TOWN OF BELLEVILLE

PRICE TWO CENTS

CLARK NAILED ON RUMOR

CALL ISSUED FOR VOLUNTEERS FOR COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE

Homer Zink, head of the house-to-house division of the coming Belleville Community Chest campaign, has issued a call for volunteers to solicit donations in the immediate vicinity of their homes. This year's campaign will be conducted in a different manner from the previous campaign, according to Mr. Zink, in that the town will be districted and captains and lieutenants engaged in the drive will be working in their own immediate neighborhoods, rather than in districts where they are not well acquainted.

This plan, Mr. Zink states, will require far more workers, but will greatly diminish the number of calls each worker will need to make. Inasmuch as the real success of any campaign depends on the interest taken in it by the individual members of the community, the new plan presents advantages which are attractive both to the workers and the general public. The solicitor who calls will be a nearby neighbor who will be provided, in case of emergency, with proper identification, so the householder who is called upon can be sure that everything is satisfactory in case it is desired to make a cash donation.

Mr. Zink assures the general public that all solicitors are volunteers, none of whom receives any pay in commissions or otherwise; it is a true labor of love, and often represents considerable inconveniences on the part of individual solicitors.

Vets Stand Pat For Fitzsimmons Give Vote Of Confidence And Uphold His Honesty

A communication, addressed to the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night, notified the board that George H. Younginger Post, V. F. W., of which Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons is commander, voted complete confidence and respect in their leader at a recent meeting.

The message also requested that Recorder Fitzsimmons be restored to the bench as soon as possible.

Concert Scheduled For This Evening First Of Series To Be Held In Belleville Park

The first of a series of band concerts in Belleville Park, will take place tonight.

These concerts have been arranged for by the local recreation commission in cooperation with the Essex County Park Commission Concert Service.

Andrew E. Voss is bandmaster and Joseph P. O'Toole will be vocal soloist. The program is as follows:

March, "Spirit Invincible," Brand; selection, "The Wizard of the Nile," Herbert; (a) "Colinette," Beaumont; (b) "Pretty Dick's Chat to Me," Vangucci; overture, "Phedre," Massanet; (a) patrol, "Ole South," Zamenicki; (b) "The Lion Chase," Kolling; songs selected, Joseph P. O'Toole; intermission; singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," Key; "Fantasia from 'Lohengrin,'" Wagner; "Irish Patrol," Puerner; selection, "You're In Love," Friml; Idyll, "The Forge in the Forest," Michaels; finale, "The Washington Grays," Grattula.

The house-to-house campaign this year will be called the "Belleville Community Chest Quarter Block Drive." The idea being that no worker will be asked to call on more than the houses on one side of a street between two other intersecting streets, as for instance, on the east side of Hornblower avenue between Van Houten place and Holmes street.

Public spirited men and women wishing to ally themselves with the good work being done by the Belleville Community Chest are asked to fill out and mail the coupon which appears on page ?? of this issue.

Predicts Pay Cuts Near In Town

Williams Believes Firemen, Police, Teachers, To Ap- prove Plan Soon

Prediction that local police, firemen and school teachers soon will accept salary cuts was made late this week by Director William H. Williams of the Department of Revenue and Finance. He so advised George E. Stewart, Jr., chairman of the special citizens' committee appointed a month ago to study reduction of town operating costs.

Stewart was in touch with the commissioner to obtain the latter's list of operating economies proposed to the Town Commission to save $108,000. The commission rejection of the list resulted in the formation of the citizens' committee. The finance director also advised Stewart he would produce not only the original list of economies but additional ones which he will prepare over the week-end.

The additional recommendations, it is understood, will deal more with establishment of better accounting methods, such as setting up by ordinance budget control of the water department.

Of Williams' $108,000 proposal, $50,000 was in the Board of Education appropriation and $14,000 in the police and fire salaries accounts, the equivalent of 10 per cent salary cut in each case.

The prediction that these cuts will materialize is based on the town's financial condition. The $10,000 August 15 payroll for town employees cannot be met nor can bills of the poor department be paid because there is insufficient cash on hand from either tax collections or sale of bonds. Williams said he was unsuccessful Wednesday at five bond houses, where he tried to dispose of tax anticipation and tax revenue paper.

Frank's Shoe Shop Under New Manager

Paul Brandman, Former Employee, Will Reopen Store

Paul Brandman, employed by Frank's Shoe Store for eight years before it closed, is preparing to reopen his former employer's shop which is located at 86 Washington avenue, in his own name.

Mr. Brandman is having the shop renovated which will make it one of the most modern and well equipped stores in town. A complete new stock of men's, women's and children's shoes will be on hand for the opening. Mr. Brandman states that he will have the agency for Dr. Hay's, Bob Harley's and Tarsle-Tread shoes. Every pair of shoes will be sold with a "money back guarantee," says Mr. Brandman.

Schools Scheduled To Open September 7 Season Starts September 6 With Meetings Of Faculties

Announcement was made this week by Wayne R. Farmer, Superintendent of Schools, to the effect that the Belleville Public Schools will open the 1932-33 school year on Tuesday, September 6, with a general teachers' meeting in the high school auditorium at 10 A. M.

At 2 P. M. of the same day, the principals of the various schools will have a teachers conference with their respective faculties.

It was further made known that all pupils will report for regular school sessions on Wednesday, September 7, before 9 A. M.

Be On Time

"Promptness is a virtue, more valuable than is generally realized and regular attendance from the very first day, with one hundred per cent as a goal, should be the aim of every boy and girl. The cooperation of parents in this respect will be greatly appreciated," said Mr. Farmer.

Further announcements concerning the opening of the schools will be made in next week's issue of this paper.

Harmony Reached In Democratic Ranks

Will Meet Tonight To Dis- cuss Plans For Active Campaign

Complete harmony has been restored in the local Democratic ranks and Chairman John J. Daly, of the Democratic Town Committee has signified his intentions of attending the meeting tonight of the Belleville Democratic Association which will be held at 49 Preston street.

The meeting tonight will be the first under the new name. The original name of the association was the Henry W. Winfield Democratic Association, but this was changed at the last meeting of the organization. When the formation of the new and only Democratic organization in Belleville was announced several weeks ago Chairman Daly branded it as an upstart without standing in local Democracy. Since that time, however, conferences have been held which were attended by Samuel Green, president of the association and others, including Mr. Daly, and the differences have been completely ironed out, it is said.

Plans for an active campaign in the interest of the entire Democratic ticket will be laid at the meeting tonight. Refreshments and entertainment which includes dancing are also included on the program.

All Belleville Democrats are urged and invited to attend the meeting.

Legion Entertains

In cooperation with the Recreation Commission, the American Legion will sponsor a special program at "Camp Carraher" for the boys and general public.

This is the closing program for the Recreation Commission's camp and every member of the American Legion is asked as well as invited to add his support towards its success.

The Camp Fire Program will be rendered in the camp, at Joramelon street and Franklin avenue, this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

If you have moving, hauling or days work of any kind, call J. A. Gregory, 101 Ralph street; Belleville 2-1036.

J. M. Davis, window shades and awnings, 348-50 Passaic Ave., Nutley, Nutley 2-0491.

Williams' Recommendations

On page 3 of this issue is a complete resume of Commissioner William H. Williams' recommendations to the Citizens' Committee on economies.

A copy of the minutes of Tuesday's meeting at which he pinned down Commissioner Clark on assessments "rumors" is also on that page.

Special School Notice

Parents of children who will attend School No. 10 for the first time in September, are urged to register such children at the school office on Friday, September 2, between 9 A. M. and 12 noon, and 1 to 4 P. M. if possible.

Parents of children who will attend School No. 2 in September, and who have not been enrolled in No. 2 before, may register at School No. 2 on Saturday, September 3, between 8 A. M. and 1 P. M. Parents may save themselves considerable waiting on Wednesday, September 7, when schools open, by coming during the above hours for registration.

Be sure to bring the child's birth certificate and any former school records with you. This announcement applies to Schools 2 and 10 only.

Eight Year Old Child In Piano Contest

Jean Baillie Travels To Can- ada To Perform At Exhibition

Eight year old Jean Baillie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baillie of 341 Little street, left Saturday for Toronto, Canada, where she will participate in the piano contest which is held during the Canadian exhibition.

She was accompanied on the trip by her mother and her brother, Ronald.

Jean is a pupil of Amy G. Stratton, of 370 Union avenue. This newspaper wishes to congratulate Jean on her ability and joins with her many friends in wishing her success in this venture.

Local Man Is Killed By Auto Near Franklin

Cody L. Rutan, 45, a carpenter who lives at 45 Forest street, was killed Sunday night as he repaired a tire of his automobile in Route 23. His wife and five children had been with him on an outing and were close by when he was struck by a passing automobile.

Raymond J. McConnell of Stockholm was driving the car which hit Rutan. He told state troopers later that he had seen nothing to indicate a car was at the side of the road and suggested Rutan may have hidden the tail light of his car by his body as he worked. McConnell was held for arraignment on a charge of manslaughter.

Rutan was taken to Franklin Hospital by John De Graffco, Jr., of Hawthorne. Dr. J. E. Taylor declared Rutan dead.

Mr. Rutan was born at Sussex forty-four years ago and had lived in Belleville ten years. He was a carpenter and builder.

He leaves his wife, four sons, Leonard Rutan of Kearny, Clarence, Robert and C. L. Rutan, Jr., of Belleville; one daughter, Miss Ruth Rutan of Belleville; his mother, Mrs. Julietta Rutan of Sussex; three brothers, Lee Rutan of Belleville, Clinton and Perry Rutan of Sussex, and two sisters, Mrs. E. W. Dyer of Sussex and Mrs. John Swenson of Belleville.

New Bus Route May Start In Valley Lyndhurst - North Newark Line Finally Gets Permission

Sanction was given by the town commissioners, at Tuesday night's meeting, to the Lyndhurst-North Newark Bus Line to appeal to the Utilities Board for permission to operate a route in the valley between Greylock avenue and Second River.

The transport company applied for such a permit several months ago and was referred to the Utilities Board upon the objection of the Public Service. After considerable delay and urging by residents of the valley, the board's consent was given at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The company intends to operate four buses over the new route hourly at a five-cent fare. The buses will run on fifteen-minute headways.

The new route is as follows: North on Washington avenue, to Mill street to Main street, to Rutgers street, to Stephen street, to Belleville avenue, to Ralph street, to Roosevelt avenue and down Roosevelt avenue to Main street. The return trip will be made over the same route.

Walkathon Nearing Its 1,000th Hour

Entertainment Improves Under New Man- agement

The slogan "The Joy Spot of New Jersey," which is used by the Mickey Thayer Walkathon Organization in connection with the affair now under way at Riviera Park and nearing its one thousandth hour is proving to be true in every respect. The one time ball room and skating rink where the Walkathon contest is being held, came into its own when the V. F. W. decided they needed additional building funds which is clearly shown in the number of people who crowd the hall nightly to view this latest entertainment craze.

Sitting Contest
An added feature at this affair, the sitting contest, which started at 10 o'clock Monday night, tended to create a new interest in this unique show and afforded a group of unemployed persons a chance to receive financial aid in the form of awards.

Thirty-two sitters started in this contest of which at the time of this writing only nine remain, and they have gone well over the fifty-hours required to share in the award money. These remaining contestants are

WILLIAMS PINS HIM DOWN AS REGARDS "FAVORITISM CHARGE"

Commissioner William H. Williams pinned Commissioner W. D. Clark to the mat Tuesday night when he forced Clark to admit that his statement that favoritism was shown in making assessments, was based on rumor only. Clark also had to admit that he had absolutely no doubt as to the honesty of tax assessor John F. Coogan.

Following an unusually quiet half hour, in which routine business and several other matters were discussed, Commissioner Williams stated he would like to question Clark on a rumor Clark passed on to the Citizens' Committee, which held that favoritism was being shown in making assessments on property.

Commissioner Williams opened his defense of Coogan by inquiring if Clark's statement referred to Coogan or the board of tax assessors or both. He also asked, "Is there any thought, Commissioner Clark, in your mind that Mr. Coogan is dishonest or that he can or was influenced by anyone to show favoritism in making assessments?"

Williams Applauded By Citizens Tuesday

Wins Verbal Battle With Dissatisfied Citizens

A letter addressed to the Board of Commissioners, praising the offer of Samuel S. Figurelli to serve as recorder, without salary, and urging the board to forget political animosity and accept this offer, led to a short but heated discussion between George H. Weston of 184 Tappan avenue and Commissioner Williams, on the economies affected in the revenue and finance department. The commissioner was victorious in the verbal battle and was roundly applauded by citizens present.

The letter was sent by the Belleville Political and Social Club and was signed by the secretary.

Weston stated that in connection with Figurelli's offer, he had read in a news article that a certain commissioner had agreed that this was a generous move and that a town should be proud to have such honest and public spirited men as Mr. Figurelli. "But, this commissioner has not yet shown sufficient spirit in reducing salaries and such in his own department."

"You're absolutely not acquainted with the true facts," said Williams. "I'll take you to my office and show you figures which will prove that I've made reductions. I'll give you a certified copy of the records and an affidavit sworn to by myself and the town treasurer. If I had cut my department as of the original 10 per cent agreement, I would have saved only $3,950. As I have, working on my plan, I've saved $8,127.00. That's the kind of economy the people want," concluded the commissioner.

Following these statements, the crowd which filled the entire second floor of the town hall, applauded the commissioner heartily.

Grid Coach Not Yet Appointed—Parmer

"Red" Buchanan May Get Post. Chapman Looks Like Aide

Although no appointment has yet been made to fill the position of the late Carl Erikson, as football coach and teacher at Belleville High School, rumors persist to the effect that "Red" Buchanan, of Burlington, former Temple University grid star, will be the new mentor.

In July, the Board of Education empowered Wayne R. Farmer, superintendent of Schools to select a successor to Coach Erikson. Although there have been numerous applicants among which are Bill Chapman, Paul Brennan, Albert McBride and Frank Spotts, all teachers in the high schools' Committee, which held that favoritism was being shown in making assessments on property.

Permission was granted by the board and Clark immediately began to turn red around the neck at the thought of the coming quiz.

Commissioner Williams opened his defense of Coogan by inquiring if Clark's statement referred to Coogan or the board of tax assessors or both. He also asked, "Is there any thought, Commissioner Clark, in your mind that Mr. Coogan is dishonest or that he can or was influenced by anyone to show favoritism in making assessments?"

Clark blushing admitted that there wasn't. He said, "I have absolutely no doubt in my mind as to Mr. Coogan's honesty."

"Have you any proof of definite facts that favoritism was shown in making assessments," inquired Commissioner Williams.

"No," said Clark, "I have no definite proof. My statement was that there are rumors about to the effect that favoritism was shown in general assessments."

After further discussion, Commissioner Williams repeated his question as to how Clark felt towards the honesty of the tax assessor. Clark repeated his previous answer. "That relieves me very much," said Williams, which ended the incident.

His friends report that Mr. Ford is feeling fine and thoroughly enjoyed the visit by his brother Elks and former war buddies.

Mr. Ford, is a member of George A. Younginger Post, V. F. W. of Belleville.

"Kids" Police Gets Nipped

Local Man Arrested After Giving Newark Force Busy Time

A youth who police say admitted making life miserable for Newark policemen with six fake tips on murders, drownings, fires and thefts on four successive nights met his Waterloo in Belleville when he gave local police a false alarm on a gang fight.

The young man, Frank Curcio, 22, 11 Acme street, Belleville, was arrested at his home Monday night and turned over to Newark police, who sent him to City Hospital for mental observation.

Detective Fred Schalk of Newark and Captain Elmer Leighton of the local force traced the tip call to a fruit store on Lake street and obtained from the proprietor a description of Curcio.

The prisoner told conflicting stories, most of them concerning two men who he said forced him to give the false alarms on pain of being "put on the spot."

Williams Offers Recommendations Of Economies To Citizens' Committee

Following is the report of recommendations by Director of Revenue and Finance William H. Williams to the Citizens' Committee: Mr. George E. Stewart, Chairman Survey Committee, Belleville, New Jersey.

Dear Sir:

Following and attached hereto data as requested by you is respectfully submitted:

Enclosure 1.—Detail of payroll of Department of Revenue and Finance showing comparison of wages as of January 1st, 1932, new payroll as per reductions made in February and as per reductions made in July. Analysis of said payrolls will show your committee that reductions of 23 per cent were made in the Department of Revenue and Finance, and reduction of Water Department expense (as under my supervision) of 12½% notwithstanding statements made at the meeting of your committee and Board of Commissioners to the contrary. This data is certified thereto as correct by Town Treasurer, Mr. Sargeant. I appreciate your will realize that the Department of Revenue and Finance, actually a collection agency, has even greater burdens in periods such as the present than in freer money periods, nevertheless substantial economies have been effected. If a wage cut of 10 per cent had been made instead of re-arranging of men and work, only a saving of $3,950 would have been made, whereas I have cut expenses $8,127, which result I believe is of more interest to your committee and to taxpayers than only a 10 per cent reduction.

Enclosure 2.—Covers comparative analysis of 1931 and 1932 appropriations and balances as of August 1, 1931 and 1932 as requested.

Enclosure 3.—Covers transfers on 1931 accounts.

Enclosure 4.—Covers recommendation and reports as made by me to the Board of Commissioners June 29 and July 6, 1932, at which time I recommended curtailment of annual expenses be made of $108,000.

Enclosure 5.—Covers additional recommendations to your committee which on mature consideration I believe will render to taxpayers needed and possible economies, will more favorably place the town's financial credit and will safeguard interests of Town.

5A.—Meet with Board of Commissioners at earliest moment and get action on the $108,000 of economies I have recommended and which can be obtained, instead of permitting entire matter to become a question of political expediency. This question is "political" as the Mayor states, it takes political courage to ask every town employee to aid in getting the town credit rebuilt—it is a "personal" matter, and distinctly so to me, as I have repeatedly sacrificed five days a week to seek funds for the town and I appeal to you to speed work up as it will enable me to have a fair amount of time for my own work.

5B.—Urge our taxpayers to elect men to handle town expenses of one and three-quarters millions of dollars; men who have had sufficient business training to permit them to have an understanding of real business and with backbone to do what is right. Both business and legal principles have been consistently violated. The sound selection of capable men is more important than the form of government.

5C.—Selection of public employees by rigid civil service tests.

5D.—Publication of payrolls monthly, showing any increase in department help and explaining reason. This will stop loading payrolls as the past indicates has been periodically done.

5E.—Publication as I have repeatedly recommended of annual assessments on real property, personal and poll. This will permit the public to learn if everyone is fairly treated; will prevent persons from typing incorrect lists of assessments purporting to be actual assessments of the Town of Belleville (such incorrect lists have been made and circulated falsely showing reductions)—will let all taxpayers learn to whom the reduction is given and reason therefor in any assessment—and men in public office will not be able by inference to fool the public. This recommendation I strongly urge your committee to study as publicity of this data will stop a quiet propaganda now conducted by several unethical persons and should stop "professionals" instituting appeals to the County Board. I request your committee to inspect our 1931-1932 tax assessments and reductions granted, either by County Board of Taxation, the local assessor or the Board of Commissioners. You will be particularly interested to learn that the total reductions made after property has been assessed in 1931 or 1932 is only about 50 per cent of the reductions granted in any one of the three years previous to any assessment made during my administration. The true test of the quality of an Assessor can be established when $800,000 increase in rates is gained in one year and $200,000 in the next year, and still only average 50 per cent of the yearly reductions made prior to my term. I am particularly pleased with the results of 1931 and 1932 in this department and have every detail record available for analysis of your committee.

5F.—Study of all bills introduced into Legislature, particularly affecting municipal finances. Many bills being opposed by any municipality may be quickly stopped or adjusted. Chapter 20 of State Laws of 1932 permitted Town Bonds to be sold at a discount of one per cent, or at $99 for each $100 bond. No mention was made in the bill as passed and signed by the Governor as to the number of times the bonds could be renewed during one year. When a taxpayer reflects that Belleville had at passage of said bill about $2,000,000 of temporary bonds requiring renewals during the year, and that renewals of one month if dishonest officials and bond brokers joined forces, an interest rate of 6 per cent, and discount rates of 1 per cent with each renewal would result in 18 per cent money charge. Even three months renewals at 1 per cent discount with usual interest rates would mean 10 per cent interest costs. Through the aid of Senator Joseph A. Wolber, an amendment to Chapter 20 of 1932 I requested our Bond Attorney of New York to draft, was introduced, preventing more than one discount sale on any one bond per year at $99;—for each renewal allowed before amendment a cost of $20,000 would be incurred by the town, therefore one can easily see how our financial interests can be seriously hurt by permitting vicious legislation to pass. The bond house representatives at legislative hearing even admitted Chapter 20 was bad legislation and provided many opportunities for bad business practice. Belleville should have some method of checking such types of legislative bills. I take pardonable pride in initiating action on amendment to Chapter 20, and only mention same in this connection so you may see how an item of many thousands of dollars of interest gets into the local tax bill through bad legislation and watching such bills being nobody's job. It will interest your committee to check action of the committee of the League of Municipalities, of which Mayor Kenworthy is president, and note how little Belleville's heavy temporary debt interested such committee. If my action could start the altering of a law acknowledged as bad legislation by bond buyers, why could not Mayor Kenworthy have acted for Belleville's interests?

5G.—Survey of Police and Fire Pension fund by competent authorities. I have previously recommended this very important step as I fear our inadequate pension system may in the near future be the cause of placing a substantial sum in the annual budget. This study should be of interest to police and firemen as they are relying on protection not too substantial, and taxpayers should be interested to prevent an unusual burden being placed in the budget in some one year. My previous recommendation was laid over until some state body had rendered a report on pension funds. This subject warrants your consideration.

5H.—Establishment of Budget for Water Department by Town Resolution. Your Director of Revenue and Finance has established a budget for the Water Department for 1932. The Water Department budget can only be a guide at present, but if covered by resolution with severe penalties for exceeding budget without majority approval of Board, raids on the Water Department—the only unprotected town account—resulting in losses such as $27,000 in 1930—our last election year—can be avoided. This subject has a very definite bearing on town finances, profits instead of losses can retire water department bonds—at the rate bonds were being retired up to last year—180 years would be needed to pay for a water system that would have been worn out 150 years before last bond had been paid off. Such financial methods seem impossible, but your town records prove what it seems impossible any set of public officials could allow. I hope within a few months to have practically all Water Department Bonds funded, 90 percent will be funded by September 15, 1932, and to reduce the 180 year payment plan to about thirty-five years which will be in line with several municipalities. I respectfully ask your committee to inspect said 1932 Budget and present operation costs and records as compared to costs prior to 1931.

5I.—Urge that license fees be collected from all the saloons in town. The ordinance calls for $100 fees, on several occasions public expression has been made that 100 to 176 such places exist in Belleville.

ville. The man who pays suffers from unfair competition when scores of others fail to pay; only twenty-five have paid the fee. (Who are the guardian angels for the non-payers?)

5J.—Establishment of Board of estimate. I recommended this matter to the Board of Commissioners months ago, this matter warrants study, particularly in view of close contacts required by present day financial conditions.

5K.—Collection of Court costs on every case possible—from this source considerable revenue is available. Court costs have not been imposed to any extent recently.

5L.—Urge Board of Commissioners to go on record to prosecute any Commissioner exceeding his budget unless on basis of emergency, and then only with two-thirds approval of Board members.

5M.—Publication of town debt statement annually and at any time any new town funds are to be appropriated. With such recommendation instituted, no public official will dare promise decreases of tax rates to as low as $3.50 when town debt has been increased by $3,000,000 and when interest charges are entirely out of line with improvement received. Urge that on any new public improvement payments must be started promptly, such a program will save many thousands of dollars annually. Urge that budget laws be strictly adhered to, every budget for many years prior to 1932 were false budgets, items were omitted in violation of law, and items were inserted contrary to sound business rules, both actions resulting in fake tax rates. The net result is only holding off the evil day of reckoning and the building up of a tax burden that should have been spread over the several past years. Public opinion must be brought to bear on such conduct and the men responsible. Such statements that State Commissioner approved eliminating any $75,000 item from the 1931 budgets, said statement by Town Counsel that State Commissioner advised him and Mayor Kenworthy to this effect was not made by State Commissioner Darby. Our people must learn why local officials take liberties with statements of state officials. This is not a political comment, decision based on such statement actually cost taxpayers extra money, because interest not properly put into a budget was later borrowed and additional interest paid on interest notes.

5N.—Consolidation or co-ordination of all Social Service and Public Relief work under one head at once is urged. Last October I recommended consolidation or co-ordination of all agencies such as Community Chest, Social Service Bureau, Poor Department, etc. Miss Kline, present head of the Social Service Bureau, is well qualified to head all Social Service agencies as general field agent, public spirited persons now acting on various work will continue and the greatest return possible can be received from the limited number of dollars to cover the many cases now here and due to develop this winter. The legal phase can be surmounted—greater returns can be had per hundred dollars. This question is vitally close to budget items when poor department and public welfare cost is checked up.

5O.—Give Taxpayers of Belleville another opportunity to elect capable men, urge condition be established so that capable men will not hesitate about serving in public office. Belleville has suffered for over twenty-five years from very unbusiness-like administration—professional men, business men and public officials throughout Essex County have advised me of this fact—and analysis of the records of contracts, ordinances and financial history of the town calls for sacrifice on the part of real men, men of courage, men who will not let silly sentiment sway their judgment, who can and will sacrifice time during the next three to five years to put this town on its feet—it can be done—backbone—a conscience and application of trained brains are essential. When the town is in debt to its eyebrows, let us have no more scheming to spend money (such as I have had to oppose—no more insulating of those whose training is entirely on management lines by men of limited training—no more discarding of fair recommendations on a basis of personal bias rather than a study on a basis of merit or demerit—no more muzzling of every major purchase contract such as no private concern would permit by a department head—no more discarding of every financial study by the town fathers when even financial houses are seeking knowledge. Belleville has the men, plenty of them, get them to feel their home life, their club life, their social and religious relations are not to be attacked because they dare serve their town as their oath of office demands. Belleville must be removed from a crowd small in number, but active; so the great majority of our people may become active and receive the representation they deserve. The truth never hurt a man or a town, Belleville with her great material resources has been maltreated, her natural advantages have been abandoned on the altar of crude political expediency. One large bond holder last week told me he believed his Belleville bonds were of more value when bad methods and unfaithful employees were relegated to the waste basket. Cleaning up bad conditions actually helps a town—disaster follows covering up bad conditions.

I am available at call of your committee or individual members, your committee is urged to feel at liberty to call at the Department of Revenue and Finance and analyze functions of every employee, if any laxity exists—I am entirely responsible, methods have been installed by me or have been adjusted by me, duties have been distributed and supervised very keenly, and I am particularly pleased with the reactions I receive from folks with whom my department has business relations.

As stated in my list of recommendations to the Board of Commissioners, July 5, I fully expected my department to receive criticism, therefore I endeavored to make conditions as fine as abilities of myself and assistants permitted. My expectations developed, I find my time is considered valuable by one official and that I should use the train rather than drive Buick Coupe to Jersey City saving time thereby. (Of course the Town Treasurer and I have not received any car expense for the past two years, although having used personal cars for a whole week at a time.) The Town Treasurer and I have used our cars on trips to Lambertville, Trenton, New York, Passaic and Bergen Counties and I do not believe any taxpayer will permit the real issues—thousands of wasted dollars—to be lost sight of in any food or the Town Treasurer may have eaten on town expense when doing official business. Really I hesitate to ask men of my department to leave on town business, their wives can not be blamed for not believing that any official or employee would be late for dinner, or refrain from going home to lunch to perform town duties. (Such type of public service does not prevail in many departments).

On the matter of Mayor Kenworthy attempting to high pressure the sale of thirty acres of the Turf Bog at $110,000 to the town (several acres already being owned by the town or being held by tax liens) I personally paid attorneys $75 for legal advice (notwithstanding our Town Counsel giving advice pleasing to the majority of the Commissioners) but I was pleased to have stopped this town speculation when I learned the Board of Education had been advised that $40,000 to $45,000 would be the cost of the Turf Bog. I have not yet had any explanation on the difference of $65,000—let's talk thousands of dollars with the Mayor after the town expense lists are reduced. Your committee is advised by Director Clark and Mayor of phone and lunch bills—of employees of the Department of Revenue and Finance—why not ask them about Turf Bog grab—garbled garbage contract—rattled police court methods—queer fire engine contracts—relatives hanging on to the public feed-bag while their bosses express great sorrow for the unemployed.

Mr. Stewart, I again ask your committee to immediately act on my program of recommendations for $108,000 of economies—town payroll due August 15 has not been paid—school payroll will soon be opened up—tax collections are slow—Belleville bonds

THE FAMOUS "RUMOR" DISCUSSION

Commissioner Williams: I would like to respectfully ask Commissioner Clark a question pertaining to a statement in the Newark Evening News relative to favoritism in assessments, if he meant assessments made by our Assessor Mr. Coogan or by the Board of Assessment Commissioners of the assessment of improvements or both?

Commissioner Clark: General assessments by the town.

Commissioner Williams: You know Mr. Coogan. Have you any thought that he is dishonest, incapable or can be influenced?

Commissioner Clark: No sir.

Commissioner Williams: Have you any evidence based on sound facts of any influence exerted by me?

Commissioner Clark: I did not say anything of the sort. My statement to the committee was to the effect that I heard rumors, and I referred it to you to look into. That is true except possibly as there is rumor concerning the assessments in this time of depression. I think it is stated pretty clearly in my letter.

Commissioner Williams: There is no doubt that he (Mr. Coogan) is thoroughly honest and that he is not influenced?

Commissioner Clark: I have not the slightest doubt.

Commissioner Williams: That pleases me very much, Commissioner.

are not selling too fast—a real economy step will encourage taxpayers and may soften the hearts of bond buyers. Please urge the people to seriously study recommendation 5B—selection of capable men to supervise the taxpayers' annual expenses of $1,750,000 to help the taxpayers get out from under the tremendous debt hanging over the town, of which over $3,000,000 was added by the men who promised to lower taxes from $4.06 to $3.50, and instead found it necessary to raise the rate to $4.46 within twenty months after election—96 points away from their promised tax rate—proving they either did not know what they were talking about, or that they deliberately lied. I am going to be charitable and say I believe they did not know where the town was at financially. The conduct of the Big Three to date apparently impels one to believe they think their power is beyond question and that the public can still be bamboozled. The public of Belleville is interested in seeking real men. I have and will continue to keep the taxpayers acquainted with municipal data, your committee can strongly urge our citizens to become interested and to study qualifications—call out the untrained person seeking to handle the

Playground Contest Held Wednesday

Belleville Park Scene Of Second Of Three Such Parties

The second of a series of three Essex County Park playground parties was held Wednesday in Belleville Park. Participants in these contests were from Belleville Park, Weequahic, Independence, of Newark; Yanticaw, of Nutley, and Bloomfield Park. Kite flying, volley ball, dodge ball and quoits tournaments for the boys took up the morning. After lunch and community singing came the field day exercises, which in addition to the salute to the flag and athletic contests, included dances by the girls and tumbling and pyramids and a combination drill by the boys. The final event was a drill with American flags by the girls.

The party was attended by Edward Jackson, vice president of the commission; David I. Kelly, secretary, and J. H. Phillips, chief engineer.

THE GOVERNING BUSINESS

THE late Thomas A. Edison is credited with having said that "when the government enters business, it simply mixes a lot of politics with a little business."

The experience of the past few years has demonstrated the truth of this. We have seen government in the farming business, in the printing business, the paint business and in a multitude of others. The result has been a tremendous extension of the Federal bureaucracy at the taxpayer's expense.

"Keep government to the business of governing" might be a good motto.

SMILE, DARN YOU, SMILE!

WHETHER business conditions are actually better remains to be seen. However, wherever we have gone in town during the past two weeks we have been greeted with the expression of the thought that business is looking up. Whether it be true or whether it is just a fallacy makes little difference. The fact remains that when a people becomes encouraged the horizon is bound to brighten.

A wave of encouragement will induce folk to loosen their purse strings and spend. Spending for consumption means more production and subsequent employment. It means the return of better times. Be optimistic; think and talk optimistically. And loosen up. It's a thrifty habit.

GOLD BY THE TON

THEY hauled tons of gold through the streets of New York last week, almost like so much coal. In all the value of the bullion to be moved to the new assay office amounted to a billion dollars.

The gold was heavily guarded. Carried in armored motor trucks and surrounded by guards armed to the teeth, it would require quite a large and desperate force of thieves to get away with any sizable amount of the yellow metal.

As a matter of fact it would need almost an invading army to steal any large amount of this gold. In olden times when wealth was mainly in the form of cattle and gold hoards, and gold was worth considerably more than it is today, gold was the ideal booty for the robber.

Under present conditions gold is not so tempting. If a robber got away with 100 pounds, it would be worth only $24,000, not a big haul these days. Then to cash in on it would be almost as dangerous as trying to pass counterfeit money.

The automobile has been a great help to the modern thief, but in order to steal gold on a large scale he would need a cumbersome truck, which is not so good for a speedy escape.

"REAL FORGOTTEN MEN"

THE Mayor of Syracuse, N. Y., declares that no unemployed small home-owner in his city will be sold out because of inability to pay taxes. The home-owner instead will be given an opportunity to work out his taxes at the rate of $4 a day until his account is balanced. These small home-owners, who, because they own property, are ineligible to receive aid are the "real forgotten men" says Mayor Marvin.

This is true not only of Syracuse but generally throughout the country. The thrifty, hard-working citizen who made sacrifices to accumulate enough to buy a home is now penalized in that he is ineligible to receive aid, while the thriftless, ne'er-do-well can walk up to the welfare board and demand his weekly stipend.

It isn't at all fair. Something should be done to protect the man out of work from losing the home that he struggled so hard to obtain.

THEY ALSO RAN

NOW that the Olympic torch has gone out and Olympic Village is being torn down, it is pleasant to be reminded that some of the American athletes who did not win firsts at the games are being welcomed home as though they had done something.

And they did achieve a good deal. Competition for places on the teams has never been so intense as this year. Even those who did not win a point, but were seventh, eighth, ninth or tenth in their events, can claim some distinction. The entrance lists were so representative that those who failed, but were not far behind the winner, must be considered as among the first ten in their chosen events. There is not much satisfaction in being anything but first in an Olympic event, but it is something to be among the ten best runners or jumper or weight throwers of the world in any of the contests.

SEARCHING FOR GOLD

ESTIMATES place the number of persons engaged in looking, with pan and shovel, for gold in one state alone, at more than 3,500. In the State of Washington, where no deposits of gold of any size are known, that number of men and women labor from dawn to dusk, with back-breaking effort, to extract small particles of the precious metal from the river gravel. They have no hope of digging out large nuggets, but they toil patiently, getting maybe fifty cents a day for their findings. One must admire their spirit, for they could as easily go on the welfare rolls. But they would rather work for a living, however meagre it is.

THE DUBIOUS EAGLE

EXPERTS on the plumage of birds have discovered that the eagle on the new quarter is not the bald eagle which has always been honored as the national emblem, but the golden eagle, which has spread its wings on many a European coat-of-arms.

Whether the criticism is correct, or whether, as some have claimed, the eagle is a young bald eagle, which has the "feathered trousers" of the golden eagle, may be left to the authorities. But a change in design of the side of the coin showing the eagle would not be bitterly opposed. It does look "tinny," to such an extent that it is not wholly surprising that some people have refused to believe that it is a real quarter.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST OFFERS OPPORTUNITY FOR WORKERS

THE Belleville Community Chest will open its campaign this fall, faced with a greater task than ever before. We are passing through a period of social and economic distress during which able-bodied men, willing to work, can find no way to support themselves and those dependent upon them.

Not only in Belleville, but throughout the world, honest people, yes, thrifty people, too, are at the end of their resources. Their savings are used up; their rent is unpaid; their furniture has been sold piece by piece; their clothing is inadequate for the coming winter; they have no way to buy fuel; they are uncertain where their next meal is coming from, or if they will eat at all.

Through no fault of their own, these perplexed people must endure worry and dread for their children and themselves unless and until public or private assistance lends them help to get back on their feet and re-establish their homes on a self-supporting basis.

In addition to food, clothing and shelter, either public or private agencies must provide doctors and nurses to guard the health of these unfortunates, and particularly of their children.

Nor should the matter of wholesome, character-building recreation be neglected, either for the children whose parents are passing through a slough of financial despond or for the boys and girls whose parents are more fortunately situated.

Then, too, there is Belleville's share in the burden of national relief funds, a good part of which is spent right here in town in rendering assistance to veterans, while the balance is our share in relieving some of the ravages caused by fire, flood, earthquakes and famine in other communities.

Private agencies have done and are doing their utmost. The Belleville Community Chest will continue to do its utmost. This year's campaign is not an ordinary drive; it is up against a real emergency. Everyone in Belleville who is lucky enough to have a job should pitch in and help every way possible.

For instance, Homer Zink has accepted the hard job of handling the house to house solicitations. The real success of the campaign depends on the success of the house to house solicitation. This year many workers will be needed because the house to house solicitors will be working only in the immediate vicinity of their homes. Here is an opportunity for workers who need make only ten or fifteen calls to finish their territory. The work will be easier than ever before, but more workers will be on the job. Why shouldn't you be one of them? Surely you can spare an hour a day for a few days to help out some folks who haven't been as lucky as you.

BACK-FENCE GOSSIP

COMMISSIONER W. D. Clark's "favoritism rumor" was nothing more than that he told Commissioner William H. Williams Tuesday night.

And therein bursts another Clark bubble. Quite true is the old saying every time he opens his mouth he puts his foot in it.

Clark wiggled and squirmed and colored up Tuesday night at the meeting. Williams asked him if he thought the Assessor, John Coogan, was dishonest and in effect that he would not do his job in any manner other than that above reproach.

"Absolutely, no," replied the astounded Clark, who did not even rise from his seat.

"I'm glad to hear you say that," calmly retorted Williams, the latter's remarks satisfying a large audience of taxpayers who knew he had flattened Clark as neatly and flatly politically as a man has ever been flattened.

And so Mr. Clark and his informant who tried to paint Williams' department black as regards rumors remind us of the two old back-fence gossips, neither one of whom knew a thing of which they were talking, but scandalized the neighborhood—just because they were gossips.

And not only did Clark use rumor. He used it in such a serious matter as a recommendation on operating economies to the citizens' committee studying the subject by which Williams says $100,000 can be saved the town.

It is clear Clark's rumors petered out as a smoke screen and serve only to further convince taxpayers they need a new deal.

TAXPAYERS DISGUSTED

THE Belleville rulers—Mayor Kenworthy and Commissioners Clark and Waters—have just about pulled the political noose tight enough about their own necks to choke.

Which bears out an old saying "Give 'em enough rope and they'll hang themselves."

Commissioner Waters is sitting on the sidelines sawing wood. He is apparently satisfied to see Clark and Kenworthy gag on every sentence they utter.

While Clark's department is under fire Kenworthy and Clark apparently try to divert attention to another—Kenworthy to the extent of squealing about payment of lunches for a commissioner on town duty—the only man to be found on the job all day—Commissioner William H. Williams. We're wrong, Commissioner Carragher is also on the job.

Clark—Kenworthy—Waters—you never see them at the town hall.

The latest thing our misinformed Mayor Kenworthy didn't know was that town employees had not been paid. And yet he professes to know so much about the department of Revenue and Finance. Kenworthy is supposed to know what's going on. He is Mayor. He only knew the payroll had been passed up when he read it in the papers. A fine way to act as Mayor—get his information of town affairs from the papers. This newspaper printed the story Friday—the Newark papers Saturday and Sunday. How can he criticize the director of Revenue and Finance?

Belleville folks are now thoroughly disgusted with Kenworthy, Clark and Waters.

Recall them or change to a better form of government. What we say is throw out those who do not operate in the interest of the taxpayers.

Gleanings From State News

Items Of Interest Taken From Here And There Outside Of Belleville

The Hillside Times informs us 800 pupils are expected at the high school re-opening on September 12.

Those who enter high school today are marching over a royal road, paving their own life's highway so that progress will be smooth and sure, says the Irvington Herald as regards entering high school.

"There is really no need to longer wonder why gangsters rule so many of our large cities, why speakies thrive, and why such a staggering percentage of the money paid in to public coffers by taxpayers seems to almost miraculously disappear.

The evidence in the case of Mayor James J. Walker versus the people is preponderantly to the effect that the witty and debonair "Jimmie" is far too short on matters of memory to competently administer the affairs of so important and complicated a business as the City of New York. While he may not be guilty of anything definitely crooked, it seems obvious that he has been a party to many distinctly unethical manipulations of private fortunes," says the Methuen Recorder.

"There has naturally been a somewhat violent reaction to the economic program as announced by the Kearny Board of Education last week. This was to be expected in the case of a decision involving such radical measures as the closing of the Clara Barton School, the transference of classes from one building to another and the discharge of twenty-eight teachers.

"The criticisms of this action seem to be based upon two fundamental ideas. These are—personal sympathy for the discharged teachers and fear that the Kearny school system, developed by Dr. Dressel to be one of the finest in the country, will be impaired," says the Observer.

"If you think sport is overemphasized in this country, consider Nicaragua where a baseball team recently appealed a defeat to the Supreme Court," says the Bloomfield Independent Press.

As regards kiddie keep well work, the Methuen Review states:

"With the observance of visitors' day this coming Tuesday at the Kiddie Keep Well Camp just outside the borough limits, a new significance is added to the work going forward at this summer haven for Middlesex county's undernourished children. A new light is added as the culmination of the summer session draws to a close. The fortunate ones who gain admittance to the camp grounds this week will have an opportunity to observe the fruits of many weeks' toil in one of the most interesting of the charitable works that mankind offers, namely, child welfare. Happiness and health have been given to many of the county's most deserving child cases. A new lease of life has been granted to their minds, bodies and souls that can not be found in city streets or unorganized playgrounds. Let us remember this when we are asked to contribute our bit to the Keep Well fund and let our conscience be our guide."

The Ridgewood News in an effort to bring about a better feeling between the fire departments of that town and Paramus, states: "The New Jersey and New York Firemen's Association should sponsor an open meeting of firemen and community officials to wet down this blaze now."

Some day a really serious conflagration will threaten some entire community and all available apparatus may be needed. Inter-department misunderstanding will cause trouble in that emergency." We congratulate the News on its splendid attempt to bring about complete harmony between these two towns.

Prevent "Brown Patch"

On The Lawn

By HOWARD B. SPRAGUE,
N. J. Agricultural Experiment Sta.

Many types of brown patch injury occur on lawns. Some are induced by drought, others by lack of sufficient plant food, excessive soil acidity, and burning with soluble fertilizers.
However, there are two distinct types of brown patch, known respectively as "large," and "small," or "dollar" patch, caused by a fungus or mold which invades the grass leaves. The true brown patch diseases frequently attack bent grass lawns during warm humid weather.

Control of these diseases is accomplished by the timely application of mercury compounds. Treatment for brown patch injury requires considerable care in order to be effective and to avoid impairment of the turf.
Complete details for the treatment of brown patch will be provided upon request by the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. Fortunately, prevention of brown patch is relatively simple and inexpensive.

Perhaps the most important factor in preventing the disease is the choice of resistant types of grass. The bent grasses are the only group of grasses seriously affected by brown patch.
A lawn mixture composed largely of Kentucky blue grass and Chewings fescue, therefore, will not suffer from attacks by either type of brown patch.

Lawns containing considerable amounts of susceptible types of Colonial, Creeping, or Velvet bent grass will be less subject to injury if the grass is maintained at a height of at least one inch than if the turf is mowed closely. Correction of soil acidity by use of lime, and the withholding of fertilizers during the summer months, are desirable practices.
In general, fertilizers should be applied only in autumn or early spring.
A rank succulent growth stimulated by frequent artificial watering should also be avoided. Turf which grows slowly is less susceptible to disease than rapidly growing grass.

Plant Perennial Lupine Now

By A. C. McLEAN
N. J. Agricultural Extension Service

From many gardeners the complaint has come that the perennial Lupine does not thrive in New Jersey and other eastern states. Results obtained from this plant vary widely, for in some areas the perennial Lupine produces spikes magnificent enough to satisfy any gardener, while other growers of the plant often report an almost complete failure with it.

Present knowledge indicates that Lupine generally requires an ample supply of water but not much heat.
In extremely hot weather they wilt unless growing in favorable locations.
Although the need for plenty of moisture should not be neglected, the Lupine must have a well-drained soil if it is to thrive.

Gardeners differ in their opinions as to the amount of lime the Lupine requires. Most of the annual Lupine do best on an acid soil, but the most popular perennial kinds, such as Lupinus polyphyllus, seem to do best on a neutral or slightly acid soil. This has been demonstrated at the Ohio Experiment Station.

Lupine sown now in a fertile soil and left in the seed over winter will thrive if the soil is not too acid. The seedlings make a sturdy growth in the cool weather of fall and will bloom well in the spring before the coming of summer's hot weather. It is advisable to save seed from the plants which best appear to be able to withstand our summer's heat.

Plant this seed and grow the seedlings in partial shade during the summer and success will follow, if the above precautions are heeded.

Further information on this and other garden, flower or agricultural questions may be obtained from the County Extension Office, R. E. Harman, County Agricultural Agent,
Caldwell. (Phone Caldwell 6-0572).

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Rutherford—276 Main Street.

Passaic—8 Hillside Avenue.

Newark—65 Roseville Avenue.

"Christ Jesus," will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 28.

The Golden Text is: "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and forever." (Hebrews 13:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people."
(Matthew 4:23).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"The Principle and proof of Christianity are discerned by spiritual sense. They are set forth in Jesus' demonstrations, which show—by his healing the sick, casting out evils, and destroying death,—his disregard of matter and its so-called laws."
(p. 210).

DESDEMONA HAWKINS

The WHITE RAT
of Hawkins Hall

By Alice Mary Kimball and Mary Alden Hopkins

THE STORY THUS FAR

Great-grandfather Hawkins, the widowed Mrs. Hawkins, and her children—Jack, fourteen; Ted, eight and Nancy, twelve—live in big old Hawkins Hall, an ancestral home who became wealthy sailing clipper ships. The family fortunes have dwindled. After her husband's death, Mrs. Hawkins has a struggle taking care of them all. It is Christmas, and they are gloomy because there isn't enough money to bring home Bert, the oldest son, a medical student. But Bert surprises them by riding home in a college friend's airplane. They have another surprise. In Bert's pocket is something wiggly, something alive!

—III—

"Bert! What have you in your pocket?" Nancy cried.
Bert, who was a big chap with merry eyes, began to chuckle softly as he slid his hand carefully into his coat pocket.

"Well, well, lady," he said quietly, "I'd almost forgotten you. Come on out and meet the family."

A small ball of white ran up his arm and snuggled under his ear. A dainty, tiny, white-furred creature looked at them and sniffed delicately with a sensitive, wriggling nose. "It is a white rat!" cried the children.

"Ladies and gentlemen," announced Bert, as though he were about to make a speech. "Allow me to present to you Desdemona—Desdemona Hawkins—my own special laboratory pet. She has come to take a vacation with you and to rest up from her hard work. She has been helping us to discover important facts about food. Has anyone a bit of milk for the lady?"

"I'm afraid there's very little milk in the house," said mother, "except, of course, evaporated milk."

"Fine!" exclaimed Bert. "Evaporated milk is pure whole milk, with some of the water removed. Desdemona thrives on it."

CHAPTER TWO

Desdemona was a fine healthy rat. Her eyes were red like rubies and there was a nice pink glow about her. She did not fear people, for she had been petted all her life, and she loved to cuddle in a warm protecting hand.

When Nancy placed some evaporated milk in a blue glass dish on the table and showed it to Desdemona, the white rat sat on her haunches and dipped the milk up in her little pink paws to drink. She hated to put her face down into milk and get her whiskers wet.

"What shall we feed her?" asked Nancy. In her mind's eye Nancy was seeing herself as a child's nurse to Desdemona, watching over her health.

"She has been raised on the kind of foods necessary to make her grow and to keep her strong and healthy and beautiful," replied Bert. "She needs fats, proteins, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals to make her happy. She must have them all—just as we must."

Nancy blinked at her brother. Jack's jaw dropped and Grandfather dozed off as he always did when conversation became uninteresting to him. But mother's brown eyes twinkled as she and Bert exchanged glances. She chuckled to herself as she looked at Nancy who, whenever she could get it, ate candy between meals, and at Jack who refused milk because it was "baby food." Mother guessed Bert had brought Desdemona home to teach the children what to eat. Bert will make a wise doctor, thought mother, curing his patients without their ever knowing that they are being treated.

"I do not think we have many of those vitamins and minerals in the house," replied Nancy doubtfully. "We not only have the vitamins right here, but are going to have them for supper," cried mother starting to her feet. She and Bert laughed at each other as they shared a good joke.

Jack went out to the shed to bring in the Christmas tree and then he and Ted trimmed it with silver stars and last year's ornaments, while Bert connected the tiny yellow and red and blue electric bulbs that lighted the tree.

Mrs. Hawkins prepared supper in the kitchen while Nancy set small tables in the living room, for it was wiggly, something alive!

"Bert! What have you in your pocket?" Nancy cried.

Bert, who was a big chap with merry eyes, began to chuckle softly as he slid his hand carefully into his coat pocket.

"Well, well, lady," he said quietly, "I'd almost forgotten you. Come on out and meet the family."

on the top in a luscious melting mass.

The party turned out to be a fancy dress affair. When the Hawkins family started in to have a good time they kept adding to the original plan and improving it until it became a regular festival. A fancy dress affair was admirable for a family that had no new clothes but did have trunks and chests of old costumes in the huge, raftered attic. Nancy chose a pink frock worn over a hoop skirt, and put a crescent patch beside her right dimple. Jack, who was very tall for his age, wore a blue soldier's uniform with large gilt epaulettes. A clanking sword dangled by his side until he tripped over it and fell headlong. After that he took it off but wore the sword belt. Ted wore his own Indian suit because the only children's clothes were girls' dresses and he cried when Nancy tried to persuade him to wear a plaid silk frock with embroidered pantalets. Mother was lovely in a lavender silk made with a full skirt, her hair dressed high with a Spanish shell comb. Bert was a courtier in black knee-breeches and lace ruffs falling over his hands.

Motorists Should

Buy Now—C. W. Nash

Head Of Concern Declares
Prices Have Never Been Lower

Kenosha, Wis., (Special) — There has never been a period in American business history when the automobile buyer has had so obvious an opportunity for sound and advantageous investment as he has today, in the opinion of C. W. Nash, chairman of the Nash Motors Company.

"Motor car prices right now are the lowest that have ever been established in proportion to actual automobile values, and are probably the lowest that we will experience for many years to come," he said in discussing the trend of the motor market. "At the same time, engineering advancements, improved materials and recently perfected mechanical devices have made the current motor car models generally finer performing and more attractive, substantial and safer vehicles than the industry has ever before been able to offer to the American public."

"The economic housecleaning which has set the country's feet again firmly on the ground, has also served to place our new motor cars on a remarkable bargain counter. It has given the buyer command of the situation and has put him in the strongest position he has enjoyed in a long time."

"How long this great buying opportunity will last is problematical. It is freely predicted that, along with prices of other commodities, motor car prices must soon go higher if manufacturing volume remains at its present level. Volume alone can hold today's prices in the bargain basement. With volume, the manufacturer can continue to do business and can continue to supply that most important of today's economic necessities—employment for labor. Without it, prices, which are abnormally low, must of necessity rise to meet increased costs of doing business and employment must of necessity dwindle to lower levels."

Motor car quality has increased as prices have decreased, Mr. Nash pointed out.

"It is interesting right now to compare the new motor car which is available to the careful buyer of today with the car he bought during the peak of the inflation period," he continued. "In 1929, for example, cars of similar wheelbase, horsepower and quality to those available today but without many of the important comfort and performance advantages offered on most current models, cost from 20 to 30 per cent more than the 1932 car. In price alone, that is a staggering differential."

"But, in addition to the price advantage, the 1932 buyer has the opportunity to cash in also on some of the most important structural advancements and motoring improvements developed by automotive engineers in the past decade. For 20 to 30 per cent less money than he paid in 1929, he receives as big or bigger an automobile with generally more power and faster speed range and equipped with such striking new advantages as the super-rigid X-Dual frame which lends three times the strength and many degrees of added riding comfort and driving safety to the new cars; the new Centrifuge, cast-iron lined brake drums with their additionally long and satisfactory braking qualities; full range ride control which adjusts the best riding quality of the car to any road or load conditions; finer transmission systems; finer motor car bodies and many other mechanical advancements and improvements. From any angle of approach, the purchase of today's car at today's low price is a sound and advantageous investment and one which will pay big dividends to the buyer.

"There is another phase in the automobile market situation which should lead any thinking man who is in need of a new car to hurry his selection and purchase. It lies in the patriotic duty of providing jobs for workers. Today motor car manufacturers are making every effort and straining their resources to keep as many men employed as they possibly can. The automobile industry is a basic pillar of our economic life in this country and is one of the primary sources of labor employment. Thus when the demand for new cars recedes, people in practically every walk of life are cut off from their normal means of livelihood and the suffering extends all down the line."

"It has been officially estimated that every new car sold in this unusual period of industrial history contributes the major part of its actual cost to the relief of unemployment. More than five million people are engaged in the work of producing the materials, parts and the finished cars that are appearing now on the national bargain counter and in merchandising them. It is apparent that any falling off in automobile demand communicates itself to every division of this great industrial army and is in turn passed on to other trade divisions. On the other hand, every new car bought now means continued employment, more money circulated throughout the business structure and another step toward normal business conditions. When we consider the fact that at an annual wage of $1,200 per individual, the automobile makes available a total of six billion dollars for purchase of food, clothing, homes and other necessities, it becomes plain that the man who buys a new car now because he needs it is not only taking advantage of a splendid investing opportunity for himself, but is also serving his country at a moment when it most needs his support."

Mrs. George E. Kolodin and children of Hillside avenue have returned from Bradley Beach. Mr. Kolodin, Simon Blum and Dr. Nathan Gelman of this town and Dr. W. R. Roderman of Passaic have completed a fishing trip to Beach Haven.

Harold Bell Wright Buys
Nash Convertible
Coupe

Kenosha, Wis. — Factory officials welcomed another famous Nash owner into the 1932 ranks today with word from the Southern California distributor that Harold Bell Wright, novelist and traveler, has taken delivery of a new Nash Convertible Coupe.

Mr. Wright, long a Nash owner, made the purchase immediately from the Thompson Stuebing Company of Los Angeles, upon his return from an eight months' stay in the tropics.

"I turned in my cars when I left for the tropics," he told the distributor, "and on my return I looked over several makes and selected this new Nash Convertible as the ideal car for the several trips I plan to make this summer."

"It has everything I want in performance and beauty, and its ease of handling will go a long way toward making the long jaunts more enjoyable."

Miss Janice Miller of Hillside avenue spent the week-end at Toms River. Miss Mary Isabel Miller is a guest of Mrs. Dill Miller of Cape May.

Vocational School Offers Work Course

Fits Boys For Semi-Skilled Industrial Jobs And Trades

With the opening of the fall school term, the Essex County Vocational School for Boys in Bloomfield, will offer instruction in a new Multi Occupations Course.

The vocational training objectives in this course are to develop dexterity in doing a wide variety of simple industrial operations involving the use of hand tools and to develop proper work attitudes and habits.

The employment objectives of the course are to make the boy readily adaptable to any one of a number of semi skilled industrial jobs involving hand tool processes and through the building of proper work attitudes and habits, to make him a worker who will be an asset to any industrial organization.

The pupil will receive training in repair jobs in plumbing, carpentry, electricity, sheet metal work, and so forth. Pupils fourteen years of age and those who have completed the sixth grade are eligible to the course.

There is no fixed time for the completion of this course but it should take the average boy about two years to complete it.

CONQUERS CONSTIPATION

It is often very difficult to recognize constipation. You may be having regular bowel movements but they may not be thorough. Self-poisoning might occur, which is the absorption into the blood of poisons from accumulating waste matter in the intestines. The blood saturates the body daily with these poisons. Residuals are often poisonous. From the suits are often poisonous. From the continued attack of intestinal poisons some vital organ eventually breaks down and chronic invalidism and shortened life results.

For your guidance in recognizing and hence over-coming constipation and its dread results, we are listing below some of the symptoms by which physicians recognize the presence of constipation.

If you are often subject to one or more of these disorders, constipation is very probably the cause.
Headache Abdominal Tenderness Gas Belching Lack of Appetite Bad Breath Insatiable Hunger Bloating Dizziness Nausea (1-2 Hrs. After Eating) Coated Tongue So-called Rheumatism (Stiffness) High Blood Pressure (Stiffness) Constipation Fatigue Pimples Auto-intoxication Hemorrhoids Springtime Weakness (Piles)
Unfortunately, up to within recent years it was difficult if not impossible to secure efficient evacuation of the bowel contents. It cannot be accomplished by the use of drugs, cathartics, or laxatives, such as castor oil, pills, salts, mineral water and the like. These disturb and irritate the stomach and often affect the kidneys. Only through the principle of lubrication as embodied in Alagar can regular thorough elimination of waste matter be harmlessly accomplished.

Alagar is an emulsion of Russian Mineral Oil with Agar Agar and the well-known intestinal antiseptic Phenolphthalein. Its distinctive Maple Flavor makes it very pleasant and palatable.

This product, Alagar, which contains pure ingredients, is a finely emulsified preparation of a pinkish color and is prepared with special care by our chemists in our own laboratory. It is regularly prescribed by leading physicians in their daily practice and in hospitals.

MIXING THINGS UP

JUST the event that was needed to make the last week of American Legion League baseball a real free-for-all occurred, Monday night. On that memorable occasion, the Bachelors bowed before the inspired charge of a St. Peter attack that would not be stopped.

With the playing of the final game of the regular season, the Elks-St. Anthony's clash, scheduled for tonight, the league standing is in as much of a muddle now as it ever was.

The "Big Three," the Elks, St. Peter's and the Bachelors, are still very much in the running. Any of the trio, with a last minute spurt, can come through to cop the coveted bunting.

"Stoney" Machette's Elks, of course, hold the upper hand at present, having lost one game less than either St. Peter's or the Bachelors.

Their road to Pennantville, however, is far from being free from obstacles. If they hurdle the St. Anthony's menace (and the Silver Lakers are not going to be exactly "push-overs," either), the Hello Bills will have to defeat their keenest rivals, St. Peter's, next week.

"Sugar" Flynn, veteran manager of the Saints, is sure to have his strongest line-up in there in a last, desperate effort to down the Antlers in this play-off tilt. Remember last year's champions haven't won a game yet this season over the Elks, and they'll be staking everything on this all-important clash.

No matter what the angle from which you view it, the picture presented should please every fan. It forms a breath-taking climax to the action-filled drama that has been on view on the Clearman Field diamond all summer.

OLD-TIMERS' DAY

CONSIDERABLE thought has been devoted these past few weeks towards the staging of an Old-Timers' Day, as an aftermath to the regular American Legion Twilight League season.

The idea should be a popular one with all. Who wouldn't like to see the local baseball stars of yesteryear in uniform once more? Some of their ball-playing ability and agility might be missing, but the old will to win would still be there.

We believe we echo the sentiments of everyone when we say that we hope the "old-timers" have that special day in which to return to the baseball wars.

A NIGHT GAME HERE?

SOMETIME within the next week or so the ball fans of Belleville may be treated to the spectacle of a night game right on their local diamond, Clearman Field.

The American Legion authorities are thinking very seriously of arranging a game under the arc lights between their all-star nine and the famous bearded House of David club. A tilt of this nature was played at Bloomfield some weeks back with a large amount of success.

The Legion believes such a game would be a real treat for their many loyal supporters, and are doing everything in their power to bring it about.

A TRIPLE-THREAT MAN

WE think that entirely too little attention is paid to the work of one particular generalissimo of the American Legion baseball forces. And he is, to use a football term, a "triple-threat man," at that. We refer to Johnny Lawlor.

Though a star performer of many an ardent baseball campaign, Lawlor is still a good enough player to hold down an infield post on one of the local Legion League's principal contenders, St. Peter's.

On Saturday afternoon, Johnny Lawlor takes time out to manage the American Legion all-star nine that meets the pick of the semi-pro field in this vicinity.

In between times, this hard-working individual manages to handle the financial end of the Legion Twilight League contest, in his capacity of treasurer. Outside of that his time is his own.

And he's as good a "sport" off the field as on.

Thirty-two Entrants Expected For Tennis Championships

Annual Tourney To Start Tomorrow Afternoon At Hillcrest Courts

At least thirty-two players are expected to start in the men's singles play of the annual town championship tournament, tomorrow afternoon at the Hillcrest courts. An even greater number is expected to participate in the opening round matches of the men's doubles, Sunday afternoon. Entries for both singles and doubles are coming in rather slowly, but a rush is expected before the closing date, which is tonight.

Entrants must have their names in to the committee in charge, S. C. Summerfield, W. Rachel and R. Slauer, by tonight to insure their participation. Trophies and awards will be presented to the finalists and those reaching the semi-finals in both the singles and doubles. These awards will be on display in the show-windows of the Belleville Pharmacy, Union avenue and Jorammon street, and the Capitol Pharmacy on Washington avenue.

The draw for both the singles and doubles matches will be made at the home of W. Rachel, the president, 19 Mertz avenue, at 8:30 tonight. The results of the drawing will be made

American Legion Wins Fourth Straight

Strong Sinclair Colored Aggregation Trowned 12-6 Saturday

Johnny Lawlor's American Legion ball nine went on to its fourth straight victory, Saturday afternoon, as "Shorty" Sinclair's Colored All-Stars took a 12-6 pasting at the local diamond.

"Butch" Kastner received the mound assignment to start against this all-star collection of visitors, reputed to be the hardest hitting colored team ever to appear in Belleville.

Aided and abetted by some robust clouting on the part of his mates, Kastner took the Sinclairmen in stride, just as he has made a habit of doing to most every club these Saturday afternoons. Though his opponents managed to solve his slants for eleven hits, Kastner never let things get out of control. In addition his left-handed assortment of curves accounted for eight strike-outs, most of them at timely moments.

The old local favorite, Mike Hardaway, toed the rubber for the visitors and was determined to set back the locals, who have been his nemesis on more than one occasion. He sailed along in more or less secure fashion for five innings, but then the storm broke!

The Legionnaires suddenly took a marked liking to his offerings in the sixth, and smashed out six clean drives to manufacture seven runs, and just about sew up the ball game, as well as knocking the redoubtable Hardaway out of the box.

Smith And Caldwell Reach Tourney Finals

Youthful High School Tennis Aces Feature At Clearman Field

Two former team-mates on the Belleville High tennis team, Ray Smith and Billy Caldwell, fought their way to the finals in the mid-summer tennis tourney in progress at the Clearman Field clay courts these past several weeks.

Caldwell staged the greatest comeback of the entire tournament to win his semi-final over the hard-driving Corbin D. Lewis. The youthful high school netster, after dropping the opening two sets of his match, 4-6, 6-8, staged a last minute spurt that overpowered Lewis, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4, to earn a memorable five-set victory.

Smith became a finalist by virtue of a convincing straight set win over another ex-team mate on the Belleville High net team, Don Gauss. Gauss never seemed to have a look-in as Smith won about as he pleased, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Capitol Tossers Lose Extra Inning Game

Eddie O'Neil Pitches Fine Ball Though Defeated By 3-1 Score

The Capitol Theatre baseball nine lost a tough 3-1 contest to the Irvington Cardinals, Sunday afternoon, at Belleville Park, after eleven innings of play.

"Ozzie" O'Neil, ex-high school star, toed the slab for the Theater boys, and held the Irvingtonites in check for the regular nine innings of play, only to lose out in the eleventh. Davis, his opponent on the mound, was particularly effective allowing but three hits over the entire stretch.

Bachelor Defeat Gives Elks First Place In Legion League

"Sugar" Flynn's St. Peter's nine upset the Bachelors, 7-2 Monday night, at Clearman Field, to go into a virtual tie for second place with their victims in the local American Legion twilight circuit.

The Bachelor defeat elevated the Elks into undisputed possession of the top rung in the league ladder.

Johnny Woods, St. Peter's ace right-hander, pitched fine ball in the pinches in recording his eighth win of the season. Nine of the Bachelor swingers succumbed to his curves and "hard fast ones," via the strike-out route.

The Saints made their purpose clear by sewing up the game early. They required but two hits to score four runs in the very first inning and win the tilt right then and there. A bit of wildness on the part of Lou Beliski, Bachelor mound ace, that included two free tickets and a hit batsman, aided St. Peter's no little in their game-winning spurt.

Dobbelear, a recent importation from the Lackawanna League, was the biggest noise on the eleven hit St. Peter attack. The hard-hitting infielder, who is at present leading the Lackawanna League with the stick, contributed a triple, two singles and a base on balls for a perfect day at bat.

"Fagan" Mays, Bachelor shortstop, slammed out three consecutive singles to head the seven hit Bachelor offensive.

Woods Blanks The St. Anthony Team With Three Hits

St. Peter's Take 3-0 Victory On Friday Night

Johnny Woods had his varied assortment of curves and fast ones working to perfection, Friday night, at Clearman Field, and the result was a 3-0 shut-out win for St. Peter's over St. Anthony's in the local American Legion ball loop.

Three solitary hits were the sum and substance of the rather meek St. Anthony showing before the wizardry of Woods. Nine of their number cut the ozone futilely, as well, during the wielding of the kalsomine brush.

On the other hand, the St. Peter sluggers were none too free with their strong-arm stuff against "Slim" Rossi, St. Anthony mound ace. Miserable support, which had a hand in all three winning tallies, proved Rossi's undoing. Though St. Peter's reached the Silver Lake flinger for six safeties, in only one inning, the sixth, did they manage to exceed their one hit per inning allotment.

George Savino's two singles, one of which was of the scratch variety, was the best individual batting performance of which the winners could boast. Dobbelear, infield star from the Lackawanna League, was held hitless, but contributed some nifty raving in the general vicinity of short-stop for the St. Peter's.

"Radley" Ziegar, peppery St. Anthony back stop, reached Woods for a double and single to give him a perfect day with the willow.

Hillcrest Netsters Lose 6-3 To Nutley

Slauer And Summerfield Win Men's Singles For Locals

The Hillcrest Tennis Club representatives dropped a 6-3 match to their arch rivals, the Nutley Tennis Club at Nutley, Sunday afternoon.

The local racket-wielders held their rivals even in the singles, but were undermined completely in the doubles play, losing all three matches.

Dick Slauer, ranking No. 1 player of the local club, and Sid Summerfield won their singles matches for the Hillcrest, while Mrs. Slauer came through in the women's singles for the Bellevillites. Mr. Slauer defeated Jeff Bird, No. 1 man of the Nutley aggregation, 6-4, 8-6, while Summerfield accomplished a like feat over Dusenberry, 6-4, 6-4. Mrs. Slauer downed Dor Rohr, 6-3, 6-1, for the remaining Hillcrest victory.

J. Mackenzie nudged Ray Smith, 6-2, 6-3, and George Anderton bowed to Jim Heath, after a great opening set battle, 11-9, 6-9, to account for the two Nutley victories in the men's singles. Helen Jones of Nutley conquered Agnes Franz, 6-3, 5-7, 6-0, to even up the women's singles.

The combine of MacMillan and George Plummer was the first local doubles team to taste defeat, losing to the Elvood Jones', Junior and Senior, 6-3, 6-2. G. C. Townsend and Bob Spencer teamed up for a second Nutley victory winning over Bob Holden and H. Fisher of Belleville, 6-4, 6-1. In the third and final doubles setto, the Downes-Crockett combination proved too much for Corbin D. Lewis and Ian Muro of Belleville, who lost in 6-4, 6-1 fashion.

PLAYGROUND ACTIVITIES

CAMP CARRAGHER

Well, here we are, with another group of boys, and what a group! Twenty-four real American boys ready for fight, fun or eats—especially eats. Here is the roster: Tent No. 1, Fred Barmore, Edward Thorne, Will Woodworth, John Crowley, Edward Woodworth, Bob Kingsley, Harold Meyer, and George Meyer.

Tent No. 2, Bob Rutan, Clarence Rutan, Arthur Nobili, Edward Lutz, Will Bade, Frank Cadiz, Walter Zeph and Richard Carangelo.

Tent No. 3, Tony Mustacchio, Sal Mustacchio, Bob Pucillo, Will Pucillo, Tony Pucillo, John Shury, Tom Hickman and Bob Little.

What a week we have had—lots of fun and pleasure. The boys played many games, especially ring levio, base ball, steal the flag and volleyball. They also enjoyed a few fishing trips.

While the chief interest of the director of the camp is centered on the boys, nevertheless we must not forget our friends in the Rotary Club who have supported us splendidly this week. Thank you, Rotary members, for making this week in camp a success.

On Friday night we held our camp fire. The boys presented a program of songs, music, stunts, and a cracker eating race. An audience of many people enjoyed the fun around the fire.

We like the eats at Camp Carragher because we all get the same and there is no partiality. On Wednesday and Friday the milk comes and we have cereal and milk. We had a fine time at the movies, Thursday, and when we came home went straight to bed. The eats are fine. I am sure the boys will say the same.

Yours truly,

FRED BARMORE.

I like camp because it takes me off the streets and it gives us an idea what outdoor life is. It gives us a change. We play many exciting games. We have good food and not the same thing every day. It gives us an opportunity to meet friends and enjoy fresh air.

WILLIAM BODE.

The boys of Camp Carragher have lots of fun in playing games, such as ring-a-levio, volleyball, and capture the flag. The best time to play is in the evening when the sun is down and all start to play. There is much excitement, especially in ring-a-levio when one gets licked, and there is hunting to be done.

TONY MUSTACCHIO.

We like Camp Carragher like we like ice cream. We have a lot of fun and camp life is work, fun and games. We sleep in second hand army tents and your should hear the noise.

ROBERT RUTAN.

SILVER LAKE PLAYGROUND

The main attractions at the Silver Lake Playground this past week were two baseball games with Friendly Playground and a pet show.

This past Tuesday the Silver Lake intermediate baseball team went to the Friendly grounds and decisively defeated the Friendly team to the tune of 13-4. J. Fuselli, T. Luciano, O. Vitello, T. Mobilio, J. Mange, E. Petito, and T. Snagnoli were the Silver Lake batting stars, each garnering two hits, while M. Russo and J. Goliata played well for the losers. Next Tuesday the third and deciding game of the series will be played.

On Wednesday a practice game between the junior teams of Friendly and Silver Lake was played and was won by the latter team by the score of 10-5. J. Pico, T. Cevigliano, J. Primavera, J. Alvino, J. Rossi, P. Barbana and P. Cerzo starred for the winners while Chandled, C. Francesere and Peterson played well for the losers.

On Friday afternoon, August 19, a pet show was held at these grounds. A large number of entrants and spectators were on hand for the event. A few of the entrants with their entries are as follows:

Arthur Pico, parrot; Millie Carbone, turtle; Joe Sica, chick and pigeon; Anthony Sylvestro, puppy; Florence Fuselli, puppy; Junior Bonavita, young goat; Mary Marra, poodle dog, Esther Grillo, kitten; Rose Procelli, kitten; Rose Natali, Kitten; Benny Schivo, pigeon; Evelyn Venezia, love birds; James Bocchino, poodle dog, Anna Marrone, white bunny, and Francis Tepe, black bunny.

E. C. BOOTAY.

FRIENDLY PLAYGROUND

Before a crowd of 165 we held our annual pet show, with the following winners: Concetta Scavone, largest animal, a white poodle dog; Bella Jaliota, a litter of five kittens, best aged for; Frank Garamela, mother and three kittens, complete family; John Venezia, smallest, a fish.

These were first award winners and received green ribbons.

Peter Galiota, most unique, a cat with part of a tail; Elmo Pascale, a pointer (bird dog) pedigreed animal; Al Ponolfi, a white rabbit, newest looking. These were second award winners and received red ribbons.

Mary Bocchino, a fish, bowl and sebbies, most colorful; Richard Genzerelli, a leech, most useful. These were third award winners and received blue ribbons.

Winning a double header by the scores of 10-6 and 7-2 after winning his day before 1-0, Friendly won the baseball series with the Newark School Stadium team, 4 games to 1. In the afternoon we beat Silver Lake in a regular game 6-0 and a practice game, 4-2.

Having obtained a sprinkler for showers our children are taking advantage of this twice a day.

Our glee club continues to be very popular with our playground.

On Friday we had a watermelon eating contest and in a field of twenty the smallest contestant, Vincent Del Pizz, beat them all in twenty-two seconds. This, our closing week, will be chuck full of events, namely, on Monday at 4 P. M., after choosing our Queen of the Mardi Gras, we will have a soap bubble race. On Tuesday, a handicraft and needle work contest. On Wednesday, at 8 P. M., we will have a lantern parade. On Thursday, at 4 P. M., a masquerade show. On Friday, at 4 P. M. the Glee Club will entertain and at 8 P. M. our closing party, cake and fruit punch made with the things the children bring themselves and following which the Queen will distribute some awards. All of Belleville is welcome to attend our grounds this week.

J. PETRUCCI, Director.

Racer.

WHEN Lou Moore, noted automobile race driver, rolled across the finish line at the famous Indianapolis Speedway in a Duesenberg car after averaging better than one hundred miles per hour for a continuous hour of driving, he concluded one of the most interesting speedway tests in automotive history. This run demonstrated conclusively that a racing car traveling at this extreme pace for such a long period could be lubricated successfully with a commercial mineral lubricant. The lubricating oil used was purchased by officials of the American Automobile Association from a Gulf Refining Company dealer, and is identical with the lubricant offered to motorists at 45,000 Gulf filling stations in the United States.

The run was timed and scored by Lee Oldfield, Chester S. Ricker and Charles C. Merz, officials of the A.A.A., subject to verification at Washington. The A.A.A. officials also supervised all conditions under which the test was conducted.

Moore, youthful holder of numerous records, including the Indianapolis track record for two-man cars, was highly gratified at the performance of his car throughout the terrific grind. His average speed for the 100 miles was 101.04 m.p.h. The average for the hour was 101.53. The last two laps were made at a speed of 103 m.p.h.

Mrs. John Strong, Sr.

The many Belleville friends of Detective Sergeant John Strong and Hubert Strong of Newark, condescend with them in the loss of their mother, who passed away August 10 at City Hospital, following an operation for intestinal trouble. Mrs. Strong had all her family at her bedside and before her operation had each member individually to counsel.

Each year she spent the summer season at Ashbury Park, but this year planned to attend the Eucharistic Congress in Ireland; but was dissuaded by her family owing to her condition. Mrs. Strong was well known and loved for her kindness and benevolence to people less fortunate.

Her funeral which was largely attended by people in all walks of life, and with an honor guard of policemen, took place from the home of her son, Detective Sergeant John Strong, Richelle terrace, Newark. Her five sons and a nephew acted as pall bearers. Following a solemn mass of requiem at the Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament, East Orange, interment took place in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery, of which her husband John Strong, Sr., is superintendent.

Mrs. Strong was born in Scotland, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McManus, and came to this country at fourteen, residing in Newark and vicinity fifty-four years.

Surviving Mrs. Strong are her husband, and sons John, Hubert, Charles and Gilbert, and a daughter, Miss Mary Strong, all of Newark, a daughter, Mrs. Ann Sterns of Orangeburg, N. Y., nine grandchildren; two sisters, Miss Agnes McManus and Mrs. Mary Murphy; two brothers, Patrick and Thomas McManus, all of Newark. Beautiful floral offerings, spiritual bouquets and messages of condolence were received.

known at the courts tomorrow morning. Any one entered in the tournament is welcome at the draw.

The singles play is expected to get under way at 2 tomorrow afternoon, and the doubles competition at 10 Sunday morning.

Dick Slauer and Corbin D. Lewis, the winner and runner-up respectively of last year's tourney, and Ray Smith and Billy Caldwell, finalists in the recent Clearman Field mid-summer tournament, are the first four seeded players in the singles. Others who may be seeded in the second four are H. Virtue, S. Summerfield, G. Anderten, D. Gauss and G. Plummer.

The Slauer-Summerfield doubles combination, last year's winners, and Campbell-Stanier, runners-up last year, are top-seeded in the doubles division. The doubles team of Plummer-MacMillan and Caldwell-Smith, who by their general play all season have shown themselves worthy of respect, are also seeded in the first four.

Highlights On The Tournament. It is rumored that Julius Pilard and Howard Virtue will team together in the doubles. Julius is trying to cancel a trip to Texas to make the tournament.

George Plummer and Gavin Mac Millan look like a dangerous team and will go far.

Corbin D. Lewis and Ian Munro will have to be seeded if they team together.

Although Dick Slauer looks like the favorite to again take the singles honors, there may be an up-set.

Ray Smith, George Anderten, Bill Caldwell and some of the other high school team members should make the semi-finals.

Sid Summerfield played a fine game against Nutley Sunday and may cause a surprise.

Bob Holden and his team mate are dark horses in the doubles.

Although the entry may not be as large as last year, the brand of tennis will be much better. Pull for your favorite player!

teries were Baldwin and Pillar for the Bears and Kraft and Shanahan for the Cleveland Street.

On Wednesday evening the Little Street Tigers defeated the Montclair Aces on the playground, 5-4.

Teams wishing to arrange indoor baseball games with the Stephen Street All Stars or the Cortland Street Bears can do so by seeing Peterson or Baldwin on No. 1 playground.

August 26 is the date which has been set as the closing event, a track meet, on No. 1 playground. Any one desiring to participate must give his name to the director during the week.

Elizabeth Gilbert, champion jacks player of No. 1 playground, visited the Recreation House playground and was defeated in a match with the champion jacks player of that playground.

Volley ball has also been added to the list of playground activities recently.

CLARK NAILED

In reference to Clark's statement, Commissioner Williams stated last week that he had persistently invited the town commissioners to visit his department and check up the functions of every employee and the expenses involved, but that no commissioners had accepted the invitation.

Williams further stated he had not seen Clark in the Town Hall during business hours once in two years, and that Clark, therefore, was not qualified intelligently to criticize the workings of any other department. Clark could not be reached yesterday for comment on that statement.

Williams said the proposals he will submit to the town economy survey commission will show in detail how a great saving can be effected without disturbing the efficiency of any department. He said it was up to every taxpayer in Belleville to attend the commission meetings to acquaint themselves with the present financial status of the town and to aid in strengthening it.

He also said he would be willing to accept the town managership for a period of six months without salary to prove that the amount he maintains can be saved, can be accomplished.

The board approved the funding of $250,000 in general improvement bonds and $40,000 in water bonds to mature at periods up to ten years. The offer of J. S. Rippel & Co. of Newark to purchase at 99 per cent of par $70,000 in general assessment bonds was accepted, this being part of Commissioner Williams' program started several months ago of refunding $616,000 of the town's temporary assessment indebtedness. The transaction will net no cash to the town.

YOUR TEETH
Their Relation to Your General HealthBy the Educational Committee of the American Dental Association

BE TRUE TO YOUR TEETH

Teeth are the keystones of health. "Be true to your teeth," goes the adage, "or they will be false to you."

And before you have that false set installed, you will be in danger of attack from all kinds of poor health that can be traced to poor teeth.

Cases of neuritis, defective vision, rheumatism, paralysis, heart trouble, indigestion and a general run-down condition are among the ailments that have been caused by defective teeth.

Sir William Osler, noted British scientist, states that "there is no one single thing in preventive medicine that equals mouth hygiene and the preservation of the teeth." Another noted authority is responsible for the statement that the health measures of physicians to prevent disease might be almost eliminated if the nation were kept in perfect condition from childhood on for a generation or two.

Yet at the present time there are enough cavities in the mouths of Americans to keep our 60,000 dentists busy for more than 100 years even though no new cavities form. It is estimated that more than 90 per cent of our children are handicapped by bad teeth.

How, then, can we get along without dentists? Today we cannot. But the dentists themselves say that our children could if they were fed carefully a selected diet and taught to use the toothbrush from the time they were old enough to hold one in their hands.

Most children have a heritage of good health. If they are also given a carefully planned course on how to benefit by that heritage, they will have sound bodies all through their lives. And sound teeth are the first prerequisite of a healthy body.

"Be true to your teeth, or they will be false to you."

(This newspaper will be glad to receive questions from readers about teeth, mouth hygiene or dental health. The questions will be answered authoritatively but anonymously by outstanding dentists selected by the American Dental Association. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.)

Brightons Win
A Double-Header
Sunday AfternoonDispose Of Ramblers For Sixteenth And Seventeenth Wins

The Brightons rung up a twin victory over the Brick Church Ramblers, 13-2, and 9-2, Sunday afternoon, at Belwood Park. The wins were their sixteenth and seventeenth of the season, and their fourth and fifth in consecutive fashion.

Herb Foster, Brighton ace hurler, twirled his fourth straight triumph in winning the first game. Though reached for ten safeties, he scattered them well, in addition to fanning eight of the Rambler swingers. Good support, both afield and at bat, aided Foster no little, Welsh's throwing to the bases from his catching position and a quartet of hits apiece by Bonny and Peacock were the main features.

The second game started out like a pitching duel, as Caruso of the Brightons and Spendlow of the Ramblers pitched shut-out ball for the first five innings.

The Brighton heavy hitters got to work in earnest in the final three innings, however, to score a trio of times in each canto to sew up the tilt. Delegro, with a double and single, and Dodd, with a pair of singles, did the most damage in this winning spurt. Caruso's four-hit pitching, was supported in fine style by the fielding of Peacock, Delegro, Parrillo and E. Caruso.

The Brightons will meet the Uptown Collegiates, Sunday, at 3 P. M.

MARATHON

now being paid at the rate of one dollar an hour and will continue to receive this amount until they are disqualified or drop out of the contest.

George Cole Popular

George Cole, member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars under whose auspices this affair is being held, local radio singer and former boxer, is becoming more popular every day, as a singer at the Walkathon. Mr. Cole, a baritone, sings both modern and old time songs. He is especially appreciated when he conducts group singing of old numbers. He renders the first verse of each song and then invites the audience to follow him in the chorus. His value as an entertainer is evident in the frequency of his appearances before the microphone on the master of ceremonies' stand.

Among the newly hired entertainers at the Walkathon is Woodrow Wilson, sixteen year old colored boy from Garfield. Woodrow is on the lists as a dancer and how he can dance. His specialty is tap dancing, in which he has on numerous occasions proved to be an artist.

Previous to his engagement by Mickey Thayer, managing director of the Walkathon, last Thursday, he appeared in various theaters and in night clubs in Atlantic City and Harlem.

Ames Sisters Also Popular. Another highlight in the week's performances, was the appearance of four of the five popular Ames sisters of Nutley, through the efforts of Bob Cole, local dancing instructor.

These girls, all blondes, are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Ames, of 203 Whitford avenue, Nutley, who conduct the Ames School of Dancing, in that town.

The girls, Dorothy, 17, Marquerite, 13, Mary Ella Louise, 12, and Barbara, 11 years old, are both tap and aerobic dancers. They are well trained and their poise, time and appearance during the rendering of a number, is perfect. A brother, Frank, age 6, who accompanied them in a number Wednesday night, has the makings of another fine dancer.

Another master of ceremonies and entertainer who is rapidly becoming popular, is the recently acquired Jimmy Daley of Hollywood. Jim gives one of the best imitations of the funny Will Mahoney dance. He is also quite a singer and can turn an audience inside out with his clever quips.

Coming Events. Among the special events scheduled to take place at the Walkathon, providing it lasts long enough is a birthday party for Ruth Wisner, one of the contestants, who will be twenty-four years old next Friday.

Another, is a second sitting contest. This affair will differ from the one now under way. The entrants will set on beer barrels instead of chairs and it will be called the "Hoover Depression Sitting Contest."
