TOWN OF BELLEVILLE

PRICE TWO CENTS

P E P

By Grace G. Bostwick

Vigor, vitality, vim and punch—
That's pep!
The courage to act on a sudden hunch—
That's pep!
The nerve to tackle the hardest thing
With feet that climb, and hands that cling,
And a heart that never forgets to sing—
That's pep!

Sand and grit in a concrete base—
That's pep!
Friendly smile on an honest face—
That's pep!
The spirit that helps when another's down,
That knows how to scatter the blackest frown,
That loves its neighbor, and loves its town—
That's pep!

To say "I will"—for you know you can—
That's pep!
To look for the best in every man—
That's pep!
To meet each thundering knockout
blow,
And come back with a laugh, because you know
You'll get the best of the whole darned show—
That's pep!

Elks' Home Engaged
For Card PartyRecreation House Too Small
To Hold Monster Crowd
From Hill Top

Working like Trojans of old, the female members of the Belleville on the Hill Improvement Association have made it necessary to change the holding of their card party on April 23 from the Recreation Center to Elks' Hall. And a mighty good move too. The question now only remains where will they put all the players. It may be necessary, judging from present indications, to open the small hall on the second floor to accommodate all the customers.

The prizes must be the attraction or is it the persuasiveness of the ladies? Whatever it is that caused the great demand for tickets it looks like a complete sell-out. We are willing to bet two miles of Chinese yens or two car-loads of Russian Rubles or any like sum that if Union avenue were opened up, traffic would be blocked north and south of Jerusalem street. And here's the reason. Any part of the day or night a huge crowd might be witnessed milling around the Union avenue Tailor Shop at Union avenue near Jerusalem street where, the card trophies are on display. That the competition will be keen, goes without saying.

The committee is now counseling whether or not it would be advisable to secure the services of Milton Work or some other outstanding authority on bridge, to referee the bouts. The Hill will make the famed deserted village look like a crowded city on the night of the festivities. For it is certain that every man and woman will be there. Chief Flynn will undoubtedly have to swear in an additional force of policemen to augment his present force to patrol the block after block of empty homes on the crest of the town. And just as a matter of confidence the commissioners have all been invited. Well, that stamps the affair as officially sanctioned and successful.

The wrist watch for which the tickets are dated April 26 will positively be disposed of on the night of the card party. Husbands are warned to wear their shin guards for those gentle hints under the table. Otherwise the affair will go over big and no casualties.

EASTER CARDS. See Victor Hart first. Special 10 and 15c cards for 5c. Largest selection in Belleville. Other cards 3c to 15c. A beautiful line of jewelry and gifts for Easter. Victor Hart, Reliable Jeweler, 457 Washington avenue, cor Tappan.

Easter, April 20.—Largest selection of greeting cards and gifts in town. Come and see our artificial flowers and place orders for Easter party favors and decorations. Guildhall Gift Shop, 328 Washington avenue. Tel 3122.

"RUN" WILLIAMS
GROUP AT MEETING

"I choose to run for Commissioner on May 13. I am not a candidate for the directorship of any one of the five departments. This subject is to be bridged during the conference fact that the Walsh Act is nothing more or less than the operation of 5 oligarchies, the director of each being premier and master. I do not hold such a view and I do not think any court would interpret the Walsh Act thusly! To me the Director of a Department merely executes the decisions arrived at when the Commission has adjourned after legislating. My platform is issued on the assumption that I will sit on the Board participating in the deliberations and vote on matters pending. I will admit there has been too much of "you take this and I'll take that

Carragher Outlines
His Further ViewsHospital Idea Long His Hobby Is Urged
Again

"I have discussed with you in the past two weeks, through the medium of the press, matters of vital interest to the people of the Town of Belleville. Today I propose to outline my views on two more important problems—hospitalization and the health of our children," says Commissioner Frank J. Carragher to Belleville voters.

"Belleville is, undoubtedly, in need of a home for its sick and infirm; a place within the town limits where those stricken down by accident and disease may find a haven in which to grow strong, sound and healthy; a haven where helpless and needy can, with expert care and attention, be rejuvenated so that they may regain their proper places in our scheme of things.

"If Belleville can spend $713,000 in its 1930 budget, it can surely go a little further and form the nucleus for a general hospital. Let us, if we must, in the interest of economy, curtail expenditures in other directions—go without things here and there—in order to safeguard the health of our people. We have as fine a group of physicians as can be found in any municipality of our size

RECEPTION

THE NEWS . . . AND CLARK

In another column of today's News appears a letter from Commissioner Clark announcing the opening of his campaign for re-election. Mr. Clark's strong position today is due, in our opinion, to the trait that sticks out from every sentence of that letter. He is NOT a politician.

When others are shouting from the house tops their qualifications, making promises of what they will do or will not do, Clark, keeping his feet firmly on the ground of fact, states his position—and yet—NO MAN IN A GENERATION HAS DONE MORE FOR BELLEVILLE THAN HAS CLARK. The Police, the Fire Department, the Board of Health, the Garbage Removal have all been reorganized, revamped, so that today Belleville, thanks to Commissioner Clark, gets from our neighboring towns the credit for having these departments organized to a degree not excelled by any, if indeed it is equalled by any.

In the paper also appears an advertisement paid for by the original group of Clark boosters. We are going to add another name to those which appear in that advertisement—OURS.

We were for Clark in those days when to be a Clark Man was to be sympathized with because "HE DIDN'T HAVE A CHANCE." Today we are still proud to be for Clark. We are content now to share Clark with the thousands of men and women to whom he is the representative of decency, clean living, clean thinking, progressive, but still conservative, cautious, considerate and dependable. There is no cleaner, finer man in this or any other town and we are proud to line up for him and urge his overwhelming re-election to the end that it can then be said that large expenditures, and a political organization are not necessary in Belleville.

All Are Invited
To Hear Apostolate
Fathers Of New York

The introduction of the Apostolate Fathers of New York City, as the preachers and directors of the Mission at St. Peter's Church, April 27 to May 11, has met with favorable interest and wonder.

The Fathers have been known throughout the metropolitan district as being popular with all classes, Catholic and non-Catholic, due to consideration given to all making inquiry and personal interest to the one seeking religious consolation, based upon the desire to be informed and reformed.

The Fathers are to invite the ladies for the first week, April 27, and entertain the men May 4 to 11.

Every chance will be afforded all, irrespective of time or inconvenience to see the Fathers, personally.

The character of the Mission, will be inviting—no desire to offend—but will to serve and satisfy. The religious invitation should be accepted by all, as the invitation of the Lord, to be better known, is always interesting. The parishioners are as in all things relative to religion, heartily in accord with the program of the mission.

It is the wish of the Fathers of the parish, the opportunity will be accepted in the spirit extended.

Hyde Auxiliary

The auxiliary will meet every Tuesday afternoon at the Elmer S. Hyde for Commissioner Club headquarters, 527 Washington avenue.

CLARK IS CLARK AND THATS'
WHY HE IS PILING UP VOTE

"In announcing my candidacy for which is just about half finished, I re-election as a commissioner of Belleville, I feel it would be useless for me at this time to attempt to sell any voters as to my capabilities," says Commissioner William D. Clark.

"I have been in office four years.

During that time I have tried to represent all of the people of the town. I have tried to be courteous, never forgetting that after all I was simply a symbol, representative of our form of government, and representing almost 30,000 men and women who, in the main, were governed by the same impulses, liked the same things I did, and who pretty much asked nothing more than to be left alone in the normal pursuit of a livelihood.

"I could make a lot of promises and use a lot of words in describing what I expected to do. I could also spend a lot of money. Personally, I cannot bring myself to that kind of campaign. It has been said that I am not a politician. I do not expect to be. I have taken my job seriously and I have tried to do my part as I saw it, to the very best of my ability. I have endeavored to keep every promise of my platform that I made four years ago, and I have succeeded.

"If, therefore, the people of Belleville believe that I have done a job and are willing to let me return for four more years to complete the job ing the municipality from which I am now speaking, namely Jersey City. These measures provide for the suspension of the State Road Tax and would bring an immediate tax reduction of ten points to every municipal tax payer in New Jersey.

These bills have been approved by the most outstanding financial men in the state, yet for some unknown reason, probably political, are receiving no consideration from the members of the Legislature.

"And let me say right here, if the Legislature is ignoring these measures, for what appears to be purely partisan reasons, it is making another of its colossal mistakes.

Point Of Confiscation
Taxation today has reached very close to the point of confiscation; relief must come to the small taxpayer; the public will no longer stand for partisan interference and the municipal official is serving notice on the State Legislature that he will no longer sit supinely by while the State Government creates Commission after Commission, appropriating for their use huge sums of money to study tax relief, while thousands of homes are literally being torn from the small home owner through inability to pay unjust taxes.

No, the municipal official will henceforth be militant. Too long has he silently shouldered the responsibility of high taxes. From now on he will place the blame where it justly belongs.

My friends, this is just the kind of battle that I enjoy, and if re-elected to the office of Commissioner of the Town of Belleville I shall carry this fight directly to the people of the State until the taxpayer as well as the Legislature is firmly convinced that relief must come through a halt on Mandatory Legislation.

"Next Sunday afternoon at the same hour I shall again discuss the question of Tax Relief, and will point out other State Laws that result in unjust taxation to the municipal taxpayer, and in closing may I say that I will welcome any communications dealing with the subject under discussion. Letters may be addressed to Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, care of this station or to Belleville, N. J."

Carragher-Figurelli Boosters Gather

The second weekly meeting of the Citizens' Non-Partisan League, formed to aid the candidacies of Commissioner Frank J. Carragher and former Recorder Samuel Figurelli, was held last evening at the law office of Thomas D'Avella, 46 Belmont avenue.

Harry A. Pine, president of the Essex County Hebrew Republican Club, and William Duben, both practicing attorneys of Newark, spoke on the need of organization and co-operation.

The membership increased to seventy-nine workers. Plans for a woman's auxiliary have been formulated, and the ladies will hold their first meeting on April 25.

In addition to officers elected at the last meeting, Nuncio Pico was selected as corresponding secretary. Campaign headquarters were decided upon. The membership felt that due to the large territory covered, there should be two headquarters where members may meet and discuss problems and centralize their forces. The St. Anthony Field Club rooms, at Franklin street, and the law office of Mr. D'Avella were decided upon.

The next meeting of the organization will be held on Monday evening.

Belleville Separates To Open Tomorrow

Belleville Separates, after four weeks of strenuous practice under the guidance of Manager Peps George and Captain Paul Belrose, are all set to open their baseball season tomorrow afternoon, when they travel to Kiwanis Oval, Caldwell, to encounter the strong Caldwell A. C. nine who last year were entered in the defunct Suburban League. As this game will mark the opener for both clubs, Manager Richard Waugh has obtained the Mayor of Caldwell to toss the first ball.

Syl Rotond, ace of the Separates' pitching staff is ready to toss his fireball and slants at the Caldwell batters. Rotond, around whom the locals are building their hopes this year, has reached mid season form as he displayed in a practice game recently, against the Panzer College squad, when he twirled six innings allowing the opposition one hit and one run while his teammates were getting twelve hits and six runs. Clarence Mignon will work behind the bat in this contest.

Lefty Barry, Separates' youthful pitching star, is slated to take the mound Sunday afternoon, April 20, against the strong Springdale A. C. nine whom they will meet at Ellington Oval, East Orange. Gus Mills will don the mask in this contest.

Home clubs such as Nutley A. C. and Belleville American Legion wishing to book the Separates, write to Charles White, 127 Passaic avenue, Belleville.

Carragher Addresses Young Man's Congress

Town Commissioner Frank J. Carragher was principal speaker at the last meeting held by the Young Men's Congress of Newark at the Y. M. C. A. This organization is Newark's oldest debating and parliamentary practice club. The Commissioner was introduced as Belleville's leading vote getter.

He spoke on town government and many of the interesting experiences he has had in his twenty-five years of participation in municipal affairs. He advised his audience that if they wished to attain success in politics they must be honest, always ready to give every one, independent of political affiliations, a square deal, and to keep all promises made to the voters before election. He attributed his success in politics to his sincere desire to act with those three things in mind. He sketched the growth of Belleville in governmental lines, showing how it was formerly governed under the council form of government, and how it adopted the commission form of government. At the completion of his speech the club expressed its appreciation by giving the commissioner a rising vote of thanks.

Kelvinator Supplies Four Different Temperatures

ONE cold temperature was all we used to expect of a refrigerator. Now we have four distinct temperatures in the one cabinet. Kelvinator supplies them automatically with no work or adjustment on our part.

- 1 for making ice cubes.
- 2 for making them in a hurry.
- 3 for keeping meat and game fresh indefinitely. (This is a special compartment exclusive with the higher priced models.)
- 4 a dry cold temperature around fifty degrees in the food storage compartment.

There are Kelvinators sized and priced to suit every type of home. All the cabinets are well built and operate quietly and dependably. Prices are from $395 up for Kelvinators with the special food compartment shut off from the rest of the cabinet and from $215 up for models without this feature.

HIGH TAXES IN MOST PLACES DUE TO MANDATORY STATE AND COUNTY BURDEN BY LAWS SAYS KENWORTHY

Mayor Delivers General Talk On Municipal Government Each Sunday From Station WKBO

"Although I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Commissioner of the Town of Belleville, and seek this means of advancing my cause in the campaign, I shall in my brief talk over this station each Sunday afternoon at this hour, endeavor to discuss questions that will be of interest to municipal taxpayers throughout the entire state," said Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy over Station WKBO, Sunday. Each Sunday the Mayor broadcasts from that station at 5:30 in the afternoon. The wave length is 450 Kilocycles and 207 millimeters.

"Although the subject of Taxation is one of the driest topics of the day, the fact remains that it is one of the most important to the citizens of any municipality," he continued. "After four years' experience as Mayor of the Town of Belleville, I am firmly convinced that the high taxes levied in most municipalities, is not the fault of the city officials, but in a large measure is directly traceable to the unfair burden placed on both cities and counties through mandatory laws passed by the State Legislature.

"As an example—in 1927 the Legislature enacted a Law placing a two cent tax on gasoline, and at the same time exempted the automobile from personal property tax. This resulted in a loss of one million dollars in rates in my own municipality and a subsequent increase in the Tax Rate of some fifteen points.

Auto User "Kidded."
"The automobile user was merely kidded into believing that he received some benefits through this exemption, while in fact the burden of taxation was merely shifted from the automobilist to already overburdened real estate.

"The revenue derived from the two cent gasoline tax, some ten million dollars for the year 1930, goes into the construction of roads and bridges, and it is interesting to note that while the greater portion of this revenue is raised in the northern part of the state, most of the highways are being constructed in the southern part of New Jersey. To off-set

The loss to municipalities from the exemption of personal property tax on automobiles, I feel that the State should return to the municipalities some of the revenue derived from the Gas Tax.

Going Down
Again taking my own municipality as an example, it is not significant that over a period of four years the points in our tax rate representing purely municipal expenditures have decreased some forty-four points, while those representing county and state requirements have increased eleven points.

In actual revenue the Town of Belleville is raising this year through taxation for municipal purposes just $2,000 in excess of the sum raised four years ago, while the amount for State and County purposes is some $7,500 in excess of that raised four years ago.

This situation is practically the same in every municipality in the state. While city officials are cutting the yearly budgets to the very bone, the state government through mandatory Legislation is heaping untold burdens on the municipal taxpayer.

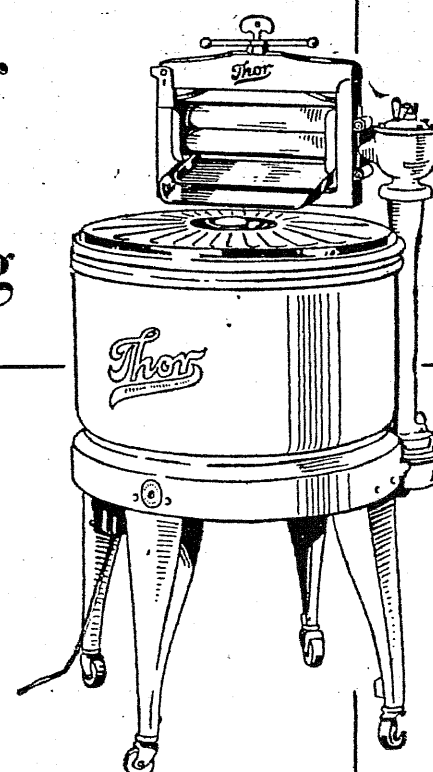

I feel that this condition must cease and as chairman of the Special Committee on Tax Relief representing New Jersey State League of Municipalities, have had measures placed before the Legislature this year, which if enacted, will bring almost immediate relief to the municipal taxpayer.

State Slow On Relief
"However the State Legislature is somewhat slow in grasping the importance of municipal tax relief, and there is a strong possibility that relief from this source will not be forthcoming this year.

"However, if I am re-elected to the office of Commissioner of the Town of Belleville in the coming election I shall during the ensuing year spend much time in an effort to convince the Legislators of the urgent need of immediate relief.

"One of the most logical methods of immediate relief would be the passage of the Guarini bills, introduced by an Assemblyman represent-

BE FAIR TO THE MOTHERS

It is very evident that serious difficulties have arisen in connection with the tours of the Gold Star Mothers to France. The first party of slightly more than 500 is scheduled to leave New York in May. Already nearly a third of the mothers assigned to the initial pilgrimage have withdrawn. Other cancellations are coming in daily.

The practical objections to a project conceived in a mood of generous sentiment are now becoming apparent. To many of the mothers who have never been away from home in their lives the long trip over-seas to strange countries is too much of an adventure at an advanced age. The problem of suitable clothing for shipboard, railway travel and hotel life is an expensive one. Although the government pays all traveling expenses, there are bound to be rather sizable incidental expenses which must be met from the pilgrim's private purse.

It is, therefore, apparent that the poorest of the mothers, the very ones to whom the generosity of the government should be extended in fullest measure are virtually barred from going to the graves of their sons in France. The mother of a family struggling in poverty is bound to her home by very practical considerations, and few of them are able to leave their cares behind them, even for a journey so close to their hearts.

What the government can do, as the News has urged before, is to give the mothers who are unable to make the trip the actual cost to the government of an individual passage. This is figured at about $850. This amount would be a blessing to hundreds of them. Each Gold Star mother whose son is buried in France is entitled to have $850 spent in her behalf by the government. If she cannot go, it is only fair and reasonable to pay her what the trip costs the government. Enough money is already appropriated to make this possible.

Unless this is done the women to benefit from this legislation will be the ones whose circumstances give them the leisure, the money and the good health to make the pilgrimage, while the others, barred by extreme poverty, household cares or poor health, will receive no consideration.

We appeal to Congress to remedy this manifest unfairness by directing the payment in cash of the cost of the trip to the mothers unable to take part in the pilgrimage.

RESPONSIBILITY OF BACK SEAT DRIVERS

The American Motorists Association has reported a decision of the Court of Appeals of Alabama which fixes the responsibility of "back seat" drivers. An automobile being operated on a state highway was proceeding at excessive speed. The driver was a chauffeur employed by the owner of the car who occupied a back seat. Both the chauffeur and the car owner were arrested charged with reckless driving, and both were convicted. The car owner appealed to a higher court which affirmed the sentence of the car owner. The court held that the car owner was equally guilty with the driver of the car because he did not protest to the driver against the speed of the car and did nothing to warn the chauffeur that he was violating the law.

This court decision apparently fixes the responsibility of the back seat driver, especially if it happens that the person occupying the back seat or any other seat in an automobile which is being carelessly operated happens to be the owner of the car.

It is pointed out that although the car owner may not be at the steering wheel of a car he is still responsible for the way the car is being driven. By cautioning the chauffeur the person who employs him may cause him to reduce the speed or drive with more care. If such a caution or warning is not given to the driver then not only the driver but the car owner can be held responsible.

Sometimes on the highways motor cars are seen which are being operated by chauffeurs who drive at excessive speed and violate the traffic regulations in other ways. If the car owner happens to be in the automobile he or she cannot shirk responsibility by claiming that the chauffeur was operating the car. Presumably the chauffeur would not drive faster than the car owner wanted him to, nor would the chauffeur cut in and out of traffic, pass other cars on a hill or do other things which are dangerous if the car owner objected.

This decision of the Alabama court when it becomes well known may help to lessen the dangers on the highways which are occasioned by reckless drivers. Whether or not other passengers in an automobile aside from its owner could be held responsible for traffic violations if they had not protested to the driver against over speeding or other manifestations of recklessness has not been determined by the courts.

THE LURE OF TRYING

It may be significant that the older school teachers rated higher in a survey made at Teachers College, Columbia University, to determine the interest of various people in their jobs. Other vocations showed no clear relation between time spent and enthusiasm gained, but teachers of 16 years' standing had 92 per cent of complete satisfaction in their jobs.

Among the causes of this may be one that applies especially to teaching. A grave defect of automatic machinery is the fact that its caretakers so easily achieve perfection. Week after week they can work without error. They have no ideal toward which to strive, for they attain it every day. But the school teachers are as far removed as possible from automatism. They deal with fluid problems and unforeseeable behavior. It is not strange if they really enjoy their work when, with the joint aid of sympathy and experience, they become proficient in their elusive art and find themselves approaching nearer to their goal of perfection, even though they know they will never reach it.

The schoolmaster was giving his class of boys their weekly Scripture lesson and the boys were in an unhappy frame of mind, for they were always kept in school later on this day.

"Can any boy quote me a text?" "Please, sir," spoke up Tommy Smart, "Judas went and hanged himself."

"That is a text, certainly," said the schoolmaster, "but cannot you give me a better one?" "Yes, sir," quickly piped up Tommy Smart, "Go thou and do likewise."

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

By ROYCE BROGDON

One of the by-products of a sales convention is a certain—or perhaps I ought to say uncertain—amount of free publicity. Occasionally, the local newspapers are willing to print three or four paragraphs to the effect that the Gonnick Manufacturing Company is holding its convention in town and that, in his banquet speech, President Geo. W. Gonnick practically admitted that the outlook for Gonnick products this year is bigger and better and brighter than ever. And occasionally, the best-laid plans for free notices go hay-wire.

It happened in a city not far distant. A certain big corporation was about to stage a regional convention. The corporation's publicity man, on hand for the gathering, deemed it a pious idea to create a little news by marching the boys down to the city hall to be welcomed by the mayor. In advance, he sounded out Hizzoner. The mayor was polite, but firm. Sorry, but very busy. And besides, wouldn't such an act on his part seem to smack of commercial partisanship?

The publicity man looked crestfallen. Doggone, but the boys would be disappointed! And the news-movie men, too—Sir? Yes, the cameramen would be present.

The mayor pinched his lower lip. He re-consulted his calendar. We-I, a man really oughtn't to disappoint visitors. And the news men, they were nuisances at times, really, but all good fellows at heart. Yes, by George, he'd do it!

He did. On the City Hall steps, he shook hands, smilingly, with the visiting salesmen, and he even made a speech with gestures.

The news-reel men were represented. Anyway, one cameraman was present, a most industrious fellow who ground away, faithfully, for more than half an hour.

But the results, I'm pained to record, were virtually nil. Two of the newspapers, which for one reason or another were putting at the mayor, ignored the story and carried not a line. And a third, which was aggressively pursuing his political scalp, printed an editorial entitled: "More Mayoral Monkeyshines."

And the mayor himself—I wonder how long he haunted the theatres, looking for hat news reel. For what I forgot to mention was that the lone but earnest cameraman was hired for the occasion by the corporation's press agent, and that, conscientiously, he had followed instructions and refrained from loading his camera with film.

Identity of the young lady is withheld, but the memory of her answer lingers on with the instructor conducting a science course at a nearby high school. One of the requirements in the written quiz was: "Define a bolt and nut and explain the difference, if any." The girl wrote:

"A bolt is a thing like a stick of hard metal, such as iron with a square bunch on one end and a lot of scratching wound around the other end. A nut is similar to the bolt only just the opposite, being a hole in a chunk of iron sawed off short, with wrinkles around the inside of the hole."

The startled professor marked that one with a large "A."

Just when we were congratulating ourselves on having foiled the "two-car-to-a-family" automobile salesman by proving we had no family, we met a jeweler who rebuked us for wearing a wrist watch in the evening. Heaven only knows how many of life's complications are due to these sales arguments anyhow!

There is a man who lives on Little street, who, so far as his efforts reveal, is in direct contrast with the name of that street. He is no other than Walter S. Mathes, aspirant for the local Commission. He is using as his slogan: "Happy Days Will Be Here Again." Step up, please, on May 13th, and give him a great big hand.

THE MANNEKIN

A few minutes away from the Grand Place of Brussels—"nobles of medieval squares"—at the corner of the Rue de l'Ecluse and the Rue du Chêne, stands the famous Mannekin Fountain. This impudent rascal is a popular hero, everywhere known as the "oldest citizen of Brussels." Whenever visiting celebrities wish to please the Brusselsers, they present the Mannekin with a new suit of clothes. He has costumes of many nations—from a Napoleonic uniform to a gaily embroidered Japanese kimono—all of which are kept by the city for him to wear on special occasions. But whether naked as he was made, or decked out in an admiral's gold braid, he continues to fulfill his role of being the merriest fountain in Europe.

THE OLD VILLAGE OF SHANKIN

The leafiest of leafy English villages is Shankin in the Isle of Wight, less than ninety miles from London. Its Old Village is known wherever English is read, for Keats in 1819 and Longfellow in 1868 both extolled its beauty. Why do people come to Shankin? There are no castles here, no Gothic art, no museums, no shrines of ancient legends. There is a beautiful beach, a chalybeate spring, an esplanade and tennis courts, but you can find these almost anywhere along the coast. The attraction of Shankin is its simple old-world beauty. A picture of its village street on a post-card looks too good to be true. Its other attraction is the "Chine," an immense chasm in one of the lofty cliffs—much like a small Norwegian fjord.

STORIES OF MAINZ

Why should one visit Mainz? One good reason is that there are so many stories about the old city. Stories of the Roman legions under Agricola who camped here nineteen hundred and fifty years ago. Stories of the building of the cathedral, and the all-powerful Archbishops of Mainz who were such an important factor in the history of the Holy Roman Empire. Then there was the starving fiddler who crept into the cathedral to play for the Virgin and who was rewarded when she kicked off her golden shoes into his hat. Mainz is Gutenberg, the first printer's town, and it was here that Becker found the Shakespeare death mask, once owned by the Kesselstadt family. Of all the towns on the Rhine, Mainz probably recalls more stories than any other.

VILLAS OF FRASCATI AND TUSCULUM

One of the most delightful excursions from Rome is south to Frascati and Tusculum. This section is higher than Rome, and cooler, so it has become a favorite summer resort for Romans and foreigners alike. There are many beautiful villas owned by famous Roman families, and often the public is admitted to the gardens of ancient trees and splashing fountains, and to the interior courtyards and galleries. It is a hard climb to see them all, so many people prefer to hire little donkeys before leaving Frascati. The road to Tusculum was built by the ancient Romans—Cicero's chariot used often to pass over it on the way to his summer place, and all the patricians came this way to the theatre which is in a fine state of preservation to this day.

A BEAUTIFUL SPA

Among all the famous spas of Europe, Bad Gastein in Austria is one of the most beautiful. It is situated in the mountains, over thirty-five hundred feet up, and is filled with the sound of many waters. Bad Gastein is built on both sides of the River Ache, which the English say is so called because it carries away all the aches and pains which may have afflicted the visitors there. Through the village and down the Gastein Valley dashes this roaring torrent, foaming beneath the bridge near the Kursaal with two mighty waterfalls. Twenty thousand visitors a year do not spoil the place, and many of them do not wait for an attack of gout to send them there to its radio-active springs, but find reason enough in coming for a good rest and holiday amid beauty and comfort.

THE CONVENT ON THE ROCK

If you want to see a real medieval convent in Italy go to Tuscany, and from Bibiena you will be able to get to La Verna, the Convent on the Rock, either on foot or in a carriage. La Verna is indeed on the summit of an impressive rock, a strange wooded height amid barren lands. It was given to St. Francis of Assisi by Conte Catani, Lord of Chiusi, in 1213. Here the saint lived his hermit life, and it is affirmed to be the scene of his Stigmata in 1224. Within are many fine works of art, and in the little Church of the Angels there is some Della Robbia. The surrounding forest is magnificent, and the view from La Penna will be ample reward for the climb.

Former Town Official Urges Hyde Support

DEAR VOTER:

I feel assured that if I were to run as a candidate for the coming commissioner election in Belleville, I could call on you as an ardent supporter. However, I believe that the pressure of my private business precludes me from entering the race and in determining not to do so, I would express a strong desire that you give your wholehearted efforts in the furtherance of the candidacy of Elmer S. Hyde, whom I consider to be an extremely valuable man for a position at the head of our town government.

Mr. Hyde resides at 275 Little street and is a very successful business man of sterling character and fitness as exemplified in his outstanding social and benevolent activities. These traits indicate that Mr. Hyde merits your trust and confidence in his ability to serve the public in an extremely honest and industrious manner.

Consequently, I would ask that you consider Elmer S. Hyde's candidacy as deserving of your utmost efforts in support thereof.

Very truly yours,
W. BRAND SMITH.

Belwood Parkers Want Line Change For Voting District

A petition signed by eighty-one residents of the south side of Smallwood avenue, Belwood Park section, requested the Town Commission Tuesday night to shift "immediately" the dividing line of the Second and Fifth districts of the Fourth Ward from the middle of Smallwood avenue to the Erie Railroad, further south. It was referred to Corporation Counsel John B. Brown for report on the board's power to make the change.

George E. Stewart Jr. of 27 Smallwood avenue, who presented the petition, said the division between the districts had been arbitrarily made, according to rumor he had heard, by a "certain great political leader of the town." The division necessitated the petitioners' walking a quarter mile around unoccupied land and the gully of Second River, through Willet street, Bloomfield, to the Soho section to vote, Stewart said.

Town Clerk John J. Daly said the districts were defined by the county election board and it was up to that board to make changes. The clerk believed it would be impossible to obtain a change for the election on May 13 but might be affected for the fall primaries.

George Lindsay was reappointed assistant town engineer for two years at a salary of $3,800. Andrew Lightbody of 263 Hornblower avenue was appointed a special police officer without pay.

Due to the municipal election May 13, the regular session of the board was advanced to May 12 at 10 A. M. with a special meeting to be held at a similar hour May 20.

Carragher Outlines His Further Views

a group of men of whom Belleville is justly proud, and who, I am sure, would give their time, liberally and gladly, to help foster a movement for a real modern up-to-date hospital.

"If a person should be suddenly stricken down by some illness, or meet with an unfortunate accident, he must be rushed to an out of town hospital or to a physician's office. Precious moments are lost because there is no centralization of remedies. He may be first taken to a physician's office, who, in most cases would be out on calls, and then to a hospital, or, he may, in the first instance be taken directly to a hospital. His ambulance is the car of some good samaritan who volunteers to lend his aid. If we had a hospital there would be no time lost in seeking out a place equipped with modern appliances and where trained nurses and physicians are always on duty; a place where the injured could receive immediately the best treatment and care known to medical science. Those precious moments sometimes mean the loss of a life. I think Belleville is entitled and should have, ultimately, a hospital which would compare favorably with any other institution of its kind. "Save a life" should be our watchword, and who knows that the next life in the balance may be yours or mine.

"I do not believe that an institution of this character could be established over night. It would take time and money, together with the unselfish services of public spirited physicians and citizens.

"There are, in Belleville today, hundreds of little children who need medical attention of one kind or another. Why can't we establish immediately and while our program of hospitalization is under way, clinics where these tots could have necessary and proper care. We could establish these clinics in our schools, to be open during the summer vacation periods. Let the municipality furnish the equipment and I feel that the town physicians would donate their services. Here minor difficulties could be remedied, such as adenoid and tonsil operations, eye ear and nose treatments, and various other things which retard the proper growth of our children, together with vaccinations and preventive measures. Here have every one equal, rich and poor alike, and let the town stand the charges, which would be small in comparison with the results accomplished. We all know there are clinics in other cities where the poor children of our town are taken for treatment, but I say, and advisedly, that the poor have always been placarded and herded as so many sheep. They are never allowed to forget that they are charity patients, and the mothers nearly always are horribly humiliated. Let's not have any so-called charity clinics. Let it be a business proposition. The town will pay the freight necessary to remedy defects in its children so that they may grow to be healthy and useful citizens. We must never forget the old and true statement that "The children of today are the citizens of tomorrow."

to do the job on an absolutely non-political basis so that my family and friends and the great majority of clean thinking, home-loving citizens will not be ashamed of me or of my actions. I do not propose to become a party to any dramatic wranglings or janglings and I cannot afford to spend a great deal of money to be re-elected.

"If elected, I promise you that I will complete the re-organization of the Fire and Police Departments to the very best of my ability. I will continue to safeguard the health of our youngsters and our people to the very best of my ability. More than that, I could not promise, and I do not believe that the great majority of people expect any more from their public servants.

"I have made mistakes and I expect to make more of them, but the mistakes I make will be because I am attempting to do something, rather than nothing. I will also make every effort to profit by my mistakes. I feel that Belleville has made great progress in four years, and while I do not claim credit for all of it, I naturally do feel a sense of pride in having had a part in it. I believe that the last four years have seen an awakening of civic pride on the part of our citizens at large, and I believe the awakening of this pride augurs well for the future of our town.

"I might say that nothing that has happened recently has made me feel quite so good as to find that the same small group who so wholeheartedly worked in my behalf and to whom I feel eternally grateful for having given me an opportunity to be of service, has again come to my support for this campaign. It seems to me that a man should be proud of the fact that after four years of so-called politics, he has not apparently broken faith with those who "knew him when" and I want to say to you men and women whom I do not know personally that I will try to keep faith with you to the same extent that I have tried to keep faith with those good friends of mine who four years ago, when I was practically unknown politically, put me across in one of the most hectic elections the town has ever seen. It has been my earnest desire to so conduct myself in office that there would be no need for such hectic elections, and that our town could settle down to enjoy its standing among its neighbors to which it is entitled by all the advantages it possesses. As the campaign progresses, it is my purpose to outline some of the plans which I have for continued progress in the department coming under my jurisdiction.

May I say to you therefore that in this letter which is more or less a personal message to every man and woman in town and not a piece of political propaganda, that I have thoroughly enjoyed my four years in office. I would like to go back and continue the work which I have mapped out for the departments in which I am vitally interested. I do not propose in this late day of my life to do anything that would harm you or the town in which we live, and I promise you that everything I do will be done to the best of my ability for the best interests of Belleville.

ANTI-KAMNIA

Being the latest collection of political tid-bits, some good, some bad, gathered by this columnist as he travels, thither and yon, without benefit of censor of the publisher of this worthy paper or the present board of commissioners.

(Editor's note:—The views of this columnist are his own personal views and are not governed by the policies of the publisher.)

At last—At last. We knew it had to come. Clever boys these Radio Entertainers.

Just goes to show you what advertising value there is attached to putting it "On the Air."

The folks over the entire country have gone radio mad. That is they have certain favorites. And plague take the individual who dares to break in on their home when they listen to that mighty broadcast.

Of course few guesses have to be advanced who the most popular artists are today.

Their check and double check is nationally known. Amos and Andy are known in every city, town and hamlet in these good old United States, including Belleville.

Yes sir — Belleville knows Amos and Andy's check and double check.

The townspeople are getting it over the air, in the high-ways and by-ways, every school boy and girl repeats it like the good old nursery rhymes.

And "Believe it or not" (with apology to Ripley of the New York American) we are getting it from candidates in the present Commission race.

We first noticed it when "Carry" came tripping along.

Now we see that famous radio phrase emblazoned in bold red letters on bill-boards on Belleville's main artery—Washington avenue.

Well, well.—It looks like Amos and Andy are due for royalties, hereabouts.

And that aint all the news, folks. Of course you folks all remember the Boston Tea Party.

History will repeat itself. The Boston Party was a real tea party.

We recently had a "Tea" party in town. At any rate our big contemporary the "Sunday Call" published an interesting account of it.

We noticed the list of invited guests, included among others all the various county committeemen and women.

The writer was of the opinion that the municipal election was being run on a non-partisan basis. Such being the case, why, I wonder, as must others, were these men of both major political factions who should take a neutral stand (and in most cases no doubt will) being wine and dined for by a prospective commissioner. This game of politics has its queer angles.

It has been brought to the writer's attention that the newspaper's list of invited guests was a "packed" list since almost 50 per cent of those present were conspicuous by their absence.

The writer can feel for the generous host and hostess in preparing for the invited guests who failed to appear. That same experience has been ours as it is undoubtedly the lot of others.

Incidentally the town is going wet. Yes sir, man. It's going for "Waters."

The signs of the times indicate that "Waters" will deluge the town. Wherever one goes, to whomever one speaks its "Waters."

It looks like the present political aspect is reverting to a decade ago when the almost impossible in this town or any other town happened.

An almost unanimous ballot for "Doc" Waters.

The present Commissioner, like his illustrious brother, has won a place in the town's hall of fame.

And the writer is decidedly inclined to concur with the majority opinion.

Making a bid for a place on the board four years ago, beaten, then appointed to a vacancy created, this real he-man of the house of Waters tackled a behemoth of an assignment.

Stouter hearts have quaked and broken under similar tasks but not Waters.

Assigned the Department of Water, Streets and Engineering, he has brought order out of chaos.

Departments which showed deficits in previous administrations now show a healthy balance on the credit side of the ledger.

Streets that were an eye-sore and discredited to the most decrepit mushroom mining town now take their place among the finest improvements anywhere.

But say you this is all big talk.

idle chatter, campaign gossip and what not.

Friends, let us open the records. Words are mere scratchings on the tablet of time. But facts and figures are engraved in indelible letters of gold.

Take for instance the Engineering Department.

The budget shows this department as an expense item of $24,000. In the year 1928 this department alone showed a profit of $4,000 as compared to deficits of previous administrations in which the Engineering was handled on a percentage basis. This percentage method is also in vogue in other municipalities not as efficiently governed as ours. Commissioner Waters is entirely responsible for this healthy condition.

The Water Department.—In the year 1926, when this department was not under his supervision showed a deficit of $14,000. In 1927 part of which year it was under his supervision it still showed a loss but this was reduced to $3,000. In 1928 the first year it was entirely under his supervision, it showed a profit of $8,000 the first time in more than a dozen years and in 1929 a still further profit of approximately $6,000,000.

And here is the low down on how this happened. Previous to the present administration all water mains, sewers, sewer laterals, hydrants, and so forth, were laid and placed by municipal employees. The present administration is now placing all this work on contract with competitive bidding.

And here again Waters, with the cooperation of his board colleagues, or at least the major number of them was responsible.

Now we come to the Department of Highways. Here is something tangible that the average layman not educated to engineering and sewerage and sub-surface construction can see with his own eyes. And an old axiom very aptly reads: "What the eye sees the heart must believe."

Miles, not feet or yards, but miles of real honest to goodness concrete pavement, sidewalks, granite curbs and gutters have been paved and laid under the present administration.

Shining white pavements now stretch out every where. It is said that a man who can make two blades of grass grow where but one sprouted before is making this world a better place to live in.

Waters and his associates or at least the greater number of his associates have done just that and more. By his and their accomplishments they have made blocks of homes with satisfied owners where only an occasional home stood here and there.

Is it any wonder that this town is going Waters?

May 13 will give the voters a golden opportunity to show Waters and the other members of the board who gave the town service, that their efforts were appreciated, that they were not in vain and their service is wanted for another four years.

At least three of the present board should receive this testimony of good faith but to Waters belongs the palm.

Too-de-loo, until next week.

ANTI-KAMNIA.

—you leave alone and I won't annoy you." Cooperation is legion. When the Pennsylvania Railroad system some years ago found the science of aviation likely to be a serious contender in the transportation with the railways, the Pennsylvania did not appropriate money for propaganda to stagnate aviation, instead, they cooperated with the result that today, a man can travel from New York to Los Angeles and save from thirty-one to thirty-six hours.

"With these thoughts as my basic philosophy for the usefulness of Government by Commission in municipalities like our town I commit my program to the citizens, department by department, as now function in Belleville.

Department of Public Affairs—"The problem of the poor is a permanent responsibility of a town. It always has and always will be. I propose that the Commission see that no family is dispossessed because the breadwinner is unemployed; to see the coal bin empty because of the same reason; to see children suffer when people are always ready to stand by and assist. Our poor problem in Belleville needs the cooperation of the National Bureau of Municipal Research and other contributing information from various social service agencies.

The Building Department is one of the most essential bureaus in the life of Belleville's government. Around it comes the great question of zoning with its other momentous questions demanding adjustment to the end that the rights of those who carry the burden in the same neighborhood may not be jeopardized by their own should not be. I have had experience of investigating three and a half years as a member of the Zoning Board and my itineraries have carried me to examine twenty-five or thirty major cities and towns in the East. The Zoning Commission is commendable for the integrity and ability of its present personnel. I am surprised that the other members of the Town Commission did not avail themselves of the opportunity which was theirs by right to submit names for this important body. We look forward with a measure of confidence to its ultimate findings. Public servants receive compensation far beneath service rendered. To protect the Town and these people who do the day's work, I am in favor of compensation insurance for all town employees.

The Director of Public Affairs is charged with the responsibility of naming the personnel who compose the Board of Education. No qualification is too broad, no character too high for this important task. I believe the American public school system is the finest educational institution upon earth. I would rather cut my right arm off than interfere with its progress and my colleagues at the table of the Town Commission will find me a bitter antagonist if the day ever came when we individually or collectively would interfere with the operation of our schools.

Revenue And Finance—"The 'outs' have always wanted reduction of taxes; and the 'ins' have maintained experience taught wisely that a progressive town paid its way a hundredfold when it kept step with the march of progress economically but always substantially.

The question of water in the operation of this department is vital. We have been cooperating with the leading municipalities and the water commissions of the State in the hope of giving our citizens water second to none. I propose a continuance of that policy.

Since the Department of Revenue and Finance prepares the budget, scrutinizes the orders and signs the checks, it seems to me a double check could be kept upon all this program by the establishment of a central purchasing bureau. We will look forward to the report of our neighboring city on the subject in the next few weeks and be guided, I am sure, at the decisions rendered.

I am in favor of the Law Department inquiring more carefully into the records of properties seized for

Would You Sell Your Eyes?

A ridiculous question surely, for your eyes are your dearest possessions.

Then in buying service for your eyes, glasses that will help them in their daily performance of providing you with vision, is price more important than assurance that you are giving them their best aid?

We are equipped to give you a professional and scientific service, at a moderate price. Cheap glasses mean cheap eyes—don't let a few pennies stand in your way to perfect vision.

non-payment of taxes in order that we may have a title whose clearness is beyond question. With me this is a vital proposition and I hope it will prove commendable as certainly it is a most important factor in disposing of these parcels of land on a par with their worth.

Public Improvements—This department clings to the roots of engineering genius to keep our streets well paved, well cleaned, well lighted and well watered. I am in favor of the elimination of politics from this department in order that a greater degree of efficiency prevails.

Washington avenue is our main artery of travel. I am in favor of eliminating overhead wires and the dilapidated poles that hold the arc lights. Much of this cost would be borne by public utility companies. The other charges would more than carry themselves by virtue of increased real estate activity. This is a proposition that needs permanent solution. I pledge my best efforts to its accomplishment. I reiterate the merchants on the avenue will not only be the benefactors but the entire town will prosper because of it.

Transportation deserves more than mediocre attention. I think its solution will never be permanent, neither progress. We are within ten miles of New York. We can take from it many lessons. The day is gone by when the demagogue can rise in political meetings and abuse every activity of public utility operation. The time has arrived, however, when public officials must realize that never before have people been so clever to the art of every activity that centers upon each problem of daily life as now, therefore, I propose the solution of every transportation problem in this manner: That the town commission with the officials of these corporations sit in a round table conference and play their cards candidly, conscious of the obligation due the investor of these corporations and the public's constant welfare.

Public Safety—Grim experience has taught Belleville many lessons because of her lack of equipment to catch the criminal. I have nothing but praise for the entire personnel which give their lives that our fortunes will be secure. The time has come when the Police Department of Belleville needs the establishment of a detective and finger print bureau and an effort be made to have our men attend the various police training schools about this vicinity.

Public health is the mechanism for the all great reason of Government existence; we are obligated to better the conditions under which man lives—to protect the rights of the weak—and defend the rights of all. Our duty is as plain with health as with property. I am of the opinion the Health department of Belleville shortly will have to expand its activities in order that its influence will be more generally felt. I propose to call into conference the entire resident medical men in order that their views on every subject of this matter will be of constant benefit to the Commission in its duty. Here I might add, I am in favor of playgrounds operating twelve months of the year in order that the health of children will be better served by outdoor exercises, clean environment and secure from traffic and accidents. We are giving great care to the question of highways these days. I pledge myself to go to the limit to see that every specification is lived up to and only material of enduring quality will be laid upon our streets so that when the tax payer goes down in his pockets it is with consciousness of knowing he is getting his money's worth.

We have had endless surveys on the garbage problem from one end of the land to the other. Not only our beaches but the desecrated river holds impure water where once the pride of our people flowed by this town. Our vacant lands have been made the graveyards of this mess. Incineration is the remedy, but we are not able to tackle the problem alone. I have gone far for some years past in ascertaining the disposition of Towns like Nutley, Bloomfield, Kearny, Arlington, and others to see if we could not get a coordinated plan to take care of this problem. I think one can be so devised where the collection and disposal of garbage under this system will be cheaper than we do today with the added cost of unkind odors and a dissipated outlook in the neighborhoods where this menace has thrived.

Public Property—The day is not far distant when our Town Hall will be unable to accommodate the wide spread activities that Belleville is taking on at the present time. I am opposed to leasing stores or buildings for such purpose. I think a survey on the question of working areas for department employees is in order that all of the projects planned or under way may not be hampered by lack of room to execute them properly.

Conclusion—The history of political platforms is sad. The chasm that divides promise and performance is filled with idealism undelivered. To scale these heights may be beyond my capacity but I make one promise—to keep faith with those who trust me."

Wesleys Lose Final Fracas On Court

Wesley Girls' Five Defeated In Preliminary Game

The Wesley Church basketball squad lost its final court game of the season, Thursday night, to the strong Sanford Street Big Five of East Orange, 35-21, at the winner's court.

The game was fast and furious throughout, especially in the first half, at the end of which the Sanfordites held a slim 16-15 edge. The winners got off to a fast start, leading 10-5 at quarter time, but a fine come-back on the part of the locals in the second quarter almost tied the count.

The East Orangeites were not to be denied, however, and easily clinched the game in the second half. They completely submerged the locals in this period registering nineteen times to the visitors' six.

The bright spot in the Wesley's performance was the co-starring of "Sonny" Hosking and Stan Goodrich, forward and center respectively of the losing combination.

Each of the duo accounted for eight points, or sixteen of their team's twenty-one points between them. They also excelled as team players, starting time and again a Wesley passing outburst which would finally result in a double-decker.

The other point collectors for the church quintet were Jimmie Metz, who succeeded in a trio of foul tries, and Johnnie Carrough, who heaved in a single two-pointer to complete the point tallying.

Duryea was easily outstanding for Sanford Street, accounting for fourteen points, as well as starring on the defense.

In a preliminary game the Wesley girls' five received a set-back at the hands of the Sanford Street girls' squad, 10-3.

The game was much more close and more keenly fought than the score might indicate. At half time, the tally remained at 3-1 in favor of the winners and the following half was just as close, although some fine shooting on the part of Fullilian of the East Orange combination closed the gap and provided the homesters with more than enough margin.

Compton was the ace of the Wesley's attack, while Fullilian performed in a similar role for the winners.

Bloomfield G. E. Rehearses For Show

The employees of the General Electric Company, Bloomfield Works, are working hard for their presentation of the musical show "Page The Prince" to be held in the Orange High School, May 2 and 3.

This is one of the most picturesque of the shows that have been put out by the Rogers Company in some years. The theme is similar to that of "Graustark" or "Rosalie," Marilyn Miller's latest success of the New Amsterdam Theatre in New York. The story has to do with a Prince and Princess of a mythical country on the Rhine who act as cabaret entertainers over here to raise funds for their impoverished Fatherland. Comedy predominates and there are many very tuneful musical numbers in the new show.

Observe Arbor Day By Planting Trees

The Home and School Association of School No. 10, participated in Arbor Day exercises at the school Friday. Two trees were planted in front of the building in the name of the association and the pupils.

Mrs. George P. Beach, president of the association, put on the first shovelful of earth in the plantings. The principal, Miss Gladys McCormick, applied the second. Supervising Principal George R. Gerard was a speaker. The committee on planting comprised Mrs. Harry Parkhurst, Mrs. Robert Gannon and Mrs. W. G. Gow.

Will Start Replacing Phone Number Cards

Telephone installers will start replacing number cards in this district on April 19, in preparation for use of modified numbers next June and after.

About 460,000 telephones are affected by the new plan, all in the northern part of the State, according to C. R. O'Neill, manager for the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, and the number cards on all will have been replaced with new one before the plan becomes effective. It is expected that the work here will take the installers about eight days, in which time they will visit every home and office where there is a telephone.

The telephone numbers remain the same, Mr. O'Neill said, but the central office names are being numbered in preparation for general use of dial system service in the Northern New Jersey area within a few years, so that the number cards for use after next June carry a numeral added to the central office name.

The installers will place the modified number on the telephone instrument, and place a temporary card on top of it showing the number in use now. The temporary card is to be torn off in June.

The telephone men will make a house-to-house and office-to-office canvass of the district to avoid overlooking any telephone and will carry identification credentials with them.

County Legion Posts Are Local Guests

Fred Rossiter of Irvington Post 16 and John H. Laux of Newark Post 10, who have directed other competitions, will be in charge of the contest in Essex County.

The Camptown A. C., sponsored by Irvington Post, has won two legs on the cup donated by Commissioner John Howe in this competition. East Orange Post 73 will sponsor teams. It was announced the Essex contingent will attend the Hudson County rally May 3 at Guttenburg.

'Be Kind To Animals Week' Set For April 27 To May 3

The New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is taking steps to enlarge its educational and informal branches through the distribution of printed matter and a series of radio broadcasts, and other publicity informing the public of the purpose of the "Be Kind to Animals Week" which will be observed in this State the week of April 27 to May 3.

The "Be Kind to Animals Week" will inaugurate many educational features designed to awaken public consciousness to the need for animal care and protection, and it will be observed nationally by humane societies and S. P. C. A.'s throughout the country, it was announced by John Halsey Shields, secretary. "These societies will co-operate in focusing the attention of people on their personal responsibility and duty toward dumb animals," said Mr. Shields.

The S. P. C. A. of this State will enlist the aid of pastors and educators, Sunday School superintendents, Parent-Teacher Associations and other agencies, and permission will be asked of the Newark School Board through Dr. John H. Logan to carry on a program of activities which will awaken young minds to the need of protecting their pets and looking after unfortunate animals, through the co-operation of principals and teachers in arranging these classroom activities in the primary, junior high and high schools.

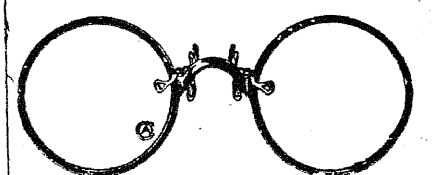

Colored posters visualizing some phase of animal care will be placed in Churches, Sunday Schools, store windows and other public places and an effort will be made to enlist the aid of the women's clubs of the state for cooperation in the Society's educational work.

"To illustrate one of the many calls made upon the local S. P. C. A.," said Mr. Shields, "a woman sent a young Boston Bull puppy to us for medical care. The animal was in a pitiable condition, and upon examination by Dr. Henry Vander Roest, an active friend of the Society's work, the puppy was found to be suffering from St. Vitus' dance. The first case of St. Vitus', by the way, coming under the attention of the local Society. With care, nerve tonics, and some adjustments, by Dr. Edward Carroll, another good friend, the puppy is gradually improving and gives every evidence of developing into a nice dog, who will eventually gladden the heart of some lucky youngster. It just goes to prove," concluded Mr. Shields, "that even the poor, dumb animals are not immune from the nerve-wrecking virus of this modern jazz-age."

The Society, at its headquarters at 29 Elizabeth avenue, is formulating other plans for a membership drive and Mrs. Virginia F. Preston, acting superintendent, has made preparations to receive personal and telephoned requests for information pertaining to animal care. A lost and found department, complaint bureau, and day and night telephone service for emergency calls will be maintained. The Society intends to further acquaint people with its varied humane service and enlarge its educational activities as a clearing house for pets, and works of mercy toward dumb animals.

Belleville 1422

At this time, four years ago, W. D. Clark announced his candidacy for Commissioner of the town of Belleville. In the particular section in which he lives, he had long been known for his progressiveness, his firm belief in the town, and his interest in all those things which go to make up good community life. Clark, personally clean in mind and method of living, stood, to that little group who then rallied to his support, for all those things which we felt a great majority of the people also stood for. We felt then that the great majority of people were tired of having Belleville appear in such an unfavorable light in the newspapers, that the majority were just like they are in other towns; they wanted to bring up their children in decent clean surroundings; they wanted to be proud of their town they wanted their Police and Fire Departments reorganized and equipped to handle the great growth in the population of the town.

We felt then that the people, left to their own choice rarely make mistakes, and that if we could only present to them W. D. Clark as we knew him, that the town would be proud to have him as one of their commissioners.

CLARK WAS ELECTED

Today Clark belongs not to a section but to all the town. He has been a commissioner for four years. He has kept every one of his campaign promises. He has conducted himself in a manner that has contributed much to the standing of the town. Today we find an overwhelming sentiment from practically every section of town for Clark's re-election. Under the circumstances, therefore, we take a particular pride as members of that little group of four years ago, in again presenting to the people of Belleville, the man who stands so clearly for all these things that the majority of people stand for.

There are, of course, many new people in town who have not had an opportunity to know Clark as Belleville now knows him. It is those people particularly we address at this time, reiterating our faith in the man, proud of the fact that four years of public office have not changed him in any respect, that he still stands for those things that contribute to a clean, healthy, moral and progressive community, and proud also of the fact that he has proven that it is not necessary for a man to sacrifice his self-respect or change his mode of living, or to be a politician in order to continue to hold public office.

We feel there is no question but what Clark will be re-elected, but it is our hope that Clark will be overwhelmingly re-elected, and we solicit the support of every clean-thinking, clean-living, civic-minded person in the town to give their unqualified support to the kind of official that W. D. Clark has been and Teachers' Conference—First Monday.

Notes
Sunday, 11 A. M.—There will be the usual Easter Service. Let every man and woman that believes in the church make an effort to worship, in the house of God, next Sunday.

Sunday, 7:45 P. M.—The W. W. Guild will have charge of the evening service and will present a pageant, entitled, "He Is Risen." This service will be held in the Social Hall as it will be necessary to use the stage and accommodate the large audience. The entrance is on Bremond street. It is requested that those who plan to be present will be in their seats when the curtain rises so that there may be no confusion during the opening scenes of this wonderful Biblical presentation. Those who were present at the Christmas pageant will require no urging to be present next Sunday evening at Grace Church.

Owing to the lateness of the hour on account of the Passion Week service being held in Grace Church Monday evening, it was deemed best to have Mr. Graham, who was to speak on "Reminiscences of a Toastmaster" hold over for a month. The Men's Club who had brought Mr. Graham to Belleville, felt that it would be an injustice to the speaker to have him give his lecture as the hour was late. Mr. Graham kindly consented to come back at a date to be fixed by the club. The club carried on their regular meeting, after which they served refreshments and all had a good time. Any man that is looking for good fellowship will find it with the men of Grace Men's Club. The privileges of the club are open to any man in the town of good character. Any man will be made welcome. Religion or creed is no barrier to membership in the club. It is open to the men of the community; that desire to avail themselves of this privilege. Application blanks for membership may be obtained from the president, Mr. Charles Thomson, 32 Overlook Avenue, or Mr. George Karrer, 11 Preston street, who is the secretary.

In my reading the other day, I came across a little poem, author unknown, entitled: "Myself," that set me thinking. How much better would the world, the community be, in which we live if we would but practice the thought expressed. That others may enjoy it, I pass it on.

MYSELF
"Let me be a little kinder,
Let me be a little blinder
To the faults of those around me,
Let me pray a little more:
Let me be, when I am weary,
Just a little bit more cheery,
Let me serve a little better,
Those that I am striving for.
Let me be a little braver,
When temptations bid me waver,
Let me strive a little harder,
To be all that I should be;
Let me be a little meeker,
With the brother that is weaker,
Let me think more of my neighbor,
And a little less of me."

The Ladies Auxiliary of Grace Church will meet at the home of Miss H. C. Hagenmiller, 72 Beech street, Thursday afternoon. A good program has been prepared and Miss Hagenmiller is expecting you.

Speaking with a man the other day who was requesting my aid in finding something for him to do, that he might support his family, he said that he had made many applications but that his age, evidently, was against him. It would seem that some industries have not yet learned as has Mr. Henry Ford, that the man in middle life, or better, is of more value than the younger man, with little or no responsibility. Henry Ford says, "The older man may not be as quick on his feet; but he uses his head more, and accomplishes a great deal more in the same time, than the young man, who rushes hither and thither, without considering the importance of his task." The Watchman-Examiner, New York, in a recent number made this statement. The Associated Press recently sent out two assertions made by leaders at the last meeting of the American Management Association. "In the steel industry, the proportion of persons 45 to 50 years of age to 64, 142 per cent in the last twenty years; from 55 years of age to 64, 142 per cent and 65 years of age and over, 3 per cent." Mr. J. P. Jordon, New York City, said, "A good executive whether he is 40 or 60 years of age is a good executive. Age in years in numerous instances, provides a positive argument in favor of employment of an executive." Those who have the responsibility of hiring help would do well to ponder and meditate on the above two assertions, made by such an important body as is the American Management Association.

Much of the work of the local churches is slowed up on account of the Union Passion Week Services. The services are being held Monday evening, at the Grace Church; Tuesday evening, at the Reformed Church; Wednesday evening, at the Fewsmith Memorial Church; Thursday evening, at the Wesley M. E. Church and Friday evening at the Christ Reformed Church. The meetings begin at 8 P. M.

We wish the Senior Class of our high school a happy time on the annual pilgrimage to the national capitol. We trust that as they look in on congress that they may not be seized by the ambition to be Congressmen or Senators. May they be filled with a new love and devotion to their country as they gaze upon some of the sacred places in our national history and come back with a deeper appreciation of the greatness of the republic.

WESLEY M. E.
Rev. Edgar M. Compton

Easter Sunday morning the Rev. Edgar M. Compton has chosen "The Open Sepulchre" as his sermon topic. The Sacrament of Baptism will be administered, and new members will be received into the church. There will be special Easter music and singing by the choir.

In the evening, Mr. Compton's sermon will be "Good Tidings." Many members of the Young Woman's Auxiliary of the Ladies' Aid are busily making cocoanut cream, chocolate covered Easter eggs to sell for the benefit of their auxiliary. They are made of pure, fresh ingredients, taste simply delicious, and are going like the proverbial "hot cakes." Better get yours now, or place your order immediately so that your kiddies will not be disappointed. They are for sale at the home of Miss Frank Dorman, 168 Cedar Hill avenue; Mrs. Edgar M. Compton, 134 Academy street, or may be obtained from any member of the society.

On Wednesday evening, April 23, there will be a meeting of the congregation for the purpose of electing three trustees for a term of three years, and for the transaction of such other business that may come before the meeting.

Rev. E. J. Field, Rector
Rev. J. S. Nelligan, Curate

Social Society Carnival
The annual festival of St. Peter's Social Society is in the air, and the tickets for the three day Spring Carnival, May 7 to 9 inclusive, will soon be in evidence. The ladies of the society are annually complimented by a large attendance of well wishers and patrons who always anticipate original and pleasing entertainment.

Miss Teresa Salmon, chairman ex-officio of the several committees, is supported whole heartedly by the ladies in charge of the sub-committees, who are anxious to surpass, if possible, the entertaining and surprising features of past events.

The card party features on the first evening will be unusually attractive this year, judging from the plans already arranged. The Calico Hop of Old Fashioned Night, to be held the second evening, will be a rare opportunity for all who enjoy real sociability. Rhythmic music, old and modern, and the original costumes will add greatly to the gaiety of the occasion.

The unexpected may be looked for in the character of the musical and humorous program to be presented by the ensemble of the society at the entertainment on the concluding evening. This function is annually long-remembered with pleasure by those attending. The Society is the moving force for parish entertainment, and the leadership has long been conceded to it. Its excellence is well worthy of imitation by the several other parish societies now preparing social gatherings for the benefit of St. Peter's Church.

Court Santa Maria, No. 1, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold initiatory ceremonies Sunday, April 27, at St. Peter's Auditorium. A large class will have first and second degree conferred. All the neighborhood Courts are welcomed. About 500 men attended the Tri-dum observed in St. Peter's Church, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, April 9, 10 and 11 under the auspices of the Holy Name Society. The sermon was preached on Wednesday night by the Rev. Thomas Curry of St. Michael's Church, Newark; on Thursday night by the Rev. Thomas Mansfield of St. Cecilia's Church, Kearny, and on Friday night, by the Rev. Albert

Lang, O. S. B. of St. Benedict's Church, Newark.

At the similar service on the same nights the Rev. J. S. Nelligan, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Church, preached in St. Mary's, Nutley; Our Lady of Good Counsel, Newark, and St. Michael's, Newark, respectively.

The sermons were on subjects outlined by the Right Rev. Monsignor John A. Duffy, Vicar General and Director of the Newark Diocesan Federation of Holy Name Societies, as follows: Wednesday, "The Authority of the Church and Its Precepts;" Thursday, "The Holy Name Man and the Mass;" and Friday, "The Holy Name Man a Lay Missionary."

On Friday night, May 23, St. Peter's Dramatic Club will present "A College Operetta," in the auditorium, rehearsals for which are being held under the direction of Mr. J. Emile Chartrand.

The committee of arrangements consists of John Westlake, James Leonard, William McGonigle, William Herkness, John Breen, Teresa Sullivan, Marguerite Marshall, Agnes Jordan, Winifred McCoy and Greta Kinneally. The officers of the club are, president, Richard Flanagan; vice president, John Westlake; financial secretary, Agnes Jordan; recording secretary, Greta Kinneally and treasurer, William Friel.

Palm Sunday found the church filled during the morning service. A special "Bible Night" was held Sunday evening with various members of the congregation quoting Bible verses which most impressed them.

Dr. Close displayed an interesting old Bible which had been loaned him by Mr. James Moore, a member of Fewsmith. The covers of the book were made of oak taken from an old English church built in 1494.

Sunday evening, directly following the Easter service, a social hour will be held in order that members of the congregation may meet the new members informally. About seventy-five new members were received into the church last Sunday morning, many of them being parents of Sunday School scholars.

At an election of officers held in the church last Wednesday evening the following were elected: Board of Elders, Mr. James H. Mellis, Mr. James Moore, Mrs. S. A. Allen, Mr. W. H. Stone and Mr. W. L. The regular monthly meeting of the Vestry will be held this evening, at the close of the Good Friday service of music.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"DOCTRINE OF ATONEMENT," will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 20, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." (II Corinthians 5:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure" (Philippians 2:13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Work out your own salvation," is the demand of life and Love, for to this end God worketh with you." (p. 22).

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

Regular monthly meeting took place in Montclair Y. M. C. A., Monday, April 14, at 8 P. M. President Robert Luz, presiding.

President Luz appointed the following joint committees on: Bible Class Organization and Promotion, headed up by L. P. Alford of Montclair and J. P. Van Sant of Bloomfield; Rallies and Social Activities, headed up by S. P. Stackley of Watessing and R. J. Pettit of West Caldwell; Speaker's Bureau and Transportation, headed up by J. B. Brown of Belleville and P. T. Kelsey of Montclair; Publicity Committee, headed up by Warren Y. Cluff of Montclair.

The first fruits of the North Essex Federation was the Bible Class which was formed under the direct supervision of the Federation on April 8, in the Brookfield Reformed Church. The minister of this church attended one of the monthly meetings of the Federation and was so inspired by the spirit of the meeting and the Men's Bible Class Movement, he asked for help in forming a class in his own church. This help was granted at once, the Bible Class was organized on April 8, and is now functioning in a very satisfactory way.

Another matter which is receiving considerable attention is the forming of individual Bible Classes in the Belleville churches. This work is being planned under the direction of vice president J. B. Brown of Belleville and the Community Men's Bible Class of Belleville of which he is an active member.

A tentative date for a man's rally in which it is hoped that all the Men's Bible Classes and Churches of North Essex will participate, was set for November 16. This rally will probably be held in the Westminster Church of Bloomfield.

It was voted to close down the activities of the Federation on May 12, after next month's regular meeting, and reopen on September 15, with a lively program for the coming season.

Dugan Bros. Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary

Dugan Brothers, Inc., bakers for the home, noted for their 100 per cent whole wheat products, whose wagons and trucks cover the Metropolitan area, New Jersey and sections of Connecticut like a roof, celebrated their fiftieth anniversary in business April 12, 1930.

Theirs was not a big celebration, but a warm, friendly gathering of some fifteen old time friends, together with those of their co-workers who have been with them fifteen years or more, and the foreman and managers of the concern.

The main office at 290 South Fifth Street was cleared away and tables were arranged to accommodate the guests at a luncheon prepared in the Dugan Bakery by the firm's own chefs.

The old time friends present were: Norman B. Tyler, Manufacturers' Trust Company, Charles J. Pasfield, Williamsburgh Savings Bank, Charles L. Bussing, president, A. B. Careful, Inc.; Louis C. Willis, Brooklyn Lawyer; James B. Fisher, James B. Fisher Co.; Willford Christie, Francis H. Leggett Co.; R. W. Sheller, Manufacturers' Trust Company; George Boehm, well known in the grocery business; Henry O. Arnsen, jeweler; David Nicholson, president, Samuel Wild's Sons Co.; Harry F. Smaltz, Brooklyn lawyer, associated with James B. Fisher Co.

Managers of the concern present were: G. Willard Cole, Jr., Asbury Park; Pat Mc Donough, (acting) Brooklyn; Elbert Bostwick, (acting) Bridgeport; Roscoe Leach, Flushing; Theodore Reiff, Hackensack; Herbert Anderson, Lynbrook; Fred Piper, Mt. Vernon; Robert Hudson, Williamsbridge; William Thomas, (acting) Newark; Raymond Stevens, Plainfield; George Sharkey, Queens Village; James Bayne, Roselle; Edward Kelly, (acting) Stapleton, S. L.; John Finan, Cliffside; William Ludwig, New Haven; R. M. Henderson, (acting) Trenton; Bruce McComkey, (acting) Paterson; Raymond P. Shelter, plant manager at Newark; Wilfred Amerman, Queens plant manager; Albert Anderson, head inspector; Lucille Specht, office manager, and Cord C. Grote, Brooklyn plant manager.

The former present were: Oswald Sadler, William Roegan, George Lockwood, Henry Grob, John Stantsch, Ernest Ruff, Michael LaVeglia, Albert Francis, and Paul DeMaria.

In addition to the above mentioned groups, relatives of the two Dugan Brothers, Messrs. David H. Dugan and Edward J. Dugan, also attended the celebration.

Charlie Grote, Brooklyn plant manager, improvised a check room in the basement of the bakery where a boy was stationed to take care of the guests as they came in.

It is the purpose of the two Dugan Brothers to continue serving the public with their whole wheat products for many more years to come.

MORE 'DO'S' THAN 'DON'T'S' IN STYLES

Anything Attractive Is Considered Smart This Easter—Coats Will Flare—Black Is Popular

Local stores and specialty shops are doing their best to make the Easter woman of fashion ready. They are not only furnishing the last word in Paris fashions and accessories for the occasion, but are telling her just how to achieve the art of a 1930 fashion silhouette.

Coats Will Flare

Of course, she will wear either a new coat or a suit. Though good fashion never changes radically, yet what is smart this year looks very different from what was smart last year. Somehow the straight line coat of last season isn't quite right for this Easter. The smart new coat may only flare imperceptibly, but that little flare or nip here and there does change things. Many of the coats are belted and some have capes and capelet suggestions. Others boast little boleros. Some are collarless and some have scarf-like ties of fur or cloth.

These new coats have a grace all their own. They are no clumsy wraps, but they fit with the air of a dress. They do not make one look bulky. The materials, too, vary. There are soft woolsens and covert cloth. The majority of the coats are shown in black, blue and brown. Paris at the moment is wearing black with touches of white and the doubtless accounts for the preponderance of black coats.

Anything Attractive Smart

Anything attractive and flattering is considered smart. There are more

"do's" than "don'ts" this year. Never before has there been such a chance for individuality as the fashions offer this Easter. For the woman who cannot wear the popular frills there are smart little frocks of crepe silk and moracain in blue and black with pique collars and cuffs. These dresses are usually trimmed with a smart little leather belt. The sleeves are long and tight-fitting.

Hats, too, follow the same law of freedom. At last, after a season of off-face hats the woman who likes to retire under the flattering shade of a brim can be smart in such a hat. Brims are just as smart as off-face hats. Straws predominate in popularity. The majority of the Easter bonnets will be of straw this season. And as the season advances more medium-sized and larger hats will be worn than small ones.

And as for the Easter shoe—well, the opera pump is "high style," but the strapped shoe and the oxford will be always smart and appear in many new designs. Black, brown and navy blue lead in the colors for shoes. Those who wear navy-blue will wear navy-blue shoes. Bags will match in color. Those who favor the moire opera pumps will choose a matching bag of moire silk. The bags are medium-sized rather than very small or large. Envelope and underarm pouches are the favored styles.

Stockings will be chiffon and very sheer. More neutral sunburn tints seem the most popular at the moment. There is a tendency away from fancy heels, although clocks are again worn. And, of course, the Easter outfit must have its costume jewelry.

New Motor Vehicle Head Will Try To Raise Standards

Shortly after taking his oath of office at the State House, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Harold G. Hoffman emphasized his intention of raising—rather than lowering—the standards in the conduct of his department. Modern administrative methods that will reduce the cost of operating the department; more vigilance in the detection and prosecution of drunken drivers, an intensive study of traffic and safety measures designed to promote the comfort and convenience of the motorist, a crusade against 'hog' bus and truck drivers, a study of bill of sale and registration legislation with a view of correcting existing flaws, greater cooperation with the State Police Department, the adoption of a definite color scheme for license plates, an intelligent effort to eliminate the 'one light' evil, and the elimination of certain abuses by registration agents and both paid and honorary inspectors, are all included in the program of work mapped out by the new Commissioner.

Commissioner Hoffman, who will be, incidentally, the first head of the Department to drive his own car, made it known that he intends to approach many of the problems of the road from the standpoint of a motorist. He said: "There are many problems which, as time goes on, will call for careful study and effective solution. I intend to study them in the thought that the laws enacted for safety and for the regulation of traffic on our streets and highways should be administered in a spirit of helpfulness for the man or woman who drives a motor car."

"We live in an age of regulation. Life has become a complex problem, but not to a degree, I believe, that we need to lose sight of its humanizing influences. There is always a possibility of over-regulation, and we must guard against this possibility by maintaining a sane and commonsense attitude."

"Laws are made to be enforced. It is plainly the duty of every public official to obtain their compliance to the best of his ability. But, here again, I am convinced that no official must lose sight of the inherent rights of the people. This shall be my guiding principle, and it shall be my endeavor to secure the reasonable enforcement of the motor vehicle and traffic laws of New Jersey without harassing the motorist, but rather looking to his innate spirit of sportsmanship and seeking his cooperation in making New Jersey highways as safe and orderly as they can be made."

No One-Man Department
"In order to reach the maximum degree of safety and facility of travel," said the Commissioner, "we must have the whole-hearted cooperation of the public, the State police, the local police and judicial agencies, and the State's legislative bodies. There is no Department of the State, unless it be that of the executive, that should be considered as a 'one man department.' When I leave my present office I hope that the people of New Jersey will be able to say 'We made the highways safer.'"

Since his election by the State Legislature, Mr. Hoffman has seized his opportunities in Washington to consult with traffic and safety experts of national repute, and he has also conferred with members of Congress to obtain their views as to the effectiveness of what they feel to be more forward steps in motor vehicle regulation in their respective states. At the invitation of Secretary of Commerce Lamont he will be, in May, a member of the National Conference

On Safety and Traffic Measures.

"I will try," continued Commissioner Hoffman, "to approach the problems of traffic both from the standpoint of the motorist and the pedestrian. The solution of these problems will be arrived at only through a proper appreciation of the safety and convenience of both. Sometimes we are rather intolerant in our attitude. A 'joy rider' for instance, is a fellow who is riding when we are walking; a 'jay walker' is a fellow who is walking when we are riding. In this respect we become entirely too selfish and must broaden our views to give proper regard for the rights of others. Every motorist knows how difficult it is to balance accounts with the other driver who seems to regard the road as entirely his own, and his as the only car in the world. It must be a policy of give and take when we consider the rights of all motorists, as well as the common right of the citizen to the use of streets and highways."

The Drunken Driver

There will be no let up on efforts to suppress the drunken driver, the most serious menace to travel upon the roads anywhere. "I intend to be unrelenting in efforts to detect and prosecute drunken drivers. The maximum degree of service to the State has not been reached as yet in this direction, although the Legislature has enacted laws, that, in their rigidity, compare favorably with those of any other state. "No commissioner of motor vehicles could do less than enforce these laws."

"If the drunken driver only risked his own neck and his own car, he would not be the subject of great concern, but since he places in jeopardy the lives of your children, and mine, and is a menace to all other users of the highways, his breed should be exterminated. Those who have had their licenses removed permanently for second convictions need not appeal to me to restore them."

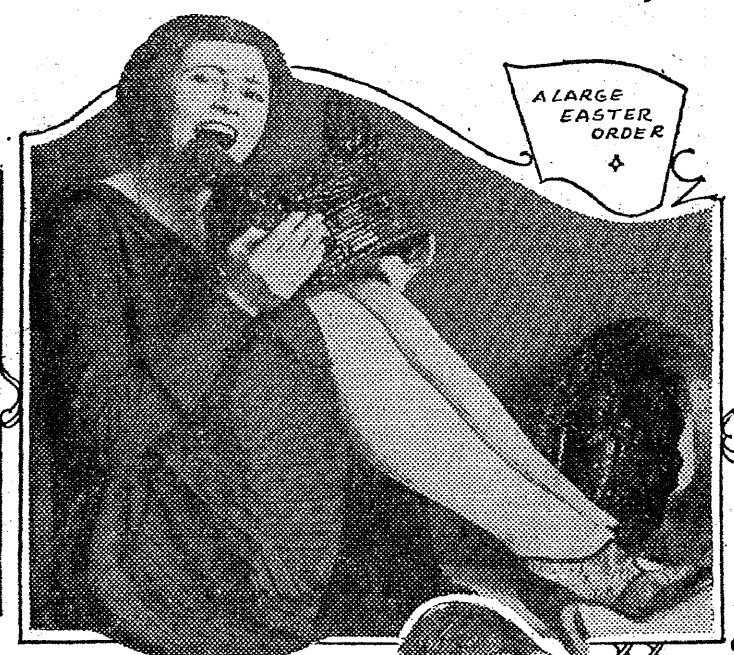

"Some doubt has been expressed as to the position I would take in this important matter. It is true that in the course of my political and business endeavors I have made many friends, but I am sure that my real friends will not appeal to me for leniency for drunken drivers, and the 'sham' friends will receive but scant consideration. In this problem I intend to ask the full cooperation of local police and magistrates. Where there is unmistakable evidence of drunken driving, the penalty of the law should be imposed with unrelenting firmness. In cases where local officials prove to be susceptible to local pressure or political influence, the offending motorist will be cited by me to show cause why his license should not be revoked, and if I am convinced as to his guilt, I will at least see that he is removed from the road."

Wants Suggestions

The new Commissioner set out the fact that he intends to take the public in to his confidence in regard to the working of his department. He will, from time to time, discuss what he feels to be inherent weaknesses in present phases of administrative and regulatory measures, and will ask the advice of experts in the various fields, and suggestions from the public, for their correction.

Considerable interest has been expressed in the new Commissioner's intention to adopt a definite color scheme for automobile plates. He believes that a modest color combination, reversing the colors of the numerals and background each year, will make for commonsense distinctiveness and economy. He has been advised by Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies W. J. Ellis, under whose supervision these plates are made by prison labor, that such a plan will result in a saving to the state of over $15,000, a year.

Oh Boy! Easter Eggs Aplenty Br'er Rabbit Himself Says So

CHICAGO.—Here's uncommon good news for the children about the Easter egg crop and it's right from Peter Bunny himself:

"I will have on hand more candy Easter eggs, chocolate cream eggs and chocolate miniatures of myself this season than ever before. I hope you boys and girls will like them, but don't eat any made of substitute ingredients and flavored with synthetic compounds."

(signed) Br'er Rabbit. And Br'er's letter is officially vouched for by Ferdinand A. Bunte, of Bunte Brothers, Chicago, largest candy manufacturing plant in the world.

"If my friend Rabbit makes that statement, it can be depended upon," declared Mr. Bunte. "I particularly think well of his warning about being careful that the candy eaten is of the better grade and made of wholesome ingredients. All high grade confectionery today is made of pure staples, such as sugar, milk, butter, chocolate and extracts and the ingredients used each undergo thorough laboratory tests before they are made into the sweets of commerce, but it is well, at a season where candy plays such an important part, to stress the fact that quality candy should be chosen."

"Misconceptions of candy's true part in the child's dietary and prejudices against it are due in large measure to some of the inferior brands purveyed."

And that's that, straight from the two big authorities on the subject. There positively will be enough eggs and rabbits, chocolate roosters, birds' nests, and Mother Goose market baskets so that every boy and girl may eat their full and then some.

Good-bye Stained Teeth

New Safe Treatment Bleaches Dark Teeth in Three Minutes

Dentists have discovered a new safe treatment which bleaches stains from teeth, giving yellow discolored teeth a beautiful shining whiteness. It is called Bleachodent Combination, and consists of a remarkable liquid which cures or softens the stains—and a new kind of paste, which instantly removes the softened stains, and prevents new stains from forming. Simply brush the teeth with a few drops of the liquid—then use the paste—and even the dullest teeth are quickly whitened. Tobacco stains disappear after first few applications. Bleachodent Combination was first made for children's teeth to avoid the use of harsh gritty pastes which are so harmful to children's soft sensitive teeth. While Bleachodent Combination will instantly remove surface stains, do not expect it to remove stains caused by silver fillings, as these are below the enamel, and Bleachodent Combination is not intended to act on the enamel in any way. Fine for the gums. Bleachodent Combination is widely used and recommended. Costs just a few cents, and money back if not delighted. Get it today at all good dealers, such as:

Anent Comptroller Of Port Of New York

Editor The News:

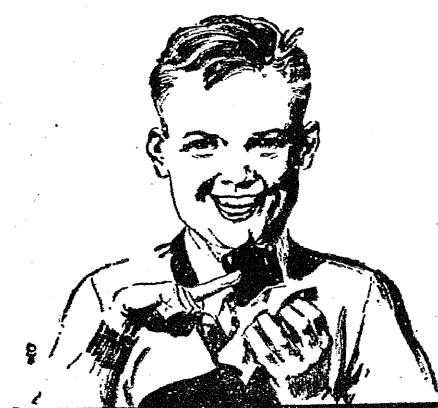

I have noted from time to time the controversy concerning the appointment of Comptroller for the Port of New York. It is apparent that another candidate should be considered.

It is with pleasure that I recommend the name of Lieut. Col. Clyde E. Winterton of East Orange, New Jersey, a man of high standing in the military service, with an adequate background of distinguished foreign service and with a knowledge of the duties incident to the said position. I am creditably informed that he served for years in the Customs Service of the United States and that he is eminently qualified for the position.

It is earnestly hoped that the President may see his way clear to appointing Col. Winterton to this position.

Doings in the Field of Sports

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemke

In all the hustle and bustle involved in the rapidly approaching Legion League baseball season, the newest creation of Joe Williams and the rest of the Legion Athletic Committee has been more or less shunted aside.

This new development, the junior baseball league, despite the little attention bestowed upon it, is pushing forward by leaps and bounds. As expected President Williams experienced little trouble in finding the desired six clubs necessary for the formulation of the league.

The enrollment of squads entered in the circuit now include the Lions, the Panthers, the Cardinals, the Clintons, the Comets and the St. Anthony Juniors. It is interesting to note that two of these teams, the Lions and the St. Anthony Juniors, are sort of proteges of their big brothers in the senior loop, the Panthers and St. Anthony's respectively. Who said that the "chain store system" of operating baseball teams could not enter the hallowed precincts of the Belleville American Legion League? However, all joking aside, the Panthers and St. Anthony's must be commended for the extremely active interest they are showing in the League. It takes real baseball ardor and enthusiasm to have not one but two teams entered, and it also gives a keen insight into their well-meant desire to aid the youths of their vicinity to take a really active part in the great National pastime.

Among the sextet of names listed as entrants may be found two, which may occasion more than passing interest. We refer to the Cardinals and the Panthers. Many were the local fans who watched with unalloyed interest the pair of keen struggles this brace of nines engaged in last fall for the mythical junior championship of the town. The Cardinals won both contests last year and the title, but they knew that they were in a real battle each time. The Panthers are out to even matters this year, and the most keenly fought contests in the junior loop promise to arise from the several meetings of these two great rivals.

The Clintons also have lots of potent strength and with "Tommy" Byrnes firing away from them on the mound, they are bound to cause any team in the league plenty of trouble. The Clintons are looked upon to join the Panthers and Cardinals in a three-cornered battle for top honors in this circuit, although an upset would certainly not be out of order. The remaining team in the league, the Comets, is pretty much of an unknown quantity, although if last year's team's strength may be taken as a criterion, it can hardly be classed with the above mentioned formidable trio.

We have gleaned, from Dame Rumor that: Bill Kearny, whose unforgettable third-basing for the Bell-Nuts last year was one of the prides of the Legion circuit, will perform with the Panthers this year, together with several of his Seton Hall teammates—Artie Lamb has cast his lot with the Elks to make that outfit even more formidable than their pennant-winning gang of last year—Tommy Dunn, hustling manager of the Elks, predicts that the pennant is "in the bag" for his charges—His prediction is encountering few if any outraged counterintuitions on the subject from the rest of the teams in the league.—Sugar Flynn will again head the combination that will give the Elks their hardest battle—Jerry Lilore is one of Sugar's right hand men in going about this arduous task—Rosy Ryan, Kelly Taylor and a youth answering to the cognomen of Thompson are other new-comers to the rank of the "Saints," who will make their presence felt before the expiration of the league season.—Every team in the loop is angling for "Pint" Sentner, stellar short felder of the Bell-Nuts, but that Manager Harry Metz has him again under contract for his team.—That the limiting of outside players on one team to four is bound to raise havoc with the personnel of more than one of the eight teams entered.—Manager Sloan of the Colored Giants is almost a certainty to have under his wing a first division club.—"Spivot" Noonan, manager of the Belleville A. A., will put on the field a strange mixture of youth and veterans.—His combination will be right up there at the finish.—The trading of Johnston, Wengel and Kinneally by St. Peter's to the Bachelors for Joe Parcells and Pat Dunn will be of benefit to both teams.—The acquisition of "Oskey" Lawson by the Bell-Nuts will do much towards replacing their loss of Kearny and Lamb.—The Bachelors will be one of the fastest and comingest teams in the loop.—St. Anthony's will be the real "dark horse" in the race, take Manager Eddie Grante's word for it.—Butch Kastner will capably fill the mighty shoes of the departing Jim Mallack for the Elks.—Rai Flynn

Sugar Flynn Has Remodded His Team

Expects To Give Legion Leaguers Plenty To Worry About

Manager Sugar Flynn of St. Peter's has completely reorganized his second place squad of last year's American Legion pennant race and the 1930 model seems to be every bit as capable as last year's.

Manager Flynn announces that he has acquired Jerry Lilore, to plug up the second base gap, Kelly Taylor, a real short-stop who will be well remembered for his fine playing with the Woodwards a few years back, Rosy Ryan, a fine hitter and steady outfielder.

Other new-comers to the ranks of the Saints include Pat Dunn and "Snooky" Parcells, acquired from the Bachelors in the Wengel-Johnston deal and Thompson, a former star at Lehigh University, who recently moved to Belleville. The latter is said to be one of the best swatsmiths hereabouts.

In addition to these new-comers St. Peter's will have most of their mainstays of last season back. They are Bill Buttons, one of the leading hitters in the loop last year and a mighty fine back-stop; Rai Flynn, the league's leading pitcher last year; Marty Mallack of the famous family of ball-players, a .300 hitter; "Biddy" Carragher, ranking lead-off man in the circuit; Joe Curran, who can take his turn on the mound as well as play the outfield and infield capably and Sugar Flynn, the brainiest ball-player in the entire league.

With this well-balanced array of talent, the Saints are looked upon to equal if not beat their splendid performance of last year, when they ran the Capitols a close second.

Bachelors To Open Saturday Afternoon

Local Club Will Tackle The Nutley Zums At The Capitol Field

The local Bachelor baseball nine will open its season Saturday afternoon, at Capitol Field, stacking up against the Nutley Zums in what promises to be an evenly matched battle.

The Bachelors' battery for the first game will be made up of "Pat" Dunn on the mound and Dave Connolly or Al Rothwell receiving his slants. Dunn, whose hooks and curves won more than one game for the locals last year, has shown great form this season in early practice and he seems the logical choice for mound duty.

The rest of the Bachelor squad will be made up of "Hick" Loesner, Johnny Lawlor, Fitzpatrick, Jim Clark, Jim Kinneally, Johnny Johnston, "Wink" Wengel, Vogel, Mike Bartley, Jim McCabe, "Mac" McGuire, Harry McCarthy and Harry Jacques.

The Zums, led by the inimitable "Pint" Sentner, who may start on the mound, will have Jim Sentner, Barbata, Ciccone, Kellett, Baykowski, Jentis and several other well-known Nutley diamond artists. This also will be the inaugural contest for the Nutley boys, who have shown to good advantage in their several practice sessions together to date.

Belleville Cardinals Will Open Season Sunday Afternoon

The Belleville Cardinals, junior champs of Belleville last year, will inaugurate their season, Sunday afternoon, against the vaunted American Eagles at the East Orange Playgrounds.

Despite the fact that his team won the junior title last year, Manager Danny Dunn has not been idle during the winter months and several new players whom he has secured in the interim seem to make this year's combination an even more formidable one than last year's.

Dunn has selected Jimmy McCabe, ace southpaw, to serve them up against the East Orange aggregation with Billy Byrnes receiving his left-handed slants. McCabe was selected to hurl the opener because of the fine form he has shown in practice to date and he is looked upon as more than an even bet to get the Cardinals off on the right foot with a win in their first game.

Three-quarters of the starting infield, Sunday, will be composed of new-comers to Cardinal ranks. "Mac" Lamb, regular short stop is the only hold-over. Eddie O'Neil, procured from the Panthers, Johnny Travers and Johnny Leonard will comprise the remainder of the first line of defense.

Cavorting in the outer garden will be Dave Lamb in left, "Sully" Sullivan in center and Manager Dunn at the right field post. This trio should round out a truly classy junior combination that should win more than its share of games this season as well as finish well up in the junior Legion baseball league.

Teams Asked To Note Time Of Game

Cosmopolitans And Newark Tigers To Battle It Out

The Cosmopolitan Pleasure Club, after defeating the Windsor Political Club, 7-6, last Sunday, will endeavor to make it two straight wins this Sunday at Capitol Field, when it meets the Newark Tigers.

Both teams are in the semi-pro ranks and it should prove to be an interesting tussle. Briggs, Cunningham, Matthews and Knight will share the outfield, while Preston, Rossi, Kirschman, Kenney and Battista will divide honors in the infield.

Coach Clark will either use Block or Morsell in the box with Weitzman behind the plate. The game is called for 1:30. Both teams please note this time.

Bell-Nuts Promise To Better Record

The Bell-Nuts, who copped third place in the Legion League race last season, have again entered the loop and promise to better their fine record of last year.

Most of last year's regulars will be back, with several new faces appearing in the line-up to add potency to an ever dangerous outfit.

Last year's stars who will be back include Johnny Lamb, who it expected to take over much of the catching burden; "Pint" Sentner, rated as one of the best infielders in the loop last year; George Moniot, ace of the mound staff and a consistent winner during the entire season; Jimmie Metz, whose enforced absence after batting close to .400 in the early stages, was keenly felt; Hughie Clark, a classy outfielder; Johnnie Baney, heady second baseman; Eddie O'Neil, a coming outfield star; Bob Mutch, who got in but a few games last year but displayed lots of skill in that short period, and Alex Baykowski, pitcher and outfielder extraordinary.

Chief among the new-comers to the Bell-Nut ranks are "Oskey" Lawson, obtained from the Panthers, and incidentally a star in his own right. "Oskey" is right at home at most any position. He will probably see service mainly this year in the infield, although he may take his turn on the mound. "Jake" Jacobsen is another recent acquisition to the hurling corps. Jacobsen, despite a lay-off last year, is an established star in this section as a result of the many splendid performances he turned in with the old Wesleys and other well-known local combinations. Manager Harry Metz is also a sure bet to break into the line-up at some stage of the proceedings, although his activities will be combined for the most part to those of bench manager. The loss of Kearny and Artie Lamb was a keen blow to the Bell-Nuts, but manager Jacobsen will be of inestimable value to his team and that his charges are the boys the Elks will have to heat out to retain their crown.

Arrangements Set For Bowling Banquet

Lawrence E. Keenan Will Act As Toastmaster At Legion Affair

Richard J. Dolan, chairman of the Committee in charge of the banquet to be tendered to the members of the Belleville American Legion Bowling League, at the Belleville Elks' home, on Saturday, April 20, at 8 P. M. has announced that all arrangements have been made for the event.

The toastmaster will be Lawrence E. Keenan, Junior Vice Commander of Belleville Post, No. 105, of the American Legion. Trophies will be awarded by the Town Commissioners of Belleville, and other Town Officials, also by William H. Williams and Samuel Figurelli. There will be eleven cups awarded for team and individual prizes. Gold bowling ball charms will be awarded to the members of the Burke's A. C. who won the pennant in the league, and a medal will be awarded to all of the other one hundred and ten bowlers who made up the league. Many outstanding figures in the Essex County sporting fraternity have been invited to attend this banquet. The cups and trophies will be exhibited in Kaden's drug store on Washington avenue for the next two weeks. ## Falcon A. C. Wins Jr. Court Title

Pile Up New High Score Of Fifty Points In Riviera Game

The Falcon A. C. won the junior court championship of Nutley when they piled up a new high score of fifty points to defeat the Rivieras, 50-22. In the other game the Comets clinched second place by defeating the Phantoms, 28-24, in a rough and tumble game.

Ray Faith of the Falcons was the scoring ace of the evening. He accounted for more than half of his team's points, sinking fourteen field goals and a foul for twenty-nine points. Joey Romano, diminutive forward of the Falcons gave a great exhibition of floorwork and also chalked up 12 points.

The Falcon-Riviera game started off to be a nip and tuck tussle but in the second quarter the Falcons, led by Ray Faith, ran wild and tallied 15 points. They held this lead through the third quarter and further increased it in the last session to win, 50-22.

The Comets had an easy time with the Phantoms in the first half leading 16-7. "In the second half, however, it was a different story and the Phantoms came close to winning the game. They staged a great rally in the last quarter and outscored the Comets 9-0, but fell short of winning by 4 points.

High scoring honors for the league were capped by "Sparky" Bohler of the Comets. His spectacular shooting from the field gave him an eight point advantage over Joey Romano of the Falcons. Ray Faith was right behind his teammate with 87 points.

Belleville A. A. To Have Strong Outfit

Will Place Strong Team In Field When They Line Up May 10

The Belleville A. A., one of the two new-comers to the ranks of the Belleville Legion Baseball loop, will place a truly formidable team on the field, when they line up, Saturday, May 10, for the opening game with the Belleville Colored Giants.

Manager "Spivots" Noonan of the new combination will lead a well proportioned concoction of youths and veterans, with the latter probably dominating. His "old-timers," as he is pleased to call them, form a combine that is strongly reminiscent of the old Forest Hills, and if for no other reason, they will arouse local interest greatly just to see them perform again.

In the battery department especially is Manager Noonan well fortified. As twirlers he can call upon such well known slab artists as "Ame" Polflisch, Woods, Kitchell, and Williams, a quartet that will equal any mound staff in the league.

To receive the slants of these four the A. A. have secured the services of Freddy Polflisch, "Ame's" brother and just about the best catcher in these parts. Acting as understudy to the illustrious Polflisch, there will be Bill Byrnes, a real comer.

The regular infield will be composed of Jim McCormack at the initial sack, Bobby Andrews, who will guard the midway post, "Mac" Lamb at short-stop and Jerry Hahn cavorting around the "hot corner." Polaschek is also sure to see much service in the inner works.

Harry Donahue, "Bucky" Buchanan, and Stout will compose the outfield and boy, what a sweet trio of outer gardeners they promise to be! As outfield reserves Manager Noonan can call on Teddy Skidmore, who will also serve in the capacity of coach, and Grossman, well-known locally.

At the coaching stations in addition to Skidmore the Belleville A. A. will have Harding, a keen student of the game and one of the brainiest players these parts can boast of.

On paper the team shapes up extremely well and there is no question but that these battle scarred veterans will play heads-up ball all the way, the outgrowth of years of experience. This policy, also, is going to get them somewhere in the league and a safe prediction is that they are a sure first division club and a likely contender for top honors.

ROAD UPKEEP HOLDS BACK NEW BUILDING

Some Communities Bay But $25 Per Mile For Upkeep —Others Thousands

By E. E. DUFFY

Repair bills on improperly built roads are restraining highway improvement to an unbelievable degree.

A survey shows that in many communities the upkeep cost of road surfaces is no more than $25 per mile while in numberless instances citizens are paying out from one to two thousand dollars or more to keep a mile of road in something like a travelable condition.

The reasons for this cost variation are not secrets. The roads that cost little to maintain are properly paved. The roads of large upkeep cost are either dirt or gravel or of some non-permanent surfacing material.

In Cameron county, Texas, where a little less than 200 miles of concrete pavements have been constructed by bond issue, the pavement upkeep cost averages around $25 per mile per year. This is in a terrain where sand and fine soil subgrades are not very stable, but by paving in accordance with accepted scientific methods the excessive upkeep cost faced by careless communities has been eliminated.

The pavements in Cameron county, and in adjoining counties for that matter, demonstrate that the citizens can expect smooth riding surfaces that last, without the endless excuses offered for the roughness and high cost that must go with unstable roads.

To most laymen road building is a mysterious process which they think best taken care of by elected or appointed officials. There is a strong tendency for the average motorist to overlook the construction of his community of pavements that clearly are not designed for prolific modern traffic. He may reason, forgetting costs, that "anyway he doesn't have to drive in the mud." But let the average motorist remember that electric washing machines have all but ended the washboard business, and that similarly modern pavement should replace washboard roads.

The year in and year out payment of excessive road charges is uneconomical and uncomfortable any way you look at it. Roads that carry any noticeable volume of traffic should be well paved, by bonding, if necessary. For even bond issue roads are not expensive despite the bugaboo of interest. The savings to motorists alone in driving costs more than make up for the bond interest and in addition exorbitant upkeep costs are ostracized. More good pavements can be built with the natural savings.

Belleville Panthers Ready For Season

Outstanding Junior Nine Has Most Of Old Squad Out Again

The Belleville Panthers, one of leading junior nines hereabouts last year, will again be represented on the diamond this season.

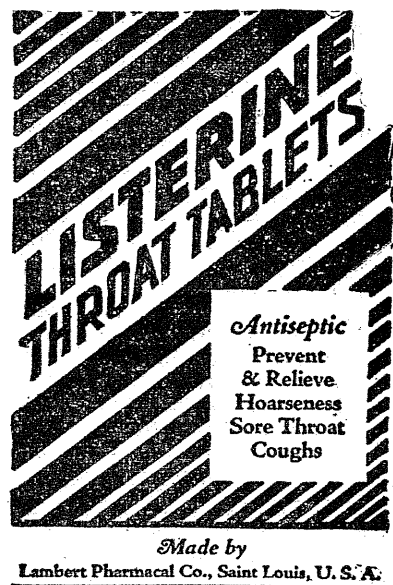

The Panthers will have most of their old squad back with several new faces making their appearance in the line-up. In work-out held Sunday at Capitol Field, the entire squad looked well and Captain "Bus" McCarthy is looking for a highly successful season from his charges.

Manager Jay Suderley has arranged a rather heavy schedule for the locals included in which is a series of tilts with the Belleville Cardinals, who won the mythical junior championship last year by taking the series. The Panthers expect to turn the tables this year. In addition to his schedule of outside games, Suderley has entered his squad in the Newark Dava League and also in the Belleville American Legion Junior League.

The infield candidates at present are Jay Suderley, at first; Hughie Laird and Herb Otto at second, Art Bloemeke at short and Bus McCarthy at third. Dave Lamb, Bill Murphy and Bob Crowning will in all likelihood patrol the outer gardens. Other candidates who seem sure to break into the line-up somewhere are Harry Metz and Lennon.

The additions of Dave Connelly as a receiver and Phelps as a twirler should just about "make" this really likely looking combination.

"LEIF ERICSON" NAMED FLAGSHIP OF NATIONAL SEA SCOUT FLEET

Birmingham, Alabama, Unit Has Best Record of Outstanding Service and Achievement—Succeeds "Old Ironsides" of Chicago

For outstanding community service in their home port and for an unusual record of achievement during the year 1929, the Sea Scout Ship "Leif Ericson" of Birmingham, Ala., has been named National Sea Scout Flagship for 1930, according to an announcement from Thomas J. Keane, National Sea Scout Director of the Boy Scouts of America. The "Leif Ericson" succeeds the Sea Scout Ship "Old Ironsides" of Chicago in the honored position. The Skipper of the new National Flagship is Sumner B. Davis, of Birmingham.

Regional Flagships

Crews of seven other Sea Scout ships with exceptional service records have the honor of hoisting flags denoting them as Regional Sea Scout Flagships to the mastheads of their vessels. These ships include: the "Constitution IV," Gordon M. Henning, Skipper, 34 South Miller avenue, Newburgh, N. Y.

"Star of Kentucky," D. H. Jenks, Skipper, 221 Milton avenue, Ashland, Ky.

"Leif Ericson," S. A. Davis, Skipper, 1836 South 16th avenue, Birmingham, Ala.

"Southern Cross," A. R. Clark, Skipper, County Court House, Sarasota, Fla.

"Kearsarge," E. J. Karl, Skipper, 2040 W. 52nd street, Chicago, Ill.

"Sea Gull," E. Donald Lindsay, Skipper, 641 N. 8th street, St. Joseph, Missouri.

"Sinclair," Martin Dedrichson, Skipper, Helena Apartments, Bremerton, Washington.

"Campbell Scout," W. H. Grattan, Skipper, 90 Harrison avenue, Campbell, Calif.

National Committee

The selection of the National Flagship was made under the direction of the National Sea Scout Committee which is made up of the following well-known yachting enthusiasts:

Howard F. Gillette, Chicago, Ill., Franklin Remington, Herbert L. Stone, Captain C. L. P. Stone, John Sherman Hoyt and Paul Hammond of New York City; Ernest H. Noyes of Chicago, Ill.; Alfred W. Dater, Stamford, Conn.; Captain John Borden of Chicago, Ill.; James A. Wilder of Honolulu, T. H. Chas. Sumner Bird of Boston, Mass.; J. Edgar Hires of Philadelphia, Pa.; P. R. Knapp of Toledo, Ohio; Judge A. R. Clarke of Sarasota, Fla.; Thorne Bonnelley of Chicago, Ill.; Dr. J. E. M. Thomson of Lincoln, Neb.; J. Collins of Minneapolis, Minnesota; Frederick H. Bosbyshell of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Don B. Dimick of Birmingham, Ala.

SCOUT SERVICE

A group of the older Scouts of Troop No. 95, Philadelphia, Pa., under the leadership of Mr. Samuel C. Friedman, a veteran Scoutmaster who has been in the Movement for eighteen years, has purchased a camp site and a small club-house in the country for their Troop and for the poor children of their community.

Starting with a little club-house in the country for themselves the project expanded into a year-round camp site for their Troop and finally into providing a camping experience for several hundred poor children selected for them by the Country Week Association and other charity organizations.

These older Scouts have formed a club which they call the "SGF." The members of the club have provided all of the equipment and in addition they provide the leadership and the program for the poor children who use their camp.

"The service that these Scouts have rendered," says Horace P. Kern, Scout Executive of the Philadelphia Council of the Boy Scouts, "is all the more remarkable as the Troop itself is located in one of the poorer sections of the city."

Knowledge of first aid, acquired by Phillip Tuttle, as a Boy Scout, saved his life a few days ago in an accident which might have proved fatal.

It happened as Phillip and his buddy were crossing the Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad track. They did not hear the on-coming locomotive until it was almost upon them. His buddy leaped out of the way but Phillip was struck and the locomotive ran over his right leg just below the knee.

The train was stopped immediately and the engineer came running back to give aid. Phillip instructed the engineer to tie a tourniquet around his leg to stop the fast flow of blood from the artery, in this way saving his own life.

Mayor Presents Charter

There are those who have the idea that the Boy Scout organization is militaristic, said Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy in presenting to Troop 90 its charter at School 10 Saturday night.

Ever since the close of the World War efforts have been made to insure world peace, he continued. The creation of Boy Scout Troops conduces more to the end than all the disarmament conferences and other diplomatic exchanges held, he declared.

Commissioners W. D. Clark, Patrick A. Waters and Frank J. Carragher were also present. Mr. Clark voiced pride in the new troop. An unannounced feature was a stereoscopic presentation of activities at Boy Scout Camp Mohawk shown by Harvey Maden, assistant scout executive of the Newark Boy Scout Council and camp director.

An exhibition of scout activities included knot tying, signaling, fire-making and scout games. Several original comedy acts were also given. The program closed with a realistic campfire scene and the singing of "Taps" by the boys.

During the last three years, 3,340 children have been tested, 2,872 immunized and 15,298 injections made. "We have not had a single diphtheria case among the children we have immunized," Mr. Berry said.

The call was made by George McLarn of 9 Clearman place. Believing McLarn meant a murder or suicide, the sergeant and five patrolmen who were lined up for 9 P. M. roll-call responded with an ambulance.

Had they been aware the alarm was for burglary, they would have surrounded the house, police said. One of the burglars stumbled and fell twice when the shots were fired. The bloodstains and watch were found Monday in Rossmore place, the next street parallel.

Police searched the neighborhood several hours. After questioning one suspect they released him. They have an idea who might be guilty, police said.

Stolen articles besides the watch were five gold rings, a platinum bracelet and wrist-watch. Entrance was made by jimmying a window.
