

Seen About Town

Ye scribe was aided and abetted by Miss Gladys Heimrich of 477 Washington avenue who typed this column for him. Miss Heimrich received a medal last semester at Belleville High School for passing a speed test with a record of 140 words a minute in shorthand. She also types 50 words a minute.

Hugo Antolini of 477 Washington avenue declares that he has hit the Hi-Li 3,336 times. He would have gone further but the ball broke away from the elastic.

Joseph Kristen of 27 Oak street and Harry Higgs of 33 Rutgers street returned with a 23-pound striped bass from the Highlands. They fished in the Shrewsbury River.

Thomas Fleming of 85 Bell street, supervisor of the water department of Belleville has returned from the B. P. O. E. convention at Denver, Colorado. He also visited Yellowstone National Park.

Edward E. King Jr., 11 years old, who is a swimmer par excellence learned to swim at Camp Columbus, Culvers Lake, New Jersey. George Packard Jr. of Newark is now visiting him at his home, 104 Overlook avenue. Recently Edward saved the life of a baby blue-jay by recovering it from the street, built a nest for it one afternoon in his back yard, and left the bird out all night. Next morning he discovered the bird had flown away.

Emil "Amos" Kriska is a man of all work in Washington avenue near Little street. He may be seen polishing windows, automobiles, etc., at any time of the day.

Homer Estelle is that personable young man who conducts a gas station at Little street and Washington avenue. Homer is the Don Quixote of all the girls in Belleville.

Miss Lavina Watson of 51 Joralemon street is the gorgeous young lady who waits on you at Max Sokol's store in Washington avenue.

You may call him "Snowball," "Whitevash," or the "Eight Ball" but Charlie Sellars of Barney Miller's liquor store smiles pleasantly for the benefit of all his customers.

Bernard Dowd, who stands six feet, two inches in his stocking feet, is a hustling young man, employed in the chain store in Washington avenue near Division avenue.

Mrs. Marie Karrer of 70 Floyd street has a sampler, cross stitch pattern into which is sewed the initials F. E. G. and is dated 1790. Also sewed into the pattern are Adam and Eve, the apple tree and the snake; two angels, a friendship wreath, a castle, several lions, a bunch of cherries, the alphabet, a dairy maid, a crawfish, a double eagle, birds, flower pots and crowns.

Joseph Olden who was swimming at Seaside Heights last week and whom his companions say was bit by a shark was taken home, last Sunday suffering from blood poisoning, from William street firehouse, where he is attached as fireman.

James Clark of Union avenue, an attendant at the county court house left last Saturday for Bermuda where he will spend two weeks. He will return by plane.

Miss May O'Brien of 64 Cleveland street and Miss Mary Grimley of Day street formed a swimming duo and did exhibition diving at the Eighth Avenue pool, Belmar, last Sunday. Five buses left from Belleville to see the exhibition.

Miss May Watson, twenty-two years old, is one of the youngest if not the youngest manager of a Postal Telegraph station in the country. She manages the Belleville office at 142 Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, daughters, Rita, Elizabeth, Mary, Mamie and son James and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nygard have left on a trailer trip through the northern states.

Lorraine Ackerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman, 120 Rutgers street, owned a cat which she cherished dearly. One day last week the cat was sitting on the window sill of the fifth floor apartment of the Ackermans. It lost its balance and toppled into the street. The cat landed on its paws and now seems no worse for its experience.

School Balance More Than Board Planned

Surplus of $17,220 Reported By Finance Group Monday

The school district ended its fiscal year June 30 with an appropriation balance of $40,900.55, according to a report of the finance committee to the Board of Education Monday night. This exceeds by $17,220.55 the balance anticipated when the 1937-38 budget was prepared and included in that budget to reduce the amount to be raised by taxation.

Against this surplus is $10,019.24 anticipated as receipts from the penalty tax, none of which has been received.

The largest appropriation balance was in the salary account and amounted to almost $20,000. This was due to the fact that the appropriation was based on contractual salaries whereas all employees operated under an average 7 1/2 per cent cut up to May 1.

The rest of the balance was due to savings in various accounts. Among the largest of these were: Fuel, $3,500; lighting, $1,500; text books, $2,500; insurance premiums, $2,500, and debt service, $3,000.

The board appointed three new teachers: Edgar Noorigan, Pittman, commercial subjects in the high school; Gregoria Marie Condon, Newark, English in the high school, and Pearl J. Hemingway, Belleville, English, geography and health in the elementary grades.

Youth Electrocuted Operating Crane

Local Man Accidentally Killed at Work in Harrison Plant

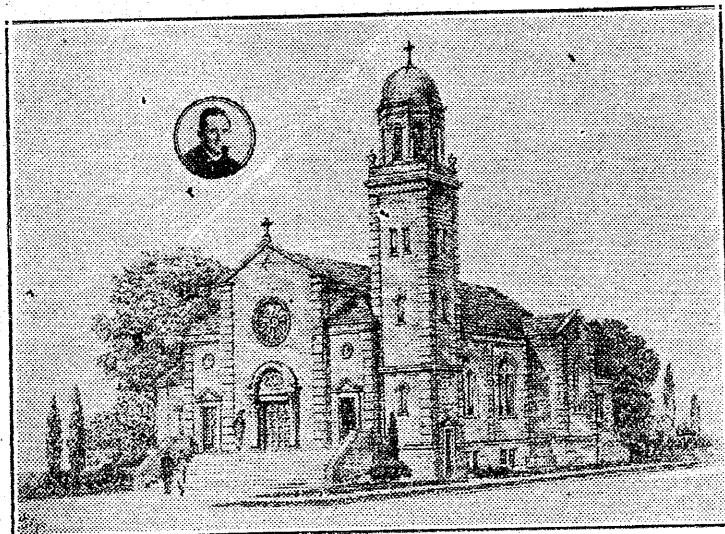

Robert Dow, 20, of 242 Mill street, was accidentally electrocuted Monday while operating a crane at the Otis Elevator Company, Harrison, where he was employed.

He had been in the employ of the company for more than a month. He was assigned Monday for the first time to operate the electric crane. When the apparatus didn't move, fellow workers called to Dow. Upon investigation they found his body slumped behind the controls. Both his shoes were removed. Dr. A. A. Mulligan, deputy county medical examiner, ascribed death to accidental electrocution.

The youth's father, Edwin, visited the plant shortly after the mishap. He examined the crane and expressed the opinion his son was electrocuted by coming in contact with a charged cable. Deputy Fire Chief Duffy, Fire Captain Nugent and Firemen Trainor and Lynch and Patrolmen Ford, O'Hare and Glynn worked in vain to revive the youth with a pulmotor. Sergeant Higgins is investigating. Besides his parents, the youth leaves three brothers, Edwin Jr., Frank and William, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Masuhr and Mrs. Florence Donnelly and Miss Sally Dow.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Seidler, their son and daughter who reside at 47 Center street this town together with Miss Adeline Spinola of Jersey City are leaving on a two weeks motor trip through the southern states. The party expect to leave sometime this week and stop off at Virginia Beach and at Miami, Florida.

PROPOSED ST. ANTHONY'S CHURCH

A new church building, to be part of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church, will be built at the corner of Lake street and Franklin street, Silver Lake, next to the present church. The cost of the building, which will be constructed by Leopold Auriema, Inc., contractors of Jersey City, will be $85,000. Already $25,000 has been received in pledges. Construction will start as soon as the premises have been cleared, and the building will probably be completed early in January.

Rev. Cataldo Alessi is pastor of the church, and has given in that

Old Fire Records Disclose Interesting Data

First Company Was Organized Here In 1855; No Liquor Allowed at Fires

In Old Days $100 Was Offered for Apprehension of "Those Who Set Fire" to Dr. Ward's Barn

"RESOLVED, that we discontinue distribution of intoxicating liquors at fires as has heretofore been the custom."

This clause appears in the minute book of the Passaic Hook and Ladder Company, the first record of a fire company in Belleville. The minute book is dated November 7, 1855 on its front page and is in the possession of Fire Chief Alec Reid of the Belleville fire department.

The book was obtained from the effects of the late Harold Osborne, former tax assessor of Belleville, and a member of a hook and ladder company which was antedated by the one mentioned above.

Another clause entered in the minute book is as follows: "RESOLVED, that John W. Dow ring the Reformed Church bell in case of fire until other arrangements can be made." That clause was dated July 7, 1855.

Another resolution ordered the paying of six dollars to cover the renting of Temperance Hall as a meeting place for six months. Temperance Hall was in William street at the time.

Coincidental with the fire in the barn of Dr. A. Ward, a resolution was passed offering a reward of a hundred dollars for the apprehension of "those who set fire to the barn." The reward was backed as follows: H. K. Cadmus, $50; Dr. A. Ward, $25; Hugh Holmes, $10; C. G. Snow, $10, and N. N. Joralemon, $5. (It is not recorded in the minute book whether the culprits were ever apprehended.) It was also resolved "that a notice be published of such reward in the Newark Daily (now the Newark Evening News) and that a hundred handbills be distributed. Those fire ladders at that time certainly were vindictive.

The officers of the first fire company as listed on the front page of the minute book were C. G. Snow, foreman; N. N. Joralemon, assistant foreman; G. DeWitt, secretary, and Dr. A. Ward, treasurer.

The minutes of the first meeting of the citizens to organize a fire company follow: "A meeting of the citizens of Belleville was held in Independence Hall (east side of Main street at the foot of Holmes street) Wednesday evening, November 7, 1855 for the purpose of organizing a hook and ladder company and for erecting a suitable building to protect truck with ladders lately purchased by the citizens."

"Resolved, that Dr. A. Ward, DeWitt and Holmes be a committee to locate, erect and collect subscriptions for such a building as may be necessary to cover truck, etc."

"Resolved, that the company be composed of fifteen members and that those of the subscribers to the truck be the first nominated."

Then follows the names of the subscribers: N. N. Joralemon, H. K. Cadmus, W. H. Webster, C. G. Snow, G. DeWitt, I. C. Lloyd, Arthur Ward, James Browne, John Stanier, Minard Coeyman, William Collard, C. Van Houten, Alvin Coeyman, George B. Yanston, Jno W. Dow, James McElheney, Michael Murphy, William Simpson, John Collard, Morris Kennedy and Theodore Sandford.

The meeting was adjourned sine die.

After the meeting, held by the citizens, those members elected proceeded to organize the company.

"Resolved, that DeWitt, Holmes, Snow, Ward and Sandford be a committee to write the by-laws to present to the fire company."

"Resolved, that C. G. Snow act as foreman pro tem."

"Adjourned to meet Saturday evening, November 10, at 7 P. M. at Independence Hall, N. N. Joralemon, chairman; G. DeWitt, secretary; I. A. Paine, assistant secretary; committee of inquiry, R. J. Baldwin, George Ward, Morris Kennedy, H. Neagler; auditing committee, H. Holmes, I. L. Whitfield."

On November 27, 1855, the names of Joseph B. Sandford, William Sandford, W. H. Webster and Joseph Spear were proposed as members.

On May 14, 1856, Oliver H. Perry, a former Newark lawyer, was accepted as a member.

On June 11, 1856, W. H. Webster and Cornelius Van Houten were elected members.

The writing by Hugh Holmes (the book is written entirely in long-hand) is a beautiful script, and every word is legible. He spells Belleville like this: Belle Ville.

Mayor Williams Engagement Announced To Miss Lucile Slocum Joseph

Announcement Sunday by Mayor William H. Williams and Miss Lucile Slocum Joseph, teacher of French at Bloomfield High School, of their engagement, came as a surprise to many in this town. They will be married August 12. Announcement of the engagement was informal.

Miss Joseph besides her duties in Bloomfield also teaches French in Bergen County Junior College. She matriculated at Elmira College with a bachelor of arts degree which was augmented by a master's degree from Columbia and further studies at The Sorbonne, France.

Miss Joseph is the daughter of Rev. Dr. Oscar L. Joseph, pastor of Emory Methodist Episcopal Church, Paterson, and Mrs. Joseph.

She is president of the Northeastern New Jersey Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French, a member of Major Joseph Bloomfield Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and of the Women's Club of Essex County.

After their marriage the couple will receive at Marlboro Inn, Montclair. They will reside at the Mayor's home at 82 Rossmore place.

Mayor Williams is the son of Mrs. Ellen Williams of North Dighton, Mass. He served as director of revenue and finance here from 1930 to 1934. He is president of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association of New Jersey, and is a past exalted ruler of Belleville Lodge of Elks. He is in demand as a public speaker and has addressed municipal gatherings all over the state.

Mayor Williams, who has won national recognition for Belleville's financial rehabilitation, which he planned and directed, has been Mayor of the town and director of revenue and finance since 1934, when he was high man in the election. He is credited with advancing Belleville as an industrial center.

Miss Muriel Joseph of Paterson, the bride-to-be's sister, and the Mayor's brother, James E. Williams of North Dighton, will be the attendants. Mayor Williams will take his bride to Bar Harbor, Me., until September 1 for a honeymoon.

Auto Crash Fatal To Local Youth

James Bocchino Killed on Highway in Virginia

James Bocchino, 18, of 120 Heckel street, this town, and Carlton Ives of Princess Anne County, Va., died in an automobile collision on a rain-swept highway at Norfolk, Va., late Tuesday night.

Bocchino burned to death when the gas tank of his car exploded. His companions, Giacomo Calamia, 20, of 23 Alva street, Bloomfield, and Joseph Raimo, 21, of Columbia avenue, Newark, were taken in a bus to a hospital.

Robert Lewis of Princess Anne also was hurt.

The hospital said the three injured probably would recover.

The three local youths were on vacation. James was the son of Joseph Bocchino, a WPA worker, and Mrs. Rose Bocchino. A brother, John, and a sister, Margaret, also survive.

If it's an engagement ring or a wedding ring, see Victor Hart, Jeweler, 457 Washington avenue, Belleville. Diamond engagement rings, $7 up; wedding rings, $3 up.

'Clif' Powell's Hat In Political Arena

Will Oppose Senator Clee in Republican Primary Battle

Senator Clifford Powell, who will oppose Senator Lester H. Clee in the September primary announces his candidacy as follows:

"After very serious consideration of the widespread demand for my candidacy, and of the prospects of success in both the primary and general elections, I desire to let it be known that I will enter the Republican primary as a candidate for Governor."

says Mr. Powell. "There is, beyond all question, an overwhelming demand for a life long Republican worker, one experienced in public life within the ranks of the party, as well as a widespread feeling on the part of my friends both within and without the party."

"In addition to this general sentiment I felt it necessary, before deciding to run, to be assured of a substantial amount of state and county organization support. I have more than ample assurance of such organization support. I am happy to have secured this support without being called upon to make any promises or pledges whatever."

"My entire political life has been free and independent of any domination by or allegiance to a particular group or individual in the party. This freedom has been in no way restricted by assurances of support, nor will I permit it to be restricted at any time during the campaign. I have made no promises whatever to any individual or group."

"I want it distinctly understood that my candidacy will be based upon the true ideals of independent Republicanism, and upon a lifetime of unselfish service to the public and my party. My idea of true, independent Republicanism, construed in the light of a changing social order would provide the underprivileged with more of the world's blessings. I shall refrain from making any entangling alliances which would hamper my freedom of action, and shall conduct the campaign on such a basis that no member of the party can take offense."

"New Jersey is my native state, and all my life has been spent here—sixteen years of it in the State Legislature. I know the problems of the state and how to no man in a desire to provide cleaner and more economical government. Nor do I bow to any man on a record of service to promote and preserve decent government."

"I pledge true economy, which after all is but wise spending, and an administration wholly unhampered by 'reactionism' and entirely free from favoritism."

Local Folks in Crash

Five persons were injured Sunday in Upper Montclair when a car driven by William Gilchrist of 9 Van Houten place, this town, overturned after a collision at Mt. Hebron avenue and Valley road. Frank Moberg of 41 Central avenue, Montclair, driver of the second car, sustained slight chest injuries.

Mr. Gilchrist suffered head lacerations, Mrs. Gilchrist back injuries and Miss Martha Becht of the Belleville address a bruised hip. James and Ruth Gilchrist also suffered minor injuries. All were discharged from Mountside Hospital after treatment.

Fined

William Jones of 40 Terry street, was found guilty of drunken driving Monday by Recorder Everett Smith in police court. He was fined $225 and $25 costs and his driver's license was suspended for two years.

Jones was arrested June 24 near his home. His defense was that he became nervous after the accident and had taken several glasses of whisky in his home before his arrest.

Eighth Auto Death Listed Here in Year

Englewood Woman Killed At Rutgers and Main Streets

The death of Elizabeth G. Davenport, 18, of Englewood, in an auto accident here Friday morning was the eighth fatality resulting from accidents in town this year. The previous record was seven deaths in any entire year.

Miss Davenport was killed when two cars collided at Main and Rutgers streets, near the Belleville Turnpike Bridge. Two other fatal accidents have occurred at the same corner this year. Two met death this year in Belleville avenue near King place, one at Oak and Joralemon streets, one at Washington and Overlook avenues and one at Franklin and North Ninth streets in Silver Lake.

Campaign by Recorder Officials are at a loss to explain the increase of fatal accidents here. Two months ago Recorder Everett B. Smith started a campaign against speeders and in that time has suspended more than 100 licenses for this offense. It has generally been conceded that the severity of the penalty has cut down speeding considerably. So successful has the campaign appeared that magistrates in other municipalities in the state have adopted Recorder Smith's plan.

"I am convinced," Police Chief Spatz said, "that practically all serious accidents are caused by speeding." "I do not know what more the police or courts can do," Recorder Smith commented. "I still believe suspending licenses is the best deterrent to speeding yet tried and I intend to continue as long as I remain in the office."

Chief Spatz said he was not convinced placing a traffic signal at Main and Rutgers streets would entirely stop accidents there, although he said it certainly should be tried. The entrance to the bridge is a bottle-neck. Both approaches, Main street from the south and Rutgers street from the west, are four-lane concrete, while the bridge itself can accommodate only three lanes of traffic. This results in frequent piling up of traffic at the bridge entrance.

Championship Race At Nutley 'Drome

Mathias Engel, German Star, Leads Pack Merry Chase

With Mathias Engel, the German importation, leading the chase, the fourth of the series of twelve races to decide the 1937 national sprint championship, will be conducted at the Nutley Velodrome Sunday night.

The distance will be one-half mile and affords Willie Honeman, the defending titleholder, with the opportunity of drawing closer to the brilliant foreigner, who, as a result of sensational riding in the first three races of the series, has amassed a total of 13 points, five more than Honeman has been able to gather.

Close on Honeman's wheel in third place in the tally table is the blonde New Yorker, Frank L. Keating, with five points, and trailing him, in fourth position, is another importation, Anker Meyer Andersen champion of Denmark.

George Shipman, Bobby Echeverria and Guy Ricci each has one marker, Shipman acquiring his by placing fourth in the three-sevenths mile final last Sunday night. By his performance on that occasion the Brooklyn pedaler has served notice that he is at the height of his form, and should be a serious contender for the remainder of the title competition.

Honeman's shut-out in last week's semi-final was the first time in the memory of the most capacious cycling mind that the champion failed to go further. Another blank and his reign of three years would be at a virtual end, considering the riding of Engel, at present.

The amateurs also will compete in the third of their title series of five races, also at the one-half mile distance. The present champion, Mickey Franciose, is leading with ten points, Angelo DeBacco is second with four, and John Gervan and Ed Walters are tied for third, each with three.

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

When you look over the old sayings, and then squint around at things as they are now, it is easy to see that times have not changed much. But most of us, we figure that Grandpa was out of date and we kinda feel sorry for him 'cause he was so gullible.

And there is the old saying, that experience is the best teacher, and it looks like it, maybe also means, experience is the only teacher. Because here we are in 1937 listenin' with our mouths open, to fellers gettin' themselves elected and re-elected by tellin' us that they are stayin' awake nights just lookin' out after our interest and tryin' to make everything rosy for us. And it is just the same as when they was gettin' elected or re-elected 100 years ago.

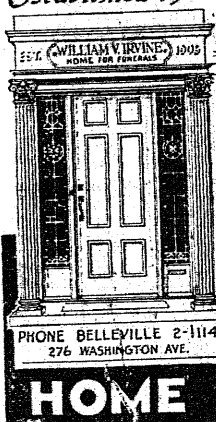

And we will wake up and the feller who was lookin' out for us, he will have the money in the bank and we will have the experience.

And other old saying like, a sucker is born every minute, it is O.K. too, in '37, unless maybe, it might be changed to read, every one-half minute.

Yours with the low down,
Jo Serra.

SWEAT AND TAXES

With the federal government ending its fiscal year, and Congress passing tax and appropriations bills, it is time to stop and take stock again. At the present moment, the federal and other governments are more than $54,000,000,000 in debt. Which means that each man, woman and child in the land owes $420. By the time that debt and the interest on it are paid off, it will reach the unbelievable sum of $106,000,000,000, or $840 per person.

Where does all that money come from? Well, first it comes from people who buy government bonds. The banks are loaded with bonds. No less an authority than Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, Secretary of the Treasury during the Wilson administration and, an outstanding authority on banking, says that if the value of those bonds was to drop substantially below par we would have a banking collapse of inconceivable magnitude.

The banks, of course, get the money from depositors who earn it in the sweat of their brows.

Now it is awfully nice to sit back and accept money from governments and think we don't have to pay for it. But we do. Some of us, perhaps think that the "temporary" nuisance taxes enacted in 1932 and just extended another two years to raise half a billion dollars a year don't affect us. But those taxes are collected from everybody who eats or wears clothes or lives under shelter. Just like all taxes are.

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes put it this way: "Taxes, when thought out in things and results, mean an abstraction of a part of the annual product for government purposes, and cannot mean anything else. Whatever form they take in their imposition, they must be borne by the consumer, that is, mainly by the working-men and fighting-men of the community. It is well that they should have this fact brought home to them, and not too much disguised in the form in which the taxes are imposed."

When you spend, you pay; when your government spends, you pay, too.

THE UPWARD PULL

The road to full recovery is a steep one. It takes teamwork to pull up it. Every time the horses pull in opposite directions, the climb is stopped.

To put it another way, recovery is like the ripples that spread across a still pool when you drop a rock in it. If you give a man a job, he is able to buy things that other men have to produce. That takes more jobs. The jobs eventually pile up one upon the other.

But there is something else that can happen. If you deprive a man of a job, he must, after his savings are gone, stop buying things he used to buy. And that deprives other men of jobs. That is what happens when strikes take jobs away from men. The reason most commonly mentioned is that the workmen should get more money.

That idea is sound to the extent that the more money you give to everybody, the better off everybody will be. There is, however, the important fact that the real value of that money—what it will buy—must not be depreciated or you gain nothing.

Let's take a look for a moment at the figures just compiled by Nathaniel H. Engle of the Department of Commerce Business Research and Industrial Service.

Engle finds, for example, that in the first three months of 1937, large corporations earned profits amounting to 80 per cent of what they earned in 1929. But factory payrolls had risen to 88 per cent of their 1929 level. Thus, the amount of money paid to workers is increasing much faster than profits. Which is just another way of saying that workers are getting an increasingly larger share of the national income.

If the worker's share is increased too rapidly, the increase can come from only one place—the consumer, who is himself a worker, pays. And your upward climb is stopped right there.

A JOB FOR HORATIUS

"If this government ever reaches a point where it controls the ownership and operation of steam railroad transportation, there is no economic interest in this country that is safe from the same kind and measure of control. Government regulation induces mediocrity enough, but government ownership and control... would present a problem of mediocrity that the public would finally begin to see, but too late to do anything about it." These words were spoken by H. A. Wheeler, president of the Railway Business Association.

The railroads are hard put to supply a prosperous public with comfortable and sufficient traveling accommodations. Drastic and inequitable regulation, excessive taxation and restrictive legislation have taken such a heavy toll of railroad resources that it is difficult for them to keep up with the normal development of our country. New equipment is being added daily, but during depression the railroads existed in a state of suspended animation. A formidable gulf of obsolescence was created that had to be filled before they could go ahead again on a sound path toward prosperity.

Replacing obsolete equipment, in addition to meeting the demands of the public, is no small job, when it has to be done in the face of unprecedentedly low rates, coupled with ever mounting operating costs, higher taxes, increasingly stringent regulation and the constant threat of government ownership (socialism) for the industry. Either the American railroads will be permitted to progress normally under the supervision of equitable regulatory laws, or further political hamstringing will eventually force them into bankruptcy and government ownership, at the expense of already groaning taxpayers.

Benefit Party

A garden card and game party for the benefit of the Girls' Friendly Society and the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Episcopal Church, will be held on Wednesday, afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Harvey W. Mumford and her sister, Mrs. Florence E. Smith. There will be awards and refreshments.

Snatches Purse

Mrs. Rose Cherin reported to police Wednesday a young man had struck her in the face and snatched her pocketbook as she entered the foyer of her apartment house, 11 Van Houten place, shortly after midnight Tuesday. The purse contained a $1 bill and some change.

THE TRAILER COMES OF AGE

(From an editorial in the Rotarian Magazine)

Some infants have a way of being born, doing a bit of crying, eating, growing, and going to school, then suddenly appearing in long trousers or skirts—completely grown up.

So it is with the trailer. Hardly had we become aware of it before this prodigious and precocious infant has come of age. A discussion of its problem of orientation to us—or ours to it—is, indeed, timely. What will happen if a considerable portion of a country's population turns gypsy? How can their equitable share of taxes be collected? How can their children be educated? Should communities provide trailer camps? What control should there be over the sanitation and social relations of camps, whether private or public?

Here is a community problem...one that already is acute in some communities and inevitable in others. Citizens might well give thought to it.

DANGER SIGNAL

During 1936 a significant trend was noted. In spite of returning prosperity, many American business and financial institutions lost stockholders—that is, people owning securities sold them. Experts have pointed out that among the principal reasons for stockholder timidity are "threats of adverse federal or state taxes and regulatory legislation, and uneasiness over the effect on earnings of labor troubles..."

Not long ago the president of the New York Stock Exchange pointed out the dangers inherent in overly stringent regulation. He emphasized that consumer demand is rapidly out-stripping industry's capacity to produce, and, unless industry is able to finance an expansion program through the widespread sale of securities, the country faces drastic inflation of prices.

Government has spent billions priming the pump of recovery. No further priming is needed. In fact, the pump threatens to burst under the strain of continued priming. Most needed now is a cooperative attitude of encouragement toward industry, because industry must continue the job of supplying America with everything from tooth brushes to locomotives. Billions spent for pump-priming will have been spent in vain if inequitable taxation and radical legislation are permitted to stifle the free flow of private capital into the much needed development and expansion of private industry.

Timidity of stockholders is a danger signal, indicating that the tide of regulation and taxation can engulf a healthy, budding prosperity.

THE POST OFFICE WON'T "TAKE SIDES?"

At the present time, the government is in the power business on a wide scale. It is proposed that this scale be immensely broadened in the future, with government plants operating in every section of the country.

In view of the government's action, through the post office department, in recent strikes, possible results of this are interesting and important.

The post office refused to deliver parcel post packages addressed to workers within a picketed steel plant on the grounds that it would not "take sides" in an industrial dispute. Suppose the government likewise supplied the electric power to such plants. With the mail precedent in view, could it not decline to deliver current? By supplying electricity it would enable men at work to continue at work and would be definitely "taking sides."

There is nothing far fetched in this. For the first time in our history, the post office has refused to deliver mail when it was possible to do so. Electric power is today the sole source of energy in the great bulk of industries of all kinds—without power, all operations automatically come to a stop. If the post office feels that the delivery of mail to a strike-bound plant shows prejudice in favor of one side, certainly the delivery of power would show prejudice to a far greater extent.

This little incident shows the staggering amount of control over all our lives and industries achieved by government when it controls and operates basic industries and services. Let government go far enough into business, and it will become the decisive factor in differences of all kinds, with the power to make or break any industry, any movement, any enterprise.

Takes Issue on Court Idea

Editor, News:

I beg to take issue with the eminent historian, James Truslow Adams on the question of packing the Supreme Court.

Every honored judge on that august bench was once appointed, and at the time of his appointment suffered the closest scrutiny of his character, record and opinions, to the end that the then President and Senate in whose hands the appointment lay, should assure themselves that no doctrine unapproved by them could find lodgment there. In the very process of appointment the Court has been packed in favor of the dominant school of political thought by the simple method of combing out all possible opposition. Can a court so packed render really impartial justice?

As to the bias of the appointing agents, I have not seen the time in our history when our government was not in the hands of financial power, packed against its people and in favor of its money-lenders. It started that way when Hamilton and his friends betrayed the Confederation and set up the Republic. Since then our government has been the instrument of the continued rule of vested interests, and one part of that instrument is our high court. I am far from proclaiming this as wrong or evil; I am merely maintaining that it is so. I think it inevitably woven into the very nature of government, and doubt whether a nation could endure on any other basis.

But time and conditions change, and law must change with them. The laissez-faire of the Nineteenth Century gave us the prosperity of 1928, and gave us equally the collapse of 1929. Its freedom, in the end, was freedom to beg or to starve. This is the liberty Mr. Adams wishes to see over a period of six months of ringing maintained. It is a liberty a good many of us could well do without. And it is this kind of liberty—the freedom of the few to destroy the nation in the satisfaction of their greed,—that the majority of the court are wrecking the Constitution to uphold.

Once before we had a ruler who refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good,—and once is enough.

It was also discovered that the young man had deliberately failed to report a period of six months of ringing

The BUSINESS LETTER

By MARTIN COOK

Despite the strikes that have been prevalent, during the first six months of the year, the reports now being issued by most corporations have been uniformly good. Many commentators are prophesying as good a record for the balance of the year.

Whether earnings on equities will keep pace with business activity remains to be seen as higher payrolls, taxes and possible increased cost of materials should tend to reduce the percentage of net earnings as compared with gross.

In his regular monthly letter, on conditions, Colonel Ayres, of the Cleveland Trust Co., notes a gain in business in spite of bad news in some quarters. Other periodical indices also point to a general advance in current activity.

The quarterly report of the American Tel. & Tel. Co. shows earnings of $2.34 a share and for the twelve months ending June 30th net income is estimated as being $10.20 compared with $7.41 last year. In the six months the net gain in telephones in use was $29,000.

The labor situation, though still clouded, is better than recently and has undoubtedly helped the forward movement.

Steel operations have made a good recovery from the recent low figure and are rapidly nearing 65 per cent of capacity.

Retail volume, in various lines, is up from 10 to 20 per cent.

New life insurance, for the first half of 1937 was 8.9 per cent more than in 1936.

June was the best month for Remington Rand Co. since 1929, sales being 30.4 per cent over June, 1936.

On account of the recent holiday freight traffic was lower. The decrease in car loadings amounting to 123,963. On the other hand passenger travel is extremely heavy. Reports of the leading roads reveal earnings well over last year's figure. In five months the N. Y. Central earned $1.19 a share against a deficit of $684,562 in 1936. At-hison also changed loss of $2,815,955 into a profit of $483,894, while the Reading Co., added about $1,000,- 000 to last years total. With the probability of the defeat of the Supreme Court bill the stock market became more active at, in some instances, higher prices, but later quieted to a considerable degree with quotations under the highs of the spurt.

The bond market has been quiet with a tendency to firmer prices.

The federal government reports tax collections for the fiscal year as being $1,132,295,725 more than the 1928-1929 boom figures. Income taxes paid by individuals were larger than those paid by corporations.

Editor's note—Questions pertaining to securities and investments addressed to Martin Cook in care of this paper will be answered promptly.

PUBLIC SERVICE

BELLOWING ABOUT BELLEVILLE

By JACOB LEVINE

A high and mighty New York cousin with stiff collar and polka dot tie once put it to us diggily:

"What a sleepy town you have here! No noise, no traffic, no commotion. Look, when I last visited you—which was two years ago—I noticed an angora cat snoozing there on that window sill, and I'll eat my hat if that very same cat isn't still sleeping on that very same window sill! Say, does a fellow by the name of Rip Van Wink—"

We cut him short. We were vastly insulted. And in a few piquant phrases or so we informed him of what a thriving, bustling metropolis we had—and what a dull, humdrum burg he had.

Salient facts poured down his throat—about broad Washington avenue; about smooth highways, about modern, up-to-date homes, about everything a real Bellevillite takes pride in.

He swallowed them, digested them, and then piped up with the inevitable "So what?"

And then... What kind of life did he lead? Did he belong to any clubs; any societies, any lodges?

No, he attended to his own affairs. Mr. Ginzberg and Mr. O'Brien went their ways and he went his own. An occasional movie or so, but that was all.

Oh... And did he think that was an emulative life to lead—a life of snubby noses, cold, penetrating greetings, pushing, crowding, slamming, too-busy-to-say-hello people? An occasional movie or so, but that was all.

Did he call that life? We didn't think so. We had other interpretations of that word. And we told him so.

In Belleville life is associated with friendship. Our lives wouldn't amount to a pinch of salt if it weren't for that so-called "next door neighbor." With him we form a life-long friendship. He is our friend in happiness and in sorrow. It is he to whom we go for advice in grave matters. It is he to whom we go when Junior emits the initial "da-da," expecting from him his hearty laugh and jovial remark. It is the neighbor that forms an integral part of our lives.

And then, talk about clubs and lodges and such; they are also a part of us. To mention a few, we have the Lions Club, Craftsmen's Club, the V. F. W., the Elks, the American Legion, the Progress Club—these and numerous, numerous other organizations are the medium for binding friendships and stimulating cooperation throughout the town. One becomes vastly educated by these affiliations. One comes to know doctors, lawyers, plumbers, teachers, tea salesmen, commissioners, and people in every walk of life.

The mayor and commissioners are not awful, incredulous creatures—usually depicted as being bedecked with horns—who, now and then, in moments of sincere devotion to the public weal, lift you out of the gutters with a condescending, wave-of-the-hand. They have horns, yes. Automobile horns that too you a pleasant "Good Morning," that whisk you out of your day-dreaming, motion you to the curb, and start you off on an hour-or-so confidential talk about troubles at home, or "Is Johnnie married yet?" or about your difficulties in the real estate business. A hearty slap-on-the-back sends you off, a new man, all-conquering, all powerful muttering to yourself, "A fine man. Mayor Williams."

They have horns, yes... In Belleville we live a good, wholesome life—not a secluded existence in a four-room apartment on the eleventh floor. We (the so-called hermits) live in a spacious world, wide-awake, energetic, citizens; you (the so-called "real American citizens") live in a stuffy, close world that terminates when you step out of the elevator. Just two days of that sort of life and we would suffer from a severe case of claustrophobia—if you know what we mean.

We live! Please note: High and mighty New York cousin with stiff collar and polka dot tie is moving to Belleville next week. Can't blame him, can you?

Newark and East Orange Post To Have Part In Pre-Convention Drum Corps Competition

Twelve Nationally Known American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps Will Participate in Contest

The pre-convention drum and bugle corps competition committees of Newark Post and the drum and bugle corps of East Orange Post, American Legion, have filed for incorporation for the contest to be held September 19, at 2 o'clock at the Newark Schools Stadium. James A. Burns, general chairman, with Robert W. Graul, James S. Lyons, Anthony J. Minisi, Claude E. Dwyer, William J. Doyle, Lawrence C. Knapp, Ross E. Amos, Charles A. DeWitt, and Thomas J. Dungan are serving as trustees of the corporation group.

Twelve nationally known American Legion drum and bugle corps, who are champions or finalists in national competitions, will participate in the contest. Prize awards will total $1600. Profits derived from the pre-national competitions will be divided equally between both posts for their hospitalization and welfare work for which they have taken an active part. Other Essex County posts and auxiliaries are assisting in the program.

W. Leonard Stearns, Newark, and Major Charles E. Russell, East Orange, announced the cooperation of the various industrial concerns, hotels and civic bodies in Essex municipalities. Several Essex County mayors have offered their cooperation and will also issue proclamations designating September 19 as "Essex County American Legion Day." Cooperation by Newark Airport and railroads in this national project has also been advanced by these bodies. Several officials in Western and Pacific coast states have pledged their support. County Commander William F. Albers and Mrs. Florence Braun, county president, with post commanders and auxiliary heads will serve with Colonel Franklin D'Olier and Charles A. DeWitt on the reception committee. D'Olier, vice president of the Prudential Insurance Company, was first national commander of the American Legion. Assistance and hospitality to the 60,000 legionnaires expected to pass through Newark and Essex will be arranged by the committees. It is expected that more than 500,000 legionnaires will attend New York national convention September 20 to 23.

Commonwealth Edison Post drum and bugle corps, Chicago, national champions of the American Legion will be an entrant. The corps comprising 48 men has attended all national conventions except Portland Oregon, in 1933. The corps which won the national championship last year at Cleveland has placed once for second and fourth positions. Three they have finished in third place. The corps by winning the national championship will be honored by this right to head the national convention parade in New York. The corps uniforms are of white serge and styled after the uniforms of the United States Cavalry.

BATTLE AT NUTLEY 'DROME

Crocky Rawding Out To Better Standing

"Runner-Up" Blues Causes Him To Hunt for New Tune

Those "runner-up" blues he has been singing all these years has Crocky Rawding on the hunt for a new tune. The motorcycle racing star from Bloomfield threatens to blow those sour notes out and consequently swing into a victory march.

Next Tuesday night at the Hinchliffe City Stadium in Paterson, Rawding is due for one of the busiest nights of his career and he intends to serve definite notice at that time that he is through with this runner-up habit. With a heavy night of racing scheduled for the checker-helmeted ace, Crocky aims to score a clean sweep in this show and thus launch his drive for the top of the heap.

Rawding has been running second in the championships every single year and is so thoroughly fed up with that niche that he is prepared to gamble on all-or-nothing this season. Next Tuesday night when he sends his machine around the Paterson track, he will be firing the first gun of his campaign to beat every other rider in the motorcycle ranks to the finish line.

Crocky is prepared for his most arduous night of competition on Tuesday as he steps into a lineup of grueling races. If the veteran broadsiding wizard can come through that competition unscathed, he feels certain he will not be stopped the rest of this season.

The best of the motorcycle men will be out there for him to hurdle on the Paterson track however and the hard riding Rawding will have to be at top shape to emerge out front. Jimmy Gibb, Bo Lismann, George Matheson, Lou Wilson, Ray Tausner, Don Smith, Joe Lardino, Palmer Tamburro, Dutch Muller, Pee-wee Cullum and all the rest of the top-notchers are set for the competition.

The races will start at 8:45 P. M. with the weekly "Opportunity Night" awards again being distributed.

Senators Win Two Week-End Games

Dispose of Slovak Club And Belleville Shamrocks

The Belleville Senators won two close contests over the week-end. In the first game they defeated the Slovak Americans by a score of 2-1. In the second fray, they defeated the Belleville Shamrocks 5-4 in thirteen innings, making a record of twenty wins and five losses for the Senators.

In the first game, S. Lukowiak hit a double into right field, scoring George Freed with what was eventually the winning run, in the seventh inning.

In the second game, a pitcher's battle developed between Dan Burns of the Shamrocks and Bernard Barnett of the Senators. A ninth inning homer by LeRoy Effner tied the score 4-4. Barnett won his own game by a long homer to center field from the thirteenth inning.

"Bus" Gauspohl of Belleville High fame played first base for the Senators. The Senators say they owe a vote of thanks to "Pat" Fratella for umpiring both games, in which there was no fault-finding.

Local Woman Disproves Theory That Blue Jay Can't Be Raised in Captivity

Miss Beatrice Riggott Has Not Only Successfully Raised "Ozzie" But Taught Him Many Things Strange to Jays

According to the State Audubon Society, it is impossible to raise a blue jay in captivity. This has been definitely refuted by Miss Beatrice Riggott of 5 Bell street who, not only has successfully raised "Ozzie," her pet jay, but has taught him many things that are totally strange to the nature of these birds.

Through constant association with the love birds that are also in the home of this nature lover, Ozzie has learned to warble in time with the rhythmic song of these, nature's most romantic birds.

A most disconcerting habit of this pet is to suddenly light on the head of a neighbor or perhaps a passerby and immediately begin a demand for worms or other dainty delicacies of a true feathered gourmand. One of his recent victims was a gentleman whose cranial covering had, long since vanished and Ozzie had great difficulty in securing a foothold on his head. The gentleman being somewhat startled attempted to brush the bird off but Ozzie only dug in deeper. After much fuss he was finally dislodged from his perch and he returned to his home followed by the irate comments of a man with a well scratched head.

The career of "Ozzie the warbler" began like all of his feathered cousins, in a nest where he had paternal guidance and supervision. A cat soon put an end to this domestic bliss and Ozzie was the only survivor. Miss Riggott picked the little mite of skin and pin feathers up from the driveway and brought him into the warmth of her home last spring. In order to know if there was any hope of saving her new found friend, she contacted the Audubon Society who informed her that there was no chance of his survival. Undaunted by this edict she proceeded to bestow on Ozzie the care that a careful mother gives to her sickly baby. Soon the little fellow was chirping gayly but weakly for his daily rations of chopped meat bread and almost any other food he could fill his tiny crop. On one occasion Miss Riggott despaired of the life of her blue jay because of the fact that his legs had become paralyzed. A diet of milk and whiskey saved Ozzie. This condition was apparently caused by a deficiency in diet which was remedied by a combination of ice cream and cuttle fish.

During these hot summer days Ozzie can be seen flying with his fellow jays. When it comes time for dinner and supper he comes to the back door and warbles for entrance. He sits on the shoulder of his mistress during the evenings and carries on lengthy conversations with her and her two dogs. The fact that he is alive and happy in his foster home is a great tribute to the care given to his feeding and training. The dogs are his constant companions and protectors. According to Miss Riggott the success of her raising of this jay has no parallel.

Bosses Won't Hire People with Halitosis (BAD BREATH)

People who get and hold jobs keep their breath agreeable

With the best to choose from these days, employers favor the person who is most attractive. In business life as in the social world, halitosis (unpleasant breath) is considered the worst of faults.

Unfortunately everybody suffers from this offensive condition at some time or other—many more regularly than they think. Fermentation of food particles skipped by the tooth brush is the cause of most cases. Decaying teeth and poor digestion also cause odors.

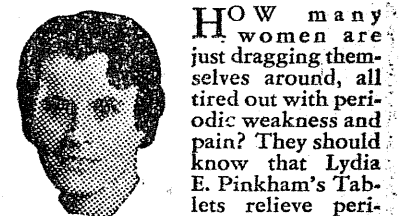

The quick, pleasant way to improve your breath is to use Listerine, the quick deodorant, every morning and every night.

Listerine kills fermentation, a major cause of odors, and overcomes the odors themselves. Your breath becomes sweet and agreeable. It will not offend others.

If you value your job and your friends, use Listerine, the safe antiseptic, regularly. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo.

Galento-Ettore Battle at Velodrome Monday

Roly-Poly Orange Iceman Promises To Be In 'Best Shape' for Philadelphian

"Babe" Culnan, Matchmaker, To Back Up Bout With Outstanding Preliminaries—Proceeds Go To Milk Fund

The most important heavyweight fight staged in New Jersey in the past five years will be presented at the Nutley Velodrome Monday night when Tony Galento, the roly-poly orange iceman, boxes Al Ettore of Philadelphia.

Proceeds of this gala show will be turned over to the Newark Milk Fund jointly sponsored by the Carl Flink Association and the Sunday Morning Club of Newark.

Ettore and Galento took a day off Thursday from their training activities and traveled to Sea Girt where they were the personal guests of Governor Harold G. Hoffman at a "Governor's Day" celebration. A beautiful two foot cup, the gift of the governor, will be personally awarded the winner by Hoffman after the fight.

The winner of this twelve-round "battle of the bulldogs" will have in prospect of a "heavyweight contest of major importance" in New Jersey later this summer, according to Abe J. Greene, state athletic commissioner of New Jersey. This match will be given the "winner if a proper performance is staged at the Nutley Velodrome July 26" Greene said.

Two-Ton Tony Galento, generally recognized as the New Jersey state heavyweight champion, promised Commissioner Greene that he would be in the best shape of his career for this bout, the most important under the present commission.

The roly-poly "Orange Nightstick" is working out daily at the Park View gymnasium on Bloomfield avenue, Newark, as he prepares for the Ettore fight. Fistic critics who have watched him in action aver that he will be in the best condition of his career.

His opponent, Ettore, who is managed by Lew Tendler, former Philadelphia challenger for the lightweight title is already rounding into shape, having started training for the Galento joust some weeks back.

Eagles Hand Defeat To Oxford Tigers

Bob "Lefty" Johnson Displays Rare Form Against Newarkers

The Belleville Eagles, behind the swell pitching of Bob "Lefty" Johnson and some timely hitting by his teammates Sunday defeated the Oxford Tigers at Pittsburgh Oval, Newark, 12-4.

Johnson, who allowed but five hits and fanned twelve Tigers, was in rare form. He was never in trouble. After four scoreless innings for both teams the Eagles jumped on Rathford for four hits and six runs, when Duvu doubled, Bracaglia was safe on an error, Johnson and Gonnello walked forcing in a run. Krupinski singled scoring another and after Tobia struck out and Goglia fled to left, Caruso came through with a timely double scoring Gonnello and Johnson. Costello's double scored Krupinski and Caruso with the final runs of the inning. The Eagles, behind Johnson, were never headed after this rally.

Batting honors went to Krupinski with three hits, Goglia and Bracaglia with two. Fruit of the Newarkers had two, one a triple. Every Eagle who played scored at least one run apiece.

Sunday morning at Belwood Park the Belleville Eagles will cross bats with the Trinity Y. M. C. A. of Newark. An afternoon game is pending.

Matchmaker "Babe" Culnan of the Dreamland Sporting Club of Newark, which is staging the show for the Milk Fund says that he will back up the main attraction of the Nutley fight show with outstanding preliminary features. The Galento-Ettore encounter is expected to attract a gate of between $20,000 and $25,000, the largest in years in the skelter state.

Headquarters for the fight have been established at the Safety Service Station, 48 William street, Newark. Tickets priced at from $1 to $3 plus tax may be obtained at Tony Galento's Tavern, 24 South Day street, Orange, and Lew Tendler's Tavern, Broad and Locust streets, Philadelphia, and may be reserved by phoning Market 3-5664, Mitchell 2-9231, and Bigelow 2-9449.

Tri-City Celebrates Fifth Anniversary

Motorcycle Races Have Shown Steady Growth In Appeal

UNION—The fifth anniversary of Tri-City Stadium, America's leading motorcycle track, will be observed simultaneously with the birthday of the sport in New Jersey here Wednesday night.

Tri-City, with Andy Watts, present manager, at its helm, opened its bright career July 26, 1933. In an incomplete stadium, 5,000 fans overflowed the seating capacity of 2,000 in the grand stands and sat on dirt piles to see their first broadsiding thrills. Before the 1933 campaign had ended the attendances were built up to nearly 10,000. The sport has continued to grow and now is the most successful regularly conducted competitive athletic contest in the state.

Veterans of the original field will be honored by sharing the featured events on Wednesday's gala program. Goldy Restall won the scratch final of the 1933 meet and defeated George Matheson in a match race. Palmer Tamburro won the handicap event and Crocky Rawding defeated Ken Verrill in another match. With the exception of Verrill, all still are in competition. Matheson was injured last week and will be unable to take active part in the festivities, but will be on hand to watch them.

Rawding, Restall, Tamburro and Matheson still are ranking Class A stars. The first-named rides from scratch and was the winner of the 1937 Golden Wheel final. Restall has held the Eastern championship twice since and Tamburro and Matheson have been riding better this season than since the inaugural year.

Stars have come and gone during the five years but never was the field as powerful as this season's. All the present crack riders and stars of bygone seasons will be on hand. Jimmy Gibb, who began his racing at Tri-City in 1934 and won the Eastern championship there in 1935, will re-join the field after spending the past week in New England.

Bo Lisman, Jow Udisky, Dick Peters, Don Smith, Field Helgason, Jack Farr, Don Nazari, Bud Leaycraft and other competing aces will race. Such former favorites as Fred Tos-

Triangles Idle Due To Disappointment

Can't, Henry Seick, Dutch Schautz, Joe Lardino, Peter Andrews, Bill Restall, Fred Marsh, Wallie Hauber and others will be invited to the celebration.

The Belleville Triangles remained idle over the weekend due to a disappointment of the Young Men's Holy Name Society of Harrison to appear at Capitol Field for a scheduled game.

The Triangles will travel to the Knights of Columbus Stadium, Orange, Sunday to try to win their thirteenth game of the season. The local boys will oppose the Degnan A. C. of that city. The Triangles have a nine game winning streak.

The Triangles have September 26 open and would like to hear from the Belleville Senators and Shamrocks. For game write to G. Zoppa, 34 Roosevelt avenue.

Maranville Thinks Royals Are Tops

Declares Vitt and Bears Are Over-rated and Lucky

Manager Walter "Rabbit" Maranville of the Montreal Royals is on the war path because his outfit is not leading the race. The frey little skipper thinks his club is the best in the loop and that the Bears of Manager Oscar Vitt are overrated and lucky. As the Bruins continue to win the blood pressure of Maranville has risen and caused the aggressive leader to go into seclusion at nights seeking a plan to halt the Bears. He now has a definite plan and intends to put it into operation this week when his club clashes with the Bears at Montreal. But what it is, the Rabbit has not revealed, but the Montreal fans are convinced their leader will knock the props from under the Bruins in the majority of the five games.

Vitt and his Bruins know the Royals are dangerous and that the Rabbit is gunning for them. But colorful OI Os has some plans of his own to counteract anything Maranville may attempt to pull. "Our powerful hitting club and staff of hurlers will halt the Royals," was the only comment Vitt would make after hearing of Maranville's plans. As both the skippers are cagey individuals, the series between the Royals and the Bears which began Thursday and ends Sunday in Montreal, should be the classic of the present campaign. It is evident the fans of Montreal are keyed up, for it is reported the advance sale for the games have been exceedingly large. Maranville thinks his staff of pitchers, Harry Smythe, Lauri Myllykangas, Si Johnson, Marvin Duke and Americus Polli are far superior to Donald, Beggs, Sundra, Tamulis, Fallon, Russo and Kemp Wicker. On the other hand the Bears think they will pick up ground while in Montreal and the only man they fear is Gus Dugas, the hard hitting Frenchman, who has always been poison.

After leaving Montreal, the Bears hop down to Rochester for three days for a series with the Rochester Red Wings. And here again there is natural rivalry and the Wings always do their best against the Bruins. The Rochester fans, along with those of Buffalo have cried the loudest about the Bears and circulated the report "Stop the Bears." But that is a difficult task at the way the Bruins are galloping forward to the flag. Rochester fans like those of other cities are comparing the present edition of the Bears with the 1932 team. The 1937 outfit is called the strongest in minor leagues in the past 15 years. Vitt who has been in baseball for years will make no comparison for he did not see the 1932 team but admits his present team is the strongest and the greatest minor league outfit he has been in his career.

The Bears return home Friday, July 30, for a series with Toronto. Radio Appreciation Day at Ruppert Stadium will be celebrated Tuesday night, August 3. Buffalo will be here. The Bears will play their annual exhibition game with the Binghamton Triplets, at Binghamton, Thursday night, July 29. Catcher Buddy Rosar is considered the best right handed hitter in the league. Joe Gordon is fond of detective stories. Steve Sundra has an interest in old coins. Jimmy Gleeson is the greatest sight seeing player on the club. Having flown from Newark to Buffalo, Secretary Kennedy has become an air enthusiast.

Next Union Races Scheduled August 1

8,500 Fans Attended Last Week's Race Under Floodlights

UNION—The next program of A. A. A. auto races will be held at Union Speedway, most modern oiled dirt track in America Sunday night, August 1. The success of the meet held last Sunday, when 8,500 fans thrilled to a speed session under the powerful floodlight system, resulted in another week-end card being arranged.

The A. A. A. officials yesterday granted Manager Andy Watts' request for the date and plans were pushed to have the strongest field of the season seek qualifications in time trials which will start at 7 o'clock. The first of six racing events will get underway at 8:30.

The first three finishers in the last meet already have signed entry blanks among eleven received by Watts. Wild Bill Holmes of Hoboken, winner, Jack Moon of Garfield, who finished second, and John Ulesky of Newark, third, will be back.

Holmes and Ulesky are involved in a torrid battle for leadership in the Union Speedway gold cup point standings, only sanctioned A. A. A. point rating in the East. Ulesky, by virtue of placing in the money in each of the four meets held this season, is leading with 23 points.

Holmes is a close second, having gained 20 credits by winning half of the point finals. Prominent as a mid-get racing star, Holmes is making his way to top rating in big car racing in his first serious attempt at it. Wild Bill drives a powerful Cragar which has an Indianapolis motor under its hood.

Moon also moved into the thick of the cup point fight with sixteen points. The Garfield dare-devil is one of the outstanding younger drivers in action and is enjoying his most successful season.

The other entries include Doc Keim, Allentown veteran, who supplied many thrills at the July 18 meet, Honey Purick of Long Island, promising Tommie Tomlinson of Philadelphia, John Matera of Elizabeth, Len Perry of Madison, Bert Ross of Trenton and John Moretti of Atlantic City, the college-bred speed demon.
