Those Bike Riders Will Drive Us Nuts

That race Wednesday night at the Velodrome in which Letourner and Georgetti raced themselves out still has the boys in the back room talking—and how! In the Belleville News shop, wherever Patsy Fratella, boss cleaner-upper, works he finds reams of paper on which are diagrams of "how it happened." Georgetti rosters have it their way. Letourner fans have their version and even Jaeger's supporters are in line. No less than ten different diagrams show a miniature saucer with the various positions of the riders. According to latest reports from the composing room Georgetti has the edge on Letourner.

Roselle Man Held Without Bail On Charge Of Taking Part In $1,500 Payroll Holdup Alleged Bandit Was Nabbed By Patrolmen Flynn And Gross—Further Arrests Expected In Robbery Of Albert Newschwander And Wife

Justus Rossbach of 111 Hawthorne avenue, Roselle, was ordered held for the Grand Jury without bail, charged with taking part in the $1,500 payroll holdup of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Newschwander Friday afternoon, by Recorder Everett B. Smith Wednesday.

The alleged bandit was arrested Monday by Patrolmen John J. Flynn and Anthony Gross. According to police, Newschwander has identified the man as one of the three who robbed him.

Although Rossbach refused to confess the crime and would not name his alleged companions police are confident that they will be able to make further arrests in a few days.

Newschwander and his wife were robbed while driving the $1,500 payroll of the Belleville Copper Rolling Mills, of which Newschwander is cashier, to the plant.

The holdup occurred in front of 616 Mill street, about 300 yards from the plant. The bandits, riding in a large green sedan bearing license plates stolen in Elizabeth August 12, cut in front of the Newschwander car, forcing it to stop. Two men got out, leaving a third at the wheel.

One of the pair, after shooting a bullet through a window of the car, pointed the revolver at Newschwander and demanded the payroll. Newschwander handed over a bag containing the money. The bandits ran to their car and drove off. Newschwander went to the copper mill and telephoned police.

If convictions are secured in this case, it will be the second time within a month in which Belleville police have cleared up holdups in which large sums of money were taken. Three men, who held up James J. Casey at his tavern in Washington avenue July 19, were sentenced to prison August 22 after arrests by the local authorities. The arrests in the tavern robbery were made by Flynn and Chanceman Edward Fletcher, who has since been made a full-time patrolman.

Attendance Increase At Local High School First Day Of Registration Shows Gain Of 159 Pupils

First day attendance figures, announced Wednesday by Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer, show a gain of 159 pupils at Belleville High School. This figure is expected to be increased as more pupils return from their summer vacations.

The increase in enrollment was expected by school officials, and the high school is operating this year on a two-session plan. The three upper grades are taught in the morning, while freshmen report in the afternoon. First day attendance last year was 1,250, while this year it was 1,409.

Total attendance on the opening day decreased this year in the grade schools. The total attendance for all schools Wednesday was 5,683, while last year it was 5,702. Mr. Parmer attributes this to the recent ruling of the board of education requiring all pupils entering the school system to be vaccinated. He believes mothers have withheld their children from vaccination, and to allow them to recover from the effects of the inoculation.

Opening day enrollment by schools follows: School No. 1, 400; No. 2, 141; No. 3, 547; No. 4, 1,023; No. 5, 576; No. 7, 482; No. 8, 564; No. 9, 248, and No. 10, 294.

School Board Names Three New Teachers Awards Contract For Heat- ing Plant Changes In High School

Three new teachers were appointed by the board of education at a meeting Monday night. The Misses Regina Lynch and Dorothy Schneider of Belleville were given positions at School No. 7 and Miss Marian Robinson of Passaic will teach at School No. 4.

Transfers of Miss Rose Friedman from School No. 3 to the high school, Miss Olga Nelson from School No. 7 to the high school and Miss Margaret Trost from School No. 7 to School No. 3 were approved.

A contract for changes in the heating plant at the high school was awarded to E. J. Wohle, Inc. of Union City, which was the lowest bidder with a bid of $3,949.

The steam heating system in the building will be changed from a gravity return to a vacuum return. The change has been contemplated for some time, as the old system has failed to work well since the construction of an addition to the building. John P. Dailey, board president, said that some parts of the heating plant are eighteen years old.

Mrs. Porter Sheldon praised the doctors of Belleville for their cooperation in the vaccination of school children. She said that they had agreed to charge only $1 for this service, and would perform the vaccination free of charge if the parents were unable to pay. This makes it possible for every child to be vaccinated by its family physician.

The school board requires that every child and teacher entering the school system for the first time be vaccinated, but it is highly recommended by the board and by Health Officer Eugene T. Berry for all school children.

Local People Wait For Steamer That Fails To Show Up

Seventy-five persons who brought excursion tickets at $1.50 each waited at Center street dock Friday for more than two hours for a steamer called the Sea Gate. Finally one of their number went to the police and said they suspected all was not right.

At local police headquarters it was said each ticket bore the following: "Poor Children's Excursion—Non-Sectarian—Steamer Sea Gate—Up the Hudson through Hook Mountain—Leaves Center Street Dock, Newark, August 31 at 10 A. M.—Under auspices of Protestant Civic Welfare League—Music, Refreshments, Entertainment."

Officials To Confer On School Finances Board Has Only $19,000 In Bonds, $2,500 Cash To Meet Payrolls

John P. Dailey, president of the board of education; James J. Turner, finance chairman of the board, and Mayor William H. Williams, town director of revenue and finance, will confer in the near future on plans for the financing of the public school system in the present school year.

Mr. Turner, at the school board meeting Monday night disclosed that the school system has only $19,000 in baby bonds and $2,500 cash on hand to meet payrolls and other necessary expenditures. A contract was awarded Monday for the remodeling of the heating plant in the high school at a cost of $3,949. Mr. Turner asked assurance the board would be able to meet this obligation.

"I feel that the time has come when we should reach an understanding with the town on some arrangement whereby we can meet our obligations," said Mr. Turner. "We have teachers' salaries to meet and have just let a contract to an outside firm."

Town Abolishes Job Of Building Clerk Matthew Richards Is Third Employee Out For Economy

A third town employee was let go Friday. Matthew J. Richards, clerk in the building department, was given notice by Director of Public Affairs Joseph King that consolidation of departments will make his services unnecessary after September 15. In a letter to Richards, King pointed out the dismissal had no personal motive.

Richards' duties will be taken over by Plumbing Inspector Edward J. O'Connor. They consist of drawing a monthly report for the Board of Commissioners and preparing building permits for the building inspector to sign. Richards' salary was $2,184 less a 14 per cent reduction. King pointed out such a saving means more than a point in the tax rate.

The building clerk was appointed by his brother-in-law, former Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, nearly eight years ago. The job has been assailed as unnecessary by civic and taxpayer organizations at budget hearings for several years.

Two weeks ago Director of Public Safety George R. Gerard notified Frank Fuselle, combustibles inspector, his post would end September 15. The work will be done by members of the fire department. The saving is $2,184 less the 14 per cent cut.

Shortly after election Mayor William H. Williams abolished the position of William Outcalt, personal tax collector, to save a salary of $1,800 less 14 per cent.

Nutley Is Mecca For Lost Youngsters

Three Tots Taken Home After Hike Here From Newark

Nutley is fast becoming the Mecca for all lost youngsters within a ten-mile radius. Nearly every week police pick up children who have wandered here from out-of-town homes.

Monday Patrolman Charles Baerst, in response to a telephone call, took three tots to headquarters from a gasoline station at Washington avenue and Kingsland road. The children gave their names as Joseph Grosso, 4, Jerry Grosso, 6, and Mary Grosso, 8. They had walked all the way from their home at 90 Summer avenue, Newark, about four miles. They carried a loaf of bread, which they had set out to feed to a dog owned by their uncle, who lives four blocks from their home, but they had lost their way. Baerst took them home in a police car.

Belleville Taxpayers' Association is planning an active winter and drive for members. If present plans, as outlined Wednesday night at a meeting in the Recreation House in Jorammon street, carry through a newspaper advertising campaign will be started, the purpose of which will be to instill civic pride in all taxpayers. The aims and deals of the organization will also be set forth.

An open letter to taxpayers in this connection will be framed Monday evening by Victor Schleicher, A. M. Budd and R. J. Stephens at a meeting in Mr. Budd's home. The letter will be submitted to the organization at its next regular meeting Wednesday, which meeting replaces the regular meeting the first Wednesday of the month. The meeting this week was postponed due to the Labor Day holiday. The executive board met instead.

The association, which was formed about three years ago, has a membership of over 100. It is hoped to reach 1,000. At the present time the executive board is composed of fourteen members, fifteen being the quota. Another member will be named later by the Manufacturers' Association. At future meetings prominent speakers on municipal affairs will be heard. The association plans to constructively assist in town affairs. The recent dismissal of two town employees, whose positions were abolished "because of economy" met with approval of the association, which long had held the jobs needless. Mr. Fischer declared "as much as we hate to see anyone lose a job, we felt in these two cases they were not essential position."

Nutley Man Injured When Car Hits Pole

John Young Suffers Broken Nose In Cathedral Avenue Crash

John W. F. Young of 50 Overlook terrace, this town, suffered a fractured nose when his car struck a telephone pole in Cathedral avenue opposite Glendale street at noon Wednesday. He was taken by C. Learning of the accident, Patrolmen Charles Baerst and Thomas Murren went to the scene in the ambulance but found the victim had been taken to a physician.

Mr. Young told police that his car struck a depression in the paving just before the accident. Something appeared to snap in the mechanism, he said, and he lost control of the car, which swerved into the pole. The entire front of Mr. Young's car was demolished by the force of the collision. Town Free Of Disease, Health Officer States

Nutley is entirely free of contagious disease at the present time, Health Officer Eugene H. Sullivan announced this week. All previously reported cases of disease have recovered and no new cases have been reported, he said.

"This is very unusual," Mr. Sullivan said Wednesday. "This is the first time in years that we have been able to clear up all cases of contagion."

The health officer fears, however, that with the opening of school, and with the return of children who have spent vacations in towns where health conditions are not as strictly observed as in Nutley, that several cases of contagious disease will be reported in the near future, due to the close intermingling of children at the schools.

DEPENDABLE SERVICE IS WORTH THE PRICE

TRUE, in paying the electric bill, you pay for the current consumed over a stated period.

But, however intangible, there is another commodity that is yours also as a user of electric service!

That commodity is—Dependability.

And dependability is based on 24 hour a day service. Electricity is a servant which is never idle, night or day.

Dependability is assured by the most modern equipment, up-to-the-minute findings of the research laboratory and the efficiency of well-trained workers.

In order that you shall have the best service at all hours of the day and night your company keeps pace with the latest improvements in the ever-developing field of electricity! It costs money to keep modern—and, thus, dependable. But who would have it otherwise!

You get a lot for a little when you pay for electric service that you can depend upon!

No other item in the household budget gives so much for so little as electricity.

"Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 9.

The Golden Text is: "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God" (Romans 8:14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth" (Genesis 1:26).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is co-existent and co-eternal with that Mind. He has been forever in the eternal Mind, God; but infinite Mind can never be in man, but is reflected by man" (p. 336).

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 2% of our food decays in our 23 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes. When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomato, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills, which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. TRAFFIC SCHOOL

Out at San Diego a police judge has hit upon a new scheme for teaching motorists to be cautious and to drive with more diligence and care. If a citizen has been guilty of a motor law violation and he is without means to pay a nominal fine, he is sentenced to a traffic school. The attendance is compulsory—and here the motorists learn just what traffic laws are and what they are all about.

Principally, the offending motorists are taught the lessons of speeding and the tragic results that generally follow. It is claimed the motorists upon completion of their "course" are grateful for the instructions they have received. Perhaps, after all, such traffic schools should be opened everywhere with admittance to all.

SEAWEED SOUP

The Department of Commerce has received information from its Manila office that the seaweed or edible algae, which grows in such abundance on the shores of the Philippines, may be scientifically cultivated for food purposes in the near future. The project is now under consideration by the government authorities there.

The algae are already used by the natives for salads, pickles and soup. Quantities of the seaweed are salted and dried in the sun for future use. If the articles prove satisfactory to American taste, we may expect to find seaweed soup on some of our advanced menus before long.

LET US SEE

The Federal Bureau of Air Commerce has just opened bids from various makers around the country for twenty-five airplanes "that will almost land themselves" and that cannot stall or go into a tail spin. This move is in the interests of private flying in the United States.

It will be interesting to see how these planes, which are to cost from $750 to $6,670, will fulfill specifications. The entirely safe plane has not yet been produced; but possibly it can be. The bureau says that it would probably take "some time to make a thorough examination of the machines offered." It probably will.

We were interested in watching and hearing about bees the other day. Of course we did not understand all of the learned discourse. But one thing seemed to impress itself upon our minds. A single bee is absolutely helpless when separated from the hive but when working with other bees it achieves a golden prize. Is it not so with men and women? In a group we get something that we cannot obtain as individuals. Ten men and women who stand together have the strength of fifty who stand singly. Working with others we have the inspiration that comes from blending mind with mind and efficiency that is the result of combined effort. Workers help other people to work. Thinkers help other people to think. That is where absolute dictatorship cannot be a lasting success. The individual has rights to be sure and rights to be respected so long as he does not impose those rights to the detriment and destruction of his fellow men.

We talked the other day with a man who is a successful clerk. In the course of the conversation we asked him just what contributed to that success. He answered, "Well, what do you call success? I like my work and I believe in the firm I am working for and the goods I am selling. I do not kick against what my employers say and do. I believe in boosting my firm at all times. I like courtesy, kindness, and friendship and honest competition; so I try to carry on this way myself. It is success? I don't know. I just keep plugging along."

When Nature Wants A Man

By ANGELA MORGAN

When nature wants to drill a man
And thrill a man,
And skill a man,
When nature wants to mold a man
To play the noblest part:
When she yearns with all her heart
To create so great and bold a man
That all the world shall praise
Watch her method, watch her ways!
How she royally elects:
How she hammers him and hurts him
And with mighty blows converts him
Into trial shapes of clay, which only
Nature understands—

While his tortured heart is crying
And he lifts beseeching hands
How she bends, but never breaks,
When his good, she undertakes . . .
How she uses when she chooses
And with every purpose fuses him
By every art induces him
To try his splendor out—
Nature knows what she's about.
When nature wants to take a man
And shake a man
And wake a man:

When nature wants to make a man,
To do the future's will.
When she tries with all her skill
And she yearns with all her soul
To create him large and whole . . .
With what cunning she prepares him!
How she goads and never spares him!
How she whets him and she frets him
And in poverty begets him
How she often disappoints him
Whom she sacredly anoints
With what wisdom she will hide him,
Never minding what betides him
Though his genius sob with slighting
And his pride may not forget!
Bids him struggle harder yet
Makes him lonely

So that only
God's holy messages shall reach him
So that she shall surely teach him
What the Hierarchy planned
Though he may not understand
Gives him passions to command—
How remorselessly she spurs him
With terrific ardor stirs him
When she poignantly prefers him!
When Nature wants to name a man
And frame a man
And tame a man

When nature wants to shame a man
To do his heavenly best . . .
When she tries the highest test
That her reckoning may bring
So his body scarce contains him
While she fires and inspires!
Keeps him yearning, ever burning
For a tantalizing goal—
Lures and lacerates his soul:
Sets a challenge for his spirit
Draws it higher when he's near it—
Makes a jungle that he clear it
Makes a desert, that he fear it
And subdue it, if he can—
So doth nature make a man

Then to test his spirit's wrath
Hurls a mountain in his path—
And relentless stands o'er him
"Climb or perish!" so she says . . .
Watch her purpose, watch her ways!
Nature's plan is wondrous kind
Could we understand her mind—
Fools are they who call her blind
When his spirit mounts unheeding
All his higher powers speeding
Blazing, newer paths and fine:
When the force is divine—
Leaps to challenge every failure
And his ardor still is sweet
And love and hope are burning
In the presence of defeat . . .
So the crisis! So the shout
That must call the leader out.
When the people need salvation
Doth he come to lead a nation
Then doth nature show her plan
When the world has found—a man.

HEISLEY LETTER

Editor of The News:

This is Labor Day, which was instituted in the year 1889.

The shovel typified labor. It dug our canals. Afterwards it heaped up the earth for railroad grades. It will always be useful; is still useful in the repair of grades, and anywhere the steam shovel can not be used.

Labor of course, covers all sorts of manual tasks, like making cigars, cigarettes, tools, and the use of tools. It is hard to tell what isn't labor. For a time there was an antagonism between the use of newly invented labor saving devices and labor itself. The new device took away the jobs of nine of the ten men who had formed the old shovel and pick gang, leaving the tenth man the easy job of operating the machine.

The story of the antagonism ran all the way through. First it was the cotton gin; next, the steam shovel; then—but there is no use going on with the enumeration. Even cigars and cigarettes are machine made, nowadays. The machine has won out. We've got to a day when one day's operation of the machines provides two or three day's need. It is a question of a shortened week. A revolution is something that is inevitable. One gives up pretty soon whistling against the wind. We couldn't if we had tried, prevent the coming of chain stores and department emporiums. They were backed, in many instances, by men who had started business as individual store keepers, but saw where they could make more money by uniting with other small store keepers, and like an octopus, having many arms. If what it does seems to him more than he had ever intended, he can't help it now. If the world goes on to technocracy, socialism, communism, against his own wishes, he has shown the world how to do it. His case will prove no different from Frankenstein being devoured by his own monster. The displaced, unemployed labor, will take a leaf out of his own business. Labor is bread, and as the steam shovel took bread out of men's mouths, so in turn will they take bread out of the hands of business by becoming BUSINESS itself.

Labor is so important that its holiday connotes Bread Day. Men will always look out for what comes next. A picture revealed the plight of the little English boy who, having his picnic lunch put up in a little box, hid himself to the jungle. Oh, yes, the Bengal tiger amiably submitted himself to the napkin and allowed himself to be fed piecemeal from the lunch box, but when all was gone, he bestowed upon the little boy an unmistakable look that boded ill for the boy's safety.

Choosing Candidates

Editor News:

Personally splendid men with splendid records, Messrs. Dill and Hoffman will each undoubtedly hold the normal partisan vote of their respective parties. The more or less independent voters decide nearly all Jersey elections, and they likely will this fall.

In this connection it is clear that Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman is not only the Republican candidate for Governor but also the party leader—decisively chosen by the people last May over three able opponents, when he carried six-tenths of the counties. He is free to render the public the efficient service he has given in every office, municipal, state and national.

On the other hand Mr. Dill's position is indicated by a recent cartoon in the pro-Dill Newark News, which depicted Hoffman, who is both Republican nominee and leader, engaged in a campaign battle with Mayor Frank Hague, Democratic leader who designated Hoffman's antagonist. The following day Mr. Dill at Sea Girt landed Hague as "the greatest political leader of our time, one who is tireless and unselfish."

In view of such happenings, isn't it natural for the independent voters to think that in the last analysis they must choose not between Hoffman and Dill, but between Hoffman and Hague?

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

Factfully Yours

— LILLIAN THOMAS —

The World War, they said, was a "war to end war." It was a war for democracy, and it would end militarism. Representative government would rule all nations after the war. Disputes would be settled by arbitration before a World Court under a League of Nations. As soon as German militarism was smashed and peace was restored, general disarmament would begin. No more would king and diplomat have the power to make war; that would be in the hands of the people. No more would men be smashed to bits in trenches or ruined by gas. No more would civil populations live in fear of air attacks and suffer hunger and want. It was glorious, this philosophy of life and peace that was preached to all the world from 1914 to 1918.

Then came the Armistice. Greedily the Allies took the land and possessions of the vanquished and divided it among themselves, after much wrangling over who should get this and who should get that. The religion of peace and good will preached during the war was not evident. The victors forbid the defeated to have armies and navies and air forces, but they themselves doubled their armies and navies and built great air forces. During the war they had promised that after the fracas Europe would disarm and would no longer be an armed camp waiting for hostilities. Now all that was forgotten. Secret diplomacy came back into its own again. The masses of people lived in hope during the war because they had been told that this was the war to end war. After the melee had ceased, and Europe armed itself more than ever, and fell back into the same evil ways as before 1914, the people lost hope. Kings were deposed, dictators took their places. Not dictators preaching the love of God and good-will toward men, but dictators extolling the power of the state and the glory of war. Instead of disarmament, the burdens of more armament have been shackled on the shoulders of the people, and their personal liberties are in more jeopardy today than they were years ago.

So today Europe is again an armed camp, full of jealousies and hates and vengeance, and the people pray against the war that is as inevitable as tomorrow.

Michael Viracola

For Commander

Monmouth County Legionnaires Backing Him For

Position

Monmouth county delegates to the American Legion state convention next month have endorsed Michael A. Viracola of Long Branch for state commander and they are encouraged by promise of support from other parts of the state that their candidate will win. The convention will be held at Belmar, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 6, 7 and 8.

Mr. Viracola is engaged in the general contracting business. He is well known at Red Bank and the post here is working equally as heard to get him elected commander as the one at Long Branch, of which he is a past commander. Supporters of his candidacy say that he typifies the kind of successful business men needed for legion leadership.

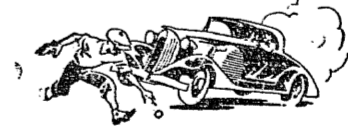

Mr. Viracola is a native of Long Branch and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, in which institution he served as an instructor for a time after he concluded his studies. He enlisted in the army as a private during the World War and he was promoted to the position of first lieutenant of infantry.

Mr. Viracola has served as state vice commander of the American Legion and at present he is state membership director. As proof of the efficient manner in which he has filled his last mentioned position it is pointed out that despite the depression the membership of American Legion posts in New Jersey has increased about 500 the past year. Mr. Viracola has been indefatigable in promoting membership campaigns all over the state. He has visited all the posts and given every co-operation to them in the efforts to secure more members.

Monmouth county has never had one of its residents as state commander of the Legion. For this as well as other reasons legionnaires are interested in Mr. Viracola's candidacy. Among other things they point out that in length of service he is the oldest former senior vice commander not to attain the rank of commander. He is a charter member of the Long Branch post and he has always been very active in promoting the interests of the legion. His supporters say that among the rank and file of legion workers there is no one more popular and no one who is more thoroughly familiar with Legion work. J. Layton Prout of Long Branch is Mr. Viracola's campaign manager.

Monmouth county delegates are to be held for York Rhoades of loselle Park for the position of vice commander. Mr. Rhoades formerly lived in Monmouth County and he is well known at Red Bank.

DRIVE SAFELY

Speeding on Curves and Hills

WOULDN'T it be utterly foolish to close your eyes while walking near the end of a precipice? Still many motorists shoot around curves at highly dangerous speeds without having the slightest idea of what may lie ahead.

SLOW DOWN on curves and especially at turns where the vision is impaired if you value your life and the lives of others using the highways. The fellow coming toward you may be speeding, too, and worse yet, he may be on the wrong side of the road.

Going over the top of a hill presents a similar situation. You never know what is on the other side until you get there. In fact it is just another way of trying to see whether you can crash the gates On High. If another fellow is coming up the other side the meeting would be untimely, painful and embarrassing.

If the vision ahead isn't clear, keep down your speed and stay on your own side of the road.

Forty-eighth year of Montclair Academy will open on September 19, many prospects for a good term. The faculty there are no changes, but that William C. Phillips, former athletic assistant and one time member under the famous Zuppke of this, now becomes department head in active charge of all coaching. Football he will be assisted by Olin L. Pinkney of the class of 1927, many remember as one of the Academy's star players and most loyal supporter, as well as prominent quarterback on the Lehigh team. Both Phillips and Pinkney attended a summer school for coaches which was conducted by an assistant of Lou Little at Montclair State Teachers' College.

In the academic department continued emphasis will be placed on the development of music and artistic interests under the leadership of Norman M. Reid, a graduate of the University of Chicago, who has had special training in these fields in Europe. Mr. Reid will this year initiate a glee club and a full school orchestra in both the Upper and Lower Schools. He will also coach the annual school play which will be given just before the Christmas vacation.

Reports received from members of last year's senior class show that all of them have been able successfully to enter the colleges of their choice. In fact, for the fourth consecutive year the academy points with pride to an exceptional record on the part of its college entrance grades. From Princeton University it is learned that the three boys who entered there last fall after graduating from the Academy obtained one of the highest records yet made by any school, either public or private. This year's graduates will enter Union, Lafayette, Princeton, Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Michigan, Rensselaer, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Wesleyan, and the University of Virginia.

The football schedule for this coming year is as follows:
September 28, Carteret; October 5, open; 12, Glen Ridge; 19, Rutgers Prep; 27, Bordentown; November 2, open; 9, Horace Mann; 16, Newark Academy; 23, Pingry.

Court Finals

The veteran Dick Slauer, formerly of Belleville, now of Nutley, scored victories in both the singles and doubles divisions in the finals of the annual Clearman Field tennis tourney. Slauer trounced Maurice Karosen in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2, Saturday afternoon, before a good-sized gallery, to cop the singles championship. He also combined with Phil Redmond, also of Nutley, to take the doubles diadem with an easy 6-2, 6-2 win over the Kearny combination of Al Harvey and "Jap" Burton, before another large crowd, Labor Day.

In the singles semi-finals, 6-4, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2. Slauer's semi-final victory was but a continuance of his march through the tourney, as he took Hank Quinn in stride, 6-0, 6-1, 6-1.

The winning Slauer-Redmond doubles combine won its way to the finals with the elimination of Huemer and Beams in the semi-finals, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. The losing combination had previously set back the Belleville team of Gauss and Johnnie Manger in the quarter-finals, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Bears Wind Up In International Lead

League Competition To End
With Sunday's
Game

With one of the greatest and most exciting International League races coming to a termination, Sunday, the Newark Bears loom as certain champions for the season of 1934. A few more victories and the flag will be in the claws of the bears. The Bruins are now engaged in their final series, which will end Sunday at Ruppert Stadium. They are now entertaining the Baltimore Orioles, who began a series here last night. Single games are on the program for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Should the Bears finish first, it will mark the third consecutive year they have accomplished the feat. This year the team finishing first in the race will be recognized as the league champions. The Bears moved into the lead June 8 and have been setting the pace ever since, due to the skillful management of Bob Shawkey. At times Shawkey was hard pressed for many of his players were on the injured list and at times, his pitching staff did not function so well.

In addition to the final game of the season, Sunday, an Old Timers' Day will also be staged. Former stars of the diamond and many of them are ex-Bears, will engage in an abbreviated game before the Bears and the Birds tangle for the last time this season. Among those who will participate in the Old Timers' game are Tim Jordan, former home run king of the Brooklyn Dodgers; Billy Zimmerman and Jack Enright of this city and one time Bears; Charles B. Schumann, Dan Tierney, Joe Birmingham, John F. Coffey, Richard H. Cogan, Bill "King" Brady, Rube Oldring, Otis Miller, Eugene McCann and Paul Krichell, scouts of the Yankees, Joe Finneran, East Orange, Clarence "Pop" Foster, batting star during Manager Burnham's time, Buck Herzog, former Giant and Cincinnati Red, Gus Getz, member of the champion 1913 Newark team, Bert Daly, Artie Latham, Johnny Enzmann, Herb Thormahlen, Eddie Holly, former manager of Montreal; Ed Reulbach,

Cecil Walker, former all-around champion of America; Norman Hill, the present all-around champion and Freddie Spencer, thrice sprint champion of America, will meet in a ten mile tandem paced race. There will also be a three mile tandem race and a three-sevenths mile handicap. The amateur riders will compete in a three-sevenths mile handicap and a two mile open.

Manager Harry Mendel has announced that the races will start promptly at 8:15 Sunday night and the doors to the Velodrome will open at 6:30 so as to take care of the big crowd. Reservations may be made by telephoning the Nutley Velodrome, Nutley 2-0753 or the office, Mitchell 2-9231.

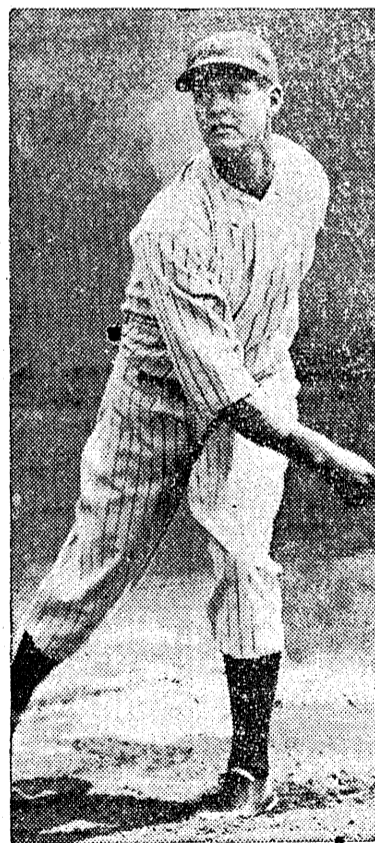

Tornadoes To Open Season Thursday Night

Coach Maclyn Baker has been drilling a squad of over twenty-five players nightly at Ashland Stadium. Among the players signed are Winnie Anderson, Woolsey Wheeler and Glenn Peters, all of Colgate; Dutch Wermouth, Jitty Wisniewski of Panzer and Upsala; Moe Frankel of Dartmouth; Joe Schein of Panzer; Marty Poto of the University of Pennsylvania; Barney Morris and Clarence Scherer, Bill Clarkin, Hershel Martin and Dinny Smith of last season's Orange Tornadoes.

The New York Giants were the Eastern Division top champs last year. Their cast includes Ken Strong, Ed Danowski, Harry Newman and Len Grant in a line-up of twenty-nine former college stars.

Following the game between the Bears and the Orioles, the Newark Club will award a Ford V-8 Tudor sedan to some lucky fan. The only stipulation is that the lucky one must be present at the final game. The car is now on exhibition in the main concourse of the stadium.

Saucer Splinters

The big push for the American motor-paced crown, now resting on the pate of Alf Letourner, France, is nearing an end. Pop-eyed onlookers at the Nutley Velodrome thrill to the spectacle of super speed as bike riders from five nations whirl around the banked saucer. The cyclists are paced by droning motorcycles, driven by dare-devil drivers—the best the world has to offer in this line of sport.

Franco Georgetti unlimbered his legs Sunday night to cop the 62½ mile grind. Alf Letourner was second and Charley Jaeger, third. Deulberg found the going too tough and quit at one mile to go, getting fourth place. Debaets quit at two miles to go and Tino Reboli walked to the showers early, when he was automatically out, after he had been lapped eleven times. Georgetti won hands down. After forty miles it was apparent only three men were in the race, although Zipf by a reckless burst of speed almost cost Charley Jaeger, whom he was pacing, a place. This happened at fifty miles when Letourner, who was in third place, tried to wrest second position from Jaeger. Zipf stepped out so fast Jaeger was lost and fell back behind Deulberg and Debaets. Jaeger, however, with one of his characteristic bursts of speed, soon flew by the Belgian and German to gain third place. It was this show of speed that cracked up both the trailing riders. Jim Barton fired the starting gun in this race.

Wednesday night's race, showed, after fifty miles had been covered, Tino Reboli had yanked himself five points further out of the cellar, Gerard Debaets evened up with Alf Letourner by annexing second place and each now rates forty-four chunks and Franz Deulberg, the follow the leader twin of Debaets has thirty-four by virtue of placing third. Charley Jaeger added one to run his total up to 30. Alf Letourner, usually Peck's bad boy, came into favor with bleachers, as well as grand-stand fans, when he got about the roughest, toughest tumble-bug ride seen thus far at the local saucer. Alf came into glory when Franz Deulberg, paced by Zipf, took Alf over the "humps" for no good reason at all. Georgetti fell into a hornet's nest of boos from the usually sedate grandstand when he fought Alf tooth and nail while the mite Frenchman was a lap back. Somehow or other, when a rider has been penalized a lap, other riders have not hampered the progress of the penalized one back into the fold, that is none except Georgetti. This should be recorded somewhere in the book of etiquette. Georgetti also brought the wrath of fandom on his brow when he changed bikes after a bitter tussle with Alf. Alf kicked to boss referee Steve Kramer as regards Deulberg and Zipf, but Frank did not bat an eye. He just puffed his cigarette a little faster. And when Alf kicked he dropped out of the swim, one lap back.

Deulberg and Zipf rode into the picture in a peculiar manner. The German, as in many other races was content, it seemed, to have one of two positions. He was either tacked on the tail end of the field ahead of Reboli who was followed by Debaets or parked in third position behind Debaets' tail light. It was on one of these tail light excursions that Deulberg's stock in popularity took a tumble. Alf had been racing high, wide and handsome for five miles against Georgetti who was paced by Antenucci. Letourner got by Georgetti and then the Deulberg-Zipf spasm came on. Georgetti, who had kicked loud and long recently against high riding demonstrated that art, or may be it was Antenucci, in the clash with Letourner. Be that as it may, Letourner at length foot-footed it so

Buster Logan was second, Al Sellinger, who just made the grade in his heat by beating out Charles Connolly, third, and Journey, fourth.

Norman Hill and Ewald Wissel stole a lap on the riders in the ten-mile, class A, point race, after various and sundry other pairs had tried the same trick, but wound up unsuccessful. Freddie Spencer and Louis Cohen took a flier at one mile and got a commanding lead. Freddie galloped home first in the second sprint with Cohen tacked on, but shortly after both spilled when they skidded on the black line, which had become slightly damp. Willie Honeman and Eddie Miller had a similar spill, later. At various stages Martinetti and Ritter, Walker and Grimm and Lands and Van Ness tried to steal away but were soon brought back into the fold by Hill and Wissel. Hill was easily the outstanding rider in this race. He garnered enough points before the final sprint to win and had the lap thrown in for good measure. Wissel needed his lap to finish second with thirteen points. Cecil Walker was third, one lap back, with eighteen points, followed by Ritter and Martinetti and Grimm.

Caesar Binetti, former amateur, also turned professional and was presented with a bouquet. Angelo Lawrenzano won the three-sevenths file handicap, amateur, trail-fast by the Italian rider that Georgetti fell back to sixth place. The Deulberg-Zipf song and dance gained neither any friends. If you have two shirts you can bet one on that. In the excitement that followed, Letourner flew off the handle and lost a lap, the making up of which Georgetti prevented. For such behavior Georgetti later took a dose of his own medicine from Letourner after Georgetti had lost a lap. The net result of the Georgetti-Letourner feud was that both went scoreless. Which may or may not mean anything to the rider voting or ticket buying public. Once Deulberg got seated behind Debaets with Letourner and Georgetti far back he remained in third place. Debaets coasted in to second place. Reboli just rolled into first with not so much as a flurry to disturb his ride over the entire fifty miles.

And that, dear folks, is our story, sad as it is, of the men on the "flying" machines.

Cecil Walker Sunday night took the measure of Freddie Spencer in the medley match race. Cecil copied the first event at one-mile, riding from the rear. The Australian Pursuit tilt went one mile, four laps, Cecil again winning.

James Basile, former amateur, who rode his first professional race Sunday night, walked off with the three-sevenths mile handicap. Frank Hayes was second; Bob Silver, third, Eddie Ammann, fourth; Bobby Walhour, fifth and Bill Unkert, sixth.

By a stroke of luck George Shipman of the Empire City Wheelmen won the one-mile National championship amateur. Not only was it luck, but George wobbled his wheel all over the track to keep Martin Journey bottled up in the final. Shipman reminded fans of the motorist, who when given four lanes of concrete, still persists in riding a dizzy course from one side of the road to the other. His elbows also came in to good advantage.

Norman Hill again showed how well he is riding by winning the ten-mile Class A, point race. Martin Journey copied the two-mile open, amateur.

A young boy got himself into some trouble outside the saucer when he tried to sell one of the owners, Anthony Miele, a complimentary ticket for thirty-five cents. If the usual smile "Blackie" wears is missing these days only one thing can be held accountable for it. "Blackie," who was one of the star baseball players at Washington School playground, feels dejected because the baseball season is over. ed by Bennie Mammes, Andrew Quinn, Quincy Schnapp and Robert Kramer. Tom Saetta took the miss and out class B, professional, followed by James Corcoran, Harvey Black, William Unkert and Guy Ricci.

Tommie Byrnes, Belleville, is a first class bike fan. Tommie has only missed one meet since the track opened. He has also travelled all over the country to watch six-day races. He has witnessed races in Europe, as well.

"Tip" Rosen, former Newark Ledger sports writer, who is now publicity manager for the dog races at Linden track, was at one time publisher of a Rahway weekly paper. "Tip" was a familiar figure at the Velodrome while a member of the Ledger family.

With a month or so of outdoor racing left many local fans are turning their attention to six day races. Because of the proximity of the New York and Philadelphia grinds a number of Velodrome regulars are already getting together parties.

Harry Mendel, the popular manager of the 'drome, deserves a big hand for the interesting and varied programs that were served on the sport platter this season. Efficiency plus has been Harry's watchword. He has always tried to think first, last and all the time of the patrons, who have been responsible for a revival of cycling in Jersey. Carmine Bilotti and "Blackie," able assistants, have helped in much detail work.

George Dempsey Wednesday mastered Cecil Walker in two straight heats of their one-mile match race, the first one going to Dempsey by inches, as he nosed his wheel by Cecil in the last few yards. Dempsey took the second heat by a fraction of his wheel after Walker had made a strong bid from the rear, the same type of race Dempsey put up to win the initial heat.

LeRoy Garrison took the Australian Pursuit race after almost four miles from Ewald Wissel. The pair remained on the track longest among twelve finalists.

Norman Hill again showed how well he is riding by winning the ten-mile Class A, point race. Martin Journey copied the two-mile open, amateur.
