er, about 175 persons attended the affair. Recorder Everett B. Smith acted as toastmaster. Other speakers were Robert T. Ondell, who spoke in behalf of the campaign for governor for Harold G. Hoffman and Commissioner King.

Card games replaced outdoor events due to the weather. The band entertained the members with selections for over an hour and in addition Phil O'Toole and Gilbert Howley rendered several vocal selections.

The evening's entertainment was well received by the members, who complimented Mr. Derbyshire on arranging such a fine concert. Edward McFadden gave an exhibition of fancy old-fashioned, buck and wing dancing.

Bangert Wins Laurels As Best Fisherman

Frank Bangert was awarded the unofficial title of "Belleville's best deep sea fisherman" when he caught all the fish at an outing which left Beechwood Sunday with Captain Russ Canfield.

Members of the expedition report that Henry Bohrer had to wait until after dark to return to Belleville, as he had had no luck with the finny denizens of the deep. Chauncey Black is said to have promised everyone in his neighborhood a fish dinner, and to have warned them not to buy meat. He also caught no fish. Captain Canfield was also unsuccessful.

Another member of the party, while unsuccessful as a fisherman, won honors for "chumming."

Appointments Made by Woman's G.O.P. Club

First Fall Meeting Was Held
At Woman's Club
Thursday

The Belleville Woman's Republican Club opened the Fall campaign with a meeting at the Belleville Woman's club house, 51 Rossmore place, Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. John T. O'Brien Jr., presided. Several new appointments, which included Miss Grace Little, sunshine chairman; Mrs. Emily Sundheimer, social chairman; Mrs. Emily J. Mayer, program chairman, were made.

There will be a special meeting of the club on Wednesday afternoon of next week, September 26, at the home of Mrs. Arthur A. Darvo, 40 Rossmore place, to make arrangements for a huge affair to be held October 25. Mrs. O'Brien announced that Mrs. Elizabeth B. Brink, one of the club's members, who is on Belleville's Recreation Commission, has been appointed by Governor Moore on the National Recreation Commission, which will convene at Washington.

Mrs. Jabez H. Helm of New Brunswick was guest speaker, and a very effective one. Mrs. Helm spoke very convincingly on behalf of Harold G. Hoffman for governor. She said in part: "This man, and only this man can lead us to constructive government. His unique magnetism appeals to men and women alike. At the age of twelve years he began his career as a newspaperman, and had ample opportunity to study people. In the World War he was raised from the ranks of a private to that of a captain, on the age of twenty-one, while on the battlefield. After the war, in business in a bank, he soon became vice president, then president of the Middlesex Bankers' Association. In ten campaigns, he was ten times elected. He is head and shoulders above any other motor vehicle commissioner, and is nationally known and recognized, in the hearts and minds of all. And this is the acid test, nothing from the opposition is said against him. This is the promise he has made—to do the right thing at the right time as he sees fit. His strength of will, intelligence and strong personality get the respect and enlist the cooperation of all with whom he comes in contact. He retains his humility, and is an untiring worker. He is a leader, a born leader of men, a certain type, a special type of man; he is 'the man of the hour.'"

Taxpayers' Association Explains Aims In Open Letter to Belleville Citizens

Organization Is Committed to Eternal Vigilance In Securing Full Value for Every Dollar Spent
By Governmental Agencies, Officers State

To the Belleville Citizens:

You are taxpayers, no matter whether you own real estate or pay rent. In the latter case your rent pays the taxes on your landlord's property. Therefore, membership in a live and wide awake taxpayers' association should be of interest to you. We believe that we have such an organization.

It is not our purpose to curtail or reduce the efficiency of our public service. We insist rather upon getting a dollar's worth of value for every dollar spent by our government. The price of securing this reasonable demand is eternal vigilance. It is the common fault of citizens, to which many of us must plead guilty, to get "hot under the collar" upon receipt of a tax bill showing an increase, without investigating the cause of such an increase. Likewise, we may sit back with complacency when we note that our tax rate has been reduced a few points without realizing that the tax rate may be lowered a few points to suit the occasion. Consequently, the reason for such increases or reductions must be intelligently determined.

We believe that it is the duty of a taxpayers' association to determine that the budgets actually reflect the legitimate needs of a public service operated on the principles of good business and proper economy. We also believe that real estate should not bear the brunt of taxation, because a home owner cannot carry his home around in his pocket or conceal it in a safe deposit box in some bank. We further believe that it is possible to effect additional economies in every field of our public service. We note with satisfaction that some progress has been recently made in that direction to which we sincerely subscribe. To these principles we have fully committed ourselves. We, therefore, extend our invitation to every citizen of our town to become a member of our association. Kindly watch your local papers for announcement of meetings. Meanwhile all inquiries will receive our prompt attention.

Schools Are Ready For Big Year, Says Wayne R. Parmer

Board of Education, Staff,
Parents and Pupils Are Cooperating

"With the complete cooperation of Board of Education, teaching staff, parents and pupils, the Belleville public schools have set out for another ten months," declared Wayne R. Parmer, supervising principal, this week.

"The board of education has done everything within its power and means during the summer months to insure a successful year. The replacement of teachers who have retired from the profession or taken positions elsewhere; the replacement of equipment where needed including books and supplies; the repair of buildings and grounds; and a great many other adjustments—these have been accomplished with limited means and at the expense of a great amount of effort and time on the part of the members of the board.

"The teachers have begun their work with enthusiasm and dispatch. Even during the summer months, teachers who were financially unable to extend their education in teacher training institutions were giving, I find, considerable time to the planning of their work for the ensuing year. A number of teachers put time and money into equipping and brightening their respective rooms for the comfort and advancement of their boys and girls and did this work during their vacation so that the changes should be effective from the very beginning of the term. In spite of adversities such spirit and enthusiasm is bound to produce immeasurable results.

"In my first visits for the school year, I have been greeted with ambitious teachers, hopeful, without exception, of making this their best year. In general they give one the impression that they have the best group of children they have ever worked with. This is, to say the least, a fine professional attitude and one that will carry them a great way toward accomplishing what they would.

"Because of the need of making adjustments—transfers in order to balance sizes of classes for the sake of efficiency and economy, and for other reasons—I have met many parents during these opening days. I am delighted at the spirit of cooperation manifested by them generally.

"Of course the child is the objective of all that we are doing in this great cooperative enterprise. It is the present and ultimately the future welfare of the boys and girls of Belleville that matters. Every forward looking citizen will see the society of tomorrow in the light of a character producing program (character in the broadest terms) which must be carried on now. That children grow up but once is a fact that can not be over-looked. That this is our great, if not our greatest, obligation as citizens is not questioned by thinking people. It is likewise a great opportunity.

"During the school year, the principals of the several buildings will expect that you visit your school. "Parents' Day" will give you a special invitation to observe the kind of work and activities that engage your children at school. It is our hope that every parent will enlist in the Parent-Teacher organization of their district. Teachers should hold membership 100 per cent. It is an excellent means to secure a "parent teacher acquaintance" much to be desired in the interest of the child.

"We are off for a big school year. Will you help to make it the best year? Six thousand boys and girls should challenge enough to request a whole-hearted cooperation. Kipling said:

"It is not the guns or armaments
Or the money they can pay
But the close cooperation
That always wins the day.
It is not the individual
Or the army as a whole,
But the everlasting team-work
Of every bloomin' soul."

To Impose Penalties For Improper Parking

To Discontinue Policy Of Leniency For First
Offenders

The policy of suspending sentences of first offenders in the campaign against improper parking here will be discontinued in the future, Commissioner George R. Gerard, public safety director, and Recorder Everett

GEORGE R. GERARD

B. Smith announced at police court Wednesday night.

About thirty persons accused of parking cars at night without lights and parking in prohibited zones were released with a reprimand, but the court warned them that fines will be imposed hereafter.

"I have tried to be lenient," said the judge, "but it seems that everyone in town feels he has a right to be a first offender. Keep your cars off the streets. If you must park at night, place proper lights on your cars."

"As you know, parking conditions in this town are rather bad," said Commissioner Gerard, who was present. "This is the first attempt to safeguard the lives and property of residents. You have been warned, everyone has had a fair chance. The period of probation, the warning time, is over."

"We are fair to all. Tickets can no longer be 'killed' in Belleville. Persons with 'pull' will be treated the same as anyone else."

Two drivers found guilty of passing red lights, Wilbur Chamberlain of 510 Ogden street, Newark, and Joseph Gaverna of 181 Hancock avenue, Nutley, were fined $5 and $1 costs each.

Saxophone Player Hits Sour Note In Band

A disgruntled saxophone player who hit a few sour notes too many and was dismissed from a band brought his troubles to police court Wednesday night, but the judge decided the case was a matter for the civil courts.

Theodore Duva of Cedar Hill avenue made a complaint of petty larceny against Alphonse D'Amboia of 58 Harrison street, leader of an orchestra. He charged that he had been dismissed from the band, and that D'Amboia had refused to give him the music for the part of first saxophone, which he said was rightfully his.

When he admitted that all players had contributed to the purchase of sheet music, Recorder Smith told him that there was no ground for criminal action, and dismissed the complaint. "All he wants to do is bust up the orchestra," commented D'Amboia.

Gerard Fixes Zones For Roller Skaters Areas Set Apart To Prevent Accidents And End Complaints

In order to prevent accidents to roller skaters and to end complaints of residents who object to the noise of the skaters, Public Safety Director George R. Gerard has set aside five restricted areas for participants in the popular amusement, he announced yesterday.

Restricted areas for skating will be Cortland street from Little street to Bellavista avenue, Tappan avenue from Washington avenue to Floyd street, Reservoir place from Jorammon street to Division avenue, North Eighth street from Franklin street to the Erie railroad and William street from Cortland street to Main street.

"We have endeavored to choose locations that will cover most of the town, have a good surface for skating and will occasion the least possible annoyance to residents," Commissioner Gerard stated. "The restricted areas will be set aside and will be roped off from 1 to 5 P. M. and from 7 to 10 P. M. The plan will be in effect not later than Monday."

"ERA To Supervise
"This will be done at no cost to the town," Mr. Gerard continued. "We have obtained men for supervision of the skating areas from the ERA. They will be under the control of Edward Lister, local recreation director. Two men will be stationed in each area to prevent accidents and to supervise activities."

"These areas will continue in use until the end of the skating season. They will be subject to withdrawal if they become a nuisance to nearby residents."

Forget-Me-Not Drive Launched By Vets Disabled Soldiers Will Benefit By The Sale Of Flowers

Little blue forget-me-nots will be offered for sale in Belleville, Nutley, Lyndhurst and Bloomfield September 27 and 28 and Saturday, September 29, Argonne Day, under the sponsorship of the local chapters of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War as part of a nation-wide campaign to raise funds for local service and emergency relief program, and for continued maintenance of a rehabilitation service.

Michael A. Flynn Post No. 27 is conducting the drive in Belleville. Mrs. William H. Williams is chairman of the drive committee.

"Argonne Day is symbolic of the members of the D. A. V. of the big battle for justice which they have been waging during the last sixteen years for the thousands of their less fortunate comrades, whose war-incurred disabilities (many of them not even yet legally established as such) have handicapped them from becoming self-sustaining citizens," according to Mrs. Williams. "and the passage of the so-called Economy Bill leaves much to be done for these men."

"I have seen several examples of the humanitarian service rendered by the D. V. A., which has not only helped the unfortunate individuals directly concerned, but which has converted them from community liabilities to community assets, relieving the burden of the local charity by transferring it to the federal government, where it rightfully belongs, and thus bringing new purchasing power into this community."

"I wish all of you could become personally acquainted with these problems. Your eyes would be opened to the truth that we have not yet fulfilled our generous war-time promises; your hearts would then prompt you to open wide your pocketbooks when you buy a forget-me-not this coming drive."

Donations will be solicited on the streets and in other public places by veterans during the drive. "Checks or money orders may be mailed directly to Mrs. Williams, 82 Rossmore place, or to James J. Reilly, commander of Michael A. Flynn Post, 523 Washington avenue. A forget-me-not will be sent the donor by return mail."

Smith Wednesday night. The postponement was granted at the request of Di Blasio's attorney, who told the court that his client was still confined to his home as a result of the alleged assault.

The Belleville Art Club will give free instruction in art this winter, it was announced at a meeting of the organization Tuesday night at the Recreation House in Jorammon street. The instructor in drawing and painting will be Andrew W. Boylan, a graduate of the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Art. Lessons will be given at the Recreation House the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

All persons over 16, who will supply their own materials, are welcome to join the classes, according to Everett Taylor Smith, president.

The club will visit the Newark Museum September 29 to hear a lecture by Miss Helen Johnson on "Modern and Academic Painting from the Intellectual Viewpoint." The group will go to Sussex October 7 for a day's sketching.

Lions to Hear Talk On Better Housing Bloomfield Club Invites Members from Nutley and Belleville

The New Jersey State Housing Authority is continually being asked to present its program to the civic leaders of New Jersey, so keenly are they interested in the matter of better housing and its various aspects as now being stressed by federal and state governments.

So Dr. Howard Johnson, the Social Service representative of the State Housing Authority, who has addressed many New Jersey civic clubs this Summer, has been invited by the Lions of Bloomfield to give his intriguing address "The House That Hope Built" at their meeting on November 6.

"There is no breeder of crime, juvenile delinquency, tuberculosis, or disease in general," says Dr. Johnson, "liek an insanitary or congested area, so that every time we eliminate one of these areas we not only help the dwellers therein, but also the city as a whole. Another very important point to be borne in mind is the stimulus given to every business by the employment of local labor, due to the rebuilding of sub-standard areas."

"The advantages of rehabilitating a sub-standard area or creating a low-cost housing project by the elimination of the congested or sub-standard areas are many, insuring better citizens for our cities, morally, mentally and physically, also increased taxes; and what is even more important, smaller outlay on the part of the cities in the particular section for police and fire duty, hospitalization, court costs, etc., due to the better health, morals and welfare of the residents."

Funeral Services for Miss Rayna R. Maryott, Victim of Paralysis

Funeral services of Miss Rayna Ruth Maryott, 20, of 245 Hornblower avenue, who died of infantile paralysis Sunday in the Essex County Isolation Hospital here, were held Monday afternoon at the home of the Rev. Edgar M. Compton, pastor of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church, in which Miss Maryott taught a Sunday school class. Burial was in Clinton Hill Cemetery, Irvington.

Sixteen children, members of Miss Maryott's class, all about 8, were placed under quarantine by Health Officer Eugene T. Berry, but he does not fear an epidemic, since the disease only flourishes in hot weather. Miss Maryott's brother, Kenneth, was removed to the hospital last week when physicians thought he might be suffering from infantile paralysis, but his case has been diagnosed as acute tonsillitis.

Miss Maryott was born in Orange, but moved here with her parents when 4. She was a graduate of Belleville High School and was employed at the Newark offices of the Prudential Insurance Co.

Besides her brother, she leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Maryott, with whom she lived.

SERVANTS OF MANKIND

Man, in the performance of his daily labor, from the earliest times, has enjoyed the help of servants—animal, mechanical, even human. In the desert, the camel; in the far north, dog teams; in early Colonial days, oxen and later the horse. In ancient times and in the early history of our own country, the slave waited upon man. Mechanical inventions have also done their part.

Today one of man's most important and most accessible servants is electricity.

Electricity supplies man with light and power and performs innumerable tasks—once classed as menial—for a few cents a day.

Electricity does a wide variety of work in the home, with much more than human precision. Electricity does not need to be told what to do or how to do it. Neither does it perform the task poorly or half-heartedly and it is never necessary to do the work over again.

The touch of a button or turn of a lever is all that is necessary to accomplish what once was known as domestic drudgery.

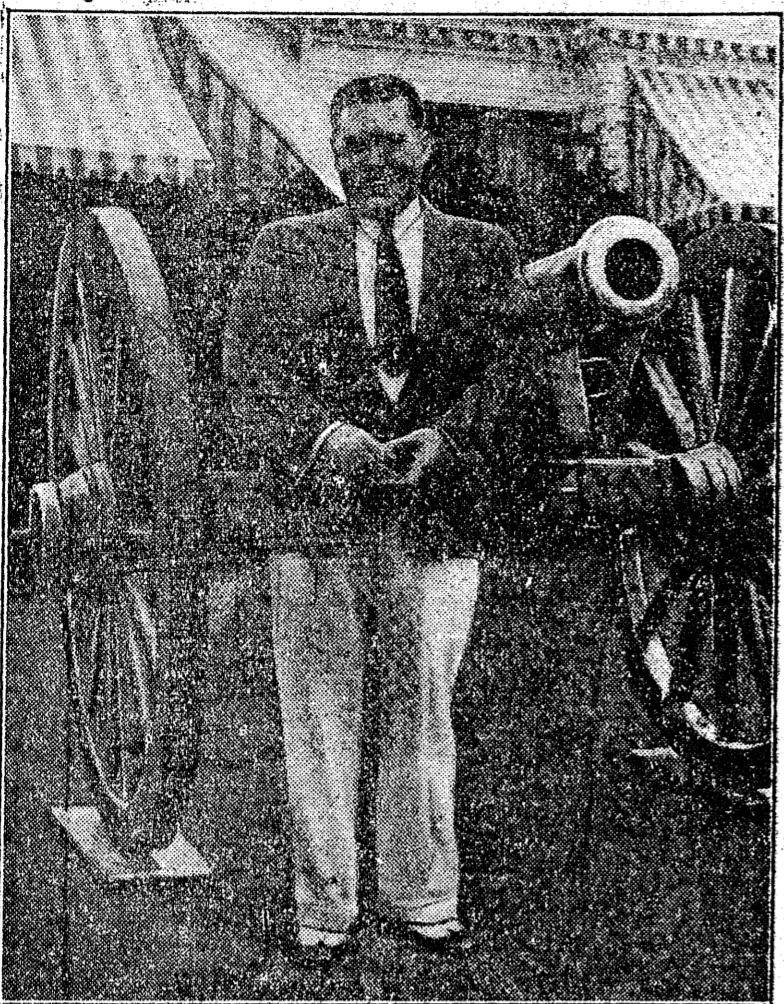

There may be many things costing but a few cents a day that man could do without but electricity is not one of them.

No other item in the household budget gives so much for so little as electricity.

Smart Shopping

YOU'VE no idea how inexpensive accessories can sustain a slender purse. Different color schemes and a little doo-dad here and there can change your entire outfit, so that even your best friends can't tell your wardrobe is limited.

Ohrbach's New York and Newark stores have capacious accessory departments with prices that will more than meet your approval. A smart antelope bag, suede gauntlets, and an antelope beret can do wonders in dressing up the simplest of frocks. Or how about a dress-up metal topper to lend an evening touch to your afternoon frock?

HAVE you been afflicted lately by muscular pains, neck "cricks" and so forth? I was. But a friend took me to Lillian Lovett's pleasant little osteopathic sanatorium at 40 East 58th Street. My friend makes a weekly visit to Lillian's. It keeps her fit. Miss Lovett, an expert masseuse, has every gadget imaginable for taking off that extra few pounds. There is also a physician in attendance for male patients, so the next time the husband has a grouch on send him around. The sanatorium has imported pine baths, infra red lamps for heat applications and a colonic irrigation room for relieving that "sluggish" feeling. So, when you feel older than you really are, telephone Lillian.

YOU'D better bring along an old friend if you have a beauty transformation at Feder's Fountain of Youth because you will have to be introduced to yourself when you are through, so complete is the transformation. MOST people have wondered where the dashing young students and graduates of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, etc., buy their clothes. The other day I was looking into the window of Wm. Roberts, Inc., of 9 W. 45th St., and became so entranced by the imported fabrics on display that, willy-nilly my feet took me in. One of the partners said: "Those are special clothes, hand picked by Mr. Roberts himself from the London and Scottish markets for college men and graduates." I found marvelous shades of blue gray, powder blue, or dark brown in chevrons, home-spuns, worsteds and tweeds, made to order, exquisitely tailored, at the incredibly low price of $39.50.

If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the SAFE and HARMLESS way to lose fat—your money gladly returned. Don't accept anything but Kruschen if you want to reduce safely.

Admiral Lord Nelson And Lady Hamilton

By DAVID F. ATHERTON

SEPTEMBER twenty-ninth, in the year 1758, was the date, and Burnham Thorpe, in the County of Norfolk, England, was the place, of the birth of one of the world's most famous naval heroes.

The career, and in fact the heroic character, of Horatio Nelson were so inextricably interwoven with his great love for Lady Hamilton and her reciprocal devotion to him, that not even an intelligent summary of either can be presented without constant allusion to the other. The love affair of these two has long been one of the famous romances of the world.

Nelson, "the greatest naval hero that England has produced," was the son of a clergyman of the Church of England. The boy joined the English navy at the age of twelve years. At twenty he was Captain of his ship. At twenty-one he had married a widow—Mrs. Fannie Nisbet—with one child. She was the niece of Governor Herbert, of the Island of Nevis in the West Indies.

The two historic naval battles, in both of which Nelson was victorious, and in the latter of which he lost his life, were the Battle of the Nile, fought in the Mediterranean, and near the Nile River, on August 1st, 1798, and the Battle of Trafalgar, fought near the Cape of Spain, October 21st, 1805. It was there that France and England were struggling for the mastery of the world and the rule of the seas.

Nelson's loss of an eye and his right arm, besides a vicious scar on his forehead, gave eloquent, if mute, testimony to the desperation of the encounters in which he had been engaged.

In the greatest feats of his life it seemed that Nelson was spurred on to well-nigh superhuman efforts by the feeling that the satisfied expectation of Lady Hamilton would be ample recompense for his laying down—if need be—his life.

Some have held, and others will, that the love of Nelson for Lady Hamilton, and her love for him, while he had a wife and she a husband, was in every sense illegitimate. That question is not argued here. Here only some of the interesting aspects of a love story that is historically and world famous are mentioned.

For whatever significance the facts may have for the reader, it may be remarked that Nelson's wife was not a person of that sympathetic and responsive temperament which probably constituted the primary appeal of Lady Hamilton to the naval hero. "The mistake of his marriage," says E. Hallam Moorehouse, "had been that his wife was a woman entirely lacking the impulsive ardour and warm responsive heart that characterized Emma." In addition, Lady Hamilton was a young woman whose husband was thirty-five years her senior—at twenty-five she had married a man of sixty—"youth and senility." Perhaps it was not strange that the aggressive virility and vigor of a Nelson made a powerful appeal to a vivacious young woman who had seen her hero.

Nelson's wife was in England while his duties kept him in, or near, Naples where dwelt Lord and Lady Hamilton—the former being His Britannic Majesty's Ambassador to the Court of the two Sicilies. PROPINQUITY IS POTENT.

Students of the psycho-physiological compatibility, which is an essential of success in marriage, find a rich field for study in the historically famous liaison of Lord Nelson and Lady Hamilton.

Lady Hamilton has never been considered a designing woman, or one given to intrigue. "She was never mercenary, often self-abandoning and at times actually noble," says one writer. She was born to poverty and a lowly station in life. Even at maturity she was illiterate and as a domestic servant seemed—save in two respects—typical of that class.

She was a young woman whose beauty of face and form were as extraordinary as was the magnetism of her personality. That is saying much. In natural intelligence and ability to absorb culture she was a distinctly superior person. In no less than three hundred sittings to George Romney, the great portrait painter, the brush of the famous artist sought to capture "the myriad impressions of her lovely face."

"He painted her enticing, a BACCHANTE, ALLURING, ARIADNE, as a SIBYL, as MARY MAGDALENE," and in scores of poses too numerous to enumerate here.

Men like Goethe and Sir Horace Walpole, foreign ministers, and one queen (Marie Carolina, Queen of Naples and sister of Marie Antoinette of France) who made of Lady Hamilton a confidante, quite evidently found in her a person of intellectual quality. So much is said to indicate that Lord Nelson found Lady

Hamilton more than merely the possessor of physical beauty.

The interest of thoughtful persons of the present generation in this remarkable woman is indicated, too, by the fact that the biography of her entitled "The Divine Lady," by E. Barrington (Crosset & Dunlap) first appeared in 1924 and within two years had run to its sixteenth printing.

In the introduction to a volume entitled "Memoirs of Emma, Lady Hamilton, the Friend of Lord Nelson" one may read, "We find in these pages the life history of a girl of obscure but honest parentage, beginning her career as a household servant, then practically cast adrift in the streets, seeking a precarious living in doubtful ways, thence rising from the very edge of circumstance, by successive stages, to become the inspiration of artists and Bohemians, the protégée of ministers, the wife of an ambassador, the trusted confidante of a queen and the all absorbing passion of a nation's hero."

Such was the woman for whom his love transformed Nelson into one of the best known heroes of the world's history.

To the student of biography—and psychology, the lives of this man and woman possess a fascination and never ending wonderment.

It was with the "Name State, Degree, Style, Dignity, Title and Honour" of Viscount Nelson of the Nile and of Burnham Thorpe, that he took his seat in the House of Lords, on November 29th, 1801.

It was in September, 1805, that Nelson, seeking to console a woman in grief at his imminent departure patted her shoulder and said, "Brave Emma; if there were more Emmas there would be more Nelsons..."

In his will, Lord Nelson has made as ample provision for the woman to whom he was legally married, as his means would permit. He had found it impossible to love her. He would be as just as circumstances made possible.

Just before the Battle of Trafalgar, when the combined fleets of France and Spain could be seen ten miles in the distance, on his flagship the "Victory," Nelson penned that touching codicil to his will which sought to commit the welfare of his beloved Lady Hamilton, and their daughter, Horatia, to the gratitude of his King and his country.

From the quarter-deck of the Victory could be seen the forty ships of the enemy stretched in a slight curve five miles in length and moving on toward—what?

In two columns, one of seventeen ships led by the Victory, and the other of fourteen ships, led by the Royal Sovereign, came on the pride of England.

"England expects that every man will do his duty" was the challenging declaration signalled on that October morning from the mizzen mast of the Victory to the brave seaman and gunners awaiting the demand of the hour. The enemy fleet had surrendered. Nelson was dead. Almost the last words he uttered were those of solicitation for the welfare of the woman he loved and for their beloved daughter Horatia.

WHAT? NO PROMISES!

In a declaration of principles which should make interesting reading for those who have the welfare of New Jersey close to their hearts, Harold C. Hoffman, Republican candidate for governor, once again proves himself a patriot rather than a politician.

"I shall make no pre-election promises," he said. "Such pledges in the heat and pressure of a political campaign usually are hastily made and difficult, indeed they are invariably impossible, or fulfillment.

"These promises are made for the purpose of coralling votes and are given without sufficient time to study both sides of the question involved. Things that seem wise today may be entirely wrong tomorrow—six months hence."

The Republican standard bearer is absolutely correct when he says such promises lead to either one or two evils—breaking faith with the people or becoming a party to bad legislation. His political philosophy is sound, indeed.

There is a definite feeling of comfort and security when one considers the man who is destined to become chief executive of the commonwealth. He will at least be unfettered by obligations, as a popular choice properly should and can be.

THE SIMPLE LIFE

Forced down on an Oklahoma farm when their plane developed engine trouble, Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were given shelter and food by a farmer, who offered them an invitation without knowing who they were. They stayed a couple of days and were entranced with the simple joys that came to them. The Colonel was able to take long walks undisturbed, and Mrs. Lindbergh donned an apron and helped the farmer's wife prepare the meals, which they all ate heartily. In the words of Mrs. Lindbergh they had "a grand time." They learned that the simple farmer and his wife had all the fundamentals for successful living that have escaped many highly-placed persons.

RIGHT

In one of its advertisements a prominent accident insurance company says:

The greatest calamity of the month is occurring on our streets and highways—daily. The average death toll in automobile accidents each Sunday exceeds 130. The daily average, 100.

Around 3000 persons—drivers, passengers and pedestrians—are injured daily.

Moral: Drive carefully; walk cautiously; take time to be safe. Remember that most automobile accidents are the result of haste—usually unnecessary haste. A minute gained at the cost of an accident is no bargain.

Right. Of what advantage is it to "get there" by speed a few—a very few—minutes earlier than one would by careful driving? And the same question might be asked of those who fail to stop at grade crossings. The little extra time it takes would never be missed in a person's schedule. An accident entails much greater delay.

SMALL CHANGE

The bulk of our daily business is carried on with small change, and that the Philadelphia mint is overtaxed to supply nickels, dimes, pennies, quarters and half dollars may be construed as a good sign. Since January 1 the mint has turned out 81,536,015 new coins, and still the demand continues. It is the greatest production of small coins since 1929. Moreover, in the first eight months of 1934 more small coins were turned out than in the last three years together. And small change is not to be laughed at. All told, $4,325,357.50 in new coin has been minted up to September 1—a sizable sum indeed.

Maine Results Demonstrate Hoffman's Good Judgment As Regards State Issues

Editor News:

Maine results demonstrate the good judgment of Harold Hoffman in sticking to state issues. Lots of people admire both Roosevelt and Hoffman. Indeed there are points of similarity in the two men. Both are men of action, men of courage and have wonderful personalities. Neither can have much in common with Hague bossism, the big state issue.

Mayor Hague's second in command in Jersey City, Arthur Potterton, who is also Mr. Dill's campaign manager, opened the campaign with a barrage of vilification in which he tried to hold Mr. Hoffman responsible for all that has gone wrong in his party. But he ignored the fact that when these things happened Hoffman was not the party leader, as he is now.

The Hague strategy is plain. It recognizes the great strength of Hoffman with the independent voters, based upon his splendid record of achievement in all the offices he has held and especially upon all he has accomplished in saving lives on the streets and highways, and seeks to undermine it by representing him as "the creature" of politicians. It also recognizes that the great weakness of Mr. Dill lies with the same class of voters in the fact that Hague designated him as the party nominee, and is the Big Boss to whom Dill must play second fiddle if elected governor, like it or not. So it tries to get the voters' minds off these points.

—Independent Voter.

HEISLEY LETTER

Editor of the News:

This is being written Thursday afternoon, September 13, for your issue of Friday morning, September 21. It being a habit of mine to prepare my weekly letters well in advance. The importance of this statement of time concerns the appearance on page 100 of the Saturday Evening Post's issue for September 15, of an announcement:

NEXT WEEK—Pitcairn's Island by James Norman Hall and Charles Nordhoff. Fifteen men—nine white seamen and six Maoris—with their twelve Maori women flee to this.....etc. First: What I want to say is that the Maori people are the Polynesian aboriginals of New Zealand.

Second: That the ship, Bounty never touched New Zealand on the trip—her last—when Fletcher Christian mutinied, but she had previous to the mutiny touched and remained at Tahiti (or Otaheite, as it was then called) and after the mutiny returned thither.

Third: The aboriginals, six aboriginal men, and twelve women, were Otaheites, as they were then specifically called, but generally called Indians.

Fourth: That the editor of the Saturday Evening Post, or one of his assistants communicated with me when I consulted him about sending him a sequel of the Pitcairn's Island element. He said that the very fact of the appearance of "Men Against the Sea" prevented entirely, or made "impossible" the appearance of the sequel. His original letter was sent to Australia by me, so the quotation is rather free, but substantially true.

Now next Tuesday we shall see the Saturday Evening Post's issue for September 22, the first of seven installments. And as time goes on you may check up and see if Hall and Nordhoff know as much about their subject as I know about it. If so they will know very thoroughly about it. Will they know that John Adams (or Alexander Smith) was thence both of American colonist parents in Massachusetts? Will they show that they know the Fletcher Christian, the leader of the Bounty mutiny, already had a wife living either in Ireland, on the Borebridge lands, or at Chester, in England (her birth place) when he took in concubinage, the Otaheitan woman, and embarked with his followers for Pitcairn's Island. Mr. Hugh Borebridge (really Drummond) of Australia, informed me of this feature years ago. He and my wife are first cousins, and equally descended from the Drummond family in Cheshire, who in Ireland, under Oliver Cromwell became Borebridges because their English town's name of Borebridge in Cheshire.

Furthermore, will the authors show any knowledge, that Christian, had been suspected of murdering the husband, James Borebridge of Cookstown, County Meath, of the Cheshire girl, leaving for a brief time the lot of widowhood, with an infant son?

Will they prove to have known that the infant son, James Borebridge second, became a great sea rover and held forth in the Island of Tahiti, or Otaheite, and scoured the seas to find Fletcher Christian, when no longer at Pitcairn's Island, and avenge upon him the murder of his father?

Lastly, will their story reflect the uncertainty of the fate of Fletcher Christian, and deal with the rumor that he died in South America, after escaping the island and visiting England in search of his wife, who already had got parliament to grant her a divorce from Fletcher Christian on the seven years absence doctrine, and married the famous Counsellor Munn of Dublin? It is well known that old John Adams gave two contradictory accounts of Christian's death, neither of them probably being correct?

On accuracy I have taken the scalps of both Jack Kafoed and Captain Leighton Blood, and I think I'll take two more scalps on this quest too, making six scalps on the subjects of John L. Sullivan, Carlyle W. Harris, Roland B. Molyneux and Pitcairn Island. Just follow this last quest, and satisfy yourself that I usually know what I talk or write about.

National Firearms Act Requires Registration Of Weapons By Owners

Following are the provisions of the National Firearms Act which must be followed by owners of certain types of weapons, including machine guns, sawed-off shotguns and silencers:

Section 1 (a)

"The term 'firearm' means a shotgun or rifle having a barrel of less than eighteen inches in length or any other weapon, except a pistol or revolver, from which a shot is discharged by an explosive if such weapon is capable of being concealed on the person, or a machine gun, and includes a muffler or silencer for any firearm whether or not such firearm is included within the foregoing definition."

Section 5 (a)

"Within sixty days after the effective date of this act every person possessing a firearm shall register, with the collector of the district in which he resides, the number or other mark identifying such firearm, together with his name, address, place where such firearm is usually kept, and, if such person is other than a natural person, the name and home address of an executive officer thereof. Provided, That no person shall be required to register under this section with respect to any firearm acquired after the effective date of, and in conformity with the provisions of, this act."

1. The term "muffler" or "silencer" includes any device for silencing or diminishing the report of any portable weapon such as a rifle, carbine, pistol, revolver, machine gun, sub-machine gun, shotgun, fowling piece, or other device from which a shot, bullet, or projectile may be discharged by an explosive, and is not limited to mufflers or silencers for "firearms" as defined in the act.

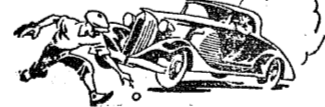

2. Every person (including an importer, manufacturer, dealer, and pawnbroker) in possession of a firearm within the definition of the act on July 26, 1934, shall on or before September 24, 1934 (whether or not in his possession on the latter date), register such firearm on Form 1 in duplicate, with the collector for the district in which he resides. In case the firearm is merely in the custody of an employee, such as a watchman, the actual owner should execute this form.

3. The duplicate form after proper endorsement will be returned to the registrant by the collector, and the original forwarded to the commissioner.

4. Persons failing to register as stated above become liable to a penalty of not more than $2,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, as provided by law.

DRIVE SAFELY

TRAFFIC COPS

PERHAPS the most misunderstood chap in the world, to some drivers, is the traffic cop. To them he is just an indiscriminate and hardboiled individual who glories in bawling out, and issuing "tickets" to, motorists.

But let's get a little closer and look him over. Perhaps he isn't as hardboiled as he seems. Maybe he is human just like the rest of us and would probably be a regular fellow once you know him. Please remember this:

The traffic cop is the friend of every good driver! Maybe his actions sometimes may seem contradictory or unreasonable but he may have excellent reasons for them. Don't forget that he is responsible for the accident record on his beat and quite naturally, he wants the record to be as stainless as possible.

Treat him with respect and usually he will treat you the same way.

Fire Opening Gun In Hartley Campaign

Plan Monster Mass Meeting In Kearny High Auditorium

The opening gun in the campaign to re-elect Congressman Fred A. Hartley Jr., from the Tenth Congressional district will be fired Wednesday night at a monster mass meeting in Kearny High School auditorium.

The youthful representative's towns people have arranged to have all Republican clubs in Kearny attend the meeting of which U. S. Senator Warren Barbour will be the principal speaker.

Mayor Arthur H. Jones of Kearny will be chairman and Town Attorney Arthur B. Archibald will present the candidate to the gathering. Other speakers will include Ernest B. Reed, Essex County supervisor and Republican mayors and commissioner of municipalities in the Tenth district. The committee in charge includes George Starbird, William Eadie, James Pollack, Arthur L. Shaw, Jerry Centanni, Samuel Skelton, Everett Jenness, John V. Baltrukonis, Louis Grimler, Judge Anthony E. Casale and Town Assessor John Benson of Kearny.

Factfully Yours

— LILLIAN THOMAS —

The Morro Castle disaster is food for thought. An old sea-captain of our acquaintance, takes this recent holocaust as an opportune time to tell the world that the Jersey coast is a jinx and that the Jersey coast is treacherous. The captain says he has dates and figures to prove his statements. He brings to our attention the fact that on February 12, 1846, the ship John Minturn, from New Orleans to New York, went ashore on Squan Beach, N. J., with a loss of 28 persons including Captain Freeborn, his family, and 20 survivors of the ship Cherokee, which had burned at New Orleans.

On November 13, 1854, the sailing ship New Era was wrecked off the shores of Asbury Park, N. J. In this disaster 240 lives were lost.

On October 29, 1890, the steamship Viscaya, bound from New York for Havana, sank in a collision off Barnegat, N. J., with a loss of 70 lives.

Near the very same spot where the New Era went down, the schooner Mary Kelley was wrecked on August 24, 1893, and four persons perished. A mile north of this, on January 25, 1896, the liner St. Paul was stranded with $1,300,000 in gold aboard. Fortunately the St. Paul was refloated without loss of life.

"And don't forget the USS Akron," reminds the captain.

These dates and figures prove nothing about the Jersey coast. Personally we believe that any coast is treacherous if a ship's crew is not properly trained and if friction and lack of cooperation prevails among the officers and men. And such were the conditions that existed aboard the Morro Castle on its last trip north from Havana. These same conditions existed aboard the SS Cleveland, one of the rescue ships.

It occurs to us that the Navy experiences very few of the disasters that befall vessels of the merchant marine. Why? Because the USN men work in unison, and because they are highly trained and disciplined. A bluejacket is taught how to take orders. And he learns how to give orders, when he rates that privilege. Too, he doesn't walk around with a chip on his shoulder because of his personal peeve for Johnny Jones down in the engine room. He doesn't nurse a grievance against his superiors. He doesn't plot and plan and scheme to revenge imaginary wrongs inflicted upon him.

Bluejackets may kick about the chow, and they may grow sick and weary of always going home in a boat. They may howl about the pay-cut and they may rant about the duty, but these kicks and howls and rants are exterior emotions. They are not deeply rooted in the heart of a sailor.

The Navy has its tragedies, of course, and the Navy knows disaster, such as that which befell the USS Akron, but a Naval catastrophe is never due to carelessness or friction or lack of cooperation among the men.

What Vocation Shall My Boy Choose?

By Charles Ellison,

Principal, School of Advertising, International Correspondence Schools.

We live in a changing world. Opportunities for success in the future will differ from those in the past. A boy's wise choice of his life work may do much to determine success or failure. How shall he choose?

The Opportunity in Advertising

WIDER distribution of the products which our factories can turn out in almost unlimited quantities is generally admitted to be the chief problem of the age. With equal unanimity advertising is admitted to be one of the chief aids to wider distribution. It cuts costs by permitting mass production; it widens demand by creating new desires. There is every reason to believe advertising will offer even greater opportunities in the future than it has in the past.

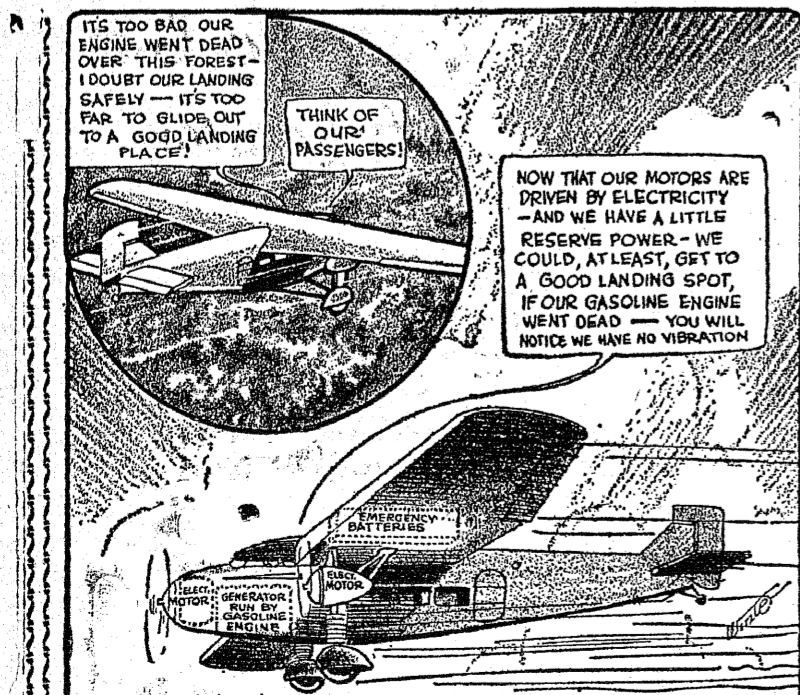

What is the most important qualification which the young man must possess to succeed in advertising? Not literary ability, as many believe, but rather the ability to devise effective plans for the marketing and advertising of the product, and to analyze the product and the prospective customers' wants so as to discover how the most effective appeal can be made. This is no inborn ability. It comes as a result of close study of modern merchandising methods.

How can the young man best break into the ranks of advertising? Hundreds of firms have their advertising departments where practically all types of office workers are required. Selling of all kinds—over-the-counter, house-to-house and closing the contract for construction of an ocean liner—is closely allied to advertising. Any number of men have traveled along these and other routes to success in advertising, using every opportunity to study the methods and problems of modern merchandising while on the way.

Hoffman Scores Dill For Refusal to Hold Open Debate

"Amazed at Attitude" of Democratic Candidate
Says Hoffman

Trenton, N. J., September 21.—Harold G. Hoffman, Republican candidate for governor, declared himself today to be amazed at the attitude of William L. Dill, his Democratic opponent, who refuses to agree to a public debate and insists upon their joint discussion of campaign issues being made from a radio studio without an audience present.

Commissioner Hoffman, who had engaged Krueger's Auditorium for the night of October 8th, at his own expense, as the scene of the debate with his opponent, insists that the meeting will be held and it will be up to the voters to "draw their own conclusions" if Dill does not appear.

The telegram sent by the Republican candidate to the Democratic standard bearer today read as follows:

"William L. Dill, Paterson, New Jersey
"Amazed at your reluctance to appear with me in public to discuss the very matters you suggested in letter of September 14 when you said you would meet me any time between October 1 and October 15. More important personages than either of us have not hesitated to appear in public debate. The present governor, your campaign associate, has used and still plans to use this method which you feel is so undignified. Your aversion to ballyhoo is amusing in view of fact that you recently appeared in Newark posing in veteran's overseas cap with martial music stimulating audience composed chiefly of Jersey City firemen and police ordered to attend on night off duty. I do not think public interested in hearing candidate in cloistered radio studio read speeches that may be prepared by someone else. Last week you started your campaign mud slinging with speech read over radio by Potterton, your campaign manager. This is not my method. I want to give you my answer face to face before the public. I have engaged Krueger's Auditorium for October 8 and the meeting will be held that night. If you do not appear the voters may draw their own conclusions."
(Signed) Harold G. Hoffman.

Editor The News:
I would like to let the Belleville firemen know through the News that I appreciate their promptness and efficiency, when my car was burned, early Tuesday morning.

I put my car in the garage next door to my home at midnight and retired, thinking everything all right. We were awakened by the fire apparatus at 2:30 A. M. and found my car ablaze. The firemen saved the garage, but my car was wrecked. Only for their promptness, our home might have been burned, too.

The garage is owned by L. Majian who lives next door at 232 Union avenue.

Pro Grid Rivals

Battle Thursday

Grossman in East Orange

Cast in Night Game with Passaic Team

An intense rivalry will be continued on the professional gridiron Thursday night, September 27, when the East Orange Tornados are hosts to the Passaic Red Devils at Ashland Stadium. The contest will be played under electric lights beginning at 8:30 P. M. in the spacious East Orange arena.

Manager Ed Simandl will have his strongest lineup of the season seeking revenge for an unexpected loss to the Red Devils in the last game of the 1933 season which cost him the New Jersey professional football championship. Simandl's team played as the Orange Tornados last year.

Nat Grossman, a former N. Y. U. backfield star and brother of Rutgers' famed Jack Grossman, will be the main theme of the home team's attack. Nat was signed by Simandl to carry the brunt of the Tornados' attack when it became known that Frank Kirkleski, Nutley star pro gridder, would return to the Passaic Red Devils after performing in the first two games for East Orange. Kirkleski probably will return to East Orange for further night games.

Grossman is six foot three inches and weighs 225 pounds. He played three years on N. Y. U.'s varsity eleven but was kept from his just fame by an injury in his second year. He turned down National Football League offers from New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston on the advice of his brother Jack to take a season playing under Simandl before going into major league ball.

Herb Martin of Missouri is another new back added to the array of stars which include Woolsey Wheeler of Colgate, Charley Alexander of Colgate, Nick Prisco of Rutgers, Clancy Scherer of Muhlenberg, Miles Lane of Occidental College and Johnny Iatesta of Albright College.

Coach Mac Baker is pleased with his line's performance and probably will start Winnie Anderson of Colgate, Jitty Wisniewski of Upsala, ends; Bill Clarkin, veteran of 13 pro campaigns, and Joe Schein, Newarker of Brown University, tackles; Hank Obst of Syracuse, Jim Halperin of C. C. N. Y. guards and the giant, hard-working Harry Schneider of N. Y. U. at center.

Andy Varipapa,

Nationally Known

Bowler, to Appear

Star Scheduled for North

Newark Alleys, Saturday, September 29

Returning from Hollywood, where he completed a motion picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, entitled "Strikes and Spares," Andy Varipapa, nationally famous bowler, will make his first New Jersey appearance, Saturday night, September 29, at the North Newark alleys.

Varipapa, premier trick shot pinner and holder, with Joe Falcato of New York, of the world's doubles championship, will roll individual games against Pete Schneeman, responsible for the only 300 score ever rolled on the North Newark alleys, Al Cubellis, Ernie Ruff, president of the Bakers' League; Bill Byrnes, Marty Ventura and Herman Kappeler, Nutley's star baseball player and bowler.

"Doc" Haycock, manager of the North Newark alleys and a former tea-mate of Andy's in New York, will team up with Mrs. Knight against Varipapa and Mrs. Olive Kuntz in a mixed doubles match. Both women are rated the best to perform on the Ferrara alleys.

Following the match games Varipapa will give an exhibition of fancy trick shots including several new ones in the perfection of which he is now devoting from four to five hours of his daily practice schedule. Andy can do anything with a bowling ball, but make it talk. And 'tis said, that many of our own pinners can supply the necessary language.

FOLLOWING THE VARSITY CLUB

Mayor Reinheimer's opening kick was shorter by twenty yards than his opening boot of the 1933 season. His Honor attributed it to the new-sized ball and the fact that he was wearing golf shoes.

Coach Bill Foley of Bloomfield High with several of his star players were Coach Bill Foley of Bloomfield High on hand to see the Stanford system in action. Following Nutley High's near-upset of his champions last year, Foley figures he can't possibly do too much scouting on Stanford-coached teams. He's right, too.

Several fans lamented the fact that Promoter Jack Curley was not on hand to sign several of the Clifton Hawks as members of his famed wrestling troupe.

Archie Scotland only carried the ball twice during the game. His first attempt resulted in a touchdown, while his second was negated because of off side. The veteran Archie came off the field in a huff.

Dix VanWinkle, that mighty man of Rutgers, had the Clifton players yelling loud and early at Dix's clever manipulation of those bruising hands of his.

Whitey Stager, the Rutgers star of not so many years ago, turned in a creditable performance in his first appearance as a football official.

Leo Macnoski, recently-acquired halfback, showed up nicely in a wing-back position until an injured arm forced his retirement.

Hughie (Trucker) Eagleson was on the bench, having decided that six days of heavy trucking entitles him to a Sabbath rest. Hereafter, he will be an observer as the other Maroon linesmen throw the heavy bundles around.

Joe (Buff) San Giacomo, had an over-sized headguard and a dangling lock of hair that made him look like a Haskell Indian player.

Coach Stanford was well pleased with the showing of Moe Kitzman, whom he recently converted from a back into a lineman.

Johnny Bridges showed that his proclivity for assimilating punishment is as strong as it was during the 1933 season. What a tough 'un he is!

Yellow Jackets Open With Irvington Recs

Peter Biasi's Eleven Ready To Start Fifth Season

The Biase Yellow Jackets football team will play their first game of the season Sunday. The game will mark the beginning of the fifth season on the gridiron for the Yellow Jackets.

The team will meet the strong Irvington Recreation eleven, which last season won the championship of Irvington by defeating the Irvington Cardinals.

The game will be the opening of the Yellow Jackets home field located at Franklin and Grove streets, which will be called Edison Field.

Peter Biase, better known as "Uncle" Pete, a Silver Lake sportsman, will be the promoter of the Biase Yellow Jackets.

Some of the popular boys to represent the team this season are: Anthony Pascale, former Belleville High and Muhlenberg College star, will share coaching honors with Ross Julian, former Central High star, Bungo Gorman, former Belleville High and Belleville Clinton player, who will play in one of the backfield positions.

Other players are: John Conlon, former Clinton player; Roy Perry, Nutley Varsity; Joe Manning; Belleville High; Anthony Biase, Belleville High and Orange Tornados; Abe Pasky, Barringer and N. Y. U. Freshman; Joe Ciccone, Barringer; Vito Albanese, Barringer; Verono; Belleville; Casale, Belleville; Sam Compagna, Bellafronte Prep; Jerry Bonavita, Belleville High and Cumberland College; Nick Biase, Central High; Elmer Cooke, Cathedral Prep; John De Maio, Yellow Jackets; Fred Fiore, Bloomfield High; F. Compagna, Bellafronte Prep; J. Grande, Barringer Evening High; P. Stanish, Kearny High; and P. Albanese, East Side High.

Jocko Jack Angelo will have the duties of doctoring the players. He was formerly with the St. Lucy F. C. and now with South Side High School.

Nereids to Send Crews to Raritan

Oarsmen to Take Part in New Brunswick Regatta

The Nereid Boat Club of Belleville expects to send several of its crew down to the Raritan River Regatta at New Brunswick, Friday, October 12 (Columbus Day). The races are being held in conjunction with the Delaware and Raritan land waterways celebration and are scheduled to start at 10 A. M. over the Raritan River course.

The senior doubles crew of Bill Bennett and Les "Babe" Burnley will be among the several Nereid entries.

Newt Daly Gets Broken Collar Bone

Belleville High Grid Drills Now Featuring Scrimmaging

Misfortune trailed the rather rain-soaked recent practices of the Belleville High School football squad at Clearman Field.

Big Newt Daly, great sophomore line prospect and a younger brother of the illustrious Bill and Johnnie, sustained a broken collar bone in practice scrimmage, Monday, and is expected to be out for at least a month. Daly had been looked upon as a real "find."

Scrimmaging, which was inaugurated the latter part of last week, has been the feature of the drills all this week, with Head Coach "Red" Buchanan and Assistant Coach "Mac" McBride, also concentrating on forward passing, as well as defense against the aerials.

The squad, which has been cut to some thirty-five candidates, to make a little over three teams, has been shaping up fairly well, in spite of some unkind gestures on the part of the weather man.

Jim Tully, Johnnie McDonald, Horace Gauspelt and Hank Sullivan have been handling the "varsity" end posts in this early scrimmaging. Jim Caruso, Captain Frank Stellatella, Carl Hummel, Art Jucker, Tony Zuzzio and Jerry Longo look best in the battle for the remaining line positions.

The veteran backfield men, Bill Tully, Howard Gorman, and Mark Wertz are solving three quarters of Buchanan's worries in that respect, with Emmet Ryder, brother of "Fuzzy," rounding out the quartet. "Red" Vandermark, Walt Smith and Jim Richardson are other backfield candidates who have been working with the first-stringers.

Not quite as highly ranked as the above ball-carriers, but developing rapidly are the trio of Norman Anderson, Sol Slade and Jim White.

A modified Warner system with bits of other systems, thrown in will be adhered to again this year by the Buchananmen.

From fifty to sixty candidates have been turning out every morning for the freshman football drills held under the supervision of Walter Hack, of the high school faculty.

Good Counsel Eleven Taken From Bellboy Grid Schedule

Good Counsel High School of Newark was erased from Belleville High's schedule for this year by a recent ruling of the athletic council.

Owing to a desire to keep the Saturday before Thanksgiving Day (originally given to Good Counsel) open to have the boys well rested for the Turkey Day classic with Kearny, the powers-that-be did not approve of the Good Counsel date. This change will curtail the Bell-boy schedule to nine games instead of the usual ten.

Varsity Club Defeats

Clifton Hawks, 26-0

No Doubt As to Superiority

Playing under inclement weather conditions before approximately 1,000 loyal fans the undefeated Nutley Varsity Club football eleven continued its winning streak from last season by posting a 26-0 triumph over the Clifton Hawks at Feuerbach Park, last Sunday afternoon.

Coach George Stanford's maroon-clad gridders left no doubt as to their superiority, although at times in the second half the attack of the local footballers seemed to have bogged on the wet field. The Passaic Counsley eleven was outplayed in all departments excepting in their pugilistic tendencies and their insistence in disputing official decisions. On the field of play, it was all Varsity.

The first Nutley tally came midway in the first period. Baykowski kicked over the Clifton goal line and on the first Clifton play Johnnie Bridges recovered a Hawk fumble on the latter club's 20-yard line. Dashes by Sparky Jones Bridges and Baykowski made it a first down on the 7-yard marker. Bridges hacked off right tackle for three more yards and then Baykowski shot off the short side for the tally.

A thirty-yard pass from Baykowski to Teddy Kellett placed Nutley in a favorable position toward the close of the first period, the session ending with the ball on the one-foot line. Bridges, however, was stopped at the goal line, and Clifton kicked out of danger. The second touchdown was soon forthcoming, as Machnoski, Bridges and Johannesson ripped off yardage to put the ball three yards from the final line, Baykowski again making the touchdown dive. A recovered fumble on Clifton's 30-yard stripe paved the way for the third score, the Maroon backs marching to the 4-yard line whence Archie Scotland hit the center wall for the tally. Baykowski made the extra point via the placement route.

The Clifton aggregation showed an improved brand of play in the second half and during the third period the Maroon players found it difficult to advance the ball much beyond midfield. In the final canto the Nutley attack again began to manifest itself, Captain Jones, Roy Johannesson and Bridges advancing the pill to Clifton's 30-yard line before being stopped by a stubborn defense.

Toward the game's close the Maroon began working goalward, the attack starting following a 15-yard penalty for Clifton's interference with a free catch. A forward from Baykowski to Johannesson was good for ten yards and a series of off-tackle thrusts brought the ball to the one-yard line on first down. Here Johannesson made one plunge and Baykowski three, but the Clifton line yielded nary an inch. Then, with Turk Hammiel booting from far behind his goal line, the punt went haywire and was caught by Baykowski far to the right of the field, the Nutley quarterback taking one step over the goal line to score for the third time of the session. The game ended two plays later.

The line-up:
Nutley Pos. Clifton
Sherwood L. E. Zirpoli
Van Winkle L. T. DeRoche
Kramer L. G. Booth
Van Horn C. Rubuffo
Kitzman R. G. Buser
Browning R. T. Meyers
Kellett R. E. Libonowitz

Nutley Varsity Club 6 13 0 26
Touchdowns: Baykowski 3, Scotland; point after touchdown: Baykowski 2 (placements); substitutions: Nutley: Johannesson, Sentner, Shutte, J. Saucer Splinters

Bill Honeman, Newark youth, will be crowned the bicycle champion of the United States, at the Nutley Velodrome Sunday afternoon. The races incidentally will be run Sunday afternoon instead of Sunday night, but Wednesday night races will be continued. Honeman will be presented with a cup emblematic of the title. He will also receive flowers from the Bay View Wheelmen the club he rode for as an amateur. Honeman will ride in a four cornered match Sunday afternoon against Cecil Walker, Freddie Spencer, and Bill Grimm. It promises to be a big day for the Newark youth, the first Newark boy in many years to win the sprint championship of the United States.

After the presentation, Honeman will parade around the saucer and it is understood the Bay Views will parade around the track behind him. Honeman will be draped in an American flag. Honeman will leave for Europe to compete during the coming winter.

The battle for the motor-paced championship of the United States will be resumed Sunday afternoon when Alfred Letourner of France, Franco Georgetti of Italy and Gerard Debaets of Belgium will fight it out for the title. Charley Jaeger and Franz Deulberg still have a mathematical chance for the championship but Tino Rebolli is out of the running.

With the crowning of Honeman and a 62½-mile motor-paced championship race for the title, all records for attendance are expected to be broken at the Nutley saucer Sunday afternoon when the races will start at 3 o'clock.

Professional and amateur races will complete the program Sunday afternoon and the gates to the Velodrome will open at one o'clock to accommodate the large crowd.

"That was some race!" Thus spoke Mayor Walter F. Reinheimer Monday night when old Jupe Pluvius finally consented to the running of the 75-mile motor paced race at the Velodrome after having decreed against the grind on three previous occasions. And the Mayor's words suited almost everyone present for Charley Jaeger—good old Charley—won after one of the famous rides that had the fans on pins and needles all last year.

Charley's victory—snatched in the last seven miles—was made all the sweeter by the fact that the Flemington idol of the fans had already pushed his wheel at top notch speed to make up three laps he was penalized because of flat tires. Not only did Charley make up his lost mileage, but in the final chapter rode two laps in front of Letourner and three ahead of Georgetti who finished third and four respectively. To make the story complete Jaeger added more to his glory when he dropped Franz Deulberg back one notch when the German had tried to give Charley a battle. In other words, Charley did what seldom has occurred in titular races—lapped the entire field. Jerry Debaets was going strong until he had a faint spell during the race. Jerry wore off the first attack but the second one gripped him while in the lead and he fell so hard to the boards he could not resume the race. Tino Rebolli was counted out when he was sixteen laps in the rear. Letourner apparently had the race well bottled up before Jaeger made his spurt but the Frenchman was so intent upon stealing a lap on his arch rival, Franco Georgetti, that Alf dropped by the wayside.

Ewald Wissel got a nasty spill in the ten-mile match race which was won by Norman Hill with George Dempsey, second. Wissel dislocated a knee, but was recuperating after the races following medical attention from Dr. Rush C. Bauman.

Jess Lyons had his hands full trying to route buses to the McLarin-Ross fight in the Garden bowl and also at the 'drome. Jess sent seven bus loads of fans to the fight from Newark and environs.

Carmin Bilotti has chosen another winner. He picked Jaeger and implored the Mayor: "Come on root for Charley, will you, Mayor?" When the Mayor rooted Charley started the fireworks that carried him home a winner.

A fight of minor consequence in the bleachers caused a flurry during the running of the paced event. Not to be outdone by Motor Vehi-

Varsity Club Plays

Bayonne Pioneers

Local Club Out Gunning

For Second Victory Sunday

With a victory over the Clifton Hawks dangling from their belts, the crack Nutley Varsity Club footballers will be gunning for their second consecutive victory of the year Sunday afternoon at Feuerbach Park, terminus of Washington avenue, at two-thirty o'clock, when the local pigskin chasers oppose the formidable Bayonne Pioneers. Additional bleacher seats for 1,500 will be on hand for Sunday's anticipated crowd.

The Bayonne aggregation will be a much tougher foe than the Clifton combine as the downstate club comes to Nutley with an excellent record. In 1933 the Bayonne players were undefeated and copped the professional football championship of Hudson County, nosing out the well-known Palisade Eskimos for the flag in the Hudson County Pro League. Among the visitors' star performers are Bill Ferrara, formerly with the Bayonne Vikings of the Eastern League; Johnny Swift erstwhile, Dickinson fullback; Willie Arnot, halfback alumnus of Lincoln; and Bart Petruson, who played at St. Peter's and Catholic University.

The Nutley management signed a new player this week in Leo Machnoski, who was given a trial last Sunday. Machnoski is a backfield man who played with Nanticoke (Pa.) H. S., Wyoming Seminary and Mansfield Teachers College and in the pro ranks with the Binghamton Prospects and the Syracuse Pros. The Polish star weighs in at 172 pounds and impressed Chief Stanford for his agility and gameness. His signing will send Pint Sentner to an end post where the latter will vie for a starting berth with Charlie Sherwood.

Reggie McNamara, the iron man of cycling is headed Nutley way and will ride at the saucer one week from Sunday afternoon.

Bob Lipsett, George Shipman, Martin Journey and Oscar Sellinger will be compelled to re-ride their two mile final in the National championships Sunday afternoon—all because Shipman hit the track in the last lap, which spill, according to some fans, came about as Shipman was pressed close by Lipsett. Be that as it may the fans saw two miles of a good race and will benefit by its duplication Sunday.

Some wag in the stands suggested D. J. psey get a "Kiddie Kar" as he started off in the final heat of the match race. Another wailed "Please don't fall again, Mr. Dempsey." Another so irked George that the former sprint champ thumbed his fingers in the general direction of the fan.

Carmin Bilotti starts tomorrow night for Detroit where he will do advance work for the six-day grind which opens in that city on October 7. "Carm" says he will miss the finish of the motor-paced events which are scheduled to wind up next week. "Blackie", Carmine's pal, in Manager Harry Mendel's office, will probably leave for Detroit at the same time Mr. Mendel goes.

Jess Lyons, Public Service official, who is always trying to help the other fellow, and goes out of his way to do it, was pleased that seven bus drivers had a night's work at the McLarin-Ross fight. Public Service provides excellent bus service to all sporting events and when fans patronize that method of travel they are helping some operator make a few extra dollars, besides getting excellent and safe transportation.

Meteor Seen

A particularly brilliant meteor or falling star, passed over Nutley at 10 P. M. Wednesday. It was seen by many persons in Franklin avenue. The meteor was bluish-white in color, and appeared to pass in a northwest direction.

JUDGE BY COMPARISON

The object of this folder is to acquaint you with all the facts regarding Karlin's two great, modern, best equipped, best stocked drug stores.

You should patronize these two real drug stores for many reasons which are as follows:

1—We carry a complete line of nationally advertised quality products.

2—Our OPEN Prescription Department displays the sanitary conditions under which your prescriptions are filled with highest quality pharmaceuticals by long experienced registered pharmacists.

3—Courteous, friendly and sincere service.

4—Free, prompt delivery at all hours.

5—Complete stocks in every department—sick room supplies, patent medicines, drugs, insecticides, sundries, baby goods, cosmetics, candies, fountain pens and pencils, stationery, and anything that should be in a modern departmentized drug store.

6—Children treated with the greatest courtesy.

7—QUALITY — First and foremost but equally important is PRICE—a very small profit charged. In fact, our prices are as low as is permissible in any stores in the U. S. A. Being a member of the Fair Price Drug and Cosmetic Institute, we were instrumental in reducing the cost to you of drugs and cosmetics and proprietary medicines, saving you 15 per cent and more.
