"No Cooperation" Says Walsh

MANY ATTEND BANQUET OF V. F. W. AND AUXILIARY

The banquet and testimonial dinner of past commander George Perks and past president of Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. Josephine McKenna of the George A. Younginger Post, No. 275, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held on Saturday evening, February 20, at Neary's banquet hall.

The large banquet hall was filled to capacity by the members of both organization, their escorts and distinguished guests.

Incidentally the great success of the affair can be attributed to the fact that Dr. B. A. Jacobson, a member of the Post, acting as toastmaster and master of ceremonies, kept the entire assemblage on edge with his stories and keen bits of humor.

He established a ritual and precedent by having all stand at attention, the bugler playing taps, while he eulogized George A. Younginger, the comrade after whom the Post is named, and one of the first of the Belleville contingent to be killed in action.

He then introduced the honorary Younginger?rod nildudurdududud members of the organization: A. Younginger, the father of the soldier the post is named after. Mrs. Vreeland, an honorary member of the Ladies' Auxiliary, by virtue of being a Gold Star Mother; John J. Barrett, and Joseph Wells, as veterans of the Civil War; George Der-ringer, Sr., Spanish American War Veteran.

He then introduced all the past commanders of the post for honorable mention: Comrades Hugh Patterson, John Morgan, Fred Singer, Bill Hyzak and George Cole, and the past presidents of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. Teresa Singer, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. G. Derringer.

The distinguished speakers of the evening were: Congressman Fred A. Mrs. Isd rdu d rur hl dardududl Hartley; the National Junior Vice Commander of the V. F. W., B. Van Zant; State Department Commander, William Fay; State Junior Vice Commander, M. Cohen; State Department President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, of the V. F. W., Mrs. Amelia Pelu-sion; Past State Department President, Mrs. Mary Huddy; Assemblyman Ernest F. Massini. Other prominent speakers were Town Clerk John J. Daly; F. Julian, adjutant of the post, and Judge George Fitzsimmons, present commander of the post and Mrs. Addy Yochim, present president of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Dr. Jacobson then made a presentation of a beautiful hand bag to the past president, Mrs. Josephine

Three Of Commission Reject News' Offer Kenworthy, Clark And Waters Prefer To Spend In Nutley Paper

The town of Belleville—that is the three who run it—Mayor Samuel Sampson Kenworthy and Commissioners William D. Clark and Patrick A. Waters have taken no official action to turn down the News offer to save the taxpayers money by printing legal advertising free for three months.

They, however, expressed themselves in no uncertain terms that they would rather spend the taxpayers' money to use a Nutley paper, Tuesday night, it's the Nutley Times said Mr. Waters.

Of course, this paper realizes their gesture is nothing short of a gesture.

Commissioner William D. Clark said we are not sincere.

How sincere are you, Commissioner?

In future issues this newspaper intends to tell how much has been spent by these three for advertising that the town could have had for nothing.

The board minces no words about unemployment, another factor about which we will speak later. How many unemployed could have been given work with the money we would

What A Politician

We now hear that Samuel Sampson Kenworthy will be a candidate for the sheriff's office. Let's see when did we hear about our friend, Sammy, who is MAYOR.

Oh, yes. We remember. It was last June. The MAYOR stacked up against our TRUANT OFFICER.

What happened? The MAYOR, as usual, lost.

Leadership, Is The Topic Of Young Peoples' Fellowship

Arthur Layne, Lyndhurst, Addressed Group, Sunday, At Christ Church

The topic "Leadership" was delivered into and brought home to the members of the Young Peoples' Fellowship of the Christ Episcopal Church, Sunday night, at the chapel, by Arthur Layne of Lyndhurst. Mr. Layne, an old favorite of the group, delivered his half-hour talk in both convincing and interesting fashion.

The need of the right type of leaders in any line of endeavor, leaders that can not only head followers, but who can develop other leaders, was a particular item of note in Mr. Layne's digression. He used the three nautical "ships," leadership, marksmanship and seamanship, as his means of conveying to the Fellowship the impression that all three qualities were needed as a means to an end. In conclusion, he opined that every organization should have some definite aim, some clearly-defined goal. Several instances of the setting of these marks in other young peoples' groups were cited by him.

The Fellowship will travel as a group to St. Barnabas' Church in Newark, next Sunday evening, to attend a joint meeting, with the fellowship of that church. Mr. J. Henry Whent will address the combined organization in this meeting, which will begin at 6:45 P. M.

Virginia Crockett, Jeanne Patrick and Leonard Hodgkinson comprise a reading committee of the Fellowship, which has been organized for the purpose of obtaining material for a play, to be staged in the near future.

Red Bird Tribe Place Wreath At Statue Of Washington

Local Men Are Members Of Group Which Participated In Newark

Red Bird Tribe, No. 282, Improved Order of Red Men, placed a wreath on Washington's statue, Newark, on Monday, in honor of the birthday of George Washington, Father of our Country.

The Red Men delegation was headed by Deputy First Sachem Henry D. Riepe, Jr., of Belleville, and Post Sachem, Bernard H. Bach; Sachem Patrick Fitzgerald, Clarence Cole, Samuel and Adam Yorgor of Newark.

The Red Men were represented by a large delegation from all over Newark and vicinity, feeling it was only just to have the Red Men pay all homage to the Father of our country, as they also fought for liberty, having descended from the band of Indians, (Sons of Liberty, Order of Red Men), who dumped the English tea into the harbor at the well known Boston Tea party.

Regular Republican Club Met Friday

Membership Drive Started Under Capable Committee

The Regular Republican Club of Belleville held its regular meeting last Friday night at the Elks' Club. Regular business was discussed and a membership drive has been inaugurated under the supervision of the membership committee.

A very spirited talk was given by August Klein on "Bread Wagons and Chain Stores vs. the Independent Merchants," citing the way the chains "hog" all the business.

The house committee has arranged for the second Wednesday in the month as the regular meeting night of the organization in the meeting room in the Elks' club.

The next meeting is March 3. The entertainment committee will serve refreshments and there will be several speakers whose names will be announced at a later date.

We are equipped to clean your store or office windows. Residences a specialty. Special rates by the month. Belleville Window Cleaning Co., 168 Washington avenue. Phone Belleville 3945.

Bi-Centennial Program Here Was Marked In A Way Different From Other Towns

There Were No Indoor Exercises And No Parades, But A Comprehensive Program Of Tree Planting

Belleville marked the bicentennial in a way quite different from the observances in most towns. There were no indoor exercises and no parades, but instead a comprehensive program of tree-planting will be carried out over a period of several weeks.

Monday, about twenty trees were planted on the east side of Hornblower avenue, between Holmes street and Van Houten place. Fraternal, civic and social organizations had a part in the ceremonies, which were directed by Vincent Walsh of 130 Hornblower avenue, a student at the U. S. Army War College at

Local Drug Store Has A Novel Scheme Of Advertising

Karlin's Up To The Minute With Telephone Idea

Something new in window displays is shown at Karlin's Drug Store, 120 Washington avenue this week. Mr. Karlin has secured through the co-operation of the Telephone Company twenty-five telephones with attached cords, all of the latest designs. These phones have brought many queries as to whether or not Mr. Karlin is acting as Belleville agent for the phone company. He explains that the idea he wishes to bring out is that his store is just as close to you as your telephone and all you have to do to secure your drug and medical needs at cut rates is to pick up your telephone and state your wants.

Be prepared for a call from him soliciting your patronage. Mr. Karlin's regular weekly advertisement appears on another page in which are listed a few of his regular prices.

Rehearsals Under Way For Play, 'Cock Robin'

Authors Have Put Their Best Into "Different" Play

Rehearsals are under way for "Cock Robin", the seventh production given by the Wemec Dramatic Club, April 8, at the High School auditorium.

Having been more than successful in producing the light comedy plays, the Wemecs, after a very careful selection, have hit on a 1928 Broadway mystery success. The authors of "Cock Robin," those two famous playwrights, Elmer Rice and Philip Barry, have put their very best efforts in this "different" play. Without a doubt the faithful following of the Wemecs will, after seeing this seventh success, strongly agree that "they've done it again"—rivaling a Broadway cast!

Also note that there will be dancing after the performance.

Man And Son Hurt

A Bloomfield man and his son were injured when the automobile in which they were riding late on Thursday skidded in Joramelon street near Hornblower avenue, and struck a tree. George Lawton of 156 Baldwin street, suffered head bruises and a severed artery at the left temple. His son Rollen, fifteen, sustained lacerations of the left knee.

Both were treated by Dr. Martin Meehan and the father was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, in the police ambulance by Patrolmen Flynn and Smith. Mrs. Ann Brough of 166 Baldwin street, Mr. Lawton's sister, was driving the car.

O. R. Ebel To Speak At Grace Baptist

Service Will Be In Charge Of The Men's Club

O. R. Ebel, former leader of Everyman's Bible Class, will speak at the Grace Baptist Church, Sunday evening, February 28, 1932, at 7:45 o'clock sharp. Services will be in charge of the Men's Club.

The club is most fortunate in securing Mr. Ebel, who will have a message worth while. Every body is cordially invited to attend.

Clark's Departments Scored In Bi-Centennial Matter

Vincent Walsh of 130 Hornblower avenue, home on furlough from the U. S. Officers' Training School in Washington to try to give Belleville a fitting part in the George Washington Bi-Centennial celebration feels he was snubbed by the local town officials.

He went at length he says to get trees from historical spots and got no cooperation from the officials.

Tuesday night at the commission meeting he upset the equilibrium of Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and William D. Clark, director of Public Safety for a fare-thee-well.

Mr. Walsh hurled a bombshell right at the Mayor when he said he would request that he not be interrupted until he got off what he had to say. The Mayor ups and says: "Well, we may have occasion to interrupt you."

Which was that?

Mr. Walsh proceeded.

"Is it a crime to honor Washington in this town?" he queried. "One would think so. I asked permission to burn off a lot to plant trees on private property on John C. Lloyd's property. I was told by a police officer 'to get off and stay off, you have no business there.' I had tried to get permission from the fire department. I was told to go to the police. I was chased around in circles."

"I brought thirty-two trees to Belleville from historical places, two from very near the grave of the unknown Soldier."

"I've never seen a police department like the one here. If a tourist ever stopped here to inquire for directions I would feel sorry for him. I have a good mind to prefer charges. The police should be taught to be courteous. I was given nothing but abuse. They should be taught they are public servants and not the public servants of them."

Mr. Walsh said he had addressed a letter to the board in 1931, asking cooperation.

Home Robbed

Mrs. Mary Watson of 16 Howard place, reported to the police Friday, that her apartment had been ransacked Thursday night and $35 to $40 and jewelry valued at more than $200 stolen. Patrolman Nourse investigated, finding entry had been by key.

Mrs. Watson said she discovered the loss when she returned to her home at 9 P. M. Jewelry reported missing included a gold watch and dinner ring, a platinum stickpin and cuff links of that metal.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Miss Helen Oppenlander from National Headquarters, visited Belleville on Tuesday evening and was guest of honor at a dinner tendered by the Girl Scout Council of Belleville.

Local headquarters looked very attractive with new rugs on freshly painted floors. The tables were arranged in a large T shape with Mrs. William P. Adams, Commissioner, presiding. The officers were seated at the head table facing the room. The tables were gaily decorated in red, white and blue, with colonial hats filled with salted nuts and a candy hatchet at each place. Red tulips and red, white and blue candles in tall silver holders stood down the center of the tables.

Mrs. Walter Warwick and Mrs. Raymond Dixon had prepared a wonderful dinner which was greatly enjoyed by those present. At the close of the meal, Miss Oppenlander spoke to the council members on the duties of the council, and its various committees. She explained a new method of paying the quota that will be put in operation this year. Instead of a $10 fee for each Troop, a flat rate will be charged and twenty-five cents for each Girl Scout. She thinks it more advisable to have more troops with a smaller membership than less troops with a large membership. She also announced the spring conference of Regions 1 and 2 will be held at Atlantic City on May 6, 8 and 7.

Those present were: Commissioner Mrs. William P. Adams; Deputy Commissioner Mrs. Charles Kelly; Secretary Mrs. Harvey B. Thompson; Treasurer Mrs. William Englehardt; and guests, Miss Oppenlander, Mrs. Homer Zink, Mrs. J. W. Harwarth, Mrs. R. H. Holtz, Mrs. John

Howell, Mrs. Frank Ackerman, Mrs. George Gregson, Mrs. Walter Warwick, Mrs. Raymond Dixon, and Mrs. M. T. Holden, director.

Girl Scouts who served were: Lena Roviello, Edna Holden, Jessie Redden and Alice Strack.

Girl Scouts taking part in the program at the dedication of the Washington Tree at the Public Library last Tuesday afternoon were: Millie Roviello, Edna Heyl, Elsie Brown, Myra Zink, Lorna Zink, Margaret Fitzpatrick, Virginia Breunlich, Dolores Sauvan, Gladys Reyle, Edith Ackerman and Maisie Sloan.

The members of the Court of Honor of Troop No. 7 surprised the Troop at its meeting last Thursday evening with a party. No one knew a thing about it. After the opening ceremony, various "party" games were enjoyed. Then a large circle was formed, the Court of Honor left the room and lo, in they came—bearing ice cream, a bag of fancy cakes and jelly beans for each Girl Scout.

The Court of Honor met at the home of their Lieutenant, Miss Helen Colehamer on Friday evening. It was decided to hold a "dish towel supper" at their next meeting. The Girl Scouts will come at 6 P. M. each bringing her plate, cup, saucer and silver wrapped in a dish towel. Supper will be served, then after eating, each Scout will go to the kitchen with used dishes and use that dish towel, after washing the dishes. Dolores Sauvan is chairman, in charge of this supper.

Those present at this meeting were: Clara Mae Brodhead, Dolores and Bertha Sauvan, Ruth Brodhead, Alice Nordeck, Augusta Vernsing, Marcella Ferguson, Bernice Ehrlich, Miss Colehamer and Captain Lorena Clark.

SCHOOLS

By WILLIAM GRAY

A special assembly was held at the high school last Friday afternoon to celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

W. R. Farmer, supervisor of schools, addressed the student body on "Washington, the Man." The most important thought expressed by Mr. Farmer was that Washington was not only celebrated as a leader in war, but also as a leader in peace. Another interesting bit of information given by Mr. Farmer was that the first regular sailors in the Colonial navy, were from the old Essex County, New Jersey Regiment.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the high school, held its regular meeting in the school Tuesday night at 8:15 o'clock.

"Health Among High School Pupils" was the topic discussed at the meeting; "Dental Health," being a major question. A group of pupils from Mrs. A. Gibson's freshman home room presented a short play entitled "The Fatal Quest."

The assembly of School No. 9 was filled beyond its capacity at the Washington Bi-centennial program last Friday night.

Lawrence Keenan, speaking on Washington, pointed out how George Washington withstood the opposition from his officers and other trying difficulties during the days of the Revolution. It is Mr. Keenan's belief that the people of today can face their present problems with the same degree of fortitude as Washington did.

At the regular assembly, Friday afternoon, a sound and talking picture will be shown in connection with a seventh grade history program.

A New Seasoner for Steak

By Jane Rogers

THE next time you want to serve a particularly delicious steak, try using a small amount of sugar as one of the seasoners. Without sweetening, the sugar seals the juices behind a crisp brown crust, and thus preserves every bit of the flavor. Select a thick steak and rub into it a mixture of one teaspoon each of salt and sugar and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Brush a hot skillet or broiler with fat and place the steak to cook. Turn now and then until done to your taste. Serve on a hot platter, dotting butter over the meat before serving.

or Moore to seek federal aid for municipalities in the administration of unemployment relief.

Resolutions of Director Williams of the Department of Revenue and Finance were passed by the commission, authorizing Tax Collector Knapp to receive partial or full payment of taxes or assessments before the due date to give proper receipt therefore and six per cent discount, in the manner adopted by Perth Amboy.

Williams said he knew of $50,000 in 1932 taxes which would be paid immediately on this basis, and thus relieve the town to some extent of "casting around" for the financing of tax anticipation bonds. The director was authorized to issue such bonds, up to $200,000 toward the $719,650 to be raised by taxation this year.

An analysis of Belleville's economic status set forth by the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association in a letter to John A. Reyle, executive secretary of the Hilltop Improvement Association of Belleville, was submitted to the board. According to the analysis, the board had apparently made "an honest attempt" to reduce operating costs this year to the minimum, but nevertheless appeared to be "floundering in a labyrinth of debt, with no definite plan for putting the municipal government on a substantial business basis." Williams' comment was the conclusion was made without knowing what is being done toward placing the town on a business basis, which is exactly the present program.

Mr. Reyle's Correspondence to and from the association is as follows:

Excerpts from the letter dated January 23, 1932, from the Hilltop Improvement Association to the N. J. Taxpayers Association, asking for technical analysis of budget follows:

Another matter that is causing us some concern is this unemployment relief. The amount for Belleville is $65,000 for unemployment relief, and $32,000 for dependency relief. A good part of the $65,000 is to be used in construction of sewers, water repairs, street cleaning minor repairs to streets, and other various jobs that would be ordinarily done by town forces at day wages. The money for this work was appropriated and financed by notes.

"Our theory is that the unemployed are doing work that would ordinarily be done by town forces for which an appropriation in the budget is necessary. Therefore the budget appropriation in the sewer maintenance, fire and police maintenance accounts should be reduced by the estimated amount that would be saved by having this work done by the unemployed whose salaries would come out of the accounts set up for unemployment relief. In other words, the unemployment relief account is set up to do this work, the money not controlled by the budget as it is financed by notes, and there is no reason why it should be set up again in the budget anticipating that the work will be done as before by town labor. I would appreciate the benefit of any information you have on hand as to what other communities or towns are doing in this respect, or what recommendations the association has set up with regard to this problem of unemployment relief.

Addition to municipal building. Cleaning and repairing Third River Park for swimming pool. Repairing Municipal Skating Rink at Riviera Park.

*Laying of storm water sewers. *Patching penetrations streets. *Tarring asphaltic joints in concrete paving.

Grading various dirt street. Repairing and over-hauling equipment in department of Public Works. *Placing and painting street poles and signs.

*Painting and greasing fire hydrants. Removal and cutting of poplar trees for firewood.

*Repairing storm drains and culverts. Straightening and raising sidewalks. Resetting curbs.

Planting trees Erie R. R. Station etc. Lowering water boxes. *Painting fire alarm boxes, traffic signals, warning signs, police boxes and traffic safety boxes.

*Renewing and repairing various ground rods, ground lines and conduits of fire and police signal system.

Building and painting dead end street fences. Replacing school zone signs. Cleaning of dumping grounds.

*Checking of present residence addresses and correcting maps to conform to same.

*Tabulation of delinquent personal taxes and unpaid assessments in Department of Revenue and Finance. Checking, typing and indexing various records of the Municipal Clerk's office.

Trimming and spraying trees. *Cleaning street.

Assistance in Poor Department. Those items marked (*) are items that we believe would ordinarily be done by town forces at town wages and although the resolution states that the above is being done by the unemployed, there is nothing in the budget to indicate that the town employees are doing the work. There is no reduction in the maintenance accounts.

A letter from the New Jersey Taxpayers Association follows: Mr. John A. Reyle, Secretary of the Executive Comm., Hilltop Improvement Association, Belleville, N. J. Dear Sir:

We wish to acknowledge receipt of your communication of the 28th ult., relative to the budget of the Town of Belleville. We have studied your letter and the information enclosed, and submit herewith the following comments on the situation:

The Town of Belleville is operated under the Commission form of government. The tentative budget, expenditures for each department are prepared by the commissioners in charge and the commission, acting as a committee of the whole, finally decides on the budget to be adopted. The commissioners have apparently made an honest effort to reduce the budget expenditures for 1932 to a minimum, and have, as a matter of fact, made some reductions which are dangerous and not for the best interest of the town. While the commission as a whole is endeavoring to save the day by these reductions, it is doubtful if they will succeed, as they must return to fundamentals and "set their house in order," before any lasting results can be obtained. One glance at the items in non-departmental expenditures and appropriations for debt service will show you what we mean. These items represent a jumble of appropriations for debt, debt, debt, as well as for miscellaneous expenditures which have no place in the budget of a well organized and administered community. In other words, it would appear to us that the commission is floundering around in a labyrinth of debt, with no definite plan or system for putting the municipal government on a substantial business basis.

The following table of anticipated revenues and budget appropriations tells the story:

Item	1930	1931	*1932
Budget Appropriations	$713,000.00	$830,406.73	$909,385.86
Anticipated Revenue	206,000.00	197,539.80	177,485.86
Amount to be Raised by Tax
Levy	$507,000.00	$632,866.93	$732,900.00
Debt Service	218,432.07	347,194.62	459,819.37
Budget Expenditures less Debt Service	499,567.93	483,212.16	449,566.49

*Tentative Figures.

The above table discloses the fact that while the commission is endeavoring to keep down the expenditures, the budget appropriations are increasing by leaps and bounds, which is, necessarily, reflected in the tax rate.

From the budget submitted, it would appear that the expenditures cannot be further materially reduced. However sincere, there are no detailed figures available for study, this statement must be made advisedly. On the other hand, the appropriations for health service and street maintenance are reduced to dangerously low minimums.

We believe the proposed reductions in the budget, made possible, as suggested in your letter, by money appropriated for unemployment relief, which funds are secured through temporary loans, to be wrong in principle. As we understand your letter, it is proposed to finance certain necessary recurring expenditures by using the unemployment relief funds, thereby reducing the budget appropriations to that extent. This would simply mean that the town would be financing its regular recurring expenditures by means of borrowing and that no unemployment relief would be accomplished. Unemployment relief funds financed by temporary loans should be used for capital improvement work or other work which, presumably would not be done otherwise, thereby furnishing real relief for unemployment and be in addition to the other regular work. If it is not done in this way, it should not be done at all, because borrowing money for ordinary recurring expenditures of the municipal government should not be tolerated, and this plan would be identical with financing operating deficits by issuing funding bonds.

We agree with your suggestion that the appropriation for "Combustibles" be eliminated from the budget and the work redistributed. It is believed that the item for Engineering Department supplies, amounting to $1,350 is higher than necessary and could be reduced by 50 per cent without crippling the work.

The Police Department costs $91,000 a year. We believe that the police force could be reduced considerably and still provide ample police protection. No information is available as to salaries paid. A study should be made of this situation. The budget carries an appropriation of $4,700 for fire hydrants as a credit to the water department. It is presumed this is hydrant rental. If it is, this amount is insufficient to cover the service rendered.

The League of New Jersey Municipalities should be (if they are not) performing a valuable service to the municipalities in the state. We do not feel that we are in a position to advise you as to the League at the present time.

It is believed that the appropriations for Memorial Day and Armistice Day should be eliminated, as these celebrations can be readily financed by private subscription. The amount involved is $600.

The tentative budget carries an appropriation of $4,931.97 for printing and publishing of 1928 to 1930. Can this be for unpaid bills, or what is it for? This should be investigated.

Water Department:

The Town of Belleville owns its own water distribution system but buys its water from the City of Newark, as we understand it. The expenditures of the water department are not budgeted. Water bills are issued twice a year.

The budget for 1930 showed the amount of $7,000 as "Water Surplus" included in anticipated revenues; the budget for 1931 showed the amount of $16,728.40 as "Water Surplus" included in anticipated revenues; while the budget for 1932 showed nothing for water surplus on the revenue side, but does show an appropriation of $27,188.60 as "1930 Water Department Operating Loss." This item in the 1932 budget would indicate that the water department is operating at a loss at the present time, consequently it is not self-supporting. It is eminently unfair to place a portion of the cost of maintaining and operating a water department on the general property tax roll, as the water consumers should bear the entire cost of its operation and maintenance.

We should also like to call your attention to the fact that the water department should be budgeted; that hydrant rentals should be increased to an amount commensurate with the service performed; that the utility should pay toward the support of the town government an amount equivalent to the taxes that would be paid if the plant were privately owned; that the taxes should be increased sufficiently to make the department self-sustaining; and that the billing should be changed to either quarterly or monthly. In fact, it is recommended that thorough study be made of the water department at the earliest possible moment with the idea of installing a new set of rates, based on the service charge method, which would place the department on a self-sustaining basis. The study suggested would also set up the other recommendations made herein and determine conclusively whether there was any waste or extravagance either from over-manning or from other sources.

We also urge that a survey be made of the town's affairs immediately in order that a way may be pointed out to place the municipality on a business-like basis as soon as possible. We believe that the commissioners mean all right, but that they are confusing the issue, and instead of getting to the root of the financial troubles they are experiencing, they are grasping at straws in an attempt to correct the situation by reducing essential services. The business affairs of the town must be put in order or its credit will be forfeited, as the people of this community cannot possibly be expected to pay the ever increasing tax bill.

Yours very truly,

A. R. EVERSON,

Executive Secretary.

SOMETHING LACKING

"Shall we go to this particular resort?"
"Well I don't know. The booklet plays up strongly on the sunset, the rainbows, and the cloud effects, but contains very few specifications as to the beds, the bath, and the fodder."

THOSE DEAR GIRLS

"George asked me to marry him."
"I'm sorry to hear it."
"Why?"
"Poor fellow he told me only last week that if he couldn't raise money by yesterday, he'd have to do something desperate."

HER REWARD

"My wife reads the marriage notices carefully every day. Wouldn't miss a day for worlds."
"Why not?"
"Oh, about once every six years somebody gets married that she knows."

HIS PREFERENCE

"How many lumps of sugar would you like in your tea?"
"Two lumps and only one caterpillar, if you please."

ACCOMPLISHMENT

Arene Chapter Gleanings

Members and their friends are planning to attend the unique English tea at the home of Mrs. Mary Page, 4 DeWitt avenue, this afternoon. Yes, of course, they will all have their fortunes told by Mrs. Caroline Putscher.

The bi-centennial George Washington birthday social hour following the regular meeting of Arene Chapter, O. E. S. Monday night was well attended. Mrs. Helen Proven, chairman of the entertainment committee, was in charge. After the business session Worthy Matron Mrs. Stella Kroesen turned the social hour over to Mrs. Proven.

Tribute to George Washington in honor of the bi-centennial was given by the two color bearers, Mrs. Gladys Louer and Miss Julia Starzmann. Mrs. Laura Fitzherbert in colonial costume gave a beautiful tribute to Washington entitled: "We Can't Forget."

Twelve tables were in play with many who visited and enjoyed a social hour. Assisting Mrs. Proven were Mrs. Fitzherbert, Mrs. Mildred Bangert, Mrs. Elizabeth DeGroat, Mrs. Ruby Schmeltz, Mrs. Georgina Edwards, Mrs. Cecile Oswald, Mrs. Anna Everett, Mrs. Lulu Hoskins and Mrs. Ada Polley.

Andrew Hagara

Andrew Hagara, 57, of 270 Ralph street, died of complications after a short illness. He was born in Magosliget, Szatarmegy, Hungary and had lived in Newark twenty-four years and has been a resident of Belleville since 1926. He is survived by his wife, Ida, and five sons and two daughters.

Services will be held at 84 Broad street, Newark, on Saturday, February 27. The Rev. Joseph Malasies will officiate. Interment will be in East Ridgeland Cemetery.

State Association for the rally to be held in Belleville on March 7.

Mr. Everson recently announced the program of the state association to be as follows: To oppose all new taxation, to continue and enlarge campaign for reduction in costs of government; to work for repeal of all mandatory laws fixing the tenure of office, personnel or rates of public employees, including those of the Board of Education, to oppose continuation of the State mandate requiring counties and municipalities to match state grants in like amounts or any portion.

The chairman of the membership committee of the local association Howard L. Virtue, 30 Mertz avenue.

LOCAL MAN FACES DIVORCE

Edward Brill, 30, a collector, of 550 Washington avenue, bought things he couldn't pay for and then abused his wife when she remonstrated with him, according to her petition for alimony pending decision on her divorce action before Vice Chancellor Backes.

The wife, Mrs. Fanny Brill of Passaic charged in her petition, filed on Tuesday, that when she spoke to her husband about borrowing money and going into debt he chased her around the house and struck her. In denying her charge that she had to flee from their home for her own safety, Brill said he had asked her to move away from her parents' home to more modest quarters.

Little Theatre Guild

If the program did not disclose his identity as a member of the nobility, his spats and "tweaked" moustache would surely betray him. Mr. Lewis, as coach of the Guild's first production, "The Whole Town's Talking," was commended by everyone for the work he did in directing that play.

Donald Collard, chairman of the workshop group, and members of the Guild assisting him, have nearly completed the task of additional scenery and equipment. The great interest felt by the willingness to undertake the workshop duties in addition to the time spent at rehearsals.

Added to the patron list are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Chappel and Miss J. D. Bell. Patrons and associate members have received their tickets and Mrs. Theodore Clark, chairman of the house committee, announces that a limited number of tickets are available. These will be placed on sale at the door on the night of the performance or reservations may be made by communicating with Mrs. Clark, 221 Holmes street.

AND THEY CALL IT PUBLICITY

PROBABLY the most irksome task any editor has is to wade through a maze of copy from public, private and what have you publicity agents. But when it comes to a book of mimeographed bunk on what the 'Tree Planters' Club' or some insignificant semi official body is doing the already gray-haired chiseler of news is ready to tear out the few remaining locks.

It may not have been bunk that came through the mail Tuesday from the New Jersey State Park Commission, but it was thirty pages of lost motion so far as publication in this paper was concerned. Along with this article came sundry others about 100 pages. Any editor who has time to wade through such material literally has time on his hands or bats in his belfry.

The Park Commission data was labelled for release Wednesday, February 24, 1932. It was released in this office Tuesday, February 23, 1932, to the waste basket.

Last week the Bloomfield Independent Press suggested such agencies employ experienced newspaper men, who could boil down such lengthy material as to be of value to a newspaper and not push it out into the mails to letter carriers busy carting it around. We agree with the Bloomfield editor. We are becoming cynical and lose all composure when we spy such publicity around the office.

FLORIDA HAS THE LAUGH

THE Country has listened with considerable amusement to the occasional outbursts which features the permanent debate between Florida and California. Each of these much heralded lands of perpetual sunshine, tropical splendor and earthly bliss steadfastly maintains that it is the only place this side of Heaven so delightful, attractive, fertile and marvelous, and the rest of the Country, faced with such convincing arguments as the natives and publicity gentlemen of both states present, find it difficult to arrive at a verdict.

This year, however, Florida has had all the breaks. The weather man has mistreated the far Western state and Florida is enjoying the Californian's discomfiture. And the Californian is annoyed, make no mistake of that. He has a right to be, with his normally warm climate frequently punctuated with cold snaps that damage fruit crops and the mercury of his thermometer making disturbing and unaccustomed downward trips.

And so the Floridian sniffs his warm breezes and laughs toward the westward, remembering the times when the unexpected hand of Winter dropped down on his unprepared environment to leave him shivering and surveying the havoc left by the cold, while chuckling from the general direction of California jabbed him like an icicle. The Floridian never forgets, and today his newspapers make it a point to acquaint him with the latest pranks of the weather out West.

Possibly Florida deserves the "revenge." California has been the least bit contemptuous, pompous and conceited. She has spread many "tall" stories and has tried to convince the Country that she is a paradise where ordinary earthly things are unknown, and has not been above boosting her own stock at the expense of other states which do experience the vagaries of the weather. It may be that many others, while sympathizing with the loss suffered by the Californian agriculturists, will join the friends of Florida in sniling as she temporarily dismounts from her high horse.

PUBLIC HEALTH

by Dr. Edwin F. Hahn

ARTHRITIS

From the Greek word Arthros—a joint—and the terminal "itis" suggesting inflammation; inflammation of a joint. A well known and very general ailment, distributed all over the face of the globe and these are causing great discomfort, pain and incapacitating many people. A word often confounded with Neuritis and supposed by many to indicate an incurable condition.

The commonest cause of Arthritis is Rheumatism that complex poison that is developed within the body from some focal infection therein originating in the teeth, tonsils, or some part of the intestinal tract. Exposure to cold aggravates it by disturbing the circulation, but does not cause it. Always remember, that aside from those cases due to injury, arthritis is an infection coming from within. It may be confined to one joint or affect many joints when it is called polyarthritis. When deposits form in the joints with ulceration of the cartilages and local enlargement we call it Arthritis Deformans and this is a very serious and frequently, hopeless condition. From our observation over many years, it is our firm belief that the poison causing Arthritis originates mainly in the intestinal region; rarely, the teeth, tonsils or sinuses being the causative factor.

Well, then, when we have an attack of Arthritis what are we going to do for it? The first thing is to call in a good physician and let him do the diagnosing and treatment for that's his business and he knows more about those matters than do you. When any organ is inflamed it should be put at rest, so the best thing to do at once is to go to bed. Neglected cases of Rheumatism infection often cause irreparable damage to the heart and these are noted most in those patients who keep up and about too long. If there is much inflammation, cold water applications will give much relief, wrapping the part in wet cloths with a dry one above and changing when the wet ones are dry. Restrict your diet to plenty of liquid, cooked vegetables, steamed fruits and cereals and breads and let the doctor try and locate the source of infection and take steps to eliminate it or them. The serum or vaccine treatment should early be instituted for this offers the most rational treatment for the relief of this disease. In many cases, a series of colonic irrigations are of great benefit and at first some of the salicylate group of medicines are necessary to relieve the pain. Remember, however, that rest is all important and the sooner one realizes that an attack of arthritis may carry a lot of potential trouble the better for one. A great deal of research work is going on in the laboratories of the world to obtain a cure for this common disease and from reports therefrom, we believe that the future holds out a great deal of hope for the sufferers from this disease.

PUZZLE CORNER

At a recent election in Mudville 5,473 votes were polled. Mr. Whoosis was elected by a majority of 18 over Mr. Smith, by 146 over Mr. Brown, and by 575 over Mr. Doe. How many votes were polled for each candidate?

Solution to last week's puzzle.

The answer is "SUNDAY."

At the reading of Mr. Adamson's will it was found that he left to his sons a certain number of horses, to be divided as follows: To the first son one-fifth; to the second, one-third; to the third, two-fifths. They found that it would be impossible to divide the horses. However, an old lawyer, a friend of the family, offered one of his horses, so that the division could be made. After each had received his respective share, there remained an extra horse, which was returned to the lawyer. HOW MANY HORSES DID THE FATHER LEAVE?

No Apology Made

The Belleville News editor has offered to the police no apologies for any stories that have appeared in the News as regards Bill Entekin taking it on the chin. And furthermore he does not intend to offer any.

The News makes this statement because another sheet yesterday printed an article in which it said the editor of this newspaper apologized to the police. The editor is glad to clarify any story he is responsible for, but as far as apologies go he has not offered any and does not intend to offer any to anyone.

When the blundering tabloid says the editor of this paper went to police headquarters to apologize they, as usual, are all wet. The editor did go to headquarters for a friendly chat with Chief of Police Michael Flynn to tell him that the police stories are aimed at a clarification of the rumor about town that Deputy Director of Public Safety William Entekin is still taking it on the chin. The Chief was not in. The editor spoke a few words with a sergeant. There is discord over the Entekin matter and the News does not apologize for anything in connection with it. It printed cold-blooded facts. In case the Times editor can not see through a hole in the wall, let us repeat again, no apology is intended or will be given and, so that he may not try to mislead his readers and the police, let us repeat, we have no axe to grind with the police as individuals.

But when W. D. Clark, director of the department, shows us Bill Entekin is on the job or off it, we will be satisfied and so will our readers. Here is how the paper spluttered about something of which they have no idea: "As an aftermath of a series of scurrilous attacks on the heads and members of the police department in which he belittled the good work of that department, the publisher of the News appeared at police headquarters last week to apologize for what he had written in the guise of news. He also published an apology in his publication when William J. Horgan of Jorammon street called the News to task for its attack upon the police."

Well, can the editor of the Times recognize a question mark? Mr. Horgan asked a question. This newspaper offered an explanation in case anyone had misconstrued its stories, which stands today just as it was printed.

The other paper has been trimmed so badly of late that it is dizzy from the licking and we wonder if it had to make up a story that would look bad, to fool people.

Maybe the "scurrilous" Times is not enough to tell us Entekin goes near the police department. Does he? If not, why not?

About Books

There are few people who successfully follow the oft repeated admonition "Be yourself!" So it is more than a little paradoxical that one of its most shining exemplars should be Miss Elsie Janis, who has spent most of her life being other people. She has 'been' Sarah Bernhardt, John and Ethel Barrymore, Maurice Chevalier, and practically every other important actor who has appeared on the stage during the last thirty-five years. But in her autobiography, "So Far So Good!" which was just released by Dutton's, Miss Elsie Janis has succeeded in being her most entertaining self.

Her literary style is as inimitable as her famous impersonations were. It is most informal and runs along without much thought of style, like a letter from a friend. Her memory rushes up through a crowded life at breakfast speed as she whisks us through three hundred and forty-four pages and leaves us asking for more. We come out the other end of the book saturated with exclamation points which we've taken in at the rate of about ten a page all the way through.

Our Little Elsie was born in Columbus, Ohio, although she tells us that she had previously traveled "Incognito!" to Cleveland, Chicago, Sandusky, Mackinaw, and all points west. That experience must have been habit forming, for Elsie has kept right on traveling ever since.

When she was four years old she gave entire programs for school entertainments and church festivals. At five she was playing Little Willie in East Lynne with the local stock company. Shortly after this she broke into vaudeville at Mike Shea's Buffalo theatre, and then during the next few years she and her mother trouped all over two continents.

In 1903, when she was thirteen, she was given a diary and she has kept one ever since. She draws some very effective quotations from it, especially when she describes those hectic war-time days when she entertained our boys in France and became "The Sweetheart Of The A. E. F."

From time to time she tells delightful little stories of her experiences with the great and near-great of several countries. She knows everybody in the theatrical world. Mary Pickford comes into the story back in the days when she was billed as "Baby Gladys Smith," we meet Douglas Fairbanks when he and

"Beth" were a happy married couple. Maurice Chevalier enters as a comparatively unknown music hall entertainer in Paris. Gaby Deslys, Irene and Vernon Castle, Rudolph Valentino and Cecil B. DeMille are just a few of the other notables whose doings illuminate these pages.

Many people wonder why Elsie Janis left the stage two years ago at the height of her career. Her answer to that question is typical of the showmanship that made her famous. She says: "I would rather they said, 'Where is she?' than, 'Here she is again.'"

You are not likely to fall asleep with this book in your hands. Page The Numerologists

The number thirteen has become a magic number for Tiffani and his publisher Claude Kendall. The names of both author and publisher have thirteen letters. Thirteen letters make up the book titles "Call Her Savage" and "Thirteen Women."

"Thirteen Men," the first success both for author and publisher, was issued on the 26th of the month (a multiple of thirteen) and went into its thirteenth printing exactly one year after publication. The publisher's office is on Thirteenth street, the entrance room is 304 which totals thirteen. "Call Her Savage" and "Thirteen Women" both begin on page 13. And "Thirteen Women" is the thirteenth book to be published by Claude Kendall.

The Farmer's Daughter. E. P. Dutton & Co., report a letter from a little girl who lives on rural route 1, in a little town in northern Wisconsin, requesting information concerning "Among Pygmies And Gorillas," by Prince William of Sweden, which they published in 1923. She says:

"Do I have to pay for this 'Pygmies And Gorillas' by Prince William of Sweden? If I do please send me some free pamphlets that I don't have to pay for. If you have some free pamphlets of Gorillas please send me as many different kinds as possible."

P. S. Please rush as I have to have them for an African Booklet."

Third Sunday in Lent. Holy Communion at 7:45.

Morning prayer and sermon at 11 o'clock, topic, "The Unpainted Picture."

Evening prayer and sermon at 7:45, topic, "Winning For Christ."

The Ladies Guild celebrated its fifty-sixth birthday very quietly, among its own members, at the meeting, yesterday afternoon. There was a short business session at 2:30, at which the president, Mrs. Lloyd O. Nunn presided. There was some music and group singing. Mrs. Mary J. Lloyd, past president, was in charge of refreshments. The birthday envelopes were brought in at this time.

Preceding the meeting of the Ladies' Guild yesterday afternoon there was a meeting of the March and April units, which are combining for an affair to be held after Easter. The co-chairmen for the two months are: Mrs. George H. Hildebrand, Mrs. Daniel H. Hyde, Mr. George A. Kelsall and Mrs. Mary J. Lloyd.

At the Lenten church service last evening the Rev. John Henry Keene, rector of St. Thomas' Church, Newark, was the preacher.

The Place of Coffee as a Beverage

By Donald A. Laird, Ph.D., Sci.D.
Director of Colgate University Psychological Laboratory, Hamilton, New York.

THE control which the homemaker has over the health and happiness of her family through the selection and preparation of foods is almost appalling in its responsibility. This is especially true now that emphasis is being given to the enjoyment of food and the taste and flavor of foods as well as to their chemical contributions to the life of the body.

Coffee is preeminently used for the enjoyment of its flavor. Yet it is the housewife who wanted to learn all about the place of coffee in the diet she would have to study more than six hundred scientific reports—and coffee has probably been studied less than most foods!

In spite of our leading position as a coffee-consuming nation—the average American drinks two cups a day—there is yet much finesse to be acquired in the preparation of the beverage, as those six hundred reports show clearly. The richest flavor, most delightful aroma, and most palatable drink is made by infusing finely-ground coffee for about two minutes just below boiling temperature in a non-metallic pot. The beverage should be separated from the grounds promptly.

The Drip Method

When this procedure, known as the drip method, is followed, the black infusion is delicious. If this practice is not followed, sugar and cream may be needed to "level out" the metallic taste from the pot, or the bitterness from boiling. This procedure is very similar to that used in the preparation of tea, except a small flame should be kept under the infusion of coffee, but without actually bringing it to a boil. The only significance in the method of infusing is in the result in the taste, although how this result occurs is not understood, as will be seen shortly.

What the coffee bean contains that yields the aroma and flavor is not known, the six hundred reports to the contrary notwithstanding. The aromatic oils are simply called Montclair—8 Hillside Avenue.

Newark—65 Roseville Avenue.

"Christ Jesus," will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all the Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 28, 1932.

The Golden Text is: "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved." (John 3:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Nevertheless I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment." (John 16:7, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ is the ideal Truth, that comes to heal sickness and sin through Christian Science, and attributes all power to God." (p. 473).

FEWSMITH MEMORIAL

Rev. O. Bell Close.
There will be an all-day meeting of the women's organizations of Fewsmith, Thursday, March 3. The Guild will meet from 10 A. M. to 12:30 P. M. This is the final meeting before the bazaar which is to be held Thursday and Friday, March 10 and 11.

At 12:30 there will be a covered luncheon. At 2 P. M. the Missionary Society will hold its regular meeting. The devotional leader and speaker will be Mrs. George Scott, of Montclair, her topic being: "Inter-racial Relations." She is a well known speaker throughout the Presbytery. Mrs. William Tukey will be the soloist. All members are urged to be present at both meetings. The hostesses are Mrs. E. L. Tallman, Mrs. G. L. Brown, Mrs. G. Nixon and Mrs. H. A. Macaulay.

THE HELPING HAND

If you are in need, perhaps we can help you. If you have household articles or clothing you can no longer use, please inform us. We can place such things with needy families. Do not enclose letters or other written matter when sending packages through the mails unless the proper postage has been paid. Packages in which letters are enclosed must be sent by first class mail. Send full name and address to the HELPING HAND EDITOR, THE BELLEVILLE NEWS, 501 Washington avenue, Belleville, N. J.

If I am weak and you are strong.
Why then, why then,
To you the braver deeds belong.
And so, again,
If I have gifts and you have none,
If I have shade and you have sun,
'Tis yours with freer hand to give,
'Tis yours with truer grace to live,
Than I, who gestless, sunless stand,
With barren lift and hand.

The Helping Hand Editor has had no appeals for aid this week. As yet but one offer of assistance has been made for Case No. 8. May we remind you that the lady who made this sincere appeal wanted clothing for her children. Won't you kindly look in your closets and see if you have some wearable things which might be useful to the lady? Please help her in her predicament.

ST. PETER'S R. C.
Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, Rector.
Rev. J. S. Nelligan, Curate.

6:30, 8, 9:30 and 11 o'clock. Organist, Thomas A. Haney.

A solemn high mass of thanksgiving was celebrated in St. Peter's R. C. Church at 9 A. M. Washington's Birthday.

Parochial school children and parishioners filled the church to honor Washington.

The Star Spangled Banner was sung by the choir composed of pupils of St. Peter's School at the start of services.

Rev. Father Kelly, in his sermon, called attention to the letter of appreciation written by Washington in which he expressed his appreciation for the loyal service given him through the War of the Revolution by those of the Roman-Catholic faith in his army.

At the end of the sermon a prayer was offered by Father Kelly requesting guidance of our national, state and local governments.

America was sung by the children at the close of the mass.

Championship Game

The game which will decide the local basketball championship, will be played at the high school, Monday, February 29, at 9:30 P. M.

The contestants for the championship will be the Wesley Big Five, winners of the Monday night league and the Clintons, leaders in the Wednesday night league.

A preliminary game between St. Anthony's and Young People's Fellowship fives, is scheduled for 8 o'clock. In addition to the basketball game there will be a boxing, wrestling and musical program.

Covered Dish Luncheon

Group 2 of Belleville Chapter, O. E. S., under the chairmanship of Mrs. Gertrude Blum will hold a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Blum Wednesday, March 2, from 12 noon until 2 o'clock. Mrs. Blum will be assisted by Mrs. Mildred Beck, Mrs. Katherine Ford, Mrs. Helen Mae Nair and Mrs. Jessie N. Lee. This is open to the public and good home cooking will be served. The chapter women are noted for their delicious food and good companionship.

The next meeting will be held at Masonic Temple, Joralemon street, March 3. There will be business and initiation. Worthy Matron Mrs. Dorothea Herrmann is more than delighted at the attendance of more than 200 at Worthy Matron's night on February 18.

The Junior Recreation Club is open to all children under 14. There are no dues or other fees other than the regular admission fee at Saturday matinees. Membership card entitles the holder to partake in weekly awards. If you do not already belong clip the coupon and bring it to the Capital Theatre for your membership card.

Ministers Association

The Ministers Association was entertained at luncheon at the parsonage of the First Italian Baptist Church Tuesday by the pastor, Rev. Benedetto Pascale. Mrs. Pascale, Mrs. Joseph Mattarella, Mrs. James Petrucci and Mrs. Rocco LePond, representing the young women's clubs, served.

New ministers in Belleville were to have been welcomed, but Rev. Joseph M. Kelly of St. Peter's Church and Rev. Niels H. Christiansen of Montgomery Presbyterian Church were unable to be present. Greetings were extended to Rev. Harry Pfunk of Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church and Rev. William F. Shoop, a retired Methodist Episcopal minister temporarily located in Belleville.

Changes were made in the published schedule of union services for Holy Week. The revised schedule follows: Monday, March 21, Grace Baptist, Mr. Shoop; Tuesday, Wesley Methodist Episcopal, Mr. Pfunk; Wednesday, Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian, Mr. Christiansen; Thursday, Reformed communion service under charge of Dr. O. Bell Close of Fewsmith Presbyterian; Friday, Christ Episcopal, musical services will be held at 8 P. M.

In addition to the evening service tonight there will be an afternoon worship period from 1:30 to 3 o'clock at Christ Episcopal in which all ministers will participate. Each will speak on one of "The Seven Words of Christ."

Dinner at 6:30 o'clock will precede the annual congregational meeting at the Reformed Church Friday night at 8, which will be marked by election of elders and deacons and the reading of reports of the year.

Dinner arrangements are under charge of William MacKillop and Walter Price and Harry Sturges has charge of tickets. The church orchestra will play and Thomas F. Hamilton of East Orange will lead congregational singing.

Speakers at the second annual banquet of the Men's Club of Few-smith Memorial Presbyterian Church tonight at 7 o'clock will be Fred C. Stickel, Jr., Rev. William L. Tucker, assistant pastor of the Old First Presbyterian Church, Newark, and Donald Provost of the Newark Airport. Mr. Stickel will speak on "The Relation of the Court to the Home." "Prison Camps in Siberia" and "Aviation" will be discussed by Mr. Tucker and Mr. Provost.

Arrangements are under charge of Harold D. Pompea, Fred G. Stimson, George H. Cox, Robert Louer, Charles M. Lyon and Arthur W. Lackner.

Everyman's Class

Plans Stag Party

Members of Everyman's Bible Class Monday night will gather at Masonic Temple banquet hall for a stag party. President Bradshaw promises everybody a good time.

Mr. Snodgrass will start the evening with his orchestra. Chester Rorback, who is in charge, will come on with his gang of entertainers with on hour of fun. Just what will happen is somewhat of a mystery. Then come the eats and after dinner speaking, with William Bradshaw as toastmaster. We are also given to understand that Dr. Cairns, leader of the class, will be very much in evidence.

Mrs. Fischer is Junior Past Matron of North Star Chapter, and an enthusiastic worker in O. E. S. circles.

LIBRARY NEWS

The George Washington Bicentennial, is given preference in the library these days. In the reference room a table has been set aside and on it a large portrait of Washington and many books of biographies, plays, poems and pamphlets concerning his life and work.

The following are a list of the more important books: George Washington's Country, Andrews; Washington, the soldier, Carrington; True George Washington, Ford; George Washington, Hughes; George Washington, the Christian, Johnson; Washington speaks for himself, Osborn; Washington as a business man, Ritter; George Washington, Woodrow Wilson; Seven ages of Washington, Wister; George Washington, the image and the man, Woodward; Washington anniversary plays, Johnson; Complete George Washington anniversary programs, Laird.

We also have a complete set of the writings and addresses of the first president.

Miss Betty Joan Sarrett of 72 Perry street, celebrated her fifth birthday with a party on Washington's birthday, February 22.

The guests who attended were: the Misses Betty Jensen, Betty Bauman, Bernadette Mulligan, Hope Ross, Catherine Macdonald, Joan Foster, all of Perry street; Misses Doris and Mildred Schwartz of Roselle Park and Miss Marjory Spencer of Newark.

The color scheme was pink and yellow and a Noah's Ark cake in pink and yellow decorated the table.

Mrs. Anna Ross, Mrs. Catherine Macdonald, Miss Alice Wilkins, Mrs. Mary Campbell and Mrs. Eva Starrett, all of Perry street; Mrs. Greta June, Mrs. Ethel Taylor, of Arlington; Mrs. May Williamson, and Mrs. Celeste Wells of Jersey City, are the invited guests of Mrs. Adele Sullivan of 89 Thorne street, Jersey City, at a meeting of the J. A. B. Girls, on Friday evening, March 4.

Mrs. Theodore Clarke of Holmes street has been entertaining Miss Doris Burton of Utica, N. Y. for the past two weeks. Thursday Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Gordon Eska of Belmoor street were guests at a luncheon bridge given by Mrs. Donald Wallace of Newark.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Alleroff of Holmes street has returned after a visit of a week with relatives at Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Faulkner of Rutgers street motored to Washington, D. C. for the week-end and holiday. They had such a pleasant trip down and back with sunny skies and warmth. Washington was crowded with visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Ridgway of Little street were at Atlantic City for the week-end and holiday, going by bus Friday night and returning Monday night via Public Service bus. The boardwalk was crowded, and every hotel and rooming house packed to the limit. Who says depression? At least over almost the last long holiday for some time. Riding at night was beautiful with the moon beaming and light as day—almost.

Mrs. Harry Brumbach of Little street, president of the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Methodist Church; Mrs. Edgar L. Compton, wife of the pastor, of Academy street, and Mrs. Brand Smith of Rutgers street, attended an all-day session of the Home Missionary Society at the Centenary Methodist Church in Newark, Thursday. Luncheon was served at the church.

The wedding of Miss Eleanor Bertha Hanschka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman T. Hanschka of 21 Overlook avenue, and Carl A. Stempel, son of Mrs. Charles Stempel of 32 Isabella avenue, Newark, took place at 6 o'clock Saturday night in Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church. The pastor, Rev. Edgar M. Compton, performed the ceremony, and a reception for sixty followed in the bride's home.

Miss Katherine M. Hanschka, a sister of the bride, sang during the ceremony. Mrs. Louis J. Campbell of Hillside, the bride's twin sister, was maid of honor, and two other sisters, Mrs. John T. Mascuch of South Orange and Mrs. Carl Wiedmann of Newark, were bridesmaids. Mr. Stempel had as best man his brother, Alfred E. Stempel of Newark. Mr. Hasenuch, Mr. Wiedmann and Mr. Campbell, the bride's brothers-in-law, served as ushers.

The bride's gown of ivory satin trimmed with lace and orange blossoms was made with close fitting bodice and short train. Her veil of tulle was held in place with clusters of orange blossoms at the nape of the neck, her flowers being calla lilies. The maid of honor, in light blue lace with pink taffeta sash, wore pink shoes, lace mitts and cap, and carried a nosegay of pink roses and forget-me-nots. The rose beige lace gowns worn by the bridesmaids were worn with light blue taffeta sashes, blue shoes, mitts and lace caps. They carried nosegays of yellow tea roses and forget-me-nots. Mothers of the bride and bridegroom were gowned in black lace and powder blue chiffon, respectively. Their corsage bouquets were roses and sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Stempel have left for Washington, where they will spend a week. The bride wore for travel a brown crepe dress trimmed with lace, brown pebble cloth coat with wolf collar and cuffs and matching hat. After March 1 they will be at home at 709 Hamilton avenue, Trenton.

Arene Chapter Card Party

Mrs. Agnes Rainie, chairman of afternoon card parties, announces another of those social affairs at the Recreation House, Garden avenue and Joralemon street, on March 9, starting at 2 P. M. Mrs. Rainie will be assisted by her entire committee including Worthy Matron, Mrs. Stella Kroesen; Associate Matron, Mrs. Lillian Pratt; Conductress, Mrs. Anna Hansen; Associate Conductress, Mrs. Mary Page; Mrs. Mary Abbott, Mrs. Anna Church, Mrs. Lena Grover, Mrs. Emily Charrier, Mrs. Clementine Lehmann, Mrs. Evelyn Harper, Mrs. Grace Karueller, Mrs. Jean Dingwall, Mrs. Marion Jensen, Mrs. Marion Kristen, Mrs. Ida Tillon, Mrs. Elizabeth Kristen, Mrs. Margaret Norris, Mrs. Mary Carlson, Miss Lillian Werner and Miss Marjorie Vance.

What was considered a very successful card party was held Saturday evening, February 20, by Belleville Council Knights of Columbus at the home. Grand Knight Stickney expressed himself as very satisfied over the results and deeply indebted to those good friends who helped to make it the success it was, he was particularly pleased with the many ornate and practical prizes donated. He announced the next card party would be held Saturday evening, March 12.

The dramatic club is rehearsing very industriously on a play which will be presented in April, the particulars regarding the name and the cast will be announced later.

Where the zoning laws are

In the SPOTLIGHT

By MORRIS UDANSKY

A whole week has gone by and I haven't received a single answer to the puzzle contest—maybe folks didn't like the awards offered—or maybe folks thought that it wasn't on the up and up—anyhow no answers were gotten so I'm finished with all kinds of puzzles—unless of course there's a good chance of me winnin' one myself—

As an after-thought to last week—If I have to go back to where I came from—I'll wind up at Sears-Roebuck—I don't mean that I'm a mail order child (if there's any such animal)—but you see I was born across the street from where their store is in Newark—and if I'm sent back to where I started from—Sears-Roebuck is where I'll be—does anyone know where I can get a good joke book?—I'm kinda runnin' outta cracks—and if I don't pep up I'll be lookin' for a new job—so do your bit for the unemployed and send me a sure-fire, hot stuff joke book and oblige—enclosed you will find a stamped, self-addressed envelope—

There's a new organization up here at the office—it's called The Hot Air Company—and we've got some good practical plans up our sleeves that we're goin' to spring any day now—that one about the aeroplane that flies under the water to keep the wind out of the pilot's face is one of them—when we get that completed we're goin' to build a ship canal from the foot of 42nd St. to the Belleville dumps—all the dirt dug up will be used to fill up the meadows and kill off the mosquitoes—the Hackensack river has plenty of water in it now so we're goin' to build an aqueduct across it—when no ship is being floated over the aqueduct we're goin' to drain it out and use it for a super-highway—as you can readily see this canal will make up for revenue lost by Gimbel's decision to build their storehouse somewhere else—at present the Hot Air Company is completing plans for a Correct Time by Mail service—when this service is ready and working every home in town will receive a postal card every morning with the correct time written on it—there will be no charge for this service as we always have the best interest of Belleville at heart—these are just a few of the things to be done by this philanthropic organization—if you want to become a member just submit your idea for civic improvement and the salvation of humanity and a membership button will be sent you—

Didja know that Public Service business is so-so these days—in fact its on and off—the times ran a streamer last week that said—“After you have read the rest—read the best”—we're not sayin' which is the best but we are thanking the Times for admitting that the News is being read first—so much so, that last week a certain high school pupil was able to recognize the features of Mr. Gerard in their silhouette contest and then turned around and left the answer at the News office—

A coupla months ago all you could hear around the hi school was talk of the track team and soccer teams that were being started there—but like a lot of other things around here they have dropped out of the picture—two bits to the guy who can tell me where they've gone—and didja know that the Bored of Education don't believe in ordinary everyday Dixon No. 2's or Dixon No. 3 lead pencils—nope, they go in for a-kin all their own—they use Dixon No. 2 5-10—s'truth too—

And here's a letter I received from one of my many admirers:

Darling Mawruss,

I think you're just to sweet for anything. Can I see you sometime?

With love,

LIZZIE T.

and my only answer to that is that if you can't see me you must be near-sighted, Liz old girl—

Judge Carey Inspires Vets Of Foreign Wars

Miles A. Suarez Post, No. 711, and the Ladies' Auxiliary and Bloomfield Post, No. 20, American Legion, sponsored a Washington's Birthday ceremony at Bloomfield Vocational School. The program was one of the best ever arranged, with speakers paying homage to Washington, the father of our country. Mayor Demarest told of Washington's religion and faith in God. Dr. St. Clair told of Bloomfield history during Washington's days, its progress and characteristics.

Judge Carey's speech was of unusual value to Americans and lovers of our flag. Those who were not present, lost a great human value. We would suggest that you attend any other event with Judge Carey present. His speech which was an inspiration in patriots, was also an excellent send-off to inaugurate a year of patriotic activity.

Roger E. Potts, in closing the event, spoke of George Washington and difficulties with a like courage. Members of Miles A. Suarez Post, No. 711, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies' Auxiliary, attended a Washington church service at the Brookdale Reformed Church, Sunday, February 21. Rev. Earl V. Conover's sermon on Washington was of great value to the veterans and the auxiliary.

Post 711 is endeavoring to honor its members with the Verdun Medal. The City of Verdun, France, has created a commemorative medal, not an official order, but an insignia of the "Soldiers of Verdun," which has been dedicated thus, "To the Great Chiefs, to the Officers, to the Soldiers, to all Heroes known or unknown, living or dead; who triumphed and immortalized her name through-out the onrush of the barbarians, out the world for centuries to come. Veterans, only of the French and Allied Armies, who were on active service between July 31, 1914 and November 11, 1918, in the Verdun Sector, (lying between the Argonne and St. Mihiel), and within the zone under enemy shell fire, excluding aircraft bombardment; have the right to this medal."

Claims must be approved by the Commission du Livre d'Or, which has been officially appointed for the verifications and for the inscriptions, name, Christian name, rank, regiment, date and place of service.

Those desirous of this medal and the honor of a ceremony to be conducted by Miles A. Suarez Post, No. 711, may communicate with Roger E. Potts, 70 Girard avenue, East Orange.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your head down's aghast. It just dumps in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, passing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Recent a substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

Engineer Reports

On Local Work

Flood Relief, Street Paving And Water Leak Check Cited As 1931 Accomplishments

Relief of flood conditions in the Silver Lake section by construction of the Meadow Brook storm water sewer, paving of Joralemon street to provide an east-west route through the town supplemental to Belleville avenue and the making of a survey to locate leaks in water mains are major accomplishments listed in the annual report of the Engineering Department.

The Meadow Brook sewer was completed by Belleville, Bloomfield, Newark and East Orange to control a natural drainage area in Belleville from Bloomfield avenue to Second River. Belleville's share of the cost was $120,000. It was done as the Second River Joint Meeting with headquarters in Newark.

Joralemon street was paved at a cost of $63,000, with the state paying $25,000. In his report Town Engineer Albert S. Blank recommends extension of Chestnut street and Greylock parkway westerly to provide further east-west transit in the northern part of the town, at the same time opening up for development waste land west of Norton street, by proper drainage to Third River. He recommends also the paving of Harrison street and the western portion of Mill street with state aid which has been offered.

Water Main Survey

Of the water main survey the engineer states: "It is peculiar to note the drop in consumption of February, 1931, at which time the consumption according to a graphic chart, dropped 14,000,000 gallons on February and 7,000,000 more in April when the survey was being made. It is surmised, the unmetered flow was due to illegal tapping of mains aside from several large ground leaks found at the time.

The survey analysis was: Total consumption in gallons a day, 1,800,000; metered domestic consumption, 47 per cent; metered industrial, 26.8 per cent; under registration of industrial, 3.3 per cent; underground leakage, 6.7 per cent; unavoidable leakage based on 3,000 gallons per day per mile of main, 9.5 per cent; under-registration of meters smaller than four inches in diameter and water used for public purposes, 6.7 per cent.

"Results clearly show," the engineer states, "the worth of the survey, as the monthly consumption has dropped to 52,063,898, or about 9,100,000 gallons per month less than the average of 61,169,333 in 1930." The recommendations are that recording flow gauges and pressure gauges be installed to detect discrepancies in the system and that fire flows be strengthened, particularly in the mercantile and more thickly developed residential sections.

Twelve streets were improved with pavement, sidewalks and curbs and fifteen with storm or sanitary sewers. Pavement laid totaled 3,363 miles, sidewalks 1.48 miles and curbs

HIS COMPENSATION

The Story of a Music Master.

By FANNIE HURST

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
(FNU Service)

LIVING in the machine-age should in some measure have prepared the director for what was coming; hundreds of the more astute had seen it in the office for years, before it actually happened, and in many instances had run for the cover of kindred professions or occupations.

Klinger, however, had stuck, as the saying goes, like a captain to a sinking ship, until the inundation of "earned music" was something that even his stubborn kind of resistance had to reckon with.

No doubt about it, the day of the theater and moving picture orchestra was gone. A man had not a chance to earn any sort of decent living for himself and family, if he depended upon a profession that had literally died in its tracks.

In vain the perishing vocation fought for its life. An organization was formed, of which Klinger was vice president, to combat, by newspaper and magazine advertising, this demise of an honorable profession.

DO NOT PERMIT CANNED MUSIC TO BE SERVED UP TO YOU.

THE BEST IS NONE TOO GOOD! PUBLIC, DEMAND YOUR RIGHTS!

Of course the public did nothing of the sort, the sound-screen became its own orchestra effect, orchestras died out of the theater, and at fifty-seven, Otto Klinger, for thirty years director of an orchestra in one of the city's largest temples of entertainment, found himself, incredible as it might seem, out of a job.

There was the alternative, desperately clutched by so many of his men, of rushing to the picture studios of California, but even had such an opportunity presented itself, Klinger was not the man to subject his dignity to any such flagellation as that.

I laying on a motion picture lot! Otto Klinger, graduate of a Berlin conservatory of music, one-time concert master of a Nurnberg orchestra and now, for thirty years, director of an aggregation of thirty men, going Hollywood. Never!

Fortunately, it was at a time of his life when his family, containing grown sons and daughters, had agreed among themselves it was best for him to retire.

Rearing three girls and three boys on a scale of decent and substantial living had, of course, not enabled Otto to accumulate; but when the catastrophe of the dissolution of his orchestra came along, there were fortunately, three out of his six children who were earning. Firmin and Max, the two elder boys, steady and showing the results of the spartan rearing that had been theirs, were both draughtsmen drawing substantial wage. Mathilde, the third daughter, a staid, careful, uncoquettish girl, who so far as the modern flapper was concerned, did not exist at all, was confidential secretary to the German consul.

So, all in all, while in the heart of Otto calamity had descended, his family, including his wife, was of an opinion, secret from him, that considering his age and gouty constitution, it was just as well for him to retire.

The Klingers owned their little home on the outskirts of New York. There were only three children left at a school age. Mrs. Klinger, twenty years younger than her husband, and of firm heroic build, was a housewife of impeccable and amazing capacity for economy.

The Klingers could make out all right.

But the effect upon the morale of Klinger was what troubled them. Prepared as the family was for the let-down that inevitably must take place in the somewhat Bismarckian figure of their father, who for thirty years had ruled thirty men, to say nothing of a household, the actual happening was nothing short of appalling.

He became a household tyrant, domineering over the daily routine, interfering in his wife's capable regime, exercising even more discipline with his children.

There came a time, in that little home, when so far as the members of it were concerned, the idea of sending Otto off to a private hospital at some quiet seaside resort actually began to present itself.

That project never took form. The Klingers were too compact a group for that; too grounded in certain rudiments of family solidarity, but it does go to show the extremes to which they were pushed, by the overflow of their father's chagrin into the household.

Then Bertha, the fourth child, hit on a scheme that, while it was to increase the household tyranny in many ways, was nothing short of stroke-of-genius.

Secretly, so that not even his wife or children knew it, there had always smoldered in Otto bitter disappointment that not one of his children had followed in his musical footsteps. They were a practical, sensible lot, youngsters any parent could be proud of, and for that matter each and every one founded in a musical education.

But among them, with the exception of Edith, who was too young to reckon with, not one of the girls or boys had exhibited outstanding musical talent. Bertha's idea, however, was founded on this rather casual musical equipment of the family.

Father must form a family orchestra and they could practice evenings. Mother at the piano, the three boys at the violin, flute and viola respectively, Bertha and Mathilde at the harp and cello and little Edith, who was now eight and taking her first lessons, at the violin.

Well, somehow, the idea caught with Klinger like wildfire, and catching, did some tantalizing things to family life, curtailing the outside activities of the grown boys and girls to such an extent that their souls or their evenings could no longer be called their own.

Bad as was the evening after-evening practicing of the group, under the surveillance of Klinger, it was offset by the fact that once more clenched by an interest, something of the old good humor, and normal geniality of the man revived.

Life in the Klinger household was once more livable, as the Klingers put it.

And then there began to develop the aspect of it all that made the idea of Bertha seem to blossom into something that was nothing short of genius.

Time and time again, conducting this little group of his family orchestra, Klinger began to find himself amazed and delighted by the musical precocity of the mite of a girl playing the third violin.

Within two months, trying to keep down within himself the rising hope and the rising excitement that here in this child was talent, he saw the thin little wisp of a girl superceding her delighted first violinist brother, playing in his place.

Six months later, by arrangement made by Klinger, Edith was taken to the conservatory, there to play before the great Becher, who pronounced her of outstanding and amazing virtuosity.

That busted up the Klinger orchestra, so to speak.

Six hours of each day, Klinger, who has no more time for his family orchestra, interested in his fingertips, tender of her youth, adoring of her talent, teaches his youngest, and plans for her musical future.

Systematic Hunt for Priceless Old Papers

Quit recently a London workman was cutting out a piece of old parchment into segments for making into a lamp shade when he noticed some old and faded writing on the piece he had cut. A close examination revealed the parchment to be a deed of the period of James I. Here was a valuable old document that should have been preserved in a museum being ruthlessly cut up to gratify the passing whim of fashion, and when it had served its purpose to be cast aside on a dust heap, a loss to history and the severing perhaps of a valuable link with the past.

Hundreds of priceless old documents are being cut up in this way, but thanks to that distinguished scholar and antiquarian, Mr. William le Hardy, a public appeal has been made to end this needless sacrifice of historical documents for the sake of a craze. He is asking to be allowed to examine the archives of old-established solicitors' offices in London, where many of these old documents are to be found, in the hopes of discovering deeds that will throw some light on the history of some famous county families. One firm has already given Mr. William le Hardy permission to go through their archives, with the result that many important facts concerning the histories of ancient manors have been revealed.—London Mail.

Automatic Mixer

One concrete mixer has an automatic control system operated by photo-electric cells that can be depended on to measure out the different ingredients with unfailing precision and dispatch. These cells are built into dial scales in such a way that the pointer of each scale swings between an associate cell and its exciting lamp. Each ingredient is brought to the mixing plant by conveyors that feed into weight hoppers. The charging goes on until the pointers pass through beams of light focused on the electric eyes, when sensitive relays stop the flow. With the eyes on watch, concrete of a uniform grade can be produced regardless of the number of batches made up.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

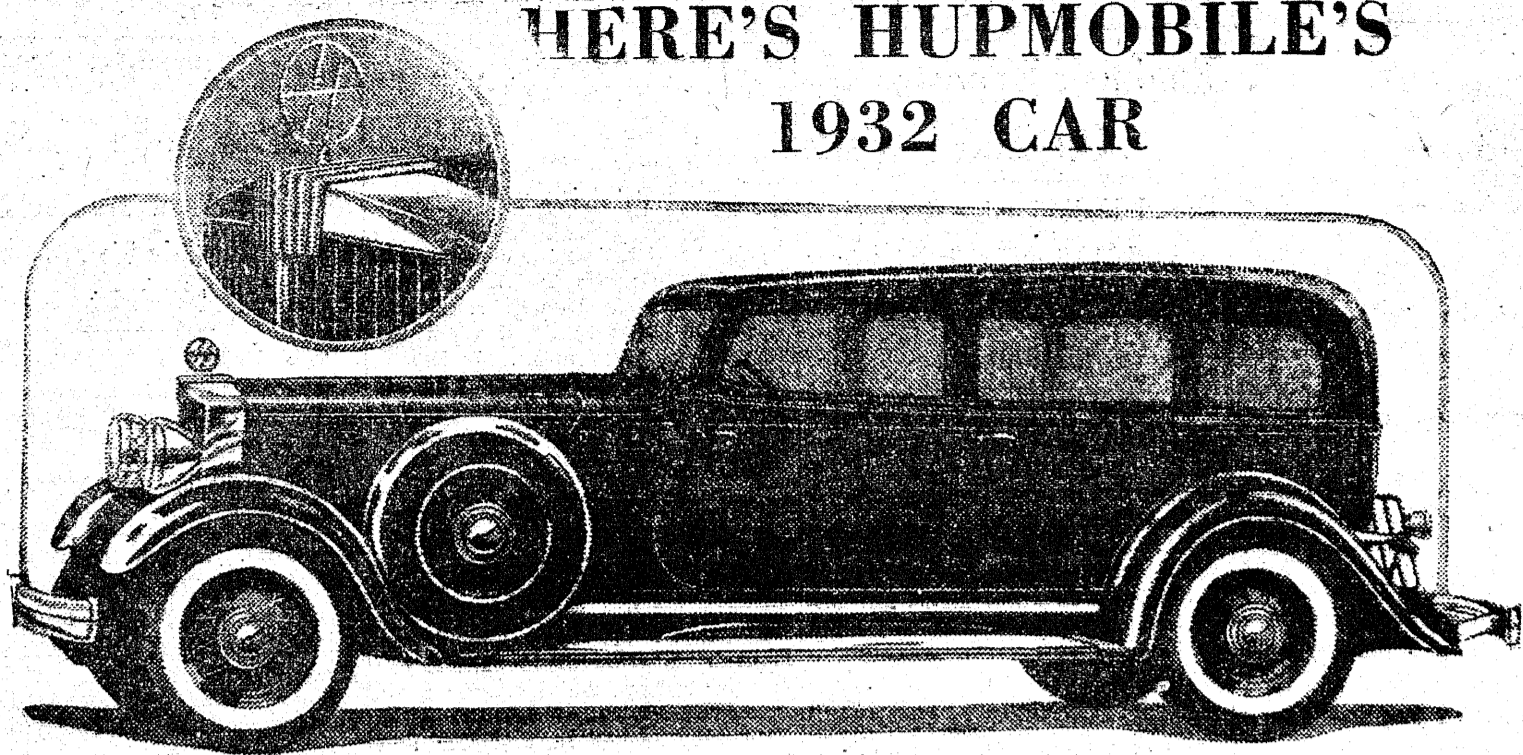

Botanically Speaking

The out-of-town guest was showing some snapshots of her little granddaughter, and among them was a charming picture of the little girl standing in a bed of tulips, which reached quite above her head. Sonny was a very interested onlooker, and when some one remarked, "Just see! The flowers are taller than the child," Sonny drew up to his full stature, and announced importantly:

"Well, if they wanted to get flowers taller than I am, they'd have to take hollyhocks!"

Poor Underpinning

British pirates threw their gin jugs and gambling chips in a sea-level swamp, then built up a city, Belize, which a hurricane, helped by a tidal wave, recently demolished. Says Time: "It would have been better if the city's fathers had thrown in a few more pots and chips, for Belize is only a few inches above sea-level." It might still have been better if they had thrown their "foundations" on higher and drier ground.

This is the first picture of Hupmobile's new, 1932 car to appear in this town. This car is the new Series 226 eight cylinder Hupmobile five passenger Sedan. Its list price is $1595. It has entrancing new lines, distinctive front end appearance and unusually roomy interior. Mechanically it provides improved comfort and handling ease, and is featured by Hupmobile's new X-frame, the newly patented rear rubber engine mounting, an exclusive Chassis Torsional Stabilizer and other features eliminating vibration and road wear and providing far greater comfort. The body is completely insulated. Two other models, the six cylinder Series 216, beginning at $995 list, and the eight cylinder Series 222, starting with a list price of $1295, are offered by this manufacturer in 1932. Inset shows Hupmobile's new eight cylinder radiator ornament.

Visitors to the 1932 automobile shows, interested in design trends affecting the industry, will find ample food for thought in the new Hupmobile Eights for 1932. So many features are incorporated in these new cars that motorists will find them one of the high spots this year.

Backing up their prophecy that these new Hupmobile Eights will inaugurate a new trend in style and appearance, Hupmobile designers point to some interesting side-lights in motor car development.

For a number of years, the open car reigned supreme because engineering attention was centered on development and improvement of the engine and operating parts to the exclusion of bodies. Along about 1912, however, the public began to wonder if a top and doors could not be added. And this, Hupmobile designers assert, was the last and only time when public opinion was ahead of the car designer. Accordingly, crude, box-like closed cars made their appearance.

The reform in closed bodies was slow, and it was not until years after the war that their popularity became anything like universal. Through production economies the closed car finally became as low in price as the touring car or roadster, and then finally because of its greater comfort, superceded the open car in public favor.

Comfort, points out Hupmobile designers, then occupied the designers' eye for several years—until 1927 to be exact—when Hupmobile introduced the original Century models. These cars not only emphasized comfort, but a striking advance in style as well. Hupmobile's style had literally established a trend for the industry to follow.

The 1932 cars, however, are the outstanding creations of Hupmobile designers. There is a newness, a fresh vividness to their appearance that is at once charming and attractive. One trade paper writer has referred to the Hupmobiles as being "one of the outstanding highlights of the new year in appearance, design and innovations."

The new cars feature a radical departure from existing design standards. Hung low to the ground, every feature and every line add to the appearance of lowness and great length. Yet there is no loss of interior headroom or road clearness. Longer wheelbases, new style wider doors, club-chair cushion comfort, the new X-frame and Torsional Stabilizer, new aero type full vision instruments in the smartly recessed dash panel, snug fitting and smartly flaired new fenders and gracefully new sheet metal trimming—these and many other features add to the new styling, and new appearance which has brought to these 1932 Hupmobiles the name "A New Car for a New Age."

Complete registration figures for the full year of 1931, recently announced, reveal that for the first time in the history of the automobile, a six cylinder car led the industry in popular favor.

During the year Chevrolet titled 583,387 six cylinder cars compared with 528,539 titled by the runner-up, a lower priced four cylinder make. Of the total of 1,908,016 passenger cars registered in the domestic market, Chevrolet obtained more than thirty per cent, the largest proportion of available business ever enjoyed by this largest producing division of General Motors.

THE NEEDED SPARK

IN the many successes the Belleville High basketball quintet has enjoyed of late, something has been supplied in their play that has made them the well-rounded team, which they were not at the season's start.

During that five game stretch, at the season's outset when they lost four times, the performances of the Bell-boys were ragged and spotty. That finish, that polish, so easily recognized in teams of championship caliber was noticeably absent.

Then with the rather so-so record of four wins and four losses staring at them, the local passers made a right about face, and began winning consistently.

Many reasons might be advanced for this sudden form reversal. Hank Bohrer's fine, and often brilliant work, after a slow start, is undoubtedly one of them. The steadily effective play of Captain Lamb, Ray Smith, and Nick Bonavita, were also no mean factors.

But the real spark, that needed something which spelled the difference between losers and winners, seems to be traceable to one Eddie O'Neil.

A mere substitute at the season's outset, O'Neil was thought hardly to be of varsity material. But since given a chance in first team games by Coach McBride, he has developed into one of the best guards in scholastic competition.

Every time the opposing five boasts of some outstanding forward, some high scorer for the season, O'Neil is promptly sent in to guard him. And seldom has he failed to hold his man to a low point total, as well as doing a bit of scoring on his own hook.

He seems to be just what the doctor ordered to make the Blue and Gold boys winners.

VERSATILITY

WE'RE not sure that this is sports comment. In fact it can hardly be regarded as being in the sport-light. It is certainly interesting fodder, however, to Belleville High baseball fans.

One of the expected mainstays of this year's baseball nine and a veteran of several seasons, Charley Christell, possesses a fine singing voice. And, not only that, but he is scheduled to enact one of the principal roles in the coming high school opera.

Quite a versatile young man to say the least.

Moose Netsters Drop

34-31 Game To Eagles

Bloomfieldites Finally Turn

Back Locals In Game

Saturday

The Belleville Moose basketball performers were unequal to the task of winning a third straight game from the White Eagles of Bloomfield, and propped a 34-31 decision to their neighboring rivals, Saturday night, at the local court. The Moose had previously copped a pair of half-line verdicts from the Eagles.

A SMALL
AD DOES
A BIG JOB

SAYS SALLY—

ZACCHAEUS AND THE SYCAMORE
TREE

Some one has said "Jesus never laughed." I do not believe that. To me he seems so very human he surely got all out of life there was to be gotten; which was his privilege, since he brought, no sorrow, but turned that which he found into joy. He said: "I have come, that ye may have life and have it more abundantly." Sorrow is death. Joy and laughter is life; therefore he has taught us the humorous side that we may make the sad more bearable. We know how much happier those thrown in contact with us, are, when this is put in practice.

The story of Zacchaeus climbing the sycamore tree so that he could see Jesus as he was passing through Jericho, is one out of which I have always gotten a "kick."

It was my mother's custom every Sunday afternoon to have us children sit around while she read some passage of scripture, from either the old or new Testament to us. Ever since she read this story, it has been a source of greatly varied entertainment to me contemplating the moods of all concerned in the enactment of the scene. The first thing I did when I went out of the house was to look for a sycamore tree; and I looked it all over, and wondered if the one Zacchaeus climbed looked like it.

I noticed the bark seemed peeled off in spots and I wondered if he had knocked the bark off climbing up or down and if all that kind of tree bore that as a distinguishing mark that we might know them ever after from all other trees.

Today, yet, when I see one of those trees I begin thinking of the occurrence—Zacchaeus and I just like, want to see all there is to be seen. If I could not, then the parade or the circus, or what-not, that was coming along from the ground, up on the fence, a roof or up a tree I went. I can see old brother Zacchaeus "hot footin' it" for that sycamore tree. We are told he ran ahead of the crowd. Jesus knew he was in the tree. Maybe he saw him running and heard his feet hitting the road in his haste to get there. Did he laugh? Use your own imagination. What is the lesson we learn from climbing the tree? If we want to see and be seen we must climb. Make use of the things in our reach and climb above the crowd; if we expect to accomplish more.

If we get a call down make the most of it. Now here comes the best part of the story. Jesus says: "Zacchaeus, come down; make haste and come down; for I am going to your house today." I don't know why he wanted him to come down in such a hurry, unless he saw his quick action coming down the road and wanted to see some more of it. At any rate he came down and just as natural as today the crowd put up a terrible howl because Jesus was going home with a rich man—but that did not interfere with the intent of getting a good dinner.

Now, when brother Zacchaeus was told to come and take a walk he must have been badly frightened. I can hear his heart thumping up against his old ribs as he stands there telling Jesus what a good boy he has been and how nice he is going to be to the poor ever after, and the all understanding Master is chuckling to himself as he looks right through him and knows what a cheerful liar he is, but to calm him down, so they can eat dinner; tells him not to worry, everything is all right. Now I am glad there is no mention of what was on the "menu" that day because in these hard times it might get me too upset; but I have always wondered what Mrs. Zacchaeus said to Mr. Zacchaeus when she got him alone; for bringing company home to dinner so unexpectedly.

Brethren, if he got what we would get, every time he saw a sycamore tree after that, he would turn around and run the other way.

LEGAL NOTICES

(Chancery H-319)
