

Seen About Town

Not many persons know this, but John F. Coogan, Sr., of 118 Adelaide street, was the Babe Ruth of the Little Giants, the first professional team to play for Newark.

William Dunworth of 27 Bremond street, a retired letter carrier, is said to walk twice weekly to Verona to visit old cronies.

Miss Madelyn Sidley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sidley of 341 DeWitt avenue, has concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde.

Harvey Brumbaugh, 100 Little street, was mentioned in Tuesday's edition of a city daily as a member of the staff of the Mohican Mirror, publication of Camp Mohican, a boy scout camp, at Blairtown, N. J. Mr. Brumbaugh is also camp cook.

Peter Deekenbach, son of Rev. and Mrs. Peter Rittie Deekenbach, of the Christ Episcopal Church, is at Camp Kimesha, Y. M. C. A. camp at Andover.

Thomas W. Fleming won two "ten-gallon" hats at a rodeo in Denver, Colorado, in which he rode a horse.

"Sugar" Matt caught a twenty-seven pound bluefish near Sandy Hook a few days ago, and gave a slice of the fish to Joseph Salmon. While eating the fish, a bone became caught in Mr. Salmon's throat, necessitating a trip to the hospital, where the bone was removed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thierer, 204 Jorammon street, are at their summer home at Rumson. According to pictures taken recently of Mrs. Thierer on the lawn of their summer home, we believe that she is taking up aesthetic dancing seriously.

Miss Mae O'Brien of 64 Cleveland street, and Miss Mary Grimley of Dow street took first place in exhibition diving at a recent meet at the Eighth avenue pool, Belmar.

The Shillalah Club of Belleville will put on a show at Spring Lake Motor and Yacht Club Saturday, August 28. Those who will entertain include Miss Greta Kinneally and Miss Jean Cogan, who will sing a duet; Miss Katherine Donahue and William Brady, who will put on a dancing act, and John Roberts and James Leonard, who will do acrobatics.

The Grasshopper Club last Wednesday night held a championship game at euchre between Peter Deighan and William "Pidgie" Dunn on one side, and Michael Hanley and George Haggerty on the other.

Matthew J. Sheehan reported that the rear seat of his brand new Buick was stolen while he was parked in front of Mullins' morgue last week. He is now examining the backs of all new Buicks looking for his seat.

Arthur Clark, clerk in the tax department of the Town Hall, is worrying where he is going to spend his vacation, since he rented his bungalow at Lavalette, not thinking beforehand that he would need a place to spend his summer vacation.

James Dunn, 6 Smith street, has a hard time keeping his car polished to the degree which he desires. We wouldn't care to vouch for this, but they say that he has a cover for his car in his garage and that he wears out two or three chaemois every month, and they also say that no matter what time he goes home at night, he carefully wipes the car off.

Matt Sheehan and Lawrence Keenan entertained at the Molly Pitcher Inn, Red Bank, singing "The Merry-Go-Round Broke Down" recently.

William Friel, head clerk in the Water Department at the Town Hall, wishes the calendar changed to eight days in the week instead of seven so that he would have enough time to keep all his dates.

A rock garden of excellent design in natural planting may be found in the rear of the home of William Hunt of 377 Union avenue.

The Charles Parrillo Association held a fishing party to Sandy Hook last Sunday. Joseph Gonella of 62 Wallace street took first prize with a catch of an eight-pound bluefish. Tony Veneer of 1 Wallace street placed second with a snare of a four-pound fluke. Three members did a little "chumming." They were John Lanza, William Foster and Robert Gonella.

John Morey, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Morey, was a partner in winning a doubles match at the game of horseshoes at Indian Lake. He will enter the singles match this weekend.

Dr. Barker Wonders How, When and Where He Is Going To Collect $75 Bill for Damages

Water Main Recently Broke Under Sidewalk Near Bank, Water Seeping Under Ground to His Cellar, Damaging Articles There

Dr. J. B. Barker, optometrist, 140 Washington avenue, near the First National Bank, is wondering when the town is going to reimburse him to the extent of $75 for damage caused to articles in his cellar when a water main broke on town property recently flooding the cellar for three days.

Dr. Barker claims a large electric sign, valued at $195, was ruined, as were two expensive rugs and a trunk containing window displays. The water leak was discovered Saturday morning, May 29, and due to the week-end holiday was not repaired until the following Tuesday, says Dr. Barker, adding that meantime the water continued to rise in his cellar up to the first floor beams.

Dr. Barker took up the matter with Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan, who passed it along to Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan who, in turn, reported to the Town Commission. The latter group, it is said, has rejected payment on the ground it would be "setting a precedent." This occurred last week after the matter had failed of discussion once because "Mr. Sheehan wasn't present" and again because "Mr. Keenan was absent."

All in all this $75 claim has been given the run-around for two months and Mr. Barker is upset about it. He feels that precedent or no precedent the fault lies at the doorstep of the town, especially since the leak was permitted to go on over the week end.

The main broke under the sidewalk near the curb, says Mr. Barker, adding, "I would not have known it for days if my next door neighbor had not told me his cellar was flooded and asked me the condition of mine. The water just seeped through the ground. A plumber did look at the leak Saturday but it wasn't repaired until Tuesday by the town. It was certainly the fault of the town or the town officials would not have repaired the job. I like to live peacefully with my friends and neighbors and co-operate with town officials, but I can't understand why this matter is not cleared up as it should be. I have actually underestimated the value of damage. The rugs for instance each cost me considerably more than the $75 damage placed on everything that was ruined. I had intended erecting my sign about this time and now I can't. I have to have it repaired and refinished due to the damage from the water. It is a beauty, too."

Local Man Hurt in Accident Center

Two Burned Putting Out Fire at Spot of Later Crash

Thomas Donnelly of 735 Springdale avenue, East Orange, and Michael Adubato of 20 Park street, Orange, suffered burns of the hands Sunday night in aiding in putting out a fire in an automobile in Pompton turnpike, Cedar Grove. The auto is owned by George Howard of 120 Springfield avenue, Newark.

Donnelly and Adubato were helping another motorist get his car back on the road, a new section of the highway along which the shoulders have not been completed, when Howard's car took fire.

Pasquale Biondi of 89 Cedar Hill avenue, was injured slightly soon afterward when his car left the road and struck a pole on the same stretch of highway.

'Twas Candy for the Cops But Nary a Prize Fell

"It's a gyp!" How often have you heard this remark on games of chance, punch boards, various lottery tickets, or what have you.

Well, sir, the cops are convinced there is no Santa Claus.

Tuesday a representative of a vending machine company asked permission of Police Chief Spatz to place his machines in town. For a penny they eject six candy-coated peanuts and if you are lucky a prize. By investing a nickel the customer can receive five times as many peanut candies and an equal number of chances of winning a prize.

The cops invested pennies—unsuccessfully so far as prizes were concerned. They did enjoy the candies, though.

Belleville News Foreman Gains Reputation As National Radio Amateur of the Air

Ted Heiman of Franklin Avenue Has Followed a Hobby That Is Recurrent in Experiencing Thrills Found on Short Waves

Amateur radio proves to be such an interesting hobby to thousands of persons throughout the world that one finds the short wave frequencies assigned to such operation covered with signals from these stations effecting contacts with other stations in the handling of messages, friendly chats and other means that this medium affords. While most of the stations are at fixed locations, usually located at the home of the owner, there are some that will be found operating on boats, in automobiles and even airplanes. Such an enthusiast is Ted Heiman of 471 Franklin avenue, this town, who may be found, in his spare time, engaged in constructing a portable phone transmitter and receiver unit for his automobile for operation on the five meter band.

Having experienced successful operation of such a portable station a few years ago, Heiman is rebuilding the unit incorporating several recently developed features together with adapting it to his present automobile. The mobile station is expected to work stations throughout the state while the car is in motion and from fixed locations of high altitude stations from other states will be worked. A favorite parking place for such work in this state is at the foot of the monument at High Point Park. Heiman has worked stations in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania from this point.

Heiman, operator of W2GCZ, normally confines his activity on the amateur bands to 40-meter telegraphy. Since this frequency is internationally assigned to amateurs of all countries, contacts all over the world are possible. To date Heiman has worked all continents with the exception of Asia which total twenty-two foreign countries. Generally the contacts are just a friendly chat with a mutual exchange of remarks regarding signal strength, weather conditions and equipment being used.

Besides ragchewing, Heiman occasionally handles messages from other stations, either as an intermediate station to their destination or in delivering them to whom they are addressed. Usually messages are handled through an organized network of stations which relay the messages to their destinations from key points at a scheduled time. On one particular incident, a New Year's Eve, Heiman succumbed to the urge to turn on his receiver before beginning to celebrate the new year, and while listening

Local Truck Driver Held in New York

Milk Truck Ran Over and Killed Man There Saturday

Arraigned on a technical charge of homicide Sunday in Felony Court, Louis Eisenberg, 49, who gave his address as 38 Jorammon street, was held in $500 bail for a hearing Tuesday in Homicide Court, New York. Bail was set by Magistrate William Farrell.

Eisenberg was the driver of a milk truck which Saturday night ran over and instantly killed William Bowry, Negro, 58, of 330 East 23rd street. Bowry stumbled and fell under a rear wheel of the truck.

Safety Department Measures

Director Gerard of the Public Safety Department desires to acquaint citizens with certain arrangements recently made in order to further safeguard the property and lives of Belleville residents through the police department in the efficient control of traffic on our streets and highways.

Additional warning signs have recently been placed at a number of intersections, notably at Union and Belleville avenues, so that the town now has 345 protective markers that have cost from $1.25 up to $14 each. Beside these our most dangerous crossings have a total of eleven traffic signal lights with from two to four posts of lights each at an installation cost of $800 each. All these are kept in a high state of efficiency by Chief Signal Officer William E. Dunleavy.

In addition the director has recommended the placing by the county, on its roads, of additional traffic lights at the entrance to the Passaic River bridge, at the junction of Mill street and Union avenue, Franklin street near the railroad crossing, and where Jorammon street and Franklin avenue intersect.

The police department recently affiliated with the Newark Safety Council and there are several unofficial observers of traffic violations in town as well as the Newark, Irvington, and East Orange observers who operate here.

Police Recorder Everett B. Smith now suspends for varying periods, the licenses of all drivers found guilty of major traffic law violations, and since he began, this practice has taken over 120 such.

The Capitol Theater will shortly put on the film "The Devil Drives" starring Richard Dix, thus endeavoring to bring home to careless and reckless drivers by this visible demonstration what such driving means.

The arrangement of the police department has been changed so that where heretofore there have been three motorcycle men, there is now a traffic squad of six officers who will provide a continuous twenty-four hour patrol, so that there will always be two cycle men on the streets at all times.

With all these protective arrangements in force Director Gerard feels that no stone has been left unturned to provide the greatest possible degree of safety for the property and lives of Belleville people.

ing in, heard a West Coast station asking for contact with a station in the vicinity of New York City.

Answering the call, Heiman found the California station had just received a string of thirty-four messages from the Philippines. All of them were from soldiers on duty there and were addressed to friends and relatives back home. By the time the messages had all been copied and checked, then phoned throughout the Metropolitan area, or written out on cards to be mailed, the New Year had got off to a good start, without any welcoming by Heiman. But the messages must have added to the enjoyment of the evening of those receiving them.

When the first contingent of local CCC youths was sent to Western camps Heiman kept scheduled with several of the operators accompanying them and was able to relay many messages for the boys—mostly asking that some small luxury be sent them. He also handled messages from a soldier stationed at Fort Clayton, Canal Zone, to his wife on Long Island. This traffic stopped when the soldier was transferred back to the states.

First licensed in 1932 Heiman has the home station in an attractively finished room in the cellar. The 40-meter transmitter is built up rack and panel style now using a 203A tube in the final stage. A communications receiver and field strength meter are also part of the station equipment.

Burack Enters Race In Livingston

Local Engineer Seeks Place On Township Committee

William D. Burack, an engineer, of Wallace and Tiernan Company, announces he has filed a petition for the Republican nomination for the Livingston Township Committee in the September primaries. Burack's entrance into the field makes it a three-man fight for the two vacancies created by the expiration of the terms of Committee Chairman Spurr and Committeeman Mitschele.

Spurr and Mitschele, candidates for re-election, have been endorsed by the Republican Club and Spurr also has the support of the Citizens' League.

Burack, who has never before held public office, has been a resident of the township eight years. He was born in Newark. A graduate of New York University he is an engineer with Wallace and Tiernan. He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Water Works Association. He lives at 90 Syracuse avenue.

Children Rescued From Perilous Perch

Two and Four-Year-Olds Nonchalantly Climb on Fire Escape

Drama! Near tragedy! Suspense! Horror! All these were packed into a situation that developed on the fire escape of the apartment owned by Robert McGough Sr., of 6 Division avenue, last Saturday.

Two children, two and four years old, climbed out on the fire escape and were saved from possible death, or permanent injury, by the alertness of the firemen of Headquarters Company and Motorcycle Officer Donald Smith. Patricia Byrnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Byrnes of 17 Linden avenue, and her cousin, Joan McGough, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew McGough of the Division avenue address, were the two children involved. They forced open the screen in the apartment of the McGoughs while the parents were talking and climbed out on the fire escape.

Patricia, not satisfied with being on the second floor of the fire escape, climbed to the third floor, where a misstep would have meant a headlong fall to the cement sidewalk below. Joan, after looking in Mrs. Telfair's window, remained content to sit on the floor of the fire escape, calmly reading a book that she had brought with her, while her baby cousin was in imminent danger on the floor above. Jim Dunleavy, of the fire department, called out first for the children to get down, but they paid him no heed. Then Don Smith, of the police department, who happened along at the time, ascended the fire escape and rescued the children.

Bellet Would Probe "Veterans" Licenses

Local Lawyer Believes a "Racket" Is Afoot Here

An investigation into what he believes to be "a racket in veterans' peddlers licenses" was asked by Public Safety Director Gerard Tuesday by Theodore M. Bellet, local lawyer.

Bellet said that he will seek an investigation by Gerard and perhaps will carry the matter before the Town Commission.

For several months the Town Commission has been besieged with applications by veterans for permits to canvass and peddle. A state law requires the commission to issue a license to any veteran holding a state veterans' license.

According to Bellet licenses obtained by veterans are being turned over to non-veterans for use.

Broad Trolley Locks Horns with Truck

Half Hour Delay Given Workers Until Shover Comes Along

Forty persons, bound for work, were delayed a half hour Wednesday morning when a truck was in collision with an eastbound Broad line trolley car at Clinton and Badger avenues, Newark. The trolley was unable to continue. It was pushed to the Belleville car barns by another trolley, which arrived a half hour later. The truck, owned by the East Trucking Co. of 157 Ridge street, was operated by H. G. Dodge of 128 Pennsylvania avenue. The trolley operator was Alexander Beattie of 41 Hornblower avenue, this town.

WRIT BITS by John E. Smith

STEADY WINS
 You need not be over-quick,
 Far ahead the contest lies;
 "Steady" always does the trick,
 And it wins for us the prize.

While yourself you must exert,
 Be prepared for a long race;
 There's naught final in a spurt,
 Persevere, but set your pace.

Lay foundations strong and deep,
 All precautions needed take;
 Guard yourself—fall not asleep,
 Keep alert, and wide awake.

Over night a mushroom heads,
 But as quickly disappears;
 But as stalwart oak that spreads,
 Lasting several hundred years.

He who breasts the wind and tide,
 Has for victory a chance;
 Not by ease to port we glide,
 We must strive, thru circumstance.

"Steady" wins the plodders' prize,
 Perseverance surely fits,
 For the life beyond that lies,
 Who in this life never quits.

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

Mamas, sometimes papas, who think it correct and hot stuff, to let their 4 year old off-spring do just about anything that pops into his head, you know right away that they been readin' a book by maybe some bachelors, on how to raise children.

And when you see this kind of youngster when he or she is 16, and who was allowed to grow up without a halter, they are mostly makin' trouble for their ma and pa, but then it is too late. And when they were around 4 and pokin' hair pins in the clock, and maybe lookin' cute to mama, they are now talkin' back at 16 and tellin' her what is what—and it is not so cute.

And down there in Wash., D. C., they been lettin' the young heads have full rein, and they are takin' the clocks apart and puttin' the wheels in new places. And when we wake up, we will find that things they been doin' are not so cute, and also won't work, and we should have put our foot down sooner, for out there on the front porch, the tax collector will be huntin' our door bell.

Yours with the low down,
 Jo Serra.

In the SPOTLIGHT

By Leon Feldstein

A stroll down Washington avenue on a balmy evening—

"We gaze through the window of a prosperous liquor establishment. Our thoughts grasp the usefulness of such a stock if invited to some droll Saturday evening party—

In front of ye olde Capitol Theatre stands a group of would be Romeos. We stop and watch. It is amusing to see the supposed Juliets turning their ardent "woosers" down flatly—

We look upon the dormant high school and it is easy to envision the happy (?) faces traversing hither and yon from their classes.

No longer do the lights shine through the library windows in the evening for it closes at an early hour in the summertime. It is a dismal sight and we wish for the winter's hasty return when we may turn a dreary evening into an exciting, adventurous one merely by spending our time within her portals—

A group of "sports" idle around a newspaper stand discussing the latest in the sports world. Loud and lusty is the conversation but a good time is had by all—

Then we turn about and retrace our steps to home and "dreamland."

A "yokel" let loose in the New York theatre district—

"Look at all those lights Neon 'n' everything. Boy what an electric bill they must have to pay. Hey look isn't that guy Jack Dempsey?"

"Here's the French Casino. Man what a place. Let's look inside this window. We might spot a big shot."

"Radio City sure is one big place, isn't it? Wait till I tell the folks back home about this burg."

"Oh the Poor Man"

The blind man sat there all alone. He tinkled his tin cup incessantly in an untiring effort to attract donors. His appearance was a rather sorrowful one as he reclined there upon the cold hard sidewalk with his back leaning against the side of a huge skyscraper.

His unseeing eyes were hidden by a pair of dark glasses. His mouth was set in an expression that denoted a despairing attitude. On his chest was fastened this sign. "Please help the blind." All in all his was a disheartening appearance.

In the midst of his tinkling a young couple ambled past him. It was a young man and woman. The woman saw "Blind Jim" sitting there and dolefully exclaimed, "Oh look George. The poor man."

Her escort did not wish to display any greed so he dropped a crisp green bill of moderate denomination into the cup. Then the two ambled away.

When the generous couple had gone Jim the blind man slyly lifted his glasses and peered into his cup. "Boy a five spot. That guy must have dough," he said.

Jim picked himself up, lifted his cane and pretended to grope his way down the street.

Voting Machine Here

As is well-known voting machines will be used for the first time in Belleville in the coming November elections, and one of the new machines has been placed in the town hall for a short time in order that citizens may familiarize themselves with the workings thereof before the voting day arrives.

The hall will be open from 7 to 9 o'clock each Monday evening till further notice and an attendant will be on duty to show you how the machine works, so drop in and learn how to vote the new way.

The machine will be on demonstration later at Franklin street firehouse. It will be operated by a fireman.

Benefit Garden Party

Sixty-two people attended the garden card party for the benefit of the Women's Auxiliary and the Girls' Friendly Society of Christ Episcopal Church, last Wednesday afternoon, in the garden of the home of Mrs. Harvey W. Mumford and her sister, Mrs. Florence R. Smith, of 10 Oak street.

Awards in bridge went to Miss Esther H. Adams, Mrs. William S. Denton, Mrs. Edward M. Dunham, Mrs. George A. Goeke, Mrs. Paul McDonnell, Mrs. William H. Moulton and Mrs. Robert Reilly; in pinocle, Mrs. J. Harry Edwards, Mrs. Henry Hess and Mrs. Fred Van Duzen; in whist, Mrs. Jennie Huxtable; in radio, Mrs. Arthur McCluskey, Mrs. Charles Ochsner, Mrs. Raymond Patrick, and Miss Antoinette Erich of Port Washington, L. I.

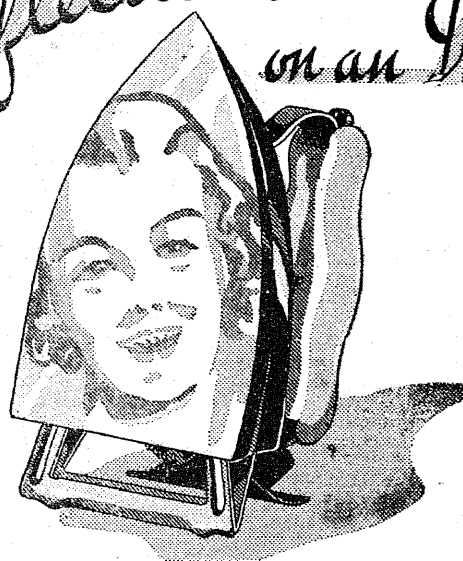

Non-players' awards went to Mrs. W. P. Glenck, Miss Maud Lally, Mrs. Christine Stanier, Mrs. John Wescott and Mrs. Homer C. Zink. Mrs. George A. Goeke won the special award. The hostesses were assisted by Miss Elizabeth Halstead, Mrs. Edward Nelson, Mrs. Raymond Patrick, Mrs. Frederick Idenden and Miss Betty Gibson. Refreshments were served before the games began.

Son to Couple

A son, Edgar Craig, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Haythorne of 147 Clinton street, Bloomfield on July 30. Mrs. Haythorne, who is the former Miss Jean Tallman of 1 Adelaide street, is in the Homeopathic Hospital, East Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew McGough and daughter, Joan, of 6 Division avenue, will spend the next two weeks at Belmar.

Reflections on an Iron

THERE are reasons for that happy, untired smile which is mirrored in the smooth ironing surface of an American Beauty iron. The ironing task has been made more comfortable as a result of improved iron design, and clothes are neater as a result of the automatically controlled ironing temperature.

The price of the 1937 American Beauty iron is only $7.95 if you trade in your old iron. A liberal deferred payment plan with small carrying charge makes it easy to own.

BELLOWING ABOUT BELLEVILLE

By JACOB LEVINE

I want to ask you a question. How many times, while scooting up Washington avenue in your little Ford roadster, have you noticed out of the corner of your eye a quaint, little, tumble-down house nestled snugly and tranquilly in the bosom of the great Westinghouse building—how many times have you peeped at that intriguing sign over the door—Mme. Stanley—, queried a mute "I wonder what in the world..." and, remembering that you were scheduled to see Alf Letourner burn up the saucer that night, stepped on the gas, full speed ahead for the Nutley Velodrome?

How many times?... Yes, you've done it millions of times. And so have I. But on this particular occasion destiny had other plans for me.

I was strolling up Washington avenue in the gayest of spirits, and... well, you know the rest. I chanced upon Mme. Stanley's attractive abode. Intending to continue on my way, I started to pass by—as usual. But something inside me said no. Old Dame Curiosity must have injected some of her awful serum. I was enthralled. Mme. Stanley. That wooden hand in the window. Palmist.

I knocked at the door and waited. No answer. I knocked again. Getting no reply, I hammered. Finally, in a wretched, soft voice: "Young man, I am over here. What can I do for you, young man?"

Something innate pushed me forward. I found myself not in some bewitching Circe's garden, but in an ordinary well-kept back yard, one such as you are accustomed to walking into when visiting a neighbor. Mme. Stanley, a middle-aged woman, very austere and aristocratic-looking, was sitting on a bench, combing her hair.

"How do you do, Mme. Stanley," I blurted. "You see—no, it's not that I want my fortune told—you see, I was passing by, and out of pure curiosity, I stopped by and would like to have a little talk with you..."

And...did she think I had a lot of nerve?

No, not at all. But there just wasn't anything she could tell me. What did I want to know?

Well...about herself, about the fortune-telling business, about...and again: did she think I had a lot of nerve?

And then, when she saw that I was not merely a pesky newshound, scampering about under everyone's nose, but, on the other hand, one who was only interested in the rudiments of the fortune telling game and the particular part that she played in it, she became impetuously talkative, and divulged to me whatever I longed to know.

Mme. Stanley is purely of English descent. Her family were all "born" palmists, that is, that was their heritage in the same manner that a man inherits the inclination for medicine from his father. To put it bluntly, Mme. Stanley's art cannot be bought. It cannot be learned by delving into massive volumes of palmistry; neither can it be had by peering into a gold fish bowl, imagining you can augur things thusly. She reads fortunes mainly by the lines on one's hands and face. In her own words: "It is something in you."

The Stanleys have long been known as the Royal Family of Palmists. They have long earned their bread and butter by travelling about from town to town, divulging facts about the future to those who were willing to "cross their palms with a silver piece." Mme. Stanley and her parents have journeyed all over United States. It would have been no unusual circumstance to see their tent one day on the outskirts of St. Louis, and then, a few weeks later to see the little family troupe, busy at work, rigging up their tent again in the waning dusk of the Black Hills. Vast, indeed, was the territory that Mama, Papa, and daughter, the present Mme. Stanley, covered in their trips about the country.

In San Francisco a grimy fisherman looked for a man with a crooked nose who was to triple his fishing incomes. In Butte, Montana, an old scrub woman kept rigid lookout for a bespectacled stranger with a leather suitcase. A little boy in Dover stopped every humpbacked stranger with brown shoes and queried: "Have you got three o's in your name? If you have, how about coughing up a couple thousand smackers?"

And so on and so forth. Wherever they went the Stanleys' forebodings and augurings made impressions on young and old, on unhappy millionaires waiting about the ennui of excess capital, on poor, starving souls wondering about the source of their next dollar, on people, irate, cheerful, sad, happy people, who wanted to know their lives before they came.

But the wonderings of the Stanley troupe had to come to an end. Forty years of constant travelling was a bit too much. Old Mama Stanley could no longer smile her bland, captivating smile; age would no longer permit Papa to parade about the country with the household furnishings on his broad shoulders, and besides, there was another reason, a more salient reason: Mme. Stanley got married.

The mademoiselle settled down on Washington avenue and she and her family have been living there approximately twenty years.

And here's something else: The next time that you in the Ford roadster go scooting up Washington avenue, how about stopping in at Mme. Stanley's? You never can tell. There might be a blonde gal with an ermine coat on the lookout for you!

Sleuth Oakie Is Coming

To Proctor's Theater in Newark

The new romantic comedy team of Oakie and Ann Sothern will be starting today at RKO Proctor's in "Super Sleuth" with Eduardo Gannelli, Alan Bruce and Edgar Kennedy. On the same program is Joe E. Brown in "Riding on Air" with Guy Kibbee and Florence Rice and pictures of the coronation of George VI in Technicolor.

Jack Oakie is shown as a conceited motion picture star. A series of poison pen letters have puzzled the police, and Jack boasts that he may take a day off and catch the menace himself. The studio orders Ann Sothern, its publicity chief to muzzle Oakie, lest he antagonize the police. But he gets one of the threatening letters. Ann urges him to turn the letter over to the police chief, Edgar Kennedy.

As Oakie returns home from a party someone takes a shot at him. Disdaining the help of police, he goes to his friend Eduardo Gannelli who runs a "crime" concession at an amusement park. Gannelli promises to help him discover the culprit. But while he is taking part in a scene at the studio, Jack is shot at again. To protect him, Ann has him put in jail.

Adding to the comedy of the mystery are Alan Bruce, Bradley Page, and Paul Guilfoyle. "Riding on Air" is adapted from the "Elmer Lane" stories by Richard Macaulay. Joe E. Brown is Elmer Lane, who does everything but own a small town newspaper. He hopes to marry the owner's daughter (Florence Rice) but her father favors Vinton Haworth.

Joe and his rival become local correspondents of competing Chicago papers. He hears that the paper is trying to track down a band of crooks, but he has become interested in the promotions of Guy Kibbee, a dishonest promoter.

Joe becomes the head of Kibbee's newly formed company, and assumes new importance in the town. But Haworth discovers the body of a Chicago gangster, and asks Joe to fly his sick dog to the city. In the dog's basket are the picture of the body addressed to a rival paper.

Triangles Stopped After Fourteen Wins National Guards Eke Out Close 1-0 Win at Local Field

The Belleville Triangles received their second defeat of the season Sunday afternoon snapping a fourteen game winning streak, when they were shutout by the National Guard Machine Gun Corps Cavalry, 1-0.

Ralph Palumbo, the little left hander for the homeesters, allowed only five hits, two of which came in the sixth frame. Aided by an error by G. Zoppa this gave the visitors the victory.

Genno, who pitched for the visitors, was in danger throughout the game as local boys were left stranded on second and third base four times during the ball game.

Palumbo and Genno engaged in a wonderful pitchers' battle from start to finish. Strikeouts were credited 8-11, respectively. Eliminating the six frame the little left hander was the master of the situation, setting his opponents down in 1-2-3 order. The local boys outthrew the visitors, 7-5, but were unable to bunch their blows. F. Fantacone and Carmen Cappy played well, with Fantacone making several one-handed stabs of line drives with his bare hand. Sunday the Triangles will travel to Riverdale to oppose the Public Service A. C. August 15 the Triangles will return home to play the Heller Bros. A. C. outfit at Capitol Field at 3 P. M.

DIAL WELL WITH BILL TREADWELL

OF WOR

Uncle Don picked his two healthy child winners at Jersey's Palisades Park. The radio uncle has been busy touring various soap box derbies. "Calling All Men" will be the names of a new Broadway musical. It seems to me it received a great deal of publicity on the smaller stations. The play will be about male escorts. The Radio Show dresses these escorts. Edgar Bergen who scored in Night Clubs and Radios, will be featured in a picture. One of the more beautiful Hollywood homes is tenanted by Jimmy Fidler, air-caster from Hollywood. Alice Fay entertained Tony Martin last week. Benny Goodman is at the Paramount. Lily Pons is in Chi. Harry Von Zell is on a diet. Major Bowers is spending the summer in his Westchester home. Johnny Russell, Paradise Restaurant singer, guest starred on the "Blue Velvet Music". The Marconi Memorial Fund will erect a monument in New York City. Saymore Saymore is the hit of the Eddie Cantor show. Tony Wons returns to the air for three programs a week on CBS. Corinna Mura, heard on WOR Mutual has a soothing show. No sponsors have been given for the Ray Perkins Gab fest. Cornelia Otis Skinner was the guest of Summer Stars program. She is superb. Kathryn Gravens, the flying commentator, has returned from her vacation. Al Pearce and his gang made twenty-two personal appearances in twenty-eight days. Boake Carter has decided that home is the best to broadcast from. He has built a private studio in his home. Tim and Irene were almost overcome because of the heat in the studio where they were working. This prompted their fellow entertainers to sign a petition for air conditioned studios, citing that WEN, WMCA and WBNX have air cooled rooms. Joe Haymes and his orchestra are the hit of Westchester where the new Shag is going around. Dave Driscoll will broadcast the American cup races. Eddie Duchin will be clubbing to celebrate the arrival of his son.

We like Jack Eigan's fast moving Broadway newsreel on WHN. Jerry Danzig will be back from the coast next week. Paul Tremaine, the band from Lonely Acres, is back here in the East. Etta Trost, a WOR secretary who has been at her post for eight years vacations the next three weeks. Bill McGune will tour for two months so that the out-of-towners can get a peek at him and his band. Betty Allen his vocalist, will not join them, as she is slated for a fall musical. Stan Lomax, the sports-caster has a great friend in Buddy Hassett. Radio will have its biggest fall in 1937. Already the sponsors have decided on their football broadcast and almost every major college will cash in on the radio publicity. Out of the New York's big four, N.Y.U., Fordham and Manhattan only the two latter ones will be aired.

RADIO ROBOT OBSERVES WEATHER

THE newest mechanical weather observer is a radiometeorograph, an instrument which makes its own observations, sending them out instantaneously as signals to be picked up by properly tuned radio sets within a radius of 200 miles. Two sensitive elements react to temperature changes. A barometer capsule contracts or expands with change of atmospheric pressure; a bi-metallic coil curls or uncurls, with changing temperature. A third hand, the timer, turns on a miniature broadcasting station. The radiometeorograph is carried up by a sounding balloon capable of rising 20 miles—or higher—and staying in the air for about 2 hours. These balloons can be sent up in any kind of weather, from any place, including the sea coast and ships at sea. When the balloon bursts a small parachute, attached between it and the instrument, insures the safe descent, at the radiometeorograph.

Bears See Pennant Within Their Grasp Vitt's Maulers Want Peek At It Before Hitting The Road

With the stretch drive just ahead the Bears are really ready to go to town. They know the pennant is just beyond the horizon and they want to get a real peek at it before hitting the road again. They hope to accomplish the task during their remaining home games against the Rochester Red Wings and the Montreal Royals. It will mark the final appearance of the Red Wings here this season, unless they qualify for the play-offs. They come in tonight for a game under the lights to be followed by a day game tomorrow and end their stay here with a twin bill Sunday afternoon. As usual tonight will be ladies night. Following the Red Wings will come the Montreal Royals for a four day stay, commencing Monday and terminating Thursday. After that game the Bears hit the road for their final swing around the north and will not return until August 27, with Jersey City.

Manager Vitt and his Bruins are still smarting over the double defeat handed them in Rochester recently and intend to even that score. On the other hand, Manager Ray Blades believes he has the number of the next champions. The Red Wing skipper thinks the Bears will not be so hot during the remainder of the race. He believes the double defeat his boys handed out have improved their morale and by careful pitching by his hurlers, he can upset the plans of Vitt. Another thing Blades is counting on is, his Red Wings have always hit well at the Newark park and he sees no reason why they should continue to do the same on this trip. The Red Wing hurlers think in the last clash with the Bears they discovered some weak spots among the hitters and this will enable them to halt the sluggers.

After the Red Wings move out the Royals will be the next guests. And with them is Pinky Hargrave, the former Bear catcher. Pinky hopes to see action and figures his judgment will help the Royals to take the series. Pinky will be behind the bat in a couple of games and Manager Rabbit Maraville might use him in pinch hitting roles. Pitcher Marvin Duke is having a whale of a year, and rumor has it he might be in the big time next year is due to hurl one of the games with Norman Kies, another Bear of a year ago behind the bat. The Rabbit thinks that Americus "Clip" Poli who pitched the no-hitter against Jersey City early this year will be able to halt the Bruins for the old master has done well of late. He also has great faith in Lauri Myllkangas, the big Finn, notwithstanding the fact the Bears drove him to cover in Montreal. Maraville is also counting heavily on the big bats of Gus Dugas and Dave Harris. Both hit Newark pitchers hard in Montreal and both have always pounded the ball at the Ruppert Stadium. However, both the series with the Red Wings and the Royals should be interesting, for the Bears will be battling to clinch the flag and the others fighting to prolong the race as much as possible.

The pennant bee is buzzing with the Bears. They feel sure of winning and being successful in the play-offs. They all have their eyes on the Junior World Series. The Bears open their road trip in Toronto Friday, August 13. They say it is their lucky day. Outfielder Charles Keller continues to be the prize rookie of the league.

Last week Kaufman obtained approval of American Motorcycle Association officials and physicians in test racing. He spent the week racing in New England, sharpening up his style. Reports from that sector show that the champion has lost none of his speed or daring.

Another ranking Easterner who will come off the sick list is George Matheson, veteran Nova Scotia racer. Matheson broke his left shoulder only a month ago and has had a speedy recovery.

The pair add greatly to the strength of the Eastern contingent. With Crocky Rawding of Bloomfield getting over the effects of his facial injuries, suffered two weeks ago here, the Atlantic Coast sprinters are in an excellent position to repulse the Westerners in the big-money events. Jimmy Gibb, 1935 Eastern champion who lost his title to Kaufman, heads the out-of-district brigade. The Hollywood beau is leading the track scratch point standings at this writing, with 20 points. Rawding's 18. Another Californian, Bronco Bo Lisman of Long Beach, is third with 15 credits and Kaufman, despite his two-month lay-off, is very much in the picture with 13 points.

The Australian starting gate will be used for the second week in starting events. The electrically controlled barrier made a hit with fans when first presented in competition last week. The greatest change the sport has known, the gate provides clutch-gate starts. Riders jump from the barriers on bucking, rearing steel steeds to add to the spectacle of leather-clad, iron-shod, broadsiders skidding around a one-fifth mile cinder track at a mile-a-minute clip.

Fight Tickets

Tickets of all prices for the Tommie Farr-Joe Louis heavy-weight championship boxing match at Yankee Stadium on August 26 can be obtained from Charlie Hand, old-time featherweight boxer, at Mack's Long Bar at 126 Market street, Newark. Hand, an Irvingtonian, is conducting a ticket bureau at Mack's. He is one of New Jersey's outstanding featherweights of all time.

Kaufman Returns To Hinchliffe Field Has Been Out of Action for The Last Two Months

Benny Kaufman will return to motorcycle racing competition next Tuesday night at the Hinchliffe City Stadium in Paterson.

Out for two months after a leg injury suffered in action, the Bronx ace who zoomed to the eastern championship in a short two-year span, will come back to receive the greatest welcome ever accorded a rider in motorcycle racing history. Extremely popular wherever he appeared, Kaufman always has been a huge favorite at the Paterson track.

He was heading for the distinction of being the greatest rider in competition again, and turning in one great race after another when his untimely injury sent him spilling into the dirt and then on to a hospital cot where he lay for weeks, battling for complete recovery.

Now he is back again and when he steps out on the Paterson track Tuesday, he will be the big question mark of the night. Fans are waiting to see how well he has recovered and whether he will be able to keep pace with the brilliance of Crocky Rawding, Bo Lisman, George Matheson, Jimmy Gibb, Ray Tausner and Don Smith.

All of them will be on the racing program next Tuesday. George Matheson, white-helmeted star who has been on leave, will be back in the eastern circuit competition. And with Kaufman and Matheson in the fold again, this meet promises to be the season's tops from the standpoint of heated rivalry and interest. "Opportunity Night" awards will be distributed again by Promoter John Kochman. The program will start at 8:45 P. M.

Injured Stars Back At Tri-City Track George Matheson and Benny Kaufman On Hand Once More

UNION.—Eastern champion Benny Kaufman will return to Tri-City Stadium Wednesday night after a two-month absence. Completely recovered from his broken left leg, the leader of the local broadside brigade is ready to begin his campaign in defense of his title.

Last week Kaufman obtained approval of American Motorcycle Association officials and physicians in test racing. He spent the week racing in New England, sharpening up his style. Reports from that sector show that the champion has lost none of his speed or daring.

Another ranking Easterner who will come off the sick list is George Matheson, veteran Nova Scotia racer. Matheson broke his left shoulder only a month ago and has had a speedy recovery.

Cycle Lull Causes Honeman To Quit Willie Says He'll Wait Till Bike Game Becomes Healthier

Willie Honeman of Newark, national sprint cycling champion, has ridden his last race—until "the bike game is in a healthier condition." Honeman announced Monday that he had retired to devote all of his time to his business interests with a Newark concern. He is a draftsman. On Sunday night the rider asked Norman Hill, referee of Nutley Velodrome racing, to remove his name from the racing programs "until further notice."

This occurred after Honeman had been disqualified by Hill for alleged rough riding in the two-mile championship series to decide the 1937 title. Honeman finished second to Mathias Engel, the German, but the disqualification pushed him back into fourth place. Engel is leading in the point standing by 24; Honeman second with 17.

Willie, who won the cycling championship for three successive years, starting with 1934, said that the penalty had not influenced his decision to retire.

"I had the urge to ride at the start of the season," said Honeman. "I believe I was riding better this year—at the age of 29—than at any other time in my career. But cycling, I have learned now, has no future and I have decided to retire until such time as the game is in healthier condition. The position I have offers better incentive and I must pay attention to that."

Doll Show

A miniature bride and bridegroom which topped the wedding cake of her great-grandparents almost a century ago won an award for the oldest doll for Helen Chadwick at a show Thursday at the Recreation House. Edith Spear's three-quarter-inch entry, shown in a tiny carriage of cardboard and crepe paper, was the smallest doll displayed. Prizes for the largest went to Flora Piana; prettiest, Cora Zadician, and funniest, Gerald Heinzman.

Rangers Capture Indians

The Belleville Rangers defeated the Bloomfield Indians, 5-3, Wednesday, at Wright Field, Bloomfield. Although Robert "Lefty" Johnson gave one hit he allowed the Indians ten walks, making six go down by the strike out route in five innings of play. This is the second time this season the Rangers defeated the Indians. The last time the Rangers won 7-6. Johnson had a bad first inning when the Indians scored all three runs on one hit and two walks.

Snow led the hitting attack with two bingles in three trips to the plate, including one double and one single. The Rangers scored one run in the first, one in the second, and three in the fourth.

Frank "Lanky" Cockrane was the only one to get a hit from Johnson but before this occurred Johnson had struck him out twice. Johnson did not have much trouble as he had good support from the rest of the team. The Rangers have won all but one game. They would like to hear from light junior teams. ## Emeralds Break Into The Win Column Gems After Shake up in Line-up Will Play Two Tough Teams

The Emerald A. C., after a series of three set backs, finally broke into the win column Sunday by defeating the Stanley Hornets of Irvington, 3-0. Arnold Clarke, making his debut with the Gems, allowed only two hits in shutting out the Hornets. Bob La Capra, former Barringer High player also making his debut with the Emeralds, lead his team at bat with three hits, knocked in two of the three runs and scored the final run himself.

Before Sunday's game Manager Lubben announced his resignation as playing manager of the club and was succeeded by Bill Fisk, also a player. Sunday's game also marked the end of a unique record set by George "Fip" Urna, Emerald catcher and outfielder. Previous to this game he had played in every game since May 31, 1936, a total of forty consecutive games. A broken finger kept him out of the line-up Sunday and he will probably be out for the remainder of the season.

Besides Clarke and La Capra three other new players have been acquired for the remainder of the season. They are George Wiggins, a pitcher; Ed Fiske, infielder, and McGlynn, catcher. All five players have replaced "Farmer" Smith, Ernie Hancox, Bill Harbaugh and Tom Carter whose failure to appear for recent games have led to the poor showing of the Emeralds in these games.

On Saturday the Emeralds will oppose the Dugan Bros. B. B. C. in a return game at Branch Brook extension and on Sunday will travel to Montclair where they will play the Montclair Normals at Mountaineer Park. Clarke, Wiggins and Lister probably will divide the pitching with O'Reilly and McGlynn dividing the catching.
