Orphan Youngsters To Attend Fifth Annual Kiddies Out- ing To Be Held June 24 By Philan- thropic Group

Prompt payment of taxes by those who can afford to pay was listed by Mayor William H. Williams as the soundest aid for Belleville's financial problem.

The Mayor addressed more than fifty members of the Progress Club Monday night in the Jewish Community Center. His speech inaugurated a new program of educational recreation for the organization.

Personalities prominent in social, political, civic and philanthropic endeavors will be invited to speak at regular meetings of the local association. Dr. Benjamin A. Jacobson, president, has placed Morris H. Udansky in charge of these programs.

The Progress Club, which is the leading Jewish organization in Belleville, has completed plans for its fifth annual kiddies outing to be held Sunday, June 24, at Mt. Freedom.

In past years only local youngsters have been eligible to attend these affairs, but it was decided that, commencing this year, orphans from the Hebrew Sheltering Home, Newark, will be guests of the club.

Samuel Kogan, in charge of the outing, has drawn up a program for the day's activities that will include

School Heads Meet At Shore Next Year

Wayne R. Parmer, Superin- tendent Of Local Schools, Is Thus Advised

Superintendent of School, W. R. Parmer has received an announcement from E. E. Oberholtz, President of the Department of Superintendents, that the national organization of school executives has selected Atlantic City for its sixty-fifth annual convention, which will be held February 23-28, 1935. The sea-side city was selected after the consideration of a number of mid-western and eastern cities extending invitations, including St. Louis, Chicago, Boston, and Philadelphia.

The program of the sixty-fifth annual meeting will be arranged under the direction of President Oberholtz who was elected to the presidency by unanimous vote to succeed Paul C. Stetson, superintendent of schools, Indianapolis, at the annual convention of the Department of Superintendents held in Cleveland last February. President Oberholtz has been superintendent of schools at Houston, Texas since 1924. He has been for many years an active leader in the National Education Association and in the Department of Superintendents in which he has served on a number of important educational committees.

The convention city for the 1935 meeting was chosen following a meeting of the executive committee of the Department held at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Members of the executive committee are: Paul C. Stetson, superintendent of schools, Indianapolis, Ind.; A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of schools, Providence, R. I.; Ben G. Graham, superintendent of schools, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Carroll R. Reed, superintendent of schools, Minneapolis, Minn.; Charles S. Meek, superintendent of school, Toledo, Ohio; and George C. Bush, superintendent of schools, South Pasadena, Calif.

President Oberholtz's letter to Superintendent Parmer invited him to join other members of the organization in planning the work of the Department of Superintendence throughout the year ahead. "The Department is entering upon a new year of service, and it is my thought that each and every member should become an active participant in preparation of the program and in planning for next year's meeting," said President Oberholtz. "Our convention program next year will include new leaders in national affairs, as well as some of the prominent business and professional leaders of the nation. Let us move forward to assist the nation in restoring adequate privileges for youth."

Hyde and Ethel Bryson will give recitations. There will be a piano and violin duet by Bernice and Helen Ruff and selections on the guitar by Miss Edna Prager. Herbert Wells will tell humorous stories. Tickets may be had from members.

Only $4,278 Spent In Town Election

$5,000 Balance In Poll Ac- count Expected At Close Of Year

The municipal election this year cost the town only $4,278, a decrease of $9,757.78 over the amount spent in 1930, Mrs. Florence R. Morey, town clerk, who is in charge of elections here, announced this week. Mrs. Morey was complimented on her economy by Commissioner George R. Gerard, who has charge of her office.

Since the primary election cost only $800.31 this year, as compared with $1,537 in 1930, and the general election in November is expected to cost $300, the town will have an unexpended balance of $5,000 in the election account at the close of the year.

$11,000 was appropriated for elections this year, although in 1930, when John J. Daly was clerk, $15,892.08 was spent, which was several thousand dollars over the amount appropriated in the budget. The high cost of elections in Daly's time was one of the factors which led to much criticism and his eventual resignation.

Mr. Gerard further said "and to the citizens of Belleville, this is only a fore-runner of what they may expect to follow."

School Board Gets No Bids For Coal

Baby Bonds Problem To Dealers At Fixed Coal Prices

Baby bonds and fixed coal prices came into conflict Monday night when the board of education received no bids for coal for the public schools in town next winter. Town dealers report that they are holding as many bonds as their financial condition will permit, and if further bonds are to be accepted they must charge more than code prices for the fuel, but the code authority forbids such a move.

John P. Dailey, president of the board, refused to discuss the situation in open meeting Monday night, as he feared publicity might "reflect on the financial standing of the schools." James J. Turner, finance committee member stated that all bills for fuel supplied last winter were paid.

Dealers stated the next day that they have accepted bonds from town employees for many months, and are overburdened with the town paper. All expressed willingness to fill the order, which will amount to about $10,000, if cash is offered instead of baby bonds.

It is probable that a conference will be arranged between local dealers and the school board on the question. Ruel E. Daniels, business manager, was authorized to seek bids from out-of-town dealers Monday. The first specifications were only sent Belleville dealers.

The baccalaureate services held annually for the graduating class at Belleville High School will be abandoned this year, the board of education decided Monday night.

Vaccination Urged

A letter from Health Officer Eugene T. Berry urged the compulsory vaccination of all pupils and teachers in the public schools. The health officer cited a state law which gives school boards the right to exclude persons not vaccinated against smallpox from the schools.

Mr. Berry reported that a recent survey had disclosed that 41.7 percent of the school children here have not been vaccinated, and warned that it would be a serious reflection on the standards of the community if a smallpox epidemic should break out here.

The consensus of the board was that a plan of compulsory vaccination should be inaugurated if the expense were not prohibitive. Ruel E. Daniels, district clerk, was instructed to ascertain the cost of such a plan, and to find out in how many neighboring towns vaccination is compulsory.

James J. Turner announced that all expenditures were well within the appropriations and that a balance would be on hand at the conclusion of the school year. All employees now under tenure were reappointed.

William P. Adams of Rossmore place appeared before the board to ask why it was necessary to rent offices in a building at Union avenue and Jorammon street. Mr. Turner replied that there is no available room in any school building for the offices of the school board and the supervising principal.

Mr. Adams also asked why the playgrounds are not open, and was told that no supervision had been provided. Mr. Daniels later read a letter from Edward Lister of the recreation commission, which announced that the following supervisors have been appointed: School No. 1 Playground, Colville Smith and Arthur Christie; School No. 7, Joseph Parsells and Malcolm Lamb.

Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer reported that the monthly magazine, The Chatterbox, published by pupils at School No. 5, had been awarded third prize in a contest sponsored by a Newark firm which distributes duplicating machines. Sixty-eight school papers were entered in the contest.

Mr. Parmer added that the school by pupils at School No. 5, had been the board, since the production cost is borne by subscribers and advertisers.

Recorder Everett B. Smith dismissed charges of manufacturing alcohol without a license against Perry Conforti of 16 Garside street, Newark, in police court Wednesday night. COMMUNITY FIREWORKS CELEBRATION PLANNED

Belleville Civic League Will Sponsor M Observance Of Independence Day

CITIZENS' CO-OPERATION IS Key To Success

Games And Races Planned For Youngsters; I ests Scheduled By Committee; Me chants Will Be Aided

The Civic League of Belleville at its meeting Wednesday night decided to sponsor a community celebration of the Fourth of July. Ever since the regatta on the river some years ago, citizens in Belleville have repeatedly urged a community celebration rather than the individual displays of fireworks at night. Until this action by the Civic League, no crystallized effort has occurred.

The Civic League believes that the Fourth of July is a worrisome period for most parents. There is always the danger of accident and during these times, it was felt that no parent could do as much for his youngsters as could be done for all the youngsters in town if the money spent individually would be collectively used to put on a municipal celebration.

Bicycle Races Planned
It is planned to ask the co-operation of all civic and other organizations in town and the schools, as well as the various amateur bicycle organizations. It is hoped to be able to interest the officials of the Velodrome and have their support with possibly several of the better known officials to start the bicycle races which are planned for that day. It is also hoped that the youngsters will contribute their share by participating in the marathon and various other races in town.

It is planned to have something going from early morning until late at night; ending with a monster fireworks celebration that everyone can enjoy.

The idea has met instantaneous approval and tremendous support. While the plans are more or less indefinite at this time, so soon after the decision to sponsor it was made, it was nevertheless felt that merchants and the citizens would get behind the movement and help to put over for Belleville, (one of the last suburbs to engage in this kind of civic community celebration), this celebration.

It is planned to add to the general committee as circumstances warrant and as various individuals indicate their acceptance. The league feels that there will be no question that this can be put over and in good shape if everyone will do their part. Not only will it be a worthwhile

About thirty members of the Young Peoples' Fellowship enjoyed a delightful day Sunday at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McAleese, at Tomkin's Cove, N. Y., on the Hudson.

Miss Peggy McAleese was hostess. Walking in the woods, luncheon on the lawn, swimming in the cove and supper indoors made up the pleasures of the day.

Those attending were Walter MacLaughlin, Miss Ruth Remington, Miss Grace Hopper, Miss Frances Currier, Miss Rena Crawford, Bert Bush, Harold and Bert Bade, Miss Isabel Wilson, Miss Hazel Franklin, Miss Margaret Miller, William Hill, Miss Elizabeth Brown, Miss Jane Walker, Robert Geller, Henry Abromson, Robert Shriver, Miss Bernice LeCompte, Miss Ruth Lloyd, Raymond Patrick, Miss Bertha Mumford, Miss Helen Kelsall, Albert Fiske, Miss Eleanor Apgar, Miss Alys Miller and Mr. and Mrs. William B. Williams of Nutley and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Bennington of Plainfield.

The trip was made in private automobiles and those who took the route along the river had a sight of the fleet anchored there, which was an additional pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. McAleese were presented with a bouquet of flowers by the fellowship Monday, in acknowledgement of their cordial hospitality.

The card party under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary at the parish house Monday evening, was a great success socially as well financially.

Eleven tables were in play and there were a number of non-players. High scores in bridge were made by Mr. Deekenbach, William D. Blair, Mr. John Soule, Mrs. John Ray, Miss Clara Biller, in whist, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Robinson, in pinocle, Mrs. Walter Coups, Miss Maud Lally, Mrs. G. Wines and Mrs. George A. Kelsall.

Non-players receiving awards were Miss Elizabeth S. Moore, Miss Edith Polkinghorne and Mrs. Ernest A. Galant.

Mrs. J. Harry Edwards was in charge of tickets and tallies; Mrs. George A. Kelsall and Mrs. Florence R. Smith, refreshments; Mrs. Edward Nelson and Mrs. Mary J. Lloyd, awards.

The Girls' Friendly Society held its closing party Wednesday evening. A box supper on the church green at 6:30 o'clock opened the festivities and at dusk all adjourned to the parish house, where the Rev. and Mrs. Deekenbach and the honorary associates were guests.

The graduates were guests of honor. They include the Misses Marion Ainsworth, Elsie Kaluzer, Peggy McAleese, Janet Millan, Alys Miller, Margaret Miller, Eleanor Pozzo, Bessie Reitzel, B. H. S.; and Ruth L. Williamson from N. J. State Normal School, Newark.

"God The Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 10.

The Golden Text is: "Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things" (Psalms 72:18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O come, let us sing unto the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods.

The sea is his, and he made it; and his hands formed the dry land" (Psalms 95:1,3,5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Creative Principle—Life, Truth, and Love—is God. The universe reflects God. There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind."

God, and a great King above all gods. The sea is his, and he made it; and his hands formed the dry land" (Psalms 95:1,3,5).

A DANGEROUS SITUATION

In the past few weeks, since the opening of the Nutley Velodrome for current season, a traffic hazard potentially dangerous to many motorists has come to our attention. This situation exists at the railroad crossing in Washington avenue near Center street, where many cars, driven by those on their way home from the races, are forced to stop on the tracks while waiting for Washington avenue traffic to be released by the police officer stationed at that section.

The railroad maintains a crossing watchman at that point, but he could not protect autos on the crossing from an unexpected train, since other cars could prevent their moving in either direction in an emergency. Gates are effective when vehicles are already upon the tracks.

The best solution to the problem would seem to be the stationing of a police officer on the north side of the crossing, whose duty would be to halt oncoming traffic at the same time that it was stopped at Center street, thus preventing any but moving cars on the crossing, and enabling the tracks to be quickly cleared in the event of an approaching train.

GRADUATION

We are now on the threshold of graduations. Everywhere young people are preparing to take diplomas and the next step in life. They look forward to the event with eagerness, for it represents a milestone—an accomplishment. Many too, feel a bit depressed, for it means the breaking up of an organization of fellowship.

From one to the other are being passed photographs bearing such inscriptions as "Always Your Friend." Yet a few years from now other friends will intervene. Life is a constant flux and change. The "Always Your Friend" becomes, in some cases, inappropriate. But no regret should be felt with old friendships supplanted by new, therein we gain an incentive to an active, broader life.

JUNE

The month of May has departed over the rim of time. The heat was reflected from the landscape with all the intensity of July.

June has dawned—the loveliest of months. May she be remembered as a temperate time, in which the many extremes we have experienced can be easily forgotten!

Blossoms spangled with dew—heavens spangled with stars, have characterized her days and nights. Month of brides, of romance, of beauty—welcome!

Editor News:

The most outstanding feature of any newspaper is its editorials. "By their fruits they shall be known"—the fruits of clear thinking, especially a sincere, fair, and unselfish newspaper owner, must be the head. Editorials need not large displaying words where cheapness is voiced, to gain the commendation of its fair-minded readers. May I commend your editorial, "A Newspaper Should Be A Newspaper," in a recent issue of the News. The newspaper that thinks before it speaks does not need any form of "wild cat ideas." It will live on its merits, and while the "growing" may seem slow to the onlooker or on-reader, it still holds the high respect of the thinker.

I recall one newspaper that many people believe too clean and fair to the world for them to "bother" with. But it too is doing its work. Unless a newspaper is built upon a "rock" it cannot stand, and that rock must be of the finest quality—a firm foundation—and its working tools of the finest steel.

Beauticians' Code

Working Hours For All Employees Set At 48 Hours Per Week

Diran A. Kurk, of Newark, a former field secretary of the Near East Relief in N. J. and for the last eleven years conducting an office as business analyst and advertising consultant, has been appointed Director of the State Beauticians' Code which was signed by Governor Moore on May 2, places the beauty shop industry under the supervision of a State Code Authority with headquarters at 1060 Broad street, in Newark. Working hours for all employees are set at 48 hours per week, 8 hours a day, and there are provisions in the Code for the different areas of the state to agree and establish minimum service charges for the different beauty items by a majority vote of seventy percent or over. The state is divided into six trading areas and each section will determine as to opening and closing hours, also charges as may be considered as bottom prices. Shops will not open on Sundays, and provision is made to observe legal holidays. Wages for operators in shops are set at a minimum of $14.00 per week for cities of 100,000 population or over, $13.00 per week for cities of from 25,000 to 100,000 and $12.00 per week for 5,000 to 25,000 population. Each shop is allowed an apprentice at 85 percent of the regular wages. There is a general labor provision and a number of unfair trade practices are listed under Article 8 wherein beauty schools are prevented from competing with beauty shops and the re-using of supplies and linens or substitutes without proper sterilization is forbidden.

Herman W. Brams is the counsel for the Code, and the trade is represented by hairdressers from all over the state. For a number of years Mr. Kurk, the director, has been acting as business manager for hairdressers' organizations in this state and it is the general opinion of the shopkeepers that the State Code is the only instrument to curb some of the vicious trade practices that have crept into the business with decidedly detrimental results in many cities of the State. Elsie M. Widmann of Hadfield, president of the Hairdressers' Association of the State of New Jersey, the organization which sponsored the code, has issued a statement praising the co-operation given to hairdressers in their attempts to solve their trade problems by the office of Col. J. Lester Eisner, administrator of the State Recovery Act.

Mr. Kurk, a college man of twenty years' business experience in the state, is a member of Newark Lodge of Elks, the Alliance Francaise, the Near East Foundation, N. J. Audubon Society, the Advertising Club of Newark, the Writers of America, the Broadway Association, and is active in a number of veterans', civic and fraternal organizations.

The Code for the Beauty Shop Trade is the sixteenth signed by Governor Moore in this state.

Emeralds Split

The Emerald A. C. in its last two starts dropped a 6-4 game to the Burke A. C. of Newark and topped the Veterans of the Foreign Wars of Elizabeth 8-3. Tony Hughes, making his first start of the season in the former game pitched a good game up till the sixth inning, when he weakened, allowing three consecutive hits and gave way to Joe Masor who pitched two innings until taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

In the latter game, Walt Cody of the Emeralds chalked up his second victory of the season, registering seven strikeouts-outs and allowing only five hits. In fanning the seventeen batters Cody brought up his season's total victims to thirty-seven and a total of 259 for his third season with the club.

The hitting star of the game was Paul Drexler who slashed out a triple and a home run. Brux, Lynch and Crotty also got two hits.

The Emeralds chalked up victories number five and six on Memorial Day defeating the Roseville Trucking Corp. 6-3, and the Jersey Athletics, 8-3.

Joe Masor, Emerald southpaw, chalked up his second victory of the season in the Roseville game, although he was relieved in the fourth inning due to his generosity in free-passes. The bases on balls were caused by the balls being wetted by the wet ground in the morning.

In the second game Al Heinzinger likewise registered his second victory. He allowed only five hits and struck out seven opposing batsmen. Heinzinger helped his own cause along in rapping out three hits and scoring a run. The batting honors of the day went to Lou Finnegan who got five hits out of seven trips to the plate in both games. Art Larsen also was helpful with the stick, knocking in five runs and scoring one.

Saucer Splinters

It was a wash-out. We mean the motor-paced race scheduled for Sunday night between the American, Red Devil and Italian teams, at the Velodrome. Everything went off in grand style until old Jupe Pluvius tipped over his sprinkling can just far enough to make the Velodrome track too dangerous for the choo-choo followers.

Well, everybody was apparently satisfied except the bleacherites, who wanted to see the race whether the riders were killed or not.

Those bleacherites fill in the necessary kick. Page Peggy Hopkins Joyce, who occupied Box No. 19, escorted by the famous French fliers, Captain Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos and Ted Husing, famous radio announcer. Miss Joyce took a bow very graciously. The bleacherites only found one fault with her. They set up a cry for the blonde miss to ride around the track. No bicycle was provided, however. Peggy got a big hand.

Colonel William Freiday and A. D. Rogers, representing Governor A. Harry Moore, handed over a medal apiece to the fliers who are staunch friends of Alf Letourner, the choo-choos' flying Red Devil.

A bouquet which might have been labeled forget-me-nots was handed to the judges who gave Champion George Dempsey first place over Hill in the miss and out professional race. Dempsey was clearly beaten by a wheel but those infallible (eagle eyes?) must have been elsewhere than on the tape. Peggy sat just in line with the tape and that may have accounted for the judges erring to such an extent that even the novice fans greeted them with the cheers that have become world famous after a start in the Bronx. To say the judges erred is putting it mildly. A blind man could have done better. Norm rode rings around George, who should have been called out of the race on more than one occasion. Of course, the same judges failed to see him trailing last and called out some one else.

Anthony Marengi, of The Newark Star Eagle, received one hot dog from Carmine Bilotti Sunday night. The secret of that "how-wow" remains a deep, dark one between Carmine and Tony, just like the secret Jess Lyons is keeping for Carmine and Bostock.

Judges See This One

Ewald Wissel who defeated Norman Hill last week repeated in a win over Freddie Spencer in a ten-mile match race. Wissel followed his pace perfectly while Spencer appeared to be a cagey lad by dropping off his pace when it attempted to carry Spencer fast by Wissel. Spencer chose to trail at a slow rate of speed, which made things look up and up for the Plainfield lad. Freddie used good judgment until Wissel stole a march on him with four laps to go. The flying German had caught Freddie off his guard, stepped on the gas with the pacemakers and opened up a gap of over one half lap before Freddie came out of the dream. Wissel won handily. Chalk up a victory also for the judges. They got this one right.

Officials of the Nutley Velodrome Sunday caught several young men selling free tickets that had been distributed for the races. The offenders were turned over to the police. Ticket "chiseling" hereafter will probably be taboo at the 'drome.

The motor-paced race Wednesday night between the Italian, American and Red Devil teams finished in chat manner. It resolved itself into a battle between Georgetti, Charlie Jaeger and Gerard Debaets who finished that way. Vic Hopkins was fourth two laps back, trailed by Alf Letourner and Tino Reboli.

The race itself was one of the most thrilling ever seen at the local saucer. Debaets seemed to have things all his own way out front for fifteen miles when Georgetti and Jaeger pulled up on him. Jaeger was riding like a bullet, but Grimm pacing Letourner, rode Jaeger almost up to the top of the saucer, causing Jaeger to lose his pace and drop back almost a lap. Shortly after at about eighteen miles Vic Hopkins, Jaeger's partner, fell to the track after he had punctured. He gamely rode on, however, after losing a lap and was a big help to Jaeger later in the race. At 25 miles Reboli lost a lap when the going got too hot. At 30 miles Hopkins was two laps back, Letourner, two, and Reboli 6. About this stage of the game the riders were flying four abreast, Jaeger having started from rear position with a burst of speed, the like of which is seldom seen in a bike race. The Flemington rider swept by every rider on the track and was headed for a lap on the field when he was blown off his pace by Stein, who just couldn't keep with in a city block of Reboli, whom he was pacing.

A FINE SHOWING

THE Nereid Boat Club of Belleville can be justly proud of the men who comprise its various crews.

In the face of all manner of obstacles, this rowing organization made a fine showing at the annual Memorial Day Regatta of the New York Rowing Association over the Harlem River course.

The most noteworthy achievement, of course, was the victory of Bill Bennett and Burnley for the regal robes of seniors. win, accomplished over the Verona Rowing Club, marked the first time in the club's recent history that they were able to put out a senior doubles combination, as the capturing of the intermediate race automatically qualified Bennett and Burnley for the regal robes of seniors.

An interesting angle about this win was the fact that Burnley was pressed into service as a substitute for the veteran Hank Paganelli, who had won last year with Bennett. A bad back forced Paganelli to set aside his oars for the season, much to his disappointment. The announcement of the seriousness of his injury, which was made a month ago, gave Burnley but three short weeks in which to drill with Bennett. The result speaks for itself.

Though not marked by victory, the race of the Nereid representatives in the Junior Quadruple Shell event was one well worth noting. The Nereid quartet of Irving Butler, Bill Herkness, Andy McMaster and Ray McConachie was just nosed out by an eyelash for second place by Princeton University's strong outfit.

The New York Athletic Club, in winning the event, posted the remarkable time of 6:12 over the mile and a quarter course. This time was even better than that made by the winners in the intermediate quad race, which is a class better.

Against such strong competition, the showing of the locals was truly remarkable, especially when it is considered that the average weights gave the rival crews better than thirty pounds per man weight advantage.

Some of the men on the New York A. C. squad were former members of Olympic and collegiate crews that set up national records for themselves.

A lion's share of the credit for the surprisingly fine efforts of the local crew belongs to C. Leverich Brett, voluntary coach of the Nereids. Mr. Brett is also very active in the business of bringing back oarsmanship to Rutgers University after its long lapse. He has been working long and hard with "his boys," and, in spite of the many natural disadvantages that must be overcome, has been doing a "fine job" of it.

GOOD GAMES IN TWILIGHT LEAGUE

WITH the first round of the Belleville American Legion Twilight ball loop competition completed, the various teams in the loop are rapidly settling down to their regular stride.

The result has been some fine, interesting ball games of late, with even competition and scintillating play characteristic.

The surprising victory of St. Anthony's over the all-powerful Elks tightened up things considerably. It took close finishes by the Elks to record wins over the Woodhouse Association, Oldham Association and El Club. Then, too, they were only able to turn back the W. H. Williams Association, one of their chief rivals, by a single run.

All the managers, Teddy Skidmore of the Elks, Will Noonan of the Williams Association, Jack Woodhouse of the Woodhouse Association, "Mac" McCarthy of the Oldham Association, Lou Gentello of St. Anthony's and Johnny Lawlor of the El Club, are laying plans for the rebuilding in whole or part of their various teams for the coming rounds, and indications point to better games than ever hereafter.

"NO TICKEE, NO SHIRTEE"

TOMORROW afternoon's game against Caldwell at Clearman Field of the Belleville Essex County Leaguers will be in the nature of a "test game."

Manager Johnny Lawlor of the Belleville team is almost convinced that Belleville does not want representation in that league. He wants to give it just one more try, however, and if he "goes in the red" again as he has done in the past, his team will be forced to drop out.

Some fans have pointed out that he hasn't a strong enough team, but Lawlor retaliates with the statement that if he could make expenses he could improve his team.

As our Chinese laundryman is wont to say, "No tickee, no shirtee."

Stein had another brush with Jaeger at 35 miles, leaving Reboli far in the rear and racing side by side with Zipf, who was pacing Jaeger. The last brush threw Jaeger off stride and gave Georgetti a commanding half lap lead that was next to impossible to close up at the terrific clip the riders were going.

Those who like wild riding had their fill in this race. Contrary to the usual quick exit of many fans after the motor-paced event, the fans stood spell-bound Wednesday night, hardly realizing they had witnessed one of the greatest races ever staged.

Georgetti, the winner, rode a brilliant race, from all angles. His marvellous riding from start to finish was only surpassed by the spectacular riding of Jaeger, who stepped as only

Charlie Jaeger can, fast and furious, overcoming all obstacles. A deal of credit is also due Gerard Debaets for the fast riding he did. With such riders on the track and Alf Letourner a season of thrills is in store for the fans. Too bad Peggy missed this one. It would have made her hair stand up on end.

Jimmy McLarnin was on hand to fire the starting gun on one of the races.

Somebody's eagle eye was on Freddie Spencer and he drew a two weeks' suspension for pulling in the five-mile open, paced, professional race.

Our own Marty Journey came through again, this time coping the two-mile open, amateur, as easily as rolling off a log, although Bob Lipsett gave him a little tussle on the bell lap.

Heads Outing

Jules Pachor of 117 Highfield lane, is chairman of the house committee for the seventh annual outing of the Western Electric Kearny Works Ancient and Royal Order of Hyijypts, an organization of executives and department heads of Wekearnyan Merchandise Branch. The outing is being held at Delaware Water Gap. The caravan of special cars left Newark early this morning. Golf tournaments will be held today and tomorrow at the Wolf Hollow Country Club. There will be special ceremonies for the entertainment of the guests today.

Bears Open Sunday For 16 Days Here

Doubleheader Is Scheduled With Montreal Royals

When the Bears trot out on the field, Sunday afternoon, at Ruppert Stadium, to play a doubleheader against the Montreal Royals, it will begin their June home stay of sixteen days. While performing on their home lot, the Bruins will engage in eighteen battles. Montreal opens the invasion to be followed by the Buffalo Bisons, Rochester Red Wings, Toronto Maple Leafs and the Syracuse Chiefs.

The Royals will meet the Bruins in a four game series, their final battle being scheduled for Tuesday. On that day, the Bears will inaugurate the home night game season. The lights this year, will be brighter than heretofore and the field, according to lighting experts, will be one of the best illuminated parks in the country. The game will start at 9 o'clock. The club management has arranged for a musical program and professional talent to entertain the fans before the game starts. Following the Royals, the Buffalo Bisons will come in for a three games series, terminating their stay Friday.

Manager Bob Shawkey and his charges are counting on their long home stay to make first place secure for themselves for the balance of the season. Since the race started, the Bears have done the pursuing, now they intend to be the pursued. They feel once in front none of the other clubs will be able to overhaul them. The difference between the written letter "o" and "a" is sometimes hard to decipher and the two have caused plenty of inconvenience to Roy Schalk classy little second baseman of the Bears. Roy often receives mail intended for Ray Schalk, manager of the Buffalo Bisons and vice-versa. This is especially true, when Newark and Buffalo are both playing in the same city.

Roy is a citizen of Chicago and began playing ball there. He was picked up by a scout and sent to Fairbury of the Nebraska State League. Two years later he was sold to Oklahoma City where he hit .342. Among his bingles were fifty-five doubles and the New York Yankees bought him. He went south with the Yanks in 1933 and after playing in five games was sent to Newark. He played here all of last year and is again covering the keystone hassock.

Schalk is considered the best pivot man in the International League and his fielding this year has been sensational. He has made stops and throws that have lifted the fans, not only in Newark but in other league

Short Race Between

Letourner-Georgetti

Another Elimination Contest Is Scheduled For Sunday Night

Alfred Letourner, of France, the American motor-paced champion and Franco Georgetti, of Italy, the Italian motor-paced title holder, will meet in a ten mile motor-paced match race at the Nutley Velodrome on Sunday night at 8:30. There is a lot of rivalry between these two stars and the fans look forward to an exciting battle between the two outstanding pace followers in the game if not in the world.

The second feature will be a medley match race between Bill Honeiman, crack American rider and looked upon as the outstanding contender for the American sprint championship and Cecil Walker, former all-around champion of America. The first heat will be a mile sprint, the second Australian pursuit race and if a third heat is necessary the distance and style will be decided by the toss of a coin.

A motor-paced race on Sunday night will bring together Franz Deulberg, of Germany; Victor Hopkins, of Davenport, Iowa; Paul Croley, of Brooklyn and Jackie Sheehan of New York. This race will be an elimination affair to see who rides in the motor-paced championship races which will get underway next Wednesday night. Frank L. Kramer, chairman of the Board of Control of the National Cycling Association, has picked five riders to battle for the title and the rider who wins among the four on Sunday night will be the sixth man in the competition. The riders selected are: Alfred Letourner, the present champion; Franco Georgetti, champion of Italy; Charley Jaeger, former American champion; Gerard Debaets, premier rider of Belgium and Tino Reboli, Newark youth, who is now leading in the race for the all-around motor-paced championship.

The professional riders will ride a ten mile open, paced, while there will also be a four-seventh mile handicap and a miss and out invitation. The amateurs will compete in two races. The races will start at 8:30 and the Wednesday night races at the same time. In case of rain Wednesday night the races will be held Thursday night.

cities, right out of their seats. He has become one of the best second sackers in the league. Manager Bob Shawkey has confidence in the little Chicago chap and believes he will again strike the batting form he displayed two years ago in Oklahoma City. There is one thing certain, the pitchers respect him, for he has the knack of coming through with hits in critical spots.
