Mrs. E. B. Brink Named To Recreation Board

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Brink of Stephens street was appointed to the Belleville Recreation Commission by the town commission Tuesday night by a resolution introduced by Commissioner Frank J. Carragher. Her term is five years. She succeeds James M. Lynch, who resigned recently because of the pressure of business, after serving twelve years and twice being elected president of the body.

Harry L. Breckenridge of 120 Rutgers street was appointed to the zoning board of adjustment. His term is three years.

Board Delays Granting Of Bus Line Permit

The application of the Garden States Lines, Inc., to operate buses through Belleville on a Nutley-Newark route was laid on the table for two weeks by the town commission Tuesday, since Mayor Kenworthy, in whose department bus permits rest, was absent. The application asked permission to operate in Passaic avenue, Joralemon street, Garden avenue, Belleville avenue and in Union avenue to Newark. Commissioner Patrick A. Waters said that Passaic avenue could not be repaved this year and that the route would therefore be a difficult one for buses. C. A. Brown of the Public Service Coordinated Transport objected on the grounds that the projected service would conflict with that offered by Public Service at present.

The board granted a tavern license to George A. Younginger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, for Veterans' Hall at Belleville avenue and Stephens street.

About 500 attended the Little Theater Guild's performance of "Counselor at Law" at the high school Saturday night. The play was coached by Miss Jean Lambert.

Local Registration More Than 13,000 Large Vote Expected At Commission Election On May 8

The total registration in Belleville is estimated to be greater than 13,000, 500 more voters being on the books than at the general election last November, Mrs. Florence R. Morey, town clerk, states. A large vote is expected at the election of the board of commissioners May 8.

Tuesday was the last day of registration for the municipal election, and 338 voters were enrolled. The registration at the last election in 1930 was 12,300.

Bandits Hold Up Gas Station Attendant Twice In Two Weeks Hugh O'Toole Recognizes Pair That Staged First Robbery

For the second time in two weeks, the gasoline station at Kingsland road and Washington avenue was robbed by armed bandits Sunday night. Hugh O'Toole, attendant, recognized the men as the same pair who had held him up March 27, he told police.

The holdup was investigated by Patrolmen Shupel, Birbiglia, Wallace and Britton. The station is just over the Nutley line in Delaware, and Clifton police are seeking the bandits.

O'Toole started to run when the robbers entered the station. Sunday, but was struck on the head with a pistol barrel and forced to open the safe, from which the bandits took $70. They stole $40 in the previous holdup. There have been six holdups at the station, which is in a lonely spot, since it was opened.

Probation For Youths Who "Borrowed" Autos

Charles Rose, 16, of 58 King street and a 14-year-old Belleville companion were placed on probation for a year and ordered to make restitution for damage to four cars and two lawns by Recorder Charles Young in police court Wednesday. The boys confessed "borrowing" two cars from in front of Viola's Hall in Washington avenue March 31, police say.

The first car was abandoned in Washington avenue, where it was struck by one driven by Cornelius McAnanya, Negro, of 110 Passaic avenue. Three persons were injured in the crash.

The other car struck one driven by Robert Everitt of 120 Grant avenue and was mired down after destroying two Nutley avenue lawns. The Belleville youth was captured by Everitt and Patrolman Peter Somoracki and gave information which led to the arrest of Rose, according to police.

Association Formed By Young People George R. Gerard Committee Forms Cooperative Group

It is only to be expected that everyone cannot be contacted and the committee, therefore, takes this opportunity to extend an invitation to everyone interested, to attend. Mr. Gerard will make an informal address. Refreshments will be served and the committee promises a good time for everyone.

Local Gas Station Robbed By Bandit Thug Locks Attendant In Closet After Making Him Open Safe

A bandit, armed with a nickel-plated revolver, held up James O'Brien of 64 Cleveland street, operator of a gasoline station at Washington avenue and Van Rensselaer street, Sunday night, forced him at pistol point to open the safe and escaped with $45 after locking O'Brien in a closet.

The proprietor climbed from a window and summoned police, who searched the neighborhood. O'Brien described the robber as having a dark complexion. He was on foot and held up O'Brien as he was whitewashing the curb in front of his station.

We cover the town. If, by any chance, any person in Belleville fails to receive a copy of the Belleville News each week kindly call Belleville 2-2747 and one will be delivered.

CONSIDER QUALIFICATIONS ONLY

Belleville once more is in the throes of a political campaign. Editors never have so many friends as just before an election. Candidates and friends protest an undying love for the newspaper and all its personnel—just before an election. We suppose that this is perfectly natural; but nevertheless, it occurs to us that any man seeking office has the duty to perform of advising the electorate where he stands and what he expects to do and why he should be elected, at his own expense. The newspaper cannot afford to take sides. This newspaper has not yet made up its mind whom it will support. For a candidate to assume that a newspaper is going to give away that which is its life-blood, (circulation and space), is to show a judgment not at all flattering to a man who aspires to be one of the five directors of a large business enterprise. If these various candidates expect to tell you where they stand, it is their duty to tell you over their own signature and at their own expense. Our columns are open to the advertisements of all candidates. Henceforth, our front page is a news page. If anything happens to the individuals or to their candidates that constitutes, in our minds, real news, it will be given the news position. But so far as we are concerned, in propaganda for or against candidates or what they stand for, it will be in the form of paid advertisements.

If these candidates had the opportunity five times before an election to get every man, woman or child in a hall and explain to them exactly where they stand and why they should be elected, there is practically no limit to what they would like to pay for that opportunity. The Belleville News offers the closest approximation to that opportunity.

The question of circulation is always a debatable one in the minds of the unknowing. The question of reader interest is also debatable. The Belleville News has, at its own expense and at no increase in cost, removed both of these usual obstacles. It is delivering the next five issues, including the election eve "zero hour edition" to every home in Belleville by the Western Union Telegraph's messenger service. That insures 100 per cent circulation so far as the audience is concerned. The present situation insures interest of the electorate generally in the coming election. Therefore reader interest is there. When they read the advertisement of one of the candidates, they automatically will check that against the views of another.

All of this the candidates know. We have tried to be of civic service by making that kind of service available to these candidates. We ourselves do not know where any of these candidates stand. They have not taken anyone apparently, into their confidence. Whether they expect the electorate's support because they wear blue ties, gray suits, part their hair in the middle or "what have you," nobody seems to know. Some of these candidates either have no respect for the intelligence of the electorate; or they don't care to state their position, or they have none. It occurs to us that as a matter of plain common sense, the people in Belleville this year had better take as their candidates someone who tells them where he stands in unmistakable terms, than to turn over the reins of government to an individual who has no other qualification for public service except that he is a "nice fellow." We have had a lot of "nice fellows" in Belleville, but that is not a particularly good qualification. When the whole world is upset and when a completely new order of things is in the offing and when strong, clean, intelligent men with backbone are required to safely steer the destinies of almost 30,000 men, women and children through the troubled financial and domestic waters, the homes of every man, woman and child in this town are at stake. Consider well the qualifications and insist on a knowledge of these qualifications.

Young People Form Local Civic League Committee Has Been Appointed To Draft Constitution

A group of twenty-five young citizens formally organized and adopted the name of the Young Peoples' Civic League of Belleville at a meeting Monday in the Recreation Center.

At the last meeting the members had the pleasure of entertaining two members of the Belleville Young Men's Republican League, Robert Edelman and P. R. Crisp, who gave short talks.

Progress Club Plans Abromson Rally Members Declare He Deserves Whole-hearted Support Of Group

Declaring that Edward J. Abromson deserves the confidence and whole-hearted support of the Belleville Progress Club members of the organization last night decided to sponsor a testimonial rally in his honor. Mr. Abromson is a candidate for the town commission.

The only male Jewish organization in the town the Progress Club was organized more than four years ago and boasts of some of the most prominent men in Belleville on its roster of more than sixty names. Dr. Benjamin A. Jacobson, who is commander of the George A. Younginger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is president of the association.

Although a non-political organization its members decided to take this means of showing their feelings toward Mr. Abromson it was said.

With no date set yet for the rally a committee of seven was appointed to arrange for the affair. Abbot A. Karlin was named chairman and Benjamin Furstenburg, vice chairman. It will probably be held in the Elks' Home.

A philanthropic organization the Progress Club last year organized a Boy Scout troop that has more than twenty-five boys enrolled. It also sponsors an annual kiddies outing that is attended by more than 200 youngsters.

"Mr. Abromson," Karlin said, "was one of the organizers of the Progress Club. He served as its president four years and did much to further the welfare of Belleville Jewry and local youngsters. As the head of the club

Carragher Charges "Placed On File" Theodore Bellet, Counsel, Claims Matter Is "Whitewashed"

The charges made against Commissioner Frank J. Carragher as acting building inspector, charging building code violations, by a group of local carpenters several weeks ago were ordered "received and placed on file" by the board of commissioners Tuesday night, after reports of engineers had been read and at the recommendation of Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy.

Theodore Bellet, counsel for Joseph Becker, John Jackson and Robert Kidney, who brought the charges, charged that the case had been "whitewashed" and threatened to bring further action stating that the law requires that a public hearing shall be held where charges against a public official presented in writing by citizens town.

A communication from the Mayor who was absent from the meeting read in part:

"I am convinced that the charges do not carry sufficient weight nor accuracy to warrant bringing the building inspector before our commission charges." He recommended the charges be filed.

He enclosed a report on the buildings under discussion, a store at Washington avenue and a factory next at Rutgers and Cortlandt streets the latter being built by the Carragher Construction Co., headed by Commissioner Carragher's sons, Frank and William H. DeWar, local structural engineer. DeWar concluded after inspection:

"After a careful inspection of above mentioned buildings, although not strictly built to the letter of code, which allows the inspector to give liberal opinions of his knowledge of building construction, I will state in my opinion the walls, columns and girders are of strength to carry the superimposed weight." He added that he recommended the construction resses every twenty feet north wall of the factory.

A letter from Carragher Mayor was read, stating that building inspector requested Carragher Construction Co. to have Edmund R. Halsey, Newark civil engineer, inspect the factory. He enclosed a report from that engineer which stated that the building was structurally sound, and showed that window openings were only 32 per cent of the area of the wall, while the building code allows 40 per cent of the area of a wall of that type to be openings. Carragher wrote in part:

"In my opinion which is based on practically a lifetime in the building trade, I would say that not only the building code of the town not be violated, but that the construction said wall is much better than the code requires, and that additional buttresses are not necessary."

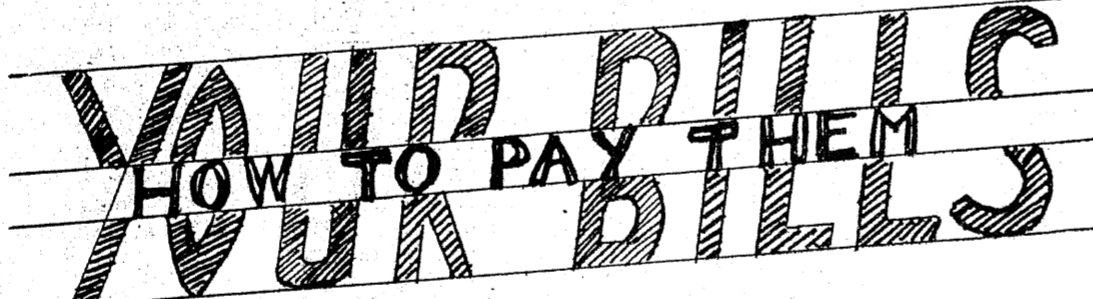

Bellet charged two weeks ago that Carragher's appointment to the post was illegal, stating that a member of a municipal governing body could not legally accept an appointive position in its jurisdiction. Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan presented an opinion Tuesday, stating that the appointment of Carragher was legal would not be set aside "by a competent jurisdiction in the State of New Jersey."

Bellet continued to demand the hearing be held, stating that in order to insure fairness he would ask the State Board of Civil Engineers to sit with the commission at the hearing. He was told by Carragher (Bellet) did not dare to take the matter to court.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Public School No. 3 has postponed its regular meeting from last night until next Thursday evening.

he built it up from a comparatively unknown organization to one of the leading powers, not only in Belleville but also in Essex County. As a result of this work he was made president of the Belleville Boy Scout Club.

"It is only fitting that the Progress Club use this method of testimony to show its past president its confidence and support during his political campaign. He is one of the leading candidates for the commission and members of the Progress Club feel that they cannot do enough to further his cause."

To Newark

Many of the candidates for election to the board of commissioners spoke at a meeting arranged by the Belleville Political and Social Club at Main's Hall, Silver Lake, last night. Nicholas Burde was unable to attend, but sent the following telegram, which was read:

"If Silver Lake were annexed to Newark, the probable tax rate in Belleville would be 4.26, in Newark, 3.6, a reduction of 100 points. Lower insurance rates, class B to class C. Better fire protection, hospitalization, ambulances, clinics, dispensaries, sewer taxes. Relief that only a city can give. Regret unable to be present. For Silver Lake annexation, NICHOLAS BURDE."

Miss Elizabeth Brown, 22, Announces

Candidacy For Board Of Commissioners

Aspirant Is Daughter Of Belleville Realtor; Studied Government At Smith College; Promises To Use "Common Sense" If Elected To Office

Miss E. Elizabeth Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Brown of 70 Division avenue, announced her candidacy for election to the board of commissioners this week. She is the youngest candidate in the field, being only 22, and is the first woman to ever seek election to the board.

The woman aspirant stated that, if elected, she would strive for economical and efficient government, using common sense to meet any situation that might arise. She promises co-operation with anyone else who may be elected to secure a harmonious commission.

Woman Commissioner Needed
"I believe Belleville that should have a woman commissioner," Miss Brown states, "Health is essentially a woman's province. A woman is usually more capable than a man in the fields of public welfare and recreation. Certainly a woman would be concerned about beautifying her community. Belleville needs a woman on the board of commissioners."

Miss Brown is a graduate of Smith College, where she majored in English and studied government. She was graduated in June, 1933, with the degree of bachelor of arts. Before attending Smith, she was a student at Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa., for a year.

The candidate is a substitute teacher in the public schools, is a member of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church and is active in Girl Scouting. She received her elementary education in Belleville schools. She was born in Jersey City, but her family moved here when she was three years old. Her father has been a realtor here many years.

The Woman's Club and the Woman's Republican Club have sought to have a woman candidate enter the race, but Miss Brown's announcement came as a surprise to them. The aspirant has stated that she will conduct her own campaign and will spend no money to seek election.

There are now twenty-two candidates seeking the five offices.

Waters Promises Clean Election;

"Floaters" Will Be Barred From Polls

Attorney Will Instruct Challengers Of All Candidates At Polling Places; Director Stresses Money Saved Taxpayers

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters told workers and supporters that the Citizens' Committee of the Town of Belleville, which is supporting him in this election, has succeeded in enlisting the voluntary services of an attorney-at-law, who will be on duty at each polling place May 8, from the time the polls open until they close. The announcement was made at a mass meeting at Waters' headquarters, 111 Washington avenue.

These lawyers, said Waters, will advise the challengers of all candidates on the law and will assist Waters in his determination to see to it that there are no fraudulent or floating voters.

Waters said that the town of Belleville has appropriated funds for a checkup that is to be made by the Superintendent of Elections office, also stating that he has written for an appointment with the Superintendent of Elections to confer with him concerning the result of their investigation no the conditions that were brought to the attention of the public last summer, particularly the alleged false registrations and registration irregularities. Waters said "no matter who the candidate may be or his party affiliations it make no difference. We are going to see to it that there is a clean election and a fair count."

The commissioner stressed to his audience the savings in his water department since he took it over in 1927. He said he made a profit of over $142,000, and pointed out the reduction in the costs in the department of public works in general.

"In my department," he said, "I have reduced the cost of operation 57 per cent in the past four years, actually reducing the tax rate. As, in times like these, we are expected to help the taxpayers by cutting to the bone, I have done this. Of course foolish economy is costly. I am also mindful of the fact that Belleville has 56 miles of improved roads, many of the penetration type, that must be kept in repair or it would be necessary to rebuild them with concrete. I have laid nothing but concrete roads in this town since taking over the public works department.

"My limited force must maintain fifty-two miles of sanitary and storm sewers and periodically clean and empty over 500 catch basins. This is important to the public of the town from a health standpoint."

Waters spoke this week at the Capital A. C., 26 Roosevelt ave., and at an open air mass meeting in Heckel street, where about 500 persons acclaimed him and assured him of their support on Election Day. Tonight there will be a mass meeting at the headquarters of his Citizens' Committee at 111 Washington avenue volunteer workers. On Monday night a card party will be held under the auspices of a committee headed by Mrs. William Herkness. Waters has attended an average of four meetings a night and his schedule is the same for the coming week.

Everett A. Hicks

Issues Statement

Stresses His Modesty And Experience As His Qualifications

Everett A. Hicks Sr., candidate for election to the town commission, issued the following statement this week, stressing his honesty, modesty and experience as his qualifications for office:

"I have known Mr. Hicks for a number of years, and I have found him to be very conscientious and too honest for his own good." There were the words spoken by one of the oldest and best known judges in Essex County.

"Such is the reputation of Everett A. Hicks Sr., a candidate in the coming commission election in Belleville, a man of smiling countenance and of ruddy complexion, gained in the pursuit of a contracting business which has covered the metropolitan area and extending when the occasion warranted, through many of the Southern States.

"Mr. Hicks is a Bellevilleite in every sense of the word, and one whose achievements of both practical and civic nature are as undisputed as his reputation. Much of Belleville's water system was inaugurated under his supervision and he has often been consulted as to existing conditions in relation to its extension and he now maintains shops and offices in both Belleville and in Newark.

"The firmness with which he conducted his affairs is well known to everyone with whom he has come in contact and despite this he at times appears to be a trifle shy, which, whereas it is disarming, is an interesting bit of his strong personality. Also, despite his approaching three score years, it has been noted that he actually blushes when called upon in public to exploit his admitted ability in the face of some of the other candidates expression of worth which is based upon everything except that which it cannot be denied he represents. Can there therefore be anything more indicative of his modesty, honesty and all 'round decency as expressed in the above paragraph?

"Shyness and blushing in these days — perhaps this together with his unusual knowledge of public affairs and experience linked to the functioning of several of the town's departments is the answer to the many perplexing problems of extravagance, etc., that have become so well known to us in the past several years."

The verses from the Bible referred to in Director Williams' answer to Mr. Pudney are as follows:

The director asks Mr. Pudney to read the twenty-first verse of the twenty-second chapter of Proverbs:

"That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee."

The two men who wrote the letter are asked to read Proverbs 20: 17:

"Bread of deceit is sweet to a man; but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel."

Psalms 35: 11: "False witnesses did rise up; they laid to my charge things that I knew not."

Psalms 64: 8: "So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves; all that see them shall flee away."

The police officer named is asked by Director Williams to read:

Revelations 3: 2 "Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die; for I have not found thy works perfect before God."

James 4: 11: "Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law; but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge."

John P. Maher Announces His Platform

Woman's Republican Club To Endorse Ticket Of Five Candidates After Poll; Former School Board Member Stresses Business Training

More than 300 persons attended a public meeting sponsored by the Woman's Republican Club last Friday night at which twenty candidates for election to the town commission spoke.

Each aspirant was allowed five minutes to outline his platform.

The candidates were introduced by Mrs. John F. O'Brien, president of the club. Mrs. James Alexander, Mrs. Ida Hammell and Mrs. Arthur Darvo assisted in conducting the program. The club held a poll on the candidates last night and the five receiving the greatest number of votes will be endorsed by the organization.

Maher Platform
John P. Maher, who served twelve years on the board of education, announced his platform this week. It reads in part:

"My business training and experience, my intimate knowledge of Belleville town affairs in general and my years of constructive service on the Board of Education prove that in all matters my decisions, as in the past, would be guided by my own judgment and conscience to do what is best for the town at large. To truly represent Belleville a commissioner must know as much about all departments as he does of the one to which he is assigned.

"I will urge a survey and study of all services performed by the town and its employees with a view to possible consolidation or realignment and the abolishing of all non-essentials. I will stubbornly resist any expenditures except in real emergency or when sanctioned by a referendum of the people.

"With the co-operative effort of all the commissioners, I will find a way to assist the taxpayers to reduce their indebtedness to the town, thereby avoiding the necessity for issuing so many baby bonds and scrip. Every department should have its particular budget and I will urge their establishment. A centralized purchasing bureau should be in charge of an engineer who would certify as to the quantity and quality of all materials purchased and support his certificate with an affidavit."

Candidates Favorable To Woman Serving

As Member Of Board Of Commissioners

Political Aspirants Believe Women Should Take Active Interest In Government; Think Women Aid In Maintaining Dignified Campaign

The majority of the candidates for election to the town commission would not be displeased to see a woman elected to the board, a survey made last night by The Belleville News discloses. The candidates feel that women should take an active part in government. Many of them said that they believe that women in politics tend to lend greater dignity to a campaign and maintain better standards of ethics when in office.

The individual statements of the aspirants follow:

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher: "A woman has just as much right to run for public office as a man."

Commissioner William D. Clark: "I am quite favorable to women taking an interest in politics."

Commissioner William H. Williams: "Splendid! Several weeks ago I urged the placing of a woman candidate in the election race. The public relief work, health and sanitation divisions all offer opportunities for a woman commissioner to do good work. I have not had the pleasure of meeting Miss Brown, but her education, training and personality will help to maintain the campaign on a dignified basis."

Edward J. Abromson: "Women are taking an interest in politics, which they should. There is no reason why they should not take an active part in government. They are represented in business and industry, and they should be represented in government."

Nicholas Burde: "I think it is absolutely all right. I believe there should be a woman on the board."

Thomas C. D'Avella: "As a lawyer and a business man, I have had the opportunity to observe women in executive positions and have found them very capable and efficient. There are many such women in Belleville. I believe that a capable and efficient woman on the board of commissioners in Belleville would be of great benefit to the town."

Samuel Figurelli: "I am very happy to see that a woman has entered the race."

Everett A. Hicks: "If it is the wish of the public to place a woman on the board, I am satisfied, because I gave my efforts in 1912 and 1913 to the cause of woman suffrage. I was in favor of women voting, and I am in favor of their holding office. Women help to keep politics clean."

Joseph King: "I have sat on boards with women before, and they are all right."

John P. Maher: "I have no objec-

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hand Had Sold Real Estate Here Eleven Years

After a neighbor had become alarmed by the barking of their pet dog, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Hand of 401 Union avenue were found dead in their bedroom of bullet wounds Saturday afternoon. The local couple, who had conducted a real estate business under the name of Hand and Hand for eleven years, died Friday night, County Medical Examiner Harrison S. Martlandt stated.

A note, addressed to Mr. Hand's sister, Mrs. Ellen Bowman of 546 Broadway, New York, read:

Dear Sister—Forgive us. We lost everything we had and we can't stand the disgrace. We are going together.

Lovingly, Andrew.

Mrs. Hand had a bullet wound in her left temple, and appeared to have been asleep when shot. Her husband was shot through the roof of the mouth, and held a revolver from which two shots had been fired in his hand.

Dr. Martlandt refused to say whether the tragedy was a double suicide or a murder and suicide. He stated that, although the note indicated a suicide pact, there was no evidence to show that it was not a case of homicide and suicide.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

To the Editor of The News:

Dear Sir: Last week I stated that I would submit a detailed analysis of the 1934 budget but due to the publication of a letter received by the local newspapers and which I requested should be promptly printed, I feel that my reply to the Members of the Board of Commissioners, to the WRITERS of the letter, and to the SIGNER (because I have been assured that he signed the letter at the urgings of two men who called at his home after 11 o'clock Thursday evening) should be promptly published. I wish all taxpayers to know of what unfair tactics certain persons will take—even when the finest type of public service is being rendered. May I ask your readers to study the facts contained in my reply, published herewith, and refuse to countenance anything but the TRUTH relative to any candidate or their town. My reply follows:

WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS.

TO MAYOR KENWORTHY AND MEMBERS OF BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

An open letter in one of the local papers carried a statement which cast unpleasant inferences on the integrity of one or more members of the Board of Commissioners.

When the integrity of a Commissioner is subjected to criticism, whether substantial or false, members of the governing body must take recognition—when the integrity of your Chief Financial Officer of the town is questioned—whether founded on fact or on base slander—an immediate study and report is due your honorable body.

Finance Director Williams has been conducting a re-election campaign consistent with the dignity befitting the position and responsibility of your Chief Financial Officer—detailed, accurate explanations are being afforded the taxpayers through both local newspapers of the financial status of Belleville, operating policies and analysis of operating costs. Every mail brings to me several letters expressing commendation on the data supplied to the taxpayers.

RUMORS IMPUGN INTEGRITY OF FINANCE DIRECTOR

During the past week, certain rumors have been passed around town relative to the integrity and intentions of candidates for re-election and also of candidates for election. While some persons have apparently forgotten that candidates and their friends can remain gentlemen and still disagree on matters of operating policies, Finance Director Williams did not believe that any person or persons would be so lacking in civic pride and American sportsmanship as to attack the personal character and motives of a public official with a record of eight years on the Zoning Board and four years as Finance Director, and would be so lacking in moral courage that they would seek safety behind the secrecy of slanderous inferences. One prominent newspaper has stated that some party is expected to "throw dirt" very shortly—a most inelegant expression for a supposedly educated person, but also indicative of the mental or immoral viewpoint that can be developed, during a campaign. With a great deal of satisfaction, letters signed by Benjamin G. Pudney of 76 De Witt avenue were read to me by the editors of our local papers in which an answer was requested and in which the personal integrity of Finance Director Williams was questioned. The editors were instructed by me to publish the letter and permit Finance Director Williams to publicly state the facts.

PUDNEY SIGNED BUT DIDN'T WRITE LETTER

At this time, Gentlemen of the Board, I will read to you the letter which was signed by Mr. Pudney, but which was not written by him. Two men Mr. Pudney believed were his "friends" called at his home last Thursday night at 11 o'clock and after working on his good nature, impelled Mr. Pudney to sign a letter basely attacking the Chief Finance Officer of Belleville, while at the same time using their "friendship" for Mr. Pudney as a means of gratifying some unfair ambitions and apparently grasping for a hope to aid the candidacy of someone else.

In the interest of the good name of Belleville and to preserve the proper sense of dignity among those who aspire to be the five men to act as the governing body for this municipality, and to preserve these five elected officials from any unfair judgment, I challenge any candidate or friend of any candidate to publicly and definitely state than any member of this Board of Commissioners has, during his term, committed any illegal or unethical act.

Finance Director Williams herewith honestly answers each and every criticism with a reply that should be very gratifying to the taxpayers, to you board members, and which reply should be a lesson to all lacking energy and courage enough to go to the town treasurer for the facts.

"MARY ANDERSON CASE"

The Mary Anderson case—"A victim of politics"—Mr. Pudney's letter writers are correct—Miss Anderson is a victim of politics of her supposed friends. This clerk, at one time in the Department of Revenue and Finance, was appointed by my predecessor—Finance Director Williams retained her for nearly two years—it was his privilege at any time to play politics with the job.

public meeting stated Miss Anderson was not a citizen—this was a fact—Finance Director Williams made two trips to Naturalization Commissioner in Newark to expedite delivery of second papers of this party—nothing could be done—Miss Anderson's father came to my office and roundly cursed at me while I was endeavoring to help her—her sister came to my office and on several occasions verbally proved offensive—could you or I, Mr. Pudney, as a non-citizen of Denmark or England go into the office of the second highest public official in any city and do these things and not be arrested and possibly deported? Miss Anderson was a fine type of employee—her attention to business was admired by me—it is regrettable she did not have her citizenship papers—her job is being done by the widow of a deceased World War veteran, who, in addition to doing her office job well, is "carrying on" the support of her eight year old daughter and the town has saved $1,800 on this job in two years. I am sure you, Mr. Pudney, and your World War buddies approve of my action of putting the widow of one of your deceased pals to work on a job formerly held by a non-citizen and the taxpayers will approve my action in saving $1,800 in salary costs in past two years. A pretty good kind of politics, is it not, Mr. Pudney and gentlemen of the board?

"HENRY UNDERWOOD CASE"

"The Henry Underwood case—another victim of politics" proves false when the facts are analyzed—Mr. Underwood was a most gracious gentleman of eighty-five years in 1932—Finance Director Williams had pledged to operate his department with every economy possible, he knew Mr. Underwood's duties were highly important, that of searching tax titles,—errors are serious matters to property owners and omissions of tax items from searches have been expensive to the taxpayers. After talking with several of Mr. Underwood's old friends who will substantiate this statement, I requested his resignation.

The salary of $2,400 received by Mr. Underwood was abolished but the detailed duties were transferred to two clerks whose pay had already been cut 14 per cent. We established a better quality of work by having one clerk check the other's work which we hope will prevent a repetition of losses incurred prior to 1930 due to overlooking open tax items. Sounds like the kind of politics every taxpayer has been looking for! Incidentally, Mr. Pudney, the two men who have assumed Mr. Underwood's duties were appointed by one of my predecessors—if I wanted to play politics, I could have replaced both with other persons but again I let attention to business become the sole guide—and also, Mr. Pudney, please ask one of your letter writing friends to admit or deny if he asked me to discharge Mr. Underwood in 1930 and give the job to one of his friends, saying his services during the 1930 campaign gave him the right to selecting two men for jobs—he landed out in the corridor shortly after.

In three years—1932, 1933 and 1934—the tax search job reorganization has saved the taxpayers $2,400 per year or a total of $7,200, which again is the kind of politics which saves taxpayers money.

"THE DOUGHERTY CASE"

"The Dougherty Case—A victim of politics." No, Mr. Pudney, no politics were involved in the replacement of Mr. Dougherty—one of the pleasant memories I have today is that I held the esteem and friendship of Mr. Dougherty and his family after his retirement. Mr. Dougherty told me on several occasions he met difficulty in his meter reading work—Mr. Dougherty received $2,200 per year—he was replaced by a young, active man who is a credit to our department and whose salary is $1,500 per year. This change represents a saving of $2,100 for 1932, 1933 and 1934. Another instance of the kind of politics that the Taxpayer will approve.

INSURANCE REFERENCE

One of the many results of which Finance Director Williams takes especial pride in is the economies established in the insurance expense of the town. Only last week, I publicly cited the insurance program economies, therefore, it is evident the facts were of no more interest to the letter writers than the friendship of Pudney.

William H. Williams, Being duly sworn according to law, on his oath says that at no time prior to my entry of office as Commissioner of the Town of Belleville, N. J., furthermore, I am not now, nor I have ever been associated with any corporation or corporations or individuals engaged in selling materials or supplies to the Town of Belleville, N. Williams and ask him to distribute the compensation insurance among the Realty Board members. Not one insurance company of six I have questioned would consider such a plan—two companies would not accept the Compensation Insurance under any circumstance, even if they got all the insurance on buildings and autos and employees bonds—three of the best known companies refused to take the Compensation Insurance unless they received the entire auto and building insurance. Letters from prominent companies confirming above statements are available for the board members and Taxpayers to analyze. Finance Director Williams asks folks to study these facts.

POLITICS WAS PLAYED

Auto insurance was not carried on fire engines and motorcycles—the most hazardous risks—and in addition I found the cheapest kind of politics being played with the town's insurance. Was it the usual kind of politics to take insurance from even my closest personal friends and place all cars on one fleet policy? Was it not good business to group all the insurance in one policy and in the years 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934 give the Taxpayers 100 per cent guarantee that a first line insurance company would absorb all the financial worries of accidents—and save the Taxpayers in the years 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934, $6,000 by my fleet policy plan as against the plan of insuring cars individually and even worse—one car was insured by three different agents—one had a liability policy—one had a fire policy and the third had a theft policy—a his company holding our insurance policies Director Williams has only the finest of regards for him as a citizen and property owner of the highly respected type and representing one of America's best rated insurance companies—Belleville Taxpayers' interests are soundly and economically protected—$6,000 has been saved in four years and at least one agent whom Finance Director Williams trusted and later discharged—has found that the integrity of your Finance Director cannot be violated and have friendships maintained.

Does this better business plan and its resulting economies not assure all that a new type of politics exists in Belleville. Facts overpower slanderous inferences and thanks is given to Mr. Pudney for bringing to the surface those innuendos so many are prone to pass on as what "somebody said."

NEVER SOLD MATERIAL TO BELLEVILLE

My answer to whatever inference was intended to be conveyed by asking folks to observe that the name of a particular commissioner might be placed on a billboard on roof of the General Mill Supply Company building is that Finance Director Williams is filing an affidavit with the Town Clerk to be made a part of the official record of the town that "Finance Director Williams at no time prior to his entry into office, or while in office, has ever sold any material directly or indirectly to the Town of Belleville—furthermore that he is not now, nor has he been associated with any corporation or corporation of

Finance Director Williams appreciates full well the tremendous responsibility one assumes in filing a false affidavit, particularly one as broad as he has filed with the Town Clerk, and challenges any one to publicly state he is or ever was associated with any opportunity to benefit by sale of goods to Belleville.

When ability is beyond reproach, when results have been proven—it has been ever the work of wee folks to attack the personal integrity.

QUESTIONS POLICEMAN'S RIGHT TO SLANDER

Relative to statement of an American being precluded from voicing opinions, may Finance Director Williams ask when did the right become created for a policeman to assail the personal character of a Finance Director who has repeatedly neglected his personal business to try to find money for employee payrolls—when has it become the right of a policeman even though he may be president of the local P. B. A.—to abuse those banking institutions which loaned Belleville $125,000 in June of 1932 so Finance Director could give teachers one full month's salary before they went home—and another banking institution which loaned Belleville $65,000 so another payroll could be met—when has it become the privilege of this policeman to continually talk about suing his employers, the Taxpayers—even after he was shown town bank balances were insufficient to pay even 10 per cent of a pay roll—when has it been the right of this steadily employed policeman by the unbridled use of vicious language—on and off duty—to disparage our fine staff of uniformed men who have carried on with pay cuts—vacations sacrificed—doubling up for sick fellow-workers—when did the right of free speech ever extend to the point where men who have loaned their money to Belleville and found it frozen here for two years after Belleville promised to pay it back, should have their personal and business characters assailed with foul language by one who was a beneficiary of part of that man's money?

Yes, Mr. Pudney, Finance Director Williams did reprimand a policeman with his top superior officer, Chief Flynn present—and on the chief's inquiry—the policeman's only excuse for his contemptible conduct, was that "Commissioner Williams did not have my gas stove turned on when I asked him"—What an excuse! Would this man be reprimanded anywhere else in New Jersey or would he not be fired in almost any other town? He apologized and promised Chief Flynn not to say anything offensive or anything hereafter he was not ready to prove. But this officer did not tell that Finance Director Williams left his home one night when every other employee was receiving all bonds for wages and gave this particular policeman a half-month's check which was promptly cashed because his gas stove was being removed—and Finance Director Williams had to have him sent for on the second next day because he failed to keep his word to make payment to the gas company.

He Cashed His Bonds

This policeman did not tell folks that Finance Director Williams had him checked up after three days had been received by him and he reported all his bonds had been disposed of on the first day after pay day—but he still applied highly immoral language to the Finance Director and all his antecedents clear back to Clonmel and Roscommon. Yes, Mr. Pudney, and gentlemen of this board, as any official with an ounce of red blood in his body would do—I reprimanded him—After committing all these unfair acts, after cashing his bonds, although he had received soldier bonus while a policeman—this individual without the knowledge of his superiors and unknown to his fellow policemen—brings an unfair and unwarranted criticism on all the thirty-two splendid gentlemen of the Belleville police force and on his town by obtaining food relief orders from the late Emergency Relief Department—yes, Finance Director Williams did reprimand this policeman—several of his fellow police officers have told me he has been unfair to the police department—I now demand that he return every dollar to the State Emergency Relief Department if he has not already followed my original demand—every cop knows he can come to me and obtain courtesy, and if possible for me to act, he can obtain real help.

RENDERED REAL SERVICE

Finance Director Williams believes he is rendering a real service to his town and to every employee throughout our money shortage period and is being fair to the Taxpayers interest by placing this policeman before his chief, and finding him unable to explain reasons for his misconduct, demanding an apology or making him face nine charges as violations of the police rules—an apology was received.

Gentlemen of the board, the record of the Town Treasurer will substantiate the action of a

The BOSTON STORE

Belleville's Shopping Center

The Boston Store was founded
May 3, 1919, upon the cornerstone of Service and Value. It prospered. It served an ever increasing clientele. Small at first, a larger store was in the making.

In 1922, the original store, 14x35 feet in area, was razed and a new, more modern store was erected with a floor space of 1500 sq.
feet. New departments were added.

Stocks were augmented with larger and more complete assortments. The Boston Store became an institution.

It kept on growing in public favor and confidence.
In 1925 a still larger store
was required. 621 square feet were annexed. Another three years elapsed.

Then came the Men's Shop! With its own, separate entrance adjoining the main store entrance on Washington Avenue. The Boston Store then became the largest department store be-teen Passaic & Newark with a total floor space of over 2000 sq.ft.

The Boston Store carries only first quality merchandise at the very lowest prices consistent with dependability and service. A. Atkins is the founder, owner and proprietor.

Clark Re-elected Head Of Building & Loan

Report Shows Successful Year Despite Economic Depression

Commissioner William D. Clark was re-elected president of the North Belleville Building and Loan Association at the annual meeting held Monday night at the association's offices, 500 Washington avenue. Other officers re-elected were Edwin J. McCurdy, vice president; John P. Dailey, secretary; William Abramson, treasurer; and John DeGraw, counsel. Philip Dettelbach, John Ray, H. V. Henwell and William F. L. Weyland were named trustees for three year terms.

The annual statement of condition read at the meeting disclosed that the association enjoyed an unusually successful year despite the fact that many building and loan organizations found 1933 particularly trying. The North Belleville B. & L. Association earned 7.2 per cent on its investments and of these earnings $26,000 or 5.5 per cent were apportioned among the shareholders.

On May 2, the association will mature its twenty-sixth series and will pay a total of $32,600 to fifty-two

Foundations Differ According To Individual Needs

Every woman knows that the main feature of a fashionable 1934 silhouette is a well raised "uplift" bustline. There are many ways of achieving this smart line, depending on their individual figure requirements. Maiden Form makes a big point of designing just the right styles for various types to help you — and you, and you — bring out your own natural charms. Among many new creations for spring, there are, for instance, two entirely new and distinctly different brassieres each designed to bring its wearer closer to fashion's ideal.

"Half-Way" is the more sensational, little more than a "frame-work" that covers only the lower half of the breasts. For slim and medium figures, that need support and uplift but not a great deal of moulding, "Half-Way" is the perfect "back-to-nature" brassiere.

"Hold-Tite" on the other hand, is the brassiere for those figures that need complete, all around moulding. It is built up to control the upper as well as the lower curves of the bust, with straps set on in such a way that they cannot slip off the shoulders. "Hold-Tite" may be had either in a simple bandeau treatment or with a band below the breast sections, for figures needing diaphragm control.

We must tell you about the new "Once-Over" (one piece foundation) which Maiden Form has given such a very delightfully adaptable back. This back can be adjusted, both in depth and in snugness, by a simple, flat, button and buttonhole arrangement. Even the lowest cut evening gown would be no problem with this "Once-Over" which, by the way, has the body portion of fashioned two-way stretch Lastex, with brassiere top of lovely all over lace.

Exchange Service Offered Public

The National Exchange Service, Inc., has developed a plan which should be of great interest to all individuals who are faced with the problem of meeting obligations. Under the Finance Budget Plan, developed by this organization, it is possible for an individual to consolidate his obligations and dispose of them through it. Anyone desiring to take up this plan may do so without having to pay any interest charge, any security, and without any red tape whatsoever. The plan provides for payments in easy installments based upon one's ability to pay.

Under present day conditions where so many people are worried about their obligations because of reduced income, this plan should provide a welcome solution. The average individual in many instances has had to create a number of obligations which he has been unable to meet. With all of one's creditors desiring to be paid at one time and with a limited income with which to do this, one is apt to be at wits end to satisfy every creditor in the community.

The finance budget plan which has been developed by the National Exchange Service, Inc., is now being extended to the citizens of this and surrounding townships as a dignified, constructive solution for this harassing problem.

shareholders. This is a "short" series, maturing in a little more than seven years.

Of most importance to the public at large was the report that the association has made six new mortgage loans totalling $18,800 on local one-family residences since the first of the year. Mr. Dailey said yesterday that the association is prepared to consider additional applications for mortgage loans on good, owner-occupied Belleville properties.

Candidates Invited To Foresters' Card Party

All candidates for election to the board of commissioners have been invited to the card party to be given by Court General Phil Kearny, Foresters of America, Tuesday at 8:30 P. M. at the Knights of Columbus home, 169 Washington avenue. The proceeds of the party will be expended for charitable causes, Edward F. McFadden, chairman, has announced. The court, No. 27, has been established in Belleville forty-three years.

Form Ladies Auxiliary

Ladies Auxiliary of the Belleville Political and Social Club recently held its first meeting at the home of the corresponding secretary, 24 Wilson place, and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. H. Cittarelli; vice president, Mrs. Batocci; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. Martini; financial secretary, Mrs. J. Steffanelli; treasurer, Mrs. S. Bonannella; and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. D'Onofrio. Twenty-five members were initiated. Refreshments were served.

The Belleville Woman's Republican Club met yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club house, 51 Rossmore place. The president, Mrs. John F. O'Brien Jr., presided. The members voted on the candidates for the coming commission election, and the five who received the greatest number of votes will be given the club's endorsement. The books of donations toward the five dollars in cash were taken care of and the winner will be announced. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the business session.

There are approximately twenty-one candidates in the field aspiring for a place on the commission, few telling anyone why they deserve that office. It seems clearly indicated that some individuals have entered this race for no reason at all except, on the basis of the hope, that the present incumbents will be thrown out and that by some trick of fate, they might find themselves in a position of responsibility and authority. That is a terrible commentary upon this thing we call democratic government. It is, in our opinion, one of the things that has made Belleville "different." There is almost a dearth of outstanding men aspiring to office. There seems to be no real competition between men of the same calibre for the positions of responsibility. Almost on every hand, someone remarks about the "weakness" of the field. Many individuals will bemoan the fact that the field is "weak" but they seem hesitant in presenting themselves for office. Just so long as the so-called "decent" men and women content themselves with "fireside" criticism and fail to take an interest in their government, just so long will those who participate in government for their own personal, selfish motives, retain control. Every year they retain control, which enables them to build up and solidify a machine, makes it almost impossible for the "decent" citizens to regain control. What a heritage we leave for our youngsters in refusing to accept the most priceless obligation of American citizenship and that is a real vital, active interest in government.

Six months ago everyone was remarking that an entirely new group of commissioners would be elected. That was six months ago. Today it seems universally accepted that at least three of the present commissioners will be returned to office. The result of this is that the seventeen or eighteen individuals who are not incumbent are all competing for two vacancies. It requires a lot of conceit for those individuals to sit down and figure that they are going to be considered the best of the "field" choice. As a matter of truth, some of these individuals would probably drop out of the race completely if this became apparent. Certainly The Belleville News can do nothing more than point out this situation.

There are many candidates in the field of whom the general electorate know absolutely nothing. They are undoubtedly all estimable gentlemen. Certainly we must take that for granted. But regardless of how estimable they may be, certainly before lending their support to these estimable men, it is a requirement that the citizens as a whole must know something about them. Few of them have told anybody where they stand. It occurs to us therefore, that in the absence of any information to the contrary, they possibly are not in earnest and that they were guided solely by the enthusiasm of a small group of friends in entering the race. To have in a race so many candidates concerning whom the average man in the street knows nothing, is to cloud the issue. It is our suggestion therefore that in order that a clear cut issue between those who are "in" and those who are "out" might be drawn, that those individuals who have nothing more than a chance of a "lucky break," (which is not a desirable thing) should withdraw from the race and that those who are seriously contesting for the position on the basis of their merit, tell the voters where they stand. Almost nothing has publicly been stated concerning some candidates.

It is our suggestion that they solicit support on the basis of these qualifications and not continue to inspire the feeling among the people that they are simply hoping for a "break."

If any of these candidates are seriously running for office and can present tangible, sensible reasons for their remaining in the race, our objections, of course, would be withdrawn. Otherwise we can see no reason for their participation. To those civic-minded organizations, to those who have a real interest at heart in better government, we say to you also "prevail upon representative, qualified citizens to enter this race."

April 28 is the last day to file nominating petitions.

Writer Declares William D. Clark Has Been Crusader For Good In Town No Blatant Trumpets. Heralded His Efforts; Just A Sin- cere Wish To Serve His Town, Says Fred Handlon

Editor News:
Sir: Now that the coming election is the paramount topic for discussion whenever men gather and form little groups, we hear a great deal concerning the need for a change in our municipal affairs — a new spirit of municipal loyalty which shall overcome the selfish indifference that now paralyzes all efforts for better government.

This is an old and notorious story, this of municipal misgovernment and we hardly need another investigation such as is now being experienced in our neighboring Passaic County or the recent scandals in various parts of our own county, to open the people's eyes to the extent and unscrupulousness of machine rule. If there is a single honest citizen ignorant of the methods of a gang that manipulates municipal affairs in some of our adjacent towns and cities, let him read the daily newspaper accounts of the disclosures uncovered as a result of these investigations and learn of the plundering rule of certain types of politicians.

There is a crying need for the awakening of our civic affairs are to be saved from ruin and redeemed to better things. The disease is effecting the whole body politic, and unless a remedy is efficiently and persistently applied, moral death must ensue.

While many other towns and cities of less cosmopolitan nature have been wallowing in orgies of crime, we of Belleville have been immune from its influences. Here and there those of sinister aspirations have succeeded in entering our little realm, thanks to the untiring persistency of our safety director, they have been quickly exterminated.

Those of us who have come forward in support of Commissioner Clark for re-election to that important post of safety director, recognize him to be our crusader in the cause for good in our local town administration. We hasten to recognize him and in retrospect, over the past eight years he has represented us, not one tinge of municipal corruption has tainted the political history of Belleville. No bltant trumpets herald his efforts; no promiscuous promises to attract the less serious minded; just a conscientious sincere desire to again conduct the affairs of the town as economically and as efficiently as characterized in the long years he has served us.

Nothing can be more praiseworthy than attempts to raise the standard of public purity and efficiently in all branches of public service, as evidenced by the interest many of our Women's Clubs have directed their efforts, particularly since women are not tempted as men are, to work with the expectation of personal award. It is extremely gratifying to those of us interested in civic affairs, to be honored by many women who have come forward in our cause and whose assistance, in the final analysis, we have looked upon as being the kitchen work of statesmanship, for they occupy the same relation to it that domestic economy does to the institution of a family. It is indeed regretful that of all the twenty or so aspirants for the commissionerships, there does not number one woman among them. If there was ever an urgent need for a woman high in her intention, to represent us, the time is right now. An old adage adequately expresses this thought, "if we would know the political and moral conditions of a city we must ask what rank women hold in it." Is further proof necessary?

It is our sincere hope, that after the tallying of votes is completed, there will be included among those with Mr. Clark chosen to again represent us, the names of assured integrity and independence to the officers of civic trust.

Only then will we be convinced there is still existing a spirit of honest devotion to the common good and this is the basis of all reform.

Yours for co-operation,
FRED B. HANDLON.

Civic Pride Prompts George R. Gerard To Seek Place In Town Commission

Howard J. Virtue Declares Former School Superintendent Wants To Be Known As Doer Of Things Rather Than Promiser

Editor, Belleville News.

Dear Sir:

I wish to take this opportunity, if you will permit, to express some of my views through your valuable paper, concerning the candidacy of George R. Gerard for commissioner of the Town of Belleville.

Mr. Gerard's statement, when announcing his candidacy that he would like to be known as a doer of things rather than a promiser, is typical of the kind of man that the voters and citizens of Belleville need to represent them at the Town Hall. He is not a politician and his one motive in becoming a candidate is solely due to civic pride in his home town. He is vastly interested in the school children of Belleville, for whom he so faithfully served in the capacity of supervisor. Mr. Gerard can be depended upon, if elected, not to weaken in any way the school system of which he is so proud.

I fully and sincerely believe that if the citizens of Belleville elect Mr. Gerard to the office of commissioner they will have taken a step forward towards the right kind of government and representation.

Mr. Gerard's record for economy is well known. A believer in economy with progress, but not progress with out economy, is the kind of man the suffering taxpayers need and will demand.

Let George do it.
Yours for better government,
HOWARD J. VIRTUE.
30 Mertz Ave.,

Editor The News:

I have read a letter signed by a Mr. Benjamin G. Pudney in which he has seen fit to comment upon a number of matters upon which, I feel quite sure, he has not sought sufficient facts to warrant his rushing into print. I do not feel that I can impugn Mr. Pudney's motives, but it would appear that he has either been misled or that he is just another "sniper." I have been reliably informed that Mr. Pudney has, since he wrote his letter to your paper, been informed as to the Anderson, Underwood and Dougherty cases, and I hope to read in your paper at some future date, another letter from Mr. Pudney in which he will make an honorable amendment.

Mr. Pudney says that he is watching with "keen interest" the bill-board over my store. I hope that this preoccupation will not interfere with his more serious affairs for very long, as I hope, within the next few days, to have my painters at work to announce my advocacy of Commissioner Williams as a candidate for commissioner.

I am a taxpayer of this town, owning three parcels of real estate and pay rent in another. My interests can truthfully be said to be vitally bound up in this town and as a business man I would scarcely advocate the candidacy of any person for the important office which Mr. Williams is seeking if I were not convinced of the ability, intelligence and probity of the gentleman in question.

This country has been passing through a troublous period. The effects have touched every person in some way or another and they have seriously affected not only the nation as a whole but every political subdivision hereof. We do not have occasion to go very far afield to see what is happening in some other municipalities. Compared with many other towns and cities, Belleville has adequate reason to congratulate itself upon having had the benefit of Mr. Williams' services. He has probably made some errors of judgment, he would not be human if he had not, but whatever they may have been, and I confess that I am not competent to pass judgment upon them, I am advocating his return to office from a purely selfish motive, and that is because I am interested in Belleville retaining an honest, efficient and intelligent public servant who has done his job as well as can reasonably be expected.

I assume that Mr. Pudney is a taxpayer, else there would be little excuse for his expressing himself publicly, and I feel quite sure that with a more mature deliberation, he will agree that now is not the time to go in for experimentation in municipal affairs by swapping horses. While it may very well be true that there are men who are Mr. Williams' equal in the race, we at least know what Finance Director Williams has done and can do and the taxpayers of Belleville would be very ill-advised to deal with an hypothesis when it is possible to deal with a demonstrated fact.

For fear that I have not conveyed my thoughts with sufficient force may I add that I am for FINANCE DIRECTOR WILLIAMS and I rather believe that a man of Mr. Pudney's evident intelligence it not seriously advocating anything so illogical as withholding the support of any citizen for him in this campaign.

Samuel Figurelli, Candidate, Makes Answer To Director Williams On Officials-Employees

"Evidently Mr. Williams Wants It To Appear Candidates Are Not In A Position To Express Themselves Because Of Possible Promises," He Says

Editor News:

Samuel Figurelli, candidate for commissioner, at a mass meeting Tuesday at 282 Belleville avenue made an answer to Director William A. Williams who challenged the various candidates for the commission to make known their stand as to what would be the status of certain officials and employees in the town if new commissioners were elected.

"It is quite clear that Mr. Williams' challenge has a sinister motive and as is true of many other things that he says and does, tainted with common politics," said Figurelli.

"Evidently Mr. Williams wants it to appear that the commission candidates seeking office are not in a position to express themselves on this point because of possible promises they may have made. As for myself, I do not hesitate to say that I have made no promises or pledges to anyone and that anyone performing essential services in a dutiful way need have no fear in my election but those hanging on to the political feed bag may consider themselves out. I can not express myself beyond this point as it would be unlawful to promise anyone any position and it would disqualify anyone making a promise from holding office, if elected. Commissioner Williams knows this and he should keep to the issues and not make certain esteemed people the football of politics, the very thing which he claims to avoid.

"Mr. Williams also says in connection with his candidacy that he saved the Town of Belleville the sum of $30,000.00 in interest in as much as he sold bonds valued at $1,000,000.00 at 4 1/2 per cent interest and rejected bids that called for 4 3/4 per cent interest. Anyone else under like circumstances would have done nothing else but rejected such bids and telling us what other towns may have done does not make Belleville right. Belleville needs to take different action and put itself in a different position. In the final analysis, the alleged saving of $30,000.00 is an imaginary or paper saving and can hardly be termed as an actual saving. Let Commissioner Williams tell us of some real and true economies and we can then better judge him.

"The director of revenue and Finance reveals a further weakness when he blames past administrations for present ills. Certainly if past administrations deserve condemnation, logic demands the inclusion of the present administration in such condemnation. The present board of commissioners had four years in which to improve conditions or at least to maintain the position that we had in 1930. A little foresight and common business judgment would have kept us from becoming involved as we are. If one simply wears the badge of commissioner that does not make him any more qualified to hold such office. The governor of this State can not succeed himself regardless of how good an administration he gives us and still the State of New Jersey has not suffered by it.

"Four or more years is long enough to find out what anyone can do. It is fearlessness and independence that is needed in government today to ameliorate conditions; and let no one say that conditions can not be bettered. Only a person without vision or too lazy to act would subscribe to such an admission. Let us awake and face conditions truthfully and get on the job and correct them otherwise we will wake up and find that our schools will have to be closed or partially closed and our police and fire departments curtailed. Yes, that which the citizens have so nobly strived for will be taken away from them.

Director Patrick A. Waters of the Department of Public works also advances a very novel theory of saving when he says he saved the people of Belleville $32,000.00 because his own department in conjunction with the assessment commissioners made up a sewer assessment without the necessity of engaging a private engineer at a fee of $32,000.00. Just imagine the people of Belleville paying an engineer $32,000.00 for a job that should and could be done by the officials and employees of Belleville. There certainly was no need to engage a private engineer to do something which could be done by the town employees that had a lot of time on their hands. In other words, the commissioners of the Town of Belleville could just as well say that they intended to spend $1,000,000.00 on some unnecessary and needless project and then decide that they would not go ahead with the same and boldly claim that they had saved the taxpayers of Belleville a million dollars. Well, this is an example of the record of the present administration on their own admissions. Do you want four more years of it?"

SAMUEL FIGURELLI.

Andrew P. Wittel Extols Charles Longhi, Socialist Candidate, As Workers Choice

Campaign Manager Declares Candidate Has Often Voiced The Opinion Of Plain People At Open Meetings Of Commission

Interested citizens, particularly wage earners, who have been hardest hit by the depression, cannot fail to note that among all the candidates who aspire to be elected on May 8 there is only one who courageously stands for the workers and advocates fundamental principles that go to the root of the evils from which the Town of Belleville suffers.

Charles Longhi is an honest intelligent wage worker who has studied the affairs of Belleville from a workers point of view. He is not only qualified and fit to discharge the duties of commissioner equally as well as any one in the field, but if elected he can be depended upon to be a capable champion for the rights and interests of the workers when most needed.

After all the wage workers compose the vast majority of the population of Belleville. Mr. Longhi has often voiced the interests of the plain people, the workers, at open meetings of the town commission. He will do so far more effectively if elected to office. It is time that the working people of Belleville should have one of their own class who understands their needs on the board of commissioners of Belleville.

Respectfully,
ANDREW P. WITTEL.

Natale Will Support

Waters And Figurelli

Joseph Natale, Democratic district leader in the First Ward, Third District, has announced that he is supporting the candidacies of Patrick A. Waters and Samuel Figurelli, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. He denies that he is supporting only one candidate for the town commission but will work for the election of a ticket of five before the end of the race.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. H. Romaine Peck of 330 Jorammon street have announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Miss Adell Williams Peck, to James Edward Sutherland of Macomb, Ill. Miss Peck is an accomplished pianist and is prominent in musical circles in this section. Mr. Sutherland is a designing engineer, having received his B. S. degree from Bradley College, Peoria, Ill. He is now working for his master's degree at Rutgers College, New Brunswick, Saturday.

Where Is Joe?

The Belleville News would like to have Joe Natale, picker of winning candidates, appear at The News office with his predictions for this election in Belleville. Joe has a record of never missing. How about it, Joe, let the Belleville voters in on the secret.

Mayer Addresses Many At Party

Five Able Men With Integrity of Purpose Needed, He Declares

Arthur E. Mayer, non-partisan candidate for commissioner, was accorded an enthusiastic welcome at a card party held in his honor Wednesday, April 4, at the Elks' Club.

Mr. Mayer was introduced to the affable gathering by J. T. Lewis, president of the "Arthur Mayer Boosters" under whose auspices the party was arranged. In his characteristically modest and sensitive way, Mr. Mayer, without making a political issue of an evening's recreation, stated that the crying need of the hour is the election of five able men with integrity of purpose to the next board of commissioners.

Over 100 Attend Rubin Card Party

Dr. Addresses Gathering At Valley Hose House

A monster card party was given to Dr. A. A. Rubin by the citizens of the Valley section at the Valley Hose House, Stephens street, Friday evening. Over 100 persons were present.

Dr. Rubin delivered an address thanking the citizens of the Valley section for their splendid support and co-operation.

Dr. Rubin said: "The campaign is now entering its final stages. The occasion presents itself but once every four years for the voters of the town to choose those in whose hands the destinies of this municipality will rest. The board which will govern the town in the next four years must take a definite stand on the vital issues.

"Belleville is the ideal suburban town in the metropolitan district. Steps must be taken to induce it to come to this town; to bring into Belleville more citizens and to create in the town more business for its merchants. The board of commissioners of the Town of Belleville must be very careful to offer inducements to outsiders and what is just as important, to keep those citizens who now live in Belleville in this town."

"Belleville must take steps to regain its lost prestige. Harmony must once more be restored at the Board of Commissioner meetings. This lack of harmony has resulted in Belleville being wholly ignored in representation in State and county councils. Belleville has everything any municipality can offer a public: Beautifully situated; a healthy town to live in; easily accessible to New York and all other vital points by motor, rail or air.

"Let's all get behind the town and make everybody a 'Booster for Belleville'."

Lengthy Platform He Has No Ax To Grind And Is Not Tied Up

John E. Donnelly announces his candidacy for town commissioner. He is a native of Belleville, thirty-two years old, attended the local schools, graduated from Belleville High School, and received his degree from Villa Nova College and has been associated with engineering projects in his professional capacity since he left college.

Mr. Donnelly summarizes his platform briefly as Efficiency, Economy and Fair play which in detail he gives as follows:

Thorough training in the practical as well as the technical application of sound business principles are my equipment for the office I seek. Such principles applied honestly and courageously to the business of the town result in improved conditions. If elected and given this great trust by the people of Belleville I will adhere strictly to the rule given, for I shall go into office unhampered by promises of positions, favors or remuneration of any sort whatsoever to any one either associated with my campaign or otherwise. I have no designs on any jobs now held by a civil employee, for where ever I find those holding jobs are giving satisfactory service have the qualifications and are performing their functions faithfully, it will not be my purpose to upset such conditions, but only to make such changes, economies and consolidations as in my opinion will be for the betterment of the town.

My interests will not center alone in the particular department assigned to my supervision but will include every department and function of the municipal government. I subscribe fully to the fact that commissioners are not elected to just one or two departments but are jointly responsible to the voters for every department. To my mind one of the most important duties of government is the care and education of the youth. The school system of our country has for generations been our proudest boast, yet a condition is creeping into being which if not remedied is liable to undermine that wonderful system. Not only must we provide comfortable fire proof well ventilated buildings properly equipped with text books and material, but we must maintain a satisfied teaching body, a body of men and women who are at least able to keep themselves and their families, not in riches or luxuries but on a scale which our high standard of living calls for. The teacher is the second parent of the child, our responsibility is correspondingly great.

Belleville has a group of men pledged to the protection of life and property, our police and fire departments I feel I can truthfully say have well earned the respect and esteem of their fellow citizens. It is my contention that they too are entitled to maintain their families in decency and our responsibility to them does not end there but goes further, they should be equipped with the best in crime and fire prevention machinery and I can assure the citizens of Belleville that both departments will perform their duties fully. I have mentioned the employees of the three departments most before the public, but I have not overlooked the several other departments such as water, sewer, public property, health, and last but not least the Revenue and Finance Department. All are employees of the Town and all are rendering services of importance and I hold that our responsibility to them is the same as to the teacher, policeman and fireman.

I mention the foregoing matter in a spirit of justice and fair play, but it is far from my intention to deviate from the strict discipline so essential to the efficient management of the town's business.

I believe our people, particularly in times like the present are entitled to certain recreational activities as they are essential to the moral and mental welfare of people burdened with cares and worry through no fault of their own, but I shall be guided in this by our ability to pay. I believe further we should do everything in our power to alleviate distress and suffering among the poor and more unfortunate members of our community.

It is my belief that the board of Commissioners should be interested in the various forms of service rendered by outside sources commonly grouped under the heading Public Service. I shall do everything in my power to improve the transit facilities through the town and keep the rates as low as possible and services on a scale that will insure both comfort and safety. I shall also do my utmost to the end that the board use every means at its disposal to prevent the over-charging for gas, electric and telephone rates both to the citizens and the town.

I believe those in business in the town should receive the support and encouragement of the governing body and that they be given every fair consideration in the matter of town purchases and that such purchases should be distributed as equally as possible, bearing in mind that this should be done without making any sacrifice on the part of the town as to quality or price.

The thought uppermost in the minds of the taxpayers today is the high rate of taxes, the inability of many property owners to pay and the town debt.

Reduction of operating expenses wherever and whenever possible is one of the methods to remedy this condition and I intend if elected, to pursue but I shall not leave it go at that. The financial condition of the town is so extensive and involved that it would be ridiculous on my part to offer at this time any cure all or remedy conceived in the spirit of the campaign and vouch for its effectiveness. Nor do I promise to, nor do I deceive myself into thinking that

I can change the conditions over night. I intend to make a thorough study of every detail of the financial conditions of the municipality, the public debt, the income and the expenditures, the matter of assessments and every feature bearing on the finances of the community. When in possession of these facts I shall face them fairly and honestly, advise with the most competent authority and with the welfare and interests of the citizens and tax payers foremost in mind and in heart, shall do my best to reduce the public debt, reduce the tax rates and assist those in straitened circumstances. I promise to all citizens of Belleville a sympathetic hearing of any and all suggestions, complaints or recommendations they wish to make and assure them of my personal co-operation.

In conclusion may I state I have no personal ax to grind, no favorites, I am not tied up with nor committed to any other candidates or party leader, I am independent in fact and wish to serve but the people of Belleville.

There will be a meeting of the Altar Guild on Monday evening in the club room of the parish house. The director, Mrs. J. Harry Edwards, requests a full attendance.

The regular monthly meeting of the Vestry will be held on the last Friday evening of the month, April 27, having been postponed one week on account of the "Silver Grill Cabaret," which will take place on Friday, April 20.

The program for the floor show at the Silver Grill Cabaret is in charge of the rector, and is not entirely complete, but so far contains the following numbers:

Robert Buchanan, who is to be master of ceremonies will entertain in his own inimitable way; Bobby Kimble, a young lad of eight years, tap dancer and singer; Miss "Timmy" Timmens, fancy dancing; Miss Alice Helmlinger, songs and dances; Harold Salters and William Ellis, instrumentalists; quartette of young women, the Misses Margaret Haworth, Jane Rose, Ethel Searl and Myra Zink, in a special number, and several others to be announced next week.

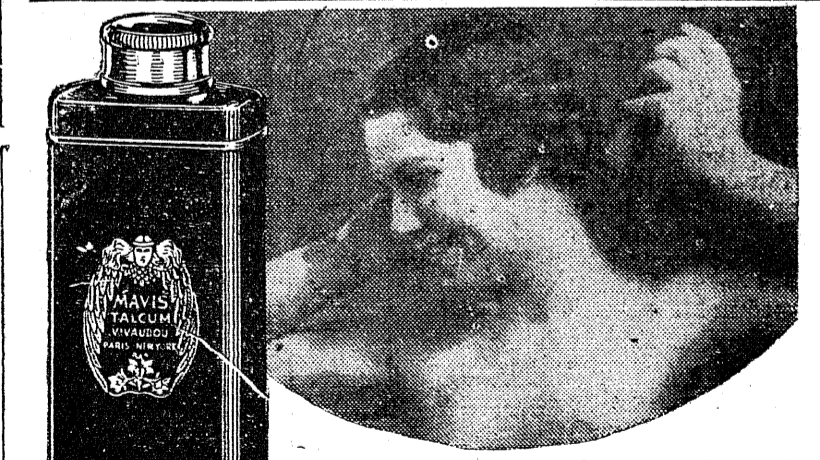

The menu is most attractive, the decorations will far surpass those of past years, and the Misses Frances M. Williamson and Lillian F. Edwards, hostesses and in charge of waitresses, have arranged special costumes, both for themselves and the young women of the G. F. S. who will charmingly serve you. The very breath of spring-time will radiate through every detail of the Silver Grill.

Have you reserved your table? Only nine are still available at this writing. April 20 is the date.

Rectors Night was observed at the meeting of the Girls' Friendly Society on Wednesday evening and all were especially glad to welcome Mr. Deckenbach, as due to his busy Lenten season, he had not had an opportunity to speak to the society for several months. Mrs. Martha Peck and her group are in charge of April activities. Members are: Elinor Apgar, Florence Haffner, Helen Kelsall, Florence Smith and Josephine Van Dyke.

Yes And No

Let us pretend that you are a newspaper reporter, and that your editor has assigned you to interview Congressman Zilch, regarding matters of national importance.

"Now then, Mr. Zilch," you say, when you finally corner him, "will you kindly answer these questions to the best of your ability, and from the standpoint of your experience?"

"My boy," beams Mr. Zilch, patting you on the back, and balancing his weight on his toes, "if there's anything I like better than being interviewed by a reporter, it's being interviewed by a reporter, it's 'em!"

If you're a seasoned news hound, you know, right off the bat, that Mr. Zilch is a liar. You know that Mr. Zilch would rather ride an elephant along Broadway than face a news gatherer. Anyway, you accept the fib with a smile, and you put your first question to him:

"Mr. Zilch," you ask, with pencil poised over a scrap of paper, "do you think the entire 15 per cent pay cut should be restored to Federal workers?"

Mr. Zilch raises his eyebrows slowly, puckers his lips, and digs his hands deep down into his pockets.

"Well, yes-s, and no-o," he replies thoughtfully. "You see, I'm for the people and of the people. I was born in humble circumstances."

"Yes, I know, but—" After Mr. Zilch makes it evident that he does not wish to give a definite answer to that question, you prod him with another:

"Pardon, but is this No. 265?"

PUBLIC SERVICE

"About the N.R.A., Mr. Zilch. Do you think it is a good plan?" Again Mr. Zilch exercises his eyebrows.

"Well, yes-s, and no-o-o," he answers. "You see, I'm for the people and of the people. I was born in humble circumstances."

"So I heard, but do you think—" The interview is interrupted by the Congressman's secretary.

"Sorry, my boy," says Mr. Zilch, a bit relieved at being rescued. "I'm due at an important conference right now; but about the 15 per cent pay cut, and the N.R.A.—you can quote me as saying that I'm for the people and of the people, and that I was born in humble circumstances."

So you return to the office, thoroughly disgusted with Mr. Zilch, the 15 per cent pay cut, the N.R.A., and . . . JOURNALISM!

Factfully Yours

— LILLIAN THOMAS —

WHAT IS LOVE?

So much has been said and written about love, yet it is a fact that it has no authentic history, no definite definition.

Lyndon Orr, the famous writer, says love is made up of two elements: the spiritual element, that is capable of sympathy, tenderness, and deep emotion, and the physical element—the source of passion, creative energy, and virile qualities. This, we believe, is the most intelligent definition of any we have ever read.

Henric Frederic Amiel, in his INTIMATE DIARY, writes of love as an attenuation and subordination of personality to something which dominates and measures it. That, we contend, is a pretty far fetched definition, for one need not subordinate one's personality to feel love.

Then we have La Rochefoucauld, who, in his MORAL MAXIMS, reflects that love is like a fire, it cannot be without continual motion; as soon as it ceases to hope or fear it ceases to exist. Too, that if there is a love pure and exempt from all mixture with our other passions, it is that which is hidden in the depth of our heart and unknown to ourselves.

Ralph Waldo Emerson is another man of letters who defines love as "a fire." Emerson, in his essay LOVE, wrote that it is a fire that kindles its first embers in the narrow nook of a bosom. He refers to love as a "celestial rapture," falling out of a heaven, a potent influence over youth; yet not forsaking the old.

Meleager, the Greek poet who flourished in 90 B. C., wrote that love was not only a fire but also a plague, a contagious plague.

"Love they say is a fire," writes Arthur Symonds in his "Rosa Mundi," but so far as Symonds is concerned, love is also "a pain," a "wandering star," and "a longing."

Well, we leave it to the reader to compose a better definition than any of the above.

THE GIRL SCOUT MES

Girl Scouts Announce 1934 Training Courses

Diversified Program Is Planned By National
Staff Members

A program of ninety-six leadership training courses to be given in every part of the country has been planned for the coming summer by the Girl Scouts, it is announced by Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, consulting engineer, member of the Girl Scouts national board, and chairman of the personnel division which supervises leadership training.

This extended program, according to Dr. Gilbreth, is based on leaders training needs to meet Girl Scout requirements and standards. The courses will be given in twenty-three camps by national staff members. There are national training schools, of which one, Camp Edith Macy, Briarcliff Manor, New York, is under the direct management of the national organization, New York City.

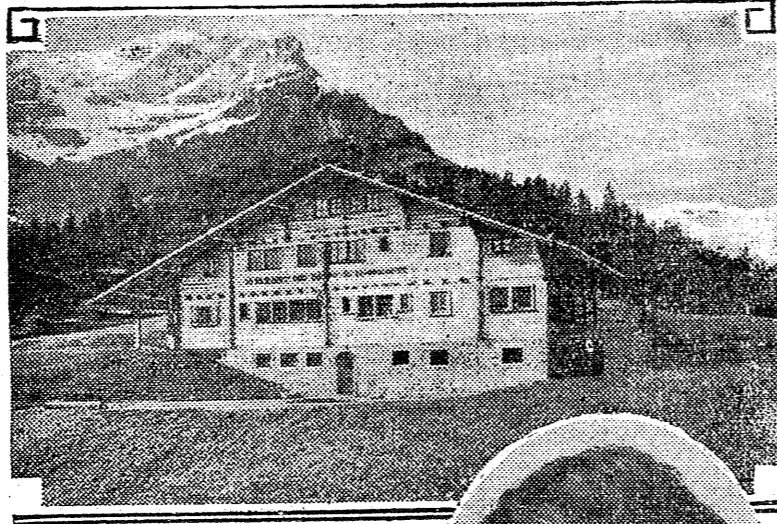

A most diversified program is planned this summer for Camp Edith Macy which will open for its ninth season on May 14. Thirty-six courses will be given in this camp alone by women of national and international reputation. Among the instructors will be Dr. Bertha Chapman Cady, of the Museum of Natural History; Miss Alice Schoelkopf, of the Lincoln School, and Miss Janet Tobitt, English member of the Folk Festival Council, New School for Social Research, all in New York. They will instruct respectively in nature study; arts and crafts; shepherd pipe music singing and dancing. Other activities will include dramatics, games, and of course the regular courses in troop management, tramping and trailing, camp management, and such essentials. Non-Scouts will be admitted to the camp, and will have full access to all courses. Another feature this year will be training in the management of day camps, to which go girls who cannot spend longer periods away from home.

Miss Hazel Allen will be director of Camp Edith Macy this year, and Miss Alice Wagner will be in charge of training.

Other camps where Girl Scout training courses will be given this year include Redwood State Park, in Sante Cruz Co., California, and Pine Tree Camp, at Plymouth, Mass., both national training schools. National training will also be given at camps in Rhode Island, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri, New Mexico, Minnesota, Idaho and Washington.

The nationwide and comprehensive program of training courses provide opportunities for both new and experienced workers, whether they are volunteers or professionals, to learn all phases of Girl Scouting.

Her Dream Realized

Juliette Low's dream in 1912, when she founded the Girl Scouts who this month celebrate their 22nd birthday, is today a reality in "Our Chalet," Adelboden, Switzerland. Here, thanks to a fund established in Mrs. Low's memory, several American Girl Scouts each summer meet fellow-Scouts from all round the world and with them play the game they have in common.

DR. BUTLER FINDS WORLD PEACE FURTHERED BY GIRL SCOUTS

The ultimate elimination of war cannot fail to be hastened by such agencies as the Girl Scout World Association, in the opinion of Dr.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, President of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and winner of the Nobel peace prize in 1931.

The aims of the Association, which Dr. Butler commends and which includes twenty-nine nations, are always stressed in March, international month of the Girl Scouts who have chosen this time to repair and strengthen the ties binding them to foreign sister Scouts who share their code and program.

"The work of the Girl Scout International organization, with its code and program," Dr. Butler declared, "cannot fail, when wisely conducted, to have a distinct influence for good upon the progress of the world toward international co-operation and ultimately toward the elimination of war."

The practical methods used by the Girl Scouts to achieve the world-mindedness which is the declared objective of the World Association, form an excellent supplement to the work of the Carnegie Endowment. In its division of intercourse and education, the Endowment maintains Junior International Mind Alcoves, a special branch which provides libraries in small communities with books describing the daily life, customs and histories of foreign peoples. The Girl Scouts, through their international post-box, try to establish direct correspondence between American girls and those of other countries. The Carnegie Endowment has organized international relation clubs in every continent. The Girl Scouts maintain an international home, "Our Chalet," at Adelboden, Switzerland, where hundreds of European and American Girl Scouts, many sent by special scholarships, meet every year to exchange ideas and to enjoy the program they share. Thousands more gather at international rallies in various countries or in camps, where they meet on the common ground of their Scout membership, leaving behind all prejudices of race, religious, social standing and even oriental caste.

Girl Scouts Included In Youth Week Plans

Movement Will Be Celebrated
April 28 To May 5
By Boys And Girls

Girl Scouts throughout the country will participate in the first celebration of National Youth Week, April 28 to May 5, when attention will be focussed upon the boys and girls of the nation. Mrs. Frederick Edey, national president of the Girl Scouts is a member of the Youth Week Committee, of which Walter W. Head, president of the boy Scouts, is president.

Youth Week is a development of Boys' Week, which was inaugurated by the Rotary Club of New York in 1920. The movement grew until 1933 when Boys' Week was observed generally throughout the world. In many cases it was expanded to Youth Week. This year the national committee changed its name to the National Youth Committee for the United States, and it was recommended that, as far as possible, communities make their observances joint affairs for girls as well as boys.

Girl Scout activities are well adapted to the program which has been outlined for the week. This program suggests a Youth Recognition Parade or an Achievement Exhibition for the opening day, April 28. Sunday, April 29, the second day, will be observed in the churches with sermons of special interest to young people. An explanation of the purposes of Youth Week will also be made from the pulpits.

Other suggestions for the week made by the national committee include Vocational Day on Monday, with groups of girls and boys visiting industries in their own communities, and perhaps taking over for a few hours the operation of one major industry, such as newspaper, department store or factory. Tuesday will be devoted to Health, Wednesday to Entertainment and Athletics, Thursday to Schools, Friday to Citizenship, and Saturday to an out-of-doors program. The program for this day should be planned to stimulate adults to a realization of the importance of providing properly equipped playgrounds or capably supervised hikes, canoeing and fishing trips, campaign or similar out-of-door activities for young people, and to provide healthful recreation and real knowledge of the joy of coping with natural difficulties in out-of-door life.

A manual containing suggestions for each day's program may be obtained from the National Youth States, at 211 West Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

How To Use Eye Make-Up

Beautiful eyes often go unnoticed because they lack the proper setting, just as priceless jewels may appear insignificant without adequate surroundings. It is also true that ordinary eyes, like mediocre jewels, can be made much more attractive — if they have a splendid setting, which, for eyes consists of proper eye make-up.

While many women realize what wonders mascara, eye shadow and pencil will do for the eyes, they hesitate to use these aids mainly because they are afraid they will be unable to select the proper colors to suit their types. This is no reason for any woman to deprive herself of eye cosmetics, for selecting flattering and correct shades is quite simple.

In spite of endless variations in coloring of hair, eyes and skin, most women can be divided into three groups — fair, medium and dark. The two standard and most natural looking shades of maybelline mascara — brown and black — can easily be apportioned among these three types. Fair women with delicate white skins and blonde hair should wear brown mascara both day and night; those of medium coloring, with brown or red hair and skin neither light nor dark, will find brown most becoming for daytime and black for evening. Vivid brunettes can wear black mascara for all occasions. Brown and black eyebrow pencil should be chosen by the same rules, of course.

Membership Increase Of 4,000 Announced

An increase of almost 4,000 registrations for February of this year has just been announced at national headquarters of the Girl Scouts in New York City. This brings the total active membership of the Girl Scout national organization to 322,694, a growth of 56.8 per cent since January, 1930.

Estella Karn Writes Of Circus

Life In Girl Scout M

How to tame a lion or a hard-pressed editor, how to ride gracefully in a circus parade and to keep on terms with a terrible-tempered 27-inch midget, are among the secrets revealed by Miss Estella Karn in the April issue of the American Girl, which is published by the Girl Scouts for all girls. Since "signing out" with the circus at the age of eighteen, Miss Karn has been first press agent and then general agent for many people and organizations.

"Incredible as it may seem, I had never seen a circus until the day I was hired by one in Venice, California," Miss Karn writes, "My introduction was curiously casual. I heard a former general agent, 'winging with the blue phrase, he told me, 'cous people to denote opening. It appealed imagination, and I as press agent.'"

It was on her second show that Miss Karn now one of her most for newspaper publishing the days of the World had gotten up at four morning to get her dress. She made the front page about how the Honorable town was studying the in order to learn about the

Saucer Splinters

You can't fool a horse-fly or the bleacherites at Nutley Velodrome. This was demonstrated once again Sunday when Sprint Champion George Dempsey received a long and loud Bronx cheer when he was declared the winner of a match race, pitted against Smiling Willie Honeman.

Willie walked it to Dempsey in convincing style in the first heat and lost the second by a close margin. Willie rode from the rear to win the first and made a mistake trying to repeat in the second. With things all even in what should have been the third and deciding race Willie clearly had Dempsey beaten to a frazzle coming into the last two turns, leading to the home stretch. A half a lap from home the champ held up his hand signaling a puncture as Willie spun into the turn, a good three lengths ahead of George. For raising his hand and not finishing Dempsey was booed from pillar to post. According to Hoyle Willie had to go out and win another heat to cinch matters, which made his task seem impossible, two wins in a row or three out of four if he was to dispose of the champ. If good judgment had been used the spectacle should have been no match, but rules are rules—Dempsey lost one heat and would have lost the one in which he held up his hand. Honeman lost two heats, one coming after Dempsey's puncture, and to those who know their onions everything at that point was fifty-fifty. But that is the break of the game. The rules called it to be finished. Dempsey had a perfect right to signal a puncture. It was too bad he didn't ride in, however, and take it on the chin. As it turned out Reed, B. L. . . .

Attractive Card For Velodrome Sunday

Another Big Crowd Turned Out For Races
Last Week

Harry Mendel, Manager of the Nutley Velodrome, has arranged the most attractive card of races of the season for this Sunday afternoon. The bike season opened with a bang and another big crowd turned out for the races last Sunday while with the card of races arranged for this Sunday afternoon every seat in the Nutley arena should be packed.

The motor-paced race will be the big feature and will be decided at thirty miles with five starters. Gerard Debaets, of Belgium, one of the outstanding pace followers in the game will make his initial appearance of the season and will ride against Alfred Letourner, the motor-paced champion of the United States and holder of that title for the last two years; Franz Deulberg, of Germany; Victor Hopkins, of Davenport, Iowa, who rode so well last Sunday and Tino Reboli who has won both motor-paced races decided to date at the Nutley track. Reboli, an Italian-American youngster, is a big favorite with the fans at the Nutley saucer.

George Dempsey, the American sprint champion, who beat Bill Honeman in two out of three heats of a mile match last Sunday will meet Cecil Walker, former all-around and sprint title holder, in a mile match the best two in three heats. Walker until he was dethroned last season held the sprint championship and the all-around championship of the United States.

The other professional races at the Velodrome Sunday will be a three-sevenths mile handicap, miss and out open and a two mile invitation while the amateurs will ride a four-sevenths mile handicap, two mile open and a mile novice.

The prices of tickets at the Nutley saucer are from fifty cents to a dollar with children admitted for twenty-five cents.

Art Patrick Shows Up As Great Boxer

Bantamweight Has Knocked
Out Last Eight
Opponents

In his last bout before local fans, Art Patrick scored a sensational knockout over the hard punching Jackie De Cale, Paterson strong boy, amid the roaring approval of more than 750 fans at the Arlington A. C. last Wednesday night. Anxious to appear at his best, Art Patrick used all his boxing tricks to win the plaudits of the fans.

He scored continually with a snaky left jab and a right cross. Patrick fought a masterful battle and more than once fainted his opponent into position and scored with a stinging right hand smash to the chin. The battle was won as early as the second round, when a series of lefts and rights rocked the Paterson strong boy. The Paterson boy recovered to finish the round.

Patrick danced out of his corner confidently in the third round, fainted De Cale into position, and sent over a right hand smash that bounced the Patersonion to the canvas and at the same time the referee wisely stopped the bout. Patrick was declared the winner by technical knockout in 59 seconds of the third round.

Joe Tello, protege of Art Patrick, scored a decisive win over One Round Jones, dusky battler from Pittsburgh.

Hugo Beatrice, manager of Art Patrick, declared after the contest that his battlers will leave for the southwest to accept the invitation of Henry Jackson, Miami promoter to feature in several bouts.

Art boxed a four-round match Wednesday at the Laurel Garden. He has only had the gloves on four years and been actively engaged in fighting from a professional standpoint for eight months, during which time he has knocked out eight opponents. He fights at 118 pounds, bantamweight. His brother, Jimmy Gils, was formerly featherweight champion in Newark.

With Charlie Jaeger out of the motor-paced races the fans are having a tough job to get enthused. Everyone and his brother feels Charlie was "the works" last summer. He supplied the real kick—the thrill that goes with the paced matches. It was not an uncommon sight to see him trailing from one to two laps behind, step on the gas, pass the other riders like novices and come in ahead. No sir, folks, something is lacking—the spark plug—and that something is a bundle of fight, Charlie Jaeger, the rider Nutley and Belleville fans have

Emeralds Are Ready For Opening Tilt

The Emerald A. C. defeated the Normal A. C. 9-1 for the Emerald's practice game in preparation for opening of the season Sunday. Art Jensen, Art Costello, Al Heinzinger and Lubben all drove out home runs for the victors.

The Emeralds will open their season Sunday opposing the Newark Indians, one of Newark's leading semi-pro teams, at the Indian's field. Last season the Indians were also the Emeralds' first opponents and the Emeralds came out victorious by a three run margin. A hard fought game is expected this year.

Frank Robina will probably start the same lineup in the opening game as he did in the practice game. The infield will be composed of Finney at first, Braun at second, Costello at third and Larsen at short. The outfield will probably be Crotty in center, and Lubben in opening pitching assignment probably go to Heinzinger with Jensen, Costello and Mason in the bullpen. D. J. will probably catch reserve. Other action before the Maglio, E. Braun.

Middletowns Still Hold First

League

The Eagles continued their drive to unseat the league-leading Middletowns last week at the Recreation Center in the Recreation Commission's Minor Basketball League race. A convincing 25-15 victory over their arch third-place rivals, the Bell-boys gave them the momentum. Benny Leonard was the big scorer for the Eagles with eleven markers.

The league-leading Middletowns didn't have to raise a hand to gain themselves a victory, as the Panthers forfeited their scheduled game.

The Blue Falcons accounted for their first victory of the season, after twelve straight setbacks, by downing the Royals, 18-15, in the final game. DePass of the Falcons collected six points.

Motion Pictures

Taken Of Golden
Belt Boxing ShowFleming Outpoints Sandle In Feature Event Of Card

With the motion picture camera grinding away and Golden Belts being set up as prizes for the winners, last week's amateur boxing and wrestling show at the Recreation Center developed into the best of the season.

Mickey Sandle, Kearny 126-pounder, dropped a close decision to his neighborhood rival, Jim "Lefty" Fleming of North Arlington, in the final boxing bout of the evening. After two even first rounds, Fleming's aggressiveness in the final round gave him the hair line verdict. Neil P. Horne, local photographer, who is making a community moving picture, "took pictures" of the entire feature bout.

Charley "Pickles" Adelman, 131-pound local lad, won on a technical knockout over Joe Cybulski of Newark in the third round for the opening boxing bout. Though the two lads were evenly matched as far as weights were concerned, Cybulski had a big advantage in height and reach. The bout assumed ludicrous proportions at times as Cybulski pecked and jabbed away at his smaller opponent, piling up points galore in the first two rounds. In the third session, however, the tide changed as Adelman concentrated on the big boy's stomach, Cybulski finally quitting during the third round.

Bernard Longo, 110, of Newark won a decision over Robert Zipf, youthful Bloomfield 107-pounder in the second boxing bout. Zipf was far and away the better boxer of the two, but Longo consistently piled up points with his aggressiveness and two-fisted punching attack. It was more or less of a case of a torador (Zipf) unsuccessfully staving off the challenges of a rushing bull (Longo). Zipf, with his purely defensive tactics showed real ring artistry at times.

The third bout was the most action-cramped of the evening. In this one, Vincent Russo, Belleville 115-pounder, scored a technical knockout in two minutes twenty seconds of the second round, over his 112-pound Newark rival, Armand Ceres. The two brawlers started off furiously in the first round, standing toe to toe and slugging away for fully two minutes without a let up. Russo began to show his advantage towards the close of the round, as both boys slowed up a bit.

A shower of body blows assimilated by Ceres at the start of the second round was more than he could take, and he quit as Russo's hand was raised in victory.

John Campi, 124, of Newark, copped a very close decision from Harry Zipf, 120-pound Bloomfield youth, with Campi's peculiar style throwing off Zipf, who is more or less of a veteran of the local bouts. Campi's style, consisting of a wagging head and a long reach, had Zipf puzzled all during the bout, although the Bloomfielder did get across several telling blows. Zipf's hard right to the jaw had Campi groggy towards the end, but it was not quite to overcome his rival's early lead.

"One of those things" was staged as a semi-final attraction, as Frankie Zappo "waltzed" to a decision victory over Carmen Gordinio, Belleville 149-pounder. Zappo, who weighed in at 147, claimed Newark as his home town. Zappo had the better of what little fighting took place.

Andy Colaninno, 138-pound Belleville wrestler, stole all the honors of the wrestling end of the show, with his quick toss of Sal Longo, 142, of Newark. Colaninno, coached by High Roberts, got a body scissors on his opponents in jig time, pinning down his shoulders the first time they were on the mat. The finish, which came quick as a flash, was registered after exactly two minutes of the bout.

A couple of young Tarzans, with poses and everything to match, participated in the remaining wrestling match. Jake Ceresse, 137, of Newark, and Sam Deblasio, 142-pound Belleville boy, rivalled the Jungle King as they went at each other hammy and tongs. A body slam after four minutes of grappling won for Ceresse.

Vic DiFillipo, former intercollegiate boxing champion, was third man in the ring for all the boxing bouts. Hugh Roberts and Recreation Director Robert A. Nebrig, in charge of the show, handled the wrestling exhibitions.

Alex "Bun" Derbyshire took care of the announcements in his usual efficient fashion.

George Stone and Bob Mess, both A. A. U. men, acted as judges. Stone was flyweight champion back in 1922, while Mess held the amateur lightweight honors in 1931.

Frank Soldo, genial matchmaker, aided Nebrig in the supervision of the show.

Attraction For Boxing
And Wrestling Show"Candidates' Night" To Be Conducted At Recreation Center

Next Thursday's amateur boxing and wrestling show carded for the Recreation Center by the Recreation Commission, as embodied in its director, Robert A. Nebrig, will be known as "Candidates' Night." All of the town commission candidates have been invited to participate in the ceremonies.

Matchmaker Frank Soldo is lining up some extra-fine talent for this big show. His big ace-in-the-hole is Willie Skidmore, New Jersey state flyweight champion, who is back from his quest for national honors at St. Louis. Skidmore, who received his start in the Recreation shows last year, may be on deck for the feature bout.

Sol Slade, popular 155 pound Belleville High School colored lad; Cliff Wighard, 147, (Lyndhurst); George Caponi, 130, who made a good showing in his last bout at the Center; Mike Coppola, 147, of Belleville are others who are slated to appear.

Homer Pope, 160 pound colored lad who is a claimant for state honors; and Tom Spinnazzola, 118 pound champion in the recent Star-Eagle tourney, are other leading lights in the amateur field who may participate. Matchmaker Soldo, incidentally, would like to hear from an amateur heavyweight desirous of taking part in the show.

Al Holden of Newark and Al Banks of Belleville are a pair of wrestlers already lined up for the settoes.

Eight boxing bouts and two wrestling matches will be included in the show. The winning boxers will receive golden gloves as awards.

Brightons Swamp
Bloomfield Separates

The Brightons took an easy 8-2 decision from the Bloomfield Separates at Belwood Park, Sunday.

The Brighton hurlers, Herb Foster, Bob Reed and Harry Fredericks were in rare mid-season form, setting down the opposition with but five hits. Foster, with a zip to his fast ball and a beautiful curve baffled his opponents, whiffing eight in his three inning stay on the hill. His best feat came in the first when with three on and none out he fanned Pieper, Johnson and Koch. Reed then twirled the next three frames and held the Separates scoreless, whiffing four, in the fifth retiring the side via the strikeout route. Fredericks then took up the hurling assignment and with his left handed shots and using a change of pace, continued to baffle the opposition allowing but one hit and deserving a shutout.

Bonny, Caruso, Delegro, Anderson, Stockton and Rowbotham took care of the stickwork, bashing out twelve safeties.

The infield executed one snappy twin killing to close the game.

This Sunday at Belwood Park, the home club will face the Joseph Heimberg A. A. game to start at 3 P. M. Other games scheduled for the next three Sundays are the Newark Red Wings, Roseville Orioles and the Newark Senators.

Saturday night's contest at Bloomfield saw the Lyceum boys take the lead at the outset and hold it all the way. Lou Babiak had one of his frequent "on" nights for the Lynchemen and threw them in from all over the court, accounting for nineteen of Bloomfield's forty points.

Jake Huhn was high scorer for Belleville with nine points, but it remained for Substitute Al Culklin to provide the best individual performance for Belleville. The mite Bell-boy forward rang up six points in his
