

Clee Announces His Candidacy Had Been Rumored As Potential Runner For Months

State Senator Lester H. Clee of Newark, Wednesday announced that he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of New Jersey.

Clee had been rumored a potential gubernatorial candidate for months. His brief statement, released here this morning, ended all uncertainties as to his position and brought the candidacy of the former speaker of the House of Assembly formally out into the open state political arena.

Clee's announcement was merely a formal recording of the fact that he was a candidate. He did not attempt to outline state issues or a platform, declaring:

"There will be ample opportunity during the coming months of this campaign to discuss fully those things which I believe to be essential and necessary to the conduct and administration of government in this state." Senator Clee's statement in full follows:

"The men and women of New Jersey, I am sure, are aware of the vital problems of government which today are pressing for solution on every side and are conscious of the fact that good government in each individual state of the Union contributes to good government in the nation as a whole.

"The demand has never been greater for efficient, adequate and economical government administration — government with a watchful, understanding eye on changing times and new social obligations—but functioning always for all the people.

"There can be no hope of good government in any state when its conduct rests in the hands of political machines, manipulated for personal power by bosses in any party. The need is for unselfish, equitable and unbossed leadership.

"During the past three years, first as a speaker of the Assembly and, later, as senator from Essex County, I have traveled throughout the state, meeting and talking with men and women in every walk of life.

"I have been impressed and moved by their serious concern with the business of government.

"It is clear to me that they believe that our difficulties come not so much from the general machinery for government with which we are equipped, but from the selfish usages to which that machinery is subjected.

Now that the permit has been granted to the Civic League's 4th of July Committee, the campaign for contributions has started and the first results have been secured. To date the total contributions are $102.

Although the celebration is still more than three weeks away it will be necessary for the committee's contributions, if this is an estimate of the weekly returns, to greatly exceed these first returns.

The celebration will again be held at Clearman Field. This year it will be on Monday evening, July 5, if weather is clear. In case of rain it will be held the next clear night.

The fireworks display will be the largest ever held in Belleville. The committee in charge invites all organizations to participate in this town-wide celebration.

For a gala occasion each citizen should contribute, the committee in charge says, even in a small way, to assist in a worth-while community project. Clifton J. Smith is chairman of the committee. Each week a list of contributors will be published. Here is the first list:

Town Grants Permit For Fourth Display Fireworks Contractor Must Post Bond For $10,000

An ordinance passed at the regular meeting of the Town Commission on Tuesday night gave to the Civic League of Belleville Incorporated, permission to hold a Fourth of July program at Clearman Field.

Included in the ordinance, however, was the stipulation that, by June 22, a bond of $10,000 must be posted by the fire works contractor and his equipment must be inspected by the chiefs of both the fire and police department.

Under the laws of the State of New Jersey it is required that a minimum bond of $2,500 be posted. In order to be entirely on the safe side, Town Attorney Keenan recommended that a bond for the former amount be secured.

The commission unanimously voted down on second reading an ordinance designed to prohibit erection of an apartment house in Rutgers street between one now standing and Washington avenue. Mayor Williams said the commissioners were agreed the matter was one for private settlement and not for legislation.

Assessment Board Out of Existence Tax Assessor John F. Coogan Will Now Handle Work

The existence of the Belleville Board of Assessments was definitely terminated at the meeting of the Belleville Town Commissioners on Tuesday, June 8. The late John J. Barrett was the last civil war veteran living in Belleville and for thirty years he had held this position at a small compensation. The work of the board is now to be done by John F. Coogan, tax assessor, assisted by members of the Department of Public Works. This does not involve any extra compensation and the assessment is made immediately upon the completion of the job. Formerly, it was necessary to wait until the meeting of the Board of Assessment until the proper assessment could be fixed.

Local Half-Miler Spiked In Right Leg As He Rounds Turn

Frank Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of 262 Hornblower avenue, this town, a member of the Belleville High School track and field team, suffered a spike injury to his right leg in the state track meet at Montclair, last Saturday.

The injury abruptly terminated, for the time being, at least, a promising career for "Brownie" (as he is known by his teammates), as a half miler of the highest rating.

Brown, who is a senior at the local high school, played basketball as a regular guard on Belleville's team last winter.

In the race at Montclair, Brown was rounding the first turn when a competitor fell, knocking the local runner down. Brown's rival's spike pierced the Belleville boy's leg in three places.

Seen About Town

There is a story behind every success yarn. Teddy Close, son of Rev. and Mrs. O. Bell Close, has had considerable success with fancy diving acts which he puts on at several places during the summer months. He attends school in the other seasons. The story behind this is that when he was four years old he was bedridden with tuberculosis of the spine. He was in bed for three years and in that time developed his arm muscles to a great extent. He is fourteen now and one of the town's leading athletes.

We saw John "Sugar" Flynn patrolling Washington avenue last week seeing that every one crossed the street safely.

Morris Gottschalk, local business man, had misfortune strike at him early in life. His father who was a physician, died two weeks after Mr. Gottschalk was born. If his father had lived the local man would have been a medic.

Richard Flanagan of 26 De Witt avenue, a clerk in the drug store of Dr. Herman H. North, is a singer of no mean pretense and is a member of the high school glee club.

Robert Abell of 1 Essex street is an expert in the making of airplane models.

Jack Varian of Washington avenue would like to organize a junior baseball team.

Reginald Tanner of 12 Division avenue says he enjoys sitting on Bob McGough's lawn better than the seashore.

Last Saturday Max Sokol of 443 Washington avenue made his first trip in five years to Bensonhurst, New York, to visit his brother.

A swarm of bees held a mass meeting on Bob McGough's lawn last Friday. It wasn't until August Bechtoldt of this town captured the queen bee did the rest of the bees consent to move.

Among the mail carriers in this town are Jacob Hoffman, Joseph Sider and Wilbur Eckert. Cassidy, who controls the William street district and Hoffman and Eckert are in the Greylock section.

Robert Bootay, formerly of Belleville, now of Montclair, was in town last week and greeted many of his old friends. Bob is attending Hobart college, the institution attended by his brother Edgar, a few years ago.

George Allen, local plumber, of 24 Forest street, is an expert on baseball statistics.

Improvement in Welfare Department Little Short of Spectacular Last 15 Months

Director Joseph King and John J. Hewitt, Overseer of the Poor Have Eliminated Red Tape And Installed Proper System

The improvement in the direction of the Welfare Department in the Town of Belleville during the past fifteen months has been little short of spectacular. Instead of the continual red tape and duplication of effort which characterized the administration of the Emergency Relief, Director Joseph King and John J. Hewitt, Overseer of the Poor, have installed many improvements both in system and principle that have been beneficial to the municipality and to the relief recipient.

In preparing this series of articles, some doubt was expressed as to the reception that a representative of this paper would receive when information concerning the administration of the town government was requested. The Welfare Department was most helpful in supplying the information necessary to the preparation of this article.

In making an application for assistance the client goes to the office at 248 Mill street and fills out a short statement of his need. Within forty-eight hours he again appears at the office and is interviewed by an "intake worker." The duty of this person is to secure as much information as possible from the applicant so that an investigation into his financial needs can be started immediately. In the process of this investigation clearance letters are sent to the last places of employment, the insurance companies where he might have had insurance at one time, to the tax office to determine whether he is a property owner and to legally responsible relatives to inform them of the condition of the client.

From this point the "home visitor" continues the investigation. The client is visited in his home and the situation found there is described in a "case record." If any detail of the preliminary investigation has been overlooked or is incomplete this person continues until every possible resource has been exhausted. When this investigation is completed and recorded the financial needs of the family are considered and relief is issued. If an applicant comes to the office and appears to be in immediate need, temporarily assistance is granted pending the completion of the above described investigation.

All items that are supplied are included in a cash check that is issued twice a month, on the first and the sixteenth. Prior to the issuance of this, however, the client, if employable, must have put in enough hours of work on a fifty cent an hour basis for the town to meet the amount of the check. In this manner the town actually receives tangible, material benefit from the money spent in this manner. As nearly as possible, the overseer attempts to find work for the men at their usual trades in order to keep them as skilled as possible.

A constant check is kept by the "visitor" who, at least twice a month, is in the home of the client. Frequently the department learns of hidden resources and employment that is not reported to them. If the amount involved is large the clients are prosecuted for fraud and required to make restitution.

In order to show some of the things that Mr. Hewitt and his staff of workers have to contend with, a letter addressed to Governor Hoffman that had been referred to the Welfare department was taken from the files and copied exactly. The English and lack of punctuation indicate the type of family from which the letter originated.

Feb. 3, 1937.
61st St.,
Belleville, N. J.

Dear Mr. Hoffman:

I am taking the provillens of writing to you personal I am a mother of four children to boys to girl one have been very sick with a moni and has been taken as to hospital will a bill has to payed also Doctor I am the father of these children I would like to be help out like other I m willing to work and cant get I govnt day after day I am the United of America would never can to see at least a mother of four children starve and God I surely need help at I am baging you see what consetsdion you the baby is seven boy secon 4 boy third 2 girl and baby 2 month I need milk food cloths also I can pay rent expect

Yours as ever
Fannie Doe

Thank you
Please rush this matter
I am sure as government you will help me out.

Because of this letter a representative of the state government came to the office and began an investigation into the situation. After going into the family's situation thoroughly, the following affidavit was taken.

STATEMENT

March 1, 1937.
I, Jerry Doe, 61st St. Belleville, de-poe and say that statements made in letter addressed to Governor Hoffman, dated February 2, and letter addressed to President Roosevelt, on or about February 4, are not true in fact.

In reference to statements alleging lack of hospital care, medical care and failure to receive aid covering food, shelter, clothing, fuel and such other items, these statements were exaggerated inasmuch as I have been receiving proper attention from the Overseer of the Poor. Letters were addressed so that I would receive much more assistance than I have been receiving.

I have refused to work over a period of time to compensate for relief received, but I intend to commence work for the local relief authorities within a day or two.

My wife, children and baby are not starving because I have received cash relief checks from the Belleville Overseer of the Poor, Mr. John J.
Hewitt.

Jerry Doe.

During the following week it was learned that Mr. Doe had purchased a new electric refrigerator. A copy of the conditional sales contract was secured and on this contract Mr. Doe had sworn that his income was approximately $200 a month. He was able to give the best of credit references and had possession of the refrigerator. Needless to state, the usual course of procedure with fraud cases was followed and the man is no longer receiving assistance.

All of the bookkeeping is done with the latest of mechanical equipment making the error ratio negligible.
Clothing, manufactured in the WPA sewing room, is issued to the clients when needed. The premises are kept very clean and the general atmosphere is a great improvement over the ERA days of demonstrations, fights, police protection and administrative headaches.

The staff of the Welfare Department consists of—John J. Hewitt, Overseer; Mrs. Martha O. Ennis, Intake; Mrs. Mary E. Ridgeway, case worker; Anthony B. Delio, case worker; Mrs. Sue Metz, case worker; Miss Julie H. Chalmers, secretary and receptionist; Miss Agnes McGeehanclerk; Miss Jane Whelan, bookkeeper and Joseph Flannagan, superintendent. There are two WPA projects situated in the building over which the town of Belleville does not have jurisdiction. However, it was learned that they work in close cooperation with the Welfare Department.

Patrick A. Waters Gets Greylock Storm Sewer

WPA Had Rejected Job On Five Different Occasions

After several years of effort, Commissioner Waters has finally persuaded the WPA authorities to accept the proposed project to complete the Greylock parkway storm sewer.

At five different times the project has been submitted and each time it has been rejected by the WPA on the grounds that the municipal contribution was not adequate. The amount of money necessary to enable the Federal Government to start work on this project was approved at the last meeting of the commissioners and Commissioner Waters states that he expects that work will begin at the parkway very soon.

THERE's a lot more in this picture than meets the eye, though the eye has plenty to sparkle about in the stunning style of this spirited Buick car.

What you don't see here is the lift that's yours when you touch off the flashing power of Buick's valve-in-head straight-eight engine and go streaming off across the map.

What you don't see is the solid, steady feel of Buick—the firm stability that holds you on the line without weave or sway or wander on straightaways or on the curves.

What you don't see is the assurance you'll know once you step on Buick's tiptoe brakes and see how surely and safely they make you master of its power.

We can't picture here the security that's yours in a body of steel-fused-to-steel—with floor, roof, side panels, cowl all welded into one stout unit of protective metal.

And only time can tell you how big is your money's worth in Buick—all steel and two yards wide, a big package that's your one best bet of the field when you add the superb action that gives its metals life.

All we can do is show you how a Buick looks—and handsome as this gallant traveler is, remind you that its good looks are literally the least of what it has to offer.

There's still time to make this a summer long to be happily remembered—if you'll go try a Buick now.

Fire Fighting Methods To Be Demonstrated At Field Day

Planes, Radio Cars and Field Force s At Tren- ton Fair Grounds

TRENTON, June 11.—Methods of attacking fires both from air and land will be demonstrated at the New Jersey State Firemen's Field Day to be staged at the New Jersey State Fair Grounds on Saturday, July 3. The general committee, of which David J. Newell is chairman, is making arrangements with Col. Leonidas Coyle, head of the New Jersey Forest Fire fighting forces, to stage an exhibition using the state plane, radio contact cars and some of his field forces so that the visiting firemen and their friends may obtain an accurate idea of the methods used in detecting and fighting forest fires. In addition there will be a spectacular display of "Fighting the Flames" by city firemen equipped with the latest devices.

The program will be an all-day affair starting with inspection of fire apparatus in the morning, a parade and contests will be staged in the afternoon, and in the evening there will be a presentation of prizes, a mass band concert, and in recognition of the celebration of Independence Day there will be a stupendous fireworks display.

The general committee, meeting every Tuesday night, at the headquarters office, 8 West Hanover street, Trenton, is receiving entries of fire companies desiring to participate in the parade or contests. Valuable trophies and money awards have been provided by the committee and blanks may be obtained by addressing S. H. Barrett, the managing director of the celebration.

CLEE ANNOUNCES

"For three years, as a member of the Legislature, I have given my best as I have seen it, and have tried to contribute to the fullest of my abilities to the welfare of my state, always mindful of those who pay the bill for government.

"I have endeavored to do that which I felt would bring the greatest security and the largest opportunity to all our citizens.

"During the past few months, I have been urged by many people in every section of New Jersey, to be a candidate for nomination by the Republican party for Governor.

"Fully realizing the responsibility and the challenge involved, I now announce my candidacy.

"This is merely a statement of the fact that I formally am a candidate. I have not attempted herein to discuss the many issues which I know today are uppermost in the minds of many citizens.

"There will be ample opportunity during the coming months of this campaign to discuss fully those things which I believe to be essential and necessary to the conduct and administration of government in this state."

Senator Clee has had a meteoric career as a legislator. Elected in 1934 to take office as an Assemblyman in 1935, he immediately became Speaker of the House. His record so impressed his Essex County constituents that he was sent back the following year as State Senator. In that capacity he has been one of the outstanding members of the past two sessions.

His record as an advocate of efficient government, linked with his leadership in the fight to repeal the Sales Tax and his blocking of other new taxes caused a group of ardent supporters from all parts of the state to turn to him as gubernatorial timber.

In his private life he has experienced success after success. Even as a mill-hand, promotion was offered early in his career but he preferred to enter a field that brought him into closer contact with people and their problems. He was carried along from activity to activity, each more arduous than the last and each based on the success of his last work, until, through no plan of his own, he was called to the ministry.

His subsequent call to Newark, where he is minister of the Second Presbyterian Church, was due to a particularly difficult problem of changed conditions that confronted that downtown church. His success there revealed his ability as an organizer, executive, public speaker and humanitarian and was the foundation of an insistent demand from men and women of every faith, color and race that he enter the broader field of public service through the Legislature.

Consider Clinic

In Silver Lake

Town May Take Over
 Platzer Association
 Project

The Town Commission is considering establishing a clinic operated by the Karl H. Platzer Association at 20 Heckel street, Belleville, as an official municipal clinic.

Platzer Monday night offered to put the clinic, which is staffed by a physician, surgeon, optometrist, dentist and nurse, at the disposal of the town. Since it was opened January 7, Platzer said, "the clinic has treated about 60 persons a week, many of them Belleville relief clients."

His association, Platzer said, is a county-wide, non-partisan, charitable group.

Several of the commissioners have already inspected the premises, and, as soon as all have, together with Health Officer Berry and Overseer of the Poor Hewitt, a decision will be reached.

The town Welfare Department is now using the clinic for dental treatment for clients in that district.

Builder Asks Why

Bid on Lot Was Rejected by Town

The Town Commission Monday afternoon was addressed by Vincent Del Guercio of 487 Joralemon street, a local builder, who inquired as to the reason why his offer of $850 for the lot on the corner of Cedar street and Berkeley avenue, 35 x 117, was rejected.

This property, as well as the property directly across the street, has been listed for tax sale. The approximate interest that the town has in both properties is $1900, each. The one lot was sold for $800 and Mr. Del Guercio, in his attempt to purchase the other, felt that he had been discriminated against.

After discussion it was decided to fix a minimum price of $1,000 for the lot. This was satisfactory to the prospective buyer and, if no other bids are entered, he will be given possession.

The money derived from the celebration will be used either on playgrounds, the public library or the institutions of a local board of charities.

Whatever else you can run away from, you can't run away from yourself.—Harry Emerson Fosdick.

WHERE DANGER LURKS

Every thoughtful citizen knows the great danger of streets and highways in these days of fast cars and careless, reckless and drunken drivers. Every possible precaution is taken to safeguard those who travel thereon. We plan broad highways, traffic circles, warning signs, signal lights, and every known device to prevent accidents and injury, and death recurs not only with great frequency, but in increasing numbers.

Belleville's Director of Public Safety, George R. Gerard, has before him the report of the Essex County Freeholder's Road Committee for the first three months of 1937, and its accident figures are almost appalling. For that period in 1936, there were 32 fatalities and in 1937 the deaths have risen to 40 in our home county; while the accident total, many of them serious, rose from 1,904 to 2,478 in Essex County alone. In the state, the automobile deaths for the first quarter of 1936 were 172, and these had become 292 during the same time in 1937.

Director Gerard is striving hard to have our roads safeguarded. Cautioning signs and traffic lights are well placed at all important intersections and other danger points. When he came into office, there were two motorcycle men patrolling our streets with a daily average mileage of between 12 and 15 miles, according to police records. Now there are three motormen on duty with a daily mileage of over 100 miles in the aggregate.

Summonses are issued to all who are caught in traffic violations, and Recorder Smith has inaugurated the policy of suspending the driver's license of all found guilty of violations other than minor ones. During the last six weeks he has taken the driver's rights of 85 such offenders.

Director Gerard has now also joined the Newark Safety Council and appointed certain of our citizens chosen for their sense and discretion to act with this council as unofficial observers of traffic violations along our streets. This means that together with the Newark members of the Council, they will note the license numbers of drivers who do such things as drive through red lights, pass trolley cars or buses on the wrong side or when discharging passengers, riding at an excessive rate of speed, or disregarding stop signs, and report such acts to our Police Department. Director Gerard hopes this will be a strong deterrent to violators of the law and thus further promote the safety of our roads.

Belleville has three main north and south highways and four east and west main roads that thus gridiron our town, which together with our local traffic cause the problem of making our streets safe, a difficult one, but if earnest effort and unceasing attention can affect a greater degree of safety for both driver and pedestrian in Belleville, we will not fail to succeed.

ENCOURAGING NEWS

The recent announcement that the U. S. Patent Office has operated at a profit for the last three years and now has on hand a surplus of half a million dollars is of far greater importance to millions of Americans than the mere figures involved.

For in these cold figures lies proof that American inventive genius is more actively at work than ever before—providing new jobs for millions of workers and a higher standard of living for all of us—writing America's future in the blue prints on file in Washington.

Great industries today were mere drawings in the Patent Office yesterday. Stainless steel, modern chemicals, safety glass, mechanical refrigeration, radio, air conditioning—today employing millions of people, are but a step removed from the laboratory of science and industry.

And industries already great, by research and study, are devising new uses for their products which in turn may encourage and stimulate entire new industries. Oil, for example, not only furnishes direct employment for a vast army of workers in the oil fields and refineries, but by a constant and costly program of research to discover new uses for oil and improvements on the product, have made it possible for other industries to grow to enormous proportions. One need only think of automobiles and aviation in that connection.

Every patent granted holds untold potentialities for national improvement. None can foretell what the results of industrial research and production will be in the way of new jobs and increased human comfort. That is why Patent Office figures are so encouraging. They furnish fresh proof that science and industry, teamed together, are on the threshold of new marvels—building a new America.

FLAG DAY

June 14 is Flag Day.

It is more: it is the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the adoption of the American national emblem by the Continental Congress on that memorable fourteenth day of June, 1777.

"We take," said General Washington in approving the Stars and Stripes as the official flag of the United States of America, "the stars from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white shall go down to posterity representing Liberty."

The world has never known a banner more humble in its origin, yet more daring in its conception, and more eloquent in its appeal to the hearts and minds of men the world over.

It is the symbol of the hopes, the aspirations, the struggles, the sufferings, the victories, the happiness, the progress—in short, the very lives—of more than one hundred and twenty million people.

Citizenship in the United States means loyalty to the Stars and Stripes. Indifference to the national emblem is akin to contempt. Contempt for the colors is the seed plot of treason and the soil of anarchy. Ignorance of it is the mother of vice. Therefore, on this day may each one of us reaffirm our allegiance to our flag by making the following pledge:

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States and to the Republic for which it stands. One nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all."

NO "BOOMS" TODAY, THANK YOU

Thirty days without a traffic fatality! That is a record of which San Diego, California, may justly be proud. It is the result of an aggressive safety campaign initiated by local officials who had become alarmed by the staggering number of traffic deaths occurring within their city.

To fully illustrate the impressive results obtained, the safety committee of the local post of the American Legion prepared a chart closely resembling an ordinary index of business activity. The traffic death rate before the drive was represented by a diagonal line, reaching its peak in the upper right hand corner of the chart, darkly hinting at a breath-taking and horrifying "boom" in the "death business." Reduced to figures this line meant that on the average, one person was killed every three and eight-tenths days. Results of the drive were represented by another line that showed that the death rate had been reduced to one person each fourteen and three-tenths days—a decrease of almost 80 per cent.

Success of the safety campaign was attributed to the fact that the police "cracked down" and the courts backed them up by handling cases efficiently and impartially. Too, San Diego's leading newspapers aroused in the public a spirit of whole-hearted co-operation with a steady stream of constructive and helpful publicity.

San Diego's fine record conclusively proves that safety campaigns, seriously undertaken, can accomplish surprisingly effective results in any community.

DEATH IS PERMANENT

The destruction of the Hindenburg has once again brought before the eyes and minds of the world the terror of sudden, uncontrollable fire. Millions of persons, reading the news accounts and viewing the ghastly photographs of the doomed airship and its victims, have been gripped by a shudder of horror. Not so long ago the New London school disaster resulted in a similar mass reaction.

The unfortunate part of it all is that these lessons are so quickly forgotten, and that a large part of the public virtually refuses to adopt safety measures of long standing need, which would prevent thousands of individual tragedies whose cumulative total of death, injury and property damage is infinitely greater than that caused by the infrequent major disasters that are headlined in the newspapers of the world.

For example, six thousand persons in the United States—exclusive of the 1,500 who die annually in burning buildings—die yearly of burns and scalds, and practically every one of these deaths is preventable. Children are the principal sufferers, thanks to the carelessness of adults. Unprotected stoves and grates, hot water, steam, and matches are the principal objects which quickly become lethal weapons of death at the innocent exploring touch of a child's hand. Among adults the practice of starting fires with kerosene and gasoline is well in the fore as a producer of fatal burns, and as a destroyer of property.

Death by fire is just as painful and horrifying—whether it occurs in a home or in a spectacular disaster. Think of this before you throw kerosene on that balky fire. Remember, death is a permanent proposition, and no amount of money will bring back life to a charred body.

SHOULD DELAY STRIKE

With the Corcoran wage-hour bill before Congress, which if adopted, would set up a minimum wage for employees, it seems that the strike of machinists at Eastwood-Neally Corporation plant is ill-timed.

Perhaps it would have been better judgment had the strike been held in abeyance until the government acts. The American Federation of Labor is not satisfied with it, fearing that stated wages would become the standard scale. John L. Lewis' CIO approves of the bill because it outlaws strike-breakers and labor spies.

Wouldn't it be better for workmen, employers and Unions alike if all concerned waited to see just what the government intends to do. It has always been our humble opinion that most difficulties that seem tremendous at the moment are ironed out easier and best through the least effort and without haranguing.

KNOW YOUR STATE

Prepared for The Belleville News by Russell VanNest
Black, Director-Consultant New Jersey
State Planning Board

(Small Plants in New Jersey)

Contrary to the widely held belief that the years of depression have fostered the growth of industrial plants with a small number of employees, a survey of industrial conditions throughout New Jersey from 1918 to 1934, conducted by the New Jersey State Planning Board, has shown that the period of the depression did not see any marked increase in the number of small plants in the state.

In 1927, 60.5 per cent. of all plants including service industries, fell into the class of from one to twenty employees. By 1934 this percentage had risen to nearly 63, representing an actual net gain of only 348 plants in seven years. What increases did occur took place in the rural areas of the state. It is interesting to note that the group of textile and textile products, was not a factor in these gains. Actually, over 75% of the increase occurred in service plants. Nine counties showed gains in the number of employees in plants from one to twenty but in each case, the gains were below 3%. Plants employing from 21 to 250, accounted for 35% of the total in 1927 and 33% of the plants in 1934. The largest losses in the number of plants in this class occurred in Hunterdon, Salem, Sussex, and Warren Counties. The heaviest loss in the number of employees took place in Hunterdon, Ocean, and Salem Counties. Those employing 250 people and over 4.5% of the plants in 1927 and 4.4% in 1934.

During the years from 1927 and 1934 there had been a slight trend toward a larger percentage of plants classified as service industries. While in 1927 these comprised 11.9% of all plants, in 1934 the percentage was for 14.8%. Those employing from one to twenty increased from 15% of all plants in that class in 1927, to 18.8% in 1934. The percentage of plants employing from 21 to 250, increased from 7.8 per cent. to 8.4 per cent., while those employing over 250 increased from 3 per cent. to 5.1 per cent.

Recent Court Decisions

In the midst of the controversy over the President's proposal for its reorganization, the Supreme Court has handed down several of the most important decisions in its recent history, all of them upholding the constitutionality of recent Federal or State legislation, states the current issue of The Guaranty Survey, published by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

The court rendered a five-to-four ruling in favor of the Minimum Wages for Women Act of the State of Washington and unanimous decisions sustaining the provisions of the Railway Labor Act requiring railroads to engage in collective bargaining with their employees, the revised Farm Mortgage Moratorium Act, and the Virginia milk control law. It also upheld the constitutionality of the National Labor Relations Act in a series of five decisions, four of which were reached by a five-to-four majority, while the fifth was unanimous.

Of these decisions, "The Survey" continues, the one sustaining the Washington minimum-wage law was generally regarded as the most important, partly because the court had invalidated a similar New York State law last June, partly because in reaching the present decision the court avowedly overruled one of its previous opinions in which a minimum-wage law for the District of Columbia was held unconstitutional, and partly because the President had declared that this field of legislation was a "no man's land" in which neither the Federal Government, nor the States could act.

Railway Labor Act Sustained.

The decision on the Railway Labor Act held that the law is a proper measure to protect interstate commerce from interruptions due to labor disputes and that so-called "backshop" employees of the railroads are to be considered as engaged in interstate commerce, even though they work in repair shops and remain within one state. The court pointed out that the law does not undertake to compel agreement between the employer and the employee but only to require certain preliminary steps without which no agreement could be reached, and that "the fact that Congress has indicated its purpose to make negotiations obligatory is in itself a declaration of public interest and policy which should be persuasive in inducing courts to give relief."

The revised Farm Mortgage Moratorium Act, which was enacted to replace a similar law found unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, was held to be still loosely drawn but nevertheless a proper exercise of the power of Congress to establish uniform bankruptcy laws. The original act had been invalidated on the ground that, as applied to mortgages given before its enactment, it substantially impaired the mortgagee's security. The revised law was found to differ from the earlier one in that it is not so drawn as to make unreasonable modifications of the rights of mortgagees, since it is sufficiently broad in conferring discretionary powers on the courts to limit its application in cases where to do otherwise might result in injury either to creditors or debtors.

The law permits a farmer who cannot pay his debts to ask that he be adjudged a bankrupt and be permitted to retain possession of his property under court supervision, and the court may postpone all proceedings against the bankrupt farmer for as long as three years. While holding the law as a whole constitutional, the court emphasized that it refrained from deciding questions that might arise later in the course of the administration of the act.

The decision on the Virginia milk control law was in line with previous rulings upholding "the power of a State to fix a minimum price for milk in order to save producers, and with them the consuming public, from price cutting so destructive as to endanger the supply." In answer to the contention that the act represents an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority, the court found that the Federal Constitution "has no voice on the subject" of such delegation within state governments and that the validity of such delegation with respect to the State Constitution had been decided by the highest court of the state. While concurring in the main decision, a minority of four justices dissented from a portion of the majority opinion upholding the power of the state to fix minimum and maximum prices of milk.

Labor Relations Act Upheld.

The decisions upholding the constitutionality of the National Labor Relations Act are regarded as among the most important in recent court history. The court, in the opinion of constitutional lawyers, gave a considerably broader interpretation than ever before to the section of the Constitution empowering Congress to regulate interstate commerce, holding that, even though products may be locally manufactured, they are to be regarded as in interstate commerce if the ingredients of which they are composed come from another state or if the finished products are eventually sold outside of state boundaries.

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

News from the Nation's Capital has again stepped to the fore following closely by that of Labor and Europe. Together they made the financial markets extremely dull and uninteresting.

Offerings of securities to aid in expansion of business have been at a very low ebb. The unwillingness of commercial houses to put out new paper is, in a manner, due to the uncertainty regarding future government financing.

Now that the terms of the June 15 financing has been announced a feeling prevails that offerings, of new securities, will soon be made. As Washington has found it necessary to raise the interest rate later offerings should follow suit.

Securities have moved in a very narrow range with volume at the lowest figure in months. Crop news was about the only news that created any stir in trading markets. With possible warlike developments in the offing the grains moved up only to go lower on an estimated increase in production being reported.

Outside of the sharp break in steel activity, brought about by the new strikes in the independent plants, and a slight recession in building construction the news of the mercantile world was generally favorable.

The following items taken from facts gathered by Mr. B. C. Forbes of the New York American are cited in confirmation:

More bicycles were sold last year than in any year since the early nineteen hundreds.

Factory payrolls are 74 per cent. higher than the depression low.

In 1936, 67 per cent. of the total national income was paid in salaries, wages and other labor payments.

Only nine per cent. of the more than 6,800,000 farmers have borrowed from land banks.

More than one-third of the country's population has savings accounts with an average balance of more than $500.

Tourist travel in California was 40 per cent. more than in 1929.

Another commentator points out that, in spite of strikes, basic statistics indicate that the United States has had the best spring business since 1929.

Another report states that farmers in the mid-west are investing in new farm machinery and are looking forward to a good year.

Railroad traffic, both freight and passenger, continues at the high level recently established. Prospects for its continuance in the immediate future are considered good.

After looking at the bright side it is only fair to consider the less promising side. One must therefore think of the threats of a long labor controversy and its necessary aftermath. It is also well to consider the possible action of Congress with respect to some branches of business.

Editor's Note—Questions pertaining to securities and investments addressed to Martin Cook in care of this paper will be answered promptly.

BRIBERY

A penny from his mother,
To eat his beans and bread,
And then perhaps another
Because he goes to bed.
To lace his shoes, a penny,
To wash his face, the same;
If such should spoil young Benny,
Then who would be to blame?

A voice sounds out "just gimme
A dime, and I'll work hard."
And so we find young Jimmie
Improves his record card.
If we've been quick to promise,
And rash, we'll likely see
That he'll get more yet from us,
In form of increased fee.

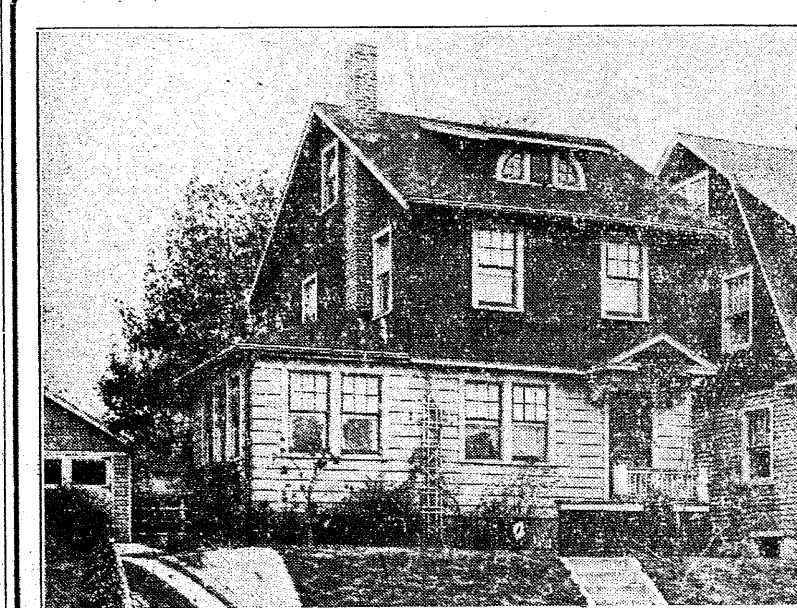

There is no use of talking,
It proves not very nice,
When youths hold back, are balking,
To make us raise the price.
If we've been compensating
The child for things he's done,
There is no estimating
The damage thus begun.

Oh, yes, we may be cheating
Our children day by day,
When for the act of eating
We offer them some pay;
For when we train young Sonny,
His meals, as tasks to see,
For which we pay him money,
Is that not bribery?

Horace "Bus" Gausepohl Makes Farewell Appearance In Blue and Gold Line-Up

Pitches Locals to 3-0 Win/Over Clifton As He Climaxes Remarkable Record In Past School Year.

Horace "Bus" Gausepohl made his farewell appearance in a Belleville High School uniform, Tuesday, when he pitched the local baseball team to victory over Clifton High by the score of 3 to 0.

Gausepohl climaxed by this victory a remarkable achievement in the past school year being captain of the football, basketball and baseball teams. He played on the football team, guard on the basketball team, and pitcher and left field on the baseball team.

Tuesday's win put the locals on the right side of the ledger with seven triumphs to six losses.

Gausepohl struck out seven men and allowed only three hits.

Sidelights.

Bummett Ryder was the only Bell boy to knock out an extra base hit. He garnered a double in the fifth inning.

George Zoppa replaced Ed Banta at first base. Vincent Sorrentino took place behind the plate. Sorrentino, by the way, picked off two Clifton runners stealing second.

Athletic director, Albert K. McBride, told us Tuesday that he is going to use Ed Slavin, right fielder of the baseball team, in indoor meets next winter. Slavin will probably be used in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He will be a sophomore. McBride will also send into competition next winter Daniel Wasco, high jumper of the track and field team.

The regulars, Director McBride, Instructor Alvin Davis and Dr. Donald S. Brown, attended the game.

Anthony Paul, ex-pitcher of Belleville High, threw a few in for the batters in batting practice.

Ben Kaufman Seeks Win at Paterson

Eastern Circuit Champ Has Machine In Red-Hot Condition

His machine in red-hot form, Benny Kaufman, who wears the eastern circuit motorcycle crown with jaunty mien, will aim for his most important series of triumphs next Tuesday night at the Hinchliffe City stadium in Paterson when he competes in the weekly motorcycle racing program scheduled by Promoter John Kochman.

Kaufman has soared to the top of the speed heap in meteoric brilliance, his skillful maneuvering of a speedy machine bringing him to the apex of the motorcycle ranks in the short span of two years. From a forty-yard handicap man to the very best of the speedsters is the long abyss he spanned. And this season he is more ambitious than ever—he wants to cut through the ranks with clean sweep victories.

The difficult feat of scoring a clean sweep is his goal for the Paterson meet next Tuesday night and the slightly-built Bronx star has been pointing to this show as his big opportunity. Last season, he turned it on several occasions around the circuit but the feat has escaped him so far. Tuesday, he will be gunning for a victory in every race in which he appears.

Kaufman will have tough going though. In the 18-race program, he will have to overcome such aces as Crocky Rawding, Goldie Restall, George Matheson, Palmer Tamburro, Jimmy Gibb, Bo Lismann, "Peewee" Callum, Ray Tauser and Don Smith among others. That field will be no easy array of obstacles to hurdle.

The program will start at 8:45 P. M. Scratch and handicap races and match competition will be on the card.

Musketeers Lose

The Belleville Emanons snapped the four-game winning streak of the Belleville Musketeers Saturday at Belwood Park, 11 to 10. F. Rankin and Costello led the hitting for the victors with three safeties apiece.

"Red" Willie, on the mound for the Musketeers, pitched a steady game but bad breaks and errors led to his downfall. MacGregor and G. Peacock divided the hurling for the Emanons.

Triangles Win Easy One in 5 Innings

Defeat Zamparillo Club of Newark by Score Of 16-0

The Belleville Triangles, after suffering their first defeat of the season last week, came up with a shutout Sunday to defeat the Zamparillo Association, 16 to 0.

Ralph Palumbo, a newcomer to the Triangles pitching staff, made his first appearance Sunday and allowed the visitors only two hits and fanned nine batters in a five-inning affair, terminated by rain.

The game ran rather close until the fourth frame when the locals came to life. Cappi singled to open the inning, Palumbo tripled, followed by the top of the batting order, all to receive one or more hits in that frame. The locals scored twelve times on fourteen hits in the fourth inning. The final results were eighteen hits to score sixteen times.

John Zoppa broke his hitless streak by getting three hits, one of which was a triple, which came in the big rally. George Zoppa, Tony Fantacone, and Ryden all made three hits out of four attempts.

The Gasserts D. C. of Harrison, will travel to Capitol Field, Belleville, Sunday at 3 P. M., to fall the Triangles. Manager J. Distasio has decided to start his ace twirler, Tony Paul against the visitors.

The Morning After Taking Carier's Little Liver Pills

Ossie Vitt Doesn't Claim Flag Yet

Praises His Club But He Decides Not To Jinx Outfit

Manager Oscar Vitt of the Newark Bears is generally in a happy frame of mind. Ol Os, is really a congenial individual off the field. He will talk baseball and in his narrations tell many interesting episodes of the sport. One thing Vitt doesn't do is to claim any flag for his team, for he wishes to avoid putting any jinx on it. He praises the club but always stresses the fact, Montreal, Buffalo, Syracuse and Toronto might furnish some real surprises between now and September. He respects the other clubs but does not worry about them.

Ol Os is glad the Bruins are going to be home for practically the rest of the month. Outside of a four-day stay in Syracuse, the Bears will do all of their playing at Ruppert stadium. The teams of the northern cities are now on the road and Buffalo, Toronto, Rochester and Montreal are to be seen in the roles of invaders. The home stay starts tonight (Friday) when the galloping Bisons begin their three-game series with the Bears. The first game will be under the lights, while the other two games will be played in the daylight, Saturday and Sunday. It is expected the crowd tonight, being Ladies' Night will exceed that of last week when 13,668 were in the stands.

The Bisons have been playing great ball under Manager Ray Schalk, who incidentally is seeking his second consecutive flag. The club is hitting and many contend the Herd has the best balanced hurling staff in the loop. With the Buffalo Club is Catcher George Savino, the Nutley boy who was traded for Catcher Jack Crouse, and the latter is now boss of the Baltimore Orioles. Toronto Leafs follow the Herd for three games and then the Rochester Red Wings come in for four games. During the home stay night games will be played every Tuesday and Friday.

Robert Ira Seeds, rangy center fielder of the Bears is a type of player all managers like to have. A victory to Bob is more important than safe hits. He believes in teamwork and not personal glorification. Seeds is from Ringgold, Texas, and at high school, played baseball, football, basketball and was the ace sprinter in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He was the shortstop of the team and batted in clean-up position. A scout saw him and signed him up for a Class D team. When his parents finally gave him permission to leave home he was happy. He reported to the Enid Club in Oklahoma and was due to play at his favorite position. On that particular day, however, the regular left fielder of the team ran afoul of the law and was put into the local jail. He was kept for several days. Bob knew nothing of this, until just before game time when the manager of the club told him he was the left fielder for the day. Bob protested but it was left field or the bench. He raced around like a thoroughbred that day, made sensational catches and throws that surprised himself. He got four hits, including two homers and a double and the fans raved about him. So when the regular player got out of jail, he was out of a job, and Seeds has been a fly chaser ever since.

"I am just waiting for the hot weather for I always hit then. Vitt has been swell to me and had he benched me, I would not have kicked. The boys, however, have been hitting and he has been willing to carry me along. I know I will hit and then I hope to be able to carry my full share of the burden." Bob says the Bears are sure to cap, barring any accidents. He is not superstitious but dislikes two dollar bills.

Irvington Defeats Belleville, 13 to 1

Joe Urban Pitched Fine Game for Team from Camp Town

Behind the excellent pitching of Joe Urban the Irvington High School baseball team defeated Belleville High 13 to 1 at Frank Morrell field, Irvington, last Friday afternoon.

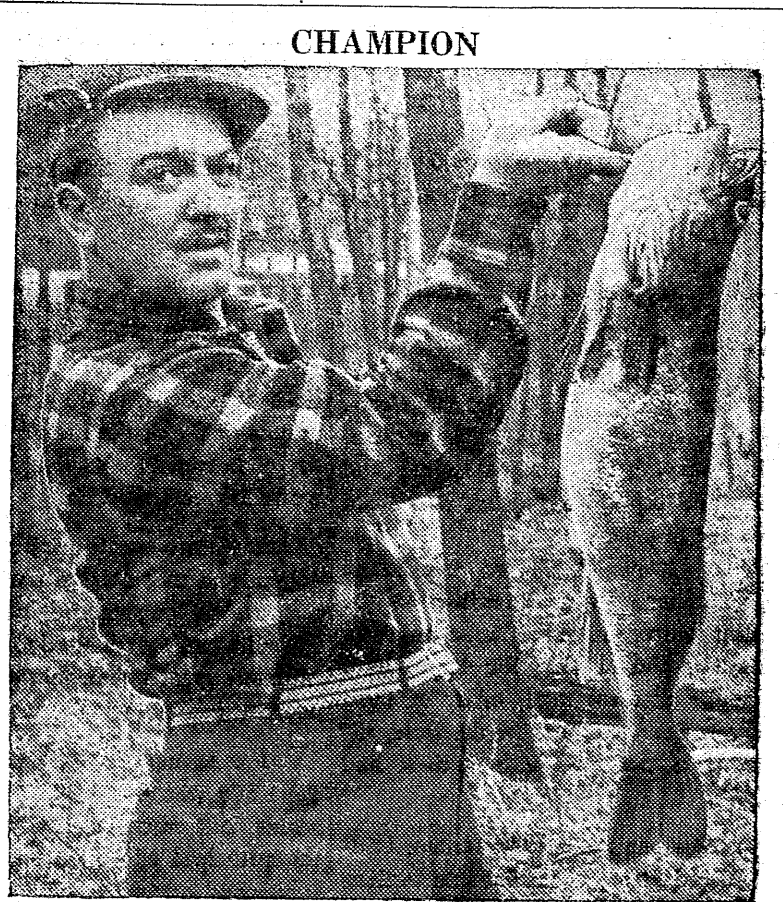

Urban had at least one strike-out to his credit in each inning.

Sidelights.

Vincent Sorrentino, second string catcher, was put into the game in the fourth inning when George Zoppa was ejected for the too violent protestation of Umpire Claus's decision.

Alvin Davis, a high school instructor and gym teacher, is the handsome young man who warms up the infield in batting practice.

Langhorne Prepares For Speed Classic

Mauri Rose, National Auto Champion, Scheduled To Start

LANGHORNE, Pa., June 11.—Mauri Rose, national automobile racing champion; members of the elite "first ten" finishers in the recent Indianapolis 500-mile classic and virtually every eastern driver of note will match speed, skill and daring here at the famous Langhorne Speedway on Saturday, June 19.

The greatest Jewish driver racing has ever known and one of the foremost drivers of all times, Rose is expected to figure prominently in the coming event. His brilliant driving ability, as outstanding on dirt courses as on the bricks of Indianapolis, marks him as a threat to the reigning dirt track aces.

Rose placed third last year in the Indianapolis "500" and then, due to his greater ability on dirt tracks, went on to nose out Louie Meyer for the national racing championship. This year Rose drove 300 miles at Indianapolis at a scorching pace until forced out when his motor developed oil trouble.

Included among the members of the select "first ten" of 1937 who will compete against Rose here is Ted Horn, the hard-riding Pacific coast sensation, who finished second in the Indianapolis grind last year and who placed third in the recent running of the world's blue ribbon speed event. Horn, like Rose, is an able driver on the dirt, and will be a hard man to beat.

Still another "first ten" member entered is George Connor, of San Bernardino, Cal., who finished ninth in the recent Hoosier classic. Negotiations, now nearing completion, are expected to result in the signing of several more "first ten" drivers.

Frankie Beeder of St. Louis, Mo., biggest money winner in the east this season, is included among the many eastern headliners already entered. He will drive one of John Bagley's powerful Cragar Specials. A field of well over 50 cars will participate.

Parmer was struck out by Urban in the third inning.

Joe Scarpelli, who has been faithful in reporting for practice all season was inserted into the game in the seventh.

Norman Cortese is the hard-working manager of the team and Edgar Bloemke is his assistant.

First Rodeo Arrives At Paterson Stadium

Over 150 Animals Have Part in Twenty Numbers

Since blazing of the old Chisholm Trail when thousands of cattle were driven northward to market at Dodge City, Kansas, the western terminal of the railroad, broncho busting has been the chief sport of the cow country. Men, women, and children have admired the cowboy who can mount the hurricane deck of a bucking broncho and stay upright in the saddle while the animal goes through a series of long leaps, bounds, and weaves in an effort to unsettle the rider.

So thrilling is the sport of the cowboy that it has long since spread beyond the confines of the western range and has become international in scope with regularly formed circuits or leagues in the United States, Canada and even in Europe.

Four days, starting June 9, have been allotted for Paterson's First Annual Rodeo, and more than a hundred cowboys and cowgirls will be on hand to join the mad mele of range stunts, which will be held in Hinchliffe stadium, Paterson.

One hundred and fifty head or more of the wildest longhorn steers, the meanest man-hating bronks, and the finest trained cowponies will be used in a series of contests and special exhibitions that will total more than 20 separate numbers for each program.

The big ranches of the west have sent their crack riders, their fastest ropers and their most daring and expert bulldozgers to win laurels for their own particular locality in the rodeo which to the westerner is the national sport.

With such a great number of "Top Hands" and such a large string of specially selected wild stock with a perfectly equipped arena, it is expected that thrills will be unleashed with breath-taking rapidity and regularity.

Senators vs. Hilltops; Fans Want Battle

Hilltop Manager Awaits Answer To His Defy

During the ensuing baseball season it is expected that pressure will be brought to bear on the Belleville Senators to meet the Belleville Hilltops. Both teams consider themselves the best in town and, until they meet, the actual, unofficial championship will be in doubt.

On several occasions the Hilltops, according to their manager, have challenged the other championship contender but, until the date of this writing, it has been impossible to arrange for a meeting.

A game between these two teams should prove interesting and should draw a large crowd. The Hilltops are anxiously awaiting the acceptance of this challenge.

EASTWOOD STRIKE

a raise went through by which machinists benefited five cents an hour, from eighty to eighty-five cents. Another increase of five cents to ninety cents was contemplated prior to the strike.

"This statement is misleading, the inference being that all machinists in Eastwood's were receiving eighty-five cents per hour prior to the strike. Such is not the case. The rates for machinists range from sixty cents per hour up to eighty-five cents per hour. In fact, out of thirty-one men, only four men received the top rate of eighty-five cents," one of those representing the strikers, told this paper today.

"The following is a true list of the rates paid by this company: five men at sixty cents per hour, five at sixty-five cents per hour, two at sixty-eight cents per hour, three at seventy cents per hour, two at seventy-three cents per hour, six at seventy-five cents per hour, one at seventy-eight cents per hour, one at eighty cents per hour, four at eighty-five cents per hour, and two apprentices were paid at approximately the correct rate.

Mr. Specht states, "Only twenty-three men are involved and only seven of these are machinists. The balance are helpers, millwrights and general labor men and it was agreed to raise these seven men to ninety cents an hour." Mr. Specht further added that, "In accordance with promises made two weeks ago, raises were put through for the balance of the employees with an approximate increase of 10 per cent in all wages.

The spokesman for the machinists declared the machine shop was organized and initiated April 27, this year at Newark Lodge 340, District No. 47, International Association of Machinists, an A. F. of L. affiliate.

A contract was presented to the company May 7, by John D. Lengel, business representative of the local. Mr. Specht was absent the day the contract was presented. He returned May 8 and arranged a conference for May 13. Mr. Lengel, the shop steward, and a committee of three were present at the conference and at all subsequent meetings. The contract was discussed and explained, and taken under advisement by Mr. Specht.

At a second conference, May 18, the contract was again discussed apparently with better understanding. Mr. Specht, however, asked for more time, the spokesman added, explaining a third conference was arranged for May 25. At this conference Mr. Specht declared he would not sign the contract. He offered increases varying from two cents per hour to fifteen cents per hour. A 40-hour week, with a stipulation that forty-five hours be worked before overtime rates be paid, or that ten hours be worked in any one day before overtime rates be paid.

At a special meeting of the men these offers were rejected unanimously.

At a meeting the next day, May 26, Mr. Specht was informed of the decision reached by the men. He was informed that he would be allowed until Friday, May 28, to reconsider his decision.

On May 28, Mr. Specht had nothing further to offer, it is said. He asked for more time. The men had already voted against this so a strike was called for 5 P. M. May 28.

Suggests Label Showing Taxes

Congressman Hartley Says
Tax Bill Is Largest
Paid by People

Labels on merchandise to show what part of the purchase price represents taxes has been suggested by Representative Fred A. Hartley, Jr. This, he believes, will arouse public consciousness to the fact that the tax bill today is the largest bill paid by the American people.

Fred A. Hartley

"Strange as it may seem," he said at a meeting here, "the great masses of our people show a marked indifference toward the cost of government or how the bills are paid."

The tax bill, he said, exceeds the amount spent for food or rent, is double the expenditure for clothing and six times as much as the light and power bill. When the costs of local and state governments are added "it becomes evident that you are paying nearly 25 cents of every dollar you earn for the cost of government," he added.

The personal income tax, Mr. Hartley pointed out, provides less than one-third of the government's revenue and covers only 7 per cent. of government spending.

Belleville Bonds Sell Comparable to Finest in State Economical Management of Public Business Is The Reason

It was learned from the office of that Belleville's bonds were selling at State Treasurer Allbright yesterday a premium comparable to the sale price of the finest municipal bonds in the State of New Jersey.

In order to verify this, a statement was secured from Mayor Williams, who is also Finance Director, concerning the reason for the high sale price as compared to the sale prices of a few years ago. Mayor Williams issued the following statement. "As Finance Director of Belleville, I am very pleased to learn of the high investment rating accorded Belleville bonds today. When the New Jersey State Sinking Fund Commission placed on sale $270,000 of Belleville's general refunding 4 per cent bonds maturing from June 1, 1942 to June 1, 1950, from the various prices submitted, these appear to be one of the most popular investments moving. The price was $104.00 for each $100.00 bond."

"Another bond transaction today in Newark also reflected the high investment rating given to Belleville bonds. $120,000 of 4 1/2 per cent school bonds maturing from 1951-1958 sold at $111.00 for each $100.00 bond. The above prices of these bonds are particularly high when we consider that the maturity dates run up to twenty-one years from the present date."

"The economical management of our public business has become widely known among the municipal investment element of the bond buyers. When we reflect that, thirty-six months ago, selling our municipal bonds at 6 per cent was a most difficult job and many of our local issues were substantially below par, I know that my colleagues on the Board of Commissioners and our citizens will be gratified to know that the management of our local affairs as recognized by the investing public warrants them in placing Belleville bonds on a par with the finest municipal bonds in the State of New Jersey."

Recently Moody's rating bureau rated Belleville as "B.A.A."

New Yorkers View Belleville Favorably Laudatory Remarks Made Over Air During Dinner

Belleville in general, Mayor William H. Williams and the finance department, in particular, received many fine compliments from Dr. Morris Friedman of New York City and Jeremiah T. Mahoney, former president of the Amateur Athletic Union of America, who is being mentioned as a possible candidate for the office of mayor of the City of New York. The occasion was the dinner of the Saratoga Convalescent Home Association at the Plaza Hotel in New York on last Saturday night.

Mayor Williams addressed the assembly on the "Necessity of Aiding the Underprivileged." The speeches were carried over the air through the facilities of station WMCA.

In the remarks concerning the administration of the Town of Belleville, the fact that Belleville "Pays as it goes" was stressed by both speakers. Belleville's emergence from its "own private depression" was also alluded to.

On Tuesday night, June 8, the Mayor also addressed the South End Improvement Association on the "Mechanics of a Tax Sale."
