6,000 Hear Election Returns Announced

At Office Of The Belleville News

Listeners Learn Result Before Those At Town Hall; Candidates Gather At Office To Receive Earliest Word Of Count

Traffic was held up, streets and sidewalks jammed to overflowing and roofs studded with individuals who sought to hear and see The Belleville News election returns Tuesday evening and early Wednesday morning. For five blocks around The News office, in all directions, there was not an available parking space with automobiles parked in three lanes in both sides of Washington avenue from Tappan avenue to Overlook at the peak hour. It is estimated that at one time 6,000 folks heard the returns and that during the evening over 10,000 Belleville residents were our guests, not counting the thousands who heard the broadcast for blocks around while lying in bed or lounging at home.

So clear was the night and powerful the set with three amplifiers that the musical entertainment and results which were broadcast could be heard for at least one mile in all directions.

Six patrolmen were detailed to the scene to clear a traffic lane for automobiles and trolleys. There was not one disturbing moment and we take this occasion to thank the crowd for its co-operation which was 100 per cent.

The Belleville News broadcast was the outstanding program of the day. We had returns on the air hours before any one else early in the evening, even getting calls from the town hall for results. This efficient system of transmitting the results was made possible by our own staff, augmented by persons in and near each polling place and several candidates who co-operated.

Bill Entreckin, former police and fire deputy, was the golden voiced announcer, who kept the crowd entertained from 9:30 in the evening until 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. Bill says he is now nursing a sore throat.

With the exception of Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, who found it difficult to leave his headquarters because of the tremendous crowd there, all winners and many other candidates addressed The Belleville News crowd. Mr. Waters finally got away to come to our office but by the time he had arrived the crowd had gone home or had started off in sundry and varied parades.

With the arrival of Mr. Waters a victory parade was formed at The

Probe Death Of Victim Of Fall

Vincenzo Marchesini Dies After Drop; Health Has Been Poor

The death of Vincenzo Marchesini, 60, of 68 Columbus avenue, who died of his injuries Friday night after he fell or jumped from the second-story window of his home, is being investigated by Assistant County Examiner Bernardinelli. The physician stated that the fall appears to have been accidental, but may have been a suicide.

Police were not notified for five hours after the accident, but a doctor was called by the family.

Mrs. Jennie Marchesini, the victim's daughter-in-law, told the police that she believed the fall was caused by Marchesini's slipping when he was trying to open a window. He had been in poor health for some time and had been under a physician's care for the past month.

No Disorder Marks Ballotting In Town

Two Men Injured By Car Driven In Victory Parade

The election Tuesday was conducted in a quiet and orderly manner, in spite of reports that there would be disturbances in some districts. The police report that no arrests were made that day for outbreaks at the polls. Police officers were stationed at all polling places to preserve order and the town was patrolled by representatives of the Essex County Board of Elections and the prosecutor's office.

The only accident in connection with the election was the injury of two men, one seriously, by a car driven in the victory parade after the announcement of the winning candidates.

Isaac Harker of 86 Rossmore place suffered cuts of the head and leg, a fractured collar bone and internal injuries when struck by a car driven by Charles B. Gelschen of 136 Belleville avenue. His companion, Daniel O'Neil of 50 Cleveland street, was bruised. Gelschen was examined by Dr. Herbert B. Vail, town physician, who said that he had been drinking, but was fit to drive.

Keys To Boxes Missing In several districts the voting was delayed because keys for the ballot boxes were missing. The keys had been placed in the wrong envelopes by a CWA worker several weeks ago and keys for municipal election boxes and primary boxes were mixed. The mistake was quickly rectified, although several voters were forced to wait to cast their ballots.

Election Supervisor Praises Mrs. Morey

Mrs. Florence R. Morey, town clerk, has received the following letter from Bern N. Lamb, Essex County Superintendent of Elections:

Dear Mrs. Morey: I wish to thank you at this time for your wonderful co-operation and assistance in the municipal election held May 8, 1934.

I really think that our plan worked out to perfection and to a great advantage to the voters in these municipalities.

There was not one complaint as to the conduct and the workmanship of a single employee of your department.

HEAVY BALLOTING IN ALL DISTRICTS

Carragher Trails In Eleventh Place Despite Last Minute Radio Broadcast Attacking Finance Director

Three incumbents, Commissioners Williams, Clark and Waters, were re-elected to the Belleville Board of Commissioners at the municipal election Tuesday and two new-comers to the local commission, former Freeholder King and former Superintendent of Schools Gerard, were elected in the heaviest balloting ever seen in a town election.

The new town commission which will take office next week, is composed of William H. Williams, Joseph King, William D. Clark, George R. Gerard and Patrick A. Waters. John Eastwood Donnelly, who had never before run for office, was in sixth place, followed by Elmer S. Hyde, Edward J. Abromson, Samuel Figurelli and Thomas C. D'Avella.

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher, who sought to retain his seat on the board by a last-minute radio attack on Finance Director Williams, was overwhelmingly defeated, finishing in eleventh place.

The vote was as follows:
William H. Williams 5,072
Joseph King 4,700
William D. Clark 4,429
George R. Gerard 4,138
Patrick A. Waters 3,913
John E. Donnelly 3,185
Elmer S. Hyde 2,893
Edward J. Abromson 2,718
Samuel Figurelli 2,553
Thomas C. D'Avella 2,176
Frank J. Carragher 1,898
Everett A. Hicks Sr. 1,448
A. A. Rubin 1,368
John P. Maher 849
E. Elizabeth Brown 623
George H. Weston 551
Arthur E. Mayer 451
Nicholas Burde 423
Charles Longhi 402
Michael A. Devaney 340
Forrest P. Kaiser 171
Raymond M. Abbott 157

Balloting Heavy Polling was heavy in all of the town's nineteen districts. 13,693 voters were registered and 9,880 ballots were cast, only 146 being rejected. 8,641 ballots were cast four years ago.

A rumor was current election day that several hundred voters were turned away from the polls because their transfers had been lost. This

Public Library Displays Books On Gardening

Now that spring is here some of us are anxious to do a little gardening. This week the library has on display a group of selected books on gardening which may be very helpful to the spring gardeners.

These cover a variety of garden themes. You may find books on lawns, garden pools, dish gardens, garden design, and the pruning, spraying and fumigating of plants.

There are a number of books on the cultivation of special flowers and plants. Among them are: Daffodils, Kirby; Roses in the little garden, Doogue; The Iris, Wistler; Book of bulbs, Rockwell; The cactus book, Houghton; Azaleas and camellias, Hume; Chrysanthemums and how to grow them, Powell; Sweet peas, Unwin.

was denied yesterday by Mrs. Florence R. Morey, town clerk, who showed that in the Third District of the Fourth Ward, where 400 were turned away, according to the rumor, registration was 658 and 549 ballots were cast. Dr. Watson Rodeman, county commissioner of elections, investigated the rumor and found no truth in it.

Williams Attacked Joseph Carragher, son of Commissioner Carragher, attacked Finance Director Williams in a radio broadcast Monday night charging that Williams was negotiating to sell the old Belle Chemical Co. plant to a "T. J. Nuckolls of New York" for less than its true value and then planned to accept a position as manager of the plant at a large salary. The factory is owned by the town.

In a later radio address the same evening, Williams replied to the charges, emphatically denying them. He said that while the property was assessed at $25,000, it had been idle many years and had depreciated so greatly that $14,000 would be a high price for it. Taxes owed on the plant amount to $10,087.

Charges Denied To the charge that he had signed a contract to become manager of the factory, Williams replied, "Does Carragher believe that any one will think that I would sign a contract for an unknown party who would assign my services to other unknown parties?"

The finance director branded the documents said to be held by the Carraghers as forgeries.

The eleventh-hour attack proved a boomerang, as sympathy for Williams undoubtedly swung many votes his way. Williams led Carragher by fifty-three votes in the latter's own district.

Centenarian Was Grandmother Of Nick Lucas

A solemn high mass of requiem was offered for Mrs. Maria Libera Palmiero, grandmother of Nick Lucas, screen and radio performer, by the Rev. Cataldo Alessi at St. Anthony's Church, Silver Lake, Tuesday morning. Burial was in Glendale Cemetery, Bloomfield.

Mrs. Palmiero, who lived with her 74-year-old daughter, Mrs. Carmela Lucanese, at 13 Lawrence street, died in her sleep of the infirmities of old age Saturday night. She was said to be 101 years old.

She was born in Naples and came to this country at the age of 66. Her husband, Frank Palmiero, died six years ago.

In spite of Mrs. Palmiero's great age, she was known throughout the neighborhood for her cheery disposition and unflinching good humor.

Besides her daughter and noted grandson, she leaves three other grandsons, a granddaughter and seventeen great grandchildren.

Anthony Pucillo, Unarmed, Captures Bandit After Collector's Kidnapping

Local Athlete Overpowers Thug Brandishing Pistol; Collector, Although Beaten, Saves $1,300 In Auto Strong Box

Armed only with a putty knife, Anthony Pucillo of 110 Roosevelt avenue captured a bandit brandishing a revolver in a field near Greylock avenue Monday morning. The thug, according to witnesses, was about to shoot down Nicholas Donatone of 80 Roosevelt avenue, who had also joined in the chase, when he was overpowered by Pucillo.

Two alleged bandits, Michael Tasker, 33, of 215 15th avenue, Irvington, and Henry Chapman, 28, of 404 New street, Newark, kidnapped Wilson Kelchner of Jersey City, a collector of the National Grocery Co., in Ma-president of a labor union at that time.

In all these hazardous assignments, Pucillo says he always came out unscathed, until he was sent to Allentown, Pa., with twenty-five men during a disturbance there. The odds were against him, twenty-five guards to 20,000 strikers. Pucillo was caught alone by a mob, and stoned and severely beaten. During the tussle he succeeded in beating two of his assailants so badly that they had to be removed to a hospital before he was overpowered and left for dead with a long gash in his head which later required twelve stitches to close.

Saves Boy From Drowning Another interesting incident in Pucillo's life occurred many years ago when a boy was drowning in a pool of acid and water in the Valley section. A large crowd had gathered but no one knew what to do, knowing the dangerous condition of the water. Pucillo fought his way through the crowd, plunged into the pool and pulled out the boy, who died several hours later. He is an expert swimmer, and has saved many from drowning in the Passaic River.

plewood, according to police. Kelchner's car contained a built-in safe containing $1,300.

Kelchner was forced by Chapman at pistol point to move from the driver's seat, while Chapman drove to a secluded part of Main street, Belleville, followed by Tasker in another car, which had been stolen in Newark, police say. The pair beat Kelchner severely when he refused to reveal the combination of the strong box, and Tasker tried to force it open.

Frightened by a back-fire from a passing car bearing official license plates the pair left Kelchner in his own car and fled west in Roosevelt avenue. Realizing that it was a dead-end street, they attempted to turn into Stephens street but struck the curb, disabling their car.

Chapman, with drawn revolver, fled, pursued by Donatone, who had heard the crash, passing through the property of Pucillo. Mrs. Pucillo called her husband, who was painting at the time, and he joined in the chase without waiting to find a pistol. Pucillo drove to Washington avenue north of Greylock avenue, where he ran across the railroad into the fields. He saw the bandit hiding behind a tree, taking careful aim at Donatone, who was running after him.

Saves Neighbor's Life Realizing that an instant's delay would cost his neighbor's life, Pucillo thrust his putty knife from his pocket to simulate a gun, and shouted at the bandit to "stick 'em up." The thug wheeled, and Pucillo struck him down and disarmed him.

Donatone and Pucillo took the bandit to Washington avenue, where they hailed a police car containing Sergeant Schurr and Officer Nourse. The police drove to the plant of the Essex Lumber Co., where they captured the other bandit, who was unarmed. The thugs were turned over to Maplewood police, where they will be arraigned on charges of highway robbery, kidnapping, and carrying dangerous weapons.

Pucillo Noted Athlete Pucillo, who has always been an all-around athlete, was formerly the greatest player ever to perform with the formidable Capitol Football Club. He enlisted in the army at the age of 15, and served several years before the World War in the regular army. During the war he served in the Twenty-ninth Division in France.

Holder of the insignia of distinguished shot, he is recognized as one of the greatest deer hunters in the state, having bagged a buck every year for many years. He is also an expert horseman.

Employed As Guard Pucillo was formerly employed as a guard by the Manning Industrial Service, which supplies guards for the protection of property during strikes and outbreaks. During labor trouble in Shelton, Conn., Pucillo was in charge of 200 guards engaged to maintain order. He was given a similar assignment in Bridgeport, Conn. During the Paterson silk strike recently, he was personal bodyguard for Johnnie Solwaki, former pugilist,

School Board Cuts Parmer's Salary

Supervising Principal Reduced From $8,000 To $7,000

Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer's salary was reduced from $8,000 to $7,000 per year by the board of education Monday night. The board decided to continue the pay cuts of all teachers, which are on a sliding scale, until June 30, 1935.

It is reported that there have been several weeks of controversy between Parmer and the board concerning the cut. When the principal was first employed three years ago it was agreed to give him an annual $500 increase, but since that time there has been criticism of the salary paid.

May Go Elsewhere Parmer's contract expires June 30, and it is reported that he may seek a position in some other town. His present salary is subject to a 15 per cent cut, but he will receive a straight $7,000 next year if he remains.

The board will be able to meet all obligations, including state, county and town debts, by July 1, James J. Turner, board member, announced. He declared that teachers will receive a larger portion of their salaries in cash after July 1. They now receive 30 per cent in cash and 70 per cent in baby bonds.

Gray Asks Support In G. O. P. Primary

Irvington Publisher Says He's Without A Boss

"A man without a boss" asks Belleville voters to support him in Tuesday's Republican primary. He is Walter S. Gray, Irvington newspaper publisher, Republican organization candidate for freeholder. In a statement today from his campaign committee, Gray is labeled as one who "stands four-square for good government" and pledged to the continuance of that brand of administrative work in the county.

Without political experience, Gray was induced to enter the race by Irvington Republicans from whose central committee he received unanimous endorsement.

He has been honored in his Irvington community by having served as a hospital trustee, member of the Board of Education, an appointee of former Governor Larson on the Inter-County Municipal Commission. He is a member of several fraternal organizations, prominent particularly in Masonic circles.

Lee-Roehm Engagement

All Indications Point To Victory

For Raleigh S. Rife In Primaries

Finance Director Endorsed By Countless Democratic Organizations; Will Tour The Tenth District Election Eve

With Primary Day three days off, indications are that Commissioner Raleigh S. Rife, backed by the Essex and Hudson County Democratic Executive and County Committees, will receive his party's nomination for Congress in the Tenth District. The local candidate has been waging a strenuous campaign which will continue until Election Eve. He has been endorsed by countless regular Democratic organizations, and his platform utterances have been greeted with hearty acclaim.

The Commissioner opened his campaign this week at Bloomfield Monday night, addressing the members of the Second Ward Democratic Club at the North End Improvement Association's headquarters at Broad Street and Watchung Avenue. He was introduced by John Gavin, one of the club's executives, who stated that "scarcely in the history of our party have we had the rare fortune to have a man of the caliber and training of Commissioner Rife as a candidate for high office. It should be our duty as well as our pleasure to support a man who will reflect glory on our party and his constituents if elected to Congress." Following his Bloomfield appearance, the Commissioner attended gatherings in the first and second wards in Kearny.

Tuesday evening Commissioner Rife, along with Michael N. Chanales, Democratic candidate for surrogate, and William T. Wilkinson, leader of Newark's second ward, was an honored guest at the twenty-sixth anniversary of the Leni Lenape Club at the Club Castle in Newark. The recital of his political creed and his support of the tendencies toward unemployment insurance were greeted with the most vociferous applause of the evening. The Commissioner also appeared at a meeting of the Eighth Ward Non-Partisan Association and at a reception of the Reagan Boosters at Harrison.

Wednesday the Commissioner spoke at a pre-election rally of the Regular Roosevelt Democratic County Committee Candidates at Feuerbach Hotel and at a mass meeting of the Polish-American Jeffersonian Club at White Eagle Hall, Bloomfield. Thursday noon he was honor guest along with Peter P. Aduabato, freeholder candidate, at a lunch tendered in Bosco's Restaurant, Greene street, Newark.

Thursday evening he appeared at a meeting of First Ward Democrats in Newark and then was speeded to Central High School where he was to make one of the main addresses at the gathering of the Essex County Democratic County Committee's pre-election mass meeting. Later he appeared in Harrison.

Local Firemen Aid

At Lyndhurst Blaze

Two Plants Are Wrecked In Fire—$500,000 Loss

Fire companies from Belleville and Nutley, together with firemen from eleven other municipalities, assisted the Lyndhurst fire department in combating a blaze that destroyed the plants of the United Cork Co. and the Lehman Machinery Co. in that town Monday. The loss is estimated at $500,000. The fire was not brought under complete control for twenty-two hours.

The blaze was witnessed by many persons living in the higher sections of Belleville and Nutley as a pall of dense black smoke, through which licked tongues of flame, by day, and as a brilliant glow on the horizon Monday night. Hundreds of local people drove across the Passaic River to get a closer view of the disaster.

Water Shortage Peril

The entire town of Lyndhurst was imperiled by a water shortage, with flames and burning pieces of cork swept toward other plants and homes by the high winds. The local engine companies were located on dead-end water mains and were unable to pump to their full capacity. Several pumping engines were useless for lack of water.

A single six-inch main serves the entire section of Lyndhurst in which the fire broke out. The crew of a turret wagon from Jersey City, which arrived at 10 P. M. in response to a further call for help, asked a small boy where water could be found for their equipment.

"I don't know, Mister," the youngster replied. "We can't even get a drink in our house."

Firemen concentrated their efforts at the rim of the vast inferno of blazing cork from four frame warehouses. A shift of the wind from the west to the north in the early evening brought fresh fears, and it was feared for a time that the Cooper Lumber warehouse and an asphalt plant had been ignited. Belleville and Nutley, stationed in that sector, were successful in beating back the flames.

for the Commissioner to attend three meetings being arranged in his honor in Newark, and another in Belleville, while on Election Eve he will tour the District in his last contact before election, with his legion of supporters.

Movement Will Put Politics On Higher Plane, Says Mrs. Sanford

The Clean Government Republican ticket is an effort to put politics on a higher plane, and to make politics what it should be, the scheme of government; declared Mrs. Frederic H. Sanford of Nutley, president of the New Jersey League of Women Voters, at the finance luncheon of the league in Newark last Friday.

Mrs. Sanford, a former member of the Nutley Board of Education, is a candidate for Assembly on the Clean Government ticket. She has been granted a leave of absence by the league in order that she may run for office, although her term of office does not run out for another year.

Home-School Group

Hears William R. Holbert

The Home and School Association of School No. 1 held its meeting Tuesday, May 8, at 8 P. M. William R. Holbert, principal of the high school, spoke on "Guidance Program in the Schools." He said that pupils should benefit from others and perform their obligations as helpful neighbors. Character training is important to develop a sense of justice and responsibility. Good health habits are necessary to be developed in guidance work. Children should be guided to choose the right job for them as far as it is possible.

Superintendent Wayne R. Farmer spoke in reference to changing the Eighth Grade closing exercises from an evening date to an afternoon one. It was decided to have study groups for next year at the September, January, March and June meetings.

A nominating committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Irving Holley as chairman, Mrs. Ralph Hubert and Mrs. John Leininger.

Verdict Against Dr. Rubin Set Aside By Court

A verdict for $20,000 against Dr. Abraham A. Rubin, an unsuccessful candidate for commissioner in the recent Belleville municipal election, was set aside in an opinion by Circuit Court Judge Smith filed with the Supreme Court this week.

Mrs. Hilda Wooton of Nutley recovered the verdict against the physician, alleging that because of his failure to set properly a dislocated jaw suffered by her late husband, Joseph Wooton, he suffered "great pain, agony, and mental anguish and then died."

She charged specifically that Dr. Rubin had improperly administered an anaesthetic to her husband, removed

FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1934

Belleville is all ready once again to see a new Board of Commissioners. Tuesday's balloting gave the town two new commissioners and re-elected three of the last board.

Belleville News extends to the board its whole-hearted support. The spirit prevailing in this newspaper we greet this board with the hope that it will try—as we will try—to create in Belleville only those things that will be to the credit of the community.

We know that we have good men in office. Belleville voters have decided to whom it should be. Good luck to the commissioners. Let us all join our shoulders to the wheel to see that the board gets co-operation and to the end that Belleville will become the leading civic-minded community in the state. It can be done.

This board has a tremendous job on its hands. Let us not be too hasty in our criticisms. Let us lend what aid we can to better conditions.

Those who were defeated we say, "Tough luck, girls and boys! Next time."

Belleville News followed the middle of the road path in this last election. We will try to follow this path from now on, believing that a middle path will result. We have some very definite plans for a better Belleville—one that is clean and will only be motivated by a desire for a better Belleville. We offer Belleville this as our part. May we have the support to accomplish this aim. It is so easy for us to criticize and won't it be a grand and glorious feeling to see Belleville emerging from dark cloudy days to its place in the sun? Now, means the beautiful town. Let's make it that.

TELEPHONE USERS

One of the greatest inventions the United States has continued pre-eminently the telephone. At present, 53 per cent of all the telephone calls made in this country. Europe has more than 33 per cent and about 4 per cent. This leaves only 10 per cent for the remainder of the world's population.

We have by far the greatest number of telephones compared with any other country, but we use them much more. On the average every person in the United States makes four calls a week, whereas for the rest of the world the per capita use is one call a month.

THE TOBACCO TAX

Few cigarette smokers realize how much money they are paying toward running the government. It has been estimated at Washington that a man who smokes a package of cigarettes a day pays $21.90 a year in taxes. During the last fiscal year the tax on cigarettes yielded $328,400,000, which is an increase of $11,000,000 over the preceding year. Women smokers, of course, helped to swell the revenue from this source during recent years and it must be admitted that the smokers of both sexes do less kicking against paying the levy than most groups of taxpayers.

CLEAN CITY

The women of New York who are concerning themselves with the neatness and order of that vast metropolis have no illusions about how to convince people to be clean. The Clean City Committee is a crusading organization, which is composed mostly of women. They are getting very tired of knocking on street corners and sending out literature. The most harmful of their activities is advocating strenuous measures.

So they have hit upon the Munich plan as one most productive of results. A policeman is equipped with a book, and collects a dime or a quarter from persons who litter the street, entering their names on the book and giving a receipt. It looks as though some policemen would be very busy. They would do practically nothing.

ARMING

From all parts of the world comes news that various countries are arming heavily. Appropriations for maintenance of armies and navies are increased and additional armaments provided for in many lands. In practically every case where increases have been made or provided for in the immediate future, the reason has been the "strengthening of defenses." Obviously defenses are the main objectives in some cases but in others that is not a frank one. If every country "strengthens" its defence, there is an armament race that is bound to bring eventual trouble.

LITERARY LARCONIES

Montaigne borrowed largely from Seneca and Plutarch, and what he copied without acknowledgment from them, Charron and Comenius adopted in the same unscrupulous manner from him.... Pascal, who is generally reckoned one of the most original thinkers of the seventeenth century, is described as surpassing all others in his daring feats of plagiarism.... Moore, once observing Byron with a book-full of paper-marks, asked him what it was. "Only a book," he answered, "from which I am trying to crib; as I do whenever I can.".... Coleridge plagiarized in such an open way, and so totally forgot from whence he stole, that in many editions of his poems, epigrams from Schiller and Goethe are still inserted without acknowledgment; and he actually, to his dying day, believed that Faust was an old idea of his own.... A once celebrated chemist published a work on poisons, entitled, Death In The Pot, which bid fair to yield its author fame and fortune. But it was discovered that the work consisted of a series of pilfered pages, torn out of old books in the British museum. The chemist was tried upon a criminal suit for felony, and although formally acquitted, so strong was the impression of his guilt that he was compelled to retire from observation.... The literary forgeries of Chatterton were induced by the cold neglect with which his own original effusions were received.... Shakespeare, in his play Coriolanus, makes Cato contemporary with Coriolanus, whereas the former lived two centuries later.... In Shakespeare's King Lear appears the line, "If it be nothing, I shall not wear spectacles." Now Lear was an early Anglo-Saxon King, and spectacles were known only to the fourteenth century.

TWICE TOLD TALES

A clergyman was very anxious to introduce some hymn-books into the church, and engaged with his clerk that the latter was to give out the books immediately after the sermon. The clerk, however, had a notice of his own to give out with reference to the baptism of infants. Accordingly, at the close of the sermon, he arose and announced that all those who had children whom they wished to have baptized should send in their names at once. The clergyman, who was alone deaf, assumed that the clerk was giving out the hymnbook notice, and immediately arose and said: "And I should say, for the benefit of those who haven't any, that they may obtain some from the ushers any day between three and four o'clock; the ordinary little ones at fifty cents each, and special ones at seventy-five cents."

A long-beaten counsel asked a witness the other day, during a trial for assault, at what distance he was from the parties when the assault happened. He answered: "Just four feet five inches and a half." "How come you're so very exact about it?" asked the counsel. "Because I expected some fool would ask," said the fellow, "so I measured it."

A city girl went out to the farm for the first time and when her young man came to visit her, she told him she spent her time watching the farmer pulling the cow's faucets.

A Chicago mother, on hearing that her sister had received a new little girl, said to Lillian, her little daughter: "Well, said Lillian, wondering, wasn't that arranged quick?"

Two little boys, one the son of a minister and the other the son of a plumber, who were always arguing about which father was the greatest man, came together one day, when the minister's little son exclaimed: "Your father ain't no good. Mine gave me a hen that lays an egg every week."

"That's nothing," quickly retorted the other. "My father lays a cornerstone every week."

Foes Are Insincere, Says Jesse R. Salmon

Veteran Republican Leader Denies Scandals Are In Essex County

Analysing the campaign of the Vanderbilt-Colby-Seely faction, the County Republican Chairman, Jesse R. Salmon, today charged his foes with conducting a campaign of "evasion and insincerity."

He expressed confidence that the Republicans' electorate in Essex County will see through "their flimsy smoke screen and recognize the fact that they have been unable to develop a single issue that applied to Essex County."

"For more than a month now, the people of our county have been exhorted about 'shocking conditions' and 'scandals' in the Republican ranks. But 'shocking conditions' and 'scandals' where? In Essex County?"

"Not at all. It is Passaic County where these things exist. Mr. Vanderbilt and his front men for more than a month have told about the terrible things which went on in Passaic County, and to remedy them, they would nominate an Essex County slate of candidates and get rid of the Essex County chairman."

"The whole thing is preposterous. The reason they have used Passaic County as the issue — their only issue — in the campaign, is for the very simple reason that, try as they would, they were unable to develop a single issue within Essex on which to base their attack."

"Words, words, words. Words about Passaic County and not a single fact about Essex. Words dropped in such profusion as to create a smoke screen in the hope the people will be blinded by it; but a smoke screen so flimsy it disappears with the first breath of analytical logic."

"They are like a small boy whistling in the dark past a graveyard. If he had drums he would beat them. Vanderbilt and his crowd happen to have drums and they're beating them. The whistle and the drums serve the same purpose; they throw out an air of bluff and bravado."

"They can't win, and one very important reason why they can't win, is that the moving spirit behind them is insincere and the people know it."

Vanderbilt Scored

"They have tried to make me the issue of the campaign and their effort has failed miserably. The real issue, as Majority Leader W. Stanley Naughton put it, is Arthur T. Vanderbilt and his unholy desire for power. He cloaks his activities behind the phrase, Clean Government. He has done that before. He did it in 1932 when he opposed County Treasurer Zenas G. Crane, then a Freeholder, and Freeholders Philip Lindeman and William H. Rawson. Will he say now that they are unclean, or were unclean in 1932? His motive in fostering this movement with the title of clean government is as putrid today as it was in 1932. Some day the people who are being taken in by Arthur T. Vanderbilt will discover the truth about him."

Four departments — Beginners, primary, junior-intermediate and senior. All meet in church for opening exercises concluding with junior sermon.

11 A. M. — Morning worship. Mr. Falconer preaches "Questions Men Are Asking. 5. 'Is Intimacy With God Possible?'" Soloist, Ethel Bennett, soprano.

7 P. M. — Meeting of the Delta Kappa Society in the Educational room of the church. Leader, William Simmons. Topic: "The Christian Looks at Progress."

Monday, May 14, 8:30 P. M. — Meeting of the Drama Guild in the educational room of the church.

Friday, May 18, 8 P. M. — Meeting of the Drama Guild in the educational room of the church.

Monday, 4 P. M. — Girl Scouts, Brownie Pack, parish house.

7:30 P. M. — Boy Scouts, Troop 8, parish house.

Wednesday, 4 P. M. — Girl Scouts, Troop 6, parish house.

7:30 P. M. — Boy Scouts, Troop 3, parish house.

On next Monday evening the Drama Guild of St. Paul's will hold its regular monthly meeting in the educational room of the church. Final arrangements for the production of two one-act plays, to be given in St. Paul's Parish House on May 26, "The Mayor and the Manicure," by George Ade; and "The Flattering Word," by George Kelly, will be completed. "Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 13.

The Golden Text is: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (I Corinthians 15:22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that is our God is the God of Salvation; and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death" (Psalms 68:20).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is, always has been, and ever will be independent of matter; for Life is God, and man is the idea of God, not formed materially but spiritually, and not subject to decay and dust. The Psalmist said: 'Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of Thy hands. Thou hast put all things under his feet.'" (p. 200).

Richards Scored For Hoffman Attack

Candidate's Record Is Reviewed As Answer To Senator

The other night, in Hudson county, Senator Emerson Richards sneeringly referred to one of his opponents for the Republican gubernatorial nomination as "Boy Scout Candidate."

Undoubtedly, his reference was to Motor Vehicle Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman. So, as Al Smith would say, "Let's look into the record!"

Where were you, Senator, back in 1917-18, when this kid Hoffman—Boy Scout, if you please—was leading an infantry headquarters company in the stubborn battles north of Verdun, promoted to captain on the field for his courage and efficiency? Returning home, still a youngster, he was made treasurer, then vice president, of a successful bank and within two years became president of the Middlesex County Bankers' Association. As a city treasurer he revised the financial system of South Amboy, a city that to this day, has never missed a payment, in cash, to its school teachers or other municipal employees. He was overwhelmingly elected for two terms to the State Legislature, and then his home-folks, after he had determined to quit politics, wrote his name upon the ballots and made him mayor. He had legislation enacted, created a non-partisan Board of Public Works, and within a year placed a costly municipal water plant on a paying basis. Fighting extravagance in capital improvements, he laid the basis for what is today one of the lowest percentages of net municipal indebtedness in the state.

This was not enough, Senator, for the "Boy Scout candidate." He was nominated and elected to Congress, and then reelected by the largest majority ever given to a candidate in the Third Congressional District. He served on the important Military Affairs Committee, and in 1930 he returned to New Jersey to become Commissioner of Motor Vehicles. Within four years his work became nationally recognized. Costs of operation in his department were reduced, a uniform accident reporting system was established, and the famous New Jersey Duplicate Bill of Sale Act, now looked upon as model legislation for the country was drafted by this "Boy Scout." It was accompanied by a forty-two per cent reduction in car thefts, while producing annually nearly $300,000 in increased revenues for the state.

Every successive year of his administration was marked by a phenomenal reduction in street and highway accidents, largely attributed to improved enforcement methods and to an unrelenting campaign for street and highway safety.

Today, at 38, with the possible exception of Dr. Miller McClintock, of the Erskine Bureau of Traffic Research, Harvard University, Hoffman is looked upon as the nation's outstanding authority upon accident prevention.

He is a tireless worker, a forceful talker, a keen student of government, a human administrator, and an independent, clean and courageous campaigner. If any Republican can be elected in November it is this broad-shouldered, two-fisted young man whose candidacy marks the beginning of a new era in his party. He brings new hope, new leadership, new understanding.

If Hoffman is a Boy Scout, Senator Richards, let's have more Boy Scouts in New Jersey politics.

Joseph Granese Files

Assembly Petition

Candidate Says He Is Opposed To Political Corruption

Joseph Granese of Belleville has filed his petition as Independent Republican Candidate for the Essex Assembly.

Mr. Granese is twenty-seven years old and started his political career at a very early age. His keen and undying desire to learn politics has caused him to be the possessor of a vast and varied accumulation of political knowledge and a large host of friends.

He says, "It is time that a young man, pledged to no political boss or group, be placed on the Assembly, with the sole purpose of serving the public at large."

"Mr. Political Corruptionist" is my worst enemy and on behalf of the public, I'm out to stop the further spread of his corrosive influence. The primary duty of an assemblyman is to help pass laws in Trenton which will benefit the people of the state and not certain individuals or corporations. We have assemblymen who vote for or against the passage of bills because they are told to do so, without even knowing the title, let alone the contents of the bill. They merely remember the number of the bill. Professional lobbyists will not be able to buy my 'Yes' or 'No' for any bill."

Granese's campaign slogan is "New Deal Republican and Against Political Corruption."

E. J. Abramson Thanks

Supporters In Campaign

Polling 2,718 votes to place eighth in the commission election, Edward J. Abramson issued a statement yesterday thanking his many supporters and extending his congratulations to the five successful office-seekers.

"I wish to sincerely thank the many voters of Belleville who were kind enough to show their confidence in me at the polls on Tuesday. Although I was not elected I believe my campaign was not in vain for I know that I have met many persons who I shall be proud to call friends."

"To Commissioners Williams, Waters, Clark and Commissioners-elect King and Gerard I extend my congratulations, feeling that they will give Belleville four years of excellent representation. If called upon I will be only too glad to co-operate with them on any matter," Mr. Abramson said.

The election marked the first time Mr. Abramson has ever run for public office. He is a counselor-at-law with offices in Newark and a life-long resident of Belleville.

BELLEVILLE NEWS BROADCAST

News office headed by popular Motorcycle Officer Ken Smith who picked up a large number of Waters' cars at his headquarters and then circled the town. Over 200 cars were in the parade.

The News broadcast final results tentatively at midnight, but verification of the Fourth Ward, Fourth District, results held up the result. Shortly after 1 o'clock a tremendous ovation greeted former Freeholder Joseph King as he walked into the office to broadcast.

Then came Commissioner William D. Clark who received a similar ovation as did Commissioner William H. Williams, who followed. Former School Superintendent George R. Gerard received a like demonstration as he arrived shortly after.

Many prominent citizens, business men and officials addressed the gathering, including candidate Forrest P. Kaiser, whose interesting address to voters for their general interest in the election was well received; William J. Orchard, prominent in state and county affairs and one of the officials of the Wallace and Tiernan Company; former Town Commissioner Philip Dettelbach who broadcast Sunday evening over WOR on "Civic Belleville." Inside The News office many prominent Belleville residents, including Abram Atkins of the Boston Store and Mr. Kaplan of the Belleville Hardware spent the evening.

The musical transcriptions for the broadcast are on regular big time radio programs. They were supplied us by the Kent Automatic Garage—convenient to everything—Washington and Warren streets, Newark.

Four Distributors Carry On Even As They Threatened

(Reprinted from Newark Evening News, Wednesday, May 2, 1934.)

Four distributors of pamphlets in Union Township yesterday told the local police yesterday that they "could carry on the work of Jehovah" regardless of the opinion of Police Chief Denk and Sergeant Teufel. They proved their belief.

As Teufel tells the story, numerous complaints were made by residents of the Crawford Tract that men and women were selling books without permits.

Denk sent Teufel after them. At police headquarters the four said they were August Gramp, 34, of 126 Valley street, Vaux Hall; Daniel Kolker, 42, 346 Russell street, Vaux Hall; Amelia Puff, 48, 53 Battle Hill road, Springfield, and Louisa Prescher of 610 Franklin street, Elizabeth. They represented the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn. Denk let them go with a warning.

Commissioner Williams

Extends Thanks To Voters

Commissioner William H. Williams extends his thanks to the voters as follows:

"The high vote received by me proves the voters were acquainted with my efforts and that they believed a good job had been done under most difficult business conditions."

"I deeply appreciate the hard work put forth by so many folks in behalf of my candidacy."

"The radio endorsement of Mayor Kenworthy was a fine recognition of what he believed to be his civic duty and placed before us all a high standard of true sportsmanship."

Woodhouse Association Victims Of Fine Pitching

By Woods

The Oldham Association (the Bachs of last year) officially made their debut in Belleville American Legion Twilight Baseball League records, Monday night, with a close 4-2 triumph over the Woodhouse Association.

As the score might serve to indicate the game was a battle of wits between rival pitchers all the way through. The Oldhams could collect but five hits from the offerings of Hank Gardner and Buddy Ryan. The Woodhouse club was a bit more prolific in the matter of hits, getting seven, but could do little with runners clogging up the base paths.

Johnny Woods, long the fast ball artist for the St. Peter club, delivered nicely in his first mound assignment for his new team. Though yanked in the fifth inning for some unaccountable reason with the score 2-1 in his favor, Woods received credit for the victory.

The blow that really won the game was delivered by the veteran Osky Lawson, who performed in right field for the Oldhams. With the count 2-1 in the fifth, Lawson slammed out one of Gardner's choicest to the tennis courts in right field for a homer and the run that decided the tilt.

"Mac" Lamb, Woodhouse third sacker, connected for a double and single, making him the only player of either side to get more than one safe wallop.

BELLEVILLE COLLEGIANS IN SPOT-LIGHT

CUMBERLAND, University's baseball squad, down in Tennessee, was successful in defeating a strong Vanderbilt squad, 3-1, recently. What of it, you say?

Well, one of the prime factors in maneuvering the Cumberland victory was the big bat and clutching glove of the former Belleville High all-around athlete, Jerry Bonavita. His perfect fielding and timely hitting were disastrous for the Vanderbilt nine.

Bonavita, who is a senior in the law school at the Lebanon institution, is to receive his degree on May 30. He is now completing a very successful athletic career having played two years of varsity football and baseball. At present, he is leading the entire baseball squad in fielding, besides batting well over .350.

His early start down in the warm Tennessee clime has conditioned him excellently, and he will be able to offer the Belleville American Legion Twilight Baseball League fans a fine baseball when he comes up North. Another Belleville boy, George Price, is busy this spring as manager of the baseball nine.

Bus Proven, a third Bellevillite down at Cumberland, is cutting some high capers both athletically and academically. Proven earned a forward berth on the Cumberland varsity basketball squad this past winter, making his letter with ease. One of Proven's best performances was enacted in probably the most important game of the season, against Vanderbilt. Although Vanderbilt won, 32-26, Proven's team had the distinction of scoring more points against that strong squad than any other Vanderbilt opponent during the first half of the season.

Proven is expected to make the honor roll again this month with an average of 3.0 or 3.5 out of a possible 4.0. During his entire course at the college, he has ranked high scholastically.

This summer he expects to turn playwright.

Ten Runs In Sixth Inning

Defeat Scoreless

Redmen

The Nutley Yanks whitewashed Coach "Red" Cutler's Nutley Braves, 10 to 0, in a hardfought diamond contest at Park Oval Saturday morning.

The unusual feature of the game was that the Yanks gained all their tallies in the sixth inning, when the Redmen went to pieces and allowed a parade around the bases. Neither nine scored in the other six innings.

The setto marked the second defeat of the Braves by the Yanks this season.

Woodkotch led the winners with three singles, stretching one into a double on Corcoran's error. Knight was the only Brave to hit safely.

Cerami's Single In

Eighth Inning Gives

Siculos 5-4 Victory

Sam Cerami's single in the eighth inning enabled the American Siculo Society baseball nine, formerly the Franklin Pals, to nose out the Newark Sparkings, 5-4, Sunday, at No. 7 School field.

Joe Cavallo went the distance on the mound for the Society tossers, winning his first start of the season. Sasso's sacrifice bunt in the fifth tallied Frank Mozeika with the tying marker, setting the stage for Cerami's single, which scored Mike Macaluso with the winning run.

Belleville High

Tennis Team Loses

3-2 Series To Kearny

Manger And Cross Account

For Bell-boys'

Two Wins

The tennis men of Belleville High made their initial start of the season, Monday afternoon, and though not a winning venture, was a satisfactory one. The Bell-boys dropped a close 3-2 series to Kearny at the Branch Brook Park courts. The Kearnyites had previously downed a strong Montclair squad, 4-1.

John Manger and Bill Cross accounted for the two Belleville victories in the singles matches. Manger disposed of Joe King, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, while Carl Smith of Kearny bowed before Cross's court artistry, 4-6, 6-1, 4-6. Both Cross and Manger had to fight up-hill battles to win.

A third singles match went Kearny's way, as George McCall of the trans-Passaic school defeated Belleville's ace, Don Gauss in straight sets, 7-5, 6-0, King and Joe Connolly of Kearny evened the series by winning the first doubles match from Walt Smith and Cross of Belleville, 6-2, 6-0.

In the second and deciding doubles match Kearny's duo of McCall and Jim Dunn, had to fight all the way, before downing Manger and Gauss, 6-8, 6-3, 10-8.

A persistently strong wind that blew up and down the courts slowed up the play considerably.

The absence of strong men for the doubles competition was keenly felt, as the Bell-boys dropped both the four-man encounters after winning two of three singles matches.

Belleville High Ball

Dickinson Cancels

Belleville high school's baseball squad was unexpectedly left idle, on Tuesday afternoon, when a misunderstanding of dates, caused a supposedly scheduled game with Dickinson High of Jersey City, at Clearman Field, to be cancelled.

The Bell-boys travel to Newark this afternoon to cross bats with the Barringer squad. This is the Newark school's first year of interscholastic baseball competition in some time. However, they possess one of the best pitchers in school-boy ranks in Phil Caruso who has been burning up scholastic diamonds with his fine mound work.

The game may develop into a battle of Caruso as Belleville's best bet, Jim Caruso, is likely to toe the slab for the locals. Caruso, though losing all three of Belleville's starts to date, has been running into hard luck. As soon as fickle Fortune smiles on him he's going to be a tough hurler to beat.

Brightons Lose To

Newark Senators

Local Club Blames Faulty

Headwork By Coach

For Defeat

The Brightons lost their fourth consecutive game Sunday afternoon when they bowed to the Newark Senators, 6-5, in a thrilling contest to witness. A coach who fell asleep cost the home club the game.

Herbie Foster twirled in good style but loose fielding behind him cost him the game. A lenient scorer gave the Senators basehits on ragged short-stopping instead of errors. Foster pitched eight innings, and Stockton the ninth. Tommy fanned the last two batters to face him, and held the Senators scoreless.

The home club scored a run in the second on hits by Matthews and Smith, the latter's poke being a hefty double. Another run in the third on singles by Foster, Peacock and Bonny.

The Senators scored three runs on hits by D. Berger, Lauck, Pfennig and Rock, and now assumed a 3-2 lead. One each in the sixth, seventh and eighth now gave the visitors a 6-2 lead.

The home club narrowed it down by one run on hits by Peacock, Di Fabbio and Bonny, and the score now stood 6-3. But the home club finally came to life in the ninth, when the first man up, Smith, got a single for his third hit. Anderson whacked another hit, and scored Smith. Bonnefond, batting for Stockton cracked another safe hit, and brought in Anderson, making it now 6-5, with Bonnefond roosting on third with the tying run. A squeeze play was called for, the run to leg it home on the second pitch. The Brighton coach sent him home on the first ball which was naturally a pitchout, and Bonnefond was easily tagged out. Di Fabbio fanned ingloriously for the last out with Peacock on second by virtue of a hefty double.

Rock and Bottino for the Senators cracked out three hits apiece, and D. Berger, Lauck and Pfennig two each.

For the home club Peacock, Bonny and Smith had three hits each, and Foster batted out a brace. Matthews, Anderson, Bonnefond and Di Fabbio held one each.

Each side made fifteen hits, the Senators being charged with the only error of the game.

The Brightons will try to emerge from the doldrums Sunday when they play two games. At 1:15 P. M. they will be hosts to the Belleville Trojans and at 3:15 P. M. will play the Bloomfield Robins.

Letourner And Georgetti To Meet In

25-Mile Race At Nutley Saucer

Ride Against George Dempsey

In Pursuit Race

PAUL CROLEY

Alfred Letourner, the American motor-paced champion and Franco Georgetti, the champion of Italy, will meet Sunday afternoon at the Nutley Velodrome in a 25-mile motor-paced race, which promises to attract a record crowd to the Nutley saucer. This is a race that the bicycle fans have been waiting all season to see and it is likely that the Velodrome will not be large enough to house the crowd that will throng the doors for this race.

Manager Harry Mendel plans to open the doors of the Velodrome at 12 o'clock next Sunday, although the races will not start until 3 P. M. The minute the announcement of this race was made, reservations for tickets for the race started to flood the office of the Nutley saucer. Georgetti has won two races to date at the Nutley track this season and the fans are anxious to see Letourner stack up against him.

Three other crack riders will also be in the race against Georgetti and Letourner, they will be Tino Reboli, the young Italian-American youngster who has won three races this season; Jackie Sheehan, New York boy, and Paul Croley of Brooklyn.

Another star who will compete at the Nutley track Sunday will be William "Torchy" Peden the giant red-headed six day star, who has won twenty-four six-day races in his short and brilliant career. Peden won the Toronto six-day bicycle race which finished last Sunday night. Peden is the biggest man in the bike game. He stands six feet, two inches, and weighs 230 pounds. Peden will meet George Dempsey the American sprint champion, in an Australian pursuit race. These two stars will start from opposite sides of the track and race until one rider catches the other.

The professional stars will come together in a 10-mile open which will be paced by ten riders, a field of sixty riders will start in this race but it will be strange if more than six finish. Two other professional races and three for the amateurs will complete the card.

The prices of seats at the Nutley Velodrome will not be raised for this Sunday. Admission to the bleachers will be 50 cents, 75 cents for the grandstand and $1.00 for box seats. Children are admitted for 25 cents. Parking space for 3,000 cars is available.

Bears Catcher Hopes To

Tally 25 Homers

This Season

Baseball is a serious business with Joe Glenn, first string receiver of the Newark Bears. Joe has made the game serious for he has two ambitions. One, he hopes to realize this season; the second, he hopes to the foundation so solidly that when baseball time comes around in 1935 he will be sitting pretty.

The young catcher who hails from Dickson City, Pa., is of Czechoslovakian parentage and determination in his middle name. His first ambition is to hit at least twenty-five home runs with the Bears this season and to rank among the eight leading
