EMERGENCY NOTE PASSES WHEN BROWN DECLARES ACTION LEGAL

Commission Was Faced With Shortage Of $9,000 To Meet Expenses Incident To Municipal Election

Following his decision Tuesday to vote for the $9,000 emergency note to pay bills for the election, Commissioner William H. Williams demurred at signing all checks until he received an opinion from Corporation Counsel John B. Brown that it was legal to have work done in excess of $1,000 without first obtaining bids.

Although he did not qualify his remarks, a $1,650 item in the Belleville News bill for printing 200 copies of 22 election district registry lists was the item he had in mind.

Corporation Counsel John B. Brown yesterday informed Mr. Williams the item was O. K. and checks were signed.

Mr. Williams demanded to know of Mr. Brown at the Tuesday conference of the board that the action in passing on the emergency note, by recording the vote of Commissioner William D. Clark from a recessed meeting of the day before, is "consistent with legal procedure."

Mr. Brown stated such is the case and Mr. Williams insisted the ruling be made a part of the minutes.

Referring to the matter of recording the vote, Mr. Williams declared it "subterfuge rather than straight out and out business methods."

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters stated that "if it is not O. K. let it go upstairs and be thrashed out. To my way of thinking it is good business to pay these bills that have been contracted and save the town $2,000 or $2,500 in litigation."

Mr. Williams wanted to know if the election cost could not have been figured closer. Mr. Waters said no doubt it could have been, but he is of the opinion that it is better to appropriate less for the election than near the correct amount, as the tendency would be to spend it if a greater sum were appropriated.

A special meeting of the Commission was called by Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and held Monday morning to record the affirmative vote of Commissioner William D. Clark for passage of a resolution authorizing a $9,000 emergency note to pay the municipal election costs. Mr. Clark was headed for Chicago and unable to attend the regular meetings Tuesday afternoon and night.

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters was the only other board member present. Commissioner Frank J. Carragher refusing to attend because Commissioner William H. Williams could not be reached for notice. The three members, on motion of Mr. Waters, second by Mr. Clark, favored the note, but the vote of four is necessary to afford an emergency measure, three two-thirds favor required.

Discussing the twenty-nine investigators employed by the Essex County superintendent of elections to check registrations and watch voting, Mr. Williams and Commissioner Carragher declared at the night board session there had been electioneering by some of them.

Mr. Williams said he had seen one man driving Mayor Kenworthy and Commissioners Waters and Clark in an automobile. The Mayor and Mr. Waters replied that may have been so, since each one on the list had a certain amount of time off during the day to eat and attend to his own election duties.

Mr. Carragher said the investigators had no right to take part in the election. Mr. Waters stated they were sworn to their performance of duties by the superintendent and any one seen violating his oath should have been impeached.

A list of names of the investigators was given Town Clerk John J. Daly to read to Mr. Carragher. The latter had obtained it from Frank L. Klumb, deputy superintendent of elections, after refusing to approve the $1,922 bill from the county board at the last meeting because the names were not given.

Commissioner Carragher did not attend the special meeting, though it was stated he had been notified. He asked at the night session how it was the name of David Sheehan appeared twice, for amounts of $15 and $25. Mr. Daly replied the man had worked eight hours as an investigator.

tor and from 8 P. M. until 3:30 A. M. on tabulating returns.

Mr. Williams raised the question of whether he as director of revenue and finance should sign the checks for election expenses, without first knowing if costs for materials amounting to more than $1,000 should not have been handled by advertising for bid. Counsel Brown said he would submit a written opinion to Mr. Williams.

Mr. Williams asked, regarding $19 tax cancellations, amounting to $2,166, if such were an unusual number. Mr. Brown said the books were being cleaned of removals, deaths and such, and more cancellations would be in order. Mr. Carragher thought the best thing to do would be "shut down the Town Hall" until things were straightened.

"I've never seen things the way they are now," Mr. Carragher said, and turning to Mr. Williams, added, "I'll tell you why when I see you downstairs."

An ordinance was passed on final reading raising the salaries of Mayor from $1,500 to $2,250, and commissioners from $1,200 to $1,800. Mr. Carragher did not vote, but said the raises were reasonable.

"UNEXPLAINED ITEMS"

So far as the Belleville News is concerned, and from information available at the Town Hall, there has been no criticism levelled at this paper except by the Belleville Times as regards election bills.

Commissioner William H. Williams did question whether it was legal to pay a $1,650 item as submitted in a $5,081.40 bill by this paper for printing all election work and was informed by Corporation Counsel John B. Brown the charge is legal inasmuch as it represented a total of twenty-two items, one for each election district.

Yesterday the Belleville Times under another of its garbled stories, captioned "election bills under scrutiny," says "amounts claimed by superintendent of elections and Belleville News draws most attention."

And then says "also there appear four as yet unexplained items described merely as 'election work'."

Here is how the Times printed the items:

|------------------------------------|---------|
| Belleville News—Election Work..... | $75.60 |
| Belleville News—Election Work..... | 48.60 |
| Belleville News—Election Work..... | 14.40 |
| Belleville News—Election Work..... | 15.84 |

The Belleville News brands this a gross mis-statement of fact. This newspaper never submitted bills thus labelled.

Just to prove how evasive the Times is and that it printed these items without TRUE facts we will tell the entire story of "unexplained items." We wonder how long the readers of that out of town paper will continue to believe the trash that it garbles to injure a local business. Here is what the amounts were for and how our bills for "unexplained items" read, as recorded in the Department of Revenue and Finance. And it is interesting to note that we also print the amounts the Times billed the town for the same items. Here they are in comparison:

| "UNEXPLAINED ITEMS" | |

| Election Notice Lineup of Districts | |
| Belleville News, $75.60 | Belleville Times, $92.16 |
| Election Notice Lineup of Candidates | |

SOLICITS MAYOR'S AID BY APPEALING TO HOME OWNERS

Suggests Possibility Of Insurance Plan Similar To That Used In England When Workingmen There Are In Dire Straits

Plans to aid unemployment in Belleville have been suggested to Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy by Mrs. Ellen W. Petrie of 242 Belleville avenue. The Mayor will cooperate.

Mrs. Petrie's letter follows: Inasmuch as these hard times are, or should be everybody's business, I have an idea. I do not know if it is practicable, so I am passing it on to you for consideration.

Supposing those of us who are not affected by this depression and are making $40 a week and over would, at this time, create work around the home. Almost everyone or every householder has a room to be decorated, grading or yards to be cleaned and those men who are out of work are willing and able, in most cases, to do that type of work, and they will do it at a reasonable rate.

If you think it worth while you could put a note in the Belleville papers, asking everybody, town employees, teachers, who are well paid, to help out at this time.

If the moneyed people will not help, appeal to the working classes. You will find that they will respond nobly as they always do in times of distress.

I know one man in particular who has been out of work for seven months, with three small children.

School Children Take Part In Fete

Rain Interfered Last Week With Affair At School Field

Belleville grammar schools presented "A Mother Goose May Day," Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at Clearman Field. The performance, which was given under the direction of Miss M. A. Rockefeller and Miss M. E. Leahy, physical training directors in the schools, featured many dances and other rhythms.

Leading parts were taken by Lorraine Houseman as Alice in Wonderland, Clara Zborowski as the Sandman and Betty Mayer representing Mother Goose. Several hundred children in costume took part. Planned for last Wednesday, the performance was postponed because of rain.

Graduates Urged To Dress Simply At Closing Exercises

Through Misunderstanding Some Thought Uniforms Was Desired

"We recommend that the Superintendent of Schools be requested to impress upon the graduating classes of the grammar schools the desirability of simplicity in graduation costumes and of class emblems, both from a standpoint of economy and appropriateness."

This is the gist of a resolution which the Teachers' Committee and Superintendent G. R. Gerard feel should be in vogue in local schools. Monday night the school board did not sanction the resolution by vote, but expressed the desire to have matters so by request of this nature to pupils and parents. There is no desire to have graduates in uniform.

Mrs. Judson K. Stickle suggested the simplicity of dress and spoke on the matter for considerable time.

Mrs. Stickle said her proposed restrictions were engendered by complaint of parents to her, rather than to the male board members, about the adornment of girl graduates.

The building and grounds committee was instructed to study and report next meeting on the report of Mr. Gerard, calling for better transportation facilities in the next school year. There will be 140 instead of less than 100 pupils to carry, he said, which obviously cannot be done with the one bus contracted for at present. He suggested the board could contract for two buses, purchase two, or contract for one and purchase one.

Miss Helen Just was named vice principal of No. 2 School. She has been a sixth-grade teacher at No. 1 School.

He has been turned down so many times. I can see him losing morale. He does not want charity. I am sure I need not tell you as you know how heart-breaking the whole business is.

And, my dear sir, if you have during your four years' administration an opportunity to do anything to avert a recurrence of hard times ask those in authority to devise some scheme such as insurance or something like they have in England in order to be prepared.

Best wishes for your success in office.

Local Women Meet To Form Organization For Franklin Fort

Miss Margaretta Fort Tells About Beginning Of Campaign

A group of Belleville women met at the home of Mrs. J. B. Brown, 353 Washington avenue, Belleville, on Tuesday afternoon to organize a local "Fort For Senator Club." The guest speaker for the afternoon was Miss Margaretta Fort, sister of the senatorial candidate, Franklin Fort, who told about the beginning of her brother's campaign, the manner in which the names were secured on petitions by friends and neighbors, and of the wonderful unsolicited cooperation given by clubs, churches and friends. Miss Fort read Mr. Fort's "Statement of Candidacy," which is a most remarkable article in which the candidate said "The issue is prohibition, not friendship. The liquor law is outlawed and must so remain."

"The dries have never had a chance to say what they really do think and this is their opportunity," said Miss Fort.

"We are doing a thing in New Jersey that is being watched all over the country," Miss Fort continued. "What has happened in the last two weeks is a miracle. All over, and of their own volition, committees are forming and offering their services. An amazing rallying to the Fort standard has taken place and volunteer workers are springing up everywhere."

Miss Fort asserted the newspapers would carry nothing to indicate this and she taxed the press with scant publicity favorable to the dry candidate.

Town Counsel John B. Brown also spoke in behalf of Mr. Fort and explained the work to be done before and on June 17. Mr. Brown has organized a "Fort Club" for the men of the town and both the men and women will meet at his home next Monday evening. The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

The women elected Mrs. W. C. Weyant, chairman of the organization with an advisory board composed of Mrs. C. W. Morgan, Mrs. May Goodwin, Mrs. J. A. Tempest, Mrs. J. K. Stickle, Mrs. A. S. Blank, and Mrs. J. J. Hewitt.

The women present at the meeting were Meses. Weyant, Morgan, Goodwin, Tempest, Stickle, Blank, Hewitt, E. M. Compton, C. Hanson, Harvey Grandy, Maude C. Miller, E. D. Wharton, H. B. Fisher, J. B. Brown, Charles G. Jones, Ira Cornell, J. T. Hodges, E. Osborn, O. T. Breunlich, Ella Cozzens, C. Rawcliffe, Misses Alice Compton, Lillian Jones and Eleanor Graves.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Phyllis Brown, Janet Brown and Virginia Breunlich.

CAMPAIGN THANKS

I wish to thank most sincerely my committee, also all citizens and friends who so loyally assisted me during my campaign for Commissioner for the Town of Belleville, and the Belleville News for its kindness and assistance in all ways.

Four years hence comes another of those strenuous campaigns, and health and circumstances permitting, I hope to be with you again.

THEN AND NOW

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF BELLEVILLE SCHOOLS

This is the second of a series of four articles on Belleville Public Schools covering a period of twenty-five years. The articles are written by one qualified to know.

Continuing our account of Belleville Public Schools during the past twenty-five years, we offer in this second section the story of their growth in enrollment and attendance.

In 1905, there were enrolled for the year, 1,393 pupils in the then four schools, of whom 698, or half the whole number were housed in old No. One building. Each year since there has been a considerable increase in the total roll, except during the war year, 1917-18 when there was a decrease of 176 pupils. This yearly increase has not been uniform varying from a smallest gain of 65 one year to 200 in others of the earlier years, and from a minimum of 150 to a maximum of 475 in recent years. The greatest gain was in 1919, when the rebound from war times gave us an increase of 527. The current year is next greatest, for we have a gain over last year of 472.

Our present total roll is 6,216, over four and a half times what it was twenty-five years ago. Our town has probably increased about three and a half times its size in the same period, and if our schools had gained equally in numbers, we should have a present roll of 4,900 instead of the actual total of 6,216. That is, the schools have not only kept pace with the growing population, but have added 1,300 pupils above the proportionate gain. This we attribute to two factors: the great strength of the school system and the generally increased interest in education and its benefits.

This growth in numbers has not been in equal ratio in the several departments, as exhibited in the High School and upper grammar grade increases. In 1905, the one seventh grade roll was 44 and that of the eighth grade was 37, while at the present time the seventh year classes enroll 514 pupils and the thirteen eighths have 412 pupils therein. While the schools as a whole have multiplied themselves four and a half times, these two upper grades have increased their numbers over eleven times.

The change in the High School rolls is even more marked, for while in 1905 there were 57 in its classes, this year Belleville High School's total roll is 804 pupils, a multiplication fourteen times. The 138 pupils in the six upper years at the beginning of the period have increased to 1,730, which is 1,253 per cent of the original. Stated in another way, in 1905, less than 10 per cent of all the pupils of Belleville Public Schools were above the sixth grade, while now well on toward one-third of the whole is above the sixth grade.

Now, we turn to the matter of attendance. Before the present regime began, the local percentage of attendance averaged about 90 per cent of the roll, and the County average during the past quarter century has not been much above that. The attendance of Belleville Public Schools for the past twenty years has averaged over 96 per cent, always being over 95 per cent, except during the year No. Four was burned, and six times reaching 97 per cent. We believe his record is not excelled or equalled by any other large school system.

The six per cent increase over former figures means 200 pupils more a day on an average past roll of 3,500, which gives us upwards of $4,000 more State money yearly and probably about $100,000 in the twenty-five years elapsed, not to say anything as to the result in increased promotion and consequent reduction in costs in the maintenance of retarded pupils. Every month during these years, many classes have a better than 99 per cent attendance, and frequently several groups attain a perfect 100 per cent. There are now three classes in the High School and a number in the upper grammar grades that are above 99 per cent for the year. Not long ago an eighth grade at Silver Lake had but one day of absence for the whole ten months and the next year another class in that school had a perfect record of no one absent.

During recent years, the number of pupils not absent during the year has approximated one-fourth of the total roll, once in a year with mild winter free from disease reaching nearly 40 per cent of all. At the present time there are 1,641 pupils who have been present every session since last September, many of whom have not been absent from two to ten years.

The punctuality record of Belleville Public Schools has kept pace with other factors in every way. In 1905, there were 825 tardy cases among 1,393 pupils, or about one in each 600 chances. This year, assuming the remaining two months on the eight months' rate, we shall have 445 pupils tardy or one late for each 5,600 chances, a cut to one ninth of the former tardy record. Actually, we have not much more than half the tardy pupils of twenty years ago with four and a half times as many pupils.

Last year, six schools achieved a

TEA PARTY - NOT BOSTON, EITHER

JUNE TEA PARTY GIVEN TO THE REPUBLICAN WOMEN FOLLOWERS OF THE UNITED STATES SENATORIAL CANDIDATES, FRANKLIN W. FORT, JOSEPH S. FRELINGHUYSEN, AND DWIGHT W. MORROW BY MR. AND MRS. W. HOWARD DEMAREST AT THE ESSEX FELS COUNTY CLUB. MR. DEMAREST IS A CANDIDATE FOR THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION OF REGISTER, PRIMARIES JUNE 17.

Left to right: Mrs. Charles D. Stockton of Ridgewood, Speaker for Morrow; Mrs. R. Manners Laird, Mrs. Edward D. Duffield, Personal Representative of Mrs. Morrow; Mrs. William H. Knapp, Mrs. Gilbert C. Higby, Mrs. Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, W. Howard Demarest, Mrs. Franklin W. Fort, Miss Alice Layey, Mrs. Margaret S. Sayre, Mrs. William H. Heinicke, Assemblywoman Agnes Jones, Mrs. Demarest, and Freeholder Elizabeth A. Harris.

On Tuesday afternoon 600 Republican women were the guests at a tea given to the leadership of the women groups representing the candidacies of Congressman Franklin W. Fort, ex-Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, and Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, Republican candidates for United States Senate, at the Essex Fells Country Club at Essex Fells, by Mr. and Mrs. W. Howard Demarest. Mr. Demarest is a candidate for County Register at the Primary on June 17.

An atmosphere of friendly rivalry prevailed during the party. It seemed but one cloud prevailed, the absence of Mrs. Morrow due to stringent duties to be near Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. She was officially represented by Mrs. Charles D. Stockton of Ridgewood, and Mrs. Edward D. Duffield of South Orange. Mrs. Joseph S. Frelinghuysen and Miss Alice Layey represented officially and personally the interest of their candidate, and Mrs. Franklin W. Fort and Miss Margaret Fort took care of the Congressman's affairs at the party.

The atmosphere in the Country Club was one of flowers surrounded by a gay colation served by floaters under the direction of the hosts.

Mrs. Stockton speaking for Ambassador Morrow called him a national and international figure by virtue of his experience in the United States and abroad, was eminently qualified to deal with committees in the Senate as finance, foreign affairs and Pan American Relations. Mrs. Stockton, as a dry, said the relation of the Ambassador to Prohibition and its undoing was remote. She believed that every dry woman in the State should back him because he was outstanding and thorough on every question. The dries in the Senate she said, Morrow could not persuade. Mrs. Stockton said: "Mr. Coolidge chose Morrow when he needed a great job done based on his accomplishments at Mexico, where she resided prior to the occupation by the Morrows in Mexico City. This or she said was the outstanding reason why he was sent to London, the treaty of which is the work of his head and heart."

perfect punctuality record for one or more months and three of these, Nos. Three, Two and Nine accomplished the feat three times each. This year, No. Two has again been without a single tardy child for three months; and No. Nine has one perfect month and four others with but a single tardy case. These records of attendance and punctuality do three things. They obtain for Belleville a larger share of money in the distribution of State funds than we would otherwise have apportioned to us and thus relieve the local tax to be raised for school support. They greatly aid in the measure of successful class room work and consequent promotion, for each day present means a lesson gained. Most of all however, they teach our youth promptness and regularity of habits, those things of so much value in the business and professional world. Many a Belleville boy and girl have been a success and gained recognition in their work because of the habits of punctuality and faithfulness learned at school.

Statistics such as largely make up this article are apt to be dry, uninteresting things, but when they measure the interest and loyalty of our boys and girls to their schools, they show that something else than what is just in books has been taught them during the past twenty-five years.

Miss Alice Layey, speaking for Mr. Frelinghuysen related the following: She told of her acquaintance with Mr. Frelinghuysen in the Senate, of his active work in promoting education in the state by raising funds for the N. J. College of Women, how he helped get the first auto laws through the legislature. Miss Layey also enumerated Mr. Frelinghuysen's accomplishments as United States Senator.

Mrs. Fort, in speaking for Mr. Fort related to the following: "My husband is an idealist. He wants what is right and so do the people. Therefore we favor the continuance of the Eighteenth Amendment. No State in the Union is drier than New Jersey and I know he will be nominated."

Mr. Demarest, at the conclusion of Margaret S. Sayre of the New Jersey County Republican Committee, Mrs. own candidacy as follows: "I am interested in having politics run in a clean way. If the men don't do it the women must. If we are going to have the primary law and have it honored in the breach more than in the observance let's return to the convention system, but I prefer the direct primary in which voters form a great convention representing themselves as stockholders in a party which is a part of the government and I base my candidacy upon that as well as upon the qualifications which have been elsewhere frequent."

Among the guests officially presented were Assemblywoman Agnes Jones, Freeholder Elizabeth A. Harris, and Freeholder Candidate Mrs. Margaret M. Laird, Mrs. Gilbert C. Higby, vice chairman of the Essex County Republican Committee, Mrs. William H. Knapp of the Essex County Women's Republican Club.

Cookies Have A Place Even in Modern Menus

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company.

COOKIES fit admirably into almost any menu—and they are especially welcome when served for afternoon tea, as dessert; or along with fruit salads, custards, puddings, or ice cream. Also, since cookies are not overly rich, mothers safely can include them in the school lunch box, or give them to the children when they come home hungry from classes several hours before dinner time.

In addition to their advantage of requiring no frosting, cookies are much easier to mix and bake than even the plainest cake. And this ease of preparation is a very important consideration for busy women.

Following are several excellent recipes for cookies that will prove very helpful in keeping your jar of "goodies" filled this summer, when you naturally will want to spend as little time as possible in a hot kitchen:

Cocoa Jelly Jumbles:—½ cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 2 beaten egg yolks, few grains salt, ¼ teaspoon almond, ¼ cup more of sugar, 1½ cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon jelly, 2 beaten egg whites. Mix ingredients together smoothly in order listed. Make into balls with hands. With thumb, make depression in each ball and fill with jelly. Sprinkle with cocoa and bake 10 minutes.

Peanut Butter Cookies:—¼ cup butter, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup Peanut Butter, 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 eggs, 1/3 cup milk. Cream butter and peanut butter, add sugar and egg yolks. Sift flour and baking powder, and add alternately with milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet, and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Rice Flake Cookies:—¾ cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 4 tablespoons milk, 1½ cups Rice Flakes, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup walnuts, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ cups nut meats, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon creaming sugar, 1 egg. U. S. MARINES SALUTE THE NATIONAL FLAG IN WEST INDIES

U. S. Marines salute the National Flag at a tropical outpost in the West Indies. Insert: Soldiers of the Sea at San Diego, California, during a formal presentation of the Stars and Stripes and their regimental colors. The National Flag is carried to the right in this and all similar parades or formations. Highest honors are always accorded "Old Glory" by all of our naval or military forces either at home or abroad.

THE BIRTHDAY of Old Glory June 14, should bring a responsive thrill to every patriotic American.

Especially should the citizens of New Jersey take a pardonable pride in the celebration of the day when it is remembered that New Jersey was one of the original Thirteen States.

Famous New Jersey Flag
New Jersey flag traditions reach back to the days of the Revolution. The colors in the present State flag may be traced to 1779, when the Continental Congress by resolution authorized and directed the Commander-in-Chief to prescribe uniforms both as to colors and facings for the regiments of the New Jersey Continental Line.

General Washington in general orders directed that the coat of such regiments should be dark blue, faced with buff. Later it was directed that the flag of the State troops should have a ground to be the color of the facings. Thus the New Jersey flag became buff under orders of the Father of the Country. It was displayed when the British army capitulated at Yorktown.

Delvers into the flag lore of early colonial days will find a bewildering array of flag designs. The flags of those days show anchors, beavers, rattlesnakes, pine trees and scores of other patterns, each following the fancy of one of the several colonies.

Then came the Grand Union flag, or first Naval Ensign, of thirteen stripes and bearing the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, where the stars in the blue field now appear. This was the immediate predecessor of the Stars and Stripes which we so often call Old Glory.

Romance has trailed Old Glory from the beginning. It harks back to the days of Betsy Ross, whose nimble fingers wrought with loving care the first sample of the national flag, which was almost identical with the flag as we know it today.

Story of Betsy Ross.
Mrs. Ross was a widow. Late in the spring of 1776 her little shop on Arch street, Philadelphia, was visited by some distinguished persons. A committee, headed by George Washington, called on Mrs. Ross and submitted a rough design of a new type of flag which they asked her to make. Stars in the blue field had been substituted for the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew.

Descendants of Betsy Ross have vouched for the authenticity of the historic visit, and it is known that not long afterward Congress made an order on the treasury to pay Mrs. Ross a sum amounting to upward of seventy dollars in the British currency then used "for flags for the fleet in the Delaware river."

June 14, 1777, more than a year after Washington's visit to the little flag shop, is now recognized as the flag's official birthday. On that date Congress resolved "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Thereafter numerous incidents relative to the new flag began to make their appearance in history. Less than three weeks after Congress had authorized the flag, John Paul Jones was at Portsmouth, N. H., preparing to sail abroad on the "Ranger."

"At Portsmouth," writes one naval authority, "Paul Jones attracted about him a bevy of girls who formed a so-called 'flag bee,' who with much patriotic enthusiasm and many heart thrills wrought out of their own and their mothers' gowns a beautiful Star Spangled Banner, which was thrown to the breeze in Portsmouth Harbor on July 4, 1777."

Avery's history records that on August 3, Colonel Gansevoort with a command of 800 men were defending Fort Stanwix, near the present site of Rome, N. Y., when word was received of the new flag design. The garrison was searched for material to manufacture the new flag, presumably the Stars and Stripes, which was displayed the same afternoon from a flagstaff on a bastion nearest the enemy. There is, however, no authentic record of either the Grand Union flag or the Stars and Stripes, as national colors, ever having been carried into battle.

A Shot For Each Stripe
Captain Thomas Thompson of the American ship "Raleigh," fired on a British ship he was pursuing on September 4. "We up-sails; out guns, hoisted the Continental colors and bid them to strike to the Thirteen United States," wrote the captain. "Sudden surprise threw them into confusion and their sails flew all aback, upon which we complimented them with a gun for each State, a whole broadside into their hull." This was the new flag's first encounter at sea.

The Stars and Stripes first floated over a fortress of the Old World, when Lieutenant O'Banion of the Marines and Midshipman Mann of the Navy raised the flag over the fortress at Derne, Tripoli, where it was flung to the breeze on April 27, 1805.

"By the dawn's early light" on September 14, 1814, Francis Scott Key saw the Star-Spangled Banner still waving over Fort McHenry, and composed the song which is now the national anthem.

Both the flags raised at Tripoli and at Fort McHenry had thirteen stars and fifteen stripes; a flag design that remained in vogue from 1795 until 1818. Then Congress authorized the return of the flag to its original form of thirteen stripes, one star being added for each State entering the Union until today there are 48 stars in the blue field.

After A Long, Strenuous Day Try An "Emergency" Cleansing

APPLY make-up only to a scrupulously clean skin. This will prevent your pores becoming clogged, and will help you to keep your skin fine-textured. But if you are in town all day shopping or working, and then have an engagement for dinner, you probably will say to yourself, "That cleansing rule is all very well sometimes. Yet what can I do when I haven't the time or opportunity to give my skin a thorough cleansing?"

Occasionally it is impossible to cleanse your face thoroughly, and you must be content with the next best thing—an "emergency" cleansing. In the morning carry with you a small bottle of skin freshener, and a few pads of cotton. Carefully wrap cleansing tissues around the bottle to keep it from breaking.

For your emergency cleansing, saturate a small piece of cotton with skin freshener and whisk it up over your neck and face. This will remove the dust and excess oil that have collected during the day, and will leave your face feeling cool and refreshed. Then smooth a little dry or cream rouge on your cheeks, and apply a bit of lipstick to your lips. And last, lightly dust your neck and face with powder, but do not rub it in. Rubbing only makes face powder cake, and gives your skin that not-quite-clean appearance we all want to avoid.

Too much trouble? Of course not, for I believe even a plain woman who always looks immaculate makes a better impression than one who is beautiful, but untidy. There is a pleasant element of surprise about someone who preserves an air of freshness and perfection after a long, tiring day that would leave most women wilted-looking.

Of course this emergency cleansing never should take the place of your daily basic cleansing. Your face and neck should be thoroughly cleansed at least once daily in this way. Beginning at the base of your neck, spread a generous coating of cleansing cream up over every portion of your neck and face with your cushioned finger tips.

Let the cream remain on your skin for a minute or two, and then again working up from the base of your neck, wipe away the cream with soft, absorbent cleansing tissues. Never use towels to remove cream, for even the finest towel is not as soft as cleansing tissues, and the week's laundry problem certainly is no small item if towels are used in place of cleansing tissues.

After wiping away the cleansing cream, saturate pads of cotton with skin freshener, and wipe those damp pads over your face and neck to remove every remaining trace of cream. This will leave your skin really clean.

Belleville A. A. Pulls Surprise On Elks

Holds Strong Outfit To A 3-3 Tie At Clearman Field

The Belleville A. A. gave the mighty Elks the scare of their lives, Tuesday night, in a Legion League tilt at Clearman Field by holding them to a 3-3 tie and threatening more than once to hand the league-leaders their initial defeat of the season.

The game was far and away the best of the current campaign and plenty of drama and tense action was packed in its nine innings of play. The game was called at the end of the ninth because of darkness.

"Teddy" Coeyman, former ace of the well-known Forest Hills, toed the slab for the Noonan men and had his varied assortment of curves working to perfection. The hard-hitting Elks combed his offerings for eleven hits, but a big majority of these were wasted as Coeyman made effective use of his southpaw cunning when his meat runs. A splendid example of this was the very first inning when the Elks got four safe wallops for but a lone run.

His opponent on the mound was "Lefty" Kintzing, another southpaw. "Lefty" also twirled a nice game, but had the misfortune of several errors on the part of his mates, getting him in a couple of tight places, especially in the third when the A. A. tallied two of their three run total.

Cardinals Annex Two Week End Tilts

The Belleville Cardinals, one of the leading young nines of the vicinity, won both ends of a double header, Sunday morning and afternoon, at Belleville Park. In the morning affair they set back the St. Casmire Club, 8-5, and in the afternoon tilt the Lincolns were the victims by a 6-2 count.

The morning contest was pretty much of a slugfest with the Cards outslugging their opponents in the matter of hits, 12-11. Joe Comiskey, however, on the mound for the winners, kept his opponents' eleven hits well scattered and though they got at least one safety every inning, the Saints could not hit with men on the bases.

The Cards will meet the Hillides at Belleville Park on Sunday morning. In the afternoon they will travel to North Arlington with the North Arlington A. A. furnishing the opposition.

Harry H. Wells, 70, Retires As Essex Division Agent For Public Service—William M. Halsey, To Take His Place

Harry H. Wells, Essex Division Agent, Public Service Electric and Gas Company, and an employee of Public Service and predecessor companies since 1895, retired Wednesday having reached the age of seventy years. William M. Halsey, assistant division agent, has been appointed division agent to succeed Mr. Wells.

Mr. Wells has enjoyed a long and successful career in utility work, having been associated with the American Bell Telephone Company before he became connected with the electric and gas business in New Jersey.

Born in Columbus, Ohio, June 4, 1860, Mr. Wells' first work was with the Erie Railroad at Dayton as telegraph lineman. In 1881, he moved to New York and joined the forces of the telephone company, also as lineman. In those days the telephone business was in its infancy and many varied were the experiences Mr. Wells had in constructing new lines. As a foreman he participated in the construction of the first telephone line between New York and Boston. One of the interesting experiences connected with the line was when he, with a surveyor's gang walked from Nassau and Church street, New York, all the way to Boston measuring the mileage in the various counties and townships en route. This walking trip took about three and a half months. He also helped build the first line between Brooklyn and Brighton Beach, Coney Island.

About 1891, Mr. Wells was transferred to New Jersey with the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, and he took up his headquarters in Orange as foreman of the construction gang. In the next four years he played a prominent part in the building of the following telephone lines: Newark-Summit; Newark-Orange, both over Park avenue and Central avenue, and Newark-Jersey City. Because of the high feeling held by property owners against the stringing of telephone poles, the construction gangs met many obstacles. Poles were chopped down as fast as they could build them and in a few instances Mr.

Wells was arrested. On one of these occasions he spent several hours in a Harrison jail.

In 1895 Mr. Wells took a position in construction work with the Suburban Electric Light and Power Company in Orange. He served later with the Essex County Electric Company, the People's Light and Power Company and United Electric Company of New Jersey. This latter company was taken over by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey in 1903, when a consolidated gas and electric commercial office was opened in Orange. Mr. Wells was made agent of that district. On January 1, 1914, he was promoted to Essex division agent.

Mr. Wells has always been interested in hunting and fishing and will spend the next month or so fishing in Canada.

WILLIAM HALSEY

Mr. Halsey was born in Detroit, Mich., and came to Newark at an early age. His first work was with Heath & Drake, then Newark's leading department store. After five years, on December 26, 1896, he began service with the Newark Gas Company, the offices of which were located at Broad street and Central avenue, Newark. Later the company was merged into the Newark Consolidated Gas Company, which was leased to the Essex and Hudson Gas Company. This latter was leased to Public Service Corporation of New Jersey in 1903. Mr. Halsey's first assignment was meter reading and collecting of gas consumers' accounts in part of Newark and the Town of Irvington. At that time there were but 100 gas customers in Irvington. A little later the Town of Belleville was opened to gas service with a small number of customers.

Mr. Halsey was promoted successively to credit clerk, chief clerk and then to commercial agent at Newark. Last year he became assistant division agent under Mr. Wells.

Mr. Halsey's long experience and study of the territory over which he will have supervisory fit him to represent the company in its various fields of activity.

The Essex Division comprises Newark, Orange, Montclair, Summit, Morristown and their adjacent territory including Irvington, Belleville and municipalities in West Hudson.

VI Road Hogging

THE dangerous, unexplainably selfish and unsportsmanlike practice of road hogging undoubtedly is responsible for more traffic accidents on American highways than any other single factor entering into the scheme of motoring conditions.

That the road hog should be smitten with a vengeance similar to that exercised in stamping out any other common or garden variety of pest, is a foregone conclusion. Any motorist will agree with that.

Highway facilities in the United States are inadequate despite the rapid progress demanded by the requirements of the twenty-six million motorists who are trying to use them in the interest of furthering their individual needs. They would not be nearly so inadequate if the road hog could be abolished and if highways could be used as a means of accommodating an expeditious movement of traffic instead of the hodge-podge that exists today.

A number of progressive cities have declared war on the road hog. Chicago is a notable example. In that city, the person who attempts to drive slowly on a high speed boulevard is treated with the same degree of intolerance as the driver who attempts to break speed records where slow and careful driving is necessary.

Michigan has discarded the old fashioned method of regulating speed and has established in its place a law which permits the individual motorist to govern his speed in accordance with the width of the road, traffic conditions and sane driving policy. This law was enacted on the theory that thirty or forty miles an hour may be perfectly safe under certain conditions, while, under other conditions, fifteen or twenty miles an hour may be dangerous.

The motorist who causes an accident in Michigan through carelessness or recklessness, loses his license and is otherwise dealt with severely.

Undoubtedly, other states will follow these examples in time. When they do, a welcome relief from the road hog should be closer to accomplishment. In the meantime, the best way to work on that type of driver is to show him how unpopular he is. The road hog has been defined as "that type of motorist who takes his half of the road from the middle." He is noted for his persistency in poking along on a high speed boulevard, forcing those who would pass him to endanger their own lives and the cars and lives of those who may be approaching from the opposite direction.

Deliberate road hogging is pure selfishness and those who engage in it should be made to pay the penalty. Automobile manufacturers are doing their best to make the automobile as safe as possible.

Four-wheel brakes, all-steel full vision bodies and a hundred and one other modern ideas have been adopted in an effort to reduce traffic accidents. But accidents we will always have so long as motorists engage in unsafe driving practices, and particularly that one known as road hogging.

Personal experience has taught me to drive with my head as well as my feet and hands. And this is particularly true when I am in unfamiliar territory. I have found it both wise and safe to get my car in one lane of traffic and keep it there. It saves me the bother and expense of buying new fenders and of paying doctor and hospital bills. Besides, it preserves my nerves for speed-way driving.

Crisp Salads to Serve When Days Grow Warm

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company.

A CRISP vegetable salad or a dainty concoction of fruit will make even the simplest meal attractive. And on these glorious spring days, when we wish to get away entirely from thought of winter—even in the foods we serve—salads are more than ever welcome.

Wise housewives take full advantage of the numerous fresh vegetables available during the spring and summer months. Instead of continually serving hot dishes for dinner, they frequently substitute a thoroughly chilled vegetable salad, prepared with a snappy, well-seasoned French Dressing, or with Mayonnaise. Many a woman, too, finds that a dainty fruit salad often will take the place of a dessert, and thus save her long hours in a hot kitchen making puddings, pies or cakes.

Following are recipes for a number of vegetable salads which are suitable for serving either as the main dish for luncheon or supper, or in place of cooked vegetables for dinner.

Jellied Vegetable Salad—1½ tablespoons gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 1/8 cup boiling water, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/3 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ cup sliced celery, 1 cup shredded cabbage, 1 cup cooked peas, and a few drops of onion juice. Soak gelatin in the cold water five minutes and dissolve in the boiling water. Add vinegar, lemon juice, sugar, salt, onion juice and vegetables and mix thoroughly. Turn into a ring mold which has been dipped in cold water, and chill. Remove from mold to salad plate. Fill center with crisp lettuce, and serve with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing.

Lettuce Roll Salad—Mash a package of soft cream cheese. Add ¼ cup cold cooked ham finely ground, and 2 tablespoons India Relish. Spread a thin layer of this mixture on crisp lettuce leaves. Roll as you do jelly roll and put in a cool place to chill. Cut into ½ inch slices and place several slices on a crisp lettuce leaf. Serve with French Dressing, or with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing.

Tomato Sandwich Salad—Dip small red tomatoes into scalding water for a moment so the skin will come off easily—then chill and cut in half crosswise through the center. On one half place a generous layer of Sandwich Relish or Cream Cheese mixed with Stuffed Spanish Olives. Cover with the other half of the tomato. In the top of the tomato make a little incision with a sharp knife and insert a sprig of crisp parsley.

Chicken and Vegetable Salad—2 cups cold diced chicken, ¼ cup cooked carrots, diced, ¼ cup cooked peas, ¼ cup cooked string beans, cut in pieces, ¼ cup cooked corn, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon vinegar, and add salt, paprika and parsley. Mix well with French Dressing and let stand in ice box until thoroughly chilled. Arrange in nests of lettuce leaves and top with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing. Garnish with beads cut in fancy shapes and asparagus tips.

Macedoine Salad—1 small cauliflower, 1 cup cooked peas, 1 cup cooked carrots, cut in cubes, 1 chopped green pepper. Separate cauliflower in small pieces. Marinate each vegetable separately in French Dressing and let stand in ice box until thoroughly chilled. Arrange vegetables on crisp lettuce leaves in separate nests, and sprinkle with chopped green pepper. Serve with French Dressing.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1929-30 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 31

A rather unusual side light on the World War that should be interesting to all Bridge players appears in Lord Beaverbrook's recent book: "Politicians and the War."

Lord Beaverbrook tells how, on the Saturday before the declaration of war, he, with Lord Birkenhead, went to Mr. Churchill's house at the Admiralty. There he found Mr. Churchill with a couple of friends. An official message arrived regarding official relations between Germany and Russia, which most of those present regarded as a favorable omen for peace. But Churchill was of opinion that it was bad, not good, news; that it was only a postponement of the outbreak; and that a declaration of war by Germany was certain.

Lord Beaverbrook continues: "Since some of us would have it that the crisis was ended a bridge was demanded. Churchill took a hand, but I was cut out and looked on. Suddenly an immense despatch box was brought into the room. Churchill produced his skeleton key, opened the box and took out of it a single sheet of paper, which seemed singularly disproportionate to the size of the box, just as my friend seemed too big for the brief message typed on it. On that sheet were written the words 'Germany has declared war on Russia'."

"He informed his guests; he asked me to take over his partly-played Bridge hand, leaving me, I must add, in an extremely unfavorable tactical position. He rang for a servant, and asking for a lounge coat, stripped his dress coat from his back, saying no further word. We tried hard to concentrate on the Bridge hand, but it was impossible to make progress. Our thoughts were wandering. A cool observer would, I imagine, have formed a poor impression of our play."

"Churchill left the room quickly, as in duty bound, and forthwith the Navy was mobilized in defiance of the decision taken by the Cabinet early on that day. What profit the nation derived at the crucial moment from the capacity of the First Lord of the Admiralty for grasping and dealing with the war situation? Though it was nearly morning before we left for our homes Mr. Churchill did not come back."

The end play is always interesting and instructive and the following problems are no exception. In trying to solve these problems, bear in mind that no solution is correct unless it is possible against any defense. In other words, if you arrive at a solution only possible because of the opponents' bad play, such solution is not a correct one.

Schwarzkopf Hopes To Have New Alarm System Going Soon

Approval by Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the State police, of plans for the State-wide police alarm system authorized by the last Legislature, removes the last obstacle to its installation by the Telephone Company.

Colonel Schwarzkopf expects the equipment to be working in every State police station by October 1, with many municipalities and several county police systems tying in shortly thereafter.

"The alarm broadcast system is designed to be a nucleus around which a much greater New Jersey system participated in by as many police organizations as possible as to be built," he said.

Trenton headquarters of the State police is to be the control center of the alarm broadcast system, Colonel Schwarzkopf said, and will be connected by two-way service with each zone headquarters at Newark, Morristown, Freehold and Hammonton. Trenton will also act as a zone headquarters.

The circuits connecting the zone headquarters with Trenton are so arranged that there can be simultaneous sending in both directions, over any of them, eliminating the possibility of any delay in issuing alarms.

Any zone headquarters can transmit an alarm to all stations in the zone and, of course, to Trenton. Trenton can transmit an alarm to all stations in any zone or all stations in the system, and, when arrangements practically completed are made, to other States. Police stations in each zone are to be equipped with receiving machines only, over which they will receive all alarms in which they are concerned.

Alarms will originate at the scene of a crime with a telephone call to zone headquarters, being put on the wires there on teletype machines much like ordinary typewriters, at the rate of sixty words a minute, appearing at the time they are written on receiving equipment in all stations affected and at Trenton.

Every message sent out from a zone headquarters is duplicated on receiving equipment at Trenton, and when Trenton sends out an alarm its own receiving equipment receives it again, confirming receipt of the broadcast in the field.

So flexible is the system that the operator at Trenton can send a message to a zone headquarters only, or by use of a timing key can connect the receiving machine at zone headquarters through to every station in the zone, eliminating all delay in sending out the alarm. Similarly, any zone operator can localize an alarm to a group of police stations or send it to all in the zone.

The alarm messages appear in typewritten form on page size paper, exactly as they are written, and are visible to the sender while he writes, as on an ordinary typewriter. Seven of these printers, sending and receiving, are planned for Trenton, including a "spare" for use in emergency. One of these is to be connected with the Philadelphia zone headquarters of the Pennsylvania system for interchange of alarms between the States. A similar arrangement is designed for New York, with the equipment for this circuit at Newark.

Zone headquarters each will have receiving apparatus from Trenton, sending and receiving equipment for use in the zone and a duplicate machine.

Grand View Park Attracts Many Folks

Grand View Amusement Park with the favorable change in the weather is now attracting large crowds. The shows, rides and concessions all report increased business over last season. One of the newer features, "Trader Horn," hold the record for the new attractions and is one of the best park novelties brought out in many a year.

A great many mothers and children are taking advantage of the management's special offer of free admission on week days until six o'clock. It enables parents to have a wonderful outing with many free features such as the kiddies' playground, the sport field, the convenience of the picnic grove and special musical and educational broadcasts.

The outing and picnics booked for this season, are greatly in excess, more so, than that of last year.

A GREAT MEDICAL VICTORY

"If all will co-operate we can rid Belleville of diphtheria. There will be no more deaths from the disease, and every child will be immunized against it for life."

This is the statement made by Health Officer Berry and which he backed up by figures showing what a wonderful victory had been achieved over this dread disease.

During 1928 and 1929 most of the children in Belleville had been treated with toxin-antitoxin. Then the cases reported for 1930 from diphtheria dropped. Even more remarkable was the fact that not one of the children who had been treated with the toxin and tested died.

Seldom in the history of medical science has such a complete victory been achieved in so short a time. It means that no child in any part of the country, who can be put in touch with a physician to become immunized, need die from diphtheria.

Belleville has immunized 3,500 school children. Those who have not been treated should see their family physicians.

Right at this time the measles epidemic is winding up. Guard against diphtheria which invariably follows the fall and winter after measles due to weakened membranes. See your doctor!

WHAT PRICE BOOKS

The proposed big cut in book prices is at least going to be a most interesting experiment. Four or five large publishing houses announce they will cut their prices radically. Many others, equally large, declare they will stand pat on the old prices. For a time at least, therefore, it is not to be a general price-cutting war.

The cut price publishers will bring out new books at $1, as compared with $2 and $2.50 for the same type of books at present. The new price is to apply only to popular fiction; biographies, histories, and so forth; will remain unchanged.

In making this move the cut price publishers take the ground that mass production will reduce their costs and that the greater volume of sales will bring a reasonable profit. The publishers who are standing pat declare this cannot be done. They claim that the margin of profit now is too small. This claim, however, hardly seems sound, because the same books that are first brought out at $2 to $2.50 are, after a year or so, now sold for $1 or less.

A larger volume of sales will, of course, be necessary on the new price to yield the same return to the author, publisher and bookseller. Roughly, it may be said that twice as many books will have to be sold at $1 to give the same profit as the $2 book now yields.

There is, without doubt, an honest difference of opinion between the publishers who are going to cut prices and those who are not. In most other lines lowering prices brings greater sales. Whether this will prove true with books cannot definitely be determined until the experiment is tried.

Jokes.

MacTight—Do ye think I will pull through, Doc?

Dr. MacFee—Weel, Sandy, if I were you I would nae get more'n half a bottle of medicine this time.

Daddy—Well, I wish the dumbbell would go hunting for wells or volcano craters.

Gazoff—Yes, about half of them began feeling under the seats for their hats.

She had done everything wrong. She had disregarded the signal lights then stalled in the middle of the street, and before starting had taken out her powder puff and started to apply it to her face. An irate traffic cop rushed up:

"Say, lady, do you know anything at all about traffic rules?"

"Why, yes, what is it that you want to know?"

Chugwater, the ice man, came out of a house after making a delivery and found little Tommy Nassalbaum sitting on one of his blocks of ice.

"Here," roared Chugwater, with a frigid air, "what do you mean by sitting on my ice? Get right off'm it."

Tommy raised a tear-stained face and asked:

"Was you ever a little boy?"

"O'course I was," fumed the ice man. "But you git—"

"And did you ever play truant?"

"Course I did," snarled the man. "Now you—"

"An' when you got home did your father take a stick and—"

"Sit where you are, my little man," gulped Chugwater, "I understand."

What a record of achievement is represented in progress from a Sergeant in the Utah Field Artillery in 1898, to Brigadier General in the Regular Army, U. S. A., in 1918? That briefly, is the span of the military career of Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, Director of the U. S. Veterans Bureau.

Entering the Regular Army as Second Lieutenant, Coast Artillery, in 1901, he was a Captain at the outbreak of the World War, and in 1917 as a Colonel and Chief of the Embarkation Service, he was largely responsible for the development of an organization which carried 2,082,000 soldiers safely to Europe in eighteen months, and after the War returned them all in eight months. On April 18, 1918, Colonel Hines was appointed Brigadier General in the National Army.

General Hines was awarded the distinguished Service Medals by the War and Navy Department, for especially meritorious and conspicuous service as Chief of Embarkation, also the British "Companion of the Bath," French Legion of Honor, Belgian Order of Leopold (Grand Officer), Czechoslovakia War Cross and the Japanese Second Class Order of the "Sacred Treasure."

In 1920 General Hines resigned from the Army to join certain shipping interests in New York, to take part in the building of the American Merchant Marine. From these interests he was called by President Harding March 1, 1923 to take the Directorship of the U. S. Veterans Bureau, being fifth to serve in that capacity. The Bureau's chief functions then were the award and payment of compensation, writing and payment of insurance, vocational rehabilitation and hospitalization of veterans of the World War. Since General Hines' induction as Director, the administration of the Adjusted Compensation Act (bonus) and the Emergency Officers' Retirement Act have been added to the Bureau's duties while Vocational Training was terminated by law July 2, 1926.

In 1923 the organization of the Bureau consisted of the Central Office in Washington and fourteen district offices with their sub-offices. Initiating and advocating the policy of "taking the Veterans Bureau to the veterans," General Hines was instrumental in securing legislation authorizing the establishment of fifty-four regional offices with full power to administer all phases of immediate veteran relief. He also recommended the extension to veterans of all wars of hospitalization previously provided only for veterans of the World War, and the revision of the compensation schedules resulted in marked increases for thousands of veterans.

However, no feature of General Hines' direction of Veterans' relief is of more importance to the veterans or more significant of the quality of his service than the confidence which has been established throughout the country year by year through the course of his administration, culminating in his reappointment as director by President Hoover, who returned his resignation, tendered March 4, with the request that he "continue his distinguished service."

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

By BOYCE BROGDON

SEVERAL YEARS AGO down in the state where Richmond took Grant I beg your pardon—Grant took Richmond I believe, there lived one of the sweetest little blondes I ever met. She was beautiful—beautiful but dumb. I say dumb, because she has admitted it to me for marrying her present husband.

She fell in love and married a man that truly was in favor of Prohibition—at least I think so—for he tried to convince the people that the best way to have a dry country was to drink it dry. . . . he certainly has done his best to accomplish this feat. . . . He seems to think that we need more enforcement officers like himself, for he just can't seem to make much headway, as they manufacture it too fast for him to enforce it alone.

Well, after he found out that Virginia was too large a state to drink dry, he moved this beautiful little blonde to New Jersey—a smaller state in size—but probably vastly more soused with rum. He set in to use his enforcement convictions in Jersey, of course, the little blonde doesn't agree with him on the enforcement plan he proposes, and has one Sheol of a time making the best of her plight.

She finally decided on a plan that she thought might curb some of his drinking. She would go down on pay-day and collect the money he earned, and this was working out much better. Pay-day was always on Wednesday mornings, and she made it her business to be on time.

Some time had elapsed under her plan, things seemed much brighter. On one of these particular Wednesday's they planned to go to New York to do some shopping. The blonde was getting ready to go to the office to collect the weekly wage, she was a little slow in getting ready, so she suggested that he go down just this time, and hurry right back, while she finished getting ready for the trip to New York.

He went . . . and came back early the following Friday morning with practically all the money gone, and New Jersey greatly relieved of some of its rum.

The landing of pets from other lands has presented certain difficulties to passengers of the steamship lines, and when a distinguished American financier appeared before the customs officials leading two diminutive Sardinian donkeys the customs officials rubbed their eyes.

"I've got to cut it out, that's all," murmured one of the officials who apparently had not been officially notified of the passage of the Volstead act.

"You can't bring them dogs in without a permit," said another.

"Them isn't dogs," said the banker.

"Ain't," corrected the customs official, who was a stickler for correct English. "And if them ain't dogs, what are they?"

"They might be a couple of new customs officers," replied the banker, who didn't want to be suspected of trying to sneak in a couple of new vice-presidents when it was pretty generally known that there was hardly enough vice in his organization to keep his existing vice-presidents occupied.

Even this failed to placate the customs officers and the two donkeys were forced to remain for four days, with nothing to eat but three meals a day until papers could be secured from Washington. Suspicion seemed to be rife in official circles that the banker was trying to saddle the country with two new Democratic parties.

But on the fifth day, after the donkeys had signed an affidavit to the effect that they had no Communist leanings, would be self-supporting, and were not the kind of donkeys that came under the quota law, the big dollar-and-cents man was allowed to post a bond admitting his pets, and the last that was seen of the party was the distinguished financier leading his two donkeys by a halter from the pier and telling them some interesting facts about relatives down in Washington.

Bachelors Defeat A. A. Players, 4-1

Serve Notice On Rest Of Teams In League They Are Going Somewhere

The Bachelors, led by the strong right arm of Johnny Johnston, served notice on the rest of the teams in the local Legion league that they are going some where this year by easily turning back the Belleville A. A., 4-1, at Clearman Field, Thursday evening.

The victory marked the Bachelors' debut in the circuit as their two previously scheduled contests had been rained out and it likewise was the season's first defeat for the A. A., who won their first two starts.

Park A. C. Strongly Organized Not Disbanded As Rumored

Rumors have been circulating about town that the club under the name of Park Athletic and Social Club no longer exists.

The Board of Trustees wishes to announce that the club is as well organized and active as any club can hope to be. A brief outline of its numerous activities of 1930 will convince anyone of the above statement.

February 9, it conducted a dance resulting in an overwhelming success. A De Luxe Bus Ride to Long Branch is to take place July 13 and all the tickets have already been sold. A bus ride to Asbury Park will be conducted in August.

If at the close of the summer the bank balance shows high enough figures the Park Boys will enjoy the comforts of a new clubhouse. Here's hoping they will.

Intertowns Win Two Over Week End

The Intertown A. C. defeated the Belleville Trojans, 11-3 at No. 7 School on Friday.

The game was a thriller until the sixth inning when the Ints scored four runs. While the Ints were piling up runs Cappy held the Trojans scoreless to the eighth inning when he eased up.

The Ints played big league ball in the field, no error being made till the eighth frame.

On Sunday, at the same field, the Ints defeated the Silver Lake Wildcats, 12-9 for their eighth victory.

Blue And Gold Loses To Irvington High

Belleville High dropped a 17-3 decision to the Irvington High Baseball nine, Saturday afternoon, at Clearman Field in a tilt marked by heavy and long distance clouting.

"Mac" Lamb, on the mound for the Bell-boys, was not his usual self on the hillcock, being nipped for ten hits in a little over five innings, while walking six. He was in fine strike-out form, however, retiring no less than nine of the hard-hitting Irvingtonites on strikes. Ralph Casale, who relieved him on the mound, could not stem the tide of visiting basehits, but managed to last out the remaining innings.

Pete Wilk, the visitors' ace, was hit hard and often by the Blue and Gold, but the huge margin piled up for him by his mates, was more than enough to give him citory.

Elks' Nine Defeats All Star Combine

"Zimo" Flynn Twirls Seven Innings Of Excellent Baseball

The strong Belleville Elks' baseball nine easily took the measure of a picked All-Star team of the local Legion League, Memorial Day afternoon, at Clearman Field to the tune of 7-2. A goodly crowd was on hand to witness the proceedings.

"Zimo" Flynn took the mound for the Elks and twirled a fine brand of ball throughout his seven innings there. He should have had a shut-out as both of the All-Star runs were of the unearned variety. "Butch" Kasner, relieved Flynn in the seventh and also was untouchable, turning the All-Stars back easily for the remainder of the tilt.

Kitchell, on the peak for the losers also pitched well, but hits at opportune moments by the Elks' noted array of sluggers spelled his downfall early in the contest.

Tommie Dunn copped all slugging laurel wreaths for the day, by banging out four safe hits to figure in most of the Elks' scoring. Willie Klemz came next in line accounting for a pair of well placed bingles.

Johnny Lawlor was the All-Star's best with the willow, while McCabe and Carragher featured afield.

Belleville High Defeats Orangeites

Belleville High scored a surprising victory Tuesday afternoon when they downed the Orange High tossers 6 to 4 at Clearman Field. The victory avenged an early season defeat at the hands of Orange who incidentally are the same team who defeated Irvington early in the season.

Jerry Bonavita twirled for the Blue and Gold and his work was the best he has done this season. Jerry held the Orange lads to five hits and but for two errors of judgment he would have held the Orange nine to two runs.

St. Peter's Triumphs Over Bachelor Club

Slapping the offerings of a trio of Bachelor twirlers to all corners of Clearman Field, St. Peter's ran roughshod over the Bachelors, Monday night, in a Legion League contest to the tune of 14-1.

"Ral" Flynn, gracing the hillcock for the Saints, was hardly extended in recording his victory, fallowing his opponents but four bingles and one run.

It was all over but the shouting as early as the first frame, when the hard-hitting St. Peter gang landed on Donnelly and Johnston for eight safe bingles and one less run.

Nutley P. C. Jrs. Win By Substitutions

Every now and then among neighboring towns there turns up a game in which rivalry is intense. Such was the case Sunday between the Middletowns of Belleville and the Nutley Pleasure Club Jrs. Before the start of the game the Pleasure Club was a heavy favorite to beat the Middletowns. They were so sure of winning that the "smart Alec's" were betting 5-1, but much to their surprise the supposed to be novice Middletowns got four runs in the first inning and one in the second.

At this particular moment the loud cheering Nutleyites seemed to have turned deaf mutes. The manager and captain of the Nutley team were so aroused that they begged the pitcher, Tony Pirrotti, to try to stop the slaughter while they went for help. The game got along. In the seventh when the Middletowns were in the lead, 7-3, the Pleasure Club Jrs. pulled out three men and replaced them by semi-professional ball players which cost the loss for the Middletown, 10-9.

NEWARK SHOPS TURN OUT IMPROVED TYPE OF SUPER-SERVICE BUS BODIES

The above pictures show an interior and exterior view of the new Super-Service type bus as well as three stages of body construction at the Newark Shops. The photograph in the upper left hand corner shows a skeleton body being moved from the carpenter shop. In the upper right hand corner mechanics are shown at work fabricating the aluminum bus roofs. In the lower left hand corner is shown a completed body ready for painting. In the center is a completed bus. Lower right hand corner shows the interior.

MANY new and unusual features of construction which will add greatly to the passenger's convenience and comfort are being embodied in the 168 luxurious Super-Service type buses, the bodies of which are now being built by Public Service Coordinated Transport in its Newark Shops. Each of these new buses is being equipped with comfortable seats of a new design, wider than ever before, and covered with an attractive velveteen instead of leather upholstery. To add further to the passenger's comfort the so-called "wheel house" seats have been eliminated so that every seat in the bus will be equally comfortable. Should the passenger desire to raise or lower the window by his seat, he may now do so by merely operating a cranking device like the one used in private motor cars. A mirror and individual electric light, specially designed for these buses, will also be placed at each seat.

Ample head room is also a feature of these new buses. With approximately a six-foot clearance between floor and ceiling, passengers will be able to walk to and from their seats without stooping. Spacious baggage racks will be built above the seats for hand bags and parcels, with additional storage space on the outside of the bus for heavier luggage. In addition to these innovations, newly designed shock absorbers and chassis mounting, will provide smoother riding qualities.

The engine power of these buses has also been greatly increased, averaging fifty per cent more than those now in service, and affording increased acceleration and more hill climbing ability.

One of the most interesting construction features of these buses is the extensive use of aluminum and its alloys in the building of the bodies. Aluminum has been used in the tops, sides and flooring of the body, in fact wherever possible, resulting in a great saving in dead weight over any other bus of this type ever manufactured in this country. In fact this is the first DeLuxe type bus ever built in the United States to utilize aluminum extensively in body construction.

These buses will be put in operation on Public Service Super-Service lines in various sections of the state just as rapidly as the bodies are completed in the shops. It is expected that all of these buses will be completed and operating in regular service by the end of the summer.

Local Dealer At Radio Conference

This week is rather an unusually important one for those radio men who journey to Atlantic City for the sixth annual R. M. A. Convention and trade show, which is held for members of the radio trade only.

Radio dealers and jobbers attending the convention will get their first glimpse of the new 1930-31 lines which the many manufacturers will display for the first time.

B. L. Berger, of the Berger Radio, at 475 Washington avenue, will be among those present at Atlantic City, when the big doings start. It is Mr. Berger's intention to obtain first hand information and knowledge of the newest developments in the radio art.

Mr. Berger will return to Belleville fully posted as to the latest developments in radio receivers for 1930-31 and will be glad to pass along to anyone interested, the results of his observations at Atlantic City.

School News

By JAMES REILLY

The Memorial Day program was conducted by the Freshman home room group. It began with the Flag Salute by the entire school, followed by a song, "America the Beautiful." Next came a bible reading and prayer which proceeded a response by the Freshman chorus. Cecil Haslam told of the significance of Memorial Day after which Letitia Codner read a Civil War story. The Freshman chorus again made their appearance and sang a Marching Song and a Memorial Day Song. A song, the French National Anthem, "The Marseillaise," was sung by the entire school.

William B. Charer, the speaker of the afternoon delivered a splendid message, a part in which he proclaimed, "That which we called war in the past is no more."

Doctor Close of Belleville was to have been the speaker but was unable to come.

As a climax the school sang "The Star Spangled Banner," and remained silent while George DeWitt played taps.

During Senior assembly of last week Winifred Westra sang two selections, "A Heart That's True" and "I Know a Lovely Garden."

A dance was given by the "Monad" the high school paper for the benefit of increasing its resources. The music was furnished by a group of high school fellows who formed for the occasion.

CHEER UP

If times are hard, and you feel blue, Think of the others worrying too—Just because your trials are many Don't think the rest of us haven't any.

Life is made of smiles and tears, Joys and sorrows mixed with fears, And though to us it seems one-sided, Trouble is pretty well divided.

If we could look in every heart, We'd find that each one has his part; And those who travel Fortune's road, Sometimes carry the biggest load.

Held For Observation

Crazed by poison taken because he had a fight with his wife, according to his story to Belleville police Friday night, Joseph Slinsky of 216 Cleveland avenue, Harrison, was arrested and committed to City Hospital for observation. Boys said Slinsky brandished a revolver and tore down a flag on a private residence.

Slinsky tried to bite them, Captain Flynn and Patrolman Dotterwich said, when they responded to a telephone call and routed him from behind a barn in Academy street near Main street. The police said he did not have a revolver.

Boy Scouts in the eastern part of the United States quickly responded to calls for help when forest fires threatened cities and towns last month, according to reports received at the National Office of the Boy Scouts of America in New York.

When fire threatened to wipe out four towns in Southern Rhode Island, large numbers of Providence Boy Scouts joined with volunteers comprising mill workers, college students and others in fighting the fire. The fire was brought under control after it had swept over more than thirty-five square miles of valuable timber and farm lands. Conspicuous among the fire fighters was the Scout crew of a fire truck manned by the members of Troop No. 1, of Narragansett, R. I. The truck was built and equipped by the scouts for fire fighting. While fighting the fires that threatened the town, the Scouts own camp property was destroyed by fire.

Save Wayside Inn
When the historic Wayside Inn, at Sudbury, Mass., now owned by Henry Ford, was threatened by a brush fire that swept over fifty acres of the automobile magnate's estate, one hundred Boy Scouts of Newton, Mass., who were on a week-end hike, joined the fire fighters from surrounding towns and aided in preventing the flames from reaching the celebrated landmark.

An unusual case of Scout fire fighting service came to light when Herman Engel, foreman of the Croton Aqueduct system, one of the chief sources of New York's water supply, asked aid in the identification of the twenty Boy Scouts who helped him check a forest fire on the shores of the reservoir.

"When the fire started to destroy our valuable evergreens, the spruce the pine and the hemlock, I had to fight it alone," Engel said. "Motorists passed me by without offering aid and I was afraid the fire would spread."

"Then a large motor bus with the Boy Scouts came by. The youngsters who ranged in age from 13 to 15 years, saw the situation. They jumped down and with their axes and other equipment cleared the threatened area. With their help we stopped the fire." The Scouts went away without revealing their identity.

Nashua, N. H., Fire
When nearly half a million tourists visited Nashua, New Hampshire, recently to inspect the damage done by the forest fire that nearly wiped out the city, the streets were completely filled with the cars of the visitors when, at the height of the traffic jam, another fire broke out in the center of the town. The fire apparatus had difficulty getting to the blaze. One hundred and forty Scouts of Manchester, Nashua, Milford, and Greenville, New Hampshire, were immediately pressed into service by J. Hamilton Lewis, Scout Executive for that area.

Real Service
In reporting to the National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America, Scout Executive Lewis said that the Scouts rendered outstanding service in controlling traffic in the fire zone and acting as aids to the Red Cross authorities. A great deal of furniture was saved from the fire as a result of the work of the Scouts. Troop 96 of Manchester, New Hampshire, remained in the city overnight, pitching its camp in Greeley Park. Other out-of-town Scouts returned to their homes but were out bright and early the next morning for further duties.

Save Camp
Forty Boy Scouts of Montclair, N. J., under the leadership of Deputy Scout Commissioner Claude L. Metz, were rushed in automobiles to their Camp Glen Gray at Oakland and succeeded in preventing its destruction by a forest fire. The Scouts fought the blaze from four o'clock in the afternoon until two the next morning. The camp consists of 600 acres, eight buildings and seventy tent platforms. The Montclair Scouts also saved Camp Yaw Yaw, the property of the Ridgewood-Glen Rock Boy Scout Council, from destruction.

Settlement, L. I., Blaze
Several hundred Boy Scouts of Suffolk County, New York, helped fight a forest fire near East Setaket, Long Island that had destroyed over two hundred and fifty acres of timberland and mountain laurel and took the lives of a great number of quail, rabbits, pheasants and other game.

Other Fires
As railroad trains stood ready to take citizens of Lakehurst, N. J., out of danger as a forest fire threatened their homes with destruction, 54 Scouts from Lakehurst, N. J., joined forces, with 30 Lakehurst Scouts and assisted the chiefs of 15 fire companies as orderlies, messengers and actual fire fighters.

Connecticut Boy Scouts aided authorities in fighting fires at Newtown, New Britain, Southington and Plainville.

Scouts of Windber, Pa., using fire extinguishers loaned to them by a real estate firm, joined with the local fire fighting force in preventing the spread of a fire in the woods adjoining a cemetery.

Boy Scouts of Geneva, Gorham, Middlesex and Canandaigua, New York, were released from schools to fight a fire that was smoldering on the wooded east shore of Canandaigua Lake.

Boy Scouts on a hike through Ellison Park in Rochester, New York, recently aided firemen in fighting a forest fire that destroyed one thousand young pine trees. The Scouts helped firemen beat out the blaze along the edges, gradually working toward the center.

When twenty-two fires broke out in Central New Jersey, Boy Scouts were released from High Schools and were the first to be summoned to aid professional fire-fighters in checking the fires.

GOOD TURN
A bouquet of flowers to each patient in the Noyes-Baptist Hospital at St. Joseph, Mo., and apples for each employee of the hospital were presented by Boy Scouts of Troop No. 4 who met at the Wyatt Park Baptist Church at St. Joseph. After delivering their presents to the patients the Scouts were shown through the hospital and learned something about the modern instruments used.

PRESENTS FARM
Robert J. Gross, prominent banker of Dunbarton, N. Y., has presented a farm in Cassadaga to the Boy Scouts. The property is made up of 24 acres in addition to the buildings. This property is valued at $5,200. A few months ago Mr. Gross also donated $60,000 for new buildings and improvements of the grounds, to the Newton Memorial Hospital in Cassadaga.

NEGRO LEADER HONORED
R. M. Wheat, Scout Executive of the Colored Division, Boy Scouts of Louisville, Ky., was honored recently by the twenty-nine Boy Scout Troops and fifteen Negro churches of Louisville in recognition of his tenth year of service to the Negro Boys Scouts of that city.

"THE CITY OF FOUNTAINS"

There is a city in Germany of which they say "every stone tells its tale." In remote days the Romans called it Augusta Vindelicorum. Today, it is Augsburg. It was the birthplace of Holbein the Elder and of Younger, and in addition to these painters, Leopold, the father of Mozart, was born here. At the Three Moors Hotel here today you may read on the register the names of Sir Walter Scott, Sir Thomas Lawrence, Goethe and Casanova. The streets are adorned by bronze fountains made by some of the first sculptors of the Renaissance. Here are echoes of Luther and the Reformation and Charles V. The "Golden Hall" of its Rathaus is modeled after the Doge's Palace in Venice, and the dismantled fortifications have been made into delightful promenades. Augsburg is "the city of fountains" and deserves every day you give to it.

SPRING AT ETRETAT

The beauty of Japan in the cherry blossom season cannot surely surpass the Normandy landscape in the spring time with white apple blossoms. The Grand Val d'Etretat and the surrounding country seem as though covered with snow at this time of the year; and no better view of it can be gotten than from the golf links on the cliffs, close to the famous Port d'Aval. Etretat is so easily reached nowadays it is becoming almost an "all the year round" resort. In this respect, it has greatly changed since Alphonse Karr discovered and Offenbach, Le Poitevin, Isabey and Maupassant adopted it. In their days it was a formidable undertaking to reach Etretat.

PISA OF PISANO

So many people make flying visits to Pisa attracted alone by the leaning tower as a phenomenal structure, forgetting that the group monuments—cathedral, baptistry, and tower—are the finest possible examples of Romanesque architecture in Italy, built eight hundred years ago by Nicola Pisano and his son Giovanni—both such masterpieces of sculpture that every artist for the last five or six hundred years with aspirations to carve in stone or wood has studied them. Never go to Pisa expecting that only a strange leaning tower of white marble will reward your efforts. Pisa would attract you if the tower were as straight as the Washington Monument.

"THE CITY BETWEEN THE BRIDGES"

When Earl Birger laid the foundations of the present city of Stockholm in the year 1255, he was thinking of its impregnability, and its possible commercial advantages. He selected many miles from the deep Baltic waters. Here the plundering pirate could not reach him. His policy of safety has today provided a city which is one of the most beautiful in Europe, for the city has grown from the original center island, "the city between the bridges," as it is called, so as to cover a dozen islands. In the reign of Gustavus Adolphus, the architectural influences of Rome and Venice were strongly reflected in the city.

A RESORT ON RUSSIA'S OLD COASTLINE

In close proximity to the city of Riga is the lovely strand which has come to be called the Baltic Riviera, where the busy Latvians abandon their offices for the sports or the sunny beach. Here fringed by dunes and woods, idyllic forests and parks, little townlets of villas are growing up on every side. The vast stretch of sand makes it a paradise for the children, and it is astonishing how soon after Russia lost this coastline the Germans, the English and the Scandinavian peoples found on it a home for their summer play. It is the strand of a shore whose inland miles stretch to Asia and China and the mystery of its hidden background shadows all its romance.

THE SWEETHEART OF EUROPE

Austria is the happy young girl in Europe's family of such different children for whom godfathers and sweethearts have dreamed more names of delightful meaning than the prosaic allow. It was thought that the calling her "Austria," a name reminiscent of Aurora, the goddess of dawn, the problem of expressing her beauty in one word had been attained, but as soon as her charms were revealed to the tourist, every lover who lingered about her beautiful estate ransacked the archives of fairyland to find a new term of endearment for her. "THE ROME OF THE NORTH"

The country which today seems to stand at the crossroads of Europe is Czechoslovakia. To many this name is a "terra incognita," but when the eye picks out Prague, Carlsbad, Marienbad, Franzensbad and Pilsen, it is immediately recognized as an old haunt of tourists. Prague was a favorite city with Goethe, Chateaubriand, George Sand, Prevost and Brander, who praised it as "the Rome of the North." Here is the famous Hradcany, ancient seat of

CHRYSANTHEMUMS FOR THE GARDEN

By C. H. CONNORS,
Experiment Station Floriculturist

Chrysanthemums are among the fall flowers, blooming from mid-September until frost cuts them down. They come in a wide range of colors, from white through yellow, pink, crimson, to the bronzy crimsons. Varieties vary considerably in their dependability. It is best to get the early blooming sorts, as most of the pompon and button varieties grown by florists will not produce flowers before frost kills them.

Much of the success with chrysanthemums depends on the culture. It is wise to set new plants each year, or to divide the plants annually. If the new plants or small divisions are set 15 to 18 inches apart a good showing is assured, especially if the tops are pinched out when the plants are 3 or 4 inches high, causing them to branch. The soil should be enriched before setting.

Fresh plants are better because the old crown dies after a year or two, causing many side plants to develop. More plants root than the soil can support and the amount of nutrients coming to each plant is reduced. The crown also rises, causing water to be shed, which is often responsible for the drying of the lower leaves.

A good plan is to dig clumps of each variety after they have bloomed in the fall, and store them in a cold frame. Cuttings taken in the spring may be already rooted, or will root very readily. If the making of the cuttings is not desirable, groups of two or three new plants may readily be broken off the old clump.

If the number of plants is small, the flowers can be protected from late frosts and also from beating rains by covering with paper.

INCONSISTENT UNCLE SAM

While the first contingent of Gold Star mothers was departing for Europe, the U. S. battle fleet steamed up the Hudson and spent the day in a mock bombardment of the city of New York. Just a part of the training that goes into the future making of more Gold Star Mother, you know!

While the Department of Commerce and the State Department bend every effort to facilitate good will and foreign trade, Congress levies tariffs designed to kill both our import and export trade.

While the government earnestly discusses the problem of overcrowded prisons and overworked courts, Congress appropriates larger and larger sums for the arrests growing out of minor violations of the Volstead Act.

While the United States maintains a policy of isolation in world affairs, it takes part in 48 international conferences and congresses and belongs to 22 international commissions, committees or tribunals.

HISTORIC GUARD GREETED NEW SHIP "LAFAYETTE"

When the new motorship, "Lafayette," sailed for the first time into New York harbor, she brought to our shores the Marquis Jacques de Dampierre, direct descendant of Lafayette, to be the guest of the National Educational Committee of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation. The committee invited the residents of Jefferson's native city, Charlottesville, Virginia, who constitute the historic military unit known as the "Monticello Guard," to act as escort of honor to the descendant of Lafayette.

"We believe in the power of visual education," stated Joseph Miller, Jr., chairman of the committee. "Therefore, we realize that the presence of this historic Guard in the old uniforms of the Revolutionary period greeting the Lafayette descendant is a picture that will remind our country of those great days when Jefferson with his pen and Lafayette with his sword were working at the side of George Washington for the ideals of liberty of which we are so proud today."

Ceremonies commemorating the patriot whose name the French Line chose for the new ship began on board the Lafayette. A colorful celebration marking the ninety-fourth anniversary of the death of the Marquis de Lafayette was held at sea. The Marquis de Dampierre delivered an address praising the heroism of the officers and men of the Continental Army and expressed his great gratification at the part played by his illustrious ancestor and his brave fellow-countrymen in the great deeds of those stirring times.

Another impressive occasion en route described by passengers was the first salute at sea received by the "Lafayette" when her big sister, the "De France," and the White Star liner, "Maestri," both Europe-bound, together passed close to the "Lafayette" while their passengers lined the rails and cheered. The whistles roared a greeting. The "Lafayette," 21,500 gross

Keeping Gladiolus Healthy

By R. P. WHITE,
Research Specialist, Diseases of Ornamentals

Severe infections of any one of several diseases of gladiolus corms will eventually result in the development of a hard, dry, shriveled "mummy," as it is commonly called by gardeners. In less severe cases, the corms are variously spotted or scabby. In general, the fungous or bacterial organisms which cause diseases are able to live indefinitely on decaying organic matter in the soil.

No uniformly satisfactory treatment of gladiolus corms has yet been found. In view of this fact, the gardener will do well to sort the corms carefully this spring before planting, and discard all severely infected corms and all "mummies." Such corms fail to grow, or they produce weak plants which either die early in the season or fail to bloom.

The less severely infected corms should then be treated in a solution of mercuric chloride (corrosive sublimate) 1-1,000, for two hours. Use 4 ounces of the mercuric chloride crystals to 30 gallons of water, or 1 tablet as purchased in drug stores to 1 pint of water. This treatment is not 100 per cent effective, but it is the best available. After being used twice the solution should be discarded, as it weakens with use. Use only wooden containers and be cautious as the solution is poisonous. Plant disinfected corms in new soil if this is available.

POLITICS AND PERSONALITIES

The zest with which Senators leaped back into tariff debate when the flexible provision and export debenture came up for vote recently astonished many. If members of the upper body were loathe to return, after a brief respite, to their fifteen-month-old pampered cry-baby, they concealed it nobly. Rarely have the galleries witnessed as much vigorous breast-beating, finger-pointing, and racy repartee. The coalition, although it was squeezed to defeat by a one-vote margin, put up the best show. Two paragraphs from their attacks on the bill are particularly apt. The first is from Senator Swanson of Virginia:

"If the issue should result in the death of the bill, the country would be saved, the country would be benefited, the industries of the United States would be relieved. I will not be distressed by the death of this bill. Nine-tenths of the people of the country would be glad if it were killed."

And from Senator Tom Connolly of Texas:

"If this bill is enacted without the debenture it will present the strange anomaly of a farmers' tariff bill that does something for everybody on earth except the farmer, and it will do more to the farmer than any other tariff bill heretofore enacted."

Outside the Senate, loud warnings continue to split the heavens. A bombardment of denunciation from industrialists landed on the front pages within one week. A poll taken by "The Nation" in a solidly industrial section showed newspaper editors overwhelmingly for a veto. It is significant that a large portion of the opposition to the bill came from Republican editors. Perhaps they recall, what Congress seems to have forgotten; that the enactment of the McKinley tariff bill cost the G. O. P. 85 members of Congress; the Dingley tariff act cost 21 members; the Payne-Aldrich bill cost 57 members; and the Fordney-McCumber act cost 75 members. But we venture to say that Mr. Hoover hasn't forgotten. Imagine a President ignoring a death signal as real as that!

KEEPING THE SEA LIGHTS BURNING

Lighthouses, no matter where they are located, must be tended regularly and kept ship-shape. The United States Federal Lighthouse tender, "Acacia," has recently sailed from San Juan, Porto Rico, on a voyage to some of the most inaccessible lighthouses in the world. A number of them are on islands inhabited almost entirely by birds which are rarely disturbed by man when the tender makes its semiannual visit.

Navassa Island, thirty miles off the coast of Haiti, will be the first place visited. Here, a sheer cliff must be ascended by means of a ladder made of discarded mooring chains. If storms have washed away the ladder placed there on the previous visit, some member of the crew will have to scale the cliff and anchor a new ladder.

The "Acacia" will then steam north to Guantanamo Bay on the Cuban coast, where ten lights must be overhauled. The Caribbean Sea lights are on tiny islands so thickly covered with sea birds that the crew often has to shove its way through an almost solid mass of nesting birds in order to reach the lights.

After the tender has made its round of all the lighthouses in this area it proceeds to the Panama Canal and goes into dry dock at Colon. On the way back to San Juan, the ship passes all the places just serviced so that the crew can make certain that the lights are still functioning properly.

WHAT A SMALL NATION CAN DO

The way some of these smaller nations take hold of a tough piece of work, get it done, and then look about for more sometimes amazes their larger neighbors. Look at Cuba, for instance. The extension of her surfaced roads from 158 to 3,000 miles within thirty-one years is sufficient reason for Cubans to feel proud. But the little Republic is not stopping at that. In 1931 she will have completed a 700-mile Central Highway after which she will immediately launch the building of 4,000 miles of branch roads.

Progress already made this year in Cuban highway work was described recently by Senor M. A. Corrales, just elected President of the Pan American division of the American Road Builders' Association at the Association's annual meeting in Washington. Senor Corrales who has full charge of the great Central Highway project, left immediately after the meeting for Havana where President Machado led a procession in the dedication of 250 miles of the completed road from Havana to Santa Clara. The new highway built at a cost of $100,000,000 will have no grade crossings. About 100 safety hazards will be eliminated.

In the light of Cuba's economic distress largely caused by United States tariffs on her products, this piece of road construction assumes even greater importance. It is a significant tribute to the courage and cooperation of the Cuban people and their leaders.

AMERICA'S NURSES IN CONFERENCE

Let nursing be a luxury, but bring it also within the reach of people with small means. This is one subject of the American Nurses' Association which will be thoroughly discussed at the Biennial Convention of the three national nursing organizations in Milwaukee, June 9-14. How to give more evenly distributed employment to the private duty nurse group while reducing the high cost of nursing will also be given extensive consideration.

Members of the profession feel that changes in nursing education and in the distribution of nursing service, the cost of sickness and means of lowering the cost, and similar phases in nursing today make necessary a re-definition of the entire relationship between nurse and patient. Unemployment among nurses is a serious problem that will be discussed at the convention.

"There are three key words in the program," states Janet M. Geister, Headquarters Director of the Association. "The nurse, the patient, and the community. The patient comes first actually in all nursing discussions, just as the patient comes first in the life of the nurse. No matter what problems in administration the hospital may face, or what difficulties the private duty or public health nurse may have to overcome in the home, the patient must be nursed and the patient must be comfortable. So, in convention programs, no matter what the subject discussed, it has as its basis better service to the patient."

The American Nurses' Association has a membership of 84,138 graduate nurses and is the official organization of nurses in the United States. The other two organizations participating in the convention are the National League of Nursing Education, and the National Organization for Public Health Nursing.

Demarest Outlines His Key Statement In Register Campaign

Declined County Committee Endorsement On Ground Of "Illegality"

W. Howard Demarest, Republican Candidate for Register in the Primary announced to the Layers' Committee backing his candidacy recently his key statement as regards his place in the campaign. Mr. Demarest declined County Committee endorsement on the ground of illegality resulting in the candidacy of George Stickle. It should be noted Mr. Demarest refused to have the County Committee act upon his candidacy for the same reason. Mr. Demarest deplored William H. Rawson of Bloomfield associating his campaign with that of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow for United States Senator. Mr. Demarest's statement in part says:

"The Direct Primary is the institution that has taken the place of the convention system. The Direct Primary is the convention system of selecting on an enlarged scale. It admits to participation for party nominees the entire membership of the party. I stand for that system. Any other process of selection is illegal and contrary to law, to say nothing of being derogatory to the best interests of the party and the general welfare of the people.

Other methods of selection whether illegal or not are of no consequence. Today the great search on the part of those who desire good government and the execution of honorable principles in public administration is not among the ranks of organization alone. It extends through the whole electorate. The search is for men; men who can lead, men who may stand the test of power, untrammelled by iniquity from any source.

There is a crisis in government today throughout the entire world, the crisis of dishonesty and inefficiency; the crisis of the inability of governments to find men who can so lead as to keep on a par with those successes achieved in the circles of private enterprise. Therefore, for the solution of this problem, organization or mandates of political leadership that is tainted by personal domination for personal ends is not the hope. The solution must come from that sovereign element, the heart and conscience of which have never been wrong in united action, whose decisions have built the institutions of America; spiritual and material, and given stability to us as a nation.

How futile decisions of the Republican organization of Essex County! The answer is so obvious I need not dwell upon it at length. The outstanding contest in this Primary is for the United States Senatorship. The willingness of men and women to follow some candidate, the opinions of the entire membership of the republican ranks in this country on this subject, are so diversified that the present leadership in the County Committee, although giving considerable resources, time and energy in one direction, did not dare to permit the County Committee in meeting assembled to take a stand on this subject. I am specific in this illustration to indicate that the day has gone by when the sovereign rights of those who carry the sov-ern responsibility of government by party in the United States can be disregarded by the will of any individual who can manoeuvre a cotery around him, and bind as it were the party membership to that will in a party primary.

I do not wish to confuse the United States Senatorship with the County Register of Essex County. Essex County might be called a state in itself, a group of 800,000 people. Why the Register's Office in Essex County handles more money in a year than the entire budget of the States of Nevada and Idaho. I have divorced my campaign from any other office, from the aspirations of any other men who seek any other office. I do not propose to impress my attitude concerning the United States Senatorship on the people of this County. I can add nothing to either, nor would I detract from them. They have their contest, I have mine. Neither am I willing to place myself in the position of a kite-tail to the aspirations of any unrelated candidate, no matter how alluring to my fortunes.

This I do know. It has been said that a legal mind with judicial attitude and the ability to work with both employees, the freeholders and the public alike are the main qualifications to the position of Register of Essex County. I subscribe to that theory and I recognize no superiority in these qualifications superior to my own. I think that actual acquaintance and experience as a practitioner in the Register's Office added to the other requirements lift me to first place as a qualified candidate, and that the drawing of first place in this group on the ballot is a prophecy.

The Register's Office is ever on the increase in the volume of business it does. Above all else the register is the custodian of the data and records which make secure the property rights of those who carry the burden of the day as taxpayers of this County. I think I can visualize no greater citizenship and hardly a more solemn obligation on the part of a public servant than to keep in vogue in the office the greatest degree of service and effectiveness that my experience as a lawyer, as a recorder in two counties of the State and my direct association with the intricacies of this office hold forth as a fair promise. A stockholders' meeting of republican men and women will occur on Tuesday, June 17. It deserves the individual thought and consideration of every republican. I am willing to leave my candidacy in the hands of those whom as I have said, hold the sceptre of the sovereign, the voters of the party. I commit my case to them upon these principles, confident that they will register with the voting public and that they will decide on June 17, that Demarest registers.

Fuel Oil Bus Makes Satisfactory Trip

A Public Service bus, equipped with a Diesel engine, using fuel oil instead of gasoline, has just completed a satisfactory trip from Newark to French Lick, Indiana, a distance of 900 miles, in four days. The route chosen necessitated the crossing of the mountains of Pennsylvania.

The bus left the Public Service Terminal, Newark, Wednesday evening, May 21, and arrived at French Lick, Sunday evening, May 25. The bus was in charge of Albert A. Lyman, automotive engineer, Coordinated Transport, and was driven by Charles Doty, operator-mechanic.

This Diesel electric bus, representing the latest development in the automotive field, is now on exhibition at the silver anniversary meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers, in session at French Lick and will appear in the parade to be held as an anniversary feature. So far as is known, this is the only Diesel electric bus in the world.

The Diesel engine bus is the result of extensive experiments made by Public Service with the use of the Diesel engine for buses following a visit to Germany in 1928 by Matthew R. Boylan, vice president in charge of operation and Martin Schreiber, general manager in charge of plant, of Coordinated Transport. At that time they inspected motor trucks equipped with Diesel engines operating satisfactorily in heavy service. Believing that the engine might be developed for motor bus as well as truck, a Mercedes-Benz Diesel engine was ordered shipped to the company's shops in Newark.

Numerous successful dynamometer tests were conducted by company engineers and the engine was then installed in a gas electric bus, replacing the gasoline engine in use. Road tests proved satisfactory and the bus was driven to Atlantic City last fall to the convention of the American Electric Railway Association. In December of last year the bus was placed in regular operation of the North Newark and the Summer avenue lines, Newark, where it has been operated 7,000 miles.

The engine is a six cylinder Mercedes-Benz Diesel type with a rating of 75 horse power. It is fitted with Robert Bosch fuel pump and injection nozzles. The engine is started from cold with an electric starting motor after heating "glow plugs" in the pre-combustion chambers for about 30 seconds.

The fuel oil used in operation costs considerably less than gasoline and gives better mileage per gallon. This is the most attractive feature of the Diesel operation but also of great importance is the fact that both the ignition system and carburetor are eliminated. With the removal of the ignition system, the fire hazard is practically done away with. Another valuable feature of the new engine is the minimizing of exhaust odors and tests have shown a maximum carbon monoxide content of but three-quarters of one per cent, which is negligible.

Roosevelts Defeat Cardinal Club, 6-2

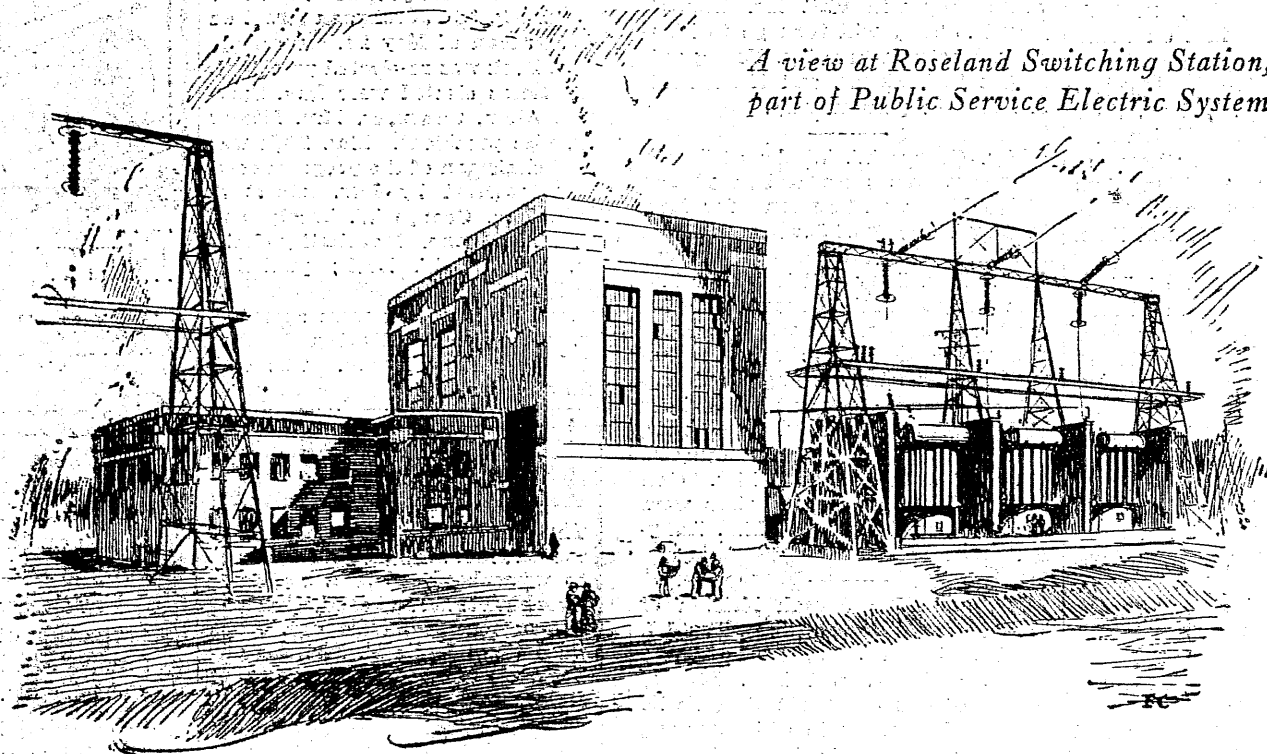

Sunday afternoon at Capitol Field, the Roosevelt Social Club defeated the strong Jamaica Cardinals, 6-2. Hummel, pitching his first game for the Roosevelts, pitched superb ball and was never in danger. He struck out fourteen batters and allowed six hits.

The Roosevelts collected twelve hits. The Roosevelts put the game in the bag by scoring four runs on five hits in the first inning.

Natale played fine ball in left field. Fusaro, playing centerfield, made two fine throws to the plate to check two runs. Cafone played a fine game at first base and collected two hits. Giardelli, catching for the Roosevelts, was in great shape.

Next Sunday afternoon the Roosevelts will play a team yet to be booked. The Roosevelts would like to hear from Nutley P. C. and the Middletowns. For games write to A. Fusaro, 24 Greylock avenue.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on June 1, 1930.
The Golden Text was: "The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay such as be of upright conversation. Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bow shall be broken." (Psalms 37:14,15).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Regard not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them: I am the Lord your God." (Leviticus 19:31).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Animal Magnetism has no scientific foundation for God governs all that is real, harmonious, and eternal, and His power is neither animal nor human." (p. 102).

Shamrock V has become a reality and this coming September will witness a contest that will delight the heart of the yachting fan. The boat which will defend the cup is yet to be determined. The enterprise is the first in the field, or we had better say the ocean; but the Yankee, the Weetamoo and the Whirlwind are nearly completed, and will soon be put to the trial tests. It is said that something like $4,000,000 will be spent on this year's race. No matter how much we desire the cup to remain in the possession of the good old U. S. A. we must admire the determined spirit and patriotism of Sir Thomas Lipton. We can only say, in the spirit of fair play: Let the better boat win.

Sunday evening, 7:45, the Sunshine Chapter of the World Wide Guild of Grace Church will have charge. An interesting program has been prepared by the young ladies. A brilliant speaker, in the person of Mrs. Bingham of the Newark Evening News staff has been secured. There will also be an initiation into the mysteries of the World Wide Guild, of six Italian young ladies from the Newark Christian Center. The closing part of the program will be the Impressive Candle Service of the Guild. Everyone who cares to attend will find a welcome at all the services of Grace Church, Sunday.

Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. P. Hall, in the Lindy Apartments, Union avenue, the Sunshine Chapter of Grace Church, was entertained by Mrs. Hall. It is needless to say that a wonderful evening was enjoyed by all, as Mrs. Hall is a past mistress in the art of entertaining. During the evening bountiful refreshments were served.

Some people are so spiritual that they have little if any religion left. Look out for the person that is so perfect that he or she thinks that everybody who does not agree with them is going to perdition.

Tuesday evening the subject of discussion at the Fellowship Service was Great Thought from Great Minds. It is a source of great pleasure to find that in spite of so many taking vacations at this time of the year these congregations show very little decrease in numbers up to the present time.

Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Raleigh Jacobs, on Overlook avenue, the Ladies' Auxiliary held their closing session. They have had a wonderful year and have done much to make possible one of the best years in the history of Grace Church. Much credit must be given to the ladies for their energy and zeal and under the inspiring leadership of Mrs. George Weirick, the president, a great record has been established for the past year.

Boy Scouts in the eastern part of the United States quickly responded to calls for help when forest fires threatened cities and towns last month, according to reports received at the National Offices of the Boy Scouts of America in New York.

When fire threatened to wipe out four towns in Southern Rhode Island, large numbers of Providence Boy Scouts joined with volunteers comprising mill workers, college students and others in fighting the fire. The fire was brought under control after it had swept over more than thirty-five square miles of valuable timber and farm lands. Conspicuous among the fire fighters was the Scout crew of a fire truck manned by the members of Troop No. 1, of Narragansett, R. I. The truck was built and equipped by the scouts for fire fighting. While fighting the fires that threatened the town, the Scouts own camp property was destroyed by fire.

Save Wayside Inn

When the historic Wayside Inn, at Sudbury, Mass., now owned by Henry Ford, was threatened by a brush fire that swept over fifty acres of the automobile magnate's estate, one hundred Boy Scouts of Newton, Mass., who were on a week-end hike, joined the fire fighters from surrounding towns and aided in preventing the flames from reaching the celebrated landmark.

An unusual case of Scout fire fighting service came to light when Herman Engel, foreman of the Croton Aqueduct system, one of the chief sources of New York's water supply, asked aid in the identification of the twenty Boy Scouts who helped him check a forest fire on the shores of the reservoir.

"When the fire started to destroy our valuable evergreens, the spruce, the pine and the hemlock, I had to fight it alone," Engel said. "Motorists passed me by without offering aid and I was afraid the fire would spread."

"Then a large motor bus with the Boy Scouts came by. The youngsters who ranged in age from 13 to 15 years, saw the situation. They jumped down and with their axes and other equipment cleared the threatened area. With their help we stopped the fire." The Scouts went away without revealing their identity.

Nashua, N. H., Fire

When nearly half a million tourists visited Nashua, New Hampshire, recently to inspect the damage done by the forest fire that nearly wiped out the city, the streets were completely filled with the cars of the visitors when, at the height of the traffic jam, another fire broke out in the center of the town. The fire apparatus had difficulty getting to the blaze. One hundred and forty Scouts of Manchester, Nashua, Milford, and Greenfield, New Hampshire, were immediately pressed into service by J. Hamilton Lewis, Scout Executive for that area.

Real Service

In reporting to the National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America, Scout Executive Lewis said that the Scouts rendered outstanding service in controlling traffic in the fire zone and acting as aids to the Red Cross authorities. A great deal of furniture was saved from the fire as a result of the work of the Scouts. Troop 96 of Manchester, New Hampshire, remained in the city overnight, pitching its camp in Greeley Park. Other out-of-town Scouts returned to their homes but were out bright and early the next morning for further duties.

Save Camp

Forty Boy Scouts of Montclair, N. J., under the leadership of Deputy Scout Commissioner Claude L. Metz, were rushed in automobiles to their Camp Glen Gray at Oakland and succeeded in preventing its destruction by a forest fire. The Scouts fought the blaze from four o'clock in the afternoon until two the next morning. The camp consists of 800 acres, eight buildings and seventy tent platforms. The Montclair Scouts also saved Camp Yaw Yaw, the property of the Ridgewood-Glen Rock Boy Scout Council, from destruction.

Setakiet, L. I., Blaze

Several hundred Boy Scouts of Suffolk County, New York, helped fight a forest fire near East Setakiet, Long Island that had destroyed over two hundred and fifty acres of timberland and mountain laurel and took the lives of a great number of quail, rabbits, pheasants and other game.

Other Fires

As railroad trains stood ready to take citizens of Lakehurst, N. J., out of danger as a forest fire threatened their homes with destruction, 54 Scouts from Lakewood, N. J., joined forces with 30 Lakehurst Scouts and assisted the chiefs of 15 fire companies as orderlies, messengers and actual fire fighters.

Connecticut Boy Scouts aided authorities in fighting fires at Newtown, New Britain, Southington and Plainville.

Scouts of Windber, Pa., using fire extinguishers loaned to them by a real estate firm, joined with the local fire fighting force in preventing the spread of a fire in the woods adjoining a cemetery.

Boy Scouts of Geneva, Gorham, Middlesex and Canandaigua, New York, were released from schools to fight a fire that was smoldering on the wooded east shore of Canandaigua Lake.

Boy Scouts on a hike through Ellison Park in Rochester, New York, recently aided firemen in fighting a forest fire that destroyed one thousand young pine trees. The Scouts helped firemen beat out the blaze along the edges, gradually working toward the center.

When twenty-two fires broke out in Central New Jersey, Boy Scouts were released from High Schools and were the first to be summoned to aid professional fire-fighters in checking the fires.

Twenty Boy Scouts of Troop No. 113, Chicago, Ill., checked a forest fire in the Thatcher Woods Forest Preserve near River Forest, while on an all day outing. A careless camper had started a fire near some reeds and in a place where vines were strung overhead. A roaring fire soon resulted. The Scouts were lined up by their Scoutmaster, William C. Kraus, and were quickly instructed as to their jobs. They fought for over an hour before they finally subdued the blaze.

GOOD TURN

A bouquet of flowers to each patient in the Noyes-Baptist Hospital at St. Joseph, Mo., and apples for each employee of the hospital were presented by Boy Scouts of Troop No. 4, who met at the Wyatt Park Baptist Church at St. Joseph. After delivering their presents to the patients the Scouts were shown through the hospital and learned something about the modern instruments used.

PRESENTS FARM

Robert J. Gross, prominent banker of Dunkirk, N. Y., has presented a farm in Cassadaga to the Boy Scouts. The property is made up of 24 acres in addition to the buildings. This property is valued at $5,200. A few months ago Mr. Gross also donated $60,000 for new buildings and improvements of the grounds, to the Newton Memorial Hospital in Cassadaga.

NEGRO LEADER HONORED

R. M. Wheat, Scout Executive of the Colored Division, Boy Scouts of Louisville, Ky., was honored recently by the twenty-nine Boy Scout Troops and fifteen Negro churches of Louisville in recognition of his tenth year of service to the Negro Boys Scouts of that city.

"THE CITY OF FOUNTAINS"

There is a city in Germany of which they say "every stone tells its tale." In remote days the Romans called it Augusta Vindelicorum. Today, it is Augsburg. It was the birthplace of Holbein the Elder and of Younger, and in addition to these painters, Leopold, the father of Mozart, was born here. At the Three Moors Hotel here today you may read on the register the names of Sir Walter Scott, Sir Thomas Lawrence, Goethe and Casanova. The streets are adorned by bronze fountains made by some of the first sculptors of the Renaissance. Here are echoes of Luther and the Reformation and Charles V. The "Golden Hall" of its Rathaus is modelled after the Doge's Palace in Venice, and the dismantled fortifications have been made into delightful promenades. Augsburg is "the city of fountains" and deserves every day you give to it.

SPRING AT ETRETAT

The beauty of Japan in the cherry blossom season cannot surely surpass the Normandy landscape in the spring time with white apple blossoms. The Grand Val d'Etretat and the surrounding country seem as though covered with snow at this time of the year; and no better view of it can be gotten than from the golf links on the cliffs, close to the famous Port d'Aval. Etretat is so easily reached nowadays it is becoming almost an "all the year round" resort. In this respect, it has greatly changed since Alphonse Karr discovered and Offenbach, Le Poittevin, Isabey and Maupassant adopted it. In their days it was a formidable undertaking to reach Etretat.

PISA OF PISANO

So many people make flying visits to Pisa attracted alone by the leaning tower as a phenomenal structure, forgetting that the group monuments—cathedral, baptistry, and tower—are the finest possible examples of Romanesque architecture in Italy, built eight hundred years ago by Nicola Pisano and his son Giovanni—both such masterpieces of sculpture that every artist for the last five or six hundred years with aspirations to carve in stone or wood has studied them. Never go to Pisa expecting that only a strange leaning tower of white marble will reward your efforts. Pisa would attract you if the tower were as straight as the Washington Monument.

"THE CITY BETWEEN THE BRIDGES"

When Earl Birger laid the foundations of the present city of Stockholm in the year 1255, he was thinking of its impregnability, and its possible commercial advantages. He selected many miles from the deep Baltic waters. Here the plundering pirate could not reach him. His policy of safety has today provided a city which is one of the most beautiful in Europe, for the city has grown from the original center island, "the city between the bridges," as it is called, so as to cover a dozen islands. In the reign of Gustavus Adolphus, the architectural influences of Rome and Venice were strongly reflected in the city.

THE SWEETHEART OF EUROPE

Austria is the happy young girl in Europe's family of such different children for whom godfathers and sweethearts have dreamed more names of delightful meaning than the prosaic allow. It was thought that the calling her "Austria," a name reminiscent of Aurora, the goddess of dawn, the problem of expressing her beauty in one word had been attained, but as soon as her charms were revealed to the tourist, every lover who lingered about her beautiful estate ransacked the archives of fairyland to find a new term of endearment for her. CHRYSANTHEMUMS FOR THE GARDEN

By C. H. CONNORS,
Experiment Station Floriculturist

Chrysanthemums are among the fall flowers, blooming from mid-September until frost cuts them down. They come in a wide range of colors, from white through yellow, pink, crimson, to the bronzy crimsons. Varieties vary considerably in their dependability. It is best to get the early blooming sorts, as most of the pom-pom and button varieties grown by florists will not produce flowers before frost kills them.

Much of the success with chrysanthemums depends on the culture. It is wise to set new plants each year, or to divide the plants annually. If the new plants or small divisions are set 15 to 18 inches apart a good showing is assured, especially if the tops are pinched out when the plants are 3 or 4 inches high, causing them to branch. The soil should be enriched before setting.

Fresh plants are better because the old crown dies after a year or two, causing many side plants to develop. More plants root than the soil can support and the amount of nutrients coming to each plant is reduced. The crown also rises, causing water to be shed, which is often responsible for the drying of the lower leaves.

A good plan is to dig clumps of each variety after they have bloomed in the fall, and store them in a cold frame. Cuttings taken in the spring may be already rooted, or will root very readily. If the making of the cuttings is not desirable, groups of two or three new plants may readily be broken off the old clump.

If the number of plants is small, the flowers can be protected from late frosts and also from beating rains by covering with paper.

Keeping Gladiolus Healthy

By R. P. WHITE,
Research Specialist, Diseases of Ornamentals

Severe infections of any one of several diseases of gladiolus corms will eventually result in the development of a hard, dry, shriveled "mummy," as it is commonly called by gardeners. In less severe cases, the corms are variously spotted or scabby. In general, the fungous or bacterial organisms which cause diseases are able to live indefinitely on decaying organic matter in the soil. No uniformly satisfactory treatment of gladiolus corms has yet been found. In view of this fact, the gardener will do well to sort the corms carefully this spring before planting, and discard all severely infected corms and all "mummies." Such corms fail to grow, or they produce weak plants which either die early in the season or fail to bloom.

The less severely infected corms should then be treated in a solution of mercuric chloride (corrosive sublimate) 1-1,000, for two hours. Use 4 ounces of the mercuric chloride crystals to 30 gallons of water, or 1 tablet as purchased in drug stores to 1 pint of water. This treatment is not 100 per cent effective, but it is the best available. After being used twice the solution should be discarded, as it weakens with use. Use only wooden containers and be cautious as the solution is poisonous. Plant disinfected corms in new soil if this is available.

Further information on this and other garden, flower or agricultural questions may be obtained from the County Extension Office, R. E. Harman, County Agricultural Agent, Caldwellville, Telephone 572.

place visited. Here, a sheer cliff must be ascended by means of a ladder made of discarded mooring chains. If storms have washed away the ladder placed there on the previous visit, some member of the crew will have to scale the cliff and anchor a new ladder.

The Acacia will then steam north to Guantanamo Bay on the Cuban coast, where ten lights must be overhauled. The Caribbean Sea lights are on tiny islands so thickly covered with sea birds that the crew often has to shove its way through an almost solid mass of nesting birds in order to reach the lights.

After the tender has made its round of all the lighthouses in this area it proceeds to the Panama Canal and goes into dry dock at Colon. On the way back to San Juan, the ship passes all the places just serviced so that the crew can make certain that the lights are still functioning properly.

WHAT A SMALL NATION CAN DO

The way some of these smaller nations take hold of a tough piece of work, get it done, and then look about for more sometimes amazes their larger neighbors. Look at Cuba, for instance. The extension of her surfaced roads from 158 to 3,000 miles within thirty-one years is sufficient reason for Cubans to feel proud. But the little Republic is not stopping at that. In 1931 she will have completed a 700-mile Central Highway after which she will immediately launch the building of 4,000 miles of branch roads.

Progress already made this year in Cuban highway work was described recently by Senator M. A. Corrales, just elected President of the Pan American division of the American Road Builders' Association at the Association's annual meeting in Washington. Senator Corrales who has full charge of the great Central Highway project, left immediately after the meeting for Havana where President Machado led a procession in the dedication of 250 miles of the completed road from Havana to Santa Clara. The new highway built at a cost of $100,000,000 will have no grade crossings. About 100 safety hazards will be eliminated.

In the light of Cuba's economic distress largely caused by United States tariffs on her products, this piece of road construction assumes even greater importance. It is a significant tribute to the courage and cooperation of the Cuban people and their leaders.

AMERICA'S NURSES IN CONFERENCE

Let nursing be a luxury, but bring it also within the reach of people with small means. This is one subject of the American Nurses' Association which will be thoroughly discussed at the Biennial Convention of the three national nursing organizations in Milwaukee, June 9-14. How to give more evenly distributed employment to the private duty nurse group while reducing the high cost of nursing will also be given extensive consideration.

Members of the profession feel that changes in nursing education and in the distribution of nursing service, the cost of sickness and means of lowering the cost, and similar phases in nursing today make necessary a re-definition of the entire relationship between nurse and patient. Unemployment among nurses is a serious problem that will be discussed at the convention.

"There are three key words in the program," states Janet M. Geister, Headquarters Director of the Association. "The nurse, the patient, and the community. The patient comes first actually in all nursing discussions, just as the patient comes first in the life of the nurse. No matter what problems in administration the hospital may face, or what difficulties the private duty or public health nurse may have to overcome in the home, the patient must be nursed and the patient must be comfortable. So, in convention programs, no matter what the subject discussed, it has as its basis better service to the patient."

The American Nurses' Association has a membership of 84,138 graduate nurses and is the official organization of nurses in the United States. The other two organizations participating in the convention are the National League of Nursing Education, and the National Organization for Public Health Nursing.

Demarest Outlines His Key Statement In Register Campaign

Declined County Committee Endorsement On Ground Of "Illegality"

W. Howard Demarest, Republican Candidate for Register in the Primaries announced to the Layers' Committee backing his candidacy recently his key statement as regards his place in the campaign. Mr. Demarest declined County Committee endorsement on the ground of illegality resulting in the candidacy of George Stickle. It should be noted Mr. Demarest refused to have the County Committee act upon his candidacy for the same reason. Mr. Demarest deplored William H. Rawson of Bloomfield associating his campaign with that of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow for United States Senator. Mr. Demarest's statement in part says: "The Direct Primary is the instigion responsibility of government by party in the United States can be disregarded by the will of any individual who can manoeuvre a cotery around him, and bind as it were the party membership to that will in a party primary.

I do not wish to confuse the United States Senatorship with the County Register of Essex County. Essex County might be called a state in itself, a group of 800,000 people. Why the Register's Office in Essex County handles more money in a year than the entire budget of the States of Nevada and Idaho. I have divorced my campaign from any other office, from the aspirations of any other men who seek any other office.

I do not propose to impress my attitude concerning the United States Senatorship on the people of this County. I can add nothing to either, nor would I detract from them. They have their contest, I have mine. Neither am I willing to place myself in the position of a kite-tail to the aspirations of any unrelated candidacy no matter how alluring to my fortunes.

This I do know. It has been said that a legal mind with judicial attitude and the ability to work with both employees, the freeholders and the public alike are the main qualifications to the position of Register of Essex County. I subscribe to that theory and I recognize no superiority in these qualifications superior to my own. I think that actual acquaintanceship and experience as a practitioner in the Register's Office added to the other requirements lift me to first place as a qualified candidate, and that the drawing of first place in this group on the ballot is a prophecy.

The Register's Office is ever on the increase in the volume of business it does. Above all else the register is the custodian of the data and records which make secure the property rights of those who carry the burden of the day as taxpayers of this County. I think I can visualize no greater custodianship and hardly a more solemn obligation on the part of a public servant than to keep in vogue in the office the greatest degree of service and effectiveness that my experience as a lawyer, as a recorder in two counties of the State and my direct association with the intricacies of this office hold forth as a fair promise. A stockholders' meeting of republican men and women will occur on Tuesday, June 17. It deserves the individual thought and consideration of every republican. I am willing to leave my candidacy in the hands of those whom I have said, hold the sceptre of the sovereign, the voters of the party. I commit my case to them upon these principles, confident that they will register with the voting public and that they will decide on June 17, that Demarest registers.

Fuel Oil Bus Makes Satisfactory Trip

A Public Service bus, equipped with a Diesel engine, using fuel oil instead of gasoline, has just completed a satisfactory trip from Newark to French Lick, Indiana, a distance of 900 miles, in four days. The route chosen necessitated the crossing of the mountains of Pennsylvania.

The bus left the Public Service Terminal, Newark, Wednesday evening, May 21, and arrived at French Lick, Sunday evening, May 25. The bus was in charge of Albert A. Lyman, automotive engineer, Coordinated Transport, and was driven by Charles Doty, operator-mechanic.

This Diesel electric bus, representing the latest development in the automotive field, is now on exhibition at the silver anniversary meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers, in session at French Lick and will appear in the parade to be held as an anniversary feature. So far as is known, this is the only Diesel electric bus in the world.

The Diesel engine bus is the result of extensive experiments made by Public Service with the use of the Diesel engine for buses following a visit to Germany in 1928 by Matthew R. Boylan, vice president in charge of operation and Martin Schreiber, general manager in charge of plant, of Coordinated Transport. At that time they inspected motor trucks equipped with Diesel engines operating satisfactorily in heavy service. Believing that the engine might be developed for motor bus as well as truck, a Mercedes-Benz Diesel engine was ordered shipped to the company's shops in Newark.

Numerous successful dynamometer tests were conducted by company engineers and the engine was then installed in a gas electric bus, replacing the gasoline engine in use. Road tests proved satisfactory and the bus was driven to Atlantic City last fall to the convention of the American Electric Railway Association. In December of last year the bus was placed in regular operation of the North Newark and the Summer avenue lines, Newark, where it has been operated 7,000 miles.

The engine is a six cylinder Mercedes-Benz Diesel type with a rating of 75 horse power. It is fitted with Robert Bosch fuel pump and injection nozzles. The engine is started from cold with an electric starting motor after heating "glow plugs" in the pre-combustion chambers for about 30 seconds.

The fuel oil used in operation costs considerably less than gasoline and gives better mileage per gallon. This is the most attractive feature of the Diesel operation but also of great importance is the fact that both the ignition system and carburetor are eliminated. With the removal of the ignition system, the fire hazard is practically done away with. Another valuable feature of the new engine is the minimizing of exhaust odors and tests have shown a maximum carbon monoxide content of but three-quarters of one per cent, which is negligible.

Roosevelts Defeat Cardinal Club, 6-2

Sunday afternoon at Capitol Field, the Roosevelt Social Club defeated the strong Jamaica Cardinals, 6-2. Hummel, pitching his first game for the Roosevelt, pitched superb ball and was never in danger. He struck out fourteen batters and allowed six hits.

The Roosevelt collected twelve hits. The Roosevelt put the game in the bag by scoring four runs on five hits in the first inning.

Natale played fine ball in left field. Fusaro, playing centerfield, made two fine throws to the plate to check two runs. Cafone played a fine game at first base and collected two hits. Giardelli, catching for the Roosevelt, was in great shape.

Next Sunday afternoon the Roosevelt will play a team yet to be booked. The Roosevelt would like to hear from Nutley P. C. and the Middletowns. For games write to A. Fusaro, 24 Greylock avenue.

HISTORIC GUARD GREET NEW SHIP 'LAFAYETTE'

When the new motorship, "Lafayette," sailed for the first time into New York harbor, she brought to our shores the Marquis Jacques de Dampierre, direct descendant of Lafayette, to be the guest of the National Educational Committee of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation. The committee invited the residents of Jefferson's native city, Charlottesville, Virginia, who constitute the historic military unit known as the "Monticello Guard," to act as escort of honor to the descendant of Lafayette.

"We believe in the power of visual education," stated Joseph Miller, Jr., chairman of the committee. "Therefore, we realize that the presence of this historic Guard in the old uniforms of the Revolutionary period greeting the Lafayette descendant is a picture that will remind our country of those great days when Jefferson with his pen and Lafayette with his sword were working at the side of George Washington for the ideals of liberty of which we are so proud today."

Ceremonies commemorating the patriot whose name the French Line chose for the new ship began on board the Lafayette. A colorful celebration marking the ninety-fourth anniversary of the death of the Marquis de Lafayette was held at sea. The Marquis de Dampierre delivered an address praising the heroism of the officers and men of the Continental Army and expressed his great gratification at the part played by his illustrious ancestor and his brave fellow-countrymen in the great deeds of those stirring times.

Another impressive occasion en route described by passengers was the first salute at sea received by the "Lafayette" when her big sister, the "De France" and the White Star Liner, "Majestic," both Europe-bound, together passed close to the "Lafayette" while their passengers lined the rails and cheered, and the whistles roared a greeting. POLITICS AND PERSONALITIES

The zest with which Senators leaped back into tariff debate when the flexible provision and export debenture came up for vote recently astonished many. If members of the upper body were loathe to return, after a brief respite, to their fifteen-months-old pampered cry-baby, they concealed it nobly. Rarely have the galleries witnessed as much vigorous breast-beating, finger-pointing, and racy repartee. The coalition, although it was squeezed to defeat by a one-vote margin, put up the best show. Two paragraphs from their attacks on the bill are particularly apt. The first is from Senator Swanson of Virginia:

"If the issue should result in the death of the bill, the country would be saved, the country would be benefited, the industries of the United States would be relieved. I will not be distressed by the death of this bill. Nine-tenths of the people of the country would be glad if it were killed."

And from Senator Tom Connolly of Texas:

"If this bill is enacted without the debenture it will present the strange anomaly of a farmers' tariff bill that does something for everybody on earth except the farmer, and it will do more to the farmer than any other tariff bill heretofore enacted."

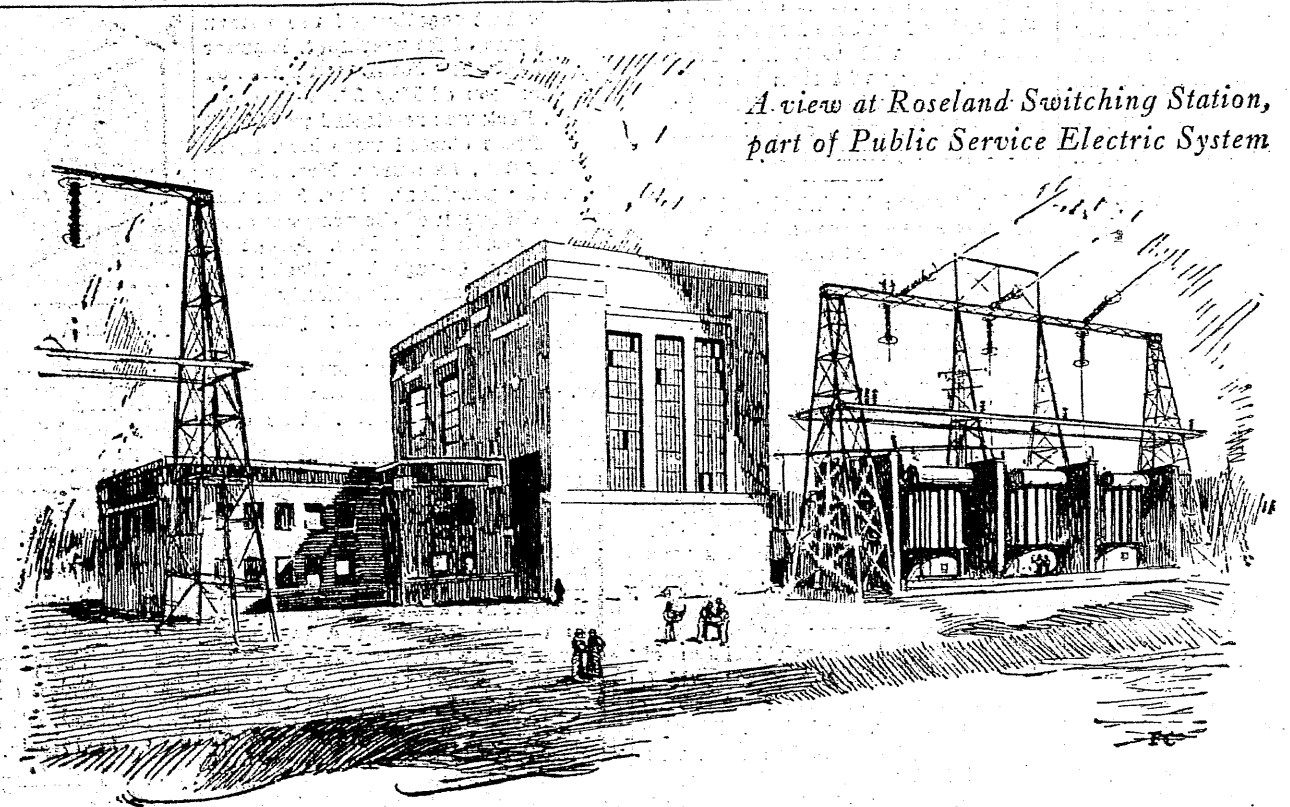

Outside the Senate, loud warnings continue to split the heavens. A bombardment of denunciation from industrialists landed on the front pages within one week. A poll taken by "The Nation" in a solidly industrial section showed newspaper editors overwhelmingly for a veto. It is significant that a large portion of the opposition to the bill came from Republican editors. Perhaps they recall, what Congress seems to have forgotten; that the enactment of the McKinley tariff bill cost the G. O. P. 85 members of Congress; the Dingley tariff act cost 21 members; the Payne-Aldrich bill cost 57 members; and the Fordney-McCumber act cost 75 members. But we venture to say that Mr. Hoover hasn't forgotten. Imagine a President ignoring a death signal as real as that!

The United States Federal lighthouse tender, "Acacia," has recently sailed from San Juan, Porto Rico, on a voyage to some of the most inaccessible lighthouses in the world. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on June 1, 1930.

The Golden Text was: "The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay such as be of upright conversation. Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bow shall be broken." (Psalms 37:14,15).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Beware not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them: I am the Lord your God." (Leviticus 19:31).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Animal Magnetism has no scientific foundation for God governs all that is real, harmonious, and eternal, and His power is neither animal nor human." (p. 102).

Notes

A big day at Grace Church, Sunday. One of the big events of the year will take place. The morning service will be given over to the children. Children's Day comes but once a year; and the boys and girls are going to make the most of it. They have prepared an attractive program for the entertainment of their elders.

Russell; Song, All Departments; A Rose Bud, Ruth Shannon; My Piece, Lois Goldsmith; The Bird Song, Audrey Hyde; Thank You Heavenly Father, Betty Gourman; Song, Primary Department; Welcome, Paul McDonnell; The Day I Love, Helen Tomshaw; Song, Jesus' Little Lamb, Margaret Hyde; Flowers for Children's Day, Robert Hageman; What Little Ones Can Do, Thelma Prescott; Giving to Jesus, June Shannon; Your Share, George Pooley; Books of the Old Testament, Helen Tomshaw; Presentation of Rewards, Rev. George W. McCombe; Offering; Song, by the school.

Exercise, The Visitors—Elizabeth McFadden, Helen Hyde and Elizabeth Sheppard; Remarks, The Pastor; Song, School, and Benediction, the Pastor.

Shamrock V has become a reality and this coming September will witness a contest that will delight the heart of the yachting fan. The boat which will defend the cup is yet to be determined. The enterprise is the first in the field, or we had better say the ocean; but the Yankee, the Weetamoo and the Whirlwind are nearly completed, and will soon be put to the trial tests. It is said that something like $4,000,000 will be spent on this year's race. No matter how much we desire the cup to remain in the possession of the good old U. S. A. we must admire the determined spirit and patriotism of Sir Thomas Lipton. We can only say, in the spirit of fair play: Let the better boat win.

Sunday evening, 7:45, the Sunshine Chapter of the World Wide Guild of Grace Church will have charge. An interesting program has been prepared by the young ladies. A brilliant speaker, in the person of Mrs. Bingham of the Newark Evening News staff has been secured. There will also be an initiation into the mysteries of the World Wide Guild, of six Italian young ladies from the Newark Christian Center. The closing part of the program will be the impressive Candle Service of the Guild. Everyone who cares to attend will find a welcome at all the services of Grace Church, Sunday.

Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. P. Hall, in the Lindy Apartments, Union avenue, the Sunshine Chapter of Grace Church, was entertained by Mrs. Hall. It is needless to say that a wonderful evening was enjoyed by all, as Mrs. Hall is a fast mistress in the art of entertaining. During the evening bountiful refreshments were served.

Some people are so spiritual that they have little if any religion left. Look out for the person that is so perfect that he or she thinks that everybody who does not agree with them is going to perdition.

Tuesday evening the subject of discussion at the Fellowship Service was Great Thought from Great Minds. It is a source of great pleasure to find that in spite of so many taking vacations at this time of the year these congregations show very little decrease in numbers up to the present time.

Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Raleigh Jacobs, on Overlook avenue, the Ladies' Auxiliary held their closing session. They have had a wonderful year and have done much to make possible one of the best years in the history of Grace Church. Much credit must be given to the ladies for their energy and zeal and under the inspiring leadership of Mrs. George Weirick, the president, a great record has been established for the past year.
