School No. 3 To Hold Graduation Exercises In The High School

Pupils Protected Against Change To Auditorium At School No. 8

The desire of eighth grade pupils of School 3, to hold graduation exercises June 25 in the high school auditorium instead of at School 3 has been granted. The program committee of the Board of Education announced through John P. Maher, president, Wednesday, that "the committee has arranged to have the exercises at the high school."

Supervising Principal George R. Gerard, the other member of the committee, had formerly thought the exercises should be changed from the high school to School 8. The board favored the change but the prospective graduates protested it would spoil their plans to present a certain play at the exercises.

"How the Race was Won," is the title of the two-act play. Pupils felt the facilities at School 8 would not permit them to do justice to the play and they lacked sufficient space at their own school.

The cast of the play includes Marion David, Jean McKay, Marion Miller, Sarah Carden, Lola Schall, Thelma Pettit, Jack Luhnke, Harry Wortman, Henry Schmidt, Albert Pascal, Betty Sheehan and Madelyn Book.

Pay Primary Bills From Contingent Fund

Fireworks Permit Will Not Be Issued To Societies Says Fuselle

Municipal election expenses having totaled $12,500, the Town Commission Tuesday night discussed financing of the primaries. Of a $9,000 emergency note passed last week to cover the town election only about $50 is left and more is needed.

It was decided the expense will be taken from the contingent fund if there is money to cover the need. Decision was left to Town Clerk John J. Daly.

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher thought the expense should be estimated beforehand to prevent "another mixup and a lot of fighting" like that during settlement of the municipal election costs not covered by a $5,000 budget.

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, the other Democratic member, remarked with a smile that the primaries would be "a Republican fight and Republican taxpayers should pay the bill."

The clerk was instructed to write the San Gerardo and San Bartolomeo societies of the Silver Lake section that, under the new state law, according to a report of Frank Fuselle, inspector of combustibles, the board could not grant a permit for fireworks in August celebration of the societies.

Permission was given Louis Stefanelli to arrange a parade through Belleville tomorrow night on behalf of William H. Rawson's candidacy for the Republican county register nomination.

The next board meeting was set for Monday night due to the primaries Tuesday.

George B. Stewart, Jr., vice president of the Belwood Park Improvement Association, was present at the board and asked when it would make the realignment petitioned for several weeks ago in districts 2 and 5 in ward 4.

The board informed Mr. Stewart the matter was approved and presented to the Board of Elections, which informed it no change could be made between March and November.

The petition asked for realignment for residents of Smallwood avenue, some of whom are forced to walk nearly a mile in order to vote at School No. 2, while others on the opposite side of the street could vote at School No. 10, in the vicinity.

John B. Brown, corporation counsel, was instructed to see if a change could be made before the election in the fall.

William D. Clark, director of public safety, will investigate a report concerning unpleasant odors emanating from the plant of the National Grain Yeast Corporation at 810 Mill street.

LEADING AMATEUR SCULLERS WILL SHOW IN MATCHES ON THE PASSAIC

Will Compete In Regatta Under Joint Auspices Of Nereid Boat Club And Tuscarora Canoe Club

The leading amateur scullers in the East will participate in the regatta to be held on the Passaic River at Belleville Saturday, June 28, under the joint auspices of the Nereid Boat Club and Tuscarora Canoe Club of that town and the Active Boat Club of Edgewater.

At a meeting of representatives of these club in the Nereid clubhouse Tuesday night it was decided to add to the program of events a single senior shell race open to all rowing clubs affiliated with the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen and other organizations in the East.

The event will be the first of its kind to be held on the Passaic River since the days of the Passaic River Amateur Rowing Association regattas back in the nineties. Arthur C. Mundell, president of the New York Rowing Association, has promised several entries from the club on the Harlem River and several more are expected from clubs on the Schuylkill River, Philadelphia.

There will also be six other sculling and rowing events and seven canoe races. Gold medals will be awarded to the winners in each event and silver cups and plaques will go to the clubs whose crews are victorious.

C. Leverich Brett, was elected permanent chairman of the regatta committee. Mr. Brett named various committees to complete all arrangements for the regatta.

The races will be rowed over the mile course above the turnpike bridge at Belleville and finish opposite the clubhouse of the Tuscarora Canoe Club. A grandstand will be erected for the accommodation of the public.

The canoe races are expected to attract most of the expert paddlers in the East. Ernest Riedel of the Penndenton Canoe Club, New York, one-man single blade world champion, will likely be represented in several races. The Tuscaroras will have a large squad of paddlers trying for the honors.

More than fifty scullers and sweep men will represent the Nereid and Active clubs in the rowing events. Next week the Actives will bring their racing shell from Edgewater to the Nereid clubhouse and begin practicing on the Passaic course.

T. J. Van Twist, chairman of the rowing committee of the New York Athletic Club, has been appointed referee and starter and Frank A. Menne, Nassau Boat Club, New York, will act as clerk of the course. Final arrangements will be made at a meeting June 23.

The scullers and sweep men of the Active Boat Club are to make a strong bid for honors at the coming regatta. They have been in training on the Hudson River two months and on Memorial Day made a good showing in the Harlem River regatta. Last Sunday they made a clean sweep in a tri-cornered meet at Edgewater, winning first in the junior single gig, junior double gig and junior eight-oared shell races.

The Tuscarora Canoe Club has added a new canoe-housing shed to its property on the Passaic River bank at Belleville. It measures 24x40 feet and will provide storage room for visitors competing in local regattas. The club acted as host Sunday to a delegation of paddlers of the Bristol, (Pa.) Canoe Club.

Frank P. Martin

Frank P. Martin of 440 Belleville avenue, a former restaurant director for the Federal government in Panama, died at his home early Wednesday after a year's illness. Born in Pittsburgh fifty-eight years ago, he had lived in Belleville nearly five years and several years in Newark. In the last few years he had managed various restaurants in this area.

He leaves his wife and two children, Stephen and Miss Frances Martin, of the Belleville address.

A mass of requiem was offered at St. Peter's Church, Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, North Arlington.

Republicans Plan Golf Tournament

Affair Will Be Held At Forest Hill Club This Afternoon

The Belleville Republican Club is making arrangements for a golf tournament which will be held at Forest Hill Club, this afternoon. Dinner will be served at 12:30 at the club and play will start at 2.

Awards are the Mayor's and Commissioners' silver cup, donated by Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and Commissioners William D. Clark and William H. Williams; assemblyman's award by Assemblyman Homer Zink and president's trophy, Floyd Bragg, one of which will go to the most honest score turned in; the other to the player who fails to make a birdie.

According to Hoyle, or who is it, Eddie Grant is official handicapper. He says he promises all a fair shake.

There are still a few places left for the fracas and members may enter by communicating with Health Officer Eugene T. Berry, or telephone Belleville 2832. Plans are under way for the club to enter the Essex County Inter Club tourney.

FRELINGHUYSEN WORKERS PLAN WHIRLWIND FINISH ON TUESDAY

Recruiting Among County Committee Members Is Being Made For Volunteer Helpers At Primary

Commissioner William H. Williams and his organization which is backing the candidacy of Joseph Frelinghuysen for senator are putting the finishing touches to a whirlwind campaign prior to a busy day at the primary, Tuesday. Workers are being organized, especially among county committee members, most of whom some time ago pledged Frelinghuysen their support.

A delegation of local veterans are also working in Frelinghuysen's behalf for what they term his "unstudied work for the service men."

Mr. Williams declares that as a former State Senator, Frelinghuysen acted as follows:

Author of Automobile Laws, Reorganization of Public School System, embodied in 21 Laws, Started State Road Movement and Sponsored Laws for Pure Food, for Agricultural Betterments, Reforms in State Institutions, Equal Taxes and Many other Progressive Laws.

As U. S. Senator, as member Military Affairs Committee, he took active part in Welfare of Enlisted Soldiers, Aided in Organization of Aviation Branch of Service, Aided in Settlement of War Claims, Aided in Securing Federal Development of Newark Bay, Kept Hoboken Piers from Shipping Board Control, Aided New Jersey in Fight Against Shore Pollution and Aided in Coal Trust Fight during War.

His platform is:

For a national policy of economic government, without obstructing the progress of desirable improvements intended to furnish employment in times of depression.

For further relief of the heavy burden of federal taxation and progressive liquidation of war debts.

For continuance of present army establishment, its reserve and military system.

For an adequate navy of the highest efficiency on a parity with Great Britain.

Approves President Hoover's World Peace policy to strive for permanent peace while keeping our national defenses in condition to prevent foreign invasion.

For modification of the prohibition laws by Constitutional Amendment; a constructive plan for liquor control, government regulation and the absolute elimination of the saloon and all private profits.

Opposed to any commitment carrying obligations involving our country in European politics. Traditional policy of non-interference strongly approved.

Regards obligation to veterans of World War a sacred duty.

Applauds growing participation of women in public affairs as increasing influence for good government.

Hickman Again In Local Court

Neighborhood Complains Of Loud, Offensive Language

Charged by a neighbor with disorderly conduct in the use of "vile, indecent, loud, offensive language," Patrick H. Hickman, retired shoe last manufacturer and inventor of 32 Essex street, was arraigned before Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons Monday night. The court held Hickman under $1,000 bail for a further hearing Monday night.

The understanding was Hickman should dispose of his Essex street property where the complaint and half a dozen neighbors said he created public disturbance several years. Horace D. Windship of 41 Essex street signed the complaint. The complainant said he was ready to see to it the property is purchased within the week's time.

A year ago Hickman was remanded to the county jail by the recorder for observation of his mental condition. Through failure of the commitment papers being produced in the Court of Chancery, where a writ of habeas corpus was sought, the aged man was forthwith released, necessitating a new start of proceedings by the neighbors.

Neighbors testified Hickman, upon no provocation of theirs, would call them indecent names and threaten them with stones. Mothers feared for the safety of their children when he was about, they said.

Church Garden Party

A garden party will be held tomorrow from 3 o'clock until 9 for the United Presbyterian Church, Newark, at the home of the pastor, Rev. G. Herbert Ekins, 62 Campbell avenue.

Too Late, Again

Every once in a while a weekly newspaper strikes a snag in late news—that could be sent in early in the week, just as well. Yesterday was such a time for your Belleville News.

May we again request of our readers that early happenings will have a better chance of getting in the news columns if they reach us early in the week. Thursday is reserved for late news and advertisements. It is impossible on that day for mechanical reasons to set in type many columns of news. Will you please try to co-operate? We do not want to leave your items out but such items that arrive Thursday will be so treated.

"HEART TAG DAY" BY VOLUNTEERS

Tomorrow will be "heart day" in Belleville for the Volunteers of America, permission having been given to a representative of that institution founded many years ago by General and Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth. This is to be a children's drive to help children in this state, for the work is to be done by the local girls and boys under the direction of Mrs. Ernest H. Alden who will have charge of the children's work and finances.

The following will represent the organization on the occasion: Rev. Edgar M. Compton, Mrs. W. R. Adams, Mrs. R. C. Whitfield, Mrs. Lionel Phillips, Mrs. A. N. Streeter, Mrs. Edward Nelson, Rev. Peter Deckenbach.

Headquarters will be at the Council Room in the Town Hall. The Volunteers of America is foremost in the nation in its systematic spiritual work in the prisons of the United States; its Hope Halls and employment bureaus where discharged or paroled men may stay one day to two weeks while seeking work.

BABE RUTH AND A. HARRY MOORE TO BE PRESENT AT THE AFFAIR

The Elks are at it again. And more power to 'em. Their efforts when seeking the support of the public is generally for a worth-while cause. And at this time this organization of real men have one of the finest appeals to make to every Bellevilleite who has an ounce of real warm red blood pulsating through his body. Charity is one of the key-notes of this organization and the local lodge is making every effort to exemplify this virtue.

But even charity itself takes on a halo when dispensed for the really worth-while cause which the local B. P. O. E's are now scheduling. The crippled kiddies at the mention of whom, men's hearts of stone turn to fountains of sympathy, are engaging the thoughts of the boys of No. 1123 Lodge. A program of which the show to be held on Sunday, June 24 is the forerunner is now being planned to raise the sum of $5,000.00 for this worth-while, everyone's cause. Their efforts will be crowned with success is almost a foregone conclusion. For if we may paraphrase for a moment:

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,

Who never to himself has said:

"This is a cause that is worth-while To help a helpless, crippled child."

This short political flight so full of sentiment expresses the feeling and tendencies of every Elk not only in town but throughout the state and country.

Show At Capitol Will Be Capital Show.

Fully realizing that the appeal for the crippled kiddies in itself would be sufficient the committee headed by Joe Reilly, chairman and assisted by none other than our own Mayor S. S. Kenworthy, augmented by a group of live wires from the local lodge are putting across the biggest extravaganza in the shape of a vaudeville bill ever offered. Despite the ban for Sunday shows, in charity's sweet name the ban will be lifted for one day, Sunday, June 24.

SPEAKING FOR MORROW MINISTER URGES REPEAL OF EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT

Rev. G. Herbert Ekins Will Again Address Local Morrow Organization At Headquarters Tonight

Declaring that a man the type of Ambassador Dwight Morrow is needed in the Senate at the present time and prohibition has become impracticable under the Eighteenth Amendment and Volstead Act, Rev. G. Herbert Ekins, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, Newark, addressed members of the local Morrow organization Saturday night in headquarters, 414 Washington avenue.

So well did Mr. Ekins outline his talk that he created a stir throughout the state. He will speak again tonight at another meeting of the organization which is headed by Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy.

Mr. Ekins, who lives at 62 Campbell avenue, this town, campaigned under Roosevelt and was at one time secretary of the Connecticut Anti Saloon League. He was commended last Saturday for his most excellent talk by Senator Joseph G. Wolber who was at the gathering.

"I am for Morrow apart altogether from his stand on prohibition," said Mr. Ekins. "I am for him as a man because of his ability to grasp world situations and also because men of his type are needed in the Senate at the present time."

"The key to the prohibition issue is handing back responsibility to states. The central government will never be able to cope with the issue. I am for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Steel, Jr., and family will leave the latter part of the month for Downingtown, Penn., where Mr. Steel has charge of a camp for boys.

We are equipped to clean your store or office windows. Residences a specialty. Special rates by the month. Belleville Window Cleaning Co., 103 Washington avenue. Phone Belleville 3945.

Don't Say Business Is No Good—Read Grace Church Notes

In the Grace Church notes today, is a little information for advertisers and prospective advertisers, who say business is no good. It represents the thought of one of the leaders in the town. So, Mr. Business Man, we would suggest you read it and heed the advice if you see business slipping by your door to Newark.

Presto, Chango—And Change Goes

A bakery shop proprietor has two blank sheets of paper and twelve cents in two-cent stamps. Instead of two $10 bills.

Tuesday night Mrs. Anna Muller gave a stranger who walked into her shop at 382 Washington avenue the pair of notes, so he could send them in a letter to "Dr. C. D. Rutledge at Woodside Hospital, Philadelphia." The man was going to give her $20 in small bills but, discovering he had only $19, gave the already sealed envelop into the proprietor's hands while he went out to "get another bill."

Mrs. Muller told police the stranger was five feet seven inches tall, with light complexion, and wore a raincoat and brown felt hat.

Prohibition Stand Gains Support For Franklin W. Fort

Meeting At Brown's Home Was Interesting And Successful

The meeting of the "Fort of Senators Clubs" held at the home of Town Counsel John B. Brown, 353 Washington avenue, was most successful. There were over fifty men and women present and some very interesting discussions preceding the meeting.

F. W. Holland, chairman of the men's committee, acted as chairman and read the letter outlining the views of the committee as to the reasons for advancing the candidacy of Franklin W. Fort for Senator. This letter has been signed by some two hundred Belleville residents and reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned, realize the high character of the three Republican candidates for the United States Senatorship from New Jersey.

"We believe, however, that prohibition is the greatest issue in the present campaign and have decided to support Franklin W. Fort who declares 'The issue is Prohibition—not friendship. The liquor traffic is outlawed and must so remain.'

"We deplore the tendency to belittle the advancement made under Prohibition and deny it is a failure.

"We believe in Prohibition for the benefit it has brought to the workman and his family. Let us not return to the saloon.

We cordially invite you to work with us to secure the nomination of Franklin W. Fort."

Mr. Holland has organized groups of district workers and they report that the results obtained have been very encouraging. The women, under their chairman, Mrs. W. C. Weyant, are working along the same lines. Chairmen for the various wards and districts have been appointed. Checks from prominent residents have been received and will be used to further the work.

The progress being made by Fort Clubs throughout the State is most inspiring. New committees are being formed and new members joining every day. Mrs. C. W. Morgan, one of the most ardent workers in the campaign reported that organizations have been formed in practically every town and are steadily growing.

The women's committee met at the home of Mrs. Brown Tuesday afternoon to do the clerical work in connection with the campaign.

Creamed Chicken and Olives

on Toast:—3 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, salt, pepper, onion juice to season, 2 cups diced cold chicken or veal, ½ cup Stuffed Spanish Olives, 2 egg yolks. Melt butter and blend thoroughly with flour. Add milk, salt, pepper, and onion juice. Stir until thick and creamy, add chicken and veal, and the Olives cut in slices. When boiling take from the fire and add the well beaten egg yolks. Serve on toast or in bread cases.

Casserole of Corn and Kidney Beans:

—1 medium size can Corn, 1 medium size can Oven Baked Kidney Beans, 1 finely chopped green pepper, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 3 tablespoons grated cheese, a few fine buttered crumbs. Mix the beans, corn, finely minced green pepper, salt and the well beaten egg. Pour into a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with cheese and a layer of buttered crumbs, and bake in a moderate oven for 30 to 45 minutes.

Peanut Butter and Bacon Canapés:

—Spread small slices of rounds of bread with Peanut Butter. Cover them with thin slices of finely chopped uncooked bacon. Broil slowly until bacon is crisp and delicately brown, or bake in a moderately hot oven until the bacon is cooked. Serve with Spanish Queen Olives.

Corned Beef Hash with Tomato Sauce:

—8 medium size potatoes, 1 clove of garlic, 2 green peppers, 2 small onions, 1 small can Cream of Tomato Soup, ½ cup water, ¼ teaspoon paprika. Chop all the ingredients quite fine. Place in a skillet, cover with soup and water. Cook with cover on until vegetables are tender, stirring often to keep from sticking to pan. Place in loaf pan or casserole and brown on top for about 25 minutes. Serve with hot rolls and Sweet Pickles.

Baked Bean Rarebit:

—2 cups scalded milk, 1 medium can Oven Baked Beans (Boston Style), ¼ cup American Cheese, 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ cup water, salt, pepper, Worcestershire Sauce. To scalded milk add beans which have been mashed finely. Add the cheese chopped fine, and stir constantly over a slow fire until the cheese is melted. Then if desired, add flour blended with water to slightly thicken. Cook for several minutes. Season with salt, pepper, Worcestershire Sauce. Serve on slices of buttered toast.

Many a Cook's Renown Rests Upon Her Sauces

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company.

MUCH of the French cook's reputation for excellent food has been gained through the use of skillfully blended sauces. And American women are coming to learn that the success of almost any dish—whether it be meat, fish, entree or dessert—depends greatly upon its accompanying condiment.

Sauces which lend this delightful piquancy to food may be divided, roughly, into two general groups: Those which we serve with meat, fish, vegetable and egg dishes; and those specially suited for puddings and desserts.

In baking meats, many women use the famous Barbecue Sauce to lend a delightful flavor. The recipe given for this below is for a quantity sufficient to prepare a large roast for picnic or church supper use. The sauce, however, may be safely kept in the family ice-box for several weeks if care is taken to keep the container closely covered.

Hollandaise Sauce is another great favorite for cauliflower, asparagus, fish and other dishes. Since many women find this sauce extremely difficult to make, however, the recipe for Mock Hollandaise—which scarcely can be distinguished from the regular sauce—should be welcomed.

If you will clip out the following recipes for sauces and put them in your scrapbook, I am sure you will find many occasions to use them:

Barbecue Sauce:—Chop 1 onion and a clove of garlic. Add ½ cup Tomato Ketchup, ¼ cup Pure Vinegar, ¼ cup Worcestershire Sauce, 1 medium can of Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon sugar. Add pepper and salt to taste. Cook to the boiling point and use to baste a ham, a roast of lamb or beef, or any meat you wish to barbecue.

Mock Hollandaise Sauce:—Melt ¼ cup butter and blend thoroughly with 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1 egg yolk well beaten, ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ cup hot water. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from fire and add 5 tablespoons Mayonnaise Salad Dressing, and 1½ tablespoons Pure Cider Vinegar. Serve at once with baked or fried fish, or with asparagus, cauliflower, or Brussels Sprouts.

Tomato Sauce is always a favorite to serve with omelets, cheese dishes, meats or baked bean dishes, and the following recipe for making a quick one is well worth remembering:

Quick Tomato Sauce:—Heat a small can of Cream of Tomato Soup and when it reaches the boiling point, slightly thicken with a small amount of flour blended with butter. A few drops of onion juice may be added if desired.

An easily prepared Tartar Sauce to accompany fish is made by combining ¼ cup of Sandwich Relish and 1/3 cup Mayonnaise Salad Dressing.

Butterscotch Sauce:—Cook together 1 cup brown sugar, ¼ cup butter and ½ teaspoon of Pure Vinegar until thick and bubbly. Then add 1/3 cup cream and allow to cook until boiling again, stirring constantly. This will take only a minute or so. Take from the fire, cool and flavor with 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Chocolate Sauce:—¼ cup cocoa, ½ cup cold water, 1 cup sugar, few grains salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon Pure Vinegar. Mix cocoa, sugar, salt, vinegar and cold water. Stir over direct heat and boil 3 minutes (220 F.). Remove from fire and add vanilla and butter.

THE PRINCE'S COSTUME

There is nothing subdued about the golfing or sport look of the Prince of Wales. His latest photograph shows him arrayed in a pronounced "plus fours" suit, which looks to be composed of extra large black and white square, a sort of magnified pepper-and-salt effect. A rakish cup of the same material and widely striped stockings complete the ensemble, not forgetting the turn-down collar and dark tie. Perhaps the camera does not give the real colors of the outfit, but, in any event, the costume is striking.

PAINTING

Proposals for Interior and Exterior Paint and Varnishing.

Proposals for painting and varnishing class rooms, corridors, etc., and for exterior painting will be received in the office of the Board of Education, High School, Washington Avenue, until 4 P. M., on the afternoon of Monday, June 16th. Specifications and all particulars may be obtained by applying to the office of the Board of Education. Proposals must be submitted in a sealed envelope plainly marked on the outside "Proposals for Painting," and addressed "Board of Education, Belleville, N. J."

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to waive technicalities as the interests of the School District may require.

There will be a meeting of the committee at the club house Friday afternoon, June 13, from 2 to 4 o'clock. All members of the committee are urged to be present.

The last card party of the season will be held at the club house Monday afternoon, June 16, at 2:30 o'clock. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. George P. Oslin, Mrs. H. L. Hamilton, Mrs. Harold K. Shoop, Mrs. Ernest Johnson and Mrs. James G. Shawger. The acting card party chairman will be Mrs. Ira Cornell. This affair promises to be most interesting inasmuch as the prizes will be awarded to the players having made high score in bridge, whist and pinochle during the last seven card afternoons. Tallies have been in charge of Mrs. J. Harry Hardman. The regular card parties will be continued in the fall and many unique features are promised.

CLOSING OF SCHOOLS IS SET FOR CURRENT YEAR ON FRIDAY, JUNE 7

Belleville Public Schools will close for the current year on Friday, June 27 and in connection therewith programs will be presented as follows:

High School Class Night will occur in that building on Friday, June 20, and the thirty-third Annual Commencement will be held on Thursday evening, June 26. It is believed a class of ninety will be graduated, and an orator of note in the person of Dr. Francis Harvey Green will be the commencement speaker.

School No. One will hold its closing exercises in that building on Wednesday, June 25.

School No. Three will present its program in the auditorium at No. Eight School on Wednesday, June 25.

School No. Four will offer its program in its own assembly hall on Wednesday, June 25.

School No. Five will give its first annual program in its own assembly room on Tuesday, June 24.

School No. Seven will render its program on Friday, June 27, in that School. School No. Eight holds its program in that building on Tuesday, June 24.

The several grammar schools will have the following approximate numbers of pupils finish the eighth grade: No. One, 70; No. Three, 85; No. Four, 100; No. Five, 60; No. Seven, 30; and No. Eight, 60; a total of about 400. This exceeds last year's group by nearly 50, and is the largest number passed out of Belleville Grammar Schools.

All of these programs will begin at 8:15 P. M. except that at No. Four which will be held at two o'clock in the afternoon. Admission to all of these programs will be by ticket which may be obtained from the members of the Board of Education or of the members of the classes. There will be no reserved seats other than two each for parents of the Senior Class in High School, and those will not be held beyond eight o'clock.

IN SOCIETY

Miss Bertha Kline, executive secretary of the Community Service Bureau left Saturday afternoon to attend the National Conference of Social Work at Boston. During her absence the assistant, Miss Helen Colehamer, was in charge of the office, which is open from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Roof Tree Branch of the International Sunshine Society will hold its closing social this afternoon at the Recreation House. The price of admission will be one cent for every inch of waist measurement. Cards will be played and refreshments served. Mrs. L. P. Baurhenn is chairman. These new members were received at a recent meeting: Mrs. Cora Ameling of Newark and Mrs. Margaret Moore and Mrs. Walter Lemon of Belleville. Mrs. F. J. Schweitzer was made a member of the good and welfare committee.

Miss Charlotte Wilford of Cedar Grove, formerly of Belleville, was a week-end guest of Miss Marie Kasper of 234 Holmes street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goldberg of 142 Holmes street entertained Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. Russell Canfield of East Orange and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Mullanaphy and Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Black of Belleville. Mrs. Goldberg's mother, Mrs. Pierre Black, of the Holmes street address is visiting Mrs. Pierson Black of Bonton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Budd and family were dinner guests of Mrs. Budd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Harrison of 155 Holmes street, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Denman of Washington, N. J., have concluded a visit at the Harrison home.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy of Belleville and Rev. Winfield Booth, secretary of the Baptist City Mission Society, will speak tonight at the seventh annual banquet of the Young Men's Club of First Italian Baptist Church, Belleville. Rocco LePond is chairman of the event, which will be held in the Sunday School room.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fischer of Oak street celebrated their twenty-eighth wedding anniversary Wednesday in rather a unique manner, as they attended the banquet given at Elks' Club, Newark, by the Grand Chapter Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Wednesday night. The real celebration is liable to come later, though.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fischer of Division avenue, son and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fischer also attended, as Mr. Edgar Fischer is Grand Noble of Protection Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy E. Wilson of 435 Washington avenue left Tuesday for Pittsburgh to attend the graduation of their son, Tracy, from the dental college at the University of Pittsburgh Wednesday. All will return tomorrow. The young man is a graduate of Belleville High School and Muhlenberg College. He will spend the summer with his parents.

A group of Belleville men motored to Washington over the week-end to attend the convention of the National Federation of Men's Bible Classes. The party included: O. T. Breunlich, John Pole, Ira Cornell and J. A. Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. John DeGraw and son John Burr of 207 Washington avenue spent the week-end at their summer home at Green Pond.

Mrs. Martin Cosgrove of 18 Perry street entertained a bridge club Wednesday afternoon.

Interesting Recital Heard

Eleanor Bacon-Peck, Ann Van Sickle and Christine Wellington Phillips presented a group of their piano, vocal and violin pupils in a recital at the auditorium of school No. 3 on the evening of June 5, before a large and enthusiastic audience. Much real talent was evidenced by this group of young artists, their performances reflecting the high ideals of their respective teachers.

Mrs. Van Sickle's pupils displayed marked improvement over the work of last year.

The violin solos by Jean Tallman and Raymond Maxwell disclosed well directed talent.

A few characterizations of the piano pupils were excellent hand compositions, technical achievement and interpretation, particularly noticeable in so young a group.

Birthday Party

A pleasant crowd of young folks gathered at the home of Miss Rita Jenkins on Tuesday afternoon to celebrate her eighth birthday. Games were played. A dancing exhibition was given by Jane Clancy and Patricia Owens. The following were present: Patricia Owens, Dorothy Rowland, Jean Peterson, Marilyn Jacobson, Janet Ewert, Donald Peterson, Elaine Piran, Jane Clancy, Marion Dunowitch, Jean Tooth, Christiana Bader, Donald McCabe, Rose Mary McCabe and Rita Jenkins.

Shower

A blue and ivory kitchen shower was tendered Miss Alibna Columbo of 45 Cedar Hill avenue, who is engaged to Joseph Piscicello of Newark, and Saturday evening, by the Misses Teresa Columbo and Maria A. M. Petronella. A buffet supper was served after which dancing was enjoyed.

Decorations were in pink and green with miniature kitchen furnishings. Guests were from Newark, North Bergen, Passaic and Belleville.

Bon Voyage Party

A bon voyage party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jirak of 177 Cedar Hill avenue at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bremer of 179 Cedar Hill avenue, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jirak will sail Wednesday on the Deutschland and will make a three months' tour of Europe. Mr. Ludwig Bremer will also sail on the same steamer.

Y.

Naval Treaty Miss Snag in Senate Johnson Threatens to Grow Beard

By E. W. Nelson

Our special correspondent on Naval Affairs pulled a stroke oar for the J. C. S. and for fourteen years was a conductor on the Staten Island ferries. Aside from an attempt to swim the English Channel, he is a licensed life guard and was decorated three times by the Coast Guard for saving the lives of sailors. Next week he will tell how the treaty affects the Great Lakes excursion boats and tattooing on the chest.

Sen. Johnson—Mr. Secretary, would you say this treaty gives us parity with Great Britain?

Sec. Stimson—I desire to answer that on the ground it might incriminate me, but I will say that we secured the right to carry fresh vegetables in case of war and the pants on Great Britain's sailors are to be no larger at the bottom than ours.

Sen. Johnson—Still, you must admit that the 5-3 ratio with Japan is practically nullified, if not nullified?

Sec. Stimson—I don't admit that. While Japan carries more bunting, our anchors are much heavier, and our outboard motors exceed theirs 50 to 1.

Sen. Johnson—Yes, but how do you reconcile Great Britain's tonnage with our category?

Sec. Stimson—You have me there. The fact is, in measuring our category, Sec. Adams lost our verbatim and we used a piece of string, measuring from the chin. But don't forget we got an escalator clause and the right to age our sauer kraut in the barrels.

Sen. Johnson—Does that explain the number of tugboats assigned to the Concord Line?

Sec. Stimson—I wouldn't go that far, but we secured the right to mount six-inch gun-whiles on the Lehigh Valley coal barges and the Hudson River Night Line.

Sen. Johnson—You seem to have forgotten the irreducible minimum?

Sec. Stimson—Well, in the hurry of packing I did forget it, but the hotel forwarded it later along with my Indian clubs.

Sen. Johnson—The General Board of the Navy claims that our sailors no longer have a sweetheart in every port. How did we lose that ratio?

Sec. Stimson—A secret conference was held on this and the papers reported that we were recruiting bow-legged sailors. My personal belief is that this loss is due to this tonnage and that every sailor should wear a gingham.

Sen. Johnson—Actually, Mr. Secretary, what do we get to balance Japan's four-wheel drive and Great Britain's extra gangplank?

Sec. Stimson—Clause 10 of the treaty gives us shatter-proof glass in the windshield of our automobiles to keep the spray off our full dress uniforms. In addition to that we retain the right to sing the Marine "Hymn" and to dip all candidates when crossing the Equator.

Sen. Johnson—Do you believe our Navy can hold the Philippines?

Sec. Stimson—Against whom, yes.

Sen. Johnson—Against our own heavier than hers?

Sec. Stimson—Yes, but her shoes are stronger.

Sen. Johnson—Is the Committee to understand that our delegates got what they wanted?

Sec. Stimson—Well, we got four quarts of Scotch, and we're not all home yet.

Sen. Johnson—Mr. Secretary, you must think I'm a fool?

Sec. Stimson—You are, I wouldn't say that. But, of course, I could be mistaken.

REGULAR REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR DIRECT PRIMARY NOMINATION

June 17th, 1930

Born March 12, 1869, Raritan, N. J.
Educated at Local Schools.
State Senator (Somerset County) two terms, 1905-1911.
Republican Senate Leader 1909.
President of the Senate 1909-1910.
Acting Governor 1909.
President State Board of Agriculture 1911-1928.
Member State Board of Education 1911-1917 (President 1914-1917).
United States Senator 1917-1923.
Member of following committees: Military Affairs, Finance, Banking and Currency, Interstate Commerce
Chairman, American Delegation International Conference on Shore Pollution 1924.

Calvin Coolidge said of Senator Frelinghuysen's work in the Senate

"I have observed the Senator (Joseph S. Frelinghuysen) from New Jersey in Finance Committee matters. I know he is an untiring worker, and if there is one thing I admire above all else in a public man it is courage, honesty, and that ability and willingness to express what is actually in his mind. There is no more painstaking man on the floor of the Senate who will do more for his constituents or more to promote the welfare of his State."

*Chief Justice
said*

"Joseph S. Frelinghuysen's experience in affairs, indefatigability and intimate knowledge of what American prosperity demands have been of the greatest aid to the administration. He is energy personified, and his intelligent industry has been unremitting."

ELKS TO STAGE MONSTER SHOW

are familiar to Broadway theatre goers will grace the stage of the local cinema emporium. In addition to this galaxy of stars whose names have sparkled in the main stem of New York's theatrical highway that man, well known not only to the members of the order, but whose brilliant personality graced the Governor's Mansion at Trenton, former Governor A. Harry Moore, chairman of the State Committee for Crippled Kiddies' Fund, will be present. And here, folks, is a real treat—the King of Swat—His Majesty, The Home-Run King—idol of all fans, young and old, but especially the crippled kiddies' friends, the one and only "Babe" Ruth, will be among those present. Himself a product of an orphan home, the Bambino never passes up an opportunity to donate his services in charity's sweet name.

Local Movie Manager Makes

Generous Offer

Not to be out-done by the local lodge, the manager of the Capitol Theatre, Elliott Kadison, himself a holder of a card which opens all Elk's doors, has not only donated the use of the theatre for a matinee performance for the kiddies and an evening performance for the adults but has made the princely offer of furnishing for the event a Vitaphone Production, all-talkie feature, "The Benefit." Greater love has no man," say we. The tickets which are being sent to all lodge members will be at a premium since the capacity of the Capitol Theatre will be used by the lodge members themselves. Fortunately indeed, will be those who can secure a duet for this monster charity event.

If you can get a ticket, grab it and hold it. Put it among your valuables until June 24, for the billets will be as scarce as hen's teeth. And in addition to being lucky to get one of the valued pastboards, remember the corking show you'll see and the means for which the proceeds will be used.

Scottish Clans In Annual Competition

are: Clan Gordon, Clan Drummond, Clan Campbell and Clan Cameron. Entries for Tug of War (8 men to a team) are Clan Forbes, Clan Campbell. Entries for track and field events are: P. C. Gray, Jr., T. Kidie, George Angus, R. Munro, T. M. Mooney, William Munro, J. W. Mac Dinald, A. G. C. Graham, George Mc Kain, James Robertson, John McIntosh, James Russell, Alex Donaldson, Edward Blackstock, William Donaldson, A. D. Stewart, George Mason, James Myron, John Reid, William Mac Connachie, William Donald, James Carson, Robert Gallagher, Daniel Sorbie, James Quinn, W. Anthony and John Melvin.

Some of these runners are very fast on track and have competed against the best.

The bagpipe competition should be very interesting as well as the dancing competition. A large entry of professionals is expected on the field in these events.

A parade on Kearny avenue Kearny, from Johnson avenue lead by the Lochiel Pipe Band starts at 1:30 P. M. and will open the games.

and especially for the state-wide work it does in looking after the oftentimes destitute families of prisoners.

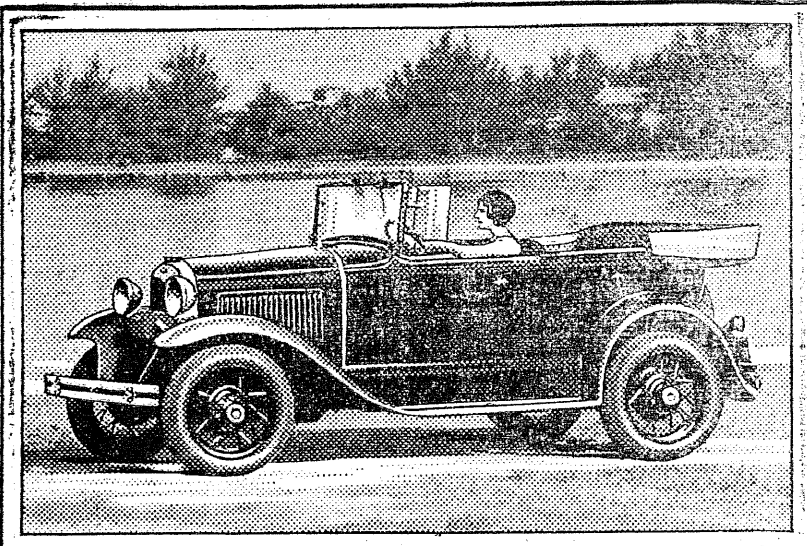

The Committee sponsoring the affair announces the cordial co-operation of Belleville merchants and theatre manager in offering some pretty useful prizes and movie passes for rewards as well as for the "contest" fun to the youthful workers.

For the one who secures the largest amount for their tags, a friend will present a $5 gold piece; the second winner will receive a No. 2 Brownie Camera given by Greylock Pharmacy; the third prize will be a pair of Ball Bearing Skates given by Union Avenue Hardware Co., the fourth prize an Ingersoll Fountain Pen and Pencil given by Belleville Pharmacy; the fifth prize a $1.75 necklace given by Charles Morawetz; the sixth, a two-pound box of chocolates given by Kristensen Confectionery. Those who do not win prizes but who secure at least $3 for their tags will receive a pass to the Capitol Theatre.

Invitations to help sell the tags have been sent to a number of girls and boys and it is hoped each one will give at least a portion of time on Saturday to help this good cause. The tags are to be sold mostly in the residential districts for a quarter, dime or half dollar or whatever anyone is willing to give.

An "extra heart" on Saturday will in no wise cause anyone discomfort but will help many an unfortunate, so give what you can.

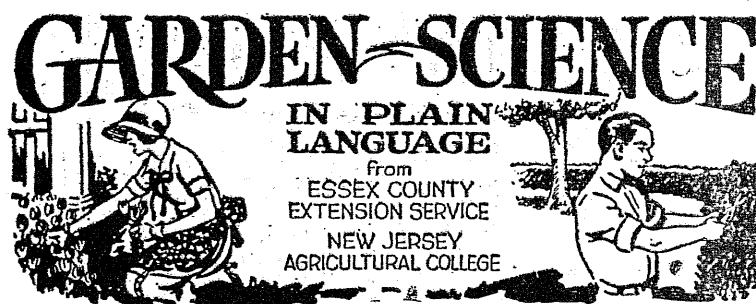

New Ford Car Wins Favor

Ford Phaeton

THE Ford Phaeton, shown above, is equally popular as a family car and as a sport car for young people. The seating arrangement provides for the driver and one passenger in front and three passengers in the rear. Seats are upholstered in two-tone cross cobra grain artificial leather.

The top is of the quick collapsing type, easily handled by one person, and folds flat. The windshield, of Triplex shatter-proof glass, is of the folding type and can be laid flat forward. The windshield wings fold over it, emphasizing the sport effect of the car.

Keeping Larkspur Healthy

By R. P. WHITE, Research Specialist, Diseases of Ornamentals

It is not too early for gardeners to take preventive measures against the diseases which disfigure and sometimes destroy the perennial larkspur. Of major importance among these infections are bacterial leaf spot, and root and crown rot.

Bacterial leaf spot causes tarry-black, irregular areas on the leaves, stems and petioles, and infrequent infections on the flower buds.

Root and crown rot causes the roots and the bases of the flower stalks to decay. The first evidence of this disease is a slight yellowing of the lower leaves, followed, usually in August, by a sudden wilting and death of the entire stock.

The organisms responsible for these diseases over winter in the soil or in old plant parts which were infected the previous season. The plant debris should be raked into a pile and burned as soon as possible to remove infections from this source. Then be drenched with a solution of corrosive sublimate to kill any organisms which may have overwintered on the plant. The desired strength of this solution is 1 to 2,000, or 1 tablet (as bought in drug stores) to 1 quart of water. Plants which show the disease in summer should be cut to the ground and their crowns drenched again with the corrosive sublimate solution.

The root and crown rot disease also occurs on annual larkspur (plantain lily), iris, pyrethrum, and on other common annuals, biennials, and perennials. For this reason, beds of larkspur which have been destroyed by root rots in previous seasons should not be replanted with this flower or other susceptible plants unless the infected soil is removed and replaced with uninfected soil.

The only alternative is to sterilize the soil, which requires a considerable amount of extra work on the part of the gardener. Directions for soil sterilization may be obtained from local county agricultural agents or from the department of plant pathology at the state agricultural experiment station, New Brunswick.

FAVORS FORT

Editor News:

May I bring to the attention of voters some of the issues of the present Senatorial Contest? I am working for the nomination of Franklin W. Fort, who is opposed to any return of the sale of intoxicating liquor under any known or suggested form of law or regulation. He believes in the Eighteenth Amendment and is unwilling that New Jersey should go on record for its repeal.

There are those who say the nomination of Franklin W. Fort means the election of a Democratic candidate in November. They remind us that political history in New Jersey warrants that conclusion. The contrary effect is suggested by recent political history in our state. In 1928 Herbert Hoover, wholly dry, defeated Alfred E. Smith, wholly wet by a majority of 300,000 in New Jersey; while Governor Larson, who dodged the issue throughout his entire campaign, won by only about one third of that majority over his Democratic opponent.

Mr. Morrow has openly and positively taken his position in favor of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and I would respectfully remind his supporters that if Mr. Morrow is nominated, they are assuming responsibilities from which they cannot escape.

If Mr. Morrow should be nominated, the Republican State Convention, which meets shortly after the Primary, will be faced with the necessity of endorsing Mr. Morrow's stand with a plank in their party platform favoring the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment or repudiate Mr. Morrow and his stand. It they have a plank calling for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, it commits every one of the Congressmen of the State to the repeal, or those congressmen who have hitherto voted dry, will have to repudiate their party platform.

Issues are greater than men! Mr. Fort has been one of the most able Representatives in the House during his six years of service and has brought prestige to the State of New Jersey. Vote for Franklin W. Fort who stands with President Hoover in saying, "I do not favor a repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment." Let your vote be counted with the thousands of citizens who believe in keeping the liquor traffic outlawed.

Yours very truly,

JULIA A. MORGAN.

VOTE FOR PROHIBITION

To the Youth of Belleville:

Ten years ago when many of you were kiddies in first grade, "Uncle Sam" wiped out something you do not remember, namely, the "saloon." In those days many poor children lived in hovels and had to work to get bread to eat. Today children rarely have to go to work young, but go to school—especially high school. Many of you ride in automobiles, are protected by insurance and have savings accounts, all greater than any other time in the history of the United States.

Let us balance the account of the last 10 years. We have lost saloons and gained homes; we have lost cringing poor and have gained self-respecting citizens; we have lost children, stunted in mind and body; we have gained more healthful and better educated children; we have

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY

TO CHARLES V. MEEHAN—By virtue of an Order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Essex Mortgage and Investment Company a corporation, is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear, answer or plead to the bill of said complaint, on or before the fourteenth day of July, next, or the bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by you, Charles V. Meehan and Alice Elizabeth Meehan, your wife, to complainant, dated July 26, 1928, on lands in the Town of Belleville, Essex County, New Jersey, and you, Charles V. Meehan, are made a party defendant because you, together with your wife, executed said mortgage and the bond accompanying same and because you are the husband of the said Alice Elizabeth Meehan, and therefore have some interest in said lands and premises.

Needs an Electric
Washing Machine

THE Thor electric washer has proved that it is a dependable worker. We know from repeated tests that it washes thoroughly. Women who use it tell us how well they like its washing method. It works quickly, removes all the dirt from soiled articles and does not pull or tear fine materials.

This machine is reasonably priced. It sells for $99.75 cash and $105.75 on terms of $5 down and eighteen months to pay the balance.

and an Electric Floor Machine

The Regina electric floor machine distributes the wax evenly over the floor (just what you find so hard to do by hand), rubs it down into the wood and leaves a glowing surface. Tools for sanding and scouring and scrubbing floors are sold at an additional cost.

Belleville High Closes With Loss

Englewood Swatters Take 13-10 Decision From Blue And Gold

Belleville High's baseball nine closed its season Saturday afternoon, at Englewood by dropping a close 13-10 decision to the high school team of that town.

Jerry Bonavita and "Mac" Lamb divided the pitching burden for the Blue and Gold with varying success. With the exception of three innings, the duo of Bell-boy hurlers shut-out the Englewoodites, but in those three innings the winners staged batting splurges that scored all of their runs.

Lane, ace hurler, of the Englewood nine, toed the slab for the winners and set back the locals with but five hits. No less than eleven errors, however, by his teammates almost ruined his masterful performance and gave Belleville an opportunity to make the game a nip and tuck battle right through.

"Mac" Lamb and Jerry Bonavita, as usual, led the Bell Boys with the stick, splitting up four of their team's five hits between them. Each dented the rubber twice as well. Nick Bonavita was the only member of the local cast to connect for a safety.

Caparelli, Erickson and Epps were the heavy hitters for the homesters. The score:

Increase In Pension For Spanish War Veterans

The new Spanish War veterans' bill, recently passed by Congress, over the veto of President Hoover, makes provisions for pensioning the Spanish War veterans as follows:

Veterans serving 90 days or more. Per month: No increase for veterans receiving $20. No increase for veterans receiving $25. Veterans receiving $30 increased to $35. Veterans receiving $40 increased to $50. Veterans receiving $50 increased to $60. No increase for veterans receiving $72.

Pension based on age, 90 days or more service: 62 years, now receiving $20, increased to $30. 63 years, now receiving $30, increased to $40. 72 years, now receiving $40, increased to $60.

Veterans serving 70 days or more: Veterans having one-tenth disability, $12. Veterans having one-fourth disability, $15. Veterans having one-half disability, $18. Veterans having three-fourths disability, $24. Veterans having total disability, $30. Total disability where regular aid of an attendant is required, $50.

Pension based on age, 70 to 90 days' service: 62 years, $12. 63 years, $18. 72 years, $24. 77 years, $39.

Increases will commence on the date of receipt of the application by the Pension Bureau. No increase will be allowed except on new application. If any of these veterans will write me, requesting application blanks, I will be glad to furnish same and will assist them in getting their applications approved for this increase.

Respectfully yours,
FRED A. HARTLEY, Jr.
Member of Congress,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

Zoning

A regular meeting of the Board of Appeals was held at the Town Hall Thursday evening. Mannus DeJonge had applied for a permit to erect an ice depot at 78 Clinton street. Strong objections had been made at the last previous meeting and the board denied the permit—the location being in B. residential zone.

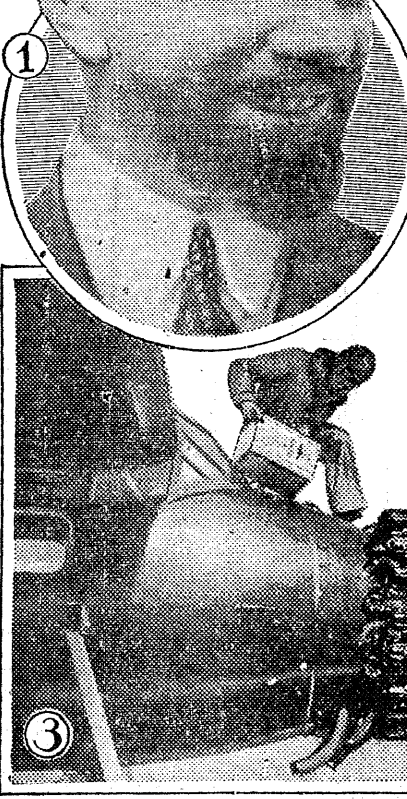

Two applications for refreshment stands by Alfred H. Greik, 17 Arthur street, and Edwin Dorch, 59 Garden avenue, were both objected to being in residence zones. Mr. Greik's application was denied and Mr. Dorch withdrew his application at the meeting.

An application was made by Raymond Mertz to erect a real estate office on the corner of Union and Tappan avenues. This application was laid over for a period of two weeks for a public hearing.

NORTH STAR CHAPTER

North Star Chapter, O. E. S., will meet Tuesday night, at 711 Broadway for business and special election in the office of the secretary. The installation of the secretary-elect will immediately follow the election. It is expected that this will be the final meeting of the season.

Sir Hubert Wilkins Discovers 540,000 Square Miles

(1) Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins. (2) Members of the second Wilkins aerial expedition to the Antarctic, left to right: Orval Porter, engineer; Al Cheesman and Parker Cramer, pilots, and Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins. (3) One of the air-planes in which Captain Wilkins flew more than 6,000 miles in the Antarctic. He was the first to fly in that region. (4) One of the striking air views of the Antarctic. Captain Wilkins has made a complete photographic record of his pioneering flights in the Far South.

"I'm not interested in doing what other people have done or going where others have gone. I want to do what others haven't done and go where no one else has gone before."

Here is the creed of the true explorer. The speaker is Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins—one who, from his record of achievement as a scientist and explorer, is especially qualified to speak for his clan.

Adventure and romance are not dead!

Captain Wilkins has lived up to the creed of the true explorer. In 17 years of exploration work in the Polar regions he has seen more land never before observed by human eyes than any other man. The figure is astounding—fully 540,000 square miles of land in the Arctic and Antarctic—that he was the first to see. Much of this vast acreage he has recorded for posterity in maps and pictures.

Some of this territory he saw first on foot. Then, in more recent years he saw the same land—and a great deal more—from the air. In 1923, with the late Carl Ben Eielson as his pilot, he flew from Point Barrow, Alaska, to Spitzbergen. Fully 1,200 miles of the 2,300 miles covered on this trip comprised straight line flying over territory never before seen. In two aerial expeditions to the Antarctic his straight line flying over land not previously observed totaled 1,500 miles.

It is figured that in flying of this sort, the eyes can take in 100 miles on either side of the course, making 200 miles in all. Multiply 200 by 2,700, which is the total of his straight line flying over previously unobserved territory in both the Arctic and Antarctic, and we get the 540,000 figure.

Captain Wilkins has tramped on foot over a total of 5,000 miles of Arctic wastes. The total mileage of his flights in the Arctic is 15,000, 10 per cent of which was over territory never before seen. In the Antarctic Captain Wilkins has flown a total of 6,000 miles, 25 per cent of which was over previously unknown land.

"And," observed Captain Wilkins, "although I've been through my full share of difficulties, I've never had any occasion to ask for help."

First to Fly in Antarctic

Captain Wilkins has conducted two aerial expeditions into the bleak Antarctic. On the first, late in 1923, he was the first to fly in the Antarctic and his main discovery was that Graham Land was a group of islands separated from the Antarctic Continent by an ice filled channel, as against the former theory that Graham Land was a continuous body of land and part of the Antarctic Continent.

The expedition's chief flight lasted 9 hours. About 1,200 miles of hitherto unknown land were covered on this flight alone. With Captain Wilkins on the expedition were the late Lieutenant Eielson, Joe Crosson, pilot, and Orval Porter, expert aviation mechanic.

In the fall of 1923 Captain Wilkins set out on his second Antarctic aerial expedition. His aides this time were Parker D. Cramer, pilot; Al Cheesman, pilot, and Porter. The expedition, in a few short months, pushed back the Antarctic Continent by about 8 degrees, discovered five new islands, charted about 1,200 miles of coastline, completed the location of 12 suitable points for meteorological stations, determined that Charcot Land is an island and not part of the mainland, as supposed, and obtained some valuable and new biological data on Antarctic life.

Great things are planned by scientists and explorers for the immediate years ahead. A vast concentration of scientific brain and man power is projected for 1932 when an extensive International Expedition will get under way. This project has the backing of great scientific organizations and societies and already many countries have signified their wish to be partners in the undertaking.

Captain Wilkins' immediate part in the International Expedition's work will be the carrying out in the summer of 1931 of his much discussed submarine trip across the North Pole, making his way underneath the ice. Plans for this trip in a submersible vessel are rapidly taking form.

"I'm firmly convinced this submersible vessel trip is the safest thing I've

Outstanding Features of

Sir Hubert Wilkins' Career

He has seen for the first time more land than any other explorer.
He was first to fly in the Antarctic.
He has flown more than 15,000 miles in the Arctic.
He has flown more than 6,000 miles in the Antarctic.
He has added to the known world 540,000 square miles.
He has had many narrow escapes but has never had to ask for help.
He insists that his submarine trip to the North Pole is "the safest, thing I have planned to do in 15 years."

planned to do in 15 years," said Captain Wilkins. "I actually believe it's safer than flying. Of course, there are doubters who scoff at the idea, but the ridicule of these people doesn't bother me. I'm used to that. Why, as few years ago as 1919 people everywhere said it was absolutely out of the question for an airplane to fly over the Pole."

"Just as people changed their minds about the airplane, so they are changing their minds about the submarine and the chances for using it in exploration work in the Arctic."

Every Safety Factor Planned

"Every feature of the proposed trip is being gone into. Every safety factor is being worked out. We are preparing for every possible emergency."

"From my Arctic and Antarctic experience I know you never find a piece of ice more than 20 miles across. Thus we would be able to come up within 10 miles if and when we go under such a large piece of ice. In other words we would be able to rise within 10 miles of any given spot in the Arctic Ocean."

"We will also have methods for cutting our way right up through an ice barrier, if necessary—a telescopic conning tower, drills, and other apparatus operated from the inside."

"Our maximum traveling speed will be 4 miles an hour under the ice. We will have a fuel range of 7,000 miles which will provide an ample margin of safety for our trip of about 2,200 miles. I know the North Pole is navigable. We will not go deeper than 300 feet."

"Our work will directly tie in with the proposed aims of the International Expedition. Scientists want me to proceed with this expedition to better determine what conditions man must contend with in the heart of the Arctic—to pave the way for the International Expedition so they will carry on with the right tools for effective work."

"It will be our aim to make a thorough study of the region so that we can inform the International Expedition of the difficulties to expect, the dangers to avoid, the equipment to carry and how to go."

"Another important objective will be to make a preliminary test of the possibility of developing trade routes across the Arctic with submersible vessels. If it is eventually found practical for commercial submersibles to make their way underneath the ice, trade in the Far North could be kept up for at least 10 months in the year instead of the mere four months at present."

It is in the science of meteorology that Captain Wilkins is particularly interested. He visions the time when the North and South Poles will be surrounded by meteorological observation stations which will cooperate with the stations in the more temperate zones in the study of atmospheric conditions with the idea of making long-range weather forecasts.

"It is known," Captain Wilkins said, "that there is a direct relationship between conditions in the Arctic and Antarctic and conditions in other parts of the world. But much work remains to be done to determine the full scope and strength of the influence the North and South Poles exert on the weather of other sections."

Captain Wilkins started his polar exploration work in 1913 when he joined the Canadian Arctic Expedition of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, another famous explorer. Stefansson's expedition was made up of a northern and southern group.

His Career With Stefansson

Captain Wilkins served with Stefansson for three years. Although he was born on the southern edge of the tropics in Australia, he showed himself well fitted for work in the North and became one of the most efficient men on the expedition.

Stefansson's aide and photographer then entered the World War, joining the Australian forces. He went to the western front in France as a photographer. He was promoted to Captain, was placed in command of the Australian airplanes, was cited several times for bravery and at the end of the war was cited by the Commander-in-Chief of the Australian forces as the combination of the bravest and most useful man of that entire great army.

After the World War he began to plan his own Polar work in earnest. In 1919 he made his first trip to the Arctic as second in command of the British Imperial Arctic Expedition. The expedition did its exploring by foot and by boat. It was beset by great hardships.

Knighted by King George

Captain Wilkins continued his polar work. It was his aim to fly across the Arctic. He encountered many difficulties in his efforts to accomplish this but he was finally successful in 1923 when he and Eielson made their memorable flight from Alaska to Spitzbergen. They were the first and are still the only men who have flown the entire way across the Polar Sea from the one continent to the other. He was knighted by the King of England for this achievement. It was in the same year that he started on his first aerial expedition into the Antarctic.

Because of the great public interest in the polar regions Captain Wilkins is often called on to speak over the radio on his experiences there. His latest radio talk being from New York on May 28 over WEA and 39 associated NBC stations at the feature of the Mobil Oil Hour.

Captain Wilkins, who in 15 years has never lived for more than 4 weeks in any one house, now is in New York City laying plans for his submarine trip in the Arctic. He expects to board the Graf Zeppelin when she arrives in the United States early in June and make the return journey with her.

New Scientific Pension Plan For Westinghouse Lamp Company Workers

A new annuity compensation plan, which assures an income for life after retirement to the employees of the Westinghouse Lamp Company, which has plants in Bloomfield, Trenton and Belleville, N. J., and Milwaukee, Wis., and sales offices in the principal cities of the country, was announced here today by Walter Cary, President of the Westinghouse Lamp Company.

The purpose of this plan, said Mr. Cary, "is to reward our employees who retire at the age of 65 years, or older, will be guaranteed a substantial income for the remainder of their lives. It is a new and scientific annuity payment plan that has none of the earmarks of paternalism or charity that make pension systems objectionable to employer and employee alike.

"Under the Westinghouse plan, an employee after retirement age not only receives from the Company an earned reward for length of service, but also has an opportunity during his employment, to buy an additional retirement income for himself, or herself, at a favorable rate. A contractual relationship is set between the retired employees and the Company which guarantees such employees monthly payments due them under the plan. These payments are made certain to the retired employees by the company paying money to Trustees in sufficient amounts to finance and guarantee such payments.

"With this retirement income system supplementing our relief and insurance systems, Westinghouse employees will be protected to a large degree in the three great economic hazards—death, disability, and dependence in old age."

Latest Fashion Suggestions And Timely Features For Home Reading

This Week At The Capitol

When Fannie Hurst, the greatest living woman novelist of the day, first saw the screen production of her best seller, "Lummo," she is said to have remarked that she is now thoroughly convinced that the screen is the best possible medium for the portrayal of plot and character. Incidentally, the production was directed by Herbert Brenon, whose fame as the producer of such wonderful pictures as "Beau Geste," "Peter Pan" and "Sorrel and Son," is known to everyone. It plays at the Capitol on Friday, and with it the biggest screen comedy of the year, "He Tramped Her Ace."

Saturday there is the usual special Kiddie Matinee in addition to the regular performance, starting at 2 o'clock sharp. There will be four Mickey Mouse Cartoons and a Western picture with Bob Steele as the hero in "The Cowboy and the Outlaw." The feature of the day is our old friend Gary Cooper in "Only the Brave," a worthy successor to "The Virginian," and "Seven Days Leave." On Monday and Tuesday of the coming week, George Bancroft is starred, in his finest picture to date, "Ladies Love Brutes." Here you will see Bancroft in the role of a successful steel construction contractor who determines to meet on a social level those wealthy men with whom he has been associated only in a business way. After he "crashes" into society, he finds that the new life isn't quite so satisfying as he had imagined it would be, and the resulting situations are handled by him only as George Bancroft can handle them.

Wednesday and Thursday Paramount on Parade, a fast-moving, highly entertaining screen show that features thirty of the leading stars of the day, including Maurice Chevalier, William Powell, Jack Oakie, Clive Brook, Ruth Chatterton, Gary Cooper, Helen Kane, Lillian Roth and many others, will be the feature. It surpasses even the best of $6.60 Broadway shows.

Roof Tree Notes

The Roof Tree Branch of the International Sunshine Society will hold a card party at the Recreation House this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. It will be the last social of the season. Admission is by waist measure, one cent per inch. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. L. P. Baurhenn is chairman, assisted by Mrs. A. Adler, Mrs. C. A. Fell, Mrs. Jacobus, Mrs. F. Lytell, Mrs. R. Luhrs, Mrs. F. J. Schweitzer and Mrs. H. W. Russell.

At the business meeting held June 4, Mrs. F. J. Schweitzer was appointed to serve on the good and welfare committee. Three new members were admitted, Mrs. Cora Ameling, 43 Broad street, Newark; Mrs. Walter Lemon, 124 Overlook avenue, and Mrs. Margaret Moore, 544 Union avenue. All members wishing to vote at the election of officers to be held June 28 at the Arthur Home and Kindergarten for Blind Babies at Summit, are requested to send 25 cents to Mrs. C. A. Fell, 607 Washington avenue. This fee entitles them to membership in the Arthur Sunshine Home, and voting power at the coming election of officers. However this is entirely optional.

Sunburn And Freckles Can Be Prevented With Care

SUMMER is dreaded by many women, for they know it does unpleasant things to their faces. Many skins are quite lovely until summer comes, when they suddenly become very temperamental, and look shiny and spotty soon after powdering. Some women even complain that their faces feel hot and irritated after the least exposure to the sun.

The change a hot summer works in your skin often is so gradual that you may not notice the damage until it is done. Neglected skins suffer most, so it is wise to accept the fact that hot weather may spoil the texture and color of your skin, and then try to prevent this.

In the inquiries that come to me at this season, I often find that women do not know how to care for and protect their skins during warm weather. "After all," many of your letters say, "I can scarcely step outside my door without getting freckles. Now, what am I to do about that? I cannot stay inside all summer!" No—you certainly should not stay indoors too much, for fresh air and sunshine are excellent skin tonics. Instead, you can learn to take a few precautionary measures, and then safely enjoy being outside as much as you wish. Foundation cream has very good protective qualities. Spread plenty of it all over your face and neck, wipe off the surplus cream with cleansing tissues, and then pat on your face powder. Or, if you prefer a liquid foundation, apply a generous coating of powder lotion. Wipe off the surplus lotion with a bit of cotton, and then pat on your powder.

Naturally, these simple preparations will not protect your skin from burning if you insist on staying out in the sun for hours at a time. But if you are sensible, and expose your skin no longer than necessary, you will not need to be in despair about sunburn or deep freckles. Many women never have freckles until their skins are painfully sunburned. And it is difficult to get rid of these deeply-laid freckles, for they have formed under severe conditions, and almost seem to be there to stay.

Of course it is best to start the summer with a good, clear complexion. Then if the sun or wind burns and smarts your skin, this can be corrected by a good soothing cream or lotion. If your skin is not in good condition, but is irritated, and shows blackheads, enlarged pores or annoying little lines—then start in immediately with the right corrective care. A preparatory course of home treatments will keep your perspiration and oil glands working normally, and will help to protect your skin from undue burning or irritation.

For Garden Enthusiasts

Field Day at the New Jersey College of Agriculture and Experiment Station, New Brunswick, on June 11, offers amateur flower growers the opportunity to see the extensive flower plantings at the station, and to discuss cultural methods with the institution's expert horticulturists.

Members of the station staff will give brief talks on various phases of flower growing. Demonstrations of dusting and spraying materials and equipment for their application will follow.

Open for inspection by visitors will be the cooperative display garden of the American Iris Society, containing nearly 600 species and varieties of this flower. Visitors may also see the shrub garden of 270 varieties, and the peony collection of 75 varieties.

Hankinson—Meyers

The engagement of Miss Belvidere Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meyers of 23 Cedar street, Nutley, and Frederick K. Hankinson, son of Mrs. Charlotte Hankinson of 26 Essex street, Belleville, has been announced.

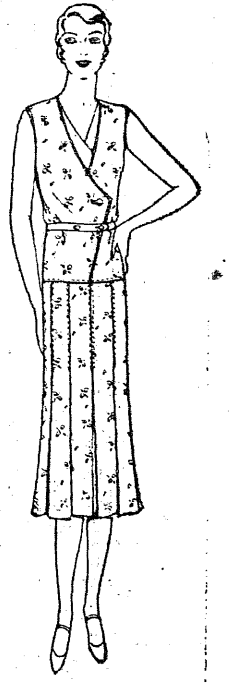

Miss Meyers is a graduate of Nutley High School. Mr. Hankinson is a graduate of Belleville High School and also attended Columbia University. No date has been set for the wedding.

Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of the new Ford.

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the new Ford is found in its increasing use by Federal, state and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—speed, power, safety, comfort, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using the Ford are the Associated Companies of the Bell System, Armour and Company, The Borden Company, Continental Baking Corporation, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, General Electric Company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Kellogg Company, Knickerbocker Ice Company, Morton Salt Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, The Procter and Gamble Company, and Swift & Company.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks. The Associated Companies of the Bell System use more than eight thousand.

Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs the Ford. Daily, in countless ways and places, it helps to speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford car, its high quality of materials, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing. Beneath its graceful lines and beautiful colors there is a high degree of mechanical excellence.

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the car and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance. Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release, fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, Rustless Steel, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, through large production, give it to the public at low cost.

Belleville Clintons Hard Pressed To Win

Eke Out 9-7 Victory In Game With Silver Lake Nine

The Belleville Clintons were hard pressed to beat out the St. Anthony nine, Wednesday night, at Belleville Park in a Legion junior league tilt. The final count showed them in possession of a narrow 9-7 margin.

George Ashworth pitched good ball all the way for the Clintons and deserved to win his game. He allowed but four hits and struck out nine in the six innings of play. With the exception of the fourth frame when faulty support by his mates and three hits gave the Saints six runs, Ashworth was invincible.

Cozzi, strike-out king of the circuit, was on the mound for St. Anthony ball tossers and had his fast ball working to perfection, retiring no less than thirteen Clinton sticklers on strikes. He was hit hard, however, in the pinches when hits meant runs.

Al Schwartz was the big gun in the Clinton offensive broadside, driving in four of his side's runs with a pair of singles. Dave Connelly provided the fielding gem, a fine running catch in the fourth.

In addition to De Jura and Riccio with their triples, Cozzi also featured at bat with a double in the sixth.

Belleville High Beats Glen Ridge

Belleville High nosed out Glen Ridge, Thursday afternoon, at Clearman Field to the tune of 5-4.

Ralph Casale and Jerry Bonavita divided the twirling burden for the locals, with Bonavita the more effective of the two.

The slugging honors of the day went to "Turk" Byrnes, Nick Bonavita, "Mac" Lamb, Jerry Bonavita and Eddie O'Neill. Each of these Blue and Gold performers garnered two hits apiece for ten of the eleven hits the team collected.

Eddie O'Neill featured afield for the Bell-boys, while Collender and Taylor were the big guns for the losers.

Lowest Priced Studebaker in History

Here is the Sedan model of the new Studebaker Six series, a line of cars sold at the lowest price ever placed on a Studebaker—$895 to $1125 at the factory. The new Studebaker is a big car not only in value, according to its makers, but in performance, for it is powered by a 70 horsepower motor. It is also big in size with wheelbase of 114 inches and generous interior dimensions. Features of construction include full power muffler, pioneered by Studebaker; Lanchester vibration damper, double drop frame, armored steel body, unbreakable steel core steering wheel and hydraulic shock absorbers. Price of the Sedan illustrated is $985 at the factory.

And Maybe This Will Start Something

SPORT EDITOR:

Reading one of your columns last week, I noticed an item referring to a baseball game between the Nutley Pleasure Club, Jr., and the Middletown Pleasure Club, which article stated that the manager and captain of the Nutley team went for help to defeat the Belleville team. Your article also stated that the "smart Alec" were betting five to one that the Nutley team would win the game. These statements are grossly untrue. The truth of the matter is that a week before the game took place, I as manager, of the team named my starting line-up and gave same to the Middletown manager, and as many witnesses will verify I lived up to my word. However, the Middletown manager stated his battery would be Kamand or "Speed" pitching with Sullivan catching.

About five minutes before game time the Middletown followers and players were asking for money to be bet on the game and we laid small odds on our team to win. After bets were laid the Manager of the Middletown team asked that we delay starting time a few minutes as they desired to go for some bats and balls. We gladly permitted them time to do so, but when they did come back, they not only were bringing the bats and balls but also had a semi-pro battery, consisting of Roy Schnell as pitcher and Raddy as catcher. The week prior to our game, this same pitcher, Schnell, shut out the strong East Orange Police Club with two hits, and the Middletowns were out to make a sure-thing after having all bets laid. Jerry Lilore who plays with St. Peter's in the American Legion League also played with the Middletowns.

As the game progressed our team was losing by a score of seven to three and members of the Nutley Pleasure Club were coming around

Doings in the Field of Sports

This Whirl Of Sport

By Arthur Bloemeke

Under the capable direction of the veteran Johnny Lawlor, the American Legion All-Star team will open its season, tomorrow afternoon at Clearman Field against one of the the classic attractions procurable in the state.

The assembling of this all-star team brings to mind the really high-class brand of ball, the Legion circuit has produced already this season. With the league season already less than a month old, many have been the memorable battles within its precincts.

Of course, these must be headed by that 3-3 tie game of a few weeks back between the Belleville A. A. and the Elks, which a big majority of the fans termed the best game of the league season. Other fine games have been the rule rather than the exception and the truth of these assertions may be easily gleaned from the splendid interest and enthusiasm evinced from local townspeople. The concrete stands are well filled almost every game and when an especially good attraction is scheduled SRO is the order of the night.

All this may be truthfully said with less than a third of the regular season under way and some of the best attractions, such as that expected titanic, battle between the Elks and St. Peter's still to be played.

Among the new-comers to league ranks who have been especially prominent in their team's victories so far have been Gasparini, Kellet and Brown of the Bell-Nuts, McCormick and Polfisch of the Belleville A. A., Slade and Crawford of the Colored Giants, Taylor and Ryan of St. Peter's, Solomon and Mercurio of St. Anthony's, Kastner of the Elks, Brenner and Thomas of the Parks, and McCabe, Johnston and Wengle of the Bachelors. Of course some of these are not new faces in the league, but have merely had a change of scenery shifting from one team to another.

From the above one may be sure that all the teams in the league have strengthened up some from last year, with even the champion Elks' nine having several new hands around. In addition to these new-comers the hold-over stars of last year's heated campaign are still in there featuring in most of their team's tilts. These include Jim and John Mallack, Tommie Dunn, Gene Gelshen, Artie Lamb, Jimmie Dunleavy, Bill Kearney, "Pint" Sentner, Joe Curran, Ral Flynn, Mill Buttons, Mac Lamb, Hick Loesner, Johnny Lawlor, Champ Juliano, Gero Derrico, Roy Snell, Joe Cavallo and a few others.

These players are listed with the sole purpose of giving some idea of the strength of the league and the caliber of the team that Johnny Lawlor can put out. Of course he cannot secure the services of quite a few of these players on Saturdays, because they play with other teams then, but one thing is certain and that is that the All-Star team will be one of the best to represent Belleville and the fans who attend these games will be sure to see real high class semi-pro ball played.

Newark Browns Play Two Fast Rivals

The Newark Browns will play two fast rivals in a double-header Sunday afternoon at General Electric Field, Bloomfield. The Newark Pros will be encountered in the first game and the Orange Valley B. C. terrors in the second game.

The Pros continued their winning streak with week-end victories over the St. Valentine and Webster A. A. and are considered the most improved outfit in this section. The Valleys bowed to the Browns in the opening game of the season but have won six out of their last seven starts. The game will start at 1:45 P. M.

Wemec Outing

Twenty-one members of the Wemec Dramatic Club were on the club outing to Budd Lake, last Saturday. Swimming, boating, and a baseball game in which the girls took part, made up the program. Dinner was had at the Hackettstown Inn, a few miles from the lake.

D. of A. Meeting

A regular meeting of Good American Council, D. of A. will be held Tuesday evening at Masonic Temple. Business of importance will be transacted. There will be an official visit of the States Council and officers. Refreshments and social hour are on the slate.

Panthers Record Third Win In The Davega League

The Belleville Panthers recorded their third victory in four starts in the strong Davega League, Sunday afternoon at Belleville Park, eking out a 6-5 decision over the Italian-Americans.

Barren, losing hurler, was the battling star for the Italian-Americans, clouting out a pair of homers and a double to drive in four of his side's five runs. Carter ran him a close second with two doubles and a single.

By JAMES REILLY

The Monad dance which was given last week turned out to be a success so far as to making the final issue of the monad a surety. It seemed too, that the dancers in attendance had a good time. The music was furnished by a group of fellows who assembled for the occasion.

In all likelihood the last morning musical program was presented Friday of last week. The program consisted of two numbers by a brass quartet made up of Richard Peterson, William McKnight, George DeWitt and Norman Thetford, a medley of songs played by Vincent Mantegna. Curtis Melick, John Gougan, James Reilly and Robert Spole who arranged the entire program.

Examination time is drawing near and many students are preparing to take their final tests before leaving high school, and others, to make advancement to a higher grade.

As an excellent way of finishing the baseball schedule the Bell-Boys won their final game with the score of five to four. They are due much credit for their fine spirit and sportsmanship throughout the entire season.

St. Anthony's Win In Garrison Finish

Come From Behind In Sixth To Take Decision From The Panthers

Scoring three times in the sixth the St. Anthony tossers came from behind to take a 6-4 decision from the Panthers in a Legion League contest at Clearman Field, Saturday afternoon. The tilt was the second of a league double-header.

Jay Suderley on the hillcock for the Panthers and Cozzi, St. Anthony ace, engaged in a merry pitchers' battle for the better part of the game with honors about even. Suderley in losing was the victim of Panther misplays, allowing the winners but five hits and two earned runs. Cozzi, the strike out king of the loop, had his whiff ball working overtime, fanning no less than fifteen of the Panther ball punishers. In between, however, the losers nicked him for seven hits good for four tallies.

Cieri, star outfielder of the Saints, was the only one to solve Suderley's baffling change of pace, collecting a double and single for two of his side's five hits. Phelps and Byrnes took care of the Panther heavy stick work getting two bingles apiece. One of Phelps was a long double to right in the seventh.

Bell Nuts Easily Cop 15-1 Tussle From The Giants

The Bell-Nuts found the offerings of a trio of Belleville hurlers to their liking, Thursday night, and easily copped a 15-1 decision in a Legion league game at Clearman Field.

Brown's slants were too much for the Giants to fathom and they managed to nick his offerings for but five hits in the seven innings of play. In the meanwhile the Bell-Nuts were staging an exhibition of wholesale run-scoring, which started in the first frame when they tallied six times and winded up in the sixth when then dented the rubber three times. The remaining sextet of counters were accounted for in the third, when two hits were sufficient for their six tallies. Giant errors and free tickets were of great help in this rally.

Unions Overwhelm Cellar Occupants

Hand Out 17-4 Pastings To Comets At Local Ball Park

The Unions went on a wild batting spree Saturday afternoon at Clearman Field and overwhelmed the tail-end Comets, 17-4, in an American Legion Junior League tilt. The score was the most one-sided in the circuit to date and proved that the Unions' recent defeat of the strong Cardinals was no fluke.

Sixteen safe wallops enabled the winners to score at least once in every inning with a five run outburst in the second marking the peak of their efforts. Andy Colaninno ably took care of the hurling end for the Unions and let down the Comets with seven well scattered hits, practically coasting in under wraps behind the big lead his mates provided for him.

Tannicelli, one of the classiest first sackers in the junior loop, was the leading stickler of the day, cramming in four safe wallops out of five times up. Joe Costa and Bokavan contributed three apiece to also feature the Union rampage. One of Bokavan's clouts was a long double over the right field fence.

The Comets scored once in the first three innings, each of their three runs resulting from extra base hits. In the first Cullen doubled to the fence and scored on a Union error. Aker's long homer to deep center in the second and Erickson's four-bagger to right center provided the remainder. Erickson's single in the seventh brought across the final Comet tally.

Erickson and Cullen were the most effective of the Comets' swaths while Costa's fielding for the Unions was another feature.

DISPOSING OF OLD CARS

Henry Ford seems to have solved the problem of how to dispose of abandoned cars in the vicinity of Detroit. When one of his big trailers goes out of the factory to make a delivery of new cars it is to come back to the factory loaded with old ones which will be scrapped, melted up and made into new parts.

Other communities not so fortunately located near the Ford plant must find other means of disposal. New Rochelle has just tackled the problem in a new and original manner. Mrs. Katherine Keogh, one of New Rochelle's citizens, owns several acres of swamp and mud flats in the Glen Island district. She wants it filled in. Now the town council has approved of a contract calling for the disposal of all abandoned cars by dumping the hulks on Mrs. Keogh's mud flats. Thus the town will get rid of the cars and Mrs. Keogh will have her flats built up and made usable.

In the nearby community of Mount Vernon, the overseers spend nearly $10,000 a year transporting abandoned cars to lighters which convey them to Montauk Point, where they are dumped into the ocean. It really seems an indictment of our civilization that the excellent material which goes into the making of the average car cannot be melted up and used over again.

Besides, at the present rate of output, we shall soon fill up the ocean.

NIGHT HIGHWAY MARKERS

The plan to mark state highways with an improved type of the so-called "button" devices which are illuminated at night by the rays from automobile headlights will meet with general approval among motorists. The old type has proved its value as a danger signal countless times at unseen intersections and sharp curves. The new one, larger and more efficient, should be of still greater aid in safe driving.

Adaptation of the device to the purpose of making route numbers visible at night, which is also planned, may seem to be of no importance as a means of securing safety, but actually the contrary is likely to prove to be the case. Anything which serves to keep the motorist certain of his whereabouts makes for concentration on the effort of driving, particularly during the hours of darkness. At present route numbers are painted black against a yellow background, usually on poles where they are not revealed by the headlights. As a consequence the wayfaring stranger is frequently at a loss for his direction and may produce an accident by stopping abruptly to inquire or turn back.

GROWING INTEREST IN AVIATION

The New York Aircraft Show has been a tremendous success. The crowds that attended have exceeded all expectations. It proves conclusively how greatly interested in aviation the public is.

Enthusiasts in flying contend that the day is near when airplanes will be as numerous as automobiles now are and they claim that within fifteen years the United States will have a million planes in daily service owned and operated by individuals.

It may be that this will happen. But the substantial growth of aviation is better indicated by the increasing success of established commercial air lines. All the people are not as yet "air minded" but they are fast getting to be. More and more passengers are being carried right along by the commercial air lines. Business men are using this means of transportation to save valuable time. Banks are using the mail and express facilities afforded by airplanes with profit. Many large corporations are now acquiring fleets of planes and making use of them in the conduct of their business.

How rapidly aviation will grow depends upon the extent to which the things which will promote its development are done. There is still great need of more and better airports. They are costly to construct and difficult to properly locate. Great progress is being made in establishing them but still more along this line will have to be done if aviation is to become as beneficial as it can be made.

SHOULD BE KNOWN AT ONCE

No one feature of the 1930 census aroused more interest than the count of the unemployed. The decision to include this enumeration was widely commended because it seemed to promise accurate information about a problem that was being widely discussed. With politicians and radicals making capital out of the business slump, it was felt that information as to just how many people were out of work should be valuable.

Now it appears that the unemployment figures will not be assembled until after the population statistics have been totaled and verified, which means that we may not know the number of unemployed April 1, 1930, until the year 1931. The knowledge may be of some interest then, perhaps of some use, but it will be ancient history, and will fail utterly to meet the need which led to its being gathered. That is the trouble with most statistical surveys. By the time the results are published the situation they depict lies a year or more in the past, and the public's motto as to such things is: "It makes no difference what we were, but what we are today." If the facts ascertained are to be of any use in solving the problem of unemployment they should be made available without delay.

NEW YORK AND SLEEP

The headlines naturally featured the news that a New York expert had discovered that women like to lie abed in the morning longer than men. But almost as interesting was his discovery that men, visiting New York who are 40 years old or over sit up later than they do at home, while those under 35 go to bed an hour earlier than they do in their home towns.

That, perhaps, indicates that there should be less talk about "flaming youth" and somewhere more about "flaming age." Or it might be interpreted to mean that younger men do not know so well what to do when they are flung out of familiar surroundings. Or it might mean two or three other things. At any rate, it is interesting to speculate about.

Jokes.

The Young Man—"May I ask you, sir, if you think your daughter would make a suitable wife?"

The Lawyer—"No, sir, I don't think she would. Five dollars, please."

Little Emily ran in the house, crying as though her heart would break. "What's wrong, dear?" asked her mother.

"My dolly—Billy broke it," she sobbed.

"How did he break it, dear?"

"I hit him on the head with it."

"Waiter, bring me a steak."

"One for me also—a tender one."

Waiter (at kitchen)—Two steaks—one tender.

"I want every one to lie on his back, put his legs in the air and move them as if he were riding a bicycle," he exclaimed. "Now commence."

After a short effort, one of the pupils, an Irish lad, stopped.

"Why have you stopped Murphy?" asked the instructor.

"If you please, sir," was the answer, "Ol'm coasting."

ALL STATES NEWS

GETTING READY FOR THE BIG SHOW

Politically minded Washington, reading a thousand portents in the smallest incident, buzzed with speculation when it became known that General Charles G. Dawes, our Ambassador to England, was returning to this country.

Had the Ambassador resigned. Who was going to take his place? Or was he returning simply to further ratification of the Naval Treaty? These and other excited questions provided good newspaper copy for a while. Then the State Department ended the sport by announcing that General Dawes had been granted a month's leave of absence that he might attend to his duties in connection with the Chicago World's Fair. The General, whose brother, Rufus Dawes, is president of the exposition, is a leading spirit in the gigantic project.

Although the Chicago fair will not take place until 1933, preparations are rapidly going forward. Ground has been formally broken for the Administration building of the exposition to be located on the lake front's Outer Drive. Other structures within a stone's throw of the new building site include the Field Museum, Soldiers Field, the Shedd Aquarium and the Adler Planetarium.

"WOUNDS TO OUR TRADE"

Last year, according to James D. Mooney, President of the General Motors Export Company, the automobile industry in the United States employed a total of 1,214,559 creative workers with an annual wage total of over two billion dollars. Approximately 3,500,000 more were employed as dealers, garage men, gasoline vendors, drivers and in other occupations created by the automobile industry.

Mr. Mooney, speaking on the Hawley-Smoot tariff recently before the Western University Club of New York, maintained that the voices of these workers and manufacturers should be heard, as well as the two opposing voices of the economist and the legislator. To show how higher tariffs will hurt our trade and American bread winners, he stated that the percentage of foreign business for the entire American automobile industry was 14.7 and that the total loss of this foreign business would cost 184,000 workers their jobs and about 600,000 people their means of support.

"Our present foreign commerce of all kinds," continued Mr. Mooney, "now amounts to over 10 per cent of our total trade and has been increasing steadily, but the percentage of our manufactured exports has been growing far more rapidly. Nothing more is needed to show how vital our stake as a nation has become in this overseas trade in manufactured articles, and how dangerous to our national welfare is any policy which will retard or cripple this interest."

"The truth is that the time has come when our country can no longer depend for its economic welfare on home demand alone. We need and must have foreign markets, and any domestic policy which prevents or retards our access to these markets is a direct menace to our national prosperity."

"For the great masses of the population, not engaged directly in productive industry, a higher tariff wall can mean nothing but what it has always meant—a higher cost of living. The farmer would lose in similar fashion. The price of anything of which the farmer receives an exportable surplus, like wheat for example, is determined not by the home demand but by the open markets of the world."

POSTMEN IN THE AIR

When letter writers put wings on their epistles in the shape of air mail stamps, they little realize the possible experiences which confront their carriers. One of the most breath-taking of recent aviation accidents happened to Henry J. Brown, air mail pilot, when he was flying the night mail from Cleveland to New York. The story is told in a news letter issued by the Air Corps of the War Department at Washington.

Brown, flying at an altitude of about 3,000 feet, was only a few miles west of the Allegheny Mountains, when the motor of his plane stalled. While the pilot was in the midst of an attempt to transfer his gasoline supply from the left wing tank to the right wing container in order to equalize the plane's balance, the gasoline line clogged. The motor coughed a few times and died. Brown climbed out of the cockpit, dropped over the side, and pulled the ripcord of his parachute. While he was drifting earthward, the plane suddenly straightened, the gasoline line cleared, and the motor started anew.

Before the pilot had touched the ground, his plane was swooping in circles about his head. He landed safely, however, and rushed to the machine which was already on the ground in flames. With the aid of two farmers he managed to drag twelve sacks of mail from the blazing wreckage.

BEATING A TORNADO'S TIME

You can outrun a tornado, says the United States Weather Bureau—provided you sight the menace several miles away and have at hand a car that can make about sixty miles an hour and are in open level country and happen to be near a road that lies at right angles to the tornado's path. Given all these necessary aids, one will find the automobile the second best means of escape. Of course a well-constructed tornado cellar is the safest refuge.

The Bureau further furnishes a description of a tornado for the inexperienced person. Usually it takes the appearance of an elongated, funnel-shaped or cylindrical cloud hanging from the sky toward the earth. If you can't see the cloud, be warned by the sky. Clouds are thrown into a wild turmoil and are jet-black, greenish, or purple where dark, but often mingled with steamlike grays and whites. A terrifying roar, which is compared to thousands of railroad cars crossing a bridge, may be heard at considerable distance.

The movement of the storm is moderate, averaging about 40 miles an hour and in rare instances reaching 60. Its path generally varies but little from a straight line. Most tornadoes move toward the northeast, a few toward the southeast, and the rest, with few exceptions, in some other easterly direction.

POLITICS AND PERSONALITIES

When members of the Senate recently heard from the lips of Senator Reed-Smoot of Utah that the sugar tariff was a "National blessing," they kept silence. Likely as not, they had become resigned to the statements of domestic sugar spokesmen and reasoned that such statements fooled no one but those who uttered them anyway. Mr. Smoot did not mention the fact that the "blessing" would cost the nation almost $269,000,000 annually, although the total crop of the beet and cane farmers is worth only $59,000,000. If all American industries were blessed in like degree American consumers would pay 300 billions of dollars annually!

However, the Senator from Utah has an explanation of the blessings. Without the sugar beet, he claims, "Western rural development would still be in its infancy, and the sites of thousands of happy, contented homes would see little but the howling coyote and the sulking timber wolf, stalking wild deer and smaller game." Now, if that doesn't make the consumer smilingly accept a $32,000,000 addition to his annual sugar tax, let him read the comment of the Baltimore Sun:

"Merely to imagine that pathetic picture of the coyotes and wolves taking huge bites of stock dividend out of the Great Western Sugar Company is to make one realize how silly it is to feel sorry for the rest of the country which has to pay so heavily to keep the coyotes and wolves from the doors of Senator Smoot's constituents. Animal lovers need only visualize the terror of the 'wild deer and smaller game' when stalked by the 'howling coyote' to agree with the Senator that the tariff on sugar is a national blessing."

"We must save the animals of Utah from each other, though Cuba groan and the sugar on baby's cereal and for sister's fudge approach the preciousness of rubies."

THEY DON'T BAN OUR BOOKS

America, whose Senate proposed to ban "questionable" books from foreign lands, herself sold $3,244,017 worth of books abroad within the first three months of this year, according to the Department of Commerce. Although this represents a slight decline from last year's sales during the same period, the market stands up well in face of general export decreases in other lines.

"Best sellers" as well as more ponderous books and pamphlets find their way over boundary lines and across the water. Naturally, Canada and the United Kingdom, as English speaking countries, are most appreciative of our literature. Australia and New Zealand are expanding markets. Best sellers born in the United States often become extremely popular throughout the whole English-speaking world, and well known American authors have been known to get as large a public in these countries as in their native land.

China ranks third as a consumer of American fiction and facts. Although much of the printed word exported to that nation is for the use of Missionaries and their followers, business literature is also popular with the Chinese. Other sections of the world that take increasing quantities of United States books and pamphlets are the Philippines, Latin America and the West Indies.

Nutley Seconds End Season By Defeating Hillside A. C.

The Nutley High School second team closed its baseball season Monday afternoon on Park Oval, defeating the Hillside Athletic Club, 9-8, in a ten-inning game. Garcia started on the mound for the winners but was relieved by Sam Hutchinson in the fifth inning. The latter received credit for the victory.

Ed Fendrich, former Nutley High pitching ace, now a post graduate twirled nine innings for the Hill-sides. He was effective in spots but unsupported afield, his teammates erring six times. Hank Stager, who won twelve letters at Nutley High, pitched the last inning, and was charged with the defeat.

The Hill-sides were trailing, 5-1, until the fifth, when they scored five times to take the lead. Going into the last half of the ninth inning, the losing nine held an 8-6 lead, but Roy Gerard's boys rallied to tie the score in the ninth and win in the extra frame.

In a twilight game Monday evening the Hillside team defeated the Nutley Firemen, 9-6, in a five-inning game. Strauss and Jentis twirled for the losers.

Did you ever stop to think?

by Edson Waite

Robert P. Lamont, Secretary of the United States, says:

That American business today is burdened with unnecessary overhead, estimated at about $8,000,000,000 a year, and practically all due to waste in distribution.

Large unnecessary expenditure in sales promotion, in destructive competition, in lack of uniformity in business practices, insufficient data as to stocks and methods, from lack of standards of quality and performance, from inadequate transportation and terminals, booms and slumps, unwise credit methods, and many other causes, might be disclosed by scientific cost analysis.

For the past four years the Department of Commerce has been engaged in continuous and exhaustive study of our distribution system. This was one of the policies emphasized most forcefully by President Hoover, then Secretary of Commerce. More than 200 conferences have been held with representatives of various trades and industries (practically all at their own request). In cooperation with them, the Department is helping develop programs for the elimination of waste. In fact, the Department has become a sort of economic laboratory. By its aid in standardizing and simplifying dimensions and shapes of widely used commodities and articles, as well as in business practices, it has helped in effecting great savings.

Up to two decades ago the most important problems before the business world were problems of production. Today mass production has been achieved. We now need mass distribution. The Department of Commerce is fathering a national census of our distribution agencies which, when completed, will be of inestimable value to the business man.

The Department has been devoting considerable attention to the problems of the retailer and the distributor. It has undertaken a series of regional commercial surveys which bring out the factors bearing on marketing methods. A number of distribution cost studies, notably in the field of groceries, hardware, paints and varnish, dry goods, and electrical equipment, have been completed or are being undertaken to provide every merchant with a sample procedure which he may apply to eliminate unprofitable items or practices from his own business.

We must see that this $8,000,000,000 a year is saved to the American consumer.

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

By BOYCE BROGDON

One of the many hot-air artists, of which Broadway is infested with many, cornered me the other day and confided in me that he at one time lost $80,000.00 like the snap of a finger.

I listened to him rattle off his sad mishappenings for almost an hour. It was, indeed, a sad occasion when he lost the property that is now the Pennsylvania Station.

Of all the dishing-up and handing-out, this bird has won the undisputed championship.

He tells of the time that he could have bought Marconi Wireless at one cent a share, but he didn't. A friend bought one hundred shares and later sold it for over a hundred grand.

Yes, sir, he was just born unlucky and had been unlucky ever since. Everything he touched seemed to go against him.

After hearing him tell of all his misfortunes, I just can't see how one man could be so unlucky.

Here's how he lost the eighty grand like the snap of a finger: It seems that he once knew a man who's friend had a distant cousin that knew (personally), a man that won the booby prize in the English Derby.

And he tells me that he had two tickets on that pool and not a d— one came out. Well, sir, if I had bought two tickets out of a hundred thousand chances and not won at least second prize, I would have demanded a recount, I told him.

I finally persuaded the dope to admit that he lost the eighty grand by not even having bought a chance in the English pool.

He finally convinced me, through his boastful talking that if he ever had eighty cents at one time to call his very own he would have felt that he was exceedingly wealthy.

He is just another day-dreamer, looking for a job, but wouldn't work if he found one.

Notes

Sunday, 11 A. M.—"Redemption," will be the subject at Grace Church. It is one of the old doctrines of the early church. The people who come to the services of Grace Church like such subjects, as they furnish them food for thought.

Sunday, 7:45 P. M.—The pastor will preach and the thought of the evening will be the "Power of the Devil." Some people believe in a personal devil, and some say they do not. It takes all sorts to make a world of thought. The usual song service will precede the address.

Last Sunday was Children's Day and what a day! It proved to be one of the big days in the history of Grace Church. At both services all the seats were taken and some were standing, and what an offering! From all sources the receipts for the day were $1,005.00—one thousand and five dollars and a few cents. No wonder the pastor of Grace Church is happy with such a people. The morning service was conducted by the Children of the Sunday School, with the Superintendent H. Irving Russell in charge. Everyone did their part well and reflect much credit on the committee in charge. The Booster Class, Mrs. Charles Thomson, teacher, led the school in their offering. The books of the Old Testament were recited by Paul McDonnell and Helen Tomshaw, who were presented with specially imported New Testaments by the pastor, as a reward for their work during the year.

The evening service was in charge of Sunshine Chapter, World Wide Guild of Grace Church. The scripture was read by the president, Mrs. Edith K. Thomson and prayer offered by Mrs. W. D. Clark, Jr. Four Italian girls from the First Italian Church, Newark, were inducted into the ranks of the World Wide Guild with a very beautiful ceremony. The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Bingham of the Newark Evening News staff, gave an impressive address on "The Making of a Christian." Mrs. Bingham is a speaker of unusual ability, graceful in manner and charming in speech. She held her large audience with intense interest, from the beginning to the close of her address. If Mrs. Bingham returns to Grace Church soon, it is safe to say that every seat in the building will be filled. It was a great treat to listen to this talented lady.

The exercises closed with an impressive Candle Service, which thrilled all who witnessed it. It was a beautiful sight when the lights were turned off, and the large band of young ladies, circled the room, each with a lighted candle in her hand, and singing the Guild song, "Follow the Gleam." The music under the personal direction of Mrs. P. H. Hall, added much to the wonderful evening, one of which will linger long in the memory of those present. Yes, it was a great day.

The advertisements in a newspaper are more full of knowledge in respect to what is going on in the community or state, than can be found in other channels. Business men sometimes are a bit worried because business is dull. Sometimes they complain and say that the people of the home town do not appreciate their efforts, when they seek to give the people as good if not a better quality of merchandise, than they could obtain in nearby cities. Stop complaining, Mr. Business man, about business being slow. Sit down and do a little thinking. Decide just what articles you have to offer to your fellow towns-men and towns-women, then write out a good display advertisement and take it to the Belleville News. The local paper is your display window. Everybody in town does not have time to stop and look into your store window. They are too busy. You may have the best dressed window in town and hundreds of people will not know it. You may have just the article that the housewife wants and she may not know it. Many times the buyer has gone to a near-by city for some article that you have in stock. The busy housewife does not want to spend the time or the money to go out of town for the things she needs and which you have. But she does not know you have the desired article in stock.

Have you noticed the full page advertisements that the near-by city stores carry in their home papers? Did you ever notice, Mr. Business Man how carefully your own wife reads such papers? Why not learn the secret of success in business? Spend a little money. Carry your display window into the homes of your towns-people, by writing out a good display advertisement and having it inserted in the local paper. The Editor of The Belleville News will gladly help you to frame your advertisement in attractive style. He has special training in that art. If you do not take advantage of your great opportunity offered by the local paper, stop complaining about business being slow. It will always be slow until you adopt a good, sound business policy. Advertise—it pays.

Saturday evening, June 7, a good fellowship match was rolled on Grace alleys between Fewsmith and Grace Clubs. Total pins to Count. The score was Fewsmith, 1,559; Grace, 1,675. Grace winning by 116 points. The largest attendance on the bowling alleys was present on this night. Good fellowship prevailed and a good time was enjoyed by all. Mr. Struble was the master of ceremonies and made all feel at home. Don't miss the next contest.

Mr. Robert Ryer of Tappan avenue, met with a slight injury at work Saturday, which will confine him to his home for a week or so.

The Good-Will Chapter of the World Wide Guild met with Mrs. Elmer Hyde, at her home on Little street, Monday evening. A delightful time was enjoyed by the young ladies. After refreshments, the meeting adjourned in due form.

Tuesday evening the Fellowship Circle met for their weekly study. Much interest is being manifested in the subject: "Great Thoughts from Great Minds." Anyone who is desirous of spending a delightful evening, viewing life from all points of contact will enjoy this service.

Monday evening the Men's Club of Grace Church met for their monthly meeting at 7:30 P. M. After a short business meeting the men adjourned to meet with the ladies in Social Hall, where ladies' night was observed. A good time was had. A fine program and bountiful "eats" made the evening pass all too quickly. Plans were made for the beginning of aggressive work in the fall.

CHRIST EPISCOPAL
Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach

Trinity Sunday, Holy Communion at 7:45 A. M. There will be a second celebration of Holy Communion at the 11 o'clock service. Mr. Deckenbach's sermon topic will be: "The Trinity." No evening service.

Sunday evening, June 22, at 8 o'clock, Union Services at the Reformed Church, at which the High School graduates will be guests. The pastor Rev. John A. Struyk will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. All the ministers of Belleville will participate.

Wednesday evening the Girls' Friendly Society held its closing party at the parish house. As there are eight girls in the group who are Seniors at Belleville High this year, the exercises partook of the nature of graduation ceremonies. The Graduates are the Misses Wilma Friesinger, Christine Lennon, Aileen Nourse, Nellie O'Neill, Rose Pifer, Helen Ryerson, Julia Soullis and Ruth Williamson. They were given mock tests by six college professors, in cap and gown. Professor Earl, on home-making; Professor Edwards, on beauty-culture; Professor Ford, in language; Professor Mumford, in spelling; Professor Peck in Etiquette and Professor Williamson, the intelligence test. Prizes were awarded and diplomas given. The special gift of a Prayer Book was presented to Ruth Williamson as the outstanding Senior and Charter member, whose loyalty and helpfulness throughout the four years of the Society's existence, deserved recognition. There was group singing, and the Seniors rendered their own special High School song. Ruth Hess was the Marshall; Bertha Mumford the announcer; Nancy Miller and Lorraine Ross, the ushers. Mrs. George A. Kelsall, the Branch President, arranged the program, and was Master of Ceremonies. Refreshments were served, the seniors being seated at a table, especially provided for them, as honor guests. Guest present were Rev. and Mrs. Peter R. Deckenbach and the Honorary Associates.

Last Sunday evening at the Candle-Light Service the following were admitted to the membership of the G. F. S. As associates, Mrs. Herbert Ainsworth and Mrs. Frederick Sedgwick; as members, Viola Cook, Irene Coulter, June Ellison, Ruth Gridley, Helen Kelsall, Dolores Souvan, Ruth Transue and Isabella Wilson. The Society has concluded a most interesting and instructive season.

This evening the Young People's Fellowship will have a Supper-Dance, it being Friday, June 13. The general chairman is Arthur Bennington, and he is also chairman of publicity and finance; Andrew Mac Master is chairman of decorations, which will be in keeping with the un-lucky, or shall we say lucky date? Miss Jane Walker is president of the organization. Music for dancing will be by Hal Smith's Jazz Band, of Newark. One Sunday evening at the meeting of the Fellowship, the semi-annual election of officers will take place. The officers to be elected are, president, vice-president, corresponding secretary, recording secretary and treasurer. The new officers will not be installed until fall.

The Altar Guild will hold the last meeting of the season on Monday evening. The directress, Mrs. J. Harry Edwards will preside, and a full attendance of members is requested. A social hour will follow the business meeting.

WESLEY M. E.

Rev. Edgar M. Compton

The last meeting of the Young Woman's Auxiliary, until September, was held at the home of Mrs. Christian Hansen, 230 New street, last Tuesday evening, with Mrs. LeRoy Bunnell, president, presiding. A social hour followed the Business meeting. Mrs. Hansen was assisted by Mrs. Harland Box, Mrs. Arthur Budd, and Mrs. Charles Thompson.

All the members were invited to a picnic to be held July 1 at the summer home, at Indian Lake, of Mrs. Wilson. The members are asked to notify the corresponding secretary Mrs. John Pole, 114 Sylvan avenue, Newark, of their intentions.

Children's day was celebrated last Sunday by all departments of the Sunday School.

Twenty-four babies were baptized. The Woman's Missionary Society met yesterday at the home of Mrs. R. C. Whitfield, 85 Rosemore place.

The Standard Bearers' Society will hold a Bake and Cake Sale tomorrow afternoon from 2 until 5 p. m. at the church. Afternoon tea will also be served for a nominal charge. Proceeds will be used to help the girls who are going to camp at Blairstown.

The Epworth League will hold an excursion up the Hudson, Saturday June 21. The steamer Hendrick Hudson has been chartered for the trip. For further information and reservations consult Everett B. Smith.

Belleville was well represented at the annual convention of National Federation of Men's Bible Classes held in Washington, Sunday.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God The Preserver of Man," will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 15, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "Let integrity and uprightness preserve me; for I wait on thee. Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles." (Psalms 25:21, 22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy; who seeing Jesus fall on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he put forth his hand, and touch him saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him." (Luke 5:12, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To prevent disease or to cure it, the power of Truth, of divine Spirit, must break the dream of the material senses." (p. 412).

With the official registration of Cub Pack No. 43 under the leadership of Robert J. Young, chairman of the Cub committee of Brooklyn, N. Y., the Boy Scouts of America has officially started a younger boy program for the 4,000,000 boys of the United States ranging in age from 9 to 12 years. This program is a character influencing, citizenship training program, developed to reach boys under Scout age.

Brooklyn First
The official registration of the Brooklyn Cub Pack, the first to be registered in the United States, follows experiments conducted with 106 Cub groups in different parts of the country, and culminates more than three years of intensive research in which more than 3,500 prominent educators and psychologists participated.

In officially announcing the start of the Younger Boy Program, James H. West, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, says:

"After years of discussion and over two years of intensive research, and constructive planning, with the aid of an unusual group of educators serving as an advisory committee, there was presented to the Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America at its February meeting, a definite recommendation for a Younger Boy Program. After careful consideration the Executive Board accepted the recommendation of the committee, and referred to a committee consisting of Mr. William D. Murray of New York City, Mr. G. Barrett Rich of Buffalo, N. Y. and Dr. H. W. Hurt, Research Executive of Younger Boy Character Education Research for the Boy Scouts of America, and the Chief Scout Executive, the responsibility of developing all the details incident to making this program effective in the Scout field."

The committee reports that the "Cubs" is a leisure time, character influencing program for boys of pre-Scout age—boys 9, 10 and 11 years.

Program
The program provides activities suited to the nature of the boy, which activities also afford opportunity for the development of habits and attitudes essential to good citizenship. It does not aim to draw a boy away from his home for a good time, but seeks definitely to multiply the ways in which a boy may find joy in his own neighborhood and back-yard. It therefore offers to parents activities which their boys may do. It helps a parent answer the question of "What can we boys do?" by aiding the boys to answer that question for themselves. Like Scouting, it is used by all religious groups, all economic groups, all racial groups. Similar movements that are alike in spirit and world friendliness, though differing in program details, are found in some twenty-six different countries of the world.

Three Handbooks
The Boy Scouts of America have already developed three booklets for use in the operation of Cub packs. One is the Information Book on the Cub Program, another the Temporary Outline for Cub Leaders and the third a Parents' Cub Book. Three Handbooks for Cubs are being prepared and the first two are already published.

The uniform of the Cub Scout as worn by experimental groups in all parts of the United States consists of a pair of blue shorts, a blue shirt, a blue cap and a gold neckerchief bearing the Cub insignia. Blue knickerbockers, the kind boys often wear, and a blue pull-on sweater may also be worn with the neckerchief. This auxiliary uniform is made so that boys wearing blue suits to school can come home and by just putting on a slip-over sweater and a cap with a neckerchief similar to the Scouts neckerchief, be in the full uniform of a Cub.

Dr. Hurt reports that "The Program of the Cub Movement consists of an American Plan through which the boys are stimulated to 'earn by doing' things for which they receive advancement recognition in the form of badges and ranks. The activities in this plan are graded. They involve many activities so as to be elastic enough to meet the needs of individual boys and differing neighborhood or community conditions. The plan involves therefore not compulsion, not an attempt at lock-stepping or running them through a mould, but rather an opportunity for the relatively free exercise of personal preference and interest. It represents a ladder which may be climbed—and which will be climbed because other boys are climbing it.

Activities
Numerous associations with boys and with men and with mothers and others in which 'doing together' and 'doing for' someone else, play an important part.

Various activities are practiced by the Cubes individually and in groups in natural settings which now exist in neighborhood and backyard so that the values of Cubbing go far beyond the attendance at meetings away from the neighborhood. These values gear into the actual life the boy leads in such a way as to bring new motives and satisfactions. These activities are practiced in the home and backyard, and street, where the boy spends much time alone. The mother and family are the present leadership elements.

Their continuation is contemplated but with new consciousness of motive, Scouting officials report.

In the neighborhood "Den," where the boys of the vicinity gravitate together to play "on their own" day after day in their spare time, the boys can organize and have one of their number (The Denner) as a leader in their play and action according to the plan.

Neighborhood Meetings
In the mid-weekly meeting in their own neighborhood, an older Boy Scout (the Den Chief) comes to them where they play to bring new games, motives and interests into these daily neighborhood gatherings. In the weekly Pack meeting, at some nearby institution—church, school or other meeting place, many neighborhood "Dens" with their Den Chiefs come into a weekly pack meeting where games are played, recognitions awarded and obligations taken. An adult Cubmaster and his assistants are in charge of this gathering.

AID UNEMPLOYED

A canvass of all homes in Youngstown, Ohio, to interest householders in the unemployment situation and to request them to provide a day's work for the needy was recently made by Boy Scouts of that city under the direction of H. R. Weller, Superintendent of the State-City Employment Bureau, who is in charge of Youngstown's Employment Relief Campaign.

The canvass by the Scouts followed a similar effort by the school children of Youngstown and aided greatly in providing a few days of work for the unemployed.

COLLECT WASTE PAPER

In an effort to raise funds for the purchase of a new truck to be used at Camp Massasoit of their Council, Boy Scouts of Quincy, Mass., have collected seven tons of waste paper from the residents of their community. It is estimated that about 37 tons will have to be gathered before a sufficient sum is realized for the purchase of this truck.

John B. St. John of Edison avenue chaperoned Chester Allen, Harold Peterson, Edward Eagleson, Robert Rhoades, Harold Foster, William Bozelle, Dixon Eagleson, Donald Halliday, Robert Parr and Edward Goring, members of Troop 6, Boy Scouts of Vincent Methodist Church, to Camp Demarest Friday, where they spent the week-end.

BURN RUBBISH

Working under the supervision of Fire Captain James Hitchcock and Junior Captain Paul Stephens, recently Scouts of Omaha, Nebraska, recently burned weeds and brush from the two hundred acre municipal airport site. Scout Executive J. C. Dawson, Jr., was in charge of the Scouts.

Archie MacInnes of Troop 50 received the star award at the Court of Honor held for Belleville Boy Scouts at the high school, Friday night. Presentation was made by Clifford Ross, director of recreation. A service medal for completion of five years' scout duty was awarded Dan Spillane of Troop 75 at the hand of F. W. James of the Belleville unit.

Eight boys, comprising a patrol from Troop 50 received ribbons for proficiency in scouting activities at the recent camp o'ral at Livingston.

The last District Court of Honor for the season was held at Belleville High School on Friday evening with Charles Steel, principal of the high school, presiding.

About 200 boys and a goodly number of parents attended, in spite of an extremely hot night.

All felt well repaid as a most excellent program was rendered.

Fellowship singing was led by Harvey Maden from Council Headquarters. Some excellent slides showing the lay-out of Camp Mohican, and Scout activities, added enthusiasm of the Scouts who are planning to attend camp during vacation.

Merit Badges were presented by Frank Holmes, Scoutmaster of Troop 89, and assistant Deputy Commissioner of Belleville, to 12 Scouts.

Mr. Clifford Ross, Director of Recreation presented the Star Award to Archie McInnis of Troop 50.

Mr. F. W. James, a member of the Belleville Council, presented a Service Medal to Dan Spillane, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 75. Ribbons were presented to each member of the patrol from Troop 50 who secured sixth place at the Camporal held at Livingston. Twenty-one troops competed in the rally.

Happy Harry Hayden kept the audience in a gale of laughter with his funny jokes, his funny musical instrument, and his wonderful card tricks.

The Scouts from all the Troops are planning to go to Bronx Park on Sunday, June 15, for an outing.

Buses will be provided to take the Boys in the morning and bringing them back in early evening at a cost of $1 per boy. The buses will leave from in front of the Capitol Theatre at 8:30 A. M.

On June 28, the Scouts will hold a canoe contest at the annual regatta of the Tuscarora Canoe Club. The event will take place at 2:30 P. M. and all boys wishing to take part should report at 2:15. Those who haven't canoes can enter and canoes will be provided. All troops are expected to enter a team. Troop 89 has won this event two years in succession and if they win this year, the cup presented by the Lions club will be permanently theirs.

Buy handkerchiefs with what it saves

It isn't necessary to pay 50¢ or more to get quality in a handkerchief. Listerine Tooth Paste, made by the makers of Listerine, comes to you in a large tube at 25¢. Note how it cleans, beautifies and protects your teeth. Moreover it saves you approximately $3 a year over 50¢ handkerchiefs. Buy things you need with that saving—handkerchiefs are merely a suggestion. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co.
