Billy Gray secured most of the names in this column.

The game with Orange was featured by the forward passing of Paul Schiewer. How that boy can pass! Belleville won the game, of course, 13-0.

"Tom" Fleming, despite the fact that he was very sick, drove to the game. That's alma mater spirit!

Fred Plohn, who we understand is a Mercersburg graduate, explained the fine points of the game to a group of listeners.

A number of loyal Belleville rooters, who have never missed a game, were there. Among them are Ray "Square" Demgard, Joe Mazza, Joseph D'Elia, James J. Turner, "Mull" Travers, Jim Anderson, Ed Mutch, Art Dopf, John P. Maher, Charles Smith, Herb Sopher, Larry Sturchio, Roy Hadley, Harry Ward, Hugh "Mickey" Welsh, William G. Knowles, Ray Mertz, Charles Knowles, Major Tate, John Mazza, Joe Anderten, Joe Howley and Tom Walker and "Mac" Burnes.

The following Hoopie Club members were present: Joe Holden, James Murphy, K. Burns, "Red" Kant, "Mike" McCurdy, "Rory" Ryan, T. Wilkison and Elmer Jones.

The Belleville High under-graduate girls were bedecked in gay colors. Among those present were Doris Watt, Viola Sautter, Jack Smeltz, Lawton Cox, Ina Belle Collins, Bill Lindon, James Lynch, Elizabeth Wortman, Jane Vessie, Margaret Haslam, Delma Krauss, "Buddy" Burden, Wilbur Wharton, James Wharton, Fred Schmidt, Gilbert Freeman, Romondt Budd, Helen Harrison, Florence McCarthy, Helen Leiss, Eileen Mazza, Lester Woodruff, Ruth Heller, Louis Weston, George "Gouge" Anderten, Gordon Brown, Robert Cocks, John Alvira, Genevieve Zmuda, Mildred Joiner, Emma Joiner, Cora DeHaas, Fenton Kintzing, "Dutch" King, Bill Frazer, Edward Stivers, "Mac" Lamb and John Zetterstrom.

Miss Ruth Schiewer, sister of the famous Paul, represented the grammar schools at the game.

These football men were on the side-lines due to injuries: Alfred "Ooky" Anderten, Homer Estelle, and Howard "Red" McMaster.

Gus Plenge, manager of the Plenge team, which will play the Schumacher team of Flushing, L. I., December 1, decided that his team would resort to forward passing after seeing Schiewer's passes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith are enthusiastic rooters. Ray owns the Capitol Pharmacy.

Stanley "Doot" McCloskey deserted his taxi business to come to the game.

Mrs. Harry Shepherd was there with her daughter, Catherine, and son, John. Of course, Walter "Mary" Bartlett was there.

Ernest Slater and Sergeant William Sullivan represented the police department.

Cornelius "Casey" DeJonge, who played on last year's team, talked over how they played last year with Andy McMaster.

Major Tate's son and daughter, Bill and Barbara, were lusty rooters for the Blue and Gold.

Bill Plenge watched his brother, Fritz, play a stellar game.

Tom Woods, father of Al, former Belleville High star, thought the team very good.

John B. Brown represented the lawyers at the game.

John Rodenbeck and Ralph Smith represented the insurance men.

Others who were present included Mrs. Watson Current, Mrs. Charles Schick, Andrew Boylan, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. DeHaas, "Mac" Byrnes, Ethel Schaeffer, George Haslam, and son, George, Jr.

Auto Smashes Down Porch On Dwelling

Accident Occurred Near Crossing Of Railroad Tracks

The front porch enclosure of the home of James Henry of 47 Belleville avenue, was knocked from the house Sunday by the automobile of John Bogoerts of 314 West Twenty-third street, New York. Bogoerts told police he lost control of his car when it struck to sudden change in street grade at the Erie railroad crossing.

The machine glanced off a tree, plunged through a fence, narrowly missed another tree and struck the corner of the partition, tearing it away so that a flight of stairs was left exposed.

The condition of the crossing has been criticized numerous times at Town Commission meetings by Commissioner Frank J. Carragher, who declared some one would be killed there unless it was remedied. The commissioner is engaged in a study of crossing levels which shows, he said, tracks are above a proper grade at all street crossings in the town.

Thieves Ransack Six Local Homes

Clothing And Jewelry Valued At $700 Disappear

Thieves who entered six homes in the Belwood Park section of Belleville Saturday night stole from four of the places clothing and jewelry valued at more than $700. Occupants of the homes were out for the evening in all instances. Each house was ransacked.

Thefts were reported to police as follows: Philip Reid, 84 Smallwood avenue, woman's silver muskrat fur coat, $300; P. P. Reese, 29 Fairway avenue, woman's coat, fur-trimmed, cuff links, camera, woman's wedding ring and alligator hand-bag, $175; Pearson Arrison, 644 Belleville avenue, woman's diamond ring and man's gold watch and chain, $150; Frank Kaiser, 5 Smallwood avenue, gold watch, wedding and signet ring and necklace, $100.

The homes of J. H. Mack, 33 Fairway avenue, and Peter Giacosa, 21 Smallwood avenue, were ransacked, but nothing was taken. All entries were made by jimmying doors or windows.

BELLEVILLE-CLINTONS TO PLAY NUTLEY TEAM

For the closing game of their current football season, the Belleville-Clintons have arranged a game with the Nutley Comets to be played at Clearman Field, on Saturday afternoon.

This game promises to be bitterly and hard fought and should bring out the best in both teams. The rivalry between the two towns is enough to bring out a crowd and with both teams unbeaten so far this season the game should be one worth witnessing.

A number of old timers who played when the Nutley F. C. and the Colonials held sway have been invited to the game. Among these are Simon Blum, now Town Clerk of Nutley who played quarterback for the Nutley team; Captain Jamieson of the Nutley Police Department who played with the same team; John Cullen, member of the Belleville Recreation Commission, who played with the Belleville team and James Smith, owner of the Cedar Hill Garage, who used to be the snapper back for the Colonials.

In the absence of Coach Sullivan, who will attend the Army-Notre Dame game the Clintons will be handled by Hughie Welsh, son of Mickey, of the old Colonials. The Nutley team is being directed by Clayton Scotland. The name of Scotland is synonymous with football in Nutley.

The Clinton team will line up with Clark and Otto at the wings; McGuire and Mingle at the tackles; Managhan and Irving at the guards and Pat Dunn at the center. The backfield will be composed of Ashworth, Mallick, Gorham and Proven with Peith and Howley in reserve.

The Nutley lineup has not yet been decided but will undoubtedly be the same as the one used in the game with the Colonials on last Sunday. The ends were Davis and Murrill; tackles; Riley and Crawford; guards Burke and Rader; center, Bohler. Backfield, Hohenstein, Barnes, VanDusen and Rief with the first named calling the signals.

The Clintons are endeavoring to make a game with Nutley an annual event and ask the people of Belleville to lend them their support in order to put this game across.

Another feature of the game will be the appearance of the Clintons in the familiar Blue and Gold uniforms of the local high school.

Perhaps this contest may be the forerunner of a renewal of the Belleville-Nutley High relations. Who knows?

At any rate the Clintons who have yet to put on a poor exhibition, earnestly solicit the support of the town.

Moran And Mack, Two Black Crows, Now In Movies

Moran and Mack, the Two Black Crows, make their initial motion picture debut in "Why Bring That Up?" an all talking picture at the Capitol Theatre, next week.

This duo, who have taken the world by storm with their phonograph records, radio, and stage appearances now give the whole world a chance to see what they look like. "Why Bring That Up?" is a typical Two Black Crows story. You see the two joining together and starting their famous act. You see them struggle toward their goal, Broadway and a theatre of their own!

Moran and Mack, the Two Black Crows, bring to you along with a lot of new Moranisms and Mackities some of their past record and radio hits, including the original Two Black Crows number the "In Jail" bit and the "Hunting Lions" number.

To their usual line of foolishness has been added a lively story by Octavus Roy Cohen, famous author of colored stories and a host of beautiful girls and smart characters.

Says The Occasional Rider Would Pay Forty Cents To Newark And Back

When a representative of the Public Service Corporation, Fred Kugelman appeared Tuesday night before the Belleville Town Commission to ask it to approve the ten cent fare for occasional riders and five cent tokens for regular customers, Commissioner Patrick A. Waters said "to my way of thinking we should oppose this to the bitter end."

Instead of agreeing to the demand a resolution was passed favoring the present fare rate and setting forth that the town should be represented in the matter at a hearing before the

Arrange Over The Top Meeting Next Monday Night

With a total of $15,368 pledged to the Community Chest, as reported Monday evening, finishing touches will be put to the drive this week to tabulate reports from captains who have not made returns. Next Monday night complete data is expected to show that the $16,000 quota has been exceeded.

Belleville colored folks through Captain James Henry donated well in the drive. Out of a large number of contributions handed in there was not one less than $5. A colored ladies' group donated $25.

Anyone who wants more cards and stickers to canvas sections that have not been canvassed should get in touch with the chairman, Charles Granville Jones, 133 Academy street or at headquarters, 280 Washington avenue.

"Somebody said the teachers earn money in town and are not doing anything on the drive," said Superintendent of Schools George R. Gerard, as he submitted a wad of cards and cash. "Here is $876.50 from them. $600 of which is cash."

As told exclusively in the NEWS last Friday the chest workers and leaders were elated that night when a total of $11,000 was reported collected in the appeal for $16,000 for five participating agencies, the Salvation Army, Red Cross, Boy and Girl Scouts and Community Welfare Bureau.

Watson Current, chairman of the special Gifts committee, said $7,000 had been pledged, with $3,000 more in "sight" at that time.

At the meeting only $1,650 has been collected by more than 125 workers, aside from the special committee.

Mr. Current deplored the "adverse publicity," hoping it had not discouraged all the workers.

Letter From Leaders
"Everything is going fine and we are more than in full sight of the top. There is absolutely no question but that when we meet at the Town Hall Monday, at 8 P. M., we will have completed our quota."

"It is only necessary that you finish canvassing the few remaining persons you have been unable to see and the few remaining sections that have not been canvassed and you will have a surprise at the results we have obtained."

Be sure to bring everyone prepared for a big time on Monday night. We are going to have special features that will interest everybody and we will have a good song fest and various old songs to cheer us up that will fit a fitting celebration for the first Community Chest that, on short notice, has ever gone over the top more than 100 per cent. The first time it was tried.

"Belleville captains and team workers, you have done a big thing. You have put Belleville on the map and we know you will keep it there." "Awards will be given to the captains and workers who bring the greatest amount in from their territory previously not canvassed. There will be speakers and The Mayor, Commissioners, Firemen, Pastors of the town, Principals, and Teachers; Gerard, Superintendent; He factories; store keepers, etc. is asked to come out (respective Orchard) and rejoice in the fact Belleville has made good.

"Don't forget, Monday night, December 2, at 8 o'clock at the Hall."

Happily yours,

ONE EYE COULD SEE ERIE GRADE SAYS COMMISSIONER CARRAGHER

"Anybody with one eye shut can see the Erie tracks are above grade seventeen and one-half inches in Belleville avenue," said Commissioner Frank J. Carragher Tuesday night at a Town Commission meeting reporting to Town Engineer Albert S. Blank, who said he would have to refer to maps to determine whether the tracks are above grade.

Mr. Carragher's remark followed a move on his part, which was defeated by his colleagues, to have the tracks lowered. Commissioner Patrick A. Waters stood with Mr. Carragher, but Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and Commissioner William D. Clark voted against the motion.

The Belleville avenue grade was alluded to as a result of an accident Sunday night which Mr. Carragher says was caused by a motorist hitting the grade. The motorist lost control of his machine and sideswiped a tree, climbed the curb and took the front of a house owned by James Henry of 47 Belleville avenue. The car upset but the motorist was unhurt.

Mr. Clark said the house is 125 feet from the crossing and the tree 100 feet.

Mr. Carragher has been complaining for a long time that the grades are too high all over town where Erie tracks cross town streets. Recently he got support from his colleagues to purchase from former town engineer Frank T. Shepard maps showing the grades. The board agreed Mr. Shepard should get $100 for his work, but because he first submitted data that was not sufficient for the fee he was called upon for more information, which he supplied. Then the board debated several weeks as to whether it could legally pay the bill. Eventually Mr. Blank said he "dug from the archives" old maps clarifying the situation. Then Shepard was paid.

Referring to the Shepard map, Mr. Carragher asked Corp. Counsel John B. Brown why legally Mr. Shepard should be paid.

"I guess it was to help you out a hole," said Mr. Brown.

"This is a serious matter," declared Mr. Waters. "I think a member of the commission should show more courtesy than this."

After a lengthy discussion it was decided to refer to Messrs. Brown the question of legality of the railroad crossing at Belleville avenue.

By resolution of the Mayor, Mr. Brown was reappointed for year as counsel. Mr. Carragher, but Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and Commissioner William D. Clark voted against the motion.

Charles Granville Jones, chairman of the Community Chest, thanked the town officials for helping the appeal and materially aiding it. He also expressed gratitude help given by policemen and firemen. He invited them to a jubilee next Monday in the town hall. All workers will meet for final report and a general good time.

For many years such a sound emanated from an old bell in School No. 3 at Jorammon and Belleville avenue, signifying that school is about to begin.

During these years many youngsters devised many ways of getting to their seats before the note pealed.

Now along comes a patrol man found a new way of beating the bell—not for himself but for a dergarten boy. Out of breath little fellow heard the bell was a block away. The patrolman's younger colleague was on a clump of dirt and began to run. Without more ado the patrolman ran to the youngster, and

Wemec Dramatists Score Again With Their Annual Show

Audience Of Over 800 See Fourth Production At High School

Once again, the Wemec Dramatic Club scores a signal success. Last Friday evening at the local high school auditorium, the club presented its fourth production to an audience of over 800 persons. The play was received by a satisfied audience with an over abundance of honest and sincere applause.

The play this year, a simple little romantic comedy deals chiefly with the experiences of an American girl, Princess Dellatore who returns to her home town in Millertown, Indiana, after the death of her titled husband in Italy, the husband having dissipated her fortune before his death. Her activities in a typical mid-western town are depicted and the comedy element is infused by the actions of the town in planning a reception to a real live princess. She, being a charming girl, but of plain and simple manner, is not recognized on her entry, and is mistaken for a dressmaker, thereby learns of the reception plans. In the meantime her old romance, broken short by her parents is revived with Phil Lennox, a minister's son who is the town choreman, and an object of town wide derision because of his predilection for inventing unsuccessfully. The play ends with the inventor or a success and the romance completed, also successfully.

This simple and homely little story was admirably treated by the very adequate cast. The direction of the play was superb, the plot unfolding in a smooth manner, with none of the "breaks usually encountered in amateur productions. Much credit must be given to the property committee which so tastefully transformed the stage into the setting room of a middle class family.

The comedy honors of the evening were in the capable hands of Alma Hosking who so ably played the part of the spinster aunt. Mrs. Hosking's characterizations of this part were perfect. Her handling of this difficult comic assignment tops by far any individual effort so far brought out by the local players in any of their productions. Her make-up, not under or overdone, smacked of Broadway technique along these lines.

Another outstanding feminine player was little Mary Elizabeth Compton, a young miss about twelve years of age who gives great promise of future dramatic ability. There are many professional child actors and actresses of the theatre to whom this miss need not offer any apologies.

The feminine lead was entrusted to the gifted and talented, Doris Wakefield, who played the part of the princess. She had the difficult task of playing two distinct characters, namely, the princess, as she actually was, and the princess, assuming a regal air in order not to disappoint her home town friends. In doing this she rose to great dramatic heights. One scene in particular was

It is so sensitive to children's teeth that it is not intended to be used in any way. Fine for the dentist. Combination is widely commended. THE PATRIOTIC BLACKSMITH

Paul Revere, in addition to his fame as a rider and patriot, was a smith of parts; he fashioned many of the bolts which went into the sides of "Old Ironsides," the famous frigate now being restored.
History does not note how much he received for his materials, but if he lived today Paul undoubtedly would gasp with surprise at the amounts of those selfsame bolts are commanding. One of them sold for $1,200, others for smaller amounts down to $25.

Forty of the Revere bolts have been sold for a total of approximately $600; the money was used in the reconstruction work, adding to the pennies distributed by school children in every part of the country.

The work of re-making the famous old warship is now nearing completion. The ship will leave the ways in December and will proudly breast the waves, "as staunch a ship as when it was launched originally in Edward Hartt's shipyard, October 21, 1797," next summer.

Paul Revere, in addition to rousing the countryside, contributed meritally to its defence.

OUR CHANGING TIMES

Not all the oddities about life in the past, as contrasted with the present, are found in very old books. A man who was planning an automobile in Europe recently consulted all the books on the subject that he could find. One, which did not look very old, remarked that the writer had spent seven or eight days on a journey from Bath to Brighton in a much travelled section of England, and in all that time he did not meet a single automobile. This was true not only of the country roads, but even of the big towns.

The reader was so surprised that he turned back to see when the book was published. The date was 1908, only 21 years ago. That was a rather startling proof of the fact that times have changed a lot in a few years.

NO SUNDAY "LEGITS"

The Actors' Equity Association has set its foot down hard on the proposals of the managers and producers of the legitimate drama to give Sunday performances, even if the latter could get the city ordinance in regard to theater changed. Fifteen hundred members in New York voted on the issue, and the result was overwhelming defeat for the plan. The offer of producers to increase the actors' salaries by one-eighth if they would perform on Sundays had no effect. The actors did say, however, that if the managers would drive the "ficket speculators out of the business they would perform" the idea. That is not likely to happen.

It is quite evident that actors, as well as other people, feel the need of a day of rest or recreation. We may call it a religious feeling for Sunday, or not, just as we please; but the effect is the same. And Equity is so powerful that nowhere in the country can Sunday performances now obtain. We believe that the association has acted the part of wisdom and in the public interest.

AN INTERESTING IDEA

The person injured by a "hit and run" automobile driver has no legal recourse if he is unable to establish the identity of the driver or car owner.
A new automobile insurance law in Sweden gets around this difficulty by providing that in such cases the injured party may recover and the damages will be assessed pro rata against all the insurance companies engaged in mobility insurance. This seems rather a good idea.

EXPLAINING THE SESSION

The time has come to write an obituary on the Senate session which has just closed. Perhaps the shortest and not the least truthful will be a few words of Senator Allen of Kansas. "We have spent two or three months," he said, "listening to oratory until we know the oratorical attainments of the senator."

It will strike a good many people as a sentence to sum up the senate session.

Jokes

"Doctor, I know you have done everything you possibly could for my wife, but have you no suggestions to offer which might benefit her?"

"Yes," said the doctor. "I have one other suggestion which I believe will benefit her, and that is that you send her to a warmer climate."

The husband left the room for a few minutes, and upon returning with an axe said:

"Doc, you hit her, I haven't the heart to do it."

He had his Chinese cook for years and after a particularly good dinner, decided to raise his pay. The following day the Oriental came around and asked how come too much money?

"Oh," said his employer, jovially,
"that's because you're such a good cook."

"So," said the Chinese with a frown, "You been cheat me long time, hah?"

Dad: "The man who weds my daughter will get a prize."
Lover: "May I see it please?"

The Doctor says I've got to have my appendix, tonsils, and adenoids taken out and a piece of bone removed from my nose.

Gosh, you won't have much left,
will you?

Not a cent.

Mabel—I see that they have a

Citizen Cites

A fish story is generally weighed and found wanting.

Prosperity consists of buying things we don't need and owing for them.

Ideas are valuable when you put them to work.

A man with a hectic past may be forgiven, but a woman's is neither forgotten nor forgiven.

Making a mountain out of a mole hill is a stunt that appeals to the real estate speculator.

A handclasp is a warmer farewell than a 2,500 word speech.

Some people are never satisfied.
Even when they build castles in the air they are constantly adding wings to them.

A good side show to these endurance contests would be an endurance contest in yawning for those who read about them.

The man who is doing his level best isn't going down hill.

It takes two to make a bargain but it takes only one to get stuck.

There isn't anything much more buoyant than a rumor. It is always so much easier to float one than to sink one.

There are two kinds of people:
Those who think the world is going to the dogs, and those who are too busy to worry.

Occasionally a man makes his mark in the world because his wife makes him toe it.

While lots of bushy haired men are successful, its usually the bald-headed man that comes out on top.

The slow driver may be a menace on the road, but you don't find him cracking off any telephone poles or crashing into plate glass windows.

Doings in the Field of Sports

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemke

School spirit! That's the thing that wins football games. The explanation of his heart is not in the "win" but in the "play." It is common, but what a world of meaning it contains. Football is won or lost by the spirit of the men in the game and a man's entire faculties are pointed toward winning the game for his school and not for personal aggrandizement which will come pretty near gaining his objective every time.

This splash of words was not meant to fill up space because there is some point to them. An instance of where school spirit has triumphed over personal accumulations is exhibited in the case of Bill Bennett, third string center of the Belleville High football squad.

"Bill is a husky lad with a practical adeptness for hurling passes from center position on the football line. But because the high school squad already has two centers, stalwart in build and with the same adeptness at passing the ball from the crouch, Bill has been relegated to the third string.

However, this fact has not stopped who got in parts of three games this season, from coming out to practice clad in the golden uniform.

Very seldom gets into a scrimmage between the first and second string because of the afore-mentioned that the squad already has two capable centers. But this is no deterrent to Bill, who acts as a center to any one who will receive the ball, plays civilians and others.

Bill turned center on the eve of the Boonton game after starting out as a backfield man in the first few practices. The occasion of his change of position was an injury to the leg of "Butter" Brand, the Blue and Gold's ace center just prior to the Boonton rout. It was a time before "Moon" Mullins came into the line-up as a center and Belleville was sorely in need of a pivot man that Bennett volunteered his services, foregoing the added glory of a half-back position for the comparatively ignominious place as "snapper-back." With but a few days' practice at the center post, he more than held his own in the Boonton scrap, aided materially in Belleville's most convincing triumph of the season.

To his personal accumulations would get far more credit and ahead if he had deserted the football squad on November 15, basketball, which we believe is a sport. But this Bill did not do and the glory is all his.

Through the efforts of the Recreation Commission the ground around the Recreation House at Garden avenue and Joramelon street now boasts of two fine tennis courts and a well laid out field for playground use.

Miss Bernice Begeman, whose resignation takes effect Sunday, gave this work her undivided attention and she presents this as a closing compliment to a term of service, measured by her utmost efforts.

The tennis courts will without doubt be utilized to their full capacity next summer and a possibility of a more interesting tournament may be the outgrowth due to the development of players by having such courts.

...hear from the Board of Education that the gym at Belleville School is to be equipped with new basketballs for basketball and from $3,000 to $4,000 is to be on the swimming pool soon. Basketball, of course, will prove a send to the large squad of Belleville High basketballers, out for first and second teams. Coach K. McBride has been trying for three years to secure these based at last gained the consent of the Board of Education through Superintendent Principal, George R. Gerhart's installation.

The swimming pool will be equipped with the modern heating device and have a circulating system, to allow water to be changed in the tank.

...present, as James J. Turney, business manager of the Board of Education, says, "It is like taking a bath and then taking another bath in the same tub of water every day."

with Kearny for Belleville High Jayvees.

Besides placing the ball in scoring position early in the fourth quarter, he also snatched a forward pass out of the air and raced fifty yards for the winning touchdown.

We would not be surprised if we saw Bill in the varsity lineup next year.

...In commenting on Belleville's splendid performance in the Orange game Friday, the conversation will naturally simmer down to individual performances.

So here goes for a Belleville "honorary roll," based on the playing of the Blue and Gold Friday.

Heading the list of noteworthy feats must be named Schwieker's splendid forward passing. His one long heave of forty-five yards was augmented by several others of an average of a twenty yard net gain.

Of the great number of passes he made, but two were incomplete and when it is considered that most of Belleville's large gains were made by this method, it is truly a remarkable average.

The other features of the contest were Byrnes' fine interfering, a phase of backfield duty of which he has been particularly adept all season; the work of Bonavita and Jackson, Belleville's nice pair of ends, in snatching forward passes out of the air; Short's running of the ends and line plunging; finally the work of the entire Blue and Gold line, with Galluba, Udansky, D'Elia, Brand and Bade each doing his specialty in defending the Belleville Backfield.

Miss Betty Carland of Highfield lane entertained at tea Saturday afternoon. Guests were the Misses Betty Hill, Barbara Eville and Helen Hurd and Walton Blodgett of Stamford Conn.; Kimball deHart of Maplewood, Edgar A. Dunham Jr., Stevenson Gillingham and Alfred Eville. Mr. Blodgett was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Carland. Miss Hurd entertained the same party that evening at dinner at her home in North road. Miss Laura Hurd arrived home from Miss Wheeler's School, Providence, R. I., to spend Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Searle of New York were Thanksgiving guests of Mrs. J. P. Robert Laiff of South River and children Raymond and Lois, also were guests.

Orange Tornado Unable To Penetrate Blue And Gold Team

Schwieker And Short Again Cover Themselves With Glory

Exhibiting a whirlwind passing attack led by the mighty Schwieker, the Belleville High football squad rang up its seventh consecutive victory of the season with a 13-0 triumph over the Golden Tornadoes of Orange Friday, at the Knights' of Columbus Stadium in Orange.

This fine aerial exhibition was featured by a hefty pass of forty-five yards from the whip-like arm of Schwieker to Jackson in the opening minutes of the second quarter. It was a tremendous heave and worth the price of admission alone.

Receiving the opening kick-off on their own twenty-yard line the Blue and Gold made one of their noted marches down the field for a touchdown in the first minutes of play. While Schwieker and Short did the bulk of the ball-carrying during this drive, "Turk" Byrnes came in for his share of the glory with a splendid interference exhibition, paving the way for most of Schwieker's and Short's long dashes.

After Schwieker had run the initial kick-off fourteen yards to his own thirty-four yard line, Paul Short touched off the fireworks that were to follow with a fine sprint of twenty-five yards, around left end, the first of many such dashes made by the high-scoring Paul. On the next play Schwieker added another first down with a ten-yard run around end, placing the oval on Orange's twenty-nine yard stripe.

Their irresistible drive stopped by a fifteen yard penalty for holding, inflicted a moment later, the Bell-boys took to the air and how!

On the first try Schwieker and Short, as smooth a forward passing combination as there is in the state, made up all the yardage lost by the penalty and gained more besides, the total gain being twenty yards. Expecting another aerial due to the success of the first the Orange squad was "crossed up" by the locals, Schwieker adding ten valuable yards with a dashing end run.

Trying several more line bucks with little success, Belleville again deemed the forward passing game more feasible and Schwieker again stepped back to make one of his throws. After traveling twenty-five yards the spiraling pigskin nestled in the waiting arms of the other Paul, captain Short, who jogged over the line for his eleventh touchdown of the waning season and Belleville's first of the game. The try for the extra point was unusual in that it produced a ruling that was entirely unknown by most of the 1,500 present, who thought the point good on Orange's offense. It developed later, however, that Belleville forfeited the point because of a deliberate attempt to draw an offside.

A few minutes after the following kick-off the quarter ended and the second period ended with Belleville in possession of the ball on her own thirty-two yard line.

With the second quarter but a few seconds old the Blue and Gold squad produced the finest play of the game, a forty-five yard spiral, Schwieker to Jackson. Fritz Plenge received the pass from center, flipped a short lateral to the burly Schwieker, he drew back and threw with deadly accuracy to Bob Jackson, who was downed on Orange's twenty yard line.

In the shadow of their goal posts Orange made a stubborn stand and received the ball on downs. However, they too could do nothing with the ball and were forced to kick.

For the remainder of the half, though the play was almost entirely in Orange territory, neither side could make any sustained drive and the resulting exchanges of punts were for the most part even. A minutes before the whistle blew Paulie Short plunged through center for ten yards to Orange's thirty-five yard line.

Lou Galluba and "Butter" Brand both displayed some hard tackling defensive work of great value during this half.

A second sustained march in the opening minutes of the third quarter was responsible for Belleville's second and last score.

Schwieker zot the Blue and Gold off on the right foot in this quarter, passing twenty yards to Bonavita on the first play. On a well chosen series of line plunges Short and Schwieker had little trouble ripping up the visitors' forward wall, chalking up one substantial gain after another.

Intertowns Chalk Up Victory No. 4

The undefeated Intertown football squad defeated the Red Wing A. C. of Nutley, 26-6, Sunday. This victory puts the leaders in a safe position for the first place. The Ints defeated the Wings in a close game at the beginning of the season, 12-6.

After a few minutes of play the Ints received the ball and marched down the field for the first score. The second quarter found the Intertown team doing the same and J. Tuozolo scored again. The Wings pulled together and after a hard battle received a touchdown. In the second half the Ints' line again proved to be a tower of strength by sending the Wings back for losses. On the offense the intertown backs had it easy, as they found large holes off tackle and gained consistently.

The ball was taken through left tackle by R. Jannarone for the count of 18. J. Tuozolo took the ball around end on a fake kick and added the extra point. The Wings, finding it difficult to gain by rushes turned to the air and made their only two firstdowns. Three passes were intercepted by the Intertown backs. Cappy put the ball in scoring position by a long end run and a forward from Cappy to P. Tuozolo raised the count to 25. A drop-kick by Cappy for the extra point was good. The Wings kicked and the Ints' were on their way for another touchdown as the game ended.

Schwieker went over from the one yard line, following this steady dash down the field. "Tony" D'Elia, the Bell-boys' most successful drop-kicker to date, added the extra point with a perfect specimen of the art of drop-kicking.

The third quarter ended immediately after the next kick-off, with Orange in possession of the ball on her own thirty-yard line.

Making a last desperate attempt to score Orange unleashed a forward passing attack late in the final period and advanced the ball to Belleville's twenty-yard line, but were not equal to their self-imposed task. "Fat" Udansky, Belleville's slashing lineman made a fierce tackle of an Orange ball-carrier far back of the line, causing him to fumble, Belleville recovering.

Receiving the ball once more the Schwieker to Bonavita forward pass combination was good for a twenty yard gain, advancing the pigskin once more into Orange territory. At the crucial moment, however, the Blue and Gold also fumbled and Orange, recovering, again three forwards with wild abandon, fighting for time. They managed to get as far as the twenty five yard line of the Bell-boys, but the husky Paul Schwieker killed all hopes they may have entertained by intercepting an Orange pass just before the final whistle blew.

Belleville's fast charging and heavy line displayed their usual courageous stone wall defense, while giving the Orange ball-carriers little if any opportunity to get off to any good-sized runs.

New Hupp Eight Increases Oil Life

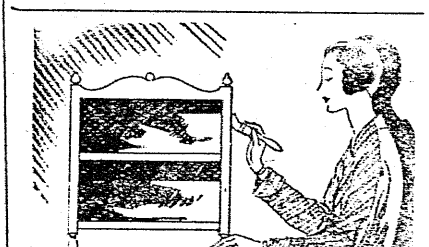

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24—Practically every housewife has had the experience of heating sewing machine oil or a similar lubricant so that it is fit for use. Although her experience has probably not included the heating of the sewing machine oil to such a high point that it loses its lubricating qualities, automotive engineers say that this regularly happens in the modern high powered automobile.

The results of a series of investigations show that there are two periods at which automobile engine oil is unfit for proper motor lubrication. First is when the oil is so cold that it congeals. This has long been recognized among automobile engineers.

Second is that temperature at which oil becomes so thin that it no longer provides a smooth lubricating film for bearing surfaces. These exhaustive tests have accurately determined the point at which this latter condition occurs.

Engines of great horse power—and modern automotive design is leaning in the direction of greater power—generate much greater heat than did their predecessors. This is particularly true of the high speed, large bore engines.

Obviously, increased engine speed, greater cylinder area, hotter firing and other modern engine developments, combined with increased friction, mean more internal engine heat. In all engine parts this heat is reduced in proportion to the quality of lubrication provided. Engineers claim that it is not only necessary to buy good oil, but also to maintain the quality of the oil in operation. If the oil thins beyond a certain point because of engine heat its lubricating capacity is greatly reduced. As the temperature mounts, the loss in lubricating efficiency becomes greater and greater.

What really happens, engineers say, is that the lubricating oil film may be finally lost because of the thinning out of the oil from heat. In addition, carbonization may occur at high temperature. The "danger zone" in oil deterioration begins at approximately 210 degrees Fahrenheit.

Knowing this point, the problem of automotive engineers has been to maintain the temperature of the engine oil below 210 degrees.

In the Model "C" Hupmobile Eight this has been accomplished by a unique development known as an oil baffleplate.

These two plates are an integral part of the crankcase. The upper end of each catches the drain of hot oil as it comes from the cylinders and pistons. Instead of the hot oil being dropped directly into the steaming oil in the engine pump, it is deflected to the outer and cooler edges of the crankcase. In this manner the temperature of oil in the crankcase is maintained at a temperature averaging from 20 to 30 degrees cooler than would be possible without some means of oil cooling.

Company engineers report that this method not only adds to the life and efficiency of the lubricant, but also adds to the life and efficiency of the engine.

Impressive and that was in the dialogue between Miss Wakefield and Miss Compton, dealing with the child's idea of what a Princess should be like. The natural manner in which this was done, visibly impressed the large audience.

Horace Baldwin, the boyhood sweetheart of the Princess distinguished himself in this role. His diction and treatment of the role shows an apparent improvement in this young man's histrionic abilities.

As usual, Dorothy Wadsworth did much for the success of the evening. This young lady is without doubt about as near an amateur player can be to a professional. Her handling of matured parts is always a delightful bit of acting. Her heavy role, she being on the stage at least two-thirds of the time was impressive in that her lines flowed freely and easily at all times.

H. Vail Ryan, better caste than ever, portrayed the father in this family. Little need be said of this actor. He has been prominent in all of the works of the club, and his handling of varied types has shown remarkable versatility.

The part of a local "Babbitt" was committed to Charles Gebhardt and he turned in his usual good performance. We would like to see this actor assigned heavier parts, for he has also exhibited a high degree of versatility in the performances already given.

Allan Crisp, one of the local stars, was not given the usual prominence in the cast, but he ably did the role of an Italian advocate. It is regrettable that this young man, whose enunciation is so clear was on the stage but for a short time in the prologue.

Another talented person who was only active in the prologue was the pretty and charming Edna Fraley, who essayed the part of the Dowager Princess with sporty proclivities. This was cleverly done by her.

Gladys Lindbloom, cleverly acted the part of "Ruby Boyd" the sweetheart of the local "Babbitt" and several times scored in her cryptic delineation of a small town belle.

The contribution of Jane Carlough, and Dorothy Patton as neighbors of the Boy's all fluttered up over the importance of entertaining a princess caused many ripples of laughter. Non speaking parts were well done by Ella Walker, Miriam Akersten and Ruth Compton.

We note that the program states the membership of the club is twenty-seven active members. We are looking forward to a production which will carry the full membership for we have yet to see a player of these organizations, not a finished and polished player.

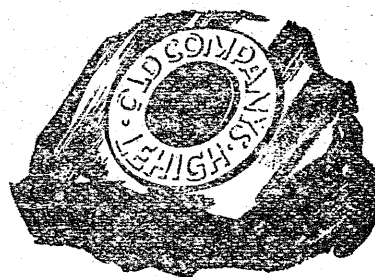

The officers for the current year are: Charles Gebhardt, president; Dorothy Wadsworth, vice president;

Dorothy Patton, secretary; Ella Walker, assistant secretary; H. Vail Ryan, treasurer.

Last but not least, the music program was efficiently handled by the well known Belleville Orchestra, directed by George Snodgrass—The Mosaic Orchestra. The piano soloist was well worth the price of admission.

Auto Recovered

Belleville police recovered the auto of James Schuler of 20 Howard place early Friday, four hours after Schuler had reported it stolen from in front of his home. The auto was found, undamaged, at Mill street and Washington avenue by Sergeant Pearl and Patrolman Scott.

SUPPOSE you are paying 50c a tube for your tooth paste (are many very good prices selling today) (price).

Suppose, like most people, you buy about 12 tubes during a year. If you knew that you could buy as good a dentifrice as can be made and still each year the price of a box of fine cigars—could you conscientiously fail to take advantage of such an opportunity?

That is exactly what you do when you buy Listerine Tooth Paste at 25c for a large tube. Figure it out for yourself.
