filled his job to perfection.

The cheer leaders were Viola Sauter, Inabelle Collins, Jack Smeltz, and George Biller.

John Ryder came in with a cane. He hurt his leg in a scrimmage game between the scrubs and the varsity.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hosking look very collegiate.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cowlin were enthusiastic rooters for the Belleville team; as were Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Walker.

Among the fair sex in attendance were Edith Fobert, Helen Leiss, Virginia Short, Grace Harvey, Jessica Murray, Gretchen and Arlene Campbell, Lillian Pesvey, Marjorie Owen, Betty Brookes, Jeanette Stoddard, Elaine Ross, Marion Holmes, Mildred Emma Joiner, Cora deHaas, Lu Lloyd, Rose Pifer, Marie Menech, Peggy Hardman, Ethel Bryan, Ed Farrington, Regina Lynch, Marion Brooks, Christine Lennon, and Hargreaves, May Magett, Beatrice Bryan, Jane Vessie and Catherine Shepherd.

The Lamb family was represented by Dave, Russel, Arthur, Malcolm and John.

Window Cleaning Time.—We are shipped to do it for you. Greylock Window Cleaners. Phone Bell. 2293, Greylock avenue.

Tony D'Elia's father was on hand to see his son perform spectacularly.

Among the young men in attendance were "Mull" Travers who led the van and Dutch King, George Haslam, "Happy" Hourigan, William Shepherd, Bob Shriver, Jimmy Metz, George Lee, Bob Harvey, Fred Behan, Gus Plenge, Howard Schreyer, Alfred Moniot, Larry Chinnock, Allan Crisp, Richard Enright, Gordon Chaffee, Russell Bennett, Alfred Woods, Jim Hozack, Willard Freeman, Harold Greene, William Thatcher, Hugh Welch, John Rodenback, Percy Karer, Andy Mc Master, Fred Landers, Walter Bartlett, Ray Weyer, Jimmy Dunn and William Hirdes, Jr.

James J. Turner forgot his official decorum as far as to cheer lustily for Belleville.

Jack Fox came with his mustache.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Ferguson were greatly interested.

Tom Fleming was out digging up votes.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert E. Bert were newcomers but nevertheless welcome additions to the cheering section.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brooks, with their son, Lawrence, occupied prominent places in the stand.

Joe Howley represented the People's National Bank.

Ray Mertz says his father, who has been seriously ill, is doing nicely.

We notice that Harold Bade, guard of the Belleville team, is the only member of the varsity that wears glasses.

Dr. D. S. Brown, a Belleville physician, was always ready to go to the aid of an injured Belleville player.

Francis Martinsen did good work with the ten yard line.

The Belleville fans offered to give the cop in charge Ledger votes.

Woman's Club Hears Many Reports At First Fall Meeting

Mrs. Harold Osborne Gives Talk To Women "On Peace"

The Belleville Woman's Club held its first meeting of the season at the club house, 51 Rossmore place, on Monday, with the president, Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield, presiding.

Reports of the various committees indicated that a large amount of work had been accomplished during the summer. The year books were distributed to the members present and they will be mailed to those absent.

After the business meeting the program was in charge of the International Relations Committee, of which Mrs. James V. Thetford is chairman. Mrs. Thetford spoke of the new goodwill project in the form of Treasure chests which will be filled by the American children and sent to the Filipino children. These chests will be distributed by the Education Department at Manila, in December of this year. These chests may be secured from the Committee on World Friendship Among Children, 289 Fourth avenue, New York, at $2 each.

Mrs. Harold Osborne, vice chairman of the International Relations Department of North Jersey, was the guest speaker of the afternoon and was introduced by Mrs. Thetford. "Peace" was the keynote of Mrs. Osborne's address. She spoke of Prime Minister MacDonald's visit to America and brought new meanings to the simple phrases of the Kellogg-Briand Pact. She said women can also show their interest in this wonderful movement for peace by keeping themselves informed on all international affairs, by instilling in the minds of children the value of peace and good will and by showing interest in the World Court. Mrs. Osborne attended the Conference on the Cause and Cure of War held at Washington, D. C. and so was in a Canon Edward Slater Dunlap of Washington, D. C., who is a leading light in the erection of the National Protestant Episcopal Church cathedral at the Capitol, outlined many details of the work Wednesday at luncheon of the Rotary Club in the Nereid Boat Club.

He was the guest speaker for Rev. C. W. "Whit" Popham of Ruthersford, a former Belleville Rotarian and past president, who was called upon to preside at the meeting in the second of a series of past presidents' days.

The Canon declared the cathedral to be the fifth largest in the world, being 100 feet longer than the Cathedral of Notre Dame. He said that while the regular Episcopal services will be conducted in the cathedral, which has been located at the highest point in the District of Columbia and will tower 107 feet above the Washington monument, it will be a meeting place for all creeds, and

"In The Good Old Days" Might Be Slogan For John W. Hirdes

By EDDIE TAYLOR

In the good old days, to be elected to the township committee by your party was quite a feat but to be elected by the opposing party was nothing short of miraculous. But that is just the situation that John William Hirdes, octogenarian, of 331 Stephen street, Belleville, found himself in, when he ran on the Democratic ticket for a member of the

Fewsmith Plans Masquerade Dance

An old-fashioned masquerade dance will be held in the church room of Fewsmith Church on Halloween night, October 30.

The committee of men who are in charge of this dance, are busy planning unusual surprises and dance numbers.

Last year a similar affair was held by the Men's Club and was so successfully handled that many requests were received for a repetition this year. Assisting Charles Nutt, chairman, are William Taggart, William Colville, Harold Purney, George Cox and Ian Munro. Mr. Colville is in charge of the tickets.

township committee in 1903.

The situation developed when the Republican party cut its votes for an unpopular candidate and cast its votes in favor of Mr. Hirdes. He served on the township committee for three consecutive terms. Once as treasurer of the town, once in charge of streets and once as mayor, or rather, as chairman of the township committee.

Mr. Hirdes was born in Bremen, Germany, January, 1850. At the age of thirteen he became an apprentice in Germany in the upholstery business. He learned the trade in four years and then went to London, England, at the age of seventeen. He sailed from Liverpool to New Orleans, La., in 1867.

His first political duties in New Orleans was to take part in one of the old time torch light processions for Seymour and Blair, who were defeated by Ulysses S. Grant and Colfax in the presidential election. He first voted for president when Horace Greeley was defeated in 1872.

While in New Orleans, Mr. Hirdes became acquainted with Miss Ann Amelia Terhune from New Jersey whom he married in September 1873. He was then twenty-three. He had two children, William T. Hirdes, the present first chief of Belleville, and Mabel E. Hirdes who died in 1920.

In his early years he continued in the upholstery business working for Morgan, Louisiana and Texas railroad and later while living in Belleville for Hahne & Company. He was with the latter firm twenty-five years.

In 1880 his family went to Belleville on a visit. In 1882 he moved with them to this town where he has lived ever since.

During the time he was treasurer of this town, Belleville was the first municipality to contribute to the Passaic Valley Sewer Commission, during its preliminary steps to the installation of the sewer.

Mr. Hirdes was the first treasurer of a community in New Jersey to install the system of paying employees' checks semi-monthly instead of monthly. It was during his tenure of office that the police department was organized. The members of the township committee at that time were besides Mr. Hirdes, Thomas Breen, James Boylan, Joseph Weston and George Stanier. The department was organized in January, 1907, and started its duties in February with the following members: Chief Michael Flynn, Sergeant Charles Pearl, Patrolmen William Sullivan, James Flynn and James Hannan. George Writz was later appointed by Mr. Hirdes.

The police station was then in a brick building near Valley and Rutgers streets alongside of the Erie Railroad. DeWitt C. Watson now lives in the building. The township committee then met in the old Cortlandt street school.

Mr. Hirdes has been Overseer of the Poor for the last twelve years and still holds that office besides being president of the Home Building and Loan Association.

Masque Ball Bids Out In Local Frat

Bids are now being distributed for the masque ball to be held by Tau Epsilon chapter of the Phi Sigma Chi fraternity of Belleville, Friday November 1, in the Forest Hill Tennis Club.

Invitations may be secured from the following members: Thomas Reilly, Russell Sandford, Charles Bakalian, Gordon Chaffee and Wilbur T. Hart.

The affair promises to be a very large event in the annals of Tau province as it has the cooperation of nearly all the chapters in the province. At the last meeting Monday night at the home of Richard Enright of Malone avenue members were present from Tau Delta of Newark, which chapter is holding the dance jointly with Tau Epsilon and also from Tau Gamma, the Bloomfield chapter. They pledged the support of their chapters.

George Barnes of Little street is a candidate in the local fraternity. He is at present "dogging."

Good-bye Stained Teeth

New Safe Treatment Bleaches
Dark Teeth in Three Minutes

Dentists have discovered a new safe treatment which bleaches stains from teeth, giving yellow discolored teeth a beautiful blushing whiteness. It is called Bleachodent Combination, and consists of a remarkable liquid which cures or softens the stains—and a new kind of paste, which instantly removes the softened stains, and prevents new stains from forming. Simply brush the teeth with a few drops of the liquid—then use the paste—and even the dulled teeth are quickly whitened. Tobacco stains disappear after first few applications. Bleachodent Combination was first made for children's teeth to avoid the use of harsh gritty pastes which are so harmful to children's soft sensitive teeth. While Bleachodent Combination will instantly remove surface stains, do not expect it to remove stains caused by silver fillings, as these are below the enamel, and Bleachodent Combination is not intended to act on the enamel in any way. Fine for the gums. Bleachodent Combination is widely used and recommended. Costs just a few cents, and money back if not delighted. Get it today at all good dealers, such as:

On With The Show

By ARLINE DE HAAS

Copyright 1929, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"ON WITH THE SHOW," is the first 100% natural color, Vitaphone picture. It is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

Willie Durant, financial backer for the stranded show, "Welcome Home," is friendly with Nita French, the star, but refuses to put up any more money. He is unsuccessfully attentive to Kitty, stage-struck check room girl, and induces her father, "Dad" Malone, stage doorman, and her sweetheart, Jimmy, head usher, to invest their life savings. Jimmy suggests robbing the box office to pay salaries. Jerry Connolly, the manager, accuses Durant of allowing the show to go broke in order to gain a hold over Kitty. They quarrel, and Jerry takes a revolver from Durant. The box office is robbed. Joe, the detective, suspects Jimmy.

"Well, what's your sendin' that note got to do with your beatin' it down the alley?" Joe continued to question Pete.
"Well," Pete shifted uneasily. "Well, Maloney takes me serious, see, an' he comes out ta get dat bust on de nose."

"Oh, so it was you I chased, then, after all."

"Naw," Pete explained. "You chased Maloney. He wuz chasin' me."

"But this ain't got nothin' to do with the robbery," Joe looked puzzled. "Ain't I been telling yuh how innocent I am?"

"All right, get out of here." With a baleful glare Pete turned and shuffled off.

"And take that curtain up, quick!" Jerry commanded.

Joe scratched his head in bewilderment. His one clue had failed him. He sat down and tried to think things out, but no inspiration came to him. His only obvious course was to question the most likely suspects as to their whereabouts at the time of the hold-up. And then his eyes lighted upon Jimmy. He jumped to his feet and seized the boy roughly.

"Look here. I got a couple o' things I want to ask you," he growled.

CHAPTER VII
"House lights down . . . foots up . . . curtain!"

As Pete rasped out the the signals the lights in the theatre dimmed; the footlights rose to splendid brilliancy and the curtain went up on the second act revealing a thickly wooded glade dotted with figures in pink riding coats. The audience applauded the set vigorously as the chorus took up the strain of the opening number. To all outward appearances the show might have been running as smoothly as though nothing had ever happened. But now and again dancers glanced uneasily towards the wings and whispered among themselves.

Leaning against a table piled high with a conglomerate mass of unrelated objects Joe was plying the head usher with pertinent questions.

"Well? And then what?" the detective demanded.

"Well, I went out front like Mr. Durant told me," Jimmy was explaining, "and tossed the drunk out."

"You come right back in, then, huh?"

"Yeah," Jimmy nodded. "I took a few drags off a cigarette first, though."

The sound of approaching footsteps turned Jimmy's attention, and he saw Jerry coming towards him. The manager stopped and waited for the detective to put his next interrogation.

"You took a few drags off a cigarette!" Joe continued, glancing wisely at Jerry. "That didn't take more 'n a minute or so, did it?"

"No-o-o-o!" Jimmy hesitated. "I guess not."

Jerry frowned. Jimmy's attitude suggested that he was concealing something, and the manager didn't like it. If the boy had a straight story to tell it was best he told it. The detective's next word made Jerry prick up his ears.

"Listen, kid!" Joe's face assumed a ferocious scowl. His under-jaw protruded menacingly. His voice was harsh, rasping. "I got you hands down. When you went out one of the usher looks at her watch. It's eight minutes past nine. The box office is robbed at exactly nine-thirteen. You come back in the theatre at nine twenty-one."

Jimmy gasped. His hands were cold and damp. His whole body trembled. Before he could open his mouth to speak, the voice of Jerry interrupted.

"How do you know that?" the manager demanded, turning to the detective.

"I was right behind him when he left the stage an' went into the theatre. I went out front to be there when the first act curtain rung down. I see the kid here go out to the box-office an' come back in again."

Jimmy's face fell and his voice was shaking. "But—but that was the second time," he began. "I'd been in before and just—"

He caught himself quickly and stopped. He seemed to have said too much. Jerry was watching him, puzzled, while Joe was looking at the manager with an "I-told-you-so" nod of his head.

"Oh, no, you hadn't been in before," Joe sneered, and an unbelieving smile turning down the corners of his mouth. "I checked that with the door usher."

Suddenly his hand shot out and he seized the boy by the collar, shaking an accusing finger in his face. "Now what was you doin' the whole time the box-office was gettin' stuck up? Come across, kid, come across. I got the goods on you, all right."

There was a tense silence. Jimmy was trembling violently and his face was growing red. He looked helplessly at Jerry, as though seeking assistance from that quarter.

Appearances were against him, and he knew it. He could remember that suggestion he had made to Jerry early in the evening about holding up the treasurer to get the money, and he knew the manager would remember it, too.

"Well," Jimmy began slowly, "if you must know—" he hesitated, his face suffused with blushes. "I was—I was rehearsing a speech."

Aloud and scornful guffaw came from the throat of the detective. "That's a good 'un—Lou—"

"Now wait a minute, Joe," Jerry interposed. "I think I understand this kid and you don't. There's no use scaring him to death. He may be telling the truth, you know. Now what was the speech you were rehearsing, Jimmy?"

He turned to the boy, speaking gently and kindly. "It was a few words I'm going to say to Willie Durant." The usher's eyes sought the floor and he scraped his foot back and forth nervously.

"I was going to say: 'Mr. Durant, you may be my boss, but you ain't my superior. Take that—'"

He swung out his fist and pummelled the air. "and like it."

Joe sniffed. "Well, if you want to believe that story you ain't half as smart as I thought you was," he addressed the manager. "That's the fishiest story I heard yet. If you—"

"Watch it," Underemoniously Pete dragged out the table upon which the detective had been leaning, almost upsetting him. The head carpenter grinned malevolently and winked at Jerry.

"Watch it, yourself," the detective snapped, and jumped aside in front of him and stood up against the wall.

Once more the wings and back-stage were filled with actors and chorus people. Carpenters sped about in methodical haste setting up for another scene. The noise of voices and the pounding precluded any conversation and the detective, holding firmly to Jimmy's arm, was forced to wait until the curtain rose before he began his battery of questions.

"Now, see here," Joe started in as a semblance of quiet reigned.

"Listen, Joe," Jerry interrupted, "you've got this kid scared stiff. He's never been up against you high pressure coppers before. If you'll leave him alone with me I'll get the truth out of him."

"Oh, you think so, huh," the detective returned sarcastically, but he was not quite as sure of his ground as he had been.

"I know so," Jerry insisted. "Now, beat it— I'll take care of Jimmy."

"All right," the detective agreed, "but one crooked move out of either of you an' it'll be just too bad. That's all I gotta say—just too bad." He turned and walked away, but not before he had loosed Jerry up and down sarcastically.

American Motorists Place Approval On New Nash "400" Car

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 18.—American motorists—at once the most expert and most critical mechanical audience in the world—set their seal of unqualified approval on the advanced engineering features and design revealed last week in the national introduction and display of the new Nash "400" Series cars for 1930. Experts and car owners in every part of the country flocked to Nash salesrooms to examine the great line and it was significant of the overwhelming public interest that attends announcements made by C. W. Nash that they studied mechanical details of the new Twin-Ignition Eight, the Twin-Ignition Six and Single Six groups as thoroughly as they did the beautiful new lines and advanced styles which mark the Salon bodies for the coming year. They found refinements and appointments in the new cars which create a standard of quality far beyond anything in the field, and gained a new conception of the motoring luxury at moderate cost which is a foundation building stone in Nash success.

Features of particular interest to the motor-wise visitors, according to telegrams received at Nash headquarters, lay in the doubly efficient ignition qualities of the first Nash eight-in-line, twin-ignition motor introduced into the fine car field, and in the masterful co-ordination of important engineering advancements in all of the three new Nash groups. Lightness and strength of new reciprocating parts, such as the heat treated aluminum alloy connecting rods in the Eight, carburetion refined to new high performance peaks, the advanced Nash trend in cable operated, internal expanding four-wheel brakes which makes cars of the new series a motoring standard of tomorrow, all found sincere appreciation and approval from the motoring public.

One of the most stirring demonstrations of public acceptance on record is indicated by official reports already received from Nash dealers and distributors covering the preliminary dealer meetings and public openings which made automobile history through the last week end. Random selection of some of the early Nash "returns" show record breaking enthusiasm over the new cars in Canada and throughout the east and middle west, and the promise of continued high success for Nash products the world over.

It is pleasing indeed to know of the enthusiasm that our dealers and the public have displayed over the new Nash line for 1930, C. H. Bliss, general sales manager, declared today after reading the first of a deluge of congratulatory wires. "We are receiving splendid reports which indicate that acceptance of the cars by the public will certainly place us in a position to secure our share of national automobile business in the years to come."

Recorder Dismisses Case Against Dailey

"No Intention To Defraud" Shown In Lions' Mock Trial

A mock trial was the entertainment feature at the weekly meeting of the Lions' Club of Belleville, Thursday at Elks' Home.

John P. Dailey, "accused" of having offered a worthless check for ten cents to the tail-twister of the Nutley Lions in payment of fines, was the defendant. Recorder George Fitzsimmons of Belleville, guest of the home group, was judge. H. F. Banta of Nutley was prosecutor for the Nutley Lions, and W. S. Persch, a fellow member, presented the charges. Charles Gebhardt of Belleville defended Mr. Dailey.

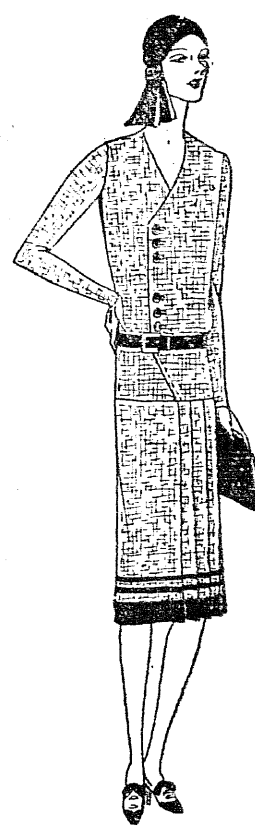

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, a Lion, and Brewster H. Jones, were character witnesses for the defendant.

No evidence of intention to defraud having been shown, the case was dismissed. The attorney for the defense was allowed seven cents counsel fees. The charity fund of the Belleville Lions was enriched by $4 at the conclusion of the meeting from fines collected.

Experience teaches us what fools we have been, but unfortunately it doesn't prevent us from repeating.

When a man shares another man's troubles he's generally satisfied with just a nominal interest.

for AppointmentQUESTION OF STORAGE OF TANKS STIRS COMMISSION AT TWO CONFERENCES

Divided equally between the afternoon conference and evening session of the Town Commission Tuesday two or three hours were spent—without decision—in an endeavor to clarify the alleged nuisance situation caused by the storage of empty tanks by the Lee Tank and Boiler Company on ground leased by the company from the Erie Railroad at Cleveland street station.

In the course of the discussion in which some 50 or 100 objectors to the tank storage place appeared as a delegation from the Valley Improvement Association Commissioner Frank J. Carragher flayed the railroad officials over a period of forty-one years, dating back to the "blizard of eighty-eight" when he rode "the first train to Newark," where he had to stay three days because of the storm. Mr. Carragher contends the tanks "should be rattled away" from the storage place which is opposite his home.

Even though W. H. K. Davey, counsel for the tank concern, and Max Schwartz, counsel for the Valley association, agree that legally the tanks—as empty affairs—constitute no nuisance and therefore may not be legally banned, Mr. Carragher says he knows how to accomplish the objective.

Complaints Of Grades

"Why all the Erie grade crossings are above grade," says he. "It would cost the railroad $50,000 to lower these tracks. All we got to do is tell them this and watch the tanks disappear. I know Mr. Lee and he is all right. But, the Erie? Oh, boy!
I have been battling them for years.
If I had any backing before the Utility Board when I appeared against them the tanks would not have been there they are, Greylock girders would have been removed and we could eat our meals in peace."

The Commissioner reminisced in no small degree against the railroad outrift. He cited cases of drill engines blocking street intersections, death traps, a railroad coach for a bumper and lack of any regard for Belleville.

When he got through Commissioner Patrick A. Waters also objected to the tanks. He said nineteen names as submitted on a petition by Mr. Davey only represented about four families, living away from the site, some of whom are not taxpayers. On this same point Mr. Car-ragher said Mr. Davey did not know whether the signatures were bona-fide. Davey admitted he did not know who obtained them, but added he submitted them in good faith.

"When the Erie gave us a station at Essex they changed the name to Belleville, taking it away from the lower end of town calling the one near the tanks Cleveland street, because the officials were ashamed to let commuters know it was Belleville," said Waters.

Doesn't Want Tanks

"We don't want the tanks, nobody else in town does. There is talk of fencing in the tank yard. We want it eliminated. The property should be beautified, as was originally intended," he added.

Commissioner William D. Clark said he had conferred with the railroad officials and they had promised to attempt some amicable arrangement with the boiler company to satisfy the valley folks.

Essex Hose Company house in Stephens street, was filled to overflowing Thursday night at a meeting of the Valley Improvement Association.
Some were obliged to stand on the stairs.

The association decided to attend the Town Commission meeting as a body Tuesday night to request that iron tanks be removed or the premises be enclosed.

The garbage dump at the old Newark reservoir in upper Main street was declared a nuisance because of smoke and fumes. The fire burns night and day, it was stated. A committee was appointed to interview Commissioner Clark with a view to remedying the situation.

William Frey presided. The association represents the section between Washington avenue and the Passaic River, between the Newark and Nutley lines.

The area has been districted and a membership canvass is under way.
Seventy-one members were added last night. The association now numbers about 180. Larger quarters will be sought at the next session, November 12.

When Joseph Williams appeared at the afternoon conference charging Building Inspector Robert Williams with neglect of duty the building inspector said that he would like to have the charge pressed.
"I have done nothing I am ashamed of," he said. "Since I have been in office I have tried to do my best."

The Williams-Williams feud has been going on for about two months,
Joseph charges Robert permitted Jerry Lepree to construct a house in Columbus avenue near Joseph's which, to all appearances, is a two-family structure where a one-family house permit had been applied for.
Joseph says Robert had the matter called to his attention but let things proceed without "doing anything about it." The matter was to have come to a head Tuesday but Lepree was unable to attend this meeting.

Ramifications aptly are promised in this matter for next Tuesday when all principals will appear on the scene. Lepree will be asked as a starter why he was given a permit on an incomplete set of plans for a sixteen by 36 foot house and then on a second complete set of plans built a house sixteen by forty-seven feet, without an additional permit.

Citizens' Committee

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy was named as Belleville's representative to the maintenance organization of the Second River Joint Outlet Sewer, which flume is nearing completion. The Mayor also was authorized to name a citizens' committee to be known as a zoning commission, which group will be selected from various parts of town to study zone matters. The Mayor feels the present zoning ordinance inadequate and that the new group will be able to serve "as the pulse of the public"

Mr. Carragher submitted two tattered and torn maps, one which former Town Engineer Frank To Shepard made for "nothing" and the other made by a New York zoning expert and which cost $1,250—"one as good as the other in everything but price." He did this to demonstrate his belief that the zoning ordinance now in use in Belleville as prepared by the expert is not "worth the paper it is written on."

"We're getting too many committees in this town," said Mr. Carragher. "Taxpayers don't know where to go for information. We ought to do away with half the commissioners (there are five) and get one good man."

Town Engineer Albert S. Blank was authorized to arrange a conference with Essex County Officials as regards paving of Mill street from Union avenue to Soho section.

This followed a complaint of the Belleville Copper Rolling Mills that truckmen for the firm refuse to drive over the thoroughfare in its present condition. Belleville finds it impossible to pay the cost of paving inasmuch as property on both sides of the street is in the park commissioner's hands. The town has no way of paying the cost except by assessment against the entire town. This is deemed inadvisable.

On suggestion of Mr. Carragher that a committee be named to confer with the State Highway Department to take over Mill street to shunt inter-town traffic along Main street from Belleville bridge over the Passaic River to Mill street and then west instead of Rutgers street and Belleville avenue as at present resu-the dangerous railroad crossing at Jerusalem street to Washington ave-red to the Mayor's department. It was pointed out such a change would tance of the present Union avenue bus line, which also goes to North

How SUPERCEDAR protects

Only the heartwood of genuine Tennessee off the pleasant aroma that stifles the moth. Supercedar is guaranteed 99 per

He said the river could never be cleaned if such should happen and the health of the entire town would be threatened. Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy who is a member of the Joint Sewer group suggested Town Engineer Albert S. Blank confer with Alexander Potter, the sewer engineer, to determine what is planned for the connection.

Belleville intends to make two hookups to the new flume which will care for various towns west of Belleville, a part of Newark included. One connection will be at the old Hendricks estate and another near the Belleville Copper Rolling Mills. Underground rights of way sixteen feet wide by 600 long must thus be acquired.

Washington Canon Tells Rotarians Of National Cathedral

expression of the Nation's hope and faith in Religion."

In detail he outlined that the edifice will cost $30,000,000, $15,000,000 of which will be for the cathedral proper, the remainder for other buildings.

The Canon scored America's attitude toward religion, declaring that if a visitor should come from Mars to visit this world he would find "marvellous cathedrals" in Europe and "great architectural monuments of business" in America with "cheap, little things" for churches.

"The flower of art in America is business structures," he added.

The Canon told of donations to proceed with the work. He outlined that the world has been combed for stone to last 2,000 years and architecture in Gothic is deemed by architects the highest development so far. A feat of reproducing Medieval stained glass, thought impossible, has been accomplished in the Cathedral, he explained.

A Girls' and Boys' school is provided, library and many unexpected additions to the original plans. Rather than give to some smaller parish church, apt to pass out of existence, the Canon declared donors had provided for memorials in the cathedral.

"It is to be a House of Prayer for all people," he explained. "Perhaps some of you may not know that we feel we are carrying out the wish of George Washington, in whose records which have been handed down to Chief Justice Marshall, was a plan for a church, national in aspect. Washington's site was on the spot of the present Patent Office."

Mr. Popham explained he had called upon the Canon when Colonel Hall of Airship Los Angeles fame had been suddenly taken ill with pleurisy and was unable to appear at the meeting.

Three wonderful Rotary programs are ahead as follows: October 16, the second of former president's days, "Whit Popham Day," October 23, Carl Daines, state Department of Health; subject: "The Father and His Community; October 30, The high light of fall programs; Visitors' Day. Each Rotarian brings a visitor. The speaker is none other than Past District Governor Pete Emmons, the first speaker in Rotary."

Miss Marjorie Taylor, of 49 Van Houten place, Belleville, was guest of honor Saturday afternoon at a stocking shower given by Mrs. Raymond Libbey of Athenia Road, Clifton.

Gifts were concealed in three hollow pumpkins, each of which held an alarm clock. Bridge was played and the alarms, one at a time, signaled a pause in the game for the removal of the contents of a pumpkin. Decorations were in capucin and yellow flowers.

Favors consisted of a miniature bride at Miss Taylor's place and a bridesmaid at each of the others. The arrangement suggested a procession.

Prizes were won by Miss Taylor and Mrs. Norman H. Cooper of Belleville. Miss Grace Vogt of Newark and Mrs. John Plate of Elizabeth.

Others present were Miss Dorothy Klink, Miss Helen Borneman, Mrs. Donald Davison, Mrs. Elmer Libbey and Mrs. Isaac VanDillen of Clifton. ## Schoolmates In Scotland Are Married In Town

The wedding of Miss Maie S. Bain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Bain of Dumbarton, Scotland, and George Taggart, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Taggart of 238 Greylock lock parkway, Saturday at Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church, was the culmination of a romance begun when the couple were schoolmates in Scotland.

The bride, who was a teacher in Dumbarton, came to this country two weeks ago and was the guest of friends while preparing for the wedding. Mr. Taggart, also from Dumbarton, has been in this country five years. He is active in the young people's groups at Fewsmith.

The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Dr. O. Bell Close. W. T. Colville of Belleville, formerly of Dumbarton, was organist. The bride was given in marriage by William Stewart of Belleville, and old friend of both families. Frederick Taggart of New York City, the bridegroom's cousin, sang.

Miss May F. Janes of Bellevue, Pa. was maid of honor and Miss Mabel Taggart, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaid. John A. Taggart, the bridegroom's brother, acted as best man. Ushers were another brother, William D. Taggart, and John Munro of Belleville, D. M. Brown of Brooklyn and James Morris of Richmond Hill, Long Island.

The bride wore a gown of white satin dipping at the back. A medalion in silver beads forming a lovers knot was the only ornament. Her little veil, arranged with cap effect, was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a sheath of white heather and Easter lilies. Both attendants wore frocks combining apple green and peach colored silk crepe, with hats of dark green velvet, and carried Hoover roses.

A reception for fifty was held in the church parlors. Church and reception hall were decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. Guests attended from Mt. Kisco, N. Y., Milwaukee, Brooklyn, Richmond Hill, Elizabeth and Newark.

After a trip to Canada the couple will reside at 175 Hornblower avenue, Belleville. Mr. Taggart is superintendent of the auditing department of the Royal Indemnity Insurance Company of New York City.

WHAT THE SEA GULL LEARNED

The tide had turned. Sparkling in the sun and playfully making white caps, the waves were coming up the sloping shore. There was little wind and the waves were very small indeed. They ran up the beach and then they ran back and every time, although you would not notice it unless you watched very carefully, they went up a tiny bit farther and did not go back quite so far.

Some children had been playing on the beach that morning and before they went home to lunch they had heaped up a big pile of sand. When the waves saw this ahead of them they felt discouraged. It did not seem as if they could ever get around or over so huge a sand heap. But they knew it was their duty to keep trying, so up the beach they ran, and back, and up again, over and over.

A sea-gull flew by, close over the tops of the waves. He was a young gull and not very wise so when he saw the tiny waves lapping at the base of the pile of sand he laughed and said, "Foolish little waves, you had better give up trying to climb that mountain."

But the waves paid no attention to this advice. "Over and over they made their runs up and down the beach and if you had been watching you would have seen slowly, but surely, the big sand heap disappearing.

An hour or so later the young sea-gull flew by that way again. He thought he would see if the foolish waves had given up trying to climb the mountain that was far too high for them to ever think of getting over. But when he reached that part of the beach he was so surprised that he almost forgot to flap his wings.

There was no mountain there! The sea-gull looked all around. Had he made a mistake in the place? No, he knew well that sheltered bit of shore just south of the big ledge of white rocks. There was no mistake, the mountain had gone. The waves had climbed right over it and covered it up!

"Well," said the young sea-gull to himself, "that just goes to show what keeping at a thing will do. Surely I'm as smart as a wave. After this I'm not going to give up trying to do a thing just because it seems hard." And before he flew off he dipped down close to the tops of the tiny waves and told them how sorry he was that he had called them foolish.

And the waves sparkled in the sun and murmured to each other as they ran gently up and down the sloping shore.

of six thousand revolutions a minute. He asked for two boys as aids. By using these boys in different small tests he caused much hilarity in the student body, for through his knowledge of facts he asked them to do things well nigh impossible. He showed on a small scale how the mono-rail car operates. The car rests on a single cable on two wheels of its own, keeping upright by means of the gyroscope revolving at a rapid rate. In another interesting experiment he put through the bodies of the students assisting him, twelve hundred and sixty volts of electricity, this high amount renders the charge harmless. While this charge was going through their bodies Mr. Williams hung over their necks hoops of wire on which bulbs were fixed. On touching the body the bulbs immediately became lighted. He also lighted various colored tapers on their person making a brilliant display. At the close of his display of scientific facts, Mr. Williams was widely applauded.

Before the start of the afternoon session on Friday, Mr. Grayson said a few words to the school concerning fire prevention. He quoted facts of everyday life causing fire and urged everyone to be alert at all times as there is at least one fire every minute of every day in every year.

This week is Girl Scout week and Monday morning a group of uniformed girl scouts had charge of morning assembly, Miss Patricia Murray leading.

The class leaders for the month of September were Dorothea Snyder with an average of 93.4 leading the Seniors; Charles Cummings with 94.7 head of the Junior Class; Thomas Patterson had 93.8 thereby leading the Sophomores and Adell Peck led the Freshmen and High School with an average of 96.

Ruth Abramson, aided by Miss Waters, conducted Freshman assembly on Tuesday morning.

"Come a running, boys
Don't you hear that noise

Thrilling Movie Captures Spirit Of Famous Story

Excitement, fast action, suspense—these are the thrilling elements which provide superb entertainment for those who see Paramount's latest gripping, all-talking mystery drama, "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu," which will open a two day run at the Capitol Theatre, October 21.

The famous Sax Rohmer story has thrilled millions all over the world in story form and Paramount has incorporated all the tense, emotion-arousing incidents into a never-to-be-forgotten picture with Warner Oland as the cunning, diabolical villain, Dr. Fu Manchu. Rowland V. Lee, the man who made "The Wolf of Wall Street," has utilized all the absorbing situations of Sax Rohmer to heighten the swiftly-moving effects.

Scenes at the opening of "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" depict the defense of the British Legation in Peking against the rebelling boxers. The action scenes are remarkable. With this background, the story follows the venetian career of the fanatical Dr. Manchu, his wily machinations which bring a beautiful girl into his clutches and his attempts to force her to work his will against his enemies.

In addition to Warner Oland, the cast includes Jean Arthur, O. P. Heggie, Neil Hamilton and William Austin. The actors were picked from Hollywood's best with special reference to particular fitness for the parts. Jean Arthur and Hamilton carry the romantic leads. Heggie plays the part of a detective. William Austin is his own laughable self as the eccentric secretary to a wealthy Englishman.

"The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" is the third in a series of gripping mystery picture which Paramount has made during the past few months. Those who thrilled to "The Canary Murder Case" and "The Studio Murder Mystery" will have some idea of the enjoyment in store for them when they see "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu."

Court Gratia, Catholic Daughters of America, held a card party at the club-house Monday afternoon. Mrs. Catherine Cox was in charge. A masked Hallowe'en dance will take place October 30 with Miss Elizabeth O'Neil in charge of arrangements. New officers are: Grand regent, Mrs. Nell M. ### TIME EXTENDED FOR ADJUSTED COMPENSATION

Trenton, October 17.—"The American Legion has learned that several World War veterans in this state have neglected applying for their adjusted compensation certificates. These veterans will incur serious financial loss if they do not apply before the closing date of January 2, 1930. Should the veteran, who has failed to apply, die, his dependents will suffer substantial loss in the amount of the Adjusted Certificate should they make application."

This statement calling upon veterans to apply for their Adjusted Compensation certificates before it is too late was made today by Roland F. Cowan, State Adjutant, of the American Legion here.

"The American Legion obtained enactment of the Adjustments Compensation act benefiting all veterans of the World War. The law became effective May 19, 1924, which allowed ample time for all veterans to take advantage of the offer. The adjusted Compensation Certificates resemble very much an endowment insurance policy and are payable at the end of twenty years after issuance.

"The Legion learned that many veterans had failed to take advantage of this Federal bonus when the closing day for filing under the original act arrived. For the benefit of the tardy ones, the Legion obtained an amendment to the world war Adjusted Compensation Act effective December 31, 1927, which extended the time which veterans might apply to January 2, 1930. The closing date for application is again approaching and it seems improbable that the time limit will be extended beyond January 2, 1930.

"Adjusted service compensation has nothing to do with Government Life Insurance or compensation for disability, and the same veteran may receive all of them.

Charged With Gambling

Four Nutley men and one from Wallington were arraigned before Recorder Charles Young in Nutley Police Court Monday on a charge of gambling in a house at Harrison street and Entwistle avenue, Nutley. The five are Bronson Aleknovic, of 16 Gless avenue; John Aleknovic, of 16 Gless avenue; Frank Neidzinski of 17 Entwistle avenue; Frank Palkewicz of 19 Entwistle avenue and Andrew Stoprowski of 38 Park row, Wallington.

They were arrested Sunday afternoon by Patrolmen Charles Rummel and John Simpson and Chanceman Walter Rasp of Nutley.

Tells Hold-up Yarn To Avoid Spanking

Mrs. Frank Mizer of 12 Montclair avenue, Nutley, notified police that her fifteen-year-old stepson had been held up by thugs Saturday night. At least that was what her stepson claimed. Patrolman Wallace investigated.

When Wallace reached the Mizer residence the boy confessed his hold-up story was a ruse, which he claimed, would prevent him from experiencing a whipping for arriving home late.

Students In Play

The Columbus Day program given by students of Nutley High School Friday was featured by a three-act play, "Sailing West to Find East." The cast included Robert Vaughan, Delmar Molarsky, Marion McAllister, Donald Dickerson, William Bartel, Robert Wycoff, Charles Roe, Alfred Bugbee, Horace Tantum Jr., Spencer Graham, George Boyce and John Kingsley.

ACTS TO WIDEN NUTLEY STREETS

Commission Moves To Add Six Feet To Strip On Park Avenue

An ordinance for the widening of Park avenue from Passaic avenue to Weston place, Nutley, was introduced Tuesday night by Commissioner Charles Sherwood at the Town Commission meeting. The width will be increased from twenty-four to thirty feet.

Mr. Sherwood declared that the improvement would be a public benefit, as Park avenue has become a busy thoroughfare. Mayor Cook added that the fire-house in Park avenue made the improvement desirable also.

The cost is estimated at $17,000 and twenty-one per cent will be assessed. The ordinance will have its final hearing October 29.

Another ordinance, also introduced by Commissioner Sherwood, suggested the resurfacing of the roadway with macadam in Whitford avenue from Rutgers place to Highfield lane. The estimated cost is $7,500 and the property owners will be assessed the entire cost. Final hearing will be held October 29.

Permission was granted to Jean Whitebeck of 482 Franklin avenue to erect a service station at Franklin and Vreeland avenues.

Several weeks ago Mrs. John Warren of 10 Harrison street, filed a petition requesting the town to allow her to conduct an employment agency at her home. Last night Mayor Cook declared that the town had no authority to issue such a permit and that Mrs. Warren should send her application to the commissioner of labor in Trenton.

A petition was received from three property owners in Lafayette place, Nutley, requesting the town to change the numbers of their houses in the town records.

Director Selected By Girl Scouts

Miss Flora Loudon Has Been Chosen, Because Of Experience

The Nutley Girl Scout Council has engaged Miss Flora Loudon of Hillside avenue, as director. Miss Loudon has been active in work of the organization seven years and has been captain of Troop 5 of Franklin Reformed Church.

Two years ago she organized the first Brownie Pack in Nutley. She is president of the Flower and Christian Service Guild of Franklin Reformed Church and a member of the Choral Club. She will assume her duties November 1.

The Nutley Council has received its incorporation papers. Efforts are being made to obtain suitable headquarters. Meetings of troops were resumed last week but captains are still desired for Troop 10 and Brownie Troop 3. A benefit card party and tea will be held Thursday afternoon by Troop 6 at the home of the captain, Mrs. J. H. Matthews of Hawthorne avenue.

Intertowns And Questions 12-2 Lead Midget League

The Ints defeated the Red Wings 12-6 Sunday morning in the first game of the Nutley Midget League.

The Ints, under the generalship of J. Tuozdolo and the tackling of R. Longo and Fred Tuozzolo, Cappy, and R. Jannarone, held the Red Wings in check.

Cappy made an end run of twenty-five yards to score the first touchdown and R. Jannarone, after recovering a fumble on the Red Wings' ten-yard line, rushed through tackle to make the count 12.

The Red Wings' only tally came as a result of Lordy intercepting a forward pass four yards from his own goal line.

Lefty Juliano and Lordy of the Red Wings starred. In the second tilt the Questions easily subdued the Wildcats, 24-0. Sanjomassimo crossed the line twice and L. Jannarone and Mearn scored once apiece. Kirk and Chinsky played best for the losers.

Comment Upon Fine Brings Jail Term

The comment of James Bennato of 302 North Belmont avenue regarding a fine that Recorder Fitzsimmons imposed on him Friday night resulted in his being sentenced to five days in the county jail.

"Ten dollars fine," the recorder prescribed as the penalty on a charge preferred by Truant Officer Berry that Bennato had failed to send his children to school.

"What should I care?" the dairyman responded. "Make it twenty-five! Make it fifty!"

"I'll make it contempt of court and sentence you to five days in jail," said the recorder.

Samuel Godina of 218 North Belmont avenue paid a $10 fine without comment on a similar charge.

Mrs. Lulu Shepard Gives Talk At Vincent Church

Mrs. Lulu Loveland Shepard of Salt Lake City, Utah, known as "The Silver Toned Orator of the Rocky Mountains" spoke to women only on Monday, at 8 P. M. in Vincent Methodist Episcopal Church, of which Rev Charles W. Wright is pastor, on the subject: "The Mormon Temple Secrets." This was a most illuminating recital of the inner operations of that mysterious secret institution of the Mormon Church. This was a union service in which the churches of the community united.

Mrs. Shepard is perhaps the most outstanding authority in America today on the Mormon question having lived for many years in Salt Lake City, the seat of Mormonism. For fourteen years, under the auspices of the National Reform Association, she has spoken on this subject in nearly all the states of the United States and in many foreign lands. During this period she has reached more than a million people with her message from the platform and many more through articles she has written and literature distributed.

She is a woman of unusual ability, of charming personality and one of the ablest speakers on the American platform. The warnings Mrs. Shepard has given have saved a multitude of erring girls from falling into the clutches of this false system.

A large and expectant audience greeted her on this occasion.

Direct Mail Advertising Called Loss To Retailers

Addressing the convention of the Direct Mail Advertising Association in Cleveland Thursday, Kenneth Collins, executive vice president and director of publicity of R. H. Macy & Co., New York, declared he was "led to the conclusion that the newspaper advertisement is still by far the best buy in the department store and specialty shop field."

"I say so a little grudgingly," Mr. Collins added, "both because I am loath to take the opposite side of this question with most of you and because I am loath to give the newspaper publishers another banner to flaunt at department store advertisers. But I must make this statement, since we are attempting to face the truth and appraise things at their correct valuation."

He declared direct mail advertising was not only more expensive than newspaper advertising but argued that the newspaper advertisement comes to the reader "alongside the columns of news which he has paid for and which he wants to read."

"The reader is in a reading mood," Mr. Collins said. "He didn't buy the newspaper to throw it in the waste-basket. I am of the impression that there is an infinitely greater chance for him to read the advertisement in the newspaper than the advertisement that has been forced upon him through the mail."

NUTLEY DEFEATS COLUMBIA HIGH BY 25-6 SCORE

Hubert Crawford One Of Stars On Offensive At Victors' Field

LOSERS ARE STRONG

An alert Nutley High School football team, with Hubert Crawford playing in the star role, defeated the Columbia High School gridders of South Orange and Maplewood Saturday, 25 to 6, on the local gridiron. The Sanford clan made three touchdowns.

On the offense, the South Orange-Maplewood team was superior. But some miscue would always halt its progress and later be used to advantage by the maroon.

The Columbia crew opened up in great fashion and after receiving the kickoff carried the ball to the center of the field on two plays, with Allen and Sickley cutting off tackle. A bad pass lost this advantage and when the visitors elected to kick, "Klem" Van Horn, Nutley pivot, broke through and blocked it. He was stopped on the 15-yard mark. On two plays "Pint" Sentner sidestepped his way over the remaining distance for a tally. Crawford placed kicked successfully.

Another march down the field by the South Orange-Maplewood aggregation was stopped when Sentner intercepted a pass, which was intended for John Condit. Neither team was able to gain any material advantage although the visitors were making considerable progress on the Nutley left side. Edison, all-state tackle, who had been held out of the game on account of injury was put into the contest and soon closed up the gap.

Pass Intercepted
With the idea of opening up a forward passing attack Coach Phil Marvel sent in Ken Day for Jim Wiley. He immediately heaved a forward, which Crawford intercepted and ran forty yards down the field for the second tally. His attempt to add the extra point by place kick was blocked. A forward pass, Baykowski to Crawford, from the ten-yard line resulted for the third touchdown. Crawford failed to kick the extra point.

After an exchange of kicks in the second period Nutley tried a series of triple and delayed passes, carrying the ball down the field, where Alex Baykowski sneaked through on a pivot play for 25 yards and a touchdown. With only a few minutes remaining, "Dick" Borton, brother of the former star, "Bob" Borton of the same school, intercepted a pass and ran to the Nutley 18-yard line before he was stopped. A quartet of passes brought the ball to the one-yard line and Ken Sandbach crashed through for a tally, the first score against the Nutley team this season. Receiving the kickoff, South Orange employed a forward passing attack that had the Nutley team bewildered and another tally seemed inevitable, only to have an interception stop the progress just as the contest ended.

Police Here Hunt For Missing Boy

Search is being made by Newark and Nutley police for Walter Pieraginski, 8, of 252 Bloomfield avenue, Nutley, who disappeared Monday while on his way to school.

"The boy left the home of his brother-in-law, Cornelius McGonigle, with whom he resided, at 8:15 for the Harrison Street School, a short distance away. A few hours later a truant officer called at his home to find out why the boy had not attended school. Police were then notified and the search instituted. A neighbor last saw the boy within a half block of the school.

Police said the boy's parents are separated and the father had gained his custody. On the strength of the belief the boy might have been taken to his mother's home at 90 Nichols street, detectives of the Missing Persons Bureau went there, but the mother said she had not seen the boy.

WATERS ON POLLUTION

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters sees a move ahead by the Second River Joint Sewer Commission to dump 15,000,000 gallons per day of raw sewage into Second River during a seven-day hook-up to the Passaic Valley Sewer Commission. He has put his foot flatly down on such a move.

Waters, who has a mind of his own and uses it, will not see Belleville suffer from any such pollution of Second River. Factories along the stream in Belleville have lived up to the letter of the law in cleansing the stream and he stands for the law-abiding owners of the plants. For the public in general enough is said. Waters will not see the public health in danger from the move. It is a ten to one shot other members of the board will be with him.

Waters doesn't intend to let Belleville be the dumping grounds for any other municipality or municipalities and doesn't hesitate to say so. Such an act as this is what places "Pat" in the limelight for re-election.

PEANUT SHELLS ARE VALUABLE

The Wall Street Journal may be quietly tipping off the market, or it may be merely interested in the dissemination of scientific news when that daily tells its readers there is a place in the sun at last for the peanut shells. It seems that this lowly by-product of Nature which has been trampled under the foot of man ever since he first noticed a difference between himself and the monkeys, is now taken up by the chemists, high lords of science. Tested recently as a substitute for word chips put in gypsum-fibre concrete which makes for lighter and cheaper construction work, the booger's shroud did very well indeed. The shell's may also be used in the production of xylene (which is one on us) and other chemical derivatives. This will be glad news to circuses, ball parks and zoos. Thus chemistry widens our world and takes to her bosom Nature's little orphans one by one. Practically nothing remains outside in the cold now except used safety razor blades and cigaret butts.

ONE WAY TO TRAVEL

In these days, when everyone seems to want to travel cheaply, it is unusual to discover anyone who can think up a new way. An ingenious young Chicagoan, who is now on his way home on a tour that has taken him around the world, has actually found out a new way to do it, and a cheaper way, than anyone else had thought of. He was a born supersalesman of himself. He induced a transportation company to send him from Chicago to the Pacific coast. He told some steamship officials about it, and asked them if they were going to be outdone. So they gave him a trip to Japan. The always courteous Japanese sent him first class to the mainland, the Russians, eager to match the Japanese, made him their guest to the Polish border, the Poles gave him a free trip to Germany and the Germans sent him to London by airplane.

Like all bright ideas, it was extremely simple, but not many youths could put it over. And, fortunately for those who would like the same sort of a jaunt, it could only be done once.

CRUISING ABOUT THE CITY

A great factor in the city traffic problem, which is scarcely realized, is the number of automobiles, who go cruising about the city with no definite object in view. The city streets seem to have a fascination for them.

This is particularly true on Saturdays when the bulk of the traffic, particularly in the afternoon and evening, consists of these roaming automobilists.

The tendency of so many automobilists to seek the crowded streets of the city is shown by the number of family parties that are seen daily. One of the favorite wedding aftermaths consists of a parade of the bride and bridegroom with attendants and friends in several cars making the rounds of the city streets.

A very large proportion of the traffic in the late part of the day is of a purely cruising nature.

Just what can be done about it is not apparent. We can hardly make any distinction in traffic, and no plan to restrict the streets is feasible at present.

The remedy for the situation is plainly in the hands of individual automobilists. Many persons may wonder just what the satisfaction is in going pleasure riding among the tangled traffic of busy streets, but the fact remains that many seem to get a thrill out of it. At any rate, the number seems to be growing.

It is a queer manifestation of what satisfies large numbers of people and inconveniences an equally large number.

PRISON COLORS

The buildings at Sing Sing, New York's famous state prison, are to be painted red. So there is an artistic discussion. Some of the officials don't want red. Some of the inmates don't want it. There are authorities who think the inmates are right.

Red, psychologists say, is an exciting color, and Sing Sing, with its bloody riots, has about enough excitement this year. Red paint may tend to make men "see red" as it does bulls.

Red is also supposed to stimulate the appetite and from the way the Sing Sing guests fought about their food a couple of months ago, it may be unwise to make them any hungrier than usual.

A carrot yellow, supposed to be mildly pleasant, doesn't seem to have done much good. Suppose the authorities try a soothing green.

The color most corresponding to the prisoner's mood would be dark blue; but that doesn't do anybody any good. Sky blue would be hopeful, possibly.

Citizen Cites

There are not many fools like an old fool who insists on acting like a young fool.

To believe a man more capable than he believes himself to be, adds to his capability.

For every bad there might be a worse and when a man breaks his leg he should be thankful it is not his neck.

It is one thing to follow advice, but quite another matter to catch up.

Some people must talk big in order not to be forgotten.

Many of our good times come unexpectedly.

When the Golden Rule becomes road rule, there will be fewer accidents.

Sometimes even a right-hand man may deserve a left-handed compliment.

All people can find time for health after it is improved.

In spite of the fact that all men have equal rights, mighty few, of us get them.

When in Kansas City I never fail to call on my very good friend, Lawrence Dickey, publisher of the Kansas City Journal-Post. My experience has shown me that the best informed men and best boosters for any city are its newspaper men.

Mr. Dickey remarked to me that Kansas City is the "Heart of America." It started me thinking, and what particularly attracted my attention is the fact that Kansas City seems to be the gateway to every section of the west and southwest.

Greater Kansas City claims to have a population of nearly six hundred thousand people. Sixteen railway systems with thirty-two lines enter Kansas City, as well as seven inter-urban railways and bus lines that run to or connect with other lines from New Orleans to Winnipeg and from San Francisco to New York, and every city between.

I went down to the Union Station early to catch my train. Had dinner at the Harvey Restaurant and went all through the station. It is the third largest station in the United States—a wonderful architectural creation. Bedford stone and granite are used outside and marble and tile inside. Its main waiting room is the largest in the world, being 410 feet long. The grand lobby is 280 x 110 with a 90 foot ceiling. Thirty-two tracks handle the 260 trains, which I was informed, enter and leave the station daily. The depot cost six million dollars and is part of a terminal system that cost fifty million dollars.

After this tour of the Union Station I could easily see that all roads lead to Kansas City, and this is one of the reasons why Mr. Dickey said that Kansas City is the "Heart of America."

MacDonald's Work.
Liquor Buyers' Guilt.
Connie Mack Thinks.
Mail Order War.

RAMSAY MACDONALD'S work in America is well done. The United States and Britain have solemnly pledged themselves against war as between the two countries, and to the promotion of peace by all proper means, everywhere.

What the future will bring forth, what the British Government following the present Labor Government, or what American public opinion may desire in the future, no one can say. But, at least, war has been classed as barbarous. The two most powerful nations in the world have declared against it, and that is progress.

It took human beings thousands of centuries to abandon cannibalism. Often, undoubtedly, they resolved to eat men no longer. And over and over the resolution was broken when hunger came and the edible man easily caught.

But cannibalism has disappeared. And war will disappear. Nevertheless, in days when the more civilized men were giving up cannibalism they kept themselves ready to repel those that came to eat them.

The United States and Great Britain, denouncing and abandoning war as between Britain and America, should keep ready and able to repel others that might seek to enforce war upon them.

Russia is openly hostile to the Anglo-American peace movement.

Italy is willing that Britain and America should do what they please outside of the Mediterranean. But in the Mediterranean Italy demands naval parity with any nation on earth.

Australia, with a handful of intelligent white men, living under the dark shadow of Asia, closer to Japan by thousands of miles than to any Western civilization, requests caution in reducing the British navy.

Ramsay MacDonald must consider the wishes of his dominions, and the belief in Australia that "the next time war would start in the Pacific, rather than in the Balkans."

Prohibition and its enforcement may soon enter upon a new phase.

It seems probable that buying liquor will be made a crime, according to Senator Sheppard's plan. Congress, if it dared, would refuse to take prohibition so seriously, endangering alcoholic habits of the respectable classes.

The board of temperance of the Methodist church, which usually gets what it wants, demands that the Sheppard bill be made law.

If that happens, the voice of respectability bragging about its reliable bootlegger will be heard in the land less frequently.

You read about the great baseball game, seen by more than 50,000. Two hundred thousand would have gone, had there been space. A long line waited through the night to get tickets.

More important than the game is the fact that even a game of hitting, running, catching and throwing depends, as everything does, on brains.

A world's series is not won by young men with muscular legs, who swing bats and slide bases. It is won by some Connie Mack who does the thinking. Too old to play, Connie Mack is not too old to think. His team won—young gentlemen, take notice.

Competition for business among mail order houses produces interesting results, including bargains.

But even competition and the effort to please the public can be pushed too far.

Sears, Roebuck, big mail order house, and its chief competitor, Montgomery Ward, said they would prepay not only postage but freight on all merchandise sold.

The freight on a keg of nails, in many instances, would be more than the cost of the nails, which would unduly favor buyers living at a distance. The mail order houses would eventually make the list price of nails include the freight.

In addition, with great mail order houses paying freight, the public, including farmers, the most important customers of mail order houses, would become indifferent to freight rates, high or low.

They would not even know what freight rates were.

But it would not be good for the public, since it would necessarily pay freight charges in increased cost of merchandise, and not know what it was paying.

But prepayment of freight charges, in the long run, will prove harmful to many buyers, in addition to deadening public opinion and farmer protest, concerning railroad charges.

On October 21, the world celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of Edison's electric light invention. Emil Ludwig makes the interesting suggestion that, on the night of the anniversary, electric lights be turned out all over the world for one minute, to emphasize the value of Edison's work.

He calls Edison "a second Prometheus." Edison stole light from the lightning as Prometheus stole fire from Heaven.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1929-30 by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright 1929, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 3

One of the hands that seem to hypnotize average Bridge players is one containing 100 aces. They bid one or two no trump with this type of hand, irrespective of distribution and of the possible chance of game. Here are two example hands that illustrate the point:

Example Hand No. 1

Z	B

Hearts—A, 9, 7, 6, 3, 2
Clubs—A, 4
Diamonds—A, 7
Spades—A, 10, 3

No score, first game. If Z dealt, what is his proper bid? Is it one no trump, in deference to the 100 aces; or is it one heart?

If Z bids one no trump with this hand, his chances of going game are very slight. He has only one stopper in three suits; and the fourth suit, hearts, is far from being set up. On the other hand, a bid of one heart offers much better chance for game. Such a bid eliminates the chance of a long suit making; and two or three tricks in the partner's hand make game very possible. Game also is possible even though partner holds only two or three hearts; therefore the proper bid with Z's hand undoubtedly is one heart.

Australia, with a handful of intelligent white men, living under the dark shadow of Asia, closer to Japan by thousands of miles than to any Western civilization, requests caution in reducing the British navy.

Ramsay MacDonald must consider the wishes of his dominions, and the belief in Australia that "the next time war would start in the Pacific, rather than in the Balkans."

Prohibition and its enforcement may soon enter upon a new phase.

It seems probable that buying liquor will be made a crime, according to Senator Sheppard's plan. Congress, if it dared, would refuse to take prohibition so seriously, endangering alcoholic habits of the respectable classes.

The board of temperance of the Methodist church, which usually gets what it wants, demands that the Sheppard bill be made law.

If that happens, the voice of respectability bragging about its reliable bootlegger will be heard in the land less frequently.

You read about the great baseball game, seen by more than 50,000. Two hundred thousand would have gone, had there been space. A long line waited through the night to get tickets.

More important than the game is the fact that even a game of hitting, running, catching and throwing depends, as everything does, on brains.

A world's series is not won by young men with muscular legs, who swing bats and slide bases. It is won by some Connie Mack who does the thinking. Too old to play, Connie Mack is not too old to think. His team won—young gentlemen, take notice.

Competition for business among mail order houses produces interesting results, including bargains.

But even competition and the effort to please the public can be pushed too far.

Sears, Roebuck, big mail order house, and its chief competitor, Montgomery Ward, said they would prepay not only postage but freight on all merchandise sold.

The freight on a keg of nails, in many instances, would be more than the cost of the nails, which would unduly favor buyers living at a distance. The mail order houses would eventually make the list price of nails include the freight.

In addition, with great mail order houses paying freight, the public, including farmers, the most important customers of mail order houses, would become indifferent to freight rates, high or low.

They would not even know what freight rates were.

But it would not be good for the public, since it would necessarily pay freight charges in increased cost of merchandise, and not know what it was paying.

But prepayment of freight charges, in the long run, will prove harmful to many buyers, in addition to deadening public opinion and farmer protest, concerning railroad charges.

On October 21, the world celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of Edison's electric light invention. Emil Ludwig makes the interesting suggestion that, on the night of the anniversary, electric lights be turned out all over the world for one minute, to emphasize the value of Edison's work.

He calls Edison "a second Prometheus." Edison stole light from the lightning as Prometheus stole fire from Heaven.

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt, what is his proper bid?

Here is a hand of unusual strength, and yet one of such unbalanced distribution that it does not warrant a no trump bid. With two suits, each of five cards or more, the player always should prefer the suit bid to the no trump. In this case, therefore, Z's proper bid is one spade; and then, if overbid by an opponent or by partner, Z should show the diamond suit. Bid in this way, Y Z should score a sure game; while at no trump, with a club or heart opening, game is not at all sure.

In this particular hand, as a matter of fact, two odd only were scored at no trump, while at spades or diamonds it was possible to make five odd. Be on the lookout for hands of this type and don't let 100 aces influence you to make an unsound no trump bid.

St. Peter's Dramatic Club Plans A Very Strenuous Program

In summing up the situation so far as it pertains to the activities of the St. Peter's Dramatic Club it is evident that a very strenuous program of entertainment has been arranged for by the various committees appointed to arrange for different social functions. The recent fall dance held in St. Peter's Auditorium was an indication of what this organization proposes to do during the coming winter months to keep so-called attractions within the town.

With their first venture placed in the discard their second and third ventures have already been announced, the second being a Hal-lowe'en entertainment and dance for the members of the club, exclusively. Last year an entertainment of this character was suggested and carried out so quickly that when it was over everyone voted it to be one of the finest and judging from enthusiasm manifested by the individuals present at the recent meeting of the club when this suggestion was brought forward they were all unanimous in their heartily endorsing another such affair which will be held election eve.

The committee insofar as it has been humanly possible will be the same as that of last year and the many surprises in store for the members present last year (which of course is expected at such weird entertainments of this character at this season of the year) is expected to far outnumber what they expect will be in store for the coming event. The third attraction will be the musical review and dance to be held the forepart of next month, the proceeds of which will go toward the School Building Fund now in force. Every parishioner connected with the church realizes the ambition of the church in its cherished idea of placing a modern up-to-date school to add to the beauty of the church property.

All societies connected with the church have heartily endorsed the plan of its pastor and each and everyone are working zealously in their endeavor to be of whatever assistance they can to make this plan a realization. The Dramatic Club feel that they can be of material assistance in this respect and hence the reason for their renewed activity which according to their program will keep them busy throughout the long winter nights.

Rehearsals for the forthcoming production are being held in St. Peter's annex each Tuesday night and anyone, especially the young women of the parish, are cordially invited to join this organization and share in its entertainment. Coach Charrand has practically the same material to mold together for this performance and expects to have the same pleasing entertainment for the public as those performances held in the past.

Fails To Press Charge Of Auto Theft, But Pays Fine Of Accused Friend

Edward Hollweg, 32 Walnut street is $100 poorer today because he reported to the Belleville police that John Wiemer, 27, of 96 Waverly avenue, Newark, had taken his auto.

Wiemer and the car were found in Courtlandt, N. Y., on Sunday, having been traced through letters Wiemer left at his home. Two Belleville policemen brought him back. Hollweg refused to charge him with auto theft when Wiemer was arraigned Monday night before Recorder Fitzsimmons in Belleville Police Court. So the recorder fined Wiemer $100 on a disorderly charge. Hollweg paid Wiemer's fine.

It developed that Wiemer, in accordance with an understanding between him and Hollweg, had been using the car for several weeks. He did not tell Hollweg of the proposed New York trip, Wiemer admitted.

DEVELOPMENT

The development by Thomas A. Edison of a system of electrical generation and distribution was of no less importance to the world than his discovery of the electric incandescent lamp.

It made possible the central electric station, in which electric energy could be cheaply and efficiently generated and from which it could be widely distributed.

Based upon the principles which Mr. Edison evolved, the evolution of central stations has been one of the most remarkable of modern scientific and economic phenomena. By improvements in methods and apparatus not only has efficiency in production been increased and area of distribution widely extended, but cost to the consumer has been steadily lowered.

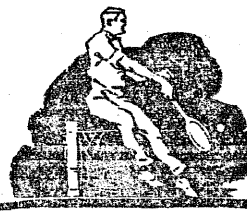

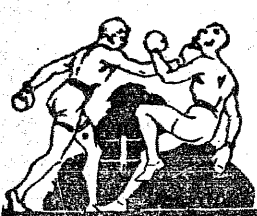

Every present day user of electrical energy, for whatever purpose, owes to the great New Jersey inventor a debt of gratitude for his gift of light and power.

Belleville Soundly Drubs Roselle Park Machine, 19-7

Playing a championship brand of football that could not be beaten, the Belleville High gridgers scored almost at will in administering a great 19-7 trouncing to Roselle Park, Saturday at the latter's field.

The entire Blue and Gold backfield, led by Paul Short, its inimitable quarterback and captain, was unstoppable throughout the contest mowing down their opponents for gain after gain. "Turk" Byrnes in particular, starting his first game in the local backfield, showed up as a tower of strength to fit perfectly in the Belleville ensemble. He was constant poison to the Parkers with his dazzling speed and his splendid interference.

The Bell-boys scored all their points in the first half with a remarkable aerial attack that left the home gridgers amazed and chagrined. That renowned Schwieker to Short combination was functioning on all cylinders to give the local boys a seemingly unceasing string of first downs.

Before the opening quarter had got fairly under way the Blue and Gold warriors registered their initial touchdown, due mainly to Schwieker's fine work. After a nice punt by Schwieker had placed the pigskin on Roselle's thirty-five yard mark on the kick-off, Conrad, Roselle's colored flash, attempted a forward pass on the first play, but Schwieker intercepted it and ran to Belleville's twenty yard stripe before he was downed. A series of off-balance plays, aided by a seven-yard pass, Schwieker to Anderten, brought the ball to the three-yard mark from where Short carried it through center for the touchdown. Bonavita's attempted drop-kick for the extra point was low and unsuccessful.

After the following kick-off had placed the ball on Roselle Park's forty-one yard line, Conrad with a nice mixture of end runs and line plunges single-handedly carried the ball to the Belleville thirty-five yard stripe, but at this point the Belleville line took a brace and forced Roselle to kick. The punt landed over the goal-line giving Belleville the oval on their own twenty-yard line.

Short then made a splendid kick deep into Roselle territory and on an ensuing fumble Bonavita recovered for the Bell-boys on Roselle's forty-one yard mark. On the first play Short squeezed and squirmed his way through tackle for a ten yard gain and first down. After a pair of line plunges had failed to gain anything Belleville took to the aerial route with great success. A perfect spiral Schwieker to Short netted fourteen yards and another one this time Short to Schwieker gained twelve more. A plunge through center added three more to place the pigskin on the home three yard stripe. On the next play, Short, aided by effective interference by Byrnes who took out no less than two would-be tacklers, ran around right end for his second touchdown of the quarter. Bonavita again failed in his try for the extra point.

After an exchange of punts had brought the pigskin to midfield, the burly Conrad made a brilliant twenty-three yard run through tackle to give Roselle Park the ball on Belleville's twenty-five yard stripe as the quarter ended. Then with their backs to the wall the localies rose to the heights and held for downs gaining the oval on their own twenty-yard line.

An exchange of punts followed in midfield with honors about even. Then, after a series of line plunges had failed for Roselle Park the losers elected to kick with a resulting fine punt to Short on Belleville's three yard mark. Belleville was there again in the pinch and with Short bearing the brunt of the attack carried the ball to Belleville's twenty-five yard stripe from where Short punted to Roselle's forty-nine yard mark. After a fifteen yard penalty had brought the ball to Belleville's thirty-six yard mark, Udansky recovered a Roselle fumble to give the local squad the oval. A pair of aerials proving unsuccessful, Short elected to kick and his effort was a splendid one, the ball finally being Roselle's on her own thirty-one yard stripe. With about a minute to go Belleville blocked Conrad's attempted kick and recovered in the home forty-two yard mark. Short, after failing in one attempt at a forward, heaved a short spiral to Bonavita, who made a nice bit of broken field running to cover the remainder of the distance and score Belleville's third touchdown of the afternoon. "Tony" D'Elia then displayed his versatility with a perfect drop-kick for the extra point to make the score 19-0 as the half ended.

In the early minutes of the second half Roselle Park tallied their first and only touchdown. With the play centered in midfield Woods tossed a short forward pass to Conrad that looked good for about ten yards, but the 230 pound colored boy seemed inspired and raced through for forty-five yards and the touchdown. Klein's placement for the extra point was successful and as later events proved put an end to the day's scoring.

Following the kick-off both sides engaged in a punting duel with the Parkers holding the upper hand, the pigskin finally resting on Belleville's ten-yard mark. Paul Short next sprinted around left end for thirty yards. It seemed for a time that he would register Belleville's fourth touchdown, as after he was forced out of bounds by but a single step at the forty-yard stripe he had an open field before him and seemed headed for the touchdown when the referee's whistle brought him back.

For the remainder of the third quarter and the beginning of the fourth quarter Belleville was satisfied with using simply defensive tactics with the result that the pigskin was kept in play in midfield for most of this time. A feature of these periods was the fine work of the Belleville line, who threw Conrad, the Parker's chief groundgainer for loss after loss.

Towards the close of the final quarter with the oval in midfield in the loser's possession, Roselle Park resorted to a last minute aerial attack. Several successful long tries advanced the ball to Belleville's ten-yard stripe, but the Bell-boys put on a courageous stand with the result that the game ended with the Parkers unable to break through for the score.

The line-up: Roselle Park (7) Bonavita L. E. Klein Galluba L. T. Kretzbury Udansky L. G. Boyd Brand Center Quinn D'Elia R. G. Rego Estelle R. T. Buckner Jackson R. E. Mapps Short (c) G. B. ## LAKE MOHAWK COUNTRY CLUB TO HOLD MASQUE OCTOBER 26

Extensive preparations are being made for the annual Halloween Masque of the Lake Mohawk Country Club, which will be held in the Clubhouse the night of October 26. Eight hundred announcements of unusual design have been mailed to club members and from reservations already received, the affair promises to be exceptionally well attended. The dance floor will be reserved for those in costume and prizes will be awarded for beauty and originality in dress.

Decorations will create an old fashioned country setting, refreshments will be served and many novel features of entertainment are being planned. Erv Bradley and his Heigh Ho Orchestra will furnish the music. Several hotels will remain open for the accommodation of overnight guests and numerous club members who have homes at the lake are planning for a big time.

Midget Footballers Lack Opponents In Their Own Class

The Belleville Prestons, a light midget football team, is finding it difficult to secure games.

The Prestons, who are undefeated and claim the town championship in their class, have an exceptional lot of ball-carriers, who pack a real punch.

Alvin Taylor, Charles Tully, William Taylor, James Watson, Norman Anderson, Thomas Van Over, Paul Breen, Arthur Alyea and J. C. Tully head the squad of fifteen players.

Any grid team, averaging 70 pounds may book the Prestons by communicating with manager J. C. Tully, 76 Preston street, Belleville, or phone Arthur Alyea, captain, Belleville 1083.

Harry M. Wildnauer of East Orange, N. J. is the chairman of the Committee on arrangements.

Parks Look Forward To Banner Season

The Park A. C., a leading team in local senior football ranks last season, will oppose the East Side Separates of Newark, Sunday afternoon, at 3:30, at Belleville Park.

The Parks have engaged in but one grid battle this season, showing promising strength in recording a 6-6 tie with the strong Etians, made up of East Side High stars.

Last Sunday afternoon the Atlantics were the carded attraction, but they failed to put in an appearance. The Parks then divided the squad and did a little light scrimmaging to keep in shape.

Among the many hopefuls on the Parks' squad the following have shown to best advantage to date: Cangelosi, Caputo, ortino, Auremma, Chambers, Di Giovanni, Ciccarelli, Innicelli, Molinaro, Del Grosso, Calabrese, Cavallo, Zboroyski, Petrosino and Murphy.

Clintons To Play North Arlington

The Clintons will go into action next Sunday against the North Arlington Wildcats. This game promises to be one of the hardest games on their schedule and should see all the stars of the team in action.

"Bungo" Gorham has recovered from an injury to his leg sustained two weeks ago in a practice tilt with the Union A. A. and will probably start at the fullback position.

Marty Mallack and Sus Howley will probably receive the call for the halfback posts with Neilan at the signal calling position. It may be however that Coach Sullivan will start Jack Proven in the backfield. Proven performed meritorious work in the practice tilt. His line smashing gained much ground for the Clintons and put them in a position to score the touchdown to tie the score.

The Clintons will never have a shortage of good backs with Ashworth, Bus Proven, McGuire and H. Clark ready to enter the fray.

The line will be strengthened with the return of Tim Monaghan, one of last year's guard and a great line opener. The Clintons had one of the best pair of guards in the junior football class last year in Monaghan and Johnnie Watters. Watters has entered West Point where he is playing on the plebe team.

Pat Dunn will probably start at the pivot position, with Irving and Monaghan at the guards, Lukowiak and Dacey at the tackles and Jim Clark and Pethit at the ends.

Coach Sullivan might return to the Clinton practice of starting a second team in the game. This idea is used to build up the confidence of the recruits. The Clintons' second team is well drilled in the fundamentals of the game and will probably hold their own although heavily outweighed.

The game Sunday will be played at Belleville Park and will start at 3 o'clock. The Clintons have booked games for the remainder of the season to be played at the park. One of the teams scheduled for later in the season is the Senecas of Long Island, the only team to defeat the Clintons last year.

The longer a man refuses to see the error of his ways, the farther back he will have to travel.

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemke

"They took advantage of the Breaks" said a great many fans in giving a reason for Belleville's decisive triumph over Roselle Park, ranking Class B team of the state, last Saturday, and they certainly hit the nail on the head with that faultless opinion.

Two of Belleville's three touchdowns were the results, either directly or indirectly, of these so-called "breaks." An intercepted forward by Schwieker in the opening minutes of play paved the way for the first touchdown, while the third was indirectly the result of a blocked kick.

When expressing their opinion of these breaks many fans concluded that Belleville, while deserving their scores, were nevertheless lucky to get the opportunity to score. But such must certainly not be the case. Belleville by their alertness in seizing every opportunity made their own breaks and fully deserved the convincing margin of triumph they achieved.

The Bell-boys clearly outplayed their rivals in every department of the game to give them their first victory of the present campaign and a glorious one at that, as over 2,000 Belleville enthusiasts who witnessed the game will testify.

Paul Short's great work will live long in the memories of the 5,000 people who attended the contest. In some of his long and runs he simply outsped the entire Roselle Park team to register gain after gain. His punting was also of the first water, his educated toe pulling the Bell-boys out of many a tight hole. With the entire team playing the games of their lives it is well nigh impossible to single out any one player as outstanding, yet the work of Byrnes, Schwieker, D'Elia, Galluba and Bonavita is certainly deserving of more than passing attention.

The Blue and Gold had several minor casualties to mar the otherwise perfect day. Anderten, Estelle, Galluba and Salters were forced out of the game at different times because of injuries.

Estelle and Galluba, together with Bade, who subbed for Estelle, were on the injured list before game time but gamely started the contest. Aggravations of their injuries during the game, however, forced them out. Anderten and Salters received their injuries during the game. Anderten's was reported to be but a minor arm injury, but Salters' was more serious and tragic. After Anderten was forced out, Coach Erikson sent in Salters, who was eagerly awaiting his chance to get in the game. On the very first play he was in he ripped off a six yard gain only to be helped to the side-lines a moment later with a bad leg injury received when he was tackled.

Several of the Roselle Park players were also the recipients of minor casualties to add to the growing hospital list.

It is expected that all these injuries to the Bell-boys will be healed sufficiently to enable the Blue and Gold to pot forth their strongest line up in next Saturday's tilt at Ridge-wood.

From all indications this season promises to be Belleville's Bowling-best in many moons.

Our local Elks' pinners are all set to burn up the countryside with their entire line-up intact from last season and an added starter in "Billy" Buttons, amiable St. Peter backstop, who is one of the best pin-knights hereabouts.

The Elkmens are already getting set for their initial appearances in the Elks' Bergen County League and the Morris and Essex League with the announcement of tentative line-ups for both tilts. October 24, in the M. and E. loop, they will line-up with C. Faust, W. Bechtoldt, B. McManus, R. Whitten and T. MacNair.

On the 29th C. Faust, W. Buttons, C. Waldie, R. Whitten, and T. MacNair are ready to appear in the Bergen County circuit. In both leagues the local Elks expect to open on their home alleys, but a sudden switch in the arrangements is not entirely unlikely.

In other bowling circles it is stated that the local Church League will start play shortly with the same teams included that took part last season.

The third and newest entrant in local bowling's select company is the Belleville American Legion Bowling League, a worthy successor to the League's first sports venture, the highly successful baseball circuit.

While plans for the League, which were discussed at a special meeting Tuesday night were tentative for the most part, the actual starting of the loop has begun in earnest. The eleven teams included in the circuit are expected to get into action the first week of November at Ferrara's new bowling academy, Verona avenue, near Broadway.

Legion League Holds First Bowling Session

Tuesday evening the local post, American Legion, held a special session at the Town Hall, relative to the formation of the long awaited Legion Bowling League.

After the outlining of the local Legion's plans in the League's behalf by "Joe" Williams, amiable athletic director, the meeting got under way with the election of officers.

"Joe" Williams was heartily endorsed for the presidency of the league with a unanimous vote.

C. Stickney, of the local Knights of Columbus, was elected vice-president on the second ballot.

"Larry" Keenan, popular and versatile secretary of the Legion baseball circuit was unanimously chosen treasurer, while Arthur Bloemke received the secretary post.

Entrants in the League were then received with eleven clubs finally being entered. While several of these entrants are a little uncertain about entering, it seems fairly sure that these eleven clubs will compose the loop.

The entries and their representatives are as follows:

Knights of Columbus.....C. Stickney
Jr. O. U. & A. M.....L. Geiger
Loyal Order of Moose.....Wm. Slater
Veterans Foreign Wars.....J. Morgan
Elks Club.....John Lawlor
Burke's Colts.....Thomas Dunn
Hoople Club.....J. Baney
Bachelors.....Harry McCarthy
Parks.....J. Innicelli
Capitols.....A. Caruso
Pt. Peters.....J. Flynn

After several discussions about other pertinent matters such as the use of the foul line, etc., the representatives of the teams entered finally hit upon Monday nights as League bowling nights after many arguments pro and con.

Mr. Ferrara, proprietor of the alleys to be used at Verona avenue, stated that his academy would be ready the first week of November at the latest, making it probable that the League would inaugurate its season on the first Monday of November.

The Men's Club will hold its first other session being called for next Tuesday night to further arrangements.
