Old Friends Honor Marco Di Giovanni Local Student To Receive Testimonial Dinner Sunday

A committee headed by Domenick Petronella of Newark has made final plans for a testimonial dinner to be given in honor of Marco Di Giovanni of Belleville, on Sunday, at the Hotel Riviera, Newark, upon the occasion of his becoming a Registered Pharmacist.

Mr. Di Giovanni graduated school from No. 3 in 1922 and in 1926, graduated from Belleville High School. He received Ph. G. and Ph. C. degrees at the Rutgers College of Pharmacy in 1931 and in June of this year became a Registered Pharmacist. He then took a two-months trip with his family to the Pacific coast and is now employed at the Essex Pharmacy in Belleville.

William Merz, proprietor of the Essex Pharmacy, will serve on the committee. Acting Recorder Everett B. Smith, a high school classmate of Mr. Di Giovanni, has also been selected to serve on the committee and will be the main speaker of the evening. Nicholas J. Colaninno, a local attorney, who is Mr. Di Giovanni's best friend will act as toastmaster. Other members of the committee are Salvatore M. Jordan, an attorney of Newark, Charles Giamio, Giuseppe Avanti, William Bonanno, Remaldo Camuso, Tomaso Caprio, Elia Colaninno, Luigi Daddone, Angelo Festa, Giuseppe Mari, Jack Pagano, Raffaele Patrone, Giuseppe Piscopiello and James Scandone.

Max Schwartz Named Chairman Locally Of Property Committee Home Owners Facing Loss Of Property Will Be Benefitted

Max M. Schwartz, lawyer, and member of the Citizen's Relief Committee, has accepted the appointment as chairman of the property committee in connection with Belleville's Relief work.

The Citizen's Relief Committee recommended the establishment of a service whereby home owners who were unemployed and facing difficulty in holding their properties could seek counsel and advice at no cost. Mr. Schwartz stated to Arthur H. Jones, Relief Administrator for Belleville, that as chairman of the property committee, he would be glad to have any member of the Citizen's Relief Committee direct such inquiries as were pertinent to this matter, to him, and he would be only too glad to render wholehearted cooperation.

Rehearsals Held For Theater Guild Play "Al Smith" To Appear Again On High School Stage

The "Al Smith" that we all remember from the Little Theater Guild's spring production of "First Night" will be at the high school November 19.

Bill Rachel, as he is better known to Belleville audiences, made a hit in his first appearance when he impersonated former Governor Alfred E. Smith.

We believe you will like Bill's performance just as well as the Guild's production "Cradle Snatchers," to be given November 19.

Make reservations now as the tickets are going fast. To assure good seats get in touch with Gordon Eskla, 8 Belmont street.

Service Bureau Aids A Helpless Widow

Recently a widow with five children was referred to the Community Service Bureau. At the time she lost her husband, the youngest child was a baby and the eldest was still in school. In her struggle to keep her home together her health broke and she no longer has any working ability. The only income was the earnings of the eldest daughter.

It was found that one of the other children is suffering from a chronic disease and medical treatment has been arranged. Part time work was secured for a boy outside of school hours. Application was made for state aid for the three minor children. The mother feels relieved and grateful to know there is a way whereby she can keep her home together and her children will be provided for until they are able to provide for themselves.

Drama Club Presents "Three Wise Fools" St. Peter's Players Will Give Broadway Show November 16

"Three Wise Fools" by Austin Strong, which was produced a few years ago on Broadway, will be presented by St. Peter's Dramatic Club of Belleville on the evening of November 16, in St. Peter's School Auditorium, under the direction of Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, and by special arrangement with Samuel French, of New York City.

Rehearsals are being held every Tuesday and Thursday in the school auditorium. William A. McGonigle, James A. Leonard and Joseph M. Lukowiak are characterizing the parts of the "Three Wise Fools." Miss Florence Taylor takes the leading lady's part and playing opposite her is William J. Brady. The remainder of the cast consists of Miss Dolly Ryder, and Messrs. Eugene Dacey, John Roberts, William J. Friel, Willis Macdonald, Leo McClinchy, John M. Macdonald and Nicholas J. Comiskey.

Miss Greta M. Kinnealy is chairman and Miss Agnes M. Jordan, secretary. Others on the committee are the Misses Dorothy Connelly, Marguerite Cogan, Kathryn Donahue, Maude Donnelly, Marguerite Marshall, Emily Marshall, Marguerite Mann, Mildred Mann, Cecilia McCabe, Teresa Sullivan and Mae Taylor, and Messrs. Nicholas J. Comiskey, Ambrose J. Cuklin, John Donnelly, Leo Hood, Leo McClinchy, John M. Macdonald, Widmer O'Brien, Matthew Roberts, James Sullivan, Thomas Spillane, and William J. Brady, ex officio.

V. F. W. Installs Officers

Herbert J. Scott, a charter member and one of the organizers of George A. Younginger Post, V. F. W., of Belleville, will be installed tonight as commander of the post. He was elected to succeed George A. Fitzsimmons. Installation ceremonies will be conducted by departmental officers.

Scott transferred his membership from the Belleville post in 1923 to organize and become first commander of Erie Railroad Post of Rutherford. He transferred back again a month ago. The Erie post will give him a farewell dinner November 14 at the Hollywood Club in New York. During the World War, Scott was a master engineer, junior grade, in the 13th Company, Railway Transportation. He has worked for the Erie Railroad seventeen years.

The other officers to be installed are: Senior vice commander, Dr. B. A. Jacobson; junior vice commander, Peter Torre; quartermaster, John Cannon; chaplain, Hugh Paterson; officer of the day, Edward Wirtz. An adjutant will be appointed by Scott.

Soho Hospital Cost Defended By King Former Freeholder Says Building Worth Every Dollar Spent

Former Freeholder Joseph King, chairman of the committee which supervised erection of the Isolation Hospital at Soho, in a series of talks last week in behalf of the Republican freeholder candidates, charged the Democrats with circulating "political bunk" in holding the building cost much more than it should have.

"As to construction," said Mr. King, "the hospital was built at the high peak of costs, but there was urgent need for the new institution, and we had to proceed. It was the policy of the board to utilize good construction material and thus save on maintenance costs."

"We called in experts to advise with the building committee, and were told by Dr. A. C. Richardson of Providence, R. I., one of the county's best known physicians specializing in contagious diseases, that the hospital is one of the best in the United States."

"The hospital was built so as to provide for additional wings in case of epidemics, and the power house was made capable of caring for these additions. I can assure the public, after a building experience of more than thirty years, that the freeholders have provided a hospital for contagious diseases which will meet with requirements for years to come and that a dollar's value was received for every dollar spent."

"I would remind those who made the loose charges of the Democrats that they are 'living in glass houses' and their stone-throwing will have rebounds. There was absolutely no waste in erection of the hospital, and this fact is well realized by physicians and others who have come into close contact with the fine work which has marked the career of the Board of Freeholders since they were entrusted with the management of our county institutions."

Dunworth Retires, Is Town's Oldest Letter Carrier

"Bill" Has Served 30 Years
—Hiked 85 Thousand
Miles

William Dunworth, 65, oldest Belleville mail carrier, lingered a little Wednesday afternoon while delivering his usual assortment of letters, advertising propaganda and bills along his route. He remarked:

"Born October 9, 1867. (No, not that I recollect that.) Appointed a mailman June 1, 1902, during Theodore Roosevelt's administration. Twenty years' work in Newark—over ten in Belleville. Not as much as a month lost because of sickness. More than 85,000 miles of hiking. Forty-second wedding anniversary last October 9. Time to retire."

That's what happened. After that last time around yesterday Dunworth completed thirty years and six months of service.

"I'm sorry to leave the service," the veteran said. "It was a pleasure working for Uncle Sam. It'll always be second nature for me to keep on walking, whatever I do now. One has to stop work some time. I'll keep a lot of memories."

"Laddie! Yes, he was a real mailman's friend."

Laddie, a police dog, died a month ago after being hit by an automobile and after accompanying Dunworth on his route morning and afternoon each day for two years and two months—except, the animal knew his human friend would not appear Sundays and so never showed up himself that day.

Williams Comments On Estimate Board Belleville Working Under Obsolete System, Says Commissioner

In response to a request from the News for a statement on the Board of School Estimate referendum, Commissioner William H. Williams said yesterday:

"After several discussions by the Board of Commissioners, at which times the board members unanimously agreed on the question of offering taxpayers an opportunity to vote on establishing a board of School Estimate, the County Election Board was requested to place the amendment on the ballot. At every conference, every member of the Board of Commissioners approved changing Belleville from operation under Article 7 as at present to operation under Article 6, and at no meeting did any member speak of any disadvantages."

"The taxpayers look to the Board of Commissioners for control of all expenses of the town, and many demand that economies be exercised by the Board of Commissioners on all town expenses. When our taxpayers realize that the major portion of all town costs are not within the control of the Board of Commissioners as I have pointed out in several reports, is it not reasonable that the elected representatives of the people should be given an opportunity to pass on the gross operating costs of all departments of the town? If the elected representatives of the people are to be entrusted with passing judgment on school costs exceeding $500,000, then, are they not unworthy of having all other town expenses entrusted to them?"

"The question of school costs rests at present solely between the taxpayers and the Board of Education. Whether the failure of over 95 percent of our voters to vote on school budgets in recent years is caused by lack of interest and lack of knowledge of school costs, or because of complete confidence in the various boards of education is difficult to answer, but one fact does stand out—less than 5 percent of the voters have voted on school budgets which have involved the operating costs, land costs and costs of buildings and stadium."

"Placing an amendment to create a Board of School Estimate on the ballot extends to property owners an opportunity to express an opinion and, to date, opinions expressed even by many do not appear to be based on how Belleville stands compared to practically every town in New Jersey of the size of Belleville and larger."

"Belleville operates at present under Article 7, under which the Board of Commissioners must supply, regardless of ability of the taxpayers, ability to absorb expenses, any sum approved by the voters in the school budget. Thirty-six people voted 'yes' on the 1932 school budget, which budget represented over 50 percent of the local town expenses (exclusive of county and state taxes)."

"Under Article 6, which can be adopted November 8, by a majority voting 'yes' on the amendment, no citizen loses a right to protest on any budget item. The individual items on the budget of the school board remain exclusively in the hands of the members of the Board of Education—only the gross figure of the budget of the Board of Education is open to review by the Board of School Estimate."

"With the exception of Hamilton Township in Mercer County, with 27,121 people, the Town of Belleville is the largest municipality in New Jersey under Article 7."

"Only 29 municipalities in the entire State of New Jersey, having a population over 10,000 have school districts under Article 7, similar to Belleville."

"Out of 52 cities, 51 are organized under Article 6 as proposed in the new amendment. Of the above 51 cities which believe Article 6 preferable, 34 are smaller than Belleville. Can the policy of these 51 cities be without merit?"

"Above figures are from the records of the Department of Municipal Accounting, issued December 31, 1930. These figures indicate that the great proportion of municipalities of New Jersey have found operation under Article 6 to be the best method, particularly so when towns attain the size of Belleville."

"From the political side, on which great stress seems to be laid, can it be possible that practically every large community in the State of New Jersey is not as interested in a good and efficient school system as free of

No Mention Made Of Appointing Recorder Application Made For Lum- ber Yard Near Bel- wood Park

No mention was made of appointment of a new recorder at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night. Although it has not yet been decided whether the power to appoint a successor to George A. Fitzsimmons, who was removed from office two weeks ago by Commissioner W. D. Clark, rests with Clark or with the board as a whole, the matter was not discussed.

A petition was received by the board favoring the appointment of Samuel Figuerelli. The petition was presented by William Robinson and bore 600 signatures, making a total of 2100 persons who have signified their desire to see Figuerelli back in office.

Le Roy Bunnell appeared before the board with a proposition to affect the redemption of approximately $100,000 in tax liens which the town has acquired through tax sales held during the past several years. Mr. Bunnell pointed out that he had been a resident of the town for 26 years and said that he believed that the commission on the liquidation should go to a local resident. The proposal was referred to Commissioner William H. Williams, director of revenue and finance, and to Town Attorney John B. Brown.

The board will confer with Belwood Park residents on an application to establish a lumber yard and erect buildings to cost $7,000 on the site of the bankrupt Durkin Lumber Co. in Belleville avenue at the Bloomfield line, adjacent to a residential section.

An offer was received from the Port Motors Company to repair the motor vehicles maintained by the town. They offered to do all work at reasonable prices and to accept 60 percent of the payment in deductions from their tax bill. They stressed the fact that they maintained the largest and best equipped shop in town for this kind of work and that their work has always proven satisfactory to large business and manufacturing companies and their officials.

Many Attend Rally Of First Ward Club Republican Candidates Praise Hoover Administration

More than 600 voters overflowed the Valley Hose House last Thursday night to hear speeches presented by a long list of Republican candidates at a mass meeting of the First Ward Republican Club.

"The large number of interested citizens that attended the rally," stated Edward J. Abramson, president of the organization, "is an excellent indication of the way the first ward vote will go next Tuesday."

Former Freeholder Joseph King, of Belleville, in the principal address, praised the Republican freeholders for their conduct while in office.

Thomas Hartman, former town chairman, in a short speech pointed out the benefits and profits derived from a strong, bonded organization.

The candidates who spoke were: Judge William H. Rawson, Philip Lindeman and Zenos G. Crane, freeholder candidates. Captain Louis Batchelor, who is seeking the office of sheriff, besides Myrtle Trube, Herman Blank, J. Mercer Burrell, Fred W. Fort Jr., Frank Calabrese and Alexander Waugh all candidates for the general assembly.

Mr. Abramson acted as toastmaster and chairman of the rally, while Wilfred Yudin, chairman of the ward was in charge of the entertainment.

Miss Blanche Davis, local girl, and radio singer rendered a few numbers, accompanying herself on a ukulele. The Belmont Quartet, Belleville's contribution to the list of "Mill Brothers" rivals, also sang.

BOMBS BOOM AS REPUBLICANS HOLD PRE-ELECTION RALLY

Barbour, Hartley And Chief White Eagle Address Large
Meeting To Rally G. O. P. Voters For Last Offensive
Of 1932 Campaign.

An enthusiastic throng of 800 gathered in the Elks club on Washington avenue Tuesday evening to hear prominent Republican candidates. Starting at 7:30, aerial bombs were set off near the building to attract the attention of the voters of Belleville.

Elmer Hyde, chairman, opened the meeting by reading a telegram from President Hoover which said in part, "Your meeting should be a call to arms to win this great battle." Representative Fred A. Hartley delivered a brief address in which he stated, "We are in a crisis today that equals that of any war-time period. Is there

"Clown's Dream" Is Comedy Sensation

Woman's Club Show Has Large Attendance On First Night

You can still see the much talked of "Dream of a Clown" at Belleville High School tonight. Last night the auditorium rang with laughter and the men, or "ladies" were certainly up to form, in more ways than one. The parts are all so good and all so funny that it is impossible to say which is the best. Of course ballet girls are always popular and when they are as good as the ones in the show they are worth coming to see.

The bridal party would do justice to any Fifth Avenue Church and the bride is a dream, or nightmare, according to your viewpoint. The groom is a mystery worth finding out about.

The Prince of Wales and both presidential candidates are to be present together with Madame Pierette and Madame Schumann-Heine. All nationalities are to be represented by capable actors and there will be plenty of surprises, enough to drive dull cares away.

All the parts are to be taken by men prominent in Belleville and last night's big success was due entirely to their ability as actors.

Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and Dr. James Irwin are the leading ladies. William Rachel as Mr. Fish, a lonesome young dandy, along with George Taggart as Miss Tartar, op-

C. D. A. Anniversary

Instead of the usual banquet with which Court Santa Maria, No. 61, Catholic Daughters of America intended to celebrate the twenty-sixth anniversary of their institution, a party will be held instead and for which plans are being formulated. The original committee will serve which includes Miss Florence Kelly, chairman; Miss Mae Doyle, secretary; Mrs. John Westlake, treasurer; Mrs. Teresa Salmon, printing and publicity; Mrs. Thomas MacNair, music; Mrs. George Hacker, decorations and publicity; Miss Elizabeth Cousins, ex officio. The talk by Father Kelly, which was scheduled for November 2, has been postponed to December 13 so that it will not conflict with any other affairs that all the members could not attend.

Installation of officers will be held the second meeting in November and the officers to be installed are: Grand Regent, Miss Elizabeth Cousins; Vice Grand Regent, Mrs. Thomas Lukowiak; Prophetess, Miss Regina Cogan; Monitor, Miss Grace Jordan; Historian, Miss Veronica Barnes; Financial Secretary, Miss Mae Doyle; Treasurer, Miss Agnes Doyle; Lecturer, Miss Florence Kelly; Trustees, Mrs. George Hacker and Mrs. Isaac Harker; Sentinel, Miss Betty Ford; Organist, Mrs. Albert Shickram.

The last Sunday in November the annual memorial services for the departed members will be held at St. Peter's Church.

Mrs. John Paxton is chairman of the card party under the auspices of St. Peter's Social Society which will be held tonight. A capable committee is assisting.

anyone so foolish as to charge that Hoover and the Republican party brought on the depression?"

Senator W. Warren Barbour made a flying visit to the rally. He predicted a Republican landslide in New Jersey on Tuesday. "Recovery cannot be otherwise than retarded if we change leadership at this time," he said. "It is unfair to blame the captain for the storm."

As Barbour left the hall, Elmer Hyde asked the crowd to remain as many other candidates were to speak. A note of humor was introduced at this time when the orchestra struck up a popular tune. Opinion was divided as to whether they were playing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" for Senator Barbour or "We Won't Get Home Until Morning" in reference to the chairman's request.

The feature of the evening was a speech by Chief White Eagle, an Indian from Arizona. "I'm a real American," said the Chief. "My grandfather was a soldier, my father was a soldier in the Civil War, and I am a soldier."

"I'm a Republican because I'm an American. Hey! Whoopie!" the chief-tan roared. "I was born under a maple tree July 4, 1865. My mother nursed me on her left breast and a bear on her right, which doesn't make me half 'bear,' but you'll excuse me if I do what I wouldn't before a Boston tea party, remove my outer garment." He juggled his 250 pounds out of headgear and robes, and went on:

"I'm one of fourteen children and I sent 21,000 men to the last war. I'm talking for the stability of this country, the protection of the American home and the engineering and industry which depends on the party that built it from its foundation. I was in Cokey's army during Cleveland's administration. People aren't starving now."

"This depression is the handwork of God, administered in twenty-year cycles, and the reins have been handled very steadily this time, not as under Cleveland when I closed up a $20,000 business in Sioux City, Iowa."

Donald B. Partridge, a U. S. Representative from Maine stated that the Democratic majority in Maine in the state elections was due to internal conditions and that the Pine Tree state would return an overwhelming majority for Hoover next week.

County Clerk John Scott and many other local candidates addressed the gathering. Mrs. Marion Stager's singing was appreciated by all.

Merchants Commence Membership Drive

Offensive Launched To Enforce Laws Against Peddlers

A large and enthusiastic group of Belleville merchants attended the meeting of the Merchants Association at the Town Hall Tuesday evening. The nomination of officers was postponed for an indefinite period.

A drive for new members was started under the leadership of A. A. Karlin, who is chairman of the membership committee. The association is very anxious to get the cooperation of every merchant in town to join in the fight to keep business in Belleville. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, November 15, and every local merchant and all those in sympathy with the movement are urged to attend.

A vigorous campaign is being launched against outsiders who are doing business in Belleville. Merchants from out of town hire a store for a few days and take business away from local merchants by means of sales of cheap goods. The association is trying to keep these fly-by-night dealers from taking legitimate business from local merchants.

A committee, headed by Bernard Shargel, was appointed to confer with Police Chief Michael Flynn on the enforcement of the laws against peddlers. Many unlicensed peddlers are now doing business in town.

Woman's Club Notes

The Woman's Club will hold a card party in the club house Monday at 2:30 P. M. The hostesses are Mrs. W. V. Irvine, Mrs. A. W. Clark, Mrs. H. V. Hardman, Mrs. Raymond Mertz, and Mrs. W. A. Rachel.

The chorus will practice Wednesday at 10 A. M., instead of Tuesday which is Election Day. A large attendance is requested as new music will be taken up.

All members are requested to attend the conference at the 7th and 8th districts at the Upper Montclair club at 200 Cooper avenue Thursday. The morning session will begin at 10:30 and the afternoon at 2:00. Reservations for luncheon must be made before November 7, to Mrs. E. J. Mutch of 350 Joramole street.

The president, Mrs. Charles S. Smith, was a luncheon guest of the Half Hour reading club yesterday at the home of Mrs. G. W. Myer of Glen Ridge. Next Friday there will be a meeting of the board of directors at 2:30 P. M. and a meeting of the trustees at 1:30.

Harrison Man Accused Of Topsy Driving After Crash

Joseph Lotko, 32, of 221 North Second street, Harrison, charged with drunken driving in town early Monday, was held in $225 bail for arraignment before Acting Recorder Smith. Lotko was arrested sitting at the wheel of his car in Valley street south of Rutgers street.

The right front tire of his machine had been picked up in Union avenue near Joramole street, connecting him with an accident in which a car had been driven into two autos parked in front of 297 Joramole street.

According to Patrolmen McArt and Slater, who arrested Lotko, he admitted he had been driving and had "hit something," he didn't remember what. He was declared unfit to drive by Town Physician H. B. Vail.

J. A. B. Notes

The J. A. B. Girls held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Celeste Wells of Jersey City last Friday. Cards were played and awards made for high score. For the Halloween festivities the club attended a dance given by the V. F. W. of Bloomfield. Instead of the usual business meeting the club will hold a theatre party today.

Those present at the last meeting were: Mrs. Anna Ross, Mrs. Catherine Macdonald, Mrs. Eva Starre, Miss Alice Wilkins, Mrs. Gréta June and Mrs. Adele Sullivan.

At College Party

Ina-Belle Collins, of Belleville, acted as head seerss, assisted by Betty Dougherty, Mystic, Conn., and Ruth Howes, Haverhill, at Boston University's Halloween Party Saturday.

Dorothy Dickinson of Providence, R. I., tap danced and Doris Ruth, Rutherford, crooned a few selections. Apple-bobbing, a Halloween skit, and general dancing completed the entertainments. Cider and doughnuts were served. Eleanor Heath, Hudson Falls, N. Y., was chairman of the committee in charge of the party, assisted by Ruth Howes, Louise Devine, Auburn, Me.; Margaret Moody, Turners Falls.

Shower For Marion Bell

Miss Marion Bell of 172 Argyle Place, Arlington was guest of honor on Saturday at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Edna Baum of 61 Ralph street, Belleville.

The decorations were yellow and green. The gifts were in the living room in the center of the floor with a large sprinkling can made of yellow and green crepe paper hanging down from the chandelier. The table center piece was a large umbrella made of yellow and green crepe paper.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baum, daughter Mabel, and son Henry Baum, who is the fiancé of Marion Bell. From Arlington-Pollack Chief and Mrs. Philip Bell, and son Philip, Miss Ada Bell, Mrs. J. Captain and Mrs. Neil Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Wolf, Mrs. Perry and daughters Janice and Lila and Miss Elsa Eckloff. From New Brunswick—Mr. and Mrs. J. Guise. From New York—Mrs. H. Clodious and daughter Hazel.

Harry W. Franklin, of 42 Rossmore place, is a student in the department of chemical engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, New York.

Miss Marion Van Demark of 51 Stephens street gave a Halloween party Saturday night for her bridge club. High scores were made by Miss Dorothy Moffett of town and August Sturm of South Orange. Others present were Mrs. Sturm, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fink of Bloomfield and Rudolph Ruff and Edwin Van Demark.

Belleville Chapter, O. E. S. observed master Mason's night last night. Group No. 3 of the ways and means committee, under direction of Mrs. Madeline Vosburgh, will hold a luncheon at Kopper's Seaboard Coke Building, Kearny, this afternoon. Buses will leave the Town Hall at 12:30.

"Immunization from Diphtheria" was the subject of a talk by Health Officer Eugene T. Berry before the Home and School Association of the Home No. 1 Tuesday night. Miss Mary Miller, child hygiene nurse, also spoke. A play, "The Discovery," was given by the seventh grade class.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Shea of 119 Mt. Prospect avenue will entertain at bridge tomorrow night. The guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Morris Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. John Cannon and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bono of Rockaway, and Mrs. Jack Anderson of Belleville.

The Tuesday Reading Club met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. C. Leverich Brett of 119 Heller Parkway, Newark. Mrs. A. Newton Streeter discussed "Superstitions and Legends," and Mrs. John De Graw of Montague read a paper on "Acoma, the Sky City." Readings from Dunn's True Indian Stories were given by Mrs. Brett. Mrs. Charles G. Jones of 133 Academy street will entertain the group at the next meeting.

Republican and Democratic friends of the Belleville Elks have been invited to attend an elephant and donkey party election night at the auditorium, where election returns will be announced. There will be dancing. There will be no admission charge. Joseph Reilly and H. J. Kavanaugh head the committee.

Bethany Guild of Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church held a Halloween social at the Recreation House Tuesday night. Mrs. Rudolph Luhrs, president of the guild, dressed as a sailor, and Mrs. Joseph Jordan, in a period gown, won awards for the funniest and prettiest costumes, respectively. The committee comprised Mrs. Charles Watson, Mrs. Frank Manning, Mrs. R. A. Finn and Mrs. Jordan.

Halloween Party

Stanley and Janice Whetstone of 32 Oak street, entertained at a Halloween party last Friday. Those present were: Ellspeth Muir, Jean McLaren, Shirley Clark, Elizabeth, Catherine and Helen Walsh, Earl and Arlene Eichhorn, Buddy Bunnell and Douglas Baird.

Oweno Club Gives Party

A Halloween bridge party was held at the home of Miss Viola Wiese of 97 DeWitt avenue by members of the Oweno Club, of which Miss Wiese is the president, on Saturday, October 29. Those present were: The Misses Elizabeth Cullen, Margaret McGuire, Helen Price, Alice Sullivan of Belleville, Virginia Scully of Orange, and the Messrs. Andrew Monaghan, Jeter Fitzpatrick, William Strassburger, William Cullen of Belleville, George Baumann of Irvington, and George Henderson of Orange. High scores were made by Miss McGuire and Mr. Cullen.

Fireman Cullen Hurt

When Truck Runs Over His Arm

Accident Occurred At Main And Rutgers Streets Last Week

A veteran fire fighter, Captain William Cullen of the William street fire house, suffered severe injury of his right hand last week when he slipped and fell as he jumped from moving apparatus. The right rear wheel of the apparatus ran over his arm. He was treated by Dr. Edward A. Flynn and taken in the police ambulance by Patrolman Demarg at St. Vincent's Hospital, Montclair.

The accident was at Main and Rutgers streets as firemen responded to a blaze of undetermined origin in a second floor bed room at 163 Main street, two doors south of the old Dutch Reformed Church. The firemen extinguished it in an hour, preventing the flames from spreading to other rooms or the roof.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Troop 8 held a Halloween party on Tuesday evening in the cellar of the home of their captain, Miss Florence Kelly. Decorations were in orange and black, the principal feature being a witches cave containing the remains of many of her victims. The girls gained admission to the cave by means of the back cellar door. They had to pass through several chambers of horror before they were finally admitted to the place of the graveyard.

The committee in charge consisted of Grace Jensen, Ethel Dixon, Marion Malcolm, Eleanor Mooney, Loretta Zeitler, Dorothy Hearn and Mildred Monahan. Three of the patrols entertained with short skits. Awards were made to Loretta Zeitler, Ruth Engel, and Irma Maguire. Fifty-two girls were present and each girl brought a can of food which is to be donated to the poor.

The Lily of the Valley patrol held a Halloween party Friday evening at the home of Ruth Tracy. Those present were Gladys Reyle, Irma Maguire, Helen McCann, Ruth Tracy, Mary Hainman, Marjorie Connolly, Laura Reszinski, Marion Malcolm and Eleanor Zeitler.

The troop has planned a hike to South Mountain Reservation November 12, which will be conducted by Dorothy Frendergast and Marjorie Lister. At the last troop meeting it was decided not to admit any more girls to the troop until further notice, because of the present large size of the troop.

The Girl Scout Council met at the Recreation House, Monday afternoon, Mrs. William Adams, commissioner, presiding. Miss Sylvia Blasco, director of the Girl Scouts of the Oranges, spoke on "Relationship of Mothers to Girl Scouting." Mrs. Walter Warrick and Mrs. Raymond Dixon served tea. Among those present were Mrs. Harvey Thompson, Mrs. William Kant, Mrs. Homer Zink, Mrs. Frank Ackerman, Mrs. Stanley Gibson, Miss Charlotte Holden and Mrs. May T. Holden, director of Belleville Girl Scouts.

The judges of the window display contest, Mrs. W. H. Stone, Mrs. Taggart, and Mrs. F. P. Brohal, members of the Woman's Club, have announced the winners as follows: first award, Troop 7, for their window entitled "A Bushel of Learning;" second award, Troop 4, whose display was "International Peace through Girl Scouting;" third award, Troop 8, for their window "Ideal Summer Camp;" fourth award, Troop 6, "Follow the Glean of Girl Scouting."

The members of Troop 3 entertained their friends at a Halloween party Tuesday. The Rev. Edgar M. Compton visited the party, which was held in Wesley Church, for a short while. Costume awards were won by Gertrude Godleskie, prettiest; Elsie Ward, most original; Lovera Walter, funniest. Refreshments were served by the committee, Alice Strick, Jessie Redden and Adeline Walsh. The Troop donated canned food and supplies for the needy, instead of admission.

Troop 4 gave a Halloween party Tuesday at Christ Church. Games were played and a "chamber of horrors" was arranged that was blood-curdling and horrible to the proper degree. Refreshment were served by Jane Dixon, Jane Warrick and Margaret Soleau. Costume awards were Phyllis Ames, prettiest, and Peggy Pelz, funniest. Miss Charlotte Holden.

Troop 7 held their Halloween party at Grace Church last Thursday. Each girl donated canned food for welfare work.

Costume awards were Shirley Sheller and a friend, funniest, and Estelle DeLarvey, prettiest. An entertaining program was rendered by the following girls: Alice Nordeck and her patrol, Bernice Ehrlich, Dolores Sauvan, Margaret Hyde, Judith Hyde, Betty Sharp, Margaret Findley, Janet Smith, Bertha Sauvan, Bernice Becker and Elizabeth McManus and sister. Each girl acted out the character she impersonated in her costume. Class work will be resumed at the next meeting.

Last Thursday evening Troop 9 entertained friends at the home of Lieutenant Edna Baum on Ralph street. Games were played and stories were told around a large bon-fire in the yard. Among those present were Evelyn and Julia May, Lillian and Josephine Lutz, Virginia Mitchner, Margaret Roberts, Mildred Petersen.

Ella Hughes, Carol Conklin, Margaret McLaughlin, Ethel Hatzel, Catherine and Ruth Wood, Dorothy Codner, Rita Bitz, Julia Jeffers, Regina and Marion Bartholemew, Mabel Baum, Edith Vogel, Mildred Bashford and Grace Steward. Awards were won by Margaret McLaughlin and Grace Steward.

The members of Troop 10 held a Halloween party at School No. 10 last Thursday, with the girls of the fifth grade as guests. Games and

Public Question
FREE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

YES

Shall the Town of Belleville adopt, and be governed by the provisions of Article Six of an Act entitled: "An Act to establish a thorough and efficient system of free public schools and to provide for the maintenance, support and management thereof?" Approved October 19, 1903, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto."

The passing of this Referendum will change the Belleville school system from a system operated under ARTICLE SEVEN to one operated under ARTICLE SIX.

Under ARTICLE SEVEN (Under which we are now operating):

1. The Board of Education makes up an annual school budget which is PRESENTED TO THE PEOPLE, WHO HAVE THE PRIVILEGE OF VOTING ON IT. The budget is not effective unless it receives a majority of the votes cast.
2. No land may be acquired or building program may be carried on by the Board of Education WITHOUT PLACING IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE FOR A VOTE.

Through your vote, you have the power of controlling the Board of Education's expenditures.

If this Referendum is passed:

Under ARTICLE SIX—

1. The school budget shall be made up by a Town Board of School Estimate, which is to be composed of TWO MEMBERS of the Board of Education, TWO COMMISSIONERS, AND THE MAYOR. (THREE COMMISSIONERS). When the budget is approved by that Board, it becomes effective.
2. Under proposed ARTICLE SIX, the people DO NOT have the privilege of voting on the school budget.
3. Under proposed ARTICLE SIX, the Board of Estimate may acquire land, or vote to construct a new school. THEIR WORD IS FINAL. You DO NOT have any VOTE on the matter.

Vote "NO" if you wish to continue your present good school system.
BE SURE AND GO TO THE BOTTOM OF THE BALLOT AND VOTE NO ON THE PUBLIC QUESTION.

OUR FIREMEN AND SANTA

FOR the past several years it has been our privilege and our pleasure to cooperate with the Fire Department in their very splendid endeavors at Christmas time.

These men each year collect, recondition and distribute hundreds of toys to youngsters who otherwise would have every right to believe that Santa Claus was a fake or certainly partial.

Far into the nights, on their day off; Saturdays and Sundays and holidays, these men, fired with an enthusiasm that knows no bounds toil ceaselessly and happily, rebuilding and painting and repairing toys, that to you and to me would at first appear worthless but which under their skillful handling become toys that are usually better than they were when they first gladdened the hearts of youngsters.

Far into those toys has gone the love and the pleasure and the anticipated joy of helping, that is the driving force behind these firemen of ours. Belleville has every reason to be proud of these men. There is no finer body of public employees in this or any other community.

They deserve your help. They need paint and lacquer (in light colors). They need nails and screws and glue and such things.

We urge the merchants to do as they have done in years gone by and to see that they are supplied—but you are the ones most needed. Look now and collect the toys and the wagons and the sleds and the dolls, the carriages, the drums, and tables and chairs and all those things that your children have grown tired of. Never mind if the wig's loose on Mary's sweet face or the rung of the chair is broken. Never mind if the wheel on Jimmie's wagon has gone where wheels have a habit of going. It doesn't matter if the toys are dingy and black and without paint. All those things can be repaired and made over and fixed—and then on Christmas day will be presented to some little youngster who without your help would have been discouraged and disappointed and saddened by the apparent neglect of Santa Claus.

If you can't take them to Fire Headquarters at Division and Washington avenues—call there—Belleville 2-1500 and they'll collect them and give you their thanks—and then some day after the first of December walk down and see the really wonderful work these men do.

Please don't delay—the time is short—they need your help—get out the old toys—today, and then call them up—and then on Christmas day you'll have the satisfaction that comes to those who have gladdened the hearts of those less fortunate than themselves.

The need was never more urgent. The duty never more clear—the time never more opportune—GET OUT THOSE OLD TOYS TODAY.

BURNING LEAVES

AN appeal has been made to the people of Belleville to refrain from burning leaves in the streets of the town. Bon-fires, although small, destroy the pavements and cause repair bills to the town, which, as everyone knows, results in higher taxes. Commissioner W. D. Clark, director of public safety, warns that there are ordinances against street bon-fires, and, although he has been lenient so far, he will have to enforce the law if wanton destruction of pavements continues.

LOWER RAILROAD FARES?

THE suggestion of the Commerce Commission that the railroads reduce passenger fares in an effort to recover lost business seems so obviously the only thing to do that the chief wonder is why it has not been done long ago.

For years before the depression set in the railroads had been steadily losing passenger business. For the country, as a whole, they carried fewer passengers in 1929 than in 1905. Offering practically no improvement in speed, comfort or convenience, they had doubled and trebled their rates of fare, especially for commuters, in the face of the steadily mounting competition of the bus and privately owned automobiles.

During the past several years they have continued to haul half empty trains back and forth, when any reasonable return to a rate of fare at all comparable to prices for everything else would probably have filled the trains to capacity.

Every other business in the world meets competition with better service or lower price. The railroads have offered neither one nor the other. It is true they have been handicapped by regulations which placed a large proportion of their operating costs partly, or wholly, beyond their control. But it is a fair criticism of the railroads to say that in the past 25 years they have devoted almost every improvement in railroading to handling freight rather than passenger traffic.

With highways congested as they are today a large part of this lost passenger business can be recovered. It is up to the railroads.

COMING TO AMERICA

A FEW paintings are so famous that any news about them is interesting. Among these must certainly be ranked Whistler's portrait of his mother, made familiar by countless photographs to most Americans who have never visited the Louvre.

The announcement that the Paris gallery is to lend the picture to the Museum of Modern Art in New York is bound to rouse widespread interest. When it comes, and as long as it hangs in the metropolis, there will be many local people who will make that long postponed visit to the New York Museum of Modern Art.

MODERN HORSEMEN

THE rodeo entered New York recently, and a strange sight was to be seen—cowboys dragging their horses behind them. The star bronco busters, not whooping it up, sat back on plush cushions in automobiles. While their horses rode behind, in trailers.

But the idea isn't exclusive. In Montana, foresters now are making their rounds in automobiles, rather than on horseback, but they, also, are taking their animals with them in trailers. When the going gets too bad for the machine, the doughty ranger mounts his horse. This is a far-cry from the old days, but after all, it is up-to-date.

And That's Something

Dividends on fertilizer and better crops paid for at a cost averaging fifty per cent below the national average are good returns on any investment in any day, and mixed fertilizers are continuing these dividends today. According to a statement issued by The American Agricultural Chemical Company, fertilized cotton can be grown at costs as low as 5 cents a pound, while the national average is 16 cents; fertilized wheat costs run as low as 55 cents a bushel while the average was $1.00 in 1930. The average cost of fertilized corn is 40 cents a bushel, compared with a national average of 73 cents; and fertilized potatoes were ten cents below the national average. Actual cost records are showing that the adequate use of high grade fertilizer spells the difference between profit and loss.

AID THE CANVASSERS

A NUMBER of unselfish people are aiding greatly in the Community Chest drive by giving their services without recompense to serve as house-to-house canvassers. With such an example of service to the community before them, Belleville people should be glad to assist to the best of their ability with donations.

Remember, the need this year is greater than ever before and a great many of those who gave freely in the past are unable to contribute. Those of us who are fortunate enough to be able to aid our fellow-townsmen should adopt the war-time slogan, "Give 'til it Hurts." Those aiding in this worthy cause will be amply repaid in seeing the hungry fed, the homeless sheltered, and the ragged clothed.

HIGHWAY ILLUMINATION

IN Holland a new principle of lighting highways is being developed. The lights are placed close to the pavement and insulated lamps are used containing a mixture of sodium and neon gas which emits a monochromatic glow. They are said to be very efficient and entirely practical. When they are used motorists do not need headlights on their cars. This eliminates one of the greatest dangers of night driving.

Ordinary electric lights used for highway illumination are expensive. The Dutch light is not. Experiments are now being conducted in this country along the same line. It is probable that eventually some such method as the Dutch are now employing may be generally used.

Highway illumination where the traffic is great is bound to be demanded eventually everywhere. Glaring headlights cause many accidents. The time is not far distant when their use can be restricted because provision will be made for some method of general illumination such as has been devised in Holland.

PROLONGING LIFE

SCIENTISTS and others continue their interest in the problem of prolonging life. Their researches in disease prevention, hygiene and the like have measurably lengthened the average life span. But we still seek Ponce's fountain in the laboratory.

The strange thing about the matter is that, no difference how entrancing the promises of the prophets may be concerning a future life, and no matter how glowing their descriptions of unending felicity beyond the grave, no one willingly and honestly wants to enter upon the great adventure of death! All normal human creatures desire to live as long as possible. We cling instinctively, passionately, to the things we have come to regard as real. We seem never to be able to learn that possibly reality is very different from anything we know.

We breathe, we feel, we see. The sun and the birds and the winds are our comrades and friends. There is beauty in the waving fields, the beckoning foliage, the multiplied tones of color—there is music in the waters and in the sombre pine boughs. To city dwellers even the harsh dissonances at length become tuneful. Everywhere there is expression of life, beloved life. So we seek every possible means to prolong the existence that we know.

All this is natural, but while nothing dies, all things change. And anyhow, scientific speculation or individual yearning to the contrary, nothing startling seems to be done about it. Even Methuselah was finally gathered to his fathers, and he probably was quite as reluctant to go when his time came as he would have been at any period of his extended career.

LETTER POSTAGE

IN spite of all protests Congress insisted on increasing the rate on first class mail from two to three cents. Postmaster General Brown, having been advised by men connected with the postal service for many years as to what would be likely to happen, proposed to Congress that instead of making the postage three cents per ounce on letter mail it be fixed at two and a half cents. His claim was that the majority of the people would look upon the increase to three cents as being too big a jump and that the postal department would lose money by making the change instead of gaining something to meet the annual deficit.

The three cent rate has proven entirely unsatisfactory and the Postmaster General now proposes that it be changed back to two cents. Three cents is more than the traffic will bear. The public has been resorting to the use of postal cards, costing one cent for advertising purposes and for brief and non-confidential communications instead of buying three cent stamps for first class mail.

In reality there is only one way to adjust postal rates. It is a subject which should first be given careful study by trained postal employees and changes should only be made if determined they are absolutely necessary. Congress makes these changes in a "hit or miss style." It has repeatedly changed the rate on second class mail matter and such changes have generally resulted in the government losing revenue instead of increasing it. Rates affecting the parcel post should be subjected to a scientific investigation and changes only made when recommended by experienced men. This is not the way Congress does business and in consequence the postoffice department is always subjected to changes which materially affects its operation.

And why must I stay home tonight
And why must I behave
When my ambition is to be
A dusky Arab's slave?

The barren wastes of desert sand,
The star decked sky above;
Within the shadow of a tent—
A man, a girl and love.

And in the dawn he'd ride away,
(Farewell sleek head and trim);
And all my life I'd search in vain
For someone just like him.

But hubby barks, "Stay home to-night!"
And hubby howls, "Behave!"
Aw heck, I'd give the world to be
A dusky Arab's slave.

The Ridgewood News agrees with the Hasbrouck Heights Observer in deploring the vast sums spent on political propaganda.

"The public is now being regaled with the news, says the Hasbrouck Heights Observer, that $10,000,000 will have to be raised to conduct the Hoover-Roosevelt battle for the presidency. In 1928 the two parties spent a total of $16,500,000.

"When the politicians of both parties are telling how much money it will take to care for the needy people this winter, it looks like an economic crime to raise $10,000,000 to be spent by the two parties largely in blackguarding opposing candidates.

"Let both parties, if they are sincere in their advertised desires to help the needy, donate their millions of campaign funds for relief work this winter, and let the people vote in a normal manner for their political choice, free from the high-pressure influence of a $10,000,000 slush fund." The Independent Press (Bloomfield) approves better numbering of houses:

"The unemployed in a couple of nearby towns have been put to work painting street names and house numbers on the curbstones throughout those municipalities. This is a very useful location for both the names and the numbers because automobile headlights do not shine high enough for the average street signs to be distinguishable at night and house numbers can seldom be seen without stopping the car and mounting some one's front steps. If unem-played workmen here have any time at their disposal this winter, we commend this idea for use in Bloomfield on all streets that are improved with curbing."

DESDEMONA HAWKINS

The WHITE RAT of Hawkins Hall

By Alice Mary Kimball and Mary Alden Hopkins

THE STORY THUS FAR

Great-grandfather Hawkins, the widowed Mrs. Hawkins, and her children—Jack, fourteen; Ted, eight; and Nancy, twelve—live in old Hawkins Hall, Bert, the oldest son, a medical student, brings the family Desdemona, a white rat from his nutrition laboratory. Desdemona and her mate, Ethel, whom Bert sent later, raise a family of light rats. The children try to forget their sorrow by taking her children to Junior High school for an experiment Miss Marsh, the biology teacher, has planned. One group of rats is called the Sniffy Whiskers, the other, the Pink Tails.

Aunt Helen, Mrs. Hawkins' sister, is sick and laetie, her baby, comes to live at Hawkins Hall. "The doctor says Nancy will make a splendid nurse."

Desdemona returns suddenly. She has been with a family of dark rats living in the walls of the house. She describes her adventure in a letter to Paistaff, her brother in Bert's college laboratory. A few days later, Paistaff's reply comes. "Miss Marsh's class continues to get letters from Paistaff to Desdemona."

Jack watches the rat feeding experiment at school, and learns. He begins to eat properly and gains in weight. The manner of the rat feeding field tells him if he keeps on improving there will be a job for him.

A neighbor, the "old woman," Mrs. Farrell, is going to China and asks Mrs. Hawkins to take care of her small twin boys for the summer, while she is away.

—XIII—

CHAPTER SIX

The pupils in the biology class were interested in this evaporated milk that changed skinny, unpleasant white rats into plump creatures.

Miss Marsh could not answer all their questions. So she asked Mr. Thompson, the chemistry teacher, to explain how evaporated milk is prepared. He came into the room, one day bringing some pictures of machinery to show how the milk gets into the can.

"If you could boil down two quarts of milk until it was one quart, you would have a milk of almost the same composition as evaporated milk," he told them, "but it would take hours to do it, and there would be a great loss in nutritive value."

"Why?" asked Nancy skeptically. "Because heating in an open vessel would destroy some of the vitamins. This evaporated milk which you have been feeding your pets was evaporated in a vacuum."

The boys who were interested in machinery wanted to know how that was managed. Mr. Thompson showed them the first of his large charts. It was the picture of what he called a "vacuum pan" although it looked more like a tank than a pan.

"The milk kettle is so enclosed that all, or nearly all, of the air can be pumped out, thus producing a vacuum. The reason for this is simple. Milk or anything else can be boiled at a lower temperature when the pressure of the air is lessened. You have heard, haven't you, that water will boil in the rarefied air on a high mountain top at 200 degrees Fahrenheit, while at sea level it must be heated to 212 degrees Fahrenheit before it will bubble."

The children had all heard this. That made it easier to understand that when milk is pumped into an airtight tank called a vacuum pan and the air drawn out of the space above the milk, leaving a vacuum, the milk will boil at a low temperature. The way Mr. Thompson put it was this:

"With the air pressure removed from the surface of the milk, the liquid will boil vigorously at 130 degrees Fahrenheit. That is only 32 degrees above the temperature of the body. The water that is part of the milk changes into steam which is carried away. When the milk has lost its steam half its water content, it is drawn off. The advantage of boiling milk at this low temperature is two-fold. Not only does it avoid coagulating and scorching, but the vitamins are preserved."

Mr. Thompson did not have to talk about the importance of vitamins in food, for every member of the class knew about them. So he went on to tell them about "homogenizing" the milk after evaporation has taken place.

"Homogenizing milk is breaking up the fat globules which are in the milk. The spray atomizer, which you use to spray a sore throat or to scatter perfume through the room, is a sort of homogenizer. It breaks up the drops of liquid into a fine mist. The milk homogenizer is a huge machine beside the atomizer, but it works somewhat the same way. The freshly evaporated milk is forced under heavy pressure through tiny apertures. These openings are so small and the pressure so heavy, that the fat globules are broken into very much smaller particles."

"This homogenizing of evaporated milk makes it more readily digested. That is one reason why it is such a good food for babies. The homogenizing also keeps the cream in the milk from rising to the top. You never find a cream line when you open a can."

Mr. Thompson had with him a microscope, and the pupils looked through the microscope at two drops of milk; one raw milk and the other evaporated milk. They could see the difference in the size of the fat globules.

"After the milk has been evaporated in the vacuum pan and homogenized, it is ready to be canned. The bright tin cans are completely closed except for a very small hole in the top. They are placed in a filling machine which measures the amount of milk that flows in through small tubes not much larger than the lead in a pencil. A can always contains just the amount of milk that the label states it holds, thanks to the accuracy of this filling machine. After the correct amount of milk has been poured into the can, the small hole is immediately closed with a drop of solder."

"Finally the cans are packed into a great steel tank called the sterilizer, where they remain for fifteen minutes at a temperature raised to about 240 degrees Fahrenheit. After a steam bath like that no harmful germ could possibly be present."

"The heat not only destroys bacteria which might cause the milk to sour, but it also renders the curd-forming substance easier to digest. This sterilization is what gives evaporated milk its distinctive flavor. Whenever you recognize this flavor, you can be sure that the milk has been sterilized and that no bacteria are not."

"The children had all heard this. That made it easier to understand that when milk is pumped into an airtight tank called a vacuum pan and the air drawn out of the space above the milk, leaving a vacuum, the milk will boil at a low temperature. The way Mr. Thompson put it was this:

"With the air pressure removed from the surface of the milk, the liquid will boil vigorously at 130 degrees Fahrenheit. That is only 32 degrees above the temperature of the body. The Woman's Guild will hold their regular meeting next Thursday, November 10 at 2 P. M.

The Fellowship Circle will present John Scott and his WAAM Happy Hour singers Wednesday, November 16 at 8:15 P. M. Tickets can be secured from any of the members.

There will be a food and cake sale in the church school room on Election Day, November 8, by the A. B. C. group of the woman's guild with Mrs. Robert Stivers, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Armour, Miss Francis Bell, Mrs. A. E. Babcock, Mrs. F. L. Boyd, Mrs. G. H. Brown, Mrs. L. J. Cameron, Mrs. E. B. Collard, Mrs. George H. Cox, Mrs. William Caldwell, Mrs. William Cronin, and Mrs. O. Bell Glaser. A special selection of food has been arranged and it is hoped the sale will be well patronized. These voting can take home a well cooked meal.

Sunday the collection of the entire Sunday school will go to the church building fund. The attention of the parents is called to the responsibility of the Sunday school and their help in discharging its obligation is sought. The topic of the senior department Sunday will be "Honesty and Why It Pays."

There is still opportunity for several girls to join Miss Marion Storm's class. They will be given a special course in Bible study and teacher training work. Former members of Fewsmith Sunday school are especially urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

All the departments will unite for the Thanksgiving program, which is now being planned by several committees. Miss Trassel of the primary department, extends a cordial invitation to all little children who do not attend a Sunday school to join her classes.

ens the show with colorful singing and dancing. Tripping the light fantastic and singing to the rhythm of a jingling melody will be six little ballet girls: Ed King, Russell Rose, R. Henry Holst, John P. Dailey, W. J. Horgan and William Outcalt. They will outdo anything Broadway has to offer in the way of grace and charm.

The frappe flappers, Maurice Brown and Wally Masten, will cut intriguing figures as they leave no head in the "Bald-headed Row" unknissed. The Rev. Peter Deekenbach will play a weeping mother and Commissioner William D. Clark will be a comforting father.

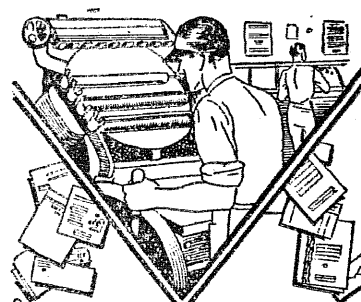

John Ray, as Abraham Goldberg, the Jewish comedian, will all but lose his heart to Pola Negri (Eugene T. Berry). Harry Naylor will impersonate Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt with Dr. D. S. Tillou as the "Mrs." Wayne R. Parmer will be President Herbert Hoover for the evening.

Samuel Cocks and William Engelman will be the twin cousins from New York. John Hewitt as Nurse Sally will lull Baby William Stewart to sleep, we hope, when he renders "Sweet and Low." Incidentally, babies will smoke cigars. Dr. Daniel Kavanaugh will be a Spanish dancer and Bill Entekin will appear as a bishop.

Other well-known men in the cast are: John J. Daly, Thomas W. Fleming, Dr. F. K. Mase, Dr. Ernest Reock, Joseph King, Charles Steele, Homer Zink, Phillip Dettelbach, Samuel Figurelli, Dr. M. ### Writers Oppose Estimate Board

Mayer Protests Introduction Of Politics In School Affairs

MAYOR OPPOSES BOARD OF SCHOOL ESTIMATE

One of the most important questions to be decided by local citizens in the election next Tuesday lies in the referendum to be found at the bottom of the ballot reading as follows:

"Shall the Town of Belleville adopt and be governed by the provisions of Article VI of an act entitled, 'An Act to establish a thorough and efficient system of free public school and to provide for the maintenance, support and management thereof?' Approved October 19th, one thousand nine hundred and three and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto."

For the past six and one-half years I have consistently fought to not only eliminate, but to prevent the injection of politics in our local school system. During the remainder of my term as mayor I shall continue to fight against the members of our Board of Education and School Teachers being harassed by politicians. If this referendum is adopted by the citizens of our town there is a strong possibility of political interference with the education of our children. If not at the present, certainly such a possibility may occur in the future.

The Board of School Estimate, created under the provisions of Article VI would consist of three elective members of the governing body and two appointed members of the Board of Education. I feel that this division in membership is unbalanced, particularly in a municipality where the political boiling pot is fermenting three hundred and sixty-five days in the year as it is in the Town of Belleville. This division might result in undue influence being brought to bear on members of the Board of Education to the detriment of our school activities.

Of equal importance to the taxpayers is the fact that under our present system, Article VII, a citizen is permitted to vote for the approval or rejection of the annual school budget which at the present time is prepared entirely by the Board of Education. I feel in a town of our size that this privilege should not be taken from the taxpayer. Under the proposed change the Board of School Estimate adopts the budget without affording an opportunity to the citizen to vote upon the various amounts contained therein. They may also purchase land and build schools without first submitting the proposition to the taxpayers. Under these conditions I feel that the best interest of the Town of Belleville will be served by voting "NO" on this referendum.

S. S. KENWORTHY.

CLARK OPPOSES CHANGE

Some weeks ago, rather than be the sole member to dissent, I voted for the submission to the people of the question of changing the school law. That question will appear on your ballot next Tuesday.

I felt then, and do now, that no political office-holder has, under any circumstances, the moral right to deny the people the right to pass upon any public question. This is a government of the people.

However, I propose to vote against the amendment and shall certainly urge my family to do likewise. Under this amendment the right of the people to vote down directly any major expenditure by the Board of Education is removed from the people and transferred to a new board consisting of three members of the commission and but two members of the School Board.

The Board of Commissioners is political in character. Its members must be elected; whereas the Board of Education consists of appointed members who are in no sense politically minded.

Regardless of the theory behind the amendment, we must consider the practical side of the question. The schools must be kept out of politics. The schools must be kept free from all taint. To remove the right of review from you and to vest that right in a board consisting of three commissioners and but two School Board members, would, to my mind, at this time involve our school in a maelstrom of politics. I have lived here many years. My children have all been educated in our public schools. I am proud of them. I feel that the best interests of our children and mine demand the continued complete divorce of our schools from the slightest suspicion of politics. Personally, I favor no change and shall vote "NO" on the last question on the ballot. I urge you to do likewise.

W. D. CLARK.

Editor News: On November 8, 1932 in addition to voting your choice of Presidential, National, State and County candidates and with one or two other important referendums, you will have the opportunity presented to you of accepting or rejecting the proposal placed by the Town Commissioners on the matter of the Board of School Estimate. Most unfortunately the matter of placing this referendum on the ballot

Birthday Party

Jean Lister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lister of Union avenue, celebrated her seventh birthday Saturday. Decorations were in yellow and black, with witches, black cats. Will o' the Wisp, goblins and all the figures that make for the spirit of Halloween.

A center piece, consisting of a large cut out pumpkin with alternating illumination enhanced the table. Games, singing and dancing were enjoyed by all the little guests as well as the grown up who stopped in or assisted the hostess.

Among those attending were: Mary Grace Nygar, Mary Budd, Kathleen Lorena and Maureen Ryan, Rita Clarke, Marion Flanagan, Florence Mc Gregor, Rita Mays, Anna Mc Coy, Helen Brenner, Ruth Dacey, Muriel McCarthy, Grace Cunningham, Mary, Irene and Kathryn Murphy, Peggy and Jean Carragher, Maisie Cosgrove, Claire Varian, Dolores Fredericks, Anna Mae Martin, Jewel Jeffers, Eleanor Maguire, Helen Flannery, Nancy Megaro, Florence Rhodes, Joan McCoy, Margaret Weston, Mary Prendergast, George, Joseph and Patricia Lister, Mrs. Cecelia Mc Coy and Mrs. Winifred Gibbons, grandmother and aunt respectively of the little guest of honor, assisted Mrs. Lister. Jean received many beautiful gifts. Awards were distributed for those proficient, as well as souvenirs.

Army Concentrates On Tussle With Harvard

Big Battle Is Scheduled At The Cambridge Stadium

West Point, New York, Nov. 3.—This week Major Sasse is concentrating all his efforts toward preparing for the Harvard game at Cambridge Saturday. The entire Army squad with the possible exception of Elliott and Winn, is in fine physical condition and those two players are expected to be fit by the end of the week.

The highly over-rated William and Mary team did not give the cadets the competition expected. Rather than pile up a big score, Sasse kept the regulars on the bench. This week the big team is bearing the brunt of the heavy work in order to make up for not participating in the "Indian" game. The work of the reserves, particularly the backs, was the encouraging feature of that game. Because of the possibility of academic deficiency or injury to a first string player, Army football coaches always devote considerable time to developing reserve strength.

After the Harvard game, the cadets will be at home for two successive Saturdays, meeting North Dakota

State on November 12, and West Virginia Wesleyan on the 13. The western team gave Army a stiff battle two years ago and this inter-sectional contest will thoroughly test the mettle of the cadets.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a "tickle," bad taste and your breath is foul, side often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned!

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. ©1931, C. M. Co.

You Don't Order Electricity Like Food

—You Push a Button and There It Is

Public Service has reduced its rates for electricity in the home six times since 1922. Since January 1, 1929 rate reductions have saved our customers more than $3,000,000 per year.

Unlike other commodities used in the home, electric service is available whenever and in whatever quantities you wish to use it.

You don't have to order more electricity for tomorrow as you would milk. You don't have to get a sufficient quantity to last over the weekend as you do food. Nor do you have to store a supply as you do coal.

Electricity is ready—at all times and in any amount—to be used. You push a button and it goes to work.

And electricity in amounts adequate for use in the average home costs only a FEW CENTS A DAY.

Bell-boys Subdued By Irvington, 19-6, Saturday Afternoon

Campdowners Score Early To Trim Demoralized Local Eleven

An Irvington High grid eleven, that featured the all-around work of a single white-haired lad, Joe Choborda, came to town, Saturday afternoon, and stayed just long enough to administer a 19-6 defeat to the local Yellow Jackets.

The loss, coming as it did on the heels of the Central down-fall the week previous, sent the local ledger in balance, with a record of three wins and as many losses.

For a few brief moments of the first quarter, the Bell-boys acted in a fashion that seemed to indicate a Blue and Gold victory. "Fuzzy" Ryder started tossing aerials, and both Artie Leadbeater and Eddie Burke were making good jobs of catching them.

But they went to the forward pass well once too often. One of Ryder's stray tosses landed in the waiting arms of Druze of the visitors, who promptly packed the pig-skin under his right arm, and dashed merrily to the Belleville forty yard line before he was brought to earth. On the very next play, Boughrum dropped back, hurled a fifteen yard center alley pass down to Choborda, who caught it on the dead run, and dashed unmolested around right end and twenty-five yards for the first score. Choborda personally place-kicked the extra point as well.

Late in the second quarter, Boughrum of the Campdowners and Leadbeater staged a punting duel, with the former having all the better of it. One of Leadbeater's kicks went out on his own twenty to set the stage for the second Irvington score. On the third play, Choborda cut around right end for eighteen yards and the six-point-er. This time his extra-point try failed.

Coach Buchanan of Belleville sent in his entire second team to start the second half, and the youngsters, with McQuilkin and Richardson showing to advantage, actually showed up the Irvington crew for the first five minutes. After the visitors had reached the local thirty-five yarder, however, Buchanan rushed in his varsity. They were even less effective, with the result that seven plays later, Boughrum went across from the one-yard line for the third score.

Some excellent pass-snatching by Eddie Burke, end, paved the way for lone Blue and Gold touch-down in the fourth period.

Starting from their own thirty-four line, the Bell-boys staged a seventy yard uninterrupted advance, that was climaxed by a ten yard aerial from Leadbeater to Burke, who plucked the oval out of the hands of several Irvington men, while standing over the goal line. The line smashing of Leadbeater and Jannarone aided materially in this advance.

The line-ups and summary:
Belleville Irvington
Burke L.E. Druze
May L.T. Graef
Cocks L.G. Peterson

Dominick Morano In The Finals For Caddie Golf Crown

Dominick Morano, the ace of this year's Belleville High golf team, will hook up with John Carchio, who won the state caddie championship, in a 36-hole final for the caddie crown at the Forest Hill course, when the match play tournament, which started a few weeks ago with 100 entrants, is concluded.

..This Whirl Of Sport..

BY ARTHUR BLOEMEKE

LET'S BE FRANK AND FAIR

WITHOUT a doubt, that unexpected severe drubbing at the hands of the Choborda-ized Irvington High grid squad, last Saturday, marked about the lowest ebb in Belleville High football fortunes in several moons.

The Bell-boys, after a most promising get-away, appear to be in the throes of a disastrous slump. They're still groping around, trying to find themselves after that Central pasting. And I guess our northerly neighbors, Nutley, can testify as to the ability of those Newark Central boys to paste after Saturday.

But let's be fair about this thing. One swallow doesn't make a summer, no more than one slump makes a football season.

The yellow-jacketed sons of the local high school have come in for some merciless panning following their admittedly mediocre displays of the past two week-ends. Maybe they deserve some criticism. The best of us do. But the fact remains that one pat on the back is worth twenty kicks.

Just above our head, as we write this, hangs a bit of home-spun philosophy. We'd like to quote it:

"A good thing to remember, and a better thing to do
Is work with the construction gang, not with the wreckin' crew."

This may all sound like preaching. We hope not. None the less, those moleskin-wearers of ours are going to get back on the right track. And once there, it's going to take an eleven that's plenty tough to derail them.

Tomorrow at Phillipsburg should be the time and place. Any Blue and Gold fan that makes the seventy mile trip needn't regret it.

SECOND TEAM SHOWS ITS TEETH

THE lone bright spot of the rather dismal afternoon, Saturday, was the spirited demonstration staged by the strong little band of Belleville High Jayvees.

In an effort to inject new life into the team, Coach Buchanan sent in his second team to do battle with the Campdowners at the start of the second half.

The result was as astounding as it was pleasing. Despite the fact that our second-stringers had mopped up the gridiron with three straight opposing elevens in as many starts thus far this season, the Irvington varsity was expected to play them off their feet. Against second-stringers undoubtedly they were good. But varsity opposition is made of much sterner stuff.

But just the opposite was the case. The game, young second-stringers played rings around the Irvington varsity for fully three minutes. In the midst of the quarter, the visitors rallied a bit and advanced to the Bell-boys thirty-five yard marker, causing Buchanan to send in his varsity. But in those few minutes, the seconds gave a splendid account of themselves.

All of which leads to but one deduction: Look out, Nutley! Armistice Day is fast approaching. (This looks like one battle during which no armistice will be declared).

MAKING SHORT WORK OF IT

WITH each succeeding week-end, the imprint of the moleskin-clad figure of Paulie Short, is being felt more and more upon the collegiate grid front.

The Lehigh quarter-back, who made history at Belleville High three short seasons ago, was easily the outstanding figure of his team's time-honored classic with Muhlenberg, Saturday afternoon. Just as he was the week previous against Pennsylvania.

His two touchdowns were big items in Lehigh's 25-6 conquest of her ancient rivals. His first resulted from a brilliant fifty yard dash that started from an ordinary line smash. The broken-field running, that was the feature of the work of the 1929 Bell-boy grid machine, was once again in evidence. His second came after a fifteen yard sprint off tackle.

Just a great football player, and getting better with every game.

PLENTY OF FOOTBALL

THIS fall has witnessed probably more football-playing on local sand-lots than has been the case in years.

Independent organizations, such as the Capitol Theater, Clintons, Trojans, Clinton Jrs., have been springing up like the proverbial mushrooms. The Clintons, of course, are still the ranking senior aggregation in town. But the other newer elevens, composed mostly of younger players, are finding their places in the local football sun.

Capitol Theater Gridders Down Glen Ridge Alumnus, 7-6

Harry Knab And Cappy Feature Locals' Winning Attack

The Capitol Theater football eleven hung up its most brilliant victory of the season, Sunday afternoon, at Belleville Park, by nosing out the Glen Ridge Alumni team, 7-6. The win gave the undefeated locals a season's record of three victories and one tie game.

The Glen Ridge eleven, which featured an array of ex-college and high school stars, outweighed the locals fifteen pounds to a man. Their best performer, Rollie Brown, made the all-state high school eleven two years in succession.

Harry Knab and Cappy collaborated in sending victory the way of the Theater men. After a scoreless first period, during which Bob Lonie's fine punting against a strong wind stood out, Knab, the stellar local center, and Cappy, end, got to work.

Early in the second quarter, one of Lonie's boots, good for fifty yards, bounded out on the Riders' twenty-five yarder. On the second play, Knab broke through, intercepted a Glen Ridge pass, and dashed, with the aid of fine interference, twenty yards for the Capitol touchdown. Cappy's placement kick added the all-important extra point that won the game for the Bellevillites.

For the better part of the remainder of the game, the locals were content to specialize in a defensive brand of play, in an effort to hold on to their slim margin. In the fourth quarter, however, the visitors managed to push across their lone tally, Brown crossing the final white chalk mark, after a pair of center rushes from the twelve yard stripe. Bill Griffin, half-back, who had been doing some nice skirting of the ends all afternoon, blocked the forward pass try for the extra point, and saved the day for the Capitols.

Andy Walker and Bob Lonie were other backfield men to star for the locals, while Bert Bade and Ed Burnley contributed stellar work in the line.

Trojans Battle To Scoreless Tie On Sunday Afternoon

The Belleville Trojan gridders travelled to Elizabeth, Sunday afternoon, and battled the Veris A. C. of that city to a 0-0 tie.

Both elevens employed defensive tactics throughout, with little chance for a sustained drive, owing to the air-tight defenses of both sides.

Manning and Schreyer contributed most of the ground-gaining accounted for by the locals, while Campbell did yeoman work on the line.

Elks Capture Three From Bergenfield

MaeNair, Whitten Feature Bergen County League Tilt, Tuesday

The Belleville Elks' bowlers, rolling their first Bergen County League match on their home alleys, trounced the visiting Bergenfield Elks' combine three straight games, Tuesday night.

The locals conquered their strong rivals by close to 100 pins in each tilt. Tom MaeNair, Belleville's high scoring anchor man, created the highest individual mark of the match with his 225 in the second set-to. Bob Whitten came closest to matching this, with a 202 in the final.

The scores:
Bergen County Elks
Kratky ..... 102 176 138

Clinton Jrs. Bow To Lincolns Of North Arlington, Sunday

The Clinton Juniors were defeated by the Lincolns of North Arlington, 20-14, Sunday afternoon, at Belleville Park.

The local grid eleven held a slim edge right up to the last quarter, when the visitors from across the river, sent across the winning score. A march from mid-field, that the Clintons couldn't stop, ruined a 14-13 edge the locals had enjoyed at that stage.

Frank Ryder, end, and Jim Kennedy, ace back, played best for the Bellevillites.

Clintons To Hold Special Practice

Coach Sullivan has called practice for Saturday afternoon in an effort to perfect a new attack for the game on next Sunday with the strong Metuchen American Legion squad which will play at High School Field, Metuchen.

Coach Sullivan is desirous of having any young men in Belleville, weighing 160 pounds or thereabouts, who would care to play football to come out for the team. He is hoping that enough strength will be recruited by next Saturday to aid in offsetting the weight of the strong Metuchen team, whose linemen average 183 pounds. Anyone desirous of coming out for the Clintons can report to Coach Sullivan at Belleville Park on next Saturday afternoon, or else get in touch with some of the members of the team.
