Association Asks Board To Abolish Afternoon Session

"W. D." Get A Laugh When He Pops In Late To Ask
"Star Chamber"

A communication from the Hill-top Improvement Association, notifying the board of commissioners of that group's attitude toward the afternoon conference, caused considerable controversy at both the conference and the evening meeting.

The message, read at the conference, made reference to a request made last summer urging that the afternoon conference be discontinued. This request when brought before the board in the form of a resolution, was debated. It repeated the request, maintaining that these sessions (especially the secret sessions from which even the press is excluded) were unfair to the citizens. In event the conference were deemed necessary by the board, the association urged that at least the executive sessions be abolished. The request for the abolition of the secret meetings was made because it is the opinion of the association that when matters concerning the tax rate, financial conditions, assessments, vacations, street openings, and such, are in process of discussion, there is no need for closed doors.

Charles Longhi, speaking for the improvement group, asked the board why bankers, merchants and manufacturers were allowed to be present at the preliminary discussions of the budget and the citizens, who pay the bills, were not. He was informed that the banker was concerned inasmuch as he had money invested in town bonds and the manufacturers and merchant's representatives walked in on the meeting and could not be told to get out.

Hokus Pokus

The board stated that only matters that could not be publicly discussed were heard in secret sessions and they often concerned law suits which could be better settled if the press was kept from giving its opinion on them. The board claims nine out of ten times these sessions save the town money.

Ha! Ha!

Commissioner Clark, who because of tardiness, missed the bulk of the discussion, put his foot into it, when upon being asked if he had anything to take up with his fellow commissioners, stated that he wished to discuss something in private session. This brought a chorus of laughs from his colleagues and the members of the press.

At the evening session, the matter again caused a stir. Mr. Longhi was told that the commissioners did not take official action on anything at the early session. "It is illegal to do so. You don't dare," was his reply.

In reference to this question Commissioner Carragher said "I believe the conferences should be done away with. They are no good," adding "I've stood enough and it's all I'm going to stand for."

An ordinance setting a fee of one dollar for a permit to replace or repair a house sewer connection was passed by the board on first reading. Commissioner Carragher objected to the ordinance stating "the water department gets enough money out of the taxpayers now."

The commissioner was advised that such a permit was necessary so as to

No Interest At All, At All, In "Sammy's" Insurgent Meeting

As Usual Less Than Fifty
Turn Out To Hear Him Spout

Invitations to Republican candidates of all factions to address the Republican Club at Masonic Temple Saturday night drew six of the Vanderbilt slate, three independents and one of the organization group. The invitation was extended by Mayor Samuel Sampson. Kenworthy, candidate for the county clerk nomination on the Vanderbilt ticket, as chairman of the speakers' committee of the club, and a former actor "somewhere" in the west.

That's Not Strange

There was an attendance of less than fifty.

The only organization candidate present was Freeholder Zenas G. Crane. He took no issue with those of the opposition tickets and stated he had no quarrel with them. He sketched his twelve years' work on the county board, calling attention to the 59-cent county tax rate this year compared to 66 cents a dozen years ago and to reduction in bonded indebtedness during the last ten years despite large road and institutional programs.

The anti-organization candidates were Benjamin M. Weinberg, for a freeholder nomination; Prosecutor's Detective Joseph Giuliano, for Sheriff; Mayor Kenworthy and Assembly candidates, David Trauth, Xavier Del Negro and Mrs. Mary O. Carrington.

The speaker also read several poems relating to flowers among them being "God's Gold" written by a friend. Mrs. Streeter told of plans for a garden party to be held this summer, further announcement to be made later.

Large Local Place Had Alcohol Labeled Like That In Vesey Street

Adjoining the huge distillery seized Monday afternoon at Mill and Main streets by Federal agents, is the Herd Electric Company of which Mayor Samuel Sampson Kenworthy, candidate for county clerk, is secretary. The first and second floors are occupied by the Viking Tool Company and the third floor by the company, with which the mayor is affiliated. The still was located in an "L" shaped part of the structure which is two stories high and is about thirty feet from that part of the building occupied by the Viking Tool Company and Herd Electric Company.

The News yesterday telephoned the Herd Company to determine its exact location and also asked the Mayor's title. Information was given that the Mayor is secretary and had not been "around for a few days."

The distillery was in an old factory building. It is believed to have been owned by the same group which owned an elaborate distillery seized two months ago at 102 Vesey street, Newark.

Agents found eighteen five-gallon cans of alcohol in separate cardboard boxes marked "100 Per Cent Pure, Pennsylvania Oil." Similar cartons with the same printing were found in the plant in Newark.

In the local plant, which was in the rear of the Viking Tool & Machinery Co. plant at Main and Mill street, the agents found a 20,000-gallon still with large copper columns. On the second floor were nine 10,000-gallon vats of mash, a 5,000-gallon water tank, a 5,000-gallon mixing vat and a 2,000-gallon tank of alcohol.

Only part of the building, on the bank of the Passaic River, was used for the distillery. Lookouts were posted in the distillery with a signal system connecting with the still room.

An unusual signal was at the main entrance. Two nails had been driven through the wooden door about two inches apart. Each was connected with wires to a buzzer. To sound the buzzer, a piece of metal was held against the points of the two nails. The signals enabled workmen in the plant to escape.

An exhaust fan was located on the second floor to direct the fumes from the vats and still out over the river. Large pieces of cardboard, painted dark brown, were nailed over the insides of the windows on the river side.

The still had been in operation several months, the agents said, pointing out that none of the equipment was new. They said they believed the plant was the original one and that the Vesey street plant had been erected to care for increased business.

COMPANY ROBBED

Miscellaneous articles of clothing valued at $50 and a card index of customers were stolen Tuesday night from the office of the Herd Electric Co.

Features Drawing

Objects To Cards Used By County Clerk In Race For Positions On Ballots

Drawing for positions on Republican and Democratic tickets in the Essex primary May 17 was featured Friday in County Clerk Scott's office by complaints that cards used were not exactly alike in texture and color. Joseph Giuliano, Vanderbilt faction candidate for sheriff, was the most outspoken in criticizing the drawing and Acting Deputy County Clerk Arthur B. Tench and Miss Emma A. Kredel of the office staff, who were in charge made out new cards for the Republican sheriff candidates.

Giuliano persisted in his criticism and Tench voiced resentment of his insinuations of unfairness. The drawing was continued with new cards and Giuliano's name emerged, giving him first place on the ticket with Harry A. Wintermute second and Under-sheriff Louis E. Batchelor, organization candidate, third.

Before the drawing for sheriff Charles W. Chadwick had won first place for Republican state senator; Senator Joseph G. Wolber, second; H. Edward Toner, named by the Vanderbilt faction, but whose name will be withdrawn in Wolber's favor, third, and Captain Howard B. Norton, fourth. The Republican organization assembly slate won first place over the Vanderbilt ticket.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, Vanderbilt nominee for county clerk, had assured Tench the cards were "O. K. to me," and when the box was spun around his name came out first. County Clerk John H. Scott, who had left the task of drawing cards to his subordinates and left the room, was second, and Frederick W. Parker, third, in the Republican group.

Giuliano resumed his criticisms of the cards when the Republican freeholder names were submitted. There was another study of the pasteboards and Benjamin M. Weinberg, of the Vanderbilt group ended the discussion, after scrutinizing the cards, with this comment: "If he (Tench) can tell the difference between those cards he's as good as Jimmie Valentine." The crowd laughed.

The name of Mrs. Katherine E. Connolly, running alone, was drawn first. Second place was won by the organization three, Freeholders Crane and Lindeman and William H. Rawson. The Vanderbilt candidates, Philip R. Van Dyne, Miss Margaretta Fort and Mr. Weinberg, were drawn third. Representative Fred A. Hartley, Jr., Tenth Congressional District Republican, was drawn first for that office. Charles Corbo was second. In the Twelfth District, Joseph Klinghoffer, Republican, won first position over Representative Frederick R. Lehlbach.

Town Clerk John J. Daly of Belleville, Democrat, for county clerk, got first position over William P. McDermitt, organization candidate. W. W. (Pat) Harrison, Democrat, candidate for representative in the Tenth District, against the organization man, Peter P. Aduato, said he had first place on the ticket arrangement in Trenton, but agreed to go along with the drawing. Aduato's name came out of the box first.

The room was crowded when the drawing began and Mayor Kenworthy and County Clerk Scott, his opponent, greeted each other warmly.

LIBRARY NEWS

Spring is here!

And these last few days of glorious weather bring to mind those big league games and fishing poles and golf clubs in fighting trim.

Of course, it's hard to believe that there are any men or boys who have not been born knowing baseball. But what about the women?

More and more every year they are leaving the housework and following the men to the ball parks. Why not surprise your friends with your knowledge of the great American sport by reading, "Play the game," Stanley Harris, or "Babe Ruth's own book of baseball."

Trout fishing being in season, it's only fair to mention that and to wish all you trout fishermen the best of luck. These books might help you get a few more of those game fish. "Taking trout with the dry fly," by S. G. Camp. "Science of fly fishing for trout," by G. G. Shaw, and "Treatise on trout for the progressive angler," by C. Z. Southard.

The golfers are at it all year but spring awakens the urge more than at any time. We hereby offer a few books on the subject. "Golf for young players," by Glenna Collett; "Golf for women, Down the fairway," by Bobby Jones.

ON STAYING AT HOME

ONE of the good things that result from a financial depression is that people stay at home more than they used to. We do not have a report on the sales of electric clocks, but we predict that fewer will be sold until business picks up. It has been said that the popularity of the electric clock spread because people did not stay at home long enough to wind up the old fashioned spring clocks. It was, therefore, a great inconvenience to arrive home and find all the clocks stopped. But now people have time to stay at home. Because they don't have money they can at least appreciate some of the less poetic things about home life, like winding the clock and putting the cat out. It is miserable for some people to get used to spending an evening at home. Every new adjustment is hard on personality. It requires considerable ability to adjust to the new situation.

Our speedy-minded American people may learn the lesson of their lives by staying at home. They may find it vastly more thrilling to read a book than to spend the evening in a theater watching a hair-raising, blood-and-thunder moving picture. They may learn that some of their immediate relatives have attractive qualities and that conversation with them regarding matters of mutual interest isn't nearly so boring as some of the comic strips would indicate. It may prove restful for young American parents to occasionally wander into the nursery to see the peaceful sleep of their children in contrast to their own restlessness. The home is a great place to learn the things that really mean something in life. Those who carry away from a well ordered home a serenity of spirit, an optimistic outlook, a mind well trained by thoughtful reading and serious conversation will get further in the world and be happier than those who run the street seeking a new thrill. A home is a thrilling place. Too many young people cannot see it that way, and many of them do not care to even consider the matter.

RUINED BY HIGH TAXES

A RECKONING is in store for these reckless money-spending politicians in various legislatures and city governments throughout the country—a development entirely aside from the angry protests over federal taxes. A revolt of the home owners who face the loss of their property through excessive state and county taxes, forced by political spendthrifts, is in the making.

Real estate in many States, is being taxed to death for the reckless manner in which the funds of the states and the counties have been squandered. Millions spent on elaborate court houses, gorgeous school buildings, the doubling and tripling of state, county and town employees must be paid for now by soaking the taxpayers.

The taxpayers simply cannot supply the cash. They haven't it. In the years of plenty the taxpayers failed to keep an eye on the money-spending politicians. Now, they are faced with payment for the piper.

The real estate owner all over the country is being strangled. How long can he stand the gaff?

KENWORTHY SNEAKS IN AGAIN

WE see by the papers that Samuel Sampson Kenworthy, mayor of Belleville, is running for County Clerk against none other than our good and esteemed friend John H. Scott, whose ability in the job has been known to good Republicans in this neck of the woods for some fifteen odd years.

Which gets us to the meat of the kernal in a hurry. Samuel Sampson, who used to write sports or something and acted out in the middle west, has a cast iron political nerve to think he can cope with John Scott. To our knowledge Samuel Sampson couldn't even get half of the Republican County Committee votes in Belleville to make him town chairman. John Scott has and can get enough in the county to make him county clerk, which is quite a difference.

Kenworthy gets able backing, from the Belleville Times and Nutley Sun. Why not? Johnson Foy run 'em!

Sammy helped hand on a silver or gold-plated platter, we forget which, all of Belleville legal advertising to Mr. Foy. But being independent and not desiring to be a cat's paw for Kenworthy's political complex at the expense of our public columns WE dare criticize him.

To our mind Sammy would do his Belleville public a duty if he spent his time as Mayor for which job he gets well paid instead of chasing hither and yon seeking to better his personal position while collecting pay from the taxpayers of the town.

And when Sammy goes out in the county for support he must reckon with the union men. He snubbed a union shop in Belleville. We must refreshen Sammy's mind, on this score, dating back to 1928 when the News was represented by an Allied Printing Trades Council delegate at Belleville Town Hall. Mayor Kenworthy refused to heed the delegate until called to task by his colleagues. It was only after the union delegate had informed the Mayor that he represented 50,000 union men and other commissioners insisted upon his being heard that the Mayor welched.

And, Sammy? Has your election propaganda got the Union label on it? You know that is what every good politician uses—the Union label. Your support of scab shops in the past may be a boomerang, Sammy, ole boy, ole boy.

THE TAX ON MATCHES

THE proposed federal excise tax on matches seems a very ill-advised move. A very large proportion of matches are given away to smokers. A tax would compel the charge of at least a cent for each book of matches which are now free. And as compared with other proposed excise taxes the rate of four cents a thousand is enormous. That amounts at present match wholesale prices to a 50 per cent tax. It is hard to see how this levy can be justified. Perhaps it may seem a small matter, but it will cost the public a good deal in the aggregate.

The Heritage American Room

No. 2—Treatment of the Walls

By CARL HECK
Consulting Art Director, Bigelow Weavers

IN ANY well appointed room nothing is more important than the background furnished by the wall. Accordingly, the first step in the alteration of our typical room is the redecoration of the wall to provide a new background for the furnishings. Draperies, wallpaper, woodwork—all must be considered in the rejuvenation of this room.

Among the most important changes the valances which decrease the height of the room, so we remove this molding entirely.

A small-figured wallpaper in a light tone replaces the old room's monotonous dark yellowish tan paper.

These small-figured papers give a room an essential feeling of airiness, while wallpapers full of large figures have a tendency to make rooms appear smaller.

Another important touch in the Modern draperies and wallpaper and the arrangement of pictures have an important influence on the appearance of a room as shown above.

we make the substitution of short, tied-back draperies, topped with valances, for the long, straight draperies of the old room. The horizontal lines of the valances have a tendency to lower the ceiling, giving better proportion to the room, while the vertical lines of the old draperies had exaggerated the room's height.

For the sake of interest in the window treatment, flowered chintz replaces the dark, self-figured damask in the old room. With glass curtains of peach, this flowered chintz is used in draperies and valances. The new draperies hang only to the bottom of the wooden apron under the sill, with the glass curtains ending a quarter of an inch above the sill.

Woodwork Repainted

When we come to the dark varnished woodwork, we find that the wonderful improvement can be worked here by repainting it in a light ivory, egg-shell finish. The picture molding that ran around the walls of the room a foot below the ceiling is rendered unnecessary by

About Books by Cyrus Wood

A central thinking agency, to act as an economic general staff, with no control or espionage power, and to include men chosen by representatives of the government, of business, and of labor, is one of the plans advocated by Wallace Brett Donham, dean of the Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University, in his book, "Business looks at the Unforeseen." (Whittlesey House) reiterating the importance of home markets, which he stressed in his previous book, "Business Adrift." Dean Donham, in his present volume, carries that idea to the point of suggesting that "We ourselves might seriously consider as one of the possible methods of Federal Economy abolishing our whole division of Foreign Trade in the Department of Commerce. Certainly," he adds, "the collateral effects of so doing would strengthen our diplomacy, and make our activities a far less serious strain on international relations. Such a decision would also tend to lessen our tendency to rely on the diminishing market for exports and lead us to concentrate more on our home products."

One of the most important jobs of the central thinking agency proposed by Dean Donham would be, he states, "to study the principal shocks to which society is subject and to recommend elastic institutions or programs which will meet these shocks as nearly automatically and with as little delay as possible whenever they occur from any series of causes. Such body would be futile or dangerous if given control," he adds, "for society would either lose its vitality or more probably develop automatic and peculiarly dangerous extra-legal defence mechanisms to bootleg discretion back to industry. Espionage powers given to such a body would be unfortunate for through the development of fear they would prevent the growth of its influence. This economic general staff should include a business research and interpretive division constantly studying general business problems. Such a division should provide intelligent bases for business decisions.

"Just as concrete government action would generally result from conclusions of the economic general staff only when Federal or state governments were convinced of the desirability of its recommendations, in like manner the business recommendations of such a general staff would have no effect except as it convinced a representatives business congress chosen by and responsible to the great industries and trade associations of the country, or as it in influenced organized labor."

Credit expansion through banks of deposit and a restoration of 1925 domestic price levels are necessary if we are to see an immediate upturn of conditions, and both are possible, according to Dean Donham. "The last eighteen months," he says, "have been a prolonged, unnecessary money panic. Partly from policies adopted, but mainly because of the inelasticity in the Federal Reserve Act itself, our central banking system has been unable to respond to this emergency as it responded in 1920-21. Twice in that period its normal reserves were fully employed. This time, though the deflation is far more serious, we have had continuously large excess reserves. Without fault of the individual banks we have had a perfect pestilence of illiquidity. We are back close to the old stark individualism in banking. It is not without significance that all through this drastic price deflation . . . we have kept idle or substantially idle, and almost wholly separate from its normal relationship to our own and the world's credit structure, not far from twenty per cent of the world's monetary gold supply."

In conclusion to his book Dean Donham says, "Athens built her civilization on slavery, England, because she developed a national economy founded on exports, built her accomplishment for over a century on a relatively submerged labor group. We must continue to build our economy in primary reliance on our home market. Since this is so, I see no chance of continuous good business except through widespread economic stability and high general standards of living. This conclusion offers large hope for the future."

Association Advises Commission How To Save About $17,000 Brown Has a Property Tangle To Solve Now

Belleville has a chance to save about $17,000 on the paving of two streets, if the commissioners can manage to get $5,000 or so, before the end of the state's fiscal year.

I. A. Reyle, representative of the Hill-Top Improvement Association appeared before the Board of Commissioners at the afternoon conference Tuesday. He requested that if possible, Mill and Harrison streets be paved from the Bloomfield line to Montgomery street, before the end of the year. Mr. Reyle said, "The state has set aside $17,000 for this purpose and as the total estimated cost would be $22,788.26, the town will only have a little over $5,000 to pay.
If the job is not done before the end of the fiscal year, the town will lose the state aid of $17,000."

These streets, especially Harrison street, are in a very bad condition.
Harrison street, according to Town Engineer Albert S. Blank, would cost about $1,500 to repair. He maintained that inasmuch as the patching would not withstand heavy trucking, the street would have to be repaired annually. Mr. Blank is of the opinion that the wisest move would be paving these roads, as the constant cost of maintenance is too high and such a job would aid in alleviating some unemployment.

In his address, Mr. Reyle stated that he was fully aware of the board's policy of "No New Work," but he and his association felt that it would be in the interests of economy to pave these roads this year, thus saving the people $17,000.

The board agreed to consider the problem. Commissioner Williams requested Town Engineer Blank to draw up an estimate on the cost of such a project.

Last year the board agreed to cancel the taxes on certain property in Silver Lake owned by the Edison Company. In return for this immunity from taxation, the company agreed to allow the town to use this land for recreation purposes.

All seemed well until Tuesday afternoon, when Town Attorney J. B.
Brown notified the board that the state auditor claims such action on the part of a town governing body is illegal.

The board is now trying to find some way by which it can legally cancel the company's taxes or at least reduce them.

Edward R. Hacker

Edward Rohan Hacker, age ten years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Finch Hacker of 777 Clifton avenue,
Newark, formerly of High street, Belleville, passed away following a three weeks' illness. He was removed to the hospital where his father gave him blood in a transfusion. He was held for his recovery until bronchial pneumonia developed and the family was called to his bedside at 12:30 A. M. Tuesday.

Edward had a host of friends who sincerely mourn his passing. His genial disposition endeared him to every one who knew him which was emphasized by the number of people who called and the attendance at the mass and funeral.

Boy Scouts, children of the block where he resided and his classmates sent floral tributes which added to the already large number received, completely enveloped the little casket.
Spiritual bouquets were also received as well as condolence telegrams from those unable to attend.

Priest and Sisters from Good Counsel Church, as well as teachers from Ridge Street School called to offer their sympathy.

Mass was celebrated by Father Ryan who accompanied the body to the cemetery. Surviving Edward are his parents, and aunt, Miss Mary Giesch, two uncles, George, of Belleville, and William, of Newark, and three brothers, Alfred, Jr., George and Kenneth.
Interment was in Holy Cross Cemtery, Monday.

Last Friday morning's assembly at the high school was dedicated to welcoming the return of the baseball season. Miss Alice Walters, music instructor at the institution, revived the old time favorite "Take Me Out

"Betty at the Baseball Game," a comic monologue based on a stupid woman's experience at her first game, was delivered by Dorothy Gardner.

received by the assembly.

THE FORUM

OUR MAYOR BECOMES A PRIMARY RACKETEER

Editor News:

My attention is called to a statement made by Mr. Kenworthy at a recent meeting of the Belleville Republican Club to the effect that a consolidation of the two clubs could not be accomplished on account of a disgruntled few who had organized themselves as The Regular Republican Organization of the Town of Belleville.

As chairman of the publicity committee of the Regular Organization it becomes my duty to take exception to this statement in order that those interested may view impartially the true condition that exists.

The leaders of the Regular Organization are interested in consolidation feeling that such an accomplishment would be beneficial to the Republican Party. They did not function as a part of the regular organization until practically thrown out of the Belleville Republican Club since they would not acquiesce to the dictates of independent and selfish individual leadership.

Unwilling to earn recognition as a reward for party service the Mayor set himself up as one of these leaders striving through factional alliance and the direct primary to advance himself to a point where party leaders would be forced to accept him against their better judgment. In this he was finally and disastrously rejected by the electorate being defeated for the chairmanship of the Belleville County Committee. His successful rival is now the president of the Regular Republican Organization which in his opinion represents the disgruntled group.

The open primary is a worthy medium when used by a candidate whose popular appeal can overwhelm the party organization. When used, however, by a rejected, disgruntled and self-appointed leader it becomes a boomerang to the electorate itself. It foists upon them the skeleton of the candidate already dead and requires the necessity of a second burial.

The regrettable aftermath is the inevitable return to the regular ranks of those who have been exploited by misrepresentation and fabulous rewards which seldom if ever materialize.

The proposition is "Organization vs. Personal Ambition."

GEORGE E. STEWART, Jr.

Considerable interest is being displayed in reference to the forthcoming meeting of the Executive Committee which is to be held at the home of the Secretary, 129 Smallwood avenue, on Saturday evening, April 30.

"Pat" Fort Declares New Auto Purchase Is Patriotic Today In National Campaign It Is Mark Of Distinguished Service

Like purchasing a Liberty Bond 15 years ago, ordering a new car today is a mark of distinguished service in the national campaign against unemployment, according to P. A. Fort, President of Fort Motors Co. of New Jersey, Plymouth, Nash and Dodge dealers.

"Analysis of the vast industrial network which is engaged in producing materials, parts and finished cars and in merchandising new automobiles shows that every new automobile bought today contributes almost its full cost to unemployment relief," he said. "From mine and forest to salesroom (a total of more than five million people in this country depend upon the manufacture and sale of automobiles for their livelihood. It is perfectly apparent to everyone who thinks that every new car bought now means employment for this vast army, more money circulated throughout our business structure, and another step toward normal business conditions."

"Thus, every new car appearing on the streets this spring is actually a badge of honor for its owner, who has been fearless enough and wise enough to take advantage of the best buying conditions in automobile history, and to contribute his share toward normal employment and prosperity."

"Here are some concrete reasons why every new automobile registered adds to the well-being of the entire country:

"One of every ten persons gainfully employed works for the automobile industry.

"At an annual wage of $1,200 per individual, this means that the industry makes available a total of six billion dollars a year for the purchase of food, clothing, furniture, homes and articles produced by other industries. This amount of money, normally distributed by the automobile industry, is sufficient to build and furnish a half million homes every year and to pay the expenses of their occupancy."

"Compare this six billion dollar annual distribution with any emergency amount that might be collected toward unemployment relief, and the importance of every new car sale this spring and summer becomes instantly understandable. For the automobile is one central pillar in the economic structure which makes it possible for people to help themselves."

"From both a national and personal economic standpoint, the purchase of a new car at this time is patriotic as well as wise."

K. of C. Lodge Plans Card Party Tomorrow Past Grand Knight Herkness Is In Charge Of Affair

A card party under the auspices of Belleville Council, Knights of Columbus, will be held at the home, 43 Rossmore place, on Saturday evening, April 30. Past Grand Knight Herkness is chairman of the committee arranging the affair.

Mr. Herkness is one of the oldest and most active members of the Council, and he has a reputation for getting things done. Those who attend the card party are assured of a good time. The usual games, euchre, bridge and pinocle will be played and there will be awards for players and non-players.

On account of the demand for a repetition, another Irish-Scotch Night will be held by the Knights on Saturday evening, May 14. The Minstrels of Erin who made a big hit on the other appearance, will supply the music.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Mrs. Homer Zink, Mrs. Harvey Thompson, Mrs. John Howell, Mrs. Charles Kelly and Mrs. May Holden, director, all members of the Belleville Girl Scout Council, motored over to Glen Ridge last Friday afternoon where they were guests of the Glen Ridge Girl Scout Mothers' Association. Mrs. Frederick Eddy, National President of Girl Scouts addressed the gathering and told all about the eight week tour of the west that she has just completed. While there she visited Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Palo Alto, San Diego, Denver and other places in between. It was told in the real "Mrs. Eddy way" sprightly, gay, sparkling with wit and the fun gleaned from the many events that each listener felt she too had been on that trip.

Many telegrams received enroute, the Girl Scout Troops gathering at every stop, and even when the train did not stop, they gathered to wave to Mrs. Eddy until finally the conductor wanted to know — "Madam, What are you?"

On Easter Day Mrs. Eddy presented one Golden Eaglet in a wonderfully effective setting. On a platform banked solid for three feet with callulies that grow wild in California, stood one Easter Lily in center of the stage. The Girl Scouts presented a pageant "The Lone Plant" and this was followed by ceremony of the Golden Eaglet presentation.

A good record of all the meetings, speeches, that were attended by Mrs. Eddy who spoke to over 7,000 Girl Scouts and over 8,000 adults. The only thing she doesn't keep a record of is the tons of food that must have been eaten at the banquets, luncheons, teas and dinners judging by buttons that had to be moved back and now Mrs. Eddy has suspicion that the belt on her uniform needs a new hole.

Troop No. 1 held observation tests last Monday, and also enjoyed a new compass game. This Troop is beginning work on its annual play which will be given some time in June.

Troop No. 2 enjoyed a real long hike on Saturday. They walked up to Montclair and spent the day with old friends there.

Troop No. 3 had 100 per cent attendance this week. Plans were made to hold a combined hike with Troop No. 9 on next Saturday when both Troops will spend the day in South Orange Mountains. This Troop has settled down to real work under the direction of Lieutenant Beatrice Vogel. Mrs. Holden conducted the games at this week's meeting.

Troop No. 4 had planned a supper hike for last Tuesday but the weather prevented.

Belleville Girl Scouts played basketball with Maplewood Girl Scouts Tuesday evening in the Junior High School at Maplewood and lost 21-12. Mrs. George Gregson and Mrs. Holden went along.

The Senior Troop held its regular meeting on Monday evening under the direction of Patricia Murray. It was an "Evening of Literature," and the reading of various poems both old and new proved very entertaining. Towards the close of the evening refreshments of cake and punch were served.

Those present were: Patricia Murray, Edith Pesvey, Evelyn Holberg, Nancy Miller, Ena Holden, Audrey Eppler, Viola Sautter, Catherine Jackson, Pearl Hemminger and Captain Miss Elizabeth Tempest.

Miss Florence Kelly conducted another Bird Finders' Hike last Saturday with Grace Jensen, Marion Miller, Edna Baum, Lorraine Houseman, and Audrey Eppler. The following birds were spied in Branch Brook Park and South Orange Mountain: White-eyed Vireo, Blue-headed Vireo, Yellow Throated Vireo, Warbling Vireo, Bluebird, Palm Warbler, Cardinal, Cowbird, Red-winged Bluebird, Swamp Sparrow, Lincoln Sparrow, Chipping Sparrow, Song Sparrow, English Sparrow, Purple Grackle, Bronze Grackle, Phoebe, Blue-gray Gnatcatcher, Ring-necked Pheasant, Towhee, Cedar Waxwing, Downy Woodpecker, Flicker, Robin, Blue-

Stanford's Record As Coach Outstanding His Baseball Teams Have Won Seventy-nine Out Of Ninety-four Starts

"When better scholastic baseball teams are developed, George Stanford will develop them."

That's what Nutley baseball fans are saying these days, after watching Coach Stanford's Nutley High nine win three games this early season to increase Stanford's total of victories on the diamond since 1926 to seventy-nine. Only fourteen decisions have been lost.

When Nutley faces Millburn Saturday, Stanford will be seeking his eightieth victory in ninety-four starts. The Nutley mentor, who has already inscribed his name in imperishable letters as one of the outstanding schoolboy football coaches of the East, is also carving a great name for himself on the diamond these last seven years.

Last season his Nutley nine won fourteen out of sixteen games while in 1930 only two games were lost out of a thirteen game schedule. Bloomfield eked out a 1-0 decision over Nutley while Dickinson won another close battle, 5-3.

Nutley's great coach attributes his success to the cooperation of his players and their willingness to do what he says. Stanford, who is of the reticent and unobtrusive sort, has little to say for his methods which are in a large part responsible for Nutley's great record. Stanford is a great hustler. He is always the first out on the field and takes his share of hard work. Baseball or football Stanford works his head off on the field to produce winning results—and his records show that he gets them.

It is doubtful if there is another coach in the East who has a baseball record during the past seven years which equals Stanford's. The Nutley mentor stands in a class by himself. His claim to fame is based on solid achievement alone. Like Cyrano, he "wears deeds for decorations."

Stanford's 1932 diamond nine stands a good chance of completing an undefeated season. With such an able and conscientious mentor at the helm, indications are that Nutley may go through the season unbeaten.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. See at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

These facts and figures have been secured and compiled by Town Clerk John J. Barrett, under the supervision of the Board of Commissioners of Belleville, with the idea of informing the citizens of the Township of the official family of the Town Government and some of the past history of the Town.

To those outside of Belleville whom this may reach, Belleville is located outside of Newark, between it and Paterson, ten miles from New York City, surrounded by other beautiful towns such as Bloomfield and Nutley, and is bounded on its eastern side by the Passaic River. It is partly industrial and residential, being fortunate in having many lawns still left for the desirable industry to locate. The residential sections are of high type and are protected by a zone ordinance.

These men have served Belleville as Mayors since that office was instituted, as follows:
C. LYMAN DENISON, 1912-1914.
JOHN L. HUELSSENBECK, 1914-1915, 1916-1917, 1918-1919, 1920-1921, 1922-1923, 1924-1925, 1926-1927, 1928-1929, 1930-1931, 1932-1933.
