HOSIERY BRINGS AMUSING LULL IN EVIDENCE AT DAMAGE SUIT

Attorney For The Plaintiff, Awarded $1,000 Against Telegraph Company, Stumped By A Pair Of Women's Stockings.

Introduction of a pair of silk stockings caused amusement in the trial Thursday of a damage suit before Federal Judge Forman and a jury. The stockings were those which the plaintiff, Mrs. Virginia Topping, 24, Greylock parkway, was wearing at the time she alleged a Western Union messenger on a bicycle struck her.

She was hurled face-forward to the sidewalk. Mrs. Topping at that time was an expectant mother, it was testified, and was awarded $1,000. Her husband, Alton, was awarded $500.

Attorney Baffled
Plaintiff's counsel, Jacob W. Silverman, had the stockings in his brief case. They were fastened together by a small pin. Mr. Silverman attempted to identify the pin, but was unsuccessful. He desired the plaintiff to identify them as the stockings she was wearing at the time of the accident.

"Are you a bachelor, too?" Judge Forman asked the attorney, after the latter had requested his client to unfasten the pin.

"No, your honor, I'm married, but I have not had much experience with women's stockings."

Plaintiff To Rescue
After Mrs. Topping had assisted the attorney, the witness identified the torn stockings as the ones she was wearing October 6, 1931 at the time she alleged she was knocked down by Paul Krist, then employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company at the company's Belleville office.

Mrs. Topping asked for damages of $25,000, and her husband, for the loss of his wife's services and medical expenses, demanded $10,000.

Play Presented By Wemec Thespians

"What Happened To Jones" Will Be Given In January

The Wemec Dramatic Club under the auspices of the Wesley Men of the Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church will present "What Happened To Jones" Saturday evening, January 21 at School No. 8. This sparkling, jolly comedy is considered the best play ever produced by the Wemecs. They say it will be the biggest and best laugh maker offered in Belleville since the depression. It will be the club's eighth production and the fourth time they will have enacted this celebrated farce.

John R. Carrough, president of the Wemecs, will lead the cast of 15 fun makers in the role of Jones, a traveling salesman who sells hymn books when he can (and playing cards when he cannot). The play has been a great success on the professional stage and is a popular play with theater goers all over the country.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lancaster of 81 Hornblower avenue had as Christmas guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dayton Axtell of Mansfield, O. They were accompanied by their daughter, Betty Louise, and will remain until New Year's.

Fathers And Children Attend Annual Affair At Elks Club

The annual father and son luncheon of the Belleville Rotary Club was held at the Elks Club at noon Wednesday. The gathering was attended by the Rotarians and their sons and a few daughters.

The meeting was opened by the singing of America by all present. Grace was said by Peter Deckenbach, Jr., son of the Rev. Peter Deckenbach, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church.

Visiting Rotarians and the children of the members of the club were asked to rise and give their names and were officially welcomed by William Sweetney, vice president of the club. William J. Orchard and Clifford Smith were congratulated by Willard Sawyer, secretary, for their fine attendance records during the many years they have been members of the club.

Song sheets were distributed and the whole gathering joined in the singing, led by jovial Henry Holst in his inimitable manner. Accompaniment was furnished by the Orchard Family Band, consisting of Jack Orchard, banjo xylophone; Bill Orchard, Jr., saxophone; Bob Orchard, traps and xylophone; Sally Orchard, trumpet; Jane Orchard, violin. All members of the orchestra are children of William J. Orchard, who is pianist of the ensemble.

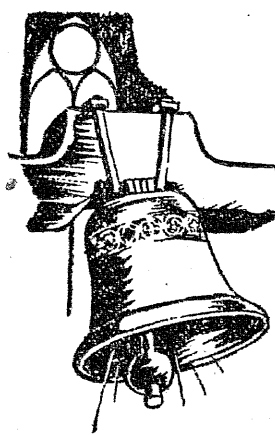

A piano solo was rendered by Paul Thompson, son of Harvey B. Thompson.

The children were entertained and mystified by "Scottie the Wizard," who delighted the group with his mysterious legerdemain and pleasing personality.

Complaints Heard On Confirmed Levies

Joseph King Appointed To Local Sinking Fund Commission

Joseph Crecca and a committee of Citizens from Naples avenue appeared before the Town Commission at the conference Tuesday afternoon to protest the confirmation of Sanitary Sewer assessments on section one last week. Crecca presented a petition containing six pages of names of residents of the district who were opposed to the levies.

Crecca complained that the levies were confirmed in spite of his objections last week. He stated that property owners were not in a position to pay because of economic conditions. He also complained that the assessments were very high in the section.

Harry Higgs, clerk of the engineering department, explained that the town at large was bearing more than half of the cost of the construction in that section.

Crecca told the board that they were doing the right thing at the wrong time. Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy stated that it was an unpleasant job that had to be done.

Three letters were received from the Manufacturers Association, signed by M. F. Tiernan, president. Permission was requested to have a representative attend the budget hearings. The board was congratulated on the fine piece of work done by its Citizens Survey Committee in making recommendations to the town regarding financial matters. The association also asked that a place might be found for them to dump refuse without having to pay for each load.

Mayor Kenworthy announced at the regular meeting that night that he had appointed Joseph King to the Sinking Fund Commission. The appointment was concurred in by the board. The appointment of Samuel Yatemann to the Shade Tree Commission for a term of five years was announced.

A resolution was passed authorizing the director of revenue and finance to employ the State Department of Municipal Accounts to make an audit of the accounts of the town. The issuance of $345,000 in tax revenue bonds, issued at a special meeting Saturday, was ratified by the board.

Local Youth Beaten Preventing Robbery

William Stewart Pursues Thieves Who Try To Rob Store

A 17-year-old youth was beaten by thugs Tuesday night as he frustrated an attempt to rob a chain grocery store at 527 Washington avenue. The boy, William Stewart of 5 Overlook avenue, observed the two men on the roof, near the skylight over the store. As Marcel Willig, superintendent of the apartments at the Overlook avenue address, called police, Stewart went to the roof after the burglar, one of whom grabbed him while the other beat him about the head. Both then escaped, but Stewart was able to furnish a description of the men, who are believed by police to be the same who have robbed three stores in town during the past week.

Carragher Scores High Bond Interest

Objections Heard On Sections 3 And 8 Of The Sewer Levies

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher protested against the high rate of interest paid on municipal bonds at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night. He also scored the practice of selling the bonds below par, and declared that the legislature should not have passed a law legalizing such sales.

Commissioner William H. Williams, director of revenue and finance, explained that the law should never have been passed, in his opinion, but that the municipalities rather than the bond buyers had forced the legislation through. He stated that the towns believed that the sale of their bonds would be better if they could be sold below par.

Williams regretted the high interest rate paid on Belleville bonds, but showed that it could not be reduced, as sale of the bonds was attended with great difficulty even with the high interest rate.

Sewer Hearing

A hearing was held on the confirmation of sewer assessments on sections 3 and 8 of the Sanitary Sewer. A written objection from Otto Volkman, a large property owner on the northern part of Washington avenue, was read. He objected on the grounds that he planned to cut streets through the tract in the future and he did not feel that he should be assessed for the street intersections. He also stated that the sewer was of no benefit to his tract because most of his land was lower than the sewer.

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters said that the streets were not yet cut through and only existed as plans for the future, hence exemption could not be allowed. Town Engineer Albert S. Blank said that the land on the entire east side of Washington avenue was lower than the sewer, yet buildings were commonly placed high enough so that the sewer could be used.

Other property owners objected, mainly on the grounds that economic conditions were bad and property owners were unable to pay levies at present. In spite of the objections, the assessments were confirmed.

Commissioner Williams announced that William C. Knapp, tax collector, had reported that sewer levies to the amount of $2,800 had already been collected.

A letter from George A. Van Gieson of 173 Smallwood avenue was read. He complained that the garbage collections were unreliable.

A communication was received from the State Highway Commission, stating that they had approved an application for aid in paving streets, and granting $25,000 for the paving of Cortlandt street and $4,000 for Little street.

LEIGHTON REINSTATED BY CLARK AFTER STORMY SECRET SESSION

Commissioner William D. Clark Announces Reinstatement Of Captain As Of December 16. Application For Writ Withdrawn By Leighton.

Commissioner William D. Clark, director of public safety, after a stormy two-hour session with the Board of Commissioners sitting in a closed conference, Wednesday night, announced that he had reinstated Elmer Leighton as police captain as of December 16, the date on which Clark had previously announced his demotion to first class patrolman. Leighton's counsel, Edwin G. Adams, Newark attorney, announced that an application for a writ of certiorari in behalf of his client would be withdrawn.

Clark's decision makes the period during which Leighton served as a patrolman, from December 16 to 28, equivalent to a suspension without loss of pay.

Captain Leighton would make no comment upon his reinstatement, other than to say that no one was as happy as he was over the turn of affairs by which he regained his captaincy.

Clark would make no statement as to the reason for his latest decision, but it is understood that he feared the expense to the town of court procedure, since Leighton engaged Adams as his attorney and application was made to Supreme Court Justice Gumiere for a writ of certiorari.

Clark was of the opinion that he had the power to promote or demote in his department at his own discretion, but Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan pointed out that he could not demote a police officer without a formal hearing and the filing of charges. Keenan also pointed out that he could not both prefer charges and act as judge in the same case.

It is believed that pressure was brought to bear upon Clark to influence him to change his decision by Commissioners Williams, Waters and Carragher, all of whom resented the demotion of Leighton when it was first announced. Clark's decision came as a distinct surprise after his statement Tuesday that he would ignore the conference, and that he believed that he had sole jurisdiction in the case and that there was no possibility of his changing his stand concerning the demotion.

AMERICAN LEGION POST PLANS BIG "COMMUNITY WEDDING"

The entertainment committee of Belleville Post, No. 105, American Legion, met recently with a representative of Universal Producing Company, Fairfield, Iowa, and made arrangements for the famous production "Henry's Wedding" to be staged on February 16 and 17, in the Belleville High School Auditorium.

This production is something entirely new and different in the way of entertainment and promises to be the only "Henry's Wedding" to be held in this community this year. The most outstanding thing about "Henry's Wedding" is that three couples get married, making it a triple wedding.

The costuming is unusual and spectacular and the newspaper reports throughout the entire country praise this unusual show. It takes 125 local people to present this elaborate outstanding production, which promises to be one of the greatest social and entertainment events of the year.

Two outstanding features of the production are the "Beats and Belles of Grandma's Time" and the "Colored Brethren and Sisters of the Mystic Shrine." Full particulars will be given concerning these unusual entertainment features at a later time. Indications point to "Henry's Wedding" being the high spot of entertainment in this community as has been the case throughout the entire country.

No one can afford to miss attending "Henry's Wedding" at the High School Auditorium on February 16 and 17. Watch for particulars in regard to cast and other details. Valleys, Stuywards, Ramblers, All Win In "Rec" League

Trio Score Heavily To Win Opening Games In Loop

The Valleys, Stuywards and Ramblers swept through to overwhelming victories in the local Recreation Basketball League, Tuesday night, at the new Recreation Center court. This marked the official opening of the league season.

Bud Hanley was the big star of the Valleys' easy 36-12 triumph over the Trojans in the first game of the evening. Atkinson, with a sixteen point aggregate, scored more points than the entire Royal team, as his Stuywards swamped their opponents, 31-15. In the final game of the evening, Harry Stratton piled up a grand total of thirteen markers to lead the Ramblers to a 32-7 win over the Prospects.

MC BRIDE SCORES AGAIN

PERHAPS there are better basketball coaches than your own A. M. McBride, Belleville High mentor. Perhaps there are men hanging their hats elsewhere who can develop winning high school court machines with a bit defter touch. Perhaps many more things again.

But we think that Coach McBride showed just the "stuff" of which he is made, last Friday night. On that particular evening, his youthful disciples gave about as startling and as thrilling a performance at the net game as you would care to see. By startling we mean just that. It was so totally sudden and unexpected that it fairly took your breath away.

To get back to McBride. Over the span of his several years at the helm of Blue and Gold basketball fives, he has turned out consistently good teams. The record of his teams of the past two years which captured thirty of thirty-eight contests, is too well known to be further elaborated upon here.

BUT... and here's the rub! What would he do, if, during some off-season, he had his entire varsity squad taken away from him? While he had a certain amount of veteran material returning, the situation had at least the semblance of a roseate hue. But what if the entire varsity graduated? Would his genius for turning out winning combines still "hold water"?

These questions were being propounded by many a high school fan and fanette. Especially in light of the events that transpired before the start of the present season.

A GREAT START

LIKEABLE "Mac" was faced with just that situation this season. His was and is the job of carving a winning combination out of a bunch of raw recruits from last year's second team. But one letter man of last year returned, Eddie Mutch. Lamb, Smith, Bohrer, Bonavita, Westra, Wittish, Roberti, all graduated.

With the beginning of regular practice sessions, reports were being circulated as to the impossibility of his task. It couldn't be done, many insisted. During the drills the sharp-shooting of yester-year seemed to be sadly lacking. No Lamb, no Smith, no Bohrer.

They were only a group of "green kids." They couldn't possibly hope for a successful season. Maybe in a few years, but not this winter. This pessimism was surprisingly predominant. Everybody seemed to hope for the best and fear the worst.

And then the time approached for the Alumni game, the first scheduled contest of the season. Everybody looked on in awed pity. The cream of the basketball crop of the past several years was to be included in the Alumni line-up, including last year's great team intact.

All names to conjure with and almost all actively engaged in the court game at present. Bert Knowles, Rutgers regular; Stan Goodrich, Lehigh regular; "Mac" Lamb, Kingsley Prep; Jerry Bonavita, Cumberland University; Ray Smith, University of Virginia; Nick Bonavita, Eddie O'Neil, Lou Westra, Joe Roberti, Hen Bohrer, Carl Wittish, Bill Bennett.

THE TABLES TURNED

BUT all the weeping and sobbing seemed strangely out of place with the actual playing of the game. Things just didn't work out that way.

Instead of being the pupils, the high school squad members were the teachers. They completely turned the tables, and gave the vaunted Alumni squad about as sound a beating as we have been these past several winters.

Sharp-shooting? The high school lads led 18-3 at the end of the first half, having held their rivals without a single field goal during the entire play. Passing? They passed "rings around" their more experienced foes, showing them up with surprising ease and dispatch.

In short, it was a revelation that no one could fail to appreciate. Of course, the attitude seems to prevail to pass over Alumni-games with a shrug of the shoulder, and the "What's the difference, they weren't trying" attitude. But, nothing was further from the truth this time.

Those "old grads" were trying every minute, but they just didn't have a chance. Imagine the humility of being held without the solace of a single, solitary field goal for an entire half. Wouldn't that alone be enough incentive to make even the "softest-hearted" Alumnus "see red"? Wouldn't that make them give all they had? The answers could hardly be anything but "yes".

TURBULENT WATERS AHEAD

YES, "Mac" you seem to have done it. That high school squad of today looks O. K.

The sailing won't be the smoothest possible just ahead, but you appear to have the craft that should prove plenty seaworthy and capable of weathering many a storm that would sink an ordinary ship.

Diminutive Al Culkin at forward seems to be just the man to fill the mighty big shoes discarded by the graduating "Mac" Lamb. His flare for organization, starting plays and sharp-shooting will be an unmistakable asset to the local aggregation.

The surprise movement of shifting Gene Dacey to center, and installing a new-comer "Red" VanDemark, to a starting forward berth, alongside Culkin, seems to be "just the ticket." Both should account for many a point for the Blue and Gold, judging by their Friday night's performances.

The guard situation, of course, seems well taken care of. Eddie Mutch, "Pop" Jannarone, and Johnnie Daly, were veritable bulwarks on the defense all evening. With the exception of some almost unstoppable baskets made by the irrepressible "Mac" Lamb, who, by the way, was the only one to score from the floor, the guarding was flawless.

Such well-known point-makers as Ray Smith, Joe Roberti, Nick Bonavita, and Stan Goodrich failed to tally a field goal.

The team surely appears to possess "the goods." And it certainly is a mighty tribute to their great coach, McBride, who stands on a pedestal all his own when it comes to moulding basketball combines of the finest caliber.

Bell-boys Annex Opening Court Game 23-10, Friday

Alumni Victims Of Surprising Blue(And Gold) Power

The Belleville High basketball machine was not even pressed in grinding out a surprising, thrilling 23-10 victory over a strong Alumni quintet, Friday night, at the high school gym, for the first game of the 1932-33 season.

After jockeying with their vaunted opponents for the first few minutes of the game, the high school boys indicated promise of future greatness, as they swept the "old grads" off their respective feet with a whirlwind attack and defense that could not and would not be throttled. At the end of the first quarter, they held a 9-3 edge, and by the close of the first half, they had mounted those figures to 18-3. And the meager Alumni total of three was the result of as many successful free throws, they being unable to tally a single field goal during the entire half.

As Coach McBride threw in substitutes in the second half, the Alumni managed to cut down to some extent the wholesale scoring of the high school boys, but couldn't change the margin to any appreciable degree. Coach Udansky of the Alumni also juggled his line-up hurriedly and often, using twelve men, altogether. His master-minding, however, went to naught before the brilliant display of the high school squad.

Gene Dacey, at center, and Al Culkin, at forward, contributed the most polished performances for the high schoolies. "Red" VanDemark, forward, and Ed Mutch, Johnnie Daly, and "Pop" Jannarone, guards, were others to show well.

In a preliminary tussle, the high school second team downed the Blue Birds, with Shanahan starring for the Jayvees.

Amy Stratton's Pupils

Hold Piano Recital

A large appreciative audience attended the mid-season piano recital held by Amy G. Stratton at her studio, 370 Union avenue last Friday night.

Among the numbers heard was a duet, "Viennese Waltz" by Gurliitt, played by the Lewis Sisters, Jeanne and Betty.

Little Jean Baillie gave a very fine interpretation of Bach's "Solfeggi-etto." Jean shows remarkable talent and promises to be a very fine pianist.

Bach minuets in G Major and G Minor, were played by Joe Miller. Bill Farmer played "Arbutus" by Davis in a very pleasing manner.

Speak's "Sylvia" was played by Eleanor Plenge, also Goddard's "Waltz in B Flat."

The youngest artist to perform was Ronald Baillie, 5 years old, who played the "First Noel."

A duet, the "School Flag" by Spaulding, concluded the program and was played well by Watson Stewart and Paul Thompson.

Among other players were Flora May Davis and Billy Vogel who played a duet, "Leola Waltz" by Krogman.

Other pupils who performed were: Raymond Mertz, Lillian Baumbusch, Lucille Snyder, Shirley Siebold, Lelia Jane Manley, Hetty Leek and Mary Cataldi.

Miss Stratton was commended on the fine work she had done in Belleville.

Each child was given a candy-filled stocking.

Large Group Insurance Policy By Prudential

Life insurance protection involving a total of about $5,500,000 and covering the lives of 1,450 employees has been approved by the Board of Directors of the Jersey Central Power and Light Company, composed of New Jersey business men.

This announcement was made by the Home Office of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, through which organization the group insurance policy was written.

The Jersey Central Power and Light Company, formerly one of a chain of public utility companies, is now being operated independently, serving a large territory in northern New Jersey, from Milburn to Pompton Lakes, and in Southern New Jersey, along the Atlantic seaboard from Keyport to Cape May, west to Hightstown. The principal headquarters and general offices are located in Asbury Park.

Issuance of this policy through the Prudential provides protection to all employees in amounts ranging from $2,000 to $10,000, this sum being determined upon the basis of salary received and length of service. The policy is of the contributory type, the employees themselves sharing with the company in the payment of the premiums.

SCHRAFFT'S TO OPEN IN NEWARK

The Frank G. Shattuck Company, owner of the Schrafft's stores, has selected 679 Broad street, at the corner of West Park street, for its first Newark store. It has been announced by Mr. F. G. Shattuck. A lease has been signed between that company and Henrietta Rauch, Amelia Straus and Helena S. Meyer, the owners, for the property at 679-681 Broad street at the southwest corner of West Park

The lease was negotiated by Jacques M. Posner of Leslie Blau, Inc. of Newark.

The Schrafft company has long been aware of the demand for a Schrafft's store in Newark, and it is felt that this location is particularly well suited to its business and conveniently situated for residents not only of Newark but of surrounding towns and suburbs in Essex and adjacent counties on account of easy accessibility to the railroad, tube and bus line terminals.

For many years the Frank G. Shattuck Company has operated Schrafft's stores in New York, Boston and Syracuse. Newark is their second venture outside these cities, the first being the opening on November 10th of this year of a handsome new store at 1216 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. A new building especially adapted to the requirements of Schrafft's business will be erected on the Newark property. Demolition of the existing building will begin as soon as necessary arrangements can be completed, and it is expected that the new store will be opened about September 1st.

The new building, which will be three stories high and will represent an investment of about $300,000, will be in the Colonial style of architecture, red Harvard brick and white Georgian marble. The architect will be Charles E. Birge of New York who has designed a number of the Schrafft's stores in New York. The decorations of the interior and the furnishings will also be Colonial in type, symbolic of the purpose of this organization to carry on the best tradition of American food and hospitality.

Speaking of this guiding idea of the organization which he founded some 35 years ago, Mr. F. G. Shattuck said, "We believe in the inherent refinement of the American people, and in our stores we try to reproduce the atmosphere of the best type of American home. Our foods are prepared on the principles of the fine old American cooking of our mothers, from the finest ingredients obtainable and under the most immaculate conditions."

and Broad streets, fronting 36 feet on Broad street and 127 feet on West Park street. This property has been owned by the Straus family since 1868, having been acquired by Mr. Frederick Straus, father of the present owners in that year. Mr. Straus operated a small dry goods store, and among his employees was a delivery boy named B. Altman, who later founded B. Altman & Co. of New York.

The Shattuck lease is for a period of 21 years with options for renewal for three additional terms of 21 years each. It is understood that the aggregate rental for the first period will be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

Provision will be made in the new building for dining rooms on two floors, with a seating capacity of about 300. The establishment will be open daily until midnight to accommodate patrons for Breakfast, Lunch, Tea, Dinner and after-theatre Supper, and in addition to the usual a la carte service Club Breakfasts, Teas and Dinners will be available. There will also be a large candy and bakery counter for the sale of Schrafft's chocolates, candies, cakes, cookies, pies, breads and other food products. At the soda fountain, which will be served Schrafft's ice cream and sodas, and also sandwiches, cakes, pie and other light refreshments.

Mechanical equipment throughout the new building will be of the most modern type to insure smooth, efficient service and every possible comfort for patrons. It will include elevator service to the second floor dining room; automatic electric dumb-waiters, telautograph for transmitting orders from the kitchens and serving rooms, etc.; and of particular interest to the public, the entire building will be equipped with a mechanical ventilating system to supply clean, fresh air at a comfortable temperature at all times, heated in winter and cooled in summer.

Both in the work of demolition and construction and in the operation of the store when it opens, the company has announced that so far as possible local concerns and labor will be employed. The operating personnel will number about 250, some 90% being women. Prior to the opening of the Philadelphia store, a staff of Philadelphians was selected and brought to New York for training in Schrafft's methods, and it is anticipated that similar arrangements will be made prior to the opening of this new store in Newark.

In speaking of personnel, Mr. Shattuck said, "It is a fundamental of our organization to take the greatest care in the selection and training of all our employees, and only healthy, wholesome people of the highest type are chosen. There is always a waiting list of applicants."

Continuing, he told of the growth of his company during the past 35 years. In 1898 when he was a salesman for W. F. Schrafft's & Sons Corporation, now a subsidiary of the Frank G. Shattuck Company, he opened a small store at 34th street, New York City, to aid him in increasing the sale of Schrafft's candies and chocolates. Soon other stores were opened in New York and Syracuse, and after a time in Boston. Shortly after the business was begun, a con service of a few dishes, prepared from home recipes, was added, and from this small beginning developed the chain of restaurants which are so much a part of the cities in which they are located. The company at present operates stores, 32 of which are in New five in Boston, two in Syracuse one in Philadelphia.
