Stork Wins Race With Police Car

Child Born At Eighth Precinct Station In Newark

Although a fast driver, Patrolman LeRoy Hilton failed to outspeed the traditional stork in a race to reach a hospital early Sunday morning.

An excited woman, Mrs. Bolica Beers of 1160 Broad street, Newark, entered police headquarters and asked directions to the nearest hospital. She had been driving a visitor, Mrs. Dolores Marrihne of Little Falls to a doctor in that city, but it was seen that she would get there too late.

Hilton jumped into the car and headed for St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, but was forced to stop at the Eighth Precinct police station, Newark, where Mrs. Merrihne became the mother of a seven-pound son, with the assistance of Hilton and a Newark officer. Mother and son were later removed to the hospital in an ambulance.

It all happened on Mother's Day, too.

Three Boys Destroy School No. 4 Records

Truants Burn Attendance
Papers To Avoid Censure

The hopes of many youngsters that records of attendance and scholastic ratings in which they were rated as poor would be destroyed was fulfilled last Friday night when three 15-year-old truants broke into School No. 4 and carried off the records, police say.

The boys, who admitted burning the incriminating papers in a vacant lot near the school, according to police, were arrested by Detectives Scott and Flynn Saturday. They were arraigned Monday before Recorder Smith, who committed them to the Parental Home, to await trial in Juvenile Court.

Teachers at the school are now faced with the problem of attempting to replace the missing records. The youths, it is said, broke into rooms in the school and removed the year's attendance records of their teachers, which they feared would be used by Attendance Officer Thomas Berry, who has been preparing a case against them as habitual truants.

Police say they also broke into the office of Principal James G. Shawger, and stole a book containing complete scholastic and attendance records for four years.

Town Commission Takes Office, Welcomed By Over 200 Enthusiastic Well Wishers

Spirit Of Friendliness And Cooperation Pervaded First Gathering Of New Board—Economy And Business Administration Pledged

As fresh as the flowers that were heaped high in the commission chambers Tuesday evening at its first official meeting a new Town Commission bloomed in all the glory of a Belleville re-birth.

An enthusiastic citizenry seized the opportunity to greet the board members individually after a brief business session in a manner that speaks of friendliness and co-operation. There was something about the start of this board that augurs for better times for Belleville. The spirit of despair was lacking. The sun appeared on Belleville's official horizon once again.

After preliminary flash-light pictures had been taken of the board, each member raising his hand and being sworn in by Mrs. Florence R. Morey, town clerk, whose appointment on resolution of Commissioner George R. Gerard for two years until May 20, 1936, was unanimously concurred in, a few resolutions were passed. One of these named Tax Assessor John F. Cogan, as deputy Director of Revenue and Finance, his term in the deputy office to run concurrently with that as assessor.

Then came the official welcoming party of the new board. Mayor Williams called upon former Freeholder Joseph King to say a few words, but the latter bowed his way out in favor of Mr. Williams, who said he extended to all his appreciation of the "splendid expression of confidence" shown him last week when he was re-elected high man on the ticket. "It is my honest intent to carry on and put everything I possess into the job," he said.

Mr. King was called upon again but declined in favor of Commissioner William D. Clark who extended his thanks to voters, workers and all who had been instrumental in his re-election, adding "I will give my best to the town always."

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters also thanked his workers, friends and

Progress Club Plans Kiddes' Outing

Samuel Kogan Chairman Of Committee For Annual Affair

Plans for the fifth annual kiddies' outing of the Belleville Progress Club are being formulated by a committee of four appointed at the Monday night meeting of the organization by Dr. Benjamin A. Jacobson, president.

Looking forward to the affair with eagerness, more than 200 local children are expected to be treated to a day of fun in the country by the philanthropic organization. Although no date has been set, the affair will probably be held late in June, Dr. Jacobson announced.

The annual outing was instituted in the first year of the club's existence by Edward J. Abramson, founder and president for the past four years.

Samuel Kogan was named chairman of the arrangements committee by Dr. Jacobson. Others who will serve with him are John Berlis, Samuel Lindenbaum and William Abramson.

Held By Newark Police On Weapon Charge

Harry G. Silbon, who gave his address as 9 Belmoor street, this town, is held by Newark police on a charge of possession of a loaded revolver.

Harry Lee, employed at a restaurant at 49 Lafayette street, Newark, called police after Silbon allegedly threatened him with a pistol. Patrolmen Deblman and Hamilton of the First Precinct captured the local man after a chase when the weapon was found in his possession, they state.

Silbon denied being in the restaurant and told police he was taking the revolver to his summer home at Morgan Station.

Breaks Arm

Bill Entekin, Jr., of 63 New street is convalescing with a broken arm, the injury having been sustained election day. Bill says he is glad it was his right arm he broke because it will not interfere with his ball playing. Bill is a southpaw and is just learning how to throw a "knuckle ball." The boys up New street way are rooting for Bill to get well soon so that he can get on his ball club before school closes for the summer.

voters, declaring he "will work in the best interest of the taxpayers."

Mr. King followed, declaring "seems like old times to be back in harness again. I will assure all will try my level best. We must away from the school boy days give the town a real business administration. We must get away from attracting the crowds out of town and attract our own taxpayers to town hall to help us citizens. We will be better for all and Belleville will get back in the sun where she rightfully belongs."

Commissioner George R. Gerard said that like most last speakers he found everything had been said. He thanked the many friends who had stood by him in the campaign, urged close co-operation by the board in future affairs.

"If we can all co-operate as friends for an economical, business administration we can still all be friends at the end of our term," he said, addressing his remarks to his colleagues on the board, as well as citizens.

Forrest P. Kaiser, who was a candidate in the election said that Belleville has selected some of its best type citizens to represent us."

Open house followed in which commissioners spent an hour or receiving well wishes from taxpayers and friends.

Commissioner Williams was in the Mayor at the organization meeting of the board at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Commissioner Clark lost post of director of public safety was given the department of and public property.

Commissioner Waters retains department of public works and or Williams, revenue and finance. Commissioner Gerard is director of public safety, which department includes the police and fire departments, recreation commission, ment of combustibles, weights measures and town hall custodian.

Commissioner King was given department of public affairs, which includes the health department, garbage collection, formerly in public safety, the building department, zoning board, shade commission, poor department and office of the overseer of the poor.

Mr. Clark cast the only dissenting votes in the assignments of the mayor, orally and departments to Mr. Williams, Mr. Gerard, and himself. Mr. Gerard did not vote on the resolution naming him director of public safety.

Before the naming of Mr. Williams as Mayor, which post carries the pointment of members of the board, Mr. Gerard asked Mr. W. to promise that in the next years he would not appoint to the board of education with approval of him and Mr. King.

"To spike any unfair criticisms rumors," Williams replied, "I'll use not to make any school board pointments without the approval of Commissioners Gerard and King."

About 200 persons attended the session, the commission chambers town hall being filled with presented by well-wishers.

After an invocation by Rev. Eric F. Foshay, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, the board was officially sworn in by Mrs. Morey, town clerk, a benediction by Rev. J. M. K. rector of St. Peter's Church, following the meeting.

Retiring Board Meets

The retiring board held its final meeting at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher reported that he was leaving the town houses and town hall in excellent condition, since they had been repaired and repainted by CWA labor. He said that he would turn over his orders to the new director of parks and public property.

"I hold no malice against any board member," said Mr. Carragher, "I want to thank the public for electing me a councilman three times and commissioner twice, once as a man."

Raise Planned For Nebriga
Mr. Carragher asked that a bill salary for Robert A. Nebriga, director of recreation, be held for action of the new commission, as it includes $500 a year raise in pay. He said that the director's title had changed to superintendent of recreation and that the increase had proved, but feared that the recreation officials might not like the increase.

Victor Hart, Jr., Jeweler, will give old gold.

By SIDNEY CHARLES

The first candidate on the ballot, in the recent town election, Abbott, finished last.

And—the last candidate on the same ballot, William H. Williams, finance director, came in first and now heads the organization of the board as Mayor. Williams' slogan was "the last name a sound foundation."

Commissioner Joseph King, former Freeholder, came to the first evening meeting of the new board with crutches, having torn a ligament in his right leg during the campaign. He omitted the crutches for the flashlight picture.

And now, we will let you in on a secret. The handsomest man of the new board is Joseph King.

The jig-saw puzzle of dividing the jobs has a lot of people guessing. All bets are off.

The council chamber on the first night looked like an undertaker's parlor with all the flowers there.

As usual the commission chamber was not large enough to accommodate the first nighters.

It looks like a business commission.

George R. Gerard was short one good fountain pen on the first night. The Belleville News' congratulatory telegram was read at the meeting.

In this order Mayor Williams and Commissioners William D. Clark, Patrick A. Waters, Joseph King and George R. Gerard spoke.

Several defeated candidates were on hand to congratulate the new board.

Mrs. William H. Williams was presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers at the evening meeting.

Town Clerk Florence Morey once again proved her efficiency, in the performance of her duties Tuesday.

Junior Woman's Club

Due to the holding of election at the Woman's Club house, the regular May business meeting of the Junior Woman's Club was held at the home of the counsellor, Mrs. Laury G. Stem of 214 Jerusalem street. Myra Zink, president, opened the meeting at which yearly reports were read by the officers and chairmen. Then Mrs. Charles Smith, founder of the Junior Club presented a Past President's pin to the retiring president, Myra Zink, while the counsellor presented Miss Zink with flowers. Mrs. Smith also surprised the counsellor by presenting her a lovely junior counsellor pin.

New officers were then installed namely: President, Alice Cornell; vice president, Ethel Searl; recording secretary, Thelma Hoover; corresponding secretary, Vivian Kilpatrick; treasurer, Doris Tedesco.

Reports on the Junior Convention held at Atlantic City, April 29, were given by Alice Cornell, Thelma Hoover, Estelle Powers, Vivian Kilpatrick and Mrs. L. G. Stem.

Plans for a mother and daughter supper to be held Tuesday, May 22, were discussed and tickets may be obtained from the counsellor. The supper will conclude the year's activities of the Junior group.

America's War Dead Honored By V. F. W.

Buddy Poppy Plan "Buddy Poppy" Originated In Disabled Men's Workshop

Buddy Poppies, symbols of the sacrifices made by America's dead and wounded in the World War, have come to occupy a warm place in the memories and affections of all patriotic citizens.

The first definite organized sale of poppies on a nationwide basis, was conducted in America in 1921, when the Franco-American Children's League sold poppies ostensibly for the benefit of children in the devastated areas of France and Germany. Madame Guerin, "the poppy lady from France," sought and received the cooperation of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States early in 1922, after the Franco-American Children's League was dissolved. Using only poppies which were made in France the V. F. W., with Madame Guerin's assistance, conducted the first national distribution of poppies shortly before Memorial Day, May 30, 1922.

The following year, the V. F. W. found it advisable to use poppies manufactured in this country, due to the delay and difficulty in importing them from France. Many of the poppies used in the 1923 sale were supplied by artificial flower manufacturers in New York, but it was during that year's sale that the V. F. W. evolved the idea which resulted in the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy—fashioned by disabled and needy veterans. This plan, which provided a practical means of providing assistance to the veterans by paying them for their work in assembling the flowers, formally was presented to the 1923 Encampment of the V. F. W. at Norfolk, Va. It was adopted and immediately thereafter, the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy factory at Pittsburgh, Pa., was established. At this factory all the Buddy Poppies for the 1924 V. F. W. sale were made by disabled veterans. General Frank T. Hines, Director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, endorsed the plan and pledged the cooperation of his department. All men employed in the making of Buddy Poppies for the 1924 sale were sent to the V. F. W. poppy workshop by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau regional manager in Pittsburgh. The designation "Buddy Poppy" which originated with the men themselves, was adopted at that time.

In February, 1924, the V. F. W. registered the name "Buddy Poppy" with the United States patent office, and a certificate was issued on May 20, 1924, granting the V. F. W. all trade-mark rights in the name of "Buddy" under the classification of artificial flowers. The V. F. W. has made that trademark a guarantee that all poppies bearing that name and the V. F. W. label are genuine products of the work of disabled and needy veterans. No other organiza-

Roosevelt Approves Buddy Poppy Sale

Says Everyone Should Wear One On Memorial Day

Day

"We should all wear Buddy Poppies on Memorial Day."

With these words, President Franklin D. Roosevelt concludes his written endorsement of the annual national Buddy Poppy sale conducted under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. President Roosevelt's message to Commander-in-Chief James E. Van Zandt, displayed a sympathetic understanding of the projects and purposes of the V. F. W., especially in reference to the V. F. W. National Home for veterans' widows and orphans, at Eaton Rapids, Mich. The letter from the White House reads:

"Every orphan deserves a chance for happiness equal to that enjoyed by the average American child. This opportunity is given the orphans of veterans by the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, maintained by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

"Proceeds from the annual sale of Buddy Poppies make possible the maintenance of this orphanage. Buddy Poppies also offer a source of employment and relief for needy communities. For these two very real reasons, we all should wear Buddy Poppies on Memorial Day."

Girl Scout News

The Belleville Girl Scouts will hold a Mother-Daughter Dinner on Friday, May 25 at the First Methodist Church. Badges and awards of five year bars and also ten year bars will be presented by the newly appointed chairman of that committee, Mrs. William Englemann. Guests invited are Mrs. William J. Vail, Mrs. Max Buchenburger and Mrs. Lewellyn Pratt of Nutley; Mrs. William Shaul and Mrs. Jane Boyd of Bloomfield; Mrs. C. W. Bunder of Lyndhurst; Mrs. C. Girls Scouts representatives of different troops will decorate the graves of soldiers lying in local cemeteries. George Buchanan will conduct the ceremonies at the Christ and Reformed Churches. Edward J. Lister will preside at St. Peter's Cemetery Memorial Day.

This work will be finished before Girl Scouts will parade on Memorial Day and will report to their leaders at the town hall at 9:30 A. M. All Girl Scouts are invited to attend memorial services at Christ Episcopal Church on Sunday, May 27 at 7:45.

tion, firm or individual, can make legal use of the name "Buddy Poppy."

Since then, this single plant has been abandoned in favor of having the Buddy Poppies made by the disabled veterans in various government hospitals throughout the country, and in a few soldiers' homes.

Made By Disabled Veterans

Disabled veterans in U. S. Government hospitals have been making Buddy Poppies for the past several months for the annual Buddy Poppy sale to be sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States throughout the country prior to Memorial Day, May 30. Above is a scene in the occupational therapy ward in U. S. Veterans Hospital No. 81, New York.

Four Youths Fined For False Alarms

Chief Flynn and Patrolman Bush Capture Boys After Hunt

Four Belleville youths were found guilty of turning in false fire alarms by Recorder Smith Wednesday night, and were fined $15 each. The boys, Lucien Maglia, 20, of 52 Watchung avenue; Paul Giordano, 19, of 222 North Belmont avenue; Nicholas Wera, 21, of 40 Magnolia street, and James Constantino, 21, of 43 Watchung avenue, were captured by Chief Michael J. Flynn and Patrolman Emerson Bush after they had scoured the town after five false alarms had been turned in Tuesday night.

According to police, two of the youths admitted the misdemeanor. Firemen were kept from their beds many hours by the continuous alarms. Two of the alarms were turned in at Mill and Main street, while the other three were in Silver Lake and Soho.

Thanks Woman's Club

May 14, 1934.

May I at this time, through the courtesy of your paper, thank the Woman's Club of Belleville, for their kind donations of cod liver oil for the needy children of Belleville. They have, from October, 1933, up to the present time, given the Health Department, thirty-five gallons of cod liver oil to distribute among the babies and pre-school children. As everyone knows, this oil has proven a great help to these children, and we sincerely hope that the Woman's Club will be able to continue this fine piece of work.

Again thanking them, I am

Sincerely yours,

ELLEN W. SMITH, R. N.
District Supervisor of Belleville Nurses.

Waters Statement

"It is indeed with a great deal of satisfaction that I learn of my reelection. The people of Belleville have returned to office a majority of the old board of which I was a member, and they must have confidence in the performances of that board in the past four years. I fully realize that the public appreciates the efforts made by myself in their behalf, and they can be assured that I will endeavor in my new term to further aid them during these times when economy is the most important item in government. I appreciate the confidence placed in me and wish to assure all of the citizens of Belleville, and the many friends who worked in my behalf that I will continue to carry out the pledges made by me during the campaign."

Voter Writes In Names Of Five Candidates

A curious ballot cast in the recent municipal election, reported by an election official, was one in which a voter carefully copied the names of five candidates from the printed list on the ballot, writing them in the spaces reserved for personal choice at the bottom of the sheet. It was remarked that the ballot would have been valid had the elector placed a cross before the names, but he neglected to do this.

FRIDAY MAY 18, 1934

CONGRATULATIONS—PROSPERITY

Congratulations. Four years of prosperity for Belleville.

This short, but to the point telegram, extended our well wishes to the town Commission at its organization meeting Tuesday. These are our words and we feel sure they echo the sentiment of the town at large.

These are sincere words. We pledge ourselves to co-operation with this commission, which, as we all know, will have its differences of opinion. To each man the board will be giving its best to Belleville.

We want our words to ring true for the next four years and as long after that as Belleville wants to take the lead among the municipalities of the state.

Our new Mayor, William H. Williams, and the four commissioners, William D. Clark, Joseph King, George R. Gerard and Patrick A. Waters starting out on a four-year journey over troublesome ground. Their path is strewn with roses—even though that flower had its place in the arrangement. These men are capable of giving us the ultimate in government. They have all expressed themselves as wanting to render full public service.

They are all sincere. It behooves the rest of us sitting on the sidelines to encourage them to give their best—to praise them—to cheer them on with congratulations. Four years of prosperity. It looks like we are headed in the right direction with good helmsmen steering us on.

POPPY SALE

It seems a far cry back to 1917 and 1918 when the boys were over in Europe. Some of them have passed on; many are grayning around the temple. But each year these former service men and women augmented by their families and friends stage a Poppy sale to care for needy veterans and families. The little Poppy has a great significance. Let us stop between Thursday, May 24, and Tuesday, May 29, to buy one. The Poppy has a tone in our hearts and somehow our former buddies and all those loyal veterans who helped here at home during the war choke back a tear as they buy one. The veterans use the funds from the sale for a worthy cause—to help their needy brother and sister veterans and families.

A FINE FINISH

The Army fliers made a sorry showing when they first took over the air-mail, but they long ago hit their real stride. Lieutenant Ellwood R. Quesada, former personal pilot to the Assistant Secretary of War for Aeronautics, made the last flight of the transcontinental mail by the Army. In this flight he hung up a new record for mail planes of 13 hours and 53 minutes from Oakland, Calif., to Newark.

This is not a record for any type of plane, Captain Eddie Rickenbacker and his pilots having flown a Transcontinental and Western plane over the route in 13 hours and 4 minutes. However, on the last lap of Lieutenant Quesada's flight from Cleveland to Newark he flew 433 miles in one hour and 38 minutes. This bettered by three minutes the time of the previous contractors who flew the mail. His average time from coast to coast, including stopovers, was 195 miles an hour. This flight will cheer the Army men who may have made a poor start with the mails, but they went through with a fine finish.

BE CAREFUL!

We are on the threshold of another week-end. It is well for all of us to give a thought now to the safety of ourselves and others in the next 48 hours. The urge of a long confined population to rush to the out-of-doors will be irresistible.

Sunday is the worst day for accidents. Saturday comes next. Insurance figures over long periods verify this. A thought in the direction of safety today may eliminate grief tomorrow.

Be careful!

DIETETIC

Incredible as it may seem, in New Guinea, the Ottomans, feed on a fat unseasoned earth, tinged with a little oxide of iron. They collect this clay very carefully, distinguishing it by the taste they blend it into balls of four or five inches in diameter, which they bake slightly before a fire. These balls are soaked in water when about to be used, and each individual eats about a pound of the material a day. The Emperor Frederick of Germany and Maximilian II. were so inordinately fond of mallow, that they both became victims of the passion. Napoleon was excessively fond of coffee. Henry IV of France indulged largely in oysters. When Sir Isaac Newton was writing his "Principia," he lived on a scanty allowance of bread and water, and vegetable diet. To counteract a tendency to complacency, Lord Byron, at one period, dined four days in the week on fish and vegetables, and even stunted himself to a pint of claret. Pope, who was an epicure, would be in bed for days unless he were told that there were stewed lampreys for dinner, when he arose instantly and came down to table. The first brewers of tea were sorely perplexed with the preparation of the beverage. After boiling the tea, they sat down to eat the leaves with butter and salt.

LAST WORDS

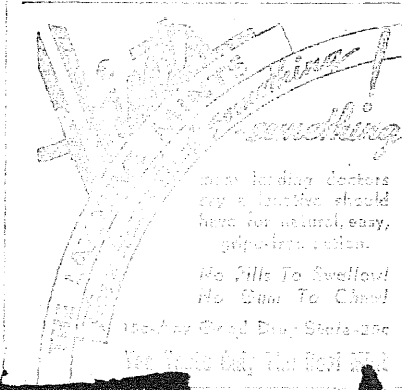

Sir Isaac Newton died suddenly and voiceless in the act of winding up his watch. Halley, feeling his own pulse, exclaimed, "The artery ceases to beat," and instantly expired. Just before Pope breathed his last, a friend called to inquire how he was. "I am dying," he said, "of a hundred good symptoms," said the wit. Goethe was busy with his pen when death summoned him. His last words were: "More light, more light!" Graham, on being asked for his dying admonition, exclaimed, "Be serious!" His last moments, Voltaire commanded his philosophical friend, to reflect. "Beyond!" he cried, "it is you who have brought me to my present state."

In Planders Fields

By Lt. Col. John McTear

In Planders Fields the poppies blew Between the crosses row on row.

That mark our place and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead, Short days ago,
We lived, felt down, saw short glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Planders Fields.

Take up one quarrel with the fact
To you, from falling hands, we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Planders Fields.

Purely Personal
By LILLIAN THOMAS

About nine hundred miles up the Yangtze River is the river port of Wanchien. It is held by General Yang Sen, one of the warlords of the vast Szechwan Province. Yang has about sixty concubines housed in his rambled at all times, and he has need of them.
For Yang's army is not the strongest. To the East of him, at Chungking, rules a warlord who permits Yang to rule by sufferance, and to the south, at Ichang, is another warlord who boasts over his table that he can take Yang's measure in any tight and under any set of rules. Yang is aware of his military weakness, so he has resorted to a kind of diplomacy to hold on to what he holds by force.

Whenever a stronger warlord menaces Wanchien, Yang tries to patch up differences by making friendly overtures. This he does by presenting the hostile general with a couple of fair concubines, with Yang's compliments. The method works splendently. Fair concubines seem to have a way of making Chinese generals forget all about war, for a couple of weeks, anyway. And that's how Yang maintains the peace and also manages to hold on to Wanchien. If Yang doesn't run out of concubines he stands a good chance of holding his city many years.

About two months ago Walter Winchell threw an orchid to a fellow down in Washington who conducts a breakfast club program over the radio.
The boy's genial and witty, but the orchid Winchell threw him went to his head, and presto! a great change came over the type. He began calling nationally known stars and entertainers by their first names and nicknames, and he's still doing it. Listening in on his program of a morning, you can hear him refer to Walter Winchell as Walter or my good friend
Winch, to Arthur Kelly, the Globe Trotter, as Arthur, to Ben Bernie as Ben, and to Edwin C. Hill as Ed.

We think there is much to be said against this form of "ear-banging" over the radio. After a time it becomes tires, by reason of lack of originality.

Prof. Hering Lectures

On Christian Science

"In the Christian Science textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' by Mary Baker Eddy, may be found a full and satisfying explanation of the omphic nature of God, divine mind; of the true character of His son, Christ Jesus; of man, as the expression and reflection of God; and of the spiritual universe." So stated Prof. Herman S. Hering in a lecture given under the auspices of the First Church of Christ Scientist, Passaic, at the Memorial School, Passaic, last Friday night. The variety, simplicity and grandeur of these subjects, he explained, will grow upon the thought of every reader and student who is earnestly seeking the truth and is unhampered by those material misconceptions which hinder the expansion of human thought toward spiritual reality.

Prof. Hering, who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., emphasized the necessity of realizing, in the study and application of Christian Science, the clearness, exactness and logic of its teaching, and the vital importance of applying these teachings with the same accuracy as is required in mathematics, in order to obtain right results.

The lecturer, who was well acquainted, and closely associated with Mrs. Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, referred to her as a genuine Christian, having the highest, purest sense of God, and the deepest affection for mankind; as a Christian warrior with undaunted courage, fighting the good fight of truth against error, yet a sweet, gentle, highly cultured and very loving woman. She endeavored to follow not only the teaching, but the life of Jesus, he said, and sought and received inspiration and guidance from God.

In speaking of the unreality of matter, Prof. Hering declared that the physically unseen spiritual universe is the true idea, and the material is but a false conception of it. The apparent physical universe and the actual spiritual universe appear on entirely different planes of thought, he went on to say, the former being a dream state, while the latter alone is divinely true. Spiritual things must be spiritually discerned, he said. Mrs. Eddy has revealed the underlying spiritual meaning of words, the lecturer explained, and pointed out that the student should not carefully how Mrs. Eddy uses words, in order to understand exactly the meaning with which she uses them. Christian Science teaches that whatever comes from God is real, he added, and that what seems to be God's opposite is unreal. Christian Science not only reveals the nature of divine mind, he further explained, but discloses the nature of the so-called human mind, thereby making it possible to analyze human thinking and distinguish what in it is real and what is unreal.

Touching the question of supply, Prof. Hering reasoned that since infinity is omnipresence, there can be no place where the substance of truth is not, consequently there can be no lack. He made clear that because man is the expression of God, man expresses infinite substance, and already has, by reflection, all that he needs. Quoting Jesus' statement that "The kingdom of God is within you," he explained that there can be no discord in man, in consciousness, in structure, in activity, in functioning, in supply, nor in resourcefulness, for right where the discordant condition seems to be there is actually the Kingdom of Heaven, which proves the inharmonious to be an illusion.

A large audience listened to Prof. Hering's lecture.

Young Woman's Auxiliary will hold a card party next Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John Kasper, 234 Holmes street. Mrs. Frederick Schofield is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Kasper, Mrs. Robert Conklin, Mrs. C. Kristensen and Mrs. Louis Fallows. About seventeen tables of various games will be in play.

The Junior Choir ask that their friends co-operate with them on June 1, when they plan to give an interesting musical and strawberry festival. Ruth Ludlow Yost, violinist, who was so enthusiastically received at the May Morning Musicals, will be the guest artist. The musical program will be given in the chapel at 8 o'clock, at the conclusion of which the audience will be ushered downstairs to the dining hall where the ice-cream cake and luscious berries will be served. The proceeds of the program will be used to defray the expense of the medal awards. A treat both musical and gastronomic is in store for those who attend.

The choir, attended the graduation exercises last Sunday, of the Christ Episcopal Church in Bloomfield. Fifteen Junior Choirs from nearby towns were represented, and made a most impressive and inspiring sight.

Mother's Day was most fittingly celebrated last Sunday. In the morning Mrs. Norma Bingham, of the staff of the Newark Evening News, herself a mother, delivered a delightful message. The invocation was given by Mrs. R. A. Lehman, 83 years old, the oldest member of the church. Rev. Compton presented her with a framed motto, Mrs. E. A. Guy, mother of the youngest baby, and Mrs. Josias Hansen, mother of the largest family, also received mottoes.

The flowers were placed by the "Seed and Mile" Bible Class in honor of mothers.

At the evening mother and daughter service, four candles were burning at the altar in loving memory of four mothers, faithful daughters of Wesley, who passed away during the past year. They were Mrs. Laura Shaffer, Mrs. Lucy Ann Machette, Mrs. Mineeva Wilbur and Mrs. Sarah Ver Bryck.

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 20.

The Golden Text is: "As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly." (1 Corinthians 15:49).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth." (Colossians 3:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When we learn in Science how to be perfect even as our Father in heaven is perfect, thought is turned into new and healthy channels—towards the contemplation of things immortal and away from materiality to the Principle of the universe, including harmonious man" (p. 276).

Local Tennis Team Make Fine Showing In State Tourney

Score Three Points For One Of Best High School
Performances

Belleville High's up-and-coming tennis team made quite an impression on the tennis gentry of the state Friday afternoon, scoring three points in the state interscholastic tournament at Princeton, to record as good a showing as any high school in the tourney.

Lawrenceville prep school, with a cast headed by the nationally recognized young star, Frankie Parker, experienced little difficulty in walking away with top honors, gathering up sixteen points to win the event.

Belleville's representation was taken care of by Don Gauss, John Manger and Bill Cross. Gauss and Manger tallied Belleville's three points.

All the Bell-boy players were defeated by prep school netsters in three set struggles and subsequently eliminated.

Belleville Team In E. C. League Wins Opening Game

Glen Ridge Defeated 11-2
Behind Mallow's Effective Pitching

Belleville's Essex County Baseball League representatives got off on the right foot in the current pennant race, Sunday afternoon, smothering Glen Ridge, 11-2.

The effective twirling of Manager Lawlor's ace moundsman, Jim Mallow, was too much for the Ridge's, who never threatened. The eight hits they did manage to accumulate from Mallow's offerings were of little avail.

Nick Fazzini, batting in third place, slammed out three bingles and scored twice as his share of the local offense. "Butch" Kastner, Tommie Dunn and Miele included a pair of hits each as their contributions. One of Kastner's blows was a long triple.

..This Whirl of Sport..

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

SOMETHING'S the matter with the Belleville American Legion Twilight ball loop.

The first three weeks of competition, which will be completed tonight at the Clearman Field diamond, have revealed a startling apathy towards the league on the part of the usually "red hot" fans.

It's the same league that has been so successfully operating the past five years. Joe Williams, founder of the loop and probably Belleville's outstanding baseball personality, is working feverishly day and night, trying to make the circuit a successful one.

Most of the players with the six teams are veterans in local twilight league competition. The several new faces are mostly tried and true men, whose abilities have been proven elsewhere.

But, you may point out, the teams are different. True, the names are different. The Woodhouse Association, the Oldham Association, and even the W. H. Williams Association, El Club and Elks, were not in the league at its inception back in '29. St. Anthony's, alone of the original sextet, remain.

However, scrutinize the picture a bit more carefully. Don't you notice in the make-up of the Woodhouse club, a distinct St. Peter flavor? The Oldhams, a Bachelor leaning? The W. H. Williams Association, the old Belleville A. A. and the Elks, the mighty Capitols of yester-year?

IS THE INTEREST DEAD?

ALL this be as it may, the first three weeks of the competition have been disastrous as far as finances are concerned. And you may take the word disastrous literally.

The league has been losing money right and left, and it can't do it very much longer. Founded as it has been on the ideals of sportsmanship, the league has always wanted to and managed to break even in the matter of expense. But these past few weeks it has not been doing that, and the American Legion cannot be expected to make up a constant deficit on that account.

From the appearance of things, Belleville baseball fans have grown tired of the league and its efforts to bring them first class entertainment of the organized variety. The scant crowds and even scantier collections definitely point to that trend.

At the present rate, the loop won't last out the month.

It's entirely up to you fans as to whether or not you want it to exist. This most certainly is not to be taken as a begging plea for more money.

It is simply a statement of facts, known by the writer, who is also secretary of the league.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE. That is the question that only you fans can decide, now that you are acquainted with conditions as they exist.

Bell-boy Baseballers Lose Fifth In Row

Barringer, Outhit 11-17, Is Victorious In Easy
15-5 Fashion

The Belleville High school baseball nine dropped its fifth consecutive game, Friday afternoon, at City Stadium, Newark, bowing before the undefeated Barringer High aggregation, 15-5.

The Bell-boys, as per their quaint and curious custom, outhit their rivals, 17-11. But, as usual, with men decorating the hassocks their wholesale hitting was noticeable through its absence.

It seems to be something of a record, though, to our way of thinking, to have one team outhit another by such a pronounced margin, and still lose by an even more pronounced edge.

Ned Dunn pitched the whole game for the Bell-boys. Phil Caruso, Barringer mound ace, contributed some excellent relief work to his team's cause, blanking the Bell-boys in the final four innings, after they had just started to take a liking to the offerings of Sierchio who started on the mound.

Mo' Sasso and Ned Dunn led the local hit parade, each with three bingles.

The Belleville team will attempt to make its appearance in the win column for the first time this season, as they play host to Kearny at Clearman Field, today, and Irvington at the same diamond, Tuesday.

Freddy Riccio and St. Anthony's accounted for the major upset of the early American Legion Twilight Baseball League season, last week, as they disposed of the championship Elks, 3-2, at Clearman Field.

Riccio let down the Hello Bills with one hit in recording his surprise triumph, while his mates were nicking "Butch" Kastner and Jim Mallach, Elk flingers, for six.

Singles by Don Losi and Fabio from the offerings of Mallach, who relieved Kastner, the starting twirler, scored the winning run in the fifth. Fabio's bingle was his second of the game.

Gero Derrico's single in the third, which scored the two Elk runs, was his team's lone hit.

Emeralds Trip Up Red Wings, Concord

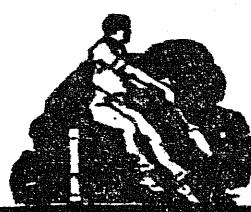

The Emerald A. C. defeated the Newark Red Wings in their latest start at Boys Park, 7-5. Joe Masor, Emerald southpaw, won his first victory of the season and his twenty-second since joining the club four years ago.

The Emerald A. C. won their fourth victory of the season Sunday at the expense of the Concord A. C. at Bokar's field, Maplewood. Walt Cody of the Emeralds pitched six-hit ball and struck out eight of the Concord's to register his first victory of the season. Joe Badurino of the Concord allowed the Emeralds only five hits, but he failed to scatter the hits. He also had eight strike outs to his credit.
