ington Avenues

Special Exhibition
In Bowling Match"Willie" Klemz To Face
World's Champ At North Newark

Wednesday, March 5, a special exhibition bowling match between Belleville's champion pin-knight, "Willie" Klemz, and Joe Falcario, world's champion match play bowler, will be rolled at Ferrara's alleys in North Newark.

The match was arranged only after much dickering and trouble and it is sure to be the choicest bit of bowling on this season's sports program.

Joe Falcario is acknowledged the world's champion and for the past year has been busy defending his laurels. In Willie Klemz the town could not have a better bowler to represent them. Klemz, besides being the leading pin-knight in this section as far as averages are concerned, is especially suitable for the job because of his coolness under fire.

Any way you look at it the match promises to be a sure-fire hit and all are invited to attend.

Dr. H. B. Vail Is
Acting PhysicianWill, No Doubt, Take Place
Of Dr. Bootay,
Who Died

Dr. Herbert B. Vail of 301 Washington avenue, was appointed acting town physician by the Town Commission Tuesday night to fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. Frederick S. Bootay last Thursday.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy said he would recommend Dr. Vail's appointment to be made permanent the first meeting in March when an ordinance will be passed raising the salary from $500 to $1,000.

Dr. Vail has been attending surgeon on the staff of St. Barnabas's Hospital, Newark, thirty-two years. He was born sixty years ago in New York City. Until a decade ago he served a dozen years as president of the former Board of Health, as health officer and town physician, all at the same time.

The board passed a resolution of Condolence on Dr. Bootay's death, describing his service to the town as "invaluable and faithful." A copy was ordered sent to the bereaved family.

Heyman A. Schwieker was reappointed to a three-year term on the zone board of adjustment, his term effective February 15.

Commissioner J. K. Carragher was assured action would be forthcoming on three matters he wished "cleaned up" before the May election, alleged damages to a Silver Lake sanitary sewer by acid from the Thomas A. Edison plant, responsibility regarding the level of tracks at Erie Railroad grade crossings, and assessments for sanitary sewers throughout the town.

On the first two matters Corporation Counsel John B. Brown reported investigations were reaching completion. Commissioner James Gibson said the material on which to base the sewer assessments was nearly in shape for consideration by the board.

Approves Appropriation
The board, with the exception of Mr. Carragher, approved an appropriation of $4,000 to the Second River Joint Outlet Meeting, additional to the original $29,000, to care for extra expense due to rock and quicksand encountered in laying the trunk sewer. Mr. Carragher said an itemized bill should accompany the request. Mayor Kenworthy, as the town's representative in the project, said most of the money would undoubtedly be returned after contractor's claims were made.

Lawrence A. Smith
Lawrence A. Smith of 7 DeWitt avenue, a life-long resident of town, died at his home Sunday night after six months' illness. He was thirty-nine and had been a painter many years.

He leaves his mother, two brothers, James H. and Thomas F. Smith, and four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Nygard and the Misses Margaret, Mary and Elizabeth Smith.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning. A high mass of requiem was conducted at St. Peter's Church at 9 o'clock and burial was in the family plot in the church cemetery.

Gas Record Set

In the twenty-four hours 98,149,000 cubic feet were supplied to consumers. The largest previous day's output was on January 19 of this year when 93,233,000 cubic feet were consumed.

Rehearsal Held For Old Fashioned Minstrel
Entertainment Will Be Held
At St. Peter's Auditorium
March 3

Rehearsal for the Old Fashioned Minstrel, to be held at St. Peter's Auditorium, Monday evening, March 3, was held at the home of Leo Harrington on Hewitt avenue, Tuesday evening.

The committee reported that more than half of the tickets had been disposed of during the first two days of the sale and all indications point to a packed house when the curtain rises.

Mr. Schottron, who is directing the performance has a number of new and original sketches which will keep everyone laughing throughout the entire programme.

Zita Lonnergan, well known Belleville soloist and entertainer, will appear in an original sketch which will be a real treat for all.

Frank Broo and Larry Cice, the long and short of it, both new on the Belleville stage, with Joe Howley, "Beck" Gilchrist, Charley Gillson and "Nick" Innamoratta, will comprise the end men and promise the audience everything but a dull moment.

In the cast there will be ten soloists, including such favorites as Frances Connolly, Dick Flannagan and several new ones including Marie Broo, Emily McCann and Leo Harrington.

Music for the Minstrel and dance will be furnished by Joe Robinson and his Belleville Syncopators.

Troop 50 To Present
A Three-Act Play
Fewsmith Group Will Stage
Affair At Church Next
Friday

"The Boy Scouts," a three-act play will be presented next Friday evening, February 23, by members of Troop No. 50, which meets in the Fewsmith Presbyterian Church. The play will be given in the church auditorium.

"Nip and Tuck" will be played by Lawton Cox and Charles Perry. Other characters will be portrayed by Raymond Smith, Curtis Melick, Thomas Patterson, John Albera, Robert Cocks, Francis Snyder, Donald Frazer, Carlyle Close, Mortimer Snyder, Earl Moyle, Alfred Cocks and George Anderson. The scene of the play is at a Patrol Meeting, a rehearsal in the gym and at the swearing in of the new tenderfoot.

The play is exceptionally well written and has plenty of humor—especially to those who have been scouts or whose sons are interested in scouting. Proceeds from the play will be applied to the camp fund.

Tickets are in charge of William McKnight and stage directions, assistant scoutmaster Hack, of Troop No. 50.

Foul Shot Tournery Enters Final Half
The Belleville Basketball Foul Shot Tournery will enter the final half of its play, Tuesday night, at the high school gym.

This foul-shot tournament, which is limited to high school and working groups, had over fifty participants last Tuesday on its opening night, and "Tony" Pascale, who is supervising it expects even more to attend the second round of play.

In addition to the senior tournament there is also a junior section which is to get under way next Thursday night at Fewsmith Memorial Church.

All basketball inclined sports followers are urged to try their hand in these various tournaments, if only for the sport gleaned from it. That is not the only incentive, though, as gold and silver basketballs are to be awarded to the winners.

Henry Says:
Competition whose motive is merely to compete, to drive some other fellow out, never carries very far. The competitor to be feared is one who never bothers about you at all, but goes on making his own business better all the time. Businesses that grow by development and improvement do not die. But when a business ceases to be creative when it believes it has reached perfection and needs to do nothing but produce—no improvement, no development—it is done.—Henry Ford.

Legislative Measure Discussed By Board

Schools Will Keep Tabs On Senate 76 On
March 6

The Board of Education discussed Senate 76 Monday night and adopted a resolution providing the members attend a hearing in Trenton March 6.

According to J. J. Turner, business manager of the board, if the bill is passed the measure will radically change the school law in many particulars. The board objects to several provisions of the proposed measure.

The death of Dr. F. S. Bootay, school physician, leaves a vacancy in medical department, but his successor will probably not be named before next September. Dr. H. B. Vail, school physician jointly with Dr. Bootay, will do all the medical work for the balance of this year.

An application for school physician was received by the board from Dr. Edmund Rizzolo of 523 Union avenue, Belleville. No action was taken.

It was announced that G. R. Gerard, superintendent of schools, will speak over the radio Tuesday in Atlantic City. His topic will be "Expenditure of the School Dollar."

This will take place at the National Teachers' Association convention which starts Saturday for a week.

Figurelli Announces
His Campaign Planks
Former Recorder Samuel Figurelli has just announced his candidacy for election to the town commission. His letter to the News follows:

Samuel Figurelli
Editor of The News:
I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of commissioner in the May election to be held in Belleville. I was born in Newark, N. J., in 1899, and my parents moved from that city to the Town of Belleville when I was just old enough to enter the Belleville schools. I started with the first grade and went right on through the High School, completing the four years' course in three.

During all this time I lived in the Soho Section of the town, until a little over three years ago, when I moved to the Belwood-Park section of Belleville, where I have since resided.

I am married and have been a member of the Bar of the State of New Jersey, with an office in the City of Newark, for almost seven years, being admitted to said bar as both an Attorney and a Counsellor at Law and as such Counsellor at Law qualified to appear and defend before all tribunals of this state, including the Court of Errors and Appeals, which is composed of 16 judges.

I am president of the Belleville High School Alumni Association.

In 1924 I was appointed Recorder of the Town of Belleville, being the youngest Recorder ever to hold that office. I held office until December 1926, when my term expired. I refer to my record as a Recorder as to the type and kind of administration I would give as a town commissioner.

Both as a recorder and a lawyer I have been brought into contact with a vast variety of the most intricate and difficult problems dealing with human-kind. It has always been my policy when confronted with any question to patiently listen to all concerned and not to arrive at any conclusion for the simple sake of expediency. I would follow this policy as a town commissioner, making no decisions simply for political consideration nor would I have any favorites but the people with whom I would always deal directly.

As a town commissioner I would be absolutely opposed to the creation of public office simply for personal or political reasons and to indiscriminate increases in salaries just to foster political organizations or to pay anyone a greater salary for his part time work than he could possibly earn for the same time in his private life. I believe that a person should serve his or her community as a matter of civic duty and not for the money he or she may receive for such service. However, I would not be opposed to reasonable and fit salaries for necessary employees who give their full time to their work, as distinguished from public officials.

The Board of Education, for instance, which does a great amount of very important work gladly serves without pay. Money belonging to taxpayers should always be spent

Clark Would Ban
Garbage Disposal
In Town Entirely

Complaint of Max Schwartz, speaking for the Valley Improvement Association, about the town dumps in the old Newark reservoir between Main street and the Passaic River, resulted Tuesday in the commission favoring either carting of garbage outside of the town or building an incinerator. Commissioner William D. Clark was instructed to study the situation and report.

Mr. Clark said that Belleville has been spreading dirt over the garbage and plans to install a hydrant on the premises to turn water on the garbage to eliminate fires and odors. He told how cheaply the garbage disposal is being carried out and how collections have been almost perfect. He believes the present dumps should be made as satisfactory as possible with the view to eliminating it entirely in the very near future. He says he would not saddle the dumps on any part of town.

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters also would have the disposal place outside of Belleville.

The letter to the board by Secretary John J. Hewitt, follows:

"On behalf of the Valley Improvement Association of Belleville, we take this opportunity to communicate with you concerning a condition now existing in the Valley, notice of which was called to your attention several months ago. We refer to the garbage 'dumps' at Main street between Greylock avenue and Mansion place."

"The Commissioner directly in charge of this condition was notified thereof and he promised to take steps to remedy the condition. We realize that to a certain degree this condition must be tolerated as a necessary evil, but we are sure you will agree with us that a great deal can be done to better conditions now existing there."

Promises were made at one time as to the possible construction of an incinerator. At the moment we do not demand this because we realize the reflection this would have upon the taxes of the municipality, but we do feel that definite steps must be taken to abate this nuisance. Though the 'dumps', in themselves, are of course unsightly and do create unpleasantness, we feel that the fire and the continuous smoke, that emanates from the rubbish, can be stopped.

"The suggestion is made that as the disposal is piled there, that intermittent layers of dirt be spread to improve the condition."

"It seems to be the impression of your board that the Valley Improvement Association desires the impossible. Such is not the case. We do not want the Town to immediately and automatically eliminate the dump section. This, of course, cannot be done. We do not expect a radical change to be effected over night, but your passive and indifferent conduct to a condition that is vital to the health of every resident within blocks of the 'dumps' has compelled the Association to adopt unanimously a resolution compelling urgent action by your Board."

"Overtures along these lines were made between Commissioner Clark and members of the Association. The customary promises were made, none of them were kept. The time has come when the Association politely insists upon some definite constructive action."

"We trust that this request will not go ignored."

"We assure you that it is the intention of the Valley Improvement Association and each member in it, to whole-heartedly co-operate with you in the administration of public affairs of the Town of Belleville, and to co-operate with you in the important tasks that confront you, but we are sure that we are entitled to your co-operation in this matter, and trust that you will not compel us to again remind you of this condition."

Notes

Sunday, 11 A. M.—The minister of Grace Church will speak from the subject, "Ever Faithful." Seems ancient, does it not? Well, there was a time when the word faithful meant something; but like its companion word "loyalty" seems to have lost its meaning. America needs a new consecration in faithfulness and loyalty. Belleville will be no more and no less than the average citizen desires it to be.

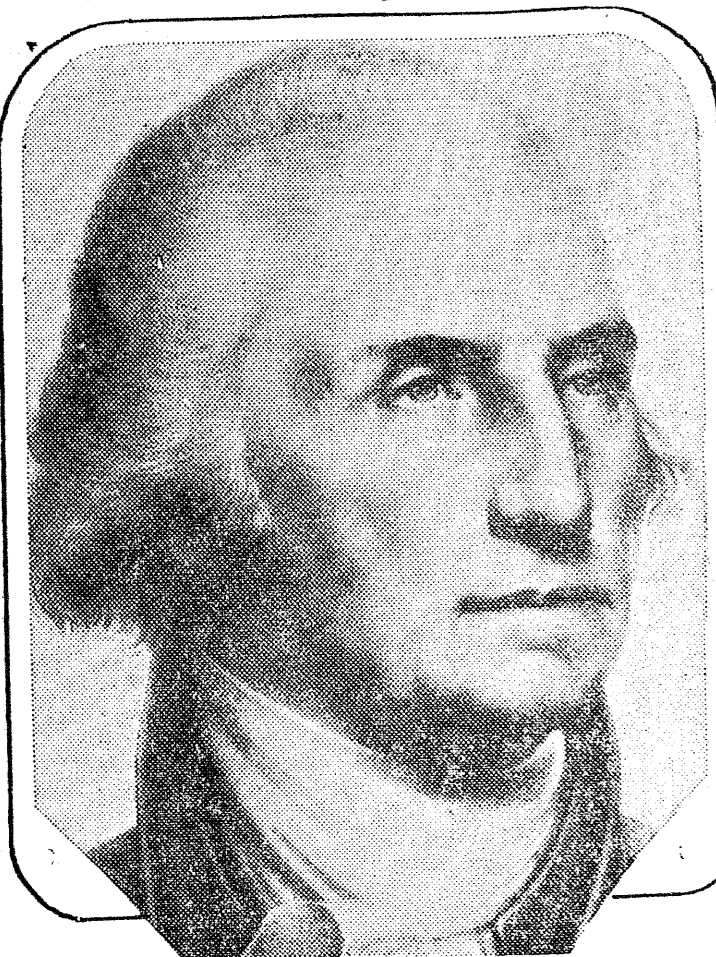

Sunday, 7:45 P. M.—There will be the usual song service after which the minister will administer the beautiful and impressive ordinance of Baptism. There are some people that have never witnessed this ancient and beautiful ceremony, which was so common in the time of our Saviour. If you have never witnessed this impressive ceremony, you may have the opportunity next Sunday evening. No seats reserved.

Time changes. It used to be a great argument to hold out to the youth of our country that if they studied hard and tried to make a man of themselves that they might become the president of the Republic; but in this material age it is a question how much weight such an argument has today; when we are told that Babe Ruth will not play the game this season, unless he is paid the small salary of $85,000 for the season. The president of the United States receives $75,000 per year. Great is base ball; long may it live.

Monday evening the World Wide Guild met at the home of Mrs. Charles Thompson, on Overlook avenue. Plans were made for the advancement of the work that they are

Washington Had a "Sweet Tooth"

New Documentary Evidence Shows

PEALE'S WASHINGTON

CHICAGO—George Washington had his "sweet" side as well as his stern and soldierly characteristics, it is disclosed by Ferdinand A. Bunte of Bunte Brothers, famous candy manufacturers of Chicago, in an address here.

"When the 'father of our country' was in the midst of an Indian campaign in 1757, recently unearthed documents dealing with his affairs show he found time to send to England, six weeks away overseas, for a supply of candy," declared Mr. Bunte.

"Washington was extremely fond of confectionery and partial to his 'sweet tooth,' as have been many military men down the ages. Although the ancients did not appreciate the value of candy as a food as we do today, history tells us that Alexander, in his conquest of India, was so enamored of the crude product of the sugar cane that he brought back a great quantity of the cane with him to Persia, whence it found its way into Europe. High officers of the Roman legions, ancient biographers state, were accustomed to doing in helping to put Grace Church on the map. These young women are always planning to do something that will make the work of the church worth while. The care worn look that Mrs. Thompson has had this past week was fully explained when in her delightful manner as hostess, she served the bountiful repast that she has been planning for this past week, to the delighted delegation.

Newark and her neighbors may well feel a little pride in the elevation of Charles Evans Hughes, to the high office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. As a boy he walked the streets of Newark and no doubt spent many an afternoon fishing in the then beautiful Passaic River. His father was then pastor of the Old Fifth Baptist Church, in Newark and the public schools of Newark may well claim a part in the development of the four important requisites for this high office, which Justice Hughes possesses, namely, learning, ability, experience and character.

Tuesday evening marked the close of the first school of Religious Instruction, attempted by the membership of Grace Church. It has been a glorious success and those who were fortunate to attend feel that they have received valuable instruction. The women from the very beginning were captured by the pleasing personality of Mrs. Powers, their instructor. At the close of the session Tuesday, all of the different classes were invited to partake of a light repast during which the women presented a valuable present to Mrs. Powers, as a slight token of their regard for the efforts put forth by Mrs. Powers these past six weeks to make the course interesting. Mrs. Powers was taken completely by surprise as she had not expected that the women would take such action. After she had recovered herself in a few, well chosen words, she told of the pleasure that she had in teaching the women of Grace Church, for she has had but a few classes that have showed such interest in the course from the beginning to the end, as have the women of Grace Church. She expressed that the friendships that she has formed among the women of Grace Church will always be to her pleasant memories.

Thursday evening of each week is being devoted to practice for the great minstrel show that is coming soon to Grace Church. Mr. Ransom is putting his best into the work and promises that the coming show will be the biggest and best that has thus far been offered to the people of Belleville.

Mrs. Edyth K. Thompson has been appointed secretary of the East Orange Baptist Conference. This conference meets at the International Seminary in East Orange each year, for a three-day session. Speakers of national and international reputation are secured for this annual meeting and delegates come from all the Baptist churches in New Jersey. Grace Church is highly honored in the election of one of her young women for this important office.

"The Mummy and the Mumps." Heard about it? Sure! Everybody talked about it. After it was over many were sorry that they did not attend, when they heard how good it was. Those who saw it are just waiting for the 28th, when they will go to the Reformed Church on Main street and spend another evening in fun and merriment. The good people of the Reformed Church and their energetic pastor, who always want and are planning for the best of Belleville, have invited the Grace Dramatic Club, to again present to the public the show of shows, "The Mummy and the Mumps." Make your plans to be present at the Reformed Church, Friday, February 28, and enjoy an evening of mirth.

Mr. Milton Clayton and Mr. Walter Peterson, of South Amboy, were in attendance at the evening service in Grace Church, Sunday. After the service they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. McCombe, at the parsonage. Mr. McCombe was pastor of the First Baptist Church in South Amboy for over 10 years, going from Belleville to South Amboy and returning to Belleville from South Amboy.

Saturday afternoon the Junior World Wide Guild of Grace Church, journeyed to the Italian Settlement, in Newark, and were hostesses to about 40 little Italian girls. The Guild, under their capable leader, Mrs. Elmer Hyde, planned quite a program. They called it a Valentine party. Games were played, after which the guild served refreshments and gave little gifts to the children of the community center. As the afternoon progressed and the little Italian girls warmed up to their American sisters, the girls of Grace Church felt well repaid for their efforts and they learned that there was another side to life which they had not known. Those in the party from Grace were Mrs. Elmer Hyde, Miss Ethel Bryant, Naomi Cooper, Laura Cooper, Zeda Chaffee, Anna Chaffee, Gwendolyn Bennett, Eleanor Winkelman, Ida Bruyeman, Doris Colehamer, Cleopatra Broadhead, Grace Eller, Irene Eller and Jane Babbitt. The guild as they left after a happy afternoon spent in the ministry of service for others, resolved it would not be the last effort on their part to make others happy.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Grace Church are planning something new and novel, for the people of Belleville. Thursday evening, February 27, they are to give a Colonial Dinner in the social hall of the church. Mrs. Ransom has been planning for this important event and that means satisfaction in every detail. "Better set your tickets now. The ladies are planning to begin serving promptly at 6 P. M.

A SOLUTION ON GARBAGE

A solution of Belleville's garbage disposal would be to contract—when the present cheap contract expires—with the owner of the abandoned quarries in Nutley. Even though this might prove more costly to Belleville it would eliminate protests from the Valley.

The Nutley quarries, no doubt, will be used for dumping for some years to come. If they are, why shouldn't Belleville "buy in" on the disposal proposition. The quarries are so located in Nutley that they do not interfere to a great extent with the highly residential section. They must be filled in and as long as they are being used for garbage disposal Belleville might well investigate.

BUSINESS PICKING UP

That business is really picking up all over the country is very evident if news despatches from various industrial centers mean anything.

Glancing across the financial pages of the newspapers are the following headlines. From Boston: "General trade in New England shows signs of improvement." Pittsburgh: "Steel industry continues to gain." Chicago: "Healthy signs appear in business of Middle West." St. Louis: "Steel and shoe plants busy in St. Louis area." Seattle: "Pacific Northwest rushes public works as winter passes." Buffalo: "Many Buffalo industries report improved business." Only at Detroit is it reported that business shows little material increase.

Admitting that industrial activity is not as great as it was a year ago the important thing is that there is no pessimism anywhere. Actual improvement from the low point of the depression is visible now and everyone is looking forward with confidence to the approach of normal conditions in a short time.

Even in Wall street where the hardest blow was felt prices have recovered substantially and the panic is gradually being forgotten.

EFFICIENCY PLUS

The efficiency engineer of a large Eastern concern has just received a verbal pat on the head from his board of directors for his ingenuity in saving the firm something like $800 a year. This genius ordered the paper towel containers in the company's washrooms placed about 15 inches higher in the wall. After washing their hands, the employees will be annoyed by water running down their sleeves when the reach for a towel, unless they first shake off the surplus moisture. Thus the consumption of paper towels has been greatly reduced. In the great pursuit of efficiency this idea is almost perfect. It won't be 100 per cent, however, until the efficiency man figures out a way to make all those drops of water run an electric fan or another turbine or something.

Jokes.

The late Haley Fiske of Insurance fame said one evening in a Y. M. C. A. Address in Brooklyn:

"It pays big business to be liberal. To save a dollar in a mean small way signifies the loss of hundreds of dollars in good will."

"Whenever a mean, small economy is proposed to me I tell the anecdote about the Scotchman who went into a barber shop and said:

"'Hoo much for a haircut?'"
"Forty cents, sir," said the barber.
"Hoo much for a shave?"
"Twenty cents."

"Shave mah head."

The pilot had taken great pains to explain all about his airplane to the pretty young visitor at the airport—its mechanical features, purpose of this and that, what pilots did to meet various flying conditions, etc. He looked at the girl and smiled. "Now you understand, don't you?"

"All but one thing," replied the girl.

"And what is that?" he asked.

"What makes the thing stay up?"

Mother (teaching son arithmetic)—
Now, take the Spinks family.
There is mother, daddy and the baby.
How many does that make?
Bright Son—Two and one to carry.

Asker—I didn't know MacGougal was lame. I see him going around on crutches.

Teller—He's not lame. When his father died he left Mac the crutches. Now Mac is using them in order to save his shoes.

Landlady—"I'm sorry you do not think the chicken soup good. I told the cook how to make it. Perhaps she did not catch the idea."

Boarder—"No—it was the chicken she failed to catch."

Chorus Girl (recently married to rich broker, applying at bank)—"I would like to open an account here."

Clerk—"Yes, madam, and how much do you wish to deposit?"

Chorus Girl—"Oh, I mean a charge account, as I have in the stores."

Citizen Cites

Life offers you a daily adventure worthy of your best efforts.

Hoping may not avail but it makes you happier than yielding to despair.

The chap who sits and "lets the rest of the world go by" is usually stalled in an automobile.

A lot of people admit that their gray hair is becoming, but they didn't choose that shade voluntarily.

Wisdom acquired by counsel is less painful than that acquired by experience.

The majority of run down pedestrians are convinced that most automobiles don't give a hoot.

All things are not what they seem—many a gift has turned out to be a loan.

The old-timer is one who can remember when a "no smoking" sign was put up because the women objected to it.

It may be best for you to possess what you have rather than what you want.

Husbands who get into hot water when they arrive home aren't always stepping into a nice steaming bath.

Edwin S. Friendly, business manager of the New York Sun, says: That an eminent New York college professor has recently risen from his learned chair to announce, after careful observation and study, that New Yorkers for the most part are not happy. He stresses his reserved negative by pointing out, somewhat ironically (that New Yorkers, with much elaborate apparatus for joy and pleasure, high and low, ought to be happy. Yet he insists New Yorkers enjoy less reasonable happiness than the citizens of any other large city in the world.

The gentleman follows up his contention with the thought that people who live in towns and smaller cities are much happier than confirmed residents of Manhattan. It is true that the psychological laboratories have never devised any contrivance to measure reactions of happiness or misery. This writer spent the first score of years of his career happily in a small city in the State of New York and has lived quite an equal number of years in New York City. In the course of his duties as a newspaper man, he has come in contact with various types of New Yorkers, including many of its successful and foremost citizens.

From the aggregate fund of his experience, gathered in a small city and in New York, he not only disagrees with the professor but believes that New Yorkers rank high among the happiest people in the world.

The fact that over 6,000,000 people live within the borders of Gotham, that its population increases every year, discounts the professor's pronouncement. The actual existence of these two realities would not be possible if life in New York were on the whole unhappy and afflicted with general discontent.

If anyone is chronically unhappy in New York, the deduction is logical that he possesses a temperament that would make him unhappy in the backwaters of Gopher Prairie or in the golden sunlight of California.

One of the most erroneous myths about New York is that every one lives at a frantic pace and constantly seeks the blue-bird of happiness. The plain truth is that New Yorkers are pretty much like inhabitants of Boston, Detroit or Los Angeles, with much the same habits, desires and ideals. With a greater abundance of those fine things which inspire the qualities of that higher happiness, such as art, music, drama, wit, intelligence and spiritual things, New Yorkers ought to be, and I suspect that they are among the happiest people in the world.

ENDORSEMENT CANDIDATES

WATERS WILL WIN, HE SAYS
Editor, The News:

In glancing over your paper last week, I read a very interesting letter regarding Commissioner Waters.

I am sure that letter expressed the opinion of a great majority of the voting public of Belleville.

Mr. Waters has done very well. He goes about his work very methodically, and with grim determination to see it through. There is no blare of trumpets about anything that he does.

Mr. Waters has rendered a service to the people of Belleville which merits another term at the Town Hall. There is always room for a man of his stamp on the Board of Commissioners.

I have not had a chance to sound out many leaders of our town on the coming election, but the few that I have spoken to, were very generous with praises for Mr. Waters. That surely indicates that his service to the public has not been overlooked.

In my estimation, The News also rendered a public service by giving Mr. Rawcliffe's letter on the commissioner a front page display. Keep up your good work.

Will Waters Win? Who could say no?

Respectfully,

MICHAEL CAPANEAR,

WANTS GERARD-HYDE

Editor, The News:

I see by last week's issue of the News that some very excellent names are suggested as candidates for the coming election of the new town commission. I was much pleased to note the names of George Gerard and Elmer Hyde.

A growing and progressive town, Belleville needs men of this type, whose records for business integrity and accomplishments is known.

I was asked one time: "Who do you consider the most public-spirited citizen in Jersey City?" My reply was "Henry Snyder, superintendent of Schools."

No one in the company present disputed my choice. So I would say the same of this town in my choice: "No one I know has done more to promote the best interests of Belleville than George Gerard."

Mr. Gerard is known and recognized by men of business and culture throughout the entire state. I make this statement purely and solely on my own initiative, as I am keenly interested in the future of our town. I am not saying this in a partisan or political way.

As for Elmer Hyde, he is a neighbor and I know him intimately. As for qualification I consider Mr. Hyde has the business acumen, the breadth of vision, and unselfish devotion in any good cause to be fitted for the office of town commissioner.

For many years I have had close contact with the city of San Francisco, also Jersey City, where I had membership in the Chamber of Commerce and have been on committees for city planning.

What Belleville needs is modern methods in city planning. In a few years, with the opening of the new bridges and tunnels to and from New York, Belleville will be a great center, possibly with a population of 100,000 people.

Belleville has many natural advantages. We have a fairly good start. Now, however, is the time to have men of foresight—wise city fathers, who will build well. We believe that in Elmer Hyde and George Gerard, we have men who will accomplish much along these lines.

Yours truly,

WALLACE WINCHELL.

FOR FIGURELLI-CARRAGHER

Editor, The News:

The Middletown Social and Athletic Association selected two candidates for the Commission election at the meeting of Tuesday, February 11. They are Frank Carragher and Samuel Figurelli.

The association will probably select three other candidates in the near future.

The two chosen candidates were put up by Joseph Natale and Jerry Liore. Action was unanimous, says the president, Angelo Pucci.

SYNOPSIS

Willy Durant is financing Nita French, an actress, in a musical show, but refuses to put up more money. Jerry Connolly, the manager, accuses Durant of being attentive to Kitty, the stage-struck check room girl, and inducing her father, Dad Malone, and her sweet heart, Jimmy, to invest their life savings to gain a hold over her. The box-office is robbed and Jerry and Jimmy are suspected. Nita refuses to finish the performance unless she gets her salary. Jimmy goes on in her part. Then Jimmy informs Nita of Jerry's accusations against Durant concerning Kitty, and the actress is furious.

"But we're not parting, Jimmy."

Jimmy only shook his head. "After what you told me about you and Durant, I mean about you trying to get me out of a jam when he was blaming me for that robbery—after seeing what a sap I'd been, do you think I could stick around here?"

"Of course, why not?" Kitty demanded.

"I could never make it up to you. All you've done for me, and there I'd be trying, and there you'd be watching me try. It would get on your nerves so you'd have a nervous breakdown. Then you couldn't wash dishes or darn socks or even look after the baby."

"Oh, Jimmy, you're so sweet, and such an idiot," Kitty giggled and put her arms about the boy's neck holding him close. "Do you think for a minute that I'll let you go away? I should say not, Jimmy, dear, I love you. Don't you understand? I love you."

"Oh, gosh!" There was a world of relief in Jimmy's voice. He caught the girl to him, holding her closely, and kissed her. They stood clinging to each other, until the sound of approaching footsteps brought them to their senses. Kitty patted her hair, straightening the tiara, as Pete, shuffled towards them, an enormous bouquet of flowers in his arms.

"A 'ousand pardons fer bustin' in on yonse dis way," the carpenter began formally, "but on behalf of de stage crew, Kitty, I wanna 'ank you fer savin' de show."

He extended the flowers with a dramatic gesture. "If all de boys wasn't married dey'd insist on kissin' you poisonally, but notwith'standin'—"

A low chuckle came from behind the carpenter. The bouquet disappeared from his hands and Jerry, bowing low, tendered the flowers to the new star of the "Welcome Home" Company.

"To Kitty from Jerry," the manager laughed. "Love and kisses."

"Hey, mug," Pete gasped in surprise. "Dem's our posies!"

"Thanks, so much, Pete," Kitty took the flowers, smiling at Jerry, "and you can tell the crew that I insist on kissing each one of them after the show."

"Aw, no, Kitty," Jimmy exclaimed. "Dat's a promise!" Pete beamed delightedly. "I'll go get 'em cleaned up. Dere a doity bunch." He turned and hurried away to spread the good news.

"Kitty, after the show I'll tell you how much I love you for what you did," Jerry announced, "but right now we've got to split to business. Come on and I'll brush you up in your last act lines. I've found a script."

Jimmy glanced at the manager a little uncertainly as though to ask whether he were wanted. "I'll go along," he began finally.

"I've got a job for you, young man," Jerry told him. "You stay there, near Nita's dressing room and keep your eye on that baby. For the love of Pete don't let her get near Kitty. Come, Miss Vere de Vere Malone." With an exaggerated gesture the manager took the girl's arm and started to lead her away.

"Here, be a darling, and put these in water for me," Kitty thrust the two bouquets into Jimmy's arm and hurried after Jerry.

The boy stood watching the departing figures, happy and sad at the same time. He was glad for Kitty's sake that everything had turned out the way it had, but he was afraid that her success might send her further and further away from him. After all, he was only a usher. A strange sound, like the moan of a dying calf, broke suddenly in upon his meditations.

It was Sarah's warning call but he didn't know it. A moment later and Nita was standing beside him.

"Holding flowers for the new prima donna, eh?" the actress demanded, eyeing the boy with contempt.

"Yes, I want to smell 'em?" He held out the bouquets defiantly.

"They'll be nice for her funeral," Nita smiled grimly. "I'm going to wring her nasty little neck!"

"You'll have to wring mine first."

"That's not a bad idea. You put her up to going on for me, I know you did."

"Aw, lay off Kitty and me, can't you?" Nita demanded. "We're just a couple of young people tryin' to get along. All we want is a chance to get married, live straight, have a little home—and a family."

There was a sort of pathetic sincerity in the boy's voice. In spite of herself Nita was touched. She had counted just enough Scotch to drown some of her anger and to bring the sentimental side of her to the fore. Somehow, something about this boy and girl affair touched a responsive chord in her heart.

"Just a little gray home in the west," she smiled. "A little gray home covered with vines and a couple of mortgages." It was the old Nita running true to form.

"Rose bushes and guys trying to collect the payments on the radio. Love in a cottage and dirty dishes in the sink."

"Smart crack all you please," Jimmy retorted, not realizing that Nita was actually being sympathetic. "But I'm telling you the truth."

"Am I stopping you if you're chump enough to want to get married?" the actress parried.

"Not exactly," Jimmy answered. "But the show goin' bust will postpone the happy hour."

"Don't blame it on me because you and Jerry can't let the box-office alone."

"Aw, don't be dumb! We haven't anything to do with the box-office, and, besides, that ain't got nothing to do with the show bein' on the rocks."

"No? What has?" Nita questioned sarcastically.

"There's only one real reason why this opera's goin' to the storehouse instead of Broadway," Jimmy told her.

"Which is?"

"Because Willie Durant can't—can't get or make any headway with Kitty."

"What?" Nita jumped. She stared at the boy, her eyes questioning, unbelieving.

"You heard what I said. Why didn't you keep him away from Kitty in the first place?" The truth was out now and Jimmy felt relieved. He had his own ideas about straightening matters, and there was no one around to hush him up.

For a moment Nita was silent. She considered the usher's statement, turning it over slowly in her mind. Various and odd things that had happened and had been said began to assume an unrealized importance. "Are you telling me that Durant has actually been after Kitty?" she asked.

"Didn't he offer her the world with a fence around it if she'd step out with him?" Jimmy replied. "Didn't I sock him in the jaw a little while ago for making love to her?"

"Aha! So he didn't hurt his face by falling against some scenery—the rat!" The real truth that lay behind certain statements that the actress had just been hearing began to dawn upon her. She tapped her foot slowly on the floor, mulling over "What's the rest of the story? Spill it," she commanded finally.

"Well, didn't Durant get me and Dad to put our money in this show so he could have a strangle hold on Kitty?" Jimmy continued, more than anxious to comply with Nita's request. "Didn't he think that if he got Dad and me all mixed up in this business that Kitty'd do what he wanted to save me? Why Dad's even got the house mortgaged."

"That's enough!" Nita cut the boy short. "You've spilled plenty, baby, plenty! Came the dawn! The more a woman's been around the easier she is to get around."

"But you must of known about it all the time. Everybody else in the troupe did."

A Dollar Dinner for Four

PROBABLY you, along with hundreds of others, have emerged into the New Year with hoards of good resolutions in your head. And, doubtless, one of them was to be more economical. In order to aid you in this laudable aim, we are presenting a menu and recipes to show that you can purchase the materials for a dinner for a family of four at a cost of only a dollar. Here's how it's done:

Frankfurters with Parsley Peas$1.47
Fried Bananas08
Bread and Butter03
Lettuce, French Dressing10
Cup Cakes, Raspberry Sauce20

Total$1.88

Frankfurters with Parsley Peas: Heat the peas from an 11-ounce can in their own liquor, then drain, add one tablespoon of butter, and season to taste. Pour into a shallow baking dish. Fry eight frankfurters and place on top of the peas, arranging them like the spokes of a wheel. Sprinkle with two tablespoons of chopped parsley and reheat in the oven a few minutes.

Here's the Dessert

Cup Cakes: Cream two tablespoons shortening with one-third cup of sugar, add one well-beaten egg. Sift together two-thirds cup flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder and a few grains of salt. Add to first mixture alternately with two tablespoons of milk. Flavor with raspberry or vanilla flavoring. Bake in the form of cup cakes in a moderate (375°) oven for 20 minutes. While warm serve with this sauce:

Raspberry Sauce: Empty contents of an 8-ounce can of raspberries into a sauce pan. Mix three tablespoons of sugar with one tablespoon of flour, add two tablespoons of water, and one tablespoon of lemon juice. Add to the berries and cook until creamy. Serve over the cup cakes.

Figurelli's Platform

with the greatest economy.

I am in favor of securing proper hospital facilities. As a commissioner I would also seek to have adjoining municipalities combine with Belleville to the end that it may be possible to establish a hospital of our own. We are in a growing need of this sort of improvement.

I favor a system whereby the garbage of the town could be disposed of in a manner which would not be inconsistent with the health and comfort of the people.

The zoning problem is not one which is to be played around with first by experts and then kicked around as a political football. The question may easily be solved without the intervention of the cost of experts whose opinions are usually not followed. Public officials must assume their responsibilities. A town the size of Belleville and situated as it is needs no experts in a matter of this kind. The sooner this question is settled the sooner Belleville will retrieve itself financially and otherwise. I would not favor the forcing upon the people zoning which even though it brought in revenue would at the same time bring about a corresponding decrease in rates in the particular section involved. The zoning law as passed at Trenton specifically states that it was passed with a view to conserving the value of property and its surroundings. Belleville need not be jumbled up when it comes to zoning but it could be so planned that not only could additional revenue be derived but its beauty maintained.

No municipality can hope to have true and quality government, which would bring about efficient and economical results, netting its taxpayers a low rate, unless the persons elected to office shall not only be qualified to hold office but be firm enough to stand for what is right simply because it is right rather than be forever looking to political results.

Public office is a public trust and actions in such office must not be weighed by tact and diplomacy but by fearless performance of duty.

My platform shall be, fair and impartial government, with a square deal for all, all the time.

I stand ready to give the people of the Town of Belleville the kind and type of government which they are rightfully entitled to, without fear or favor, to which end I pledge my most sacred honor.

Respectfully yours,
SAMUEL FIGURELLI.

FROM LAND AND SEA

THE Chinese have a saying to the effect that "Mountain and sea yield their tributes" to a formal feast. That this is part and parcel of the customary Chinese understatement is obvious when it is remembered that a Mongolian feast may consist of as many as two or three hundred dishes, each with a flavor and fragrance of its own. The Princess Der Ling, former Lady-in-waiting to the Empress of China, relates that there would always be a hundred different foods on the table when the Empress ate. And for such a meal all nature—including sea, mountain and plain—must contribute.

To Occidental ears such tales sound almost unbelievable, for a vast profusion of foods is no longer the style in the West. The interest in foods and in new food combinations is not dead, however, but actually increasing. New recipes for delectable dishes are being developed daily. Many of them, instead of combining the products of mountain and sea metaphorically, do it actually. Salmon is certainly a sea food, and eggs are a land food (although after the recent adventure of the hen who was taken up in an airplane and laid an egg while aloft, eggs may be classified as celestial as well as terrestrial). At any rate, salmon and eggs can combine to make a most delicious dish called Salmon Timbales.

Salmon and Eggs

Details of the proceedings go like this: Beat three eggs slightly and add one and one-half cups of milk, one and one-half teaspoons of salt and one-eighth teaspoon of pepper. Add three cups of canned salmon, lightly flaked and two tablespoons of chopped parsley. Pour into well-greased molds or custard cups, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven until set and a knife comes out clean. Use a temperature of not more than 300° F.; bake for 30 to 40 minutes.

From childhood days come the vague ideas that Europeans take their cattle to graze in the mountains at certain seasons of the year, so certainly cheese could be called a mountain product. And cheese and sardines together make a hors d'oeuvre which is appetizingly called Sardines Parmesan.

Fish, Cheese and Vegetables

First make oblong pieces of toast and spread them with onion butter (butter flavored with onion juice). Then drain the sardines from an 11-ounce can put up in mustard sauce and remove the backbones, being careful not to break the fish. Lay one split sardine on each piece of toast and sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and paprika. Place under broiler flame until piping hot. Serve on small plates with a little of the hot mustard sauce on each.

Shepherd pie with its fluffy topping of mashed potatoes is well-known everywhere, and when fish takes the place of meat in the pie, its popularity grows apace. To make Mackerel Shepherd pie, drain an 8-ounce can of diced carrots and add to half a cup of canned peas. Stir gently into two cups of thick white sauce. Flake the fish from a one-pound can of mackerel and fork very carefully into the sauce so that it remains in fairly large pieces. Pour into a buttered baking dish and pile fluffy, well-seasoned mashed potatoes on top. Brush with melted butter and bake in moderate oven until very hot and the potatoes are a golden brown.

Sea Food Salads

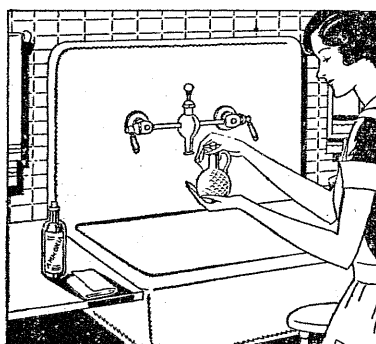

Our land and sea combinations extend to salads, too. Here are a couple of particular excellence. The first is:

Tunaish Salad: Marinate the following in French dressing for at least an hour: one and one-half cups diced, boiled potatoes, one cup diced, cooked carrots, three-fourths cup diced celery, three-fourths cup diced canned, stringless beans. Drain, and add contents of a large can of tunaish, flaked, mixing lightly so as not to make paste. Moisten with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce.

Crabmeat Jelly: Dissolve three-fourths package of lemon-flavored gelatin in three-fourths cup boiling water, and add one and one-half tablespoons of lemon juice. Marinate three-fourths of a 6½-ounce can of crabmeat and one and one-half tablespoons of chopped green pepper in two and two-thirds tablespoons of French dressing for one hour. Add, together with one-fourth cup of sliced stuffed olives to the gelatin when it starts to thicken. Fold in six tablespoons of mayonnaise and pour into molds. Chill. Serve on lettuce.

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

VINEGAR crusts can be quickly and thoroughly cleaned with diluted ammonia. Never wash gold-decorated glassware with strong soap. If the soap is too strong it will eat off the gold.

Beef tongue is rich in vitamins and iron; therefore, highly nutritious. A delicious sauce for the tongue can be prepared by simmering it for twenty minutes in a cup of the water in which it has been cooked until tender, and to which have been added one glass of tart currant jelly, two teaspoons brown sugar, one-fourth cup butter, one tablespoon cloves, dash of mustard, and one-half lemon sliced fine.

Unusual Soup Recipes Give Added Zest to Winter Meals

By CHARLES SCOTTO, Chef,
 Ambassador Hotel, Park Avenue,
 New York City

SOUP is rightly regarded as an indispensable element of the cold weather menu. Its warmth cheers both soul and body. Its vegetable and meat ingredients help mightily to satisfy the ravenous appetite that is engendered when our ears tingle with the cold and logs crackle cheerfully on the hearth.

In the preparation of soups, as in all other kinds of cooking, everything depends upon the cook. The same basic ingredients may produce a dish that would be a fit prelude to a royal feast, or a flat and tasteless liquid. All ingredients should be carefully measured. Seasoning should be more than a matter of a little salt and pepper. Mace, cloves, bay leaves and thyme all have important parts to play. A little sugar is frequently used by Continental cooks to blend and accentuate the flavors.

Squash Soup is both delicious and unusual. Mix together one cup cold boiled squash that has been pressed through a colander, two tablespoons minced celery, one teaspoon each of salt and sugar, one tablespoon onion juice, a quarter teaspoon pepper, and a pinch of mace. Make a roux of two tablespoons butter and one of flour. Blend with this, away from heat, one quart of milk, adding the first cup very slowly to insure smoothness. Heat the milk slowly. Beat until light the squash and other ingredients that have been mixed with it. Heat rapidly in a saucepan, stirring constantly. When very hot, add slowly the thickened, heated milk. Heat thoroughly and serve.

Mock Bisque Soup—Scald four cups of milk to which have been added three-fourths cup stale bread crumbs, one-half onion stuck with six cloves, sprig of parsley, and bit of bay leaf. Take out seasonings and rub through sieve. Add two tomatoes and cook for fifteen minutes. Add one-third teaspoon soda and rub through sieve. Re-heat milk and bread crumbs to boiling point. Add tomatoes slowly, stirring gently. Add one-third cup butter, one-half tablespoon salt, and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Serve with croutons.

Corn Bisque—Drain a can of corn and chop fine. Simmer for one-half hour in a quart of salted water. Rub through a colander. Return the corn to the stove with the same water. Add a teaspoon of sugar, and pour slowly over two tablespoons butter. Stir until smooth and add gradually a pint of heated milk. The moment before serving, season with salt and pepper, and pour slowly upon two well-beaten eggs.

PHENOMENAL GAIN IN TRUST SERVICES

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
 President American Bankers Association

SO phenomenal has been the increase of trust business that statisticians are unable to keep a true record of its advancement. There are now something like 3,500 active trust departments in banks in America, while in 1900 only 165 active trust departments had been established.

In becoming the custodians or the guardians of the property of others, bankers as John G. Lonsdale sums what has been fittingly described as one of the "most exalted human relationships ever created by law." They become at once a big brother, a big sister, an advisor, or a confessor, sworn so to conduct themselves that clients will be won to them by their ability and integrity.

Thousands of little children have received an education and have been started off right in life through the trust department's safe keeping and guidance of the family estate, numberless widows have been protected from merciless stock swindlers, many thousands of business men have been relieved of troublesome details in the conduct of their business through the creation of a living trust and still others have safeguarded their business enterprises through life insurance trusts.

The favorable reaction of the public toward trust department service is not accidental. It may be traced jointly to the growing intelligence of the American people in financial affairs and to advertising to the world at large the merits of trust services. Advertising used in a sensible, judicious way is necessary, a power that has accomplished much good for humanity.

Among the detailed services rendered by a trust department the one that seems to be winning favor the fastest is the life insurance trust. Life insurance is the quickest known way of creating an estate. In reality it affords the possessor the opportunity of setting up a positive monetary safeguard for his family and then paying for it on the installment plan.

A married man is not fair to his family if he fails to carry life insurance. I would say to the young man, "Buy insurance before you buy the ring," and to the young woman I would say, "Marry no man so thoughtless as to scoff at life insurance."

MODERN EDUCATION REVERSES OLD IDEAS

Business Institutes Use the Plan of Getting People to Think Rather Than Merely to Learn.

There is one general principle at the basis of all good teaching and it is that a person learns more readily by assimilating the experiences which he himself encounters than in any other way, says Harold Stonier, National Educational Director of the American Institute of Banking. This institute is the educational section of the American Bankers Association through which 35,000 bank men and women are receiving scientific instruction in their chosen business.

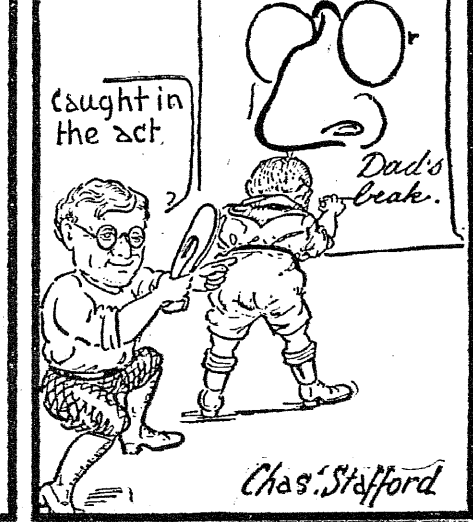

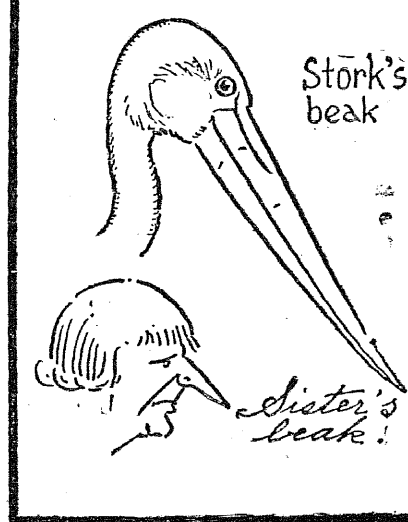

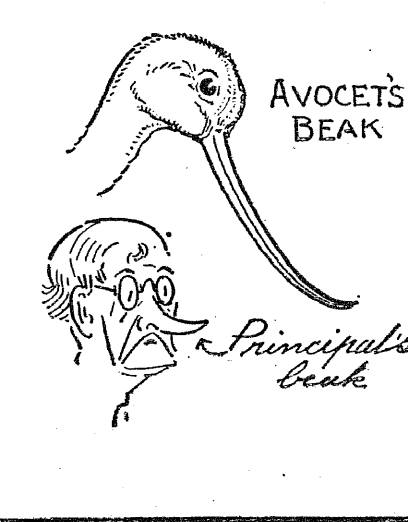

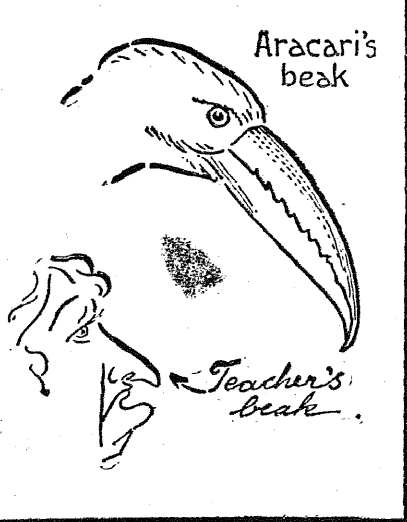

"The most advanced people in teaching today are emphasizing the importance of activity on the part of the student," he says. "In the school-room of former days we often heard such phrases as, 'Be still, learn by heart, Don't do that, What does the book say?' The newer education asks, 'What do you think?' 'What was your reaction to that experiment?' 'What did you discover?' 'What reasons have you for answer?'"

The New School Calls for Action
 "The 'expressing' school is taking the place of the repressing and listening school. The classroom is becoming an open forum, a studio of self-expression, a place of mental growth. The modern concepts of education are personal experimentation, individual investigation, critical discussion and creative self-expression. The pupil really learns only as he is able to assimilate the new meanings of facts and principles with his previous experiences. Activities therefore constitute the pivotal force around which are grouped the new factors in education. The primary responsibility of the teacher is to furnish a constant stream of activities which will afford the stimulating urge to mental growth.

"Education is a process of experiencing, and the program of the institute is so arranged as to give the greatest opportunity to gain by such experience. Through this we develop the art of thinking. Thinking has been described as the ability to handle experience and to bring it to bear on a problem. Effective thinking arises when we are presented with the choice of conduct. Our previous experiences become helpful as we marshal them and bring them to bear upon the matter of our choice."

The students in the American Institute of Banking by reason of the fact that they continue to go on about their employment in banks while taking the banking association's study courses have an opportunity to combine learning with practical thinking and action.

Hearing Is Called On Rapid Transit

Nutley Residents To Hear
Of Proposed Line
To Newark

Plans of the North Jersey Transit Commission for a rapid transit line between Paterson and Newark with an extension to Irvington, will be laid before Nutley residents at a public hearing in Nutley Town Hall Thursday night.

The Paterson-Newark line is proposed as the first unit of a publicly owned system of subways and elevated railways to connect the chief municipalities of Essex, Hudson, Bergen, Passaic, Union Morris Somerset and Middlesex Counties.

The plan is the product of seven years' study by the commission and legislation and to materialize it is being sought by Senator Arthur N. Pierson, chairman of the regional planning commission, who is drafting a bill to create authority for construction and financing of the project.

Bertram H. Saunders, chairman of the transit commission, today pointed out that although New Jersey has spent nearly a quarter of a billion dollars in the past ten years for highway construction no provision has been made for rapid transit development. "On the New York side of the Hudson," he said, "there are more than 400 miles of rapid transit lines. On the New Jersey side we have only fourteen miles of rapid transit."

Funeral Services Held Sunday For Dr. Bootay

Funeral services for Dr. Frederick Starr Bootay of 607 Washington avenue, Belleville, were held at the Funeral Home of William V. Irvine, 276 Washington avenue, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Peter R.

Deckenbach, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, officiated. Burial was at Loudon Park, Baltimore, Md.

Dr. Bootay was fifty-two. He had been prominent in public health work in Belleville more than fifteen years. He died at St. Barnabas's Hospital, Newark, Thursday, as a result of a fall on ice.

Library Enlarges Juvenile Section

An enlarged juvenile department has been opened in the basement of the Public Library. It includes fiction, history, biography and reference works.

For very young children scrap-books, carefully classified, have been made by the staff. They cover a variety of subjects within the field of juvenile interests. The department, which will be under direction of Mrs. E. A. Shattuck, head librarian, will be open from 1 to 5:30 week days, except Saturday, when the hours will be 9 to 5:30.

Seating capacity for sixty-six is provided at eleven tables. There is a children's card index and the youngsters will be instructed in its use. The department has had an average circulation of about 200 books a day for some time.

General Electric Employees To Stage Musical Play

The Employees' Mutual Benefit Association of the Bloomfield Works of the General Electric Company have engaged the Orange High School for May 2 and 3 to present the musical comedy, "Page the Prince," a production of the Rodgers Producing Company.

This is one of the most beautiful and interesting musical comedies to be found on the amateur stage. The cast of 150 persons will be composed of employees of Bloomfield Works. Harold Whittle, who has taken comedy leads in several productions in this vicinity, will take part in "Page the Prince."

The following committee is in charge of arrangements: Harold Whittle, chairman; R. S. Whitmore, secretary-treasurer; assisted by W. B. Ruffner, A. Ford, F. Rausch, E. Ambrose, J. Donnelly, E. W. Godfrey, H. J. Shafer, John Sheik, J. Fennessy, P. McGrath, W. C. Scheid and J. Lang.

This is the eighth annual entertainment of this association, each better than the last, and the committee feels confident that in its selection of "Page the Prince" it has made no mistake.

Oliver's "Log Cabin" Orchestra has been engaged to furnish music for the show and for dancing afterward. The 2,000 employees of the Bloomfield Works are looking to May 2 and 3 as one of the best evenings' enjoyment of the year.

Regional Health Boards Proposed

Sees More Effective Administration Possible—Officers To Be Named

Division of the State into regions for health work was proposed Saturday by William C. Blake, of Princeton, at the concluding session of the annual conference of health officers at the State House. Only by some such means, he asserted, would a health program be carried into many of the rural districts of the State where there is now no supervision.

Another suggestion was that the State Department of Health be vested with power to regulate milk supplies and classify grades. At present supervision is exercised by the State Department of Agriculture. The change is proposed by William B. Palmer, of Orange, chairman of the milk committee of the New Jersey Health Officers' Association.

F. P. Lee, of Paterson, was named to succeed Mr. Blake, as president of the association. Dr. S. L. Salasin, of Atlantic City, was elected vice president. M. J. R. Chandler of Plainfield, was re-named as treasurer and Eugene H. Sullivan, of Nutley, as secretary.

William C. Blake of Princeton is the retiring president of the association, and will be succeeded, it is expected, by Dr. P. P. Lee, of Paterson.

Wallace T. Eakins, assistant epidemiologist of the State Department of Health, and Dr. Edgar A. Doll, director of research of the Vineland Training School, were speakers at Saturday's meeting.

The importance of children of preschool age being immunized against diphtheria, was stressed by Mr. Eakins, who pointed to the decline in deaths from this disease since the introduction of antitoxin.

"As a measure of the efficacy of toxin-antitoxin," said Eakins, "records of 705 reported cases of diphtheria were studied. It was found only 32, or 4 per cent. were in persons who had received a complete course of toxin-anti-toxin three months or more before illness. Only three of these 32 cases occurred in persons who are reported to have shown a negative Schick test."

Dr. Doll urged that health officers aid in coordinating the work of local clinics with State institutions in the treatment of mental disorders. The greatest benefits are derived from treatment, he said, when such ailments are detected in their early stages.

Edge's Secretary Is Now With P. S. Corp.

Robert A. Zachary, secretary to United States Senator Walter E. Edge until Mr. Edge was appointed Ambassador to France, has taken up his duties as executive assistant with public Service Corporation of New Jersey and subsidiary companies.

Mr. Zachary was born in Washington, D. C. and his early life was spent in the newspaper business, having started in 1904 as office boy in the Washington Bureau of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle. He became assistant Washington correspondent to the Eagle and served that paper seventeen years. From 1917 to 1921, in addition to his work with the Eagle, he assisted Arthur J. Sinnott, Washington correspondent of the Newark Evening News.

In October, 1921, Mr. Zachary was made secretary to Senator Edge and he managed the Senator's campaign for reelection in 1924.

In 1914 Mr. Zachary married Miss Mary La Petra Edwards of Bridge-ton. He has two sons and lives at 28 Grand View avenue, West Orange.

PTOMAIN POISONING FROM PIE WAS STUDIED IN FIRST DEATH

TWO CHILDREN DIED WEEK APART

Autopsy On First Boy, Belleville Bootblack
Who Lives In Nutley, Showed Nothing Wrong With Contents Of Stomach—Medical Term Of Death Is Status Lymphaticus.

County Medical Examiner Harrison S. Martland yesterday declared no autopsy would be made on the body of Orlando Vizza, four-year-old son of Peter Vizza, 54 King street, Nutley, to determine the cause of the child's death Saturday afternoon. He called it death by natural causes.

The death follows about one week after the death of his brother, Pasquale Vizza, 9, who died at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, a week ago. According to Mr. Martland this was also by natural causes.

Both were apparently well the day before their deaths exhibiting a slight dark color in their faces and being subject to vomiting attacks.

Dr. Edward Rizzolo, 523 Union avenue, Belleville, was called to the Vizza home on Sunday, February 8, shortly after midnight. Pasquale died at 3 o'clock, shortly after the doctor left. About midnight Friday the doctor was called to attend the second child, who died Saturday afternoon.

The first child was buried last week. The death certificate was signed by Alice C. Collins, a Rutherford undertaker. Under cause of death was written "pending chemical analysis." Dr. Martland said no poisonous matter was found, the death coming from hereditary causes.

When the second death was called to the attention of Health Officer Eugene Sullivan he immediately called on Dr. Martland, who explained that examination of the stomach contents of the first child showed nothing wrong. At first it was believed the first child had died from ptomaine poisoning. A mass of regum was offered for the boy last Tuesday in Holy Family Church, Nutley. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Arlington.

Dr. Rizzolo did not know the cause of death and that is why the certificate was signed pending investigation.

Dr. Martland gives as a theory that "status Thymicus Lymphaticus" caused death. This is said to be a state of the glands being overdeveloped. It is a condition in which all the lymphatic tissues, thymus glands, the spleen and bone marrow are hyper-plastic or overgrown due to multiplication of elements.

A fund for funeral expenses for Pasquale who was thought at first to have suffered ptomaine poisoning from eating pie was started Sunday by James Leone, barber, of 527 Washington avenue, Belleville, in an effort to help the boy's family financially and to convey consolation from persons whose shoes "Patsy", as he was known, had often brightened.

Over $200 has been collected. Anyone desiring to donate should communicate with James J. Reilly, real estate man, 523 Washington avenue, or Mr. Leone. Officers of the First National Bank, Belleville, helped swell the fund at the outset, as well as Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy.

Leone, as a business neighbor of Peter Vizza, the boys' father, who conducts a shoe repair shop at 525 Washington avenue, recruited the aid of Mr. Reilly, to make the collections.

The children also leave their mother and four brothers and sisters.

Mrs. F. L. Bullock of Bellefonte, Pa., was the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Entekin of 263 New street, last week.

Mrs. Judson K. Stickle of 76 Bremond street is in Florida, where she will remain until spring.

Because of unusual service to their home communities for outstanding scholarship attainments and on account of high achievements as Eagle Scouts, fifty-two Boy Scouts were selected by the Boy Scouts of America last week as recipients of the Harmon Scout Scholarship Awards for 1929. Announcement was made of the names of the winners through the National Court of Honor.

ADDS TO MUSEUM
A group of Norwegian and Icelandic dolls have been added to the collection of costume dolls of foreign countries which may be seen on the second floor of the new building of the Brooklyn, N. Y., Children's Museum.

The dolls were furnished to the Children's Museum through the courtesy of Charles S. Strong, a former Brooklyn Boy Scout who received his taste for travel from geography lectures at the Children's Museum. Mr. Strong is now with the Scandinavian-American News Bureau. He left Brooklyn at the age of 17 to go to Europe on a Boy Scout trip, paying his way by correspondence for New York newspapers. Journeying to the north of Europe after the Boy Scout conference he decided to make himself an authority on the less-known Scandinavian countries, including Iceland, Spitzbergen and Lapland and has aroused interest in these distant scenic spots by lectures both in this country and abroad.

AID AT GOLF TOURNAMENT
Boy Scouts of Pasadena, California, assisted in handling the galleries at the Pasadena Open Golf Tournament recently and watched many of the outstanding golfers of the United States in action.

CLOCK TRAFFIC
Boy Scouts of Charleston, W. Va., recently made a traffic check of all vehicles moving over the South Side C. and O. station's middle bridge. The Scouts worked in hour shifts, one at each end of the bridge, and took down the number of automobiles which passed over the structure during the 18 allotted hours.

The object of the survey was to obtain statistics relative to the relief afforded by the freeing of toll of the upper Kanawha City Bridge in the spring of 1928.

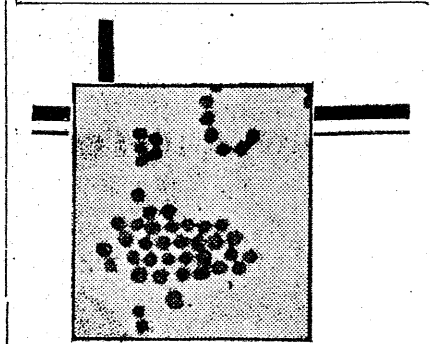

NEW EXECUTIVE OF BOY SCOUTS

Naming Of C. E. Ross Told At Bloomfield-Nutley Council Dinner

Clinton E. Ross, assistant scout executive at Waterbury, Conn., was announced as the new scout executive of the Bloomfield-Nutley Boy Scout Council at the annual father and son dinner of the council Thursday night at Bloomfield High School. Three scouts were awarded Eagle badges and a brother of one of the three the gold palm.

Mr. Ross took office this morning at the headquarters in the Bloomfield Community House. He succeeds Oliver W. Quickmire, who resigned January 1 to take up scout work in Batavia, N. Y. Mr. Ross has been engaged in scout activities since becoming a tenderfoot at the age of twelve.

Probably the proudest parent at the dinner was N. B. Banks of 49 Comely place, Bloomfield, whose son Hubert was awarded the gold palm for winning ten merits beyond that of Eagle Scout and another son, Brice, the Eagle badge Harold Cadmus and Edgar Healy were the others made Eagle scouts.

Richard Hartshorne, state commander of the American Legion, gave the main address. He told of work done by the legion for orphans of veterans of the World War. He said it was the purpose of the legion to send these orphans through high school and, if possible, college.

"At present there is a bill before the Legislature which calls for appropriation of $150 by the state for each orphan for their education," he said. "We also have been in conference with the higher educational institutions of the state and have favorable reports from them on the project."

The opportunities and possibilities of the scout movement in building character were emphasized by Mayor Charles H. Demarest of Bloomfield. Rev. Dr. Charles S. Poling of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Bloomfield, advised the scouts to show enthusiasm in their work.

The dinner, which was attended by more than 500, was prepared and served by the Boy Scout Mothers Association.

Doings in the Field of Sports

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemke

As the close of the basketball season looms none too far in the distance, the court representatives of the local high school, who sport the familiar Blue and Gold, look more and more impressive with every fresh start.

Their latest feat, accomplished at the high school gym, Friday night, was to turn back a much heralded Alumni five in truly dramatic fashion.

A nearly hopeless tail-end at the start of the fourth quarter; on even terms at the end of the scheduled time; and lastly a winner, with a final burst of speed that left their opponents far in the rear. Such was the brief but convincing story of the Blue and Gold's sensational 31-24 triumph over the Alumni in six grueling periods of play.

Aside from the fine all-around play of the team itself, certain individuals on it seemed to raise their heads above the common level sufficiently to merit more than a mere passing glance.

One of these basketballers in particular, Nick Bonavita, deserves a great deal of credit. At the start of the present season, Nick, was thought of in mere terms of a scrub, a second-stringer. He was thought to possess enough basketball ability to warrant his being placed on the second team, but hardly enough for a varsity candidate.

Then, a short time after the season had been under way, Coach McBride saw he needed a forward, a scoring ace to team up with "Mac" Lamb, who was doing the lion's share of the point garnering at the forward post. No one seemed to fit in. He finally tried the inexperienced Bonavita and Nick made good from the start. In his first full game, against East Side, if memory serves correctly, Nick was high scorer and from then up to the present writing he has been the answer to McBride's prayer.

He climaxed his brilliant play, which has endured over the span of five games, with a truly remarkable exhibition against the Alumni, Friday night. Despite the fact that he was guarded by "Tony" Pascale, one of the best guards in the business hereabouts, Nick collected six field goals for a twelve point total to easily clinch high scoring honors for the night. In fact his fine play was one of the most contributory factors in the Alumni downfall.

"Mac" Lamb, who has captained the squad that has been going so well the past few weeks, is another worthy. "Mac" easily wins the team's honors for consistency. Game in and game out "Mac" plays his usual steady, brilliant game, a game that has given McBride reason but once to yank him. A more favorable comment would be difficult to obtain. Paul Short, "Stan" Goodrich and "Dutch" King are some others who have been vitally important in the Bell-boys' make-up.

As a team this youthful array of court enthusiasts shapes up about as well as any of recent years and though the final record may not be as near perfect as everyone could wish, yet it will be plenty good enough to satisfy the most critical observer.

PRIMO PRIMES ON TEA

PRIMO CARNERA, athletic marvel of the year, finds regulation American teasups inadequate to satisfy his appetite for good, strong tea. The Italian ring giant, who flattened Big Boy Peterson and Elzeir Rioux, each in less than one round, demands so many standard-sized cups of tea at a meal that his corps of managers is looking around for a nice, big vat to accommodate him in his training program.

Valleys Pull Up With The Garnet Team

Playing an inspired, whirlwind game that was little short of unbeatable, the Valleys went into deadlock with the Bachelors for first place in the Recreation League by virtue of a brilliant 34-16 victory over the strong Wesley quintet, Thursday night, at the local high school gym.

In the other games of the night the Garnets and Bachelors scored expected triumphs over the Community Aces and Unions, although neither winner won about as they pleased. Minus the services of their star pivot man, Harry Metz, at the start of the game, the Valleys were outdistanced in the first quarter, being on the short end of a 9-4 count. At this stage of play it looked like another victory for the fast moving Wesleys.

Then the storm broke! Inspired by truly fine efforts of Herbie Mayes, Harry Metz and Jimmie Petrie, the Valleys ran wild, gaining a 16-13 advantage at half time, and outscoring their opponents by a huge 18-3 margin during the second half.

Throughout the entire last half the winners completely out-passed and out-shot the Wesleys, chalking up point after point in quick succession and from every angle. Some of their shots were actually uncanny and their play was one of the outstanding team performances of the league to date.

In the individual scoring column, Captain Herbie Mayes of the Valleys was the leader with a fine thirteen point total, besides heading his side's highly successful pass-work. Harry Metz and Jimmie Petrie came next in line with eight points apiece. Metz's work was all the more brilliant when it is considered that he held his brother, Jimmie, one of the league's leading scorers, without a single point. The lone basket he scored was before Harry's entrance into the game.

Herb Otto contributed five points to round out his team's total, in addition to holding his opponent to but a single field goal.

Elmer Hosking was in his usual superlative form, leading the Wesleys' scoring with a six point total, as well as being just about the mainspring in his side's floor work. At many stages of the game Elmer heroically endeavored to bring his team out of the rut they had fallen into, but the winners were "on" and could not be stopped.

Jacobson and Jim Hozack were the other star performers for the Church quintet.

In the second game of the night the Bachelors marched on in their quest for second half honors with a decisive though somewhat close 25-14 win over the Unions.

With Johnston and Wengel, star forward combination of the winners, absent, the bachelors were expected to be without a goodly share of the scoring punch. To all intents and purposes, they were, but the combine of Mc Cabe, Boucher, Dunn, Parcells and Mc Guire worked smoothly enough to satisfy the most pessimistic Bachelors fan or fanette.

The Bachelors had somewhat tough sledding in the opening half, holding a meager 10-7 lead over the Unions. Abramson, star guard of the losers, was the inspiring force behind this unexpected Union drive, accounting for four of his team's seven points, besides guarding well.

The second half was an entirely different story, however, as the Bachelors completely outplayed their opponents to outscore them 15-7 and generally assert their expected class.

"Mac" McGuire, whose play to date with the league-leaders has been nothing short of sensational, added ten points to his high scoring total to lead his team in that respect. Jimmie McCabe, though held to two points, was, with "Snooky" Parcells, the whole works on the defense for the winners, heading their fine passing attack. Parcells, in addition to guarding well accounted for six of his team's points for second half honors. "Pat" Dunn was the other stand-out performer for the Bachelors.

In addition to Abramson, Yudin and Zborowski played bang-up games for the losers.

The final clash of the night brought together the Garnets and the Community Aces in a 33-32 Garnet triumph.

The first half was fiercely contested to the utmost degree, as each side took turns holding a narrow edge over its opponents. The strength of the Community Aces over their much vaunted opponents was especially surprising and gratifying to their many rooters. At half time the Garnets held a slight 19-16 edge over their rivals.

During the next half the Garnets went further into the van, but the Community Aces were not as badly outplayed, as the 14-6 Garnet margin in the final half would have one believe.

The individual feature of the thrilling contest was the duel between Mutch of the Garnets and Rabbitts of the Community Aces. The lanky Bob and his youthful opponent at the pivot position "sunk" basket after basket from all angles of the court. When the final totals had been added up scoring honors for the two men were found to be exactly even, each man accounting for twelve points, to lead his respective team on the offense.

"Sonny" Dingle and "Nap" Prior, with six and five points respectively, followed Mutch in the scoring column, while Ackerman featured the Garnet play.

Nunzio Pico was the other outstanding basketballer for the losing Aces, accounting for a five point total.

Belleville High Court Squad Gives The Alumni Outfit 31-24 Pasting

In as close and as fiercely contested a battle as the local high gym has witnessed in many a day the Belleville High basketball team conquered the strong Alumni five 31-24, Friday night, before a goodly crowd.

Two extra periods were required before the "friendly" skirmish between the two teams could be decided either way.

Throughout the game the present day wearers of the Blue and Gold seemed to outlast their vaunted opponents, as it was only by a final rush in what was scheduled to be the final period that the varsity quintet was enabled to tie up matters. A final victorious push was needed also to give the varsity the verdict in the second extra period.

As the fourth quarter opened it looked like the Alumni were about to taste victory over their more youthful opponents. Holding a 20-16 lead at this stage the Alumni looked good for a rather easy triumph, as they had outplayed the varsity throughout the game.

The high school boys, however, were not so easily convinced and coming back brilliantly in the final quarter knotted the count with a splendid burst of all-around fine playing. They held the "Old Grads" scoreless in this period, while going about the business of tallying four points to even up matters.

The crowd went wild as prospects of an extra period or two arose in their minds' eye. A minute after the start of the first extra period "Dutch" King of the varsity almost became the man of the hour with a one hand push shot from the foul line that swished the net and gave the winners a two-point lead.

The crowd then settled back, expectant but satisfied of a Varsity triumph. A minute later, however, "Sonny" Hosking, remembered by many for his many brilliant exploits during his high school days, registered from over half the length of the court to again tie up matters at 22 all. There was no further scoring for that period and the game went into another extra period.

At the start of the second extra period came the turning point. Paul Short, who had played brilliantly for the varsity throughout the night, dribbled through the Alumni defense and scored on a short shot. While tallying the basket, he was fouled and also made good a foul shot to give his side a three point margin and the game.

Once started the Varsity was unstoppable and two field goals by Nick Bonavita and another by "Mac" Lamb in rapid succession sewed up matters with plenty to spare. "Tony" Pascale was the only alumnus to score in that second extra period and his lone tally served to lighten in some degree the large margin of the varsity.

Besides Short, who tallied the deciding points, the real hero was "Nick" Bonavita, whose brilliancy has marked most of the high school's recent games.

Nick, who was but a scrub up to a few weeks ago, covered himself with glory by scoring twelve points and generally making himself the stand-out performer on the court for the night. "Mac" Lamb, who acted as captain, and "Stan" Goodrich, lanky pivot man, were also instrumental in the Blue and Gold's triumph.

The imposing cast of former high school greats was headed in the point scoring by "Tony" Pascale, who tallied seven points. Elmer Hosking, Les Armour, Bob Mutch, and Harry Metz were other Alumni performers whose play was of more than ordinary caliber.

This victory over a really strong Alumni team is a real feather in the cap of Coach McBride and his fine array of basketballers, especially as it was engineered in the face of so many odds.

GIRLS START INTER-CLASS GAMES UNDER MISS MAYO AT HIGH SCHOOL

In the first of the annual set of girls inter-class basketball games, sponsored by Miss Mayo of the high school faculty, the Seniors overcame the Juniors to the tune of 17-8 at the local high school gym, Friday afternoon.

Ethel Bryan, of the winning Seniors, was the individual star of the game scoring thirteen points to lead both sides at that department. Alice Compton of the Juniors featured with a six point total, and Bernice Le Compte contributed the other pair of points with a single field goal.

The real feature of the game was the fine team work of the Senior sextet, which bids fair to cop the school championship. The Juniors also looked good in their initial appearance, but could not cope with their more experienced rivals.

Good-bye Stained Teeth

New Safe Treatment Bleaches Dark Teeth in Three Minutes

Dentists have discovered a new safe treatment which bleaches stains from teeth, giving yellow discolored teeth a beautiful shining whiteness. It is called Bleachodent Combination, and consists of a remarkable liquid which carries or softens the stains, and a new kind of paste, which instantly removes the softened stains and prevents new stains from forming. Simple brush the teeth with a few drops of the liquid—then use the paste—and even the whitest teeth are quickly whitened. Tobacco stains disappear after only two applications. Bleachodent Combination was first made for children's teeth to avoid the use of harsh gritty pastes which are so harmful to children's soft sensitive teeth. While Bleachodent Combination will instantly remove surface stains, do not expect it to remove stains caused by silver fillings, as these are below the enamel and Bleachodent Combination is not intended to act on the enamel in any way. Fine for the gums. Bleachodent Combination is widely used and recommended. Costs but a few cents, and money back if not delighted. Get it today at all good dealers, such as

Scouts Award For Window Display

In celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, each of the Belleville troops has had a window display during the past week. The contest has been a spirited one and every troop has shown a keen desire to be one of the three winners.

The award judges were Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, as member of the Lions Club, W. W. Brundage, chief executive Newark Council, and Arthur Guertin, chairman of the camp committee and Deputy Scout Commissioner of Newark Council. The awards were on the following basis: Twenty-five points for attractiveness; twenty-five points for True to Scouting; twenty-five points for originality and twenty-five points for effort. The troops averaged from seventy to 100 points, which made it exceedingly difficult for the judges to make their final decision. The exhibits were unusually good in every case.

Each judge visited the exhibits himself and noted the various points which he would give it. The three judges then conferred and compared points. The final result showed that Troop 89, which meets in the Belleville Reformed Church was first. Frank Holmes is Scoutmaster and the exhibit has been in the window of the Capitol Pharmacy. Troop 88, which meets in the Christ Episcopal Church was second. Ira Shattuck is Scoutmaster and the exhibit has been in the Essex Pharmacy window. Troop 50, which meets in the Fews-Smith Church, was third. The exhibit has been in the window of the building owned by W. J. Lynch, at Division and Washington avenues. Lindsey Graves is Scoutmaster of Troop 50.

Troop 92, which meets in the Recreation House, and which is the newest troop in Belleville, deserves special mention. They are under the leadership of Joseph Cece, who has had no previous scout experience. Their window was at Dyer's Candy Store, corner of Malone and Union avenue. Their display was excellent.

Troop 75, which meets in St. Peter's Church, had a splendid display in the window at Carrigan's Candy Store, Washington avenue. Their exhibit attracted much attention and pictured a Cheyenne Indian village. Troop 4, which meets in the Wesley Methodist Church, Paul Schiewer, acting scoutmaster, had a nature work, signal tower, and so forth, displayed. Troop 86, meeting in the Grace Baptist Church, George Buchanan, scoutmaster, featured knots, splicing, head word, and so forth.

The awards were as follows: First, A first aid cabinet and kit, donated by the Belleville Unit of the Boy Scouts of America; second, two shelter tents; third, one shelter tent.

The second and third prizes were donated by the Lions and Rotary clubs of Belleville.

On Monday evening of this week, George MacCaskie, engineer on timber and woods for the Public Service Corporation, gave a talk and illustrated with samples, the means of identifying woods and trees. Mr. MacCaskie gave a most instructive illustration of how trees grow, explaining that only the outer layer of the trunk has any life and through that thin layer the tree get all its nourishment. He further exemplified the method of determining the age of trees by the number of rings in a cross-section of their trunks.

Sout Troops 88, 92 and 50 attended the lecture, which took place in the Christ Episcopal Church.

The Boys of Troop 75, which meets at St. Peter's Church, had an interesting talk by "Lucky" Locher on last Thursday evening. "Lucky" so enthused the Scouts in the making of hats that many of the boys were ready to take up hat manufacturing as their life work.

Mr. Locher knows how to make his subject interesting to boys, which is 50 per cent toward getting it over.

Social Recreation Service

By —
RECREATION COMMISSION

The Belleville Recreation Commission has featured "A Political Party" as the program for this week. The party itself is rather unique, inasmuch as it combines politics with bridge. Here is your opportunity to put over your candidate with a "big slam."

For further information of this party or others, address all communications to Anthony A. Pascal, Recreation House, Belleville.

A Political Bridge Party
Invitations: A mimeographed ballot may be sent out with the usual headings: Democratic - Republican - Prohibition - Socialist. On the ballot should be written, "A Political Meeting where you can put over your candidate, will be held at the home of _____, address _____, Tuesday, _____, at 8 o'clock."

Decorations: The house may be decorated with newspaper clippings of political speeches, posters and pictures of the candidates. Where possible two or more rooms should be used for bridge, one, two or more tables placed in certain parts of the room. A room or part of one should be called the Republican, Democratic, the Prohibition and the Socialist headquarters. One table for each political party will, of course, take care of 10 guests. For a smaller group, one of the party headquarters may be eliminated; for a large party more tables may be added.

After the guests have assembled, looked over the decorations and talked politics, attention is called to the "platform" (a miniature platform is built in much the same way as a boxing ring with a "plank" for each guest). A "plank" is about 2 by 6 inches, and 3-8 of an inch thick, made of box wood or other light wood. On the side of the plank is written the name of the party the player is to start with. For example, Prohibition No. 1, will go the Prohibition headquarters and will be player No. 1. The moves should also appear on the side of the "plank" as, second hand go to Democratic headquarters and play with Socialist No. 3, and so forth. The score is kept on the reverse side of the "plank."

Lunch: Serve in the basement where possible, and have the room fixed up to resemble the old saloon with sawdust on the floor and a bar. The lunch may consist of platters of bread, liver sausage, cheese, ham cold roast pork and roast beef, bologna, crackers, pretzels and pickles. Coffee and soft drinks should be served over the bar in mugs by a bartender.

"Dynamite" DeMille - First Talking Picture, Is Full Of Thrills

Spectacular and thrilling to the nth degree, Cecil B. De Mille's first talking production, "Dynamite," allows this super-director to take one of the biggest bows of his career, and provides screen patrons with a production that should keep all of them talking for many weeks after seeing it.

Scintillating society panoramas are blending into an enthralling dramatic situation in which a coal miner and his rival for the hand of a society girl face death together, a thousand feet below the earth.

Before going far with a review one must praise wholeheartedly the exceptional work of Conrad Nagel as a young society gadabout, Kay Johnson, Broadway stage star, as a girl of high social position and Charles Bickford as Hagon Derk, the miner. It is difficult to say which of these players gives the best characterization, but sufficient to remark that each one helps make "Dynamite" rank several miles ahead of the average screen release. The fine cast of the picture also includes Julia Faye, who has been seen in many other De Mille photoplays, Robert Edeson, Scott Kolk, Leslie Fenton and Joel McCrea.

"Dynamite" is far more than a "type" picture. It belongs in no classification. It is the genius of De Mille at his best, aided by what is perhaps the most original plot ever conceived by Jeanie MacPherson, author of many of De Mille's greatest stories.

Any one of a dozen thrilling episodes in "Dynamite" will keep the millions of De Mille fans talking. The "aero-hoop" race, in which girls strapped to great hoops participate, the archery competition, the game of "Doug" and all the other lavish and unusual touches which the director has administered make the new picture one long to be remembered. The dialogue by Miss MacPherson, Gladys Unger and John Howard Lawson is beautifully tailored and from start to thrilling climax the film is a natural "smash."

Belleville High Shapes Up Great Against Glen Ridge

Shaping up in their finest form of the season, the Belleville High School basketball squad easily trounced Glen Ridge's strong five, 28-13, Tuesday afternoon, at the losers' court.

The Blue and Gold completely befuddled their rivals, who started as pre-game favorites, owing to their record of six wins in nine starts. Dribbling, passing and shooting in masterly fashion throughout, the game seemed hardly to extend the local boys, who maintained a comfortable lead at every stage of play.

The Bell-boys lost no time getting to work, piling up six points in the initial period, while holding the boys from Glen Ridge scoreless. Fine passing and exceptional marksmanship at long distance shooting increased this margin to 14-4 at half time, an overwhelming lead that spoke volumes for the deluge which was to follow.

Although scoring honors were evenly distributed in the third quarter, with five points apiece, the locals again assumed the upper hand in the final canto, bringing up their total sufficiently to more than double that of the Glen Ridge quintet at the final whistle.

Aside from some brilliant passing and guarding turned in by the entire team, the real stand-out feature of the contest from a local angle was the brilliant shooting of "Mac" Lamb, ace Blue and Gold forward. "Mac," in addition to playing a good floor game, tallied an even half of his side's total scoring and his fourteen point total was just one more tally than the entire point score of the losers.

Paulie Short, stellar guard, was another shining light for the Bell-boys, contributing seven points to Belleville's total. Stan Goodrich and Jerry Bonavita also added weight to the heavy Bell-boy verdict.

Collander, forward of the Glen Ridge five, was high scorer of his team with seven points and paired up with Taylor to cop guarding honors.

Women Bowl Men

The bowling team of Belleville Chapter, Women of Mooseheart Legion, played Belleville Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, Sunday afternoon at the Elks alleys and was beaten three games. A supper at the Moose Home, with the men's team as host, followed. The first game had the same result.

William Slater was captain of the Moose team, comprising Michael DiCarlo, Edward McDowell, Joseph Kunkel, Arthur Wersing and William Reed. OPENS FEBRUARY 24th

Public Service opens on February 24, 1930, a new terminal at No. 4 West 40th Street, New York, for buses to and from Caldwell, Upper Montclair, Montclair, Glen Ridge, Verona, Bloomfield, Belleville and Nutley.

The location of the new terminal was chosen, as the result of interviews with more than six hundred Essex County—New York bus users.

It is one door from Fifth Avenue and across the street from the New York Public Library.

The terminal has been fitted up with every accommodation for passengers.

The route of the lines gives passengers access to the main shopping districts of the Metropolis and to the theatre district, centered around Times Square.

It avoids the congestion, north of 42nd Street. Buses stop on any corner (far side in New York) to receive or discharge passengers.

Buses leaving the terminal take the most direct route to the Holland Tunnel and New Jersey.

For schedules, fares and routes of these lines, obtain a timetable from the operator or write "Passenger Agent, Public Service Terminal," 80 Park Place, Newark, N. J.
