Couple Saved from Injury on Train

Coat Hung Over Window Diverts Shattered Glass

A coat, hung in the window of the northbound Jersey Central shore train Sunday night saved, William Fabian and his wife, Anna, possible serious injury. Mr. Fabian hung his coat in the window and fifteen minutes later, approaching Elizabethport, their window was smashed. The Fabians escaped glass splinters when the debris was diverted by the coat.

It was believed coal from a passing engine tender was the cause. The window was in the center of the coach and one passenger in the rear was slightly scratched. The Fabians were returning after a week-end at the shore.

Eastwood Strike Now in Fourth Week

Company Increased All Wages Two Weeks Ago

The machinists strike at Eastwood-Nealley Corporation starts on its fourth week Monday. Last Tuesday, John D. Lenge, an organizer for the International Association of Machinists, presented his demands to the company for all the employees, other than the weavers. His demand was for twenty cents an hour increase in pay and a closed shop.

Two weeks ago, the Eastwood Company increased all wages approximately 10 per cent. This increase was in addition to substantial increases last November and again in February, to those employees whose pay was out of line.

When the management was interviewed, none of the officials had any comments to make other than to say that the shut-down of the plant was brought about by unwarranted demands.

One of the foremen said: "The striking machinists have forced the company to close all manufacturing departments, including the weaving department with the result that approximately 150 employees now have no income."

"The demands for higher wages are uncalled for after the company's fair adjustment of recent increases and the company's offer to adjust other minor differences referred to in the demands made."

"It should be interesting to note that a large number of men and girls apply to us for work and when they are asked what they have been earning and are told what our rates are they are very anxious to work for us. Many of them state voluntarily when they apply for a job that they want to work for the Eastwood Company, because Eastwood has a reputation for treating their employees well and paying well above the average wages for this territory. Their comment is a corroboration of the policy of the management's desire that this shall be a good shop to work in. Our very low labor turn-over should prove that this was true."

Another foreman, made the following comments: "I am pretty close to a large number of our employees and I am positive the majority of them are not in favor of this strike. I understand some of them have been intimidated and coerced into joining the union. I believe in unions but I don't believe in that sort of stuff."

Gets Degree at Drew

One of the sixty-three degrees granted by Drew University in Madison last week was granted to John A. Vaughan of 176 Washington avenue, Belleville. Mr. Vaughan received his B.A. and intends to complete his M.A. this coming year.

During the time that Mr. Vaughan has been attending this institution, he has been actively engaged in the Forester's Dramatic Club. His activities include acting, play directing and the construction of scenery. As a graduate of Belleville High School, class of 1933, he received one of the first two trustee's scholarships granted by this institution for scholastic excellence.

Unusual Graduation of Belleville High School in Keeping with General Policy

Hugh D. Kittle, Local Principal, Instigated Many Innovations at Seat of Learning This Year

In keeping with the general policy of progressive innovation that has characterized the administration of the Belleville High School since it has been under the supervision of Hugh D. Kittle, the graduation exercises this year will be a radical departure from the usual rather boring son, the second honor student of the class. Frank Carragher, president of the class, will then present the gifts to the school. On behalf of the Belleville schools, Superintendent Wayne R. Farmer will accept this gift. A rather unusual ceremony, the presenting of the senior mantle to the succession of students marching up to the stage to receive their diplomas to a snappy, quick moving program of varied interest. Dr. Lester H. Clee has been secured as the speaker for the exercises.

The program will open with an overture by the high school orchestra. The salutary address will follow which will be delivered by Betty Gib-

Forestry Gang Finds Body of Missing Boy

Local Youth Had Enlisted In CCC Month Before Disappearance

A forestry gang of CCC boys at Avery, Idaho, discovered the body of Joseph P. Lyons who disappeared from this camp more than a year ago. Joseph, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Lyons of 607 Belleville avenue, this town, enlisted in the CCC from Jersey City about a month before he was reported missing from the Idaho camp.

Mrs. Lyons had received several letters from her son before he disappeared. The boy seemed to enjoy the camp life, she said, and wrote May 2, 1936, that he was going to "take a long hike" the next day. It was on May 3 last year that Lyons was reported missing from the camp.

Other CCC campers and forestry workers continued to search for Lyons in the forests near the camp until last September. Thursday a group of workers stumbled on his body, about five miles from the camp.

Lyons was born in Birmingham, Ala., and lived with his family in Jersey City until he enlisted in the CCC camp. The family moved to Belleville a year ago. Surviving besides his parents are a brother, Peter J. Jr., and two sisters, Helen and Marie, all of Belleville.

Motor-Paced Races At Nutley 'Drome

Two Ten-Mile Heats Are Scheduled for Sunday Night

Motor-paced racing will be returned to the program to be presented by Manager Alf Goulet at the Nutley Velodrome Sunday night, with Henry O'Brien, Mike DeFilippo and Tino Reboli engaging in a choo-choo chase to be contested in two ten-mile heats.

De Filippio and Reboli have been showing early season form in two previous starts, while O'Brien, rapidly establishing himself as the most versatile performer at the suburban track, will be behind the motors for the first time.

The three engaged in heated rivalry during the course of last season's campaign with DeFilippo, Reboli and O'Brien finishing second, third and fourth, in the order named, in national title competition, with less than five points separating them at the finish. It is the aim of O'Brien to regain for America the motor-paced championship from the brow of the Belgian, Gerard Debaets, and in his initial trial effort he faces formidable opposition from the youthful pair of Italians.

A five-mile open, for the first time this season, also is to be on Sunday's program with most of the stars entered. Among the strong contenders in this event are to be Cecil Walker, George Dempsey, Charley Ritter, Henryk Szamoto, Russell Allen and Bobbie Echeveria, all speedy and durable.

Willie Honeman, the American sprint king, will face a crack field in the four-eighths mile open, among his competitors being Walker, Dempsey, George Shipman, Cliff Builivant, Felix LeFenetre and Anker Meyer Andersen, and Mathias Engel, of Germany, will engage Frank L. Keating of New York in a match race. The bringing together of Engel and Keating should culminate a rivalry that has been brewing between them since both appeared recently in a four-cornered medley.

Proclamation to Owners of Dogs

WHEREAS, ordinance of the Town of Belleville provides that during the period in each year from June 15th to September 15th, both inclusive, no dog shall be permitted upon the streets or public places within the Town of Belleville, except such dog is properly muzzled with a wire or leather muzzle round or about the nose securely fastened, and

WHEREAS, the owners of dogs violating this provision of the ordinance are subject to a fine not exceeding $20.00 for the first offense and not exceeding $50.00 for each succeeding offense;

NOW, therefore I, William H. Williams, Mayor of the Town of Belleville, do proclaim and request that the above provision be given proper observance by the citizens of the Town of Belleville, and

I further request that all citizens owning dogs in the Town of Belleville co-operate with the local authorities in making the streets of the Town of Belleville safe for adults and particularly children.

I further call the attention of the citizens of Belleville owning dogs to numerous occasions in the past month or two of dogs attacking and biting children of tender years. As a fancier of dogs, I am reluctant to urge more stringent regulations in connection with the running at large of dogs. With the cooperation of the citizens who own dogs, more stringent steps may be avoided. I direct my request personally to each dog owner and dog fancier in the Town of Belleville to aid in this enforcement so that they may have the pleasure that comes with the ownership of dogs without affecting the safety of the adults and children using the streets of our town.

(signed) MAYOR WILLIAM H. WILLIAMS.

Social Security Act Creates a Paradox Purpose of Law Is Seen As Good But Badly Drawn

The Social Security Act has created an interesting paradox. Practically everyone believes the purpose of the law is good, and the public interest demands that provision be made for the aged and the unemployed. At the same time, practically every competent economist believes that the present act is badly drawn, contains the gravest kind of legislative errors, and must be drastically revised.

This has been the feeling ever since the law was passed. However, there was no strong movement for revision, for the reason that the act was immediately taken to court in a test of its constitutionality, and there was no point in doing anything about it until that had been determined. When, a few weeks ago, the Supreme Court held the act constitutional in two decisions (one upholding the unemployment benefit part of it by a 5 to 4 vote of the justices, the other upholding the old-age benefit part of it by a 7 to 2 majority) it came again into the public eye, and a definite movement to maintain its virtues while ridding it of the vices is underway.

It is a notable fact that liberal and radical commentators wish revision no less than conservative commentators. The more or less socialistic League for Industrial Democracy has published a monograph criticizing the act, and so has the Twentieth Century Fund, which has a board of directors consisting largely of prominent industrialists. And in some instances, both radicals and conservatives make identical criticisms.

Objections to the act are of varying kinds. Some of the more important are:

1. Under the wording of the existing law, all of the funds raised by taxing employers and employees for old age insurance must be invested in government bonds. It is estimated that the money will total $47,000,000 by 1938. The national debt (which means the amount of government bonds outstanding) is now at a record peak of about $35,000,000,000. As a result, if the act is left unchanged, it will be necessary to increase our debt $12,000,000,000 in the next forty odd years to take care of old age insurance funds alone, even if no government bonds at all are then held by corporations, individuals, trust funds, educational institutions, banks, etc.

2. There is nothing in the law to prevent Congress from selling the government bonds purchased with the Social Security fund and spending this money for any purpose it wishes. Thus, an irresponsible Congress might legally dissipate the billions of dollars workers and employers deposit to insure a subsistence livelihood in old age.

3. Some commentators feel that the cost of Social Security should be borne by the entire nation, and paid for by general taxation, not just by taxes on employers and employees alone. In other words, under present provisions, the tax acts as a burden on productive industry, influencing employers toward using more labor-saving machinery and against hiring more workers. It is somewhat in the nature of a class tax, whereas, say these commentators, it should be a general tax, inasmuch as it is designed to increase purchasing power, which is of benefit to everyone.

4. The administration of the act, to quote Dorothy Thompson, "is incredibly cumbersome, complicated and expensive." According to Abraham Epstein, executive secretary of the long established American Association for Social Security, "Instead of promoting adequacy of standards and uniformity, the act encourages a confusing variety of systems. Indeed, the act has already brought about a miscellany of 48 divergent state plans."

This does not exhaust the list of criticisms of the act, but it outlines the most potent and important. Congress is listening to the experts, and it is certain that sentiment within that body in favor of revision is growing.

Will Receive B.A. Degree

ITHACA, N. Y., June 17, 1937.—The 69th commencement exercises at Cornell University and the last at which President Livingston Farrand will confer degrees will take place in Ithaca on Monday.

Miss Margaret Kelly, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Kelly, of 567 Washington avenue, Belleville, is a candidate for the degree of bachelor of arts at Cornell University. Her preparatory work was taken at Hornell High School.

Approximately 750 baccalaureate and 202 advanced degrees will be awarded to one of the smallest classes to graduate from Cornell in recent years. The class of 1937 entered the university during the fall of 1933 when the depression was at its worst, and the small number in the graduating class is attributed to the adverse economic conditions prevalent in the country at that time. The total number of degrees for the year, including those conferred in September and February—almost 1088, represents a decrease of nearly two hundred degrees over last year.

Engagement Announced

Miss Betty Hellyer of 317 Davis avenue, Kearny, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Garrity of New York City, has announced her engagement to Ellwood Norbert Thalheimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Thalheimer of 19 Fairway avenue, this town. The wedding will take place in October. Born in Scotland, Miss Hellyer was educated in the United States and is a graduate of Kearny High School. Mrs. Thalheimer entertained in her honor Thursday night.

Wedding Plans

Miss Marion R. Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cook of 182 Cedar Hill avenue, this town, has announced plans for her wedding June 26 to Lester A. Sorum, son of Mrs. Ida Sorum of Brooklyn. The ceremony will take place at 1:30 at the Little Church Around the Corner, New York City.

The couple will be attended by Miss Elaine Curran of Belleville and Earl Graham of Brooklyn. There will be a reception for the families at the Hotel McAlpin, New York.

Howard Buckley Graduates At Ohio State University

With commencement the spring quarter came to an end, but on June 22 another quarter will open with a record-breaking summer student body expected to reach six thousand.

The June graduating class includes Howard Buckley, veterinary medicine, from Belleville.

Feel full of pep and possess the slender form you crave—you can't if you listen to gossipers.

To take off excess fat go light on fatty meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets—eat more fruit and vegetables and take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning to eliminate excess waste.

Mrs. Elma Verille of Havre de Grace, Md., writes: "I took off 20 lbs.—my clothes fit me fine now." No drastic cathartics—no constipation—no blissful daily bowel action when you take your little daily dose of Kruschen.

What's New in Radio?

By J. F. Witkowski

Principal, School of Radio,
International Correspondence Schools;
Associate Member,
Institute of Radio Engineers

THE police department of Evanston, Illinois, has acquired an ambulance equipped with a two-way, short-wave radio for use in accident cases. The radio makes it possible to send on ahead to the doctors at the hospital a description of the patient's injuries, enabling them to make any special arrangements. Physicians at the hospital can transmit to the ambulance instructions for any special first-aid treatment that may be required.

Plans are being made to employ the radio in the study of meteorological conditions in the hurricane belt of the Caribbean. To obtain data on atmospheric pressure, humidity and temperature in the storm area, observation instruments and small radio transmitters will be hung from balloons to be released in the path of the storm. The balloons will be capable of reaching a height 15 miles above the earth.

A pocket radio with a loud speaker has been invented by a Danish engineer. The set is small enough to be carried in a man's pocket or a woman's handbag, and is said to be capable of picking up any European station. Commercial production of the miniature radio has been started at Copenhagen.

NEW PENNSYLVANIA STATION AT NEWARK WHERE
NORTHERN NEW JERSEY
TRANSPORTATION IS NOW
CENTRALIZED.

A GREAT TRANSPORTATION DREAM COMES TRUE!

WHAT an architect and an engineer scribbled on a luncheon cloth twenty years ago becomes a tremendous living reality Sunday.

On that day the vast centralized transportation system envisioned for Northern New Jersey—a subway, rapid transit lines, trolleys, buses, trains, all converging at the magnificent new Pennsylvania Station at Newark—becomes a dynamo of motion.

Old landmarks, old traditions, go for a new order of facility and speed.

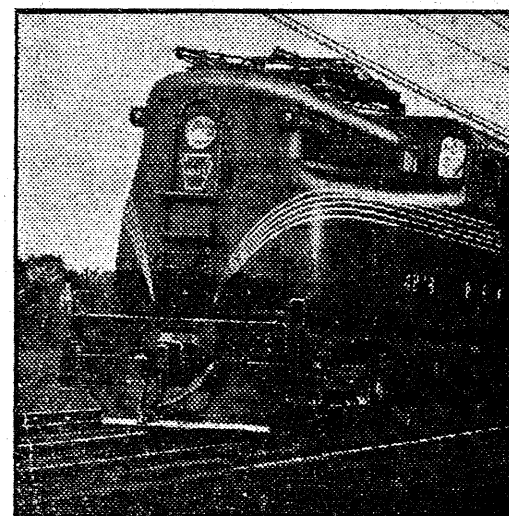

With transportation concentrated at the Pennsylvania Station, commuters and residents of Newark and its great environs will save many minutes daily in travel to and from New York.

It is estimated that 2,000,000 people will benefit from this great unification program. Not only in intercity travel. But in distant travel also.

For now you can reach the Pennsylvania Station at Newark much more quickly and conveniently for train departures to the south, west, east and north.

Four levels . . . numerous escalators . . . overhead ramps . . . tripled trackage . . . more and exceptionally long platforms—everything the Pennsylvania Railroad has provided to make New Jersey's new co-ordinated system the most modern in the field of transportation today. Even to constructing the largest lift bridges in the world over the Passaic River!

A triumph in architectural beauty, engineering skill and transportation planning—a triumph in which the City of Newark and the State of New Jersey participated equally, the Pennsylvania Station, as "the hub" of this far-reaching improvement, promises a new era of growth for all Northern New Jersey.

Wolverton To Aid Clee for Governor

South Jersey Congressman Had Also Been Asked To Run

Congressman Charles A. Wolverton, representing the First Congressional district, comprising Camden, Gloucester and Salem counties, has declined the endorsement of the Camden County Republican Committee for the Republican nomination for Governor and expresses his intention to support Senator Clee for the nomination.

He has held members of the Camden County Republican Executive Committee:

"I deeply appreciate your action endorsing me as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. It was particularly pleasing to be informed by your resolution that you had done so because of my liberal and progressive attitude toward the problems of today affecting the welfare of our people.

"I am in entire accord with the thought that our party and its candidate must be liberal and progressive. The changing times in which we are living require such an attitude if there is to be a proper solution of present day problems. The future of the Republican party depends upon the extent to which it is willing to recognize human rights and the public welfare as of paramount importance.

"The splendid quality of service rendered by Senator Clee throughout his public life has convinced me that he possesses that liberal and progressive attitude so necessary at this time. Furthermore, he has demonstrated a sincerity of purpose and a courage that is seldom seen in public life. He undoubtedly has those qualities of heart and mind that will insure a clean, honest and efficient government of the affairs of our state and a sympathetic understanding of the needs of those in distress.

"Therefore, while I deeply appreciate your action in having extended to me your endorsement, nevertheless, it is my sincere opinion that no one within our party is better qualified to give that type of service, so necessary at this time, than Senator Clee of Essex County, and, accordingly my support will be given to his candidacy.

"It is my sincere hope that there will be a general recognition of his outstanding fitness for the office, and that he may have the honor of the nomination of his party without opposition.

"Senator Clee can be elected Governor in November with a united Republican party back of him. Furthermore, it is an opportunity for the Republican party to regain its position as the majority party in New Jersey.

"I sincerely believe the Republicans of Camden County and South Jersey in general are ready to do their part in reaching that goal."

Congressman Wolverton, who is also state committeeman from Camden County, has served in Congress for ten years and is now in his sixth term of office. He was re-elected last November by nearly 10,000 majority, largest of any Republican candidate for Congress in the state of New Jersey, although President Roosevelt carried his Congressional district by over 50,000 majority.

He is a member of the Congressional campaign committee representing the state of New Jersey, also members of the executive committee of the Congressional committee and a member of the policy committee of Republican Representatives in Congress.

During the last campaign by report of the American Federation of Labor he stood highest on their list of approved candidates, having been given by them 100 per cent. standing in support of labor measures before Congress. He is known in Congress as independent, liberal and progressive.

Previous to his being elected to Congress he served in the State Legislature for four years and was Speaker of the House in 1918.

Congressman Wolverton also served as a special assistant attorney-general under Edmund L. Wilson and as prosecutor of the pleas of Camden County from 1918 to 1923.

Coast Guard Rescues Local Sea Captain

Cabin Skiff Had Filled with Water Off Point Pleasant

Captain F. H. Kelly of Belleville and Charles Shellfont of Trenton were rescued Sunday by Coast Guardsmen of the Squan Beach station from the cabin skiff Mial. The craft filled with water when more than a mile off Point Pleasant. The boat is owned by George Johnson of Trenton, who was not aboard.

The two men had been fishing off shore when their craft began to fill rapidly with water. They had clambered to the top of the cabin when the Coast Guard picket boat in command of Motor Machinist's Mate Henry T. Gaskill came alongside and took them off.

A few seconds after the picket boat arrived the fishing craft was completely submerged. It did not sink because of buoyancy created by compressed air tanks in its hold. The disabled craft was towed to the Hoffman Yacht Basin on the Manasquan River for repairs.

It is believed that one of the boat's seams opened in the rough sea. Neither Kelly nor Shellfont recalled any sound which might have indicated contact with a submerged object.

The rescue was witnessed by hundreds of persons on the Point Pleasant and Manasquan beachfronts.

Elaborate Plans for Independence Day

General Committees Were Announced Last Evening

Plans for Belleville town-wide celebration of Independence Day to be held at Clearman Field, Monday, July 5, took definite shape at a meeting of the Citizens' Committee held last evening at the town hall.

Beginning with athletic games for boys and girls in the morning the program arranged includes boat races under the auspices of the Nereid Boat Club in the afternoon and a band concert beginning at 7:30 in the evening followed by the exhibition of a patriotic sound picture, "Give Me Liberty."

The fireworks display will start promptly at 9:15 P. M. lasting approximately one hour and thirty minutes and will be much more lavish than preceding celebrations.

All civic, patriotic and fraternal organizations of the town are now represented on the general committee, the latest organizations to indicate active participation being the Valley Improvement Association and the Joseph King Association.

Chairman Clifton Smith announced all committees organized under the following chairmen: Finance and budget, Wilfred Yudin; site, Clifton Smith; fireworks, Arthur Kunze; safety, Walter Radler; athletic, J. M. Lynch, Jr., and Hugh Kittle; prizes, Floyd Bragg; entertainment, E. J. Lister, and publicity, J. M. Lynch, Sr. and P. A. Fort.

Policemen Walloped By Noll Boosters

Good Thing for Cops Lou's Team Only Played With Soft Ball

The "Lou" Noll Booster's defeated the Belleville Police Department at soft ball by a 16 to 9 score, Tuesday at Terry Field.

The game—if such it may be called—was featured by the spectacular "misconduct" on the part of Patrolman Monaghan of the police department, who through his ability to put his newly grown moustachio in the way of the ball, allowed nine runs to saunter across the plate to the advantage of the Boosters, who played their first game of the season.

Captain John Baney of the Boosters was the batting star of the day, with three home runs, one with the bases loaded. "Jack" Daly and Art Jockey, star athletes of Manhattan College, gave splendid exhibitions both afield and at bat. Louis A. Noll was in the box for his team and showed a splendid arm, holding the opposition safely in check during the entire game.

Sergeant Charlie Pearl of the Police gave a splendid exhibition of the intricacies of catching. His innovation of the "pearl" catching system, whereby the catcher takes his position half way between home plate and first base, received a great hand from the fans and players alike. Several big league managers present expressed deep interest in the "Pearl" method and stated it was regretful that the trading deadline has been reached thereby making it impossible for their teams to put over a deal for the sergeant. However, the Sarge will present his new idea to a big league team during the 1938 spring training period.

It is the hope of several prominent townsmen that the several teams now in action throughout the town will hold a meeting in the near future for the purpose of forming a league for competition throughout the summer months.

Wasted Heat is Money Lost!

A Delco Automatic Furnace does not waste heat up the chimney

Chimney temperatures 350 degrees cooler!

Builders everywhere hail exclusive "Im-pak-tor" construction that saves money by heating the inside of your house... not the great outdoors

If heat is escaping up your chimney, it is exactly as though you were trying to heat a number of additional useless rooms... and paying the extra fuel cost.

The Delco Automatic Furnace keeps the heat you pay for inside your house. It cuts chimney temperatures as much as 350 degrees. It puts heat to work before it can escape.

Engineers call this the "Im-pak-tor" principle.

The hot gases from the radiant heat of the Delco Oil Burner are whirled against numerous water-filled projections one after the other. Each impact forces heat into the water. The water is heated more quickly with less fuel. Heat does not escape up the chimney. And you bank the difference in cost.

Lower Fuel Costs—The Delco Automatic Furnace is fired by the Delco Oil Burner—the only burner which offers the sensational Thin-Mix Fuel Control. This General Motors development makes it possible to use the cheapest grade of domestic oil and, by burning a true thin mixture of air and oil, to use less of this cheaper fuel.

Fall Payment Plan Get the entire story about the money-saving Fall payment plan... for people who buy the Delco Automatic Furnace now.

The Delco Automatic Furnace supplies HOT water throughout the year.

THIN-MIX FUEL CONTROL With the new and simplified Thin-Mix Fuel Control you use less oil. You use cheaper oil. And you don't waste a single drop. You burn a true thin mixture of oil and air. No soot or dirt.

NEW MODELS FOR THE SMALL HOME!

NEW smaller models with attractive prices for spring buying—plus delayed Fall payment plan—makes this the time to buy. Even the most modest home can afford this kind of automatic heat... and afford it now! Get the money-saving facts about Spring buying today.

Look at the two Cormorants beside their nest! They build their nests of weeds and sticks. The Cormorant lays four or five eggs covered with a chalky substance which, when rubbed, shows a bluish green shell underneath.

Common Cormorant or Shag
Length about 36 inches.

Sometimes the Cormorants swim swiftly on the top of the water with head under, on the lookout for fish. Then at other times they swim under the water.

He sees a fish and descends in a spiral fashion; with wonderful quickness he catches it by the middle.

Rising to the surface he tosses his victim in the air and catches it head foremost, then swallows it.

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

According to the New York Herald Tribune index, general business activity moved to the lowest level of the year, last week the corresponding rate being 84.8 per cent of estimated normal, compared with 86.3 per cent, a week ago. Financial activity, with a further contraction in volume to the lowest figure since May, 1935, was responsible for a goodly proportion of the decline.

The fresh labor outbreaks and the recent holiday aided by curtailing steel mill operations, now rated at 76.6 per cent of capacity, and other manufacturing activities. While present rates of steel operations are sharply lower than three months ago they compare favorably with those of last year.

Automobile output was also adversely affected by sporadic strikes and holiday closing.

Building construction moved counter to the trend, but not enough to aid in offsetting the declines.

The holiday and labor disturbances also helped in lowering the number of freight cars loaded to the lowest figure in some time. Passenger traffic continues heavy and the outlook for a larger freight movement, barring further labor troubles, is considerably good.

Another estimate of industrial activity in ten important lines issued by the Standard Statistics Co., Inc., shows five lines above the 1929 rate and three others very close to the average.

Predictions of the largest wheat crop since 1931 point to better prospects for the export trade.

Later corporation reports continue to show larger earnings and dividend declarations include specials, extras and increases. Lehman Corporation has announced a special of $1.50 a share. Air Reduction Co. is to pay $0.75 in addition to the regular dividend of $0.25. Allied Kid Co. also pays an extra of $0.75.

Among the increased declarations the following can be mentioned: Detroit Steel, $0.30, against $0.25; General Capital Co., $0.40, against $0.25; American Brake Shoe Co., $0.75 against $0.50.

Swan and Finch Co. resumes dividends by paying $0.25 on its common stock. The last payment was made in January, 1929.

Railroad reports are uniformly better. Pennsylvania gross for May, $39,300,000 was the best since May, 1930, and was 12 per cent more than a year ago. Lackawanna also made a good report by turning a deficit of about $400,000 last year into a profit of a like amount this year. There latter figures cover four months earnings.

Interest and activity in the security markets is still very light. Prices have moved erratically, generally to a lower level.

New financing has been practically unknown, but the Socony-Vacuum offering of $75,000,000 may inspire others to do likewise.

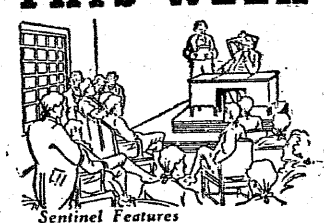

Editor's Note—Questions pertaining to securities and investments addressed to Martin Cook in care of this paper will be answered promptly.

THIS WEEK—150 YEARS AGO

The Story of the Constitutional Convention of 1787

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT

Just 150 years ago this week—on June 25, 1787—was spoken what modern historians recognize as one of the earliest and clearest statements ever made on "the Spirit of Americanism."

It came from Charles Pinckney, youthful delegate from South Carolina, in the course of an eloquent appeal to the Federal Convention, meeting that summer in historic Independence Hall, Philadelphia, to write our Constitution.

Pinckney spoke before a formal session of the Convention while it had under consideration various proposals for a National Legislature—a topic on which the large states and the small were in frequent disagreement. In the course of debate, the distinctive systems of governments in both the ancient and modern world had been cited at length. Finally Pinckney arose.

"We must," he admonished the delegates, "suit our Government to the people it is to direct."

Then contrasting the American nation with established governments abroad, he pointed out that "we have unwisely considered ourselves as the inhabitants of an old, instead of a new, country."

"The people of the United States," said Pinckney in part, "are perhaps the most singular of any we are acquainted with. Among them there are fewer distinctions of fortune, and less of rank, than among the inhabitants of any other nation. Every freeman has a right to the same protection and security."

"Hence, arises a greater equality than is to be found among the people of any other country; and an equality which is more likely to continue."

"The whole community will enjoy, in the fullest sense, that kind of political liberty which consists in the power of arriving at the public offices, or at least of having votes in the nomination of those who fill them."

"The people of this country are not only very different from the inhabitants of any state we are acquainted with in the modern world, but I assert that their situation is distinct from either the people of Greece or Rome, or of any states we are acquainted with among the ancients.

"Our true situation appears to me to be this—a new extensive country, containing within itself the materials for forming a government capable of extending to its citizens all the blessings of civil and religious liberty—capable of making them happy at home."

"For a people thus circumstanced are we, then, to form a government; and the question is, what sort of government is best suited to them?"

"All that we have to do is to distribute the powers of government in such a manner, and for such limited periods, as, while it gives a proper degree of permanency to the magistracy, will reserve to the people the right of election they will not or ought not frequently to part with."

Pinckney, however, was not the only delegate to express, that week, a point of view which recognized fundamental characteristics of the new Constitution and the new nation were to assume.

On motion of Oliver Ellsworth, of Connecticut, the words "Government of the United States" were substituted for the words "National Government," in resolutions before the Convention. This, explained Ellsworth, would retain for the new nation and its Constitution, "the proper title."

"During that week, too, the system of Checks and Balances—now so characteristic a feature of our government—was urged, as a guard against the possibility that those charged with the public happiness might betray their trust."

"An obvious precaution against this danger," insisted James Madison, of Virginia, "would be to divide the trust between different bodies of men who might watch and check each other."

Next week: "The Critical Moment."

Nineteen members of the class of 1912 graduated from Belleville High School, with exercises in the Joram-lemon street school auditorium.

The home of the American Salvation Army at 386 Washington avenue was opened May 1, and up to June 1, 346 beds had been furnished free; 1,326 free dinners given; and a large amount of clothing distributed. The home is under the charge of G. E. Reinke.

10 Years Ago

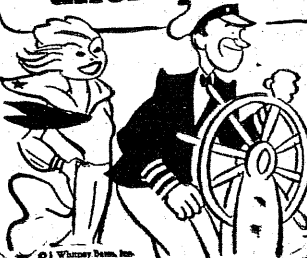

William Orchard, local Rotarian, was named president of the Essex County Health Council, an organization to consider health matters on a large scale.

Police Chief Michael Flynn has issued a warning to all dealers in fireworks. Fireworks are not to be stored except between June 22 and July 10, and are not to be sold until July 1.

Impressive exercises commemorating the 150th anniversary of the birth of the American flag were held by the Belleville Elks at their auditorium.

Patrolman Ferdinand Gillman, oldest member of the local police department, is ill with an old injury received in an auto accident a year ago. Mr. Gillman has been on the police force since 1890.

BELLEVILLE ACTS ON SAFETY

Director of Public Safety George R. Gerard has named a half dozen vigilants to check up on motorists who violate motor vehicle laws in town. These checker-uppers jot down license numbers and report them to the proper authorities. A follow through system is in vogue which will land persistent offenders before Recorder Everett B. Smith.

With Essex County leading the way in the matter of fatalities on the highways it is high time somebody did something. Director Gerard, Recorder Smith and the local police are doing their part to rid Belleville of the road "maniacs." Their job is not a temporary one, either. They intend to make Belleville as safe as possible. It may take some time to educate motorists to use care while driving. Belleville seems to have started a plan that will see results. It is one thing to talk safety; another to practice it.

BOOSTING THE HOME TOWN

The Mayflower Compact signed by the Pilgrims is historic as a beginning of community life in America. The pioneers had few tools and relied on muscle and courage. Domestic animals were scarce and there were no roads so the rivers were the first highways into the interior.

Some one has said that "God made the country, and man made the town." For several centuries man has been making material improvements upon patterns of the Creator. Buildings have climbed to great heights, places to live in have varied from structures that are lovely to habitations in the alleys. The cities have become too big for comfortable living.

In former times the country was "too lonesome," but surfaced highways have spread over the face of the grand old United States. The Tonnerville trolley has been replaced by modern methods of transportation, and daily and weekly newspapers in the home town voice the public opinion of the nation. Community moving picture houses and the radio are further factors in support of life in the smaller cities and towns.

The depression "coaxed" a few million back closer to Mother Earth, and prodigal sons and daughters will "stay put." The natural resources of every community are now subject to the new methods of transportation. The mineral wealth of the west and the cotton of the south are "interchangeable," on short notice.

Large factories and modern wonders in machinery, with large scale production, is the method necessary to all of our great national industries. Electricity and power are as common to all communities as clothes wringers were before laundries extended their services. The home town and the smaller places are as much the strength of the nation as they were in earlier times. The widening circles of our human and economic affairs supply all the visible proof needed that the great cities should return many more millions of people to surroundings where free air, sunshine and health prevail. The small communities are richer than ever in their abundance of home life, independence and happiness.

As industry continues to move to the country the spirit of American life is strengthened, because a free man finds new inspiration when he becomes identified with his home town.

ANOTHER RACKET GETS THE GATE

Fake accident claim racketeers have become so bold of late years in the city of New York that the district attorney has arranged to set up a permanent bureau to handle accident fraud cases. Need for a permanent bureau was revealed by the activities of a special bureau which for some months past has been notably successful in convicting crooked lawyers, doctors, runners and fake injury claimants. Prior to the creation of the special bureau 73 per cent of cases on the calendar of the Supreme Court of New York were personal injury suits. Within a few months after the special bureau began to function personal injury claims filed in the city court dropped 30 per cent, and already a marked decrease has taken place in insurance rates.

New York's special fraud bureau has benefited not only the taxpayer and the honest litigant, but the public as a whole. Efficient functioning of the judicial machinery is no longer threatened by a growing volume of trumped-up injury claims and the pernicious activities of crooked practitioners.

Cities throughout the nation may profitably follow the example set by New York. The accident racketeer is a parasite. His activities are a constant drain on the resources of the casualty insurance industry and force insurance rates to higher levels than would otherwise prevail, thus causing every insurance buyer to help pay the bill.

Hearty cooperation between the public, the courts, the police and the insurance industry can ultimately eradicate the fake accident racketeer. The sooner his demise the better.

WILD BEASTS OF CIVILIZATION

There are a good many real interesting and original men in the world. Among the vast army is Frank Buck, who goes into the jungle, finds big animals, sprinkles salt on their tails, socks 'em behind the ear with his fist, and brings 'em back alive. He has coined the slogan of "safety first" through every danger of the jungle and has made it possible for him to bring back to America nature's greatest of wild animal thrills.

He has ideas about certain brands of automobile drivers. Let him say it: "While there are no red lights in the jungle, there are danger signals which, if disregarded, mean injury or death. It is the same on jungle trails as on the highways of America. To avoid injury or death one must respect all traffic rules, whether walking or driving. The careless driver is one of the 'wild beasts' of civilization, and to save this human animal from death or destruction to himself and others, it is the officer's duty to 'bring him back alive' just as we do with man-eating tigers from the jungle. You wouldn't try to tie up a man-eating tiger, then why drive fast on a busy highway? You wouldn't rush up to a black leopard, the most ferocious cat in the world, then why weave in and out of traffic?"

"Many wild beasts of civilization, the menace of America's highways, are now in jail, and many wild beasts, the menacé to jungle traffic, are secure behind bars at my Long Island jungle camp and that's where wild beasts belong."

BELLEVILLE BONDS IN DEMAND

Announcement from the office of State Treasurer Albright that Belleville's bonds are selling comparable to the finest municipal bonds in the state should be gratifying news to taxpayers.

The management of Belleville's affairs is recognized when the investing public shows such confidence. The picture shows a great improvement over a few years ago when certain officials, who were no better qualified to be in public office than Aunt Emmy's cat, were ready to call in the State—ready to throw up their hands to declare Belleville bankrupt. There can be little criticism of public management when the public is willing to back up that management with dollars and cents. After all results count. Belleville has produced the results, it would seem. At any rate, those who are interested in buying the town's bonds think so. This is the best proof that the town is in good hands.

BELIEVING IN SIGNS

If we are to believe the great Cicero "the world was so made that certain signs come before certain events." Since the beginning of time men have wisely copied Nature by putting up their own signs. Thus, when there are signs of a weather disturbance the government and the newspapers hoist their signs so that the public may know that tomorrow will bring stormy weather, or snow, or the day to put on a straw hat. "We Drivers" is a booklet that is familiar to a million or two drivers and in a small illustration it shows signs that every motorist is familiar with. The accompanying text says that no matter how many times the warnings prove unnecessary that the records show that "people who drive thousands of miles every year, and obey the signs" are pretty likely to look forward to sending back a message, "arrived safe after a pleasant trip."

Here are a few of the signs to believe in: "Curve," "steep hill," "intersection," "school, go slow," "soft shoulders," "railroad, 500 feet ahead," "slippery when wet." Read all the warnings and keep out of the hospital.

SOCIAL SECURITY OR INSECURITY?

The Supreme Court has just upheld a statute designed to protect American workers against unemployment and a helpless old age—the Social Security Act. A little impartial thinking must raise doubts as to whether that "security" is as "secure" as we would like to believe.

In the first place, employers will, through taxes, provide two-thirds of the money set aside for old-age pensions and unemployment insurance. The employees will contribute the other one-third. It behooves us, therefore, to consider the steadiness of the source of the two-thirds of the money.

Isn't it logical to assume that social security isn't secure unless the employers are secure? If the employers are forced out of business, where will the money come from?

When times are good, there will be little to worry about. But Congress has enacted another law which strongly discourages the creation of reserves to pull manufacturers through hard times. It has, in fact, levied heavy punitive taxes on such reserves. It is an admitted fact that few employers, when another depression comes along, will have enough reserves to let them spend more than $26,000,000,000 out of their savings as they have done in recent years. They won't have the savings.

Furthermore, it is now proposed to lay new and heavier burdens upon them by adopting a shorter week so as to spread employment. Unless an employer who hires five men to do the work that four did before increases the cost of what he sells, he will be put out of business. If he does increase the cost, he will have trouble selling, and maybe again be put out of business.

When tax sources dry up, there are no taxes. Unless the sources of taxes are secure, there can be no social security.

DEMOCRACY VS. "ISMS"

The only workable form of democratic government which the world has ever known is not based upon the theory that everybody should have absolute liberty, but rather that everybody should have as much liberty as possible without hurting the whole society. Unrestricted liberty for all is anarchy. Complete liberty for special groups lead to Communism or Fascism or some other "ism."

It is strange, therefore, that some Americans who prize their democracy should let one group in its society have almost complete freedom from control. Labor unions have fewer legal restraints upon them than any other group, yet every day they demand and take more freedom.

It used to be a crime to interfere with the United States mails. Yet now in the mid-West, strike pickets are censoring mail before they let it go into factories.

It used to be that a man could work if he wanted to. Yet now strike pickets are making men go on relief by refusing to let them work.

It used to be that a man could either join or refrain from joining a union. Yet it is reported that a recent Chrysler plant sit-down strike was called to make some union members pay their dues and to force others to join.

It used to be that a man did not have to belong to a union to hold a job. Yet a General Motors sit-down strike was threatened because two unionists did not like to work alongside two non-unionists.

It used to be that a man worked hard and long and built himself up a business. Yet another sit-down strike recently forced such a man to retire from control of his business.

It used to be that a contract was a contract. Yet there have been nearly three-score sit-down strikes in automobile plants since contracts were signed forbidding them.

Where and how must it end? In another "ism" or the restoration of real democracy?

A RENAISSANCE OF INDEPENDENT MERCHANDISING

New facts concerning merchandising, issued by the Census Bureau, are of interest.

These figures—which compare 1935, last year for which complete statistics are available, with the depression year of 1933 and the boom year of 1929—show that the number of independent food stores increased steadily from 1929 through 1935, not only in total number of stores, but, more important, in their percentage ratio to all grocery and combination stores. During the same period the total number of chain food stores somewhat decreased both in total number and in ratio to all stores.

The Bureau's survey further indicates that the volume of business done by both independents and chains has reached a relatively static comparative stage—that is, the percentages may rise or fall slightly from year to year, but tend to deviate but little from the normal over a period of time. This is in accord with the views of marketing experts who have said that the chain systems have reached the apex of their growth, and cannot hope to make substantial future gains in their business in proportion to all business done.

What might be termed a "renaissance of independent merchandising" has been noticeable in thousands of towns in all states, the last few years. Little stores have been founded and have grown and prospered rapidly—older stores have gone ahead, and held and increased their patronage. The American merchandising system, based on honest competition, has proven sound in good times and bad, and has done wonders in serving the consumer with maximum efficiency at minimum cost.

Government Finances and Business Recovery

The state of the federal budget has become the central feature of the recovery problem, states the Guaranty Trust Company of New York in the current issue of The Guaranty Survey, its monthly review of business and financial conditions in the United States and abroad.

Tangible evidence has been given that the time for deficit financing to stimulate recovery has passed. The Survey continues. Only when vigorous and effective steps toward retrenchment in government expenditures are taken can business proceed with reasonable assurance that recovery will not develop along radically unsound lines.

The most significant feature of the Treasury's current position is not that receipts have fallen below expectations but that the increase in receipts has been offset by an even greater rise in expenditures, together with the fact that no real determination to balance the budget has yet been shown. The President's letter of April 13 and his message of April 20 seem to indicate a realization of the need of gaining greater control over the general expenditures, as well as of the relief expenditures, of the government; and it is to be hoped that they mark the beginning of a more determined campaign than has yet been made to bring about a fundamental change in the position of the Treasury. The situation now calls for stimulation but for restraint, and the first step in effective restraint must be a balanced budget.

The unexpectedly low level of recent income tax receipts further becloud the prospect of a balanced budget in the near future and made necessary the thorough revision of budget estimates. A comparison of receipts and expenditures of the Treasury for the fiscal year to date reveals that receipts during the first nine months were much larger than a year ago, while expenditures for recovery and relief showed a substantial decrease. But the saving in relief was much more than offset by a sharp increase in general expenditures, despite the fact that expenditures for public debt retirements were smaller this year than last. The total excess of expenditures for the first nine months of the current year was $72,000,000 larger than a year ago, despite the large increase in receipts. In other words, instead of moving toward a balanced position during the year, the Treasury has moved away from it.

Action by Federal Reserve Committee After the announcement by the Open Market Committee of the Federal Reserve System that it was prepared to make open-market purchases of government securities, the Federal Reserve banks began immediately to purchase government securities, and by April 14 had augmented their holdings by $57,000,000, showing the first significant increase in this item since the beginning of 1934.

The committee stated that its new policy is in conformity with that announced by the Board of Governors in January, whereby open-market operations were to be used to effect such changes in member bank reserves as might be deemed in the public interest after the increased reserve requirements should become effective. The fact remains, however, that the new policy places the Federal Reserve system in the position of increasing excess reserves of member banks by purchasing government securities while, at the same time, lowering those reserves by increasing reserve requirements. Meanwhile, the Treasury helps to prevent further increases in reserves by its gold sterilization policy.

Contradictory Forces This situation is a reflection of the underlying contradiction involved in the joint process of borrowing and spending money on the one hand and of trying to prevent over-expansion of credit on the other. The spending of money borrowed from the banks increases bank deposits, and reserve requirements are raised to prevent over-expansion. The creation of additional bank deposits by this borrowing and spending process, without a corresponding increase in the volume of output of commodities, threatens to raise prices, attracts foreign capital to this country, and swells bank reserves; and incoming gold is sterilized to check the movement. The increase in reserve requirements causes interest rates to rise; government security prices fall, and excess reserves are increased again by open-market operations to support the bond market.

Fundamentally, the difficulty arises from the fact that an effort is being made to undo with one hand what is being done with the other. Borrowing and spending by the government increase bank deposits, and purchases of government securities by the Federal Reserve banks increase member bank reserves. At the same time, increasing reserve requirements reduces excess reserves, while gold sterilization prevents incoming gold from increasing those reserves. The whole situation illustrates the difficulty of bringing about certain changes in financial conditions without incurring the natural consequences of those changes.

TRUE SUCCESS

Success is hollow,—an offence, Upon which we indeed might frown, That's built up solely at expense Of tearing other people down.

The sort that has a real true ring, Will never cause one jars or rifts, But makes some other hearts to sing; As it develops, it uplifts.

That is indeed most worthy gain, And happy he whose wealth is earned, Which would not bring to others pain, But benefits all those concerned.

He proves the most successful man, Who lofty principles employs, Who works on the constructive plan, And never injures nor destroys.

The series of parties is to be completed by September, running throughout the summer months. The members of the guild presented Mrs. Shaw, their retiring president, with a white pottery vase containing pink carnations, pink gladiolus, baby's breath and purple iris, and a card signed by all present. Rev. Peter R. Deekenbach made the presentation. The Evening Guild was organized two years ago, and Mrs. Shaw was its first president. "Big Shots" Must Swallow Pride When New Low License Plates Are Issued Conforming with the present day trend toward smaller plates, which are both easier to read and more economical to manufacture, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee has set machinery in motion for a new automobile license tag, beginning with the year 1939.

The present tag, which is six by fifteen inches in size, will be replaced

Essex County which is now designated by the letter "E" and "I-E" will be known in 1939 by the letters "E," "F" and "J"; Hudson will retain the letter "H" and will be given the letter "I"; Bergen will use "B" and "R" and so forth.

Following is a complete list of the letter combinations for each county: Atlantic, A-A to A-M; Burlington, with one six by ten and one-half inches for passenger vehicles and six by thirteen inches for commercial vehicles. Production costs alone will show a saving to the state of over $12,000.

One of the interesting features of the smaller plate is that every car will have a low number, there being none higher than "999." Instead of the single letter county designation now in use, a two-letter combination will be found at the left hand side of the tag, beginning for example, with A-A and running through the series to A-Z. The top letter will indicate the county in which the plate was issued.

The new plate will be welcomed by owners of new cars who have complained to the Motor Vehicle Department that modern cars are not constructed for the longer plate now in use in this state. It will eliminate all necessity for the unlawful practice of bending or mutilating plates.

In devising the new system of two-letter combinations, it was necessary to change the county designations in a number of instances. For instance,

A-O to A-Z; Bergen, B-A to B-Z and R-A to R-Z; Camden, C-A to C-Z; Essex, E-A to E-Y; F-A to F-Z and J-A to J-Z; Hudson, H-A to H-Z and L-A to L-Z; Gloucester, Z-A to Z-I; Cumberland, Z-K to Z-U; Cape May, Z-V to Z-Z; Mercer, L-A to L-U; Ocean, L-V to L-Z; Middlesex, K-A to K-Z; Monmouth, M-A to M-Z.

Passaic, P-A to P-Z and Y-A to Y-F; Salem, S-A to S-E; Somerset, S-K to S-T; Sussex, S-V to S-Z; Union, U-A to U-Z and N-A to N-L; Warren, W-A to W-F; Hunterdon, W-T to W-Z; Morris, V-A to V-P; commercial vehicles, X-A to X-Z; omnibus, O-A to O-Z; dealers, D-A to D-Z; trailers, T-A to T-Z; government, (state, county and city), G-A to G-Z.

Jewish School Plans Public Examination

Religious Group of Congregation A.A.A. Has Met For Nine Months

A public examination will be held by the religious school of Congregation Ahavas Achim Anshe, 317 Washington avenue, Monday evening, according to an announcement of Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, principal, and Philip Lempert, president. The examination, which will begin promptly at 6:30 P. M., is open to all parents and friends.

The daily Talmud Torah, which has been meeting regularly for the past nine months, has had an enrollment of close to thirty children. They have received a thorough grounding in the Hebrew language, Bible and commentaries, Jewish customs and ceremonies and in modern Jewish problems. Notable progress has been made by the children this year and an increased interest for further Jewish training is clearly evident among them.

The public examination will mark the end of the present term. Classes will be dismissed for the summer to be resumed in September. An interesting program has been arranged for the evening. After the formal examination, an informal party will be held for the children. Mrs. Bessie Denner, Mrs. Clara Weinglass and Mrs. Lillian Berkowitz are in charge of the party, aided by Mrs. Lempert.

Rabbi Dobin has announced a personal prize which he will present to the two best students in each class. The prize will be a trip to a baseball game at the Yankee Stadium in New York City, followed by a supper. It is reported that competition for the prize is keen among the pupils of the school.

At the last meeting of the congregation, much enthusiasm greeted the excellent report of the Board of Education for the year now ending. The members of the board who received the acclaim of the congregation, besides Mr. Lempert, are: Michael Smith, secretary and treasurer; Frank Taffet, Dr. Mossi Rochlin, Samuel Kogan, Abram Atkins, Morris Rosen, Solomon Abramson, Morris Berkowitz, Mrs. Denner, Mrs. Weinglass and Mrs. Berkowitz.

'Hank' O'Brien Continues To Shine at 'Drome

Paired with Honeman Local Boy Leads Field Home in Twenty-Mile Thriller

Tom Saetta and George Shipman Finish Even in Points And Laps But Reach Tape Half Lap Behind

Pushing his bike around Nutley Velodrome saucer at a terrific clip Belleville's own, Henry "Hank" O'Brien jumped the field in the twenty-mile thriller Sunday night to gain a lap on the field with four miles to go.

Hank's herculean task was made more difficult when his partner, Willie Honeman, American sprint champion, chose the time to change bikes. Willie, however, soon remounted and was a tower of strength in the lap steal. The champ's fast sprinting opened up a gap that made the rest of the field look as though it was in reverse. The pair still remain undefeated in the team race matches, although Tom Saetta and George Shipman finished up sticks with them in the twenty-miler, as far as points go. O'Brien and Honeman, however, wound up half a lap ahead of the team which tied them in points. Third place, also even as far as laps, went to Ewald Wissel and Frank Keating. The winning teams each had twenty-three points and the latter combine, seventeen.

Rooters for "Hank" and Willie thought they had failed for sixteen miles, the pair coasting along ten points behind Saetta and Shipman. Evidently they timed their attempt to piff the lap with precision. Quicker than one could say "skat" Hank shot from the top board at sixteen miles to scoot in and out around the field. He soon had half a lap advantage. Wissel and Shipman tried to close up a little and did so until at seventeen miles Honeman opened the gap wider. "Hank" brought down the house from that point on with his nose nestling dangerously near his front wheel as he hunched his back to push his iron steed ahead. His blistering pace scattered the other teams all over the track.

Saetta and Shipman started to pile up points early and Wissel and Keating soon followed suit, although the first named combine, it was evident, was in the race to win. Up until the sixteenth marker had been passed it looked as though "Hank" and Willie would take a shellacking.

O'Brien and Honeman won a special prize of $10 donated by the track American six-day riders, Jimmy Walthour and Al Crossley, who returned from Europe last week and attended the races.

Honeman, Shipman and Felix Leferre were the finalists in the four-sevenths mile event. The champ remained in the rear until the final lap, when he went around both rivals to win a close decision. The others to reach the semifinals in this race were Eddie Miller, Anker Meyer, Anderson, Henry Szamat, Guy Ricci and Cliff Bullivant. Ricci took a flier at two to go in his heat in which his opponents were Honeman and Bullivant. Honeman managed to nip Ricci at the tape. Bullivant pulled a surprise by winning his heat, in which George Dempsey made his first start of the season.

Keating came through in fine style to win a three-cornered match race from Mathias Engel of Germany and Bobby Echeveria of California, Keating taking the second and third heats after Engel had captured the first.

Remigio Saavedra, Argentine road star, made his debut in an Australian pursuit race with Martin Journey, Nutley favorite, whom he overtook after four miles one lap of the hardest kind of pedaling.

Cecil Walker, who returned from Australia last week, was introduced and given an ovation.

Rawding-Restall Top Hinchliffe Card

Both Intent on Winning Top Laurels in Eastern Ranks

Two stars intent on capturing top laurels in the Eastern motorcycle ranks this season—Crocky Rawding and Goldie Restall will be among the outstanding threats for victory honors at the Hinchliffe City Stadium in Paterson when the entire array of speedsters lines up for the weekly motorcycle racing meet.

Rawding and Restall have had their mechanics bring their machines into top shape for this show, and when they move out on the Paterson cinders Tuesday night are expected to contribute the most effective speed performances they have flashed this season. Rawding has been slow reaching his true form and ditto for Restall. Now they are determined to regain their real stride.

Restall is the North Bergen ace who came out of retirement this season and who is so anxious to recapture his old glory that he has been putting in extra licks on that machine of his. He was champion for two years prior to his retirement and now he wants to return to the throne. Rawding, a perennial runner-up, is tired of playing that role and now he is determined to capture the No. 1 niche in the speed ranks.

The field will comprise all the aces of the A. M. A. ranks, with such Western threats as Jimmy Gibbs, Bo Lissman, Dutch Miller, Peeewe MacCallum and Ray Tanser and Rawding and Restall augmented by such Eastern aces as George Matheson, Joe Udinsky, Palmer Tamburro and Joe Lardino.

Eighteen races are listed, with the start scheduled for 8:45 P. M. Promoter John Kochman will also feature his weekly, "Opportunity Night."

Triangles To Play At Pompton Lakes

The Belleville Triangles remained idle over the week-end due to a disappointment of the Gassert Royals of Harrison to appear at Capital Field.

The locals will travel to Pompton Lakes Sunday to take on one of the leading clubs of this vicinity.

The Triangles have a record of six wins and one setback and are looking forward to their seventh win Sunday.

The veteran twirler, Tony Paul, who has won four games for the locals, will throw them up Sunday with Zappa doing the receiving.

The Triangles are looking for a second baseman who is willing to play each Sunday against semi-pro competition.

The Triangles are willing to play any Belleville outfit of like class or take part in any kind of a contest with Belleville outfits.

Third Golden Wheeler At Tri-City Track

Meet Wednesday Offers Best Card Outside Championships

Interest of fans and riders alike is centering on Tri-City Stadium here for the presentation of the third annual motorcycle racing non-championship classic, the Golden Wheel series, Wednesday night, June 23.

The meet offers the biggest cash prizes for any single event except the championships, which have been held at Tri-City for three years, and lists the strongest field in ten three-lap elimination races the same night. Eighteen star riders will seek qualification in the six first round heats. The winners and three second men scoring the best time will go into the semi-finals. There will be three semis, the winner of each event gaining the Golden Wheel final.

Four of the most prominent cinder spreaders have been seeded by Manager Andy Watts in the first round events. They are: ex-champion Jimmy Gibb of Hollywood, Cal.; Bronco Bo Lissman of Long Beach, Cal.; Crocky Rawding of Bloomfield and Don Smith of Denison, Texas.

Vitt Determined Bears Shall Win

Scoffs at "Squawks" of Other Managers Because Of Team's Strength

Manager Oscar Vitt of the Bears is getting hot. Ol' Os wants to see his Bears keep on their winning streak. The fact that the other clubs are yelling about his Bruins is not worrying him a bit. The scrappy and aggressive leader doesn't want his Bears to let down for one second. He is not a slave driver, but his contention is the Bruins are out to win games, for the fans love a winner, no matter how far they are out in front of their competitors.

Vitt was in a jubilant frame of mind after his club had made a clean sweep against the Buffalo Bisons over the past week end. "The fans rooting for the Bears are great," said Vitt. "They yell and cheer the boys on and it helps a lot. On the road you miss those cheers. Some of the other clubs are yelling about our Bears. That suits me. I wouldn't care if the Bruins were twenty-five games out in front. The fans would like it as long as the boys kept winning. Now if we were trailing some other club by five or ten games, you can rest assured the other players or club management wouldn't pay any attention to our protests. They would sit back and laugh. They would even tell you they can't help it if they have a winner. Don't let the cry about the Bears being too strong, coming from other clubs scare you. Baseball is baseball and the fact that the Bears is clicking makes me feel fine. No matter how big a lead you have, you can never tell what will happen next. Take for example McQuinn's injury. George was going great and I only hope he won't be out long. It means a change in our winning combination. I had to shift Babe Dahlgren over to first and put Frank Kellner at third. Fortunately we have fine reserves. But a couple of more accidents and then our reserves would all be used up and then what would we do. Good ball players are scarce. Yes, siree, I hope the Bears continue to win and I am satisfied to have the other clubs yell, and I think the fan feels likewise," concluded Vitt.

The Rochester Red Wings are here for four games. They began the series Thursday by playing a doubleheader. The game Friday will be at night under the flood lights and it will be ladies' night. A single game is scheduled for Saturday. The Wings are still looking for help and Manager Ray Blades has an idea his team will click on its present trip. The team has plenty of power and a good pitching staff and the Wings would rather beat the Bruins than any other team in the league.

Then on Sunday the flashy Montreal Royals, piloted by fighting Rabbit Maranville come to Ruppert Stadium for four games. They open the series with a twin bill Sunday afternoon, a single game Monday and a night game Tuesday. With the Royals is Marvin Duke, the ace of the pitching staff, who will work one of the games against his former pitching staff, who will work one of the games against his former team mates, Catcher Norman Kies and Outfielder Paul Dunlap, out on option from the Bears. The Royals are fighting to hold second place and feel they can stop the wild rush of the Bruins. The Royals have nifty pitching staff and it is possible before they come here they have obtained more help from a major league club.

Emerald Club Wins Two Close Games

Dispose of Heller Bros. And Standard Insurance

The Emerald A. C. finally hit its stride and won two close contests over the week-end. On Saturday the Gems defeated the strong Standard Surety Insurance Company of New York in their only appearance in New Jersey, 7 to 6, and on Sunday they defeated the Heller Bros. B. B. C., 5 to 4, in ten innings.

Bill Lister proved to be the pitching hero in both games, rescuing Hank Billemeier in the insurance game with the score tied at six all in the eighth inning and pitching the complete ten innings of the Heller game, striking out eighteen. The insurance game was won in the last half of the eighth inning when Fip Urna singled home Tommie Carter.

Jim Lynch, former Newark University first sacker, making his debut with the Emeralds, knocked in Bill Lister with a double in the tenth inning to finish the Heller game. Henry Lubben, Gem's veteran outfielder, extended his hitting streak to ten consecutive games by driving out two hits in each contest, while Leo O'Reilly extended his streak to eight consecutive games.

Tony Amato, Heller pitcher, proved almost as equally effective as Lister, as he struck out seventeen Emeralds, but he allowed six of the nine hits the Emeralds acquired in the fourth and fifth nings, when the Gems scored four times. Amato also hit a home run to tie the score in the seventh inning. Joe Warma, the New Yorker's pitcher, also proved to be quite a batter, knocking out two home runs, both with one runner on the sacks, to account for four of his club's six runs.

Harrison Club Trims Eagles Easily, 15-5

Six Run Rally in Second Settled Game for Visitors

The Belleville Eagles Sunday at Belwood Park fell an easy prey to the Harrison P. C., 15-5.

A six-run rally in the second inning settled all disputes for the visitors who were not headed after that. Three walks, a hit batsman and four hits cooked the goose for the Eagles. Bracaglia and Goglia, who hurled for the Eagles were knocked all over the lots. Bracaglia also was wild on the mound.

The only redeeming feature for the Eagles was Gonello's triple over the left fielder's head. He also helped himself to two singles. Tobia banged out a brace of hits for the Eagles. Pitcher Baker of the Harrison Club made things easy for himself by clouting a homer with the bases loaded.

Sunday the Eagles meet the Oxford Tigers of Newark at 10:30 A. M. at Belwood Park. The score of last Sunday's game: Harrison P. C. . . . 064 401 0-15 11 0 Eagles 000 130 1-5 8 5 Baker and Tortorella. Bracaglia, Goglia and Tobia.

Belwoods To Tackle Nutley Ball Club

Double Header Scheduled Sunday at Belwood Park

The Belwood A. A. will swing back into action this Sunday afternoon when it meets the strong Nutley I. C. A. at Belwood Park in a double header. The first game will begin at 1 P. M. sharp.

The Belwoods have been having trouble getting their players together and this Sunday afternoon many new faces will be in the Belwood line-up. Michael Mann will return to the Belwood fold and will, in all probability, take over the left field position. Ken Meyers and Halsey Hunt, promising ballplayers, will also make their debut Sunday afternoon. Jerry Lilore, Belleville High player, will be among the starting line-up, as will Joe Travers, flashy fielding Belwood shortstop who has been out of the line-up for the past two weeks. Travers was hit by a pitched ball by Bus Gauspohl during the Alumni-Belleville High game. However, Joe will be on hand Sunday afternoon to take over his place at shortstop. Filling out the rest of the line-up will be "Red" Van demark, slugging first baseman, Francis Sullivan, Jack Smith, Joe Kline, Phil Sammaro, Eddie Wykoski, Harold Mazzolla, Belwood pitching "ace," and Manager Long. There will, in all probability, be a few additions before game time Sunday. If there are any ballplayers who desire a try-out with the Belwoods, please get in touch with Manager Long. Manager Long would like to have the manager of the Shamrocks, Senators, Triangles and the rest of the Belleville teams get in touch with him, to arrange games to decide the so-called mythical championship of Belleville. He can be reached at 241 Baldwin street, Bloomfield.

The Belwoods have July 27 open for a game at home or away. Mazzolla, Long and Meyers will share the pitching burden Sunday, with LePre or Sammaro behind the bat.

Austin Mathews May Be Slavin's Nemesis

Keeps in Shape Running Daily To Catch 6:15 Bus

Reference was made in the last issue of this paper to the speed with which Eddie Slavin ran the 220 yard dash in the Hillside meet. The attention of the paper was called to the fact that a young man, Austin Mathews, who lives on Hornblower avenue this town has been in training for the 220 run for several months. Any morning he can be seen running madly toward Holmes street in his sometimes futile attempt to catch the six-fifteen bus. A meeting between these two "winged Mercurys" must be arranged in the near future or Mrs. Mathews must get up earlier.

Langhorne Offers Big Card Tomorrow

Over 50 Star Automobile Drivers on the Program

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—Langhorne Speedway, world's fastest mile circular track, becomes the speed capital of the nation tomorrow (Saturday) when nearly a half-hundred noted drivers, including ace pilots from the Indianapolis 500-mile race at Indianapolis, compete in a six-event program that will total 100 miles of sensational competition.

The return of Billy Winn to the Eastern speed wars, the entry of national champion Mauri Rose and the group of Indianapolis money winners, Ted Horn, Billy DeVore, George Connor and Louie Tomei, makes of the coming Langhorne races the speed classic of the season, in the opinion of AAA sanction board officials.

Winn, formerly king of Eastern tracks, has entered a new Miller machine, while Rose will be at the wheel of Lou Moore's great car in which he won the great Tripoli road race. Connor will drive the car in which he established the world's record on flat mile tracks at Springfield last fall. Horn and DeVore are expected to have their speedway mounts.

Although conceded to be great dirt track drivers as well as speedway stars, the invading contingent of notables will have no advantage over the flashy field of Eastern campaigners who shattered records in the Langhorne inaugural and who will be back seeking new laurels. Ben Shaw with his powerful Curtiss, who drove the mile in 35.888 for a new world's record, is prepared for another attack on the mark, while Frankie Beeder who won the race and Tony William, runner up, are primed for the battle of their careers.

Among the most popular drivers in the line up will undoubtedly be Frankie Bailey of New Brunswick who is scheduled to drive for the first time since he was released from the hospital where he was confined for weeks following his spectacular crash during the first Langhorne program last month. Bailey's car has been rebuilt and is ready for a speed test, officials report.

Other prominent drivers entered in the aSaturday races are Bobbie Sall, Paterson, N. J.; Eddie Stanek, Caldwell, N. J.; Diamond Watts, Greenwich, Conn.; Duke Nalon, Chicago; Vern Orenduff, Tallahassee; Johnny Duncan, Lawrence, L. I.; Tommy Hinchert, Laureldale; Frank Reynolds, Philadelphia; Roy Lake, Los Angeles; Don Moore, Boonton, Frank Moore, Silver Springs; Bert Ross, Trenton; Milt Marion, St. Albans, L. I.; Monk and Johnny Tadlock, Norfolk, and more than a dozen others.
