BANK RESOURCES LOWER IN 1930

But Both Cashiers Consider Loss Without Alarm In View Of Conditions

TOTAL PUT AT $7,495,743.31

Resources in the two Belleville banks decreased during the year ending June 30, statements made public yesterday from the Peoples National Bank and Trust Co. and the First National show.

The total loss in resources was $280,704.46. Of this, $36,321.85 was lost by the First National whose resources this year are $5,093,979.40, and $244,382.91 was lost by the Peoples, whose resources were published as $2,401,763.61.

Although losses are not usually considered encouraging, both cashiers, John P. Dailey of the First National and Fred L. Wagner of the Peoples, expressed satisfaction. When consideration is taken of the business conditions in the country today, the loss in resources for the past year is anything but alarming, was the opinion of both officials.

BROOKLYN GIRL, STAYING WITH SISTER, HIT BY AUTO

Miss Elvira Gerici of 95 Manhattan avenue, Brooklyn, received painful bruises of the head, body and arms Tuesday afternoon when she was struck by a car driven in Franklin street at Magnolia street by Alfred H. Morgan of 210 Isabelle avenue, Irvington. She was treated at the Presbyterian Hospital, Newark.

Miss Gerici, who is staying with her sister Mrs. Mary Muccigrosso of 22 Frederick street, was standing in the street waiting for a truck to pass when Morgan's car, coming on the right side of the truck in an attempt to pass, struck her and knocked her against another truck, according to witnesses. She was taken to the hospital by Morgan.

MAN FINED $50 WHEN FIRECRACKER INJURES TWO

Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons imposed a fine of $50 on Andrew Garruto, twenty-seven, of 851 Summer avenue, Newark, in police court Monday night when he was arraigned on a charge of throwing a firecracker at Miss Mildred Lucarello, seventeen, of 75 Carmer avenue, Belleville.

Miss Lucarello was carrying her infant niece near her home July 4 when Garruto threw the firecracker at her. It exploded and set fire to her dress besides inflicting burns on both Miss Lucarello and the child.

Sam Dente of Orange, who was walking with the girl attempted to punish Garruto and a friend but was getting the worst of the fight when police arrived.

CAREER OF NEW ORGANIST BEGAN SIXTEEN YEARS AGO

Chester A. Fell assumed on Sunday, June 22, the duties of choirmaster and organist at the Belleville Reformed Church, of which Rev. John A. Struyk is pastor. Mr. Fell has been organist in charge of the choir at the Verona Methodist Episcopal Church for the past three years.

His professional career started in 1914 at the Eighteenth Street Methodist Episcopal Church, New York. A year later he left to take a position in Jersey City at the Westminster Presbyterian Church where he remained for three years.

Before Verona He had charge of the choir and organ at Holy Cross Protestant Episcopal Church, Jersey City, a year and a half, after which he received appointment to the West Side Methodist Episcopal Church in Jersey City, where he directed the choir and played the organ for eight years before going to the Verona church.

Mr. Fell's studies began with D. J. Murphy, cathedral organist at Scranton, Pa., and continued with Philip James of New York City, choral and orchestral conductor, and composer of much church music. He also studied with Archibald Sessions, concert organist, of New York.

Would Try To Recover $7,750 Which Supreme Court Said Was Town Claim

TOWN COUNSEL DECLARES AMOUNT ONLY AN ESTIMATE

An old issue was revived in the Town Hall Tuesday night when Commissioner Carragher objected to the town paying Philip Jannarone and Son, Inc., the retained percentage which the contractor left on deposit while he laid curbs and sidewalks on twenty streets five years ago.

The Commissioner said that Jannarone was not entitled to this money when the town had a claim against him for penetration paving work in Mill street from the Erie railroad to the Bloomfield town line, done in 1923.

In 1925 Chief Justice William Gummere appointed Robert S. Sinclair and Andrew Van Blarcom to investigate charges that the street was not paved according to specifications. Sinclair and Van Blarcom appointed two experts, Dow and Smith, to make tests to see how thick the street had been paved.

Less Than Specified

They reported that thirteen tests had shown a thickness of 3.53 inches instead of the seven inches specified. On these findings they calculated that Jannarone owed the town $7,759.68, or $1.18 a yard for 6,576 yards of paving.

Jannarone was paid in full for paving Mill street even though the objection was raised that the Supreme Court investigation showed

VINCENT WALSH BACK IN ARMY

Local High School Boy, Wounded
Five Times On Mexican Border, To Get Commission

GUARD TO COL. LINDBERGH

Vincent Walsh, graduate of Belleville High School, class of '22, left this week for Washington where he will resume duties in the U. S. Army, preparatory to receiving a commission as infantry lieutenant. He will serve in the War Department building.

Walsh has seen action on the Mexican border in 1929 and has been wounded five times in skirmishes with bandits in that place.
Once, for valor in performing meritorious service in a particularly sharp engagement, he was privileged to review the 12th Cavalry in company with Col. Johnson and Lt. Col. Hanson T. Ely.

He has made several airplane flights over the contested area held by bandits, and was one of Col.
Lindbergh's personal mounted bodyguards when the famous flyer was in that section. The former high school boy is one of the few Belleville people to have shaken hands with the Colonel.

Passed West Point Test

Walsh has decided on further army duties at Washington in preference to West Point although he passed a competitive examination and received an appointment from the Eighth Congressional District. Army officers with whom he formerly served, recommended this step.

While on temporary leave at his home in Belleville he interested himself in the Old Belleville Hotel which was known in former years as Van Cortlandt's mansion. He unearthed much of the past glamorous history of the old place and recently organized a searching party to run down the tradition that a tunnel had been built under the colonial "fortress."

The expedition did not meet with success, however, and the party could not learn whether a tunnel had ever been built. Tradition said that one ran out from the cellar to an arsenal some distance away.
In the party with Walsh were Fred Pascal, Robert Minor, Ernest Salters, Walter Walsh, Albert Pascal and Edward Teeney.

Mrs. Burt lived with her sister, Mrs. James T. Boylan, for the past seven years. Before that she was a resident of Newark.

Compass Useless If Street Name Changed, Avers Clark

Carragher Aghast At Thought Of Dragging Politics Into The Question

WILBUR TO BE SOUTH WILBUR

Changing the names of two streets seems likely as the result of a conference on the subject by the Board of Commissioners Tuesday afternoon. On the request of the West Belleville Improvement Association, that Wilbur street, south of Joralemon street to the golf course, be changed to South Wilbur street, Town Counsel John B. Brown was authorized to draw up the necessary ordinance for passage on first reading at next Tuesday's meeting.

The street was formerly Hill street. When it was changed six months ago to Wilbur street to conform with the name of the street going north from Joralemon street, residents objected because it would be necessary to change the house numbers south of Joralemon street. The matter was referred to Commissioner William H. Williams last week.

ABOUT THE COMPASS

At the conference Tuesday, Commissioner William D. Clark objected to naming the street South Wilbur street as recommended by Williams, since the street was so short.

Williams then said "Oh, you mean that the compass would not have a real chance to function before a person could tour from one end to the other." But the change will be made.

It was also decided to change the name of one of the Newark avenues in Belleville. Commissioner Williams suggested that the street which continues on in Nutley be changed to Coolidge avenue.

WHAT! POLITICS!

Carragher, who is a Democrat by the way, interrupted with spirit hope you're not dragging politics into the naming of streets."

"No," assured Williams, "We're not that low yet." And then Mayor explained.

Coolidge is taboo with the Nutley Board of Commissioners, and since it was our idea to change the name of that street, not only in Belleville, but in Nutley as well, we found no sympathetic response among the Nutley board members." "Change it to Morrow avenue, then," Williams suggested.

It is likely that another conference will be attempted but this time it will be left to the Nutley Board to suggest a name for the street. The other Newark avenue in Belleville will not be changed since it is too long, the Commissioners agreed.

ATLANTIC CITY BECKONS ELKS

National Convention All This Week Attended By Seven Belleville Members

PARADE PLANS GO ASTRAY

A delegation of seven Belleville Elks, led by Past Exalted Ruler Harry Estelle and Exalted Ruler Robert Anderson will be in Atlantic City today to attend the parade in connection with the national convention being held all this week in that city.

The others are Albert Hadley, William MacNair Jr., Edward Mathes, Richard Kenny and District Deputy Frank Strassburger. Headquarters of the local delegates with the exception of Estelle, are at the Hotel Traymore. The Past Exalted Ruler is at the Hotel Grand.

It was originally planned to join the Nutley Lodge and take part in the parade but Nutley, through a misunderstanding, made plans with Irvington. The Belleville Lodge consequently, will not be in the parade. It will be represented, however, at the sessions taking place from today until Saturday.

The number of tickets will be limited from now on, however, and those wishing to go are urged to put in their orders if they do not want to be left at home. The pub-

THE VALUE OF SOUND DESIGN

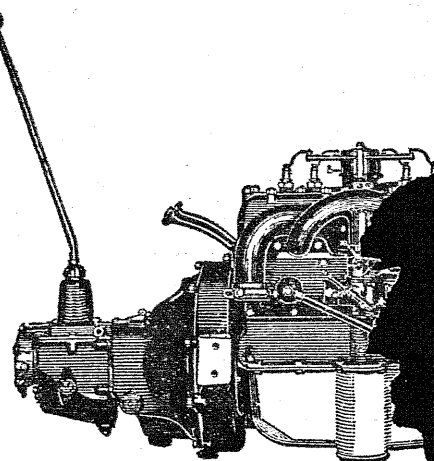

New Ford engine gives outstanding acceleration, speed and power without sacrificing reliability or economy.

THE good performance of the Ford car, so apparent on every highway, is due largely to the sound mechanical design of the engine.

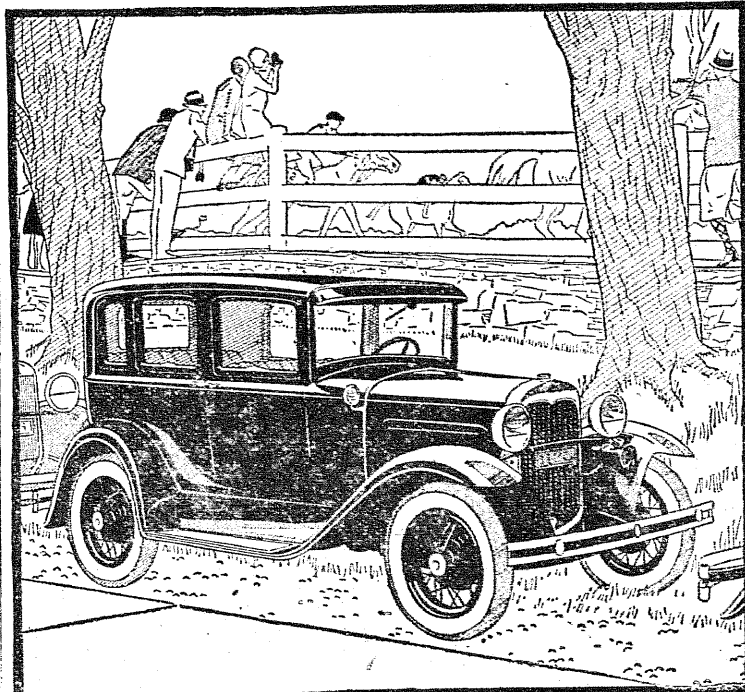

It has outstanding acceleration, speed and power, yet that is only part of its value to you. Greater still is the fact that it brings you all these features without sacrificing either reliability or economy.

That is the reason the Ford car has given such satisfactory service to millions of motorists all over the world and has been chosen by so many large companies that keep accurate cost figures. In every detail of construction it has been carefully planned and made for the work it has to do.

The design of the compression chamber is an important factor in the efficiency of the Ford engine. It is built to allow free passage of gases through the valves and to thoroughly mix the fuel by producing turbulence within the cylinders during compression, thus flashes quickly through the fuel charge, resulting in quick and more effective engine performance. Other factors are the direct gasoline feed, the special carburetor, the new hot-spots, aluminum pistons, chrome valves of larger diameter, statically balanced crankshaft, flywheel, the simplicity of the cooling, lubrication, and fuel system, and accuracy in manufacturing.

Rayon Lace Dinner Gown Adapted for Formal Wear

By BEATRICE PAXTER.
Fashions from Paris bring a number of interesting novelties, such as the dinner dress above, which, by unfastening a single snap, may be transformed into a formal evening gown. It is particularly practical for summer week-ends, when the wardrobe must be held to the minimum.
With its little capelet, this charming creation of Patou green, luminous rayon lace from Bonwit-Teller is merely slightly
"low cut." An invisible snap fastens the capelet on the left shoulder, and if you wish to go on from an informal dinner party to a more formal affair, this snap does the trick of making you decollete.

Although the shops are busy with the modes for summer wear, the designers are hard at work on creations for the fall. A hint of what cooler weather will bring may be seen in the style on the right, above. The return to the regal brings this luxurious transparent rayon hostess or tea gown.

Carthage in Mythology

Tradition has it that the actual founder of Carthage was Elissa, a king's daughter, who took the name Dido, which meant refuge. According to Virgil, Aeneas, escaping from burning Troy, stopped at Carthage on his way to Italy, where he was to found the line of Romulus. Dido, according to the poet, fell in love with Aeneas, and when he sailed away he saw the smoke from the funeral pyre in which she burned herself.

DOES NOT FAVOR PAYMENT OF BILL

Wasn't It True? Tuesday night at the Commission meeting, the Town Counsel was subjected to cross-examining by Commissioner Carragher on this point. He was asked if it was not true that he said the town had a claim against Jannarone.

Brown answered that he had not said so, and when Commissioner Carragher, waving a copy of the Chief Justice's report, declared he had the record of it, the Town Counsel asked to see it.

Carragher had Town Clerk John Daly read a portion of the report where Commissioners Sinclair and Van Blarcom declared that the town's claim against Jannarone, according to the findings of Dow and Smith, was $7,759.68.

Declared No Claim

Brown disputed that the findings of these two men represented a tangible claim and when Commissioner William H. Williams asked for an opinion about whether the town might collect this money, said that the claim could only be established after court proceedings.

The Town Counsel expressed doubt that a suit would show the discrepancy in thickness to be as Dow and Smith reported. He believed that expert engineers would testify that pavements wear down and that there would be no overwhelming evidence against Jannarone.

Commissioner Williams said he would like to know what the Board should do about the matter—file the issue so that it would not continually bob up or take steps to sue Jannarone. It was decided to have the Town Counsel submit a written opinion telling whether it was likely that the town would recover this money.

To Original Issue

The controversy then reverted to the original question, that of paying Jannarone a retained percentage of $1,700 on the contract for sidewalks and curbs on twenty streets.

In this issue, too, Commissioner Carragher contended that the contractor had not followed specifications. When, at the conference of the Commissioners, Town Counsel Brown submitted a report by Col. Howard, expert, that this work conformed from ninety to ninety-five per cent of specifications, Carragher disputed the accuracy of Col. Howard's tests.

Findings Do Not Tally

He declared that other tests made by John L. Fitzgerald, former assistant town engineer, revealed other facts. Mertz avenue was said by Commissioner Carragher to be only three inches thick instead of five.

Town Engineer Albert S. Blank declared that sidewalk thicknesses varied and that they would be under specifications in some points and over in others.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy asked Philip Jannarone if he would be willing to accept payment on the basis of ninety to ninety-five per cent, according to the findings of Col. Howard and received an affirmative reply.

The other Commissioners agreed that this was fair and the Town Engineer was ordered to submit the total cost of laying concrete in order to find how much of Jannarone's retained percentage would be given back to him. Commissioner Carragher did not sanction the step, however, because of the old Mill street job.

Bullet's Velocity

The speed of a bullet as it leaves a rifle is 2,700 feet per second. That is approximately five times the speed of the fastest airplane. It should be understood that the velocity of a bullet decreases rapidly, while the speed of an airplane remains constant. It is for that reason that a comparison, as given above, is only for the speed of a bullet as it leaves the muzzle of a rifle with the speed of a fast airplane.

MARMON GUARANTEE EXTENDED TO A YEAR

Down through the ages of commercial history, the buyer of merchandise has assumed a more and more prominent position in the scheme of business and trade. The once important precept, "Let the Buyer Beware," is now definitely a relic of the past and the person who purchases a modern standard article of merchandise, whether it is a kitchen utensil or an automobile, is confident that he will receive a full measure of value from the money he expends.

Probably the latest example of this tendency to favor the purchaser is shown in the new and extended automobile guarantee that is being inaugurated by Marmon, according to Thomas E. Jarrard, Marmon general sales director.

"The automobile industry is by no means taking the lead in offering products that are guaranteed for as long as the term provided in the new Marmon warranty," Mr. Jarrard continued. "It must be remembered, however, that the motor car, while developed to a higher degree of perfection than many other articles of merchandise, is an intricate piece of machinery over the usage of which the manufacturer has little or no control after it is sold. To guarantee the automobile, therefore, for a considerably longer period than covered by the old ninety-day warranty is regarded as an outstanding departure which gives the purchaser a further degree of confidence in the car he has selected and in the ability of its producer.

The new warranty is extended to original purchasers of all new Marmon straight-eights and covers all material and workmanship for a period of one year or not to exceed 12,000 miles of driving, whichever shall first occur, from date

CANTERBURY BELLS NOW

The commonly grown biennial Canterbury bell is probably the most popular. Many of the handsomest are exhibited in florists' shops in the springtime, hold the mistaken belief that this is difficult to grow. Yet, the Canterbury bell, which is rapidly becoming one of the most popular of plants, can very easily be grown in the garden if its requirements are met. The seed should be sown now for best results, and not later than the middle of July if plants sturdy enough to bloom next year are desired. The plant is not particular as to soil requirements, although the acidity is to be guarded against. If the ground is sour, a small amount of lime bearing seed.

The main difficulty experienced in growing this plant seems to be in wintering it. It holds its foliage all winter, while apparently hardy, but shows a fatal tendency to rot in the soil in which it is wintered. The plants are to be wintered in a drained. A moderate covering of weeds and straw will do, but not directly over the plants. Let fine brush, or evergreen boughs be used for covering material, as this will prevent smothering of the plants. Bear in mind that many of the Canterbury bells are smothered by protection; more, in fact, than killed by cold weather.

There are three main types of Canterbury bells, namely, the single, the cup and saucer, and the cup and saucer. Of these types there are many varieties, white, pink, rose, light blue, purple, and striped. The best seed.

For information on this and other flower or agricultural questions may be obtained from the County Extension Office, or the County Agricultural Agent, Caldwell. (Telephone 1234)

NEW YORK APARTMENT HOUSE APES GERMAN INNOVATION

Architects, builders and engineers in all parts of the country are greatly interested in a new development in building construction, now being introduced in New York City, which many believe will revolutionize the structural design of the large apartment of the future. The innovation, different from anything so far applied to major apartment ventures in the United States, is being incorporated in the $14,100,000 twenty-nine story Majestic Apartments being erected on Central Park West between 71st and 72nd streets.

According to S. W. Straus & Co., investment bankers, who are financing the Majestic Apartments through a $9,400,000 issue of first mortgage 6% bond certificates, the new building method consists of omitting the usual supporting vertical steel columns at the corners of the building up to the nineteenth floor.

GLASS SKYSCRAPERS

The elementary engineering principal of the cantilever is employed to support the horizontal girders at the corners. This principal has been extensively developed abroad, notably in Germany, where it is used in the construction of so-called "glass skyscrapers."

Free from the obstruction of the vertical column, each corner room will be completely glass-enclosed on two sides, and will serve as a sun porch or solarium for the apartment to which it is attached. In summer the glass can be removed and the porch converted into an open terrace. The advantage of this type of construction is that it gives the city dweller some of the pleasure of living in the country, the open terrace being comparable to the spacious porch or veranda of a large suburban residence.

Baby's Tooth and Sea Lion Thrill Chapmans On Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Chapman and baby, Barbara, returned June 29 from an eight day, 1,200 mile automobile trip to Boston and through the New England States. They attended the National Convention of the Master Plumbers Association in Boston June 24, 25 and 26 and continued to Portland, and Old Orchard Beach, Me. From there, they traveled to Lake Winepesaukee, Bellows Falls, Vt., Troy and Poughkeepsie, N. Y. and then home.

While in Boston, the Chapmans celebrated the advent of their child's first tooth. A second highlight of the trip took place at Old Orchard when they saw an "honest-to-goodness" sea lion riding the waves.

At first they thought it was a dog and then, when Mrs. Chapman was convinced it was a sea lion, she thought it escaped from a circus. The sight was a revelation to a New Jersey resident, Mrs. Chapman said.

Mineral Felt Corp.

430 Cortlandt St.

"Mineral Felt, a new insulating material that will adhere to any surface, makes a 'thermos bottle' out of your furnace or boiler, keeping all the heat inside and sending it up through the house so that at least twenty-five per cent of your coal bills are saved," said Mrs. Edwin Chapman, speaking of the product that is handled exclusively in this section by the Belleville Mineral Felt Corp., of which Mr. Chapman is president.

"The reduction in fuel bills is guaranteed so that the cost of making an insulation will be saved the first year," Mrs. Chapman continued, explaining the unique guarantee of the Corporation.

"In some cases, where the heating plant is an oil burner and there is thermostatic control, the saving will be even greater. Instances have been recorded where the saving in fuel bills has amounted to forty per cent."

Further than this, Mineral Felt may be reclaimed, as it is applied like a paste. If a furnace or boiler is ever dismantled to make way for a new heating plant, the Mineral Felt may be taken off and used on the new unit.

Other products handled by the local concern which are manufactured by the Mineral Felt Insulating Co. of Toledo, O., include: steel clad pipe covering, for insulating pipes going from one factory to another or for hot air or steam pipes that are laid underground; Minfelt, a substitute for asbestos to cover pipes going from the furnace; Pyrocoat, for wall insulation.

All Mineral Felt products are fireproof, vermin proof and water proof; reflecting heat rather than absorbing it.

TICKET KILLING IS FIRMLY INTRENCHED

Despite the fact that police recorders and police officials periodically make statements that "ticket fixing" is a bad practice and must be stamped out, we still wonder how it is that anyone submits to a fine for a minor offense such as improper parking.

Few of our friends who have received tickets for these offenses ever paid fines. Most of them never appeared in court. They have friends who wave a small political banner. They take their ticket from the policeman, fold it up carefully and then go to see a friend. The friend makes a telephone call something like this:

"Hello So and So. You remember me of course, well—look here. A very good friend of mine was passing through the other day and got a ticket for I was just wondering if you could fix it up."

After a few customary questions about the identity of the summoning officer, when the ticket was received, what the offense was, etc., the man's friend is told to either tear up the ticket or give it to the politician.

It is a very simple procedure and very often practiced. We cannot agree that it should be done, but it is hard to submit to punishment when everyone around you is getting away with similar violations.

For that matter, we would like to know what recorder who has violated a traffic law, and every automobilist must violate some, has ever been given a ticket. We would also like to know whether there ever has been a police official fined for a motor vehicle violation. When these challenges are answered with names and addresses given we'll line up one hundred per cent with the forces of law enforcement and we might even switch our prohibition ideas.

IS AVIATION BECOMING ROUTINE?

We visited Roosevelt Flying Field on Long Island during the weekend and looked over the planes and the improvements that have been made within the past two years. It was all very interesting, with runways made larger by almost a mile and great new hangars designed architecturally in a futuristic style. The most impressive feature of the day was the small crowd of visitors.

Two and three years ago when trans-ocean flights were in preparation and Lindbergh was the idol of every schoolgirl, thousands of people would crowd the field every Saturday and Sunday. Planes would be soaring up every few seconds like sparrows in a city street. Twenty engines would be warming up or idling. Scores of helmeted men with goggles would be climbing in and out of planes and covered-attired barkers would be making a harvest selling tickets for a few minutes' ride.

There was no such picture this weekend. A handful of people crowded the railing. Some were watching the two or three ships plying the air as taxis. Barkers were having a hard time selling tickets. The planes on a greatly enlarged field could have been counted on both hands.

What has happened to aviation?

Aviation has lost its tremendous attraction for the curious. America has come to accept the plane in much the same way as Europe. No longer is there any thrill in just watching these man-made hawks of the air—or in just riding. There are few people today, who have not been up at least once while those who have not had the experience will probably never "risk it." Today, flying is a routine business without the flavor of much adventure.

THE PEDESTRIAN TO BLAME

Harold G. Hoffman, State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, in one of his bulletins to THE TIMES says that one of the gravest problems confronting traffic authorities is that of pedestrian protection. In offering a remedy for the large number who are hurt every year he declares "If the motorist were to assume that pedestrians were never wrong, the problem of safeguarding them would fade into obscurity."

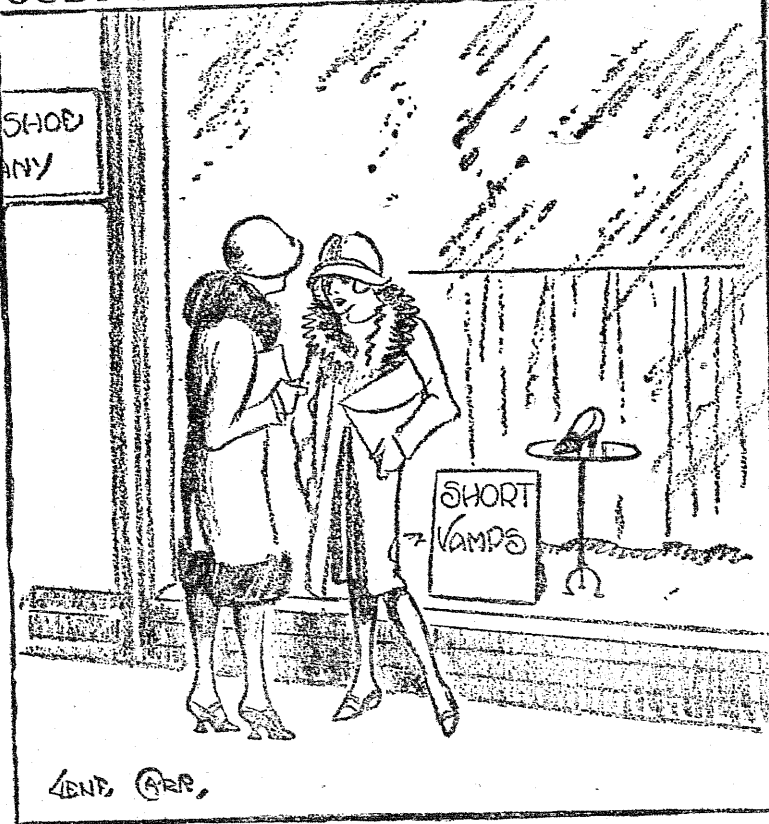

Our angle is that the Commissioner is just trying to push over another grand idea that will not and cannot work. Regardless of how much sympathy we may have for the poor pedestrian it is patent that he represents a smaller object and harder to see than the automobile. He should therefore see the automobile first.

He has the time to survey the field before he attempts to cross the street and even if he is slower, as the Commissioner says, he is certainly more flexible, going either way out of the path of an automobile at a moment's notice.

No—if a pedestrian of mature age is hit we're inclined to think that it is his own fault. We would prophesy that the number of injured persons would wane if pedestrians were to assume that the motorist was always right. That would be a real solution.

CHEVROLET COMPANY ADVERTISING SESSIONS

Detroit, Mich., July 11—The automobile dealer now has a voice in the national advertising program of his factory. Chevrolet dealers throughout the United States are taking part in a unique series of advertising conferences being conducted by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

These dealer conferences are held at the home office here under the general supervision of R. K. White, advertising manager. One is being held every month this summer with a different group of dealers from different parts of the country present each time.

"The object of these advertising conferences," Mr. White explained, "is to keep the home office constantly in touch with problems faced daily by the dealers so that Chevrolet advertising may be guided by actual field conditions and thus prove most effective."

"The assistance given by dealers in these conferences," he continued, "is invaluable in adding to the efficiency of our advertising, particularly the newspaper advertising, which forms the greatest retail advertising force of each individual dealer."

"While every type of advertising—newspaper, magazine, outdoor and electric spectacular signs and trade papers—is discussed, major interest attaches to the newspaper schedule because this makes up by far the largest part of the year's budget. There are now more than 5,500 leading newspapers carrying the Chevrolet message to practically every city, town and hamlet in the United States."

Life and Trouble

Would the world ever have been made if its maker had been afraid of making trouble? Making life means making trouble. There's only one way of escaping trouble: and that's killing things. Cowards, you notice, are always shrieking to have troublesome people killed.—George Bernard Shaw.

"Black Pete's" Bell Shown

"Black Pete's" bell, presented to Kirkwell museum, at Kirkwell, Scotland, by the marquis of Shetland's estate, has been placed on exhibition. Miles of Conveyors in Ford Plant

This picture shows two types of conveyors in use in the Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Company.

AN ENDLESS chain conveyor, three and a half to four miles long, said to be the longest in the world, has just been completed at the Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Company at Dearborn, Michigan. On it parts of Ford cars in the process of manufacture are transported from one building to another and completed parts are carried direct to railroad cars for shipment to branch assembly plants.

The conveyor, which carries its cargo on suspended hooks, has a daily capacity for 300,000 parts weighing over 2,000,000 pounds. It supplants freight cars and trucks which have been used for the transfer of many parts from one point to another in the Ford plant.

This longest conveyor of them all is a development of the Ford policy that nothing should be done by manual labor that could better be done by machine.

In the early days of his manufacturing career, Mr. Ford devised the assembly line—a moving track on which cars in the process of assembly went to the workmen instead of the workmen carrying parts to the car. The assembly line, perfected in many ways, is now used by automobile manufacturers generally.

The value of the conveyor in reducing physical labor, in saving time, in preserving system and in cutting costs soon became apparent and its use was extended to other purposes about the plant. Now there are literally miles of conveyors of various types in the Ford plant. Some of them carry parts from one building to another and are carefully synchronized so that the parts arrive at precisely the right moment and in the exact spot where they are needed. Others transport red hot ingots of steel weighing nearly a ton each. Still others move outgoing shipments.

If it were not for the conveyors, according to officials of the Ford Company, mass production would not be possible on its present scale.

lican county that smells at present like apples that have laid out too long. The county is so Republican that when a grand jury is drawn they use nothing but Republicans. The only Democrat they let in the building is an occasional prisoner. "If I had to show a letter B on my auto plate," said Hamp, "I wouldn't drive the car out of the city limits."

"And there is Atlantic county, too," continued Hamp. "This county, is under investigation, or at least close scrutiny, and it is no honor to a fellow from the Playgrounds of America to go out with a letter A on his auto plate. Folks might take him for a business man or decent citizen but more likely they would put him down as part of the pernicious Republican machine that is running this famous seaside resort."

"Republican machines may be no worse than Democratic machines," said Hamp, "but there are a lot more of them and they squeeze the lemon harder. I see a good many cars from Camden county and that letter C sticks out like a sore thumb in front of a pretty classy car. Ten chances to one the advertisement that you come from Camden will put you down as part of the Camden Republican organization and that carries a certain degree of onus. If I had a business in Camden I would commute, just to get rid of the letter C."

"Middlesex is one of the worst counties there is for graft and greed and it will be investigated when the investigators get around to it, which probably will not be until another Democratic governor is elected. This is one county with two political machines, which means that the taxpayers have no chance at all. The license plate in Middlesex doesn't figure so strongly and doesn't disgrace its citizens so much as elsewhere because Monmouth, which is pretty rotten herself, has preempted the letter M and Middlesex has to use the letter K as a substitute. This helps some because it sort of disguises your identity. If I had to use a plate from any of these counties which are under investigation I certainly would pick Middlesex on account of the letter K. If you stick a capital O in front of it people might by some prank of the imagination take you to be O. K."

"If I had to make a pick and select a license plate that distinguished me from other people," said Hamp, "I would pick a number with an SC in front of it. That means State Car. When you have one of these you get all the gasoline and oil and tires for nothing and you can go out Sunday afternoons and take your relatives or neighbors and knock off a couple of hundred miles without it costing you a cent—assuming that your guests will pay for the dinner. "You can do that," said Hamp, "without giving away your politics or residence, because SC doesn't mean any special favor from either party or any county. It is universal."

Last week the State Board of Bar Examiners turned out a batch of 311 attorneys and 131 counselors. The long list was published in the newspapers and in print the names looked like a lot of pied type.

It is from lists such as these that our future Judges and Prosecutors are to come. Between the Judges, Prosecutors and juries, it will be necessary before long to call in English interpreters to try the cases.

There is a controversy going on of national scope concerning the longest legal advertisement ever printed in this country. The prize goes to the Reporter, a weekly newspaper printed at Downers Grove, Illinois. Last year this newspaper printed a delinquent tax list which necessitated 136 pages of seven columns to a page, representing 17,500 inches. At the usual legal rates the cost of running this advertisement was $21,000. And this neat sum, judiciously expended, permit us to say, would buy a lot of Ford cars.

The late trend of events indicates that Prohibition is not wanted in this section of the country.

Up at Catskill, in the Adirondack Mountains, a show troupe had to disband and the stranded actors walked home. They were showing the old favorite—"Ten Nights In a Barroom"—and nobody was even slightly interested.

And this happened right in Sleepy Hollow neighborhood where the famous Rip Van Winkle slept off the greatest jag in history.

That shows the changing times. Presently, we suspect, there won't be even an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company on the road.

Talking with a fingerprint expert the other day following a store robbery the night before, he stated that fingerprints upon a pane of glass that had been removed at the rear of the store proved that the robber was highly excited. The nature of the fingerprints indicated that the robber was perspiring freely. Because of this, the prints on the pane of glass were easily distinguished.

The expert showed what a difference is apparent on a glass when the fingers are moist as compared with when they are dry.

She—I'm having a party row night and I want you. He—No fooling? She—Well, that's up to

With so many of our own out of employment, would a good idea, for a while, to keep out men from other tries who come here to get away from those already here. Our melting pot has been worked of recent years.

While the East is getting to let down the bars, out West far off Oregon, the people are vote at the next election on whether or not cigarettes are to be abolished in that state.

It seems that since women started to vote there has been nothing but trouble.

Major Freelance's Column

By Frank G. Andrews

"They can have all the special numbers they want but not any for me," says Hamp Hendershot, referring to our state automobile plates.

"The fancy numbers that some fellows get because they stand in with somebody," continued Hamp, "them in a lot of trouble."

"Remember once," he went on, "we were out after midnight were coming down a lonely road where hardly a car was seen during a whole night."

"Alongside the road we saw a car. It had two people in it, not both of them were men. We couldn't see who the two were but we saw the familiar numbers on the front plate. We knew the man who owned the car. More than that, we were able to make a good guess who the second party in the car was because they had been talked out a lot."

"If that fellow," continued Hamp, "had common license plates like 21957 nobody would have been wiser. These special license plates should be used only by men who know how to behave."

"Then there is the letter B," said Hamp. "That shows you are from Bergen county. Bergen is a Repub-

Zambier Clouts Home Run In Ninth To Win Close Game For Eureka Bears

BLOEMEKE SOLVED IN SEVENTH

The Panthers were nosed out 6 to 5 by the Eureka Bears Fourth of July afternoon in a Davega League contest at Belleville Park. The teams were tied at five-all going into the ninth inning when Zamier of the Bears rapped out a homer to win the game for his team.

Art Bloemeke occupied the mound for the locals and pitched great ball until the seventh inning when the Bears solved his delivery for three runs. Until then the Panthers had a 3 to 2 lead. Not to be outdone, however, the Panthers rallied in the last half of the seventh to tie up the count at five-all.

Dave Lamb and Phelps led the attack for the Panthers by accounting for a pair of safeties apiece. Zamier starred at bat for the winners. Murphy of the Panthers pulled several circus catches in center field.

POLO PUTS HIS MAN UNDER IN SECOND ROUND

Stages Impressive Comeback In Bout With Mike Dempsey Of Rochester

SILVER LAKE WELTERWEIGHT GETTING CLOSER TO TITLE

After receiving a bad cut over the right eye in the first round of a bout at the Velodrome A. C. Monday night, Freddy Polo, Silver Lake's Belting Beauty made a big comeback and put his opponent, Mike Dempsey of Rochester, to sleep. The knockout was made with a heavy left to the point of the chin in the second round.

As a result of Polo's decisive victory, Harry Mendel, Velodrome promoter, is negotiating with young Corbett and his manager for a Polo-Corbett scrap some time this summer.

Corbett is the uncrowned welterweight champion. He has recently beaten two champions in that division but when the title was not at stake. Jackie Fields was beaten when he held the crown and, a few weeks ago, Jack Thompson was given an unmerciful trouncing in San Francisco.

A fight between Polo and Corbett would attract much attention in Newark.

Promoter Mendel promised that he would hold a championship at his club before the outdoor season is over. Whether there will be an elimination bout with the Silver Lake boy and Corbett, remains to be seen.

Highest Peak in Arizona

The San Francisco peak is the highest peak in Arizona. It is 5,000 feet above the Colorado plateau, and is more than 12,000 feet above sea level. It was thought by the Indians to be the third mountain created, and was called by them the "High Place of Snow." In 1539 it was named by Marcos de Neza, a Franciscan friar, as the "Kingdom of San Francisco." The peak is also known on some maps as "Humphreys Peak."

Revolution in Industry

The term "industrial revolution" is applied to the change in industry brought about by the inventions which distinguished the Eighteenth and Nineteenth centuries. It is a term that is not considered appropriate by some people, but is a well-established phrase.

Cards and Clintons Even Up In League After Last Game

WITH BOX-MEN EVEN, A. A. WINS

Piles Up Nine Runs In Game With Colored Giants At Clearman Field Last Week

RUN IN THIRD WITHOUT HIT

A five run rally in the first inning enabled the Belleville A. A. to tossers to defeat the Colored Giants by a 9 to 5 margin Wednesday night in a Legion league contest at Clearman Field. The A. A. boys were fortunate to win though as they made only five hits. The Giants clouted just as many. Here's how it happened in the first inning. Skidmore fanned. Harry Donahue doubled and scored shortly after on Lawlor's single. Lawlor going to second on the play. Polfisch doubled, scoring Lawlor.

Mac Lamb walked and Schleckser singled, scoring Polfisch. Watters' fielder's choice scored Lamb. Ketchell walked and Watters came across the plate with the final run when Skidmore reached first on an error.

Johnny Lawlor led off in the second inning by hoisting one to center field which Ed Salters muffed. The veteran took second on this miscue, then advanced to third on Lamb's infield out. He came scampering home on Polfisch's sacrifice bunt.

WITHOUT A HIT

The A. A. scored another run in the third without the aid of a hit. Arty Dunn reached first on an error. He stole second and when Barnett threw wildly to third scored.

Ketchell held the Giants runless until the fifth inning. In this frame, however, the Giants suddenly came to life. Ketchell became wild and walked two men, which, combined with two errors and one hit, enabled the Giants to tally twice.

The A. A. scored several more runs in the sixth. Art Dunn, the first to bat, struck out but reached first when Barnett dropped the ball and then threw to Stout at first; the latter also dropping it. Dunn was picked off first shortly after so it made little difference.

DROP WAS COSTLY

Watters walked and took third when Marshall dropped "Lucky" Skidmore's easy fly. Skidmore stole second and scored with Watters a moment later on Buchanan's single to center field.

The Giants scored three runs in the sixth. Three hits, a walk and two fielder's choices did the trick. Hubert Crawford, who relieved Brown after the first inning, pitched shutout ball but received little support.

Ketchell pitched a nice game the first four innings but weakened in the fifth and sixth frames. Mac Lamb amazed the fans with several classy stops and throws from his shortstop post. The scores:

Ashworth, Cardinal Pitcher Again Shines; Allows Only Three Safe Hits

OPPOSING PITCHER GOOD TOO, BUT ERRORS HURT

The Cardinals went into a dead lock with the Clintons for the Junior League leadership by defeating the Comets 5 to 4 Monday night at Belleville Park. Hits in this game were about as rare as rises in the stock market. The winners had five while the Comets were credited with but three.

George Ashworth again toed the mound for the Cardinals and the second successive time held the opposition to three hits. Ashworth was in several tight holes but came through nobly in the pinches. Aker twirled for the losers and pitched a good game, but his support was wobbly and several glaring Comet errors proved costly.

Scored Early

The Comets scored a run in the first inning when Buddy Burden walked, went to second on Crowning's hit and scored a moment later on Comiskey's error.

The Cards came back in the half of the first with a run. Danny Dunn reached first safely on Golden's error, stole second and third and then came home on a fielder's choice.

The Cards came through with a pair of runs in the second inning when Charley Christell sent a screeching triple to left field with Ashworth and Danny Dunn aboard the paths.

Breezing Along

Meanwhile Ashworth was breezing along in great style. There were no more runs made by the Comets until the sixth frame. In this inning the Comets scored three runs on an error, two hits and a walk, taking the lead at 4 to 3.

The Cardinals were not to be denied, however, and in their half of the sixth they scored two runs. With one out, Comiskey singled and scored on Byrnes' long triple to right field. With Byrnes at third and Eddie O'Neil at bat, they scored the winning run on a perfect squeeze play.

Charley Christell of the Cards, and "Rajah" Crowning of the Comets led their teams in batting, each hammering out a pair of safeties. Sullivan starred afield for the Cardinals while Golden did the best work for the losers.

"Roads" and "Streets"

The English word "road" probably comes from the old English "rad," compounded from a verb meaning to ride a horse, while the word "street" comes from the Latin "strata," a paved way, one of the streets of beautifully matched stones which the modern traveler may still see, with the ruts made by the chariot wheels of the vanished citizens, in Pompeii and Herculaneum.—New York Times.

BELLEVILLE WINS BEFORE HOLIDAY CROWD IN NUTLEY

Mallack Is Wild But He Holds Nutley Sluggers To Five Hits

FINE FIELDING IS SEEN

A big sixth inning, with four runs as a result, gave the Belleville American Legion a 7-3 margin of victory over the All-Star Nutley A. C. aggregation in their Fourth of July tilt at Park Oval, Nutley. Tommy Garrison started on the hill for Nutley and though he struck out eight men in six innings he was rocked for eleven hits and six runs. Legs Lawrence took up the burden in the seventh and allowed the winners their final run. The Legion's boxman was Jim Mallack and he restricted the Nutley swatters to five safe bingles, no two coming in the same stanza. His control was erratic, however, and he walked seven batters. The Belleville lads collected fifteen safeties, all of them being of the one-base variety, Artie Lamb and Carragher leading the way with three apiece. Two of Nutley's five hits went for extra bases, O'Neill connecting for a two-bagger and Gorman crashing out a triple, the longest hit of the game. Gorman also had a single to head the Nac sluggers.

Fielding Features

Several pretty catches brought a round of applause from the fans during the game. In the sixth inning Curran made a leaping one-hand stab of Burke's liner as it was about to disappear into the left field bleachers. Barbata turned in a nice catch of Curran's foul fly down the first base line, bouncing off the ropes as he speared the ball. The veteran, Lawlor, proved a thorn in the locals' side, accepting eight difficult chances at the hot corner with but one error. Gelshen played a nice game behind the plate.

The Nacs broke the ice with a pair in the opener. Sentner fanned and Mallack passed O'Neill. Stager advanced O'Neill to third with a single on the hit and run play, taking second on the throw to catch O'Neill. Both runners scored on Burke's sacrifice fly to center when no one took Artie Lamb's toss to the plate. Gorman grounded to short for the final out.

The Belleville crew opened the third with a singleton. Flynn struck out but Lawlor singled to left and stole second. Artie Lamb's infield out sent him to third and he scored on Kastner's sacrifice fly to Gorman. Dunn grounded for the third out.

In the fifth they accounted for another run. Mallack shot a single to left. Flynn sacrificed him to second. Lawlor struck out but Artie Lamb beat out a hit to short.

Barbata's throw reached home in time to nail Mallack but Wallace dropped the ball after tagging the Belleville hurler.

Five hits and a pair of walks sewed up the tilt for the Legion in the sixth. Garrison passed Dunn and Curran to start the frame. Carragher bunted to fill the bags and Gelshen and Mallack came through with line singles that cleared the bags. Mac Lamb fanned and Lawlor again filled the sacks with a safe bunt. Artie Lamb nosed out a throw to first on his bunt, Gelshen scoring. Kastner retired on strikes and Dunn, batting for the second time, ended the frame with a fly to left.

Error That Hurt

In the eighth both nines tallied a run. For Belleville, O'Neill messed up Lawlor's grounder and he scored on successive singles by Kastner and Dunn. Nutley's counter came when Gorman was safe on Lawlor's error and stole second. Lawrence's roller took a bad hop as it neared Mac Lamb and jumped over his shoulder for a single, Gorman scoring the contest's final run. The box score:

Iron Formed of Magnets

An ordinary piece of iron is itself nothing more nor less than millions of tiny magnets. Every atom of iron is a tiny magnet with its own north and south pole. But we don't notice it because all these tiny magnets are higgledy-piggledy as it were, and neutralize each other's magnetism.

Here and There

By Harry Metz

It is interesting to note that Father Time does not wield such an active ax or should we say scythe in the Senior Twilight League. We are not a superior judge of ages, but by mathematical figuring we estimate that there are at least ten players who will never see thirty again and some of these men will never see thirty-five again.

We don't feel that these players mentioned will feel embarrassed, so we will pick them out for you. First of all there is Johnny Lawlor of the A. A. Johnny is nearer forty than thirty-five, but of all the players in the league there are not more than five who could beat John around the bases.

Next in line is Sugar Flynn. Sugar has not been playing so regularly this year, but that does not mean he has slowed up. The next is Teddy Skidmore. Here is a man who seems to be getting faster each year. Ten or twelve years ago Teddy was manager of the old Forest Hill Club, so that must make him at least as old as Johnny Lawlor.

Several other old Forest Hill players who are not so young and who still play a good game are Bob Andrews, Harry Donahue, Oscar Lawson and Fred Polfisch.

Next on the list is the popular Biddy Carragher. Biddy must have gone down to Florida last year and visited the Fountain of Youth. He is having the best year of his long career at bat, hitting .579 and improving every game.

The last two are Stout of the A. A. and good old Gus Lang of the Parks. Bill Buttons, too must be thirty or thereabouts. Gus Lang must be classed as the real veteran of the league. Gus is almost forty-five, but still keeps going and is not the slowest player in the league.

Wonder what these old timers do to keep going? Maybe next week they'll allow us to publish their diets. If we've missed any "old men" let us know at the field some night. In these days of face lifting it's hard to judge ages unless you know the person.

The races in both leagues appear to be a battle right down to the homestretch. The Elks of course are leading in the Senior league, but one slip-up and the A. A. will be right up with them not to mention St. Peter's, who still has a chance to finish on top.

In the matter of victories the A. A. are out in front with seven. The Elks have four victories, but they have played fewer games. Unless the Parks come through with a victory soon they are again doomed for the cellar berth. They are the only team without a victory, but one has to hand it to them. They never give up trying.

The Junior league is even more exciting than the "big league." The Cardinals, Clintons and St. Anthony Jrs. each have but one defeat and at this writing any of those three teams can win the pennant. The Unions still have a mathematical chance to cop the bunting, providing they win the rest of their games.

Ahead 11 to 0 St. Peters Team Gets Serious Scare

Biddy Carragher's big bat paved the way for the St. Peters' 12 to 9 victory over the Colored Giants Tuesday night at Clearman Field. The Saints were forced to take the field with a patched line-up, but they had little difficulty in taking the Giants into camp.

The Saints were leading 11 to 0 going into the fifth inning. With victory assured Ral Flynn eased up and the Giants took advantage by scoring nine runs in the last three frames.

St. Peters scored a run in the opening inning and followed this up with an eight-run rally in the second. A bombardment of hits which sounded like a Fourth of July celebration enabled the Saints to tally eight times in this inning. In the third the Saints scored two more runs and another in the sixth.

Ral Flynn had the Giants helpless the first four innings, but with a big lead he took it easy. The Giants scored four times in the fifth and followed it up with two runs in the sixth and three more in the seventh.

Biddy Carragher continued his good hitting for the Saints by hammering out four hits in five trips to the plate. Included in his collection were two doubles. Jerry Lilori was the only other St. Peters man to have more than one hit. Snook Parcell clouted a homer in the third inning.

Ed Salters, Harway and Marshall had a brace of hits apiece for the losers. Marshall clouted out a long home run in the sixth inning with one man on base.

MAKES REPLAY

Belleville A. A. Run Total Night

ELEVEN RUNS

"Just a breeze" was an appropriate way of describing the Park-Belleville A. A. Monday night at Clearman Field. Needless to say the A. A. swamped the Parks. "Swamped" is putting it mild as the final score was 11 to 5 and goodness knows the score would have been higher had time to play seven innings.

First to bat, the A. A. scored one run but the Parks followed with four runs in their first. The A. A., however, led a big offensive and scored runs to take a lead never relinquished.

The Parks came back in the second inning, 6 to 5 in favor of the A. A. could do nothing else of the game.

For safety's sake the A. A. out in the fourth inning scored three runs. To keep their position, they scored more in the fifth. They had the fans and the dizziness trying to keep the runs.

The twenty run score was a record for all time, the Elks lambasted for twenty-five runs. McDaniels and Bob Schleckser, both of the A. A., threatened their batting average in the expense of the Parks hammering out four hits, respectively.

Johnny Lawlor of the A. A. and even to a wobbly start, pitched fine, used up three pitches in an attempt to stop the slaughter. The score: BELLEVILLE A. A. 11, Parks 5.

The Woman Citizen

By ANNE E. GILSON

With the solemn wordiness (characteristic of male politicians) the platforms of the two political parties have been written and accepted. Platforms indeed. A better name would be "Wind Sock," a world all air-minded people will recognize as referring to the sausage-like wind indicator at the airport. To be sure no one could stand on it any more than one can stand on these platforms, but at least they do indicate which way the wind is blowing, and are obviously full of air.

The League of Women Voters, at the last moment, did ask the parties to favor the direct primary, the voting machine and a literacy test for voters. They got the direct primary pledge, but not the others. The most significant thing in the Republican "Wind Sock" is the reference to prohibition, practically the identical words used in Mr. Morrow's key speech.

No mention is made of the Abell Commission, though the party is pledged to a vague reorganization of state government. The $100,000,000 bond issue is endorsed, the new tariff law extolled, Governor Larson's administration praised for work against river and beach pollution, and diversion of the Delaware river by New York.

A few other vote catchers are put out, some harsh words are uttered against dishonest officials, "be they Republicans or Democrats," and if the cap fits Senator Chandler or anyone else, let's hope he wears it; to keep the negro vote is the plank in favor of enforcing the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments.

The plank on taxation sounds like one of Mr. Frelinghuysen's speeches, deploring the use of new sources of revenue, (how do they reconcile this with the gas tax which goes with the bond issue?); they put themselves on the back for various things like agricultural aid, work of the Labor Department, transportation improvements, grade-crossing elimination and favor the ratification of the Naval Treaty. Entry into the World Court, proposed by Mrs. Margaret D. Baker, was rejected. Also a proposal made by a Hudson county candidate to pledge the revision of the laws regulating public utilities, putting holding companies under the supervision of the Public Utilities Commission, the separation of buses and trolleys for the purpose of rate making, adequate public hearings on raising rates and the election of Utility Commissioners instead of appointment by the Governor.

The Democrats come out flat for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment against the tariff, mismanagement, wastefulness and dishonesty of the Republicans, in favor of the direct primary, which they never use and for which the Republican "Wind Sock" takes them to task.

These party conventions meet the first Tuesday after the primary election and prepare platforms, then come back in one week and adopt them. The Democrats couldn't get their platform ready in time to read to the delegates, so mailed them out. Delegates to the State conventions find it very irksome to make two trips to do this adopting. It is supposed to give them time to consider how to vote, but rarely is there any opposition to the platform outside of the committee room.

We hear the stentorian voice of Assemblyman David Young of Morris county raised in protest against the bond issue. "Why should the taxpayers of the State be asked to pay for water sites for which the municipalities who will use them should pay?" he asks. The hundred million dollar bond issue includes a seven-million item for this purpose. Mr. Young's argument is the first pertinent one to be heard. Other objectors have raised the issue on the proposed manner of financing the amount, which is by a tax on gasoline. Mr. Young also started the cry to put Senator Abell, also of Morris county, in the race for the Governorship.

"Stabilizing Employment" is an item on the study program of the department of Women in Industry, League of Women Voters. With four million workers out of employment in this country the study is timely. In an address at the national convention of the league in May, Dr. William M. Leiserson of Antioch College told the women that this number is double the number of unemployment in Germany and more than double that in England, and yet we think these countries are going to the dogs because of unemployment.

We should publish unemployment statistics as these countries do, he said, for business men are often ignorant of the real conditions while newspapers and chambers of commerce declare business conditions fundamentally sound. Another trouble, Dr. Leiserson asserts, according to The Woman's Journal, is that employers and managers consider their responsibility only to their stockholders, and pay dividends out of surplus in bad years rather than wages.

"If business men would put the same scientific research into unemployment as they do into production problems, we would soon eliminate most of the difficulty." He told of one soap manufacturing company which guarantees its employees forty-eight weeks of work, or pay, a year. "They used to work like other people," he said, "day and night and Sundays three or four months in the year, and then not at all!" They discovered that the fluctuation was caused by the wholesaler who bought long in advance of his retailers, thus inflating production. Now by estimating in advance how much soap will be needed, they divide this amount by twelve and the same amount is produced each month. In only one year out of seven did they come out wrong, and then they were under, not over, the amount needed.

Unemployment insurance, he thinks, would force employers to more scientific management. Cost of unemployment belongs on industry instead of on the community, which seems now so content to put up with charitable funds and family relief agencies garnered by community chest campaigns.

ASTER YELLOWS

Aster yellows, a disease which also attacks many common garden annuals and perennials, may now be gaining a foothold in the aster bed. The appearance of yellowed, dwarfed plants in the rosette at this time of the season is sufficient warning of the disease. Such plants should be immediately removed and burnt.

This infection is spread from plant to plant by an insect known as the leafhopper, and, since this is the only means of transmission, leafhopper control is of primary importance in preventing outbreaks of the disease. Periodic spraying or dusting with contact insecticides have been found to be partially effective in controlling leafhoppers. Bordeaux mixture, used for its repellent action, is also of value.

The disease overwinters on various perennials, and biennial weeds. Many annual weeds are also susceptible. For this reason, clean culture, with the destruction of weeds in the vicinity of the garden, will lessen chances for initial infection on the aster.

Further information on this and other garden, flower or agricultural questions may be obtained from the County Extension Office, R. E. Harman, County Agricultural Agent, Caldwell. (Telephone 2-0572).

Gathering Life's Joy

The joy of life comes in its by-products. The man seeking fame is a sorry man, if his eyes are so closely on his objective that he cannot see the things by the wayside. The miles we walk or ride are avenues of adventure if we have the wit to see it.
