Town Hall Players Put On Burlesque

After It Was Over It Was Felt A "Good Time Was Had By All"

The grand old game of politics, as she is played in Belleville, had its innings again Tuesday night at the town hall stage. "Tis reported a "goodtime was had by all," even the "printer's devil" from the News, who edged his way in for a free show.

Things moved along in fairly good style until former Commissioner Edward Nelson threw a bombshell into the attitude "holter than thou" confab. Mr. Nelson who calls a spade a spade and knows how to dig somebody's political grave and feels that old John Public is getting a shellacking from the Commissioners—that is three of them — for sending your good, hard earned dollars up to Nutley—look up the cudgels for the News once more in the matter of a Nutley firm getting all of Belleville's legal advertising.

Mr. Nelson said that "as one of the taxpayers he was addressing his remarks to Mayor Kenworthy and Commissioners Waters and Clark. "As a taxpayer I can not see the logic," he said, "in your action of naming the Belleville Times, the official organ for legal notices. While Mr. and Mrs. Blaydes ran the paper there may have been a moral obligation to give that paper some of the ads. They were Belleville people. Today it is not even edited by Belleville people.

Walsh Act Intent
"The Walsh Act clearly defines, at least in spirit, that the legal advertising shall be placed in a paper printed in the town. Of course, loopholes may be found in all laws and this law may be interpreted in many ways.

"The Belleville Times does not give you as much printed matter per inch as the News. This may be taken to mean the board is misapprop-

Knights Of Columbus Improve Club House

Andrew Hughes Has Been Put In Charge As Caretaker

The Belleville Lodge, Knights of Columbus, are going in for club-houses in a big way. They have installed Andrew Hughes as caretaker of their home and Mr. Hughes has renovated the house so as to be barely recognizable.

The meeting room and the office of the dictator are decorated in the approved manner of all fraternal organizations. The second floor rooms have been made available for recreational purposes.

At present the Knights are making plans for the celebration of their chapter's fiftieth anniversary.

A Wave Of Resentment

Never did the News dream that so many people had faith in it. Over 200 visited our office Thursday and Saturday to congratulate us on a stand to print all the news without suppression. The stream of resentment kept up all week.

It is impossible to recall the number of telephone messages. Last week's paper took the town by storm. Friends of the Commissioners who slapped a Belleville business in the face have left the ranks of their supporters. We sold 5,000 copies of our paper.

Expressions like this cannot be ignored. "They are dead, politically."

"The nerve of them."

"What do you think of those birds," and so on, and so on.

It's up to the tax payers to keep them politically dead. We will not break faith.

"It's the makings of the paper," say our friends and the death knell of the Times which has slipped badly the last two years and finally has entered the ranks of "kept" sheets.

And They Say "Don't Let Them Fool You"

Edward Nelson Told Facts
At Commission
Meeting

The Belleville News claims former Commissioner Edward Nelson and this newspaper did the taxpayers of Belleville a favor by compelling the Belleville Times to reduce its price on legal advertising.

"Don't" let them fool you," the half pint sheet from Nutley said. That is right. The Belleville-Times has never before billed the town at the rate of eleven six-point lines per inch. In some cases they were paid for twelve and others thirteen lines. And they know a lot about white space. It appears from the way they talk. But they have to. They're a "kept sheet."

We have no quarrel with the Times, but when they said that we led Mr. Nelson into something that was not so they are telling an untruth. If this newspaper had not pointed out the difference in cost we doubt that the Times would have reduced their rate. They say they will reduce!

Why didn't they reduce before this? Advertising in the Times has cost more than in the News. Any reputable printer will back up our statement and we have evidence enough to prove this statement. We refer to another column. What the Times bills in the future may be credited to us or the lack of nerve on the part of the commissioners to pay them thirteen lines per inch after what Mr. Nelson said about misappropriating funds.

All We Ask Is Our Just Dues—Nothing More, Nothing Less

The Belleville News appreciating the economic condition today and the heavy expense the town is under, hereby makes an offer in the spirit of brotherly love to enable the Commissioners of the Town of Belleville to practice practical economy.

Our proposition is to print all legal notices and legal ads for the Town of Belleville absolutely free for the first quarter of the year and further that the town's business be given to us thereafter at regular legal rates, the payment for which will be returned to the Town of Belleville dollar for dollar until our much-talked of personal tax indebtedness to the Town of Belleville be cleared from the books and fully paid.

This means that the budget for advertising for the year of 1932 can be cut materially.

It means that our generous offer of giving one-quarter year free would be a donation to the town on our part of about $1,000, judging by past advertising. This return to the town could be used to aid the unemployed, if our desires are granted.

It means the town after that quarter would be assured of payment of a delinquent tax of almost the same amount which otherwise, because of business conditions, might have to go unpaid indefinitely.

The above proposition is not only made to the Commissioners of Belleville, but is made in an effort to reduce the tax bill of the individual home owner, and the commissioners, we are sure, will certainly have BELLEVILLE TAX PAYERS' INTEREST at heart and accept this beneficial offer.

Tax payers of Belleville should be interested to see their commissioners in an effort to effect this saving. All we ask in return for this generous offer, which can not be denied, IF THE BOARD IS SINCERE AS REGARDS ECONOMY, is that the board rescind its action of Tuesday, December 29, 1931, naming a Nutley paper as the official paper and accede to the opinion of most tax payers that this newspaper should be named the official newspaper and receive all the legal advertising for 1932 and all times thereafter until another locates its plant here.

THE HELPING HAND

Fully appreciating the dire necessity which confronts many families today the BELLEVILLE NEWS is inaugurating a new feature, THE HELPING HAND.

Those of our readers who find need of clothing and household articles may write to the HELPING HAND EDITOR in care of the BELLEVILLE NEWS, 501 Washington avenue, Belleville, N. J., in a personal letter, describing sizes, and so forth, necessary, with full assurance that the name of the sender and the disposition of the request shall be held in the strictest confidence.

On the other hand, those of you who are so blessed as to be able to donate discarded necessities will be kind enough to write us, with the knowledge that the burden of some deserving family will thus be made lighter. Let's make a clean-up of our spare closets and attics to see what we can discover for the HELPING HAND!

Moose Ushered In New Year Gaily

Grand And Glorious Time

Present

The local lodge of Moose brought in the New Year in grand fashion with a gala New Year's Eve celebration at the Moose Home.

The festival was open to all and an atmosphere of "Hail Fellow, Well Met," prevailed throughout the night. A beef steak dinner, liquid refreshments and the music of a snappy dance orchestra were enjoyed by everyone present.

The Moose desire to have it known that their hall is always available for any organizations wishing to sponsor affairs of any nature.

Valley Meeting

The Valley Improvement Association will hold its next regular meeting Thursday, January 14. Refreshments will be served.

Appreciation

The News heartily appreciates the intention of one of its supporters in mailing a $50 check to help maintain an independent, unbiased paper here.

We have returned the check with many thanks. At the present time we are not in need of financial help. All we ask, for backing the tax payer, is the tax payers' support. Tell your merchant that you read the News, and you will read his ad in the News and not an out of town paper. Then resolve to patronize the merchant. Let's stand together for Belleville.

Plan Card Party

Affair Promises To Be Ahead Of Former Events

The card party to be held Friday evening, January 15, at St. Peter's Hall, by Belleville Council, Knights of Columbus, from all reports should be one of the finest ever held in Belleville. The committee under the direction of A. T. Derbyshire is doing everything possible to insure its success and the response from the members is very encouraging. It will be the first social event to be held at St. Peter's this year.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Council was held Monday evening, January 4. Grand Knight Stickney explained in detail the preparations being made in connection with the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the order this year. The first in order is a drive for 50,000 new members of which Belleville must supply its share.

The council will receive communion at the 8 o'clock mass Sunday morning, January 17. Solemn memorial service will be held that evening and on the following evening an open meeting will be held at St. Peter's Hall. Both the evening Memorial Service and the meeting will be open to the public. The memorial services are of a very solemn and impressive nature. The Grand Knight states that a concert will be given by the Newark Council Band at the meeting on the 18th. He further states that the speeches will be interesting but short, and the entertainment will be of a high order.

The Knights of Columbus as an order are unveiling a statue of the late Cardinal Gibbons in Washington this year to commemorate the founding of the order. This affair which will take place later in the year will be the occasion for thousands of members journeying to the Capitol.

SHADE TREE ELECTION

The Shade Tree Commission, holding its organization meeting Tuesday night, accepted the resignation of Samuel Yeatman as secretary and elected him vice president. Milton Donnelly was elected secretary and Nicholas Birde was re-elected president.

Why Has Offer Been Ignored From Nelson To Clear Sewer Muddle

Would Give His Services
Free And Clear It Up
In 30 Days

What is the Town Commission doing about the offer of former Commissioner Edward Nelson to clear up within thirty days the sewer assessment proposition? Is there some reason that they do not want to accept his offer? If so, let's have it.

Mr. Nelson has offered his services gratis to the town.

"I do not know what action you are going to take on this matter," he said, adding, "but I do know it is costing the taxpayers about $100 per day in interest; therefore I contend that this matter is of vital importance."

"If you do not act on this matter at once, then the only conclusion which the taxpayers can come to is that the commissioners, for some hidden reason, do not wish to have this assessment made impartially at this time."

Mr. Nelson informed the board he would postpone an intended business tour, if he was appointed to the assessment board and straighten out the entire matter in thirty days.

The likelihood of need for special legislation to aid officials in levying the town's $600,000 sanitary sewer assessments will be considered Saturday afternoon at a conference at the town hall. State Senator Joseph G. Wolber and Arthur N. Pierson and Commissioner Walter R. Darby of the State Department of Municipal Accounts will confer with members of the Town Commission and Board of Assessment Commissioners.

Work on lining up the assessments for levying has gone on for years under several finance directors without any equitable basis being determined.

The greatest difficulty, which points to the need for legislation, is that the Silver Lake section was assessed for its sewers in 1915 but levying the costs in the remaining major portion of the town was held up about ten years until connection could be made with the branch of the Passaic Valley truck sewer system then being built along the Passaic River. Legislation is expected by some to permit classing the work as a general improvement with tax bills for the Silver Lake section separate from the rest of the town.

He Read It, And How!

Commissioner Clark said he couldn't read the News, we didn't use enough ink, and so he wanted a Nutley paper.

O. K. Commissioner, we'll wager a Brown derby you read it all last week and so did 4,495 others.

Everyman's Class

January 3, 1932.

Editor Belleville News: Enclosed please find a copy of resolution adopted by the Everyman's Bible Class today.

The session of the class was devoted to a memorial service, Dr. Alexander Cairns, the leader, taking for his theme "Immortality."

Funeral was conducted at the W. V. Irvine parlors at 2 P. M. by Rev. E. M. Compton, pastor of Wesley M. E. Church.

Walter Arnold will long be remembered by members of his class for his whole-hearted loyalty to it.

Profoundly interested in its welfare, he entered into its work with the greatest enthusiasm and its success was uppermost in his thoughts.

He displayed unusual energy in the endurance contest between Belleville and Montclair classes in the year 1926.

The members of the class attended the funeral in a body and as a tribute sang their friend's favorite hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross."

RESOLUTIONS CONCERNING WALTER A. ARNOLD

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to take from our midst our dear and faithful brother, Walter A. Arnold:

Resolved, that we, the members of Everyman's Bible Class of Belleville, do hereby express to Mrs. A. Arnold, and other relatives, our deep sense of sympathy and our keen consciousness of personal loss.

Resolved, that we recognize in Brother Arnold one of the most conscientious, devoted and faithful members we ever had; that we shall seriously miss his kindly, jovial manner and his untiring efforts in behalf of the welfare of the class.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Mrs. Arnold and to the local press and that they constitute a part of the minutes of the proceedings of this Class.

Some folks will recall these two who are now robed in the gowns of the choir invisible.

"Sacrament," will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 10, 1932.

The Golden Text is: "What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they? These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." (Revelation 7: 13, 14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ? For we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread." (I Corinthians 10: 16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing truly to drink his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ-principle? Then why ascribe this inspiration to a dead rite, instead of showing, by casting out error and making the body holy, acceptable unto God, that Truth has come to the understanding." (p. 33, 34)?

TOWN HALL EMPLOYEES PREPARE THEMSELVES TO GET THE AXE

Christmas Day Was Just December 25 To A Lot And New Year's Eve No Occasion For Whoopee-Making Either

Christmas Day was just December 25 to a lot of employees in the Town Hall, and New Year's Eve was no occasion for whoopee-making either.

Now that three of the town commissioners have decided to pay part of a Nutley firm's taxes with Belleville tax payers' money it's a pretty severe jolt to find they may fix to get along with out you, by importing Nutley people for your jobs.

We don't know that anything like this is planned but what's to prevent it? As a sort of a last-minute Christmas gift the soft pedal was placed on wielding the axe and not many have been fired—yet. Some are expected soon to be sitting out on the back steps.

Anybody who thinks the official family will be intact next Christmas is an incurable optimist.

In the meantime they are taking the town hall apart and putting it together again, figuratively speaking to suit needs and to make things run smoothly. This smoothly running operation is called economy.

Important looking individuals who are going to be "big shots" in the days to come are wandering about, peering into offices and trying to make up their minds how many people are going to be fired.

Both officers have expressed their keen appreciation of what these girls are doing under these trying conditions. They are proud of the way the Girl Scouts are being of service to others.

The annual rally will be held on Saturday, January 16 at the high school. This year the girls will try to portray a few bits from the "Life of George Washington," although they may not be able to do full justice to their subject.

Bridge Party

A bridge party under the auspices of Paradise Shrine, No. 5, W. S. of J. was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Helen Proven, 152 Little street. High scores were made by Mrs. Nell of Passaic; Mrs. Dunham of New Brunswick, and Mrs. Pearl Porter of Newark. A consolation award was won by Mrs. Laura Fitzherbert of Essex street, Belleville.

A large class of candidates were initiated at a ceremonial held by the shrine at their lodge room, where they now meet at 472 Broad street, Newark, on the first Monday of the month.

"Big Shot No. 1" Finds Lots' Of News Here

Already His Phantom Like Spirit Grips The Politicians

Big Shot No. 1 has gone and done it!

He's got himself a job. The boss of this outfit, who is a regular fellow, hired "Big Shot" to write one story a week.

"Big Shot" hit the trail to the town hall. He had in mind county insurance and bonds for contractors and a couple of other things. He looked at Mayor Kenworthy's closed door and ambled into the engineering department. He met an old crony.

"Did you hear the news?" was popped at him. "The town's broke." "Ye Gods," Big Shot forgot his original story and with his nose for news, long enough by nature, delved into the matter at hand.

So he forgot insurance! Big Shot lighted his pipe shuffled off to the office, typed a stick or two and caught a train to New York.

But he couldn't work. Back to Belleville. He had caught the spell of spilling the beans. He wanted to dig up some more stories. He took some notes on the Poor Department. They will appear later. He snooped his way to another place in town. He shadowed his way out without being discovered after getting material for a future paper.

"Big Shot," Belleville's mysterious phantom is trailing the politicians like the sleuth he is. He has really got himself a job.

"Big Shot" decided to investigate a little further. He gum-shoed around read some papers, eavesdropped behind a door, slid down a fire escape and decided to quit till next week.

riating funds. The difference in cost if the Times charges the legal rate for the advertising will be well over $1,000 a year. It has no bearing on the case whether the Times has a larger or smaller circulation. The fact remains that if people are interested in legal ads they will buy the paper in which they are printed."

No comment was made by any member of the board.

Legion Telegram

Later in the evening came a telegram from the executive committee of Belleville Post, American Legion, requesting the board in effect to reconsider its action and give the News a square deal. The telegram was ordered filed as usual by Mayor Kenworthy who made no comment.

Outside of a rather disagreeable situation which was aired as regards a young lady non-citizen being employed in the department of Revenue and Finance the board did not get itself into many more scraps.

Samuel Tiger asked Mr. Williams if he is sure all his employees are citizens.

"Anonymous Letters"

"I am very sorry this arises," said Mr. Williams. "To my distinct surprise we were informed by anonymous letters, to which type of correspondence I exert every energy to ward the waste basket, that we had such a case. I have asked for the young lady's resignation. She has obtained her first papers and would obtain her second in about eight months. This must be done at considerable effort. I am personally sorry this has come up. She has a brother who fought at Chateau Thierry and Soissons. I doubt if the gentleman who raises the question knows this. She has another brother who served in the Navy. I am sorry any citizen would go out of his way to bring up this question. I did not select her to work in the town hall. I kept her on because she is loyal, conscientious, a credit to the town, an excellent worker and an employee of whom to be proud. That I did not name her to the job, but recognized her ability and kept her on proves that politics is not played with every job in the town hall. I have discussed the case with a half dozen ex-service men, who have the citizenship development at heart. They said by all means try to get her second papers. Her intentions are excellent."

Brother Queries Mayor

"Mr. Mayor," said one of the brothers of the young lady, "I went to war. I enlisted to protect my mother and sisters. This is what I get. What are you going to do?" Nothing was said by the Mayor. J. S. Walker said that Mr. Tiger was seeking to have a young lady put out of office who is supporting and invalid father, who in eight months would become a citizen.

"It is very poor for any man to do this, especially where both brothers were in the war," he concluded.

Asks Publicity

Mr. Tiger insisted the press give as full publicity to his question as it did to last week's fracas over the legal ads. He declared there are other veterans' sisters who are citizens seeking jobs.

And so we bring our story and town hall actors up to where a squabble arose over a petition to change a strip of land 100 feet long near Bellvista avenue and the Passaic River from factory to residential zone.

"Joe" Natale, from North Belleville section, said that the petition asking the change did not contain names of property owners, some were rent payers and others "just live" there.

"I hate to call Commissioner Carragher a liar," he said. "But he doesn't know all the people up there. He used to collect insurance up there, before some of these signers were old enough to be known by him. That was a long time ago."

"That's all right," fired back the commissioner. "Those people up there are honest people. Not one of them ever stuck me a nickel. I don't want to get in any argument on this thing but there have been so many fake petitions put in here I want to lay this thing over a week to go up there personally to check up."

Commissioner Waters who last week was asked by the News to lay over for a week's study the legal question and helped railroad it right through also wanted to stall on the question a week.

It Depends

And while we think of it last week, that is when the legal question came up C. F. Ray, our advertising man, asked to be heard. The Mayor told him in effect the board would argue out the question. Which is according to Hoyle, but the Mayor was a little more lenient Tuesday. After the time to hear citizens had come and gone he allowed the citizens to talk. How about it, Mayor?

To make a long story short the zone question remains as is by votes of Commissioners Williams, Clark and the Mayor.

At the afternoon conference the board hemmed and hawed for an hour or so over a fence which Wexler and Melser, builders, have constructed in Belleville Gardens. It seems an agreement had been reached with the builders to do certain things with the fence which they have apparently done and now the board finds tax payers want something else done. So the board—or two or three of them will go up to that section tomorrow noon to look around and talk about it some more. What happens will develop later.

How About It?

As the curtain was about to descend on the grand and glorious proceedings, Mr. Williams upset the equilibrium of the board by declaring that nobody seems to be perturbed about the citizenship of some people "who are keeping places in defiance to National Law. Let some of the citizens take an interest in the places we see them going into and coming out from."

Commissioner Carragher added that while the looking up is going on somebody might try to find out what has happened to 1,700 voters "who can't be located anywhere in town," which proves something or other.

The fighting commissioner also wanted to know what will be done

Big Shot No. 1 Hits Town Hall Economy

No. 2 Of A Series—More To Follow

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, when he cast his optics on last week's Belleville News, was disgruntled, it is said.

He discovered we told tax payers the town is flatter than a pancake financially. He is reported to have frowned on our dissemination of this news.

In these hard times it is terrible to broadcast this, he is alleged to have said in effect.

It is just too bad if our Mayor dislikes the kind of news we hand out.

The town needs to economize. Mayor Kenworthy has been used to telling how wonderfully well the financial situation "has cleared up since the Vermeule fiasco."

The Mayor has been on the job 6 years. Doesn't he know tax payers would like to learn some details about finances during that time. Last year Commissioner William H. Williams urged economy. He asked Kenworthy and Commissioners Clark and Waters to cut various items that the three just railroaded through like nobody's business.

This year they have to cut. Aren't they a year behind time?

We repeat, the Mayor and Clark have been in six years at the town hall—or just shy of it.

Where is this efficiency as regards the municipal pocket book? Where has Belleville progressed so as to warrant shouting "we did it" from the housetops?

Maybe the Mayor didn't like us to tell the tax payers the town's borrowing capacity has about reached its limit. We shouldn't think he would. But when things looked rosy a few years back his pen wrote fluently for the Belleville News, as regards "progress."

to help the unemployed until the town starts to operate under its new budget.

What will be done is still a question, it seems. Nothing is apparently the answer. The unemployed find it their problem.

Recreational activities were maintained in 1931 at a cost of $8,098. $1, with a balance on hand of $1.39. It was shown in the annual report of the Recreation Commission to the commissioners. This was told exclusively in the Belleville News last week.

The following chancemen were announced reappointed by Clark: Charles H. McGinnis, James Lee, James Mallack, Gustave Wines, Jr., Hugh O'Toole, William A. Finn, Charles J. O'Neill and Donald Smith. Williams' resolution was passed renewing temporary improvement bonds totaling $453,000. Tax Collector William Knapp reported $287,617.17 collections in December.

Resignations Accepted
Resignations of George M. Lindray, assistant town engineer three years, and Edwin C. Young, assistant to the town engineer seven years were accepted because of the board's economy agreement that there will be no new construction work this year. The salary of the former is $3,800 and the latter 2,200. The resignations are effective February 1.

Mr. Young said he resigned "owing to financial conditions I have no control over."

It was evident from remarks such an explanation irked the board.

Police Report

Accidents in Belleville last year, totaled 321, of which automobiles were involved in 107, and resulted in nine deaths, three less than in 1930, according to the annual report of Police Chief Michael J. Flynn submitted to the Town Commission on Tuesday night. It was stated all but one of forty-two missing persons had been returned to their homes.

The police recovered fifty-three stolen automobiles, the total valuation of which was $25,000. The ambulance answered 251 calls and patrolmen responded to 756 telephone calls. Stray or injured dogs

The Hackettstown Institution, is a junior college for girls and Mrs. Theverrow spoke on the two year course offered to young ladies at the college.

Mrs. Theverrow listed the many benefits derived from a college education and the various sport and social activities at the school.

Twenty-five students of school No. 9 composed an excursion to New York City, Saturday, January 2.

Among the places of interest visited were: The docks, where they inspected the motor vessel "Monarch of Bermuda," the transportation exhibit at the Grand Central railroad station, and the "Museum of Natural History."

Many of the public school have al-

The Bicentennial Commission of which Albert Bushnell Hart, of Harvard University, is chairman, has sent each school room throughout the United States a large portrait of George Washington, by Gilbert Stewart, famous artist.

Several local schools have framed the picture. School No. 4, in Silver Lake, has framed sixteen and School No. 9, one.

School No. 9 has a 400-foot movie film on the life of Washington due in February. This will be shown for the benefit of the students. Visitors are welcome to attend.

YOUR CAR and the YOUR MOTOR LAWS

Harold G. Hoffman,
Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

With the beginning of the New Year, the State motor vehicle department expresses the wish that 1932 will be one of greater safety as well as of happiness for the motorists of New Jersey. As a matter of fact, the two words are synonymous so far as motordom is concerned, for it is impossible to conceive that 1932 can produce a happy motoring experience for our citizens unless it shows also a reduction in the number of street and highway mishaps.

There are reasons to believe that the coming year will be one of greater traffic safety. One of the soundest of these is the fact that fatalities showed a positive decline in the past two years despite an increase in motor vehicle use as reflected in gasoline consumption figures. What has been accomplished can be accomplished again.

Another wholesome sign for an improvement in safety during the year we are just entering is that individual motorists reveal a willingness to recognize their personal responsibility to cooperate in the State-wide endeavor to reduce motoring accidents. This is the crux of the whole matter. The State can go but so far in providing good highways and in working toward the creation of wise and just rules and regulations and providing for their fair administration and enforcement. From there on, safety is proportionate to the cooperation the mass of street and highway users give to the huge project of reducing accidents.

Motordom is a vast domain in New Jersey despite the State's comparatively small geographic area. Only three States of the Union are smaller in area but only eight have more registered motor vehicles. That can mean but one thing—an enormous concentration of traffic on our highways. This congestion, of course, is increased by the fact that the State's location results in a tremendous burden of traffic which originates outside of our borders.

In the concentration of vehicles per mile of highway, New Jersey is right

Hupp Sales Head Sees 1932 Motor Advance

Detroit, Mich.—Voicing his expectations of increased business in 1932 and his belief that the new year will be a stepping stone to an outstandingly successful 1933, R. S. Cole, vice president in charge of sales of the Hupp Motor Car Corporation expressed his faith in 1932 as a consistent "come-back" year for the automotive industry.

"Like all business, the automotive industry has gone through a very trying period in the year 1931. There is no question in my mind but that prospects for the year 1932 are more encouraging. And, with the return of confidence on the part of the general public, the motor car industry can materially assist in bringing business back to a normal level.

"There are many reasons why the new year should be a prosperous one for the automotive industry. Chief among these is the fact that thousands of cars have been operated in 1931 that would, in ordinary times, have been replaced months ago. This is clearly proven by the fact that gasoline consumption in 1931 was ahead of that in 1930. It is, therefore, quite evident that such cars have more rapidly and more completely reached the point of obsolescence and that they must now be replaced. In this connection, it is only reasonable to believe that the owners of these cars, now more or less obsolete, will accept less for his car because of the additional time it has been operated and the additional service he has gotten from it than he would normally expect to receive.

"I believe that manufacturers in the medium price market may look in 1932 to a far greater replacement business proportion than those in the low price field or in the high price classification. It is my belief that this group of producers will be the first to note any trade revival and that it will quickly be reflected in other classifications. In the past, as in all lines of business, the attitude of banking interest has not been very helpful to the average motor car distributor and dealer. This has been due to the great care exercised in loaning money. It seems to me quite probable that the bankers will view with more favor the supporting of these motor car merchants who have, throughout the past eighteen or twenty months, demonstrated their ability to operate on a sane, conservative and business-like basis.

"I am thoroughly confident that 1932 will show a general improvement in economical conditions over the year that has just closed. While I do not expect a sudden spurt in all lines of business endeavor, I do believe that this increase will be constant and that it will tend to reflect this improvement in every phase of economic activity in this country."

at the top of the national list. Since congestion is such a large factor in mishaps, the achievement of a constantly better safety record is made that much more difficult for motorists of this State. That they have such an accomplishment to their credit make it that much more commendable, however.

The motor vehicle means much to this State in other ways than as providing the majority of its residents with personal transportation. In such a thoroughly motorized commonwealth, literally thousands of persons are employed in the sales, maintenance and servicing of such vehicles. Likewise, New Jersey profits by the fact that tens of thousands of outside vehicles are attracted to the State.

This vast enterprise stands to expand and grow and become still more economically important as we improve its safety. Consequently, there is an economic betterment to be attained by reducing accidents that is above and beyond that represented by the decrease in the cost of human life and limb and property damage.

Safety is and should continue to be human above everything else, but it also is economic.

A new development in respect to achieving safety on our highways is likely to make its appearance this year. That is the compulsory mechanical inspection of automobiles of all kinds. If such a period of inspection is fixed by proclamation of the Governor, it will mean another step in the state's effort to guarantee the safety of its highways.

Given the assurance that every registered vehicle in New Jersey is in a safe condition as to its braking equipment, its steering apparatus, tires, headlights, and other safety features, the motor vehicle department is confident that a most progressive advance will have been made.

There is, in compulsory inspection, no attempt to abridge the rights of motorists. On the contrary, it will assure the mass of motor vehicle owners that their right to expect all vehicles to be maintained in a safe operating condition no longer can be jeopardized by the careless and indifferent minority.

The broad promise of 1932 is one of improved safety. With the freely given cooperation of the individual car owners of the State, the motor vehicle department is confident that promise will be fulfilled.

Chevrolet To Occupy Place Of Honor At New York Auto Show

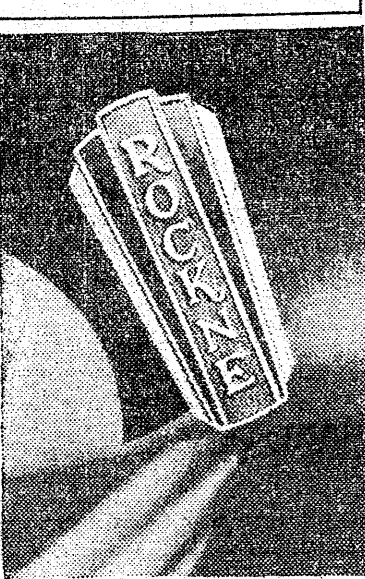

When the doors open Saturday to the National Automobile Show in Grand Central Palace, New York, Chevrolet will occupy the position of honor on the show floor for the fifth consecutive year.

Each year the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce awards first place at the national shows to the member company which has done the largest dollar volume of business in the previous 12 months.

The award is much coveted in the industry, because in addition to the distinction it conveys it also carries with it the right to first choice of exhibition space at the national shows in New York and Chicago.

Chevrolet first achieved the position of honor in 1928. Since then the company has consistently maintained its leadership.

2 False Alarms Call Out Local Firemen

Collision on One Jails Auto- ist on Charge of Drunken Driving

New Year's Day was not quite a holiday for the police and fire departments.

Two false alarms in the morning and a small fire New Year's night saved firemen from a day of inactivity. The fire, caused by a kerosene lamp explosion in the hallway of V. Galvin's home at 22 Holmes street, did $250 worth of damage.

The police department literally ran into trouble early in the morning, when the patrol wagon was struck by an automobile while speeding down Washington avenue in response to a false call. The driver of the car, Anthony Rich, 24, of 165 Main avenue, Delawanna, was locked up on a charge of drunken driving.

All We Hear Is Nutley, Nutley, Nutley

If the Nutley Times (quoting Commissioner Waters) has the people of Belleville so much at heart why does it not move its plant to Belleville?

It did not tell the American Legion that the service men employees are not in Belleville but in the Nutley Sun plant. We repeat, why should Belleville worry what Nutley has? Belleville people are interested in Belleville; not in Nutley.

Waters hasn't yet answered us as to whom the Times seven (now nine) employees are and to what extent employed.

CITIZENS RESENT ACTION OF BOARD

CITIZEN REVIEWS HISTORY OF NEWS BACK TO THE "BOILER PLATE" TIMES

Can't Understand Underlying Basis For Act Of Kenworthy, Clark And Waters Cutting Off A Local Paper

Editor, The Belleville News, Belleville, N. J.
Dear Sir:

I was very much surprised to learn of the sudden turn of affairs when three members of the town commission voted to designate all the legal advertising of the town to a newspaper that perhaps can trace its existence farther back than the Belleville News, but how anyone acquainted with the underlying facts of the situation can vote to deprive the News of at least half the legal advertising is beyond my comprehension.

Willingly Overlooked
It appears that many facts have been willingly overlooked in a decision recently reached by three members of the commission, but the decision can be altered in time, as I understand it, if a true resentment on the part of all loyal Belleville townspeople interested in fair play is aroused.

In the first place, let me point out a most pertinent point to the commissioners and refresh the minds of a few who may have fallen under their spell. The Belleville News was started seven years ago mainly due to the fact that hundreds of people with a sense of civic pride firmly believed that the appearance of the one paper here then did not truly reflect the best interests of the community. As many will recall, "boilerplate" was used unsparingly in the paper to the exclusion of local news items, and ADVERTISEMENTS WERE PLACED ALL OVER THE FRONT PAGE OF THE TIMES. In addition, there were few or no editorials.

How It Started
The Belleville News was started in spite of the failure of "The Belleville Citizen" which was begun several years previous and lasted but a few months, leaving the town still

ALBERT S. BLANK APPOINTED CONTACT MAN FOR ROAD GROUP

Albert S. Blank, has been appointed to serve as local contact man for the city officials division of the American Road Builders' Association, which makes its headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The city officials' division of the American Road Builders' Association serves as a central clearing house and fact finding organization for information used by city engineers and other officials.

During the annual convention and road show of the association at which 25,000 road and street officials, contractors, and commercial highway users gather to discuss better methods and examine equipment and materials, city officials meet and present valuable papers and reports. The latest and best methods and practices as applied by city paving and traffic officials are considered. All phases of city work are discussed including financing, design, construction, maintenance and operation of city streets.

Mr. Blank will supply the association with facts about city paving activities in this section and, in turn, will receive other paving and traffic information compiled by the association. His appointment was made by G. B. Sowers, commissioner of engineering and construction, Cleveland, who is president of the city officials' division of the American Road Builders' Association.

League Broadcast

The League offers the following program over Station WOR for Thursday of this and next week, at 2:30 P. M.

January 7—Department of International Co-operation to Prevent War, Mrs. L. H. Fradkin, chairman. Topic: "The Manchurian Problem—Its Peaceful Solution." Speaker: E. Carleton Baker, who is an authority on the Manchurian situation and has just returned from the Far East.

January 14—Department of Efficiency in Government, Mrs. A. J. Steelman, chairman. Topic: "Resume of the Recommendations of the Commission to Survey County and Municipal Taxation."

The National League of Women Voters announces that its fifth series of the Voters' Service broadcast will have the co-operation of Edward S. Robinson, Professor of Psychology at the Yale Institute of Human Relations, in a scientific analysis of the evaluation of radio programs on the subject of "Unemployment" during the month of February will find especially organized and trained listening-in groups working upon this problem, that the League may make its contribution to available knowledge of the use of radio as a social and psychological force in our present life.

Those interested in "Public Em-without a suitable paper. Those interested in starting the News were, however, so confident of the need of a better paper that the organizers went ahead with the project and received the finest sort of cooperation and support that any newspaper could have wished.

Comes Out Of Lethargy
Naturally with a competitor in the field, the Times began at length to change its attitude, and when finally its present proprietor took over the paper entirely it had made considerable strides from its former habits. I say "considerable" because its appearance and attitude up to several months previous to the advent of the News was such as to make any appreciable change seem startling. It certainly seems to me that as far as the town is concerned it owes the Belleville News a considerable obligation from this score.

Times Grabbed It All
The legal advertising of a town, which is authorized by law, means a good deal to the existence of any newspaper. The Belleville News struggled along for several years from its inception without the help of legal advertising. Finally one-half the legal advertising was allotted to it since it was felt that the News had not only given its best for the town, but also had a large circulation and its advertising columns represented a large proportion of the progressive merchants and institutions in town, which to all presentiments still holds true! And yet today fair play is seemingly discarded for other and less worthy reasons.

I understand one reason for the change of attitude on the part of several commissioners is due to the town books indicating that the News has been negligent in paying taxes.

MAY I ASK THE AMOUNT OF TAXES THE TOWN RECEIVES FROM THE BELLEVILLE TIMES WHICH IS PRINTED IN AN AD-

JOINING TOWN AND HAS NO PROPERTY HERE?

Have They Wasted?
A statement was made about saving money for the town by placing all the legal advertising in one newspaper. If this is the case, it occurs to me that the column width of the News is slightly wider than the Times and as legal advertising is placed by the line a fair saving will result if the advertising is published in the NEWS. Another thought occurs. Is it possible that the town has been losing money these past five years by splitting the advertising?

It was clearly shown in the News last week that it employs more Belleville people on its staff than does the other paper. Also the fact was brought out that the news and advertisements are not carried out of town to be published, but are gathered and printed HERE.

These facts should have a considerable bearing on the question. As far as circulation is concerned, both newspapers can be believed as to the large circulations, so there is no point or argument on this basis, if the commissioners have used this item in their reasoning.

Unless some far different arguments are presented to show cause why the News should be refused its deserved share of legal advertising of the town, then the situation is certainly deplorable to say the least.

Yours for fair play,
A CITIZEN.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rejoice to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Get your task-facilitating pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C.M.C.

tains an engineering department at a cost of $25,000 per year, the anticipated revenue of which is about $8,000, mostly anticipated.

At last year's budget hearing when this was called to his attention, he stubbornly fought against any reduction, and for the protection of those responsible for its costly maintenance.

Mr. Clark, as usual, permitted himself to be dragged along without resistance—his most consistent failing.

The real purpose of eliminating the News in the matter of legal publications is political. Its intent is to so obligate the Times, that it must continue to give its readers the adulterated truth with regard to the present administration in order to stem the tide of growing discontent.

When will the citizens assert themselves to the extent of curtailing this merry-go-round of hypocrisy? When will the meetings be attended by other than the town employees who monopolize the accommodations, interested only in their man and their jobs.

The Big Show

Why worry about Sunday movies when a free weekly entertainment may be had by all every Tuesday evening at the Town Hall. How free it is can be judged by the taxpayers who were promised lower taxes by the present administration only to experience successive increases every year since, including 1932 as the new budget will tell.

The trouble is that the politicians of the Town of Belleville are trying to play big time when they are only fitted and actually on a small time circuit.

How long the people will be exploited by the good fellow propaganda instead of using their intelligence in judging for themselves is a question. It seems from recent happenings in matter of government that the spirit of toleration on the part of the American public knows no bounds.

The Belleville News is a town paper and as such is entitled to an equal share of recognition.

It gives employment to citizens and circulates in the town. There is little sense in helping to eliminate such a medium of public intelligence unless behind such a move there lies a sinister motive.

Analysis of governmental affairs in Belleville, and the peculiar happenings in connection thereof, would serve to show that this matter parallels previous inconsistencies in other things.

"MADE OF BETTER STUFF THAN TO STAY AT HOME," SAYS LOCAL BOOSTER

If Uncle Sam Hadn't Needed Us We Might Have Progressed Further In Business,

Lady Says

Editor Belleville News:

Dear Sir:

Appropos of the News being given a "ride," I think (and also a great many others) it was the most flagrant insult to a people who always had respect for law and authority. The Mayor (?) a man, from the high office he holds, (for a short time), who instead of setting an example for the trust imposed on him, throws at a man struggling to get along,—"you did not pay your taxes! Shame on you, Mayor, excuse me, I mean Czar. If everyone had a sinecure of a job like you, it would indeed be too bad if they owed any debts, but then of course, everyone is not the Mayor."

Sentiment in its place is a lovely thing, but when it parades in a cloak of deceit that's another thing. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Blaydes (God bless their memory), ran their paper on a strictly honorable basis. There's was an up-hill fight for many years and when they could enjoy the fruits of their labors, the editor was called to his eternal reward and his fine help mate devoted the remainder of her life to her religion. I have no fight with the Times, but I do say, any one can follow a beaten path. The News might have progressed further if the editor and his help had stayed at home during the war and looked after their own business interests, but they were made of better stuff.

Still Sending It
Then, too, the question of the Times being the better paper (both untrue and unfair) if you paid twice as much for a suit as your neighbor, you would naturally think you got the better value. You know the old saying, "You can fool some of the people some of the time, and so forth." A number of people cancelled their subscriptions when the Times reached the $2 price but they still send it.

A public protest should be made for the News also to receive advertising from the town, to give those readers that only take the News, the chance to know what is going on. We believe in economy but when it is at the expense of betterment, count us out.

The little proverb "Consistency thou art a jewel," probably was never heard of by some of the Town Fathers.

Time, Place And Nerve
At a recent testimonial banquet tendered our Town Clerk to announce his candidacy for County Clerk at which a great deal of trouble and expense was involved no doubt, our Mayor throws his hat in the ring, as a possible opponent. He had the time, the place and the nerve.

Two of the commissioners had the right idea of fairness at the town commission meeting when that ultimatum was rendered the News.

The old saying, "Apples will grow again" is applicable to our commissioners at our next election.

Yours for fair play,
R. A.

Girl Scout Officers Praise Record Of Girls In New Year Greetings

Congratulations to the Girl Scouts of this country for the account they are giving of themselves, are extended to them in greetings from Mrs. Frederick Edey, national president, Mrs. Nicholas F. Brady, chairman of the national board of directors, and Miss Josephine Schain, national director of the Girl Scouts.

"Another year is with us," says Mrs. Edey, "and the Girl Scout organization will soon round out the twentieth year of its existence. It is nice to think we are growing so steadily and healthily. We need the service and cheerfulness of the Girl Scouts now as never before. So, while I wish every one of our girls and their leaders all happiness in 1932, what I wish for them most is that they may continue to be Girl Scouts with all the cheerfulness, enthusiasm, courage and faith of youth."

Mrs. Brady in her message declares that "the best pledge of our continued success in the coming year is, to my mind, the past service given by our Girl Scouts. I am deeply moved as well as delighted by the records which everyday keep pouring into headquarters of gifts unobtrusively given, of gay parties put to good purpose, and above all of the cheerful spirit Girl Scouts maintain at all times."

"I think we have every reason to anticipate that the coming year will bring still deeper understanding of the purposes and methods of the Girl Scouts," says Miss Schain. "The continued splendid expansion of Girl Scouting during these unfortunate times is the best possible proof not only that the program is popular with our girls but that it has earned the respect and support of the American people."

Troop No. 1 held its long delayed Christmas party last Monday afternoon at headquarters. An exchange of gifts was held and each package was opened to shouts of joy and merriment.

Refreshments were served. The Senior Troop held a very interesting evening last Monday. Miss Kelly and Miss Callahan of Whelan's Drug Store, Newark, told the gathering about the use of cosmetics, care of skin and hair. They demonstrated the various methods of make-up for morning, evening and the stage. Miss Kelly gave a short talk on personalities and perfumes.

Troop No. 5 The members of Troop No. 5 held a surprise party Tuesday evening to say goodbye to Captain M. T. Holden and to welcome their new captain, Miss Mary Grimley. The girls held their meeting at St. Peter's School and then the coming captain reminded Mrs. Holden that one of the girls' mothers wanted to see her. This party was held at the home of Miss Rita Rackett, 22 Bridge street. The girls came in after Mrs. Holden but they came in through the basement while Mrs. Holden marched in through the front entrance. Bountiful refreshments were served.

Games were played and awards went to the following: Babe Hurley, for singing; Babe Fitzpatrick, for a funny novel, and Betty Higgins was given the booby award. Those present were Captains Mrs. M. T. Holden and Miss Mary Grimley.

Troop No. Seven
Troop No. Seven's court of honor held a New Year party, January 2, at the home of their captain, Mrs. Clark, in Arlington.

It was conducted as a boy and girl party. Each girl of the court of honor invited a guest and either she or the guest was to come dressed as a boy.

Gladys Reyle brought mistletoe and hung it in the living room. Dolores Sauvan was hostess.

Clara Mae Brodhead and Bernice Ehrlich had charge of the refreshments. Bertha Sauvan and Alice Nordeck had charge of the games.

Seventeen girls were present at the party. They were: Gladys Reyle, Grace Martling, Clara Mae Brodhead, Patricia Boyd, Jeannette Alfke, Geraldine Vincent, Bertha Sauvan, Ruth Brodhead, Arlene Brodhead, Mary Scanlon, Helen Hyde, Helen Colehamer, Lieutenant, Mrs. D. Clark, Captain, and Alice Nordeck.

Some of the games played were: Spin the platter, string game, flour game and several others.

Refreshments were served at a late hour and all hated to see it come to a close.

Troop No. 8
The regular meeting of the Girl Scouts of Troop No. 8 was held last night at St. Peter's School. The resignation of Helen Field, as troop secretary was accepted and election was held for a new secretary. Dorothy Hearn was duly chosen. Nanette Williams and Dolores Hanley secured their pins and were admitted into the troop.

Rod And Gun Club To Hold Card Party

At the last meeting of the Inter-town Rod and Gun Club held at their headquarters at Gedney's sport store, 326 Washington avenue, the members decided to hold a card party Friday evening, January 15, at the Recreation House at which time they intend to award an electric clock.

The committee in charge has reported to have one award for every four people that attend, for that reason there is a great demand for tickets.

The club also elected officers for the coming year who are as follows: President, Ray Beckett; vice president, Oscar Lawson; secretary, E. King; treasurer, Joseph Rice, and publicity manager R. Nebrig.

Glory And The Gods

The Belleville Commissioners are a motley crew, All five of them are—(except two) They advocate this, they advocate that— But what's the use, they talk through their hat! They stand up for justice and payers of taxes And then turn around and start wielding their axes; They talk of spirit about the town, And then what happens? Belleville must flounder and drown; They're pretty suave—the three that we mean— So here's to the day when we wipe the slate clean!

"UNEXPLAINED ITEMS"

So far as the Belleville News is concerned and, from information available at the Town Hall, there has been no criticism levelled at this paper except by the Belleville Times as regards election bills.

Commissioner William H. Williams did question whether it was legal to pay a $1,650 item as submitted in a $5,081.40 bill by this paper for printing all election work and was informed by Corporation Counsel John B. Brown the charge is legal inasmuch as it represents a total of twenty-two items, one for each election district.

Yesterday the Belleville Times under another of its garbled stories, captioned "election bills under scrutiny," says amounts claimed by superintendent of elections and Belleville News draws most attention.

And then says "also there appear four as yet unexplained items described merely as 'election work'."

Here is how the Times printed the items:

Belleville News—Election Work.....$75.00
Belleville News—Election Work..... 48.60
Belleville News—Election Work..... 14.40
Belleville News—Election Work..... 15.84

The Belleville News brands this a gross mis-statement of fact. This newspaper never submitted bills thus labelled.

Just to prove how evasive the Times is and that it printed these items without TRUE facts we will tell the entire story of "unexplained items." We wonder how long the readers of that out of town paper will continue to believe the trash that it garbles to injure a local business. Here is what the amounts were for and how our bills for "unexplained items" read, as recorded in the Department of Revenue and Finance. And it is interesting to see that we also print the amounts the Times billed the town for the same.

Here they are in comparison:

MAYOR ACCUSED AT BELLEVILLE

Award Of City's "Ads" Stirs Rumpus In Commission

(Newark Star Eagle—Tuesday)
Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and two members of the Belleville Town Commission today were lined up against the remainder of the town body and citizens who charged them last night with "willfully misappropriating taxpayers' money" in connection with the award of all municipal advertising to the Belleville Times.

Before last week's 3 to 2 vote the advertising was equally divided between the Times, published in Nutley, and the Belleville News.

MAYOR ACCUSED
At last night's session former Commissioner Edward Nelson sided with the minority vote and made the charge against the mayor and Commissioners William D. Clark and Patrick Waters.

He also declared the Walsh act had been misinterpreted in awarding legal notices to an out-of-town publication. Belleville Post, American Legion, also protested the action by letter. No reply was made by the commissioners.

Commissioner Williams, accused from the floor of appointing non-citizens to his department of revenue and finance, announced the resignation of Mary Anderson, clerk, pointing out he had not known she had not obtained her citizenship papers.

RESIGN IN PROTEST
The fiery session was continued with announcement of the resignations of Assistant Town Engineer George M. Lindsley and Edwin C. Young, assistant to the engineer. Both declared they were relinquishing their posts "because of the financial condition of the town." Renewal of $454,000 temporary bonds was authorized and garbage disposal bids were received. An award will be made next week. The low bidder is Louis Viola of Nutley.

A SELL OUT

The Belleville News sold out completely last week of 5,000 copies, the demand being so great that only two file copies are in the News office. Our complete press run was about 5,500 copies. This week 7,000 copies of the paper are in circulation. This is the top record of any paper ever.

The driver escaped injury when an automobile jumped the curb at Belleville and Washington avenues early Monday, climbed the steps leading to a terrace and balanced on the parapet of a stone wall, without tipping over.

John Del Vecchio of 22 Cedar Hill avenue, the driver, told the police he lost control of the machine on the Belleville avenue hill. The stone wall surrounds the property of Vincent Del Guercio.

Bernhardt Mebius

Bernhardt Mebius, who for many years conducted a dairy in town, died Tuesday at his home, 17 Durrell street, Verona, after a long illness. He was stricken seriously ill about five weeks ago.

Born in Germany October 3, 1866, Mr. Mebius came to this country thirty-five years ago. About twenty-one years ago he started in the dairy business in the Silver Lake section of town where he remained until his retirement six years ago, when he moved to Verona.

Surviving him are his wife, two sons, William G. of Verona and John Nelson Mebius of New York; three daughters, Mrs. William J. Ohland of Verona and Mrs. Harold G. Catlow and Mrs. Frank M. Pent of Bloomfield, and a brother, Carl O. Mebius of Lindenhurst, Long Island. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Paul F. Arndt of Newark officiating. Burial will be in Laurel Grove Cemetery, Paterson.

FIX NEW GOAL OF 1,000 POSTS FOR 1931-1932

Kansas City, Mo.—Throwing overboard quotas established at the beginning of the fiscal year, national headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. has set up a new goal for extension activities for the year 1931-1932, with the hope of instituting one thousand new posts by next August 31.

This decision, announced by Joseph H. Hanken, Revere, Mass., National Chief of Staff, followed a series of conferences and a tour of inspection throughout states west of the Rocky Mountain. "With a start of 130 new Posts by December 1, during a three-month period that is ordinarily considered the duller of the year for extension activities," explained Chief of Staff Hanken, "we have every reason to believe that our new goal of one thousand posts will be easily accomplished."

"In every section of the country there is definite evidence of a stampede to V. F. W. ranks. Every mail brings in a fresh batch of applications for charters from veteran groups in virtually every state."

"The V. F. W. is just beginning to reap the harvest from the seeds of service to the veteran that were planted years ago. Veterans, more than ever, are beginning to appreciate the need of organized strength and in their search for the veteran organization that reflects the principles they themselves advocate, they are turning to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. as their first choice."

"The manner in which the V. F. W. has paved the way for constructive legislation in behalf of both the veteran and public welfare has won the support and respect of all citizens."

"Through a most comprehensive Americanization program, the V. F. W. devoted its efforts unselfishly to the upbuilding of American standards of citizenship."

"In nearly every community there is definite evidence of the part that is being played by this organization in behalf of the general welfare. Quietly—but effectively—the V. F. W. has built a firm foundation for its future development, strengthened and supported by public confidence."

Determined that this session of Congress must act favorably on proposed cash payment of Adjusted Service Certificates, national headquarters of Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. A. has distributed 250,000 petitions with a potential signature strength of twelve million names.

Information received by Commanded Fitzsimmons of Younginger Post No. 275, from National Headquarters announces the appointment of a sub-committee of the National Legislative Committee of the V. F. W., created especially for the successful promotion of a nation-wide campaign in behalf of cash payment. Paul C. Wolman, Baltimore, Md., a past commander-in-chief of the V.

W. H. WILLIAMS' COURT FIVE SETS LEAGUE RECORD

The William H. Williams Association basketball five compiled the record score for the Municipal League season, Wednesday night, at the high school gym, in trouncing the Holy Name club, 66 to 8. Austin Matthews, center for the Williams five, set a new individual scoring mark for the loop to date, with a grand total of twenty-nine points in the encounter.

In other games of the evening, the Clintons swamped St. Anthony's, 32 to 5, and the Panthers were handed a 29 to 14 defeat by the Second Ward Political Club quintet.

Herb Mayes scored seventeen times to place next to Matthews, in the Williams' record win. Johnnie McGuire was, as usual, the rallying point of the Clintons' attack, with a fourteen point aggregate, as St. Anthony's succumbed. Beaddy, sharpshooting forward of the Second

P. W. has been appointed chairman of this special sub-committee by Commander-in-Chief Darold D. DeCoe of Sacramento, Cal.

"The members of Younginger Post are unanimously in harmony with the purpose of this campaign," announced Commander Fitzsimmons, "and we are making every effort to give this movement our fullest cooperation."

"The presentation of these petitions, filled with the signatures of citizens and veterans alike, will provide congress with evidence that public sentiment is favorable to the veteran and his cause."

"Our efforts thus far have met with a fine reaction on the part of the public. There is a general feeling that if this country can afford to approve the reduction of foreign debts, it can equally afford to pay this debt to the veteran that was actually due in 1918."

"A general feeling also exists that if this country can sacrifice the income it will lose through a moratorium for Germany and debt adjustments with other countries, the veteran has every right to expect the same generous treatment from the government he served so valiantly in camp, on the high seas, and on the battlefields."

A delegation of thirty members from Younginger Post and Auxiliary attended the reception and dinner given to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Davis at the Newark Elks' Club on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will leave next week for Kansas City, Mo., where Mr. Davis will join the headquarters staff of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

An improvised microphone served Fireman William Gilchrist for his entertainment of officials at a pig roast given in their honor Tuesday night by the V. F. W.

Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons, commander of the post, welcomed the officials, expressing the veterans' gratitude for use of the old fire-house as headquarters.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy thanked the post for cooperating with the Poor Department in the use of the building for serving meals to unemployed. Commissioners William H. Williams, Patrick A. Eddie Nugent Now Familiar Figure At Newark Athletic Club

Popular Local Boy Guards Portals Of Inner Regions

Eddie Nugent, one-time wellknown middleweight boxer, is the new Cerberus at the Newark Athletic Club. The man who now guards the portals to the inner regions of the N. A. C. has been out of the fistie game for several years but since taking up his new duties has been kept busy shaking the hands of many of his former admirers.

Nugent fought most of the topnotchers of his day and after quitting the ring he became a professional life guard at Long Beach, in which line of work he earned almost as much distinction as he did with the gloves. In eight years Nugent was credited with saving 506 lives at Long Beach, a record that gave him the unofficial title of "champion life guard of the Atlantic Coast."

The writer recalls one rescue Nugent made of a hotel chef at Long Beach which almost ended disastrously for the suburban lad. Eddie went out and got his man but the bathwater clutched the guard and dragged him beneath the water. Only his great strength enabled Nugent to break the hold and knock the drowning man out with a blow of the fist. Nugent managed to get his man fairly close to the shore before he came to and when he did, the drowning chef grabbed Nugent by the legs and arms and both went down. A human chain was formed from the shore and the chef was dragged in, but Nugent was forgotten. A policeman finally pulled Nugent out and Eddie went to the hospital for two days.

Nugent got his early training in the waters of the Morris Canal in Nutley and often broke the ice to swim in the winter. He has never smoked nor taken alcoholic liquor.

By MORRIS UDANSKY

I've got nothin' to do—so I'll do it by ritin' the ole bulletin again this week—but it'll be a waste of time—cuz I've been told that nobody reads the Nuhs—the guys that sed that, say that everybody reads another local rag—since that's the case I can write whatever I please an' it'll be just as good as keepin' it a secret—so for the benefit of those few chance readers who happened to find this sheet layin' around loose here goes—

I've seen plenty of strange sights in my years of travel; but the dizziest was the guy who stood on the corner of Broad and Market clipping his finger nails with a pair of pliers—if you want more thrills than you'll find in Frankenstein—breeze down to the Moose basketball game any Sattiday nite—the Moose are nice pleasant boys—they supply dancing to go along with the thrills and all for only two bits and ten—

A bitta poetry—
Be there a man with soul so tough
Who thinks two sexes aren't enough!

I discovered a new game of solitaire—you play it the regular way only with a hundred and four cards—its lotta fun you never lose—in spite of hard times Master 1932 was able to afford as many clothes as his predecessors—mebbe a couple pins were rusty and bent though—but it's said by superstitious ones that bent pins signify good luck—

The word Whoopee is gettin' to be kinda ancient—so what say we Bellevillites say Zippee instead—then when we feel hilarious we can holler "Zippee"—and if we wanna go on a spree—we'll exclaim—"Let's make "Zippee"—or if we wanna describe a new dress we bought—we can say—"Pretty Zippee"—(please dear public I don't mean that we all buy dresses)—

—how do you like the ideah do you think it's zippee—Paul Whiteman's orchestra played over the air from Chicago while Bebe Daniels sang to their music on the coast—and then Marion Harris sang on the same program while in New York—that's pretty good but now we wanna hear Bebe and Marion harmonize—

Wonder if there's any significance in the fact that the New Year started with plenty of real wet weather—here's a good yarn it's not new but it's worth mentioning—at a ladies' afternoon bridge club one of the ladies suggested that they refrain from talking or gossip during the game and asked what the others thought of the idea—and one of the girls replied—"I think it's a wonderful idea, lets discuss it while we play!"

The Eta Beta Pi Sorority of Newark Coolitch of Osculation (Newark Normal to you) are havin' a Leap Year Hop at the Rec House to-morra nite—they're gonna use coolitch pennants for decorations and they're gonna have some real hot music (I oughta know, I'm manager of the orchestra)—the dress is optional as long as you dress and everybody's gonna have a good time—so fellers, grab yourselves a dame, tell her to save up a buck and a quarter and be sure to come early and stay late—in these times America oughta go collegiate and have cheerin' squads and things like that—and we should always cheer—"We Want More"—and I don't mean knocks, moron—gimme a match, I'm all outta cigarete lighters—

Inter-Country Bowling

Entries for the inter-country bowling championships will close Saturday, January 9 at midnight. These title events will be the eighth annual tournament conducted under the auspices of the Greater Newark Bowling Association. The competition is to be held at the Llewellyn Alleys, Lincoln avenue, Orange, where fourteen alleys are available. These drives are being resurfaced and shellacked especially for this affair. The planning will be done on three different sets of alleys. In other words a team will draw for the starting alley; roll a game and then shift one pair to the right so that the three games will be rolled on three different sets of alleys which obviously does away with the so-called "pies."

New sets of pins have been secured so that each five men entry will face new wood thus making the competition absolutely fair for every one.

A new departure this season is the classification of bowlers. Three classes have been allotted and teams averaging 900 or better will constitute Class A. Teams hitting below that figure down to 825 will comprise Class B, while the balance of the pinners will be placed in Class C. The feature of this procedure is that championships are at stake in each division and each class will be awarded seventy-five per cent of all entry fees as gold medals to the champion teams or individuals.

The entry fee is one dollar per man per event with an additional charge being made for bowling. All pinning will be accomplished on Saturdays and Sundays. Doubles and singles will be contested afternoons while the five men teams will pin two shifts in the evening.

The event is open to every team or individual in the state. Further information can be secured by writing P. O. Box 345, Newark.

SCHOOLS

Miss Kelleher's home room had charge of the first mass assembly of the new year, at the high school Tuesday morning.

Charles Peters, acting in the capacity of Mr. Steel, making the necessary announcements. He was ably assisted by Adell Peck, who lead the student body in song and Rayna Maryott, who read the Bible and lead the students in prayer.

Rev. O. Bell Close, well known local pastor, was the guest speaker.

Rev. Close spoke on the continuous changes taking place in life and of the necessity of adapting ourselves to these changes. He also mentioned the necessity of taking our "New Year resolutions" seriously and that they should not be selfish resolutions.

Inabelle Collins and Edna Holden made a dual announcement of the coming "Music Club Dance" which is to be held in the high school gym, Friday evening, at 8:15.

A call was issued at the assembly for candidates for the soccer ball team, which is to be organized shortly.

Mr. Steel asked all boys interested in soccer to be at Clearman field Saturday at 2:30 P. M. A soccer ball expert will explain the fundamentals of the game.

The first dance of the new year will be given by the combined music clubs, under the direction of Miss Alice Walters, music supervisor at the high school. There will be "loads" of fun, as this is leap year and girls will be permitted to invite all bashful young men to dance with them.

The two committees appointed to aid Miss Walters are: decorations and entertainment. Madalyn Book heads the committee on decorations.

assisted by the following students: Francis Dorman, Doris Scharfenberg, Alice Miller, Peggy Macalica, Eileen Lynch, Robert Haythorne, George Barnes, Wallace Shaw, Henry Schmidt, Alfred Adler and Louis Westra. The entertainment committee, is headed by Elizabeth Wortman. She is assisted by the following: Ethel Johnson, Margaret Spaulding, Virginia Crockett, Thelma Petith, Leonard Hodgkinson, Fred Hood and Margaret Gregory.

Admission will be twenty-five cents. The proceeds of this dance will be used to purchase more music for the clubs.

Miss Walters has stated that plans for the annual musical comedy are now under way. Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts," has been selected as this year's production. March 18 and 19 have been set as the dates of presentation.

Trolley Hits Auto

Louis Erich of 79 William street, suffered cuts and bruises early New Years' morning when the car in which he was riding, driven by his brother, Reuben Erich of 79 Canfield street, East Orange, was struck by a Public Service trolley at Washington and Division avenue. Reuben Erich told police that he was waiting for a traffic light to turn green when the trolley, which was operated by Henry Williams, no address given, struck his car from behind. Erich was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital in East Orange.

FOR THE NOT SO YOUNG

WHILE the Recreation Commission is doing a fine job of running its two Municipal Basketball Leagues, involving no less than twelve teams, one wonders whether one of its avowed purposes has been followed up to the fullest extent.

The leagues, the Monday night one, in particular, were formed with the express idea of getting as many of the old-time athletes on a basketball court as possible. These men were invited to participate by the Recreation Commission, as symbolized by Mr. Nebrig, their director, but not enough answered the call. This necessitated the injection of young blood to make up the full quota of teams for the league.

Of course, the enthusiasm of the "old-timer" died down to some extent, as these younger and more active players out-classed him.

A suggestion, in line with this, might be to set aside a special night for these older men, limiting the players to a certain age, say 30 or 35. If the high school court is not available, we feel sure that the recently renovated Moose court would be an ideal location.

The local Lodge of Moose would, undoubtedly, acquiesce with the idea, and might even place a team or group of men on the floor.

The Progress Club, several of the Men's Club of the different churches, the Elks and the Knights of Columbus are some of the organizations who might be interested in putting across just such an evening.

The Moose seem willing to co-operate to the extent of furnishing the court, now all that is needed is the men and the teams to supply the action.

How about it?

A SENSATIONAL COME-BACK

PERHAPS there have been games better played than the Moose-Klump basketball scrap, Saturday night, but for sheer thrills and action, we believe that that tussle just about tops any seen hereabouts in some time.

Any team that can come back to the extent of out-scoring their opponents, 24-8, in the last quarter, after being decisively out-played in the first three, to go on to victory, deserves a place in any sports spot-light.

Trailing at various times, 13-0, 16-4, 29-13, and 35-23, the Moose didn't seem to have a chance of winning. And don't think that they didn't receive some well-merited applause and encouragement from the well-filled house, as they staged their thrilling victory march in that final quarter!

It was a great game, and an equally exciting one may be expected, tomorrow night, as the Moose play host to the well-known White Eagles of Bloomfield.

"LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD"

IN spite of the great prospects for a successful basketball season at the high school, one ace of last year, who is bound to be missed, is Stan Goodrich, their high-scoring pivot man.

Goodrich, at present, is playing freshman basketball at Lehigh, out Bethlehem way, and from all accounts, may step into a varsity berth in a year or so. Only recently Goodrich was awarded his numeral for playing as a first-stringer on the line of the Lehigh "Frosh" football eleven. Who knows, but that he might team up with the great Paul Short, on Lehigh's varsity grid team next year, as Belleville's two contributions to that college's football eleven?

A splendid athlete and scholar, as well, Goodrich should go far before he receives his sheep-skin at Lehigh.

Win Over Bloomfield Gives Locals Two Game Lead

The Belleville Elks pinners were in top form against Bloomfield, in the Bergen County Elks' League, taking two out of three games and going into a commanding two game lead in this strong circuit.

The entire squad of the Hello Bills was in top form, with "Butch" Kastner showing the way with successive tallies of 201, 225 and 181. Bob Whitten and Tom MacNair were also highly instrumental in accounting for the pair of high 900 team marks hung up by the locals in winning the first two games.

The Belleville Elks' bowlers in the Morris and Essex League defeated the Commonwealth Club five in two out of three games, Wednesday night, at Montclair.

Tommye Dunn, who has been going great guns in the M. & E. loop to date, was a big factor in the local triumph, rolling consecutive games of 238, 179 and 213. His 238 in the first game was the high water mark in the evening's performances.

El Club Bowlers Trim Democrats Two Times

Hold Two Game Grip On First Place In Legion League

Johnny Lawlor's El Club strengthened its grip on first place in the local American Legion Bowling League Monday night, at Ferrara's, by downing the erstwhile league-leaders, the Democratic Club in two out of three games. The Democrats, by virtue of the double defeat, are now two games out of the top position, but a single step ahead of Johnnie Baney's Oldham Association five in third place.

The Moose and the Oldhams, both at the top of their stride, had a little private scrap of their own for that third position, with the Oldhams coming through in the odd game. The Lamb Association quietly defeated the faltering Hoopes two out of three games, Will Noonan's Belleville A. A. club came back to sweep a series with the Junior Order, the Knights of Columbus took two from the Parks, and the Bachelors dropped three to the American Legion in the other contests of the evening.

Jerry Sawyer and Greene of the Moose, Gene Gelschen and Tom Dunn of the Oldhams, Johnny Lawlor and Russ Stout of the El Club, Cubellis, Democrats, Oskinski of the Belleville A. A., and Lisk of the Lambs, were the outstanding individual performers on the alleys.

Wesleys Beat Bankers In Deciding Game

Hosking Leads Church Five To First Half Municipal Win

Elmer Hosking, sharp-shooting forward, led the Wesleys to a 28-19 win over the First National Bank five, Monday night, at the high school in the "cruel" game of the Municipal Basketball League season. Both teams were undefeated before the game, and the Wesley victory just about clinches a first half triumph for them.

The rebuilt Young People's Fellowship quintet displayed fine form in trouncing the Stuywards, 26-13, in the only other game of the evening. The Progress Club won from the Town Hall on forfeit.

Hosking rang up a total of twelve points in the Wesley's unexpectedly easy victory over the Bank. Jacobson was next in line with seven. Steve Dingle contributed the best work for the First National with his eight points. Jim Metz was runner-up to Dingle, with two field goals and one successful free throw.

Bill Herkness's ten points for the Y. P. F. was the outstanding feat, as the Stuywards succumbed in the first game of the night.

Moose Basketball Five Meets White Eagles

Another Sensational Game Expected At Local Court

Fresh from their sensational comeback victory over the Paul Klump Association, the Belleville Moose basketball five will attempt to continue their winning ways, as they stack up against the strong White Eagle quintet of Bloomfield, tomorrow night, at the local court.

Frank Schummel, former three sports star at Bloomfield High, will head the White Eagles' invasion. Ungemah, Joe Zega, one of the fastest forwards in this section, and Weiglein are some of the other well-known White Eagle performers.

"Jitty" Wisniewsky, who performed so brilliantly in last week's triumph, will start at one of the forward berths for the locals, with Ray Englant on deck for the other. "Whitey" Huebner, giant defensive threat, will likely center for the Moose. Captain Harry Metz and Artie Dunn, the two regular guards, will also take the floor, wearing the Moose colors. Herb Mayes and Pat Dunn form a capable duo of substitutes.

Belleville High Court Team Beats Kearny

'Mac' Lamb Scores Thirteen Points In Opening Win

The Belleville High basketball five opened its scholastic campaign, on Tuesday afternoon, at Kearny, by defeating a strong Kearny High team, 25-28. This was the season's second victory for the Blue and Gold, who had trounced the Alumni, several weeks back.

Captain "Mac" Lamb of the Bell-boys was the hero of a last minute spurt, which won the game for the locals, after they had trailed at half-time, 14-12. Lamb netted thirteen points, over half of his team's total, during the course of the game. His five field goals were prime factors in sending victory Belleville's way.

Belleville got off to a slow start, and as the whistle sounded for the end of the first quarter, they had failed to tally a single field goal, being on the short end of a 9-1 score. The locals came back brilliantly in the second quarter, and at half time had reduced Kearny's margin to a slim 14-12 one.

Having found their "eyes" for the basket, McBride's boys continued their fine second quarter work in the final half, setting up a two-point lead for themselves, and holding it until the final whistle.

In the final half, Coach Mc Bride changed his team about a bit, with gratifying results. His combination of Lamb and Westra, forwards, Smith, center, and Mutch and Bonavita, guards, as arranged then, seemed to be his best bet.

Nick Bonavita and Lou Westra followed Lamb in Belleville's scoring column, with four and three points respectively.

In a preliminary game, the Belleville second-stringers made the day a complete success, by downing the Kearny Jayvees, 12-7, with Culkin starring on the attack.

GREAT COMEBACK WINS FOR MOOSE COURTSTERS

One of the greatest come-backs ever witnessed in Belleville basketball annals enabled the local Moose courtsters to hand the Paul Klump Association five of Pompton Lakes their first defeat of the season, Saturday night, at the Moose Home. The defeat of the visitors came after a record of eight straight conquests this season.

At half time, the Klumps were far out in the van, holding a big 25-13 edge over their opponents.

Led by "Jitty" Wisniewsky, sharp-shooting forward, who was accounting for sensational shot after shot, the Moose soon whittled that lead down to 35-23 at the end of the third quarter. Their greatest bid came in the early stages of the fourth quarter, as they recorded point after point, to first tie up the visitors and then take the winning lead. In the final analysis the Moose had out-scored their rivals, 24-8, in the fourth quarter, for a sensational last minute stand, that had the large crowd on hand in an uproar from start to finish.

Wisniewsky contributed one of the most polished forward exhibitions ever witnessed on a local court, to easily top the scorers of both sides, with a twenty-two point aggregate. Fifteen of these markers were hung up in the second half.

Captain Harry Metz and Ray Englant followed Wisniewsky in the point-tallying ranks, with eight points each. "Butch" Seinski and Ackerman led the Klump five in finding the net, accounting for twenty-four counters between them.

County Tuberculosis League Gives Thanks To Lions And Elks

Local Organization Helped To Make Merry Christmas

The Essex County Tuberculosis League takes this opportunity of extending its thanks through Elizabeth F. Smith, R. N., nurse of the Tubercular Division in Belleville to the Elks and Lions Clubs for their beautiful gifts which were given to the patients in Essex Mountain and Glen Gardner Sanatoriums. Through the clubs they helped make a mighty happy Christmas for the folks who were on the mountain tops. Their heartiest appreciation is extended to you.

Thanks are also extended to Mr. Steel, principal of the high school and the students, for the very efficient addressing of envelopes and to the Girl Scouts, Troop No. 5, for the inserting of mail for the Christmas Seal Sale.

Just A Reminder For The Return Of Christmas Seals

The total amount of money received in Belleville for Christmas Seals up to date is $1,250, six hundred dollars less than the previous year. We feel confident that many people have meant to return seals or money but perhaps have placed away the seals until after the holidays.

Through this sale the work of the Essex County Tuberculosis League is carried on employing a nurse, Elizabeth F. Smith, in the Town of Belleville the entire year, holding chest clinics, x-rays, placing patients in sanatoriums and camps for undernourished children.

There has always been a generous sale in the past years, and we hope that we shall be able to continue this great worthy work in the coming year.

These facts and figures have been secured and compiled by Town Clerk John J. Daly, under the supervision of the Improvement Commissioners of Belleville, with the idea of informing the citizens of Belleville as to the official family of the Town Government and some of the past history of the Town.

To those outside of Belleville whom this may reach, Belleville is located outside of Newark, between it and Paterson. It is a beautiful town, surrounded by other beautiful towns such as Bloomfield and Nutley, and is bounded on its eastern side by the Passaic River. It is partly industrial and residential, being fortunate in having many sites still left for desirable industry to locate. The residential sections are of high type and are protected by a zone ordinance.

These men have served Belleville as Mayors since that office was instituted, as follows:
C. LYMAN DENISON, 1912-1914.
JOHN C. LA FORT, 1915-1917.
JOHN H. WATERS, November, 1914, to January, 1922 (filled in office).
JOHN DE GRAY, January 1922, to May, 1926.
SAMUEL S. KENWORTHY, 1926-1930; 1930 to present.

"Singing Lady"

FOLLOWING her phenomenal success in Chicago, where she made her radio debut about eight months ago, Kellogg's "Singing Lady," a program designed according to the best of modern kindergarten theory as a service for mothers, teachers and children, is to be broadcast over the NBC Blue Network every afternoon except Saturdays and Sundays, beginning January 11th.

In this comparatively brief time more than 40,000 mothers and children have written, expressing their appreciation to the "Singing Lady." Endorsed by authorities as being one of the most constructive child programs ever arranged, "The Singing Lady," presented by W. K. Kellogg of Battle Creek, will sing the songs and tell the stories dear to childhood.

At the same time, she will teach many constructive things—encourage children to eat proper food, form habits of healthful play, sleep and exercise and, all the while, work to develop imagination and build character.

Coming on the air just before children's evening meal, when the average mother is busiest and when it is of most importance that the children be quiet and restful, "The Singing Lady" will broadcast every afternoon, except Saturdays and Sundays; from 5:30 to 5:45, E.S.T., over WJZ, WLW, WBAL, WJR and WGAR; from 5:15 to 5:30, C.S.T., over WENR, WREN, KOIL and KWIK; and from 6:00 to 6:15 over WGN.

State G.O.P. Plan Pitiful, Says Zink

Calls Salary-Budget Slashing "Saving At Spigot After Wasting At Bung"

The Republican program of salary-cutting and budget-slashing which was acted upon at Trenton Wednesday night is described by Assemblyman Homer C. Zink of this town, a Republican as "a pitiful attempt to save at the spigot after years of wasting at the bung hole." Mr. Zink is one of those not reelected last month. He accepts the Republican defeat as the public's expression of "loss of confidence in the administration."

"As a member of the Legislature, who has repeatedly been in opposition to the administration," said Mr. Zink, "I object most earnestly to a last minute attempt to atone for the extravagances of that administration by hasty and ill-considered economy measures. The thing is too much like a deathbed repentance to carry conviction. As of the old Bourbons, so it can be said of some of our leaders. They forget nothing and they learn nothing." The voters of the state spoke in November in terms that should have been plain to everyone. It was made perfectly clear that the electorate had, for the moment, lost confidence in the Republican administration in this state. As a part of that administration, we have no right at this, almost the last hour, of the last day of our political existence, to try to impose our will on those who have turned us out.

"Should Brave Storm."

"Even if we had not been discredited last month, it would still be wrong for us to repeal mandatory legislation in such a way as to pass back to the counties and municipalities the responsibility for a reduction in salaries. Mandatory legislation has appealed to legislators because it has made friends for them among the various classes who have basked in the sunshine reflected by increased salaries thus made possible, we should be willing to brave the storm that would surely follow a reversal of this policy, if, indeed, it is to be reversed. Whatever happens, let us not be guilty of passing the buck."

"Making nominal cuts in salaries of state employees at this time is a pitiful attempt to save at the spigot after years of wasting at the bung hole. This Legislature should not lose its sense of proportion in its final and positively its farewell appearance—continuing farewell ap-

P. S. Has New Way To Ventilate Buses

Motor Driven Suction Fan To Change Air Constantly

A new method for ventilating buses which uses a suction fan driven by an electric motor, is now being tried out in a number of Public Service Coordinated Transport buses. The suction fan and motor are mounted in the ceiling of the bus in the same position as the present bus ventilator.

The new system is a departure from present methods of bus ventilation in that it does not rely upon temperature changes, wind pressure, or the motion of the bus to change the air inside. By means of the motor driven suction fan the ventilator is kept constantly at work providing a fresh supply of air, even when the bus is standing. Tests have indicated that the new ventilator will completely change the air inside of a bus about every four minutes, even with all of the windows and the door closed.

Engineers of Public Service Coordinated Transport have developed the new ventilator which gives every indication of being an important contribution to the comfort of the bus rider.

New Equipment For Phones In Town

New switchboard equipment adequate to care for 800 additional telephones has been installed in town by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company in anticipation of continued growth.

With spare facilities already available capacity of the switchboard has been increased to handle approximately 4,850 telephones. There now are about 3,750 and the increase is about thirty-nine per cent. over five years ago.

New apparatus known as "call indicator" equipment has been installed to enable dial telephone users to dial their Belleville calls directly after the new wide-range dial telephone system is placed in service next spring in Newark and the Oranges.

FASHION SUGGESTIONS -O- TIMELY FEATURES FOR THE HOME

"Handsome is as handsome does," of course, but when that certain course tastes as good as it looks pretty, then you've served both Soul and Stomach beautified your table as sides! Anything—soup to nuts or in between—tastes better if it looks pretty, so instead of just "dishing it out" let's serve a little beauty with our calories.

The social arbiters will tell you the only place for foods that resemble butterfies, candles or houses is in the restaurant window; true, distorting good food into a weird form that resembles nothing ever seen on land or sea is not the best of taste. But contrast in color, texture and taste, a bit of imagination and daintiness makes the difference between "dining" and merely "eating." It's heartening to see the table looking pretty, too.

Besides—it's fun! And if you want to go to the extreme, it's your own business. Here are some really pretty dishes that are in good taste and taste good too. They should tempt you!

Maiden's Blush

(Colorful Emergency Dessert)
2 egg whites.
1 cup canned strained cranberry sauce.

Beat cranberry sauce with a fork until smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff; add cranberry sauce gradually, beating after each addition. Pipe the whip in stemmed glasses. Chill thoroughly. Serve with whipped cream or with custard sauce made from the egg yolks. One-third of the 7-ounce can of cranberry sauce will be sufficient for this recipe. 6 servings.

Brown-Eyed Susan

(A Gold and Brown Mocha Mold)

Immediately following the holidays, dresses, coats, hats, in fact practically all types of apparel, will undergo marked price reductions. Many shoppers have long been anticipating the annual sales and are now ready to take advantage of the values offered.

The first step in intelligent shopping is an analysis of one's needs, a careful study of the present wardrobe and a consideration of the kind of garment, color and fabric needed to complete it.

The person who makes successful purchases at sales recognizes the importance of knowing what is fashionable, for unless a garment reflects the present mode it will not prove an economical addition to any wardrobe. It is wise to compare fashion notes and to use them as a guide in making selections. In any season, no matter what the fashion, there is always a wide variation. Never is one specific color, fabric or style "the fashion."

Briefly stated, the present mode places greatest emphasis on line treatment. The better dresses are void of superfluous fullness as well as of trimmings. Materials which lend themselves to the soft, graceful lines of the close-fitting silhouette are favored.

The length that is most becoming to the figure should be the length chosen for the costume. It is wise, however, to let fashion serve as a guide in this matter, for a person is apt to choose an unbecoming length merely because she has accustomed herself to it. Daytime costumes are now ten or eleven inches from the floor, dinner dresses are ankle length and evening gowns extend to the heels or just escape the floor.

To purchase an article just because it is fashionable indicates poor taste. No matter how fashion-right a garment is, it should not be considered unless it meets the requirements of suitability and becomingness. Over-emphasis is apt to be placed on the magic possibilities of alterations which all too frequently prove both expensive and unsatisfactory whether done at home or in the shop.

The intelligent shopper knows what she wants to buy and is neither concerned nor influenced by what the salesman wishes to sell. To purchase an article merely because it is substantially reduced is the height of folly. Some women judge a bargain by the price tag and justify buying on such a basis with the comment that they could not resist purchasing a certain article because it had been drastically marked down.

One woman whom I know went shopping with her mind definitely made up to buy a much needed street dress. At the sale, however, she observed that no material reduction had been made on the type of dress she was interested in. When she complained that there were no bargains the sales clerk directed her to a rack of "specials." Here she found a chiffon dinner dress that had been cut

¾ cup sugar
¾ cup nut meats
½ pkg. pasteurized dates
½ teaspoon vanilla
1-3 cup heavy cream
Soak gelatine in cold water for at least five minutes; dissolve gelatine and sugar in hot coffee. Cool until mixture shows signs of jellying at edges of the pan, then fold in the cup of sliced dates, chopped nuts, vanilla and whipped cream. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold. When ready to serve garnish with whipped cream and lay strips of cut date in shape of a flower on top, placing a nut meat in center. 4 to 6 servings.

Pineapple Snowflakes
(A Coconut Delicacy)
1 ½ cups cooked rice
3 tbsps. powdered sugar
½ cup shredded coconut
½ cup crushed pineapple
1 tbsps. candied orange peel
½ cup cream (whipped)
Mix rice with remaining ingredients, folding in the whipped cream last. Pile in sherbet glasses, chill, sprinkle generously with coconut and serve very cold. 4 servings.

Peach Bloom Salad
(The Envy of Georgia Trees)
12 canned peach halves
1 pkg. cream cheese
2 tbsps. rich milk or cream
½ pkg. pasteurized dates
½ cup nut meats or celery
Salt, Lettuce, Salad Dressing
Rub cheese to a paste with the cream, add chopped pitted dates, nuts or celery, and salt to taste. Drain canned peaches from their syrup, fill hollow in six of the peaches with cheese mixture, cover with remaining peaches. Then take a bit of red vegetable coloring on back of spoon and brush over peach to make "bloom." Fasten a sprig of mint or other leaf to top to make stem out. Serve on lettuce and pass salad dressing. Six servings.

Pir Tree Cakes
Bake white cake in small tea cake pans lined with fluted paper baking cups. When cool, cover the tops with white frosting and sprinkle generously with shredded coconut. The snow-covered ground is now ready for the fir tree, which is made from a small conical green gum drop. Insert a short tooth pick into the base of the gum drop. Stick the tooth pick into the frosted cake so that the base of the "tree" is about one-half inch above the "snow."

Snowballs
Cut or break Angel Food Cake into small even cubes. Holding the cubes with a fork, dip them into thin white icing. With a spatula, cover the cake on all sides. Allow the surplus to drip off. Dip the frosted cubes into shredded coconut and shape into balls with the hands. Place on waxed paper until frosting has dried on the surface.

Amaranth Installs

Royal Court, Order of Amaranth, installed officers Saturday night at Masonic Temple. Sir Knight Charles Nutt was installing officer, and Mrs. Catherine Houseman of Hillside, past grand royal matron of New Jersey, performed the crowning ceremony.

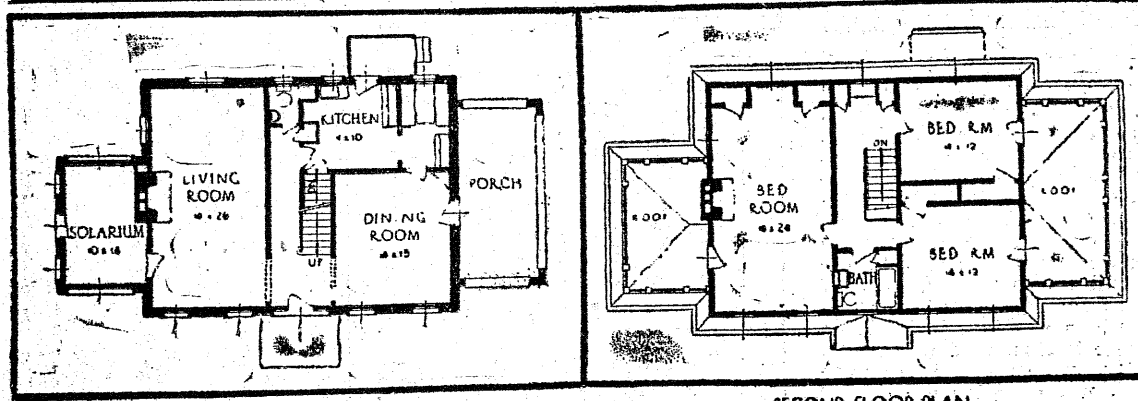

Mrs. Enola Winship and Horace D. Winship are the new royal matron and royal patron, with Miss Mary McMurray and Edward McLaughlin as associate matron and patron. Others installed were: Conductress, Mrs. Flora Davis; associate conductress, Mrs. Althea McLaughlin; secretary, Mrs. Lillian Price; treasurer, Mrs. Laura Fitzherbert; standard bearer, Mrs. Sadie Bergstresser; truth, Miss Laura Belle Phelps; faith, Mrs. Rose Schult; charity, Miss Grace Galluba; marshal in the east, Mrs. Cornelia Wortman; marshal in the west, Mrs. Margaret Hodgson; prelate, Mrs. Clara Phelps; historian, Mrs. Ellen Davis; warder, Mrs. Lulu Hosking; sentinel, Harry Wortman; chairman and trustee, Mrs. Ethel Prager; organist, Mrs. Amy Stratton.

to one-third of its original price. She was so impressed by the price reduction that she considered the dress an unusual bargain and purchased it. At least for the time being she enjoyed the illusion that she had made a substantial saving. She still needed a street dress, however, and could have purchased one at regular price for the amount she paid for the dinner dress. Is it not important to exercise control in selection?

Price should always be considered secondary to need. Certainly it is unwise to fill valuable storage space with so-called bargains which only too often evolve into "white elephants" because they serve no purpose.

There are, indeed, real values to be found at sales conducted by reputable stores. Many thrifty women plan to make certain definite purchases at regular sales and realize a considerable saving by so doing. These women are discriminating shoppers who know well that a bargain is only a bargain if it satisfies a definite need.

STONE HOME OF LOW UPKEEP COST.

From the first temples of Egypt, to the small cottage of Normandy, man has built of stone. There is a tone of security and permanence in natural stone. It preserves indefinitely the heritage of the family home.

In this attractive Colonial home, stone is effectively combined with wood. A spacious living room, dining room, kitchen, solarium and porch comprise the main section. On the second floor is the master bedroom, almost as large as the living room below, two other bedrooms and bath.

Proper architectural design, whether for unpretentious cottage or stately mansion, enhances the beauty as well as the resale value of a structure. A design must be created to fit the lot and at the same time meet the requirements of space and family activities.

With Ilco ripstone, of which the house here illustrated is built, stone heights can be laid up in scale with the building, giving a warm, made-to-order appearance. It is particularly appropriate for Colonial structures, but is also used in many other types of architecture. Its rich range of color-tones harmonize with the surroundings of the home.

Ilco ripstone is shipped from the quarries of the Indiana Limestone Company at Bedford, Ind., in the form of sawed strips of different lengths, like lumber. Because of quantity production methods, this facing is obtainable at moderate cost. Many other designs, as well as this very popular one, may be obtained from the Architects' Service Bureau, Bedford, Ind.

ORGANIZED VETERANDOM IN AMERICA IS FAST APPROACHING ITS GREATEST AND DECISIVE TEST

Organized Veterandom in America is fast approaching its greatest, perhaps decisive test. This is no idle statement or fancy; a mounting array of unmistakable evidence furnishes proof of the fact.

Each passing day brings added confirmation of the tightening lines being drawn between veteran organizations and certain powerful, resourceful interests determined to ruthlessly weaken and eventually destroy the whole fabric and structure of veteran aid and relief so painfully and laboriously built up through the unceasing, tireless vigilance and efforts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other veteran groups in the years since the Spanish American and World War.

Already the challenge has been hurled—the initial assault has been staged. At Kansas City, and again at Detroit, we have been the spokesmen of the opposition enter our conventions and seize upon the opportunity to intimidate and order their proceedings. And at Kansas City the gauntlet of battle was courageously accepted—the Veterans of Foreign Wars refused to be dominated or swayed from their rightful course by either pressure or propaganda. And in hurling back the ominous challenge, the V. F. W. gave notice of its unshaken allegiance to the cause of the Nation's defenders and their dependents. By its fearless act it has earned the gratitude of all believers in justice and square play.

Just as the veterans have been assailed and made targets in their own convention halls, so have the dictatorial forces of selfishness, greed and might resorted to every agency and expedient to pervert and distort the veteran position and viewpoint and to mold and dominate public opinion.

From the rostrum, through the press, over the air—this insidious barrage of propaganda has been persistently conducted in preparation for the major offensive that threatens this session of Congress. And, truly what a motley, strangely assorted crew has banded together for the coming assault. An assault having for its ultimate objective the rout and demoralization of organized Veterandom! Joined now with those familiar, well known forces that have in the past consistently fought and opposed every veteran relief proposal or measure, we see new, strange faces marshaled in their bloated ranks—the American Medical Association, the Carnegie Foundation, and others that have apparently been drafted to reinforce and add a touch of deceptive camouflage and freshness to their grasping purpose. Whatever their cloak or disguise, they have masked their several and separate identities under the same common veil and combined strength in furtherance of the same selfish and nefarious intent.

And this intent is becoming increasingly obvious with each shopworn utterance and warped misleading statement that their spokesmen skillfully broadcast to the American public. As so far revealed the goal of this farcical alliance may be summarized as seeking the following objects:

1. Defeat of the widespread appeal for early payment of the adjusted compensation certificates.
2. Exaction of harsher conditions surrounding disability compensation and service pensions.
3. Insertion of "pauper" and "need" clauses in all veteran relief laws.
4. Discontinuance of government hospital construction and operation.
5. Abandonment of civil service preference (?) for veterans.

It should be apparent to all that our battle for the just and right has not yet been won. No, instead, our hard-earned gains of the past are in jeopardy and peril. Will organized veterandom ignore the call to arms and accept defeat without a struggle, or will it respond as one to the bold defiance of its mission and trust and gird for the fight that has been thrust upon it? It must respond—there can be no compromise or alternative so long as we remain true to the cause of our disabled and unfortunate comrades and the widows and orphans of those who laid down their lives in discharging man's highest obligation of citizenship to his country.

Once again must we league ourselves together and fight to preserve the just fruits of our past struggle—the call to action has been sounded—never has there been a greater or more vital need for veteran unity, solidarity and organization. Let's answer the challenge as one man, in the spirit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Family Council

There was a time when every home was run by a dictator embodied in the father, just as every nation had its power and control centered in a potentate. But it would be as difficult today for a father to assume this position in his home as it would be for Mr. Hoover to try to run the government without Congress.

Whether we like it or not children today are being encouraged to think for themselves and the wise parent will discover the best way of guiding this budding initiative.

Conferences held regularly in the home and attended by all members of the family will be found one of the best ways of placing the parent in the strategic advisory position so essential to the best accomplishments of his job as a parent. At such family conferences an opportunity is offered the child to talk over his hopes, fears and problems with an understanding group. He gets practice in seeing all sides of a question; he gains respect for other persons' opinions and he learns not to jump at conclusions about their motives. If he learns to express himself forcibly, he also learns to listen and to withhold judgment until he knows all the facts about the discussion in question. These experiences will help prepare him to live in a democracy.

John was twelve years old. He had joined a club at the Y. M. C. A. to which he went after school two afternoons a week. He was invariably late for dinner after these meetings, coming in on some occasions as late as 7:30. His parents felt there was no excuse for his tardiness and were inclined to say that if John could not be at home by 6 o'clock, he would have to give up the club. Before taking such drastic measures, however, they decided to call a family council.

The following conversation ensued:

Father: Why can't you close your club in time to get home at a respectable hour?

John: I'm secretary, Father, and I have to stay until the meeting is over.

Mother: Don't the other boys have to get home to dinner?

John: Only one does. The parents of the others don't care.

Father: What's the big idea of a club at your age, anyway? Seems to me you have enough to do. Might better be studying your lessons—your marks weren't any too high last month.

John: I know, father, but a fellow has to have a little fun and I like being secretary.

Mother: What plan would you suggest for working this thing out? You can't go on indefinitely being late to dinner, you know.

John: If I could have a little time to think I could convert the other boys to closing earlier.

Father: How much time do you need?

John: Perhaps I could do it in two weeks.

Father: Better take a month to be sure of a good trial.

Mother: Suppose you can't do it? John: Then I'll give up being secretary and come home on time.

Father: I suppose we must agree not to complain if he is late during the trial period?

Mother: Yes, I will put his dinner away where he can get it himself if he is late.

When parents by such procedure as this trust their children to be equal to the situation, the children are put upon their mettle and seldom fail to appreciate the trust and to meet the responsibility that it entails.
