Elmer S. Hyde, Commission Candidate Announces His Platform Today

Urges Consolidation Of Offices To Effect Economy; States Public School System Must Be Maintained At All Costs

Elmer S. Hyde, candidate for election to the board of commissioners, announced his platform this week. It is as follows:

Candidates for public office are notoriously prodigal in platform promises and deficient in performance after election. In the preparation of my platform I do not feel that I can conscientiously promise the execution of miracles that will extricate the town of Belleville from the unhappy situation in which it finds itself or propose "cure alls" calculated to remedy all of its ills. I can, however, pledge my best efforts to the betterment of the town's situation, if elected, in co-operation with the other members of the board of commissioners, and will pledge myself to the honest, faithful and efficient discharge of my duties on the basis that "public office is a public trust."

Of paramount importance to our citizens in these times is the tax problem. This problem, along with the terrific financial strain suffered by private and public business, the unemployment problem and the resultant problem of relief, will make the coming four years a period of real struggle. As I see it there is one effective way to reduce taxation and that is to apply the kind of economy we have all been obliged to practice in our private lives to municipal government. All unnecessary offices must go and there must be a consolidation of offices and municipal agencies where possible. All unnecessary expenditures must be eliminated and strict economy must be our watchword. I am definitely opposed to further salary reductions, believing that reduction in purchasing power is no remedy for our present condition. Another way to reduce taxation is to increase ratables and it will be my purpose to accomplish this by doing everything in my power to attract to the town new industries and business and encouraging new building.

ELMER S. HYDE

The public school system must be maintained at all costs. As someone has said, it is cheaper to keep a child in school than to keep a man in prison. I consider it poor economy to jeopardize the future of the younger generation. Moreover the school system to be efficient must be kept free from politics, partisan or otherwise. It will be my purpose to do everything within my power to maintain the efficiency and well being of the school system and the freedom of same from political interference.

Modern business methods must be used in spending the town's money if we are to receive full measure in value of our purchases. The present system is exceedingly wasteful and

"Buy In Belleville" Abromson Urges

Town Will Grow If Local Merchants Are Patron- ized, He Says

Growth of Belleville can be further insured by local residents making their purchases from Belleville merchants and businessmen, Edward J. Abromson said yesterday in explaining one of the planks in his platform for commission election.

Elks To Present Minstrel Show

Stupendous Production To Be Staged For Charity

The Belleville Elks have engaged the Rodgers Production Co., of Fostoria, Ohio, to produce their copyrighted minstrel show, "Fashion Plates" in the Elks' Auditorium on the evenings of May 10 and 11. The cast will be made up entirely of residents of Belleville and are being gathered together now by the entertainment committee.

Pat Gorman, who so ably directed the minstrel show last year, will again direct this show. Pat, during his short stay in Belleville last year, made many friends, who will be delighted to hear he is coming back.

"Fashion Plates" is one of the outstanding successes of the year, both the costumes and scenery are brilliantly glorious, and the smoothness of it continuity is surpassed only by the excellence of its music.

The entertainment committee predicts "Fashion Plates" will surpass even the big success of last year, "Pirate Gold," and through its medium swell the charity fund.

Mr. King is making a dignified appeal to the voters who should realize the importance of business ability plus common sense in the administration of public affairs.

Department Survey In D'Avella Platform

Candidate Plans To En- "Squabbles" At Board Meetings

Plans for wide and constructive changes in the administrative affairs and set-up of the town of Belleville are included in the platform of Thomas C. D'Avella, candidate for commissioner, which was announced today.

Outstanding features of the plank platform are a complete departmental survey at no cost, creation of a competitive centralized purchasing bureau, reduction in the number of departments, plans for economy and reduction of expenses and tax rates, suspension of all borrowing, except for refinancing of existing obligations, and absence of politics in the school system.

D'Avella, a lawyer and business man, pledged himself to a sound business administration if elected. He also promised a conservative campaign and administration, declaring citizens of the town were "sick and tired" of the endless squabbling among commissioners' and the adverse publicity bestowed upon Belleville as a result of it.

In announcing his platform, D'Avella stated: "If elected, I will take no dictation from political machines or political bosses, because I believe that political bossism is not democracy. My administration shall be honest, open and above-board and any citizen can see what is going on without the assistance of outside help. I shall devote all the time necessary to carry on the administrative work of Belleville."

Standard Bearer Many Affairs Which Will Help His Cause

Members of the Thomas C. D'Avella organization will honor their standard bearer, who is a candidate for commissioner, this Saturday evening at a gala minstrel show. The affair will be held at Veterans' Hall, when and William streets, starting at 8 o'clock in the evening.

This will be one of the affairs in honor of Mr. D'Avella which the association is planning. Committees already have been selected to plan for other entertainment and social functions.

The committee in charge urged Bellevillites to attend the affair.

Mr. D'Avella addressed a gathering of more than 100 Tuesday night at a card party given in his honor at the home of Mrs. Mary Whelan of 318 Washington avenue.

He dealt upon conditions in the Town of Belleville and urged the audience to study the field of candidates and then go out and vote for those who would give the best and soundest administration. Mr. D'Avella was introduced as a successful lawyer and business man by Gilbert Howley.

On taxation he said, in part, "In these disturbed times women in the home must practice economy to a far greater extent than ever before. Our town is just like a home. Taxpayers are breadwinners and it is imperative that their tax dollar is to be spent as economically as possible if peace in the home is to be maintained. Waste has no place in the home. It should be just as inconspicuous in government."

"Coming up for election on May 8 are many candidates who, undoubtedly will pledge themselves to economy. Peruse the list; look up their records, see which of these can give you the most economical and businesslike administration and then vote for them!"

modern business methods and urged that municipal bondholders be induced to accept a lower interest rate.

With all these points carefully adhered to, by having responsible men in office, worthwhile industries can be induced to locate in Belleville, Mr. Abramson said.

On February 24, Mr. Abramson in a statement published in the Belleville News, publicly demanded that bondholders accept a lower interest rate. Less than a week after publication of that statement the Board of Commissioners had $36,000 in short term bonds renewed by the local banks at 5 per cent interest in place of 6 per cent charge that had prevailed in the past.

In his "Buy in Belleville" statement issued yesterday the commission aspirant said:

"The entire country for the past several years has been confronted with a very serious economic condition.

"Business in every town has been less profit-bearing than in previous years as a result of the depression which was the direct cause of this grave financial condition.

"It is therefore imperative that local merchants obtain all the business available in his locality.

"Belleville naturally was confronted with the same problem. But the merchants of Belleville suffered more as a result of those conditions than a majority of other municipalities in the United States because a large part of this lessened amount of business, which should have remained here, was taken to surrounding communities.

"The merchants and business people of this town bear a large share of the tax burden. In all justice and fairness to them the residents of Belleville should patronize local merchants and taxpayers.

"The argument which might be presented that local merchants have not the merchandise required is no excuse. The sources of supply of any article that may be required are available to our merchants as well as to merchants of any other town.

"It is a matter of obvious reasoning that demand creates the supply. I am sure that should demand be made upon any or all of our local merchants goods desired by our citizens will be supplied for them.

"This will be directly beneficial to all the taxpayers because should sufficient increase in sales result more employees would be needed and expansion would result which would give employment to many of our builders, carpenters, painters, masons and other such craftsmen.

"This entire thought will fall in line with my slogan 'Belleville Must Grow.' There is no excuse for thousands of dollars being spent yearly in neighboring municipalities when they can be spent in Belleville.

"We expect that Belleville industries and merchants employ Belleville people, it is only fair to expect Belleville people to patronize Belleville business."

On Honor Roll

Theater Guild Notes

By AN UNKNOWN

The workshop still goes on. Harry Thompson and Joseph Maguire have been working feverishly to get everything in order for "Counselor-at-Law," the show that is being given at the high school on Saturday, April 7. Everything is hustle and bustle. The set has little touchings up to finish, draperies must be made, backdrops painted and odds and ends straightened out. The thrill of it just keeps everybody on his toes.

But oh, the show. I attended a rehearsal the other day and does it show promise. A cast of twenty-eight amateur thespians under the direction of Jeanne Lambert, work as though — well, how shall I say it — life depended on it.

For those of you who have seen the movie — Kappy Sutherland as the telephone operator — splendid; Margaret Schneider — doubling as the Communist's mother and the counselor's mother — adjectives fail me — superb suits it best; Gordon Eska as Charlie McFadden the process server and ex-crook, excellently done; Eleanor Glenck in the sweet, dignified role of the counselor's secretary — superlatives are too weak; Thomas Fleming as the county clerk — perfect; Helen Nestell as the counselor's wife with much hauteur — fine; Russell Green as the Communist — one of the best portrayals I have ever seen in Belleville; John Munro as the counselor — once again, excellent.

If you miss this you have only yourself to blame. W. Watson Stewart Jr. and Betty Lewis as Mrs. Simmons children show what young Belleville can do. Their poise and ability is surprising for children so young. Incidentally, they are the Guild's youngest but most highly-applauded actors.

This is just a small sample of what is in store for you. Russel Walker, Arlene Cadiz, Arthur Flynn, Helen Just, Richard Newman, Eugene MacNabb, Joseph Maguire, William Chapman, Jack Sterritt, George Stier, Alethea Struble and Stanley Davidson leave nothing more to be desired when it comes to reading the character of their respective parts.

The Theater Guild is very enterprising and has a large number of friends and patrons in Belleville. Some of them are:

Hot? Yes Sir, M'am, 92

If it had happened Sunday readers of this might have suspected an April Fool's joke.

However, Monday afternoon former Freeholder Joseph King, who is seeking election as a town commissioner and his partner, James L. Davidson had occasion to note a reading of a thermometer outside the Essex Pharmacy at Essex street and Washington avenue.

Believe it or not 92 was recorded in the sun, of course. And also, believe it or not, the thermometer is accurate.

often results in duplication. I recommend the establishment of a purchasing board. This board shall purchase all supplies and materials required by any of the town's departments.

The citizens of our town need adequate transportation facilities. It will be my aim to have these facilities improved wherever possible.

Sincerity will not permit a promise to tax reduction in one paragraph and pledges in succeeding paragraphs for more fire and police protection and other things which would be necessarily expensive. However, the police and fire departments must be maintained to a strength compatible with the safety of our citizens and it will be my purpose to so maintain them, without adding unnecessarily to the town's expenses.

No matter what one candidate may promise or mean to accomplish, he is, if elected, only one of five men and the successful administration of the town's affairs and the enhancement of its reputation depends largely on the degree of co-operation between the members of the Board. I feel that the town has suffered in the past on account of the absence of such co-operation, and I pledge myself to subordinate personal interest in an effort to work together with the other members of the board for the good of the town as a whole.

As a business man I feel myself qualified to give the people of Belleville an honest, efficient, business administration. Believing that I can be of service to the town and its residents I confidently ask the support of my fellow citizens of all ages and political beliefs in this campaign.

Naturally no man can satisfy everybody, but I may say that it will be my earnest desire to satisfy the great mass of our citizenship in the discharge of my duties. Having made no promises, and intending to make none, I will not be placed in a position where efficient and businesslike discharge of my duties will be impossible on account of personal obligations.

Fine, clean service to Belleville is the best possible service one can offer.

An Open Letter To The Citizens, Business Men, Industrial Men And Members Of All Civic Groups

An open letter to the citizens, business men, industrial men and members of all civic groups:

Last week, Finance Director Williams submitted to you a comprehensive statement on results accomplished during the past four years. While fifty-five hours of time were required to prepare this data, sincere thanks are extended to the great number of folks who have called, phoned or written, expressing their appreciation for the data. Over 225 letters have been received, and to those making inquiries, replies will be forwarded promptly, and to those whose letters express confidence in the Director of Revenue and Finance and his policies, please accept thanks through the press for the moment. Over the week-end three candidates requested information on budgets, gross and net debt, amortization, sinking funds, temporary debt, funded debt and interest deficiency notes, and Finance Director Williams was pleased to be helpful to candidates who desire to learn of the complex phases of municipal finance and the problems with which the Board of Commissioners have been confronted.

PERSONNEL AND POLICIES

Four years' experience in public office and many years of factory management experience has convinced Finance Director Williams that two fundamentals must be thoroughly established by the next Board of Commissioners:

First, Personnel of Character and Ability—not only persons on the Board of Commissioners, but also those who fill the important key positions in the town government.

Second, Policies—or operating program—which is dependent strongly on the type of members of Board of Commissioners, their training, ability to visualize conditions and ability to co-operate with the fellow board members and with their assistants, and courage to vote "Yes" or "No" on every issue. Where service of town employees has proven beneficial to the town, we, as taxpayers, must retain efficient employees—we must not permit departments and jobs which have been politically freed to go backwards—therefore, the taxpayers, whose interests require honest, soundly trained, energetic employees, as well as capable Commissioners, are entitled to know the viewpoints of all candidates on the question of men and women who are rendering the quality of work the taxpayers are entitled to.

To aid all in determining this result, may I respectfully submit to the people of Belleville issues on which every candidate is morally bound to state his viewpoints. The position of Finance Director is definitely set forth on every issue.

TOWN TREASURER PARTICULARLY QUALIFIED

Former Commissioner Nelson appointed Town Treasurer Sargeant—he has served continuously since 1926—he knows his job—he has the full confidence of every member of present Board of Commissioners—he has the full confidence of the State Auditor—his personal and business character is definitely established. A brief survey in 1930 assured Finance Director Williams that Mr. Sargeant was a non-political town treasurer—he was found sound in his work and open for advice. Finding the various divisions of the Department of Revenue and Finance without any co-ordinated management plan, Finance Director Williams developed his plans for re-organizing the several divisions into a co-ordinated business unit. The training, sincerity of purpose and willingness of Town Treasurer Sargeant to accept advice and to co-operate were quickly recognized. As early as August of 1930, and four months before his term was up, Mr. Sargeant was assured of re-appointment for a full four-year period by Finance Director Williams. Mr. Sargeant quickly adapted himself to the new program, and although the past four years have been strenuous years, demanding many overtime hours and entire week-ends of study and planning, the results accomplished and the harmonious association justify the decision of the Finance Director in the selection of his right-hand assistant.

Belleville taxpayers will not countenance any action of a political type with this job.

ASSESSOR'S DUTIES UNUSUAL SERVICES RENDERED

The position of Assessor of Belleville must be considered of great importance—strength of character must be paramount in the man who places values on our homes—our business buildings and our industries—no property owner can receive an assessment favor unless all the rest of us pay for such favor. Some definite total must be in budget each year—and when each does not pay his fair share, the rest of us are receiving unfair treatment.

"HANDS-OFF" POLICY ESTABLISHED

One of the first steps Finance Director Williams insisted on in the first assessment made during his administration was that every one in public office must maintain a "hands-off" policy on the assessor's job and that the assessor assume full responsibility of all assessment work. All our public officials have absolutely respected my "hands-off" policy on assessment work.

$2,500,000 RATABLES CUT OFF; EIGHT TAX POINTS SAVED

The quality of service rendered by John F. Coogan Jr. as assessor can be proven by the records of his department to be of a fine order. There has been a 75 per cent decrease in cancelled or adjusted assessments during his term in office over prior years—his intelligent study was of unusual merit in aiding Finance Director Williams in developing plans to replace the five and one-half miles of street frontage of county park and county lands to the ratable list—his assessments for 1933, by which ratables were reduced $2,500,000, cut down the county tax bill by $25,000, or eight (8) points, to every local taxpayer—the number of appeals was reduced by over 50 per cent—and during this past year over 50 appeals were withdrawn at the office of the County Tax Board, the petitioners stating they did not wish to press their case, showing the presence of assessor at appeals meeting of County Tax Board protects all the rest of us from unfair reductions.

RECORDS MODERNIZED

The records of Assessment Division and condition in which they were kept prior to 1931 would not do credit to a corner grocery store. Today, Belleville has a set of records which in technical setup and condition compare favorably with any in New Jersey. Assessor Coogan and Finance Director Williams visited assessment bureaus in nine (9) cities and towns in which the State Department of Accounting advised fine type records were maintained. Mr. Coogan is accredited by assessors in several municipalities with having a thorough knowledge of assessment work—his judgment of values is not swerved because the property owner represents values of $100,000—he is uniformly courteous—his extra duties as deputy director of department have been capably performed—he is respected on his job by Finance Director Williams, to whom he has been consistently helpful during the past four years. Belleville needs this type of capable, intelligent, courteous and honest employee. Your finance director appeals to all taxpayers to study the importance of this job and the abilities and service of Assessor Coogan—and demand that every candidate give serious consideration before making any change in this position.

RECORDER SMITH COMMANDS RESPECT THROUGHOUT ESSEX COUNTY

The position of recorder is of tremendous importance to the moral welfare, to the maintenance of public peace and to the instructive and kindly treatment of social problems arising in every community. Finance Director Williams strongly commends Recorder Smith on the well deserved respect he commands in Essex County. Mr. Smith has established the position of recorder on such a basis that only a gentleman of fine ethical and legal training can be considered for this position when he sees fit to accept such other honors as will undoubtedly be tendered to him. The Taxpayers of Belleville should demand of every candidate that he state his viewpoint on the position of Recorder as clearly as Finance Director Williams—and that no political thoughts will enter into the conduct of the Recorder's Court as operated by and under Mr. Everett Smith.

TAX COLLECTOR'S DUTIES COVER WIDE RANGE

The position of Tax Collector of Belleville covers supervision of collection of realty and personal taxes—tax sales—tax searches, reports to Board of Commissioners, reports to State Departments and many detailed duties—over two million dollars in cash, bonds and checks pass thru office of Tax Collector annually—licenses are now issued on Board approval through Tax Collector—only a man of definitely sound character can protect Taxpayers from unpleasant financial experiences—only substantial training of an energetic employee can dispose of the daily duties of this office in a competent manner—the Taxpayers should demand that every candidate state his plans clearly on keeping political conduct away from this job and that he pledge that established ability and service shall be retained.

WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS

$2,000,000 ANNUALLY HANDLED BY COLLECTOR

William C. Knapp has been for past four years Tax Collector, establishing a record several times commended on by members of present Board of Commissioners and noted by scores of Taxpayers in the letters received in the department—Mr. Knapp has never been politically active, he was known to Finance Director Williams for twelve years as a conservative, well trained business executive with twenty years of accounting and office management experience. Deeming his unusual training, his personal and business character and courteous manner, an ideal combination, Finance Director Williams selected Mr. Knapp as well worthy of his confidence to receive about two millions of taxpayers' dollars yearly and to place all of the dollars in the bank to the account of the Treasurer. We Taxpayers, have a duty to ourselves to demand of every candidate if he will pledge to maintain the Tax Collection and Tax Search Division as operated by and under Tax Collector William C. Knapp. A great deal of study was made by Mr. Knapp and Finance Director Williams in reorganizing routine duties of this division and Taxpayers must not permit any reaction to the former operating conditions which cost far more budget dollars prior to 1931 than at the present time. 1930, $16,900; 1931, $11,900—$5,000 cut out since the department reorganization by Finance Director Williams and Tax Collector Knapp).

OFFICE OF COURT CLERK ONE OF IMPORTANCE

The office of Court Clerk renders a little appreciated but most valuable service. This job covers handling bail deposits—fines received—money and property of prisoners—stolen money and jewelry—license enforcement follow up—finger print records—police records, etc. Some two years ago Public Safety Director appointed Officer Richard Nourse as Court Clerk. Mr. Nourse, by his adaptability and service has earned the respect of Recorder Smith, Chief Flynn and the Board of Commissioners. With dollars, property and valuable records involved, should every candidate not assure the Taxpayers that the job of Court Clerk will be kept free of political taint? The statements of Finance Director Williams assures Taxpayers that he will do his part to maintain this job as operated by and under Court Clerk Nourse.

OFFICE OF TOWN ATTORNEY

Probably no single key position in a big business organization is of equal importance to that of Corporation Counsel. On his interpretations of law, decisions of the Board of Directors are decided on many occasions—not only are legal opinions affecting Taxpayers of today of interest, but legal opinions of today may affect the Taxpayers of the distant future. The position of Town Counsel equals that of Corporation

Counsel of a private corporation with one serious exception—even the small private corporation seeks a counsel whose political hookup is of no interest to the President of that private corporation, whereas too often the City and Town corporations use the Town Counsel position as a political pay-off medium.

Belleville is engaging the services today of Lawrence A. Keenan as Town Counsel, whose personal integrity is the admiration of his legal fraternity—his studious, conscientious, and straight forward conduct as Town Counsel well merit the respect accorded to him by Mayor Kenworthy and his Board colleagues.

INTEGRITY, LEGAL QUALIFICATION AND MENTAL POISE ESSENTIAL

We, as Taxpayers, should study the importance of the position of Town Counsel and resolve that every candidate for public office will advise us on his viewpoints on the character of man, his legal qualifications and his mental poise before considering any change in this important key position of our town government. While the gross cost of legal work is well below the average of prior years—the necessity of checking new or proposed legislation—the foreclosure work on idle land and idle industrial property and many legal activities of the Town might warrant civic groups in studying the advisability of having a full time Town Counsel. Finance Director Williams offers this suggestion to members of civic groups.

TOWN CLERK ECONOMIES ESTABLISHED

The recording of Town records, their safe keeping—handling of Board reports and correspondence—filing of State reports, registration of voters and handling of election work, preparation of minutes of Board meetings, plus many miscellaneous duties constitute the job of Town Clerk. Florence R. Morey is creating a splendid record as a Town Clerk with all her energies concentrated on conducting a real dignified business office. With the license work involving many interruptions having been transferred to the Finance Department under care of Tax Collector, our Town Clerk with the assistance of phone operator Miss Donnelly is disposing of all her office business to the definite satisfaction of the Board of Commissioners. No politics exist in this office; courtesy is extended to the applicant for information as well as to the party expected to vote—Finance Director Williams looks back with pleasure on the evening he and Mayor Kenworthy recommended the promotion of one who had served the Town well for seven years. A public official asks no greater reward than that his assistants make good—We, as Taxpayers, with a saving of at least $3,000 annually in this division, must not be lax in demanding that every candidate express himself as definitely as Finance Director Williams on his viewpoints on this most important key position in our business structure.

Expression of opinion by candidates will assure all the citizens that the progress made during this administration will be retained.

RECREATION DIRECTOR LEADER IN HIS FIELD

The position of Recreation Director under guidance of a most serious Recreation Commission has developed into a key position in our Town Government—not because of budget costs—but because of the highly regarded quality of recreation delivered per hundred tax dollars. Finance Director Williams respects Recreation Director Nebrig for his work and personality—so essential in this profession—and asks Taxpayers to become deeply interested in studying any suggestion which may interfere with the fine, economical recreation service enjoyed in Belleville. Every candidate should be willing to answer definitely that only well studied actions will be made in this field—and that co-operation with the Recreation Commission will be genuine as exists today.

POLICE AND FIRE CHIEFS

The key positions of Police and Fire Chiefs are promptly determined as highly important with the present incumbents, Chief Flynn and Chief Hirdes are well established in the respect of our citizens as well as in the respect of their official superior officers.

DEPARTMENT SUPERVISORS OF KEY POSITIONS NOW ALL NON-POLITICALLY MINDED

That every executive or department supervisor should refrain from acting as a political party Town Chairman was clearly expressed last year by Finance Director Williams in a letter to one of his assistants whose friends urged him to seek the chairmanship of a political party—Quoting from the letter of Finance Director Williams, we read "Public employees must accept the principle that all public employees are employees of all the people—employees of private corporations are never urged to favor the interests of one group of stockholders to the disadvantage of another group, but we have noticed this where a public employee is a political party Town Chairman—the dual position of Town leader of a political party and Town Department Supervisor are in my opinion incompatible with the best interests of the taxpayers—your job and yourself." Strict adherence to the principle set forth in above letter should be pledged by every candidate for office.

FOCUS PUBLIC OPINION ON KEY JOBS

The purpose of Finance Director Williams in expressing above opinions and recommendations is to focus public opinion on the importance of able supervisors on the key jobs of our Town Government. No Mayor, Finance Director or Commissioner, nor the quality of their work, can average much higher than the quality of their assistants. Many expressions of opinion have been received from citizens by Finance Director Williams relative to the ability, integrity and courtesy of those supervising the key positions of Belleville.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION ESTABLISHED

Competent, honest assistants are absolutely necessary to any public officials who hope to make good. Finance Director Williams at the end of his first term in office has fulfilled the only promise he made during the campaign of 1930—"to establish a business administration." Modern business methods have been established—courtesy to Taxpayers has been an imperative order of Finance Director Williams—substantial economies in all departments have been made—co-operation between department heads has been developed—inter-department work has been co-ordinated to a business like degree.

Belleville's management and financial problems are in the hands of men with experience in management of municipal affairs and Finance Director Williams knows from contact with many citizens that the worthy employee and public official is appreciated by practically every Taxpayer.

DEFINITE IMPROVEMENT APPARENT

The results of well studied and energetic efforts to reconstruct the finances and general management job of the corporation of Belleville are showing definite results—attentive employees—budget economies in practically every budget account—honest budget making, every item required by State Law is in the 1934 budget—Belleville was not included in the list of forty-three municipalities the State Auditor told to rebuild their budgets.

NEW EXPERIENCE FOR BELLEVILLE

A new experience for Belleville is to have a budget on year-round basis—this requires ment—Finance Director Williams stated at a public hearing, if given free hand in budget making, fully legal budget and one in the interests of the Taxpayer would be made up." As the Chief Financial Officer of Belleville, Finance Director Williams extends sincere thanks to Mayor Kenworthy and every department head for co-operating in the production of the 1934 budget.

The many thousands of dollars in the 1934 budget covering deficits of 1912 to 1925—many thousands of mandates in the 1934 budget—economies effected through budgets of all Town divisions with a personnel attending to business almost equally as well as private business—Finance Director Williams believes a renewed confidence is evident in the minds of a great majority of Taxpayers that Belleville with experienced guidance is surmounting her problems. The strongest motive that impelled Finance Director Williams to seek reelection was to carry through to a fuller degree a job his Townpeople have expressed full confidence in—in re-establishing Belleville as a Town whose municipal bonds may again be sought by investors and whose Taxpayers have become tax conscious—credit enough is available to every member of the governing body, their assistants and the civic groups who have aided by constructive consideration of the municipal problems confronting public officials in trying to maintain a 1929 level of school and municipal service on 1933 income.

necessary to satisfy the critical eye. Four or five courses, say 4 inches and 6 inches in height, distributed throughout the first story wall will eliminate the machine-like appearance of the wall made of identical units. An occasional half block, that is to say a block that is only 8 inches long, also breaks up this monotony.

The illustration shows what advantages to the small house and to the big house, too, may accrue by use of the modern, permanent and artistic concrete block. This house will be built in New Rochelle, N. Y., on Dorset Avenue, by the Wykagyl Builders, Inc. It has many features of the large home with the actual cost of a small one. The roof is of tile and the exterior walls are made of concrete block and cast stone.

This house has all the advantages of a modern home within a compact, economical unit. In the basement there is a two-car garage, a laundry, a heater room and a large play room with fireplace. The first floor plan shows an uncovered flag terrace for "garden living" and a covered porch overlooking the garden. Immediate access to the garden is had from the living room, and an attractive view of it is obtained from the book-lined den. Both den and living room have fireplaces. The service portion, with the maid's room and bath, is compact and adequately removed from the family rooms. The second floor gives the Master a large bedroom, bath and dressing closet suite. The other two sizable bedrooms have a bath in common.

Sparkling eyes, glowing cheeks, twinkling fingers!

That's Wisconsin's contribution to the good health and good fun of the fashionables who seek out the north woods for winter sports. To enjoy these in frosty temperatures the radiant vitality of perfect health is demanded.

And today's outdoor girl achieves this by a watchful eye on diet. Following the newest dietetic advice, she includes two slices of canned pineapple or an equivalent amount of crushed or tidbits on her daily menu. For research has shown the luscious Hawaiian fruit to be a valuable source of Vitamins A, B and C and of essential minerals. So the winter outdoor girl, like Miss Jerry Mitchell (above) setting out for a day's skiing from Jack O'Lantern Lodge near Eagle River, discards the pounds of fur coats and blankets of former days in favor of the warmth of perfect health which modern knowledge of diet brings.

Favors King

Editor News:

Knowing that Joseph King is one of the few commission candidates qualified for the job by experience and training, we are watching his campaign with interest.

As a Freeholder of Essex County, we know he proved himself a sturdy, faithful and capable public servant, worthy of our confidence and respect.

It is significant that the criticism directed against Mr. King is this: While he was Freeholder, he failed to hand out a lot of pap (unnecessary jobs) to political hangers-on and others in Belleville!

Rarely indeed does a man holding political office handle his public job as economically and as efficiently as though it were his own private business. Joe King did that very thing.

So, if he made enemies because of his refusal to play petty politics at the expense of the county taxpayer, he certainly deserves the support of Belleville taxpayers now.

Yours truly,

HOMER C. ZINK.

EACH CAN MAKE OWN NEW DEAL, SAYS W. A. LAW

No matter how successful the Roosevelt "new deal" may be in improving the general welfare, it can never relieve individuals of their responsibilities to themselves, in the view of William A. Law, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company and a former president of the American Bankers' Association.

William A. Law

Speaking in behalf of "financial independence week," Mr. Law said "it is up to us to provide our own individual new deals" and suggested that this can be done through the institution of life insurance.

"Whatever may be the shortcomings of the New Deal being engineered by President Roosevelt, its objectives are really what 99 out of every 100 of us would like to see brought about," Mr. Law said.

"Some of us would prefer one route to the goal and some of us another, but there isn't any doubt that most of us have the same goal in mind. 'The New Deal,' as I understand it, is designed to bring better living conditions to the great mass of the people, gainful employment to all, opportunities for education, healthful living conditions and the time and means for all of us to enjoy the finer things of life.

"Men will differ radically as to the best methods of accomplishing this end. But, whatever course the nation as a whole pursues, there is a way by which we as individuals can attain these ends for ourselves. We can make our own economic plans that will bring us and our families security, opportunities for self-improvement, leisure, and, above all, that freedom and happiness which come from financial independence. We can each of us make our own new deal. The way to do this is to provide our own economic plans through the institution of life insurance.

"I say that we can do this because millions have already done it—millions are doing it now. For the last ten months there has been a steady increase in investments in life insurance compared with the corresponding months of a year ago."

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become in ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all. Cayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all. Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. "Half-Way" is the more sensational, little more than a "frame-work" that covers only the lower half of the breasts. For slim and medium figures, that need support and uplift but not a great deal of moulding, "Half-Way" is the perfect "back-to-nature" brassiere.

"Hold-Tite" on the other hand, is the brassiere for those figures that need complete, all around moulding. It is built up to control the upper as well as the lower curves of the bust. It is set on in such a way that it cannot slip down.

We must tell you about the new "Once-Over" (one piece foundation) which Maiden Form has given such a very delightfully adaptable back. This back can be adjusted, both in depth and in snugness, by a simple, flat, button and buttonhole arrangement. ## Belleville News Is Union Label Shop

Was Partly Organized But Now Is In Full Standing

The Belleville News has resumed its stand as a union label shop—the only one entitled to place the union stamp on printing in Belleville.

The News previously had held the label but economic conditions, largely caused by the town printing being sent out of Belleville, especially to open shops, necessitated suspension of it here.

Establishment of a label shop here means that those who demand good printing, done by skilled craftsmen, will again be able to get such work. The union label signifies that those who have printed a job carrying it have been paid a scale of wages commensurate with their knowledge of the printing art and that no chiseling has been done in the preparation of a printed job.

Mason Made Head Of Recreation Board New President Has Made Life-time Hobby Of Boy Endeavors

Henry J. Mason of 72 Campbell avenue has been elected president of the Recreation Commission for the third time during his membership on the Board which goes back nine or ten years. His interest in recreation is general but is principally directed to the youth of the town in contact sports. He has been a strong advocate of the boxing tournaments, baseball and basketball leagues which have been held under the auspices of the Recreation Commission. He is a firm believer in the theory that a sound body produces a sound mind and that the health of the youth of our community must be built up through these contact sports which make for manly character and preparedness for the experience in life which awaits them.

Mr. Mason has been a resident of Belleville for about twenty-five years, coming here as a young man and building his home in a section of the town which at that time was in the rough. One of the first to build in the Greylock Section, he was very much the pioneer as Union avenue at that time was but a lane through the woods to Nutley.

He has been actively interested in civic affairs ever since, organized the first improvement association in Belleville and being president of it for several years. He was at the head of many of the improvements advocated and which helped in the development of the northerly section of the town. He has been chairman of the Imhoff Sewerage Committee which appeared before Woodrow Wilson, then governor of the State, opposing the location of a disposal plant in our town. On that committee was Seymour P. Gilbert of Bloomfield, the father of the former Reparations Commissioner, S. Parker Gilbert. They were introduced to Governor Wilson by John Dymally Prince, then speaker of the Senate and more recently, Ambassador to Denmark.

For twelve years Mr. Mason was a member of the local Board of Health and during most of that time, its president. During this period, considerable difficulty was experienced with the Edison plant in the western section of the town and Mr. Mason arranged a meeting with Thomas A. Edison personally at which the question of fumes emanating from the plant was thoroughly disposed of through Mr. Edison's personal desire always to do everything possible to eliminate the nuisance.

Mr. Mason was also a former president of the Bull Moose Club and twice president of the Republican Club. He was appointed chairman of the Citizen's Committee in the fight against locating the high tension line of the Public Service Corporation in the Greylock section and the present location of this line with its angle on the top of the hill is an monument to his diplomacy and tact in being able to convince the utility interests that the property values in that section would be materially effected detrimentally if the original right of way had been carried out. With the lacadaisical attitude of the average citizen towards civic affairs, Mr. Mason's continued interest is to be commended. Several of his friends made an effort to induce him to enter the present commission election campaign but he refused with the feeling that it would require too much of his time away from his business and his reply was that "no man can serve two masters."

Mr. Mason has recently been elected to the board of directors of the local Taxayers Association. Men of his type are a strong force in the community for good and we hope for the continuation of his interest in civic affairs for a long time to come.

A former vice president of Realty Assets Co. and former secretary of the Lackawanna Water Co., Mr. Mason has been connected with the management of New York real estate for many years and for the past fifteen years has been associated with the firm of Brown, Wheelock, Harris & Co., Inc. It was this real estate management experience which seemed to many of his friends to qualify him as a prospective candidate for commissioner in the election.

WATERS

savings in the water department since taking over the same on April 12, 1927, to date, explaining that 1927 was the first year that any moneys was set aside or charged against equipment for depreciation. This money was set aside to be used for the amortization of water bonds.

In the year 1927 $11,445 was written off for depreciation, in 1928 $11,371.53, and in 1929, $12,758.86; 1930, $13,357.10; 1931, $13,944.48; 1932, $13,953.01; and in 1933, an additional $13,900. The latter figure being unofficial as the 1933 audit has not been certified at this writing. All of the above figures can be checked for accuracy in the yearly audits, made by the State Department of Municipal Accounts under the able direction of Walter R. Darby, head of the State Department, making a total set aside for reserve of $90,930 together with an additional profit of $50,000 over the same period, making a gross total profit in the water department since he was at its head, of $140,920.

Waters emphasized also that he reduced the cost of operating the department in the past four years by 57.6 per cent, stating that in 1930 in the road department appropriation was $30,000 and in 1934, 14,400, a saving in that branch of $15,600. The sewer department, he claims, cost in 1930 $19,000 and 10,900 less in 1934. The engineering department cost $23,780 in 1930, and $8,600 in 1934, another saving of $15,180, and various other items were cited by the commissioner in his determination to reduce taxes. He took occasion to answer critics of CWA making again his statement of previous occasions, that his department was responsible for the placing of over 900 unemployed men to work on the CWA during one of the worst winters in the history of this country.

Waters slammed his critics who, he stated, moved heaven and earth in the attempt to scandalize the CWA and said that at no time while these men were working did he personally appoint or had appointed any one of the many hundred, stating that he was satisfied to let the man who worked in the trenches on the north west part of Belleville decide whether or not it was a good job well done.

"I also pride myself that $322,000 was brought to Belleville through my efforts with the town's only cost $17,500," he continued. "Together with the fact that Belleville and the people in the west end of the town will receive a life benefit where the sanitary and storm sewers are

Teachers To Receive Back Pay In Cash $43,577 Loan From State Makes Payment Possible

The loan of $43,577 from the State has made possible the payment of all back salaries up to February 1 to teachers and other school employees. John P. Dailey, school board president, announced at the meeting of that body Monday night. Payment will be made when the teachers return to work Monday at the close of the spring vacation.

The town borrowed the amount from the $7,000,000 voted at the last general election for the relief of impoverished school districts. The loan will be repaid in five annual installments.

As a means of certifying the amount of money owed the teachers to the State, certificates of indebtedness were issued to the teachers several weeks ago. The certificates will be returned to the town upon the receipt of the salaries Monday. A prior loan of $38,000 was secured several weeks ago to make it possible to pay teachers partly in cash until the end of the current school year. For many months the teachers have been receiving only baby bonds for salary payments.

No decision has as yet been reached on salary reductions for the 1934-35 school year. A resolution extending the present cuts of from 6 to 14 per cent was withdrawn and referred to the teachers' committee for further consideration.

Carragher Enters Commission Race

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher has entered the commission race. He says:

"After careful consideration, I have decided to seek re-election as a Commissioner of the Town of Belleville at the municipal election to be held on May 8, 1934.

"I shall not at this time attempt to outline any platform, but will from time to time make public my opinions on the various problems of the town. If I were asked to frankly state my opinion of what Belleville needs now more than any one thing, I would say that Belleville needs a new auditor.

"FRANK J. CARRAGHER."

being constructed, and the Belleville merchants and everyone else in town share in the benefits of the CWA.

"Together with the fact that Belleville will be relieved of health menaces that have existed over a long period of years because cesspools and sewerage had been running through blind trenches and open ditches out into what is known at the turf bogs, making breeding places for mosquitoes and disease. The people of Belleville would not be able to pay for this improvement because of the heavy costs, for many, many years.

Waters said that he would appear at many meetings in the near future and discuss in detail the various phases of his platform which is solely based on his efforts to reduce taxes.

Waters will address: Clintons, on Friday; Colored Baptist; Citizens Committee of 100, at Waters' Headquarters at 111 Washington avenue, who are also sponsoring his candidacy.

WITH HIS POCKETS FULL OF PAPERS

Lacking the glamour and hip, hip hooray propaganda that has heralded his previous jousts for the commissionership, Frank J. Carragher, whose pockets have been crammed for years with "the papers" and which, today, must be bulging, thinks he can be re-elected again. At any rate he has issued a short statement—for once in his political career—that he chooses to run—which is something.

Carragher has been observed in action for years, reading the "incriminating papers," voting fifty-fifty, dangling a leg on both sides of the fence on every major issue and on many occasions not even voting at all—until we wonder where he gets the colossal nerve to think he has a chance. This election may be a jolting one to the commissioner who takes a week or two to "think it over." The voters are no longer in a joking frame of mind. They want somebody in the town hall who either stands for an issue or against it—who ups and votes on schedule and who doesn't keep in his pocket or drawer somewhere a lot of papers that have not yet proved anything. Maybe the papers are all right, but nobody yet has seen any that are more than political joy killers for other men who seek public office.

Carragher has been kicking around the town hall long enough—somebody else should have a chance to accumulate the papers. Let's put on another record.

PAPER NAILS

An article that no doubt will find widespread demand is the paper nail which is to be exhibited by the Paper Foundation at the World's Fair in Chicago. And the paper nail, far from being a joke, is a sturdy, uncrushable article, so strong, in fact, that it can be hit with a sledge-hammer. It is made of shredded paper, then hardened by a hydraulic press. It is pointed out that it has great value for it is not a conductor of electricity and can be hit without giving off sparks. A practical novelty, to be sure.

GARDENS

From out of corners in cellars, rakes, hoes, spades and the various garden implements are being brought forth. This is, perhaps, the most strenuous—but also, in part, the happiest season for the garden enthusiasts. With the ground softening and bright days ahead, it is time to get busy with the planting. These garden enthusiasts, who have the trick of changing back yards or unsightly land into something of gorgeous beauty, get real enjoyment from their hobby. And they are a tremendous asset to every neighborhood and community.

MOVIES TURN TO CLASSICS

The coming season will find scores of historical and literary classics placed on the screens of the nation. According to Will H. Hays, movie czar, Hollywood is planning the production of many of the classics, and the works of such authors as Dickens, Thackeray, Washington Irving, Victor Hugo and others will be translated to the screen. Such great figures as Joan of Arc, Pasteur, Cellini and others will be seen represented in historical romances. Those of that type which have already appeared have been largely successful from a box-office standpoint as well as an artistic standpoint. It is pleasant to contemplate the new plans, for people generally are tired of the same old formula.

YOU, YOUR CAR and the MOTOR LAWS

By Harold G. Hoffman,
Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

The low rate of speed which snow and ice covered streets compelled drivers to travel was responsible for February having the lowest automobile fatality toll in many years, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman said today in announcing reports of 53 deaths. This was in direct contrast with January which established a new high fatality rate for the first month of the year.

February's total of 53 deaths compares with 84 during the corresponding month of last year. Total automobile deaths for the first two months of 1934 were 155 compared with 169 last year, an improvement of eight per cent. From present indications, March will likewise show a decrease from last year, Commissioner Hoffman said.

While February's deaths were fewer, total accidents were as great as the previous month, despite the fact that February was the shortest month of the year.

Commissioner Hoffman said that while many of the month's accidents were due directly to the hazardous condition of the roadways, it also proved that many drivers are unfit to operate cars under all conditions of weather. New Jersey has

Corbo Condemns Weak Congressman

Candidate Decries Shouts Of "Beer And Bonus"

Charles Corbo, candidate for the Republican nomination of congress, 10th District, last night, at a meeting of the Forest Hill Republican Club, condemned the vacillating policies of some of the weak Republican representatives in Congress.

"The cry of 'beer and bonus' was long the standby of some of our representatives in congress whose shallow thoughts have always directed them solely along lines baited to hook a gullible public, whose votes are so necessary to re-elect them time and again to public office. The subject of beer was removed as an issue last year but the subject of the bonus is still very much alive. In their dilemma as to which side of the question meets the greater popular approval, and in their anxiety to get on that side which represents the greatest number of votes, some of our congressmen from this County of Essex, although they had won office several times heretofore by espousing the cause of the veterans and their bonus, deliberately retraced their foot steps and voted against the bonus bill. In the space of two weeks President Roosevelt vetoed the measure and it again came up in the House of Representatives. Then these vacillating representatives of the people voted in favor of over riding the Presidential veto, thus putting themselves on both sides of the fence, with the evident purpose in mind to appeal to both factions.

When these men appear before the veteran organizations, they will undoubtedly stress the point that they were for the soldier's bonus by citing to them their vote to over ride the veto, and when they appear before those opposed to the payment of it, they will undoubtedly stress the point that several weeks ago they voted against its payment. Smart politics, but not smart enough to hood-wink their constituents again, who will refuse to submit to further atrocities of a like nature by riding them out of office in very much the same manner in which they over ide the veto.

"In the face of the fact that these very same representatives voted themselves an increase in their salaries to the extent of $1,000, $500 of which will date back to February 1, their inconsistency becomes all the more alarming to those who put so much faith and confidence in their ability to serve the public interest; because n their selfishness, these representatives of the people have shown an utter disregard of the fundamental problems that face the nation, and an absolute indifference toward the interests of the public at large."

All-Day Crepe

The spring season heralds a new fabric — beautiful, practical and adapted to all uses from the sleeveless sports dress to the slinkiest of evening frocks. This interesting material is "All-Day Crepe," a cloth woven of tubize yarn. It comes in the new spring colors with such fascinating names as Lilyheart Green, Crabapple Red and Licorice, which is a black with a brownish hue in it.

Factfully Yours

— LILLIAN THOMAS —

Down where the island of Manhattan narrows at the harbor, where the ships that sail the seven seas cast anchor, stands a tall structure at 25 South street that thousands of sailors call home. On its roof is an illuminated cross and the titanic lighthouse tower with a green light bidding returning sailormen "welcome." Almost within the shadow of downtown skyscrapers is this haven for seamen of every age, race, rating and credit. For ninety years the Seamen's Church Institute of New York has been enlisted in the service of Jack of the merchant marine, helping him to help himself and protecting him from exploitation. In good times and in bad, this institute, which is non-sectarian, befriends the "toilers of the sea." It is the largest institution for merchant seamen in the world, and it is partially self-supporting. Your correspondent was surprised to learn that among other things, 719,520 meals were served here during the year of 1933. A day's food supply in the institute larders reaches an astounding amount. For example, in one day 40 pounds of lamb, 32 pounds of butter, 72 dozen eggs, 5 pounds of cheese, 1 dozen fowl, 300 pounds of potatoes, 5 dozen lettuce, 150 oranges, 50 pounds of pork loin, 300 pounds of beef, to say nothing of bushels and bushels of fresh peas, string beans, spinach, tomatoes, etc., are used each day, as well as about 100,000 gallons of water!

The Institute is a great "ship" ashore, feeding as it does about 1,000 men each day. It befriends thousands of ship apprentice boys from five foreign countries and hundreds of American cadets every year. And it provides a complete shore community for thousands of selfrespecting seamen each day. It is their home, postoffice, bank, hospital, library, employment bureau, club and church combined.

A Toast In Madiera

In this day of legitimate drinking, the toast, even in the most lawabiding house, need no longer be in grape juice. Here is a grand punch, made with the famous Leacock's "Ninety-Nine," one of the pedigreed Madieras, which will lend added warmth to any toast.

Madiera Punch.

½ pint Ninety-Nine Madiera.
1½ cupfuls water.
2 cupfuls castor sugar.
1 pint picked raspberries.
1 quart hulled strawberries.

Crush berries and press juice through a fine sieve or jelly bag. Measure water into a saucepan. Add sugar. When dissolved, stir till a syrup then mixed with the juice. Add Madiera. Chill on ice before serving.

The Smart Note Is White

Net For Glass Curtains

White has become so popular recently that all home furnishings materials are appearing in this shade for spring.

White draperies, simple in line and rough in texture are being used extensively. To go with them is a charming net glass curtain called "moon beam" in a fine white net with a delicate design rather modern in feeling which completes the ensemble.

Bloomfield Belting Beauty Is Now Among The Finest

As a prize-fighter Freddie Polo earned the nickname of the "Bloomfield Belting Beauty." As a chance-man on the Belleville police force he hopes to earn a reputation that will stamp him as one of the outstanding blue-coaters when he is made a regular on Police Chief Michael Flynn's force.

The Belleville Police Department at present consists of thirty-two members. Before one is appointed a regular on the force, a year's experience as a chance-man is required. That is why the former welterweight boxing star is serving his apprenticeship now. He is thirteenth on the list for promotion to a regular job. Polo was appointed a chance-man several weeks ago. He has not had the opportunity to serve the town in upholding law and order yet, as no substitute has been needed. However, he is looking forward to the summer months, when he will have an opportunity to substitute for regulars on their vacations. At present he is employed in a Belleville leather plant.

Fight fans recall the days when Polo was called the "Bloomfield Belting Beauty" because of his powerful southpaw punch, which ended many of his seventy ring bouts before the scheduled time. He is best known for the sensational fight he put up with his Silver Lake rival, Vince Dundee, at the Velodrome on South Orange avenue, Newark, where the bout drew more than 15,000 fans. Other bouts, which drew capacity throngs were Polo's engagements with the veteran Phil Krug, Young Ketchell, Pat August and Pinky Kaufman.

Polo was forced to go into temporary retirement after the bout, as he had to undergo an operation for his eyes, which handicapped him in all his ring bouts. He was out of the ring for several months. When he recovered from the operation, the "Belting Beauty" returned to the ring with marked success. He was running up a neat winning streak on the come-back trail until he met Teddy Yarosz of Pittsburgh. His losing bout with Yarosz forced him to put away his boxing gloves for good, because his eyes were unable to withstand the effect of the opponent's blows.

W. H. Williams Club Bolsters It Lead In Major Court League Scheduled To Meet Second Place Frank's Diner Monday

The W. H. Williams Association bolstered its lead in the Recreation Commission's Major Basketball League by winning a forfeit victory over the third place Belleville Rosery, Monday night, at the Recreation Center. The Williams will meet Frank's Diner, next Monday, at the Center, in the final and deciding game of the season. A win for the Williams will give them the championship; a defeat will force a play-off for the title.

Frank's Diner also won via the forfeit route over the defaulting Progress Club. In an exhibition tilt, the Fraternity Five, led by George "Nosey" Jordan, trounced the Diner, 33-27. Jordan registered eighteen points, while Johnnie Schwab, high-scoring Dine center, collected nine markers.

The only regularly scheduled and played clash saw the Falcons trim the Unions, 39-28. Al Cukin, sharp-shooting forward of the Falcons, rang up fifteen points in leading his team to victory. Harry Stratton collected nine more for the Falcons.

Telephone Company Trains Cable Testers

Double Crew Ready To Repair Lines In Emergencies

A reserve army of telephone cable testers—key men when damaging storms have laid lines of communication low—is now being trained by the telephone company to act as reinforcements to the regular test force in times of emergencies, telephone officials said today.

While trouble on the average cable is repaired faster today than ever before, it was explained, the experiences of last summer's abnormally frequent and severe storms led the telephone company to plan a potential test force more than double the strength of the regular crew to guard against the possibility of delay in restoring service should equally damaging storms strike this summer.

The telephone company has started training 113 men and fourteen supervisors, selected from its regular outside plant forces, in the art of cable testing. These men, who regularly are splicers, installers, linemen, etc., are being given both theoretical training in the schools of the company, and also actual testing in the field.

In deciding on the number of extra testers needed, the telephone company used the worst electrical storm last year as a criterion, figuring from the results of that storm how many testers would be needed under the worst possible conditions to clear all cable trouble within the shortest possible time.

In addition to providing for a greatly increased field test force for emergency use, the company has also increased its supply of the latest types of testing equipment, both for use in its cable locating bureaus, and for the testers in the field.

Newark Bears Will Meet Red Sox In Exhibition Game

Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg And Max Bishop To Appear

That famous battle cry "batter up" will soon be heard at the Ruppert Stadium, for inside of a week, the exhibition season of home games for the Newark International League Bears will soon begin.

Manager Bob Shawkey and his Bruins will make their local debut next Thursday, April 12. That day they will encounter the Boston Red Sox, the first big-league team to make an Eastern appearance this season. With the visitors will be Pitchers Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg and Infielder Max Bishop. Thomas A. Yawkey, owner of the Red Sox, last November, paid Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics, a small fortune for the three stars. As a result of the purchase, the Boston team has been converted into a pennant contender.

The day following the visit of the Red Sox, Manager Jimmy Wilson will bring his Philadelphia Nationals here for a single game.

Tickets for the opening day game are now on sale at the Stadium. The Bears will usher in their International League season April 18 with the Buffalo Bisons as the attraction.

The reduce rate tickets for the opening day follows: Box seats $1.35; reserved grandstand, $1.10; unreserved grandstand, 85 cents; boys' grandstand, 40 cents; bleacher seats, 55 cents, and boys' bleacher seats, 25 cents.

Walter Brown does not believe in diets nor is he worrying because he will be recognized as the biggest man, this season in the International League. The cognomen, "Jumbo" is a fitting description of him. Although not the tallest man, he is the Leviathan of the game, when it comes to avoidupis.

The big pitcher is only 27 years old, measures six feet three inches in height and when in hurling form weighs between 255 and 260 pounds.

Brown is a student of the game and has ambitions to return to the majors. He believes a successful season with the Bears will cause the New York Yankees to seek his services again, for it was from that club that he was obtained by George M. Weiss, vice president and general manager of the Bears. Since sporting Newark livery, Brown has worked faithfully and Manager Shawkey is confident Walter is going to be one of his stars.

The new Bear began playing amateur ball in 1925 at Brockton, Mass., the year Rabbit Maranville was manager of the Chicago Cubs. He was signed by the Cubs but his stay with them was brief. Next year he was signed by Sarasota Club of the Florida State League, and his peregrination in baseball began. During the 1927 season while with New Orleans he was sold to the Cleveland Indians but in his first game in the big time was injured and had to retire for the rest of the year. During the winter, Walter had his tonsils removed, gained sixty-eight pounds and since has been regarded as a Giant.

Brown moved on to Omaha where he stayed for two seasons and in 1930 was traded to Oklahoma City where he won 16 games and lost 6. His work attracted the attention of the Yankees and was purchased by them. In 1931 they farmed him out to Jersey City, but the last two years he was a regular with the Yanks.

Originally Brownie wanted to be an outfielder, but an unfriendly rattlesnake which he encountered in the tall grass while chasing a fly ball caused him to stick to pitching. The big fellow feels he is going to have a banner year once the Bears lift the lid on the league season.

Brown has tried hundreds of reducing diets, none have proven successful in his case so now he allows nature to take her own course. One of his pet ambitions is to see the Bears win the flag under Manager Shawkey.

W. H. Williams, Jr. Cinch Community Loop's Second Half

To Meet Rubins In Play-off Game For Title

The W. H. Williams Juniors cinched the second half championship of the Community Basketball League, last week, at the Recreation Center, by turning back their first half conquerors, the A. A. Rubin Association, 24-21.

The fine passing and shooting attack of the Williamsmen, headed by the high school ace, Joe Shanahan, enabled them to take the lead at the outset, and hold it, despite some determined advances made by the Rubins. Shanahan's eleven points were high for the game. Gene Dacey and Felix Clark did best for the Rubins with seven markers each.

The T. D'Avella Association moved up into third place in the second half standings with a 27-12 victory over the Stuywards, while the Belleville Rosery Juniors were forfeiting their game to the Trojans.

Rinaldi's nine points was a big help to the D'Avellas. Harry Stratton's fifteen points actually led the Rosery to a 28-16 victory over the Trojans, but the game was credited to the Trojans due to the use of ineligible players by the Rosery. "Red" Van Dermark found the basket for eight points for the Trojans.

Bert Knowles scored twelve times as Fewsmith walloped St. Anthony's, 19-15, in the final game of the evening.

laws: "A general survey of all departments at no cost, to be made by reputable business and professional men, none of whom shall have been previously affiliated with any political party. The committee would be appointed by the Commission and given the power to inquire into each and every department of the town. The findings of this survey committee would be made public through the press.

"This, I believe, will do away with having the people waiting on each commissioner with any complaint or recommendation and would do away with unnecessary squabble at commission meetings, which takes up valuable time.

"The creation of central purchasing bureau will not only serve the interests of economy, but will enable the town to standardize the supplies and thus make sure it will get what it pays for. Of course, by this I do not necessarily mean the creation of a new department which will add to our already overburdened taxes, but, if feasible, that division of our government will be developed out of present employees or officials or to be established in such other manner as may be recommended by the survey committee. If elected, I shall do all in my power to see that all purchases and contracts be given to business men of Belleville if possible.

"Functions which are similar shall be placed in the same department. This problem has to be solved by listing all functions, classifying them and thereby deciding the necessary number of departments.

"I intend to exercise constant supervision, direction and control over all activities through personal inspection, periodic departmental reports, frequent conferences with department heads and financial reports.

"Discontinue, save in extreme emergency, public improvement programs that must be financed by bond issues when the burden of debts is large, the tax delinquency is on the increase and when the bond market is unfavorable. I would also avoid special assessment improvements unless paid in advance by property owners who will benefit by them. I would also provide for a general tax levy to cover anticipated delinquency in special assessments collections to meet obligations that mature when special assessment improvement bonds are general town obligations, refunding arrangements well in advance of requirement when funds are not available to meet obligations, take advantage of cash discounts by mailing checks promptly to all payees and encourage tax collecting to avoid interest on short-term borrowing and living within cash income.

"All borrowing should be suspended, except the refinancing of existing obligations, and that to be done with the object in mind and purpose of reducing the rate of interest, which, in turn, will reduce the amount of taxes to be raised for the purpose.

"It is said that 'the power to tax is the power to destroy.' There can be no justification in public wastefulness, neither in good times nor bad. The taxpayer must get the most for his tax dollar and the spending of public money must be solely dependent upon necessity, rather than on economic conditions. It can readily be seen that the power to tax is the power to destroy. If elected, I am determined not to abuse that power.

"I would see to it that all ordinances would be enforced and abolished those which are obsolete or useless.

"Politics have no place in the management of the public schools. There is an efficient way of managing schools and an inefficient way, but there is no Republican, Democratic or any other political way.

"As near as possible, I would have all municipal employees residents of the town and all future employees to have resided within the town a stipulated length of time.

Library News

This week's exhibition at the library is presented by the Senior Dramatics class at Belleville High School, under Mrs. Van der Veer's instruction.

Four beautiful notebooks are on display, dealing with drama appreciation and poetry. They are attractively bound and put together, and show considerable amount of time and work as well as artistic ability.

First honors go to Jean MacKay, for her book on the "Silver Cord" and she is commended for her unusual comprehension of situations of the play.

Thelma Petith's is the second honor book, on "Death takes a Holiday." "Down Drama Boulevard" and "Drama," are the remaining two notebooks, the former submitted by Muriel Beresford.

Newark Driver Held In Drunken Driving

After his car had allegedly struck two other machines in Washington avenue near the town hall Tuesday night, George E. Moon, 49, of 802 Broadway, Newark, was held by Belleville police on a drunken driving charge made by John Peacock of 260 Greylock parkway. He will be given a hearing before Recorder Everett B. Smith Wednesday.

Moon's car struck Peacock's auto near Rutgers street. Peacock jumped on the running board of the other car in an effort to stop the other driver but Moon, Peacock says, refused to stop until his car allegedly struck one driven by Robert Leg of Cedar Grove at Belleville avenue, a few yards from the police station. Town Physician Herbert B. Vail examined Moon and pronounced him unfit to operate a motor vehicle.

Now What'll They With Sam's Crown

Newark Paper "Enlightens" Voters On Sampson—But Only A Year Late

King Sammy will not reign here any more....

What will happen to the crown that Sammy wore?

Now folks isn't that something? A Newark Sunday paper, a year after everybody else knew Samuel Sampson Kenworthy had decided to save his political record from getting washed ashore, by staying out of the present campaign here, tells us this startling news. Really, Sammy says he won't run. That's too bad. But listen to this.

That paper says a group real visited the Mayor and asked him to run. Isn't it too bad Sammy declined? It says there are really a few who forget that Sammy only polled 1,000 votes in a primary a couple of years ago. What a shellacking.

1,000 votes for the Mayor of Belleville, the Mayor who said publicly he knew the sentiment of the taxpayers.

Sammy, please run, please do! We, your humble subjects of the kingdom of Belleville, do implore you.

Vindicate yourself with justice and fair play. From our hearts we, the poor down-trodden taxpayers, ask you to give us of your great talents, the talents that have pulled Belleville far out of the mud you discovered eight years ago when you took office, the talents that you say, Samuel Sampson Kenworthy, make you a leader of men.

Truthfully, Mr. Mayor, before you quit us, won't you tell the taxpayers what you have not done in eight years? You used our newspaper eight years ago to help put you in office on a platform of justice and fair play. Now you are leaving. Please tell our readers—if you can—how you have helped Belleville. Otherwise we will have to apologize for supporting you. You surely recall how you wrote all your publicity down in your little candy store and called us up with "What do you think of this. Isn't that pretty good stuff to tell the voters?"

Come, come, Sammy you are through now and we want to give you a proper send-off, Bronx cheer and all.

A group of girls, which included the Misses Eleanor Barrett, Olive Bohrer, Carol Conklin, Betty Frietag and Elizabeth Roake, went on an all-day hike to South Mountain Reservation on Monday. The girls left Belleville at 8:30 A. M., cooked and ate luncheon at the reservation, explored the woods and visited Hemlock Falls, ate supper and reached home at 9 P. M., tired but happy.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Conklin of 293 Stephen street entertained at an Abromson card party at their home on Saturday evening. Seven tables were in play. M. Abromson spoke on "Helping Belleville to Grow." After the games, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. Mrs. Conklin was assisted by her daughter, Miss Carol Conklin; Miss Olive Bohrer and Mrs. Ernest L. Galanot.

Another in the series of card parties in honor of Edward J. Abromson, candidate for commissioner, will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Mumford, 10 Oak street, on Saturday evening of next week. Seven tables will be in play. Mrs. Mumford will be assisted by her daughter, Miss Bertha R. Mumford, and her sister, Mrs. Florence R. Smith, of the same address.

Mrs. Austin Sheldon and daughter, Jean, of 370 Union avenue, left Sunday to spend a week in Washington. Mr. Sheldon and daughter, Yolande, spent the week-end in Washington.

The Circuit Rider Comes To Town!

The Senior Christian Endeavor will present as a speaker, the Rev. John Y. Leming, D. D., on Wednesday evening, April 11, at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Leming is better known as the Circuit Rider of fifty years ago in Kentucky. Record prove that he was a soldier at ten years of age and a school teacher when only sixteen. He also has served as dean of a staff of speakers for the Greater New York Federation of Churches.

Both from West Point and the Lakehurst Proving Grounds where he has lectured in the past, come fine words of recommendation as to the thrilling lecture he delivers.

In the forward of a book written by Rev. Leming, Dr. Daniel A. Poling the president of the International Christian Endeavor Union and editor in chief of the Christian Herald says, "Here is a true story, simple, wholesome and captivating."

It will interest you to know that Dr. Leming used to travel six hundred miles per month serving four mountain communities, sometimes praying with a dying man in a moonshine still, sometimes comforting the family of a crushed miner, sometimes watching with the dead in the dark because of the fear of the feudist's bullets. Yet at the same time keeping up with classes at Center College, Danville, Ky.

Rev. Leming will be 82 years old Sunday, April 8, and is still working hard in the service of his master. Come and bring your friends.

Raymond Patrick, chairman of troop committee, B. S. A. 88, was present at the meeting Tuesday evening at Christ Church parish house. He has issued a request to the Scout mothers to attend the meeting on Tuesday evening, April 17, with a view to organizing a mothers' auxiliary, in accordance with Scout Executive Harvey W. Maden's suggestion at the Parents' Night held recently. Such an auxiliary would sponsor the troops and plan entertainment to raise funds, etc., besides interesting parents in what the Scouts are accomplishing. After Tuesday's meeting, a paper chase was enjoyed, ending at the Passaic river. Junior Assistant Scout Master William Terry and Senior Patrol Leaders Walter Garabrant and Harvey W. Mumford Jr. laid the trail and Scoutmaster Raymond H. Patrick led the remainder of the troop in the chase. The Wolves and Silver Foxes (patrols) combined in an all-day hike to Great Notch yesterday.

Writer Opposes Williams

Editor News:

Williams Should Not Be Re-elected I, as a citizen of Belleville, would like to refresh the minds of the voters of this town of a few things that have been in my mind during the administration of Commissioner Williams as I feel sure the town does not care to have four more years of Dr. Jeykel and Mr. Hyde. I will relate the following that I would like very much to have Mr. Williams or any of his colleagues answer:

The Mary Anderson case, a victim of politics;

The Henry Underwood case, another victim of politics;

The Dougherty case, still another victim.

If space would allow, I could name numerous others. While on the subject, I would also like to know why the town insurance was not distributed to brokers in Belleville with established offices in town, as they are more deserving of it as taxpayers than an individual such as Mr. Stephen Weir, who is an executive of The Globe Indemnity Company with no offices in town. As I understand, two men were detailed as a committee by the Real Estate and Insurance Board of the town to wait upon Commissioner Williams and see if the insurance could not be distributed among the Real Estate and Insurance men who pay rent or taxes for their stores, trying to make Belleville what it should be, a business center. These men, Sylvester Frazer and Arthur Mayer were the two prominent citizens that were designated to go before the commissioner, but their efforts were fruitless, and the insurance still stands in the same selected hands.

I still feel as an American citizen I can voice my opinion without being afraid of being muzzled by anyone who is trying to be so domineering with his Hitler type dictatorship, by threatening the citizens with $250 rewards. I am watching with keen interest a particular billboard on the roof of a certain hardware company on the avenue, bearing the name of "The General Mills Supply Co." You can almost be assured, your obedient citizens, that there will be a particular commissioner's name on this billboard in the near future.

Before closing, let me impress on the minds of the voters of this town, that if they re-elect a man of this type they can expect four more years of rigid dictatorship with such episodes as reprimanding school teachers and policemen for voicing their common opinion, for after all we are all free born, and have the right to free speech. You will again hear from me before election, May 8, 1934 — the day of reckoning.

Very truly yours,

be recognized in a manner commensurate with the town's ability. An understanding must be had with bond holders so that the police men, school teachers and other employees may equitably share the town's income.

Dr. Rubin further says that he approves a policy abolishing the necessary job now sponsored by the municipal regime. Dr. Rubin's position on zoning regulations and thorough going — in his view, an arrangement that would be acceptable to industries and residents.

"I am a physician," says Dr. Rubin. "And take a special interest in matters bearing upon the health of the community. Therefore I pledge persons in need of medical care to receive careful treatment; to provide hospitalization for the poor who cannot afford it; to provide an ambulance with disposal of all citizens of all times, without discriminating to race, creed or color."

Old Stuff "I pledge that proper care shall be given to the regulation of garbage disposal. The dump valley section of Belleville shall be abolished."

"I pledge that no relative of mine shall hold any public office in town of Belleville during my term of office."

"My pledge is for Belleville people to come for a New Deal for Belleville. The welfare of the town and needs of its people will guide my conduct in office. I do not profess to be a politician. If elected I will serve my town well, and shall consider an honor and privilege to do so."

The foregoing declaration of policy is brief and to the point. It expresses the common need and the common desire. Coupled with an individual who believes that words and deeds should go hand in hand, Belleville should be the winner and the spirit of "Each for all and all for each" should pervade the entire community, in the event that Dr. Rubin becomes a member of the town commission in May. The need of the times is for men. Real men. And Dr. Rubin answers that need in the field of action now surrounding him in governmental Belleville.

Very truly yours,
ELWOOD F. SIEDEBURG.

59 Ligham street,
Belleville, N. J.

This letter came from Dr. Rubin's headquarters, 338 Washington avenue, as printed with the Ligham street address below.

Political Advertisement
April 4, 1934.

Dear Mr. Zink: Some time ago you had an advertisement in the Belleville papers under the heading "Help Wanted," seeking the services of five men as directors of the Town of Belleville.

Let me tell you at the outset that I am not a mere office seeker, having never sought public office before, but because I believe that I am qualified for the job and feel that, as a citizen of the Town of Belleville, I should cast my personal interests aside to help pull Belleville out of the depths into which it has sunk, I am willing to offer myself on the altar of public service.

Like yourself, I was not born in Belleville and have not lived here long, but from my limited observation of the officials of this town, I think we should have five good men.

I do not believe that you intend to be a candidate yourself because, while I know that you are one of the best qualified men of the town, I think that you should look for better things. I am willing to go to work for a commissioner's salary of approximately $1,500 a year, but I think it would be better for you if you elected five good men who would be wise enough and unselfish enough to take you into their confidence and let you tell them how to run the affairs of the town. You are an attorney and you could be given some small title which would make you a member of Belleville's official family, say, town attorney, which position, I understand, is worth $1,000 a year to any attorney. Do you think so, Mr. Zink?

I think you are the best of the men in the town and I think you are the best of the men in the town and I think you are the best of the men in the town.

Yours truly,
John H. Rubin

John H. Rubin is running on a New Deal platform, at once progressive and a God-Send to Belleville. There is not one scintilla of selfishness in motive or deed where Dr. Rubin is concerned. His is a yearning to serve for the sole well being of the whole community as is attested to by the tenets of governmental policy embodied in his platform.

Dr. Rubin places emphasis upon some of the vital things now affecting the governmental management of Belleville. He says, "The financial man in the town is a crook and I think you are the best of the men in the town and I think you are the best of the men in the town."

aguers At Bloom- Series Tomorrow

ville Line-up; Frank Bloomfield's

Lynch's Bloomfield club will be capped somewhat through the loss of big Frank "Turk" Schumacher, who is down south at present, receiving a try-out with the Albany baseball club of the International League.

Bloomfield, however, still packs plenty of power, with their probable starting line-up of Lou Babiak and Willie Ungemah, forwards; Ray Wiley, center; Harry Miller and Lute Share, guards. Eddie Berlinski, sensational Bloomfield High athlete, sensational playing featured a recent Bloomfield victory over the strong Prudential club; George Johnson, Joe Brady, and O'Neil complete the Bloomfield roster.

Fans will be especially interested in the performance of Lute Share, sensational Hebrew Club star, who ran in rolling up seventeen points against Belleville in their last meeting at Belleville, as well as Lou Babiak, Polish Falcon Star, who rolled up forty-eight points in two games of the Newark city championship game, last week.

The local Kennymen enter the series, which is expected to be played in front of capacity crowds, with a slight margin of three victories in four games against Bloomfield during the regular league competition. The margins of triumph were between one and three points, however, which are or less discounts that slight edge.

Johnnie Gunzelman, Belleville center, who twice beat back Bloomfield with sensational last minute heaves, is expected to be the chief thorn in Bloomfield's side, with O'Beirne and Levine other constant threats. Miller, Babiak and Share are Lynch's chief stand-bys.

To Meet At 'Drome

25-Mile Paced Race Will Feature Tino
Reboli

More than satisfied with the opening day attendance last Sunday, Manager Harry Mendel has arranged another elaborate program for the Nutley Velodrome this Sunday afternoon. The crowd of 12,000 which sat in on the initial meet came in for an afternoon of thrilling competition.

For the ardent bike fans, the Nutley manager has carded a one-mile match race, two-mile handicap, an sprinters and a 25-mile motor-known distance race for the pro Australian pursuit race and an un-paced race with four of the leading pace followers.

The one-mile match, best two out of three heats between George Dempsey, the American sprint champion and William Honeman, internationally known sprinter is a real "natural." This race was in the making last year but when Honeman got into some trouble he departed for Europe. Dempsey trimmed Walker and Hill in match races last season while Honeman done away with Artie Spencer and Walker.

The 25-mile motor-paced event will bring together Tino Reboli, the Bank street sensation; Jackie Sheehan, New York lad; Paul Croley, Brooklynite; and Vic Hopkins, the Davenport, Iowa, farmer boy. Reboli started his 1934 campaign with a spectacular victory last week. He won the Easter Day Stakes, a 25-miler, defeating Alfred Letourner, the American champion, Croley and Sheehan in the order named. The efforts of Letourner to go by Reboli in the last three miles were futile, with the Bank street lad gamely fighting him off.

Reboli, who has been boosted to the skies for his spectacular riding in six-day competition this year came up to expectation last week. He will have to be watched closely by everyone this year and with the proper training methods there is no question that Little Tino, who forsook the ice wagon for the bike, will become one of America's leading choo-choo followers.

Two Features Scheduled To Close Recreation Court

Williams Jrs. To Meet The Rubin Association
Team

The curtain will be rung down on the two main Recreation Commission Basketball Leagues, Wednesday evening, with a special double feature finale being prepared for the fans, at the Recreation Center.

The first game of the evening will pit the champions of the Monday night Major Basketball League against a picked all-star team representing the other five clubs of that loop. The second attraction will involve another of those dog-and-cat fights between the W. H. Williams Juniors, winners of the second half, and the A. A. Rubin Association, first half champions, for the diadem of Community Basketball League "champs." The Rubins copped the first scheduled game between this pair early in the season, but the Williams crew came back a couple of weeks ago and evened the count with a 24-21 victory.

The championship of the Major Basketball circuit will be decided, Monday night, at the Recreation Center, in the final night of the regular season. The W. H. Williams Association, present pace-setters, must dispose of Frank's Diner, who are in second position, a game back, to insure their winning of the title. A victory for the Diner would deadlock the two teams in a first place tie, and would necessitate a play-off for the crown.

The make-up of the All-Star Major League team has been enshrouded in secrecy, but the quality of ball played in that loop all season assures the creation of a first-class club.

In between games, Wednesday night, the Recreation Commission, through its Director Robert Negrib, will present the various awards won by the players and teams of both leagues during the season. Joseph Parsells and Alex "Bun" Derbyshire, who have been in charge of the two leagues, will direct activities, with Parsells refereeing either or both of the games.

There will be dancing before and after the games.

Belleville County Leaguers End Season With A Victory

Verona Smothered, 58-25,
At Verona As Levine, Mc
Guire And Huhn Star

Belleville's Essex County League performers finished their regular league season, Saturday night, in bang-up style, at the Verona High court, smothering the lowly Verona club, 58-25.

The game's particular interest rested in the return of Bill Levine, playing his first game in over a month, performed under wraps, but even so managed to tally eighteen points for the local club. Johnnie McGuire, youthful ace, who is counted on as a "dark horse" of the coming Bloomfield-Belleville series, rang up the same number of markers as Levine, with Jake Huhn finding his scoring "eye" to the extent of tallying sixteen times.

Busse of Verona staged a one-man show in scoring twenty-two of his club's twenty-five points.

Belleville assumed a lead during the first quarter, and kept adding to it throughout the balance of the game.

Spring Weather Causes Nereids To Get Out In Shells

Engage In First Rowing
Activity Of Season,
This Week

The continued warm weather and other signs that point to the definite arrival of spring in our midst has the oarsmen of the Nereid Boat Club impatient to get out on the waters of the Passaic in their shells. This event which definitely and officially puts an end to winter's icy reign will probably transpire this week-end, or next week at the latest.

The heavy snow-fall had hindered the Nereid's practices, and has made them more anxious than ever to get afloat.

The practices of the next two months will be conducted with but one objective in mind, the annual Harlem regatta, held Memorial Day, on the Harlem River in New York. The Nereid club, which has entered crews in that race for some time, is one of the few Jersey entrants in this old racing event, which includes many New York crews.

Spring Grid Practise To Be Resumed Here Next Week

Thirty Candidates Being
Tutored By Head
Coach Buchanan

Spring football practice which was inaugurated last week for the mole-skin wearer of Belleville High, was held up this week due to the Easter vacation.

The practice, under the direction of Head Coach Dave "Red" Buchanan will be continued next week, however, on the grounds back of No. 7 School. About thirty candidates, most of them inexperienced, are working out with this group, headed by Captain Frank Stellatella.

The drills have been dealing with fundamentals of the grid game, with stress placed upon punting, passing and ball-handling. Callisthenics have also been included in the drill.

Crescents Finish Season With Loss

High School All Stars Take 28-24 Verdict At Center

"Mac" Lamb's Crescents finished their season, Saturday night, by bowing to the Essex County High School All Stars, at the Recreation Center court, by a 28-24 margin.

The winners, fresh from a season of hard inter-scholastic competition, came from behind in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter, to wrest victory from the Crescents. After a nip and tuck battle, featured by long and stirring rallies during the first three periods, the Crescents assumed a 24-22 lead early in the fourth quarter. But then the All Stars' big guns started booming, and before they had finished George Jordan, Lou Frazzano and Matt Scola had tossed in three two-pointers in rapid fire succession to insure victory for the visitors.

The Crescents' opponents represented the real pick of the high school squads in this vicinity. George "Nosey" Jordan of Good Counsel, highest scoring forward in the City of Newark, showed the way with twelve points, while Frank "Junie" Carragher, Belleville High ace; "Red" Ondre of East Side of Newark and Scola and Frazzano of the Orange High quintet, which finished its regular season undefeated, completed the cast.

Pat Dunn, Al Culklin and Hen Bohrer accounted for sixteen of the Crescents points, between them.

Bell-boys Tie Eagles For Second Place In Minor Court Loop

Middletowns Now Hold A
Two-Game Grip On
First Place

The Bell-boys pushed their way up to a tie for second place with the Eagles by downing that club, 15-12, last week, at the Recreation Center in the Minor Basketball League, as the league-leading Middletown Juniors boosted their lead to two games by nosing out the Panthers, 20-18.

A strong second-half finish enabled the Bell-boys to turn back the Eagles. George Arsulak registered seven times for the Bell-boys in this one.

Christian and Laterza combined to score fourteen points for the Middletowns in their victory, though Bryan, Panther center, was the high scorer of the game, with his ten point contribution. An early first half lead enabled the Royals to nose out the Falcons, 16-15. Wharton scored over half the Falcons' points, with his eight. Dowe and Travers split up ten for the winners.
