Retail Stores Fian Wednesday Closing Is In Keeping With Move- ment Sweeping Country

Belleville's retail stores, especially those in food lines, have agreed to follow the movement that is sweeping over the entire country to close their places of business Wednesday afternoons. This procedure will be followed all year, not only summer months, except weeks in which a holiday occurs. On such occasions the stores will close only on the holiday.

This was the decision reached Monday night at a meeting of twenty-three merchants in the Town Hall, following three weeks of negotiations. Mayor William H. Williams spoke, declaring the movement might lead to an organization of business men to solve mutual problems. He pledged support of the town.

Albert Dennis acted as chairman and Joseph McGrath of Eddie's Market, Little street and Washington avenue, was named secretary. Mr. McGrath with Louis Noll of the Trent Trucking Company were prime movers for the closing.

The merchants decided that they would gather once each month for discussion of their problems.

D. Usher, 575 Belleville avenue, addressed the business men on the closing. He was named treasurer. The new group will be known as the Belleville Retail Stores.

Delicatessen stores have agreed to close between 1 and 6 o'clock when other stores close.

The stores seek support of customers and ask that Wednesday needs be anticipated by Tuesday purchases. The movement is in line with shorter working hours that are favored by the national government, and which are being accepted as standard in almost all industries.

Those participating invite a careful reading of their advertisement on page 3 of this issue. Stores participating are listed in the advertisement.

Mr. Noll, in addressing the group, suggested that in order for the plan to succeed the fullest cooperation of the entire town populace is necessary.

Citizens Make Plans for Fireworks Display With Hope of Bigger Celebration This Year New State Law Places Ban on Smaller Home Displays— Townpeople Asked to Assist in Town-Wide Affair

Belleville is getting ready for its big Fourth of July celebration.

This event, formerly sponsored by the Civic League, promises to be much larger in scope this year, due to the fact that the committees which have been appointed, include members of all organizations in town, acting in conjunction with the Town Commission.

A meeting of those interested was held this week in the home of Clifton Smith. Members of various fraternal and civic groups were represented and heard plans outlined by those who have been active in the past to broaden the scope. A meeting open to all who have a desire to help has been called for Thursday evening in the Town Hall. It is expected permanent committees will be selected at that time.

Students To Produce "Belleville News" Will Take Over Entire Production One Week In Fall

Plans are being laid by Belleville High School in co-operation with this paper to allow the English department to take over the publication of the Belleville News for one week in the early part of the next school year.

This is to be done as part of the regular course of English study. During the school year several weeks are spent in careful study of newspaper methods and conventional newspaper practice. The students will cover assignments as laid out for them by their self-selected student editors. Copy readers, typists, short story writers and special feature writers will all have a place in the proposed set-up.

The entire project will have the careful supervision of the high school English staff. Edward Glaspy, of the high school faculty, stated that it is an educational venture that should be very desirable.

The town commissioners have again made it possible for the citizens to buy peanuts from "Old Gus" at the baseball games at Clearman Field.

As soon as the commissioners saw the applicant everyone of them recognized him and his vendor's license, previously rejected because of a misunderstanding, was renewed.

Once more this pushcart, that has been a town landmark for many years, will be seen at the gate to the ball field. The peanut man is Gus Kostakis, 130 Warren street, Newark.

W. P. A. Plans Call For Many Projects Unless Ratified by Federal Authorities 400 Will Be Out of Work

Unless the W. P. A. projects that were recommended by the Town Commission at the caucus Monday afternoon are approved by the administration of the W. P. A. all projects will cease as of July 15.

Director P. A. Waters pointed out the fact that the town's contribution for these projects would amount to no more than half the cost of feeding the families of the workers for the same period of time.

About 400 men will be out of work unless approval is granted, Director Waters said.

A committee from Hill and Grove streets appeared before the board asking that a project be recommended to pave these streets so that the F. H. A. could grant building loans to property owners in the vicinity.

This group of people were told that the paving of their streets was included in the list of projects at that time before the commission for approval. The town attorney, Lawrence Keenan, was instructed to notify the F. H. A. authorities of the approval of this project so that building operations could be gotten under way at once.

A petition was received from the residents of Lawrence and Alva streets requesting that their streets be paved. This is to be done with penetration as soon as possible.

The following projects were approved by the commission: Terry street pavement, Ogden road curb pavement, Joramelon street penetration shoulders from New street to Franklin avenue; Hill street, Grove street and Liberty avenue, penetration pavement; Grove street, water main; Grove street, Hill street, Liberty avenue, Joramelon street, sanitary sewer; Van Repper place, penetration pavement and curb; Cortlandt street, shoulders; Joramelon street to Little street, Newark avenue, sanitary sewer; penetration shoulders on Schuyler street, Terrace place, Cleveland, Stephen and Little streets, cobblestone gutters on Dow, Bridge and Clinton streets, Wilson place, Rutgers street and Rossmore place.

Smallwood avenue is to be resurfaced as is Fairview place. A twelve-inch sanitary sewer is to be constructed along Route No. 21. The last project is, in the eyes of several of the members of the commission, a highly necessary undertaking. This is the completion of an adequate storm sewer for Greyclark parkway.

The total estimated costs of these projects is $180,268.96. Of this amount, $117,997.34 is to be supplied as a federal contribution. The larger portion of the remainder is to be assessed back to the property owners either locally or as a general assessment depending on the type of work that is done.

The United Palestine Appeal Committee, which acquires property to be used for colonization and Jewish National institutions, develop natural resources of the country and maintain schools and health centers.

Other agencies included are National Committee for Labor in Palestine, Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, the American Art Federation, American Committee Appeal for Jews in Poland, the German-Jewish fund for Essex County, the American Jewish Committee, the B'Nai Brith anti-defamation League, American Friends of the Hebrew University, the Yesheva College, the National Farm School.

The Menorah Association, Histruth Tivrit, Young Judea, Jewish Welfare Board, Council of Jewish Federation and Welfare funds, Jewish Education Association of Essex County, Leo N. Levi Hospital, Jewish Consumptive Relief Association, Essex Patients Tubercular Home.

Mr. Abramson announced that sixty-five per cent. of the money collected guaranteed to go to the Joint Distribution Committee and United Palestine Appeal. Headquarters for the campaign will be the Congregation A. A. A., 317 Washington avenue. Contributions may be sent there or given to any member of the committee.

Town Hall Liquors Changes Its Name Will Be Known Now As Byrne's Liquor Store

The Town Hall Liquors, a package store opened last Friday at 109 Washington avenue, has changed its name at the request of the town commission to Byrne's Liquor Store. At a conference of the commissioners Monday afternoon it was suggested that this request be made to Harry Byrne as the name was misleading.

Zone Board Denies Gerino Store Permit Franklin Avenue Property Owners Had Offered Objection

County To Purchase Hospital Ambulance Will Replace One Wrecked In East Orange Last Month

A new ambulance is to be purchased by the County for the Isolation Hospital, according to County Purchasing Agent Bergen in a statement made Wednesday. The Flexible Co. of London, Ohio, under bid the local manufacturers.

The ambulance will replace one badly damaged April 18 in collision with a Lackawanna Railroad pier at Grove street, East Orange. Edward LaRosa of 135 17th avenue, a patient, was hurt fatally in the accident.

Uganda, Africa, Has A King, and How! British War Ace Tells of Experiences Near Equator

Frank Holmes, East Orange, who resided here for about ten years, and who holds the British Military Cross, as one of the ace fliers for England during the World War, took Belleville Rotarians on a trip to Uganda, Central Africa, Wednesday noon when he addressed them at the regular weekly luncheon in Forest Hill Field Club.

Frank had spent some time, as a representative in Uganda of England, in which country he was born. He stated that while the African country is only four miles south of the Equator, it is a British Protectorate, however, ruled over by a King, Daudi Chwa (David Chwa), to us, Chwa, he stated, is quite a ruler, who puts on his best Sunday manners during the day, speaking English in excellent Oxford accent and carrying himself as a perfect gentleman, which "truly he is."

In the evening, however, Davie steps forth in his home balliwick regalia, a native costume, and entertains his friends with drinks of high powered content. It is just too bad if anyone fails to join in the drinks.

Davie drains 'em fast and furious until he just can't drink another. The drinking bout is a general tete tete. "The King is a Red just the same," said Mr. Holmes, adding that England has him spotted with spies, but permits him to carry on.

And does this ruler like his automobile and motorcycle? He has as many as twelve motor cars on a par with our Packards, said Mr. Holmes. He explained the roads in Uganda "just aren't" but Davie opens up the throttle and "goes hell bent" for election "until he cracks up an automobile or cycle and then practices on another.

Don't Eat Much, But—

The natives eat once a day, except when they munch on sugar cane, he added, explaining they eat bananas, but not ripened ones. They pluck the bananas when they are as hard as carrots and cook them until they look like mashed potatoes. Then the boss of the house dips into the mess with his hands until he gets enough banana to shape it somewhat like the good "ole" American hot dog. This he dips into salt water and flavored with ants, mind you, starts his repast. In a semicircle about him his family repeats the procedure, all dipping with hands into the banana.

"And the ant story is true," said Mr. Holmes. "The natives catch flying ants, even before they shed their wings are caught by placing baskets over the holes. Some are cooked and some just eaten in the raw. Mr. Holmes declared he had never tasted ant food, but he had partaken of the succulent banana dish. Grasshopper legs fried are another delicacy.

A license is required to shoot an Elephant, Giraffe or Ostrich, he said, but any body can go out and shoot himself a Lion, Buffalo or Leopard. About the only animals that are not present are the Bengal Tiger and Bear. Snakes are abundant in all sizes and shapes, he added.

Irish James J. Casey and his inseparable companion, his Irish terrier, may be seen every week day night at 6:45 o'clock walking along Washington avenue headed for a certain barber shop in town. Arriving at the barber shop at the same town is Anthony Lataza and the pair have an argument each night as to whom shall wait for the other.

Hundreds of motorists are now taking advantage of the new improved highway in Main street, which makes it possible to travel through Belleville; removing the heavy traffic in Washington avenue. Thanks, Commissioner Waters.

You can set your watch by Charles H. Thompson of 145 Floyd street as he journeys to work each morning as custodian of the Belleville Public Library.

Patrolman Ernie Slater is a familiar figure in the Greyclark section as he patrols that territory.

We often see James Minnaugh, locksmith of a hardware store in town, looking over an invention he made of a lock for a machine gun.

Friends of former police chief, Michael J. Flynn would like to see him visit his pals in the Greyclark section more often.

Wayne and King Chisholm are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chisholm of 35 Malone avenue. Their parents declare that they had no thought of the orchestra leader Wayne King, when they named their sons.

William Gilchrist, the popular fireman, may be seen nearly any day standing in front of the fire headquarters waving to all his friends who pass on foot or in automobile.

Thomas Crutcher is the biggest man on the police force; was the biggest man in the A. E. F. during the Great War. He always pays a call on his friends on his day off.

John Stoddard of Union avenue was seen putting up his porch screens single-handed over the week-end, which is no simple task.

Whether you know it or not, Henry "Hank" Waters is co-motor of the Belleville High School track team. Wilho Winika is the other coach. "Hank" was quite a runner in his day, stepping the hundred in ten flat.

Old Tradition Is Maintained By Main Circus Owner Has Always Sought To Provide Show Better Than Ever Before

The Walter L. Main Circus which will exhibit in Nutley at Park and Washington avenues, opposite the velodrome, one day only, Saturday, June 6, with its many new features has been, what some people call lucky by having so able an executive as Mr. Main to steer such a vast enterprise so successfully through the many years it has been appearing before the amusement-loving public, and it has always been one of Mr. Main's cherished ambitions to always present a circus performance, at popular prices and still present a performance just a little better than the average, and he has said many times, that he has yet to present a performance to the public, his friends, that was not just a little better than the year before and has had more than lived up to that tradition this season, the 50th Golden Jubilee Tour, for under the mammoth 12-acre spread of canvas there is presented this season, a circus performance that critics say could be better.

The sacred white dromedary is just one of the extraordinary features to be presented and is the only white dromedary in America today. A dromedary is sometimes mistaken by the public as being a camel, and such a mistake was made by the manufacturers of a certain brand of cigarettes when their photographers slyly, sneaked a picture one day during an exhibition of the Main Circus, of what they thought to be a camel, but which was in reality a dromedary, and before the mistake was discovered the drawings, cuts and advertising material of that brand of cigarettes was well in the making. A camel has two humps on its back while a dromedary has only one. There is a baby camel this year, the only one living ever born in captivity.

Among the other animal features there is "Cupid" the only pony in the world that is said to actually talk and not only obeys every command of his trainer, but also those of spectators as well and is a feature that has taken several months of consistent training to perfect.

Twisting THE Dials

Strange customs exist in radio—that is radio away from the East. In Europe there are no commercial announcements made in front of studio audiences because there is a fear that members of the audience might resent it. Such resentment undoubtedly comes from the fact that the British Broadcasting Company permits no advertising via the ether.

On the other hand, the powerful Luxembourg transmitter takes advantage of Britain's laxity in this respect and does have sponsored programs directed particularly at England's listeners—and at the highest hourly rates in the world. But even here announcements are made from a separate room and not before the ears of a studio audience.

"The people in the audience," a Luxembourg spokesman said, "were once known to stamp their feet in disapproval." All this seems rather silly when they know that the advertiser is paying for the program they are enjoying.

The broadcasters abroad, too, no longer have any "man in the street" interviews. They tried it for a time but discovered that the citizens there didn't care a hoot whether or not they were on the air and said too many things which were not good for the government, the radio station or the listeners.

That reminds us of some strange programs here in America. In many of the small western towns where the radio stations are even smaller, the "street" interviews consist of meeting the daily trains from the big city, and the travelers are interviewed as they walk off the train. They tell the townsfolk what they think of the city!

STORY OF THE WEEK. WHN's famous Jay C. Flippen, who has been a headliner at New York Loew's State Theatre many times, stopped backstage to call on George Burns and Gracie Allen when the two were clowning there on one of their visits to Manhattan.

Jay and George are brother members of "The Friars," famous theatrical organization, and there was important business to discuss in a hurry. A new stagehand backstage refused to let Jay or anyone else see George Burns. . . . Too many autograph hunters had been trying to trick their way past him. "Don't you know who I am," said Jay. "I've simply got to see George Burns. It's an emergency!"

The man was unmoved. "I don't even care who you are. Ya can't come backstage. Burns and Allen are too busy to see anyone, anyway."

"Yes," said Flippen with a sudden anguished inspiration. "But I'm Gracie Allen's missing brother!"

"Holy Gosh," came a squawk from the stricken watchman. "Why'n't ya say so. He grabbed Jay's arm and began rushing him in. 'They need ya for the act—and they're goin' on in about two minutes!'"

ABOUT ANNOUNCERS. Don Wilson, 6 feet, 3 inches tall, weighs 215. . . . medium-brown hair, blue-grey eyes. . . . first saw the light of day in Nebraska, in 1900. . . . did lots of things. . . . played football at Colorado. . . . became oil and coal salesman. . . . joined a harmony trio. . . . found himself Jack Benny's chief announcer-stooge. . . . golf is his favorite sport. . . . football his first love.

Belleville Trims Nutley Fishermen

Neighbors Think Two vs. Three Make Is Easy, But

Nutley versus Belleville. What a memory these three words bring back to old sports fans.

The latest edition of this old wrinkle was a fishing party to Peconic (maybe that bay is spelled wrong, but who cares anyway?) L. L. last Saturday. Included in the party were Jay Delaney, Bill Priestman and Harold Gahr, Belleville Elks. Nutley sent along two representatives figuring they could trim Belleville, even at such disadvantage in numbers.

Town Clerk Si Blum and Jim Cherry, the genial manager of Nutley's movie, were the alleged upholders of the fishing dignity of our neighbors. And believe us, Si is some fisherman. He has cast line after line, many a moon.

But the nut-towners failed to reckon with Col. Gahr, who heaves his line, high, wide and handsome. And what a line he heaves! Harold claims to have caught the largest and second largest fishie-wishies, a ten and seven-pound weakfish. That sounds weak in itself, but that is as it may, what causes us doubt is that the fishermen claim to have landed about two hundred pounds of something or other. A careful check in both towns fails to unearth anyone who even got a smelt.

The boys had a swell time, however, that is, outside of the ticket they were handed as they neared their destination. Even fishermen step on the gas too much and the law catches up with them even though they can't catch the fish.

Bill has just been named chairman of the fishing party planned soon by the Elks. Maybe he will demonstrate more skill then. But that's another story.

Excise Board Upheld In Two Decisions

Burnett's Office Reverses
Action in Two
Other Cases

State Beverage Commissioner Burnett upheld the town excise board Wednesday in its revocation of two limited retail distribution licenses. Two other Belleville actions were reversed.

In reversing the action of Belleville in revoking the license of Lazarus Evenchick of 525 Washington avenue, Burnett said there was no evidence of a violation of the terms of his limited retail license to sell only unchilled beer.

Evenchick's license was revoked after two state inspectors charged they discovered six bottles of beer on the ice at his store. Evenchick denied they were for sale. He contended the beer was for his personal use.

In the other reversal, a denial of the transfer of a limited retail license for the premises at 529 Joralemon street, Burnett ruled none of the reasons set forth by the commission was sufficient. Dorothy F. Parker had applied for the transfer of a license formerly held by Mary Spengel Best.

Involved in the cases upheld by Burnett were Samuel P. Lindenbaum of 437 Cortlandt street and Bertil Eric Kindberg of 577 Belleville avenue.

The inspectors said they had discovered three men drinking bottled beer at Lindenbaum's store. In the case against Kindberg, the inspectors said they had purchased three bottles of beer from the licensee's mother, who was in charge of the place. The bottles, they reported, were taken from a refrigerator.

Greatest Circus Is Coming Soon

Dazzling Introductory Spectacle Features Ringling, Barnum, Bailey

The world's mightiest amusement enterprise on tour—the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey combined circus—with its 1937 seven-ring-and-stage program, star studded and liberally interspersed with new thrillers from Europe and Asia, featuring among its array of new wonders the most gorgeous introductory spectacle in its brilliant history, India, is definitely scheduled to exhibit in Newark, Monday and Tuesday, June 7 and 8.

India is not just another circus spectacle. It is not merely a glittering parade to open the big show performances. It is the result of a year's planning, a really staggering expenditure and much research on the part of Sam W. Gumpertz, general manager of the greatest show on earth. Costly fabrics were purchased in car load lots. Color schemes blend in lovely perspectives. Every one of the two thousand people and animals taking part wears a small fortune on his or its back. All have towering head-dresses of exquisite beauty. One group of 170 horses, with girl riders, is like nothing ever before offered, for the horses, wearing medieval bejeweled blankets of velvet, carry gorgeous canopies over the girls' heads. India is a torrent of color and flashing jewels, flowing over the hippodrome track and the seven rings and stages. It is the last word in pageantry.

Heading the scores of new foreign features are The Great Aloys, aerial thriller; the Magyars, Europe's mightiest troupe of somersaulting stars; the famed William Heyer, Holland's greatest horse trainer, and his wonder horses; the Maysy-Brach troupe of aerial unicycle marvels; the Naito family of wire wizards; the La Lolita troupe of upside-down acrobats; the Quiliteros, airplane acrobats; the Wen Hais, novelty stars and many others equally renowned in Europe, Asia and South America. There are 800 performers.

In aerial and equestrian displays the greatest show on earth has outdone itself this year, while the ground acrobatic numbers are the largest and finest ever presented in any land or age.

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey combined circus will arrive on four long trains of one hundred double-length steel railroad cars, carrying 1,600 people, 1,000 menagerie animals, seven herds of elephants and seven hundred horses.

Local Woman Attends Mothers' Day at U. of N.H.

SPECIAL TO BELLEVILLE NEWS
DURHAM, N. H.—Mrs. Anna Glynn, 12 Overlook avenue, was a guest of the University of New Hampshire Saturday, May 22, on the occasion of the twelfth annual Mothers' Day observance on campus.

Preparations for receiving the largest number of mothers ever to attend a University Mothers' Day celebration had been made by the university. The feature of the day was the presentation of the annual May pageant Saturday afternoon, depicting New Hampshire's part in the ratification of the United States Constitution. Produced along lines delineated by the Susquehanna Commission established by the 74th Congress, the pageant marked the opening of nation-wide celebrations of the 150th birthday of the constitution, beginning officially September 17. More than 250 college, high schools and grammar school students will participate in the production.

A busy day for the visiting mothers, the program began at 9:00 A. M. (D. S. T.) with tours of the campus under leadership of faculty members, followed by a regimental parade of the University R. O. T. C. regiment on Memorial Field at 11:10 and reception in the gymnasium, where President Fred Engelhardt addressed the guests. A luncheon at noon and afternoon activities, the pageant, a baseball game and a varsity lacrosse exhibition, completed the program.

Says Public Recreation Established As One Of Major Functions of Governmental Agencies.

Edward J. Lister So States Following His Visit As Representative to National Recreation Congress

Public recreation has established itself as one of the major functions of governmental agencies in the United States, although it faces difficult problems of financial support and personnel, it is stated by Edward J. Lister, director of recreation, who has just returned from the twenty-second National Recreational Congress in Atlantic City.

"Recreation is no longer regarded as unnecessary or as almost a sin; it has been enthroned as one of the essential needs of life along with work and love and worship," stated L. H. Weir, special representative of the National Recreation Association. "Training for the use of leisure is now one of the primary objectives of education. Schools are being redesigned or designed within and the grounds without for use by the whole community. Play and recreation areas are recognized as an integral part of city, county, state and federal planning and nearly ten per cent. of the total land area of our country is held in public ownership in forest and parks and wild life reservations. Recreation has become a profession with courses offered in colleges. Legislation has been enacted in its favor, increasingly cities are recognizing it as a governmental function and public funds are being allocated for its development. It embraces not only children, but adults and has broadened its program from sports and games to include music, drama, nature and all other recreational activities."

The community is faced with the necessity of providing activities which will redirect the energies of the dangerous elements among youth, according to Wayne L. Morse, dean of the University of Oregon Law School. "Although the causes of crime and juvenile delinquency are complex, it is true that thirst for excitement and adventure is at the base of much youthful wrong-doing," he said. "Many boys and girls enter into careers of delinquency as a result of their failure to obtain satisfaction through socially approved channels. By providing healthy means of satisfying these normal cravings public recreation may contribute to crime prevention."

Dr. James S. Plant, director of the Essex County Juvenile Clinic of Newark, New Jersey, warned recreation leaders against the common American demand for "results." "Recreation involves the development of attitudes about what you are doing rather than about what you are getting done," he said. "It isn't the activity itself, but the way that it is approached that is important. This flies directly in the face of our American pattern which, of course, has been interested in results. We have had to cut down forest and build buildings and we have measured our activity in terms of what it has accomplished." "Recreation involves living with oneself, rather than escaping from oneself. It is a pretty tragic commentary on the psychology of America that the only solution which we had for the depression was to make work for people."

"Enlightened recreation leaders realize they are not doing their duty unless they strive wherever possible to promote co-recreation activities," stated Mabel Madden, director of community activity for the Cincinnati Recreation Commission in summarizing a session on recreational needs of girls and women. "The normal desire of the normal girl after the adolescent age is to be with boys," she said. "Every program for girls if it is really to serve her, must take into consideration the desire of girls to be with boys. We must give girls and boys an opportunity to be together, not only in social dancing, but in all possible activities which can be done together, and we must give them an attractive place to meet. The entire success or failure of the program of girls and women recreation rests upon the leadership."

"It is important that programs of recreation and education be co-ordinated if the community is to be best served," said Dr. Harry A. Wann, supervising principal, Madison Public Schools, Madison, N. J., in reporting a result of a discussion of the wider use of the schools for the enrichment of community life. "That school buildings, playgrounds and facilities should be available for use by the entire membership of the community to the fullest extent was the consensus of opinion at this discussion," Dr. Wann stated. "Details of administration and financial support might differ in various communities, but the need for a co-ordination of effort in meeting the recreational requirements for the enrichment of community life was stressed over and over," he declared.

Better preparation and training for recreation workers were repeatedly urged at a session on training in which

Eddie Lister

Dr. Ernst M. Best, president of Springfield College, Grant D. Brandon, superintendent of recreation in Lancaster, Pa., and others took part.

In a discussion on drama, Miss Josephine Blackstock, superintendent of playgrounds in Oak Park, Illinois, contended that plays for young children should be imaginative and fanciful and that the children should live and absorb the different characters before learning the lines. It was agreed by members of this discussion group that standards of drama production should be as high as possible, but not above the ability of the acts to give an adequate performance. Reporting on a discussion of arts and crafts as recreation Frank A. Staples, director of arts and crafts for the National Recreation Association, pointed out that recreational arts and crafts must embody the same principles that are found in other phases of art activity. The common attitude of making crafts easy should be discouraged, he declared. "Character building and sincere expression of an idea are not developed by crafts that are made easy. Pride in accomplishment is desirable and the more difficult the task the greater the satisfaction."

Arthur Noren, superintendent of recreation in Elizabeth, New Jersey, speaking on the subject of playground program, declared that without a planned program a playground is a place with indifferent attendance. "With a well planned program it becomes a highly important and well attended educational institution, with an informal curriculum participated in with great zest and interest."

Dinner Party Held For Local Woman Mrs. Joseph Gilby Honored As She Reaches 90th Birthday

A dinner party attended by thirty-two was given Friday night in the Penquin Club, Allwood, for Mrs. Joseph Gilby, 30 Van Remselaar street, who celebrated on that day her 90th birthday.

During the afternoon she held open house at her home. Married in London, Mrs. Gilby came to this country with her husband in 1872 and settled in Belleville, which, she says, seemed then like a wilderness. Children present Friday night were Walter Gilby, a member of the Board of Education, Alfred Gilby and Mrs. Samuel Beams of Newark, and Mrs. Frank G. Miller, and Mrs. Robert Reilly of Belleville. Absentees were a son, George, of Cleveland, and another, William, who lives in Canada. A daughter, Mrs. William Moore of North Arlington, died last year. There are sixteen grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren. Mrs. Gilby is a member of Christ Episcopal Church and friends in the congregation showered her with cards Friday as her birthday was announced at church by the rector, Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach.

In spite of her ninety years, Mrs. Gilby manages her home. She enjoys reading and automobile, plays domino and cribbage. "I've always been a hard worker, says she. 'Work never killed anybody.'"

WRIT BITS by John E. Smith

Defending Dandelions

I offer these lines in defense
Of dandelions that I praise,
Since I have learned efforts intense
Are being made to end their days.
These plants invade grass lawns it seems,

Becoming rooted in the soil,
And spreading fast, it simply means,
In course of time the lawns they spoil.

With due respect to lawns of green,
I take the dandelions' part,
A wild-flower, lovely to be seen,
That charms the eye, and cheers the heart.

I, from a child, remember well
Those yellow heads in bright display,
That sprouted out for quite a spell
In months of April and of May.

In meadow, or in pasture field,
Or on greenwards far and wide,
Their splendors bright to me appeared

As found along the country-side,
By roadsides, or in open lots,
As Spring times year by year unfold

Were here and there found lovely spots

Reflecting beauties of pure gold.
Oh, little wild-flowers, I'm for you,
Though individual, or in mass,

So bright your colors that break thru,
Of commonplace, you're of my class.
Your function is to sprout and grow,

As soon as vegetation starts,
Unlike weeds, you with beauty glow,
And cheer and brighten up our hearts.

COMMEMORATING HEROES

Once a year we remember those who remembered us and our happiness in the greatest way man can act — by giving up his life for liberty of country and its people. Memorial Day recalls those heroes to us in all the poignancy of their sacrifice and we hope that they know the depth of our gratitude and the sincerity of our remembrance of them.

Services Held Monday For Emmett D. Fowler

Engagement Recently Had Been Announced to Miss Compton

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Burroughs Funeral Home, Madison, for Emmett D. Fowler, 57 Prospect street, that town, who was killed Friday in a head-on collision of the car he was driving in Route 29, Hillside. The engagement of Miss Alice G. Compton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Edgar M. Compton of Wesley M. E. Church, this town, and Mr. Fowler, had been announced recently by Rev. and Mrs. Compton, who reside at 134 Academy street. A Fall wedding was planned.

Organist at Douglas Funeral
 A week ago Saturday Mr. Fowler had played the organ at the Irvine Funeral Home, here, during services for E. H. Douglas, who died in the Hindenburg crash.

Mr. Fowler's father, Walter E. Fowler, former Madison tax assessor, and his uncle, Arthur Corey, both of the same address, are in Elizabeth General Hospital with head injuries and broken bones.

Emmett, a graduate of Madison High School and Gullmont Organ School, New York, was organist at Wesley Church.

Fowler, his father and uncle, all employed by the Prudential Insurance Company, were on their way to its Newark office. Corey usually rides to work by train, but because of the fine weather decided to accompany the others by car Friday.

According to police, the Fowler car collided with a truck of the Fairlie & Wilson Coal Company, which pulled out to pass another car, which had stopped there. Sherman Beers of 417 Bergen street, Newark, driver of the truck, received minor cuts and bruises. Emmett, who was 26, was an only son. His father is treasurer of the Madison-Chatham Joint Meeting and secretary of the Madison Building and Loan. He was assessor from 1922 to 1925.

Marcus Dussler

Marcus Dussler, 75, of 103 Little street, died last Friday at the Women's and Children's Hospital. He was born in Newark and was employed here as a jeweler until his retirement. He moved to Belleville 17 years ago. He leaves a son, Marcus of Belleville and two daughters, Mrs. Freda A. Krayl of Newark and Mrs. Theresa Hess of Nutley. Funeral services were held at the home Monday at 2 P. M.

Mr. Dussler was confined to the hospital from May 19 until his death on May 21.

Mrs. Rose Leone

A high mass of requiem was held in the church of My Lady of Mt. Carmel yesterday morning for Mrs. Rose Leone, seventy years old, of this town. She died Monday morning at the home of her son, Michael Leone, of Brooklyn, whom she was visiting after a short illness.

Mrs. Leone who came to this country from Italy forty years ago had made her home in Belleville for the last thirty years.

Besides her son Michael, she leaves four other sons, James Leone of 275 Ralph street, this town; Anthony Leone of 170 Garden avenue, also of Belleville; William of 69 Summit street, Lyndhurst, and Peter of 16½ Miller street, Newark.

Mrs. Mildred Frunzi

Mrs. Mildred Frunzi of 145 Garden avenue died Thursday at North Newark Hospital after a long illness. She was born in Newark 26 years ago. She leaves her husband, Joseph; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Constantino Di Sasso; five sisters and three brothers. A solemn high mass was offered at 9 A. M. Monday in St. Peter's Church.

A. W. Bray Selected As Representative to Presbyterian Assembly

Rare Occurrence As Local Man Gets Every Vote As Lay Member

The Presbyterian General Assembly at Columbus, Ohio, will have a local representative this year. Andrew W. Bray of 336 Joramelon street was unanimously elected as a Newark layman to represent the Presbytery of Newark.

It is the practice of the Presbyterian Church, Newark Presbytery, to send four ministers and four laymen each year to this annual convention. In the voting for the selection of candidates Mr. Bray received every vote. This is a rare occurrence as any member of the Presbytery is eligible as a candidate.

The selected delegates were ministers: Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, Dr. George Whelan, Dr. Stanley Coomb, and Dr. George MacAllister; laymen: Mr. Bray, Henry Frazee, Vice Chancellor John O. Bigelow and J. Frank Kitchell. The assembly opened Thursday morning, May 27.

Mr. Bray has been a resident of Belleville for many years. Up until his retirement last year he was personnel director for the Prudential home office in Newark.

The participants were all members of the Fellowship Circle and their daughters. Cottons were shown first. These were followed by prints, street wear and sports wear. The final showing was of evening gowns of all kinds.

The following people modeled for the show: Miss Carol Carswell, Miss Sohlne, Miss Audrey Heilman, Mrs. Olga Tallman, Mrs. Sarah Hicks, Mrs. Charles Babcock, Miss Ina Allen, Miss Elizabeth Weischedel, Miss Irene Scholtz, Miss Edith Atkinson, Miss Doris Prophet, Miss Helen Reeve, Miss Florence Breen and Miss Ida Brugeman.

E. T. Smith Replies To Matthew Geddes

Art Club Discussion Is Continued in Letter Today

May 24, 1937.

Editor, The News:

Two weeks ago my letter to you referred only to your editorial "Artists Worried" and in it I stated that "I must take exception to one particular paragraph in which you mention that the club has been buffeted about from place to place through lack of funds which were raised one dollar per year from about twenty members, and that the club is now on the rocks." In doing so I simply gave truthful facts about the Belleville Art Club, which were by no means "damaging and misleading" as Mr. Geddes mentioned in his lengthy letter published by you last week.

Every member of the club past and present, whatever their attitude may be, at this time, know that my letter contained nothing but the truth.

When I wrote to you I avoided personalities and I do not feel that my letter called for the ignoble statements about myself which appeared in your paper this past week. I certainly feel it a great injustice, and do not appreciate the fact that I have been misquoted in the paragraph which states "Mr. Smith takes pride in the fact that 'during his successful years the club had the services of two very capable instructors, one being Mr. Hayley Lever, N. A., who has enjoyed international fame as an artist.'" To quote me correctly it should read "During our successful years."

I have never taken any personal pride in the accomplishments of the club during the past years, but have always given credit "to the few whose hard work made the art club pay its way with much success through several seasons" as my letter clearly stated.

The present or future views and policies of the club are of no interest to me whatsoever, and I had no desire to convey that idea, and certainly did not stress the "unworthiness" of the Belleville Art Club when I stated that "I was pleased indeed to see the club given attention in your column, and to know that you feel such a group is an asset to the town."

I merely took exception to the paragraph that I mentioned above and still insist the information was given to you incorrectly.

Very truly yours,
 EVERETT TAYLOR SMITH

Regarding Birds

Editor The News:

I would like to suggest, anent your story of last week entitled "Nine Lives," that the bird seen at 3 P. M. in the paws of the cat, which had been seen with a bird in its mouth at 12 noon, was probably the ninth life the cat-of-nine-lives had been attempting to snuff out. I suppose we can thank God that one bird did get away. Most of them don't. I would suggest the good people involved "bell" their pet. There'd be more birds in the neighborhood for the rest of us to enjoy. Don't you agree?

Sincerely yours,
 A Friendly Bird Lover

James Reilly Pleased With Improvement To Main Street

Congratulates Commission And Especially Director Waters

May 19, 1937.

Editor, The News:

Allow me at this time to congratulate the commissioners of this town and especially Commissioner Patrick A. Waters for the work they have done in the improvement of Main street.

Motorists can now travel from the Newark line to the Nutley line now without risking their springs, their temperaments or their tempers; especially is this true in the stretch from Joramelon street to the Nutley line where conditions were so bad that only a hardy motorist would risk traveling on it.

Another feature of the improvement, I believe, is that the work was done as a WPA project under Thomas B. Bredin, burdening the town with a minimum of expense.

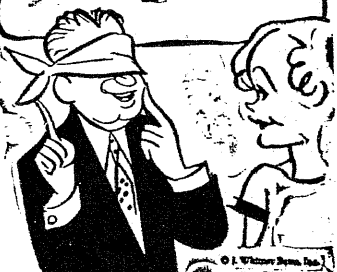

Although there has been no fanfare over this job, I write this letter to see that credit is given where credit is due.

Sincerely yours,
 JAMES J. REILLY.

There can be no happiness equal to the joy of finding a heart that understands—V. Robisall.

IN STEP WITH THE TIMES

The decision of many of Belleville's retail storekeepers to close Wednesday afternoons, except weeks in which a holiday occurs, and then to close only the holiday, is in keeping with shorter working hours favored by our national government, and which are being accepted as standard in almost all industries.

The retailers believe that their employees and themselves are entitled to a little leisure time as are other workers and they are justified. Many retailers scarcely know what leisure time means. It is to be hoped townspeople will co-operate by making purchases Tuesday for Wednesday needs. Let's give the retailers, who serve us well, a break.

HUMAN PARASITES

The fake accident racketeer is one of the worst parasites with which society has to contend. He preys on the public purse by defrauding one of our greatest industries—the casualty insurance companies. Higher rates to the insurance buyer are the necessary and direct result of his activities. Consequently it is with genuine gratification that one reads of another of these parasites being overtaken by the law.

New York recently convicted the leader of a ring of lawyers, doctors and "stooges" who in eight years defrauded insurance companies of hundreds of thousands of dollars in fake accident claims. It took more than four months for this particular leader to confess to the district attorney the multitudinous ramifications of his nefarious activities. Before he was through he had involved four physicians, seventeen lawyers and four notaries. It was revealed that he had built up his "business" from fifty fake claim cases in 1929, to a peak production of five hundred in 1935 and 1936.

He had an amazingly efficient organization. He himself scouted around spying out defective steps in front of buildings, broken vault lights in the sidewalks and other conditions affording an opportunity to file fake claims. As the district attorney said, "He believed in quantity production and quick settlement."

It is easy to visualize the insidious undermining effect which the fake claim racketeer has on the entire insurance industry, and on the insured public. It is imperative that these evil "enterprises" be ferreted out and destroyed. Long strides have been taken in this direction through cooperation between the insurance companies, represented by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, and law enforcement bodies. Success is assured if the individual citizen will also cooperate to the best of his ability at every opportunity.

WHERE YOUR MONEY GOES

Business is better. Unemployment has been reduced. Wages are rising. The worst of the "emergency" is generally considered to be over. Yet the Federal government is constantly spending more for "emergency" purposes!

That startling fact stands out in the official Treasury statement of April 1.

During the first nine months of the current fiscal year, as compared with the same period in the last fiscal year, WPA expenditures were more than $700,000,000 greater.

Social security expenditures were more than $300,000,000 greater. Resettlement Administration expenses were more than $70,000,000 greater.

Soil conservation spending was over $203,000,000 greater. PWA loans and grants to states were more than $102,000,000 greater. Regular departmental expenses were more than $44,000,000 greater.

So it goes, down a long list. Is it any wonder that the national debt soars to new record after new record—and that there is talk of the "necessity" of imposing more taxes on businesses and individuals which are already taxed to the point of confiscation?

SUMMER FIRE HAZARDS

The advent of each season brings special fire hazards. Now that summer is nearly here, due precaution should be taken by property owners against the dangers that follow cessation of rain, and the arrival of dry, warm days.

Some of the worst fires have started in vacant, grassy lots. Uncut, dry grass can almost explode into flame at the touch of a match or a spark. It is essential to community safety that adequate laws control the care of grass—and that these laws be enforced. Farmers and others living outside towns should be no less zealous in reducing this hazard.

During good weather, homes are cleaned and renovated. Great amounts of trash must be disposed of, often by burning. Here is still another source of destructive fire. The burning operation should take place only in a metal container of adequate size—and under constant supervision.

In addition, summer is an excellent time for using forethought to the end that our homes may be safer from fire next winter. Before fall comes, every furnace should be inspected and repairs and replacements made where necessary. A few dollars spent in this fashion now may save thousands—and, more important, save lives.

Finally, no matter what you do or where you go, be ever awake to the peril of fire. Do you like to drive in parks and forests? Then remember that carelessness with fire has destroyed more trees than man ever cut for a useful purpose. Have you a favorite summer picnic spot? Then bear in mind that the most beautiful place nature ever devised can become an eyesore in a few short minutes or hours if fire strikes.

The labor agitators are after Henry Ford. They act a whole lot as if they were tackling a porcupine. Ford has always led the world in short hours and high wages. He has public good will. It is freely admitted that he is apt to do the unpredictable thing. As a forthright American citizen, he will probably never take orders from either political or labor dictators. He has ample warrant for undertaking to teach ingratitude a lasting lesson.

SATISFIED INDUSTRY AND BUSINESS HERE

A community can consider itself fortunate when it has a real "booster" in town. It is seldom that a representative of the press can walk into a local merchant unannounced and hear an unsolicited eulogizing of the town and its government.

The Acme Display Service is increasing its floor space and permanently locating here. Gerald Cox's reasons for coming to and remaining in the town with this company, as contained in today's News, should be accepted as the highest order of praise to the town administration. A board of commissioners that will go out of its way to make the local industries feel "at home" in Belleville should receive the commendation of every tax payer. A community interest in our local, taxable industries will have a definite relationship to the allocation of taxes.

SUCCESS STORY

The success story which depicts the life of a person born in humble circumstances who rose to position, wealth and power, is usually considered to be an American development. The story may be typically American, but the facts are very old. Archaeologists have discovered a tomb more than 6000 years old in Egypt, which was the burial place of Ti, a wealthy land owner. They have found that Ti was of humble birth but rose to high rank. He became a wealthy land owner, married a princess and his sons had the title of prince. Initiative and ambition form an old story.

DIVORCE PROBLEM

The divorce problem in England is giving considerable concern to legal circles. There has been a steady increase in the number of divorce suits, and a movement for reform in the methods of handling hearings is under way. For several months the number of petitions entered each week has exceeded the number tried in the same period, and the suits are piling up to an astonishing degree, with more than 500 cases still untried in London alone. Strangely enough more than half of the cases are filed by poor persons, who enter suit as such. The divorce problem is a vexing one, and all the woes of that sort are not confined to this country.

TRADITION WINS

Some traditions are hard to destroy, and one of them is the practice of British workmen, whether office workers or artisans, to have their afternoon tea. Some 150 building workers in London were notified that they must give up their traditional cup of tea in mid-afternoon. They promptly went on strike. "It takes only a minute of two," the spokesmen for the strikers said. "We pay for it ourselves and it is pleasant after several hours of hard work." It is almost needless to add that the employers agreed they should get their tea. Such a long-standing tradition does not go down easily.

According to the latest political advices from Washington, business can't make money fast enough for present taxes to balance the budget, and heavy tax increases are now admitted to be necessary. This will not be news to those who have not been kidding themselves.

PICK YOUR HOBBY

(From an editorial in the Rotarian Magazine)

Life is complex. No need to embroider that platitude. Many men would find life's terrifying daily jumble of facts, figures, and faces well nigh intolerable were there not one narrow avenue down which to flee—that avenue, a hobby.

But not all men take a hobby as a specific for nervous ills, nor are all men who lack hobbies bound for penitentiary cells. A multitude of men simply have a multitude of hobbies, and that, one is safe in feeling, is good. Psychologists and others have many kind things to say about hobbies but of a hobby it might be possible to say, as one says of beauty, "It is its own excuse for being."

"In the proposal to make our government one of men rather than of law, millions of Americans will see the possibilities of dictatorship."—Carbondale, Pennsylvania, Leader.

CALM LIVING

A prominent member of the American College of Physicians, who was formerly a professor of medicine at Yale-in-China, an extension of Yale University, said the other day in an address before the college that there is little high blood pressure among the people living in interior China. "It is inevitable," he said, "that the blood pressure of white people living in China drops to the level of the Chinese who, in general, take life calmly and philosophically." Perhaps the fact that they eat native foods which are well adjusted to climate has something to do with it, but undoubtedly the calm life is part of the answer. The pace of modern civilization produces many ills, but perhaps most people would rather take a chance on high blood pressure than live in interior China.

KNOW YOUR STATE

Prepared for The Belleville News by Russell VanNest
Black, Director-Consultant New Jersey
State Planning Board

Our Social Resources

The social resources of a state include its medical, educational, and recreational facilities and are largely dependent upon the wealth of the state.

Of the four states in region No. 2, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware, New Jersey in 1935, had the second highest percentage in the number of hospitals under government control, 31.9 per cent, and the third highest percentage in the number of beds in government hospitals, 68.9. It occupied second place in the number of non-profit hospitals, 51.5 per cent, and in the number of beds in non-profit hospitals, 28.7 per cent. New Jersey was third in the percentage of hospitals under proprietary control with a percentage of 16.5, and was next to the lowest in the number of beds under proprietary control, 16.6 per cent.

In 1934 the average physician had to serve a greater average number of persons in New Jersey than in any of the other states in the region. This average was 860.1 persons. It must be remembered in this connection that New Jersey is very close to Philadelphia and New York, two great medical centers, and that the people of the state avail themselves of the medical facilities of these centers. The average for the region was 673.2. In 1932 this state had the smallest death rate in the region, 10.3 persons per thousand. Its malaria, typhoid, and influenza death rates were also the lowest in the region, while the state had next to the smallest death rate for tuberculosis.

For the school year of 1933-1934, New Jersey showed the second highest percentage of the total population enrolled in schools, 20.3. Pennsylvania's percentage was 20.7. However, the percentage of enrollment in high schools to total enrollment in the state, was the lowest of the four states, 20.8 per cent. The number of college students per hundred thousand of the population was considerably less than that of any one of the other states. The average for the region was 250. New Jersey had the fewest number of books per person over ten years of age, an average of 2.3. This is not surprising when it is remembered that in 1931 only 8 per cent of all our government expenditures was devoted to libraries.

In 1930 only Delaware had a higher percentage of total population ten years and over classed as illiterate. New Jersey's percentage was 3.8 and Delaware's was 4.

Limited Liquor Licenses

Placed on Taboo List

The limited distribution liquor licenses will all be cancelled as of June 30. This was decided at the meeting of the Town Commission Tuesday night. This ordinance will affect 11 delicatessen and grocery stores.

When the limited distribution licenses are eliminated Belleville will have left 40 taverns and four package stores selling liquor.

Business Conditions in the United States

After a sharp decline in January followed by an equally marked revival in February, business appears to have become stabilized, for the time being, at a level of activity representing approximately the highest point reached thus far in the recovery movement, states the current issue of The Guaranty Survey, published by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

Irregularity has appeared in some security and commodity markets, involving rather pronounced recessions in prices of certain basic products. However, in view of the rapid advance that preceded it, this appears as a not unwholesome corrective tendency. The labor situation continues to be the principal element of uncertainty in the outlook for business in the near future.

As far as industrial activity is concerned, The Survey continues, steel production is still at the forefront of recovery, with current operations near the all-time peak, despite the deterring influence of labor disturbances in automobile plants and to a lesser extent in other steel-consuming industries. Electric power production also continues at the high levels maintained in recent months and shows a wide margin of gain above the figures for a year ago. The automobile industry itself has been fairly active in the face of labor difficulties, although the effects of strikes have been clearly evident.

Construction activity continues to increase slowly, with current contracts moderately larger than a year ago, despite the decrease in publicly financed projects. The cotton textile industry has surpassed all previous records for spindle activity and for consumption of raw material. Bituminous coal production has increased sharply, partly in anticipation of a possible strike growing out of the wage negotiation, a factor that has resulted more recently in suspension of operations at some mines, with a decline in output.

The general trade movement has been well maintained, although it has shown no spectacular gains in recent weeks. Railway freight loadings have varied irregularly, with a declining tendency in some classifications, but continue to show substantial gains above last year's figures. Bank debits outside of New York City have increased steadily since January, and with the exception of the December peak are the largest since the latter part of 1931. Retail trade continues to exceed the 1936 volume by a generous margin.

Increase in Bank Reserves
The principal changes in the position of the banks in the last few weeks have centered around the increases in reserve requirements and the unsettlement in the government bond market. Excess reserves of member banks of the Federal Reserve system on April 14 stood at $1,630,000,000, the highest figure since the increase in reserve requirements at the beginning of March. The rise in reserves in recent weeks was chiefly the result of a marked increase in the amount of Federal Reserve credit outstanding, which, in turn, was due primarily to purchases of government securities by the Federal Reserve banks for the purpose of stabilizing the money market. During the first two weeks of April, the Reserve banks' holdings of government obligations increased $57,000,000, showing the first change of any consequence in more than three years.

Gold has continued to enter the country in large amounts, but is, of course, without effect on member bank reserves since the adoption of the Treasury's sterilization policy in December. The monetary gold stock increased $182,000,000 during the four weeks ended April 14 and on that date stood at the record figure of $11,697,000,000. Altogether, gold amounted to $465,000,000 has been brought into the United States since the adoption of the sterilization plan and has been acquired by the Treasury and placed in the inactive gold fund.

Recent changes in the condition of reporting member banks reflect the same set of influences. Holdings of direct and indirect government obligations declined more than $400,000,000 during the four weeks ended April 14. There were also decreases in most classes of loans during that period, but these were more than offset by a rise of $145,000,000 in "other" loans, which include general commercial advances. The net decline in total loans and investments amounted to $405,000,000, and this was accompanied by a decrease of $292,000,000 in demand deposits.

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

Monday the Supreme Court handed down decisions confirming the constitutionality of the social security bills thus clearing the calendar of the bills, referring to the New Deal, before the court.

As a result government bonds were quoted higher, most other bonds followed suit.

Business in stocks continued at the recent low pace with quotations firm at figures above the low prices of the month.

In the financial world the tendency to wait for definite news regarding new Washington legislation and future plans for government finance has tended to restrict interest in securities with a consequent limitation of volume.

News from Washington that a bill calling for the repeal of the capital gains tax had been introduced, by Representative Celler, was taken as a sign that, ultimately, this very destructive tax would be withdrawn.

With a few exceptions news of the mercantile world continues favorable. Signs of the usual summer let down in some lines is noted.

Operating ratio for the current week, for steel, was reported as being 71 per cent, last week it was 90 per cent, with shipments gaining slightly on orders. A lower operating rate can be expected even if strikes do not occur, but unfilled orders are said to be large enough to keep the plants active well into the summer.

Prospects for good railroad business have been much improved by recent trends in traffic. Loadings were reported up by 6,188 and are now 13.5 per cent over last year. Passenger traffic is much heavier than a year ago but the gain in passenger income is not in proportion as last year the high rates were in effect.

Corporation officials continue to stress the uncertainty created by the present corporation tax. Some companies are declaring stock dividends, convertible into cash at the stockholders option, thus saving the penalty tax on undistributed earnings.

Larger earnings, increased or extra dividends are still prominent in current reports of many commercial houses. In the oil group the Standard Oil companies are paying, for the quarter, approximately $90,000,000. This is the largest payment for any dividend period with the exception of that ending last December when payments were augmented by extras paid to escape the penalty tax.

The labor clouds which seemed to have been dispersed are apparent gathering for a contest with the independent steel companies and some of the motor producers. At the moment the result of the ballot in the Jones & Laughlin works impels the CIO to try and repeat in the other independent plants and the Ford organization.

Editor's Note—Questions pertaining to securities and investments addressed to Martin Cook in care of this paper will be answered promptly.

Employees Offered Hospital Insurance

Town Authorities Study Plan for Public Workers

A form of hospital insurance was offered at the Monday afternoon caucus of the Town Commission by H. G. Saffet of the Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey. The matter was tabled until the next meeting of the commission when action is expected on it.

The plan is already in effect with some of the employees of the Board of Education and, according to the representative, is highly successful. The payments of the subscribers are to be deducted from the weekly payroll of the town employees.

In member or affiliated hospitals the plan provides for twenty-one days semi-private care during each subscription year and includes bed and board and the following services, when incidental to in-patient care: X-Rays, use of operating room, routine laboratory examinations, general anesthesia when given by a salaried employee of the hospital, routine medications and dressings and other customary hospital care.

Beyond twenty-one days required semi-private service will be provided in these hospitals at a cost one-third less than regular charges for twenty-six additional weeks, in each subscription year.

Subscribers requiring care in other than member or affiliate hospitals will be entitled to an allowance of up to $6 per day for twenty-one days, within the terms of the subscription agreement, in any general hospital in the United States or Canada and beyond twenty-one days, a credit of $2 per day against their bill for twenty-six additional weeks during each subscription year.

The subscriber and his physician have free choice in the selection of a hospital. The patient is admitted by and is under the care of his personal physician.

Services of physicians, surgeons or private nurses are not provided by the plan.

Subscribers may receive care, when admitted as in-patients, for all cases treated in a general hospital, except maternity and those cases already covered by workmen's compensation. Pulmonary tuberculosis, quarantinable diseases and mental disorders are not usually treated in general hospitals and are not covered under the plan.

No physical examination is required but applicants must certify that they have no knowledge of any present ailment requiring hospital care. Rely-

Defeat Dugan Club, 10-4, And Forest Hill Team, 11-4

Belleville Eagles made it three in a row by defeating Dugan Bros. team, 10 to 4, and walloping Forest Hill A. C., 11 to 4, last week-end.

Behind the splendid pitching of Henry Braecaglia in Saturday's game, the Eagles easily won. He fanned 11 and allowed nine scattered hits, besides pouncing out three hits himself. In Sunday's game Goglia twirled in masterful style. The Eagles clouted out 10 hits against the Hillers, while Goglia fanned 10 and allowed only five hits.

A Married Man's Week End

With visions of a game of golf, a set of tennis or a bout with the wily trout permeating his brain, the Married Man arrives home Saturday noon on a fresh Spring day filled with the zest of life and just aching to do things.

At home he finds conditions deplorable. Mother, his wife, is Spring house cleaning and she has his afternoon all planned for him. Gone are all his Spanish castles with his dreams of golf, tennis and fishing.

After a hurried meal, the least said about which the better, he is forced to the odious task of cleaning the cellar, where an accumulation of junk for the past year has made this job well nigh impossible, without throwing away most of his treasured keepsakes.

However he accomplishes the impossible and puts the basement in some semblance of order and hurries upstairs hoping that is all he has to do. But he arrives on a scene of great disorder. His wife and fifteen-year-old daughter are struggling with a rug and he, unthinkingly, offers his assistance and removes the floor covering only to find that they expect him to beat it dustless. At the close of this episode the M. M. feels hot, dirty and very uncomfortable. But he has to endure further frustrations as the next job his wife asks (which is really an order) him to do is to cut the lawn. This he does with a minimum of effort, racing the lawn mower wildly over the stubborn grass with a vim that is half anger.

It is now five o'clock and the M. M. views with suspicion his wife's order that they quit for the day. However, after a warm and then a cold shower, he dons clean linen and otherwise regales himself. He sits down to a quiet evening at home with the radio and his pipe when his wife announces that they are going to the movies with the Jones family. He puts up a losing argument with his frau because he knows that foxy Jones will hang back and let him pay for the tickets. And anyhow he will fall asleep in the theater which he promptly does after entering.

How he spends Sunday will be told next week.

Better Inter-Racial Understanding Gets Started in Organized Fashion Here

Over 150 Persons Representing All Interested Races Took Part Sunday Night in Diversified Program

Better inter-racial understanding in Belleville in an organized fashion got under way on Sunday evening at a mass meeting held at Veterans' Hall and presided over by Wallwin H. Masten, editor of the Belleville News. The meeting was attended by 162 people representing all interested races in the town.

The program was opened by the Rev. H. C. Van Pelt, who led in prayer. The entire assembly joined in the singing of two hymns. This was followed by a solo from the chorus director, Theodore Wells. Selections were sung by the Harmony Quartet of this town. The deputy director of public safety, John T. Rainey, sang "My Wild Irish Rose."

Rev. Van Pelt spoke on the value of a community center to the town of Belleville. In his speech he stated that the meeting was held for no political purposes and that the ultimate improvement of the social condition of the people in the valley was his only ambition.

Dr. O. Bell Close of the Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church was the principle speaker. Dr. Close emphasized the fact that the condition of the colored people in the town of Belleville was economically better than in many Essex County municipalities. He also spoke on the good work that has been done by the National and State Committee for Better Inter-Racial Understanding.

Edward J. Lister, recreation director, who was in the audience told of his experiences at the recent recreation convention at Atlantic City.

Mr. Masten, the chairman of the meeting, requested that the following people serve on the proposed committee to discuss the possibility of a community center for the residents of that section of town: Mrs. O. Bell Close, Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, Wallwin H. Masten, Mrs. Georgia Petersen, Mr. Rainey, Mrs. Julia Reiner, Ulysses Slade, Mrs. Margaret Van Pelt, Mrs. Edna Wallace and Mr. Wells.

Dr. Close is chairman of this com-

Bell Boy Runners Lose to Lyndhurst

Jim Hardaway Stars For Track Squad Wins Shot Put and Also Running Broad Jump

Jim Hardaway of 140 Greylock avenue, colored track and field star of Belleville High School, was the outstanding performer for the Bellboys in the meet with Lyndhurst, last Thursday, which the locals lost, 53 1/2 to 32 1/2.

Jim won the shot put with ease, but reached the heights in the broad jump, with an amazing leap of nineteen feet, two inches, beating his nearest competitor by four inches.

Another feature of the meet was the running of the half-mile by Frank Brown, who took the lead at the start of the race, relinquished the lead half way around and with an astounding burst of speed led the Lyndhurst man to the tape. Charles "Bud" Hollweg did himself "noble" by finishing third in this event.

Although Daniel Wasco high jumped an almost record, making five feet, seven inches, the interest of the crowd was in the leaping of William "Billy" Engelmann who stands five feet, four inches in his stockings and who high jumped exactly five feet, four inches.

Joseph Caskey took the fifth place for Belleville with a remarkable discus throw of 108 feet.

The Belleville relay team was beaten narrowly by the Lyndhurst team. Those who composed the local group were Jack Schmutz, Bob Wertz, Elmer Gibbs and Frank Brown.

Sidelights

Harry White placed third in the discus throw and the 220-yard dash.

William Engelmann tied for third place in the high jump with Jack Alonzo, stellar athlete of Lyndhurst. Thomas Maul, who is a sophomore at the local high school, did well in the same event with a leap of five feet, three inches, to place fourth.

Harold Wade was a good fourth behind White in the 220-yard dash.

Rain Washes Out Nutley Bike Races After Twelve Events Ole Jupe Sunday Upset Sprinkling Can

Bicycle races at Nutley Velodrome were washed out by rain Sunday after twelve events had been completed, although only one final, the one-mile novice, had actually been completed. This event was won by Ray Bryan of the Walker Wheelmen with Jimmy Swenson second.

The medley match between the teams of Willie Honeman, American sprint champion, and Martin Journey, against Henry "Hank" O'Brien, Belleville, and Tom Sackett, New York, ended "up stick." Honeman and Journey took the first heat, a five-lap sprint, and "Hank" and "Tom" out-pedaled the initial winners in the second heat, a two-mile pursuit. The match was scheduled to be decided over a mile with pace-makers.

Echevario Winner

Anker M. Anderson beat Al Selinger and Henry Szamato in the first heat of the alternate match, and Mathias Engel led Szamato and Anderson in the second.

Bobby Echevario of San Jose, Cal., a top flight rider, making his local debut; Guy Ricci, George Shipman, Fred Kugler, Felix Lefentre, Frank Bartell and Vincent Seiferd were among those who qualified in the four-sevenths mile handicap for professionals.

Triangles Cross Bats With Scanlon Club Game with Monarchs Was Washed Out Sunday

The Belleville Triangles were going for the fourth straight victory of the season Sunday, when they were rained out while opposing the Irvington Monarchs at Capitol Field. The Triangles gathered an early lead by scoring four runs in the first inning. Due to a down-pour of rain at the beginning of the second inning the contest was called off. Tony Paul started on the hill for the locals and struck out all three batters to face him.

The locals will have their hands full when they cross bats with the powerful Scanlons of Newark, Sunday at Capitol Field, game to start at 3 P. M.

Belwoods Washed Out

The Belwood A. A. and the J. Lampariello Association of Newark were rained out Sunday, with the Belwoods trailing at the end of the third inning, 4-1.

Next Sunday at Belwood Park the Belwood A. A. will meet the Newark Cardinals in a double-header. The first game will start at 1:30. Mazzolito, Conklin, Henning, Long or Henely will pitch with Sammarco catching.

Expect New Records At Trenton Meet Speed Demons To Battle On Half-Mile Track

TRENTON. — Existing world's speed records for a half-mile track are expected to be shattered here Sunday at the New Jersey Fairgrounds course when more than forty drivers, including the sensational Ben Shaw and his record-breaking car, roar into action in a program of A. A. A. sanctioned automobile races.

Virtually every topflight driver in the East will participate. So, too, will many of the stars from other sections.

In anticipation of record-breaking speed attempts, the fairgrounds course has been prepared carefully. Track experts declare it ideal for high speed.

Six thrilling events, including the time trials, comprise the program, which will be supervised by the contest board of the American Automobile Association and staged under the direction of the Hankinson Speedways.

World's Star Riders Set for Union Meet Completion of Indianapolis Races Releases Them For Local Event

American Automobile Association officials today sent entry blanks to all ranking eastern riders for the second meet at Union Speedway to be held Sunday afternoon, June 6th. The meet will be the first Sunday affair after the Indianapolis Memorial Day classic. Completion of Indianapolis will release the world's greatest dirt track riders for the local event.

Manager Andy Watts has carded the second Gold Cup Sweepstakes event to top the program of over a hundred laps of dazzling speed. Several changes have been made among drivers and car owners since the 1937 opening, attended by 12,000 fans early this month.

Hal Cole of Los Angeles has joined the garage team of Gus Strupp, North Plainfield wizard of the motors. Cole has been assigned to pilot the famous Strupp Miller which Tommy Hinner-shot drove to second place in the 1936 A. A. A. eastern point standings.

Frank Bailey of New Brunswick, winner of the first Gold Cup Race, is recovering from injuries sustained three weeks ago and is reported in good condition at his New Brunswick home. He is expected to recover in time for the approaching meet.

Early entries indicate that forty cars will start the time trials at 1:30 P. M. Three ten-lap qualifying races and a sixteen-lap consolation event complete the program.

Bosses Won't Hire People with Halitosis (BAD BREATH)

People who get and hold jobs keep their breath agreeable

With the best to choose from these days, employers favor the person who is most attractive. In business life as in the social world, halitosis (unpleasant breath) is considered the worst of faults.

Unfortunately everybody suffers from this offensive condition at some time or other—many more regularly than they think. Fermentation of food particles skipped by the toothbrush is the cause of most cases. Decaying teeth and poor digestion also cause odors.

"The quick, pleasant way to improve your breath is to use Listerine, the quick deodorant, every morning and every night."

Listerine halts fermentation, a major cause of odors, and overcomes the odors themselves. Your breath becomes sweet and agreeable. It will not offend others.

If you value your job and your friends, use Listerine, the safe antiseptic, regularly. Listerine Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo.

Goldy Restall Rides At Tri-City Track Cyclist Is in Rare Form After Layoff of a Year

Returning to Tri-City Stadium for his second comeback performance of the 1937 night motorcycle speedway season, Union, Goldy Restall, Eastern Champion in 1933 and '34, will endeavor to gain the big-money scratch final in Manager Andy Watts' third meet of the current season, Wednesday night, June 2nd. Don Smith, Texas Blue-Boy, and George Matheson, Nova Scotia top-fighters, will both be striving to continue the high quality of their 1937 debuts last week.

Restall, one time idol of putt-putt enthusiasts, has displayed good form after a one-year lay-off. His riding shows the results of a strenuous two-month training siege. The curly-haired broadsider is the only two-time holder of the Eastern motorcycle diadem.

Smith, best known for his record of capturing eight of nine scratch finals in as many nights last year, is picking up where he left off when a broken leg halted his career in mid-season. After the accident he returned to Texas. Complications set in and it was feared for a time that the leg would have to be amputated. Don strengthened the injured member by 20 mile daily bicycle jaunts in California where he wintered. He was allowed to race here only after a board of physicians had passed on his condition.

Third of the Ted Frost Diamond Belt races will feature Eastern Champion Benny Kaufman, Crocky Rawding, popular Bloomfielder, and one other rider yet to be designated. The winner will qualify for the semi-final heats. Runner-up will be given another chance in a repechage heat.

Bronco Bo Lisman, towering enderspreeder from Long Beach, California, will lead a long list of Class A men to the starting line. Lisman has been burning up Eastern tracks lately, winning three of the first five scratch finals in the metropolitan circuit.

Night Owls Lose To Sewarren A. A. Shore Team Sets Back Locals in Game At Shore

The Night Owls traveled Sunday to Sewarren, to meet their second setback of the year when the Sewarren team scored 6 runs in the fifth inning to clinch the game, 8 to 6. In this inning the Night Owls made as many errors, Canina missing two pop-ups while Zarro whipped two throws over Yanuzzi's head to let two runs in. With two outs, Santos Nicosisia whipped the ball over the first baseman's head to let still another run in. But after that fatal fifth the Night Owls got down to business and scored three in the seventh.

Wales again starred for the losers, collecting three hits and driving in four of the runs. Sal Nicosisia, Yanuzzi, Canina and Bedmar also collected two bingles apiece, for a total of 14 hits, while the winning team gathered seven hits from the fine pitching of Revello.

A shake-up in the local line-up is due as there seems to be many errors being made. This is the second game the Night Owls should have won but for errors. Mickey Maglio, announced that he has a new pitcher who will see service in the near future.

Rangers Win No. 3

With Lefty Johnson in rare form, allowing the Belleville Bees one hit, the Rangers Sunday won No. 3 in a row, 12 to 0. Johnson not only pitched "tops," but went on a batting spree, getting two bingles.

The Rangers had a big fifth inning. Snow started off with a walk, Thompson singled over short, R. Volpe walked, as did R. Johnson, Fredericks hit to the pitcher, forcing Thompson. Bart struck out. E. Volpe walked and McCoullough batted out a hit, scoring two runners. Triano scorched one to short and another run tallied when a throw home failed to catch a runner. Snow up the second time banged out a double. All told nine runs crossed the platter in the mixup. Johnson whiffed eleven.

The Rangers will play the Belleville Hawks Decoration Day at Belleville Park. The Rangers would like to hear from the Eagles and other heavy midget teams. Write Joe Triano, 231 Brighton avenue, Belleville.

Senators Win One From Normal A. C.

Four Games Scheduled by Locals Over the Weekend

The Belleville Senators, true to their form, defeated the Normal A. C. from Montclair at Belleville Park Sunday, 7 to 1. Jack McCann, one of the Senators' ace hurlers, pitched a fine game, while Frank Boryszewski received his slants.

The Belleville Senators then went to Branch Brook Park to play the North Newark Rangers, but the game was rained out.

The first inning LeRoy Efferni scored on Joe Metz's hard hit roller down third. The fans were chased away by the hard rain storm.

The Senators will play four games over the week-end including: Mohawk A. A., Saturday, Weequahic Park, 3 P. M.; North Newark Rangers, Sunday, Branch Brook Park; Forest Hill, Branch Brook Park, Monday.

Westerners Invade Hinchliffe Stadium

East-West Feud Has Been Smoldering for Some Time

The heaviest western invasion of the history of the eastern circuit's motorcycle racing will be placed directly on the spot next Tuesday night at the Hinchliffe City Stadium in Paterson when the riders from the East endeavor to repulse the Pacific Coast aces.

The East-West feud has been smoldering for some time now and it has been mounting to new heights as the natural rivalry between the opposing factions was brought to full fruition. With the West heavily represented on the Paterson track, the easterners will step into the third weekly meet of the season with the avowed intention of bumping the invaders off.

The West has Jimmy Gibb, Bo Lisman, Mutt Kelly, "Peewee" Callum, Dutch Mueller and Don Smith in the ranks, but the East will send such aces as Champion Benny Kaufman, Goldie Restall, Crocky Rawding, George Matheson and Palmer Tambarro against them with every single one of the riders determined to plow through for precious victories.

The motorcycle racers from the opposite ends of the country have been pointing to the climax of this feud for three years now and the rivalry has reached a new high this season. Next Tuesday night, the rivalry is expected to come out in the open with a real test of supremacy.

Eighteen races are scheduled for the program by Promoter John Kochman who has lined up his show to take advantage of the East-West rivalry. The races will start at 8:45 P. M. with another "Opportunity Night" seeing distribution of cash prizes to the lucky fans.

Bears Located in Enemy Territory Four Games Are Slated With Syracuse Chiefs

Once again the pace setting Bears are in the enemy's territory. They are in Syracuse where they are scheduled to play four games with the Chiefs who are battling desperately to obtain a strangle hold on a first division berth. The series began Thursday and will end Sunday. While away the Bears will get their first baptism of night baseball for the season, as it is almost certain the games Friday and Saturday at the Salt City will be played under the lights. The first night game of the season at Ruppert Stadium is scheduled for Friday, June 4, between the Chiefs and the Bears. The Chiefs are piloted by Mike Kelly, who was coach of the Bears when they cleaned up in 1932.

The powerful bat swinging Bears will be home Monday for a series with their arch rivals the Jersey City Giants. The morning game of that day will be played in Jersey City, while the afternoon contest will be at Ruppert Stadium. Another game is scheduled for Wednesday as both teams have an off day on Tuesday. Then on Thursday the Chiefs come in for their first series of the year at the local park. They will be here for four games with the Vtittmen. In the meantime, Manager Kelly hopes to obtain some more substantial help from the Cincinnati Reds with whom they have a working agreement.

The Bruins have plenty of power with the stick and are not doing bad in the field. But when the warm weather approaches, Manager Vitt is certain some of his powerhouses will do even better work with the wagon tongue. Not only that he is certain his pitching staff is the best balanced in the league and is ready for the gruelling race from now until September. Only last Saturday the New York Yankees sent the Bears on a 24-hour option recall basis, Pitcher Kemp Wicker. The addition of Wicker, gives the Bears four southpaws, the others being Vito Tamulis, Bill Yocke and Marius Russo. In the meantime, it is expected one of the players now wearing Bear livery will be optioned to some other Yankee farm in order to comply with the league's players' limit. Last year Wicker was the ace of the Bears' pitching staff, having won 11 and lost 9. Among his victories were five shutouts. He ranked third in earned run average.

Babe Dahlgren, whom the Bears have converted into a third baseman, is showing steady improvement at the hot corner. For the past several years he has been cavorting at first base and last season was with Syracuse and the leading first baseman of the league in fielding. As soon as he masters all the tricks at third, experts are confident he will develop into a rattling good guardian. He is rapidly picking up all the tricks in fielding and his throwing across the diamond has improved. There is nothing wrong with his stickwork. Vitt is counting on the Babe to be one of the big threats all year. Jersey City fans will agree that Dahlgren packs a lot of power in his swings. He demonstrated the fact last Sunday when he clouted the ball over the center field fence, a smash of 411 feet. It was the first time the trick had ever been accomplished. All of his other drivers were of the Ruthian type. Yes, Dahlgren is a real asset to the Bears. Unlike many ball players, Babe, the slugger is not a bit superstitious.

Errors Cost Locals Bloomfield Game

Bengals Nose Out Bell Boys In Ninth Inning

Errors lost the Bloomfield game for Belleville High School's baseball team last Friday 7-6 at Bloomfield. George Zoppa's wild throw over second base and Mitchell Mosior's four fielding mistakes were glaring faults contributing to Belleville's downfall.

Zoppa partly redeemed himself by hitting a three-bagger with none on in the seventh inning. Bus Gausepohl banged out a rousing home run, which was by far the longest hit ever made on the Bloomfield diamond, in the sixth inning.

Bill Parmer for the locals and Lefty Welcher for Bloomfield each allowed seven hits.

In the last inning with three on base Captain Johnny Sheyka of Bloomfield rifled a single over short to score Daly (running for Heckel) and Heinz thereby sewing up the game.

Sidelights

Wayne R. Parmer, superintendent of schools, sat on the bench with Clifford Smith of the lumber and coal company, and Charles Smith, father of West Point graduate, Norman Smith.

The high school teachers delegation was headed by Coach Frank Smith, and included Assistant Coach Al Davis, George Reinke, and Murray Wilcox.

Bill Parmer always has six or seven slabs of gum in his mouth at the start of each game.

Vincent Riccio returned to the lineup after two weeks absence due to an ankle injury.
