Reporter Snoop Takes The Wind Out Of Big Shot No. 1's Sails

His Job Is To See All, Hear
All And Tell All About
Our Town

Big Shot No. 1 has an understudy now. His name is Reporter Snoop. He keeps out of the town hall. His job is to circulate among the people of this town of ours and hear what citizens are saying and according to Snoop they're saying plenty.

Snoop knows all, hears all, tells all. He knows all because he circulates amongst the right people at the right time. He hears all for he is a good listener. And he tells all because that is what he gets paid for.

In his business of exercising his auditory nerves Snoop has picked up the following comments: "We back your policy of berating the commissioners by subscribing for the next two years."

"I heartily approve of the open censure of the commissioners by the News."

"Your criticism of the town fathers is timely."

"I cancelled my subscription to the Times last week."

"If I can ever help you in any way, just say the word!"

"It's about time someone had the gumption to take the attitude the News is taking."

"Now we can read of more vital things than bridge parties and picnics."

"The News attitude is the Belleville attitude!"

"The News gives a nickel's worth of reading for two cents, whereas—"

"This is the best thing that ever happened in this town."

"Too bad election is two years off."

"Keep it up, the tax payers love it!"

And Reporter Snoop will be back on the job next week. Look for him. Right now Snoop is busy snooping.

Boy Scout Council Held Annual Meeting At Dinner Wednesday

Commissioned And Civil Officers Attended
Affair

The annual meeting and dinner of the Newark, Irvington and Belleville Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held Wednesday evening at the Elks' Club in Irvington. Commissioners and civil officers of the council attended. Curtis R. Burnett presided.

Scout representatives demonstrated some of their activities. Tributes to scouting were given by Mayor Kenworthy of Belleville; E. P. Lawrence of Irvington and Joseph P. Murphy, Chief Probation Officer of Newark. Officers for the ensuing year were elected.

Dr. Richard S. Hopkins was chairman of the committee on arrangements and George E. Hilsley, chairman of the committee on nominations.

Fire Damages Home Of Hospital Nurse

No One At Home When Blaze Was Discovered—
Neighbors Fearful

Fire of undetermined origin at 3 A. M. Saturday damaged the bungalow of Mrs. Dora Wille, an Essex County Isolation Hospital nurse, at 127 Carpenter street. Mrs. Wille said she had tended the fires in her home at midnight before leaving to continue caring for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Paul W. Wille of 137 Carpenter street, who is ill. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

Neighbors were alarmed until firemen, under Assistant Chief Reid, and Patrolmen Finn and Anderson search the house and established that Mrs. Wille was not there. Discovery of the blaze was made by Joseph J. Donovan of 139 Fairway avenue.

Watch Dogs

In these times of highwaymen hold up men and other kinds of robbers, a watch dog or dogs are necessary.

The taxpayer has one good watch dog in the Belleville News, with a good loud bark that is heard all over town. But there are some people who don't like his bark, so they would try to get rid of it by some pretext or other—starve it to death or chase it out of town. Bow wow!

Progress Club Had Second Installation

Resume Of 2 Years Shows
Club Has Done
Much

The Progress Club Monday evening had their second official installation meeting which began the third year of their existence.

A resume of the past two years has proven that the Progress Club has become one of the biggest and best organizations of its kind not only in Belleville, but in other nearby communities.

A very impressive installation was held in which the officers were complimented and praised for their good work in the past year. Especial praise was given Edward J. Abramson who was elected president for the third consecutive term.

The ritual of the installation ceremony was conducted by Dr. B. A. Jacobson. The doctor impressed upon the officers and members the importance of unity and coherence in the Progress Club.

The following officers were re-elected for the coming year: President, Edward J. Abramson; vice president, Henry Jacobs; treasurer, Samuel Lindenbaum; secretary, Michael Smith; sergeant at arms, Julius Becker.

The Board of Trustees are: Dr. B. A. Jacobson, chairman; Dr. Morris Rochlin, George Cherin, Morris Housman, Sidney Lawn, Abraham

K. of C. Council Makes Final Arrangements For Tonight's Party

As Is Custom A Novel
Feature Will Be Introduced

Final arrangements for the Knights of Columbus card party to be held tonight at St. Peter's Hall, were made Wednesday evening. A joint committee of Court Sancti Maria, Catholic Daughters of America and the Knights of Columbus has been working on this and judging from the names as given below, there are no novices among them, and if experience counts for anything this should be a card party with a capital C.

In accordance with their custom for the past year, the Knights will introduce a novel feature, as previous ones have proven very interesting and entertaining.

The Catholic Daughters' committee is made up of Mrs. Thomas Lukowiak, Mrs. Joseph Donnelly, Mrs. Patrick Gelsien, Mrs. George Bar-

Entertains

Mrs. Marcus Dussler Jr. of 103 Little street, entertained a group of six friends at an afternoon tea Tuesday.

The afternoon was spent playing pinocle. The following guests were present: Mrs. W. Ewald, Mrs. H. Morlock, Mrs. A. Lott, Mrs. E. Schmidt, Mrs. G. Elghordt and Mrs. A. Haluska.

Mrs. Lott made high score and Mrs. Ewald, second.

ONLY ONE OF FIVE WHO REFUSES TO CONSIDER REAL ECONOMY PLAN

Four Commissioners Leave Him Out In The Cold On Vote Taken At Last
Tuesday's Meeting

And the house was packed! So starts our resume of the gathering of the town fathers for their weekly joust at the town hall stadium. And what a joust it was. Economy came up for discussion, economy on legal advertising, which they did not know anything about it. Be that as it may.

Commissioner William D. Clark ignored the letter, he ignored the plea of Commissioner William H. Williams that the least the board could do is to look into the matter to see if a saving could be effected.

Mr. Clark voted to file the letter when it was read. That is as good as never having received it. That is what the board does with everything it wants to pigeon hole.

Mr. Williams insisted the letter, the contents of which outline how the town can save money—be laid on the table. He pointed out economy. Commissioner Frank J. Caragher fell into line. Commissioner Patrick A. Waters also favored look-

BIG PUZZLE???

Award—One Free Seat At
The Best Show In Town

The Belleville News is not in the habit of offering the public a puzzle to which the answer is too easy. However, to satisfy our contention that 28,996 out of 29,000 townfolk (barring, of course, those who may for reasons, good or bad, be prejudiced) will be correct, we are willing to offer to the remitter of the first reply one free seat at the town meeting. Address all replies to W. P. B., care of The News.

- 1—Which Commissioner is ruled by his wife? (Hint: Tests fire engines at high tide).
- 2—Which Commissioner is "for the people"? (Hint: You know the collar).
- 3—Which Commissioner grins and grins and grins (and grins)? (Hint: One El Producto and a box of candy for the wife, Sam).
- 4—Which Commissioner is a great booster of Unionism? Hint: Once in a while.
- 5—Which Commissioner is really trying to serve the people?

Hyde—Brown

Palms and white carnations formed the setting Saturday night in the South Side Presbyterian Church for the wedding of Miss Annie MacGregor-Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Brown of 131 Summit avenue, Hillside, and Edwin Daniel Hyde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hyde of 22 Beech street. The ceremony, performed at 7 o'clock by Rev. John Schott, Jr., assisted by Rev. Peter Deckenbach of Christ Episcopal Church, was followed by a reception in the home of the bride's parents, Milton Hock of Hillside played the wedding music and accompanied the bride's brother, MacGregor Brown, who sang.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Clarence W. Dickinson of Belleville, as matron of honor, and by the bridegroom's sisters, Mrs. Parker D. Everett of Belleville and Mrs. William G. Wilson of Teaneck, and Mrs. J. Winfield Hammond of Newark as bridesmaids. Parker D. Everett served as best man, the ushers being David Brown, brother of the bride; William G. Wilson of Teaneck and Clarence W. Dickinson of Belleville.

The bride wore a period gown of white satin made with court train depending from the waistline. The veil of bridal illusion was gathered to a cap of lace, and she carried her great-grandmother's prayer book, from which fell a spray of gardenias and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor and bridesmaids wore Lucille Paray frocks of gold and brown, with brown lace gloves and sandals trimmed in gold. The carried tall-man roses tied with gold maline. Mrs. Brown, mother of the bride, was in electric blue crepe trimmed with transparent velvet, with matching hat and shoes. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hyde, was gowned in wine color transparent velvet with hat and slippers to match. Each wore a corsage bouquet of tall-man roses and valley lilies.

The couple will spend their honeymoon at Lake Placid, where they will attend the winter sports. They will make their home at 2 Hallack street, Newark, on their return.

The bride attended Bellahouston Academy, Glasgow, Scotland, and is a member of Alpha Chapter, Psi Alpha Kappa Sorority. Mr. Hyde was graduated from Pratt Institute of Chemistry in 1928.

dam of Wilber street, entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Storm, Jr., and son, John 3d, of Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. John Van Ziezen and son, Walter, of Brooklyn; Frederick Riepe and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Riepe, Jr., and daughter, Edna Ann of Belleville.

"Unemployment" Was Topic For Women

New Tournament Will Be Started Monday For Bridge

A large attendance marked the Legislative Department meeting held on Monday. The guest speaker, Miss Helen Alfred of Montclair, had as her topic "Unemployment Insurance." Miss Alfred told of the several states including Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Ohio which are at the present time considering passage of these measures. Deploping present day conditions of unemployment, Miss Alfred pointed out the impossibility of the man of average income saving sufficient funds to enable him to weather an unemployment period. The speaker told of the successful operation of the unemployment insurance plan in England before the war but which through ill-advised handling had become the "dole." She said that mistakes of other countries could well be turned to the benefit of the states in their study and final adoption of a measure created to relieve the fear every man has of becoming dependent through unemployment.

On Monday afternoon a new tournament for bridge players will be started. The high scorer for the afternoon will be eligible to play in the finals. Hostesses for the card party are Mrs. Harry Abbott, Mrs. P. A. Horton, Mrs. Lloyd Nunn, Mrs. John Peacock, and Mrs. George E. Stewart, Jr. Bridge, whist and pin-ochle will be played.

Reports from departments were received during the business meeting preceding the speaker.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Mrs. Harvey Mumford, chairman, reported that distribution had been made to the Soldiers Home in Kearny of jams and jellies and to the Isolation Hospital of Belleville the toys received at the Christmas party by club members.

CIVICS

Mrs. William Entekin, chairman, reported that between seven and eight hundred toys had been sorted and tagged by members of her committee, assisted by several club members. This work was done at the request of the Belleville Firemen who had repaired the toys for distribution to needy children of Belleville.

The Civics Department is sponsoring the tree dedication to take place at the Belleville Library on February 23, at 1:30 P. M. Members are planning a large attendance at this ceremony.

DRAMA

Meeting date for the Drama Department has been changed to the third afternoon of each month instead of first Thursday as has been the custom. The one-act play contest has been extended to the latter part of March and members of the club are urged to send in original plays to the chairman, Mrs. Herbert V. Hardman.

Mrs. H. B. Vail, trustee of the Woman's Club and of the Welfare Federation, urged that members of the club attend the meeting of the Community Service Bureau of Belleville to be held at the club house, 51 Rossmore place, on Thursday evening, January 21, at 8:30. Speakers will be Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and Mrs. Lester T. Swander of the State Emergency Relief Administration. This is a public meeting and the reports and discussion are of public interest.

Sails For Germany

Marcus Dussler of 103 Little street, sailed January the seventh, to spend the winter in Germany.

Mr. Dussler a retired jeweler, is seventy years old and was born in this country. He has made three previous trips to Germany. They were in 1883, 1900 and 1927.

While in Germany, Mr. Dussler will reside at Hanau-am-Mein, a small city. He expects to be away from six months to a year.

"Yes Sirs" To Commissioners Kept This Home Owner From Subscribing To Local Papers—He Now Picks The News

37 Perry street,
Belleville, N. J.,
January 8, 1932.

Editor News:
Allow me to say that during the four years of my residence as a home owner in Belleville, the most outstanding good the Town Commissioners have done is to withdraw all advertisements from the Belleville News. It has given the people of Belleville a paper that will represent them.

You will notice that my name is not on your mailing list. Neither is it found on that of the Times simply because I could read between the lines of these two papers and know that they were "Yes Sirs" to the town commissioners.

I have been working along the lines of interesting tax payers of Belleville in a paper that would print news of interest to the tax payers.

HELPING HAND EDITOR GETS LET-TERS FROM NEEDY FOLKS IN TOWN

Editor Belleville News,
Belleville, N. J.
Dear Sir:

In times like these it does my heart good to look through your paper and see that you are sponsoring so noble an enterprise as "The Helping Hand." On many cold days and nights I have noticed local men on the streets without overcoats.
They had the appearance of men who would be glad to be wearing an outer garment but were not able to afford one. To do my bit for these unfortunate I will stop in your office shortly and leave an overcoat there for you to give to one of these fellow townspeople of ours.
Very truly yours,
A BELLEVILLITE.

Interest Increases
In Music Study Club

Regular Meeting Held At Home Of Eleanor
Bacon Peck

Interest is increasing in the Junior Music Study Club of Belleville as several members will join in the state contest of all the Federated Music Clubs of New Jersey at Atlantic City in April.

The regular meeting was held at the home of the director, Eleanor Bacon Peck, Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Peck and members discussed the music leaders used for verse composing. Janet Millan and Clara Cash were heard in piano solos, after which the hostesses, Jean
O. Tallman and Genevieve Holland catered to the appetites of growing girls.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM NUTLEY

Editor News:
May I tell you how very much I appreciate your newspaper.

I am a subscriber to both Nutley and Belleville News and fully realize the importance of reading real news
—news that is fair and loyal to those who read it as well as those who do not.

I have never permitted my children to read those papers or magazines that one cannot be afraid to call the paper.

ANOTHER NUTLEY LEADER.

Why Don't They Give It All The Ads For A Change

And Give "News" A Chance

Writers Say

January 12, 1932.

Editor News:
We have finished reading your last two issues of the News and could hardly believe our eyes. Such rank injustice doesn't seem possible. From Kenworthy, of course, nobody would expect anything different, but we were surprised at the other two after the way you had supported them and put them in to have them turn on you like that.

If the paper, in their opinion isn't as good as the "Times," why don't they give it a chance? Try giving their own home town product ALL the legal and all matter pertaining to the town. Evidently they want to kill the News for some reason or other. Why are they so in "love" with the Times? What is it to them that they should look after the welfare of a Nutley concern at the expense of their own? Hasn't the Times dragged enough money out of Belleville for twenty odd years. They say you haven't paid your personal tax.

If they would keep all their printing at home where it belongs, instead of a measly half and that for only a year or two there would be no trouble about their getting ALL their tax. But we fail to see how putting the legal out of town is going to be any help in getting that tax or make their own paper any better either.

We will say one thing though—you panned them good and plenty.
We read every last word. Williams gave them a good one when he suggested the "Newark Evening News"
if they were looking for circulation.
The people of Belleville just ought to cancel their subscriptions to the Nutley paper and refuse to advertise in it for anything.

"There's another election coming in a year or two and maybe Belleville people will elect Belleville commissioners who have the Belleville taxpayers' interest at heart and not Nutley."

"KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK AND LET TAXPAYERS KNOW WHAT'S GOING ON" A FRIEND SAYS

Belleville, N. J.

Editor News:
I am taking this opportunity to congratulate you in regard to your paper. I was very much pleased when I read it for the past two weeks about what was going on in the Town Hall of Belleville. It is too bad we didn't have this trouble a couple of years ago, so we could have seen what was going on at the Town Hall.

Now that you have started it, I hope you will dig up every department and find out things that the taxpayers should know, and also find out why the principal on the Bonds has not been paid, and what the money has been used for. Now that the taxpayers have to pay 6 per cent on bonds, they should know where the money is going. Let's see if we can figure out why the Bonds have not been paid. It must be for such things as came up a few weeks ago about a playground at a cost of $110,000 while the rate of 6 per cent is being charged.

It would be a much better plan for our town at this time to stop buying anything for the next two years and see if we cannot get some of the principal paid off on some of those bonds.

Keep up your good work and let the taxpayers of the town know what is going on in the town hall, and you surely will have the fullest cooperation of all taxpayers in this town.

"AVERAGE CITIZEN" ANSWERS LETTER
WRITTEN BY "PRO BONO PUBLICO"

Newark, N. J.

January 14, 1932.

Editor News:
Will you kindly give me space to answer the recent letter of Pro Bono Publico, whose views seem strangely like those of the member of the late Zoning Committee who made it impossible for that committee to file a unanimous report?

It is idle for your correspondent to say that the Park to be constructed along the west bank of the Passaic River from Newark to Passaic will be one of the most attractive in the eastern part of the United States, and that its "influence will entirely change the character of the adjacent land." This Park will at no point in Belleville be wider than a few hundred feet and at some points it will be less than fifty feet wide. An unbiased observer will admit that the influence of such a narrow strip upon adjoining property must be negligible.

It is true, as stated by your correspondent, that the principle behind zoning subordinates the interest of the individual to the interest of the

Add Sound Pictures To Put Across Idea Of Visual Education

School No. 9 Again Leads The Way For Other Institutions

By WILLIAM GRAY

School No. 9 again led the way for other local educational institutions yesterday, when it inaugurated the use of sound and talking pictures as the latest stride toward visual education for students.

The pictures were obtained through the courtesy of the United States Navy Recruiting Service, in Passaic.

Chief Machinist Robert Grigollet, of the recruiting service, was in charge of the apparatus. The pictures were of great educational value to the pupils and are in great demand for use in educational and civic institutions.

The performance consisted of four reels, each dealing with a separate phase of naval life. They were: "Building Blue Jackets," which portrayed the early training of the "gob," "Anchors Aweigh," gave a general view of the sailors' preparation and training for battle and the methods used to protect our country from invading forces; "On Many Shores," was a comedy, visualizing a "gob" and his pet dog, on a trip around the world. The final picture dealt with the religious side of Navy life. It centered around Jerusalem and the Holy Land. The picture was entitled "Paths in Palestine."

Thomas Grysczyk, principal of School No. 9, was well impressed by the demonstration. He decided to repeat the performance during the afternoon session, to give the pupils' parents an opportunity to attend. There were five adults present at the morning performance.

The valley institution has a tendency for leadership in local educational circles. Several months ago it was one of the first schools to purchase a moving picture machine. More recently, School No. 9 issued the first "grammar school newspaper" in town.

Mr. Grysczyk deserves much credit for his work in this new field of education and we heartily urge him to continue his fine work.

Lions Club Presents Patriotic Documents To Local Schools

Framed copies of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Definition of Americanism were presented to schools yesterday at assembly by the Lions Club.

Dr. D. E. Kavanaugh, chairman of the Americanization committee, accompanied by Dr. M. Morris Rochlin, made the high school presentation. The following made other presentations: W. Brand Smith, School No. 1; Thomas Delaney, No. 2; Mayor S. S. Kenworthy, No. 4; Harry Grover, No. 5; Henry Charrier, No. 7; Raymond A. Smith, No. 8; Charles Klausman, No. 9; George VonArx, No. 10; Louis F. Noll, St. Peter's; Abram Atkins, Hebrew School.

A group of parents and teachers from School No. 9 will meet this afternoon with Mrs. Harry F. Brumbach of 100 Little street to discuss organization of a Home and School Association.

AN OPEN LETTER TO COMM. WILLIAMS

Commissioner William H. Williams,
Dear Sir:

May we ask you in an open letter if you will tell the taxpayers whether any poor department bills which you were checking up were paid over your head and the circumstances surrounding same, if such bills were paid?

We would like to know whether you questioned any such bills, and asked that they be held up? We would ask, if such is the case, who authorized the payment and minute details that lead to your question. We would further like to know whom, if anyone, you instructed to hold in abeyance any check that might be prepared.

Sincerely,

THE PUBLISHERS.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

All the Girl Scouts are talking of the rally only. This will be held at the high school on Saturday evening in the gym. The annual Court of Awards will be held in the early part of the evening, to be followed by a program. Mayor S. S. Kenworthy and Wayne R. Farmer, will be the speakers.

Different episodes from the life of George Washington will be presented by the Girl Scouts. All parents and friends of the Girl Scouts are cordially invited.

Troop No. 1 met at headquarters on Monday evening. Following their regular business meeting they presented two very amusing skits, "A Speaking Contest" at a Country School, "Broadcasting—Radio Celebrities." The Senior Troop waiting their meeting proved a very interested audience.

This Troop had a large attendance and started to study dramatics. Parts were assigned. They closed the evening after enjoying some interesting games.

Troop No. 3 at Wesley Methodist Church, held their meeting under the direction of Miss Beatrice Vogel, in the absence of their captain, Miss May Holden. Parts were assigned for the Rally as this troop have had their plans changed. They held a "wonderful tug-of-war after close of business meeting and Patrol No. 2 won.

At the last meeting of Troop No. 8, on Tuesday of this week, all final preparations for the rally were made. Mary Hanrahan passed her Tenderfoot test. The first aid class, under instruction of Edna Baun, and the signalling class, under Nora Spillane, were both finished.

Troop No. 10 held its regular meeting on Thursday and spent the time mostly preparing for the rally. Several games were enjoyed. Miss Ruth Mutch, one of the teachers at No. 10 School, is helping this Troop in their rehearsals.

Indian Orator Comes To Grace Church Scheduled To Appear Here On Sunday Evening, January 31

Soho Improvement Assn. Discusses Work

Residents Favor Proposition With Aid Of State

Widening and paving of Harrison street, will be discussed at a meeting of the Soho Improvement Association tonight. John Lanza, secretary and treasurer, said residents of the section favor the improvement, which will be done with state aid. James Rowbottom, Sr., will preside. There will be refreshments.

Travelers' Aid Meeting

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Travelers' Aid Society of Newark will be held at the Robert Treat Hotel, Monday, January 18, at 1 P. M. This is the annual election of officers.

The Woman's Club of Belleville is a member of this organization. Mrs. Richard L. Ridgway of Little street is individually a member and expects to attend.

Meeting Monday

Next week's meeting of the Board of Commissioners has been advanced from Tuesday night to 5 P. M. Monday.

The change was made to permit local Democrats to attend the inauguration of Governor-elect A. Harry Moore in Trenton.

Superintendent Says He Has No Regard For Flogging Idea

"Don't Be Afraid To Be A Friend Of Your Offspring"

The "rules of the hickory stick" has no exponent in Supervising Principal Wayne R. Farmer. Speaking before the Home and School Association of School No. 1 Tuesday afternoon, he said:

"If your control depends upon flogging, it is lost when the day for that has passed; control can come only from within. Encourage your children's confidence and give consideration to their expression of opinion. Meet them on their own plane where possible and let a sympathetic interest guide control.

"Don't be afraid to be a friend to your offspring. They'll find some one outside if you fail and it will make a gap."

The talk was incidental to an explanation of the new report cards on which ratings are given in letters instead of figures, and pupils' ability and conduct are recorded.

Principal Robert Hayes urged parents to attend assembly Wednesday mornings at 9 and Thursdays at 10:25.

Teachers are planning a Washington bicentennial observance which will incorporate local colonial lore, the principal announced.

The association adopted a constitution and by-laws, presented by Miss Eleanor Hageman, a teacher. It was decided to hold afternoon and night meetings alternately. The next meeting will be February 9.

The Dramatic Club, under direction of Miss Malvina Jacobs, gave a sketch, "When Leap Year Gives Her Twenty-nine." Principal parts were taken by Martin Cherin, Josephine Aiello and Doris Barmore. Mrs. George Holden, presided.

The Social Glimpse

By MORRIS UDANSKY

Everything must have variety, even social notes in newspapers. With that idea in view I will endeavor to write this column weekly and point out the more important social events in Belleville.

I hear that Mrs. Elizabeth Keller of Wilkesbarre, Pa., is staying with Mrs. Emma Oerkvitz of Greylock parkway. Mrs. Keller will be in town for a month and we are sure that her stay will be very enjoyable.

Mrs. Ernest Hodgson of Essex street, entertained at a luncheon and bridge yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Hodgson had as guests Mrs. Albert Borman, Mrs. Griffith Cadler, Mrs. Robert Ball, Mrs. William Hunt, Mrs. Frank Giraud, Mrs. Lathrop Van Orden and Mrs. William Robinson. Last Thursday, Mrs. Van Orden and Mrs. Borman won awards for high score.

The girls of the Studio Art Club inform me that they are to have a dance at the Recreation House tomorrow night. The dance is under the supervision of the Misses Margaret Mason, Emma Hood, Madeline Piller and Catherine Byrnes.

Prying about a bit more I discovered that the Belleville Junior League are going to hold a charity bridge at the synagogue Monday night.

I ran into A. P. Hogel of 267 Greylock parkway the other day and was surprised to meet him for he was supposed to be in Florida. But upon inquiring it was found that he will be home for a few days on business.

The amusement committee of Clan Stewart, No. 273, O. S. C., are to tender a progressive card party in the Elks' Hall, February 17.

At a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Congregation A. A. Tuesday evening, Dr. B. A. Jacobson spoke on superstition pertaining to children's teeth. The popular dentist also spoke on folk lore superstition. This meeting marked the advent of the organization's new policy of having a guest speaker at every gathering.

Unemployment Meeting

A meeting of the Unemployment Association will be held Friday evening, January 15 in the assembly room of the town hall, at 8 o'clock.

Any person or organization who wish to attend is cordially invited to do so.

DEMOCRATS ALL SET FOR BIG TIME AT INAUGURATION NEXT TUESDAY

Town Clerk John J. Daly, Chairman Of The Local Democratic Committee, Has Made Full Arrangements

Arrangements have been made by John J. Daly, Chairman of the local Democratic Committee to have the largest number of Democrats ever making the trip, go to Trenton on Tuesday for the inauguration of Governor A. Harry Moore.

Special trains will run from the Central R. R. Station in Newark and Mr. Daly has arranged for special trolley cars to transport the party to Newark.

The Belleville delegation will parade in Trenton as a unit and Chairman Daly is anxious to have a large representation as every municipality in Essex County will be in line.

Tickets may be obtained at the office of the Town Clerk and from members of the County Committee. The meeting of the Board of Commissioners will be held Monday to enable the Democratic members to attend.

W. H. Williams Named With Fred L. Wagner As Bank Directors

Will Take Places At The People's National Bank

Belleville banks held annual meetings Tuesday to elect officers. All directors and officers of the First National Bank were re-elected to the board of the People's National Bank and Trust Company.

Commissioner William W. Williams and Fred L. Wagner are to fill vacancies on the board of directors of the Peoples Bank.

Mr. Wagner is also the cashier of the Peoples Bank. Other directors re-elected are N. H. Berger, James T. Boylan, R. H. Deetjen, Frank J. Donlon, E. E. Mathes, Russel K. Rose, M. D. Rossman, F. A. Ruff, Russell Sandford, D. S. Tillou and Edward H. Verg. James T. Boylan was re-elected chairman of the board and Mr. Berger was re-elected president.

Other officers re-elected are: Mr. Yerg and Mr. Rose, vice presidents; Mr. Wagner, cashier; and Edward Bridgens, assistant cashier.

The re-elected members of the board of directors of the First National Bank are Dr. John F. Condon, Verner W. Forgie, Joseph Igoo, Peter Igoo, Joseph King, Henry Kirchner, Otto S. Martin, Daniel Mellis, Walter A. Peterson, Edmund A. Runz, Theodore Sandford and W. W. Stewart.

The officers who were re-elected are: Peter Igoo, president; Dr. Condon and Mr. Rung, vice presidents; John P. Dailey, cashier; Herman M. Miller and Francis J. McFadden, assistant cashiers; and Arthur T. Vanderhill, counsel.

Mrs. Ueilma M. Brodhead

Mrs. Ueilma M. Brodhead died at her late home, 111 Floyd street, Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Brodhead was born in Belleville and resided here until 1900, when she moved to Jersey City. She returned to Belleville in 1919 where she resided until the time of her death.

She is survived by her husband, Churchill, and four daughters, Ruth, Grace, Arlene and Clara Maie.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the funeral home of Meayer and Lundquist, 100 Valley road, Montclair. The Rev. Edgar M. Compton of Wesley Methodist Church, will officiate.

Fewsmith Men's Club Bowling Tounney Stirs Up Excitement

Smith, High Average, Says He Will Maintain Lead

The teams bowling in the Men's Club Tournament are in the midst of a hectic contest. Standing of the teams at the half way mark prove the ability of the captains to lead their teams to victory. High average member, Smith, has bowled his lead off thus far and claims he will not be dethroned from his lofty perch. Davis is only 118 pins behind but he has a "family to take care of tonight," which may effect his bowling.

Adler, another of the spectacular participants, has the high score game of 244. "Try to beat that" is his statement.

Mr. Proffett, chairman of the committee, was complimented at the recent Men's Club meeting for the capable management of this activity.

Regular Republicans Oppose Amalgamation

Conference Is Planned With Republican Club, However

The affiliation of the Republican Club with the Essex Suburban Republican Union was cited as the stumbling block in town at a meeting Wednesday night at the Elks' Home of the Regular Republican Organization, Inc. The latter organization went on record as opposing amalgamation of activities with the Republican Club so long as the club retains the affiliation.

With this understanding a committee was appointed, however, to confer with a committee from the club and report next meeting. The Republican Club had written a letter proposing restoration of harmony.

The two organizations represent the result of the split that occurred at the primaries last year when Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, who proved strong with the Republican Club, allied his faction with the Arthur T. Vanderbilt forces opposing Jesse R. Salmon, whom Thomas Berry and Commissioner William H. Williams, now of the Regular Republican group, were backing.

The Regular Organization irrespective of restoring local harmony, planned a membership drive to quadruple the 100 now enrolled. Lawrence Keenan, William Outgait and Willard Wharton were appointed a committee for the purpose. An occasion of "unique entertainment dancing" is scheduled to be at the Elks' Home in a month's time.

Mr. Berry, assigned Republican leader of the town, presided. Seventy-five attended.

The "Nutley" Times says that what we print is "drivel." It may be drivel to some but to us and readers who find it difficult to buy our paper on news stands because of the sell out it must be "darn" good reading.

The taxpayers want an unshackled paper and we are going to give it to them. In today's paper there is an editorial on the "House that Jack built" you'll Jack, you know, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer. Maybe somebody can find some drivel in that editorial.

HUPP PRESENTS BEAUTY, DESIGN INNOVATIONS IN 1932

New Age Appearance And Exclusive Mechanical Innovations Are Important Features

Hupmobile, entering 1932 with two six cylinder cars and five eights ranging upward from $795 in price, makes its bid for popularity through radical new design, striking appearance and mechanical innovations.

In appearance the new six and eight cylinder cars are outstanding, and the Series 216, 222 and 226 are entirely divorced from conventional design and construction. They are fundamentally new, and were planned, designed and executed without reference to any existing standard other than Hupmobile's own conception of quality. Their chief interest, however, lies not alone in outward appearance and interior fittings—for innovation follows innovation in mechanical design and construction.

Hupmobile presents in its new cars a varied treatment of the present flier for V radiators. The common rounding and sloping radiator shell has been replaced by a striking perpendicular radiator which gives the appearance of massiveness. Inbuilt grilles feature the front end which flows easily and gracefully into unusual body lines. A new type of double bar bumpers of distinctive design is a feature, while a distinctively original chromium radiator ornament in the eights offers a new note with a circle in which is mounted a barb to form the cross bar of the letter H.

The sloping front corner posts as well as the rear hood lines which corresponds in angularity, are appearance factors which are enhanced by the wide front doors opening at the forward edge. The belt molding on all cars adds to car length, while unusual lowness is achieved through new construction which gives a total overall height, (to the Sedan), of five feet six inches from the street with normal load. Despite its lowness, headroom has not been sacrificed. Contributing to this modern styling are the new form-fitting fenders, safety steel runningboards and new sheet metal tailoring.

Neither front or rear fenders make contact with the runningboard thus eliminating rattles and providing double water drainage at the front and rear which prevents rust accumulation. Both fenders are attached to the runningboards by bolts which pass through heavy rubber insulating blocks. All fenders have a new feature exclusive with Hupmobile. The edges are turned under, eliminating the necessity of the old style wire-reinforced edge, yet providing greater strength.

The front and rear sheet metal spring covers all unsightly yet necessary projecting parts. Only the bumper itself and the fuel tank filler cap project at the rear. In front the metal covers the spring horns, and is brought forward at the bottom between the springs and turned under at the edge to conform to the fender design.

The safety steel runningboards are corrugated for stiffness and greater strength, and are covered with anti-skid material. They are heavily braced, the stay arms being attached directly to the car frame. They are broad and curve smartly inward at the front.

The hood is long, with the radiator filler cap placed under the left side. Its usual place is taken by a smart appearing chromium radiator ornament. Conventional hood louvers are replaced by hood doors on the Series 226.

In the new eight cylinder Series 222 and 226 Hupmobile introduces an entirely new sport body model—the Cabriolet Roadster. In this model, capturing distinctly new lines, the top collapses to disappear within a specially constructed compartment at the back of the seat. Windows may be raised regardless of top position, while the windshield folds flat to the hood to provide an air of sophisticated speed. The long hood and smartly contoured rear deck further carry out this suggestion of fleet performance. There is room for two additional passengers in the rumble seat.

Many Salient Points.

Among the salient features of the new Hupmobile series are included daring new design and appearance, Hupmobile's own quadruply braced X-frame, specially engineered safety features, Hupmobile's newly patented Chassis Torsional Stabilizer, seven point rubber engine mounting including rubber mounted transmission new types of seat cushions and spring construction, vibrationless performance, longer wheelbases, new performance standard, safety steel runningboards, snug-fitting fenders, new type of recessed instrument panels showing Hupmobile's interpretation of the aero idea of visible dials and large, luminous figures.

With so many outstanding features incorporated in a single car, Hupmobile believes that its appearance and mechanical innovations for 1932 bid fair to establish a new trend in these directions. In years past Hupmobile has contributed many developments of major importance which have been quickly adopted. For example:

In 1929 Hupmobile's new design surprised the automotive world. Scores of imitators had followed the introduction of the original Century cars in 1927 whose design formed the basis for subsequent design and appearance changes for the majority of manufacturers in this country. In 1930 Hupmobile pioneered great horsepower, another feature that has become universal practice in this country. The 1931 Hupmobiles introduced an original modernistic style treatment, together with Free Wheeling and new comfort features, again establishing a precedent—this time in motor car value. Hupmobile believes that its structural developments and new dress will again set another precedent in design and construction in 1932.

Introduces Torsional Stabilizer. Of particular importance mechanically is Hupmobile's newly patented Chassis Torsional Stabilizer. This innovation eliminates shimmy, road weave and general instability at high speeds, providing unusual driving comfort.

Structural engineers regard the triangular brace as the strongest bracing known. It is used in bridge construction, skyscrapers, ship building—in fact, in every structural undertaking where great strength and durability is paramount.

Recognizing this principle, Hupmobile adapted it to the Chassis Torsional Stabilizer. The Stabilizer is formed by a series of connected Vees, made of steel tubes and angle iron bracing. In both cowl side panels inverted V-ee bracing picks up the rear edge of the cowl. The lower ends of these braces are attached to the frame by body bolts. The upper ends extend along the toe boards to the dash and form a special steel bracing over the engine. Steel tubing bolted to the dash, extends forward over the engine to meet above the fore part of the bloc. From this apex a steel rod braces the top of the radiator. From the same point, extending downward and forward, are two other tubes which form an additional triangle. The ends of these triangles are anchored to the chassis' side rails at either end of the front cross member of the frame.

The result of this multiple-triangular construction is to free the front end of the car from shimmy and road weave. Combined with Hupmobile's X-frame on the new Eights and the greatly strengthened top construction, the Torsional Stabilizer creates an improved ride and greater comfort for passengers and driver. It actually serves as a means of coordinating or tying together the body and chassis. Particularly is this improvement noted on very rough roads or at high car speeds.

New X-Type Frame

All 1932 Hupmobile Eights boast a new type X-frame in which the binding plates are perfectly flat to provide greater strength and rigidity.

This heavy X-frame member, the legs of which are of equal length, is bolted to the chassis side rails through doubly extended feet, thus distributing its strength-giving qualities throughout the frame. Like all modern structures which require a substantial base or foundation, this X cross member serves as a foundation for a rigid frame. Its quadruple bracing makes the frame so stiff that, lifted by either corner, it will show no distortion. Through this development and other structural innovations comes Hupmobile's smooth ride and easy control. Further vibrationless performance is assured through mounting the rear end of the transmission on a cross brace, extending between the two forward legs of the X member. Live rubber blocks for quietness and smoothness are used at this point. All frames are of the double drop type and heavily reinforced at these points. All cross members are well gusseted for greater strength and rigidity.

Push-Pull Free Wheeling Standard. Push-Pull Free Wheeling is standard equipment on the Series 216, 222 and 226 Hupmobiles. It is so termed because of its Push-Pull dash control which is easily operated. A center push button positively locks the control so that it cannot slip from either conventional or free wheeling position. The former position is obtained by pulling the control out from the dash.

The Free Wheeling unit, similar in operation to the former type pioneered by Hupmobile, is mounted at the rear of the transmission.

A feature of this unit is the automatic throw-out and re-engagement when reversing the car while in Free Wheeling. Conventional gears are immediately engaged when the shift lever is moved into reverse, because free wheeling is inoperative in this direction. But Free Wheeling is automatically re-engaged when starting forward if still in free wheeling. This safety precaution was developed to eliminate gear clashing. Free Wheeling in the new Series 216, 222 and 226 is operative in all forward speeds further minimizing clutch operation.

Performance Is Improved. The performance range of the new 1932 series has been increased to provide greater flexibility, getaway and smoother operation. In the Series 216 the piston displacement is 228.1 cubic inches. This six cylinder engine develops 75 horsepower at 3200 revolutions per minute. The bore and stroke are 3 3/8 inches and 4 5/8 inches respectively. In the eight cylinder engines the piston displacement of the Series 222 and 226 respectively is 250.7 and 279.9 cubic inches. These two models develop 93 and 103 horsepower respectively. The bore and stroke of the Series 222 is 2 15/16 and 4 5/8 inches, and of the larger Eight 3 1/16 and 4 3/4 inches.

All eight cylinder engines have an advanced type of oil temperature regulator which cools the oil in summer and warms it at low temperatures. The new Series 216 Six has down draft carburetion. All models utilize carburetor silencers and an oil pump which provides oil under pressure to all main and connecting rod bearings, valve assemblies and other bearing surfaces. All eight cylinder engines have 100 per cent. oil filtration and employ Hupmobile's own developed aero-type valve rocker arms. The new Series 216 uses a four bearing crankshaft, while the two eights have five.

Extensive Use of Rubber. Hupmobile makes extensive use of rubber in 1932 in engine mounting and insulation to subdue noises and reduce vibration.

The rear engine mounting of the eights is unique. This exclusive support of the banjo type has a strong, curved flange built in over the clutch housing as a frame cross member. A similarly shaped rear engine is bolted to this flange at four points through specially constructed rubber insulation pads. Thus there is no metal-to-metal contact between the engine and the frame because the front end of the engine is also mounted in live rubber blocks. Engine noises are thus prevented from reaching the car interior and motor vibrations are reduced to a minimum, the rear support giving, in effect floating torque.

Not only does the special rear mounting of the eights feature rubber insulation, but the rear of the transmission is rubber mounted on a transverse support attached at either end to the forward legs of the frame X-member. This is a new construction in this country which materially assists in stabilizing the line of drive.

Another use for rubber is found in the water-proof distributor cap on the eights and the flexible rubber cap at the base of the gear shift lever which prevents grease from reaching the front compartment.

Improved Riding Qualities

In conjunction with Hupmobile's new X frame and the Torsional Stabilizer, the riding qualities of the new models have been greatly improved. Much of this increase in riding comfort is due to the newly patterned bodies which embody advanced construction principles to the reduction of unsprung weight, and to the elimination through other features. Other developments adding to riding comfort include increased wheelbase, longer springs, new rubber silent-bloc spring shackles, and thermatically controlled shock absorbers of greater capacity.

Hupmobile continues in 1932 its composite bodies. However, the structural framework of these bodies has been materially increased in strength and rigidity through new developments. Boxed steel construction is a feature.

What Makes Your Tires Wear Out?

Pavement Types And Air Pressure Have Much To Do With Tire Mileage

BY E. E. DUFFY

Theoretically, the average tire should travel fifty or sixty thousand miles before it is thrown into the discard, but actually it doesn't travel nearly that far.

There are too many adverse factors. Take the matter of air pressure. Many motorists pride themselves on their maintenance of the proper pressure. But how many motorists know they can start out on a hot day with the exact poundage required and because of higher air and pavement temperatures by noon have 5 to 15 pounds too much?

This was forcibly brought to light recently by engineers of the Portland Cement Association in carefully conducted tire wear tests in a western state. To make the tests equitable it was of course necessary to keep the tires at a pressure as constant as possible. The engineers found it necessary to test the pressure every hour or two. During a typical morning's run 8 to 10 pounds of air had to be let out of the tires in order to maintain the established 40-pound pressure. During the afternoon when the air temperature and pavement temperature became lower it was necessary to add air to keep up the desired pressure.

The Portland Cement Association engineers conclude that motorists making long trips will find it economy to frequently check air pressure. Too little pressure breaks down the side walls of the casing while too much pressure reduces the tire area placed in contact with the pavement and bumpy riding and greater tire wear result.

Rough pavement surfaces also have much to do with the early demise of tires, the engineers found. Through a thorough and accurate method of testing tire wear by losses in weight and actual tread depth measurements it was determined, for example, that the rate of wear is 81 per cent. greater in traveling over non-skid asphaltic pavement than it is on concrete. The tests were made under comparable conditions.

To illustrate what this means to the motorists, consider the travel distance a careful motorist may obtain over concrete, the pavement least abusive to tires. Tires that will give good service for 25,000 miles of travel on concrete will carry a car only 14,000 miles on non-skid asphalt. Four sets of tires on concrete will carry a car as far as seven sets on non-skid asphalt.

The front pillar posts provides an increased "body grab" which brings the body front attachment far forward of that in conventional cars, stiffening the entire body framework and reducing vibration and twist. Front doors are wider than usual with a sloping front edge that provides unimpeded entrance or exit. Rear doors are also wide. The steel body framework has been extended under the rear compartment floorboards and seat pan, providing greater strength and rigidity.

All pillar and door posts boast a heavily reinforced boxed steel construction which is formed by two sections telescoping one within the other. This feature is recognized as the best body construction. The sheet metal in the front of the top is extended farther back than normally, and the heavier and stronger cross members of the top are bolted, through special steel feet, to the side rail channels, instead of being held fast by glue and wood screws. This is a far superior construction.

The slanting windshield swings forward and upward, and seats in a specially designed rubber protection strip which eliminates water leakage. A new type safety control is easily operated. One automatic windshield wiper is standard on the Six 216 and two on the Series' 222 and 226.

The rear panel of all Hupmobile bodies is a single unit. Body panels are electrically welded by a special process giving an unusually strong joint. All bodies are completely insulated against outside noise, heat and cold.

The dash on the new models offer another interesting feature. All wiring and control cables are grouped in two sets and pass through two corresponding apertures in the dash. These entrances are snugly fitted with anti-draft pads, preventing noise and air drafts from entering the front compartment. This method also improves the appearance under the hood and lessens service difficulties. Mohair or broadcloth upholstery is available at no extra cost on all closed cars.

Reduced Unsprung Weight. In connection with the new bodies and other riding improvements, Hupmobile has improved the ride of the new models by reducing unsprung weight—that portion of the car hanging below the springs.

The new smaller wheels are used on all 1932 cars. They are lighter and thus contribute to reduced unsprung weight. On the two eight cylinder cars—the Series' 222 and 226—tubular front axles, lighter in weight but stronger than the conventional I beam front axle, are used. The front springs on these two models are also underslung and lengthened.

The new eights feature increased braking power. Hupmobile pioneered the Hupmobile Midland Steeldraulic brakes, and these brakes are continued on the new cars. However, the drum size on the eights has been greatly increased so that it practically covers the entire area within the felloe. A softer yet more powerful pedal pressure is thus provided—an advantage that will be particularly appreciated by women drivers.

Forty New Models. There are 26 body types in Hupmobile's 1932 line. Among these are included the popular Series 214, 218, 221, 225 and 237 which have been on the market for several months.

Standard equipment on all new six 216 and eight cylinder 222 and 226 includes five wire or demountable painted wood wheels with spare mounted in right front fender well. There are no spare mounted wheels in the rear of these series cars. Automatically controlled, thermostatically compensated shock absorbers are standard on all new models which require no driver attention for road or temperature changes.

FEED FEATHERED FOLK

Our feathered friends, unlike their human neighbors, are unable to replenish the family larder by a visit to the local store on Saturday afternoons. The hardened ground and occasional snow keep many bird families on half-rations. We quote Dr. T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies, in part:

"Cold alone seldom kills birds, but failure to find food does. Given plenty of food, our bird friends can weather many a winter's storm. However, seldom a season passes that, at some period the birds are not put to it to secure food. Picture a winter scene with a foot or more of snow on the ground, and the trees entirely sheeted with ice, the food supply all covered up, and a bitter wind driving out of the North. It is at such times that our bird friends are confronted with slow starvation and death."

Your bread crusts will provide a sumptuous repast for some flock of these fellows who spend their winter with us. Suet, if tied to a trellis or the limb of a tree, so that some wary cat may not use it as bait for his prey, is also most acceptable.

By the simple process of scattering some grain, or bread crumbs, a sheltered spot near the house, one may have on display one of nature's shows otherwise seldom seen. The Chickadee, the white-breasted Nuthatch, Downy Woodpecker, Junco, Song-Sparrow and Tree-Sparrow; each will come, and bring his friends, to provide for you a spectacle which will well repay your generosity.

First Dinner Meeting

Noel Sargeant Of National Association Will Speak

Noel Sargeant, manager of the industrial relations department of the National Association of Manufacturers, will be the speaker at the first dinner meeting of the Manufacturers' Association which will be held in the Yountakah Country Club, Nutley, on Monday night at 7 o'clock. William J. Sweeney of the Sweeney Lithograph Co. will officiate as toastmaster. Martin F. Tiernan, president of the association will preside.

The members of the Board of Commissioners have been invited to attend the dinner as guests of the manufacturers.

NO NEED TO BE MISUNDERSTOOD

TAMMANY Hall has achieved its peculiar species of success largely by one means, i. e., acts of so called charity to those in alleged or true need. This is also true of other political machines, not so far distant. Suffice it to say that this system insures many votes.

In this fashion do these gentlemen gather about themselves an assortment of social and political parasites, upon each one of which they may depend for at least one vote. Nor does this effort go unrewarded.

In view of the above, it would seem that a man in high public place might feel that his intentions would be misunderstood were he to take a prominent part in the manipulation of charities, such as unemployment relief. If he should entertain such a feeling, an appeal to some public spirited citizens might remove the worry.

Clark Votes "No"

ing into the matter and Mr. Clark? He voted "NO."

Mayor Kenworthy who is always at the tail end of the voting list decided to look into things a little bit, too. But by the time he cast his vote three already had decided to consider it. The Mayor either had to be in the minority or go along.

We don't know exactly what happened to the signals, but when the bell rang for the end of the round Clark was left out in the cold, hanging limp in his stand against economy.

So we wait for the cruel verdict to tell our readers all about it next week. We anxiously await action on this economy.

Almost

Oh, yes, we almost forgot. Our readers will never know how near the News letter came going into the waste basket. It almost went into oblivion before the evening meeting.

Another Belleville sheet had a letter in too. There wasn't much time between spasms—that is the afternoon conference and the evening fricas—so compose a letter but the half-plut sheet, the Mayor's month-piece got one in.

They Dropped

The letter did not do much except to point out that from now on the legal rate in that paper will be eleven lines per inch which nets on first insertion $1.32 per inch against $1.56 paid previously to that paper by our generous town fathers. Of course the reduction came after the News showed up the narrow width Times columns and Former Commissioner Edward Nelson told the board it would be misappropriating money to go ahead as before.

"Didn't even reach first base."

Thus spoke a reporter when our offer was read at the conference.

"Well," surmises we, "it is only the start."

One out. Every outfit is entitled to three outs before they relinquish the stick.

But the reporter had the right idea. Our genial friend Town Clerk John J. Daly, read our letter, last but not least.

The Mayor, whose name is Samuel S. Kenworthy, piped up "is that all?" and quickly shuffled his way out via a back door when informed by the clerk that "das ist alles."

And so we—the rest of the common people—went home to supper to return in the evening to hear Mr. Clark vote "no" on economy and W. H. Davey take a whack at the board as regards chopping off some dead wood or what have you.

Mr. Davey got under way early and it was good he did because some other good citizens of this little town had a pocket full of material to toss out to the commissioners.

Former Commissioner Edward Nelson didn't address anybody but Mr. Samuel S. Kenworthy when he took a "pôt shot" at the unemployment situation. We—that is the common people again—were looking for some fireworks but the Mayor didn't say much (it may have been because some sharp pencils were working overtime) that he kept right on smiling as Daniel Spillane, chairman of the unemployed spoke up in behalf of that organization.

But before we can outline Mr. Spillane's talk we must type what Mr. Nelson said. When Mr. Nelson talks he says something and here it is:

"It seems to me the unemployed which you handle, especially those I have seen sitting around are not at all men who require a day's wages. Is it not possible to reduce or cut out the overhead of the unemployed? Is there no citizen who would give his time to help out?

"By sitting here and waiting for work these men do not look elsewhere. Their morale is being ruined. That is absolutely wrong."

It is not necessary to have so many supervisors. I have found in some cases unemployed who do not care much to work. Two I know of were sent to do some moving up and down stairs. They didn't like that work and quit. There are a number who do need work and apparently can't get any city employment. Why is that? Anything political should be cut out and dropped like a hot potato. You can't bankrupt the taxpayers to support unemployed.

Mr. Spillane said that if Mr. Nelson knew of cases he would like to know them. He said the Mayor is handling the job as well as anybody. He said Belleville firms employ out of town men and it is difficult to get jobs here.

"I don't know the gentleman's name," replied Mr. Nelson turning to Mr. Spillane, "but as far as your doubting my veracity is concerned I'll leave that to your ignorance. If I can be of any assistance I'll be glad to give it. As chairman of the committee 'Why is it we have these conditions in town?'"

"I've told you," said Mr. Spillane. "That's all I want to know," rejoined Mr. Nelson.

Demanding Belleville's 1932 budget be "cut to the bone because taxpayers will not stand for an increase over last year," W. H. K. Davey, attorney, offered to the Town Commission Tuesday night recommendations for savings of $61,900. Since the town is paying $750 a day carrying charges on bonded and short-term debts, Davey said that unless drastic economies were applied, the only alternative would be defaulting on its obligations.

Davey said he had been given information by Director William H. Hams of the Department of Revenue and Finance showing the town still owed $225,000, more than half, of its state and county taxes due in December and $200,000 to the town School Board. The town payroll is $23,000 monthly. Taxes uncollected for 1929 amount to $80,000; for 1930, $285,000, and for 1931, $640,000, making a total of $1,005,000, or forty-four per cent. Cash on hand amounts to $250,000.

The speaker warned against Belleville's "getting into such condition as Chicago, Philadelphia or North Bergen." His recommendation were: Transfer the Bureau of Combustibles to the Fire Department, eliminating $2,300 salary; make the town physician also the town health officer, at a saving of $2,500; reduce the number of town nurses to two or three, saving $6,000; move the share tree maintenance to the Engineering Department, saving $5,900; suspend Recreation Commission activities, saving $7,600; reduce street maintenance, $10,000; cut the Engineering Department to a minimum, and cut salaries of all town employees, which figured at ten per cent would save $27,600.

Williams said he had succeeded in financing more than $700,000 in two blocks of bonds last week and was negotiating the sale of $750,000 more, falling due between January 15 and 31. He said, depending on the outcome of budgeting, the town's financial condition "looks pretty good."

A five-year refuse contract was awarded Thomas Viola & Son of Nutley on a bid of $59,825 to take both ashes and garbage out of Belleville.

Then came another headache for the board. The Hilltop Improvement Association requested the board to consider the News proposition for legal advertising. Like many other matters the request for the "go by."

A little more detail business transpired and the board gave an exhibition of horse play as the inauguration next Tuesday at Trenton.

Which leads us up to the point of reading bills. Confusion, noise and chatter drowned out any effort to hear this vital point in transaction of town affairs as the audience walked out on the performance.

tenance, $10,000; cut the Engineering Department to a minimum, and cut salaries of all town employees, which figured at ten per cent would save $27,600.

Williams said he had succeeded in financing more than $700,000 in two blocks of bonds last week and was negotiating the sale of $750,000 more, falling due between January 15 and 31. He said, depending on the outcome of budgeting, the town's financial condition "looks pretty good."

A five-year refuse contract was awarded Thomas Viola & Son of Nutley on a bid of $59,825 to take both ashes and garbage out of Belleville.

Then came another headache for the board. The Hilltop Improvement Association requested the board to consider the News proposition for legal advertising. Like many other matters the request for the "go by."

A little more detail business transpired and the board gave an exhibition of horse play as the inauguration next Tuesday at Trenton.

Which leads us up to the point of reading bills. Confusion, noise and chatter drowned out any effort to hear this vital point in transaction of town affairs as the audience walked out on the performance.

BASKETBALL GALORE

CLOSE to 350 people in town are actively participating in basketball this winter, in one or another of the six leagues being sponsored by the Recreation Commission, as symbolized in the Recreation Director, Robert Nebrig. This, undoubtedly, is the largest number ever to take part simultaneously in the court game.

Both local courts, the high school and the Moose, are being utilized in promoting this wholesale basketball movement. The ages of the participants range from twelve years up, with many of the older citizens of the town taking part.

The high school gym is the scene of three of these loops. The Class A and AA leagues, containing twelve teams of ten men each, and playing Monday and Wednesday nights, are formed of men above high school age. The Junior League, made up of a sextet of teams of twelve, thirteen and fourteen year old youngsters is a Saturday morning affair at the high school.

The new Moose court is the site of the play of the Intermediate group. There are three leagues in that category, playing Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. One hundred and fifty boys of high school age responded to the first call for players in these leagues.

That there is great interest in the physical development of the youth of the town is self-evident by the large number of participants in the four afternoon leagues. The two night loops are also of great aid in that they give men above high school age, a much sought-after chance for winter recreation.

WINTER ROWING ACTIVITY

WITH the acquisition of the new sweep machines, the Neried oarsmen are staging their first winter practice of recent years.

This almost daily preparation, under Frank Menne, is being held, with the express desire of putting "fewer but better crews" on the water this summer.

The Nerieds are sure that they will still be represented in the regattas in the quadruple shells, single and double sculls, of all three classes, junior, intermediate and senior. They also are planning to get an eight oared shell crew for the first time in years.

Fortified with a really early start this year and with the return of all of their veterans, the Nerieds expect to have their most successful season in the coming one.

Nerieds Presented Indoor Sweep Machine

Plan Daily Indoor Rowing Sessions For Coming Season

Leo Menne, captain of the Nassau Boat Club of New York City, presented the local Neried Boat Club with a sweep machine for use in their extensive winter indoor practice, Thursday night, at the monthly dinner and meeting of the Nerieds in their club-house. Frank Menne, brother of Leo, and captain and coach of the local rowing club, accepted the sweeps for the Nerieds.

The Nassau captain is one of the best oarsmen in the East, and is expected to pair up with John Verhoeven of the same club in the double sculling trials for the Olympic games, this spring and summer. The duo are now building their own shell for the international classics.

Frank Menne is instructing his Neried charges almost daily in preparation for the coming campaign, which will officially open with their entrance in the Harlem Regatta, Decoration Day. The oarsmen will continue this indoor practice four times a week, until April 1, when they are expected to be able to place their shells on the waters of the Passaic for the first time. After that they will hold almost daily drills on the river for their spring and summer regattas.

In addition to all of the regular crews represented the Nerieds will form, for the first time in years, an eight-oared shell, which will be a standard entrant in all of their meets. It is hoped, too, that "Doc" Worthington and Gerard Rhodes, who paired up with great success last season in the doubles, will become the first Neried scullers to enter the senior ranks this summer.

All that is necessary to accomplish this feat is their winning of an intermediate event in one of the regattas.

Church League Bowlers Swing Into Action

Christ Reformed Quintet Continues Winning Ways

After several weeks' lay-off, due to the holidays, the local Church Bowling League again swung into action, Thursday night, on the various church alleys. Christ Reformed continued where they left off last year, as they turned back Montgomery three times to give them a four game lead over the field. The Reformed boys, at that, were lucky to win one of the three, holding a slim one-pin edge over Montgomery in the first game.

Grace Baptist topped the lowly Belleville Reformed quintet in two out of three games, Fewsmith Men's Club bowed twice to Christ Episcopal's high scoring prowess, and the Fewsmith Presbyterian five easily downed the Italian Baptist, thrice, in other matches.

BH Knowles' 245 for Fewsmith Presbyterian in the second game against Italian Baptist, set a new high individual score for the loop.

The Hello Bills were consistently good, bowling for 900 tallies in all three, but two big games on the part of the Union County lads did the damage. After dropping the first pair, the locals came back in the final to salvage that one. They out-bowled their opponents by nearly 100 pins in turning the trick.

McManus, Whitten and McNair, all boasted of double century marks for the Elks, with McManus leading the parade with a pair of them.

W. H. Williams Five Trounce Clintons

Clinton's Though, Take First Half In Municipal League

The fast-stepping William H. Williams Association basketball five handed the Clintons their first Municipal League defeat, Wednesday night, at the high school gym, by a 40-27 score, but they failed to dislodge them from first place. The game officially closed the first round of the league, with the Clintons named as first half winners. The Panthers received a close call from St. Anthony's, who dropped a 29-24 decision, only after the hardest sort of fight. The Second Ward Political Club swamped the Holy Name Club, 28-11, in the one remaining game of the evening. Harry Metz and Johnnie McGuire had a great battle between themselves, during the course of the heated Williams-Clinton fracas, with scoring honors about even. Each accounted for five field goals to lead the scorers of their respective teams.

Herb Mayes and Bob Mutch, at the forward posts for the Williams club, were also in fine scoring fettle, accounting for sixteen markers between them. Austin Matthews, holder of the league's high individual scoring record, though in the game but a quarter, scored six times for the winners.

Herb Otto's five points, came closest to matching McGuire's fifteen for the Clintons.

Mike Mansalco of St. Anthony's, Nell Wilson of the Panthers, Beatty of the Second Wards, and Bruno of the Holy Name Club, were others to find the net with the most frequency in their various games. Beatty's sixteen points for the second warders was the best individual scoring effort of the evening.

Belleville High Court

Five Beats Montclair Normal School Jayvees Are Turned Back In Easy Fashion

The Belleville High basketball squad drubbed the Junior Varsity five of the Montclair State Teacher's College, Friday afternoon, at the local gym, by a 33-10 score. The high school second-stringers made it two Belleville victories, by turning back the Montclair Demonstration High quintet, 28-18, in a preliminary tussle.

Captain "Mac" Lamb, at forward, was No. 1 man among the local scorers in the main game. He found the net for eight points, with the remainder of the point-garnering well distributed down the line. Robert, Bohrer, and Bonavita tallied five times each. Al Culkin's eleven points stood out for the Bell-boys in the preliminary scrap.

Eagles And No. 8 School Win On Court

Junior Recreation League Opened Saturday Morning

The Eagles and the No. Eight School team captured the opening matches of the Junior Recreation Basketball League for boys from twelve to fourteen years old, Saturday morning, at the high school gym. The Eagles vanquished the Clinton Juniors, 10-2, in the first tilt, and No. 8 won over the Recreation House, 13-4, in the other.

Marshall and Tully were the big stars of the contests, which were witnessed by over seventy-five fans.

Tiffanys Turn Back Jeffery-Mayers Thrice

Jewelers Surprise Against Manufacturers' League Leaders

As if imbued with new life with the start of the 1932 Manufacturers' Bowling League season after the holiday lay-off, Tiffany's swept their three games series with the league-leading Jeffery-Mayer outfit, Friday night, at Ferrara's, and cut down their margin from six to three games.

Hoyt Bros. held on to their substantial grip on third place, with a two-out of three win over Sweeney's, Heller Bros. defeated Sonneborn's twice in three starts, Martin-Dennis, in last place, did like-wise to International Ticket, and Wallace and Tiernan dropped the odd game to Hanlon & Goodman in other matches. Lyman's 235 for Tiffany's just beat a 234 score turned in by Hill of Heller Bros. for high individual tally. Kiernan's performance in the role of anchor man for Heller Bros. was the most consistently good of the night. He rolled, consecutively for tallies of 216, 190 and 200.

Moose Bowlers Fea- ture Legion League

Defeat Democrats Thrice, As El Club Also Wins

The Belleville Moose bowlers reached the peak of their performance in the local American Legion League, Monday night, at Ferrara's, and swept their three game series with the ex-league leading Democratic Club. The Moose, led by the redoubtable Greene, in the lead-off position, rolled games of 924, 1048, and 1033, to shove themselves into a tie for third place with the Belleville A. A., and the Democrats back to fifth.

The El Club continued its consistent pace, in downing the Junior Order thrice, and thereby remained three games ahead of the nearest competitor. The Oldham Association were pressed a bit by the American Legion quintet, but nevertheless bowled three 900 games, to take the trio and move up into possession of second place in the standings, three games back of the El Club.

Will Noonan's Belleville A. A. team easily swept a series with the Parks, the Lamb Association were equally successful against the Bachlors, and the Knights of Columbus took the odd game from the Hoopie Club in the other matches. The Caseys set a new high team score for themselves in taking the second game of the latter match by a 992 count.

In addition to Green of the Moose, Ferguson and Howard of the Belleville A. A., Russ Lamb, Jr. and Sr. of the Lambs, Mill Byrnes, Jr. and Sr. of the Caseys, Johnny Lawlor and Bill Buttons of the El Club, Gene Gelschen and Bill Knowles of the Oldhams, Cubellis and King of the Democrats, Mike De Carlo, Jack Rhodes and Lang of the Moose, all deserved mention on the honor roll for fine individual performances.

First Rockne Six to Mrs. Knute Rockne

The first Rockne Six to travel the highways of America is in the possession of Mrs. Knute Rockne, widow of the man after whom the car was named. Above is shown the scene at the presentation ceremony which took place in Detroit three days before Christmas. With Mrs. Rockne in the photograph are Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit, Harvey Campbell, vice president and secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce, H. S. Vance, president of Rockne Motors Corporation and George M. Graham, vice president in charge of sales of the new company. Following the ceremonies Mrs. Rockne was driven to her home in South Bend in the new car. Knute Rockne was to have been vice president of Rockne Motors Corporation, had he lived.

Stark Instructs High School Soccerites

Newark Player Holds Pre- liminary Practice Saturday

Archie Stark, center forward of the Newark Americans, well-known league soccer team, instructed fifty Belleville High boys in the rudiments of soccer, Saturday afternoon, at Clearman Field. Stark, who is a nationally known veteran in soccer ranks, spent more than an hour with the aspirants, lecturing them in fundamentals of play.

After the drill, the high school boys watched a game between the Cian Stewart team of Belleville and the Kearny Rangers, which the latter won, 3-0. This game served as a practical demonstration of the pointers, so aptly described by Stark.

Although Saturday's instruction was in the nature of a "trial," to find out the response of the high school boys to soccer, it is felt that an announcement of the preparation of definite soccer plans will be made very shortly.

Campbell, McCall and Thomas Wood, local residents and well-known soccer exponents, have offered their services as coaches, although no instructor has been selected as yet.

Another Fast Finish Wins For Moose

Nose Out Bloomfield White Eagles, 32-31, At Local Court

A rousing finish, for the second week in a row, spelled victory for the Belleville Moose basketball five, as they nosed out the White Eagles of Bloomfield, 32-31, Saturday night, at the new Moose Hall.

One of those dramatic come-backs, that the locals seem to do so well, was the means of turning back the White Eagles, after the Bloomfieldites had led at the end of the third quarter by a 25-18 margin.

"Jitty" Wisniewsky, who scored twenty-two points last week against the Klumps, again went on a scoring rampage for the Moose in Saturday's win, tallying fifteen times. His sharp-shooting was the big feature of the last minute Moose triumph.

Artie Dunn, Ray Englund, and Captain Harry Metz, all took part in the fourth quarter scoring spurt, ringing the bell, six, five, and four times, respectively. "Whitey" Huebner, at center, turned in a sterling guarding performance for the Bell-boys.

"Turk" Schummel, ex-Bloomfield High three-sports star, ran up a total of eleven points, to head the White Eagle point-garners.

The score:

Detroit, Mich., (Special) — The first Rockne Six to travel the highways of America is the cherished possession of Mrs. Knute Rockne, widow of the famous gridiron coach after whom the new automobile was named.

The pioneer Rockne, a five passenger, four-door sedan of the "75" line, was presented to Mrs. Rockne at the Rockne Motors Corporation administration offices in this city three days before Christmas. It is now in daily operation in its owner's home city of South Bend, Ind.

The presentation ceremonies were attended by civic and industrial leaders of Detroit, including Mayor Murphy, and executives of the corporation that is building the new automobile. Among them were Harvey Campbell, vice president and secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce, H. S. Vance, president of Rockne Motors Corporation, and George M. Graham, vice president in charge of sales of the corporation.

"We feel that the advent of the Rockne Motors Corporation is a bright sign in the industrial life of Detroit," said Mr. Campbell during the presentation ceremonies. "It is particularly significant that the factory buildings that the Studebaker Corporation turned over as shelter for the unemployed a year ago are now going to house the employed who will be engaged in building this new car." During the winter of 1930-31 Studebaker's extensive Detroit factories were thrown open to the homeless and the poverty-stricken.

Mayor Murphy, who has gained nation-wide fame for his relief activities in the Motor City, made a brief address.

"The City of Detroit is highly honored and mightily pleased that the Studebaker Corporation, which sponsors this new automobile, will build the car here," he said. "As mayor, I take great pleasure in welcoming the executives of the new company to Detroit and I am honored to participate in this ceremony. Knute Rockne was my friend and he was the friend of countless other citizens of Detroit. We feel that it is a most proper tribute to his memory that this car shall carry his name down through the ages."

The presentation of the car was made by Mr. Graham.

Knute Rockne was our friend and our business associate," he said. "He was to have been vice president of this company, had he lived. His loss is a matter of deep sorrow to us all. We feel that it is only fitting that the first Rockne Six to travel the highways of America is to be in the hands of Mrs. Rockne. Mrs. Rockne, take this car as our gift and with it, our pledge that all of the Rockne Sixes of the future will worthily perpetuate the memory of your husband."

Mrs. Rockne expressed her gratitude for the automobile and for the corporation's action in naming the car after Knute Rockne.

"Thank you so much," she said. "It is a matter of great pride and satisfaction to Knute Rockne's family that this new automobile bears his name and will so splendidly keep his memory fresh in the minds of the American people."

Following the ceremonies Mrs. Rockne was driven to her South Bend home in the new car.

Studio Art Club Is Ready For Dance

Affair Will Be Held At The Recreation House Tomorrow

The Studio Art Club, which is sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Commission is holding a dance at the Recreation House on Saturday evening, January 16.

The dance is to be a very collegiate affair. Collegiate atmosphere will be created by pennants which will decorate the walls. There have been several novelty surprises planned for the evening's entertainment, and refreshments will be served. Music will be furnished by Collegiate Entertainers.

Tickets for the dance may be obtained from the club members or at the Recreation House, 407 Jerusalem street. The bids are only twenty-five cents and you will surely have a good time. The money is to be used to supply artwork material for the club. Catherine Calicchio is acting as chairman of the dance and it is under the directorship of Miss Margaret Mason, Supervisor of Girls Clubs.

J. R. Lampman Heads Craftsmen's Club

Plan Minstrel "Up And Up" At High School On February 19-20

Election of officers at the Belleville Craftsmen's Club, Masonic Temple, January 6, resulted in president, J. R. Lampman; vice president, Frank Bangert; treasurer, Thomas P. Hoskins; secretary, Alfred T. Page. Decision was reached to present a corking good minstrel, entitled: "Up and Up," at the high school, February 19 and 20. Ralph Schumann is the author and will coach. Enthusiasm ran high when the matter was decided and the men will surely present something worth while.

Sunday morning, beautiful in its winter splendor of snow with sunlight outlining each gem tipped branch, Mr. and Mrs. Ridgway of Little street joined sixty-eight other folks from Belleville, Irvington, Maplewood, Newark and other suburban towns at the offices of The Purdeler Company, 560 Broad street, Newark, and went via bus to the company's property in North Asbury and Interlaken. The bus ride on the Flying Eagles of the Somerset Bus Company, with operators John Wagner and Fred Brant, driving safely and ever solicitous to the comfort of their passengers was made to the Winsor Hotel, 308 Third avenue, Asbury Park, where the group were guests of The Purdeler Company at a delicious three course dinner.

Afterwards the buses were in readiness and stops were made at Interlaken Estates, where the group alighted and listened to a talk by the president Edward Dillon, thence to North Asbury Manor, where another talk was given on that property. Many improvements have been made there during the past year. This tract as well as North Asbury Estates border on the new No. 35 Highway, and lots are selling rapidly.

Returning to the Winsor Hotel many sales were made—who said depression? E. H. Orr of Myrtle avenue, Belleville, was entertainer on the bus carrying Mr. and Mrs. Ridgway, and led in singing many popular songs on the way.

Every Sunday this trip is made entirely free to those who think they will be interested in the four tracts owned by the company. All one has to do is get in touch with the offices of the company and immediately a representative will call and arrange for the trip.

Officers of the Purdeler Company are: President, Edward Dillon; vice president, Edward Bulger, and secretary-treasurer, F. L. Purcell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Crelin of the Winsor Hotel were highly complimented on the piping hot, delightful dinner served. The hotel is wonderfully attractive and during the summer Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bunnell of DeWitt avenue, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bunnell of Union avenue, are often guests at the hotel. It is also a popular stopping place with many others from this town as well as the Oranges and Montclair.

A Nice Little Boy

There is something somehow that connects small boys with defunct Christmas Trees, at least that is the experience of Mrs. H. E. Wilson of Union avenue. A nattily dressed boy of about ten years rang her door bell shortly after Christmas and very politely asked: "Please, may I have that tree in your yard?" Mrs. Wilson, a well known lover of boys said he could. Not so long afterwards her son took down the family tree and that too went in the yard. Just as Mrs. Wilson was leaving for a shopping trip the same gentlemanly boy asked if he could have that tree as well. She said he could and considered the incident closed, but hearing a noise on the porch that evening she went to the door and found a boyish letter in the box reading: "Thanks for the nice Christmas trees," signed Robert B. Now she is wondering where he lives and just what he wanted of those trees, and also would like to see the gentlemanly little chap again.

Kidnaping Charged Against LaFera In Befriending Of Child

Former Poor Overseer To Appear Today In Local Court

Playing the Good Samaritan by providing a home for a seven-year old local girl who appeared unhappy with her father and step-mother will bring Frank LaFera, former overseer of the poor in Newark, into the local police court today.

Louis DeGustino, of 55 Cleveland place, father of the child, made a charge of kidnaping Monday night against LaFera, and Recorder George Fitzsimmons announced that he will summon the former poor overseer to his court to learn why seven-year-old Margaret DeGustino is not at home with her parents.

When Mrs. Bootes, Belleville overseer of the poor, reported to Recorder Fitzsimmons that Margaret's story of having been beaten and forced to beg was untrue, the recorder attacked LaFera verbally for taking the child from her parents.

He said: "Butting In"
"If people would keep their noses out of other people's family affairs, there would not be as many family troubles at there. That goes for the former overseer of the poor of Newark, who is looking for cheap publicity."

Belleville's poor overseer reported that Margaret had been sent to the Town Yard for bread and rolls given to the needy, but had never been forced to beg.

LaFera said he would appear in court on Friday to urge Recorder Fitzsimmons to permit Margaret's grandmother, Mrs. Cristina Tilente, of 101 Grand avenue, Newark, to give the child a home.

She is unhappy with her three step-brothers and step-sisters, LaFera said, and is anxious to live with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Tilente.

"ASBESTOS"

Belleville needs more than a garbage contract to clean up its waste.

This newspaper intends to wield an axe of ink to cut down some of the rotten limbs. We are going to clean up things in our own way. Let the chips fall where they may. Our "Big Shot No. 1, Owl Bye," has even upset the equilibrium of our linotype operators. The operators declare their machines are burning up with "hot stuff." One operator says he intends to buy some asbestos to save his copy so the type will reach the paper. The metal doesn't cool, the words are so hot that "squirts" appear.

Little Theatre Guild Meets On Wednesday At Recreation House

A One-Act Play Reading Will Be Given By Members

On Wednesday evening, January 20, a meeting of the Little Theatre Guild will be held at the Recreation House. A one-act play reading will be given by the following Guild members: Mrs. Janette Lay, Alice Chappe, Margaret Schneider and Pearl McKinley.

On March 5, the second play will be presented. It is a drama "First Night" and has a cast of nineteen men and three women. Rehearsals started at the home of C. D. Lewis on Tuesday evening.

Fraternities Arrange Tri-Chapter Dance To Be Held March 4

Beta Chapter, Delta Theta, Met Tuesday Evening

The regular meeting of Beta Chapter, Delta Theta, was held at the home of Herbert Welhofer, Tuesday evening.

The State Board of Archons which is composed of members from the three state chapters, Eta, of East Orange; Psi, of Bloomfield, and Beta of Belleville, discussed and made final arrangements for a tri-chapter dance, to be held March 4.

The music will be furnished by Ted Black's dance orchestra.

More Than 300 At Present Matron's Night

Many Out Of Town Folks Had Part In Affair At Temple

More than 300 people were present Monday night at Present Matron's Night, Arme Chapter, O. E. S., at Masonic Temple. Mrs. Stella Kroesen, Worthy Matron of the chapter, received many beautiful presents and was delighted with the attendance.

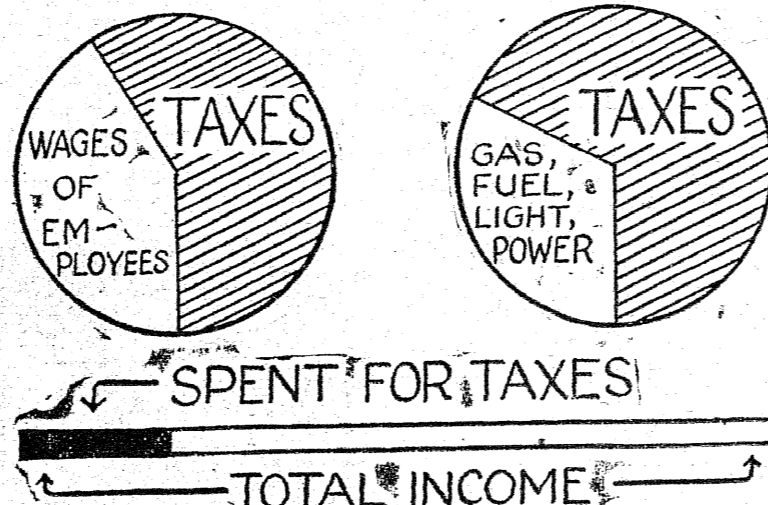

Present Matrons serving on the different stations were the East, Mrs. Edna Vreeland, Worthy Matron of Nutley Chapter, and Louis Oakley, Worthy Patron of Nutley Chapter; Associate Matron, Mrs. Elsa Koetting, Worthy Matron of Amity Chapter, Hasbrouck Heights. Other stations were filled by Worthy Matrons of the twenty-first district. Mrs. Ella Guerin, Worthy Matron of North Star Chapter, assisted in exemplifying the work. Guest of honor was Worthy District Deputy Mrs. Mary Oliver of Arlington. Refreshments were served and a social hour followed the business session.

Worthy Matron Mrs. Kroesen will serve tonight in Fraternity Chapter in Lyndhurst. Monday night she will serve in the east in Amity Chapter at Hasbrouck Heights; and January 20 she will also serve in the East in Nutley Chapter, Nutley.

A dinner in honor of George M. Lindsay, assistant town engineer, and Edwin C. Young, assistant to Town Engineer Albert S. Blank, will be given by the Engineering Department

Increasing Tax Burden Reduces Income of Many Small Investors

These charts show graphically how taxes, which grow larger every year, thus steadily become a heavier burden on all investors in real estate. Mounting cost of government, national, state and local, must be met by them.

A typical example quoted widely in financial and business publications is the George M. Forman Realty Trust, of Chicago. The success of the Trust has attracted nationwide attention and its plan for protecting investors has been copied in numerous other instances of distressed real estate. Small investors in every state hold the bonds of the Trust, which operates twenty-nine large New York, Cleveland and Chicago buildings.

These small investors are notified recently that taxes paid by the

In the SPOTLIGHT

BY MORRIS UDANSKY

The stockholders held a meeting last week and they decided that "Random Thoughts" wasn't an appropriate name for this strip—they said, "Mawruss, ole sock, everything else in this rag is out front gettin' plenty readers and comment—so we think (yea, stockholders think, too) that you oughta get wise to yourself and grab some of the glory for yourself—we suggest, therefore, that you call your column, "In The Spotlight"—and me realizin' that they had held this meetin' just so they could better this thing of mine and me not wishin' to hurt their feelin's specially since it was a special meetin', consented to do so—and now all the stockholders like me an awful lot—

It seems as though I am gettin' a break at last—it is estimated that about one out of every thousand read this strip—and three weeks ago the circulation was 4,500—that means that I had 4 1/2 readers—now the circulation is 6,750—which of course signifies that now there are 6 3/4 crazy peepin' in this town—the trampster in the Moose orchestra musta been horseback ridin'—he had to play all his numbers standin' up Saturday morn'—

Didja ever notice how many different walks of life there are—take frinstance the walk of Poppy Gerard—or the gait of Charley Steel—then there's the ka-ute hop of Dolly Fobert—and the lope of Monyhan the copper—and there's your walk and my walk—and his yalk and her walk—yep, there's an awful lot of walks in this life of ours—a new club has been organized in town—they call themselves the "Bolt and Nut Club"—they're an awful screwy bunch though—

Jackson, the new Moose referee, did something novel for this berg (not Goldberg), when he introduced all the players individually at the game last week—take the hint, high school—sign in front of Newark boarding house—"Clean Morally and Physically—Rooms for Day or Week" (stet)—the same place advertizes "Lighthouse Keeping"—another local sheet goes in for editorials in a big way—in one it asks what the Nuhls has done for Belleville—and on the same page it says that every paper performs a service to its community.

Who said there was no old fashioned gurls left—tuther day I was ridin' on the Journal Square bus next to a maiden of twenty or thereabouts—she wore glasses and used no make-up and she had three magazines with her—she read all three from cover to cover, ads and all—and as she read I noticed the names on the mags—the first was "Needlecraft"—the second was "The Poultry Item"—and the third was "Hygeia"—in case you might care—the license plates for 1933 will be colored orange and black—I almost caught a crook last week—only he got away—and he was no crook anyhow—

Here's another Believe it or don't—B. Schoen is an optician in Newark—checkers are gettin' to be quite the thing at Haffner's lately—if you think you've seen long words your mistaken—feast your orbits on this for a while—it's so lengthy it takes five minutes to read—here's metaphysicotheologic - cosmolo - nology—of course you know what it means so I won't bother to define it—the accent is on the stenth syllable—I'll have a ham sandwich without any meat—the latter part of the month. Resignations of Lindsay and Young, turned in because of the Town Commission's economy agreement on no new construction work this year, will become effective February 1. Matthew Sheehan and P. Francis Byrnes, Jr., of the department are arranging the dinner.

Local Man Arrested On Writ In Wife's Suit

Samuel H. Paul of 502 Washington avenue, was held in $1,000 bail Saturday on a writ issued by Vice Chancellor Church to keep him in the state pending the separate maintenance suit of Mrs. Mae Paul of Little street. Paul was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Shope Friday night at his home.

Mrs. Paul stated her husband was a cattle dealer and often was away six months at a time on trips buying cattle. He is about to start on such a trip now, she said.

She is destitute and has been obtaining coal from a Ladies' Aid Society and food from relatives for herself and son, Mrs. Paul stated.

SCHOOLS

BY WILLIAM GRAY

It won't be long now, folks, Mr. Steel, principal of the high school, has announced that the mid-year "exams" will commence on January 21 and will continue until the 26th.

"Choice of Vocation," was the topic presented to the students at the high school, by Robert Nebrig, director of recreation; last Friday morning.

Mr. Nebrig said, "You can choose whatever position you would like to fill in this world and by hard work, you should be able to make your choice a fact."

In speaking of his profession, Mr. Nebrig said, "Recreation is a big job, but it is fascinating." Continuing he said, "The Recreation Commission, is interested in every boy and girl, in your music, your art and drama and in athletics." In connection with the proposed basketball league, it is to contain twelve teams of boys between the ages of fifteen and seventeen.

The "Information Desk," maintained by the Student Council, for the benefit of welcoming strange visitors to the high school, was highly praised by Mr. Nebrig. He said, "It certainly feels good, to be met with a smile and the polite question 'What can I do for you, Sir?' when I visit your school."

About 375 attended the "Leap Year dance" given by the music clubs of the high school last Friday night. The school will be well supplied with music this year, as the returns amounted to almost eighty dollars.

The features, were the "cut in dance" and the "souvenir dance." The high school jazz orchestra supplied the music. The decorations consisted of stars, comets, balloons and red and white streamers.

Miss Elizabeth Wortman was Mistress of Ceremonies. The following acted as chaperones: Mr. and Mrs. Steel, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Van der Veer, Mr. Brennan, Mr. Evans and Mr. Wilcox.

Salvatore Di Paolo, a student of Mrs. Gibson's class, read the Bible and lead the assembly in prayer Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Gibson's class presented a short comic, love skit entitled, "The Fatal Guest." The cast is as follows: The king, Edward Fabian; the devoted queen, Bernice Ehrlich; the princess, Rose D'Achimo; the duke, Carl Erikson; the first half of the curtain, Jack Donahue; the second half of the curtain, Ralph De Furia and the bellinger, Arthur Conklin.

The high school gym was crowded Tuesday afternoon, for the game between Passaic and Belleville. The local boys put up a fine "scrap," but were defeated by the "Wonder Five" of Passaic. The second stringers also dropped their game to Passaic by the close score of 15 to 11.

SAYS SALLY—

The greatest man the world has ever known said "The poor ye have with you always." Were He speaking today He would doubtless add "But the helping hand goes where the votes are most easily controlled."

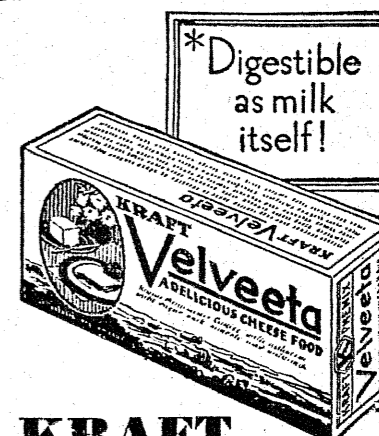

So long as mortal man controls we expect imperfections and errors, but we do not often find them shrouded in excuses and buried in the sewer.

In standard literature we find this simile: "As a waxen image, when placed before the fire bears no likeness to the thing it was." Ditto cheap politicians—after elected.

The letter "K" does not always stand for King.

Hope will not die; as long as two out of five strive to keep things right. They are sure to win because right is mighty.

Evidently there is no depression in deceit and lying. The vendors of these commodities to out-do the other is lying.

What's New In Salads?

HAVEN'T you served the same old salads in the same old way until you were secretly glad that people's appetites are like children's tastes? They like repetition in both foods and stories. But scientists tell us to diversify our eating and to be careful to train children to like a wide number of foods. And then there's your neighbor who, every now and then, serves some novelty in foods. Haven't you wanted to go her one better, and cudeled your brain for a still more brilliant recipe to serve? Hawaiian pineapple is always a resource, not only because it is one of the best fruits canned, but because there is so much of it this season that the price is lower than usual. Summer is the time for salad, and so let's look over that field, and see what new combinations have been recently devised. Did you ever hear of combining prunes, salted peanuts, cranberry sauce, maraschino cherries in mayonnaise and Hawaiian pineapple in a salad? There's a recent recipe for this combination, and its name is "Bog Salad," inspired, presumably, by the boys in which the cranberries grow. How about apricot halves, green gage plums, cottage cheese, ripe olives, green pepper, pimiento, raisins and sliced pineapple? There's a recipe for this, too, and it rejoices in the gay name of "Nosegay Salad."

Here Are the Recipes

But it's no use going on with a list of ingredients without giving you the recipes for these new combinations, so here are those for the two:

George Olsen's Orchestra. 12.00—Ben Bernie's Orchestra. 12.30—Art Krueger's Orchestra. 1.00—Roseland Orchestra. 1.30—Abrams' Orchestra.

WAAM-1250 Kcy.-240 Meters.
7.00—Sunrise Hour. 8.00—"Jersey Neighbors." 8.15—"Treasure Chest." 8.30—Dr. Mary A. Wilson.

Bog Salad: Cut the slices from a No. 2½ can of Hawaiian pineapple in halves, and place, round side touching, in eight beds of lettuce. Stone sixteen cooked prunes, and fill with stiff cranberry sauce. Leaving open at top to show the red. Place two on each salad, in the cavities formed by the hole in the pineapple slice. At the opposite sides pile stiff mayonnaise filled with chopped maraschino cherries. Sprinkle one-half cup salted peanuts over the tops of the eight salads.

Nosegay Salad: Chill the slices from a No. 2½ can of Hawaiian pineapple, and place in eight lettuce leaves. Drain and chill thirty-two canned green gage plums. Chill thirty-two canned apricot halves. Place four of each alternately around the pineapple. Pile cottage cheese in center, and make a sunburst effect of alternate strips of green pepper and pimiento, topping with a ripe olive. Dress with French dressing made with the syrup from the plums and pineapple, instead of vinegar, adding a few chopped raisins.

Fruits with Cheese

Pineapple and Grapefruit Salad with Cheese Dressing: Drain two 8-ounce cans of Hawaiian pineapple tidbits (or use one and one-half cups of diced sliced canned pineapple), and toss lightly with one cup grapefruit sections, one cup orange sections and one-half cup halved seeded grapes. Pile in lettuce leaves and pour over the following:

Cheese Dressing: Shake together six tablespoons salad oil, one tablespoon lemon juice, one tablespoon syrup from the canned pineapple, salt and paprika. Smooth slowly into four tablespoons crumbled Roquefort cheese, and add two tablespoons chopped pimiento. This recipe serves eight.

California Salad: Place the slices from a No. 2½ can of Hawaiian pineapple in crisp lettuce leaves. Cream together one package of cream cheese and one triangle Roquefort cheese, and add one-fourth cup raisins and one-fourth cup chopped dates. Pile lightly in center of pineapple and serve with mayonnaise slightly thinned with pineapple syrup. This serves eight.

Salads with Cider and Lime

Cider and Pineapple Jelly Salad: Dissolve one package lemon gelatin in one cup boiling water and add two tablespoons sugar. Add the contents of a No. 2 can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple and two-thirds cup diced apple, and when the mixture starts to set, fold in one-third cup mayonnaise. Mold in a loaf. Chill. Serve in slices on lettuce, and garnish with mayonnaise. This serves ten.

Jellied Pineapple Lime Salad: Dissolve one package lime gelatin in three-fourths cup boiling water, and add the contents of a No. 2 can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple. When partly set, add one-half cup shredded blanched almonds, and mold in a flat tin. Cut in squares, and serve on lettuce with cream mayonnaise garnished with a red and green cherry. Lay a cheese ball rolled in chopped mint or parsley at the side of each. This recipe serves eight to ten.

When It's Time to

"GO FORMAL"

FASHION seems to know just how much smart women adore getting into their best bib and tucker... for she's at it again, designing exciting new formal clothes for the big social season ahead. And who couldn't have a glorious time in the evening ensemble sketched? The frock betrays its French origin in every line... it's the sort of affair that looks chic and new in bright red, in cold pale blue, in Parisian black or in flattering white. (McCall 6782). Flat crepe, satin, taffeta or sheer crepe would make it smartly... the needlewoman who aspires to it will take particular care to give the bustle-like bow just the air of jaunty it needs. The wrap for wear with it will be velvet, of course... many chic women are collaring with white lapin. This model features an amusing development of the cape idea in its sleeves. (McCall 6779). ## SYLVIA WILL TELL

WHO IS SYLVIA? Why, Sylvia is the feminine wizard who keeps the Hollywood beauties beautiful. Most of the stars are clients of Sylvia's. Now she is going to make all the ladies beautiful. A nation of Miss Americas is her objective. And by radio, Sylvia has been induced by the General Electric Company beginning January 15 to tell its Circle Club of the air how to be beautiful. Like most celebrities, she has her whimsies. She will broadcast only on Fridays, and at the stroke of noon.

FASHION SUGGESTIONS -O- TIMELY FEATURES FOR THE HOME

Cookies are "in" again! Not that they ever went completely out of the minds and consciousness of those who know what is good to eat—but they did suffer a relapse to the decline of the cookie jar. Now, as everybody who did a bit of gift shopping during the holidays must know, manufacturers have brought back the cookie jar, a bit modernized, perhaps, but still the cookie jar. And high time too, to revive the good old American custom of keeping cookies always on hand!

Mothers of one—or two or more—appreciate cookies because they are easy to make, just right to pack in the lunch box, to pass out when a snack is needed, to make a glass of milk go down without threats and tears. Nutritionists smile upon them because they tend to be less concentrated than most cakes and require thorough chewing, and because those which contain dried fruits and whole grain cereals, contribute needed iron, calcium and phosphorus to the dietary.

Children like cookies because they are easy to carry at play, because Mother will allow them between meals, and because they taste good.

Enlightened homemakers—and aren't we all?—know too much to spend an entire morning rolling out a three-days' supply of cookies; they want a recipe which can be dropped instead of rolled, that's easy to mix and bake, and will fit into the kind of menus their families like best.

The following recipes pass on all counts, especially recommended are those which contain not just flour, fat and sugar, but dates and cereal, one of the best of all health combinations.

Honey Date Bars

1 cup (½ pk.) pasteurized dates
½ cup nut meats
1 cup strained honey
2-3 cup flour
½ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
2 eggs

Cut dates (pitted) in sixths; chop coarsely. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Beat eggs; beat in honey gradually; stir in dry ingredients, dates and nuts. (Use whole wheat flour if you prefer.) Spread mixture over surface of a shallow pan which has been lined with oiled paper. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 30 minutes. Remove from pan and when cool cut in bars. 15 bars.

Cocoanut Peanut Drops

2 cups flour
2 tps. baking powder
¼ cup butter
¾ cup peanut butter

¼ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup milk
½ tsp. lemon extract
½ tsp. vanilla
1 cup shredded cocoanut
Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream shortening and peanut butter together, add sugar gradually, then the well beaten egg. Add flour mixture and milk alternately to this mixture. Add flavoring and cocoanut reserving 3 tablespoons cocoanut to sprinkle over the top of cookies before baking. Drop by teaspoonfuls on well oiled baking sheet. Bake 12 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 cookies.

Buttermilk Bites

1 cup white flour
2 tps. baking powder
¼ tsp. soda
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup whole wheat flour
½ pk. pasteurized dates
½ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1-2 cup buttermilk*
1 tsp. vanilla

*Use sour milk or sweet if preferred. If sweet milk is used, omit soda, and increase baking powder to 3 teaspoons.

Sift white flour, baking powder, soda and salt together. Add whole wheat (or graham) flour. Mix dates through dry ingredients with finger tips. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, then beaten egg. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk. Add vanilla and beat until well mixed. Drop by teaspoonfuls 2 inches apart on well-oiled baking sheet or inverted pan. Bake in a fairly hot oven (400 degrees F.) for about 10 minutes. Makes 36 small cookies.

Tutti Frutti Squares

¾ cup flour
1½ tps. baking powder
½ pk. pasteurized dates, sliced
1 cup nut meats
1 pk. orange peel (4 oz.)
1 pk. sliced candied lemon peel (4 oz.)
1 pk. sliced candied citron
2 eggs
¾ cup sugar
3 tps. fat
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix dry ingredients and sift them over the fruit and chopped nuts, distributing the fruit through flour with the finger tips. Beat the eggs; beat in sugar gradually. Add melted fat, then flour, fruit and vanilla. Spread mixture ½ inch thick in a well-greased shallow baking pan. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for ¾ to 1 hour. When cool cut in squares and roll each in powdered sugar. Makes 25 squares.

A Dash of Economy

AFTER Christmas comes a dash of economy. That happy holiday loosened your purse strings, if you're normal, but New Year's day always brings resolutions to balance the budget all next year. That is all right, but where shall we start? How about the kitchen department? You doubtless feasted heavily during the holidays and practically disregarded the cost. Is it possible to eat more economically without sacrificing nourishment, enjoyment and health?

Yes, it is, if you know how. But only an experienced housewife, or a trained dietitian who has studied the subject can tell just what economies are both real for your purse and really better for your health than more expensive foods. A housewife and a dietitian were not only consulted on this subject, but they were induced to consult with each other, and here are some of the dishes they devised.

Saving Salads

Fruit Cole Slaw: This is a salad which will serve six people and will not cost much more than a quarter. To make it, crisp one cup finely shredded cabbage in ice water, drain and dry thoroughly. Just before serving add one sliced orange and the contents of one 8-ounce can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Mix in one-half cup boiled dressing, and serve on six crisp lettuce leaves.

Shrimp and Pineapple Salad: This serves six people liberally, and costs, at the outside, seventy cents. Chill well the contents of a 5½-ounce can of shrimps, six diced slices of canned pineapple and one cup of diced celery. Toss them lightly together and pile into a large lettuce-lined salad bowl, or in individual ones. Mix three-fourths cup mayonnaise with one-fourth cup chili sauce, and pour over the salad. This makes a good main dish.

Economical Desserts

Baked Pineapple Pudding: This costs about a quarter, and makes enough pudding for four people. Cream three tablespoons butter and four tablespoons sugar, and add one well-beaten egg yolk. Add one-half cup of dry bread crumbs and one-half cup crushed Hawaiian pineapple, and fold in one stiffly-beaten egg white. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a slow oven, 325°, for twenty to thirty minutes. Serve with one-half cup of this cream.

Pineapple Caramel Tapioca: You can make enough of this to serve six people for not more than thirty-five cents. Scald one and one-fourth cups milk in a double boiler. Caramelize three tablespoons sugar, and add to one and one-fourth cups milk. Add four tablespoons sugar, four and one-half tablespoons minute tapioca and a few grains of salt. Cook until tapioca is transparent. Beat one egg, pour hot mixture over it slowly, and return to double boiler, stirring constantly until thick and creamy. Add the contents of a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple, and cool. This should be served very cold.

Moderate Priced Meats

Pork Chops with Grilled Pineapple: This recipe will serve six people at a cost of less than seventy cents. Fry one and one-half pounds of pork chops as usual and remove to a hot platter. Meanwhile drain the slices from a 13-ounce can of Hawaiian pineapple, place on the broiler rack, and brown under flame until golden brown on both sides. Place on platter with the chops.

Lamb Chops with Sautéed Pineapple: This, too, serves six people, and costs a little more than seventy-five cents. Pan-fry six shoulder lamb chops, season and remove to a hot platter. Place six slices of drained pineapple in the hot skillet and sauté in the drippings until golden brown on both sides. Arrange in a circle around the chops.

A Frugal Fruit Dish

Scalloped Pineapple and Rhubarb: This combination costs between forty and forty-five cents, and will serve eight people. Mix half the contents of a No. 2 can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple, one-half pound rhubarb (canned or fresh) cut in small pieces, one-third cup sugar, a few grains of salt and one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg. Melt four tablespoons butter and add one and one-half cups dry bread crumbs. Put alternate layers of the fruit and crumbs in a buttered baking dish, and bake in a moderate oven, 375°, for thirty minutes. Serve with sweetened top milk.*

KNOW YOUR CHILD

BOSSING

"What does your child do that annoys you the most?" was one question asked in a questionnaire used to gather information from parents for the White House Conference held a year ago. The most common answer was "He refuses to obey."

When we turn to the children to discover what parents do that annoys them the most, with one accord the response is "They boss us," if one may judge from an article appearing recently in one of our well-known magazines.

Briefly, then, we find a great source of conflict in families lies in "bossing" on the one hand and "being bossed" on the other. We are not going to discuss the rights of the parents to "boss" their children nor the rights of the child to rebel against that "bossing." This is a situation which is bound to exist in any normal family where individuals of varying maturity live together. What we are concerned with is helping parents to avoid unnecessary friction.

Dr. Smiley Blanton, professor of child study, Vassar College, says: "The chief interest of the mental hygiene movement is to teach such habits of living that the energy of normal children need not be dissipated in useless conflict but may be guided into productive channels." This, I believe, is what every parent wants for his or her child. We as adults know how much energy we waste through useless worry, irritability over things we cannot control, and conflicts of one sort or another that leave us exhausted and ashamed.

Any person objects to being "bossed" whether he is 2, 22, or 82 years old. Frequently it is not doing the thing that he is asked to do to which the individual objects but the manner in which the request is made or the command given.

Now that a new year has begun are you willing to analyze your feeling toward your child? Listed below are a few of the attitudes toward children which are held by parents. Check the one that most nearly fits your daily practice.

1. I have a right to boss my child because I am his parent.
2. I do not care what he thinks so long as he does what I tell him to do.
3. I do not think it necessary to stop and consider how I make a request. It is the duty of the child to obey.
4. I believe it is pampering the child to give too careful consideration to his thoughts and feelings.
5. I must respect his ideas and feelings because he is a person like myself.
6. I must be careful how I make a request because I want him to center his attention upon the importance of the thing to be done and I do not want him to be filled with resentment toward me.
7. I must leave him alone as much as possible to decide things for himself because we learn more from our own experiences than from the experience of others.

Note—These weekly articles on child training are furnished to the News by the Essex County Extension Service which, with Miss Dixon's co-operation, is prepared to answer letters of inquiry on child training problems. Address such letters to Mrs. M. C. Shepard, Home Demonstration Agent, Park Theater Building, Caldwell, N. J.

Getting Up Nights

Is Nature's Danger Signal. Make this 25c test. Drive out impurities and excess acids that cause irritation resulting in leg pains, backache, burning and bladder irregularities. Bu-kets, containing buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., works pleasantly and effectively on the bladder as castor oil on the bowels. (Get a 25c test box (6-grain size) from any druggist. After four days, if not relieved of getting up nights go back and get your money. You are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep.)

New Comforts for Whole Family Easily Enjoyed in Any Household

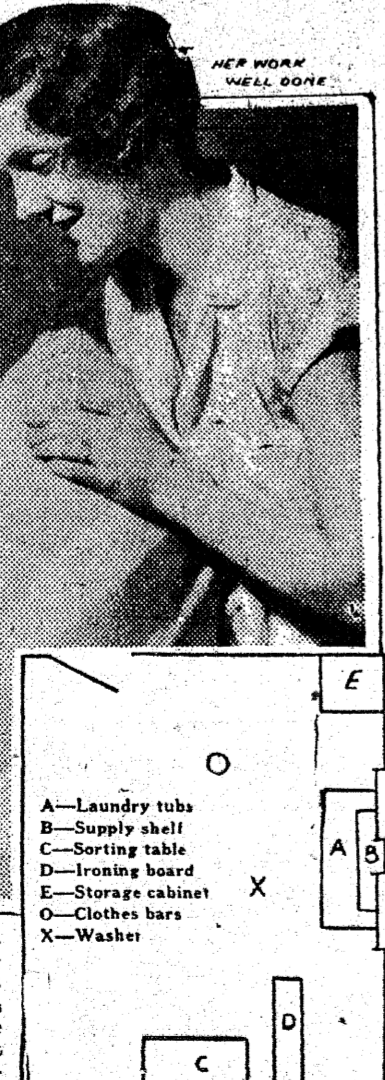

New ways to comfort and contentment in the home are being found by many housewives who never before realized the ease with which they could banish irritation, monotony and drudgery from an old-time task.

They are learning how at practically no cost they can enjoy conveniences and advantages they formerly thought unobtainable. Household planning experts have perfected the method, available for any housewife.

Disused space in any basement becomes the most useful and popular spot in the home, under the new arrangement. The washer, which pays for itself in weekly cost savings, is the heart of a carefully planned layout that proves its value every "pink Monday." The rest of the time the same space is a recreation room. The sorting table and the ironing board shown are made to fold up against the wall. The color scheme often is adapted from the finish of the washer. The floor sometimes is painted for games. Children have a place to play safely and happily indoors in unpleasant weather.

Locating the space near an exit makes it easier to take the clothes out for the healthful open-air drying they should have every week. Any handy man can do most of the work of providing this new dual-purpose room. Washers are made in such a range of models and prices that it is simple for any family to fit its needs exactly, according to the American washing machine manufacturers' association.

Women who knew washers only as their mothers had them are surprised by the ease with which work is done in today's models. Afterward, the room is almost instantly made available again for other uses, without the tedious "redding up" always necessary in other days. There are ironers, operated by the washer or independently. Speaking-tube, clock, laundry chute and other equipment can be added as desired.

Joy in the sanitary, economical, thorough cleansing of clothes is only one of the benefits from using these simply-obtained facilities. All through every week the room continues to spread its satisfaction over the whole family.

They Can Do It

There has been some speculation as to how certain unemployed family providers could adjust themselves, if the opportunity arose, to work to which they are not accustomed. It has been said by some observers that the so-called "white-collar" man could never be expected to handle a pick or shovel as a means of livelihood.

Bosh! America does not breed that strain of humans and, please God, never will. The same type exists today as lived in 1917, and the type of men who left their offices to shoulder arms and suffer unbelievable hardships and privations in the field and under fire will find the shovel or pick of peace time a light burden, indeed.

Fired by a great duty—the care of their loved ones—and possessed of the great ideal that any decent man can retain his self respect while laboring decently, the "white-collar" will be found in a prominent place when the pick and shovels are issued.

In Vogue Today

Prepared for the Essex County Extension Service by Miss Afton Odell, Clothing Specialist.

The present mode featuring the defined waist line, the molded hip, and the longer skirts length has created an increased demand for clothes made in specialized sizes. The straight, one-piece garments of a few years past were comparatively simple to alter, since by merely raising or lowering the belt and hem line they were made suitable for either the short or tall figure. With the more intricate designs and form fitting cuts now in vogue, however, alterations, except in minor details, are unsatisfactory.

The exigencies arising from this change are not being overlooked by fashion experts. Manufacturers have recognized the needs of the short, the stout and the tall woman, and are now making dresses in half sizes ranging from 14½ to 22½ for the short figure and 30 to 52½ for the tall figure.

These dresses are designed not only to fit the individual but also to provide youthful and becoming styles. The short woman who finds clothes too long, shoulder seems too broad, cuffs extending over the hands and hip lines too scanty, might offset such difficulties in the future by selecting garments made in half sizes.

Among the most popular fabrics employed in these dresses for mid-season are the prints, plain colored cantons, and sheer crepes.

The better quality dresses show simplicity of line treatment with interest centered on smart details. Asymmetric designs are favored, many with diagonal treatments cleverly manipulated to give unusual perpendicular effects. Insets of knitted sections in the skirt, and line tuckings are attractive self-trims.

The dress with a short jacket is one of the favorite models made in specialized sizes. If selecting this type of garment it is important to note carefully the length of the jacket, which should not terminate at the largest part of the hip line. Color contrast at this point should also be avoided. Jabots, narrow revers, and vestees in contrasting color or fabric are important details that are achieving popularity.

Sleeves with tight fitting cuffs, trimmed with tucks or contrasting color applied to extend diagonally from the wrist, are flattering and effective on the tailored frock.

Since well-styled garments, pro-

Bring Luscious Freshness Into Your Winter Meals

TODAY'S cook-craft is as modern as the wonderful electric servants which science has introduced into the housewife's kitchen.

Diet-wise wives and mothers know that we need substantial fare to satisfy appetites sharpened by crisp, cold days. But they know also that hearty food must be balanced by a daily supply of luscious juicy citrus fruits, not only for their precious and essential minerals and vitamins, but for the vital, sure protection against winter ills which citrus fruits give us.

We all love our "goodies" not only in holiday time but throughout the winter. Let us have them, by all means, but let us plan our menus so that in either a salad, a dessert or in a fruit appetizer we get some health giving citrus fruit at least once a day. Here is a Miami Delight, a favorite in big Florida hotels—it makes an ideal dessert to serve after a hearty roast. Or, Orange pie—a new note in winter pies. If there are children too young for pie crust, save them some of the filling as a pudding. Or, for a change, a Florida salad with a delicious Orange Dressing.

Orange Pie
1 cup sugar 2 oranges and rind
5 eggs 1 lemon
Beat egg yolks into sugar one at a time. Add orange and lemon juice and rind. Fold in stiffly beaten whites, pour into a baked pie crust and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 to 35 minutes.

Florida Salad
2 large grapefruit A few fresh or 4 oranges canned figs
Separate fruit into pieces and arrange on crisp lettuce with figs. Serve with a French dressing made with lemon juice and a suggestion of powdered sugar (one teaspoon to a half cup of dressing).

Orange Juice French Dressing
Juice of 1 orange ½ teaspoon salt
Juice of 2 lemons ½ teaspoon pep-2 tablespoons per sugar A dash of paprika
¾ cup olive oil
Combine the seasonings with the fruit juices and mix with the oil. Beat with egg beater before using.

Funeral Services Held Saturday For Former Councilman G. W. Daniels Had A Varied Political Career, Being Elected First Republican Councilman In Democratic Stronghold, Second Ward

Former Councilman George W. Daniels died last Wednesday at the home of his daughters, the Mrs. Edna and Elizabeth Stump. The cause of death was heart failure, after an illness of nineteen months.

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Peter's R. C. Church last Saturday morning. Burial was in St. Peter's cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth, and two daughters, the Mrs. Edna Stump and Mrs. Elizabeth Stump.

Mr. Daniels had a varied political career, having been elected constable of Belleville in 1907. Again, in 1913, he was elected Republican Councilman from the second ward, being the first Republican to hold public office from that Democratic stronghold.

While a member of the Town Council in 1913, the present Town Hall was built.

He was a member of the Pressman's Big Six Union in New York for forty-five years, and a member of the Belleville Lodge of Elks for the past fifteen years. For the past twenty-eight years he has resided in Belleville.

The following were pallbearers: John Stump, Fred Stump, O. A. Current, E. J. Moniot, William Fabian, and R. Apgar.

The following is the list of honorary pallbearers: E. E. Mathes, Lawrence Keenan, Joseph Martell, John F. Coogan, Sr., Thomas Fleming, John De Graw, Abram L. Myers, Frank Carragher, E. W. Christie, Frederick Pertsch, E. W. Bechtoldt and Harold Miller.

Louis King

Louis King of New York City was stricken fatally with a heart attack Saturday night while winding a clock club room of the parish house, on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock. The directress, Mrs. J. Harry Edwards will preside.

7:45 P. M.—Evening Preaching service. The pastor will speak on: "Wait." All folks are invited to the services of the old church.

Tuesday, 7:30 P. M.—Intermediate C. E. Devotional meeting in the chapel. Miss Agnes Johnston is the teacher of this class.

Wednesday, 4 P. M.—Junior C. E. Class conducted by Miss Louise Spatz and Miss Grace Marling.

Wednesday, 8 P. M.—Congregational Prayer Service. All folks are invited to this meeting of spiritual matters.

Sunday, January 31—Dr. Rev. W. W. Giles will give the address to the young people. Rev. Giles is an outstanding orator. You will like to hear him.

Sunday, February 7—W. R. Parmer, Superintendent of the Belleville Schools, will be the speaker on Christian Education.

February 3—The annual Christian Endeavor Banquet will be held in the chapel. All reservations must be made by February 1. Tickets will be $1.—Governor A. Harry Moore will be the speaker.

Several men of Belleville Reformed Church were relieved of valuables at the church Sunday night by an expert at picking pockets. Wallets were taken from inside coat pockets and buttoned hip pockets and though the men knew they were exposed to the light-fingered operator they were not aware until they were told of it that they had been victimized.

However, it was only a demonstration by a past master at the racket who has reformed and who was the speaker at the gathering. The church members all got their valuables back.

The moral of the demonstration was given by the speaker, Michael Hickey, in the advice to his hearers to carry their money only in an inside vest pocket if they wanted to be sure it was safe from pickpockets. Hickey is president of the League of Another Chance of New York. He advised the women of his audience to carry their handbags tightly under their arms.

Before his conversion in Jerry McCauley's Mission Hickey had served twenty-seven years in prison. He was a worker in the Bowery Y. M. C. A. nine years before taking his present position some years ago. He spoke briefly of his career and outlined the work of the league. He concluded with a plea for the man just out of prison looking for a job and the chance to go straight.

Montclair—8 Hillside Avenue.
Newark—65 Roseville Avenue.

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 17, 1932.

The Golden Text is: "This is the record, that God hath given us to eternal life, and this life is in his Son." (I John 5: 11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid." (Psalms 27: 1-2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When it is learned that disease cannot destroy life, and that mortals are not saved from sin or sickness by death, this understanding will quicken into newness of life. It will master either a desire to die or a dread of the grave, and thus destroy the great fear that besets mortal existence." (p. 426).

Squirrels Racing In Attack Banish Sleep

The town lacks an official squirrel catcher, hence Town Clerk John J. Daly is casting around for information to help out Joseph Grande of 54 Tappan avenue. The latter appealed to Daly, after a week without sleep, he declared, because squirrels race around his attic nights in "twos and multitudes."

Daly was willing to help, but he didn't know what to do unless some townsman could be found with a dog or cat proficient enough with mice and rats to scare the squirrels beyond the eaves.

Evening Of Music Arranged By Grace World Wide Guild

Mrs. Lorena Clark Will Be In Charge Of Affair,
January 29

Sponsored by the Senior World Wide Guild of Grace Baptist Church and coached and trained by Mrs. Lorena Clark, a former Belleville resident, now residing in Arlington, an evening of music will be presented at the social hall of the church January 29, at 8 P. M.

Mrs. Clark will present three well known soloists: Mrs. George Forsyth, contralto; Miss Althea Struble, soprano, and Mrs. George Beaumach, soprano, of Arlington. Mrs. Marcus Kertz will accompany Miss Jean O Tallman, a well known violinist, will, at this entertainment, be heard in a number of violin selection, and George Beaumach of Arlington will be the violinist of the evening. Miss Struble will direct a chorus of about fifteen children's voices. Between the curtains there will be recitations by Misses Ethel Bryan and Alice Nord, also little Margo and Judith Hyde will present their offerings in the way of childish recitations. About sixty will take part.

Mrs. Clark is very well known in Belleville as a prominent worker not only in the church but in Girl Scout work, and this is the third time she has presented a musical evening to the public. Songs will include "old timers," modern and classics.

Surprise Party

Mrs. Mary Scott of 166 Tappan avenue was guest of honor at a surprise party given in her home Tuesday night by her two sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Scott of the Tappan avenue address, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Scott of 279 DeWitt avenue. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Daly of Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. William Leahy, William Laird, Mrs. Dennis Dunn, Jr., Francis Downey of Kearny and Miss Jewel Dunn of Arlington. The affair was a perfect surprise for Mrs. Scott as were the many beautiful gifts received. Bride and enche were played and refreshments served at a late hour.

Getting Up Nights

Is Nature's Danger Signal. Make this 25c test. Drive out impurities and excess acids that cause irritation resulting in leg pains, backache, burning and bladder irregularities. Bu-kets, containing buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., works pleasantly and effectively on the bladder as castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c test box (grain size) from any druggist. After four days, if not relieved of getting up nights go back and get your money. You are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep.

EVERYMAN'S CLASS WILL CONDUCT A TEN WEEKS' ATTENDANCE BATTLE

The Everyman's Bible Class which meets at 9:30 o'clock each Sunday morning in Masonic Temple, Jerusalem street, has started a campaign to get men of town within its folds.

General Arthur Kunze of the Red Army has issued a challenge to General Wilson of the Blue Army for an attendance contest for a period of ten weeks, total attendance to decide the battle.

The loser will entertain the victor at the conclusion of the contest. All arrangement will be made by the losing army.

All men of Belleville, regardless of denomination are invited to pay the class a visit, enroll in the ranks of the armies and participate in the contest.

The class is being reorganized and a new constitution will be presented next Sunday. It is contemplated dividing the work of the class into four departments to be in charge of a vice president.

The officers of the class are as follows: President, William H. Bradshaw; vice presidents, H. Moeller, E.

Wakefield and John B. Brown; treasurer, I. Cornell; financial secretary, A. N. Horne and secretary, F. Schofield.
