RECORD OF WATERS ASSURES RE-ELECTION

What's An Election Without A Little Fun; So It Starts

And This Week There Was A Grand Finale Prior To Tuesday

The anti-administration movement got under way Tuesday night in the Elks' auditorium and will have a second installment tonight at the same place.

Some say that all the fireworks were displayed Tuesday and others aver that tonight more will be shown.

As is or may be some of those indorsed Tuesday left no uncertain thoughts that they are not parties to proverbial "mudslinging."

"Bill" Williams, whose slogan is "Independent of all political factions" hit the nail on the head when he said he thinks that the voters are not interested in squabbles but in the application of business brains to Belleville's business affairs.

He accepted the indorsement—and that is that—he is not bound to any faction. Further enlightenment on this position is in another column of this paper where he answers a letter sent him from Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, who assailed John DeGraw for backing a ticket composed of candidates who so far as is known

Mathes Nails Lie Aimed To Hurt Clark's Campaign

It has been my desire to conduct my campaign for re-election cleanly and openly. A story spread against me throughout the town has hurt me personally because it was so baseless, so malicious and so unfair and because of its eleventh hour release was almost impossible to contradict.

It gives me a great deal of satisfaction therefore, to find that the candidate involved has so thoroughly repudiated and disowned this baseless attempt to slander my personal character. I am grateful to him for his manly act.

I submit without further comment the following statement.

WILLIAM D. CLARK.

There has come to my attention a story, presuming to emanate from me or some one else and presumably placing Commissioner Clark in a position, which, if left undenied, would be unfair to him.

To my knowledge and dealings there is no fairer or more upright man than Commissioner W. D. Clark and in justice to him the malicious statement spread throughout the town is absolutely false.

Signed

WALTER S. MATHES,
104 Little street.

A Correction

The Belleville Times of this week in an article with reference to the local campaign makes it appear that I took an oath that Walter S. Mathes issued the statement printed therein. This is an error.

When copies of his original statement were given to the press it was necessary that I make an affidavit that they were correct copies, for the protection of the paper only, and not meant for publication.

I have always had the highest regard for Mr. Mathes and even more so since he has denied the truth of the vile rumor circulated about town.

In justice to all concerned I make this statement.

American Legion League To Open Baseball Season

There Will Be A Parade Before Game Tomorrow Afternoon

The American Legion League for Athletic Development will open the season tomorrow at Clearman Field, at 3 P. M.

The festivities will commence with a parade beginning at the Town Hall at 2 P. M.

The contesting teams and officials headed by a band will march to Clearman Field where the Belleville A. A. will play the Belleville Colored Giants.

There will be twilight baseball every evening at Clearman Field.

Frank Gibson Is Host To Directors Of B. &amp; L.

Belleville Association Has Good Time At His New Home

Directors of the Belleville Building and Loan Association were guests of Frank Gibson at his new home in Highland avenue, Montclair, Tuesday evening. Mrs. Gibson was presented a basket of flowers by John Lancaster on behalf of the guests.

Mr. Gibson was presented an onyx twin-pen desk set by William H. Williams, candidate for commissioner, also on behalf of the guests.

Those who were present are Mr. Lancaster, John Burke, William Knapp, Frederick Wihof, John P. Maher, August Wines, Edward Mathes, Frank Wordsworth, Mr. Williams, Andrew Boylan, Fred J. Ritter, Joseph Connolly and Lawrence Westlake.

WILLIAMS ANSWERS KENWORTHY LETTER AS REGARDS ANTIS

May 6, 1930.

William H. Williams, Esq.,
82 Rossmore place,
Belleville, N. J.

My dear Mr. Williams:

In the May 5 issue of the Newark Evening News an article appears which apparently ties you to an anti-administration ticket supported by former Mayor John DeGraw.

One paragraph reads as follows: "Asked if the report were true that HIS aim was to obtain the election of at least three of HIS ticket, Mr. DeGraw said he did not want to make such a statement."

I emphasize the words "HIS" as it definitely ties up this combination as a DeGraw ticket.

I am writing this letter to inquire if you are willing to face the voters next Tuesday as either a DeGraw Candidate or an Anti-Administration Candidate, or both?

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL S. KENWORTHY.

P. S.—I am giving this letter to the local and daily press and feel sure they will extend the same courtesy to you in publishing your answer.

Mayor S. S. Kenworthy:

Respectful recognition to your letter of May 6 is made herewith.

I am not interested in discussing personal issues between a present and a former Mayor.

Our citizens are more interested in placing ability where ability is required than in settling personal issues.

Reference to page 3 (this paper) wherein confidence in my integrity and ability is publicly expressed by many well known citizens, appears sufficient guarantee that I am accepted as the candidate "Independent

I do not believe in the grouping of candidates. It is my belief our citizens will select their commissioners solely on the personal qualification of each candidate.

I started this campaign as an independent candidate and am finishing as an independent candidate.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS.

Hyde Says He Is Independent In Commission Race

Elmer S. Hyde has just issued the following statement:

"For the benefit of my friends and the voters of the town, I hereby announce that I am an independent candidate for commissioner.

"I have received the endorsement of the Independent Voters' Association, The Non-Partisan Voters' League and other groups of citizens.

"I am grateful for these endorsements and will welcome the support from any other representative group."

RALLY AT DAVIDSON HEADQUARTERS TOMORROW AND SATURDAY EVENINGS

Automobile Parade Friday Evening at 8 O'clock

Supporters of James L. Davidson have planned to make Friday and Saturday evenings, gala nights, in advancing his candidacy for town commissioner. Friday evening an automobile parade of 100 cars will leave headquarters at Washington avenue and Essex street at 8 o'clock. Returning to headquarters participants will be served with refreshments by members of the Davidson Women's Auxiliary.

Saturday evening music and speakers will augment a social gathering on the lawn of his campaign headquarters. In charge of the Women's Auxiliary Friday evening will be Mrs. Edward C. Pelz and on Saturday evening, Mrs. Fred Fisher. Assistants, Mrs. Pelz and Mrs. Fisher will be the following committee: Mrs. W. R. Adams, Mrs. Howard Byles, Mrs. William Bain, Mrs. S. A. Allen, Mrs. Fittsimmons and Daniel Peck.

Proceeds Will Be Used For Widows And Orphans

Belleville Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, will open the monster carnival for the benefit of Widows' and Orphans' Fund on Saturday, May 10 to 17, at Brighton and Newark avenues, Belleville.

Testimonial Dinner For George Cole

A testimonial dinner will be given tomorrow evening in the Elk Home for Past Commander George Cole of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The dinner will start at 7 o'clock.

The committee is composed of Edward O'Connor, Hugh Patterson, Edward Wirtz, Recorder George A. Fittsimmons and Daniel Peck.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS UNDER HIS ADMINISTRATION DURING PAST 3 YEARS THAN PREVIOUS TERMS

"Words are merely scratchings on the tablet of time, but deeds are indelibly engraved in enduring letters of gold." These words uttered by a philosopher of the Fourteenth Century, peculiarly fit the case of the candidacy of Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, now seeking re-election on May 13. The record of the Commissioner of Public Improvements is one which will successfully bear the acid test of scrutiny from experts in the science of government.

It is a panoramic march of progress never witnessed in this municipality, and rarely by any other community throughout this or any other state of the union. It is this record which was his promised platform four years ago, which he is offering to the electorate of Belleville today as his platform for the ensuing four years. To say the least, it is progressive, it is sound, and it is economic. While various planks of this platform as well as the performances of some of his departments have been given publicity in both the press and from public rostrums, the Commissioner feels it his duty to place the entire story before the voters at this time, giving each and all ample opportunity between the publication of this issue and May 13, to read and analyze his statement so they may again select him to carry on for the next four years. Mr. Waters' statement follows:

Personal History

"For the benefit of the electorate I was born in Belleville 54 years ago. I have constantly resided in the home I was born in, at 28 Bayard street. I intend to continue living in Belleville. It is with personal pride I point to my humble surroundings which, to me and my forebears, has and always will mean 'Home Sweet Home.' Belleville has always given me a livelihood in the avocation I adopted to earn my salt. It has, by the Grace of God, lifted me from the ordinary walks of business to a place in public life. This same public life claimed my brother of blessed memory, whose career is one Belleville can never forget and which career has and always shall serve as a shining beacon for me to follow.

"Up until now, I have continued to uphold that heritage. It is my firm and honest intention to continue doing so. Every public office to me has been a public trust which I hold, is a trust to be kept inviolate and uncontaminated. My public career which dates back some 18 years ago, proves beyond a shadow of a doubt, that the confidences that the voters of Belleville have given me has not been misplaced. It is part of my creed never to misplace this public confidence.

The Valley Situation

"Since I have been a public official, I have discharged all my assigned duties with credit, regardless of what portion of the town they affected. The Valley, as that portion of the town below Washington avenue is known, which has been my home, has always held a warm spot for me, which after all is only human. We always hold home closer and dearer to us regardless. I have seen the Passaic Valley as boy and man. Main street was at one time the main artery of the town where the antiquated horse-drawn cars gave us our only means of transportation connection with our neighbors. It was here, where pictures which I now recall from my boyhood days, re-envision a beautiful stream with overhanging trees, velvety lawns, ideal carriage drives along the river front, the stately Eastwood Mansion, Belleville Inn, built in 1663, famous at one time as headquarters of the father of our Country, George Washington, while he conducted his campaign in our beloved state. Factories, hives of industry, which gave employment to so many of our citizens. Yes, and as I stand on the front porch, even now my mind brings back scenes along the river, gay and happy scenes, boating and picnic parties, excursion steamers with holiday crowds from Newark and other points, plying up and down what was at one time known as America's most picturesque stream.

"It was such visions as these out of memories, dim, but happy past, which girded me to lead the battle in 1925 when the $5,000,000 Bond Issue was placed on the ballot for a further expenditure to clean up the valley, which the pollution by industrial plants from Paterson to South Newark and on account of which pollution the tidy sum of 30 millions of dollars had already been spent for a trunk sewer. With my back against the wall and seeing the realization of my boyhood dreams about to be crushed, I personally assumed the expense and circularized the entire valley to vote "Yes" on the Bond Issue, which authorized by State Legislature the purchase of all river front properties for park purposes by the Essex County Park Commission. I am happy to state that my neighbors and friends, as well as the entire citizenry not only of the valley but the town, stood nobly by me in my fight and the Bond Issue went over by the overwhelming vote of 10 to 1.

"I heartily endorse the action of David L. Kelly, secretary to the Essex County Park Commission in the proposition of acquiring further parcels of land from Rutgers street to the Nutley Line to enable the building of the new highway which will unquestionably add vastly to the land values along the river front. It is with regret that I see the razing of all the old landmarks and factories to make way for the Twentieth Century progress. But, I feel sure that that town in general and the valley in particular will be amply compensated in the very near future by the re-beautifying of the Passaic and the enhancing property values which will follow as a result of these improvements.

Protects Home Owners

"Having pride in my own home, humble though it may be, nothing arouses my ire more than the attempted encroachments of factories and apartment houses in a strictly residential zone. Despite the fact of the increased ratables, these structures would bring to Belleville, I am, and always will be, unalterably opposed to saddling such buildings on the necks of localities which are strictly residential and where the erection of such buildings would jeopardize the small home owner who has his life's investment in the pride of his life—his own roof. To my mind, there are any number of desirable localities where such ratables should be encouraged and where such buildings would be suitably placed without depreciating the small home. On the contrary, such ratables properly located would not only benefit the owners, but would lessen the tax burden of the small home owner all over the town. I shall always champion the fight of the people in this direction which my record already shows.

The most recent case is the Ice Plant Site, which was amply set forth in last week's issue of the press.

Recreational Facilities

"Fully realizing that families select towns such as ours for the proper rearing of their children, I feel it is part of the sworn duty of the governing body to provide suitable education to your satisfaction at the most reasonable prices. # MY FINAL WORD

By FRANK J. CARRAGHER

Next Tuesday the stockholders of Belleville, meaning every voter, will have the opportunity to select its directors for four years. With all my heart I thank the leadership of every element that has rendered unstinted support to my candidacy. I have accepted these endorsements with a full heart, indicative that behind them comes the good-will of the grateful people representing all classes, conditions and political thought. It stimulates in me the purpose to continue to champion those two words that have been my strength in the time of every battle, my purpose in conserving every dollar proposed for waste, my criterion at every turn when private enterprise would resist public welfare—"The People."

"The People"—you know where I have stood, where I stand, where I ever will be. My office, my home, my telephone and my heart are open twenty-four hours of every day to you, to your interests and to the destiny of Belleville which continues to grow. I refrain from replying to last minute statements, to unsigned handbills, to political conniving that could not stand the test of light, because my faith in the people is superb.

I can almost hear the count. My years are numbered; of the world's goods I have nothing; but, the knowledge that I have done my part in serving our people is dear to me, and for it I thank God and every one of you for the opportunity of serving on your behalf.

FRANK J. CARRAGHER.

Respectfully submitted,

I BELIEVE

the citizens of Belleville are more keenly interested in the application of business brains and sound judgment to the Town's business than in the political success of any candidate or any group of candidates. A knowledge of how to dispose of problems and a foundation of strong character are the taxpayer's best guarantees for a constructive and economical administration.

MY CAMPAIGN

is independent of every other, each candidate should permit his qualifications to be independently appraised by the voters. Endorsements of any and all groups and associations are gladly welcomed, every endorsement extended and accepted by me has been free of any demands.

OUR STANDARD

of men qualified to act as Belleville's business managers for the next four years requires that the candidate to receive your vote must have the ability to contribute experience, vision and courage to the job.

FROM THE FIELD

of fourteen candidates, five men must be selected. They must be men who will fulfill your ideals and who are worthy of the high trust to be extended to them.

POLLS OPEN 7 A. M. TO 8 P. M.

ational, playground and recreational facilities. While the Board of Education and the Recreation Commission are separate and distinct entities in themselves and should be divorced from all semblance of so called political ministrations, nevertheless, I feel that both of these bodies and the Board of Commissioners have the joint duty of cooperation to the end to serve all the people. As a one time member of the School Board, I point with distinct pride to School No. 9 in the Valley Section, which is a fitting monument to any community and in which I was the prime mover for its erection. When first induced into office as a member of the present Recreation Board, the present Recreation House, formerly the Alms House, came under my department. It was the impetus by the recreation commission serving under my jurisdiction which, with the added energy of the present commissioner, brought about the fine condition of the Recreation Centre, which is a credit to this or any community.

"Right here, let me clear up what to many people may be a misquoted and false impression. No one commissioner or member of the Board is responsible for the final solution of any project. Regardless of the soundness of the benefits to the town of any project or problem, it requires a majority vote (three members) for the final passing of any proposition. This holds true for any moves I or any other member of the Board may investigate. So that this follows. Any project or problem whatever it may be, three members are necessary to vote it through and no one man is responsible.

"Further realizing that the necessity has arisen to provide additional recreational playground facilities, I, as well as some of the members of the Board, feel that the much discussed "Turf Bog" while within the realms of the Board of Education, should and ought to be utilized for recreational purposes. It is practically valueless for residential purposes, due to the terrain. True, we have Clearman Field, a very fine stadium. But recent developments show it is improperly placed and the town has already outgrown it. A proper survey by competent experts, I believe, would prove that the Turf Bog will solve our recreational problem.

Engineering Department

"I consider it a real accomplishment that this department, which up to the time I took charge, was being run at a deficit, has shown a profit for the year 1929 of $4,000. In former years, the work of this department was handled on a percentage basis, which system did not bring the desired results. The reorganization of program, routine and personnel under the efficient supervision of Mr. Albert S. Blank, the town engineer, has resulted in the creating of an Engineering Department which is on a par with any of the foremost cities in the state. During the last year alone the earnings of this department as computed by available statistics, were $19,000 or approximately $9,000 over the anticipated earnings. This item alone is equal to a 3 point tax reduction.

Water Department

"My make-up does not permit me to resort to high-sounding phrases or references which tend to befog rather than clarify a situation. When I first took over the Water Department, it was being run under a system which dated back quite a number of years. All connections, laterals, hydrants, sewers, catch basins and such other equipment necessary were installed, laid and maintained by municipal employees. This, to me, seemed, after making a study of the situation, a poor way of doing business. It did not seem sound and economic. Therefore, after consulting some of the best minds, we placed all this work on competitive contract bidding. The result surpassed my most conservative estimates. It opened up new channels for reducing taxes. Boiled down to plain facts and figures, here is the result of the change. I and my colleagues have made set-up so that even he who runs may read and understand.

"In 1926 the Water Department showed a deficit of $14,000.00. In 1927 the first year the department was entirely under my supervision, this deficit was reduced $11,000 but still showed a deficit of $3,000. In 1928 the second year of my supervision, the department showed a profit of $3,000 the first time this has happened in the history of its existence. In 1929 we showed a still further profit of $6,000. Hence in the short period of the three and one-half years the department has been under my supervision from an item of $14,000 on the debit side of the ledger I have, with the cooperation I have received, made a complete turnaround and placed the same amount on the credit side.

Streets and Highways

"When the present board was inducted into office, they definitely went on record that the only kind of street or highway paving they would put down, would be the reinforced concrete. We have kept our promise. Not one inch of penetration roads has been laid. The greater portion of the appropriation for the upkeep of streets, snow removal, sanitation of streets, and so forth, goes for the up-keep and repairs of these same penetration roads laid just previously to this administration.

"The town is being systematically developed and this is due solely and alone to the new streets that have been opened. Every new section now can point with pride to the shiny white pavements where before the road conditions were actually an accident hazard. From the standpoint of fire protection for the safety of the home, this is good business. For now, our fire-fighting apparatus has ready access to practically every street in town. Our action in the improvement has earned the commendations of both home builders and owners, and to me this is a cherished thought of a job well done.

"My departmental record shows we have laid 150,000 yards or approximately 8 miles of concrete pavement. This constitutes about one-fifth of the present number of paved streets in town and this in only three years' service. Add to this 7 miles of concrete sidewalk and curb and it resolves itself into a huge program which few cities much larger than our town, would care to undertake. Seven miles of sanitary sewers have been added during my term of office, the original sewer ordinance being passed prior to 1924. Since the entire length of the town's sewerage is approximately 50 miles, it can readily be seen that during my term practically one-seventh of the entire sewer system has been laid.

"May I Have Your Support?" "I have here set down a straightforward story of my service to you, the people, whose confidence I believe I have rightfully earned and not misplaced. It is a record of which I, or any other Commissioner can justly feel proud. It is a record which I offer to you as a yardstick with which to measure me. I am offering you the same type of platform, the same loyal service with which I have warranted your confidence and approval. I want, to again serve for four years, if I may.

"Further than this, I want to serve as I have in the past, never straddling any question, but always voting a definite "Yes" or "No," as may be the wish of the people.

"On May 13 you can designate your approval of the service I rendered by returning me as a public official whose services have been tried and not found wanting. May I have your support?"

What's An Election Without A Little Fun; So It Starts

are not grouped of their own volition.

Monday night at the Civic League meeting for Continued Good Government Commissioner Frank J. Carragher said he intended to stay independent, throw "no mud" at anyone and Tuesday night he did as Williams, accepted the endorsement, said he was glad to get it, and sat down, after explaining he had accepted an endorsement from the administration organization the night before.

Walter Mathes made it clear that he did not intend to do anything, but keep his campaign clear-cut and he expects his opponents to do the same. He emphasized his previous statement, detail of which also appears in another column of this paper, that Commissioner William Clark is one of the finest men in Belleville and had no part in the move to interfere with Mathes' private affairs in that somebody tried to bring pressure with the Erie Railroad, with which Mathes is connected, to force him from the race or cause him to lose his job.

This paper thinks that move the most sinister in the race and sincerely hopes that Mr. Mathes will be able to spike the instigator of it before the election is over. We add that Mr. Clark is not the type of man to have any part in any such deal.

Samuel Figurelli and Elmer Hyde were brief in their remarks, the latter saying that if elected he will do all in his power to see George R. Gerard, retained "as one of the finest men Belleville ever had or ever will have as superintendent of schools."

About 250 listened to an attack on the administration by three speakers for the Independent Voters Association. Victor Schleicher, president of the Affiliated Improvement Association of the town, acting as chairman, announced endorsement of a five-man ticket.

Speakers were W. H. K. Davey, Charles J. Gardella and George E. Stewart, Jr. Mr. DeGraw, who is supporting the ticket, sat on the platform with the candidates, but did not speak.

A letter addressed to Mr. DeGraw and also sent to the press by Mayor Kenworthy questions DeGraw regarding his support of the ticket. Letters also were sent to each of the candidates DeGraw said he would support. Answers through the press are requested.

The letter to DeGraw reads: "In the May 5 issue of The Newark Evening News you are quoted as saying that you would support a five-man ticket in the coming Belleville election for the 'civic betterment of Belleville.' In another paragraph of the same article is found the following sentences: 'Asked if the report were true that his aim was to obtain the election of at least three of his ticket, Mr. DeGraw said, 'I did not want to make such a statement.'"

"I emphasize the words 'his' as they definitely tie up the ticket as being your ticket. 'May I frankly ask you what is wrong with the civic spirit of the three members of the board whom you apparently desire to replace?'"

Requests Answers "Now, Mr. DeGraw, inasmuch as you raise the question of civic betterment and have suddenly developed a desire to lead the people of Belleville

How to Buy a Car

A RACING driver's slant on ordinary, everyday automobile driving may seem rather warped in the eyes of the average individual. Yet, when you think about it, why shouldn't a racing driver be in a better position to know about automobiles and driving than the average person?

On the race track, the speed demon crams into a few hours all the experiences that Mr. and Mrs. John Public get in the average year's driving. Things happen faster on the race track. And they happen in such a way as to leave a lasting impression.

On the highway, if a motorist makes a turn too quickly, it generally means a close call with a lamp post or a pole. The same occurrence on a race track usually means serious trouble and the racer who commits this error of judgment may find himself lying in a distant field in case he ever finds out anything.

Writing for the instruction of the ordinary driver is a large order. I can think of a lot of things I am more capable of doing, but if the motorist reads these, and profits thereby, it is well worth any effort on my part.

In the first place, I have some strong ideas about choosing a car. An automobile should be fitted to the use of the individual, his family and business requirements, and his pocket-book. This can be done, these days.

Many people buy "high powered, ponderous transportation, when a lighter car would fill their needs and leave money in the bank. Others choose the wrong style of body, while still others risk their necks in a "hot for the money" chariot which is all body and display and which has little, if anything, under the hood.

I believe in a motor as small in horsepower as is consistent with the work it will be called upon to do, on the average.

If my use of a car is mostly in connection with city driving or its congested environs, I want a car that can be easily steered and controlled, with a short wheel base for easy parking. It must have an all-steel body for, in my opinion, this type of body is safer and less liable to rust and rattle. Its door posts are smaller, thus increasing visibility. And its finish coats are more durable. In fact it is conducive to the main characteristic I seek in a car—long useful life. This type of body can withstand much abuse and if an accident should occur, my chances of escape from injury are considerably increased.

represent their interests?"

Betterment Or Revenge?

"One more question, Mr. DeGraw: Is it not true that in your effort to replace some members of our board, you are actually actuated by a spirit of personal revenge rather than civic betterment?"

"I am sure you will find the citizens somewhat interested in your answers before they will accept your leadership in your anti-administration move."

The letters to Commissioner Frank J. Carragher, Samuel Figurelli, Elmer Hyde, Walter Mathes and William H. Williams, comprising the ticket DeGraw said he will support, read in part:

Antis Get Bumps

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and Commissioner Patrick A. Waters replied Monday night to the report that 4,000 citizens had selected you to support a five-man-anti-administration ticket, aiming at the overthrow of the present board majority. Commissioner William D. Clark, a member of the majority and running for reelection, also said: "No amount of ballyhoo will change the people's minds this late in the campaign."

The three were speakers, together with Commissioner Frank J. Carragher, City Clerk William J. Egan of Newark and Louis Auerbacher, Jr., president of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission, at a meeting of the Civic League for Continued Good Government at Belleville Elks' Club. William Wakefield, vice president, repeated the league's indorsement of the four incumbents for reelection. Henry C. Jacobus presided. More than 500 attended.

Regarding his name on the "anti" ticket of the Independent Voters' Association, Carragher said he would accept any indorsement but would "not combine with anyone." He said he was "not smart enough to tell who would be elected" and would consequently "run on my own, representing the people." He paid tribute to the work of the present board on sewer problems and said "we have got to work together at the town hall."

A Comic Strip

Mayor Kenworthy ridiculed DeGraw's efforts, saying, "Isn't it amusing? That famous, funny leader who turned his back on 4,000 voters when they most needed him and ran from the town hall, just because he couldn't have all that he wanted, is now going to tell you folks what you are going to do.

"Inasmuch as this is so funny, I am going to write a few letters to my old friend John and ask him a few questions. I'm going to ask him if as an attorney he did not know officials who handle town funds should be bonded, not forgetting the $134,000 shortage four years ago. I'm going to ask him if it was a spirit of civic betterment which prompted him to turn his back on the people at a crucial time? Also, I'm going to ask the five men of the 'anti' line-up to step forward and declare where they stand.

"If this anti movement gets under way, you will be approached to turn down those who have given you clean honest government. Take a look behind it all before you change your mind and find out if those who seek your aid are not disappointed office seekers.

"It is the people of Belleville who are on trial at a time like this, not the present board. The eyes of North Jersey are on the town to see if it is going to continue good government. I may have accomplished things for the good of your municipality but that means nothing without your support, which I humbly ask."

Waters Wildly Cheered Waters was the first to attack DeGraw. He brought down the house. When he said: "When a certain individual in this town declares he is going to present a ticket for the best interests of Belleville, I, for one, am not going to let him get away with it without a word. When this man was a town commissioner and when the town needed a lawyer, he quit and left the board to clear up the mess. He may be able to pull down the strength of Kenworthy or Waters, he says. I do not fear that man and have faith in the voters of Belleville on election day.

Bow Head In Shame

I had far sooner serve on the board with Mayor Kenworthy and what he has done in the last four years than bow my head in shame to sit with a man who says he is going to turn these men out."

Better Fire Equipment

Clark spoke briefly of the progress seen in all departments of the town's administration. He called attention to the firemen being able, through proper equipment, to render assistance at the Arlington fire Monday and, in the past, to Nutley and Clifton.

Auerbacher spoke on the big task confronting the Sewer Commission in the elimination of pollution from the Passaic River. City Clerk Egan, saying "we are only next door in Newark and know what is going on in Belleville every day," spoke highly of the present board members and Town Clerk John J. Daly, whom he termed "Belleville's biggest booster."

Acrobatic dancing and songs were given by children of the McKee Browne School of Dancing of Newark. The entertainers were from the "Band Box Revue" of New York. Motion pictures of the activities of Mayor Kenworthy were shown by William George Hunt, former Belleville tax assessor.

Twelve of the thirteen candidates for commissioner extolled their own political qualifications and discussed the present administration at a meeting held Friday night at the recreation house under the auspices of the West Belleville Improvement Association. Harry Boutillette, president of the association presided at the meeting.

NOTICE

Voters of the Third Ward, Fourth District will please take note that the polling place for that district is in the Church Rooms of Fewsmith Presbyterian Church on Little Street just off Union Avenue, the voters in this district formerly voted in School No. 5 but the polling place has been changed. The Voters from the Third Ward, Seventh District will continue to vote in School No. 5 as they formerly did.

Special attention should be paid by the voters on the south side of Smallwood Avenue to the fact that they are still voting in the Fourth Ward, Second District which polling place is at School No. 2 on Mill Street in Soho.

OWING to the fact that the Permanent Registration Law became effective but a few years ago and is therefore not one hundred per cent perfect at the present time, it might be well for the voters of the Town of Belleville to know that mistakes are apt to creep into the registration lists, that is, your name may be in the wrong book on election day. These cases may be few, but anyone finding this out can have the situation taken care of at once at the Town Clerk's Office on Election Day where the Commissioner of Registration of Essex County will have a man sit just for this purpose.

It is also possible that some Belleville Voters will within the next few days receive notice from the Superintendent of Elections stating that your name is on the Challenge list for some reason or other. This is possible, owing to the fact that there was a tremendous registration in Belleville and the possibility that canvassers, in covering the Town have been unable to find you home, or for some other reason. As soon as you receive this notice by mail, get in touch with the Town Clerk's Office and it can be straightened out with no inconvenience to the voter.

New features of the Ford Truck

Brakes on the front wheels have been enlarged to the same size as those on the rear, providing important new features have been incorporated in the chassis of the Ford truck. They increase its performance, strength, reliability, safety and economy.

Dual rear wheels, available at small additional cost, are a feature you will find both convenient and economical. Balloon tires of one size are used throughout with the dual equipment, so that all six steel disc wheels and tires are interchangeable all around. Only one spare need be carried.

A feature which increases strength and reliability is the new rear axle. It has a spiral bevel gear of special Ford truck design, with straddle-mounted pinion. Axle shafts are heavier than formerly, and because of the three-quarter floating type of construction, they serve only to turn the wheels, without carrying any of the weight of truck or load. Increased braking area and a high degree of safety. Brakes are of the mechanical type, internal expanding, and all are fully enclosed. Controls have been redesigned and operate with minimum effort.

You will find the 4-speed transmission of special value. Assuring a wide, flexible range of speed and power, it adds definitely to the alertness and capable performance of the Ford truck. A large-sized opening is provided in the transmission for take-off mounting, so that you can readily obtain power for hoists and other equipment.

An example of the burly strength embodied in the chassis is the new front axle, which is twice as strong as formerly. The front spring is heavier, with wider leaves. Front radius-rod is heavier, and king-pins, wheel bearings and thrust bearings are larger.

Come in and examine the Ford truck. You are sure to be impressed by the exceptional value it represents.

ADVERTISING GOT THE GRASSHOPPERS

An Advertising Salesman bet a man that he could insert a one-inch advertisement in the most inconspicuous corner of the paper, offering a prize to the boy or girl who brought in the most grasshoppers on a certain day and get results that would surprise one. The man agreed that if there was a good response he would be sure that people were readers of papers and would become an advertising customer.

"The ad was inserted and a certain day specified. Before daylight boys and girls by the score swarmed around the office. An hour later they grew thicker. There were grasshoppers of every description, big, and little. They swarmed over tables and chairs and all the while the doubtful merchant became more astonished and convinced. He is now one of the biggest advertisers."

Colored Mass Meeting

A rousing Mass Meeting was held at the Little Zion U. A. M. E. Church, Stephen street, Tuesday evening, by the colored citizens of Belleville, in the interest of Mayor Kenworthy and Commissioners Clark and Waters.

More than 250 persons attended. Forceful addresses were delivered by the Rev. Edwards, Rev. Wilson, and Rev. Joseph Wells.

Rev. H. E. Van Pelt acted as master of ceremonies. The political situation was reviewed highly endorsing these true and tried candidates, who have served the people of Belleville will, and a strong plea was echoed for their re-election.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by a committee of ladies. The committee in charge was William Wells, Rev. Edward, Rev. H. C. Van Pelt, Rev. George Wilson and Rev. Joseph Wells.

What the Tax Payers Think of

Henry W. Winfield For Commissioner

Taking everything into consideration Mr. Winfield's views on Prohibition advocating modification or repeal must be considered by the voters of Belleville this election.

He has brought to the people of Belleville a great issue to be decided at the polls on the 13th day of May.

With his constructive ideas on this question and having the courage to come before the public and stating his views we feel sure that he will fight for the taxpayers' rights in reference to Town affairs just the same as he is doing on this great question—Prohibition.

HALF OF WAR COST WENT TO MAKE MILLIONAIRES SAYS F. A. HARTLEY, JR. And Soldiers Only Got $7.50 A Month After Paying Insurance, Buying Bonds And So Forth, He Says

"There has been introduced in Congress H. R. 3493, providing that the Government shall pay all ex-service men in cash the face value of their adjusted-service certificates. When this bill is presented to the Committee on Ways and Means, to which it has been referred for hearings thereon, I will ask the Committee to amend the bill so that it will provide for the payment in cash of four-fifths of the face value of the certificates to each ex-service man desiring a cash settlement, but permitting those who desire to keep the insurance the privilege of doing so." Thus speaks Congressman Fred Hartley, Jr.

"The World War adjusted compensation act of 1924, as it is officially entitled, provided adjusted compensation for veterans of the World War at the rate of $1.25 a day for each day of overseas service, and $1.00 a day for each day of home service rendered subsequently to April 5, 1917, and prior to July 1, 1919, in excess of 60 days—obviously 60 days deducted because each soldier had received $60.00 at time of discharge and he was required to account for it in this act. If the amount due the veteran was $50.00 or less, he was paid in cash; if it exceeded $50.00, he received from the United States Veterans' Bureau an adjusted-service certificate computed in the following manner: $1.00 or $1.25 per day, as above stated. Twenty-five per cent of the total amount due was added by the Government, and in addition to the 25 per cent an amount was added which was equal to approximately 4 per cent interest on the actual amount due for 20 years. If $400 was the amount due the soldier, $100 was added, making the amount $500, and what was equal to interest at the rate of 4 per cent for 20 years on $400 was also added, which increased the amount to $1,000. A certificate for the amount was delivered to the soldier, payable in 20 years, providing that a small amount may be borrowed each year—the exact amount of the adjusted-service certificate was determined by ascertaining the amount of an endowment insurance policy payable in 20 years $500 would purchase.

The law was intended to do and did acknowledge a debt the Government owed its defenders. Practically 100 per cent of those in need of money have borrowed on their policies and they will continue to do so. The Government is giving the soldier 4 per cent interest for his money, but charging him 6 per cent interest compounded annually for every dollar of his own money loaned to him, never giving to him a sufficient amount in a lump sum to be of real assistance. After the initial small loan is granted, the holder of a $1,000 policy cannot average more than $2.00 a month thereafter.

One thousand and fourteen dollars and eleven cents is the average value of the adjusted-service certificates issued by the Government to soldiers if the World War in compliance with the law of 1924.

The following figures represent what the soldier will receive if he borrows the maximum amount each year and repays none of the principal. It is based upon an assumed age of 35.

The first column of figures; dates; in the second: Additional amount borrowed (limit permitted by law); in the third: Interest paid on old loan, at 6 per cent per year; and in the last column: Net amount of cash received by veteran after payment of interest.

*1—Adjusted service certificate for $1,000 delivered to Veteran.
*2—No loan or cash value.
*3—Borrowed on certificate the (limit) $68.15.

The figures are taken from information received from the U. S. Veterans Bureau.

It will be noted that during the time the veteran is receiving $475.72 in loans, the bank or the Government, the one carrying the loan, will receive $478.28. Then the veteran is given a $46.00 cash settlement and he has received all that the Government has promised to pay.

The above figures represent a typical case of veterans who have been and are really in need, and the advantages and disadvantages of the law should be viewed from their viewpoint.

During the war the Canadian enlisted men were paid $33.00 a month, the enlisted men of New Zealand $37.50, and in Australia $45.00 a month.

Allen slackers and alien enemies in America made more money during the war helping to build ships and military camps than they had ever made before, and financially they were treated much better than our soldiers. One negro made $70.00 per day in the shipyards and also escaped military service.

The railroads were drafted into the service during the World War, but the owners were guaranteed the largest profits they had ever made in the history of railroading in America.

Property being guaranteed a handsome return, and the ship workers having received such enormous wages and escaped military service, the men who bared their breasts to enemies' bullets and brought victory to our country should likewise receive a fair return for their services. Out of the $30.00 or $33.00 our soldiers received he was compelled to pay out of this sum $6.00 to $10.00 a month for insurance for the risk incident to his services in protecting the flag and conserving the wealth of his country. Soldiers were also compelled to make allotments of their pay to dependent relatives and, in addition to this, were compelled to pay for altering and mending their own clothing and shoes, and for laundry work and other incidentals. The average soldier drew $7.50 per month after making all these payments, and with that he was required to buy liberty bonds or be called a slacker.

Every country allied with the United States during the war paid their soldiers a liberal bonus. Canada paid her soldiers from $600 to $4,500 each. England borrowed money from the United States and paid her own soldiers a bonus of from $280 to $4,758 each. France paid her soldiers a large bonus. The United States paid $60 to each soldier as a bonus, but required them to pay it back in arriving at the amount of adjusted-service certificates.

Here's The Rub

The whole cost of the war to the United States was $36,000,000,000, and eighteen billions went to make millionaires; 23,000 millionaires were made during the war, and from settlements with the Government in and immediately after the war. Thousands of men made enough money from the Government on war contracts to permit them and their families for the next five generations to live in peace and comfort and enjoy all the luxuries of this world without so much effort as the turn of the hand, while soldiers who fought in the trenches for $1.10 a day will have to work and help pay the bill.

Suppose the Government had decided to confess a debt to the veteran of $400 instead of giving him a $1,000 insurance certificate. The $400 would have been due during his service. Accept a date which is one-half way between the beginning and ending of his service and for the average soldier, it will be about January 1, 1918. If the Government will now give the soldier the $400 with interest compounded annually at 6 per cent from January 1, 1918, the veteran will be entitled to $800 before the end of this year 1929, or four-fifths of his service certificate. Certainly it would not be unfair for the Government to pay the soldier 6 per cent for the money that the Government owes the soldier if it is fair for the soldier to pay the Government 6 per cent for his own money.

Foreign governments have received money from the United States Government for less than 1 per cent interest; the railroads and war contractors have received from the Government their billions of dollars in adjusted compensation. Shipbuilders are borrowing money from the Government for 3 per cent interest; more than $10,000,000,000 have been given to foreign countries by our Government. In view of these facts, our Government should not quibble about paying the veterans the amount confessed as due.

Many of the veterans are paying 10 per cent interest on their homes. Many do not own their own homes and the amount due, if paid, will probably cause them to be home owners. A great many could use the money to help finance their business and be helped at a time in life when they need help the most. A great majority of the ex-service men are married and have children; having come out of the service broke financially and without employment, it is a struggle for many of them to keep the home fires burning. The Government has what is to them a large sum of money; why should not at least a part of it be paid to them while they are living? It will be contended that some will spend their money foolishly. Suppose they do; it is theirs. They earned it and should have a right to spend it in any way they see fit. Why should the guardian for the soldier and for no other class? The Government has confessed that it owes the boys the money and has confessed the amount. It is all right to give an insurance policy to those who want the insurance, but to those who need the money and do not need the insurance, an option should be given for cash settlement. Practically all of the boys are now middle-aged men and know the value of a dollar and could spend the money to a good advantage.

It will not cost the Government a great deal more to liquidate this indebtedness now rather than wait over a period of years and cause the soldier to pay out $2.00 for every dollar that he receives in cash.

If the insurance feature is insisted upon, the date of each policy should be changed by law to January 1, 1918, instead of January 1, 1925. Why cause the soldier to lose seven years' interest on his money?

6,000 Reservations For Tall Cedars' Circus In Newark

Over 6,000 reservations from all parts of the United States are expected by John H. Broemel, chairman of the Hotel Committee for the Tall Cedars of Lebanon in Newark, May 14 to 17. Record attendance is anticipated and the committee is making elaborate plans for the entertainment of the visitors to the convention.

Already accommodations have been booked in all the principal hotels in Newark and the committee is now making arrangements with every available hostelry in the surrounding suburban towns to take care of the influx of Tall Cedars. District representatives and leaders who will head the groups representing eighteen districts of Tall Cedars for the convention have been announced by H. Franklin Brossman, Supreme Tall Cedar of Reading, Pa., as follows:

New Jersey—George Rpmund, Plainfield, District 1, Tall Cedars 84; John C. Worthley, Asbury Park, District 2, Tall Cedars 39; James T. Knotts, Trenton, District 5, Tall Cedars Forest 4; Ralph E. Jerrell, Bridgeton, District 4, Tall Cedars Forest 7; George Barkman, Hillside, District 3, Tall Cedars Forest 8; Pennsylvania—James A. Hart, Bethlehem, District 8, Tall Cedars Forest 61; Sam A. Schreckgaust, Harrisburg, District 10, Tall Cedars Forest 43; George L. Benner, Curwensville, District 13, Tall Cedars Forest 93; Russell E. Crawford, Norristown, District 11, Tall Cedars Forest 81; Charles D. Wolfe, Williamsport, District 18, Tall Cedars Forest 75. Connecticut—Harry H. Knowlton, New London, District 6, Tall Cedars Forest 72. Rhode Island—Christian A. Gardner, Riverside, District 7, Tall Cedars Forest 112. Delaware—George O. Pearson, Georgetown, District 9, Tall Cedars Forest 41. New York—Abram M. Sprague, Tottenville, S. I., District 12, Tall Cedars Forest 38, and Harry M. Little, Chester, District 16, Tall Cedars 81. Maryland—George H. Hensler, Baltimore, District 14, Tall Cedars Forest 45. Minnesota—Charles F. Grubb, Duluth, District 15, Tall Cedars Forest 47. Ohio—Ralph S. Millard, Cleveland, District 17, Tall Cedars Forest 70. Louis G. Groh, of Philadelphia, Supreme Preceptor, is in charge of arrangements for the delegates.

The Tall Cedars' Circus, at Sussex Avenue Armory will precede the Convention, for three days, May 8 to 10, and will be held to raise funds to defray Convention expenses. A Kiddie Promenade will be the opening attraction when children from Newark and surrounding towns will compete for the Newark Cup, and a Personality Derby contest for young women will also be a feature of the Circus, when over thirty-nine fair Newarkers will compete for the major award of an automobile. Other valuable prizes are being offered to the runners-up in the contest.

An aerial circus of daredevil artists is also on the schedule of entertainments, and there will be dancing and band concerts, side shows, and booths will be manned by Tall Cedar members.

Edwin H. Stern is chairman of the Circus, and headquarters are being maintained at 32 Green street.

THIRTEEN GOLD HONOR MEDALS AWARDED TO HEROIC SCOUTS

National Court Of Honor Presents Certificates Of Heroism To Thirty-Three Additional Scouts For Saving Lives Of Others

For unusual heroism in time of danger and for the saving of lives, at great risk to their own, 13 Boy Scouts have received, through the National Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts of America, the Gold Honor Medal, highest award which the Movement can bestow. The awards were announced recently by Daniel Carter Beard, National Scout Commissioner and Chairman of the National Court of Honor.

The Gold Honor Medal Awards go to Scouts Bruce Estey of South Pasadena, Calif.; Chester Jackson, Harlan, Ky.; Walter Leatham, Alameda, Calif.; Charles Mort, Winchester, Va.; Paul K. Taylor, Highland Park, Mich.; Newton Crouch, Griffin, Ga.; William Vernon Hood, Brownsville, Tenn.; Walter Fichter, West Hazelton, Pa.; Elmer Clark, Redfield, S. D.; John Angle, Shippensburg, Pa.; Jos Thonemann, Middletown, N. Y.; Bernard A. Dawson, Zanesville, Ohio; and to James Van Welden, of Nyack, N. Y.

Certificates Of Heroism
For saving the lives of others in instances where, because of Scout Training, it could be done without great hazard to the life of the rescuer, Certificates of Heroism were awarded to 33 other Scouts. They are: Omer Virgil Bader, Chicago, Ill.; George Belger, South Beach, S. I., N. Y.; Raymond Bushaw, Grand Forks, N. D.; Francis Connole, De Witt, Iowa; Stewart M. Cram, Flint, Mich.; John Flory, Wauwatosa, Wis.; Ernest Fritz, Tuckahoe, N. Y.; Robert Grover, Ithaca, N. Y.; Alfred L. Hamilton, Cody, Wyo.; Chalmers Ridley, Richmond, Calif.; Raymond Roser, Dallas, Ore.; Norbert Sauter, Schenectady, N. Y.; Edward Swain, Staunton, Ill.; John M. Taylor, Winchester, Va.; Charles Weland, Baker, La.; Charles Wenz, Delano, Pa.; Noel Wright, Schenectady, N. Y.; Ralph A. Shoe, Philadelphia, Pa.; R. Max Van Lewen, Grandville, Mich.; Clifford Chapman, Clarks, La.; Geo. Van Nordstrand, Horseheads, N. Y.; Russell Paul Smith, Ridgefield Park, N. J.; Robert Rutkowski, St. Joseph, Mo.; Donald Baker, Gothenburg, Neb.; Oscar Le May, East Longmeadow, Mass.; Peter Miranda, Greenpoint, N. Y.; George Bitel, Poccatello, Idaho; Richard Paul, Lincoln, Neb.; Aschel Leavitt, Bunker, Nev.; Joseph Schneider, Brooklyn, N. Y.; George Converse, Rochester, N. Y.; Eugene Sanford Lloyd, Wichita, Kansas; Irvin Michelson, Strasburg, Va.

Probably the outstanding Gold Honor Medal case was the saving of an unknown child on a railroad trestle as a train was passing, by Scout Walter Fichter, 13, of West Hazelton, Pa. The Scout with three hiking companions was near the end of the trestle. He heard the whistle of an approaching train around a curve and at the same time noticed three children crossing the tracks. Hearing the whistle the children ran. The youngest, a boy of about 5, stumbled and fell as the train approached and crawled to the side of the bridge, clinging to the wooden stringpiece with his hands and one leg, his body hanging over the edge, with the stony bed of a brook far below.

Quick Action

The Scout acted quickly. He ran along the stringpiece of the trestle crossing the tract at the point where the child lay, a moment before the train thundered past. He plunged face down between the rail and the stringpiece of the bridge and pushed his way to where the child was losing his hold. When the Scout reached the boy the train was already on them. The Scout clung fast to the child while the train rumbled by, the ladders and packing boxes of the cars missing their heads by inches. When the train had passed Scout Fichter lifted the boy to the bridge and carried him to safety. Neither was injured.

GOOD TURN REWARDED

Scout Robert Lohet, 17, of Sacramento, Calif., had the honor of being the guest of Brigadier General William E. Gillmore, Commander of the First Provisional Wing of the Army Air Corps and of inspecting with the General, the maneuvers of the United States Army Air Corps at Mather Field in California, as a result of his knowledge of first aid which made it possible for him to save the life of an army private.

A report issued by Major T. D. Milling, head of press relations, Bureau of the Army Air Corps, in explaining Scout Lohet's presence at the maneuvers said:

"Robert Lohet demonstrated his proficiency as a first aid expert, experience gained by him as a Scout, when he recently came to the aid of two enlisted men who were driving an army truck with supplies from Sacramento to Mather Field.

"Private Carlis W. Atkins and James E. Beeson, both of the 91st Squadron, were driving the truck along Folsom Boulevard when a touring car driven by a woman came from one of the side streets at a rapid pace. To avoid hitting the car Private Atkins drove the truck up the curb with the result that it turned over. Private Beeson received minor injuries, but Private Atkins' arm was almost completely torn off at the elbow.

"Scout Lohet, who was driving past the scene of the accident, jumped out of his car and elbowed his way through the gathering crowd. With the aid of improvised bandages he applied a tourniquet which stopped the flow of blood. He then took Private Atkins and Beeson to the Sacramento Hospital."

The California papers reported that Robert Lohet was the "first hero of the maneuvers of the United States Army Air Corps at Mather Field."

AIRPLANE USED

In order to save time and effort in locating possible sites for a summer camp which the Tri-Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters at Newton, Iowa, was planning to purchase, the president of the Council, Mr. L. B. Tyler, and the Scout Executive, E. G. Stowell, chartered a cabin plane at a neighboring airport and flew nearly 200 miles up and down the Des Moines River Valley, and located three prospective sites from the air.

In reporting the occurrence the Scout Executive says:

"On the air trip, we had the pilot circle over each prospective site until we had explored it thoroughly. The previous day we had travelled on foot over similar neighboring territory, spending the entire afternoon in a wild-goose chase through land which looked promising from the road, but which was disappointing when we were travelling through it on foot. From the air, we passed over the same territory without giving it second thought, because it could easily be seen that it was not what we wanted."

The National Camping Department of the Boy Scouts of America is passing on this idea of the use of airplanes in searching for new camp sites to other Councils.

MOUNTED TROOP

A mounted Troop of Boy Scouts under the direction of F. H. Cheley, will be formed at Estes, Rocky Mountain National Park, next summer. This Troop will be under the leadership of two Scoutmasters and its members will take horseback trips through the national park.

SCOUT MISSING

Patrol Leader Nicholas Larotonda,

of Troop No. 782, Blue Island, Ill., has disappeared from his home in that city. Any information regarding his whereabouts should be forwarded immediately to Chief of Police George J. Fielder, of Blue Island. The Scout is 4 feet 8 inches tall and weighs 120 pounds. He has dark hair and dark eyes. Disappeared on March 23, 1930. A boy answering his description was last seen in Quincy, Ill., and said he was heading toward Iowa.

G. R. B. Symonds Wins "Big Moments" Award

An award of $10 in the American Legion Monthly's series on "Big Moments" has been made to George R. B. Symonds of 27 Wayne place, for the story of his son's narrow escape from death in Rome. The boy of eleven went sleep-walking and fell fifty feet. He was badly battered, but eventually recovered. The "big moment" came when his agonized parents found he had not been killed by the fall.

The American Legion Monthly is giving prizes for what the editors judge the most interesting experiences of World War days. The event Mr. Symonds narrated occurred during the "second A. E. F."

Pole Hit By Lightning

A flagstaff on the lawn of School No. 7, Belleville, was struck by lightning Friday night and splintered from top to bottom. Boys were playing baseball nearby.

Candidates and Taxes

Editor The News:

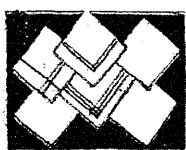

During an election campaign candidates are given to advocating lower taxes. In doing so they treat the subject purely as a fiscal one. They lose sight of the ethical and social effect of the method by which taxes are levied.

To tax land, buildings and personal property all at the same rate has the effect of suppressing building and of enabling and encouraging the holding of vacant sites and sites with obsolete buildings at prohibitive prices to those who need sites for productive uses. This retards the growth and development of all our municipalities. It makes building more costly and causes higher rents, reduced buying power of the public, and jobless men, because it restricts labor.

Buildings and personal property are produced by human labor. Site-value of land is automatically created by mere increase in population and social services. Yet our tax law lumps both these values—the human labor value and the automatically-created value—all in one pot and taxes them both at the same tax rate.

The fault with our tax law is that the state and municipalities fail to collect more public revenue from publicly-created site-value, and then to make up the necessary revenue levy a tax on buildings and personal property—upon labor values.

A bill will be introduced in the next session of the New Jersey legislature to permit any municipality by vote therein to adopt what is known as the Pittsburgh tax plan, whereby taxes will be increased on site-value of land and reduced on buildings and personal property. This will maintain the present public revenue and will reduce taxes on industry, homes and farms.

What Is The Remedy?

Editor The News:

The tax problem in Belleville is rapidly becoming of such proportion that some way must soon be evolved to stabilize rates and valuations before the Chicago situation confronts us.

A published tax list may help when the so-called equalization of tax valuations become public knowledge. Optimism is a beautiful condition of mind but banks are not in the habit of lending money on such security.

Promises of lower taxes also help to create illusion but are without any real constructive remedies for the ever increasing burden shouldered by the tax payers who after all pay all the bills.

Personal taxes are often uncollectable when applied to transient tenants who have to move when they are due and so avoid payment, not so the individual property owner who can be made to pay, also the uncollectable which of course must be written off and very likely added to the next years budget and so added to the bill of those that do pay.

Poll taxes as collected in town are obsolete and need no comment, yet are added to the bill regularly. May 13 presents the day upon which the tax payer may register his protest and every citizen should exercise his franchise and vote, giving plenty of thought to the men selected.

It is well known that our rate and assessed valuations are rapidly reaching the peak when the owning of a home becomes a burden, and rents are so high to meet tax burden that a real menace exists, bordering on bankruptcy.

In my opinion the home owner is the backbone of our country and needs all the protection he can get, so don't miss going to the polls May 13 and vote your selection with the future of Belleville foremost in your mind.

WEATHER BUREAU AND AVIATION

The Weather Bureau has become such an important factor in the development of commercial aviation that its functions have been materially extended. The airplane pilot has to know what conditions exist ahead of him if he is to make his flight on time and in safety. He wants bulletins as to the weather not twice a day but every half hour and this is what he is now receiving.

The Weather Bureau now includes reports about general conditions of the weather and the sky. Visibility, surface wind direction, velocity, temperature, barometric pressure and miscellaneous conditions, such as thunder storms, squalls and state of the landing fields as affected by rain or snow, are now all included in these special reports which the bureau is making.

With the extension of the number of its stations and the making of these reports for aviators the Weather Bureau has decreased delays in commercial aviation by as much as thirty per cent. Air mail pilots flying alone carry earphones through which they get the radio reports of the weather all along the route. Planes carrying passengers have radio operators who secure the same information.

These weather reports are proving of the greatest value not only to commercial aviation but to everyone else. We have only begun to take full advantage of the Weather Bureau. Its ability to forecast conditions with accuracy is often commented upon and as its service is extended it may soon be able to forecast weather changes for longer periods in advance than is now possible.

CENSUS REVELATIONS

Census figures thus far published reveal that the drift from country to city, so marked a tendency in recent counts, is now being accompanied by an even more sensational drift away from the industrialized and business sections of our big cities. The most spectacular proof comes naturally from the famous lower East Side of New York. There were 94,980 people huddled there 10 years ago. Today there are but 53,704. Manhattan Island sprouts with higher skyscrapers and bigger buildings annually, but these inevitably must bring about a shrinkage in the population figures of the borough.

WELL WISHES TO LEGION

Again, we wish to extend to the American Legion our well wishes for a successful season of baseball. Last year this organization took its place with other civic-minded groups and supplied to the town a baseball league, the success of which exceeded even the most optimistic expectations. The local post has pledged itself to activity in the development of athletics, and the cooperation it has received from the Board of Education and the Recreation Commission bespeaks well of these organizations. Such cooperation between official boards and fraternal groups unselfishly interested in the welfare of the town insures future development of this town as a delightful place to live in.

The addition of three teams to the Senior league, and the formation of a Junior league proves that we are just starting. The program adopted will provide baseball every evening and on Saturday afternoons throughout the season. On Saturday when the Senior league opens the season at Clearman Field, after a short parade from the Town Hall, we should all be present to show that we appreciate this fine work and to lend moral support to those responsible. To the ball players we wish you all success in your efforts, and may the best team win.

Why Wait For Cold Weather?

This is the season when you should think of your furnace. We are now in a position to install your heating plant on the deferred payment plan. Have your heat when you need it and pay for it out of your salary.

The airman was explaining the use of the parachute to a group of sightseers.

"And what would happen if the parachute failed to open after you jumped off?" asked the listener.
"Oh, that wouldn't stop me!" replied the airman. "I'd come down just the same."

"Why the rope around the finger?"
"My wife put it there so I'd re-

The visitor to Dallas, Texas, is impressed first of all, and perhaps most strongly, with the unusual cleanliness of the city. It stands amid its rich and verdant surrounding as spotless as a well kept country home. That is because its factories are blessed with an abundant supply of natural gas and its chimneys are mostly smokeless. But on a recent visit to this bustling southwestern city, I received another salient impression. I saw what a great newspaper can do for a city.

Dallas was not much of a metropolis forty-five years ago. A pretty good town for those days to be sure, but southwestern towns then were pretty young, and Dallas was pretty much like the rest of them.

In the early 80's a movement began, looking to The Galveston News, established in 1842, duplicating itself in Dallas, a distance of 315 miles. The project was consummated on October 1, 1885. It was the first time anything of the kind had been done in newspaperdom, a unique venture in journalism. As such it was heralded all over the country. The fact in itself, and the further fact that The Galveston News had chosen Dallas as its place of duplication, gave that city a wonderful lot of fine advertising. Likewise, it threw life and ambition into the Dallas of that day, with its population of perhaps 25,000.

The advent of The News on October 1, was followed on December 1 by the absorption of the old newspaper of the town, The Dallas Herald, started in 1849. The old paper sold out, lock, stock and barrel, to The News, and quit business. The following year the State Fair of Texas started. The advent of The News brought numbers of other institutions and prominent and influential individuals to Dallas and north Texas.

The News, coming to Dallas, therefore, and printing for the past forty-five years one of the best and most progressive newspapers of the country, has had a very marked effect on the development of the chief commercial city of Texas. One of its leading citizens, dating back to 1874, J. T. Trezevant, head of one of the largest general fire insurance agencies in the world, sometime ago made this remark:

"Dallas has always been the financial center of Texas, and the three principal organizations which might be given individual credit for working to upbuild the city are, in the order named, The Dallas News, The State Fair and the Federal Reserve Bank."

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

By BOYCE BROGDON

Inspiration—the foundation of successful salesmanship. We are all salesmen! To a great extent do our destinies depend on that subtle quality so briefly, so ably defined by the modern meaning of the word
"salesmanship." But how few of us stop to ponder on the fundamentals underlying this profession.

Certainly the basic factor is enthusiasm—enthusiasm which transcends all personal aims—enthusiasm which imparts itself to one's fel-lowmen by the sheer force of its genius.

Only when one is inspired to the point that the personal pronoun has vanished from his private thoughts does he achieve this state. Only when one becomes so absorbed in his work for the work's sake, does he achieve the greatest heights. When the individual so grapples with his lifework, he makes his advances, he secures his positions step by step, with but little realization of the gains he has made until suddenly with an effect of abrupt illumination he realizes his victory.

To be so inspired as to forget oneself in greater interests, is the first step toward success in salesmanship —or any other career.

A young colored man who has recently set up in business for himself in one of the prosperous suburbs of New York seems marked by his abilities for partnership in a bond house or a vice-presidency of a bank securities corporation. For a year or more he was employed by the village in the humble capacity of a garbage collector. By carefully and persistently recording the shapes of the bottles thrown out, the labels thereon, the frequency with which they appeared in the respective garbage cans and the names and addresses of the owners of the houses concerned, he finally equipped himself with a list of "prospects" which any bond salesman would envy. He now calls at several hundred back doors where sales resistance is just nothing at all.

Do You 'Member Way Back When—

—the children walked to school?

—the whole family sat on the

—dad cut the kid's hair around a

—you looked forward all winter to the ol' swimmin' hole and the no

ENTERTAINS CLUB

Mrs. Ely Williams, 429 Center street, entertained the Thursday afternoon club at a bridge tea. Among those present were Mrs. E. Grafton Hohenstein, Mrs. John Reese, Mrs.
Clarence Reynolds, Mrs. Elmer Lawrence, Mrs. William Lawrence and Mrs. William Brownrigg.

Mad King Ludwig of Bavaria took great pleasure in having magnificent castles built in various parts of his realm. On an island in the midst of Lake Chiemsee in the Bavarian Alps
he ordered built in 1878 a spectacular replica of Louis XVI's chateau at Versailles, and even planned to out-rival the original in sumptuousness of the furnishings and decorations.
To reach the shores of the lake it is necessary to leave the main railroad line and take a toy train of diminutive locomotives for the distance of about a mile. No one would think of walking in preference to aride on this smallest of railway systems.

"KILLARNEY IS FAIRYLAND"

Queen Victoria said "Killarney is Fairyland." Even Wordsworth, who loved nature easily said it was "the most beautiful spot on the British Isles." It is one of the few spots on earth unspoiled by motorists. Malgillcuddy's Reeks are too majestic to notice visitors. Clothed in the purple of Kings, with their heads in the clouds, what is an American tourist to them? One sees the best, it it must be done in a hurry, by doing the prescribed one-day tour through the Gap of Dunloe and back by the Lakes. The Gap is a dark, deep defile several miles long, overhung by cliffs and splashed with many tiny lakelets.

Between Loch Rannoch and Loch
Tay is Glen Lyon, the longest glen in Scotland, which stretches its mysterious beauty from Loch Lyon over thirty miles. Many a tourist in Perthshire has rushed past it, little knowing that he missing a haunt whose loveliness would cheer him long after more notable places had become dim in his mind. The Scots call it "The Dark Crooked Glen of the Great Rocks." The place is red with history and legend, battles of kirks and crosses which go back to the earliest days of Celtic Christianity.
Its view trees claim to be the oldest authentic specimen of vegetation in Europe.

"DIZZY" AND HIS LONDON

All lovers of the primrose will want to see something of Lord Beaconsfield when they are in London.
Disraeli's statue is in Parliament square and like other famous men he has many birthplaces. Number 22 Theobald's road, Bloomsbury, seems to have the best tradition. He worked at 6 Frederick's place, Old Jewry, four years before he startled the world with his "Vivian Grey." Then he lived at 29 Park Lane, opposite Grosvenor Gate, until 1872 where he wrote "Coningsby" and made his climb to political power. Later he lived at 2 Whitehall Gardens. His last London home was at 19 Curzon street, where he died, and where,
'tis said, he gently declined to see Queen Victoria because "she only wants me to give a message to the Prince Consort."

Campbell and Mrs. Joseph Thomas Jr. of Newark. Snapdragons were used in a yellow color scheme.

Mrs. Charles C. Jones of 133 Academy street entertained at a bridge and tea Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Pierre VanArsdale Brett of 671 Highland avenue, Newark, who, with her husband, will leave tomorrow for a two months' visit to Europe. The couple resided in Belleville many years before moving to Newark.

A group of Belleville women attended a luncheon and bridge given Monday by Mrs. George McClelland of 330 Parker street, Newark, formerly of Belleville, in celebration of her birthday. They included Mrs. George B. Siebold, Mrs. George Hunkeler, Mrs. Tracy Wilson and Mrs. Eleanor Eveland. Others present were Mrs. Alvin Case of Newark, Mrs. M. L. Shifman of East Orange and Mrs. George Brion of Floral Park, Long Island. High scores were made by Mrs. Eveland and Mrs. Case. Mrs. Brion entertained with piano selections and Mrs. Case sang.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Rossman of New York were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Melius of 166 Holmes street. All motored to Cloverach, N. Y., Friday to visit relatives and returned Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Rossman will leave for the West in a few days.

Miss Gladys Streeter, a teacher at Beaver College, Jenkintown, will spend the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Newton Streeter, of 151 Joramelon street.

Mrs. M. A. Pickett and Mrs. J. Frederick Howland made high scores at bridge and whist, respectively, at the regular afternoon card party of the Woman's Club of Belleville, Monday, at the club house. Delegates to the thirty-sixth annual convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Atlantic City this week are: Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield, president; vice president, Mrs. Charles S. Smith; second vice president, Mrs. J. J. Schaffer, and federation secretary, Mrs. W. P. Adams.

Others who will attend are: Mrs. Charles H. Kelly, Mrs. Frank P. Brothal, Mrs. James V. Thetford and Mrs. W. H. Williams. Mrs. Smith is a member of the Contemporary Chorus which will sing at the convention. Elmer Kenyon of the Theatre Guild will address the club Monday. He will speak on "The Theatre of Today," and will also discuss "Strange interlude."

The club will visit the Girl's Vocational School at Newark Friday, May 23. The president has announced that luncheon reservations may be made through her prior to that date. Mrs. Adams has been appointed chairman of the annual fall bazaar.

Mrs. Furman L. Robinson of Mertz avenue, was hostess to her luncheon bridge club yesterday. Those present were Mrs. Lathrop Van Orden, Mrs. Robert Ball, Mrs. Albert Bormann, Mrs. Griffith Casler, Mrs. Ernest Hodgson, Mrs. Frank Giraud, and Mrs. W. George Hunt. Last week high scores were made by Mrs. Van Orden and Mrs. Hunt.

Everyman's Bible Class

The Everyman's Bible Class will have for speaker next Sunday morning, J. I. Riddle of The New York University.

Mr. Riddle is a native of the South and upon previous occasion when he substituted for the regular leader P. H. Carmichael, soon won his way into the hearts of the men who heard him speak, and they will be pleased at the opportunity of listening to him again. His talk will be appropriate to Mother's Day.

The Class will close for the vacation season on Sunday, May 18.

An important cabinet meeting will be held tomorrow evening at the home of John B. Brown, 353 Washington avenue.

Disabled Vets Make V.F.W. Buddy Poppies

A scene in the Occupational Therapy Ward of U. S. Veterans Hospital No. 81, New York City, where the making of V.F.W. Buddy Poppies provides an income for disabled world war veterans the year around. In addition, proceeds of the annual nationwide sale help maintain the National Home for widows and orphans of deceased veterans, at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. and the administration of welfare relief among disabled and needy veterans. Left to right, are Charles Trunkes, Miss Alton Vary, Chief Therapy Aide, Thomas McAleer and Julius Williamson.

WANTS COUNTY TO BUILD PLAZA

Commission To Ask Freeholders For Park Avenue Improvement

Commissioner Charles A. Sherwood will appear before the Board of Freeholders and ask the county to build a plaza in Park avenue from Washington avenue to River road. A resolution adopted by the Nutley Town Commission Tuesday night favoring the prospect will permit Mr. Sherwood to request the county to take such action.

Commissioner Raleigh S. Rife voted against the action, but Mr. Sherwood and Mayor Ernest P. Cook were in favor. Mr. Rife said he believed the plaza was in an industrial zone and such an improvement would not be warranted. Mr. Sherwood declared the owner of most of the property was anxious to have the zone changed.

Mr. Rife was of the opinion the town's share in the cost of the plaza would be a very substantial amount. Mr. Sherwood referred him to the public meeting, when about seventy-five citizens of the town assembled in the town hall to hear about the proposition and all but two voted in its favor.

Mr. Rife said the mass meeting did not wholly convey the attitude of Nutley's citizenship. Mr. Sherwood explained he had spoken also before members of the Women's Club, Rotary Club and Lions Club and all seemed to favor the proposition.

The contract for grading Warren street and paving it a short distance was awarded to Sammara & Co. of Nutley, low bidder among eleven, at $13,455.50. San Giovanni & Sons of Newark was second with a bid of $13,825.

The Taxpayer's Protective Association requested the commission to allow it organization to meet in the commission room the first Wednesday of each month. Frank J. Wiebe, secretary of the association, filed the petition, which was referred to the Department of Public Affairs.

The American Legion Auxiliary petitioned to allow its members to sell poppies in Nutley, May 16 to 17. The request was turned over to the Department of Public Affairs.

A petition bearing the signatures of fifty-six property owners in High street, Cottage place and Lake street offered the suggestion the town would be benefited if it bought Nichols Pond and surrounding property. The suggestion implied it could be used for park purposes. The petition was referred to Mr. Sherwood's department.

Town Clerk Simon Blum was authorized to purchase a past chief's badge for Harry Kimball, chief of the fire Department. Mr. Kimball will complete his term May 20.

FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED AT EPWORTH LEAGUE BANQUET

A group of from 175 to 200 attended the banquet at Wesley M. E. Church Tuesday evening, which was held in commemoration of the founding of the local Chapter of the Epworth League forty years ago to the day, that is, on May 6, 1890. This is one of the oldest Epworth League Chapters in the East, having been formed within a year following the first chapter, which it is interesting to note is still in existence in Plainfield. There was a large group of former members who were present among whom are, Charles Granville Jones, Courtland D. Hemmingsway, Theodore Sanford, Harry D. Harrison, Edward C. Axtell, Miss Ethel H. Jones, John Pole, Mrs. James V. Theford, and Mrs. Leroy H. Bunnell.

The Young Women's Auxiliary prepared and served the dinner, with Mrs. O. T. Breunlich as chairwoman. The Mosaic Orchestra played during the evening.

As to the program, Rev. Herbert C. Lytle, former pastor, was the guest speaker of the evening. Rev. Compton also spoke. Everett B. Smith, toastmaster, told of the interesting highlights of the history of the League. Leonard R. Memmott gave the invocation. Gordon W.

LIFE

To the preacher, life's a sermon,
To the joker, life's a jest,
To the miser, life is money,
To the loafer, life is rest,
To the lawyer, life's a trial,
To the poet, life's a song,
To the doctor, life's a patient,
That needs treatment right along,
To the soldier, life's a battle,
To the teacher, life's a school,
Life's a great thing to the thinker,
But a failure to the fool.
To the man upon the engine,
Life's the making of a grade,
Life's a gamble to the gambler,
To the workman it's a trade.
Life is just a long vacation,
To the man who loves his work,
But its constant dodging duty to the everlasting shirk.
To the faithful earnest worker
Life is a story ever new,
Life is what we try to make it
Friends—Now what is life to you?

THREE HORSES DIE IN NUTLEY BLAZE

94 Animals Are Rescued As Dairy Barn Is Consumed By Fire

Three horses were burned to death in a fire which razed a barn in the dairy farm of Anthony Cerami, 7 Tremont place, late Friday. The loss, estimated by Cerami at $20,000, was covered by insurance.

One horse and ninety-three cows were led out safely to an adjoining field. The fire departments of Nutley and Belleville answered the alarm.

The fire was discovered by some of Cerami's employees. Its cause has not been determined, but it was the theory of Fire Chief F. Kimball of Nutley it was caused by spontaneous combustion.

Crisp presented a musical novelty of song slides, and A. J. Fortier of Newark entertained with some most interesting feats in mathematics. The program committee consisted of John R. Carrough, chairman, the Misses Gertrude and Mildred Lorenz, Elmer Hosking and Neil P. Horne.

For the past five months the average attendance on Sunday evenings to the regular league services has been over 40. The active membership is 65. The league, through the columns of the News, wishes to extend a cordial invitation to those who desire to attend this or any Sunday evening meeting to come out and join a lively group of young and old who enjoy specially prepared programs which are most interesting to say the least.

The present officers of the league are: President, Everett B. Smith; vice president, Allan Crisp; second vice president, Martha Davenport; third vice president, Alice Compton; fourth vice president, Jack Robertson; assistant fourth vice president, John R. Carrough; recording secretary, Horace Baldwin; corresponding secretary, Christine Zetterstrom; treasurer, Ruth Roehm; musical director, Beatrice Robertson; publicity, Dorothy Patton; publication editor, Elmer Hosking.

Lions Club Hands Boys' Patrol Defeat

A Boy's Week baseball game between safety patrol school boys and the Lions Club at Clearman Field Thursday afternoon resulted in a 6 to 5 score in favor of the "grown-up boys." Honors for the only home run of the seven-frame game went to the "real boys." It was made by Jerry Bonavita. Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy claims he lost a pound and some ounces chasing the ball in right field.

The line-up was: Pitcher, John Carrough; catcher, Henry Charrier; first base, John P. Dailey; second base, Louis Noll; third base, Henry Locher; shortstop, Dr. Daniel Kavanaugh; left field, Arthur Mayer; center field, Charles Zuckerman; right field, Mayor Kenworthy. The patrols' players included: Pitcher, Frank Callanio; catcher, Armando Vitiello; first base, Bonavita; second base, Paul Abossa; third base, Jerry Napperano; shortstop, Ralph Casale; left field, Oscar Mays; center field, Harold Garman; right field, Charles Terry.

Spring House Cleaning Has Its Rewards? But If It's Opera—

Mr. Heisley Sees Year Ahead—What Opera To Reward Us Then?

Editor Nutley News:

When, last Sunday noon, I was wakened from my house cleaning revelry in the restored living room by the call to dinner (never considering an interruption) it was to experience pleasurable news at the table. My daughter had bought a ticket for the Gilbert and Sullivan opera—The Pirates of Penzance—I mean Penzance—from a girl friend in Newark. The show was to be in the auditorium of the Parish House of the Second Presbyterian Church, in Newark, the following Thursday evening. My interest in Compton MacKenzie's series of books on Mark Lidderdale, which had much to do with Penzance, which I habitually miscall Penzance, suggested to wife and daughter the appropriateness of this amusement as a diversion to my thoughts and as a reward for such inefficient help as I have given in the spring house-cleaning.

Accordingly, on Thursday evening, I found myself seated in the beautiful auditorium, waiting for the curtain raising overture. In swept the conductor. Violin bows pointed ceilingward with that arrogant importance which the musicians are wont to practise. A nod from the conductor, a bodily gesture in which his hands scooped up all the atmosphere and sent it up where the air was plenty fresh enough, his fingers telegraphed, his ears raised in muscular obedience to the brain, so that a stiff derby hat would have fallen off his head, and from the end of his baton a wave of music was launched. "Hail, hail, the gang's all here," with variations and peregrinations, though never out of shouting distance from the theme, until the curtain arose upon a beautiful grouping of dramatic personae for Part One.

After the rasp of moving heavy pieces of furniture, the swish of the mop, the poor imitation of a babbling brook by the dripping water from a wrung-out mop, the silvery soprano and interpretative tenor assured me that there was some good in sound, after all. In the Major General's musical introduction of himself we caught the octaval pomposities of the opera. Even in those early days, ere steam navigation had come to pass, pirates were sufficiently obsolete to be deemed heroes and not terrorists, while policemen had already come into familiarity and contempt, with their blue uniforms and brass buttons. We all had fun. We all imbibed through the tympana of the ears a rhythm that for several days would re-echo the tee-dee-tum of the opera. The writer left happy except for the knowledge that house cleaning would recur another spring with the appearance of the robin on the lawn and the note of the lark in the sky. What opera to reward us then? FREDERICK A. HEISLEY.

Knowledge Of Traffic Regulations Essential

By HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

Next to the ability to drive an automobile properly, there is nothing more essential to safe motoring than a precise knowledge of the traffic regulations. Without it there cannot be the orderly use of streets or highways that makes it possible for thousands of motor vehicles to be driven over our main arteries with little difficulty.

I would suggest that every motorist, whether he has been driving a car for one year or ten years, make it his business, periodically to read the regulations, so as to recall those which may have been forgotten, and also to learn those which have been enacted in the meantime.

The State of New Jersey made several changes in its motor vehicle laws during the recent session of legislation, and there probably are many motorists who have not familiarized themselves with those new sections of the law which they may be expected to know.

It is apparent what the results of a lack of knowledge of the regulations may be. Arrest and a penalty for violation may represent the hardship which the motorist undergoes for his infractions, but other motorists may suffer serious bodily harm or financial loss to a far greater degree because of a driver's negligence or thoughtless conduct.

There are some regulations, naturally, which are more essential than others, because one cannot drive a car without having to observe them constantly. The following summary, I hope, will be helpful to New Jersey motorists:

Right of Way—Every driver when entering or crossing an intersection shall grant the right-of way at all times to any vehicle approaching from his right.

Speed—10 miles an hour when pass a school during recess or while children are going to or leaving school.

15 miles an hour when approaching within 50 feet of an intersection and in traversing it, when the view of the driver is obstructed.

15 miles an hour around curves or on a grade when the driver's view is obstructed for 100 feet.

20 miles an hour in a residence district.

40 miles an hour under all other conditions.

Starting, Stopping, Turning, or Backing—A driver first shall see if the movement can be made in safety and then shall give a plainly visible signal of his intention. If any pedestrian may be affected by such movement, a clearly audible horn signal shall be given.

Hand Signals—For right turn—a sweeping motion from rear to front to indicate to drivers following that they may pass to left. For left turn—point with index finger to the left when stopping or slowing up—keep arm and hand in steady position, with palm to rear.

Turns—Right turn is made by keeping close to right-hand curb or edge of roadway. Left turn is made by approaching an intersection in the lane to the right of the center of the roadway and completing the turn by passing as close as practicable to the left of the center of the intersection.

NO EXCUSE FOR A "SPLITTING HEAD"

There's no need for an aching head to spoil your day. At the first warning, don't take Dillard's Aspergum. Chewing it a few minutes. Almost before you realize it, you have checked the pain away. It's as simple as that—no trouble, and harmless—for Dillard's Aspergum is the new and easier way to take aspirin.

Dillard's Aspergum is the finest aspirin in delicious chewing gum form. You can take it any time—any place. You need no water to gulp it down. There is no unpleasant taste—no choking.

Because you chew Dillard's Aspergum the aspirin mixes thoroughly with the saliva so that all its soothing qualities are effective quickly, continuously.

Keep a package of Aspergum on hand for quick, harmless relief from the pain of headaches, neuralgia, neuritis, etc. It helps break up a cold, and soothes irritated throats, even such severe cases as follow tonsil operations. If your druggist does not have Dillard's Aspergum, send for free sample to Health Products Corporation, Dept. A, 113 North 13th Street, Newark, N. J.

Colgate Scientists Find Cure for "That Tired Feeling"

MEASURING "STUDENT REACTION"

SUGAR HELPS ATHLETES

Eat more foods containing sugar to replenish lagging energy and offset that tired feeling, says Dr. Donald A. Laird, director of Colgate University's Psychological laboratories where fatigue tests are being made on students. After feeding the students a "Colgate Cocktail" consisting of sugar water and lemon, Dr. Laird (seated on the desk) tests them for recovery from fatigue.

A "COLGATE COCKTAIL"

The knee jerk test (shown at the extreme left) measures alertness of muscular response. The athlete's muscular fatigue is being measured by an ergograph which records lifting power before and after eating sugar. At the extreme right, two students are being started on a "fatigue" hike, armed with chocolate bars, supplied by Miss F. Hahn, laboratory assistant.

Blue And Gold Nine Pastes Clifton Ball Tossers, 13-10

Belleville High School defeated Clifton High, 13 to 10, at Clearman Field, Saturday afternoon in a game which was marked by free hitting of both teams.

One of the features was a home run in the seventh inning by Bartholomew of Clifton, with the bases loaded. This hit started a rally that netted Clifton six runs.

Charlie Christell was the "man of the hour" for Belleville in its half of the seventh inning when, with Nick Bonavita and Nick De Jura on third and second bases, he hit a two-bagger in deep center, scoring the pair and again placing Belleville in the lead.

Besides this Christell garnered

Yesterday's game probably made his berth at third base secure for the rest of the season, as this was one of the positions which Coach McBride had held in abeyance.

Lamb Brings in Four
Another feature was the scoring of four runs by "Mac" Lamb, although he is only credited with one hit. Twice he reached first on a fielder's choice and once on a base on balls.

Lamb also executed a double play with a man on first, when he scooped up a grounder, touched second, and three to Jerry Bonavita at first, ending the inning. Bonavita continued knocking out two-base hits by hitting two in the game Saturday. His brother Nick also accounted for a two-bagger.

Lamb proved to be a "find" as a pitcher. Inserted into the game in the eighth inning, to relieve Bonavita, he accounted for four strikeouts. Bonavita had six strike-outs in the four innings that he pitched, after relieving Casale. Lamb did not allow a hit in two innings.

Three Clifton Pitchers.
Clifton was also forced to use three pitchers. Janus succeeded Lennon in the first inning, after Belleville had scored three runs. Bartholomew took Janus's place in the seventh, when Belleville scored four runs. In the five innings in which Janus pitched he struck-out seven Belleville batters.

A youngster who is beginning to attract attention on the Belleville squad is Freddy Riccio, who scored two runs and hit two safe balls out of five times at bat.

Disabled Veterans Prepare Poppies

Every poppy to be sold throughout the United States during the week of Memorial Day by posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., has been made by disabled veterans confined to government hospitals.

The aim of the V. F. W., to "honor the dead by helping the living," established this method of producing the little red blossoms some years ago, when a national encampment of the organization ruled that only those poppies made by disabled ex-service men were to be distributed by the V. F. W.

The Buddy Poppy brings its annual reminder, "Lest we forget," and constitutes the V. F. W. appeal in behalf of comrades and their dependents in distress. Proceeds of the annual V. F. W. Buddy Poppy sale are used exclusively for relief purposes. Local relief work among disabled veterans' bureau service work is able and unfortunate veterans, in their behalf, military funerals and the maintenance of graves absorbs all but one cent of the proceeds, from each poppy. This goes toward the maintenance and development of the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, an institution created for the care of orphans of deceased comrades. The V. F. W. Home assumes responsibility for the rearing of these children, gives them all the facilities of a public and high school education, and an opportunity to learn a vocation or prepare themselves for professional endeavors.

Another interesting feature in connection with the production of Buddy Poppies by disabled heroes in government hospitals is the fact that convalescent patients are thereby provided with a means of earning independent incomes. In addition, hospital authorities have endorsed the practice as a distinct asset to the treatment these patients are undergoing, as it keeps their minds occupied and free from spells of melancholia or mental depression.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE YOUNGSTERS

The Recreation House playground will be opened Monday, May 19 and the Recreation Commission sincerely hopes that every boy and girl will thoroughly enjoy the privilege extended. More and more boys and girls reveal their true character while at play. Also play helps to develop strong, clean living, men and women who go out into the world and do worth while things bringing great joy to their parents. It is one of the true rewards of Christian parenthood. Phillips Brooks, that pulpit orator and friend of man, said: "The future of the race marches forward on the feet of little children." Let those who have not forgotten their own childhood days, even though maturity has dawned and reached its mid-day, be ever willing to give of their time and means to promote a worthwhile play life for their children.

The tennis enthusiasts will rejoice in the news that work was begun on the courts last Monday morning and they will soon be ready for use. Watch the local papers for further announcements.

Activities for the Week

Monday, May 6—Hillcrest, Room 2; West Belleville Women, Room 3.
Tuesday, May 6—Rainbow Club, Room 3; Belleville Band, Room 5.
Wednesday, May 7—Recreation Commission Meeting, Office; Melody Club Orchestra, Room 2; Hilltop, Room 3; Harmonica Band, Room 5; Women's Handicraft, Room 3; Sunshine Society, Room 2.
Thursday, May 8—Panthers, Room 4; Children's Handicraft, Room 4; Belleville Band, Room 5.
Friday, May 9—Girl Scouts, Room 4; Boy Scouts, Room 5; Girl's Club, Room 4.
Saturday, May 10—Children's Dramatic Class, Room 2.

The Recreation House is the recreation center for the people of Belleville. Let us all work wholeheartedly in order to honestly justify its existence. It is not essentially a "free place" even though supported by public taxation. No worthwhile thing in life is free in the fullest sense of the word. We pay for our education, the necessities of life such as food, clothing and shelter, also for our luxuries. Why not be willing to pay a little, even beyond the town appropriation, for our recreation? To find fault and not boost a thing is to follow the narrow way of life. Money well spent now for recreation, for character building may be saved in many other ways later. Spend $100 or more now to guide a boy to the more perfect way of life and you may save hundreds of dollars later that would have to be spent to maintain that young man in prison. Is it not good business?

Roosevelt Club To Play Middletowns

Sunday afternoon at Capitol Field the Roosevelt Social Club of Belleville will play their keenest rival, the Middletowns of Belleville. ## Barry Announces Election Platform

William T. Barry, Town Commission candidate, today issued a statement embodying his platform. It is as follows:

1.—I am an independent candidate. Am running alone, and am not a member of any combination, organization or clique. I believe my experience will qualify me for the office and hope to be elected, not for reasons of sentiment or political connections, but because of confidence in my honesty in representing the voters of Belleville.

2.—Am heartily in favor of better transportation facilities as regards bus and trolley service, and will do all I can to improve same.

3.—Agree thoroughly with any movement to lower taxes.

4.—Am keenly interested in more playgrounds, as well as any improvement that will make the streets safer for children. Reclaiming the Turf Bog for recreational purposes should be advocated.

5.—Would recommend and work hard for all projects and improvements that might be suggested for the best interests of the town and would at all times be "A Faithful Servant" to the voters of Belleville.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, May 11, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (II Timothy 3:16,17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." (I Corinthians 15:22).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is, always has been, and ever will be independent of matter; for life is God, and man is the idea of God, not formed materially but spiritually, and not subject to decay and dust." (p. 290).

CHRIST EPISCOPAL

Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach

Third Sunday after Easter, May 11, Mother's Day. Holy Communion at 7:45 A. M. Morning Prayer and sermon at 11 o'clock. Mr. Deckenbach's sermon topic will be "Mother of Men." Evening prayer and sermon at 7:45, topic, "Crosses." Sunday school at 9:45 A. M. Young People's Fellowship at 7 P. M. every Sunday.

Everything is in readiness for the concert this evening, by the New Providence Grammar School band for the benefit of the Altar Guild of Christ Episcopal Church of which Mrs. J. Harry Edwards is directress. Mrs. Edwards' brother, Mr. J. T. Nicholson, is director of the band. He is a former resident of Belleville and also a former member of Christ Church. He was a member of the Old Belleville Concert Orchestra, and is a graduate of Belleville High School.

The program is as follows: Opening selection, "Marian Hymn" dedicated to U. S. Marine Corps, entire band; "Erpouter March," band; cornet solo, selected, Joseph McConnell; "The Invader March," band; trombone solo, selected, Milford Totten; "Patriotic Overture," band; piano duet, Charlotte Noll and Dorothy Hogg; "Fealty March," band; xylophone solo, Lois Nicholson; "Evergreen Waltz," band; saxophone duet, Helen and George Price; specialty, George Miller, (composer-pianist), Arthur Miller and Kenneth Totten; "The Circus," band; and "Finale," band. A five piece orchestra will furnish music for dancing after the concert.

The Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. Edward Nelson, president, held the closing meeting of the season on Monday evening. The secretary, Mrs. J. S. Kirkpatrick, who represented the Auxiliary at the spring meeting of the District of Newark, held at St. Barnabas Church, on April 28, gave an interesting report of that meeting. Wool was distributed to be knitted into sweaters, during the summer, for the boys at Bonnie Brae Farm, and Mrs. Nelson, chairman of the Comfort Club, announced that the two new garments for the boys and the thirty-five cents which constitutes membership, must be in her hands by May 14. Mr. Deckenbach announced his intention of forming a Girls' Choir in the fall, and requested the Auxiliary to make the regular vestments for the girls, when evening in the church auditorium.

Christian Endeavor

Members of the Christian Endeavor have done a splendid job in beautifying the church grounds. Plants and shrubbery have been placed round the church and with the opening of the new road on Union avenue, Fewsmith will be one of the most attractive spots on the thoroughfare. Much credit is due the committee of young people which is headed by Everett Nestell, chairman.

1,000 Women At St. Peter's Mission

The moral security of our town was evidenced assuringly at the closing exercises of the Women's Mission at St. Peter's Church on Sunday afternoon. The inspirational effect will long be remembered. The presence of 1,000 women exemplified the word of the Lord in practice, and is the pledge of a renewed effort for the security and advancement of religion.

The colorful and substantial response to the invitation of the Fathers' Barry, who are in charge of the mission, was a guarantee that the much mooted idea of the loss of religion is foreign to the practice of Catholic women.

We saw the church resplendent in its beauty the ancient ceremonial carried out, the devotion to a principle manifested, and best of all, the living evidence of a conviction born of Divine sanction, meaning much for religion and society. The subject of the sermon for consideration and practice was logically and clearly presented, so that all those attending were pleased and strengthened.

The Fathers conducting the mission are cultured and able men. The audience was impressed by their spirit of fair play, which is appreciated by the American people. The congregational singing, recently introduced was inspiring. The incense used was symbolic of the adoration of God arising like perfume springing from pure hearts rendering homage to God and providing against the spirit of the world.

The 7:30 o'clock Mass on Sunday saw 800 women renewing their faith in the Blessed Sacrament, with the assurance of Divine guidance. The musical program, conducted by professor Reginald Ball, and the vocal number were worthy of the occasion.

The priests of St. Peter's are happily confident that the good example of the women will set a spiritual mark, worthy of emulation by the men.

The renewal of the Baptismal vows by 800 women prompts the thought that the women of the parish are not impregnated by the so-called popular idea that religion is losing its hold upon our women. That the forces of Divine religion are not dependent upon the fancies of the day was demonstrated fully during the seven days of meditation and sacrifice by the women who appreciated the time of special grace afforded by the Divine Master.

We entertain the hope for a continuance of the good resolutions formulated during the mission, to the end that all may be better servants of God, and better neighbors, free from suspicion of one another regardless of creed. "In the service of the Lord is the assurance of Governmental blessedness."

St. Peter's Men in Mission

"The nation is mighty in the cleanliness of its men."

In this age of direct appeal we are arrested by the thought that men in numbers are giving serious consideration to the logic and beauty of religion. We are prone to nationalism, consideration for our neighbor and fair play for all, and that is as it should be, but very often the thoughtless and those too deeply engaged in the seemingly big things of life, are inclined to forget their obligations to God and the necessity of rendering homage to the Author of life itself. This week we find 800 men, at the invitation of their priests, meeting with the Fathers Barry at St. Peter's Church, and seriously bent upon the revival and rehabilitation of faith. The Fathers in charge of the mission complimented the men and assured the congregation of their best efforts to assist all in their serious determination.

Sunday evening at 7:45, the spectacle was an inviting and assuring one to the priests and to the men. We saw the priests keenly alive to their opportunity and the men serious and attentive. The organ pealed, the choir responded, the men raised their voices in supplication and contrition, the priests called upon all the knowledge and eloquence at their command, and the promised spiritual and intellectual treat was a reality. The response to the prayers by the men; indicative of firm purpose and resolution, and the spirit of God infused all present.

The program of service for the men's week—Masses, 5:30 and 6:30 A. M.; evenings at 7:45, consisting of question box, rosary, sermon and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Our non-Catholic friends are invited to attend.

Finest Lilies

SCIENTIFIC methods of raising water lilies are producing finer plants in the United States than can be found anywhere else in the world.

A few years back, no one considered pond lilies of sufficient importance to spend any time on, but that enterprising Polish woman, Helena Rubinstein, discovered that water lily juice has a curious and beneficial effect on the skin.

Experiments proved that the juice must be fresh and as water lilies are seasonal, it seemed impossible to make any commercial use of her discovery. However, the United States is blessed with a variety of temperatures and by purchasing lakes and ponds in various sections, she was able to keep a continuous supply of the fresh flowers.

Hundreds of people are employed in their care and carloads of the fragile flowers are shipped in refrigerated cars to her laboratories in New York and Canada every year.

500 Expected At St. Peter's Holy Name Communion Breakfast

Five years ago, the innovation of an annual Holy Communion and breakfast of St. Peter's Holy Name Society was viewed with misgivings. Emboldened by the success of all other undertakings, the priests and the committee set themselves to the task of scoring a success in promoting this new parochial venture.

The desire of the men of the parish and their friends, Catholic and non-Catholic, to avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy in friendly association and to listen to men of education and breadth discuss questions having to do with the building of character, private and public, resulted in the attendance of five hundred men. This average has been maintained by reason of the satisfaction given, by the quality of the talks and by the tempting delicacy of the food elegantly served by the women of the parish. The initial Holy Communion reception of the Society and those which annually followed, were sources of inspiration to all who attended. The sense of security of family was guaranteed as we saw father and son present at the Communion rail, assuring clean hearts in the bosom of the family.

The disposition of all present in five years to renew their assurance of support to the Society. In the good and big work being done, is an impetus to the committee to endeavor to present speakers of both ability and prominence.

On Sunday morning, May 18, the Society will meet in St. Peter's Church to attend Mass and to be addressed by a priest on a spiritual topic suited to the needs of the layman of today. An augmented choir and orchestra, under the direction of Professor Reginald Ball, will provide the music, featuring a recently composed mass of brilliancy and merit. The recently presented silk American flags will occupy a position within the sanctuary.

The Society prides itself in accomplishing a community service in its success in marshalling 500 men in public profession of their faith in Christ, and in its willingness to stand sponsor for the teachings of Christ, which are the guarantee of security for individual and nation.

Tickets for the breakfast may be secured from the committee.

A record crowd attended the card party last night in St. Peter's Auditorium, which marked the opening of the Annual Spring Carnival of St. Peter's Social Society. Thursday there will be a Calico Hop or Old Fashioned Dance, with prizes for the most appropriate costumes. Tonight the members of the Society will present a one act comedy entitled "Madam Poser." Included in the program will also be a number of specialties consisting of solos and dances.

WESLEY M. E.

Rev. Edgar M. Compton

Next Sunday will be observed as Mother's Day, and a fitting program has been arranged for the morning service. The Ladies' Aid Society will provide ushers and a reception committee. The Auxiliary will present small bouquets of pansies to each mother attending the service, and both organizations will furnish the musical program. Mothers will announce the hymns, read the lesson, and participate fully in the service. The most interesting feature will be the sermon to be delivered by Mrs. Samuel Hodges, the mother of eight children, and an ordained minister of the Quaker Church. Everyone welcome.

Those serving on the hospitality committee for Sunday are Mrs. Ira Cornell, Mrs. Lloyd Ballentine, Mrs. Herbert Carson, and Mrs. Arthur S. Kunze. Mrs. John Pole is chairman.

Saturday afternoon, the Ladies' Aid Society is holding a Food and Bake Sale at the church. Let them supply you with your dessert for Sunday. Many fine pies and cakes will be sold, so come early to be sure to get yours. Mrs. Budd is chairman.

The Epworth League celebrated its Fortieth Anniversary last Tuesday evening. A banquet served in the dining room, be the Young Woman's Auxiliary under the supervision of Mrs. O. T. Breunich, was followed by a special anniversary program. The committee comprised John Carrough, Elmer Hosking, Neil Horne, the Misses Mildred and Gertrude Lorenz.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER DINNER

Members of the Young Ladies' Bible Class of Fewsmith Sunday

Zonite

For pyorrhea

For prevention against gum infections, use Zonite, the new powerful antiseptic. Also guards against colds, coughs and more serious diseases of nose and throat.

School will hold a Mother and daughter dinner at seven o'clock on Thursday evening, May 15. Mrs. W. A. Manchec, secretary of Stewardship of the Women's Missionary Society of Newark Presbytery, will speak on "The Golden Circle around the World."

Miss Eleanor Miller will be in charge of the program; Miss Marion Wortman, dinner chairman, and Margaret Allen, decorations. Miss Gladys Jacob will accompany the musical program. Mrs. O. B. Close is teacher of the class.

Woman's Club Notes

At the regular card party held at the club house Monday afternoon Mrs. A. Pickart made high score in the bridge playing while Mrs. J. Howland carried off the honors in whist. The next card party will be held May 19, at which time Mrs. William Engelman, Mrs. W. F. Entekin, Jr., Mrs. Joseph Miller, Mrs. Earl Woodworth and Mrs. G. D. Haslam will be hostesses.

Any members of the club desiring to visit the Girls' Vocational School in Newark, Friday, May 23, are requested to communicate with Mrs. R. C. Whatfield. Luncheon will be served at a very small cost.

The thirty-sixth annual spring convention of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs is being held at Atlantic City this week and the delegates from the local club are the president, Mrs. R. Clifford Whitefield; first vice president, Mrs. Charles S. Smith; second vice president, Mrs. J. J. Schaffer and federation secretary, Mrs. W. P. Adams. Others attending are Mrs. Charles Kelly, Mrs. Frank Brohal, Mrs. J. V. Theford and Mrs. W. H. Williams. Mrs. Smith will sing in the contemporary chorus at the convention. This chorus won first prize in the Choral Contest held by the Federation this year. The delegates will make their reports at the business meeting to be held at the club house

Monday afternoon, May 12. At this time there will also be a lecture by Mr. Elmer Kenyon of the Theatre Guild of New York who will use as his topic "The Theatre of Today," and will also speak on the play "The Strange Interlude," by Eugene O'Neill. Mr. Kenyon is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and of the "47" drama class of Harvard and is one of the foremost authorities in America upon the theatre. He has lectured before many important women's clubs and the Belleville club feels very fortunate in having secured Mr. Kenyon for one of their meetings. Mrs. Dudley Drake will be in charge of the club tea and will be assisted by Mrs. A. S. Blank, Mrs. E. Johnson, Mrs. H. K. Shoep, Mrs. Norman Cooper, Mrs. James Irwin and Mrs. Jean Witbeck.

The annual fall bazaar seems a long way off at present, but nevertheless time flies and Mrs. W. P. Adams has been appointed general chairman, so that plans may be furthered during the summer months.

Birthday Party

Jeanne Morey of 103 Malone avenue entertained a number of her little friends at a birthday party on Thursday afternoon. The youngsters enjoyed an afternoon of games, after which refreshments were served from a gaily decked table, the color scheme being pink and white. The little guests present were Betty Kuhn, Jean Rowley, Jane Tuite, Catherine Hurley, Helen Hurley, Betty Mayes, Warren Russell, Anna Jones, and John Morey.

RESIDENT OF BELLEVILLE THE PAST 27 YEARS; RESIDING IN BELWOOD PARK.
POLICE JUDGE IN THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, 1924-1926.
PRESIDENT OF THE BELLEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Practicing Counsellor at Law, with Offices in Newark, since 1923.

"No municipality can hope to have true and quality government, which would bring about efficient and economical results, netting its taxpayers a low rate, unless the persons elected to office shall not only be qualified to hold office but be firm enough to stand for what is right simply because it is right rather than to be forever looking to political results.

"Public office is a public trust and actions in such office must not be weighed by fact and diplomacy but by fearless performance of duty.

"I believe in fair and impartial government, with a square deal for all, all the time.

"I stand ready to give the people of the Town of Belleville the kind and type of government to which they are rightfully entitled, without fear or favor, to which end I pledge my most sacred honor."

—Samuel Figurelli.

MOTOR VEHICLE EXAMINATIONS

1.—Examinations of all new applicants for driver's licenses in New Jersey, from May 1, 1930 to November 1, 1930 will be held as follows:

Atlantic City (Armory, Absecon Boulevard), every Friday. Asbury Park (Armory), first, third and fifth Tuesday. Bridgeton (Armory), second and fourth Tuesday. Camden (Infantry Armory), every Monday. Cape May Court House (Court House Building), first and third Saturday during May, June, July and August; first Saturday only during September and October. Trenton (State House Building), every Wednesday. Toms River (Court House Building), second Thursday. Woodbury (City Hall), every Thursday.

2.—All examinations will be under the supervision of the Chief Inspector, Deputy Chief Inspector, or an Inspector detailed by the Commissioner.

3.—Holders of three weeks' permits must surrender same to the Inspector in charge before commencing the examination, and no examination will be given until ten days after issuance of permit unless holder has heretofore held a driver's license in New Jersey or any other State in which event the ten-day rule will be waived.

4.—No applicant will be examined whose permit has expired.

5.—Applicants failing to pass the road test will not again be examined for two weeks, and their permits will be extended accordingly.

6.—Applicants failing to pass the written test will not again be examined for one week, and their permits will be extended accordingly.

7.—If the date to which a permit has been extended does not fall on an examination day, then the permit will be further extended by the rating clerk, so that the holder thereof may qualify for examination on the next examination day following.

8.—If the applicant for a driver's license is less than twenty years of age, a birth certificate, baptismal certificate or other substantial proof of age will have to be submitted, not only when the application for learner's permit is applied for but again when the examination is applied for.

9.—Applicants will bring a machine with them to such examination for the purpose of a practical demonstration, and observe the rule which requires that such applicants be accompanied by a licensed driver.

10.—Applicants must report for examinations between the hours of 8:30 A. M. and 3:30 P. M.

11.—No examination will be held on Decoration Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day or New Year's Day.

12.—No driver's license will be renewed without an examination first having been had, unless such license was issued after January 1, 1927.

13.—The examination will consist of a practical test to determine the applicant's ability to properly operate an automobile or motorcycle, a written examination to show applicant's knowledge of the Motor Vehicle and Traffic Acts and mechanical construction of motor vehicles, and a physical examination.

14.—Applicants must obtain a percentage of seventy to qualify.

15.—No practical test will be given in any car the owner of which has not complied with Motor Vehicle Laws with respect to glaring lights, equipment of car with mirror and with powerful and sufficient brakes.

15a.—If an applicant for driver's license offers a car, the registration plates of which, either front or rear, are in anywise obscured the applicant will be rejected for a period of one week.

16.—No person other than those taking the examination will be allowed in the room where written tests are held.

17.—Any discourtesy shown on the part of the Inspector Force should immediately be reported to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, who aims to render a service that will leave no cause for complaint.

18.—Do not offer any gratuity or emolument of any kind to an Inspector of Motor Vehicles or any one alleging to be in the employment of the Motor Vehicle Depart.

AVOID contact with salesmen and especially those canvassers who would sell you alleged copies of the examination questions.

By order of
HAROLD G. HOFFMAN,
Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

"The Terrible Meek" Wesley Playlet

Will Be Presented By Epworth Leaguers
Sunday

"The Terrible Meek," a playlet of the "different" type, will be presented at the Epworth League service of Wesley M. E. Church at 7 o'clock this Sunday evening.

This is being presented by a group of young people from the High street Presbyterian Church of Newark, through the courtesy of the author, Charles Rann Kennedy and the publishers, Harper Brothers. Those in the cast are Miss Mae Raube, Walter Pittier and William Manns. This promises to be a very unique service to which the Leaguers are looking forward with interest.

The banquet held last Tuesday evening in celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the local chapter was a marked success with 155 people crowding the dining room to capacity. The address of the evening was given by Rev. Herbert C. Lytle, a former pastor. The president, Everett B. Smith, acted as toastmaster and several who had been workers in the League a number of years ago were given an opportunity to reminisce for a few minutes on old times. Among these were Mr. Harry Harrison, Mr. E. Axtell, Mr. C. E. Kraft and Mr. Leonard Memmott. Short addresses were also given by Rev. E. M. Compton and Mr. Russell Hopkins, president of the Newark District Epworth League.

A novelty musical feature was given by Mr. Gordon Crisp who played the piano while songs were flashed on a screen by Mr. Neil Horne. The dinner was served by the Young Women's Auxiliary.

The committee in charge, which consisted of John R. Carrough, chairman, Misses Mildred and Gertrude Lorenz, Elmer Hosking and Neil Horne may feel justly proud of such a well managed and successful affair.

10th Wedding Anniversary
For Mr. and Mrs. Bangert

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bangert of Cedar Hill avenue celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary Saturday night and guests were present from Belleville, Boonton, Maywood, Newark, Carteret, Irvington, Flushing, Woodhaven and Astoria, L. I. numbering more than fifty.

The home was beautifully decorated with white wedding bells, and Mrs. Bangert wore white satin with long train, silver slippers and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations, and yellow and white daffodils.

Dancing and games, together with a musical program were followed by delicious refreshments. Many gifts were received. The party ended at 6:30 Sunday morning, with two week-end guests remaining.

OVERCOME BY MONOXIDE GAS

Raymond S. Losey, 34, of 90 Rosemore place, was taken to St. Michael's Hospital in Newark after being overcome by carbon monoxide gas in the garage behind his home Tuesday night.

He was discovered unconscious in the seat of the auto when his two children, Raymond, Jr., 9, and Lillian, 8, went to the garage when their mother told them he had just driven the car in. It is believed he ran the motor too long after driving into the garage.

Losey was similarly overcome by fumes from a truck in his garage last January.

Sheriff Speaks Here

Sheriff Harry Huelsenback spoke last night at the Belleville Republican Club meeting in Masonic Temple on activities of the Sheriff's Office.

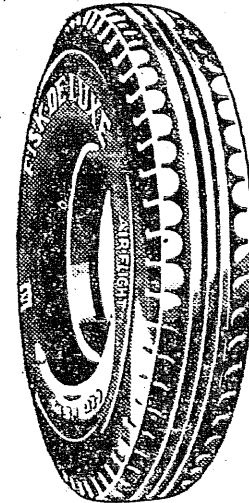

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Rachel of 19 Mertz avenue entertained at bridge Saturday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. William S. Pontin, Mr. and Mrs. Corbin D. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lyons of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Clark of Roseville. High scores were made by Mrs. Lyons and Mr. Smith.

Ann Putscher Van Sickle Sings At Troy Hills

The D. A. R. held a meeting at the Condit homestead, Condit Corners, Troy Hills, Tuesday, at 2:30.

Ann Putscher VanSickle of Overlook avenue was guest artist and sang "On Wings of Song" by Mendelssohn; "Still as the Night," by Bonn; "Rose Softly Blooming," by Spohr and "Spring Song," by Oscar Weill. The audience was approving in its applause. Mrs. VanSickle's singing has much to recommend it, as her voice is fine and is deftly handled, and her clear diction is an asset. Eleanor Bacon-Peck was at the piano.

School News

By JAMES REILLY

Freshman assembly this week was well carried out by Gertrude King and Pearl Katzen. Ena Holden enacted a recitation.

The Junior Prom takes place next week and is going to be quite an affair. The young ladies of the Senior Class are to receive double bids and the young men single bids. For all others bids are two dollars a pair.

A stupendous event is soon to take place in Belleville High School—a faculty play.

Those members of the faculty taking part are Mrs. Van Der Bier, Miss Schenck, Mrs. Pendleton, Mr. Steele, Miss Walsh, Mr. Folsom and Mr. Kitle. The leading parts are held by Miss Walsh and Mr. Folsom.

The comedy which is in three acts was recently given by the Woman's Club of Montclair. The title is "Love in a Mist." The setting for the entire play is the home of the feminine leading part, in Virginia.

Miss Mae Bailey has charge of all properties and stage settings and Miss Elizabeth Tempest is coach.

The comedy will be given May 25, at the High School and to date the admission is a secret, but we assure you it will not make any noticeable shrinkage in your purse.

The art class in high school under the direction of Miss Walters is progressing rapidly. From primary work the class has advanced to oil paintings and charcoal drawings.

George R. Gerard, superintendent of Belleville Schools, and Charles L. Steel, principal of the High School, have commended the students on their work.

Mr. Steel went so far as to have one of the charcoal drawings framed for his office.

When one enters the music room many drawings are to be seen hanging about—a piano, a radio, and so forth. But getting back to the radio, let us say that through the work of various ones the radio has come to maintain a regular berth in the music room.

Organized Rowdiness Against Board Says Mayor Kenworthy

Such Candidates Only Lose Little Chance They Have Of Winning

"With the Belleville Municipal election campaign rapidly drawing to a close, we have reached that period where petty propaganda and personalities are almost certain to be injected. The first act of organized rowdiness showed itself last Thursday night with the result that the candidate who inspired the demonstration has lost considerable of the friendly support that was coming his way," said Mayor Kenworthy over the air, Sunday.

However, I am firmly convinced that the thinking citizen has practically decided upon his ticket. A last minute effort is to be made by an anti-administration group to convince the public that it is good business to get rid of a Board of Commissioners that has guided the Town of Belleville through the most progressive period of her history, but our people are not going to be fooled by a small group of men whose motives are certainly not for the best interests of the Town.

"I have been informed that a former Town official has stated that he would spend $10,000 to see me defeated; and if this is true, I consider it the finest testimonial I have received during the campaign. Do you Belleville people think for one minute that any man would spend such a sum of money just for the personal satisfaction of seeing me defeated?"

"Oh, no, that is not the answer. There must be some more important reason. Let us not forget that shortage of $134,000 uncovered by this present board six weeks after its inception. Let us not forget that the man who assumed the responsibility for this shortage was not bonded as required by law, and let us not forget that it was this oversight that caused the town of Belleville to stand the burden of this shortage. Can it be possible that some of the old gang would like to see me out of the way so that the path might be made easier for a return to former conditions?"

"Ladies and gentlemen, above everything else you have had honest government during the past four years, and if for no other reason you people should turn a deaf ear to any anti group that may endeavor to convince you that the majority of the present members of your governing body should be retired.

"So during the coming week when such an effort is likely to be made let me caution you to look just beyond the individual who makes such a plea. Ask yourself these few questions. Is he a disappointed office seeker? Was he a candidate for the office of Town Attorney? Was he a candidate for the office of Recorder? Was he a candidate for the office of Municipal Clerk? Is he a former official of the Town of Belleville who was replaced for the good of the service. Is he a man who has been replaced on some Board or Commission for the same reason? In short, ladies and gentlemen, when you listen to this type of campaigner, if you listen at all, just weigh the personal reasons for this plea, and then do your own thinking.

"I am fully aware that most of the attacks of our opponents have been leveled at me, and I have no intention of going on the defensive. I have given conscientious service to the Town for the past four years and have made connections in the County and State that have brought profitable returns to Belleville.

"We have seen order come out of chaos; we have seen Belleville come out of her swaddling clothes into a thriving young city; we have seen the name of Belleville come from dishonor into a place of equal standing among the progressive municipalities of the state. The eyes of northern Jersey are on our Town, and it is not your governing body that is on trial, but you people of Belleville, and I know that you are not going to be found wanting on May 13.

"I have attempted to conduct my campaign on the highest possible plane, and shall continue to do so. I have adopted for my slogan, 'Continued Progress with Lower Taxes' and I believe we can have both. If re-elected to the office of Commissioner I shall continue to fight to relieve our tax payers from the unfair burden of Mandatory Legislation which at the present time is costing Belleville many thousands of dollars yearly.

"I believe we must cooperate with adjoining municipalities in carrying forward major projects, such as we have done in the Second River Joint Sewer, and in the Meadowbrook Storm Sewer now under way.

"I believe that this method is the real solution of our garbage disposal problem. An incinerator should be built on the meadows by several municipalities in our vicinity, the cost and upkeep to be apportioned according to its use.

"I feel that we must cooperate with any attempt for Rapid Transit and feel that every effort must be given to securing not only additional but better transportation service.

"I point to my record of the past four years as my chief claim for reelection. Much of my time has been devoted to the relief of the poor and to securing work for the unemployed. I am especially proud of the hospital facilities afforded the needy at Newark Memorial Hospital, the negotiations having been handled entirely by me.

last summer the first municipal band concert in her history. Thousands of people enjoyed these Sunday night concerts in Belleville Park, and I have every reason to believe will again enjoy them this summer.

"Through my personal efforts and the generosity of Mr. Paul Block, owner of the Newark Bears, 1,313 kiddies enjoyed an afternoon last summer at the Newark International League Ball Park.

"I have always taken an interest in the Boy and Girl Scouts and have given freely of my time to make a success of all charitable and humanitarian drives in Belleville.

"While I feel that my record justifies my return to the Board of Commissioners, I am frank to say that I cannot return without your assistance. If you sit home on election day and let the other fellow do it, you have no one to blame if your favorites are defeated. So in closing my little talk this afternoon I am humbly asking you for your support and when May 13 finally rolls around may I have the honor of receiving the votes of you and your family?"

"Won't you folks come down to the Elks' Home tomorrow night, so that I may have the opportunity of personally presenting my claims for reelection."

No Matter How Thin You Slice It

Well, folks, I've decided to become a political boss. It seems safe enough and I sure do like the idea of owning apartments and being able to trail around with the boys down in Florida. Also I like golf and steam yachts.

But how to work it. Ah, that's the rub. How—

I've spent all my life in the world of politics and I've seen others do it. I wonder if I can pull the same stunts?

First thing I'll do is to make a reputation for myself as one fine, big-hearted fellow.

Not being rich I'll have to start on a small scale. I'll go down to the first district of the 'nth ward and I'll make some pretty useful contacts. I'll make a donation or two for this, that or the other thing, and I'll buy all the tickets that come my way.

I'll swing three or four of the boys to me with odd loans and when they want to pay me back I'll tell 'em to forget it. That'll be a good start.

Then I'll find out a few babies that need milk and shoes and I'll get 'em, and I'll tell my friends about it and they'll tell the world what the babies' folks leave out.

In a year's time, I'll be the best fellow in a dozen blocks and known at every picnic and every ball as the straightest shooting, finest fellow in the town. My fame will spread.

Then I'll get under way in earnest.

I'll back some of the folks for places on the town's main committees and because I—unselfish I—say they are right the crowd will give them the O. K.

Now that'll put me in the position of being something of a power in the neighborhood and when the big fellows want anything put across they'll come around and look me over. They'll even offer me my share but I'll refuse—sternly refuse to touch the filthy stuff. I may be hogish but I'm not cheap.

As my fame spreads, I'll branch out into other district, and in a couple of years more, I'll be some big gun myself.

Every man has his weakness and I'll begin to discover weaknesses.

I'll gear those fellows to my little machine.

Then Jobs'll begin to come my way. I'll see that my boys get theirs and that'll help a lot.

In five years' time, I'll have as nifty a little organization as ever you suspected, but not one cent of filthy lucre will I touch—not until my power becomes strong enough to select and elect my friends to office. Then watch me shoot the works.

Folks, I'll make the best boss your city ever had.

There won't be a thing you want that you won't get and my friends'll be the ones to provide for you—and you'll pay, don't worry about that.

I'll see that the poor have a wonderful poor house, and my friends will buy the land, erect the buildings, place the insurance and gosh knows what they want do. I'll build streets, and a new town hall and a new hospital for the sick; I'll see that you get a marvelous new library and plenty of playgrounds. There isn't a thing you can think of or that I can discover that my friends won't buy or build for you. We'll have the most wonderful town in the world—and all I'll expect for mine is ten per cent. Anything in excess of that I'll pass out to the boys who so kindly help me keep where I can get these things for you.

You won't need a city manager, I'll be it—at no salary, and no title.

In time you'll get wise to me and there'll be a heck of a row but I should worry. I'll quietly retire on my millions and you folks can then go to the devil. Who are you, anyhow, but a bunch of suckers?

Telephone Men Glimpse Sidelights OF Jersey Folks In Number Changes

Why people in one town get up earlier than they do somewhere else; Thursday is "shopping day" in one place and Tuesday in another; why police dogs are deader to a friendly call of "Nice doggy" than fox terriers, spaniels and bull dogs; and "why" and "how come" a lot of other things, some of them important perhaps, to economists and psychologists, might be solved through a study of sidelights on the activities of New Jersey folk being turned up by the 150 telephone men who are visiting homes and offices throughout the northern metropolitan part of the state to change the number cards on 460,000 telephones.

Some of the little episodes—mostly amusing or interesting, but tragic in some cases—have developed in Belleville, where the telephone force has just completed its task of putting the new number cards on 3,695 telephones.

Each job is supposed to be about the same. A telephone man goes to a house, takes the number card off the telephone, puts two others in place preparing for the introduction of the "modified number plan" next June, looks over the instruments and wiring to see if anything needs repairs, explains the "modified number plan," and then departs.

But it doesn't always work out that way. "The lady of the house" has sometimes poked her head out of an upstairs window to call "We don't want any," slamming the window shut again abruptly. And at some homes the installers have practically leaned against the doorbell button without getting a response, despite a sign running full blast and other signs from within that someone was home. There is no doubt about it—the men were mistaken for house-to-house salesmen and canvassers and the ladies "didn't want any" and wouldn't even bother to say no. And at other places there have been dogs on the front porch who no friendly gesture could win over.

Anything that kept the new number cards from being put on every telephone meant just that much more chance for error after next June when the new number plan takes effect. But it wasn't alone that which bothered the men who worked in the Englewood district—mixed with their worry over the fact that many telephones were beyond reach because of no one home to let them in, was a healthy envy of the fortune lot of Englewood people. It's this way: of the 20,000 or so telephones in the district, 1,800 were not accessible. No one home—no response to telephone calls in the evening. Finally postcards were sent to these householders asking them when would be a convenient time to come around. Weeks later these cards were still drifting in from Florida, California, the Riviera and other European resorts and one even from far-off Hawaii. Evidently Mr. and Mrs. Englewood and the youngsters, feeling February's chill, raw breezes, had packed up and departed until warmer weather should arrive. Whereupon the telephone men were envious.

And it was in Bloomfield that one installer found that he couldn't arouse a sign of life in most of the houses on one block. Then he came to the last house and found the ladies from the other dwellings gathered there as guests, clustered around bridge tables. The installer happily crossed their names off his "no access" list and dated them all up for visits for the following morning.

The reasons for a "no access" are dotted down by the installers on memorandums which, when collected together, sometimes give terse accounts of things that have meant trouble or tragedy for a whole household. "Scarlet fever," "diphtheria" and the like; or "death in family" or "house burned down." And again there is the case of the vacant house where there was undoubtedly a telephone, but no other furniture. Investigation through neighbors, and in the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company records, showed that no one had been in the house for years as far as anyone knew; it had been unoccupied, deserted, and yet the telephone bill was paid month after month from another city by a subscriber who never used it. No matter what the real story, here is a ready-made start of a plot for some story writer.

Another thing the telephone men do is to examine the telephone and wiring at each place they visit to see whether anything needs replacement or repairs. And the result has been a collection of mouthpieces from instruments in a condition to make any good telephone man shudder—broken, battered, tooth-edged, gummy with the stickiness of "Junior's" off-repeated trips between the jam pot and the telephone and baby's successful efforts to use it as a teething ring. More than 1,000 mouthpieces are replaced every day by the installers, records of the job disclose.

In other places—particularly where elderly people dwell—the men have listened to complaints that when the subscribers run downstairs to answer a call, there's no one on the other end of the line; they've hung up. The suggestion that an extension telephone upstairs might be a great convenience has proved a doubly successful thought—hundreds of saved steps and minutes for the subscribers, and more business for the company.

The number-card change is the biggest of its kind ever seen in the country, the company reports—nearly 460,000 telephones to visit, as compared to a job involving about 120,000 in 1924 on the Pacific Coast, which until now has held the record.

The work is being done so that the proper cards will be in place next June. A temporary card showing the present number covers up another showing the same number revised according to the plan, which changes a number like Belleville 1234 to Belleville 2-1234. The plan is uniting the number system of metropolitan northern New Jersey in anticipation of the rapid increase of dial service in this area.

POLITICKS

—By—
ANTI-KAMNIA

Being the latest collection of political tid-bits, some good, some bad, gathered by this columnist as he travels, thither and yon, without benefit of censor of the publisher of this worthy paper or the present board of commissioners.

(Editor's note:—The views of this columnist are his own personal views and are not governed by the policies of the publisher.)

Well, here we are. On the threshold of Election. That momentous day in Belleville, May 13.

The voters, by the sacred power of the ballot, which privilege they all enjoy, and should all use, will vote into office five commissioners to direct their affairs for the next four years.

On you, voters, rests the heavy responsibility of selecting the right men. It is serious business.

Lest you be swayed by the smooth talk and empty promise of palavering prospective office-seekers, think well before you make that deciding cross on the ballot.

Remember it is you and you alone who can or can not elect the men.

Posters, publicity, public meetings and the whole gamut of campaign gestures should not swerve you from what your analysis of the men who are to direct your affairs will be and whom in your own mind shall select.

Upon that little cross which you put before five names on the ballot next Tuesday, Belleville will rest its case.

Whether we progress or go back, whether taxes go up or down, yes, verily, whether you will be able to bear the burden or not. You yourselves are the judge and jury.

Overtures, of many kinds, some kindly, some not so kind, some persuasive, some reasonable and others assinine, have been made to garner your vote for this or that or the other candidate.

Some of these gestures have the real good of Belleville, and your good at heart. Others are for purely political, mercenary, selfish interest.

We have had four years of real progress. No one can honestly dispute this. That is, no one but who has any ulterior motives.

Our town has kept pace with its neighbors. We have been able to hold our heads up just as high as any community within a radius of a good many miles.

We have been recognized locally and in State Affairs as an up and going concern. The unfavorable publicity we were subject to, not so long ago, is no more.

Our schools are second to none. Our streets are the cynosure of all neighboring communities. Our water facilities cannot be improved upon.

Our garbage and ash removal system leaves nothing to be desired. Our fire and police protection is on a par with any city. The traffic regulation system has been a model for others to copy.

The condition of our finances which almost left us in the throes of bankruptcy are now in an almost robust condition.

True, here are still a good many projects to be planned and perfected which will make for the further progress of the town.

But if I may refer to an old adage "Rome was not built in a day." These cannot happen over night. Any man or any body of men cannot regardless of their ability rub aladdin's lamp and wish these things.

It takes training; and training costs money. Real money. It's expensive. Training men to guide the affairs of a town such as ours, cannot be accomplished in a day, a week or a month.

Unless a man has served as a public official, he is gifted with all the gray matter of the universe, he is a veritable tyro when he takes office.

He has to get acquainted with "the ropes" for some time and during this period you and I are footing the bill of his education.

We are indeed fortunate in the fact that we have at least three men who possess all the capabilities, all the qualifications which fit them to again serve us.

Their records are an open book before us. Every one has seen and can judge.

And after all "By their fruits ye shall know them."

If we are to judge at all it is by a public official record. Not what he promises he may do in the future.

We know Waters.

We know Clark.

We know Kenworthy.

We know what they have done.

Their records of the past are the true index of what we may expect of them in the future.

They are trained. That much of the educational expense bill at least is saved.

What the other candidates will do is problematical. Your guess is as good as mine.

But this much is certain. The three of them, Waters, Clark and Kenworthy, have stood shoulder to shoulder in their ministrations of the town's affairs.

They stand for progress, they stand for economy in town government, they stand for what you and I want them to stand for. They are our champions and serve us as we want them to serve as we would serve ourselves.

We can make no mistake by returning them to office. We cannot afford to make mistakes.

Now, if ever, let us return them. Let us show them that their service for us is appreciated. That we want them again to pilot the government of our town.

Let us "stand by those, who have stood by us."

Return Waters, Clark and Kenworthy.

Too-de-loo for a while.

ANTI-KAMNIA.

Lincoln Said:

"DON'T SWAP HORSES IN THE MIDDLE OF THE STREAM!"

That was good advice in 1864, and is good advice now—if the horse is at all dependable.

Believing a majority of our Town Commissioners are dependable, let's keep them in office.

Winfield Closes With Shot On Prohibition Plan

"Dear Friends and Voters:
"My interest in this election is, has been, and always will be to boost Belleville," says Henry W. Winfield, candidate for commissioner.

"I love our town of Belleville. We have one of the cleanest, moral and social suburban municipalities adjacent to the great metropolis of New York.

"If I am elected to the office of commissioner, in addition to my well known prohibition plank advocating modification or repeal, I shall advocate and work for the real great necessity: a parkway or boulevard through Belleville. With the coming of new tubes from the greater New York we, the taxpayers of Belleville, must look with interest on a project of this kind. It is almost impossible to handle the traffic the way it is today. With cooperation of the surrounding towns and state bodies I feel sure this can be accomplished with practically no expense to the taxpayers of Belleville.

"Another thing I shall give a great deal of attention to is the so-called Turf Bog, working with the affiliated organizations which are rightly interested in that section of Belleville. It is what they want that must be considered, not what any one commissioner should say what they shall have.

"Another vital importance is a play ground for the benefit of the school children which will get a great deal of my consideration as an all-year-round project.

"I certainly do approve and will cooperate with any movement in reference to the disposal of the garbage and refuse of our town in a sanitary manner. Under the present conditions it is unsightly and unsanitary and with the increased population and the growing of Belleville this problem must be given a great deal of thought and attention. This and all other improvements come along in the general routine of business and demand. If I am elected I will always keep my eyes on the tax rate. It sure is high enough now.

"There is another item in our town affairs that I promised to take care of—the girder on Greylock avenue. That is one of the most unjust and unsightly objects. It is beyond my comprehension that our commissioners have been unable for the past ten years to get any action from the Erie Railroad.

"Dear friends and voters: I thank you all at this time, for the interest you have taken in this anti prohibition movement, in my agitation against prohibition to restore personal liberty. Whether I'm elected or defeated my fight will go on just the same, as I feel it is one of the greatest movements.

"And being commented on by ministers and clergymen in our town and all over the country as I have said before, there is something going to happen to the prohibition laws.

"And when it comes, Belleville wants local representation to keep it clean and wholesome, like Landis over baseball; Hayes over the moving picture industry and like William Dill over the Building Trades, and in electing your local representative the taxpayers and voters in the town of Belleville would naturally look to him for protection and regulation in place of passing the buck from one man to another as the conditions are today.

"Go to the polls on May 13 and cast your vote for your worthy candidate for commissioner, Henry W. Winfield, against prohibition and restore personal liberty.

"Before I close, let me remind you to be sure to vote.
"Get all the votes out, putting Belleville over the top as the first town to elect a local representative in the interest of humanity and against prohibition."

AMONG MY SOUVENIERS-

By BUS MCGINNITY

The Belleville election is every man for himself. The strongest man physically will win.

Every candidate is so sure that he will be elected, and so happy hearted, that each gets up in the middle of the night just to laugh.

I expect to be elected a garbage practitioner, because I have a certain "air" about myself.

I have found out, after hearing the candidates, that what a man knows cannot be judged by his knowing look.

Some of the voters have brand new minds — they change them every three hours.

What Belleville needs most—is a good five-cent cigar, and a commissioner, who will not cut it in half, so he won't have to draw the smoke so far.

For the man who can smile, is the man worth while—Yeah! but wait until after the election.

Somebody told Eddie Nugent there was a new election poll in the first ward, and Eddie spent three days looking for him.

They say there will be a dark horse in this election—Let's hope he hasn't the hoof and mouth disease; for every time he opens his mouth he will probably put his foot in it.

Some of the cars in town covered with election banners, look like the covered wagon. Don't let the boogie man ride in these cars.

The easiest job of the whole election is the campaign manager's job. Pretty soft, nothing to do but ride around town and hand out "El Ropos." If I'm wrong sue me!

Now, in closing, may I say that, if I am elected, I promise to break the legs of all Charleston dancers and imprison for life all those who play saxophones. I will open the movies Sundays providing I am not "gyped" on tickets. Someone sold me two tickets for "The Big Parade" and I waited all day for it to pass.

BELLEVILLE'S Leading CANDIDATE

SEVERAL GOOD REASONS

WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR ELMER S. HYDE

He is a very successful business man. President of a large bond business in New York City which he organized himself on his return from France. His business has given him many enviable contacts. Having such clients as former Governor Charles S. Whitman and his law firm, former Governor Nathan L. Miller and his law firm, John W. Davis, presidential nominee in 1924, and many other nationally known men.

He is a world war veteran having enlisted immediately upon America's entry into the war and served overseas with honor to his country, seeing service at the following points: Maintaining and operating lines of communication for the American Forces at Pont a Mousson and St. Mihiel. Later, and after the signing of the armistice, he became part of the Army of Occupation in Germany.

He is primarily a home man as evidenced by the above picture. He has been a resident of Belleville for 14 years in which time he has made many friends. Through contact with these friends has become well acquainted with the town's problems, residing at present at No. 275 Little Street. He is an extremely progressive type of public spirited citizen. His family interest and his interest as a taxpayer warrant his trustworthiness in dealing with educational, recreational, safety, tax, police and fire protection problems.

If you believe the Town of Belleville needs a man of this type, on May 13, vote for
