W. H. Williams' Election To Board Indicated

SWEET SIXTEEN REVERSED

If Belleville folks reverse "sweet sixteen" the will get 61. This is the age of Commissioner Frank J. Carragher; at least it was his exact age Tuesday. His friends, and among them the commissioners, took occasion that night to show they respect the fighting public official, who perhaps in a way not acceptable to all, gives the town a "square deal."

Some people say Mr. Carragher is this and that. But the critical side only comes from misunderstanding. Mr. Carragher has done a lot for Belleville. He has always worked for the people, as he says. If he were not honest he might be wealthy today. When he says he is "watching things" at the Town Hall, it is reasonably sure that he is. A good many years of his life Mr. Carragher has given to town service.

Through all these years Mr. Carragher has given more than most men would to others. Carragher is in the limelight, largely because he is outspoken. If he thinks something is wrong he does not hesitate to say so. He has made life miserable for others at times and the others in turn have made it equally as miserable for him.

By far and large, Mr. Carragher is an ordinary man's friend. He believes in God and trusts in Him. He treats a man as he finds him and more often gives the other fellow the "break," so to speak.

His interest lies in Belleville, with the main idea to do good. No doubt this makes him the popular man he is. We hope he passes many more birthdays as happy as this and that we can call him friend—because he is a fair-minded friend.

Thus we commented October 19, 1928, and thus we speak today. This editorial bears repetition because Mr. Carragher has since passed another birthday and is halfway to his sixty-third. When a man reaches that age and still has a good word for the world at large we owe it to that man to pass on a good word in his behalf. He has been our friend and we are his.

CIVIC LEAGUE HOLDS LAST AFFAIR FOR BOARD ON MONDAY EVENING

Monday evening will be the last time before election the Civic League for Continued Good Government will have the opportunity for presenting to Belleville the four Commissioners they have endorsed, namely, Mayor Kenworthy, Commissioners Clark, will also be addressed by W. J. Egan, City Clerk of Newark and Louis Auerbach, Jr., president of the Passaic Valley Sewer Commission. Entertainment of unusual attraction will be presented by the McKee Browne School of Dancing. Bell Boys' Big Time Set For Tomorrow

Politics, Dancing, And Entertainment To Mix For Pleasure

The Belleville Elks' Auditorium Saturday will be the scene of the pre-election ball by the Bell Boys in honor of candidates for the town commission.

This dance has been looked forward to for some time by the dancing populace of the town, chiefly because the spotlight will be shared, to some extent by the men who have served the town faithfully in the past four years, together with those who aspire to, in the four years to come.

The candidates will all be present and will be introduced, between dances.

The Bell Boys have acquired the services of "Sonny" Elmo and Jack Conway, a duet of vocal artists, who have established quite a reputation as night club and radio entertainers in New York and vicinity.

This very inviting program of dancing, politics, and professional entertainment will be greatly augmented by John Richardson and his Virginia Pals, who have the musical assignment for the occasion.

The Bell Boys look forward to a large attendance, and hope that all those who are not adverse to an evening of first class enjoyment will voice the same sentiment as Mayor Kenworthy, who when asked if he would attend, readily replied "Check and Double Check."

pupils of the dancing school will furnish acts of acrobatic and fancy dancing. All are invited.

Kenworthy Speaks On Local Affairs In His Broadcast

In his talk over the radio last Sunday, Mayor Kenworthy expressed himself as follows:

"While most of my time of the past two Sundays has been devoted to Municipal subjects of importance to most cities in the State, today I am going to devote my entire time to my own campaign for re-election to the office of Commissioner of the Town of Belleville.

"When petty criticism has been offered during the past four years and even during the present campaign, I have adopted an attitude of dignified silence, on the assumption

When Elected Town Will Get Constructive Management

A survey of all sections of Belleville discloses that as the commission aspirants reach practically the last week, William H. Williams, the candidate independent of all political factions, will sweep to apparent easy victory.

Unless there is some miscarriage of public sentiment this man, a human dynamo of energy, accuracy, judgement and squareness, is conceded the place made vacant by the decision of Commissioner James Gibson to stay out of the melee.

This paper has studied the situation carefully. There is a decided turn to Mr. Williams. On all sides he is welcome. All tickets carry his name and thrusts that have been made at him have fallen to the way-side by his aloofness to petty things. He has stuck to the issue, and such magnanimity on his part has met with success.

We are sure that he warrants the public esteem that it is his today.

WILLIAMS—A REAL MAN

A few words will suffice to sum up our estimation of William H. Williams, candidate for commissioner on May 13.

He is capable, clean-cut, energetic, honest and a two-fisted fighter for the right. He has demonstrated his keenness of judgement to us, proven his ability and lived up to our estimation of him as a big man for a real job. Even in the last few weeks he has stood out head over heels in contrast to some critics who found synthetic dreams with which to try to injure his election. He has managed for himself a campaign that might well be a model for other candidates.

Mr. Williams did not need to "throw any mud," as the proverbial political saying has it. He had a definite purpose in mind. He knows what to do and how and when. He is no meddler in matters that are small, big enough to be real big, but not too big to meet all on a common ground. He is the type of man you read about, but seldom meet.

PLANS MADE BY WESLEY M. E. CHURCH TO CELEBRATE ITS BUILDING ANNIVERSARY

A committee comprising organization heads of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church, met Thursday night at the church to plan a joint celebration of the anniversary of the completion of the present building thirty years ago, and the organization of the mother church on Main street in 1791.

As proposed, the observance will continue a month. Each society will have a part in the program and there will be a feature each Sunday. The pastor, Rev. Edgar M. Compton, was made chairman, and G. G. Hemingway vice chairman. Everett B. Smith is secretary.

The group met again Wednesday night. Organizations and their representatives are: Trustees, Charles G. Jones and John DeGraw; board of stewards, Edward Gunther; Ladies' Aid Society, Mrs. W. J. Wakefield; Sunday school, J. Henry Stier; Young Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. L. H. Bunnell; Woman's Missionary Society, Mrs. J. V. Candidate Winfield Plans Silver Wedding Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Winfield of 19 Preston street are making plans to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary in June. They have lived in Belleville eighteen years. All their children have attended local schools. In addition to the family in the picture the Winfields have something else of which to be proud. They reared a brother and sister, who were left friendless as children.

Both of these are now married. Standing left to right: Harry W., 22; Roy H., 20; Melvin F., 18; Walter J., 17; Mr. and Mrs. Winfield; Jeanette, 15; and Clara Marie, ten months.

MY STEWARDSHIP----Streets and Sidewalks

Part Two - - - FRANK J. CARRAGHER

"Although a Town Commissioner, I was one of the citizens who did all in his power to assist the investigation by the Commission appointed by the Supreme Court in 1925 to determine the affairs of Belleville. I have always stood in public council and raised my voice in defense of the people's right. Some have said while I was doing this job, others were accomplishing matters detrimental to the people's welfare. I wish to state here and now, that I was conscious something was radically wrong with our affairs. I proposed to see it through and I knew experts could put their fingers on the sore spots. My theories lived to be facts. I never claimed a sense of moral intuitiveness, but I had had business experience enough to know that two and two never made five or three. In my judgment the $6,500 spent by the taxpayers to find out the high spots of iniquity was an investment worthy of responsive dividends and it should have been the duty of the new Commission which took office in May 1926, to take measures that those high spots were forever eradicated.

I studied the report by the Supreme Court Commissioners and I made up my mind when I took the oath as Director of Public Improvements to see that the Commission and every Town employee would cooperate according to "Hoyle."

At the first meeting on May 18th, 1926, I offered the following resolution:

The following Resolution introduced by Commissioner Carragher was read:

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville, in the County of Essex, N. J., as follows:

THAT the Director of Revenue and Finance be and hereby is authorized and directed to secure the services of a certified public accountant for the purpose of auditing forthwith the books of all the Departments of the Government of the Town of Belleville.

On motion of Commissioner Carragher the resolution was adopted.

The last paragraph on page seven of the report of the Supreme Court Investigators' Report, says:

"It occurred to the investigating Commissioners, in view of alleged lack of full quantity of stone upon some other streets, that the Mill Street job should be examined, and they retained Dow & Smith, reputable experts in that line to make the examination at an expense of $215. (See their report, page 1,119). The result of thirteen tests showed an average depth of stone of 3.53 inches instead of 7 inches, and their calculation is that the Town has a claim upon the contractors, equal to $1.18 per square yard for lack of material on the street. The Town Engineer (see page 1,281) testified that the number of square yards under this contract was 6,576, which would make the Town's claim upon the contractors, at $1.18 per square yard, $7,759.68."

It is plain to every school child, let alone men and women that this contractor was obligated to pay Belleville the amount of $7,759.68. In the last campaign I made this proposition an issue. It was my idea that this contractor should immediately refund the money and that the retaining fees which we held should not be returned until this amount was made good. Why I never had co-operation on this matter is a problem I can never understand and I want the people to know my idea of this matter is that it is a moral obligation never executed, the responsibility of which must fall upon those in the Commission who never did anything about it.

I was embarrassed upon assuming the Directorship of the Department of Public Works to find only $4,000 available for seven and a half months out of an appropriation of $25,000. It meant stringent inspection and economy, cut here and cut there, in order to be able to see light until the next budget was available.

In previous administration, by an ordinance adopted April 20th, 1926, an appropriation was made for resurfacing the following streets: Washington, Steven and Van Rensselaer.

At a cost estimated by Engineering Department $16,800.00
Actual Cost under my supervision 6,272.87

Amount saved $10,527.13

The following are a few items where I was able to carry forward my purpose:

Resurfacing Passaic Avenue estimated By Eng. Dept. $8,000.00
Actual Cost 5,399.18

Amount saved $2,600.82

An emergency appropriation to cover damages caused by two storms:

At a cost estimated by the Engineering Department $5,000.00
Actual Cost 3,777.00

Amount Saved $1,223.00

These figures do not lie, they speak the truth and they indicate how close I carried forward the depleted appropriations.

Another example in question is: plans and specifications were drawn for a storm sewer on Cross Street between Frederick Street and Belmont Avenue. To the lowest bidder was given the contract for $2,107.25. My attention was called by an inspector to the fact that something was radically wrong. Upon inspection

I found manholes already in the streets. I proved it by opening a fire hydrant and water gushed down the streets where the men were laying new storm drains. If our Engineers had made an accurate survey before the work started, they would have found the sewers already in operation. I stopped the work after "the horses had left the stable" but was able to save the Town $426.05. We had to pay the contractor $1681.20 for the work completed.

SIDEWALKS

My policy on laying sidewalks was that they were to be five inches thick, that the specifications on material were to be lived up to. While in charge of this Department I found contractors were using dolomite instead of trap rock as specifications called for. I immediately stopped the work until the trap rock would replace the dolomite. I had them cart the dolomite from the premises.

A specific instance is Davidson Street. It was one of the first streets under my supervision as Director of Public Improvements to be concreted. When I went to the street to make a personal survey of the situation I found limestone with dolomite piled high on Ralph Street to be used for the job on Davidson Street. Upon inquiry the Engineering Department informed me my deductions were correct as regards the material for Davidson Street. I replied, "Not if I know it." It was immediately removed at a loss, I understand, of several hundred dollars to either the contractor or the material people but a definite in cash and endurance to the Town.

SUMMARY

The aforesaid has not been put down with the idea of floating a eulogy of myself. Integrity, experience and vision in handling public contracts and public money are the most essential qualifications I know of to arrive at the destination of efficient conduct. I don't know of anything that keeps Government progress on a par with the success of private initiatives than the application of these policies. I know of nothing that can keep the tax rate on a basis where it will not be a burden for anyone to carry. I submit this evidence, not as personal glory, but with a happy feeling of knowing that my duty has been done and that were I to operate tomorrow by personal contact or joint direction in matters of paving, surfacing, lowering overhead wires, traffic signals or possibly better methods of transportation for our people, I would apply again the same methods of economy for desired results. You are the jury; if I know the people of this Town, I know your verdict. "You have never gone back on me, I have never gone back on you."

Cooperation is the watch-word of success and together we march."

Schubert Trio Now Musical Art Trio

An announcement has been made by the Schubert Trio of a change in name to The Musical Art Trio. This group, which was organized by Eleanor Bacon-Peck nearly two years ago, has been enjoying ever increasing success and is one in which Belleville people may take a real pride and interest.

The Trio is made up of Christine Wellington Phillips, violinist, Maxine Moore, cellist, and Eleanor Bacon-Peck, pianist. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Peck are both residents of Belleville while Miss Moore comes from Millburn. The change in name in no way affects the present personnel of the Trio nor the high type of work which it is doing. The past season has been very gratifying, the most recent success being attained at the Woman's Club of Bergenfield, where the program given by the Trio was said to have been one of the most enjoyable ever presented at that club. Bookings for all fall and winter season have already been made and include appearances in neighboring states. The Trio plans to continue through the summer and to exert its best efforts to maintain the high standards it has already set of presenting the popular classics in an entirely enjoyable and inspiring manner. The Musical Art Trio is one which the town may be glad to have associated with Belleville.

The Trio is under the management of E. L. Ritch, 330 Jorammon street, assisted by John M. Phillips of 28 Belmont street.

Carragher's Campaign Closing To Be Crowded With Many Events

The closing days of the Campaign for Commissioner Frank J. Carragher will be crowded with events in all sections of Belleville and Silver Lake until midnight of May 12. A series of meetings, teas and conferences will determine, undoubtedly, his unrivaled popularity.

In statement Commissioner Carragher, says:

"I feel that the Town Clerk has made every provision for an efficient orderly election. Our election officers will be on the job and with the co-operation of the Prosecutor, the Essex County Board of Elections and the Superintendent of Elections of this County. I will feel very glad to have any opinion, from any source that may be deemed essential to forward Belleville's reputation for a clean, orderly election."

Carragher Packs 'Em In At His Kiddie Party

More than 3,000 Belleville children who besieged the Capitol Theater Saturday morning as guests of Commissioner Frank J. Carragher made necessary the showing of two performances. The youngsters started to line up before 8 o'clock and by 9:30, when the first show began, there were enough left over for a second performance.

Daniel McGee of Newark, friend of Mr. Carragher's, introduced the commissioner to the children. Mr. Carragher, who is a candidate for reelection May 13, gave an exhibition of how he talked to the "big kids" down at the Town Hall.

NOTICE

The persons wishing to vote at the coming Municipal Election on May 13th will find in next week's issue of this paper the election list as printed in the last issue setting forth the outline of the boundary of Districts throughout the Town as well as the polling places in which the voters from these districts may vote.

Particular attention should be paid to this by the voters of the Fourth Ward, Second District, who reside on the south side of Smallwood Avenue because of the fact that a petition was circulated on that street and presented to the Board of Commissioners asking that the voters on that side of Smallwood Avenue be allowed to vote in the Fourth Ward, Fifth District, No. 10 School. The Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville have no power to grant this change, the statute setting forth that the Essex County Board of Elections are vested with this power and the Board of Commissioners unanimously referred it to the County Board of Elections where it is at the present time.

The Statute also sets out that no District in any town throughout the State of New Jersey can be changed between the first of March and the term following the general election.

This notice is printed so that the people involved will know that they will have to vote at School No. 2, on Mill Street, Soho.

NOTE GAIN IN PAVEMENTS OF NARROW WIDTH

3,000 Miles In Service; Indicate Solution of Farm Road Problem

By E. E. DUFFY

With a trifle less than 3,000 miles of nine and ten-foot hard surfaced pavements in use, highway authorities are becoming more and more convinced that the narrow rigid pavement offers the best solution to the local road problem.

Purely local roads, however, must not be confused with main state or main county highways. Those communities that have built noteworthy mileages of narrow concrete have been careful to place the narrow width only on those roads that carry little or no through traffic.

About one half of all the money spent on road improvement is expended through counties and townships. A vast portion of this money accomplishes no lasting benefit; it goes into the upkeep of poor quality roads that year after year demand grading, re-graveling, re-oiling and extensive patching.

Through the narrow hard surfaced pavement, excessive maintenance costs are ostracized and the money saved can either be devoted to the improvement of other roads or to be retirement of bonds.

An instance of how properly built narrow pavements have served is shown in the experience of Chautauqua county, New York. A study brought to light the fact that the upkeep cost of new gravel roads was as high as $1,000 a mile yearly, while the per mile cost of concrete was but $16. Simple arithmetic led Chautauqua county to build 125 miles of single-track pavements.

Maryland last year awarded contracts for the construction of 52 miles of nine-foot concrete and Delaware awarded contracts for 21 miles. The southeast corner of Missouri contains a network of narrow pavements; they are found in striking mileages in Illinois, Mississippi, Tennessee and other states. Their widespread use indicates that they serve several rural regions in all parts of the country with equal satisfaction.

As seen from the viewpoint of the motorist who uses heavily traveled roads, the narrow pavement may seem inadequate; as seen from the viewpoint of the farmer who wants to haul produce to market, rain or shine, the narrow feeder pavement is nothing short of a godsend.

Henry Winfield Details Wet Issue

Enforcement Impossible He Says of Volstead Act

Candidate for Commissioner, Henry W. Winfield, says the Eighteenth Amendment and Volstead Law are impossible of enforcement.

"I am going to confine myself strictly to my main issue," he adds. "Advocating the modification or repeal of the prohibition laws."

"What a terrible example prohibition is to our younger generation. Not a day goes by but what we pick up the papers and find blood-shed emanating from the hell-holes of speakeasies."

"Another boy twenty-two years old, David Beadle in New York City, walks in to one of these contemptible places, gun in hand, and shoots down three men, killing one."

"Just think, mothers and fathers, what anguish and sorrow this boy has brought upon him self and dear mother and father."

"Dear friends and voters, let me plead with you to go to the polls on the thirteenth day of May and let your conscience and God guide your hand and register a vote with your help to eliminate this dragon of a thing off the statute books. With systematic education and constructive consideration of legislation, the voters of Belleville have the opportunity of showing disapproval of this damnable prohibition law."

"You have the individual rights when you go to the polls on the thirteenth day of May to show the rest of the state and the rest of the country that Belleville has taken the first real step in protecting your home and children."

"Friends and voters, the fight is on. Don't be discouraged or persuaded. Let fairness and honesty prevail in this election. Don't let anyone discredit this movement."

"I have been advised and feel sure that there is some thing going to be done with the prohibition laws, and when it comes, Belleville wants representation. We don't want a saloon on every corner in our town; in fact, none of us want the return of the saloon. And that is where your local representative will be able to exert his power and authority in what Belleville wants and what Belleville doesn't want. He, representing the population of 30,000 people, would be able to go before our state legislature or the U. S. Legislature and get the protection that Belleville deserves."

"I think the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law are as idiotic, tyrannical and immoral in their conception as they are impossible of enforcement."

"We are being governed by a militant and half-nutty minority. When approached, it is next to an impossibility to receive a fair or logical explanation for their cause to uphold this, the most degrading law—prohibition."

"Do you realize that if this law was only ten per cent enforced, it would turn this country into a nation of convicts. The efforts to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment almost necessarily gives rise to a silly trail of graft, corruption and frightful waste of money."

"In reference to town affairs and improvements, the promises by the different candidates advocating this and promising, is usually pre-election propaganda. I personally applaud a man with constructive ideas."

"All improvements come along in the general routine of business and demand. I approve of improvements. I also disapprove of the waste of the taxpayers' money."

"Don't let us lose sight of the fact that the U. S. squanders from thirty to fifty millions of dollars a year in pretending an enforcement of this dragon of prohibition laws, to which each and every one of us have to contribute."

"Stop this expenditure of the taxpayers' money and the tax rate would have to go down."

"Let us give another thought to this movement. In the event by this agitation that we bring about a repeal or modification of this prohibition law, thousands and thousands of men would go to work in every line of industry. It would start the wheel of prosperity."

"Don't forget to vote. Be sure to get all voters out. Put Belleville over the top as the first town to elect a local representative in the interest of humanity," he concludes.

N. J. State Bankers To Meet May 15-17

William J. Couse, president of the New Jersey Bankers Association has announced the perfection of plans for the twenty-seventh annual convention, May 15, 16, and 17, at the Hotel Chelsea, Atlantic City, N. J., and reservations are now pouring in to the Secretary, Armit H. Coate, of Moorestown, N. J.

The feature of the meeting will be the forum discussion on Friday May 16, devoted to furthering the movement for Better Bank Management. This movement started in 1929, by the American Bankers' Association, and under the able leadership of President Craig B. Hazlewood, Vice President of the First National Bank of Chicago, Illinois, as been carried forward by regional conferences of the American Association. The prominence given it by the New Jersey Association will do much to advance its effectiveness.

Mr. Hazlewood has consented to lead the Friday morning discussion and under his inspiration the success of the meeting is assured. Every bank man in New Jersey who attends his meeting will take back with him information valuable to his bank and the community which it serves.

The meeting will also be addressed by O. Howard Wolfe, cashier of the Philadelphia National Bank; John J. Driscoll, Jr., of Driscoll, Millet and Company, Philadelphia; William M. Nash, Treasurer, Haddon Heights Bank and Trust Company, and J. Fisher Anderson of Jersey City, all recognized leaders in Bank Management Conferences.

The Convention Committee headed by Charles H. Plenty, vice president of the Hackensack Trust Company, has arranged a program which includes sufficient amusement to keep the visiting banker from being a dull boy.

On Thursday, May 15, there will be a golf tournament held at the Country Club of Atlantic City, Northfield. Attractive prizes to be awarded at the smoker, have been provided and there are many golfers entered.

Thursday evening, a smoker—for men only—will be held in Westminster Hall, Chelsea Hotel, at which excellent talent will be shown, and at the same time, in the Music Room of the Chelsea there will be a special showing of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson's African Hunt picture "Simba" with sound, for the amusement of the ladies.

A card party for the ladies is scheduled for Friday afternoon in Como Hall, Chelsea, with worth while prizes.

Friday evening, following the all day forum, the large ball room of the Chelsea will be the scene of the twenty-seventh annual banquet of the association. Here too, the delegates will be given a treat. Dwight W. Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico, and just returned from his attendance at the London Peace Conference will be the speaker of the evening. He will have a message of special interest to every American and his speech will be on the air over WPG. Mr. Morrow will be followed by Roe Fulkerson of Washington, editorial correspondent and special column writer. He never fails to please and through his anecdotes there runs a rich vein of humor.

A special banquet for the ladies in the American Dining Room of the Chelsea will be in progress while the Big Annual Feast is held, and singers of note will gravitate between the two functions.

The big annual ball is arranged to follow the banquet and an excellent orchestra will provide the music.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the annual meeting will be called to order by President Couse. The Committees will report items of interest concerning the Association and its activities discussed and the officers for the coming year elected.

Sheriff Limits Visiting at Jail To Bar Trouble

Special Pass Privilege Is Now Curbed at Essex Institution

To cope with the lack of facilities in the county jail for the accommodation of visitors and to prevent any trouble among inmates, Sheriff Huelsenbeck has instituted a new system of control over all persons going to the jail to see prisoners.

Lawyers will still be granted the privilege of interviewing clients upon receiving a special pass from the sheriff or the under sheriffs, but prosecutor's detectives and probation office investigators who, heretofore, went to the jail on official business at will must obtain passes.

Visitors will be allowed on the visiting days, Wednesday and Saturday, to see the general run of inmates, and Friday mornings to see murderers, but the special pass privilege for other days has been revoked, except in cases where persons come from out of the city.

Sheriff Huelsenbeck said that nothing serious had happened to cause

Belleville's Children

By DANIEL MCGEE

For seventeen years I have participated in every element of social function that has had a bearing on public affairs and political activities. I can say, without hesitation, the party given by Commissioner Frank J. Carragher of Belleville, to the boys and girls of this town last Saturday morning reached the peak of my inspiration. It was a sight I shall never forget. Here were the little ones from the homes of commoners who rear their children in the fear of God, respect for law and in happy surroundings.

The writer bears an affliction termed in the dictionary of medicine as spasmodic paralysis. Here were three thousand children from the ages of six to fifteen; the most unusual sight in my whole career was to find not one of these children with an unkind word of gesture toward his condition but rather a sympathetic, cooperative understanding. Such conduct is an outstanding tribute to home training.

I salute you, mothers and fathers of Belleville, with a heart of gratitude for the fine spiritual and ethical training you give these little ones. I have stood in open conventions that ran from twenty-five delegates in a church circle to some thirty odd thousand people in old Madison Square Garden; I have sat beside the radio for the last eight years and heard every presidential candidate nominated and the response of cheers thereof, but no cheers were as genuine and as wholesome and as kindly as the spontaneous enthusiasm given by your girls and boys to Commissioner Frank J. Carragher, their host, last Saturday morning.

These children displayed a kindness and a wit and a knowledge throughout the entire program which covered varied activities from those priceless stars of Hollywood, Messrs. Lloyd and Chaplin. The patience of the fifteen hundred children who waited for two hours in silent, orderly manner on the street until the first performance was over was a magnificent sight unrivaled in any situation I know.

The genuine assistance given by the Police and Fire Departments and those who assisted in directing the affair was likewise magnanimous. I shall carry with me from the heat of this campaign and in fact any campaign I have ever been in, the courtly, gentle and kindly children that you have given America.

May God bless you and sustain you for it is upon sacrifices and results like yours that the hope of a greater tomorrow for America is possible. If three thousand such children in every town of this Country could be gathered, as yours were last Saturday in the Capitol Theatre of Belleville, our country's hope would be, beyond question, the greatest security for leading the forces of progress and righteousness throughout the world.

Tall Cedars Plan Personality Derby At Their Circus

As an added feature of the Tall Cedars' Circus to be held at the Sussex Avenue Armory, May 8 to 10, the committee has arranged a Personality Derby Contest for young women, it was announced by Edwin H. Stern, chairman of the committee.

Thirty-three young women of New ark and Essex County have already entered the contest, and they have been separated into three groups, known as the red, white and blue Contesting Teams. The Committee will award an automobile as the major prize, and there are several other valuable awards to be made.

The Personality-Derby contest is to be decided upon by the number of votes cast by the Essex County Forester, No. 8, of Tall Cedars. The highest standing announced by the Committee is Mrs. W. Schoettlin of the Blue Team of contestants. Other candidates of the Blue Division are: Markie K. Gregory, Laura Kelley, Mrs. M. Hart, Louise Haessler, Blanche Cronheim, Lillian Deane, Thelma Holmlund, Helen L. Broome, Ethel Antolick, Margaret Conahan, Elizabeth Brown and Margaret Linn. Those entered in the white Division are: Mrs. Fred Zweidinger, Miriam Cohen, Dorothy McKinney, Mrs. Edward Cooper, Jennie Taffet, Edna Harris, Lillian Blinn, Eleanor Mahler, Mrs. William Haessler, Minnie Specter, Cele Orefice, Pauline Hectman, Viola Duhon and Hilda Carr.

The Red Division includes: Mrs. Eleanor Duffy, Mrs. T. E. Demars, Jeannette D. Hoch, Mrs. Steinberg, Dorothy Kenney, Elizabeth Wolf, Violet Blackman, Cleo Masucci, Mrs. Rose Michaels, Mrs. Ester Watson, Gladys Cook, Marie Glynn and Helen Olsen. Belleville girls are entering in the contest.

The Circus will have for its opening attraction a "Kiddie Promenade" on Tuesday evening, May 8, and music, dancing, circus acts and other features will be held all during the three days of the event. A committee of one hundred is promoting the effort, and headquarters for the Circus activities are maintained at 32 Green street, where Chairman Stern is receiving the ballots of the Personality Derby contest.

Mrs. Harvey W. Mumford of 10 Oak street, entertained the Fortnightly Bridge Club on Thursday afternoon. Those playing were Mrs. Mumford's two sisters, Mrs. Willis G. Dowden of Maplewood, and Mrs. Florence R. Smith of the Oak street address; Mrs. William D. Blair and her guest, Mrs. Edward Taylor of

EX-OFFICERS CLUB LUNCHEON

Ex-Officers of the Eighth District of the New Jersey State Federation of Woman's Clubs met at the Robert Treat, April 24 for its spring luncheon and annual election of officers.

Those attending from Belleville were Mrs. William R. Adams and her guest Mrs. Frederick S. Bootay, Mrs. William Irvine and Mrs. Richard L. Ridgway, Nutley, Mrs. James Stoddard. More than sixty women were present.

The luncheon was as usual delicious, and the election of officers resulted in president, Mrs. John Berry; second vice president, Mrs. Oscar C. Kunze; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Louis Arnold.

Those named to attend the Convention at Atlantic City on May 1-10 are the incoming president, Mrs. Berry, the outgoing president, Mrs. Ernest Reed, and Mrs. Allie Teller the first president and founder of the club.

Mrs. Robert Baldwin of Newark, who has been program chairman for two years, has organized and is president of the Mozart Club, and all guest artists were members of the club. The program was, piano solo, Miss Hazel Tolson, Newark; vocal duet, "A Southern Moon," Regina O'Malley and Maude Baldwin, accompanist, Olive Goswami; humorous selections, original work, Mrs. Richard L. Ridgway, read by Mrs. Baldwin; soprano solos, Regina O'Malley; our club collections by the founder, Mrs. Allie Teller. Mrs. Teller said: "and just see this is the dress I wore when I was first president and at the organization meeting." Mentioning the fact that dresses had gone from long to short and back again in the short time. Piano solo, Miss Tolson, and then came original work in the form of a toast to the ex-officers club by Mrs. William Rhoades. Mrs. Ridgway was postess at the program table during the luncheon.

Program chairman, Mrs. Baldwin, after being congratulated on her decided success in her programs during the past two years by the president, Mrs. Reed, responded by reading a clever poem entitled "You Have to Believe."

NORTH STAR CHAPTER, O. E. S.

North Star Chapter, O. E. S. will meet at 711 Broadway, Newark, on Tuesday evening, for a business and short form followed by a visit of the Roseville Assembly, No. 3, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, who will exemplify the initiation ceremony of their order. As North Star will be hostess all members should make a special effort to be present. Master Masons and members of sister Chapters are cordially invited.

Good-bye Stained Teeth

New Safe Treatment Bleaches Dark Teeth in Three Minutes

Dentists have discovered a new safe treatment which bleaches stains from teeth, giving yellow discolored teeth a beautiful shining whiteness. It is called Bleachodent Combination, and consists of a remarkable liquid which cures or softens the stains—and a new kind of paste, which instantly removes the softened stains, and prevents new stains from forming. Simply brush the teeth with a few drops of the liquid—then use the paste—and even the dulllest teeth are quickly whitened. Tobacco stains disappear after first few applications. Bleachodent Combination was first made for children's teeth to avoid the use of harsh gritty pastes which are so harmful to children's soft sensitive teeth. While Bleachodent Combination will instantly remove surface stains, do not expect it to remove stains caused by silver fillings, as these are below the enamel, and Bleachodent Combination is not intended to act on the enamel in any way. Fine for the gums. Bleachodent Combination is widely used and recommended. Costs just a few cents, and money back if not delighted. Get it today at all good dealers, such as:

A RECORD WE ARE PROUD OF

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, in seeking reelection to the town commission May 13, has much to offer the town.

Among other things, of having lived up to all his promises of four years ago, the Mayor has carried Belleville's fair name far in National and State affairs.

Let us go back a few years and see what big problems the Mayor has been in. Let us be fair. Here are a few in which the Mayor led:

President of the Board of Trade.
Leader of the Essex Delegation in the State Assembly.

Chairman Motor Vehicle Taxation, State Legislature.

Chairman Special Commission, Tax Relief, State Legislature.

Vice Chairman Second River Joint Meeting.
Chairman Essex County Mayor's Committee.
Member Executive Board New Jersey State League of Municipalities.

The net result is what counts. The Mayor has not been selected for these jobs just because he would take them. There must be some good reason why the Mayor gets this recognition. There must be something about him that commands respect in the county, state and nation. It must be a will to do things. It must be that he serves with ability or he wouldn't get these assignments, time after time.

Florists Report Unusually Fine Easter Business

Belleville Florists Will Take Part In Show On No- vember 3-9

At the monthly meeting of the New Jersey Florists Association held at the Washington Restaurant Monday night, April 21, members present made reports about their Easter trade and announced unusually fine business for this year. Edwin Persson, President of the Association, gave out information about the preparations now being made for the Mothers' Day trade, on Sunday, May 11, and suggested that the retailers stock up their stores in advance. A testimonial dinner for William A. Manda, of South Orange, is being arranged for October when the 403 members of the Association will gather and complete all details for the Second New Jersey Flower Show scheduled for the week of November 3 to 9 at the Sussex Avenue Armory.

Paul Misner, President of the New York Florists Club, addressed the gathering and invited the New Jersey Association members to the Florists' Excursion, June 30. Plans for a summer outing were discussed and tentative arrangements were made to hold it at Atlantic City. A. M. Henshaw, publicity chairman, gave a talk upon the new methods that will be used this year for the Flower Show, in the way of broadcasting and other educational features. Mr. Manda, the chairman of the Flower Show Committee explained in detail the work accomplished to date by the various committees. He stated that the second Flower Show promised to be bigger and more interesting than the first one. The Flower Show Committee is composed of the following: E. K. Cunningham, Secretary and Treasurer; Executive Committee, E. Persson, F. A. Kuehn, A. M. Henshaw, Robert Tyson, J. G. Voorhees, C. H. Totty, J. H. Fiesser and A. Ruzicka.

Managers of the Flower show: Albert J. Manda and Robert F. Manda; Judges and Schedule of Premiums, Charles Totty; Decoration of Hall, Harry McDonough; Special Premiums, Joseph Manda; Retailers Exhibits, F. A. Kuehn; Trade Exhibits, C. W. Feld; Soliciting Exhibits, Edward Manda and Private I. Fight; Commercial Out-of-State Exhibits, O. Koch; Dinner for Judges, E. Persson; Information, W. A. Manda; School Children, J. Voorhees; Flowers for Hospitals, Executive Committee; Advertising and Publicity, Mr. Henshaw; Insurance, T. Orgo, and Music, A. Hayes.

During the intermission entertainment was furnished by Harry Haden, raconteur and magician, and Joseph La Vaux, accordionist.

Belleville florists will participate in the Flower Show November 3 to 9.

ROBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Devaney

Mrs. Mary Devaney of 84 Brighton avenue, mother of Michael Devaney, Olympic runner, died at her home suddenly Saturday night of high blood pressure. Born sixty-six years ago in England of Irish parents, Mrs. Devaney lived in the Soho section thirty-eight years. She had been janitress of Soho School No. 2 since its erection thirty-six years ago.

The Belleville Board of Education had several times considered Mrs. Devaney's retirement, but she had asked that she be allowed to continue "her duty," as she expressed it. Her term of service is a record for the state, James J. Turner, business manager of the board said.

Michael was seven times winner of the metropolitan championship races of the state and took part in the Olympic games twice. Mrs. Devaney leaves also two sisters, Mrs. Helen Caniffe of Belleville and Mrs. John O'Connor of Belmar.

A solemn high mass of requiem was conducted at St. Peter's Church, Wednesday morning. Burial was in the church cemetery.

John J. Kennelly Sr.

John J. Kennelly Sr., of 218 Overlook avenue, formerly of North Newark, died at St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, Wednesday after a short illness. He was born in Ireland fifty-seven years ago and was a leather splitter in the Seta Leather Company, North Newark, many years. He was a member of the Holy Name Societies of St. Mary's Church of Nutley and Our Lady of Good Council, Newark. He leaves two sons and eight brothers and sisters.

A solemn high mass of requiem was offered at St. Mary's Church Saturday morning. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, North Arlington.

Moose To Hold Initiation Sunday

Class Will Be Known As Commissioner Carragher Class

Belleville Lodge of Moose Sunday afternoon at 3:30, at Elks' Home, will hold a class initiation of about fifty new candidates, the class to be known as Commissioner Carragher class.

The Irvington Lodge degree team, one of the best in the state, will have charge of this affair.

After the initiation there will be refreshments and entertainment at the Moose Home, 503 Washington avenue.

Belleville Lodge of Moose card party for Friday evening, May 2, promises to be a huge success, and everything is in readiness for this affair as there will be plenty of awards for all.

Woman's Club Notes

The Belleville Woman's Club members and their guests enjoyed the regular meeting Monday afternoon at the club house when Mrs. LeRoy Bunnell, music chairman, presented a program of music. The president, Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield, opened the meeting and after extending a welcome, turned the meeting over to Mrs. Bunnell. Muriel Bunnell Dunn opened the program by playing "Prelude" by Bargiel. Marion Struble sang a group of songs including "Break 'O Day" by Sanderson; "Elegy" by Massenet, and "Silvia" by Speaks. Ruth Ludlow Yost, violinist, gave two groups of songs, the first, "Reverie," by Vieuxtemps; "The Bee" by Bohm and "Poetic Souvenir," by Fibich, and the second group "Mignonette" by Musin, "Ca-

Ace of Daredevil Rope Walkers To Attempt Solo Flight Record

Jimmy Terry, 23 year old daredevil ace, is tired of balancing on a slack rope 40 stories above the city pavements and roller skating on a 20 inch skyscraper ledge. He is seeking a new road to fame and fortune. That's why he has invented a system of automatic airplane controls, which he hopes will enable him to establish a solo endurance flight record.

Terry, who began his dangerous career as a structural steel worker, has thrilled spectators in all sections of the country with his breath-taking feats. He has probably blocked more traffic than any man in America, for when he is dancing nonchalantly along a slack rope hundreds of feet above the streets of climbing cars and the dome of a state capitol, well, you just have to stop and watch him, and the chances are that you are twice as nervous as he is.

"Daredevil Jimmy," as he is known in his native Chicago, is always in great demand in Hollywood, where he avidly seizes the chance to double for movie "heroes," who flinch at the risks demanded by scenario scripts. He walks about the wings of speeding airplanes as calmly as he strolls on his own veranda; and when it comes to jumping, Jimmy will jump from anything anytime. If a parachute is handy, he'll use it; but if not, a few price" by the same composer and "Minuet in A" by Boccherini.

Mrs. Dunn was the accompanist for both artists. This was one of the most delightful musical programs the club has had in some time and was very well received. Mrs. Robert E. Rucker, of Hillside, chairman of the Garden Club of Contemporary, added to the afternoon by giving a talk on gardens. Mrs. Rucker remarked that it was not necessary to have an expensive garden or a professionally built up garden to have a beautiful one, and that an old fashioned garden was really the best after all. The speaker also stressed the beauty of a bird bath in the garden and gave much interesting and valuable information on the buying of seeds and plants. The Belleville Club will start a garden department in the fall.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the members of the music committee.

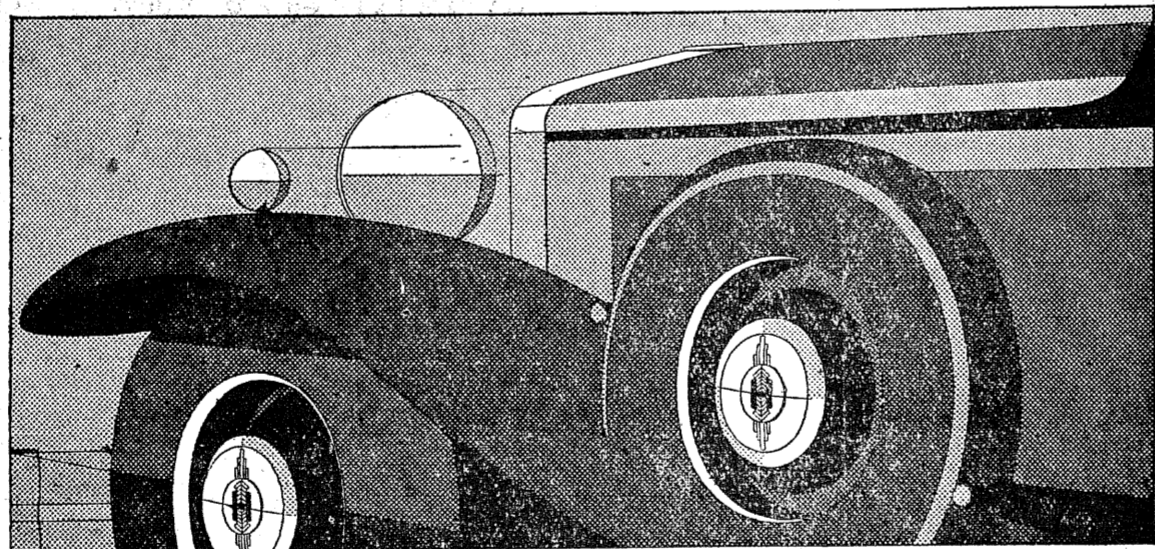

There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors Friday afternoon May 2. This meeting will be held at the club house.

The next afternoon card party will be held at the club house Monday afternoon, May 5, with Mrs. Louis A.

Hodgkinson acting as card party chairman. The hostesses will include Mrs. Harold N. Cummings, Mrs. K. Peterson, Mrs. Frank Rose, Mrs. N. E. Sipple and Mrs. Gordon Sinclair. Bridge, euchre and pinochle will be played.

The delegates from the club attending the convention of the N. J. State Federation of Woman's Clubs being held at Atlantic City this week are Mrs. Whitfield, president; Mrs. Charles S. Smith, first vice president; Mrs. J. J. Schaffer, second vice president and Mrs. W. P. Adams, federation secretary. Mrs. Charles Kelly, Mrs. Frank Brohal and Mrs. W. H. Williams are also attending. Reports of the delegates will be given at the business meeting May 12. It will be the last meeting of the season.

ANTI-KAMNIA

Being the latest collection of political tid-bits, some good, some bad, gathered by this columnist as he travels, thither and yon, without benefit of censor or the publisher of this worthy paper or the present board of commissioners.

(Editor's note:—The views of this columnist are his own personal views and are not governed by the policies of the publisher.)

The Editor gave me h— And when the Editor gives me h— he has a reason for it. He said in reference to my column last week I would get my "bumps."

Well, I certainly don't want to get the Editor in "Dutch." Any "bumps" that are coming my way as a result of my written candor, I want to bear the brunt of it all.

Mr. Masten is a real good fellow, a thorough business man and one who deserves the cooperation of the entire town. His attitude in the present campaign has been one of fairness and should not be subject to criticism on any one's part whether it be candidate or public.

If I have uttered truths which unfortunately should injure any prospective candidate isn't that, after all, what the purpose of any writer should be?

I'm trying to give to the readers what little truth I can offer from the small font of my knowledge. May I continue to do this without being the purported victim of assault? Of course I can and I will as long as the Editor gives me the space.

Up to the present writing the writer has failed to receive any adverse criticism so perhaps the Editor is anticipating. Or perhaps he has seen letters or heard comments which I have yet to "get."

We were somewhat disappointed that the great mass-meeting was not held at the Elks' as per schedule. Wonder whether the apparent "blow-off-the-lid" didn't register quite as impressively as was anticipated.

Be that as it may it was an economic move and labor saving, too.

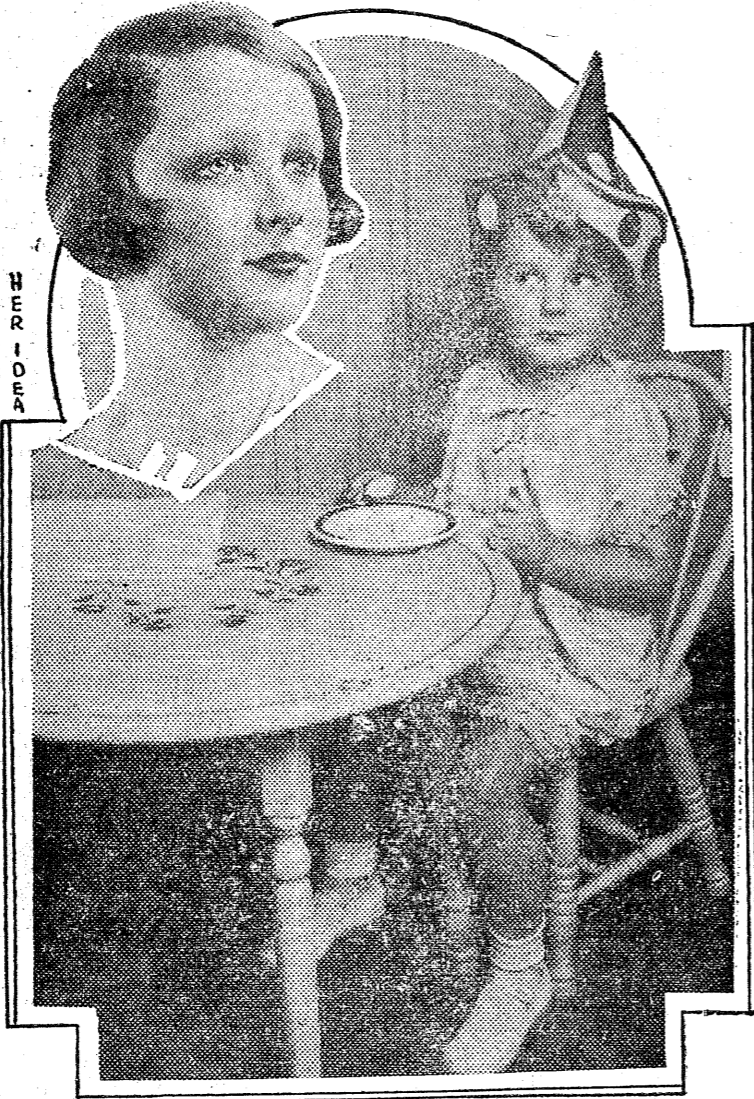

Why not let's look the truth in the face. There is absolutely nothing wrong with three of the present board. They have served and served well.

It's expensive business making changes and training men. Not that if a change is warranted it should not be made. Quite the contrary. If the case is warranted the writer would be among the first to counsel removing all of the incumbents.

But in the present instance we have a working nucleus—three men—tried and true—who have shown by their records that they possess the necessary qualifications to merit their re-election.

That is the truth, supported by the majority of the electorate, further,

Child Health Day, May 1, named by President Hoover for considering the health and protection of childhood.

"This pitiful death rate is all the more terrible when we realize many of the little victims could have been saved," said C. U. Williams, head of the Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating Corporation, Bloomington, Illinois.

"Physical examinations, pure milk, war on the soot menace, are important."

"Smoke shuts out the sun's ultra-violet rays and promotes rickets, anemia and all respiratory troubles. Oil for home heat does much to eliminate smoke and soot. Health is better in homes with Oil-O-Matics. Orphan asylums and hospitals adopt them to guard children. Every day is Child Health Day in an Oil-O-Matic home."

supported by facts and figures and strengthened by the recommendations of the State authorities who have gone on a record that Belleville's government is one of the outstanding of all municipalities in the state.

The candidates are sure being kept busy nowadays. Social engagements galore, card parties, house parties, tea parties and other parties are making demands on those who would serve the people.

In a good many instances it is fortunate indeed, that they are not pressed to display their oratorical tendencies.

Such an instance was the Belleville on the Hill card party, where the candidates merely bowed to the applause of the players as they were introduced.

Another instance was the flag-raising at the James Davidson headquarters on Washington avenue, last Saturday.

Quite an innovation—flag raising during an election campaign. Leave it to Belleville to introduce something new and novel.

However, may it be said with credit to those responsible that the political atmosphere was entirely dissociated from the beautiful ceremony.

The guests who included adherents of all candidates were disappointed if they expected enlightenment on the political situation.

The chairman Mr. A. A. Buckley sounded the keynote for the gathering and his cue was followed by Hon. Homer Zink, Assembly member, Hon. S. S. Kenworthy, Mayor; Hizoner the Recorder Judge George A. Fitzsimmons and others who spoke.

The candidates who were introduced included Messrs Waters, Clark, Hyde, Mathes and—Carragher, too.

The signs and billboards still come. Town looks like a Christmas tree. Well, this much can be said about it, if it weren't for their publicity the folks would not realize a campaign was in progress.

It's been exceedingly quiet. No glaring outbursts of any kind—no scandal—no mud-slinging. Fine. May it continue so. It will benefit the town to keep its feet on the ground and elect the five best.

No one should get a real headache selecting two men to make up the balance of the slate. Waters, Kenworthy and Clark are three. Now go ahead, look the field over and pick out two.

Some of them have real qualifications too. It's anyone's guess whose coming in to fill two places.

Too-de-loo until next week, ANTI-KAMNIA.

Roosevelts To Play Meadowbrook Club

Sunday afternoon at Capitol Field the Roosevelt S. C. will play the Meadowbrook Pros, at 3 o'clock. Manager Distasio and Captain Mike Capone are rounding together a fast ball team.

Last Sunday, at Capitol Field, the Roosevelt lost to the Kearny Red Sox, 9-4. Dendato pitching for the Roosevelt held them to two hits and no runs until the fifth inning when a couple of hits and two errors paved the way for four runs. Dendato sent back ten batters via the strike-out route.

Manager Distasio will have a few new faces in this Sunday's line-up. For games write to John Distasio, 85 Roosevelt avenue, Belleville.

Figurelli Added

The Independent Voters' Association at the Elks' Home, Tuesday, endorsed Samuel Figurelli. The group had previously endorsed Frank J. Carragher, W. H. Williams, Elmer S. Hyde and Walter Mathes.

Plans were made for two mass meetings to be held on May 6 and May 9, at the Belleville Elks' Home, at which prominent local speakers will be present to advocate the candidacy of the group of men endorsed by the association. George E. Stewart presided at Tuesday night's meeting.

Pronunciation of "Address"

All reputable dictionaries agree that the correct pronunciation of this word is "a-dress," the second syllable being accented. The word is widely, but incorrectly, pronounced "ad-dress," with the accent on the first syllable.—Pathfinder Magazine.

NOTICE

FOR THE CONVENIENCE of the unregistered voters of the Town of Belleville the Essex County Board of Elections will sit in the council chamber at the Town Hall on Saturday night, May 3rd, 1930, and Thursday night, May 8th, 1930, between the hours of 5 P. M. and 10 P. M. at which time all persons who were unable to register during the period when registration was being held at the different schools and the Town Clerk's office may avail themselves of this opportunity.

Transfers will be issued on Election day when in the Town of Belleville by the District Board of Election and from other Towns or Cities in Essex County by the Essex County Board of Elections at 124 Branford Place on Election Day.

JOHN J. DALY, Town Clerk.

NOTICE

The TOWN CLERK wishes to call attention to the fact that each candidate who has filed or does file petitions to be placed on the ballot on May 13th, 1930, will have to file preliminary report of monies received and expended in the conduct of their campaign on either Friday or Saturday, May 9th or 10th, 1930.

THIS REPORT will have to set out itemized account as called for by Statute. The necessary forms are being mailed out to each individual candidate and it will be necessary for them to take notice of the statute covering the same.

tion that the intelligent citizen has been able to distinguish the difference between petty political propaganda and constructive criticism.

"It has been my desire to maintain such an attitude during this election contest, and certainly the majority of the candidates have given me no cause to deviate from this course.

"However, last week one of our young and rather ambitious candidates saw fit to make sarcastic mention of the fact that I receive $25 for each meeting of the Second River Sewer Commission that I attend, and while I have hoped to refrain from answering petty criticism, I feel that when the question of money is involved, the public is entitled to know the facts.

"The remark was passed during a lecture entitled, 'The Other Side,' which, by the way, the public found to be blank. So it is now my turn to tell the other side.

"It is quite true that each member of the Sewer Commission receives $25 for each meeting that he attends, the salary, however, coming directly from the Treasury of the Sewer Commission. Belleville's share in the cost of this project represents just one twentieth of the total cost, so that the Town of Belleville actually pays me for my attendance at each meeting the sum of $1.25, while the other six municipalities are apparently pleased to pay the additional $23.75.

"The young man, of course, overlooks the years, time, and effort given by me to induce the other municipalities of the advisability of the joint construction of this sewer. Naturally, he, as 'The Other Side' would not be half as interesting if the story contained facts instead of fiction.

Now let us go one step further. The Town of Belleville some three years ago was ordered by the Passaic Valley Sewer Commission to stop the pollution of the Passaic caused through millions of gallons of sewerage flowing into the Second River. To comply with this order as a separate project would have cost the Town of Belleville approximately $125,000. It was therefore deemed necessary to interest other municipalities in the advisability of a joint undertaking. This was finally accomplished with the result that our total cost will amount to about $30,000.

Much of my personal time and effort was given to accomplish this object without any remuneration. So after all, folks, it isn't such bad business on the part of the Town of Belleville, if during the past year you have been paying me $1.25 a meeting once or twice a month for attendance at a sewer commission; especially when the creation of such a meeting has resulted in a saving to the Town of Belleville of some $100,000.

The young man is quite aware that a fee is paid the members of every joint sewer commission, and justly so, for while my own time may be of little value, other members of the Commission might find it rather unfair to give up an afternoon from their personal business without receiving at least sufficient compensation to offset their loss of time.

I am frank to say that I probably would have ignored even this petty criticism, but out of justice to such men as former Mayor Raymond who died while a member of our commission; and to Mayor Congleton of Newark; Mayor Demarest of Bloomfield, Commissioner Heyer of Montclair, Commissioner Roach of Orange, Commissioner Crawford of Glen Ridge and Councilman Rauch of East Orange, I felt that an answer is necessary.

While I am not personally surprised at this type of campaigning on the part of our young friend, who so charitably represents his clients in legal matters, I do, however, resent the insult offered the above mentioned officials who also receive the munificent sum of $25 per meeting, while honestly carrying on to completion a project which has saved their individual municipalities many thousands of dollars.

"Now let me say a few words as to my personal record during the past four years. It has been my privilege to represent our present administration in bringing to a realization the New Erie Station and the opening of Watchung avenue and Heckel street by the Erie Railroad; and let me modestly say right here, that this was accomplished in three days' time, while other governing bodies failed over a period of fourteen years to convince the railroad of the justice of such an improvement.

"It was also my pleasure to handle negotiations for the excellent and complete hospital services that we now have at Newark Memorial Hospital, which now offers all of its facilities to the poor of the Town.

"With the cooperation of the Woman's Club and various improvement association, I was able to bring to Belleville the first direct bus service to the City of Newark from the Greylock Section; and to secure the first five cent fare to our sister city, the same now being enjoyed by the residents of Silver Lake who pay this sum from the Bloomfield line to Lincoln Park, and in passing may I say that I hope this is the opening wedge for such a fare to other sections of the town.

"I have represented the Town in bringing to Belleville not only County roads, but State Highways, and with the cooperation of our real friend Assemblyman Zink, have placed on the Law Books of this State an Act that will now give to us considerable revenue from the County for disposal of the sewerage from the Isolation Hospital, which cost in the past has been borne by the Town of Belleville.

"These and many other projects have been handled by me without additional compensation from the Town and I point to them as my chief claim for re-election to the office of Commissioner.

"Now, as to the future in the event of my re-election, not only will I consistently fight to reduce taxes but will endeavor to do my part toward furthering the following program.

"Public Affairs, I feel every effort must be made to give to Belleville not only additional, but rather better transportation service, and to that end I would keep close watch on the possibilities of rapid transit not only on the surface but through a subway in line with the thought of Mayor Congleton of Newark.

"Under the very capable supervision of Mrs. Bootes a survey of the poor is now being made. Some undeserving cases are being removed from the lists and really worthy cases are being added. We are giving full cooperation to the Social Service Bureau and I believe that this cooperation will in the next few years lead to a complete solution of this most important problem.

"I believe we should continue to work for a full realization of the Essex County Park Commission's plan for a Parkway along the Passaic River.

"A bureau of employment should be set up, probably through the creation of a Chamber of Commerce, an organization much needed in Belleville.

"Public Safety—I feel that the present standard as set by Commissioner William D. Clark should be maintained. Our Fire and Police Departments must keep step with the rapid development of the town. I would advocate and work to bring about a solution of our garbage disposal through the joint construction of an incinerator on the nearby meadows, said incinerator to be constructed and maintained by a group of municipalities such as Nutley, Bloomfield, East Orange and Belleville.

"I feel that some constructive thought must be given to the creation of a Dental Clinic, and I am sure this can be realized through cooperation of our local dentists. I feel this most important branch of health has been sadly neglected and something must be done to remedy a situation that is daily becoming more and more alarming.

"Public Improvements—I feel that this department must continue to progress during the next four years as it has in the past under the capable supervision of Commissioners Waters and Carragher, and Town Engineer, Albert Blank. There must be no weakening on the stand that we have taken for the construction of concrete roads.

"Revenue and Finance—This department is today in the healthiest condition in the history of the Town, thanks to the untiring efforts of former Commissioner Edward Nelson and present Commissioner James Gibson, as well as to the conscientious service given to the department by various appointees. Every effort must be made to preserve this high standard.

"Public Property—Our Town buildings and parks must be kept clean and presentable, at all times in keeping with the fine private development of the Town.

I am certain that I have already exceeded my time limit and in closing trust that I have not only set myself right with our taxpayers but that my program also meets with their approval Tuesday, May 13.

WATERS OPPOSED TO PROPOSED ICE PLANT

Davidson Party Staged By Friends

Formal Opening Of Headquarters Was Reason For Meeting

Last Saturday afternoon nearly 100 gathered at the flag raising ceremonies which took place at W. L. Davidson's headquarters. William McKnight, Stanley Davidson and Kingston Appar acted as an escort of honor.

A. A. Buckley, as master of ceremonies, presented Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons, who spoke of the controversy sweeping the country in regard to changing the national anthem from the "Star Spangled Banner." Mr. Fitzsimmons said he believed most of everyone agreed that the famous song had been heard on too many battlefields and in too many foreign lands for us to adopt any other for our national song. The stirring strains never fail to arouse people all over the country to a pride in our progress and fairness in war and peace.

Assemblyman Homer Zink followed as a speaker and said that in these days of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts the children can teach as much as we can teach them about the old fashioned patriotism. We hear much of the bravery and loyalty of our forefathers who fought and died for the flag. That is the kind of patriotism we all know about, because it is dramatic and interesting. There is another kind of patriotism, however, of which we hear little, but which is just as important; that is the patriotism we owe our country when she is at peace—to our country's institutions, to her laws and to those who make the laws and who enforce them. Let us remember that those chosen to make our laws and those chosen to enforce them, whether in high places or low, owe it to themselves and to us to be patriotic in this new sense, by themselves being loyal and faithful and true to the government by which they are employed.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy said that to him the flag was also symbolic of the right of the franchise giving in this free land of ours, to every citizen to express his wish in selecting those who shall carry on in the government of the land. Referring to the coming municipal election, the Mayor said that he could not too strongly urge that every citizen cast a ballot in order that the result might reflect the true sentiment of all the voters of Belleville.

All candidates had been invited to attend the flag raising and the following who were present were introduced to the gathering: Commissioners Carragher, Waters and Clark, Elmer Hyde and Walter Mathes. Mr. Davidson, who wished to keep the ceremony free from campaigning, did not speak but was presented to his friends.

Although plans have practically been drawn up and are ready for submission for permits for the erection of the building, the proposed Ice Plant which was to occupy the tract of land on Clinton street between William street and Belleville avenue, the Commissioner of Public Improvements P. A. Waters is unalterably opposed to the granting of this permit. The plant, which would be modern in every sense of the word, and would, no doubt, add considerably to the tax rates, is not desired by the residents of the immediate vicinity. "And they, after all, are to be considered," stated Mr. Waters to a press representative. "I will never be a party to factories and plants of this type being saddled on to a neighborhood where the residents' homes in which they have invested their lives' savings will be jeopardized as a result of the resultant property value depreciation by such structures. I have made my position clear on this policy a number of times during my administration and despite the fact that we are on the eve of an election in which I am a candidate for re-election, I would sooner go down in defeat fighting for the people's rights which after all, is my sworn duty. I do not want to be misunderstood on my stand. In a strictly factory, business or apartment house zone I will do all in my power to encourage obtaining such rates which would be the means of lessening the tax burden of the small home owner in Belleville. But never will I condescend to the erecting of buildings of this type against the express wish of the people who should be hardest hit by such action."

Favors Tract For Recreational Purposes

"To my mind," continued Mr. Waters, "no better use could be made of this tract than for the town to acquire it for purely recreational purposes. Located near one of the main arteries of the town, Belleville avenue which is a cross county road the constant stream of vehicular traffic makes this particular locality a serious hazard for our little ones. Too few of these breathing spaces and play grounds are now provided. My policy is not preselection policy but one which I have always fostered and preached is to provide recreational facilities for our boys and girls. I providing playgrounds on such sites on which this ice plant is proposed we are keeping the children off the streets amid clean and healthful surroundings and under competent guidance. At no time need the citizens of this town hesitate to consult me on this as well as other things affecting their well-being. My office is always open and they will always find me only too willing to cooperate with them in movements of this nature."

point with pride in my record which shows where I have always stood in this movement. The most recent case is the talk of Turi Bog.

We should utilize this as well as any and all open tracts which can so be utilized for the growing citizens.

"In Spite of the Devil"

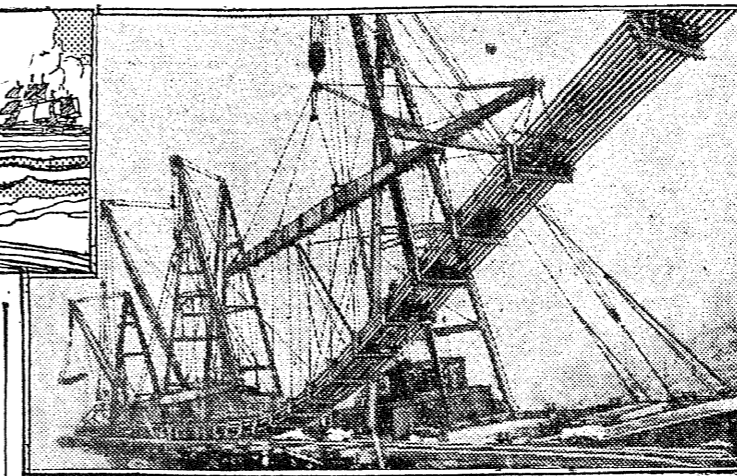

Historic Stream Sees Engineering Feat

SPUYTEN DUYVIL, the brackish and frequently turbulent body of water separating Manhattan from the mainland, which was the setting for one of the best legends of the early Dutch colonists, was the scene a few days ago of an engineering feat that is attracting widespread interest.

Something of the same spirit of determination which fired the hapless Dutch trumpeter, central figure in this legend, from whose exploit Spuyten Duyvil got its name, was displayed by the engineers who directed this operation.

Trumpeter Drowned According to the story which has survived since the days when New York was the village known as "New Amsterdam," upon the sighting of the hostile British fleet entering the harbor, this trumpeter was dispatched to warn and summon the upland farmers to the defense of the settlement. Reaching the stream, he found its waters so rough that no one would undertake to ferry him across. Whereupon he is reputed to have exclaimed that he would cross "in spite of the devil," and plunging into the water, was drowned in a vain attempt to swim to the opposite bank.

The distance across the stream, now equally well known as Harlem Ship Canal, is approximately six hundred feet. A problem for the trumpeter, these six hundred feet also have been a problem for some weeks past for the engineering department of the New York Central Railroad. All the high tension lines necessary to supply electricity for the entire west side improvement of the railroad had to cross Spuyten Duyvil. Obviously they must be linked to the lines on both banks in a manner that would preclude all possibility of interruption of service. The lines, of course, had to go under the canal. Submarine cables were not considered because of the ever-present danger of fouling. Similarly, certain types of piping were discarded because of the danger of broken joints and leakage. The long duct lines had to be bent many degrees to fit the contours of the riverbed. Yet another consideration that had to be met was that resulting from the high corrosive action of the salt water. It was a large undertaking.

Choose Old Metal

The material that finally provided the railroad engineers with the means for successful solution of their problem was one that was well known, and prized for its strength and rust-resisting qualities even in Colonial times. A total of 23,400 feet of heavy wrought iron piping were ordered by the engineers. This material, perhaps the oldest of metals, seems to defy time and the elements.

Delicate Operation

Assembled into lengths of 650 feet, the thirty-six ducts were yoked together with wrought iron bolts in four layers of nine lengths to the row. Then, filled with oil to ease the operation of drawing the power lines through, the piping was placed on barges which brought the many-ton load into position over a previously dredged trench. Bent to conform to the bottom of the stream, the great bundle of piping was then lowered under the supervision of a diver who guided the operations by signals from the under-water trench.

Since traffic on the canal had to be suspended, a Sunday was chosen for the operation, which was completed by the Merritt, Chapman and Scott Corporation in less than a day.

My heart actually bleeds in passing through the streets when I see the young folks trying to spread their wings and getting that much needed outlet for their energies in the highways dodging autos and cars. By

Candidates Talk

The Women's Auxiliary sponsored two card parties Tuesday night for Elmer Hyde, a candidate for town commissioner. One was given by Mrs. Elwood Russell at Mr. Hyde's residence 281 Little street. Mrs. J. A. Whittier, Miss Martha Davenport, Miss Mary Colyer and Mrs. Earl Carr assisted in entertaining.

About fifty were present, including Commissioner and Mrs. Frank J. Carragher. The other party was given by Mrs. Parker Everett of Forest street. The candidate dropped in on each for a few minutes, as he spoke at several other places during the evening.

One was the Silver Lake Non-Partisan League headquarters at 46 Belmont avenue. The meeting was for the candidacy of Walter Mathes. Samuel Figurelli and Mr. Hyde, Daniel McGee, in advocating Mr. Hyde, stressed his success as a business man.

William H. Williams, also a candidate, spoke on his platform at three meetings Tuesday night. He addressed 100 persons at his headquarters, 260 Washington avenue; fifty at the home of Thomas Samaro and forty at his own home.

This Is Tough

Louis Balsamo, a butcher at 204 Franklin street, had difficulty in accommodating his week-end trade because thieves stole his equipments Friday night. A cash register valued at $300, a slicing machine worth $300 and two scales worth $475 were carted away from his store. The thieves got 75 cents with the cash register.

A rear door was forced open. The implements were carted away in a truck, police believe. Balsamo borrowed a scale Saturday from a friend and tried to make the best of his plight.

Thanks

In the name of my father and mother, I desire to thank the children for coming to our little party last Saturday morning. I desire also to thank the entire personnel of the police departments who cooperated with us in making the affair a success.

Warner Brothers, the owners of the Capitol Theatre, through their manager and his official staff merit likewise, my thanks. I certainly am proud to have been associated with this party for the children.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1929-30 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1929, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 30

There always is a chance for an argument when Bridge players get together, as to whether the bidding or play is the more important. As a matter of fact, such an argument is hard to settle. In some hands the bidding is obviously more important than the play; yet in others the play is simple and easy and the bidding is difficult. Here are two example hands where the bidding was uncontented and yet the play proved most difficult:

Hand No. 1

If at trick three Z should lead a trump, he cannot go game. B should allow him to win the first spade trick and, when B later takes the lead on the second round of clubs, he should lead the ace and a low spade. (Or if Z continues spades, B should win the second trump trick and return spades.) Y's hand will thus be able to trump clubs only once and B must, therefore, make another club trick. Note this hand carefully and the reason for not leading trumps. Z has no set-up suit and no reason to lead trumps. On the other hand, he has two losing clubs and the only way to convert them into tricks is by trumping them in Y's hand. To do this, Z must conserve his trumps, not lead them.

Hand No. 2

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. Y bid one no trump and B passed. Z now bid two spades, all passed and A opened the play of diamonds. How should Z play the of the hand from now on? The reader should decide what he would do and how he would play the hand before reading the solution that follows:

Solution: Z can afford to lose three tricks. He will still score game. These tricks are one heart, one diamond and one spade. If he loses more than these tricks, he will lose game, therefore his play must be so planned that he will lose these three tricks and no more. His play at trick one, therefore, must be such that he cannot lose more than one diamond trick. If A has led from five diamonds, B holds only two, one of which probably is the king. A would hardly lead away from the king of diamonds for such a lead is one of the worst that can be made against a declared suit. If B has only two diamonds to the king and Z passes the first diamond, B will win the trick and return the suit. Then if Z finesses the spade and A has the king, he can give B a ruff with the third diamond. Played in this way, Z would lose four tricks, one in hearts, one in diamonds and two in spades. Z's proper play at trick one, therefore, is the ace of diamonds from Y's hand. He should then lead the ace and king of clubs and on the second club lead he should discard the six of diamonds. He should then lead the jack of spades and, if B doesn't cover, he should finesse. If A wins this trick and leads diamonds, B can score the king of diamonds and no more for Z can overtrump him on the third round of the suit. The hands of A and B were:

It should be evident, therefore, that unless Z had taken his diamond discard before his finesse in spades, A would have made four tricks and so saved game. Be on the lookout for hands of this type and learn to count your tricks before you play to the first trick. Many a time will you save game and rubber by so doing.

BELLEVILLE'S LEADING CANDIDATE ANNOUNCES HIS PLATFORM

In outlining my platform I would liken the duties of a commissioner to that of a trustee in whose hands are placed huge funds for such appropriate expenditures as will inure to the greatest interest of the beneficiaries or tax payers as they are called in these instances.

The running of a town government is synonymous with the management and control of a large corporation and its income and expenditures should be jealously guarded by men of sound business training and practical experience.

It is a conceded point that assessed valuations within the town are excessive in some instances and in other parts entirely too low. It is my opinion that an attempt should be made to equalize these valuations.

A great deal of interest has been manifested in the present tax rate, this can be best reduced through an enforced economic program for town expenditures.

The income derived through proper assessment and taxation must be judiciously expended. I favor the most modern and effective police and fire protection with adequate pay for both, nor can I too strongly emphasize public health preservation measures including an intensive clinical and day nurse campaign.

There are various items I feel should be given utmost consideration, for example: The abolition of public dumping grounds to be replaced by a modern incinerator; the elimination of railroad grade crossings which as experience tells us constitute an increasing menace to life and limb; and improved transportation facilities.

One of our town's biggest assets is the co-operation gained from the local business and tradesmen. In all community affairs these people give generally of their time and money and it seems to me that the least our town government can do to reciprocate is to favor these local men with official business, bearing in mind an equal distribution of such patronage.

Furthermore I feel that the public school system should be utterly divorced from any political influence.

Accordingly, if I am chosen as a commissioner I shall attempt to the best of my ability to further the improvements above set forth.

CHRIST EPISCOPAL

Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach

Second Sunday after Easter. Holy Communion and sermon at 11 o'clock. Mr. Deckenbach has chosen as his subject, "Pleasures." Evening Prayer and sermon at 7:45. Topic "It is Good to be Lonely."

Sunday School meets at 9:45 A. M., and Young People's Fellowship meeting at 7 P. M. every Sunday.

Wednesday evening was Social Night at the meeting of the Society of Friends. Miss Edith Stelsle, who is in charge of recreation in the Diocese, was present and led in the games. Refreshments were served. Twenty-five reservations for the Annual Banquet, have been sent in. The banquet this year is to be held at the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company building on Broadway, Newark, on Thursday, May 8, at seven o'clock. Rev and Mrs. Peter R. Deckenbach will be guests of this Branch. The banquet is being held on Bishop Stearns's birthday, this year, and he will be the principal speaker. The whole affair is in charge of the Senior Club of the G. F. S. and bids fair to be a gala occasion. May 7 will be Rector's Night, and preceding Mr. Deckenbach's reading, the Branch President Mrs. George A. Kelsall, will meet the new Probationers' Class at 7:30, for instruction. There will also be paper flower making and bead work. On May 14, there will be a small informal card party for the girls and associates, at which the admission will be 15 cents to raise funds to pay for clothing sent to a sixteen year old girl student at St. Augustine's College at Raleigh, N. C., and for napkins for the dining room at the college. May 21 will be flower and bead work night, and on May 28, there will be a representative from the Castle Ice Cream Company who will give a lecture and demonstration.

The May Committee of the Ladies' Guild, Miss Elizabeth S. Moore, chairman, is active in its arrangements for a luncheon, to be followed by a card party on Wednesday May 28, at the parish house. Mrs. Mary J. Lloyd is in charge of the buying of meat and so forth, and Mrs. John J. Manger is chairman of the card party, assisted by Mrs. George R. Morey and Mrs. William S. Moulton. Other members assisting are Mrs. John H. Lancaster, Mrs. Joseph Lane, Mrs. Guy R. Lemmon, Mrs. Charlotte M. Littlefield, Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd, Mrs. Daniel Mellis, and Mrs. Harvey W. Mumford.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Guild held last Thursday afternoon, the June Committee was named as follows: Mrs. Lloyd Nunn, chairman; Mrs. E. E. MacNary, Mrs. M. E. Madison, Mrs. Herbert Mayes, Mrs. Arthur McCluskey, Mrs. Sue Metz, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Harold A. Miller, Miss Marie Minion, Mrs. William A. Moore and Mrs. Edward Nelson.

During Holy Week the cast for the play "Young Mrs. Winthrop," which is to be presented by the Actors' Guild, on May 16 and 17, at the parish house, had dropped their rehearsals, but have now again resumed them, and they are progressing nicely. Each one of the characters seems particularly adapted to his or her part, and the coach, Mrs. J. A. Tempest, feels assured of a good performance. During a week's enforced absence of Mrs. Tempest, her daughter Miss Elizabeth Tempest, who is also a member of the cast, is taking charge of rehearsals.

The Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Edward Nelson, president, will hold the last meeting of the season on Monday evening. The Annual Spring collection of the United Thank Offering was received at last Sunday evening's service. The presentation of the Diocesan Thank Offering will be at the annual service to be held at St. Luke's Church, Montclair, on Friday, May 16.

Don't forget the visit of the Auxiliary to the Mountain Ice Company's plant at North Newark, on Thursday afternoon, May 8, at 1:45 o'clock.

The Lincoln Grammar School Band of New Providence, Union County, N. J., which is to provide the entertainment for the benefit of the Altar Guild, on Friday evening, May 9, at the parish house, has an interesting history. This band had the distinction of being the only one of its class permitted to play in the Madison Square Garden Musical Festival held on March 29, before a gathering of approximately 12,000 people. To understand and better appreciate the value of this work in the elementary school, it is interesting to know the events which led up to this great experience in the lives of these little children. About a year ago, the Supervising Principal, L. R. Winchell, who has been interested in this work, learned that a new townsman, John T. Nicholson was a musician. Mr. Nicholson willingly volunteered to direct the band and give instruction. Together they visited homes and searched attics of members of defunct bands and collected twenty-instruments, many of them bent and green with age. Now the pupils keep them polished and have weekly inspection. The band leader, in less than two months' time, developed a very fine organization. This is especially commendable since he had poor material to start with, except the fine spirit of cooperation of the pupils, parents and teachers.

The youngest member is a little girl, seven years of age, in the second grade. She plays the cornet; her sister, eight years old, in the third grade, plays the snare drum. The other members are from various types of homes and of various nationalities. The band accompanies the baseball and other teams of the school to the games, and helps in arousing spirit. Many engagements have opened for these children, including the Union County School Field Meet, to be held on May 23, at Warranook Park, Roselle, N. J. Let's encourage them and the Altar Guild by a big turnout on May 9. The Band Concert will be followed by dancing.

NEWARK GOSPEL TABERNACLE

Bloomfield Avenue, Newark

The Newark Gospel Tabernacle, at Bloomfield Avenue and Tenth Street is continuing its "Newark for Christ" campaign.

Billy Sunday preached at the Tabernacle on Monday night and the place was crowded. Arrangements are now under way with Mr. Sunday for a four weeks' campaign some time during the month of June. The exact date has not been decided upon as yet.

Tom Noonan, the great preacher from Chinatown Mission, will preach at the Tabernacle next Monday night, May 5. The doors will open at 6:30 and a full house is expected. Come early for your seat.

Mr. Hains will preach at both services on Sunday.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 4, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord." (Lamentations 3:39, 40).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive." (Ezekiel 18:27).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is error to suffer for aught but your own sins. Christ, or Truth, will destroy all other supposed suffering, and real suffering for your own sins will cease in proportion as the sin ceases." (p. 391).

NEW CHURCHES

A LIGHTED CROSS

Religion is gaining. Today there are 167,000 church buildings. This year new churches will cost $218,000,000, estimates the research bureau of C. A. Dunham company, Chicago heating and ventilating engineers. Scientific heating and ventilating are reforming church stumbers, bad air and not bad sermons cause most naps. In towns and cities new and existing churches, like homes and skyscrapers, are putting in differential vacuum heating systems, for health and economy. New homes this year may cost two billion; educational buildings may exceed last year's $415,279,720; picture theatres, $250,000,000, it is said. "Build for Prosperity" is the new slogan of many cities.

for "Father's Night."

Men's Club

Attention is again called to the very prominent speaker to be presented at the Men's Club meeting on Tuesday evening, May 13. Dr. C. E. Vail, of Miral, India, will talk on his work among the leper colony of India. Motion pictures will accompany Mr. Vail's talk.

Arrangements have been completed to announce election returns after Dr. Vail's talk. Ladies are especially invited to attend and a cordial invitation is issued to all interested in hearing a really celebrated speaker.

WESLEY M. E.

Rev. Edgar M. Compton

Plans are going ahead for the Epworth League banquet which will be held on May sixth to celebrate its fortieth anniversary. Reservations have been limited to one hundred and seventy-five. All members and former members are invited. The banquet will be served by the Young Woman's Auxiliary. Mrs. O. T. Breunlich is in charge of the arrangements.

The initial meeting of the anniversary committee was held last Wednesday evening in the chapel to formulate plans for the thirtieth anniversary program. The committee consists of Rev. Edgar M. Compton, John De Graw, C. G. Jones, C. G. Hemingway, Edward Gunther, J. H. Stier, Everett B. Smith, Mrs. W. J. Wakefield, Mrs. LeRoy Bunnell, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Memmott, Miss Louise Schenck, Mrs. J. V. Thetford, Chester Kraft, Charles Gebhardt, and W. H. Bradshaw.

The Young Woman's Auxiliary met last evening in the home of Mrs. Ira Cornell, 24 Van Houten place, with Mrs. LeRoy Bunnell, presiding. Mrs. Cornell was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. John Pole, Mrs. Cameron, and Mrs. H. Lester Hamilton.

Plans were discussed for the auxiliary's part in the Mother's Day program. It was decided that the entire program would be given over to mothers even to the preaching. Mr. Compton has secured Mrs. Samuel Hodges, an ex-minister's widow to deliver the sermon on May 11, Mother's Day.

The reception committee this month will be composed of members of the Auxiliary, with Mrs. John Pole chairman. This Sunday Mrs. H. L. Grandy, Mrs. O. T. Breunlich, Miss Louise Schenck, and Mrs. R. C. Whitfield will serve.

The regular monthly meeting of the Three B's will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Chester Kraft, 237 Ralph Street. A social hour will follow.

A delegation from Wesley attended the Newark District Luncheon in the interest of the Home for the Aged in Ocean Grove, yesterday, at Calvary Methodist Church, East Orange.

The Ladies' Aid Society attended a luncheon at the Borden Club rooms yesterday. A business meeting followed.

The Intermediate Department Council will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the church parlors to plan for the next entertainment which will take place in two weeks.

100 Women At

St. Peter's Mission

The spirit of religious interest, which is the guarantee of governmental stability and family security is evident in the enthusiasm which the women of St. Peter's Church are manifesting in the mission now being conducted by the Apostolate Band of Missionaries from the Archdiocese of New York.

On Sunday night the brightly lighted and beautiful church was the inspiration of the congregation of women. Their presence in such great numbers was the assurance to the Fathers that the Catholic women of Belleville are appreciative of the invitation to enjoy a spiritual and intellectual treat.

The Fathers Barry acknowledged the compliment of attendance, and assured the congregation of their desire to render every service in order to afford to all attending the mission the advantages of spiritual consolation and reasonable help to a better understanding of their faith, and the enjoyment of a week spent in the service of the Lord.

The order of services for those desiring to attend—Masses 5:30 and 8 A. M.; evening service, 7:45, consisting of question box, rosary, sermon and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Non-Catholics, as well as Catholics, are invited, and a question box is handy for the submission of questions to be answered.

About 500 were present at the annual reception and dance of St. Peter's Holy Name Society last Friday night. John E. Hudson was chairman of the reception committee and Edward Lukowiak was chairman of the patron committee. Among those who acted as patrons and patronesses were the following: Mrs. Horace Anderson, John Barnett, Freeman Barnett, Howard Barnett, William Barnett, John Barry, John Breen, John Bennett, Martin Bergen, John Beleski, John Boehmer, Frank Broo, Mr. and Mrs. John Buckley, John E. At the home of Mrs. Frank J. Carragher, No. 22 Cortlandt Street, on Friday evening, a card party will be held under the auspices of Court Santa Maria, Catholic Daughters of America.

Members of the Catholic Daughters who desire to attend the annual conference of the Courts throughout the State of New Jersey, to be held at the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, on Sunday afternoon, are requested to communicate with the Grand Regent, Miss Elizabeth Cousins, at once in order that luncheon reservations may be made.

Arrangements will be completed at the regular meeting of St. Peter's Social Society on Thursday night for the annual spring carnival to be held in the auditorium on next Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights.

The feature on Wednesday night will be a monster card party. On Thursday night there will be a Calico Hop or Old Fashioned Dance, at which prizes will be awarded for the most appropriate costumes, and music will be furnished for the old fashioned as well as the modern dances. On Friday night the members of the Social Society will present a one act comedy entitled "Madam Poseur," under the direction of J. Emile Chartrand and Mrs. George Lonergan. The performance on Friday night will be followed by dancing.

The children's Carnival will be held on Thursday afternoon.

Notes

Sunday 11 A. M.—The minister of Grace Church Sunday morning will endeavor to discuss what ought to be near the heart of every true citizen. The Tent and the Altar—As we think of the early life of the nation in the light of present day events. We wonder. Are we going forward or going backward? What do you think? We will serve Communion during the morning service this coming Sunday.

Sunday, 7:45 P. M.—There will be the usual song service after which Mr. McCombe will speak from the subject "Little by Little." Of course you enjoy singing. Forget the cares of the home and business by joining the people of Grace Church in the Happy Hour service. Now that we have daylight saving time you can bring the children to the service and thus train them in the Go To Church Habit. Do not be worried if the children get a little restless during the service. No child has yet disturbed the pastor of Grace Church. He enjoys having them at the service and does not expect them during the service to be as solemn as a deacon during a communion service. If the little one does not disturb the preacher why should you worry?

Every Christian has a responsibility for the worshipping life, the working life and the giving life of the church. If Christians showed as much interest in their church as they do in business or in their profession, or in their avocation, they would be blessed in their spiritual life and the power and usefulness of the church multiplied.

Saturday afternoon last, the World Wide Guild, Sunshine Chapter, of the Grace Church was represented at the East Association, which met at the First Baptist Church, in Roselle, by Mrs. George W. McCombe, Mrs. Grace Blair, Mrs. Lillian Warke and Mrs. Edythe Thomson. The association has a membership of thirty-five chapters of worth while young women, extending from Belleville to Perth Amboy. Sunshine Chapter is recognized as one of the leaders in the association.

Monday evening the Grace Dramatic Club went to the Mount Pleasant Church, in Newark and gave the play, "The Mummy and the Mumps." A good audience was present and our young people added to their reputation as players. Pleading reports come to us that their efforts were appreciated by the delighted audience.

Tuesday evening fellowship meetings are considering "Great Thoughts from Great Men." These meetings are proving of much interest to the large number that are making it a practice to keep Tuesday evening free from all engagements that they may enjoy the fellowship of their comrades who are planning to make Grace Church a power in the community. If you are seeking the development of the mind and soul these meetings will be a source of great pleasure to you. The meetings are open to all who care to attend.

Guglielmo Marconi, recently pressed a button in the cabin of his yacht anchored in the harbor at Genoa, Italy and thousands of electric lights flashed on in Sidney, Australia, about 11,000 miles away. Wireless power is now transmitted to perform actual mechanical results.

Mr. H. Irving Russell the newly elected superintendent of the Bible School is getting things well in hand. A new spirit is being manifested in the teaching staff; and in the coming year many desired changes will take place, with the desire of making Grace Bible School the best in our town.

Wesley Young People To Visit Nutley

A get-together service of the Belleville and Nutley Epworth Leagues has been planned for this Sunday evening, at Vincent M. E. Church in Nutley. The local Leaguers will meet at the church and proceed by auto to Nutley where supper will be served by the Nutley League. The regular devotional service will follow with Mr. Everett B. Smith, president of Wesley League, as the speaker.

Last Sunday's service, when lantern slides of "The Other Wise Man" by Van Dyke were shown, was largely attended. Interesting programs and good fellowship are building up one of the largest young people's group in this section. Come out and enjoy it.

Fire

Fire in a vacant two-and-one-half story frame house at 3 Terrace place at 1:50 A. M. Tuesday was accompanied by two minor explosions. Police were informed. Investigation revealed no cause for blasts, which were said to have occurred before fire apparatus arrived.

The blaze, starting in a rear first floor closet and burning through to the roof, was extinguished in less than an hour by firemen. Thomas Gilroy of 43 Mill Street, a watchman in the vicinity, and William Shelton, colored, who lives nearby, told of the explosions.

Everyman's Class To Be Photoed

The Everyman's Bible Class will be photographed in front of Wesley M. E. Church next Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Every member of the class is urged to be present on time and make the group as large as possible. The topic of the leader's morning talk which will given after the picture has been taken will be "Where Dwellest Thou?"

The class will adjourn for the summer vacation season on May 18, and on the following Sunday will accept an invitation to visit the Everyman's Bible Class of The Old First Presbyterian Church, Broad Street, Newark.

RURAL SCOUTS START FIVE YEAR NUT TREE PLANTING PROGRAM

Seed Walnuts and Other Nut Seeds from Places of Historical Interest To Be Planted—Program Calls for 1,000,000 Trees a Year

A five year planting project to be known officially as the "Nut Seed and Tree Planting Project of the Boy Scouts of America" will be started this spring, in different parts of the United States. The work will be carried on under the direction of the Department of Rural Scouting of the Boy Scouts of America, and sponsored by the American Forestry Association which has already raised a fund of $10,000 for the purpose.

On National Scale

The planting of nut trees on a national scale is the outgrowth of work undertaken by a limited number of boys during the past few years who gathered walnuts from trees in Arlington Cemetery at Mt. Vernon and from the grave of Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and sent them to Scouts in other parts of the country for planting as memorial trees. Under the Five Year Project this work will be extended to include historical trees at scattered locations, and a planting program of at least one million trees per year.

Although the Boy Scouts in every part of the United States will start immediately this spring in planting nut trees, Emmet County, Iowa, has been selected for the first demonstration of tree planting by the Boy Scouts on a county wide scale. With the help, and under the supervision of the United States Department of Agriculture, the American Forestry Association, and the State College of Agriculture at Ames, Iowa, the Boy Scouts of Emmet County, will demonstrate the planting of black walnuts and other nut seeds in the landscaping of the main public highways throughout the county. With the help of the Board of Education of the County, and the County Superintendent of Schools, boys who are not already Scouts in Emmet County will be given an opportunity to join the Movement under competent leaders, and to participate in the tree-planting project.

First Four Hundred

The State Road Commissioners have accepted the plan of the Boy Scouts and will not only cooperate but have promised active help in the work. They have agreed to plant one tree for beautification purposes along the highways of the County for every tree planted by the Scouts. The first four hundred trees were planted on April 17th and 18th.

During the first week of May an anniversary Program in the interest of tree planting will be held in the schools of the county. Noted speakers and specialists in forestry work, landscape architecture, and County officials will be presented, and the different phases of Conservation work tree planting, spraying, pruning, and management will be demonstrated by the Scouts of the County.

UNIQUE LIBRARY

Boy Scout Troop No. 2 of the Boys' and Girls Aid Society, which is sponsored by the Altadena Kiwanis Club of Altadena, Calif., has started a Troop Library. Among the many books are several of outstanding interest. One is a collection of Zane Grey's short stories called "Tappan's Burro," which Mr. Grey personally presented to the Troop and autographed himself. Others are a collection of books written by Dennis H. Stovall of South Pasadena, writer of books and magazine articles for boys. Several other authors have also promised to present autographed copies of their books to this Troop.

SCOUTCRAFT SHOP

As a gift to the Boy Scouts of Wilson, N. C., the Kiwanis Club of that city is building a craft shop, twenty by forty feet in size, at the Council Camp and will equip it. Lawrence Brett, contracting architect and a member of the Kiwanis Club, designed the building and the Kiwanis Club members constructed the building themselves.

HANDICRAFT EXPERT

Although Leonard Wistrom, 13, of Des Moines, Iowa, has been unable to hear since he was two years old, he has won first prize in competition to determine the best handicraft artist among the Boy Scouts of that city, the United Press reports.

SCOUT TRAFFIC SQUAD

Boy Scouts of Albany, N. Y. are working with the police department of that city in directing traffic at school crossings.

SCOUT USHERS SERVE

Five hundred Boy Scouts acted as ushers and performed many other services at the dedication of the new City Hall at Auburn, New York presented to the city by Mrs. James J. Storrow, of Boston, and Mrs. Frederick H. Harris, of Springfield, Massachusetts, as a memorial to their father, David Munson Osborne, Mayor of Auburn, from 1879 to 1880, and one of its citizens for many years.

Mrs. Storrow is the widow of the late James J. Storrow, President of the Boy Scouts of America at the time of his death in 1926. The late Thomas Mott Osborne, world famous as a prison reformer and author was her brother.

Besides serving as ushers at the ceremonies the Boy Scouts assisted in handling traffic throughout the city, served as messengers and as aides to the officials during the entire ceremonies.

FIGHT FOREST FIRE

The courage of Boy Scouts of Troop 15 of Plainfield saved Camp Endeavor, Summer camp for the Christian Endeavor societies of Union County, from possible destruction by fire recently.

The property, comprising a cottage, barn and four frame buildings is situated on the peak of the Watchung mountains on the New Providence side. The total investment in the property is $20,000.

While Watchung firemen were sweeping back a raging fire that threatened the village from their side of the mountain, flames were creeping over the ridge near the top of the mountain toward the camp buildings and to the house occupied by Herbert Van Fleet and his wife and children. However, an alert Boy Scout, one of a group of 14 Scouts from Troop 15, noticed the forest fire sweeping the woodland in the distance back of St. Mary's College. The boys who had started out on a hike under the direction of Scoutmaster C. J. Hillen, Committeeman Clifford Durant and Patrol Leaders Fred Morrell and Daniel Lamb made haste for the camp site. When they arrived flames were licking the trees and grass about 800 feet from the camp buildings. Caretaker Van Fleet and his family were preparing to leave, fearing their home would be destroyed.

With gunnysacks, which they wetted, and house brooms, the Boy Scouts started to fight the fire. In the meantime, the flames had become so threatening around the camp site that Scoutmaster Hillen directed Patrol Leader Daniel Lamb and Charles Gang to straddle the roof of the Van Fleet cottage, and told other Scouts to carry buckets of water to them. The water was used in wetting the roof to keep it from catching fire. As the flames became more intense, Mr. Van Fleet and the Scouts carried clothing and what little furniture could be handled to a waiting automobile. They feared that the fire would get the best of them and wipe out the buildings and the house.

The fire raged for three hours and during all that time the Boy Scouts remained on the ground. At the end of the fourth hour the fire was well under control, and a half hour later was extinguished. Troop 15 was hiking to their camp site when they discovered the fire.

Recreation Notes

The Recreation House will conduct a Grammar School Marble Tournament on the school grounds from May 5 to May 17 inclusive. It will be open to all boys of each school. The tournament will be held immediately after the close of school under the direction of Mr. Anthony Pascale. The schedule is as follows:

May 5, School No. 1; May 6, School No. 2; May 7, School No. 3; May 8, School No. 4; May 9, School No. 5; May 12, School No. 7; May 13, School No. 8; May 14, School No. 9; May 15, School No. 10; May 16, St. Peter's; May 17, finals on Recreation House grounds.

The first and second boy from each school will enter the finals and prizes will be given to boys winning first, second and third places. "Shooters" will be furnished by the Recreation House.

The rules governing the tournament are as follows:

1. There shall be a circle of 10 ft. in diameter. With two 1 ft. lines drawn east to west and north to south respectively, so that the two form a cross of four segments of 6 inches in length—the point of intersection shall be the center of the circle.
2. There shall be 13 marbles placed on the four segments of the cross a distance of 3 inches.
3. Players shall knuckle down on all shots.
4. Player must hit a marble out of the circle with his own "shooter" to get possession of the marble. Notice a marble on the line of the circle which is lying mostly out of a circle will be considered out.
5. Player continues shooting from where his marble comes to rest after successfully hitting a marble out of the circle. If both the player's shooter and the marble roll out of the circle, the player has a choice of knuckling down on any part of the circle line.
6. Seven marbles will constitute a game, provided that on the seventh marble the player's "shooter" also rolls out of the circle.
7. If a shooter of a contestant remains in the circle after failing to drive another marble out of the circle, it must lay there until his next turn.
8. If a player is successful in driving his opponent's "shooter" out of the circle under rule seven the latter must forfeit all of his marbles.

MISS CARRAGHER IS INJURED

Miss Catherine Carragher, daughter of Commissioner Frank J. Carragher, suffered injuries to her right foot when an automobile in which she was riding was in collision Thursday night with another machine at Belleville and Garden avenues. She was taken by Chanceman Thomas Bride to the office of Dr. Martin Meehan, who ordered an X-ray examination.

Miss Carragher was riding in a car driven by Miss Lillian Coan of 30 Forest street. Richard VanHouten of 40 Livingston avenue, Arlington, was driver of the other car. The collision occurred in avoiding a third car, driven by Mrs. Jane Brooking of 53 Jorammon street.

Married Men Take The Cake At Lions Club Discussion

"Resolved: That an additional local tax be placed on bachelors," was the subject of a debate at the regular meeting of the Lions Club Thursday at the Elks Home. The married men led by John P. Dailey took the affirmative, and the bachelors, headed by Charles Gebhardt, the negative. The decision went to the affirmative.

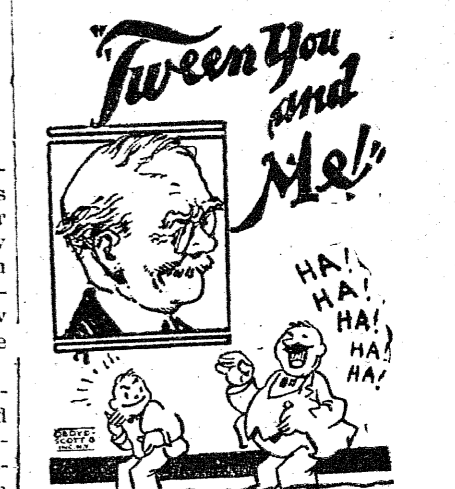

Supporting Mr. Dailey were Thomas McCabe, Raymond A. Smith and Charles Klausman, while Mr. Gebhardt's line-up included Milton Brasher, Dr. D. E. Kavanagh and John Carrough. Each debater was allowed three minutes.

A nominating committee was appointed, with Emil Hahn chairman. The Lions and the Junior Pollee played ball yesterday afternoon, as a part of the Boys' Week program.

A. Harry Moore will address the Lions Club May 15 at the Elks Home.

THE SCHOOL AS A SHOCK ABSORBER

If the motoring is rough, it is the road, not the car. If the train rides roughly, it is the poor road bed or the poor equipment, never the disposition of the passenger. If young people of a community do not measure up on conduct or otherwise to as many different standards as there are people, it could not be any negative influence in the community, it is the schools.

If the youth of the community, bubbling over with life and energy, display more pep than we can recall possessing when we were young, it is the fault of the disciplinary methods of the school. If there is a wave of crime or petty thievery in a community, it is the fault of education. If the scholarship of the young people of a community is low, it cannot be a dozen distracting influences that make concentration on school work difficult, it is the fault of the school instruction. If homework is assigned to keep less energetic students up to grade, the schools are driving the young people too hard and impairing health. If schools make provision for health and recreation in their educational program, they are indulging in fads and going beyond the legitimate sphere of activity of the schools.

If school costs are high, school officials are extravagant. If costs are low, with a resulting lower standard of education, the officials lack vision. If a superintendent exercises authority within his sphere, he is autocratic. If he does not, he is held inefficient and lacking the courage of his convictions. If schools are run wholly in the interests of pupils, with a cold shoulder to appeals for special favors or without consideration of fractional interests, they acquire the enmity of all factions.

If it is a strange paradox that people know more about how a school system should be conducted than any other single project. Being public institutions supported by public moneys, they hold public interest and attention. It is right that they should. A school system bears much the same relation to a community as the only child of a family does to its near relatives. Many a child has been deprived of its initiative and its opportunity for development because it has been subjected to too much guidance by many interested relatives. The school system is the one child of the community and it should be accorded every opportunity for growth.

The school is concerned with the scholastic accomplishments of the young people. It is concerned with their conduct in and out of school. It is concerned with their physical well-being. It is concerned with their moral standards. It is concerned with inclinations, interests and activities of its respective groups. It alone cannot be expected to overcome all negative influences. It cannot make void hereditary influences. It cannot furnish ability where ability does not exist. It cannot detect all personal characteristics where mass education is necessary. It cannot eliminate evil tendencies strongly embedded through heredity, environment, or unwholesome influences. It can be a party to remedying these situations. It cannot be held responsible for hazards but it can reduce their effects to a minimum. It can be and is a shock absorber for the ills of a community.

THE DEMOCRATIC CENSUS

There is one thing that may be said of the census which has been sweeping its enumerating net across the country. It is democratic. It accords no privileges. Poets and stenographers, bootleggers and capitalists, men of all occupations, except kings, are equals there. The President and the ditch digger occupy the same amount of space in those records. Babe Ruth and Henry Ford may get headlines in the newspapers, but in the census they are but single units, indistinguishable amidst millions of units. Democracy never invented anything more democratic than the census.

PATIENT SMALL TOWN EDITORS

Editors are boosters! The other day an editor was solicited to join a lodge and was handed a petition printed by a supply house. He got a dun from a merchant mailed in a government stamped envelope and written on a Gargling Oil statement; he made a purchase in a store and got a duplicate bill printed in Chicago and wrote a check on a blank printed in Hannibal. Ye gods, how can an editor be expected to join the lodges and pay his bills on such treatment, and all the while telling the people to trade at home? Ever think of it?

BUILDING MORE SHIPS

If, as is generally claimed, other nations can build ships cheaper than the United States, this does not deter the building of ships here. In the first three months of this year so many new ships were built in America that this country has jumped from fifth to third place.

We are outranked now only by Great Britain and Germany, with Germany having only a small lead. England's leadership, however, is far from being threatened, as that country builds about half of all the world's tonnage.

Not only has America jumped to a much higher ranking in the merchant marine field, but it is the only one of the leaders that is building more now than before the war.

On his tour of the district an inspector of city high schools came before a class of girls. He wrote upon the blackboard, "LXXX." Then, peering over the rims of his spectacles at a good-looking girl in the first row, he asked:
"Young lady, I'd like to have you tell me what that means."
"Love and kisses," the girl replied.

A widow visited a spiritualistic medium, who satisfactorily produced the deceased husband for a domestic chat.

"Dear John," the widow questioned eagerly, "are you happy now?"
"I am very happy," the spook quietly assured her.

"Happier than you were on earth with me?" the widow continued greatly impressed.

"Yes, John asserted, 'I am far happier now than I was on earth with you.'"

"Oh, do tell me John," the widow cried rapturously, "what is it like in heaven?"

"Heaven!" the answer snapped.

"I ain't in heaven!"

She—Now if you were in my shoes, what would you do?

He—Groan with agony.

Gertie—You say you've been there only two weeks and have an interest in the business?

Bertie—Yes; I was two hours late this morning, and the boss told me I'd better take some interest in the business in the future.

Mrs. Peck—I'd like to see the man who could tell me what I can and can't do.

Henry—So would I and I wish you were his wife instead of mine.

"Did you ever have a cold," inquired the practical gentleman, "that you couldn't get rid of?" "No," answered the purist dame, "If I had had I would have it now."

An inveterate attendant at conventions gets a great amount of amusement from hearing the publicity vice-presidents of banks make speeches. There is one man in a prominent New York bank who has one story which seems to be his favorite. It concerns a blind horse passed off on an innocent farmer who, when he objected about the horse's blindness to the man who had palmed it off on him, was told that the horse wasn't blind, it "just didn't give a damn." This story is worked into every speech the vice-president makes and convention attendants have made notes on how many times he has heard it and how it is dragged into a speech whether it belongs there or not.

Another vice-president has been known to make the same speech at no less than four conventions within three months. Of all the publicity vice-presidents and, according to this man, there are no less than twelve who make speeches all the time, he absolved one man from his charges. Every time he hears O. H. Cheney, vice-president of the Irving Trust Company, speak, he has a totally new speech, bearing interestingly and thoughtfully upon the problems of the industry to which he is talking. Always it is new, original, well delivered and full of meat.

We would suggest that in these days of bank mergers they could all save a lot of money and win a lot more good-will if all the New York banks would allow Mr. Cheney to do their public speaking for them.

Emotion

A man was discovered by his wife one night standing over his baby's crib. Silently she watched him. As he stood looking down at the sleeping infant, she saw in his face a mixture of emotions—rapture, doubt, admiration, despair, ecstasy, incredulity. Touched and wondering alike at this unusual parental attitude and the conflicting emotions, the wife with eyes glistening arose and slipped her arms around him.

"A penny for your thoughts," she said, in a voice tremulous with tenderness.

Started into consciousness, he blurted them out:
"For the life of me, I can't see how anybody can make a crib like that for three forty-nine!"

Radio Gag

A group of traveling men were swapping lies about their radios in a corner drug store. An old man had been listening silently.

"Got a radio, old man?" asked one of the drummers.

"Yeah," replied the old fellow. "I got a little two-tube affair. It's a pretty good one, though."

"Can you tune out these little stations with it?"

"Well, I was listening to a quartet the other night, an' I didn't like the tenor, so I just tuned him out and listened to the three of 'em."

A Worthy Question

The judge had just charged the jury, "Is there any question any jurymen would like to ask before considering the evidence?"

Belleville High School Opens Season With A Victory

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemke

Well, the high school squad officially inaugurated its 1930 campaign Saturday afternoon, and how!

At the end of the lop-sided struggle the favorite topic of discussion with the many fans who were on deck was: "Boy, how those youngsters can hit."

That sentence just about tells the story of the stinging 15-3 defeat the locals administered to the hopefuls of Weehawken High. The Bell-boys hit and hit and then hit some more. It is doubtful if any high school pitcher in the state could have stopped them in the vicious slugging mood these embryo stars were in, Saturday. They were simply hitting fools and a continuance at that pace would enable them to match steps with the leading high schools in the state.

Of course, the big individual feat was the marvelous slugging exhibition staged by "Mac" Lamb, stellar short-stop. This youthful star rapped out a pair of homers, both of which were real to the nth degree. Jerry Bonavita, Ralph Casale, who by the way also collected a homer, and Paul Schwieker were several others whose big bludgeons brought constant terror into the hearts of the Weehawken moundsmen. Casale in addition to his slugging leanings, twirled a fine, heady game and should prove a consistent winner for the locals.

The exhibition taken collectively was certainly amazing to put it mild and served to get the locals off on the right foot in their quest for the Land of Milk and Honey in scholastic baseball circles.

Incidentally, while speaking of the high school team, the two most finished players on the squad appeared to be the same "Mac" Lamb and Eddie O'Neill, hard-hitting center fielder. O'Neill is just about the slickest young outfielder in these parts when it comes to fielding, possesses a fine arm, hits 'em hard and often and can run the bases.

Both of these players were regulars on American Legion League teams last year and seem to have profited immensely through the experience gained thereby. Each will again perform in the circuit, "Mac" for the Belleville A. A. and Eddie for the Bell-Nuts.

This is merely mentioned for the purpose of proving that the American Legion was not a complete failure in its avowed intention of creating a league for the athletic development of the youth of the town. Many were the self-appointed critics last year who scoffed at the title: Belleville American Legion Athletic Development League, bemoaning the fact that the big majority of the players in it had long passed the development stage, which would be afforded them by this league.

These two youths, and others as well form concrete examples that the Legion kept in as great a measure as it could their "Development" plan and that their future efforts will bear even better results in developing Belleville's young talent.

To get away from baseball for the moment, two events of interest in local bowling occurred last week just to show Mr. Fan that bowling's star has not yet been totally eclipsed.

The first of this duo was the continued match bowling of the Hoople Club. This organization is one that certainly takes its bowling seriously. After a hard season of campaigning in the Belleville Legion Bowling circuit, the Hooples kept up their rolling activities long after the rest of the teams hereabouts had decided to call it quits for the season.

For the past month they have played at least one match per week, travelling most of the time, testing their well known skill on strange alleys and still they are not through for the year. A pair of tilts with the Milford A. A. and the Good Council five of Woodside, each of whom they have already defeated, have been carded for the next week or two. Even these games might not close their season for the Hooples like their bowling and like Tennyson's brook may "go on forever."

The second event of note was the long awaited American Legion Bowling League banquet at the Elks' Hall, Saturday night. The worn-out phrase "a good time was had by all" was never more fully exemplified than on Saturday and the Legion is to be congratulated for the way in which it climaxed a high-successful bowling season.

Belleville Loses To Kearny Nine

Close 5-2 Decision Costs Local Lads Initial Setback

The Belleville High baseball nine suffered its first defeat of the season, Tuesday afternoon at Clearman Field, dropping a close 5-2 decision to Kearny High.

Al Gaul, on the mound for the visitors, was in well nigh invincible form, letting the locals down with a meager five hits, in addition to striking out fourteen with his well known fast ball. He also contributed two bingles at opportune times to practically beat the Blue and Gold single-handed.

Jerry Bonavita was on the hill for the Bell-Boys and despite the defeat chalked up against him, twirled good ball throughout, fanning seven. Two let-downs in his fine work in the first and fifth frames provided the Kearny Cardinals with sufficient margin to win, plenty in view of Gaul's brilliant hurling.

The locals, even in defeat, looked far from bad. In fact, their regular fielding bordered on the sensational at times. Eddie O'Neill, regular center fielder, started the game at first base and proved a revelation at the initial bag, making several brilliant plays. Paul Schwieker in right field also acquitted, throwing out at second no less than two ambitious Kearny clouters trying to stretch singles into doubles.

"Mac" Lamb was the star of the rather weak Belleville batting attack, garnering two of the five hits his side was able to collect.

Brehme, Krook and Butz were the Kearny stand-outs in addition to Gaul.

Colored Giants Shape Up Well This Year

The Belleville Colored Giants, one of the leading entrants in the local American Legion League race, will again be coached this year by their veteran manager Sloan, who says that his present squad of players is the best he has ever had both as to willingness and ability. That is saying lots, too, as Sloan has been connected with some of the leading semi-pro nines hereabouts for many years.

The team, which shapes up as one of the best bets to give the Elks their closest battle for first place, is composed for the most part of old heads at the game with a few younger stars in the line-up to balance it.

The infield will probably be composed of "Big Ebb" (he prefers to be known by that strange appellation) on first; either Newman Ellington or Charley Gould occupying second; Hub Crawford, well-known Nutley star, cavorting around short-stop and Bus Stout efficiently covering third.

The starting outfield will be picked from B. Stout, "Chick" Salters, "Milo" Salters, Gus Marshall, Edson Salters and "Big Slim" Brown.

Manager Sloan prefers to remain secretive in regard to his pitching selections just at present, but has no hesitation in stating that he has one of the best catching staffs in the league in Slade and Morris, his pair of receivers.

This combination is truly a formidable one and should finish at or near the top during the coming league campaign.

"Energy" Replaces Starvation Diets In Hollywood Screen Contracts

Movie Stars Told to Eat Sweets and Other Energy Foods to Keep Pace With Speedier Drama.

HOLLYWOOD is off its pins diet. The sprig of water cress has grown to a good sized stew, the crust of bread to a slice of chocolate layer cake. Because, say Hollywood directors, the normal figure is in and the lamp post silhouette is out.

For the first time in years, stars of the celluloid are permitted to eat. All because the pace of the modern drama and comedy have been speeded up. And to keep up, the stars need energy, the kind that comes with a juicy steak, well buttered baked potato and a fudge sundae.

Tennis Favorite Sport

To complete the emancipation from Spartan meals and "made to order" figures, clauses stipulating measurements and weight limits are being slashed out of the screen star's contracts.

Of course, the return to sanity has been greeted with jubilation. As Leila Hyams aptly puts it: "I think it is much better to lose excessive flesh by action than by starvation." And Leila practices it, too. She isn't a Helen Wills but she can keep 'em stepping in a fast set of tennis.

"Aquaplaning, however, is my chief sport," she says, "and nothing suits me better than to feel the spray of the Pacific Ocean on my face and body when I am riding a board behind a speeding motor boat."

That takes stamina and bubbling vitality—just what is needed in these days of mile-a-minute motion picture acting.

Dieting Days Over

Miss Hyams points out that there is further justification for normal eating. "The girls this season," she said, "won't have to bother about rigid diets, for the girl with graceful feminine curves will be more popular than the one with the boyish figure of the past."

So, the flat-chested girl is relegated to the family album. And, if anything was needed to put the punch to that statement, it was the edict of producers that stars must eat plenty of sweets and all the other energy producing foods.

Joan Crawford, wife of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., has fallen in line, too. "As I know the girl with curves is returning, I am allowing myself a larger diet," she said.

To prevent excessive weight and to build up her energy to the new tempo in picture making, Miss Crawford, like Leila Hyams, disperses in the out-of-doors, fishing, surfing, swimming and riding over the paths of the Beverly Hills. With the return of a saner attitude toward diet by screen directors Hollywood girls are becoming healthier, vibrant with energy and tingling with action.

Quite likely, too, this revolutionary move on the part of the screen colony's High Command may usher in "the old fashioned girl"—the girl of plump and ruddy cheeks, dazling smile and dancing eyes that spell good health.

At least, Leila Hyams believes so.

"The type of girl our grand-mother was is slowly returning," she says. "Soon we will see charming, well-mannered girls who will step into the limelight in place of the noisy, rowdy types who have done their best to take away their real asset—femininity."

Below—Joan Crawford and Dorothy Sebastian, screen stars, do a "beach swimming" to keep in trim.

Last Friday "Happy" led all six rounds in his match with Andy "Ace" Hucksins of Perth Amboy at the Ocean View Boxing Club, Asbury Park.

"Happy" stands six feet, has a long reach and packs a punch that warns his opponents to steer clear of him by a high, wide and handsome space.

Legion Bowling League Writes Finis On Successful Season

The Belleville American Legion Bowling League wrote finis on its first season, Saturday night, at Elks' Hall with a banquet for the pinning of the trophy.

After the duly authorized process of masticating steak and sipping coffee had been accomplished to the satisfaction of all present, the speech making end of the banquet was officially opened by Dick Dolan, representing the American Legion.

Mr. Dolan, in breaking the ice, gave a clear, concise picture of the American Legion's purpose and aims in civic life in general and also detailed somewhat the athletic side, of which the bowling circuit was a part. He concluded his fine talk by introducing "Joe" Williams, president of the league, although that was hardly necessary as they all knew the likeable Joe.

Mr. Williams then made a brief speech but one to the point about the progress of the league generally. He followed this short talk by presenting the members of eleven of the twelve teams entered in the league with gold watch charms. The twelfth team, the pennant-winning Burke's Colts combination, was presented with gold bowling balls.

Following these presentations of individual prizes, Larry Keenan, who acted the part of toastmaster to perfection, began introducing the men who were to present the team cups.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy started the ball rolling by presenting the Burke's Colts team with the Town of Belleville trophy, a beautiful silver loving cup, because of their winning of first place.

The second place cup was next awarded to the Hoople Club by Bill Slater, representing the Moose Club, the donors of the trophy. "Red" Kant, captain of the Hooples, made a brief speech of acceptance.

William H. Williams, candidate for the town commission and a member of the local Zoning Board, followed Slater in the matter of presentations and gave "Spivots" Noonan of the Belleville A. A. the Williams trophy, in recognition of their copping of third place.

Samuel Figurelli, former Recorder and an entrant in the commission race, and Commissioner William D. Clark, collaborated in awarding the team high score prizes. Mr. Figurelli presented the high team average prize, his own trophy, and Mr. Clark the high team score cup. Both awards went to the winning Burke's Colts combine, represented by their leader, Tommie Dunn.

Immediately following, the real

"dessert" of the evening was set before the expectant banqueters. This was in the nature of a well rounded, sincere speech on bowling by Major Charles Tate. Mr. Tate was well qualified to talk on the subject, being at the present time president of the Greater Newark Bowling Association, member of the executive committee of the American Bowling Congress, bowling editor of the Sunday Call, as well as being no mean bowler himself.

The big thing in his illuminating, informal talk was his discussion of the advantages of entering the National Bowling Association, of which the Legion League is one of the few non-entrants. His discussion of this all-important matter was well received by the Legion as well as the others and it is felt that before next season rolls around the league may become a certified member of organized bowling.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to completing the presentation of trophies.

These trophies were headed by the individual high score prizes of which there were six.

Johnny Lawlor, on behalf of the El Club, led off by presenting Charley Schlecker with one for high individual average in the league.

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher followed by presenting Willie Klemz, through Tommie Dunn, with a cup for individual high score. The remaining four prizes went to Gene Geishen, Tommie Dunn, Bill Buttons, and Bill Byrnes, who finished in that order in the race for individual honors in the averages.

John P. Maher, president of the Board of Education, presented second prize to Geishen; Tom Fleming, commander of the local post, American Legion, the third to Dunn; Charles L. Steel, Jr., principal of the high school, the fourth to Buttons. Tommie Dunn concluded by changing his role to that of presenter instead of acceptor long enough to award the fifth to Bill Byrnes.

The dinner broke up then with everyone secure in his belief that he had had a good time.

Weehawken Outfit No Match For Heavy Hitting Bell Boys

The Belleville High baseball nine pried open the lid of its current campaign by handing Weehawken High an overwhelming 15-3 shelling at Clearman Field, Saturday afternoon, before a good sized crowd.

The locals clouted the ball to all corners of the lot in administering this trouncing to the visitors, amassing a grand total of seventeen safe blows, many of which were for extra bases.

The leading figure in this wholesale bombardment of Weehawken flingers, of which there were three, was "Mac" Lamb, ace short-stop. Lamb pulled the Ruthian act twice, slamming out two long circuit clouts, each with a man on base. His first round tripper in the third frame cleared the center field fence and landed on in Holmes street, while his second, which was even longer was to right center and was labelled homer the moment it left his bat on a line.

Lamb was ably assisted in his heroic efforts by Ralph Casale, who stepped out of his role of twirler for the Blue and Gold, long enough to clear center field fence with a circuit drive in the fourth.

In addition to the wholesale slugging on the part of Lamb and Casale, hitting honors went to Jerry Bonavita who collected five safeties in five trips to the platter, three of them going for doubles.

Though the batting activities of the locals rather overshadowed any other phase of play, the pitching as attended to by Ralph Casale and Jerry Bonavita was of the highest order. After poor support had helped the Weehawkenites to a trio of runs in the first two cantos, Casale, who started on the mound for the Bell-boys, settled down and pitched superb ball for the rest of the way. He twirled six consecutive scoreless innings, not a semblance of a visiting run asserting itself during this period. Bonavita hurled in the ninth frame and mowed down the visitors in order, two of the three batters he faced being retired via the strike-out route.

After Weehawken had opened the game with a run in its half of the first the Blue and Gold came right back with two in the same frame. Christell, who played brilliantly throughout, led off with a blazing single to left. King sacrificed him to second and Lamb, up next, was given a free ticket. Bonavita brought Christell across with the first free run with a double to the fence, while Lamb stopped at third. Lamb dented the rubber a minute later on a long sacrifice fly to center by Eddie O'Neill.

Weehawken again went into a short-lived lead in the second by collecting their final two runs of the game. Both of these tallies were unearned.

Following a scoreless frame Belleville went on a batting orgy in the third and a final check-up on the damage served to disclose that they had tallied six times, more than enough to cinch the game. "Mac" Lamb's first homer marked the high spot of this spree.

The Bell-boys then proceeded to make a runaway affair of it by tallying twice more in the fourth and a quartet of times in the fifth. A pair of doubles by Jerry Bonavita, "Mac" Lamb's second homer, Casale's round-tripper and a brace of line bingles by Paul Schwieker, slugger de luxe, were mainly responsible for this latest drive, which drove two Weehawken pitchers off the mound.

For the remainder of the game the locals eased along with their insurmountable margin and were content with scoring a single run in the remaining innings, while Casale was holding the losers in complete subjection.

Intertowns Defeat Belleville Comets For Third Win

The Ints shut-out the Belleville Comets by a 6-0 score at No. 7 School Sunday afternoon for their third win of the season.

Cappy pitched excellent ball, allowing but three well scattered hits and receiving seven strike-outs, making his average twenty in fourteen innings.

The team played well and gave Cappy excellent support and the ball was batted freely for six runs and seven hits.

King threatened to score when he made a triple to left field but died there as the Ints played tight ball.

S. Luzzi, P. Vitello and F. Tuozolo held batting honors with two hits apiece.

Sunday the Ints will engage in a double-header by meeting the Nutley Red Wings in the morning and the Auburn P. C. in the afternoon.

For games write to L. Luzzi, 14 Federal street, Belleville.
