Water Main Sought For Cuozzo Street

Unsanitary Conditions Are Bared There By Residents

A delegation of residents of Cuozzo street appeared before the conference of the board of commissioners Monday afternoon to ask that a water main be laid by the town in that street.

According to Anthony Nisoviccia of 56 Cuozzo street, spokesman, there is no water in houses there and hydrants for fire protection are lacking. A town official promised water to residents ten years ago, Nisoviccia said.

"That promise must have been made just before an election," declared Mayor Williams.

"The town is not in a financial condition to warrant the construction of new mains," Public Works Director Patrick A. Waters told Nisoviccia. He suggested that the residents lay a two-inch main at their own expense, as has been done in other streets.

The mayor and Commissioner George A. Gerard explained that it would take fifteen years for taxes collected from properties in the street to pay for a main, even if assessments were doubled.

"The people of that section of town are getting more money for schools, police and fire protection and road maintenance than in other sections; yet we receive hardly any return in taxes," stated the mayor.

"The rest of the town maintains its own schools and spends $70,000 annually in that section in addition," added Commissioner Gerard, who was formerly supervising principal of the local schools.

Cuozzo street is in the Silver Lake section.

David Preston, colored, of 29 Cuozzo street, said that he might be able to get a right of way for a main through property adjoining his from Brighton avenue. He was asked to investigate this possibility and report at the next conference of the board.

Nisoviccia stated later that conditions in homes in the street were unsanitary, on account of the lack of water. His family carries water in pails from Brighton avenue, he declared. Sometimes it is carried in a car from a house which the family owns in Bloomfield.

"When I want to take a bath, I have to go to the house in Bloomfield," he added.

Preston said his family carries water home in pails, paying residents of other streets $1.50 monthly for water.

Knights of Columbus To Hold Card Party

Membership Drive Begins Under Leadership of Grand Knight

Belleville Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold a card party at the home, 169 Washington avenue, Monday evening. The committee in charge is headed by William Noonan, who will be assisted by Alexander T. Derbyshire, George Froehlich, William F. Herkness, Corwin A. Stickey, Eugene Culklin, Philip O'Toole and Harry Morton.

The party will be conducted in the manner established by the council on previous occasions. A special feature which was carried on by the council during the past two months will be brought to a close Monday night.

A membership drive, under the leadership of Grand Knight Daniel Gibbons, was started at the last meeting of the council. All members have been asked to cooperate in the campaign.

Young Democrats Will Open Headquarters

The Young Men's Democratic Club of Belleville will open headquarters at Washington avenue and William street, it was announced by officers of the organization Tuesday night.

The club held a card party at the Elks' Club Tuesday. The gathering was addressed by Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, town Democratic chairman, and other prominent Democrats. The next social event planned by the group is a hot dog roast, to be given in about two weeks.

William Friel is president of the club. Other officers include John Baney, Tim Monaghan, Oliver Brown and Raymond Peck. Theodore Bellet is counsel.

Italian Baptist Church Marks Twentieth Anniversary Of Rev. Benedetto Pascale

Was First Self-Supporting Italian Baptist Congregation In United States—Is Widely Known For Social Service Work

The twentieth anniversary of the Rev. Benedetto Pascale's having taken charge of the First Italian Baptist Church of Belleville was celebrated Sunday night by a special service at the church and a reception for the pastor and Mrs. Pascale.

Speakers were the Rev. Antonio Mangano of the Italian Baptist Church of the Transfiguration, Dr. Winfield S. Booth, executive secretary of the Baptist Extension Society of Newark and Louis Stoiber, one of the founders of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Pascale came to Belleville in 1914 to take charge of the church, then a mission of the First Baptist Church of Bloomfield. He was then a student at Colgate Seminary. Since that time he has seen the church acquire a new building, a playground, community house, gymnasium and swimming pool. The congregation became the first Italian church of the Baptist denomination in the country to be self-supporting in 1928, and was awarded a cup at the 100th anniversary of the New Jersey Baptist convention.

One of the founders of the original mission, Franklin A. Stone of Bloomfield, brought greetings Sunday. Mr. Pascale was presented a purse by his congregation.

The church has won acclaim as a welfare organization in the community, largely due to Mr. Pascale's efforts. Recreation facilities and free clinics are open to all races and creeds.

Cyclists Warned To Obey Lighting Law

Director Gerard Urges Care To Prevent Accidents

Fearful that children and adults riding unlighted bicycles through Belleville streets at night will meet with serious accidents, Public Safety Director George R. Gerard this week warned cyclists that hereafter the state law requiring lights on bicycles after sundown will be strictly enforced.

"I have heard of several near-accidents, where motorists saw cyclists barely in time to avoid striking them after dark," the director said. "The law requires that bicycles on the streets at night be equipped with proper lights to make them visible to motorists and others, and it will be enforced to prevent serious accidents."

Legion Post to Hold Election Tonight

Plans Will Also be Made For Dedication of Chateau

Belleville Post No. 105, American Legion, will meet at the Legion Chateau, 170 Washington avenue tonight. Nomination and election of officers will feature this annual meeting of the post. Members are urged to attend this meeting and participate in the selection of their officers for the year of 1935. Plans will be discussed for a dedication of the home acquired last spring.

Col. Kelly Will Open Democratic Campaign

County Chairman to Address Gathering at Town Hall Tonight

Colonel William H. Kelly, Essex County Democratic chairman, will officially open the Democratic campaign here by an address at the town hall tonight. The occasion will be an open meeting under the auspices of the Belleville Democratic County Committee.

Commission Patrick A. Waters, town Democratic chairman, will preside. All Belleville Democrats interested in supporting the candidacies of Governor A. Harry Moore for U. S. senator and Judge William L. Dill for governor have been invited.

The board of directors will meet at the club house, Friday, October 5, at 2 P. M. and the first meeting of the fall season will be on the following Monday at 2:30 P. M.

Plans For Year Made By The International Relations Department

Junior Woman's Club Will Study The Near East

The international relations department of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville recently met at the home of Estelle M. Powers, chairlady, and formulated plans for the year's activities.

Meetings of this department will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of the month, and, as proposed, by the State Federation of Junior Women's Clubs, the Near East will be studied extensively.

The first meeting which is October 8 will be conducted by Jane Rose and Margaret Haworth.

The members of this department are Doris Soleau, Joan Rummel, Margaret Haworth, Jane Rose, Ethel Searl, Justine Boylan, Elizabeth Wortman, Doris Hardman, Alberta Ebert, Jean Mc Clelland, Virginia Crockett, referee and Vivian Kirkpatrick, secretary.

The international relations department of the Junior Women's Club of Belleville will conduct a card party at the Woman's club, 51 Rossmore place, on October 25.

Miss Elizabeth Wortman is chairman and tickets will be placed on sale within the next few weeks.

Cast Is Preparing For Lions' Minstrel

"Lions' 1934 Revue" Will Be Presented in October

Rehearsals are under way for the "Lions' 1934 Revue," which will be presented by the Belleville Lions Club next month.

Hartley Supporters Form Association

Victor Schleicher Elected President of Non- Partisan Group

Supporters of Representative Hartley, Republican candidate for re-election in November, formed the Fred A. Hartley, Jr., Association of Belleville Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple in Joralemon street. The organization is intended to be non-partisan.

Mr. Hartley attended the meeting, and thanked the group for its efforts in his behalf. The organization is intended to be a permanent one to support him not only in the coming election, but in the future. All registered voters in town are eligible for membership.

Victor H. Schleicher, attorney, was elected president. Other officers are: vice presidents, Frank M. Sopher and Mrs. Anna Fleming; treasurer, Charles S. Smith; secretary, William H. Crisp; assistant secretary, Alfred A. Baker, and board of trustees, Louis Geiger, Anthony Di Leo, George Rawcliffe and Elmer Smith.

The next meeting will be held October 9 at the Masonic Temple.

Handbill Ordinance Abandoned by Board

Merchants' Representatives Oppose Ban on Circular Distribution

A plea for keeping Belleville business in Belleville was made by Abbott Karlin, local druggist, and Abram Atkins, proprietor of the Boston Store, Tuesday before the Town Commission, where they appeared in protest against a proposed ordinance to ban circulars in town.

The commissioners threw out the ordinance after hearing the merchants' object on the ground that such a ban would work a hardship on small merchants who can not afford to go in for extensive newspaper advertising.

"The measure had been favored by an out of town newspaper, which maintains a non-union shop, and receives little or no support from local merchants or townspeople in the matter of printing," declared Mr. Karlin, after the meeting.

The Belleville Merchants' Association was against the proposed ordinance and delegated Messrs. Karlin and Atkins to address the commission to that effect.

Abram Atkins and Abbott A. Karlin, local merchants, appeared as representatives of the association.

"A merchant with a small store cannot afford newspaper advertising," declared Mr. Atkins. "His only means of advertising is to distribute a few circulars in his immediate neighborhood. I am not pleading for myself, as my store is big enough to advertise in other ways, but for the small neighborhood dealer."

"The small merchant must have circulars to advertise his store," Mr. Karlin said. "In addition, the small dealer, who cannot afford newspaper advertising, has his circulars printed in The Belleville News plant, where a large number of local taxpayers are employed."

Fifteen Belleville residents and taxpayers are employed by The Belleville News, several of whom are expert union printers and receive the highest wage in the printing craft.

"The small merchant must have circulars in order to remain in business," said Mr. Karlin. "He cannot afford newspaper advertising."

"Here in Belleville we have a large printing plant at a local newspaper office," he said, referring to The Belleville News. "The editor of that newspaper told me that the printing of circulars was essential to his business. I was told that many Belleville taxpayers are employed there, and that the business would be seriously injured if the many local merchants who have their circulars printed there were forbidden to distribute them."

"As a representative of the Belleville Merchants' Association, I wish to protest against the passage of this ordinance."

Charles Longhi, representing the Belleville branch of the Socialist party, also opposed the proposed law on the grounds that it would ban the distribution of political literature. He said that political and religious organizations have a constitutional right to express their views in this manner.

"I still believe the majority of our citizens favor this measure," said Commissioner George R. Gerard, sponsor of the ordinance, "but because of the many objections I am voting 'No.' Commissioners Waters and Clark also withdrew their support of the bill, and it failed of adoption by a unanimous vote."

An ordinance to prohibit the sale or use of fireworks here was again tabled. Merchants have protested that if it were placed in effect they would be unable to dispose of existing stocks of fireworks.

Belleville Man Killed In Newark Accident

James Caruso Dies After Collision In Summer Avenue

James Caruso, 24, of 126 Mill street, this town, died in Newark City Hospital Sunday several hours after his car and one driven by Frank Gerald of 133 Mt. Prospect avenue, also of Belleville, collided at Summer and Third avenues, Newark.

Caruso was accompanied by Miss Margaret Stabile of 722 Devens street, Arlington, who suffered minor injuries.

Funeral services were held at the home Wednesday morning. Burial was in East Ridgeland Cemetery, Delaware.

Nutley Mourns Richard W. Booth

Impressive Funeral for Veteran Town and County Official

Impressive funeral services were held Sunday and Monday for Richard W. Booth, veteran town and county official, who died last Thursday night at his home after fifty years in the service of the public.

Flags are flown at half-mast throughout town as a mark of respect to one of Nutley's most prominent citizens. The public schools, of which "Uncle Dick" had been a trustee thirty-eight years, were closed Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and again at 10 A. M. Monday, to allow pupils to attend the burial.

Services were held at the home, 345 Center street, Sunday evening with the Rev. Arthur Roosenraad of Franklin Reformed Church officiating. Burial was in the Methodist Cemetery Monday morning, after a procession through the principal streets of town.

The procession was led by the Town Commission. It included the fire department, the police department and the exempt firemen's association, all members of which wore badges draped in mourning. Leaving the home, the procession passed the Four Corners, and reached the cemetery by Franklin avenue, Chestnut street and Passaic avenue.

The board of commissioners Monday night passed a resolution expressing its recognition of the services rendered Nutley by Mr. Booth, and its heartfelt sympathy to his family.

"His great abilities, always at the service of others, his untiring energy and his unswerving sense of honor have greatly endeared him to all," the resolution states. "His clear judgment and wise counsel, together with his upright character, held the unqualified respect of all, making his loss deeply felt, and left a standard for all who came in contact with him."

Mr. Booth served as county treasurer thirty-three years, retiring last year because of poor health. He was town committeeman five years, in three of which he was chairman of the township committee. He also served as freeholder.

In 1896 he was elected to the board of education, and served as president eighteen years. He was a member of the school board at the time of his death.

His foresight is responsible for much of the success of Nutley's school system, both in an educational and a business way. He influenced the purchase of land for public purposes when it was inexpensive, thus saving the taxpayers thousands of dollars in later years. He donated Booth Park to Nutley, and was instrumental in the purchase of school sites and Park Oval.

Mr. Booth died only a few hundred feet from his birthplace seventy-six years ago in what was then Franklin Township. For his entire life he was a resident of this town.

He leaves his widow, Henrietta L. Booth; a brother, Joseph Booth, of 421 Center street; a sister, Mrs. Barbara Sargeant of Belleville; three sons, Bronson R. Booth of East Orange, Leonard R. Booth of Macon, Ga., and Richard W. Booth of Nutley; four daughters, Mrs. Molly Blodgett of Decatur, Ga., Mrs. Dorothy Waddy of Summit, Mrs. Charles F. Brandt of Nutley and Miss Barbara Booth, at home; a stepson, Philip Marshall of this town, and eight grandchildren.

Reckless Driving Charged After Car Strikes Truck

Sol Lempert of 482 Jorammon street Belleville, told police that he would bring charges of reckless driving against William Repeta of 681 South street, Newark, in Nutley Police Court this morning after a collision between Repeta's car and Lempert's truck in Union avenue near King street, Nutley, early Sunday.

Lempert reported that he was turning his truck around, and was backing toward the west side of the street. Repeta tried to drive between his truck and the curb, he stated.

Form League

The Widow and Widowers' League was organized recently in the Y. W. C. A., Washington street, Newark. The meetings will be held every Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Widows, widowers, and single people are cordially invited to join. The object of this league is to provide social times for lonely people. Commencing the first Wednesday in October the fall and winter activities will get under way.

Sleuths Are Busy At No. 9 School But Strangers Who Cause Excitement Are Board Employees

School activities at No. 9 are fully under way. Clubs, assemblies, unit work and other activities of a social and educational nature absorb the minds of the young workers. James Pucillo, eighth grade, Robert Pucillo, seventh grade, and Andrew Scala, eighth grade, are working and directing other young workers in improving the lawn. Top soil has been put over the bare spots, and ivy is being planted. The assembly roof has been repaired by two workers with an asphalt mixture which is like clay.

Albert McBride, former Belleville High School gymnastic teacher, is now teaching physical training in No. 9. He used to teach approximately 1,200 boys, but in No. 9 he has but thirty. Mr. McBride teaches in other Belleville schools also.

The eighth grade is studying gardening in science, under the direction of Miss Isabel Abbott, sixth grade teacher. Doris Stallter, eighth grade pupil says of this work, "We're planting different seeds to tell in what soil they grow best, etc. We also crossed two cactus plants to see what they shall see. This garden work is very interesting."

The first of a series of Wednesday afternoon card parties was held in No. 9 Wednesday afternoon, September 19. There were four tables. Prize winners were Mrs. George Rawcliffe, Mrs. Tackish, Mrs. Bowdin, Mrs. Daniel Foley. Refreshments were served. Committee members are Mrs. E. Brown, Mrs. G. Newton, Mrs. A. D. Lundy.

No. 9 girls, ten years old or over, have joined Girl Scout troop no. 12 directed by Miss Lena Arovello. A meeting was held Wednesday afternoon, September 19, to which several girls attended. They were Carmella Costa and Grace Rawcliffe, eighth graders; Constance Anzivino, seventh grade, and Mary Trioni and Carmella Trioni, fifth grade. Eight cents were taken in dues. Dues left from last year will be banked.

Excitement ran riot around No. 9 school last week. A few students, Carmen Andreano and Tony DiGregorio among them, were on hand, and told the story to Michael Cofone, eighth grade reporter, as follows: "A car stopped in front of our school, and two men stepped out, and went in the auditorium door. They had no keys so they tugged frantically at the door, and it finally opened. They went to the top floor and switched on the lights; came out again, took a flashlight from the car, and went in again. Beams from the flashlight were seen leaping from floor to ceiling of the auditorium. Then they went out quietly and drove away. We took down the license plate number, and it was 1E21000. We told Mr. Gryczka, our principal, next morning. The queer thing was that nothing was missing. The police were informed."

Their answer surprised us, and made us realize that the laugh was surely on us. They said, "We looked up the license plate number, and it belongs to the Board of Education truck. They were testing and examining the lights."

"Elementary, my dear Watson," I suppose, but the boys were highly excited, and felt that they'd had a good part in a little sleuthing. "Lights in our building should be reported," said one boy, "if we don't know what they are. It was my idea to write the license plate number on the sidewalk."

No. 9 school has gone very definitely dramatic. The seventh graders have organized a Playmakers Club, so called because the pupils make up the plays themselves, act in them, and produce them. Officers of the club are president, Robert Klein; vice president, Tony DiGregorio; secretary, William Sabie, and treasurer, Julia Gardi. Dues are a penny a week and will defray expenses of small properties and costumes. The club is now in the process of producing a Halloween play, which after nearly a week of writing, revising, re-writing and developing, in which every class member had a part, three plays were finally brought forth, which will be used at Halloween time. One is to be given in the assembly before the school on October 18. This drama is entitled, "The Graveyard Spectre," which was written originally by Howard White and William Sabie, but which will be further developed by the class group. The cast to date is as follows: Bob, Jack Avazier; Howard, Howard Wilson; Bill, William Sabie; Mary, Julia Gardi; Jean, Lucy DeBonis, and Ghost, Sebastian Melchionne. The two other plays chosen for some future production are "Halloween Pranks," written by a group headed by Carl Kretzmer, and "The Old Ghost House," by Casper Behring and others.

The sixth grade is going to give a play which they, also, have written themselves. It is called "The Primitive Man." Frank Gerard, Ralph Smith, Mary McKay, Irene Rogers, Lucy Gardi, David Pitman, Rocco DiGregorio, Virginia Rhodes, Jeanne Smith, Jean McDonald and Gwendolyn Schulze will take parts.

Mrs. Margaret Norman, third grade teacher, coached a play, "The Pudding Pan" by Katherine Duncan Morse, which her pupils presented in assembly last week. This one act play was characterized by the following pupils: Cobbler, Louis Martin; Dame, Mary Russo; Customer, Mary Dougal; Beggar, Sam Fajaro; Landlord, Howard Schenck; Officer, Harold Weinberger; Doctor, Ludwig Kowalski; Neighbor, Paul Welch.

Art students of the eighth grade, under the direction of Miss Abbott, are making silhouette boxes. They are made by stretching tissue paper over one side of a box, from which the bottom has been cut, and by putting figures of people, houses, trees, etc., behind the tissue paper. When placed against the light, the figures appear in black against the white tissue paper. If the boxes are successful, eighth graders may have an exhibit of their work.

Music absorbs the minds of many at No. 9. On Friday, September 14, a glee club, under the direction of Miss Indra Bryant, music supervisor, was formed. As in other years, only seventh and eighth graders are eligible. The eighth grade is also making music scrapbooks, with biographies of famous composers included. The seventh grade is studying instruments, while folk songs hold the interest of the sixth graders.

P. T. A. Meeting

The last meeting of the P. T. A. was held September 13 at No. 9 School. There were about twenty-five members present. The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in October. There will be a program held at night.

William F. Richards, principal of School No. 3 gave Thomas Gryczka, No. 9 principal some ivy to put around the school grounds.

May Close Saloons During Elections Board Moves to Prohibit Marathon Dances In Town

Two ordinances introduced by Public Safety Director George R. Gerard, one to close taverns and liquor stores during elections and the other to prohibit marathon dances in Belleville, were passed on first reading by the town commission Tuesday night.

The former measure, designed to prevent disorder on election days, provides that premises holding plenary retail consumption or plenary retail distribution licenses be closed during the hours when the polls are open. It would not affect delicatessens and groceries selling small quantities of bottled beer.

The second bill would make it unlawful to conduct, manage or promote a marathon dance, walkathon or a similar endurance contest, whether or not admission is charged, or to participate in such a contest or exhibition. Penalties would be a fine not to exceed $100 or imprisonment of not more than ninety days.

A resolution introduced by Commissioner Joseph King extends the sincere sympathy of the board to the widow and family of the late Samuel Yeatman, a member of the shade tree commission for six years.

A plenary retail distribution license, for a liquor store, was granted Max Kraus for premises at 562 Union avenue. There is only one other store of this type in town.

A resolution asking the SERA for $53,000 for relief here in October was passed. The town will contribute $300 of this amount. 1,200 families are recipients of relief in Belleville.

SKATING AND BIKE RIDING

Director of Public Safety George R. Gerard is trying to make life happy for the young folks who enjoy roller skating and bicycle riding, but he has placed certain restrictions on those who do these things promiscuously at night in streets where traffic is heavy and the pleasure of the young folks is fraught with danger.

Supervised roller skating is permitted in designated streets, a list of which was published in this newspaper last week. If parents will warn their children of the dangers of skating in streets other than the designated ones they will be saving themselves hours of worry, as well as assisting town authorities. Children are thoughtless sometimes when they go out skating. They ignore warning horns of motorists. They skate directly into the path of danger. Probably the most dangerous stunt of all is automobile hitching by skaters, as well as bicycle riders. These dangers will be minimized if parents will cooperate. A lot of trouble has come about because a few parents have permitted their children to do as they please.

The bad feature of bicycle riding at night is that many fail to carry lights on the wheels. While this is also true of skaters, as well, in many cases, the bike riders travel at a far greater speed, which causes a more dangerous situation than that of the skater. There is a state law that requires a bicycle owner to place a light on his wheel while using it at night. This law will be strictly enforced in Belleville. Motorists are not always as careful as they should be of human life. Some get the idea of power behind the wheel of a car. Others exercise great care. From all angles the skaters and bike riders are a menace to motorists and vice versa. It behooves skaters and bike riders to keep within the rules if all parties concerned are to be protected.

FIRE DRILLS ON SHIPS

The assertion has been advanced that had there been a fire drill for passengers on the unfortunate Morro Castle, many who were lost could have been saved. But when it is declared on the witness stand that the officers and crew were without a guiding head and lacked every semblance of discipline of what use would a fire drill for passengers have been? With officers and crew piling into the lifeboats, bent on saving themselves, the poor passengers were at a decided disadvantage. Where there was great need for drill and discipline seems to have been with the officers and crew. The passengers would then have had a chance.

GRIM REMINDERS

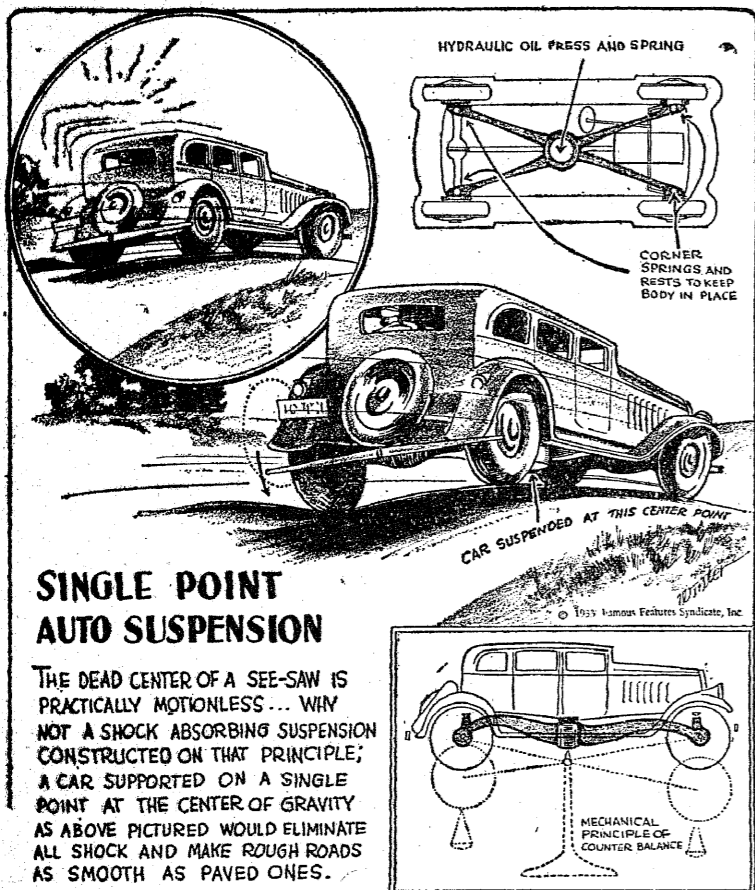

On one of the main highways recently, scores of automobilists halted their cars while they went to the roadside to inspect the battered wreck of an automobile. The machine had crashed into a tree and was hopelessly demolished. The curious motorists gave the wreck close inspection, then speculated on the cause of the crash. Most agreed that the driver must have been travelling at high speed.

Further along down the highway a traffic policeman commented on the fact that the motorists who had observed the wreck resumed their driving in a careful manner, observing the rules of the road and moving along at a moderate speed. Perhaps more of these grim reminders of the tragedy of too much speed should be left by the roadsides. They might actually serve at object lessons and thus cut down the automobile death toll.

IDLENESS

Idleness never brings happiness. Sometimes when we are so overwhelmed by crowding duties, we are quite sure that to simply do nothing is the one goal to be desired. But idle people with no object or aim in life are the most miserable in the world. To have no work to do, no cause to help, no duty to accomplish, no hope to follow, would be to reach the height of weariness and discontent.

ou think this idea is practical? Write Ray Gross in care of this newspaper

SORROW

After all it would not be well for us to live without any trouble or sorrow entering our lives. Without trials of this kind we should not know our own strength or weakness. To learn to swim one must venture into deep water and be buffeted by it. Sorrows gather around as do great waves but like them they pass if one has the strength and the courage to wait for that passing and find oneself in calm water.

I desire to commend their efforts to the citizens of Belleville and trust that all those who are able will aid in this good cause.

The Song Of The Soul

By WILHELMINA STITCH

(Published by E. P. Dutton & Co.)

"I have put on mine armour," sings the soul.

"The flashing armour of will to do the Right.

Thus I go forth, not blindly towards the goal, but guided safely, by the light."

"Righteousness for armour," cries the soul. Beauty and Truth — the longed for goal.

"Beneath mine armour," chants the soul,

"I have donned a scarlet tunic for my spirit's sake. In scarlet tunic to the Great Beyond, with courage flaming, to the road I take.

"Righteousness for armour, flashing bright: a scarlet tunic—for courage in the night.

"I will go forth and in this armour clad to meet Temptation, that most subtle foe.

"Like David of Bethlehem, the shepherd lad, sure of my strength and power I go.

"And in the stream of Truth, I'll find missiles to fling against Goliath's mind.

"I have put on mine armour: Truth my sword: slave unto none; but Captained by the Lord."

Keep Moving

By WILHELMINA STITCH

(Published by E. P. Dutton & Co.)

I scanned wise words in a book today. This was the message they seemed to say: Keep moving ahead!

You can't stand still unless you really are very ill; for if you stop, like an unwound clock, you're bound to suffer a fearful shock, and say to your conscience: "Move on, awake."

Keep moving ahead, or your soul will die, and beauty evade your heart and eye. No matter at all that your face be slow, so long as you forward, upward go, into a finer atmosphere, where ideals live and visions clear and Goodness and Truth have taken firm stand, and folks to folks stretch loving hand.

For this be the measure of our success, the measure of all life's happiness: just how well we have moved ahead; or just how early our soul was dead!

Submitted by Mrs. A. R. Hunt.

I Just Keep a-Livin' Along

F. L. Stanton

Some folks they keep huntin' for sorrow;

They sigh if they're right or they're wrong;

But this day's as good as tomorrow, So I jest keep a-livin' along.

I jest keep a-livin' along.

I jest keep a-livin' a song; There's no use to sigh

While the sun's in the sky; So I jest keep a-livin' along.

When the Lord made the world, was I in it

To give him directions? He knowed I wouldn't know how to begin it,

Bein' nothin' but dust by the road.

So I jest keep a-livin' along,

And I can't say the Lord's work is wrong;

I never will sigh While he's runnin' the sky;

I jest keep a-livin' along.

I'm thankful for the sun and for showers;

The Lord makes the winter and May;

And he'd hide all the graves with his flowers

If folks didn't weed 'em away!

So I jest keep a-livin' along,

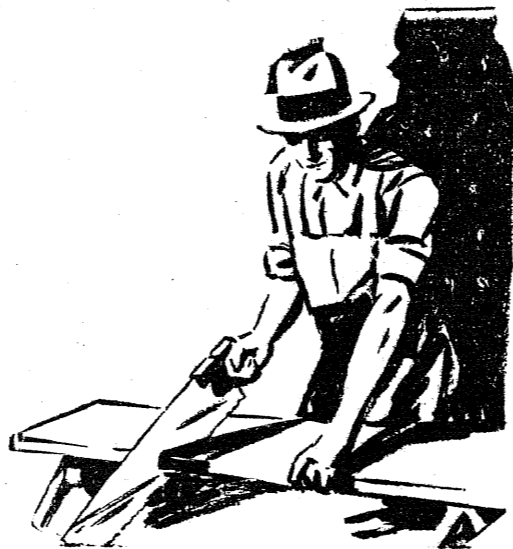

Still thankful for sunlight and song; I know, when it's snowing,

Flowers soon will be growing, So I jest keep a-livin' along!

BEHIND THE SCENES

This is what happens in the editorial rooms of a big city daily, when news of great magnitude comes over the wires:

It's something after midnight, and it's press time. The final odds and ends of news are being edited and headlined at the copy desk. Ten minutes to go before the next watch comes on. The reporters of this shift are preparing to go. Some are scanning copies of other papers. Nearly all are idling at this hour.

Then, suddenly, a copy boy, who knows a story when he sees it, snaps into action. He slides across the floor and shoves a sheet of paper into the hands of the night editor. The paper is from the Associated Press machine. The editor reads the dispatch:

FLASH...FLASH...Barnegat, N. J., 12:30 A. M. S. O. S. signals from liner Davey Jones summoned help with all possible speed, reporting fire aboard. Passengers and crew taking to boats in high seas.

"Boy!" calls the night editor, while the managing editors, city editors, and reporters gather round him. "Tell the composing room to make a hole for two columns a stick deep, upper right hand front page, and an eight column ribbon—copy and head to come."

With this announcement, everyone galvanizes into action. Not a man leaves his post. Every editor, every reporter is alert and ready to undo the work of hours and make space for this unexpected news. No thought is given to the fact that less than five minutes ago they were ready to depart for their homes.

The city editor begins to give directions to a half dozen news gatherers.

To one—"Go down to the office of the Davey Jones Lines and get all the pictures you can of the ship." To another—"Hop over and get a passenger list of all who sailed on the Davey Jones." To a third—"Get what you can out of the morgue (the clippings and photographs filed for reference in newspaper offices) about Captain Chester and notable passengers on board the Davey Jones."

Confusion now prevails in the editorial rooms. Another dispatch comes through from Barnegat. The Associated Press machine comes to life. The tragic story of the sea is coming over the wires fast.

"Here—kill that lead you're writing," calls the city editor. "Do it over—take this."

Presently come the names of the survivors of the tragedy, and the names of those who went down to death.

A Senator is among those missing. "See his family," orders the city editor, "and get all you can about him."

A reporter hastens away on that mission.

A well-known actor is lost. "Get his picture and the story of his career."

Reporters are excited. Copy boys are running from the telegraph rooms to the desks, and back to the telegraph rooms again. Editors are shouting their orders.

"We've got twenty minutes to make the suburban edition," reminds the managing editor.

"Lift four columns out of page one," replies the city editor. "I have enough to fill it."

And so, a big story is thrown together and graphically told in printed words. And then... "All right, men," calls the city editor, when the task has been completed. "Thanks—good night."

Rehearsals Being Held For Show, 'Skidding'

The three-act comedy, "Skidding," which will be presented by the St. Peter's Dramatic Club, on Thursday and Friday evenings, October 25 and 26, in the school hall, William street, is in rehearsal. Much progress is being made under the direction of the Rev. Joseph M. Kelly.

The cast includes Miss Marguerite T. Mann, Miss Helen M. Grey, Miss Greta M. Kinnealy, Miss Eleanor M. Stockton, Mrs. Agnes Jordan Leonard, James J. Lukowski, William J. Brady, James A. Leonard, John J. Roberts and William J. Friel.

William H. Cort is general chairman in charge of committees. He is assisted by Miss Margaret M. McMahon in charge of general admission tickets; Miss Kathryn E. Donahue reserved seats; Miss Marie Barnett, refreshments; Miss Emily Marshall, ushers; Nicholas J. Comeskey, music; William J. Brady, property; Miss Maude V. Donnelly, patrons; Daniel P. Spillane, programme and John M. MacDonald, publicity.

Dancing will follow the performance on both evenings and the entire proceeds will go to the fund for the new school.

Glee Club Holds Weekly Rehearsals

The Belleville Glee Club held its first weekly rehearsal last Monday in the assembly hall of the Wallace & Tiernan Co. building on Main street.

Frank Scherer conducted and Arthur S. Ackerman was accompanist. About thirty-five members were present.

The club is planning its first concert this year for the week of December 10 and a second concert to be given in May, 1935. Mr. Scherer presented Mark Andrews' musical setting to Alfred Noyes' poem, "The Highwayman," for its first reading by the club. This is a stirring arrangement for male chorus and soprano solo and will be sung at the December concert. A part of the program given then will consist of Christmas carols.

There is still an opportunity for capable singers to become members of the club. New members should report to Mr. Scherer next Monday evening before the rehearsal or ask any member of the club to present their name for consideration by the membership committee. On account of the ambitious program for the Winter concert the active member list will soon be closed.

People who are not singers are invited to become associate members thereby insuring the club of the necessary financial support to make the season of 1934-35 a complete success.

"Probation After Death" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 28.

The golden text is: "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death." (1 Corinthians 15:26).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy" (1 Peter 4:12,13).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and health with key to the scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration. It is 'easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle,' than for sinful beliefs to enter the kingdom of heaven, eternal harmony. Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration, mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality." (p. 241).

Monday: 7 P. M. Rehearsal of Junior choir.

Wednesday: 8 P. M. Prayer service and Bible study hour to which all people are invited.

Friday: 8 P. M. Rehearsal of the Senior choir.

Next Sunday will be promotion day for various classes in the Sunday school.

The pastor will preach as usual at 10:45 A. M.

The evening service will be in charge of the Epworth League. The senior league members will install their officers at this service.

Rally day is scheduled for October 8. Special programs are being prepared for the occasion by all departments of the Sunday school. In the evening a specially prepared pageant "The Spirit of Today" directed by Mrs. Compton will be presented. With the pastor as the auctioneer, and ten bidders bidding for the spirit of childhood, the highest bidder, Christianity, personified by Mary Elizabeth Compton receives the precious purchase. This part will be taken by Ruth Kurtz.

The Young Woman's Auxiliary will meet in the church parlor next Tuesday evening, October 2 at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Elmer Bagnall will be chairman of the refreshment committee assisted by Mrs. George Cameron, Mrs. Malcolm Budd, Mrs. Howard Box, Mrs. H. S. Bernard, Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, Mrs. S. Benn.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet Thursday, October 4 at 2:30 P. M. A 35 cent luncheon to which the public is invited will precede the meeting. Those desiring to attend the luncheon may do so by getting in touch with the president, Mrs. W. J. Wakefield.

Evening church services will be resumed one week from Sunday, October 7, at 8 o'clock.

All holders of "Blue Boxes" are urgently requested to bring or send their offerings to the morning church service Sunday, as word has been received from the Diocesan blue box custodian that an extra offering now is to be collected, that it may swell the amount of the women's united bank offering, which will be presented at the triennial convention at Atlantic City October 11.

The first fall meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held yesterday afternoon at the parish house, with the president, Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn, occupying the chair. Preceding the meeting, Mrs. J. Harry Edwards, chairman of the parish visiting committee, called together that group of women, that definite plans might be arranged for calling upon the sick and shut-ins, and upon new comers. Members included Mrs. M. F. Apperson, Mrs. Walter Coups, Mrs. G. H. Hildebrand, Mrs. Frederick Idenden, Mrs. G. A. Kelsall, Mrs. M. J. Lloyd, Mrs. R. H. Minion, Mrs. H. W. Mumford, Mrs. Edward Nelson, Miss Edith Polkinghorne, Mrs. G. E. Pratt and Mrs. H. B. Winship.

The guild card party held last Friday evening was a great success, more than one hundred persons attending. There were twenty-four tables in play and sixteen non-players. Mrs. Sylvester Frazer was chairman, assisted by a committee of eighteen women of the September unit.

The October unit of the Guild, of which Mrs. J. Harry Edwards is chairman, held a meeting at the parish house Tuesday afternoon. It was decided to have a rummage sale, starting October 30, and continuing for four days. This is something quite different for the guild.

The Girls' Friendly Society will hold its third annual fish and chip supper this evening at the parish house from 6 to 7:30 o'clock. This is one of the outstanding affairs in the parish.

The Woman's Auxiliary will hold the opening meeting of the season in the club room of the parish house Monday evening. The president, Mrs. Edward Nelson, will preside. Sweaters which have been knitted for the boys at "Bonnie Brae" farm should be brought in.

The Young Peoples' Fellowship is arranging for a card party which will be held at the parish house next Friday evening. Miss Frances M. Williamson is general chairman.

The Choir Club is planning to have a series of three concerts this fall and winter, the first one to be given Friday evening, November 2, at the parish house.

OBITUARY

Clifton Funeral For
Mrs. James R. Paxton

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Douglas Simpson Paxton, the wife of James R. Paxton of 45 Kenzel avenue, were held yesterday afternoon at the home of her eldest son, William Simpson of 146 Arlington avenue, Clifton. Burial was in East Ridgeland cemetery, Delaware.

The Rev. Robert C. Falconer, pastor of St. Paul's Congregational Church, this town, conducted the services.

Mrs. Paxton, who died Tuesday in St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, after an illness of four years, was born sixty years ago in Staten Island. She had lived in Nutley thirty-five years.

William Arthur Simpson, her first husband, died several years ago.

Besides her husband and son, she leaves three other sons, Vernon Simpson of Haverstraw, N. Y., Lester Simpson of Nutley and Henry Simpson of Bloomfield, and two daughters, Mrs. Mary E. Nyegaard of Glen Rock and Miss Elizabeth Paxton, at home.

Funeral Services
For Horace Lidlow

Funeral services for Horace Lidlow of 2 Holmes street, Belleville, were held Tuesday afternoon at his home, with the Rev. John A. Struyk, pastor of Belleville Reformed Church, officiating. Mr. Lidlow died Saturday night after a heart attack. Burial was in East Ridgeland cemetery, Delaware.

Mr. Lidlow was born in England seventy-three years ago and came to this country in 1889. He was employed in Belleville ten years at the Eastwood-Neally Co. plant. He would have celebrated his fiftieth wedding anniversary February 10, 1935.

Besides his widow, he leaves two sons, Horace Lidlow of Nutley and George Lidlow of Newark; four daughters, Mrs. Mabel Bloom and Mrs. Violet Stuphen of Belleville, Mrs. Daisy Sutphen of Arlington and Mrs. Lillian Beatty of Nutley, thirteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Masonic Rites Held
For Harry C. Hayes

Masonic funeral services were held for Harry C. Hayes of 155 Cedar Hill avenue Tuesday night at his home. Burial was in Trenton.

Mr. Hayes died suddenly of a heart attack at Baltimore Sunday. He was returning from a vacation trip with his wife, Mrs. Carrie Hayes.

Born in Trenton sixty-five years ago, Mr. Hayes had been employed by Western Union since the age of 14. At the time of his death he was a chief cable tester for the telegraph company in New York. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of Minerva Lodge of Brooklyn.

Besides his widow, Mr. Hayes leaves two sisters, Mrs. Headley Howell and Miss Lois Hayes of Morrisville, Pa., and two brothers, Thomas N. Hayes of Trenton and William F. Hayes of Detroit.

Mrs. Ellen Huband Rites

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Huband, who died Monday at St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, were held Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Helena Huband of 133 Main street, Belleville, with whom she made her home. The services were conducted by the Rev. Robert C. Falconer, pastor of St. Paul's Congregational Church, Nutley. Burial was in Clendale cemetery, Bloomfield.

Born in England seventy-two years ago, Mrs. Huband came to this country in 1884. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Carl Bechtoldt of Belleville and Mrs. George P. Smith of Nutley; three sons, Walter Huband of Nutley, George Huband of Belleville and Frederick Huband of Syracuse, N. Y.; twelve grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Ten Motorists Fined
In Safety Drive

Four fail to appear to answer charges; court issues warrants

Ten motorists were fined $2 each for improper parking by Recorder Smith in police court Wednesday night. This is the first time fines have been imposed for this offense since the inauguration of Public Safety Director George R. Gerard's campaign to end parking all night and without lights.

Four persons to whom summonses had been issued failed to appear to answer the charges, and the court issued bench warrants for their arrests. On previous occasions offenders have been released with a reprimand, but the judge and Commissioner Gerard announced last week that the probation period is over.

Luigi Saporito of 393 Grand avenue, Brooklyn, was fined $21. Patrolman Kenneth Smith testified that he was driving at fifty-five miles an hour on the left side of Washington avenue.

Anthony Di Fresco of 284 North Belmont avenue was fined $2 costs for reckless driving on complaint of Patrolman Nelson Demgard.

Four persons were fined for traffic offenses in Belleville avenue on complaint of Patrolman Emerson Bush. Eric Sticking of 31 Weston avenue, West Orange, was fined $2; Everett Caproni, 118 King street, Nutley, $6; Alexander Calder, 89 Undercliff road, Montclair $6, and Charles Mockridge of Wharton, $2.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell it, and we feel like a whiff of decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 2% of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whiff of decay, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢. ©1934, C.M. Co.

Card Party Arranged
By Young Republicans

Wilfred Yudin, President.

Names Committee to Make Plans

Wilfred Yudin, president of the Belleville unit, Young Republicans of Essex County, announced yesterday the club would sponsor a card party for members and friends next Thursday night at the Jorammon street Recreation House.

He appointed a recreation committee to arrange for the affair. It will be headed by Daniel A. Donnelly, who will be assisted by Miss Julia Sulis, Leonard Saarloos and Jerry Tilkin.

Organized last month and with a membership that already exceeds forty, the organization will hold all future meetings in the Recreation House, Yudin said.

Former Assemblyman Homer Zink, spoke Thursday night at a meeting of the organization in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sams, 265 Hornblower avenue. At that time Yudin appointed three members to the Associated Republican Clubs' Committee of Belleville. He named Miss Sulis, Arthur Bloemcke and Sams.

Hucksters Arrested

Jerry Delegra of 14 Oliver street, Bloomfield, and William Natiello of 51 Belmont avenue, Belleville, were arrested Wednesday by Police Sergeant John Somoracki and Pat Harry Kirk for peddling without license. The officers charge that hucksters were crying their wares in Glass avenue. Both men were paroled for a hearing Wednesday.

Mayor Williams Aids College Student

His Recommendation Helps Arthur Leadbeater at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Arthur W. Leadbeater, Jr., a student at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, was materially aided in securing a responsible position there by a recommendation of his ability from Mayor William H. Williams, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Leadbeater of 302 Little street, revealed this week.

Arthur, who was a leader in athletics and student activities while at Belleville High School and at Montclair Academy, gave the Mayor's name as a reference to T. Hawley Tapping, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Athletic Managers' Club, who wrote to the Mayor, and received the following reply:

August 28, 1934.
Mr. T. Hawley Tapping,
Ann Arbor, Michigan.
Dear Sir:

May I take the liberty in addressing you in behalf of Arthur Leadbeater, a fine young man of our town?

He is a product of our high school and was graduated from Montclair Academy, holding office of class president, handling class finances. He with his family enjoy fine standing in our community and he is surely trustworthy of any opportunity you might offer him.

I shall be glad to be at the service of Mr. Leadbeater or yourself for further recommendation.
William H. Williams,
Mayor.

The Mayor received the following reply from Mr. Tapping:

May 19, 1934.
Mr. William H. Williams,
Belleville, N. J.
Dear Sir:

I have to thank you very much indeed for your courtesy in writing under the date of August 28 in regard to Mr. Arthur W. Leadbeater.

Arthur is now at Ann Arbor and we have all been very favorably impressed with this young man. He seems to enjoy Ann Arbor, so I predict for him a very successful career here at the university.

Most cordially yours,
T. Hawley Tapping.

Mayor Williams forwarded the letter to Arthur's father with the following comment:

Sept. 21, 1934.
Mr. A. W. Leadbeater,
302 Little St.,

3 Held for Grand Jury On Assault Charges

Anthony Trebucci and his son, Thomas, both of 42 Jeraldo street, and Anthony Domenick of 9 Florence avenue were ordered held for the Grand Jury by Recorder Smith Wednesday. They were paroled in the custody of their attorney, James Giuliano.

John Di Blasio of 36 Jeraldo street charged the men with assault with intent to kill August 5. He testified that the men had struck him over the head with an auto wheel, and that he had not regained consciousness until the next day. Twenty stitches were taken in his scalp, he said. Giuliano did not present the defense side of the case, other than in his cross-examination of Di Blasio.

The court said that there was doubt in his mind as to intent to kill in the alleged assault, but ordered the men held.

Belleville, N. J.

My dear Mr. Leadbeater:

I am enclosing herewith, a letter received from Mr. Tapping, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Athletic Managers Club.

The particular reason I am forwarding you the original copy of this letter is that I felt the second paragraph of the letter would be particularly interesting to you and your family and, as one who enjoyed the pleasure of seeing Arthur play football so well for our local high school, I assure you this particular paragraph is pleasing to me.

Very truly yours,

William H. Williams,
Mayor.

The Mayor received the following letter of appreciation from Mr. Leadbeater:

Honorable Wm. H. Williams,
Mayor, Town of Belleville,
New Jersey

Dear Mr. Williams:

Thank you for your letter of recent date enclosing Mr. Tapping's letter regarding Arthur.

Arthur has always admired you greatly, because of the fact, perhaps, that you have so successfully headed the Department of Finance. Incidentally, this is one of his pet subjects which he intends to take up at the University of Michigan.

Your letter was most gratifying in as much as in this rush and whirl of business and headaches, one has time to sit down and think of some one else's welfare. We too hope Arthur will be successful in his career at Michigan.

Again may I thank you,

Sincerely yours,

A. W. Leadbeater.

RADIO CLUB

Questions and Answers

Mr. J. Z., Belleville avenue: Q. You say your Ambassador set smokes every time you turn it on.

A. Sorry, ol' man, your power transformer is burning and advise replacing it.

F. C., Cortlandt street: Q. You have a Griffith 8 and you receive crackling noise, only at times, then fading out and coming back very loud.

A. Check your antenna for loose connection and have your tubes tested. Hope this fixes you O. K.

Mrs. C. K., Tappan avenue: Q. You say your Majestic 92 fades out and has a loud hum.

A. Your 227 tube is worn out. Replace it with a new type 56. On back of your set you will find a small knob. By turning this one way or the other your hum will disappear.

F. F., Washington avenue: Q. You have a Jackson Bell, tubes light, and a loud hum, but does not "perk."

A. Your condenser is shorted. Would advise getting a service man on the job, but do not let him take set away. Any set can be fixed in your own home.

J. K., Little street: Q. You have a Freed set by which you can hear broadcasts very faintly.

A. Your primary of audio transformer is burnt out. Advise a service man.

J. K.: Q. You have a Philco auto radio, it plays, but has very bad hum.

A. Your vibrator may be loose, or is not making proper contact at the points. Take a contact file and clean.

J. R.: Q. I have a Motorola auto radio. There is a vibration in the speaker, but the set plays O. K. What can be the trouble?

A. You will find a screen in back of silk front. This is loose. By cutting a piece from your old felt hat and placing it around the metal part of set in between the speaker and screen it will be adjusted.

A FEW DON'TS IN RADIO

Don't let a service man take set from house.

Don't buy tubes until you are sure you need them.

Don't let your friend fix your radio.

Don't blame the radio for poor reception, when your tubes are over 1,000 hours in use.

Don't use cheap tubes, they cost more in the end.

Don't expect too much from a cheap set, or a set with less than five tubes.

Don't buy bargains, there is no such thing in radio.

NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the following ordinance, adopted by the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville, New Jersey, on the 24th day of September, 1934, and amended by the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville, New Jersey, on the 24th day of September, 1934, is hereby published according to law.

FLORENCE R. MOREY,
Town Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND AN ORDINANCE ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO THE SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES AND REGULATION THEREOF, IN THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, NEW JERSEY," ADOPTED APRIL 24TH, 1934.

Section 1. That an ordinance entitled, "AN ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO THE SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES AND REGULATION THEREOF, IN THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, NEW JERSEY," adopted April 24th, 1934, be amended as follows:

Section 10. There shall be no new Plenary Retail Consumption licenses or Plenary Retail Distribution licenses hereafter granted in the Town of Belleville, excepting that the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville, may in their discretion grant Plenary Retail Distribution licenses for premises at No. 562 Union Avenue. In the event that any license issued shall not be renewed within one month from the expiration date thereof, then the quota for licenses hereinafter established shall be decreased to the extent of the number of licenses failing to make application for a renewal within one month from their expiration date. In the event any of the licenses shall transfer their business, and the transferee shall apply for a license, no license shall be issued to any such transferee until the date of the application for said license has been a resident of the Town of Belleville.

Section 2. All ordinances, parts of ordinances and resolutions inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed and rescinded.

Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

Passed first reading Sept. 11th, 1934.

Chief Justice Marshall

By DAVID F. ATHERTON

WHEN JAMES M. BECK, a few summers ago, was invited to deliver an address on some phase of American political life before a society of students of government in Paris, Mr. Beck asked the society, whose guest he was to become, to suggest the specific theme on which he should speak.

The society (of which M. Poincare was the president) promptly suggested "The Supreme Court of the United States."

In a word this incident suggests the importance which thoughtful students of world history attach to that instrument of American government which has been called "the most powerful tribunal in the world."

By common consent the greatest leader of the United States Supreme Court since its inception in 1790, was its fourth Chief Justice, John Marshall.

Since September 24th is the anniversary of the birth of John Marshall, that date is a particularly appropriate time in which to turn our thoughts toward the character and service of the great man whose interpretation and application of the Constitution of the United States gained for him the characterization of its "second maker."

John Marshall was born in Germantown (now Midland) Farquhar County, Virginia, in the year 1755. Himself the father of two children, he was the eldest of fifteen born to his parents, all of whom lived to and beyond maturity.

One of the many creditable acts to be attributed to John Adams, the second President of the United States, was his retirement, on January 31, 1801, of John Marshall as the Chief Justice of the then new United States Supreme Court.

The first Chief Justice had been John Jay of New York. He served from 1789 to 1795 and declined to serve longer "because he thought the court would never gain the dignity and influence that would make it a potent factor in national life." Mr. Jay did not foresee the type of leadership that was to be exemplified in John Marshall.

The second Chief Justice was John Rutledge of South Carolina. He served one year, 1795.

The third Chief Justice was Oliver Ellsworth of Connecticut, his term of office being four years—from 1796 to 1800.

John Marshall's term of office was the longest of any incumbency by his head that the Supreme Court has known—from 1801 until his death, which occurred in Philadelphia, July 6, 1835—a period of more than thirty-four years.

Mr. Marshall's rough exterior and blunt manner, often characteristic of men of his adamant integrity, was not only manifest in his carelessness about his dress, but is seen in his reply to a fawning young lawyer before him, who said, "Mr. Chief Justice, you have reached the acme of judicial distinction." Men like Marshall are likely to be impatient at insincerity and flattery, which they readily detect. Said Marshall, "The acme of judicial distinction means the ability to look a lawyer straight in the eye for two hours and not hear a damned word he says."

John Marshall had but slight formal education but his power of analysis and cogency of utterance were extraordinary. When he was appointed Chief Justice he never before had held judicial office, although he had served in the legislative branches of both Virginia and the Nation and as envoy to France and as Secretary of State in President Adams' cabinet.

The fundamental and far-reaching assumption of Chief Justice Marshall was that in the execution of all those provisions, delegated by the states to the federal government, all conflicting state laws must give way. "Let the end be legitimate," he said, "let it be within the scope of the Constitution, and all means which are appropriate, which are plainly adapted to that end, which are not prohibited, but consistent with the letter and spirit of the Constitution, are constitutional." Marshall was a powerful exponent of the doctrine of "implied powers" which had been formulated by Hamilton.

Marshall's inherent honesty was seen in his championship in the Virginia legislature of that provision which required the payment by the government of all debts, owed by the states, to foreign creditors—even to the British.

Again in the famous Dartmouth College case, in which Daniel Webster's "It is, sir, a small college, but there are those who love it!" still rings down "the corridors of time," John Marshall asserted the "inviolability of contracts." Never again would an American commonwealth seek to violate the terms of a contract into which it had entered with a body corporate—that body a commercial enterprise, educational institution or what not.

During the Revolutionary war, John Marshall was a faithful soldier of never failing constancy and of indomitable purpose. Perhaps it was in that struggle for American independence that he first recognized the need for a bond of union between the states which should be indissoluble.

To the promotion and preservation of a strong federal government, Marshall was to give the rest of his life. Students of American history will remember that in the question of whether or not, Virginia would vote to ratify the proposed federal Constitution, appeared to be the decision as to whether or not, that Constitution would be adopted by the necessary nine states or relegated to the scrap heap, Marshall fought valiantly in the Virginia legislature for the ratification of the Constitution—a cause that won. Against this cause was pitted the matchless oratory of the redoubtable Patrick Henry, who for five terms had been the governor of Virginia and to whom in later years, Washington was to offer in vain the positions of Secretary of State and Chief Justice of the United States.

Less easily grasped than are some other forms of service, but fully as essential, the work of John Marshall is a cornerstone, without which, possibly, the American nation would not be standing today.

Berkeley Tells

How He Picks

Girls For Chorus

Beauties In "Dames" Dances

Vibrant With Youth

And Life

By BOB HUSSEY

The same excitement that comes with a proclamation of the war or the news of a market crash takes place throughout the byways of Hollywood when the Busby Berkeley call for beauties is heard.

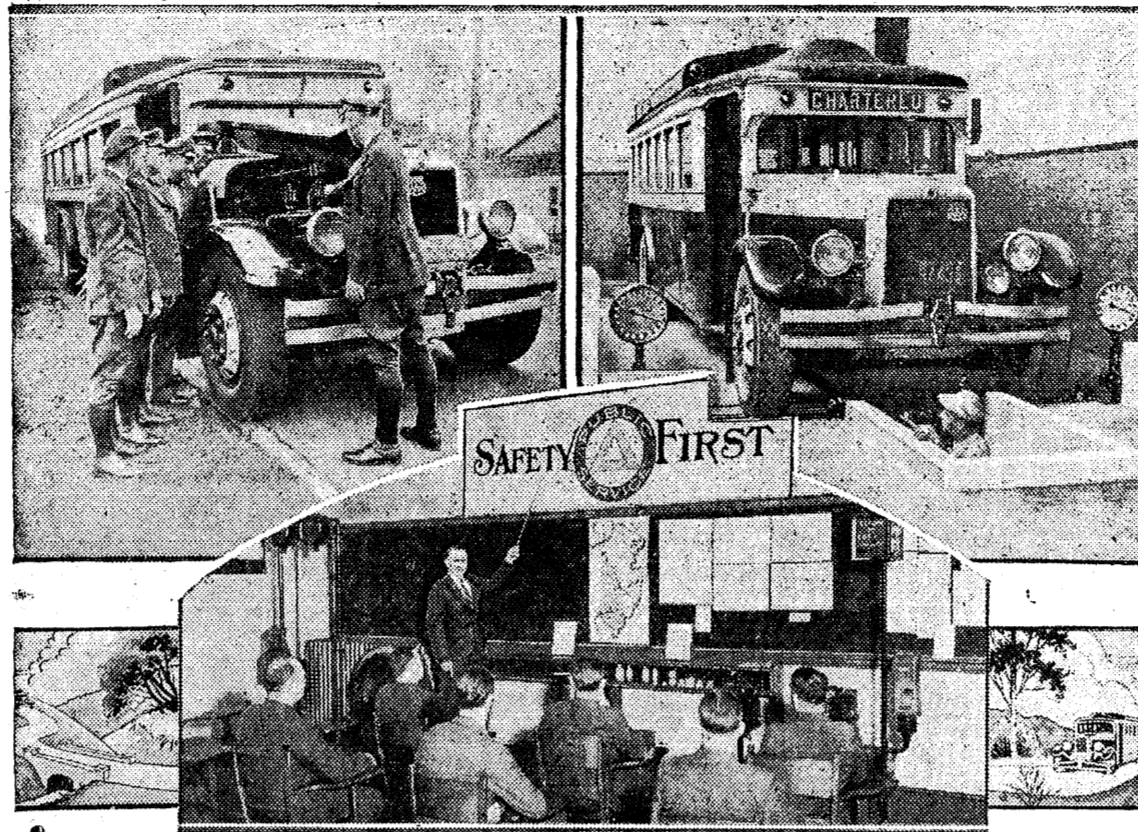

The call is heard all over Hollywood as one blonde beauty passes it on to a brunette cutie and she in turn tells a red-headed miss. It moves on endlessly.

Berkeley "Looks 'em over" from a sound stage transformed into a theater. There is a stage with a series of glaring lights flooding it. Rows upon rows of seats are arranged facing the stage and, except for the first two rows, all the seats in the house are occupied by girls.

Berkeley and two assistants seat themselves at a table with long lists of names before them.

Assemble Girls In Groups
The two assistants assemble the first group of girls on the stage. The beauties, about fifty in number, are arranged in a semi-circle. Names and telephone numbers are recorded quickly and each girl is assigned a number. The strong lights are turned on and Berkeley mounts the stage. "Face me!" he exclaims as he walks along the line of applicants. Berkeley looks squarely in the face of each girl, and although each smiles her prettiest at his approach, no sign of recognition is evident in his glance. At the end of the line he wheels and walks to the center of the circle.

Largest Chartered Bus Company in United States Operates 7,000,000 Miles in Seven Years Without Serious Accident

Upper Left—Group of Drivers Being Given Instruction on the Road. Upper Right—Adjusting Brakes on a Brake Testing Machine. Center—Bus Drivers Receiving Instruction in the Company's Schools.

CAREFUL selection and training of drivers and rigid systematic inspection of equipment are responsible for the outstanding safety record which the chartered bus department of Public Service Coordinated Transport has achieved during the past seven years. The company's records show that in more than 7,000,000 miles of operation in this period not a single accident of any kind has ever been caused by the failure of mechanical equipment. Moreover, no occupant of a Public Service chartered or special bus has ever lost his life or been seriously injured since the company's chartered bus department was organized in 1927.

The company's drivers of special and chartered buses are trained in its school of instruction. After a thorough physical examination, each candidate is instructed in the principles of safety, in the rules of the road, and in the proper operation of mechanical equipment. This training in safety is continued from time to time after the men graduate from the school. The drivers selected for chartered and special bus service are the pick of Transport's large organization.

Every effort is made to keep Public Service vehicles in a satisfactory and safe operating condition. Before any bus can be taken from the garage it must first be inspected by the station master and mechanical foreman who personally approves its mechanical fitness. In addition, a complete periodic inspection is made of every bus after 1500 miles of operation. When a driver leaves his bus in the garage at night he must report any mechanical defect, however slight. This bus is not allowed to be taken from the garage until the reported defect has been repaired. Public Service Coordinated Transport is one of the first companies in the United States to enter the chartered bus service and now operates more chartered buses than any organization in the United States, if not in the world.

Tree Marking Plan

Educational Move

In County Parks

Tags Placed On Trees To Teach Public Names Of Varieties

Although curtailed measurably in the speed with which the job might be done, the Essex County Park Commission has started work on an educational plan by which it hopes for a fuller understanding on the part of the public as to what they own in the county parks.

Trees, admittedly, are the greatest media to landscape beauty, public or private, and therefore timber is a prime requisite for park perfection.

Silver Maple—Acer desycarpum; Sakhalin Corktree—Phellodendron; Sachalinensis—Rue family of Japan and China; Red Oak—Quercus rubra.

Take a stroll south by west along the footpath bordering the main drive in Orange Park, beginning at Central avenue, observe the trees and the little metal signs on them, beyond reach but within ken. Do this, and you will have a closer understanding, not only of those trees, but also of the educational plan which the Park Commission seeks to develop.

Ultimately the Park Commission hopes to have a full complement of trees duly tagged, and to supply a central source of information from which "tree walks" might be organized for the purpose of studying these bulwarks of nature.

The signs themselves are unusual, being developed especially for the occasion by James C. Thomson, working in a Branch Brook Park greenhouse, under the general supervision of Carl P. Witte, horticulturist of the system.

The labels are processed in a manner which enables them to withstand the varying attacks of weather for a considerable length of time. The material used is an alloy of lead and tin, called Hoyt metal. It is 16 gauge and purchased in sheets, from which the plates are cut in the greenhouse to

FOOD FACTS

Did You Know That:

- A spinach-meat loaf is the latest suggestion of a meat packing plant.
- A dried milk fish food has been introduced for home aquariums.
- Quick-freezing method of processing provides fresh fruits for year-round use in ice cream.
- From apricot pits Great Britain manufactures face powder; Germany, ingredients for high explosives; and an Australian firm, confectionery.

These "food facts" are compiled by the Division of Consumer Information, New Jersey State Department of Agriculture.

sizes approximately one and a half to three and a half inches. Letters are stamped into the sheets through use of special dies, the work being done in an especially devised guide, comprising blocks of wood marked for proper spacing.

After being stamped, the labels are given a coat of white paint, with particular emphasis being placed on getting the paint in the depressed letters. The surplus surface paint is then wiped off and when dry gets a coating of black printer's ink.

Before being placed on the tree for which it is made, each label is backed by a thin sheet of wood.

Similar labels, attached to galvanized standards, are used in seasonal marking of distinctive floral gardens.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. Tornadoes Set For Clifton Wessingtons Game Scheduled For Next Thursday At East Orange

The East Orange Tornadoes' backfield of former college star gridders are expected to reach the peak of their scoring powers next Thursday night, October 4, against the Wessington A. C. of Clifton, N. J. The game will be played under electric lights at Ashland Stadium, East Orange, and will be the second meeting between two leading rivals for the New Jersey professional football championship.

Wessington registered a 6 to 0 victory over East Orange in a game played several weeks ago at Clifton during a steady downpour of rain which hindered the Tornado ball carriers considerably. Coach MacBaker predicts a victory for the home team in the rivals' second meeting.

Jack Grossman, former Rutgers University star, and Nate Grossman, younger brother who played with N. Y. U., will be in the Tornado backfield along with Jerome Kriz of Iowa, released by the Brooklyn National League club to East Orange; Al Lane, triple-threat back; Hersch Martin, Bill Alexander, Red Dubinsky of C. C. N. Y., and Wheeler Woolsey of Colgate University.

The line will have Harry Schneider of N. Y. U., Pete Levine of Columbia, Winnie Anderson of Colgate, Jitty Wisniewski of Upsala, Jack McDann of Lafayette, Bill Haperin of C. C. N. Y., and Hank Obst of Syracuse.

The Wessington backfield is built around Larry Schlumms, whose forward pass scored against the Tornadoes in the team's first meeting, Dave Myers, colored back of N. Y. U. and Link Fogart.

WITH THE VARSITY CLUB

Roy Johanneson again encountered tough luck and was forced to leave the game in the third period, suffering from a dislocated shoulder.

Charley Sherwood contributed a beautiful play in the fourth period when he blocked the Bayonne fullback on a punt play and then stepped over to spill the receiver.

Sparky Jones went to town several times with long and heady runs emanating from triple and double reverses.

Tiny Kramer, Nutley's heaviest player, messed many a Pioneer player in Tiny's role as a running guard.

Archie Scotland baffled many of his critics by hitting the line for long gains and by unreeling his famous spinner which made him famous in 1921 and 1922.

Chief Luzzi returned to the Maroons' fold and proved a capable substitute for the unmatchable Ted Kellett.

Dix Van Winkle has the edge on many of the boys as he assists Coach Stanford during the week and Thursday nights performs with the Perih Amboy Clovers, who have faced such easy marks as the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Coach Stanford wanted another line reserve in the final half, so Hugh Eagleson came out of retirement to step into the breach.

Tony (Blackie) San Giacomo lived up to expectations by his pretty ball-toting. If he had been seen by the George Washington coach, a recall to Washington would have been demanded, no doubt.

More than one spectator commented that Alex Baykowski's spectacular touchdown run in the third period was well worth the price of admission. Baykowski has the knack and brains to see his holes and then cut away from the eager opposing tackles. So far he has scored five of the Maroons' seven touchdowns. Scotty and Sparky made the others.

Sunday the Plainfield Saracens, another collection of tough hombres, whose past record assures fans of a real contest.

Saracens To Play The Varsity Club Visiting Team Scheduled Sunday Is Pick Of Union County

Having maintained their undefeated record against the formidable Bayonne Pioneers last week, the fast-moving Nutley Varsity Club football players face another imposing foe Sunday afternoon at Feuerbach Park, Washington Avenue, at 3 o'clock when they tangle with the Plainfield Saracens.

The Saracens are the pick of Union County gridders and last year showed in these parts against the Irvington Camptowners and the Irvington Cardinals. They were nosed out in the last few minutes of play by the Camptown outfit and battled the Cardinals to a scoreless deadlock. The Plainfielders have a fast and brainy outfit and are looking with anxious eyes at the local club's spotless record, working for an upset which will earn them further distinction.

Meanwhile, Coach George Stanford of the Maroon players sent his men through two vigorous drills at Feuerbach Park Tuesday and last evenings. After the way his men came from behind to trim the Pioneers, Coach Stanford is confident that his charges will make the Saracens' hit the dust.

The Nutley mentor is hoping to have another first-class lineman in reserve for Sunday's tilt. Arvid Michelson, originally signed, is working evenings and is thus unavailable, and efforts are being made to round up George Weatherill or a similarly capable former Maroon star. Julio (Chief) Luzzi has been signed as an additional wingman. Leo Machinoski is still kept to the sidelines with a bad wrist, while Roy Johanneson's dislocated shoulder may keep him inactive for a time. However, Johnny Bridges will go to the post in Roy's place and the latter is an A-1 back. The remainder of the starting cast will be the same as that which faced Bayonne, and indications are that a banner crowd will be on hand for the tilt with the vaunted Saracens.

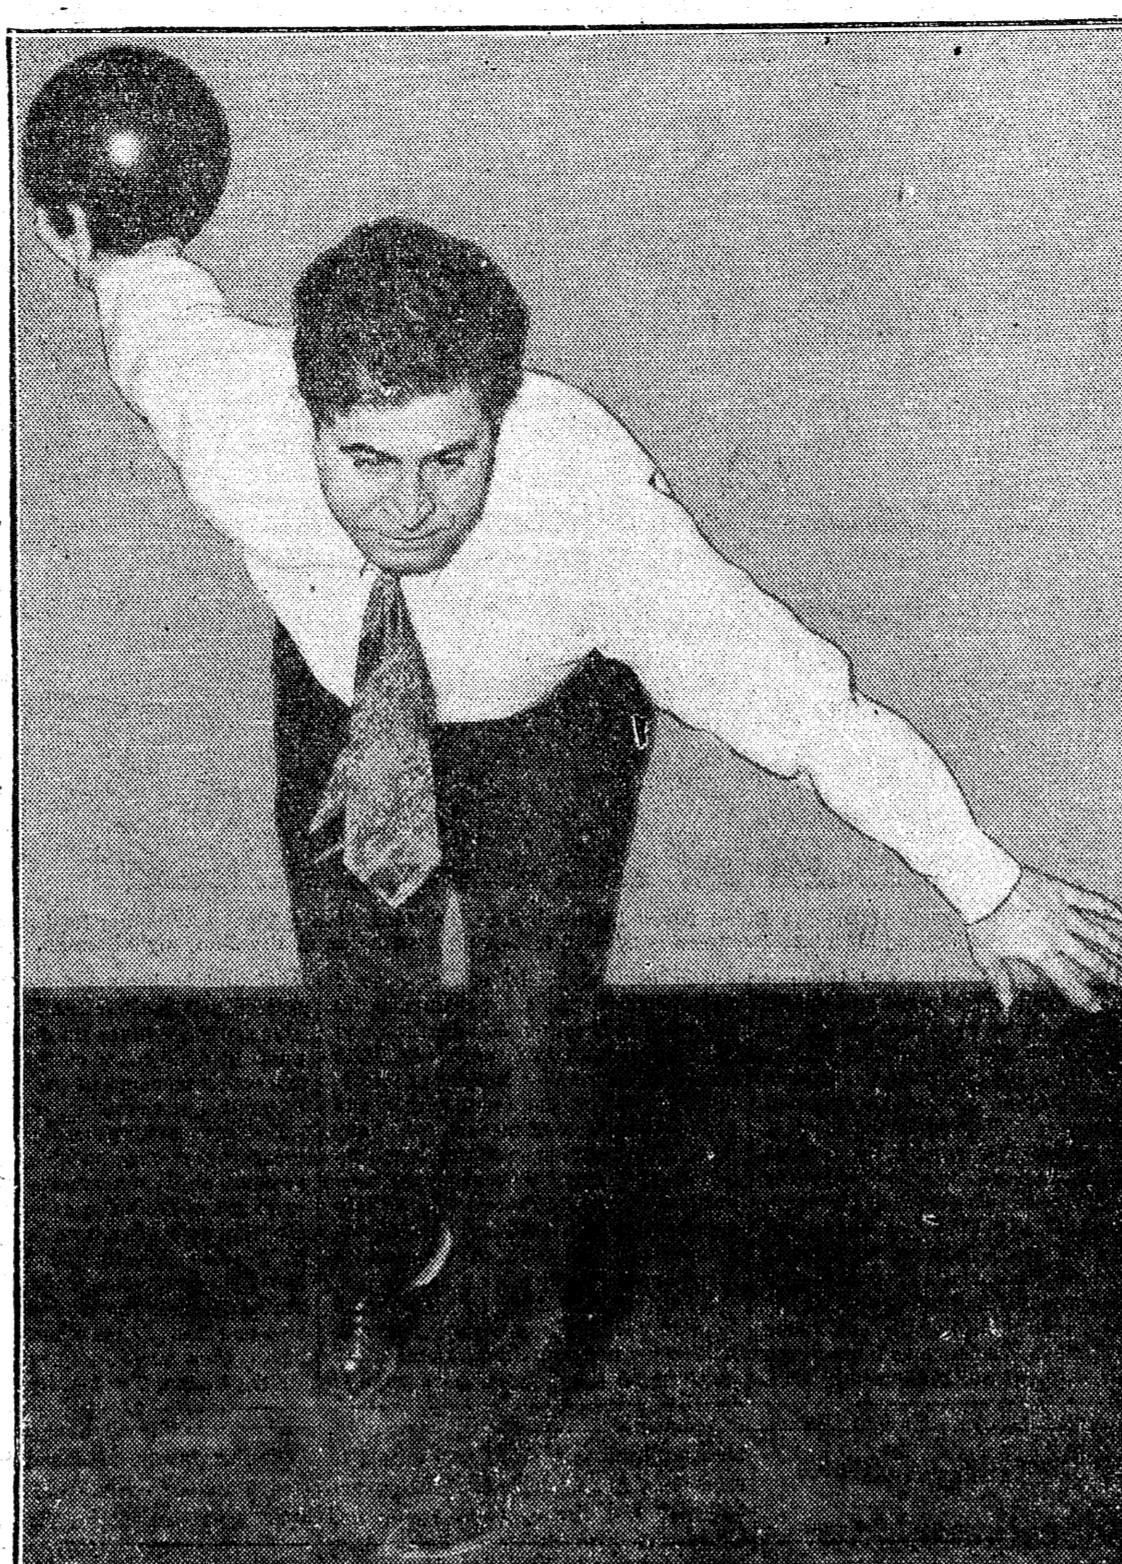

Varipapa "Gunning" For 28th Perfect Score, Saturday Opponents In Matches At North Newark Alleys, Ready

Andy Varipapa, nationally famous bowler, will be shooting for the twenty-eighth perfect game of his career, Saturday night, as he makes his first New Jersey appearance at Ferrara's North Newark alleys in special exhibition matches. He just missed the coveted 300 mark a few days ago while rolling in New York.

His individual match opponents, all regular bowlers at the North Newark alleys, Peter Schneeman, Al Cubellis, Ernie Ruff, Bill Byrnes, Harty Ventura and Herman Kappeler, promise to extend Varipapa to the limit in their efforts to attain the glory of defeating him. "Doc" Haycock, manager of the alleys and the two leading female pinners, Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Kuntz, are also primed for their mixed doubles match, in which Varipapa will also compete.

Varsity Club Continues To Pile Up Victories By Disposing Of Bayonne Pioneers, 20-7 Coach Stanford's Boys Had To Come From Behind In The Third Period To Win The Honors

Playing before a good-sized crowd of enthusiastic rooters at Feuerbach Park, last Sunday afternoon, the Nutley Varsity Club continued along its winning way by subduing a stubborn Bayonne Pioneer foe by a margin of 20-7. It was the first defeat in two seasons for the visitors, who last year held the Hudson County and Bayonne city pro grid title.

The Maroons' victory was not recorded without a real struggle, and Coach Stanford's boys had to come from behind in the third period to win the honors. And then it was the excellent running and hole-picking of the cool Alex Baykowski which thrust Nutley from behind to take a commanding lead on the strength of the gallant "Bake's" two touchdowns.

The Bayonne club showed its merit early in the first session. With a 35-yard run by Captain Sparky Jones studding the advance, Nutley advanced to the 5-yard line soon after the opening kick-off. Bayonne then held three times and on the fourth down, Baykowski essayed a forward to Ted Kellett. The pass was caught but nullified because the Nutley end was beyond the end zone.

Again at the end of the first canto the Nutley warriors carried the ball to the 5-yard line. And again at the start of the second period Bayonne repulsed four tries at their rugged forward wall. Midway in the session the losers started their touchdown march. Clever off-tackle play by Swift and Ferrara advanced the ball repeatedly, and then a Nutley penalty plus a 25-yard aerial from Captain Loguidice to Peterson put the ball near the goal line, Seft diving over for the score. Sealano made a surprise center rush to account for the seventh Bayonne point.

Coach Stanford's laddies started to go to town early in the third period. The first touchdown was made on three well-executed plays starting from the locals' 44-yard strip. Blackie San Giacomo reeled off six yards on a reverse, Sparky Jones added 13 more on a triple reverse and then the great Baykowski swung into action. Picking a small hole between the Bayonne left tackle and guard, Alex eluded several tacklers and then cut speedily to the open, outdistancing all pursuers to score the six-pointer. His perfect placement evened the count at 7-7 while the Nutley fans went wild.

The second touchdown was soon forthcoming. After Clem Van Horn's long kick-off, Bayonne tried futilely to buck the Nutley line and on the fourth down attempted a kick. The pass from center was poor, and Ferrara was downed before he could get the kick away. On the next play Baykowski skipped over the goal line and then again booted a placement to make the score 14-7.

As the tired and disillusioned Oil City gridders played desperately for the breaks in the fourth period, the Nutley machine functioned once more on a touchdown mark. This time it was the elusive Sparky Jones, flanked by Tony San Giacomo and the veteran Archie Scotland who ripped off the gains, Jones finally shooting off tackle for the score. Van Horn's attempt at placement was made impossible because of a poor pass from center, leaving the count at 20-7.

The line-up:

Boy Scout Notes

John Denike, district scout commissioner, attended the meeting of B. S. A. Troop 88, at Christ Episcopal Church parish house on Tuesday evening. He spoke on the organizing of the first class scouts of each troop in this district into a service corps; which upon occasion, could be called upon to render any civic duty. These first class scouts must be certified examiners, or must signify their intention of becoming such. There are four such first class scouts in Troop 88, they are George Bright, Bert Bush, Joseph Caskey and Harvey W. Mumford Jr. Alfred Hemris was welcomed as a new member at Tuesday's meeting.

Alfie Letourner, who last year copped the motor paced diadem at the Nutley Velodrome, repeated Wednesday night when he placed fourth in a fifty-miler won by Franz Deulberg with Charley Jaeger second, Jerry Debaets came in fourth while Letourner's nearest competitor, Franco Georgetti, trailed three laps back. Georgetti had a mathematical chance of breaking even with Alfie if the Italian could have placed first and Letourner been shut out of point scoring.

Jaeger toppled from his wheel with terrific force and slid down the track like a bullet midway in the race. Game to the core, the Flemington youth, who has had his share of tough breaks in the choice of pace-makers this year was revived and hopped on his wheel again to gain back a lap he had lost. With the breaks dead against him all season Charley managed to pull in 43 points. Deulberg had 47; Debaets, 51; Georgetti, 51 and Letourner, 57.

Letourner, in true championship style, played his cards well to place in the last race. Alfie, methodically, turned aside all opposition and probably could have stepped on the gas a little harder had he been pressed.

Norman Hill, who finished second in the finals of the Australian Pursuit race, did the unusual in his heat which he won. Norm's rear tire squeegied flat a lap and one-half from home but the California lad kept going at top notch speed to win, the rim of his wheel bumpety-bumping home. George Dempsey copped this race.

Bob Lipsett, who is to be crowned amateur champ Sunday, is apparently in for a grand razzing if the sentiment of fans at recent meets can be taken as a criterion. Bob, who long ago discovered what elbows are for in the cycling game, is just beginning to feel the welts of Referee Frank Kramer's rule switch. Frank took out his little black book—at least it looked like it—as he ran down the track to disqualify Lipsett from third place in the miss and out, amateur. That little black book means a fine or suspension, Lipsett jostled the field and caused a bad spill in the last lap, which left only four of the usual six riders to answer the bell lap call. If sentiment of fans means anything, Lipsett got off easy. Many felt at least a $50 fine would have been the proper medicine for a rider who has elbowed and pushed himself in great shape all summer long with nary a dissenting vote—except from the fans.

Fred Spencer took a flying leap two miles from home and won the ninth and tenth sprints in the ten-mile point race, professional, to tie Cecil Walker, who annexed the fourth, fifth and sixth sprints. Cecil's wins gave him six points each time while Freddie grabbed himself six points in the ninth and twelve in the last sprint. Ewald Wissel, who is the 'drome's popular rider, took a flyer early and had the stands in an uproar as he flew along, but a flat tire called a halt to what had all the ear marks of one of Ewald's lap gaining sprints.

Bill Honeman Honored
'Twas a perfect day for Smiling Bill Honeman Sunday.

Riding in excellent form the Newark lad won three times in as many heats in an alternate match race against Cecil Walker, Fred Spencer and Bill Grimm, to pile up thirty points, as against 18 for Walker, 13 for Spencer and 11 for Grimm.

Then, after Bill had done this neat trick, he was crowned 1934 sprint King, having successfully—in years past—travelled through the amateur ranks to a starring professional in Europe. Over here last year Bill didn't get much of a chance to display his wares. But, this year? Well, that's another story.

How Bill won Sunday is not the story of the moment. How he flustered when presents galore were given to him by friends and how he asked another great champ—Frank L. Kramer—to ride his bike "just once" around the track is the kernel within the shell.

Frank L. Rides
As happy as a schoolboy was the idol of the 'drome when Frank rolled up his right trouser's leg and pedaled off. Frank may have heard cheers in the days of Gouillet, Grenda, Spears, et al., but the sincere applause that greeted the former champ Sunday must have made the master wheel strategist feel that time—even the short time since Steve was champ—has not dimmed in the minds of the fans the memory of the greatest cyclist of them all.

Steve's ride came as a climax to Bill's tour about the saucer. A friend had presented Bill a crown, made of flowers. This crown Frank also wore. Bill received from friends and his old pal bike riders a diamond ring, a gold watch, a silver cup, a jersey presented by George Dempsey, champion last year and this year's all around champion and flowers. One bouquet, the fragrance of which was wafted up into the stands, contained red roses. It was from Bill's mother. And what a hand that little lady and her son received when Bill Sullivan appropriately announced the gift to her son. Honeman climbed the track, grasped his mother by the hand and then gave her a kiss.

Given Party By Bay Views
With the American Flag draped about his shoulders Bill made a circuit of the saucer. So far as events at the track went Bill's little party was over. But Sunday night the festivities continued when the Bay View Wheelmen entertained for their pal and former co-rider at the club house in Newark. It was a red letter day for Smilin' Bill and for Uncle Sam—for Bill had brought back to these shores the first sprint championship since 1929.

Franz Deulberg took the 100 kilometre race with Alf Letourner second. Gerard Debaets was handed third and Charley Jaeger, fourth, both of whom were six laps back. Franco Georgetti was ten laps in the rear. Letourner took Georgetti's measure at 45 miles and Deulberg and the Frenchman soon had a lap on the field. Deulberg without any opposition coasted into first place. The race was listless throughout with the exception of the brush between Letourner and Georgetti, which, however, was only for a moment.

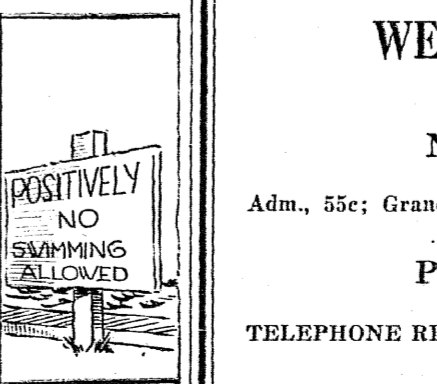

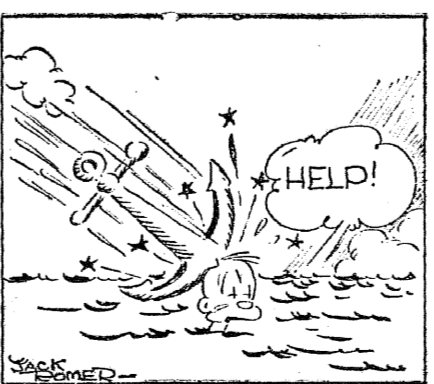

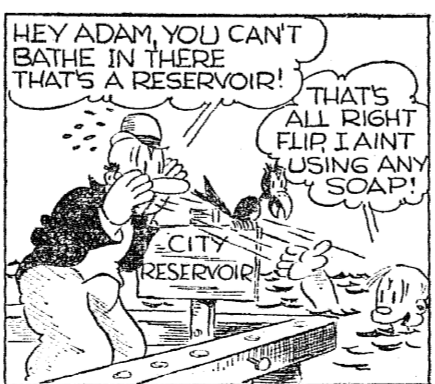

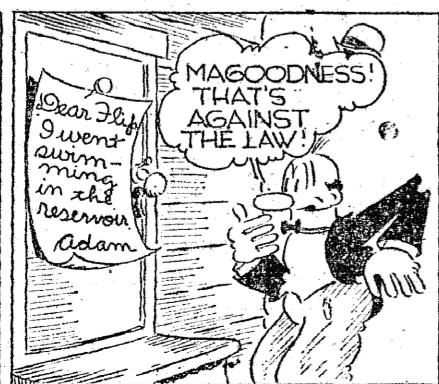

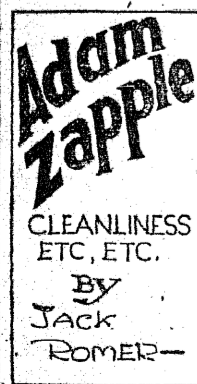

Alfie's best pal is a little boy who races up to greet the "champ" after each race. Usually the lad hands Letourner a bottle of soda. Alf, not much larger than his pal, wraps his arms around the boy and the pair tussle off together.

The bleacher fans Sunday gave Letourner a greeting such as has seldom been meted out to him in that section. Alf has won over these fans by his pluck and ability "to take it." Alf always let the bleacherites josh him and good naturedly laughed with them. Sometimes the boos dug deep into the heart of the little fellow but today their cheers thrill the Frenchman who battled against odds ever since he was a boy to reach the pinnacle of success. Left an orphan during the war Letourner has surmounted all obstacles to win. Hats off to Alfie!

Miss And Out?
The riders in the Miss and Out, Class A, professional, just wouldn't drop out and the final dash for the tape saw about ten men on the track when there should have been six. Norm Hill won with Walker, second; Dempsey, third; James Corcoran, fourth; Joe De Vito, fifth and Dave Lands, sixth.

The impossible happened, but it didn't mean a thing. For the first time this year Kramer noted Lipsett, who will be crowned amateur sprint king Sunday, has arms. Kramer called Lipsett out of second place for foul riding. He also called another rough and tumble, Shipman, out of first place for not holding the pole, all of which gave Martin Journey first place. Oscar Sellinger failed to show up as the fourth contestant.

To Honor Letourner At 'Drome Sunday

Will Crown Frenchman As Leader Of Motor
Paced Riders

It will be Coronation Day at the Nutley Velodrome bicycle saucer Sunday afternoon and a gala time is planned. Alfred Letourner of France will be crowned the motor-paced champion of the United States, a title he has now won three years in a row. The popular and "cocky" little Frenchman will be presented with a silver cup emblematic of the title and then draped in an American flag will make a circuit of the track. Letourner's friends plan many gifts for the little Frenchman and it promises to be a great afternoon at the Nutley track. Letourner will meet Franco Georgetti in a ten mile motor-paced match race the best two in three heats.

George Dempsey who captured the all-around champion of America, will be crowned the all-around title holder. Last year Dempsey won the sprint championship but this season Bill Honeman beat him out for the sprint title. Dempsey will also be honored and make a tour of honor.

The third crowning will be for Bob Lipsett, the American amateur sprint champion. Lipsett born in Ireland won the sprint championship in the amateur field only after a hard battle with all the leading amateurs. Lipsett, a member of the Century Road Club Association, will be presented with a gold medal emblematic of the title and then parade around the saucer.

The fourth feature for Sunday afternoon will be the first appearance of the season of Reggie McNamara, the "Iron Man" looked upon as the greatest six-day bicycle rider the world has ever known. McNamara has been on the coast all summer making a moving picture with Joe E. Brown styled "Six-Day Bike Rider." McNamara is certain of a big reception from his many friends. The races Sunday afternoon will start at 3 o'clock.

Town Commission To Attend Legion Bowling Opener

Twelve Teams Set For The Starting Bell, Monday
At Ferrara's

The Belleville American Legion Bowling League will open its sixth successive campaign, Monday night, at Ferrara's North Newark alleys, with twelve squads in pursuit of that elusive mark of perfection, a 300 score.

Five new teams will be included in the loop's make-up for the coming season. Frank's Diner, Also Club, Broadway P. C., Neary Association, and the Belleville Animal Hospital comprise the quintet. They replace the Woodhouse Association, Mayer Association, Moose, NRA Club and the Democratic Club of last year's loop.

Last season's championship Oldham Association, Johnny Lawlor's El Club, the Knight of Columbus, the Gebhard Association, the W. H. Williams Association, the Waters Association, and the Belleville B. C. are listed among the old stand-bys to be back in harness.

"Larry" Keenan, newly elected president of the circuit to succeed the retiring Joe Williams, will be in charge of the opening night activities.

Mayor Williams and the entire board of commissioners have been invited to attend and officially open the season by rolling down the first balls.

The strongest of last year's squads are back, and rumor has it that the new clubs will present powerful line-ups. This situation probably means that the league is getting ready to enjoy its most successful and best bowled season yet.

Emeralds Wins Last Baseball Game

Hillside North End Club
Defeated By Score
Of 9-4

The Emerald A. C. brought its baseball season to a close Sunday by trimming the Hillside North End club, 9-4, at Day-Elder Field, Hillside. The triumph was the Emeralds' twenty-second against nine defeats. Walt Cody, ace of the Emerald pitching staff, pitched the entire game and struck out eighteen batters, bringing his season total of strike-out victims to exactly one hundred. This victory was also his eighth straight triumph.

The Emerald hitting attack was also furnished by Cody who banged out two doubles, a triple and a single to drive in four runs. Art Costello and Leo O'Reilly also featured at bat with two hits, the former knocking in three runs with a double with the bases loaded. Finnegan, Emerald first sacker, had but one put out and the three Emerald outfielders had no put outs.

Bell-boy Gridders Ready For Ramsey

Veteran Squad Looks To Successful Start Of Its Season

Three weeks of intensive drill, more or less handicapped by the precocity of the Weather Man, culminated this afternoon in the final moulding of the Belleville High grid eleven which will open its nine game schedule by battling Ramsey, tomorrow afternoon, at the Clearman Field gridiron.

Head Coach Dave "Red" Buchanan, and his assistant A. K. McBride, though by no means satisfied that they are directing an embryo state championship squad, are permissibly proud of their handiwork of the past few weeks. The team that goes on that field tomorrow afternoon and the succeeding Saturdays for the next couple of months should make all of its opponents hustle.

The definite naming of the eleven starting players for the opening tussle is a difficult job at best.

Mark Wertz, though inactive recently due to a leg injury, is expected to be at his familiar post of signal-barker, and flanked by Howie Gorman and the colored flash, Jim Richardson, at the halves. Both Gorman and Richardson are speed merchants and should break away early and often. The veteran, Bill Tully, at full-back rounds out the backfield. Tully's versatility, which includes punting, forward passing and plenty of ground-gaining, is well known to local fans.

The diminutive captain, Frank Stellatella and his husky pal, Tony Zuzzio, are candidates for starting as-

The announcement that Lipsett would be given the sprint crown was met with evident displeasure on the part of the fans, who have wondered and wondered.

Bill Zergiebel took the three-sevenths mile, handicap, amateur, with Fred Kobetetsch, second, Bob Kramer of Nutley, third; Salvatore De Gennaro, fourth and Shipman, fifth.

Binetti Wins
The three-sevenths mile, handicap, professional, went to Caesar Binetti, with Fred Kugler, second; Dempsey third; Bob Silver, fourth; Leroy Garrison, fifth and Guy Ricci, sixth.

Bobby Walthour, whose friends number legion in the stands, copped the two-mile, class B, professional. Marcel Boogman was second; Mike De Filippi, third; Harold Nauwens, fourth and Bob Silver, fifth.

Shipman crossed the tape first in signments at guard. Jim Caruso, at center, is also sure of his job. Art Jocker and Carl Hummel, tackles, and Jim Tully and Johnnie McDonald, ends, complete the probable starting line.

Elmer "Red" VanDermark, Emmet Ryder and Walt Smith are other possible starters in the backfield, while Jerry Longo and Horace Gauspelt may be line selections. The latter boy, a big sophomore, is an end who hits the scale close to the 180 mark and has shown lots of class in practice drills.

The game, which is the first for both schools, will start at 2:30.

The two-mile, open, amateur, with Peter Del Vecchio, second; Lipsett, third; Fred Graef, fourth and Buster Logan, fifth.

The races were called off at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and when the sun came out at noon it was decided to run the card. Over 2,000 telephone calls were made inquiring as to the possibility of the meet. Manager Harry Mendel left a good chicken dinner unfinished to hustle Nutley way and when the gates were thrown open some of the officials were still to be heard from.

"Blackie" was trying out an A No. 1 cigar Sunday, but it didn't work. "Blackie" who is one of Manager Mendel's assistants lighted the "stogie," took a couple of puffs and threw it away. We can't exactly blame him for the rope was almost as big as himself.

Bowling Notes

Frank Grippe and Mrs. Olive Kuntz teamed up to down Mrs. Katherine Knight and Ernest Ruff in a mixed doubles match, Saturday night, at Ferrara's.

Grippe was in wonderful form, averaging 236 for the series, with a peak game of 277. Mrs. Kuntz, too, was hitting 'em right, shooting a high game of 234 and averaging 184. Ruff's best game was a 241, while Mrs. Knight was steady with a 170 average.

Johnny Rodenbeck of the new Frank's Diner team in the Belleville American Legion Bowling League clipped nine strikes in a row, Saturday, for a fine 268 tally.

Will Klemz finally came to life in the "pot games," Saturday, and made

Johnnie Mallack and the rest of the boys "say uncle."

The Bakers' League opened its 1934 campaign with eight teams Wednesday night, and look forward to a better season than last year's.

Intertown Rod And Gun Club To Hold Annual Outing

Shooting, Fishing, Other Outdoor Sports On Program

The annual outing of the Intertown Rod and Gun Club will be held, Sunday, October 7, at the club's farm in Stockholm, New Jersey.

The organization extends an invitation to anyone interested in any form of shooting, fishing or out-of-door sport to join with it in having a good time.

The committee in charge has arranged for all kinds of games and all forms of shooting, such as clay birds, short and long range high powered .22 caliber rifle shooting.

The club cook, "Barnacle Bill" Parmer has arranged his usual appetizing assortment of food and drink.

Those desiring any information should get in touch with any member of the club or Bill Gedney at the Gedney Sports Shop, 326 Washington avenue.

"Rastlers" Appear At Garden Again

Pachyderms Strut And Jig
And Fume In The
"Charmed" Square

Referee Does A Figure 8

The Garden Pachyderms (rastlers to youse guys) strutted their stuff before a house of pop-eyed onlookers Tuesday night in the Laurel Garden, Springfield avenue, Newark. They twisted and squirmed and tied themselves in all the knots a good sailor ever knew—even one of the referees wiggled himself into a figure eight around the ropes which serve as an excuse for keeping the lads of 200 pounds or more within the charmed square—ah, that's a word for the book for these wrestling bouts—"charmed square" Um?

When we say the lads are kept within the ropes, that is only our way of starting an argument. The best of them bounce on their heads, arms or what have you on various and sundry occasions on the floor which, according to an eagle eye from the rear row—where the newspaper passes seat you—is about four feet lower than the "charmed" square. Next week newspaper row will probably be at Broad and Market streets.

Charmed, Indeed
The square must by charmed, quoth the raven, for it seemed impossible some of those birds could rise to walk off after the bouncing of skulls on a thin canvass over some boards. In fact one of the bad boys, who has strutted in and out of many rings, Floyd Marshall, the Arizona Chrysler Building, forgot to bring along his rabbit's foot, or something. Marshall started off great—with the boos of the assemblage ringing in his ears, presumably from past performances. His opponent Sandor Szabo, the Hungarian idol, was the candy kid of the moment. Sandor took some mean whacks from the boy from the plains where women are women and the rest of the populace used to be cow-punchers, then turned in his tracks to smack Floyd with all he had, including a couple of slams fashioned from head locks that flattened Marshall like the new asphalt the steam roller has just patted down. The bout was the last one scheduled for best two out of three tumbles, but the Arizona lad was unable to go on for the second mix-up, which wasn't so surprising considering the fact that he was out for keeps after the first fall. Smelling salts, applied by a doctor, only helped Floyd to turn over from his back to his side, incidentally making a few passes at the medico as he did so. The salts next moved him on his tummy. Like a sack of meal he was toted to the dressing room on the back of a handler.

Rudy Grimaces
For forty-five minutes Rudy Dusek tried all the grimaces, kicks, punches and so on ad infinitum on Scotty Mac Dougal, of Canada, who has been burping around Boston and other cities for these last odd fifteen years. Scotty had Rudy reeling around like the old carousel in Hillside Park as the gong called this bout off. It was declared a draw, but if we had more than one shirt we would have bet it on Scotty, who received the biggest hand ever given a wrestler in the Garden. Scotty took a lot of punishment from Rudy until Hoot Mon! he ups and hands the grimacer the same kind of medicine with Rudy about ready to hear the little birdies chirp. Scotty came into the ring barefooted and with a bandaged right hand. Rudy tried to remove the bandage several times, stepped on Scotty's tootsies when the occasion presented itself and turned Mac Dougal's toes in all directions but the right one—from the standpoint of what is practical to a chiroprapist.

Scotty measured Rudy methodically and, after taking some kidney punches from the Omaha screech owl, retaliated with the same kind of punishment to Rudy's body.

Had Enough
Rudy didn't like that, apparently, for he wanted to shake hands with Scotty and waved his arms that all was square. It was, so far as Scotty was concerned, until Rudy started all over again and then Scotty came back and almost had Rudy's head swimming in recollection of prairie dogs

Opening Pin Matches
Trio Now Leading In The Church Bowling
League

Grace Baptist, Fewsmith Men's Club, and the Watssessing M. C. all came through with wins, last week, in the opening matches of the Belleville Church Bowling League going into a triple tie for the league lead. The Wesley Men's Club, Bethany Lutheran, Bethany Lutheran and Forest Hill were the victims, respectively. Christ Episcopal took two of its three tilts with Montgomery in the remaining match.

Hochstuhl of the Bethany Lutheran outfit compiled a 234 game in the second for his team for high individual scoring honors. The Fewsmith Men's Club came in for the lion's share of the team honors, bagging scores of 911, 979 and 951 for a fine evening's work.

In addition to Hochstuhl, who hit 210 in addition to his peak mark, Russ Stout of the Episcopalians, and Ewan, of the Fewsmith M. C. bowled best.

The standing and scores:

JUDGE BY COMPARISON

The object of this folder is to acquaint you with all the facts regarding Karlin's two great, modern, best equipped, best stocked drug stores.

You should patronize these two real drug stores for many reasons which are as follows:

1—We carry a complete line of nationally advertised quality products.

2—Our OPEN Prescription Department displays the sanitary conditions under which your prescriptions are filled with highest quality pharmaceuticals by long experienced registered pharmacists.

3—Courteous, friendly and sincere service.

4—Free, prompt delivery at all hours.

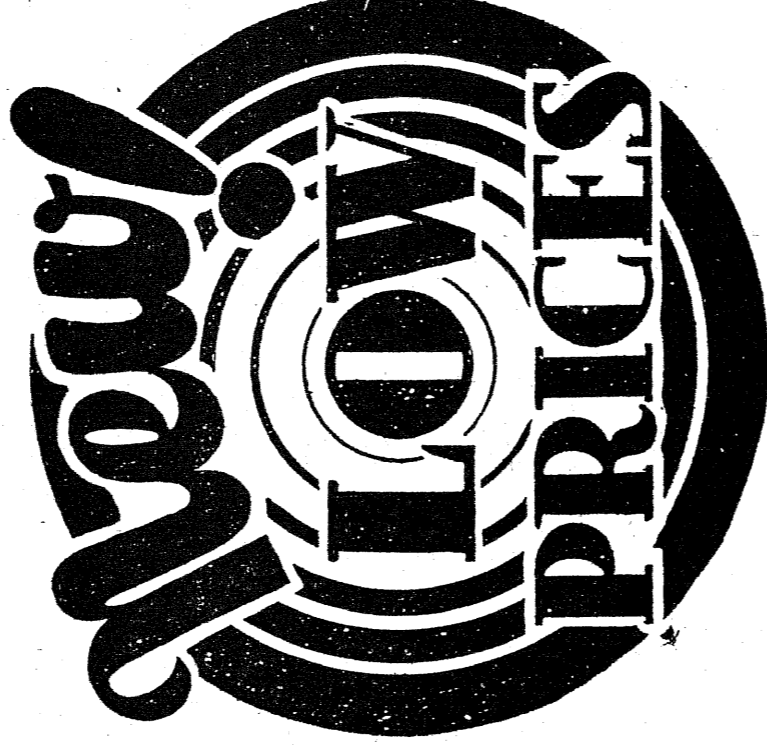

5—Complete stocks in every department—sick room supplies, patent medicines, drugs, insecticides, sundries, baby goods, cosmetics, candies, fountain pens and pencils, stationery, and anything that should be in a modern departmentized drug store.

6—Children treated with the greatest courtesy.

7—QUALITY — First and foremost but equally important is PRICE—a very small profit charged. In fact, our prices are as low as is permissible in any stores in the U. S. A. Being a member of the Fair Price Drug and Cosmetic Institute, we were instrumental in reducing the cost to you of drugs and cosmetics and proprietary medicines, saving you 15 per cent and more.

WE AIM TO SELL TO YOU AT THE LOWEST PRICES AT ALL TIMES. HELP US TO KEEP UP THIS GOOD WORK AS AGAINST THOSE WHO ARE INTERESTED ONLY IN UNWARRANTED AND UNJUSTIFIED HIGHER PRICES AND EXHORBITANT PROFITS.

Health and perfect grooming are two important accessories to the woman who would be successful in the social as well as the business world. In this modern age of electricity there are various aids which help her materially in acquiring both . . . and the result is very small indeed in comparison to the great satisfaction she experiences.
