School Board Moves To Continue Repairs

Payment Of State Funds Enable Yearly Repair Program

Board of Education at its first July meeting held in the board rooms on Tuesday night, voted to authorize the building and grounds committee to go ahead with the usual summer program of reconditioning the school buildings and grounds.

This move was made possible by the recent payment of state funds to the school board, by the county officials. Previous to this payment, the carrying out of this yearly repairing of the schools was an undecided and tentative factor.

James L. DeRosset, president of the Board of Education, made it known that he is well pleased, in fact "happy," that the teachers and other school employees had been paid before the end of the term and that the school system now has no obligations.

A request of the Socialist Party for the use of the high school auditorium during the coming political campaign, was voted down. In remarking upon this move, Mr. DeRosset said: "I don't think the schools should be used for political gatherings, whether they be Republican, Democratic or Socialist. If a mass meeting is to be held by a civic organization and is for the benefit of the entire town, I would offer no objections."

Authorization of the building and grounds committee to award the coming season's coal contract to the lowest responsible bidder, was given unanimously. The contract for the season's school supplies, went to J. L. Hammet and Co., of Newark.

The appointment of Dr. H. B. Vail and Dr. D. J. Cavanaugh as school physicians at their present salaries, was passed on recommendation of Mrs. Porter Sheldon. Two teachers tendered their resignations, both were accepted. They are Miss Roberta S. Merrett, of School No. 4 and Ben Ricker, recently added to the high school faculty as an English instructor.

Wayne R. Parmer, supervisor of schools, has been authorized to fill the vacancy left by the recent death of Carl A. Erikson, teacher and football coach at the high school.

Carl A. Erikson Mourned By Many

High School Football Men's Death Is Shock To Friends

The death of Coach Carl A. Erikson, Belleville High School's football director, early Sunday morning, at Bridgeport Hospital, Bridgeport, Conn., was a severe shock to his many friends and admirers. He had been ill at the hospital since June 24, when he was stricken with a heart attack while driving through Stratford, Conn., a suburb of Bridgeport, enroute to Camp Yankee at Eastford, Conn., of which he was director.

News of Mr. Erikson's death was received Tuesday in a telegram sent to H. L. Sturges, of 181 Cedar Hill avenue, by Mrs. Erikson, from Elmira, N. Y. The Sturges are neighbors of the Eriksons.

Mr. Erikson had started for the Connecticut camp the week-end before closing of the local schools, to prepare the camp for the coming season. He was accompanied on the trip by his son Kenneth. He was stricken at the wheel of his car shortly before entering Bridgeport. His son averted a probable accident by pulling the emergency brake and stopping the car. He then notified the police who rushed Mr. Erikson to the Bridgeport Hospital where he remained under observation till his death early Sunday morning.

Good Record
Mr. Erikson has for the past five years been coach of the high school football team. In addition he conducted the school band and was an instructor in civics and history. Previous to coming here he taught and coached at Ridgefield Park and Asbury Park. It was at the former school where he developed two state championship football teams from practically raw material.

Former Football Star
Coach Erikson was a graduate of Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa., where he had been a star football player.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Elmira, New York, Mr. Erikson's home town. Surviving also are two other sons, Carl, Jr., and George Richard; a sister, and two brothers, of Elmira.

Many Attend Services
Numerous local football fans, friends and football players left immediately upon receiving word of Mr. Erikson's death, for Elmira to attend the funeral. Among this group was Harold Bade, captain of the last football team to be guided by Coach Erikson.

Condolence

The Board of Education, upon recommendation of Mrs. Porter Sheldon, voted Tuesday night, to send an official letter of condolence to the bereaved family of Carl A. Erikson, high school football coach, who died Sunday after a short illness.

Town Commission Holds Lively Session

Relief Demands Of Unemployed Cause Many Arguments

The weekly conference and evening meeting of the town commissioners held Tuesday night, in the town hall, was one of the liveliest in months. A committee representing the Workers-Taxpayers Council, and the town commissioners, indulged in a three hour verbal battle over the eight demands for aid made by the unemployed organization last week. The discussion came to a close at the end of the evening session with the assurance of the board that "all within the law will be done to relieve the present condition of the two hundred members of the organization and other unemployed."

Heated Afternoon Session
Starting at the afternoon conference, the controversy raged on till 7:30 in the evening, when a recess was called and the matter referred to the evening session. Charges of capitalism, favoritism, out of order, libel, propaganda, and the like, flew fast and furious at the early session, wherein the bulk of the discussion took place.

The sale of workers' homes, eviction for non-payment of rent, moratorium of taxes, increased taxes on incomes over $5,000 a year, federal unemployment insurance, and cash relief were the principal points of disagreement and debate. Philip Burns of Newark, spokesman for the group, was of the opinion that "The town should not sell houses for taxes. It should pay all rents, thus preventing eviction. It should declare a moratorium of taxes for the entire period of unemployment. It should provide work or cash relief for those unemployed and not discriminate between age, color or nationality. The town should endorse and go on record favoring increased taxes and federal insurance."

The answering of these questions and demands was left principally to Town Attorney Brown. Referring to the sale of homes, the tax point, both demands, and several other requests, he said: "No, it is contrary to state law and absolutely impractical. The demands for work, cash relief, payment of rent and gas, water, and electric bills, are being taken care of by and have been getting consideration from our poor department if investigation proved them worthy of such help."

Asks Change Of Laws
Mr. Burns when confronted with these statements, calmly stated that

"HOW MUCH WILL WE DECREASE?" WILLIAMS ASKS, STATING THAT IS A VITAL QUESTION

Albert S. Blank Addresses Rotary Club Discusses Maintenance Of Streets, Sewers, And Other Things

Town Engineer Albert S. Blank, addressed the Rotary Club at its weekly meeting in the Neried Boat Club, last Wednesday noon. He spoke on "Maintenance and Operation of the Various Departments Functioning under the Bureau of Engineering."

In this unusually interesting talk, Mr. Blank informed his fellow members that there are fifty miles of main line sewer to maintain in town; 8,500 water laterals, of which 4,415 are now being used; 800 manholes to clean and maintain; 53.22 miles of water main in town and 56.9 miles of streets, of which 44.0 miles are of permanent paving which have to be cleaned, repaired and maintained.

He said: "If Belleville's sewers were placed end to end, they would extend from here to Asbury Park."

Mr. Blank also told the group about the unusual construction details encountered in sewer building work and of the difficulties the men encounter in this work.

The members of the Rotary Club voted Mr. Blank's lecture one of the finest and most unique they ever had the pleasure of listening to.

Commissioner Is Interested Only In Results—Discusses Jobs And Saving $108,298.00

Belleville's Director of Revenue and Finance follows up economy proposals, contained in previous open letter to Board, writing as follows:

Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen of the Board of Commissioners:

One week ago I offered resolutions to have conferences held to discuss reductions of town operating costs—consolidation of jobs and departments—and to arrange conferences with all money-spending boards of town to discuss reconsideration of present expense schedules, and also to plan establishment of central purchasing of supplies for all divisions of town government. I further made the statement in the report submitted and made part of the minutes that I was prepared to submit recommendations to reduce town costs from $75,000 to $100,000 annually.

Why no conference has been held to date is of no interest to me at this hour, I am only interested in the results—lower expenses—it is not now a question of whether this and other boards will or will not decrease expenses, the only question is "How much will we decrease?"

My report of last week advised that 86 per cent of the 1932 budget was now beyond direct control of the Board of Commissioners—made up mainly of costs—of Board of Education, County Tax and Debt Service. The latter, interest and Bond Payments of all Town Division—totaling over $375,000 or over $1,000 per day, is the problem least open for reduction—only by placing amounts in yearly budgets to reduce the total of outstanding bonds can the interest charges be reduced.

When I entered office in 1930—75 per cent of the Town Debt (exclusive of school and water divisions) or $3,000,000 was in Temporary Bonds. In October, 1931 $1,000,000 was changed from Temporary to Funded Debt and $616,000 is now under way to fund as a one to ten year series. I am advised by authorities on Municipal Finance that any city with over 25 per cent of the debt in Temporary Bonds and less than 75 per cent in Funded Bonds is regarded as unsoundly financed—and that was the condition confronting me on entering office—100 per cent contrary to what is regarded as sound municipal financing.

Is it any wonder then that our taxpayers are paying this year $375,000 in interest? Twenty-five cents out of every budget dollar are for interest and only thirteen cents are for bond payments. This is more definitely grasped by a home owner if Building and Loan payments operating at $50 per month on $5,000 mortgage for eleven and one-half years were changed to require same mortgage—same payments to run for seventeen and one-half years. The Town of Belleville was surely headed for its own private depression and until money was unobtainable, my reports received less consideration than the selection of men who painted the same hydrants twice in one year. Belleville's debt increased from 1925 to 1931—137 per cent or from $2,369,000 to $5,629,000—exclusive of School Debt—costing practically $180,000 in increased interest charges annually or sixty points in the tax rate before any payments on loans are considered. Reductions in the tax rate of 1927 of $4.28 were made to $4.18 in 1928 to $4.15 in 1929 and $4.06 in 1930.

There was neither moral, financial nor lawful authority for such tax rate reductions, and the $180,000 or more increase in annual interest charges with over $3,000,000 increase in debt in six years proves the tax rate is a very poor guide to learn how a town is managed. It is now the duty of members of this Board who claimed credit for such tax rate decreases in 1928, 1929 and 1930, to absorb their responsibilities and cooperate on every fair recommendation to the utmost to prevent further financial complications.

For nearly two years I have been making available to Board members information regarding town finances. This work has been appreciated by a great many of our taxpayers, but has been regarded as "unnecessary" and "too educational" by politically minded folks. It is not very encouraging to be constantly demanding votes for economy in public expenses while others are seeking votes for another election day through the public payroll.

I do not propose to discuss individuals, I am going to discuss jobs and dollars—particularly what I regard as unnecessary jobs and waste dollars—and economies that the present condition of town finances demands. I do not care who holds the jobs to be discussed. I fully expect the usual numbers of folks will call to demand each person should be kept on the payroll—it really is surprising how many people, anxious for lower taxes will have their friends kept on even after a department head assures them he has organized the work so help can be cut out—and I expect the usual number of statements of how many votes each recommendation will cost next election day, as occurred when I previously recommended economies. (It is wholly possible when May 1934 rolls in, your Director of Revenue and Finance will have rendered his share of public service to his town and can step aside, with those who appreciate sincerity of effort to maintain campaign pledges saying, "Well done"—Thou good and faithful servant.)

Recommendations for improvement in management of town property and business are respectfully submitted as follows:

1. That all town cars be marked "Town of Belleville, N. J.—for official use only" on each side.
2. That car allowances be discontinued and where private cars are used on public work separate bills be rendered stating service rendered in detail.

The local chapter has made arrangements to travel to and from the pier by bus. Buses will leave the Masonic Temple on Joramelon street, at eight o'clock in the morning. They will convey the group directly to the Peter Stuyvesant, one of the three palatial steamers chartered for this monster excursion.

As the trip will require three hours an orchestra will play on each boat to provide amusement and dancing enroute. Playland has been reserved for the Eastern Star on July 14 and absolutely no one except members of the excursion will have the use of the various amusements on that day.

Special arrangements have been made for the welfare of the children. There is a special bathing beach for them and miniatures of all larger amusements in the grounds are there for their amusement. Matrons will be in attendance to look after them. A statement has been made that between 12,000 and 14,000 are expected to make the trip.

Thomas Proven, chairman of district twenty-one, comprising eleven chapters, has arranged for arrows and signs to be posted along the route leading to the piers on the Hudson River.

The three steamers and their starting points have been announced as follows: "The Peter Stuyvesant," Fourteenth street pier, Hoboken, at 9 A. M.; "The Americana," Exchange place, Jersey City, at 9 A. M. and "The Sirius," Jersey Central R. R. pier, at 9:30 A. M.

Commission Meeting

the state laws should be changed to relieve the people. He was referred by the board to the state authorities.

Town Favors Federal Aid

The Board of Commissioners fully approved the state and federal aid angle of the discussion. "Belleville is not a rich town and it has trouble providing for its poor. We are now being aided by the state in this work. We have already notified our Senators and Representative, of our stand as to federal aid. We agree with you on these points, but we cannot change the laws," was the opinion of the board.

Burns then requested the board to go on record favoring these requests and asked that a signed statement be given his organization. He had previously referred to such endorsements and a bill asking federal aid, which has been prepared in Wisconsin for its state government. He was told that no such action was necessary and that the board wanted to digest the action taken by the middle-western state.

Williams Starts Fireworks

The conference continued in an orderly manner, neither side making any visible headway, until Commissioner Williams stated that Burns was "kidding" the group he represented and that if they had faith in the board, they would trust it to do whatever is fair.

Burns Retaliates

Following on the commissioner's part, Burns accused him of libel and also charged the police with carrying on a propaganda program against him and his purpose.

Following this, the board agreed to give the men a fair deal and do all within the scope of the law to help them. The mayor also conceded with Burns' request to summarize the afternoon's activities of the evening session for the benefit of those who were not present. The conference was then adjourned till 9 o'clock.

Interpreter At Evening Session

Following the mayor's summary in the evening, Ralph Codomo, an unemployed builder, acted as interpreter and repeated the entire afternoon doings in Italian for the benefit of those who could not understand English. This, coming from one of their own, whom they evidently trusted, satisfied the men and they remained quietly till the meeting concluded before leaving the board chambers.

William Connolly of William street, John Mallack of Dow street, Eugene Gelshon of Belleville avenue and Joseph Curran of Parkside drive spent the week-end clamping at Laurence Harbor.

Ladies' Lodge, A.O.H. Hears Boy Essayists

Youngsters Warmly Commended By Rev. Joseph Reilly,

Ladies' Auxiliary, Division No. 4, A. O. H., at their social Monday evening, entertained for Mr. and Mrs. James McGreevy and son Joseph of Cleveland street, and Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson and son, William, of Belleville avenue in recognition of their efforts in the recent essay contest held by the national council.

The boys in the seventh and eighth grades respectively of St. Peter's School competed, the subject being "Daniel O'Connell, Irish Statesman." The length of the address, clear wording, clear and concise enunciation and lack of nervousness on the part of the young orators, received commendation from spiritual director Rev. Joseph Kelly as well as the assemblage.

Mrs. George Hacker, chairman of Irish History, congratulated the boys on their achievement and hoped they would be winners of the national award in the next contest. Mrs. James Jordan presented gold pieces, the county award of five dollars to William Simpson, and the division award of $2.50 to Joseph McGreevy.

A delightful collation was dispensed by the culinary committee following reading and remarks. Mrs. Jordan very gracefully in behalf of the Auxiliary presented Father Kelly a leather bill fold with silver monogram and dated 1907-1932 in honor of his recent silver anniversary to the priesthood.

Owing to the division meeting only once a month the presentation was delayed but none the less sincere.

Father Kelly voiced his appreciation of the efforts of the ladies and urged them to continue as in the past.

Among the guests were Mrs. John Mc Coy, Mrs. George Byron, Mrs. Denis Cullen, Mrs. Edward Cogan, Misses Joanna and Elizabeth Cousins, Ida Kane, Mrs. Daniel Whalen, Mrs. John Mc Laughlin, Mrs. William Mc Williams, Mrs. William Austin, Mrs. John Gormley, Mrs. James Neary, Mrs. William Hood, Mrs. Horace Anderson, Misses Mary and Terese Salmon.

Electricity in the Home

— The Basement —

The modern home calls for a basement from which "Blue Monday" with its washday fatigue may be banished and its tasks dealt with electrically.

Electric washers and ironers practically eliminate drudgery in the laundry and should be a part of every household's equipment.

The modern basement with its playrooms and work benches requires several convenient outlets for lamps, appliances and electrically driven tools.

Public Service will be glad to be of help to you in electrifying your basement.

A REAL SPORTSMAN HASSES

ONE of the hardest blows ever suffered by Belleville sportsdom was the passing of Coach Carl A. Erikson of the high school football team, early Sunday morning at Bridgeport, Connecticut.

A real sportsman, a true believer in the policy of "Play the game clean," and one of the most earnest and likable of men, his sudden death leaves a gap that will never be entirely filled.

His generalship on the football field found critics. But his ability to inculcate honor and the spirit of fair-play into his charges made his work above criticism.

Under his guidance these past several years, Belleville High grid elevens were noted for their gentlemanly conduct on the field. They epitomized the efforts of Coach Erikson, the idealist, who played more the role of a father than a task-master to "his boys," as he was wont to call them.

"Clean sport, clean speech, clean living. The above was never better symbolized than in the fine record of Coach Erikson in his all too brief stay here at Belleville.

THE LION'S SHARE

THE head of one of our largest automobile manufacturing companies makes the striking statement that, in the past seven years, taxes have taken 35 per cent of his company's profits. More than half as much was paid in taxes as was paid in dividends to stockholders.

Fortunately, this particular company was ably managed and was unusually profitable. But the tax ratio runs nearly as high on the less profitable companies, and they cannot stand such a drain on their resources. Under any condition, taxes that amount to more than half the dividends paid tend to restrain business. Investors are not likely to risk their money in an enterprise when the government agencies take such a lion's share rake-off.

Every industry in this country, except government—which is the biggest industry—has had to make drastic economies and sacrifices to stay solvent. So far, government has gone along at top pace. It has done this by living off the people's reserves. But these reserves are now sadly depleted, as many a taxpayer striving to save his home can attest.

From now on, the government—federal, state, city and town—must come down.

THE USUAL RESULT

THE tariff on copper, which went into effect less than two weeks ago, has prompted swift retaliatory action. Before this new rate was imposed, the big copper companies agreed on quotas for all markets. With the United States closed to their products, three of the biggest producers have withdrawn from the co-operative selling company and will undoubtedly undersell the American mines in all other countries.

This economic warfare is bad for world security, for world peace. But it seems inevitable as long as the race to pile tariff walls higher and higher goes on.

A NEW NAME FOR IT

THE suggestion that gasoline be renamed taxolene is not put forth seriously but there is more than a joke in the idea. The oil producers are anxious to get into public knowledge the fact that, on an average, about 60 per cent of the price paid for gasoline by motorists is for that commodity. The other 40 per cent is for taxes.

Indirect taxes rouse little criticism as long as they are relatively small. But when they get into proportions like taxes on gasoline, tobacco and a few other things, they do not seem so indirect.

A METEOR—PERHAPS

KNOWING that we are something of an amateur astronomer, several of our friends have asked us to comment on the reported fall of the meteor which is alleged to have come to rest in a backyard in a not far distant suburban town last week.

We read the account, but did not go into ecstasies about it. Frankly we do not want to go on record as identifying the alleged phenomenon with the famous Moon Hoax of many years ago, but from what little we profess to know about these visitors from interstellar space the circumstances do not bear out theories which have been offered and to a great extent, proven.

What startled us most was the vivid description of a white-hot streak of fire that came out of the depths of space accompanied by a dazzling brilliance and plunging into the earth, there to smoulder and smoke for several hours emitting a bright glare the while.

Meteors are believed to be fragments of comets which, coming into contact with the atmosphere of the earth, are heated to incandescence. Those that strike the earth are known as meteorites and are composed mostly of nickel-iron although some are but stones containing no chemical element not found here on earth.

Coming as they do from the vast reaches of space they are extremely cold except on the surface which is very warm. Some meteorites that have been dug out of the ground immediately after they have been seen to strike, have been found to be covered with frost which seems to contradict the story relating that the local one set fire to a stick thrust into the hole where the meteor entered. And to, travelling at a high rate of speed, it seems impossible that the body would make a hole only six inches deep and the same persons to such evidences as astronomical observations. It is highly interesting, but as a general rule, we are interested in these so-called "shooting stars" because of the story they are told of the makeup of the universe, but until we have more complete evidence of the nature of the phenomenon we elect to consider it with a grain of salt and stick to our

ASKS COOPERATION

July 5, 1932.

Editor Belleville News:

The taxpayers of Belleville, or at least those that pay, were relieved when the town was able to pay its teachers before school closed and I am sure your desk will be swamped with letters from them telling their appreciation.

A few weeks ago a letter appeared in your paper signed by one Homer Zink. I was very much surprised at the sentiments expressed therein. If educated men entertain such ideas, what can one expect from the uneducated?

A mouthpiece, expressing itself through the medium of the press, the radio, or the pulpit has a fearful responsibility today, when everyone should be trying to bring about a spirit of co-operation with his fellows.

We know Belleville is in a bad way but it will be much worse if we follow the advice of this man.

It is not fair he should condemn all the commissioners—one of them who has not been in office long, has been doing splendid work for the town. He is willing and able to help us. The financial statement which he had published in your paper last week is good work and easily understood.

I am interested how we can effect a saving of $50,000 or more if the board controls only 14 percent of all monies. I sincerely hope they are not going to lay off employees. Let them try the stagger system and make the available money go as far as possible.

It does not seem as though there will be much work for the Board except the paying of bills, for the next few years.

If there ever was a time when every citizen should do his best, and cooperate with the Board, it is now. Surely this is not the time to create discord.

One of the Common People.

Asks, Stating That Is A Vital Question

- That telephones maintained at town cost be checked and unwarranted or unnecessary phones be discontinued.
 - That town refrain from doing any work that any taxpaying firms in Belleville can do—such as installation of water laterals which can be done more economically by private firms than by the town.
 - That Committee of this Board arrange joint conferences with officials of adjoining towns or cities to discuss economies possible by several towns bidding jointly on garbage contracts as one job—to discuss joint operation of engineering work and other problems whereby all concerned can get benefits of cooperative efforts.
 - That the Board of Commissioners approve policy of monthly payment of taxes and assessments, application of the principle of Building and Loan payments will be helpful to property owners—interest costs to town will be curtailed.
 - That Poor Department Supervisor be advised that vouchers cannot be approved covering purchases of cherries, apricots, shoe polish, canned lamb stew, etc.—and that purchases of shoes be confined to local dealers who are taxpayers. I want every needy person to have good wholesome food, but above products are out of order at public expense. My attention today has been brought to $148.00 worth of groceries purchased from out of town grocers. This practice is unjust to local tax-paying grocers and should be discontinued.
 - That notice be served by this Board that employees of town playing golf or attending ball games in Newark during their six hour business day and conveyed to their recreation by town owned or town maintained cars will be discharged. Such employees are unworthy of efforts your Director of Revenue and Finance expends in seeking funds for their payroll, and are unfair to the larger group of faithful employees. My department for some months has been working one hour more per day than other departments and a seven or eight hour day is required by any business house—other town departments can easily do likewise.
 - That conference on centralized purchasing be scheduled for next week.
- The above recommendations all have a definite bearing on municipal costs and discipline.

Recommendations for lower operating costs are respectfully submitted as follows:

- That annual cost of Engineering Department be placed at $7,500 saving thereby $7,200.
- That work of Building Inspector be transferred to reorganized Engineering Bureau, (Bureau to have not over three employees, saving on this transfer $2,000.
- That work of Town Attorney and Recorder be combined, giving town services of full time man at about $3,500 to $4,000—saving when salaries and fees are considered $3,500.
- That Combustible Bureau be closed or duties transferred to Fire Department where work logically belongs—saving $2,000.
- That Board of Assessment Commissioners be made up, (after Sanitary Sewer job is finished) of Town Engineer, Assessor, and one other, all to be regular employees at no extra salary—saving $1,050.
- That employees of Department of Revenue and Finance who are under ordinance appointment accept full 10 per cent reduction—effective as of July 1—saving $860. (Already accepted by employees).
- That telephone operator job be absorbed by clerk of Board of Health—which appears very practical—saving $1,200.
- That budgets covering maintenance on Roads, Streets, Sewers, Fire and Police equipment and public property be cut down an amount equal to town share of the expense of the unemployed payroll, saving $12,000.
- That explanation be given to board of expense of $3,157 for cleaning dumps since January 1 and for expense of $4,241 for tree removal—by those in charge of such work.
- (a) That repair crews of Water Department, Road Department and Sewer Department be organized as one maintenance department cutting out two foremen at $45 weekly—saving yearly $4,680.
(b) That job of plumbing inspector be absorbed by plumber of new repair department—saving $2,000.
(c) That clerical job in Engineering Department, with half wages charged to water department be cut out—saving $1,000.
(d) That one plumber be accepted as all required on Water Work—saving $2,808.
(e) That two to four jobs be eliminated after reorganizing repair crew—saving $3,000.
(Water Department for six months of 1932 shows about $6,500 profit—and expenses are adhering very closely to established budget and greater profits will come from above recommendations.)
- That Police and Fire Department employees be advised that reduction of $14,000 in total budgets is imperative as of July 1, saving $14,000.
- That Board of Education be advised that reduction of $50,000 is imperative and effective July 1, 1932, and that thorough understanding be established at early date—saving $50,000.
- That Library Board be advised that reduction of $1,000 is imperative and effective as of July 1, saving $1,000.

TOTAL RECOMMENDED CURTAILMENTS $108,298.

With the School Expenses of $240,000 to December 31, 1932 and County and State Tax totalling $326,000 which equals entire balance of tax collections anticipated for balance of year, leaving expenses of Road, Fire, Police, Recreation, Library, Engineering, Board of Health, Revenue and Finance and costs of materials dependent on borrowing money, all town employees will recognize that an unpleasant situation confronts the Board of Commissioners and I feel employees of the town will appreciate that action on recommendations for decreased expenses is vitally necessary.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS.

Director of Revenue and Finance.

Democratic Convention Flashes:
Al Smith, speaking in support of Prohibition repeal, and the tears in his eyes as the crowd gave him one of the wildest demonstrations of his political career.

Jimmy Walker, to all outward appearances gay and witty, but in reality restless and comprehensive.

The crowd cheering, shouting and screaming for Jimmy, but thanks to that Seabury investigation he was not permitted to take the floor.

Untermyer and the orchid in his lapel. The orchid looking for all the world like anything but an orchid.

The bargaining and dickering and trading among delegates and leaders. Something like what you see down at Delancy street on a busy day.

McAdoo yelling his lungs off and some gentlemen telling him to speak louder because he wasn't being heard.

The poker face maintained by Tammany Chief Curry and all his little Tammanyites. Finally their votes were demanded.

That ultra-superior complex of a certain investigator. He reminded this writer of the small town bully who crows his victims with bluff.

Roosevelt's nomination which makes Hoover very very happy indeed.

Gene Tunney, entering politics with flying colors.

CONQUERS CONSTIPATION

It is often very difficult to recognize constipation. You may be having regular bowel movements but they may not be thorough. Self-poisoning might occur, which is the absorption into the blood of poisons from accumulating waste matter in the intestines. The blood saturates the body daily with these poisons. Results are often serious. From the continued attack of intestinal poisons some vital organ eventually breaks down and chronic invalidism and shortened life results.

For your guidance in recognizing and hence over-coming constipation and its dread results, we are listing below some of the symptoms by which physicians recognize the presence of constipation.

If you are often subject to one or more of these disorders, constipation is not, probably the cause.

Headache
Gas
Belching
Bad Breath
Dizziness
Coated Tongue
Flatulence
Insomnia
(Sleeplessness)
Bilelessness
Continual Fatigue
Pimples
Hemorrhoids
(Piles)

Abdominal Tenderness
Lack of Appetite
Insatiable Hunger
Nausea (1-2 Mins. After Eating)
So-called Rheumatism
High-Blood Pressure
Auto-intoxication
Springtime Weakness

Unfortunately, up to within recent years it was difficult if not impossible to secure efficient evacuation of the bowel contents. It cannot be accomplished by the use of drugs commonly known as purgatives, cathartics, or laxatives, such as castor oil, pills, salts, mineral water and the like. These disturb and irritate the stomach and often affect the kidneys. Only through the principle of lubrication as embodied in Alagar can regular thorough elimination of waste matter be harmlessly accomplished.

Alagar is an emulsion of Russian Mineral Oil with Agar Agar and the well-known intestinal antiseptic Phenolphthalein. Its distinct Maple Flavor makes it very pleasant and palatable.

This product, Alagar, which contains pure ingredients, is a finely emulsified preparation of a pinkish color and is prepared with special care by our chemists in our own laboratory. It is regularly prescribed by leading physicians in their daily practice and in hospitals.

Look for the Two Red Diamonds on the Label. The sign of the genuine.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile
—Without CalomelAnd You'll Jump Out of Bed
in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up."

They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extract, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

Do You Know What Love Is?

By ELITA WILSON

Has love brought you unhappiness? Have you known the torture of watching love die, feeling helpless to save it? Is your marriage going on the rocks? Then write Elita Wilson and she will help you.

Are you jealous of your husband's pretty secretary? Then stop it right away. Be grateful to her instead. For besides saving your busy husband time and energy and attending to the countless details connected with office routine, she is also, in a way, the guardian of his pocketbook.

Elita Wilson

Well, for one thing, she keeps away from him the horde of high-pressure salesmen and vamps, saleswomen who would—a n d probably could—sell him a pink elephant if he happened to be in a mellow mood.

But far more important, according to Elita, is the fact that she also stands between him and the glib-tongued stock salesman who wants to unload a raft of worthless paper on him.

Now don't get sore! Nobody is implying that your husband is easily taken in. Many a smart man has been victimized in this way, simply because he had no secretary to turn away anybody and everybody with something to sell.

Next time you are tempted to get catty about that little girl down in your husband's office—remember this.

THE WAY OF A WOMAN

There must be something fundamental after all to the feminine inclination to slap somebody's face when very angry.

Mrs. Mabel Spiridorg of York, Pa., walked into the home of Mrs. Pauline Eckenrode, attractive young widow, with whom she had found her husband in a compromising situation, and dramatically pulled out a pistol and shot and killed her rival!

And then—again, running true to form—she fainted!

CURE FOR LAZINESS

No longer will lazy, irresponsible husbands be able to enjoy the good food and recreational advantages of the city workhouse, if more judges follow the example of Magistrate Jonah Goldstein.

Tired of sentencing Charles Monsolino, frequent offender, to the workhouse, while his wife and two small children faced want, Magistrate Goldstein ordered Monsolino to work at his trade of cabinet-maker and turn out salable objects to provide food for his family. "No work, no eats for you," declared the magistrate.

Since May 4 Monsolino has been the "guest" of the city.

HERE'S A NEW ONE!

They say there is nothing new under the sun. After reading the following, I believe you will doubt this statement, as I do, for this is certainly the first suit of its kind I ever came across.

Rose Rifkind, pretty young wife of A. H. Rifkind, Los Angeles apartment.

ment house owner, has filed suit for separation against her husband because he tussled every time she took a bath—because she used so much water.

Stingy!

A NEW TURKISH CUSTOM

One more reason for not wanting to be a Turk!

We think our divorce laws are pretty difficult here—but over in Turkey it often takes years and years to secure a divorce.

Another interesting fact just brought to light was that out of 290 divorces granted for infidelity, in that country, 260 of the transgressors were women!

Maybe Turkish women are getting over for the time when Turk could have several wives and simply discard them by the wave of the hand and a few mumbled words.

WHEN IN DOUBT

If you are in love with two girls and can't decide which one you want to marry—why not try this?

An Elk's picnic out in California started it. Jim Dale, 58 year old poultryman, wanted to get married. He picked seven willing candidates from among the picnicers, but just couldn't make up his mind which to marry—so he appealed to the crowd to decide for him.

The woman who got the most applause won. She was Mrs. Emma Johnson, 52 year old widow. A Justice of the Peace tied the knot then and there. The runner-up was maid of honor.

A COMPLIMENT FROM VICKI BAUM

"Every time I see an American man who knows how to fix a fire—and does it—I burn up with admiration," says Vicki Baum, German novelist. "German men believe that if there must be sacrifices it is up to the wife to make them. After my first trip to America I returned to Germany feeling that no German man could even hammer a nail straight!"

A HOLLYWOOD EXAMPLE

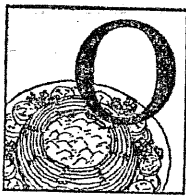

One need not be utterly cynical about movie marriages. Though most of them flop, a few survive in a rather beautiful and persistent way—just to prove that the thing can be done.

Irene Fenwick, who was until very recently almost as well known on the stage as her famous husband, Lionel Barrymore, declares regularly that you will never read about her divorce because there will never be any.

Lionel is now rehearsing in "The Claw," a new picture. Miss Fenwick and he starred in this play ten years ago. It was the beginning of their romance. They were married a year later, and ever since, when separated, they exchange three and four lengthy telegrams every day.

No, this isn't publicity—it happens to be the truth.

Attractively Different Meat Loaf

NCE tried, it is a safe guess your family will demand this kind of meat loaf often. The recipe offers a particularly unusual and appetizing way to prepare it. You will enjoy the surprise a great many people will show, and they will compliment you on your cleverness in using the ring mold. A tender, moist loaf invariably results with evaporated milk.

The experimental kitchen responsible for the recipe underscores the fact that while this loaf has all the most desirable qualities it is at the same time very inexpensive. Be sure to observe the baking instructions carefully, as leaving the loaf in the oven too long results in unnecessary dryness.

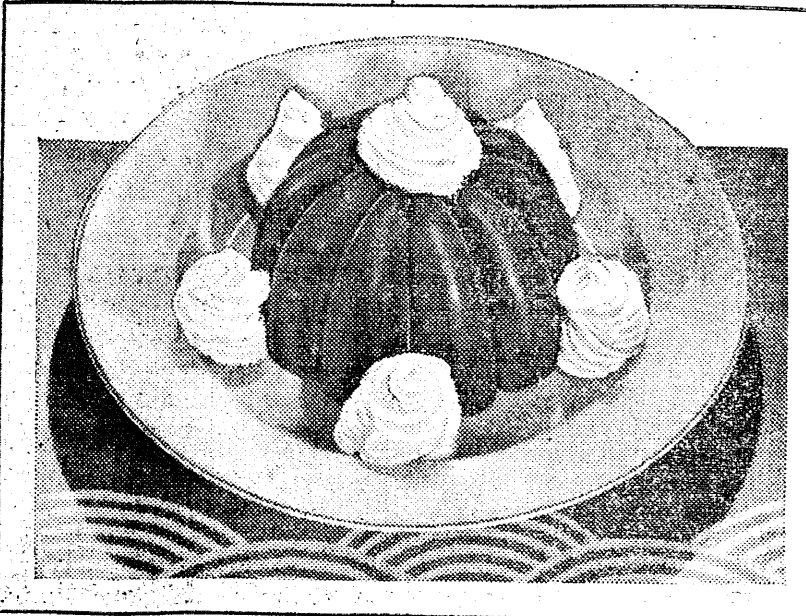

Meat Loaf.

1 lb. ground raw meat
1 egg
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 1/2 cups evaporated milk
2 cups bread crumbs

Mix all the ingredients thoroughly. Grease a ring mold well with a piece of suet trimmed from the meat, or butter. Pack mixture firmly into ring mold. Dot with small pieces of suet, salt pork or bacon. Bake in a moderately hot oven from 30 to 45 minutes. Turn out onto hot platter and fill center with creamed potatoes. Garnish border with thick slices of tomato and sprigs of parsley. Yield: 6 servings.

Meat loaf prepared in accordance with this recipe is a great time saver, and is nearly a whole dinner on one platter. Instead of using creamed potatoes as a filling, you may want to try creamed peas, carrots or beans.

ADD A LUXURIOUS TOUCH TO YOUR FOOD ECONOMIES

TO count our pennies, to keep food budgets down, and yet to provide a tempting fare—that is real kitchen art.

That is why chocolate's popularity never wanes. For chocolate gives the simplest, most economical dessert a touch of luxury.

Let chocolate work its magic with such old standbys as rice or bread pudding, and your family will give three cheers for your most economical dishes.

Chocolate Bread Pudding
1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 1/2 cups milk
1 1/2 cups stale bread cubes
1 cup sugar
Add chocolate to milk in double boiler; heat. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Combine sugar, salt, eggs. Add chocolate mixture gradually, stirring vigorously. Add vanilla. Place bread in greased baking dish. Pour mixture over it. Place dish in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 to 60 minutes, or until pudding is firm. Serve hot with hard sauce, or cold with cream. Serves 6.

Berkshire Pudding
3 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces
3 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
6 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Add chocolate to milk; heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Soak gelatin in cold water, add sugar and salt; mix well. Add to chocolate mixture; stir until gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Strain. Chill until slightly thickened, stirring occasionally. Add fruit, nuts, vanilla. Beat well; turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with sweetened whipped cream. Serves 8.

Serve this dessert the next time you have company—they will win compliments from your guests.

The Beginning of Life

June is the month for graduation. Life in all its seriousness will begin for innumerable enthusiastic students. School days are over. Theorizing must be put in the background; the realities of life must be faced and the associated problems must be solved.

But whether you are a graduate or merely beginning a new venture, there is one requirement that should never be forgotten: Without enthusiasm and ambition, which is automatically associated with it, you will be stamped a failure. You are beaten before you start. There will be no chance for victories.

There must be a keen zest for life. You have to be awake and alert in these strenuous times to progress in anything.

And the requirements do not differ in the least for either sex.

The love of life is first of all essential to assure its being made worth while. And to properly appreciate this invaluable possession you must be vital, vigorous, buoyantly, healthfully alive, bubbling over with physical force.

You then have that dynamic personality that overrules difficulties, that successfully combats emergencies. You cannot fail with such assets. You make a spirited demand for what you want out of life and you go after it with dominating insistence.

You refuse to consider the possibility of failure. If at first you don't succeed, you try again and again.

To those who are beginning any new venture at this period these suggestions are invaluable. They are beyond price in value all through life.

You cannot progress without appropriate physical capital. You are then ready for any test, ready to contend, to fight the battle that leads to worthy achievements.

You are not properly equipped unless you are thus prepared in brain and body, keyed up to the highest state of superefficiency, with brain as clear as a bell, sharp as a razor.

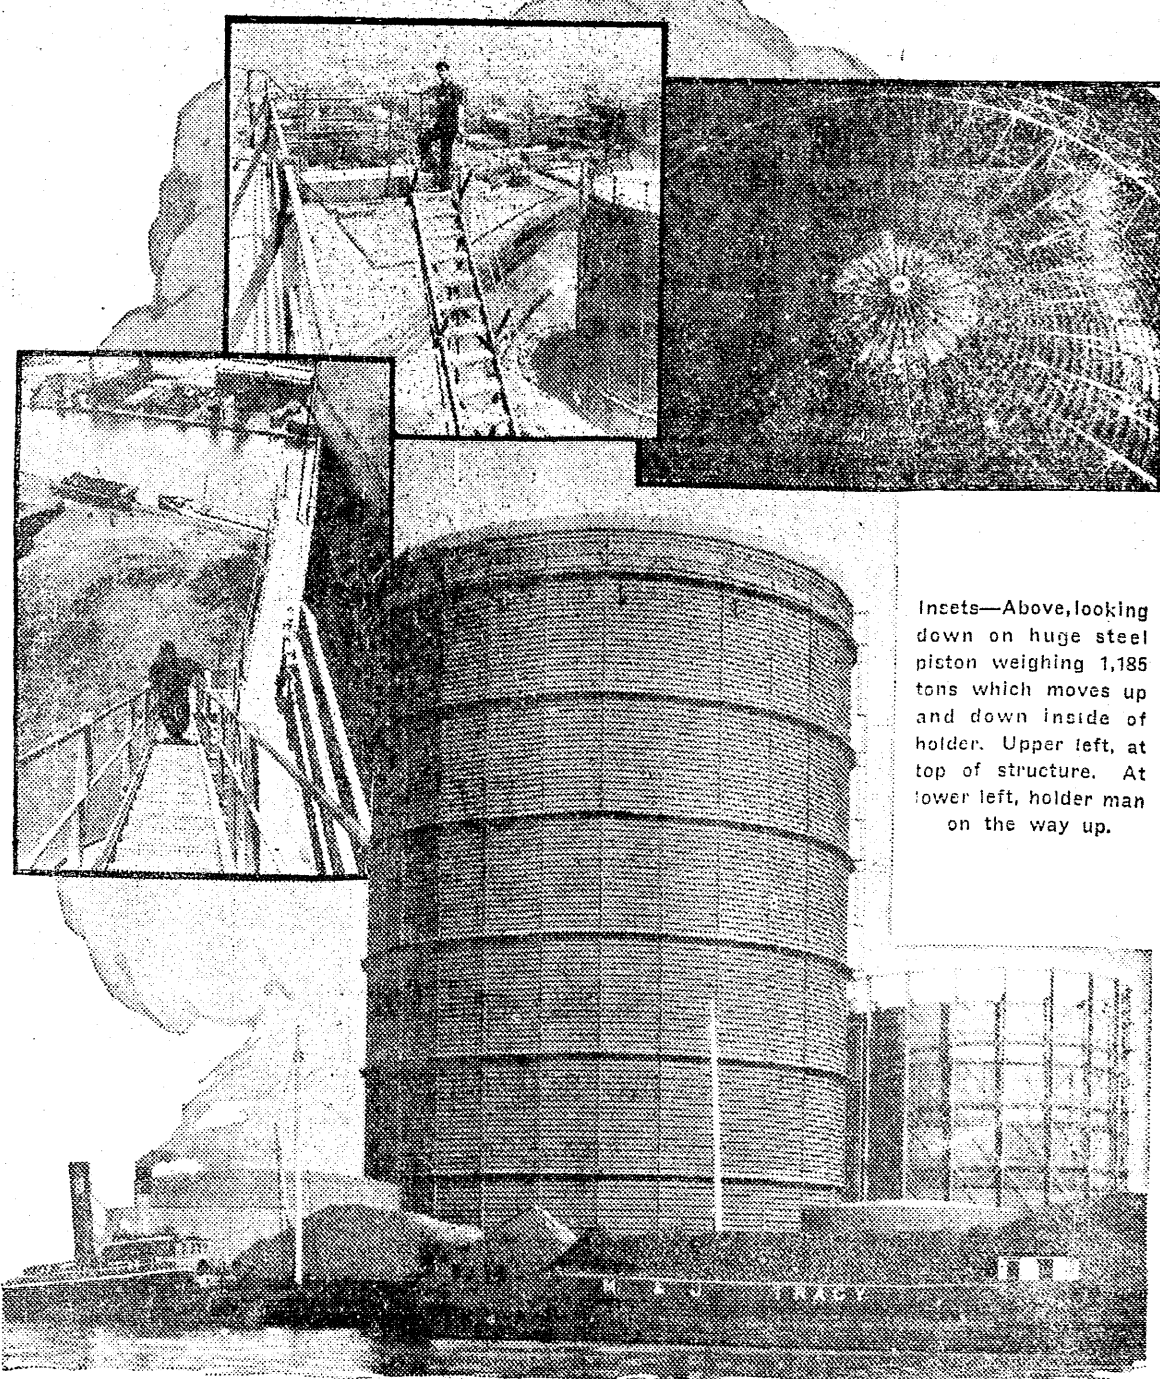

Backed by the superb energies of a powerful body, one then forges to the top in spite of every emergency. And if you are lacking in these splendid possessions, that should be no cause for worry. They can be developed. You can acquire energies that will give you keen enthusiasms, strong ambitions. Physical culture can solve the problem for you. The road to dynamic, buoyant health is pointed out so clearly that there can be no mistake. The time required is of little consequence compared with the rewards obtained.

Many Are the "Ups and Downs" of the Man Who Daily Inspects the Harrison Gas Holder 400 Feet High Incets—Above, looking down on huge steel piston weighing 1,185 tons which moves up and down inside of holder. Upper left, at top of structure. At lower left, holder man on the way up.

General view of 15,000,000 cubic foot gas holder of Public Service Electric and Gas Company at Harrison.

THE holder man at the Harrison Gas Works of Public Service Electric and Gas Company certainly has his "ups and downs" in the course of a daily inspection of the plant's huge gas holder, nearly 400 feet in height. Every day, rain or shine, in summer and winter, the holder man climbs up 564 steps to the roof of the holder, enters a small elevator and descends from 50 to 300 feet to the movable steel piston in the heart of the holder. Here he must inspect the "tar seal" which keeps the gas underneath the piston from escaping. When finished with his inspection, the holder man enters the elevator, rises to the top of the holder and returns to the ground via the steps.

Some idea of the size of this piston can be had from the fact that it weighs 1,185 tons. In spite of its huge weight, the steel piston is moved up and down by the pressure of the gas alone, rising or falling as the quantity of gas in the holder increases or decreases.

John Wheeler, who has been holder man at Harrison Gas Plant, ever since the 400-foot structure was erected in 1926, enjoys his job thoroughly. In spite of the daily routine of "ups and downs," he declares that the work agrees with him completely. He is now so used to his daily climb that it fatigues him little and, as he himself puts it, "the wonderful view you get at the top is well worth the climb any time."

These Recipes Will Utilize Left-overs In Welcome Ways

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Heinz Food Institute

MEAT remaining from last night's roast and bits of vegetables in the refrigerator need not appear on today's table in a form in which they will be recognized. They may be served in almost numberless dishes so flavorful and tempting that the family will enthuse about them. By adding a flavorful sauce, or by combining with another food an entirely new dish may be made. Vegetables offer possibilities for sandwiches and salads and the meats for meat pie, or delicious hash. Try these recipes for thrifty, flavorful dishes. They will bring welcome variety to your table.

Delicious Hash: Combine one cup grated cheese, two cups Rice Flakes, one egg, one teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce and a dash of pepper. Place a generous layer in a buttered baking dish, add a layer of chopped cooked ham and repeat, using remaining ingredients. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) until cheese is melted and the top slightly brown (about 15 minutes). If left-over ham is not available, use thin slices of cold boiled, or baked ham.

Vegetable Salad Sandwiches: Mix one large tomato, finely diced, 1/2 medium sized cucumber, finely diced, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1/2 medium size green pepper, minced, 8 to 10 Stuffed Spanish Olives, 2 cups shredded lettuce, and salt to taste, and spread between slices of whole wheat bread which have been spread with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing. Cut into rectangles, but do not remove crust. Serve with meat, egg or bean salad.

Baked Bean and Egg Salad: Place 2 cups Oven Baked Beans in a sieve and wash with boiling water, then cool. Add 3 chopped hard cooked egg whites, 6 preserved Sweet Gherkins, chopped, 1 small chopped onion and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Moisten with Mayonnaise and serve in crisp lettuce cups. Garnish with Mayonnaise and egg yolks, pressed through a sieve. Serve very cold. Serves 4.

The Heritage American Room
No. 10—The Finished Room

By CARL HECK

Consulting Art Director, Bigelow Weavers

The completed Heritage American room, which, though it contains four new pieces, actually seems to afford more space than the old room. Inset shows the arrangement of the room after it has been done over.

THE rejuvenation of our typical old room has now been successfully accomplished. The uninteresting room pictured in the beginning of this series of articles has now become the charming 1932 Heritage American room shown in this illustration. The remarkable thing is that this radical change was made without throwing out the comfortable furniture which we gradually acquired and lived with through the years. The sofa, the easy chair, the marble top table, the rocker, the two small chairs, all are still in use.

But we have repapered the wall, recurtained the windows and acquired a new rug for our floor as well as four attractive new tables; most important, a smart color scheme of blue-green and terra cotta, which we found in the new rug, has replaced the depressing dullness and monotony of the uninteresting colors in the old room.

This restful blue-green tone is used in the sofa, and also appears in the flowered chintz of the draperies and the easy chair. It is used again in the pads on the small chairs and in the pleated edging of the valances and draperies. The warm tones of terra cotta that bring out the blue-green's serenity is used in various accessories, notably in the sofa pillows, and appears also in the draperies.

It has been my intention in this series of articles to trace the development of a typical, rather than an exceptional, room and to explain how any woman can improve her home under the Heritage American plan. All that has been done in this room can be done in any room very inexpensively. A good deal of the changes can be made within the home such as the sewing of slip covers and the refinishing of the furniture's woodwork. Once the home is prepared for the addition of new pieces these can be purchased at any time most convenient to the family budget.

This, then, is the Heritage American Plan.

Mrs. T. A. Edison Favors Juvenile CourtsLeads Drive In Appeal
For Funds This Week

An endorsement of juvenile courts and probation accompanies an appeal for funds which is being made by Mrs. Thomas A. Edison in behalf of the National Probation Association in Essex County this week.

"Youth and its problems," states Mrs. Edison, "have always been my great interest. In addition to the recreation work which I have sponsored, I have been convinced anew in recent weeks of the importance of treating delinquency when it first shows itself in childhood or early youth. This is the time when correction is most possible."

"Today, enforced free time rather than the usual leisure hours has placed upon the shoulders of growing boys and girls a burden which in many instances they have been unable to bear. Crime, delinquency and appearance in court are the inevitable results. No state in our country is adequately equipped with juvenile courts and probation services to deal with all the young people who need assistance. In our state of New Jersey, well organized juvenile courts are found only in a few of the larger counties. None of our courts have enough well trained probation workers. The result is many boys and girls are needlessly developed into criminals."

"The National Probation Association is committed to a program of constant development and improvement of juvenile courts and probation. It is very actively assisting the state and county authorities in New Jersey in the needed development of this work. In its behalf I am appealing to the citizens of Essex County for assistance in this extremely critical year. Contributions for this work will mean much to our boys and girls and to the future of our country."

Accompanying Mrs. Edison's statement is an endorsement of probation by Charles Evan Hughes, Jr., President of the Association and former Solicitor General of the United States. "Probation," says Mr. Hughes "depends for its success upon wise and careful administration. Proper laws must be passed and defective laws must be amended so as to create the requisite machinery. But machinery alone is not enough. There must be adequate appropriations and intelligent understanding of the systems by courts and the public."

"At present the work is undeveloped and unstandardized in many parts of the country. The public has not fully appreciated its importance or the economies it permits and has failed to support it financially. The National Probation Association, as the most important non-government organization in this field, is engaged in educational work to promote such public understanding of the subject as will insure both sound legislation and intelligent administration."

Contributions to this work may be made out to the National Probation Association and mailed in care of Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, Llewellyn park, West Orange, N. J.

Health Officer Berry
Warns Local BathersPassaic, Second, And Third
Rivers Are Polluted,
He Points Out

"With the closing of school the Department of Health wishes to make its annual appeal to parents for their cooperation in discouraging the use of local streams for swimming purposes. We have in mind the Passaic, Second, and Third Rivers. It is generally known that these streams are polluted, as shown by analysis made by this department. Anyone swimming, wading, or coming in contact with these waters is liable to contract typhoid, dysentery, and other diseases," warns Health Officer Eugene T. Berry.

"Although these streams have improved considerably with in the last year or so, there still is some raw sewage being emptied into them which makes it unsafe for swimming," he concludes.

Miss Catherine McDonough

Miss Catherine Mc Donough of Howard place died Thursday following a stroke. Miss McDonough had not been in the best of health recently but was of such a hopeful disposition she would not give in to her ailments. She went to work as usual after attending mass and receiving communion at St. Peter's Church daily. She was head of the finishing department of Osborne Co., at Allwood, for whom she worked twenty years in Newark.

When stricken she was removed to St. Mary's Hospital in Passaic in the ambulance in which she died.

She was born in Belleville, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher McDonough and was educated at St. Peter's. She lived with an aunt, Mrs. Catherine Kelly the last four years.

She was a member of the Rosary, St. Peter's Social Society and Third Order of St. Francis.

Surviving Miss McDonough are two brothers, William of Perth Amboy, and Thomas of town; two sisters, Mrs. John Tremel of Newark and Mrs. Robert Dirlam of Bloomfield. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Peter's and interment was in the family plot in the church yard.
