$194.25 Raised for Christmas Fund; Many Needy Families Aided by Contributors

Holidays Made Brighter for Children in Families Hard-Hit by Depression—Fund Sponsored by Civic League and The Belleville News

Several additional contributions made late last week raised the total subscribed to the Christmas fund sponsored by the Civic League of Belleville and The Belleville News to $194.25, which was sufficient to bring comforts and necessities to many families, which, through no fault of their members, were without the barest essentials at the beginning of the holiday season.

The cases were reported and investigated by Miss Bertha Klein, executive secretary of the Community Service Bureau, and the money received was personally distributed by her to the neediest cases. Aged people were warmed, heads of families were clothed that they might seek work, and Christmas was made brighter for children through the kindness of contributors.

Additional contributions too late to be acknowledged last week are as follows:

Mathematical and Extended Ins. Reserve Sections Ind. Act. Dept. Prudential Ins. Co. $5
Karl's Drug Stores 2
Dr. George Kaden 2
Abram Atkins 1

In addition, two blankets were contributed for an aged couple.

The Civic League of Belleville and The Belleville News wish to thank the contributors who so generously gave to assist the unfortunate, and wish them a happy and prosperous new year.

ERA Paraders Quit Demonstration For Auto Accident

Minor Mishap Proves Greater Attraction Than Mass Protest

A minor automobile accident proved to be a greater attraction than a "mass protest" of ERA workers Monday morning when a parade of "clients" carrying "demand" signs, left the demonstration to run to the scene of the mishap.

The paraders, bearing banners reading "No Clothes—No Work" and "Want Clothes" were nearing relief headquarters in Mill street when a truck and a car came together, scattering coal in the street at Union avenue and Mill street. Most of the marchers left the demonstration for the accident, and failed to return.

The relief workers charge that "red tape" has prevented their receipt of winter work clothes.

Williams Praises New Relief Set-up

Mayor Guest Speaker At Luncheon Of American
Business Club

Removal of relief work from the hands of municipal officials and the placing of this work in the hands of the State Emergency Relief Administration was praised by Mayor William H. Williams, of Belleville, in an address before members of the Newark Branch of the American Business Club last week. The talk was made at the weekly luncheon meeting of the club, held in the east room of L. Bamberger & Co. restaurant, on the tenth floor of the store. More than sixty members were present.

Mayor Williams declared that he felt he echoed the sentiment of a majority of public officials in this statement. He declared that in most of the smaller municipalities of the state, the employment of an overseer of the poor was not justified. He further stated that the handling of relief problems should be in the hands of persons trained for this work, and not in the hands of political appointees.

Praise was accorded Executive Director Arthur H. Jones and Freeholder Peter A. Smith, chairman of the Essex County Advisory Board for their untiring efforts in behalf of the needy of Essex County. The mayor declared that the administration of relief in Essex County, under the two named, had been of a particularly high character.

Expressing the belief that the state was not spending too much money on relief, Mayor Williams said that some of the money might be spent in different ways from what it is being spent, but that a permanent relief set-up must be established, with trained workers, in order to accomplish the best results.

In order that no child may be neglected at this party, transportation has been arranged for children who may not be able to walk to the theater. "Christian Science" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 30.

The golden text is: "The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God" (Isaiah 52:10).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And these signs shall follow them that believe; They shall speak with new tongues; They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover" (Mark 16:17, 18).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "A higher and more practical Christianity, demonstrating justice and meeting the needs of mortals in sickness and in health, stands at the door of this age, knocking for admission. Will you open or close the door upon this angel visitant, who cometh in the quiet of meekness, as he came of old to the patriarch at noonday" (p. 224)?

Double Duty Keynote Of New Ford Trucks

Distribution Of Load Is Greatly Improved
On 1935 Line

Better load distribution and materially improved driver comfort are among the important improvements in Ford V-8 trucks and commercial cars for 1935, according to Henry J. Ehl, manager of the New Jersey Motor Co., local Ford dealers.

A softer, more effective clutch, improved braking and substantial improvements in the cooling system are design features appealing to drivers and owners.

Although there are 49 chassis improvements announced, there is but a single change in the 80 horsepower V-8 engine—a directed-flow crankcase ventilation system.

Described as the Ford "double duty" V-8, the truck line for 1935 includes seven types. There are five commercial car types. Special attention has been given to smartness of appearance in all of these—with new front-end appearance and new body designs.

The truck is available in two wheel-bases, 131½ and 157 inches, and the following types:

131½-inch chassis—panel, platform, stake, hydraulic dump, 131½-inch chassis with cab, usually employed in tractor service.

157-inch chassis—platform and stake.

The commercial cars offered, on the 112-inch chassis, are the pickup, panel delivery, de luxe panel delivery, station wagon, and sedan delivery.

Meaning of "Double Duty"

The "double-duty" designation, it was explained, is based on the truck's ability to give speed for fast delivery, as well as power and ruggedness for heavy-duty hauling.

The additional room on the truck chassis has been obtained by moving the engine forward, which has increased the distance from the back of the cab to the center-line of the rear axle by 6½ inches. This allows acute angle turns with full-width semi-trailer, reduces the body overhang and gives a more ideal distribution of the load. The load center is moved forward so that more of the load is now carried on the front axle, which means increased brake effectiveness and more uniform tire and brake wear.

A high-efficiency cooling system, including a wider radiator with 15 percent greater cooling area, is a new feature. It includes larger water pump impellers and a six-blade 15½-inch fan. Water-jackets extend the full length of the cylinder walls and along the upper crankcase walls, keeping both the engine and the oil in the crankcase at efficient operating temperatures.

The New Clutch

The new heavy-duty truck-type clutch is built for longer life and smoother engagement. The pedal pressure at idling speeds is reduced. Centrifugal force developed by means of weights at the outer ends of the clutch release levers is applied as the engine speed increases to insure maximum resistance to slippage. The clutch diameter has been increased to 11 inches, giving more than 123 square inches of frictional surface. Its design has been simplified with fewer working parts, and the clutch is ventilated for cooler operation. Brake drums are cast alloy iron with integral cooling ribs and an extra large reinforcing rib to prevent distortion. The brake-shoe pressure is more evenly distributed by a newly-designed and simpler internal mechanism. The brakes are designed to require less frequent adjustment. Steering stability and riding ease have been improved by mounting the front spring four inches ahead of the front axle. The front spring is longer, with shackles closer to the wheels. Oilless shock bearings are provided. The front axle is heavier. Full-Floating Rear Axle The full-floating rear axle, in which the load is carried on the reinforced axle housing, is continued. All driving and braking stresses are transmitted directly to the frame through the full torque tube and radius rods. The steering gear is of the "worm and sector" type, with 17 to 1 ratio for easy handling.

Christmas brought no halt in the drive of forty-four striking editorial employees of the Newark Morning Ledger to bring L. T. Russell, publisher, to terms.

With the Ledger circulation cut 40 per cent, according to the strikers, several concerns have withdrawn their advertising from its pages, while a number of others have signified similar intentions.

Lines in the strike were drawn clearly when the publisher, although he had advertised appeals for intervention by governmental and other agencies, last week flatly rejected a mediation proposal of the Regional Labor Board.

Meanwhile the Essex Trades Council gave active effect to its support of the strike by naming a committee to assist and advise the Newark Newspaper Guild in its conduct of strike. Those serving on the Trades advisory committee are: C. Baer, chairman; John Lin George Campbell, M. A. Klein, Arthur Crowley and Andrew Nolan. The committee is now assisting the guild in its plans for a labor mass meeting in support of the striking newspapermen and photographers.

A tragic note entered the campaign Saturday night when Dan Souza, president of the Washington, D. C. Newspaper Guild, was in an automobile crash while en route to Newark. De Souza had left capitol with a carload of Christmas gifts for wives and children of Ledger strikers.

Planning it as a surprise, De Souza had notified the Newark Guild members that he would pay them a Christmas cheer from Washington.

News of his death, brought about their cause, stunned the strikers. Souza leaves a wife and two small children who reside in Alexandria.

The strike was voted by the Ledger employees after all efforts to persuade Russell to halt his campaign of intimidation and dismissals of members, had failed.

The contract provisions by the guild, are modest. They have Russell establish a shop, one in which the hire whomever he chooses, requirement that the would be a five-day, with provision to prevent a repeat work if he were on assignment, minimum salary scale of $20 to $45, according to years of experience.

A NEW START

While the beginning of the new year is a date arbitrarily fixed by the calendar, and has no real significance in regard to natural phenomena, it comes to be established in the minds of men as the time from which all start, and a season when a new and better beginning may be made. The time of renewed opportunity, of transition from the bad to the good.

At this time one may properly resolve to bring to a close one's faults of the past year, and to begin the new period with a changed heart. We look back upon the past year, not with regret, but with pleasure to think that it is over and we have new opportunities, new thoughts and new hopes lying before us.

The outlook for 1935 is brighter than it has been for several years. Though we bear in mind ill-timed assurances from self-appointed seers of past prosperity appears today to be really "just around the corner." A general improvement in economic conditions is expected, in fact, is already making itself felt. A general lifting of the living standards of the average man may safely be predicted for the coming year.

America was the last great nation to really feel the pinch of the depression. Other countries saw a general increase in trade and prosperity in 1934; we may expect one in 1935. With the reopening of factories and business houses, unemployment will decrease, which will increase purchasing power and spur on industry to a new prosperity, based upon sounder foundations than the ill-fated bubble of 1929.

It is likely that the coming of the new year will bring with it any amount of peace to the world. Demagogues may rant and rave, but statesmen realize that the memory of the last immense, brutal, war is still too fresh in the mind of the average man in every country to threaten war without violent protests from the people.

We of course know it is well to call it again to mind on New Year's Day that science and education will continue to stride ahead despite all setbacks. The search after truth continues from year to year, even when menaced by the greatest cataclysms. Mankind marches ahead.

A happy and prosperous new year lies before us.

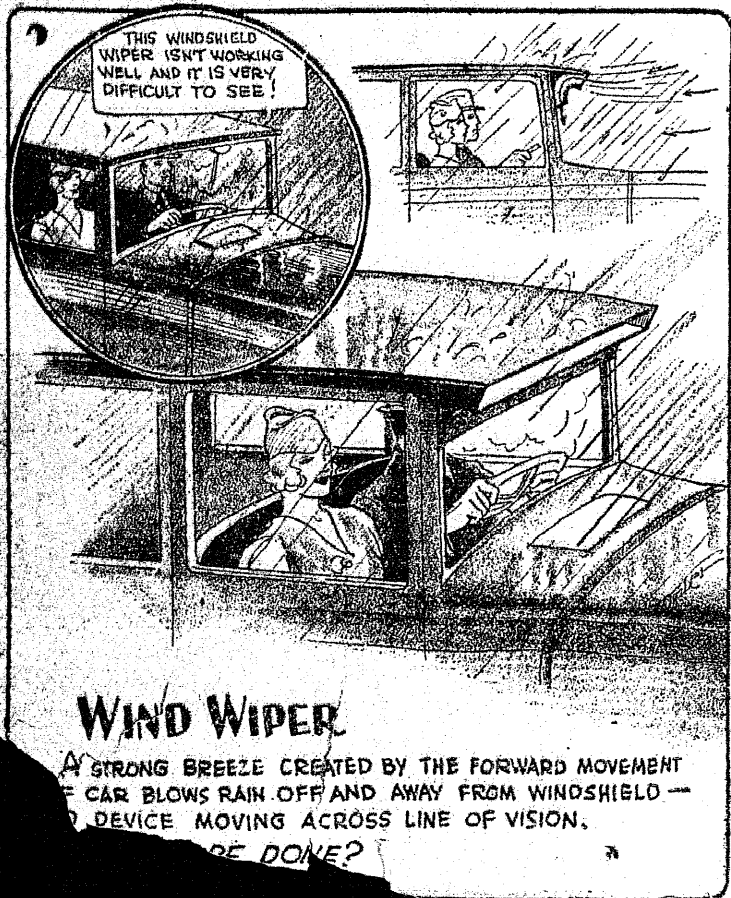

A CONSTANT MENACE

The Christmas tree is a thing of beauty and a welcome symbol of Christmas during the holiday season, but firemen warn us that it should not be kept in the house after it has become dry and highly inflammable. A dry, evergreen tree placed near draperies or woodwork presents a constant menace to the safety of the home.

While the gaily decorated Christmas tree is, while it remains in its place of honor in the home, a constant reminder of the most joyous day of the year, we must bear in mind that beneath its colorful surface lurks the germ of that greatest danger to the home, fire. The pleasant-smelling balsams of the northern woods quickly dry to tinder in the arid atmosphere of a steam-heated house, and the smallest spark will turn them into huge torches.

Firemen tell grim tales of the tragedies caused by carelessness in the use of these gay symbols of Yuletide, and urge that they be taken outdoors before they turn a happy home into a pile of smoking ruins, or bring injury or death to a careless adult or hapless child.

HEISLEY'S LETTER

Editor, The News:

A New Year's resume may be written on Christmas Day, as is this, being approximately complete, unless something startling should happen within the next six days.

During the course of the year which is almost on the landing field, we have lost of the many who have died, two citizens of exceptional prominence. The first of these to die was Richard W. Booth, thirty-five or more years a member of the board of education, and for many of them its president; for many years treasurer of the county, a great friend amongst his contemporaries, possessed of a warm heart and downright geniality—a star of the first magnitude. And the second "was like unto" him.

Ernest P. Cook twice won the majority of the town, the last time by a hitherto untraveled majority. Even back in 1916, when he first became a commissioner, he was elected by a larger majority than the other two members of the board. He was three times a commissioner. I want to say that personally there was no one in town whom I liked better than Mayor Cook. Oh yes, there were times when people would have thought differently, but then they would have been mistaken.

He had sterling qualities, but one could not help liking him though opposed to him. He was mayor when the jitney bus movement occurred. He was in favor of it. Commissioners Howe and Schaaf were opposed to it. Well that's a long story, besides let bygones be bygones. I suppose now that Mr. Howe would laugh over one or two quips that the mayor got off on him. Mr. Cook's attitude in that matter was in his usual trend—a sound one and for the benefit of the town and the public. Messrs. Howe and Schaaf were right in detail. The roadways of the streets were unfit for buses, as they maintained, but Mayor Cook was right on the principle of the thing. The roads since then have made to conform to requirements, showing that the conditions of 1924 need not always remain unchanged. He was a progressive man.

Although a resident of many years standing, so that he knew the early Franklin village and the artistic beginnings of the Nutley settlement, he did not allow the sentimental side of things to weigh too strongly in his estimate of the needed changes. He and Commissioner Sherwood took a good step, when they referred the matter of the names of certain streets for changing to Miss Coe who suggested numerous changes of names where duplication existed. Thereby we gained a longer Prospect street, by eliminating the names Rutan place and John street; we got a Freeman place out of Hawthorne place; a Cedar street out of a New Nutley avenue, which wasn't needed, as well as other helpful changes. I think that I've missed Mayor Cook, equally with Mr. Booth. Their deaths have been real losses, no less personally, than generally.

During the year we've had a change in the schools superintendency. We hope to like the new superintendent, Mr. Spargo, as well as

Mr. Radcliffe, who had gained a strong hold on the citizens' affections. — Altogether we are satisfied with the coming of the new alcoholic, Dutch Prince, or whatever its name, plant. We hope that its opponents will become reconciled to the settlement of the matter. The town needs manufactures. It was too long deprived of them by a large body of our citizens who regarded the residential possibilities of the town too narrowly and exclusively.

Yours for a Happy New Year,
FREDERICK A. HEISLEY.

Curtain Sweeps At North Newark

Barrels of fun were "dished out" at the initial Curtain Sweeps held on alleys 1 and 2 of the North Newark Bowling Academy, Sunday afternoon. Many of the boys surprised themselves with the quality of the bowling. This sweep will be a regular week-end feature from now on. Also there will be Boomerang Sweeps on the upstairs alleys.

Drama Guild Sets Date For Spring Production

The Drama Guild of St. Paul's Congregational Church has selected the date of April 2 as the night it will present its spring play in the high school auditorium.

DRIVE SAFELY

ROLLER SKATING

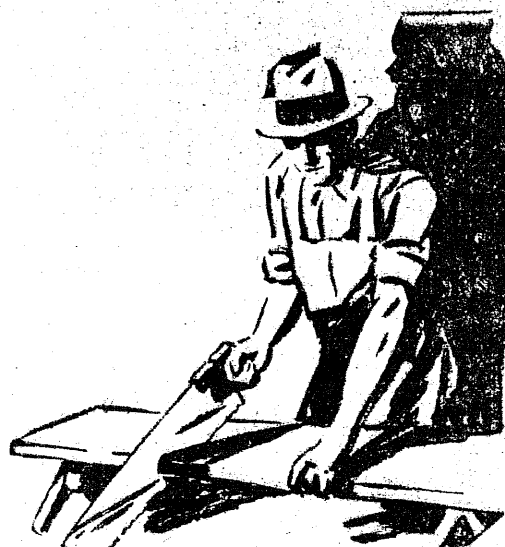

ROLLER skating has developed into quite a problem in the larger cities and towns, requiring drastic police protection to prevent injury and loss of life. Some municipalities have found a way to abate the hazard by setting off certain areas in which skaters must stay in and in which motor vehicles are prohibited.

A set of simple safety rules for roller skaters is offered here:

Do not skate in the street except in protected areas.
Do not skate in the street after dark without a flashlight or reflector button on your back or skates.
Do not hitch onto passing vehicles or "crack the whip."
Do not skate with traffic; be sure to face oncoming vehicles.
Do not skate three or four abreast.

ELECTRICITY AND GAS SIMPLIFIED HER TASKS

Every woman who has had Christmas festivities in her home realizes the great help that she has had from those two efficient servants—electricity and gas.

They can be relied upon to assume the burdens of washing and cleaning quickly and cooking efficiently during the holidays.

Electricity in the home makes possible the saving of labor through the use of vacuum cleaners, washing machines, irons and many other appliances.

Gas in the home promotes comfort, cleanliness and health by the use of automatic hot water service, automatic gas ranges and refrigerators.

And the remarkable thing is—gas and electric services take but a small percentage of the monthly family budget.

Al Bisignano And Rudy Dusek To Tangle In "Grudge" Match On Laurel Garden Mat

Rudy Hopes To Win Revenge For Adverse Decision In New York—Gino Garibaldi Slated To Meet Blue Sun Jennings

Alphonse Bisignano, the youthful Italian grappler, of Iowa, and the veteran Rudy Dusek, of Nebraska, will feature the first show of the 1935 season when they come together in the star bout of a wrestling card arranged by Promoter Ray Hanly for the Laurel Garden, Newark, on New Year's night.

RUDY DUSEK—The Omaha "wildman" going through his paces with his sparring partner for his return match with Alfonso Bisignano at the Laurel Garden on New Year's night.

Year's night. They are due to go over the two out of three fall route, with a 90-minute time limit.

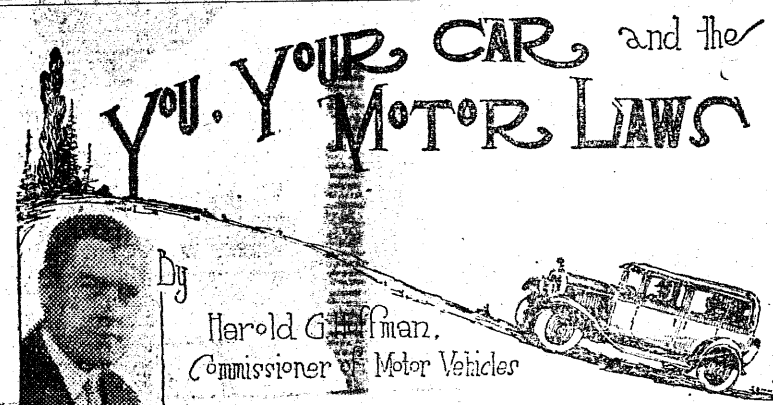

While this contest marks their second meeting, it is Bisignano's first big "shot" in this city, since the opening of the season. "Busy Al," as he is known to his many friends and followers, has appeared in Newark on nine different occasions and has yet to be defeated. Al has whipped Marshall Blackstock, twice; Floyd Marshall, Babe Caddock, Little Beaver, Eli Fischer and several others. The western Italian was held to a draw by Emil Dusek in the only match that isn't chalked up in the win column.

Several weeks ago these pachyderms of the mat staged a wild match in New York with the Italian winning the verdict. In that match, up until the end, Bisignano held the edge over the Bohemian. Then, a few minutes before the finish, Bisignano tackled Rudy through the ropes and on the floor. The veteran warrior got tangled with spectators and chairs and during his melée-out of the ring, the Now from indications it looks like another wild night for the Springfield avenue arena.

Gino Garibaldi, one of the leading Italian contenders for the world's title, will make his first showing of the indoor season when he tackles a tough foe in Blue Sun Jennings, of Oklahoma, in the semi-windup of one fall, 45 minutes. The red-skin has been travelling at a fast pace and it will take all of Garibaldi's knowledge of the grunt and groan game to score a victory over his opponent. On the other hand, a victory for Jennings will mean a windup bout some future date with an outstanding opponent who is about to invade the east.

Boris Demitroff, the Bulgarian matman, will try hard to keep his slate clean when he mingles with Henry Graber, of Germany, in the second contest of one fall, 30 minutes. Pat Newman, of Uncle Sam's navy, will find the voyage a little rough when he opposes the clever John Swanski, of Boston College, in the first tilt of one fall, 30 minutes.

Only a brief time remains to me to speak to the citizens of New Jersey as their commissioner of motor vehicles. In leaving that office, however, to accept the highest one within the gift of the state's people, I am impelled to give utterance to a sentiment upon which I feel profoundly. It is, broadly, that I am extremely grateful for the deep interest which the people of New Jersey have shown in the improvement of traffic safety and the concrete results which have grown out of that interest.

At a time when the traffic accident situation is the despair of every part of the country in the face of a mounting tide of fatalities and injuries, mishaps in New Jersey are showing a decrease. Its safety record, while far from perfect, is one of the most meritorious in the entire country. At this, the Christmas season, when we all are accustomed to think in terms of good will toward our fellow man, this state is in a position to offer positive evidence of such constructive thinking in the form of a relatively good street and highway safety record.

If four years in the office of motor vehicle commissioner qualify one to speak with reasonable authority on the subject of traffic, I would attribute New Jersey's enviable record to the generous spirit of cooperation which the public has given to the continuing campaign to decrease accidents. In this campaign, the press, the school, business, civic, industrial
