Local Delegation In Holy Name Parade

Police Lead Procession in Belleville and Newark

Led by Catholic members of the police department headed by Chief Michael J. Flynn, and by the Rev. Joseph M. Kelly and the Rev. John S. Nelligan, rectors, the Holy Name Society of St. Peter's Church paraded in Belleville Sunday and later joined the parade of 35,000 members of the society from the diocese of Newark in Newark.

About 600 local men attended church in the morning for holy communion. The group formed again at 1:30 P. M. and marched through William street and Washington avenue to North Newark, where they were transported to Newark by bus.

John Burke was marshal of the St. Peter's delegation, assisted by Paul Spingler and William Hood.

The Holy Name Society of St. Anthony's Church in the Silver Lake section also was in line in the Newark parade.

The procession in Newark was from Washington Park to Lincoln Park, where speakers addressed the men on the campaign for clean moving pictures. The Rev. Matthew J. Toohy of St. James' Church, Newark, was the principal speaker. The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Paul Knappek of St. Casimir's Church, Newark, offered the benediction. The parade was reviewed by Monsignors John J. Murphy and Michael J. White.

Community Service Bureau Completes Social Readjustment Of Aged Negro

One Of Many Problems Successfully Handled By Local Welfare Agency Described—Dan's Last Years Made Happy By Sympathetic Treatment

Dan lives in Belleville. He is one of those real, Southern Negroes, born a slave child just before the Civil War. Dan's lips part in an amused smile and every one of the hundreds of wrinkles in his kind, old face seem to smile by itself as he chuckles in a rich voice, "Honey child, I reckon it sounds funny but I just lost track of exactly when I was born and the Lord only knows how old I am now." Evidently no one on earth really does know how old Dan is, but his weather-beaten, heavily worn body tells of many winters which have passed over the snowy "wool" of his head.

The Community Service Bureau first got to know Dan when he became worried about premiums on his precious insurance policy, which will some day bury him as he wishes to be buried. This was his one bit of pride—his insurance against the dreaded "Potter's Field." Dan had never learned to write but his story was sent in a letter to a former employer in the South and by return mail came a lovely note and the money to finish the payments on Dan's insurance policy.

This service was all that Dan asked for but actually there were other things which he would soon need. Dan was living alone in a cold, damp room. He was entirely too old to be alone—cooking, doing his laundry and building his own fires. Dan was definitely ill, too. A married daughter, living near, came to see him now and then but had never offered her father a home. Dan was sweet about this as he is about everything. He saw many reasons why his daughter had not asked him to come live with her and he was almost proud of the fact that he could take care of himself. Because it was evident that Dan could not long continue to live alone, the daughter now had to be helped toward seeing how much her aged father needed a home where she could look after him. There was also another problem, for Dan had to realize how much he needed a home where he could be looked after!

As these plans were being experimented with a severe attack of intestinal gripe came upon Dan. While this illness was almost fatal in one way, it did, on the other hand, hurry along the daughter's realization of Dan's needs for his welcomed father with open arms after his discharge from the hospital.

The social worker's work was not finished, however. The many years of separation took time to be healed over and frequent visits from the friend who seemed to understand both father and daughter have been sealing their lives together again. Then too, the visitor has had to see that post-hospital care is given regularly to Dan.

Recently poor, old Dan, who is more patient and cheerful than even the famous Uncle Tom, was at the point where he felt that although he was happy and feeling fairly well it would be better if he "just stopped taking this medicine and died!" And his real

Civil Service Move Sponsored By V.F.W.

Herbert Scott Says Former Commander Says

Post Seeks To Protect Members' Interests

October 15, 1934.

Editor, The News:
Under date of October 12 The Belleville News carried a story on the front page, stating that it was understood that I and other veterans had sponsored the petition to place all town employees under civil service. This is not the truth and I believe the source of information, as you obtain it, is not authentic.

The truth of the matter is, this petition was authorized and sponsored by Private George A. Younginger Post, No. 275, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and not by any one individual. The membership of the Younginger Post felt that due to the unfair means employed by the present director of public safety, that the proper means to protect the veterans' interests was to place all positions under civil service and have examinations conducted for them.

You also state in this article that under civil service acts, veterans are given preference over other persons in seeking appointment. This is a little far-fetched, as a good many veterans are over the age limit and cannot take the examination for a good number of state and municipal positions.

Trusting that you will find space on the front page of the next issue of your paper to correct your statement.

Very truly yours,
Herbert J. Scott.

Editor's note:—According to statements by certain prominent town officials, the state civil service act provides that the appointment of a veteran to a post under civil service is mandatory if he be among the first three persons in the results of the examination.

Mr. Scott is a past commander of George A. Younginger Post and has been prominent in the move for civil service here. At a recent meeting of the town commission, he protested the appointment of persons other than veterans to police department posts.

William Wells Ousted As Town Forester; Position Abolished By Shade Tree Board

Commission Will Suspend Activities November 1 For Lack Of Funds—$4,540 Already Spent This Year For Belleville Trees

The position of town forester was abolished by the shade tree commission, consisting of Edward A. Evers, Nicholas Burde and C. Milton Donnelly, at a special meeting Wednesday night. William Wells has held the post since 1912. The action takes effect November 1.

The commission announced that it is suspending all activities on that date for lack of funds. Mr. Evers, who was appointed to the board last week by Town Commissioner Joseph King and elected president Monday night, announced that $4,540 has already been spent on shade trees this year, and the commission has only $500 left in its treasury, from which October expenses and salaries must yet be met.

"Mr. Wells received more than $10,000 for the town in the last ten years for the use of his equipment," declared Mr. Evers.

"Up to the last three years he got $8.50 a day for the use of his truck and equipment," said Mr. Burde. "I could buy all necessary equipment, including a new truck, for $1,000. In 1928 Mr. Wells received almost $2,000 for the use of his equipment. This led to charges of extravagance against this board, and the result was a cut in our appropriation from $6,500 a year to $3,300. Since that time Mr. Wells has received $1,500 a year for part time work, and $500 a year for equipment. Under the circumstances, I urged the abolition of the forester's position."

"We can well afford to buy our own equipment, rather than pay for the use of that of the forester," commented Mr. Evers.

The commission voted to ask Mr. Wells to return all equipment in his possession which is owned by the town. The forester told the board Monday that the only equipment owned by the town is several ladders and a few lengths of rope, but the commission will ask an accounting of pruning shears, wedges, axes, saws and other implements, purchased a few months ago, which Mr. Wells said were "lost or destroyed by ERA laborers."

$1,900 Embezzlement Charged To Woman

Mrs. Harriet Grimm of New York, formerly of Melweg street, this town, was arrested here Wednesday on charges of embezzlement of $1,900 made by Frank Gerino, proprietor of a gasoline station at 384 Franklin avenue.

Gerino claims that he loaned Mrs. Grimm the money to invest in the stock market a year ago, and did not see her since that time. She denied the charges. Recorder Everett B. Smith set bail at $1,000 Wednesday night, pending a hearing.

Glee Club Meets in Fourth Rehearsal

Concert to Be Held in High School on December 19

The Belleville Glee Club met for the fourth rehearsal of the winter season last Monday evening in assembly hall of Wallace and Tier Company building, Main street. The program to be presented on December 19 in the High School promises to be even better than the concert given last February which every one seemed to enjoy so much. The date of concert this year will come in Christmas season and will give club the opportunity of presenting sixteen and seventeen tury Christmas carols of other tries to add to the Yuletide festivity.

The intensely dramatic story, "The robber and the landlady's black daughter, Bess," will be sung, for the first time in Belleville at this concert. This is Mark Andrews' musical setting of Alfred Noyes' ballad "The Highwayman," for male chorus and soprano solo, which records the loyalty and devotion and finally the death of the two lovers. A thrilling story with a wonderfully descriptive musical accompaniment.

There is still an opportunity for good singers to become members of the club, especially baritone and basses. Frank Scherer, the director, will meet any one interested before the rehearsal next evening.

Hartley Charges Smith "Straddles Bonus Issue"

Speaking at the First Ward Republican Club, Newark, Tuesday night, Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., charged William Herda Smith with straddling the immediate payment of the Soldiers' Bonus issue. Hartley referred to Smith's answer the night previous when he was asked his stand on the bonus at a meeting of the Third Ward Democratic Club of Harrison. Thomas Leen, a veteran and active Democratic worker in that town asked Smith if elected to Congress would he vote for the immediate payment of the bonus and the Democratic candidate answered: "I am a veteran first, last and all the time, does that satisfy you?" Leen insisted he was not satisfied and continued: "I want an answer, yes or no, don't dodge the question."

Smith then declared that if elected he would vote according to the dictates of his own conscience, but that his vote would always be cast in the interest of veterans.

Lee pressed for a more definite answer and when it was not forthcoming charged Smith with straddling the issue.

Hartley in discussing the incident said he was not surprised at his opponent's stand as "he has taken no definite stand on any question and is attempting to go to Washington by declaring his unqualified support of President Roosevelt."

The Congressman declared the President had publicly made known his opposition to the payment of the bonus and charged Smith with attempting to win votes by dodging all issues.

Blackstock, Mat Villain, Will Meet Sandor Szabo

Marshall Blackstock, the super villain of the mat, may have his number hung out tonight at Columbia Park, indoor boxing arena located on the Hudson Boulevard, North Bergen. Blackstock, who has successfully earned the undying enmity of most of the Jersey mat fans because of his aggressive tactics, created a lively stir last week in the same ring when he feigned the role of the Good Samaritan after knocking out Joe Tonti. As Tonti lay helpless on the canvas Blackstock went over and picked him up after the bout was over on the pretext of carrying him from the ring. After gathering his victim in his burlly arms, he lifted him about five feet from the floor and hurled him back to the mat while the fans sat there flabbergasted at this unusual spectacle.

Those who saw that startling piece of business are coming back in droves in the hope of seeing Blackstock get a grand old tossing around from Szabo, who specializes in taming wild men of this species.

Committee Named By Philip Dettelbach For Chest Campaign Special Gifts Group Has Already Started Work In Drive

Philip Dettelbach, former town commissioner and in charge of the special gifts committee of the forthcoming Community Chest drive, announced yesterday that the roster of the committee has been completed, and that the following are members: Theodore Sanford, Russell Rose, Edmund Rung, A. A. Buckley, William H. Williams, Herbert V. Hardman, W. Brand Smith, Harvey B. Thompson, James Whitmore, John DeGraw, William Irvine, Ernest Reock, Joseph King, George Kaden, R. S. Bicknell, Dr. D. W. Kavanaugh, Nathan Berger, Mrs. William P. Adams, Harry G. Specht, Bertha Kline, John Weidman, Willard Sawyer, D. I. Boyd.

Although the Community Chest drive does not officially commence until November 1, already the solicitors in the special gifts committee have started their work. The special gifts committee usually obtains 40 per cent of the contributions of the drive. Mr. Dettelbach expresses confidence that this will be a better year than the previous year as far as the special gifts division of the campaign is concerned.

George H. Weston, chairman of the house to house division of the drive, in a statement declared that there will be at least 300 workers soliciting contributions throughout the town in the block to block drive. Mr. Weston has requested every solicitor who has been active for the past five years to again aid in the work, and has added many names to this list.

The Local Government League, which this year has charge of publicity and also contributions from civic and fraternal organizations, met last night at the town hall, and under the guidance of Herbert Schmutz, who is chairman of both of the above named activities, formulated plans for publicity and solicitations of the clubs and organizations of Belleville.

12 Motorists Fined By Recorder Smith Reckless Driving Costs Paterson Youth $16 In Court

Belleville's safety drive continued this week when many motorists were arrested by Motorcycle Patrolmen Kenneth Smith and Emerson Bush. Operators of twelve cars were fined for various offenses by Recorder Everett B. Smith Wednesday night.

Gilbert La Vorgna of 48 Eleventh avenue, Paterson, was found guilty of reckless driving and fined $16. It was charged he passed a street car in Washington avenue on the right-hand side.

When James O'Leary of 3 Rea avenue, Hawthorne, explained that he was unable to pay a $6 fine for speeding, as he was on relief, the court revoked his driver's license thirty days.

Ten other motorists paid fines for speeding, passing red traffic lights and improper parking. A total of $45 in fines was collected.

Raymond Formato of 2 Lake street was charged by Joseph Knodel of 326 Stephens street with backing a truck into Knodel's child, who was playing on the sidewalk in Stephens street near his home. Formato denied that his truck injured the child, but said he gave the child 10 cents because it was crying when he drove up. Judge Smith delayed the hearing until next Wednesday to await a report on the child's injuries and to allow both sides to summon witnesses.

Belleville, Nutley And Bloomfield Reach Tentative Agreement On Sanitary Sewer Compromise Pact Would Have Belleville Pay $20,000 And Bloomfield, $10,000 Of Cost Of Existing Outlet Owned By Nutley

Belleville, Nutley and Bloomfield public works officials, at a conference Saturday in Belleville, reached a tentative compromise agreement on the sums to be paid Nutley for the use of a trunk sewer as an outlet for a joint sanitary sewer to drain sections of the three towns.

Director Frederick H. Young and Public Works Superintendent Dudley R. Shepard of Nutley at first suggested that Belleville and Bloomfield should pay proportions of the cost of the Nutley trunk since its construction, including maintenance and interest on bonds, which would make Belleville's share $35,000.

Since Belleville and Nutley felt the figure was too high, Mayor Clyde Potts of Morristown was called in as a disinterested engineer, and set amounts of $23,395 for Belleville and $11,198 for Bloomfield. Engineers Matthew J. Sheehan of Belleville and Joseph W. Obreiter of Bloomfield still objected, but compromise figures of $20,000 for Belleville and $10,000 for Bloomfield were tentatively accepted by Commissioner Young Saturday.

The agreements must still be ratified by town governing bodies.

Director Patrick A. Waters of Belleville is anxious to reach final agreements on the joint sewer, as it is planned to do the work by ERA labor, and plans must be submitted to SERA officials in the near future if the project is to be approved this winter.

The apportionment of the cost of connecting lines will be the subject of a conference next week.

Belleville plans to use 10 per cent of the capacity of the Nutley sewer and Bloomfield, 5 per cent. Sewage would be metered at points where it would enter the Nutley sewer, and the contributing municipalities would pay for the flow in proportion. Metering would be necessary because Nutley pays for the sewage discharged from the trunk into the Passaic Valley sewer.

It would be possible, from an engineering standpoint, to construct a trunk sewer through Belleville to carry the sewage, but Mr. Sheehan and Mr. Obreiter are agreed that the cost would be prohibitive.

PUBLIC INSPECTION

It is a common saying in the business world that in order to get on, people must sell themselves. With this end in view, the Director of Public Safety has set tomorrow (Saturday) as a day of inspection for the citizens of Belleville to visit Police Headquarters and the several Fire Houses and see how these departments are carried on.

Police headquarters is on the first floor of the Town Hall where Chief Flynn and his men will be glad to greet you. Here you may see the armory, the controls of the signal system, that most interesting apparatus (the teletype machine, which simultaneously covers six states) and you may even find out how it feels to be in a jail cell, if you so desire.

The several firehouses are at Washington and Division avenues, on William and on Franklin streets. At these buildings the members of the Department, headed by Chief Hirdes and Assistant Chief Reid, will be pleased to show you around. Headquarters with the most apparatus is at Division avenue. For those who are technically minded, the chief electrical control of the town is at the William street house, and at Franklin street is perhaps the most modern interior of all. At any of these you may try out your youth by sliding the pole.

The hours of inspection are from 2 to 9 P. M. and it is hoped that a large number of citizens will appear to see how the wheels go around. It is well known, both at home and abroad, that Belleville has efficient police and fire departments, of which we are all proud. Come and see for yourselves how it looks and you will be prouder still. Account will be kept of the visitors and officials shall judge your interest in those who protect your lives and property by the numbers that appear.

ROAD FOG

Fog upon the highway is getting to be almost as deadly as that upon the sea. The average automobile of today has three or four times the speed of those a dozen years ago. To go coursing through foggy roads at daytime speeds is tremendously dangerous. Our roads are apt to be twisted and turning. This adds to the danger.

Motorists agree that the roads which have a white line in them are safer in fog. The driver can keep his relative position and has warning of curves. It would be well to keep this in mind in future road construction.

EATING MORE

Americans are eating more. This is evident from the report on the grocery trade by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., which shows that there has been an increase in the consumption of foods. Last year, the report says, the consumption of food amounted to around 90,000,000 tons, for which the public paid approximately $18,000,000,000. But food consumption is greater this year. The unit output of nearly all manufacturers and packers is in advance of last year. Of course, it must be that the ERA and other relief units of the government are responsible in part by making more money available and seeing to it that people do not go hungry. The report would give the impression that there cannot be much real hunger.

WITH US AGAIN

Another of the blessings bestowed by the climate of the northeastern part of the United States is with us again. Indian Summer was first discovered by the Pilgrims in 1621. It is said to have received its name from the fact that it was predicted by the aboriginal inhabitants of the country. When the Pilgrims began to board up their cabins and cut winter stores of firewood at the time of the first frosts, they were advised by their Indian neighbors that another period of warmth would follow in the latter part of October and the early part of November.

Today, living as we are in a section which is not predominantly agricultural, Indian Summer fails to mean as much to us as to the early settlers, but it is still a pleasure to be able to enjoy the open air for a brief period before the icy blasts of winter set in. But, beware, a balmy morning which at this season sends one from his home without an overcoat may be a false omen, and a sudden change may send the mercury downward ere nightfall.

The Forum

HEISLEY LETTER

Editor of The News:

You are my adviser in so many things, now tell me if this is poetry: "Take my advice, Think o'er it twice, Use common sense, Ere you take her out, On only fifty cents."

When invited the young lady demurred. She wasn't hungry, so she said. He had only fifty cents, but thinking he ran no risk, he renewed the invitation. He'd often crossed thin ice, as a skater and thought he'd parallel the performance, now. But, then, he did not know that the girl came of a race which, like Indian dogs, ate themselves thin. He was chagrined to observe into what the supposed tidbit developed. Even in Nick the Greek's place the meal's cost represented a buck and a half. The young man lost most of his sang froid as he negotiated with Nick to pay up the lacking buck on Saturday.

The depression as a subject is likely to bore the reader. Maybe it won't this time, however, if we think of it—the depression, I mean—as being over. Supposing this to be so. It is as though Saturday had come, and like the young man we have paid off Nick the Greek, and at the same time we are not going to invite that girl out again, even though we have many times fifty cents in our jeans. In other words we are not going to repeat such mistakes. That's the recovery talk. We shall be more than merely ordinary performers on the trapeze. We shall put such pep into our revolutions that we shall seem to go in opposite directions at the same time, tying up our purse strings and with the same motion scattering out the hoarded coins, for you know we may not contravene any governmental policy. One of these is that the usual standard should be maintained; that money should be kept in circulation and trade improved.

It would take the canniness of a Scot to operate the trapeze in this manner. Turning for ourselves to a Scottish phrase we'd have to say, "We hae our doots," if it could be done, since about two thirds of the experiments end in failure. With that prudence which makes the medical prescription writer resort to abbreviated Latin names, I here conclude my advice about the times and seasons.

I want to urge you, one and all, or most all, to get an abridged dictionary of the English language, and consult it before using any unfamiliar word in conversation, or in a public speech. For instance, I remember what good advice a radio speaker gave a week or so ago about fire prevention. I also remember how he mispronounced ally like alley, a small street, littered with tin cans, ash heaps and bundles of used newspapers and peopled with cats. The accent is on the last syllable and its terminal y is pronounced as i, thus al-li. Oh, to improve by one word—just one word—a day, making 365 words a year with an additional word for leap year! But you won't be able to do it if you have to lift the family Bible and Ridpath's History of the World off the still bulkier dictionary. You must have a conveniently small dictionary that you can get at easily. Our good editor will readily remember how it goes against the grain to unearth and excavate the old fashioned dictionary.

FREDERICK A. HEISLEY.

Dill Tax Plan Unsound, Designed to Fool Public Declares Harold Hoffman

Says Dill Takes 5,000 Words to Confuse Voters and Cover Up Fact He Has Already Foreclosed Mind Against Real Tax Reform. Designed to Benefit Hudson County at Expense of Rest of State. Ignores Desperate Needs of Schools. Hoffman Plan Reduced Expenses, Limitation of Real Estate Tax Rate, and Broadening of Tax Base.

TRENTON, N. J.—In a statement issued at his Trenton Headquarters today, Harold G. Hoffman, Republican candidate for Governor, said:

"On Thursday night, at Long Branch, Assemblyman Theron McCampbell, the tax relief crusader, who is a Democratic candidate for the Legislature, said, 'I hesitate to think what the Republicans—what Harold Hoffman will do to Dill's tax proposals. Dill stands for the things that give us absolutely no hope for tax relief."

HAROLD G. HOFFMAN

"My friends need have no fear that I will not take advantage of the opportunity that my opponent has afforded me. While I do not have anyone engaged to write my speeches for me, I do not recall having called my opponent's proposal 'hokum.' What I did say was that it was 'a sop' for the taxpayers, designed to cover up the fact that my opponent, on May 22d last, foreclosed his mind against the only honest and sound proposal to relieve the taxpayers of the State. Yet the more I study the so-called 'tax relief proposal,' the more I am convinced that this term may be properly applied to this plan.

"During the last four days I have been engaged in county tours and have only had an opportunity to make a superficial examination of my opponent's proposals. Within a few days, upon completion of my analysis, I will be prepared to show that this plan will not relieve the real estate taxpayers of the State; that it reflects an inadequate conception of the fiscal affairs of New Jersey and its municipalities; that it will retard industrial progress; that it will place an additional burden upon utility consumers who are now demanding relief; that it cannot result in the establishment of a municipal cash basis policy; that it includes provisions for new taxes, even though they may be called 'adjusted' taxes, and that it eliminates every vestige of home rule for municipalities. Nearly every phase of this proposal has been previously offered by the Reeves Commission, the Good Government Council, the Taxpayers Association, by Senator Barbour in his much-opposed Senate Bill No. 214 and in the Wolber Bond and Budget bills. In most of these cases, the recommendations were far more scientific than the so-called 'Dill proposal,' which is nothing more than a heterogeneous combination of many plans that have either been discarded or are still under consideration.

"While it is termed the 'Dill proposal,' it is actually the 'Stout proposal,' prepared by Senator Edward Stout, and designed to aid Jersey City, a municipality that is in default upon $6,000,000 of its bonds. It does not take into consideration the necessity for placing the fiscal affairs of our counties on an efficient basis. In spite of the fact that Hudson County owes the State of New Jersey five and a half million dollars in delinquent taxes.

"This proposal is an attempt to do the impossible, to settle the fiscal affairs of 550 municipalities, each with a different fiscal set-up, each with a different kind and type of debt load, with a blanket remedy, a great poultice for all the ills and sores that have crept into municipal finance for years back. No such blanket plan can hope to cure the ills of all of our municipalities. They must be met scientifically and the proper remedy applied to each, according to its condition and its financial structure.

"I understand that my opponent has said that I am not capable of understanding his plan. As far as I can learn, no one else is capable of understanding it, and I doubt if the Democratic candidate understands it himself. If he did understand it, he would not have submitted a proposal that is so unscientific and impracticable, and which is bound to draw the condemnation of every civic body which has made a study of taxation and is endeavoring to work out a plan of relief.

"Within the next week, I propose to give the voters of New Jersey a detailed analysis of my opponent's plan, to show its inadequacies and to compare it with my own plan, which is simple, honest and easily understandable.

"I have repeatedly stated that our salvation lies in curtailment of governmental expense, refunding operations under a plan similar to the Wolber Bond and Budget bills, an effort to increase our tax rates and a scientific broadening of the tax base, accompanied by the limitation of the tax rate on real estate and statutory provisions to insure the use of any additional revenues that may be necessary for the relief of existing tax burdens and not for additional spending."

Factfully Yours

— LILLIAN THOMAS —

There is a yew-tree in the churchyard at Fortingal, in Perthshire, which de Candolle, nearly a century ago, proved to the satisfaction of botanists to be over twenty-five centuries old, and another at Hedsor, in Bucias, which is three thousand two hundred and forty years old.

A German gastronomic publication gives the following account of the origin of the menu: At the meeting of electors in Regensburg in the year 1489, Elector Henry of Braunschweig attracted general notice at a state dinner. He had a long paper before him to which he referred every time before he ordered a dish. The Earl of Montfort, who sat near him, asked him what he was reading. The Elector silently handed the paper to his interrogator. It contained a list of the viands prepared for the occasion, which the Elector had ordered the cook to write out for him. The idea of having such a list so pleased the illustrious assembly that they introduced it each in his own household, and since that time, the fashion of having a menu has spread all over the civilized world.

Not until the time of the reformation was marriage sanctioned as a rite to be fittingly performed within a church. Prior to this the customary place was at the door of the church, and not within the sacred enclosure. As late as 1559, Elizabeth, daughter of Henry II, of France, was married to Phillip II. of Spain by the Bishop of Paris at the church door of Notre Dame. Mary Stuart had been married the year before to Dauphin on the same spot.

In a New York paper printed on the 10th of January, 1789, may be found the first piano advertisement ever published in New York. It reads: "John Jacob Astor, at 81 Queen st., next door to the Friends' Meeting House, has for sale an assortment of Piano Fortes of the newest construction, made by the best makers in London, which he will sell on reasonable terms. He gives cash for all kinds of furs, and has for sale a quantity of Canada Beaver, and Beaver Coating, Raccoon Skins, and Raccoon Blankets, Muskrats, etc., etc."

Public Service Issues Comparative Figures

A comparative statement of combined results of operations for the twelve months ending September 30, 1934, issued by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey showed that the balance available for dividends and surplus decreased $2,093,112.32 compared with the twelve months period ending September 30, 1933. For the month of September 1934, the balance available for dividends and surplus decreased $222,853.63 compared with September 1933.

Gross earnings for the twelve months were $119,786,727.46 as against $118,220,357.51 for the twelve months ending September 30, 1933. ## Library News

Now that the long cold winter nights are almost upon us, perhaps we are more inclined to sit at home in the evenings with a good book. That "good book" may mean one of the many worth while books that we have always meant to read, but have never attempted.

This week the library will set aside a number of those works which have been popular ever since they have been written. This group includes: "The Scarlet Letter," "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," "Vanity Fair," "Ben Hur," "Penrod," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," "My Antonia," "The Sketch Book," "The Virginian," "The Three Musketeers," "Moby Dick," and others.

Rugs and Hobbies Have Own Style Shows—New Skin Texture Stockings—Fall Hair Fashions—New Finger-Tip Atomizer—Eyelashes and Hats In Harmony

Something New in Style Shows

Rugs have a style show of their own! And, the way women have been flocking to see The Ardsley Style Show in stores throughout the country is further proof that they're interested in having their homes as smartly dressed as themselves.

Romance In Fall Hair Styles

Autumn and winter hair styles have gone completely romantic, with fetching ringlets and ears exposed. This is one of the attractive new styles, with emphasis on the health and sheen in the hair aside from permanent waving. Revitalization and reconditioning of the coiffure was done with the gableleen lanolin oil process, so generally in vogue.

Miss Edna Laird, a clerk in a Toledo scale company, and entered in a recent Hobby Show held at the Toledo Museum of Art, is shown with her Double Arrow quilt. Needlework rated as the most popular American hobby at this show. Miss Laird used twelve yards of material and 1500 yards of good strong cotton thread to make this quilt.

And Now Skin Texture Stockings

The next step beyond skin colors in stockings is skin texture. A special hosiery fabric has been developed with the smoothness, the soft glowing beauty of the human skin. Its effect on the leg, is infinitely flattering. Its secret is simple. These Rograin stockings are knitted insideout. The ribs are on the inside, while the surface you see is a fine-spun web that actually looks and feels like a second skin!

This patented hosiery has practical advantages too. It clings to the legs and keeps seams from twisting. It camouflages marks and blemishes. It resists runs. On the score of both beauty and utility, Rograin "skin-texture" stockings are a grand idea!

New Autumn Hat Styles

Here is one of the new smart hats for autumn wear. Because this style shades one eye, stylists emphasize the need for good eye-make, using maybelline mascara to give the eyelashes a luxuriant and fringed appearance. Attractive eyes are vital for the prevalent autumn hat styles.

Jack Benny Returns to Radio On New Sunday Night Program

Mary Livingstone, Frank Parker and Don Bestor's Band With Comedian

JACK BENNY, star comedian of radio, screen and stage, is back on the air Sunday evenings over the NBC-Blue chain. With him you'll hear Mary Livingstone, Frank Parker, tenor, and Don Bestor's orchestra. The suave comic has just had his first vacation in more than a year.

The nation's newspapers have acclaimed Benny as radio's No. 1 funnyman. When he started to make his living as an entertainer Jack thought he was going to be a violinist. During the war he gave a benefit performance and had to ask for contributions. The audience didn't applaud his fiddling but they did laugh at his remarks. So when he left the service and returned to the vaudeville stage, he put more talk and less violin into his act. Eventually he stopped playing altogether and became a stellar monologist and master-of-ceremonies.

Benny was drafted by radio in 1932 and immediately scored a success. His pleasant and easy-going manner built him a large following in every section of the country. One of his secrets is that he doesn't take all the best lines for himself. He lets members of his troupe make jokes at his expense.

This fall and winter will find him starred in three different spheres of the entertainment world. In addition to his Sunday radio broadcasts, he will play the leading role in a new Broadway play entitled "Bring On the Girls." A new film, "Transatlantic Merry-Go-Round," featuring Benny's antics, will be released soon.

Jack Benny and Mary Livingstone broadcast every Sunday night over the Blue NBC network. Mary is Mrs. Benny in private life.

Frank Parker also will appear with Benny in the motion picture, which is a mystery-comedy. The tenor is one of the most popular personalities on the airwaves and cuts a dashing figure on the fashionable Long Island polo fields. The distinctive dance melodies turned out by conductor Bestor and his men have found high favor not only with radio listeners but also with the patrons of New York's exclusive restaurants.

LIFE-LONG DEMOCRAT, URGES ELECTION OF H. G. HOFFMAN

Fitzhugh Lee Minnegerode

Interest in New Jersey's gubernatorial election goes far beyond the border lines of the state, and is reflected in the mail that comes to the desk of Harold G. Hoffman, the Republican candidate. Hoffman's associations have been national as a Motor Vehicle Commissioner, and in nearly every state those who have been associated with him in the safety field, where he is recognized as one of the outstanding administrators, are intensely interested in his election.

Hoffman's military associations and his period of service in Congress made him thousands of friends throughout the country; friends who are "rooting" for his election. One of Hoffman's most-treasured letters comes from San Antonio, Texas, from

Colonel Fitzhugh Lee Minnegerode, who commanded the 114th Infantry in France. Minnegerode, who was personally commissioned by the late President Theodore Roosevelt won the Distinguished Service Medal in the Philippines and in the World War he received the Distinguished Service Cross, two Croix de Guerres, and the medal of the Legion of Honor. After the war he became the European Representative of The New York Times. His letter to Commissioner Hoffman follows:

"Dear Harold: As a Virginia Democrat and one who never voted the Republican ticket in his life I want to tell you that were I a New Jersey voter I would leave the Democratic fold and go for you hook, line and sinker! Were it possible I would even take the stump and urge all New Jersey Democrats to do likewise.

As your old Regimental Commander I think I know enough about you to guarantee to the people of your state a courageous, loyal and highly sensible administration.

If you display in your political battles the same fearlessness and character and hard sense that you displayed before Verdun no one could doubt the success of your tenure as Governor of your State.

I liked you as a soldier because of your happy nature combined with a fine courage and an unusual ability. I admire your good sportsmanship and your winning personality.

God bless you old man and may He put you where you belong in the Governor's chair in Trenton.

With every good wish and a prayer for your success, as always,

Your friend

Fitzhugh Lee Minnegerode, Colonel U. S. Army, retired War Commander 114th Inf."

Tax Plan Offered By Dill Is "Crazy" Says McCampbell

In the opinion of Assemblyman Theron McCampbell, militant Democratic candidate for reelection, the tax platform of William L. Dill, his own party's candidate for Governor, is "a fatal mistake" and "shaped by persons who have not learned the 'A. B. C.'s of tax reform."

His attack surprised members of the Freehold Democratic Club, to whom the remarks were addressed. McCampbell declared that he would go to Judge Dill and Mayor Frank Hague, Democratic overlords of Jersey City, to ask them to alter the program.

Dill's announced aim is to bring about a seven-point reduction in tax bills, but McCampbell declared that the method is "unworkable and unworkable and will give Harold Hoffman, Republican, Candidate for Governor, the golden opportunity of his campaign."

Rutgers Pays Tribute To Jersey Journalists

Outstanding Service To Journalism Cited Bound Brook And Summit Publishers Given Medals

For "outstanding service to journalism," Rutgers University honored two members of the New Jersey Press Association last week when, at the Newspaper Institute, President Robert C. Clothier conferred the Rutgers University Award upon William B. R. Mason of Bound Brook, and John W. Clift of Summit.

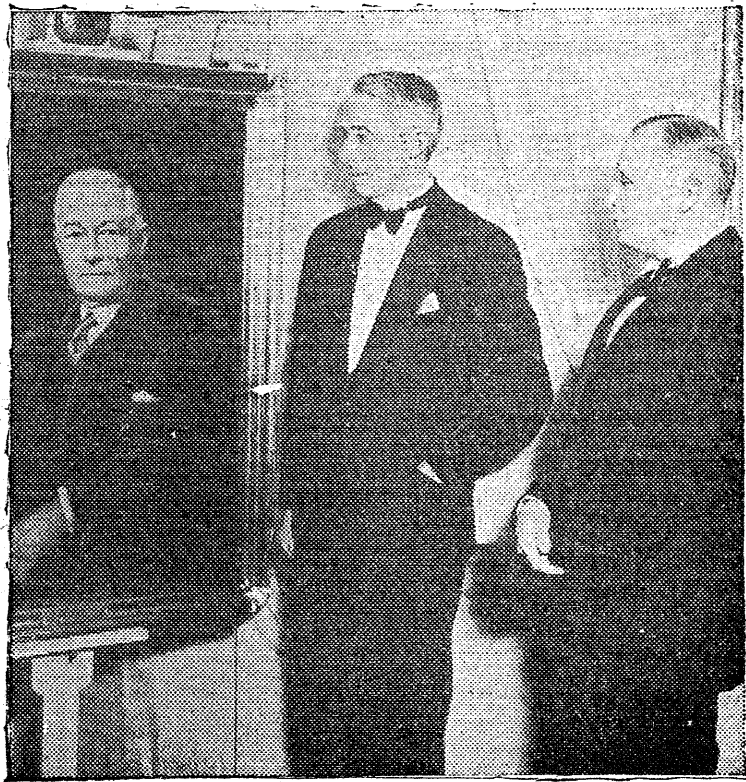

In presenting the bronze medal to Mr. Mason, President Clothier said in part: "For half a century, you have been the outstanding editor and publisher in your community and you have used the prestige and influence which have been yours to build strongly its material and spiritual resources. To your efforts may be traced the origin and development of many agencies and institutions devoted to the public welfare."

"We need citizens like you who are thoughtful of self, and seeking no reward, regard position as opportunity to serve and life itself as an adventure in friendship."

The following citation was read by Mr. Clothier in making the presentation to Mr. Clift: "It is a distinguished achievement to follow one's profession for over fifty years and in doing so to serve his state and his community as you have served yours. Especially is this true in the field of journalism where a sympathetic understanding of human nature is needed, and social integrity above questioning and a far seeing grasp of the great forces which are moulding our national destiny."

"During your seven years in the New Jersey legislature, you stood uncompromisingly for clean and efficient government, in the affairs of the New Jersey Press Association, as president and as treasurer, you have discharged endless duties cheerfully and with no thought of self, and have advanced the best interests of your profession, the influence and prestige of the Association may be traced largely to your endeavors."

Mr. Mason has been treasurer of the New Jersey Press Association for thirty-three years. Before he began his service in that position he was elected vice-president in 1891 and president in 1899. He has been publisher and editor of the Bound Brook Chronicle since 1884 and Rudolph Lent, (right) representing the New Jersey Press Association, presents to the Rutgers Department of Journalism a portrait of the late Dr. Allen Sinclair Will, founder and until his death head of the Department. as such has been instrumental in the remarkable growth and development of that town. He has been very active in the various civic affairs of Bound Brook.

Mr. Clift was elected vice-president of the N. J. P. A. in 1904 and in 1905 he became its president. In 1906 he was elected a member of its executive committee and has been a member of that committee ever since. He became in 1909 the secretary of the association, which office he continues to fill.

He was dean of the New Jersey House of Assembly for the four years ended in 1928. He was elected a member of the House in 1921 and was re-elected annually for six years, declining reelection in 1928 on the ground that he had served in that capacity long enough. He has been active in a number of other positions. He was for many years editor and publisher of the Summit Herald and since its incorporation in 1921 he has been president of the Summit Herald Publishing Company. In this capacity he has been active in the civic and industrial development of Summit.

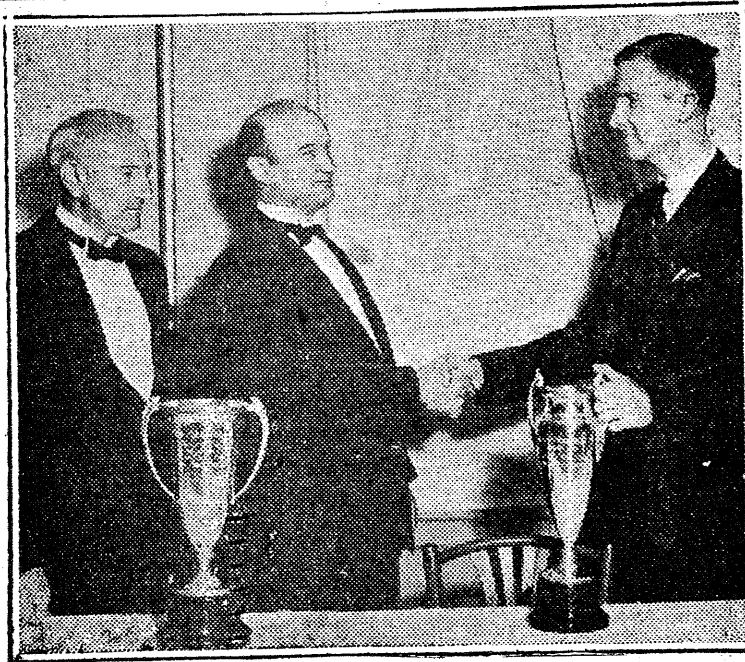

On behalf of the New Jersey Press

Association, Mr. Rudolph Lent, of the Jersey Journal, presented to Rutgers at the banquet session of the Institute a portrait of the late Dr. Allen Sinclair Will, founder and until his death head of the Rutgers department of journalism.

Trophies for general excellence were presented to the Newark Evening News and to the Hunterdon County Democrat.

Science Reveals Why Eyesight Fades As Birthdays Increase

Of all men and women past 60 years of age, 62% have defective eyesight. Such is the penalty that man pays for his compromise with nature. Neglected teeth may be replaced, but damaged eyesight at best can be only partially restored. Good sight, and, properly fitted, eyeglasses are a great boon to old people. Since the pupils of their eyes are only one-third as large as those of young people, they need at least three times as much light in order to have an even break in seeing.

The average child is born with normal sight. All too soon, however, he begins to use his eyes for close seeing tasks, such as looking at pictures or playing with toys, often under poor lighting. Eyestrain and ocular defects are quick to result. No child should be permitted to use his eyes for close work under any but the best of visual conditions. Abundant, glareless light should always be provided, and the child's eyes examined frequently by a competent specialist.

Thousands of young men and women in schools and colleges throughout the country are needlessly wearing out their eyes long writing and study. They intended that eyes be used for looking at distant objects, under large amounts of natural daylight. When a child does close visual work indoors under inadequate and glaring light in defiance of Nature's laws, he pays the penalty in eye defects. Statistics show that one out of every five children in grammar school has defective vision.

Candidates Address Republican Women

Support Of Entire G. O. P. Ticket Is Urged By Speakers

At the meeting of the Belleville Woman's Republican Club held last Thursday afternoon, at the Woman's Club House, 51 Rossmore place, speakers were Mrs. Olive C. Sanford and Mrs. Constance W. Hand of the assembly ticket, Representative Fred A. Hartley, Mrs. Edith Hyde Colby and Roy W. Wright, candidates for freeholder; Fred Herrigel Jr., candidate for surrogate, and Mrs. Abbie Magee, vice chairman of the Essex County Republican organization. Mrs. Magee stressed the importance of the complete Republican election. Mrs. John F. O'Brien Jr., president of the Woman's Republican Club, who has been appointed official speaker for Kean and Hoffman, by campaign representative John Scott, spoke of the importance of the entire ticket, and asked for support of it in full, by all. She also stressed the point that there is only one Republican ticket in the field. Mrs. Colby spoke of her former acquaintance with Mrs. O'Brien, when as members of the Essex County Woman's Republican Club, they visited Essex County institutions, under Mrs. Elizabeth A. Harris, and of how she, Mrs. Colby received the inspiration, that she would like to become a freeholder.

Mrs. O'Brien is planning to give instruction on the political field and the importance of politics, and feels it should be given a place in the curriculum of schools and taught to children, that they may learn of the importance of politics, and the necessity of entering it, also. Mrs. O'Brien is also planning some debates for the club in the near future. Mrs. Emily J. Mayer, newly appointed program chairman of the club, received the guests and Mrs. William H. K. Davey, first vice president, poured at the tea, which followed the meeting. At the next meeting of the club to be held on Thursday afternoon, November 8, Mrs. Harriet Colton will talk on "Election Laws." The board of directors is in charge of a card party to be held on Friday evening, November 2, at the Kean-Hoffman headquarters, 475 Washington avenue. Mrs. Ida A. Hammell is chairman and Mrs. Caspar A. Ebert is chairman of awards. Tickets are popularly priced at 25 cents.

Told to Leave Town

George Washington was advised to leave town by Recorder Everett B. Smith Wednesday night, but it was not the famed "father of his country," but one George Washington, colored of 45 Ashland terrace, East Orange. He was charged by police with having been drunk and disorderly Sunday, but was released with a reprimand by the court, as he had already spent three days in a cell awaiting a hearing.

School Girls Say "Cheese It!" to Nation's Big Surplus!

Cheese for breakfast, cheese for luncheon, cheese for dinner! How to use it three meals a day, seven days a week—during National Cheese Week—without a single "repeat" dish is the home economics project undertaken by Audrey Lange and Adelle Baruck of Nicholas Senn High School in Chicago. Taking their share of the nation's cheese surplus, they're testing cheese dishes in order to make up their entry lists in the unique Cheese Week menu contest for high school girls which is an important part of the program of National Cheese Week, November 11 to 17. High school girls all over the country are asked to help use up the nation's surplus of cheese by thinking of interesting new ways of using it on the day's menu. According to the rules of the contest, each girl is to make out a complete week's menu, indicating as many different cheese dishes as she can include, fitting them into their proper places on the menu. The nation's cheese industry is offering more than 400 prizes for best lists. All entries are to be mailed to the National Cheese Institute, Plymouth, Wisconsin, postmarked not later than midnight, November 8.

ABOUT HAIR AND HAIR TREATMENTS

You may be one of millions who has wasted time, hope, money on "tonics" and treatments... Now Charles Nessler, inventor of the permanent wave, leading hair scientist, author of "Story of Hair", makes a simple but revolutionary discovery that ends

BALDNESS • DANDRUFF

OILINESS • THINNING HAIR

In the past, tonics and treatments tried to stop hair from falling. That is as useless as to try to stop an animal from shedding! What you must do is make your scalp replace the hair that falls—in short, complete the hair growing cycle. It is on that scientific principle that Charles Nessler's Pro-Ker is based. 30,000 tests have proved that 'Pro-Ker' produces results. Hair for hair, it makes the scalp replace falling hair with new hair. ## When Your Wife Begins Her Day!

WHEN your wife begins her day does she look forward to a morning filled with arduous household tasks? Or does she anticipate an easy and efficient completion of her day's work with plenty of time for herself and her children—knowing that the electric service in her home will eliminate much of the burden of housekeeping?

Modern housekeeping methods do much to eliminate the drudgery and burden that once were the lot of the homemaker. One great essential in modern housekeeping methods is electric service—a dependable, economical servant.

The electric vacuum cleaner which cleans the rugs, upholstery and drapes; electric washer and ironer which do the laundry; electric dishwasher; electric mixer; electric refrigerator; electric illumination, radio, various electric table appliances.

All these things have a place in modern housekeeping. And their use costs little while the conveniences they bring mean much.

No other item in the household budget gives so much for so little as electricity.

Varsity Club Battles Cyclones To 6-6 Tie Elevens Reach Deadlock In Bitterly Fought Contest

Before the largest crowd of the season, the Nutley Varsity Club and the Newark Cyclones footballers battled to a 6-6 deadlock last Sunday afternoon at Feuerbach Park. The contest was bitterly fought from start to finish and several times the hard play of the contenders and several disputed decisions seemed to have gotten beyond control of the officials.

The game was the Maroons' third consecutive tie contest, although the local players acquitted themselves well against the fiery Newarkers, who were immediately booked for another local appearance on November 11.

The visitors scored the first touchdown of the game in the first quarter. The game was under way five minutes when the Cyclones took the ball on an exchange of kicks on Nutley's 45-yard line. In two vicious line thrusts the Cyclones netted two first downs and then Jim Panico tore off Nutley's left end for another first deep in Nutley territory. The localites held twice at the goal line, but on the third try Panico made the score. Casalino's attempted placement for the extra point was low, giving the Newarkers a 6-0 lead.

The Varsity went to town in the second period. Starting at midfield, the Maroon juggernaut swept into action. Archie Scotland ripped off three yards, the irrepressible Tony San Giacomo added six more and Alex Baykowski knifed through for a first down. Then Sparky Jones reeled off 18 yards on a dash through tackle and added eight more on another reverse. In two plays Baykowski made the two yards for a first down, and then Scotty lugged the ball five yards to the visitors' 5-yard stripe. Baykowski bucked the line twice, making the touchdown by inches on his second try. His placement kick, however, was partially blocked and the score remained 6-6.

The third quarter was mostly a kicking duel between Johnny Bridges and Baykowski of the Varsity and Fazzini of the Cyclones, with the latter having a slight edge. Blackie San Giacomo was the only Nutleyite to gain yardage effectively in this period, which saw only one first down apiece for the rival teams.

In the final period the Cyclones got a break when one of Baykowski's quick kicks was blocked and recovered by Casalino, who started touchdownward. He slugged a Nutley player in his efforts to get away, and when the officials hesitated as to whether it was slugging, unnecessary roughing or ordinary pushing the teams and the fans were in a turmoil for more than five minutes. After a conference the Cyclones were penalized only fifteen yards and the game was resumed. The aroused Nutleyites stopped any further Newark advances and the visitors kicked. Nutley returned the compliment and in the closing few moments the visitors tried scoring by way of the aerial route.

The alert Blackie San Giacomo intercepted one of these heaves and eluded all but one Cyclone tackler, who forced him out of bounds. On the next play Baykowski tossed to Pint Sentner for a 30-yard gain, but the final whistle ended the contest. Joe Ciccone, Porky Browning and Clem VanHorn played stellar games in the Maroon line, while Jimmy Rodgers, former Barringer and St. Benedict's all-star performer, was a wow on the Cyclones forward wall. ## Late Rally Nets Central 6-6 Tie With Nutley High Poor Kick Paves Way for Blue and White Touchdown

A fighting Central High School football team rallied after trailing for three periods and tied Nutley High, 6 to 6, Columbus Day at Newark School Stadium. The Blue and White was outplayed for the major part of the game, but made several goal line stands and took advantage of some breaks that led to a score.

It seemed that Central was in for a trouncing in the first period when Nutley drove from midfield to the ten-yard line as a result of line smashes and end runs by Dick O'Neill and Ken O'Connor. Central held for three downs, but then Charley Honce flipped a pass to O'Neill for a touchdown. Honce's forward for the extra point missed its mark.

Two intercepted forward passes and a kicking duel between Honce for Nutley and Ed Cameron for Central featured the second period. Early in the quarter O'Connor intercepted Cameron's pass on Nutley's 35 but the visitors didn't go very far. Later Central's advance was again impeded when Ray Peccatiello, Nutley's right end, intercepted Robertello's pass at midfield. Both kickers were off form, neither averaging more than twenty-five yards.

Nutley had a good opportunity to score early in the second half when Honce's pass to Kirk gained 20 yards and put the ball on the 17-yard line. After reaching the seven-yard line, Honce literally threw away his team's chances when he tried a forward pass on first down. Then the Central line repulsed two line smashes and Schneider's team took the ball on downs.

Central scored in the middle of the last period after Cameron got off a kick to Nutley's 15. Joe Dispensiere made a poor boot on his own 20 and the homesters proceeded to the eight-yard mark when Cameron's pass to Maso Ryans was completed. Nutley braced then and took the ball on downs. Dispensiere's kick went high in the air and was carried back by the wind at the goal line. Cameron's plunge through center was good for six points but Central failed to go in the lead when Mike Respond's drop kick went wide of its mark.

Nutley was aided considerably by the fine blocking of George Saunders, 134-pound quarterback, and the tackling of Johnny Kirk. Cameron, Paul Devone and Ryans were the Central strong men.

Trained Steer A Feature Of Madison Square Garden Rodeo

BOBBY, the only trained steer in existence, has proved one of the big features of the World Championship Rodeo, now running at Madison Square Garden, New York City.

Bobby was an outlaw steer on the cattle ranges of Oklahoma. He was used as a bucking steer in rodeo performances. Apparently his disposition was permanently sour. But his owner, Monte Reger, started to train him, and in two years Bobby has become perfectly docile. He can be saddled and ridden, and will draw a sulky. In the hundreds of times he has jumped automobiles, he has never touched one of the cars with a hoof. He has traveled 60,000 miles, has appeared in the movies and likes life in a big city.

Shikat And Dusek Maul Each Other In Ninety-Minute Mat Draw Bout

Former World's Champion And Omaha Grappler Pack
A Full House Into Laurel Garden
Burping Academy

Dick Shikat, former world's champion heavyweight wrestler, and Rudy Dusek, grimacing Omaha, battled to a ninety-minute draw Tuesday evening in Newark Laurel Garden. This terse statement only serves to tell a brief story, however, of the punishment meted out to the Garden "villain" Rudy by Shikat, who gave the westerner a mauling that met with approval of the Hoi Polloi, which practically to a man and a woman for that matter ached to see Dusek ground into the dust.

Shikat, who weighed 223, hauled Dusek, 215, to the canvass in an interesting first fall session, which consumed 38 minutes and 53 seconds before he used two body slams and a body press to win, but he was tumbled himself in the second with a body press after 22 minutes, 30 seconds.

The falls were crammed full of action, but Shikat, subbing for Jim Browning, who is troubled with an eye ailment, grappled evenly with his rival in the deciding fall.

Dusek's stock in trade, a kidney punch with doubled fist, which is against the rules—if there be any—was much in evidence which Referee Parsonet found it difficult to see for some reason or other. Dusek has a few more tricks that have made him the "hate" of the garden. Before a match his gesticulations to the referee as regards kneeling, gouging and tossing out of the ring would shame many another ham actor. Rudy employs all of these things and more to flatten an opponent, all of which makes him about the most unpopular rope besecher to appear in these parts. Not only are the regulars yelling for his scalp but they would be glad—a majority of them—to see Rudy relegated to the "penny ante league" or even Boston where burpers are burpers and the gate crashers like it.

Shikat gave Rudy a shelling such as the westerner has seldom seen. On one occasion Rudy was wrapped up along the ropes with his head emmeshed in them. Just to give Rudy's neck the proper twist Dick decided to stomp on the ropes on another side of the ring, which had a decided effect on winsome Rudy's neck. Parsonet finally came to Rudy's rescue. Rudy played a tattoo of blows on Shikat's kidneys to take the second fall much to the chagrin of the attendance.

As the third match started Shikat had Rudy seeking the ropes, corners and if there had been one handy to jump over to escape punishment a back yard fence. Shikat pummeled Rudy's ribs a la Rudy style until Rudy ran and ran and ran, as only Rudy Dusek can run. Dusek was irked at the start as Shikat stole the Ohahan's thunder of musing his own neatly plastered locks. Shikat smeared the hair-comb and followed up with a tug at Rudy's hair, gradually sliding a huge Shikat hand to Rudy's physiognomy (mush to youse guys). At this stage of proceedings, Dick planted his other paw kersmack on top of the one on Rudy's face. Rudy quivered like a falling leaf and rocked into a corner, which rocking and reeling continued until the bell ended the third session without a verdict.

Both wrestlers spilled out of the ring and Rudy tried to pull Shikat to the floor as the former champ clambered back into the ring. He partially succeeded in this unsportsmanlike gesture which cost Sandor Szabo his match with Dusek last week. Shikat was too smart for Rudy, however, and got back into the ring, fighting mad, which caused Rudy to turn pale around the gills.

Scotty Mac Dougal took on Tiny Morgan, if 300 pounds of fat approximately 200 of which encircles the tummy, can be called "tiny." Morgan tried a few of his well-known slashes and, as he saw the giant in Scotty's eyes, made his usual bee line for the ropes or cringed in his corner—much to the disgust of those who like to see a give and take fracas. On one occasion Tiny was trying to wrap Scotty's bare tootsies into something or another, which massaging gave Scotty the jitters. Scotty ups and plants those wiry legs of his kerplunk on Tiny's chin to set the fat boy on his tights over in a corner. Just to prove that he didn't like Tiny's method of hit and run, "Mac" eventually clamped on a Japanese wrist lock, the application of which, for a brief period, caused Tiny to throw in the sponge. It will be recalled Dusek's arm recently resembled a pretzel when Scotty gave the pugacious westerner such an "eel grip."

Blackstock, the methodical chewing Oklahoma blonde bone crusher, cracked up under the tugging about given him by Bisignano. The bout was over in a jiffy, compared to some of the burping exhibitions.

George Manish and Mike Kalek, Poland, came together in what old-timers recognized as a wrestling match. Their match was clean, scientific and interesting. Turnovers, falls and grips excellently displayed came in rapid succession which appeared the appetite of fans who looked on the remainder of the burping program as so much what you might call it. Manish won the match.

Gardens For Jobless In County Park

Unused Land To Be Made Into "Farm" To Aid Needy

Rough land which the Essex County Park Commission will improve as a northward extension of Branch Brook Park, at such time as county government finances permit a return to normal expenditures for such purposes, will be put to use temporarily as a different sort of garden spot. The Emergency Relief Gardens Division, ERA, through Joseph J. Spurr, second deputy ERA director, has arranged with the commission for addition of a four or five acre tract north of Heller Parkway to the acres already in use in the city, where the less fortunate may by allotment develop their own vegetable gardens.

The Park Commission has voted to permit such use of the Branch Brook Park land. Engineers of the commission and ERA work directors will mark off the area to be utilized. Emergency Relief Administration workers will level the soil and otherwise prepare the ground for the gardens. The work of clearing the site will go forward immediately and be completed before winter, equipment for the purpose being supplied by the Emergency Relief Administration.

As presented by Mr. Spurr to David J. Kelly, secretary to the Park Commission, and through the latter to the commission itself, it is planned to divide the tract made available into forty parcels. The "farmers" who will till the soil will be designated before spring by the gardens divisions, the work of which is participated in by the city relief organization and the Newark Garden Club. Next summer corn, potatoes, squash, onions and sundry other edible products of the soil will be produced where some day greensward, floral beds and foliage will abound for the recreation of all the inhabitants of the county.

"We are not at present able, because of lack of funds, to improve the land in accordance with landscape plans," said Mr. Kelly, "so the people of the county as a whole may not get the benefit of use of this soil. However, in going along with Mr. Spurr's garden proposal, the commission feels it will be rendering a public service. The vegetables which are grown in the tract will help feed families, which otherwise might have to be fed from public funds."

Oldhams Win Three Straight In American Legion Pin League Go Into Undisputed Possession Of First Place

The Oldham Association took three straight games from the Belleville B. C., to go into undisputed possession of first place in the Belleville American Legion Bowling League, Monday night, at Ferrara's alleys.

The W. H. Williams Association also made a clean sweep at the expense of the Gebhard Association. The triple triumph sent the Williams men into a tie for second with the Keystones, who dropped two of three to the Waters Association. The Knights of Columbus came to life long enough to grab two from the Belleville Animal Hospital; the Carragher Association surprised Johnny Lawlor's El Club by winning three straight, and Frank's Diner dropped two to the Nearys.

Mike De Carlo's 268 in the final game of the Carragher-El Club series helped his team to a 1005 tally, and gave him high score honors for the evening. Nick Zazzali, well-known in this section, made his initial appearance as Carragher anchor man, averaging 220 for the three games.

The Waters Association rolled a 1045 team tally in its match with the Keystones for high team scoring. The standing and scores:

Varsity Club To Meet Jersey City Trojans

Hudson County Eleven Lost
To Local Gridders
Last Year

Slightly bruised and battered following their tough tilt with the Newark Cyclones last week, the Nutley Varsity Club football players tackle the Jersey City Trojans Sunday afternoon at Feuerbach Park.

The Jersey City eleven, which won the Hudson County pro title in 1933, visited Feuerbach Park last October and lost to the local performers by a 6-0 score in a hard-fought contest. They came to Nutley Sunday with a bolstered line-up and considerably more experience, expecting to take the undefeated Nutleyites in town.

Coach Stanford had his lads drilling Tuesday and Thursday nights. While well satisfied with the showing of his club against the Cyclones, the "Chief" may make several changes for the Trojan contest. Eddie Zackowitz will probably replace Dick Fornoff in the line as the former showed some real class against the Cyclones. Phil Redmond, most sensational player ever to wear the colors of Nutley High School, may also appear in a Maroon uniform for the first time, while efforts are being made to sign Jim Rodgers, star line-man of the Cyclones. The Trojans' roster comprises mainly former Dickinson and St. Peter's Prep players, led by the three Bodino brothers and Jim McNamara. The probable starting line-up is given below:

Pos. Nutley	Jersey City
L.E. Sherwood	O'Hara
L.T. J. San Giacomo	Donchin
L.G. Kramer	Mazzarello
C. VanHorn	J. McNamara
R.G. Browning	Bohrer
R.T. Zackowitz	Dempsey
R.E. Kellett	C. Bodino
Q.B. Baykowski	Kling
L.H. Jones	N. Bodino
R.H. T. San Giacomo	Hanrahan

Martin-Dennis, Wallace and Tiernan, Overman Tire and Tiffany's engineered clean sweeps of their three games series with various of their Belleville Manufacturers' Bowling League foes, last week, to go into a quadruple tie for first place in the standings.

Motor Stoker, Sonneborn's, Mono Service, and Sweeney's were the respective victims of these drives. Heller Brothers and Federal Leather, tied for fifth place, each took three straight, as well. National Box and Lumber suffered at the hands of Heller Brothers, while Eastwood Neally forfeited its series.

Bell-boy Gridders Flatten Lyndhurst

Van Demark And Gorman
Feature In 25-0
Victory

Belleville High's scoring machine got back in gear, Saturday afternoon, at the expense of poor Lyndhurst, at the Clearman Field gridiron with a resulting 25-0 pasting for the Bergen County lads.

Some power-laden drives by "Red" Van Demark, ably assisted by the fleet Howie Gorman and the steady Walt Smith, featured the heavy Bell-boy offensive that permitted them to score four touchdowns.

Coach "Red" Buchanan decided to retire four of his men for the afternoon, resting them up for the expected hard tussle at Passaic. Bill Tully, Mark Wertz, Carl Hummel and "Mac" McDonald comprised the quartet. The last named boy managed to get in for a few minutes, but the first three were kept idle all day.

In spite of these absentees, the Yellow Jackets experienced little difficulty in rolling up the big score against the rather weak opposition encountered.

Nine plays following the opening kick-off, Belleville had advanced from its own forty yard line to its first six-pointer. Gorman and Van Demark alternated in lugging the ball for the sixty yard distance, with Gorman finally sprinting around end for fifteen yards and the score.

A fine punt from the toe of Emmet Ryder that bounded outside on the one yard line placed Belleville in scoring position once more in the same quarter. Lyndhurst punted back to its own thirty and a fifteen yard penalty against Belleville put the ball on the forty-five yard line. Van Demark then pounded the visitors' line time and again for steady gains, with Walt Smith climaxing the march by pounding fourteen yards for another six points.

Late in the second period, after Belleville had gained possession of the pigskin on the Lyndhurst thirty-five yard stripe, three plays meant another score. A sixteen yard pass, Van Demark to Ryder, and another fourteen yard skirting of left end by Howie Gorman placed the ball over the goal line. A forward pass, Smith to Van Demark, enabled Belleville to make its only conversion following touchdown.

Belleville again lost little time in tallying in the third quarter. Art Jocker, tackle, recovered a Lyndhurst fumble on the thirty yard stripe. A reverse, with Smith and Ryder participating, carried the oval to the seven, from where Gorman circled wide around left end for the fourth and final touchdown.

The lineups and summary:

Plans Furthered for Church Bowling Loop

Meeting to Make Final Arrangements Scheduled
Monday

A movement is under way to have a church basketball league in Belleville this winter. A meeting was held in Christ Episcopal Church last Monday evening at which representatives of different churches in town attended. The meeting was called to order by George H. Weston, organizer. It was decided to have a six or eight team league. There will be another meeting of the group on next Monday evening at which time further plans will be made.

Two Vacant Homes Entered By Thieves

A combination coal and gas range valued at $150 was taken from a vacant house at 22 Wesley place recently, Joseph Darrigo, custodian of the property, told police Sunday. An investigation disclosed that the building had been entered by means of a key to the front door.

Thomas Hughes of 46 Glendale street also reported Sunday that a house owned by him at 656 Bloomfield avenue had been entered by forcing a lock and a tray was taken from the kitchen and fixtures from the garage doors.

Yellow Jackets Over Rutherford

Alumni Defeated, 7-6, In Hard Fought Struggle
Sunday

The Biase Yellow Jackets of Belleville travelled to Rutherford Sunday and took the Rutherford Alumni into camp by the score of 7-6 on the high school field. The game proved to be the hardest fought one of the season, which to date has been very successful. The Yellow Jackets having won all four games and losing none. Rutherford's six points were the first to be scored on within a few minutes of the opening whistle, when Rutherford, opened up with a long forward followed immediately by a tricky lateral, which brought the ball to the eight yard line. The visitors held for three downs but an off-tackle smash by Hulings carried the ball over the goal. A place kick for the extra point was blocked.

From this point on, the game turned into a kicking duel with A. Biase getting the better of it. Going into the last period the Yellow Jackets staged a drive down the field to the home team's twenty yard marker. Here the Jackets employed a play they had been saving for just such an emergency, catching the entire Alumni team flatfooted. Pasky, left end, took a forward from Gorman, then tossed a lateral to Albanese, who skirted around the end after shaking off a tackler, crossing the goal without being molested. A Biase's place-kick for the extra point proved to be the margin of victory.

In the last few minutes of play the Alumni tried desperately to score with long forwards, but the alert Yellow Jacket backfield was on their toes and prevented a score. V. Albanese accounted for another touchdown when he took the ball on his own forty and dashed through the entire Alumni team behind perfect interference, but he was called back when a Yellow Jacket man was accused of clipping. Ferraro's line work and Antolin's ball carrying featured for the Alumni team while Gorman's line bucks and Albanese's running of the ends stood out for the visitors.

Wednesday night the Yellow Jackets will meet the Fourteenth Ward Civic League Club under the floodlights at Newark Schools Stadium.

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 21.

The golden text is: The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Mark 10:45).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, if any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me" (Matthew 16:24).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Wisdom and Love may require many sacrifices of self to save us from sin. One sacrifice, however great, is insufficient to pay the debt of sin. The atonement requires constant self-immolation on the sinner's part" (p. 23).

Madeleine Slade, Disciple

Of Gandhi, to Speak at

Newark Community Forum

Madeleine Slade, Mira of India, famous English woman disciple of Gandhi, will be the speaker at the opening meeting of the Community Forum in the Universalist Church of the Redeemer, Broad and Hill streets, Newark, Sunday, October 21 at 7:45. The meeting which marks the beginning of the Forum's sixth year of "free public lectures is open to the public. The speaker will discuss 'Gandhi As I Know Him.'

Miss Slade is an English woman, daughter of a famous admiral in the British navy, born to comfort, ease and high social position. In the early years of her womanhood, she lived the idle and careless life of an English society girl. It was during the war that she discovered the emptiness of this life, and shortly after the war that she discovered Gandhi, the leader of his Indian fellow-countrymen in the cause of national independence.

The story of Gandhi came to Miss Slade as an experience of religious conversion. She communicated with him and asked to give her life to his work. The Mahatma put her on a year's rigorous probation to test her sincerity. Surrendering her family, her wealth, her friends and social life, Miss Slade adopted the stern life of an ascetic and entered Gandhi's Ashram as a member of his group of students and disciples.

In recent years Miss Slade has been Gandhi's closest attendant and confidant. She gladly and untiringly lives as his servant. She accompanied him to England on his famous visit in 1931. She has many times suffered imprisonment. She has in recent months been in England on a mission in behalf of India and has met with great acclaim by the English people, especially the English workers.

Miss Slade has adopted the Indian garb as she has the Indian way of life. She will appear at the Forum in a robe of rough khadda, native homespun cloth.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two plants of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or any other medicine that does not get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only correct the fact and do not remove the cause. They don't take away enough of the bile that doesn't digest it. Your bile juice will stay in your bowels. IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 2% of our food dec
