At Headquarters

A meeting of the affiliated Republican Clubs of Belleville and the Kean-Hoffman Club of Belleville was held at the Kean-Hoffman headquarters, last Friday evening. Congressman Fred A. The various committees organized and reported their chairmen as follows: program and arrangements, chairman, Mayor William H. Williams; vice chairman, John Hewitt; secretary, Miss Julia Sulis. This committee will have charge of all functions given in connection with the campaign, as outlined at the meeting by the secretary. The next regular meeting of the groups will be held at the Kean-Hoffman Club headquarters tonight, which will be an open meeting as it is expected that the Republican candidates for the freeholder and assembly tickets will be present. The public is invited to attend.

The meeting last week was interesting and harmonious. For the first time in the history of Republican politics in Belleville, everyone voiced his opinions freely on harmony and good fellowship, and determined to present a united Republican front in Belleville in the present campaign.

Set $17,000 Quota For Community Chest Campaign Will Start With Torchlight Parade November 1

The budget committee of the Community Chest drive has set a quota of $17,000, $1,000 less than last year, for a goal in the 1934 campaign, Commissioner Joseph King, chairman, announced Tuesday. The Welfare Federation, which conducts the drive each year, plans to allot the following sums to the participating agencies:

Community Service Bureau, $10,000; American Red Cross, $1,700; Boy Scouts, $1,500; Girl Scouts, $750; Visiting Nurses' Association, $1,000; Silver Lake Community House, $250; expenses $600, and emergency fund for possible deficit in this year's activities $1,200.

Last fall only $11,385 in pledges was received to meet a budget of $18,000 for 1934. Of the amount pledged, only $9,546 has been received.

Plans have been made for opening the drive this year with an automobile torchlight parade through the principal streets of town.

Protest Discontinuance of 6th Grade at No. 2

A number of people appeared at the meeting of the board of education Monday evening to ask that the board re-establish a sixth grade, discontinued for economy reasons, at No. 2 School in the Soho section. It was said that children had to walk too far to school under the new plan, whereby the sixth grade pupils, of which there are eleven, are sent to School No. 10 or School No. 4.

It was explained that funds were lacking for the continuance of the class, and it would not be resumed this year. Several property owners protested that property values would be decreased by the lack of proper school facilities in the section.

Cost of Education Here Lowest in County, Supervising Principal Parmer Announces

Praises Board of Education and Corps of Teachers for Cooperation in Carrying Out Program
Despite Financial Limitations

Belleville's per capita cost of education this year, $77.65, is the lowest in the county, Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer announced in his annual report, presented to the board of education Monday night.

The highest cost per pupil is in Glen Ridge, where it is $177.74 annually. The average cost in the county is $127.22. The cost here is 61.3 per cent of the average for the county, Mr. Parmer points out.

"It has been and will continue to be the faithful endeavor of your superintendent and his colleagues constantly to improve the service they render the children committed to their care," states Mr. Parmer. "It is necessary, however, that our limitations should be clearly recognized."

"If we were to invest in each of our children as much as the second lowest district does, we would have needed to have increased our budget nearly $100,000. Should we spend the average per capita cost on our children, it would have required an increase of funds of approximately $297,000."

"A dollar in Belleville has practically the same value as it has in any other Essex County district. The same prices must be paid for equal quality in the service of personnel, books and supplies. We cannot long hope to get something for nothing.

"Is it fair to our boys and girls to give them less and less in the line of educational opportunity when we know that they are destined to play a part in a generation which will require more and more in educational qualifications? Is it fair that we should invest so little in our growing boys and girls in comparison to what is invested in the young people who attend our neighboring schools and with whom our boys and girls must compete in later years?"

Praises Board, Teachers, Parents
"May I say in conclusion that the reduction of opportunities to our children which would ordinarily compare with the margin of difference in per capita cost, in my judgment, is greatly mitigated by the contribution in time and effort on the part of our worthy board of education; the personal sacrifices, by way of assistance in carrying out a modern program, in time, effort and even money, by a most cooperative corps of teachers and principals; and by a great group of fathers and mothers who have recognized our problem in part, at least, and have valiantly come to

Pre-Election Charge Dismissed by Court

James Smith Freed in Complaint Brought by Carragher

Charges of threatening to kill made by Joseph H. Carragher, son of former Commissioner Frank J. Carragher, against James H. Smith of 18 Bridge street, a former police officer, were dismissed Monday by Common Pleas Judge Van Riper.

Joseph Carragher made a political speech in favor of his father's candidacy, but which attacked other figures prominent in Belleville's politics, April 29, from radio station WAAT. Immediately after the speech, Mrs. Helen Carragher, Joseph's wife, told police that she had been called to the telephone and told that her husband would be "put out of the way."

The call was traced to a tavern at 72 Holmes street, where Smith was arrested.

"This is one of the many results of a political campaign," said Judge Van Riper Monday. "If any charge were made against this man it should have been disorderly conduct and disposed of in the Belleville Police Court. I find him not guilty."

Police said Smith had been drinking at the time of the arrest.

Deckenbach, who has just completed his tenth year as rector of the church. Two huge bouquets of orchid colored cosmos, for Mrs. Deckenbach and the other of yellow and orange colored dahlias, for Mr. Deckenbach, stood at either end of the table, on which was a decorated cake, containing his initials in gold, and ten yellow candles. The president, Mrs. Edward Nelson, made a short congratulatory speech in which she expressed the hope of the members that Mr. Deckenbach would for many more years be with us. Mrs. G. A. Kelsall and Mrs. J. H. Edwards were in charge of arrangements.

"Taxation" Discussed At Taxpayers Meeting

Association Will Hold Card
Party At Recreation
House October 20

E. C. Wyckoff of the Fidelity Union Title and Mortgage Guaranty Co. of Newark, president of the Essex County Taxpayers' Association, discussed "Taxation" at the regular monthly meeting of the Belleville Taxpayers' Association at the Recreation House in Joralemon street Wednesday night.

After speaking of many aspects of state, county and municipal finances and tax levies, Mr. Wyckoff urged members of the local association to make a careful study of tax problems, in order that they may make intelligent recommendations to public officials.

The Association will hold a card party October 20 at the Recreation House for the benefit of the advertising fund, Fred Fischer, president, announced. Howard Virtue is chairman of the committee in charge. A special meeting of the executive board of the organization will be held next Wednesday evening to complete plans for the affair.

John Reyle, chairman of the civic affairs committee, reported that the school board is faced with a dilemma in returning the school fiscal year from a January to December basis to a September to June basis. The legislature has ruled that the change must be made in five years, yet a previous act forbids a school district to withhold a surplus, but provides that all balances be placed in the budget for the ensuing year. This would force the board to dispose of its present $44,000 surplus, and might cause local taxpayers to meet eighteen months of school expenses in one year, Mr. Reyle said. It was decided to investigate the matter here and in Trenton.

Schleicher To Speak
Victor H. Schleicher, attorney, promised the president to prepare an address on "Advantages and Disadvantages of Civil Service" for the next meeting of the association November 7. It was felt that the matter should be studied at this time, since Mayor Williams has suggested that a system of this kind be inaugurated in Belleville.

Henry Mason brought up the question of garbage disposal, and suggested that large stores might be compelled to pay for the removal of their own waste matter. Gustav Trenkler, secretary, was instructed to write Commissioner Joseph King, asking an investigation of the possibility of further economy in this problem.

Cat Irked As "Mickey Mouse" Outguesses Him

Tiny Rodent Retreats To Milk Bottle, Bewildering Tommy

A courageous mouse put up a three-hour battle against a giant tom-cat yesterday in a local home. The cat, prying about a residence in Center street, Nutley, spied our friend Mickey. The tiny rodent ran for the nearest hole, which turned out to be the mouth of a milk bottle.

For three hours the snarling feline tried to shove his paws through the thick glass walls of the crystalline prison, the clatter he made while teasing the bottle about the room drawing the attention of the occupants of the house, who gathered to witness the outcome of the unusual struggle.

Finally Tommy, finding the mouse scowlingly immune to his assaults, withdrew to seek easier prey, his paws bruised and his claws blunted and, worst of all, his dignity and prowess marred forever.

After ten minutes of quiet, Mickey, seeing the coast clear, tremblingly crept to the mouth of the bottle and ran to a safe retreat, the cheers of the astonished onlookers ringing in his ears.

"Pay 50¢ for tooth paste?"

Let me laugh!"

"I used to think that to get quality in a tooth paste, I had to pay 50¢ or more. Then somebody told me about Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢. I have had better results than I ever had with other tooth pastes and I save about $3 a year."

Many thousands of men and women have the same idea. Why not try Listerine Tooth Paste yourself? You will be delighted with it. Lambert Pharmacal Co.

Former Household Expenses Included in Electric Bill

FEW consumers of electricity realize that many household expenses once paid separately are now included in their electric bills.

Remember the days when rugs and carpets and other household furnishings had to be sent to the cleaners or a man was employed to "beat" the rugs? This nuisance is now eliminated by the efficient electric vacuum cleaner which keeps the house free of dust and dirt and the expense involved is included in your electric bill.

Take domestic refrigeration, for example. The owner of an electric refrigerator soon forgets that the monthly ice bill which he once paid is now included in his bill for electric service.

Or consider the electric washing machine which is operated in thousands of households at the cost of but a few cents an hour.

A part of the monthly laundry bill which many consumers once paid is now included in their electric bill.

There are other electric devices which do odd jobs about the house which once were items of continual expense.

Yet, despite the large number of these former domestic expenses now included in the cost of electric service, the average consumer pays but $2.80 per month for his electricity.

No other item in the household budget gives so much for so little as electricity.

"Unreality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 7.

The Golden Text is: "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever" (I John 2:16,17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God" (III John 1:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mankind must learn that evil is not power. Its so-called despotism is but a phase of nothingness. Christian Science despoils the Kingdom of evil, and pre-eminently promotes affection and virtue in families and therefore in the community. Christian Science brings to light Truth and its supremacy, universal harmony, the entireness of God, good, and the nothingness of evil" (pp. 102, 293).

BARTER VS. MONEY

A good many people, and this includes some of what are called the advanced thinkers in Washington seem to think that the 10,000,000 unemployed could be readily put to work if the government would really undertake the job.

Their proposal is that these 10,000,000 unemployed could be put to work in now idle factories turning out shoes, clothes, foodstuffs, furniture and other everyday necessities. Not only could these unemployed furnish enough of these necessities for their own use but also could produce enough so as to exchange by barter for goods produced by other workers.

Simple as this seems it has several important drawbacks. First, it would put the government in business on a huge scale, thus creating another army of government employees superintending this work. Second, it would create a big volume of goods in competition with those now produced by men privately employed. The result would be to throw these now working into the ranks of unemployed and so the vicious circle would be expanded indefinitely.

Barter, which is so often put forth as a means of making exchange of goods and services possible, will work only when people can agree on the terms of exchange. This can be done just as well, and better, with money as the measure of value. That was why money was developed.

The reason that business does not go on in the normal volume now is because the various elements in the community cannot agree on a price basis for exchange, and they would find it even more difficult and clumsy to try and arrive at agreement by barter.

ATTICS

Not the smallest item in the government's movement for better homes is the drive to banish the old-time attic. In some old homes the attics are gloomy, cluttered spots where old trunks, papers and castaway articles have been stored for years. Indeed, those who have ventured to rummage among some of these attics have found antiques and articles that today are of real value. Of course, such cases are rare, and for the most part, these attics are simply cheerless places stacked with litter that actually makes them a fire hazard. Today, under the Home Owners' Loan Plan, many of these attics are being cleared out and the attic is being transformed into a chery room—either as a sewing room, playroom, or extra chamber. To banish the dusty old attic is to really do something worth while.

REPETITION

The student of history can find in a study of events after the Napoleonic wars in Europe a situation which is greatly similar to the conditions which took place after the close of the World War. The unrest, the economic trials and tribulations, are repeated. Some of the panaceas for relief are also reproduced.

Yet, following two decades, the world entered upon a period of prosperity and expansion. Never before had industry achieved such heights. Never before had commerce become so valuable. History has repeated, in the widespread war and waste and economic doldrums. Will the prosperity repeat itself? It seems inevitable.

WORK

The longer we live we find that there are some troubles that only time can heal. There may be some that cannot be healed at all; but there is one great panacea for all worries, and that is work. To sit down with a grief is to let it conquer one by its own selfishness. To worry constantly over a problem is to let that problem be the master. We are deprived of strength, of courage, of help. But to work, work so faithfully and so ardently that there is little time for introspection, to think of others worse off than ourselves, that is the secret of cure for many a mental disturbance and heart wound.

"Work, 'tis a sword and a fire,
A dream, a desire,
A rebuke to those who shrink,
A step to a goal that is higher,

NAVY TRAINED CREWS

Now that an admiral of the U. S. Navy has come forward with a suggestion that the crews of American passenger ships be navy trained to fit them to meet emergencies such as happened to the Morrow Castle, perhaps someone will rise up and say the admiral is trying to push us into another war. That is the cry whenever anyone suggests anything that looks like military training. But consider for a moment what training does. The records show that man for man the world war veterans are a healthier lot than any similar number of men in civil life who have had no military training. The death rate for service men is lower than for men in strictly civil life. Man for man the veterans are more alert and those who are fortunate to be employed are fit in every way. Then, too, how many world war veterans objected to be discharged but clamored to go on fighting in some war, when the armistice was signed?

ALL IS FAIR

During the past week or two we have often heard the maxim, "All is fair in politics." It has always annoyed us. After all, why shouldn't the assertion be just as annoying to the ears as would be the saying, "All is fair in business?" For politics is a business and very serious business—the business of government of state and nation. To observe men and women, who would not stoop to the least dishonesty or double dealing in their own private transactions, stop at nothing to gain their ends in political affairs is appalling. There can be no prosperity, no inner glow of satisfaction or content, if the individual is false to the higher dictates of his own conscience and heart. If he does not look upon any transaction in regard to the state's business as he looks upon any such matter in regard to his own business he is betraying a sacred trust imposed upon him. For government is what we make it—we men and women of America—nothing more and nothing less. No deed is so exclusively public that it can take away individual responsibility. The more rapidly the citizens of these United States absorb this fact into their being the better will be the government of state and nation. "All is fair in politics" should excuse neither man nor woman in betraying the trust laid upon them nor pardon them for selling their birthright for a mess of political pottage.

THE MAD RUSH

How we Americans pride ourselves on our achievements! We hear evidence of this every hour over the radio; we read of it in magazines and newspapers; we look at it on the silver screen. We tunnel mountains; we stretch net work of wires over all the land and under seas; we fly like birds over hills and plains; our flag is at the mastheads of ships on all the oceans; there is no feat too great, no invention too wonderful, no problem too difficult, for us to attempt to cope with it. So anxious are we to forge ahead, so ambitious to be the greatest nation in the world, that we do not always take time for thoroughness, for vigilance, for loyalty to the fundamentals of our own government.

OUR GUARDIANS

Some folks seem to have appointed themselves guardians of humanity and proceed accordingly to direct the rest of us in the way they would have us go. Witness the latest display of shocked sensibilities in a certain quarter when a baseless report that sought to involve the Chief Executive of the Nation and his family, was eagerly seized upon and made the basis of a limelight discussion. Living a narrow, bent-over-backward existence tends to warp one's judgment. But the great American public's admiration and respect for F. D. R. and his family is not affected by such nonsense.

Purely Personal

By LILLIAN THOMAS

In Vernon Lee's drama, ADRIADNE IN MANTUA, I find a paragraph of poetic-prose that means to stencil itself on my mind:

"Life," writes, Lee, "is but a chess-board, a neatly painted surface alternate black and white, most suitable for skillful games, with a soul clean lost or gained at the end."

Viewed through a literary microscope, the above is a flawless gem.

In giving reason for a single point of view, the Newspaper Institute of America sets forth a humorous example:

Have you ever squirmed miserably, helplessly in your chair during the recital of an interesting episode, in the telling of which several persons took part? Imagine yourself at dinner in the home of acquaintances of the policeman, who are telling you the story:

The Host—"Fred chased the nian, and all of a sudden he heard more shots, and the whistling of bullets past his own head. Fred took careful aim and—"The Hostess interrupts—"and mind you, Fred didn't know he was shooting at the man who saved his life. can you imagine?"

The Host—"Yes, you see during the war, Fred got caught out in No Man's Land and this colored boy was in the same sector."

The Hostess—"but he belonged to a Negro regiment quartered alongside; not in Fred's regiment, and when he saw Fred out there he crawled over the barbed—"

The Maid (servants do claim certain liberties these days)—"Pears to me a cop could see as well in the lights on Hundet and Fawty-fif street as Joe could out in the dakk battlefel."

The Hostess—"Hyacinth! The roast is burning!... You see (addressing you again) "the colored boy lived in Atlanta."

The Maid (from the pantry)—"Bummin'ham."

The Hostess—"Birmingham,—and" The Host—"Well, anyway, Fred shot the very man who saved his life."

Collecting couplets is a hobby in which I find much pleasure. Of all those I've collected, I like this one best:

I have forgotten other men, and so You too will be forgotten when you go!

DRIVE SAFELY

THE SAFE DRIVER

THE safe driver never has an accident and never finds himself on the receiving end of a court summons. The accepted attributes of a safe driver are as follows:

He stays in line.

He doesn't speed.

He doesn't weave in and out of traffic.

He observes all traffic signs and signals.

He is doubly careful at intersections.

He doesn't pass on curves or hills.

He plays fair with other drivers.

He is especially alert in school zones.

He knows the proper hand signals—and uses them.

He is always considerate of pedestrians.

He is ever watchful for skids and unseen highway hazards.

He slows down, and if necessary stops, looks and listens at railroad grade crossings.

He keeps his car in good condition.

He doesn't drive when he is tired and sleepy.

He knows the traffic laws of his State and the traffic ordinances of his city—and obeys them.

He doesn't mix drinking with his driving.

Factfully Yours

— LILLIAN THOMAS —

Bells are of unknown antiquity. Large bells appear to have originated in China, but the invention of church bells is ascribed to Bishop Paulinus of Nola in Compania, who died in 431.

The church bell had its civic as well as its religious use. It summoned the soldiers to arms, and it sounded the alarm in fire or tumult. Too, they were believed to calm storms, to avert lightning, to disperse pestilence, to exorcise demons, and to drive away enemies.

Before the Seventh Century, bell ringers were famous for the personal affection which they felt for their metal-tongued proteges, almost as if they were sentient beings. An old ringer of St. Agriol, for example, is said to have gone up to his bell to kiss it and bestow upon it a thousand terms of endearment. And when once the bell of the White Penitents was temporarily interdicted, the peasant who was used to ringing it ascended the tower, and, leaning against his beloved bell, gave vent to his grief in sobbing and wailing, which reverberated by the sonorous metal, was heard all over the city and far across the plain, and there he died, heart-broken, still clinging to his bell.

The largest, if not the most famous bell in the world, is the "great bell of Moscow." Its weight is about 440,000 pounds, and its cost in simple bell material is estimated at about $300,000, to which it is said, $1,000,000 was added in precious jewels, plate, etc., by the nobles at the time of casting. This bell is about twenty-one feet in height and twenty-two feet in diameter. It was cast by the Empress Anne in 1733 from the metal of a gigantic predecessor which had been greatly damaged. The beams which held it were destroyed by fire in 1734, and it fell and broke. Another story is that it was cracked in the furnace and never hung at all. It remained in the earth until raised by the Emperor Nicholas in 1836.

There is another monstrous bell in the cathedral, weighing 120,000 pounds. This is the largest in the world in actual use. It is rung three times a year, when all the other bells are silent. Its sound is like the roar of distant thunder.

The great bell of China, in Peking, weighs 120,000 pounds. And in Nanking there is a bell weighing 50,000 pounds.

St. Peter's Players

Rehearse "Skidding"

Rev. Joseph M. Kelly Is Director Of Benefit
Production

"Skidding," a three-act comedy, the fall presentation of St. Peter's Dramatic Club of Belleville, seems destined to be a great success. The play now well along in rehearsals will be presented on Thursday and Friday evenings, October 25 and 26, in the school hall, William street, Belleville.

Miss Marguerite T. Mann as Marion, the lead, in her appealing sweetness keeps the audience entranced in the more dramatic moments of the play. James J. Lukowiak as Andy, the kid brother, with a case of girl trouble, ably assisted by his two married sisters, Myra played by Mrs. Agnes Jordan Leonard and Estelle, played by Miss Eleanor M. Stockton, keep the place in a regular game of merriment. Miss Greta M. Kinnealy, long a favorite in the amateur field of Belleville, handles her role of Mrs. Hardy, remarkably well. Miss Helen M. Grey, playing the part of Aunt Milly, apparently a prim old maid, surprises the audience with some of her remarks about the rest of the family and what she thinks of being an old maid. James A. Leonard as Wayne Trenton 3rd; William J. Friel as Stubbins; William J. Brady as Judge Hardy, and John J. Roberts as Grandpa do their share of making "Skidding" a truly great show.

"Skidding" deals with the home life of the average American family and we strongly advise all those that think their family is the only one that has troubles of its own to see "Skidding."

Sea Scout Ship 588 Has Fifth Cruise

The Belleville Sea Scout Ship 588 "George Fried" made its fifth cruise on Sunday. Four members of the Forest Hill Sea Scout Ship 507 "C. Brower Woodward" were guests of the Bellevilleites; Skipper Louis Cook, Ernest Gemmell, Neil Kerwan, and Alfred Storms. Belleville Ship, Skipper Paul G. P. Scholz, Mate Raymond H. Patrick, ship committeeman Alvin E. Brant, and sea scouts Edward Dunham, Walter Garabrant, Harvey W. Mumford Jr., Chester, David and Stanley Reynolds, William M. Terry, and Gary Vanderbilt. The cruise was made in a twenty-six foot whale boat, rigged with two sails, pulling three pair of twelve foot oars. After leaving the Naval Reserve dock at Jersey City, the cruise was to Upper New York Bay. A short stop over for refreshments was made at South Beach, Staten Island. A high sea and contrary winds belated the homeward trip and made progress difficult, but much experience was gained in the management of the boat under such conditions.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, low spirits, nervousness, headache, you have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, or laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only clear out the tail end of your bowels and move out the tail end of your bowels and don't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions. Buy 24 at drug stores. Refuse "something just as good," for it may grip, loosen teeth or scald rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. © 1933, C.M. Co.

back," hamburgers, potatoes, apples and marshmallows were roasted and eaten. After supper all participated in a huge snake dance winding out of the camp grounds, down through the trees and back around the fire, chanting scout songs in Indian fashion. All the girls were wrapped in blankets and with feathers struck in their hair. It proved a gay scene. Finally one girl from each being chosen as a leader, the entire group took part in the Indian "Dance to a Dog." Taps completed the ceremony.

One Night of Love' Held Over at the Branford Theater Grace Moore's Hit Opened At Newark Playhouse Last Friday

Grace Moore's outstanding picture, "One Night of Love," which opened at the Branford Theater, Newark, on September 28, will be held over for a second week, Saul J. Ullman, manager of the Branford announced yesterday.

"The record audiences and popular enthusiasm which greets every showing of Miss Moore's picture makes it imperative that it be held over for a second week," Mr. Ullman said. "Hundreds of persons who attend the theater make personal requests, after each performance, that its engagement be extended so that they may have an opportunity to see it a second time."

This popular demand indicates that "One Night of Love" is the outstanding picture of the year, and the theater is happy to announce that it will be held over for the week beginning Friday, October 5.

Comments from musical and society leaders as well as from patrons, taken at random, who have seen Miss Moore in her portrayal of the role of Mary Barrett, indicate that the picture has won a place among the five outstanding films of the year and that its appeal is universal.

Mrs. William H. Nelson, of the Hotel Suburban, East Orange, long the outstanding musical authority of Northern New Jersey and the state said, "I have never seen a more beautiful picture. I would recommend it to anybody."

Mayor Meyer C. Ellenstein, of Newark, said, "It is one of the finest and most entertaining motion pictures I have ever seen."

Chief of Police James A. McRell, Newark, said, "Everybody should see this picture."

Mrs. Henry Leeb, Essex County society leader, said, "It was one of the most charming pictures I have ever seen. I greatly enjoyed it."

Judith Benn, amateur dancer, said, "I was awestruck by the beauty of the picture and Miss Moore's wondrous voice. One seldom has an opportunity to enjoy a picture as I enjoyed 'One Night of Love'."

A plainly dressed man came up to Mr. Ullman after one of the performances and said: "I'm a mechanic. I'm not an average man and I like the things the average man likes. I liked this picture so well I'm coming to see again. This is the type of picture everybody likes. It appeals to all."

"One Night of Love" is the story of Mary Barrett, an American girl, who climbs to fame as an opera singer under the tutelage of Monteverdi, a famous vocal instructor and opera coach.

Miss Moore plays the role of Mary With Tullio Carminati, a great opera singer and actor in his own right, cast as Monteverdi.

The cast also includes Luis Abern, Spain's most prominent actor, Andres De Seguro, Lyle Talbot and Mona Barrie.

Fred Hartley Approves NRA Reorganization

Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., in a statement issued yesterday placed his stamp of approval on a reorganization of the National Recovery Administration if for no other reason than to relieve industry the threat of additional regimentation and regulation.

"I recognize that the government should and must prevent private enterprises from running amuck," Representative Hartley declared, "and I realize that many industries affected by public service have a duty which they should not be allowed to disregard. However, from my contacts with industrial leaders throughout the nation, I believe there is no group of business men of any substantial number who want to see human rights disregarded."

"I believe there is a greater sense of social responsibility in business today than ever before. I am firmly convinced that if relieved of the fear of additional regimentation and regulation, relieved of the fear of exorbitant taxation, of the 'soak the rich' cry from the radical element in the nation, that industry, accepting the basic principle of fair competition of the National Recovery Act, will look to the future with more confidence, will plan ahead and give employment to a goodly percentage of those who are now idle. And who is there who are now on relief who would not prefer a real job to their present position?"

- Crushed peaches, with a very little sugar content, are being offered as a canned breakfast fruit.
- Banana flour is one of the newer items of food to be introduced to the American public.
- A serving of ice cream (1/6 quart) is equivalent approximately in food value, to a cup of whole milk.
- The spice trade is seeking to stimulate a "spice-consciousness" in American kitchens.

The Forum

"WHERE'S ELMER?"

Dear Editor:

What I want to know is, has the world gone goofy? If it were not that I shrink from slang, I would use the word "nerfs" instead of "goofy."

I am a respectable young man of good taste and dignity, 28 years old, and have a Mayflower ancestry as a background. Some of my forebears fought in the Revolutionary war. I am college-bred and have a keen interest in literary matters.

As a matter of fact, I have written a few little gems in the way of poetry and prose. I have sent these masterpieces repeatedly to editors, but unfortunately they have been invariably returned. Obviously, my offerings were over the heads of the editors. What editors seem to want nowadays is light, frothy trash.

I read good books and I have no time nor inclination for the frivolous pursuits of this youthful generation. I am very careful in my selection of associates and have very few boy or girl friends. My name is Elmer.

The other evening as I was riding to Newark on the trolley some high school lads were aboard and I was near them. We were all hanging to straps. Suddenly one of the students cried out:

"Where's Elmer?"

I was somewhat startled at first to hear my name and I wondered how this chap knew it. However, I room near the high school and concluded that I had been pointed out to him on the street. Suddenly he called out again, "WHERE'S ELMER?" I thought the least I could do was to identify myself, so I tapped him on the shoulder and said:

"Here I am. Can I serve you in any way?" He turned and looked at me sort of blankly for a minutes, then he said:

"What's the trouble, buddy?"

"Pardon me, but you asked for Elmer, didn't you? Well, my name's Elmer?" Then he grinned, slapped me on the back and shook my hands violently. Turning to his fellow-students he cried:

"Boys, we're in luck! We've all been wanting to know what has become of Elmer. Well, we've found him! Here he is."

Then he introduced me to all of them. They crowded around me, nearly shook my hands off, then they led me up and down the car introducing me to different passengers, all perfect strangers to me. Everybody seemed pleased to meet me. Really, it was quite overwhelming.

Then one of the students cried out, "I know, folks, you would all like to have Elmer say a few words. Elmer tell us where you've been?" This request was followed by cries of "Speech! Speech!"

Well, I told the people in the car I hadn't been anywhere in particular—that I appreciated their interest in me and didn't really feel worthy of so much attention. The applause was deafening. I got off at Market street followed by cries of, "Don't get lost again, Elmer!" "Good old Elmer! It was most bewildering."

The next day, I was having a spot of lunch in a downtown cafeteria. Next to me sat two very pretty girls, but of course I paid no attention to them. Nevertheless I couldn't help overhearing their conversation. Presently one said:

"Have they found Elmer yet?" and the other answered, "No, poor boy! I wonder what has become of him?"

"I beg your pardon, ladies," I said, rising from the table and bowing slightly, "but I haven't been lost at all." They glared at me, rather coldly, I thought for an instant, then smiled at each other. The blonde said:

"You don't mean to tell me that you are Elmer?"

"Well, of all things!" exclaimed the brunette; "what luck to find you sitting right next to us! Elmer, do tell us where you've been?"

"But I haven't been anywhere. Would you girls mind telling me how this rumor got started that I'm lost?" They both went off in a gale of laughter.

"Well, nobody has seen you lately, Elmer," said the blonde.

"Why should a nice, handsome boy like you keep under cover, Elmer?" asked the brunette; "I'll bet you've been doing something naughty."

"I have not—I tell you my behavior is above reproach—I."

"Come up and see us some time," said the blonde as they rose and started out.

"But wait a minute," I called walking after them; "what is your telephone number? I don't even know your names, or where you live? How can I—"

The girls hurried off giggling. Everybody in the place was roaring. I hadn't finished my lunch, but I paid my check and left.

All of which is why I'm asking you if the world's gone goofy. Why this sudden interest in me on the part of total strangers? Or, are people confusing me with some other man named Elmer who has been kidnapped or mysteriously disappeared? I can't make head or tail of it, but I've made up my mind to one thing—when anybody asks, "Where's Elmer?" I shall keep quiet.

our assistance."

The report shows that only sixty-six of the 195 teachers employed in Belleville schools are college graduates. The majority have normal school training.

Eighteen teachers attended summer school in 1933 and thirty-nine attended extension classes in 1933-34.

"The fact that our teachers were paid largely in municipal bonds and that training institutions were not accepting such bonds made it impossible for many and difficult for others to attend summer school or to take extension work," comments Mr. Parmer.

"Overage-ness" High. According to the report, "overage-ness," or the number of pupils in classes lower than those in which their age should place them, is high in Belleville. Tables show that 29.1 per cent of the pupils in elementary schools and 31.3 per cent of those in high school are over age.

"A comparison of the age grade tables this year with those of the previous year shows an increase in the normal age percentage in both grade and high school records," Mr. Parmer declares. "While we are glad for this trend, still overage-ness is entirely too high. This condition is due largely to the absence in our system of special or opportunity classes."

"Children who are subjects for such classes are not only themselves retarded greatly by needing to remain in the regular classes but they also retard the progress of the other children."

"Pressure for reduced budgets has prevented the organization of such classes. I again recommend that this situation be remedied as soon as possible. It is not economy in the final analysis when children need to repeat grades. The depression has postponed the solution to this problem."

Tots Hurt By Truck On Way To School

Raymond And Evelyn Koehler

ler In Critical Condition In Newark Hospital

Raymond, 8, and Evelyn, 6, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Koehler of 115 Cortlandt street, are in a critical condition in St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, after having been injured by a truck driven by Floyd F. Wright of 155 Third avenue, Hawthorne, while on their way to school Tuesday afternoon.

According to witnesses, the tots slipped or fell under the rear wheel of the truck as it passed Belleville avenue and Cortlandt street. They were pupils at No. 1 School.

Hearing a woman's scream, the driver brought his heavy machine to a stop. The children's father, Homer Radin and Fireman William Gilchrist of Belleville avenue and Albert Kingsley of Cortlandt street picked up the crumpled forms of the youngsters and carried them to police headquarters, where acting Captain Charles Pearl and Patrolman Nelson Demgard placed them in the ambulance and rushed them to the hospital, where it was found that Raymond had suffered internal injuries and a possible skull fracture and his sister had received a broken leg and possible skull fracture.

Mrs. Koehler, who suffered the mental agony of witnessing the accident from the front porch of her home, said that Raymond had always been careful of his little sister, and had tried to shield her from all mishaps.

Falls From Horse

Miss Erma Corn, 23, of 139 Stephens street suffered minor injuries when she was thrown from a horse while riding in Marion street, Vaux Hall section of Union Township, Tuesday evening. She was treated by Dr. Samuel L. Rosenstein and taken home by friends.

The Widow and Widowers' League will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A., Washington street, Newark. Business of importance will be taken up, after which a social time will be held. All widows, widowers and single people over thirty years old are invited to join.

of classes, classrooms, school buildings and premises are frequently made.

According to Miss Smith, 4,228 health defects were discovered in school children this year, of which 502 were corrected, 26,368 examinations and inspections were made on school children. In addition, six nurses work in the interests of the health of pre-school children.

"In order that children may enter school in the best of physical condition, a pre-school child health program is extremely important," says Miss Smith.

Varsity Club Plays Rutherford Alumni Two Teams Played Great Game Last Season

One of the most thrilling games of the season is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Feuerbach Park, terminus of Washington avenue, when the undefeated and fast-moving Nutley Varsity Club plays host to the Rutherford Alumni football aggregation.

These clubs played last year and the Maroon gridders were fortunate enough to escape with a 2-0 victory, the score coming after a Rutherford back was downed behind his own goal line following a bad pass from center. Both clubs have stronger lineups this year and a bitter contest is assured.

The Blue and White squad will come to Feuerbach Field twenty-five strong, led by Coach Rene Antolini, former Colgate star, who also performs in the backfield. Other backfield luminaries in the Rutherford cast are Matty Love, Bill Fleming, Nick Ferraro, Willis Rulings, Marving Keys, Douglas Burke and George Robertazza.

At the end posts Rutherford will show Ed Salomon, Ben Mastrangle and Gene Bruggeman; the tackles will be Harry Stiersky, Bud Jury, Fred Hugo and Jim Kederisha; holding down the guards posts are Pete Ferraro, Scotty Brotherson, Hern Korn, Spence Klein and Hen Rybickie; the centers are Ted Yachechack and Horace Schwerin.

There will be several additions in the Varsity Club cast. "Aim" Barbata, who was used in the Plainfield game as a blocking back, will be given an opportunity to display his passing and kicking abilities. Other newcomers on hand will be Eddie Zackowitz, former Bloomfield High and University of Alabama frosh star, and Dick Fornoff, who played with Bloomfield High, the Bloomfield Pros and Verona. Both men are tackles and will be used to relieve Van Winkle and Kitzman, star Maroon linemen.

Grace Baptist And Watessing Bowling Teams Tied For Top Church Bowlers Swing Into Second Week Of Play

The Grace Baptist and Watessing M. C. bowling teams, though defeated in one of three games, remained in a tie for first place in the Belleville Church Bowling League, last week.

The Baptist boys were off form in the first game with the Fewsmith Men's Club, but came back in the next two to win the match. Watessing reached 894 and 919 to take the first two games against Christ Episcopal handsly, but dropped the final by a small margin.

Montgomery grabbed the odd game from Forest Hill, and Bethany Lutheran dropped two to the rejuvenated Wesley Men's Club.

Garrabrant of Christ Episcopal recorded high individual score for the evening with a 237 mark. Fried of Watessing came through with the fine three game totals of 188, 201 and 202 in the same series. Scofield, Wesley lead-off man, hit 205 and 209 counts, while Smith, Montgomery, was the only other pinner boasting a 200 score.

Tornadoes Will Meet Paterson Panthers Bob Campiglio and Jack Grossman Join East Orange Eleven

The East Orange Tornadoes professional football team meets a fourth rival for the New Jersey professional grid championship at Ashland Stadium next Thursday night, October 11, at 8:30 o'clock. The Paterson Panthers' strong combination invades the East Orange field with a cast of former college stars threatening to upset the hopes of Ed Simandl and Coach Mac Baker for a 1934 title for the Tornadoes.

The pair are leaving nothing undone to insure a title for their team. No expense is being spared in signing grid greats to the Tornado Team. The latest pair to join adds power both on the line and in the backfield.

Simandl signed Bob Campiglio, the nation's highest scoring back when he toted the ball for West Liberty Teachers College several seasons ago. Campiglio proved a successful pro player and is expected to become a scoring sensation behind the powerful Tornado line in the company of the Grossman brothers, Al Lane, Herish Martin, Red Dubinsky, Charley Alexander, Wheeler Wolsey and the other backs.

Jack Grossman provided a crowd with a wonderful exhibition of ball running in the Tornadoes' 19 to 6 decision over the Passaic Red Devils, defending 1933 champions, and is expected to be grabbed by a National League Club for his efforts.

The line added two more stars: Glen Peters, all-East center with Colgate last season, bolsters the huge forward wall. Harry Schneider of N. Y. U., who with Peters are the biggest men on the Tornado line, both six-foot three inches and close to the 200-pound mark, is shifted to tackle. Bill Diemus, a sturdy guard loaned by the Brooklyn Dodgers and a former Washington and Jefferson brilliant, joins the squad. Proceeds of the game will go to the East Orange American Legion bugle and drum corps for a trip to Miami, Florida.

Emeralds Won 22, Lost 9, This Year

The Emerald A. C. closed its baseball season with a record of twenty-two victories against nine defeats. Al Heininger and Walt Cody, both pitchers, had the highest batting averages with .423 and .372 respectively. Cody also was the leading pitcher with eight victories and no defeats and also was the leading slugger with an average of .551. Cody's pitching record for three years with the Emeralds shows twenty-seven wins and six defeats, and 322 strike-outs.

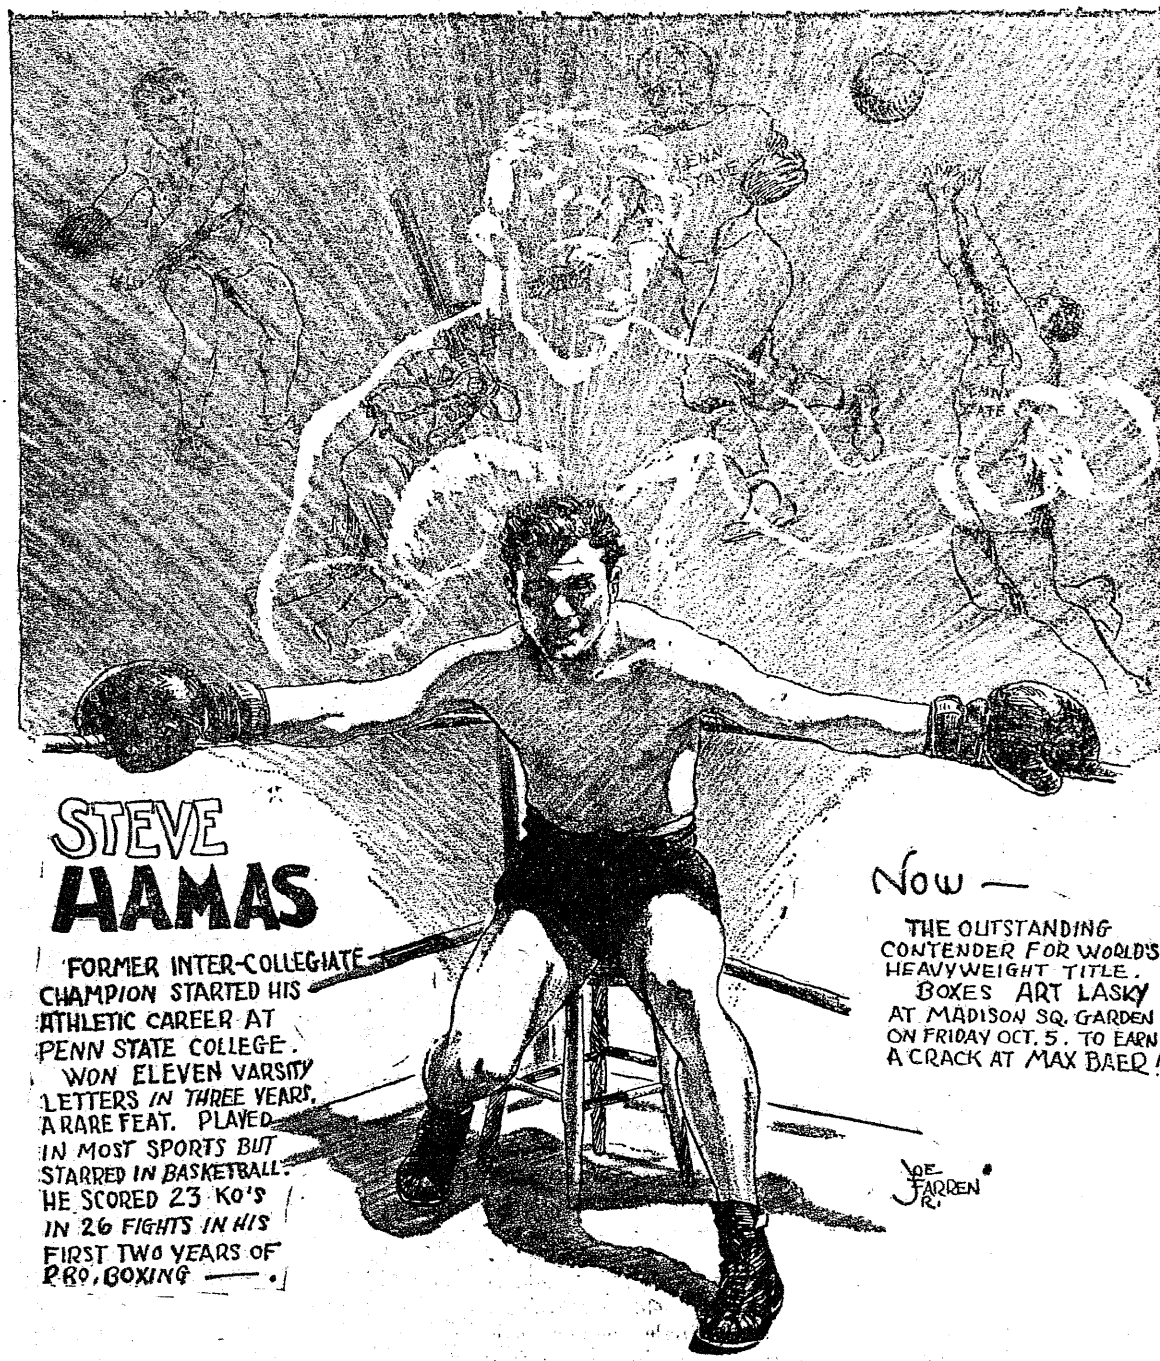

Art Larsen was the most consistent hitter, failing in only two games to get at least one hit. Joe Masor received the most bases on balls with fifteen. George Crotty scored the most runs, twenty-three. Art Costello had the most sacrifice hits, three. Henry Lubben and Bobbie Braun played in the most games, twenty-nine, the latter being up the most, eighty-nine. Paul Drexler, leading slugger and batter in 1932 and 1933, fell far behind in the averages, with .303.

Nutley Varsity Club Gridders Tie Saracens, Powerful Plainfield Eleven

Tony San Giacomo Scores Locals' Sole Touchdown; Varsity Squad Has Difficulty Holding Heavy Union County Backfield

The aggressive and resourceful Plainfield Saracens visited Feuerbach Park last Sunday afternoon and played first-rate football to hold the Nutley Varsity Club to a 6-6 deadlock, thus blotting the Maroons' winning streak, although not disrupting the local's undefeated record.

With a heavy line and a powerful backfield, the Union County gridders made it tough going for Coach Stanford's boys all afternoon, the Maroon being fortunate to earn a tie result.

The big green team made its presence felt as early as the first quarter. Begneski and Loretta broke through to block one of Baykowski's quick kicks on Nutley's 30-yard stripe. Gulick crashed through on a wide tackle play and ran furiously to the 7-yard line before being stopped. Here the Maroon held for two downs and when a forward pass failed, Loretta essayed a placement, but the kick was low.

Nutley went into a favorable spot at the start of the second period, when Chief Luzzi bore down on a Plainfield punt receiver, Buff San Giacomo recovering on the visitors' 20-yard line. Here the Plainfield defense proved its mettle, for after Johnnie Bridges tore off four yards on a reverse, Alex Baykowski was stopped twice in his tracks and then a forward failed of completion to give the Plainfielders the ball.

Following an exchange of kicks the Maroon went on its touchdown march via the aerial route. In midfield Baykowski tossed the pill to Sentner for a 15-yard gain. Two plunges by Bridges and Jones netted six yards and then Mike Connors tossed a spot pass to Luzzi for another 15-yard advantage. On the play Connors again tossed to Luzzi, who stood on the goal line. When the Plainfielders interfered with the Chief as he was making the catch, the ball was awarded to the Varsity gridders on the one-yard line. From that point it was easy work for Tony San Giacomo to skirt off right tackle for the touchdown. Connors essayed the placement instead of Baykowski, but the

Biase Yellow Jackets Defeat Civic League

Local Eleven Will Meet East Orange Cards This Sunday

The Biase Yellow Jackets scored their second victory of the season Sunday by defeating their biggest rival, the 14th Ward Civic League, of the season before a large gathering at Edison Field by a score of 6-0.

The score came in the last period when A. Biase intercepted a pass and raced fifty yards to the 10 yard line where Albanese skirted the end to the 2 yard line, where Coach Julian sent into the fray the Yellow Jackets' giant line crasher, who crashed through the 14th Ward defense for the only tally.

Albanese, former Barringer track and football star, thrilled the fans with his continuous gains around ends, which were very spectacular.

Much credit should be given to the Yellow Jackets forward wall, which allowed only one first down, and allowed only two thus far this season. Should the Yellow Jacket line keep up the fine work, the coach foresees a banner season.

Next Sunday the Yellow Jackets will meet the strong East Orange Cardinals, who have a fine reputation in the Oranges. The Cardinals have an array of high school stars in their lineup.

Varipapa Shows Class In Matches At Ferrara's Cubellis Is Only Bowler Able To Take A Game From Him

Al Cubellis, one of the leading pinners in this section, was the only one of Andy Varipapa's opponents able to take the world-famous bowler's measure in special exhibition matches, Saturday night, at Ferrara's North Newark alleys. A good sized crowd was on deck to witness the fine exhibition.

After Cubellis had taken the first game, 204 to 189, Varipapa came back and nosed out his conqueror, 186 to 182, and then followed this up by whipping five more local bowlers in succession. As a finale he paired with Mrs. Kuntz to whip "Doc" Haycock, manager of the alleys, and Mrs. Knight, in a mixed doubles match.

Following the match play, the champion gave a brilliant performance of trick shooting, including a seemingly impossible criss-cross shot, and his famous "tunnel shot."

Varipapa's scores were 189, 186, 208, 254, 222, 225 and 227. The last tally was recorded in the mixed doubles match. The scores of his opponents were: Cubellis, 204 and 182; Ruff, 191; Ventura, 204; Byrne, 170; Kappeler, 201; Schneeman, 167; Haycock, 212; Mrs. Knight, 142. Mrs. Kuntz bowled 152, as Varipapa's partner.

The State Alley-Owners' Sweepstakes will be held at the North Newark alleys, Saturday and Sunday, October 20 and 21.

Belleville High Grid Eleven Displays Championship Form Wallops Ramsey, 45-0, In Convincing Display of Football Tactics

The bells of Belleville pealed triumphantly, Saturday afternoon, in the mud and mire that was Clearman Field, as Ramsey was handed a 45-0 walloping by the local high school athletes.

A 45-0 win, in itself, is quite a feat, no matter what sort of opposition is encountered. But taking into account the twin facts that the Bell-boys were playing on a rain-soaked grid-iron and that they were penalized over a hundred yards by an over-zealous referee, the showing was made all the more remarkable.

Coach "Red" Buchanan's boys unleashed a hard-driving, irresistible attack right from the start. And it proved to be much more than the visitors could cope with.

Howie Gorman (watch this speed boy, if you want to see Eddie Berlin's successor this season) and the veteran Bill Tully collaborated in the first score early in the opening quarter. Gorman's twenty-five yard sprint off tackle and the latter's ten yard drive through center accomplished the six-pointer. Mark Wertz, who handled the team from his quarterback post in masterly fashion, galloped twenty yards through the Ramsey team near the close of the period to set the stage for the second score. Three plunges by Tully, "Red" VanDemark and Gorman in that order enabled the latter to go over the last white chalk mark.

Just by way of keeping in the scoring mood, Gorman ripped off forty more yards on the very first play of the second quarter to score his second time and the team's third.

Following this tally, Buchanan sent in his entire second team, with the result that Belleville tallied touchdown No. 4 late in the half. Some fine ball-carrying by the colored flash, Jim Richardson, and the plunging Ed Sadlock, went for naught, as penalties and fumbles halted the Bell-boys just when scores seemed inevitable. With out a minute to go, however, Emmet Ryder, playing safety, caught a Ramsey punt and ran forty yards down the side lines for the touchdown.

Although the Blue and Gold players failed to score in the third quarter, they did manage to get to the one yard line as the whistle sounded. On the first play of the last quarter, fully pushed through center for the ally. A forward pass, Wertz to Tully, beautifully executed, converted the first successful extra point.

A minute later, a fine aerial, Wertz to VanDemark, gained forty yards, placing the pigskin on the two yard line, from where Tully went over again. This time Ryder made a perfect placement for the added marker. No sooner did Ramsey kick off again, than Belleville had scored its sixth and last counter. On the first play, with the ball in midfield, Ryder broke away and ran through the entire Ramsey team for fifty-two yards and the touchdown. He again kicked the extra point.

Of particular importance was the stalwart work of the line and exceptional interference accorded the ball-carriers. Horace Gauspell, replacing Jim Tully at end, and Art Jocker, tackle, were particularly outstanding. Look out, Bloomfield!
